THE ITALIAN minority coalition government of Premier Aldo Moro fell last night in the midst of a new Communist thrust to gain power in the nation. The 13-month-old government was the 32nd Italian regime to collapse since World War II. Members of the Moro government resigned when the powerful Socialist party withdrew its parliamentary support, saying that the Christian Democrats had ignored their ideas for solving the country's economic problems.

CHOU-EN-LAI, premier of the People's Republic of China since its creation in 1949 and a leading force for moderation and détente with the United States, died of cancer Thursday in Peking, the official Chinese news agency Hsinhua announced. He was 78. The Chinese leadership, in its eulogy, called Chou "the great fighter of the Chinese people" and termed his death a "gigantic loss." President Ford offered his condolences to the government and people of mainland China, declaring that Chou "would long be remembered as a remarkable leader."

A PACKED CHICAGO commuter train crashed into the rear of another train Friday at the height of the morning rush hour, injuring more than half of the 600 persons aboard. No one was killed in the crash between the two electric trains run by the Chicago Transit Authority. Four of the injured had to be cut free from mangled metal with acetylene torches. CTA spokesmen said crash investigators reported that the motorman of the moving train told them the reflection off the snow temporarily blinded him as a pulled into the Addison St. station and he did not see the train until he was 300 feet from it.

A POWERFUL explosion followed by fire demolished a six-story residential hotel in Fremont, Neb., Saturday, killing 11 persons and injuring more than 80 others, authorities said. A dozen persons were listed as missing in the rubble of the Pathfinder Hotel and police said they expected the death toll to rise. The cause of the explosion was not immediately known, but hotel manager Jim Rhodus said he "could smell gas all over the place and all over downtown" an hour before the explosion occurred.

Monday, January 12

ABOUT 5,000 PALESTINIAN guerrillas launched a major attack Sunday to reach suburban refugee camps blockaded by Christian militiamen. A police spokesman said the Christians "are holding fast with covert support" from government armored cars. As fighting raged into the night, spokesmen placed the day's casualty toll at 60 killed and 78 wounded. An attempt by the Army to send a food convoy into the camps failed when it was captured by hundreds of armed men in the Moslem neighborhood of Chiah.

AGATHA CHRISTIE, England's mistress of mystery fiction and creator of the famed Belgian sleuth Hercule Poirot, died Monday. She was 85. Dame Agatha's death at her home 53 miles west of London was announced by her personal physician, Dr. Gordon Mitchell, and her publisher, William Collins. Just months before her death, Dame Agatha let the mustachioed detective, played by Albert Finney in the 1975 movie version of "Murder on the Orient Express," die of natural causes after solving his last case in "Curtain."

Once again in the arms of his hero, this fuzzy-faced, cold-nosed cockapoo is lucky to be alive. One week earlier he was floundering in the icy waters of Lake St. Clair before being rescued by Farms Police Sgt. ARNOLD PARSONS.

Woods Plea For Senior Funds Nixed

Detroit-Wayne County Agency on Aging Had Already Distributed All Available Money

By Roger A. Waha

In a decision rendered by the American Arbitration Association, The Woods lost its case in an effort to obtain funds under a Title III, (Older Americans Act), grant after its application was turned down by the Detroit-Wayne County Area Agency on Aging.

The city, which received arbitrator J. R. Dempsey's ruling Thursday, January 8, had appealed the agency's denial for monies and ultimately participated in the arbitration hearing last November. The funds would have been used to initiate self-supporting programs for senior citizens.

Actually, the decision was no surprise to Woods Administrative Aide Gerard McNamara because all funds received by the agency had already been dispersed.

Not Enough Dollars

In fact, he noted, "The only thing which prevented us from obtaining grant monies was because there were not enough dollars to go around. If the agency had enough money, the city would have received funds. We qualified but the agency didn't have enough money."

GP Park, Police Unhappy About Arbitration Ruling

By James J. Njain

Apparently neither The Park Council nor the Grosse Pointe Park Police Officers Association, (GPPPOA), were entirely pleased with the decision of the State arbitrator in the settlement of wage demands by the Association. Arbitration was necessary when wage negotiations bogged down after a number of meetings between city and police union representatives.

Nevertheless, The Park Council on Monday, January 12, reluctantly adopted a resolution accepting the decision of Dean William Haber of the University of Michigan on a two-year contract beginning July 1, 1975, (retroactive), through June 30, 1977. The council approved the resolution following the rec-

Police Sergeant Parsons Makes Daring Rescue of Pooped Puppy from Lake

Big Audience Watches Brave Officer Work Way Over 100 Yards of Thin Ice to Save

By Tom Greenwood

Farms Police Sgt. Arnold Parsons has a friend. The new friend is a 20-pound, taffy colored cockapoo that Sgt. Parsons rescued from the frigid waters of Lake St. Clair last Tuesday, January 6.

Sgt. Parsons was on patrol early Tuesday afternoon when he monitored a call telling of a young dog floundering in the lake between the Crescent Sail Yacht Club and the Harbor Hill property off Lakeshore road.

The Farms officer stopped at his home and picked up a long handled fishing net and proceeded to the rescue scene. Once there, he joined a crowd of about 100 persons watching the plight of the dog.

100 Yards Off Shore
"I could see the poor fella about 100 yards off shore," said Sgt. Parsons. "At first I thought there was no way I'd reach him, but then I decided if he could fight so hard for his life, I wouldn't let him fight alone."

At this point, the dog had been in the icy waters for about 15 minutes.

Taking off his hat and coat, the police officer started walking and sliding on the ice toward the stricken animal.

"The ice was clear, and I could see the water right through it. I knew it was thin so I kept moving so I wouldn't break through," said Sgt. Parsons.

Woods Okays Trio's Expenses

The expenses of three officials for their participation in the National League of Cities Conference, which was held last November 30-December 4, in Miami Beach, Fla., were unanimously approved by The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, January 5.

Expenses totaled $753.23 for Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, $822 for Councilman John Sahol and $896.52 for Councilman George S. Freeman.

Approval in each instance was granted by majority vote with the official whose expenses were being considered not voting.

GP Jaycees Make Plans For Pageant

Fifth Annual Event Set for April 10 at Parcels School; Entries Being Sought

By Roger A. Waha

Preparations are well under way for the fifth annual Miss Grosse Pointe Scholarship Pageant, sponsored by the Jaycees, with entries currently being sought by the organization. The event will be held Saturday, April 10, at Parcels School, 20600 Mack avenue.

An official preliminary contest of the Miss America Pageant, the event will have as its theme, "Good Old American Music."

"We cordially invite young ladies between the ages of 16-27 to contact Tom Andris, who's in charge of entries, at 885-2272," said George A. Williamson, pageant publicity director. All entries must be received by Tuesday, January 20. Besides the age requirements, all participants must be residents of the community or attend a Pointe school, and they must be single.

Everyone Has Talent
In stressing this is a fun pageant, he stated a group of qualified judges consider evening gown, talent and swim suit competition. Then a final ballot is issued based upon overall considerations with the winner, who will represent the area in the State Pageant next summer, not only being crowned Miss Grosse Pointe for 1976-77 but the recipient of a variety of prizes.

"Young ladies who may feel they aren't qualified shouldn't feel that way," said Mr. Williamson. "Everybody has a talent but may not have the ability to bring it out. In some cases the young ladies develop poise you couldn't buy for a million bucks."

And he added, "Everyone has a good time."

The event will be kicked off by an introductory tea Sunday, February 1, at the Lochmoor Club for all entries, their parents, the Jaycees and the pageant committee. The tea begins at 1 p.m.

Unconscious Man Saved from Fire in Home

A Park Police Officer and Firefighter Revive Victim; Two Firefighters Injured During Search and Rescue

A Park and a City firefighter were injured as an unconscious man was rescued from a house fire on Saturday, January 10. A Park police officer was instrumental in helping to revive the victim who had been overcome by smoke inhalation, reported Park Fire Chief Phillip Costa.

The chief said that a neighbor called in the alarm at 12:45 a.m. when she saw smoke and flames coming from the second floor of the residence of Daniel Cosentino, of 1048 Lakepointe. The fire is believed to have been caused by careless smoking, the chief added.

The City Fire Department automatically responds to a Park fire, and vice versa, and when firefighters and equipment arrived dense smoke was pouring out of the windows, Chief Costa said.

Man Found on Sofa
Park Fireman Michael Smith and City Fireman Alfred "Skip" Finchman had difficulty in locating Mr. Cosentino, who was on a sofa in the living room, because of the density of the smoke.

Mr. Cosentino, 34, was revived by Park Police Sgt. Bobby McAlister, who applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, while City Firefighter Casper Allor applied cardiac massage. Park Officer Rodney Wedding drove The Park fire ambulance to Bon Secours Hospital where doctors took over follow-up treatment of Mr. Cosentino.

Allor became so intent on searching for Mr. Cosentino, that during the search, the breathing air of his oxygen tank was depleted, causing his mask to collapse. He was forced to smash a window for air and suffered a four-inch gash in his right arm from broken glass. At the hospital, stitches were required to close the wound.

Wrenched Shoulder
Park Firefighter Smith suffered a wrenched shoulder when he was first to reach the unconscious man and began pulling him from the smoke-filled area. He was treated at the hospital, also. "I am very pleased with (Continued on Page 6)

Woods Studies Proposal To Increase Water Rates

A proposed water rate increase from the Detroit Metro Water Department was unanimously referred to the Committee of the Whole, (C.W.), for further study by The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, January 5.

