HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, December 16

PRESIDENT NIXON has invited six major European countries, Canada and Japan to come to Washington to attend a meeting of oil-consuming nations for the purpose of seeking joint solutions to oil supply and price problems. The meeting is scheduled to take place beginning February 11. Thirteen oil-producing nations in the Middle East, Africa, Latin America and Asia were also invited to join the discussions at a later date. The idea of holding such a meeting was first suggested by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger in a speech presented in London last month.

Friday, January 11

THE U.S. EXPORT-IMPORT BANK, a federally owned institution that loans money and guarantees low-interest loans to finance the export of U.S. products, has approved loans and loan guarantees of up to $100 million to five Arab nations to build a pipeline from the Gulf of Suez to the Mediterranean Sea. The arrangement was attacked by California representative Thomas Rees as giving Middle East oil producers "even more leverage than they have now in their stranglehold on the individual oil-consuming nations of the world." The pipeline would bypass the Suez Canal and enable oil companies to avoid a lengthy voyage around Africa.

Saturday, January 12

THE U.S. SENATE is demanding that top executives of the nation's seven largest oil companies appear before them to testify under oath with regard to the true extent of the fuel shortage. Senator Henry Jackson ordered his permanent investigation committee to notify the executives to appear with their records on the day Congress returns from its winter recess, Monday, January 21.

Sunday, January 13

SHEIKH AHMED YAMANI, Saudi Arabian Oil Minister, has warned that any attempt by world oil consumers to force a showdown with oil producers would end in disaster. Yamani, speaking at a news conference in Rome, said he did not care to comment directly on the oil summit called by President Nixon, lest he be considered as interfering with the internal affairs of the countries involved, but he said he was concerned that the consuming nations would form a bloc that would result in a confrontation with the producing countries.

Monday, January 14

SECRETARY OF STATE Henry Kissinger seems to have won Egyptian and Israeli acceptance in principle of a plan for the disengagement of troops from the Suez Canal front. The dispute over troop separation has been a major deterrent to consideration of wider issues at the Arab-Israeli peace conference in Geneva. The Israeli government approved a specific proposal calling for the separation of forces and gave Kissinger the go-ahead to present the plan to the Egyptian government.

Tuesday, January 15

FIVE DETROIT SUPERMARKET CHAINS are bracing themselves against a strike by truck drivers and warehousemen who are dissatisfied with a contract offer. The strike was scheduled to go into effect at midnight Tuesday and there was little hope that any last minute bargaining with federal mediators would bring any positive results before the deadline. The five chains affected, Kroger, Wrigley, Great Scott, Farmer Jack and Chatham, have cancelled all advertising and warned their employees that some may have to be laid off as a result of dwindling inventories.

All Residents Invited to Open House

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education is sponsoring an Open House from 2 to 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, January 20, to celebrate the completion of the South High School Classroom addition. Complete details of the program and of the $3.6 million dollar project are contained in the story below.

Symphony Concert Set For Jan. 27

Program Features Works by Wagner, Verdi, Massenet, Dvořák and Dvorak

The Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra will present its second concert of the symphony season on Sunday, January 27, at 3:30 p.m.

It will be given at the Performing Arts Center of North High School, Vernier road at Morningside drive.

Tickets at $1 for students and $2.50 for adults may be purchased the day of the concert at the box office.

Varied Offering

The program features coloratura soprano Sally Wylie and includes: Prelude and Love Death from Tristan and Isolde, Wagner; Aria Caro Nome from Rigoletto, Verdi; Je Marche sur tous from Manon, Massenet; Reginald Silenzio from Lucia, Dvořák; and Symphony No. 4 in G Major, Opus 88, Dvořák.

The audience is cordially invited to attend a reception to meet the artists immediately following the concert.

Woods Shifts Meeting Date

The second regular meeting of The Woods Council for February has been rescheduled from February 18 to Monday, February 25.

Inasmuch as the 18th is a national holiday, (Washington's birthday), it is observed by the general city employees via their negotiated labor contract.

The rescheduling was unanimously approved at the Monday, January 7, regular meeting.

South High School Holds Open House This Sunday

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education will hold a "family open house" marking the completion of the classroom addition to South High School on Sunday, January 20. The building will be open to everyone in the community from 2 to 4 p.m. that day.

Special invitations will be extended to elementary and middle school youngsters in the South High attendance area.

Brief remarks are scheduled for 3 p.m. with Jerry J. Gerich, Principal, serving as master of ceremonies. Others who will speak during the 10-minute ceremony are Robert D. Warner, President of the Board of Education, Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, and Miss Carol Fishback, President of the Student Association.

YSD Rotation System Explored by Various Segments of Community

Division's Board of Managers, Police Chiefs, High School Principals and Others Offer Comments on Plan

By Roger A. Waha

The Board of Managers of The Youth Service Division (YSD), which includes all Pointe city managers and a representative from the Board of Education, (Dr. Joseph Spagnoli), Pointe police chiefs and other individuals who have input into the division, (but far from all of them), were contacted by the NEWS in an effort to discover their thoughts and reactions to the recently proposed rotation plan of YSD personnel every four years.

Under the new system, which begins Friday, February 1, when YSD Detective Thomas Podeszwick is rotated to the uniform division and Officer Wayne Baum joins the YSD, all four division members will be liaison officers. Two will be based in the North High School district and two in the South High district.

Gives Experience
At this time, the YSD has two liaison officers at each school, (Agent Michael Ferrence at North and Agent John Kendall at South), and two investigative officers, (Detective Podeszwick at North and Detective Donald Schmalz at South).

As managing municipality of the YSD, The Woods proposed the rotation of division personnel to other police functions, thus giving other members of the Public Safety Department experience in the division.

After the first rotation transpires, either Agent Ferrence or Agent Kendall will be rotated to a new assignment on July 1. From that point, one YSD officer is scheduled for rotation to another assignment on an annual basis.

Asked Two Questions
Each member of the Board of Managers and each police chief were asked these questions: (1) What are your thoughts and comments on the plan? and (2) Do you think the rotation of YSD personnel will have any effect on the division's service to your community? (or to the school system in the case of Dr. Spagnoli).

To question one, Thomas Kressbach, city manager of The City, said, "The Board of Managers met on this matter, (on November 29, 1973), and Grosse Pointe Woods gave a full presentation on the plan. The net result of the meeting was the modification of some of the initial proposals," e.g., rotation on a four-year basis rather than on a two-year basis.

"The net result seemed to be quite acceptable to the group," he continued. "I felt, based on the information The Woods provided, that it represented a reasonable approach to the administration of that service."

On question two, Mr. Kressbach replied, "Obviously, the service of any unit, whether it's the YSD or something else, which is provided by another unit or branch of government depends upon the individuals who are involved."

He didn't feel there would be any problem here, other than the periodic adjustments revolving around the change of personnel. In noting The City has had good service from the division, Mr. Kressbach added, "With quality people who are interested in the work, certainly they can continue to provide us with good service."

Happy with Service

In replying to question one, Park City Manager Robert A. Slone said, "We agreed with Grosse Pointe Woods on the rotation plan. The rotation will be among a group of well qualified officers. It adds foundation to the YSD bureau. It also will make a more permanent organization."

"It gives those individuals who are YSD officers, who are really public safety officers, more overall experience, (in police work). This would be helpful to them in competitive exams for promotion."

As for the original two-year rotation proposal, Mr. Slone recalled, "We all agreed that the four-year plan would be better."

On question two, Mr. Slone gave a strong "No." He felt the service the YSD provides is good now and there is "no

'Detective' Loses in Bid For $2,100

Imposter Tries to Obtain Cash from Woods Woman with Big Yarn

A man, posing as a detective, attempted to obtain $2,100 in cash under false pretenses from a 68-year-old Woods woman Wednesday, January 9.

But the woman, growing suspicious, refused to hand over the money to the "unofficial" police official during their meeting.

Woods police said they are awaiting a mug shot from the FBI which will be shown to the resident. If the man is positively identified, a warrant will be obtained for his arrest.

Inside Job

The incident unfolded the morning of the 9th when the lady received a call from a man with a "low, pleasing" voice, according to the report. The man identified himself as a Detective Dennis of The Woods Police Department.

He told the lady he had some bad news for her—$2,100 had been illegally withdrawn from her account. The "detective" said "they" suspected someone working inside the bank as being responsible. The caller, police said, knew the complainant had an account at the local bank.

The "detective" asked the woman to cooperate in nabbing the person responsible by going to the bank and withdrawing $2,100 from her account. The money would be marked and the woman was instructed not to touch the loot but leave it in an envelope. Instead, she should turn it over to a Detective Crain, who works with Detective Dennis, outside the bank so fingerprints could be obtained off the bills.

Then, the caller said he would send a cab for the lady as she had no means of transportation.

"Tinnny" Badge

So the woman went to the bank, withdrew the money and left. Soon, a man came up from behind, called her by name and identified himself as Detective Crain, (police believe at this time the same man was playing both characters). He then requested the money.

After asking for identification, the woman was shown a "tinnny" gold badge which said only "Police" and "Crain." When she asked for further ID, the man said he didn't carry a wallet.

Police reported the complainant, at this time, asked the "detective" to drive her home as it would give her a chance to get the license number of his auto. He refused and suggested she call a cab. With this, the woman refused to give him the cash.

He told her to take the money home, where she

Helpful Meeting Held to Discuss Woods' Problem

Outdoor Storage of Recreational Vehicles and Boats Aired to Help in Drafting of Regulatory Ordinance; Session Held January 10 in Municipal Building

By Roger A. Waha

A helpful meeting was held between members of the "Grosse Pointe Woods Recreational Vehicle Owners Association," Councilman Ronald R. Kefgen, Parks and Recreation Committee chairman, and other citizens interested in the city's proposed ordinance providing for the regulation of the outside storage of boats, various trailers, (boat, utility, travel, house), and other recreational equipment.

The meeting's primary objective was to discuss ways to improve upon the measure, which has been an irritation to many citizens, and is currently under study by the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Kefgen said he was very pleased with the session in which "a lot of good suggestions" were offered. He will now meet sometime this month with the committee, (which includes Councilmen George S. Freeman and Conrad A. Naegel), to consider the suggestions received.

After studying the proposals, "We'll look at the proposed ordinance and decide whether to salvage a portion of it or go from scratch," Mr. Kefgen said. The councilman also stated he will be working closely with City Attorney George Catlin on this.

"It was a very beneficial meeting," said William W. Wilson, president of the estimated 220-member association. "We had, I feel, a mixed group of people, who were both pro and con." These included owners of boats, trailers and other recreational vehicles, along with concerned members of the general public who shared their likes and dislikes on the measure.

Mr. Kefgen pointed out a main suggestion was to include an appeal mechanism into the ordinance but there were many other proposals besides this.

Both the councilman and Mr. Wilson cited a complaint that the location of a vehicle

Review Board Sets Meetings

The Woods Council unanimously set the dates of Tuesday, March 12, and Tuesday, March 26, to convene the Board of Review from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, January 7.

At the same time, the solons authorized that board members will receive $40 per day per member.

The purpose of the sessions is to review the 1974 city assessment roll. Those aggrieved by their assessment, or who have any questions on this subject, should attend one of the meetings.

The gatherings will be held in the Council-Court Room of the Municipal Building, 20025 Mack avenue.

