THE MILITARY chief of staff of the National Emergency Committee said an estimated 2,000 persons were killed in Guatemala on Wednesday by a tremendous earthquake that rumbled over a 2,000 mile stretch through Central America and Mexico. There were no reports of heavy casualties in the other countries hit by the pre-dawn quake, but severe damage and panic was reported in Honduras. Minor damage was reported in southern Mexico. Later estimates put the death toll at around 17,000.

FORMER DEMOCRATIC Sen. Eugene McCarthy announced Thursday that he will run as an independent candidate for president this year and that he had chosen Detroit Lions owner William Clay Ford to be his running mate. The announcement comes less than a week after the U.S. Supreme Court, in a suit brought by Mr. McCarthy, struck down a provision in the new campaign spending law that limited the amount a candidate can spend on his own campaign. The ruling opens the way for Mr. Ford to spend as much as he wishes to finance a McCarthy-Ford ticket.

A FEDERAL judge gave the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), the go ahead Friday to ban Red No. 2, the synthetic dye used in hundreds of foods, drugs and cosmetics. Production and use of the dye could be stopped as early as this week unless there is further court action. The FDA said it will not recall any products already produced with the dye. The FDA, in announcing the ban Monday, January 19, said a new study has raised concerns that the dye might be a cancer causing agent.

SENATE LEADERS Mike Mansfield and Hugh Scott Saturday endorsed health insurance for catastrophic illnesses as a first step toward a national health insurance program. Senators Mansfield and Scott also indicated they favored providing insurance for major illnesses to all Americans rather than limiting it to Medicare recipients, as proposed by President Ford. The two Senate leaders said they favored a broader national health insurance program but conceded there is virtually no chance Congress can act this year.

THOUSANDS OF Catalans in Barcelona, Spain, demanding home rule and political liberty, defied police Sunday in the biggest anti-government demonstrations in Barcelona since the Spanish Civil War of the 1930's. Police fired rubber bullets and smoke grenades, bloodied demonstrators and pounded on honking automobiles but were unable to stop the scores of protests that paralyzed the Catalan capital for more than five hours. Police did not give an estimate on the number of demonstrators, but an organizer of the protest said at least 50,000 persons took part, and it could have been twice that many.

PATRICIA HEARST testified Monday that her terrorist kidnappers sexually assaulted her and forced her by threat of death into posing as the bank-robbing revolutionary "Tania." In a dramatic day of testimony with the jury absent, Miss Hearst said William Wolfe, the SLA "soldier" for whom she once declared her love, was only the first of a number of SLA members to attack her sexually. The slim defendant answered questions for nearly four hours at a hearing.

Young Students Have The Bicentennial Spirit

At the Monday, February 9, meeting of the Board of Education, student winners in the school district's Bicentennial Patch Contest received government bonds from Joan R. Hanpeter, Board president, and Dr. James A. Adams, superintendent of schools. Winners and their art teachers include, in the front row, (from left to right), eleven-year school co-winners RUSS GIACOPPELLI, of Poupard School, and HELEN ANNE D'ALESSANDRO, of Kerby. In the second row, (from left to right), are CYNTHIA DEFILIPPO, (Helen's teacher), LISA SABO, of Brownell, the middle school winner, (and her art teacher, SARALEE PEARL), and CAROLE DEVOS, winner at North High School. An embroidered patch with Carole's winning design will be available prior to the school district's official Bicentennial Celebration, set for the week of April 5-9. Not pictured are Carole DeVos's art teacher, Ann Karlson, and Russell's teacher, Lynn Van Raaphorst.

Center Sets Blood Drive For Today

War Memorial Calls Need Great; Donations Scheduled from 9 a.m.-8 p.m.

The severe winter has caused innumerable accidents and much sickness so that the War Memorial's Community Blood Bank, available for free loan to citizens in case of emergency, is almost empty, while American Red Cross supplies also have run very low, reports the Center.

To replenish needed blood supplies a mobile collection unit of the Red Cross is set up today, February 12, to receive donations of blood in the War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom from 9 a.m.-8 p.m.

Services Provided
The Center urges all adults, ages 18-60, who have no history of heart or blood disease, to donate blood.

This takes around a half-hour, without discomfort or harm.

Those needing rides can call in their need, with baby sitting being provided during donation.

One may donate to the Grosse Pointe Community Blood Bank or to any other blood bank, individual or cause he wishes.

"It's a wonderful way for those who have used blood themselves or have family members who have done so to pay back and replenish supplies," adds the Center.

Mother Nature Strikes Area with Big Snow Job

By James J. Njaim
The Pointe area has had its full share of snowfall this winter.

From last December 1 through this January 31, 42.4 inches of the white stuff fell as compared to a total of 24 inches from December 1, 1974, through January 31, 1975, according to official U. S. weather records kept at The Farms Water Filtration Plant, 29 Moross road.

In December 1974, the total snowfall registered at 20.8 inches, whereas last December's amount was 26.3 inches. During the entire month of January 1974, the snow total which hit The Pointe was recorded at 3.2 inches, as compared to the 16.1 amount last month.

Board Seeks to Recover Some Funds Lost to Schools Via State Cuts

Trustees Join Other Districts in Legal Action, Set Limit for Financial Participation at Around $2,300

By Susan McDonald
The Board of Education voted at its Monday, February 9, meeting to take legal action in Lansing aimed at recovering some of the State funds lost to the district with Gov. William Milliken's November budget cuts.

The Board set the limit for their financial participation in the suit at 20 cents per pupil — about $2,300. The legal firm of Dickison, Wright, McKean, Cudlip and Moon has been retained to press the suit.

"We think that the State ought to make the cuts along the same lines that they make the aid allocations," Dr. James A. Adams, superintendent of schools, said. "We are considering asking for a court injunction that would force the legislature to take another look at this."

Call Cuts Inequitable
The Pointe schools are joining with several other high valuation districts, including West Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham and Troy, in the legal battle.

School officials from those districts agreed at a November meeting that the cuts, based on local revenues rather than State aid, were inequitable and unconstitutional.

Attorney General Frank Kelley, however, has not supported the officials' contention. In a ruling, requested by the high-valuation consortium in December, Mr. Kelley indicated that the Governor's budget cuts were not made in violation of any constitutional provisions.

Both men said they went into the house to "have a look around," according to police. They said the doors to the estate were unlocked.

A LEIN check on the men at The Farms police station showed a felony warrant issued by Roseville police on Sunday.

Both men were arraigned before Farm's Municipal Judge Robert Pyle on the breaking and entering charge. The pair pled guilty and were released on a $1,000 personal bond.

Sentencing is set for Wednesday, March 10.

Woods Boat Owners Get Hike in Fees

Increase in Rates Necessary to Make Facility Self-Supporting Again

By Roger A. Waha
Woods Boat owners, who keep their crafts at the Lake Front Park, will be paying higher fees this year as the council unanimously concurred in a Committee of the Whole, (C-W), recommendation to establish new fees at its regular meeting Monday, February 2.

At the same time, the council also unanimously recommended. One is to delete the boat dock assignments procedure from the C-W agenda, while the other was to authorize the purchase of 10 starter blocks for the Lake Front Park.

The new fees are $220 per well on the lake side of the bridge and $130 per well on the East Jefferson avenue side of the bridge. Before, the cost was based on the length of a boat with the maximum figure last year being $175 on the lake side and $155 on the Jefferson side.

While the Jefferson side figure shows a decrease from the maximum amount last year, the majority of boat owners weren't paying $155 and most will be facing an increase with the new fee, said City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher.

Explains Increase
The motion also stipulated that the city reserves the right to assign boat wells.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said there were several reasons for the hike in the fees. "The docking facility is required to be self-supporting and it has not been the last couple of years," he said.

The installation of water and electricity in all the boat wells and the raising of some boat wells because of the high water level have played major roles in the new fee schedule.

With the new fees, the city will be provided with revenues to make the facility self-supporting, to pay off costs for the installation of water and electricity and to set up a depreciation and maintenance reserve fund for Mr. Petersen.

YSD Expands Service to GP Middle Schools

Detectives Will Have Set Time of at Least One Half Day a Week in Each Building; Principals Express Pleasure over New Approach

By Roger A. Waha
The Youth Service Division, (YSD), is expanding its service to The Pointe's three middle schools, Brownell, Parcels and Pierce, by having its personnel at each school for a set time at least one half day a week. Both division detectives and school officials feel this expansion will only result in positive benefits for all concerned, principally the youngsters, themselves.

While the YSD has always served the middle schools, this extension via a set day is the key point.

Under the program, either (or both) Dets. Wayne Baum and Stuart Gerow, (North High School district), will be at Parcels Wednesday afternoons and Friday mornings. Meanwhile, either Det. Patrick Whalen or Det. Donald Schmalz will be at Pierce on Wednesday afternoons and at Brownell at a time yet to be scheduled.

Positive Approach
In exploring the background of this service, Det. Lt. Jack Patterson, who recently was assigned to the detective bureau and is the YSD's supervisor, said he felt there was always room for improvement with the expansion all boiling down to a "collective agreement that 'things change and priorities change.'"

It was unanimously agreed upon that the middle schools should receive more attention, he said. In calling this concept "expanded service at a time when people can plan on it," the lieutenant said, "We'll try it. We're open to suggestions from the schools. We don't know its value as yet but we're interested in giving more positive words (to the schools)."

Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, YSD coordinator, said he was very happy with the new concept and emphasized the schools and their youth would be serviced to a greater degree.

In noting there are many problems on the middle school level, he felt this approach would attack these problems on the middle school ground and thus reduce them before these youngsters attend high school. In this regard, he concurred with the term "preventive maintenance."

The positive attitudes expressed by Lt. Patterson and Mr. Petersen are echoed by the detectives and the principals of the schools.

GIVEN PERMISSION
The Salvation Army Harbor Light Center received the unanimous permission of The Woods Council to conduct its annual sale of the Easter "War Cry" magazine on Saturdays, March 27 and April 3, from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, February 2.

Election Planned for March 29

Public Meeting Scheduled for February 16 to Determine Rate

By Susan McDonald

The Board of Education at its Monday, February 9, regular meeting voted to set the date for this year's millage election for Monday, March 29.

A public meeting will be in the Board offices, 389 St. Clair avenue, on Monday, February 16, to determine the rate of millage to be sought. Current millage taxes will operate the schools and libraries until June 30. The Board is expected to ask for a modest increase of about three mills, besides renewal of the 24.35 school and 1.31 library tax. Trustee Lee Allen also suggested that the two millages be combined for the upcoming election, but his motion was not seconded.

Contract on Horizon
The school budget has been strained this year by a number of extra expenses and cutbacks, many of them originating in Lansing. The Board has already been forced to eliminate one program—a planning and evaluation department—to make ends meet for the current fiscal year.

Contract negotiations for the Grosse Pointe Education Association's, (GPEA), next three-year pact, scheduled to begin in early May, also promises to bring about added pressure to an already strained budget.

Doris Cook, GPEA president, said her organization is "vitally concerned with the upcoming election."

"If the amount of millage passed is not adequate to cover the needs of the employees, then programs will have to be reduced."

She said, "The members of the GPEA have fallen far behind under the current contract, both in terms of cost of living and salaries being paid. Grosse Pointe now ranks in the bottom fourth of Wayne County school districts when comparing current salary schedules."

Salaries represented over 80 percent of the 1975-76 budget, and reached a total of almost $15 million.

Other Pressures
Many of the pressures weighing on the district this year have originated in Lansing. State budget cuts made in November reduced Grosse Pointe's State aid income by $393,512 this year.

