A MICHIGAN STATE Police trooper was shot and killed near Alpena today when he and his partner stopped a car for having defective taillights. Two suspects, believed to have been traveling in the car, were captured. They have been identified as escapees from law enforcement officials in Saginaw County. Trooper Larry Forreider, 33, a native of Carp Lake, Mich., died on the operating table in Alpena Mercy Hospital shortly after the shooting. A third suspect is being hunted in the Alpena woods by police using tracking dogs.

U. S. DISTRICT JUDGE John J. Sirica ruled yesterday the Watergate cover-up trial would not be delayed in order to receive testimony from former President Richard Nixon. Judge Sirica said the importance of the testimony may have been exaggerated by the defendants. Defendants John Mitchell, H. R. Haldeman and John Erlichman had asked that Mr. Nixon submit a deposition when his health permitted. Judge Sirica said he wanted to conclude the trial as quickly as possible so that the 12 jurors, who have been sequestered since the trial began in mid-October, can go home by Christmas.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN MICHIGAN and across the U. S. skyrocketed in November, hitting 6.5 percent nationwide and 8.8 percent in Michigan. The Detroit area recorded 9.1 percent unemployed for last month. The nation's jobless rate was the highest since late 1961. The number of jobless Americans is close to six million. The increase in unemployment from October's six percent brought a reaction from the White House that the economy is deteriorating more rapidly than anticipated. The figures are expected to jump again in December since thousands of job layoffs in the auto and other key industries have occurred already this month.

Sunday, December 8

GREEK VOTERS chose a republican form of government today by a 2-to-1 margin and barred King Constantine's return to the throne. Turnout for the election was about 75 percent. King Constantine has indicated he would try to return to Greece and live as a private citizen. He planned to issue a statement on the election results Monday and remained in seclusion at his suburban London home Sunday. Political observers had predicted the voters would choose a republic.

Monday, December 9

A 17-YEAR-OLD Detroit high school student was shot and killed today when he came upon the armed robbery of two other students. Patrick A. Harris Jr., a senior at Southwestern High School, 6291 W. Fort, was struck in the chest by a bullet fired by one of two men who had just robbed two other students of $63. Witnesses told police that Harris was standing near a classroom doorway about 50 feet from the robbery scene when one of the robbers fired one pistol shot that struck the ceiling and ricocheted downward, striking Harris.

Tuesday, December 10

PRESIDENT FORD is expected to accept a House bill that would authorize $2 billion for public service jobs immediately and would do away with Ford's proposed system to create public service jobs only after unemployment reached a certain level for a given period.

North High Students Help Santa with Mail Problems

Pictured, (clockwise), surrounding SANTA are KAREN WOODARD, KATHY KALYVAL, CAROL SHELL and DIANE BRUSKE, members of North High School's Office Co-op Program, who are working with Jacobson's In-the-Village and Santa in opening letters Pointe youngsters have written to Mr. Claus. This is the fifth year the students have helped with these letters, which are deposited in Santa's mailbox in Jacobson's Toyland. Letters must be in the box by Thursday, December 19, in order to get a reply because Santa will be mighty busy after that. Be sure those letters have a return address on them.

Farms Will Light Yule Tree Dec. 22

Unique Creation of Lights on Flagpole Will Shine Again This Year at Municipal Pier Park

The annual Farms Tree Lighting Ceremony will be held at dusk Sunday, December 22, at the entrance to the Farms Pier Park. The event is sponsored each year by the Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club.

The entire community is invited to participate and enjoy hot coffee and cocoa in the boathouse after the lighting.

The 36-foot, light bulb tree is one of the more unique holiday adornments in The Pointe each year. It was designed by William DeGalan and Jerry Janisse, of Maison road, about four years ago.

To Shine for All
The men, both engineers, computed the dimensions of the tree so it would duplicate a real evergreen. It is made up of about 1,100 tiny pink lights strung around the flagpole at the park.

The tree is topped off with a star of lights, containing about 100 gold-colored bulbs.

It was not put up last year, due to the energy crisis, but this year the Christmas landmark will once again shine.

Presiding at the ceremony will be Mayor and Mrs. William G. Butler. The tree lighting will be followed by a community sing.

Nature Center Receives Mounted Bird Collection

An article from "Heron Tracks," focusing upon a recent donation of mounted songbirds and waterfowl to the Seven Ponds Nature Center, Dryden, Mich., was submitted this week by Pat McFadden, president of the Grosse Pointe Audubon Society and a member of the Seven Ponds board. She felt this item would be of interest to many NEWS readers.

The "Heron Tracks" story reports that every now and then, something of spectacular interest and value makes its way to Seven Ponds Nature Center as a gift. A recent donation of 78 mounted songbirds and waterfowl is just such a gift.

The collection was given to the Nature Center by Mr.

Unfair Labor Practices Charges Against Woods Fail to Impress Judge

City Exonerated in Decision and Recommended Order of James P. Kurtz of State Employment Relations Commission

By Roger A. Waha

A decision and recommended order of an administrative law judge of the Michigan Employment Relations Commission, (MERC), exonerated the city of unfair labor practices charges brought against them by The Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers Association, (GPWPOA), earlier this year.

The GPWPOA had charged, before the Labor Relations Division of MERC, that the city refused to bargain in good faith on a proposed two-year contract, (fiscal year 1973-75), for public safety department corporals.

At the same time, the union charged that a public safety officer whose employment was terminated in January was discharged because of his union or protected concerted activities. The man, who joined the department in January 1972, was a probationary employee.

Other Charges Made
Several other alleged unfair labor practices charges also were brought against the city in the union complaint.

However, in his recommended order, James P. Kurtz, administrative law judge, stated, "Based upon the foregoing facts and conclusions, (regarding the charges and testimony taken), considered individually or collectively, the undersigned finds insufficient evidence of any violation of PERA, (Public Employment Relations Act), in this case. Therefore, I recommend that the commission dismiss the charge in its entirety."

This recommended order will become MERC's final order if no written exceptions are filed with the commission within a 20-day period after the recommended order was issued. This order was dated Tuesday, December 3. If such an exception is filed, a further hearing would be scheduled.

GPWPOA attorney Michael C. Kovaleski said he wanted to consult with the union before deciding if an exception would be filed.

On the case of the dismissed officer, Mr. Kovaleski said a probationary employee was on shaky ground on the grievance procedure front. "Based upon the fact he had been there for two years and had no problems, why was his employment terminated? A mistake was made on this decision," he maintained the man was dismissed for his

Farms Passes UC Ordinance

The Farms Council has voted to administer its own unemployment compensation ordinance under which full-time municipal employees would be covered. The action came at the regular council meeting held Monday, December 2.

All municipalities in the state must have passed an unemployment compensation ordinance by January 1 or go under the state statute.

The ordinance provides benefits for employees who are laid off from their jobs. The Farms decided to enact its own ordinance and to administer it, rather than have the state do so.

The level of benefits are in accordance with the state guidelines. The benefits do not cover part-time employees.

The council voted to have appeals made to a board consisting of two citizens and one council member.

Police Give Warning on Bad Bills

Super Market Employee Fooled by Altered $1 Bill Which Was Mistaken for $10

By Roger A. Waha
Be careful. That $10 bill you just received may not be a $10 bill at all.

Take the case of an unsuspecting check out girl at Farmer Jack's, 20382 Mack avenue, who was given an altered $1 bill where someone had cut an end off two $10 bills and carefully taped these ends to the $1 bill.

This incident was reported to Woods police Thursday afternoon, December 5, and the victimized girl didn't know who gave her the bill.

As a result, the constable, besides checking the store out of money, redeemed his two "damaged" $10 bills at the bank, both of which had been neatly trimmed an inch from one end, for two new $10 bills.

Push Altered Bills
Woods Det. Everett Plumb said this was the first such case the department has had in years. He stated the secret service reported hundreds of altered bills are currently being circulated in the metropolitan area.

"During the Christmas rush, such bills can be pushed upon unsuspecting employees," cautioned Sgt. Bernard Kelly. He said $10 bills in such cases are the most prominent, while con artists also manipulate some $20, too. On the other hand, "35 bills aren't really worth the trouble," while "people take more time looking at $50 bills," he stated.

Sgt. Kelly noted that any bill can be redeemed at a bank if more than half of it, (one hanker said 60 percent or more, which includes the portrait), remains in tact.

The NEWS contacted the other Pointe police departments and all reported no similar occurrences have been reported so far this year.

Give Careful Look
Park Lt. Gordon Duncan said the best advice he can give people, if they are busy, is to run their hands over the corners of the bills. He advised some time should be taken to study the portrait carefully.

The particular "tampered $10 bill" the market received contained the portrait of George Washington with the "one dollar" slug below it. The check out girl apparently looked quickly at the cor-

Woman Selected To Be Principal Of Defer School

Alfreda Frost Brings Wide Experience and Impressive Educational Background to Post Vacated by Jesse Lowther

Alfreda Frost, an elementary school principal with eight years' administrative experience in the public schools of South Haven, has been accepted by the Board of Education as the new principal of Defer Elementary School.

She replaces Jesse Lowther who asked the trustees to relieve him of his duties and place him on extended sick leave. He will be leaving his post at the end of the week.

Before recommending to the Board that Ms. Frost be accepted for the post at a regular meeting held Monday, December 9, Superintendent of Schools Dr. James A. Adams said he would have preferred to select someone from inside the Grosse Pointe School System but noted that in some instances, it simply was not possible.

Aided by Committee

An Advisory Screening Committee, composed of an elementary teacher and principal, a secondary administrator and a member of the Department of Instruction, assisted the superintendent in interviewing both internal and external applicants for the post. Ms. Frost, Dr. Adams noted, has this committee's support.

Ms. Frost is currently on campus at Michigan State University on sabbatical leave to complete the requirements for her doctorate. Prior to her appointment to the South Haven post, in 1966, she was a fifth grade teacher for eight years and a junior high school teacher for two years before that.

Has Three Degrees
The title of her soon-to-be completed dissertation is "Delegation of Administrative Tasks by Elementary Principals." She holds an Education Specialist's degree from Michigan State and an MA degree from Western Michigan University in Elementary Administration and Supervision.

Woods Police Elect Officers

Members of the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers Association, (GPWPOA), conducted an election of officers for 1975 last week and William Desilets was selected president.

Officer Desilets replaces Youth Service Division Detective Patrick Fagan in that post on Wednesday, January 1. Det. Fagan, who completes his second straight year as GPWPOA president on Tuesday, December 31, declined to run for a third term.

Other winners include Officers Bruce Marone, vice-president; Michael VanDeGinste, secretary; and Thomas Hunke, treasurer.

Christmas Seal Donations Research 'Booster Shot'

Medical research is receiving a million dollar "booster shot" this year, thanks in part to local Christmas Seal contributors.

Murray Jackson, president of the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan, announced that $1,193,925 was allocated by local, state and national units of the American Lung Association for research grants and contracts underwriting a wide range of investigations of lung diseases.

Of this, $262,419 is earmarked for a nationwide "seed money" research program administered by the nationwide lung association, the University of Michigan professor added.

Police Officers and Firefighters to Assist Lions Clubs in Effort to Obtain Funds to Aid Needy

Pointers can play a major role in helping members of the Grosse Pointe Lions and Woods Lions Clubs continue their humanitarian work among the needy by purchasing a special edition Goodfellow Newspaper on Monday, December 16.

From around 6:30 a.m. until noon, local Lions, their wives and friends, along with police officers and firefighters, will "hawk" papers on area corners.

Policemen and firefighters from The City, Park and Farms, along with members of The Shores Department of Public Safety, will assist GP Lions Club members, while Woods public safety officers will "pitch in" and help Woods Lions.

Strive for Goals

GP Lions have set a goal of $7,500, said Henry Van Eckoute, who's co-chairman of the sale along with Walter H. Breyer, Nick Leto is chairman. This is the 45th consecutive year that GP Lions have conducted their Goodfellow paper sale.

Under the direction of chairman Robert Carver and co-chairman Adolph Angelilli, Woods Lions will work harder than ever to obtain their goal of $3,500.

Monies received from the sales will be used to bring Christmas cheer to Pointe needy. GP Lions report Christmas baskets will be distributed through names submitted by police officers and firefighters. The rest of the money will be used for other community needs, plus various Lion projects to aid the blind.

GP Lions contribute to many organizations including The War Memorial, the Michigan Lions Eye Bank, CARE, Boy Scouts of America and the White Cane Project.

Most Important

Educational Materials Rules Stated

Documents Concern Selection and Method of Handling and Registering Objections

In another round of policy making, the Board of Education formally adopted two new documents at its meeting Monday, December 9, both of which deal with its stand on the use of educational materials.

The first, "Adoption of Educational Materials," reasserts the legal responsibility of the Board in determining the curriculum and approving the appropriateness of all educational materials.

In deciding on these matters, the Board re-stated its intention in all instances, to perform its major function—the development and maintenance of an educational program of the highest possible quality.

Can Recommend

The policy gives the Superintendent of Schools the power to make recommendations to the trustees on various courses of study and educational materials.

Guidelines for the implementation of the policy have not yet been worked out but Superintendent of Schools Dr. James A. Adams said they would be forthcoming.

The second policy, "Responding to Objections to the Appropriateness of Educational Materials," is somewhat more involved.

Acknowledging the trustees' respect for the diversity of beliefs and values that exist among their constituents, the policy provides a procedure to be followed in the event a legitimate objection is raised to the use of educational materials adopted by the Board.

Basically, the procedure boils down to three different levels of hearings to be held should a complaint arise.

Go to Principal

Objections will first be taken up with the principal of the school involved, who will, when appropriate, confer with the teacher using the material.

Every reasonable attempt will be made to resolve the issue at the building level, but if the complainant does not withdraw his objections, the matter will be directed to the office of the Assistant Superintendent - Instruction who will have organized an 11-member Advisory Panel

Driver Snatches Woman's Purse

A Shores woman was the victim of a purse snatcher Saturday, December 7, who made off with her purse and $170 in cash that it contained.

The theft occurred while she was shopping in the Kercheval, On-The-Hill district.

The woman was walking west in the alley behind a group of stores when a car, also traveling west, pulled beside her. The driver reached out his window and yanked her purse and umbrella out of her arm.

Farms police said the vehicle then sped off turning right into the center of the municipal parking lot, proceeding eastbound, and then turning left into the leased municipal lot and exiting on Ridge road.

The woman described the vehicle as being dark green with a black top and loud mufflers.

In the car were two white males. The driver was described as being in his twenties with dark blond hair and wearing a dark brown jacket.

The woman said her purse was about 15 inches long and made of brown leather with a brass buckle trim. In addition to the cash, it contained credit cards and personal items.