Paper Costs to Skyrocket For 1974 School Supplies

Members of the School Board were in for a shock at the Monday night, January 14, regular Board meeting when bids were announced for next year's paper supplies. The bids, which had increased only one percent last year, were up 25.2 percent this year.

Overseeing the purchasing is Edward Snell in the Administrative Services department of the school system. He sent out specifications to 47 companies and received bids from 34 of them. About 10 companies submitted bids which Mr. Snell recommended for acceptance.

Board President Robert D. Warner asked the purchasing agent if this year's supply list was comparable to last year's. Mr. Snell assured him

Okay Given To Develop Dodge Home

Farms Council Approves Rezoning; Must Settle Argument Over Paying for Water Main

Rose Terrace, 12 Lake Shore road, the palatial mansion on the nine-acre estate of the late Anna Thomson Dodge, is very close to seeing its last days as a single residential dwelling.

The Farms council approved the rezoning of the entire estate from a R-1-AA (single home) to RM (multiple dwelling), at a public hearing held on Monday, January 14, attended by a nearly overflow number of citizens in the council chambers.

However, the final rezoning approval hinges on who will pay for installation of a 12-inch water main, which, it is said, will cost an estimated $80,000.

Superior Lake Enterprises, comprised of Pointe realtors, Clayton Purdy, George Jerome and Paul Touhey, through its attorney, Paul Townsend, contend that a proportionate share of the cost should be paid by the Farms, and the balance through the establishment of a special Assessment District, whereby home owners in the area, including purchasers of the proposed condominiums to be constructed on the estate, paying a fair share. Townsend said that this was the only solution since all those in the area would benefit by the main.

The Farms officials took the position that since Superior Lake Enterprises plans to develop the site, it should bear the full cost.

After much bartering on this issue, the council approved the rezoning of the estate property for multiple dwelling, but stipulated that the rezoning be delayed until it is decided how the cost of the water main will be resolved.

The rezoning was opposed

Both Sides Agree to Settlement

Board President Robert Warner Announces Another Millage Drive Being Planned

By Kathy Duff

School Board members and representatives of the Grosse Pointe Education Association were all smiles by the close of the Monday night, January 14, Board meeting after settlement of the teachers' contract was announced.

Both Board President Robert D. Warner and GPEA President Carl Lord had magnanimous statements to make, praising the efforts of each side and pledging their good faith to abide by the spirit of the contract.

"A three-year agreement with firm salary schedules set through the 1975-76 school year may be a first," Mr. Warner commented. "The Board is delighted that such a feat has been achieved. And, we are proud of our teachers for staying on the job while the new contract was being hammered out, something many other school districts cannot say."

Cites Improvements

Mr. Lord said, "The new agreement does have language improvements in the area of maternity and sabbatical leaves, professional/board relationships, rights of the Association, and staff reduction. In addition, longevity and professional growth, extra pay for extra duty, and insurance programs have been upgraded. The major reservation is that salaries will not maintain pace with increased cost-of-living."

The trustees used their president's speech Monday night to announce an upcoming millage drive. Since class size and educational programs have been a bone of contention with the GPEA during the last months of negotiations, the Board has promised to try to lessen individual class loads and to upgrade school programs.

In reference to this problem, Mr. Warner said, "The Administration is presently conducting a thorough study of our situation. Enrollment patterns must be analyzed to ensure that we provide the proper program and facilities to meet the needs of our students. And, of course, much attention is being paid

Detroit Lions Visit St. Clare

The St. Clare of Montefalco Athletic Association will present some rough, tough cats against the St. Clare basketball team in a benefit contest Wednesday, January 30.

Game time is 8 p.m. in the St. Clare gym, Mack avenue and Audubon road.

Those big bruisers are members of the Detroit Lions who will give the St. Clare club all they can handle, (although it's reported "St. Clare is very optimistic about this game because gym teacher Pat Quayhax is going to play").

Lion gridgers who are scheduled to play include Lem Barney, Mike Lucci, Larry Hand, Altie Taylor, Bob Bell, Paul Naumoff, Jim Laslavie, Chuck Walton, Dave Thompson, Jim Teal, Jim Mitchell, Herman Weaver and Charlie Weaver. (Gulp, anyone for a taffy pull?)

St. Clare "reps" include Rick Asher, Joe Beldyga, Marc Lonesk, Larry LaRocca, Scott Burns, Rick Zarnack, Nick Rokich, Fran Feola, Brian Molloy, Al Welch, Paul DeRonne, John Bruce, John Dery and Bob Bigham.

All proceeds will go to the St. Clare Athletic Association. Tickets are $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children. For ticket information, call Joe Pellerito at 882-4875.

Teachers' Contract Settled; Both Sides Pleased with Results

to strengthening the curriculum where and when possible.
To Determine Needs
"The study will be the basis on which the Board will make its determination concerning the school system's financial needs through June, 1976. From that, in not too many weeks, we will be able to inform the citizenry of the operational millage required to fund the program we are recommending be implemented."

The Board is optimistic over a millage proposal due to the past two years' successful millage elections and the generally supportive attitude of Pointe citizens. The focus of many recent Board meetings has been overcrowded classrooms and insufficient programs, both of which would be aided by a successful millage election. It is also a good sign that the busing scare has abated.

Semmler Objects
The only negative vote on the teachers' contract was that of Trustee Donald J. Semmler. Mr. Semmler objected to the agency shop provision which requires every teacher to join the union. He feels that it should be the individual teacher's choice whether or not to join the union.

There were several other school personnel contracts to come before the Board. One was the agreement with the Grosse Pointe Administrator Association. As the teachers' contract, the administrators' contract has a three-year life. Mr. Semmler again was the one objecting vote; he felt that the new contract represented an erosion of the trustees' power. One provision of the contract gives the authority to hire or fire an administrator to the superintendent of schools, a decision which used to be made by both the superintendent and the board members.
"I am going to have to oppose the contract on the grounds that it has taken away a right from the Board," Mr. Semmler said. "It has been stated that the provision is set up to insulate the Board from the administrators; actually, it insulates the electorate from the administrators."

Huetteman Answers
Trustee William Huetteman countered Mr. Semmler's argument. "It is the prerogative of the superintendent to select his staff. Let's face it, a member of the board of General Motors does not reach down and hire or fire a sales representative. We deal with the boss, the superintendent, and he works with his staff. I am not a professional educator, so I rely on the recommendations of the professionals."

LIGHT AND DARKNESS
"Everywhere the human soul stands between a hemisphere of light and another of darkness on the confines of two everlasting hostile empires—Necessity and Free Will."

—Thomas Carlyle

Two other contracts which Mr. Semmler voted against were the Administrator, (G. P. Administrator Association) salary increase and the Administrator (Central Office) salary increases. In the first case, Mr. Semmler felt that the administrators listed were being given a greater salary increase than the teachers. Mr. Huetteman again took up the rebuttal and said that the administrators listed were affected by the wage price-freeze and did not get an equitable salary increase as the teachers had.

Another Argument

On the second issue, Mr. Semmler pointed out that the assistants to the superintendent received a greater salary percentage increase than the advertised rate for the superintendent. Mr. Warner protested the statement by saying that the superintendent received some great fringes, such as the house in Grosse Pointe boulevard, which did constitute part of his real income and should be averaged in with the salary.

Both sides, the School Board and the GPEA, closed their presentations by pledging their support of the new three-year contract and their commitment to quality education in The Pointe.

"We are committed to providing the best educational opportunities for Grosse Pointe youngsters that the voters will support," Mr. Warner said. "We want to eliminate as many oversized classes as possible and achieve a lowering as well as a better balance of class sizes overall. Improved services in all respects and continued efforts to use the tax dollar efficiently will continue to be primary goals."

Carl Lord closed his address by saying, "The Association pledges to apply the provisions of this Master Agreement in such a manner as to enhance the best interest of education in the Grosse Pointe Public School System. By so doing, the Association will promote the best interest of the Grosse Pointe teacher because the best interest of education and the teacher are inseparable."

Meeting Proves Beneficial in Woods

on a citizen's property, as specified in the measure, was too rigid.

The ordinance says that "no such unit shall be stored within 10 feet of any dwelling or residential building nor within five feet of the side and rear lot lines and such units, when stored, shall not exceed the maximum permitted lot coverage under existing zoning ordinances applicable to such residential area."

In considering the variety of lots and houses in the city, Mr. Wilson said it would be hard to comply with this regulation. "I would like it at a spot that's least objectionable," he stated, while stressing the necessity of having some flexibility regarding storage on property.

Other suggestions presented include the need of specific information on the storage of flammable liquids, the emptying of holding tanks, precise definitions of parking and storage, plus some provision to prevent an owner from repairing and/or overhauling his vehicle for a length of time in his yard with ensuing noise and equipment lying around. "I don't want it to be a do-it-yourself kit situation," said Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Keegen also said the $5 inspection fee was questioned as to its necessity. At this time, the measure says that a $5 fee will be paid to the city by the property owner upon issuance of a Storage Site Approval Certificate.

On the other hand, the definitions of various terms in Section 1 of the measure, (e.g., boats, boat trailers, pickup camper, motorized home, owner), with a few exceptions, were not found too disagreeable to most of the citizens in attendance, reported Mr. Keegen.

In citing the diversity of people at the meeting, Mr. Wilson said, "A broad spectrum of ideas was expressed where everybody voiced their opinions as citizens." He noted that Councilwoman Joan M. Mullan attended the session as in interested citizen.

As for the upcoming Parks and Recreation Committee meeting, Mr. Keegen said members also will focus upon the Lake Front Park Pool problem that has caused great concern to officials and citizens alike.

"My committee has been looking at different pool arrangements in and around the city including shapes and sizes, plus different construction materials," he said. The councilman plans to view a pool in Southfield this week, along with pools at other locations. "We're moving," he stressed, on this matter.

The big question facing the council in this regard is whether to completely renovate the old pool or to build a new pool and, if so, at what location. More information must be obtained and studied before a final decision is reached by the solons on which direction to take.

Park Police Term Stop Sign Thefts Bad Problem

During the month of December, the Park Police Department has reported the theft of about eight portable stop signs, placed at intersections, after permanent signs had been either knocked down by careless motorists or had been removed by municipal employees for repairs. The absence of the signs from these intersections creates a dangerous situation.

Chief Henry Coonce and Lt. Gordon Duncan said that the city has been hit with a rash of stolen signs over a period of time, especially regarding the portable ones.

Not only have the portable signs been reported missing, but also signs from bent or knocked down posts. Fortunately, no accidents or injuries have been reported as a result of this dangerous practice, it was said.

Just recently, it was disclosed, a woman called the department to report that a stop sign had been found on her front porch by someone unknown.

Coonce and Duncan said that the thefts were probably being committed by young persons who want the signs to decorate the walls of their bedrooms. In this situation, it was said, if any one wants such a decoration, it is easy to make a reasonable facsimile.

"Stop signs are placed at necessary intersections for the simple reason of instructing motorists that they must come to a complete stop, and to yield to oncoming vehicular traffic, before proceeding ahead or making a turn in safety," Coonce and Duncan said. "If there is nothing there to instruct a driver that he must stop, then there is danger involved."

"The city and the department are interested in having any missing signs returned, no question asked. Parents who are aware that their children have such signs hanging on bedroom walls, or wherever, are urged to induce their offsprings to return them, or the parents should bring the signs to the station. Or, if they wish, they can call the department, Valley 2-7400, and we would be very glad to pick them up."

