FORMER PRESIDENT
Richard M. Nixon was subpoenaed today to appear in the Watergate cover-up trial next month. The subpoena was filed in U.S. District Court on behalf of John D. Ehrlichman, former domestic counsel to Mr. Nixon. The subpoena was addressed to Mr. Nixon at the "Presidential compound, San Clemente, Calif." where the former president moved after resigning his office last Friday. Mr. Ehrlichman is one of six defendants scheduled to go on trial Monday, September 9, on charges of obstructing justice by attempting to thwart the investigation of the Watergate break-in in 1972.

THE CYPRUS GOVERNMENT fled Nicosia today as Turkish troops strengthened their hold on the northern third of the island. A ceasefire at 6 p.m. by both Cypriot and Turkish forces took hold except for sporadic fighting. Cyprus President Glafcos Clerides and his ministers fled so hurriedly the doors of the presidential offices were reported to have been banging in the wind. There was no evidence that any attempt had been made to remove files or other papers.

Saturday, August 17
PRESIDENT FORD has changed his mind, at least temporarily, in his decision to give former President Nixon his White House tape recordings. The tapes are to be held in White House custody pending a review by special prosecutor Leon Jaworski. He may want them for evidence in the Watergate cover-up trial or in case criminal charges are brought against Mr. Nixon. Mr. Ford's lawyers do not deny the tapes are the personal property of Mr. Nixon but yesterday's decision keeps them out of his hands indefinitely.

Sunday, August 18
THE WHITE HOUSE charged yesterday that "right-wing extremists" are trying to ruin Nelson Rockefeller's vice-presidential hopes by spreading false and damaging rumors that Mr. Rockefeller had been involved in Watergate-style dirty tricks. Tips that carsons of damaging evidence against the former New York governor existed sent the FBI on an exhaustive search for the material. Presidential Press Secretary Jerald F. terHorst told reporters Mr. Rockefeller "has been and remains under consideration for the vice presidential nomination."

Monday, August 19
A 12-YEAR OLD Free Press carrier girl was killed in a hail of bullets yesterday while delivering her papers along her route in Highland Park. Edith Perchman died in Highland Park Hospital, her body riddled with at least 15 bullets. Her father and her sister, helping with her paper route, witnessed the shooting. Rudolph Acosta, arrested by Highland Park police and charged with manslaughter, claimed he fired the shots thinking the Perchman car was that of a hired killer. State Police say they had earlier warned Acosta there was a contract out on him.

Tuesday, August 21
PRESIDENT FORD, in a surprise addition to a speech before the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention Monday, said he would support leniency for draft evaders and deserters. He said he rejected unconditional amnesty but favored a work program so evaders can work their way home through service to the country. "As I reject amnesty, so I reject revenge," said the new president.

Dedicated Coach Receives Honor

The city of Grosse Pointe Park and The Park swim team have honored Coach TIM KENNARY, (far right), for his "outstanding efforts in making The Park the City of Champions." Presenting the award, (from left to right) are City Manager ROBERT A. SLONE, Supervisor of Parks and Recreation WILLIAM STARR and Park Mayor

MATTHEW C. PATTERSON. Mr. Kennary, the head coach of the swim team, led the swimmers to the championship this season. Park personnel said they came up with the idea of presenting a plaque to Mr. Kennary because of all the sacrifices he has made in preparing the team for meets. The presentation was made Saturday, August 17.

YSD Calls Case Drop Remarkable

July Complaints Show Decrease of 27 in Comparison to June; Many Types of Incidents Fall

The Youth Service Division, (YSD), processed 53 complaints in July, a month which the YSD termed "remarkable" because of a drop in incidents. This was a decrease of 27 complaints in comparison to June and 10 less than the total handled last July. To date, the overall total of cases processed by the YSD stands at 431 which is 49 over the total for the same period last year.

"This month is notable in that not only was the rate of incidence, both general and specific, not an increase over the previous month nor over the same month of the previous year, but moreover the drop of rate incidence were remarkable," the division reports.

Incidence Decrease
Burglary and larceny/theft were the leading categories of cases as nine complaints each were reported. When considered with related types of complaints, (auto theft, one, and possession of stolen property, one), such cases reach 20. This was a decrease of 10 from like cases in June. Runaways, seven com.

G. P. Woods Seniors Set Busy Agenda

Meeting Dates Scheduled For Rest of Year and Activities Planned; Commission Has Three New Members

By Roger A. Waha
Activity continues to accelerate on The Woods senior citizen front as the city's Senior Citizens Commission, with three new appointees from Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, has solidified a twice a month meeting schedule for the rest of the year.

Besides that, the Commission, under Chairman Irene Sutton, continues to expand its efforts towards a viable and broad program for Woods seniors. Pleased with the response so far towards a variety of activities, Mrs. Sutton exclaimed, "I can't believe it!—how many people have been interested in helping me."

Mrs. Sutton said the new Commission members include Mrs. Genevieve Fitch and Frank Cinder, both of Roslyn road, and Gordon Long, of Broadstone road. They join Harold Lyndrup, who handles Commission publicity; Andrew J. Campbell, vice-chairman; R. E. Boyd, who handles housing matters; Rose Blaskie, Commission historian; Catherine Brophy, Commission secretary; and Hedy Cassel, program work and secretarial duties.

Woods Citizens Unhappy with Paving Plan

Many Question Necessity and Overall Benefit of Proposed Improvement to Pave East Half of Sunningdale Park Via Special Assessment Method

By Roger A. Waha
Over a dozen residents attended the regular meeting of The Woods Council Monday, August 19, to express their displeasure, during a public hearing, with the proposed special assessment district for paving the east half of Sunningdale Park.

As a result, the council tabled action on this matter and an effort will be made to find out if the abutting property owners want to vacate the land. If so, the special assessment district could go by the board. A final decision on which direction to take will be made at the Monday, September 9, session.

The council unanimously approved a resolution at the regular meeting Monday, August 19, declaring the necessity to pave the east half, (the west half is already paved), and that it be paved by a special assessment method. But citizens cited various objections to the proposed improvement at the hearing.

Questions Necessity
Some questioned the necessity for such an improvement with the proposed paving, they felt, not benefiting all the 20 families included in the district.

Charles R. Tuffley, of 1546 Lochmoor boulevard, said the unpaved road is just a means of ingress and egress to the two houses abutting on Sunningdale Park. He felt the paving wouldn't be beneficial to his property and urged the council to reconsider the necessity of the project and the creation of the special assessment district.

Other comments from residents cited a concern about "hurrying traffic" if both the east and west sides were paved, and the unfairness, according to some, of the assessments, (one man said they should be over a wider base).

Under the proposal, 18 families would be assessed $626.66, while two others would be assessed $3,704.30 and $1,935.70, respectively. The total cost, as proposed, is estimated to be $28,000 of which $11,280 is chargeable to the city-at-large and $16,720 would be chargeable to (Continued on Page 4)

High Speed Chase Ends In Car Crash

Woods and Harper Woods Police Vehicles Collide after Pursuing Motorcyclist; Officers Receive Minor Injuries

A Woods public safety officer and two Harper Woods officers received minor injuries after their scout cars collided during the high speed chase of a motorcyclist early Friday morning, August 16.

The fleeing cyclist escaped, and police investigation of the incident is continuing. Woods Officer Thomas Hunke, who was alone in the car, and Harper Woods Corporal Paul Turrill and Officer Jeffrey Manor were all rushed to Saint John Hospital where they were treated for lacerations and released. Officer Hunke also received seven stitches in his left knee.

Begins Pursuit
While on patrol, the officer spotted a Farms patrolman issuing a speeding violation to a cyclist on Mack avenue. Police haven't confirmed if this cyclist is actually the one who was pursued by the officers.

After pulling into public safety headquarters, Officer Hunke heard the high acceleration of a cycle going south on Mack and began his pursuit. The cyclist turned west on Manchester at speeds in excess of 60 miles per hour, went north on the Harper service drive and west on Vernier, reaching speeds in excess of 90 mph. At this point, Officer Hunke requested that Harper Woods police try and intercept the cycle at Kelly and Vernier.

The cyclist zipped through a green light on Kelly at around 75 mph while the scout cars approached a collision course. Officer Hunke observed the Harper Woods vehicle going north on Kelly with its overhead lights swirling; it made a quick left on Vernier.

Express Relief
The officer said he and the Harper Woods car reached (Continued on Page 4)

SEMTA Is Concerned Over Decree

Ordinance Provides for Annual Inspection, Licensing of Buses Operated in City

By Roger A. Waha
The Woods Council at the regular meeting Monday, August 19, unanimously passed an ordinance to provide for the annual inspection and licensing of all buses operated within the city.

City Attorney George Catlin had earlier told the NEWS that the measure, which becomes effective 20 days after the date of its enactment, is "an effort of the city to insure that public transportation operating within the community meets certain minimum standards." He added, "We hope for voluntary compliance of all involved agencies."

The most prominent involved agency is SEMTA, (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority), which has expressed concern over the ordinance. As a result, it's possible that a legal battle could ensue over the measure's provisions.

Reads Letter
When asked if he foresaw a possible collision course with the Authority on a legal basis over the ordinance, Mr. Catlin said, "I don't know. I hope they would comply with the measure. I will be in further touch with Walter H. Clements, SEMTA legal counsel, in an effort to reach an area-of-agreement."

Mr. Catlin, who recently met with Mr. Clements on this matter, read a letter to the council from the Authority's legal counsel which stressed several concerns on SEMTA's part over the ordinance.

Mr. Clements said he presumed the ordinance's purpose was to insure the safety, health and welfare of Woods citizens. "You can be assured that the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority is also concerned about the safety, health and welfare" of Woods residents "as well as all the people of the State and will do all that it can within the limits of its powers to promote same."

He stressed that SEMTA has consistently abided by the health and safety standards as required by the State and Federal Government with respect to its operations, "which requirements are quite definitive and detailed."

Impose Burdens
Mr. Clements stated, "We believe therefore that the additional requirements of the proposed ordinance, (now approved), of Grosse Pointe (Continued on Page 2)

Youths to Focus On Celebration

The Youth Division of The Woods' Bicentennial Commission will have its first official meeting Monday, August 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the city's council chambers, 20025 Mack avenue, reports general vice-chairman Carl Bengtson, 12, who's also a representative to the council.

At the April 1 council meeting, the solons unanimously approved a resolution creating the Grosse Pointe Woods Bicentennial Commission involving all segments of the community working towards the celebration of America's 200th anniversary.

The purpose of the youth division is to take the ideas of young people as a whole in working towards this result.

Carl said the session will feature the election of officers and the general presentation of ideas on what youth can do in the celebration.

He urges all young people between the ages of 10-18 to attend the meeting. Timothy Mucciante is general chairman of the group. For further information, call Carl at TU, 6-0149.

Post 955 Urges Public Response to Flag Display

By James J. Njaim
A story in the July 4 issue of the NEWS regarding "How to Display and Respect the Flag of the United States," relayed by The Ladies Auxiliary of Grosse Pointe Post 955, V.F.W., (which distributed booklets on the subject), produced such a tremendous public response that the Auxiliary will have a "repeat performance" on Wednesday, August 28.

Woods Seniors Have Busy Schedule and tea, and everyone attending should bring a sandwich.

Committees Planned
Plans are currently being made to set up various committees within the total organization of seniors.

Mrs. Sutton said they include ways and means; finance; a daffodil fund, which will help defray the cost of coffee, tea, paper plates and other articles. ("I want the organization to be self-supporting," she stressed).

Other committees are a community service fund group, which will focus upon project work towards making money and doing something for the community; memorial fund; volunteer service; employment; health and welfare.

