Miss Grosse Pointe Pageant Unfolds April 5

By Roger A. Waha
Weeks of hard work for members of the Jaycees and 10 semifinalists will reach a climax with the crowning of Miss Grosse Pointe for 1975-76 during the organization-sponsored Miss Grosse Pointe Scholarship Pageant Saturday, April 5.

It will be presented in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

"This Is My Country" is the theme of the fourth annual pageant which will feature Morris Carlson of WWJ radio as the master of ceremonies.

"All Are Winners" In recognition of the event, all Pointe mayors have declared April 5 as "Miss Grosse Pointe Day," said George A. Williamson, pageant general chairman and publicity director.

Excitement is the key for all participants as the production now goes into final rehearsals leading up to the selection of the new Miss Grosse Pointe.

"I've worked with the girls for two months and I've become fond of them for their ability to try and their ability of getting involved," said Mr. Williamson. "I hate to see anybody lose but as I've said before, somebody has to be a winner."

"However, as far as the Jaycees and my steering committee are concerned, they are all winners."

Semifinalists
The semifinalists include Kathy Elsey, 17, an Our Lady Star of the Sea senior; Lori Gloss, 16, a South High School junior; Elizabeth Lesesne, 17, a University Liggett senior; Karen Mann, 16, a South junior; Barb Maxon, 17, a North High School junior.

More are Karessa McElhenny, 17, a junior at North; Janice Mendelson, 17, a South senior; Jeanne Rutan, 18, a Michigan State University freshman; Susan Siewert, 18, a North senior; and Marsha Sweany, 17, a North junior.

Mr. Williamson said he has been reassured by Carter Billu, judges chairman, that a panel of five professional judges will be set to go pageant night. The young ladies will be judged in four main areas: talent, which is worth 50 percent, and evening gown and swim suit competition, 25 percent apiece. Then, there's a final ballot based on overall considerations.

The winner will receive a $500 academic scholarship from the Jaycees and Curto-Knight Goodyear. She also will receive a $50 savings bond, jewelry, clothing, gift certificates and sporting equipment from area businesses.

Many Take Part
In keeping with the spirit of the pageant, Mr. Williamson said the following selections will be performed including "This Land Is Your Land," "Yankee Doodle Dandy," "It's a Grand Old Flag" and the theme song.

The production design includes a map of the United States and the use of slides built around the theme.

Many are participating in the entire entertainment spectrum including Accent 70 and the Grunions, both choral groups, and the South High School Stage Band, under the direction of Russell Reed.

Don Miller, from Accent 70 and Linda Finger, Jaycee Auxiliary member, are scheduled to sing solos.

"A Lovely Miss GP" After the crowning of the new Miss Grosse Pointe, the community will have two young ladies with the title. The current Miss Grosse Pointe is Kathleen Ann Lewis, 23, who will represent the area in the Miss Michigan (Continued on Page 4)

Ten Semifinalists Await Big Night

Saint John to Have Big Day

Many Dignitaries to Attend Dedication Ceremonies of Hospital's New Center for Health Education Friday, April 11; Governor Milliken Will Give Keynote Address; Public Invited to Tour Facilities, Art Show on Saturday, April 12

Governor William G. Milliken will be the keynote speaker at the official dedication ceremonies of the Saint John Hospital Center for Health Education at 5:30 p.m. Friday, April 11. All Pointe mayors and city managers have been invited to attend the ceremonies.

Participating in the brief ceremonies are Detroit Mayor Coleman A. Young; John Cardinal Dearden, Archbishop of Detroit; Sister Verence McQuade, S.S.J., Saint John Hospital's assistant administrator; Sister Irene Waldmann, president of the Sisters of Saint Joseph; James T. Farley, of Colonial road, president of Saint John Hospital; and Hugh C. Daly, chairman of the hospital's Board of Trustees.

Following the program, a tour of the new facilities and an exhibition of works by Michigan artists Ljubo Biro, Charles Culver, Beaver Edwards, Marshall M. Fredericks, Zuber Kachadoorian, Louise Nobili, Ronald Scarbrough, Mary Chase Stratton and Robert Thom will be held.

Parke, Davis and Co. has loaned its famed "History of Medicine" oil paintings to Saint John for this exhibition. The theme of the art show is "The Pursuit of Excellence through Medicine, Education and The Arts."

Has Auditorium
The new Center for Health Education includes the 225-seat Peter A. Whyte Memorial Auditorium located on the addition's lower level.

It is dedicated to the memory of Peter A. Whyte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray M. Whyte, of Lakeshore road, who have been hospital patrons for many years.

A portrait relief in cast bronze of Peter, created by Mr. Fredericks and surrounded by 15 stars representing each year of Peter's life, is a focal point in the Center.

The new auditorium, seminar room, six classrooms, conference rooms, a health science library, offices and other supportive facilities in the Center will be used for a broad cross-section of medical education and training programs, including a greatly expanded continuing education program for the hospital medical staff, interns and residents, hospital staff, medical and para-medical students.

In addition, the auditorium will be used for the hospital's Community Health Education Programs sponsored by the Saint John Hospital Guild and offered free of charge to the public.

Other Services
The facilities will be available to community organizations for health and community related programs and events.

The ground level of the Center contains visitor and patient services. This level includes the new main lobby which is accessible to both (Continued on Page 2)

Bryant Offers Maps of State

While stating "there is no such thing as a free lunch" or a "free" map, State Representative William R. Bryant Jr. reports his office has the official 1975 State Highway Map available and one may be obtained from his office without any obligation being incurred.

Merely write Representative Bryant, State Capitol, Lansing, Michigan 48901 and ask for the new map.

The maps are informative with information on State parks, bridge tolls, a mileage chart and a large map of the Detroit metropolitan area.

Part of the credit for these new maps goes to the vice-chairman of the State Highway Commission, Charles H. Hewitt, a resident of The Farms.

Representative Bryant says he has 1,000 of the new State maps and they are available "while they last."

New Query Raised in Busing Case

Judge Wants to Know If Implementation of Detroit-Only Plan Would Prohibit Further NAACP Legal Action to Seek Cross-District Busing

By Nancy Kramer
Parties involved in the suburban busing issue were asked to file briefs on a new question raised by Federal Judge Robert DeMascio on Wednesday, March 26, to aid him in the process of determining whether or not suburban school districts should be excluded from the Detroit desegregation case.

The judge was expected to accept or reject the suburbs' motion for dismissal from the case on Wednesday, but instead said he wanted to know if implementation of a Detroit-only desegregation plan would prohibit further legal action by the NAACP to seek cross-district busing.

That issue, Judge DeMascio said, had been "neither briefed nor argued."

Seek Fresh Start
But it was a question that Pointe School System Attorney Douglas West said no one previously thought was necessary to answer.

"We had assumed all along that our dismissal wouldn't bar further legal action by the NAACP to seek cross-district busing." All the suburban attorneys were seeking in the first place, he said, was a fresh start to the entire case.

"We filed a motion to dismiss and the NAACP, the plaintiff, in response said it wanted to amend its complaint and assert a new theory. We argued that it could amend the theory but said that the plaintiff should start out with a brand new case, rather than continue on the old record." The NAACP, he pointed out, may have to utilize past records in order to plead its case.

Orders Integration
That organization filed the original desegregation suit against Detroit and State officials more than four years ago and argued that racial discrimination in the suburbs had an effect on segregation in Detroit schools. (Continued on Page 4)

WINS APPOINTMENT
The appointment of Farms resident Wyant J. Shively, M.D., as chairman of the Department of Pathology at Providence Hospital, Southfield, was recently announced by Sister Gertrude Bastnager, hospital administrator and president of the Board of Trustees. A member of Alpha Omega Alpha, the national medical honor society, Dr. Shively is a fellow in both the American College of Clinical Pathologists and the American College of Pathologists. He is certified in both anatomic and clinical pathology by the American Board of Pathology.

Police Trap Youth Via Recording

Farms Det. Earl Field Wins Plaudits in Arrest of 13-Year-Old Who Filed False Ambulance Run Reports

A 13-year-old Farms boy, who "got a thrill out of watching rescue ambulances going by," was trapped by his own tape recorded voice by Farms Det. Earl Field.

The juvenile was taken into custody and referred to the Youth Service Division for further investigation and disposition.

Det. Field was not only complimented by Police Chief Robert Ferber, but also by Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem, who assigned the officer to the case, and by Farms Fire Chief Warren Schultz, for an "excellent piece of police work."

Draws Diagrams
Chief Schultz said his department had been receiving a number of ambulance calls from January 14 through March 24. These ranged from a "man suffering a heart attack" to "a person hit by a car" on Charlevoix. All turned out to be false.

Det. Field, with the cooperation of fire department personnel, listened to the taped voice playbacks from the department's own tape (Continued on Page 4)

Woods to Study Variety Of Proposals to Improve Park Docking Facilities

Over 300 Signatures Already Obtained in Continuing Petition Drive; Matter Could Be Referred to Committee of the Whole, Citizens Recreation Commission at An April Meeting

By Roger A. Waha
Citizens who are interested in improving boat dockage facilities at The Woods Lake Front Park are currently obtaining signatures via a petition drive towards this objective. At the same time, they also are expressing an interest in the expansion of marina facilities.

