PRESIDENT NIXON said he never authorized payoffs to any of the Watergate defendants and told two aides nearly a year ago that the affair was "wrong." Speaking at a nationally televised news conference, Mr. Nixon backed the testimony given by his former chief of staff, H. R. Haldeman. A federal grand jury has indicted Mr. Haldeman for perjury. The president says he intends to turn over all materials previously provided to the Watergate Special prosecutor and grand jury to the House Judiciary Committee.

THE STATE OF MICHIGAN has been granted an extra 3 percent allotment of gasoline for the month of March. The extra 275,000 gallons a day apportioned to Michigan under newly released allocations is part of a nationwide state-by-state increase that the Federal Energy Office, (FEO), said should considerably ease localized gas shortages and reduce long lines at service stations. FEO director William Simon contends the new program will make rationing unnecessary.

Saturday, March 9

THE ARABS reportedly are ready to lift the oil embargo on shipments to the United States. Petroleum ministers were scheduled to meet in Cairo on Sunday, according to the Egyptian newspaper Al-Ahram. The decision to hold the meeting came amid Algerian objections to the time and place of the conference, but an Egyptian oil ministry spokesman was optimistic that Algerian representatives would attend. Even if oil boycotts do decide to lift the boycott, it is not clear whether they would increase production to meet U. S. fuel needs or if the move is seen in time to head off the threat of gasoline rationing.

Sunday, March 10

SEVEN FORMER CONGRESSMEN and chief aides to President Nixon stood before federal judge John J. Sirica in Washington on Saturday and pleaded innocent to charges of conspiring to cover up the Watergate affair. The indictment lists 45 overt acts and alleges a train of lies, use of influence to throw investigators off the track and payment of hush money to the men who plotted and carried out the break-in of Democratic Party headquarters on June 17, 1972. Each count carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison. The former aides were represented by a team of 10 attorneys.

Monday, March 11

ISRAELI PRIME MINISTER GOLDA MEIR won parliamentary approval of her new government and pledged it would pursue peace with the Arabs at the Geneva Middle East Conference. But she also warned of a possible renewal of fighting with Syria. She said Israel would not return all Arab territory captured in the 1967 war and vowed to "assure Israel of defensible borders, of unhampered development."

STRIKING MUNICIPAL WORKERS in San Francisco have shut down the city's new subway system, created a crisis in public hospitals and caused the dumping of 100 million gallons of raw sewage into San Francisco Bay. The walkout, in its fifth day, has made public transportation non-existent. Although subway workers, teachers unions and school bus drivers are not directly involved in the strike, they are refusing to cross picket lines.

Heart Surgery Patients Organize to Help Others

By Nancy Kramer

Second Chance-Heart Line Club is one organization that takes its title literally, by offering members another shot at living. For some, the concept could be difficult to grasp, but for a heart patient, accepting that idea is mandatory.

Formed around the very psychological and physical proposition that heart patients should stick together, Second Chance-Heart Line Club is home-based at Saint John Hospital.

That's where it was initiated by Philip J. Feringa, M.D., a Pointer who's Vice-Chief of Surgery at Saint John. After witnessing the strongly positive psychological lift a recent post-operative patient got out of a visit with a healed heart patient,

School Janitors, Cooks Star in Slide Presentation To Board of Education

Trustees Expecting Dull Show Treated to Fine Entertainment Pointing Out Many Interesting Statistics

By Kathy Duff

Ben Zenn, director of Administrative Services in the School System, has assembled a slide show to depict the varied roles of his employees. The world premier of the work took place at a recent School Board meeting as part of a program to review certain aspects of the School System.

When the presentation was announced, the trustees and audience settled back to be mildly entertained by a "these are the janitors" type movie. Instead, they were presented with a very up-date presentation set to a jazz soundtrack, made possible by William Hoover, audio-visual specialist at South High School.

Since the presentation was about the school's administrative services, which includes custodians, cooks, file clerks, carpenters and key punch operators, the emphasis was on manual labor. To emphasize this common trait, the film uses the device of a close-up shot of the worker's hand coupled with a long shot of his activity.

For example, the trustees saw an engineer repairing equipment with a big wrench, while they viewed a close-up of his gloved hand. In another frame, they saw a cook mixing a huge batch of cake batter with a close-up of her hand on the large spoon. It was pointed out that all the hands were "needed to make our schools go."

During the course of the presentation, several interesting statistics came to light. For instance, everyone learned that there are 977 toilets in Pointe schools, 1,023 basins and sinks, 1,089 clocks and 2,939 door locks.

Employe Bob Beaujean, the system's lock expert, can change any lock within two minutes if it breaks or the key is lost.

Besides being in the maintenance business, the schools also have to run restaurant and laundry businesses. Much of the food is mass produced, in the large facilities at North High School, such as salad dressings, pre-fried fish, sloppy joe mix, soup, swanky franks, cheese sandwiches and hamburger patties.

However, the students at each of the schools with cafeterias, (the two high schools and the three middle schools), make known their own palates' preferences. Tacos are a run-away favorite at Pierce Middle School, while they just can't live without North High. When this fact was being discussed at the close of the presentation, William Peters, director of the G.P. Libraries, suggested that it might be because Pierce is at the south end of the district.

Scientists' Church Now Free of Debt

Dedication Services Slated for Sunday, March 31

Members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Grosse Pointe Farms, will hold dedication services on Sunday, March 31, at the regular 10:30 a.m. church service. A repetition of the morning service will be held at 3 p.m. The services will be conducted by Michael S. Hedge, First Reader and Mary Leigh Herdegen, Second Reader.

The dedication marks the church's complete freedom from debt, as Christian Science churches are dedicated when all obligations connected with purchase of the building site, the church building, furnishings, and equipment are paid.

All residents in the surrounding community are invited to attend either service and inspect the church edifice, located at 282 Chalfonte avenue. A nursery will be provided for the care of small children.

The church was formed in June of 1953, when, recognizing the need for a Christian Science church in The Pointe area, thirty-two members of The Mother Church of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, met and voted to begin holding informal church services in Grosse Pointe as soon as possible.

First Home

Arrangements were made with the Grosse Pointe Board of Education for the use of the Kerby School to hold Sunday services, Wednesday evening meetings and a Sunday School beginning on August 2, 1953.

On December 14, 1953, formal steps to establish a new church were undertaken. Articles of Association and By-Laws were adopted, two Readers and nine Board members were chosen, and a formal application for recognition was forwarded to The Mother Church. This gave formal recognition to the group as Christian Science Society, Grosse Pointe Farms.

New Name

With the establishment of a Reading Room on Kerby avenue in October of 1955, the name was changed to First Church of Christ, Scientist, Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan.

In October, 1958 the Reading Room was moved to its present location at 19613 Mack Avenue and in November, (Continued on Page 2)

First Step Taken In Relocation of Fox Creek Outlet

Eighty Percent of Estimated $32 Million Cost Expected from Federal Grant; Balance to Be Paid by Cities, Agencies Involved

By James J. Najam

All communities and agencies involved were represented at an open hearing held in The Park Municipal Building, 15115 East Jefferson, to discuss a proposed program for pollution abatement of Lake St. Clair and the Detroit River, caused by the pumping of storm waters and untreated raw sewage through the Fox Creek Enclosure Outlet.

The pollution abatement was ordered by the Federal Government under the National Environmental Protection Act, and will be processed by the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

At a meeting, it was resolved that the plan to relocate the Fox Creek enclosure outlet from between Alter road and Ashland to a new location to be established at Conner Creek, was feasible and the program should go ahead, with a substantial part of the financial aid coming from a Federal Government grant.

To Cost $32 Million According to information released by the Office of Charles Youngblood, Wayne County Drain Commissioner, the estimated cost of the project is approximately $32 million, of which 80 percent is expected to be provided through the grant, and the remaining 20 percent to be paid by the cities and agencies involved, according to their proportionate shares.

It was also resolved at the meeting that the project be given the name Fox Creek Enclosure Drain, and Fox Creek Enclosure Drainage District as the name of the drainage district.

A petition for the government grant was filed by The Park and Detroit, since only two signatories were required, but other cities or agencies serviced by the drain, could also add their appeal for the funds.

Who Will Pay

The Drainage Board, under the chairmanship of Drain Commissioner Youngblood, has determined that the following be assessed their proportionate share of the balance of 20 percent remaining after the Government's 80 percent is received: The State of Michigan because of drainage to state highways; Wayne County because of drainage to county highways and because of (Continued on Page 2)

Drastic increases in mailing costs have forced the Grosse Pointe News to raise the subscription price from $6 to $7 for in-county subscribers and from $7 to $8 for subscriptions mailed out of county. The new rates will be effective as of April 1, 1974.

Lauve, Hertel in Battle For State Senate Post

By Roger A. Waha

Republican John Lauve, 32, of Sunningdale drive, and Democrat John C. Hertel, 27, of Woodside, Harper Woods, will meet head on in the Tuesday, March 19, special election to fill the unoccupied term of former Second District Senator Charles Youngblood, Jr.

Both candidates survived the Tuesday, February 28, district primary where Mr. Lauve, with 957 votes, defeated two GOP opponents and Mr. Hertel, with 5,239 votes, outdistanced 13 other Democratic opponents.

In the primary, less than eight percent of eligible voters in the district went to the polls. Both The Woods and Grosse Pointe Township, which comprise the district with Harper Woods and por-

Recreation Group Ends Discussions

Park Committee Refers Findings Back to Committee of Whole

By Roger A. Waha Further progress is steadily being made on The Woods' "recreation front" in a variety of areas. Councilman Ronald R. Keigen, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Committee, said discussions as to the best possible plan for a pool at the Lake Front Park, i.e., to completely renovate the old pool or construct a new one, have been held at his committee's level and the matter has now been referred back to the entire Committee of the Whole.

A "general look" has been taken at the master Lake Front Park plan, an in-depth feasibility report for the total development of the park prepared by Pate, Hirm and Bogue, Inc., city engineers, said Mr. Keigen. He also reported there is some disagreement at this stage on which direction to go on the pool question. The master plan, which was presented to City Administrator Chester E. Petersen two weeks ago, is receiving the council's close attention.

Citizens to Advise Citizens' Recreation Committee, which will act in an advisory capacity to the administration and council in recreational matters, has a new member appointed by the council. She's Mary Babcock, who joins other Woods residents Robert Sabo, David Feryus, Charles VanHove and E. D. Grady, all recently appointed.

Mr. Keigen said the committee will meet for the first time this evening, March 14, at The Woods Municipal Building to go over the gamut of city recreational subjects. It's possible that other members could be appointed to the group if the need is felt but, at this time, the committee is complete.

Hanging Pants Trip Streakers

The streaking kick officially hit Grosse Pointe on Thursday, March 7, when City Police officers Edward Miller and Dennis Van Dale stopped a car to find it contained three male youths in various stages of undress.

The officers had been dispatched to the scene after two complaints came into the station that youths were ringing doorbells and running naked across property on Washington road.

The streakers were apparently out in full force around 11:30 p.m. By the time officers reached the vicinity, they spotted three cars and followed one going west on Lincoln road. When it appeared to them these were not people involved in the incident, they turned and followed a vehicle they had seen traveling north on Fisher road.

From the blue jeans that were stuck in the driver's door, flapping in the breeze, police assumed this was the vehicle they were after. Their suspicions were confirmed when they pulled the car over at Fisher and Charlevoix and found three of its occupants either naked or semi-naked. A fourth passenger, the culprits all agreed, had not participated in the action.

