Drumming Up Support for Millage

ending at Saint Paul School. In the north end, band members and students from all grades will march up Vernier road to Parcels School beginning at 1 p.m. Both groups will meet at Parcels for a 1:45 p.m. rally which will feature entertainment by school bands and "Detroit News" columnist Charlie Manos and refreshments.

STATE LABOR DIRECTOR KEITH MOLIN said Wednesday that he will seek criminal charges against Detroit Edison Co. and a Toledo contracting firm in the case of four men who plunged to their deaths inside an Edison smokestack May 5. Molin charged that Edison ignored advance warning and safety violations that sent the four repairmen to their deaths in the smokestack at a giant Monroe generating plant. Charges against Edison and the Toledo firm would be in addition to $10,000 in civil fines, the maximum permitted under Michigan's Occupational Safety and Health Act, which the State is assessing both companies.

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES said Thursday that Michigan will not be given control or veto power over the possible location in the State of a burial site for highly radioactive wastes from the nation's nuclear power plants. The Federal policy statement appeared to be a total rejection of Gov. William Milliken's recent demand that the State government be given "virtual veto power" over the placement of a nuclear dumping ground in Michigan.

THREE AMERICANS WHO visited the North Vietnamese Embassy Friday said they were given the strong impression that Hanoi still holds some U.S. prisoners of war. The North Vietnamese used the occasion of the visit to reaffirm that they will not disclose details about Americans missing in nearly two decades of Indochina warfare until Washington resumes discussions on helping repair war damages. The stillborn Vietnam cease-fire agreement of January 1973 provided both for tracing missing Americans and for American aid in helping rebuild Vietnam. But the cease-fire collapsed within a few months and so did the agreement.

THE TETON DAM BURST open Saturday near Newdale, Idaho, sending a 15-foot high wave of water downstream, flooding several communities and forcing the evacuation of 30,000 residents. Pilots flying over the stricken area said the towns of Teton and Sugar City were under water. A 10-foot wall of water moved toward Idaho Falls, and authorities evacuated the downtown area of the city of 40,000 within two blocks of the river. There were no immediate reports of deaths or injuries.

AMERICAN OIL MAGNATE J. Paul Getty, who recently estimated his family assets at between $10 and $20 billion, left a will bequeathing the bulk of his $1 billion personal fortune to charity. Getty, 83, died at one minute after midnight Sunday at Sutton Place, his 1,000-acre estate at Guildford, outside London. A spokesman said Getty succumbed to a heart attack after a gradual decline in health. Getty's longtime personal assistant, Noel Bramblett, said the body would be taken to California for burial.

SYRIAN FORCES launched a drive on Beirut Monday, hurling jets, tanks and artillery against Lebanese leftists and Palestinian guerrillas who had blocked their way for six days. A Radio Damascus broadcast Monday night said a new cease-fire had been agreed upon. There was no immediate indication that the Syrian advance had halted. The dramatic Syrian bid to end Lebanon's 14-month civil war seemed certain to radically alter Mideast alignments.

Grosse Pointe War Memorial's 1976 Annual Family Participation Campaign has reached its goal of $135,000 with the assistance of the Farewell Supper and Tour Benefit at Rose Terrace last week.

To date, $130,324.11 has been received from 6,050 contributors as compared to last year when receipts at this time were $128,029 from 6,088 donors. It is expected that many more contributors have yet to be heard from since last year more than $7,000 came in after Memorial Day.

Gifts to the Center are welcome and needed any time of the year.

Many Thanked
William D. Dahling, president of Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, and Edward J. Hickey III, this year's campaign chairman, both wish on behalf of the Board and Center to thank all Grosse Pointers who have given their support to the Memorial this year by becoming participating members.

They also wish to thank the many volunteers who

Last Minute Appeal Fails To Spare Rose Terrace

By Tom Greenwood

An eleventh hour injunction attempt to halt the auction and subsequent demolition of Rose Terrace backfired on a group of Farms residents Friday, June 4, when Wayne County Circuit Judge James Montante ruled against the injunction on the basis that the appeal was late.

Judge Montante ruled that the plaintiffs in the case had a sufficient period of time to file their appeal before the eve of the auction. The plea for an injunction was filed Thursday, June 3. The auction was scheduled to begin Saturday, June 5.

The plea for appeal was filed by attorney Carl M. Weideman Jr. on behalf of Rosemary Elias, George and

Pranks at High School Culminate in Mammoth Disturbance at South

Small Minority of Estimated 500 Persons at Scene
Labeled As Troublemakers; One Police Officer Hurt after Getting
Splattered with Bleach

By Roger A. Waha

The incident where an estimated total of 500 young people gathered en masse on South High School's front lawn, with many entering the street early Tuesday afternoon, June 1, has caused obvious concern among school administrators, law enforcement officials, residents and many students themselves.

During the disturbance, which was basically attributed to end of school year pranks, and more specifically, to "power shows," a minority of youths, (estimated at between 40-50), threw water balloons, cans, bottles and eggs at police, while hundreds of others gathered to watch the proceedings.

Actually the height of the trouble occurred between the hours of 12:20-12:55 p.m., although momentum apparently built up throughout the morning.

Officer Hurt

Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber said 15 traffic violations were issued, (with one motorist driving through a police barricade, almost injuring an officer), one girl was cited for throwing a water balloon and a warrant is being sought in the incident which resulted in an injury to Park Patrolman Ralph Moore.

He was hurt when someone threw a container of bleach which apparently hit his

DSO Slated To Open Music Fest

Entire Symphony Will Be Heard June 20 in
First of Four Concerts Scheduled
By War Memorial

The terrace of the War Memorial on Lake St. Clair will be the site of a concert to be given by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra on Sunday, June 20, at 7 p.m. This is the opening concert of the Grosse Pointe Music Festival '76.

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, directed by Paul Freeman, associate conductor, will perform a concert, given in several locations of the Detroit area as Bicentennial gift to the city.

In the Grosse Pointe concert, works by American composers will include the popular "American in Paris" by George Gershwin and "Concerto for orchestra and trombone" by Paul Creston, plus the "Fifth Symphony" by Tchaikovsky.

Plan Picnic Suppers

The terrace will be the setting for pre-concert picnic suppers for ticket holders. This event is designed to provide a beautiful summer evening for families and friends of the community—a rich evening of music and leisurely dining.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale at the War Memorial, as well as the series. Three concerts will succeed the Detroit Symphony, consisting of An Evening of Opera Highlights performed by Metropolitan Opera Company's leading tenor, Leo Goeke, and Margery Ryan, on June 28, a concert of the Bach Brandenburg Concerti with principal soloists from the D.S.O., Yale University and New York on July 14 and a piano recital by the internationally renowned Claude Frank on July 21.

NAMED AD DIRECTOR

The J. L. Hudson Co. has announced the appointment of Susan V. Sprunk, of The Woods, as advertising director. She has held a number of positions in the company since she joined Hudson's in 1965, most recently as director of sales promotion.

It's 'Yes' or Disaster

"School's Future Cloudy," "Board Announces Layoffs" and "Board Considers Cutbacks" were three of several banner headlines which appeared in the NEWS in relation to the schools after the defeat of the March 29 millage propositions.

The NEWS, which hopes no headline similar in theme will result from the Monday, June 14, election, strongly urges a favorable vote on all four millage propositions for the sake of the district's 11,145 pupils and the community at large.

Voters will consider the following propositions on election day: Proposition One renews the expired public school operating millage rates, (24.35 mills), for four years; Proposition Two increases the millage rate by 2.2 mills for one year; Proposition Three renews the expired public library operating millage, (1.31 mills), for four years; and Proposition Four increases the millage rate by .11 of a mill for one year.

A "yes" vote on all four propositions is necessary to continue in 1976-77, the current program of staff and services offered by the schools and libraries. The passage of only Propositions One and Three would mean a big cut in program renewals on both the school and library front.

Pointers who have read the NEWS' millage-related stories during the past two months are aware of the planned curtailments in the overall program if the propositions fail to pass.

Program cuts on the elementary school level for 1976-77 will include no specialized art instruction, no skills/talent program, no librarians and a hike of more than 10 percent in class size.

On the middle school level, two elective choices for each student in the seventh and eighth grades will be eliminated, along with a reduction in student counseling service and the students' day, e.g., forcing them to leave school one hour earlier, at 2:15 p.m.

Program curtailments on the high school level include a five-course limitation for students in grades 10, 11 and 12, rather than six, thus reducing the school day by one hour. Reductions also will be effected in administration, library service, counseling services and advanced courses.

Other areas affected include the elimination of the four-year testing program, the developmental pre-school program and the developmental pre-school speech and language program, plus the elimination of custodial and maintenance positions which will result in less cleaning, site maintenance and general custodial help for all facilities.

Funeral Home Shrubs Burned

A fire in the A. H. Peters Funeral Home parking lot, 20705 Mack avenue, destroyed 14 shrubs on Saturday evening, June 5. The blaze, according to Woods authorities, was started by an 11-year-old boy playing with matches.

A patrolling Lt. Peter Thomas spotted flames in the southwest corner of the lot and called for additional assistance. The fire continued to increase in intensity and extended to the shrubs both north and east from its point of origin.

Small fluffy seed pods from poplar trees were burning along the ground ahead of the blaze, which was approaching a home at 1972 Vernier road. Additional units arrived and extinguished the flames but not before around 50 feet of shrubs were burned, he said.

One of two boys found at the scene said he had picked up a match book containing one match, lit it and placed it on a parking block in the corner of the lot.

He then kicked it in an attempt to put it out but, in doing so, knocked it under the bushes where it ignited the seed carriers and extended up into the shrubs. The lad admitted he was at

Named to Post At Bon Secours

Lawrence O. Leaman, recently appointed administrator of Bon Secours Hospital, by Barry M. Spero, executive director, will be responsible for internal affairs.

Mr. Leaman holds a Masters degree in hospital administration from the University of Minnesota and a Masters in business administration from Ohio University.

He was an assistant administrator at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, for five years before coming to Bon Secours.

"Mr. Leaman is an experienced and accomplished administrator, whose past record speaks loudly for his leadership skills," said Mr. Spero. "He is well prepared to help guide Bon Secours through this next phase of growth and expansion."

Vandalism Takes Big Toll Of Cars on Dealer's Lot

Vandalism can mean rebellion against authority or those committing vandalism are nothing but cowards, according to the police.

A group of these cowards caused several thousands of dollars in damage to 24 used and 32 brand new automobiles on the McDonald East car agency's west lot, Mack avenue and Grayton, over the Memorial Day weekend, May 30-31, according to William Kalkhoff, general manager of the Ford dealership. The agency is owned by James McDonald.

Mr. Kalkhoff said the vandals made large scratches on the cars' body paint, either with sharp nails or some form of sharp instrument, for no apparent reason.

Voters to View Four Proposals

It's Crucial Day for Many Financially Stricken
Districts; Two Board
Positions Also Will Be Filled

By Susan McDonald

Pointers will join residents of a dozen Wayne County school districts at the polls on Monday, June 14, to vote on additional millage proposals that could ease the financial plight of their schools.

It will be a crucial day for many of the financially stricken districts, including The Pointe, where school and library doors would remain closed next September if all four propositions should fail.

The State-wide financial plight has burdened all schools. Adding to their problems this year were losses through the new single business tax law, increased liability for workmen's and unemployment compensation and cuts in State school aid.

Turns to Citizens

Gov. William Milliken's fall budget cuts sliced $430,000 from Pointe school revenues. Another $250,000 was lost because of a reduction in taxable inventory due to the single business tax. The Board also is planning to budget about $100,000 for unemployment compensation in the 1976-77 budget—a 10-fold increase over the current budget year.

As a result, The Pointe Board of Education has been forced to turn to its residents to supply increased funding with proposals of 2.2 school and .11 library millage tax increases.

In case the additional propositions fail, the school administration has warned that 158 staffers will be dismissed, school days will be reduced one hour for secondary school students, (excluding ninth graders), and many courses, sports and clubs will be eliminated. Library hours and stock also will be reduced as well, school administrators say.

