THE DETROIT AID package was finally approved by the Legislature on Wednesday and sent to Gov. William Milliken for his signature. The key vote was in the House, where backers agreed to a last-ditch compromise engineered in the Senate Tuesday afternoon. Fifty-six votes were required for passage and the tally was 56-49. The aid bill includes nearly $28 million in State money for Detroit and an $800,000 subsidy for the Pontiac Stadium Authority. The package becomes effective with the governor's signature.

THE HOUSE overwhelmingly approved a three and three-quarter year extension of Federal Revenue Sharing Thursday that guarantees $6.65 billion in annual payments to the nation's cities, counties and states with few Federal controls on how the money can be spent. The vote was 361-35, with the measure now going to the Senate. The legislation renewing the program was delayed after months of hearings, during which representatives of the nation's mayors, governors and county executives praised revenue sharing as one of the most significant programs to keep their governments on a sound fiscal footing.

OIL AND GAS DRILLING in the southern third of the Pigeon River County State Forest, northeast of Gaylord, can start in a few months under an agreement approved there Friday by the Natural Resources Commission. Climaxing eight years of controversy, the agreement was drafted during a month of negotiations between Dr. Howard Tanner, natural resources director, and three oil companies which hold 85 percent of the leases in the 54,000 acre forest.

THE CIA SENT a shapely "Mata Hari" to assassinate Fidel Castro in 1960, but the poison capsules she carried in a jar of cold cream melted and the plot was aborted, the "New York Daily News" reported Sunday. The News said the CIA picked Marie Lorenz, the teen-aged daughter of a former German Navy captain, as the assassin. Miss Lorenz had met Castro shortly after he seized power in Cuba when the luxury liner, of which her father was captain, docked in Havana in February 1959. When she came to the U.S., Miss Lorenz said she was recruited by the CIA as the agent to try for the assassination of the Cuban leader. On a return trip to Cuba, the poison capsules she was given melted in the jar of cold cream where she reportedly had hidden them.

INVESTIGATIVE REPORTER Don Bolles, of Phoenix, Ariz., severely wounded by a bomb planted under his car June 2, died Sunday in Phoenix. He lost his right leg and right arm in the bomb attack, which occurred as he drove away from a Phoenix motel where he was supposed to meet an informant. His left leg was later amputated. Mr. Bolles told paramedics who first treated him, "The Mafia... got me." Police said the attack was part of a "set up."

Drowning Girl Saved In Shores

Officer Gary Mitchell, Classmates Combine to Rescue 11-Year-Old from Pool Accident

By Roger A. Waha

An 11-year-old Woods girl escaped death by drowning during a class picnic thanks to the quick work of Shores Public Safety Officer Gary Mitchell and her classmates, who pulled the Ferry School sixth grader from a Hampton road home pool late Monday morning, June 7.

After being revived at the scene by Officer Mitchell, Janey Pekarek was rushed to Saint John Hospital. She was treated and released that same day and was back in school on Wednesday, June 9.

When the report was broadcast, the officer was two blocks away. At the scene, he was met by an unidentified woman who said a young girl may have drowned in the pool at the back of the home.

After entering the rear yard, Officer Mitchell found a group gathered around the girl, who had moments earlier just been pulled from the pool. Her eyes were rolled back and open and she had apparently swallowed

Nature of Scholastic Aptitude Test Results Explored by Educators

Such Exams Usually Represent Large Sample, Are Readily Available But Have Limitations, Too; Verbal Skills Focused Upon by Several

By George Polgar Jr.

Responding to reports of declining verbal skills among students taking college entrance exams, many people are looking for easy answers and the nearest available scapegoat.

On one side of the controversy are the people who use the lower test scores as an indictment against an educational system that has knuckled under to student demands for relevance.

Their argument goes on to charge that school programs are bending over backwards to give free rein to a student's creativity while the emphasis on the basics falls by the wayside.

More Complicated

The result of this kind of education, according to critics, is a growing army of college entrants who can not read, write, punctuate, spell or otherwise communicate.

To reverse the erosion of verbal skills, the supporters of an educational backlash propose cutting high school curriculum back to the basics.

As one concerned parent, and a vocal proponent of the back to basics theory described it: "Education today is like a feast where students have many things to partake of without knowing how to use their forks and knives properly."

The response of the educational community is more complicated and perhaps for that reason less popular with the general public.

While teachers and school administrators acknowledge the seriousness of declining verbal skills, they are wary of simple explanations and of using college entrance scores as the absolute indicator of this trend.

Not Good Prediction

The reason the Scholastic Aptitude Test, (SAT), scores are used so often to document the decline is because they represent a large sample and are readily available.

However, the fact that the tests are taken by such a limited segment of the population—high school students—belies the true extent of the problem and narrows the focus of critics to the educational system.

The test has its limitations in that it does not measure grammar skills and is not even a good prediction of success in college. Students with high SAT's tend to succeed in college but so do many students with low scores. In fact, the best prediction of performance in college is the high school grade point average.

According to Elizabeth Soby, a reading consultant at North High School, diminishing importance and thus a

Two Residents Reiterate Concerns to Council; Possible Conclusion on Ordinance May Be Reached in Fall

By Roger A. Waha

The outlook for a potential conclusion in the often painful saga, (for both citizens and city officials alike), of Ordinance No. 343, which provides for the regulation of the outside storage of boats, various trailers and other recreational equipment in The Woods, may not occur until late fall.

This is the opinion of Councilman Ronald R. Kefgen, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Committee, regarding council action on the law. "If, in fact, the council does anything, it will probably not be until October or November," he said.

The measure has been the subject of criticism and concern in varying degrees in its planning stages, (before it was adopted in October 1974), and afterwards. The latest complaints have come from a Torrey road citizen, (who asked that her name be withheld), and a West Doyle place resident.

Seek Relief

In fact, the Torrey road woman made her third appearance before the council this year at the regular meeting Monday, June 7, to find out the status of the measure, and what might be done to ease her concern of having a 27-foot motor home parked inches from her property on her neighbor's lot.

The Doyle place citizen also was at this session to express her opinion. (She also attended a January council meeting to voice a complaint over a boat and trailer located on a neighbor's property which she said can be seen from her driveway, front walk, porch and living room picture window).

This matter is currently at the Committee of the Whole level, (the council meeting in executive session), and also is being explored by the Citizens Recreation Commission. (The Torrey road citizen attended the May 11 commission meeting and ex-

Fleming Joins Hanpeter on School Board

Winners Attribute Success to Personal Type of Campaign; Dr. Kirkpatrick Finishes Third in Race

By Susan McDonald

Pointers overwhelmingly re-elected Board of Education president Joan R. Hanpeter and, by a smaller margin, named William Fleming to the second trustee position in the Monday, June 14, election for two Board posts.

A large voter turnout gave Mrs. Hanpeter 8,768 votes for a second, four-year term on the Board. Mr. Fleming received 6,285 votes. He will assume office on Thursday, July 1, replacing retiring Trustee Lee Allen.

The official vote tally shows Dr. John R. Kirkpatrick, who campaigned largely on what he called the lack of challenge facing students in Pointe schools, coming in third with 3,427 votes.

Go Door-to-Door

Paul McCarthy was fourth with 3,109. Grosse Pointe Education Action Committee endorsements, Dr. John Schonenberg and Aphrodite Roumell, came in fifth and sixth with 2,549 and 2,403 votes, respectively.

In seventh place was 18-year-old Michael Echlin with 1,436 votes. Susan Hopkins was eighth with 1,208 votes.

Both winners attributed their success to their door-to-door, personal types of campaign efforts.

"I concentrated on a block-by-block effort, rather than ads or anti-administration slogans," said Mrs. Hanpeter.

"I think it is the personal contact that gets people involved enough to go out and vote."

Mrs. Hanpeter said she thinks her candidacy was tied very closely with the millage propositions in many voters' minds. Given the tremendous turnout for the financial questions, she feels the relationship worked to her benefit.

Listen to Voters

A newcomer to the Board, Mr. Fleming, 38, also attributed his win to his door-to-door campaign. He estimates he visited from 750-800 Pointe homes after getting a rather late start in the race.

"I presented myself as an independent who would be responsive to voters' views and I took the time to listen to them as I visited their homes," he said.

Mr. Fleming is a corporation director of personnel at Smith, Hinchman and Grylls Assoc. He has three children attending Pointe public schools and one pre-schooler. He is a graduate of Denison University and also holds a Master of Divinity Degree from Kenyon College.

Most of Mr. Fleming's past involvement in the schools centered around activities with the Monteith PTO. He also has served as director of The Woods/Shores Little League.

GP Woods Views New Bike Law

Proposal Provides for More Stringent Control over Operation of Cycles in City

By Roger A. Waha

An ordinance amending the 1975 city code, by revising a chapter on bicycles and providing for a more stringent control over the operation of such vehicles within the community, was unanimously approved for a first reading by The Woods Council.

This action was taken at its regular meeting Monday, June 7. Now, the proposal will be considered by the council for its second reading and final adoption at the Monday, June 21, session.

Administrative Aide Gerard McNamara, who played a big role in preparing the measure, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen and Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos all stressed that additional "teeth" have been added to the city's law on the enforcement front.

Same Treatment

The proposal, according to Mr. McNamara, has three new sections which the older bicycle law didn't contain. These sections include lights and red reflectors, bell or warning device and signals for starting, stopping and turning. Besides the additions, the measure contains some changes in language sprinkled throughout.