More are housing; social services; lost and found; travel; entertainment, which will cover dinners, lunches, games, music, cards, et al.; recreation, which will include golf, bowling, swimming, hiking, cycling and arts and crafts.

Many Activities
Several activities have been scheduled for the future and, if the response continues as it has for past events, everything should go well.

A picnic was held on Thursday, August 8, at the Lake Front Park and around 60 people participated under threatening skies. "It was a success," said Mrs. Sutton, who added, "Everyone had a good time."

She expects at least two bus loads of residents for a State Fairground outing on Monday, August 26, in which seniors 62 or over can be admitted free to the Fairgrounds. The deadline for reservations for this affair was yesterday, August 21.

An afternoon of bowling is set for Friday, September 6, at the Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation, 20422 Mack, beginning at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Sutton said seniors will be given special rates of 50 cents per game and trophies will be available. For further information on this activity, call Hedy Cassel at The Woods Municipal Building, 884-6800.

Seniors will journey to Mackinac Island Wednesday-Friday, October 2-4, for a Mardi Gras style party. The cost per person is $75.50 which includes meals and transportation. Those who would like to attend should make their reservations immediately by calling trip chairman Rose Blaskey at 884-5435.

A tentative trip to Toronto is planned for Monday-Wednesday, October 7-9, but the cost per person isn't known at this time.

Other plans on the senior citizen horizon include a Senior Achievement program which Mrs. Sutton would like to establish. It would be similar to the Junior Achievement program. She's also striving for the start of adult education classes.

Bus Inspection Ordinance

Woods would be unnecessary and would impose additional burdens upon the Authority which could seriously interfere with its effectively carrying out its responsibilities under the law.

He stated if SEMTA is to discharge its mandated responsibilities, (as the regional transportation authority for Southeastern Michigan), "it cannot be burdened and unreasonably restricted by having to obtain a license or permit from each city within its jurisdiction that chooses to impose requirements in addition to those imposed by the State or Federal Government, nor let a city at its discretion, by Charter, Ordinance or otherwise determine what transportation services SEMTA may provide and the circumstances under which they can be provided."

"Clearly, the State and the Federal Government have preempted the field with respect to the subject matter of the ordinance, as it relates to SEMTA, especially since SEMTA is an instrumentalality of the State," he continued. "If SEMTA were a private bus company, the ordinance could possibly be considered applicable."

Resolve Problems
Finally, Mr. Clements said, "Apparently, the ordinance is designed to apply to SEMTA only as it has the only bus operation that would be affected. (Actually, University Liggett School also would be affected with its school buses, Mr. Catlin noted).

"Accordingly, we would strongly urge the city not to adopt the ordinance at this time, as it could lead to conflicts and confrontations which could adversely affect transportation services which the Authority is dedicated to improving."

He then urged that the city and the Authority sit down and discuss potential problems with the hope that they could be resolved satisfactorily to all parties.

After the letter was read, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos said, "SEMTA apparently feels it, (the measure), blocks or prevents them from using some of their own discretion regarding the operation of vehicles in Grosse Pointe Woods."

Mr. Catlin said he discussed this matter with Mr. Clements and noted that other buses in the community, e.g., school buses, would be affected, too.

However, the city attorney also stated that it "appears to work out that way" regarding SEMTA being singled out.

Reviews History
In reviewing the reasons for the ordinance, Mr. Catlin said derivatives of the measure have been under consideration by the Committee of the Whole for around a year.

"The original reason was a letter from a citizen who complained about the condition of buses and cited potential safety hazards. The City of Detroit inspected the Lake Shore line before SEMTA took it over. Now, SEMTA doesn't have its buses inspected by the City of Detroit," said Mr. Catlin. He said SEMTA appears to be taking the view that it isn't controlled by local ordinances.

"With Mr. Clements, I get the impression his primary concern is that the Authority doesn't want any individual community to have such a law because of the possibility this will spread to other communities," he said. Mr. Catlin then called this "a legitimate concern."

"The State of Michigan has imposed stringent requirements on drivers of school buses and so has the Federal Government," continued Mr. Catlin. "But these do not cover the problem of deteriorating equipment of a line such as Lake Shore was."

Coming to SEMTA's defense was Carl Bengtson, 12, who said he is the friend of several bus drivers. He said some of the earlier equipment was in a bad condition but these buses have been disposed of and SEMTA has received newer buses which are far better.

Furnish Information
Then, after a very brief discussion, Councilman Conrad A. Naegel moved that the ordinance be adopted and his colleagues agreed.

The ordinance says prior to the issuance of a license to any person, firm or corporation for the purpose of operating buses within the city, the applicant must furnish the following information to the city clerk:

- The name of the manufacturer of the bus.
- The passenger capacity of the bus.
- The State license plate number of the bus.
- The equipment number, if any, assigned to the bus by the applicant; and
- Any other information as may be required by the city clerk in order to facilitate the inspection of the bus.

After the application is received, the bus or buses will be inspected by the Department of Public Safety.

The inspection will determine whether all required equipment of the bus is in proper working order, and "shall include inspection of brakes, exhaust emissions, lights, tires, horn, windshield wipers, glass, fire equipment, seats, safety belts if any, heating system, air conditioning system if any, steering system and other mechanical equipment."

Any defects in equipment will be noted, with the Department of Public Safety advising the city clerk whether a defect or malfunctioning equipment is a safety hazard of such a nature which would require a refusal to issue a license, until the defect is corrected.

Any person, firm or corporation operating buses within the city on the ordinance's effective date will be permitted to do so for a 60-day period. On or after this period, it's unlawful to operate any bus without first having obtained a license from the city clerk.

Each license shall expire on December 31, 1974, and any renewal or new license issued after that date will expire on the following December 31 after the date of issuance.

Some Buses Exempt
This section will not apply to any bus which doesn't pick up or discharge passengers within the city, nor to any bus in service less than eight hours in any seven-day period upon city streets.

The ordinance says an applicant for a bus license must pay the city a $5 inspection fee for each license.

Any license to operate a bus may be revoked by the city clerk by reason of the failure of the holder to maintain the bus and its equipment in a safe condition.

The Department of Public Safety, under the ordinance, has the authority to inspect all licensed buses "at reasonable times." If a bus fails to pass an inspection and constitutes "an immediate and serious safety hazard" in the department's opinion, the department will immediately notify the holder to remove the bus from service.

In an inspection shows a defect not constituting an immediate threat to the safety of persons, the department will notify the holder, with the holder having 10 days to correct or repair such a defect.

The ordinance provides a fine not exceeding $500 and a jail sentence not exceeding 90 days for violation of its terms, and conviction thereof, in the court's discretion.

The NEWS attempted to contact SEMTA Operations Manager Daniel D. Morrill Tuesday morning, August 20, but he was reported to be in Lansing and unavailable for comment.

G. P. Woods Court Clerk To Retire on August 23

By Roger A. Waha
The stage's apparent loss ultimately turned out to be The Woods' gain for a nine-year period. But now the city will lose the services of Court Clerk Marie Surbrook, who's retiring on Friday, August 23.

While Mrs. Surbrook admits she had no real hope for the stage, she was an active participant in several University of Detroit productions as a leading player. She presented a clipping from a 1932 edition of the "Detroit News" which had a picture overline reading, "She Chooses the Bar Over Stage Career."

It said that the stage lost a prominent recruit when she was admitted to the bar in the Circuit Court, (Wayne County), of Judge Homer Ferguson. Mrs. Surbrook was sponsored by a local attorney at whose office she was employed. (She received her Bachelor of Law degree from U.D. that same year).

"I had no real hopes for a stage career but I enjoyed doing it," she said. Well, if she enjoyed being an actress, she REALLY enjoyed her job as court clerk.

"I enjoy court work, which would be kind of natural I think. I enjoy every aspect of the job," she admitted. "Every aspect" means many different responsibilities.

"I do everything for the court. I take care of all tickets which come in and process them. I handle felony cases, civil cases, Youth Service Division cases. I follow all cases through along a step-by-step process."

If there's a jury trial, for example, she sets the whole case up by getting prospective jurors from election files. A total of 24 are selected. From this amount, the city attorney and the defense attorney in each case eliminate six names, which leaves a dozen people, all of whom are then notified by Mrs. Surbrook when to appear in court.

When she was first hired, Mrs. Surbrook recalls coming to court on Saturdays and working for some six to seven hours. "Then we went into night court and I'd sometimes work until 2 a.m. or 3 a.m.," she said. Subsequently, court was convened during the day as it is now—on three Wednesdays per month.

At one point, early in her career, she was a one-woman show. "I went ahead and did the job. When I got swamped, I received some help," she said. However, today, the violation bureau is staffed with two people including Mrs. Surbrook. And meter maids provide assistance in the parking ticket area.

When asked what she'll miss most about her job, Mrs. Surbrook replied, "Being with people. I like people and doing work connected with people. I hope to get some part-time work, any type of job that has to do with people and meeting them."

CAREER MILESTONE
Honoring his 35th anniversary with Parke-Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Chapin, of Fairford road, were entertained Thursday, August 15, at TraderVic's at a dinner given by Director and Mrs. J. C. Dilger, Vice-president and Mrs. C. J. Cowles, Vice-president and Mrs. H. L. Richardson, and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Thistlethwaite.

Until that part-time job comes along, she'll be far from idle. She has season tickets to the Grosse Pointe Symphony, Detroit Symphony, the Fisher Theatre, the War Memorial Travel Series and plans to spend more time with her bridge club and several friends of long standing.

She also will remain active in several clubs including the Detroit Boat Club League of Women Voters, Mother's Health Club and Soroptimist International of Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Surbrook, who has been a widow for 13 years, has three daughters and five grandchildren. One daughter lives in The Woods, while the others live in Columbus, O., and New York City. And it's a good bet she'll be spending more time with them, too.

While she will miss her work and the people around her, her associates also will miss her.

"She will be sorely missed," said Municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis. "She's been wonderful to work with. She's a warm and generous person and is dedicated to her job. I want to wish her well in her retirement years and hope she'll be very happy."

"She's been with us nine years and was originally hired through the department of public safety when the court clerk worked in the violation bureau in public safety headquarters," said City Administrator Chester E. Petersen. The violation bureau moved "next door" with city offices in the early 1960's.

"She's been a conscientious and faithful employee and has strived to do her job well," he added.

Public Safety Director Henry Marchand called Mrs. Surbrook, "dedicated and helpful," and said she was always there when the department needed assistance.

Smile in The Woods

ALEXIA BONGIORNO, 14, of Pear Tree lane, sits by the brightly painted water main cover in front of her home at the corner of Wedgewood drive that she decorated with a bright yellow smile face several weeks ago. Alexia said she thought the rusty cover needed to be brightened up and bicyclists going by appreciated the smile. She has taken art and sculpture classes but this is the only water main cover she has worked on. Alexia, who attends Our Lady Star of the Sea school, said she would be glad to decorate water main covers of other residents who don't live too far from her home.

NEW APPOINTMENT

Myron E. Ranney, of South Renaud road, has been named the 1974-75 District 15, (Wayne County), for the Michigan Driver and Traffic Safety Education Association. Mr. Ranney is a driver education instructor at North High School and since January 1973, for the Grosse Pointe Community Services. He is a graduate of South High School and Michigan State University.

Farms Sets Appeal Date

The Farms Council has scheduled the Monday, September 23, council meeting to hear four appeals from denials of building permits. The action was taken at the regular council meeting Monday, August 19.

The first request for a hearing came from Mrs. Ernest T. Davis, of Moross road, who is appealing the denial of the building department to issue a permit for the construction of an addition to the rear of her garage. Mrs. Davis told the council she would like the addition because newer model cars are too long to fit completely inside her present garage.