Blows to Morale

"If the millage does not pass, my opinion is that the educational programs will be severely curtailed in many ways. The staff in Grosse Pointe has suffered severe blows to their morale with the cutbacks—and there is no doubt that they are not as enthused about the educational programs because of these experiences," he said.

Caught in the most recent round of layoffs, announced on April 12, were teachers with as much as 19 years with The Pointe schools. Some teachers, hired within the last decade, have been laid off every spring for the last five years, teacher union officials point out.

Despite Pointers' last rejection of a millage increase, on March 29, many in the administration feel that the proposals have a good chance of passing on Monday.

One of the leading complaints during the last election—that the combination of additional and renewal proposals denied voters a choice—has been remedied by splitting the proposals into four ballot questions.

Plan Parade

Grass-roots groups such as Kerby Elementary School's "Father Power" organization have campaigned heavily for the vote. The 25 Kerby dads, lead by Dick Campbell, have collected over $600 from friends and neighbors for advertisements promoting a "yes" vote on Monday.

Students also have jumped into the act with probably the most sensational promotion of all—a millage parade.

Despite final exams and end-of-year festivities, North High Junior Tom Rousseau and South Junior Chad Minkwic have spent hours organ-

Beginning at 1 p.m. North marchers will drum-up support along Vernier road, starting at North High and ending at Parcels Middle school.

Other Side

Both groups will meet for a rally at Parcels at 1:45 p.m. Bands will provide entertainment, Kerby principal Richard Kay and "Detroit News" columnist Charlie Manos will speak for the rally. Refreshments will be served, courtesy of Grosse Pointe Farms Burger Chef.

"It shows that the kids really do care about their schools," said Mrs. Sterling Berry, co-chairman of the citizens millage campaign.

"They have done all the work themselves because they were so upset about the last vote."

A Board-sponsored public forum on Monday, June 3, showed another side of the Grosse Pointe electorate, though. About 50 people attended the meeting at Parcels, and many of them were not in favor of increased millage.

Leading off the public discussion was an elderly man from the Poupard precinct of the school district — an area that voted the last millage down by almost a two to one margin.

Calling the proposed tax increase "morally wrong" he explained that it would put an extra burden on fixed-income taxpayers.

In response, Board president Joan Hanpeter pointed out that under the State Homestead Tax law, many persons with a low or fixed income can receive a refund of all or part of the proposed millage increase. To qualify, a taxpayer's city and county property tax bill must add up to more than 3.5 percent of his income. The State would then refund 60 percent of the difference.

Still Nix Millage

Mrs. Hanpeter also made note of the fact that although The Pointe district has spent thousands of dollars in Wayne County and State Board of Education battles to keep the Poupard district part of The Pointe Public Schools, (it is within Harper Woods City Limits), the precinct continues to vote millages down.

Although many of the 1,119 Poupard students' parents have strongly supported the Board's efforts to keep them within the system, Mrs. Hanpeter said she wonders if maybe the majority of the voters would rather go with the Harper Woods district because of their lower taxes.

Another citizen, William A. Koontz, of Mount Vernon road, asked the Board to clarify, in educational terms rather than financial, the benefit of increased school funding. Specifically, he asked the Board to publicize the district SAT test scores. Dr. Adams responded that although language arts scores have declined slightly through the past few years, math scores have remained constant. He also pointed out that about 30 percent more students are taking the tests than five years ago.

Candidates for two Board positions also will be considered by voters. They include incumbent Mrs. Hanpeter, John Schonenberg, Aphrodite Roumell, William Fleming, Michael Echlin, John Kirkpatrick, Susan Hopkins and Paul McCarthy.

Rose Terrace Appeal

(Continued from Page 1) The suit also charges two other violations against the defendants: that the $90,000 demolition bond was insignificant to insure professional dismantling of the mansion, and that no adequate steps were taken by the owners of the property, or by The Farms, to attempt to save Rose Terrace as a national historic site.

The plaintiffs further state that they are willing and desire to raise sufficient funds from public or private sources to adequately compensate the owners for the fair market value of the site. "The ruling was unfair and unjust to the whole community," said Mrs. Elias. "This is a national historical monument and its demolition is a loss to us, and our children. You just don't destroy your history."

Another plaintiff, Mr. Knealy, said, "We feel it was all done improperly, (the auction). Rose Terrace is a definite contribution to the community. It will be a detriment to the community to have those 26 homes built there once the mansion is gone."

Defendant Frank Boos, of the auctioneering firm of Stalker and Boos, had "no comment" when asked for an opinion on the injunction plea. Paul Townsend, attorney for Superior Lake Enterprises, was not available for comment. Andrew Bremer, city manager for The Farms, had "no comment," other than the fact that "they exercised their legal rights as citizens."

According to Mr. Knealy, the plaintiffs have not given up the fight to save the elegant home at 12 Lakeshore road. "We are waiting for our legal counsel, Mr. Weideman, to return from California, he said. "Then we hope to continue our efforts to save Rose Terrace."

The auction was scheduled to end Wednesday, June 9. Part of the auction calls for the selling off of the construction materials of the mansion itself, including paneling, floor tiles, glass, draperies, chandeliers, doors and plumbing.

Then, after it is completely stripped of everything saleable, the former home of Anna Thomson Dodge is scheduled for demolition sometime this summer.

Senior Group Two Years Old

Woods senior citizens will be celebrating their second anniversary at a party Thursday, June 17, at North High School beginning at 3:30 p.m.

Irene Sutton, chairman of the Senior Citizens Commission, urges all seniors in The Woods to attend the event, which will feature fun, games and the making of plans for fall classes via Wayne County Community College. All those attending should bring a sandwich.

Mrs. Sutton said the response to earlier classes has been fine with 20 enrolled in bowling, 47 in legal affairs for later life, 20 in beginner's golf and 20 in physical fitness.

Takes Big Toll

(Continued from Page 1) panels/doors scratches, and the cars bearing scratches all around, will have to be sanded down and completely repainted so that the new paint will blend with the colors, rather than show that they have been spot painted."

Mr. Kalkhoff said about two weeks prior to the Memorial Day weekend, 20 other vehicles on another company lot, located east of Cadieux, were similarly damaged, and it cost about $2,000 for repainting jobs, (about $100 for each car).

The Ford dealership is located on the Detroit side of Mack avenue, opposite The Park and has many customers from The Pointe.

Goal Reached

(Continued from Page 1) assisted the staff in recording gifts and sending acknowledgements and letters of thanks. They are very grateful to The Farms government, police and Stalker and Boos Inc. for making the Rose Terrace Benefit possible.

Jaycees Have Big Jelly Sale

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees have sound words of praise for the community's response to this year's Jelly Sale as the local chapter finished in second place, (out of some 200 chapters), in the State in total jars sold.

"We of the Jaycees, as well as the Foundation for Exceptional Children, would like to thank Grosse Pointe for its support in helping us raise over $3,000 for the Foundation," said project chairman Craig Hollidge.

"In a community of our size, for people to purchase 6,000 jars of jelly, that's something to be recognized," he stated.

"We have to thank the Foundation and its chairman, Mrs. Sally Spain. The Foundation alone has to be recognized for its own individual sales of 4,200 jars.

"Thanks also has to be given to Mrs. Terry Dorn and the Jaycee Auxiliary members, who tirelessly manned selling points in the area," said Mr. Hollidge.

"Everyone can give a lot of effort on a sale such as this, but without the help of your community, the success will be small," he added.

Park Police Arrest Suspect In Holdup of Party Store

A bandit who robbed Lou's Party Store, 15201 Charlevoix, on Wednesday, June 2, displayed a gun when he demanded money from a woman employee, according to information released by Park Police Chief Henry Coonce.

The gunman was captured several minutes later, but the weapon was not found on his person, or during a police search of the surrounding area.

Accused of the holdup is Peter Reberry, 23, of 1753 Hampton road in The Woods. (There is a Hampton road in The Park only a short distance from the scene of the robbery).

It was disclosed that Reberry entered the party store at 10:12 p.m. and pulled out what appeared to be a German Luger pistol. He demanded that the woman clerk hand him all the $20 bills in the cash register. The employee handed him two $20's just as the store owner Lou Siriani, entered his place.

Reberry demanded more such bills and was informed that was all that was in the register. The robber grabbed the money and fled out the front door.

Mr. Siriani grabbed an automatic pistol and followed the holdup man firing a shot at the fleeing suspect which missed by inches. In the meantime, the employee called police and all units responded to the scene.

Police combed the area and found Reberry hiding between two garages in the rear yard of the 1400 block of Lakepointe, near the alley between Lakepointe and Beaconsfield. A search of the suspect failed to produce a weapon. Police combed the route of Reberry's escape, but failed to find the gun.

The gunman was arraigned Thursday, June 3, for a preliminary hearing before Park Municipal Judge John Urso, who fixed bond at $10,000 and set yesterday, June 9, as date of examination. The accused man was unable to post the bond and was ordered detained in The Park's local cell.

Chief Coonce said that holds have been placed on Reberry by other law enforcement agencies, including Detroit, for investigation and questioning of alleged crimes committed in their communities.

Code on Weeds To Be Enforced

Grosse Pointe City Police have been directed to carefully enforce the city's code on noxious weeds, including doddars, Canadian thistle, mustards and bend weed.

These plants, when grown to six inches or more, are considered by the council to be public nuisances and must be cut.

A violation falls under the City's public nuisance clause and may net up to 90 days in jail or a $100 fine.

DID YOU KNOW???

NATIONALLY:

1. There has been a drastic 12 year decline in S.A.T. scores.
2. The Association of American Publishers now recommends that its college instructional material be prepared at 9th grade level.
3. Last year in Montgomery County Maryland, 50% of the teacher applicants failed a basic test of grammar, punctuation and spelling.

LOCALLY:

1. 42.4% of the 1975 Freshman class at M.S.U. required remedial high school level courses.
2. Grosse Pointe S.A.T. scores have also declined - most notably in Language Arts.
3. Grosse Pointe ranks only 8th in Michigan in instructional expenses per pupil.
4. Grosse Pointe, however, manages to rank 4th in Michigan in administrative costs per pupil.

IS THIS QUALITY EDUCATION???

I don't think so and I suspect that most other parents, students and teachers feel the same. The School Board and Administration have assured me publicly and privately that we do have a quality school system. My reaction to this type of "assurance" is to urge that you elect independent School Board Trustees who do not have this same sense of complacency and who will strive to restore academic excellence to our school system. If you agree with me, I would appreciate your vote on June 14th.

Rose Terrace Previews Attract Many Onlookers

By Tom Greenwood

They came to see the end of an era. Cars lined Lakeshore road for blocks as limousines, station wagons, sports cars and even motorcycles each momentarily slowed before 12 Lakeshore to peer at the dying mansion hidden beyond the rusting iron fence. Then they each sped off, seeking parking spots near the spectacle.

Once through the massive gates, people wandered across a newly mown lawn, drawn to a circus tent that pointed toward Rose Terrace like a huge yellow and green arrow.

It was auction preview day. It was unsettling. And it was sad. Two days of public sight seeing of the treasures the mansion had to offer.

A silver Cord automobile sat before the mansion, a leaning post for people having their photos taken before the great house. "Hey Martha, grab a shot of me by the car. They'll love it back home." Snap went an instamatic, and the couple moved on.

The week-long auction offered up items from other estates, plus the actual building materials of Rose Terrace itself.

Wood paneling, bathtubs, floor tiles, glass, draperies and even door knobs went to the highest bidder once the "walk-through" auction started.

The people drawn to the "wake" were as varied as the items offered for sale. Blue haired older ladies tapping along on canes mingled with sandal wearing young women in cut-off shorts and tee shirts. Starched and stuffy matrons with bifocals shouldered aside elegantly dressed men with continental demeanor. Two svelte young men wearing fashionable sunglasses murmured together over Sheffield crystal.

A young black man, wearing a gold earring, drew stares as he strode by. An elderly woman, stuffed into an expensive dress, gave him a glare, as if he had done something wrong. Leisure suited swells in white shoes tapped on wooden cabinets, like kicking tires on a used car.

The crowd opened, closed, picked up, put down, felt, probed, weighed and played with everything in sight.