Changes incorporated into the proposal are ones which will appear in the new Uniform Traffic Code, which the State Legislature is scheduled to adopt around July 1. Each provision of the code has been adopted separately, said Mr. McNamara, who went through the proposed changes to the code, selected those which applied to bicycle safety and incorporated them into the new ordinance.

In assessing the proposal, he said, "It tends to treat bicyclists like motorists. They have to use hand signals, have proper reflectors and lights and have audible signals. The bicycle indeed has all of the rights on the high-

Schools, Libraries to Re-open in Fall with Full Complement of Staff, Programs

By Susan McDonald

In one of the largest turnouts in the history of Pointe school elections, voters passed all four propositions for funding of the schools and libraries on Monday, June 14.

Central school offices, where election results began to trickle in shortly after 8 p.m. Monday night, were filled with jubilant millage workers and school employees as it soon became apparent that all precincts, except Poupard and Barnes, would pass the four propositions.

The final tally shows Proposition One, (24.35 school millage renewal), 14,523 yes, 3,103 no; Proposition Two, (2.2 additional school mills), 10,311 yes, 6,879 no; Proposition Three, (1.31 library millage renewal), 14,145 yes, 3,341 no; and Proposition Four, (.11 of a mill additional library), 10,243 yes, 6,601 no.

Find New Support

Both propositions for millage renewals are for four-year terms, while the additional propositions are for one-year terms.

The success of all four propositions will allow the schools and libraries to re-open in September with a full complement of staff and programs.

Most onlookers attributed the millage success to sheer numbers. An additional 5,000 voters over the number which defeated the proposals on March 29 came to the polls on Monday.

The official tally shows almost the same number of voters deciding against propositions in both elections, indicating that the majority of new voters supported the millage.

Out of around 40,500 registered Pointe voters, about 17,500 cast their votes this week. The March 29 election brought only 12,500 to the polls.

"Great Commitment"

Mrs. Sterling Berry, who admitted running a "very lonely" citizens millage campaign last March, said the support she received this time was overwhelming.

Funds and more than 1,000 volunteer workers poured in from groups of doctors, realtors and parents, allowing the group to almost double its effort this time and include a millage-day phone canvassing of every Pointe parent's home.

"We concentrated our total efforts on informing the people and once they understood just what was at stake

Boy Critical In Park Mishap

A five-year-old boy was critically injured when he was accidentally run over by a milk truck in the driveway of a Grand Marais boulevard home Monday morning, June 14.

The boy, Christopher Steinhel, of Fisher road, was riding with his father, Salvatore, 25, on his morning rounds. The truck pulled up into the driveway slowly and the lad, who was standing to his father's left, fell out of the door, reported Park Police Lt. Gordon Duncan.

Apparently the father didn't realize what happened until he heard the boy scream, stated the lieutenant, who added the left rear wheel of the vehicle went over the right side of the boy's body.

He was rushed by Park ambulance to Bon Secours Hospital and was immediately operated upon. The hospital reported the lad suffered a collapsed lung, perforated stomach and ruptured spleen.

Then he was transferred to Saint John Hospital before midnight on the 14th where he was listed in critical condition Tuesday morning, June 15, in the intensive care unit.

Law Regulating Conduct In Woods' Parks Approved

By Roger A. Waha

After receiving some six months consideration, an ordinance regulating conduct in city owned parks was unanimously adopted by The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, June 7.

The measure, which went full circle on the council and Committee of the Whole, (C.W.), levels since the first of the year, was accepted by a 5-0 vote. (Councilwoman Joan M. Mullan and Councilman John Sabol were excused from the meeting).

"The purpose of the ordinance is to prevent major problems at our parks," said Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos. "There was no vehicle in our present ordinance to permit the public safety department to evict, (for example), a large, rowdy crowd."

Now, with the law, the city will have greater control over the parks themselves with additional "teeth" on the enforcement front.

"This is basically the same ordinance we have at the Lake Front Park, which is administered by St. Clair Shores," added Mr. Pinkos.

The measure contains sections on the operation of vehicles within city parks; special provisions applicable to bicycles, tricycles, motorcycles, scooters and minibikes; and fire arms and dangerous instruments.

Other sections govern picnic areas and their use; fires; animals and pets; games; alcoholic beverages; (Continued on Page 6)

A golfer needed a guide, to avoid these many obstacles, and at first it was the riddle's job to lead the way and point out the hole, which he did with a broken-off branch or by sticking a feather into it, creating the forerunner of today's flagstick.

Woods Considering New Bicycle Law

way as a motor vehicle has. The ordinance itself is to protect the cyclist. It's for his, (or her), own safety." The administrative aide indicated the proposal provides a solid foundation in the area of enforcement with the additional provisions "that before we couldn't do anything about."

Brought to Head
At the same time, Mr. McNamara said, "People who operate automobiles don't consider cyclists, who have the same rights as they do." He hopes the new sections, e.g., the one stressing the use of hand signals, catches the attention of auto drivers. When asked if the death of a 10-year-old Park cyclist, who was struck from behind by an auto along Lakeshore road in April, played a role in the new proposal, Mr. McNamara replied the tragedy, lending impetus to the ordinance, while saying the city had been previously working towards such a law.

For his part, Mr. Petersen felt the bicycle fatality brought the proposal to a head but said the city has been concerned over bicycle safety for quite a while. "Back in March I gave the public safety department an administrative memo requesting improvements towards updating our ordinance on bicycles and emphasizing a better enforcement program," he said.

Last year he felt all Pointe police departments were lacking on the enforcement front. "It's a near miracle we didn't have more accidents," he commented.

Cites Danger
"You can drive in our city in the evening and see flagrant violations of the bicycle law," stated Mr. Petersen. And such violations aren't only on the parts of juveniles but also adults. "At least you can write a warning ticket to the parents of a juvenile," he added.

Meanwhile, Mr. Pinkos cited a problem regarding the constantly growing bicycle population which he termed was jumping by "leaps and bounds."

Entire families are riding bicycles for recreation and exercise. As a result, more accidents are occurring. In The Woods, he said they haven't been major but the danger remains where a cyclist could be killed.

He stressed the concern of the public safety department in this respect and the need for more stringent enforcement.

With the necessity for greater controls on the monitoring front, the ordinance was prepared to protect both the cyclist and the motorist. Need to Be Seen

The lights and reflectors section says every bike when used at night must be equipped with a lamp on the front. It must emit a white light which must be visible from a distance of at least 500 feet to the front.

A red reflector must be placed on the rear of the bike. It must be visible from all distances from 100-600 feet to the rear when directly in front of lawful lower beams of headlights on a motor vehicle.

The proposal says a lamp emitting a red light visible from a distance of 500 feet to the rear may be used in addition to the red reflector.

Another stipulation notes that a person must not sell, offer for sale or deliver for sale in the city a bicycle or a pedal for use on a bike, either of which was manufactured after January 1, 1976, unless it's equipped with a type of reflex reflector located on the front and rear surfaces of the pedal.

Such pedal reflectors shall be visible from the front and rear of the bike during the night from a distance of 200 feet when directly exposed to the lower beam head lamps of a motor vehicle.

Audible Provisions
A bicycle manufactured after January 1, 1976, must not be sold in the city unless it's equipped with either tires which have reflective sidewalls or with wide-angle prismatic spoke reflectors.

Such sidewalls or reflectors must cause the bike to be visible from all distances from 100-600 feet when viewed under lawful low beam motor vehicle head lamps under normal atmospheric conditions. And such reflectors on the front wheel must essentially be colorless or amber. On the rear wheel they must be essentially colorless or red.

On the bell or warning device provision, cyclists aren't permitted to operate a bike unless it's equipped with a bell or other device which is capable of giving an audible signal for a distance of at least 100 feet. However, a bike must not be equipped with, nor shall anyone use upon a bicycle, a siren or whistle.

Warning signals for starting, stopping and turning must be given either via hand or arm or by a mechanical or electrical signal device which must be clear to other motorists.

Motorized Bikes
For hand and arm signals, the cyclist must indicate the intention to start, stop or turn by extending the hand and arm from and beyond the left side of the bike as follows:

Left turn, hand and arm extended horizontally; right turn, hand and arm extended upwards; and stop or decrease speed, hand and arm extended downward.

The proposal contains a revision in the section defining the term "bicycle," now covering the new, motorized bikes. The definition includes pedal bicycles with helper motors rated less than one BHP transmitted by friction and not by gear or chain, which produce only ordinary pedaling, speeds up to a maximum of 20 miles per hour.

It also reduces the license fee from 50 cents to 25 cents, although Mr. McNamara said in the past the public safety department issued licenses for the 25 cent amount.

Other highlights of the proposal include the following: Riding on bikes—No bicycle shall be used to carry more persons at one time than the number for which it's designed and equipped. A cyclist must at all times have at least one hand on the handle bar and must not operate the bike with both hands removed from the handle bar. Carrying articles—No cyclist shall carry any package, bundle or article which prevents the rider from keeping at least one hand upon the handle bar.

Operation—While this section isn't new it's important, said Mr. McNamara. It says no person under 12 years shall operate a bike upon any street, highway or alley in the city. However, a cyclist under 12 years may operate a bike on the sidewalk.

Any person over 12 but under 15 may operate a bike upon the street, highway and alley provided the person has the consent to do so of his parent or legal guardian.

Notification of violation—In the event of a violation of any provisions of the ordinance by a juvenile, the public safety department will notify his, (or her), parent or legal guardian.

The department will give details of the violation and recommend the confiscation of the bike, for a period of time commensurate with the severity of the violation, by such parent or guardian.