She said the new extension would be about four feet high and three feet long, just enough to slip the hood of the car underneath. The council set her hearing date for September 23.

Returning on that date will be William Demorest, representing Piper's Alley, a dining and cocktail establishment. The restaurant is appealing the denial from the building department to expand the facility, according to a communication received by the council from Mr. Andrew Denys, of Piper's Alley.

Mr. Demorest told the council the new addition will not open until 5:30 p.m. unlike maintaining the same hours, 11 a.m.-2:30 a.m., as the present facility. He said this was because parking is a problem in the area and increased parking will be available after some shops close at 5:30 p.m.

Albert D. Thomas, Jr., has requested an appeal from a denial of a building permit for structural changes and interior remodeling he would like to undertake at 188 Lakeview avenue. The permit was denied because the home is already in violation of The Farms' code and no permits for additions or enlargements may be given on non-conforming buildings.

He will appear on September 23 when the council will sit as a Zoning Board of Appeals.

The fourth appeal to be heard that evening will be from J. E. Brink, of the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. This appeal stems from the denial of the building department to issue a permit for the construction of a garage on the property at 64 Mapleton road.

Mr. Brink told the council the yard in the rear is only 24 feet deep and any garage would take up more than 30 percent of the yard which is not allowed under The Farms' ordinance.

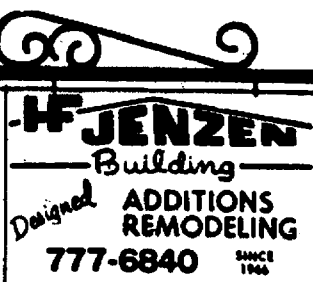

SCORES HOLE-IN-ONE

Robert H. Ebersole, of Bournemouth road, who's a member of the Burning Tree and Golf Country Club, aced the 128-yard ninth hole with a seven iron in recent action.

'Reimbursement' Pact

upon, it must accept the loss. If it can provide services for less than the figure negotiated it, in effect, collects a bonus.

After Savings
Daniel J. Kehoe, vice president-provider affairs for Blue Cross, said, "In this ambitious, cooperative effort, Blue Cross and these forward-looking hospitals are tackling directly, through full disclosure between them of all operating costs, the problem bothering the public. That is, plainly, the increasing costs of hospital care."

"Instead of paying on the basis of audited costs, Blue Cross and the hospitals will negotiate an annual budget from which payments will be derived. If a hospital can increase productivity, it will benefit from its reduced costs."

"What we're all after, of course, is savings. We think this joint effort will produce results because of the built-in incentives for hospitals."

An Extra Effort
Speaking for Bon Secours Hospital, Executive Director Barry Spero explained, "We're really delighted to be involved in this approach to cost consciousness."

"The Bon Secours board and I believe this will work. It will mean extra effort for the hospital and for Blue Cross. But, if the end product is high quality care more efficiently and economically provided to our community, then it surely will be worthwhile," he said.

Both Mr. Kehoe and Mr.

Spero said the prospective reimbursement system depends on the free exchange between the parties of all financial data and on very careful budgeting and cost reporting. Although simple in concept, the prospective reimbursement system developed by Blue Cross in cooperation with the hospitals requires financial, operational and planning expertise drawn from the most modern business management practices.

Agreement Items
Included in the negotiated agreement are such features as:

- Payments will be made weekly on a prorated of the negotiated fiscal budget of each hospital.
- Comparisons of hospitals' departmental costs to encourage those with higher costs to make concerted efforts to make feasible reductions.

• Each hospital must maintain effective utilization review of the services it supplies to its patients.

• Any hospital contemplating replacement or expansion of its services must submit and obtain approval from appropriate community planning agencies and from the designated planning agency of the State of Michigan.

Paving Plan in Woods

the district, (hence, the residents).

The proposal includes the construction of a 9'-6 1/4"-9' concrete pavement 21 feet back-to-back of curb with necessary drainage in Sunningdale Park from Sunningdale to Lochmoor, S.A.D. (special assessment district), No. 138.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, in reviewing the history of the property, said it was dedicated as a street when the area was subdivided. When the west side of Sunningdale Park was paved, those property owners paid totally for the work. Property owners on the east side didn't participate in the paving of the west side. He said this is why west side property owners weren't included in this proposal.

Mr. Petersen said the council tried to vacate the parkway and make building sites out of it at one time for the purpose of putting three properties on the tax roll, but many residents objected to the vacation of the street. Thus, the council was faced with this unpaved street problem.

Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos reviewed the reasons for establishing the special assessment district and cited four points including: The council had been informed the gravel road is a public road; the "unique" situation that the road is used both as a public and private road; the city must maintain the road; and that proposed improvements will benefit the city.

He cited the main problem as being the use of a public road as a private drive and asked if a solution to it could be to dedicate half of it to the adjacent property owners and let them maintain a side drive, and half to the city.

City Attorney George Catlin said this was possible but could cause some problems in relation to the access route of the two abutting property owners to their garages. These routes could be narrowed and the driveway moved with turning problems possibly resulting.

Schools View New Year

"One reason for my optimism is my confidence in the Board's unanimous choice for a new superintendent, Dr. Adams. Although he has been here only a short time, I can assure you that Dr. Adams is an active and dedicated administrator, one whose first concern is the quality of education in Grosse Pointe," Mrs. Hanpeter commented.

"Two other factors that give us a more stable outlook for the 1974-75 year are: (1), the U.S. Supreme Court's decision on the "busing" case, and (2), last spring's community support of a two-year millage package. The Board, superintendent and central staff face a constant budgetary struggle, worsened by the effects of inflation but we are determined to keep the promises we made in April to the taxpayers," Mrs. Hanpeter wrote.

Although students do not report until Thursday, September 5, the school system's Administrative Council held its first meeting of the 1974-75 year Wednesday, August 14. The orientation for new teachers is slated for Thursday, August 29.

A two-day planning conference will begin on Tuesday, September 3, with teachers reporting to their buildings by 8:30 a.m. At 10:30 a.m., an all-staff meeting will be held in the auditorium of North High School. The balance of the two-day period will be spent in building and departmental meetings in the buildings.

According to figures just compiled by Lawrence F. Kennedy, assistant superintendent-personnel, the staff of the public schools and public libraries will number 817 for 1974-75. The breakdown shows 32 administrators, 568 teachers, (including 12 public librarians), four para-professionals, 91 clerks and secretaries, 116 in plant personnel and eight in other capacities.

Auto Crash

ed the intersection at the same time with the collision resulting. After impact, Officer Hunke veered to the right and drove through a service station where he struck a pop machine and a building, shattering a plate glass window.

Woods police said their car was totally demolished, while Harper Woods officers reported their auto was still being checked for possible further use—it would definitely need a new door and fender. But, far more importantly, Police officials from both departments expressed relief that their officers weren't seriously hurt.

Most people speak of what they have earned—not what benefits they have received.

Center Plans Fitness Classes

Karate, yoga and slymnastics all offer ways to learn mental and physical discipline and control. The exercises tone the body and relax and alert the mind.

Korean Karate, (Tae Kwan Do), will be taught at the War Memorial, Tuesdays and Fridays, beginning September 3 and 6, from 7 to 9 p.m. Known as the "art of the open hand," Korean karate was introduced to this country by Sang Kyu Shim, who directs the Karate Club and oversees the group at the War Memorial.

Loose exercise clothing must be worn to class and karate uniforms are advised. As proficiency is achieved, a degree of mastery is recognized by the awarding of different color belts with the black belt the highest.

The fee is $20 for eight weeks.

SHADY SPOT

This is the time of year when people try to keep out of the sunshine they wished they could afford last winter.

Slymnastics is taught at the Center on Mondays, from 1:15-2:45 p.m., by Rick Dove from London. This class offers the opportunity to get trim and stay trim and graceful through a variety of exercises and dance steps set to music.

The fee is $35 for 14 weeks.

Yoga, as taught at the War Memorial, is not a mystic Eastern religion but a set of exercises and stances designed to relax the mind and body and enable concentration on peace. Basic organs and muscles are toned and serenity achieved.

A class for women only is offered on Tuesdays, from 10-11 a.m., beginning September 17 by Norma Cheff.

Leotards or similar attire should be worn and exercise mats or small rugs brought. The fee is $20 for eight weeks.

Yoga also is offered for mixed classes of men, women and teens on Wednesdays, from 7:30-8:30 p.m. by SRF instructor Charles Friday. The fee is the same, $20 for eight weeks.

Valuable Art Object Stolen

A valuable stone statue, a gift from a friend, was reported stolen by Frank J. Colombo, of 611 Lakeshore road, sometime between Tuesday, August 13, and Sunday, August 18, Shores police were informed.

Mr. Colombo told the authorities the statue weighed about 25 pounds, and was the head of a Mexican female goddess. It was black-gray in color, with ornamental carving at the base. He said it was a gift from a Mexican friend, but did not know the market value, but estimated its worth at between $250 and $500.

He said he had been absent from home several days and returned the previous evening, but did not notice the art work was missing until he looked out of his window Sunday morning. Mr. Colombo said he checked around his premises, without success.

Good luck to some men means not getting what they deserve.

INFO Reports on School News

In his first-of-the-school year mailing to the far-flung staff members of Pointe schools and public libraries, Dr. James A. Adams, included a copy of INFO, his internal newsletter for all employees.

"I expect to use INFO as the staff newsletter. It will appear the day following meetings of the Board of Education with summaries of action taken by trustees on issues of interest to the staff," wrote Dr. Adams in the new one-page newsletter.

"On other occasions it will serve as one vehicle of written communication between superintendent and the staff. Your constructive comments and suggestions regarding the format and the contents of INFO are welcome at all times. I am deeply committed to improved communications among our staff, students, trustees and community-at-large."

Dr. Adams used the newsletter to call to the staff's attention the retirement of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gray.

"The Lewis Grays have opted for early retirement.

Betty served our schools well for 14 years, (kindergarten, Poupard), and Lew. (Industrial Arts, North High School), has given us 20 years of dedicated service. We wish them well in the future," Dr. Adams commented.

Included in the publication were items of staff activities, too.

"Among the staff's summer scholars, (enrolled for 'Open Classroom' at Marygrove College), were Richard teachers Dolores Nique, Christine Hea, Mary Owens, Mary Elizabeth Edwards, Dorothy Kennel, and Carol Kaloger, Kerby staffers Rita Flaherty and Katherine Purvis, and Monteith staffer Irene Middleton. Betty Durkin (Grade 1, Poupard) and Betty Brady (Grade 5, Trombly) attended Oakland University," Dr. Adams commented.

He added that "Bob Burton, (English, South High School), spent two weeks on the staff of Oakland University this summer.

City Council Nixes Variance

The City Council, acting as a Board of Zoning Appeals at the regular meeting Thursday, August 15, reluctantly turned down the request of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Sucek, who were asking permission to construct an addition to their Notre Dame road home.

The Suceks were, in the opinion of City engineers, asking for too extreme a variance. The council was afraid it would set a dangerous precedent if the couple were allowed to build on to their home.

The side yard requirement would have been reduced from eight feet to one foot and the solons would have had to permit enlargement of a building that was already non-conforming due to the small size of its side yard.

Council members were sympathetic but they felt they had to look at the house in the light of the other residences on Notre Dame, and the request was unanimously denied.

Urges Response to Display

fly it on Labor Day, Monday,
September 2, a national holiday.

Mrs. Keller said the Auxiliary has chosen the Cook Ford site because the agency has flown the flag on its building and have placed smaller ones on poles between the sidewalk and curb and around its building daily.

