HEADLINES

of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, February 26
PRESIDENT FORD said Wednesday that his narrow New Hampshire presidential primary victory means he can eliminate Ronald Reagan's Republican challenge "if we win a couple more, and I think we will." But Reagan insisted that his close finish was a victory too. Ford pulled 51 percent and Reagan 49 percent Tuesday in the year's first primary. It took all night to settle the issue. Ford and Reagan meet next in Florida on Tuesday, March 9.

Friday, February 27
FORMER PRESIDENT RICHARD NIXON, ignoring criticism of his visit to China, said Thursday that Kweilin, China, was "without qualification" the most beautiful city in the world. Nixon stared blankly at American reporters who met him at the airport and ignored their questions about the criticism as though he hadn't heard them. Then he brusquely brushed past the newsmen. An aide to the former president said there would be no comment on the charges by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., that Nixon was breaking the law on his visit to China.

Saturday, February 28
THE POSTAL SERVICE disclosed Friday that it is considering a cutback in mail delivery to three days a week. The disclosure brought howls of protest from congressmen and leaders of postal unions. Three-day-a-week delivery is among the options open to the deficit-plagued Postal Service in its campaign to cut costs. Senior Assistant Postmaster General J. T. Elington said in an interview. Postal officials had said previously that they were considering eliminating delivery on Saturday or one other day of the week. Elington said that is "our most immediate option."

Sunday, February 29
A GUERRILLA ORGANIZATION Saturday night claimed responsibility for the kidnapping of American businessman William Niehous in Caracas, Venezuela, and said he would go on trial as "an enemy of the people." The revolutionary command, in a seven-page letter sent to the newspaper El Nacional, warned police to stay out of the case or Niehous could be executed. Niehous, who has three teenage sons, was drugged and dragged from his home in full view of his wife.

Monday, March 1
FORMER PRESIDENT Richard Nixon returned home Sunday night, ending a nine-day visit to China that drew honors from Peking's leaders and cheers from thousands of Chinese, but generated criticism in the U.S. His daughter Tricia Cox and about 40 reporters were on hand when the former president and Mrs. Nixon and an entourage of aides and Secret Service agents arrived on a cold and dismal evening. Nixon made no public statement upon leaving the jet liner.

Tuesday, March 2
FEDERAL PROSECUTORS in Detroit, citing a dying cancer patient as one of their key witnesses, Monday named two nurses as suspects in the mass murder case at the Ann Arbor Veterans Administration Hospital. The U.S. attorney's office, in a highly unusual legal brief filed in Federal District Court, named Filipina B. Marcisco, 29, of Ypsilanti, and Leonora M. Perez, 31, a former Ann Arbor resident, as the chief suspects in the case. It is the first official acknowledgment that the government is building a case against the two women. It also was an admission that the prosecutors are not yet prepared to attempt to charge the women.

Rotarians Set for Antiques Show-Sale

Making final preparations for the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club's Bicentennial Exhibit and Antiques and Collectibles Show-Sale, which will be held Friday-Sunday, March 12-14, at the War Memorial, are committee members, first row, (from left to right), FRED SIBLEY, TOMMY

City Reports Big Drop in Fire Losses

Total Damage in 1975
Less Than Half of 1974's; Inspection
Program Given
Credit

Fire losses in Grosse Pointe City were more than cut in half last year compared to the previous year, according to The City Fire Department's annual report, submitted to the council at the Tuesday, February 17, meeting.

The total value of property lost to fire in The City last year was $37,349 — about 42 percent of the 1974 total loss of $83,884 and far below The City's five-year average loss of $78,354.

The council and Mayor John King commended the force on its safest season in the last five years. Director of Public Safety Andrew Teetaert attributed the reduction to the department's new inspection code which now includes an evaluation of electrical wiring systems.

Chief Elaborates

Fire Chief Robert Marshall elaborated on that point. "I'd like to believe that our October home-to-home inspection program had a big effect. I think that it at least makes people more aware of fire hazards and, maybe, just a little more cautious."

The firefighters inspect half The City homes on a rotating, two-year basis under the program. Last year they checked 265 homes, finding more than 100 violations. They were refused admittance by 54 residents and found no one at home in 471 cases.

The 14-man force fought a total of 125 fires in 1975 in The City. The single most

Farms Council Rezones Rose Terrace Property

By Tom Greenwood

All the members of The Farms Council were on hand Monday night, March 1, to meet with a large audience concerned with the fate of the old Dodge mansion, Rose Terrace.

The present owners of the property, Superior Lake Enterprises, also were on hand. Before adjourning as a city council, and reconvening as a zoning board of appeals, Mayor James Dingeman acknowledged the crowd and said he realized they were

Woods Adopts Resolution Designating City's Major Street System for State

Follows Directive of Department of Highways and Transportation to Adopt Plan for Making Improvements

By Roger A. Waha

The Woods Council unanimously adopted a resolution designating the city's major street system at its regular meeting Monday, February 23. This action was taken because the Department of State Highways and Transportation has directed local governmental units to approve and to further adopt a plan for the improvement of their respective major street systems in accordance with minimum design criteria and standards set forth by the State.

"In effect, we have to submit a plan or the State would withhold gas tax monies (from the community)," said City Administrator Chester E. Petersen. The city's plan as indicated in the resolution has to be approved by the State. If the State denies three groups of exceptions listed in the resolution, the city could then appeal to the State and, if necessary, pending denials, possibly through the courts.

Changes Old Criteria

Previous to the new State criteria and standards, the city's old criteria included what streets via traffic counts were designated as major streets, plus the municipality's request to the highway department that such streets be approved as major streets in the community.

Hence, there was a need for a certain amount of volume of traffic on such streets. Besides this, types of street improvements considered by the city also were taken into account.

The city's gas tax refund was based upon the amount of mileage major streets and local streets had.

Under the new criteria, Mr. Petersen said to have parking on one side of a street, the thoroughfare must have a width of 28 feet from curb-to-curb to be a major street.

concerned with the fate of the home.

Reciting a brief history of the mansion concerning zoning laws, the mayor explained that the property was currently zoned RM, which classified it for multiple dwellings. Superior Lake Enterprises had originally planned to convert the mansion into condominiums, but had found it financially unfeasible to do so.

The company had then requested that the home and grounds be zoned R1A, which

Start Fight To Support School Tax

Citizens Group Organizing to Carry on Door-to-Door Campaign for Millage Approval

The citizens campaign for the Grosse Pointe schools' millage election is getting underway with a number of special meetings and door-to-door solicitations planned and buttons and bulletins being distributed.

The campaign slogan, according to Mrs. Robert P. Feeser, of Sunningdale drive, who along with her husband and the Sterling Berrys, of Lakeland avenue, chair the citizens committee, will be "Make A Pointe for Yourself — Vote March 29."

The committee is encouraging a yes vote on the four-year proposal to renew a school tax millage of 24.35 mills and additional millage of 2.75. Also on the ballot will be the proposed renewal of 1.31 library mills, plus an additional 14.

Organize Workers

The committee, according to Mrs. Feeser, is building a grass-roots organization based on representatives from each block in the community. The block-workers will conduct a door-to-door campaign, answering questions and supplying information. The workers plan to begin visiting homes within two weeks and hope to reach the voters on a one-to-one basis before the March 29 election.

The citizens committee will be stressing the idea that the extra millage requested by the Board of Education is necessary simply to maintain the current level of quality in the schools, according to Mrs. Feeser.

Will Cite Losses

The committee will be citing Pointe public school losses of $439,500 in State Aid, with expectation of receiving no aid next year; the loss of about $200,000 in revenues because of the new Michigan Single Business Tax which excludes business inventories from taxation; and the school's new-found liability for unemployment compensation, which could cost the schools as much as $100,000.

On the positive side of the school finances was an increase in State property tax evaluations, averaging about six percent, which school administrators estimated will bring in the equivalent of an extra 1.45 mills.

Many Proposals Under Study By Woods Solons

Number of Items Referred to Committee of the Whole Await Decisions by Councilmen Meeting in Executive Session; Action Already Taken on Pair

The Woods Council meeting in executive session as the Committee of the Whole, (C-W), will be studying a number of items based upon the council's referral of these proposals to the C-W at its regular meeting Monday, February 23.

On the consideration of bids and quotations front, material relevant to a proposed facility for the Department of Public Works, i.e., the design and construction of an office, lunch room and locker room facility at 1200 Parkway drive, was already reviewed by the solons in executive session.

To Prepare Plan

The council rejected six bids on this proposal and authorized City Administrator Chester E. Petersen to submit the project to an architect for preparation of a plan which will be sent out for bids. This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, March 1.

At the same time, bids for some proposed Lake Front Park bathhouse lounge and office furniture were referred to the C-W on the 23rd.

The council announced its decision on this subject on the 1st and accepted the bid of Superior School Equipment Co., Inc., in the estimated amount of $3,768, said Administrative Aide Gerard McNamara.

The lounge furniture includes some 53 chairs and seven tables, while the office furniture includes two desks, four chairs and five file cabinets. The seven tables are dual square — round items which are 36 by 36 inches square and open to a circular diameter of 51 inches.

Then, landscaping plans for the Lake Front Park, prepared by Cal Fleming Landscaping and Tree Service, Inc., will receive further study. Mr. Petersen said the council had the firm prepare a master landscaping plan for the entire park to provide the solons with estimated costs of various phases of work. The council can then make a determination on priorities.

Correction

A free public health forum, "Alcoholic Problems in Our Community," sponsored by the Saint John Hospital Guild, will not be held Tuesday, March 15, (as incorrectly reported in last week's NEWS), but on Tuesday, March 16.

It will be presented at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital's Center for Health Education auditorium, 22101 Moross road, Detroit.

Pointe Symphony Ready For Concert on Sunday

The Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra has set this Sunday, March 7, as the date for its third concert of this 1975-76 season. The concert, under the direction of Felix Resnick, will begin at 3:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center of Grosse Pointe North High School, located at Vernier road and Morningside drive.

The orchestra will present as its program, the Overture to "Il Barbiere di Siviglia" by Rossini; Concerto for Piano, Violin, Violoncello, and

Farms, City Unaffected By Increase

35 Municipalities Pledge Funds to Cover Cost of Battling Detroit's Proposal

By Roger A. Waha

A sum of $1,093.50 was appropriated by The Woods Council as the city's share of the cost of planned legal action against the Detroit Metropolitan Water Board which determined last December to raise water rates 39 percent effective this May 1.

This action was taken by the council at the regular meeting Monday, March 1, via a unanimously passed resolution.

The Woods becomes the second Pointe to appropriate monies towards protesting the rate hike. The Shores Council passed a resolution at its Tuesday, February 24, meeting appropriating $150 for such action, said Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis.

Park May Join

Park City Manager Robert A. Stone indicated his council is opposed to the increase and will discuss possible participation on the financial front at its Monday, March 22, council meeting. Meanwhile, The Farms, which treats and distributes its own water and sells it to The City, isn't affected by the requested hike.

The NEWS contacted Livonia Mayor Edward H. McNamara, who's coordinating the protest drive, on Tuesday morning, March 2. He reported some 35 communities have already pledged a combined, estimated total of $45,000, which Mr. McNamara termed a "conservative figure."

Called Unreasonable

The Woods' resolution says the proposed water rate hike "appears to have no reasonable relationship to costs incurred for supplying said water and may, therefore, be unjust and inequitable."

It states at a meeting conducted in Livonia Monday, February 9, representatives

City-Firemen Accord Near

The last arguments have been heard and summation briefs filed in the Grosse Pointe City and their firefighters union arbitration hearings. Arbitrator Julian A. Cook Jr., now has 30 days in which to reach a decision on the case.

The City and their firefighters, who filed for arbitration last June, have been meeting with the arbitrator regularly since early December.

Before that, both sides held extensive negotiation sessions with a state mediator. They were reported close to a settlement in August, but apparently disagreement on a food allowance issue stood in the way of total agreement.

The firefighters had been asking for a yearly food allowance of $240 per person. Other issues in the way of a settlement were overtime policies, promotion schedules and the pay scale.

Besides The City firefighters, both The Farms' fire and police and The Park's fire and police unions have also entered into arbitration for 1975 contracts.

So far, only Park police have received a decision. Park firefighters have filed final briefs and are still awaiting a decision by the arbitrator.