Seek Parent's Help
Upon the failure of the parent or guardian to cooperate in such a matter, the department, at its discretion, may issue a regular violation ticket.

Mr. McNamara stated, "There's not much we can do to a child if there's a violation, so the parent should take action. A notice will go to the parent if there's a violation, and the parent will be asked to cooperate."

If the parent doesn't cooperate, a child can be issued a regular traffic violation, which goes to Juvenile Court, he added.

The proposal, as an emergency ordinance, will take effect immediately upon enactment.

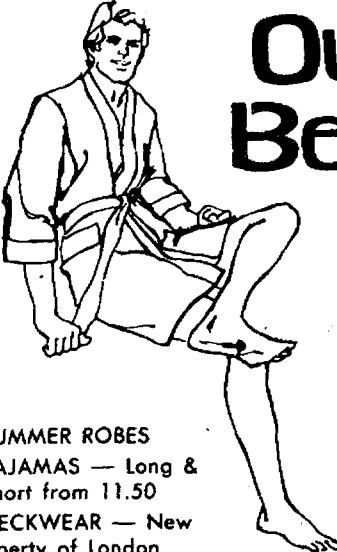

WOODS JOINS REFRIGERATION COUNCIL
The Woods Council unanimously approved having the city become an active member of the Reciprocal Refrigeration Council, Inc., at its regular meeting Monday, June 7. The city learned that it was accepted as a member of the refrigeration council last month. Its status as a member will become effective when it pays $10 in dues. As a member, the city will receive copies of minutes, announcements and other refrigeration council information and literature.

here, their support was unbelievable," said citizen's campaign co-chairman Robert Feeser.

Grosse Pointe Education Association support, missing from the last election, also was a great help, he said.

Board of Education president Joan R. Hammer was delighted with the results, saying, "The terrible apathy of March was completely washed away once people realized the consequences."

"Voting more taxes for yourself has got to be one of the most difficult things to do these days. I realize it took a great commitment to quality education from parents and non-parents to do it."

Back on Job
Soon after the election results were finalized, at an 8 a.m. Tuesday, June 15, meeting the Board took action to reinstate 127 teachers who had been laid off on April 12, after the last millage defeat. There remains 28 teachers, (22.7 positions), that will not be reinstated.

Meanwhile, the driver of Mr. Malix's craft was Joseph Sarnecky, of St. Clair Shores. Other individuals on the vessel included John Nosal, of Roseville, and Marvin Kuhn, of Riverview.

The hospital said everyone, with the exception of Mr. Sarnecky, was treated and released with the majority suffering contusions, abrasions and lacerations.

Sgt. Jacob said Mr. Sarnecky was taken from the boat with the use of a back board as a precaution. The hospital reported he was admitted for observation of head injuries and added the man also suffered fractured ribs. Mr. Sarnecky was scheduled to be released this past weekend.

The U.S. Coast Guard arrived shortly after the accident and an official stated there was no evidence of pollution as a result of the collision.

Woods Fire Truck Out of Action after Mishap

The Woods' Snorkel fire apparatus truck will be out of commission for an estimated two months stemming from an accident Monday afternoon, June 7.

In the incident, the truck was responding to a fire run at a River road home. An official accident report said the truck was travelling north on Marter with the long emergency run causing the brakes to overheat. As a result, brake fade occurred when Officer Bruce Marone attempted to slow down for a right turn onto Brys drive from Marter road.

As the officer started the turn, he found his speed was too fast to negotiate the turn, according to the report. To avoid a possible turnover, he attempted to straighten the vehicle out. However, the truck jumped the curb and knocked down two maple trees at 1288 Brys before stopping.

Lt. Allan Selby said the cab received extensive damage, while minor damage occurred to the undercarriage. The right front side of the truck was punched in, (the headlights at this location were knocked out), affecting the steering.

A specific damage figure is unknown at this time although Lt. Selby said it could be in the area of $10,000.

While the Snorkel will be on the sidelines, the lieutenant stated service to citizens wouldn't be impaired. He indicated the mutual aid agreement between all the Pointes and Harper Woods in this respect, while adding two 100-foot aerial trucks are available in adjoining cities if needed.

In a statement, Officer Marone, who received words of praise from witnesses for his handling of the truck, said as he started to make the turn from Marter to Brys, his brakes faded out and the truck stopped down and became free wheeling.

Realizing he couldn't make the turn, he tried to straighten the vehicle out. The officer said he realized he couldn't gain full control over the truck and drove over the curb and struck the pair of trees.

Officer Marone added he stood up in the cab and placed maximum pressure on the brake pedal, with the truck remaining free wheeling, during the incident.

A Roslyn road citizen, who witnessed the mishap, wrote the city citing the officer's skill in handling the unit, and preventing more serious property damage and/or injury or death from occurring.

Meanwhile, the Brys resident said when the pair of trees were knocked down, a heavy tree branch just missed his wife who was standing beside the house. He also commended Officer Marone for his handling of the situation saying, "He showed remarkable coolness and professionalism."

Outdoor Fair Opens Today

Customers of the National Bank of Detroit's, (NBD), Jefferson-Rivard office will be able to enjoy an art fair and sip lemonade in the sunshine today - tomorrow, June 17-18.

To celebrate the remodeling of the office, NBD is hosting the two-day outdoor art fair by the Grosse Pointe Artists Association.

"It's a way to say 'thank you' to our customers, many of whom have been banking with NBD for years. We've spent $100,000 on the remodeling of this office," said Joseph A. Tolari, vice-president and officer in charge of NBD's Grosse Pointe Regional Banking Center.

The Jefferson-Rivard office has been remodeled in an "Early American" style. The new look includes improved safety deposit facilities.

The Branch parking lot will be transformed into an open-air cafe and the artists not only will display works of art but will demonstrate several methods of creating their works. The famous Gold Cup of hydroplane boat racing also will be on display.

City officials from the Pointes have been invited to join NBD senior management for an official opening of the office at 10 a.m. today. The art fair and outdoor cafe will be open for customers today from 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. and tomorrow from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Educators View Aptitude Test Results

declining facility with the written word is a problem that affects the whole population.

"Many middle-aged Grosse Pointers in my adult education classes have admitted that they have not read a newspaper in 15 years," said Mrs. Soby.

Called IQ Test

One factor that questions the validity of using SAT test scores to measure the deficiencies of school-learned skills is the very nature of the tests.

Susan Reames, American literature and freshman English teacher at South High School, called the verbal section of the SAT an IQ type test.

"A representative of the college board testing service in Princeton, (where the SAT's originate), came here last year and explained that the verbal section was an IQ type test," she said. "It takes in a whole lifetime of verbal experience."

Unlike math skills which can really only be taught effectively in schools, verbal skills are accumulated all during childhood.

"Schools work with verbal skills but can't teach them the way math is taught," said Bob Button, freshman English and journalism teacher at South.

Whatever the SAT verbal section is intended to measure, evaluating the local schools on the basis of the scores takes careful interpretation to produce accurate results.

Could Be Higher

For example, in measuring the 1974-75 national SAT verbal average of 434 to the Pointe average of 442, (on a scale of 200-800), it is important to note that the national figure is based on an average of the 20 percent of all seniors who take the tests.

In Pointe schools, 61 percent of all seniors take the tests. This difference in percentages tends to skew the local average downward because, out of the larger local sample, there are bound to be more average students taking the tests.

It is possible that if a comparison were made between the national average and the top 20 percent in the Pointe schools, the local average would be even higher.

Trying to identify the real causes of the reading and writing deficiencies of students leaving high schools, teachers guardedly mention all of the things that compete for a student's time outside the classroom — primarily, though not exclusively — television.

Plan of Attack

"TV is a big factor but it isn't just that," explained Jon Rice, reading workshop and ninth grade reading teacher at South. "The influence of the record industry is at least as important. It's just so easy for a kid to sit back and get lost listening to the stereo instead of reading."

In the face of accusations of slackening student workloads, teachers at both North and South agree that more writing assignments are required now than 15 or 20 years ago.

Pat Fox, the writing consultant at North, added that writing assignments have begun to decrease since school money problems have necessitated larger classes.

"With more students in each class teachers can't give as many writing assignments because they just can't mark them all," said Mrs. Fox. Teachers at both North and South are meeting the verbal skills difficulties of their students head-on.

Reading is being taught with a developmental approach by "exposing students to various concepts according to a schedule," said Mrs. Reames, "when they are ready for them."

Answers Student

Similarly, writing skills are developed in progressively longer and more complicated assignments. "Some of my long term assignments are actually made up of a number of smaller assignments along the way," commented Mr. Button.

"At North there are many writing workshops in which students develop their own individualized writing programs," said Mrs. Fox.

Elective programs in the high schools which offer a number of courses that are perhaps not strictly academic in the traditional sense have been a particular target of criticism.

Answering a South student who referred to some electives as frills and foolishness in a school newspaper editorial, a teacher defended those types of courses noting that they could all be vehicles for transmitting what he called the real basics of education — observation, perception, analysis and synthesis. Dr. Roger McCaig, curriculum associate-instruction, is not overly concerned with demands that schools get back to the basics since he feels they have never abandoned them.

"The elective program is not a wild attempt at liberalism. We are trying to fill a need and every year we will redouble our efforts in whatever area needs attention," said Dr. McCaig.