Farms detectives are continuing their investigation of the case.

Proceeds from the sale also go towards glasses, examinations and operations for the less fortunate in The Pointe area.

"This is the club's most important fund raising project of the year," report Woods Lions. "Without the money obtained from this drive, the Lions would be unable to carry on their humanitarian work among the blind and other unfortunate individuals.

"Funds derived from the sale provide eye examinations, glasses, white canes and Leader Dogs for the Blind, along with aid to the needy such as food, clothing and Christmas baskets, which are supplied from information provided by Woods police.

"Due to the present economic conditions, the Lions are anticipating an increase in calls for assistance this holiday season."

Mr. VanEckoute, who had sound words of praise for the assistance provided in past years from police officers and firefighters, said the following GP Lions are scheduled to participate in this year's sale:

George Bittner, Mr. Breyer, Richard L. Fischer, Ralph Genter, David E. Hopp, Dallas R. Kitchen, Edward F. Kliber, Howard J. Krieger, George H. Kretschmar, Mr. Leto.

Holding the central spot of honor in the exhibit case is an unusually fine specimen of passenger pigeon—(extinct since 1914), that is really unique.

The collection will be shown at the Nature Center until closing time this winter, and then dismantled and reassembled to form the nucleus of a Michigan birds exhibit now being planned for the entrance lobby of the Interpretive Building.

Our most grateful thanks to the Cohans for their important contribution to the Nature Center, concludes the article.

Mrs. McFadden says everyone is welcome to visit Seven Ponds at 3854 Crawford road. The Interpretive Building will open again on February 15, 1975, but the grounds and rest rooms are open year around.

Seven Ponds Nature Center is a nature and conservation education center of the Michigan Audubon Society, dedicated to the education of youth, the study and enjoyment of nature and the conservation of our natural resources. The Grosse Pointe Audubon Society is one of the sponsoring chapters.

ners and thrust the bill into the register without checking it completely.

Lt. Duncan added he didn't feel this is an organized type of activity; rather, it's more of an individual effort.

City Lt. Robert Van Tiem suggested, "The easiest thing to do is to take a bill, turn it over and carefully look at both sides."

Don't Get Stung

Shores Det. Sgt. Frank Mustazza exclaimed that residents should "Watch their money!" He said, "There are lots of con artists working and they always figure out new angles. The person who's not alert is always going to get stung."

In calling this an "old trick," Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber drew a parallel with counterfeit money.

He said one way to tell if a bill is real or not is to fold it in half, crinkle it and look carefully to see if it contains red, blue and green fibers in the white areas. If so, the bill is real.

Any man's fitness for public office can be judged by the means he uses trying to get it.

comprised of teachers, principals, parents, a librarian and a student.

They will review a report made by the principal who first heard the objection and preside at a hearing during which the complainant may present oral arguments supporting his position.

Panel Will Report

Each member of the Advisory Panel will offer his observations in an independent, written recommendation. The Superintendent of Schools, after studying these observations, will deliver a ruling or propose a solution in writing to the objector.

If that judgment is accepted, the matter will be considered closed, but an appeal may ultimately be made to the Board of Education, which will then conduct a public hearing.

The decision of the trustees will be final.

If a complaint regarding materials registered earlier is repeated, the matter will be taken directly to the Board along with all previous written reports on the subject.

Success comes to those who do common things uncommonly well.

Men's Night Fails to Draw Big Crowd

By Nancy Kramer

It might be the economic situation, or perhaps it was the aftermath of Sunday's huge snowstorm, but last Tuesday's Men's Night in The Village hardly drew droves of men anxious to shop in Kercheval avenue during their special night.

In fact, from the looks of the deserted street, it seemed most men deliberately shied away from the shopping district.

Of all the stores that rolled out the red carpet for males on December 3, Jacobson's seemed to be enjoying the greatest response.

That store had a jazz/ragtime band on the first floor, an organist on the second, coffee, punch and doughnuts at various locations and models decked out in elegant apparel to cater to male customers.

A Jacobson's salesman said he felt response there was pretty good. "Usually on Men's Night the store is full and this year, the building is bigger than ever and its still filling up," he remarked.

At Wright-Kay, however, a salesman disagreed. "I think it's quieter than last year," he said, and added that many of the men seemed to be looking more than they were buying.

A number of males did seem to be aimlessly wandering about, watching the action rather than taking part in it. Few were burdened by the multitude of packages with which their female counterparts are generally associated.

Some admitted they simply enjoyed the camaraderie of Men's Nights and one gentleman, who said he just came to look at the models, did a double take when he saw one dressed in a gray black swimsuit. "My wife in that?" he asked.

Others who had packages seemed to have a definite sense of mission. One, when asked if he knew what he was shopping for, said "Absolutely. My wife gave me all the charge cards, put me on the front porch, pointed me in the right direction and said 'Go'."

He pulled out a list saying he had bought all the items she'd requested and then confessed to purchasing a sport coat and several ties for himself.

"One must know what one wants," confirmed another successful shopper who purchased a robe for his wife, "or else the venture will be fruitless."

Wives apparently realized this and made the problem a little easier for husbands to deal with.

Some had already established contacts with salesladies, telling them what their husbands should be sold. Others presented husbands with lists of desired items, sizes and colors.

A lot of men said they were taking the nation's economic problems into consideration this year, but at least one shopper threw caution to the wind. "My wife gave me a list but she was being too frugal," he explained. "I have a particularly happy marriage and I wanted to buy her something really nice to show her how much I love her."

D. M. Egan seemed to be doing a little business but salesman Terry Griffin said men there were buying for themselves.

He felt Men's Nights of the past were more exciting than those of recent years. "I remember when I was younger and they had sports figures down here. You could have your picture taken with them and get their autographs. Kids would drag their fathers down here. I think Men's Night would be better if they started doing that again. I'd like to get Joe Namath."

Across the street, Charterhouse and Company, the Village's newest store, offered punch, cookies and cigars for gentlemen to sample. President W. Michael Williams seemed to be enjoying his first Men's Night. "As new merchants we were pleased to be so well received by Grosse Pointers," he remarked.

Elsewhere though, shops were relatively empty and merchants couldn't quite place their finger on a reason why. "They just don't seem to have the Christmas spirit," the

Love Conquers All in Woods

One man who recently pled guilty in Wayne County Circuit Court, to attempted larceny from a building, but failed to show for his sentencing, didn't miss his marriage date Saturday, December 7, even though Woods police picked him up the previous evening on a capias, (a writ of arrest).

Belleville resident Daniel Sherwood Gibbs was apprehended by Dets. Everett Plumb and Donald Sun, along with Det. Sgt. Bernard Kelly, at his father's home and taken to the station to face a possible postponement of the marriage date.

However, after officers learned of the situation, Woods Municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis was contacted and conducted the ceremony in the council court room chambers on Saturday with the wedding party in attendance.

Afterwards, the groom was returned to his cell block, and was transported to Circuit Court Monday morning, December 9, for sentencing. Gibbs was given two year's probation with the first 45 days to be spent in the Detroit House of Correction

At 8 p.m., special choruses, under the direction of Mrs. Helen Harrison and Mrs. Anibel Lucatsky, will perform in the gym; their presentation will be followed by a group sing.

Refreshments will be served by the PTO committee.

Wright-Kay salesman concluded, "and I don't think the weather has anything to do with that."

Research Receives Boost

cardiovascular functions. Better understanding of the processes may lead to improved rates of survival of newborn infants.

• Measurement of the rates and efficiencies of the natural mechanisms by which insoluble particles in cigarette smoke are removed from regions of the lung which do not contain cilia to perform that function.

Results may provide more accurate assessment of the effects of inhalation of toxic materials and the role of smoking in the development of lung disease.

• Investigation of the genetics and sexuality of the tubercle bacillus, the germ that causes TB. Although genetic studies have been useful in controlling other bacterial diseases, these methods formerly have not been applied to the TB germ.

Results may explain how the germ is able to invade and destroy tissue, and why it develops resistance to anti-TB drugs.

• A study to find out why the body's normal defense mechanism fails, allowing development of sarcoidosis, and development of a rapid blood test to confirm diagnosis of the disease.

Sarcoidosis is a systemic disease that causes lesions, usually in the lung. There is no specific treatment, and the cause is unknown. Correct diagnosis is important, because sarcoidosis can be mistaken for other lung diseases.

In addition to Christmas Seal research grants, another $2 million in contributions supports fellowships, faculty positions and other programs designed to expand professional knowledge about emphysema and other chronic lung diseases, he stated.

Costs of medical education literature, periodicals and films for physicians, nurses and other health workers is not included in this total.

"Although Christmas Seal funds play a major role in the acquisition of scientific knowledge, we face a long battle against chronic lung diseases," said Mr. Jackson. "Giving more to Christmas Seals means we can do more in the community and the research laboratory. It's a matter of life and breath."

Farms Woman Reports Attack

A 68-year-old McKinley road resident, about to enter her home late Thursday night, December 5, was assaulted by a man who knocked her down and stole her purse.

The victim suffered cuts to both hands after a struggle with her assailant. She told police she and her husband were about to enter their home when the man came from behind and grabbed her purse. She described him as being black, about 6 feet tall with short hair, and wearing a short brown jacket and brown pants.

She said the purse was made of brown leather and suede and contained over $30 in cash, personal papers and the keys to her house and car.

The man fled the area on foot towards McMillan road.

Woods Seniors To Go to Party

The "Woods Heritage Group," the new name for the city's busy senior citizens' organization, will have a big Christmas tree decorated with around 100 stuffed felt birds at its Thursday, December 19, yule party.

The event at North High School includes dinner, a meeting and a choral concert.

Several seniors worked on creating the birds which will have the group's initials, "WHG '74", on the wings. "Every person who comes to the gathering will receive one as a memento of our first Christmas party," said Senior Citizens Commission chairman Irene Sutton.

As of Monday, December 9, Mrs. Sutton said over 80 people are expected to attend the event which begins at 6 p.m. at the school.

Gunman Robs Park Resident

A Park resident who asked the authorities to withhold his name, was held up in the driveway of his home in the 900 block of Trombley road, at about 1:45 a.m. on Friday, December 6.

Information released by Lt. Gordon Duncan revealed that the robbery victim had just pulled into his driveway and was walking toward his house when he heard a noise behind him and turned. He said he observed a black male holding a dark object in his hand, presumably a gun.

The hold-up man demanded the resident hand over his wallet and the keys to his car, then ordered his victim to start walking south on Trombley and not to look back.

The resident told investigating officers that he heard footsteps crunching in the snow and turned to look, in time to see the gunman enter a late model car, which headed north on the road. The robbery victim could not determine if someone else was in the vehicle.

He said his wallet contained $39 in currency. The wallet was found by the man's wife in the next door neighbor's yard, sans the money. Everything else was intact. The keys were found later by a young school student at Lakepointe and Vernon. The police picked up the keys and returned them to the owner.

The victim described the holdup man as being between 20 and 25 years old; about five feet eight inches tall, medium brown complexion and wearing a dark jacket and trousers and a knit "apple-pie" type cap.

Family Movies Offered Jan. 9

The Family Film Night of the Grosse Pointe Public Central Library will again present films to entertain all ages on Thursday, January 9.

Films to be shown are:

Big Moments in the Big Ten, 27 minutes, color. Exciting highlights from Big Ten football games.
The Fur Coat Club, 19 minutes, color. Two nine-year-old girls share an amusing pastime, the love to feel fur coats, and they organized a "Fur Coat Club." They devote their afternoons to stalking people in furs and keeping score of successful "touches." Their game leads them into a series of adventures, climaxed by their sneaking into a fur store and being locked up for the night in a furrier's vault. When two robbers break into the fur store, the girls apprehend the criminals and become heroines. By the end of the film, however, they have sworn off furs and are on to a new, equally off-beat game.

Dragon Stew, 13 minutes, color. A funny fantasy about a very fat king called King Chubby, about Klus Kindelspiel who won a contest and became the royal cook—but he couldn't cook—about a small fire eating dragon who almost became the main ingredient in a secret recipe for dragon stew. Based on the book by Tom McGowan.

The films will be shown in the Exhibition Room of the Grosse Pointe Public Library at 7:30 p.m.

For any other information, please contact the Audio-Visual Department at 884-2200.

Vandal Breaks Two Windows

Two windows of an Edgemere road home were broken by a brick-wielding vandal sometime between Saturday, November 30, and Sunday, December 1. The occupants of the home were out of town at the time of the vandalism.

Another Edgemere road resident reported the damage to Farms police after it was discovered Sunday while he was checking the house. The house had been checked Saturday and was found to be secure.

Police said two windows were broken. Damage was estimated at $50.

Police said the brick was thrown with considerable force since it landed about 10 feet inside the living room.

Arrest Solves Other Robberies

A 24-year-old Woods man, awaiting sentencing in Wayne County and Macomb County Circuit Courts for separate counts of breaking and entering, is presently in The Farms jail under a $20,000 bond for breaking and entering a Farms drug store.

Larry Joseph Reininger, of 1268 Aline drive, was arrested by Farms police Friday, December 6, and charged with breaking into Briggs Pharmacy, 1854 Mack avenue.

Farms Officers Philip, Mollie and Kenneth Pine, patrolling in the Mack avenue block about 11:50 p.m., noticed a window broken out of the pharmacy. They radioed for assistance and Farms Officer Thomas Kelly and Woods Officer William Duster, Cpl. Gerald Kensora and Lt. Peter Thomas responded. Officer Pine covered the front of the building and observed the suspect inside, police said.

The other officers surrounded the building and the suspect was arrested outside the rear of the pharmacy.

Miscellaneous items from the store were found outside the point of entry, police said.

The scene was turned over to Farms Det. Earl Field. He said Reininger was arraigned.

SHOPPING TIP

Christmas shoppers should make sure toys purchased for holiday gift-giving are free from dangerous parts or parts that can break off and be swallowed by a youngster, warns the Farms Fire Department. In addition, purchasers of children's sleepwear should check to make sure the clothing is flame resistant.

ed Saturday, December 7, and a $20,000 cash bond was set by Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell.

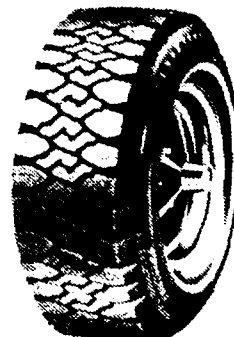

A preliminary examination was set for 11 a.m. Wednesday, December 11, (after press time).

Det. Field said the arrest cleared numerous other Mack avenue burglaries in The Farms and the investigation is continuing.

He said Reininger is scheduled to be sentenced in Wayne County Circuit Court Monday, December 16, for the burglary of the Roslyn Market, 21020 Mack avenue. Woods police cleared seven burglaries in that city with his arrest.