The youths, all juveniles, one from The Shores, one from The Farms and another from Harper Woods, were conveyed to the station and later released to their parents. The driver was issued a violation for having no driver's license on his person and the entire case was referred to the Youth Service Division.

Fox Creek Outlet Relocation Program

the county's contractual obligations with the Northeast Wayne County Sewage Disposal System and the South Macomb Sanitary District; The Park, Farms, City, Shores and Detroit.

Information received from the Office of the Wayne County Drain Commissioner disclosed that the project should take about five years to complete.

Three Phase Plan
Phase I, would undertake a study, plan facilities, offer recommendations, and prepare plans for a resolution, which should take from six months to one year.

Phase II, which should take about another year, would entail preparing designs and specifications; and Phase III, the actual construction, which should take another two and one half to three years.

Stanley B. Patterson, the drain commissioner's chief engineer, said that the new system will be relocated from its present outlet at Fox Creek to Conner Creek, at Freud and Essex. The sewer will run under Freud and will not interfere with any residential construction, or residential streets.

It is proposed that to comply with the Michigan Water Resources Commission's future storm water overflow quality standards, an intra-county drain storage and/or retention basin be constructed with the necessary treatment facilities. Also to provide separate storm water branches in the park as follows:

Sewer Location

1. A sewer located in the alley between Maryland and Wayburn avenues extending from Vernor Highway to Charlevoix; 2. A sewer beginning at the intersection of Kercheval and Whittier, east on Kercheval to Yorkshire, north on Yorkshire about 250 feet; 3. A sewer beginning at the intersection of St. Paul avenue, extending east to St. Paul to Yorkshire, to 150 feet north of Yorkshire.

4. A sewer beginning at the intersection of Harvard road and Jefferson, extending east on Jefferson to Cadieux, then 950 feet north on Cadieux; and 5. A sewer beginning at the intersection of Whittier and Vernor, extending westerly in Vernor to Audubon avenue, north of Audubon to the alley south of Mack Avenue.

Park City Manager Robert Slone said that the sewers in the city will not be a part of the proposed $32 million Fox Creek Drainage; that Youngblood approved plans for the designated local storm water sewers, on his chief engineer's recommendation, deeming the improvements necessary for public health.

The city manager said that a separate petition for a Federal grant for the sewers at the designated areas has been filed by the city itself. The proposed improved lines will cost an estimated $30,000. The petition and the plans have the blessings of the Michigan Department of Health and the Office of the Wayne County Drain Commissioner, Slone said.

Would Stop Floods

It was disclosed that the local sewer improvement program, as well as the Fox Creek project, would not only alleviate pollution of the lake and river, but would be a big help in preventing flooded streets and basements.

It was also revealed that if the Federal Government approves the grant for the local system, the balance over and above the grant will be paid for by the city alone.

Youngblood said that in regard to the Fox Creek Enclosure pumping station, which is proposed for the Conner Creek location, where storm water and sewage will be treated before being spilled into the Detroit River, 80 percent of the construction cost will be paid from the Federal grant.

How the cost of the 20 percent balance for the new enclosure and drainage system, and the 10 percent for the pumping and treatment station is to be distributed, is still a matter for discussion, it was said.

GPW Recreation Activity

lated topic, Mr. Keigen passed his Parks and Recreation Committee's suggestions, regarding improvement of the city's proposed ordinance which provides for the regulation of the outside storage of boats, various trailers, (boat, utility, travel, house), to City Attorney George Catlin on Monday, March 11.

Mr. Catlin will now review this "package of suggestions" before putting them in writing for the committee's further study. Mr. Keigen said he hopes to receive this material sometime this month.

The variety of suggestions include the establishment of a hearing process with an appeal mechanism to determine the feasibility of the outside storage of boats and other recreation vehicles mainly regarding a vehicle's location on a residents property, the inclusion of regulations on the outside storage of fuels and the dumping of waste from holding tanks.

This ordinance remains on the Committee of the Whole level.

As for the aforementioned master plan, this primarily focuses upon a pool, additional parking, tennis courts, improvement of picnic areas and a future additional marina site where the old pool is currently located. The cost estimate of this plan, which includes three phases, is $1,427,700.

Phase one focuses upon the cost of a new pool and other pool-related improvements, e.g., parking and filling and landscaping the existing pool. This phase would cost $1,188,500. A new pool and bath house, alone, would cost $748,215.

Tax Penalty Cancellation

ember 1 to pay county-school taxes, with the absolute deadline set at February 14, he pointed out.

If it was disclosed, an exception is made in Hansen's case, then the others whose letters have the late postmark would also be entitled to a refund.

Hansen said he was not interested in the other matters, since he was petitioning on his own behalf.

Purely Personal Plea

"I am petitioning for Hansen, that is, myself, and not for anyone else," Hansen said. "I was once in the mail order business, but now am in business in Highland Park. I have a bad habit of mailing late, and I assure you that this will not happen, again.

"I personally went to West Lafayette and Washington boulevard to deposit my tax payment in the collection box. It was ample time for the collection of mail to be taken to the Post Office and to be stamped with the February 14 date."

Hansen distributed copies of a letter received from E. L. Baker, Detroit area postmaster, who expressed regret that Hansen's letter was not postmarked until February 15.

Baker conceded that the letter was picked up at 7 p.m., and that mail from that box should have been picked up at least two more times that day, "and in ample time to be postmarked February 14."

Letter of Apology

"Since the mail from this particular box is hand-carried into the Fort Shelby Station in the Federal Building; then dispatched to the General Post Office for postmarking and distribution," Baker stated in his letter of apology, "the mishandling could have occurred at either point.

"In any event, the service you received was not normal and I do want to apologize for our failure in this instance, particularly in view of the financial loss you stand to suffer as a result."

Nevertheless, Hansen lost out on his appeal when Mayor Patterson, and Councilmen George Verdonck and Camille Peterson opposed the refund. For the rebate were Councilmen Robert Hutton, Dr. Roger McNeil and Charles Tompkins. Councilman Douglas Graham was absent because of a death in the family.

Hansen said he could easily afford the penalty, but that it has now become a matter of principle and asked what his next step should be in seeking recourse. It was suggested that he contact City Attorney Richard Rohr at his convenience, who will advise him on what procedures to follow and which court handles such claims.

Three Homes Burglarized in Woods

Three breaking and entering were reported to The Woods Department of Public Safety on three different days—Friday, March 8, Saturday, March 9, and Monday, March 11.

On the 8th, a Hawthorne road resident told police the culprits took a 19-inch Zenith color television set, the only item missing at this time.

The complainant said he left home at 7:45 p.m., locked the door and left some lights burning. But when he returned at 11:45 p.m., he found the front door standing open and several rooms ransacked. Investigation revealed entry was gained by prying the rear door open.

On the 9th, a Torrey road citizen left home, was out just over an hour and returned to find his house broken into. Upon entering, he saw the rear door open and immediately notified the department.

Items reported missing at this time include $200 in cash, a coin collection in a small wooden container with an Air Force emblem, (approximately $20 in value), and a stereo set and two speakers.

Entry was gained through the storm door and by prying another door, at the lock, leading from the porch into the kitchen.

Two guns were taken from an Allard road residence on the 11th. One was a loaded Remington 20 gauge shotgun, while the other was a Western Field 30.06 rifle with scope and case. A black and white 16-inch Emerson portable television set also was missing.

The resident told police he returned home to discover his side door standing open about four to six inches. Officers said the door had been forced open with a pry bar and, in the process, the door frame was ripped from the wall.

WINS $100

Three South High School students, Kyle Lipski, Renee Piche and Mary Ellen McDonald, received a third place award of $100 for their participation in a statewide anti shoplifting campaign conducted by the Retail Merchants Association of the State Chamber of Commerce.

Five area schools were honored at a luncheon given for the campaign finalists at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel.

Okay Pass-Fail Courses at North High

The School Board gave the green light Monday night, March 11, to North High School to begin a special pass-fail program on a one-year trial basis. The system would allow a student to receive a "pass" or a "fail" in certain courses rather than the traditional "A," "B," "C" grade letters.

In announcing the policy, Dr. Theos I. Anderson, superintendent of schools, explained that the program would allow students to elect advanced classes without fearing a low or mediocre grade which would wreck their grade point average. He mentioned some advanced science courses for girls who may seek a career in nursing.

The new system has strict guidelines so that no student can glide through high school with only passing grades.

First, the program is offered only to students with junior or senior standing. Courses elected on a pass-fail basis must be those beyond the 190 credits required for graduation.

A student may not mark a course pass-fail if it is one of the courses the Board of Education requires for graduation. Students may elect a maximum of 10 credits of pass-fail courses during each year, junior and senior year. A limit of 20 credits total may be elected.

An element of Russian roulette enters into a pass-fail request. Each student has four weeks after a course has begun to move from a pass-fail status to a graded status. After this period, no changes will be made. So if a student thinks that he will receive a grade in the course lower than his average, it would be good for him to mark it pass-fail. But, alas, if he marks a course pass-fail and does brilliantly on the exams, he will still only receive a "pass" grade.

Students who elect to take a course on a pass-fail basis will be expected to meet all the regular classroom obligations in respect to attendance and assignments. Teachers will keep the usual grade average on a standard grading scale. Students may be informed of what their grade would be at any time. However, results will be reported as a "pass" or "fail" on the report card.

Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, assistant superintendent - instruction, said that the program was instituted on a one-year trial basis only. He said that it would be evaluated and reviewed at the end of the year, and if successful, would be recommended for continuance.

The assistant superintendent also assured a North High student that changes could be made in a student's 1974-75 schedule if he wished to change it in light of the new pass-fail program.

In answering a question, asked by a South student at the School Board meeting, Dr. Anderson said that the program was being tested at North High because North's administrators and teachers had shown the greatest interest in the program.

Woods Against Tax Proposal

The Woods Council went on record via a resolution objecting to a proposal to place before the voters the proposition to levy a one mill property tax increase for the purpose of law enforcement. The measure was unanimously approved at the regular meeting Monday, February 25.

Presently, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has under consideration this proposal submitted by Chairman Robert E. Fitzpatrick, of the General Government Committee, Board of Commissioners.

The resolution says it's the council's opinion that the best interests of all communities within Wayne County would be better served through the increase of individual local tax rates of any such local governmental unit, if necessary, in order to provide these units with additional revenues for the strengthening of the public safety and/or law enforcement programs within each individual community.

Thus, the council opposes the proposition of Wayne County taxpayers "being burdened with increased taxes for the purposes of additional funds for law enforcement only within the County of Wayne."

The resolution was sent to all governing communities in the county, to Samuel A. Turner, chairman, General Government Committee, Board of Commissioners, for inclusion in the minutes of the Commissioners.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

TED EWALD

One of the most amazing teams in sports history was the Arado, Wyoming High School basketball team a few years ago. No players ever sat on their bench during the playing of any game that season because they had only five boys on the whole squad with no substitutes. And despite going the whole year without any substitutes, they still won their way into the Wyoming state high school championship tournament.

Here's an oddity about NBA basketball player Bailey Howell. He made 1,621 points in the 1966-67 season, and then, unbelievably, he made exactly 1,621 points again in the 1967-68 season! ... What are the odds on that happening?