Coonce and Duncan said that the problem is not a small thing, but a very serious matter. The stopsign theft problem has been with the city for some time.

It is one thing to prove that a person, or persons, has stolen a sign found in his possession, but if caught taking them, he or they, will be arrested and charged with larceny of public property and prosecuted.

Harvard University (for good or bad) is directly responsible for football being our National Sport rather than soccer. Here is the story. It is documented in the records that the first "football game" was played on Nov. 6, 1869 between Princeton and Rutgers. That's not so as that game was soccer, and no running of the ball was permitted.

In the fall of 1873, Yale invited Harvard, Princeton, Columbia and Rutgers to a convention to form an intercollegiate "football" league—again this was not the game of football as we know—but soccer. Harvard refused to participate and American football as we know it today exists because of this refusal, and Harvard's decision to play 2 Rugby football games with McGill University of Montreal. Ultimately, these other colleges gave up their soccer football, (preferring Harvard's game) and formed with Harvard in Nov. of 1876—a new intercollegiate football league with rules much like Rugby. This game then grew into modern day football. So it was Harvard's decision, back in 1873 to play rugby football rather than soccer that made football our national game instead of soccer—and for that many of us can say Thank Goodness!

Woods Refuses Repeal Request

The Woods Council at the regular meeting Monday, January 7, unanimously nixed a suggestion to repeal the city's hitch-hiking ordinance.

In a letter to the council, Harry Donald Estler, of North Rosedale court, asked that this measure be repealed. "This would permit many people to avoid using their cars for some of their errands and, as a result, would conserve gasoline," he said.

At the meeting, Mr. Estler told the council, "I've seen people many times hitch-hike in the city and was aware that it's illegal. I could not understand the reason why it was prohibited when I saw people hitch-hiking. They were standing clear of the road. It is a way of going one place to another."

Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos pointed out there were other ramifications to this matter than the transportation of bodies from one place to another.

He cited the overall aspect of safety and the fact that the Department of Public Safety would be opposed to the solons repealing the measure.

Farms Police Keep Officers

The members of the Grosse Pointe Farms Police Officers Association appeared to be well satisfied by the performances of the organization's officers, and elected them all to office for the fourth consecutive year, it was disclosed on Friday, January 11.

Retained as president of the Association is Patrolman John Farley; as vice president, Patrolman Clarence Reichling; secretary, Patrolman Philip Miglio; and treasurer, Patrolman Gordon Evans.

The Association represents 18 patrolmen and two corporals in all union matters and is their sole bargaining agent.

Patrolman Kenneth Pine, who was appointed to his second term as the GPFPOA's representative with the Police Officers Association of Michigan, with which the Farms group is affiliated, was appointed a member of POAM's executive board by Carl Parsell, retired Detroit police officer, the Michigan Association's executive director.

Development of Dodge Estate Receives Green Light

by Councilwoman Nancy Waugaman, who informed the council that she feared that the rezoning of the Dodge estate will open the door to development of other large estates along Lake Shore, and the Farms will then look "like the Chicago lakefront skyline," and this is what the city does not need. The vote for approval was then 6-1.

Convening as a zoning Board of Appeals, and acting under the authority given it by the City Charter, the Board then approved two variances petitioned for by the proposed developers, and denied a third.

The first variance granted by the council was that the Dodge mansion, which exceeds the height allowed under the present city code, be allowed to remain; the second variance approved pertains to the density of the number of people allowed to live within RM areas which will be more, but not much, than permitted by the city code.

One Variance Refused

The variance which was turned down concerned the petition of the developers who asked that the council okay construction of the proposed condominiums, to about 40 feet from the property line. The setback, under the present zoning code, is 75 feet from the property line. The petitioners asked for a variance from the 75-foot setback, for the entire property.

The Board approved a variance on the south and east sides of the estate, but refused to grant a variance on the west side, stressing that the possible future development of the Ranger property makes this impossible.

The rezoning of the Rose Terrace property, pending the resolving of the water main problem, will permit the remodeling of the mansion into a several family unit construction, but without destroying the beautiful exterior of the building.

Superior Lake Enterprises also proposes to construct 32-unit condominium type buildings containing a maximum of 220 rooms on the estate site.

Audience Divided

The audience in the council chambers were about evenly divided, pro and con, on the development of the property.

Mayor William Butler made known about five or six letters from citizens approving the development, and one from a citizen who opposed it. He also made known an opposing letter from the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association.

A spokesman for the Grosse Pointe Club's Board of Governors, who was at the hearing, also expressed opposition on behalf of the organization's Board, as did Donald M. D. Thurber, Pointe historian, who pointed out that Rose Terrace has been placed on the list as a historic site and landmark by the Michigan Historical Society. Rose Terrace will never see its equal again, he added further.

Engineer Testifies

Under question by Townsend, David Moothart, a civil engineer with the firm of Hubbel, Roth and Clark, consulting engineers for the Farms, it was disclosed that in order that an ultimate water pressure be obtained, the 12-inch main would have to be tied into a line at Fisher and Ridge roads.

Wendell Baker, superintendent of the Water Filtration Plant, Moross and Lake Shore, disclosed that he conducted at least 19 tests throughout the area of McKinley place and Lake Shore, in 1970, on single fire hydrants. The tests showed that one hydrant produced a pressure of 55 pounds per square inch (psi), or 883 gallons per minute (gpm).

Two hydrants can produce almost twice the gpm, but not quite, he pointed out. The total gpm from two hydrants would be about 1,500.

Valve Is Boosted

An altitude valve, located on the City side of Fisher and Maumee, can boost the water pressure to 1,500 psi during a fire emergency, he said.

With the type of mains in the area of Rose Terrace, he said, a water pressure of 35 psi can be had. For several years, now, Baker said, the Farms has a line to the main in the City, where the altitude valve is located. If the pressure drops to 25 psi, it automatically trips the valve, which boosts the water pressure to the 35 psi maximum.

He said that the Farms has an agreement with the City, under the Mutual Fire Aid Agreement, which allows the Farms to tie into the City's 20-inch main at that intersection, but the valve is used only under fire conditions.

Baker said that this would lower the water pressure in the City, but not enough to cause any concern. The valve is used only in emergencies because the 55 psi is set by the State Insurance Service Office, formerly the Michigan Insurance Bureau, a State agency.

City Comptroller Carroll Lock said that the present assessed valuation of Rose Terrace is approximately $400,000 (the original construction cost was about $4 million), and at the rate of $15 per $1,000 assessed valuation, the tax on the estate is $6,000.

Assuming that the development of the property should be $6 million, he said, the assessment would be $3 million, and the taxes would amount to about $45,000. This would be only taxes assessed by the city, and will have nothing to do with the county or school taxes, which is apart from that of the Farms, Lock pointed out.

It was pointed out that the council viewed only the preliminary site plans, not the final ones.

Skyrocketing Paper Costs

from school trustees and the audience, Mr. Warner said, "Well, we can certainly do away with that."

Mr. Snell told the Board that there would not be much saving if all the school and department subheads were dropped, because no names were used and the stationery could be used every year, despite changes in personnel.

The total paper bill for the 1974-75 year comes to $51,477. A breakdown is as follows: general teachers' supplies, $5,074; paper and envelope supplies, $20,643; custodial supplies, $9,918; and other supplies, $6,844.

One woman in the audience suggested that the school board agendas be printed on both sides of the paper. Dr. Theos I. Anderson, superintendent of schools, said that they had investigated the possibility, but that a much heavier paper stock was required for two sides printing. The savings would then be negligible.

Trustee Donald Semmler asked if there was any way the system's waste paper could be recycled and quoted the going rate for recycled paper per ton. Trustee William Huettner said that the labor cost to collect the waste paper would exceed the possible savings.

It might be that the students in the Grosse Pointe School System will have to go back to writing on slates with chalk as they did in Colonial America. That is, if there isn't a shortage in slate or chalk.

Even unskilled observers can look at the things going on in the world these days and see that things are not getting any better. In the past year we have faced national and international crises: scandals, wars, hijackings and murders, with no relief in sight. Where is the peace that people have fought for all these years? The Bible says that "the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost." Do you see that the very things we all have been searching for are found in the kingdom of God? Righteousness, Peace and Joy!

Harper Woods' Flooding Resolution Pleases Woods

By Roger A. Waha

The Woods Council at the regular meeting Monday, January 7, accepted with pleasure a Harper Woods Council resolution of December 17 urging the Milk River Drainage Commission to take action towards preventing flooding conditions stemming from the Milk River Drainage System.

Last summer, The Woods Council unanimously adopted such a resolution. It noted, as a member of the Milk River Drainage District, The Woods requests the district to take "all necessary steps to cause to be installed at its expense the necessary earthen bank for temporary protection and the installation of permanent sheet piling for permanent protection against the flooding conditions that have occurred."

These "conditions" were the flooding of property owned by the city, (at the Lake Front Park), and property owned by Mrs. Edsel Ford. This was caused by the high lake levels occurring in combination with the pumping of storm water through the drainage system, according to the resolution.

The drainage district operates the drainage system which includes the canal located within the city's Lake Front Park.

Woods Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos requested that City Administrator Chester E. Petersen urge the Milk River Drain Commissioner's office to proceed as expeditiously as possible so all necessary work can be completed.

The NEWS contacted Mr. Petersen for an update on work already done, plus necessary measures still to be taken.

"The Drain Commissioner's office ordered some temporary earthen dikes built throughout our park at their expense to protect the park and Mrs. Edsel Ford's land from the overflow of the Milk River and Lake St. Clair.

"For the last 10 years, the city of Grosse Pointe Woods has put in over $400,000 worth of sheet piling along the Milk River. But 1,200-1,400 lineal feet of sheet piling still needs to be put in.

"This is the reason why the two cities adopted resolutions urging them to put in the sheet piling," stated Mr. Petersen. The expense will be pro-rated among cities directly involved in the Milk River Drain project. Around 95 percent of the cost would be shared by The Woods and Harper Woods.

Pate, Hirn and Bogue, engineers for the project, has plans and specifications all ready to go for this job.

Mr. Petersen said the Milk River Drain Commission will meet Wednesday, January 23, and "probably approve advertising for bids for the sheet piling project. The bids will be awarded in February."

"It's hoped that a good majority of sheet piling will be installed before the spring thaw and the high water levels," he stated.

"The Milk River banks have eroded so badly," added Mr. Petersen. Because of this, he felt some damage could be caused to the Jefferson avenue bridge and Lake Front Park roadways.

To Participate in MML Parley

The Woods Council at the regular meeting Monday, January 7, unanimously approved a motion authorizing any of its members, plus any interested city official, to attend the Michigan Municipal League's (MML), 21st annual regional meeting Wednesday, January 23, with all necessary expenses being reimbursed.

The gathering, which will be held at the Metropolitan Airport Hilton Inn, Romulus, features a legislative briefing workshop for newly elected and newly appointed officials.

City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher will be a panelist at one of the sessions, "The Municipal Budgeting Process: Achieving Innovative Community Development."

The morning program focuses upon "Key State Legislative Issues," "How Federal Legislation Directly Affects State Legislation" and "Good Communications with Your State Legislators."

In the afternoon, various concurrent sessions will take place including such topics as "The Municipal Budgeting Process," "Michigan Home Rule: What Your Charter Can Do for Your City's Effectiveness" and "Nursing Homes and Day Care Centers."