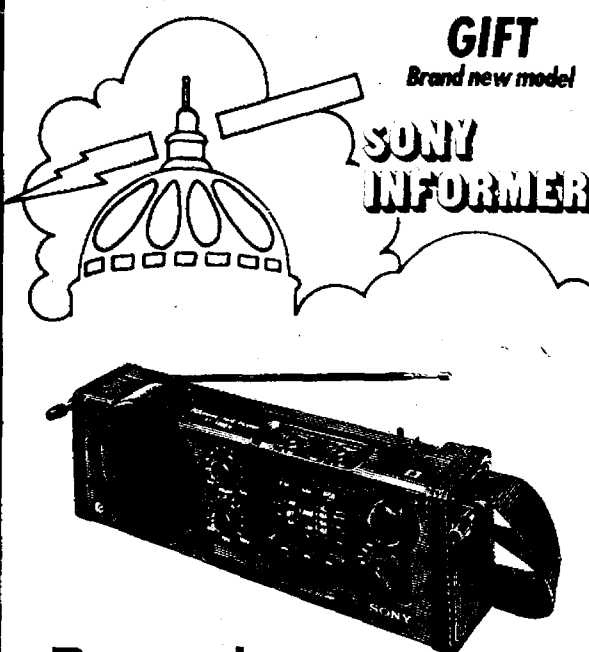

Despite the fact the recent decline in verbal scores may represent nothing more than a shift in the test population the Board of Education, the administration and the faculty have already taken cautionary steps to re-emphasize instruction in reading, vocabulary and basic English.

Firemen Update Training in GPF

After 90 hours of extensive training, Sgt. Sam Candela and Firefighters James Mauck and Robert Beer have obtained their Advanced Red Cross First Aid Cardio-Pulmonary - Resuscitation, (CPR), and Instructor's Cards, according to Farms Fire Chief Warren Schultz.

These firefighters are now in the process of updating their fellow firefighters, along with members of The Park Fire Department, in the latest instructions in first aid and CPR.

Upon completion of the course, the newly certified Farms personnel are authorized by the Red Cross to issue an up-to-date first aid card to their fellow firemen.

"We felt this training is very important because the firefighters operate the ambulance in The Farms, and the responsibility for proper care of a victim lies within the efficiency of these men to do their job in a most proficient and professional manner," said Chief Schultz.

"We also feel we are extremely fortunate to have three well equipped and efficient hospitals within a five mile radius."

Ambulance service is offered to all residents of The Farms at no charge to Saint John, Cottage and Bon Secours Hospitals. Ambulance service is provided by The Farms Fire Department at 885-1000.

drunkenness; noise; merchandising, advertising and signs; language and gestures; and permits required.

Several highlights of the law's provisions include the following:

No person shall operate a vehicle within a city park in excess of 10 miles per hour, except on roads or driveways where official signs or markings designate a different speed limit.

No person, except an authorized park employee, park guard or law enforcement officer, shall bring into park property or have in his possession any firearm or ammunition, any explosive, dynamite cap, fireworks, pellet gun, spring gun, slingshot, cross bow, bow and arrow, any smoke or stink bomb, et al.

No domestic animals or pets will be permitted unless on a leash and under the control of a citizen.

Individuals shall not bring into, consume or sell alcoholic beverages in a city park except as authorized by the park owners, i.e., the council.

No intoxicated person shall enter, be or remain in any city park.

On ejection from a park, the ordinance says that any person found violating any provision shall either be arrested or ejected from the park and/or have his permit confiscated and park privileges suspended for a period of time to be determined by the parks and recreation director.

Anyone charged with violating any provision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, shall be fined up to a maximum of $500, be imprisoned up to 90 days, or both.

This measure was first considered for its second reading and final adoption in February and was, at that time, referred to the C-W for further study.

Indications were given that City Attorney George Catlin would receive directions from

Operation Identification Effort Underway in Area

Residents will be able to participate in a month-long Operation Identification effort by the five Grosse Pointe police departments and National Bank of Detroit's (NBD), mobile crime prevention unit, Project HELP, (Help Enforce Loss Prevention).

The program began at NBD's office at Jefferson and Rivard boulevard on Monday, June 14, and will continue at that location until tomorrow, June 18.

"We urge Grosse Pointe residents to take advantage of the engravers as inscribing valuable items is an excellent deterrent to burglary," said City Police Chief Andrew Teetart. "Fences avoid trading in merchandise whose owners can be readily identified."

The Operation Identification program has been successfully operating in the Grosse Pointes for nearly four years, he noted.

This month's intensified program includes Project HELP appearances in eight different locations throughout the community.

Operation Identification encourages property owners to engrave valuables with their driver's license or social security numbers for identification and recovery if they are stolen.

Engravers will be available on loan from Project HELP, as well as from all Grosse Pointe police departments. NBD also plans to provide additional engravers to each police department.

"We are involved with Project HELP because citizens need up-to-date information on ways to protect their property. And we appreciate the full cooperation and support extended by the police and city officials of the Grosse Pointes," said Joseph A. Tolari, vice-president in charge of NBD's Grosse Pointe Regional Banking Center.

Project HELP has visited over 130 locations throughout the metropolitan Detroit area over the past two years. Over 25,000 people have visited the unit in that time.

The unit is a 26-foot motorhome containing more than 100 tips and products for fire prevention, auto theft, burglary and small business protection. A trained NBD representative will be stationed with the van at each location to answer questions and assist visitors.

Other tentative locations are scheduled as follows:

Waterfront Park, Grosse Pointe Park, foot of Alter road, June 21-23; NBD's Kercheval/St. Clair office, Grosse Pointe City, June 28-July 2; and Grosse Pointe Shores Waterfront Park, July 5-7.

More are On-the-Hill, Grosse Pointe Farms, July 8-10; Wright's Gift Shop, 18650 Mack avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms, July 12-13; Wrigley's parking lot, Mack/Moross, Grosse Pointe Woods, July 14-16; and Grosse Pointe Farms Regatta, July 25.

Park to Stage Dance, Contest

The Park Bicentennial Committee is holding a city-wide Bicentennial dance on Saturday, June 26, from 9-12 p.m. at Windmill Pointe Park. The setting will be the observation deck overlooking the pool.

Recorded music, provided by Doug McKinnon, will include popular tunes for dancing as well as square dance music with calling and beginning instruction being provided.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the selection of Miss Grosse Pointe Park Bicentennial. Contestants must be between 17-30, married or single and must be a Park resident or employed in the city.

Girls interested in entering the event should contact Cleve Beauchamp at 823-1830.

Tickets for the dance are $5 per couple and may be purchased at The Park Municipal Building, 15115 East Jefferson avenue. Admission to the dance, for Park residents and their guests, will be by park pass and ticket.

All proceeds will be used to pay for entertainment, prizes and other costs of the city's Bicentennial parade on July 4. It will begin at Pierce School at 2 p.m. and conclude at Three Mile Park.

For further information, call Bicentennial chairman Charles S. Thompkins at 894-2222.

Michigan Silhouette Artist in Grosse Pointe June 22 - June 26

Audrey Waite of Jackson, Michigan has been doing silhouettes since 1933. Her first customer was Stewart Wilson who was the inventor of the patent silhouette machine. After Mr. Wilson's death, Mrs. Waite received the extensive Wilson silhouette collection including her original Wilson cutting. For twenty-five years Mrs. Waite operated her main silhouette business from her log cabin studio in Jackson but in 1958 she began working at craft shows with the famous silhouette artist Laurence Rose Deihl. People from every station of life have had their features recorded by this woman. During a political rally several years ago the artist cut silhouettes of Michigan Sen. Philip Hart and his wife.

Mrs. Waite also makes dolls. She has made a pair representing Abraham Lincoln and his wife. "During my visit to Washington" the artist recalls, "I found a pair of my dolls in the Library of Congress." The dolls were pictured in Janet Pagter Johl's book, Your Dolls and Mine.

In addition to silhouette cutting and doll making, Mrs. Waite does oil painting, pencil sketches and pastels. When asked how long she intends to continue her thriving business, Mrs. Waite said that her own eighty-third year will mark the golden anniversary of her first silhouette sale. "But wouldn't it be silly to stop doing something that is so much fun," she said.

Mrs. Waite will be cutting silhouettes at Jacobson's In-The-Village from June 22nd through June 26th. The price of a silhouette is $4.00. To call for an appointment 882-7000 ext. 151.

Bell Ringing Salute Slated

The tolling of bells from sea to shining sea on July 4 will be a ringing tribute to America's Bicentennial birthday celebration.

The American Revolution Bicentennial Administration has established 2 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time as zero hour for a nation-wide bell ringing ceremony on that date.

Congress deemed this as the most appropriate hour to ring the bells symbolizing the moment in history when the Liberty Bells proclaimed the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Robert E. Trinklein, chairman of The Woods Bicentennial Commission, spoke at the Monday, June 7, council meeting encouraging total public participation.

He also asked that the city issue a proclamation to inform the public of the scheduled chime time.

Two Citizens Criticize Boat Storage Law

plained her problem to its members.

View Problems
At this point, Mr. Kefgen reported that a sub-committee made up of Robert Sabo and Richard Thams reviewed the law, along with Building Inspector Earl Wakely, towards making recommendations to the commission as a whole.

Mr. Kefgen said Mr. Sabo made a report at the commission's Wednesday, June 9, session on the basis of his meetings with Mr. Thams and Mr. Wakely.

Another meeting is planned by the sub-committee with a final presentation to the commission taking place, possibly in July, he stated. At that time, specific recommendations on the law could be made for the group's consideration. Then, there's a chance the commission in total will make precise recommendations to the council.

In its exploration, the sub-committee has viewed problems of enforcing the ordinance as it's written, plus seeing what can be done to further clarify guide lines as set forth to make Mr. Wakely's job easier, said Mr. Kefgen.