The city received information last month of a resolution adopted by the Board of Water Commissioners which increases rates and charges for water service The Woods has a water service agreement with the City of Detroit.

As adopted, the measure calls for existing rates and charges to be increased 39 percent with the proposal applying to all customers and all levels of service, said Charles R. Scales Jr., director, Detroit Metro Water De-

Compromise Terminates Long Debate

One Seventh of Students' Final Grades Will Be Determined by Examination Results

By Susan McDonald

After years of debate between teachers, students and school administrators, the Board of Education resolved the issue of final examination procedures for high school seniors at their regular meeting Monday, January 12.

The new policy, approved by a unanimous vote of the Board, calls for all final exams to be weighted at one-seventh of the final grade in either one year or one semester courses. This means that one-seventh of a student's final grade will be determined by the exam results in each course. Recommendations in the past varied from the students' suggestion of a one-ninth weighting to Superintendent of Schools Dr. James A. Adams' preference of 20 percent. Exam length was also extended to a mandatory 90 minutes.

The changes in exam policy were made, according to Board president Joan Hanpeter, "in order to make the exams more meaningful."

About 25 students, most of them from South High School, and a handful of parents were present at the meeting to voice their opinions. The students, many of whom had participated in the Superintendent's Student Advisory Committee debates on the topic, accepted the Board decision, but were not happy with it.

"It's just a compromise, not what we really wanted, but much better than the 20 percent weight that the administration was proposing," said South High student newspaper staffer, Shelley Deneau.

The opinion of the students was summed-up at the meeting by Rick Muir. "The exams serve absolutely no purpose for seniors," he said. "We've already proved our ability to do the work by that time; the tests are just a formality."

Teachers also provided considerable input into the debates through a sub-committee of the Grosse Pointe Education Association. Primarily they had hoped for a flexible weighting system between one-tenth and one-fifth of the final grade, at the teacher's discretion.

The policy also calls for a new procedure of departmental approval of course

Library Slates U.S. Film Series

The second film in Alistair Cooke's personal history of the United States — Making a Revolution and Inventing a Nation — will be shown at the newly-refurbished South High School Auditorium on Sunday, January 18, at 2 p.m.

The film, about two hours long, depicts the gathering storm of revolutionary fervor from which Mr. Cooke traces our tradition of turning to arms in the face of trouble. Inventing a Nation traces the decade of struggle over the constitution and the following westward surge across the Appalachians.

Mr. Cooke put two years and more than 100,000 miles of travel into the film series, that will continue at the high school each Sunday through February 22. Other films include Gone With the Wind, The Night, Domesticating a Wilderness, Money on the Land, The Huddled Masses, The Promise Fulfilled, and The Promise Broken, the Arsenal, The First Impact and The More Abundant Life.

Admission is free. The series is sponsored by the Public Library along with the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library.

Woods Loses Case in Plea for Seniors' Funds

They were acting within their realm of responsibility in eliminating us."
He felt the agency's board of directors acted promptly in rejecting the city under the aforementioned circumstances, and in their diversion of funds to organizations which had a higher incidence of need.
The total amount requested by 44 agencies applying for Title III funds was 2.4 million dollars. However, the amount of money available for these requests was $791,000.
Had Asked $99,949
The amount requested by the city in its application was $99,949. It was broken down into such categories as home maintenance, home nursing component, homemaker service, the buddy system and information and referral.
But the ruling noted, "In view of the limited funds the agency was not able to meet the request of the city. Moreover, the agency stated the proposed services of the city met the intended guidelines and funding objectives."
It said the city in its application, in the appeals procedure and at the hearing addressed itself to "the image of affluence" that The Woods has.
"No one disputes that the City of Grosse Pointe Woods is an affluent community. The city maintained that this image was at least partially responsible for the agency misunderstanding and misapplying its own criteria for selection among the many applications for funds," says the ruling.
The evidence offered for this was the minutes of the meeting of the agency last July. "In the minutes it appeared that other organizations had received money because they had a 'track record' (i.e., they had received money in a previous year).

"Moreover, there was evidence that funds were transferred from objective number two, (housing-related social services), to objective number one, (health, counseling and preventative services), because there were no proposals for objective number two.
"The city argued that the absence of a 'track record' was quite irrelevant. No guideline made by the agency required one. In addition

Parade Plan Hazy

He estimated the cost of the parade at between $2,800-$3,000 with the monies to be paid from the general fund if the event becomes a reality. Cost considerations include necessary manpower from the Public Safety Department and Department of Public Works, plus the purchase and rental of appropriate signs and barricades.
"We, (the city), can do anything the council is willing to authorize monies for," he indicated.
Besides cost factors and WCRC approval, yet another point must be considered, noted Mr. Petersen. This is the time limit involved regarding obtaining specific commitments for participation in the parade. This particular factor also is important in the planning process.
During the meeting January 5, concern was expressed over the earlier proposal from the commission requesting the council to approve a resolution, which would be forwarded to the county, asking for the partial closure of Mack avenue. It was suggested at that time the east side of Mack, between Cook and Vernier roads, be closed from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. for the parade.
However, Public Safety Director Henry Marchand cited several problems on this. He said the department has neither the manpower or the resources necessary to comply with the county's requirements for a permit authorizing the closure of a county road.
At the same time, the director noted the city must assume liability for any damage claims as a result of any closure of Mack avenue. He also said the cost involved to comply with the conditions exams, aimed at improving the quality and insuring their compliance with course objectives.

Under the new procedure each exam must be submitted to the departmental chairman, the high school administration and the department of instruction for approval before it is administered to the students.
The policy also provides for a final school day, after the exams are given, in which students and parents may discuss the result with teachers. A new form will also be made available to students who wish to register a complaint about their exam to be reviewed by the administration.
In providing a revised schedule allowing for the 90-minute exam periods, the Board approved a plan for the week of June 2 with underclassmen in attendance only from 1-3 p.m. The senior finals will be administered from 8:15-11:25 a.m.

"seed" money does not necessarily preclude a program from receiving funds a second year and thus developing a 'track record.'
"Thirdly, the objective number two... guideline was not such that Grosse Pointe Woods' proposals for lawn maintenance, snow removal and sewer cleaning were sufficient to qualify."
The ruling pointed out the general approach of the agency was that it did understand its guidelines for identifying problems to be met under Title III.
Agrees with City
In fact, it agreed with the city that if $2.4 million was requested and $2.4 million was funded, The Woods' request would be accepted.
"However, the agency had the unpleasant task of choosing to help some and refusing others, thus it felt that areas with a higher density of problems for senior citizens, minorities and low income people should be favored. This was the intent of the legislation passed by Congress and mandated to be implemented by the agency."
For his part, Mr. McNamara appreciated the big task which the board of directors faced. He felt this group of senior citizens, who work "hard and conscientiously" for no pay, deserves praise.
"They had an important job to do and they did it to the best of their ability."
He added he would even like to see a Woods citizen on the board, the members of whom are appointed by the County Board of Commissioners.

Hospital Given Heart Computer

Bon Secours Hospital has purchased an advanced system of monitoring equipment for cardiac and intensive care patients, the first of its kind in use in this area.
The sophisticated equipment was purchased as a result of a gift from the Holden Foundation.
The equipment includes a computer which offers an instant read-out of a patient's heart pattern for the previous eight hour period. This print-out is then used in planning a specific course of treatment for the patient.
Consoles, which print out a digital reading for six patients' heart patterns simultaneously, complete the system.
One bed is equipped for continuous monitoring of the patient's respiration, temperature and essential blood pressures. This is often used for patients in shock.
"The new equipment has extended our ability to anticipate problems and take preventive measures," said Sheila LeSueur, R.N. critical care coordinator, who supervises both units. "The nurses can react to the slightest change in heart rate in the least amount of time when they can observe all the patients simultaneously."

Woods Seniors in Process Of Picking College Courses

By Roger A. Waha
It will probably not be until later this month before a final tally is obtained regarding the selection of free special college courses on the part of Woods senior citizens.

The opportunity to get such courses for seniors of all the Pointes was sparked last month at a meeting between representatives of The Woods, its Senior Citizens Commission, the Grosse Pointe Board of Education and Wayne County Community College, (WCCC).

An estimated 100 questionnaires were distributed to members of the Senior Citizens of Grosse Pointe Woods at their Thursday, January 8, meeting at North High School, Frank Komerska, chairman of the project, reported.

However, the turnout was below par apparently due to the chilly weather, and more time is needed for everyone to complete the questionnaire. "I expect all of the questionnaires to be back by the next meeting, (Thursday, January 22, in North's cafeteria from 3:30-7:30 p.m.)," stated Mr. Komerska. At this point, he estimated around 75 percent of the forms have been returned.

The questionnaire asked seniors to select courses which would be of interest to them. It included such classes as beginners golf, bowling, creative writing, beginners art, legal affairs in later years, physical fitness after 50, estate planning, plus an open spot where seniors could fill in any course they wish.

After an "off hand glance" at the questionnaires submitted, he said physical fitness after 50, legal affairs and estate planning appear the most popular, while language classes were supplied in the open selection.

Mr. Komerska said the next step is to compile a list of courses which at least 15 or more citizens are interested in taking, (as the class size minimum is 15). Then, the seniors will contact WCCC and find out about instructors.

After specific courses and instructors are lined up, a formal request will be made to the Board of Education for necessary class space, he added.