Then, before the dinner session, combined general sessions will transpire centering upon "Defining the Respective Roles and Responsibilities of Municipal Elected and Administrative Officials" and "The Conduct of Council Meetings: General Decorum, Agendas, Parliamentary Procedures."

Woods Praises Its Treasurer

The Woods Council bestowed praise upon City Treasurer Helen L. Fox upon her selection to the newly organized Committee on Treasury Management of the Municipal Finance Officers Association (MFOA).

Then the solons unanimously authorized her to accept the appointment, and approved the reimbursement of any personal expenses she incurs while serving on the committee.

Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos told Mrs. Fox, "This is quite an honor and I'd like to congratulate you. We're all proud of you."

In a letter to Mrs. Fox, John M. Urie, MFOA president, said he would like her to accept the appointment to the new standing committee and "to begin assisting members of the staff in identifying programs which will benefit state and local government treasurers."

"We anticipate that the committee will meet at least once or twice between now and the Annual Conference scheduled for June 2-6 in Las Vegas to consider potential research programs and publications which will deal specifically with the collection and management of state and local government revenues."

"Also, we feel members of the committee can be of particular assistance to the International MFOA Career Development Center in suggesting and evaluating training programs concerned with the treasury discipline."

Cubs Have Use For Yule Cards

Do you know what to do with your beautiful Christmas greeting cards after the holidays? Cub Scouts of Ferry School Pack 34 have an answer. They are busy collecting them for the Epilepsy Center for use in physical therapy crafts.

Cubs will count and turn in their collection at the Pack meeting Thursday, January 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Ferry school gymnasium.

A uniform inspection is planned to start the new year right. The theme of the pack meeting is "transportation." Boys will participate in an inter-den relay called baggage-car and display model cars, boats and planes.

Wolves and Bears are working on achievements for awards to be presented at the annual blue-and-gold banquet Thursday, February 21. Fifteen Webelos scouts will earn their coveted Arrow of Light awards.

Pack 34 studied Christmas customs in other lands in December and baked their own cookies. They attended a performance of "Fiddler on the Roof" and collected toys, games and clothing for the Children's Home of Detroit.

For further information call Jim Wishart at 889-0243.

Okay Request Of Foundation

The Woods Council unanimously granted permission to The Mongoloid Achievements Foundation to solicit funds door-to-door, and to place canisters in business places in March.

The motion stipulated that solicitations transpire between the hours of 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. during the foundation's 1974 March for Mongoloids Poster Child Campaign and Fund Drive.

Woods Names 'Coordinator'

Woods Councilman Rodger A. Graef is the city's "legislative coordinator" for the 1974 legislative session.

In action at the regular meeting Monday, January 7, the solons selected Mr. Graef after a letter was received from Robert E. Fryer, director of the Michigan Municipal League, requesting one of the city's officials be so designated.

The "legislative coordinator" is scheduled to keep the city briefed on pending legislation and is responsible for contacting the city's senator and representative to advise of the municipality's official action on pending bills.

Exploration of Youth Service Rotation System

reason why it shouldn't continue."

"I'm happy with the YSD. They are doing a great job for the community," he added.

To question one, Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., said The Farms is contracting the YSD service through The Woods and "evidently they deemed it necessary to rotate personnel. This is their prerogative under the contract."

As for question two, Mr. Bremer replied, "This is one thing I can't comment on as yet. Our council is in the process of looking at it." He said it was difficult to arrive at any conclusion at this time.

Personnel Loss

Shores Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis felt, regarding question one, the four-year rotation plan was better than the two-year proposal.

"The Woods had their reasons why they wanted to do it. You've got to give others a chance. Maybe somebody else up there is just as good as those guys," (referring to Agents Ferrence and Kendall).

On question two, he said, "No. I don't think so. We make some use of the YSD but not a whole lot." Of all the Pointes, The Shores has the least number of referrals.

Dr. Spagnoli, in replying to question, felt the plan was beneficial from the standpoint of training, and in providing back-up personnel for the division in case a vacancy occurs.

But, on the other hand, he cited the replacement of Agents Ferrence and Kendall from the division. Dr. Spagnoli said both officers had "proven themselves in the community" but, at the same time, noted it was "extremely difficult" to make a decision regarding the replacement of personnel.

On this point, he said, "It is unfortunate because of the rotation system that it becomes necessary to lose or replace one or more members of the YSD who have done an outstanding job."

In answering question two, Dr. Spagnoli stated, "It would be unfair for me to pre-judge any new members who will come into the division." He added it was "highly possible" that new personnel could even do a better job, and that the rotation plan would give other officers an opportunity for division work.

Police Chiefs Speak

City Police Chief Andrew Teetaert, in answering question one, felt the YSD has been working out well as it is, and said both Agents Kendall and Ferrence were doing a "real good job."

On question two, the chief stated, "No. I wouldn't think so. One man is as good as another. These guys are well versed in their job and they are experienced. Hell, you have got to start sometime."

He commended the work done by all division officers since the YSD became fully operational in August 1970, including the work of Sergeant James Davidson, who, upon promotion last year, was assigned to the uniform division.

The chief felt that once the new men settle into their jobs, everything would work out well. He added, "I like the idea of rotating one man at a time. I wouldn't like to see the four officers cleaned out all at once and four new ones come in."

Park Police Chief Henry Coonce said he had no comments on the plan. To question two, the chief stated, "I don't foresee it. These are management prerogatives we have given to Grosse Pointe Woods from the outset and I would trust their judgment."

Questions Plan

In answering question one, Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber took issue with the plan.

"I strongly objected to the original two-year proposal," he said. "If, in fact, rotation is necessary, I can live with a four-year rotation but it may create all kinds of problems for the YSD." At the same time, he "seriously questioned" the rotation plan.

As one problem, he cited the "narrow scope" of assigning personnel to the division, i.e., officers being assigned are only from The Woods Department of Public Safety. The chief felt, at a minimum, personnel should be drawn from all Pointe police departments and, at an optimum, via national recruiting for positions.

(On this point, Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen earlier told the NEWS since his city is managing municipality of the division, "we assign or employ all personnel in the YSD." He also noted all YSD personnel are public safety officers in the department, and "we do not feel we are giving these public safety officers full rounded training in public safety when they are assigned permanently to the YSD or to any other assignment" in the department.

Mr. Petersen noted the department's current policy is to rotate all special assignments).

Look at Plan

Chief Ferber said, "The rotation system must be carefully evaluated so the YSD's 'oneness' concept isn't destroyed. I want to look at it to see if there's a better way funds can be spent as a result of rotation. I want to look for other ways to accomplish the youth service type of function."

While the chief felt he wasn't aware of all the administrative problems The Woods has had in administering the division, he said he wants to look at this plan closely with Mr. Bremer regarding the precise placing of responsibility, the morale situation and the overall "honest questions of administrative disagreement."

He called the YSD a "highly specialized and trained" unit with "gigantic special interest support, which is a plus for law enforcement." With the rotation plan, the chief questioned if certain advantages gained from specialization will be lost, is morale lost, is rapport lost? He felt there was room for honest disagreement, here, in law enforcement.

In questioning the "wisdom of the decision," Chief Ferber said rotation may erase advantages gained in specialization.

"Major Criteria"

While reiterating he would not want to restrict work in the division to Woods officers only, that it should be "open to all," the chief felt such work "should be looked at as a four or five year job for a candidate" in regards to recruiting. "Then an officer can move on to something bigger and better."

An officer should stay on as long as he performs and should be judged by weighing his success, he stated. In this respect, the chief said the time for a YSD officer to move is when he doesn't perform—"This is the major criteria."

On another point, Chief Ferber said his city has one high school, a middle school and three grade schools. He cited the police department's rapport with the students and the police administration's rapport with the faculty. "I don't want to lose this rapport. It makes my job easier."

Continuing, he stressed, "There's something good going on and I don't want to lose it. I want to listen and be sympathetic to their point of view, (i.e., The Woods), and I want to weigh this problem carefully."

Cites Training

In replying to question two, the chief said, "It could." He cited a training aspect here, i.e., the training of personnel "is necessary for them to become proficient in performing their job." On this, he mentioned specialization.

He noted this was hard to face on a rotation basis and emphasized, again, the morale factor, plus rapport and success of YSD personnel with students.

Shores Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale, in answering question one, said, "If they want to rotate personnel, I understand the reason for it," and then cited the training of more officers for work in the division.

On question two, Director Vitale replied, "No. I don't think it will have any effect."

FLEC, Schools

Dr. John H. Williams, president of FLEC, (Family Life Education Council), said the council's board of directors has made no formal, public statement on the rotation plan.

"The FLEC board has been assured by FLEC board members, who are also on the Board of Managers of the YSD, (Dr. Spagnoli and Mr. Slone), that the youth service bureau will continue to service the community effectively."

Pat Horne, executive secretary of FLEC, echoed Dr. Williams' statements and added, "We have found the present YSD officers very cooperative. We have cooperated with them and they have cooperated with us."

The NEWS also contacted North Principal G. Bruce Feighner and South Principal Jerry J. Gerich for their thoughts on the plan.

Mr. Feighner said, "My only concern is that we have officers long enough so they can become familiar with the student body, and the students with them."

He also stated, "With the proper selection criteria, new officers ought to serve the high schools equally as well" (as those currently on the job).

Mr. Gerich replied he had no comment at this time. "I just feel I don't know enough about it at this time. I hate to comment on it yet as I'm awaiting further information."

Social Workers

Lydia Demeulemeester, social worker at North, (one of her assignments), said, "I have a lot of feeling for the YSD as we, (social workers), work closely with the division in terms of helping kids."

"School liaison officers Ferrence and Kendall have developed a very good working relationship with the schools. This has contributed to the great value of their positions. They are outstanding in their fields and are very conscientious about police work and have a com-

Malcolm Johns Observes 35 Years at GP Memorial Church

By Nancy Kramer

What makes a 35-year man so fascinating? In the case of Malcolm Johns, organist and so much more for the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, who's celebrating that anniversary this year, it could be any number of things.

First of all, there's the odd story behind the way he became church organist. In 1938, Professor Johns graduated from Oberlin College's Conservatory of Music with a Bachelor's degree. While his family had always lived in the Detroit area, his sister settled in the Pointe.

Professor Johns was visiting her when a chance drive by the Church prompted a casual remark: "Someday I'll be organist of that church."

Nothing came of it then save skeptical stares from his sister and brother-in-law, but in October, while enrolled in the graduate music program at Wayne, he was sitting in the office of the department chairman when a phone call came through. A professor took the call and eventually, perhaps inevitably, was the first member to turned to Professor Johns. "Would you be interested in a position as an assistant organist at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church?" came the query.

At the other end of the line was Charles Frederick Morse, Malcolm Johns' predecessor at the Memorial Church organ keyboard. Naturally, Professor Johns rose to the occasion, auditioned and was hired. The rest is history.

If that sounds melodramatic, take a look at his record. Then try locating a finer set of carillon bells in the area. You won't have much luck. The Memorial Church bells, numbering 47, rang among the largest collection in the United States and Professor Johns was the man responsible for raising sufficient funds to purchase those bells, a landmark in themselves.

If carillon bells don't thrill you, then give a listen to the Festival Choir, at whose birth Malcolm Johns played midwife. Each December the Festival Choir combines with Wayne State University's Orchestra to perform a major choral concert that's presented during morning church services.

More history? Professor Johns' first wedding music was played at the ceremony joining Elizabeth Parcells and Charles S. Arms. He's chalked up a rough estimate of 5,000 similar services since then. So many, that "I'm now playing for weddings of weddings," he comments.