Drawers were pulled out and slammed shut by this "you-drop-it-you've-bought-it" crowd. A fat woman petted a life size porcelain Great Dane guarding a corner of the room. A man opened the visor on a suit of armor, surprised to see a plaster of paris face, complete with bushy moustache, staring out at him. "Hey Edna, c'mere and take a look at this," he yelled, searching for his wife.

Another group stood beneath an 18th century chandelier, gaping open-mouthed at its crystal droplets, like children gawking at a skyscraper.

Broken bits of conversation floated with the crowds pushing through mirrored hallways.

"Can you imagine living like this? Look at these rooms. Isn't it all just too fabulous?"

"Did you see that man over there? He stole a tassel from those drapes. Where's a policeman?"

"Step back Harry. I want both you and the bathtub in the picture."

"This was her bedroom, wasn't it? What a tiny, little bed. What a life she must of had."

"Can you imagine living like this? It's just sinful. Don't they know that people are starving all over the world?"

On the front lawn, workmen put finishing touches on the tent that would shelter the monied crowd from the sun. Two elderly women walked slowly toward the iron gates, stopping once to look back at the house. "It's so sad," said one, with a shake of her head. "All these people in her house, acting like they own it. It's so disrespectful."

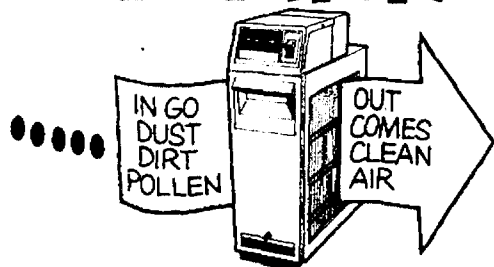

"Like holding a party in a cathedral."

Why we are voting
"NO" on
Propositions II and IV and "YES" on
Propositions I and III

*With the 6% valuation increase plus a little belt tightening by the Board and reasonable restraint by the Unions in their current wage and salary demands, QUALITY EDUCATION can be maintained during 1976-77 without increased millage. We are hopeful our Unions will practice the kind of restraint the California Unions are exercising. A recent Wall Street Journal item states:

"major school districts in California escape layoffs because teachers in Berkeley, Los Angeles and San Diego and elsewhere agreed to take little or no pay increases."

*We will continue to vote "no" on any additional millage proposals (such as #II and #IV) for either schools or libraries until the Unions and the Board announce the amounts of salary, wage and fringe benefit increases, if any, resulting from the Union-Board negotiations now in progress on the contracts expiring June 30. As we stated prior to the March election, Board has put the "cart before the horse" in asking the voters to vote "additional millage" without knowing how much, if any additional is required. They cannot know at this point because—until negotiations are concluded—neither the Board nor the voters know how much is needed for the BIGGEST ITEM IN THE BUDGET—83%, $14,500,000 last year—until the Union negotiations are concluded. There is an "Alice In Wonderland" aspect to this: like sitting down with your wife to figure next year's household budget, without even an estimate of what is needed for 83% of your budget.

*For several months we have urged the Union and Board to complete their negotiations before this June 14 election, or to defer any further votes on "additional millage" until negotiations are concluded. Today we are told—same as before the March election—no agreements have been arrived at with any of the Unions. Inasmuch as negotiations could have been commenced and concluded many months ago this delay seems inexplicable. The only explanation we have is that "stalling" negotiations until after the taxpayers vote the money, has been a customary and effective tactic in the past used by most Teachers' Unions. Presumably the Unions prefer the facts as to salaries, fringes and especially their demands for increases not to be revealed to the voters prior to voting on millage increases.

*The sky will not fall if (as we are confident will happen) the voters approve Propositions #1 and #3 (simple renewal) and reject Propositions II and IV. It will just mean that the Unions and the Board negotiators will be jolted into completing their negotiations at an early date. Then the Board can, for the first time go before the P.T.A.'s and in the Press present all the facts, the operating budget, including the amount, if any, needed for wage and salary increases, with full explanation and justification. There will be no closings of schools or libraries. With this orderly procedure, and—for the first time—all the facts before them, we are confident if the Board then deems "additional millage" necessary, the voters will vote whatever is necessary.

*We hope other voters will share our willingness to patiently wait for the Unions and Board to complete their negotiations, no matter how long it takes. Meanwhile, many voters share our feeling that until then the "Black Hat" of the "bad guys" doesn't rest on the voters' heads, but rather, on the heads of the Unions and the Board negotiators in their delay in concluding negotiations which is really the sole cause of any difficulties or threat that may exist to "Quality Education" in Grosse Pointe.

Woods Citizens Complain over Usage of Park Pool

By Roger A. Waha
Four residents complained over recent Woods Council action permitting the use of the new 50-meter competitive pool at the Lake Front Park for training on the part of the Fitzgerald Swim Club and members of the North High School swim team. This action transpired at the regular meeting Monday, June 7. The citizens, Bob Hopkins, Charles Kirchner, Tom Sharpe and William Quinlan, all took exception to the council granting the club permission to use the facility between June 1-30, not to exceed five days a week during the hours of 6-8 a.m. at a cost of $25 per day.
Per the solons' action, the city retains the right to terminate the activity at any time.
Their primary complaint revolved around the use of the pool by non-residents, i.e., individuals who pay no taxes to the community. Around 30 of the swimmers involved are reportedly from The Pointe, with the swimming group being comprised of approximately 50 percent Pointe varsity swimmers and 50 percent Fitzgerald Swim Club members.
As of Tuesday morning, June 8, (after press time), a list of swimmers using the pool was being prepared to give a specific breakdown, reported City Administrator Chester E. Petersen. (The citizens requested such a list). He added during the first week of usage, a number of the natators who signed up haven't participated in the early morning sessions.

Mr. Sharpe told the council it was difficult to understand why the city went to all the expense to build the new pool facility "based upon the premise the old pool was unusable" and then spend monies to renovate the old enclosure. "Who benefits from this?" he asked.
At the same time, he challenged the $25 cost paid by the club as being only used for the purpose of paying personnel for extra hours but all the other "humps" are paid for by taxpayers.
For his part, Mr. Quinlan stated the council acted in good faith in the concept of AAU swimming but felt the package was wrong. He said the city's recreation department should set up its own program.
In objecting to members of the Fitzgerald Swim Club using the facility, Mr. Quinlan stressed he talked to a lot of people who share the same feeling, (although no other individuals in the audience spoke on this matter).
The entire facility is for the city and is an important reason for people to buy a home in the community, he said, while adding it was wrong for non-residents to use the pool.

Mr. Kirchner, meanwhile, expressed a concern that a precedent could be set in this case and was upset over the fact that an estimated 50 percent of those utilizing the facility weren't taxpayers. He felt the city "sold us out."
Calling the whole matter a "camouflage," Mr. Hopkins charged that the North swimmers were brought into the picture in an effort to gain approval.
Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos told the citizens if enough objections were raised, he would rescind his vote of approval. (Others okaying the motion at the Thursday, May 20, meeting were Councilmen George S. Freeman, George Cueter and Ronald R. Keegen. Nixing it were Councilwoman Joan M. Mullan and Councilmen John Sabol and Conrad A. Naegel). But, the mayor added, two or three objections would have no effect.
The citizens, (particularly Mr. Kirchner), drilled both Mr. Freeman and Mr. Cueter as to why they approved such usage. Mr. Freeman said he was told 50 percent of the swimmers were Woods residents. He was also told that with additional coaches, their swimming would greatly improve. The councilman stressed his interest in young people and felt it wasn't such a sacrifice to make the facility available during the 6-8 a.m. time slot.

Mr. Cueter said he also was under the impression some 50 percent of the swimmers were from the community. He said this was an opportunity for the natators to take advantage of AAU coaches. The councilman indicated his decision also was made basically for the benefit of Pointe youths.
Before the discussion concluded, Mr. Pinkos told the citizens the council has done "a fantastic job" in representing the people despite differences of opinion along the way.
But what happens regarding the continuance of this program will depend on further action. As of Tuesday morning, it was still "go."

CB Radio Case Proves Painful

By Tom Greenwood
Farms Det. Earl Field found out you can't fight the government, even if you're in the right.
Last week, Det. Field was working on a case involving a possible stolen citizens band, (CB), radio. The radio, engraved with an identifying social security number, was confiscated from a man returning it to a department store, seeking a repair or refund.
While trying to establish if the CB was stolen, Det. Field put in a call to Social Security headquarters in Baltimore, Md., only to be rebuffed by the Federal officials working there.
"They told me that since Watergate, it's improper to release information like that to the public," said Det. Field. "Or to the police. They would instead send me a form to fill out and, afterwards, would send the form to the person owning that social security number. They in turn would then contact me, and I could then ask them if they'd had a CB radio stolen." Simple.

Luckily, it turned out that it wasn't necessary to wrestle with all that red tape. Det. Field questioned a saleslady at the store who confirmed that she had sold the CB to the customer from whom it was confiscated.
Here's the final story. A employee of the department bought the CB, engraved his social security number on it, only to later sell it to another employee of the same store. Somehow the CB was broken, and the second employee snuck into a stockroom and switched the broken CB for a working model.
The now twice sold, broken CB, still in its original box, was brought out from the storeroom and put on the selling floor. It was bought for a third time by the unsuspecting customer. He took it home, realized it didn't work, discovered the social security number and brought it back to be replaced.
That's when the police were called.
The moral of all this is to engrave personal property with your driver's license number instead of your social security number. It's easier for the police to trace.
Meanwhile, back at the store, one employee was fired, one got a vigorous talking to by his manager and one bewildered customer got a new CB radio.
Oh yes, Det. Field got a headache.

Around the backlight, and around the quarter windows of the Town Coupe, the vinyl is frenched, a special seamless turned-under treatment unique to the Coach Roof. Even at rest, the Town Car is graceful, majestic. And on the road, you perceive other assets the quiet in which you ride, the confident response of hydraulic power-assisted braking and steering. In sum, near-effortless motoring. For 1976 Continental owners, this is a year of line performance - and a year of individualization, in which the luxury car becomes even more personal. We would personally like to show you.

Vandals Strike Schools,
Trio of Kiwanis Buses

A malicious destruction of property incident at North High School was one of a trio of similar cases reported to Woods police the beginning of this month.

The report that someone had defaced a second story wall at the school was received early Wednesday morning, June 2. At the scene, Officer Patrick DeVine was shown by an engineer where black paint was sprayed on the wall which faces north and is located above the gym area.

Approximately 100 feet of obscene drawings and words were sprayed, the officer said, in this incident which is under investigation by the Youth Service Division.

Meanwhile, Mason School was victimized by vandals sometime between Monday afternoon, May 31, and Tuesday morning, June 1. An employee reported that someone had shattered several windows and sprayed paint on other windows and doors.

Officer William Desilets was shown the east entrance door where an obscenity had been sprayed.

He reported that seven windows had been broken in various classrooms around the school with all of them apparently being smashed with rocks. The windows, all about 12 by 16 inches, were valued at around $80.

Then on the morning of June 2, police learned that someone entered three city buses at the municipality's auto pond in Parkway drive.

Department of Public Works Director Anthony Guaresimo said two of the three vehicles received damaged instrument panels, while the other had a broken back door and taillights. He indicated that damage including labor could go as high as $600.

These Kiwanis buses are used to transport residents to and from the Lake Front Park and City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher questioned if they will be on the road this week, (their scheduled time).

In another matter Mr. Guaresimo also noted that many individuals visit the grounds in the evening and dump refuse. He said signs preventing such actions are posted and anyone caught will be prosecuted.

Ostomy Group
Meets Sunday

The Grosse Pointe Community Ostomy Group will host the United Ostomy Association, Inc., Greater Detroit Chapter meeting on Sunday, June 13, at 2 p.m. in the Science Hall of Bon Secours Hospital.

Anyone interested is welcome to this open session.

The guest speaker, Ms. Vivian Dames, MSW, of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, will address the subject, "The Experience of Loss and Grief." This is a general interest topic presented as an individual, human response to a significant loss.

An accompanying film, "It's a Bit Different from This Time Last Year" will accompany Ms. Dames' presentation.

The subject of a quintette from a Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "The Gondoliers," is "Take Life As It Comes" and this also will be presented.

