PALESTINIAN GUERRILLAS and Moslem private armies took over most of Lebanon on Wednesday and Egypt's official Middle East News Agency said Lebanese Christian leaders accepted a Syrian proposal for a cease fire. The Palestinians and Moslems claimed they were marching on Beirut. A Cairo report said that Christian President Suleiman Franjeh of Lebanon accepted the proposal but that Interior Minister Camille Chamoun, a leading Christian, opposed it.

A SHATTERING EXPLOSION that showered broken concrete over more than a square block of Milwaukee demolished a 225-foot grain elevator Thursday, killing five men, injuring 12 and leaving three trapped under tons of concrete. Rescue workers struggled for nearly 13 hours in sub-zero temperatures before freeing one of the trapped men, Larry Fess, at 12:15 a.m. Friday. He was taken to Saginaw General Hospital. The blast occurred at 11:16 a.m. Thursday and had left Fess, 24, of Linwood, buried in steel and concrete up to his neck 155 feet above the ground.

THE NATION'S LARGEST coffee wholesaler raised prices Friday in a move which is expected to trigger higher retail prices on the supermarket shelf. The 10 percent General Foods increase, effective immediately, should be reflected in retail grocery prices within weeks. The retail grocery prices of Maxwell House ground coffee may go from $1.59 a pound to $1.74. A General Foods spokesman attributed the increase to bad weather conditions in South America.

WAYNE COUNTY Sheriff William Lucas was ordered Saturday to stop admitting prisoners to the county jail until its population falls below the court-ordered limit of 720. Lucas was given five days to comply with the order from a three-judge Wayne County Circuit Court panel which also found Lucas in contempt of court for failing to comply with its previous orders to improve jail conditions. Sharply criticizing Lucas for failure to run a "humane and lawful" jail, the panel said that the State legislature should consider placing the jail under the administration of the Michigan Department of Corrections.

SOUTH AFRICANS learned Sunday for the first time that 1,200 South African soldiers had been fighting against Marxist forces in the Angolan civil war but are now in the process of pulling out. Although Defense Minister Piet Botha was not scheduled to make the formal announcement to Parliament on the withdrawal until early this week, the government lifted censorship that had forbidden mention of South African military involvement.

DETROIT BEGAN its court-ordered school integration plan Monday with no disturbances but with heavy absenteeism in many of the affected schools. Only elementary schools were open Monday, the first day of the second semester. Middle and high schools begin the term today, but some of them will not operate a full day. Absenteeism ranged from 15 to 60 percent at schools involved in the plan and was heaviest in northeast Detroit, where the most vocal opposition to busing is centered.

Probe Fires In Lockers At Pier Park

Arson Suspected in Two-Alarm Blaze; 200 Rounds of Ammunition Explodes in Fire

Arson is suspected in a two-alarm fire that broke out in The Farms Pier Park boat lockers late Wednesday night, January 21. The fire was first noticed by a patrolling Farms police car and the fire department was immediately notified.

All off-duty Farms firemen plus four men and a chief from the City of Grosse Pointe Fire Department were called in to handle the blaze. Fire Lt. Arthur Turner said the fire was under control in 30 minutes, and was kept at the point of origin.

The rest of the facility was not damaged and can still be used by the public.

Called Again

The fire department left to battle the fire at 11 p.m. Wednesday night and was back in the fire house at 12:30 Thursday morning. At 1 a.m. the fire department was called again to the boat lockers as the fire rekindled itself in another wooden locker containing firearms ammunition.

Farms Fire Chief Warren Schultz said approximately 200 rounds of shotgun shells, 38 shells and reloading materials exploded before the fire was extinguished by the use of booster lines.

No one was injured.

Woods Police Nab Four Youths in Two B-E Cases

Two pairs of two youths were arrested in two separate breaking and entering incidents by Woods police this past weekend. Both cases are under investigation by the Youth Service Division with specific charges pending in each.

A 17-year-old Oxford road youth and a 16-year-old Doyle court juvenile have admitted their involvement in entering a North Oxford road residence. This incident was reported early Saturday morning, January 24.

Good investigative work was the keynote of this case as police followed and matched telltale footprints at the scene to the home of the 17-year-old, who ultimately confessed to the break-in.

Two sets of footprints were

Key to Orff's Success Is Learning by Doing; Taught Rhythm at Start

Removable Keys of Instrument Enable Children to Provide Accompaniment Without Contributing Discords

By Susan McDonald
Not every child can become as musically competent as Charlie Brown's side-kick Schroeder before he hits high school. So, for those little ones who can't possibly sit down long enough to memorize by rote D minor scales and quarter notes—there is hope. It's called Orff music.

Learning starts with doing... then proceeds to analysis and formalization. It was basically John Dewey's idea, and it may also be the key to Orff's success.

Instead of subjecting the squirmy, energetic little ones to long lectures on timing charts and "Every Good Boy Deserves Fudge," Orff starts them off with "doing." Their first chorus of familiar playground songs is accompanied by a foot-stamping, arm-waving, finger-snapping dance led by the teacher.

They are learning, at this point, how to keep basic rhythms with their bodies. Soon that knowledge will be directed onto the keys of a simple Orff percussion instrument.

Orff instruments are special, according to elementary music teacher Laura Williamson, because they are virtually mistake-proof. Keys that will not be used in a particular song are removed—leaving a simple pentatonic, (five tones to an octave), scale.

They were designed by German composer Carl Orff, for use in the Gunther School for Gymnastics, Dance and Music, which he co-founded with gymnast and writer Dorothee Gunther.

Playing a melody on the Orff instruments, even for first graders, is easy with all the unnecessary keys removed. The kids are free to sound out their own accompaniment as well, which never sounds too bad within the pentatonic scale.

"The emphasis in this program is on success, rather than the old 'fear and failure' stimulus to learning of the typical conservatory," according to curriculum assistant Roger McCaig.

"It is consistent with our goals in many programs, especially with the younger students, which is to guide them through the experience and actively first, then on to analysis," he added.

It is not until after the students are well aware of sounds, which they have been singing and playing, that the teacher introduces them to musical notation. By that time, according to Ms. Williamson, "they are very interested in seeing what they have been playing up on the blackboard, and they pick it up very quickly."

Valuations To Rise in GP Woods

Assessments Up Seven Percent Over Last Year, Reports City Comptroller-Assessor

By Roger A. Waha
Assessed valuations in The Woods, including both residential and business, will rise seven percent over last year with the city for the first time since 1968 going with a factor, said City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher.

Since 1968, the city has used a 1.00 factor, which is assessed at 50 percent of the market value but because the residential and commercial rate is below 50 percent a factor of 1.07 is being utilized.

The specific factor for communities is set by the Bureau of Taxation, Wayne County Equalization Board, and because the city's rate has to be 50 percent of the market value, the 1.07 factor was necessary this year.

Offers Example

Mr. Hornfisher said assessments were adjusted last year and this year the city has to go along with a factor. "The roll figure will be the same as last year but the factor of 1.07 will be applied to the assessments."

As an example, he said if a home has an assessed valuation of $16,000, it would be multiplied by 1.07, making the total assessment $17,120. And seven percent of the $16,000 figure would equal the added $1,120 in this case.

He indicated that homes have been selling well in all the Pointes with sales often higher than assessed valuations. In The Woods, for instance, a total of 720 homes have been sold from 1973-75. "This shows we have a good sampling of sales," he said, while noting this year's sales could even go up.

Citizens who are concerned over a possible hike in taxes will not know any specifics on this until later in the year.

Wait and See

Mr. Hornfisher made it clear that assessments, in compliance with State law, will be up seven percent in the community but the amount of tax dollars will not be known until specific rates are set.

"When other bodies set their rates, we'll know how much money we'll have to pay in taxes," he said. "We do the assessing but we have nothing to do with rates."

Jaycees' Service Award Given To John Bruce

Named Community's Outstanding Young Man at Annual Banquet Held at Memorial Center on Monday Evening

By Roger A. Waha

John M. Bruce Jr., 32, of Devonshire road, was the recipient of the Grosse Pointe Jaycees Distinguished Service Award, (DSA), as the outstanding young man in the community last year at the eighth annual DSA banquet Monday evening, January 26, at the War Memorial.

A five-man senior selection committee selected Mr. Bruce, director of the Neighborhood Club, from a group of seven nominees, all of whom received certificates for outstanding community service.

The banquet also included "Bosses Night," where members hosted their bosses, who also received certificates, and "M Night," where friends and other guests of the Jaycees had an opportunity to learn more about the organization and perhaps become future members.

Named by Adams

Mr. Bruce, who was nominated for the award by Superintendent of Schools Dr. James A. Adams, was picked from a slate which included Woods Councilman Ronald R. Kefgen, North High School English and physical education instructor Raymond R. Ritter, Park Municipal Judge John Urso, Robert Seifulla, head of the architectural and engineering department at Wayne State University, State Sen. William Fitzgerald and Jim Mitchell Jr.

In accepting the award, Mr. Bruce said he was indeed honored to be selected from such a fine group of nominees. He cited the help of others for their support over the years and offered a special thank you to his wife and four children for their understanding.

Other Awards Given

Other highlights of the evening included the presentation of other awards, with one going to Robert Bowen, of Whittier road, in appreciation for his "distinguished service" to the community, state and country, and a sensitive address by Jaycee president Edward Serwach, a Park police officer, which viewed what the organization meant to him based upon his own life and career.

Billy Graham Crusade Slated

All Pointe ministers are invited to attend the Billy Graham Crusade organizational meeting Tuesday, February 3, at the Calvin East United Presbyterian Church, 6125 Cadieux road, Detroit. The session begins at 10 a.m.

Crusade director John Corliss will focus upon the event, which is planned for October 15-24 at Pontiac Metropolitan Stadium.

For further information, call Paul Brosey at 885-4184.

Traffic Stop Nets Arrest For Suspected Marijuana

A 21-year-old Sterling Heights man and his passenger were stopped with only one headlight illuminated early Friday morning, January 23, by Woods police.

After the stop, 29 bags of suspected marijuana were found in his vehicle with a preliminary analysis at the Michigan State Police Crime Lab, Warren, confirming the content of some bags to be marijuana, police said. Twenty-six of the bags were found in the trunk of his auto and these totaled 319 grams or 10.25 ounces.

As a result, Vincent Campo, 21, was charged with possession with intent to deliver marijuana, a maximum seven-year felony. He was arraigned in The Woods

City Needs Taxpayers' Assistance

Carelessness in Listing Residence on Return Forms Costs Municipalities Federal Funds

Grosse Pointe City officials are concerned about the possibility that some Pointers are inadvertently helping reduce their revenue sharing allotments by mistakes made when filling out their Federal income tax forms.

The City has been notified by the Secretary of the Treasury office that many Pointers, whether they live in The Shores, Woods, Park or Farms, are simply listing "Grosse Pointe" as their residence on their 1040 tax forms. That means the City of Grosse Pointe to census bureau evaluators.

Sets Sharing Base

This residence information is used by the bureau to compute the average per capita income estimate for a city. That figure, in turn, is used as a base for determining revenue sharing allotments. The higher the average income, the lower the amount of Federal funds granted to a particular city.

Since The City does not have as high an average income as some of the other Pointes, City officials feel that this mistake may possibly be inflating their figure and reducing their revenue-sharing funds.

Problem Wide-Spread

A treasury letter to The City noted that this problem was wide-spread throughout the country.

"From its experience in 1973, the Census Bureau found that many taxpayers are not completely sure of where they live," the letter read. "With several levels of local government or several post offices, determining a specific place of residence can be difficult and confusing."

Alexas, 35, who skipped out on $10,000 bond before his June trial date, was working on a construction team when he was spotted by a Rocksping sheriff. He voluntarily returned to Michigan to face trial.

He will be arraigned Wednesday, February 11.

Alexas was charged along with Ronald Birchman, 31, in April 1974 on charges of armed robbery stemming from the attempted daylight hold up of $21,000 from the Kercheval avenue grocery store. City Police foiled the attempt with the help of a Purulor armored car employee who held one suspect while they chased the other through the Marie School playground to Loraine, where he was finally captured at gunpoint. All of the $21,000 in loot was recovered.

Borchman was convicted of the robbery and is now serving a four-year probationary sentence.

Total of 819 Incidents Is Biggest Ever

Four Detectives Assess Their Work; Bright Spots Do Appear Among Gloomy Aspects

By Roger A. Waha

Since it became fully operational in August 1970, the Youth Service Division, (YSD), encountered its heaviest case load ever when the division's four detectives investigated a total of 819 incidents last year. This was an increase of 94 cases over 1974.

The total load in 1975 wasn't only a record in itself but the year featured the heaviest month the division experienced since it was established—November, when 88 offenses were forwarded for investigation.

With the exception of the YSD's first full year of operation in 1971 when 670 cases were handled, it's been steadily uphill on the incident investigation front as 646 cases were handled in 1972, 690 in 1973, 725 in 1974 and finally the 819 total, (which was a 10 percent increase in crime over 1974).

Clearances Rise

Part I offenses, which are considered more serious crimes by the FBI, rose slightly from 217 in 1974 to 226 last year. These incidents include criminal homicide, forcible rape, (neither offense was reported last year), robbery, (10 in 1974 and 1975), aggravated assault, (up from two in 1974 to three in 1975), burglary, (up from 44 to 49), larceny-theft except auto, (up from 152 to 155), and auto theft, (up from seven to nine).

These offenses showed a slight increase, but the clearance rate rose even more. Two years ago, a rate of 64 percent was obtained but last year 74 percent of reported Part I crimes were cleared.

Meanwhile, Part II offenses, less serious crimes as classified by the FBI, jumped from 479 to 548 last year. These include "other assaults" and vandalism, both of which increased last year and are points of concern to the division.

The largest increase in numbers was in the vandalism category which rose from 91 to 116, while assaults increased from 36 to 55. Narcotic drug law violations fell from 111 in 1974 to 106 last year, (with marijuana usage (Continued on Page 2)

Store Robber Found Guilty

John William Alexas, who was apprehended by police in Rocksping, Wyo., this November for his part in the April 1974 armed hold-up of the Village Kroger store, pled guilty to armed assault with intent to rob in Wayne County Circuit Court last week.

Alexas, 35, who skipped out on $10,000 bond before his June trial date, was working on a construction team when he was spotted by a Rocksping sheriff. He voluntarily returned to Michigan to face trial.

He will be arraigned Wednesday, February 11.

Youth Service Division Ends Record Year with 819 Cases

incidents dropping from 82 to 73, but liquor law violations increased from nine in 1974 to 17 in 1975.