Hardly one to rest on past laurels, Malcolm Johns is determined to keep busy. This he manages by dividing his time between teaching duties at Wayne State and making music at Memorial Church.

Wayne records may show he puts in 12 hours a week teaching, but as originator of Wayne's Choral Union and Orchestra Salute Concerts, it's plain there's more time devoted than meets the eye. Salute Concerts are ethnic presentations and hinge upon extensive research, including a trip to each foreign country featured. Then it's back to Detroit to locate a church that's acoustically fit for the performance.

More locally, Malcolm Johns is responsible for two Sunday services for a week and directing the Chancel choir at rehearsals. One more agreeable chore consists of accompanying his wife, Marian, director of the Church's three youth choirs.

A music graduate of Salem College in North Carolina, Mrs. Johns proved professionally indispensable to her husband when he conducted several church music seminars in Germany, Switzerland and Japan, as well as summer chorale workshops in various states.

Professor Johns' future looms as active as the present. Haydn Mass No. 6 is scheduled for presentation in March and the first Sunday of June will see an Inaugural Program performed at Temple Bethel. Both are Wayne State related projects.

And as for Grosse Pointe, it hopes to see the fruits of Malcolm Johns' labors for at least another 35 years.

Cultures Meet in Pointe Home

By Nancy Kramer

Dr. and Mrs. Louis DePerro of North Renaud road, recently underwent a cultural experience.

The culture was Japanese; the experience one Michio Omatsu.

Dr. Omatsu, a dentist specializing in the field of oral surgery, travelled to the United States in order to scrutinize complex surgery techniques. His trip is being sponsored by a sister affiliation between his Japanese state of Shiga and the State of Michigan's Dental Associations.

While in Michigan, the doctor's activities center around the University of Michigan's Ann Arbor campus, and under the auspices of the program, Dr. Omatsu spent much of his time observing methods of various dentists and surgeons in the surrounding area.

The DePerros hosted the doctor during a short lapse in his schedule, over the Christmas holiday period. While he was staying at their home, Dr. Omatsu observed at both Sinai Hospital and at Dr. DePerro's office.

Totally enthused about all he has seen in connection with his trade, Dr. Omatsu noted one significant difference between dentistry in the two nations.

Dental care in Japan is partially subsidized by the government. What portion the patient pays depends upon what type of work he does. For example, a salaried man would be charged less than a machine worker. As a result of this arrangement, the Japanese dentist must see far more patients on a daily basis than his American counterpart and he cannot establish the individual rapport that United States patients are used to sharing with their dentists.

"I may see 60 to 80 people a day," Dr. Omatsu said. Dr. DePerro's estimate of 20 to 25 daily visitors provides quite a contrast to that figure. "American patients are happier," Dr. Omatsu observed. "They have time to get to know their dentist. In Japan we really have no relationship with our patients."

Of course there are other more technical variations that the doctor has noticed, and so many more that he will see, since it will be a year before he returns to the wife and four children he left behind in Shiga. But while he was "on vacation" with the DePerros, a few less complicated novelties caught his eye.

His first experience with any real accumulation of snow came during Detroit's near record storm of Wednesday and Thursday, December 19 and 20. Before he and Dr. DePerro could get down to the business of shoveling walks, Dr. Omatsu insisted on photographing it.

The Japanese have been known to wield mean cameras and Dr. Omatsu is no exception to this rule. Almost nothing escaped immortalization on film, including a plate of spaghetti. A routine dinner for the DePerros became a visual experience that Dr. Omatsu couldn't pass up.

But cultural experience tend to be two way streets and while the Japanese doctor was gaining knowledge about America, Dr. and Mrs. DePerro were reaping a few benefits of their own.

Not everyone can boast an authentic Japanese cook, but when Mrs. Omatsu sent some goodies stateside and the doctor took over the kitchen, Mrs. DePerro could, Dr. DePerro could not resist comparing the dollar to the yen and was surprised to discover that land in Japan costs seven or eight times what one would pay in the United States.

Of course it couldn't have been easy saying goodbye to his family, but Dr. Omatsu has a sort of "heritage" he must live up to. "My father was a dentist," he explained. And, out of a family of five boys and one girl, one turned out to be an architect, another a medical surgeon and the rest, naturally, opted for careers in dentistry. His dentist sister even married one.

Grosse Pointe is just one in a series of pit stops for Dr. Omatsu since his itinerary includes at least a one-day layover in almost every major city from here to the West Coast. Eventually he will wind up in Los Angeles, to continue research at U.C.L.A.

And if the people he runs into between here and there are as accommodating and enthusiastic as the DePerros were, Dr. Omatsu will return to Japan with a lot more to show for his trip than technical notes about surgery and dentistry. He'll have a first-hand impression of America that isn't likely to be forgotten.

License Given to Woods I, II

The Woods Council at the regular meeting Monday, January 7, unanimously approved an operating license for Woods Theatre I and II for 1974.

ABC Michigan Theatres Corporation, which operates both cinemas, paid the annual license fee of $100. A surety bond of $1,000 also was filed, according to Ordinance No. 55, and both cinemas were found satisfactory after an inspection by Building Inspector Earl Wakely.

U-LS Hosts Senator Faxon At Impromptu Art Lecture

State Senator Jack Faxon, Detroit Seventh Precinct, was the guest of University-Liggett Middle School on Friday, January 11. Students and teachers alike expected a talk on the world of politics, however, they were surprised when Senator Faxon gave a spontaneous lecture on the merits of art.

Prefacing his remarks with his belief that art is for everyone, the Senator used words done by students in the Middle School as examples.

The audience learned pointers regarding the viewing of art, receiving guidelines such as "art deals with what you see, not with what you say." Senator Faxon gave examples of technique, concepts regarding the use of warm and cool colors, and compositional structures.

prehensive understanding of kids and the problems they face.

"Both have demonstrated a great capacity to communicate with kids and their families in a positive way. They have been a great help to school personnel through their talks at classes and assemblies."

"The Grosse Pointe community is fortunate in having them."

"Tip" McIntosh, social worker at South, said she has worked closely with Agents Kendall and Ference. "I'm delighted with both. They communicate wonderfully with kids and have a good rapport with them."

"I'm personally sorry to see them go," she continued. "I feel they have a unique ability to relate to adolescents. They've been just great."

Don't Like It

Terri Mageau, co-editor of South High's "Tower," said the majority of South students are not informed about the rotation plan but she noted, "Most of the kids who are informed about it don't care for it at all." She stated one reason for this is because students like Agent Kendall, who has established an "excellent rapport" with them.

For those who are not "up" on the plan, they will be soon enough as Miss Mageau said the Thursday, January 17, edition of "The Tower" will contain a story on it.

Mike Murray, co-editor of North High's "North Pointe," said nothing has been written on the plan at this time. However, he expects a future issue of the paper to contain poll results on this question.

Mr. Murray added he hasn't, personally, heard any comments on this subject.

Panel of Teens To Rate Films

A panel of teens from the Pointe will be presented by the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture and TV Council on Monday, January 21 at 1 p.m. in the upstairs conference room of the Grosse Pointe Central Library.

Acting as moderators will be Carol Hohmann from a Theatre Arts class and Janet Hohmann, a speech student, both from South High.

Other participants include James Karbone and Jane Lightfoot, Drama and Debate students representing North High. Jeff Malooly and Linda Longo will represent South's Speech Department. University-Liggett School and Our Lady Star of the Sea will also be sending panel members.

The students will discuss current movies and give their impressions of the last two films each has viewed.

Motion Picture Council members are asked to bring along a white elephant for auction purposes.

TROUBLE AHEAD

People are so prone to follow example, and if fear is in the lead a panic is quite certain.

40 YEARS OF AUTOMOBILE EXPERIENCE

The Senator remarked that "good art is mysterious" and motivated the onlookers to search for more in each painting. The student critics then found what he said was true — that "people see what they know themselves!" Looking for mysterious elements which enhance a work of art helps remove the "mystique" of abstract art which makes it incomprehensible to the amateur viewer.

"Art's a more extensive language than words; it goes across the years and between peoples." All seemed to accept the premise as the Senator went on to explain subtle differences in techniques and to urge everyone to aspire to create artistically. "Enjoy the doing" became the recurring theme.

It is little wonder the "joy of doing" would be a main theme for the Senator regarding art, for he obviously enjoys all "doing" in life.

In addition to governmental duties and many other voluntary responsibilities demonstrating his deep concern for human problems, Senator Faxon is headmaster of the City School of Detroit, a private, non-denominational, elementary school. The City School is the only bilingual school in Michigan (English-French).

The Senator is also an artist, (painter and watercolorist). Known to his friends as a competent interior decorator, the Senator is an avid art collector. He exhibits a flair for art auctioneering, turning an often dry business into an educational and entertaining affair. The U-LS audience received a taste of that entertaining expertise — and left much enriched by the experience.

areas amounted to 14,700 square feet. The major portion of the project, the East Addition, contains 14 general classrooms, seven science classrooms and an open science area comprising four teaching stations. Also housed in the new structure which encircles the Wicking Library are a divisible lecture room, a seminar room, and quarters for driver education and special education.

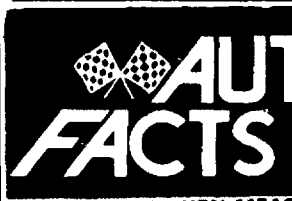

Also among the new facilities are five conference rooms, four offices and planning centers, three science preparation and two independent study rooms for science, as well as storage, janitorial areas, and toilet rooms.

The West Addition, used for the music department, consists of classrooms for vocal, instrumental, and theory and ensemble work. Also housed there are seven practice rooms, four offices, a music library, a listening area, and three storage rooms.

Remodeled areas include the physical education offices, a new corridor through the north end of the main building, and the conversion of the old science rooms into general classrooms.

Architect for the project was the Birmingham firm of Linn Smith, Demlene, and Adams and Matthew Lalewicz, Inc. was the general contractor.

Visitors to Sunday's open house will find ample parking in the Grosse Pointe boulevard lot.

A fire extinguisher is an essential emergency accessory for your car. A lighted cigarette, for example, can sometimes actually cause the complete burning of the insides of a car. Water is often not enough to stop the smoldering that can cause the damage. A fire extinguisher is equipped with the proper chemicals to do the job. Remember that an extinguisher, too, needs servicing from time to time to keep it in working order.

Keep your car in perfect running condition with regular servicing at POINTE DODGE, INC., 18001 Mack Ave., 881-7210. We provide same day service whenever possible and, if you prefer, call and make an appointment so we can schedule your car's service at your convenience. Our friendly service manager is trained, equipped and prepared to spend the amount of time necessary to analyze your car problems, so don't be afraid to explain in detail what's wrong. ## Farms Warns Auto Owners Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber announced that all Farms car owners who park their automobiles more than 48 hours in one spot, without moving them, will be issued a violation ticket under a city parking ordinance.

After the ticket is issued, the owner has up to a specified court date to pay a fine of $5. Failure to appear in court will result in an automatic increase to a fine of $10.

If perchance the auto owner fails to pay the $10 fine, then a warrant is issued for his arrest and he must appear in court, where the judge will determine what amount to assess the violator.

The chief urged the cooperation of all automobile owners to remove their vehicles from the streets when weather forecasts reveal the possibility of snowfall. This is so that city plows can clear the streets without being hampered by any parked vehicles.