St. John Needs Help in Library

If you are looking for something worthwhile to do with your time and training and have a MAJLS degree in Library Science or working library experience, Saint John Hospital's Medical Library Department needs you as a volunteer.

A medical library volunteer must be able to devote one or two full days a week. Qualified volunteers will be trained by department director Margaret N. Carpenter, AMLS.

Saint John Hospital's Medical Library Department provides a 6,000 volume collection of books and journals for the educational use of hospital employees.

Extensive literature searching, reference service and interlibrary loan transactions are conducted by the staff to service the average 200 patrons a day who visit the library.

Volunteers with expertise in journal retention, gifts and exchange and cataloging are needed.

Anyone interested in becoming a medical library volunteer should contact Saint John Hospital's Volunteer Office at 881-8200, extension 541, between 9 a.m. - 4 p.m., Monday-Friday, for a personal interview with Mrs. Virginia Douglas, director of Volunteer Services.

Park Regulation Law Under Study in Woods

By Roger A. Waha
A proposed ordinance to regulate conduct in city-owned parks failed to pass its second reading and final adoption test at the regular meeting of The Woods Council on Monday, February 2.

The proposal "isn't specific enough in certain areas," commented Chairman Ronald R. Kelgen, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Committee, who moved that the measure be referred to the Committee of the Whole, (C-W), for further study. This vote passed by a 5-1 tally.

Now, the council is scheduled to indicate its desires to City Attorney George Catlin for potential adjustments in the ordinance.

Mr. Catlin said two proposed changes, which he indicated Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann wished to be included, would probably be incorporated. One was to limit the speed limit in city parks from 15 to 10 miles per hour and the other was to forbid domestic animals or pets from park grounds without the specific permission of the parks and recreation director.

Councilwoman Joan M. Mullan also cited two concerns in the proposal as drafted. One focused upon (Continued on Page 4)

Mr. Christofferson added, "I'm looking forward to it as it will provide a good service to administrators, counselors, teachers and the students."

In calling this service extension a "kind of pilot program," he stressed the diversion of problems by heading them off at the middle school level, and emphasized this will have no effect on the service both high schools receive from the YSD.

And he added, "This doesn't exclusively mean these will be the only times an officer will appear in the middle schools. This program is above and beyond what we've done before."

Det. Schmalz feels the program is a good idea. "It will put us in closer contact with the youngsters in the lower schools," he said.

"Perhaps we can ease some problems, (e.g., vandalism), and make more efforts in the lower schools to change attitudes."

If the detectives, themselves, are pleased over the concept, the principals are utterly delighted.

exclaimed, "I think it's great!" With the scheduled days, he said the detectives would be involved in talking to classes on a variety of subjects including substance abuse and juvenile crime.

"These are other resource persons for us and not just other policemen," he stressed, while noting he hopes to use the detectives in counseling for both students and parents.

"Once we get them into the classroom, we'll view them as additional staff members," he added—another "resource arm" at the school.

Cites Need

Finally, William C. Mogk, principal at Pierce, also termed the expansion of service as "great."

It's not that we're without service but the fact is they will have a half day here, he said. "This gives more credence to their operation and the help they can give us, I think it's outstanding."

In citing the age level in middle schools and the experimenting of youngsters, Mr. Mogk stated, "The routine visibility of the detectives will develop a relationship between the YSD and the youngsters, which they will carry over to high school."

And with a set schedule, he felt the team concept of supportive services the schools receive will be heightened, while citing the increasing need of such services.

Millage Election

The Board allocated $10,000 in this year's budget for unemployment compensation liabilities, but Lawrence F. Kennedy, personnel director for the schools, warned that the figure would probably be as high as $100,000 next year.

"We have been alarmed at some of the liberal interpretations of these claims," Mr. Kennedy said, "especially in awarding compensation to a few retirees who have put in claims."

Dr. Adams was equally distressed by this trend. "Our one major avenue of making ends meet the means... reducing our staff to reduce our expenditures, is no longer as readily usable."

"To effect a $1 million reduction in our budget we would have to layoff from 180 to 200 $10,000 employees instead of the 100 required in 1971."

Last year the 24.35 millage rate, ($24.35 per $1,000 of taxable valuation), brought in about $16 million. That figure, along with other local sources of income, such as tuition and rents on buildings, provided over 93 percent of the school's operating revenues.

Load May Fall

The school system also collects a 1.6 mill debt retirement tax for the interest and principal on Brownell, North High School and South High's 1971 classroom expansion building loans.

This assessment has been cut by one-half mill for the last two years as part of a three-year program to reduce the surplus in the fund and stabilize the tax assessment.

The schools may face a slightly decreased student load next year as Board of Education estimates of student population project a decrease of about 450 students.

The projected decline is about 5.6 percent of elementary school students, 7.5 percent middle school and one percent high school.

Hike in Fees

rather than so much per foot depending on the size of a particular boat, he felt this was a better way considering the fact that water and electricity are provided.

Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann expects around 95 percent of the wells will be rented this year with all wells being equipped with water and electricity by spring.

Expect No "Bumping"

Meanwhile, the boat dock assignments procedure specifically refers to the "bumping" mode of action, which has caused concern among some boat owners in past years.

"The C-W felt this procedure has worked well in the past and anticipates no 'bumping' this season. They felt there was no need to consider changes in the ordinance regarding the procedure," noted Mr. Petersen.

Mr. Hallmann echoed this statement and said, "We don't anticipate any 'bumping' this year," while noting around eight boats, which came in late last year, may have to be re-assigned.

Finally, the starter blocks, which will be used for swim meets, will cost $1,450 with the monies coming from the Lake Front Park improvement fund.

Cottage's 'Horti-Therapy' Program Proves Beneficial

By Joanne Nicora

"To own a bit of ground, to scratch it with a hoe, to plant seeds, and watch their renewal of life—this is the most satisfactory thing a man can do."

Charles Dudley Warner
"My Summer in a Garden" (1871)

Although they don't own a bit of ground or a hoe to scratch it, psychiatric patients at Cottage Hospital do have the opportunity to pot, feed and care for plants as part of a new recreational program called "horti-therapy."

This is used in the treatment of psychiatric patients who work with plants as part of their psychiatric therapy.

According to Dr. Benjamin Jeffries, chief of psychiatry, the horti-therapy program at Cottage must be considered recreational rather than therapeutic since psychiatric patients are short-term patients discharged within six weeks. This is usually before the full-growth of the plants.

"We are sure that even this introduction to horti-therapy is beneficial for it has had remarkable success elsewhere in treating psychiatric and other emotionally disturbed persons," Dr. Jeffries said in Cottage's December Newsletter.

Such is the case at the Youth Development Center, (YDC), in Cornwells Heights, Pa., where horti-therapy is being used as a treatment for juvenile delinquents. Martin Cotton, who works with youths at the YDC, said aggressiveness is lowered among youths, while self-image and esteem are raised.

"We have worked with rival gang members, students who were enemies, blacks and whites. All these were situations where fights or, at the very least, verbal confrontations could occur. None did. This phenomenon I have called the 'Greenhouse Effect,'" Mr. Cotton said in an edition of "Horticulture" magazine.

The "Greenhouse Effect" was introduced to Cottage by Margaret Hutchings, director of Volunteer Services. After learning about it through the Michigan Council of Directors of Volunteer Services, Mrs. Hutchings got the okay from the head of the Occupational Department to begin horti-therapy at the hospital.

Two dedicated volunteers, Casey Grenke, of McKinley Road, and Marcia Farmer, of University place, spend their Tuesday afternoons working with patients who are interested in plants. Casey and Marcia already do volunteer work at the hospital.

Patient response to the program has been generally good since patients are anxious to work with plants. At first Casey and Marcia thought it might be a good idea to have a lecture before each session. However, they soon found out that the patients weren't interested in lectures.

"What you have to do is give the patients plants right away and work with them as they are working. They want to get their hands in the dirt. They want to manipulate something," Casey said.

Because the hospital stay of patients is short-term, Casey and Marcia said they really can't observe any long range results in the patients. However, they have seen patients who often don't participate in activities begin to get involved after observing others working with plants.

"Our work with the patients is, of course, not psychotherapy, but we know it is therapeutic because we have watched the patients accept responsibility for these living things," Marcia said in the newsletter.

The horti-therapy program at Cottage has been in existence since September 1975. Cottage administrator Ralph L. Wiigard said the hospital feels very fortunate in being able to offer this abbreviated program of horti-therapy.

"We are fortunate in having two volunteers with the proverbial 'green thumb' who can work with the patients, and in having a progressive Occupational Therapy Department where the project can be handled," Mr. Wiigard said.

Along with showing patients how to pot, feed and care for plants, Casey and Marcia also are involved with sand paintings and terrariums.

Pots, soil and other planting supplies are furnished by Allemon Garden Supply and Charvat Florists. While several cuttings are given to the hospital by various members of the Women's Auxiliary, Casey and Marcia would appreciate any cutting donations. Those interested should contact Mrs. Hutchings at 884-8600, extension 315.

Overall, Casey and Marcia agree that the program has been quite successful with no real problems.

"I think the hardest thing of all is to keep enough cuttings for them to plant," Marcia added.

Secours Design Captures Award

Rossetti Associates, Inc., designers of Bon Secours Hospital, are among four Detroit-area architects who have won "M Awards" for excellence in masonry design in last year's design competition. The awards were presented at a banquet on Saturday, January 17 at the Somerset Inn, Troy.

The competition is co-sponsored by the Masonry Institute of Michigan and the Michigan Society of Architects.

Other recipients of the "M Award," a cast bronze plaque, were Giffels Associates, Inc., Detroit, for the headquarters building of the Automobile Association of Michigan; Dearborn; Savin Wycoff Phillips, Inc., Southfield, for the World Camera and Sound building, Livonia; and Smith, Hinchman and Grylls Associates, Inc., Detroit, for the world headquarters of the S. S. Kresge Company, Troy.

The winning projects were selected from among 48 entries submitted by member firms of the Michigan Society of Architects by a jury of architects, headed by John A. Holabird, FAIA.

In presenting the awards, Mr. Holabird was joined by John A. Heslip, executive director of the Masonry Institute of Michigan.

tute of Michigan and Eugene DiLaura, AIA, president of the Michigan Society of Architects.

Bon Secours Hospital was designed in brick over a reinforced concrete frame. The architect's problems were to double the capacity of the existing hospital while remaining on an extremely small site and to design in scale and materials that would not violate the residential character of the neighborhood.

The featured speaker at the banquet was Neal English, executive director of the International Masonry Institute.

Ten winners of the masonry design competition sponsored by the Masonry Institute for senior and junior architectural students at the Lawrence Institute of Technology also were honored at the banquet.

FLEISCHMANN HONORED
Dr. Larry E. Fleischmann, of Lakeshore road, was among five Wayne State University School of Medicine faculty members honored for their work in kidney transplants by the Eastern Region Metropolitan Detroit Chapter of the Kidney Foundation of Michigan.

FLEC Thanks Its Volunteers

The Board of Directors of the Grosse Pointe Family Life Education Council, (FLEC), will host a "thank you" reception for volunteers from 2-4 p.m. Sunday, February 15, at the Berkshire road home of Mrs. Mary Evelyn Self.

Mrs. Self, FLEC president, states, "FLEC programs could not function without volunteer assistance. Volunteer nurses and doctors run the Medical Clinic at Center Point, while trained youth volunteers answer the phones at the Center Point Crises Intervention Center. The FLEC office also could not function without volunteers."

In addition to the regular programs of FLEC, volunteers, adult and youth, play a major role in the planning and operating of the new FLEC programs and special projects, she said.

Trained volunteers offer a listening ear, plus information and referrals, on family problems through "Dialogue," a "hotline" for adults who don't know where to turn with all inquiries being confidential.