In The Farms, where the police just recently entered into arbitration, the firefighters are well along, but yet to file their closing briefs because of a delay in receipt of the hearing transcripts.

Both the Woods and Shores Public Safety Departments negotiated settlements earlier last year.

Woods Street System

Mr. Petersen said this list of streets already has no parking on one side and the city is proposing to put no parking on both sides to make those major streets in compliance with the criteria.

He told the council it will cost money to implement this proposed change but he had no precise idea what the amount would be. However, the additional signing would be the only cost, i.e., to implement this proposed plan, that the municipality will face with the monies coming from gas tax dollars.

Would Require Hearing
Prior to implementing this plan, a public hearing would have to be held. "We think our residents on these streets won't be inconvenienced too much by having parking on both sides," he said, while adding it was a possibility a few citizens could be inconvenienced. If this was the case, the city might seek an exception to the criteria.

These streets include Bourne-moore road, between Raymond and Leslie; Bram-caster road, between Prestwick and Allard; Jackson road, between Kenmore and Lochmoor; Helen avenue, between Lochmoor and Vernier; Morningside, between Vernier and Hampton; Holiday, between Oxford and Sunningdale; and Fairford, between Morningside and the east city limits.

Some Don't Qualify
The resolution continues by noting that several streets contained within the city's major street system cannot meet the criteria as set forth. As a result, the city is seeking an exception via three groups to the criteria from the local government division of the State highway department.

The first group are streets which either in part meet the criteria and have intermittent 26-foot wide non-complying segments or are 26 feet wide throughout.

These include Torrey road, all; Fairholme road, all; Lochmoor, between Mack and Sunningdale drive, between Holiday and 1130 Lochmoor and between Wedgewood and Morningside; and Hampton, between the Milk River and the west city limits.

The second group are streets which fail to meet the criteria of no parking either side, but have no parking on one side and restricted parking on the other.

Three in This Group
These include Allard avenue, between Bram-caster and Mack; Kenmore drive, between Mack and Jackson; and Lochmoor boulevard, between Mack and Jackson.

The last group are streets which for a variety of reasons function as major streets but cannot be altered to meet the criteria.

These include Hawthorne

Joins Water Fight

of some 70 communities voted to request that their respective legislative bodies pledge a contribution of five cents per capita as their pro-rata share of costs which may be incurred by legal action.

The measure continues by noting such legal action may be necessary to assure that an increase in water rates will not be implemented unless and until the aforesaid action of the Detroit Metropolitan Water Board "is demonstrated to have been justified and equitable to all communities served by the water system."

Subject to Conditions
So The Woods Council, in the event it becomes necessary to litigate the issues involved, agreed to pledge the $1,093.50 amount subject to three conditions, (which City Attorney George Catlin included after council discussion at both the March 1 and February 23 meetings):

(1), That the agency designated to receive, handle and disburse such funds agrees to furnish an accurate account of the expenditures from said funds at least every six months.

(2), That any funds remaining at the conclusion of such litigation will be refunded pro rata to those organizations having contributed to such fund.

(3), That the resolution shall not be effective unless pledges are made by other units of government totalling $50,000.

Mr. Catlin told the council he felt at least $40,000 to $50,000 would be required to institute such planned litigation.

The Detroit Water and Sewerage Department practices a policy of setting rates at such levels that frequent adjustments are not required, according to Detroit officials.

However, this policy is based on the fact that lower unit costs associated with the growth of the regional water system have been able to offset the affects of a modest rate of inflation, they say.

Citing reasons for the proposed increase, officials said the unprecedented rate of inflation which has occurred since the last rate adjustment, (November 1972), has "far outdistanced the provisions for growth and inflation."

Detroit officials state that since 1972 the cost of electric power has increased 159 percent, wages have gone up 39 percent and chemicals used in water purification such as alum and chlorine have increased in cost by 38 percent and 82 percent, respectively.

A sewage disposal rate hike is already in effect and serviced communities were forced to pass this increase on to their customers.

Another citizen offered the idea of converting the mansion into a museum or art gallery supported by all of the Pointes. Councilwoman Nancy Waugaman replied that the council would be against that proposal "since it would then be zoned as community service property and would come off the tax rolls."

Councilwoman Waugaman also pointed out that Mrs. Dodge had offered the estate to the Detroit Art Institute before she died but the offer had been refused.

Michael Burns, of Cameron place, asked Mr. Townsend and the zoning board if the house would "have to come down, once it's zoned R1AA?"

Mr. Townsend said "it was a safe assumption that it would. It's just not feasible to build around it." He further said his company had considered zoning the house RM and turning it into a condominium complex, while having the grounds zoned R1AA, but found "it was financially unfeasible to do so."

"It's never been done before," he said. "The difficulties involved in redeveloping the house into condominiums are just too great."

The council said that the house wouldn't absolutely have to come down once it's rezoned, although the final decision "was up to the current property owners."

Mr. Townsend ended the discussion of the property when he said that his company would be willing to talk to anyone with ideas concerning future plans for the mansion and its grounds.

He also said his company would submit site plans for the property before the council in two to four weeks.

AWARD CONTRACT

Shock Brothers, Inc., have been awarded a contract by the Grosse Pointe City Council to spray 2,200 city trees for Dutch Elm Disease, and to conduct a disease survey during the summer. The City will be charged $3.90 for each tree sprayed. The council also approved a bid by Davey Tree Expert Co. to contract spraying of private elms at a cost of $8.25 per tree. Both companies will use a dormant methoxychlor spray.

Rose Terrace Property

would allow them to build homes on the property. R1A zoning calls for 60-foot frontage and 6,000 square feet of property.

The council voted 6-0 with one abstention, Councilman Lloyd Semple, to deny zoning the property R1A.

Councilman James Mast, speaking for the council, said the reason for the denial "was that The Farms preferred to keep the property zoned in reference to the homes surrounding it."

Paul Townsend, representing Superior Lake Enterprises, then stood before the council and withdrew a protest his company had lodged criticizing the refusal to zone R1A, and said Superior Lake would work with the council concerning Rose Terrace.

The council, still convened as a zoning board, then voted 6-0, with one abstention, to rezone Rose Terrace from RM to R1AA. The R1AA zoning calls for homes with 100-foot frontage and 11,000 square feet to be built if construction of homes takes place on the property.

The zoning board explained again that the new zoning was taken to "re-establish it in conjunction with the other properties zoned R1AA around it."

Proposals

rean was an offer to install an ice vending machine at the Lake Front Park from Camper-Marine Refrigeration Co., of Detroit.

The council will review this proposal from Dan J. Vinci, president, which stipulated that the company would place the automatic machine free of all charges, with commissions paid from the sale of ice products. As proposed, the cost of the unit would be $5,095 to be paid and owned by the Marina Ice Co. It would be installed on a five-year contract basis because of the aforementioned capital investment.

Asks Cut for Seniors

A request for a reduction in the annual boatwell fee for senior citizens also was referred to the C.W. F. Jossart, of Manchester road, made a similar request around two years ago and requested action on his bid, while citing other benefits from various sources offered to seniors.

Finally, the council concurred in a C-W recommendation to purchase locker pins in the amount of $480.40 and key cabinets for the park bathroom in the amount of $344.40 with the monies coming from the Recreation Construction Fund.

Park Police Chief Says Crime Decreased in 1975

In his annual report to City Manager Robert Slone, Park Police Chief Henry O. Coonce disclosed a 12.1 percent reduction in crime in the city, as reported to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, for the year 1975.

The report showed that last year burglary had been reduced by 19 percent and larceny under $50 dropped 21.8 percent. Lesser reductions in most other Class I categories, (serious crimes), also was shown.

Chief Coonce stated that he was pleased to report that the clearance rates for serious crimes have improved during 1975 with burglary clearance set at 58.9 percent, as compared to 24 percent in 1974; robbery clearance, 40 percent last year compared to 20 percent in 1974; and clearance of larcenies under $50 were 10.7 percent in 1975, as compared to 5.3 percent the previous year.

Clearances in all major categories was marked at 18.3 percent in 1975 compared to 14.1 percent in 1974, with the chief giving full credit for this to the officers of his department, particularly to the investigative staff, (officers of the Detective Bureau).

"The areas of services and non-crime investigations, either reported or department-initiated in 1975, increased slightly, from 6,379 in 1974 to 6,487 in 1975," Chief Coonce said. The total reports were 7,675 in 1975 compared to 7,607 in 1974, also a slight increase.

Hazardous violations have increased slightly, from 2,672 in 1974 to 2,689 in 1975, the chief added.

The chief's report further disclosed that vehicular accidents jumped from 284 in 1974 to 340 in 1975, with 105 persons injured in the former year compared to 121 in the latter. Included in the 1975 statistics is a fatal accident that occurred on private property, the first fatal in the Park since 1970, it was pointed out.

The traffic index for the department stands at 25.9 percent in 1975 compared to 35.25 percent in 1974, reflective of the increased accidents, Chief Coonce pointed out further.

Last year, the police department recovered property valued at $94,342.

Routine inspections of liquor establishments last year was 145, only 10 more than the previous year.

YSD Welcomes New Counselor

The Youth Service Division, (YSD), welcomed a new part-time counselor, Marlene Pestal, 25, of Detroit, to its staff last week. The division now has a total of three counselors. The others are Saleh B. Faycurry and Gary J. Zilly.

Currently doing graduate work in clinical psychology at Wayne State University, Miss Pestal, who spent her first day on the job Thursday, February 26, is looking forward to the position.

"I'm very excited and can hardly wait to begin," she said. In stressing her hope to help young people in whatever way she can, Miss Pestal said a main factor in counseling is to establish a rapport with the juveniles and this is what she hopes to accomplish.

At the same time, she indicated this job will provide good experience for her.

Miss Pestal, who will probably work two or three evenings a week, (mainly Tuesdays and Thursdays), hopes to pursue child psychology. A 1969 graduate of Cass Tech, she received her bachelor of science degree in education from Wayne State in 1974. She also has taught social studies at Nolan Junior High School in Detroit.

Mr. Faycurry, 24, a senior in sociology at Wayne State, joined the counseling staff last October, while Mr. Zilly, 24, who's pursuing graduate work in guidance counseling at Wayne, was hired last November.

Youth Vespers At St. James

Saint James Lutheran Church, McMillan road near Kercheval, will again sponsor two Youth Vesper Services during Lent, 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 10 and April 7.

"Light the Way With Christ" is the theme for the first youth-directed service on March 10. Young people will participate as prayer leaders, scripture readers and ushers. Stu Dykstra will give the teaching.

The second Youth Lenten Service will be based on the "Real Resurrection". Young people will lead the service and give their testimony as to the real resurrection in their lives.

Citizens Warned on Solicitations

The Woods Public Safety Department has joined their colleagues in The Shores in issuing a warning to citizens regarding telephone solicitors, who say they represent the department, urging residents to buy tickets for a future program of the Grand Ol' Opry at Cobo Hall.

Woods Officer Stephen Petrik said the department has received calls from residents saying they have been contacted over the telephone by solicitors saying they represent the department in such a venture. This isn't the case at all, he stressed.

He urged citizens not to forward any money and just forget about such solicitations. Anyone who's called and asked to purchase tickets should call their local police department to confirm their involvement, emphasized Officer Petrik.

The February 26 edition of the NEWS reported that a group of telephone solicitors, representing themselves as being connected with The Shores department, were contacting residents to sell tickets to the upcoming show.

Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale said his department and personnel are no way connected with the enterprise, while adding no person or group has been authorized to solicit on behalf of the department.

The NEWS contacted The Park, Farms and City Police Departments last week and each reported no citizen complaints have been received on such solicitations. However, Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber noted his department has received complaints in the past in similar instances.

Senior Classes Need Teachers

The project chairman of free special college courses for senior citizens of all the Points is seeking qualified instructors for three of the four courses which have been selected.

Frank Komerska said he is having some difficulty finding instructors for physical fitness after 50, beginners' golf and bowling classes.

He asked anyone who might be able to provide assistance for the aforementioned trio of courses to contact him at 881-1543.

Mr. Komerska also reminded seniors the legal affairs for later life course is set to start Thursday, March 18, under the guidance of attorney R. Fredericks. It will be held at 1:30 p.m. in room B-302 at North High School.

