 LT. GOV. JAMES H. BRICKLEY was named 16th president of Eastern Michigan University today, it was announced by the Board of Regents at a special meeting. He succeeds Harold E. Sponberg, who served from 1965 until his resignation effective July 1 of this year. The Lieutenant Governor was selected from more than 120 candidates after a search of several months duration. Recommendations to name Brickley to the post came from Gov. William Milliken and Sen. Philip Hart, among others.

 A CITIZENS GRAND JURY in Wayne County yesterday indicted 57 persons accused of participating in an arson-for-profit scheme. In a coordinated series of pre-dawn raids, teams of detectives rounded up fire chasers, repair contractors and home owners. The grand jury charged the defendants with 188 separate counts of arson, conspiracy to commit arson, perjury and insurance fraud in connection with 52 house fires. Wayne County Prosecutor William Cahalan said the fire insurance settlements collected on the 52 fires totaled $816,925 and indicated that this was only a small fraction of the multi-million-dollar arson racket in Wayne County.

Saturday, November 9
 THE MICHIGAN STATE Spartans handed top-ranked Ohio a crushing defeat in Spartan Stadium today but not until 46 minutes after the game ended did it become official. Big Ten Commissioner Wayne E. Duke announced the final decision after conferring with the head referee. The dispute over who had won came during the final seconds of the game when Ohio State scored what appeared to be the winning touchdown. Officials said even if there had been time left, MSU would have won the game since Ohio State had men in motion on the play and the game would end on an offensive foul.

Sunday, November 10
 MILK PRICES in Detroit supermarkets are scheduled to rise 16 cents a gallon tomorrow. Numerous dairy farmers are closing their plants as the cost of producing milk becomes prohibitive. The Michigan Milk Producers Association said in the last 12 months, 275 Michigan farmers have disposed of their commercial milking herds. The problem is that the dairymen cannot pay the costs of feeding cows and producing milk unless the price rises.

Monday, November 11
 THE DEVALUATION of Israeli currency brought riots among the slum dwellers yesterday who were protesting that move and simultaneous raising of prices. The devaluation move was an attempt to hold the drain on Israel's foreign currency reserves. Costs skyrocketed, however, as the price of milk jumped from 15 to 25 cents a quart, sugar tripled from 16 to 48 cents a pound and gasoline increased from $1.53 to $1.75 a gallon.

Tuesday, November 12
 THE UNITED MINE WORKERS went out on strike at 12:01 this morning affecting industry nationwide. The union-organized mines produce two-thirds of the nation's coal. On Monday, UMW Vice President Mike Trbovich said a tentative contract settlement was unlikely before the end of the week. The ratification period for approving a new contract takes 10 days and could cause the strike to last three weeks. The railroad and steel mill industries said the strike would not be felt for about a week.

Woods and Farms Win Pedestrian Safety Honors

RIK, traffic safety officer, Grosse Pointe Woods; Grosse Pointe Woods City Manager CHESTER PETERSEN, and Grosse Pointe Farms Traffic Safety Officer JOSEPH BELANGER. Grosse Pointe Woods was one of two Michigan cities to receive the Award of Excellence, AAA's second highest Pedestrian Safety Award, while Grosse Pointe Farms was one of 25 Michigan cities to win an AAA Pedestrian Safety Citation. Thirty-one states and 2,287 cities across the U.S. took part in the competition.

Vandals Use Spray Paint On 9 Cars

Complaints Come from Owners of Autos All Parked in Same General Area Sunday Night

Cars parked on the street and in parking lots in an area of The Farms were the targets of vandals wielding cans of black spray paint Sunday evening, November 10.

Farms police received nine complaints between 8 and 9 p.m. that evening from callers reporting that their cars had been damaged by black paint sprayed on them. The vandalized cars ranged from economy subcompacts to late-model luxury autos.

Parked at Hospital
 Two complaints were received at 8:13 p.m. from persons whose cars had been parked in the Cottage Hospital parking lot. Both owners estimated damage at over $100. The cars had been parked at the lot between hours of 2:30 and 8 p.m.

Police were notified at 8:29 p.m. of damage done to a car parked on Beaupre avenue. The owner estimated the cost of repair at over $100. The car had been parked at that location from 5:45 to 8 p.m.

At 8:40 p.m. another complaint came into the station about spray paint damage to a car parked at Ridge and (Continued on Page 6)

Hairdressers Jubilant Over Judge's Decision In Men Clientele Case

Two Operators in Leon Sehoyan's Beauty Shop Found Not Guilty of Violating State Barber Licensing Statute

By Barbara Bruno
 "Men in Grosse Pointe no longer have to sneak around and come in the back door of beauty shops in order to get their hair styled," enthused Pointe hairdresser Leon Sehoyan following a Circuit Court decision that found two hairdressers employed by Leon's of Grosse Pointe not guilty of violating the state barber licensing statute.

Whether the impact of the decision spreads throughout The Pointe is dubious but it has made Sehoyan a happy man. "I'm tired of the harassment and intimidation we've gotten because we do men's hair here," he said, adding his belief that the ruling has now cleared the way for hairdressers in all of Wayne County to cut men's hair.

The two hairdressers, Laura Bowman and Kathleen Lamia, were charged with cutting men's hair without a barber's license. Both, as licensed cosmetologists working in a licensed cosmetology establishment, could cut women's hair.

Judge Ryan's Ruling
 Wayne County Circuit Court Judge James Ryan ruled Wednesday, November 6, that "that portion of the cosmetology act which purports to limit the cosmetologist to cutting the hair of females only is unconstitutional in that it bears no reasonable relationship to the purposes of the legislation."

Mr. Marston said he believes this is the first time such a ruling has been made at the Circuit Court level. But he acknowledged that the decision by Judge Ryan does not necessarily settle the issue in all of Wayne County.

"We soon will have 33 circuit judges in the Wayne County system," he said. "If a similar case came before another judge, that judge would not be bound by Judge Ryan's decision. I'm sure they would consider his opinion, however, before deciding a similar issue."

He said he felt that if a (Continued on Page 4)

Two Pointes Get Awards For Safety

American Automobile Association Honors Farms and Woods at Ceremonies in Dearborn

Grosse Pointe Woods and Grosse Pointe Farms received awards from the American Automobile Association November 6, 1974 for their outstanding pedestrian safety records in ceremonies at the Dearborn Inn.

Grosse Pointe Woods was one of two Michigan cities to receive the AAA Award of Excellence, while Grosse Pointe Farms received a Triple-A Pedestrian Safety Citation in AAA's 35th annual Pedestrian Safety Evaluation.

The Award of Excellence, AAA's second highest pedestrian safety award, is given to states and cities which achieve top performance in both their pedestrian safety programs and their pedestrian death and injury records in specific population categories.

Outstanding Records
 AAA's Pedestrian Safety Citations recognize communities with outstanding pedestrian death and injury records.

Grosse Pointe Woods' award was accepted by Mayor Benjamin Pinkos. Mayor William G. Butler received Grosse Pointe Farms' award. This is the second consecutive year the two cities have won AAA pedestrian safety awards.

The awards were presented by Arthur C. Gibson, manager of Automobile Club of Michigan's Safety and Traffic Engineering Department.

Triple-A pedestrian safety awards and citations were presented on the basis of low pedestrian death and injury totals and effective accident prevention programs inaugurated by cities, Gibson said.

Have No Fatalities
 While U.S. cities in the same category as Grosse Pointe Farms and Grosse Pointe Woods (10,000 to 25,000 population) had a pedestrian death rate last year of 3.3 per 100,000 persons, neither Michigan city had any pedestrian fatalities during that time, Gibson pointed out.

Pointe Teachers Have Productive Review Sessions

Students Dismissed Early to Allow Curriculum Half-Day to Discuss Projects and Programs and Make Future Plans

According to Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, assistant superintendent-instruction, Pointe teachers had a productive afternoon on Tuesday, November 5. Students were dismissed early to allow all staff members to participate in a Curriculum Half-Day, a periodic series of review sessions during which activities are discussed, projects and programs are scrutinized and possibilities for the future are mapped out.

Dr. Spagnoli gave a brief summary of a few of the highlights of the Curriculum Day at a regular meeting of the Board of Education on Monday, November 11. The agendas submitted by each participating principal illustrated the wide variety in the territory covered at each school.

Problems Solved
 Dr. Spagnoli said some difficulties that have been encountered in the new skills/talent project were able to be smoothed out on Tuesday. The Monteith reading program was discussed as well as the new ASSIST spelling program at Ferry School.

Noting the high incidence of vandalism at schools recently, Dr. Spagnoli said methods of improving student citizenship were the focal point for another session at Ferry.

At South High, the battery of Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests, (PSAT), Scholastic Aptitude Tests, (SAT), and the American College Tests, (ACT), were discussed and new proposals for English department graduation requirements were suggested.

More Team Teaching
 North High teachers in the Adjusted Learning Program devoted an hour to curriculum planning for the coming year, and decided they would like to take advantage of more team teaching. They also spent time arranging, cataloging and labeling reference materials used in their program.

A Middle School Industrial Arts meeting featured work on the course guide for Exploratory Industrial Arts and revision of the curriculum outline for introductory courses in woodworking and metalworking.

Discussion also centered on eye safety devices and the advantages and disadvantages of switching teaching areas and classrooms.

Discuss Varied Topics
 Topics for discussion by the Parcels Middle School Science department included the Metric System, radioactivity, oceanography and equipment repair.

It is the teachers themselves who play a large role in outlining procedures for curriculum days, along with principals, the staff of the department of instruction and the system-wide professional Study Committee. The days are considered vital to the smooth functioning of the entire school system.

Wrong-Way Driver Faces Trio of Varied Charges

Farms police charged a 60-year-old Warren man with reckless driving, assault on a police officer and resisting arrest early Thursday morning, November 7, after chasing him on Lakeshore road where he was driving the wrong way down the one-way lane.

William Anthony Calanus, of 13325 Carol, Warren, will be arraigned on the reckless driving charge at 8:30 a.m. in Farms Municipal Court Wednesday, November 27.

Farms Officers Samuel Cardella, Timothy Morrison and Kenneth Pine, patrolling near 237 Lakeshore at 1:49 a.m., reported they were forced off the roadway to avoid a collision with the

Pointe Vote Is Heavily Republican

19,738 Electors for Milliken; Two Defeated Proposals Given Strong Support Here

By Nancy Kramer

Faced with miserable weather and a king-sized ballot containing no local issues to vote on, Pointers did not turn out in full force to give gubernatorial incumbent William Milliken the mandate they might have had conditions been otherwise.

An average of about 65 percent of the registered voters in each of the Pointes showed up at the polls last Tuesday, November 5, to perform their civic duty. As might be expected, residents showed a heavy preference for Republicans.

Milliken was far and away the front runner in each Pointe with Levin getting his strongest measure of support from The Woods with 28 percent of that community's vote.

Strong for Milliken
 The Pointe contributed 19,738 votes to Milliken's total Wayne County showing of 290,777 and contrasted sharply with the rest of the county which leaned in Sander Levin's favor with a vote of 404,398.