FLEC, in cooperation with other organizations, provides community programs to strengthen the family unit, she added.

GPW Seniors Make Plans For Bicentennial Project

An estimated 50 letters have been sent by The Woods Senior Citizens Commission to various organizations requesting their participation in a "Bicentennial Symbolic Tree" project which, the commission hopes, will involve all service groups in the community.

The objective is to have each organization design an ornament which would best depict the group and its purpose. These ornaments would then be hung on a real Christmas-type tree which will possibly be exhibited at the city hall in late April.

Irene Sutton, commission chairman, said letters were mailed to all Woods churches and schools, along with the National and State Bicentennial Committees, among other organizations and individuals, e.g. Senators Joseph Snyder and John Hertel.

While plans currently call for only one tree, two have already been donated by Harold Lyndrup, commission member, in the event another will be needed, she said.

In her letter, Mrs. Sutton stated the ornament must meet several requirements including the fact it may be three-dimensional, a plaque or emblem and limited in size to 6 by 6 inches. It can be of any shape, e.g. flat, round or square, with words or trimmings on all sides.

Suggested colors are red, white or blue or any combination thereof, while the ornaments may be of any texture, e.g., plastic, styrofoam, cardboard or light wood, "preferably something that will be conspicuous" but light enough in weight so branches won't be broken.

She suggested they should be weatherized and requested that a hook be attached for easy hanging.

As an example, Mrs. Sutton said the commission's ornament will be three-dimensional and include a miniature table and chairs bearing the names of each member.

She felt the Kiwanis Club could be represented by a blue bus carrying children to the park, while the Lions Club might feature glasses, canes or seeing-eye dogs. But what specific design is selected depends on the group or individual.

The deadline for submitting the "visuals" at the municipal building, 20025 Mack avenue, is March 15, she said. Plans then call for a special tree hanging ceremony at city hall on April 26.

For further information on the project, call Rose Blaskey at 884-5435.

Valuations

In 1975, the factor of 1.08 was used because of the fact homes were being sold at higher prices.

This year, the tentative factor of 1.14 is scheduled to be applied with assessments rising over five percent. The community's ratio is 44.04.

In The Park, City Assessor Herbert Heger said the factor used to assess property last year was 1.04 and that this year the tentative factor is 1.09. While hoping assessments will remain the same, he felt they would go up slightly but didn't know specifically how much over 1975. The Park's ratio is 46.21.

Woods City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher had earlier reported that the city, which utilized a 1.00 factor since 1968, would go with a 1.07 factor this year. The municipality's ratio is 46.84.

Camera Club Meets Tuesday

The next meeting of the Grosse Pointe Camera Club will be held Tuesday, February 17, at 7:45 p.m. in the music room, (C-11), in Brownell School, 260 Chalfonte avenue.

The meeting will feature a competition in black-and-white and color prints, (blow-ups), and slides on nature and pictorial views.

Club meetings are open to everyone interested in pictures or photography. Dues are nominal and special rates are given for family memberships and for students. Reduced rates apply after January 1 for the season through May.

The club is affiliated with the Photographic Society of America and with the Greater Detroit Camera Club Council.

the need for a permit for any public meeting, assembly or parade, including but not limited to drills, maneuvers, ceremonies, addresses, speeches or political meetings. She expressed a concern over a possible infringement of an individual's basic right of assembly in such an instance.

Mr. Catlin stated the right of peaceful assembly shouldn't be dependent on anyone, (regarding obtaining a permit for such an activity from the parks and recreation director).

However, he noted the proposal was addressing itself to a possible conflict situation e.g., regarding gatherings and the availability of the facility to handle large groups of people on public park property. He also said each given fact situation would have to be viewed as to whether it's reasonable or unreasonable.

Her second concern was over the term "loitering" as used in the section on parking, i.e., "There shall be no loitering within a parked car for any purpose." She felt the term was too general.

On the pair of points Mrs. Mullan cited, Mr. Catlin said he assumes changes could be made in both but has to await specific council instructions in these areas and in any other possible section.

He added the proposal will probably be considered again for final adoption at one of the council meetings in March.

This measure is an outgrowth of the ordinance approved by St. Clair Shores last September, (and governing the Lake Front Park which is located in that community), said City Administrator Chester E. Petersen. The new proposal, when adopted, will give the city a law with which to work regarding the enforcement of park rules in such locations as Chene-Trombley, Ghesquiere and Sweeney.

Prior to the proposal, the city had no ordinance governing conduct in its own parks except rules and regulations for Lake Front Park which were drafted in an ordinance form giving Mr. Hallmann the authority to establish such rules for the park, said Mr. Petersen.

"We realized we never had an ordinance similar to the one St. Clair Shores adopted for our Lake Front Park, and we felt it best to have an ordinance applicable to parks in our city," he added. Hence, the proposal was.

Before the matter was referred to the C.W., a motion for final adoption failed to receive support, while a motion to nix adoption also died for lack of support.

tional education, special education, reading support and cooperative programs are among those affected.

"We understand the need for some cutting of programs and services by the State," Dr. Adams explained. "However we disagree with the method of arriving at those cuts."

"We feel that it is unfair to take from us State funds used for programs mandated by the State."

Dr. Adams added he expects the district to receive no categorical State aid for these programs for the 1976-77 school year.

TLC Turns Frigid Fido Into A Pampered Pooch

By Tom Greenwood
The latest greenwood on Frosty, the pooped puppy pulled from Lake St. Clair last month, has confirmed that The Farms' pet population has grown by one.
When we last left Frosty, a 20-pound, taffy colored cockapoo, he was badly in need of tender loving care, (TLC), after being rescued from the lake by Farms Police Sgt. Arnold Parsons. Another hero entered the scene, Philip Leon, of Lakeshore Road, who volunteered to care for the cold canine until someone claimed him.

Mr. Leon, a known puppy pushover, ended up claiming the dog himself.

"We had a few phone calls and a couple of people came over to see him," said Mr. Leon in a telephone interview. "But Frosty gave them all the cold shoulder, so I ended up keeping him myself."

Mr. Leon also owns another dog, a stray he picked up after it was hit by a car. "Actually, they get along nicely now, although Frosty gets rather pushy at dinner time," said Mr. Leon. "He wants all the food to himself."

Mr. Leon decided the name Frosty was the correct choice for his latest household addition. "Actually, it was either that or call him Titanic, since they both had so much trouble with ice."

As for Sgt. Parsons, he has been commended to the police merit board by Farms Police Chief Robert K. Ferber for his "heroic actions in compassion for living animal life."

Sgt. Parsons is pretty happy about the commendation. The last time he rescued a dog from Lake St. Clair, all he got for it was pleurisy.

Almost everyone enjoys some type of music, according to the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation. But Crusade officials urge that music be listened to at reasonable volume levels, pointing out that highly amplified music can present a hazard to hearing ability.

Farms Reports Rape Attempt

Farms police are looking for a man they believe responsible for two indecent exposures and the molestation with intent to rape of a Richmond, Mich., woman.

The woman told police she was walking east on Charlevoix about 9:30 p.m. Sunday, February 8, when an east-bound car stopped along side her and the driver asked directions to Moross road.

The woman gave directions, but the driver said he didn't understand, parked his car westbound on Charlevoix and got out to clarify the directions.

Once out of the car, he grabbed the woman and began kissing her. He then pushed her to the ground and said he was going to rape her. He said not to scream or he would kill her, according to the report.

The woman began screaming and her assailant ran to his car and drove west on Charlevoix.

The man was described as oriental looking with short, dark hair in bangs. He appeared to be about 5'4" tall, small boned and thin. He was wearing a green army jacket and seemed to speak with a slight accent.

His car was described as a light blue Gremlin with an "X" stripe on it.

The car and description fits a man who exposed himself to two different women on Sunday, January 31, and Tuesday, February 2.

The koala eats only eucalyptus leaves, according to "International Wildlife" magazine. The "teddy bear" selects less than 20 out of the 5 Australian eucalyptus species for its diet.

U.S. Gardens to Be Viewed

Agnes Crow, first vice-president and finance chairman of Detroit Garden Center, will speak on "Bicentennial Gardens" when the Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe holds its regular meeting, Thursday, February 19, at 8 p.m. in the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue.

Born and raised in Carthage, Mo., Miss Crow now resides in Hampton road.

Her talk will include a discussion of plants and trees which were native to the United States 20 years ago, and outstanding gardens which were developed from native and imported plant material within that period. These include gardens in New England, Natchez, Miss. and Savannah, Ga. She also will discuss historic Moross House, 1460 East Jefferson avenue, which now houses the Detroit Garden Center, its garden and library.

She received a Bachelor of Science degree in mathematics from Kansas State College at Pittsburg, and a Master of Arts degree from Columbia University, New York City.

After teaching mathematics at Kansas State College and Eastern Michigan University, she joined the faculty of Southeastern High School, Detroit, where she was a mathematics instructor and counselor for 2 years, retiring in 1962.

All male gardeners in the area are invited to attend.

Usually it's not the initial cost of a bad habit that's so expensive—it is the upkeep.

Whether or not to serve wine with meals is a question of custom, taste and money. The best time to serve wine is, of course, for a special occasion, and to make food taste even better. On the other hand, there is nothing like a bottle of wine to spruce up the simplest meal, and make it more mouth-watering. Choose one wine that can be served with first and main courses, or special wine that can be served with simple desserts or as a desert in itself, rather than go through with an elaborate ritual of different wines for different courses.

We at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 will be happy to help you choose a wine to complement your meal. We stock a large variety of inexpensive but good half gallon and gallon table wines. We will also be glad to suggest a fine cordial for the finishing touches. Hours: 10-10 Mon.-Thurs.; 10-11 Fri., Sat.; noon-10 Sun.

WINE WISDOM:

Liquor and brandies are served in small quantities with or following after-dinner coffee, and are always in small glasses.

Woods' Resolutions Nix Tax Plan, House Bill 5762

The Woods Council via two unanimously passed resolutions at its regular meeting Monday, February 2, has taken a dim view of a proposed "Share-the-Wealth" tax plan and House Bill 5762.

Councilwoman Joan M. Mullan offered the resolution against Gov. William Milliken's proposed tax plan which the measure says "doesn't appear to be equitable when applied (to) suburban communities."

It states the plan doesn't appear to take into account the distribution of tax funds under the Federal Revenue Sharing plan or CETA funds furnished by Federal taxpayers.

The measure stresses the council's long stand for the proposition that local communities should attempt to solve their own problems if at all possible, and notes the tax plan "appears to be diametrically opposed to such philosophy."

Meanwhile, the second resolution, offered by Councilman Ronald R. Keegen, urges the defeat of HB 5762, which was introduced last November.

The bill proposes to amend the Michigan Liquor Control Act to provide that tavern licenses may be granted to retail food establishments selling meals for consumers on the premises without regard to the population limitations contained in such act, says the resolution.

It continues by noting if the proposed bill should be enacted into law, local control over the number of food establishments permitted to sell liquor, beer and wine, would come totally under the control of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

The resolution then says the council "has been and is opposed to the continued erosion of the concept of home rule," and has urged that the Liquor Control Act be amended to provide for greater local control over Class C and tavern licenses in counties of a million population.

If the bill should be enacted into law, the results might well be "the deterioration of the standard of community life in numerous cities throughout the State of Michigan," it states.

Copies of both resolutions were sent to Gov. Milliken, Senators John Hertel and Joseph Snyder and Rep. William Bryant. The latter measure also was sent to all communities in the Wayne County area.

Farms Views Problem Home

One of the most chronic problems ever to face The Farms Council may finally be coming to a close.