Topics Considered
Topics which are being discussed include the possibility of reducing the maximum length of a recreational vehicle from its current 28-foot limit and whether or not to include a neighbor consent clause in the content of the law, i.e., that no permission be given to a resident to store such a vehicle on his property unless adjoining neighbors give their consent.

Another point which the sub-committee is considering is the possible repeal of the entire ordinance, said Mr. Kefgen.

Here, an "either-or" situation could result. Either the city could go with no law, thus permitting the storage of recreational vehicles in the community with no restrictions, or draft a law completely banning the outside storage of such vehicles.

If it came to this, Mr. Kefgen feels a majority of the commission and the council would lean towards a total ban of RV's.

The Torrey road woman reiterated some of her earlier concerns to the council that the vehicle creates an eyesore and a traffic and fire hazard, while saying the owner pays no taxes on "this house."

She felt such a vehicle as stored on a neighbor's property is an indication of the beginning of decay in the city. The lady told the NEWS if such a situation isn't stopped now, the city will become just another "trailer town and there is too much at stake to have that happen."

Meanwhile, the Doyle place resident said the law as it now stands is too loose to interpret and felt it should contain a neighbor consent clause. She even stated she wanted to put up a fence on her property to help hide the RV.

In retrospect, the beginnings of this measure have been agonizing. After some two and a half years of committee work, studies and re-draftings, the law was adopted.

At that time, city officials were well aware of potential enforcement problems and criticisms which would follow. They also realized that amendments might have to be added to the ordinance in the future.

However, what specifically happens regarding this measure depends upon further developments on the Citizens Recreation Commission and council levels.

Exercises Held for Graduates

To the traditional strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" 1,111 Grosse Pointe students marched to their graduation last week.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. James A. Adams and Board of Education president Joan Hanpeter were on hand to present diplomas to 558 South seniors on Wednesday, June 9, and 553 North graduates on Thursday, June 10.

"Education of the Whole Person" was South senior Mary Bornoty's topic in her address to classmates. Damian Kiska followed her with the "Value of a Sheepskin."

Three students tied for the honor of class valedictorian at South, Diane Dupuis, David Pear and Janet Price. South class of 1976 salutatorian was Sally Face.

Senior class president John Langel also was presented the Rotary Award, an engraved watch, for his outstanding service to the school.

Under the direction of Russell Reed, the South Symphony performed "The March of the Meistersingers" as the recessional.

North seniors were told that "hard work, self confidence and the wise use of time are the building blocks of success" by their senior speaker Richard Robbins at North High School's seventh commencement exercises.

North valedictorian Catherine Goulder and salutatorian Elaine Schmidt were presented awards by Mrs. Louis Neuder, chairman of the North Parent Club Scholarship Committee.

Graduating with highest honors at North were 61 students who maintained a grade point average of 3.5 or above. Graduating with honors were 121 seniors who maintained an average of three points or above.

A benediction was delivered by Pastor Edward C. Steinhart.

Girl Saved

an excessive amount of water, he said.

Officer Mitchell put Janey on her stomach and began administering artificial respiration. She then began breathing and gasping for air. Sgt. James Jurcak arrived moments later and oxygen was administered at the scene.

After several minutes, the girl was placed in the police ambulance and taken to the hospital.

"Before we got to Saint John Hospital, she was sitting up on the stretcher talking to me," stated Officer Mitchell. "She said she didn't remember anything that happened."

What It's About

Then the officer added, "The real heroes were the kids who brought her out of the water."

An estimated 25 youngsters attended the picnic and police theorize that Janey was swimming with her classmates, came up below a raft, panicked, gasped for air and went down. She was reportedly discovered floating in the pool under water.

Everyone was relieved and most of all, thankful, over the climax to the incident.

For his part, Sgt. Jurcak said Officer Mitchell "did a hell of a job."

And the officer commented, "That's what this job is all about — being at the right place at the right time."

How Arm & Hammer Baking Soda helps maintain your pool's ideal pH and helps keep your water crystal clear.

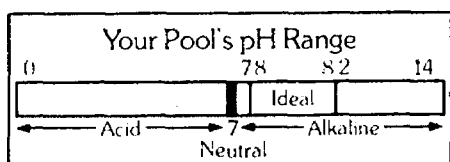

The 2 most important rules for easy pool care.

The most important rule to remember about pool care is to use a chlorinating product.

Recommended usage: Maintain a minimum chlorine level of 1.0 ppm Free Residual (Available) Chlorine.

The second most important rule to remember is to maintain the proper pH. And here's where Baking Soda goes to work. Baking Soda is a natural acid neutralizer and buffering agent which helps maintain pool pH at an ideal range of 7.8 to 8.2. This helps keep eyes from burning. And Baking Soda even helps improve water clarity—keeping your pool water crystal clear.

Recommended usage: Add 1 lb. of Baking Soda per 10,000 gallons of water each week during active pool season. Add a chlorinating product as needed.

If pH reaches 8.2, you can discontinue weekly use of Baking Soda and use only as necessary to maintain a pH within 7.8 to 8.2. Do not use Acid. If cloudiness occurs, run filter (keeping it clean), until pool water clears.

How Baking Soda helps keep the water clear

Your pool water is filled with tiny particles too small for your filter to remove. Some of these particles make the water cloudy. Baking Soda causes the smallest particles to become attached to larger ones which are then easily filtered out of the water. The result is crystal clear water. If cloudiness occurs when you add Baking Soda, run the filter (keeping it clean), until pool water clears.

How Baking Soda helps keep eyes from burning

When eyes sting or burn and chlorine odors can be detected from the pool water, the problem is usually one of low pH. A low pH promotes the formation of irritating chlorine-nitrogen by-products. The best way to minimize the formation of these irritating by-products is to control the pH of your pool water.

"Arm & Hammer Baking Soda is a pool owner's best friend."

Note: On occasion, particularly in a new pool or in pools being opened for the season, additional steps are required to bring the pool into balance more rapidly or to clear up problems such as algae growth or mineral accumulation. When these problems arise consult a pool expert in your area.

Test Kits

An accurate Test Kit is very important to avoid inaccurate readings which can cause problems in proper pool maintenance. Testing solutions should be replaced at least once every year.

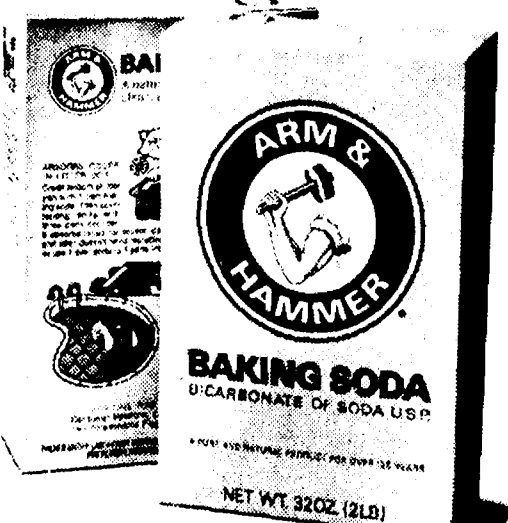

How to estimate your pool's capacity

The average swimming pool contains approximately 20,000 gallons. However, an accurate record of the pool's water capacity is necessary since this measurement is often used to calculate amounts of chemicals for treating the pool water. The following formulas can be used to approximate the total gallons of water a pool will hold.

Type Pool	Dimensions in feet	Gallon Capacity
Rectangular	Length x Width x Avg. Depth x 7.5 =
Circular	Diameter x Dia. x Avg. Depth x 4.7 =
Oval	Length x Width x Avg. Depth x 4.7 =

LWV Answers Voters' Queries

As a service to citizens, the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters (LWV), is responding to questions of interest to the electorate.

Q: On a recent weekend, I encountered quite a few people circulating petitions for various candidates. How does this work?

A: This can be rather complicated. For partisan offices on a State level, e.g. Governor, U.S. Senator or Congress, the office must be filed for by nominating petitions only. The number of signatures required varies according to the office.

Q: I'm 18 but I'm not allowed to register because I don't have a permanent address. How come?

A: You do need an address to register and it must be a residence, not a box number. That's the law.

Q: When is the last day to register for the August 3 primary?

A: The last day is Friday, July 9.

Circus Brings Joy to Many

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees International All-Star Circus, presented Monday, June 7, at South High School, was a first in the community and a huge success, said co-chairmen Jim Ferriole and Ed Serwach.

Both expressed pleasure over the enthusiasm the community displayed in purchasing sponsor tickets at $7.50 for six children. These were presented on behalf of the sponsor to needy and deserving youngsters, including the handicapped and mentally retarded.

The chairman report many children benefitted from these unselfish donations of Pointe and far east side Detroit residents.

Sponsor tickets were presented to the Saint Ambrose Home, the Children's Home of Detroit in Cook road, Saint Francis Home for Boys, Association for Retarded Citizens, Poupard School's special education class, the Northeast Guidance Center's Child Day Treatment Program, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Brownies and a variety of other groups.

Mr. Ferriole said last week that around $21,000 had been pledged with some $14,000 already collected. "Our profits will be based on a $0.50 split with the promoter," he noted, while adding the circus cost was placed at $2,500. The circus is out of Sarasota, Fla.

The circus committee included Greg Wheeler, Dick Sims, Wally Helin, Art Sesi and Joe Lanz. They were assisted by Carol Ferriole, Pam Wheeler, Jackie Crandall and Debbie Mullen, auxiliary president.