Initial groundwork was laid at the session in December when Mr. Komerska, Senior Citizens Commission chairman Irene Sutton, Woods Administrative Aide Gerard McNamara, WCCC representative Laura Hardy and assistant to The Pointe's superintendent of schools, Dr. George T. Eddington, explored the plan which Mr. McNamara said was part of WCCC's program of "shelter courses," classes designed for special interest groups.

Mr. McNamara previously stated that WCCC could provide a salary for the instructor and would try to acquire class space. If such space was free of charge that would be fine, but if rent was necessary, he indicated the college would pay for it.

Any Pointe senior who's interested in learning more about such courses, or who's interested in obtaining a questionnaire, should call Mr. Komerska at 881-1543.

Board Accepts 5 Retirements

The new year has brought the retirement of five Grosse Pointe Public School employees whose impending departures were announced at the Board of Education's Monday, January 12 meeting. Kenneth Gittins, a fifth grade teacher at Trombly, will retire in June after 35 years with Grosse Pointe, preceded by a number of years teaching in Iowa. His long service at Mason, Maire and Kerby schools was interrupted only by two and a half years of military duty during World War II.

Social studies department chairman at North High School, John Corbin, will also retire in June. He has been with The Pointe for 20 years and has served as department chairman since 1965.

Also retiring in June after over 20 years of service will be Phyllis Barr, secretary to the director of public libraries. She was appointed to that position in 1966.

Evelyn Priory, a general office worker at North High, will also retire in June. She joined the school system in 1961.

Also retiring from general office work this June will be Rosemary Linde, who was first employed with the system in 1966 at South High.

Joseph Fets, of Kerby Road, a director of Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe, will show travel and floral slides of Iran, India, Zaire, (formerly Belgian Congo), and the Keukenhof Gardens in Holland when the club holds its regular meeting, Thursday, January 15, at 8 p.m., in the Central Library, 10 Kercheval Avenue.

For the past 16 years, Mr. Fets has worked in the photographic department of General Motors Corp., his present specialty being portraits.

His slides of Esfahan and Persopolis in Iran, as well as those of India, show the use of flower and garden patterns in architecture and decoration of buildings many centuries ago.

All male gardeners in the area are invited to attend.

Police Unhappy About Arbitration Ruling

The entire arbitration discussion was conducted in a very professional manner by all concerned.

Officer Hiller, who also headed the panel discussions for his union, said the members of the Association are disappointed with the settlement. At the present time, he and his team colleagues will discuss what further alternatives can be followed after meeting with Mr. Watterstone, and will comment later.

Mr. Sloan told the council that although he is not happy with the decision, it is his recommendation that it be accepted and a resolution to that effect be adopted. He said that Dean Haber's decision will mean a 10 percent increase in the police wage scale, and will mean that the current budget will have to be adjusted to meet this increase because the current fiscal budget does not provide for the hike.

He said that the base pay alone will amount to $1,200 more a year. A $125 longevity hike, depending on how long an officer has been on the force, and other improvements, will raise the total to more than $1,400 a year for each man, and this is without a "pension roll up." By a "pension roll up," he said, it is meant that more will have to be contributed to the pension fund by the city and the officers.

Mr. Sloan told the solons that the arbitration award is not out of line with awards granted to other communities, and that Dean Haber's decision was the best solution. There will be some hardship on the city in the reshuffling of the 1975-76 budget, he added.

Councilman Douglas Graham requested that the records show that the council was dissatisfied with the high level of the award granted by the dean.

The following is a tabulation of the award as decided by Dean Haber:

The city offered $15,500 for the first year, the Association won $15,700; double time for holidays, agreed by both sides; the Association wanted $200 shift differential from $125; the city made no offer, ruled in favor of The Park.

The city offered a longevity increase from a maximum of $300 to $450; the union wanted an increase of $25 a man in addition to present schedule with a maximum of 30 years or $800, won by the union; the union requested a one-cent per hour for each 4/10th of a cent increase in the cost of living in the Detroit area, which was rejected by the city. The Park won this one.

During the second year of the contract, the city offered a salary of $16,600, the union demanded $16,800, and got it. A request for a pension improvement from 1.7 percent to 2.0 and a dental rider, requested by the Association, was rejected by The Park. Dean Haber decided in favor of the city.

Both The Park and the Association panelists agreed to a $100 to 50 deductible for John Hancock Major Medical.

Mr. Sloan said that if Dean Haber had ruled in favor of the union's demand regarding the cost of living and pension hikes, it would have cost the city another $1,000 a year for each man. The demands of the Grosse Pointe Park Firefighters Association, (GPPFA), for wage increase and benefits are still in the process of arbitration.

is Sunday School OUT-OF-DATE?

It's never out-of-date to understand God, and man, and the true nature of the universe

This understanding is what young people up to the age of 20 gain in our Sunday School.

They're taught a warm and practical Christianity, and how to apply it to everyday problems.

And as they study the Bible, together with Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, they're preparing to help solve the world's problems in the most forward-looking, fresh, and effective way.

Wouldn't you like your children to visit soon?

Sergeant Saves Dog

picked him up and carried him to shore, holding the dog close to provide it with body warmth.

"The poor animal sort of melted in my arms," he said. "It wasn't hard for him to melt, since some parts of his body were covered with ice an inch thick."

Praised by Witnesses
Once on shore, Sgt. Parsons was surrounded by a relieved crowd who congratulated him on his daring deed.

The exhausted animal was wrapped in a blanket by Philip Leon, one of the anxious onlookers, and then taken to Mr. Leon's home, located across the street from the lakeside drama.

Sgt. Parsons put on his hat and coat and tried to warm up. After seeing the animal to the Leon home, Sgt. Parsons went home and took a long hot bath.

"I later started shaking so bad I couldn't hold a cup of coffee," smiled Sgt. Parsons. "Either it was from the cold or I finally realized how close I came to going in the lake."

Wasn't Even Thanked
Actually, Sgt. Parsons is an old hand at saving dogs in distress. He did the same thing to a collie off the area of the Pier Park 20 years ago. "The only thing I got out of that was pleurisy," said the sergeant. "The owners didn't even thank me." After a trip to the veterinarian, the still unnamed, unclaimed cockpoo was declared to be in pretty good shape. The prescription called for lots of tender loving care.

For at least one taffy colored, unnamed cockpoo, that prescription began when he ended up in Sgt. Parsons' arms.

Pageant

road, with elimination night, (cutting the entry number to 10 finalists), planned for February 20.

Mr. Williamson said the pageant will feature "Uncle Sam's Theme" as the opening number, while noting "We hope to have a four-star review featuring Marsha Bogdanski Bossack, (Miss GP for 1972-73), Karen Garrett, (Miss GP for 1973-74), Kathleen Ann Lewis, (Miss GP for 1974-75), and Marsha Sweeney, (Miss GP for 1975-76), performing 'Won't You Come Home Bill Bailey.'"

Once again, Morrie Carlson of WWJ radio will be master of ceremonies, while the South High School Stage Band under the direction of Russell Reed will provide the music.

$5,000 Budget
The pageant is budgeted at between $4,800-$5,200, said Mr. Williamson. A major source towards offsetting costs are the advertisements placed in the program book by businesses. Those who are interested in taking out ads should call either Jack McHugh at 882-9027 or Mr. Williamson at 882-5449 for further information.

Tickets for the event, of which Carter Billiu is chairman, Clark Hinkley, director, and Ann Billiu, auxiliary chairman, are scheduled to go on sale the first week in March with prices to be announced later.

A pageant entry form is in this week's edition of the NEWS.

THE PARK PHARMACY

Fats are composed of the same elements as carbohydrates — carbon, hydrogen, and oxygen, but their composition is much more complex. Carbohydrates are usually derived from plants, but fats are the primary storage material of animals, and thus are obtained from animal products. Certain fats are synthesized slowly or not at all in our bodies, and that is why it is recommended that individuals obtain some of their fats from plant products which contain fats — fats are essential substances. Whole wheat, soybeans, peanut oil and olive oil are among the good plant sources of fat.

Let professional pharmacists at THE PARK PHARMACY, 15321 E. Jefferson, Grosse Pointe Park, take care of all your prescription needs. We offer prompt, personalized prescription service including a complete "patient profile" record system. Our records are available to you at income tax time to help you obtain proper tax credit. We also offer free prescription delivery. Call us at 822-2580. In a world-wide way, today, the wine industry is more than ever trying to meet the demands of a wine drinking public — and as a public, we are becoming more and more discerning. Each wine area has its own distinctive wine-making process, which gives its wine identifying characteristics. It is fun, and a heightening of culture to learn something about wines, and to feel comfortably aware of the traditions from which most fine wine has sprung. How to learn? It is easy. Start in some small way, and learn to taste each wine by itself for itself.

You'll find a full complement of wines from around the world at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626. Come in and browse; we'll be happy to answer all your questions about wine, and to discuss the proper selection, preparation and serving of wine with you. Hours: 10-10 Mon. MAGNIFICENT POSSESSION

The choice of a piano by a distinguished musician is a professional judgement and commitment, not a commercial endorsement. The reputation, the tonal quality, and the dependability of the instrument chosen are the criteria that few pianos can meet. Baldwin pianos for over 112 years have been designed and built to the highest artistic standards. The names listed here attest to that fact.

Cancer Society Seeking Office

The American Cancer Society of Grosse Pointe is looking for an office and some workers towards having a more vital force on the eastside.

The Pointe branch has been working over a year under the Wayne County Unit with Suzanne Deacon as chairperson, Beverly Kennedy, service chairperson, is looking for a small office in this area to give local residents a chance to center their efforts in the place where they live.