The council received a progress report from Anthony Randazzo concerning the home owned by his mother at 452 Madison avenue that finally was to their liking.

The home, once declared to be a "dangerous building" because of its state of unoccupied disrepair, has long been a problem to the council.

Repeated efforts to have the home repaired, or torn down, have plagued the council for months.

At the Monday night, February 2, meeting, Mr. Randazzo told the council the last of the repairs have been made and the house will soon be listed with a realtor.

Among the final repairs made to the house were a water repellent covering put down on the kitchen floor; sewers cleaned out; a new hot water tank and feeder installed; garage scraped and painted; new light fixtures installed throughout the house; all debris removed from the house; new tiles laid in the basement; and the fence in the rear property line completed and erected.

Mr. Randazzo also plans to install two gas lamps in the front of the house.

Mr. Randazzo told the council he hopes to list the home with a realtor in "two or three" weeks.

The council said that if they received a letter from a realtor listing the home before the next scheduled council meeting, Monday, March 1, Mr. Randazzo would not have to appear again before them.

He will speak on his work with Vitamin E with a question and answer session following.

Dispute Ends On Happy Note

The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, February 2, unanimously approved the payment of $213 to Ed Schmid Ford, of Ferndale. This amount was previously deducted by the city, which had earlier accepted his bid for a truck with cab and chassis only.

After a long discussion between Mr. Schmid, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen and the council it was ultimately decided that, due to an apparent misinterpretation of specifications, Mr. Schmid should receive the $213 back.

While the discussion became heated on occasions, (with even the cloud of arbitration temporarily raising its head), it ended on a peaceful note when the council okayed the payment.

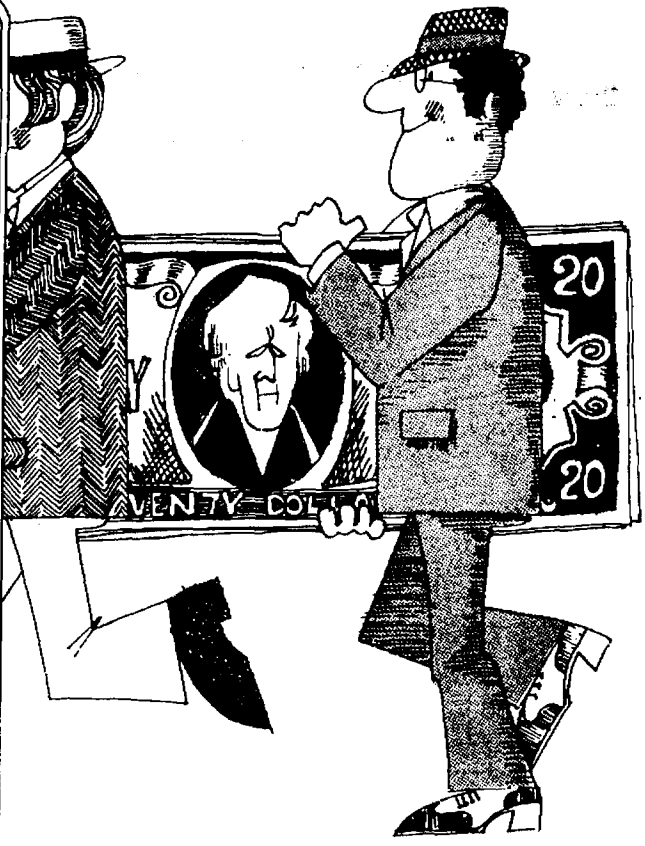

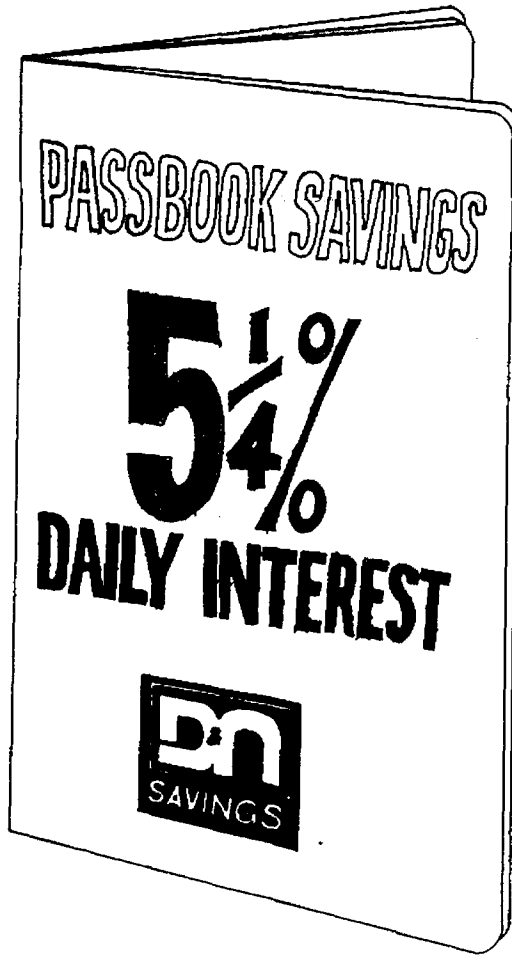

Mayor Pro-Tem George S. Freeman called the entire dispute a misunderstanding and stressed that the municipality will always pay its bills after Mr. Schmid indicated he felt the city would take advantage of the situation if he didn't receive payment.

DUFFIELD APPOINTED

The Grosse Pointe City Council voted unanimously at its Monday, January 19, meeting to appoint Councilwoman Jeanette Duffield as their legislative coordinator with the Michigan Municipal League this year.

Gets Probation For One Year

A 37-year-old St. Clair Shores man was placed on one year's probation with the last three months to be served in DeHoCo, (Detroit House of Correction), after pleading guilty to a charge of carrying a pistol in a motor vehicle, reported to Woods police. The court also could possibly suspend that sentence.

John Evangelos Routsis appeared before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge John Kirwin on Tuesday, January 6, and was assessed $165 in costs.

A second charge against the defendant, assault with intent to do great bodily harm, was dismissed, police added.

His arrest stemmed from an incident last October.

Neighborhood Club Has Long, Colorful History

By Susan McDonald
It's Bicentennial time and, like most of us, the Grosse Pointe Neighborhood Club is taking a long, proud look back at its history.

At the club's recent 1976 board of directors meeting, director John Bruce reflected on the organization's 65 years in The Pointe which has taken it through times of war, depressions and eras of social upheaval.

The club has adapted in many ways to the changing times and, as one of the community's oldest service organizations, has given rise to many Pointe institutions since its establishment by 19 civic-minded ladies in 1911.

In the face of a terrible typhoid epidemic in 1914, for instance, the club began what is now known as Cottage Hospital. By 1927 the hospital had grown into a separate corporation.

The Neighborhood Club laid the seeds of the present Thrift Shop when it held two rummage sales in 1929 to pay off its mounting debts, as well as helping establish The Pointe's first circulating library.

During the depression years, the club was transformed into a Public Welfare

Center. Then, there was the challenge of the second world war.

"The club adjusted to the community needs in the dark thirties and is willing to accept responsibility in the perilous forties," said executive director George E. worthy in the 1942 annual report.

The club took on the job of coordinating civil defense and sponsoring USO dances. By 1944, some 3,000 young men had spent their last hours at home at Neighborhood Club send-off parties.

After the war and through the fifties the club got down to providing for the everyday needs of the community. Social services and recreation were its main thrust.

In responding to the social change of the sixties, the club formed the Family Life Education Council (FLEC) to deal with drugs, alcohol and family problems. FLEC is now operating independently of the club.

Under the administration of Mr. Bruce, who became director in 1971, club membership has doubled, (to 5,200), as have the number of programs offered. Mr. Bruce's leadership has emphasized programs for young adults, which seems to be the call of the day.

"I look back with awe and ahead with anticipation," said Mr. Bruce at the board meeting. "The challenge for this board and staff is to recognize and respond to needs of today's Grosse Pointe."

Club Plans Ski Weekend

The War Memorial's Ski Hi Club for students in grades 7-12 will be going to Blue Mountain, Collingwood, Ont., Canada, to ski the week-end of February 20-22. Another bus has been added for Junior Schuss members to go.

All will leave the Center promptly at 4 p.m. in charter highway buses for Canada.

Supervision, accommodations and meals at Arrowhead Lodge and all area lift tickets for the weekend are included for $68.50. Reservations must be immediately made at the War Memorial's office.

GPYC Lists New Officers

The annual Commodore's Ball of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club was held Saturday, January 24, at the Bayview Yacht Club in honor of outgoing Commodore Bruce K. Reynolds, of Washington road.

On one of the snowiest evenings of the winter, a large and festive crowd turned out for the occasion, which included the election of a new slate of officers for the coming year.

Dr. Frank L. McGillan, of Washington road, was elected new Commodore, moving up from his 1975 position as Vice Commodore. Elected to succeed him as Vice Commodore was Eugene G. O'Brien Jr., also of Washington road. He was last year's Rear Commodore, a position filled by newly-elected Clifford J. Crookford of Lincoln road, previously a member of the board of directors.

Four new directors were elected to serve during the coming year including Arthur J. Behm, of Washington road; James H. Finney, of Notre Dame avenue; Cedric Guthrie, Sam A. Macy, both of St. Clair avenue.

Commodore Reynolds, in turning over his office to Commodore-elect McGillan, paid tribute to members and officers for their full participation in a year of social and boating activities. The continued efforts of members towards improvements of boating facilities at the City's facilities at Neff Park, home port for the organization, also was cited.

James O. Hoyt, treasurer, delivered the annual report on the financial standing of the club.

Single Parents To Meet Friday

The Grosse Pointe Chapter of Parents Without Partners will hold its next general meeting Friday, February 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road.

Following the coffee and social hour, Youth Service Division Det. Patrick Fagan will speak on youth problems, behavior and juvenile crime.

In addition, Mary Evelyn Self, president of the Family Life Education Council will give information on a forthcoming seminar on Alcohol Awareness.

All members and eligible prospective members are invited to attend. An afterglow will be held following the meeting.

Taste Barrier Broken.

Struggle to get taste into low tar smoking ends suddenly with new 'Enriched Flavor' discovery for 9 mg. tar MERIT.

For years, dependency on tar for taste has created a taste barrier for low tar cigarettes.

A limit on how good a low tar smoke could taste.

Now that barrier has been broken.

Broken by a remarkable cigarette called MERIT. MERIT packs a radically-new 'Enriched Flavor' discovery developed after years of research by Philip Morris.

'Enriched Flavor' is so good at packing extra flavor into tobacco that MERIT actually delivers as much—or more—taste than cigarettes having more tar.

Up to 60% more tar.

Yet MERIT delivers only 9 mg. tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today. Lower, in fact, than 98% of all cigarettes sold.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

Tobacco—Not Special Filters—Ends "Low Tar, Good Taste" Search

Special "low tar, good taste" filters are what most other cigarette makers came up with to try to get flavor into low tar smoking.

And are still coming up with.

But the answer, the real answer, comes from the other end of smoking. The tobacco end.

By "cracking" tobacco smoke down into its various ingredients, researchers at Philip Morris discovered there are certain basic ingredients more important to taste than others.

Ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

By selecting these high quality flavor producers that are also low tar contributing, 'Enriched Flavor' was carefully developed, perfected and packed into the tobacco used to make MERIT.

The taste-test results were startling.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar cigarette brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of filter smokers were involved, smokers like yourself, all tested at home.*

The results were conclusive:

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly too, delivering as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now you've got the cigarette

MERIT. Incredible smoking pleasure at only 9 mg. tar. From Philip Morris.