Prior to his arrest in The Farms, he was free on $1,000 bond from Wayne County Circuit Court.

Reininger also is scheduled to be sentenced in Macomb County Circuit Court later this month for a St. Clair Shores burglary. He was free on a $2,000 bond from that court.

Thieves Loot Two Trucks

Two trucks were raided by thieves in separate incidents in The Park, on Friday, December 6, it was revealed by Lt. Gordon Duncan. The value of the loot taken was estimated at about $445.

The first theft was reported by Michael McPhee of 15803 Springhill, Detroit, at 4:21 p.m.; the second, by Dennis Barnes of 1025 Wayburn, at 4:50 p.m.

McPhee, an employee of a beer distribution company, told Park authorities that his truck was parked in the south Mack alley at the rear of 15301 Mack, while he was making a delivery. When he returned to the vehicle, he said, he discovered the rear doors open and 11 cases of different brands of beverages missing. He valued the loss at about $80.

Barnes, an employee of a heating company, told police that he parked his company's truck overnight on Wayburn, near his home, between Jefferson and Hampton, December 5.

The following morning, December 6, he found that during the night, someone had broken into the truck and had taken a citizen-band radio and a tool box of assorted tools. He valued his loss at approximately $365, he said.

Both incidents are under investigation by officers of the Detective Bureau.

To Dedicate Church Organ

An antiphonal organ will be dedicated at First English Evangelical Lutheran Church, 800 Vernier road, on Sunday, December 15, at the 11 a.m. worship. It is being provided as a memorial for various past members of the congregation.

This instrument, located above the chancel, will supplement the main organ placed in the balcony. The main organ was installed in 1958. With this addition, more versatility is provided for the use of the organ in the worship of the congregation.

The antiphonal organ can be played either from the console of the main organ or its own separate console on the floor of the nave.

It will be used to accompany either solo or choral music in the chancel of the church, as well as to support congregational singing. This addition provides an arrangement not generally found in church organs at the present.

Designed and installed by the M. P. Moller Co., of Hagerstown, Md., the antiphonal organ will be used for the choral worship of Christmas music on Sunday, December 22, at 11 a.m.

Linda Bauer serves the congregation as organist and Werner Stuecher is the director of its three choirs.

Common Cause Meets Tonight

Members of Common Cause living in Michigan's 14th Congressional District, (which includes The Pointe), will meet at 8 p.m. tonight, December 12, in the auditorium at Eastland. All 14th District residents are invited to attend, said Julius Ballew, Common Cause area coordinator.

The meeting's purpose is to discuss the launching of an initiative petition to put political reform for Michigan on the ballot so citizens may have an opportunity to vote on the matter, Mr. Ballew said.

He indicates that it will be a "town hall" type meeting with participation by the audience welcomed. Bruce Sanders and George Hathaway, 14th District residents who are on the State executive committee of Common Cause, will speak.

Common Cause was deeply involved in a 1974 petition drive in California which resulted in the election reform issue being placed on the ballot where it won the overwhelming support of that state's voters.

The organization, which defines itself as a citizens' lobby, takes the position that heavy campaign contributions by special interest groups, uncontrolled lobbying and conflicts of interest are target areas on both national and state levels.

Citizen Thanks Farms Officer

A Farms resident has passed along a word of thanks to Farms Officer Donald Pilon for assisting in the transfer of an ill housekeeper to Cottage Hospital.

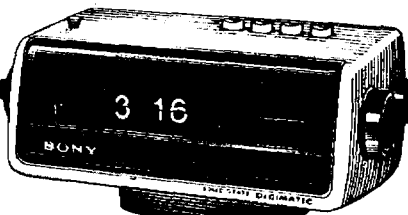

The Farms Fire Department took a Pine court resident to Cottage Hospital when she became ill. The police department was then called on to assist the housekeeper who also was ill.

The resident noted that both actions were most helpful in the emergency situation and she was extremely grateful.

New Teachers Join TM Group

Liz McIntyre and Irene Kearney have both been fully qualified by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi as teachers of the Science of Creative Intelligence and its practical aspect, Transcendental Meditation, (TM). Maharishi is the founder of the Science of Creative Intelligence.

The pair will now be teaching TM courses at The Pointe's center for the International Meditation Society in the Colonial Federal Building, 63 Kercheval avenue.

Miss McIntyre is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William McIntyre, of Lakecrest lane. Before attending the international teacher training course under the auspices of Maharishi International University, from May-November 1974, she had conducted research in the graduate department at Marquette University on the beneficial effects of TM on communication.

She has completed her master's degree at Marquette University, majoring in speech pathology. After her work in Grosse Pointe, she will return to Wisconsin, where she will continue teaching and will also be working as a speech therapist.

Miss Kearney returned last month from the International Teacher Training Course which was held in Switzerland this year and which she had attended since last January. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Kearney, of Touraine road. Mr. Kearney is the president of Kearney Travel Service Inc. on Jefferson road.

She is a graduate of the University of Maryland, where she majored in criminal justice. Both ladies attended the Academy of the Sacred Heart in Lakeshore road.

An introductory lecture on TM will be given at the War Memorial on Thursday, December 19, at 1:30 and 8 p.m. For further information, call the TM center at 882-7211.

Set Memorial Church Drama

Rehearsals are underway at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church for this year's Christmas drama which will be presented on Tuesday, December 24, at the annual family service at 5 p.m., under the direction of its author Mrs. Rae Bambas.

Working with Mrs. Bambas are Paul Reynolds, church organist and choirmaster, Dr. Ray Kiely, senior minister and co-ordinator Miss Kathy Neubauer.

The play-pageant is in two parts, one modern and one traditional. Both strive to point out that the true meaning of Christmas does not change over the centuries. People everywhere still search and long for hope and salvation.

Among those assisting in the program are Mrs. Sterling Berry, Mrs. William Wundram, Mrs. Earl Kotts, Mrs. Sidney Probert, Mrs. Clara Brown and Mrs. Donald McConachie.

The choir, accompanied by the organ will complement the drama which will be performed in the chancel of the church.

Incorporated in the service will be the lighting of advent candles and a Baptism service.

Western larch is the only commercially used conifer that sheds its needles every autumn.

Catch Suspects in Car Thefts

Through the arrest of a trio of suspects in Garden City for stealing Lincoln Mark IV's, Woods police, through their subsequent investigation, closed two incidents which occurred this year. One was a car theft and the other was an attempted theft.

Of the arrested trio, a 22-year-old Detroit man admitted to Det. Sgt. Bernard Kelly and Det. Everett Pelly on Friday, November 29, that he took a Mark IV, which was recovered in mid-November in Mississippi. This drive was taken from the drive of a Wedgewood road citizen in early October. The suspect said an estimated $2,700 worth of tools in the auto's trunk were put in a friend's house but the friend soon disposed of them. The accused said he'd attempt to get them back. The Detroiters also said he attempted to steal a Mark IV in Blairmore but he was unable to remove the ignition. Woods police said since Garden City already has a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile pending on him, and since the FBI has a hold placed on him, the man will not be prosecuted in their city.

Tips To Avert Holiday Fires

The Farms Fire Department is asking residents to follow a few fire-safety tips in order to make the holiday season a safe and happy one.

The department warns that a spark from a fireplace, a short circuit in Christmas tree lights or a glowing cigarette could turn a Christmas tree into a roaring fire. Christmas trees are saturated with pitch and resin, making them extremely flammable.

Besides frequent waterings, trees can be treated with a product to make them more fire resistant. Persons interested in treating their trees should call the department at 885-1000 for further details.

Aluminum Christmas trees can also pose a hazard if they are strung with lights. If cracked wires come in contact with the metal, electrocution can result. The fire department said strings of lights should not be used on metal trees and suggested using a floor spotlight to provide illumination.

Once the holidays are over, Christmas trees should not be chopped up and burned in the fireplace. Usually this is too much wood for the chimney to handle adequately and the fire explodes into the room. Trees should be placed at the curb for the regular trash pickup.

To See 'Alice' At Memorial

Bluebirds and Camp Fire Girls, all from the Grosse Pointe Leaders Association, will attend a performance of "Alice in Wonderland" in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium Saturday, December 14.

Janice Dahl, a leader of two Bluebird groups at Richard School, said 200 tickets should be used by the youngsters and their leaders for the show.

Bluebirds are for girls in grades one through three, while Camp Fire Girls are fourth graders and up.

WE'VE OPENED A DOOR FOR AMERICA'S YOUTH!

There is a positive force that is moving forward in America today, opening doors for young men and women who will make a difference in the America of tomorrow.

Since 1970, John Wesley College, under the dynamic leadership of its president, Dr. Kenneth S. Armstrong, has been pulling back the curtain on unique and exciting educational programs.

These are programs that live on the cutting edge of tomorrow. They are designed to meet America's youth where they are living and take them to a point of responsible living and leadership.

This is not a new idea. The small private Christian college has been one of the greatest influences in shaping America's leadership in the world.

One hundred twenty-five years ago, these colleges served nearly all of America's college students.

Today, while many of these small, private colleges are dying, some — such as John Wesley College — are finding new vitality and reclaiming their heritage of providing a guiding and stabilizing force in the midst of social and moral upheaval in America and of being pioneers in education by designing and implementing educational programs that meet the real needs of America's youth.

a few things you should know about John Wesley college

LEARNING VILLAGE

The campus of John Wesley College is a unique English Learning Village. All buildings are designed in the old English motif and strategically located to create a village atmosphere. This helps to emphasize the College's commitment to building a community, not an institution.

LEADERSHIP

The success of any mission is largely dependent upon the quality of its leadership. The president of John Wesley College, Dr. Kenneth S. Armstrong, is a highly creative individual with strong, academic preparation with two earned doctorates.

FINANCIAL SUCCESS

John Wesley College has accomplished one of the most successful small gifts fundraising campaigns of any small, private college in America. In two years, nearly 5,000 families have committed $5 million to John Wesley College through its Endowment Club. And each week the total increases. The College's assets have climbed from $1.5 million in 1969, to $15.4 million in 1974.

RECOGNITION

John Wesley College is recognized by the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities as a Candidate for Accreditation. Although its programs are innovative, its history reaches back to 1909 when it was chartered by the State of Michigan and vested with the power to confer degrees.

UNIQUE PROGRAMS

John Wesley College is among those colleges pioneering several innovative programs in education. One unique program is Foreign Travel-Study which makes it possible for EVERY STUDENT to spend four weeks in Europe as part of his regular academic experience at no extra cost.

YOU, TOO, CAN OPEN DOORS...

...by investing in John Wesley college and earning 9% annual interest

As John Wesley College keeps on growing, so do the needs for the youth who come to the campus. Next school year, at least 100 new beds will be needed to accommodate the continued projected increase in student enrollment. New classrooms, lecture halls, an audio visual center, and a fine arts building are all important additions that need to be constructed in the English Learning Village.

To help finance its capitalized expansion program, John Wesley College goes directly to investors instead of financial lending institutions and pays investors 9 per cent annual interest.

The College offers its $1,000 minimum Investment Certificates through a professional firm, Atlantic Charter Corporation, whose representatives are all licensed with the Security Exchange Commission.

Investors in John Wesley College come from all walks of life — farmers, doctors, dentists, small businessmen, industrialists, factory workers, retired ministers, educators, and many others.

There are at least two reasons why they invest in John Wesley College: 1) A rate of interest that provides them with a good yield on their savings, and 2) There is double satisfaction in knowing that invested dollars can be used to provide valuable living-learning experiences for youth who can make a positive contribution to the quality of life in America.

America needs men and women who are willing to invest in the youth of our nation. There are some doors that only they can open.

Woods Exonerated in Labor Practices Decision

union activities and accused the city of blackballing him with other departments.
Det. Fagan Disappointed
Youth Service Division Det. Patrick Fagan, GPWPOA president, expressed disappointment in the result but said, "We lost fair and square." He stated the union "took it down and got the decision." The detective added he would recommend to Mr. Kovaleski that no exception be filed.
Det. Fagan said the case of the dismissed officer was "cut and dried" in the administrative law judge's opinion. However, he stressed the corporals at this point have no contract, (they are part of the patrolmen's bargaining unit), and he wrote a letter to the city administration requesting that negotiations be resumed. He added, "The corporals have gone two years without a raise."

City Attorney George Catlin said, in his view, bargaining will be resumed on the corporals' contract. As for the recommended order in its entirety, he stated, "The city will have no objections to the order."

Has No Comment
Public Safety Director Henry Marchand said he had no comments on the recommended order except to say, "I think the results speak for themselves."

On the corporals contract, (the city has three corporals), the union felt the basis for the refusal to bargain in good faith charge was that City Administrator Chester E. Petersen took an offer to the association, which accepted it. But then he didn't recommend approval of the proposed contract to the council.

In early April, substantial agreement was apparently reached between both parties on salaries and fringe benefits for corporals. The city typed up the proposal with a copy being given to the union. Then both parties met and signed a tentative agreement which was subject to ratification by both the union and the council, said Mr. Kurtz in his recommended order.

However, a transcribing error caused the problem regarding ratification of the corporals' pact.

Mr. Kurtz said, "Petersen signed the tentative agreement on behalf of the city, and within minutes after signing it he reviewed the document and found that there had been a transcribing error which gave the corporals an additional $200 on their gross salary," over and above figures discussed at an earlier meeting.

Discovers Error
After discovering the error, Mr. Petersen immediately notified the association and requested that negotiations be resumed. But the union contended that everyone had signed the package as an agreement and there was no further need for negotiations.

When the ratification of the agreement came before the council on April 15, Mr. Petersen mentioned the error, which he said was his alone, and the solons decided to delay action on ratification to May 6 meeting.

Mr. Kurtz reported, prior to the May 6 meeting, Mr. Petersen wrote to the union president, with copies to the three corporals, and indicated that the alleged transcribing error had been reviewed by Director Marchand and City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher.

"Their review of the calculation figures required to maintain the salary ratio between patrolmen and corporals," as well as a review of two earlier meetings, "established that the city had made an honest error in transcribing the tentative agreement," he said. Mr. Petersen advised the union he wouldn't recommend that the council ratify the proposal on May 6. At that session, the solons unanimously concurred in his recommendation and referred the matter to Mr. Petersen for further negotiations.

Kurtz Disagrees
In his conclusions, Mr. Kurtz said, "I cannot conclude based upon the facts present in the record that Petersen is guilty of bad faith bargaining in his handling of the contract covering the corporals, irrespective of which party is right as to the existence of the alleged transcribing error in the gross salary figure."

He noted that while the union chose to stand on the document signed by both parties, "I do not find that Petersen's insistence that there was an inadvertent error in that document was in bad faith."

