HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, October 19

THE 92nd CONGRESS adjourned Wednesday after handing President Nixon two final legislative defeats that some Democrats feared could be turned against them in the closing days of the election campaign. Despite Mr. Nixon's warning of higher taxes, lawmakers overrode his veto of a $24.6 billion water pollution control bill and refused his demand for emergency power to slash spending in the next eight months to keep the budget under a ceiling of $250 billion. One of the body's last acts was to raise the national debt limit, lifting the old $450 billion ceiling to $465 billion.

Friday, October 20

NORTH VIETNAM'S request for a cease-fire until after the United States election for president, was turned down by President Nixon. It was disclosed by South Vietnamese legislative officials. Members of the National Assembly said that President Nguyen Van Thieu has informed them of the Communist proposal and the rejection by Mr. Nixon.

Saturday, October 21

TALKS AIMED at finding peace in Indochina were continued, as presidential advisor Henry A. Kissinger conferred for three hours with South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam. Kissinger is expected to hold his fourth meeting in three days with President Nguyen Van Thieu, after which he will return to Washington. Sources in the U.S. Embassy in Saigon said Kissinger and Thieu are trying to determine exactly what concessions each is willing to make in the interest of peace. South Viet legislators played up the fact that President Nixon has rejected a North Vietnamese proposal for a cease-fire before the U.S. November 7 presidential election.

Sunday, October 22

APPLICATIONS by the thousands have been received by the Bureau of State Lottery, as Michigan residents await with interest the beginning of lottery ticket sales next month. St. Clair Shores Chamber of Commerce, dozens of supermarkets and restaurants in the Detroit area, and even the Detroit Press Club are among the hopefuls. In the office of the BSL, employees are crawling on the floor under boxes containing some of the thousands of applications that have flooded in. Even retirees, who hope to supplement their pensions have applied. Lottery officials announced that they will initially issue about 7,000 licenses to sell tickets and the first licenses will be notified next week.

Monday, October 23

THE OAKLAND A's, for the first time since the legendary Connie Mack was running the team in Philadelphia, became the baseball champions of the world. The last time the Athletics took the championship was in 1930. During the 1972 series, they were considered the underdogs from the start and underdogs in the final game when they defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2, yesterday. The World Series reverted to form, that is, one run was all that separated the two teams.

Tuesday, October 24

FOUR SKY PIRATES, all from Turkey, surrendered to Bulgarian authorities in Sofia after holding out for two days and a night, during which they held 76 persons as hostages, including nine crew members. The Turkish hijackers threatened to blow up the plane with all in it if the Turkish government did not release 13 political prisoners. The foursome said they surrendered to Bulgarian authorities in Sofia because of their "love for the Turkish people."

'Come Help Us Build a Park in a Day'

Standing in front of the EAN sign which announced the "Plant-In" Saturday, October 21, which turned the southwest corner of Elworthy Field into a fully landscaped park are, (left to right): MIKE READ, head of the South High School Earth Lovers; JOHN L. KING, Mayor of Grosse Pointe City; MRS. GEORGE W. DUFF-FIELD, president of EAN; JOSEPH TOLARI, vice-president of NBD's Grosse Pointe Regional Banking Center; and THOMAS KRESSBACH, city manager of Grosse Pointe City. Within six hours Saturday, an army of 200 volunteers planted 2,000 pachysandra, 1,150 square yards of sod and 28 trees, bringing the redevelopment of Elworthy Field project a step closer to completion.

Think Arrest Gives Key to 30 Hold-Ups

Wyandotte Man Who Robbed Lochmoor Bar Arrested Next Day

A Wyandotte man, who allegedly held up the Lochmoor Lounge, 20934 Mack avenue, Monday, October 16, was arrested by Detroit police Tuesday evening, October 17, on a traffic charge, said Woods Detective Everett Plumb. Around $280 was taken in the robbery.

David Clifford James, 35, who's in Wayne County Jail on armed robbery charges, was scheduled for examination this week in Detroit. Detective Plumb said James' arrest apparently cleared up some 30 holdups for Detroit police, plus the Lochmoor Lounge robbery. He added The Woods will hold charges pending the outcome in Detroit.

The robbery was reported to the Woods Department of Public Safety just before 10 p.m. on the 16th. A barmaid told public safety officer Kenneth Metcalf that the thief sat down at the end of the bar, ordered a bottle of beer whereupon he produced a blue steel type revolver and demanded money from the cash register.

After taking the cash, he escaped out the front door. Around four $20 bills were taken, ($80), ten $10 bills, ($100), seventy to one-hundred $1 bills, (an estimated $100), and an unknown amount of $5 bills.

Safety Suggestions Shared For Pointe Spooks Oct. 31

It won't be long before Pointe residents open their doors to face a pleasurable chilling horde of goblins, witches and ghosts requesting a handful of goodies. For the "giant pumpkin" reports Halloween is approaching rapidly.

"Trick or Treaters" en masse will pounce on Pointers' porches with their shrill screams piercing the night air Tuesday, October 31. To make certain each youngster has a joyous evening, Pointe police departments remind parents to be aware of some safety tips, such as accompanying the children on their rounds.

It's best to confine the cry of "help the poor" to the immediate neighborhood and limit the moppets to residences of known neighbors. Household should give,

Shores Residents Donate $4,000 to Provide Another Osius Park Tennis Court

Village Budget Will Take Care of Rest of Cost; Response to Plea Leaves Sponsors Pleasantly Amazed

After 10 months' of discussion in Shores Council meetings and one month of contributions by Shores residents, a new tennis court in the George Osius Park has become a reality for next summer's tennis aficionados.

Success was realized when Shores resident Donald Haigh announced close to $4,000 was donated by Shores residents to build a new court in the village's municipal park in Lakeshore road. The announcement came at the last meeting of The Shores Council Tuesday night, October 17.

70 Percent Response
"Over 70 percent of the residents responded when asked to contribute towards a new court," Mr. Haigh, of

Rapist Given 5 to 10 Years

Douglas Love, 26, of St. Clair Shores, was sentenced to five to 10 years in Jackson Prison before Wayne County Circuit Judge Neal Fitzgerald Tuesday, October 17.

Love had previously pled guilty to assault with intent to rape before Judge Fitzgerald on September 5.

He was arrested by Shores police on June 16 in the case of a 14-year-old Shores girl who was assaulted on May 26.

Educators Give Views On Proposal

School Board Members Urge Voters to Be Aware of Dangers If C Wins Approval

Next month the voters of Michigan will ballot on two important amendments proposed to the State Constitution. Both have far-reaching implications for public education.

Passage of one (Proposal C) would virtually eliminate the property tax base for financing public schools, while approval of the other (Proposal D) would remove the ban on a graduated income tax.

What advice do the members of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education offer regarding Proposals C and D in the November 7 General Election? Five of the trustees (William F. Huettelman, Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., Joan R. Hanpeter, William J. Adams and Donald J. Semmler) have taken an opportunity to express their opinions on these important issues.

William F. Huettelman, president, said recently that he does not believe that the proposals are the answer to the dilemma of financing public education. "The amendments on the ballot on November 7 are a drastic step. If they become law we do not know whether the Legislature would be willing to come up with a finance program acceptable to the districts favoring financial reform," he said. "It has been estimated by a member of the Legislature who is in-

School Budget Hearing Slated

A public hearing on the proposed operating budget of The Grosse Pointe Public School System will be held at 8 p.m. on Monday, October 30, in the auditorium of North High School, 707 Vernier road.

Formal adoption of the 1972-73 budget for the public schools and libraries is slated for the next regular meeting, to be held at the same time and in the same location on Monday, November 13.

Copies of the proposed budget will be available for study at the public libraries and the Administration Building, 389 St. Clair avenue.

Shores Workers Accept 2-Year Salary Contract

Pay Raise of 5.5 Percent Retroactive to July 1; Fringe Benefits Also Included in New Agreement

Reaching a contract agreement last week were The Shores DPW and village officials. The contract, the outcome of negotiations since July 1, 1972, will govern the employees' pay scale and fringe benefits for the next two years.

The 12 men in the department were given a 5.5 percent pay increase in accordance with the federal government's wage guidelines. The increase is retroactive to July 1, 1972, the date The Shores' fiscal year began. Included in the contract is a provision for another 5.5 percent pay increase next year.

Fringe Benefits include increased Blue Cross coverage beginning in 1973, and time and a half for work during holidays. The men also have a day off on their birthdays.

The Shores DPW is divided into three classifications of employment: the pump station operator, the mechanic, and the general DPW employees who man the refuse pick up truck, snow plows, and maintain village property. The pump station operator and mechanic receive $5.12 an hour; general DPW employees receive $4.70 an hour. Each of these rates apply to workers with over two years' employment with the village.

The Representatives of the Shores were represented by Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jeffers and William Killebrew, the attorney for the village. Representing the DPW workers were employees Harry McColm and George Harrison and labor attorney Thomas Melton.

Commenting on the contract settlement, Mr. Killebrew said, "We think a great deal of our employees and they have always done a great job for the village. Whenever we discuss contracts, they recognize the village's budget limitations." "I feel that we have reached a settlement that is fair to both the village and the employees," he concluded.

DPW worker Harry McColm agreed that the workers were satisfied with the new two-year contract.

Thief Removes Radio on Boat

Someone stole a Sears AM-FM push button radio off an 18-foot boat at the George Osius Park. Shores police received the report Sunday, October 15.

Dr. Robert Borchak of Renaud road told Corporal Chester Painter that the radio, valued at around $100, was mounted on the boat's dash. It's believed the theft occurred around October 12 or 13. No other items were taken, police said.

Phony Title Leads Police To Three Stolen Autos

Park police were called to the Secretary of State's branch office in Mack avenue, at Beaconsfield, on Friday, October 20, and took into custody a Detroit woman who attempted to purchase a set of license plates with a fraudulent title. The phony paper was detected by the manager of the branch office.

According to information released by Park Det. Sgt. James LaPratt, the woman, name withheld until an investigation by Detroit authorities is completed, was in the office with her 17-year-old son, who had driven his mother there to obtain the plates.

The mother and the son were taken to the Park station, where after questioning, the son was released, the sergeant said, since the youth merely drove his mother to the branch office apparently unaware that anything was wrong.

It also appeared that the woman was not aware that there was anything amiss because she had received an application for title to a 1972 Cadillac Eldorado from the SOS office in Lansing, or so the investigation, to-date, seems.

LaPratt said that the lady informed him that the auto had been purchased after she read an ad in one of the Detroit dailies. She was unable to recast which newspaper.

LaPratt and Farms Det. Earl Field, who had been called by the sergeant, were invited to her house in Detroit. (Continued on Page 6)

Park-in Day Project Is Big Success

Hundreds of Volunteers Turn Out in Rain to Accomplish Task

By Kathy Duff

An army of 200 volunteers occupied the southwest corner of Elworthy Field Saturday, October 21, and transformed the half acre into a fully landscaped park. After six hours of work, 2,000 pachysandra plants, 1,150 square yards of sod, 30 trees and an assortment of playground equipment, The Pointe had a new park area.

Sleety rain and 42-degree temperatures did little to prevent the group of spirited volunteers from joining in the Environmental Action Now (EAN), and National Bank of Detroit, (NBD), project. Everyone was there, from students to businessmen, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, EAN directors, city administrators, policemen, landscapers and bankers.

The day had been proclaimed Environmental Action Now (EAN) Day by City Mayor John L. King, and EAN Day it was, despite the unencouraging weather. The field was graded the day before by City DPW workers leveling the land and preparing it for the planting.

Get Early Start

Work began at 8:30 a.m. as City trucks brought the landscaping plants, tools and other equipment to the field. Landscaping know-how was brought by Joseph Eckhart, the landscape architect who designed the park, and Lynn Murphy, landscape planner for the NBD. Coordinating and cheering on the ranks was Mrs. George W. (Nettie) Duffield, president of EAN, and members of the EAN Executive Board.

The heavier landscaping work, such as the tree planting, took place in the morning hours. The afternoon hours were reserved for the lighter planting such as the ground cover and sod.

Some groups were expected, such as Kerby Girl Scout Troop No. 1766 and members of Earth Lovers, an ecology group at South High School. However, other workers just "showed up," for example, that one seven-year-old girl who worked for three hours in the rain, wearing a sneaker-length cotton skirt. Did her mother know where she was?