Mr. Ferriole added if any citizen is interested in helping the Jaycees in future projects, he will be pleased to hear from members of the community. He may be contacted at 921-2555.

GP Probation Program Slates Special Meeting

The Grosse Pointe Probation Program is holding a special meeting of all volunteers Thursday, June 24, at The Woods Municipal Building, 20025 Mack avenue. The session begins at 7:30 p.m.

Director Jean Anderson said a presentation on the interpersonal dynamics of interviewing and counselling will be given by Gordon J. Blush, MA, a forensic psychologist.

The program is fortunate in having obtained as lecturer for this in-service training, Mr. Blush, who, among other positions, is a professional seminar instructor for the Center for the Administration of Justice and Wayne State University, she said.

He also is co-founder and staff psychologist of the Macomb County Circuit Court Psychodiagnostic Clinic and a professor of psychology at Macomb County Community College.

His background includes extensive work in various programs of the Macomb County Juvenile Court, diagnostic evaluations on pre-sentence criminal cases and among many other undertakings, a private practice.

Volunteers doing pre-sentence investigations will learn ways of reaching beyond the facade of defendants, who are investigated for the court, in order to make accurate assessments and evaluations for the use of municipal court judges in their sentencing.

These assessments and evaluations are of the actual circumstances and reasons behind the anti-social behavior which has brought the individual to this point in his or her life.

Volunteers who are working with probationers, (people who have been ordered on to probation by the courts at time of sentencing), will gain insight into ways of determining their hang-ups and behavioral problems in order to better help the individual improve his or her life.

Instructions in some depth in the techniques of preparing pre-sentence investigations, including the interviewing of police and parents in certain instances, even possibly complainants, will be given by staff members of the program.

Anyone interested in becoming a program volunteer is welcome to attend the meeting. For further information, call the program's office at 885-8228 during its office hours of 9:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Individuals also may write the program at 15206 Mack avenue, Grosse Pointe Park 48230.

In keeping with our theme, artists representing the Grosse Pointe Art Association will be demonstrating their talents. We're also re-creating a Parisian sidewalk cafe. It all happens June 17 and 18. Stop by and see us.

ULS Tops in Class C-D

ULS Takes State Crown

The University Liggett School tennis team won its fifth consecutive, and eighth in the last 11 years, State tennis championship in recent action at Kalamazoo.

The Knights totaled nine points to easily outdistance runner-up Kalamazoo Hackett who had five points. Battle Creek Springfield finished third with five points.

For the first time ULS had two doubles teams meet in the finals, and Jim Manning and Paul VanWalleghem defeated Peter and Jeff Logan in a two hour and 40 minute marathon, 6-3, 6-7, 7-5.

Under net coach Robert Wood, ULS athletic director, the Knights compiled a 16-3 record. This is an especially good mark when one considers that ULS plays a tough tennis schedule. This year ULS played Ann Arbor Pioneer, East Grand Rapids, South and North High Schools, Cranbrook and Detroit Country Day, among others.

"This team was one of the best that we've ever had,"

Woods to Hold Two Hearings

Two public hearings have been set for Monday, June 21, to consider appeals for building permits previously denied. The hearings were unanimously approved by The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, June 7.

A planned addition of an enclosed front porch at the home of Arthur L. Wilhelm, 748 Hampton road, didn't qualify for a permit, according to city Building Inspector Earl J. Wakely, because of a zoning restriction that states that all enclosed structures must be in line with all other structures in the area. By this restriction an open porch of the same dimension would be allowed.

The second appeal concerns a lot at the end of Colonial road which the owner, Robert G. Edgar, plans to divide into sites for two new homes.

His original request for a building permit was denied because the divided lots would not contain the 13,000 square feet required by city codes. According to Mr. Edgar, the two lots would each be larger than 80 percent of the lots on Colonial road.

Farms Offers Swim Lessons

The Farms will offer two sessions of Red Cross swim lessons this summer at the Pier Park. Scheduled for Monday-Friday, the classes will run for four weeks beginning Monday, June 21.

Lessons will be offered for all age groups from four years through adulthood.

Registration will be held at the Pier Park on Saturday, Sunday, June 19-20, from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m.

This year's lessons will feature courses entitled "Basic Water Safety," "Basic Rescue and Water Safety" and "Advanced Lifesaving."

Bid for Seeding Accepted

The Woods Council unanimously accepted the bid of the J. D. Armstrong Landscape Co. at $870 per acre for lawn seeding, fertilizing and mulching at the Lake Front Park.

This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, June 7.

According to the city's specifications for the work, the area to be fine graded, seeded, fertilized and mulched totals approximately 10.7 acres in various park locations. City Administrator Chester E. Petersen told the council possibly more or less than the 10.7 acre figure could be involved.

The monies will be charged to the Lake Front Park Improvement Fund.

NHS Finishes Sixth in State

By Diane Marsteller

North High School's track team defeated South on Tuesday, June 1, as Bill Weidenbach led the way with a record-breaking 1:55.6 in the 880-yard run. However the big day was Saturday, June 5, when the Norsemen traveled to Grand Rapids for the State Championship.

North finished sixth with 29 points in Class "A" while Flint Northern was first with 44 points and Flint Southwestern was second with 33.

There were many great performances in the day but Weidenbach's first place in the mile at 4:18.3 and Dave Lewis' second place in the two mile were highlights.

Dan Beck finished fourth in the hotly-contested 880-yard run. Don Wollenzin was a double point getter with a varsity record-breaking 150'5" toss in the discus, followed by a sixth place finish in the shot put. Rich Nacey tied for sixth place in the pole vault at 12'9".

Coach Tom Gauerke commented, "These guys continually amaze me. Our premeet predictions gave us only 15 points but they all gave us 190 percent."

Guns Removed In Woods B-E

Woods police are currently investigating the break-in of a North Oxford road home in which the culprits took 10 guns. The incident was reported early Thursday morning, June 10.

Officers seized seven handguns, two shotguns and one rifle, all of unknown value, were discovered missing. One of the handguns was a B-B gun.

At the scene, police discovered no signs of forcible entry although the front door and rear porch were found unlocked.

A rug was believed to have been used to carry the guns from the home.

Park Police Nab Suspect in Attempted B-E

A 21-year-old Detroit man, who was allegedly trying to enter Pointe Hardware and Lumber Co., 14950 Mack avenue, was apprehended by patrolling Park police officers Saturday morning, June 12.

The suspect, Lenell Hankins, of 3531 Maryland, was charged with attempt breaking and entering of a business place. He was arraigned in The Park Municipal Court on the 12th and was released on a $250 cash bond, pending his examination on Wednesday, June 23, said Lt. Gordon Duncan.

While going south on Wayburn, Patrolmen Howard Carl and Norman Gangola spotted the suspect crouched near the door lock at the east side of the building, the lieutenant said.

Further investigation revealed that Hankins had a wood chisel in his hand. Lt. Duncan stated the suspect was apparently trying to enter the premises and was arrested.

A warrant on the aforementioned charge was obtained from the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office.

A person may park a bicycle on the roadway at an angle to the curb or edge of the roadway at any location where the parking of vehicles is allowed or on the roadway abreast of another bicycle near the side of the roadway at any location where the parking of vehicles is allowed. A lamp emitting a red light visible from a distance of five hundred feet (500') to the rear may be used in addition to the red reflector.

(B) A person shall not sell, offer for sale, or deliver for sale in this City, a bicycle or a pedal for use on a bicycle, either of which was manufactured after January 1, 1976, unless it is equipped with a type of reflector located on the front and rear surfaces of the pedal. The reflector elements may be either integral with the construction of the pedal or mechanically attached, but shall be sufficiently recessed from the edge of the pedal, or of the reflector housing, to prevent contact of the reflector element with a flat surface placed in contact with the edge of the pedal. The pedal reflectors shall be visible from the front and rear of the bicycle during the nighttime from a distance of 200 feet when directly exposed to the lower beam head lamps of a motor vehicle.

(C) A person shall not sell, offer for sale, or deliver for sale in this City a bicycle manufactured after January 1, 1976, unless it is equipped with either tires which have reflective sidewalls or with wide-angle prismatic spoke reflectors. If the bicycle is equipped with wideangle prismatic spoke reflectors the reflectors of the front wheel shall be essentially colorless or red. Reflective sidewalls or spoke reflectors shall cause the bicycle to be visible from all distances from 100 feet to 600 feet when viewed under lawful low beam motor vehicle head lamps under normal atmospheric conditions.

9-6-23: BELL OR WARNING DEVICE: No person shall operate a bicycle unless it is equipped with a bell or other device capable of giving a signal audible for a distance of at least one hundred feet (100') except that a bicycle shall not be equipped with, nor shall any persons use upon a bicycle a siren or whistle.

9-6-25: OPERATION: No person under the age of twelve (12) years shall operate a bicycle upon any street, highway or alley in the City; provided, however, such person under twelve (12) years of age may operate a bicycle on the sidewalks of the City. nue, through the roof and took an undetermined amount of watches from a display case, some narcotics, an adding machine of unknown value and around $18 dollars in bills and change.

The break-in was discovered by Farms police early Sunday morning, June 6. While on routine patrol, Officer John Kraiza found the rear door of the building standing open. Further investigation of the interior revealed that entry had been gained by knocking a hole through the roof at the northeast corner.

Lines to the alarm box and the main telephone line were cut, (with the alarm being set), the officer said.

Two ceiling tiles were removed and another knocked in half by the culprits. At the point on entry on the roof, a crowbar and saw were discovered, while the debris from the ceiling were piled against the front wall. Beneath them was a flashlight.