"We hope that everyone will accept a pamphlet and read it carefully and abide by the regulations governing the display of our flag," the Auxiliary president said.

"Bear in mind that the Stars and Stripes represents our nation, and thereby the people of our country, citizens and non-citizens alike, that is, the non-citizens residing permanently in our country. Visitors from foreign lands, are under its protection, too, while they stay in the United States."

The pamphlet discloses information on the proper definitions given the Flag of the United States. The definition is taken verbatim from the pamphlet:

"The Flag of the United States of America, referred to as the National Flag, is also known as the National Ensign, National Color and National Standard. The term National Flag is applicable regardless of size or manner of display, but the other terms certainly have well-defined usages of long standing within the Armed Services."

"National Ensign" is used by the Navy in a general manner, although it actually indicates the National Flag flown by airships, ships and boats.

"National Color" pertains to flags carried by dismounted units of the landing force and is sturdier than the National Ensign.

"National Standard" is carried by mounted, mechanized and motorized units.

The booklets carry a wealth of information, including the following:

When the flag is passing in parade, being hoisted or lowered, all present should face it, stand at attention and salute: uniformed persons render the military salute; women and uncovered men place their right hands over their hearts. Men should remove their hats, holding them over their hearts with their right hands.

The Pledge of Allegiance should be recited at attention with the right hand over the heart; military personnel should salute.

If the flag is not flown during the playing of the National Anthem, all present stand and face the music. Persons in uniform salute at the first note, holding it until the last note. Others stand at attention, men removing their hats. If the flag is displayed, all present should salute.

Every home should have a flag and residences should display this symbol of our country on holidays and days proclaimed by the President.

G. P. Farms Awarded AAA Pedestrian Safety Citation

By Barbara Bruno

The Farms has been awarded a Pedestrian Safety Citation from the Automobile Association of America, (AAA), for its outstanding pedestrian safety record in the association's 35th Annual Pedestrian Safety Evaluation.

A plaque will be presented to the city officials later this month by Governor William G. Milliken at a special awards luncheon in Lansing.

This award is for the 1973 record. The Farms won the same award for its 1972 pedestrian safety record.

Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber said The Farms hasn't had a pedestrian fatality in the past four years. He explained the three pedestrian accidents that occurred in the city during 1973.

One was when a nine-year-old child ran in front of a stopped vehicle that was discharging passengers and was struck when the car began to move. Another was a six-year-old child who ran across the street into a car. Neither of these accidents required medical attention.

The third accident occurred when a 68-year-old woman, trying to push her stalled car on the ice, slipped underneath it, and the car rolled over her.

"It's not just compiling a good record of statistics, but it's what you do about the accidents that do occur," Chief Ferber said. "Undoubtedly our program is highlighted by our Traffic Safety Officer Joseph Belanger."

Officer Belanger was appointed traffic and safety officer in 1972 and deals primarily with the education aspect of The Farms' program of the Three E's of Safety: Education, Engineering and Enforcement.

Chief Ferber said Officer Belanger goes to all Farms nursery, elementary and middle schools, and to a lesser extent, South High School, to discuss pedestrian safety. He hands out copies of The Farms' pedestrian ordinance and literature on pedestrian traffic safety.

Chief Ferber credits the Board of Education for aiding the city in its engineering of pedestrian routes.

"We work closely with the Board to get safe crosswalks at all the schools," he said.

"We employ Wayne County Road Commission engineers to do studies for us as well as our own staff. The Farms has established school walking routes that are continually evaluated and upgraded."

Chief Ferber said enforcement comes in when a warning is given on the street to a pedestrian or when a violation is issued after a sufficient warning period.

"We can pinpoint the hazard locations and do something about them by employing either education, engineering and enforcement, usually all three," Chief Ferber noted.

He emphasized the pedestrian safety program is a continuing effort.

"I hope we qualify and receive an award every year hereafter," he commented. "Two in a row is a great start."

Orientation Set for School Staff

The Grosse Pointe Public Schools will hold an orientation for newcomers to the professional staff on Thursday, August 29. The program begins at 8:30 a.m. in the board room of the Administration Building with a welcome by Dr. James A. Adams, superintendent.

Mrs. Edward C. Hanpeter, president of the Board of Education, will address the group, as will Carl W. Lord, president of the Grosse Pointe Education Association.

Other speakers on the morning program are Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, assistant superintendent - instruction; Lawrence F. Kennedy, assistant superintendent-personnel; Ray MacArthur, director, business and finance; Dr. George T. Eddington, administrative assistant to the superintendent; Reginald P. Sienkiewicz, director of pupil personnel; William T.

Peters, director of public libraries; and Ben Zenn, director of administrative services.

Following the formal presentations, the newcomers will be taken on a tour of the Administration Building. The teachers and central staff administrators will have lunch together. In the afternoon, the teachers will be able to work in their buildings and to meet with their principals.

New staff members for 1974-75 include Joseph F. Bauer, (Music, Pierce and Trombly); Mrs. Rose B. Belanca, (Commercial Foods/Homemaking, North High School); Thomas Boos, (Business Education, South High); Marcia Cook, (English, Alternative Education, North/South); Mrs. Cynthia K. Doherty, (Trainable Retarded, Poupard);

YSD Reports Drop in Cases

plains, vandalism, five, and violation of controlled substances, five, all continue to show a decrease in incidence.

The runaway cases involved three boys and four girls. Two boys voluntarily returned, while the other boy and the four girls were arrested. The boy was transported to the Wayne County Youth Home.

Use of Marijuana
Four of the violations of controlled substances were for use of marijuana and one was for possession of broad-use paraphernalia, marijuana and phenylethylamine, (animal tranquilizer). The four marijuana cases involved three male adults and four male juveniles, while the other case involved one male adult and one male juvenile.

Twelve applications for petition were submitted to the Wayne County Juvenile Court. The court has, so far, acted on four of them.

The total case breakdown for July shows: burglary and larceny/theft, nine incidents; runaways, seven; vandalism and violation of the Controlled Substances Act, five each; sex offenses, four; all other criminal contacts, three.

More are other assaults and drunkenness, two apiece; auto theft, possession of stolen property, violation of liquor laws, telephone calls, (threat/nuisance); mischievous children complaints, suspicious persons and other non-criminal contact, one each.

First Place Winner

The Pointe has a young and talented figure skater in its midst in the person of 11-year-old LINDA VAN DUSEN, of Stephens road.

Last week's NEWS reported that Linda, representing the Detroit Skating Club, won a first place gold medal in the Columbus Summer Figure Skating Competition held earlier this month in Columbus, O.

This spring, she participated in Tri-State competition in Bowling Green, O., and placed second. Linda also has participated in three shows in St. Clair Shores and this summer was a soloist in exhibitions at the Grosse Pointe Community and Oak Park Rinks.

Linda, a student at University Liggett School, has been skating for two years. At this time, she hopes to pursue figure skating as a career.

While she practices throughout the year, her ice time intensifies in the summer when school is out. She skates six to eight hours a day for five days during the week in comparison to some 10-15 hours a week during the winter, (all that homework can "slow" a budding skater down).

When asked how she became interested in figure skating, Linda replied, "A friend called me up and asked about skating lessons and I decided to take them. My friend quit long ago but I kept on going because I like it."

Now, Linda and her instructor, Ann Seror, out of Detroit, are looking forward to the Eastern Great Lakes competition which will be held this December in Lansing.

A Late Dater Kept Detained

James Auguste Guereux, 29, of 2434 Casmere, Hamtramck, told a Shores public safety officer, who stopped him for traveling on Lake Shore road at an excessive rate of speed, he was late for a date. His appointment was delayed a little longer when he was arrested and taken to the station.

Guereux was driving south on the road at about 12:15 a.m., Wednesday, August 14, when he was observed by Sgt. Donald Jacob, who paced the motorist at over 60 miles an hour.

He was stopped at Fontana, and when asked by the sergeant why he was driving so fast Guereux said he was late for a date. Guereux was informed he was under arrest and ordered to follow the policeman to The Shores station.

At the station, Guereux was issued a violation ticket for careless driving and told that he would not be released until he posted a $75 bond. This caused a further delay because a friend had to bring the required bond so he could be released.

He is scheduled to appear in court Wednesday, August 28.

Pointers Join Equality Day

Women's Equality Day will be held on the Kern Block Monday, August 26, from 10 a.m.-8 p.m. The program centers on the theme: "Two Centuries of Progress — Women: Our Herstory, Our Horizons."

Sponsored by the Detroit Bicentennial and the Detroit Human Rights Department, Women's Equality Day will include 59 organizations.

It will focus attention on the 19th Amendment to the Constitution giving women the right to vote. The program also is the kick-off celebration for the United Nations' 1975 International Women's Year and women's participation in the Bicentennial.

Pointers participating in various booths in the Kern Block include Darlene Ziolkowski, of Holiday road, women in health; Chloe Boem, of Prestwick road, Gloria Freiwald, of Rathbone place, and Bette Prudden, of North Brys road, women in the arts; and Lenore Bassett, of Whittier road, assisting arts.

There will be a noon program of speakers and folk singers, an awards program from 5 to 8 p.m. and an evening program of the Women's Symphony String Quartet.

Six Gun Shots Fired at Office

Six gun shots were fired at the Mack avenue office of Dr. Wayne N. Jacobus shortly before 4 a.m. Wednesday, August 14, reported Woods police. The office was vacant at the time.

Police were notified of the incident at 9:15 a.m. and, at the scene, Officer James Fowler discovered five bullet holes in a window on the building's north side and another bullet lodged in the structure's outside window casing.

Two bullets were recovered by police, one of which lodged in the counter located in the reception area. One bullet was lodged in the hallway wall, while another went through the hallway wall and into the examining room's back wall. Two other bullets also were lodged in the room's back wall.

Officer Fowler and Sergeant Bernard Kelly recovered six .30 caliber casings next to the curb on Kenmore.

A resident had contacted police at 3:53 a.m. regarding the firing of shots, which, he said, sounded like they were off in the distance. The citizen stated he heard one shot and then five in rapid succession. At that time, investigation proved the complaint to be unfounded; however, the later report changed that.

The incident is classified as random malicious destruction to property, police added.

125th Michigan State Fair Ready to Open August 23

Many Pointers will want to attend the Michigan State Fair—America's oldest state fair — when it opens its 125th year tomorrow, August 23.

Running through Labor Day, September 2, the 11-day Fair will feature:

— An expanded free entertainment program which includes top recording and television stars, an auto thrill show and a circus.

— More than 8,000 animals including champion steers, swine and sheep which may be purchased by the public at auction.

— Nineteen horse shows, daily performances by the Detroit Police Mounted Division's drill team and the return of quarter horse and appaloosa horse racing.

— Displays of the best of Michigan's farm produce and home arts.

— Spirited competitions of tractor pulling, draft horse pulling, sheep shearing, horseshoeing, husband calling and hog calling.

"The emphasis this year more than ever will be on family fun," said new Fair General Manager Lester M. Lund.

"We're suggesting that the entire family spend the day with us at the Fair. There is ample parking on the grounds, good food and plenty to see and do."

"Nearly every nook and cranny of the Fairgrounds has been given a fresh coat of paint and we've been busy cleaning and straightening for weeks now," Mr. Lund said.

Top recording and television stars again will headline the Fair's free entertainment program, according to Entertainment Supervisor Harold Arnold.

Appearing free at the Music Shell at 4:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. will be rock artists Seals and Crofts, (August 23); country and western star Charlie Rich, August 24; Pat Boone and family, (August 25-26); ventriloquist

Willie Tyler and Lester and the Chi-Lites, a pop music recording group from Detroit, (August 27).