NBD Offered Projects of the half acre began when NBD offered to create five ecology projects in The Pointe. A project was developed for each Pointe; with Elworthy Field scheduled for (Continued on Page 2)

Vandals Cause Glass Damage

Unknown vandals tossed three pieces of broken concrete through as many windows of the home of Treve Christiansen, 175 Vendome road, on Saturday, October 21, breaking three storm and three regular windows.

Farms police officers who investigated the incident, said that the concrete smashed two sets of windows measuring 60 by 18 inches; one set measuring 24 by 18 inches; and three, 12 by 18 inches. The cost of replacing the glass is not known. A cost report is pending from the family's insurance company.

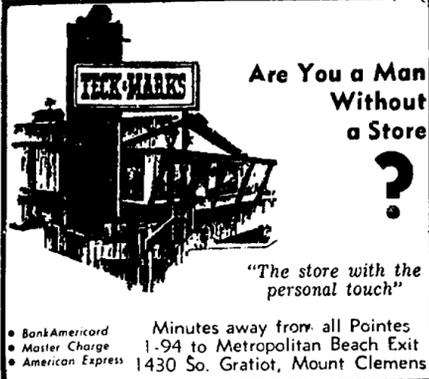

It was also disclosed that one of the pieces of concrete struck and damaged a crystal chandelier in the center of the front room.

The Christiansens were unable to give any reason for the vandalism, stating they have no enemies and have amiable relations with their neighbors.

Police believe the persons who did the damage did so out of sheer maliciousness. The matter is under investigation by officers of the Detective Bureau.

Elworhy Field Plant-In Day Proves Successful

Fall '72. The NBD programs are designed to strengthen community action toward ecology.

The bank was well represented Saturday morning as Joseph Tolari, vice-president of NBD's Grosse Pointe Regional Banking Center, was present, decked out in a white and blue NBD hard hat. A second NBD vice-president, James Glynn, was present, but he was far from the madding crowd, safely ensconced at the top of a blue and silver playground rocket tower. But it was strictly business as the bank was taking movies of the volunteers bustling around below in hearty work gangs or in momentary chaos.

Pros Were Big Help
Total chaos was avoided by each group of workers being headed by a professional landscaper, volunteers from the firms of Cal Fleming, Timberland Landscape; Bill Meyers, and Gene's Landscaping Service.

As one landscaper from Gene's was explaining how he directed a group of pachysandra-planting Girl Scouts, ("First you plan rows about six inches apart, then you dig a little hole, plant the plant, and finally, firm the earth around the plant so that air can't dry up the roots.") another little girl came over and very politely asked "Could you please tell me what to do now?" He was an easy mark, as all the professional landscape helpers were, dressed in green overalls.

The 2,000 pachysandra plants and 1,150 square yards of ground cover were supplied by NBD; however, several Pointe residents and organizations have jumped on the bandwagon and contributed monies for trees. These persons will be remembered by black and white laminated tags supplied and engraved by the bank. Already in place are tags bearing the names of Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses Saros, the District Nursing Society, Pierce Middle School Student Government, and the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council, among others.

Yet it takes more to make a playfield than plants and trees, so playground equipment was supplied by part of the $7,000 Rotary Club donation. The donation has metamorphosized into a six-foot turtle, rabbits and lions, a red and yellow swing set, and a blue and silver rocket-slide set, among other playground gear. Other main ingredients for a playground include a sand area and 150 cubic yards of woodchips, supplied by the City of Detroit Parks, a product of pulverized tree stumps.

Defied The Weather
"The weather hasn't dampened their spirits at all," Mr. Tolari commented as he surveyed the activity which was transforming the half acre into a beautifully landscaped park.

His sentiments were later echoed by Mayor John King who looked about him in disbelief and remarked to City City Manager Thomas Kressbach, "I just can't believe the way this place has shaped up, considering the way it looked a month ago."

Most of the workers were too busy to pause and observe the progress. City Officer Edmond D. Benthuis was down on his hands and knees, unrolling fresh sod. Surrounding him were a host of small fry, trying to follow his every move, that is, without sodding over the policeman's feet.

Jobs For All Ages
And that's the way the entire day was organized, so that the lilliputian helpers felt as needed as the adults. Division of labor was used, the bigger helpers doing the heavier work, such as unloading 1600 rolls of sod from a truck as long as five cars. Then the younger ones would carry a roll to the site, and finally, the YOUNGEST (sometimes four-years-old) would unroll the sod.

As Nettie Duffield commented, "Some didn't want to leave when their parents came to pick them up. One father came to pick up his son as he had tickets to the rodeo. The son just didn't want to go, but the father insisted." He knew where he was needed.

Members of Kerby Girl Scout Troop No. 1766 under the leadership of Mrs. Frank Galda and Mrs. Hugh Janes were in charge of planting the pachysandra. On the other side of the soon-to-be park, three Middle School girls were digging a hole for a tree.

Proud of Their Work
Watching them try to dig through the cold clay, they were asked if they had ever planted a tree before. "Yes, we planted the one over there," they commented. You could tell they considered themselves professionals, by then.

"I've offered to help them, but they simply won't let anyone," one professional landscaper commented with a shrug of the shoulders.

The Most Diligent Award, if there was one, would have gone to Craig Henzel, of 649 Neff road, a resident of The Pointe for the grand total of two weeks. Asked why he had moved from Los Angeles, he quipped, "I heard you needed some help with your park," as he continued to fill a wheelbarrow with dirt. A second Most Diligent Award would have gone to Eric E. Linder, a teacher at U-LS and a member of the EAN Executive Board.

Merchants Committee
But even the most altruistic of workers need sustenance, and for this reason, Mrs. Betty Chapman of NBD contacted merchants in The Pointe area. Lending in the effort was the Elias Brothers and Burger Chef restaurants which supplied hamburgers at cost, and Vernor's Company which provided soft drinks. Stroh's kept in mind the age span of the volunteer army, and provided ice cream for the kids and a more sophisticated beverage for the adults. The Alger Party store provided the ice.

By the end of the day, the entire project was summed up by EAN's large green and white sign which read: "Environmental Action Now - National Bank of Detroit's Plant-In" and, below, "Come Help Us Build a Park in a Day." The green letters, dripping from intermittent rain, were barely legible by

Honor South, North Students

Peggy Ann Marshall and Elizabeth Ann Rinke of Grosse Pointe North High School, and Drema Marie Kalajian of Grosse Pointe South High School have been cited as three of the outstanding high school students of English in the country.

Miss Kalajian of South was a winner, while Miss Marshall and Miss Rinke of North were named runners-up by The National Council of Teachers of English in its annual Achievement Awards competition.

Last spring, the English departments of the high schools nominated the girls to represent Grosse Pointe North and South in the competition. Each school was allotted one entry from the junior class for every 500 students in the total school enrollment.

After nomination, each student submitted samples of his best writing, including an autobiographical sketch, and wrote a one-hour impromptu essay. These materials were evaluated by state judging teams of highly qualified college and high school English teachers directed by state coordinators.

The nation's schools participating in the program nominated approximately 7200 juniors for the NCTE citations. Of that number, only about 870 finalists were chosen. They represent schools from 50 states, the District of Columbia, and American preparatory schools abroad.

Shores Attorney Pleased With GPSPSOA Agreement

By Roger A. Waha
 Months of planning and negotiations reached a climax when the Grosse Pointe Shores Public Safety Officers Association, (GPSPSOA), and the Village reached a tentative agreement towards a formal contract, retroactive to July 1, 1972, as reported in the October 19 edition of the NEWS. The agreement was the first between the association and the Village.

 Attorney William Killebrew and Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis were the Village's negotiating team, while attorney John Mazer and Officers Robert Bensinger and John Trevilian represented the association's bargaining committee at the October 6 session. (Two previous meetings were held August 9 and August 21).

When the agreement was 100 percent approved by the association's 12-man membership, (excluding supervisors), on October 8, (after the bargaining committee recommended the discussed items to the membership), the major groundwork was laid towards a formal contract.

Fine Relationship
 The NEWS contacted Mr. Killebrew for his thoughts on the negotiations and he said they went well. He noted that the Village previously worked on a "hand shake" type of approach and added the association wanted something in black and white.

"We, (i.e., the Village), have always had a fine relationship with our employees and we wanted to be fair and just with them," he said. He added that the Village wants to continue such a relationship.
 In commenting on the negotiations, Mr. Killebrew said the Village has problems budget-wise and noted that no industry or commercial enterprises are located in the area. The Village is run mainly on taxes from single family homes, he stated.

While, he said, the Village may have to "scramble around a bit for funds," he stressed the awareness of community needs and employee needs.
Basic Understanding
 The next step is to iron out all the smaller details in the agreement said Mr. Killebrew, who added that the basis for the formal contract has been laid. "We have a basic understanding between both bargaining units and tentative approval on both sides," he stated.

Mr. Killebrew expects the formal contract to come before Village Trustees at their next regular meeting in November.
 The items in the agreement include a sick leave program, wages, hospitalization, vacation pay, holiday pay, probationary period for new officers, clothing allowance and residency requirements and check-in and check-out procedures.

Youth Assaults Two Officers

A 16-year-old youth who attacked two Woods police officers upon his arrest, was charged with assault and battery Wednesday, October 18. The youth, who resides in The Woods, was placed in custody of his parents. Police report a petition will be filed with juvenile court on the assault charge.

After investigating a reported rock throwing incident at Parcels School, officer Patrick Fagan observed the youth standing on the corner of Van Antwerp road and Mack avenue. He fit the description of one of the youths in the rock-throwing complaint, although it's inconclusive if he had any involvement in it, police said.

When the officer approached the youth for questioning, he began running west on Van Antwerp with the patrolman in pursuit, ordering him to stop. After a foot chase he was ultimately apprehended near a service station on Mack avenue.
 Upon being approached by officers Fagan and Russell Allard, he became violent, kicking and swinging at the patrolmen. In trying to restrain him, officer Fagan was kicked on the left shin, causing a three-inch abrasion.

The youth was handcuffed and placed in a scout car by officer Allard and Lieutenant Allan Selby. As the lieutenant entered the car, the youth kicked him in the groin.

Police report that the youth was taken to Wayne County General Hospital after being placed in his parent's custody.

Halloween Safety Suggestions

For an added safety touch in costume creation, decorate them with reflective tape so costumes will glow in the beam of a car's headlights; this provides for greater visibility in dusk or darkness.

While your youngsters are filling their sacks, be sure they follow these pedestrian safety rules:

- * Cross only at corners, never between parked cars and never diagonally across an intersection. * Look in all directions before crossing a street. * Watch for, and obey, all traffic lights. * Walk, never run across a street. * Use sidewalks, not the street, for walking. * Wait on the curb, not in the street, until it's clear to cross. * If you're driving on Halloween exercise extreme caution and remain on the alert for excited youngsters.

Shores Tennis Court

The fund raiser noted that it was not only tennis players who contributed to the fund, but also many non players who contributed to show community spirit. In particular, he cited the response of Hawthorne road as 23 of the 32 families called upon contributed to the program.

Newcomer Big Giver One Shores resident was approached who had just moved into The Shores. The fund raiser approached him and mentioned that the contributions ranged from $20 to $500. The new resident then contributed $100. It's hoped that the man at least enjoys the game and is just not trying to be a good neighbor, for "When in Rome"

Shores Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jeffers was instructed by the trustees to receive bids for a new court expected to cost about $7,900.

As Mr. Haigh was leaving the meeting, he had two more suggestions to make. He first offered that the court be named in the honor of Gilbert T. Jerome, a past president of the village, who was "greatly interested in The Shores and the welfare of the residents," according to Mr. Haigh.

Would Welcome More He ended by saying the committee was very open to any more contributions from the individual trustees.

After Mr. Haigh's announcement, Trustee Beck as chairman of the Parks and Recreation Committee gave a report. He said that the new $1,298 swimming pool pump had worked excellently last summer, and that the only upcoming purchase was the replacing of five picnic tables.

Attendance at the Osius Park was uneven last summer, as attendance was down in June and August, but up in May and July, which was second highest in Shores records.

Also discussed by the trustees were plans for the Ford Park located next to the Edsel Ford estate in Lakeshore road.