Mr. Kurtz said he found no bad faith or an attempt to circumvent the union's bargaining authority in Mr. Petersen's letter to the union and the corporals not to recommend the pact's acceptance by the council.

He concluded that the city hadn't violated PERA regarding the matters surrounding the city's failure to ratify the proposed contract agreement.

On the officer's discharge, Mr. Kurtz reports this was the first in the department in around 15 years. The man was discharged by Director Marchand based on the recommendation of command officers, including corporals, after a staff meeting in January. Director Marchand gave the officer the opportunity to resign from the department, and when he refused, he was discharged, said Mr. Kurtz.

The union contends that the man was discharged because of his union activities, e.g., that he was discouraged in running for an association office after being nominated, and that he was reportedly discouraged from filing a grievance because he was a probationary employee, rather than his alleged deficiencies as a police officer.

In Mr. Kurtz's order, a summary of reasons are given for the man's discharge by the city including alleged driving violations both on and off duty and continual questioning of orders given by superiors. The man also was accused of arguing with supervision on everything, that after probation he would be more "vocal" and that he always had a smart answer when reprimanded, among other charges.

Mr. Kurtz, on the dismissal, noted that under the 1972-73 fiscal year contract, a probationary employee could be laid off or terminated at the discretion of the director without recourse to the grievance procedure.

In his conclusion on the man's discharge, Mr. Kurtz stated, "The only issue here is whether the employer's decision to terminate the employment, (of the man), was motivated because of his union or protected concerted activities. I conclude that the evidence is insufficient to sustain such a conclusion."

"The record amply supports the employer's contention that the reason for the termination was the city's overall dissatisfaction with (his) performance as a police officer, and I so find."

Other alleged unfair labor practices brought against the city and cited by Mr. Kurtz included curtailment of overtime work, a public safety department directive regarding news releases and a parking order memorandum to all departmental personnel.

In these three cases, Mr. Kurtz concluded that there was no violation of PERA.

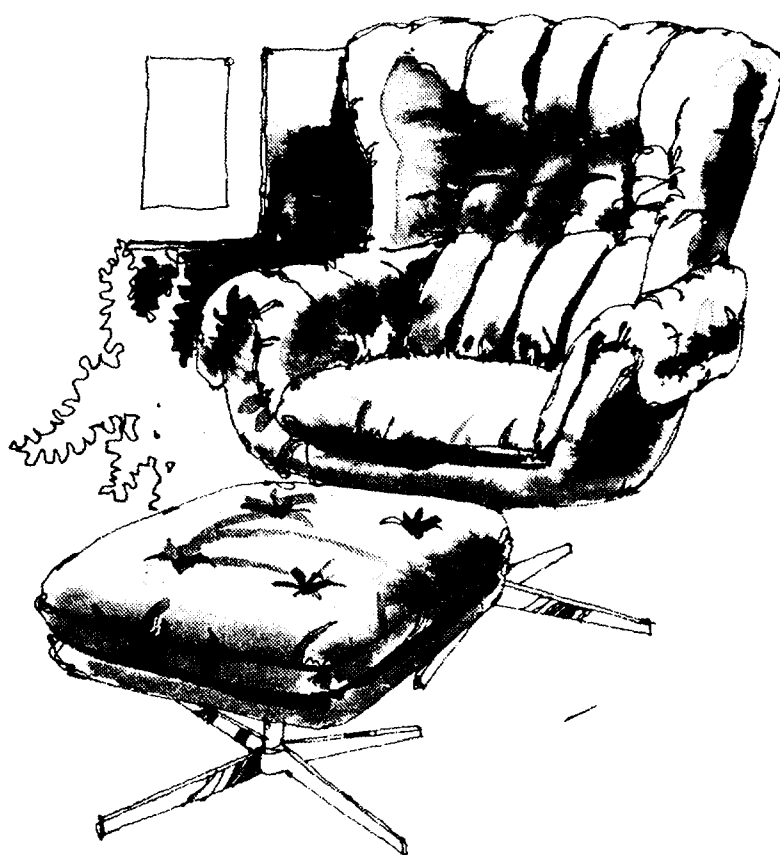

On two other alleged practices, i.e., a memorandum to public safety department personnel on visits to the city administration department and a letter from the city regarding the discharge of the officer, Mr. Kurtz said the former charge was "without merit," while on the latter charge he stated he would recommend dismissal of this aspect of the union's case.

From the experience of others, the wise correct their faults.

To See Films Of Red China

Four Weeks in Red China will be the program for the Grosse Pointe Cinema League's December 19 meeting to be held at 8 p.m. in the Fries Auditorium of the War Memorial.

Pointe physician, Dr. William Lange, will show a 16 mm film taken on his visit to the People's Republic of China during May of 1973. Dr. Lange was one of 10 plastic and hand surgeons invited by the People's Republic of China to visit. They were guests of the government and the country's medical society while there.

The film will show the life and activities of the people of China in five cities. Trips to historical sites, tours of factories and parks and visits to museums will also be included. Of special interest to many will be the brief description of acupuncture as taught and practiced in China.

Hostesses for the social hour will be Miss Esther Peters and Mrs. George Fead. There is no charge for the program and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Nedzi Attacks Health Hazards

Congressman Lucien N. Nedzi, (D-Mich.), is introducing legislation that would empower the courts to shut down any plant which discharges a substance proved to be a risk to public health.

The Nedzi bill is in response primarily to a court decision allowing Reserve Mining Company of Silver Bay, Minn. to continue dumping 67,000 tons of taconite tailings into Lake Superior every day.

The ruling, which overturned a previous decision, stated the first judge had put too much emphasis on the health issue.

"For too long we have not put enough emphasis on people's health," Congressman Nedzi said. "Now we're learning that these tailings from Reserve are turning up in the drinking water at Marquette, Mich., over 200 miles from the plant. I think it's time the courts started giving more consideration to public health."

It is not yet clear what physical harm the consumption of taconite tailings can cause, but Congressman Nedzi noted that exposure to similar fibers can lead to cancer of the lungs, gastrointestinal system and the larynx.

"I am sympathetic to Reserve's need to keep its capital costs down," he said, "and I'm anxious to prevent any layoffs. But if we should discover that people hundreds of miles away are running the risk of developing cancer because of Reserve's operations, I see no choice but to have the courts order an immediate halt of the dumping."

Organ Society Offers Classic

The Motor City Theatre Organ Society will present Buster Keaton in the 1919 silent film comedy, "Saphead," with Lee Erwin playing the musical accompaniment on the Wurlitzer Pipe Organ at the Punch and Judy Theatre, 21 Kercheval avenue, at 8 p.m., Monday-Tuesday, December 16-17.

"Saphead" was one of Buster Keaton's first feature length movies and was an instant hit. Prints of the "Saphead" were "lost" for nearly 40 years, but the print which will be used for this performance features the original color tints.

Organist Erwin has made many previous appearances in Detroit, but this will be his first appearance at the Punch and Judy Theatre. He was the featured organist in the early 30s on the WLW radio program "Moon River," and for nearly 20 years was the organist and arranger for the Arthur Godfrey radio show.

The Wurlitzer organ in the Punch and Judy theatre was restored by members of the Motor City Theatre Organ Society several years ago. Although small in size, this Mighty Wurlitzer has a beautiful tone and was typical of the organs used in neighborhood movie theaters during the silent film era.

Advance tickets may be purchased at the Punch and Judy box office or on the night of the performance.

Slate Drivers Review Class

The Neighborhood Club is offering a unique driver education refresher course designed to assist persons who have completed a driver education course but feel they need more driving in traffic before taking the State road test.

The course will be tailored to individual needs and could cover such areas as right and left turns, angle parking, parallel parking and expressway driving.

Don Brenner will teach the class which will include three to four hours of actual time behind the wheel. Mr. Brenner said the sessions should be arranged to take place during the period from Monday, December 23, to Sunday, January 12.

The price for the review sessions is $35. Further information can be obtained by calling the Club at 885-4600.

Q With words like "inflation" around, do words like "luxury, performance, and economy" mean anything?

It seems the tighter the money, the looser the language. And these days the word "luxury" is almost as inflated as the dollar.

The fact is, the Audi 100LS actually is a luxury car at a reasonable price. It handles so easily and rides so smoothly you'd simply expect it to cost much more.

Basically, for one reason: German engineering and craftsmanship.

Specifically, for reasons like these: seats that are orthopedically designed to fit to the body and to help prevent fatigue; so much legroom and headroom you can stretch out even if you're well over 6 feet; front-wheel drive; front disc brakes; rack-and-pinion steering; independent front suspension.

And, with it all, 24 miles to the gallon*

"Luxury, performance and economy," even in times like these?

No question about it.

The answer is Audi

GP Bruins Win League Games

The Bruins continue to win their Michigan Open League games by large margins.

On November 11 they met Royal Oak and were victorious, 7-3. Mike Burkheiser, Matt Costello and Allen Taber each scored twice. The seventh goal was by Bill Seaver with Tony Curtale assisting.

Drew Mascarin shutout Fraser, 8-0, the following day in Fraser. John Davies opened the scoring with linemates Greg Johnston and Jim Morris assisting; Burkheiser tipped in a rebound after a pass play by Costello and Taber; and Morris scored after receiving a pass from Taber.

Mike Fredal, Bill Seaver and Scott Seaver each scored a goal and assisted on the other two. Then Costello and Burkheiser each scored with Taber assisting on both to get four for the game. Rob Brykalski and Jim Kennary played strong on defense.

The Bruins faced Southfield Wednesday, November 20, and were winners, 6-2. Morris, Costello with two, Scott Seaver, Davies and Taber scored for the winners.

On Thursday, December 5, the Bruins travelled to Livonia and were victorious, 7-1. Taber scored first after receiving a pass from Costello; Davies scored two unassisted goals; Burkheiser and Costello both scored with Taber assisting on each; Scott Seaver scored a shorthanded goal with Fredal and Kennary assisting; and Morris completed the scoring after a pass from Davies and Johnston.

The Bruins also played three exhibition games in Canada. On Saturday, November 16, they played in Sarnia and were 5-2 winners. Burkheiser and Taber each scored two with Joe Bucciero scoring the fifth on a hard slap shot.

The Bruins were in Kitchener, Ont., Saturday-Sunday, November 23-24, for back to back games. The first game was a 6-2 victory. Morris and Davies each netted a pair. The second game ended in a 2-2 tie with Bill Seaver and Taber scoring the Bruin goals.

The Bruins were not as successful in the Turkey Tournament. After defeating Little Caesars, 8-1, they faced a powerful Toronto Nats team and were defeated, 5-1.

After two overtimes the Bruins and Slator were tied 1-1. Slator was awarded the opportunity to play in the final game by virtue of shots on goal. The Toronto Nats were the winners of the tournament.

The Bruins will be playing in the Oshawa, Ont., tournament today-Saturday, December 12-14.

One View From The Capitol
By William R. Bryant, Jr.

Our two political party heritages, I believe, has served us well over the years and can continue to do so.

But the Republican party is in deep trouble all across the nation when only 23 percent say they are Republicans, even though about 60 percent identify themselves as conservatives.

There has been some talk recently about "the problem." At least there is general agreement that there is a problem.

But now we hear some say that it is an "image" problem, that all we Republicans need do is shed one image and adopt another. And the "image" we have and must rid ourselves of is the "country club image," we are told.

I can't agree, if what is meant is that we have all the philosophies and programs we need and all we need is better public relations.

It seems to me that the Republican party needs to adopt substantive change in a way which will provide a real broadening of the appeal of the party.

And it occurs to me that one good way we could do that is to cease acting as if we were anti-labor. Republican incumbents in the Michigan legislature from urban blue collar and "lower middle class" areas are able to appeal to voters only because they take a great deal of time and effort to counter the general anti-labor Republican image.

We have had reasons for votes and positions which union leaders blast as anti-labor. And most of them can be defended to the union members. But there are votes, each year, which break down on party lines or on which many Republicans get caught on thin ice voting against a union position just because it is the union position, or to make a weak point which is not truly defensible.

Success builds the name—and the name brings more success. Truth may be mighty, but a great deal of it is suppressed.

DYC Swimmers Compete in Meet

Detroit Yacht Club swimmers who live in Grosse Pointe and who entered the Clarenceville Swim Club "A" meet Thursday-Friday, November 21-22, placed well as natators from the United States and Canada gave Michigan swimmers stiff competition.

St. Paul's Mimi Storen, 10, showed her versatility in placing in four events — fourth, 100 IM; fourth, 100 free; fourth, 50 back, and sixth in the 50 free.

Laurie DeSantis continues to show improvement in free-style events and took second in the 50 free and fifth in the 100 breast.

Nick Trost took fourth in the 13-14, 100 back and Todd Lindheim took fourth in the 200-yard free for 11 and 12 boys.

The 11- and 12-year-old girls 200 medley relay placed fifth to win medals for Pointers Gay Storen, 12, and Sara Brieden.

Cindi Gannon, 9, proved she is already an "A" and "AA" swimmer in the 10 and under girls events by placing third in the 50 breast plus making "A" times in the 10 and under 100 IM, 50 back and 50 free, in the Utica-Shelby swim meet.

Gay Storen placed third in the 100 free and her 200 medley relay took second in the Livonia Spartan "C" meet Wednesday, November 20.

Friar Varsity Skaters Off To Good Start; JV's Sizzle

By Paul T. Denis

After losing more than half of their team to graduation, coach Bud Newberry's Friars are back with another strong hockey squad.

The team has seven seniors, seven juniors, five sophomores and two freshmen. Currently six games into their season, the Friars record stands at 3-1-2.

In the first game the Friars played Assumption of Windsor and lost, 6-2. Brian Carron had both goals for Austin, one in the first period and the other in the final period. Getting assists were fellow juniors Mike Peters and Jim Hirschfield. In goal, sophomore Greg Supina faced a total of 32 shots.

The loss failed to dampen anyone's spirits as the "Pucksters" moved quickly with three straight victories over Allen Park, Livonia and Bowling Green.

Against Allen Park the Friars won 3-2. Goals came from Mark Santi, Tom Michaels and Carron with assists going to captain Tim Eisbrenner, Carron and Hirschfield.

In the game against Livonia the Friars jumped to an early first period lead by scoring four goals to Livonia's one. George Dritsas had two goals with Tom Costello and Greg Grillo adding one apiece. Eisbrenner, Rick Huetter, Rick Fabbri and Santi had assists on those goals.

Santi and Carron added two more unanswered goals in the second period to make the score 6-1. Dritsas had the assist on Santi's goal. Livonia's other two goals came in the final period after Austin had changed goalies.

Bowling Green of Ohio proved to be a worthy opponent as they kept the game tied up until the final minutes of play when Dave Baratta got the puck from Dritsas and netted the winner from the point, 4-3.