Petitions bearing over 300 signatures of non-Grosse Pointe Woods Boat Club members already were sent to city officials last month and L. P. Sullivan, of Moorland drive, said the group also is trying to obtain the support of a wide cross section of Pointe residents.

Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos said last week it was his opinion that the overall scope of this problem will not be entirely resolved in the near future but will be alleviated. He stated this matter was referred to Councilman Ronald R. Kefgen, Parks and Recreation Committee chairman.

To Study Further
Mr. Kefgen said when this topic comes before the council, possibly at one of the two April meetings, it would probably be referred to the Committee of the Whole and the city's Citizens Recreation Commission. The commission would then meet with representatives of the group to discuss suggestions.

In a communication to city officials and the NEWS, Mr. Sullivan said the Boat Club had appointed him chairman of a committee to recommend specific proposals and also to coordinate their implementation.

"Our main concern is with the number of available boat wells for smaller boats and also the lack of space for larger boats," stated Mr. Sullivan. He said "the real problem of insufficient dockage" will continue unless "more positive steps are taken."

Mr. Pinkos felt Mr. Sullivan was talking mainly about the bridge and the related problem of high water levels. (Continued on Page 6)

GP Woods Has RV Applications

Applications for approval of outside storage sites for recreational vehicles are currently available at The Woods Municipal Building, 20025 Mack avenue.

These forms stem from the council's approval of an ordinance providing for the regulation of the outside storage of boats, various trailers, (boat, utility, travel, house), and other recreation equipment last October.

The measure becomes effective Friday, April 4. However, due to a delay in getting the forms printed, no citizen will be penalized if he obtains an application after the April 4 date, said Building Inspector Earl Waky. However, residents are asked to pick up the forms as soon as possible.

Board Views Hockey at High Schools

Group Gives In-Depth Presentation to Trustees During Executive Session March 24

By Roger A. Waha
A steering committee working towards the establishment of varsity hockey at both North and South High Schools in 1975-76 gave an in-depth presentation to Superintendent of Schools Dr. James A. Adams and the School Board Monday evening, March 24, during an executive session.

"We had an excellent meeting," said Louis A. Rossetti, president of the Blue Line Club, a booster organization for the development and support of high school hockey.

The group's presentation for the Board's consideration focused upon financing, the scheduling of games, coaching and crowd control, said Mr. Rossetti.

Hoping for Best
"Now, it's up to the Board to consider our presentation in light of the whole school budget in the coming year," Mr. Rossetti added he was hopeful that hockey would be a reality at both schools this fall.

"We're gearing for it," he said.

Dr. Adams said he and the trustees appreciated the information provided by the spokesmen of the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association. He noted that the group's request is but one of a number which the Board has under consideration for the 1975-76 year.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Joan Hanpeter, Board president, said that the next step on the Board's part is to consider the request in relation to the entire budget.

View Whole Package
"We will await the superintendent's recommendation to the Board and consider the request with the total athletic recommendation for the 1975-76 school year. Then, the Board will make its decision," she stated.

Two Park Firefighters Save Detroit Man's Life

The prompt action of two Park firefighters, one by driving the emergency ambulance and the other by applying mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and chest massage, were credited by Bon Secours Hospital doctors with saving the life of a young man on Friday, March 28.

The fire department received a call from the police department that the emergency ambulance was needed in front of a laundromat on Jefferson, between Maryland and Wayburn.

Pipemmen Caspar Allor and Joseph Clarke, with Allor driving, were at the scene in less than a minute and found Police Officers Howard Carl and Norman Ganga bending over Kurt A. Schulte, 19, of 201 Ashland, Detroit, trying to make him comfortable.

Schulte was seated on the sidewalk with his back propped against the building wall. He was bleeding at the mouth and his right arm was described as in an awkward position. It was found later that his arm was fractured.

Although the matter is still under investigation by police, it is believed no foul play was involved. It appeared that (Continued on Page 2)

Stray Dogs Irk City Resident

Council Agrees to Consider Request to Raise Amount of Canine-at-Large Violation

A Rivard boulevard resident, Mrs. Joseph Farley, appealed to The City Council's sense of fair play during a regular meeting on Tuesday, March 18.

Mrs. Farley waited until the end of the meeting to bring up the subject of dogs running loose in the city. Her personal grievance was that they tear up the lawn and make it impossible for her to properly maintain the front yard.

She suggested that the fine charged when police officers pick up a stray be raised from the current amount of $3 to approximately $15. This way, she said, people would think twice about letting their dogs run loose.

Dogs Too Fast
"I can't have a decent lawn, or take care of my shrubs now," she pointed out, and Councilman George Henry heartily agreed.

City Manager Thomas Kressbach noted officers have to see a dog running loose in order to issue a violation and that by the time a resident has registered a complaint, the dog is often nowhere to be found.

Mrs. Farley requested that the solons at least consider her idea and they promised to do so.

"It's not adding anything to our neighborhood to have these dogs running loose and tearing up lawns," Mrs. Farley concluded, "and we want to keep our property looking nice."

Musicians Get High Ratings

First Division ratings were earned by 27 South High School soloists and ensemble groups during a State Solo and Ensemble Festival held at Schoolcraft College, Livonia, on Saturday, March 22.

An additional 11 events from South received second division ratings.

According to Russell Reed, director of the South Instrumental Music Department, soloists in 10th, 11th and 12th grades are required to enter a proficiency exam where they must perform a solo and scales and do sight readings. Those earning numerical scores of 85 or better pass the exam and receive first division ratings.

The second and third levels of proficiency require mastery of increasingly difficult scales and sight reading material.

View New Room Model

JAMES T. FARLEY, of Colonial road, president of Saint John Hospital, (left), and FREDERICK K. CODY, of Stratford place, trustee, examine a model of one of the rooms in the hospital's new Center for Health Education which will be dedicated at ceremonies Friday, April 11. Governor William G. Milliken will be the keynote speaker at the official dedication which is by invitation only due to limited space. The Center will be open for public viewing Saturday, April 12, from 1-5 p.m.

Fire Damages Utility Room

A prompt call to The Park Fire Department by Mrs. Don D. Wilson, of 1425 Buckingham road on Tuesday, March 25, is credited with preventing a fire, which originated in the basement laundry room, from spreading, said Fire Chief Phillip Costa.

The fire started in a clothes drier and spread to the walls and ceiling of the room, the chief said. A member of the family noticed smoke pouring from the drier vent and ran into the house to inform Mrs. Wilson, who wasted no time calling the fire department.

Chief Costa said the blaze was confined to the laundry room and did not have a chance to spread through the rest of the basement or through the house because of Mrs. Wilson's action.

"If Mrs. Wilson had tried to put out the fire herself," the chief said, "there is no telling how much of a start it would have had. The fact that she had called us, and left the matter in our hands, leaves no doubt that damage was kept to a minimum."

Chief Costa said in such instances, people try to put out the flames before calling their local fire departments, which is a mistake.

Always call first because there is the possibility that while home owners are battling the flames, the fire might spread causing more damage, noted the chief.

Imitation of good often lags a long way behind its example.

Big Day

Other areas include admitting offices equipped with a computerized central registration location which will speed up admitting procedures for patients, a visitors' lounge, gift shop and office facilities.

The relocation of many of these facilities permits the addition of 34 more patient rooms which are located on 1 West.

By Invitation Only
Due to limited space, Friday's ceremonies are by special invitation only.

However, the general public is invited to tour the new facilities and view the Art Show on Saturday, April 12, from 1-5 p.m.

The Art Show will be presented through Monday, April 21, free of charge to members of the community from 1-5 p.m. in the hospital's Center, accessible through the new front entrance.

The architect for the Center is Hammond, Beeby & Associates, while the builder is Edward V. Monahan, Inc.

Views Hockey

(Continued from Page 1) said the Board also will view an appeal for more girls' sports and an increase in the cost of team transportation.

She noted, at the earliest, the Board could reach a decision during the first part of May. However, it's more likely that a decision will be announced sometime in June.

Mrs. Hanpeter had sound words of praise for members who participated in the presentation. "They did a marvelous job and thoroughly researched their material," she said.

Many Pledges
In a final note, Mrs. Hanpeter said she's well aware of the strong interest in hockey in The Pointe and that many other high schools have varsity hockey teams. But, again, she made it clear this request would have to be viewed within the entire budget framework.

She added if the Board decides against the request, the group would have the opportunity to come before the trustees again at a later date.

Save Life

Firefighters Allor and Clark put the fallen man on a stretcher, and with the assistance of the police officers, placed him in the ambulance.

Clarke remained with the stricken man, while Allor sped toward the hospital. As they reached the Bedford intersection, Schulte suffered a cardiac arrest. His heart apparently had stopped because of shock.

While Allor called his station to alert hospital personnel, Clarke applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and pulmonary action to Schulte's chest. At the hospital, an emergency crew took over and the stricken man was revived.

From the time the man's heart had stopped, with Clarke struggling to get it beating again, and the doctors took over, there was a lapse of five minutes. The doctors gave Clarke full credit for his action which they said saved Schulte's life.

"I commend both Pipemen Allor and Clarke, and especially Clarke, in handling this life and death emergency run the way they did," said Fire Chief Phillip Costa. "Thanks to them, Mr. Schulte is alive."

"This is the value of the Emergency Medical Service training, (EMS), which some of our men have completed and some are still taking. We are not professional medical men, but it does help to know what to do in times of emergencies until doctors and nurses at the hospital take over."