Mr. Beck mentioned the sizable group of Shores residents who expressed interest in the construction of two paddle tennis courts. Trustee Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., suggested that the paddle tennis enthusiasts organize and conduct a drive following the example set by the other tennis lovers.

After all, Shores trustees as well as Shores residents realize when they have a good thing going!

Accident

None Seriously Hurt Officers Darlington, Frasar and Ronald Klotz, upon arriving at the scene, discovered the driver and his passengers standing outside the vehicle. Although there were some minor injuries, the youths refused transportation to the hospital.

Investigation revealed that the vehicle was going north on Lake Shore in the right hand lane. When driving around the curve located at 900 Lake Shore, the car apparently went out of control and left the roadway at the driveway entrance of 906 Lake Shore.

It traveled 15-feet and struck a boulder located at the entrance, then it continued for another 10-feet before hitting an Edison pole guide wire, police said. After striking the guide wire, the vehicle traveled another 10-feet and hit a brick corner post at 910 Lake Shore. Then it did a 180-degree turn before ultimately hitting some fence and coming to a stop.

The driver told police that the accelerator stuck and caused the accident. Officers found an empty beer can in the vehicle and said the driver had the smell of alcohol on his breath.

All the youths were released to their parents, and no action was taken by the department. The residents were notified of the damage.

We commend the automobile industry and Ed Daniels for the new '73 bumper.

Congratulations. To the auto manufacturers. For meeting the challenge of the 1973 bumper standards. And coming up with several good solutions to help cut high repair costs caused by low-speed collisions. And to Ed Daniels, general manager of our Insurance Exchange at AAA. The new bumpers represent a major victory in his long quest for better designed automobiles. In 1961, Ed and the Exchange made a study that found better bumpers would save motorists one billion dollars a year in repair costs. They immediately initiated the nationwide push for a stronger, crash-resistant bumper. In 1968, Ed challenged the auto industry in a speech to its Society of Body Engineers "to design cars more resistant to damage, with repair costs in mind, or the insurance industry will rate each model according to what it costs to repair." In 1970, Ed was instrumental in getting a $50,000 auto insurance industry grant to fund a study to determine if cars could be rated for damageability by scrutinizing their design, rather than crashing them into walls. The study was an unqualified success.

And it showed the average five mph collision cost more than $200 to repair. In August, 1972, Ed announced a 10% reduction in collision premiums for all 1973 domestic and foreign cars insured by the Exchange. He pointed out: "Thirty percent of all collisions are at three miles an hour or less, and they average $100 to repair. The five mile an hour bumper will save motorists their deductible when they have a parking lot ding." "The new crash-resistant bumpers," Ed continued, "are an example of the insurance industry initiating change... We commend the auto industry for responding to this need." And we commend Ed Daniels, because the '73 bumpers are a good start in cutting high car repair costs. But, further design changes are needed. Like standard bumper heights. Improved spacing of component parts such as radiator core and fan. Easy replacement of exterior lights. Replacement panels that eliminate the need to buy a full fender panel to fix a minor dent. And improved towability to reduce damage that often occurs today when cars are hoisted or towed. We will continue to press for these and other improvements.

We want to do more for you.

Shores Studies Flood Insurance

By Kathy Duff

As a result of Lake St. Clair being at its highest level in recorded history, The Shores trustees, on the recommendation of Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis, have taken steps to make their residents eligible for national flood insurance. Indications are that the lake will be even higher next year.

In order to be eligible, the village must be approved for coverage by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Once a municipality is accredited by HUD, residents may get the insurance which will cover them in case of disastrous flooding.

The governmental agency gives its approval once it is assured that a municipality is planned in a manner to absorb all but extreme flooding conditions. Dale Granger of the State Water Resources Commission, whose Department has been assigned coordination of the HUD program with the State agency, believes that The Shores will have no problem receiving certification. The state official cited The Shores comprehensive ordinances controlling zoning, platting and enforcement of building codes which insure a maximum amount of flood control.

Within a week or two The Shores will receive complete information on the program from the Michigan liaison. At the next meeting of The Shores Council, Tuesday, November 21, the trustees are expected to approve an application to HUD concerning the insurance. No indication has been given of how long it will take HUD to act.

If certified, Shores residents will be able to purchase flood insurance through local insurance companies. As with all disaster coverage, insurance costs would depend on the value of the individual property insured. Protection would not be mandatory. The insurance would not cover water damage resulting from the property owner's negligence or conditions that do not cause a general flood condition in the area.

In general, losses from sewer backup are not covered, except where a general condition of flooding exists and the sewer backup is clearly a result of that condition.

At the last monthly meeting of The Shores Council, Tuesday night, October 17, Mr. Jefferis informed the council that he had had a hydrograph taken of Lake St. Clair, and that the lake was at its highest level since record-keeping began in 1898. The lake is expected to be higher next year. After weighing the superintendent's advice and reviewing his report enclosed in the trustees' briefing materials, the councilmen encouraged

"It would be a very important service to our residents," Shores President Gerald C. Schroeder said as he stressed the serious consequences which result from flood conditions.

However, one lakeside resident is not waiting until the insurance program comes through. As he has a vivid memory of flooding conditions, (his property was flooded by Lake St. Clair in 1952), he has placed sandbags on his property to protect it from the water.

For any other Shores residents who are impatient to protect themselves against flooding, there are always arks. But remember that village ordinances require any boats, boat trailers, house trailers, mobile homes, vacation campers and other equipment for temporary or mobile living quarters to be stored in residences' backyards. It's possible that arks would be included in the above category.

Burglar Enters House in City

A Lincoln road resident returned home Thursday night, October 19, and found his rear door ajar. Checking the house, he discovered the upstairs bedroom completely ransacked.

Searching the drawers, which were left disarrayed by the unknown burglar, he estimated about $100 missing in loose change. Also missing was a music receiver valued at $250.

City Lieutenant Robert Van Tiem is handling the investigation of the burglary at 786 Lincoln road, the residence of the Michael Stumps. The family had been absent from 8 a.m. Thursday morning until 8:30 that night. The neighbors did not recall any suspicious persons in the area.

YSD Handles 58 Complaints

The Youth Service Division, (YSD), received 58 complaints during September, one of which was unfounded. This was an increase of three over the 55 complaints received during August.

Violation of the Controlled Substance Act, (VCSA), was the leading complaint received, totaling 25, during September. This was an increase of 14 over August. Nineteen of the 25 complaints involved males, with six involved females.

Larceny was the second leading YSD complaint. Six cases were reported in September; however, this was a decrease from the August total of nine.

Four applications for petition were filed with the Wayne County Juvenile Court during September. Three were for possession of stolen property. Of these, two have been authorized for acceptance by the court, while one has not been acted upon. The other petition was for Violation of the Controlled Substance Act, which has been authorized by the court.

The September breakdown for the 58 complaints shows: VCSA, 25; larcenies, six; vandalism, five; runaways, five; stolen property laws, four; other criminal contacts, four; indecent exposure, two; drunkenness, two; disorderly conduct, two; burglary, one; liquor laws, one, and suspicious persons investigated, one. Minus the unfounded case, the actual total is 57.

Police Find Three Stolen Autos

The policemen, in looking over the vehicle, discovered that the serial number attached to the left front door had been tampered with, and the number missing. The officers called in for a check and information was received over the Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN) that the Cadillac had been reported stolen and that it was registered to a Detroit firm.

Detroit police were notified and Patrolmen Keith Whitehead and David Kupinski were dispatched to the Detroit address.

The Pointe detectives and the Detroit officers said they noted that a second car in the garage, a 1971 Oldsmobile, had the trunk lock punched out and the trunk lid open. When questioned about this vehicle, the woman claimed she had also purchased the car with cash. The four policemen looked over the car, and found that its serial number had been tampered with. The woman invited the policemen into her home, while she searched for the ownership papers. She was unable to produce them.

A check on the LEIN also disclosed that the second car was on the "hot sheet" of stolen autos. The woman was unable to produce ownership papers or sales receipts for either vehicles. Both autos were taken to Detroit's Corner Station, Fifteenth Preinct, where they are still impounded until completion of investigation by Detroit authorities.

On being questioned about the Cadillac, the woman claimed that she had answered an ad in the unknown paper for household items offered for sale, and while in the house, she was approached by a man who offered to sell the car for the sum of $3,500. She said she only had $3,000 with her, and asked the man if he would accept that amount, but he held out for the original price. She gave him the money, she said, and the balance when he delivered the Cadillac.

LaPratt and Field said that since the cars were located in Detroit, the matter was under the jurisdiction of Detroit authorities, and that the Detroit Stolen Auto Squad is investigating the matter.

Also being investigated by Detroit police is a third car in the woman's possession, a 1972 Cougar, which, too, was listed as having been stolen. LaPratt gave credit for recovery of the stolen cars to the employees of the Mack-Beaconsfield branch of the Secretary of State's office, who are extremely alert. Every title that is brought into the branch, whether it is to be recorded when a car is sold, or when license plates are to be bought, is scanned. By using an ultra-violet light scanner, a title can be detected as being legitimate or phony. Any erasures can be detected under the scanner, too.

"I can say one thing," LaPratt said, "and that is, the people working at the branch office are very conscientious in scrutinizing all titles, whether turned in when a car is sold, or presented when auto owners buy license plates."

S & G Grocer Company, Inc. Moves to New Headquarters

Philip Shammass

In 1920 Philip Shammass came to this country and began working and going to the Douglas Night School in Peoria, Illinois. After working at his Uncle's confectionary business for two years, he decided to start out on his own.

The S & G Grocer Company was founded in 1924 by Philip N. Shammass as an all-around wholesale grocery supply house in a small building on the corner of Michigan and Abbott.

Philip Shammass realized the need for a grocery supply house which would be devoted exclusively to servicing the many hotels, clubs, restaurants, hospitals, and other institutions in the area. As a result, the firm moved in 1955 to 2000 Wilkins Street to take its place as one of Michigan's largest institutional wholesale grocery firms.

Again, the S & G Grocer Company, Inc. has moved its offices and warehouse. They are now located at 171 S. Clark Street in Detroit, Michigan. The offices and warehouse were previously owned by the American Brass Company, a division of Anaconda Copper and Brass Company.

Philip Shammass, President of the firm, feels strongly confident in the future growth of the City of Detroit.

Although the firm had a humble beginning as a family operation, it now boasts an efficient and well-trained staff of approximately 70 employees. These employees are under the capable supervision of George Lakis who is a Vice President of the firm. In addition to George Lakis, the firm's operations are carried out with the experienced help and assistance of Ray Mourad, Vice President; Robert Shammass, Vice President; Richard Shammass, Vice President; George Shammass, Treasurer; and Janet Lakis, Officer Manager and Secretary of the firm.

Philip Shammass was recently awarded a lifetime membership on the Board of Directors of Nugget Food Distributors. Philip Shammass resides at 60 Moorland in Grosse Pointe Shores.

Busing Topic Highlights Coalition Meeting Oct. 17

Student well-being and quality curriculum were discussed October 17 at a meeting of the Grosse Pointe Coalition for Peaceful Integration by speakers Rita Scott, a member of Judge Stephen Roth's Panel, and Dr. Eugene Cain, secondary education specialist, Wayne State University.

Mrs. Scott expects the Sixth Circuit Court to deliver its judgment on the appeal of Judge Roth's orders by November at the earliest. Regardless of the outcome, the decision would be appealed to the Supreme Court by either the NAACP or the suburban schools.

She estimated that the Detroit area might not have a Supreme Court decision for a year since the court refused immediate hearing of the Richmond, Va., cross-district busing case, and putting the case into the regular docket for late winter or the spring of 1973.

Mrs. Scott discussed how Grosse Pointe would be affected by the panel's recommendations for student assignment, class size, differences in student needs, exemptions of students from busing and the effect of busing on federal funds allocated to schools in the cluster. She also discussed the panel's recommendations for faculty assignment, teacher training and curriculum development.

According to the pupil assignment plan, the same chairman and Greg Grove, blue and gold banquet chairman.

Students are to stay together through all 12 years of schooling. For example, in the Detroit Bellevue, Grosse Pointe Ferry and Montclair cluster, all kindergarten through second grade children would attend Bellevue; in grades three-five, two-thirds of Bellevue students would go to Ferry and one-third to Montclair. For grades six-eight, all students would go to Detroit's Miller, while all students would attend Grosse Pointe North for grades nine-twelve.