Need Remains

Overall, the combined Part I, Part II and miscellaneous offense total showed the case load rise of 94 over two years ago, while total clearances dropped slightly from 73 percent in 1974 to 71 percent last year. (This figure still remains consistent considering the heavier load).

In reviewing the division's year, Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, YSD coordinator, cited several factors including the rotation system of division personnel, the shift in emphasis regarding cases and the need for the division in the community.

"Our rotation system, (which was instituted in February 1974 and involves the rotation of personnel every four years), has apparently worked very well," said Mr. Petersen. "It has brought new approaches and new blood into YSD operations."

He cited the shifting emphasis in the types of cases the division handles on a year-to-year basis, e.g., from the use of both hard and soft drugs to an emphasis on alcohol at this time, and the ability of personnel to adjust very well to the different changes in emphasis regarding enforcement.

Apparently there's a continued need for this consolidated operation in the community, an operation which serves all the Pointes, he added.

Supervise Time

The NEWS contacted the division's detectives and explored their reactions to the big case load and their personal assessment of the 1975 school year.

"What bothers me most is that vandalism and larcenies increase every year," said Det. Wayne Baum, (North High School district). "These are crimes which can be prevented if more parents became more involved in supervising their children's free time."

Shoplifting cases, for example, are done after school when young people "float free and easy for a period of time," he stated.

At the same time, he emphasized, "Juvenile crime is on the increase because offenders are not taught by Juvenile Court that they will be prosecuted." As a result, he notes many youths feel that their bad behavior will not get them into problems.

"If we had better service, (from the court), on a quicker basis after a crime has been committed, the case load would go down," he said.

Det. Baum stated he was impressed with the school year. "The percentage of troublesome youths is so low in comparison to mature young people. I'm pleased with the way things are going as opposed to being discouraged," he said. And this he finds heartening.

Demanding Load

The detective added he looks at himself as part of a progressive division, which constantly moves forward, as opposed to just being a person doing his job the way it's always been done. "I try to improve my job and make it better towards making the community a better place to live."

His colleague in the South High School district, Det. Patrick Fagan, said he found the total workload of last year very demanding, while indicating there's no way to gauge what will happen this year.

In stressing that the detectives' work is diversified, i.e., investigating cases, participating in educational programs and community service programs, et al., Det. Fagan questioned, "I don't know how much more we can handle." He said every one completed his work last year, but wondered what the future would hold.

"My days were full and there were many long days," he said. "We can't cut out the programs and the only way to compensate for a larger case load is to extend our working days. I'm apprehensive over what's coming this year."

As for the school year, "my impression is that it was a very good year," stated Det. Fagan, who cited good student attitudes and involvement.

"We were down in drug-related incidents around the schools this year," i.e., the high and middle schools, he said. "But I'm concerned over the rising abuse of alcohol among the student population." As a result, he indicated the division will probably focus more upon this area.

Spirit on Rise

In noting the division has adapted to given situations and problems before regarding the shift from hard drugs to marijuana usage, he said it would adapt itself to the apparent shift to alcohol.

He stated in the entire student population over a given time period, there's a little section which doesn't use drugs or drink alcohol, and a little section which uses hard drugs. What is left is the larger spectrum of young people on the brink in these areas.

"The marijuana area of experimentation is still large but it is smaller than it was in 1974," he said, while noting more of a move into alcohol abuse.

There has been more input on the use of alcohol to the division, he noted. "Concerned students are sharing information on such usage at parties and are expressing a sincere concern over what they observe."

But overall, the detective is pleased with what he has seen on the school front. Having attended many school functions last year, he feels attitudes are up with the "old school spirit" being on the increase.

The YSD is a new experience for Det. Stuart Gerow, (North district), who joined the division last summer. "I've enjoyed my first six months. It's a whole new aspect of law enforcement for me."

More A Part

Before being named to the YSD, he was a uniform patrol officer. And unlike having only initial contact with offenders, the detective, as a member of the division, now "becomes part of a case."

He finds this enlightening but also disheartening as he investigates a wide avenue of cases with, for instance, broken homes or a poor mental attitude playing roles in a young person's participation in certain criminal activity.

The detective said he didn't find the case load overwhelming but quickly indicated this may be because he's only been part of the operation for six months.

"Our percentage of increase in crime is far below the national average, (computed at 18 percent for 1974 over 1973 as reported by the FBI), and serious crimes are below the national average," said Det. Gerow, who then cited the rise in vandalism incidents last year.

Like many others, he can't understand the "why?" behind such activity. "There's a breakdown in discipline where senseless acts don't bother people who commit them. We have out and out cases of stupid vandalism and there's no reason for it."

He also questioned "why?" on runaway cases, which increased from 77 in 1974 to 84 last year, regarding a young person leaving a good location for perhaps something worse.

For Det. Gerow, the school year has been a good one. He's noticed a marked improvement in attitudes stemming from the time he spent on patrol to the present. "The maturity level of youths between 10-16 years has improved greatly and they've done it themselves," he stressed.

In fact, he felt some youths learned from the mistakes made by others in the past.

Cites Importance

"I'm also pleased with the way the YSD and the school system are getting along. They have excellent people who have been very cooperative."

Aware of the importance of the YSD in the community, Det. Gerow added, "I'm not happy that crime is being committed but as long as it is, I'm happy with the bureau which serves five cities. I like it and I hope we can continue—it's very important in the community."

For his part, Det. Donald Schmalz, (South district), indicated each year he expects the case load to increase. He attributed this to more referrals from all Pointe police departments, better police patrol and the acknowledgement of the division by more people.

"Crime is definitely increasing all over and more contacts are expected each year," he said, while noting the division may have to eventually expand to cope with such a trend. And with the increase in cases he fears other division programs might be hindered. But right now, he sees no problem in coping with this. But it could become one in the future.

He was pleased at the drop in drug cases, which he called "time-consuming." As a result, "this gives us more time to handle other cases."

Like his colleagues, Det. Schmalz questioned the rationale involved in citing the plus-25 vandalism cases which were reported to the division. Attributing such incidents to "the poor attitude of some young people," he said the commission of these acts was difficult to understand.

He also pointed out the rise in assault cases requires "more work on our part and on the part of parents."

Stresses Cooperation

The attitude of students is improving each year as the young people become more accustomed to seeing the detectives in the schools, he felt. "I didn't have one real problem all year," said Det. Schmalz, who added the teachers and parents have been very friendly.

As for the hefty clearance rate in the Part I classification, the detective said this resulted from the work of police officers on the road and the "great cooperation" between parents and teachers.

In a final note, Det. Schmalz stated that non-Pointe youths accounted for some of the higher case load last year.

Total case referrals from the Pointe police departments last year showed increases over 1974 in The Woods, Park and Farms and decreases in The City and Shores.

The increase in The Woods was the biggest as 254 cases were referred to the YSD in 1974 in comparison to 340 last year. The Park's total rose from 217 to 231, while The Farms' amount increased from 148 to 157.

Meanwhile, The City referred 73 cases to the division in 1974 and 70 last year, while The Shores' referral rate fell from 33 to 21.

Businesses Told To Remove Ice

Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber has asked for the cooperation of Farms businesses in removing ice and snow from store premises. Chief Ferber reported that an inspection conducted by Farms Patrolman Philip Miglio showed that many of the 60 stores approached had not removed ice and snow from their property, making police surveillance hazardous.

The chief said letters would be sent to offending businesses.

Tim Hoping to Promote Bicentennial in Europe

By Joanne Nicora

While most Americans will be celebrating the Bicentennial with firecrackers, sparklers and parades, there's one young man who won't be doing such things.

In fact, he won't even be in the United States on July 4th—he will be performing for the Queen of England if necessary funds are forthcoming.

Sixteen-year-old Timothy Muccianze, of Fairholme road, recently won second chair trumpet in the Musical Youth International Touring Band, (MYI), which will be touring Europe this summer promoting the Bicentennial.

A junior at North High School, Tim will also be serving as Bicentennial youth advisor to the MYI, expressing "the point of youth and the Bicentennial in Europe."

Tim is chairman of the Bicentennial Youth Division, acknowledged as "the youngest formally recognized committee in the State" by the Michigan Bicentennial Commission.

North principal G. Bruce Feighner said Tim would be a fine representative of American youth and would make a positive contribution to the MYI.

The MYI, consisting of a choir and a concert band, is made up of about 120 youths from the United States. They will be leaving for Europe June 19 and arriving back August 1 for a tour of the White House, and then continue through the United States till the middle of August.

Some of the countries the MYI will visit are Britain, Scotland, Ireland and France. In each country they will be participating in concerts, fairs and other activities with festivities highlighted on July 4th when they will perform for the Queen of England.

In efforts to cover trip expenses, Tim requested the Woods Council for funds, but the council at its regular meeting Monday, January 19, offered Tim their congratulations but declined to utilize tax monies for Tim's trip based on legal advice from City Attorney George Catlin. Mr. Catlin said it would be an unlawful expenditure of tax monies.

Funds for The Woods Bicentennial Commission have been allocated and so a letter was directed to four service organizations in the community — Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club, GPW Lions, GP Rotary Club and the Grosse Pointe Jaycees stressing that Tim needs $1,260 to cover trip expenses. He asked each organization if they would fund one-fifth of the expense with Tim's parents providing the final one-fifth, ($252).

Woods Bicentennial Commission chairman Robert E. Trinklein said a decision hasn't been reached by the service organizations since they don't have their board meetings until Thursday, Feb. 5.

Jaycee Pageant Entries Closed

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees announced they received the largest response of entrants in the history of the Miss Grosse Pointe Scholarship Pageant as 35 young ladies responded this year.

George A. Williamson, pageant publicity director, who said all of the girls were from The Pointe, expressed his pleasure at the total. Twenty-eight responded last year, 15 in 1974, 12 in 1973 and 10 in 1972.

He also announced that tickets, at $3.50 for adults and $2 for students (who must be in high school or those 17 and under), will be on sale the middle of March. The event will be held Saturday, April 10, at Parcels School, 20600 Mack avenue.

The pageant will be kicked off by an introductory tea, Sunday, February 1, at the Lochmoor Club for all entries, their parents, the Jaycees and the pageant committee beginning at 1 p.m.

Rehearsals begin Friday, February 13, with elimination night, (cutting the entry number to 10 finalists), planned for Friday, February 20.

In relation to the 10 finalists, Mr. Williamson said a sponsorship program is scheduled for this year.

Those who are interested in learning more about this program should call Carter Billiu, pageant chairman, at 885-8396 or Mr. Williamson at 882-5449. The deadline for such participation is Tuesday, February 10.

Beautification Body Enlarged

The Woods Beautification Commission has a new look as the council unanimously concurred in the recommendations of Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos and commission chairman Dr. Albert C. Howe in appointing 13 members, including six new faces, to the group.

This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, January 19.

At its meeting Wednesday, January 14, the commission recommended that the following individuals be appointed with terms expiring January 1, 1977: Dr. Howe, of Mack avenue, William Kozara, of Allard road, Joan P. Smith, of Hampton road, corresponding secretary, Peter Coutos, of Lingemann, St. Clair Shores, Michael Zollik, of Norwood drive, vice-chairman, Jessie Lawther, of Littlestone road, and Margaret Carlson, of Roslyn road.

Meanwhile, Marcia Mercadante is student representative to the group.

PRINCIPAL APPROVED

Dr. Alfreda Frost's initial year of probation as principal of Defer Elementary School was approved at the Board of Education's regular Monday, January 12, meeting. She is now entitled to the multiple-year contract normally issued to administrators.

Bruce Wins Jaycee Award

In his nomination form, Dr. Adams noted since Mr. Bruce assumed leadership of the Neighborhood Club in 1971, its membership has more than doubled from 2,000 to 5,200, while the number of programs available has more than doubled from 18 to 39, (including leagues and classes), with the major growth occurring in activities planned for the young adult population.

"By any objective criteria applied to the organization—its increase in financial resources, expansion of program offerings or growth of membership — Mr. Bruce's tenure has seen the Neighborhood Club more than double its scope of community activity and influence," he said.

The superintendent also viewed Mr. Bruce's "successful, extremely youthful and community-oriented life" and his contributions on a number of levels including his election as a trustee of the Board of Education in 1974, (the youngest person to be so honored in the more than half-century of the school district's existence).

Other contributions which Dr. Adams cited include Mr. Bruce's membership on the Department of Community Services Advisory Committee, being a board member of Environmental Action Now, a baseball and football team manager and coach in the Babe Ruth League for 10 years his membership on the Pierce and Defer PTO and his work as chairman of the marijuana from inside the auto.

Defer Millage Campaign Committee.

Mr. Bruce joins the following DSA Award recipients: John Prost, president of the PTO-PTA Council, 1969; former School Board trustee William Adams, 1970; State Rep. William Bryant, 1971; former Youth Service Division Det. John Kendall, who's now police chief in Harbor Springs, 1972; Pieter vanHorne, a member of the Jaycees, 1973; Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber, 1974; and Raymond V. Ingham, director of the Department of Cardiorespiratory Services at Bon Secours Hospital, 1975.

After the suspect exited, Sgt. Davidson spotted a plastic bag of suspected marijuana in plain view on the floor of the car on the driver's side. He also discovered a long, chrome roach holder.

The driver was asked to give the officer the bag of suspected marijuana and the suspect handed him another bag from the area of the auto console, along with a burnt roach.

At this point, the driver was asked if he would open his trunk and he did so. Inside, the sergeant found a cardboard box containing the 26 plastic bags and the pair were transported to the station.

A further check of the vehicle was made at headquarters and another bag of suspected marijuana was found in the glove box.

Meanwhile, a small bag of suspected marijuana was found on the girl's person, police added.

The people who lift the world upward and onward are the ones who encourage—not criticize.

Probe Fires

Chief Schultz and Farms Det. Joseph Miller conducted an arson investigation into the fire the next day, Thursday, January 22.

The investigation is still continuing, and as yet, no complete report on damages is available.

Police Nab Four Youths

said the pattern on the bottom matched the footprints in the snow which Officer Harwood followed.

At this point, the youth was read his rights. He denied any involvement in the burglary in which $4 from a wallet was reported missing.

A hunting jacket draped over a kitchen chair was identified by the youth as his own. The officers were allowed to examine this article and discovered a torn seam on the zipper front with particles of down falling from it.

(Similar particles were found on black carpeting of the stairway and in the master bedroom of the burglarized home).

When asked how much money he had, the boy replied about $2, police said. However, he took out $4 from his pants pocket. At this moment, he still denied involvement.

Back at the scene of the crime, another check was made of the footprints in the snow at the rear of the home. They matched the boots in both size and pattern. The unknown particles found in the stairway and bedroom also matched the down from the hunting jacket.