Easter Egg Hunt Called Big Success

The Village merchants' second annual Children's Easter Egg Hunt drew over 1,000 youngsters on Saturday, March 22, at Elworthy Field. In spite of inclement weather the hunt was termed a huge success by merchants. Paul Nelson, president of the Village Association and Bill Lafer, vice-president, coordinated each of the three hunts and made certain no child left without one jelly bean filled plastic egg. Youngsters also had an opportunity of obtaining one of the 300 children's prize certificates included at random. These prizes were selected according to the various age groups and were redeemable by participating Village merchants. Enjoying the fun are, (from left to right), bunny LINDA BRUCIA, Mr. LAFER, owner of the Mole Hole Mr. NELSON, manager of Jacobson's store for the home, and bunny ELISE FINCH.

Police Arrest Movie Patron

A 19-year-old Detroit police on Sunday, March 23, and charged with malicious destruction of property over $100. Under a State law this constitutes a felony and is punishable by up to four years in prison on conviction. Arrested was Richard Lee Alter, of 712 Beniteau, who was arraigned for a preliminary hearing before City Municipal Judge Stan C. Kazul in The Park Municipal Court. Judge Kazul was the only magistrate available at the time.

Judge Kazul ordered Alter released on $1,000 personal bond and set examination date for yesterday, April 2. According to information released by Lt. Gordon Duncan, Alter, who had been drinking, was creating a disturbance in the Esquire Theater, 15311 Jefferson avenue, and was asked by the management to leave peacefully.

When the man refused to comply, the manager called the authorities and two officers were dispatched to the scene.

The policemen talked to Alter and requested that he leave, and Alter, who appeared to have calmed down, told the patrolman that he would.

The officers returned to their scout car and waited to make sure Alter kept his word.

SUPPORTS CLAIM

A Federal appeals court has supported the U.S. Department of Labor's claim that a department store must pay seamstresses the same rates as tailors and women's clothing salespersons the same rates as those who sell men's clothing under the Equal Pay Act.

Recording Tells Tale

recordings and made his own recordings. All the calls came from the Charlevoix area and all ambulance runs were on the avenue between Fisher road and Moran.

Stationing himself on Charlevoix, between Fisher and Moran, and then between Moran and Fisher, Det. Field drew diagrams of the homes of 14 families, north and south, in that particular area on both sides of the thoroughfare. He also watched these homes and noted which had children living in them.

Youth Confesses
Then the detective went to work. He stopped at each of the homes where the children lived and played the tape recordings, asking the parents and children if they recognized the voice. All without success.

With only three more houses to visit, the officer stopped at the first and "caught his man."

As he played the recording, members of the family recognized the lad's voice, including the boy himself. Naturally, the family was aghast at what the youngster had done. Det. Field said, and it was hard to detect who was most surprised — the members of the family or the boy.

The 13-year-old broke down and cried, confessing he did what he did because he "liked to see the ambulance go by." He promised that it would never happen again.

The officer informed the youngster of the seriousness of the offenses, and told him that he will be contacted by the YSD.

The policeman said the family was very shocked at the boy's behavior and was most cooperative in the matter.

Besides receiving the plaudits of Chief Ferber and Sgt. Van Tiem, Chief Schultz was high in his praise of the work done by Det. Field.

"When you stop to figure that it costs approximately $25 each time the ambulance is sent out on a call, multiply that amount by the calls we had to make and you can figure what it cost the city's taxpayers," Chief Schultz said.

Busing Case

Suburban school districts have been fighting the idea of cross-district busing since June 1972 when the late Judge Stephen J. Roth ordered a metropolitan-wide school integration plan, ruling that Detroit public schools were racially segregated.

Last summer, the U.S. Supreme Court upheld Judge Roth's decision with regard to Detroit, but said it could not find enough evidence of racial discrimination in suburban schools to involve them in a desegregation plan.

Sets Deadline
After this ruling, Judge DeMascio, who assumed jurisdiction over the suit following Judge Roth's death, was asked by the NAACP to keep the suburban districts in the case. The NAACP continued to argue that suburban discrimination does affect Detroit school desegregation.

As for the new question Judge DeMascio has posed, the NAACP and the Detroit School Board have to reply by Monday, April 7, and the suburbs and the State of Michigan must do so by Friday, April 11.

Mr. West believes that if the judge sees from the submitted replies that the NAACP will not be barred from further action on the matter, he will accept the suburbs' motion for dismissal.

"If he gets the right answer," Mr. West remarked, "I think he'll let us go."

Miss GP Pageant

Pageant on Saturday, June 21, in Muskegon. Over 35 contestants are scheduled to participate with the winner representing the State in the Miss America Pageant.

While joy marks the crowning of the new Miss Grosse Pointe, a hint of sadness envelops the end of the current queen's reign. "Kathleen will give her farewell speech at the pageant and this is always emotional," commented Mr. Williamson.

"She has been a very pleasant person to work with," he continued. "Kathleen has been a lovely Miss Grosse Pointe. She's been a fine representative of the community. We, of the Jaycees, are very proud to have had her as our representative."

Many Get Thanks
Mr. Williamson also wanted to thank many individuals and businesses for their contributions in working towards a successful event.

"Our program book sales are complete, with Ed Serwach doing an excellent job in this area. (Mr. Serwach was in charge of advertisement sales). I also want to thank the community for its support in this regard," he said.

Others receiving "thank you's" include Edmund Ahee Jewelers for supplying the Miss Grosse Pointe crown and other jewelry; Pointe Dodge for supplying the Miss GP automobile; La Parisienne Salon for styling the contestants' hair; Valentines of Grosse Pointe for supplying tuxedos.

More are Eddie McGrath Jr., official pageant photographer; Chuck Chrisman for designing the sets; Pat Setter for handling the make-up; and the R. P. Hermes Co. for use of video tape replay equipment.

Tickets Available
Mr. Williamson also expressed his appreciation to his steering committee which includes Mrs. Sherry Chivas, Mrs. Helga Firschild, official hostess, and Rick Standard, director, and to the Golden Lion Restaurant, 22380 Moross road, for use of their facilities for the Afterglow, which will be held immediately after the production.

Tickets for the pageant at $3.50 for patrons, $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students are available at Jacobson's in the Village, the War Memorial or by calling Gary Hollidge, ticket chairman, at 779-5747.

Afterglow tickets at $6 per person, which includes beverages and snacks, may be obtained by contacting Mr. Hollidge.

Slate Power Boat Classes

For the ninth consecutive year, the Grosse Pointe Power Squadron, in co-operation with the Department of Community Services, will be offering free instruction to students interested in becoming qualified to operate a power boat this summer.

Under the Marine Safety Act of 1967, children, 12 to 16 years of age, are required to have a safety certificate in their possession when operating a power boat if not accompanied by an adult.

Therefore, it becomes important to all those in this age group to earn their certificates before the season opens.

Students, who are presently 11-years-old and will reach their 12th birthday before or during the summer, are eligible to enter these classes.

Two hour classes will be held on three consecutive Mondays, April 14, 21 and 28, from 3:45 to 5:45 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m.

In order to be awarded a certificate, the student must attend either three afternoon or three evening sessions and pass a State examination.

Certificates will be awarded at the completion of the final examination Monday, April 28.

Registration forms are available at Parcels, Brownell, Pierce, University Liggett, Grosse Pointe Academy, Saint Paul's and the Department of Community Services at South High School. These forms must be signed by a parent or guardian. Students are requested to bring a pen to the classes.

The course is being offered under the direction of Past Commander John H. Wood. For additional information, please call Commander Wood at 884-7823.

SEMTA Sets Baseball Bus

Express Park and Ride transportation via SEMTA, (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority), from several suburban locations to Tiger Stadium for opening day Tuesday, April 8, has been finalized.

Buses will leave suburban lots and will arrive at the ball park in time for pre-game ceremonies at 1 p.m. The 1:30 p.m. game is with the Baltimore Orioles.

This season, SEMTA like the Tigers will offer pre-paid tickets for bus transportation. To ride the bus individuals must have tickets before the day of the game.

Because the response to transportation was so great, SEMTA can no longer offer transportation on a "first come — first serve" basis. Pre-paid tickets will eliminate the problem of would-be riders without a bus to board.

Last year, more than 10,000 Tiger fans rode SEMTA buses to games throughout the season. In addition to opening day, SEMTA also will offer express transportation for souvenir days and senior citizens days in June, July and August.

For further information concerning ticket locations and parking lot with pick-up time and fare includes the Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo, 885-4600, while the parking lot is The Woods Municipal Building, 20025 Mack avenue. The departure time is 12:15 p.m.

Center Offers Six Events To Highlight Big Drive

The first returns from the War Memorial Center's 1975 Family Participation Campaign were received this week. To date $31,070.50 has been given by 1,495 donors. This compares with $31,294 from 1,666 family contributors at the same time last year.

To highlight this year's drive for contributing members, six free events have been scheduled in the Center's Fries Auditorium. On Monday, April 7, at 8 p.m. the Grosse Pointe Theatre will present "The Real Inspector Hound" which was recently performed by invitation in Flint.

On Wednesday, April 9, at 8 p.m. the Grosse Pointe Chamber Music Players will appear in concert.

The Pointe's own local Whiffenpoofs, the Grunions, will appear in a concert of nostalgia and collegiate fun on Monday, April 28, at 8 p.m.