While the rest of the county voted almost completely Democratic, Pointe residents provided a strong pocket of resistance to the national trend by voting Republican practically all down the line.

The only exceptions to the case in major offices occurred in The Park and Woods with both communities showing more support for Democrat Richard Austin for the office of Secretary of State over Republican Lorraine Beebe.

Two Favorites Lose
 In the first district State Senate contest, voters went for Republican Earl Heenan over William Fitzgerald, who eventually won, and for Republican Raymond Gorney over winner John Hertel in the second district. In the 26th district voters favored Republican Robert Schultz over Democrat Joseph M. Snyder. Schultz won overall however.

Incumbent Congressional Representative in the 14th district, Lucien Nedzi, (D), who was returned to his seat, did not come out ahead in his race against Republican Herbert Steiger in any of the Pointes and incumbent Attorney General Frank Kelley, a Democrat, ran behind Republican Myron Wahls, in each of the Pointes.

In fact, the only partisan incumbents Grosse Pointe supported were Republican Bill Bryant, State Representative, 13th district and Wayne County Commissioner Erv Steiner.

Support Proposals
 The Pointes disagreed with the rest of the state on Proposal C, which dealt with removal of the sales tax on food and prescription drugs. It was voted down in each community. Proposal D, seeking state-wide transportation system bonds, although defeated on the state level, was soundly supported in the Pointe.

In its unique situation, Grosse Pointe Township elected eight candidates to various offices. All ran unopposed and all are Republicans.

George A. Beauchamp was elected supervisor, Thomas Jefferis, clerk, Walter Frizell, treasurer, and Robert Weber, trustee. Frank Jefferis, Donald Haigh, Albert Klick and Frank MacWhirter were elected to two-year terms as constables.

The Shores registered the highest voter turnout with 72 percent. The Woods showed 68 percent. The Farms and The Park had 65 percent and The City had 62 percent.

Trio Nabbed Following Dope Sale; Fourth Flees

Three men were arrested by a State Police narcotics agent with the assistance of Park policemen on Tuesday, November 5, after the agent made a $7,000 cocaine "buy" at Three Mile and Essex drives, according to information released by Park Lt. Gordon Duncan. A fourth man, identity unknown, was able to make an escape and is still being sought by the authorities.

Arrested were John Joseph Bonmarito, 23, of 21120 Norwood, Harper Woods, who is charged with making an illegal delivery of a narcotic, a felony; and Dennis Lee Burton, 26, of 1800 Cottage Grove, Manitou, Mich.; and Paul Francis Kraft, 25, of 11560 Flanders, Detroit, both of whom were specifically charged with carrying a concealed weapon in a vehicle. A .32 caliber pistol and a knife were confiscated from a van in which they were riding.

The trio was arraigned before Park Municipal Judge John Urso on Wednesday, November 6, for a preliminary hearing. All were released on $1,000 personal bond pending examination which was scheduled for yesterday, November 13.

Lt. Duncan said that State authorities were aware of the alleged narcotics activities of the foursome and had been under surveillance for some time. The narcotics agent first made arrangements to purchase the cocaine at East-

Correction!

Honor Society Holds Election

Dr. James Hoeh, principal of South High School, announces the election of 38 new 11th and 12th grade members to the National Honor Society. This is the greatest honor the school can bestow on a student.

Elected by a faculty committee, all members have met the necessary criteria in scholarship, character, leadership and service. Twelfth grade students have a 3.0 (B) or better average; the eleventh grade students a 3.3 minimum honor point average. The hours of service during high school range from 500-3,000.

After their election to the Society, members must maintain the B average, high standards of leadership and character and continue to be active in service or participation in school and community athletics and clubs.

The induction ceremony will be held Monday, November 18, at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium. Parents are invited. Counselors will award new members a pin, certificate and membership card. Present members will serve punch, coffee and cookies during the social period following the induction.

Steiner Heads '76 Celebration

County Commissioner Ervin R. Steiner Jr. has been named chairman of Wayne County's participation in the national Bicentennial Celebration in 1976.

He immediately urged that all cities and townships use the county Bicentennial committee to coordinate joint planning of events and programs.

Steiner, a professional in the field of planning public events, was appointed to the post by Robert E. FitzPatrick, chairman of the County Board of Commissioners.

Steiner said he will invite all 43 municipalities in Wayne County to designate representatives to serve on a county-level committee along with county officials and staff.

"The county will provide a valuable coordinating mechanism which will enable all communities to coordinate their efforts for the maximum benefit of the entire citizenry," Steiner stated, adding: "Many kinds of observances would benefit from a joint local-county approach. County-wide coordination will avoid scheduling conflicts so that all citizens will have an opportunity to attend all major events."

"There is such a wealth of cultural resources in Wayne County that scheduling conflicts could disappoint many citizens if there is no central coordination. We have, to mention just a few, the plans being made by the Detroit and other municipal Bicentennial committees, and institutions such as Greenfield Village and the Detroit Historical Museum.

"The Bicentennial offers a golden opportunity for all of us to gain new insights into the rich history and attributes of government and community life in metropolitan Wayne County.

"We hope to make this the biggest civic event in history. We will invite all communities to participate in one big parade, for example."

Comm. Steiner, (R-Grosse Pointe Farms), is serving his second two-year term on the County Board. He is president of Steiner Promotions, Inc., a firm which specializes in public relations, advertising, promotion and convention planning and counseling.

After finalizing the site for the "buy," the State officers called on the Park police for assistance, and after the money, which was marked, and the dope was exchanged, the police moved in and made the arrests.

The foursome were in a van, but it was not disclosed who was driving. While the officers were converging on the accused men, one man managed to break away and escape on foot. A search of the area was unsuccessful.

The cocaine, weapons and the marked money are being kept as evidence, Lt. Duncan said.

The University Liggett Middle School held its annual Halloween Costume Party on Friday, October 25, with over 150 costumed figures participating.

Elves rubbed elbows with Frankenstein monsters and fairy queens traveled in the company of mustard and ketchup containers.

The students also created and enjoyed games which included a dart throw at teachers' pictures, a marshmallow toss, tricycle races and the ever popular spook house.

Prizes were awarded in several areas of costume design. Jennifer DeMello was considered most beautiful. Jeff Reimyer, dressed as an outhouse, was most original. David Urban was most horrible; David Weitzel, most ugly. Melanie Fahim, dressed as a ketchup bottle and Lisa Burwell, as a mustard container, tied for awards in the most humorous category.

The party was planned and coordinated by Mrs. Walter B. Fisher with the help of many parents including Mrs. William K. Howenstein, whose decorations added much to the evening, and the many parents and faculty members who joined the affair in costume.

The students participated in the UNICEF trick or treat program on Halloween evening. Each year they have contributed a sizeable check to UNICEF and they hope to match their past successes again this year.

Elect Pointers To DBC Board

Three Pointers were elected officers and two were named to the board of directors of the Detroit Boat Club at the annual election of officers and directors for 1975 held Wednesday, November 6.

Kenneth P. Locke and Henry G. Gildner, both of The Farms, were voted president and vice-president respectively. Robert T. Hughes, of The Park, was elected treasurer.

Charles T. McCafferty, of The Park, and Jack Mills, of The Farms, were named to the board of directors.

Agency Seeks Foster Parents

As a result of what social worker Mrs. Catherine Andries termed an excellent response from The Pointe last year, The Catholic Social Services of Wayne County is renewing its plea for more foster homes for the placement of new born infants.

The babies come from the Unwed Parents Department, are discharged from the hospital when they are five days old and must be placed in a temporary home pending permanent placement in an adoptive home, through the agency, or through a return to natural parents when a plan of child care can be established.

Since the infants are placed in foster homes on a temporary basis, they are not adoptable by their foster parents.

Foster parents are licensed by the State of Michigan and the agency supervises the homes and provides professional and financial help and assistance in meeting the needs of babies placed, with the primary responsibility for planning for these children.

Foster parents should be mature, happily married couples who are knowledgeable in child care.

More detailed information on becoming a foster parent is available by calling Mrs. Andries, at 883-2100, extension 310.

Defer Head

Interested applicants are to notify the Department of Personnel by Friday, November 15.

Noting how much Mr. Lowther would be missed, Dr. Adams said a qualified replacement is being sought both inside and outside the Pointe School District.

Saint Michael's to Host Bishop

Saint Michael's Episcopal Church will have the Right Rev. Charles Shannon Mallory, recently elected Bishop of the new diocese of Botswana, as guest preacher Sunday, November 17.

He will celebrate the Eucharist at 8 a.m., preach the 10 a.m. sermon and present a program that afternoon at 3:30 in the parish hall.

The Reverend and Mrs. Mallory, who last visited Saint Michael's in 1972, are spending three months visiting 12 dioceses in this country.

During their stay in The Pointe, they will be the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Noyes, of South Oxford road. They will be dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tennent, of Sunningdale drive, Saturday, November 16.

The Diocese of Botswana was created in 1972 to become the eighth diocese in the Anglican Province of Central Africa. Botswana became an independent republic in 1966. With 16 clergy and 10 men in training for the ministry there is an immediate need for at least five priests from overseas for the next three to five years' needs.

Both Bishop and Mrs. Mallory were raised in California and went to Southwest Africa with their one-year-old daughter Karin in 1961. They spent eight years in Ovamboland, where four of their five children were born, and where the Bishop was responsible for all Anglican Mission work in the north.

They now reside in Gabon, where their five children are in school, and the Bishop presides over his 225,000 square-mile diocese. The Bishop provides encouragement to the scattered Anglican congregations in their efforts to live the Christian life in the midst of the struggle between African tradition and the new Western ways.

Bon Secours Hospital will offer the test Monday through Friday, November 18-22, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Cottage Hospital will offer the test Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, November 20-22 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

All persons who test positive will receive a letter advising further tests by their personal physician. Those who do not receive a letter may assume their test showed a normal blood sugar level.

Osius Concert To Aid College

The Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council will sponsor a benefit concert for Shaw College at Detroit in the Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, on Wednesday, November 20. Concert pianist E. George Osius will present a program for left hand alone, featuring selections by Scarlatti, Bach, Beethoven, Scriabin, Taffs and St. Saens.

Mr. Osius is an assistant professor at Shaw College. He has given numerous concerts at Interlochen, the Detroit Institute of Arts, Birmingham, Royal Oak and Trenton. In 1961 he performed Ravel's Piano Concerto for Left Hand Alone with Valter Poole and the Wayne State University Orchestra.

Mr. Osius, a graduate of Grosse Pointe High is the namesake of George Osius, an early mayor of Grosse Pointe who was instrumental in the planning and layout of Lakeshore road.

Charles Sudro, president of the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council, says, "This benefit program offers an opportunity for Grosse Pointers to enjoy an outstanding concert and at the same time support Shaw College at Detroit, an institution which performs a unique, useful and needed role in the metropolitan community."

Mr. Osius' concert begins at 8 p.m. Admission is $3. Tickets may be obtained by calling 873-7920.