Chief Ferber warned that any car parked at the curb after the Department of Public Works personnel plow the streets, and snow is piled around the auto, the owner will have to shovel away the snow, so that he can move the vehicle. Because the car is entrapped by the banks of snow is no excuse to leave the vehicle in that spot.

Under the Farms' ordinance, Chief Ferber said, if the car is still in the same spot, regardless of the piled up snow, for more than two full days, the owner will be in violation of the law and will be given a ticket and will be subjected to the same penalties as owners who fail to move their autos within the 48-hour time limit during normal times.

South Puts It All Together

By Mark Emery
 South's basketball team may have finally put it all together Friday, January 11, in its first EML victory of the season, over Port Huron. South came through with a consistent offense to give them their first league victory in three games, 59-49. The Devils will play host to Port Huron Northern in another EML game in an attempt to even their league record at 2-2. "Northern is not a big ball club, most of their strength comes from the outside. Their play is basically the same as Port Huron. They have a total team effort," commented South's Coach Charles Hollosy.

"We looked very good. We have looked good in practice through the week and we have started to play more as a team," stated Hollosy.

The Devils took charge from the opening tip-off to the closing buzzer with a potent offense and a tight defense. South scored first but a strong Port Huron team battled the Devils to a 20-17 first quarter score, with South on top. South then took charge providing their most substantial offense of the season.

Tim Kramer led the Devils with 17 points. On the boards, South brought down 29 rebounds in a total team effort. Notre Dame took a recent non-league contest from the Devils in a close game in which South had little offensive support. The Devils lost 54-48.

South looked sharp through the first half, but with little offensive consistency fell apart before games-end. South took a commanding 10-point lead to give them the edge through the second quarter, but the Devils could not contain the Shamrocks defensively as Notre Dame pulled to within five points at the half.

The Devils' total offensive output in the entire third quarter was only five points, all scored by Kramer. Notre Dame took advantage of South's inability to mount a creditable offensive attack took the lead at the end of the third period and never relinquished it.

Kramer, along with Pete Grambo, led South offensively with 17 and 12 points, respectively.

Doctor's Office Entered Again

For the second time within a 10-day period, thieves entered the office of Dr. Robert Coleman, 20166 Mack avenue. The second break-in was reported to Woods police Monday, January 7. His office was previously entered in late December.

Dr. Coleman, who's an orthodontist, said, "I do not dispense drugs in any form, my appliances are stainless steel, not gold, and I have no anesthetic, therefore no hypodermic needles." He added, "All my patients pay by check."

An employee, upon arriving at work on the 7th, discovered the lights on in the reception area of the doctor's office and in the hallway. She discovered the cupboards had ransacked some desks in the doctor's office. Some articles were removed from the drawers and placed on top of a desk.

Dr. Coleman told police that other storage areas in his building had been entered but nothing appeared missing at this time.

 THE PARK PHARMACY

Toddlers are wonderful, but houses must be child-proofed before a toddler could live in them safely. There is nothing more frightening than to watch a baby choke on some object that he could not have been able to reach in the first place. Sometimes this is unavoidable however, and when choking does occur, immediate action is the best remedy. Place the child with shoulders hanging down, and slap vigorously between the shoulders. If you can see the object grasp it with the fingers.

North Cagers Still Unbeaten

By Phil Gaustella

Grosse Pointe North's varsity basketball team upped its record to 7-0 by downing Fraser and South Lake, successively.

On Friday, January 11, North handed the Cavaliers a 50-42 setback at South Lake.

The game was marred by a freak accident involving North's Gerry Humes. Humes, the top scorer and rebounder, drove to the basket for an easy lay-up. As he shot, he was submerged by a South Lake player. The ball went through the hoop as Humes crashed his head and shoulder to the floor.

A hush engulfed the entire arena as blood poured profusely from the head of the sprawled Humes.

The game was delayed for several minutes as various people attended to the injury. A bandage was placed around his head. Then he stood up briefly, to a standing ovation, and was placed on the stretcher of the adept ambulance crew.

He was taken to Saint John Hospital where he received

GP Rockets Win Hockey Tourney

The Grosse Pointe Rockets captured the Squire Christmas hockey tournament held at Norshore by defeating the finest house teams in the suburban area.

The Rockets defeated the Warren Hustlers, 4-1, in the championship game as Jeff Black, John Hackett, Paul Kypros and Jeff Smith each scored once for the winners while Chip Barnes, Mike Mollahan and Robert Kitchen played a strong defensive game. Jeff Stenzel turned in a fine effort in the nets, as he had throughout the tournament.

On the way to the championship the Grosse Pointe team defeated the Sterling Heights Knights, 4-0, as Peter Grifo paced the team with two goals and goalies Stenzel turned in a shutout. The Rockets then dumped Westland S.S. Painting, 6-4, with Hackett scoring a three goal "hat trick" and Jeff Black adding two.

Finally, the Pointers routed the St. Clair Shores Earnies Penguins, 8-2, as Hackett had four goals and an assist, and Grifo netted two goals. Mollahan and Kypros rounded out the scoring by each scoring once.

The Rockets are coached by Arnie Stenzel and Dallas Kitchen.

Suspect to Face Circuit Court

A 28-year-old New Baltimore woman was bound over for trial in Wayne County Circuit Court after her examination, on a charge of embezzlement of over $1,000, was concluded in The Woods Municipal Court Wednesday, January 9.

Bond was continued for Sandra Randall in the amount of $5,000, two sureties, police said. The suspect is currently out on bond.

Police reported she was originally charged on the basis of a $462 check which she allegedly converted to her own use. The suspect worked as a receptionist and bookkeeper at the Mack avenue offices of two doctors whose books were found to be $20,692.86 short by a professional auditing firm in July.

Her Circuit Court arraignment date is scheduled for Thursday, January 24.

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Here's something wonderful to do for your kids this Valentine's Day: take them down to Olympia Stadium for a super multi-dimensional "Peter Pan" starring Olympic gymnast Cathy Rigby.

It's something wonderful to do for other kids, too, for the Valentine's Evening performance is a benefit sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of Children's Hospital of Michigan.

The Auxiliary has taken over the entire house for the night to raise money toward Children's new Family Center for the Prevention and Study of Child Abuse.

Peachy and Warren Shelden, of Provencal road, are honorary chairmen for the "Give Your Heart To A Child" benefit.

Their committee includes men and women from all over the metropolitan area. Mrs. Lawrence (Continued on Page 15)

FRANK, of Fisher road, was sworn into office as 1974 treasurer of the Greater Detroit Chrysanthemum Society at the Society's meeting last Sunday, January 13, at 3 o'clock in the WWJ-TV Auditorium in West Lafayette boulevard, Detroit. The afternoon program included installation of officers, a short business session and a showing of colored chrysanthemum slides, most grown by Society members and exhibited at chrysanthemum shows.

Their drawings will be exhibited January 18 through 20 at the 22nd annual Autorama Custom Car Show at Cobo Hall.

MR. and MRS. CLARENCE W. TREADWELL, of Shelden road and Boca Raton, Fla., celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Saturday, December 29, at a family party at the Detroit Athletic Club. The Treadwells were married January 1, 1914, and are the parents of two sons, ROBERT W. TREADWELL and DONALD H. TREADWELL, and two daughters, MARJORIE (Mrs. Dwight) CRAWFORD and DOROTHY (Mrs. Robert B.) MARR, all of whom were present at the party. Also on hand for the celebration were 24 of the Treadwells' 28 grandchildren and great-grandchildren — it was felt that the two great-grandchildren who didn't come wouldn't have gotten much out of the festivities, since each is only a few months old. A number of years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Treadwell donated land for the Treadwell Elementary School in Taylor, which now has an enrollment of 450 and a staff of 20. A picture of the Treadwells was unveiled there recently. The anniversary pair enjoy travel: they've made two trips around the world, and have visited more than 100 countries.

Among high school recruits honored recently for completing their recruit training at Missouri Military Academy, Mexico, Mo., was Cadet TOM GRIFFITH, son of the WILLIAM H. GRIFFITHS, of Hendrie lane.

Ecology Is Theme For Earth Fest '74

Eco-Reference Book Being Prepared in Conjunction with Plans for One-day Village Fair to be Presented in Late Spring

"Earth Fest '74," a village fair with an environmental theme, will be held Saturday, May 18, to kick off Community Pride Day and the beginning of Michigan Week in the five communities of Grosse Pointe.

The one-day educational and fund-raising fair is being sponsored by Environmental Action Now (E. A. N.) to promote greater awareness of ecological problems and to stress that these problems require the united efforts of all citizens.

The educational aspect of the fair will be provided by environmentally-oriented organizations such as Concern, Inc., area garden clubs, local Audubon Chapters, Scouts, Ducks Unlimited, Trout Unlimited, et al.

These groups will set up exhibition booths to acquaint the public with their existence and activities.

Other educational features will be the showing of film clips and slides on ecology and an environmental puppet show for younger children.

On the fund-raising side a number of activities are planned. Prior to the fair the Grosse Pointe Artists' Association will hold an exhibition at the Grosse Pointe Regional Banking Center offices of National Bank of Detroit, Kercheval at St. Clair avenue. Exhibit works later will be sold at the fair.

Another art group is making craft items, with sale proceeds going to Earth Fest '74.

Throughout the day there will be entertainment, sporting and craft demonstrations and plant sales. An herb luncheon and lecture on herbs and their uses will be held, and environmental prizes will be awarded.

Winter Wedding For Janice Dancy

Bermuda and Florida are Vacation Destinations for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alan Keersmaekers after their pre-Christmas Nuptials

A reception at Hillcrest Country Club followed the wedding, December 22, of Janice Lee Dancy and Charles Alan Keersmaekers in Peace Lutheran Church, Detroit. The Reverend David Ludwig presided at the 5 o'clock candlelight nuptials.

The newlyweds are at home in Belleville after a cruise to the Bahamas and Florida.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Dancy, of Bedford road, wore a gown of candlelight satin overlaid with Venise and Cluny lace. Her full lace-accented Bishop sleeves ended in ruffled cuffs.

A Juliet bonnet of matching lace caught her Cathedral length illusion veil, and she carried a cluster of beige cymbidium orchids with baby's-breath.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. H. Richard Walton, of St. Louis, Mo., as matron of honor and bridesmaids Mrs. Steven Orr, Carol Hamel and Carol Bayer.

Their green velvet Victorian frocks were smocked and ruffled at hem, neck and cuffs. Each wore a cameo at her neck and each carried an arrangement of gold and russet mums and baby's-breath.

Dressed identically was flower girl Karen Walton, the bride's niece.

Glen Keersmaekers acted as his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Keersmaekers, of St. Clair Shores.

In the usher corps were Ron Keersmaekers, a cousin, Robert Laine, Richard Dancy, Jr., and Robert Dancy, the bride's brothers, and H. Richard Walton.

The mother of the bride wore a long gown styled with a metallic gold bodice and a gold-patterned winter white wool skirt. The bridegroom's mother's floor length gown featured a metallic gold bodice and a brown silk skirt.

Both mothers selected gold cymbidium orchid corsages.

D. Buhl, Jr., Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, III, Mrs. Arthur B. Hudson and Mrs. Robert K. Hydon are among Pointe members.