Others include Lynn Anderson, of country and western fame, (August 28); the New McKinney Cotton Pickers who are reviving the 1920 Jazz sounds, (August 29); Soul Man Ray Charles, (August 30); Tonight television show's Doc Severinsen with his Now Generation Brass and Today's Children groups, (August 31-Sept. 1); and country singer Donna Fargo, (September 2).

Appearing free in the grandstand area will be Dan Fleenor's Hurricane Hell Drivers at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. August 23-25; the Circus Continental featuring the human cannonball Hugo Zachini, 2 p.m. and 7 p.m., August 28-30; and Al Slaggett's Demolition Derby at 7 p.m., Sept. 1.

Other free grandstand activities include a nine-event Quarter Horse racing card—the first since 1971—with the $10,000 Michigan State Fair Futurity as the top race August 26; a day of Appaloosa horse racing August 27; horse pulling competition at 5 p.m. August 31; and tractor pulls for farm and souped-up modified models at 3 p.m. September 2.

The Sheep Shearing Contest—a day-long event which turns many of the Fair's sheep stock into nudists—is scheduled for 9 a.m. August 30. It is followed at 3 p.m. by the Husband and Hog Calling Contests.

Other free musical and dance acts will be presented by local entertainers throughout the day each day at the Music Shell, the International Grove, the Trophies and the Teen Scene.

An increase in the number of livestock and agriculture exhibits is expected as a result, according to Robert McLachlan, supervisor of livestock of a 20 percent boost in the amount of premium monstock and agriculture exhibits.

Heart Attack Fells Worker

A Warren man, working on utility power lines in The Farms, died from a heart attack Thursday, August 15. Farms' police and firemen responded to the call for assistance that came in about 8:30 a.m. and transported William Clyde Jones, 60, to Bon Secours Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Mr. Jones was an employee of the Harlan Electric Co., of Southfield, and was working on electrical wires at Grosse Pointe boulevard and Fisher road when he suffered the heart attack. A nearby resident called police when he noticed two other men trying to get the man down from the pole.

Farms Officer Thomas Kelly and a Farms fire crew under the direction of Lt. Arthur Turner went to the scene. Firemen assisting in bringing the man down were Donald Easton, Dennis Knoll and William Brown.

The attending physician at Bon Secours Hospital said there were no burn marks on the man's body and the cause of death was ruled as a heart attack.

The foreman working with Mr. Jones, Leroy Dietiker, of Ferndale, told police the deceased man had a history of heart trouble and that he had seen no electrical contact when the man slumped over.

Another workman at the site, Ellsworth Stokes, of Detroit, was at the base of the pole and also observed the incident. He also said he saw no electrical contact.

All Set for Harsens Island Cruise

court; WILLIAM BAKER, cruise chairman, of Fordcroft road; FRANK PIKU, of Woodland Shore drive; and GEORGE MONRO, III, cruise co-chairmen, of Woodland place.

Hospital Guild Has Fine Trip

Members of the Saint John Hospital Guild spent Wednesday, August 14, cruising Lake St. Clair and relaxing on Harsens Island.

The event, the sixth annual cruise, is traditionally held in appreciation for the members' outstanding work for Saint John Hospital, according to cruise chairman Bill Baker.

This year, members raised over $50,000, representing proceeds from the Annual Benefit Dinner, membership dues and other contributions, which will be used for development of new facilities and services at the hospital.

The price of the outing was $35 a man and that charge included the boat trip to the island, lunch, dinner and the use of all facilities at the Old Club there.

The men left from the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club after having a continental breakfast at the club. Boats ranged in size from 46 to 78 feet.

Once at the Old Club, the men were able to take part in golf, softball, tennis, swimming, skeet shooting and sunbathing.

The Guild which was founded in 1948, has a membership of over 500 men throughout the Detroit area.

One of its major functions is the sponsorship of public health forums open to the general public on various medical topics of public interest.

Norsemen and Blue Devils Face Rebuilding in 1974

By Tom Panzenhagen

(Editor's Note: This is the first of two installments which look ahead at the upcoming football season for local high schools. Next week's edition will focus upon University Liggett and Austin.)

The assignment for this season's North and South High School football teams is a basic one: repeat last year's performances.

But the catch is not so fundamental: do it with considerably fewer experienced players than you had last year.

It's that catch which has North coach Jim Krucki, (9-0 last year), and South coach Russell Heppner, (8-1), worried.

Though neither is ready to concede the season, the large number of players lost will make their assignments that much more difficult.

At North, coach Krucki has only 12 players returning from last season's squad; 25 have been lost. And, even though anywhere from 33 to 38 new players will be trying out for those open positions, it may not be enough for another 9-0 season, or even close to it.

Last season's El County League champs won't be totally without punch, though. Of the dozen returning players, at least half ought to repeat the excellent seasons they had a year ago.

Captains Fritz Lehmann, all league defensive back in '73, and Gary Maier, all league offensive back, should again lead the Norsemen's defensive and offensive attacks.

Fritz also plays offensive back, as does third-year varsity player Dennis Herman. Add to that second-year quarterback Chuck Martin, and it's evident that North will have another potent offensive backfield.

The offensive line could present a problem, however, and assistant coach Bill Mitchell will have the job of straightening them out. George Olman is the offensive backfield coach.

On defense, linebacker Brian Trupp will be called upon to bolster that corps of players and Mark Wade is expected to secure the line from his position at defensive end.

On the specialty team is Mark Johnson, an all league punter last year who's back again and expected to handle the kicking chores.

The defensive backfield may present a problem for the Norsemen, along with that offensive line, but with three weeks until the season opener against Port Huron Northern, coach Krucki should have all positions filled and ready to go.

But the act of losing only three games in the last four years will be a hard one for the Norsemen to follow this year.

At South things are much the same, if not worse. Last year's 8-1 record and championship of the Eastern Michigan League were the culmination of three years of building, said South assistant coach Jon Rice.

From a terrible year in 1971, to respectability in 1972, to the top in 1973, progress may now start to reverse itself.

Victims of a large turnover of players and an unusually small senior class, South will have to rely largely on juniors this year, experienced or not.

One point in their favor is that the junior varsity team was 6-2 last season, so they know what it is to win.

But as coach Heppner summed it up, "We have some great talent... a lot of competition, and inexperience in varsity playing time."

While the bulk of this year's squad may consist of untested juniors, some outstanding players are returning for their senior year.

Third-year varsity guard Eric Jones should buckle down the all-important offensive line, opening up holes for fullback Mark Isely and halfback Barry Fielding.

Mark was the Blue Devils' leading ground gainer last season with 778 yards and Barry scored five touchdowns in South's last four 1973 games.

Other standouts figure to be Kevin Kovanda, split end and defensive safety; Paul Marshall, defensive tackle; Mark Elliott, center and defensive tackle; Peers Henes, linebacker; Paul Saber, defensive halfback; Tom Stern, middle linebacker; and Kirk Garey, specialty teams.

But the key to the season remains to be how much experience the younger players can gain early and how much they can improve throughout the year.

One thing for certain, if the Blue Devils don't stay at the top this season, they'll surely be back there next year.

Pointers Swim In Large Meet

Over 2,000 swimmers from 15 states from as far away as California attended the annual Battle Creek Invitational at Kellogg's Collegiate Pool Friday-Sunday, August 16-18.

Several Grosse Pointe Swim Club (GPSC), members participated in the invitational, which unlike most summer long course meets, was swam in a 25-yard pool. It was the largest AAU meet in Michigan's history.

Tom Shook, 12, made a run at the boys' high point as he won the 100-yard breaststroke, placed in the 200 individual medley and was fifth in the 100-yard back at 1:10.

Frances Shook in girls 11 and 12 did the fastest 100 breaststroke time in Michigan for 1974 with a 1:13.0. She came back in the women's 200-yard breaststroke and was second with a 2:42. She also placed high in the 200 IM, the 50 free and 100-yard back.

The Grosse Pointe Swim Club members will get a few weeks of well deserved rest before they begin training in September to get ready for the fall indoor season, said Jack Shook of the GPSC.

Weiss Elected Council Head

Edward G. Weiss, of Ford court, a member of the Grosse Pointe Ski Club, was elected president of the Metropolitan Detroit Ski Council, (MDSC), for the 1974-75 ski and social season.

The MDSC is made up of 42 clubs and represents nearly 15,000 skiers in the Detroit Metropolitan area. Membership is open to any organized ski club in Michigan.

CODE NO. 7-05 ORDINANCE NO. 198

AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE THE KEEPING OF ANIMALS WITHIN THE CITY; AND TO REPEAL ORDINANCES NOS. 95 AND 181.

THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE FARMS ORDAINS:

Section 1. Definitions.

(a) For the purposes of this Ordinance, the term "pet" shall mean any domesticated animal (including without limitation mammals, birds and fish) which is kept primarily for pleasure rather than for utility or profit and which is of a species that is not generally regarded as being dangerous or posing a threat to the health or safety of mankind; and

(b) the term "wild animal" shall mean any animal not properly regarded as a pet.

Section 2. No person shall keep, maintain or harbor any wild animal within the City.

Section 3. No person shall keep, maintain or harbor any pet which by its demeanor, conduct or natural instinct poses a threat to the personal safety or property of residents of the City.

Section 4. No person shall keep, maintain or harbor any pet which by its odor, noise or appearance or otherwise constitutes a public nuisance. All provisions of the City's Public Health Ordinance (being Ordinance No. 182; Code No. 9-03) shall be fully applicable to the maintaining of animals within the City, and any violation thereof shall constitute a violation of this Ordinance.

Section 5. No horses, ponies, donkeys, cattle, swine, sheep, goat, pigeons, chickens, geese or ducks shall be kept, maintained or harbored in the City.

Section 6. No person shall keep, maintain or harbor any squirrel, rat or snake in the City except in connection with a biology exhibit or experiment conducted at and with the approval of the principal or headmaster of an accredited school.

Section 7. No person shall allow any pet which is kept, maintained or harbored by him or her to run free in any public place or upon any private property not owned or rented by such person except when held securely by a leash of suitable strength and length by such person or other person capable of restraining such pet or when confined securely in a shipping receptacle or closed automobile; provided further, that no such pet shall be permitted at any time to be in any public place or on private property not owned or rented by such person unless such pet shall have been immunized against rabies.

Section 8. Any person who shall have in his or her possession or control an animal which has contracted rabies or which has been subjected to the same or which is suspected of having rabies or which shall have bitten any person shall immediately deliver such animal to the City Veterinarian and in default thereof such animal may be seized by or for the City Veterinarian and the owner of such animal, if known, shall be promptly notified. At the expense of such owner the City Veterinarian shall test such animal for existence of rabies and any other diseases which, given the species of animal involved, would pose a health hazard to persons coming into contact therewith. If at the conclusion of such tests it appears that such animal is afflicted with rabies, or if the animal is not a pet, or if a pet which has bitten any person and while in the custody of the City Veterinarian demonstrates a fierce or vicious nature, it shall be destroyed; otherwise, it shall be returned to the owner.

Section 9. No person shall keep, maintain or harbor:

- (a) More than two dogs; or
- (b) More than two cats; or
- (c) More than a total of two dogs and two cats.

Provided, however, that additional pets may be maintained on the basis of one such additional dog or cat for each 10,000 square feet of property (in addition to that required by the City's Zoning Ordinance) owned by the pet owner and maintained as a part of his residence, and if the Chief of Police of the City or his duly designated representative shall determine that (1) the place or places where such pets are to be kept is of adequate size, design and location; (2) adequate ventilation and sanitary equipment and facilities are to be provided so that no offensive odors or noise will result, nor any hazard to the health, safety or welfare of any resident of the City will be created thereby; and (3) sufficient distance and seclusion from adjoining property exists so that the maintenance of such additional pet will not constitute a nuisance to contiguous or adjoining property.