APPROVE REQUEST

A request from City Controller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher to attend the Municipal Finance Officers annual conference in San Francisco, Calif., May 2-6 with reimbursement of all necessary expenses was approved by The Woods Council, 6-1, at its regular meeting Monday, February 23.

Woods Studies Report On New Bridge at Park

The minutes of the Citizens Recreation Commission's meeting last month, focusing upon the possibility of a new bridge at the Lake Front Park and the existing Milk River bridge, along with a commission report, were unanimously referred to the Committee of the Whole by The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, February 23.

At least three alternatives regarding a new bridge will be studied by the council. They include a concrete type precast bridge, a wooden precast bridge and a concrete bridge with box beam construction.

At the same time, the council also will consider the possibility of removing the center section of the existing bridge, leaving the rest to be utilized as a viewing site.

The commission's February minutes contained a recommendation that the council consider the commission's January report concerning the erection of a new bridge at the park, (either the concrete precast or wooden precast types), and that the city engineers, Pale, Hirn and Bogue, make recommendations concerning the feasibility of such construction.

In addition, the commission asked that the city consider the possibility of removal of the middle section of the existing bridge.

The January report, submitted by Richard W. Thams, commission member, noted by erecting a new bridge at the park up the Milk River near Jefferson avenue, greater use of the boat docks could be achieved. He said his investigation was centered on the purchase of a new bridge and removal of the existing bridge.

It was determined that a replacement bridge should meet the following requirements, he said. These included river span, approximately 85 feet; bridge span, approximately 87 feet; two lane traffic width, 24 feet; bridge walkway width, six to eight feet, and that it be able to sustain the combined weight of eight autos.

Mr. Thams said contact was made to three suppliers. On the concrete type precast bridge, it was reported the bridge would be precast to meet the requirements of 93-foot long "T" sections, three sections six feet wide and one section seven feet wide for the roadbed, plus a seven-foot walkway area that could be elevated if desired. Each section is 36 inches deep.

Installation can be made in approximately two days with a crane on each side of the river. The estimated cost is $50,000 including footings.

On the wooden precast bridge, it would be prefabricated and preservative treated before delivery. Assembly and installation would take approximately two days. Material is Douglas fir, laminated and glued girders, stringers and deck panels.

The estimated cost is $59,000 plus footings and installation.

As for the concrete bridge with box beam construction, Mr. Thams said the supplier is one of box beams only and doesn't supply a total bridge package. A general contractor would be required to use their design. The cost estimate was placed at around $125,000, "so further investigation was not warranted," he said.

In each of the aforementioned cases, job engineering would be required by the city engineers.

Finally, Mr. Thams stated one estimate was received for removal of the old bridge. That contractor indicated removal of the center section only at an estimated cost of $5,000-6,000, with removal of the debris.

What happens on this matter now depends on a further study by the council in the area of what is specifically desired, costs, et al.

In a final note, Councilman Ronald R. Kegen, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Committee, had high praise for Mr. Thams and the investigative work he performed.

Drop in Fire Losses

(Continued from Page 1) frequent cause for those fires was traced by officials to grass, rubbish or leaves. The second most frequent cause for fire was traced to defective wiring or electrical motors and appliances.

Mutual Aid Programs

Much of The City firefighter's work, however, is done outside City limits, according to a four-year evaluation of the mutual aid and pilot programs contained in the annual report.

Under mutual aid, firefighters respond to another community's alarm when an "all apparatus call" is issued, in cases of large fires. Under the pilot program calls to certain target areas, (such as schools and hospitals), are automatically responded to by the three departments involved in the program: The City, Farms and Park.

Under the programs, City firefighters have made about five runs to either The Park or Farms for every single run those two cities have made to The City during the past four years.

Inequitable Deal

During the years 1972-75 The City made 349 runs to The Farms and Park. In return those two departments responded to City fires 67 times. City Manager Thomas Kressbach indicated that he is not totally pleased with the way the mutual aid and pilot programs have worked out in this respect.

"We would like to work with the other two cities to make these programs a little more equitable in the future," he said.

School Tax

(Continued from Page 1) Planning on an estimated reduction in enrollment of 450 students, the administration also anticipates cutting the teaching staff by 20-25 at a possible savings of about $250,000.

Campaign workers will stress these school losses at most of the PTO/PTA meetings to be held through March 29, according to Mrs. Feaser. A special, informational meeting will also be held at 8 p.m. on Monday, March 15, at the Board of Education office in St. Clair avenue. The committee is also planning mailings and at least two informational flyers.

The exact cause of an ulcer is not known. Some experts suggest that heredity plays an important part in determining whether or not an individual develops an ulcer. Most persons who have ulcers tend to have a higher gastric acidity than normal, but many who have extremely high concentrations of gastric acidity do not have ulcers. Nervous conditions frequently are associated with ulcers, but many nervous persons do not develop them. Ulcers are more common in men than in women.

The one person most vitally concerned with the safety of drugs and medications is your local pharmacist! Professional pharmacists at DEVONSHIRE DRUGS, 16037 Mack on "Tiffany Lane," work closely with your doctor to make sure you are protected. ### Receive Report on Brys Drive

There were no reported accidents on Brys drive, west of Mack avenue, or on East Eight Mile road during January, said Woods Public Safety Director Henry Marchand, who indicated this makes the 27th consecutive month without a reported accident in the aforementioned area.

The director's report was received and placed on file at the regular meeting of The Woods Council Monday, February 23.

The director's communication stems from council action last December authorizing him to report on a 30-day basis as to the status of Brys traffic conditions after citizens appeared before the solons on several occasions seeking relief from what they said was heavy vehicular traffic on their streets.

Within the past few weeks the State Highway Department erected a small sign on the westbound service drive at East Eight Mile indicating State route No. 102 straight ahead, and the City of Harper Woods replaced the missing street sign for East Eight Mile, he said, while adding the signs should help somewhat.

Stressing that the public safety department will continue to give the area special attention, Director Marchand said the weather in January prevented the taking of traffic counts and also curtailed the number of traffic citations issued.

A total of 12 violations were issued including nine citations for failing to stop at Brys and Helen, two for speeding on Brys and one for failure to change address.

Youth Council Testing Bands

Combine a few people with a lot of nerve, two guitars, one drum set, one organ and a few amplifiers, turn on the power and you've got yourself a rock group.

By popular demand, the Youth Council will again sponsor the search for the best rock group in The Pointe area as "Battle of The Bands" is underway with auditions for six bands to compete for top place.

If a band is interested, a representative should call the War Memorial at 881-7511 for an audition.

The final bands will be chosen Tuesday, March 30.

World Prayer Day March 5

Men and women in 169 countries will be joining in a "World Day of Prayer," spanning six continents. This 90th celebration will be observed in a thousand languages by Protestant, Orthodox and Catholic Christians on Friday, March 5.

This year, Pointers will attend the service at Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, 240 Chalfonte at Lothrop, from 1 to 2 p.m. A tea will follow in the social hall.

The theme for 1976 is "Education for All of Life." Mrs. George Romney, a dedicated church woman and wife of the former Governor, will be the speaker.

The worship service has been prepared by women in Latin America and reflects their concern for "Education for All of Life." On this day Protestant, Catholic and Orthodox men and women seek to make visible their unity in Christ.

Chairmen for Grosse Pointe are Shirley Clark, from Grosse Pointe Congregational Church and Mrs. Judi Bell, from Saint Paul Lutheran Church. This worship service was held at Saint Paul Catholic Church last year and will be held at Saint Paul Lutheran Church in 1977.

Careless with words was the fellow who coined the phrase, "Easy Payment Plan."

Woods Refuses Swim Meet Bid

A request from the president of the Grosse Pointe Swim Club to conduct meets at the Lake Front Park pool was denied by The Woods Council, which recessed as the Committee of the Whole to discuss the matter, at its regular meeting Monday, February 23.

Councilman Ronald R. Kegen stipulated that while the request was nixed, the denial wasn't one of a final nature regarding the possibility of such meets in the future.

He indicated no rules and regulations governing swim meets have been formulated as yet and that such activity wasn't feasible at this time.

In relation to this, the letter from Jack Shock, who's also master swim chairman for the Michigan AAU, was unanimously referred to the Citizens Recreation Commission for study and for the potential formulation of policy on swim meets at the park.

In his communication, Mr. Shock, a Woods resident, said he would like to avail the many competitive swimmers of the State the opportunity to compete in the new facility.

He said there were two

Guaranteed challenge:

If you're a young person looking for some real challenge, now's the time to look into the Army. From electronics to carpentry, from cooks to combat arms, the Army today has more challenging opportunities to offer than anyone.

$361 a month to start

Army pay is better than ever. And with free meals, free lodging, and free medical and dental care, you'll be surprised how far that pay will go.

Job-training courses

Ever wonder where to get that "experience necessary" the classified ads always ask for? A good place is the Army. With hundreds of job-training courses, the Army can teach you skills you'll be glad to have later on.

Educational opportunities

Whether it's finishing high school or earning college credits, being in the Army can help you. And if you sign up for the Army's newest educational program, Project Ahead, you'll be able to start college at the same time you enlist—with the Army paying up to 75% of your tuition and fees for approved courses.

Travel opportunities

Joining the Army can mean a chance to work and live in Europe, Alaska, Hawaii, Korea, Panama or almost anywhere in the continental U.S.

Join now, go later

You can do just that—join now and report up to nine months later—with the Army's special Delayed Entry Program. A terrific option for high school seniors and others with unfinished business ahead of them.

First come, first serve.

Shores Police Check B-E's

The first burglary to take place in The Shores in more than a year occurred on Wednesday, February 25, at the home of Thomas R. Quilter, 82 Blairmoor court, between the hours of 6:15 and 7:59 p.m.

Officers of the public safety department who were dispatched to the Quilter residence said that evidence indicated the burglar, or burglars, entered the house through the rear door, after first kicking out the glass pane and reaching in and unlocking the door.

Mr. Quilter told investigating police that he left the house about 6:15 p.m. after taking the car out of the garage, using an electronic button to open and close the garage door. When he returned at 7:59 p.m., he opened the garage door with the button and noticed the glass missing from the rear door and the door open and the kitchen lights on. He called the police.

A witness told investigators at the scene, that she had seen a 1968 or 1969 black Le Mans or Cutlass, at about 5:30 p.m. parked under a street light on Ballantyne, next to the Quilter house. When she left her own home about a half hour later, the vehicle was still there. When she returned later, she saw Shores police cars in front of the burglary victim's home, but the other car was gone.

Officers at the scene said they found a portable television set removed from the dresser bureau and on the floor but still connected to the antenna.

Mr. Quilter told police, after taking inventory, that the following were missing: a stereo radio with two speakers; a 35mm camera, Model 102; a 35mm lens with 1.8 focus; a 50mm lens with 1.4 focus; a 100mm lens with a 2.5 focus, and a charging unit with three lens filters, taken from the guest room.

Other items taken were a yellow pillow case and a clock radio from the night stand. The values of the missing items were not given.

The matter was referred to Det. Sgt. Frank Mustazza for further investigation.

Visits to Neff Park Are Down

Attendance at Grosse Pointe City's Neff Memorial Park was down almost 10 percent last year and, according to pool director, Thomas A. Gauerke, the weather was to blame.

"Our attendance absolutely parallels the weather each year and August 1975 was just a disaster," Mr. Gauerke said.

Total visits to the park reached only 89,557 in 1975, compared to over 100,000 in the previous year—an average drop of about 100 visits each day.

Mr. Gauerke, who is also head track and cross-country coach at North High School, was happy to report that the number of serious accidents occurring in the park's swimming pool seemed to be declining.

Last year there were only seven reportable injuries, as compared to 11 the previous year. Lifeguards at the pool saved nine lives last summer. Strangely enough, six of the near drownings occurred in the wading pool and involved floating devices that were later banned from use.

Sale by Lions Wins Approval

A solicitation request from The Woods Lions Club was approved by the council at its regular meeting Monday, February 23.

Daniel Hodgman requested permission to conduct the club's "White Cane Sale" on city streets and also at the Mack-Seven Shopping Center.

The solicitations would be confined largely to Mack avenue and Vernier, and would be conducted Friday-Saturday, April 23-24 and April 30-May 1.

The proceeds from the sale will be used for charity, principally for acquisition and training of leader dogs, he said.

Woods Changes Meeting Date

The second regular meeting of The Woods Council this month has been changed from Monday, March 15, to Monday, March 22.