Here's an oddity from auto racing. Everybody thinks that having the pole position in an auto race is an advantage—but oddly enough, in all the 35 years that the Indianapolis 500-mile race has been run, drivers who had the pole position have won eight times, or less than 15% of the time!

Stratford. It's the thrill of experiencing Shakespeare played in a unique thrust-stage theatre inspired by the Greeks and the Elizabethans. It's the fun of seeing Offenbach in all his gaiety and exuberance. It's the excitement of being involved in contemporary opera and plays at the Third Stage. It's the enjoyment of superb concerts and an International Film Festival. And it's the relaxation of a stay in an unspoiled little town surrounded by the pleasant green countryside of rural Ontario. This year, the Stratford programme is an even more involving and total experience. Pericles is one of Shakespeare's last works, a seldom-staged romance that follows a Greek prince through a series of fairy-tale adventures—revived after a triumphant success last year. Love's Labour's Lost is an early Shakespeare comedy that has come into its own in our century—loved for its richly comic characters, its fantastical language and youthful charm. Shakespeare's King John is a story of troubled kingship that rings throughout with the clamour of war. John, both King and villain, is caught up in a web of political, religious, and civil conflict which ultimately defeats him. The Imaginary Invalid by Molière is a tale of high comedy and pointed satire about an invalid who revels in his imaginary illness. The follies of both doctors and patients are mocked in this delightful proof that laughter is the best medicine. Life in Paris, a new English language version of La Vie Parisienne by Offenbach is an exuberant and joyous tribute to life in that most frivolous of all cities, Paris. Stratford 74. Total theatre. ban topless trucks now!

Some reasons why thousands of Michigan motorists agree with us that topless trucks should be banned!

"I have two cars and a motor home. The two cars have broken windows thanks to gravel trucks. Save my motor home! Please!"

Richard Strong • Pontiac

"As someone who has suffered two broken windshields, a broken headlight, a ruined paint job and a ripped off muffler due to uncovered trucks, I am definitely in favor of covering these trucks and anything else that might save someone's car or life..."

David K. Powell • Detroit

"I ride a motorcycle, and even with eye protection such as sunglasses, I still get dust and sand particles in my eyes and am almost without vision until I can pass these trucks. I don't want to think of what would happen if a rock hit me."

Victor Wowk • Ann Arbor

"You can replace tires, material, trucks, but you cannot replace a child, wife or husband..."

Mary Hastings • Birmingham

"Either ban topless trucks or go back to two piece windshields so the cost of replacement is cut in half. I have had four windshields damaged and replaced in the last year."

H. Vander Werken • St. Clair Shores

"In the past two years since we moved here from Cleveland, we have had one windshield ruined and have replaced three headlights. My sister and her husband have replaced two windshields. All this in two years is ridiculous."

Allen C. Clark • Rochester

"My family hopes you can do something about this. We almost got stoned to death last summer, south of Midland on I-75..."

Stevan Lawler • Elk Rapids

"Maybe we can do something about the garbage trucks and waste paper trucks which strew litter and debris up and down the highways with the same legislation."

John Noyes • Marysville

"We are in favor of this banning topless trucks in Michigan because we have had three different cases where we were hit by flying cargo from topless trucks..."

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Polack • West Olive

"I have long wished there was a law to make truckers who haul gravel cover their loads. The last three Olds I have traded in all have had cracked windshields caused by flying stones from trucks."

G. R. Boyce • Brooklyn

Automobile Club of Michigan is prepared for battle—to fight in Lansing for legislation banning topless trucks from Michigan roads.

It cost at least $11 million in Michigan last year to replace 100,000 windshields broken by debris from uncovered trucks.

But even more appalling is the threat of flying cargo to life and limb. You can replace windshields, but as a Birmingham woman stated in a letter to Richard Dann, Executive Vice-President of Automobile Club of Michigan, "... You cannot replace a child, wife or husband..."

We're sick of gravel storms, flying junk and unsightly litter caused by uncovered trucks. And we think you are, too.

Please join us in the battle to effect legislation to ban topless trucks. Make your feelings known by returning the coupon below ... or by writing your legislator ... or both ... TODAY!

Park Decides to Cut Out Old Appliance Pick-Ups

The Park is planning to get out of collecting discarded household appliances and allow private contractors to pick up the discards for a set fee.

At its regular meeting held on Monday, March 11, the Park council was informed by City Manager Robert Slone that the collecting of discarded appliances, such as hot water heaters, stoves, washers and driers and the like, is a heavy burden on the city's taxpayers. It is not fair to have the taxpayers pay for the removal of old equipment of a few householders, it was pointed out.

The use of Department of Public Works personnel, equipment, and the traveling of approximately 50 miles, round trip, to the city's dump in Clinton Township, is costing the taxpayers about $15,000 a year.

Councilman Charles Tompkins, who initiated the opposition to the city collecting heavy items, said that householders who can afford to purchase new appliances, should be able to afford to pay to have the old ones carted away.

Slone said that approximately a little more than a year ago, the city council repealed an ordinance which made it mandatory that householders who bought new appliances, should personally handle disposal of the old equipment. The repeal was made so that the DPW would do the pick-ups as an added service to the community.

Now, it is found, that not only is the special pick-up time consuming, but it is also costly. The homeowner would notify the city in advance if he had an appliance to be removed, and a day would be set for the pick-up.

There was a time when old appliances would be picked up by organizations such as the Salvation Army, St. Vincent de Paul Society and the Volunteers of America, but now, people could not give them away. The charitable groups no longer want such items, but contractors will pick them up for the metal salvage. At today's values, salvaged metals bring a good price to a contractor, who would also benefit by charging a fee for a pick-up.

The council instructed Slone to find out if he could induce the previous contractor to resume pick-ups, or if the contractor would not, to find one who would.

The council also instructed City Attorney Richard Rohr to redraft a new ordinance which would require citizens of the community to seek the services of a private firm to remove unwanted items.

Theater Slates Third Offering

Grosse Pointe Theatre will present its third production of the season, Robert Anderson's award-winning "I Never Sang for My Father" March 21-24 and 26-30 at Fries Auditorium.

The story of the gap between the two elder generations, "I Never Sang for My Father" is an unusually deep study of the relationship between a grown son and his elderly parent. It is directed by Dean Erskine, noted as the senior member of the theatre's corps of directors.

George Wilson of Woods lane portrays the father to Walter Maher of Whittier road, as the son. Other Pointers in the cast include Jack Petz of University place, and Harry Stutt of Muir road. The cast is rounded out by Gene Shea, Nancy Sortor, Mary Anne Gustafson, Frank dePetris, and Sharon Lodge.

Handling the producing chores is Joyce Bauhof of Rivard boulevard. She is joined backstage by Wahib Mashini of Lakepointe road and Carol Roller of Roslyn road, make-up; Dale Pegg of Fairholme drive, sound; and Mrs. Robert Bowen of Whittier road, properties and set dressing.

Lauve, Hertel Vie in Special Election

erature emphasized protecting and expanding the business climate to attract new industry. Management, employees and government should be encouraged to work as a team, he felt.

As for inflation, he said the problems of the auto industry should be dealt with and cited the current burden on these employees regarding layoffs, and that more jobs should be provided. Mr. Lauve felt that costs must be controlled by increasing the efficiency of government.

He said tax incentives are needed to encourage the shift from oil to coal and nuclear power on the energy front. Mr. Lauve added, "We have to have engineering people who are familiar with these kinds of things."

As for judicial reform, Mr. Lauve said his literature sums up his viewpoint on this subject. Prosecutors must be better paid to attract those best qualified and a probationary period for judges would allow better review by the people.

On education, he feels local control of schools is the best way to manage local educational problems. Mr. Lauve said he opposes busing, seeing it as "an artificial solution to a major problem."

The NEWS also contacted Mr. Hertel, who's a Wayne County Commissioner and a school teacher, and inquired what issues he plans to address himself to, if elected. "The most important issue is that we have to have some kind of a new system of laws created to make sure everything a candidate receives, (regarding contributions) and who he receives them from, is disclosed before an election," he said.

A second issue Mr. Hertel stressed focused upon the energy crisis. "We have to find what the truth is on the energy crisis before changing any laws. We must make sure that such a crisis exists, and if so, to what extent it exists," he stated.

In citing the quickly called election, Mr. Hertel said, "I would hope voters would take advantage of reading everything they can on the candidates in the newspapers." He said they should use "every piece of evidence at their disposal" in making their decision.

When asked what his viewpoint is on the busing question, Mr. Hertel replied, "The busing question is obviously going to be decided in the courts. In my own personal opinion, I'm completely opposed to busing. I don't believe it would solve the problem. It would create more problems."

However, Mr. Lauve in a press release charges that Mr. Hertel favors busing, and then discusses a pro-busing resolution of the Democratic State Central Committee, passed October 2, 1971, at the State Central meeting in Battle Creek.

The release says Mr. Hertel is a member of the committee and that the unanimously passed measure referred, at that time, to the busing case involving the Detroit Metropolitan area "which was then being tried in the Detroit courtroom of Federal Judge Stephen Roth." The resolution said that busing is "an answer for today" although it is an "imperfect answer," according to the release.

Quoting from the release, "The resolution further puts the Democratic Party and Lauve's Democratic opponent on record as 'accepting the decisions of the courts' and as 'accepting busing as an instrument for immediate implementation of the court's rulings.'"

But in the NEWS' conversation with Mr. Hertel, the candidate emphasized he voted against busing "three years ago" regarding the Democratic State Central Committee's resolution.

The release also states that he, (Mr. Lauve), is "unequivocally against busing."

Mr. Youngblood resigned his seat around two months ago and is currently appealing his conviction on a charge of bribing a State official in a liquor license deal.

His remaining term, (nine months), will now be filled by either Mr. Lauve or Mr. Hertel.

Polls will be open in The Woods and GP Township from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Dismiss Charge Against Lounge

The Liquor Control Commission, (LCC), dismissed a charge against the Lochmoor Lounge, 20934 Mack avenue, for furnishing beer to a minor at a hearing held January 17.

The charge was dismissed because of "insufficient evidence," according to a Woods Public Safety Department report of Monday, March 4. Last September 3, Woods Sergeant Bernard Kelly and Officer Michael Giffer entered the lounge on a routine bar check. Several people were investigated including a 17-year-old Pontiac girl. She was discovered in possession of and drinking a glass of beer, police said.

The case was heard in The Woods Municipal Court last October 17. At that time, the city attorney moved to dismiss the charge on the basis the violation was not witnessed by the officers. The court accepted the motion and dismissed the charge.

At the same session, the cases against three men were dismissed on charges of furnishing beer to a minor because the incident was not witnessed by the prosecuting officer. Mark Willits Crutenden, of Sylvan Lake, Donald Robert Ruen, of The Woods, and lounge owner Harold Palm all pled not guilty to the charges.

The girl, Karen Marie Bell, who was charged with presenting false identification to a law enforcement officer, was sentenced to $25 costs and six months probation, with the case to be dismissed upon successful completion of the probationary period. She is scheduled to appear in court again on Wednesday, April 17.

The March 4 police report also indicates the department was advised by mail that a Commission hearing was set for January 17 at Commission offices in Lincoln Park. Then, around January 15 or 16, police received a call from the Commission that since the witnesses seemed unavailable, the hearing was cancelled. A confirming letter was requested from the Commission on this. The confirming letter arrived on January 17.