There are, however, different arrangements in different clusters due to building capacities, number of students, distance and area birth rates. For example, in the cluster of Detroit's Bunche and Grosse Pointe's Richard, Kerby and Barnes, all K-2 youngsters would go to Bunche; of grades three-five, one-third would go to Richard, one-third to Kerby, and one-third to Barnes. Then all Bunche students would attend Brownell Junior High and Grosse Pointe High School.

The curriculum in the schools could not be organized in a tracking system that would resegment the students although special interest classes could be provided. The clustered schools would pool their different instructional materials providing a variety of materials to individualize instruction. Federally funded compensatory programs in Detroit would remain in the designated neighborhood and would probably be available for the year after ordered desegregation.

A student might be exempted from busing if he were a special education student assigned to a school lacking a special education program. However, most schools have these programs. Class size, it was recommended, should be set at the lowest size found in the paired schools. This would necessitate the hiring of additional teachers and, because of the panel's recommendations that faculty racial mix be substantially the same as the students' (a situation that does not presently exist in Detroit), many black teachers would have to be added to the faculty of the cluster schools.

Teacher assignments would be 75 percent white, 25 percent black, in each school. The first teacher to be assigned to a cluster school would be lowest in seniority, the next would come from a higher rung, etc., to insure a balance of experience in each school. Teachers would be reassigned to cluster schools before students were bused to acquaint the faculty with the different kinds of students they were to teach.

The State Superintendent would be responsible for working with each school to develop two in-service training programs for teachers, one preceding busing, and the second, a program to run concurrently with busing for at least the first year.

Dr. Cain stressed the need of students for factual texts that do not mythologize American leaders. He quoted Dr. Norman Drachler, former superintendent of Detroit schools, as saying that this is an age of ethnic identification and that it is important to be ethnic in an age so computerized and mechanized. Dr. Cain believes that the schools must respond to these needs of students.

Different minds bring about a marked difference of opinion in this indifferent world.

School Board Members Give Views on Proposal

volved in taxation that this plan would double the state income tax. I recall our recent experience where the state income tax was increased from 2.6 to 3.9 percent. This was sold to the public on the basis of educational need. But when Michigan's treasury ran short, it was education that suffered," Mr. Huetteman said.

State Aid Withheld
"Part of our state aid was withheld last year because Lansing was running a little short. What worries me, too, is the fact that with the number of cyclical industries in Michigan, the state goes through periods of low income and irregularity of revenue. I can just foresee that education will not be well-favored in Lansing and will be treated as a poor relation and not get the money it needs," President Huetteman commented.

"And, of course, from a purely selfish standpoint, under state funding and control, we could never be the community that we are now in an educational sense, but that isn't our prime motivating factor in opposing Proposal C. If we were helping someone else to solve his problems and still be able to educate our children adequately, it would perhaps be a good thing. But I don't see that the passage of Proposal C is helping anyone," Mr. Huetteman concluded.

Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., vice-president of the Board of Education, cautions that if Proposal C is approved there will no longer be a tax of any sort on property for the support of schools.

"This is obviously a complete change from present methods, leaving the Legislature several options," he said.

Would Effect Control
"To my way of thinking I think this will have a substantial effect on the local control of school operations and, in the final analysis, on the authority of this school board and on all local school districts," Mr. Glancy said. "Seriously, I don't think there will be any matter before this community on November 7 that will have more effect on the total community than the outcome of Proposal C," Mr. Glancy said.

Mr. Glancy said that the one phase of the proposed amendment that bothers him more than anything else is the total banning of the property tax for general school purposes.

"I recognize the inequity that the full burden for the support of schools is placed on the property owner and this is a situation that must be alleviated. However, I don't believe in the principle that the property tax for school support be totally banned. After all, the quality of schools has a strong bearing on the valuation of property, the wealth of the community. After all, the finer the school system the finer the community one has. The education of children is without doubt the most important function that calls for public support," Mr. Glancy concluded.

Urges "No" Vote
Mrs. Hanpeter, secretary of the Board of Education, has urged a "no" vote on the property tax proposition.

"Passage of Proposal C may be advertised as a bargain for the overtaxed property owner. The truth is that whether the tax is flat or graduated, either way the average person would pay more money directly to the state than he does now with no assurance that this money would be spent for education. Great power over education, which means program and personnel, would be placed in the hands of the legislative appropriations committees, especially the committee chairman. In a legislature dominated by outstate representatives, who knows where the priorities might be. Based on recent experience the legislature has acted irresponsibly about the financial needs of schools, and especially about the need of schools to plan ahead," she said.

"As far as Grosse Pointe is concerned, there is no doubt that most residents would pay more with less control over how their money is spent. Even with the six mills allowable for enrichment we could not sustain our current program with our present staff. To go beyond this and think about what the state might do to school district boundaries if it had financial control is disturbing, to say the least," Mrs. Hanpeter added.

Need for Reform
"There is a need for tax reform for the financing of public education, however. There is a valid point that rising property taxes place an unbearable burden on the taxpayer living on a fixed income, most of whom fall into the category of senior citizens. There is also the problem of the unfair load placed on districts with low property valuations.

"And, if the Legislature is truly concerned about an adequate level of educational opportunity for all children they can increase their compensatory grant for low districts. These problems are serious, but they are within the abilities of the legislature to correct. Residents on a fixed income should receive tax exemptions," Mrs. Hanpeter added.

"I hope residents will think twice about the possible result of the property tax proposal before they vote in November," Mrs. Hanpeter concluded.

Mr. Adams, treasurer of the Board of Education, said that the ballot proposal presents a great and grave responsibility not only to the citizens of Grosse Pointe but to voters across Michigan. He said that, in reviewing the lack of success of millage elections in recent years, one might have concluded that it was a toss-up whether a district were to take its chances with the Legislature or with the local voters for financing.

Citizens Best Bet
"Considering the outcome of the September 7 election in Grosse Pointe, perhaps one can conclude that the local citizenry is a better bet than the Legislature to continue an adequate level of support for our public schools and libraries," Mr. Adams said.

Trustee Semmler, who indicated that he has been involved in several discussions put on by representatives of the Legislature, said that many people are asking him how local schools will be financed if Proposal C passes and how local school boards will maintain local control. "Although the Governor's office provides a detailed explanation of how the new plan will work if Proposal C is approved, the wording of the amendment merely requires the legislature to establish a tax program for raising and distributing funds for public elementary and secondary schools. There is nothing in there that says the lawmakers are going to follow the Governor's proposal. In my opinion Proposal C really amounts to giving the Legislature a blank check to do as it pleases," Mr. Semmler concluded.

Optimist's Set Musical Show

A cantankerous female's dastardly scheme to abolish all forms of public music provides the musical vehicle for the Grosse Pointe Optimist's 25th Annual Show, Friday and Saturday evenings, November 3-4, at Parcell's Middle School Auditorium, Vernier road and Mack avenue. Curtain time for both evenings is 8:15 o'clock.

The emphasis will be on fun and romance, highlighted by a score of musical comedy tunes woven into a fast-moving court case plot, written by George L. Rogers, and featuring a cast under the direction of Prudence Butterfield.

Johnny Christian, Optimist president, and Marvin Robertson, the club's president-elect, both play key comedy roles in the presentation that boasts a cast of 40 talented local performers. Featured vocalists include Mary Greening, Kathy Cosentino, Norbert Gugel, Doreen Muirhead, Linda Starkey, Nancy Meinke, Ray Muirhead and Oliver Loranger.

Humor and comedy are amply provided by Irving Butterfield, who excels as "The Judge," Willis Weatherup, Maggie Sautter, Dale Hansen and Stella Chubrich. All dancing and choreography are under the direction of Linda Starkey and Pat Vigna.

Underprivileged children and many worthy organizations have benefited from the proceeds of this Optimist Club fund raising project. Tickets for this family show may be purchased from any member of the club or the cast, or at the box office at the Parcells auditorium before both performances. Adult donation is $2 and children's admission is $1.

It may be true that confession is good for the soul, but too few care to try the experiment.

Meditation Course Opens At War Memorial Oct. 30

By Roger A. Waba
 Interest in Transcendental Meditation (TM), as taught by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, continues to grow across the United States. Defined as a "method of allowing the mind to be drawn automatically to the deepest and most refined level of thinking," TM has an estimated 250,000 American meditators "with thousands of new converts a month," according to the October 23 issue of Time Magazine.

The process is a "natural and systematic one," said instructor John Lyons, International Meditation Society Detroit area co-ordinator. During the process of TM, the practitioner "enjoys a deep state of rest," he said. "A person can believe in anything he wants; he can even believe the technique won't work. The beauty of it is that meditation is personal; it's a one-on-one situation."

About 300 Pointers are currently meditating, while around 3,000 individuals practice TM in Detroit, stated Mr. Lyons. Pointers who have read about TM, or have heard about it from friends, will have an opportunity to pursue their interest beginning Monday, October 30, at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial. This meeting is the first step of "seven beginning steps" which includes two lectures, a personal interview with a teacher and four days of personal instruction for two hours a day.

Dynamic Process
 Mr. Lyons, who took a three-month training course under Maharishi four years ago, said he plans to give courses once a month at the War Memorial and hopes to have a center in The Pointe by the first of the year.

Along with Pointers Chris Worrell, his mother, Mrs. Christopher (Patricia) Worrell and Sally LeFever, Mr. Lyons at once became illuminated when discussing TM.

"A person meditates and releases the potential he has in any facet of life," stated Mr. Lyons. "It's a technique to utilize what's within." Practitioners meditate twice a day during the morning and before dinner for around 15 minutes. Here, he stresses the "beautiful flow" and "natural change" in this "slow but dynamic process."
 "TM is lab work towards the theory of the Science of Creative Intelligence. TM verifies the theory by way of practical activity and life style. This is what teachers are needed for," noted Mr. Lyons.

Change in Person
 And Chris, a Wayne State University student who has been meditating for a year, and Sally, who's working towards her B.A. degree, expressed an interest in teaching TM.

Chris began practicing TM because of a "basic need for personal growth," plus an interest in meditation. Since he started, he has quit smoking, feels more of a calmness and a constructiveness in his life. At this point, Mr. Lyons interjected, "You don't have to have a problem or a

Check Betrays Hit-Run Driver

A bartender at a Farms bar did a bit of detective work early Wednesday morning, October 11, when he saw a hit-and-run accident and traced the driver through a check cashed at the bar.

The bartender had escorted a salesman from Grand Rapids to his Plymouth station wagon parked near the bar at 18760 Mack avenue. As the car was backing out of the parking lot, it struck a yellow Opel and then left the scene traveling west on Warren from Mack.

Inside the bar, the bartender checked around to find out who owned the yellow car, locating Michael C. Passage, 54 Lincoln road. Remembering that the careless driver had cashed a check, he identified the Grand Rapids salesman as Thomas Wright.

Farms Patrolmen Gerald Deburghraeve and Thomas Kelly were called to the scene at 12:29 Wednesday morning. They took the report and put out an alert for the Plymouth station wagon which was picked up by Detroit that morning.

The driver, Wright, was booked with leaving the scene of a property damage accident and with an improper driving practice. His bond was set at $100 pending his court date.

FARMS NEWS

There is no end to what a resident can learn at a Farms Council meeting. For example, as the minutes of a recent Farms Council meeting were read, it was learned that the orange warning triangles are not needed on city maintenance vehicles moving over 25 m.p.h. Another fact which surfaced is that The Farms recently spent $25 to paint some of its garbage scooters chrome yellow as the previous white color posed a safety hazard.

Mr. Lyons, who took a three-month training course under Maharishi four years ago, said he plans to give courses once a month at the War Memorial and hopes to have a center in The Pointe by the first of the year.

Woods Sending Two to Parley November 9

Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen and Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher will represent their city at a regional workshop where all aspects of the financial administration of federal revenue sharing will be discussed.

In action taken at the regular meeting Monday, October 16, the Woods council unanimously approved their attendance at the Chicago, Ill., workshop Thursday, November 9.

Four other workshops also are being held in Houston, Tex., Los Angeles, Calif., Hartford, Conn., and Atlanta, Ga., dating from October 30 to November 20.

President Richard M. Nixon signed the $30.2 billion revenue-sharing bill in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, Friday, October 20, after Congress completed action on the measure Friday, October 13.