Pointer Marshall Bruce, who will conduct the meeting, is currently president of the Greater Detroit Chapter and a UOA state representative.

The purpose of the United Ostomy Association is the rehabilitation of individuals who have undergone ostomy surgery, the most common being colostomy, ileostomy and ileal-conduit.

For further information, call 341-8715.

Hydroponics to Be Viewed

William J. "Bill" DeSloover will discuss the Luwasa Plantsystem, a new method in hydroponics, (growing plants without soil), when the Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe holds its ladies' night Thursday, June 17, at 8 p.m., in Brownell Middle School, 280 Chalfonte avenue.

Mr. DeSloover, general manager of Deco-Plants of Troy, Mich., will explain the system, which was developed in Switzerland 12 years ago.

Instead of soil, plants are inserted in an aggregate made of Leca clay, found only in Texas. The clay is baked at 1,800 degrees to rid it of toxics which could endanger the root system. During the baking process, the clay breaks into porous pellets.

The aggregate is used to anchor one or more plants in a specially-devised planter. When the plants are watered, the moisture seeps into a separate lower compartment, and then is drawn up to the root system by capillary action since the pellets are absorbent.

A window in the lower compartment shows the moisture level, thus avoiding the dangers of under- or over-watering.

Pellets, planters and necessary plant nutrients are marketed through "home plant parties," garden clubs and other organizations.

The meeting also will feature a members flower show. All gardeners in the area are invited to attend.

Farms Slates
Fleet Blessing

The Farms Boat Club will sponsor its sixth annual Blessing of the Fleet Sunday, June 13. This event will be held at The Farms Pier Park and all the residents of the community are invited to participate.

In conjunction with the event, the U. S. Coast Guard will stage a rescue at sea demonstration using both a helicopter and rescue boat. Two Coastguardsmen will be on hand at the park to narrate and explain the maneuvers of the rescue operation.

The Blessing of the Fleet will take place at 1 p.m., and will be conducted by Father Albert Hillebrand and Rev. Robert Wollard. The Coast Guard demonstration will follow at 2 p.m.

To complete the afternoon, the Coast Guard Auxiliary will be on hand to conduct safety inspections. This is done at the request of boat owners, and upon successful completion of the inspection, a decal is awarded to each owner.

In charge of the activities are Joanne and Joseph Leonard, of Hillcrest road, and Commodore Robert Maddox and his wife, Florence, of Merriweather road.

"These are critical times for the Public School System in Grosse Pointe. Difficult questions remain to be answered. Such questions - and they affect all of us and our community, - require a responsive, independent and constructive voice."

Tom Levevre took second prize for his 1956 Corvette and Alvin Wegner won second prize, plus the "Peoples Choice" with his 1930 Ford Sport Roadster, at the event.

The show, which was enjoyed by thousands of visitors, had over 200 entries.

Judged according to the decade in which they were built, the earliest entry went back to 1912. The winners were awarded trophies and prize money.

DEVONSHIRE DRUGS

Pharmacy Footnotes

by John C. Gawryk R.Ph.

Sleep is a natural phenomenon common to all animal life. It is a position on the scale of consciousness, a periodic interruption of wakeful hours. If left to his own choosing, scientists have proved, the healthy human adult under normal conditions will sleep between seven and eight hours each night. When he has all the sleep necessary for a refreshed body, he will awaken slowly and naturally without mechanical aids. The average normal adult sleeps best in a bed to which he is accustomed and which is comfortable.

Personalized service is more than just conversation at DEVONSHIRE DRUGS, 16037 Mack on "Tiffany Lane." Our professional pharmacists are happy to answer any questions on your medications. We also keep complete "patient profile" records of your health data to help us safeguard your prescriptions, and to offer your doctor instant review. This information also helps you obtain proper credit at income tax time. Visit DEVONSHIRE DRUGS for greeting cards, health and beauty aids, and Sanders candies. Driven to Law By Frustration

It was his frustration with legal processes while serving as a volunteer worker with poor and underprivileged families in the Office of Economic Opportunity's VISTA program that led Nels L. Olson, son of well-known Grosse Pointe parents, to study law.

Recently, he was admitted to practice law in the state and federal courts during brief ceremonies in the courtrooms of Wayne County Circuit Judge James N. Canham and U. S. District Judge Fred W. Kaess, accompanied by his parents, Detroit industrialist and sportsman Oscar L. (Ozzie) Olson and Mrs. Olson.

The young lawyer was graduated from Trinity College with a bachelor's degree in English literature in 1969, then worked in New York for six months before volunteering for the VISTA program. He was assigned to Cincinnati, where he and his fellow workers aided poor, inner city families in community organizing.

While their programs were successful in raising the status of both the families and the neighborhoods in which they lived, Nels Olson encountered many legal problems requiring support from some of Cincinnati's more public spirited law firms.

This whetted his appetite for the legal profession and led him to enter the Detroit College of Law when his two-year term with VISTA ended. During most of his three years at law school, he gained valuable experience and satisfied a continuing desire to aid the underprivileged by serving as a volunteer worker with Wayne County Neighborhood Legal Services.

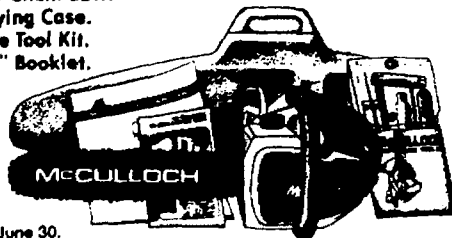

Following graduation last winter, he passed the state bar examination on his first try.

His admittance to the bar culminated an aspiration bred in the slums of Cincinnati.

Disturbance at South High Causes Concern in Community

—students, parents, municipal and school officials—and the community at large.

"Therefore, we have called for a meeting to be held, prior to the opening of school, with representatives of all municipalities, the Board of Education, the superintendent, parents, students and teacher representatives, to discuss ways of solving this serious community problem.

"The matter will not be resolved until students and their parents decide to mark the end of this unfortunate community 'tradition.'"

Praises Officials
Meanwhile, Joan R. Hanpeter, Board president, stated, "We very much appreciate the fine services rendered by municipal officials and the restraint which they exercised in the performance of their duties during the recent South High disturbances.

"These dedicated public servants have won our admiration for their most commendable actions. We hope in the future to work closely with students, parents and members of the community to prevent a recurrence of the recent situation at South High.

"Suspects in the fracas are being identified, with appropriate action to be taken. Several who were involved were arrested at the time of the disturbance.

"The sense of community outrage over the South High incident is shared wholeheartedly by trustees on the Board of Education, as well as by the staff of the school system."

In an attempt to explore what transpired, along with the reasons for the disturbance, the NEWS talked with South principal Dr. James Hoeh; Youth Service Division, (YSD), Det. Patrick Fagan, (South District); Chief Ferber, YSD Det. Donald Schmalz, (South District); John Langel, president of the South High Student Association; and John Palffy, news editor of the school's newspaper, "The Tower."

"Power" Problems
From his perspective, Dr. Hoeh felt the cause stemmed from the "power shows," which had been taking place off and on at the school for the past two weeks.

"The school administration in concert with Farms police and the YSD were engaged in an effort to reduce and minimize 'power shows,'" he said, while noting there was a group which was determined to have such activities. What happened on the 1st began with some attempted "power shows" with police apprehending those involved, he stated. As a result, ensuring sympathy from students on the lawn followed.

Dr. Hoeh said around 50 youths were watching the shows at first and after one driver was ticketed, more began to gather. The crowd began to swell and some 150-200 youths entered the street. In the meantime, police called for additional help in an attempt to clear the thoroughfare.

During this time, he said occasional water balloons and eggs were being thrown. As the crowd's enthusiasm continued to grow, more missiles were tossed and abusive language could be heard.

Several Suspended
On three different occasions, he said, the youths left the street only to return. During the second time, a youth was apprehended which resulted in some cars getting kicked. He stressed no tires were slashed and no car windows were broken.

Finally, thanks to the work of administrators, police and some students, (plus the end of the lunch hour), the crowd broke up.

Dr. Hoeh said the school suspended six students that day with five of those cited being directly involved in the incident. All were suspended for varying lengths of time.

In an attempt to put this disturbance in its proper perspective, he said some 900 students were free during the early afternoon time period while around 1,600 others were in class.

Of the estimated crowd of 500, many of whom were encouraging the others, only some 40-50 students really caused trouble. And, he noted, not all of the 500 were actually South students.

While he felt drinking on the part of some youths contributed to the fracas, he quickly stressed not every young person drinking was actually involved in the incident, nor was everyone who took part actually drinking.

Police Did Well
Around 15 officers were at the scene at the height of the disturbance and Dr. Hoeh said, "They did what they had to do. Once the youths were in the street, it was a police matter. We have more authority on school property." At the same time, he said the police did a good job, with their actions being defensible under the situation.

Dr. Hoeh felt the "power shows" were planned and the reaction was spontaneous. Some students were "hell bent" for a "power show" that last day and they knew they were going to try to stop it, he said.

When asked what could be done in the future to prevent such disturbances, Dr. Hoeh stated the entire situation is being reassessed at this time, and "We'll have to engage in plans next May to curb this."

He said this year a significant portion of administrative time was directed towards curbing "power shows," and not without some success. Further efforts also will be made in the future to curb these activities.

Continuing Pranks
While no damage occurred to the school from the outside disturbance, Dr. Hoeh expressed a great concern over the use of firecrackers in the building and the supply of such items from a limited source. He stressed the need of parents' cooperation in eliminating such a supply in the future because of the obvious dangers involved.

Meanwhile, Det. Fagan, in providing further background to this incident, said student body pranks had taken place two weeks prior to the disturbance, e.g., firecrackers going off in the school, water balloons and shaving cream fights and, of course, the "power shows," which "are unfortunately labeled as tradition."

Pranks continued throughout the morning of the 1st, he stated, with water balloons and shaving cream fights transpiring on the front lawn. After the noon hour, the crowd outside began to grow but remained on school property.

Then Det. Schmalz, while cruising Grosse Pointe boulevard, apprehended a youth allegedly involved in a "power show" with its accompanying results, e.g., squealing tires.

With this, several hundred youths converged on the thoroughfare with some 200-300 ending up in the street. Traffic was blocked and one civilian vehicle was trapped in the mass, said Det. Fagan.

Many in Way
An attempt was made by police to ease the crowd back with some success as the vehicle was able to leave. But, the detective stated, a water balloon was then thrust at an officer and others soon followed so additional police help was requested.

Some of the youths refused to move and, as spectators, they were in the way. They weren't throwing anything but were somewhat defending others doing those things," he said.

So additional aid was requested from The Park, City and Shores. After the units arrived, a youth was apprehended for reportedly throwing a water balloon at an officer. So some others engulfed his scout car and attempted to turn it over, stated Det. Fagan. As a result, the youth was released, possibly for the boy's own safety, he noted, with this action somewhat appeasing the crowd.

Before long, Det. Fagan said bottles, cans, rocks and eggs, apparently obtained from a nearby market, were flung at police.

Then, the bleach came. "The bleach is used for 'power shows' where it's poured on tires and causes a smoky effect," he said. The detective added his belief that it wasn't brought to the scene to throw at anyone.

But in the confusion and height of the disturbance, someone threw the container over the crowd, causing the bleach to splatter over a police car, some students, (several in caps and gowns), and Patrolman Moore.

Receives Feedback
"A number of the student body saw it was getting out of hand and many of them assisted in clearing the street," said Det. Fagan.

The injury to the officer also jarred some of the crowd into backing off.

The detective received much feedback on the incident afterwards. Some students were of the opinion the disturbance happened because of two parties which occurred earlier that day. Several students felt drinking was a real factor in what transpired.

"A large majority of students were upset and now they see how it got out of control," said Det. Fagan, while citing a minority for using poor judgment. "The kids expressed concern over the officer who was injured. Many were ashamed of what did happen and hoped it wouldn't stigmatize the '76 class."

As for police action, he stated, "I personally thought the officers at the scene used good discretion. They took a lot of abuse standing there—"

Park Plans Many Events To Celebrate Bicentennial

Miss Grosse Pointe Park Bicentennial will be selected Saturday, June 26, at the time of the Bicentennial dance being held at Windmill Point Park.