A Sunday matinee for Pointe children and their parents will be given May 4 at 2 p.m. Excerpts from La Boutique Fantasque will be performed by the Center's Corps de Ballet under the direction of Mary Ellen Cooper and highlights of Grosse Pointe Children's Theatre productions will be directed by Mrs. Sydney Reynolds.

A color travelogue, "The Land of the White Elephant," will be presented Wednesday, May 7, at 8 p.m. It will be personally narrated by Mark C. Stevens, Consul General of Thailand.

"Top Hat," the classic movie musical featuring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, will be shown in Fries Theatre Tuesday evening, May 20, at 8 p.m.

Introducing Scotts new Vegetable Garden Fertilizer

If you'd like more tomatoes, lettuce, sweet corn and beans from your garden this year, you'll love Scotts new Vegetable Garden Fertilizer. It combines fast-release nutrients to get your plants off to a strong start, with slow-release nitrogen for a balanced, prolonged feeding. Scotts slow-release formula means the fertilizer lasts longer than those water-soluble, quick-release brands. Some of those brands suggest 2 or 3 feedings per crop. With Scotts, once is usually enough.

Woods to Study Docking Facility Improvements

When the water level is high, larger boats, such as sailboats, are unable to clear the bridge. The alternative would be to eliminate the bridge and construct a new one but this would be an expensive proposition.

Makes Proposals
"Another problem is the lack of facilities for larger boats, (defined as between 28 and 36-feet)," said Mr. Sullivan. He noted since boat docks are "self-supporting and even income-producing, we force no trouble in obtaining appropriate funding for improved facilities."

On the long-term solution front, Mr. Sullivan made several proposals.

On small boat dockage, he said a long-term solution would be to move the existing bridge upstream to the Jef-erson bridge "so now vacant wells can be used."

A second solution would be to provide additional dockage for both small and large boats. "The most economically feasible plan involves docks on the lakeside of our old pool which could be constructed in conjunction with a fishing pier currently under consideration."

On the large boat and facility question, Mr. Pinkos emphasized prior city councils have never considered large boats at the park. Rather, they viewed them at large marinas.

Have Boat Harbor
Finally, Mr. Sullivan said another alternative would be to convert the existing swimming pool site into a boat harbor. "This could be accomplished quite economically when the old pool is removed. In any event, the funding for expanded marina facilities could come from a separate bond issue to be paid off through rental fees with no added cost to the community."

For his part, Mr. Pinkos said he doubted that the council would consider making a marina out of the old pool area.

"He's brought out some solutions but they're not the type of solutions the council is considering now," the mayor stated.

He said Mr. Sullivan's figure of around 108 on the dockage waiting list for small boats, (defined by Mr. Sullivan as 28-feet and under), wasn't accurate according to information he has received from the Parks and Recreation Department.

Not As Aggravated
"As the season goes, some applications are rescinded in some fashion or wells are available. The problem isn't as aggravated as we were led to believe," said Mr. Pinkos, who noted this was the first year that "bumping" of well renters, affecting some 13-27 citizens, had taken place.

In total, the mayor felt extensive marina facilities weren't the type of facilities for the Lake Front Park, which is mainly for smaller and medium size boats rather than larger ones. Larger craft could be moored at commercial marinas.

Beautification Group Has Fruitful Meeting

By Roger A. Waha
Many ideas were shared and discussed by members of The Woods Beautification Commission at their first meeting Wednesday, March 26. The main objective of the group, which was formed by the council in early February, is to promote and coordinate beautification activities within the city.

Thirteen citizens were appointed to the commission by the solons on Monday, March 17, and the majority of them attended the opening session.

"I'm delighted with the commission," said Councilwoman Joan M. Mullan, who participated in the meeting. "I feel it is a viable group," which represents the schools, businesses and the community-at-large. "Everybody is enthusiastic about it."

While many suggestions were discussed, a main purpose of the gathering was to give members an opportunity to meet one another and to prepare plans for future sessions.

Mrs. Mullan said the commission is planning to meet Tuesday, April 8, to elect officers, decide on standing committees and zero in on springtime activities.

In reviewing some of the ideas discussed, Mrs. Mullan said members talked about the possibility of asking the council to designate May as beautification month with definite activities built around that theme.

Other points mentioned include possible clean-up programs in the spring and fall with competition among the high schools; encouraging everyone to paint-up and fix-up; and the solicitation of ideas on aesthetics from the public at large.

More are the rethinking of ideas on pride and beautification; beautification along educational lines; obtaining copies of all ordinances related to beautification for review and study.

Still other thoughts focused upon vandalism and the litter problem, plus having the Mack avenue business strip "come alive" via a coordinated program.

Mrs. Mullan said the group seemed to accept all of the ideas presented.

However, this meeting was only a starting point for the group. Specific recommendations in this area await further commission action.

Boating Safety Tips Offered

A fall into cold water in early spring can prove fatal and is the cause of many early season drownings.

The icy water numbs the limbs so that even an expert swimmer may quickly be rendered helpless. Loss of body heat occurs two to four times faster in water than in air.

If you fall into cold water:

- Don't try to remove your clothing. It helps to retain body heat by reducing the flow of water over the body. Clothing also holds trapped air and adds to your natural buoyancy.

- In excessively cold water do not stay with a capsize boat. Instead, swim immediately to safety.

In rapids or strong current:

- Swim at right angles to the water flow to the nearest land.

- Try to stay on your back, feet first, using your feet to fend off rocks and other obstructions.

- Use the current for propulsion and your arms and legs for directional control. When preparing to set out, boaters should:

- Put on two or three suits of thermal underwear and other suitable clothing. Scuba diver wet suits also are good protection against cold water.

AAA Survey Notes High Prices Slow Car Buying

Higher prices, exhaust emission controls and the state of the economy are helping keep half of Michigan's motorists who planned to buy 1975 model cars out of showrooms, if an Automobile Club of Michigan survey can be projected statewide.

Twenty percent of Auto Club members responding to a questionnaire in the November Motor News said they normally would have purchased a new car this year. Only half of these respondents, however, said they still intend to do so.

More than 7,300 Auto Club members—one percent of the total "Motor News" circulation—responded to the questionnaire. Their opinions were computer analyzed and published in the magazine's March edition.

On a positive note, some members said they would buy cars in 1976 when "bugs on new equipment ordered by the government will be ironed out," as one member put it.

Survey results also suggest new car buyers want large models. Results also note most motorists believe last year's fuel shortage was contrived, want points assessed for 55-mile speed limit violations and are confused about no-fault auto insurance. Three of four persons looking for new cars said they want a full-size or intermediate model. "Motor News" stated this seemingly refutes claims that Detroit is not building what the public wants.

Three of four motorists responding believed the fuel shortage last year was phony, and 58 percent want points assessed against drivers for any violation of the speed limit.

Sixty-nine percent said no-fault auto insurance was the same or worse than the previous form, indicating confusion about the plan. Thirty-one percent approved of it.

Only 13 percent favored air bags on new cars. Many who liked them, however, said they shouldn't be mandatory. Respondents cited cost and their "right" to choose safety devices rather than have them mandated by the government.

Sixty-four percent of those polled were against using tax dollars for public transportation. It was too costly, and better roads were needed instead, members wrote.

Other answers to the 24 survey questions also indicate drivers are distrustful of government, auto makers and consumer advocates. Ralph Nader. Seventy-one percent blamed oil firms and "politics" for last winter's lines at service stations.

The AAA computer also analyzed results by age groups from 19 to 29 and each 10 years thereafter, up to age 65 and over. Nearly 60 percent of the youngest group indicated using safety belts regularly, and 30 percent of that group said they only wore them sometimes.

Forty percent of the 65 and over group said they always buckled up, while 39 percent said sometimes.

More than half of the youngest age group said they sometimes obeyed the 55-mile speed limit; 36 percent indicated they always did. Of those persons 65 and over, 69 percent said they always drove 55 or less while 29 percent said they did only occasionally.

Most participating members said they cut their driving last year and would be willing to do it again if convinced any future fuel shortage was real.

Rescue breathing can be started in the water—as soon as you can reach the victim's mouth with your mouth, and you are able to stand with your head out of the water. Some experts can rescue breathe while treading in deep water. The first 10 breaths should be given as quickly as possible. As you carry the victim ashore, breathe for him or her at least once every 10 seconds. If he does not breathe by the time you reach shore, do not struggle to get him out of the water. Leave him in shallow water as you continue to breathe for him, since cool water reduces his need for oxygen.

Hospital Honors Its Benefactors

Bon Secours Hospital hosted a dinner of appreciation at the War Memorial on Monday, March 17, as a tribute to the community's response to the hospital's successful $2.5 million fund-raising campaign.

The guest list included campaign workers and memorial donors.

The money was needed to secure a loan for the $19.5 million program now underway which includes new construction and renovation of existing facilities.

Hundreds of individuals supported the hospital's efforts.

During the dinner, Sister Anne Lutz, religious superior of the Bon Secours Sisters in The Pointe, presented framed tributes in the form of a resolution passed by the hospital's Board of Trustees to fund chairman Mrs. Hans Gehrke Jr., vice-chairman R. Frederick Kolowich, major gifts committee chairman Robert L. Goffredson Jr., special gifts committee chairman Edward J. Hickey III, and doctors committee chairman Donald N. Sweeney Jr., M.D.