This action was unanimously taken at the regular meeting Monday, February 23.

The reason for the adjustment was the possibility at least two council members would be out of town on the 15th.

Church Slates Lenten Service

The theme "The Center and Our Circling Worlds" will highlight the Lenten Season at Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church. A committee, including Robert Sweaney, Mrs. Kenneth Perry, Clark Lawrence, Mrs. George Hayward, Miss Virginia Downs and Miss Rosemary Piatt, have planned the Lenten program.

Ash Wednesday will begin the special series with a service at 8 p.m. The service topic is entitled "Holy Steps to Holy Lives." The Holy Land, paradigm of the modern crisis of history and faith, will be presented through image and idea.

The Lenten series will include a study "America: Beginning, Birth, Bicentennial with Biblical Footnotes." The study will meet on Monday evenings at 8 p.m., March 15, 22, 29 and April 5.

On Sunday mornings at 10:20, three seminars are scheduled: The Challenge of Leisure, Dying with Dignity, and Living with Stress.

A church fellowship potluck supper will be held on Wednesday, March 31, at 6:30 p.m. The program to follow the dinner will feature Mr. and Mrs. David Kidd, of Flint, Michigan. Mr. Kidd is the minister of the Trinity United Methodist Church of Flint.

Mrs. Kidd is a professional psychological therapist. They will speak about their faith and the world of their marriage.

On April 4, at 7 p.m., the Chorale, under the direction of Miss Camille Thompson, Director of Music, will present.

Sentence Heard By One of Trio

Woods police recently received a Wayne County Circuit Court disposition on a defendant, who was originally charged with armed robbery but ultimately pled guilty to a reduced charge of assault with intent to rob, being armed.

As a result, Lonnie Dale Snell, 17, of Hazel Park, was sentenced to from one and a half to five years in Jackson Prison.

Two other suspects, who are charged in the incident wherein a Woods man was beaten and robbed of his wallet last fall, are scheduled to face trial on Monday, March 29.

These suspects, Leonard Allen Miron, of New Haven, Mich., and Daniel John Liberty, of Hazel Park, are charged with armed robbery.

Most folks who break a promise are willing to make two new promises to replace the one.

Center Offers Spring Classes

Many of the War Memorial's classes for the spring term begin this month.

The new music appreciation course, "What to Listen for in Music," being presented by the choirmaster and music director of Christ Church, Frederick DeHaven, will be presented on Monday evenings, March 8 through June 7, at 8 p.m.

It will involve the history, composition and content of music of different periods with recorded music used to show what to listen for. The fee is $40 for 12 weeks.

Edna Kreichelt's classes in the Basic Elements of Drawing and Painting begins March 15 and continues on Mondays through May 24 with the beginner class from noon-2 p.m. and the intermediate students meeting 2-4 p.m. The fee is $39 for 10 weeks.

The spring term of ballet under the direction of Mary Ellen Cooper also begins March 15 and continues weekdays after regular school and all day on Saturdays through June 11.

Students are grouped according to age and ability in small classes of 10-12. The classes are accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Charles Cooper. In June, all class members perform in evenings of ballet presented in Fries Auditorium. The instructional fee is $29 for the 12-week term.

Yoga instruction for men, women and young adults begins Wednesday evening, March 17, and continues through May 5. Under the direction of Robert Probert, intermediate students meet at 7 p.m. and beginners at 8:15. The instructional fee is $20. Students are asked to wear loose exercise clothing and bring mats.

An "Aviation Ground School" begins Thursday evening, March 18, and continues through June 3, from 7-10 p.m. It is directed by Donald W. Jones, FAA certified instructor. It qualifies one to pass the FAA Written Private Pilot Examination. The fee is $30 for 10 weeks.

Trip to Boyne Last for Club

The final bus trip of the Grosse Pointe Ski Club's season will be to Boyne Mountain on Friday-Sunday, March 12-14.

Despite weather conditions in Grosse Pointe, snow is reported up north, says the club, which adds the War Memorial should be contacted at 881-7511 for details of the trip.

Tar/Taste Theory Exploded.

New 9 mg. tar MERIT with 'Enriched Flavor' proves taste no longer depends on amount of tar.

Until today, cigarette flavor pretty much depended on the amount of tar that went along with it.

Regardless of "low tar, good taste" claims, regardless of fancy-filters and "space-age" filtering systems — you couldn't get high taste without high tar.

Nor low tar without low taste.

That was the theory.

Until today.

By isolating certain "key" ingredients of tobacco in cigarette smoke, ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar, researchers at Philip Morris have developed an 'Enriched Flavor' process so successful at boosting flavor, the resulting cigarette actually delivers as much — or more — taste than brands having more tar.

Up to 60% more tar.

The cigarette is 9 mg. tar MERIT. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today. If you smoke — you'll be interested.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar cigarette brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of filter smokers were involved, smokers like yourself — all tested at home*.

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar than MERIT, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly, too, delivering as much — or more — taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette.

MERIT. Unprecedented flavor at 9 mg. tar.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In the latter '60's and early '70's students attempted to convince me that the young adults of the period were prepared to solve all the major problems caused by the adult population, problems such as blatant immorality, alcoholism, rising divorce rates, and the worst problem of all, a value system based on materialism which undermined the development of all human concern and understanding. Their solution was simple: take LSD and instantly become creative, sensitive, knowledgeable, and filled with love and understanding and thereby transcend all barriers to meaningful and constructive communication. LSD failed, and with its demise went its high priest Timothy O'Leary, but other synthetic substitutes were readily available, and other high priests like Marshall McLuhan and Billy Graham quickly, and with relative ease, replaced them. Oddly enough, the switch occurred without so much as a revolutionary skirmish this time.

The "Message" now no longer has its soothing effect, and the fervent belief that "professing a love for Jesus will guarantee eternal bliss" seems to have all but escaped the memory of having once believed it, and nothing has come to replace these last saving graces. I now perceive a growing unrest, a kind of nagging dissatisfaction, and a sense of betrayal among my students today. It is not that they any longer seek solutions, synthetic or otherwise, or that they so much as find fault with the value system which culminated in a Watergate, or that they actively search for new leaders who are willing to hang on the cross for their failings. No, the saviors of the past have disillusioned them, and what they want now is a victim.

An illustration of what I perceive in the "new" student body is aptly revealed on the first two pages of the February 18th Tower, the Grosse Pointe South High student newspaper. The first article deals with the problem of feeding 800 students in a facility designed for 270, and the resulting disruption by these students of the instruction to the remaining 1,600 students. The article states that "the administration is unwilling to renovate the cafeteria," and therefore "the students will have to bear the burden of the responsibility themselves." How? Not by being quieter and less disruptive in the halls, or by offering to help pass the millage to pay for the renovation, but by demanding longer lunch periods and a complete open campus. The next article deals with "Inconsistent Tardy Rules." In this article students openly take teachers to task for their "inconsistent and sometimes unfair... reaction to tardiness." The victim here is the teacher for not adhering to the rule, and for sometimes unduly punishing. The attitude toward the tardiness itself, though, is that it is not all that important, and therefore, presumably, no effort will be made to curb it. Will these same students inform employers who dock them for being late that this practice is inconsistent because not all employers withhold pay, and that perhaps the withholding of pay should be abolished because tardiness "should not be taken so seriously?"

The last and most significant reflection of the "new" student philosophy is revealed in an editorial entitled "Basic Skills in English Need Attention at South," and I might add, that if the article itself is any indication, the title is aptly given. In the first paragraph English teachers are told that they take their "role in the education process... too lightly" because they have failed to teach basic skills. Teachers are also criticized for attaching negative weight to mechanical errors in papers when they have failed to teach mechanics in class. The most illuminating statement, however, is that "The elective procedure used to select what English a student takes may be the department's major weakness. This method allows a student to take do-nothing courses or steer away from those classes which might be most challenging." It has been my observation over the past eleven years that students generally are exceptionally bright. It did not take them long to realize that the English Department recently has become the most vulnerable, and therefore the most useful, victim, for it can be cited as the cause for the failure of students to be accepted into colleges, for the failure of students to graduate from college, and for the failure of people to adequately communicate. And this victimizing can be justified on the basis of statistical evidence: SAT scores have dropped.

Grammar and language usage traditionally have been taught in the elementary and middle schools. South's English Department was unaware that emphasis of this instruction had been altered until the increased number of spelling and mechanical errors, always a major factor in paper evaluation, made teachers investigate the cause. Since the elective program is designed to meet the needs of students, and is therefore flexible, steps to correct the situation were taken. The ninth grade program underwent major revisions; additional sections of Writing Workshop, and courses in Language Study were offered. Literature teachers placed more emphasis on language usage, and students who revealed a need for additional help were strongly urged to take the courses designed to meet their needs. Teachers were making these revisions, writing these courses, and accepting counseling responsibilities while class size and number of preparations were increasing. Yet, students have successfully convinced themselves, and the community, that their English teachers are responsible for their lower grades, for their inability to spell, to punctuate, to structure papers, to perform well on national tests, all presumably because teachers "take their roles too lightly."

Admittedly, I still have a preponderance of students who work diligently, accept correction, and learn from their mistakes. Also, many sensitive and concerned members of the community have given moral support to the department when it was most needed. However, it is time now to reconsider the astonishing turn of events occurring among the general student body. It occurs to me that it is in fact time for students to "bear the burden of the responsibility themselves." Since they have rejected the concept that a pill, or shot in the arm, or even a drag of marijuana can produce anything other than a rather fleeting trip from reality, they should simultaneously accept the fact that only a desire to learn and a willingness to work can produce the skills necessary to succeed in life. The truth is that many students have discovered how to legalize truancy and thereby attend only those classes where an "E" may result in the failure to attend, and those classes are shortened somewhat by "insignificant tardiness." Students generally do not develop skills because they refuse to actively listen to class instruction, refuse to elect those courses designed to help them because the work is tedious and laborious, refuse to look up words in the dictionary, refuse to proof-read papers, or to devote more time than that which is required to produce the minimum results, and then refuse to accept the grades that the lack of effort produces on the grounds that teachers are not doing the job for which they are already highly overpaid.

Vocabulary is increased most effectively by increased reading, but few students ever complete reading assignments because they have successfully learned how to acquire the answers to the tests without bothering to read the book. English teachers try to stimulate learning through meaningful discussions on some of the finest works produced by man, but many students find these discussions "boring" because

Frances Shook Top Qualifier

At a recent international swim meet in Cincinnati, O., Frances Shook, 13, of The Woods, qualified for the U.S. Regional Swimming Championships to be held in Canton, O., on Friday-Sunday, March 12-14.

Frances swims for the Fitzgerald Swim Club. She is the top Michigan qualifier in the 200 breast events. The regionals will include the top swimmers from Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and Kentucky.

Frances will compete against Marcia Morey from Springfield, Ill., who is the second ranked woman breast-stroker in the world and a U.S. Olympic hope.

After the regionals, the top qualifiers will go to Long Beach, Calif., to vie for the National Senior AAU Championships and from there to the Olympic trials in California this June.

Nothing is more serious than what some folks consider a joke.

Letters to the Editor

they have not read the assignment, nor have they any consciousness of, or concern for, their own cultural heritage.

Let us once and for all hang up the SAT test score whip, or at least let us stop using it to force teachers to either raise the grades or raise the test scores. Actually, Grosse Pointe rates very close to the national norm, and there is not a significant fluctuation of the mean score over the years, but these facts are irrelevant. It has been proven that there is no correlation between SAT scores and students' success in writing, or, for that matter, SAT scores do not reflect competency, or the lack of it, in language usage. As a matter of fact, many test items used to rate verbal skills do not even relate to English. The national attack on English departments may motivate the community to demand that the vast and comprehensive English program be discontinued and replaced by four years of grammar and language study, but I would like to assure the community that students will not acquire these skills any more readily than they have acquired knowledge in any course they have elected to take. Catering to their malcontent will neither ease their burden nor ours, and this lesson will be learned at a terrible expense—the sacrifice of our major link to the past.

To the Editor:

My contention is there will be a windfall of surplus dollars for the 1976-77 school budget in the two categories listed below:

1. A $728,000 windfall due to the new adjustments of the SEV as the factors and property assessments have increased in all the Pointe communities. These are additional dollars with the same renewal millage.