The legislation provides federal grants from tax money to state and local governments over a five-year period. Under the bill, $5.3 billion will be distributed to state and local governments in the first year. Somewhat increased amounts will be provided for each of the next four years.

Donald W. Beatty, executive director, MFOA International Career Development Center, Inc., in a letter to The Woods, said "While federal revenue sharing has been supported as a 'no strings attached' grant, the legislation has produced some minimal administration requirements."

"Naturally, these administrative activities will become the primary responsibility of the state and local government finance officer."

In order to inform finance officers of these specific administrative details, the conferences are held to discuss all aspects of the financial administration of revenue sharing, he noted.

The workshop includes a detailed discussion of the legislation with emphasis on the role of the United States Treasury as to the administration of the funds.

Cinema League Meets Tonight

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will meet at 8 o'clock tonight, October 26, in the War Memorial Auditorium. Carel Sellenraad will show his film, "From Sea to Shining Sea."

When the author was president of the "Smallfilm League" at Haarlem, The Netherlands, some 45 years ago, the 16mm film was such a novelty that the fire department was not yet convinced of its safety as compared with the highly inflammable 35mm film. The presence of a fireman was required at every meeting. The 8 mm film was nowhere in sight at that time. Mr. Sellenraad has stuck to the 16mm ever since.

The film gives the highlights of a leisurely trip around the world by various ships. We leave San Francisco on the "Canberra," the biggest passenger liner on the Pacific Ocean, on her maiden trip to Japan and Hong Kong. We arrive just Equator, where according to tradition "His Royal Highness King Neptune comes aboard, accompanied by His Curvaceous Royal Spouse, Queen Aphrodite," as the ship's paper announced. We witness the initiation by H.R.H. of all the landlubbers entering his domain, a truly hilarious event.

After a visit to Portuguese East Africa we leave our ship in Durban to start a comprehensive tour of South Africa. In Capetown we embark on the Hotelship "Vaal" for Europe. The S. S. "Orcades"

The system that moves the Cadillac Eldorado also moves the Audi 100LS. But we had it first.

Virtually every car in the world moves by a system known as rear-wheel drive. Which means the rear wheels push the car.

The Audi (and, of course, the Eldorado) moves by a system known as front-wheel drive. Which means the front wheels pull the car.

This gives you two distinct advantages:

One, it lets you corner surer. Even on the meanest, most terrifying curve.

And two, it gives you better traction on any kind of surface: rain, snow, mud, even ice.

Besides the Cadillac Eldorado, the Audi has some of the best features of six other great automobiles.

1. The Audi has the same type of steering system as the Ferrari 512 racing car.
2. The Audi has independent front suspension like the Porsche 917 racing car.
3. It's got the same amount of trunk space as the Lincoln Continental.
4. It's got the same headroom and legroom as the Rolls-Royce Silver Shadow.
5. Its interior bears a remarkable resemblance to that of the Mercedes-Benz 280SE.
6. You get the same kind of expert service with an Audi as you do with a Volkswagen. Because a Porsche Audi dealer is part of the VW organization.

The Audi. It's a lot of cars for the money.

One View From The Capitol

By William R. Bryant, Jr.

Proposal D on the November 7 ballot would amend our state constitution to allow a graduated income tax. The state constitution adopted in 1963, now prohibits the state or any political subdivision of the state from levying a graduated income tax.

Forty states now impose an income tax and 35 of those levy a graduated income tax at least on individuals. A graduated income tax is one in which the rate varies with the amount of income or one in which the rate is the same for all but is levied against a base which itself is graduated.

The arguments for adopting the amendment to allow a graduated income tax include (1) the prohibition now in the constitution simply does not belong there (2) the legislature should have flexibility to provide what is deemed to be an equitable tax structure (3) a flat rate tax is not progressive, that is it does not have the effect of leveling incomes and hits harder at those with lower incomes (4) if the school operating property tax proposal, Proposal C, is adopted the flat rate tax would have to be raised to a level which would be unacceptable for low and moderate income taxpayers (5) a flat rate income tax does not grow in its yield with increased productivity or with inflation to a degree sufficient to meet demands for increased government services or even to meet increased costs of present services, (6) passage of Proposal D would not mean an immediate graduated tax but would merely allow one if enacted by the elected legislature and (7) Michigan is out of step since 35 states already have a graduated income tax.

Arguments against the proposal include (1) dissatisfaction with the flat rate tax tends to discourage increase in its rate so has a dampening effect on legislative desires to increase costly programs and begin new ones, and even with a flat rate tax the cost of state government has doubled and quadrupled in recent years, (2) our "flat rate" tax is really a graduated tax anyway because of the high personal exemption of $1,200 so that a family of four with adjusted gross income of $5,000 pays an effective rate of 0.16 percent, of $10,000 pays an effective rate of 2.03 percent and of $25,000 pays an effective rate of 3.15 percent, on their adjusted gross income, (3) the economy of the state could not stand a graduated tax which may be graduated as to corporations and financial institutions and not just as to individuals, (4) the kind of graduated income tax scale the U.A.W. proposed in its earlier petitions and may push for if this proposal passes is a very steeply graduated scale, such that instead of now paying 3.9 percent on all taxable income an individual would pay 9.1 percent on taxable income over $23,000 and if Proposal C passes and the gap is taken up by income taxes the rate would be 14.7 percent for taxable income in excess of $23,000, (5) this would put Michigan near the critically high graduated income tax of the State of New York which is now 15.1 percent on taxable income over $25,000 and (6) our neighboring, competing states of Illinois, Indiana and Pennsylvania do not levy graduated income taxes and Michigan would place its economy at a disadvantage if it adopted one.

I oppose adoption of Proposal D.

Proposals C, D Opposed By Education Committee

Mrs. Richard Mills and John Cobau, co-chairmen of the Grosse Pointe Study and Action Committee for Education, this week indicated that their organization's executive committee has taken a stand in opposition to Proposals C and D in the November 7 General Election.

Approval of Proposal C would shift the major burden of financing public school education in Michigan from the local property tax to the state level. Proposal D would lift the ban on a graduated state income tax.

The statement, prepared by the Grosse Pointe PTA Council - I - U n d e r organization's "Committee to Study Proposals C and D," will be transmitted to local civic and community leaders, as well as the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, and candidates for public office.

The full text of the position paper follows. "The Grosse Pointe Study and Action Committee, while sharing a concern for tax relief and desiring quality education for all children, urges a stand against Proposal C and D. These proposals could prove detrimental to the Grosse Pointe School System and all school systems which share our goal of excellence in education. This Committee opposes Proposals C and D for the following reasons:

"Proposal C threatens to eliminate local control of schools and could shift complete control to the State Legislature. "School districts and school boards could easily be dissolved, as they would no longer be a necessary part of the financing and managing of local school systems.

"Proposal C could give the State Legislature the power to dictate educational standards, school curriculum, teacher/pupil ratios, teachers' salaries and hours, and textbooks.

"Proposal C could enable the State Legislature to realign and/or combine present school districts and reassign teachers and pupils. "School systems could not depend on guaranteed revenues from projected income tax because of fluctuating economic conditions.

"Proposal D would permit a graduated income tax with no limitations as to base or rate (percentage). The State Legislature could set and revise these rates at will—without a vote of the people.

"Proposal D, while permitting a graduated income tax, does not guarantee that any of the monies collected would be spent on education. "Proposals C and D would cost the average suburban homeowner substantially more than he is currently paying in taxes; while providing his children with a mediocre education.

"Proposals C and D, if adopted, would become a part of the Michigan Constitution; and be virtually irrevocable." Members of the Study and Action group's subcommittee to study Proposals C and D which drafted the statement were Mrs. Joyce Almany, Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, Mrs. Doris Graham, Kenneth Roy, and Charles Jaeger.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Edgar:—
 Bud Blessed, my husband passed away May 13, 1970. In going through his personal files I found this letter, to you.

I thought you might like to print it, as it still seems sensible, and Bud loved Grosse Pointe so, and did have so many constructive ideas.

Sincerely yours,
 Annie K. Blessed,
 114 Moran Road.

June 29, 1950
 Dear Mr. Edgar:—
 Because of your interest in my remarks about the opportunity now present for the establishment of a Fire Department District in the Pointes, I should like to further explain the possible operation.

At present the area and population of the five Grosse Pointes is less than the area covered by a Fire Department Battalion in the City of Detroit. The area of the Pointes contains less fire risks because of the smaller number of garages, filling stations and manufacturing establishments. There are only a few apartment houses, and those are mostly confined to a concentrated area on the West. A large portion of our houses are located upon lots with more space separation than most residential areas of Detroit.

At present four of the communities maintain a separate Fire Department organization. The personnel of each department is excellent, and deserving of high commendation from the citizens. The equipment has been selected with the protection of just that community as its objective.

However, in the face of constantly increasing costs, it is my opinion that a study of a District plan for Fire Department protection would result in greater protection through added working personnel and the selection of equipment which would serve any type of hazard without the need for assistance from the City of Detroit.

For example, at present the Pointes have four Fire Chiefs. The District plan would require but one. Thus three men would be assigned to the manning of equipment. At present we have a total of fourteen serving in junior positions of authority. The District plan would require eleven, made up of three assistant chiefs, four captains and four lieutenants. At present the Pointes maintain five buildings, or portions of buildings, for Fire Departments. The District plan would require but two locations. At present the five Pointes maintain thirteen pieces of equipment. Under the District plan, seven pieces of equipment, properly selected, would offer better and more protection.

The responsibilities of the Chief of such a District would warrant a substantial increase in compensation over the ability to pay of any one of the Pointes. The added compensation should produce the most efficient man within the departments at present, and offer an inducement in the future for the competitive training for the job by younger men. The same would be true of the positions of assistant chief, captain and lieutenant.

Should the personnel requirements of a District Department be less than the present number of men, then, under the pension plans now in operation, it would not be necessary to sever the connection of any firemen. Replacements of pension personnel would not be made until the desired number had been reached.

Such a plan permits each of the Pointes to have a voice in the administration of the District Fire Department. A Fire Commission would be created, with membership made up of one commissioner from each of the Pointes. The method of selection would be determined by the individual Pointe, and for such term of office as would be acceptable to that community. This type of administration should attract men of experience and real interest. Their interest would be the most efficient fire protection of the Pointes.

The recent change in the Police radio and its present successful operation should warrant the thoughtful consideration of a Fire District plan on the part of all of the citizens of the Pointes. If a sincere study of the plan substantiates its possible efficiency, then the details of apportionment of costs, and the locations of fire houses become but a detail in the over-all plan for making it effective.

Sincerely,
 Clarence D. Blessed
 Safety Commissioner
 City of Grosse Pointe

To The Editor:
 To all the wonderful people who planted "A Park in a Day," a heartfelt thanks. They said it couldn't be done and we did it! The Play Area of Elworthy Field was transformed from an empty mud-flat into a beautiful park complete with trees, ground cover and grass in the space of six hours, thanks to the dozens of adults and young people who braved the raw weather to come out and work.

It's very hard to single out individuals and specific groups for special thanks, because the entire community was represented, but we would like to give our personal thanks to the marvelous guys from Gene's, Cal Fleming's and Bill Meyers' landscaping companies, to say nothing of Timberlane Landscaping who came all the way from the West Side of town to help us, when all they wanted to do was watch the World Series. They were foremen par excellence, and at least we provided beer, if not television.

Joe Eckert and Lynn Murphy, landscape designers who put the whole thing in motion were there with City Manager Tom Kressbach and Mayor John King, who designated October 21 "EAN DAY" in Grosse Pointe City. They and their families worked along with Bob Vens and Doug Collinson of the Department of Public Works in the sleet and the rain — it was great for planting but lousy for people. Girl Scout Troop 765 from Kerby School stepped up in force to plant the entire pachy-sandra deltoidea and Mike Read, Tom and Carr, Matt Sullivan and the Earth Lovers from Grosse Pointe South. High school stalwart amount of heavy work." We were helped by Sgt. Ed Behrens of Grosse Pointe City Police to stop laying down a bad cut on his fingernails and a newcomer to our crew, Craig Henzel of Neff road appeared to have been bolted to a wheelbarrow. These are only a few of the hardy souls who cared.