The tenor of the evening was one of pride of accomplishment and a desire to continue to advance the programs and needs of the hospital.

Harry Howenstein, member of the hospital's major gifts committee, outlined the expansion program in concrete terms and emphasized the need of the hospital to maintain regular channels of communications with those who share an interest in its growth and welfare.

These supporters, called the Friends of Bon Secours, would then promote good public relations and understanding of the hospital in the community.

The hospital also is planning a new publication to meet these same objectives.

Leisure time used wisely is a tonic—it helps prolong life.

Schomer Wins Track Honors

Junior Mike Schomer of The Woods picked up three first place awards for Western Michigan University's track team Saturday, March 22, in a United States Track and Field Federation meet at Ypsilanti.

His top performance was a

198.8 heave in the javelin which puts the North High School graduate number four on the list of all-time Bronco performers.

Schomer also won the discus, (141-11), and shot put, (48-2), and finished second in the hammer throw.

Michigan Bell recently proposed a charge for heavy use of Information, (411), under a plan which would help hold down future telephone rates.

The telephone company estimated only about one of every 20 customers — the heavy users of Information—would be affected by the charge in any given month.

Bell Proposes Charge for Heavy Use of 'Info'

The vast majority of customers seldom or never call Information and would avoid the charge while benefiting from the savings that would result from the plan.

Under the Michigan Bell proposal, there would be no charge for the first three calls a month to Information, with a 20-cent charge for each call above that.

Persons with visual, physical or mental limitations who have difficulties using the telephone directory would be exempt from the charge. Other exempt areas would be calls from coin phones, mobile phones, hospitals, hotels and motels and calls for numbers outside the "home" calling area.

Michigan Bell asked for approval of the plan in an application filed with the Michigan Public Service Commission in Lansing.

Lloyd Haynes, Michigan Bell vice-president, explained the proposed charge was not designed to increase company profits—but simply to redistribute Information costs in such a way that heavy users of the service pay their fair share, and that the moderate or infrequent users pay little or nothing.

Under the telephone company's plan, Mr. Haynes said, savings in operating expenses—along with revenues gained from the charge—would be used to set rates below what they otherwise would be.

He said about $10 million annually would be realized from the proposed charging plan—about $2 million in increased revenues from the charge and the balance in savings from lowered expenses. The plan would make it possible to hold basic residence rates about $4 less per year.

"Information is not a 'free' service," Mr. Haynes said. "The costs of providing it are built into every customer's monthly bill regardless of whether he uses the service a little, a lot or not at all."

As it now stands, he continued, Michigan Bell customers collectively share in the $22 million a year cost of providing Information service that handles 600,000 calls on the average business day. In most cases, the numbers asked for are readily available in customer directories.

By William R. Bryant, Jr.

The legislature has now approved the Governor's requested income tax bill to replace the $200 million in revenue lost by repeal of the sales tax on food and drugs by the electorate last November.

The seven-tenths percent increase will cost an average family of four somewhat less than $100, which is just about an even trade-off with the savings generated by the repeal of sales tax on food and drugs.

It would be great if I could have concluded that the State could and should do without that $200 million, but several factors dictate that was not a rational decision.

First, about 85 percent of the State general fund budget is for social services, health and education.

Second, all State revenues are down because of the recession.

Third, all State costs for employees and other goods and services are up because of inflation.

Fourth, the recession does put special increased demands on the State for increases in services including social services, mental health and education.

Fifth, luckily the State is precluded by our State constitution from incurring deficits and must maintain, therefore, a balanced budget.

Sixth, there is every indication that even with the seven-tenths percent increase in the individual income tax, it will take severe cutbacks in many programs to cause a balanced budget for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1975.

I will be one legislator ready, willing and able to vote to make severe cuts in State services and programs. Whether there will be majorities in either or both houses of the State legislature to force such cuts, however, is a different question.

Not until a majority of citizens of our State are willing to say "Enough!" to expansion of State programs and services, and demand cutting, will it be likely the tax and spend variety of legislator will be beaten or change his way to keep from being beaten.

I abhor, as you do, wasteful practices and spending by any legislator whether by hiring cronies, taking junkies or spending thousands on their office remodeling. But eliminating such waste is only a start, amounting as it does to thousands of dollars out of a $6 billion State budget.

Fiscally conservative legislators need broad support for major cutbacks. Without such support our numbers, whether Republican or Democrat, will continue to dwindle as they have in the past 10 years, beaten by the spenders who promise and vote, time and again, to expand State programs and services and who force the State budget higher and higher.

What Goes On at Your Library
By Arthur M. Woodford
Chief of Central Library

Are you a collector? Many people are. Whether it be stamps, coins, paintings, books or old automobiles, collecting "things" can be a most enjoyable hobby. To-day's column is devoted to some of our new books which illustrate the fact that most everything can be and is collected by someone.

Peter Dance begins his book SHELLS AND SHELL COLLECTING, (Hamlyn), with an account of the way in which the phylum Mollusca is divided and the life of the creatures which inhabit them — the way which the shells are formed, the differences in their manner of feeding and mode of living.

He describes the significant role which shells have played and continue to play in men's lives as currency, as a basis of trade and as religious symbols; the obsessive appeal of rare shells which has led men to risk their lives for their collection; the history of shell collecting and display; and how the beauty of shell texture and form has been a source of inspiration for artists and craftsmen throughout the ages.

With the aid of over 100 illustrations, (30 in full color), Mr. Dance reveals the diversity and fascination of shells and shell collecting.

Did you know that a plan-gonologist is a person who collects dolls? If this is your hobby, we have an excellent book by Kay Desmonde entitled ALL COLOR BOOK OF DOLLS, (Octopus Books).

Since earliest times dolls have been the favorite plaything of all children. Dolls have been made of clay, wood, paper, cloth, wax, porcelain, leather, celluloid and plastic, and they have been clothed in the latest fashions of the day.

Ms. Desmonde tells the whole story of the development of dolls, but concentrates on the period since 1800 in which the doll was given its most elaborate form, as well as receiving the most widespread distribution. Beautifully illustrated this is a book you will enjoy even if you are not a plan-gonologist.

Postcard collecting, the most popular hobby in America and England at the beginning of this century, is enjoying a resurgence of popularity. In PICTURE POSTCARDS, (Dodd, Mead), Marian Klamkin conveys the adventure of this collecting hobby.

Today collectors are taking renewed interest in cards published between 1880 and 1918. To assist the collector Ms. Klamkin has included chapters on the history of cards, their publishers, artists and the themes that inspired them. There also is information on their care, repair and value.

This book is a treasure trove to what the appetite of the collector and to inspire the memories of anyone who has ever received a postcard.

In SCRIMSHAW AND SCRIMSHANDERS, (Fayderman and Co.), Norman Fayderman has produced an excellently written and finely illustrated book about the famed American nautical folk art of scrimshaw. Along with information for the collector, the text describes the development of the art of scrimshaw along with the development of the whaling industry.

It is an accurate and intriguing account of the make-up and personality of the whaler, of his daily activities and duties and how each

Musicians Give Free Concert

The Chamber Music Players of Grosse Pointe will present a free concert Wednesday, April 9, in the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, at 8 p.m.

Program chairman John Gajec reports the concert will feature the music of Paul Hindemith, Franz Joseph Haydn, Franz Danzi, Karl Stamitz and Nevett Bartow.

Among the artists scheduled to appear is violinist David Ireland, a member of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra who studied at the University of Michigan. He has performed locally with many ensemble groups and has been teaching at Schoolcraft College.

Playing saxophone will be Bruce Weinberger, director and performer with the Sigurd Rauscher Saxophone Quartet which is currently touring Europe.

Pianist Foutse Laing, an accompanist and teacher at the Grosse Pointe Conservatory, also will perform. She studied piano at the University of Michigan and the University of Texas. She also has studied in Aspen, Colo., and is presently studying at Oakland University.

Performing on the oboe will be Mr. Gajec, who received his Bachelor and Master's degrees in Music Education from the University of Michigan. He has studied with many oboists, among them John Minsker, of the Philadelphia Orchestra, William Fitch, of the University of Michigan, and Charles Gilbert and Myron Russell, of the University of Iowa.

Mr. Gajec is presently instrumental instructor at the Redford Union Schools and conductor of the Redford Civic Symphony Orchestra. Flutist Frederick Broufford, also a featured performer, has studied with Otto Krueger of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and performed with many organizations around Detroit. He is a graduate of Wayne State University and is currently retired from the Detroit Public Schools.

Playing French horn will be Dr. William Baker, who studied under Ed Clark and Marvin Howe and formerly taught orchestration at Cass Technical High School. He received degrees from Wayne State University, the University of Michigan and the University of Detroit and is a professor of physics at the University of Detroit.

Playing the clarinet will be Lee Noble, composer and first clarinetist with the Redford Civic Symphony and a Wayne State University student of Paul Sheller. Bassoonist will be Nancy Van Inwagen, who studied music at Michigan State University and was graduated in music therapy. She is presently associated with Harper Hospital.

Wednesday's performance will be the last program of the Chamber Music Series. The players will have an annual dinner at the War Memorial on May 2 at 7 p.m.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. James A. Adams,
Superintendent

People frequently ask me the question: "How does Grosse Pointe compare financially to other districts?" This question could provoke a useless, meaningless dialogue or one that is useful and meaningful. Unless the bases and sources of data for comparison are the same, such an exercise could be a waste of time.