North Seventh In Mat Action

By Bob Evanski

Recently competing in the Bi-County Wrestling Tournament at Roseville, North High School placed seventh. It was their second tournament competition of the year.

Five Norsemen wrestlers placed in the top four in their respective weight classes. In the 98-pound class, junior Brian Coury finished third. Bill Queen was third in the 105-pound division; Joe Caravino placed fourth in the 126-pound division; Jed Vier finished fourth in the 132-pound category; and Jack Zapatoski wound up fourth in the 138-pound class.

Overall, Fraser took first place honors, Clintondale was second and Lakeshore, was third.

This year's team has been led by consistent junior wrestlers Coury, Vier and Zapatoski. All three have accumulated 60 points or more which is almost double the amount needed for a varsity letter.

Queen and Brian Moody also have been steady performers.

Although this is only the second year that North has had a wrestling team, the future looks to be one of increasing success. Only four seniors are on this year's team while next year the squad will rely on returning juniors and a dozen returning freshmen.

Coach Andy Delia, commenting on this year's team, said, "Our attitude has increased with each match we've played. Everyone has given 100 percent."

On Saturday, February 14, North will compete at Fitzgerald High School.

NHS Defeats SHS Again; Devils Stay in EML Race

By Tom Shine

It was another up and down week for South High School cagers as they took apart L'Anse Creuse North, 79-44, on Friday, February 6, and then played a listless game against North High on Saturday, February 7, in dropping a 51-46 decision.

Fortunately, the Devils' win was an Eastern Michigan League, (EML), game. The victory gave South a 7-1 league and 9-5 overall mark. South is only one half game behind Mount Clemens in EML play.

The victory over L'Anse Creuse North came as no surprise since this is the first year of basketball for the Crusaders.

South, led by big men Jim Parsons and Drew Peterson, controlled both boards against the undersized Crusaders. This, combined with L'Anse Creuse's poor shooting, allowed the Devils a 17-8 first quarter lead.

South continued to be tough inside but their shooting cooled off as the second quarter began. The Crusaders' offense started to click near the end of the half and they only trailed 32-24 at half-time.

In the third quarter, the Devils simply blew the Crusaders out of the gymnasium. South reeled off six straight baskets to go ahead, 44-24. The Devils continued to pour it on, getting two and three shots at a time and scoring at will.

While South was piling up the points, L'Anse Creuse couldn't buy a basket. Sloppy all-around play held the Crusaders to just six points and left them trailing 60-30 going into the final quarter.

South used substitutes the entire fourth quarter and coasted the rest of the way. Parsons was high scorer with 22 points while Dave Ferris netted 13. A total of 13 players scored for South.

In the rematch with North, South was looking to avenge an earlier 62-54 defeat. South fans were optimistic since the earlier defeat was before the Devils performed their turn around and began winning.

It was not to be, however, as South looked like it did early in the year; unorganized on offense and weak on the boards.

Both teams came out cautious, not wanting to make a mistake. North held small leads the entire quarter and scored the last basket to lead 14-12 as the quarter ended.

The Norsemen continued to hold the lead but never larger than five points as the second quarter opened. Both squads, especially South, were having trouble scoring.

Thanks to some good defense play and a couple of baskets by Peterson, South pulled within one point, 21-20.

ULS Skaters Receive Big Boost from Logan Brothers

By Robert Holmes

Houston can have its Howes, and Woody Hayes can praise his Griffins until he goes blue in the face. However, University Liggett School feels it is time to sing words of praise for its own Logan brothers.

Peter and Jeff Logan, of Willison road, are burning up the ice at a rate so fast the opposing goalies have had to be treated for shell-shock after each game.

Pete, a senior, and Jeff, a sophomore, along with high scoring center Mark Gulyas form the "Punch Line" which has led the Knights to a 10-0-1 league record.

When the season started Peter was on defense and brother Jeff was on the right wing. However, coach Larry Desmond decided to try the two brothers on the same line. As coach Desmond said, "They worked tremendously well as soon as we put them together."

So far this season, the ULS nair are scoring at better than a point a game clip. Jeff has 24 goals and 18 assists in 14 games for 39 total points, while Pete has 12 goals and 6 assists for 18 total points.

The most amazing statistic though is that in the past three games, a 14-2 victory, a 22-1 lopsided win and a 11-0 triumph, Jeff has 17 points for an average of almost six points a game and Peter has nine points for an average of three a game.

say, "These three have been scoring 80 to 90 percent of all our points." Mark has 13 goals and 21 assists for 34 points.

This is Pete's fourth year on the varsity squad and in a game that is dominated by 6 foot, 185 pound hulks, the 5'8", 135 pound forward's accomplishments are even greater. Pete is looking towards hockey-minded Colorado College next year, wanting to play the game as long as possible.

In addition to their hockey ability, both Jeff and Pete are exceptional tennis players and both are on the varsity squad at ULS.

To excel in one sport is truly a gift, but to excel in two sports is much more than a gift. University Liggett School is very proud to have Peter and Jeff Logan.

NHS Swims in Invitational

By Bob Evanski

The North High School swim team visited the Wayne State University campus to take part in the Ninth Annual Michigan High School Invitational Swim Meet on Saturday, February 7.

This meet pitted the best swimmers in the State against each other as the top 24 of each event competed. Last year, North didn't have a representative at this meet, but this year, a dozen Norsemen tankers made waves in the WSU pool.

Scott Nixon finished seventh in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 23:42. The winner of this event, from Bay City Central, posted a time of 22:48.

In the diving competition, Mike Brown finished sixth with a total of 402.60.

North's 200-yard medley relay team consisting of John Dimond in the backstroke, Mark Gerganoff in the breaststroke, Andy Howe in the butterfly, and Nixon in the freestyle, finished seventh, with a time of 1:46.861.

The winning time by Dearborn was a record smashing 1:40.545.

With a time of 3:26.455, North took an eighth place finish in the 400 freestyle relay. Dearborn again was on top with a time of 3:19.763, another meet record.

Dimond also swam the 100 backstroke for North to round off the 12 man squad for this meet.

The green and gold are now awaiting for the big State tournament to be held in March at the University of Michigan. North has already qualified one relay team and three individuals, one being Gerganoff in the 100 breaststroke.

On Friday, February 13, the Norsemen will "splash" with South High School in North's pool at 4 p.m. Last year, the Devils won the annual clash, but this time North hopes to turn things around.

Gerganoff said, "With last year's loss to South, I feel the team is capable of an outstanding victory performance this year."

After the South's meet, coach Tom Teetaert and his tankers face tough opposition when they swim against Ann Arbor and Warren Cousino back-to-back.

Sarah Bleich reports North swimmers became the Bi-County League champions after defeating Southlake on Thursday, February 5, by a score of 129-45. The Norsemen took first place in 10 of the 11 events.

Shawn Lakin was a double winner, winning both the 200 yard individual medley and the 500-yard freestyle.

St. Clare Cagers Win 4 Games

By Tom Wilson

The Saint Clare girls team played a poor Saint Juliana squad and beat them, 42-27, on Sunday, February 8. Carol Lechner pumped in 12 points for the girls. The girls play at Saint Brendans on Sunday, February 15, at 2 p.m.

Meanwhile, the Saint Clare Falcons' sixth grade team made its record 7-1 by defeating Guardian Angel, 44-18, on the 8th. The Falcons took an early 6-0 lead, and stayed out in front the rest of the way. Tom Wilson scored 16 points, while Tom Kisskalt had 8. Saint Clare will play at Saint Joan on Sunday, February 15, at 3:30 p.m.

The Saint Clare Falcons seventh grade team also soundly defeated Guardian Angel, 51-20. The seventh grade got off to a good start, and were up 33-8 at halftime. Eric Goltz had 16 points before being taken out of the game. Mark Carroll was the second leading scorer with seven. The seventh grade will play at Saint Joan on the 15th at 4:45 p.m.

Finally, the eighth grade team won its first regular season game by beating Guardian Angel, 35-29. The Falcons were ahead most of the first quarter, and were in charge the rest of the way. Alan Berezik scored 10 points, while Chris Ellis had six. The eighth grade team will play a tough Saint Joan team on the road at 6 p.m. on the 15th.

One View from the Capitol

By William Bryant

There is only one way the very tight budget submitted by the Governor could ever be adopted. People must be willing to settle for the State doing less for them.

That should be fairly easy for most people in my district, most of whom are not large consumers of State money or services, and what a budget looks like depends on who demands more of what and how much don't they have.

The area schools get very little help, the communities get some, a few residents have had to take ADC for a while and a few are in State mental hospitals for either retardation or mental illness problems. Yes, a few are even in State prisons.

But it is not only consumers of services who often demand more and better. There is a second and third group who have great impact.

One group is the public employee. Many districts have thousands of State employees or school and municipal employees whose salary increase will be determined by State dollars available. His group is a different kind of consumer of State money.

The other group is the advocate. I get letters all the time saying we should increase availability of quality education — that means more money. That we should lower college tuition — that means more money to make up the difference. Clean up the environment — more money. Help community mental health — more money.

The toughest group to deal with may be the advocate group. Advocates of mental

Know Your Schools

By Dr. James A. Adams
Superintendent of Schools

Because of our great pre-occupation with financial planning, it may sometimes appear that the Board of Education, the superintendent and the staff do not give adequate attention to the curriculum and to the development of the various programs of studies. This is really not the case.

It is unfortunate that we may sometimes appear to be so bogged down with our other serious problems we do not take the time to report the advances that are being made with the curriculum.

Therefore, I hope to devote the next several columns to a summary of three excellent curriculum proposals which are before the Board: The Art Curriculum of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools K-12; The General Music Curriculum of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools K-6; and The Kindergarten Handbook of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools.

Let me begin with Art. The Board of Education Trustees have received the document and are expected to approve it at the next regular meeting, slated for Monday, March 8, in the gymnasium of Mason School. At the same time, the Board will receive the proposals in English and reading for action at a later date.

When they act officially on the proposal, they will be reacting to a 29-page curriculum document which is simply stated, yet extremely complete. Sections of the guide are devoted to Art Philosophy and Goals, The Required Art Curriculum K-7, The Elective Art Curriculum Grade 7-12, Scope and Sequence Charts for Art K-7 and Scope and Sequence Charts for Grades 7-12.

Work on a sequence of art skills and concepts for the Grosse Pointe Public Schools began during a two-day planning workshop held by elementary art teachers to design and establish an elementary school Art program. Prior to the 1975-76 school year, homeroom teachers had been responsible for whatever Art instruction was provided for students in the elementary schools.

However, a team of elementary Art teacher specialists was employed in 1975-76, and the committee worked with the Department of Instruction to design a preliminary program which was published as a working curriculum in September 1975.

During the course of the 1975-76 school year, the committee modified the preliminary report in the light of experience to produce the proposed scope and sequence of skills and concepts to be taught in Art, the lists of common activities and the media and materials to be used in grades 1-6.

To this beginning were added the approved Art recommendations of the Kindergarten Committee and those of the Middle School Art Department. The High School Art Department chairpersons also were of great assistance in reviewing these materials and in helping to outline the rich Art offerings of both North and South High Schools.

So, for the first time, the Grosse Pointe Public Schools have a carefully articulated and defined program of studies in Art K-12. This has been a dream for many years.

The present sequence of skills and concepts in Art was made possible by the hiring of an elementary art staff for the 1975-76 school year and by the general acceptance by all of the fact that Art is vital to the entire instructional program in Grosse Pointe and is by no means a peripheral subject.

All students now have a continuous, integrated, required curriculum in Art extending from the kindergarten through the first half of the seventh grade. Following these required experiences, students with special interests and talents have the opportunity to proceed as far as they are capable with the study of Art in terms of either vocation or avocation.