Section 10. The limits which apply in Section 9 above may be utilized by no more than one person at any residence. A person having a number of pets in excess of the total permitted by this Ordinance at the time of enactment of this Ordinance, as indicated by the licensing records of the City, or by affidavit submitted to the City offices within thirty days thereafter of by proof beyond a reasonable doubt by such person, may continue to maintain such pets but may not replace them. Offspring of pets not exceeding twelve weeks of age are exempt from the limits provided by this section.

Section 11. No owner shall fail to exercise proper care and control of his pets to prevent them from becoming a public nuisance. Excessive, continuous or untimely barking, molesting passersby, chasing vehicles, habitually attacking other domestic animals, trespassing upon school grounds, or trespassing upon private property in such manner as to damage property, shall be deemed a nuisance and a violation of this Ordinance.

Section 12. No person shall raise pets in any residential zoning district of the City as a business or for sale for profit.

Section 13. Any person violating any provision of this Ordinance shall upon conviction be subject to a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment for not more than ninety days, or both, in the discretion of the court. Continuing acts of violation and every day upon which such violations shall occur after conviction may be charged as separate offenses. A person charged with violation of this Ordinance may rebut the presumption by affirmatively proving beyond a reasonable doubt that continued violation of this Ordinance in the manner charged cannot have any adverse impact upon public health, safety or general welfare.

Section 14. Ordinance No. 181, adopted November 21, 1971, and Ordinance No. 95, adopted February 16, 1953, and sections 5, 7 and 8 of Ordinance No. 90, adopted May 1, 1951, as amended, are hereby repealed.

Section 15. If any provision of this Ordinance shall be held invalid, the remainder of this Ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

Section 16. This Ordinance shall take effect twenty days after its enactment or upon its publication, whichever is later.

City Amends Net Court Rules

The City Council, at its regular meeting Thursday, August 15, amended existing Elworthy Field tennis court rules to provide youngsters, ages 16 and under, the opportunity to play free of charge.

As a result of the council's action, courts nine and 10, are now available to youths 16 and under, Monday through Friday, from noon to 6 p.m. Youths will be given precedence over adults during this time.

From 8 a.m. to noon and all day Saturday and Sunday, courts nine and 10 will be available to adults at a $1-per-hour charge. But if the courts aren't needed for adults, youngsters may use them, free of charge.

Such landscaping plan shall be submitted to the City Council for approval as to suitability of planting material and arrangement thereof, in order to achieve such screening prior to construction.

Section 3. No person shall construct, maintain or use any lights in conjunction with an outdoor tennis court in the City, unless such court is located as required under the City's Zoning Ordinance (Ordinance No. 195; Code No. 12-03), and unless such lights are shaded so that any direct rays or glare therefrom do not project upon lands belonging to others or upon a public right-of-way in a manner which would create a hazard for vehicular or pedestrian traffic. Such lights shall not be used during the hours between 10:00 p.m. and 8:00 a.m.

Section 4. No outdoor tennis court in a residential district of the City shall have constructed therewith or maintained as a part thereof a practice backboard.

Section 5. No person shall play on or shall the owner or lessee thereof permit the use of such outdoor tennis court in a manner which will result in or cause a nuisance to adjoining property owners or to other residents of the City. Shouting or any use of voices or any other noisemaking apparatus in connection with the use of such outdoor tennis court above a normal voice level shall not be permitted and shall be in violation of this Ordinance. Also, the provisions of the City's General Offenses Ordinance (being Ordinance No. 185; Code No. 7-07) and specifically section 14 of chapter 3 thereof, shall be fully applicable to the use of such outdoor tennis court, and a violation of that Ordinance shall constitute a violation of this Ordinance.

Section 6. Any person violating any provision of this Ordinance shall upon conviction be subjected to a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment for not more than ninety days, or both, in the discretion of the court. Continuing acts of violation and each day upon which such violations shall occur may be charged as separate offenses.

Section 7. If any provision of this Ordinance shall be held invalid, the remainder of the Ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

Section 8. This Ordinance shall take effect twenty days after its enactment or upon its publication, whichever is later.

What can you do if a light is out in your car? If the fuse and bulb are good, there may be something wrong with the connections. It's fairly easy to determine. Simply remove the bulb and use sand paper to doff any corrosion in and around the socket. If the light still does not go on, remove the bulb again and with the circuit still on fasten on a test light. If the test light does not glow, there is either a loose connection or a broken wire.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. James A. Adams,
Superintendent

(Editor's note: Dr. Adams, superintendent of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools since July 1, has agreed to write a twice-monthly column for the NEWS. The first of these follows.)

I wish to thank Mr. Edgar for the opportunity to write a column in the "Grosse Pointe News" as one means of communicating with our many publics.

I plan to use this space to bring common concerns to the attention of the public and to focus on issues of educational significance which would be of interest to the public.

Since I arrived, I have been asked a number of times: "Why did you come to Grosse Pointe?" Let me respond.

First, I felt the school system had potential for excellence. I wanted to participate in the further improvement of the system as a professional educator.

Second, I considered Grosse Pointe to be the type of place where my family and I want to live, where my youngsters could get a good education and where we could be active participants in the community.

Third, we prefer to live in the Midwest. I went to the East Coast some two and a half years ago and I thoroughly enjoyed my experience in Montclair, N.J., but I am a Midwesterner and I like Michigan.

Fourth, I was attracted to this community by the apparent quality of the Board and staff. Although I do not yet know all the staff, I have had favorable impressions about the teachers and other employees. When I met with this Board and heard them express their views and desires about education, I was greatly interested in becoming a part of the team and a member of the community.

A superintendent must be aware of the qualities the Board seeks in an executive.

Unless one has a desire to work with a given Board, an applicant should not be interested in the job.

I think these four points adequately summarize my interest in the Superintendentcy in Grosse Pointe.

As to my first impressions of the district, let me suggest that if residents will look at the school system in Grosse Pointe, they can tell a lot about their community, since the schools generally reflect the values which the citizens hold for the quality of education and the community.

As I look at Grosse Pointe, I consider the school system to be generally outstanding. That is not to say, however, that I don't see the things immediately that need improvement. Nevertheless, I believe the basic foundation of an outstanding school system is here. I think the Board, staff and citizens of this community should be very proud of their schools.

I look forward to working with the students, staff, trustees and community-at-large as we begin the 1974-75 year.

Save a Liner Save a Life

The Grosse Pointe Jaycee Auxiliary urges citizens to support their effort to collect as many 7-Up bottlecap liners as possible by Monday, September 30, by "saving a liner and saving a life." The 7-Up Company has offered to donate 25 cents for every four liners turned in.

It is part of an extensive fund-raising program for the continuation of Muscular Dystrophy research programs. The collection of these liners has been endorsed as a project by the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary State organization.

Liners should be brought to Mrs. George Firmschild at Chet Sampson Travel, 100 Kercheval avenue.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Edgar:

The story that I'm about to tell you is true, thanks to a very dedicated man; a man whom I feel deserves a lot more recognition than I can give him. That's why I'm writing you this letter. In hopes that you will print it to let every animal owner know how great this man is.

On Saturday, July 27, at about 5 p.m., my nine-month-old poodle, Mandie Lee, fell from an upper porch, 30 feet down on to the steps below, straight down. In order to protect the rest of her body she came down on her front paws, thus breaking both of them.

Naturally, when it happened my husband, Richard, and I were frantic. We thought for sure that we would lose her.

We rushed her to our veterinarian, Dr. Fawzi Shaya, of the Grosse Pointe Animal Clinic, 15135 Kercheval, in hopes that he could help her.

In the short time it took us to get her to the clinic, her temperature rose to 103.4, and evidently infection had already set in.

Dr. Shaya examined her and gave his diagnosis: little Mandie Lee had compound fractures of both front paws, and they were very bad.

Dr. Shaya took little Mandie Lee under his wing, as he has done with many other animals, and told us that he would do everything he could for her.

All weekend he kept a careful watch over her and, even though Sunday was his day off, he brought her temperature back down to normal and with his careful and undivided attention, the infection had subsided.

On Monday I received a phone call saying she was going to be okay, and that he was going to take X-rays.

Shores to Rid Field of Weeds

High weeds in the field behind Michaux lane and the ski hill behind the old Vernier School are being eliminated said Shores Public Safety Chief Joseph Vitale Monday, August 19.

The weeds will be cut to ground level without endangering existing wildlife, including birds.

Chief Vitale said the decision to cut the weeds, which stand between four and five feet, is because a very dangerous situation exists in that particular area, especially to young children who play there.

Another problem is drinking minors, who find the tall plants a hiding place for consuming alcoholic beverages.

Many small children play in the weeds, which creates another danger, for who knows who might be waiting for them to come within reach, the chief said.

"Thank goodness we have not had anything happening to the children, or to any one so far," Chief Vitale said, "but we do not want to take any chances."

"Our biggest problem, to date, are the minors who hide in these weeds and have beer and drinking parties. The stalks are so high that these young people dig deep holes, in the ground, and build fires, with the flames and smoke going undetected. Not only does this create a hazard to life and limb, but there is also the possibility of a fire igniting the weeds."

The chief said it is close to impossible for the public safety officers of his department to patrol this area on foot, beginning from this side of 400 Vernier. That property is in The Woods and just on the Shores-Woods city limits line.

The impossibility, he pointed out, is that the terrain is rough and rock infested and any one can get hurt, either from the holes dug for the fires or by the rocks.

The rocks and other debris will be removed before the weeds are cut, and the holes filled wherever they are found, by personnel of the Department of Public Works, Chief Vitale added.

At 12:15 p.m. that afternoon Dr. Shaya entered surgery to fix poor, little Mandie's paws. He set her paws, got the casts on, and through another X-ray he found that it wasn't good enough to suit him, so he kept setting them until they were perfect. At 4:30 p.m. the operation was over and Mandie Lee's bones were back together and ready to heal.

We brought Mandie Lee home the next day to recuperate.

One week later, (August 6), Mandie went back for an examination. Dr. Shaya checked her paws, and everything was doing well.

On August 16, at 9 a.m., Mandie Lee will have another X-ray and her casts will be taken off and soon she'll be able to run and jump like every other little dog, with a little therapy.

Never in my life have I ever seen a more wonderful and, above all, dedicated veterinarian.

I am proud to say that I saved my dog, and I want everyone to know that there is a man around that never gives up, because the next animal he saves could be your own.

Thanks for listening, and I hope you will find a little space in your paper to print this.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Nanette V. Wilson

Dear Editor:

Your article, (a "Letter to the Editor"), about the 13-year-old girl in your Thursday, August 8, paper gave me the courage to write my story.

I am a housewife and mother, a former registered nurse who let her Michigan license expire. I halted my studies at Wayne State University, College of Nursing, and discontinued working at Bon Secours Hospital because of a stroke resulting in a left-sided paralysis.

After three years of rehabilitation, I took up my life at age 43; limping now, but happy and proud. I am appreciative for all I have. Most of all, for my family, who had, and still has, to adjust to my disabilities.

I take part in voting and community affairs. I ask the question like all concerned parents, "What is the safest and best investment to give to our children?"

I found out it is what my father left me. A good education and an old saying: "Never hate anybody, least of all yourself."

It has not prevented me from making minor mistakes, consequently living in doubt and misery. But I came through blaming myself most of all for my troubles. It was mainly a failure to adjust.