Det. Joseph Miller, who's investigating the incident, said last week the complainant is currently in the process of itemizing the missing watches and narcotics.

The Certificate of Occupancy shall state that the Public Service Department has inspected the dwelling or structure and that said Department has determined that the dwelling or structure may be occupied. The Certificate of Occupancy shall also bear this legend in capital letters or bold-face type: "THIS CERTIFICATE DOES NOT CONSTITUTE ANY REPRESENTATION OR WARRANTY AS TO THE CONDITION OF THE DWELLING OR OTHER STRUCTURES ON SAID PREMISES DESCRIBED HEREIN (OR ANY ASPECT OF SUCH CONDITION), AND INTERESTED PERSONS ARE ADVISED AND ENCOURAGED TO MAKE THEIR OWN INSPECTION OF THE PREMISES IN ORDER TO DETERMINE THE CONDITION THEREOF."

This Section shall not apply to any occupancy in existence at the time of the adoption of the ordinance.

H-405.2 Application and Fee: Application for a Certificate of Occupancy may be made by the owner, or his designated agent of a dwelling upon a form provided by the Public Service Department and the payment of an inspection fee as established from time to time by resolution of the Council of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms.

If the dwelling is not in conformance with the minimum standards set forth in Articles 3 and 4 hereof, the Inspector shall give notice of violations within three working days following his inspection, and a Certificate of Occupancy shall not be issued until such standards are complied with to the reasonable satisfaction of the Inspector.

H-405.4 Conditional Certificate of Occupancy: In the event, for any reason, an owner or purchaser requests that a Certificate of Occupancy be issued prior to complete conformance with the minimum standards of this Code and if the absence of complete conformance does not, in the judgment of the Inspector, constitute a material health or safety hazard, a Conditional Certificate of Occupancy may be issued upon the condition that complete conformance be achieved within a reasonable time specified by the Inspector, but in not less than seven (7) days, and the owner's or purchaser's assurance that complete conformance will be achieved by deposit with the City of Grosse Pointe Farms of cash or bond acceptable to the City of Grosse Pointe Farms in an amount as determined by the Public Service Director, but not less than $250 and not more than 150% of the estimated cost of remedying such defects. In the event of issuance of a Conditional Certificate of Occupancy, the owner or purchaser shall notify the Inspector, by or before the end of the time period specified by the Inspector for achieving conformance, that said conformance has been achieved, and a Certificate of Occupancy shall be issued and the owner's or purchaser's bond returned if the Inspector is satisfied as to the owner's or purchaser's compliance. If the owner or purchaser fails to comply as agreed, the Public Service Department may use so much of the cash or bond as is necessary to instigate legal action to secure conformance or to undertake the specified work with return of any balance to the owner or purchaser. In the event that the amount of the cash or bond is not sufficient to cover the entire cost of conformance, then any additional cost hereunder shall be charged against the premises and the owner of said premises, and shall be collected as provided for special assessments in accordance with Ordinance No. 87 of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms.

League loop was Minnesota's whopping 18-4 win over Northwestern June 7 breaking their seven game losing streak. Alan Kronk homered three times in the game, and one was a grand slam. Eric Laudermilk struck out 14.

Michigan took their pet rival Ohio State, 10-4, on June 7. But OSU bounced back June 9, routing Purdue, 23-6. Amy Armbruster and Duke York homered for Purdue. Carl Stat doubled twice.

Tom Rohr orbited two for OSU and Don Kuhnlein had one. Big two baggers were socked by Tim Maniere, Tom Moran, Phil Agby and Bob Stakov. Bruce Thomas belted two. Regan Alfonso jumped on a ball in deep right field and threw it perfectly to catcher, Pat Fleming, to nip the runner at home.

It was outstanding play week for National League Red Legs' Pat Boll. On June 8 he struck out 11 Giants which helped earn a 15-14 win in extra innings. Teammate Dom Ceaser parked a left field homer.

Though the Reds went down 14-5 on June 10 to the Braves and 19-13 on June 12 to the Cards, (first Cards victory over the Red Legs in four years), Boll was in there with extraordinary batting and defensive center-field moves. He homered and doubled against the Braves. Jeff Lucas pitched the win on his birthday.

The match with the Cards was exciting on both sides. Boll hit a homer in the second inning and came back in the third and grand slammed —his second for the season and second against the Cardinals. Mike Allen doubled three times.

On the other side of the field the Cards had spectacular defensive action highlighted by a double play from second to first. Todd McCoy pitched three innings and belted two doubles. Todd Venderbush had a couple of two baggers.

On June 8, the Cards were defeated by the Dodgers, 6-3, and on June 10 by the Giants, 9-7. McCoy took the front seat for great Cards' homers. He had one in each game.

Joe Yott gunned a homer for the Dodgers and Joe Craig went full tilt with outstanding pitching rivaling Jamie Dupree throughout.

The Giant's win was determined by triples from Carter Hines and Willie Rousek. Chris Bowen was in there with a double and three innings of "tough stuff" pitching. Richie Moeller hurled six good innings of his own for the Cards.

On June 8, 10 and 12, the Pirates topped the Braves, 5-2, the Dodgers, 12-4, and the Giants 6-3, respectively.

Tony Alfonso doubled and pitched three innings for the Braves. Tom Emmerich and Doug Ross shared the mound for the Pirates to hold their victory.

In the not so close match with the Dodgers, Yott "plugged" 11 Pirates with strikeouts and smashed a fourth inning homer. Tom Herndon fired six innings for the Pirates. Mike Lyon tripped twice.

The Emmerich-Ross pitching cost the Giants their game with the Pirates.

On June 12, the Dodgers rallied to squeak the Braves, 21-7. Bill Kohr hurled the win, ousted eight Braves with "down the pipe" pitching and got four hits driving four runs home.

The week's American League action opened with the Senators' 13-7 win over the Athletics. Steve Schapelle led the Senators' offensive attack with a left field homer, a double and a single. John Terriere drove a homer over the centerfield fence.

"Double doubles" were lambasted by Mark McCormick, John Terrace and Matt Hanson.

On June 9, the Senators bowed to the Orioles, 9-6. Four unearned Birds' runs in the first inning made the difference in this game. Ken Vermuelen smashed a second inning homer for the Orioles with two doubles coming from Murray Smith.

A long duel with the White Sox ended in a Senator 24-21 loss on June 11. Terriere led his team off with a homer, but Sox extra base hits made the difference. Larry Edwards and Karl Stronski got one each.

The Orioles beat the Yankees, 11-8, on June 7. Garner Davies parked a Yankee homer in the third inning with two on, while the Birds' Devon Jeffrey grand slammed in the fourth.

On June 9, the Yanks got zipped, 12-2, by the White Sox. Ken Hawk clobbered a homer for the Sox.

John Astfalk headed the June 11 defensive attack on the Orioles, backed by excellent Athletics' fielding, and was the winning pitcher, 12-6.

The Indians won all their games. On June 7, they beat the Sox, 12-11. Marty Montagne slugged three doubles. Tedd Aurelius bombed two doubles for the Indians.

On June 9, the A's got squashed, 8-1. Larry Bauer socked two homers for the Indians.

Instructional League games started on June 8 with a Michigan State-Air Force tie, 2-2. (Chris Ross homered for MSU and "BBI" O'Connell smacked one for AF.)

Army inched by Notre Dame, 17-16. Paul Berezowski homered for Army. Another teammate contributing to the win included Richard Waller with two doubles.

The Marines bootied Illinois, 13-10. Arf Shaalan got a homer for Marines. Three big belts came from Illinois' players Chris Gibney, Al Ament and Kendall Berkey. Illinois then fell to Air Force on June 10, 12-8.

Notre Dame came back the same day to crunch Navy.

Ruth Loop Has Lots of Action

By Julian Thomas

The Metropolitan Club Indians (though outit 11-5, took the measure of the D. M. Egan Tigers, 5-3, in recent Babe Ruth League action. Lenny Bartoszewicz started and had relief help from Tom Borland. Borland had two hits as did Jim Miller. For the Tigers, Steve Brant went four-for-four and Tim Gallagher and Jim Heidt had two hits each.

Then, the Burger Chef White Sox dumped the Indians, 8-6. The Sox came out swinging in the first inning, scoring five runs on five hits. Kevin McMahon picked up the win, bringing his record to four wins and a save.

Mike Bevier led the Sox offense with two doubles, Tom Martinelli had a triple and Mark Schonenberg, two RBIs. Tom Borland had two doubles for the Indians and Len Bartoszewicz, a triple.

The Indians clubbed the Ram's Horn Oakland A's, 11-1. John Cammett and Mike Mahon each had two hits and every starting player for the Indians had a hit.

Tom Borland pitched a strong game, fanning 10 and going to the fifth before losing his bid for a no-hitter. Indian Tom McHugh, blasted a homer while going three-for-three.

In the All-American League, the Venderbush Sheet Metal Expo's downed the GP Jaycees, 11-7. Jimmy Williams went the route for the win.

List Swimmers Using New Pool

A list of swimmers who are currently training at the new 50-meter competitive pool at the Lake Front Park between 6-8 a.m. was completed by The Woods last week.

A total of 54 natators, made up of members of the Fitzgerald Swim Club and the North High School swim team, are utilizing the facility.

Of this number, 23 are reported to be Woods citizens, five are Shores residents and 26 others are non-residents of The Pointe. The latter group are associated with the Fitzgerald Swim Club, with some being members.