It is certain that all individual subject areas and the Grosse Pointe School System as a whole will be richer because of the carefully organized new curriculum in Art.

Women to Hear Dem Hopeful

The Grosse Pointe Democratic Women's Discussion Group will hear State Sen. John Otterbacher, a Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate on Wednesday, February 18, at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Alice Fine, of 1092 Grayton Road.

The young legislator from Grand Rapids chairs the Health, Social Services and Retirement Committee as well as the Special Senate Committee to Investigate Nursing Homes. He recently appeared in Detroit to hold hearings on welfare reform.

The Democratic Women meet informally each week to discuss and act on local and national issues of concern to the membership.

Guests and new members are always welcome. For further information, contact chairperson Susie B. Lewis at 886-4415.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur M. Woodford
Chief of Central Library

Some of our most avid readers are mystery buffs. For these patrons, and for any other reader who is looking for a good story to curl up with on these cold winter nights, here are some of the new mystery and suspense stories now on the shelves at your Grosse Pointe Public Libraries.

A BIG WIND FOR SUMMER, (Harper and Row), by Gavin Black is a puzzler that hinges on the authenticity of a "relic" from colonialism and the gratuitous climate of the Scottish isles.

Lady Eloise MacIntosh has a masterpiece to sell if only she can spring loose from the captive household of her daughter and husband. Another way out is to lure the son of a late friend from empire days up to Arran Island and convince him to act as a go-between with dealers. Dicey problems all, which come to a nifty head one evening when a storm rips along the coast and makes "shipping" a hazardous business indeed. Well-done British fare.

John D. MacDonald's latest Travis McGee mystery in hardcover is NIGHTMARE IN PINK, (Lippincott). Trav is in Manhattan, having been summoned by Nina Gibson who suspects financial hanky-panky at the firm where her murdered fiancé had worked. McGee learns that the company's president has been behaving strangely; Trav makes a cocktail date with the president's sexy secretary.

Then, in one of the most horrifying scenes in fiction, MacDonald details what happens to Trav when a shot of LSD is slipped into his drink. He's locked up in an escape-proof mental institution and readers will be breathless trying to figure out how their favorite hero is going to come through this time.

911, (Mason/Carter), by Thomas Chastain is a tight, expertly plotted and thorough well-researched novel about a mad bomber loose in New York City during the season between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Chief Inspector Max Kauffman, sophisticated, cynical, totally dedicated to his job, teams up with another loner on the force, Tynan, head of the bomb squad. What really makes this work so intelligent is the background expertise Chastain has brought to it in terms of the psychology behind such bombings and in the way in which bomb detectives actually work. There's a special kicker at the end involving the identity of the bomber.

From New York we move to Chicago in NO PLACE LIKE HOME, (Putnam), by J. Bradford Olesker. Here a mysterious psychopathic killer, operating with fiendish cunning, strikes down victim after victim in a luxury high-rise apartment, causing such panic among the tenants that they become a danger to each other.

Lt. Colt, under pressure from his superiors to solve the case quickly, and so forestall a brewing political crisis, applies all his skill to do so. But after having established the killer's identity by means of a certain bizarre pattern discernible in the killings, Colt finds it hard, and a good deal more risky, to catch him. This is an excellent little thriller, smoothly told, chilling and ingenious.

In RIPOFF, Harper and Row), by Arthur Maling, New York financial analyst, Brockton Potter has just exposed a major fraud and made a number of enemies doing so. Now he is lured into investigating the possibility that key bonds belonging to a Chicago-based insurance company may be missing from bank vaults. Reluctantly, with his partners none too sure they support him, he starts probing.

The plotting here is most ingenious and even readers who wouldn't know a stock from a bond can follow the fascinating financial detective work involved in probing the soft under-belly of a giant conglomerate.

THE BRANDENBURG HOTEL, (St. Martin's), by Pauline Glen Winslow is an uncommonly engrossing and highly literate novel.

A group of displaced Germans is staying in a country hotel after World War II. One of their number, a young girl, is murdered. Since Franz Diener is presumed to be her lover and they have quarreled publicly, the unfortunate man seems doomed. The local police officer, who believes Diener innocent, is loath to tell Sergeant Capricorn of Scotland Yard that the murder weapon is Diener's golf club. Capricorn begins investigating everyone connected with the dead girl and finds elusive strings connecting her to others.

Readers will find it hard to cease following the patient footsteps of Officer Capricorn.

Organ Recital Set for Sunday

Paul L. Reynolds, director of Music for Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore Road, will present an organ recital Sunday, February 15, at 7:30 p.m.

The program is designed to explore the many colorful and stylistic possibilities of the Alan Shelden Memorial Organ presented to the church by Mrs. Alan Shelden in 1959 in memory of her husband.

Music, which has been chosen from the 18th to 20th centuries, represents such composers as Buxtehude, Hindemith, Sowerby and Vierne. The major J. S. Bach work for the evening will be the Prelude and Fugue in A minor.

The Shelden Memorial Organ is located in the chancel, the West Gallery and the Rear Gallery of the church and is played from a four manual console located in the chancel. For the recital the console will be rolled into the center of the chancel in view of the listeners.

The recital is open to the public. A door donation will be received to help defray expenses of the event and other concerts in the Memorial Church Musica series.

HOLDING SWAY

Because it is the carrier of the deadly trypanosome or sleeping sickness, the tsetse fly holds sway over 4.15 million square miles or 37 percent of Africa's land mass, thus preventing significant agricultural and livestock development of half of the continent's grasslands, reports "International Wildlife" magazine.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Out in Las Vegas last Sunday, Gordon M. Buehrig, of Lochmoor boulevard, received another honor.

He was cited, at the 37th annual luncheon of Automotive Organization Team, Inc., a national organization for people of the automotive industry, (formerly Automotive Old Timers), as recipient of AOT's 1976 Distinguished Service Citation in the Investors/Engineers/Designers category.

It was a most logical choice.

Gordon, who "learned by doing," progressed from a 40-cent-an-hour apprentice designer to chief designer, at the age of 25, for the country's most prestigious motor car.

The Cord was his baby. He began his career with the Gottfredson Body Company in Wayne, designed bodies for Jewett, Peerless and Wills Sainte Claire, worked on Stuzes, Auburns, Cords and Duesenbergs.

He wrote the book, (he's been writing others, lately; more on that in a minute). In the early years of the automotive industry, most colleges offered good engineering courses, but nothing on body design. This was a craft: direct descendant of the coach-making craft of Europe, and the men who worked on the earliest automobile bodies were often European immigrants who'd learned their trade father-to-son, apprentice to journeyman to master craftsman.

Gordon learned from them, and from correspondence courses, and studied some at Bradley University. Mostly, though, he "learned by doing," moving on from one design to the next, improving, innovating.

In a career that began with Gottfredson in 1924, he worked for all the "biggies," from Dietrich Incorporated to General Motors, the Budd Company, Studebaker and Ford, where he introduced the 1952 Ranch Wagon, Continental Mark II and others.

He retired from Ford a few years back, but he certainly hasn't been idle. There's a "Dream Car" on his drawing boards, a clay mock-up of it in his studio. It's "the car that hasn't been built yet."

She has served as a student assistant in the Psychology Department at Ohio Wesleyan, and is a member of the Women's Lacrosse Team and Sailing Club as well as a member in Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

His interest in the life and person of Abraham Lincoln began early. His Masters degree thesis, "Music and Abraham Lincoln," involved three years of research about Lincoln's influence on and involvement with music. This was the first work done on this facet of the president's life and it established Dr. Petz as an authority on the subject.

He is the recipient of numerous awards and honors including the National DAR Medal of Honor. This medal is presented to the native-born American citizen who has displayed and encouraged outstanding leadership.

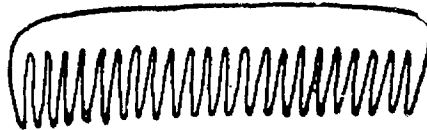

service and patriotism to his fellow men. This marked only the third time the honor has been presented to a Michigan resident.

Dr. Petz is the author of the book "In the Presence of Abraham Lincoln." He has served many years in the Detroit School System and is presently principal of Flanders School.

Mrs. Sterling S. Richhart, past-president of the School and chairman of the day, will introduce Dr. Petz. Members and guests will be greeted by the president Mrs. Eugene Hanter.

Pointers expected to attend include the Mesdames Wilber Brucker, J. Ross Bush, Alfred Cousino, Robert G. Kazmarek, Harold Mistelet, Lester McIntosh, Frederick Shoettley, Paul Kelley, Charles Fisher, Roland Postel and Erving Winkler.

This is a comb.

It can make bangs, quiches, new little curls. It can almost anything. But first it needs hair that has been (1) properly washed, (2) skillfully cut, (3) carefully set, and (4) thoroughly brushed. We do all these things properly, skillfully, carefully, thoroughly. Then we comb. And comb. Until we achieve just the shape and chic you want. Like to see? We'd love to show you.

Problems Confronting The Great Lakes to Be Topic for General Meeting February 18; Study Groups Gather Individually

The Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women is inviting husbands and guests to enjoy a potluck dinner at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday, February 18, at Saint Paul Lutheran Church, Chalfonte avenue and Lothrop road.

The program will feature a slide talk by Shirley Axon, of Ann Arbor, who headed the Michigan Division AAUW Task Force in a four-year project researching the Great Lakes Basin Authority.

Her talk will focus on the problems confronting the lakes, and will encompass the relationships between citizens and institutions and the role citizens must take in institutional decision making.

AAUW's Great Lakes Task Force monitors the activities of the Great Lakes Basin Commission, attends meetings and reviews many Commission studies. During its summer '75 convention,

AAUW called for primary action in 1975-77 focusing on "conservation, comprehensive planning and wise utilization of resources, including land and energy sources, with emphasis on the concept of limited growth."

Ms. Axon has been an active member of AAUW's Ann Arbor branch for 15 years, and has represented AAUW at the international level, working in New York on United Nations programs.

She received the Ford Community Service Award for founding Ann Arbor's International Nursery School, of which she is a trustee, holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Botany from the University of Oklahoma and is currently working toward her Masters degree in Geography.

Baby-sitting was provided.

DAR Library Exhibit Stars 'America'

Each year, Elizabeth Cass Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution celebrates American History Month by placing an exhibit in the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval avenue at Fisher road.

Because of the appeal of last year's display, it is being repeated again this year beginning February 3 and remaining for at least two weeks.

Mrs. Marvin Putnam, responsible for this outstanding exhibit, has set her scene around the Declaration of Independence. Special props include an antique crystal inkwell, a pair of glasses, a pewter teapot, cup and saucer, a pair of old candlesticks and an old album.

The DAR display features a bit of background history on four cards carefully placed in the showcase.

Card One states: The Declaration of Independence said something that no other document had ever said before. It dared to claim a whole new concept of government. It reversed the idea that man was meant to serve the powerful of the land. It questioned the idea that only the noble, the highborn, the patrician, were equipped to govern.

It dared state that all men were created equal, that government existed for the people, not the people for the government.

Card Two reads: Five men served on the committee directed to prepare a document to express the Colonies' resolution for independence.

Benjamin Franklin, of Pennsylvania, was not only the oldest, but possibly the wisest of the group.

Of Connecticut's Roger Sherman it was said: "He had good sense to so high a degree that it might almost be called genius."

Robert Livingston, of New York, was never to sign the Declaration, but would later achieve fame by administering the oath of office to George Washington.

Card Three continues: John Adams, of Massachusetts, argued for the acceptance of the Declaration by the members of Congress, saying: "All that I have, and that I am, and all that I hope in this life, I am now ready here to stake upon it; and I leave off as I began, that I live to die, survive or perish, I am for the Declaration."