2. A $297,000 windfall due to the 22 fewer teachers for the 450 fewer students. A $13,500 annual salary was selected which is about $3,000 under the average as there will be low tenure and retiree professionals. There also may be fringes involved which have not been considered.

The above facts can be substantiated by the finance director at the school administration office.

In my opinion the above $1,025 million surplus will easily cover our anticipated loss of $193,000 inventory tax and possible state money for mandated programs. With the increase millage there will then be $2.5 million above the present 1975-76 budget. This is setting the stage for more demands because the money is there for the asking. A $500 raise for each teacher amounts to $250,000 which is quite a difference from $2.5 million.

Sincerely,
Louis J. De Perro Jr.
North Renaud Road

Editor's Note:—The NEWS took the liberty of checking this information with the Board of Education, with the following explanation.

1. The decline in the number of teachers projected to save $264,000 instead of $297,000.

2. Missing from Mr. De Perro's figures are revenue losses broken down as follows: (1) State Aid Reduction—$430,500; (2) Business Activity Tax—$249,767; (3) Use of Reserves—$14,412.

3. Also missing from his calculations are proposed increases in budgeted costs (minus salary adjustments, which are negotiable) to operate the same program in the future.

Unemployment Insurance, $140,000.

Hospitalization and Workers' Compensation costs, $131,000.

Heating Fuel and Utilities, $229,000.

Interest Cost, $118,750.

Establishment of Reserves, $354,350.

Cost of Supplies and Services, $156,322.

4. We cannot comment on specific dollar allocations for teacher salaries since we are in the process of contract negotiations.

GOOD LIVES AFTER

What we build up in character during life is the only thing we can take away with us.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. James A. Adams
Superintendent of Schools

Some confusion is surfacing over the local impact of Section 143 of Public Act 261 — the State School Aid Amendments that were adopted in Lansing in the fall. The loss of approximately $250,000 is one of the major reasons we are asking the public for additional millage.

Following are the assumptions and calculations which we used in computing the effect of this confusing law on our school district. Hopefully this will help our citizens better understand the significance of this law and its impact on funding education in Grosse Pointe.

Assumptions

Enrollment loss of 450 students.

1976-77 State Equalized Valuation $528,388,381

1976-77 Inventory Value $ 7,568,696

Current Tax Rate of 33.0 mills.

Calculations

A. 1975-76 per pupil operating revenue

498,677,410 ÷ 11,145 x 33.0 mills $ 1,477

B. 106 percent guarantee of 1975-76

106 percent x 1,477 1,565

C. 1976-77 SEV per pupil

1976-77 SEV $528,388,281 1975 Enroll. 11,145

1976-77 Inventory 7,568,696 1976 Loss 450

1976-76 Adj. SEV $520,819,585 1976-77 Enroll. 10,695

$520,819,585 ÷ 10,695 $48,697

D. 1976-77 per pupil operating revenue

48,697 x 33.0 mills $ 1,607

Since the combination of loss in enrollment and increase in SEV generates more revenue on a per pupil basis than the state guarantee of 10 percent (Item D greater than Item B) the Grosse Pointe Public Schools will receive no State Aid from the Business Activity Tax provision. Earlier we had projected that we would receive some aid from the state to help offset our loss. But in view of the present factors used in the calculation this is no longer true.

The loss in revenue to the school district is computed as follows:

1976-77 Inventory Value x 1976-77 millage rate
$7,568,696 x 33.0 mills $249,767

With the variable now clarified, we estimate a loss of approximately $250,000.

Austin Inducts 4 Honor Students

The Austin chapter of the National Honor Society recently inducted 29 new members in Friday, February 20th's Honors Convocation.

To gain acceptance into this nationwide organization, a student must maintain a grade point average of 3.5 for three consecutive semesters and be approved by the administration for his scholastic, community and character leadership.

In addition to the 14 sophomores there were juniors joining the National Honor Society. They are: Joseph Altemon, Eugene Belanger, Peter Cracchiolo, James Draper, Joseph Drolshagen, James Hoski, Frederick Maddock II, Thomas Michael, Robert Neville, John Salkowski, and Frank Willard.

Six seniors also joined the National Honor Society. They include: Thomas Chase, Paul Domin, Michael Dunn, Michael Smith, Michael Wayne and Carl Werner.

All these men received their scholastic letter before hand. Four other men received their scholastic letters at this assembly. The four men are John Caruso, Terry Hopman, Henry Kodan and Mark O'Connor.

With the new inductees, the Austin chapter of the National Honor Society now has 61 members with the Scholastic Lettermen's Club having 70 members.

More volunteers are needed for this work. Persons interested in volunteering their time for the crusade, as well as those in need of services offered by the American Cancer Society, are requested to phone the area office, 343-9006, Mondays through Fridays between 9 a.m. and 12 noon or 1-3 p.m.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur M. Woodford
Chief of Central Library

Six months ago I wrote a column entitled "odds-n-ends" and I would like to try it again. Here is a sample of new books, totally unrelated by subject, but good examples of the range of materials being added to the collections at your Grosse Pointe Public Libraries.

Before I get into these books though, I would like to tell you of an excellent exhibit now at the Central Library. It consists of a selection of paper mache state birds created and painted by Mrs. Jean Snell's fifth grade class from Maire School. Perched life-like in our library "tree" this is an exhibit that library users of all ages will enjoy. When you are in selecting your next book be sure to look for the Maire School state birds.

After writing about an exhibit of birds, here is a book about birds (and other animals): Margaret Blount's ANIMAL LAND (Morrow). In this volume the author surveys the role of humanized animals in the classic literature for children. She details just what animals in children's fiction have to tell us about human social attitudes, and what is the source of their appeal. This is a book for the adult who has fond memories of Rupert Bear, the Cheshire Cat, Winnie the Pooh and Mr. Toad of Toad Hall.

Just in time for this year's national election is Judith Best's THE CASE AGAINST DIRECT ELECTION OF THE PRESIDENT (Cornell). Subtitled "A Defense of the Electoral College," a firm vote is cast here for our present system of electing the President. Professor Best refutes the arguments in favor of direct election and presents a convincing case for the electoral system.

In CHILDREN AND DYING (Health Sciences) Sarah S. Cook has produced a valuable and thought-stimulating book. The 14 essays that make up this little volume are grouped under such headings as "How Children Feel and React to Death," and "How Adults React to the Sick, Dying or Bereaved Child." An added feature to this book is the excellent bibliographies that can be used by the student, teacher and parent.

The INDIVIDUAL, one of the volumes of the Time-Life Library of Human Behavior, is authored by Paul Good. This book is an engrossing study of the mysterious and complex forces that make people different: intelligence, creativity, personality, adaptability. It is filled with anecdotes, case histories, the latest scientific data and scores of photographs. The author's aim is to help the reader learn more about himself and the importance of his individuality.

A book that is quite different from a column on literature, or death, or psychology is Jana Allen and Margaret Gin's cookbook, INNARDS AND OTHER VARIETY MEATS (Scribner). Starting in their preface that, "Throughout recorded history innards and other variety meats have been an important part of man's diet," the authors go on to provide dozens of recipes of everything from brains to tails, (and a lot of things in between).

A book that you may want to read only during the daylight hours is THE POWERS OF EVIL (Putnam) by Richard Cavendish. This volume is a survey of the supernatural agencies that throughout the ages have been on mankind. The author has included in this work discussions of the devil and the demons of Judeo-Christian traditions, along with the malevolent gods and spirits of paganism, ghosts, witches, vampires, giants, dragons and other sinister creatures that have captured the human mind.

A more serious topic is dealt with by June Goodfield in her new book THE SIEGE OF CANCER (Random House). For two years Dr. Goodfield has been looking into test tubes, asking questions, reading reports, talking to scientists and doctors and patients. The result is this book — a vivid, deeply compassionate look at modern cancer research and the men and women who have devoted their lives to it. A comprehensive and stimulating report.

This last book is one that I believe many readers will enjoy; SUCH A STRANGE LADY: A BIOGRAPHY OF DOROTHY L. SAYERS (Harper) by Janet Hitchman. Almost everyone knows Lord Peter Wimsey by now, but few people know much, if anything, about his creator, Dorothy L. Sayers. Now Lord Peter's fans will be able to meet the complex author who was indeed a very strange lady. This is a fascinating portrait of a fascinating woman.

Parcells Hosts Band Festival

Three local high school bands will perform this Saturday, March 6, at the District Band Festival being held at Parcells Middle School. The Festival will run from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. and is open to the public without charge.

Grosse Pointe North High School Symphony Band under the direction of Nathan C. Judson will be the first performance of the day at 8:00 a.m. in the Parcells Auditorium.

The South High School Wind Ensemble, directed by Russell Reed, will perform at 9:45 a.m., while the South Symphony Band (second band) will be performing at 1:15 p.m.

The festival is sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association and this section is being hosted by Nathan Judson of North High School. Each of the 17 bands performing Saturday will be judged by four adjudicators, including: Arthur Katterjohn, Weaton College; Roger Jacobi, National Music Camp; Bruce Early, Aquinas College; and Jerry Bartlett, East Lansing, High School.

District 12 includes schools from Wayne, Monroe, and Washtenaw counties. There will be four other sections of the festival being held on Sat. March 6, for high school bands and junior high orchestras.

On Saturday, March 13, the high school orchestras from North and South will be traveling to other District Festivals.

LINC Sets Kick-Off Party for City Fair

Entertainment, Plant Sales and Refreshments Will Be Featured at Party to Support Community Service on Friday, March 12

"Work hard, play hard," that's LINC's motto," according to Jane Merrell, chairman of the second annual Kick-Off Party for the LINC City Fair.

And playing hard, in the Saint Patrick's Day spirit, is what the group will be doing on Friday, March 12, from 7-9:30 p.m. at the University place home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Merrell, Jr. There will be music and song, a lavish buffet, cocktail hour and open bar. Party goers will also have the first opportunity to buy some of this year's Fair treasures.

All this is in preparation for the two-day City Fair scheduled for June 3 and 4 on the Kern Block, in downtown Detroit. It is LINC's chief fund-raiser, where goods are sold which have not been placed in various projects through the year. Besides that, the Fair will offer entertainment, plant sales and refreshments.

LINC — the name stands for Linking Individuals with Needs in the Community — solicits donations for goods requested by community organizations in Wayne County. Calls for help come to Operation LINC from about 100 organizations in need each year and LINC volunteers do their best to help supply them.

Kick-Off Party reservations may be made through party chairman Mrs. Merrell, at 882-8210. If you have goods you wish to donate call the LINC office in East Jefferson at 331-6700. All gifts are tax deductible.

LWV Sponsors Fashion Show

Grosse Pointe's League of Women Voters will sponsor a fund-raising Spring Fashion Show and continental breakfast at Jacobson's Saint Clair Room on Thursday, March 11, at 9:30.

Tickets are available, at $2.50, from Crete Thompson, 882-7183, or at the door on the day of the show.

With the national elections coming up in November, the League is in special need of additional funds to inform the electorate.

These are little miracles.

Otherwise known as conditioners. They give body and bounce and life and lustre to hair that hasn't all the body and bounce and life and lustre it needs. The only thing we would point out is this: different heads need different conditioners. We tell you if you need one and if so, which one. And each time you come in we double check the situation. Like to buy a little miracle? We sell them, most reasonably.

Delta Kappa Gammas Meet at War Memorial

The annual spring luncheon and birthday observance of the Metropolitan Council of Delta Kappa Gamma, International society of women educators, will be held at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Saturday, March 20, at 12 o'clock.

Eight Detroit area Chapters will mark the 10th anniversary of the Council and the 47th birthday of Delta Kappa Gamma International.

Speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Naida Dostal, past president of both the Metropolitan Council and the Alpha Iota State (Michigan), branch of the International group. Dr. Dostal, who will speak on "Woman in Today's World," is Supervisor of Foreign Languages with the Detroit Public Schools.

Delta Kappa Gamma, which works to promote the status of women in general and women teachers in particular, now has — through an expansion program begun in 1970 — chapters in Norway, Sweden, Finland, Mexico, Guatemala and Iceland as well as the United States and Canada. The Organization provides scholarships for women educators of other nations to study in the United States and both state and national grants for its own members to work at the advanced graduate level.