Contestants for the title must be between 17 and 30 years of age and can be either married or single. They must be a resident of The Park or employed in The Park.

All girls will appear in evening gowns and swim suits and the panel of judges will determine the winner on a basis of beauty, poise and personality. This isn't a talent contest, and no singing, dancing or specialty acts are required.

Girls interested in entering the event should contact Cleve Beauchamp at 823-1880 for information and qualifications.

The contest will be a part of the dance which is being presented to raise money for the Bicentennial Parade and entertainment on July 4. Tickets are $5 per couple and are available at city hall, 15115 East Jefferson avenue.

There will be prizes for the winner and the two runners-up. They also will be honored on July 4 during the big parade and party at Three Mile Park.

The parade, for all Park residents, starts at Pierce School at 2 p.m. It picks up the children with decorated bicycles at Trombley on the way to Three Mile Park. There will be a free two-hour show, including dances and bands at Three Mile.

The parade is already made up of many interesting entries including a covered wagon drawn by horses furnished by Park Pharmacy, an ancient firewagon, square dancers, round dancers, bands, old cars, convertibles and decorated bikes and wagons, and the committee is looking for more entries.

For further information, call Bicentennial chairman Charles S. Thompkins at 894-2222.

Disturbance

good job," said Det. Schmalz. "No one lost control with all that harassment," i.e., "people in a short fuse situation."

Further assessing the feelings of students, Mr. Langel said he was at the scene between 15-30 seconds and was so disgusted he left.

Besides feeling personally "sick" over the disturbance, he expressed a fear of what effect the incident would have on the upcoming millage election, plus its effect on Dr. Hoeh.

Some students, he stated, felt the disturbance would do some damage to the passage of the millage, while indicating several have worked hard in campaigning for voter approval of the four propositions.

Slap in Face

"Dr. Hoeh has done everything for the students," he stated, "and they throw it back in his face. He has stuck his neck out for us for around two years."

Meanwhile, Mr. Palffy felt much of the blame for what occurred might be laid on the seniors and, like Mr. Langel, said other underclassmen were involved.

In noting "a lot of drinking and general rowdiness transpired," Mr. Palffy said the youths throwing missiles were only a small minority. After the turmoil was over, he indicated many were disgusted with what occurred.

And because of this, he said many students felt the propositions for renewal and additional millage were "shot."

The conquest of the world's highest mountain, Mount Everest (29,028 feet), at 11:30 a.m. on May 29, 1953, by Edmund Hillary of New Zealand and his Sherpa guide Tenzing, presented, one observer writes, "the culmination of man's quest to prove himself master against apparently insuperable odds." Hillary and his team's achievement was duly acknowledged by Queen Elizabeth II, who made its leader a knight. The account of Hillary's climb continues: "People have wondered frequently what it was that made man endure almost unbearable hardships and dangers merely to reach a barren peak." Of course the answer is classic: "Because it is there."

A point to bear in mind when buying Burgundies is that most wine growing properties are too small to handle their own cellaring and marketing, in the Burgundy grape growing region. This means that their young wines, both great and small, are sold to Negotiant eleveurs (merchant-shippers) who not only distribute the wines but also blend, bottle, and age them. As a result they can greatly influence the wines of the region. This means that it is a good idea to know the reputation of the Negotiant eleveur, as well as that of the vineyards.

And it is a good idea to make PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 your headquarters for all your party needs, from wines to whiskies, from party snacks to bar accessories. The Phils snapped a nine-game losing streak and moved into fifth place with a record of 2-10. The Yankees dropped into sixth place with a record of 2-11, one half game behind the Phils.

The Indians opened up a three and a half game lead with two wins and have won eight straight for a 11-1 record. The Pirates won three games and moved into the tie for second place with the Tigers, both at 8-5. The Red Legs are in fourth at 7-6.

The Phils defeated the Red Legs, 9-2, on Friday, June 4, for their first victory since the first week of the season. Bill Crow led the Phil's hitting attack with three hits as pitcher Peter Ruwart chalked up his first win.

The Pirates scored three runs in the bottom of the sixth to take a close 6-5 win over the Red Legs, on Tuesday, June 1. David Chamberlin doubled driving in one run and later scored on a passed ball to tie the score. Rick Gallagher drove in Jamie Burke with the winning run with a sacrifice fly to deep right field.

David Fitzsimons collected four singles and David Nurmi two singles for the Red Legs.

Rick Gallagher notched his third win as the Pirates downed the Tigers, 16-8, on Thursday, June 3. Bill Cunningham came in to relieve Gallagher after the Tigers scored five runs in the third and blanked the Tigers for the rest of the game. John Stickford homered for the Pirates.

Eight different players doubled in the free swinging game that featured 28 hits.

The Pirates scored eight runs in the top of the sixth on Saturday, June 5, to overcome an 8-7 lead by the Yankees. They won 15-8 for their second come-from-behind victory and third win of the week. The big blow was a bases loaded double by Brian Socia.

Gregg Restrum of the Indians ran his pitching record to 5-0 with a three-hit performance in a 10-2 win over the Phils on Wednesday, June 2. Restrum struck out 10 and also doubled. Craig Haase tripled and Haase, Jon Dolson and John Keane doubled, and Ken Fromm picked up two singles for the Indians. Bill Crow collected two of the hits by the Phils. The Phils defense played well with an unassisted double play by Peter Ruwart.

John Keane pitched a one-hitter for his third win as the Indians downed the Yankees, 5-1, on June 4. The Yankees scored an unearned run in the first inning and were blanked the rest of the way by Keane.

The Yankees got a strong pitching performance from John Pastoria who gave up only five hits including a double by Peter Keane and two sharp line drive singles by Steve Kornmeier.

John Kulka singled in the fifth for the Yankees to break up Keane's no-hitter.

The magic number for the Indians to win the championship is five either in Indian wins or losses by the Pirates or Tigers.

Tom Rohr homered once and doubled twice.

A big game for Michigan was June 4 and they creamed Purdue, 20-12. Duke York smacked a homer for Purdue. But the "Belting Blues" were hitting them all over. Marty Heger had one, Joe Sharp, one, Ed McCarty, two, Andy Stephan, two, and Dina Dajani, two.

American League Yankees shaved the A's 7-6 on June 2 in eight innings. Paul Urtel's dive catch for the A's ended regulation innings in a tie. Joe Shultz doubled for the A's, and Jim Schaafsma struck out 10 Yanks. Dan Shine was winning pitcher.

The Orioles ran away in a 21-2 win over the White Sox June 2. The same day the Senators stopped the Indians, 6-5, in seven innings. Dean Kuhnlein got a double in the seventh and was driven home by Russ Brunke's single to win the game.

On June 4, the Senators won again, 10-2, over the Yankees. Guy Pawlak and Bayard King doubled for the Yanks.

The White Sox bounced back to trounce the A's, 12-2. Darrin Whitchee slammed a homer in the fourth for the Sox.

The Orioles have been defeated by only one team in the AL. The Indians did it again on June 4, 5-4. Devon Jeffrey, Orioles, and Larry Bauer, Indians, dueling from the mound the entire game. Bauer homered twice.

The National League Pirates defeated the Cards June 1, 10-7, and the Red Legs on June 3, 14-4. Todd McCoy homered for the Cards in that match, and Dan Levitt got one for the Pirates against the Reds. Pat Boll pitched five innings for the Red Legs and struck out eight Pirates. With bases loaded, Boll tripled in the sixth to clean up.

The Cardinals came back on June 3 and quashed the Braves, 13-8. Tony Alfonso homered for the Braves with two on. Todd Venderbush was responsible for excellent fielding throughout the game, and Ray Regner had a dynamite left field catch in the first inning.

The Braves bowed to the Giants on June 1, 8-5. Tony Tocco shot a homer with two on in the fourth for the Giants.

In a close match, the Dodgers squeaked by the Red Legs on June 1, 5-4.

The Dodgers came out June 3 to beat the Giants, 9-7. Willie Ratsek homered in the sixth for the Giants. Joe Yott banged one for the Dodgers.

G. P. CITY
By Ralph Gray
The Braves won a major league playoff over the Cubs, 9-3, in a game that featured excellent pitching.

The teams finished the first half of the season tied for first place with records of 7-2. Then on June 3, the Braves put together 11 hits and nine runs while the best the Cubs could do was three unearned runs and four hits.

That doesn't tell the entire story. David Fitzgerald worked six innings striking out eight while walking only three for the Cubs. Rich Richner also went six for the Braves, fanning nine and walking three.

Mark Martinelli had three hits including a bases-empty home run. Paul Martinelli also had three hits and Kurt Maunz had two.

The Cubs, on June 5 rebounded to beat the Dodgers, 17-11. David Fitzgerald and Fred Chave homered for the Cubs.

Defensive standouts were Scott McCarty, Brian Brabb, Bill Trombly and Ray Colby.

The Senators, leaders in the major-minor division in the first half of the season, got off on the right foot by defeating the Pirates, 11-3, on June 5. The solons scored 11 runs on 11 hits while pitchers John Mikesell and Marty Bedell held the Pirates at bay.

Offensive leaders were Dan Stephanson with two doubles and an RBI, John Mikesell with two singles and two RBIs, and Tom Bartsch who singled and scored twice.

The Braves also started out the second half on a winning note with a 10-0 victory over the Cardinals June 5. John Hurley tossed the shut-out. He had four strikeouts, no walks and gave up only three hits. Dave Cristofferson went six, striking out two and walking two in the losing cause.

The Braves sent 10 men to the plate in the third inning which saw six runs come across on seven hits. Stark Langs and Kurt Maunz had three hits each.

In minor league action, the Yankees topped the Indians, 14-9, with Walter Connolly having a perfect day with four hits in a game played June 2.

The Orioles snapped out of a little slump to top the Yankees, 10-9 on June 5. The Yankees had plenty of hits — 11 with Red Kinsley going two-for-two in a losing cause.

Yanks, Red Sox Tied for Lead in Ruth Loop

By Julian Thomas

Tom Temrowski took the decision as the Burger Chef White Sox recently edged the D. M. Egan Tigers, 3-2, in Babe Ruth League action.

Kevin McMahon came on in relief in the seventh to preserve the victory. Kevin's record in relief is three wins and one save. The Tiger up-rising in the seventh was led by Steve Brandt and Scott McPhail.

Dave Spencer held the Sox to just two singles by Mike Bevier and Rob Whims, but they put together some fine base running to come up with three runs.

The expansion team Oakland A's evened their record at 4-4 with a 9-8 win over the Metropolitan Club Indians. The A's led most of the way until the Indians went ahead 8-7 in the bottom of the sixth.

In the last inning with two out and two strikes on Chuck Keller, he singled scoring Paul Proffit and Ross Brackett for the tying and winning runs.

The Indians downed the White Sox, 7-3, behind the three-hit pitching of Lenny Bartoszewicz. Gardening two hits each were Indians' Jim Miller, John Cammett and Mike Mahan.

The Grosse Pointe J. C. Rangers clobbered the Tape Recorder Brewers, 10-1. Richard Nicholas, Bill Camp and Peter Barker all had key hits for the Rangers, while Dave Diehl pitched a five-hitter and fanned eight Brewers enroute to victory.

The IXL Glass Astros downed the Rangers, 12-4. Joe Wierzbicki, who took the win, was aided by extra base hits from Brad Swegles and Dave Graff. Fielding standouts were John Meier for the Astros and Bill Yott for the Rangers. The Astros wrapped up first place for the first half with a record of 8-2.

Another lopsided win occurred for the Astros as they took a 14-4 decision over the Colonial Federal Red Legs. Winner, Bob Dice struck out 10 while tossing a one-hitter. Dave Veen was effective in relief for the Reds, fanning

Park Accident Injures Pair

Two motorists involved in a collision in The Park on Thursday, June 3, were conveyed to Bon Secours Hospital by Park firemen for treatment of minor injuries and released.

Treated were Loretta Ann Cuddihy, of 5801 Street Kerk, Warren, and Joseph E. Mulcaby, of 22633 Pleasant, St. Clair Shores.