All the other scoring by both teams was done in the first period. Juniors Hirschfield, Carron and Dritsas all scored in the opening period. Carron also had an assist with others going to Ross McElroy, Grillo and Fabbri.

In the last two games the Friars just haven't been able to come up with that winning goal. Both games ended in ties, one against Findlay, 4-4, and the other against Country Day, 3-3.

The Findlay game, played in Ohio, saw the Friars beaten out in the final period. Dritsas, Costello, Santi and Mike Stapleton scored for Austin. Costello and Hirschfield had assists on the final two goals.

Against Country Day Austin scored in the second period with Grillo scoring from Dritsas. In the third period Hirschfield and Carron got goals with assists from McElroy and Hirschfield.

Austin's JV hockey team has been "out of sight." In three games, they have outscored their opponents, 50-2. They won their first game by forfeit and haven't come close to losing yet.

In their second game the Friars beat Andover, 18-0. Outstanding offensive efforts came from Eugene Boyle, four goals and five assists; Martin Santi, four goals and four assists; and Louis Heuer, three goals and three assists.

The third game was even more of a rout. The final score was Austin 21, Lakeland 1. Santi led the offense with three goals and five assists. Boyle and Heuer each had three goals and three assists.

The team seemed to slip a little in the fourth game as they only beat Milford, 11-1. Once again Boyle had three goals, this time with two assists. Scoring the other goals were Louis Heuer, two; Paul Gracey, two; Tim Miller, two; Sean Murphy, one, and Stan Jursek, one.

Brownie Troop 1585, of Trombley School, has scheduled two events for the holiday season. On Wednesday, December 18, the troop will hold a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Eugene Beall. Mrs. Robert LoCicero is co-hosting the party for the 22 girls.

Dinner will be followed by an exchange of gifts and then caroling in the neighborhood. Hot chocolate at Mrs. Ruth Zinn's home will end the festivities.

The girls also will each bring a gift, selected from their own toys, to donate to LINC, a Junior League of Detroit-sponsored activity designed to match services with people's needs. Accepting the gifts will be Mrs. Doty Langs, chairwoman of LINC, who will find a good home for the toys.

On Monday, December 30, the troop will attend the play "Alice in Wonderland" at the War Memorial.

Sherwood Rally Falls Short, 7-6

Time ran out on The Sherwood Forest hockey team Saturday evening, December 7, as Parkhill, Ont., hung on for a narrow 7-6 win.

Playing without the services of three starting defencemen, the Pointers found themselves trailing 7-1 after two periods.

However, with 12 minutes to play in the game, Sherwood's offense began to click. Brent Rutherford netted his second goal to start the scoring parade. Then Dwight Thomas, Ron Springer and Ken Murry scored to narrow the gap to 7-5.

With a minute remaining, Sherwood pulled its goalie and Paul Nadow made it 7-6. In the last 30 seconds, Sherwood fired three good shots but they were stopped by Parkhill's goalie.

The Pointers next home game will be Saturday, December 14, against Point Edwards at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink. Game time is 8 p.m. for this Canadian Blue Water League contest.

North Cagers Win, Then Lose

By Bob Evanski

North High School's varsity basketball team won their season's opener, but got bombed the second time out.

In their first game of the year, the Norsemen trounced South Lake, 57-48. After a close first half, the green and gold came out charging to overcome the Cavaliers. The halftime score was 26-26.

Super sophomore Bob Brown led all scorers with 19 points and senior Mark Johnson netted 14.

In a non-league game that was rescheduled due to snow conditions, a powerful Sterling Heights team rolled over North, 69-30.

Sterling Heights, which holds a 3-0 record, racked up a 56-16 lead after three quarters.

North's first home game was against South High School on Tuesday, December 10, after press time.

Traffic Judges Warn Motorists

Detroit Traffic Court judges strongly emphasized to motorists that they can expect severe penalties if convicted of drinking and driving this holiday season. Traffic Court Judges Lawrence D. Silverman, Andrew C. Wood and William C. Hague issued the following statement:

We congratulate the drivers and pedestrians in the Detroit area, whose driving and walking practices in the past eleven months have helped to make Detroit substantially safer than in the corresponding period of 1973. And we sincerely urge all drivers and pedestrians to keep up their good driving behavior and safe walking practices during this holiday season. Because of hazardous weather conditions and more hours of darkness, persons in traffic must be more courteous, more watchful and more observant of traffic laws at this time of the year. We had a near record low toll last December because drivers and pedestrians exercised more care and were more alert and sober. It is our hope that this December can be even better.

The chief reason however for dangerous traffic during the holiday season is the increased drinking that is part of the festivities and celebrations. Unfortunately, most people who drive also drink ... and sometimes they drink too much.

We want every motorist to understand that if he drinks too much and then drives, he is headed for plenty of trouble. He may wind up in a traffic accident or may be arrested by the police and brought to Traffic Court on a drunk driving charge. He should know that more than 90 percent of such persons are found guilty of either driving while impaired or driving under the influence.

Misery loves company, but not the kind who stay on long visits.

Set Same Exam For Applicants

Regardless of sex, applicants for the basic law enforcement job in the Wayne County Sheriff's Department will hereafter take the same qualifying examination.

In a report to the County Board of Commissioners, the County Civil Service Commission said that two previous job classes—Patrolman and Policewoman—have been combined into the single class of Police Officer with the same salary continued.

The new class of Police Officer pays the same as the previous Patrolman and Policewoman. Starting salary is $10,716, with increases up to $14,236 over a four-year period.

The change of classification was made to better "assure equal employment opportunities for women" and eliminate separate induction examinations that in the past have segregated applicants by sex, said the Civil Service Commissioners.

Consolidation of the two classes followed a complaint filed with the State Department of Civil Rights, (DCR), and a subsequent agreement among the Civil Service Commission, the Sheriff's Department and the DCR, with approval of the County Labor Relations Board.

Pointe Resident Promotes Vacation in Canadian Province of Quebec

Farms resident Michael Wondergem of Merriweather Road, is perhaps the most enthusiastic promoter of Canadian travel one could ever hope to meet. He well should be since he is the Michigan manager of The Canadian Government Travel Bureau.

Of Dutch descent, (with still a slight accent to give him a continental flair,) this knowledgeable world traveller infects one with enthusiasm as he relates the wonders of a Canadian vacation, more specifically we think his favorite province, Quebec. Mike concedes that already scores and scores of Grosse Pointers have found a new world in the exciting and cosmopolitan city of Toronto, but, he suggests that Montreal and Quebec City... just another hour away by air or just another few hours motoring offers both the excitement of one of the fastest growing cities on the North American continent plus genuine old world charm that Quebec City offers.

Having lived with his charming wife and three children in such exotic places as Beirut, Khartoum, Holland and Montreal, and having travelled to more corners of the earth than one can imagine, we pondered why Montreal, Quebec City and the Laurentian Mountains could hold such fascination for a career traveller.

Mike explains that each new place he visits is like a new found love and it so happens that his current love is La Belle Province of Quebec.

So convincing was his story that this writer jumped at the opportunity to spend four fast days as a guest in the wonderful world of Quebec. So impressed with what we saw, we'll highlight some of the places and honestly recommend that Montreal the Laurentian Mountains and Old Quebec City be given priority for the very next weekend away... ski trip or a family vacation.

Less than two hours away via Nordair Jet from Windsor airport, you can discover Montreal Magic.

Montreal Magic

Montreal is magic—to those who live there, and to those who visit. Its people generate a contagious spirit, and Mr. Montreal, Mayor Jean Drapeau, the human dynamo, is one of a kind, having brought to his city headlines such as EXPO '67, the metro transit system, the National League Expos baseball team and the 1976 Summer Olympics.

Montreal is an international star that should not be overlooked as a vacation spot by North Americans who are inclined to think the grass is greener on the other side of the Atlantic (or the Pacific). It is full of French-Canadian atmosphere for that "fai away places feeling" visitors crave. And it's a cosmopolitan city where you can meet young people from all parts of the world who have come to settle or are just staying a few months as part of a North American jaunt. Montreal swings with a wide choice of night spots, good restaurants, and "with it" boutiques. It's also a dramatic city perched between the St. Lawrence River and Mount Royal with pace-setting architectural concepts sprouting on its ever blossoming skyline.

A Tale of Two Cities

In recent years, the city has gone underground with 30 acres of arcades and plazas linked by subterranean sidewalks and the metro. Together, Place du Canada, Place Ville Marie, Place Victoria, Place Bonaventure, Alexis Nihon Plaza and Westmount Square offer below ground some 350 specialty and dress shops, 40 restaurants, and bars, a live theatre, several cinemas and two railway stations. Directly above these complexes is a massive trade center, the Montreal Stock Exchange, three hotels, five tall office buildings and an apartment building. You can browse, eat, drink and buy along the concourses for hours without venturing outside.

One of the best places to feel the pulse of Montreal city is below ground in Le Carrefour bar. In the corner, a trio plays favorite requests; hot hors d'oeuvres are served by friendly waiters, and plans are busily discussed at crowded tables.

Just about anything from sports equipment, furniture and books, to dresses, flowers and hot fudge can be found in the underground city. The real browser's paradise is Westmount Square where the sophisticated shops include Pierre Cardin, Boutique Lanvin, Rive Gauche, and Katya.

Above ground, Ste. Catherine Street takes over the bright lights and bustle with its department stores and shops. Men find fashion in Eaton's, Polo and Adam shops, while the new wig boutique, plus girls go to Morgan's Alissa shop. Other mod shops on Ste. Catherine include Bessies, Trip-In Boutique and Le Chateau with its unisex fashions.

Sherbrooke Street has a special magic all its own. Take a walk west from the gates of McGill University past small art galleries, dress maker shops, the white columns of the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, European import shops, the green uniformed doormen in front of the elegant old Ritz Carlton Hotel and one or two tiny antique shops. There's an air of dignity and wealth on this street.

OLD-FASHIONED DECOR and costumed waiters and waitresses add to the charm of La Crepe Bretonne in Montreal, Quebec. This popular restaurant is noted for its huge paper-thin pancakes with a choice of 80 fillings.

The boutique area of Crescent, Bishop and Mountain streets is again a contrast to rues Ste. Catherine or Sherbrooke. More intimate and casual in style, boutiques such as Elle, Adonis, Michel Robichaud and Le Chenet dot these quaint streets.

People Watching and Pub Crawling

People watching is a great Montreal pastime, afforded by glassed-in cafes such as Hotel Sonesta's, the Chez Bourgetel bar, Casa Pedro, and in summer, the sidewalk terraces of the Berkeley Hotel, outside La Popina at Place Ville Marie or, more secluded, the garden of the Ritz Carlton Hotel. The passing parade includes the very well dressed Montreal women, petite, vivacious French girls, artists, avant-garde types and on and on.

A visit to the pubs is an inexpensive fun way to meet people. Three are particularly popular—often crowded at lunch hour and jammed on Thursday and Friday nights. Enter the lantern-flanked solid oak door of the Friar's for example, to an English Tudor interior, a friendly ski and riding crowd, plus good lunch or supper menus.

Next, the Winston Churchill on Crescent Street filled with everybody from students to businessmen. A fire burning on the hearth in winter, excellent chicken curry and sometimes a jazz pianist are added attractions. Then there's the Cock and Bull with its typical English pub atmosphere. Within dark walls hung with firearms, spears and lances, clients take part in lusty sing-alongs.

Laurentian Skiing—Where It All Began

At first glance, you wouldn't guess that the modern ski resorts of Quebec's Laurentian Mountains are carrying on a tradition that dates back to the days when "men were men and skiers were all crazy".

But that was the prevalent notion about the barrel-stave set at the turn of the century when skiing was just becoming popular.

The Laurentian gateway city of Montreal was where it all began, with some of North America's earliest skiing taking place in the city's streets and parks. The sport grew in popularity and moved out — due in part to the hazard of skiers schussing out of control into startled and indignant pedestrians — to the snowy Laurentians north of the city.

Trails were cut and skiers packed the weekend trains into the hills, where they herringboned up and telemarked down the slopes or wandered leisurely through the woods.

By 1929 cross-country skiing was established as the area's most popular winter sport. Then something happened that shook up the skiing world and revolutionized the sport in North America.

In the Laurentian hamlet of Shawbridge, Alex Foster propped up a car, ran a rope from the back wheel along a series of car wheels stuck on posts, and tied the ends together.

The continent's first ski-lift was born.

The Laurentians haven't looked back since. There are now more than 20 major ski resorts between Piedmont and Mont Tremblant, whose names have become synonymous internationally with good skiing and famed Quebecois hospitality. Together they form the highest concentration of lift-served hills in the world.

The area's annual 130-inch snowfall combined with Canada's largest array of snow-making equipment, means skiing from late November or early December into April.

Montreal is easily accessible via modern highways from all points in eastern Canada and the United States or by air to the international airport at Dorval. From Montreal, the six-lane Laurentian Autoroute leads up to the heart of the ski country.

First stop along the way is St. Sauveur, jumping-off point for both Mon Habitant and Mont St. Sauveur, a range of five hills with a vertical drop of up to 700 feet, offering runs for both the novice and the more accomplished.

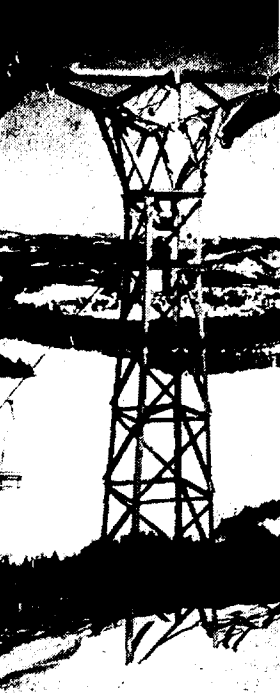

The town of St-Sauveur is a favorite for apres-ski with its discotheques and gourmet meals in its restaurants and hotels.

Sun Valley at Ste-Adele has been called "a piece of Switzerland in North America" because of its Swiss-type chalets nestled at the bottom of the hills in an intimate atmosphere. Swiss fondue and the Bavarian Trio add to center, 48 miles north of Montreal.

Le Chanteclair, a self-contained resort village, also at Ste-Adele, boasts a 750-foot verticle drop serviced by two chairlifts, five T-bars, one poma and two portable lifts. Highway 11 takes over

CITY OF Grosse Pointe Farms MICHIGAN ORDINANCE No. 202 AN ORDINANCE TO ESTABLISH AN UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION SYSTEM

It shall be the duty of the Appeal Board to review determinations and decisions of the Secretary pertaining to this Unemployment Compensation System provided that a claim of appeal is filed within 15 days of such decision or determination. Each section, and every part of each section, is hereby declared to be independent sections and parts of sections, and holding of any section or part of section to be void and ineffective for any cause, shall not be deemed to affect any other section or part of section.