Park Approves Paving Costs

At a meeting held on Monday, October 28, The Park Council approved payments totalling $58,856.15, for paving and catch basin repairs done on Balfour and Berkshire roads, from Jefferson to Lake St. Clair.

The cost of paving the two streets came to $52,383.05, of which the council consented to withhold 10 percent, or $5,238.31, until final inspection is completed. The paving was contracted to the Cook Construction company.

The solons agreed to pay the city consulting engineering firm of Hubbell, Roth and Clark, the sum of $1,180.90, for supervising the paving, and for inspecting the installation and repair of 24 street catch basins done by the Vanopdenbosch company, for which this firm charged $6,000 according to a contract with The Park.

The Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory of Detroit was paid $292.20 for its testing of the asphalt paving material to determine its good quality, and attesting, with Hubbell, Roth and Clark, that high grade material was used. Both firms had men on the job to assure the quality of the material used.

In another action, The Park Council agreed to postpone its next meeting, November 11, Veterans Day, a legal holiday in Michigan, and hold the session on Tuesday, November 12, at 5 p.m.

Presents Ideas for Uses Of Park All Year-Round

Woods resident Donald Brown of Hawthorne road, presented a letter to the council suggesting year-round uses for the park and recreational facilities.

Mr. Brown suggested that the tennis courts be divided into two groups of four and said "it may be possible to bubble four of the courts for winter use on a fee basis to off-set the cost of heating and amortization of the cost of the bubble."

He also suggested the "expansion of the diving well to a 75 foot width rather than a 50 or 55 foot width and relocation of the diving well so that it is close to the bathhouse. If the diving well was located close to the bathhouse and separated adequately the two could be bubbled during the winter."

Mr. Brown said that he "is sure there is enough interest in the community that they would be delighted to have a pool available on a regular basis rather than once or twice a week from the school districts."

Mr. Brown also stated that "the costs of making these facilities available on a year-round basis would be minimal compared to the $2 million it cost to build the park."

Charge Driver

Police said the subject at this time turned his vehicle in a direct line toward the Shores scout car and forced Cpl. Fronczak off the road to avoid a collision.

The man was finally forced to stop at Clairview road and Lakeshore, still driving east in the west bound lane.

Police said the man was helped from his vehicle and informed he was being placed under arrest for reckless driving.

At this time, police said, the man became violent and had to be forcibly restrained and handcuffed.

He was conveyed to the Farms station and again acted in a violent manner, according to police, who said he kicked Officer Cardella and injured Officer Pine who was attempting to place the subject in a cell block.

The man was arraigned at 9 a.m. before Judge Robert Pytell and released on a $100 personal bond.

Hairdressers

No Attempt To Appeal
 Mr. Marston said he is unaware of any attempts to appeal the ruling at present. He noted that if an appeal is made it would probably produce a decision that would carry statewide implications.

And despite the somewhat limited scope of the November 6 decision, it is the largest set-back yet for the Michigan Barbers' Union who have fought to keep men out of beauty salons.

Hairdressers like Leon Sehoyan have fought for the right to serve customers without intimidation whether they are male or female.

Center Offers Yoga Classes

Evening Yoga classes at the War Memorial began a new term on Wednesday, November 13. Morning classes will start Tuesday, November 19.

The classes will be presented as a series of mental and physical exercises and relaxations designed to relieve tensions and tone basic organs and muscles.

The evening class is held at 7:30 p.m. and is open to men, women and teens. The morning class begins at 10 a.m. and is for women only.

Loose exercise clothing is to be worn to class, and a rug sample or blanket brought to be used as an exercise mat. The course is 8 weeks long, and the fee is $20.

No amount of learning can make up the lack of training any home can give.

Scouts Launch New Activities

Girl Scout Troop No. 1397, which meets in Saint Paul School, has begun its year of activities with their first campout of the season at Camp Holly. Scout leaders Margy Campbell, Jean Doelle and Sue Garska accompanied 29 Junior Scouts for the weekend. Janet Toenjes and Mary Rieli assisted the girls in the woods and in the cabins.

These Scouts, along with Brownie Troop No. 1722, which also meets in Saint Paul, have begun a calendar sale and are planning future badge work and service projects.

Leading the 42 Brownies are Julie Storen, Carol Fitzgerald, Gerry Clark and Peggy Krueger.

Both troops will share an investiture of new scouts ceremony Sunday, November 10, at Saint Paul Church.

Troop Organizer is Sophie Sobson and Troop Consultant is Sue Ruwart.

TMers Celebrate Special Week

Governor William G. Milliken, in an executive declaration, has endorsed "World Plan Week," November 10-17, as a week set aside each year by the International Meditation Society to increase awareness around the world of the benefits of Transcendental Meditation (TM).

The proclamation stated that "The International Meditation Society and the American Foundation for the Science of Creative Intelligence offer programs designed to foster an improved quality of life for citizens in our state."

"Therefore," the statement concluded, "I, William G. Milliken, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby urge all citizens to become better informed of the promise and potential of this technique during the week beginning November 10."

Transcendental Meditation, the practical aspect of the science of creative intelligence, whose offices are in the Farms, is a simple, natural technique introduced by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi for gaining deep rest along with increased awareness. This technique is useful for developing the creative potential of the individual in dynamic activity.

To celebrate "World Plan Week" in Detroit, Dr. Robert Keith Wallace, president of Maharishi International University, has been invited from Arosa, Switzerland, to make presentations to special interest groups in the community. Dr. Wallace, who pioneered the medical research on TM published in "Scientific American" and "Science" magazines, has generated a world wide interest in TM among scientists.

Dr. Wallace is the featured speaker at a dinner presentation Wednesday, November 13, at 6:30 p.m. in the Detroit Athletic Club during which representatives from the business community and local government leaders will hear of specific applications of TM relating to their field.

Wayne State University Medical School will host a discussion of the current medical research on TM, moderated by Dr. Wallace, on Wednesday afternoon in the Purdie Auditorium of Scott Hall. Highlighting week-long activities is an all-day symposium for educators at Wayne State's McGregor Memorial Conference Center, Tuesday, November 12, to examine the usefulness of TM and the Science of Creative Intelligence in secondary school and universities.

Dr. Shirley McNeil, reading coordinator for the Detroit Public School System, and Steven Drucker, professor of law and government at Maharishi International University, will join Dr. Wallace for the program.

Young Driver Learning Fast

A Detroit teenager who was speeding on Lake Shore road to impress two girl passengers, will have to go to court for being a show-off. His trouble mounted when it was found he was wanted on a warrant by New Baltimore authorities for illegal possession of liquor, a misdemeanor.

Craig S. Caron, 17, of 1450 Lakeview was ticketed by Shores Public Safety Officer Bruce Darlington on Saturday, November 9, when the officer stopped the youth for exceeding the speed limit on Lake Shore road.

The patrolman said he was cruising south on the road, when he observed Caron traveling north on Lake Shore at a high rate of speed. The officer turned in the cross-over at Oxford and gave chase. He paced the driver at more than 50 miles an hour. The road is zoned for 30 miles an hour.

The policeman said that Caron stopped for a red traffic signal at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club entrance, and when the light changed to green, the youth took off at a fast pace, but was brought to a stop in front of 1020 Lake Shore.

Patrolman Darlington radioed the station for a routine check over the Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN) machine, and the return reply revealed that Caron was wanted by the New Baltimore police on the liquor charge.

Caron was taken to the station and issued a ticket for speeding, for which he posted a bond of $25, and $50 bond for the New Baltimore offense. His court date is pending.

ACCEPTS BID

The City Council, at its regular meeting Monday, October 21, accepted the bid of William Meyer Landscaping, in the amount of $3,889, for landscaping the St. Clair and Notre Dame fronts and the southerly side yard area surrounding the City Carriage House parking structure. The accepted bid was the lowest of five received.

The Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Citizens will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday, November 20, in the Central Branch of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, 10 Kercheval avenue.

A guest speaker from the Wayne County Department of Social Services, will discuss special programs and services for the mentally disabled.

The public is invited to attend. A coffee hour following the meeting will afford an exchange of thoughts and ideas with the membership.

For those who were unable to attend the October meeting, pamphlets entitled "Pocket Guide to Supplemental Security Income" and "Helping the Aged, Blind and Disabled in Michigan" will be available.

OGDEN TO RETIRE

Chester F. Ogden, of Hawthorne road, will be retiring as Detroit Edison Vice-president-administration on November 1. Mr. Ogden is a member of the board of trustees in The Shores, chairman of the executive committee of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, chairman of the board of United Community Services, Detroit, and is an officer or board member of Children's Hospital, the Citizens Research Council, the Economic Club of Detroit and the Detroit Convention Bureau. In the past he has also headed the War Memorial Association and the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Detroit.

Firemen Help Burn Institute

The Grosse Pointe Park Fire Fighters Association (GPPFFA), covered a portion of the city in their house-to-house march for funds for the National Institute for Burn Medicine (NIBM) on Saturday, November 2, and were gratified by the amount collected within a five-hour period, it was disclosed by Edward Koerber, Association president. They collected a total of $756.30.

"We have only one regret," Koerber said, "and that is we were unable to contact as many people in their homes as we would have liked to. Our time was limited, and we sure would have liked to have covered the entire city. Off-duty firefighters, and a few of their children, took part in the fund drive."

The volunteers, canisters in hand, went from house-to-house, seeking contributions, all of which will be given to the NIBM, which has its headquarters in Ann Arbor. "The members of our Association wish to thank the many residents of our city, who so generously contributed to the fund raising campaign. However, due to the time element, only a small section of the Park could be covered, severely limiting the amount collected."

Should anyone be interested in contributing to the Burn Institute, they can do so by making out a check or money order to the National Institute for Burn Medicine and mail it to Mr. Edward Koerber, c/o Grosse Pointe Park Fire Department, 15115 East Jefferson, Grosse Pointe Park, Mich. 48230. All contributions are tax deductible. The NIBM believes that through its programs, the burn problem can be resolved within the next 10 years, during which time NIBM centers will be established throughout the United States.

The NIBM also believes that the number of burn accidents CAN be cut in half, and half of those who now face death CAN survive, if enough people care enough to help give the victims a fighting

"The lightweight that cuts like a heavyweight."

If you're like me, you want a chain saw with plenty of muscle. So you can use as little muscle as possible. The Pioneer P20 is your saw. A P20 has a 3.14 cubic inch engine. Bigger than other saws in its class. That gives the P20 more cutting power. And with a 14" bar, you can handle a 28" cut with ease. But, the P20 is light. Only 10 pounds, 3 ounces. And that means it's easy to use. The P20 also has automatic chain oiling, automatic compression release for easy starting, and an exclusive anti-kick back chain. It's a tool with more muscle. Blues Boast 10-2-2 Record

Grosse Pointe Hockey Association's Squirt open entry, the Blues, finished last week's play with a win over the Michigan Stags.

On Monday, November 4, the Blues lost to Dearborn Adray, 2-4. Adray previously had been beaten by the Blues, but carried the play effectively while holding high-scoring Johnny Mueller to one goal. The other goal was scored by Phil Brykalski on an assist from Mueller.