For example, when comparing per pupil costs from state to state or suburb to suburb, we have to be sure that the components used to calculate the figures are all comparable. Unless they are, comparisons are an exercise in futility and can be potentially misleading.

Point-to-Point

Therefore, we seek and receive comparative financial data from a number of reliable sources. These include the Wayne County Intermediate School District, the Michigan Department of Education, the Flint Board of Education and the Metropolitan Bureau of School Studies.

In a study of operational costs per pupil for the 1973-74 year, recently concluded by the Wayne County Intermediate School District, Grosse Pointe ranked seventh among the 36 school systems in the tabulation.

What are the Wayne County school systems with a per pupil cost higher than our $1,267?

River Rouge, with an operational cost of $1,655 was in first place, followed by Dearborn, ($1,555), Highland Park, ($1,498), Flat Rock, ($1,424), South Redford, ($1,281), and Ecorse, ($1,272).

Tough to Conclude

Among districts with lower operational per pupil costs than ours are Hamtramck, ($1,211), Dearborn, ($1,188), North, ($1,155), Dearborn Heights, ($1,155), Inkster, ($1,142), and Redford Union, ($1,142).

What is the significance of such data?

It is difficult, if not impossible, to draw valid conclusions on the quality of the various programs from such information as that presented above. For example, some districts with high expenditures might have embarked on a massive instructional improvement program involving the purchase of new textbooks in many areas.

And the figures may reflect funds from State or Federal sources for special programs. Any accurate interpretation is difficult without knowing more about each of the programs in the districts cited above.

Other Data

As I indicated, we also receive useful comparative data from the Michigan Department of Education. Its recently published bulletin ranking Michigan public high school districts by selected financial data shows that in 1973-74 Grosse Pointe received 97 percent of its general fund revenues from local sources.

How does this figure compare with other Wayne County districts? Area districts funded more than 90 percent from local sources are Dearborn, (95 percent), River Rouge, (96 percent), South Redford, (96 percent), Flat Rock, (92 percent), and Woodhaven and Riverview, (both 95 percent).

Among those receiving less than half locally include Detroit, (47 percent), Cherry Hill, (37 percent), Garden City, (37 percent), Huron, (33 percent), and Inkster, (23 percent). All readers realize, I am sure, that such districts as the latter group receive substantial revenues from the State of Michigan or from the Federal Government for general or categorical use.

Flint Study

Another study which we consult regularly is one supplied by the Flint Board of Education. Data in its kindergarten through grade 12 study of districts with more than 10,000 students reveal that during 1973-74 Grosse Pointe employed a total of 50 professional staff members per 1,000 pupils enrolled.

How does this ratio compare to other districts?

The Flint study of 33 districts across Michigan provides the following staffing ratios superior to ours are Ann Arbor, (58.4), Battle Creek, (58.8), Dearborn, (58.8), Farmington, (54.5), Kalamazoo, (63.4), and Muskegon, (60).

Among those below our district in the number of professionals per 1,000 students in 1973-74 are Warren, (45.3), Roseville, (45.1), Lincoln Park, (43.2), Grand Rapids, (48.3), and Bay City, (43.8).

Area Ranking

How does Grosse Pointe rank in the totals in the Flint study?

The data show that our district ranked 13th in professionals per 1,000 pupils, 19th in size of the operating budget, and ninth in expenditure per pupil.

A breakdown of operating budgets shows our categorical costs ranking as follows: Administration, (eighth), Instruction, (fifth), Pupil Transportation, (27th), Operation, (sixth), Maintenance, (14th), Fixed Charges, (fifth), and Capital Outlay, (18th).

Another source of valuable comparative data is the Detroit-based Metropolitan Bureau of School Studies. Data for 1973-74 from 10 selected area school districts, (including Oakland County), which were the leaders in one or more categories in the study, show that Grosse Pointe achieves the highest ranking for local effort to fund its educational program.

Tough to Interpret

The study includes Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Dearborn, Grosse Pointe, Highland Park, Livonia, Oak Park, River Rouge, Southfield and Woodhaven.

Of this group, The Pointe ranks sixth in current expenditure per pupil, fourth in cost per teaching position, and eighth in the number of administrators and professionals per 1,000 students.

Interesting reading? Yes. But sometimes difficult to interpret.

SEMTA Offers Bus to Concert

Aldo Ceccato will conduct the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for its final morning coffee concert on Friday, April 11. As for past Coffee Concerts, SEMTA, (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority), will provide Park and Ride transportation from several suburban locations, including The Woods and The Park, for the event.

Buses will leave Park and Ride lots to arrive for morning coffee at Ford Auditorium before the concert. Patrons who do not have season passes must telephone for a reservation on or before Wednesday, April 9. For reservations, call 962-5515, or toll-free, 1-800-462-5161.

Approximately 800 concertgoers are riding SEMTA buses to the Ford Auditorium event. To insure adequate seating, Patrons are reminded that SEMTA is on an exact fare system and exact change must be given to the coach operator.

Because of continued interest in Park and Ride transportation, SEMTA will offer an expanded transportation program for the next season. SEMTA representatives will be at the Auditorium on April 11 to sell season bus tickets for both series A and B of next year's coffee concerts. Tickets will be offered at a 10 percent discount for advance subscribers.

Park and Ride locations for April 11 are as follows: The Woods Municipal Building, 20025 Mack avenue, with boarding at 9:15 a.m. at a round-trip fare of $2; and The City's Neff Park, Jefferson and Lakeland, with boarding at 9:30 a.m. at a round-trip fare of $2.

GPHA Stresses Fun, Avoids Rough Stuff

By Bruce Anderson

Much of the concern in minor hockey today does not surround the scores of the games and the overall play, but rather the faults of the programs and the amount of violence in the sport.

Headlines such as "Kid Hockey Leagues Are Bad," and "Flyers' Success Has Hockey on the Muzzle," have, in fact, given hockey, at all levels, a bad image.

Not all kid hockey leagues are bad. At least not the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association, (GPHA). Stan Mikita, veteran National Hockey League performer with the Chicago Black Hawks, recently indicated several inadequacies with youth hockey programs in a conference with State Senator Carl Pursell, who's heading the Youth Sports Study Committee.

He feels that kids are taught too much, too young, thus putting undue pressure on them to perform well. This, Mikita says, often comes from the coaches themselves who have been known to rant and rave in the dressing room as if they were in the big time.

In the GPHA, the mini-mites don't actually play hockey. They just skate around with a stick in their hands. The mites, ages 6-8, engage in some competition but most of their time is spent in practice sessions.

There is no room in the association for a coach, who, behind closed dressing room doors, uses abusive language towards his players.

There also is no use for violence in the GPHA, especially in the younger age groups. The age of the participants is an important distinction here. Many hockey experts agree that fist fighting is a part of the game, helping to vent frustrations and reduce instances of stick swinging, which contrary to fighting, can seriously injure.

At a younger age, however, seeing a group of players, not much higher than the boards, engage in battle, makes one wonder what the game is all about.

Jim Finney has been a GPHA pee wee house league coach for five years. He believes that the criticism directed at youth hockey programs is far too broad to be applied to the GPHA. He feels that the type of program is a direct result of the caliber of coaching.

Mr. Finney is quick to emphasize that in the GPHA, "We stress the cleanest type of hockey. If they don't play clean, they don't play. I don't condone violence on either my team or the opposition."

He does tell his players to defend themselves if they have to, indicating that it is the stick work which triggers violence and it is up to the officials to control such tactics. As a coach, he praises the officiating as being very good for that age group.

There are, of course, exceptions to everything and it is the job of Ken Foster, director of the pee wee house league for six years, to supervise the coaches.

He, too, feels that there is no room for dirty play in the league and emphasizes this to his staff. He does point out that violence is abused by certain individuals on occasion, although he witnessed only one major fight in 200 games this season.

Naturally the officials of the association and its coaches are going to present the most positive view of their program. But does this talk continue to hold true in actual competition?

On Monday, March 24, the GPHA Pee Wee All Stars met a Frazier Pee Wee travel team in a post season game at the Community Rink.

The game was fast and well played for 12-year-olds, and featured good, clean hockey with a fair amount of heavy, legal hitting. There was one brief skirmish near the GP goal brought about by a Frazier elbow. The referee let the players fight for a short time and then moved to break it up.

Parents of the GP players were quick to point out that generally the officials let minor fights near the beginning of the game go to cool the players off. Then they stick to hockey the rest of the way. Otherwise, they may just fight again.

On this particular occasion, the game, won by GP, did not count in any league standings. There are those who would favor the elimination of younger age groups of standings and the resulting championships.

This, they feel, would eliminate the pressure on the players allowing them to just go out and have a good time. Most coaches take exception to this, citing the lack of competition leading to a lackadaisical attitude on the part of the players.

All of these views have come from adults who are running the program and teaching hockey to the youngsters for whom the programs are designed. The kids are playing the game supposedly for the enjoyment and learning experience it brings them.

Sam Curcuro, 13, is a member of the GPHA Rockets, and also was a member of the Pee Wee All Stars. Sam, a GPHA participant for three seasons, believes that the association has "good coaches that may criticize the team and yell a little, but the criticism is well taken."

Sam also is quick to indicate that the coaches often give talks against fighting and bench players if they persist. "If a player wants to play hockey, then he can't fight. It's as simple as that," Sam says.