Police returned to the youth's home and the boy then admitted his involvement. Officers learned another youth also was allegedly involved and went to his house. He, too, admitted entering the house.

Meanwhile, the other break-in was reported late Friday evening, January 23, by a 13-year-old youth who said his Hawthorne road residence had been entered.

The boy said he was last in the house earlier in the evening and stated his mother was away so he was staying with a friend.

He came home from a movie and immediately noticed the odor of beer. Then he looked out the back door and saw the arrested pair, (a 15-year-old Woods lane boy and a 16-year-old East Ida lane youth), running through the backyard with two girls.

The complainant stated the Ida lane juvenile returned to the back porch and retrieved a purse and a pair of mittens before fleeing the scene. Both were ultimately apprehended by Sgt. James Davidson.

The sergeant said he stopped the boys on Hollywood and Mack in front of a beauty salon after receiving a radio run on the incident. The Woods lane youth had six cans of beer on his person, the officer stated.

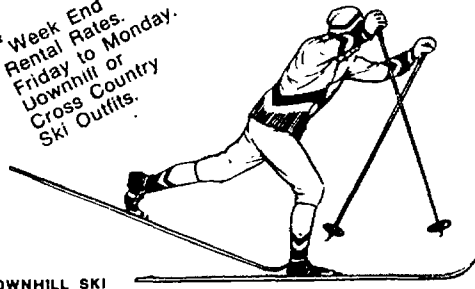

The complainant added that nothing appeared to have been taken from the home.

Those who will be setting such rates includes the city, (sometime in May), the school district, Wayne County, the Wayne County Intermediate School District, Wayne County Community College and the drain tax, (which he said was strictly principal and interest).

It's possible there could be a seven percent increase in all taxes if rates remain as they were last year, he said.

Based upon information from the equalization board, the factors of the other Points this year are 1.16, The Farms; 1.14, The Shores; 1.11, The City; and 1.09, The Park.

Finally, The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, January 19, unanimously approved a resolution authorizing the Board of Review to convene in the council room of the municipal building, 20025 Mack avenue, on Tuesdays, March 9 and 23, from 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

It also notes that Board of Review members will receive the sum of $40 per day per member.

There's never been a better time to get to know us better. Because 1975 was our strongest year to date. A year of solid growth and fiscal strength. During the year we expanded banking services into the Detroit suburbs of Livonia, Troy, Southfield and Warren. In addition, a leasing company was established. The results of our efforts produced a new record of deposit totals and consolidated earnings. Good reasons to get to know us better. After all, we've been growing steadily ever since 1849.

Park, Shores to Attend Water Rate Hike Protest

By James J. Njaim

Two Pointe councils appointed representatives to attend a meeting to be held in Livonia's Senior Citizens' Building, Farmington and Nine Mile roads, on Monday, February 9, at the invitation of that community's Mayor Edward H. McNamara.

At Monday night's meeting, January 26, The Park Council approved the appointments of Mayor Matthew Patterson, City Manager Robert Slone and City Attorney Richard Rohr, to represent the city in a mounting protest against Detroit's proposed 39 percent hike in the water rates. The meeting will be attended by more than 40 cities, villages and townships buying water from Detroit.

At its meeting Tuesday morning, January 27, The Shores Council accepted volunteers to act as the Village's representatives. They are Trustee C. F. Ogden, Village Superintendent Thomas J. Feris and Village Attorney William Killebrew. These three, it was pointed out, will be at the session to determine why Detroit is demanding such a high increase in the water rate, which is scheduled to go into effect on May 1.

Mr. Ogden said that he has not seen any figures to substantiate the proposed raise in rates. He feels that Detroit has over-built more water filtration plants than needed to operate this huge system. He named a plant building that has been completed and is not even being used.

Mr. Ogden said that he would like to be at the meeting solely for the reason to find out if the increase is justified.

Park Assistant City Attorney Herold Deason said the session was called by Mr. McNamara, who was on the Detroit Metropolitan Water Board (DMWB), one of three representatives of suburban communities appointed to the Board by Detroit's Mayor Coleman Young. Last July, when the Board announced a proposed increase in both sewage disposal and water rates to all of its customers, Mayor McNamara protested and was promptly fired by Young.

The sewage disposal rate hike is already in effect and serviced communities were forced to pass the increase on to their customers. Last month, DMWA announced the 39 percent raise in the water rate, and all, or a majority of the communities buying water from Detroit, raised a vigorous protest, declaring they will fight the proposed hike.

Mr. Eason said that State Rep. William J. Bryant has offered his help in the battle to keep the water cost down. The representative might attend the Livonia meeting. At any rate, he is available, if needed, he is reported to have said.

The appointed representatives of The Park and Shores Councils will make their reports at the first council meetings following the Livonia protest gathering.

Cherish your freedom — in some areas, a private opinion is considered a public offense.

Woods Cites Ten Officials

Former Woods Councilman and Planning Commission member Rodger A. Graef was cited along with nine other persons at the regular meeting of The Woods Council Monday, January 19.

Mr. Graef, who now resides on the west coast, received a framed plaque in grateful recognition and appreciation of his service to the city as a councilman from 1971-75 and as a commissioner from 1961-71. "I accept this with humble appreciation," he said, while noting he'll always have a "soft spot" in his heart for the community.

Framed Certificates of Appreciation were presented to nine others in recognition of their service on a variety of commissions. The only person present to receive his certificate was Robert C. Boyd, Senior Citizens Commission.

Other citations went to Andrew J. Campbell and Gordon W. Long, Senior Citizens Commission; David C. Feris, Citizens Recreation Commission; and Donald Brown, Planning Commission.

Still more include Ray MacArthur, citizen member, Board of Trustees Pension Board, and John Kelsey, Francis J. Robinson and Robert D. Wandschneider, Insurance Commission.

Students Salute America's Past

Monteith students presented a Bicentennial salute on Thursday, January 22, as they sang about America's past.

Monteith's 82-voice choir, accompanied by former Monteith instrumental students, sang and played 12 songs honoring America in the one hour presentation.

William Flemming, Monteith PTO president, narrated while students spoke and showed slides of historical significance. Many of the slides were made by William Raupagh's on-stage class while some were bought commercially.

Coordinator Mrs. Jeane Zech, music teacher, worked with the fifth and sixth graders since the end of October and said it was the "biggest thing they've ever done."

The program was presented by the Monteith's PTO.

Woods Police Return Escapee

A 39-year-old woman, who escaped from the Pontiac State Hospital, was recovered by Woods police at the residence of some friends Thursday afternoon, January 22.

Officer Paul Crook received a call to a Littlestone road home on the report of the escapee, who was in possession of a stolen cab. At the scene, he spotted the cab in the driveway, ran a LEIN (Law Enforcement Information Network) check and learned it was stolen from Royal Oak that same day.

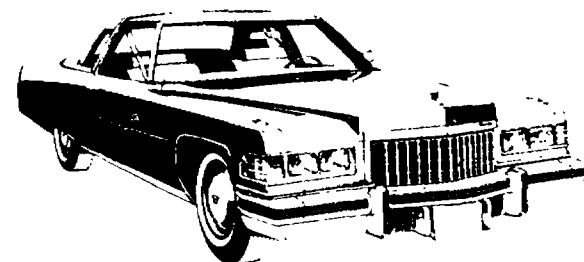

After the residents invited Officer Crook and Sgt. William Lentz inside, they found the escapee sitting at the kitchen table. The citizens said she escaped from the hospital, stole a cab and drove it to their home as she was an old school friend. The woman confirmed this information.

Sgt. Lentz then called the Clinton Valley Center, Pontiac, and an employee confirmed the woman's escape from the center. She also requested the woman be transported back.

Meanwhile, the owner of the cab was contacted, while Royal Oak police were notified of the vehicle's recovery.

Futuro Thermolastic Comforters provide a gentle combination of warmth plus compression to soothe stiff and aching joints and to help reduce edema.

The soothing properties of Thermolastic Comforters lie in Futuro's precise blending of basic fibers to achieve the unique benefit offered by each.

CASHMERE FOR WARMTH
Futuro's exclusive Thermolastic yarn contains 50% Cashmere, blended with 30% lambs wool for extra strength and 20% acrylic for body and softness. The extra-long, extra-thin fibers of Cashmere provide three times the warmth of ordinary wool, with much less weight.

ELASTOMER FOR COMPRESSION
Carefully selected yarns are wrapped around a strand of elastomer to provide lightweight, long-lasting support and compression.

OLEFIN FOR SOFTNESS
Futuro Thermolastic Knee, Elbow and Ankle Comforters provide a layer of Olefin fiber next to your skin. Olefin is a delightfully soft, completely inert, non-allergenic fiber. Body moisture is wicked through the Olefin to the outside Thermolastic layer where it is evaporated into the air. Even on warm summer days, your skin feels dry.

Arnold's offers four styles of Futuro Thermolastic Comforters for the hand, ankle, knee and elbow to provide day long or night time comfort as you prefer. Fully hand washable and available in a wide range of sizes to assure a perfect, comfortable fit.

Three Program Courses Picked by Woods Seniors

By Roger A. Waha

Three courses were selected by Woods senior citizens at their meeting Thursday, January 22, towards beginning a program of free special college courses for seniors of all the Pointes.

The trio of classes, in which a minimum of 15 persons per class is necessary, include legal affairs of later life, physical fitness after 50 and beginners golf.

Around 50 questionnaires indicating the seniors' choices were submitted, reported Frank Komerska, project chairman. "We hope to start out with the first class, (legal affairs), the first week in March. We're in the process of seeking instructors for the three courses and then we'll go to Dr. Eddington, (Dr. George T. Eddington, assistant to Pointe School Superintendent Dr. James A. Adams), to find out about space."

At this time, he hopes the legal affairs course might run for 10 weeks with seniors meeting for one two-hour session per week. But this isn't definite. And it's possible that a swimming class might be included in the physical fitness course.

Mr. Komerska said he received around three calls from interested citizens outside The Woods area. At least two of these were from residents of other Pointes and one was from a Detroit citizen.

While he was somewhat surprised over the fact that just 50 questionnaires were submitted, he indicated he wasn't discouraged. "I feel once the program gets started, the word will spread and it will expand."

The opportunity to obtain such courses for seniors was sparked last month at a meeting between representatives of The Woods, its Senior Citizens Commission, the Grosse Pointe Board of Education and Wayne County Community College, (WCCC).

Those attending that session included Mr. Komerska, Senior Citizens Commission chairman Irene Sutton, Woods Administrative Aide Gerard McNamara, WCCC representative Laura Hardy and Dr. Eddington.

Mr. McNamara noted the plan was part of WCCC's program of "shelter courses," classes designed for special interest groups. He previously said WCCC could provide a salary for the instructor and would try to acquire class space. If rent was necessary for such space, he indicated the college would pay for it; if space was free, that would be fine.

For further information on the program, call Mr. Komerska at 881-1543.

Suspect Named In Art Theft

The Farms Police Department has announced that a warrant has been signed against a suspect in the double art theft that took place at the home of Farms resident George Simon, of Vendome road.

Donald James Fromm, 23, of 19512 W. Grand Boulevard, Detroit, was arraigned before Farms Judge Robert Pytell, on Wednesday morning, January 21, on charges of breaking and entering an occupied building.

The investigation of the thefts was conducted by Farms Detectives Earl Field and Joseph Miller.

The Simon home was originally burglarized on November 11, 1975, when $119,000 worth of paintings and two shotguns were stolen from the home. Responding to a phone call from an anonymous tipster, the Farms police recovered the paintings from behind a restaurant on Kelly road in East Detroit, on Thursday December 11.

Later that night, or early Friday morning, December 12, the Simon home was burglarized again and the thief removed two paintings and two small porcelain art works.

On Sunday, December 28, Det. Field received a call from Mr. Simon who reported that he had just received a phone call telling where the stolen paintings were located.

At the Simon home, Det. Field found the paintings hidden in an unfinished room in the basement. The room, originally designed to be a one-lane bowling alley when the home was first built, was sealed off from the rest of the basement.

Det. Miller reported that all of the stolen articles have been recovered with the exception of the shotguns.

The police reported that Fromm apparently knew the Simon family, having originally been a friend of some of the Simon children. The Farms police also reported that Fromm had at one time lived at the Simon home, occupying a room over the garage.

Fromm is currently released on a $5,000 bond.

Appeals Board Slates Hearing

A Board of Appeals hearing date of Monday, February 2, was unanimously set by The Woods Council on a request from an Allard avenue resident on a fence complaint.

This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, January 19.

Harland G. Stone asked for the hearing so he could attach a six-foot fence on his property in an effort to protect his home, garage and grounds from being damaged by "balls and other things" that hit his home and garage from his neighbor's yard.

In a letter to the council, he also expressed concern over the stench via his neighbor's dog, which is "very bad."

CAMOUFLAGE

Many people find that it's easier to criticize than to admit they are at fault.

Learning by Doing

(Continued from Page 1) of tests given by the curriculum department. Audio tests that gauged a student's ability to recognize and repeat rhythms and melodies, to read notes and to spot notes with their ears, were given to all third graders in January and again in June after they had completed a semester of traditional or Orff classes.

Test results showed that boys in Orff classes advanced significantly more than those in traditional classes. The same held true for students in high and low I.Q. groups, on a three-group scale. Middle I.Q. girls did about equally as well in both classes.

Mr. McCaig's explanation of the boys' success with Orff was that the added physical involvement in the program kept their interest longer when they might normally have become bored and impatient. As for the high and low I.Q. groups' improvement, Mr. McCaig pointed to the relative lack of structure and student freedom under the Orff method.

"In a traditional class we must, because of the time and structure limitations, teach to the middle most of the time," he explained.

"In Orff classes students can move at their own rate. They are free to spend a little more time with something and also have the opportunity to experiment with new sounds and expressions before the rest of the class."

Orff programs are now in their second year at Defer, Richard and Trombly elementary schools. The program began with an $800 grant from the Foundation for Academic Enrichment. All elementary schools were offered the option of taking on the program, with the requirement that their PTO-PTA provide the additional $700-$800 to purchase the instruments. So far no Board of Education money has gone into the program.

Jr. Symphony Slates Concert

The Grosse Pointe Junior Symphony will be featuring 15-year-old Nathan L. Judson as soloist at their concert on Tuesday, February 3, at Parcels Middle School auditorium.

Nathan, who also plays with the North High Symphony Band and Orchestra as well as the Grosse Pointe Symphony, will perform the solo in the first movement of Mozart's Concerto No. 3 for Horn and Orchestra. Conducting the group will be Nathan's father, Nathan C. Judson.

The performance will also include Tchaikovsky's Romeo and Juliet, Sibelius' Finlandia, Op. 26, No. 7, Handel's Suite for Orchestra from "Water Music," Stone's New Glory and Russian Sailors' Dance from the "Red Poppy" by Gliere.