The following Thursday, November 7, the Blues took on the Slator team at the Spectrum Arena. With three goals from Johnny Mueller, one each from Erich Avedisian, Tom Dow and Ron Schocker and strong defensive work from Morty Wittmer, Jeff Menchel, Pat Boll and Brian Valice, the Blues won, 6-1.

Goalie Pat McKee made many fine saves to hold back the Slator on surge. Brian Moody, Scott Brady, Phil Brykalski and Morty Wittmer assisted on goals.

The Michigan Stags furnished the opposition on Sunday, November 10, at the Grosse Pointe Civic Arena and were victimized by their own inexperience. The Blues found it easy to score when goals were needed, but their careless play afforded too many scoring opportunities to the younger team. Johnny Mueller picked up three goals. Brian Moody digging hard, scored with an assist from Phil Brykalski and Ron Schocker accounted for the last goal.

The Blues, co-sponsored by Active Industries and Masco Corporation, show promise of a successful season judging from their record of 10 wins, two losses and two ties thus far.

The team is coached by Stu McLaren with John Lazare and Lyle Heavner assisting.

State Champs Display Class

Grosse Pointe's Sherwood Forest Hockey team staged an exciting comeback against a Parkhill, Ont. team Saturday, November 9, when the visiting team jumped to an early three-goal lead.

Showing why they are defending state champions, Sherwood exploded in the third period with eight straight goals. Paul Nadon got the scoring underway with a power play goal and Gary Keys and Brent Rutherford both scored to tie the contest at 3-3.

Fred Springer, with seven minutes remaining, blasted a slap shot past the Parkhill goalie and Rich Nadon countered the surge with a pair of break away goals to put the contest out of reach.

The last two tallies were scored by Sherwood's Tim Parrish who made the score 8-3.

Sherwood will host Ann Arbor's Gunther Builders this Saturday, November 16, at 8 p.m. in the Austin Arena.

The adrenals produce the hormone, adrenaline, which is poured into the blood stream in time of danger or strong emotional upheaval, to brace us or to sustain shock. A deficiency of adrenalin causes slowed down reactions. While much remains to be learned about these glands, it has been found that nicotine, lead, and other chemicals can cause them great damage.

Save money this winter

Cut your heating costs up to 17% with our official insulation program.

Last fall, at the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, Michigan Consolidated introduced a low-cost home ceiling insulation program designed to conserve Natural Gas and cut heating costs up to 17%.

How successful has the program been? Well, in the past 10 months, more than 37,700 homeowners have installed ceiling insulation and, as a result, over one billion cubic feet of Natural Gas per year is being conserved. That's enough to heat over 6,500 additional homes this winter. And, that's why we're continuing our insulation program again this fall. Because now is the time to insulate and save.

The heart of our program is simply this: Install six inches of ceiling insulation in your home. It's a quick, easy and inexpensive project that most homeowners can accomplish by themselves for about $100.

How can you get the job done? First, you can do it yourself, and we'll gladly provide a free handbook that tells you how. Secondly, you can have it done by an insulation contractor and, if you wish, we will provide you with a list of qualified firms. Or, third, we can have the job done for you through one of our participating subcontractors. The cost is often under $200 for homes with less than 1,000 square feet of ceiling area.

If you want the job done through one of our participating subcontractors, we have a payment plan to suit every budget. You can pay cash. Or, you can pay over an extended period at an interest rate of 1% monthly on the unpaid balance. (ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE OF 12%.)

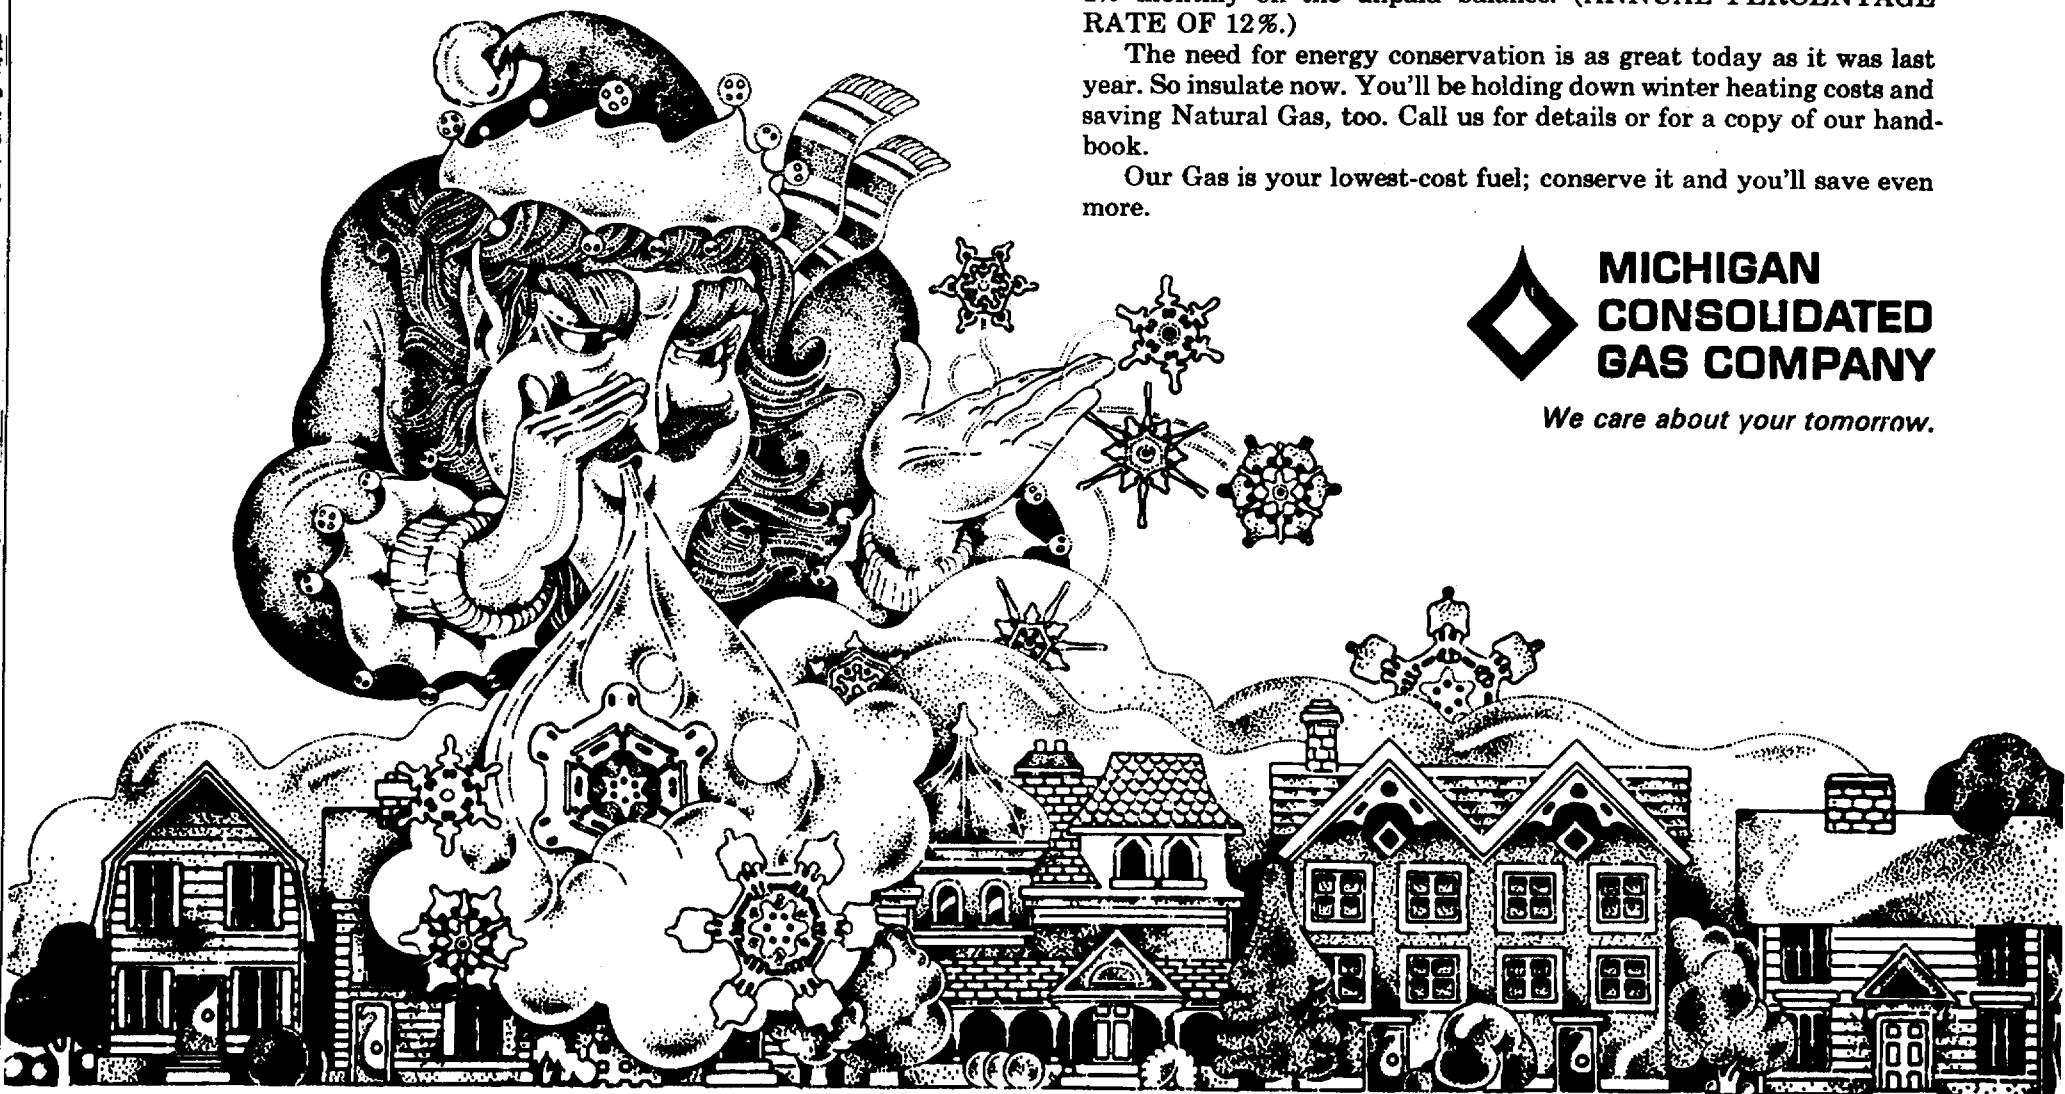

The need for energy conservation is as great today as it was last year. So insulate now. You'll be holding down winter heating costs and saving Natural Gas, too. Call us for details or for a copy of our handbook.

Our Gas is your lowest-cost fuel; conserve it and you'll save even more.

Blue Devils Bow to Norsemen

By Tom Shine

South High's Blue Devils finished their 1974 football season as they bowed to North's Norsemen, 19-5, on Saturday, November 9.