On January 22, a letter from the Commission arrived noting the Commission held a hearing on the 17th and that the charges against the lounge were dismissed on "insufficient evidence" (because "we weren't there to present our case," Sergeant Kelly said).

A letter was then written on February 6 by Public Safety Director Henry Marchand to the Commission to determine the circumstances of holding the hearing after the department had been advised not to appear.

Finally, on February 15, the department received a letter from Thomas A. Van Tiem of the Commission.

Mr. Van Tiem apologized for the error, stating a clerk in the Commission's office had somehow failed to notify the licensee of the adjournment of the hearing, and inasmuch as the licensee and witnesses had appeared and the 17-year-old girl testified she did not purchase beer, (police said she did not), and did not drink any beer, police said she was observed by both officers drinking from a glass of beer), Mr. Van Tiem dismissed the complaint, according to the report.

non, a cook at North High, makes salads and dressings for the entire district.

"While special combinations are offered at slight savings to the students to encourage eating a balanced lunch," Mr. Zenn noted, "basically the students choose their own fare, for better or worse." Two typical student lunch trays were shown, one with a balanced meal of meat, salad, milk and dessert, the other with a chocolate milk shake, potato chips and cake.

As far as laundry, about 30 bins of athletic towels are brought in every day to be washed, dried and redistributed. Jim McQueen is the operator and his laundry is located in the basement of South High's Industrial Arts building. Mr. McQueen also launders varsity sports uniforms.

For those in Mr. Zenn's department, cleanliness and order, (besides nutrition), has become somewhat of a philosophy. Mr. Zenn noted, in the presentation, "Clean rooms foster ordered, systematic learning. They came only from diligence and persistence on the custodian's part."

A truism which most of the persons in the audience never considered, was "The gum that is scraped up the first night doesn't invite more the next day," as a slide of a custodian performing that task was shown.

Also included in administrative services is the data processing department under the direction of Dick Berels. The department is responsible for payroll checks, students' schedules and report cards, school mailing lists and all school records.

Two years ago, Grosse Pointe joined the Macomb Intermediate School District Computer Center for data processing services.

The administrator termed his employees a "low visibility group" even though one out of five school employees is in administrative services. However, there have to be persons to clear snow at 4 a.m., to make emergency boiler repairs or to merely change a light bulb before any learning can take place in the classroom.

Any groups which would like to see the slide presentation should contact Mr. Zenn at 885-2000. The program runs 16 minutes and includes a sound track.

Concerned Owner Seeks Info on Missing Feline

By Roger A. Waha

A very special cat is missing and, so far, all efforts on the owner's part to find him have proven futile.

The musically inclined feline, named Tinklebell, is owned by Joan Cooper, of 309 Ridgmont road. On Monday, March 4, the cat disappeared around 4 or 5 a.m. and has not been seen or heard of since.

Miss Cooper has tried everything in the hopes of locating the cat. She has contacted Farms police, the Humane Society, area veterinarians, the Anti-Cruelty League, some neighbors, plus running lost and found ads in the NEWS — everything! But still, no Tinklebell.

Besides being a lovable pet, the three-year-old cat also was in rehearsal for the Village Opera Studio's show, "A Ticket to Broadway," which will be presented Sunday, June 23, at St. Michael's Church. Along with 16 other performers, Tinklebell, has a key role in the production.

Miss Cooper, a pianist and singer who's associated with Village Music Studio, 17011 Kercheval avenue, is assisting Doris Pagel of The Woods on the program. Inasmuch as the players are rehearsing in Miss Cooper's house, Tinklebell decided one day to join in with the selection, "Duetto Buffo di Due Gatti," or "Comic Duet for Two Cats" by Rossini. Needless to say, he made an instant hit.

"The only word used in this selection is 'meow,' with emphasis being placed on different parts of 'meow,'" said Miss Cooper. But, now, one meow is missing and Tinklebell's theatrical colleagues want their gray haired beauty back.

Being a "creature of routine," the cat is free to come and go as it likes, Miss Cooper said. It's primary exit and entrance point is the milk chute. But on the 4th, when Tinklebell stayed away longer than his usual two to three hour period. Miss Cooper became concerned about her pet, whom she describes as intelligent, (it can open doors and turn a light on), and "terribly affectionate."

A further example of Tinklebell's intelligence was an experiment in sound he conducted. Miss Cooper said, "One evening he batted the paperweight from the desk into the metal wastebasket. The sound was tremendous—like a Chinese gong with cymbals. He stared into the wastebasket a minute with a kind of excitement, and then proceeded to try to bat everything else on the desk into the basket for more 'sounds.'"

"We can't figure out what has happened to him. I want to know if he's dead or alive, and the others want him in the show," said Miss Cooper.

The cat is described as long-haired, with light green-yellow eyes and a bushy tail. He was wearing a red collar with a name plate and a small bell the day he disappeared.

If you have any information on Tinklebell's whereabouts, call Miss Cooper at 886-3215 until 2:30 p.m., or 885-7677 thereafter.

Teen Club Sets Big Fun Night

The Grosse Pointe Foundation for Exceptional Children Teen Club's biggest night of the year is tomorrow, March 15, when handicapped youngsters celebrate "Carnival Time."

Working hard to make certain every youth has a grand ol' time are the Grosse Pointe Methodist Youth Group, the GP Jaycees and Jaycee Auxiliary.

Many fun activities will be offered including a cake walk, fish pond, sponge throw, penny throws and other games. Lots of tasty goodies will be available, too.

This event, which will be held at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, is closed to the public, being a specially designed night for the youngsters only.

Permit Given For Egg Hunt

At its last regular meeting, the Grosse Pointe City Council unanimously authorized the Grosse Pointe Commerce and Civic Association to conduct an Easter Egg Hunt at Elworthy Field on Saturday, April 13.

Two hunts are scheduled: one from 10 to 11 a.m. and another from 1 to 2 p.m. Since some of the eggs will contain instructions for children to proceed to a store and pick up a prize, chairman of the event, Larry Carlson, believes the hunt will stimulate commerce in the Village, as well as provide a community activity similar to the arrival of Santa Claus at Christmastime.

HAS THE AVAILABILITY OF GAS GOT YOU DOWN?

by KEN MEADE

Keep the leading edges of your hood and fenders from really taking a beating by giving them a good undercoating of wax often. Grit, especially at higher speeds, can be very destructive. Watch for tiny paint chips in this area. Paste wax can be a very effective protection for this. And remember, don't follow too close behind sand and gravel trucks on highways. Sand blowing back onto your car can cause a great deal of damage to the paint job, as well as to your windshield.

Save yourself a great deal of time when your car is in need of repairs by bringing it to POINTE DODGE, INC., 18001 Mack Ave., 884-7210. We try to give same day service and will be happy to make an appointment to schedule the servicing. Our body shop will service all makes of cars, trucks and recreational vehicles and free estimates are available. Open: Service Dept.—Daily 7:30 a.m.-6 p.m., Mon. till 9 p.m.

Patients Form Second Chance—Heart Line Club

problems can be alleviated with the bypass surgery technique. Some patients profit more by just taking medication. Another semi-surgical procedure called catheterization is required to determine if a patient would be better off with or without the operation.

This task is handled by Dr. Vlado Kozul, also a Pointer, and director of Saint John's cardiac catheterization lab. Dr. Kozul examines heart functions by injecting dye, through a tube inserted in the arm, leading to the heart. The results, recorded on film, enable doctors to pinpoint trouble spots. Pressure measurements and oxygen saturation of the blood are performed for a complete evaluation of heart functions.

Only after careful study of all lab and clinical findings and personal medical history has been made, does a patient become a candidate for the surgery.

Obviously doctors re-enforce a patient all along; tell him what he can and cannot expect. But a person facing surgery, according to Dr. Kozul, becomes, "psychologically altered. He feels the doctor may or may not be telling the truth." There's a kind of doctor-patient barrier. No such obstruction exists between patients. Because of their mutual experience, "patients are brothers," Dr. Kozul asserts. "This is where the club has a tremendous role."

Jules Kirouac, of Canterbury road, acting chairman of the club, has had the bypass surgery. "The doctors are great," he states. Dr. Feringa even babysits with a patient the night before an operation. But talking to a person who has had the experience is different from talking to the doctor. We just speak in non-medical terms and try to reassure people that they aren't alone in what they feel. This is what a patient needs."

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cowling, of Lakepointe avenue, can confirm the validity behind Mr. Kirouac's statement. He had the bypass surgery; his wife, the catheterization. "She made me have it first," Mr. Cowling says. "And after that, I knew what to expect. I wasn't scared at all," Mrs. Cowling notes.

Response to the club has been most enthusiastic. Dr. Feringa's letter drew 90 persons to the first meeting, held October 9. A second gathering was attended by 73 people and 82 people went to the club's most recent session.

Membership isn't restricted to Saint John patients. Any adult who has had heart surgery or come in very close contact with it, through a relative, is eligible and welcome to join. By Mr. Kirouac's estimation, the club currently boasts about 122 participants. "The first meeting was basically organizational in nature," he explains. Later, they chose acting officers, and official elections will be held sometime in April.

Apart from founding the program, it is the members themselves who have carried the workload. The hospital serves only in a sponsor-type capacity. A staff member attends each meeting to more or less keep tabs on what the group is doing.

Recently they've initiated a visitation arrangement that encompasses the entire metro-Detroit area, as far west as Ann Arbor, and north to Birmingham. Members who enlist on the visiting roster volunteer their time and energy to meet patients, at home or in the hospital, for post- and pre-operative pep talks.

Neither pep talks or regular meetings suffer for a lack of topical conversation. Mostly, it centers on common problems. While the husband is generally the one who's had the operation, discussions are a great benefit to wives having difficulty coping with the change surgery has wrought on their husbands.

Louise Cowling describes the way her husband felt after surgery. "He was very despondent. I couldn't convince him it was the normal reaction. I was trying to pamper him; making all his favorite dishes. Then he lost his taste buds and that made him all the more depressed."

"Mostly it's a psychological letdown," Mr. Kirouac observes. "You start feeling better and then you become crabby because you can't go outside. You try and behave, but people begin getting on your nerves. Finally, six weeks to two months later you have to go out and make yourself worthwhile again."

Dr. Kozul is convinced club enrollees are helping others to recognize that goal. He also pointed out one aspect that members are apt to forget. Patients not only assist others with their counseling, but conversely help their concern toward other peoples' problems and away from their own. "They respond to a need for help and understanding and it mutually benefits both themselves and others," Dr. Kozul explained. "I was happy when this idea was born, and I'm happy and proud of what members are doing now."

JC Jelly Sale Wins Approval

Again this year, the Grosse Pointe Jaycees will be conducting a Jelly Sale during the week of Sunday, March 17, through Sunday, March 24. Mugs of grape jelly will be sold for a $1 donation with proceeds going to benefit the Grosse Pointe Foundation for Exceptional Children.

The Jaycees received permission from The Woods Council to set up a sales table in the Mack/Seven Shopping Center on Friday-Saturday, March 22-23.

They also will be selling jelly to individuals in certain area business establishments including Salem Square, Landmark Restaurant, Michigan Bank, Mack and Warren; Farms Auto Wash, Mr. McCourt's Shoes, along with Sears, Krogers and J. C. Penney's in the Mack/Seven complex, in addition to door-to-door sales.

Jaycees, their wives and members and friends of the Foundation and Teen Club will man these selling points March 21-24.