Tickets for the 8 p.m. concert are $1 for adults and half-price for students. They are available from orchestra members and at the door.

Junior Symphony members are selected by audition from the public and private schools of Grosse Pointe. The upper age limit is tenth grade. This year the symphony includes almost 80 students from fifth-tenth grade.

Woods to Buy Pool Equipment

Two recreation-related proposals were viewed by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, January 19.

In one, the solons concurred in a Committee of the Whole, (C-W), recommendation authorizing the purchase of pool equipment based upon an earlier recommendation from the Citizens Recreation Commission.

The equipment includes eleven 50-meter racing lanes at a cost of $3,510, including freight; four Competitor Store-Lane reels at $1,110, including freight; and one Competitor pacer clock with lens and roll away stand at $155.

Part of the motion stipulated the matter of the purchase of checking pins at a cost of $480 be referred to the C-W.

In another action, the council concurred in a C-W recommendation to delete a commission recommendation on a proposed pre-fab gate house at The Lake Front Park.

This was referred to the attention of City Administrator Chester E. Petersen and to the finance committee, who are scheduled to consider this item during the preparation of the 1976-77 fiscal year city budget.

Edison Fights to Keep Giving Away Light Bulbs

The Detroit Edison Co. has asked the U.S. Supreme Court to allow it to continue distributing light bulbs without cost to the consumer at the time of exchange. Discontinuance of this long-standing Edison practice, the company said, could cost its customers more than $3 million a year.

Lawrence Cantor, a Detroit drug store owner acting on behalf of himself and an alleged class of drug store owners, claimed in a 1973 suit that Detroit Edison's light bulb policy is in violation of Federal antitrust laws because it takes business away from retailers who could otherwise sell more light bulbs to their customers.

Quoting from a brief filed Tuesday, January 6, with the U.S. Supreme Court, Leon S. Cohan, Edison vice-president and general counsel, said, "The lamp program provides substantial cost savings to Detroit Edison's customers who obtain under it longer-lived bulbs at about 50 to 75 percent less than what the leading manufacturers recommend and the petitioner, (the drug store owner), charges."

"Petitioner's objective is to protect traditional retailers by denying consumers the economies of mass purchasing of light bulbs on behalf of consumers and to substitute the higher priced, lower quality bulbs he offers.

"Petitioner has offered an unusual and highly technical theory which, if accepted, would cost Detroit Edison's customers millions of dollars. Elimination of the lamp supply program would deny customers in Detroit Edison's service area the advantages obtained from competitive bidding among the three major light bulb manufacturers. Detroit Edison provides these light bulbs to consumers at cost while petitioner obtains a 50 percent mark-up."

Mr. Cohan further explained that in 1972 Detroit Edison purchased 18.5 million light bulbs at a cost of $2,835,000. "If our customers had purchased the same number of bulbs from retailers such as the petitioner, they would have been likely to pay almost $6 million for them. In other words, the cost to consumers in Southeastern Michigan would have increased by more than $3 million," he said.

Successful prosecution of the antitrust theory proposed by Mr. Cantor would result in preserving the interest of high-margin retailers rather than in serving the public's interest in the efficient provision of electric lighting at low cost, according to Mr. Cohan.

The U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, Southern Division, entered a judgment in favor of Detroit Edison in 1974 and this judgment was affirmed by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit in April 1975. Mr. Cantor appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court last October.

Detroit Edison customers have been able to exchange burned out bulbs for new ones since the company's incorporation in 1903. Cost of the service is included in the rate structure which is regulated by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Power is not to be regarded as conferring privileges, but by imposing serious obligations.

League to See Tribute Slides

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present a 35mm slide show by three of its members as a Bicentennial tribute when it meets Monday, February 2, in the Fries Auditorium of the Memorial at 8 p.m.

Harold Hammond's portion of the program, "Potpourri USA," will feature the Virginia cities of Jamestown, Williamsburg and Richmond, and scenes in Pennsylvania of Gettysburg and Valley Forge.

Gerald Pearsall's pictures will be divided into three sections, early settlements in Virginia and Massachusetts, followed by towns of importance during the War for Independence. Post-Revolutionary War scenes include Savannah, Ga. The War Between the States period includes plantation homes along the Mississippi, followed by views of American folk dances.

The presentation by Esther Peters will take the audience to the country's newest states and cover highlights of Alaska and Hawaii.

The public is invited to attend the film program without charge.

Members of the Cinema League will adjourn to the Fries Ballroom following the program for a reception. A special feature added to round out the evening is a songfest of favorite old classic American folk melodies.

HARKNESS PHARMACY

American people, on the average, are well-fed. The experts say that we are extremely well-fed, when compared with the people of many other nations. It has even been estimated that approximately one hundred million persons have died in China directly from starvation during the past century. Seventy per cent of the 2 1/2 billion people in the world are undernourished. Even though Americans in general are well-fed, however, some studies indicate that some of the undernourished people of the world live in the United States, too.

Bring your prescriptions to HARKNESS PHARMACY, 20315 Mack ave. at Lochmoor Blvd. for prompt, professional service. We maintain a complete "patient profile" record system as a safeguard in filling your prescriptions. We also keep complete family records which are available to you to help you obtain proper credit at income tax time. Call us at 881-3100 for free prescription delivery. Twelve Year Effort Ends With Unprecedented Flavor In Low Tar Smoke.

New 'Enriched Flavor' discovery for 9 mg. tar MERIT achieves taste of cigarettes having 60% more tar.

The greatest challenge to cigarette makers in the last two decades has been how to make a low tar cigarette that wasn't "low" in taste.

It seemed impossible.
Until today.

After twelve long, hard, often frustrating years, Philip Morris has developed the way to do it.

The cigarette is called MERIT. It

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined
That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

delivers only 9 mg. of tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today. Yet MERIT delivers astonishing flavor.

If you're looking to become a low tar smoker, or don't particularly enjoy the taste of the low tar brand you smoke now—you'll be interested.

Low Tar, Good Taste: Filters Fall Short

Like most everyone else, we tried to design special "low tar, good taste" filters. Special filters that would somehow allow taste through but not tar.

Like others, we experienced the same general kind of results: the lower the tar, the lower the taste.

So for flavor, we concentrated on the business end of smoking. The tobacco end.

And decided if we wanted more flavor to come through, we'd just have to find a way to start with more.

Smoke Cracked:

'Enriched Flavor' Discovery

So we began an exhaustive research program in cigarette smoke analysis and the ingredients that actually comprise cigarette taste.

By using a very sensitive instrument called an Analytical Fractometer, we were able to "crack" cigarette smoke down into its various ingredients.

We found there are over 2000 separate ingredients in smoke.

Each was isolated and analyzed, one by one.

What we discovered was startling: there are ingredients in tobacco—"key" basic flavor units—that deliver taste way out-of-proportion to tar.

Breakthrough.

By fortifying tobacco with these natural flavor essentials, we're now able to pack flavor—extraordinary flavor—into a cigarette without the usual increase in tar.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor.' It's extra flavor. Flavor that can't burn out, can't fade out, can't do anything but come through for you.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar cigarette brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of smokers were involved. Smokers of filter cigarettes like yourself, all tested at home.*

The results were conclusive:

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

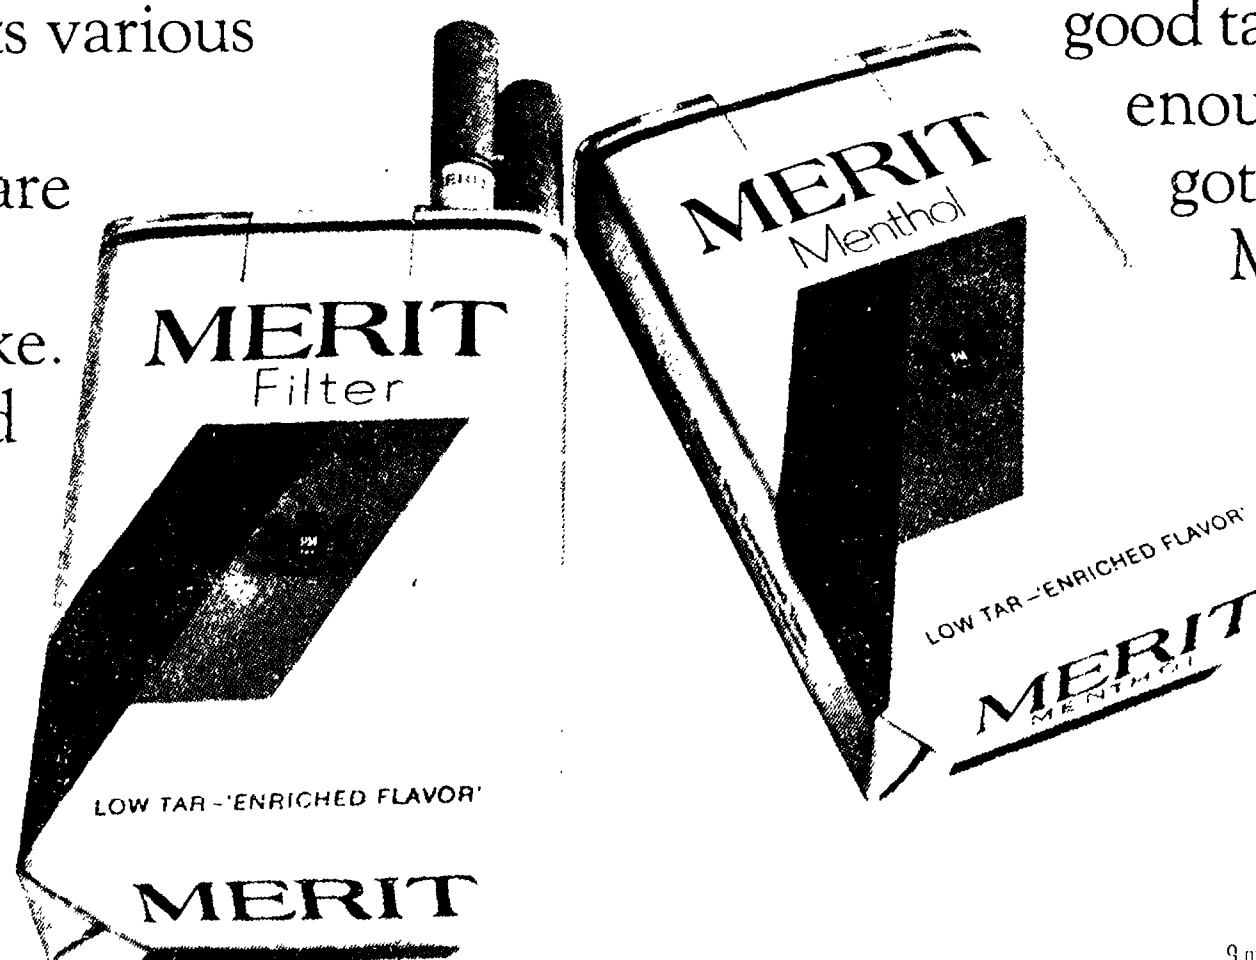

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly, too, delivering as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now you've got the cigarette. MERIT.

Incredible smoking pleasure at only 9 mg. tar.

Knights Hockey Team Leading

By Cheryl Keith
The ULS Knights have started their 1975-76 hockey season off on a positive note by skating to a 7-0-1 record, making them undefeated in the second division of the Michigan Metro High School Hockey League.

The Knights only tie was to Detroit Country Day, whom they had previously beaten 3-2. In this game the powerful team of Jeff Logan and Mark Gulyas scored the Knights' two goals while Country Day tied the game halfway through the second period.

Another Knight high point was defeating Austin twice. The first game the Knights won 5-2 with Peter Logan, Jeff Logan and Mark Gulyas notching all 5 ULS goals.

The next meeting the ULS puckman skated away with a 4-1 victory.

Another quick victory came on the road, December 13, when the Knights traveled to Jackson and defeated Jackson-Lumen Christi 4-0.

For the Knights' next three games, coach Larry Desmond made a line-up change. As the team rolled over Lake-land 8-1, the new second line, consisting of Sam Sherer, Dave Buhl and John Hastings, scored three goals for the Knights in the first period.

In the following game, against Andover, the second line came through again with senior Sam Sherer scoring a goal early in the third period of the game. In this clash, the Knights rallied with three goals per period to a 9-1 victory over the slow-moving Bloomfield Hills Andover team.

The Knights last game was a very close 5-3 win over Oak Park. Mark Gulyas led the scoring with two goals and two assists while Jeff Logan was close behind with one goal and two assists.

The three key defensemen for the Knights, Todd Shulock, Rick Fruehauf and John Wardell all played well.

Goalie Mike Merlo played a very good game. Thus far this season Mike has made 139 saves out of the 152 shots taken on him in eight games, leaving him with a 1.50 goals-against-average.

At the rate the fast moving team is going now, coach Desmond is looking very optimistically toward the state finals in March.

South's Cagers Grab Two Wins

By Tom Shine
In an emotion-packed game, South High's cagers scored a big victory over powerhouse Mount Clemens Friday night, January 23, 52-49.

The Devils also defeated Notre Dame on Tuesday, January 20, 52-39.

The win over Mount Clemens was the first for the Devils against the Bathers in three years of Eastern Michigan League play. The win also put South all alone in first place with a 5-0 league mark while Mount Clemens dropped to 5-1.

South began the game with a slow, conservative offense to try and slow down the speedy Bathers. The strategy worked as South jumped to an early lead and Mount Clemens constantly lost the ball while hurrying their fast break.

The Bathers got hot though, and took a 16-10 lead as the quarter ended.

As the second quarter started, the Bathers threatened to put the game away but the Devils kept fighting and never trailed by more than 10. South then staged a rally to pull within one point but poor foul shooting cost the Devils a chance to take the lead and allowed the Bathers to boost their margin to 31-24 at the half.

The tempo of the game increased even more as the third quarter began. South applied some good defense and scored eight straight points to go ahead for the first time since the opening quarter.

For the rest of the period, the lead changed hands several times and was never more than one or two points either way. The Bathers scored the last basket of the quarter to take a 38-37 lead.

The fourth quarter was pure excitement from beginning to end, as fans on both sides stood the entire quarter. The pace of the game didn't slacken a bit as the play became very physical and five players fouled out.

South led most of the quarter but poor foul-shooting again held the margin to under three points. With only 28 seconds left, South led 50-48 with Mount Clemens at the foul line. The Bathers only made one shot but South lost the ball again with 14 seconds to play.

The Bathers' last chance ended when a foul was called on each team and they lost the ensuing jump ball. John Wilson sank two technical foul shots to seal the victory.