South looked like it might even up the series between the two schools, but two touchdowns by North in the last five minutes dropped South's final record to 5-4.

South scored first when Mike Dooley booted a 25-yard field goal midway through the first quarter.

North scored its only points of the half early in the second quarter. Quarterback Chuck Martin passed to Ed Tropp from seven yards out. The extra point attempt failed.

In the second half, South capitalized on two interceptions to build up a nine point lead, with the team first scoring in the third quarter off an interception by John Wilson.

The running of Pete Fraser put the ball deep in the North territory. Then Dave Wyborski swept in from the five yard line on a fourth down play to give South the lead. The extra point attempt failed.

The next South touchdown resulted from an interception by Tom Steen.

Fraser and Wyborski ran the ball to the North nineteen-yard line. From there Fraser booted up the middle for the score. The extra point attempt failed.

North squandered a beautiful chance to score midway through the fourth quarter. With the ball on the South four-yard line, linebacker Tom Dirks hit Martin causing a fumble that was recovered by Mark Monaghan.

Nevertheless, a few minutes later North tallied its second score of the game.

After a couple of successful drawplays, Fritz Lehmann scored on a twenty-yard draw. The two-point conversion attempt failed.

North pulled off a big play as Martin recovered the onside kick attempt at the South 45-yard line and with a long pass and another well-executed draw play, moved the ball to the South seven-yard line.

With just about a minute and a half remaining, Mike Stafford scored the winning touchdown on a four-yard plunge and the extra point kick was good.

South was unable to move the ball and time ran out as the jubilant North High team raised its record to 5-4.

Friars Defeat Romulus, 26-6 on November 10

By Paul T. Denis

The Austin Friar football team won their second game in a row, Friday, November 10, against Romulus with a score of 26-6. The game, played at Romulus, represented a fine all-team effort.

The Friars' offense dominated until the fourth quarter when Romulus scored on a 70-yard pass play to ruin the Friars' bid for their first shut out of the year. Rich Counsman, a sophomore running back, opened the scoring with a 2-yard plunge in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Tom Kasunic went over from the one-yard line for the score. Extra point attempts on both touchdowns failed. Later in the second quarter, junior Keith Kroll went six yards around the left end for Austin's third touchdown of the afternoon.

Sophomore Joe Sabatella got the two-point conversion on a quarterback keeper.

The only other offensive effort in the second half came when Sabatella connected with senior Phil Russo for a 22-yard touchdown play. The conversion try was unsuccessful. Sabatella had an excellent day in the passing department completing nine out of 16 for 149 yards. Six of those completions were to senior Brad Merelli.

The non-league contest was the Friars' final game of the year. In non-league action, Austin was 3-1 while losing all five league games. Next year Austin will compete in a new division, A-west, which consists of DePoores, Gabriel Richard, Cabrini, Benedictine and Dearborn Sacred Heart.

Football coach Pete Pucher said, "The division change will create a more competitive and realistic situation for Austin."

The division change will affect five of Austin's ten teams, including basketball, cross-country, track, baseball and golf.

Final stats for the year find Tom Kasunic leading in rushing with 494 yards in 145 carries for 6 touchdowns.

Bruins Control Canadian Rival

In their last outing against a well respected Sarnia team the Bruins came out like gangbusters to take an 8-1 victory.

John Davies opened the scoring midway in the first period after receiving a fine pass from Allen Taber. Matt Costello scored after receiving a drop pass from Taber with Jim Kennary assisting. Taber then scored with Mike Burkheiser assisting. Mike Fredal tipped in a shot with Scott Seaver and Tony Curtale setting up the goal. The Fredal-Seaver team scored once again and Burkheiser scored from linemates Costello and Taber. Taber scored his second goal and Jim Morris completed the scoring and Drew Mascarini made some outstanding saves in goal.

On Tuesday, October 26 in an exhibition game the Bruins played a poor second period and paid for it by losing to Robert's Pool, 4-3. Bruin scorers were Burkheiser from Costello and Taber; Taber from Burkheiser and Curtale; and Fredal from Bill Seaver.

The Bruins traveled to Port Huron for a Michigan Open League game on Saturday, October 23, and managed a 2-1 win. Morris and Rob Brykalski scored the goals with Greg Johnston assisting on both.

The following night in another league game the Bruins faced Warren and were victorious, 3-1. Scott Seaver opened the scoring with brother Bill and Fredal assisting. Davies scored on a hard shot after receiving a pass from Morris and Costello scored on the power play with Burkheiser and Taber assisting.

The Bruins played back to back games with Riverside, Ont. on Saturday-Sunday, November 2 and 3. They won the first game, 7-1, at St. Clair Beach. Davies scored the opener from linemates Morris and Johnston and Taber scored after a pass play from Costello and Kennary.

Burkheiser then posted a goal from Costello and Taber and Burkheiser and Scott then scored the next two goals unassisted. Fredal scored No. 6 with Joe Bucciero and Scott Seaver being credited with assists. Bill Seaver completed the scoring from Fredal and Curtale. Brykalski played a great game on defense and Mascarini came up with some fine saves.

The following day at home the Bruins bested Riverside, 6-2. Davies scored the three-goal 'hat trick'. His linemates, Morris and Johnston each posted a goal and the other was a slap shot by Bucciero.

In their most recent league game the Bruins defeated Dearborn, 5-1. Burkheiser scored the 'hat trick' with Taber and Bill Seaver scoring the other two goals.

Speeder Says Wife to Blame

A Warren motorist, arrested by Shores public safety officers for reckless driving on Lakeshore road, blamed a spat with his wife as being responsible for his predicament. The violation occurred on Sunday, November 10.

Chester Ignatious Kaminski, 44, of 5100 University, was seen by Sgt. Donald Jacob and Patrolman Michael Kenyon at 2:14 a.m. traveling south on Lakeshore at an extremely high rate of speed. The officers took up pursuit. They paced the driver at about 60 miles an hour.

The policemen said that during the chase, Kaminski was pulling away from them. The sergeant and patrolman said that they also observed the Warren man pass another vehicle on the left traffic lane, and pass three other cars, without slacking speed, at the curve in front of 1100 Lakeshore, at which time they turned on their scout car flasher and siren.

Kaminski slowed for a red traffic signal at Marter road and Jefferson, in St. Clair Shores, which gave the public safety officers an opportunity to pull up alongside and order him to the curb.

The speeder was informed that he was under arrest and was asked for his operator's license and car registration, which he presented to the officers. He claimed that he had had a fight with his wife, and gave that as the reason for his manner of driving. He said he was very angry as a result of the spat.

He was taken to the Shores station where he was issued a violation ticket for reckless driving, and was released after posting a bond of $100 pending a court hearing date.

JACOB P. SUMERACKI

Funeral services for Mr. Sumeracki, 83, of Shorecrest circle, were held Tuesday, November 5, at the Frank Calcaterra Funeral Home and Saint Lucy's Catholic Church. He died Friday, November 1, in his residence.

Mr. Sumeracki, a native of Chicago, moved to Detroit in 1917 after returning from World War I overseas service. His long public career as a Democrat and a Wayne County Official began in 1929 when he was elected as Wayne County Treasurer. In 1942, he went on to become a Wayne County Auditor. On June 14, 1968, while Chairman of the Board of Wayne County Auditors, he retired from public service.

Among his many accomplishments he was very proud of the following:

He won his fight against the enactment of a "head tax" while newly county treasurer. This tax would have cost all county residents $2.00 a year. He refused to collect it despite threats to jail him.

He was an originator of a 10 year plan for paying delinquent taxes. This helped thousands of home owners to keep their homes during the depression by spreading tax payments over this 10 year period.

He also won his fight against "tax sharks" requiring them to make full payment. This also enabled many owners to redeem their property.

Through his continuing efforts to find funds for improving services for mental patients in (Eloise) Wayne County General Hospital, he persuaded the state legislature to pay Wayne County for treatment of these mental patients and for administration of other state-aided programs here. In 1944, he won a $700,000 boost in state payments. The next year in 1947, he won an additional $650,000.

Early in his career, he joined the Old Newsboys Goodwill fund raisers. In 1961, he was presented with an "Award of Merit" for his outstanding service to this organization for more than 25 years.

He was also a member of the Grosse Pointe Senior Men's Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars (Fort Gratiot Post), The "40 & 8" Society, The East Side Lions Club, The Polish American Chamber of Commerce of Michigan, The Crisis Club of Detroit, and The St. Clare Seniors Club.

One View From The Capitol

By William R. Bryant, Jr.

Repeal of the sales tax on food and drugs presents a difficult situation starting the first of next year.

Additional factors are the worsening economy reducing expected state tax revenue and the use this year of all available surplus.

It is expected that the legislative appropriations committees may be asked this month to set certain budget cuts for the period January 1 to June 30, 1975 to assure a balanced budget for the remainder of this fiscal year.

Either this month or next, or certainly when the new legislative term starts next year, there will be substantial efforts to reduce expenditure on the one hand and to raise additional revenue on the other hand because it is highly unlikely the legislature would cut the budget enough to be able to balance it for the next fiscal year.

It will have to be researched, but to the extent Democrat legislators canpaign on the idea we could eliminate the sales tax on food and drugs without a tax increase, it should be easier to get them to vote for budget cuts and against a tax increase.

Those with particular interest in or who would be particularly affected by increases in state taxes other than the individual income tax should be watching legislative action very carefully.

There will exist through the next five- or six-month period a substantial likelihood of attempts to raise the corporate and financial institution income taxes alone or to an extent greater than an increase in the individual income tax rate.

I suspect there will be other attempts to raise taxes on business or repeal certain cuts already made. The battle lines, obviously, are yet to be drawn on any tax increase, but be prepared to react as the issue progresses in the months ahead.

I will try to keep you advised of developments as they occur.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. James A. Adams,
Superintendent of Schools

A superintendent receives such interesting mail! For example, a recent invitation from Norma Stevenson's sixth graders at Ferry School even came in rhyme:

Listen, listen and you will eat,
All kinds of food for a special treat.

We're having a luncheon and we want you
Come join us in room 202.

Listen, listen and you will like,
European foods of every type.

We hope you'll be here at 11:33
There are foods from England, France and Germany.

Listen, listen and you will know,
Posters and food and even a show.

We hope you'll enjoy it, if you come,
To eat our food, yum, yum, yum.

Fortunately, I was able to accept and be on hand at 11:33 a.m., (the precise time stated on the invitation), on October 29. And I am glad that I was. For I was able to participate in an activity which is common in our schools, but which few members of the public-at-large ever get to participate in.

The sixth grade class planned a luncheon as a culminating activity for their study of European countries. Each child had selected a country to study. They had prepared reports, travel posters, flags, maps, and dioramas and gave talks based on their research. Each child made and wore some type of clothing, (vests, hats, aprons), from his or her country.

On the day of the luncheon, children brought a dish from their country. There were 17 main dishes and 13 desserts. The hot dishes were brought in by mothers.