"People don't like to drive to Detroit and many would like to be able to spend short volunteer times near their homes," said Mrs. Kennedy.

"We'd like to find more volunteers—people who would be willing to spend even an hour a week on close to home projects."

She said more volunteers are needed for the American Cancer Society's service and education projects, "and of course, for the fund raising that supports the other two."

"Training is provided," she added, "in the assorted projects that include making dressings, giving transportation and serving in the office to man the phones for referrals."

The organization would like to continue a "Living with Cancer" program, a self help group. One meeting was held last March and was very well received.

In October, they were instrumental in acquiring the services of Conrad Bernys, M.D., and Jane Frame, R.N., for a lecture and film on Breast Disease and Treatment at the War Memorial.

In November, Ms. Frame held a discussion and gave instruction on breast self-examination for seventh and eighth grade girls at Parcels Middle School.

The film "Huffless-Puffless Dragon" and pamphlets were distributed at Maire School in December.

Ronna York, public education chairperson, is planning a teach-in on Breast Self Examination at Eastland Center Auditorium in April. Dr. Bernys, a surgeon at Harper Hospital, will administer the program.

Anyone in the area, who would like to volunteer some time or has room in their place of business large enough for a desk and file cabinet, should contact Mrs. Kennedy at 884-2265.

John F. DeBusscher of Pate, Hirn and Bogue, Inc., city engineers, recently reported in order to permit Four Star Construction Co. to complete the installation of the sewer at this time, a change in the sewer alignment will be necessary. This, he noted, was caused by the location of the dirt stock piled from the pool construction.

As a result, a manhole will have to be moved around 64 feet in the direction of another manhole in order to clear the dirt pile to reach a specific catch basin. To reach another catch basin, the easterly edge of the configuration of the dirt pile will have to be changed, he said.

The approximate total increase to the contract, which was originally placed at $96,559.24, is around $1,114.16.

Laud Programs Launched Here

The Michigan Department of Education has given special recognition to nine Grosse Pointe public school programs in the current issue of their Demonstration Center publication, "Locally Identified Promising Educational Practices 1975."

The Demonstration Center acts as a clearing house to help identify and disseminate new educational practices throughout the state. Their publications are geared to stimulate the development of alternative educational systems and to give recognition to their successful administration.

The programs recognized in the publication include: Project TALENT, a series of enrichment studies geared to students' special interests; Advancement in Spelling Skill through Individualized Study and Teaching (AS-SIST), which individualizes the teaching of spelling through the use of tape players and headphones; Systematic Instruction in Mathematics, involving a detailed monitoring of students' math achievement levels through computers; the Career Exploration and Guidance programs at the middle and high school levels, and the Vocational and Academic Skills Training Program (VAST), for disadvantaged or handicapped students.

Also receiving special recognition by the Michigan Education Department was the Youth Service Division, the School Volunteer Program and the schools' Community Educational Assessment procedure.

Woods Studies New Gate House

A Citizens Recreation Commission recommendation that The Woods Council consider budgeting funds for the installation of a proposed prefabricated gate house at the Lake Front Park was unanimously referred to the Committee of the Whole, (C-W), by the solons at the regular meeting Monday, January 5.

The commission at its meeting last month discussed the advantages and the need to build a gate house located on the island near the exit gate.

It was felt the present facility was poorly located since the exit gate was moving in that park personnel worked out of the gatehouse could not adequately guard against illegal entry.

So the commission moved that the council consider erecting a new gate house on

To Give Class In Calligraphy

Church to Host Guest Minister

Dr. Mufed (Ibrahim Said) will have a dual role, as both lay minister and observant surgeon, upon his scheduled arrival Thursday, January 22, to become the sixth ecumenical minister to Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Although ecumenical ministers have come to The Pointe from Scotland, Puerto Rico and Sweden, Dr. Said will be the first to come from the Middle East.

Dr. Said, from Cairo, Egypt, and his wife, Laila, a native Palestinian, will make their home here for about five weeks. Their special ministry is sponsored as a memorial to the late Helen, (Mrs. Howard F.), Smith.

Dr. Said is visiting the United States for the first time. He has been a lay minister at a Presbyterian Church in Cairo since he was 19-years-old. He also was graduated from Cairo University Medical College in 1954 and is now a professor of general surgery there, a consultant in surgery to the American Embassy and has his own practice.

Mrs. Said is a teacher of English at the American University in Cairo.

Dr. Said's special ministry in The Pointe will include preaching at the church, teaching a Sunday mid-hour Bible class, speaking to the Women's and Men's Associations, Singles, the Tuxis teen-age group and sharing the traditions and cultures of the Middle East with Americans.

Dr. Said's second role will be as a surgeon, observing advances in the medical world here.

In correspondence with Dr. Ray H. Kiely, pastor of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Dr. Said wrote that "should the way open, I shall be very willing to talk with doctors on some of the diseases prevalent here in the Middle East as well as on topics related to my major field of interest, namely general surgery."

Candles Start Bedroom Fire

A number of home-made Christmas candles, left burning and forgotten, were blamed for a two-alarm fire that completely destroyed a bedroom in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Thompson Wells, of 765 Balfour road, on Wednesday, January 7, it was disclosed by Park Fire Chief Phillip Costa.

Water damage throughout the house was minimal, but smoke damage was extremely extensive.

The chief said that when the alarm was called in, The City automatically responded, and when the firefighters arrived at the house, flames were seen coming out of a bedroom window.

The fire originated in the bedroom of a 15-year-old son of the Wellses who had made the candles, Chief Costa said. The boy was sent on an errand by one of his parents, but did not extinguish the candles before he left, and while out of the building, apparently had forgotten all about them.

The most fortunate thing about this disaster, the chief said, was the fact that the boy automatically closed his bedroom door on leaving. This contained the fire and prevented it from spreading through the rest of the house, which would have been more tragic, the chief added.

He said that at least one of the candles was on a wicker table or chair. The candle either burned itself down, or toppled onto the piece of furniture which had a heavy coat of varnish, making it highly flammable. The flames from the burning furniture spread to the rest of the room, and were not discovered until Mrs. Wells smelled and saw the smoke coming from her son's bedroom. She called in the alarm.

Chief Costa said that the firefighters had the blaze under control in about 15 minutes and extinguished a short time after, but not before the room and its entire contents were destroyed.

Two doors, one leading to another bedroom and a second to the hallway, undoubtedly prevented the fire from spreading. The doors were charred "paper thin," the chief said, but they held back the flames.

"It is a very good idea," the chief said, "that if anyone suspects a fire in any part of their building, to shut the doors. This maintains a natural barrier so that flames cannot get out, or thereby delays its spreading."

He said firefighters remained at the scene to make sure the flames were completely out and that there was no danger of it re-igniting.

the results of the coordinated action of all the men at the scene of the fire," said Chief Costa. "I am particularly pleased that the unconscious man was able to be revived."

"It is easy to replace a building, but not a life. I extend my sincerest compliments to all the men, both police and fire personnel, in the rescue and reviving of Mr. Cosentino. My thanks to The City Fire Department and to our own people for a job well done."

The chief said that there was considerable fire and smoke damage to the upper floor of the two-family flat. The extent of this damage will have to be determined by insurance investigators.

urban communities.

While this matter is currently in limbo, he said if the proposal remains unchanged, the city has to pay for the water and will have to set up a new rate structure for its residents and amend its ordinance.

At this time, the proposal will be studied at the C-W level and will be thoroughly analyzed, added Mr. Hornfisher.

Detroit water officials indicated a big reason for the proposed rate of inflation which has occurred since the last adjustment, (November 1972), which "has far outdistanced the provisions for growth and inflation."

PLAY IT AGAIN!

IT'S ONLY AN ANIMAL

Dying in a steel-jaw, leghold trap. An animal that feels pain much like we do. Imagine having your fingers crushed in a car door. Nobody opens the door for 24 hours. That's what happens in a steel-jaw trap. Less than half the states have laws requiring trappers to even check traps every 24 hours. No one has cared much. It's only an animal.

Every winter millions of fox, lynx, raccoons, minks, otters, muskrats, beavers, badgers, bobcats, skunks, and other animals suffer in these primitive traps. Why? Because humans think fur coats are "glamorous and chic." There is nothing glamorous about being clamped in a trap for hours or even days, exposed to the weather, without food or water, in pain and fear, waiting for the trapper and death. Some even chew or wring off their toes or paws to escape. But then, they're only animals.

This trap hasn't changed much since the days early fur traders and mountain men used it to nearly wipe out the beaver in this country. That was well over 100 years ago. Today trapping is a sport... a hobby... a recreation. Few people trap for survival. The reasons have changed but the trap has not. The pain and suffering it has inflicted on wild animals over the years is impossible to comprehend. Still, little has been done about more humane traps. Again, the victims are only animals.

It is time to change, time to stop making excuses for this needless suffering. It is time to outlaw the steel-jaw trap.

It is the only decent thing to do—for the animals. Please help.

The only service charge we make is for securing railroad tickets not issued in conjunction with other travel arrangements.

The combined experience of our well-travelled staff covers every spot in the world in which you might be interested. Family Plays Big Role in GP Theater's Show

The James Fielding family, of Three Mile drive, will bring a ray of sunshine to your family if you attend any of the performances of the current Grosse Pointe Theater production of "The Sunshine Boys," at the War Memorial.

It's all in the family for the Fieldings because father Jim has one of the leads in the Neil Simon comedy. As the irascible Willie Clark, Jim plays opposite another performer, Al Berteel, of Warner road, who is Clark's vaudeville partner, Al Lewis.