An official accident report disclosed that the woman was traveling north on Bal-four and stopped for a stop sign at the intersection. She then proceeded to cross Charlevoix and hit Mr. Mulcaby's car broadside, as he was traveling west on the avenue.

After each complained of body pains, they were taken to the hospital for examination, then both were conveyed to The Park station to make statements.

The woman was issued a violation ticket for failure to yield the right-of-way to oncoming traffic, and was released until her scheduled court date of Wednesday, July 7.

A playoff between the Yanks and the Red Sox will be necessary to decide the first half winner.

It's 'Yes' or Disaster

At the same time, approximately $100,000 in proposed expenditures related to athletics, music, clubs and intramurals will be eliminated.

Meanwhile, the libraries also will feel the crunch. Staff cuts include a professional librarian and clerical personnel, while program cuts include the elimination of year-long Sunday service at the Central Library and Saturday service in July and August. There will be reductions in branch library public service hours, too.

If this information announced by the schools doesn't have a real dampening effect on why citizens should support all the propositions, there are other factors to consider if a negative vote ensues.

1. The potential effect of the school's participation in funding the Youth Service Division's (YSD), proposed budget for fiscal year 1976-77.

The YSD's board of managers, (which includes all Pointe city managers and a representative from the school system), met in April to consider the new budget. However, action on the $140,083 proposal was postponed until after the millage election, pending a firm commitment from the Board. A reason for this action stems from the dilemma of the financial difficulties the schools are in at the present time.

For the schools, as proposed, the salary of one public safety officer, plus his fringe benefits, placed at $25,855, would have to be paid, along with $720 for counseling services.

A "no" vote on the propositions would have some effect on the school's direct financial participation in the budget proposal. If the effect is serious enough to curtail the school's participation partially, or even completely, a hard look would have to be taken by all cities, each of which provides monies for the YSD's operation, on what specific steps would have to be taken for 1976-77.

In fact, the grim possibility remains that the YSD as Pointers know it today might not be the same.

Granted there are a variety of unknown factors on both the school and city fronts in this instance but the NEWS definitely feels there's a direct relationship between this election and the continuing, and priceless function, of the YSD.

2. There's no doubt that a negative vote on the propositions will have a detrimental effect on the current negotiations between the school system and its employees in the area of finances.

There's also a valid concern among some segments of the community, parents, students, school officials and residents alike, of what effect, if any, the disturbance at South High School on Tuesday, June 1, will have on the election.

The "pocketbook" reason has much more validity towards a negative vote, (although the NEWS still feels a "yes" vote on the propositions is a must), than someone basing a "no" vote on the disturbance alone.

While there were an estimated 500 young people at the scene, only a small minority were directly involved in causing trouble. To penalize all South students for what occurred and, in turn, to penalize the entire system via a negative vote, is to court disaster.

Each voter will have to weigh all the aforementioned factors in making his or her decision. Before you decide, consider what might occur if the propositions are defeated—subtract if you will all the services that will be reduced or eliminated. Then, view what you have left and consider, too, what the future holds for the entire community.

The outlook will definitely be bleak if the proposals fail, and another election will have to be scheduled. The Pointe cannot really afford any more of this, so the NEWS urges all citizens to get out, vote and offer a resounding "yes" on the four propositions.

R.A.W.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur M. Woodford
Chief of Central Library

Guest Editor: William T. Peters, Director

Our libraries will end their fiscal year on Wednesday, June 30. They will not open on Thursday, July 1, unless the voters in the Grosse Pointe School District indicate at the Special Election on Monday, June 14, that they will financially support them.

On March 29 a school/library millage election was held. At that election only 30 percent of the eligible voters cast votes. The public libraries lost the election by 76 votes.

A minority of 15 percent of the eligible voters controlled the election. Much is made about majority rule, but in reality the minority rules while the majority sit in passive silence.

The four propositions to be voted upon Monday, June 14, should by now be well known by all interested, informed citizens. Let the majority decide the fate of the public libraries, not the minority. VOTE your conscience next Monday, but VOTE!

One View from the Capitol

By William Bryant

Pontiac Stadium subsidy or not—that has been the primary question during passage of the bill which contains the Governor's package for aid to Detroit.

When Detroit was going to build a stadium, a plan was devised to take some money from horse race bettors for stadium support. The river stadium fell through and Pontiac built its municipal stadium and qualified for the subsidy under the act.

Those who support the subsidy argue the promise was made and should be kept and that recreation is a public purpose. Opponents claim it subsidizes the Detroit Lions.

To gain passage of the Detroit aid package a compromise was sought and I came up with a phaseout of the subsidy, granting $100,000 less each year. The House bought my idea, but the Senate refused to agree. Some opposed it because they wanted all the money cut off and others because they wanted all the money left in.

So the battle continued. On the aid package itself I have supported it but have tried, at the same time, to get some agreement on long range measures to check waste and excess in Detroit and to aid its economic redevelopment.

We have accomplished three things which I believe are major steps forward. First, we have agreed to formulate, with expert help, a set of specific medium and long range proposals to aid economic and job development in the city.

Second, we have assurance of major support for a bill of mine to allow the State to conduct a full audit of Detroit.

Third, we have moved toward creation of a special legislative committee to propose stronger Municipal Finance Commission powers to oversee the Detroit financial situation.

Considering the fact that the legislature literally had no input into the agreement between the Governor and Mayor formulating the Detroit package, we feel the accomplishments we have made that pertain to long range solutions are considerable.

Swim Lessons Set by GP City

The City of Grosse Pointe will offer two sessions of Red Cross swim lessons this summer at Neff Memorial Park. Each session will last for three weeks with classes taught each morning Monday through Friday.

Lessons will be offered for all age groups from three-year-old beginners through adults. The first session of lessons will begin on Monday, June 14, and run through Friday, July 2. Registration for the first session will be taken daily at the Neff Park bathhouse between 10 a.m.-5 p.m. until Sunday, June 13.

The second session will begin Monday, July 12, and continue through Friday, July 30. Registration for the second session will be taken at the bathhouse from July 3-11.

Pool director Tom Gauerke has indicated this year's lessons will feature the new Red Cross courses entitled "Basic Water Safety," "Basic Rescue and Water Safety" and "Advanced Lifesaving."

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The June 14 millage election is nearly upon us and I feel I must make a statement on priorities. I'd like to ask the entire Grosse Pointe community, "What are your priorities?"

So many of you are fighting so hard to defeat a millage increase which will cost the average homeowner $57.75 per year, (based on a $50,000 home with an assessed evaluation of $25,000).

Did you fight as hard, or consider how to budget the $15 check you wrote for Little League? Or the $10 check for swimming? Or the $12 check for basketball? How much went for hockey? Tennis? Dance lessons? Etc. etc. If you total them up, the sum will be far greater than $57.75.

Are we preparing our children for an adult life full of sports or do we want educational tools necessary to help them become self-supporting adults? Which is more important, recreation or education? Consider your priorities!

And while on priorities—think of all the time, effort and money spent on church and charities by all of us. Have you done as much for your schools and your children? Consider some "charity on the home front" for your own children. Give an hour or more to your schools. Again it's a matter of priorities.

I personally work for church and charities. My children participate in many sports. But my first priority is their school. I work in it and for it. I'm voting "yes" to maintain our current level of quality education. I hope you will, too.

To the Editor:

On behalf of Student Association of Grosse Pointe South High School, we would like to extend our sincere apologies to the entire Grosse Pointe community, the school administration, the police and especially to Officer Moore, (Park Patrolman Ralph Moore), for the incidents that occurred Tuesday, June 1.

We regret that the traditionally harmless senior pranks have degenerated to the point where they have become dangerous.

However, we feel the events have been exaggerated by the daily press. The vast majority of South's student body does not condone and deeply regrets these disgraceful incidents.

Once again we apologize to all concerned.

Sincerely,
Scott Stephens,

To the Editor:

On Saturday, May 15, approximately 500 teens, most from the Grosse Pointes, gathered at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial to hear five amateur rock bands from the area compete in a "battle of the bands" for cash prizes and the chance to perform. The event was sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Youth Council. Performers were in their mid-to-late teens, and had spent hours practicing for the show.

No alcoholic beverages were served. Because of the lowered drinking age, such an event that younger teens can attend has become very rare, especially one in their own neighborhood. To my knowledge no trouble occurred at this event.

Three of my children enjoyed the show — one as a band member, two others in attendance — and we had hoped to find an article about it in our local paper. Yet two editions of the "Grosse Pointe News" have passed without mention of the gathering. Many of the adult social affairs in the cities had been fully covered.

Perhaps had the event been a destructive one it may have been publicized. If this band concert had been featured by the paper, perhaps some of the adults in the community would be encouraged to support further activities for our youth.

Perhaps some parents would have been relieved to know where their children had been.

Thank you,
Mrs. Lawrence Haggerty

Editor's Note: The NEWS ran a story in its May 13 edition on the event and has, in the past, run similar stories.

To the Editor:

The closing of the 1975-76 school year would not be complete without expressing our heartfelt thanks to the Volunteer Mothers who offered their services to the Social Studies Resource Center at South High School.

The conscientious support of Mrs. Thomas Kydd, (three years of service), Mrs. Thomas Kelly, (two years of service), Mrs. Donald McSorley, (two years of service), and alternating, Mrs. James Durkin, Mrs. Charles Insley, Mrs. John Schonenberg, Mrs. Jerry Whitman, Mrs. Richard Speer, is greatly appreciated.

On behalf of the faculty, the students and myself, we thank you most sincerely. Your devotion once again helped the Social Studies Resource Center operate most successfully.

Yours truly,
Helen Calas,
Social Studies
Resource Center

Editor's Note: This letter is directed to the residents of Grosse Pointe Shores, the Grosse Pointe Shores Public Safety Department and the Grosse Pointe Shores Department of Public Works.

The Junior League of Detroit wishes to thank you all for your cooperation, patience and support during our recent Decorators' Show House.

Because of your help, the Junior League was able to compete an overwhelmingly successful fund-raiser.

The profits will be returned to the community through a variety of league projects such as the Kern Block, Operation LINC and the Belle Isle study. We are extremely grateful to everyone who was involved. Thank you again.

Woods Okays Bid of Group

The Woods Council unanimously approved a request permitting The Woods Babe Ruth League to hold an every home canvas to raise funds on Saturday, June 12, from 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, June 7.

David W. Marsteller, president, said boys in baseball uniforms will be equipped with properly-identified canisters, and will be going door to door asking for donations.

"These funds are badly needed in order to finance the program and we sincerely hope that you will grant our request," he wrote the council.

A true champion can stand the test of time. And there are some styles of diamond rings that will last forever. Classic, well-balanced, beautiful, they live on and on, as their meanings do. Selections of wedding and engagement rings are always interesting and eye-catching. But the test of the truly well-designed diamond is often time, and styles that are offered again and again are those that retain esthetic as well as sentimental values. There is nothing like a diamond ring for that special lady in your life.

After all, Father's Day is just around the corner, and what better time to give that man in your life, a treasured gift from VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, 881-4800! We are very favorably known throughout Detroit and surrounding areas for our integrity and high degree of professional workmanship. If you are looking for something truly different in diamond rings, let us show you a wide variety of one-of-a-kind items on display.

Their day began with sips of fruit punch, on a terrace overlooking the Country Club golf course. Then residents of The Thompson Home joined board members indoors at Mrs. Henry T. Ewald's lovely home, for a luncheon of ham and mushroom quiche, asparagus and other delectables.

They were seated at tables covered with pretty, bright, flowered cloths, centered with appropriate flowers.

All arrangements for the luncheon outing, an annual event, were made by Mrs. George B. Hefferan, a Thompson Home board member and chairman of the entertainment committee, assisted by committee members Mrs. Ewald, (she, of course, is the board's second vice-president), Mrs. J. Vernor Davis, Mrs. William D. Laurie, Jr., Mrs. Robert E. McKean, Mrs. Cyril H. Moore, Mrs. J. Jenness Newcomb, Mrs. David Viger and Mrs. G. Mennen Williams.

Nancy Williams lent her party chairs for the occasion, and even the weatherman cooperated to make this a perfectly beautiful party — last Thursday was a glorious day!