In addition, Delta Kappa Gamma supports such projects as a community college on an Indian reservation and educational seminars for its members — some on purposeful living conducted in the United States and others on the educational methods and systems of foreign countries conducted abroad.

AAUW Sets March Schedule

Group's Monthly General Meeting to Feature Discussion of The Pointe's History at A Grosse Pointe Hunt Club Luncheon

The American Association of University Women's General Meeting will be a luncheon at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club on March 18 at 12:30 p.m. Reservations must be made by Wednesday, March 10, to Mary Krueger, of Kenwood court. "A History of Grosse Pointe" by Darlene Krato will be the featured topic.

Mrs. Krato is the "Bicentennial Lady" at Kerby School. She has researched, written and produced a series of tapes for use in the classroom. The recordings include Indian legends and songs tales of French fur traders, the naming of Lake St. Clair and even some old French legends.

She became interested in local history when she researched the abstract of the land on which the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church stands for a presentation of the history to parishioners. Her talk will include the history of several early families and customs, typical of the French, that exist today in Grosse Pointe.

The AAUW's special interest groups will continue their monthly meetings when Mary Louise Krebs presents the View on "The Sea We Like to See," when the International Relations Study Group meets on Thursday, March 4 at 1 p.m. at the home of Joan Jessup, in Lakepointe avenue.

The Legislative Study Group will meet on Thursday, March 4, at 7:45 p.m. at the home of Grace Harrison, in Yorkshire road. The guest for the evening will be Senate Majority Leader William Fitzgerald, who will answer questions on current and pending legislation.

Art Appreciation will meet on Friday, March 5, 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mary Lou Borech, in Kercheval avenue. Mrs. Borech will speak on flowers drawn by artists in the 17th century.

Stitchery II will meet at the home of Alma Cook, in Wedgewood road, at 8 p.m. on Monday, March 8.

Peggy Muir will discuss how skills in parenting, communication in marriage or communication on the job, can be improved through an introduction to the YMCA course in Transactional Analysis; when the Kaleidoscope Group meets on Tuesday at the home of Peggy Muir, in Bedford road, March 9, at 9 a.m. Babysitting is available and if you bring a child, please bring a toy.

The Book Discussion Group will meet on Tuesday, March 9, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Helen Blades, in Shore Club drive.

Betty Bacon and Dorothy Jossman will lead the discussion of "The Hesitant Heart" by Ann Edwards, a short novel about the American poet Emily Dickinson.

La Causerie will meet on Wednesday, March 10, at 7:45 p.m. at the Bishop road home of Francine Augier. "Chateaubriand and Other French Observers of the American Scene in the Late 18th Century," will be presented by June Nelson.

Personal and Family Growth will meet on Thursday, March 11 at 7:15 p.m. at the home of Mary Louise Krebs, in Notre Dame road. Discussion of "Type A Behavior and Your Heart" will continue from Chapter 12. A tape by one of the authors will be played as a review of the material in the book. ## Planning A-Family-A-Fair

MRS. WILLIAM KAAKE, standing, is shown sharing her quilting talents with other industrious workers, sitting, (left to right), MRS. JOSEPH K. MILLER and MRS. ROGER FITCH. These women, along with dozens of others, are preparing for the Christ Church "A-Family-A-Fair," to be presented on Saturday, May 16, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Thursdays, where work on the patchwork pillows, quilts, (all hand quilted), is being started. Preview guests will be able to choose between these and many more items as well as place special color, style and size orders. The preview, as well as the fair itself, will be held on Saturdays this year in order to allow entire families to visit.

Other Fair executives include: general chairman, Mrs. Richard Simonds; co-chairmen, Mrs. Raymond Senkowski and Mrs. Robert Valk; treasurers, Mrs. William Harris III and Mrs. Richard Turner; publicity, Mrs. Robert C. Blaine and Mrs. James Humphreys, Jr.; and volunteer chairman, Mrs. Charles Mathews.

TV Economist at Town Hall

"Whether you're rich or whether you're poor, it's nice to have money."

Louis Rukeyser, Detroit Town Hall's guest speaker on Wednesday, March 17, at 11 a.m. at the Fisher Theater, would not dispute that old nightclub joke.

An author and speaker, Mr. Rukeyser, has become a television personality as host of the weekly program, "Wall Street Week."

On the air just hours after the New York Stock Exchange finishes out each week's trading, Mr. Rukeyser's program attracts amateurs as well as pros to their sets for his Friday evening financial analysis.

With the stock market enjoying its greatest activity in several years, Mr. Rukeyser's appearance is most timely.

George Gallup, Jr., Town Hall's last speaker, said the greatest concern of all Americans, rich or poor, is inflation. Mr. Rukeyser will address himself to this concern and invitations are being extended to local financial experts to bring clients and questions to the meeting.

Tickets are $5. For more information call 871-0094.

Church Women Hold Meeting

DSO to Feature 'Ring' Operas

The stunning young Romanian violinist Silvia Marcovici will be guest soloist at three concerts by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra this week in Ford Auditorium, Thursday evening, March 4 at 8:30, Friday morning, March 5 at 10:45, and Saturday evening, March 6 at 8:30. Former DSO Music Director Sixten Ehrling will be on the podium for his second week as guest conductor of the Orchestra.

The program for the three concerts includes the DSO premiere of a little-known Liszt tone-poem "From the Cradle to the Grave," Bartok's famous Violin Concerto No. 2 with Miss Marcovici as soloist, and several selections from Wagner's "Ring" operas. Maestro Ehrling, who last year conducted the first complete "Ring" cycle in several years at the Metropolitan Opera, has chosen seven sections to perform: The Entrance of the Gods into Valhalla from "Das Rheingold," The Ride of the Valkyries from "Die Walkure," Forest Murmurs from "Siegfried," and Dawn, Siegfried's Rhine Journey, Siegfried's Funeral Music, and the Closing Scene from "Die Gotterdammerung."

Friday morning's concert is and NBD Coffee Concert presented in cooperation with National Bank of Detroit. Doors will open at 9:30 for complimentary coffee, and the concert will be preceded at 10:15 by a fashion show from Jacobson's.

Silvia Marcovici began a study of the violin in her native town of Bacau, Romania, and started winning prizes when she was 10, in 1962. Success in competitions has continued right up to first prize in the Enesco Competition held in Bucharest in September 1970. A pupil of Stefan Gheorghin, Miss Marcovici made her North American debut during the 1971-72 season and her DSO debut in February 1974, playing the Lalo "Symphonie Espagnole." The critics then praised her "warmth and passion" and said "Certainly . . . she must be heard here again."

Sixten Ehrling made his U.S. debut with the DSO in November 1961 and became the Orchestra's Music Director and Conductor from January 1963 through April 1973. Born in the Swedish seaport of Malmo, Ehrling studied at the Royal Academy of Music in Stockholm, and was conductor of the Swedish Royal opera for over 20 years, during which time he also established a Europe-wide reputation as a guest conductor. Since 1973 Ehrling has been head of the orchestral department at the Juilliard School in New York, and a frequent conductor at the Metropolitan Opera.

He has guest conducted the DSO over a dozen times, including concerts at Meadow Brook, which he helped to found in 1964 and during the 1974 Upper Peninsula Music Festival. His most recent appearance in Ford Auditorium was in January 1974. He is scheduled to return to Detroit again twice in the near future: he will conduct two operas during the Met's annual visit this spring, and a week during the Meadow Brook Music Festival this summer.

Driver Facing Three Charges

A Detroit motorist was issued three violation tickets by Shores police on Friday, February 20, after nearly colliding with a Shores public safety scout car on Lakeshore road.

Lawrence P. Verbeke, of 4201 Neff, was arrested and ticketed for reckless driving, speeding and failing to change the address on his operator's license. He was taken to the Shores station where he posted a bond of $75 pending a court hearing scheduled for March 28.

At 12:17 a.m. on the Friday date, Verbeke was observed by Public Safety Officers Robert Bensinger and Gary Mitchell, traveling north on Lakeshore, from Vernier road, at a high rate of speed. The officers radioed that they were in pursuit. The message was intercepted by Shores Public Safety Officer Daniel Healy, who was cruising north on the road in the right hand lane. Officer Healy glanced at his rear view mirror and saw the approaching vehicle traveling at what appeared to be a very high speed.

Officer Healy said that Verbeke passed him and then veered suddenly in front of the scout car, forcing him (the officer) to swerve to avoid a collision. The officer joined PSO Bensinger and Mitchell in the chase, stating in his report, that from 900 Lakeshore to Briarcliff, Verbeke was paced at more than 60 miles an hour. Lakeshore is zoned for 35 mph.

PSO Healy said that during the chase, Verbeke continuously straddled the center line. The pursuit by both scout cars continued with lights flashing and sirens screaming. The motorist was brought to a stop in front of 988 Lakeshore.

A male passenger in Verbeke's auto was taken to the station with Verbeke, but was later released.

Verbeke was formally charged and ticketed at the station and posted the required bond, but he was not released because information received on the Law Enforcement Information Network machine, (LEIN), during a routine check, disclosed that the man was wanted on a warrant by the Macomb County Sheriff's Office. He was held for that agency and released to deputy sheriffs.

The Joy of Victory

By Tom Greenwood

Don't call Dave Hollerbach "champ". Not yet at least. So far, Dave, 17, has won two of three bouts he's boxed in the Golden Gloves at Cobo Hall. If he wins his last fight March 19, he'll be the champ of the 156 pound, light middle-weight division. In his first bout, he stopped his opponent in the first round. The second fight was harder, but he won it by a decision in three rounds.

"The first time I fought I was really scared," said Dave, of Berkshire road. "The only thing making it easier was that my opponent was just as frightened. It was the first sanctioned bout for both of us."

The second fight, held Valentine's Day, was easier for Dave. He took time out to look at the crowd and was generally more relaxed. The trouble was it was the second bout for his opponent too.

Has Cocky Opponent
"The guy I fought was really cocky," said Dave. "He kept trying to stare me down during the pre-fight instructions. I just smiled and winked at him. You can't let them think you're scared."

Dave, a junior at South, got this advice from his father, who used to box when he was younger. "My dad didn't think I'd do this well," said Dave with a smile.

"He's happy that I'm enjoying myself, just as long as I don't consider boxing for a career."

There's not much chance of that. Whether he wins or loses his last bout, Dave is going to hang up his gloves. "I intend to go out for track this spring. It's a lot easier than boxing."

Dave learned to box at the Cannon Community Center, located in Finney High School, Cadeux at Warren. He came at the urging of another friend, who trained there for the Junior Olympics. Dave worked out for a year, then began boxing two months before the start of the Golden Gloves.

Coach 'Ducky' Dietz
Coaching Dave is Robert "Ducky" Dietz, 42, a millwright for Ford and a professional boxer. "Ducky" seems a ludicrous name for this heavily muscled, gladiator-type coach. Broken-nosed and battle-scarred, he's a surprisingly gentle man who teaches boxing because he loves the sport and "his" kids. And the kids love him.

In a yellow tiled room off the gym, "Ducky" gives tips and spars three rounds with each of his seven boxers. Pacing himself to the talents and experience of each fighter, "Ducky" advances on the boys, letting them hit at will. Occasionally he puts combinations together to teach his boxers that it's better to give than to receive.

"It's easy to dish it out," he said. "What's tough is taking it. What's tougher yet is taking it and then being able to dish it out again. That's what I try and teach the boys."

A Pleasant Surprise
Resting later in the locker room, "Ducky" expressed pleased surprise that Dave had turned to boxing. "I used to see Dave down here working out but I never thought he'd become a boxer," said "Ducky." "Dave started out as a good athlete already, and just got better. He hits hard and clearly defeated each of his opponents."

Dave trains at the center three nights a week, from 6:30 p.m. 'til 9. He spars with "Ducky," works out on the punching bags and does sit-ups on a slant board. He also runs three miles a day.

Dave has considered the Olympics as a goal to shoot for.

ACCEPTS BIDS

The Woods Council unanimously accepted two bids regarding the sale of public safety vehicles at its regular meeting Monday, February 23. One was for a Chrysler from Bernard Pleiman in the amount of $1,700, and the other was for a Ford from Gerard McNamara in the amount of $858. Four other vehicles up for bids received no bids and are scheduled to be re-advertised at a later date.