While Jim is onstage with the quick one-liners, his wife, Nancy, is scurrying around backstage as prop mistress, making sure that the guys have everything they need on stage. Assisting Nancy on her crew is one of their nine children, Philip.

Jim and Nancy's eldest daughter, Shelley Murphy, of Lakepointe road, is assistant producer. Their son Chris works on the stage crew moving scenery while son, Sean, works on the lighting crew. Equally important at home are the two youngest children, Meghan and John, who take turns reading lines with their father and rehearsing with him for hours.

"The Sunshine Boys," the third show of Grosse Pointe Theater's season, is directed by Mary Lou Mantho, of Edgemont park.

Appearing in the cast are Thea Gillooly, of Whittier road, who portrays a vaudeville nurse, Donna DiSante, of Rolandale road, Harper Woods, who plays a tough registered nurse, Jon Lechner, of Devonshire road, who portrays a patient in the vaudeville sketch, and George Zientowski, of Nottingham road, who plays the harried TV producer, Frank Prainito, of St. Clair Shores, plays the nephew, Ben Silverman.

The stage version of the current movie with George Burns and Walter Matthau is based on the old vaudeville team of Smith and Dale. It views the problems of reuniting them for one final appearance on a TV comedy special after they avoid speaking to each other for 12 years.

The show runs for 10 performances at the Fries Auditorium beginning on Wednesday, January 21, and continuing through Saturday, January 31.

Tickets, which are on a reserved basis only, are available by calling 881-4004. The cost is $3.75. Performances are at 8:30 p.m. each evening, except Sunday, January 25, and that performance is at 7:30 p.m.

To make the evening complete, the War Memorial offers a candlelight buffet preceding the performance each night except Sunday. Dinner is served at 6:30 p.m. by reservation only. For more information, call 881-7511.

Woods Grants Variance Plea

Sitting as a Board of Appeals, the Woods Council unanimously granted a request for a deviation and variance in rear yard requirements to permit the construction of a residence at 770 South Oxford road. This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, January 5.

The request, which was from Crawford, Elter and Bruce, Inc., residential builders, was for a variance of the rear yard setback.

A rear yard of 31 feet, 6 inches from the extreme rear wall of the residence, (which includes attached garages), to the rear lot line was indicated in the proposed plot plan. However, a minimum of 35 feet for a rear yard is required by Zoning Ordinance No. 88.

Three persons spoke in favor of the variance, including the property owner, the builder and a nearby resident. One citizen originally voiced an objection to the proposal, but after seeing the plans, he withdrew his objection.

This victory puts South 4-2 for the season. Their next game will be at East Detroit Friday, January 16. Tip-off time is 4 p.m.

SEMTA Offers Free Bus Rides

The Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority, (SEMTA), will celebrate the Bicentennial and save many bus riders money at the same time with a free Bicentennial bus ride program.

Beginning tomorrow, January 16, SEMTA will commemorate the birthdates of significant people or the dates of significant events of the revolutionary period by naming certain buses in honor of those persons or events by offering customers free rides on those buses.

There will be at least one "free" bus on each of SEMTA's major routes on one day during each month of the Bicentennial campaign. Those routes include Woodward, Gratiot, Michigan, Fort and both East and West Jefferson.

Regardless of the actual date of the event being celebrated, free bus rides will be given only on weekdays in order to allow as many SEMTA customers as possible to benefit.

For example, Benjamin Franklin's birthdate, January 17, will be the SEMTA Bicentennial Day for that month. However, January 17 falls on a Saturday this year, so the "free" SEMTA buses will be operating on January 16.

There will be large signs on both the front and sides of the "free" buses, so customers should have no trouble spotting them.

APPLICATION MIXED

The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, January 5, unanimously received and placed on file, (without further action), an application for a vendor's license to pick up newspapers at the curb from Louis J. Borg, Laver, Cox to Play in Olsonite Net Classic

Three of the world's great tennis stars, including the young Swedish sensation, 19-year-old Bjorn Borg, will compete for $11,500 in prize money in the first Olsonite International Invitational Tennis Classic at Detroit's Olympia Stadium Friday, January 23.

Borg, ranked number one in Sweden and number five in the world, will swing his racket in round-robin singles matches against 37-year-old Rod Laver, still ranked number one in his native Australia and considered by many observers to be the greatest tennis player of all time, and Mark Cox, ranked number one in Great Britain and number one in World Team Tennis.

Detroit will be the first stop on what is expected to be a traveling competition, featuring similar round-robin matches in other cities, a new concept for major league tennis.

The Detroit event also marks the return to sports by industrialist and sportsman Oscar L. (Ozzie) Olson of The Pointe following seven highly successful years as owner of USAC national championship race cars.

During his seven years in auto racing, he was USAC's most successful car owner, with his Olsonite Eagles winning more races and more pole positions, leading more races and more laps and establishing more world speed marks and track records than any other car on the circuit.

Olson withdrew from racing at the end of the 1974 season immediately after winning the USAC National Championship. Ironically, the same car, under a different sponsorship, won the Indianapolis 500 last May with Olson's former driver, Bobby Unser, at the wheel. Unser had finished a close second at Indianapolis for Olson the year before.

Olson's interest in tennis stems mainly from his son, Chris, a recent honor graduate from the University of Michigan, where he lettered in tennis. Since graduation, Chris had been a tennis pro at the La Costa resort in California, working directly with Pancho Segura, Jimmy Connors' instructor.

Explaining the decision to have his company, Olsonite Corp., sponsor the international tennis classic, Olson said, "We haven't lost interest in auto racing. It's just that since the demise of the Detroit Loves, the tens of thousands of tennis fans in the Detroit area rarely get a chance to watch the game's finest men players in action, and here was an opportunity for our company to help correct that situation."

In the round-robin competition at Olympia, Laver, Cox and Borg each will play the other six four-point games. The two players winning the greatest number of games will meet in the final match, where the winner of two of three pro sets will be awarded first place money of $6,500. Second place is good for $3,000, while third is worth $2,000.

The international classic will mark Borg's first appearance in Detroit. Considered the game's brightest young star, Borg won top ranking and the Swedish Open in 1973 at age 17.

In 1974, he captured both the Italian and French Open Championships, and led Sweden's Davis Cup team to a recent victory over a tough Czechoslovakia team.

Laver is the only player in tennis history to complete the Grand Slam twice, winning titles in the four major championships of the world—Australia, France, England, (Wimbledon), and the United States, (Forest Hills), in the same year. At 37, the red-headed lefthander is still winning tournaments, and remains one of the most feared competitors on the courts.

Cox, least known of the three stars, is nevertheless a major competitor in world tennis. In 1968, at Bournemouth, he became England's most celebrated star when he upset Pancho Gonzales, the first time ever that an amateur player had defeated a tennis pro in open competition. Now, at 31, Cox maintains his number one ranking in Great Britain.

After graduating from Cambridge University, Cox won the Eastbourne and Irish Open championships, both major European titles, and also captured the Rothman International Trophy.

Olympia officials said the matches would start at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, January 23, with ticket prices pegged from $4 to $6 for regular seats. Special VIP tickets also are available at $15 each, entitling holders to attend a cocktail party with the three tennis stars following the matches.

A limited number of court-side patron tickets will be sold at $50 each, which includes dinner prior to the matches and the cocktail party with the players afterwards.

Tickets are now on sale at Olympia, all Grinnell's stores and the Olympia Travel Bureau and Ticket Service, Maple and Lahser, Birmingham.

South Tankers Win in Opener

By Rick Thomas

The South High varsity swim team opened their Eastern Michigan League season with a win over powerful East Detroit, 47-36, Thursday, January 8.

The Devils were led by seniors Drew Pillsbury and Bill Brownell, both of whom turned in exceptional performances. In the individual medley event, Pillsbury set a new South varsity record of 1:39.6. He also placed first in the 100-yard butterfly. Brownell took impressive wins in the 200 and 500-yard freestyle events.

In other action, the team of Rick Speer, Drew Pillsbury, Mike Scott, and Bill

Brownell finished first in the free style relay.

In the medley relay event, the team of Tom Fettes, Steve Swanson, Wally Kilgore, and Rick Speer placed first. Steve Soderberg, Pete Dever, Steve Makos, and Dave Strachen finished third.

Steve Swanson won first in the 100-yard breaststroke. John Kuhn was third.

Mike Scott finished second and Doug Waugaman fourth in the 60-yard freestyle.

Mike Scott also finished second in the 100-yard freestyle. Rick Speer finished third.

In the 100-yard backstroke, Steve Soderberg finished second and Tom Fettes third.

In diving competition, Pete Saggau finished in third place.

Although South Coach Carl Schoessell was pleased with the overall performance of his team in the meet, emphasis must be placed on the fact that many more meets have yet to be won if the Devils are to win their third EML championship in as many years.

NHS Tankers Win and Lose

By Sarah Bleich

The Norsemen swim team competing in its second dual meet of the season Thursday, January 8 finished as winners by defeating Brable 131-40. The Norsemen's record is now 1-1 after an early season defeat to last year's State runner-up, Dearborn.

Dearborn was led by Marty Szuba and Bob Lazar, both State Champions. North's team has a 1-0 win-loss standing in the Bi-County League after defeating Roseville Brable.

The Norsemen took first places in all eleven events and also rolled up second place points in nine of the eleven events.

Good efforts were turned in by Mark Gerganoff in the 100 yd. breaststroke, Chuck Stoyka in the 200 yd. individual medley and the 100 yd. butterfly, and Brian DeMan in the 100 yd. Breaststroke.