Grant Piche and Bob Conlan each scored 10 points and played an excellent game as did Nino Tocco. Drew Peterson also scored 10 and center Jim Parsons helped the Devils control the boards.

The Notre Dame game was a complete turn around from the Mount Clemens battle. The play was very slow and the game itself was quite boring.

Both teams encountered scoring difficulties in the opening quarter which ended with Notre Dame on top, 10-6. In fact, South's shooting was so bad, Piche was the only player who scored for the Devils.

The Devils came out a different team in the second quarter. They ran, dominated the boards, played tough defense, and took a 23-20 lead into the locker room at the half.

Although South's shooting cooled off in the third quarter, their defense was stifling. They blocked several shots and allowed Notre Dame only nine points. Yet, the Devils only led by seven, 36-29, at the end of the quarter.

As the fourth quarter began, South expanded its lead to 12 points and the game was all but over.

Piche was high scorer with 15 points while Conlan added 10.

Reggiani Elected
Thomas J. Reggiani, of Elm court, has been elected to the board of directors of Fruehauf Corporation. A 26-year veteran of Fruehauf, Mr. Reggiani is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin in business administration. He is a member of the Detroit Athletic Club, Lochmoor Club and is a director of the Metro-Detroit Board of the YMCA.

Sherwood Tops Watford Team

Grosse Pointe's Sherwood Forest Hockey club put it all together Saturday night, Jan. 24, and sent Watford, Ont. back to Canada suffering a 9-1 defeat.

Goalie Randy Wilson for Sherwood made his home debut as he stopped 35 shots from Watford. At the other end of the rink, Sherwood forwards were busy blasting 68 shots on the Watford goalie.

The victory moved Sherwood two points ahead of Forest, Ont. for the last playoff spot.

Rich Nadon continued his goal scoring surge by scoring the three goal hat trick. This marks the fifth time this season Nadon has scored three goals in a single game.

Joe Gerbe added two, while single goal scorers were Paul Nadon, Henry Altme and Mark Codiere.

Sherwood's showdown with Forest, Ont., scheduled for Sunday night, Jan. 25, was postponed because of bad weather.

Sherwood this week will travel to Dresden, Ont., Thursday night, January 29, and will return Saturday night, Jan. 31, to meet first place Petrolia, Ont.

Last season the Petrolia Jets were league and playoff champs, along with winning the All Ontario Senior Playoffs in Canada.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe Community Arena.

St. James Sets Leitz Mass

Saint James Lutheran Church, 170 McMillan road, will feature the Leitz Mass, the modified jazz setting of the traditional liturgy of the Order of Holy Communion of "The Lutheran Hymnal," on Sunday, February 1, at the 11 a.m. service. Pastor George Kurz will lead the worship, and the sermon will be preached by Pastor George Schelter.

A rehearsal led by Herman Klein, director of music at Saint James, will be offered from 10:40-11 a.m., acquainting the worshippers with the music of the liturgy as well as the music of some different folk hymns used throughout the service.

Amanda Haddad will sing a solo, and a duet by Sue Kamischke and Mike Dixon also will be featured. Ten guitarists will accompany the singers and offer some selections while Elaine Wright will accompany on the piano.

Members and guests of Saint James have participated in similar services on six previous occasions and each of the celebrations has been enthusiastically received by those who have participated in them.

SABOL APPOINTED

Woods Councilman John Sabol was unanimously appointed as the city's "legislative coordinator" for the 1976 legislative session by his colleagues at the regular meeting Monday, January 5. The coordinator request came from Robert E. Fryer, director, Michigan Municipal League.

Clubs Compete in Tournament

Tom Seiter and Dick Crawford, new owners of Gray's Sport Shop, wasted no time in plunging into the Grosse Pointe communities athletic scene this past weekend.

They sponsored the first annual Gray's Men's Platform Tennis Invitational, Saturday, January 24, matching 46 "A" and "B" division players representing area clubs in an interclub tournament.

The host clubs, Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and Lochmoor Club made exceptionally strong showings with the GPYC winning the team plaque and Lochmoor Club running second.

They were then followed by the Country Club of Detroit and the Detroit Boat Club in that order.

Individual team honors in the "A" division were captured by Steve Puvette and Toby Leith of the GPYC in a hard fought, three set match with runners up George Black and Jim Symington of the Country Club of Detroit.

"B" division team title was won by Scott McDuffee and

NH Swimmers Beat Lakeshore

By Sarah Belich
The North High School Varsity swim team chalked up their third Bi-County League victory with a 132-40 win over St. Clair Shores Lakeshore.

The Norsemen received first place points in all of the 11 events. Excellent times were turned in by Scott Nixon in the 50 yard freestyle, Mark Gerganoff in the 100 yard breaststroke, and John Dimond in the 100 yard backstroke. All three swimmers qualified for the State finals.

This meet is to be held at the University of Michigan, Friday-Saturday, March 12-13.

Other fine efforts were turned in by Pete Koenig, Matt Brady, David Howe, Chuck Stoyka, Shawn Garman, Shawn Lakin, Andy Howe, and Doug Rentschler.

Divers Mike Brown, Dan Paterak, Dennis Savage, and Rich Causley also did a good job by finishing in first, second, third, and fourth place positions.

Norsemen's Coach Tom Teetaert was pleased by his teams performance.

The next meet for the Norsemen will be against the Lakeview Huskies, Tuesday, January 27, at 7 p.m. in the Lakeview pool on 11 Mile road and Harper.

Pointe Tankers Upset Dearborn

By Judy Bartsch

With 26 first place wins and 27 seconds, all Pointe Swim Club upset Dearborn Recreation 286 to 257. The dual meet was held on December 11, at Dearborn.

High point achievers of the evening were: Barbara Belfore, swimming to first place in the girls' 18 year, 100 yard free, as well as the 50 yard fly.

She was also on the winning mixed 200 free relay team with Elaine Schmidt, Donald Dittmars, and Gary Gorenflo.

In the 14 and under girls' Jean Zerweck racked up two single wins with her 50 yard free and fly. She also placed first in the medley relay which included Marge Zerweck, Suzy Spilos, and Ann Vanker.

Ten-year-old Tom Bartsch was the only boy's top scorer with a first in his 50 yard free and fly, and was a member of the winning mixed 100 yard free relay with teammates Ryndy Dittmars, Andy Scott, and Colleen Lorenz.

Dearborn didn't have a chance for any first places in the 8 and under girls' events. Gina Bartoszewicz, swimming, took a first in the 250 yard fly and breast. Sara Colegrove took the 25 yard back and free.

Gaining blue ribbons in single events and being part of winning relays were: Maire Zerweck, for the 50 yard breast; Bob Chapelle, for the 100 yard free; Peter Huebner in the boy's 50 yard back; Ryndy Dittmars for the 50 yard free and Andy Scott, for the 50 yard backstroke.

Robbie Chown won the boy's 8 and under 25 yard fly with a time of 19.1. Another 8-year-old, Jon Spitz, nosed out his teammate Bill Luberto in the 25 yard back with a time of 21.0.

Dave Zerweck came in first in the 12 and under 50 yard breast.

Kathy Nally came in first with a time of 32.5 in the 14 and under 50 yard ack, and not far behind was All Pointer, Jenny Elie who took a second place.

Another 14-year old, Barbara Wybo, scored in the 50 yard breast stroke.

The 18 and under 50 yard back was won by Liz Donovan for the girls' and Mark Seely for the boys.

The boy's medley relay team of Pete Huebner, Bob

Chapelle, Gary Belfore, and Mike Bartoszewicz, was way ahead of their opponents with other blue ribbon for the a time of 2:18.4 to gain a team.

Sheri Ryszewski was placed second on the girl's 8 and under breaststroke.

Les Roddis, the team coach, is still in need of boys, ages 10, 11 and 12, to fill vacancies.

If anyone is interested, contact Barb Ryszewski at 882-6162.

Skiers to See Racing Movies

The Grosse Pointe Ski Club will feature an exciting film on downhill racing, entitled, "The Ski Racer" at their meeting on Wednesday, February 4, in the Reception Room of the War Memorial at 8:00 p.m.

Refreshments will be served. Guests are welcome.

The Ski Club's first northern Michigan trip to Boyne Highlands was enjoyed by all participants. The next trip will be to Collingwood, Ont. the weekend of February 6.

How to open a wine bottle? As simple as this is, many otherwise sophisticated hosts fail to do this properly. Cut and remove the capsule below the bulge. Wipe off mold or dirt. Drive the corkscrew as far as possible into the center of the cork. Lever out with an even motion. Be sure to avoid jerking as this may destroy the cork. With a T cork-screw, hold the bottle between the knees with the shoulder of the bottle in the palm of your left hand. Pull slowly and evenly with the right hand, turning slightly to the right. Wipe the bottle mouth inside and out, and serve!

Where to buy the wine? At PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626, of course! We have a wide selection of wines to choose from, and if you have a preference for a wine we don't have, we will special order it for you. In addition, you can save 10% on your wine by buying by the case. Hours: 10-10 Mon.-Thurs.; 10-11 Fri., Sat.; noon-10 Sun.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

Some say we have come a long way, others say we have a long way to go! I agree with both.

A sale was made some 200 years ago, a sale that brought freedom and dignity to millions of Americans. Of course it's the Declaration of Independence and we are giving it probably the biggest billing that our nation has ever given anything. "Bicentennial" celebration. America has proved her will, fought her fights and protected her Constitution from attack both from within and from without. However, I don't believe that we are really at our best for this celebration, and I think it's time that we take a real good in-depth look at ourselves, and re-examine the problems that are facing our individual communities. Let's face it, we've had growing pains and these types of experiences are ones that we can learn from. One of the things that I'm convinced of is that the elections of 1976, more than any other Bicentennial event, are probably the most important things that will happen in this year's celebration. We must be fully aware of the problems of economics, the closer and closer outright socialism and direction that has taken place over the years so that we can face up as a democratic country and really look at an opportunity to assess the system which we are involved in.

The average worker in our country has to work from January 1 to May 31 to pay his taxes. I think you and I as citizens are in a situation in which we have a stake in the future of our country. Why do we have inflation?

Friars Sharing Lead in League

By Paul Denis
The Friars maintained a share of first place in the A-East Division of the Catholic League basketball with a 97-48 trouncing of Saint Ladislaus, Friday, January 23. The victory kept Austin in a three way tie for first place with East Catholic and Saint Clement.

Pontiac Catholic dropped from first place after losing to East Catholic.

Dan Matzka led the Friars with 16 points followed by Phil Colletti with 15, Joe Sabatella and Dave Van Egmond both added 12 points to give the Friars four scorers in double figures.

Saint Ladislaus had two players in double figures but it wasn't enough to offset the Friars balanced scoring attack.

On Friday, January 30, the Friars face a tough East Catholic squad at East Catholic. The Chargers are led by the Merchant brothers who average 40 points per game between them.

We have inflation today because the Federal Government is initiating tremendous expenditure programs, and this is going right down into the local governments in many of the communities. I'm not necessarily saying that we have to cut expenses, but I'm saying we have to slow down the rate of growth in government spending and let our tax collections catch up and I think each of us, as members of the community, have to sell ourselves and also our neighbors on the free enterprise system.

Let's ask ourselves the question, do we want a government that provides for more and more of our basic needs and of course at the same time taking away our freedom and liberty, or do we realize that we are in a society that is fast approaching a point where one-half of the people will be supporting the other half?

Before marking ballots in 1976, our Bicentennial year, I feel that American voters must ask themselves, have political considerations prevented the government from actually doing the type of work they should be doing; are political parties really party loyalty and strength; are we actually treading a thin line between social responsibility and socialism? I think we have to decide whether we want the capitalized free enterprise system that we have, or do we want to face the future with a new form of government that provides more and more and takes as much as it gives? I think it's time that we repair the old and start again, for I believe the old way of doing things is vastly important and I think it's time that we really look forward to the local voters, you and I, in our society today, asking the candidates for office what they intend to do about economic recovery, operating in a fashion to reduce inflation, thus insuring years of prosperity. Let's together remember the meaning of "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

I really feel that candidates must place the problems of the nation above party loyalty for a change, as I'm convinced that the parties are always not meeting the needs of the people in providing choices, but actually have more loyalty towards the party than towards the people. I'm not advocating '76 is the year of the independent candidate, but I am saying it should be the year of the independent voter, you and I. I think it's time that we vote to improve and set out to do the things which will make our country and our local communities as great as they ever were, so that we can look back and feel that '76 was a great Bicentennial birthday party.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. James A. Adams
Superintendent of Schools

As the Board of Education plans for a millage election to finance the public schools and libraries beyond June 30, many factors must be taken into consideration.

In my last column I attempted to shed some light on the impact that recent legislative acts are having on the school district's current budget. Let me recap:

1. State Aid Reduction — The loss of $393,512 represents the total amount budgeted in 1975-76. Current economic conditions at the State level indicate that Grosse Pointe will not receive any State Aid even though the district will qualify for it to operate mandated programs.

2. Business Activity Tax — The passage of the Single Business Tax removed Business Inventories from the tax roles causing a loss of $193,185. There is a provision in the law to offset part of this loss, but the levy of additional tax would disqualify the district from this provision.

These two factors account for the loss of $793,595 in anticipated revenues in 1975-76 and 1976-77.

A third factor in financial planning is the carryover of funds. School system budgets in prior years have provided funds to carry to future years. However, the loss of the State Aid this year is forcing the district to use $414,412 to provide the current year program.

The State Aid reduction, removal of business inventories from the district's State Equalized Valuation, and the anticipated use of the district's reserves amount to $1,001,109 in lost revenues.

Other factors that are playing a part in the Board's financial deliberations are these: enrollment trends, rate of inflation, State Equalized Valuation of local real estate and general business conditions in Michigan which will determine State Aid. These play a role as the Board assesses its needs for the future.

Among the other major hurdles to be cleared by the Board of Education prior to the beginning of the 1976-77 year are negotiations with employee groups. Any financial projections must also take this matter into account.

One View from the Capitol

By William Bryant

As of January 1, the business tax structure of Michigan is totally changed. At the urging of the Governor and with approval of most major segments, from industry to the law profession, the Single Business Tax was adopted.

I voted for the switch, and it was just about the most difficult vote I have had to make in five years.

Now that the Single Business Tax or SBT is in place, we need to know from you how it is working and how it affects the businesses of Michigan.

Every effort was made to analyze the expected impacts of this tax on business activity, this new form of value added tax, but it was impossible to get complete information or to know the impact on everyone.

The tax replaces the corporate income tax, the franchise fee, the personal property tax on inventory, the business portions of the intangibles tax and a number of other taxes. The objectives are to have a tax structure which is relatively favorable to manufacturing and which is relatively stable in its yield.