NHS Natators Finish at 8-2

By Sarah Bleich

The Norsemens varsity swim team finished its season with an 8-2 record. Their last dual meet was held against the Warren Conference League Champs, Warren Cousino, on Thursday, February 26. North won the meet, 114-60, while taking nine of the 11 events.

Double winners were Scott Nixon in the 50-yard freestyle and the 100-yard freestyle, and Matt Sobieski in the 200-yard freestyle and the 500-yard freestyle.

Others swimming to first place finishes were John Dimond in the 100-yard butterfly, Mark Gerganoff in the 100-yard breaststroke, plus the 400-yard freestyle relay team of Doug Rentschler, Scott Nixon, Matt Brady and Matt Sobieski.

Gordon Haigh, Mark Gerganoff, John Dimond and Doug Rentschler won the 200-yard medley relay, while setting a record in the Warren Cousino pool.

North's junior varsity team also had an outstanding victory in their final meet by defeating Notre Dame, 104-68, on Tuesday, February 24. Fine individual performances were given by Brad Dillman, Taylor Henkel, Ann Hoffman and Paul Hosea. Dave Howe, Pete Koenig, Bob Roddewig, Vince Saelen and Mark Yuhn also turned in good times.

This year North will host the Bi-County League meet. Swimmers and divers from the league will be participating in events Friday-Saturday, March 5-6.

The meet begins Friday afternoon at 1 p.m. with the diving and swimming preliminaries. The diving semifinals will be held at 5 p.m. The finals for all events will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

APPROVE BID

The Grosse Pointe City Council voted at its Tuesday, February 17, meeting to employ the Davey Tree Expert Company, at $17.40 an hour, to trim street trees on City right-of-ways. A total of 250 trees, on Lincoln road, (from Jefferson to Kercheval), Rivard boulevard, (from Kercheval to Goethe), and University place will be trimmed before April 15.

South High Cagers Clinch Second Place

By Tom Shine

It's wait until next year as South High's cagers came up short against Mount Clemens, 79-65, on Tuesday, February 24, in a game for the Eastern Michigan League, (EML), title, and then closed out their regular season by nipping Roseville, 51-50, on Friday, February 27.

The Devils' final record was 14-6, the same as a year ago. South finished second in the EML with a 10-2 mark, only one game behind Mount Clemens.

Against Mount Clemens, South played well but the Bathers were awesome as they avenged an earlier defeat by South.

The game opened with the Bathers shooting poorly except for Jeff Lee, who scored their first eight points. Grant Piche countered for South, though, as he shot well and set up teammates for easy scores.

The Devils trailed 15-14 as the first quarter ended and could have led if their foul shooting hadn't been so poor. Both teams started the second quarter shooting poorly but gradually warmed up. Mount Clemens dominated the boards and hit short range jumpers and had small leads most of the quarter.

South stayed close with some fine outside shooting but had to settle for a 32-32 halftime tie when John Wilson missed a lay up at the buzzer.

South stayed even with the Bathers for the first three minutes of the third quarter, but with the score at 40-40, Mount Clemens shifted into high gear.

The Bathers controlled every rebound, ran their fast break with precision, and rarely missed a shot. As a result, they led 53-46 as the third quarter ended.

As the fourth quarter began, Mount Clemens kept on rolling.

Their shooting was deadly and they blocked many shots on defense as well as continuing to control the boards. They quickly expanded their lead to 63-50 and South was in trouble.

As the Bather lead increased, South became rattled. They took poor shots, turned the ball over, and when a Devil full court press failed, they knew it was all over.

John Olbeter and Jim Parsons led South with 14 points each.

The Roseville contest was quite a boring affair with the high point being seniors Tim Corbett, Drew Peterson, Wilson, and Stan Andrusis playing together for the first time this year in South's last regular season game.

The game followed the same pattern for the first three quarters; South would take the lead and then sit back and allow the Wildcats to catch up.

South led 10-2 midway through the first quarter but Roseville cut it to 16-14 as the period ended.

In the second quarter, the Devils jumped ahead quickly, 27-16, but Roseville triumphed it to 30-24 at the intermission.

Once again South went ahead 37-26 as the third quarter started. Then the Wildcats put on their catch-up act and scored 17 straight points to go up 43-37 and hold a 43-39 margin as the quarter ended.

It was South's turn to play catch-up and the Devils tied the score at 44-44. The game stayed tied to 49-49 before South scored with just over one minute to go to lead 51-49.

The Wildcats still had a chance when Piche missed a breakaway lay up and Roseville narrowed the score to 51-50 with fifty seconds to play.

South lost the ball again but the Wildcats missed their last shot with 15 seconds to play.

Parsons led all scorers with 14 points while Peterson netted 12.

Pointe Girl Earns Cheers

The Bishop/Gallagher cheerleading squad and member Diane Juratovac, of 19283 Raymond road, placed first for Class "B" schools in the Michigan State Cheerleading Tournament at Pontiac Catholic High School Saturday, February 28.

12 Cases Heard In Farms Court

Judge Robert Pytell held court in The Farms Wednesday, February 18, with 12 people appearing before him.

● Kevin G. Fradenek, 1024 Nottingham, pled guilty and was fined $10 for having no front license plate. He pled not guilty and was found not guilty of a violation of restricted license.

● Dennis J. Kirtley, 23337 Allor, SCS, pled not guilty to driving with a license expired over 30 days. Trial was set for Wednesday, March 10.

● James E. White, 7648 Epworth, Detroit, pled guilty to no registration on his person. Sentence was suspended.

● Howard J. Snell, 813 Lakeland, pled not guilty and was found not guilty of possessing a mutilated license.

● Ronald L. Larking, 782 Garfield, Lincoln Park, pled not guilty to driving with a suspended license and driving while impaired. Sentencing was set for Wednesday, March 17.

● Kenneth A. Alaska, 1873 Manchester, pled guilty to careless driving and was fined $25.

● Ronald R. Gilbert, 290 McKinley, pled not guilty and was found not guilty of going through a red light.

● Charles R. Wythe, 207 N. Gratiot, Mount Clemens, pled guilty to driving with a suspended license and was fined $25. He also pled guilty to being in possession of a controlled substance and was fined $75. His case was taken under advisement for one year.

● John Robert Case, 1314 Lakepointe, pled not guilty and was found not guilty of possession of marijuana.

● Sharon Ann Constance, 14874 Young, Detroit, had a charge of frequenting where marijuana was kept, dismissed.

Centenarian

CHARLES A. BALLBACH remembers the excitement of the first time he saw the magic of an electric light bulb and the very first airplane that took off from the Detroit area at the State Fair Grounds. Today, March 4, will be a day to remember as well, as Mr. Ballbach's family and friends gather to wish him a happy 100th birthday.

The family includes Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rooney, of Virginia lane, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ziel, of Harper Woods, Wilbur of Alpine, Calif., and Norman Ballbach, of Hampton road. Besides that there are seven grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren and one great, great-grandchild.

Charlie, (that's the name he prefers), has been living with his daughter Helen and son-in-law Clyde Rooney, in Virginia lane, for 22 years now. He'll be the first to tell you that their love and devotion have made those years a pleasant experience.

When asked about his longevity, Charlie explains the secret as "every thing in moderation . . . including an occasional cigar."

He likes to reminisce about his youth—the near perfect bowling game, (289), the round-trip bicycle ride between Detroit and Chicago and the time he was captain of a three-year champion YMCA basketball team.

Charlie was born in Chicago, in 1876, one of eight children. His family came to Detroit while he was in his teens and lived on Beaufait street, with horses, cows and a barn in the back yard. He married a native Detroit, Nellie Brown in 1900. She died 10 years ago at age 87.

Campers Make Disposal Plea

A proposal for sanitary disposal of refuse for recreational vehicles was unanimously referred to the Citizens' Recreation Commission for further study by The Woods Council at its rescheduled meeting Monday, February 23.

In a letter to the council, the Pointe Campers are requesting a four-inch opening in any sanitary sewer manhole where residents can empty holding tanks on their travel trailers and motor homes. The Pointe area now lacks any such facilities.

The commission will report back to the council after consideration of the proposal.

St. Clare Cage Teams Active

By Tom Wilson

Saint Clare's seventh grade basketball team, playing in the city C.Y.O. (Catholic Youth Organization) playoffs beat Saint Louis The King on Saturday, February 28, but lost to Saint David's 41-30 on the 29th at Servite High School.

They will play next in a post-season tournament at Saint Jude.

In a post-season tournament held at Saint Clare the girls squad took first place by defeating Saint Brendan's 32-13 and Saint Jude 33-32 in overtime on Wednesday, February 25, and Friday, the 27th.

The Falcons eighth grade defeated Saint Raymond's 45-35 on the 26th but lost to Guardian Angels on the 27th to take the runner-up trophy in their post-season tournament held at Saint Clare.

Chris Ellis led the scoring in both games with 28 and 20 points. Saint Clare's sixth grade team defeated Saint Assumption Grotto 34-13 on February 28 in a post-season tournament at Saint Jude.

Terry Mulligan had 12 points and Tom Kiskall nine.

Saint Jude defeated Saint Clare 31-26 on the 29th. The Falcons will play in a consolation game for third place Monday, March 1, at Saint Jude.

The winter sports banquet for all the teams and cheerleaders will be Saturday, March 28, at 4 p.m. in the church basement.

APPROVE FLOOR TILE

The Woods Council unanimously approved a request from the Parks and Recreation Department for floor tile for the Lake Front Park bathroom's first aid room in the amount of $100.00, plus fixtures for the bathroom in the amount of $430.65. This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, February 23, with the monies coming from the Recreation Construction Fund.

Moving up in the world often means moving out of town.

Make both moves easier.

Congratulations on the promotion. We know you're itching to get started. But first, you must move your family into an unfamiliar city. And you're worried that trying to locate a new home will interfere with your new job.

We can help. We're a member of Inter-Community Relocation, Inc., a national relocation organization of Realtors. And we offer a hassle-free way of finding a new place to live in a new area.

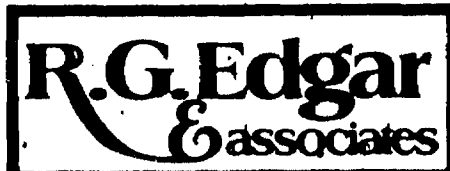

As soon as we know the type of home, neighborhood and price range you have in mind, we contact a representative of the ICR member company in your new city. The representative then phones you to make sure the information he received is correct. When you arrive, he'll have a special list of homes ready to show. He'll even pick you up at the airport and make your hotel arrangements.

We'll also send you, at no obligation, a relocation kit of your new area: road, city and suburb maps, hotel and transportation information, entertainment and sports happenings, points of interest. Our number is below.

Let us worry about your new home. So you can worry about your new responsibilities.

NHS Names 10 Merit Finalists

Ten Grosse Pointe North High School seniors have been named finalists in the 1976 Merit Scholarship Competition sponsored by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Principal G. Bruce Feighner announced that the following North students will receive Certificates of Merit: David Bastianelli, Randall K. Cook, James M. Font, Philip B. Howells, Amy Lowichik, Kathryn A. McEnroe, Joseph R. Parise, Gerald J. Prokopowicz, Mair E. Roberts and James F. Wishart.

All of the North students who were named Semifinalists by NMSC last fall have advanced to Finalists and are being considered for Merit Scholarships, according to Mr. Feighner.

More than 14,000 Finalists are being considered for the 1,000 National Merit $1,000 Scholarships and some 2,800 four-year Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1976.

Announcements of Merit Scholars will be made in April by NMSC.

The 10 National Merit Finalists is the largest number at Grosse Pointe North High School since the 1970-71 school year when a record number of 11 were named.

(The International Conference on Large High Tension Electric Systems).

Woods Renews Movie License

Plitt Michigan Theaters Corp. request for a license renewal to operate Woods Theater 1 and II was unanimously approved by The Woods Council at its scheduled regular meeting, Monday, February 23.

Director of Public Safety Henry Marchand said in a letter to City Administrator Chester E. Petersen that the theaters were inspected and found to be in satisfactory condition relative to the provisions of Section 34.3 and 34.7 of Ordinance No. 55 which allows the council to approve theater licenses provided the annual license fee is paid. A $1,000 surety bond also was filed and the theater has been inspected by the fire department.

Plitt Theaters Corp. has complied with the above provisions as a surety bond in the amount of $1,000 was received and approved by City Attorney George Catlin, and a license fee of $100 also was paid.