Our thanks also to Eric and John Strub who donated much-appreciated ice cream sundaes and beer, Tom Bogan of Vernor's, Inc., who donated the soft drinks and the Alger Party Store which gave us the ice to cool it. We all had lunch courtesy of Jim DeRubels of Burger Chef in Mack avenue and it disappeared fast. The Neighborhood Club gave us the use of its facilities, telephone and an impromptu lunch-room which was welcomed by soggy gardeners.

Last and most important, our thanks to the National Bank of Detroit and the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club. The latter donated all the play equipment — there were dozens of kids there using it this afternoon — and it was STILL raining! Without the dynamic ideas of Joe Tolari, Vice-President in charge of the new Regional Banking Office opening soon on the old Village Manor property, Jim Glynn and Betty Chapman of the Public Relations Department of the National Bank of Detroit and the many groups and individuals that donated trees and plantings, this "Park-in-a-Day" would never have happened.

I'm very proud to be a resident of the Grosse Pointes. I've never really doubted it, but after Saturday I can really say we're a first class community.

My sincere thanks,

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Since the Grosse Pointe Public Library is part of the Grosse Pointe Public School System, it is only fitting to remind you that the week of October 22-28 is American Education Week. Its theme is "Make Education Top Priority." Its purpose is "To focus public attention on the needs and achievements of America's schools." It is sponsored by NEA, National Congress of Parents & Teachers, U.S. Office of Education, and the American Legion.

This information was culled from CHASES' CALENDAR OF ANNUAL EVENTS, and since November will soon be upon us—often a dull month, weather-wise and otherwise, we thought that perhaps we could spark things up by giving you some worthy events from this same source. Of course, there is always the anticipation of Thanksgiving, but let's take a closer look at some lesser known celebrations and dates.

First of all — did you know that November is Good Nutrition Month? Its purpose is "To make America conscious of the wonderful foods available in the U.S.A. and how to use them wisely and well." And all this sponsored by the Gourmet Adventures Club and Mme. Ginette's Cordon Bleu French Cooking School in Los Angeles.

Also it's Think-Of-What-You-Can-Replace-With-Plastics-Month. "To create greater awareness of the diverse industrial uses and design applications of plastics." You will be interested to know that the sponsor of this is a Detroit firm!

We'd prefer you eliminate the gunpowder and fireworks, but Guy Fawkes Day celebrations are coming up on November 4-5.

Lovers of cats — attention! From November 5-11 is International Cat Week "To acquaint the general public with the fine qualities of the cat."

To get back to food, let us not forget Asparagus Week, November 12-18 "To promote the use of asparagus in soups, salads and as a main dish vegetable." In competition we have National Split Pea Soup Week, November 13-17, offering an "educational program emphasizing high protein value and popularity of split pea soup."

It would never do for a library column not to emphasize National Children's Book Week, November 13-19, sponsored by the Children's Book Council, Inc., in New York. Moving on in age, we also have Youth Appreciation Week, November 13-19 "To recognize the great majority of young people who are leading constructive lives in home, school, church and community."

An odd one indeed is Holidays Are Pickle Days, November-January 1, 1973. After all, we must promote the contribution of pickles to holiday entertainment — Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's!

Now if you want to go abroad and have fun, how about Elephant Round-Up at Surin, Thailand on November 18? This is a demonstration of how wild elephants are caught. Perhaps you could join in the elephant parades, tugs-of-war, etc. Then, on November 18 through the 20th, how about Les Trois Glorieuses in France? Three days are devoted to the glory of wine, with wine sales and auctions, banquets and wine-tasting. So hurry, hurry, hurry to Nuits-Saint-Georges, Beaune and Meursault if you're thirsty!

Did you know that Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was given on November 19, 109 years ago? There will be ceremonies in the National Cemetery, the event being sponsored by the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania and the Sons of Union Veterans.

One of the funniest, to me, is the League of Elderly Gentlemen Week, November 21-27. Purpose "To ponder problems of elderly gentlemen in reduced circumstances and to aid in movements to reconcile them with the decency, comfort and affluence from which they have been diverted by circumstance, fate or cruel whims of changing economics." I admit that there are undoubtedly many people in this pathetic plight, but somehow the wording of the whole thing seems amusingly mid-Victorian.

The next contribution starts on Thanksgiving, so in case you will be having a bit of gastritis, there is National Indigestion Season, November 23 to January 1, 1973. "To promote Baking Soda as relief during the indigestion 'season' which follows the Thanksgiving turkey and New Year's Eve festivities."

And then finally we come to Thanksgiving Day, on November 23 this year, and by Presidential proclamation, always issued for the fourth Thursday. We wish you a very merry one, be sure to include asparagus and split pea soup in your menus! And let us hope you won't need the baking soda!

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Back in 1958, Grosse Pointe High School Senior Kenneth N. Kurtz won a $1,000 Detroit Science Fair Scholarship for his Paleontology Collection and Display.

On Monday, October 2, University of Miami (Fla.) Associate Professor Kenneth N. Kurtz left with his wife, Susie, for France, where he is engaged, with the full cooperation of the French Government, in a study of scenery and stage machinery preserved in the Queen's Theatre at Versailles.

From fossils to Marie Antoinette's playhouse... The son of the Kenneth W. Kurtzes, of Bishop road, has come a long way.

Of course, even in his Fossil Period, Ken was fascinated by drama, and dramatic pageantry.

Circuses were the Kurtz Family Passion, and Ken built a complete, miniature Big Top in his basement. The NEWS heard about it, and in February, 1958, Ken was featured "Pointer of Interest."

He was president of Pointe Players during his senior year at the High School. Later, at Miami University, Oxford, O., he acted in at least 14 plays and, in June, 1961, received First Award in the National Educational Theatre Association-Gothic Color Company Scene Design Competition: A $1,000 fellowship for graduate study.

He couldn't take advantage of the graduate study grant right away. He had to complete his own undergraduate senior year.

Ken received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Miami in 1962. The following year found him at the University of Minnesota, on a McKnight Fellowship for Graduate Study and two-year Technical Theatre Internship with the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre.

He was exceptionally fortunate to be at the Guthrie while Sir Tyrone Guthrie and noted set designer Tanya Moisevitch were there. Susie, an Art major at Miami, O., was there, too. (The young Kurtzes have been married nearly 10 years, and work together extremely well.)

In June, 1965, Ken received his Master of Arts degree, (major: Theatre; minor: Art History), from the University of Minnesota.

In May, 1966, he won First Place in the Monticello College Scene Design Competition.

World Community Celebration Slated

Church Women United of Detroit will celebrate World Community Day Friday, November 3, at 11 o'clock at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, joining with the young and not-so-young in thousands of other communities across the nation in a "Coming Of Age Celebration."

Millions of 18-to-21-year-olds will be participating in a national election for the first time this year, standing side by side with their elders in assuming full citizenship responsibilities.

The "coming of age" applies to older celebrants, too, for they recognize that mature Christian citizenship is never an accomplished fact, but a constant process of "Coming Of Age." They welcome the idealism, vigor and commitment to a peaceful world community the young people bring with them as He'd joined the staff of the Department of Drama, University of Miami, Coral Gables, Fla., in 1965, as an instructor. He was named an Assistant Professor in September, 1967, an Associate Professor with Tenure in September, 1971.

The summer of 1967 found Ken in New York, on a University of Miami Research in the Humanities Grant, studying American collections of Baroque and 18th Century scenic designs.

The fall of 1969 found him traveling through Iceland, Greenland and Newfoundland, taking a USO group from Miami U. on tour with a musical he'd adapted, designed and directed from the Feydeau farce, "A Flea in Her Ear."

Last spring, it was back to New York. Ken's sets for the Miami U. production of "The Boy Friend," presented at Kennedy Center during the College Theatre Festival, drew applause, swelling to a crescendo for his second act "beach scene."

In 1968, Ken and Susie toured Europe. They were in Prague a few weeks before the Russian invasion, and were struck, during their stay there, by a sense of heaviness, of Russian dominance, even before the troops moved in.

In Czechoslovakia, they visited the theatre in Cesky Krumlov, one of only five 18th Century theatres to have survived with full complement of scenery and complete stage machinery necessary to mount the complicated perspective illusions popular during the period.

Another is located in Litolmysl, Czechoslovakia, two others in Sweden, at the Drottningholm and Gripsholm summer palaces near Stockholm.

The fifth is the Queen's Theatre at Versailles.

Candlewax drippings from Marie Antoinette's time are still visible in the Queen's Theatre.

All who attend are asked to bring an item of "finger food" to share during the noon hour, (cookies, fruit, crackers, etc.)

Mrs. Ray Kiely, wife of the senior minister of Meauditorium. It has been the subject of only two articles in French journals, and of brief paragraphs in two English language sources.

No plans exist of the complicated machinery that serves its stage. No attempt has been made to catalogue its stock of scenery.

Until now.

Now, Ken and Susie Kurtz are there, measuring, cataloguing, photographing and marveling. The Queen's Theatre auditorium is a miniature version of the great royal opera houses of France and Italy. Backstage, in addition to rigging and scenery, is a small theatre-machinists shop, complete with hardware and some tools used in the days of Louis XVI.

Sets of scenery represent all the basic stock needed to produce opera and drama of the era, including regal interiors, a rustic scene, a royal garden and a battlefield.

The Queen's Theatre is the product of first-rate professionals from the important theatrical centers of France. Though designed as a doll's house for the Player Queen—it only seats about 100 people—its machinery is a virtual realization of plans published in the Diderot Encyclopedia, the premier source on stagecraft of the period.

Fascinating!

When Ken and Susie complete their field work at Versailles, they plan to vacation for a while, meandering through France, Spain, Portugal and back up to Luxembourg, from where they'll fly home.

They expect to be back some time in December. After Christmas, they'll settle down to compiling, writing and correlating their Queen's Theatre notes, findings and photographs.

Of course, paleontology was fascinating, too, but the time comes when a boy must make a choice.

Ken Kurtz has never regretted his. He's come a long way.

Helen Bowen Blain Says Vows Oct. 21

Family Dinner at Grosse Pointe Club Follows Ceremony in Which She Becomes Mrs. William Taylor Swartz

In Grosse Pointe Memorial Church's Barbour Chapel early Saturday evening, October 21, Helen Bowen Blain, daughter of Mrs. James Beyer Lewis, of Williams avenue, and Dr. Alexander Blain, III, of Stratford place, was married to William Taylor Swartz, of Bloomfield Hills.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Caleb Swartz, of Port Sanilac.

The 5 o'clock rites at which The Reverend Jay Locke presided were followed by a dinner for members of the families at the Grosse Pointe Club.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of lilac silk, trimmed with deep pink and gold accents, and carried a small, old-fashioned bouquet of deep pink roses.

She was attended by her sister, Josephine Johnson Blain, a student at Michigan State University.

Their brother, Sandy Blain, of Warren, acted as Mr. Swartz's best man.

The newlyweds are at home in Auburn Heights.

They were joined later by Mrs. Roger (Pam) Stanton, who recently moved to The Pointe. Pam maintained her "book salesman" role for Merry Mart, even though she's been very busy supervising the building of the Stanton's new house in Stratford place.

Treasurer and Trash person Mrs. Robert (Kathy) Michalik and Mrs. Arthur (Gwen) Judson showed up with the "specials" they've

Clark Women's Club To Meet Wednesday

Clark Women's Club members have invited husbands and guests to join them for dinner next Wednesday evening, November 1, at 8:30 o'clock, at Christ Methodist Church. A speaker from the Detroit Historical Museum will present the program.

Pointers Wake To Merry Mart

Early this morning, a Great Exodus of Pointe ladies began as members of Christ Child's Merry Mart '72 staff moved their paraphernalia to Raleigh House in Southfield for their annual Christmas Fair. It opened at 10 o'clock and will continue until 4.

Mrs. Samuel (Sandy) Solomon East Side co-chairman, drove off in a station wagon loaded with gift boxes and shopping bags she'd solicited from local merchants.

Mrs. John (Mary) Tulloch, Fashion Show chairman, transported three of her models, her own daughter Monica, eight, 12-year-old James Browning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Browning, and Amy Goodnow, four, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Goodnow.

Mrs. Paul (Bonnie) Reger, luncheon chairman, Mrs. David (Kathy) Henes, and Mrs. Paul (Pat) Zavell, co-chairmen, set forth with reservations and seating charts for over 1,100 ladies.