The luncheon menu ran the gamut of well-known foods of European origin which children like: Italian pizza, Swedish meatballs, and Scotch shortbread. It included Danish pastry, French cream puffs, Greek Kourabiedes, Swiss cheese fondue, Kibbi from Lebanon and knockwurst and German potato salad.

Mrs. Stevenson's program was an attempt to enliven the curriculum and to make more meaningful the names and places found in the textbook, on film and in slides. All in all, an example of good instruction.

But the activity at Ferry is only one example of fine, interesting instructional practices followed by teachers throughout the district. During the recent series of back-to-school nights and other special events scheduled for American Education Week, I have been able at least to stick my head inside the door of most classrooms in the system. I have been impressed by the quality of work I have seen and by the interest and enthusiasm exhibited by the staff. It has been a most rewarding experience for me.

My visits included a stop at Poupard School to see the program for the Mentally Impaired. Ms. Karen Weiss, Ms. Nancy Mack, and Ms. Cynthia Doherty and their assistants are doing a fine job in their new surroundings. (The program was formerly housed at St. Philip Neri School in Detroit.)

Another example of fine instruction, an outgrowth of our Talent program, is a musical comedy which has been prepared by fourth, fifth, and sixth graders at Richard School under the direction of Ms. Betty Brady and Ms. May Krager.

The list, it seems, is endless. I hope to continue my visits—and I hope that many community residents and parents have availed themselves of recent opportunities to visit classes and to see our fine program in operation.

SH Musicians Selling Fruit

The South High School Bands and Orchestra are selling fresh citrus fruits from Florida: tree ripened grapefruit and tangelos which will be delivered to homes around December 9. Students are currently knocking on doors and will continue taking orders for the fruit through December 2.

After orders are placed with the suppliers, the fruit is shipped directly to South. Students will then make deliveries to each purchaser's home.

Money raised from the project will go for summer music camp scholarships, new equipment and band and orchestra tours. Last summer over 50 South instrumentalists attended summer music camps.

Further information on the fruit sale may be obtained by contacting any band or orchestra member or by calling 882-2649 or 886-1409 between 1 and 8 p.m.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur Woodford
Chief of Central Library

What is a truly beautiful children's book? A committee, sponsored by the Children's Book Council, and made up of two well-known author-artists, Anita Lobel and Lynd Ward, and two outstanding art directors, Sallie Baldwin and Alan Benjamin, have attempted to define it in the 1974 Children's Book Showcase, which can be seen in all the Grosse Pointe Public Library agencies during Children's Book Week November 11-17.

This is a collection of 31 titles that the judges felt met the highest standards of bookmaking: beautifully rendered appropriate illustrations, a design and format that extend the text, and high quality paper, printing and binding.

The hope of the Showcase Committee was that anyone interested in children's books would have the opportunity to browse through this collection, read the judges' comments, and then educate his or her own critical eyes for graphic excellence and its impact on the most important individual in the whole process of children's bookmaking—the child. For however subtle the response, the young reader-viewer does indeed react to a well-designed book with properly wide margins, clear and pleasing type, appropriate illustrations and handsome solid binding. In libraries this reaction is clear and quick. The children have worn out 262 copies of LITTLE BLACK SAMBO and 105 copies of CHARLOTTE'S WEB in the Grosse Pointe Libraries.

Not only the ideas contained in the text, but the pleasing color, skilled line, and harmonious composition of the whole, must have some effect — and perhaps even help to counteract its influences of a world in which we are asked to accept garishness for brightness, sloppiness for self-expression and drabness for economy.

It is difficult to pick favorites. There is really something for everyone. However, if I choose I must, Raymond Briggs' FATHER CHRISTMAS is every man's—a book to please all, from the Read-Me-A-Story set to the geriatric crowd. Briggs has made the small elf an endearing old grump done in cartoon format and vibrant color.

CATHEDRAL by David McCauley tells the step-by-step growth of the gothic Cathedral from choosing the site to completion of the towers and the casting of the bells. The black and white illustration is magnificent.

A NATURAL HISTORY OF GIRAFFES by Dorcus MacClintock with handsome black silhouettes by Ugo Mochi tells you everything you want to know about these almost miraculous creatures. It won the N. Y. Academy of Science Children's Science Book Award.

Lynd Ward's SILVER PONY is a story without text aimed at the older child or an adult whose sense of wonder has never been dulled. The illustrations are beautiful and the "reader" can push the story in the direction he chooses.

Plan to Revise Police System

Woods Council members were informed by a letter from the Michigan Municipal League that the Michigan Commission on Criminal Justice is studying a proposed revision of the police organization structure in the state.

The major area of controversy is whether the proposed law enforcement system is to remain a tri-part system with control of the local system vested in local governmental units or a state system planned, directed and controlled primarily by a state agency with the state divided into Metropolitan Area Police Sites (MAPS), City Area Police Sites (CAPS), and Rural Area Police Sites (RAPS).

However, opponents argue that the language clearly sets forth the goal of a mandatory state-controlled law enforcement system. The letter stated that the public hearing was to be held Wednesday, October 30 in Lansing but it came too late for the council to send a representative to the hearing.

Councilman George Freeman said he "would like to see the Michigan Municipal League take a stand on the issue."

City Administrator Chester Petersen said the letter was to advise the Woods of the hearing and the proposal by the Michigan Commission on Criminal Justice.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

"The Aerie," a Gothic novel by J. Sloan McClean, is just out, and the author is three-fourths of the way through a second McClean thriller.

Actually, its authors, for J. Sloan McClean is two people: Jo (Mrs. Edward S.) Wunsch, of Bishop road—her maiden name was McClean—and Jinny (Mrs. William) Gillette, who moved from The Pointe to Pontiac a few years back. Once upon a time, Mrs. Gillette was Miss Sloan.

They're both professionals, Jo with three teen novels among her credits, Jinny with over 200 short pieces published here, (in Good Housekeeping, Woman's Day, et al.), and in England.

They're both members of Detroit Women Writers. They both have the same agent. Neither had ever tried co-authoring, but Jo was ready to get back to writing for Big People, Jinny was anxious to do a book, and their agent suggested, since straight novels aren't selling well and Gothics are, why not try a Gothic?

Two minds with a single thought and agent go together. "It was just a natural process," says Jo.

They call The Aerie "our telephone book." Their collaboration technique involves working separately and getting together for getting-it-all-together sessions, with lots of phone calls in between.

"We do get together at the beginning to decide which parts we are most qualified for," Jo explains. "The advantage of collaboration is that Jinny knows about some things, I know about others. We each bring a different dimension to the book."

Jo, for instance, is very familiar with the Georgian Bay area, where The Aerie is set. The Wunsches have been a Great Lakes sailing family for years. "The island, (in The Aerie), is fictional, but the setting is as real as I could make it."

Jinny has an eight-year-old grandson, and The Aerie's plot revolves around an eight-year-old boy who may or may not be guilty of murder.

Miss Ledyard Wed To W.B. Canfield, III

Little Club Reception Follows Rites; Pair Backpacking Through Luxembourg, Italy and Switzerland; to Make Home in Pointe

Florence Livingston Ledyard and William Bradford Canfield, III, exchanged marriage vows at an afternoon ceremony in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, Saturday, November 2, with The Right Reverend Archie Crowley, of West Chatham, Mass., and The Reverend Robert McGregor presiding at the 4 o'clock rites.

They are both from Pointe families. The former Miss Ledyard is the daughter of Mrs. William Hendrie Ledyard and the late Mr. Ledyard and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ledyard and the late Mr. and Mrs. John Ripley Odell.

Mr. Canfield is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bradford Canfield, Jr., and grandson of Mrs. Russell McCann, of Midland, and the late Mr. McCann, and of Mrs. William Bradford Canfield, of Ormond Beach, Fla., and the late Mr. Canfield.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, John Odell Ledyard, of Evanston, Ill., wore a gown styled with a French-pleated bodice of ivory satin featuring three-quarter sleeves with under-sleeves of organdy applied with pillow lace.

Her bell-shaped satin skirt extended into a full cathedral train and featured a double row of lace and taffeta ruffles accented with satin bows and little sashes.

Her veil and the long apron at the front of her dress were also fashioned of pillow lace; in the apron lace were the bride's Great-Grandmother Hendrie's initials and the date: 1882.

White Sweetheart roses, stephanotis and baby's-breath formed the bridal bouquet.

Honor maid Phyllis Hendrie Ledyard, of Port Huron, and bridesmaids Louisa Bowen, Bethine S. Whitney, Louise Wright, Mrs. John Dalrymple, III, of Casselton, N.D., Hilary H. Hyland, of Philadelphia, and Amy B. Livingston, of Denver, wore green peau Empire frocks styled with long sleeves and high, slit collars.

They carried long-stemmed white roses tied with white grosgrain ribbon.

Best man was John Henry Wyant, IV, of Cincinnati. Guests were seated by Thomas F. Canfield, the bridegroom's brother, Joseph Jennings, Thomas D. Martin, Nels L. Olson, Stephen K. Fischer, of Los Angeles, and H. C. Buck Neihoff, of Cincinnati.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception at the Grosse Pointe Club following the ceremony Mrs. Ledyard chose a gown in shaded tones of beige and brown chiffon. The bridegroom's mother selected a gown of blue chiffon and blue lace.

The newlyweds are traveling with backpacks through Luxembourg, Italy and Switzerland. They will return to make their home in The Pointe.

Relatives and friends of the bride who came from out-of-town for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Traver C. Smith, Jr., of Boston, Mrs. John O. Ledyard, of Evanston, Ill., Mrs. Archie Crowley, of West Chatham, Mass.,

Heckscher Speaks To Junior Leagues

Importance of Parks and Open Spaces in the Modern City to Be Noted Urbanologist And Author's Topic

August Heckscher, noted urbanologist and author, is speaking to the Junior Leagues of Detroit and Birmingham today at Raleigh House in Southfield, discussing the importance of parks and open spaces in a modern city's landscape and what part the citizenry should play in developing criteria for those open spaces.

"The parks," he maintains, "are the lungs of the city, and not only in a physical sense."

"Green trees, of course, help to purify the air, and parks provide refuges and retreats for people in the midst of congestion."

"But parks also ventilate the city in times of social process. They have been the great places where people can gather, express themselves, have their festivals, make their protests."

"They are, or should be, an expression of the vitality of the people."

Mr. Heckscher was Parks commissioner and administrator of Cultural Affairs under New York's Mayor John Lindsay. He has written a book, "Alive in the City", relating his experiences during six years as Park commissioner.

He is presently director of the Twentieth Century Fund, a private research foundation which is preparing a large-scale study of parks and recreational facilities in American cities, and, while in this city, will observe and examine Detroit's Civic Center, shopping malls and college grounds as well as its traditional parks for inclusion in the two-year survey.

This study of urban spaces is an attempt to arrive at criteria for the rational allocation of open space, to appraise its newer as well as older forms and to determine its changing uses.