Dividends Galore At Antiques Show

Special Bicentennial Exhibit Featured at Annual ULS Event this Year; Panel Program and Walking Tours Scheduled

A poster saying "Brother Jonathan Wants You?" The Wild Turkey as our national symbol? A bare-breasted and bejewelled Indian Queen, complete with feathered headdress, in New York harbor?

All these would have been very plausible in 1776, according to Barbara Mitchell, assistant curator of Manuscripts at the University of Michigan's William L. Clements Library.

Ms. Mitchell, in one of several outstanding articles for the catalogue of the 11th annual University Liggett Antiques Show and Sale, traces American symbols from the Colonial Era's wild and exotic Indian images to today's more familiar eagle and Statue of Liberty.

Other catalogue articles explore Early Detroit Fashions and Paul Revere's lesser-known career as a printmaker.

The Bicentennial catalogue is among many special features of the Show and Sale currently underway at University Liggett School's Liggett campus in Briarcliff drive. It continues today, June 10, and Friday, June 11, from noon until 10 o'clock, and Saturday, June 12, from noon until 6.

Directed by Russell Carroll, of Salisbury, Conn., nationally-recognized manager of antiques shows, it showcases 40 dealers from 17 states, many of whom are invited to return year after year. These invitations are much sought-after, for the ULS Show is considered by dealers and collectors to be one of the most prestigious in the country.

This year, it is broadening its scope via Allan J. Hodges, here from Ohio with his interesting and rare glass pieces, and W. Graham Arader, III, who specializes in rare maps and documents.

Another dividend at this year's Show is a special Bicentennial Exhibit, courtesy of the Henry Ford Museum, arranged by Walter Simmons.

Still another is a panel discussion and information period, "Your Question Please," scheduled for 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Seven panelists, including Walter Simmons, noted Detroit collector; Walter Simmons, II, assistant curator of metals at Henry Ford Museum; private collectors Mr. and Mrs. James O. Keene; local antique dealer Karel Weist; Robert Bishop, editor for the Henry Ford Museum; and Ronald L. Winokur, assistant curator of European Arts, Detroit Institute of Arts, will share their expertise with anyone who wishes to increase his/her knowledge of antiques.

"Your Question Please" is included in the general admission price of $3, as are the popular Walking Tours of the Show, to be conducted by exhibitors at 11 o'clock (Continued on Page 24)

Bonsai-Horticulture Show Set June 17

Installation Scheduled By Personnel Women

Pointers Invited to Exhibit in Eight Classes, Including One for Juniors Twelve and Under; Hours Are 2 to 9 O'clock

When people arrive at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Ballroom next Thursday, June 17, to view the Grosse Pointe Garden Center's Bonsai Horticulture Show, they'll discover something new: a Loggia Mini Mart of assorted gifts, hand-fashioned by Garden Center members.

Proceeds from the Mini Mart will swell funds available to the Garden Center for education in horticulture, and for scholarships.

The little market will feature such items as spice rings and pomander balls of limes, lemons and oranges, plus plants propagated from members' special varieties. It will include a bake sale.

The Garden Center ladies have been spending many hours in Mrs. Henry S. Walker's games room, converted into a workshop in recent weeks, preparing for the Mini Mart.

Last year, for the first time, Show hours were extended to run from 2 in the afternoon until 9 in the evening, and many more Pointers were able to attend the event, co-sponsored by the War Memorial.

Hours will be 2 to 9 o'clock again this year, so families and people busy during the afternoon can view the exhibit.

The Garden Center's Bonsai Workshops, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harley G. Higbie, Mrs. Monte J. Edelen and Mrs. James B. Ogden, have produced truly fantastic specimens, created from an astounding variety of plant material. This exhibit is always big—and always impressive.

The Horticulture Division's newest class, for Juniors 12 and under, includes house plants, dish gardens and annuals. The Garden Center's efforts to encourage young Pointers to cultivate plants are becoming more successful each year, assuring the continuance of Grosse Pointe's reputation as a garden-loving community.

Mrs. John Veech and Mrs. Harold R. Smith, the Garden Center's co-chairmen of Horticulture, have composed the schedule of Show classes and rules.

Exhibitors in Class One, Bonsai, must know the approximate age of their plants, and are limited to six entries each.

Class Two is for Annuals, Class Three for Biennials and Perennials. Class Four, Roses, includes Climbers, Floribundas, Grandifloras, Hybrid Teas and Miniatures.

Class Five is for Flowering Shrubs, Trees or Vines, not to exceed 24 to 30 inches in length. Class Six is for Vegetables and Edible Greens. Class Seven, House Plants, is divided into Flowering and those of Foliage Type.

The newlyweds vacationed in Canada. Mr. Shreve was graduated from Grosse Pointe University School and from Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., where he affiliated with Psi Upsilon fraternity, in 1974. He is with City National Bank.

An August wedding is planned, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Judith Jobbitt Wed May 29

Exchanging marriage vows in Jeanne Vaillie Chapel, Evanston, Ill., Saturday, May 29, were Judith Helen Jobbitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Marshall, of New Berlin, Wis.

Pastor Larry Michael went from Grosse Pointe Woods' First English Lutheran Church to officiate at the 7:30 o'clock rites, which were followed by a reception at the Women's City Club of Evanston.

The newlyweds vacationed in Hawaii and will make their home in Evanston, where both had been residing prior to their marriage.

The bride chose a long, white, garden-type gown trimmed in old-fashioned lace for her evening wedding. She wore a lace-trimmed picture hat, and carried white daisies, stephanotis and yellow roses.

She was attended by her sister, Patty Jobbitt, in a soft floral print on blue gown. John Marshall was his brother's best man.

The mother of the bride selected a formal length gown, featuring a soft floral print on light beige. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink on blue print, also floor length. Yellow rosebuds accented the white daisies in Mrs. Jobbitt's corsage. Pink rosebuds accented the bridegroom's mother's daisies.

volunteered their services as chauffeurs, transferring the residents to and from Moross road, with a side trip dividend excursion to view the new and improved Belle Isle.

Capping the festivities were parting gifts for each Home resident: needlepoint Kleenex cases, in garden colors, fashioned by board members especially for "their" ladies.

Then it was home again to The Thompson Home, courtesy of the Mesdames Book, Hayden, Roby, Viger and Kerr. It's a lovely Home to come to, one of Detroit's landmark buildings, a retirement residence for ladies, located in West Hancock street.

They Gave Their All

They gave their all, went all the way to the finals, and it took the East Grand Rapids team of Mary and Katherine Ford to defeat Yolanda and Sue Mascarini, of Webber place, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4 in the Michigan Mother/Daughter State Championship Tennis Tournament.

The Mascarinis were up against tough competition. They defeated Elaine and Sheila Peck, of Lakeshore road, in the semi-finals, (6-4, 4-6, 6-4)—and those Pecks are a formidable combination!

The Consolation Round was an all-Grosse Pointe affair, pitting Betty and Meg McKee against Mary Lou and Lisa Wood. The McKees took this one.

The National Mother/Daughter Tournament will be held in August, at Point Judith, R.I., and although Grosse Pointe won't be represented this year... with all the genetic talent in our town, we're keeping our fingers crossed for '77 or '78.

Book Number Two

Gordon Buehrig, of Lochmoor boulevard, whose "Rolling Sculpture" was such a success last year, has turned novelist, with Book Number Two, "A Savior in the White House," out now.

It just goes to show: if you're talented in one field, (Gordon, as you know, designed the classic Cord car, among others), chances are you'll be talented in others.

Championship Material

A few years back, we ran a "Pointer of Interest" on Highland Dancer Mary Anne Burslem, daughter of the Robert Burslems, of Severn road, and never have we run into a more obvious case of championship material.

Last month Mary Anne, a Grosse Pointe North High School student, became the first American ever to win the Great Lakes Championship for Highland Dancing in the 16 and over age group.

Competing in the Michigan Week Ninth Annual Highland Games — Great Lakes Open Championship, sponsored by the United States Highland Dancers Association District Three, Mary Anne captured the Best Michigan Dancer trophy as well as the Great Lakes Championship.

The "keeper" plaque for the Championship was donated by James R. Hamacher, stylist at the Morri Salon in Mack avenue, who did Mary Anne's hair (Continued on Page 32)

Museum Cites Its Volunteer Committee

Detroit Institute of Arts Volunteer committee members, gathered early this month for their annual meeting, were congratulated on the 40,553 hours of service given during 1975-76 to the museum.

The Volunteers, all 484 women and men, all members of the DIA Founders Society, contribute time and skills in virtually every museum area.

Following a business session featuring annual reports and service awards and election of officers for the coming year, and a talk on American Folk Art, the Volunteers were guests of the Founders Society at luncheon in the Art Institute's Great Hall.

Among those chosen to lead Volunteers' service committees in the coming year are Mrs. Robert LeFevre, of Lincoln road, chairman, and Mrs. Norman MacColl, of Washington road, vice-chairman, Decorations; Mrs. Kenneth Kurtz, of Bishop road, chairman, Mrs. Brenda Ross, of Lakepointe avenue, vice-chairman, Gallery Aides; Mrs. Robert Rentenbach, of Lakecrest lane, chairman, Information Center; and Mrs. Jack Frey, of St. Clair avenue, chairman, Staff Aides.

Administration committee heads include Mrs. Thomas Reghanti, of Elm court, vice-chairman. Public relations, and Mrs. Stanton Glover, Jr., of Yorkshire road, chairman, Welcome.

Among Volunteer committee directors are Mrs. William Curtiss, of Sunningdale drive, and Mrs. Hilary Micou, of Kerby road.

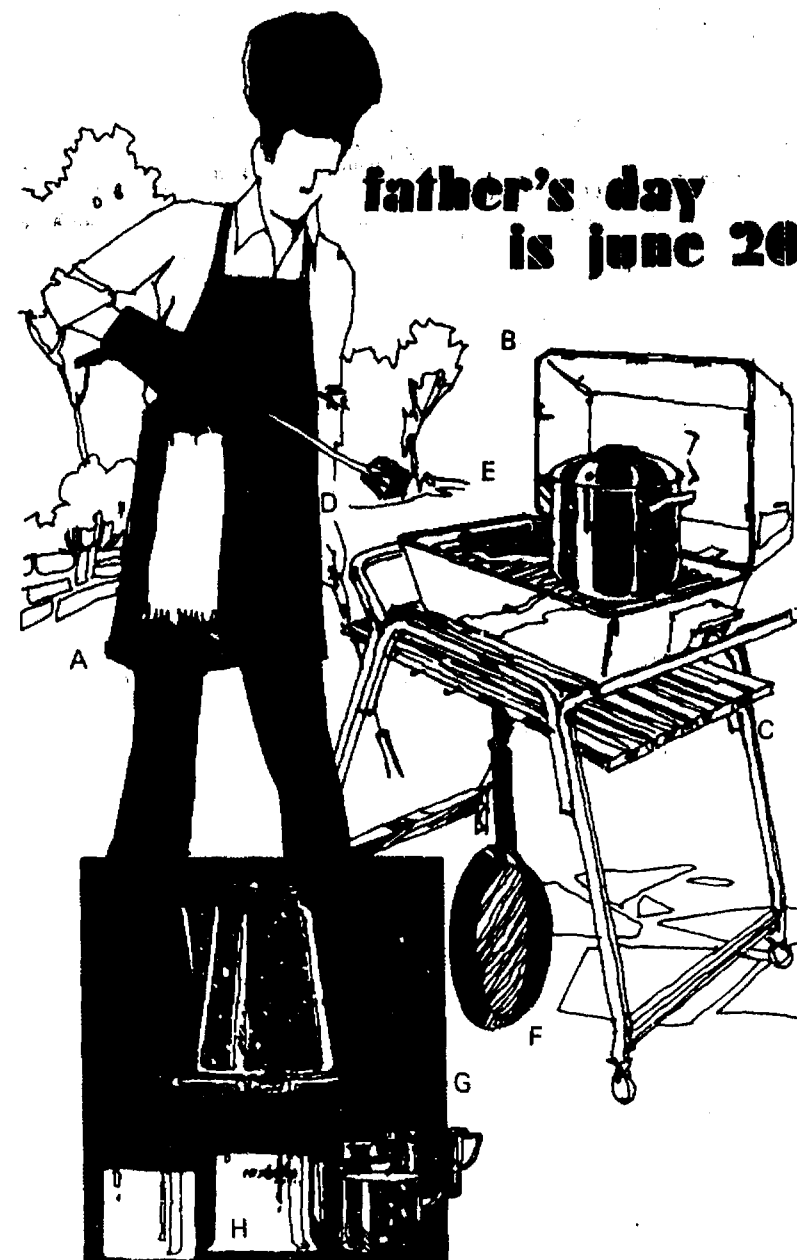

Country Charm in Calico and Patchwork

Jacobson's Store For The Home will present a unique collection of kitchen linen accessories. They are all home made and this extensive assortment includes wall placards, aprons, bonnets, pot holders, mits, tea cozies, bun warmers and more. For an added attraction the production manager of Needle-In-The-Haystack will be at Jacobson's Store For The Home, Thursday, June 17 from 12 noon to 3 P.M. She will discuss the pride and workmanship that go into the unique kitchen linen accessories produced by Needle-In-The-Haystack.