Mrs. Webster Buell, 1494 Buckingham, Birmingham, Mich. 48008 is filling ticket orders by mail. Tickets are available at regular box office prices of $4, $5 and $6, and there's a special $25 per person package deal that includes a prime rib dinner, cocktail and $6 seat for the performance. It's 50 percent tax deductible.

While the adult package-purchasers eat and drink in the Olympia Room from 6 until the 7:30 o'clock performance, their children will be enjoying a special session of their own. Call 646-4841 for more information on this.

Checks accompanying ticket orders should be made payable to Women's Auxiliary—Children's Hospital of Michigan.

If you can't attend the Thursday, February 14, Peter Pan performance yourself, there's no law that says you can't purchase tickets and donate them to a charity of your choice, or just send along your contribution to the Child Abuse Center.

The Auxiliary has promised $75,000 to aid the Center, the pledge to be met over a three-year period. Every little bit helps.

Of course, if you don't attend, you won't get to meet Bozo the Clown and Mr. Houdini in person, and you'll miss seeing ALL of Never Never Land at one time, from the forest to the lost boy's hideaway, to the Indian village, to Captain Hook's pirate ship.

Americans Abroad To Relate Stories

Young Pointers Who Have Lived in Other Countries as Foreign Exchange Students to Describe their Experiences January 25

Have you ever wondered what AFS means, and YFU? Do you know that we, here in The Pointe, have had "Americans Abroad" in such far-away places as Turkey, Italy and Germany for the Whole of the 1972-73 school year... and that Elizabeth Buffa will soon be leaving Grosse Pointe South High School and her home in Balfour road to become an American Abroad in Porto Alegre, Brazil?

AFS (American Field Service) and YFU (Youth For Understanding) are programs for high school students. Under AFS and YFU auspices, young people live and study in countries other than their own, participating fully in family, school and community life.

The South High School Adult Chapter of AFS has scheduled an open meeting for Friday evening, January 25, at 7:30 o'clock in the Lounge of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The public—especially the many Pointe families who have hosted foreign students, and families considering this exciting experience—are invited to hear recent Pointe Americans Abroad returnees speak.

Becky Beyer, now a student at the University of Michigan, will tell of her year in Germany.

Tim Page, also at U. of

M. now, will describe his life in Italy, and Priscilla Spencer, Michigan State University student, will talk about her AFS year in Turkey.

Anyone unable to attend this meeting but who might be interested either in hosting a foreign student or joining an adult group that supports the foreign exchange programs is invited to telephone Mrs. Donald Spencer,

Chapter president, 821-4355, for further information.

Beth Buffa, daughter of the Sebastian Buffas, has just received news of her AFS international scholarship award for the 1974 school year in Porto Alegre.

Beth, who will be graduated from South High this month, was sponsored by the South High Adult Foreign Student committee and placed by the New York AFS organization with a family of three in Brazil.

She will attend a public school where her Brazilian "mother" is counselor, and will study all her subjects in Portuguese.

Beth has been considering the possibilities of a foreign exchange experience for a long time. Her family has hosted two AFS boys, one from Germany and last year's student from South Vietnam, Uynh Nguyen.

The Buffas have always made foreign visitors most welcome in their home, and Beth has entertained various foreign students for short stays.

Her primary language interest has been Spanish, so Portuguese should come fairly easily. To help Beth orient herself AFS has planned a one-week intensive language session in Rio de Janeiro.

She leaves February 3, and will join her new family in Porto Alegre after the week in Rio.

Symphony Prelude Series Scheduled

First of Three 1974 Programs Will Feature Informal Interview With Maestro and Mrs. Aldo Ceccato at War Memorial February 1.

Detroit Symphony Preludes sponsored by the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra open their third season Friday, February 1, at 11:15 o'clock in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium.

This popular mini-musical and luncheon series is focused on "getting to know your orchestra." As in the past Preludes, members will perform short programs in conjunction with talks on their instruments. The programs conclude with open discussions.

This format with its intimate "off-stage" setting has proved most interesting—both educationally and socially.

For the opening program Preludes chairman Mrs. Arnold W. Lungershausen, of Berkshire road, will introduce guests Aldo Ceccato, the new principal conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and his wife Eliana. Their Preludes appearance will double as a "welcome back" for Maestro Ceccato who returns to the Orchestra's podium next Thursday, January 24, after a period of absence due to previous commitments.

Foregoing the usual musical, an informal interview with the Ceccatos will be conducted by Fran Harris, special features coordinator for the WWJ radio and television stations, and Noel Duncan, director of Development for the Detroit Symphony.

Aldo Ceccato's musical career began with studies in Milan. He completed his musical training at the Hochschule fur Musik in Berlin and at the Accademia Chigiana in Siena.

A successful European career began immediately, with appearances at La Scala, Covent Garden, Glyndebourne and the Edinburgh Festival, conducting all the major European orchestras.

His North American debut with the Lyric Opera of Chicago in 1969 was an extraordinary success, catapulting him virtually overnight into a position as one of the most sought-after guest conductors on the continent.

He has conducted numerous concerts with America's major orchestras, including the New York Philharmonic, the Boston Symphony, the Chicago Symphony, the Cleveland and the Philadelphia Orchestras, and has been repeatedly invited back.

Mrs. Ceccato is the former Eliana de Sabata, daughter of famous conductor-composer Victor de Sabata.

The Ceccatos have two young sons, Cristiano and Francesco. They will be residing in Grosse Pointe.

Fran Harris, interviewer, has received many accolades for her contribution to radio and television. Her affiliation with the WWJ stations includes many "firsts" in programming.

She was the first woman to be heard in a regular radio newscast, "Fran Harris Reports," during World War II.

The original Traffic Court and Juvenile Court television programs were produced by Mrs. Harris.

She was the first woman to conduct a TV interview show in 1946, and a half-hour children's program in 1947.

She assumed the post of special features coordinator for the WWJ stations in 1964, the first woman to hold a management position with WWJ.

She is active with the Michigan Women's Commission, Well-Being for the Aging, Inc., and the Women's Advertising Club of Detroit, and presently serves as national president of Women in Communications, Inc., and chairman of the Defense Advisory committee on Women in the Services.

A list of her major awards and citations would include the American Women in Radio and TV Woman of the Year in Community Service (1972), Michigan State University's "Golden Cooperator" Award (1967) and Detroit's Ten Top Working Women (1964). She is listed in "Who's Who in American Women."

Co-interviewer Noel Duncan is recognized for many activities in the cultural life of the Detroit community.

He served as fund-raising consultant to the Society of Arts and Crafts for the Art School's current $8.5 million dollar expansion program in Detroit.

He was publicity and public relations coordinator for the Detroit Grand Opera Association for the annual spring visit of the Metropolitan Opera and fund-raising consultant for the Cranbrook Academy of Art.

He has served as out-state coordinator and publicity director for the United Negro College Fund, Michigan Campaign.

As of this year he holds the post of director of Development for the Detroit Symphony, where he is continuing the Quest for Excellence Fund Campaign.

Mr. Duncan, a native Detroit, holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Wayne State University where he is currently enrolled in a Masters program.

The second Prelude, scheduled for March 1, will feature the Detroit Symphony Brass Quintet including Frank Kaderabek, trumpet; Gordon Smith, trumpet; Raymond Turner, trombone; Eugene Wade, French horn; and Wesley Jacobs, tuba.

The Detroit Symphony Baroque Ensemble will close the Prelude season March 22. Its members are Ervin Monroe, flute; Donald Baker, oboe; Barbara Fickell, cello; and Alice Lungershausen, harpsichord.

Each mini-musical will be held at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on a Friday morning at 11:15 o'clock, with optional luncheon following at 12:15 o'clock.

Reservations are accepted up to noontime on previous Wednesdays.

Series tickets may be purchased at $20 for the three Preludes and luncheons or $8 for the three Preludes only.

Single Prelude tickets are also available at $7.50, (including luncheon), and $3 each.

Tickets may be obtained by sending a check or money order payable to Detroit Symphony Preludes to Mrs. Arnold W. Lungershausen, 849 Berkshire road, Grosse Pointe, Mich. 48230 (VA 1-6922).

Assisting general chairman Mrs. Lungershausen in Preludes duties are the Mesdames William H. Bundesen, decorations, Winfield S. Jewell, Jr., hostesses, Alfred D. Moran, public relations, and Felix Resnick, box office.

Mrs. Jewell has asked Mrs. Buell Doelle, Mrs. Robert Fife, Women's Association president, Mrs. Kenneth E. Frankford, Mrs. Taylor H. Seebor and Mrs. J. C. Hurley to serve as hostesses.

Pointe members of the Preludes committee are Mrs. Russell E. Bauer, Mrs. C. Jackson France, Mrs. Pierre V. Heftler, Mrs. Robert Jay, Mrs. Ray Macdonald, Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford, Mrs. Flavio Vancelli, Mrs. Volrad J. von Berg, Mrs. Bernard Whitley and Mrs. R. Alexander Wrigley.

Start Welcome Wagon's Year

Welcome Wagon Club of Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods began the new year with a meeting Thursday, January 3, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Guest speaker was Pat Horne, executive secretary, Family Life Education Council, explaining how FLEC has been involved since its inception with programs of education and assistance on alcohol as well as drug abuse and other problems, in addition to working to further positive factors that can enrich individual and family life in the community.

During January Welcome Wagon honors its past-presidents with a luncheon prepared and served by board members to show appreciation for a job well done. This year's luncheon is being held today, Thursday, January 17, at Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

Membership chairman Mrs. Russell Thompson reports her list growing steadily.

New members include Mrs. Edward Durr Schmidt, Mrs. Ethel Phillips, Mrs. Ronald

Woman's Club Meets Jan. 16

Bruins Do Well in Hockey Tournament

The Bruins were runners-up in their division in the Christmas International Hockey Tournament held in Guelph, Ontario, December 26-30.

The Bruins played two games on December 26. They defeated Detroit Little Caesars, 7-3, as Allen Taber scored four goals. John Schuster scored twice with Bill Seaver turning the red light on once.

In their second game, the Bruins settled for a tie with the Waterloo Tigers, 3-3. Matt Costello, Schuster and Taber scored in the contest. On December 27, the Bruins faced the very best PeeWee team that Toronto has to offer, the Toronto Young Nats. The Bruins were proud to lose to this team, which had demoralized all opposition by lopsided scores, by a score of only 4-3.

Taber and Costello scored two quick goals to surprise the Nats in the first period. Taber added another on a pass from Mike Burkheiser and Costello, and the Bruins led 3-2 until the final two minutes of the game. Drew Mascarin was outstanding in the net.

Going into the third period against the Hamilton Police team the Bruins were down 3-0 but scored six goals to win, 6-5. Taber, Burkheiser, Schuster and Seaver were goal scorers.

In their final game on December 29, the Bruins outplayed San Diego, California, for a 6-0 victory. Joe Sehee scored after a pass from John Davies. Taber scored twice from Costello and Burkheiser. Moore scored with Matt Rossetti and Seaver receiving assists. Schuster scored two on the power play.

The Bruins are 2-1 in January in the Michigan Open League. On January 3, at the Warren Arena, the Bruins posted a 4-0 win over Warren. Costello opened the scoring on a pass play from Burkheiser and Taber. Schuster scored on a play from Sehee and Moore. Taber then posted a goal with Burkheiser and Costello assisting. Burkheiser completed the scoring with the assist going to Tony Curtale.