"All God's Children" was chosen as the theme for the campaign. The Jaycees believe that all children have the same needs for education and recreation. They feel these needs can be met by the contributions received from the sale of 10 ounce mugs of jelly.

The Foundation and Teen Club will continue to offer unexcelled opportunities for Pointe children if financial support is provided for the project, the Jaycees report.

Last year, Pointe Jaycees were honored as being third in Michigan sales. This year, their goal is set at 8,400 mugs.

Thieves Visit Woods Homes

Two breaking and enterings were reported to The Woods Department of Public Safety on Thursday, March 7. A belated break-in report was received at 9:30 a.m. from a Wedgewood road resident. While a Wedgewood road citizen told police his house was entered during the evening.

When the Wedgewood citizen came home Wednesday evening, March 6, he found the glass door at the rear of the house open about 12 inches but didn't pay any attention to it because nothing seemed to be disturbed. However, the following morning, he noticed a nine-channel police scanner and a 35 mm camera missing, so police were notified. At this time, the man couldn't find any other item taken.

Meanwhile, the Hawthorne citizen left home at 6 p.m. and returned at 9 p.m. to discover the burglary. Police said the culprits removed a 19-inch RCA portable color television set from a bedroom stand, and took $100 in half dollars and silver dollars from a bedroom dresser. The money was in small boxes. Entry was gained by forcing open a window on the back porch. From the porch, the thieves entered the dining room through an unlocked glass door.

If you like the idea of having your cake and eating it too, the new 2.0-liter Porsche 914 should be very appealing.

Not only does this superbly engineered sports car get an incredible 29 miles to the gallon, but if you figure in the fuel tank capacity (16.4 gallons) you could conceivably travel from New York to Washington and back on one tank of gas!

And what's more, the gas it uses is regular, not premium.

All this economy while you're driving in style in one of the finest handling cars ever designed. With its mid-engine balance and rack-and-pinion steering, the Porsche 914 is renowned for its cornering ability and for hugging the road.

And with the big fuel-injected 2.0-liter engine (that Porsche engineers specially developed), coupled to a five-speed gearbox, even 50 miles an hour can't take the fun out of driving. So if you've been thinking the Porsche 914 is the right car at the wrong time, think again.

North's Swimming Coach Reviews Successful Year

North High School's swimming team coached by Tom Teetaert topped off a fine season by capturing the 1973-74 Bi-County League Swimming Championship Friday-Saturday, March 1-2.

This year's team, led by senior Scott Veil who personally set two new league records and was on a relay team which set another, took seven of the 11 first places, and qualified at least four individuals in the top six in each event.

On the way to this impressive victory the Norsemen set seven pool records and four league records. The Norsemen only lost three meets this year and those three defeats were to the top trio of favorite teams in the State—Birmingham Groves, Dearborn, and a 89-83 loss to Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Among their victories was a 92-80 victory over arch-rival Grosse Pointe South, which enabled them to hold onto the Metropolitan Club Police traveling trophy for North-South swimming competition.

Coach Teetaert commented, "This year's team may have lacked a bit of the raw talent we've had in the past, but they were a closely knit group and a real joy to work with. These young men are a real credit to the community and I feel their parents can be extremely proud of them as well as their accomplishments."

The Norsemen are sending a fine representative team to the State Meet. Those who qualified for the State competition, set for Friday-Saturday, March 15-16, at the University of Michigan's Matt Mann Pool, are:

Medley relay team — Bill Dimond, Mark Gerganoff, Mark Craig, Tom Filgo; 400 free relay — Filgo, Veil, Hank Kuhlman, Craig; 200-yard and 500-yard freestyle — Veil; 100-yard butterfly — Craig; 100-yard freestyle —

Sometimes a politician thinks his career is picking up speed when it's really going downhill.

Filgo; 100-yard breaststroke — Gerganoff; 100-yard backstroke — Bill Dimond, and divers — Tom Hellsbrom, Fred Klingbeil.

APPOINTED

Detroit Bank & Trust has announced the appointment of Sheldon F. Hall, Jr., a resident of Oxford road, to full trust officer following action by its board of directors. Mr. Hall is presently a member of the personal trust staff.

Deny Requests for Licenses

Two applications for refuse collection licenses were denied by The Woods Council because the city has already authorized three other licenses for the collection of newspapers and other refuse for the current calendar year. This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, March 4. The applications, both of which were approved by Public Safety Director Henry Marchand, were from John A. Umlah, of Detroit, and Robert P. Laughery, Sr., of Roseville.

DEVONSHIRE DRUGS

The normal heartbeat in the normal adult heart is about seventy beats per minute. This adds up to about 4,200 beats an hour, 100,800 beats a day, and 36,792,000 beats a year, and this is when a person remains fairly quiet, calm and not frightened. If a person is upset or exercising, the number of beats increases. Clench and unclench your fist slowly and see how long you can do it before your muscle begins to tire. Compare this to the strength of the muscle in your heart.

No pharmacy will compare to DEVONSHIRE DRUGS, 16037 Mack "on the block," 881-0478. Our pharmacists will handle all your prescription needs quickly and efficiently, and then they will have them delivered. Pointer Aiding Drive for SA

A brisk pace is being set for the $1,500,000 Salvation Army Development Fund with $131,075 already pledged to the campaign by the Army's Advisory Board. Presenting the progress report was Kenneth B. Hollidge, Executive Vice President of Snyder Corporation and Chairman of Advisory Board solicitation.

"Our Advisory Board is committed to implementing the planned $3,248,000 expansion program," said Mr. Hollidge. "We knew from the outset that extending positive Army services hinged upon a successful capital campaign and, through our own generous support, we hope to illustrate a unanimous belief in this project."

Assisting Mr. Hollidge in securing the investments of their fellow Board members are: Carl S. Abbott, Francis E. Cogsdill, Colonel S. W. Franzen, Virgil J. Leech, Frederick S. Neumann, Fred H. Rollins, Jr., and Harry M. Seldon.

A. The present voted school millage, which expires this year, is 21.5 mills.

Q. What percentage increase is this?
A. Including non-voted millage (8.65 mills presently) the increase for the entire two year period of the millage will be 5.85%.

Q. Is the pupil population of the Grosse Pointe school system declining?
A. Yes. But an estimated 550 students in September 1974, and an estimated 510 students in September 1975, based solely on population statistics.

Q. Then why do we need more millage?
A. There are two answers to that: First, all costs are up substantially, wages and supplies and other costs, more than offsetting the reduced costs from a smaller pupil population. To keep the present program, with absolutely no changes or improvements, would cost 1.75 mills more than the millage we are presently paying. Second, it is important to restore some facets of the school program and improve others; these programs will require additional millage of only 1.10 mills. The first in order of priority, and by far the most costly, is a program to reduce elementary school class size to a more manageable level.

Q. How much has the cost per pupil risen in Grosse Pointe Schools since 1969-70?
A. Per pupil school costs were $1,037.32 in 1969-70, $1,101.08 in 1970-71, $1,067.32 in 1971-72, and $1,223.55 in 1972-73.

Q. Why has this cost per pupil risen?
A. A declining enrollment and steeply inflationary prices for all costs of instruction.

Q. Was the latest settlement with the GPEA extravagant?
A. No. Salary and fringe benefit increases for the first year, 7.1%, are substantially under the increase in the cost of living, and for the next two years they are between 6 and 7%, not exceeding the estimated rate of inflation.

Q. How much does the average Grosse Pointe teacher (including public librarians and special education personnel) earn per year?
A. $17,061 for 1973-74.

Q. Is this more than in other districts?
A. Probably yes, but for good reason. Our salary scale is not the highest in this area, but it is among the highest and our system is accordingly among the most attractive to well-qualified teacher applicants. The average salary, however, is determined in part on years with the system, and since Grosse Pointe has so large a proportion of teachers who have been with the system for many years, average compensation is at or near the top in this area.

Q. What if we have a busing order from the federal courts?
A. First, it is very unlikely that any busing plan could be implemented during the two-year term of this millage; second, all busing proposals made thus far would leave most Grosse Pointe pupils in Grosse Pointe schools; and third, if busing is eventually implemented, the courts will almost certainly find it necessary to take over financing and to mandate a uniform rate.

Q. Why not save money by eliminating administrators?
A. Grosse Pointe presently has an extremely low ratio of administrators to classroom teachers, in comparison with other districts in Michigan and elsewhere. Of 116.4 positions involving administrators and "back-up" personnel, a cut of 34.8 positions has been made. This represents a 29.9% cut between 1969 and 1974.

Q. How much will the proposed millage (both issues) cost the average homeowner, above current taxes?
A. For the owner of a home having a State Equalized Value of $15,000 (market value $30,000), the total increase will be $43.50 or 84¢ per week for both the school and public library proposals.

Q. Why have my taxes gone up so much in the last ten years?
A. First, public employees at all levels have demanded and are receiving much higher compensation. Second, inflation, both as a factor in higher salaries and as a separate cost for items purchased by the school district and other public bodies.

Q. What if we don't pass the school millage?
A. All teachers will be given termination notices, except those who can be paid out of non-voted millage, and the Board will come back to the community with a new millage request.

Q. Why isn't the school millage split into one issue for renewal and one for restoration and improvement?
A. The Board felt strongly that the program requires improvement, and to split the millage into two issues would be regarded by some people as an invitation to vote for only a minimal program.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,
I would like to tell you an experience I had Saturday, March 2. I was having a bowl of chili at the House of Earle on Hawthorne and Mack in Grosse Pointe Woods when my parking meter expired. I went out immediately to put money in and the meter maid, Susan Thomas, said, "That's too bad, I've already got your license written down." The meter had not been expired 10 seconds.

I returned to the House of Earle, finished my chili and then drove my car to Hampton and Mack and walked for two blocks in front of the meter maid and put pennies in the expired meters. I then walked into the Lochmoor Lounge where my wife was waiting as her father owns the bar, and warned the people in there that the meter maid was coming.

Then a policeman came in the front door, and one in the back, and asked me outside. When I got outside there were three Grosse Pointe Woods scout cars (and) one Grosse Pointe Shores scout car.

They asked for I.D. which I refused to show until they told me why or what charge. They then pushed me against a car parked there and searched me. My wife then showed them my driver's license. They then decided to take me into the station for "tumultuous conduct," which means creating a scene. They then handcuffed me and put me in a scout car.

When I got to the police station they fingerprinted me, took my picture, took all of my personal belongings including my shoe laces and belt, and locked me in a cell. They then changed the charge to interference with the public safety department.

My wife came a couple of hours later and paid the $25 bond. I must miss work and go to court on March 20 at 8:30 a.m. The officer is William Lentz and the meter maid is Susan Thomas.

P.S. I also did not use any profanity as the meter maid supposedly claims. Further, I would like to add that I'm 38 years old, 5'9", 140 pounds. I live in Grosse Pointe City and have worked in Grosse Pointe Woods for one year. I've lived in the Pointes for 28 years.

The enclosed resume is a true account of what transpired on March 2. My trial date is March 20 and I propose to appear and have my case heard before a jury. I think it's high time somebody spoke out for the rights of the citizens, consumers and property and business owners of the people of Grosse Pointe Woods.

I feel it has been too long since the citizen has spoken up for his rights. So far it has been too easy to pay the $1 fine than to "go to court to fight it."