The luncheon has been sold out for the past week.

Mrs. Thomas (Lynn) McGann, social chairman, is overseeing the day's hostesses, name tags, et al.

Mrs. Donald (Mary Jane) Currier and her co-chairman, Mrs. Thomas (Betty) Ireland, packed two miniature Christmas trees, one decorated in fake dollar bills, the other with tiny liquor bottles, to display in the Awards Booth.

Mrs. Richard (Pat) Panin, co-chairman of the Bags and Basket Booth, had her auto filled with decoupage, hand-painted and needlepointed items to complement the stock prepared by her Birmingham co-workers.

Mrs. Reginald (Sue) Zelinski, co-chairman of Baked Goods, advised her captains to drop off their goodies Wednesday evening, at her home in Heather lane. She priced and packed and was on her way as soon as the kiddies were off to school.

Sally Meier, chairman of the Christmas Booth, organized a caravan including her co-chairman Mrs. Thomas (Betty) Hosea, Mrs. Walter (Rita) Jarvis, Mrs. William (Joan) O'Neil, Mrs. Robert (Patti) Quarters and Mrs. David (Lisa) Wenzler.

It was one lady to a car. The rest of the space went to holiday decorations.

Mrs. Donald (Pat) Pokorny, co-chairman of Knitting, and Mrs. David (Nancy) Zimmerman, co-chairman of Sewing, toled many months of needlework.

Looking like Santa's Sleigh was the car driven by Mrs. Henry (Joyce) Gildner, chairman of the Toy Booth, accompanied as usual by her good friend Mrs. William (Margot) Wyndram, who has helped at every pre-sale—

A Great Lady Saves the Day

Opening Night patrons of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center's black tie "Lighter Side" series, busied to a cocktail party preceding the dinner and show, were warmly greeted by Roma (Mrs. W. A.) Riddell, who had graciously agreed to open her lovely Bishop road home to the nearly 400 first-nighters.

The thought of 400 for cocktail would unnerve many a hostess — but not Roma Riddell.

As if this weren't enough, just five days before the gala, Mrs. Riddell, visiting in Toronto, received a call from the Center's Joan Lake.

Lets Hunt, scheduled to open the series with Earl Wrightson, was unable to come.

Would Roma, in addition to being hostess for 400, help ball out the War Memorial and appear as artist in part of the show?

Mrs. Riddell, mother of five, is an opera star in her own right. She recently toured Canada in "My Fair Lady." Without a moment's demer, she said "Yes." She got her own accompanist and opened the show with an unforgettable half hour of show tunes. She brought the audience to their feet, (and picked John Lake up off the floor), and the "Lighter Side of Life" was off to a rousing start.

Council Okays City Purchases

By Kathy Duff
The council of Grosse Pointe City approved purchases totaling $18,800 at the Monday night, October 16, regular council meeting. Also approved were a $907 quarterly subsidy for SEMTA's operating deficit and a $15,700 water bill from The Farms. (The City buys its water from The Farms.) On the recommendation of City Manager Thomas Kressbach, the council accepted Roy O'Brien's bid of $5,399 for a 23,000 GVW truck car and chassis, or the body of a new dump truck, it was the low bid of the three received, being at least $250 less than those of Eastland Truck Sales or GMC. The city's old dump truck, vintage 1983, will be traded in for $388. Mr. Kressbach recommended the automatic transmission option, expecting lower transmission and engine maintenance costs and improved operating ability and working conditions. The truck was in line with the public works equipment replacement schedule. However, a dump truck, even one with automatic transmission, is not much good without a dump box, hoist and salt spreader. Following the approval of Roy O'Brien's truck, the council considered bids for the additional equipment. A dump body and hoist was purchased from Garwood Detroit Truck Equipment, Inc., for $1,359, the low bid of the two received. The members accepted the bid of Shulte Equipment, Inc., for two tailgate salt spreaders priced at $2,364, the low bid by $200 of the five received. These units replace the 1993 and 1995 salt spreaders used for snow and ice control. After the 1972 summer season at the Norbert Neff Park, the showers at the pool bathhouse are in need of repair. Several of the shower heads, valves, and related piping are broken or loose and are either completely or partially inoperable. City officials inspected several types of fixtures and decided upon Bradley Model single person showers which will be installed by The City's Water Department and Parks Department during the winter and spring. Certain fixtures will be installed at a lower level for children's use. The project will cost $1,678. In preparation for the coming season of snow and sleet, the City placed an order for 80 tons of rock salt with the International Salt Company and the Diamond Crystal Salt Company. As each company entered a bid of $8.73 per ton delivered, the City split the contract.

WHYDONTCHA BUYHERARING???

If you took the time to figure this out then you should take the time to COME OVER AND DO IT!

We have rings that fit any finger and some so cheap you'll probably buy two so if one ring makes you a hero, imagine what two will do.

We have Michigan's largest selection of antique and strange jewelry from weird places of the world.

While you're at it you might as well examine our 18th and 19th century Decorative Antiques and Oil Paintings and who knows what else. Sometimes it's a little confusing for us too.

—OPEN SUNDAY 2 to 5—

A FIRST OFFERING this week will make you glad you didn't give up the ghost and waited till Halloween to buy a home. It's on tree-lined Hawthorne at 1197, and is awaiting your inspection Sunday between 2 to 5 p.m. Three bedrooms, two baths, living room with fireplace, dining room, and a large kitchen add up to comfortable living. Step from the Florida room into the yard large enough for a good sized pumpkin patch. You'll agree this is the treat without a trick!

THE GOBLINS WILL GET YOU if you don't see this one. The two-story living room is ideal for parties and the basement recreation room includes a wet bar. Five bedrooms and two baths provide adequate space for all the little trick-or-treaters. Ideal location near transportation. Now vacant (except for resident ghosts). See it all at 851 Bedford—just South of Jefferson.

BEWITCHED YOU'LL BE when you treat your eyes to this new southern colonial on Cameron Place. You can find us off of Jefferson toward the lake, just a block from the bank at Rivard and Jefferson. The first floor has a cathedral ceiling living room, separate dining room, family room and large bedroom. Upstairs are four more bedrooms and two baths. The builder wants us to broom this one out, so swing by. We're sure you'll be swept away.

BY APPOINTMENT PLEASE

ALSO IN OUR BAG OF GOODIES is this multi-roomed monster on Lake Shore Road. Could be just the mansion for the family with a lot of relatives hanging around. With a comparatively low listing price this one won't dangle on the market very long . . . Call before someone else cuts this one down.

HAUNTINGLY CHARMING this little colonial is some sweet pumpkin. Comes with first floor den and lavatory. Three bedrooms upstairs for you and your wee hobgoblins. Treat yourself to a real bargain, because the tag of $39,500 is no trick price. Ring our bell for an appointment . . . we wouldn't soft soap you.

IF YOU'VE BEEN SPOOKED by the high prices of homes for the larger family, we have a price reduction treat for you. Four or five bedrooms, three baths, family room and finished basement are just part of what we offer in this Grosse Pointe Woods surprise. Room to park your two pumpkinmobiles in the garage comes with the other trimmings too.

ATTRACTIVE SETTING on Hawthorne Road is the locale for this deceiving house. Step-down family room within easy access of the kitchen. A first floor bedroom plus three more on the second floor provide ample accommodations for the larger family. Priced at $43,500.

BE IT EVER SO SELDOM we have a four bedroom colonial to offer in a price range which fits the "almost new" category. Tagged to sell in the mid-fifties and sports a large family room with fireplace. The garage is attached and upfront, which allows for the large backyard. Buy all this at 804 Woods Lane.

BEHIND THE MASK OF A LOG CABIN is this three bedroom footer with cathedral ceiling, living room with a fieldstone fireplace. There's a new kitchen with freezer-refrigerator and new stove. $33,500 shouldn't scare you. Buy it and have something to crow about.

A BEAUTIFUL GOLF COURSE setting where you can actually watch the sun go down from your own terrace, which is just a few steps away from the Country Club fairway. The Pointe has only a handful of properties which actually abut a golf course. This is a magnificent example.

VACANT LOT in Grosse Pointe Park south of Jefferson. Zoned for two family. Priced at $12,500.

Pointe Counter Points

By Pat Rousseau

Sketched . . . for the Walton Pierce ad on first page Society is one of the greatest coats around in blonde "ultra-suede" with tawny kit fox. Ultra-suede is the man made fabric that looks and feels just like suede but is so practical. Imagine you can brush or wash spots away. There is also a finger tip topper or blonde ultra-suede lined with natural fur from China. Other cozy man made impersonators look like seal with silver fox, broadtail with mink and many other glamorous combinations. There are handsome cloth coats, too. One we recently showed at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club is in red pepper melton to spice a winter wardrobe. Long capes are fashionable versatile cover-ups. At Walton-Pierce there is a black Italian knit cape which is collared with velvet and a Christmas red long wool cape which is buttoned with rhinestones. Stop by Walton-Pierce now and be fashionably ready for the first snow flake.

The Place . . . to find the famous machine-done permanent . . . the French Permabel is Leon's. It's a fabulous permanent designed to condition the hair while it gives body curl. Good news for those with problem hair, tinted or bleached hair. Call TU 49393 for an appointment . . . 17888 Mack Avenue.

Great News For Men . . . now there's Leon's Salon for men located at 985 Washington Road, just off Mack Avenue, for cutting and styling. It is smoothly managed by John Lania. Open 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. every day except Sunday to accommodate the busy man. Call 884-3355 for appointment.

Timely Advice . . . Give your leaf raker and snow shovel to a worthy cause. You won't need it at the Jefferson Apartments, 17111 East Jefferson, where exterior maintenance is arranged for you. When you drive up to the front door under a handsome Georgian portecochere, a doorman takes your packages and will park your car in a garage. If you're planning a cruise or are off to southern climes come the first snowflake, rest assured your apartment home will be guarded by the most sophisticated modern security systems and looked after by a permanent caretaker. If you'll be in town for the holidays, light a fire in the natural fireplace and serve toasts from a handy wet bar. Do enjoy all the many advantages of convenient care-free living in Grosse Pointe's newest most elegant condominium. Apartments are spacious and sound-proofing is at a maximum. Visit the model apartment. Enter on Neff or St. Clair. Open 12 to 5 every day except Wednesdays. Call 882-7708 or 886-4880 for more information. Michigan Condominium Corporation.

Wouldn't You Love . . . the Thermador Microwave Portable Oven. Microwave cooking requires only one-fourth the time usually needed by conventional cooking. Imagine a five-pound roast in only twenty-five minutes, a baked potato in six minutes. With this Thermatron you can cook in shallow metal pans. Put it on wheels and it is moved from the kitchen to the family room. See it at Mutschler Kitchens, 20227 Mack Avenue.

Eileen says . . . "If you're tired of pants, try a dress." She has a great selection of short daytime dresses and jumpers in a fabric range from washable polyester, to wools, to heavy camels . . . lots of pastel colors, too, at Michelle's Boutique, 17864 Mack Avenue. Michelle's will be open Friday evening until eight and Eileen will be at the shop Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturdays. Remember Monday is Ladies Day with special value lunches, cocktails and a very special fashion show by Michelle's at the King's Table in the First National Building from 11:30 a.m. through 2:00 p.m.

In Martha's Closet . . . 375 Fisher Road, you'll find Fishmonger jewelry. Mother of Pearl fish on a silver chain picks up the color of your costume. The fish come in two sizes . . . quite a fashion catch!

Those Folks At Mr. Q . . . have all the charter flight information to those sun spots around the world for 1973. Call for the latest brochures and the best prices . . . 886-0500 . . . 19517 Mack Avenue.

Dorothy Gray's Special . . . at the Notre Dame Pharmacy . . . 12 oz. Dry Skin Cleanser regularly $5.50 on sale at $3.50; 12 oz. Salom Cold Cream regularly $5.50 on sale at $3.50; 16 oz. Texture Lotion regularly $5.00, on sale at $3.00; 16 oz. Orange Flower Skin Freshener, regularly $5.00, on sale at $3.00; 10 oz. Two Minute Magic regularly $2.50, on sale at $1.50.

The Kaleidoscope . . . views a harvest of fall candle arrangements. Candles and rings range in size from one inch to six inches . . . 16135 Mack Avenue.