Section 22. Effective Date—Unemployment Compensation System and Benefit Fund.

The effective date of the unemployment compensation system and benefit fund established by this ordinance and of coverage thereunder shall be December 31, 1974 and only wages earned after that date shall be used in determining eligibility and/or benefits to be paid.

Section 23. Effective Date—Ordinance.

It is hereby declared that this ordinance is immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety and is therefore given immediate effect.

South Wins Cage Opener

By Mark Emery

An opening game victory is any coach's dream as his team looks to the season ahead. The victory helps build confidence that comes with winning.

But most of all for South High School's basketball team after an 81-49 point over Austin, it gave the younger players on the squad much needed game experience. The game was played last week.

It was Austin, already 0-3 on the season, which came to South and gave South its initial win. It would have been more appropriate on a silver platter.

South took charge at the outset and never relinquished command of the game. The Friars of Austin threw the ball away time after time on offense while their defense was virtually non-existent.

Every member of South's 12-man squad added to the scoring, including an outstanding effort by Bill Schaffner who was the game's leader with 21 points.

Criticism comes in two kinds, destructive and constructive — peddle the right kind.

Life is hardly worth living for those who hand-pick their critics, and then be told the truth.

It was expected that South's most potent player on offense, Tim Kramer, would have a field day against Austin, but early fouls hurt both Kramer and South.

Kramer, who averaged over 19 points per game as a junior last year, fouled three times in the opening period, something South cannot afford this season.

South took a seven-point lead at the end of the first period and increased it to 12 at the half.

The Devils offense exploded in the third period as they outscored the Friars, 32-12. Schaffner was an important factor in the third period as he combined with Kevin Kovanda to force Austin into critical turnovers.

South isn't as big a team as coach Chuck Hollosy has had over the years, the speed of Schaffner and Tom Marquette at guards and on the ability of Kramer and Kovanda at forwards.

It is the ability of Kramer and Kovanda to control the boards which will prove the degree of success South will have this year. It's also crucial to South's cause that Kramer remain healthy and out of foul trouble.

South then blasted Roseville 66-38 on the road. Kramer netted 25 points and had 16 rebounds in the game.

ULS Splits Cage Tilts

By Frank T. Judge

University Liggett posted a 51-44 overtime basketball victory over Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook Tuesday, December 3.

The Knights led by a slight four point margin at the end of the first period. Liggett's Mike Solomon, a 6 foot 6 inch sophomore center took early command as he poured in eight of Liggett's first 10 points. At halftime, Liggett held an even slimmer 25-23 lead.

Cranbrook jumped ahead midway through the third period as they outscored Liggett 14-7 in the period.

High School's varsity swim team placed fourth in the Royal Oak relays Saturday, December 7, at Royal Oak Kimball.

In competition against 14 other teams, South was topped only by Birmingham Seaholm, Bloomfield Hills Andover and Dearborn, the State champion last year.

Of the eight different events, the Devils took only one first place. However, swim coach Carl Schoessel was generally pleased with the performance of the swimmers. South was the only Eastern Michigan League team in the relays.

The 200-yard breaststroke relay was won by Pete Frear, Chris Lucander, Eric Rodin and Steve Swanson with a time of 2:02.9. This was the only first place South won.

In the 800-yard freestyle relay event, South took 10th place with a time of 8:50.5. Todd Ralph, Matt Boyce, Doug Waughman and Mike Bernard were the Devil swimmers.

In the 400-yard individual medley relay, Mickey Montagne, Eric Rodin, Mike Gaitley and Drew Pillsbury took a fourth place finish with a time of 4:11.8.

A fifth place finish in the 400-yard freestyle relay was won by the Devils with a time of 3:45.5. Mike Scott, Stan Smith, Rick Speer and Bill Brownell were the swimmers.

In the 200-yard freestyle event, Waughman, Scott, Speer and Smith all combined to take fourth place with a time of 1:40.3.

In the medley relay, South took seventh place. The swimmers were Gaitley, Lucander, Tony Montagne and Craig Swanson. Their time was 1:51.7.

A fourth place finish was won by the Devils in the butterfly relay. Pillsbury, Montagne, Craig and Steve Swanson finished with a time of 1:49.5.

In the backstroke relay, South swimmers Brownell, Frear, Dave Strachan and Pete Fedders took seventh place.

South's next meet will be on Saturday, December 14, at the Rochester relays. One of the 12 teams scheduled to be at the meet, East Detroit, is considered to be the Devil's primary competition in this year's EML title race.

The scrappy Knight defense held down Cranbrook in the final period to tie up the game at 43-43 with a minute remaining.

Liggett controlled the ball during the final minute and stalled for the final shot of the period. Liggett took two shots in the closing seconds but neither were successful.

A minute into the overtime period, Liggett's mainstay Solomon left the game with five fouls. He had scored 19 points and pulled down 23 rebounds in completely dominating the game to that point.

Even with the loss of Solomon, the Knights outscored Cranbrook 8-1 in the overtime period to clinch the victory.

Liggett coach Bob Wood felt his team had played well though he admitted that there were a lot of mistakes.

"The defense won the game for us," Wood said. His squad gave up a total of 13 points in the first, fourth and overtime periods. Wood also stated, "Though Solomon had a great game, junior forward Drew Miller also played very well."

Liggett dropped its first contest of the young season by a 57-46 score to Allen Park Inter-City Christian Friday, December 6.

The Knights jumped to an early lead and held a five point margin at the end of the first period. Allen Park made up the deficit and charged to a four point half-time lead.

From there, Allen Park dominated the game, leading by as much as 15 points in the third and final period.

Sophomore Bob Neville led the Knights in the scoring department with 16 points while Jim Solomon added 12 in the losing effort.

This was the first game in which the Knights seriously felt the preseason loss of All Conference forward Dave Jensen, who is sidelined indefinitely as a result of an ankle injury. X-rays of Jensen's sprained ankle revealed that there were loose bone chips in his ankle from an old football injury.

Coach Wood maintained, "The squad played good defense the first quarter; however, we didn't rest of the contest and that's what really cost us the game."

Library Offers Fantasy Classic

"King Kong," the all time classic of fantasy films that introduced a number of specially devised sound effects, will be shown at Central Library on Sunday, January 19, at 1:30 and 3:15 p.m.

The film tells the story of a 50-foot prehistoric ape referred to as the eighth wonder of the world, who is captured and brought to New York for display. King Kong escapes and terrorizes the city until the film comes to an exciting conclusion.

The cast is headed by Bruce Cabot, Fay Wray and Robert Armstrong.

Report Attempt To Steal Cars

A would-be thief was foiled in three separate attempts to steal cars that were parked in front of the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, Wednesday evening, November 27.

Farms police received reports from three persons about 10:15 p.m. that their car ignitions had been tampered with while parked in the Center's lot.

All three complainants stated their cars had been parked in the location from about 7:15 p.m. until 10 p.m. Police said the person tried to force the ignitions with a tool. All three were damaged so that the drivers were unable to start their cars.

The Canadian Province Of Quebec -- A Unique Vacation Experience

the atmosphere and charm of the past.

Among the sights especially worth seeing: Notre-Dame Cathedral, noted for its fine Quebec-built organ and unique bell chimers; Notre-Dame de Bonsecours, known as the "sailors' church," it's the oldest church in the city and has a good view over water and town from its tower; the Chateau de Ramazay, now a museum housing a fine coin collection and many relics of local history; Place Jacques Cartier with the converted Bonsecours Market nearby; the fascinating Sunday morning flea market on St. Paul Street.

Boutiques, handicraft shops, antiques shops and small art galleries can be found in nooks and crannies along the way. Here also, French and Canadian cuisines abound in candle-lit, checkered-table-clothed, stone-walled restaurant interiors. Sample duck a l'orange, tour-nedoss Rossini, Sole Bonne Femme, escargots, vichyssoise and creme caramel at Le Vieux Saint Gabriel, Le St. Amable or half a dozen other romantic places.

Uplown, bistros and restaurants, offering every type of continental, Eastern, Scandinavian and South American cuisine are numerous and good. This is a mere taste of what's in store. A la Crepe Bretonne is famous for its huge paper-thin crepes (with 80 fillings to choose from), served by waitresses in traditional Brittany French costume. The William Tell offers the cozy atmosphere typical of many Montreal bistros and serves fondue bourguignonne with flair.

The Troika sets down Russian fare in a plush red setting with a lovely trio playing nightly. Chateau Madrid dishes up paella and flamenco dancers or Spanish guitarists. Osteria dei Panzoni provides good Italian music, wines and food. Pausas, with its walls tiled in oyster shells, serves succulent seafood.

Night Lights

After dinner the discotheques swing. Highly recommended are Le Marquis de Sade, Le Baldaquin, Le Cercle via its inner courtyard to a stary mirror room; Le Vieux Rafiot and done up like a ship; Georges with its band and solo singer; or La Sexe-Machine.

On the quieter side, panoramic views of the city at night can be seen in Altitude 737 atop Place Ville Marie or L'Escapade in Chateau Champlain. If you'd prefer a late night dinner and a show, the Salle Bonaventure at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel is one of the city's most elegant spots to visit. The 19th century Parisian music hall era comes alive at Chateau Champlain's Le Caf' Conc with its Folies-type revue. In the vicinity of Old Montreal, jazz and soul sounds of such talent as the Muddy Waters vibrate at the Black Bottom.

As a farewell to Montreal, ride to the top of Mount Royal in a horse drawn calèche and scan below the crisp profile of the city against the mighty St. Lawrence. It will confirm your first impression — that Montreal is magic.

To visit Montreal and not travel outside Quebec City is like having a gourmet dinner without wine. Quebec City, onetime capital of New France and at present the capital of Quebec Province overlooks the St. Lawrence River. Here at the Plains of Abrahams, Generals Wolfe and Montcalm fought their historical battle in 1759.

The only walled city in North America affords the vacationer virtually every modern luxury in a setting unlike anything else in the world.

Architecture from another century like that of the world famous Hotel Chateau Frontenac, combined with up to the minute structures at the Loews La Concorde Hotel and Hilton Hotel provide the traveler with a choice of the finest accommodations to be found anywhere.

Sightseeing galore. (by horse and buggy if you like), visits to historical sites makes one feel he is part of another era in history.

A must to see when visiting Quebec City is the Shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre. Thousands visit the Shrine annually and the display of hundreds of crutches, braces, and medical aids are evidence of miraculous cures.

For skiers, Mont St. Anne offers a true test for both beginners and for the pro a 2450 ft. vertical run. Minutes away are to be found ski lodges that rank with the finest anywhere. Auberger Normande for example provides an Apres Ski setting for fun lovers that will compare with anything you've experienced.

Any season is a great season to visit Quebec City and one should plan to experience this vacation treat.

Group Fights Hypertension

A new organization, Blood Pressure Control, has been formed in southeastern Michigan to combat high blood pressure or hypertension.

According to Dr. Ignatius J. Voudoukis, of Lakepointe avenue, vice-president of the group and chief of hypertension at Hutzel Hospital, high blood pressure used to mean serious consequences: heart failure, heart attacks, kidney failure and stroke.

He added with proper treatment, high blood pressure can be controlled and these diseases can often be prevented.

Blood Pressure Control is a non-profit group composed of physicians, nurses, representatives from community organizations and interested individuals. The offices are located at 17615 James Couzens highway.

The goal of the organization is to develop programs for the control of blood pressure among metropolitan Detroit area residents, according to its president, Dr. John R. Caldwell.

Initial funds for this community-wide effort have been provided through the Michigan Association for Regional Medical Programs by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Persons wishing to volunteer their services should call 861-2344 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Are Grosse Pointe home buyers lackadaisical? There is at least one Real Estate Co. who will tell you yes. They'll tell you that most buyers would rather have the previous owner do all of the creative and decorating work. If it falls in the general area of what the new buyer wants — he'll buy it — and pay top dollar for it!

Proof of this is in the sale of houses that have been updated or just newly decorated. They sell like hot cakes, while oftentimes better homes in need of simple updating, sit unwanted, selling at great loss to their owners.

Wouldn't it be wonderful for the future of all our Grosse Pointes if we could have more energetic, creative buyers? All it takes is a little more careful inspection. Sometimes a simple paint job, a carpet on the stairs and "voila" your house is worth thousands more — to the "lazy" buyer. So how do you make more money in today's money economy? Sellers — be more creative — and Buyers, see if you can find a "lazy" seller.

How is it possible for a Real Estate Co. to help the Seller and the buyer, representing both simultaneously? The people at Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co., 882-0087, have a very unique way and they'd be glad to show you how.

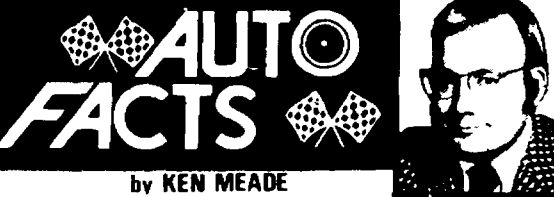

Their staff designer can show future owners how to add a fourth bedroom or family room. Their Interior Decorator can show the beautiful potential of a home in need of decorating. They'll show you how the same house would sell for thousands more where sometimes it only requires hundreds to "make it right."

St. John to Get Fetal Monitor

Saint John Hospital recently received a grant from the Metropolitan Chapter of the March of Dimes to purchase a fetal monitor and related equipment.

The fetal monitor is used on patients considered to have either "complicated" or "high risk" pregnancies and enables physicians to know just how the unborn infant is tolerating labor.

Saint John, which has the third largest obstetric service in Michigan with over 3,000 births a year, continues to develop its comprehensive obstetric care service.

AUTO FACTS

by KEN MEADE

No two cars are exactly alike. Every automobile will perform and handle slightly different. It will respond somewhat differently to the standard break-in and upkeep techniques. As you know, no two drivers are alike. If you fancy high speed driving, you cannot expect the same fuel economy you might get at lower speeds. The brake linings stand up longer in a car that travels mostly on turnpikes. Car maintenance rules are no more than general guidelines that you may have to adapt to suit your own car.

When you buy a new car from POINTE DODGE, INC., 18001 Mack Ave., 884-7210 you receive "The Clincher," Chrysler Corporation's one-year unlimited mileage new car warranty and service policy. This new Owner Care Program means that now you have more than just a pretty car; you have a dependable car and a company that makes sure it stays that way.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur Woodford
Chief of Central Library

In the course of a year I have the opportunity to see hundreds of newly published novels. Most of these I only have time to glance at. Of the many that I am able to read from cover to cover, some are very good, others not so good. This week I would like to share with you the six novels that I have most enjoyed reading during the past year.