I propose that we eliminate the parking meter system once and for all. Dearborn has done it and I'm sure they are the much better community for it. The revenue they realized did not offset the wrath of the consumer and taxpaying business owners.

I challenge the actual amount of money realized by the City of Grosse Pointe Woods. Figure it out. The wages/salaries including fringe benefits for the meter maids, the cost of printing and accounting, (to see who owes what), the postage, (and that could be the big item if we all decided not to pay), and court costs, (if we decided not to pay and have our rights heard).

What about the costs to the taxpayers to send three scout cars, (and one from Grosse Pointe Shores), to the scene every time somebody puts a penny in somebody else's meter. Did you also know that the meter maids are paid but do not work in bad weather such as rain?

I feel that one scout car and a ticket would have sufficed, instead I felt like John Dillinger leaving the Bijou Theatre. I just couldn't believe the way I was treated for such a minor incident. How many people have done the same thing as I, not realizing the consequences. I'm sure at one time or another everyone has been delayed in a place of business, i.e., beauty shop, barber shop, drug store, grocery store, and had someone run out and put money in the meter or go in for change and come out to find the girl giving you a ticket.

After my experience I would doubt if anyone would ever put a coin in someone else's meter if they knew that they would be confronted by four scout cars, draped over the trunk of a car, held and handcuffed with their hands behind their back, searched and led away to jail in plain view of all their neighbors, and also to be treated as a hardened criminal while at the police station.

I recommend that if people do feel the compassionate urge to help a fellow citizen by putting a coin in their meter to carry an extra $25 to be able to post bond with. I'm sure the treatment of someone taking money out of a meter would have been no less humiliating, harsh or embarrassing.

Sincerely,
Martin B. Potter
301 Roosevelt place,
Grosse Pointe, Michigan

(Editor's Note: The general incident report on this case at Public Safety Department headquarters shows that Miss Thomas was the complainant and that Officer Lentz wrote the report, which follows:
(The complainant stated

she issued the arrested subject's auto a violation, (Mr. Potter's vehicle), for over time parking at a parking meter at 20719 Mack, The House of Earle. The subject, (Mr. Potter), told the complainant he was going to put money in all the expired meters ahead of her and began doing so at Ridgemoor and Mack.

(At Brys and Mack, the complainant asked Mr. Potter how long he was going to feed the meters. He answered, "Until I know the philosophy of these meters—they're ruining my business.")

(The subject, (Mr. Potter), fed about 10 meters, preventing the complainant from issuing meter violations, and preventing her from discharging her official duties.

(The complainant requested an employee of Josef's Bakery at Mack and Roslyn to contact the station and request a scout car. On arrival, (Officer Lentz's arrival), I observed Mr. Potter walking ahead of the complainant. On observing the scout cars, Mr. Potter began walking south on Mack and entered the Lochmoor Bar, 20934 Mack.

(The writer, (Officer Lentz), and Public Safety Officer Patrick McMath entered the bar and requested Mr. Potter to come outside to discuss the matter. At first he refused, but his wife, also present, changed his mind. Outside, the writer requested identification from Mr. Potter at least twice. He refused to give identification and began shouting and trying to re-enter the bar.

(The subject, (Mr. Potter), was informed he was under arrest and resisted having handcuffs placed on him. He was taken to the station by Officer McMath and issued a violation for "interference with the Department of Public Safety," with a court date of March 20.

(Mr. Potter was photographed and printed by Officer William Desilets. His attorney appeared at 2:45 p.m., (the time of the report was 1:52 p.m.), but Mr. Potter refused bail and refused to talk to the attorney. At 3:42 p.m., the subject was released on $25 bond.)

(The NEWS also contacted City Administrator Chester E. Petersen and Public Safety Director Henry Marchand for their comments on certain parts of Mr. Potter's letter.

(Mr. Potter said, "I challenge the actual amount of money realized by the City of Grosse Pointe Woods. Figure it out." He then went on to comment upon wages/salaries for the meter maids, cost of printing and accounting, et al.

(To this, Mr. Petersen said that Mr. Potter really didn't have any say about The Woods' parking meter system, (being he's a City resident).

(Continuing, Mr. Petersen stated, "The revenues of our parking utility system go to the administration and maintenance of the system and any surplus monies are utilized to purchase and construct new off-street parking facilities in Grosse Pointe Woods."

("We do not utilize tax monies for the administration, maintenance and construction of parking facilities."

(In summary, Mr. Petersen said "No tax dollars are used for parking facilities in Grosse Pointe Woods," and that such facilities are supported by parking meter revenues and parking meter violation fines.

(Director Marchand said he really didn't have any comments on the letter but when asked about certain statements, the director gave his viewpoint.

(Mr. Potter said, "Did you also know that the meter maids are paid but do not work in bad weather such as rain?"

(Director Marchand responded, "If it's severe, inclement weather, they will work in the violation bureau. But the cold weather has no effect on them."

(Mr. Potter stated, "I just couldn't believe the way I was treated for such a minor incident" regarding his arrest, handcuffing, fingerprinting, et al.

(To this, the director stressed, "We don't bring anyone into the station unless they are searched and handcuffed. This is for the protection of the officers and the defendant."

(As for the fingerprinting process, Director Marchand emphasized, "Anybody who's charged with an ordinance violation and/or a crime in Grosse Pointe Woods is automatically fingerprinted." He added this is the department's policy.

(The NEWS also contacted The Shores Department of Public Safety to see if a Shores scout car was sent to the scene. Police reported no record of assistance on the part of Shores officers could be discovered. However, it's possible that a scout car could have been in the area at that time, police added.

(Finally, the NEWS contacted the City of Dearborn to check on Mr. Potter's statement that Dearborn has eliminated its parking meter system.

(A spokesman said this wasn't true, and the city does maintain a parking meter department. However, he stated there is a long range program of phasing out meters but added, "Half of the spaces are still metered.")

City Revises Building Code

The Grosse Pointe City Council, at its last regular meeting, adopted new construction regulations with regard to City building, plumbing, electrical and heating codes.

According to City Manager Thomas Kressbach, the move is "nothing dramatic. Basically, we've just taken steps to bring the codes up to date." The codes by which the City previously went were updated about five years ago.

"We've tried to take a modern approach," Mr. Kressbach continued. To do this, the City, in general, has adopted current nationally recognized codes, and where necessary, has supplemented them with specifications to apply to this area.

A nationally recognized current code provides an inspector with legal backing in enforcing proper building procedures. Mr. Kressbach observed in a communication issued to the Council, it also allows architects and builders to use modern techniques and materials which have the approval of nationally recognized groups.

Adopting common codes also lessens the chance for builder confusion that might result from close-knit communities employing a wide variety of conflicting codes.

Fine Arts Presents March 'Butterflies'

Performances Scheduled for Tomorrow and Saturday Evenings at Players Playhouse in East Jefferson Avenue

Butterflies don't generally flutter about Michigan in March, but this year's different: this year, Fine Arts Society of Detroit members have been observed fluttering in and out of the Donald Kuhn home in Harvard road, where Mrs. Ray Kuhn has been directing rehearsals of "Butterflies Are Free."

The Leonard Gershe play will be presented by Fine Arts tomorrow evening, Friday, March 15, and Saturday evening, March 16, at the Players Playhouse in East Jefferson avenue.

The cast is composed entirely of Pointers, with Mrs. Milton W. Volkens taking the Gloria Swanson mother role and John Devers portraying the young blunder hero.

Mr. Devers performed a rather heroic action himself to get in character for the part—he shaved off his four-year-old mustache!

Mrs. David McKee will be seen for the first time on Fine Arts stage as the hero's understanding girl friend. Thomas Peters completes the cast, deserting his usual backstage roles to appear before the footlights. Butterflies will really be free for each lady play-goer. As prelude to the touching drama, produced by James B. Hughes, the distaff half of the audience will receive delicately embroidered silk butterflies, presented in the lobby before each performance.

Mr. and Mrs. Diamond Phillips are in charge of the post-performance theatre supper followed by an Afterglow of Excerpts from "Jacques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris" featuring Mrs. Haig Avedisian, Donald F. Bliss, Donald Cole and Mrs. Charles C. Truscon.

Fort Pontchartrain DAR To Gather at City Club

Fort Pontchartrain Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will gather for a noon luncheon at the Women's City Club tomorrow, Friday, February 15. Mrs. William E. Garrett, regent, will preside at the business session during which officers for the coming year will be nominated.

Program theme will be patriotic, with the Detroit Historical Museum's Solon W. Weeks speaking on the Restoration of Fort Wayne.

Miss Allard Wed To John B. Roberts

Double Ring Rites Are Followed by Hunt Club Reception; Pair Vacation in Jamaica; to Make Their Home in Ferndale

Exchanging marriage vows in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Saturday, March 2, were Mary Catherine Allard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Henry Allard, of Edshire lane, and John Bryant Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Roberts, of Birmingham.

The 6 o'clock double ring ceremony at which The Reverend John L. McCreight presided was followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

The newlyweds will return from a vacation in Jamaica to make their home in Ferndale.

The bride's candlelight chignon gown featured pleated Bishop sleeves. Her bodice and cuffs were fashioned of re-embroidered Alencon lace. Her waist was banded in velvet.

Matching lace edged her Cathedral length mantilla and she carried a cascade of white Sweetheart roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Carrying nosegays of yellow and white spring flowers were honor maid Linda Theuerkorn and bridesmaids Karen Brown, Mary Orlando, Nancy Sherman and Laurie Roberts, the bridegroom's sister.

White satin collars and cuffs accented their long shirtwaists of white-dotted emerald satin. Dressed identically was flower girl Wendy Honstain, the bride's cousin, who carried a basket of yellow and white flower petals.

Best man was Robert Spengler. The bride's brothers, Thomas H. Allard, II, and Earl Henry Allard, Jr., William Spade, of Aspen, Colo., and Barry Rodery, of Macon, Ga., seated the guests.

Mrs. Allard chose a dress of Navy braid-trimmed imported cotton lace for her daughter's wedding. Tur-

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial was setting for the reception following the ceremony.

The bride's ivory Victorian gown was accented with Cluny lace and featured Bishop sleeves, an Empire bodice and a full skirt extending into a Chapel train. Her Cathedral length veil fell from a matching bonnet.

LWV to Focus on Education

Quality Education in Grosse Pointe will be the subject of presentations and discussions at the Wednesday, March 20, Unit meetings of the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe.

Chairman Ann McCleary and her committee have worked on the project for almost a year.

"The approach has been to interview people involved in education," she explains.

"The interviews have been taped. They include quotes from administrators, teachers, students, a Board of Education trustee, PTA members and parents.

"Questions concerning community values, teacher tenure and accountability, responsibility of parents, vocational programs and alternatives to education are all discussed.

"Our community has to determine if educational needs are being met on its own doorstep. We hope this presentation will be a beginning in the League's attempt to define and answer the needs."

Each presentation will be preceded by a brief refreshment and social time and followed by a discussion period. Since one of the League's important functions is to compile and present unbiased information to the community at large, it should be emphasized that these Unit meetings, like all Unit meetings, are always open to interested members of the public.

The morning meeting will begin at 9:30 o'clock at Saint Paul's Lutheran Church, Lothrop road and Chalfonte avenue.

The afternoon meeting starts at 12:45 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Robert Everett in Woodland Shores drive.

Babysitting is available at the morning meeting. Reservations for babysitting may be made by calling 888-5688 or 882-3904.