Now I have time to think and read about all my "whys."

Why wait until tragedy strikes? Get busy today. Live and deal with distressing things. Help to right them instead of wasting time and energy complaining. If you want to know how to enjoy life, put in what you want to get out.

Thank you,
Dorothea Schuler,
Grosse Pointe Woods

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur R. Woodford

This coming Saturday is the 160th anniversary of the capture of Washington by the British during the War of 1812. One of the better books recounting this moment in our history is THE DARK-EST DAY: 1814, THE WASHINGTON-BALTIMORE CAMPAIGN, (Lippincott), by Charles G. Muller.

The United States, spurred by the war hawks, optimistically began what has been called Mr. Madison's War or the War of 1812 with an appropriation of $11 million and an effective and fighting force of 3,000. THE DARK-EST DAY is an extremely apt title for this account of the Washington-Baltimore Campaign of this ill-conceived war. The ignominious defeat of American troops at the Battle of Bladensburg, the subsequent capture of Washington, D.C., the burning of our Capitol Building and the White House, President Madison's flight with his staff, and the loss of national records constitute perhaps the nadir of American military history.

Although Mr. Muller does not condone the chief participants, he gives us a clearer understanding of the causes for the debacle at Washington and a greater respect for our stiffened resistance at Baltimore. Replete with maps, notes, bibliography and index, this is an action-packed and well-balanced book.

A somewhat more popularly written account of the British attack on Washington is given in WHEN THEY BURNED THE WHITE HOUSE, (Simon and Schuster), by Andrew Tally. The author explains in his foreword that here and there, dialogue and the gestures of characters have been invented to give life to what are sometimes the bare bones of a historical incident. However, no liberties have been taken with historical facts as set down in respected sources.

This entertaining and ingeniously written book is full

Farms Plans Venetian Night

Farms Boat Club members are planning a Venetian Night, a fun farewell to summer, which is open to all Farms residents on Sunday, September 1. There will be a contest for the best decorated boats in the afternoon and, later, an evening of dancing under the stars.

The boat judging will take place between 3 and 5 p.m. Cash prizes, three for each category, will be presented at 6 p.m.

No limits have been set for decorating; it's an "anything goes" policy. Sailboats over 12 feet, powerboats over 12 feet, and all boats 12 feet and under will be judged separately.

The Neil Williams Band, a 10-piece group, will create the big band sound at the dance, which will go from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The Boat Club is supplying plastic cups and tables with cloths and candles, but has made the evening BYO — bring your own refreshments.

Commodore Thomas Belcher, of Hamilton court, gives special thanks to the chairmen in charge of the activities, Robert Ament, of Maison road, is Venetian Night chairman.

Other committee chairmen include Betty Lardner, of Ridgmont road, publicity; Virginia Shannon, of McMillan road, posters and decoration; Jack Boland, of Madison road, entertainment; and Ronald Hicks, of Madison road, flyers.

Judges are George and Ann Gerow, of Chalfonte road; Richard and Carol Semack, of McKinley avenue; and Mr. Ament. Vice-Commodore John Murphy, of Ridgmont road, and Rear Commodore Robert Maddox, of Merriville road, are the two Boat Club action officers.

of homely facts about the Washington Campaign. For example, Dolly Madison, leaving the White House just before the arrival of the English incendiaries on the afternoon of August 24, 1814, allegedly snatched what she thought was the original Declaration of Independence from the wall of the Cabinet Room, and British Admiral Cockburn, arriving at the destroyed White House, reportedly remarked, "You see how inhospitable the President and his lady are. They did not even stay to give us a glass of port."

Probably the best account of the capture of Washington and the repulse of the British at Baltimore will be found in Walter Lord's THE DAWN'S EARLY LIGHT, (Norton). The author's well-researched story gives the reader a vivid account of the seizure of the capital and the burning of the White House and other public buildings.

Behind-the-scenes glimpses of battle plans and military strategy, and of top-level cabinet meetings are obtained largely through personal letters and journals of military and political figures involved on both sides of the conflict.

During the British advance on Baltimore by land and by sea, Francis Scott Key conceived our national anthem, (hence the title of the book), the words of the song reflecting events as he witnessed them from a boat off-shore, words which also convey the suspense of that anxious night when Baltimore's fate was hanging in the balance.

Impressive is Mr. Lord's use of source material tirelessly assembled. In an epilogue is the story of his sailing the shallow water of Chesapeake Bay to get the feeling of the theatre of war as it appeared to the combatants of 1814. The maps, indispensable to such an account, are, in this case, numerous and admirably done. In all, this is a well written book which brings the uncertain early years of our nation very close to us today.

For those readers interested in gaining an overall understanding of the War of 1812, I recommend the following two titles: THE WAR OF 1812, (Knopf), by Reginald Horsman; and THE WAR OF 1812: A COMPACT HISTORY by James R. Jacobs and Glenn Tucker.

Both of these histories describe the economics, politics, strategy, tactics and personalities connected with the War of 1812; both deal with the Indian problem; both bring out the great difficulties of waging war while relying on state militias, often subject to political manipulations; both are fair in their praise of the great leaders like Brock and Perry and in their criticism of poor performers like William Hull and Henry Proctor.

Mr. Horsman relies heavily on government documents and state papers, both British and American, as sources. After scrutinizing the troubles that led to war, he describes each engagement, after which he places it in perspective, describing its impact on the war as a whole. The final chapter, with its general summary and evaluation, is outstanding for its clarity and objectivity.

The Jacobs and Tucker history has more of the flavor of actual participation; there is greater detail of military and naval engagements than in Mr. Horsman's book, and there is a chapter devoted to the weapons, tactics and uniforms of the war. However, it is less exhaustive in its materials on neutral rights and impressment. In total, this volume is ideally suited for the reader of military history who likes his history to the point.

TIP TO MOTORISTS

It's better to take pains in preventing accidents, motorists, than it is to suffer pain as a result of them.

SELLING YOUR HOME?

There's a local firm called Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. that has come up with a new idea in selling homes. If successful, it could change their industry in Grosse Pointe considerably. It's called GROUP LISTING, which means they will immediately purchase your home, at your asking price, once you have listed with them. The one circumstance, they say, is that they must have a group of five similar homes before their plan takes effect. Once achieved, they buy all five homes simultaneously. They say it's easier to sell five homes in a group because it's easier on the buyer and much easier to promote. For more information you can call Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co., 882-0087, direct.

From Another Pointe of View

All good things must come to an end, but who ever said the end has to be sad, dull, an anti-climax? The Junior League of Detroit certainly doesn't buy that kind of thinking.

So... the Junior League is calling all children to a "Goodbye Summer" Fun Day on the Kern Block in downtown Detroit, scheduled for Saturday, September 7, (September 8, in case of rain), with the fun planned to start at 10 in the morning and proceed, continuously, until 3 in the afternoon.

The Skate Mobile will be there, with 125 pairs of roller skates so 125 children can skate at a time. It's free of charge.

Budding artists will be able—encouraged!—to test their talents by decorating the Kern Block's sidewalks with chalk drawings.

Budding athletes may test their running and teamwork abilities in the traditional two-legged races, the adventurous three-legged and wheelbarrow races.

At 1 o'clock comes a real treat: the arrival of the Detroit Police Helicopter, plus some of Detroit's Motorcycle policemen. They'll stay until 2, and anyone who wants will have a chance to take a look at the whirlybird's insides.

John Lambrecht, has promised to bring his sky diving equipment, set up a display and talk about his adventures.

There'll be clowns handing out candy and bubble gum... bubble gum blowing contests... a concession stand offering hot dogs, popcorn and other refreshments.

Assisting "Goodbye Summer" chairman Mrs. Richard W. Lambrecht, Jr., of Meadow lane, are Mrs. Edmund R. Sutherland, in charge of volunteers, and Mrs. G. William Paddock, responsible for supplies.

Assisting them will be Girl Scout Cadets, Troop 666-Neighborhood 15, Senior Scout Troop 215-Neighborhood 117 and a passel of Junior League of Detroit members.

Home From Hoover Centennial

Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker is home again in Vendome road after participating in the Herbert Hoover Birthday Centennial celebrations August 6 through 10 in West Branch, Iowa.

It was a joyous and nostalgic occasion for Clara Brucker, whose late husband served as Governor of Michigan, for the Bruckers and the Hoovers were personal as well as political friends.

Mrs. Brucker, as a Hoover Hostess, was on hand for all the Centennial events, from the three-day recreation of tent Chautauqua by the National Park Service as a special tribute to Mr. Hoover through the culminating August 10 Centennial Ceremonies.

Two Young Talents

How well do substances conduct electricity? Visitors to the free Detroit Science Center have an opportunity to find out this month by experimenting with a variety of materials in an exhibit designed by 14-year-old Marc Pytell, son of Robert and Laurie Pytell, of Kenwood court.

Marc's exhibit, one of 12 chosen from the 1974 Metropolitan Detroit Science and Engineering Fair for Detroit Science Center display, won second place at Saint Paul School and an "outstanding" ribbon at the Mott High School regional exhibition in Warren.

Using substances such as wax, aluminum, zinc and water, Science Center visitors make electrical contact, then watch as a meter registers the current.

"It shows what some of the most basic conductors are and how they compare," says Marc, about to enter ninth grade at Austin Prep School, "making the principle of conductivity more easily understood."

"Memories of Paris," a moody record shot taken by 18-year-old Molly McCormick, of Rivard boulevard, will continue on display at the Kodak Photo Gallery in the Avenue of the Americas, New York, through September 13.

Her four attendants included her sister, Mrs. Leonard Rusin, Bobbie Garbarino, Mrs. Samuel Thompson and Marcia Cafferty.

All wore floor length red and white dotted swiss dresses and large-brimmed red and white hats trimmed with white ribbon, and carried small bouquets of red Sweetheart roses and white daisies.

The bridegroom chose as best man a Wayne State University Medical School classmate Neal Johnson, and as ushers James Cafferty, Leonard Rusin and Lee Moss.

The newlyweds vacationed in northern Michigan, Aruba in the Caribbean and Atlanta.

They will be living in Sterling Heights. The bridegroom is scheduled to commence his residency in Internal Medicine at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. The bride will continue to teach in the Mount Clemens School District.

Hawaii to Be Theme For Christian Women

Hawaiian Delight is theme of this month's Christian Business and Professional Women Detroit East Side Council dinner program scheduled for Tuesday, August 27, at 6:30 o'clock at the Thomas Manor.

Christine Curry will demonstrate flower arranging. Also featured will be a display of Hawaiian objects, photographs and slides provided by members who have visited Hawaii, and a pre-dinner concert of Hawaiian music by pianist Ilah Sarber.

Special guest musician Rosalind ("Rusty") Himmer, autoharpist and soprano soloist, will offer Hawaiian melodies during the program.

The inspirational message will be brought by Dorothy Edwards, Public Speaking and Psychology teacher at Detroit Bible College, currently working on her doctorate in Radio and TV.

All guests are invited to add to the atmosphere by dressing Hawaiian-style. Reservations may be made by calling 526-6844 or 791-3645.

Reveal Youth Orchestra Audition Date Schedule

Last preliminary auditions for all sections of the Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra will be held Friday and Saturday, August 23 and 24, at Ford Auditorium. Viola, cello and bass players are particularly welcome.

Any talented young musician living in the Detroit metropolitan area is eligible for membership, provided he or she not drop out of school band or orchestra activities in order to seek or maintain membership in the DSYO.

Applicants will be asked to perform a solo composition of their own choosing and to sightread some representative orchestral excerpts.

All players in the final auditions, to be scheduled in September, must have played a preliminary audition.