JAWS (Doubleday) by Peter Benchley, a superbly exciting novel, is also a tale of moral dilemma.

A young woman makes love on the beach, then takes a midnight swim. As she swims, she is violently struck, chopped in two. The next morning pieces of her body are found at the water's edge. In the Long Island resort town of Amity the city fathers decide to cover up the woman's death: news of a killer shark could ruin the summer business. They forbid police chief Martin Brody to close the beaches. The shark has gone, they say. But the shark remains and kills again, and the life of the town becomes governed by the almost supernatural presence offshore.

In 1778 Daniel Boone was charged with several counts of treason, involving his alleged collusion with the Shawnee Indians and the British.

Allan W. Eckert in THE COURT-MARTIAL OF DANIEL BOONE (Little) has written a fascinating historical novel based on this trial. Tension builds as the evidence against Boone mounts, while the hero conducts his own quite unorthodox defense. The author has a keen sense of time and place and has thoroughly researched what little is known about the trial. While Eckert has taken liberties with the actual details of the trial, the participants, charges and outcome are based on documented fact.

With a shock at every turn of the intricate plot, James Grady's SIX DAYS OF THE CONDOR (Norton) is a fast-moving novel about low doings in high echelons of the U.S. government.

Because of the inquisitive nature of an employee, all the men and women at a branch of the CIA are assassinated, all except Malcolm who's out to lunch when the killers hit. Malcolm calls his superiors and they arrange a rendezvous where he is to be picked up, but one of his escorts is on the other side. After a shootout, Malcolm goes into hiding with a girl. A breathless hunt and chase follows with the CIA, the FBI and the capitol police all working at cross purposes which keeps the suspense high until the finale.

John LeCarre's incomparable gift for conveying the shadowed and labyrinthine world of international espionage is once more brilliantly demonstrated in TINKER, TAILOR, SOLDIER, SPY (Knopf).

The novel's protagonist, British agent George Smiley, is asked to come out of his retirement and root out the "mole" or Russian agent, that has betrayed his way into the center of England's secret intelligence organization, the Circus. Smiley is a very unhappy man. His wife has left him and his retirement was forced upon him a year earlier when power was reshuffled at the Circus. It is clear, too, that the "mole" must be one of Smiley's old colleagues.

Sherlockians will rejoice over this latest "find" in the archives of Dr. Watson. THE SEVEN PER CENT SOLUTION (Dutton) by Nicholas Meyer is a scrupulous reconstruction of the Holmes ambience relating how Watson lured the British detective to Vienna, a move necessitated by the fear that Holmes' increasing use of cocaine would damage his effectiveness in combating crime. Watson engages the services of no less than Sigmund Freud, whose success with the patient is rewarded when Holmes solves a vexing case for the psychiatrist.

Meyer succeeds with this novel because of a superior ear for Conan Doyle's style, a gentle sense of fun, and a talent for plot that few other imitators have possessed.

Of this group of books my favorite for the year is Richard Adams' WATERSHIP DOWN (Macmillan). This tale, set in the rolling hills and dales of England, is written in the great tradition of Grahame, Orwell, C. S. Lewis and Tolkien: of fantasy and allegorical literature. The characters in this novel are animals — wild rabbits.

When Fiver senses disaster about to strike the home warren, a group of pioneers, led by Fiver's brother, Hazel, strike out for a new home and a new society. The group reaches Watership Down only after racking hardships and narrow escapes. Adams handles his suspenseful narrative more dexterously than most authors who claim to write adventure stories, but his true achievement lies in the consistent, comprehensible and altogether enchanting civilization that he has created.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. James A. Adams,
Superintendent

One of the projects high on the list of our Board trustees' interest, and one I support as Superintendent of Schools, is the development and updating of all school system policies to reflect the needs of present day students and citizens.

Readers of this paper may recall that between July 1 and November 11 three policies adopted by the Board of Education have been reported in news stories: "Use of Personal Property in the Instructional Program," "Distribution of Political Materials," and "Guidelines for the Distribution of Instructional Materials and Supplies."

And last Monday, December 9, the trustees approved policies covering "Adoption of Educational Materials" and "Responding to Objections to the Appropriateness of Educational Materials."

These most recent adoptions are part of a long adoption program which has an increasingly high priority among staff and members of the Board.

And earlier in 1974, on March 11 to be exact, the Board took official action on a "Diploma Policy" and on "Sale of Tax Notes and Temporary Investment of Funds."

Other recent policies developed in recent years covered student discipline, distribution of student printed materials, corporal punishment, school disorders, collecting, maintaining and disseminating school records, attendance, high school standards of behavior and the use of adult volunteers in the system.

All in all, when the task has been completed, nine general policy areas will be covered. They are: community, administration, business, personnel, students, instruction, new construction, internal Board policies and by-laws of the Board.

Why are the written Board policies necessary?

Written policies provide a business-like way of operating the school district, they inform everyone of the intent and goals of the school system, they enable trustees to make decisions on the issues rather than on the personalities involved, and they provide stability and continuity in the school system.

Accompanying the written policies of the Board of Education are administrative rules or guidelines developed by the staff for the implementation of Board-approved policies. There is a fine line between policy and rules. Policies, principles adopted by the Board to chart a course of action, should be broad enough to allow discretionary action by the administration, yet be specific enough to give clear guidance. Rules or regulations tell by whom, where and when things are to be done.

The Board of Education makes decisions which may lead to policy. The Board does not make policy in a vacuum and must depend upon the Superintendent and the staff for information and direction. Although policy-writing is basically an administrative task, the trustees must approve the finalized statements.

The task is often a complicated and time-consuming process, one which involves input from many sources. For example, during its development, one recent policy was reviewed several times by the trustees of the Board of Education, the members of the system-wide Professional Study Committee, teachers and administrators who serve on the Written Policy Committee and the Administrative Council.

A time-consuming process? Yes. A worthwhile function to the smooth operation of the school system? Most emphatically, yes!

Arrangements chairman Shirley Piku calls it "A Christmas Happening". It will happen next Wednesday, December 18, at noon, at the Lothrop road home of Mrs. Douglas Sargent, and we're all invited.

Featured speaker will be Dr. Annette U. Rickel, of the Northeast Guidance Clinic, who has titled her program The Season of Cooperation. It's a communications workshop, demonstrating, (first), how we communicate, (second, via an audience-participation game), how we listen.

Pointe LWV member Stelene Mazer, accompanist for the Grosse Pointe Children's Theater, will be at the piano.

It's all free, and all interested Pointers are welcome . . . but in order to know how many vegeta-

He is the son of Mrs. Charlotte Keyser Eaton, of Grayton road, and Chauncey Brewster Chapman, Jr., of Washington, D.C.

After the noon ceremony in the garden, at which the Reverend William Snow assisted by The Reverend Thurman Vickery presided, members of the immediate families and out-of-town guests were served a wedding breakfast.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected a candlelight silk organza and lace gown and wore fresh flowers in her hair.

She was attended by Teresa Watkins, of Atlanta, Ga., and Susan Chapman, the bridegroom's sister.

The bridegroom asked his father to act as best man. Groomsmen were Douglas Wakefield, of Charleston, S.C., and Steven Malevich, of Blacksburg, Va. The new Mrs. Chapman, presented to society at the Thalian and Assembly Balls in Orangeburg, S.C., attended the University of Georgia and will complete her studies at the University of South Carolina in Columbia, where the newlyweds will make their home.

Only The Name Is Changed

The Women's Committee of the Tuberculosis and Health Society has a new name. It's now the Women's Committee of the American Lung Association.

Members voted the change at a recent luncheon meeting at Lochmoor Club; it was necessary, explains Mrs. John Ganschow, a former Committee president, since the parent organization had renamed itself several years ago to encompass all respiratory diseases.

But only the name is changed. The Women's Committee will continue to function just as before... It's impossible to improve on perfection.

Also at the Lochmoor luncheon, Committee members elected officers for the coming year. Mrs. Charles A. Barlow is the group's new president, succeeding Mrs. Robert B. Mulligan.

Mrs. Mortimer Feder, the new executive vice-president, will chair next October's Cinderella Ball. Other officers include Mrs. John P. St. Clair, vice-president, Mrs. A. Ross Birkhill and Mrs. Harry G. Gersell, secretaries, and Mrs. Paul F. Lorenz, treasurer.

Lucia Festival Set Tomorrow at Church

The traditional Lucia Festival will be observed at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow, Friday, December 13, in Immanuel Lutheran Church, Chandler Park at Dickerson, Detroit.

Assisting Mrs. Lillian McIntyre, chairman of the program, is Mrs. Carl Ohman, of Shoreham road, who coordinated selection of the 1974 Lucia Queen with the assistance of Pastor Constantine Trued who will also select the Lady of the Year.

Pointers Lisa Lundell, Katherine Brown, Melanie Gilbert and Debbie Thomas with Sandra Ballew, Tanya Lanier, Vickie Hill, Pamela Lapp and Lori Patner will serve as members of Lucia's Court.

Star girls are Lori and Lynn Cinder, Henry Hopkes and Charles Andromalos take the roles of Tomtes.

The first Lucia, according to legend, was a maiden of the Roman Empire who lived in the city of Syracuse on the island of Sicily. As the day that should have been her wedding day approached she gave her dowry to poor Christians.

Her defiant fiancé informed officials that Lucia was a Christian and the Emperor Diocletian condemned her to be burned at the stake.

But though fire was all about her she remained unharmed — until finally her heart was pierced by a sword.

The people of Sweden chose to make her their heroine. Through the years they have sung her praise and honored her on December 13.

Lucia and her court members are dressed in long white robes. A red or gold sash is tied around their waists and each member of the court carries a lighted candle.

Lucia proceeds with a crown of lighted candles on her head, carrying a tray laden with hot coffee and cakes.

After the Church presentation international Christmas handicrafts will be demonstrated in Immanuel's Fellowship Hall. Keith and Renee Jones with their grandmother, Mrs. Ebba Nelson, will make sausages in the old Swedish manner.

Lola Fornell will demonstrate the delicate art of weaving heart-shaped baskets which are filled with nuts and hung either on a Christmas tree or, if very large, on the door.

Klenator, deep-fried traditional Swedish Christmas cookies, will be made by Anna Landstrom and popcorn and cranberry stringing will be demonstrated by Ann Parsons. Children and adults are welcome to participate in this activity.

Margaret Noreus will demonstrate the art of creating roses with velvet ribbon. A table of natural handicrafts will be shown by Carol Ward.

During workshop activities the Jul-Tomtes, (good spirits of the house), will distribute Christmas-wrapped candies used to decorate Swedish Christmas trees along with ripe red apples. After the holiday festivities a tree "dressing down" party is held, candy and apples divided up amidst dancing and singing around the tree.

Janet Johnson is in charge of the Swedish refreshments.

Victor Herbert's "March of the Toys" and Torme's "Christmas Song" will also be performed.

ELIZABETH PARCELLS, (standing, right), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Parcels, Jr., of Cloverly road, made a sentimental journey to Wonderland recently, revisiting scenes of her childhood as she called on Mrs. Syd Reynolds, director of the Grosse Pointe Children's Theater, and chatting with the Theater's enthusiastic young members as they put finishing touches on their two-act musical version of "Alice in Wonderland." Pictured with Elizabeth above are, (left to right), LISA KEEGAN, who shares the role of Alice with Teresa Trombley, March Hare SUE BRAMMER and Mad Hatter ROBIN LEES.

"Alice" is this year's Grosse Pointe Children's Theater holiday package, to be presented Saturday, December 14, and Monday, December 30, in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's William Fries Auditorium. Rites Are Read in California her home in Ventura, Calif., is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Koons who moved recently from Three Mile drive to Harper Woods.

In the Chapel of the First Baptist Church of Glendale, Calif., where his parents exchanged marriage vows, William Alan Horton claimed Deborah Crawford as his bride Saturday, December 7.

Mr. Horton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Horton, of Ventura.

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Jr., presided at the small family ceremony for which the bride chose a sheared lamb-trimmed beige suit. She was attended by Mrs. Richard Henniger, of Ventura, a cousin of the bridegroom. Best man was John Gabel.

James D. Crawford, Jr., eight, and six-year-old Cathy Crawford were among those who witnessed their mother's wedding.

Second Symphony Xmas Walk Is Today

Many Pointers are traveling across town today for the second half of the 1974 Christmas Walk sponsored by the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra as a benefit for the Symphony's Maintenance Fund.

Last Thursday's Walk covered seven holiday-decorated homes in Grosse Pointe plus Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

This Thursday the scene shifts to Bloomfield Hills where six homes, (distances between residences are greater there), and Kirk of the Hills will be on display.

Tickets at $4 each may be obtained at any of the Walk houses or Kirk of the Hills.

Walkers may admire the spectacular view overlooking two lakes that distinguishes the Kirkway home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ginsberg with its unique glass wall separating living and dining rooms, its contemporary furnishings in whites and neutral tones and its European art accents. The Mario Jacobellis' Hunt Club residence features a Mediterranean style foyer and dining room, a music library in place of the conventional living room and contemporary family room and kitchen accents.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhl in a contemporary ranch in Kennebec court. Their monochromatic scheme and functional design is accented with colorful wall hangings and art. The house features an enclosed oriental garden.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Piceu's new home in Long Lake road with its tennis court overlooking Pine Lake reflects its owners' casual lifestyle. Sunlight forms a mini-solarium for plants in the informal living and dining rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shea's Spanish-style home in Harvest road is on a private lake. Mexican tiles are featured in the foyer and fireplace and Portuguese porcelain accents the European chandeliers.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Young's large Colonial in Dunston road is built in a square with a fountain atrium in the center. Chinese, Queen Anne and English furnishings blend for an eclectic effect.

Kirk of the Hills overlooking Island Lake was originally built in 1923 as a private residence. Donated to the Presbytery of Detroit in 1947, the "residence" now serves to connect the abbey and Gothic-style sanctuary, dedicated in 1967.

JEANETTE LEMANSKE, of Stillmeadow lane, has received her degree in Business Administration with a major in Marketing from Western Michigan University.

2 tablespoons margarine
4 cups dry bread cubes
1 cup diced unpeeled apples
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1/2 teaspoon dried sage
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 chicken bouillon cube
1/2 cup hot water

Cook onions and celery in margarine for five minutes, or until tender. Dissolve bouillon cube in hot water.

Combine onions and celery with all other dry ingredients. Add bouillon and toss lightly.

chopped chives or parsley
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
1/4 teaspoon turmeric
2 cups skim milk
4 teaspoons instant chicken bouillon dissolved in warm water

1 quart water

Serve Holiday Meals Safely

There's the happy sound of carolers outside your door as the wind blows and snowflakes fall. You and your family are safe, snug and warm gathered around the Christmas dinner table.