Community leaders involved and interested in the parks and recreational climate of Detroit and Michigan are joining members of the

Chasing Away Christmas Cobwebs

Would you believe... a cobweb chaser? That's the gadget JOSETTE HOSKING, (left), co-chairman of the Gift Shop Guild of the Women's Auxiliary to Cottage Hospital's 1974 Holiday Mart, is showing to her co-chairman partner ANNE KRAWCZAK, (center), and publicity chairman EULA HOOVER. Useful and frivolous items, (the cobweb chaser qualifies on both counts), will be featured at the Mart next Thursday, November 21, from 10 to 3 o'clock in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Crystal Ballroom. Innovation this year is a snack bar, scheduled to open at 11:30.

LWV to Host Unit Meetings November 19

This month's Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters Unit Meetings will be held Tuesday, November 19, at 12:45 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Robert Everett, 11 Woodland Shores drive and Wednesday, November 20 at 9:30 in the morning in Saint Paul's Lutheran Church Chalfonte avenue at Lathrop road, and in the evening at the Berkshire road home of Mrs. C. B. Conover.

At each Unit Meeting time will be divided between reports on Michigan's Migrant Workers, presented by the Human Resources Committee headed by Dorothy Zito, and the Energy Shortage, presented by the Environmental Quality Committee headed by Colleen D'Agostino.

Like all League meetings these are open to any interested members of the community in fact, since one of the League's primary purposes is to share the fruits of its research and fact-finding, the more the merrier! Committees also welcome input from others.

Baby-sitting is available at the Wednesday morning meeting for a nominal fee. Reservations should be made through Sharon Bordui, 885-3954.

Louisa St. Clair DAR Meets Next Thursday

Louisa St. Clair Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution convenes next Thursday, November 21, at 10:30 o'clock at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, Mrs. Maxwell E. Hunt, senior president of the John Paul Jones Society, Children of the American Revolution, will show slides of the Flag Program during last Memorial Day's parade in St. Clair Shores. Leagues for today's meeting. Ms. Mary Williams, head of Detroit's Recreation Department, will talk briefly on how she looks forward to a continued working relationship with the Junior Leagues and all groups, such as the Friends of Belle Isle, who are concerned with Belle Isle and want to see it revitalized.

The Junior Leagues of Birmingham and Detroit brought Mr. Heckscher to Detroit because of their interest in Belle Isle.

They have become involved in Belle Isle by pledging $15,000 each towards an overall renovation plan to be done by a nationally-acclaimed landscape architect.

Along with this financial assistance and in cooperation with the Friends of Belle Isle, who are pledging the $20,000 balance, the Leagues will aid the city in the implementation of the plan by recruiting business and civic groups to help complete plan sections.

This will all be done with the Bicentennial in mind, as Belle Isle has been designated an official spot for Bicentennial events.

The authors divide up the chapters, completing them separately and then submitting them to each other for revision and correction. "You have to trust the person you're writing with," Jo notes. Without trust, the Ego Clash could be terrific.

Their continuity sessions are total immersions. Tomorrow, for instance, Jo and Jinny are getting together to read their new book through, from beginning to the point they're at now. "We've set the whole day aside."

Sometimes, a continuity session can spill over into a second day. The Gillettes have a home on Russell Island, and Jo's driven up to spend the night there so J. Sloan McClean can really get down to business.

Oddly enough, collaboration doesn't seem to make the work go particularly quickly.

"It's true you only write half as much," Jo reports, "but the time you spend going back and forth, the time you spend on the telephone, has to be taken into consideration." It's a way to work, neither easier nor harder than any other way. For J. Sloan McClean, it works.

DSO Concerts for Ashkenazy Tonight and Saturday

Vladimir Ashkenazy, a favorite pianist with Detroiters, will be featured soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at this week's Ford Auditorium concerts tonight and Saturday evenings, November 14 and 16, at 8:30 o'clock.

Guest conductor George Semkow is on the podium again this week.

The program will include Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 1 and the DSO premier of Shostakovich's Symphony No. 4.

George Semkow who made his DSO debut in December, 1971, was born in Radomsko, Poland, studied at the Krakow Conservatory and in 1960 won a fellowship to study conducting with Yevgeny Mravinsky in Leningrad.

Upon graduation he became assistant conductor of the Leningrad Philharmonic and subsequently one of the permanent conductors at Moscow's Bolshoi Theatre.

He was appointed permanent conductor and ar-

Blessings come in disguise most of us get what we deserve without recognizing it.

tistic director of the National Opera of Warsaw in 1959.

Mr. Semkow has been permanent conductor of the Royal Opera House and Royal Danish Orchestra in Copenhagen since 1966. Last spring he was named music director and principal conductor of the St. Louis Symphony, effective next season.

Vladimir Ashkenazy has appeared with the DSO in no less than 20 concerts since he first performed at Meadow Brook in 1967.

Ashkenazy, born in Russia in 1937, studied at the Moscow State Conservatory with Lev Oborin and won the Queen Elizabeth Competition in 1956 and the Tchaikovsky Competition in 1962.

He has performed with every major United States Orchestra and his recordings are widely acclaimed.

Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 1 is actually his second in order of composition, completed in 1796. Ashkenazy last performed it with the DSO at Meadow Brook in 1970 during a cycle of all five Beethoven piano concertos.

Shostakovich's Symphony No. 4 was actually his 12th in order of performance. Composed in 1935-36 but withdrawn from rehearsal after the Soviet Central Committee's criticism of the Shostakovich opera "Lady Macbeth," it was not performed until 1961.

Tickets for the concerts at $7.50, $6.50, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, and $3.50 are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office, 961-0700, all Hudson's and Grinnell's ticket offices.

A limited number of tickets for students and senior citizens is available at Ford Auditorium Box Office beginning at 7:45 o'clock concert night.

The modified Victorian neckline of the bride's ivory maracaine jersey gown was accented with an heirloom bib of Rosepointe lace. The dress featured a fitted bodice, long, puffed sleeves, an A-line skirt and chapel train.

Her silk illusion veil was lace-edged and she carried an arrangement of white roses, stephanotis and ivy. She was attended by her sisters, Anne Keane, a University of Maine, Gorham, student as maid of honor, and Meagan and Patricia Keane as bridesmaids.

Their long, autumn green frocks were styled with fitted Empire bodices and A-line skirts. Their flowers were gold, bronze and honey-colored mums.

mums. Tyge Sutton was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Justin C. Sutton, Jr., of East Lansing. Ushering were J. C. Bride's Sister Is Honor Attendant; Bridegroom's Sisters Are Bridesmaids; Brothers Serve in Usher Corps

At an afternoon ceremony Saturday, August 24, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, with The Reverend Ray H. Kiely presiding, Barbara Ann Pask became the bride of William Evert Brammer.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Pask, of East Outer drive, Detroit. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Forest E. Brammer, of Devonshire road.

For the 4:30 o'clock rites followed by a reception at Revere Hall the former Miss Pask chose a long-sleeved, white, A-line gown trimmed with seed pearls and lace at bodice, sleeves, hem and train.

A lace and pearl headpiece caught her long illusion veil. Her stephanotis bouquet was centered with a purple-lipped white orchid.

Susan Pask, honor maid for her sister, and bridesmaids Mrs. David J. Watts, of Dearborn, and Susan Brammer, the bridegroom's sisters, Kathy Leslie, of Miami, Fla., a cousin of the bridegroom, Mrs. Frederick G. Schriever, Jr., of Kenosha, Wis., Mrs. Ray Huddas and Terry Dulemba wore long-sleeved, Empire-waisted frocks of turquoise polyester.

of the bridegroom, Mr. Watts, the bride's brother, Craig Souliard, Gary Morrison and Kenneth Knorr, of Albion.

Mrs. Pask's blue floral chiffon A-line print featured a beaded neckline and long, flowing sleeves. She pinned a white gardenia to her silver hand bag. The bridegroom's mother selected an Empire-waisted gown of powder blue chiffon with a long, pleated skirt. Her accessories, too, were silver, and she pinned a white cymbidium orchid to her silver purse.

The newlyweds, both University of Michigan graduates, vacationed in Michigan's Upper Peninsula and are making their home in Ypsilanti. She teaches at Ann Arbor Junior High School. He is a Detroit College of Law student.

Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's grandfather Walter C. Klitzing, of Altamont, Ill., his aunt Mrs. Edwin B. Leslie, of Miami, Mr. and Mrs. Voyo Sugich, of Los Angeles, Calif., and their son Gary Sugich, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Flis, from Waukegan, Wis., cousins of the bride.

To Host Sarah Lawrence Representative

Judith Ramsey, associate director of Admissions at Sarah Lawrence College, is visiting two schools in the Detroit area today, Thursday, November 14, University-Liggett this afternoon and Cranbrook School/Kingswood this evening, and will also be attending a coffee hour in her honor, for Detroit area alumnae/parents of current students, at the Warner road home of Mrs. Charles Errol Exley, Jr.

Mrs. Exley is an alumna of Sarah Lawrence, as are her co-hostesses, Mrs. William A. Boyd and Mrs. Henry M. Woodhouse.

After bringing coffee hour guests up-to-date on what is happening at Sarah Lawrence Ms. Ramsey will be talking with students, faculty and guidance counselors, answering questions about Sarah Lawrence's flexible curriculum, its seminar and tutorial system, co-education, the interdisciplinary Women's Studies Program and the vastly-expanded facilities for Art, Dance, Theatre and Science, (Pre-Med), as well as the new library and the College's Program in Early Childhood Education which uses as its Laboratory the College's well-known Nursery School.

Located in suburban Bronxville 15 miles from New York City, Sarah Lawrence is a small liberal arts college of 820 undergraduate men and women devoted to individualized education.

The academic program calls for conferences in each course with faculty members and an advising system which gives personal attention to all students. The curriculum calls for no required courses or majors, stressing instead an interdisciplinary approach.

Written evaluations as well as grades report student progress.

Men were accepted as Sarah Lawrence undergraduates in January, 1969, and now make up about 23 percent of the undergraduate student body.

Contrary to a broadly held notion...there ARE rentals available at the property. Both homes and condominiums.

Traditional Alpha Xi Delta Children's Party Will Feature Storybook Characters this Year; Boutique Items to Be on Sale

Area Alpha Xi Deltas will host their 10th annual Santa Luncheon Saturday, December 7, at noon in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom. The benefit raises funds for such organizations as Grosse Pointe's Family Life Education Council (FLEC) and the Foundation for Exceptional Children.

This year, according to luncheon chairman Mrs. Michael Brogan, the sorority has added a new dimension to the popular event.

Ten storybook characters including Raggedy Ann and Andy, Mickey and Minnie Mouse, Little Bo Peep, a Fairy Princess, Wee Willie Winkie, Little Miss Muffet, Little Red Riding Hood and the Wicked Witch of the West will mingle with the children and serve them hot dogs, chips, a beverage, ice cream, homemade Christmas cupcakes and other surprise treats.

Entertainment features a magic show starring the "Great Salami" and his assistant "Pepperoni," who will guillotine an arm from an unsuspecting victim, turn rice into checkers and bake a cake at the flash of a hand. As usual "Mr. and Mrs. Santa" will greet all children and be available for photos, along with the storybook characters.