Fib Multiplies Driver's Plight

Alexander Joerg Lehnert of 167 Country Club drive, sped through a radar beam at a 53-mile an hour clip on Friday, February 27, and was arrested by a Shores public safety officer.

PSO Ronald Klotz, in an official report, disclosed that he was on radar watch on Lakeshore road, at about 6:10 p.m., when he caught Lehnert on his scout car radar traveling 53 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. The officer stopped the motorist in front of 627 Lakeshore.

As Officer Klotz approached Lehnert's auto, Lehnert volunteered the information that he did not have his operator's license on his person. He also stated that he was having trouble with his vehicle and that was the reason for his excessive speed.

Lehnert then told PSO Klotz that his operator's license had expired, but the unbelieveing public safety officer radioed his station for a check on the man over the Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN) machine. The return answer from Lansing disclosed that Lehnert was wanted on two traffic warrants, one from the Ionia Michigan State Police Post, and one from The Farms.

In addition, the information disclosed that Lehnert was driving while his license was suspended. He was ordered to follow Officer Klotz to the Shores station, where he was issued a violation ticket for speeding, and a second for driving while his license was suspended.

Lehnert was required to post a bond of $150 pending a hearing in Shores municipal court on March 24, on the two charges.

He was detained until the required bond was brought to the station, plus an additional $40 on the State Police warrant, and $30 on the Farms warrant, before he was released.

Sermon Title: "THE TWENTY-THIRD PSALM"
The Lord is my shepherd:
I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul:
He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
For Thou art with me;
Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
Thou anointest my head with oil;
my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life;
and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

This is our Lenten creed for living joyfully confidently
thankfully.

Pointer of Interest

JANE BEEBE, OF MUIR ROAD

By Janet Mueller

"Well, why not?" Jane Beebe decided, and off she went to the Post Office, the envelope containing her square of blue material making a rather lumpy letter, and "How much," asked Jane, "to mail this to the White House?"

She laughs. "The Post Office looked at me as if I was nuts."

But the material, and Jane's covering note explaining her Bicentennial Quilt project, and asking President Ford if he would mind signing his name in the center of the blue patch so Jane could embroider over it, went out.

And — lo and behold! — it came back, from the White House, signed by the President, as per request.

Mr. Ford is, after all, Michigan's Most Distinguished Citizen.

Gift To Museum

The Quilt, each patch depicting a person, place, thing or event peculiar to Michigan, will be a Bicentennial gift to the Detroit Historical Museum. Its five by seven feet will be composed of the 34 best 12 by 12-inch patches submitted by Jane's Fisher Wallpaper and Paint Quilting Classes' students, and by walk-ins, for any interested person may submit a patch. Or two. Or three.

They'll be judged in May, (not by Jane: "I'd know my own students' work, so that wouldn't be fair"), and assembled by their makers at a Quilting Bee in June. Jane will direct the Bee, however, and her "Gerald Ford" patch will DEFINITELY be part of the finished pattern.

A year ago, she thought that, by this time this year, she'd be a "regular" teacher. She was about to receive her degree in Special Education from Michigan State University.

Brussels Was Base

Through MSU, she was student teaching in Europe, living in Brussels and traveling all over on weekends. "We'd leave Friday night, spend all night on the train and be in Munich in the morning."

She managed to get in a few solid weeks of touring before it was time to come home, get graduated and get to work. The latter proved easier said than done. There are more school teachers than jobs in the Detroit area, Jane learned, and her brand new degree in Special Ed. was no guarantee of a permanent position.

In March, she'd had a call from Fisher's, asking if she'd be interested in taking on some quilting and craft classes. "Just for the summer," she said.

That "summer" has stretched into this spring.

She Likes Her Work

"I like it," she says of her teaching schedule, which has her out mornings, afternoons and evenings throughout the week. She'd still like to get into "regular" teaching, but even if a permanent school job did come up, she'd like to keep up a few quilting classes.

Jane Beebe can — and will — quilt anything in sight. "I've made skirts. I love to do pillows." She teaches 15 different quilting techniques, "every one known to man so far," and if another technique is invented, she'll be first in line to learn it, and, having learned, teach it.

She learned at the age of four, at her grandmother's knee. Isabelle Beebe would pin a few pieces of cloth together, then hand them to the little girl.

"Sew right on the line, Janie."

"Okay, grandmother." And in and out, in and out went Janie's needle.

One of those quilts, started way back when, will be on display this week, Wednesday through Friday, March 3 to 5, at the Colonial Dames Needlework show at the War Memorial. It's a Dresden Plate pattern, that Jane began, with grandmother's help, when she was just four years old.

It Runs in Family

Of course: the ability to do arts and crafts DOES run in the family. Isabelle Beebe, 67 now, still works full time as an interior decorator. "She met me in Europe," Jane recalls, "and we went touring together. And not only did she keep up with me — she passed me! And we walked . . . and we walked . . . and we walked . . ."

Jane's mother, Betty, is a nationally-known decouper, moving slowly because (a) she wants to make sure whatever she gets for it is RIGHT; (b) she's a bit busy right now. Still, she's found time to hang a calico-circled mirror, (her own work), on the bedroom wall. The mirror matches the pillows she made for her bed, which is covered with a Jane Beebe Original quilt. The bedroom wastebasket and kleenex box were decouped by Jane and the paper toile pictures were done by her, too.

Has Favorite Doll

Her favorite doll, the exquisite, hoop-skirted lady she fashioned entirely by cloth, usually sits on her bed, propped against the pillows. Except when Jane is using it to illustrate one of her lectures.

She's spoken at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, and for the Detroit Metropolitan Stitchery Guild, (they made her an honorary member: she explained her working schedule was such that she couldn't make Guild meetings, but they said it didn't matter).

She recently gave a talk at the Warren Public Library. "They were having a thing on Colonial Crafts. I showed them some patterns that are really, truly American in origin, and some that originated in Europe."

Anyone Can Learn

Jane maintains that anybody can learn to quilt. "Women come into my class saying they never held a needle in their hand before. 'Well,' I say, 'you're going to now.'"

She teaches all ages. The youngest pupil she ever had was 10. She's instructed many grandmothers. "When with her horses . . . and here is John Beebe, bringing home trophies for go-cart and motorcycle racing, for sports . . . and here are Jane and Jerry Beebe, staring at one another . . .

"I had to show them," Jane admits. (Jerry is yet to be heard from, but will no doubt become famous for designing a non-polluting, highly-economic SST in the near future.)

Jane is most successfully busy, doing her own thing. She recently made "the big split," having lived in Notre Dame avenue all her life, or as near all her life as counts. She was born in Indianapolis, but her parents moved to The Pointe when she was three, and Jane's very much a local product. "I went through Mair, Pierce, South High: the whole bit."

Her Own Apartment

Now she has her own apartment — "Whoopie! I'm more than six blocks away from home!" — and she's spreading her wings and spreading her stuff.

She's turned her front room into a workshop, piled with bolts of material, reference books, projects-in-progress, dolls, sewing materials, gluepots, paints: all the paraphernalia of a working craftsperson.

A few Jane Beebe canvases are propped against one wall. Jane relaxes Wednesday mornings via painting lessons with Marge Pankhurst. "It's great therapy," she maintains, at the same time discounting any great talent. "I paint, and Marge fixes it."

Jane is in the process of decorating her apartment, moving slowly because (a) she wants to make sure whatever she gets for it is RIGHT; (b) she's a bit busy right now. Still, she's found time to hang a calico-circled mirror, (her own work), on the bedroom wall. The mirror matches the pillows she made for her bed, which is covered with a Jane Beebe Original quilt. The bedroom wastebasket and kleenex box were decouped by Jane and the paper toile pictures were done by her, too.

I student-taught at Mason, (as an MSU undergraduate, working toward her Special Ed. degree), I had the kids doing crazy-quilt purses."

She does allow that "it takes a year before you can really call yourself a quilter." Her own pillows, purses and skirts feature 13 stitches per inch. Her students, when they first start, average seven.

She wouldn't be surprised at an upsurge of interest in quilting in this Bicentennial Year. She's delighted with the response the Bicentennial Quilt Patch Contest has already elicited.

"One completed patch features a Winter Water Wonderland theme. The top half is a hill, with a skier coming down. The bottom half features a sailboat."

Another patch takes the Big Three Auto Makers as its motif. One woman is applying Fort Detroit on her patch. Another is embroidering rivers on a cut-out of Michigan.

And Jane, flush with her success with President Ford, is contemplating a rather lumpy letter to Governor Milliken. She has some other ideas, too: "I'd love to apply a baseball, and send it to the Tigers to be signed . . . and a football, and send it to the Lions . . . Well, why not?"

The Too Successful Fund-Raiser

The ladies of the Saint Augustine Circle of the Rosary Altar Society, Our Lady Star of the Sea Parish, knew they had a good idea . . . they apparently just didn't know HOW good it was.

For years at their regular circle meetings they had been trading their most treasured family recipes back and forth. So, when this year's fund-raising activity became inevitable, someone suggested that they put all those old favorites together and sell them.

So off to the printers went more than 500 of the recipes, for everything from party fare, soups and salads, breads and rolls, main dishes, etc., and back from the printers came "Saint Augustine Circle Presents—A Patchwork of Favorite Recipes." "Each recipe had the submitter's name at the bottom of the page, so we knew we were just getting the best," according to guild member Mrs. Charles Moore.

Apparently the word on that got around. The books came back from the printers on February 19, and before the ladies could even get any publicity out on them they were sold out. It took less than one week to deplete their supply of more than 800 books.

It's obvious the guild has a real winner, but they've decided to hold back on reordering the book and will not re-issue "Patchwork" until next fall, according to Mrs. Moore.

"We'll just keep them hungry for it."

A papal blessing was bestowed on MR. and MRS. PHILLIP MOURAD and their family, of Three Mile drive, on the occasion of their wedding anniversary January 28. PETER C. GRAMBO, son of MR. and MRS. ROBERT GRAMBO, of Edgemere road, has been named to the winter semester Dean's list in the college of business at Western Michigan University.

Named to the fall quarter dean's list at Michigan Technological University were ROBERT G. KACHMAN, son of MR. and MRS. NICKOLAS C. KACHMAN of Macmillan road; CHRISTOPHER H. WILSON, son of MR. and MRS. GEORGE J. WILSON, of Lothrop road; GREGORY M. EDWARDS, son of MR. and MRS. DONALD EDWARDS of Moorland road; EDWARD O. REINBOLD, son of MR. and MRS. ERIC E. REINBOLD of Rosedale court, and STEVEN E. SCHUBERT, son of MR. and MRS. FRANK W. SCHUBERT, of Anita road.

Named to the Walsh College of Accountancy and Business Administration President's Honor List for the fall semester is EDWIN KRIEGHOFF, III, of Roosevelt place.

Named to the Hope College Fall Term Dean's List is STEPHEN ELIASON, son of the PAUL G. ELIASONS, of Balfour road.

MONICA A. MULLINS has been named to the most recent Dean's List at Lake Superior State College, where she is a senior in the School of Arts and Social Sciences. Named to the Villanova University Fall Semester Dean's List are GEORGE F. DIEHL, of Buckingham road, ALBERT J. HILLEBRAND, of McKinley avenue, EDWARD F. LUNDY, of Ballyne road, and JOHN P. PULEO, of Littlestone road.

Rites

velvet jumpers printed with multi-colored flowers were the bride's cousin, Pamela Dujardin as maid of honor, and Suzanne Osetek, Martha Wyatt and Maxine Yeller as bridesmaids. They wore holly in their hair and carried bouquets of red carnations, pine cones, holly and red ribbons.

Serving as best man for his brother was Peter Osetek, assisted by Paul Osetek, James Robinette and Jack Gurney.

Mrs. Grenzke chose a pale aqua floor-length gown, accented at the neckline and empire waist by silver beading. Gardenias were pinned to her purse.

The bridegroom's mother wore a floor-length emerald green gown and pinned gardenias to her purse as well.

Out of town guests included the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Osetek from Chicago; his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Osetek, also from Chicago; another aunt, Mr. Jean Renaud, from Cincinnati; and the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson, of Traverse City.

The couple plans to make their home in Okemos, Mich., after a wedding trip to the Oaks Lodge in Lewiston.