Symphony Promise Tree Is Blooming

Pointe Orchestra Will Benefit from Funds Raised Via Dinner-Dance and Auction at the Roostertail March 29

"Promises, Promises" could well be current theme song for the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Committee, whose members are in a fervor over their upcoming Promise Tree dinner-dance, scheduled for Friday, March 29, at the Roostertail.

It's planned as the largest benefit in the Committee's nine-year history.

When auctioneer Lawrence F. DuMouchelle mounts the stage that evening at 7:30 o'clock he will open bidding on the array of gifts that have been pouring into Mrs. Lyndle R. Martin's Ways and Means committee for months.

Someone with a yen to wield a baton will win the chance to conduct the Grosse Pointe Symphony in "Stars and Stripes Forever" during the Symphony's spring concert.

A more robust bidder may choose to play the brass drum for the Sousa rouser. Gourmet types will be attracted by an Evening in Paris dinner-for-eight, prepared and served by Mrs. Hubert, Suzek and Mrs. Robert Kasmarek.

Other imaginative gifts featuring the Promise Tree range from an oil portrait by Joseph Maniscalco, a family-at-home photograph by Gail Maxwell, an etching of the head of Beethoven, an antique Italian necklace and a handmade white wool poncho to a series of private recorder lessons and harpsichord recital for an audience of 40.

There will be small furniture pieces, needlepoint pillows, a French lace banquet cloth with matching napkins, a Royal Worcester egg coddler, a seascape in oil, a floral watercolor, an antique mahogany lazy susan, services of a maid and butler, cases of champagne—everything listed in the catalog and on display throughout the 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock cocktail hour preceding the auction.

Co-chairman of the party with Mrs. Martin is Mrs. Thomas Schoenith, who led

Schedule Closing Symphony Prelude

Baroque Ensemble Will Perform at This Season's Final Program March 22 in War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom

This season's third and closing program of the Detroit Symphony Preludes, sponsored annually by the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, is scheduled for Friday, March 22, in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium.

Traditionally, the mini-musical-luncheon series features Detroit Symphony members in short concerts with brief talks on their respective instruments—a "prelude" musical study format which also provides the public an opportunity to "get-to-know" their orchestra.

The audience participates in informal discussion at the conclusion of each program. The March 22 performance begins at 11:15 o'clock. Optional luncheon follows at 12:15.

The season opened February 1 when Preludes-goers met the Detroit Symphony's new principal conductor Aldo Ceccato and his family.

The March 1 Prelude featured the Detroit Symphony Brass Quintet, including Frank Kaderabek, trumpet; Gordon Smith, trumpet; Raymond Turner, trombone; Lowell Greer, French horn; and Wesley Jacobs, tuba.

The next program will feature the Detroit Symphony Baroque Ensemble.

Ervin Monroe, principal flutist, a graduate of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music, came to Detroit in 1953 by way of the orchestras of the Bolshoi Ballet Theater, the Royal Ballet Theater and the Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia.

Born in Louisiana and Florida-bred, he is a songwriter and member of the Metamorphosis group.

He also helped found the Oakland University Jazz-Rock Institute.

He is a faculty member at both Oakland and Wayne State Universities, as well as the Detroit Community Music School — and the proud father of two sets of twins.

The Monroe family resides in Detroit's Indian Village.

Donald Baker, principal oboist, joined the Detroit Symphony at the beginning of the 1973 Meadow Brook season. He had been a member of the Dallas Symphony.

His Detroit soloist debut was made in the Haydn Sinfonia Concertante.

A native of Pittsfield, Mass., he studied with John Holmes of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, with Devere Moore at Oberlin and later with famed French oboist Marcel Tabuteau in Nice.

He resides in Ferndale. Barbara Fickett, cellist, is originally from Rhode Is-

Her instrument, made in Mittenwald, Germany, dates back to 1760.

Her husband, Norman, is the Symphony's assistant principal percussionist.

The Ficketts have two children and reside in Pleasant Ridge.

Alice Lungershausen, harpsichordist, is a native of Ann Arbor. She was graduated from the University of Michigan with a Master of Music degree, plus two degrees from the Literary College and a membership in Psi Beta Kappa. She pursued advanced study of the piano in Vienna.

Her interest in the harpsichord came later and after working with Philip Manuel in Chicago, Rudolph Dolmetsch in Haslemere, England, and Isolda Ahlgrim in Salzburg, Austria, she has devoted herself entirely to this instrument.

Beside her many solo appearances, she has performed with the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, the University of Michigan Little Symphony, the Saginaw Symphony and the Grosse Pointe

Family Films Shown Tonight

The Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library invite you to their "Family Film Night Program" on March 14, in the Exhibition Room, Central Library at 7:30 p.m.

Three films will be shown which are: "Anatole"—nine minutes, color. The charming, animated story of a French mouse who brought honor to a cheese factory in Paris by secretly grading the cheeses he tasted. "Rabbit Hill"—53 minutes, color. Based on Robert Lawson's book, here is a story about Georgie the rabbit and his friends that live on Rabbit Hill. Since the old owners of the big house have left, Rabbit Hill has been run down. When the animals hear that a new family is moving in they wonder how it will affect their lives. Cast with real animals and narrated by Burl Ives, the film is a delight for all ages.

"The Three Robbers"—six minutes, color. The story of three fierce robbers hidden under large black capes and hats. They plundered and terrified everyone until transformed by a small girl. Animated.

a collection center, to expedite the year-round receiving of donations and to serve as sorting/marketing headquarters for the thousands of items taken in.

Prospective donors may call the center, 839-1700, Mrs. Nichols, 886-3974, or Mrs. William C. Tost, TUxedo 2-1252.

Co-chairman for the 1974 Sale is Mrs. Scott MacLean.

Others working on the project include Mrs. Frank Cotter, Mrs. Emil Peslar, Mrs. Richard Redmond, Mrs. Allen Lomax, Mrs. Ross Wilkins and Mrs. James Kilpatrick.

Proceeds help support Planned Parenthood clinics and services throughout the metropolitan Detroit area.

Action Auction Set for May

Action Auction '74, the Grosse Pointe Academy's annual super-fun fund-raiser, is set for Friday, May 3, at the Sentinal Center in East Jefferson avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip L. Rahm, of Grosse Pointe boulevard, are general chairmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Fisher, of Cloverly road, are assistant chairmen, in charge of prizes.

Tickets are available now at the Business Office in the Academy's Lakeshore building or by calling 886-1221.

Proceeds go, of course, to the Academy, which offers children of the community a unique educational experience. It is an independent school, and can, therefore, employ innovative curricula, such as a Montessori-oriented program.

Its pupil-teacher ratio is low, fostering an individualized learning experience for each child.

The Action Auction '74 committee anticipates the community's help and support again this year. They'll probably get it: Grosse Pointe, which knows a good thing when it sees one, hasn't let an Action Auction down yet.

Note From the North

Dr. C. Roy Brooks, who deserted The Pointe for Traverse City a while back, sent a note from the north last week, advising prospective beyond-Bay City vacationers to forego skis in favor of picnic baskets and bathing suits: it was 68° the day he took pen in hand.

Hot or cold, Dr. Brooks loves the north country. So, apparently, do other ex-Pointers. "Dr. Henry Dunlap and Jo are our neighbors around the corner," Dr. Brooks reports, "and there are many, many more Pointe friends nearby."

And they all have gas.

Card From the South

Carolyn Hubbard Lucas, vacationing with Russell at the Ocean Reef Club, Key Largo, Fla., sent a card from the south last week, reporting that the breezes still blow balmy off Biscayne Bay and sunsets over the lagoon remain spectacular—"each one seems better than the last."

Cabin Crafts Makes the Carpet That Makes the Home is good taste a dangerous thing?

Maybe so . . . because some folks have our line pegged as purely decorative, not down-to-earth. They don't see the fact for the frou-frou. The fact is . . . Cabin Crafts stresses Beauty and the Basics. We have Wild Ones . . . and Safe Ones. Sensationals . . . and Staples like "National Velvet." So why settle for one or the other when you can have both . . . Beauty and the Basics . . . with Cabin Crafts.

Bike Shape-Up Time Is Here

Take advantage of winter days indoors to give family bicycles a check to make sure they're in top condition for safe driving next spring.

"A bike should have a thorough check and be cleaned at least once each year if it's ridden much," says Dr. Richard Pfister, Michigan State University Extension Safety Engineer.

Clean the chrome and painted parts on the bike by removing dirt and dust with a soft cloth dipped in water and squeezed out.

Use car wax on the frame and fenders and a few drops of a light oil on a soft cloth for the chrome parts to prevent rust and serve as a polish.

"As your child grows, his bike will need adjusting to fit him," the specialist explains.

"A child sitting on the saddle should be able to place his heels on the pedals when at their lowest position, with the leg fully extended. This will allow for a slight bend in the knee when pedaling with the ball of the foot."

The handlebars can be adjusted so the grips are approximately in line with the top of the saddle. Handlebar grips should be tight so they don't slip out of place.

The chain should also be cleaned and oiled. Remove the chain, soak and scrub it in kerosene and blot on a rag. Then immerse it in a 30-weight oil, hang it to drain overnight, and blot it again.

The chain should be adjusted so that, in place on the sprocket, the slack will move up and down no more than one inch. If it's too loose, it's likely to come off.

"For safety reasons," the specialist says, "replace worn pedals and make sure the rear fender reflectors are positioned at right angles to the road to reflect the light of oncoming vehicles."

Defer to Host Family Night

Something for everyone is the theme of Defer School's Family Back to School Night Wednesday, March 20, from 7:30-9:30 o'clock. In keeping with past tradition, every aspect of the school's operation will be open for parents' viewing and experiencing; other than the door to the roof, no door will be locked.

Other events of special interest to parents have been scheduled. Room 211 on the second floor will be "Millage Information Room." On hand will be Superintendent of Schools Dr. Theos I. Anderson along with Board of Education members Mrs. Joan Hanpeter, Mrs. Melissa Maghielse and Laurance J. Harwood to answer any questions on the upcoming April 8 Millage election.

Other events include a Used Book Sale in the gymnasium, a Bake Sale in the second floor front hall, and taped presentation of the Grosse Pointe Elementary Curriculum by the ten elementary principals in the third floor library center.

SEMTA Offers Ice Show Bus

SEMTA, (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority), announced this week the finalization of plans to provide its fast growing "Park and Ride" bus service for the Sunday, March 17, performance of the Ice Capades at Olympia Stadium.

The buses will depart from four locations, including The Woods Municipal Building parking lot, in the Metropolitan area for the 2 and 6 p.m. performances of the ice show. The roundtrip cost will be $1 per person with pre-school children riding free of charge. The buses will leave the locations promptly at 1 and 5 p.m., respectively, and return immediately following the performance.

Reservations for the bus service should be made by calling SEMTA at either 962-5515 or toll free at 1-800-462-5161 prior to noon, Saturday, March 16. Other locations include Troy, Lincoln Park and Lathrup Village.

HONOR FEMINIST

The women members of the faculty of Pierce Middle School observed Susan B. Anthony's birthday on Friday, February 15, by wearing signs reading: "Happy 154th birthday Susan B. Anthony, 'Dangerous Crank'." Any student who asked, "Who is Susan B. Anthony?" received an instant research assignment. The festivities culminated with a party at the home of Ms. Audrey Potter, whose husband, George Potter, served the women. Chances are that the second week in February will be traditionally marked at Pierce with Lincoln's birthday, Valentine's Day and Susan B. Anthony's birthday.