But are you really safe? Be sure to make this holiday a happy one by following food safety precautions.

One favorite family dinner entree is roast beef. "When served hot and refrigerated after the meal well done roast beef is not usually a food safety problem," says Kathy Bufton, Michigan State University Extension Home Economist.

But roast beef, served with pan drippings, is another matter. Here's the perfect spot for bacteria to grow. "If your family enjoys rare beef, cook it to an internal temperature of 140 degrees F or higher," warns Mrs. Bufton. "Heat the pan drippings to the boiling point before serving."

Don't let the meat stand at room temperature more than two hours. Refrigerate leftovers promptly. If you save the gravy or drippings for a second meal boil them a few minutes before serving.

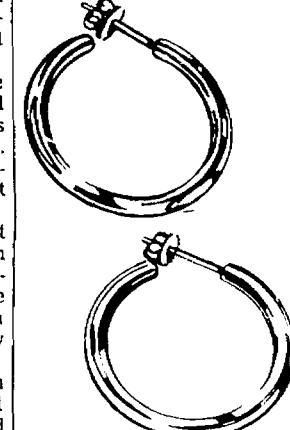

Are creamed potatoes on your menu? Serve them hot and don't let them stand more than two hours at room temperature. Refrigerate promptly after the meal.

"When you decide how many guests to invite and plan your menu figure out how much refrigerator space you'll need to store foods," suggests Mrs. Bufton. Be sure perishable foods such as cream pies and dishes made with eggs, fish, meat and poultry are kept cold, (below 40 degrees F). Don't let these foods stand at room temperature more than two hours.

Seafood, poultry and creamed meats must be kept hot, (above 140 degrees F). "Bacteria grows best in lukewarm temperatures so do not let these foods stand at room temperature more than two hours," adds Mrs. Bufton.

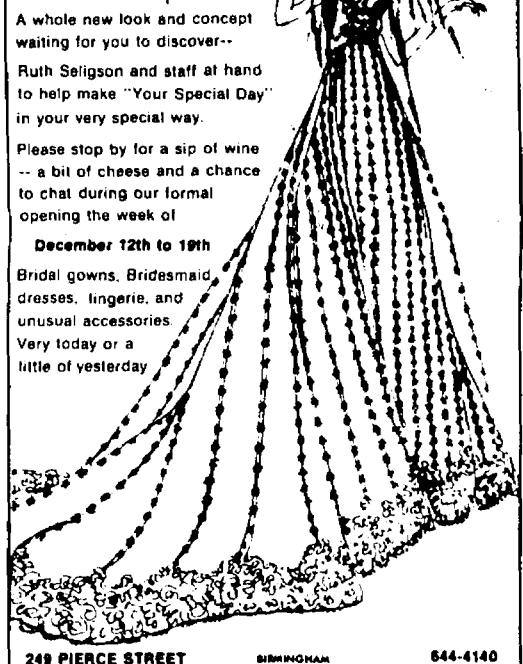

Your family may enjoy meals every day without problems but remember on holidays, when large groups gather, the types and quantities of foods present different problems.

Tree Tradition Origins Noted

The Christmas tree has been a holiday tradition since the end of the 18th century but historians say its origins go back much farther than that.

"One account puts it clear back in 11th or 12th century Germany," says Harold Davidson, Extension Horticulturist at Michigan State University.

"In one of the mystery plays performed in the churches during the 11th through 15th centuries gaily decorated fir trees represented the Garden of Eden. "These paradise trees were surrounded by a large ring of lighted candles. Inside this ring the story of Adam and Eve and the expulsion from the Garden was played out."

Sometime during the 15th century church authorities suspended the performance of mystery plays in the churches. The people took the paradise trees into their homes. There the trees became part of the custom of lighting candles on December 24 to celebrate the birth of Christ. The candles were usually placed on a pyramid-shaped stand and decorated with glass balls, holly berries and other brightly colored objects. When the people began to put candles and other decorations on the paradise trees, the Christmas tree was born.

"The tradition of the Christmas tree was carried to the New World during the Revolutionary War by Hessian mercenaries with the British," Mr. Davidson notes. "The custom spread quickly. By the beginning of the 1800's trees had become a traditional part of Christmas in the United States."

Austin Cagers
Keeping Active

By Paul T. Denis
As coach John Switchulis had expected, the Friars cagers had some trouble with their lack of height. The Friars were no match for the U-D Cubs, one of the State's better teams. Their front line averaging 6'5" eventually turned the recently played game around.

In the first quarter the Friars held close and were only two points back but they couldn't hold on. The final score found them down 20 points, 74-54.

Leading the way for the Friars were junior center Bob Keuten and senior guard Tom Charbeneau who each had 10 points before leaving the game.

The varsity's other losses came against South High School, St. Andrews and league rival DeLaSalle. Both the DeLaSalle and St. Andrews games were close with four points separating victory from defeat. Unfortunately, the South game was a decisive defeat.

Under the direction of Nick Rokich the Austin JV squad has gone undefeated in four games. Last week against U-D, they won 57-42. Leading the way were Mike Emmerich with 13 points and Dave Van Edmond with 12.

Once again the cagers won and this time 61-51 over South. Center John Champagne led all scorers with 27 points.

DeLaSalle was their toughest competition by scoring six points less, 58-52. Emmerich and Van Edmond led the way again with 18 and 17 points, respectively.

The JV established their reputation on their first game against St. Andrews by winning 83-52. The Friars had four men in double figures. Joe Sabatella and Chip Van Antwerp had 12 points apiece, while Dave Orlando and Rich Counsman tossed in 10 each.

In two games the freshmen have also gone undefeated. Both games have been defensive with Austin beating DeLaSalle, 41-32, and U-D, 39-33.

Against DeLaSalle Mark VanSile pumped in 15 points while center Kevin Norris added 11. VanSile led again in the second game with 12 points and Bob Conway added 10.

Blues Ousted from Tourney

Grosse Pointe's Squirr Open team, the Blues, added six wins and one loss to their record before going into the Turkey Tournament held at Community Rink this past weekend for Squirr and Pee Wee Open and "A" teams.

On Monday, November 11, playing on home ice, the Blues defeated Royal Oak, 4-3. Johnnie Mueller rang up two goals and John Forbes and Peter Moody contributed one goal apiece. Assistants went to Tim Luzadre, Erich Avedisian and Jeff Henschel.

On Tuesday, November 12, the Jelnik Ice Men were thoroughly chilled on their home ice at Fraser. Mueller added another "hat trick" to his growing collection with assists from Avedisian and Phil Brykalski. Pat Boll was responsible for the remaining goal as the Blues won 4-1. Boll, Henschel, Brian Valice and Marty Wittmer, on defense and goalie Pat McKee turned in fine performances.

The Detroit Stags had their second encounter with the Blues on Saturday, November 16, at Winter Wonderland, and the score of 0-2 was the first shut-out against the Blues this season.

Two days later the Blues bounced back with a 6-1 win over the Southfield Scouts at Community Rink. Mueller scored five times with ease getting assists from Avedisian and Brady. Ron Schocker accounted for the other goal with Mueller and Brady assisting.

The Southfield game was the warm-up required by the Blues who met Dino's Pizza at Community Rink Wednesday, November 20, continuing a series of encounters which seem to be developing into classics of hard-skating, well defended and well played games.

The Blues defense and McKee's goal tending were superb, denying Dino's until the game was beyond reach. Avedisian and Mueller each scored two goals, with assists to each of them on the other's goal and an assist to Wittmer.

The Turkey Tournament opened on Thanksgiving Day with the Blues facing the Southfield Scouts. Brykalski used his hockey stick to carve

DAVID GILES, PRINCIPAL OF SAINT PAUL SCHOOL

By Nancy Kramer

He has all the trappings of a Pied Piper without the malevolence. And, as far as he's concerned, there's good reason for it: "If we lose the children, we lose everything."

That's why he says he's rarely in the office behind his desk and if he happens to be there, his door is never closed. "Kids drop in for a visit and I rarely turn anyone away. It's their school and I feel if you can develop a good attitude, kids will want to come to school."

His hypothesis might just be true. When Saint Paul re-opened its doors last Wednesday, after the big snowstorm, it was one of a few parochial schools that did so. "I didn't hear any one ask why we were open and all the others were closed. Not one student complained."

It's A Big Family One of seven children now with seven-going-on-eight offspring of his own, David Giles was born in Petoskey where his father and grandfather were in the restaurant business. "My grandfather had been a cook in a number of logging camps so when he got a little money together, he opened a restaurant."

Then, when World War II began, the senior Mr. Giles came down to Detroit to enlist but because he had four children at the time, was refused for service. To help the war effort, he worked in a defense plant and when he found a place for his family to live on the city's west side, he sent for them.

Mr. Giles is a product of public schools, having attended a Catholic school, Our Lady Gate of Heaven, only for his eighth grade education.

He attended Mackenzie High School during the next four years and was told by counselors there that he was not really college material.

Korean War Interfered He wasn't able to prove them wrong until later. The Korean War was in full swing and, after graduation, "I didn't even have a chance to hit all the drive-ins before I was drafted."

His two years in the service proved fruitful though, since there he felt his first leanings toward a career in education. Quite by accident, he drifted toward the communications branch of the army, the Signal School, and found himself fascinated by the subject matter.

When an instructor couldn't make it to a class and asked him to sub, Mr.

Giles was apprehensive but gave it a whirl anyway and discovered he really enjoyed the whole idea. "It was a stroke of luck," he says now.

No Exam Required Then, "When I came out of the service I had the GI Bill in my pocket. My high school record would probably not have gotten me into college," he confesses. But at that time anyone 18 years or older was not required to take an entrance exam to be accepted by the University of Detroit. Instead, the college gave students a trial freshman year and "I ended up with a 'B' average."

At the same time, Mr. Giles took a job with Western Electric, and met his wife-to-be, Margaret, who was an employee of Bell Telephone in a cafeteria. "About 150 ex-GI's like myself were working for Western Electric." Many of them dated Bell Telephone girls. "I think about three dozen marriages came out of it and ours was one of them."

Long, Slow Process Obtaining a B.A. degree was a long, slow process. It took 11 years in all. He had to resort to night school when his first child, Phillip, now 14 and a student at Notre Dame High School, was born. "And after that, they came in almost yearly increments." Margaret Ann, 12, David, 10, Mary, 9, Michael, 8, Norah, 6 and Peter, 4.

And another child of yet undetermined sex is expected in January.

During his sophomore year, Mr. Giles began to focus his course of study on teaching and at the close of the year, he quit Western Electric and took a job teaching at Saint Norbert School in Inkster.

"I walked in cold to a class of 52 and was told to teach everything. I found myself pleased with how well things worked out—enl I really did teach everything."

Discovers Ability He discovered then he had a real ability to establish rapport with his fifth graders and with children in general. Then, one afternoon, for old time's sake, he stopped by his former school, Our Lady Gate of Heaven. "The principal convinced me I should teach there," he explains. So after two years at Saint Norbert, he returned to Gate of Heaven as a teacher.

A Cultural Enrichment Program, initiated this year, personifies Mr. Giles' approach. A number of volunteers, including mothers, fathers and faculty donate their time to teach such subjects as woodworking, sewing, cooking, photography and interpretive dance, on 6 or 7 to one ratios. This way parents do more than just pay for a child's education. They play a vital, first hand role in determining what their children are taught.

"I think this offers a tremendous advantage over public schools," he remarks.

Has Its Drawbacks But he admits that there are drawbacks to being a parochial school principal.

"You have to be cost-conscious," he remarks, "and you have to wonder where the next time will come from."

But, in spite of his own public school upbringing, he freely sings the praises of a parochial education.

I have no quarrel with the academics taught in public schools, but they have their roots in secularism. I feel we can offer more than that, our roots are in religion."

Saint Paul was once a school run solely by the Sisters of Saint Dominic. Today, of 20 faculty members, only two are religious. Mr. Giles is the first layman ever to sit in the principal's seat.

Family Status Helps He doesn't feel disadvantaged though. The fact that he's a family man, he claims, is a plus in his favor. He can understand student problems because his own children encounter similar ones and he can relate to parents because he more than qualifies as one himself. "I think many past judgments were made on the basis of insufficient information," he says of his predecessors. "This is not to say the nuns aren't good educators. I think I have a slight edge because of my situation."

Has Many Talents David Giles is a man of diverse interests and talents. His background is one contributing factor. His struggle to become a teacher and, at result, a compilation of 33 of the best essays from student-nominated teachers who responded to NCTE's invitation to tell how they do it.

Robert Welch, Assistant Principal-Instruction, Grosse Pointe North High School, is one of the contributors.

In his Essay, An Exercise in Description, Mr. Welch explains how he used an assignment to write a static description of a scene as a seed crystal to develop the classroom into a writing laboratory.

In this laboratory there was no deadline on revision. "Any student could continue to revise his work until satisfied with it, and the writing grade was constantly upgraded in terms of progress. The entire emphasis in writing was on each student's success in achieving an effective product . . ."

There's a bit more to it, of course, but the important thing is: it worked. He really taught them how to write.

Rescue At Sea

Word was received at the Naval Air Station Bermuda at 12:30 p.m. November 7 that the Cypriot merchant vessel European Persistence was in trouble some 510 miles southeast of Bermuda, taking on water in its engine room and in danger of sinking. The first rescue plane was launched shortly after 1 o'clock.

Piloting the ready-alert P3 Orion aircraft was Lieutenant Commander Lee Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Henderson, of St. Clair avenue.

The ship eventually sank but all 27 crew members were saved thanks to a successful air-sea operation.

The Orion, first plane to reach the scene, dropped a survival kit with extra life rafts and rescue equipment, left to locate a ship and divert it to the area to pick up the distressed vessel's crew, returned and, realizing the survivors could not be rescued until after dark, maintained a circling flight path around them, fully illuminated so the rescue ship would be able to pinpoint the survivors' position.

Nine hours after it had taken off the Orion landed again in Bermuda.

the same time, keep a growing family fed, sheltered and clothed, afforded him a secondary education he values very much. "I've been a boiler operator, a janitor and a gardener. I was an athletic director; coached three sports. I was a hockey player until my insurance man said he couldn't cover me anymore," he recalls.

Knowing this, somehow it comes as no surprise to learn he's a poet, a painter, a cartoonist and a writer. He's been negotiating with the "Detroit News" over publication of his cartoons.

And, he's slowly but surely creating a novel. "This may sound sacrilegious, but it's a science fiction interpretation of the Bible."

"My ultimate dream is to be published," he confesses.