The most interesting point of this young player's views is in regards to his experiences in playing teams from other hockey leagues such as St. Clair Shores and Frazier.

He says that "St. Clair Shores is a dirty league with elbows, high sticks, jabs in the stomach and a lot of pushing around. When we play other GPHA teams, this does not happen as often."

It has been the contention of Toronto attorney William R. McMurry that the National Hockey League causes the violence in hockey at lower levels. He feels that kids see the games on television and try to imitate players such as Dave Schultz, who rely on fighting to stay in the league.

Most players, however, feel that it is the spirit of the moment which leads to a sudden loss of temper and a scrap, not what they see on TV.

Not all hockey-leagues have to be fight-filled. No matter who is playing, there will always, because of the roughness of the game itself, be the odd skirmish.

However, the GPHA is taking every step possible to make sure it does not fall into the general category of "a bad kid hockey league."

Woods Studies Sewer Problem

A petition, containing the signatures of 50 Roslyn road citizens, requesting the extension of a larger sewer into the west half of the block between Goethe and Mack avenue was referred to the Committee of the Whole and the city engineer for further study by The Woods Council.

This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, March 17.

The residents requested such action to relieve drainage problems in the area. "At the time the east half of the said sewer was enlarged, we were informed that this would be adequate, but it has proven not to be so," they said.

Twin objectives—new season ticket sales and subscriber renewals—are held by members of the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra who will be active in the 1975-76 season ticket sale campaign.

At an orientation meeting held at Ford Auditorium last week, area chairmen, team captains and campaign workers heard DSO executive director Marshall W. Turkin describe some of the highlights of the forthcoming season.

Turkin also introduced the Orchestra's new audience development director Leon C. Petrus and special guest Danny Newman, public relations director of Chicago Lyric Opera and audience development consultant for the Ford Foundation.

Also present were Mrs. William Shaw and Mrs. Harry Taylor, president and first vice-president, respectively, of the Women's Association. The campaign organization includes a new sales chairman, Mrs. John T. McMullen, new sales co-chairman, Mrs. Felix Resnick, and a renewals chairman, Mrs. John Deaver.

To Tour Studio, Chapel

Mrs. Thibodeau, recipient of numerous prizes and awards in both the United States and Europe, has presented 11 solo shows and is represented in galleries and private collections across the country.

Virginia Thibodeau is a member of the Alliance Francaise. Her interest in French and the history of the Academy has prompted her to include a visit to the Academy chapel, an exquisite example of French Gothic architecture, as supplement to her studio tour.

Built in 1899 by the French religious order, the Sisters of the Sacred Heart, and refurbished by the Walter Briggs family, The Chapel is a model in miniature of the celebrated Gothic cathedral in Bourges, France.

It features a hand-painted ceiling with carved medallions and squinches and a magnificent parquet floor, all softly illuminated by light filtering through the original stained glass windows.

Memories of its French heritage are found throughout the chapel. A statue of Saint Madeleine Sophie Barat, founder of the order of the Sacred Heart, stands in a small side chapel. The sides of the central altar are carved in the form of a ship on the left, a log cabin on the right, representing the journey and early life of Blessed Philippine Duchene who, in 1812, established l'Ordre du Sacre Coeur in the United States.

A luncheon, specially prepared by the Sisters of the Academy will precede the tour.

Members and guests of the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe may call Mrs. Sillery at 882-1060, for information regarding reservations.

Help Plan Healthorama

Pointers MRS. HENRY KUHLMAN, (left), and MRS. WILLARD SMITH are among volunteers planning the 1975 United Foundation Healthoramas offering more than 20 free health tests at two locations. The women are members of Women for the United Foundation (WUF) which co-sponsors Healthorama along with United Health Organization, a Torch Drive service. The first series of tests, to be held in Detroit at the League-Goodwill Industries building, Brush street at East Grand boulevard, is scheduled for April 10 through 13. The second Healthorama will be presented May 7 through 10 in Ferndale, in the St. James Parish building, Pearson at Woodward avenue, three blocks south of Nine Mile road. Appointments for testing must be made by calling 963-1621.

Two Healthoramas Slated This Spring

Appointments Necessary for Battery of Free Tests Available at League-Goodwill's Brush Street Building April 10 through 13

Tri-county residents again will have an opportunity to benefit from free health tests at the United Foundation Healthoramas. More than 30 Torch Drive agencies participate in these annual events, which have served more than 40,000 people over the past eight years.

For the first time, appointments are being scheduled for this year's Healthoramas. Those wishing to take advantage of the free tests must call 963-1621 between 9 and 5 o'clock. Tests will be given by appointment only.

In the past, Healthorama was run on a "first come, first served" basis.

William F. Harsen, executive vice president of the United Health Organization which sponsors the events in cooperation with Women for the United Foundation, explains: "We think having scheduled appointments will cut down on the waiting time for Healthorama clients. Most people will complete the tests in less than three hours."

The first Healthorama will run in Detroit at the League-Goodwill Industries Building, heart disease, kidney disease, gout, uterine cancer, venereal disease, hearing loss, glaucoma and abnormalities of the mouth and throat. Tests for sickle cell anemia will also be given.

In addition to the tests there will be educational and scientific exhibits focusing on health and social problems.

Included will be information on alcoholism, help and understanding for the aged, information on speech and hearing difficulties and referrals to agencies to help with these and many other problems.

Advice on dieting, food fads and diabetes will also be available.

Four TM Talks Set This Month

Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, founder of the Science of Creative Intelligence (SCI), and Transcendental Meditation (TM), is currently inaugurating the "Age of Enlightenment" on a world tour that began in Delhi, India, Tuesday, March 11, reports The Pointe's TM office.

Maharishi's tour included stops in London, Montreal, where he met with Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, Boston, New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Buenos Aires and the Ivory Coast of Africa, bringing his message to the people of five continents.

"The Age of Enlightenment," say Maharishi, "is an era of prosperity and fulfillment for all men, putting to an end the age-old saying that 'life is a struggle.' Declaration of the new age was preceded by the recent discovery of the one percent theory.

"Studies done in 200 cities in the U.S., Canada, England and Germany indicate that when one percent of the population in that area practice TM the city's crime rate as a whole drops significantly, e.g., by as much as 17-18 percent."

TM is an easy, natural mental technique practiced twice a day for 15-20 minutes sitting comfortably in a chair with eyes closed. The technique provides a state of deep rest to the physiology which forms the basis for more dynamic and creative activity.

Scientific research indicates that during this deep rest, deep-rooted stresses are released allowing the system to function in a more "normal" manner.

Many Pointe mediators attended a lecture in Chicago last week where Maharishi addressed over 4,000 people from throughout the Midwest on the growth and progress of TM around the world.

The goals of the world are rapidly becoming realized as government leaders from many nations are responding with interest to the promise of TM and SCI. For example, Prime Minister Trudeau of Canada, the Shah of Iran and the governments of Senegal, Thailand and Chile have requested programs on TM and SCI.

TM lectures are given at the War Memorial on Thursdays, April 3 and 17, at 1:30 and 8 p.m., and at the Colonial Federal Building, on the Hill, on Thursdays, April 10 and 24, at 8 p.m.

Teachers of TM in the area would be happy to come to speak to your club or group meeting on your request. For further information, call 882-7211.

Driving Ban Can Result From Traffic Warrants

If you have been issued a violation ticket and have failed to make an appearance in your local court, chances are that a warrant has been issued for your arrest.

If you fail to come to court 40 days after the warrant is issued, a notice is sent to the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing.

Your driving privileges are automatically suspended and a letter will be sent to you to that effect.

Going to court after the 40 days have expired to settle the matter does not mean the suspension is lifted, said Park Lt. Gordon Duncan.

When you go to your local violation bureau to settle up, a new court date is set after you post a bond. When you have made a settlement, the matter does not end there, he said.

You are given a receipt after paying the set fine. This receipt must be taken to any Secretary of State branch office where driver's licenses are issued, and you must pay $2 to have the suspension terminated.

The lieutenant said many motorists stopped for traffic violations, who have a valid license on their person, are under the assumption that since they have made amends by going to court and paying the fines, everything is again fine.

This is not so, Lt. Duncan said. Under a State traffic statute enacted by the Michigan Legislature about three years ago, even if the motorist's license is not taken from him, and he has outstanding warrants for his arrest, the Secretary of State

RE-ADOPT CODE

In order to comply with State Law, and to exempt The City from provisions of the State Plumbing Code, the City Council, at a regular meeting on Tuesday, March 18, unanimously re-adopted the Building Officials and Code Administrators' (BOCA), basic plumbing code in the same form as it had been previously adopted in February 1974.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. WILLIAM G. DENOMME, OF LOTHROP ROAD

By Janet Mueller

There are 2,872 seats in Ford Auditorium, and Nancy Denomme wants them all filled Sunday, April 13, when the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra presents an "Evening With Karl Haas and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra."

"We've sold a lot, but we still have a lot to go," says Nancy, general co-chairman and ticket chairman for the Symphony Juniors' major spring fund-raising project.

It isn't her first big job for the Symphony Juniors. She was New Member chairman and sold ads for the Souvenir Program, an annual Juniors' fund-raiser, last year.