In addition to regular DSYO rehearsals held Saturday afternoons late September through April, sectional rehearsals are held under the guidance of members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra whose coaching and assistance have been important contributions to the general development of the Youth Orchestra.

The DSYO has a limited number of scholarships, awarded on the basis of talent and need, to study privately with DSO players.

Under the direction of Paul Freeman, conductor-in-residence of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, the DSYO rehearses and performs a substantial portion of the standard symphonic repertory.

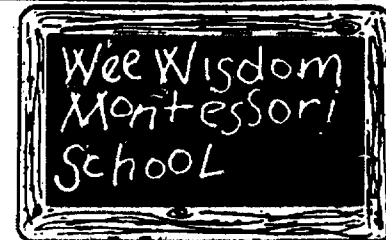

This coming season the public concerts at Ford Auditorium have been planned. One will be a performance of Orff's "Carmina Burana" presented in collaboration with the Detroit Board of Education and featuring massed choruses from Detroit Public High Schools.

The highly successful series of chamber music programs using DSYO musicians also will be continued.

Appointments for auditions may be made by telephoning the DSO at 961-0700.

The way your hair should be styled depends largely on the shape of your face. Study your own face and hairline, and have some ideas about what will be a complimentary style. Remember this: high lines lend height, while low lines give flatness. A heart-shaped face, for example, should have hair styled low enough to be fluffy below the ears, and to widen the face. If ears are large style your hair over them.

Mazur-Haas Vows Exchanged July 13

Newlyweds Will Reside in Groversville, N. Y., Where Both Are Teachers in the Groversville Enlarged School District

The Stanhope avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Haas was setting for the reception following the wedding of their daughter, Virginia Kay, and John Mazur Saturday, July 13, in Our Lady Queen of Peace Church.

A long gown of white cotton voile with a lace bodice inset was the former Miss Haas' choice for the 12:30 o'clock rites at which The Reverend Daniel C. Compo presided.

A wide lace band edged her skirt and her full sleeves ended in wide lace-banded cuffs, while a wide band of matching lace bordered her floor length veil. Yellow Sweetheart roses, stephanotis, white daisies and ivy formed her Williamsburg bouquet.

Mimi Nimocks, who came from Dallas to serve as her sister's honor attendant, and bridesmaids Agnes Mazur, the bridegroom's sister, and Jeanie Johnson, of Hillsdale, wore yellow flocked cotton frocks accented with bands of small orange flowers and carried baskets of yellow and orange flowers fashioned from the dress fabric.

Their headpieces were matching yellow picture hats.

David Mazur acted as his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Mazur, of Amsterdam, N.Y.

John Haas, of Burlington, Vt., the bride's brother, and Robert Shults, of Johnstown, N.Y., ushered.

The bride's mother complimented her pink gown overlaid with white lace with a pink cymbidium orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother chose a pale green gown accented with white lace and a corsage of white gardenias.

Guitar music during the service was provided by Cindy Kushman, the bride's cousin, and Kathy Guiles.

After a vacation on the West Coast the newlyweds will be at home in Groversville, N.Y., where the bride, who attended Saint Scholastica High School in Chicago, Aquinas College and was graduated from Western Michigan University, is a teacher in the Groversville Enlarged School District at Park Terrace, N.Y.

Soroptimists Tour Cottage

Soroptimist International of Grosse Pointe held a combined program-business meeting at Cottage Hospital Wednesday, August 14, with members gathering in the board room at 7:30 o'clock for dessert and coffee.

After a business session they toured the Hospital.

Many had never seen the plaque near the emergency receiving desk acknowledging the donation Grosse Pointe Soroptimists made to Cottage's building program in memory of several deceased members.

The tour was conducted by Hospital staff members Carolyn Thomson and Nancy Davidson, Soroptimists who made the meeting arrangements.

Carolyn, chief medical technologist at Cottage, is an active member of the Michigan and Detroit Societies for Medical Technology. She has served as president of the Detroit Society.

She has also been president and vice-president of the Grosse Pointe Soroptimist Club, to which she has belonged for seven years.

Nancy is Cottage's director of development. She currently spearheads the three-to-four-year development program designed to raise $3 million for additional hospital renovation and remodeling.

She has been a member of the Cottage Women's Auxiliary for 10 years and is a past-president of the Southeast District, Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries.

She has been a Grosse Pointe Soroptimist for two years, serving previously as second vice-president-program chairman. She is the Club's current corresponding secretary.

Miss Carolyn Wicks, former administrator of Cottage Hospital, is a charter member of the Grosse Pointe Soroptimists. Upon her retirement to Tucson, Ariz., a few years ago, she was made a life member of the club.

From The Walton-Pierce Collection for fall and winter we selected a three piece ensemble for the Mollie Parnis Boutique. It's a white and brown heringbone Eisenhower jacket, new eased skirt and brown silk blouse. A white knit dress trimmed with narrow bands of camel and brown will begin fall fashionably and will be perfect under our new fitted camel coat later. Our two selections come in sizes from 4 for the petite. For the taller type Nat Kaplan designed a soft beige tweed coat and lavished it with a tawny fox collar. There is also a high fashion tan camel knit coat with a fox collar. Right now you can find an excellent size and price range of top fashions at Walton-Pierce.

Pointer of Interest

JERRY SCHOENITH, OF LAKESHORE ROAD

By Tom Panzenhagen

"The easiest people to entertain are entertainers because they never get entertained." So says Jerry Schoenith, who doesn't do so badly at providing a good time for the hundreds of patrons attending his Palm River Roostertail Club each night, either.

Mr. Schoenith is the owner, general manager and creator of the new Roostertail complex, a three-room compound which may seat up to 1,500 people any night of the week.

That's a lot of entertaining, but Jerry seems devoted to doing it. In fact, it's difficult to get him to talk about anything else.

"I live basically for the Roostertail," he admits. "I'm selfish and don't have time for anything else."

Challenge Accepted "Selfish" may not be the proper word, but it conveys the correct message. At age 31, 10 years after acquiring control of the Club, Jerry Schoenith is more concerned about the Roostertail's progress than ever.

And it's not just the money involved. Jerry, competitive by nature, looks upon his venture as a challenge.

"If someone would hand me $5 million, (a conservative estimate of the amount it would take to rebuild the Roostertail in its present state), for the Club, I might just take it and build another one down the street."

But the fact is that he has turned down offers very near that sum, largely because what the Roostertail has become doesn't mark an end to the task at hand.

Maintaining the complex is chore enough for 150 employees, all of whom, of course, need supervision and direction. Catering doesn't get done by itself, nor do acts book themselves into the Club.

Hotel Coming An even greater challenge on the Schoenith horizon is a 17-story, 500-room hotel to be built adjacent to the Roostertail, hopefully to be completed by 1976.

The structure would provide covered boat wells for boat patrons and, among other conveniences, a putting green on the roof.

After that is finished, Jerry concedes, he doesn't know what might lie ahead. Which brings up two interesting points: how does someone who headed a multimillion dollar operation when he was 21, piloted hydroplanes for five years and is almost singlehandedly responsible for the resurrection of the Roostertail find a challenge?

And what stimulates continued interests in those challenges?

Austin Graduate Let's look at the man behind the entrepreneur. Graduated in 1961 from Austin Catholic Prep, Jerry quickly went to work at the Roostertail, then owned by his parents, Joseph and Millie Schoenith.

But by 1963 he had become engrossed in another of the family's ventures, powerboat racing.

Piloting the Atlas Van Lines, Jerry was named racing's Rookie of the Year in 1964. In 1968, his next to last year in racing, he won the Mayor's Trophy Race in Seattle, the President's Invitational in Washington, D.C. and the Horace C. Dodge Memorial Trophy Race on the Detroit River.

Forced out of racing in 1969 because of an injury, Jerry has said that he will build a museum to powerboat racing "because of all racing has meant to the Schoeniths."

Opens Upper Deck His persistence in powerboat racing might be attributed to pride or ego. His association with the Roostertail cannot.

Named general manager of the faltering Club in 1964, Jerry opened the Upper Deck, Detroit's rock mecca of the '60's.

"It may sound corny," he says, "but I think saving the Roostertail has helped save Detroit. If the Schoeniths had taken a pile of money and given up on Detroit, and if Detroit collapsed, this area, (The Pointe), wouldn't have been worth much, either."

But even back in the mid-60's Jerry Schoenith wasn't quite satisfied with the policy of the Club.

"For years we ran the Roostertail the way the Schoeniths wanted it," he admits, "but when I took over we decided to run it for the people."

All-Age Entertainment Jerry "took over" in 1968. With the consent of his family, of course.

About that time he decided to abandon the Upper Deck. "When I got older, (meaning his mid-20's), I thought to heck with it — and went ahead developing the new Club."

Since then his main desire has been to "get a spectrum of entertainment that will appeal to all ages" into the Roostertail.

Along the way he has succeeded in acquiring some of the devious skills a restaurateur, or any businessman, must have to promote his enterprise.

When the Mills Brothers were in town recently and advance reservations were not what they should have been, Jerry arranged for some negative publicity to stimulate Detroiters.

Hair Problems? . . . Is your hair dry and sun bleached after the long hot summer? The all new LaParisiene Salon, 15233 Kercheval in the Park can help you solve your "frizzies." Call for an appointment 821-1650. Also ask about our free Vivian Woodard make-up consultation.

ANTHONY AND THE CUT-UPS—introduce the "Betweenner." For those between-haircut times when all you want is a shampoo, blow dry and warm iron curl. Anytime. 18134 Mack Avenue. Call 885-3240.

"Two good ways of getting publicity," Mr. Schoenith says, are "after an event tell them how good it was or before an event tell them how bad it's going to be."

Records Fall He told them how bad it was going to be . . . and the Mills Brothers went on to break 16-year-old attendance records at the Roostertail.

So the success story of Jerry Schoenith seems complete, but there is another side to both the business and the private man.

On the apparent glamor of owning a night club, Jerry observes: "The night club business may seem glamorous, but when you have to serve 500 baked alaskas in one night it can get pretty hectic."

And on the criticism he has received for not being as involved in charity work as is his family, particularly his twin brother Tom: "I don't get really involved in my family's affairs."

"And I think my part in the Roostertail is doing enough to revitalize Detroit."

But with some prompting Jerry will admit that he has often been "the man behind the scenes" as far as his brother's charities are concerned. There was, for instance, the time "Tom pulled a van up to the Roostertail and took half of it away for one of his groups."

No Time For Marriage But for the most part the Roostertail is the limit of Jerry Schoenith's activities. He says he hasn't even had time to get married. He'd like to have had some children by now.

"My brother Tom is married, with a three-year-old son I'm going to steal some of that. That's the only thing I feel I've missed out on."

But some things do have to be passed by if others are to be experienced, and right now Jerry Schoenith is experiencing what it feels like to be a tycoon.

Tycoon, by his own definition, is "someone who is never satisfied."

"That's what I am, never satisfied."

He'll probably be a tycoon forever.

James Scott To Play On Cranbrook Carillon

James U. Scott, son of Dr. and Mrs. Marion U. Scott, of Ballantyne road, carillon emeritus at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, will present a carillon recital at Christ Church Cranbrook this Sunday, August 25, at 4 o'clock.

Graduated from University Liggett School in 1973, he is presently a sophomore at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va.

Featured on Mr. Scott's program will be his own composition for carillon "Tinnitubula" and a popular piece "The Maury River Rag" by Robert Evans, graduated from W&L this year. Both are being publicly performed for the first time.

The recital is part of the Summer Series held every year at Cranbrook. All recitals are performed rain or shine in the casual, quiet atmosphere of the Cranbrook grounds.

The public is welcome.