The Bruins then lost to a fired up Little Caesars team, 4-3. Ben Amore scored with Davies and Brian Moody assisting. Seaver scored on a nice backhand after a pass from Schuster. Moore scored the final goal with an assist going to Jim Kennary.

On January 8, the Bruins were victorious over the St. Clair Shores Lakers, 4-1. Taber, Moore and Schuster were Bruin tallies. Paul Sattler turned in a strong game on defense.

The Bruins played their first game in the Silver Stick Regional tournament and posted a 4-1 victory over Dearborn. Taber, Costello and Schuster were Bruin goal scorers. The Bruins will continue their play in the Silver Stick tournament meeting the St. Clair Shores Lakers on January 19.

A lot of resolutions that were perfectly good a week ago are badly frayed already.

Austin Skaters Hold First Place

Austin is riding high in the second division of the Michigan Metro High School Hockey League in action through Monday, January 7.

On the other hand, University-Liggett is in a fifth place tie with Milford in third division play.

Meanwhile, ULS is three points behind fourth place B.H. Lahser. Liggett skaters have a 0-2-1 mark for one point. The team has scored seven times and has allowed 21 goals.

In games played between Monday, December 17, and Sunday, January 6, Austin bombed Ecorse, 15-0, on Wednesday, December 19, and was nipped, 5-4, by Allen Park, on Saturday, December 22.

During this stretch, ULS had two scheduled games postponed. One was against Mount Clemens and the other against Country Day.

In the "men behind the mask" race, Austin goalie Greg Supina is in third place with a 3.00 average, including three shutouts and 192 saves.

Dismiss Charge Against Lounge

The Liquor Control Commission dismissed charges against the Nightingale Lounge, 20791 Mack avenue, for serving alcohol to a minor, stemming from an incident last August 31.

A hearing was held by the commission on this matter Wednesday, December 19. The Woods Department of Public Safety reported that Frank J. Losh of the lounge pled guilty to "allowing a person under the age of 18 years to purchase and consume alcoholic liquor."

Police said that, in its decision, the commission stated the charges were dismissed with a warning in view of mitigating circumstances. Officers stated the commission didn't explain what these circumstances were.

NATHAN C. JUDSON, DIRECTOR OF NORTH HIGH SCHOOL'S INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC DEPARTMENT AND CONDUCTOR OF THE JUNIOR SYMPHONY

By Kathy Duff

It takes nerve to invite a newspaper reporter to a high school orchestra's first practice after Christmas vacation.

Of course, each student was supposed to practice at least a half hour every day over vacation, even in the midst of holiday parties, shopping and family activities.

Of course, each student didn't.

When I walked in at 10:30 a.m., the North High Symphony Orchestra was in a practice session under the direction of Nathan C. Judson. The 59 musicians, arranged in more or less concentric arcs around Mr. Judson, were going through their warm-up scales.

Everybody Tries

"O.K. now, everybody, TRY IT. E flat major, B flat major, now a high F. I said EVERYBODY, try it," Mr. Judson called out from his conductor's platform. "Second violins, can't you read music?!" . . . When a G comes in, you are out of tune . . . Everybody, listen so that you know what you're shooting for . . . Get as much length as you can on those quarter notes . . . Why do you think that we spent all that time on a crescendo, so that we could forget it when we came to the next crescendo?"

It's all in a day's work for a high school music instructor who must be blessed with the patience of Job and the military discipline of George S. Patton.

But try to say one thing against the music director, and you will have all of his students up in arms. When one of his students learned that I was from a newspaper, he said, "Well, he should be mad at us. You see, all of us were supposed to practice over vacation and almost no one found time. If he wasn't mad at us, we really would be surprised. We have a concert in only 10 days."

Shows He Cares
Another student said, "If Mr. Judson did not yell at us, it would seem like he didn't care. It would seem like he had given up or something."

after the practice, his composure changed. Clustered around him were a half dozen of his students, asking questions about their individual instruments. Before he could go into his office, he answered their questions and answered questions from other music students who had been waiting in the hall for the session to be over.

The music instructor had four orchestras to prepare for mid-January concerts. The three North High School orchestras, the Symphony Orchestra, the Symphony Band and Concert Band performed Wednesday night, January 16. Coming up next Tuesday night, January 22, is the first concert this year for the Junior Symphony under his direction. It's been a busy January for him, but no busier than any other month during the school year.

They're Good Experience

Relaxing in his office after the practice, Mr. Judson said that concerts were a good experience for the students because it gives them something to aim for. "We even started another symphony orchestra last year because there was not enough concert experience for the younger students."

"It really hurt when the school system dropped instrumental music in the fifth grade and began to start it in sixth grade. The junior high schools have music only two and a half times a week now, instead of every day as they should. It hasn't hurt in numbers, or the number of students who join the orchestras, but it has affected the performance."

Mr. Judson and Russell Reed, director of instrumental music at South High School, founded the Junior Symphony in 1972. Mr. Reed served as conductor last year and the practices were held at North.

To Juxtapose Two Cultures

Pointe resident Jacques Bajer will give a lecture to members of the Grosse Pointe Alliance Francaise and other interested localities on The Differences Between the Mentalities of the French and American People next Wednesday evening, January 23, at 8 o'clock in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Reception Room.

M. Bajer, who says "I am French by birth and education and American by choice," feels that because of his professional connections and family responsibilities he has had a unique opportunity to observe and evaluate the educational, familial and business differences between the two cultures.

Twenty years ago, a graduate of the Paris engineering school "Arts et Metiers," he arrived in the United States with $87 and no job.

He later joined Ford Motor Company where he worked for 15 years, rising to the position of principal engineer in charge of road tire vehicle systems.

He is responsible for the introduction of steel belted radial ply tires in the American automotive industry and holds several personal patents in tire machinery.

Since leaving Ford M. Bajer has been president of Tire Systems Engineering, an international consulting firm with clients in France, Italy, Germany, England, Brazil, Japan and other countries.

While with Ford M. Bajer travelled extensively, especially to France, in connection with his work. His current business responsibilities take him constantly to many parts of the globe.

A life member of the Grosse Pointe Alliance Francaise, he is the father of three children who were born in the United States and summer in France.

The January 23 lecture will be in English, with a bilingual discussion period following. Light refreshments will be served. There is no admission charge.

coming to North, he was a music teacher at a Trenton, Mich., high school for seven years, and before that, a music teacher in Goodrich, Mich., for four years.

Studied at Michigan

"I did both my undergraduate and my graduate work at the University of Michigan. Before I returned to Ann Arbor to get my Master's, I served two years in the army. I spent a lot of time at Fort Huachuca in Arizona, an old cavalry post on the Mexican border. Even in the service, I was part of a band, the 36th Army band. The group varied in number from 28 to 50 men."

Asked how good the band was, Mr. Judson quipped that it was like the rest of the army, boring.

Under the G.I. bill, he returned to the university. In both of his stints in Ann Arbor, Mr. Judson was in the Michigan Marching Band, under the direction of the legendary William B. Revelli. It was good training since part of his responsibility at North High is to write the half-time shows at football games.

Have Early Practice

"The seniors traditionally write the last half-time show. We practice for the shows at 7:15 in the mornings before school starts."

It's hard for most people to imagine doing anything at 7:15 in the morning, much less be at a school and running through marching formations. However, looking at Mr. Judson's schedule, (which is made out through May before the school year begins), a 7:15 a.m. practice is no unusual thing.

Besides the special practices, many of the individual instrument groups meet before school. Some groups, such as North's informal jazz band and the Junior Symphony, meet after school. In all, Mr. Judson has over 250 students as there are 84 in the Junior Symphony, 59 in the Symphony Orchestra, 75 in the Symphony Band and 60 in the Concert Band. Which is no mean feat.

"One thing that I am particularly interested in is the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association. There are 1,100 members, representing about that many schools. The Association sponsors the Solo and Ensemble Festivals. A few years ago, I was elected president of the Association and I found it a very worthwhile experience."

Kids Main Concern
But is it the kids which are Mr. Judson's main concern. In practice sessions, it is evi-

Art Of Discussion Workshop Slated

Pointe League of Women Voters to Sponsor Luncheon Session Next Wednesday; All Invited to Participate in Informal Program

The Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters has a special event scheduled for Wednesday, January 23, a luncheon-workshop on the do's and don'ts of the art of discussion, how to draw people out and how to contribute.

It will be held at the home of Mrs. C. B. Conover in Berkshire road at 12:30 o'clock.

After submarine sandwiches and dessert Mrs. Robert Coyle and Mrs. Carl Fischer, Jr., will perform a brief comic skit illustrating faulty communication techniques, call on everybody present for suggestions to improve them, and re-do the skit with the improvements.

A general discussion of problems which arise at organization meetings and of possible solutions, led by Mrs. J. Robert Jessup, will follow.

Says Mrs. Conover, who conceived the workshop: "It will be very informal. I hope people will come in slacks and be prepared to sit on the floor if necessary."

Adds Mrs. J. Howard Kay, in charge of organizing it:

Fort Pontchartrain DAR To Meet At Harmonie

Fort Pontchartrain Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will meet for a noon luncheon at the Harmonie Club tomorrow, Friday, January 18. Mrs. William E. Garrett, regent, will preside.

DAR Good Citizens will be awarded their pins and certificates by Mrs. Max C. Earley, chairman of the DAR Good Citizens committee.

Diane Kaake, from East Detroit High School, Vicki DiMelis, Lincoln Park High School, and Patricia Mitchell, Allen Park High School, are this year's Fort Pontchartrain Good Citizen honorees.

Election of a Nominating committee will take place during the business meeting. Also on the agenda is election of delegates and alternates to the 83rd Continental Congress to be held April 14 through 19 in Washington, D.C.

dent that he knows each one's name. He knows who has been practicing, who has been goofing off. If a section doesn't sound right, he will track down which musician is playing the part incorrectly. He will go over and over a section until the last student understands the music.

"These kids are so discriminating. I have to keep on my toes. If you don't get up tight, they think you don't care. I expect them to be better than average high school musicians, and they expect me to be a better than average conductor. But they certainly can produce an excellent performance."

Tickets for the Tuesday night, January 22, Junior Symphony concert may be purchased at the door of the Parcels Auditorium before the 8 o'clock concert.

"The workshop should be useful to any woman who is leading or participating in discussion sessions."

All interested persons are invited. Reservations, at $1.50, should be made by Monday, January 21, by phoning 884-9072 or 499-1950.

Dorothy Zito, Human Resources chairman, has announced that two Pointe Leaguers, Mrs. Jessup and Mrs. Ronald Hill, are participating in the national League's Revenue Sharing Monitoring Project which aims "to begin answering the questions of whether revenue sharing money is going where the need is, of whether there is meaningful participation of the public in setting priorities, and whether the non-discrimination requirements of the law are being observed."

The finance drive, opened last fall under Mrs. Proctor Denno's chairmanship, is moving slowly, with $374 in of the $450 total sought from members, $931.50 of the $1,261 sought from the community.

Comments Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Pointe League president, "It has been rather surprising that we have not reached our quota, since in our contacts, in light of the present political climate, people have indicated that they are most supportive of what the League does."

Contributions should be sent to the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters, 32 Lakeshore road, Grosse Pointe 48230.

I have never really cared for the expression "Woman's Lib" as it is too conflicting in meaning, but certainly they deserve an equal break . . . so what about "Woman's Fairness," fair treatment in jobs, opportunities, equality and other categories . . . it's no more than the fair sex deserves.