Teenagers . . . when their hair is well cut and conditioned usually have a knack for caring for it. At Edward Nepi they get the right styling start and are taught the proper methods of hair care. Make an appointment for your teen. Call TU 4-8858.

Schlere's Droll Bird Feeder . . . brings pleasure all winter long to you and your feathered friends available at the Sphere, 19849 Mack Avenue . . . twelve dollars.

It's Posh . . . Michael says, "Stay away from wooden over-browned contrived coiffures. It isn't only artificial and unnatural looking, it's old-fashioned and passe. Whether you are doing your own or having your hair coiffed at a salon you need for any hair style the best possible hair cut you can afford as a base, and this can only be done by professionals. Remember that the whole idea of arranging your hair is to show it off to best advantage and the best of all hairdos looks as if nature had created it. You can achieve the look at the Posh Studio naturally—886-1377.

Take Time Out . . . Wednesday for lunch at the Golden Lion and enjoy a fashion show presented by Martha's Closet. It's a great way to restore your energy and add to your wardrobe.

Find Fashion Togetherness . . . at the Margaret Diamond Shop, 377 Fisher Road. Ensemble those new gray flannel cuffed pants ($35) with one or more pastel shirt waist blouses ($22).

Pointers of Interest

MRS. ROBERT BENNETT, OF SOUTH OXFORD ROAD (SEATED), MRS. THOMAS J. MURPHY, OF HARCOURT ROAD, (CENTER), AND MRS. JOHN W. HAMAL, OF UNIVERSITY PLACE.

By Janet Mueller

They're typical members of the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries. Which means, of course, that each is unique. And that, of course, they're all involved—up to their eyeballs—in Junior Goodwill's Silver Anniversary Antiques Market and Sale, to be presented Saturday, Sunday and Monday, November 11 through 13, at the Sentinel Building in East Jefferson avenue.

There's an invitational preview party, (advance tickets only), scheduled for Friday evening, November 10. The Mesdames Bennett, Murphy and Hamal will be there.

Of course, Marie Murphy is chairman of committees for the 25th annual show.

Born in Detroit, (her father was a Ropelle, her mother a Churchill), Marie met the late Circuit Judge Thomas J. Murphy while she was working in her father's law office.

She'd attended Detroit Teachers College. "But I wasn't cut out to be a teacher." She WAS cut out to be a wife, and mother. The Murphys had five children, four girls and a boy, and Marie boasts eight grandchildren.

So far, "To Visit Daughters" —"When the Antiques Show —which I hope will be a huge success—is over, I plan to visit two of my daughters and their families; on the West Coast: One in San Francisco and one in Spokane, Wash.

"The others I see often, as one daughter lives in Ann Arbor, one in St. Clair Shores, and my son and his family live in Detroit, quite close by."

Keskemos . . . are multi-colored heavy cozy wool ponchos which are handmade in Mexico and make dramatic cover-ups for fall and apres ski . . . $15 at 16237 Mack Avenue.

There are two new designs this fall in the Mole Hole's collection of Flip over Dolls. You know, the ones that flip from one character to another. Now there's a Jack and Jill doll and a Daniel and Rebecca Boone doll. Mack Ave. at Three Mile Drive.

It's Merry . . . French Cheese Month at the Still Mouse. Come in and sample some of the creamy goodies. Christmas gift packages are arriving every day and it's not too soon to shop. Open House Sunday, November 12 . . . 12 to 5.

Time To Think Christmas . . . Bijouterie Jewelry by Cueter offers you the opportunity to give a one-of-a-kind piece designed just for the individual alone. There is an excellent selection of stones at 19860 Mack Avenue. On display you'll see unusual jewelry to give you an inspiration. Bijouterie is open 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Friday evening until 9 p.m.

Personnel Notes . . . Catherine, an excellent manicurist and pedicurist, has joined the staff of the Grosse Pointe Coliseum, 20335 Mack Avenue . . . 881-7252.

Beginning October 30th . . . Margaret will be changing her hours. Margaret's Antiques will be open Tuesday and Wednesday 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Thursday and Friday 12:00 to 5:00 p.m., and Saturdays 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Drop in and browse around for charming Christmas gifts . . . 20129 Mack Avenue.

She has plans to go farther afield, too.

Traveling has always interested her, and she's pretty well covered all the States, (except Alaska), the Mediterranean countries, the Caribbean islands, the South Seas, Australia, New Zealand and Tasmania, the Orient . . .

What's left? "I'm hoping to visit South Africa after the first of the year."

She loves to fish, swim and play cards. She worked once upon a time for the Government in the City Purchasing Department, where supplies for Government projects were bid on under Purchasing Agent John A. Gorman. She presently serves on the Grosse Pointe Park Board of Canvassers.

She's been a Park resident for 29 years.

Has Other Interests

She's a member and past president of the Bon Secours Hospital Assistance League, and serves one afternoon a month in the Hospital Gift Shop. She's a member of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Association and the League of Catholic Women.

The Junior Group of Goodwill is a continuing, major interest. She joined in 1958, and has served on its board of directors for most of the intervening years.

"You work in all areas," she says, explaining how Junior Goodwill involves its members in every phase of its activities. "We're a working group: Everyone has to be involved."

"You make fast friends." So, when the president of the Group calls and asks if you'll spend a year working on Junior Goodwill's Silver Anniversary Antiques Market and Sale, negotiating for the building, seeing to the food, attending to all the organizational details . . .

How do you say no to a fast friend? Bernice Hamal is chairman of exhibitors for the 25th annual show.

She's A Natural

She was born in Almont, Mich., in a family home built in 1832. "I've always been intrigued with history and antiques, so I guess the Junior Group and its Antiques Sale are 'naturals' for me."

She attended Cleary Business College, and married John in 1942. Their first daughter was born while he was serving in the South Pacific in World War II, their second 11 years later — so Bernice went the P.T.A. Room Mother, Girl Scout route twice over.

Wendy, the youngest Hamal, is a senior at Grosse Pointe South High now.

After the War, John's work kept the Hamals on the move, from California to Maine, and Bernice learned to adjust to new community after new community.

"You must be an out-going person. You have to join things." She found charities she could believe in, did church work. One year, she was Torch Drive women's chairman for the city of Royal Oak.

"Not one," she says of these other charitable endeavors, "has been as demanding or as fulfilling as chairing a committee for the Junior Group of Goodwill."

In 1960, the Hamals' peregrinations came to an end. They Settled Down

They settled in The Pointe, and have been here ever since. Bernice Hamal enjoys gardening, sewing and painting, (walls, not pictures). She loves bridge but, just last week, turned down three invitations to play at the Country Club.

The Silver Anniversary Antiques Market and Sale, you know . . .

This past year, (filling the job of exhibitors' chairman), has been busy.

"Each year, we try to introduce a new aspect to our show. Last year we added a dealer in antique guns, and this year we have an antique book exhibitor, from Illinois."

In all, 37 exhibitors, from all over the United States, specialists in American, French, English and Oriental artifacts, jewelry, prints, silver, china, glass, pewter, guns, clocks and books, will be represented.

And Goodwill will be back with its own booth, featuring antiques and collectibles donated to the industries in the past year.

Highly Rated Show

It's a highly-rated show, with the public and with exhibitors. "Hardly a week has passed," notes Bernice, "since I began working on this show, last January, that I haven't received at least one call from an out-of-state dealer, hopeful of getting a booth."

"We have been booked solid since spring."

Doris Bennett is president of the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries in this, its 40th anniversary year.

Dorrie's a long-time resident of Grosse Pointe, graduate of Grosse Pointe High School when it was still "the" High School, not South High, and of Michigan State University, where she met Bob.

Their daughter, an avid skier who spent the last two Christmas vacations in Vail and heads north every winter weekend she can manage, is a senior now at North High.

The Bennett family consists of three humans, Dorrie, Bob and daughter Leslie, plus "a dear mutt," Buttons.

Love North Country

With Leslie, Doris has travelled the Brownies through Sunday School through "Yes, you can build the class float here — Oh, dear lord! What have I said!" path. She and Bob are non-skiers, but they love northern Michigan, winter and summer, and like nothing better than to take off for a few days at their cottage, on a small lake near Osego/Hidden Valley.

Theatre Arts claims a portion of Dorrie's interest, but Junior Goodwill is her main avocation.

"I joined 22 years ago. It's been 'my hobby.'"

"I have done the Antiques Show: That took a year of my life." She was chairman of committees in 1968, so she knows exactly what Marie Murphy's been through.

"I do believe," Doris, veteran of it, maintains, "the Antiques Market chairmanship, (of committees OR of exhibitors), is the best job Junior Goodwill has to offer a woman."

That's saying something. Praises Membership

President Bennett is proud of Junior Goodwill. "It's a privilege to be in it, because of the women who are. We cut right across area, age and social groups."

Junior Goodwill was founded in 1933 by Mrs. Edwin O. Bodkin, of Trombley road, who, with Governor and Mrs. William Milliken, Mr. and Mrs. Benson Ford and Mrs. John D. Benfield, of Lakeshore road and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., founder of the Antiques Market, is an honorary chairman of the Silver Anniversary Show.

Harper Woods AARP Will Elect Officers

The nominating committee of the Harper Woods Chapter of the American Association of Retired People (AARP), which includes many Pointers, reminds members that an election of officers will take place at its November meeting, to replace officers elected pro tem when the new chapter was formed. The meetings are held the second Monday of each month, at Allard House.

The December gathering will be a dinner session, time to be announced later. Turkey is on the menu. Reservations may be made by calling Alice Conger, LA 7-0806, before December 3.

Tickets are limited, so early reservations are advised.

Future Chapter plans include luncheon and cards at the Black Angus Restaurant, (formerly Sid's), in Algonac.

ed for the purpose of assisting the handicapped in every way within its means.

For 40 years, that's exactly what it's been doing.

Money raised through the Antiques Market and other projects has been used for the rehabilitation and furthering the education of the mentally retarded and the socially and physically handicapped.

Since Goodwill Industries' recent merger with League for the Handicapped, the Goodwill Juniors have broadened their sphere of assistance.

They've furnished a play area for children on the roof of the League for the Handicapped Building, and have helped to furnish Howard House, a training center and temporary residence facility.

Have New Project

League-Goodwill has been asked by the State Vocational Rehabilitation Services to take over the responsibility of St. Ambrose Home, the former St. Ambrose Convent, which will serve as a halfway house for 25 women, slow learners and others for whom adequate training facilities are not available at state homes.

This is a new project, one about which Doris Bennett is very excited.

"The Convent is in marvelous condition, with many furnishings—all the bedding, for example—right there."

The Home will be run through state funds, its residents bussed to one of the League-Goodwill plants for training.

The first Junior Goodwill Antiques Market and Sale raised between $3 and $4,000. Today, the show's profits are in the $30,000 range.

In all, Junior Goodwill has raised and given to the industries, over the years, more than $500,000.

The Antiques Market, with the exception of the dealers' booths and the Goodwill Booth, is entirely staffed by members of the Junior Group of Goodwill.

A Dining Room, open during show hours, noon to 10 o'clock each day, will feature a luncheon fashion show the final day, Monday, November 13.

Goodwill members put out a magnificent catalogue, with a list of exhibitors, floor plan and articles of special interest to collectors, advertisements and patrons' roster.

Have Many Gifts

They run, and stock, a Boutique, with handmade gift items, and the Pantry Shelf, with homemade jams, jellies, pickles and salad dressings.

They man a Country Store, featuring candies, cheeses, nuts and gourmet delicacies.

They WORK — and they play, and the Preview Party, (donation $12.50; regular admission donation Saturday, Sunday and Monday is $2), when all systems are go and the only thing left to complete the Market is the place to see them playing.

The Mesdames Bennett, Murphy and Hamal will be there.

Of course. "We hope it will be the biggest show, the biggest Preview Party, ever. We hope it will be the most successful."

Of course. This year, for the first time, there'll be music at the Preview Party. The tunes will be taken from the Hit Parade of 25 years ago.

Nice touch, that.

It's touches like that, attention to details, behind-the-scenes planning that assures the curtain will go up on a smooth-running, effortless-seeming production, involvement that culminates in results, imagination, dedication, that make the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries, and its Antiques Market and Sale, typically unique.

Of course, having a membership for whom the unique is typical doesn't hurt . . .