The reasons for those objectives are it is felt impossible to help the economy of Michigan, by its tax structure, unless the basic producers of economic activity, manufacturing, is helped. And it is politically dangerous to have a tax structure which varies wildly in yield because the inclination of the legislature when faced with a small yield is to raise the rate.

The tax has another aspect which tends toward equity, and that is it treats all businesses regardless of form or type of business in the same way.

There will be changes. Michigan is the only state with such a tax. As we gain experience with it, inequities in the specifics of the tax will emerge. That is why we need to hear from businesses as to its impact on them, to hear what might be changed which would give the tax greater equity.

It would be great to have no tax on business at all and to tax only the earnings of people as they receive personal income from their business activity. That approach, however, is not a political possibility, at least for the short term, so there must be some taxation of business.

What I want, and what the Governor wants, is a tax structure which is basically fair and which will help Michigan generate increased economic activity to produce the added jobs we must have to move toward full employment.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur M. Woodford
Chief of Central Library

The current energy crisis has brought us lowered thermostats, long lines at gas-line stations, and skyrocketing costs for all types of petroleum-based products. There is no question that the rising price of oil has been the single most powerful force acting upon the world's economy in recent years. There is also no question that the various causes of the energy crisis have generated the publication of many excellent books, several of which have recently been to the collection at your Grosse Pointe Public Library.

In KINGDOM OF OIL (Scribners), "Wall Street Journal" correspondent Ray Vickers fashions a highly readable and timely survey of the 20 states and sheikdoms comprising the volatile Middle East. Vickers describes the diverse Middle Eastern peoples and lays heavy stress on the role oil plays in the economy and culture of each society: in Dubai and Kuwait, for instance, which are rich with oil, and in Lebanon and Egypt, which have almost no reserves at all. Throughout this book, oil executives cite the new association of oil-producing states, OPEC, as the solidifying force behind the Arab world's tough price-and-contract demands. Vickers' long-range prediction is hopeful, however—economic trends should correct the now lopsided situation.

During his wide-ranging research for OIL POWER (Mason/Charter), a history of oil in the U.S., Carl Solberg decided that "practically everything that has been published about oil over the years appears to have been subsidized" by the oil industry. But he has dug beyond the tainted sources and has molded his findings into a gripping narrative that makes complex economic and political events easily comprehensible. He provides a fresh perspective on the industry's early years and carefully outlines the stranglehold the big multinational oil corporations gained, with government assistance, after World War II, when highways replaced railroads and the population was clothed and gadgeted with petrochemical plastics. This compact but fact-filled book is a very persuasive argument that "oil's days of dominance are numbered."

Author Anthony Sampson brings his impressive talents to this topic in THE SEVEN SISTERS: THE GREAT OIL COMPANIES AND THE WORLD THEY MADE (Viking). Central to the story he tells are seven giant companies: Exxon, Mobil, Socon, Gulf, Texaco, BP, and Shell—five American, one British, one Anglo-Dutch. Confining himself largely to the human and political aspects of his subject, combining alert critical intelligence with narrative skill, interviewing top men from Texas to Iran, Sampson covers the whole oil drama from the Pennsylvania oil rush of the 1860's to the birth of OPEC. This is an account of how the seven sisters, themselves competitive among themselves and ambiguously related to their national governments, lost out to a cartel of producer states which, ironically, they had taught their own ruthless methods. Who really controls oil, and who should control it? These are pivotal questions in this fascinating and valuable book.

SUPERSHIP (Knopf) by Noel Mostert is a detailed account of the author's voyage from Bordeaux to a Persian Gulf port and back on the "S. S. Ardshiel." This ship is one of the mammoth supertankers currently carrying crude oil on the oceans.

There is no question that the threats quite new to the world of seafaring: physical and psychological dangers to a new species of "portless" men, dangers to the eco-systems of the seas themselves.

Mostert's account of his voyage of several weeks brings to life the officers and crew, and the mind-boggling implications such tankers spawn as they respond to the dynamics of a worldwide oil economy. Often inadequately tested, these behemoths have had accidents and the hundreds of them now at sea frighten ocean ecologists with their steady oil leaks and tank washings. Mostert rivets his readers with his eye-opening and ultimately portentous narrative.

Other new titles relating to the energy crisis include: PETER BRADFORD, FRAGILE STRUCTURES: A STORY OF OIL REFINERIES, THE NATIONAL SECURITY AND THE COAST OF MAINE (Harper's); ROBERT A. DIAMOND, U.S. POLICY, ISRAEL, OIL, AND THE ARABS (Congressional Quarterly); RUTH KNOWLES, AMERICA'S OIL FAMILIES: HOW IT HAPPENED AND WHEN IT WILL END (Coward); and Leonard Mosley, POWER PLAY: OIL IN THE MIDDLE EAST (Random House).

The previous night ULS took a 74-51 beating at the hands of Lutheran East.

Against Lutheran East nothing seemed to go right for ULS as the score was 19-8 after one quarter. In the second quarter the ULS defense caught fire but the defense remained poor as it was 37-25 at the half.

East coasted in the rest of the way to win, 74-51. ULS got even scoring from Drew Miller with 16 points, David Jansen 11, Jim Manning, eight, and Dave Whitehead, seven. The loss lowered the Knights record to 1-9.

In more and more games this season the Knights are turning to one man for all their points. That man, Dave Jansen, responded with 30 points against Greenhills to lead the Knights to a 64-60 victory. The ULS round ballers scored 16 points in every quarter, but if not for sophomore Tom Graves' last second desperation shot the Knights would have lost.

With only four seconds to go in the game and ULS behind 60-59 Graves stole the ball and hit a 20-foot jump shot. Then Dave Jansen put in a technical foul shot with one second left and the Knights then got the ball and a layup before time ran out to win.

The Knights play again Friday, January 30, against Class B power Lutheran West.

What you think of yourself really does mean something—if you are able to prove it.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

The evening celebrating completion of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's 1976 Souvenir Program will be especially gala this year.

It begins with a 5 o'clock Beforeglow dinner at the Savoyard Club and concludes with a post-concert party for contributors, concert-goers and the press in Ford Auditorium's all-new Green Room, with DSO Maestro Aldo Ceccato and guest artist Franco Gulli receiving.

There'll be a reprise reception on stage, also.

It's all scheduled for this Saturday, January 31. Mrs. Melvin D. Rousek, of Dean Lane, and fellow Pointer Mrs. Robert A. Young are in charge of the Beforeglow, with still another Pointer, Mrs. William B. Dunn, chairing the reprise reception.

The Souvenir Program Night concert at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium will feature violinist Gulli and three of the DSO's own violinists: Gordon Staples, concertmaster, Bogos Morchikian, associate concertmaster, and Joseph Goldman, assistant concertmaster.

The program will feature the world premiere of Michael Colgrass' "Concertmasters," which was commissioned by the DSO, as well as Bach's Concerto for Violin and Orchestra.

Moulin Rouge Time in The Pointe

The Moulin Rouge will come to life in Grosse Pointe tomorrow evening, at Dr. and Mrs. Garfield Tourney's Washington road home, as the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe re-creates the atmosphere and ambiance of Paris' famous boite de nuit to raise funds to send a local student to France for a month's study this summer. Checking out "La Goulue's" costume, as immortalized by Toulouse-Lautrec, in preparation

Soiree Will Send Student To France

Dinner and Soiree au Cabaret Comprise Grosse Pointe Alliance Francaise Scholarship Fund-Raiser This Year

The fourth annual Grosse Pointe Alliance Francaise scholarship fund-raiser, a soiree entitled "Moulin Rouge," will be presented tomorrow evening, Friday, January 30, in the Washington road home of Dr. and Mrs. Garfield Tourney.

Decor will be turn-of-the-century Parisian, complete with a mannequin dressed as Toulouse-Lautrec's famous "La Goulue."

The six-course menu includes tomato farcie aux shrimps, noix de dinde, legume de saison, salade de laitue, fromage de France, dame blanche and — mais certainement! — vins selectionnes.

Cocktail service begins at 7 o'clock. Dinner is scheduled for 8.

The Soiree au Cabaret, starting at 9 o'clock, will offer entertainment and dancing Music by "L'Orchestre du Cafe Cadieux" and chanteuse Jeannette Florentie will be featured.

Mrs. Warren Wilkinson, program chairman, is doubling as chef.

All donations and proceeds will be used to send a local student of French to France for a month's study this summer.

Dinner tickets are $25 per person, Soiree au Cabaret-only tickets $5 for Grosse Pointe Alliance members, $6 for guests. They're all tax deductible, of course... but reservations are necessary, and may be obtained by calling 886-2796.

Rockettes Hosting Another Bonspiel

Two-Day Meet Drawing 24 Clubs from the Detroit Area, Out-State Michigan, Illinois, Ohio and Canada Concludes Today

The Women's Division of the Detroit Curling Club is hosting the 19th annual Detroit Rockettes Bonspiel at the Detroit Curling Club in West Forest street, just west of Wayne State University, open to the public both days of the meet.

Play began yesterday and continues through today, Thursday, January 29. Six of the 24 teams participating are from Detroit, the others from out-state Michigan, Illinois, Ohio and Canada.

Yesterday evening's gourmet cocktail party for Club guests and members was followed by member-presented entertainment featuring the Bonspiel theme "Spiel of '76."

A luncheon is scheduled for today, and prizes will be awarded at the conclusion of the games, first place receiving the coveted Alandt Trophy.

Barnton, Harold Davis, Charles Markley, Joseph McGlynn, Brenda Dreyer, Wilson Molin, Marjorie Nank and Ms. Harriett Guignon.

Curling is played on ice marked off into "sheets," (rather like bowling alleys). Each sheet is 138 feet long by 14 feet wide, with a 12-foot diameter target, called the "head," painted on each end.

Other blue lines indicate end lines, foul lines and center stripes, the latter unnecessary but useful as an aid to curlers' aim.

Curling ice is not suitable for skating, for the surface is "pebbled," harder and roughened.

Equipment includes stones or rocks of granite quarried beneath the tidewater in the estuary of the River Clyde off Glasgow, Scotland, each weighing 42½ pounds, and brooms and brushes used to work the ice just ahead of a moving stone in order to add distance and control the amount of hook, or "curl."

Shoes are insulated, usually with fleece. One has a roughened sole for traction, the other a teflon sole for sliding.

Each team, or "rink," has four curlers. A game is played by two rinks, takes somewhere around two-and-a-half hours, and is usually 10 or 12 "ends." The rink captain, called a "Skipper" or "Skip," may concede the last end or two if, in his/her judgment, his/her rink has no chance to catch up in the score.

Usually, but not always, the Skip is the most adept shot-maker on the rink, and usually, but not always, the Skip plays in fourth spot in the "hack," (team starting line-up).

The Skip is the unquestioned authority and rink leader. He/she alone decides what shots are needed, how the rock should be thrown, if the traveling rock should be swept or not.

The two opposing Skips station themselves in the head at the far end of the ice. As a curler takes his stance in the hack, his/her Skip signals instructions as to how much speed to impart to the stone, whether spin should be right or left and, by holding his/her broom upright, where to aim.

A fast stone is "heavy," a slow stone "light." A clockwise spin is an "in-turn," a counterclockwise one an "out-turn."

The Skip's eyes follow the stone down the sheet, and he/she shouts sweeping instructions to the broom-wielding players who are racing down the ice alongside. It is not necessary for a rock to come to rest near the center of the head, or even on the head at all, in order to be a successful shot. Very often, a Skip will call for a rock to be placed on the outside edge of the head, or even out in front.

After the "Lead" (first player), has thrown his/her two stones, alternating with his/her counterpart on the opposing rink, the "Second" player moves into the hack, and the Lead joins the "Vice-Skip," (third player), as a sweeper.

When the Second has thrown his/her two rocks, he/she again becomes a sweeper while the Vice-Skip is in the hack. Once the Vice-

March Bride

Plans for a March 20 wedding are being made by ANN ROLOSON WILCOXON and Donald Edward Mullen, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Roloson Wilcoxon, of Radnor circle.

The bride-elect received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Olivet College and later attended Katherine Gibbs, from which she was graduated in 1973.

Mr. Mullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mullen, of Scituate, Mass., received his Bachelor's degree from Boston College and is presently working toward his Masters degree. He is in the Treasury Department with Stone and Webster in Boston.

Will Wed

The engagement of CYD MARIE LACHIUSA and Patrick Myrick was announced by the prospective bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sy Lachiusa, of East Jefferson avenue, at a recent cocktail party.

Both the bride-to-be and her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Myrick, of Riva rd boulevard, are Grosse Pointe South High School Alumni. She attended Mercy College of Detroit in an overseas study program and is currently majoring in psychology at Macomb County Community College.

The future bridegroom, a senior at Western Michigan University College of Business, is enrolled in Western's ROTC program.

DYC Honors Officers at Ball

Not since last summer has Belle Isle seen such traffic, as 700 members of the Detroit Yacht Club crossed the bridge and traversed the icy roads of Detroit's island park to honor DYC Commodore and MRS. ROBERT A. COUSINO, (center), VICE COMMODORE and MRS. DONALD BAKER, (left), and REAR COMMODORE and MRS. ROBERT VANCELEAVE at DYC's annual Officers' Dinner Ball. Festivities began

Saturday evening, January 17, with a cocktail party for members and guests. Following dinner, Commodore and Mrs. Cousino led the Grand March into DYC's main ballroom, decorated in a Bicentennial theme with thousands of handmade flowers, hanging baskets and wall sconces. Commodore Cousino, a gourmet cook, presided over the preparation of an end-of-the-evening "eggs a la Cousino" breakfast.

Steffan to Sing For Pro Musica

Pro Musica Society will welcome guest artist Sofia Well-fan in concert at the Detroit Institute of Arts Friday evening, January 30.

The mezzo-soprano, a Naumburg Award winner educated at the University of North Carolina, Mannes College and Juilliard, is a veteran of successful tours as a recitalist and opera star in South America, Canada and the United States.

She records for Cambridge and Red Seal, and has most recently focused her attention on the works of Handel, bringing to them the personal vision, emotional intensity and purity of phrasing that have become her hallmark.

Her program at 8:30 o'clock in the DIA's Lecture Hall will feature selections by Henry Purcell, Brahms, Stravinsky, Honegger, Poulenc and Joaquin Nin. Her accompanist is Eugene Sabo.

Hosts and hostesses at the traditional Pro Musica Artists' Reception in the museum's Romanesque Room immediately following the concert will include Pointers Mrs. Edward Baumann, Dr. and Mrs. John Ehrlich and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Friesch.