Assisting at the party will be members of Defer School's Girl Scout Troop 216. Participating as storybook people are Tracy Metry, Stacy Fordree, Tracy Launs, Maya Edwards, Nancy Defibaugh, Betsy Van Note and Robin Halter, with Laura Swinbank and twins Wendy and Susan Launs.

The Reverend Kenneth Lenz, pastor of Saint Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, is performing as the "Great Salami."

Assisting Mrs. Brogan on the luncheon committee are Mrs. Arthur Leslie, Mrs. Daniel Piggins, and Mrs. Eugene Pety. Under the Mrs. Santa makeup will be Mrs. Ronald Launs.

Boutique items such as refrigerator weight-watcher cows, pine cone Christmas wreaths and other decorator pieces will be on sale.

Tickets are $2.50 per person. Reservations should be made by Monday, November 25, in order to return tickets by mail in time for the luncheon. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Maurice Strong, 821-6364.

Young Cyclist Injured by Car

Eleven-year-old William Pringle of 999 Lake Shore road, suffered an injured left ankle on Saturday, November 9, when his less than one-horse power motorized bicycle was hit by an automobile.

According to a Shores police report, young Pringle was riding his bike on the sidewalk, on Lake Shore road, and approached Willow Tree lane as a woman driver, identified as Karrie Cole Glassford of 36784 Harper, Mt. Clemens, came to a stop on Willow Tree. She was traveling east on the street.

As Mrs. Glassford started to cross the intersection, the young cyclist swerved to avoid running into the woman's car, going into the street and into the path of the vehicle.

William and his bike were knocked to the pavement, with the boy suffering the ankle injury. He was conveyed to Bon Secours Hospital by Shores Public Safety Officer John Trevillian in the municipal emergency ambulance, and treated and released.

Investigating officers said that there is a high clump of bushes at the corner of Willow Tree, which obstructs a view of traffic on the lane and Lake Shore.

Mrs. Glassford was not blamed for the accident and was released after making a statement.

Council Okays Roofing Bid

The Farms Council at the regular meeting Monday, November 4, approved the low bid of $2,520 for applying roofing to the bath house located at the municipal Pier Park.

The low bid was submitted by the Grady Roofing Co., Inc. after bids had been invited from several companies. Other bids received were in the amounts of $3,400, $3,500 and $4,516.

The bid to do the roofing repair includes a five-year guarantee on the work. The council vote to accept the low bid was unanimous.

TravelLearn Program Gave Teenagers Great Summer

When school got out last June, many gave loud cries of joy. No more school, and no more books.

But for a number of youths, the learning experience continued during the summer with a unique kind of school, and true to those loud cries, virtually no books.

Approximately 100 teenagers participated in a TravelLearn of America program, sponsored by the War Memorial, where learning was done while traveling. Its motto, "America Is Our Classroom," implies the philosophy behind each trip.

For TravelLearn's sixth year, its second with the War Memorial, four camping-road trips were available. Each one combined personal growth and practical learning while studying history and culture.

The Trails West Expedition and the Rocky Mountain Back-packing trip were designed to give an understanding of the western part of the United States.

The other two trips, American Heritage Expedition and Adventure to Mexico, covered primarily historical sights and monuments. In addition, students on those two trips could earn high school credits through participating schools associated with the North Central Association of College and Secondary Schools.

Since the groups were limited to a maximum of 20, the counselors were able to reinforce the learning experiences each night during a campfire session.

Taking into consideration the main objective of the trip, the certified instructors, (one for each five students), held discussions on the day's activities, putting them into a broad perspective.

The reactions and impressions remain vivid to the students; their comments reflect the learning that was so casually achieved. Trails West took the students through the historical "western" and ghost towns of yesterday, showing the industrial, agricultural and mining resources of various locales.

Peter Coutso, the director of the program, said that one favorite experience of all the students on the trip was the time spent at Blue Earth, Minn.

Blue Earth is a small agricultural town where friendliness and hospitality are the keywords, he said.

There the students were met by the mayor and members of the Chamber of Commerce. They toured a canning factory and visited farms, where they even had the opportunity to milk a cow.

The visit changed the common impression that people living in small towns were backwards. The students learned that the youths were equally knowledgeable, but that their type of knowledge differed.

The students also discovered that material goods were just as available, but that the catalog stores took a longer time to receive the goods.

In general, they felt small town living would be a "slow, peaceful and quiet" existence where people showed a sincere interest in others. The local radio and news programs had given them interviews, and the president of the Chamber of Commerce wrote each of the students a personal letter following the trip.

The trip to Mexico provided myriad impressions regarding language and customs.

Name Pointers To NYC Board

James W. Alexander, of Littlestone road, a Detroit school teacher, was elected commodore of the Detroit Yacht Club as its 98th annual meeting on Monday, November 4.

He is a physical education instructor at Marquette School and was elevated to the club's top post from the position of vice-commodore.

His wife, Mary, is also a Detroit school teacher and they have two children, Chip, and a married daughter, Jill Simmon. Mr. Alexander took over from outgoing commodore Wayne J. Dupuis, also a resident of The Woods.

Bryan J. Brieden, of Balfour road, and Harold Miste, of Shoreham road, were other Pointers named to the board of directors.

The objective of the trip, which was also the basis for the accredited course, was the comparison between the Mexican and American cultures.

After dinner each night the students wrote their reactions in personal travel logs. Many of the comments centered around the poverty in Mexico: "Some of the sights along the road, such as the run-down shacks that people had to live in, made me sick to my stomach."

Another realized that the Mexicans were "going to grow up, live and die in the same conditions" and that at least in the United States there was a chance to change one's life.

The evening program would often include skits in Spanish in order to give the students some background in the language. Margaret Sadocha, of Warren, wrote, "At times I felt inferior to them because they knew something that I didn't, and that was the language."

But, another girl, Melinda Manos, of Moross road, must have picked up enough of the survival lingo, because she wrote in her journal, "I really dig shopping in Mexico because you can bargain down merchandise."

The American Heritage Expedition to the east coast brought out other reactions to ways of life and city living. The majority felt that New York City was enjoyable, but dirty.

Many found it "hard to believe that people wanted to live there" because of the never-ending buildings, congestion, crime and city hustle.

The city lay-outs also fascinated the students. They realized that Detroit was industrial whereas Washington, D.C., was governmental. They saw that Detroit progressed from poverty to wealth in a concentric plan, whereas New York had pockets of poverty and wealth, clearly dividing society sometimes only by a street.

Three boys and three girls took a course in home economics during this trip. They planned and shopped for the meals which were prepared at their Kampgrounds of America site.

Each took great pride in his or her work: for Jon Erikson, of North Oxford road, it was his section of the curtains for the van that was the most pleasing. For Kelly Moustakas, of Harper Woods, it was her hamburger soup creation.

The Rocky Mountain Back-packing trip concentrated on the wilderness life of hiking and fishing. Students on both back-packing trips commented mostly on the nature and geography of the west.

A sight that impressed Philip Johnson, of Ridge road, was a group of gnarled, dead trees seen from a distance on a hike.

Alan Tyler, of Bedford road, said he enjoyed the view of a cloud coming over a mountain while climbing rocks in the Lost Lake recreation area in Colorado.

The most outstanding day for all, however, occurred in Leadville, Colo., mid-July. They spent the night in a school gymnasium because the snow was pouring out of the sky.

All of the participants of the TravelLearn program from the past summer will meet at the War Memorial Monday, December 2, to show each other personal collections of pictures taken and to see movies taken on the trips.

None will have lost the original enthusiasm of the experiences had on the trips this past summer.

NORMAN A. BOLZ, OF WINTHROP PLACE

By Janet Mueller

Show him a pie, and he can't keep his fingers out of it. Norm Bolz has served as chairman of Mayor Coleman A. Young's Task Force of City Government and Organization. He is a member of the board of trustees, executive committee and finance committee of New Detroit, Inc.

He is a trustee and member of the Funding Review Committee of the Economic Development Corporation of Greater Detroit, a trustee of Walsh College, served three years as United Foundation audit chairman, belongs to the Economic Club of Detroit, the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts, the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce and the Newcomer Society.

He is general chairman of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra 1974 Quest for Excellence Fund, head of the third phase of the drive launched in 1972 to help assure continuance of the Orchestra as a major cultural asset for the Detroit metropolitan community.

He has been a member of the Symphony board of directors since 1970, member of the board's executive committee since 1972.

Other Activities All this comes, of course, under the heading of civic and cultural commitments; there's Norman A. Bolz, Certified Public Accountant, group partner in charge of the Detroit, Cleveland, Fort Wayne and Pittsburgh offices of Coopers & Lybrand, member of his firm's United States Executive committee and International Executive committee, to consider, too.

His work takes him all over the world. It has also taken Betty Bolz all over the world, for Norm likes to travel with his wife, and all he has to do is ask Betty... she'll go!

They've made a couple of circuits of South America. They've visited Australia and New Zealand. They've been to Europe several times. They're indefatigable tourists, bright, curious and enthusiastic, and Norm makes a point of bringing home "something from everywhere," from African spears, (they told him the spears would fit in his luggage, and they would have—if he'd had a steamer trunk; since steamer trunks and air travel don't go together, Norm flew home with the spears in his lap), to pre-Colombian pottery.

He takes a lot of pictures on his travels.

No More Tent Life

He did a bit of camping with his children when they were younger, but frankly prefers to end the day at an air-conditioned motel with a swimming pool. Two years of living in a tent in New Guinea and The Philippines during World War II left him with a healthy respect for the accoutrements of civilization.

There are three Bolz children. Karen, married to Pointer Carl J. Haller, left her job as a Registered Nurse at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, at the end of September to return to school. She's studying for a Masters degree in Public Health Administration.

They Enjoy Everything And always, wherever they are, whatever they're doing, enjoying...

strong supporters in the past, corporations and individuals, are holding." The Quest has moved into its public phase, asking everyone's help, requesting contributions in any amount. Checks should be made payable to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Inc., and sent to Ford Auditorium, Detroit, Michigan 48226. They're tax deductible, of course.

He's Confident

Norm is confident the public will respond. "I think enough people in Detroit recognize that our city has to be more than just the place we make our living in. If there were no symphony, no Art Institute, no theater—if everything dropped out, all we'd have is a place to work."

"I think enough people in Detroit recognize that everything we do has to be supported."

Norm should know. He's one of the supporting people. So is Betty Bolz, who has a finger in more than one pie herself.

"Why do we do all these things? Sometimes I wonder that myself... I suppose it's all bound up in the idea that a city should be a place to live as well as to work, and it brings us into contact with a lot of people—good people—and that's good. And it's exciting!"

I like that last reason.

BRA PROBLEM

The no-bra bra was Mrs. M's problem! It made her look flatter than she actually was! She didn't realize that even a small bust needs support for a firm rounded contour.

PENNYRICH SOLUTION

Mrs. M discovered she didn't have to be flat chested! The Pennyrich Bra allows her to reposition the flesh, bringing it forward for a natural bustline... all her own.