"It is my living sentiment, and by the blessing of God, it shall be my dying sentiment: independence now and independence forever."

Card Four concludes: Thomas Jefferson, the tall, lean redhead from Virginia, did the actual writing of the Declaration of Independence, because, as Adams told him in three short sentences: Jefferson was a Southerner and Southern approval was needed for the document; Adams had to admit that he had made himself obnoxious, suspect and unpopular among his fellow delegates by his outspoken demand for just such a document; and —

Then came the clincher — Jefferson was 10 times over a better writer than Adams could ever hope to be. How could he resist?

June Bride

Plans are being made for a June wedding by RENE E. ADAMS and William Christopher Schulte, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Vincent B. Adams, of Warner road.

Miss Adams is a graduate of Grosse Pointe South High School. She has attended the University of Dayton in Ohio and is now studying at the Center for Creative Studies, College of Art and Design.

Mr. Schulte, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. Schulte, of Cleveland, O., holds a bachelor of arts degree in communications from the University of Dayton and is now Detroit branch manager for the American Broadcasting Co., ABC Records.

Michigan Opera Expands Board

Chairman Lynn Townsend Hopes New Directors And Board of Trustees Will Reflect Theatre's 'Tremendous Growth Since 1970'

Lynn A. Townsend, Michigan Opera Theatre chairman, has announced a reorganization and expansion of the opera board. The new structure, as prescribed by revised bylaws approved by the board, will consist of a maximum of 15 directors, constituting an operating board, and a greatly expanded board of trustees, permitting many more persons to become involved in the company.

In a statement about the move, Mr. Townsend said, "Michigan Opera Theatre has shown tremendous growth since the original committee was formed in 1970. We would like the governing body of the opera to reflect that growth, and to include increased numbers of individuals who have shown an active interest in the state's newest and most progressive major cultural institution."

Signaling its growth and national prominence, Michigan Opera Theatre will present a world premiere, "Washington Square," commissioned by the company, to open its 1976-77 season. According to General Director David DiChiera, this premiere is the most significant step of the company's growth to date.

The board of directors elected the following officers: Mr. Townsend, chairman of the board; John C. Griffin, vice-chairman and secretary; David DiChiera, president; and E. Harwood Rydholm, secretary.

Three new directors were elected to the board: J. Addison Bartush, of Lakeshore road, David Hermelin, of Bloomfield Hills, and Walton Lewis, of Detroit.

Other directors are: Mrs. Avern Cohn, Robert E. Dewar, Frank W. Donovan, Mrs. Aaron Gershenson, Robert VanderKloot, Mrs. Sam B. Williams and Donald E. Young.

The 38 members of the Farm, Garden Holds Meeting

The members of the Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club met on Monday, February 9, for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. Daniel Clifford opened her Stephens road home, assisted by Mrs. Ralph McElvenny and Mrs. Richard W. Bachmann.

After luncheon the women heard a talk with slides by "Bud" Boell, who was at DePetris for many years. At present he is director of the greenhouse on Belle Isle. He spoke on the subject of care and handling of plants.

Society News Gathered from the Pointes

Genealogical Society to Meet This Saturday

The Detroit Society for Genealogical Research Inc. will hold its monthly meeting on Saturday, February 14, at 2 o'clock in the Explorer's Room of the Detroit Public Library.

Featured speaker will be Mrs. Marvin R. Putnam, who is a member of the Elizabeth Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. She has served as Regent of her DAR chapter, as a member of the Michigan State Board and is currently on the Society's National Speakers Staff.

Mrs. Putnam's talk, "A Man of Many Talents — Benjamin Franklin," will provide historical background and some little known facts about the man. The meeting is open to the public.

Racquet Power Helps Hospital

Dr. Robert Gregg, president of Children's Hospital of Michigan, recently accepted a check for $26,000, generated by the 1975 Tennis and Crumpets benefit in Grosse Pointe. Tennis and Crumpets, Inc., raised a total of $165,000 in 1975 for special equipment for the cardiac catheterization room at Children's Hospital. The funds were derived from the four metro-area mixed-double tennis games.

Harry Returns To Music Hall

In three months it will be 31 years since Harry S. Truman became the 33rd President of the United States.

The once bankrupt haberdasher always said the Presidency was a job he didn't want. But as time goes on the belief grows that the man from Missouri did that job better than most men, and at a particularly tough time in our history.

Six years after his death, Harry Truman is a folk hero. His tough, frank values have been immortalized in song, his words and thoughts made into best-selling books and, most successful of all, a one-man stage play that is being brought back to Detroit, Tuesday-Saturday, February 17-21, by Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts.

Sam Gallu's one-man show "Give 'Em Hell Harry," played to standing room crowds last year, starring James Whitmore. Since then, a little of Harry Truman's stubborn parsimony must have rubbed off on playwright/producer Gallu who fell out with Whitmore over money.

"He thought he was indispensable," Mr. Gallu says. This year, Harry Truman's wit and candor will be told by actor Ed Nelson, best known for his TV series, "Peyton Place."

Mr. Nelson, a veteran actor, was unnerved by a rehearsal visit by Margaret Truman Daniel. Even so the late President's daughter said he "really catches the spirit of my father."

Mr. Nelson feels his assignment is not to try to mimic Harry Truman, but to interpret him. But there's no mistaking the source of such comments in the play "Give 'Em Hell Harry" as: "You can't get rich in politics unless you're a crook," or "There's nothing more dangerous than a liar in public office," or "We worship money in this country instead of honor."

Detroit Boat Club Honors 137th Year

Dinner Dance Will Fete 25- and 50-Year Members; Luncheon Will Honor President Gildner

This year, Arthur H. Engstrom, of Three Mile drive, will receive a 25-year certificate. Receiving honors for 50 years will be Edward L. Bryant, Robert T. Harris, Howard L. French and John C. Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Melten, of Lakeland avenue, are chairmen for the evening. They are being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Ross S. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. William Champion, of Lewiston, Road, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pfeffer, of Oxford road, and Douglas Krieger.

On Wednesday, February 18, the DBC Women's committee will host its annual Birthday Luncheon along with Women's City Club members. Guests of honor will include President Henry G. Gildner Jr., of Stanton lane, and former Women's Committee Chairmen.

Outgoing Chairman, Mrs. William Miller, is chairman for the day. Helping with the arrangements are Mrs. Robert Dalton, Mrs. Frank Collyer, of St. Paul avenue, Mrs. Kenneth Locke, of Bar-

Ordained to the diaconate in 1972, Rev. Anderson looks forward to the possibility of action at the Episcopal General Convention in 1976 that will enable her to be ordained to the priesthood.

On Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock she will speak on "Eve'n Us Women in The Ministry," and on Tuesday morning at 10:15 o'clock until noon, she will be with the discussion of women in the Episcopal Church Women at Christ Church to continue her ministry.

Review Group Meets Tuesday

Members of the Book Review Group of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will meet on Tuesday, February 17, at 1 o'clock in the Church lounge to hear a talk by Mrs. Leila Said, wife of Dr. Mufted Said, visiting Ecumenical Minister at the Church from Cairo, Egypt.

This will be the first meeting of this group since the revision of its meeting format recently. The women had been meeting on the second Friday of the month following an early afternoon tea. Under the new format, members will attend the usual Tuesday Women's Association luncheon before adjourning to the lounge for their program. Luncheon reservations are requested by the Church office.

A sale of discontinued jewelry styles also is scheduled for February 17. Mrs. Ann Stone is in charge of this project.

Alpha Xi Deltas To Host Party

Area Alpha Xi Deltas will host a Valentine's Party for the Teen Club of the Foundation for Exceptional Children on Friday, February 13, at 7 o'clock in the evening in the parlors of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Decorations will be in the traditional Valentine's Day theme. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. John Raseh, Mrs. Robert Shannon and Mrs. Arthur Leslie.

On the following Monday, February 16, at 7:30 o'clock, the chapter will gather at the Kercheval road home of Mrs. Dennis Velie to hear R. Bates Feuill, vice-president and trust officer of the Manufacturer's Bank, Dearborn. He will discuss financial matters and wills as they effect women. The theme of the evening activities is appropriately titled, "Where There's a Will, There's a Way."

Co-hostesses for the dessert meeting are Mrs. George Lewis and Mrs. Robert Shannon.

Usually the people who worry about nothing are those who have nothing to worry about.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Normally when the phone rings its a new customer inquiring about one of our listings. Naturally the ring of the telephone is a happy sound to us. But — lately we're beginning to wonder. We're being flooded by calls asking us to explain our Warranty. Questions like — is it really good — is it something we should have — is it a gimmick? Well for the record — it is very good and no person buying a home should consider buying without such logical protection.

The terms Caveat Emptor "Buyer Beware" isn't just a latin phrase. It means bluntly that you buy at your own risk — there is no guarantee that anything works or will continue to work. The furnace, hot water, electrical and plumbing system, built in stove and refrigerator could all go out the day you purchased your home and all you could have for consolation is "Caveat Emptor."

Well this isn't so anymore. Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co., 882-0087 can see to it that any house you purchase can come with a One Year Warranty. Be sure to call us to verify what we have to say. Think of the peace of mind you'll have with our Buyers Protection Plan.

Remember, Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. is the only company in Grosse Pointe who can offer you a One Year Warranty. This is significant and very valuable.

John and Rob Are 'Good Citizens'

DAR Honors Youths at Tea

Each year, Elizabeth Cass has honored outstanding senior girls chosen by their teachers and fellow students. The qualifications of good citizenship have remained the same: dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

This year, for the first time, the requirements were expanded to include outstanding boys as well as girls.

John and Rob have many things in common. Both are Student Council presidents and, as such, members of the Student Advisory Council, a liaison group of students who meet with Dr. Adams, Grosse Pointe School Superintendent, to discuss problems pertaining to the students and their schools.

Both young men are outgoing and list 'people' as their main interest, with music a close second choice.

In the music department John is more of a listener than a participant, although he occasionally sings with his church group. He enjoys both classical and modern music.

Rob, on the other hand, likes to play the piano. He accompanies his school Concert Choir and Chorale and will perform a Mozart Concerto for North High's spring concert. After school, he gives piano lessons to neighborhood children.

Hopefully, Rob's application as a summer exchange student will be accepted at a conservatory of music either in France or Switzerland.

John is very interested in getting fellow students interested in helping with the landscaping of South High. This project was begun last year by the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council.

John's after-school activities include bowling, (he is treasurer of his league), and work three days a week as a bag boy at Kroger's.

Rob has taken a new interest in photography. He also enjoys working with wood; so far, he has made speakers for his stereo, a table and lamp.

NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB PROGRAM DIRECTOR BETZ JOHNSON, OF LINCOLN ROAD

By Janet Mueller

She wants to get her girls some evening baseball diamond time this year. "I'd love," says Betz Johnson, who fielded 16 girls' softball teams under Neighborhood Club auspices last year, "to have the girls play one game in the afternoon, one in the evening . . ."

Afternoons are no problem: Betz can get her diamonds during immediate after-school hours.

But the Little League boys have the evening hours pretty much all sewed up. Now nobody's against Little League, but surely, in the interests of Fair Play, (not to mention Equal Time) . . .

Betz has fathers coaching both her softball and basketball teams. Brothers like to help out, too. Girls softball try-outs are held early in the spring, in March, ("the ground's still frozen"), and the season runs from May through June.

Teams Are Sponsored

The Teams are sponsored by local businesses, individuals and service organizations. Grosse Pointe Park Police back one. Grosse Pointe Rotary sponsors two. The girls all have team shirts, with their sponsor's name. Mr. McCourt's Go-Go Girls, for example, Chet Sampson's Sun Seekers. Fikany Realty's All Stars.