This win adds to the long list of Bi-County League victories for the Norsemen Swim team. Since the Swim Team's inception in 1969, they have not lost a League meet.

The next meet for the Norsemen will be with Clintondale at Clintondale on Thursday, January 15 at 4:00.

South's Cagers Tied for Lead

By Tom Shine

Grosse Pointe South's cagers remained undefeated in Eastern Michigan League play as they beat Sterling Heights Stevenson, 53-48, Friday, January 9.

This gives the Devils a 3-0 league mark, and a tie for first place with Mount Clemens. The win also brought their overall record to 4-3.

After a ho-hum first quarter that ended in a 13-13 tie, the Devils came alive and scored 10 unanswered points to go ahead 23-14.

Stevenson, however, did not collapse and fought to cut the gap to three points, 30-27, at the half.

The Titans continued to battle as the third quarter began and took the lead. South was having trouble scoring but never trailed by more than six points, and only trailed 43-42 as the period ended.

During the opening minutes of the last quarter, South took the lead once again, 46-44. Yet, the Devils couldn't ice the game because of their own cold shooting.

Even though South was having trouble scoring, it was nothing compared to the Titans. Stevenson could only muster five points in the final quarter and saw the game slip away.

High scorer for South was Jim Parsons with 14 points, while John Olbeter added 12.

J. Addison Bartush and Rex Ciavola Appearing As "Supers;" Other Volunteers at Work Behind the Scenes

The world of opera will fill the schedules of nine Grosse Pointe residents in the upcoming week. Rex Ciavola, J. Addison Bartush, Josie Harper, Lucy Prost, Jean Candler, Joannie Grierson, Vickie Hagood, Susan Davis and Caryl McCormick are all involved as volunteers with Michigan Opera Theater's production of Lucia Di Lammermoor, slated to open tomorrow, Friday, January 16, at Music Hall Center.

Rex Ciavola, partner in the Rex Printing Company, will cancel tennis, bowling and skiing to appear as a member of the Bucklaw family, the wealthy noblemen who are joined to the Ashton family by the marriage of Lucia to Lord Arthur Bucklaw.

It is a non-singing role for Rex, who volunteered to be a "super" in the opera while discussing printing of the Lucia program at the opera office.

Another member of the Bucklaw family is J. Addison Bartush, whose role in Lucia is the third production in which he has been a super. "This will be my first tragedy," notes Addison, whose previous roles were in comic operettas, (The Merry Widow and Die Fledermaus).

Detroit District Dental Auxiliary Sets Meeting

The Detroit District Dental Auxiliary celebrates its 40th anniversary at a meeting Tuesday, January 20, at the Village Woman's Club in Bloomfield Hills. Auxiliary past-presidents are preparing a skit on the history of the club.

A general business session at 11 o'clock will be followed by luncheon at noon. Hostesses are the Mesdames George McCarthy, James Nagy, Otis Smith and Ronald Muske.

Another January Auxiliary event is the second annual tri-county dinner-dance, scheduled for Saturday, January 31.

Glave-Gibson Rites Revealed

Exchanging marriage vows in First Presbyterian Church, Vero Beach, Fla., Saturday, January 3, were Susan Louise Glave, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Barrymore Glave, of Vero Beach, and Graeme Elliott Bosson Gibson, son of former Pointer James E. Gibson, who now resides in Vero Beach, and the late Mrs. Gibson.

The 2 o'clock rites, with The Reverend G. P. La Barre, of Trinity Episcopal Church, officiating, assisted by the First Presbyterian Church's Dr. Fred W. McClellan, and the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Robert De Gordin, of McMinnville, Ore., as organist, were followed by a reception at the Riomar Bay Yacht Club.

The bride wore a Gibson family heirloom gown, Edwardian in style and fashioned of Chinese embroidered silk. Her long veil fell from a lace and pearl cap. She carried a nosegay of white roses and mums.

Honor maid Elaine Ottevaere, of Detroit, and bridesmaids Mrs. Jack Pollard, of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., and Pointer Mrs. Armando Melchiorre were dressed identically in cape-sleeved, Grecian style gowns of coral crepe.

Coral-tinted carnations and ivy formed their bouquets.

Randolph Gibson acted as best man for James B. P. Gibson, another brother, James Denison Glave, the bride's brother, and Stephen Housley.

The newlyweds are making their home in Vero Beach.

Winter Rites Unite Pointers

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thurston Gage have returned from two weeks in England following their marriage Friday, December 19, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Dr. Allan Zaun, of the Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church, presiding.

A reception at the Grosse Pointe Club followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Gage is the former Mrs. Robert Brunswick Rains, of Vernier road, where the newlyweds are making their home. Mr. Gage had been residing in University place.

Mrs. Harold G. Bay, Jr., of Bloomfield Hills, attended her mother, Hervey C. Parke acted as best man for his brother-in-law.

young members of both Associations and their friends, aged 18 to 30.

The response was enthusiastic, the party a huge success attended by 500 young people who dined between 7 and 9 o'clock, then danced the night away to music by Bettles Rolls Royce Band.

Proceeds are being divided between the Sigma Gamma-founded and sponsored Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic's Education and Research Department and the Tau Beta Camp, according to a tradition started last year with the Rose Terrace Ball.

Both Associations have thoroughly enjoyed working together, devoting time and energy to the needs of the community. Their young members were especially honored this year in order for them to become acquainted and imbued with the spirit and rapport that exists between Sigma Gamma and Tau Beta.

Mrs. Kiely has another, earlier journey—"experience" planned for February 9 to 16. This group will be exploring Mexico City with The Reverend and Mrs. John Hazelton.

Bartush and Ciavola Appear as 'Lucia' Supers

(Continued from Page 11) will do a quick change of clothing from nobleman to host of the gala opening night. Afterglow at the Detroit Athletic Club. He and his wife, Marion, have planned a lovely supper opportunity to "meet the stars" of the opera.

The Afterglow is open to the public. Ticket information may be obtained by calling 963-3717.

While Rex and Addison are on stage the ladies will be backstage, behind the scenes, working on costumes and props.

Josie Harper, Lucy Prost, Jean Candler and Joanne Grierson have been at work all week in the costume shop on Music Hall's fourth floor, taking in, letting out, hemming, pressing—and having a ball.

Susan Davis and Caryl McCormick report to the "TD," (technical director). They have been on what amounts to a giant scavenger hunt throughout the city, seeking out props suitable for the 17th century Scotland.

Curtain goes up at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow on the first of five English language Lucia Di Lammermoors.

Other performance dates and times are Sunday, January 18, at 6:30 o'clock; Wednesday, January 21, at 1:30 and Friday, January 23, and Saturday, January 24, at 8:30 o'clock.

Tickets are available at Tudson's, Grinnell's, the Music Hall Box Office or by phone charge at 963-7680.

Of this new production, sung in English, MOT General Director Dr. David DiChiera states: "This will not be the typical, stereotyped, stand-up-and-sing Lucia. Rather, its dazzling vocal display will be put to the service of the strong drama inherent in the work."

Singing the title role of Lucia will be 26-year-old New York City Opera soprano Catherine Malfitano, of whom Women's Wear Daily said, "This girl is a super-star in the making, with a glorious voice that matches her youthful beauty."

Subject of a recent Opera News feature and Musical America's musician of the month, (July, 1975), Miss Malfitano has performed with many of the major companies in the country. She soon will make her Covent Garden debut.

The role of Lucia's lover, Edgardo, will be performed by tenor Neil Shicoff, whose most recent success was the title role in the Cincinnati May Festival production of Ernani.

Mr. Shicoff has performed with the opera companies of Santa Fe and Washington, D.C., and later this season is scheduled for the title role in the Houston Grand Opera's production of Faust.

Music director and conductor of Lucia is Andrew Meltzer, who comes to Detroit following his successful debut with the Vancouver Opera Association. Mr. Meltzer has worked with the San Francisco Opera, in Santa Fe, with the Geneva Opera Centre Lyrique International and with the Minnesota Opera.

Stage director is David Alden, who recently and successfully premiered this same production for the Augusta Opera.

March Bride

Plans for a March 19 wedding are being made by JENNIFER ANNE DUDLEY and Donald E. Greenwell, Jr., whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Dudley, of Three Mile drive.

The bride-elect was graduated from Michigan State University, where she affiliated with Phi Kappa Phi, with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Advertising in 1975.

Her fiancé, son of the Donald E. Greenwells, of Farmington Hills, received his Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering from MSU in 1974. His fraternity affiliations are Chi Epsilon and Tau Beta Pi.

Set Shape-Up Day at WSU

A post-holiday Shape-Up Session is being sponsored by Women of Wayne State University Alumni Association this Saturday, January 17, from 10 to 2 o'clock at the Matthaei Building on the WSU campus.

The program will feature a Balletics lecture-demonstration by Kay Wise, president and director of Ecole de Ballet, Inc., located in Grosse Pointe Park.

Balletics, a stretch and counter-stretch dance exercise, was developed by Ms. Wise about 10 years ago at the suggestion of Christina Ford, and has been taught to many prominent women in the Detroit area.

The session also will include an introduction to the theory and practice of Transcendental Meditation by Douglas Hoxeng, counselor at the University of Michigan, and a light luncheon featuring a menu and take-home recipes from Weight Watchers of Central Michigan, Inc.

In addition, there will be exercise period in the gym conducted by Wayne faculty.

Admission is $2 for members, $2.50 for non-members. Reservations and further information may be obtained by calling WSU Alumni House, 577-2167.