Ruth Whitney McCauley and originator of Needle-In-The-Haystack has always stressed that her country patchwork be made, as much as possible, by country women, whom she fondly refers to as her "Haystackers." Not only are there kitchen linens but also pillows and placemats. A look at the Needle-In-The-Haystack Catalog suggests the wide assortment of their products... "YES" on JUNE 14

Join the parents and friends of Grosse Pointe North High (listed on page 4) in a "YES" VOTE on all of our millage proposals, to maintain our existing program of fine schools and libraries.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Does your home need an appraisal? If so, it is of utmost importance to find an expert to do it. An appraisal can give you an estimate of the market value of your property. What it amounts to is the appraiser's opinion of the value, although, of course, the final estimate is a conclusion which results from an analysis of facts. These days it is especially important not to rely on what the man next door got for his house, or what the guy down the street says his is worth—you may find yourself sold short. We can give you a realistic estimate of the current market value of your property. Call Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co., 20087 Mack Ave., Grosse Pointe Woods, 882-0087.

Introducing Sabroso.

"Savory, delicious, palatable, tasty, pleasant, delightful..."

—Appleton's New Spanish-English Dictionary.

Who are we to quarrel with noted authorities?

After all, we make Sabroso Imported Coffee Liqueur to be the richest, smoothest coffee liqueur you can buy.

Some say it's the world's richest coffee liqueur. They can go on saying it.

We gather the finest coffee beans in all of Mexico to make Sabroso. They provide the flavor, the body, the coffee-ness that extracts just do not have.

Try it straight. On the rocks. Or in a mixed drink. After dinner—or after anything. You'll see why we insist on making Sabroso from scratch.

Yet at $6.10, this rich liqueur is many pesos less than the leading brand.

Our liqueur is so rich, we had to call it "Sabroso"—Spanish for "savory, delicious, palatable," etc. That's why of all the coffee liqueurs, we get rave reviews in every Spanish-English dictionary.

© 1976 Mexican Coffee Liqueur 50 Proof Imported by United International Brands, N.Y., N.Y.

We call our coffee liqueur Sabroso. In Mexico they call it delicious.

Forfeits Bond In Lieu of Trial

A Chicago resident asked that his $50 bond be forfeited rather than come back to The Shores to stand trial for driving his car at a high rate of speed on Lakeshore road. His wish for the forfeiture was granted.

PSO Harry Hamilton stated in a report that he was patrolling Lakeshore on Sunday, May 30, at 1:47 a.m., when he observed a car, driven by Warren E. Long, 29, of 27227 South Wells street, Chicago, heading north at a very high rate of speed. The officer gave chase and paced the speeding driver at about 75 miles per hour. The road is zoned for 35 mph.

Long was brought to a stop at Nine Mile road in St. Clair Shores, when he pulled into a driveway of the Lido Club. He was returned to The Shores station where he was issued a violation ticket for driving 75 miles in a 30-mile zone.

When he was requested to post a bond of $50, he asked if the money could be forfeited because it would cost him money and time to come back to The Shores from Chicago for his trial.

Somewhere along the line there must be a limit fixed for both taxes and expenditures.

Giants Lead In Park Loop

By Tom Shlane The Giants, last year's World Series champs, continued their dominance by capturing the National League's first half championship with a 9-1 record in Park Babe Ruth League play.

The Giants recently clinched the first half as they destroyed the Phillies, 20-2.

Tom Geist led the route with four hits and five RBI's besides scoring four times. Dean Graham, who pitched the first four innings to pick up the win, chipped in with two hits as did Greg Doyal.

In earlier action, the Giants scored a last inning triumph, over the Dodgers, 3-2, on May 22.

Hugh Boy provided the seventh inning heroics as his second hit of the game drove in Jeff Parthum. This enabled Matt Reno, who gave up only three hits and fanned six to record his second victory.

Paul Deschenes pitched a fine game in a losing effort as he allowed only four hits. Just two days later, the Giants staged another last inning rally to clip the Braves, 9-8.

Doyal began the last of the seventh with a single, was sacrificed to second by Parthum, stole third, and then trotted home as an attempted pick-off throw went astray. Graham picked up the win as he shutout the Braves on one hit over the final four innings. Besides his excellent pitching, Graham also blasted a homer and a double to knock in four runs.

The Braves returned to their winning ways as they raced past the Mets, 7-1, on May 29.

Chris Ellis hurled four innings of no-hit ball and finished with a two-hitter. Aided by two double plays, Ellis faced only 22 batters, one over the minimum.

John Bedsworth provided all the runs needed as he hit a fourth inning two-run homer. Ellis also helped out at the plate by collecting two hits and scoring three times.

Unbelievable as it may seem, the Giants won yet another last inning contest as they nipped the Mets, 5-4, on June 3.

Gary Belfore's seventh inning double, only the Giants second hit, drove home Dean Caputo with the deciding run.

The Mets' Bill Courson pitched a strong game, allowing only one hit in six innings. Courson was hurt by seven Met errors and his own wildness as he walked six.

Peter Kay came on in the seventh to absorb the loss.

Bill Sullivan had two doubles and a triple in a losing cause.

Inalienable rights depend upon many things, but chiefly on sleeping with one eye open.

NICK GRAVES, OF BUCKINGHAM ROAD

By Susan McDonald

Nick will keep telling you that he wants to go beyond the normal. He delights in shocking people, and coming on "as outrageous as I possibly can."

Maybe that's why, after a semester of printing and distributing "student strike" literature to his classmates at South High, insisting on a student say in the hiring and firing of teachers, he decided to storm the school's administration offices to get an inside look into the workings of the system.

He approached Superintendent Dr. James Adams with a plan for a summer independent study program with the goal of evaluating the system in terms of the students' potential role in it.

Watched and Worked From June 23 through July 25 of last summer he spent at least two hours every week day interviewing, watching and sometimes doing odd jobs for the administrators on St. Clair Avenue.

He claims he learned a great deal about the complexities of administration during that summer, but he described the potential role for interested students as "much like that of a parent wishing to raise or lower or annul his taxes."

"Students become mere statistics in community assessments and endless records of property and performance."

But, of course, Nick didn't stop there. "I really believe that schools are unconstitutional," he insists. "We have to attend, but we have absolutely no say in how they are run."

So, finding no place for a 16-year-old in the offices at St. Clair Avenue, Nick has decided to go back to the students at South, hopefully as their Student Association president.

Sees No Problem Already a veteran of at least one State political convention and often a witness to his mother's, Helen Graves, many Democratic party activities, Nick should have no problem running a political campaign.

Of course, owning his own antique but working, printing press also should help out his candidacy. That is, if he ever gets around to running.

Nick says he may instead try to get through the enormous, complicated, Freeman lectures in physics that he has stored in a closet, in preparation for his planned study at Cal Tech College.

Or, of course, he might just decide he needs more egg cartons to store his type in. You see, his last egg carton drive was not quite successful enough. He and a friend, in a neighborhood effort, gathered only 400. Nick figures he needs at least 600 to properly file away his type figures.

Collected 500 Cans Or, Nick may busy himself, instead, with another beer can drive. The last one netted him about 500, all of which he ended up throwing in the trash. Amazingly, after all the work he put into accumulating the cans, Nick could find no use for them—at least not as good a purpose as he found for the 200 plus "Kelley For Senator" bumper stickers he grabbed at the end of the last State Convention he attended with his mother.

His original intention there was to have a great time rubbing the sticky stuff off the backs of the stickers. They turned out, though, to have the wrong kind of backing for that kind of fun, so instead, he and a friend walked around town one summer day wearing very sticky shirts promoting the senatorial hopeful. That got rid of a few dozen stickers. The rest went into covering the ceiling, walls, wastepaper baskets, lamps, bookcases and closet doors of Nick's bedroom.

Enlightened Parents And mom didn't mind about the walls?

"That's what makes me different from so many kids," Nick insists. "My parents are so enlightened. They encourage me to explore and try to expose me to as many experiences as they can."

"My dad, (psychologist) James H. Graves, has so much to do with keeping up with medical journals, but he's always ready to jump into something new and stimulating."

Like the time he set up a music shop in the village.

Much of the unsold stock of harpsichords, clavichords, violins and pianos still fills the Graves' Buckingham road home.

His mother keeps pretty active too. As assistant professor of political science at the University of Michigan-Dearborn, she runs the school's political intern placement program, setting up liaisons between students and defenders offices, senators, city departments and corporations like New Detroit.

Besides that she's chairman of the Woman's Caucus of the Michigan Conference of Political Scientists and regularly active in local Democratic party politics.

Nick's older sister, Chris, is currently a law student. His older brother, Jim, tours the country with his wife performing folk music with an organization called the Student Assembly Service.

Nick admires all four of them for what he considers to be their creativity and intelligence, going beyond the norm, he says.

Of course, there is a great deal for a 16-year-old to try to live up to, but there's no question that Nick is certainly going to try.

He'll try to read through those Freeman lectures in physics before the summer's over.

He'll keep trying to shake up the school system in the name of students' rights.

And he'll probably keep trying to be "as outrageous as I possibly can."

for the mid-May competition at Oakland University. The Great Lakes Championship is just one among many accolades Mary Anne brought home this spring. She's won trophies in the Detroit Highland Dancing Society Competition, (March 28), the Trenton, N.J., Bicentennial Competition, (April 3), and the Niagara District Competition, (May 1, in St. Catherine's, Ont.).

Post-Great Lakes, she picked up a trophy at the Alma Highland Festival held at Alma College May 22, performing before a crowd which included a killed Governor William Milliken.

Her teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Clark, originally from Edinburgh, Scotland, (they live in Warren now), are justifiably proud of the talented, hard-working pupil who's "done them proud" in England and Scotland as well as in the States.

Mary Anne, vacationing in the British Isles last summer, won the English National Dance Championships in Corby, England, (her trophy is a beautiful silver rose bowl), and participated in the Edinburgh Festival, the Ballater Highland Games in Ballater, Scotland, the Lorch Highland Games in Strathdon, Scotland, (she brought home 13 medals), and placed in the finals at the Cowal Highland World Games, Donon, Scotland.

Medals Mark Bicentennial

The Episcopal Diocese is sponsoring the purchase and sale of 50 official Bicentennial Bronze Medals, one-and-one-half inches in diameter, at $5 each, with the $50 profit, (the Diocese, by buying this quantity, receives the 20 percent discount allowed non-profit organizations), to be used for any Diocesan project at the discretion of the Bishop.

The Medals, struck exclusively for the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, San Francisco and Washington, D.C., may be picked up on or after Sunday, June 20, between 9:15 and 4:15 o'clock at the Cathedral Church of Saint Paul office.

They may be ordered by mail through Berrien Eaton, 294 Stephens road, Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan 48236. Mail orders, clearly marked "Bicentennial Medal," should be made payable to The Bishop's Fund, and accompanied by 24 cents in stamps to cover postage. Do NOT send cash for the postage.

One Medal will be on display at the Cathedral office after the 50-Medal order arrives. If the Medals are available before June 20, an announcement will be posted on the Diocesan and Cathedral bulletin boards.