Games are good. The girls really put their hearts into it. Everybody has a good workout, everybody has a lot of fun, and anybody who thinks girls softball is dumb, dull, (girls are non-competitive, you know), ought to go out and watch the Weaker Sex hit, run and field.

It would be especially nice if fathers could go out and watch. "The dads really enjoy seeing their daughters play," Betz says. But most fathers don't get home from work until 5 or 6 o'clock, and by that time the afternoon games are over . . .

Evening diamond time for girls softball is one of Betz Johnson's top priority items right now.

It's not her only priority. As Neighborhood Club program director for girls' and women's activities, (Mike Kenyon is her opposite number for boys and men), Betz coordinates classes and programs ranging from Self-Defense for Women to Tap Dancing for Girls to a Knitting/Crocheting Circle.

Other Activities

Ballet and baton-twirling, bowling and gym activities, contemporary dance, floor hockey and judo are all part of her province. She teaches a Kiddie Gym class for three, four and five-year-olds. "I try to do a lot of the activities," Monday nights, she's with the Women Volleyballers; Tuesdays, her Kiddie Gymnasts don't go home until six. Wednesday mornings she's at Maple Lanes with the Women Bowlers. Saturdays, there's the Recreation Program at Brownell.

Betz has always been a participant. Born Elizabeth Sue Johnson in Saginaw, her family moved to The Pointe in 1955. Betz attended kindergarten at Richard School.

went from Richard to Brownell and from Brownell to Grosse Pointe High, graduating with the Class of '68.

She majored in Recreation and minored in Physical Education at Western Michigan University, receiving her Bachelor of Science degree in April, 1973.

As an undergraduate, she first considered a career in Elementary Education, had a year of Social Work "and knew that wasn't it," then considered teaching again. "I'd always wanted to teach Physical Education." But so many children are in a School Physical Education program simply because they HAVE to be.

Kids Want to Play

"Here," Betz says of the Neighborhood Club, "they're here because they WANT to be."

She'd done a bit of summer volunteering at the Neighborhood Club. She came to the Club professionally in May of 1973 in an intern program. She became recreation supervisor in January of 1974, program director the following September.

She likes her job. She likes John Denver, (there's a big poster of him on one wall of her office). She likes Detroit Piston John Mengel, who played two games in the Neighborhood Club men's softball league last summer, (there's an autographed picture of him, courtesy of Mrs. Ted Ewald, one of Betz's office shelves, next to an autographed softball John gave to Mike Kenyon, who gave it to Betz for her birthday).

She likes her family. She's still living with her parents, and that says a lot about the relationship Charlotte and Dick Johnson have with their daughter. Cross-country skiing is one of Betz's favorite things. It's one of Dick's, too. They like to do it together.

Mr. Johnson, who works for Westinghouse, is active in church groups in the area.

Babysits for Bowlers

Pat (Mrs. Charles) Nicholl, Betz's older sister, mother of Kimmy, eight, and three-year-old Robbie, is one of three adults who baby-sit at the Neighborhood Club Wednesday mornings so the Women Bowlers who happen to be mothers can do their thing at Maple Lanes.

Jim, Betz's brother, was just married, the last weekend in January, in Philadelphia, where he has been living. Betz went east for the wedding — having just returned, (she left the day after Christmas), from a month's vacation in Australia!

"I have two friends teaching there. One w'll have been over two years in August. The other went in May."

Betz went first to Adelaide, then to Sydney . . . then back to Grosse Pointe, then off to Philadelphia . . .

Good thing she's always kept herself in good shape!

She plays on a woman's volleyball team, practicing once a week and going to tournaments once a week in Flint. Summers, she plays on a St. Clair Shores softball team.

She works in and runs the Neighborhood Club's summer day camps. "Actually, summer is my easiest time. In the fall, winter and spring, we have to work with the kids when they're out of school. Summers, we have no nighttime hours."

Brochure time — the Neighborhood Club sends out three annual brochures, detailing fall, winter and spring programs — are always hectic.

The Neighborhood Club operates out of its own building in Waterloo avenue, but uses school and community facilities all over Grosse Pointe, plus its own building, for its programs.

Summer camps, for instance, meet at Defer, Brownell and Ferry Schools. Saturday Open Gyms are scheduled at Parcels, Pierce and Grosse Pointe North. A Nursery School meets downstairs in the Club building, while 35 ladies have room to spread out upstairs for a regular exercise class.

What is happening determines, to a large extent, where it will happen. Need determines, to a large extent, what will happen.

"We have three organizations trying to work together in Grosse Pointe," Betz explains. The War Memorial's major focus is on music and the arts. The Department of Community Services concentrates chiefly on adult classes and education.

Emphasize Competition The Neighborhood Club emphasizes league play and competition. All three, of course, are to some degree involved in each other's areas, but very few classes actually overlap.

"I think more people are becoming involved as participants in team sports," Betz says. This is particularly true of girls and women, for whom there was, just a few years back, very little in the way of team sports to get involved in.

Betz recalls her own playing days at Grosse Pointe High. "There were no leagues. There was only one high school; we didn't even have North. We played the parochial schools, University Liggett . . ."

Currently, the Neighborhood Club lists 18 women's volleyball teams. Last summer there were 32 women's softball teams.

Registration for girls' softball is scheduled for Tuesday, February 24, from 7 to 9 in the evening at Pierce, for Thursday, February 26, from 7 to 9 at Parcels, for Saturday, February 28, from 9:30 to 11:30 in the morning at Brownell, and for Tuesday, March 2, from 7 to 9 in the evening at the Neighborhood Club.

"Behind the Scenes of Retailing and Fashions."

Mrs. Daniel began her career as a model and is presently the manager of the Dress Salon at Saks Fifth Avenue in Troy.

Mrs. Albert Tamarelli is tea hostess for the day. Mrs. John J. Kelly, a past president of the Woman's Club, is co-hostess. They have chosen "Happy Birthday America" as the theme for the tea table.

Assisting with the arrangements are Woman's Club members, the Mesdames G. A. Coury, Wilfred Cowan, Clifford Crookford, David H. Crowe, E. G. Evenden, Hugh Foley, Elmer Holke, V. B. Hudson, Richard Huegli, Roy Jacobs, A. Hazen Keith, Harry M. Knapp and Vernon E. Landry.

More members working on the tea are the Mesdames Jack Lefebvre, Joseph Leonard, James Marshall, Joseph G. Maurer, A. M. Menninger, Colin B. Neal, Oscar B. Noren, S. A. Ramsay, John J. Schneider, William Schneider, Henry Shell, Gordon Skinner, F. Gerald Smith, T. R. Springett, William A. Swingle, F. H. Tendick, Edward D. Trowbridge, Elton A. Turner, Earle W. Walke, Robert Watson Jr., Edward L. Weber, Howard S. Williams and Frank C. Willson. Members planning to bring guests are requested to make reservations with Mrs. Tamarelli, 884-0421, or social chairman Mrs. Lawrence E. Holmes, 881-7716.

Garden Club Meets Monday

The Pointe Garden Club meets for luncheon on Monday, February 16, at the home of Mrs. Harold Love, of 56 Lochmoor boulevard.

The speaker is to be Michael Williams, president of Charterhouse Jewelers in the Village.

Mr. Williams' subject will be "Diamonds the Flower of Mineral World."

Co-hostesses for the luncheon will be Mesdames Clarence Maguire and Hansel Wilson.

Five Pointes Club to Meet

The Five Pointes Garden Club will meet Monday, February 16, at 12:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Robert Kazmarek in Blairmoor court. Mrs. A. Goolsby, of Warren, Mich., will present a program on herbs.

It's unlikely there'll be fewer girls going out for softball this year than last.

Men Not Neglected Men's and boy's teams continue to flourish under Neighborhood Club auspices.

"I think the value of a facility like the Neighborhood Club is that it helps to bring the community together in recreational activities," Betz muses. "It gives people of every age — and we provide activities for people from three to 90 — a chance to do something with their leisure time."

"It gives youngsters a chance to 'taste' any activity they might want to try."

It's a good place to know about if you're a high school student interested in an after-school game of table tennis, (try Teen Center), or a baseball coach looking for a brush-up clinic before the season begins, (Tuesday nights, from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock March 2, 9 and 16, at the Club; registration must be received by February 26).

It's a good place to work at. "I think the staff here has really helped me," Betz says. "We all have our duties and responsibilities, but we all really are like one big family. We help each other out."

"There's no way one person could run the Neighborhood Club. That's for sure." Note that team spirit. It's for real.

From Another Pointe of View

For as long as Gordon can remember, there's always been a Dream Car: The One That Hasn't Been Built Yet.

In the dream is the measure of the man.

He gets around a good deal, taking in antique and classic car meetings and auctions, lecturing and speaking to automotive groups.

"Rolling Sculpture," memoirs of his life in the automotive industry, has just been published, and he has a novel due out in a few months.

Palm Beach Show for "Mrs. T."

Wine and cheese and camaraderie made for a mellow afternoon at Virginia Durbin Thibodeau's studio at the Grosse Pointe Academy a few Sundays ago, as friends of "Mrs. T." gathered to preview the paintings, sculpture and enamels she'll be showing in Palm Beach at the end of the month.

Her southern show opens February 26, and will run through March 4. Ginny's going down for it, of course — who wouldn't seize on THAT good an excuse for a Season in the Sun?

Meanwhile, daughter Bernadette Thibodeau, who was in town over Christmas, is taking a February break, too: saying farewell to teaching and White Plains, N.Y., and winging her way across the Atlantic for 10 days on the French Riviera.

Why go so far for 10 days?

Well, Bernie has a friend, a fellow photographer, who's going, and after a White Plains winter, a mild climate with sea and some Hill Towns thrown in sounds awfully good . . .

"I thought about it once," Mrs. T. explains, "but, due to my impractical nature, not twice."

Of such stuff are travelers made.

Rearing Children of Good Will

"This is a simply marvelous opportunity," says Maryanne Harvey, "for people of different races and creeds to mix and to discuss raising children without racial prejudice."

She's speaking about the 24th annual Border Cities Conference on Rearing Children of Good Will, to be presented next Thursday, February 19, from 9 until 3 o'clock at Mercy College.

Sponsor is the Detroit Round Table, National Conference of Christians and Jews. Co-sponsors include more than 50 community, religious and school-related organizations in metropolitan Detroit and Windsor.

Principal speakers will be The Reverend William Cunningham, of Focus: Hope; Dr. Elizabeth Hood, executive director of Education Consultants, Inc.; and Mrs. June Shada, from the Detroit Public Schools' Adult Education Department.

"Last year," Maryanne notes, "there were 400 participants, Indians, Latinos, Blacks and Whites, all there voluntarily, exchanging ideas and trying to understand one another."

She'd like to see more Grosse Pointe representation. Registration, including lunch, is $5, ($3 for students). Joseph Radelet, 869-6306, may be contacted for further information.

Pointe Book Club to Meet

Mrs. Frederick Schumann will speak on "Historic Sites of Detroit" at the Monday, February 16, meeting of the Pointe Book Club in the Sheldon road home of Mrs. William Hosbein.

Co-hostesses for the luncheon are Mrs. Edward Freimuth and Mrs. Frederick Schumann.

Awarded academic honors for the fall semester at Pine Manor Junior College, Chestnut Hill, Pa., is VIRGINIA M. THIBODEAU, Class of '76, daughter of the ROBERT L. THIBODEAU, of Stephens road.

Austin Catholic Prep School senior THOMAS J. McDONALD, of Shoreham road, has been invited to compete for an Alumni Distinguished Scholarship Award at Michigan State University.