Mrs. George Zeitz is social chairman. Mrs. Terry Bannan is chairman of hosts and hostesses.

Miller-Homfeld Vows Exchanged

Grosse Pointe War Memorial Reception Follows Afternoon Rites; Pair Vacation in New York City

At home in Oberlin, O., while he is studying at Oberlin Conservatory of Music and she is a research microbiologist at Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, are Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Dau Miller, who exchanged marriage vows Saturday, January 3.

Mrs. Miller is the former Nancy Ann Homfeld, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max F. Homfeld, of Rivard boulevard. Mr. Miller is the son of the John T. Millers, of Kerby road.

The 3:30 o'clock ceremony in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, The Reverend Vincent W. Warner presiding, was followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, after which the newlyweds left to vacation in New York City.

The bride's crystalet gown featured pearls and rows of Chantilly lace forming a court train. Her full length illusion veil fell from a coronet of crystal and pearls, and she carried a cascade of pink Sweetheart roses, ivy and cymbidium orchids.

Honor maid Beth Fifield, of Galesburg, Ill., a classmate of the bride at Miami University, Oxford, O., and bridesmaids Louise Homfeld, the bride's sister, and Lila-Jane Miller, of Houston, Tex., sister of the bridegroom, carried yellow Sweetheart roses, ivy and narcissus.

Their pale blue print nylon frocks were velvet-trimmed. They wore crystal and pearl coronets similar to that of the bride.

Eric Miller acted as best man for his brother. Ushering were Randolph R. Barker and Jeffrey Sonis, of Pittsburgh, Pa., both classmates of the bridegroom at Oberlin.

The mother of the bride chose a long, powder blue jersey gown with a matching stole, and pinned a single white orchid to her handbag. The bridegroom's mother's long gown was fashioned of aqua satin. She pinned gardenias to her handbag.

Special guests included Margaret Heine, widow of the late Herbert Heine, of Columbia City, Ind.; the bridegroom's uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heine, of Columbia City, and Pastor and Mrs. Carl Sanders, of Marysville; and the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Metzger, and their daughter Kathleen Luisa, of Texas.

The Kevin D. Millers

In Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, Saturday, January 3, NANCY ANN HOMFELD, daughter of the Max F. Homfelds, of Rivard boulevard, was married to Mr. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Miller, of Kerby road.

Two Concerts for Musicales

Tuesday Musicales of Detroit, Mrs. Burt E. Taylor, Jr., of Ridge road, president, presents the sixth morning concert of its 90th season next Tuesday, February 3, at 10:30 o'clock in the Detroit Institute of Arts Lecture Hall.

Music written by American composers will be featured. Mrs. John Hendrie, of Deming lane, is chairman of the day.

Mrs. Harry Peels, of Farmington, and Mrs. Edward Vabolis, of Aline drive, will perform Samuel Barber's "Souvenirs" (Ballet Suite Opus 28) for Four Hands at the Piano, its movements entitled Waltz, Schottische, Pas de Deux, Two-Step, Hesitation-Tango and Galop.

Mrs. Robert Hawksley, of Stephens road, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Frank J. Sladen, Jr., of Kensington road, at the piano, will sing John Alden Carpenter's "Gitanjali." Its individual songs are "When I bring to you colour'd toys," "On the day when death will knock at thy door," "The sleep that flits on Baby's Eyes," "I am like a remnant of a Cloud of Autumn," "On the Seashore of Endless Worlds" and "Light, My Light."

Pianist Mrs. Berj H. Haidostian will play George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," and violinist Mrs. Inez Hullinger Redman, accompanied by Mrs. Carolyn Jewell Anderson at the piano, will close the program with "Romance" by Mrs. H. H. A. Beach, Charles Ives' "Second Sonata" and William Grant Still's "Suite" in three parts: African Dancer, Mother and Child and Gamin.

Chairman of the day for Tuesday Musicales's seventh 1975-76 concert, scheduled for February 17 at 10:30 o'clock in the Institute of Arts Lecture Hall, is Mrs. Robert Shover of Aline drive.

Mrs. James Ellison and Miss Laurie Lindemulder, both Pointers, will play works composed for four hands at the piano: "Waltzes, Opus 39" by Johannes Brahms and Francis Poulenc's "Sonata for Piano, Four Hands."

Seven Spanish Folk Songs by Manuel de Falla, "El Pano moruno," "Murcian Seguidilla," "Asturiana," "Jota," "Nana," "Cancion" and "Polo," will be performed by Mrs. Eugene Ignaziak, of Dorthen road, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Thomas I. Young, of Loraine road, at the piano.

Mrs. Frank Zocharski, of Detroit, violinist, and Mrs. John Ehrlich, of Essex drive, pianist, will play Karen Khachaturian's "Sonata, Opus 1." The program concludes with Beethoven's "Appassionata" Sonata in F Minor, Opus 57, Mrs. Walter Burczyk, of Littlestone road, at the piano.

Information regarding Tuesday Musicales membership may be obtained by calling 882-9127 or 546-7290.

Plan Phi Beta Kappa Program

Phi Beta Kappa collegiate scholastic honor society, celebrating its 200th birthday along with that of the nation, is co-sponsoring a series of six lectures in February, March and April on the Concept of Freedom.

The programs, presented in cooperation with Wayne State University and the University of Michigan, will be presented in WSU's Purdy Library Sunday afternoons, from 2 to 4 o'clock, starting this Sunday, February 1.

Subsequent lectures are scheduled every two weeks through April 1. Guest speakers will include attorney and lecturer James Beall, of Bedford road, University of Detroit Professor Edith Kovach, Alfred Kelly and Milton Kovensky, professors of History at WSU, Rosalind Barrett, M.A., lecturer and writer, and WSU Dean of Liberal Arts Martin Stearns.

Admission to single lectures is $3, to the entire course $12. The series is offered at $18 for two persons, half-price for Senior Citizens. Spring Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Singer, of Allard avenue, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, NANETTE to Michael Lehr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lehr, of Mount Clemens.

Both the bride-elect and her fiancé are alumni of Michigan State University. A spring wedding is planned.

The Michigan Bicentennial Commission has granted the project approval status in March, 1973.

Ground-breaking represented the culmination of efforts dating to February, 1970, when the Dexter M. Ferry, Jr., Trustee Corporation donated $2.5 million to develop a multi-million dollar science center complex for Detroit on a 7.8-acre site bounded by John R. Warren, Farnsworth and Brush avenues.

Since that time, $1.8 million has been raised from other local foundations while $1.2 million has been obtained in pledges and donations from Detroit's business and industrial community through the recently completed Capital Gifts Campaign.

A total of $5.5 million has been raised to cover the capital building expenditure and cost of operations over a two-year period, 1978-79.

Mr. Mack served as general chairman while Roy D. Chapin, Jr., of Country Club lane, Robert B. Semple, of Beacon Hill, and Leonard Woodcock were co-chairmen.

The Detroit Science Center project also received a $500,000 American Revolutionary Bicentennial Administration/United States Department of Commerce grant specifically earmarked for the creation of jobs in Detroit's construction industry.

The City of Detroit has leased the building site, valued at $1 million, to the Science Center for a yearly nominal fee.

In his remarks at the ground-breaking ceremonies, Mr. Ferry stated his regard and recognition of the many community friendships that have been made over the last years for the Detroit Science Center.

He expressed his appreciation to those who have kept faith with the project and lent their assistance over the last six years to provide Detroit with a Science Center, and stressed the Science Center's pride in becoming a part of the Cultural Center of Detroit, pledging it to be a "good neighbor."

Mr. Mack congratulated Mr. Ferry on his foresight, generosity and dedication in bringing about his long-term dream to provide a Science Center for Detroit, referring to him as "Mr. Detroit Science Center," and extended thanks on behalf of all who will benefit from the project.

Mr. Mack then thanked those who were instrumental in bringing the Capital Gifts Campaign to a successful conclusion, especially his co-chairmen, corporate contributors and Detroit Renaissance, and the Detroit and Michigan Bicentennial Commissions which lent their strong endorsements to the campaign.

Turning his attention to the far-ranging impact of the establishment of a Science Center in Detroit, he added, "It is only by encouraging young people, especially the children of America's minorities, to seek careers in the scientific and technological fields that we can hope to meet our nation's challenges and retain our influence on world affairs."

David Frantz spoke on the importance from an educator's point of view of the establishment of a Science Center. "We're seeing educational opportunities blossoming at the pilot project right now," he added that expansion of the exhibit area in a new building plus addition of the important space theater/planetarium opens up new vistas for science education, putting the Detroit Science Center on par with such successful science museums as the Reuben H. Fleet Space Theater and Science Center in San Diego.

The Detroit Science Center currently operates a storefront museum at 52 East Forest, with more than 45 participational exhibits and special science programs.

In operation since July, 1970, this pilot project attracts more than 60,000 annual visitors. It will continue to provide its services to the public until the new building opens in December, 1977.

The Souvenir Program, which debuts at the concert, is an official Bicentennial Project. Its editorial section, "Music in Detroit," features a Bicentennial Look at Detroit and her Music.

Mrs. Virgil P. Goodman and Mrs. Jack A. Young, Vernier road neighbors, served as editor and associate editor, respectively. Among their chief assistants were the Mesdames Howard F. Rasch, John D. Starkel, Joseph H. Lackey, Michael Serement, Ramon M. Brinkman, Richard E. Maxwell, J. Dale Petroskey, William G. Quigley and Sherwin Schreier, and Ms. Barbara Beckmann.

Sixty-five hundred Souvenir Programs have been printed. Approximately $22,000 has been realized through ads, $4,000 through patrons. Copies will be handed out Saturday night, and at succeeding DSO concerts, for as long as they, (the copies), last.

The all-new Green Room officially opens after the concert. The Symphony Juniors undertook the project of remodeling the Green Room last spring, inviting interior decorators to submit plans, from which three finalist designs were selected.

The public was asked to vote on these plans at several concerts late last season. They chose the design submitted by J. L. Hudson's Daniel Clancy, and the Juniors immediately went to work, obtaining donations to pay for the renovation, furnishings and accessories.

General chairmen Mrs. Charles M. Endicott, of Stratton place, and Mrs. Kim Khong Lee, of Bedford road, supervised the renovation.

Few Problems for Pony Tail

The Pony Tail, (Beaucarnea recurvata), is an adaptable, long-lived plant that is a sure conversation piece. Who could resist asking about a plant that looks like a turnip with a plume of sword-shaped, dark green leaves on top?

Despite its exotic appearance, the Pony Tail is an easy houseplant to care for, say horticulturists at Michigan State University.

It thrives in average home temperatures, though it will

Former Pointer Pursues A Career in Counseling

Carol Raphael was so busy counseling Eastern Michigan University students early in January, she had to be interviewed on her lunch hour.

Ms. Raphael, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Reardon, of Chalfonte avenue, is a financial aids counselor in Eastern's Office of Admissions and Financial Aids. She was busy with throngs of students picking up their financial aid checks in McKenny Union on the first day of the semester.

"The part I like most about my job is the student contact. Students come in with quite a few different kinds of problems."

Ms. Raphael can relate to those problems especially well, since she sat at a student's desk at Eastern not so long ago herself. The Dominican High School graduate studied Social Science and Biology as an EMU undergraduate from 1964 to 1968, taught school for a couple of years, traveled to Japan with her husband twice and enrolled in graduate school at Michigan State University before coming back to Eastern to finish her Masters degree in Guidance and Counseling in 1971.

She has been at EMU "on and off for about nine years."

Although she has been a financial aids counselor for only about three months, she is not a stranger to the office. Shortly after she received her Masters degree, she was a counselor for about a year in the Office of Admissions and Financial Aids.

"I enjoyed working in (both) admissions and financial aids," she says. "We did a lot of traveling and had a great deal of outside contacts.

"But I especially like... having (financial aids) separate. It gives me a more in-depth concept in my work."

"Financial aids," she explains, "is getting increasingly more complex—you have to work with it on a day-to-day basis. When you work in one area, you can really specialize."

Ms. Raphael, one of three financial aids counselors, generally spends about half her working time counseling students, the remainder involved in such things as serving task forces of the Presidential Commission on the Future of EMU and maintaining good communication with community colleges which provide large numbers of transfer students into various programs.

The counselors also interview students when they apply for financial aid, and handle related problems as they arise. The nature of those problems, Ms. Raphael points out, depends on the time of the semester.

Violin Nights Are Slated for Detroit Symphony Orchestra

Award-winning composer Michael Colgrass will be in the Ford Auditorium audience this week when the Detroit Symphony Orchestra presents the world premiere of his triple violin concerto "Concertmaster" tonight and Saturday evening January 29 and 31, at 8:30 o'clock.

DSO Music Director Aldo Ceccato will conduct the concert, which also will feature Italian violinist Franco Gulli.

Maestro Ceccato's program, unique in conception and the first such program the DSO has ever presented, will consist of three widely-differing violin concertos—one each for one, two and three violins.

It begins with J. S. Bach's Concerto in D minor for two violins, performed by Mr. Gulli and Gordon Staples, DSO concertmaster.

The Colgrass concerto will be performed, as its title may imply, by three concertmasters: Mr. Staples, DSO associate concertmaster Bogos Mortchikian and DSO assistant concertmaster Joseph Goldman.

Post-intermission, Mr. Gulli will return to play the Violin Concerto in D major, Opus 61 by Ludwig van Beethoven. Franco Gulli has appeared with most of the major United States orchestras since his first American tour in 1968-69. He first played with the DSO in September, 1973.

In joint recital with his wife, pianist Enrica Cavallo, he has toured throughout the States, Europe and Africa. His appearances at all the principal festivals of Europe, as well as those in Russia and the Orient, have led to numerous return engagements and lavish praise from the press.

Between international engagements, Mr. Gulli teaches at the Indiana University School of Music.

Gordon Staples joined the Detroit Symphony in 1955 after serving as concertmaster of the New Orleans Philharmonic.

He began his career as staff soloist for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation at the age of 14, continued his studies at the Philadelphia Academy of Music and thereafter concertized extensively as soloist in North and South America.

He was appointed concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony in 1968, and has frequently appeared as soloist with his home orchestra.

His instrument is a rare

"Salabue" violin, the work of Giovanni Battista Gaudini in 1779.

Bogos Mortchikian was born in Greece but raised and received his musical education in the Soviet Union under professors Dombayev and Mostras. Before his engagement by the Detroit Symphony in 1968, he had been a violinist with the Concerts Colonne in Paris.

Joseph Goldman, a native of Urbana, Ill., joined the DSO in May, 1974, after studying at the University of Michigan with Paul Makowski and Gustave Rosseels.