Choose Volunteers For Hearts Of Gold

Three Pointers Among Sextet Making Final Decisions on This Year's Recipients Later in The Month

From six to 12 Detroit tri-county area women volunteers will be honored for outstanding community service at the ninth annual Heart of Gold award luncheon Tuesday, February 10, in Cobo Hall.

The program, starting at 11:45 o'clock, is co-sponsored by the Heart of Gold Award Council and Women for the United Foundation. It is open to the public.

Guest speaker will be actress Karen Grassle, who plays Caroline Ingalls in TV's "Little House on the Prairie." Approximately 2,000 metropolitan residents are expected to attend the recognition luncheon. Tickets at $7.25 per person may be obtained by calling WUF, 965-7100, Extension 209, before Tuesday, January 27.

Some 130 nominations for Heart of Gold awards were submitted last November by community agencies, groups and individuals throughout the Detroit area. Award Council members, representing 45 leading women's organizations, then narrowed the field to 30 semi-finalists from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Six community leaders will serve as judges to select the finalists later this month. Three of these judges are Pointers: Thomas F. Morrow, of Vendome road, retired Chrysler Corporation vice-president; Arthur F. Snyder, of Provençal road, president, Bank of the Commonwealth; and Mrs. G. Mennen Williams, of Tonnacour place, whose husband, former Governor of Michigan and former Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs, now sits on the Michigan Supreme Court.

The others are Dr. Julien Priver, executive vice-president, Sinai Hospital; Otis M. Smith, vice-president and associate general counsel, General Motors Corporation; and Mrs. R. Jamison Williams, WUF past-president.

Heart of Gold winners will receive the traditional gold, heart-shaped charm symbolizing extraordinary community service during the past year.

Chairman of the Heart of Gold Council is Mrs. R. Alexander Wrigley, of Bishop road, a past WUF president. Vice-chairman is WUF board member Mrs. Ray W. Macdonald, of Lochmoor boulevard.

Young declaring January March of Dimes Month are, (left to right), MAXWELL GURMAN, executive director of the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter March of Dimes, HATTIE (Mrs. Arthur) PFANNENSCHMIDT, of Vernier road, March of Dimes Advisory Board member and volunteer, and ROSEMARY (Mrs. John) ELIAS, also of Grosse Pointe and a March of Dimes Advisory Board member, with six-year-old TAMMY PATTERSON, National Foundation March of Dimes Poster Child, and JOANNE CARSON, eight years old, Metropolitan Detroit Chapter March of Dimes Poster Child.

The Proclamation was shown to members of the Executive and Advisory Board at a luncheon meeting Monday, January 5, following presentation in the Mayor's Office by Deputy Mayor William Beckham.

Tammy, National Poster Child, flew in from her home in Mount Pleasant, Tenn., to kick off the National Campaign Against Birth Defects in Detroit. A victim of multiple birth defects, she represents more than 200,000 children born each year with a serious handicap. Birth defects remain the number one child health problem in the United States. January 22 through 28 marks the Mothers' March Campaign, which not only raises funds to support research and medical programs but serves as an opportunity to educate the community about the need for better prenatal and perinatal care.

Individuals all over the metropolitan Detroit area will be calling on their neighbors to ask for their support and contributions.

Serkin to Play with Symphony

World-famous pianist Rudolf Serkin returns to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for the first time since 1957 when he appears as featured quest soloist with the Orchestra at a pair of concerts tonight and Saturday evening, January 15 and 17, at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

DSO Music Director Aldo Ceccato will be on the podium, conducting a program of music by Schumann and Brahms.

The concerts begin with Brahms' Tragic Overture, Opus 81, and will continue with Mr. Serkin playing the Schumann Piano Concerto. The program closes with the Brahms Symphony No. 1, originally scheduled for performances last October. It now replaces works of Prokofiev and Stravinsky earlier announced for these concerts. Rudolf Serkin made his soloist debut in Vienna in 1915 at the age of 12. He has toured the United States annually since 1934 and has made regular tours of Europe, appearing in recital, with chamber ensembles, and with all the major orchestras.

Mr. Serkin first played with the DSO in 1945. His most recent appearance with the Orchestra, scheduled for January, 1974, was cancelled by illness.

Tickets for the two concerts are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office, 961-0700, all Hudson's and Montgomery Ward ticket outlets. A limited number of tickets for students and senior citizens at $1.75 is available at the Box Office starting at 8 o'clock Thursday and Saturday nights.

Publish Guide to Foundations

People raising money for human service agencies will be interested in a new publication called the Michigan Foundations Directory. It was compiled by the Michigan League for Human Services, a Torch Drive-United Way of Michigan agency, in a joint project with the Council of Michigan Foundations.

The book is a guide to the 267 largest foundations in Michigan giving the greatest grants. This survey of Michigan foundations gives information on where foundation money comes from and how it is distributed.

Appendices to the book include a list of 465 Michigan foundations as well as the 54 largest foundations.

Additional information gives the location of the foundation, assets of the foundation, amount of grants awarded and an article on "How to Write a Grant Proposal."

The Michigan Foundations Directory costs $5 and may be ordered by contacting Jonathan Spinner at the Michigan League for Human Services, Reniger Building, 200 Mills Street, Lansing 48933.

Previewing DGOA's Luncheon Fare

Making plans for the Detroit Grand Opera Association's Annual General Committee Luncheon isn't all hard work. MRS. VICTOR WERTZ (right), chairman of the event, recently hosted a Tasting Luncheon at Masonic Temple, where the General Luncheon will be held Monday, January 26. Joining her in sampling cuisine and wines to be served were fellow Pointers MRS. JOHN C. GRIFFIN, (center), general chairman of the 1976 Metropolitan Opera Season, and MRS. WIL-

BER HADLEY MACK, general co-chairman. Principal speaker at the luncheon will be Francis Robinson, assistant manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Finals of the Grinnell Scholarship Competition, which annually awards $4,500 to promising singers, will follow. The Detroit Grand Opera Association sponsors the annual visits of the Metropolitan Opera Company to Masonic Temple, scheduled this year for May 24 to 29.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

There's a lot of talk about a "Warranty" on the next home you buy. New homes have it, but amazingly enough, up to now, you couldn't get a warranty on a "used" home.

The question is, is it worth having? Does it help the seller or the buyer? The answer is simple. Its very valuable to both. The seller has peace of mind that he will never be accused of fraudulently selling his home. The purchaser knows that he will not be slapped with a $2,000 new-furnace bill of $200 hot water tank replacement etc. etc. So there is trust and peace of mind between both parties.

Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. is the only Company in Grosse Pointe exclusively that can sell you your next home with this all important warranty.

If you are selling or intending to sell your home, think of it this way. Which home would you rather buy — the house with the guarantee or the one without?

WHY RENT???
Would you rent if you knew that you could buy a one bedroom condominium apartment for $15,500, and with only $1,500 down on land contract terms? Do you realize that most people recover that amount after a down payment in tax savings alone within 2 years.

We can provide you with these terms and a monthly payment of $181 which includes principal interest, taxes, insurance and your maintenance fee. In addition to this, you would have an annual deduction for Federal Income taxes of approximately $1,620.

What type of benefits are you receiving from your rent checks? Come see our models at Whittier Manor this weekend, Saturday and Sunday 1-6 p.m. 9540 Whittier, just West of I-94. 884-3555 or 599-5939. Michigan Condominium Corporation.

WES AND JULIE REA, OF HAMPTON ROAD

By Janet Mueller

One thing you're bound to notice if you find yourself, (and you may; stranger things have happened), in a group of square dancers. They smile a lot. And pretty soon, if you hang around, you'll find yourself smiling, too—and dancing up a storm!

This year, as in many past years, the Grosse Pointe Council of Square Dance Clubs and the Grosse Pointe Public Schools Department of Community Services are co-sponsoring a free, introductory square dance.

It's scheduled for next Monday evening, January 19, starting at 8 o'clock, at Monteith School at Cook road and Chalfonte avenue.

This year, as in many past years, (since 1949, to be exact), Wes Rea will be calling the square dance figures, Julie Rea cueing the round dances.

Was School Principal

Once upon a time, Wes was principal of Detroit's North-eastern High School. He and Julie and a group of friends, couples who'd played badminton together before World War II and found, when the men came back from the war, that although they still enjoyed each other's company, badminton wasn't as fascinating as it had been, decided to try something new.

They heard that the Grosse Pointe Board of Education was offering square dance classes. "Let's take them," they said, and since the Reas' Hampton road basement was big enough for two sets, Wes and Julie became "host" couple for between-classes recreation/practice.

They used records, with calls on the records, but after a while they knew all the records so well they really didn't need the calls, and Wes decided, for variety, to learn to call a few new dances.

And the word got around.

Teacher Moved Away

He called some dances at Crescent Sail Yacht Club, where he and Julie belonged. He called one for the senior class at his high school. Then the man from whom he and Julie and their friends had taken lessons moved away, and Julie, who'd enrolled in some Department of Community Services classes, (non-square dancing), on her own, found herself talking one day with Forrest Geary, then-Director of the Department . . .

"I came home from school," Wes recalls, "and Julie said, 'How would you like to teach square dancing?' I said, 'Fine.'"

"Good!" said Julie. "I hired you out this afternoon." He's been at it ever since. "From then on the telephone kept ringing." There were jobs, if the Reas wanted them, every day of the week.

Work As a Team

They're a team. Wes calls the square dances. Julie teaches the set routines of the round dances, then cues the couples as they move, in concert, around the floor.