Busy Spring for Musicians

You either have to be a student musician, or the parent of a student musician, to understand how busy their schedules are. For example:

Between now and March 23 seven music festivals will be held in the district. Monday, February 11, started it off with the Preliminary Senior Solo and Ensemble Festival. The preliminary was just for North High students. All events, solos, ensembles and band performances are judged by adjudicators on a scale from one to five, first division being the best.

On the adjudication sheets, the judges give suggestions for improvement before Saturday. Parents are welcome to attend any and all of the festivals.

The District Senior Solo and Ensemble Festival was held Saturday, February 16, at Henry Ford Community College.

The Junior preliminary is for grades six-nine and is held at Pierce Middle School involving all the eligible schools in Grosse Pointe. The District Junior Solo and Ensemble Festival followed this on Saturday, February 23, using the same location and schedules as the Senior festival.

Those who receive a first division in the Senior festival are allowed to enter the State Solo and Ensemble Festival. They can be judged by divisions or degrees of proficiency. The date for this event is Saturday, March 23.

The Symphony Band and Orchestra each have a festival in which they perform as a group. The band played on March 9, and the orchestra performs on March 16, both Saturdays. The Michigan State Band and Orchestra Association determines three selections to be chosen as a required piece for an AA high school band.

North's Stage Band will play at the Cabaret Party, performing music from the 30's to the present. It's a semi-formal dance with refreshments and all parents and students are invited to attend the Friday, March 29, affair at 8 p.m.

The Orchestra is combining with the Concert choir to play an Easter concert. The concert will be presented Thursday, April 4, at 8:15 p.m. in Our Lady Queen of Peace church.

HELLE MARKHOLST, OF AALBORG, DENMARK, AND PROVENCAL ROAD

By Janet Mueller

She likes herself better: she has changed considerably in this past year. Physically, you'd never know it. Helle Markholst remains scrubbed-pretty, fresh, youth-and-health personified, bright eyes reflecting a bright mind.

Nonetheless, something's happened.

Helle is both less and more sure of herself than she was a year ago.

More sure, in that she knows she can cope, function in an unfamiliar situation. She can make her way in the world.

Less sure, in that the Helle Markholst who if she didn't know it all, knew most of it, no longer makes definitive judgments about individuals, cultures or countries.

Helle is this year's American Field Service exchange student at University Liggett School.

She's From Denmark

She is from Aalborg in the north of Denmark, daughter of Dr. Ole Markholst, a general practitioner, and Ingeborg Markholst, trained as an Interior Designer, who works as her husband's secretary.

Her big sister, Lotte, 20, is a nurse in Copenhagen.

Her little sister, Camilla, nine, goes to school.

In the United States, in The Pointe, she's the "daughter" of the Tom Killers, "sister" of Anne, who also attends University Liggett, Wade, Gail and Caroline.

Helle thinks living with the Killers is the greatest thing that has happened to her in the States. "My American family is so wonderful. I do not have words to say how wonderful they are."

The Killers think Helle's pretty nice, too.

Two Other Families

This is her longest, but not her first, experience as an exchange. She spent part of one summer with an English family, part of another with an Austrian family.

She applied for the AFS program for a variety of reasons. "I am at least two years younger than most of my schoolmates. I wanted one more year to mature."

"Denmark—all of Europe, really—is very 'Americanized.' In the last couple of years, there has been a very anti-American attitude in Europe, particularly among youth in Europe. I wanted to see for myself: I wanted facts..."

The opportunity to increase her fluency in English was attractive, as was the idea of an independent year away from home.

"I wanted to experience myself in a totally different culture and environment. I wanted to see if what I thought about myself, and about the world, would be true..."

Her Own Person

And therein lies the tale: at 17-going on 18, (her birthday is 10 days from today), Helle Markholst is very much her own person.

"I've become much more tolerant. Some of the smaller prejudices I had—some I didn't even know I had—are gone."

"I have set up my values much more. At home it was more like childhood still, a 'fun' time. I really did not know what I believed in."

There were her parents' values. She could accept or reject them. There were her peers' values, and the values of her culture: the books and newspapers she read, the television she watched, the society in which she moved.

But what did Helle really think about things?

She thinks now she will make medicine her career. "My family felt I ought to go into medicine. I felt sometimes as if I were being pushed into it. I fought against it for a while."

Removed in space and time from parental career pressure, Helle has come to the conclusion that perhaps medicine is the career for her.

Opinions on Watergate

She arrived in the United States last August with fully set-up opinions on Watergate. Danish TV had been covering Watergate in depth, and Helle, and her friends, and her parents, and their friends, had been following the hearings avidly.

"I think we know much more about Watergate in Europe than you do here," Helle, frankly horrified by Watergate, could not understand America's hesitation in condemning what was to her such an obvious instance of political corruption. Now...

"I realize that Americans have totally different values. I have been studying American History: Watergate is... well, just one step more than it has always been here."

She finds Americans materialistic, as charged, but the Helle who has been living six months in the States defines American Materialism differently than the Helle who observed it from afar.

Cultures Are Different

"We feel, in Denmark, in all of Europe, that we are all, Europeans and Americans, part of the same Western Culture. I never really understood that we have very different cultures."

The assumption is: if you look like me, and dress like me, and use the same vocabulary I use, you must, of course, think like me... and that can be a very false assumption. Try, instead, to discover the status symbol that represents success for a given person or nation.

"Your goal is money. Ours is education. In Denmark, you could be the best physicist in the country, but not make very much money, and still you would be a complete success, esteemed..."

"I do not dislike American Materialism. I just say it is not right for me as a person, because I was brought up in a different culture."

Often, when she thinks of the Killers and all they have done for her, exposed her to the sea together. We have really close friends.

"I don't think people are so concerned about each other here."

A boyfriend, in Denmark, is a friend who happens to be a boy. In America, Helle feels, boys and girls tend to place themselves in sexual slots. "Here, I have the feeling that a girl is allowed to know a lot, but not allowed to show it. Here, you still have roles. You still define yourselves in terms of what a boy is supposed to be, what a girl is supposed to be."

"In Denmark, we are both persons, with our own possibilities."

Misses Her Friends

She misses her Danish friends. Not acutely, poignantly, but with a sense of something lacking here: She misses her cat, Oedipus, and longs sometimes to be back in Danish scale: to walk down small, really clean streets, to drive in small cars through tidy fields, over neat hills. She misses sunshine, and smiling people.

She misses Danish food... "but the food here is good, too. I've gained 15 pounds!" She misses her family, and wonders, missing them, what the reunion with her parents will actually be like.

"I feel very independent here. I have changed. My parents may or may not understand."

Fears Farewell

She's not sure what she will miss, about the States when she's back in Denmark. Except, of course, the Killers: Helle's not looking forward to saying goodbye to her American family.

"And I would, perhaps, miss the feeling of Denmark that I have here..." It will be interesting to see how Denmark looks after a year in the States.

Helle Markholst, who has learned to check checking the reality against the fantasy, the fact against the prejudice, is, at this time, taking no bets.

AUSTRIAN NUT TORTE
Contributed by Mrs. Donald R. Briggs
From "No Second Fiddle," the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Cook Book

Cake:
1/2 lb. confectioners' sugar
7 egg yolks
1 pkg. (1 lb.) walnuts in shells, or 4 cups shelled walnuts
1 Tbsp. rum
7 egg whites

Combine sugar with egg yolks. Grind walnuts. Add walnuts and 1 Tbsp. rum to the sugar mixture and mix well. Carefully fold in egg whites which have been beaten until stiff but not dry. Place in two 8- or 9-inch ungreased spring form pans. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Filling:
1/4 lb. sweet butter
3 oz. confectioners' sugar
2 egg yolks
2 Tbsp. rum (optional)
Cream butter with sugar and egg yolks. Add rum if desired.

Topping:
2 tsp. lemon juice
2 c. confectioners' sugar water

Combine lemon juice, sugar and enough water for a thin spreading consistency. Apply a thin layer on top of cake and allow to ripple over sides. Refrigerate.

physiology class is fantastic: we even have experimental mice. Here, I have operated on the brain of a rat—I could never, at my level, have had that opportunity in Denmark."

Partially Aloof

She remains partially divorced from her University Liggett classmates. "They talk about different things than we do. In Denmark, we don't worry much about how we dress. The students themselves have made a sort of student dress code, and everyone dresses more or less alike. We would never, for instance, talk about 'How lovely you look today.'"

Danish students, Helle says, are more interested in political debating, and there's much more group camaraderie, much more relating on a person-to-person rather than male-to-female basis.

"We have a student place—a basement in a very old building, with benches and long tables—and we all go there to talk, and to enjoy ourselves. In summer, we go to the sea together. We have really close friends."

"I don't think people are so concerned about each other here."

A boyfriend, in Denmark, is a friend who happens to be a boy. In America, Helle feels, boys and girls tend to place themselves in sexual slots. "Here, I have the feeling that a girl is allowed to know a lot, but not allowed to show it. Here, you still have roles. You still define yourselves in terms of what a boy is supposed to be, what a girl is supposed to be."

"In Denmark, we are both persons, with our own possibilities."

Misses Her Friends

She misses her Danish friends. Not acutely, poignantly, but with a sense of something lacking here: She misses her cat, Oedipus, and longs sometimes to be back in Danish scale: to walk down small, really clean streets, to drive in small cars through tidy fields, over neat hills. She misses sunshine, and smiling people.

She misses Danish food... "but the food here is good, too. I've gained 15 pounds!" She misses her family, and wonders, missing them, what the reunion with her parents will actually be like.

"I feel very independent here. I have changed. My parents may or may not understand."

From Another Pointe of View

As always, the sight of beauty moved Carolyn to poetry:

*The laughing shadows in the dark lagoon,
A disc of gold still burning in the sky
And moving palm trees, waiting for the moon:
All these bespeak the night, as day goes by.
The scene is treasure for bedazzled eyes,
Eternal pageantry of sea and sky:
This lovely evening miracle we prize
Before the starry night, as time goes by.*

Carolyn's son, Dr. Frank Parcells, and his wife, Anne, flew down with the Lucases for a week in the sun. Carolyn's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Arms, of Shaker Heights, O., are expected at Ocean Reef tomorrow.

Once there, they could care less whether they have gas or not.

News From Farther South

Medical Mission Sister Nina Fritsch, daughter of Bertha Fritsch, of Manchester boulevard, and the late John J. Fritsch, has begun work in Montero, Bolivia, with a Methodist group that provides health care for a large rural area, small villages and one large town.

It's by no means Sister Nina's first experience in the field. She earned her R.N. at Providence Hospital and her Masters degree in Tropical Medicine at New Orleans' Tulane University.

She spent 13 of her 26 years as a Medical Mission Sister in Venezuela. She worked in the American South.

Now she's supervising four clinics in the Montero area and helping teach in the school of technical nursing, and working with the Methodists to train non-professional Bolivians to do as much as possible for themselves.

It's work she loves, but it's by no means a bed of roses. "We're fighting the mud and the bugs," she reported recently, in a letter to Bertha.

We're betting that Sister Nina wins.

I see that over 20 Congressmen are not running for re-election... now, if we could get about two hundred more to do that—and not replace them—we would have a better congress!