Elizabeth Cass DAR Honors Good Citizens

Ten outstanding senior high school students will be guests of Elizabeth Cass Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution at a Good Citizens tea next Monday, February 2, at 1:30 o'clock at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Each year, Elizabeth Cass honors seniors from high schools in Grosse Pointe, Warren, Harper Woods and Hamtramck.

Each has been chosen by fellow students and faculty members as a Good Citizen to represent his/her respective school.

Selection is based on four qualities of good citizenship: dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Mrs. James LeDuc, Good Citizen's chairman, will present each recipient with a Good Citizen pin, Certificate of Award and colored portrait of a Continental soldier. She will be assisted by Chapter Regent Mrs. John Kirsch. Following the presentations Mrs. Walter A. Kleinert, National DAR corresponding secretary general, will present a program on "The Flag of the United States."

The ten students receiving awards this year are Robert

"We see a lot of students for emergency loans. Many come in to try to get College Work-Study approval."

"One of the biggest problems is that when we 'package' financial aid, we do it almost a year in advance. We establish a March 1 priority deadline, and students who have their information in and qualify get it first."

Last year, loan funds were exhausted in March.

Therefore, she urges, students should complete the appropriate forms and turn them in on time.

The most difficult task associated with her job, notes Ms. Raphael, is having to tell a student "no."

"The hardest part is telling a person they don't qualify for financial aid or that we can't renew their financial aid because of (lack of) academic progress."

She adds that the office gives students "quite a few chances to improve themselves" before any action to discontinue financial aid is initiated.

Present Scandinavian Symphony's Concert

Pianist Ruth (Mrs. Walter J.) Burczyk, of Littlestone road, will be guest artist for the third concert of the Scandinavian Symphony Orchestra's 46th season this Saturday, January 31, at 8:20 in the evening at Southfield High School.

In her third performance with the Scandinavian Symphony in the past five years, Mrs. Burczyk will play the Grieg Concerto, accompanied by the Orchestra under the direction of Valter Poole.

Dvorak's New World Symphony and the Bach Little Fugue complete the program. Ticket information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. William Jardine at 538-3393.

An afterglow in the cafeteria features coffee and pastries at a nominal cost.

Mrs. Burczyk will be guest of honor at the Scandinavian Symphony Women's Organization's Artist Luncheon tomorrow, Friday, January 30, at Kingsley Inn, Bloomfield Hills.

Seski, Grosse Pointe North High School; John Langel, Grosse Pointe South High School; Roberta Dorgan, Regina High, Harper Woods; Carla Riefstahl, Harper Woods High School; Ann M. Smith, Bishop Gallagher High, Harper Woods; Diane Marulli, Warren High School; Linda Marie Chapman, Lincoln High, Warren; Karen Furgal, Saint Ladislaus, Hamtramck; Jacqueline Korchuk, Saint Florian, Hamtramck; and Elizabeth Perinoff, Hamtramck High School.

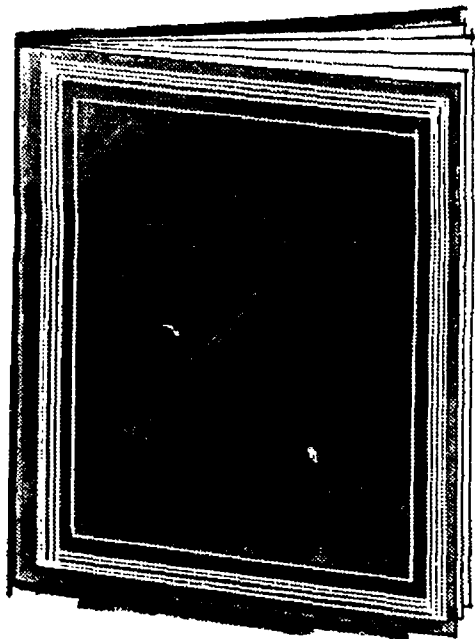

A panel of impartial judges will pick 10 Good Citizens from Michigan to attend a State Awards luncheon April 1 at The Olds Plaza in Lansing. Selection will be made via questionnaires received from each of the contestants sponsored by DAR chapters throughout the state.

First place winner will receive $150 in bonds. A $75 bond will go to the second place winner, a $25 bond to each of the runners-up.

The overall Michigan winner will compete with 49 other state winners for the title of Good Citizen of the Year at the National DAR Congress in Washington, D.C. the week of April 19.

The top winner will receive a silver Paul Revere Bowl and a $1,000 college scholarship.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Property valuation is probably the real heart of all real estate activity. It takes a practical understanding of real estate to make a broker or salesman useful and dependable in their jobs. It turns out that even though brokers and salesmen are possibly not qualified as expert appraisers, they have to be familiar with concepts of value, and the forces which influence value. To the good real estate professional the knowledge is essential. It helps him arrive at a logical price, the highest and best, to make property both useful and profitable.

Our professional real estate agents at GROSSE POINTE REAL ESTATE CO., 20087 Mack Ave., Grosse Pointe Woods, 882-0087 can help you with the numerous details involved in buying a home. We have many homes listed in a wide variety of styles and price ranges from which you may select the perfect one for your families needs. We will then help you arrange for the mortgage and will make sure you fully understand every detail of the financial arrangements. Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9-5, Sun. noon-5, 24 hour answering service.

DID YOU KNOW?

Market value is the price at which property can be sold or exchanged at a given time or place as a result of market balancing.

Plead Guilty To B-E Charge

A Wayne County Circuit Court sentencing date of Wednesday, March 3, awaits two men who pled guilty to a charge of attempted breaking and entering of an occupied dwelling with intent to commit larceny, reported Woods police.

Richard Allen Pretty, of Mount Clemens, and Edward William Bogan, of Mich., pled to the charge in Circuit Court on Wednesday, January 21.

The pair were arrested last August after they reportedly burglarized a Hollywood avenue home.

Her 30 Points Help WSU Win

Nancy Hanneberg, of The Pointe, was instrumental in helping Wayne State University's women's basketball team run their record to 3-1 recently in a 87-74 victory over Michigan State University and a 64-51 victory over the University of Michigan.

Nancy scored a team season high of 30 points against MSU and scored 19 against Michigan.

Dolphins Win Pee Wee Title

The 1976 Grosse Pointe Hockey Association PeeWee Midwinter House Tournament was won by the Dolphins, sponsored by Frolund Lawn and Garden Supply and O'Neil and Hoffner Fisheries.

The Dolphins, coached by Pierre Cormier, John Osler and Bob Swaney, proved themselves the best Pointe PeeWee team by winning the final playoff game against the Stark Hickey Ford West Eagles, coached by Thad Ketchum, John Nelson and Frank Wolschom.

The championship contest was typical of the playing throughout the tournament. Other strong teams were the Space Steel-Saints coached by Ben Chapman and Len Smith, and the Thomas-Cain Steers, coached by Rick Cain, Jim Oberliesen and Dick Bohan.

Winner of the tournament will represent the G.P.H.A. in the M.A.H.A. District No. 3 playoffs.

Bill Wilson, PeeWee House and Tournament director, reported that all the players on the teams played some fine hockey.

Trombly Cubs Receive Badges

Boy Scout Pack 83, Trombly Scout, presented a skit entitled "Knights of the Round Table," at its monthly meeting. It depicted the code of ethics of civility, honor and efforts to do one's best.

Under the direction of den mother Vickie Colwell, those participating were Will Colwell, Jim Agley, Jon Twisten, John Lariviere and David Urso.

After the presentation, awards and badges were presented to the following boys: Peter Sfat, Wolf Badge; James Agley, Wolf Badge; Gregory Castner, Bobcat Pin; Robert Duessing, Bobcat Pin; Kendall Berkey, Silver Arrow Pin; and Mike Seward, one Gold Arrow and two Silver Arrows.

Schools Offer Safe Sailing

The Department of Community Services is joining with United States Coast Guard Flotilla 12-2 to offer a course entitled, "Principles of Safe Sailing." The eight-week course is scheduled for Wednesday evenings from 7:30-9:30 p.m. at South High School.

There is a $7 fee for materials for each person enrolling in the course, with the exception of additional members of a family who will be enrolled at reduced fees.

The first meeting was held Wednesday, January 28. Persons interested in participating in the course should contact the department at 885-3808.

Girl Volleyball Clinic Planned

The Neighborhood Club is offering a girls' volleyball clinic and league at Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue, beginning Saturday, January 31, and ending March 6. The "action" runs from 11 a.m.-12 noon. Girls in the fifth through eighth grades are eligible.

The individual league fee is $5 plus a $5 membership. There is a family league fee of $10 and a $20 family membership available.

The clinic will feature basic skills and fundamental strategy followed by a mini-league held on weekday nights during March.

For further information, call Betz Johnson at 885-4600.

Walton-Pierce has a great collection of Ultra Suede fashions to wear right now, take South and into spring. There's Silverman's Ultra Suede in bisque sashed with orange, lemon and lime. The sleeves are kimono style and the long skirt is deeply slit. Nat Kaplan's Ultra Suede jacket and button down the front skirt combine with a Persian print shirt. A robin's egg blue Ultra Suede dress is accented with 2 pockets and the yoke is softly gathered. A ciel blue Ultra Suede skirt wraps and ties at the waist. Top it with a sweater, jersey blouse or striped shirt from the Walton-Pierce separates collection. One of the newest combinations is a silk polka dot dress that is accented with Ultra Suede cuffs, collar and waist line.

The Juniors' undertook its remodeling as a project last spring.

Needlework Show To Run Three Days

Deadline for Listed Entries Is February 18; Proceeds Will Aid Colonial Dames In Their Continuing Whitby Hall Project

The National Society of Colonial Dames of America in Michigan will repeat its highly successful and beautiful Needlework Show March 3, 4 and 5, Wednesday through Friday, in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Funds raised via the Show will help defray costs of refurbishing Whitby Hall in the Detroit Institute of Arts, and also set up an endowment fund for continuing work at Whitby Hall.

The Colonial Dames have chosen this as their Bicentennial project, and it has been so designated by the Detroit Bicentennial Commission.

Thanks to a recent grant from the State of Michigan, Whitby Hall in the American Wing of the Institute and the rest of the museum's galleries are now open for viewing Wednesdays through Sundays.

Whitby Hall was built by Colonel Coultas near Philadelphia in 1754. It was torn down and brought to Detroit from Philadelphia to be rebuilt inside the DIA in 1927.

Thanks to the Colonial Dames, it now has new paint, polish and elegant damasks; a step inside takes one back to the days when America was young.

Whitby Hall is the only authentic Colonial house in metropolitan Detroit. Its careful and loving restoration is a uniquely fitting Bicentennial gift to the City from the Colonial Dames.

Needlework Show entries are being accepted in such categories as canvas work (needlepoint), embroidery, crewel, applique, quilting, Rya and hook rugs.

Entry blanks are available at local needlework shops or by calling 884-9554, 882-1497 or 644-3260.

Deadline for listing of work in the program is Wednesday, February 18.

This year, the Colonial Dames have three superb

Renovation liaison between the Junior Women's Association and the American Society of Interior Decorators. Mrs. Eugene W. Blanchard has lined up a corps of hostesses for the Opening Reception.

Mrs. John H. Fildew, Mrs. Ram B. Fahim, Mrs. Robert S. Ketchum and Mrs. Robert Scott served as acquisition chairmen.

They've all done a magnificent job, as you'll see when you see the Green Room Saturday. So have the Juniors who put together the Souvenir Program, working under extraordinary odds, on the premise that the long fall Symphony strike would be resolved and that there WOULD BE a Souvenir Program Night Concert . . . Congratulations to them all!

The Long Arm Of Coincidence

Occasionally, the NEWS gets an unusual request, via mail, for information and/or assistance, and last week "one of those" came along: a letter from Angelika Kuhne, of Milano, Italy, asking for help in locating a Pointe pen pal she'd had back in the '60's.

The pen pal's name was Bonnie Breitenbecher, Angelika wrote, and she'd gone to "the Grosse Pointe High School," and she'd married a man named Tschirhart . . .

Now it so happened that Bonnie Breidenbach, daughter of the Victor Breidenbachs, of Grand Marais boulevard, had worked for a bit at the NEWS a while back, before she was married to John Schick.

The names were SO close. It had to be our Bonnie.

But a call to our Bonnie's mother resulted in a strike-out. As far as Mrs. Breidenbach knew—and she was pretty sure she knew—her daughter had never written to anyone in Milano.

So much for the long arm of coincidence.

And THEN . . . the very next day, a woman called up with a birth announcement. "May we have the parents' names, please?" we said, (as is our wont), pen poised . . .

"Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Breitenbecher . . ."

"Wait a minute!" we said. "Do you by any chance happen to have a sister-in-law named Bonnie . . .?"

Turns out she did, and turns out the sister-in-law had married a man named Tschirhart, and the Tschirharts were living out-of-town, but Angelika Kuhne's letter could, of course, be forwarded . . . So much for the long arm of coincidence!

And now . . . although we NEVER put birth announcements "in the column," this story would not be complete without reporting that Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Breitenbecher, of St. Clair Shores, have a new daughter, Bridget Mary, born January 10.

Mrs. Breitenbecher is the former Margaret Beirne, daughter of the John Beirnes, of Notre Dame avenue. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Richard Colombo, of Charlotte, N. C., and Robert Breitenbecher, of Harsens Island.

Swedish Ivy Adds to Decor

The plant group known as Swedish Ivy is popular in hanging baskets or on shelves or tables where its trailing habit can be best displayed.

Plectranthus australis is a fast growing ivy with trails of waxy, green leaves and clusters of small, white flowers.

P. coleoides "Marginatus," better known as White-edged Swedish Ivy, has leaves bordered in creamy white. Also a trailing plant, it mounds from eight to 12 inches without support before it begins to cascade.

P. oerendahlilii "Variegatus," Variegated Swedish Ivy, can be recognized by variable and irregular markings in creamy white and squarish, red-purple stems.

According to horticulturists at Michigan State University, average home temperatures and diffused sunlight are among the requirements for best growth of Swedish Ivy.

It will withstand temperatures as low as 50 degrees F., and can grow in partial shade as well as diffused light.

Pot in regular potting soil, the experts advise, and keep evenly moist but not soaking wet. Fertilize once every one or two months with a standard houseplant fertilizer at half the recommended rate.

For a different effect, try growing Swedish Ivy in plain water. Propagate by stem tip cuttings.

MR. and MRS. ROBERT A. LYTLE, of Edgemont Park, announce the birth of their first child, a son, THOMAS CRAIN, October 26. Mrs. Lytle is the former CAROL CRAIN, daughter of the J. WENDELL CRAINS, of Summit, N.J. Paternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. ROBERT LYTLE, of Clairton, Pa.