The Reas moved into the home they built in Hampton road, "one of the first on the street," in 1939. Wes, born in a little town near Boston, Mass., was 10 when his family came to Detroit. He's a Southeastern High School graduate. Julie's a native Detroit.

They chose Grosse Pointe "because of the lake," and raised their two sons here.

Paul Rea is a professor of English at the University of Northern Colorado. Wes and Julie were in Colorado this summer, visiting their Number One Son and getting in a bit of hiking in Colorado and southern Utah.

Carl Rea, art director for Display and Exhibit, has two sons of his own: Kevin, seven, and three-year-old Jason.

Are Outdoor People

Basically, Wes and Julie are outdoor people. Their 20-foot sailboat travels with them, via trailer, to Crystal Lake in the summer. "We learned to sail a couple of years ago." Before that, they were motorboaters. Now: "I'm pulling for two boats," laughs Julie, "because I miss the water-skiing."

The Reas, very interested in anything pertaining to nature, support ecology programs. Their backyard is awash in bird feeders. Ninety-six roses bloom in their garden, and they finished the last of 1975's tomatoes a few weeks before Christmas.

They enjoy the theater. They have Meadow Brook season tickets, and they belong to a group that regularly attends Grosse Pointe Theatre performances.

Love the Caribbean

They love to travel, heading for the Caribbean "every chance we get." They've been to many islands, from the Bahamas to St. Lucia, (twice), to St. John, (five times), and this February they'll try the Caymans, where they hope to get in a good deal of skin diving.

Wes is writing to a square dance caller who lives in the Caymans, (honestly! . . . they're ALL OVER), asking for tips on the best reefs and wrecks.

Photography is another continuing hobby. The Reas enjoy recording their travels — and snapping candid of unsuspecting family and friends. There was a time when they had their own darkroom, but it's given way to a petticoat closet for square dancing.

More Time at Home

At home, they thoroughly enjoy their home. They could, of course, be out every night, calling, cueing and dancing, (where do Wes and Julie go when they have a night off: to a square dance, need you ask?), but in the past few years "we've cut down a lot."

They still instruct three classes. Beginners, Intermediate and an Advanced Workshop, under co-sponsorship of the Square Dance Clubs Council and the Department of Community Services.

Wes calls three of the nine Promenaders dances. He and Julie formed that club 25 years ago, and for many years Wes was its only caller. Promenaders meets once a month at Barnes School.

Starmakers, a more advanced group, meets regularly at Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church. Balance and Swing, the third local club, (it pre-dates even Promenaders, and Wes and Julie were never leaders in it), meets at Monteith School.

Attendance Varies

There's never been an "off" square dancing year in Grosse Pointe, for as long as Wes and Julie have been involved in it, but some years' classes have been more crowded than others. The Reas don't know how the Bicentennial will affect this year's classes, but they wouldn't be surprised at an upsurge of interest. What, after all, is more American than square dancing?

"We're hoping," (the Reas speak for all square dancers now), "that an Act of Congress in 1976 will designate square dancing as the national form of dance."

Locally, a square dance and exhibition at Brownell School will kick-off Bicentennial celebrations in Grosse Pointe Woods Saturday, January 24, at 8 o'clock.

"Anybody can come, with a partner," Wes and Julie note. They'll be teaching — and, as they do for the traditional January Club Council/Community Services free dance, they GUARANTEE that anybody who tries will be dancing up a storm by the end of the evening.

Three Exhibitions

There'll be three exhibitions: one of old-time dancing, one of modern square dancing, and one of round dancing, interspersed with general dancing sets. Each exhibition will be short, approximately seven minutes, for the observers will be wanting, the Reas are sure, to get back into the act.

The free introductory dance is the device Wes and Julie have found most successful in getting people "into" square dancing. "We ask people who are square dancers to bring their friends." The rank beginners are placed in sets with veteran dancers. "Before they know it, they, (the beginners), are doing a lot of things they never dreamed they could do."

A fair percentage came back for classes. At the end of 16 lessons, they're invited to join one of the local square dance clubs.

Dancers are Friendly

Couples who arrive at a free introductory dance friend-less, (it's not necessary to be "brought;" everyone's welcome), don't stay that way for long. It's well-nigh impossible to remain aloof at a square dance.

"You meet some simply phenomenal people, in a situation that's completely separate from business pressures." Blue collar workers to bank presidents, newcomers to senior citizens; you'll find them all all-embracing left and right. And smiling.

"Age doesn't make any difference. We used to tend to get people whose children were grown; now, we're seeing more and more younger couples, with children still in school."

"We always got people from all walks of life." Clubs and classes suspend for the summer, but square dancing goes on. Last summer's dances at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, three in June and three in July, for experienced dancers, proved very, very popular.

Summer Rendezvous

Then there are the summer rendezvous. A couple who square dance, say, and happen to own a camper, know another couple who square dance and own a camper, who know another couple

Louisa St. Clair DAR To Mark Anniversary

Louisa St. Clair Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will celebrate its 83rd anniversary at a gala luncheon this Saturday, January 17, at the Detroit Golf Club, with Mrs. B. Thomas Weyhing, III, of Lewistown road, regent, presiding and welcoming regents of 10 suburban DAR chapters as special guests.

Louisa St. Clair continues, at it has through the years, to support the National Society DAR in its emphasis on National Defense. Speaking on The Michigan National Guard at the anniversary luncheon will be Lieutenant Colonel Clarence P. Heath. He will be introduced by Mrs. Robert W. Sawyer, Jr., vice regent.

As February is American History Month, (doubly significant in this Bicentennial year), DAR "Good Citizens," boys and girls chosen by their own senior high school classmates, will be honored and entertained.

A Patriotic Essay Contest is now underway in Detroit grade schools. Winners will extol the Declaration of Independence at Louisa St. Clair's March meeting.

Industrial Nurses Plan Educational Conference

The 28th annual meeting and Educational Conference of the Michigan State Association of Industrial Nurses, sponsored by the Detroit Industrial Nurses Association, is scheduled to open Friday, January 30, with registration starting at 4 in the afternoon, at the Michigan Inn, Southfield.

A program is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock Friday evening. The Conference continues all day Saturday, January 31, from 8 in the morning until 5 in the evening.

This year's theme is "Challenge: Mobility Rehabilitation in Industry." General conference chairman is Mrs. Genevieve Kornbacher R.N. John Rebore R.N. and Mrs. Frieda Jossens R.N. are educational chairmen and co-chairman, respectively of the MSAIN.

Advance registration information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. James Campbell Geis R.N. at Budd Corporation, 822-7000. The Conference is sponsored by Wayne State University. Credit will be given to members who attend the complete program.

A social hour will follow the conference. Installation of MSAIN's newly-elected officers will conclude the day.

. . . and one fine weekend, 35 to 40 couples head off to a pre-arranged campground, and everybody dances up a storm.

I mean: EVERYBODY. "Square dancing is growing, both locally and nationally," says Wes and Julie Rea. Thirty thousand dancers are expected to show up at next June's national convention in Anaheim, Calif. There are national magazines just for square dancers, with information on everything from the newest dances, (the world didn't come to an end with "Turkey in the Straw"), to where to find frilly petticoats and fancy, colored shirts. Dressing up is part of the fun. "You look and feel," says Julie Rea, "so young!" And, whatever your age, you are.

"Sweethearts" At Work

When Thelma (Mrs. John J.) Riccardo opened her lovely Spanish-style home for a March of Dimes Sweetheart Ball '76 addressing session, a large group of Pointers journeyed across town to swell the corps of "Sweethearts" working to make sure the invitations went out on time.

Among them were Rosemary Elias, co-chairman of the party scheduled for Valentine's Day, February 14, at Raleigh House, and Anne Anderson, Ellie Bundesen, Edythe Keefe, Bettie Dawood, Stephanie Germack, Esther Girardy, Pat Johannigman, Hattie Prannenschmidt, Janice Rinke, Diane Schoenith and Marge Vendentelli.

Mrs. Riccardo's beautiful luncheon was their reward for writers' cramp, (a badge of honor, earned in a VERY good cause). The day ended with a hurried trip, in zero weather, to the post office.

The Sweetheart Ball will start with cocktails at 7 o'clock. Dinner service is scheduled for 8:30. Music for entertainment and dancing will be furnished by the Johnny Trudell Orchestra.

Ticket information is available at March of Dimes headquarters, 864-6000.

school teacher with short hours. He became a Certified Public Accountant, working 12 to 13 hours a day, and his change in schedule drastically affected his wife's schedule and life style.

"I'd always been interested in awareness courses, Brian urged me to go ahead and do it. He knows when I am happy the whole family is happier."

"I took Personal Growth four years ago, and it helped me feel better about myself. It was a renewal of my self-image."

"After my second child was past the total time-consuming stage I interviewed for Group Leader Training, and will be leading with other trained men and women in the Monday evening program."

Nancy Ulmer used Beginning Personal Growth as an opportunity to re-evaluate her life direction and goals. "I had gone back to school and received my degree in Organizational Communications from Oakland University in December, 1974. I have always been interested in helping human beings communicate with each other. I am the coordinator for Dialogue Adult Hotline here in Grosse Pointe."

"Beginning Personal Growth was a prerequisite for Leadership Training, and I wanted training to upgrade my skills. I will be leading the woman's program in Southfield in January."

Anyone interested in finding out more about the Continuum Center for Adult Counseling and Leadership Training and its programs may call the Center, 377-3033, for more information on time, dates and fees. A free brochure is available on request.