Xmas Walk Hostess

This year she was head hostess at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church for the Christmas Walk, another major annual Symphony Juniors' fund-raiser. This was the first year the Juniors added a church, on each side of town, to their Christmas Walk roster of holiday-decorated private houses, and the additions were most successful.

At Memorial Church Nancy had a vocal group from Grosse Pointe South High School and an orchestra from North High to help spread the Christmas spirit.

She sold Souvenir Program ads again this year, too, and was a Hospitality Hostess for Alexis Weissenberg when he came to Detroit to appear with the DSO.

The Symphony Juniors' Hospitality Hostess program, under the aegis of Marianne (Mrs. Charles) Endicott, provides a guardian angel, in the person of a Juniors' member, for each DSO guest artist and conductor. The Hospitality Hostess picks up the artist/conductor at the airport, takes him to his hotel and assists him in any way in making his way in an unfamiliar city.

That assistance may take the form of directing him to the nearest bank or barber-shop, showing him the shortest way from Point A to Point B or recommending a good French restaurant.

Enjoyed Weissenberg

Nancy found her Weissenberg assignment great fun. So did her husband, who is as much a Symphony fan as his wife. The Denommés have had DSO subscription tickets since they were married.

They're both native Pointers, she the daughter of Doug and Edith Smith, of Kenwood court, he the son of Gerald and Dorothy Denomme, of Anita avenue, but they never met when they were growing up, for she went to South High, (TIE High School then), and he to Austin.

"I met him working for him," Nancy explains. Her husband owns Upper Mack and Village Cleaners.

There's a new Denomme now, six-month-old Amanda whose mother needlepointed all the pictures in her nursery. That was when she was pregnant; Nancy doesn't have much time for needlepoint now, what with taking care of Amanda, and volunteer work, and part-time work as a substitute teacher.

"I got my degree, but never taught full-time. I decided that, since I had my certification, I really ought to do something with it."

so I signed up for substitute teaching." (we interviewed her the afternoon of her first day on-the-job, and she was bubbling: "I enjoy it much more now than I ever did when I was student-teaching . . .")

Other Involvements

Besides the Detroit Symphony Juniors, she belongs to the Northeast Guidance Center Assistance League, the Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women and the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Committee.

She's Panhellenic representative for her sorority, Chi Omega.

Besides Amanda, she's "mother" to Tug, a Lhasa Apso, and Oscar, the family parakeet.

She and her husband share a passion for antiques. Canton China is Nancy's weakness. Her husband, a Civil War buff and a hunter, especially likes antique guns. In furniture, their tastes are similar. They decorated their sunny, charming house themselves. They love going to antique shows and finding things, like the shooting stick on the wall of their den, discovered at a Liggett Show.

They love making the things they find their own, finding the perfect place for them in their home.

Wine Connoisseur

Mr. Denomme enjoys wines, savoring them, reading about them . . . some day, when Amanda's older, when everything falls into place, he and Nancy will go to London, will travel through the Wine Country of France and Germany . . .

It's a shared dream. Some day . . .

"But not," says Nancy, coming back to earth, "for a long time."

She fell into the co-chairman/ticket chairman assignment for the Evening with Karl Haas.

Last year the Symphony Juniors sponsored a radio Musical Marathon as their spring fund-raising project. Listeners were invited to call in and "buy" specific selections, which could be dedicated to specific persons.

This year the Juniors were all set to repeat the Musical Marathon, (it had been a successful innovation), but WJR couldn't fit the Marathon into its programming schedule.

Haas to Rescue

For a brief period the Juniors were spring project-less. Then Karl Haas volunteered his time, and the grateful Juniors were back in business.

Mr. Haas, nationally-known musicologist and lecturer, has won a Peabody Award for his program "Adventures in Music." He was born in southwest Germany, studied piano, composition, conducting and art history at the Conservatory of Mannheim and the University of Heidelberg and came to the United States in 1936 to join the faculty of the Netzer School of Piano, pursuing his own studies with Artur Schnabel and at Wayne State University.

He founded and served as president of the Chamber Music Society of Detroit. He was chairman of the Michigan Council for the Arts under four Michigan governors.

He served as United States delegate to congresses of the International Music Council of UNESCO. For several years he was called upon to be consultant to the Ford Foundation in the fields of International Affairs, Mass Communications and Arts and Humanities; shortly after the Berlin Wall was built he conducted the Ford Foundation's elaborate cultural program as resident director in West Berlin.

He has been honored by the French Government, appointed an "Officier d'Academie" in 1956 in recognition of his services in the cause of French culture, and received the First Class Order of Merit of the Federal Republic of Germany in 1964 for services in the cause of cultural relations between the United States and West Germany.

Honors and Degrees

He is one of the few Americans designated a "Chevalier de l'ordre des arts et lettres," an order established in 1957 by Andre Malraux.

He holds six honorary doctorates. As WJR's director of Fine Arts he has been author and host of "Adventures in Music," a series of daily hour-long broadcasts syndicated nationally over 26 stations and heard world-wide over 320 stations of the American Forces Radio and Television Service, since 1959.

With Karl Haas as their featured spring fund-raising project attraction, the Detroit Symphony Juniors were definitely back in business.

Nancy Denomme, originally scheduled to be 1975 Musical Marathon billing chairman, and Judy (Mrs. Verne) Istock became Evening with Karl Haas co-chairmen.

Letters were sent out to all Musical Marathon subscribers, advising them that the Marathon wouldn't take place but the "Evening" would, and wouldn't they like to attend the Evening? "The response," says Nancy, "has been very good."

Teams Sell Tickets

Ticket-selling teams were set up all over town. Mrs. William Cox heads the Symphony Juniors' Evening with Karl Haas East Side ticket corps, assisted by Mrs. Ram Fahim, Mrs. William Ficus, Mrs. Carl Allison, Mrs. Robert Borchak and Mrs. Stanley Redding.

Mr. Haas' program at Ford Auditorium April 13, scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock, is entitled "How to Listen to Music." He will conduct the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in works by Mozart, (Overture to the Marriage of Figaro), Berlioz, (Symphonie Fantastique, a March to the Scaffold), Bernstein, (Overture to Candide), Dvorak, (Carnival Overture), Debussy, (Syrinx flute solo), and Beethoven, (Trio Opus 11 for Piano, Clarinet and Cello), plus a portion of a Woodwind Quintet, (selection to be made), using art and history to explain each selection.

He will also perform the Mozart Sonata four-hand piano piece, with DSO music director Aldo Ceccato.

Tickets are priced at $10 for main floor and loge, $5 for the first six rows of the balcony and $2.50 for the remaining rows.

They've been selling well . . . but there are 2,872 seats in Ford Auditorium.

Rose Society Meets April 9

The Grosse Pointe Rose Society has scheduled its monthly meeting for next Wednesday evening, April 9, in the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval avenue at Fisher road.

Donald Gittersonke, vice-president in charge of programs, has selected two outstanding local rose growers as speakers. They are Harold Lee and Kenneth Wheeler, and the subject of their joint lecture will be "Pruning and Early Care of the Rosebud."

Mr. Lee is past editor of Rose Pointes, the monthly letter of the Grosse Pointe Rose Society, and served as chairman of the Grosse Pointe Rose Show in 1974. He is a native Pointer and grows about 150 hybrid teas, floribundas and miniatures in his Lakeland avenue garden.

Mr. Wheeler, Rose Society past-president, is retiring April 30 as vice-president of City National Bank after spending nearly half a century in Griswold street. He grows about 125 roses in his Lincoln road garden and won "Queen of the Show," (Best Rose of the Show), the first time he entered a rose in competition.

Both Mr. Lee and Mr. Wheeler are American Rose Society Consulting Rosarians. Their talk next Wednesday will cover such areas as pruning, removing winter protection, fertilizing and, of course, watering.

Mrs. Paul Mabarok and Mrs. Louis Parent, refreshment co-chairmen, will be assisted by Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford at the 7:30 o'clock coffee and dessert hour preceding the regular meeting.

The public is cordially invited to attend and advised to use the rear door to gain entrance to the Library.

"Anyone who wants tickets or additional information," she says, "can call me at 882-6730, or write Box 5259, Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan 48236."

Since time is getting short, a call might be more advisable. Don't worry about disturbing Amanda. She's a very good baby. Sleeps like a dream.

Don't worry about getting an annoyed Mr. Denomme. "My husband," says Nancy, "is very understanding and helpful. When I was Hospitality Hostess for Alexis Weissenberg, he was very willing to give up our regular Thursday symphony tickets and go Saturday."

Don't worry about disturbing Nancy. With 2,872 seats to fill in Ford Auditorium, she'd JUST LOVE to be disturbed.

It's something special, especially for members of Ibox Club who have selected the concert as their spring general meeting. Elizabeth's mother is an Ibox member. Her aunt, Mrs. Frank Parcells, is Ibox' current president.

Following the program, members of Ibox and their guests have been invited to meet the performers at an afterglow at the Charles Parcells, Jr.'s home.

Palmer, president, and delegates Miss Marjorie Brooks, Mrs. Erwin R. Williams, Mrs. Anthony S. Korte, Mrs. Gladys R. Rojem, Mrs. George F. Ryckman and Mrs. Maxwell E. Conference and pre-conference activities will include a formal tea and reception for national officers at the Society's national headquarters in Washington, workshops, luncheons, a punch party and formal banquet. A business session and election and installation of new national officers will conclude the 1975 program.