Last month, the council by a 4-3 vote permitted the use of the pool by the group from June 1-30 at a cost of $25. per day, with the city retaining the right to terminate the activity at any time.

Four citizens expressed their displeasure over the action at the Monday, June 7, meeting and requested such a breakdown of swimmers using the facility.

The wines of the Rheingau are considered by many to be the finest white wines in the world. The vineyards stretch along a south-facing slope on the right bank of the Rhine. The climate of this district is well suited for grapes. The river gives reflected heat, light and humidity, while to the north the wooded Taunus mountains provide the necessary protection from northerly winds. Over 70% of the wines are made from the riesling grape. Just 15 miles further east lie the vineyards of Hockheim, from which the term Hock is derived.

PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 features the finest in white wines for your selection. Surprise Dad on Father's Day with a bottle of his favorite wine, white or red, or let us custom create a gift basket with an array of wines and cheeses. Free delivery. Open: 10-10 Mon-Thurs; 10-11 Fri. Sat; noon-10 Sun.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

A few words need to be said about the demolition of Rose Terrace. It is now beyond saving, but perhaps something can be learned from the loss of one of the greatest and best buildings listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Rose Terrace was the finest house that was ever built or ever will be built in Michigan. It was the master creation of a world-renowned American architect. It was an esthetic triumph for the dozens of artists, artisans and craftsmen who worked on it.

Is our Michigan environment so rich in things of rare and exquisite beauty that we can be indifferent to the destruction of one of the greatest examples of art and taste ever created in this State by human talent?

We would not be indifferent to the destruction by vandalism of a fine painting or piece of sculpture at the Art Institute. Yet when we ourselves tolerate the destruction of a superb work of art, our senses are dulled to the real meaning of what we are doing by permitting Rose Terrace to be destroyed.

Such disrespect for the fine things mankind has created accounts in part for the monotonous, mass-produced, plastic appearance of so much of our man-made environment.

The answer, of course, does not lie in saving everything. A society that does so will not be very dynamic and will not provide very well for all the needs of its people. But our priorities should include the ability to save the real treasures, such as Rose Terrace, that the past has given us. The laws and the public means to do so should be provided.

It is not always best to entrust esthetic values entirely to commercial interests. We are slowly learning that Lake Superior cannot be completely entrusted to the mining companies, streams to chemical plants or forests to lumber interests. A reasonable balance has to be struck.

In the case of Rose Terrace it has not been. A gem that hardly anyone wants to see demolished is going to be.

The public is not organized to prevent the razing from happening, but we are not going to be richer or happier when it is gone — only poorer, and perhaps a little wiser. We should ask ourselves, "Is this what we really wanted to have happen? What went wrong that can be corrected by better procedures that work in the public interest?"

Woods Set to Consider Senior Citizens Grant

By Roger A. Waha

The Woods Council is scheduled to consider a grant application in behalf of senior citizens at its regular meeting Monday, June 21, as this matter was unanimously tabled to that date at the Monday, June 7, session.

Administrative Aide Gerard McNamara reported the city recently received notice from the Detroit-Wayne County Area Agency on Aging that grant applications for seniors' programs will be due on Wednesday, July 7.

He suggested that the city apply for funds but limit its application, unlike last year, to a home maintenance program.

"Normally, the recommendation that the city seek this grant money would come from the Senior Citizens Commission," said Mr. McNamara in a memo to City Administrator Chester E. Petersen.

"However, it appears that the commission will not be able to meet and formulate a recommendation in a timely manner. I, therefore, recommend that, in anticipation of future concurrence on the part of the commission, we seek the council's permission to apply for funds in behalf of our senior citizens."

Last year, the city applied for such funds and were unsuccessful in its efforts.

"We discovered, during arbitration proceedings, that we did, however, qualify for grant money, but were denied because (1) the total of the requests exceeded the funds available, and (2) there were agencies which were able to demonstrate a greater need," said Mr. McNamara.

The home maintenance program is designed to assist senior citizens to remain in their homes. "Under this grant program, the city would create a service group which would initially, on a subscription basis, perform lawn maintenance and snow removal chores," he stated.

"Other maintenance chores such as storm window and screen installation and gutter cleaning would be performed as the need for the service increased."

The city's application to the Agency on Aging last year was in the amount of $99,948. The monies were broken down in such categories as home maintenance, home nursing component, homemaker service, buddy system and information and referral.

But this year Mr. McNamara suggested the city "concentrate on the one area which would do the most good," i.e., home maintenance.

He indicated the seniors would pay for such services "based upon, hopefully, the users' ability to pay." At the same time, he hoped a list of subscribers could be developed to make the program self-supporting.

Mr. McNamara added the seniors endorsed such a program last year.

The administrative aide had earlier said the city receives very little in services from Wayne County, with money made available to the county in property taxes and the city getting "very little in return."

As a result, he feels that participating in such a program is beneficial, not only in the area of helping seniors, but also in obtaining services from the county for The Woods, (and the other Pointes for that matter).

However, what specifically happens on the grant application awaits a determination by the council.

Center Offering Ballet Evenings

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial presents its twenty-third annual Evenings of Ballet, under the direction of Miss Mary Ellen Cooper. This will take place at the Fries Auditorium tonight, June 17, and tomorrow, June 18, at 8 p.m.

It is impossible to name all the participants, but included are Anne Berry, Janet Bristol, Pat Blinkhorn, Sara Blich, Cindy Ehrlich, Sally Face, Gail Hammond, Kristine Finger, Marie Leithaus, Anna Platt, Peggi Posch, Kathy Rowe, Martha Wenz, Ann Wilson and Melanie Yanchuk who will all perform in the main Ballet. These students have reached intermediate status by passing four examinations in the Cecchetti method of Ballet. Misses Face, Hammond, Platt and Rowe are senior students having passed their grade V examinations.

One View from the Capitol

By William Bryant

The filing deadline for candidates to enter legislative races has passed and for some strange reason which I do not really understand, no Democrat filed to run against me.

It is a humbling thing to happen. Seriously, I know that I cannot and that no representative can vote all the time the way all the people would like. It is plainly impossible.

All I can say is that I will treat this lack of opposition as placing on me an extra and special burden to try even harder to represent all the people of the district as they would have me represent them.

One thing which I will do is to try to create a citizen's advisory committee to aid me in studying and taking positions on complex issues.

There are groups which I feel I need to hear from in a more structured and constructive way and I also will pursue ways to elicit more meaningful input from them.

The issues which we deal with in State Government are important, especially to the recipients of State services and to businesses which are bound by the legal and tax framework provided by State laws.

My overall hope is that we enter a new era in which essential services are better defined and delivered and in which State Government can provide consumers and employees legitimate protections.

Early last month the 1976 Pulitzer Prizes for Literature were awarded. This year prizes were given for the categories of Fiction, History, Biography, Poetry and General Nonfiction.

In addition to literature, Pulitzer Prizes are awarded each year in the United States for distinguished achievement in journalism, drama and music. The prizes were established by Joseph Pulitzer, a newspaper publisher who founded the "St. Louis Post-Dispatch."

Pulitzer's will provided $2 million for Columbia University to establish a school of journalism. Pulitzer specified that after the school had operated for at least three years, prizes should be awarded for the advancement of education, journalism, literature, music, public morals and public service. The Columbia University School of Journalism was founded in 1912, and the first Pulitzer Prizes were awarded in 1917.

The prizes are awarded annually on the first Monday in May by the trustees of Columbia University on the recommendation of the Advisory Board on the Pulitzer Prizes. With approval of the Advisory Board, Columbia University recommends jurors to vote on entries in each of the categories.

The literature jurors usually consist of three distinguished writers, critics or academic authorities. Each jury makes from three to six recommendations to the Advisory Board. The board may accept or reject the findings of any jury or make substitute recommendations.

If the Advisory Board feels that no nominated book is worth a prize, the prize may be withheld. If there is no recommendation from the board, the trustees of Columbia University cannot vote a prize. The trustees cannot change a recommendation of the Advisory Board or act if there is no recommendation, but they can refuse to vote on a Board recommendation and thus withhold a prize. The trustees have used this authority only once.

In 1962, they refused to accept the board's recommendation that W. A. Swanberg receive the 1961 biography prize for his book "CITIZEN HERST." The trustees gave no reason for their decision. Saul Bellow, whom the Pulitzer Prize has eluded on

Guilty Verdict Issued in Ohio

An Ohio jury handed down a guilty verdict, (aggravated murder), against a Dearborn man on Tuesday, June 8, in the death of Pointer James J. Crawford.

A sentencing date for William V. Mabozy, 38, was not set because he must first undergo psychiatric examination.

The 12-member jury handed down the verdict after a three week trial and four hours of deliberation.

Others charged in connection with Mr. Crawford's death are John S. Garside and his common-law wife, Sharon Scheurrell. Chester S. Wysocki, who admitted being part of a kidnap plot, exchanged his testimony for immunity from murder charges.

Mr. Crawford was found stabbed to death in a wooded area of central Ohio last December 11 — eight days after police said he was abducted from the parking lot of a National Bank of Detroit branch where he worked.

He was 25 and lived in St. Clair avenue with his parents, James W. and Theresa Crawford.

Rites in St. Paul's For Renee Adams

She Wears Mother's Wedding Gown for Noon Ceremony at Which She is Wed to William Christopher Schulte

Jamaica and Haiti were the vacation destinations of Mr. and Mrs. William Christopher Schulte following their Saturday, June 5, wedding in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore, and a reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Father James Cronk and Father Albert Hillebrand presided at the noon rites, for which the bride's youngest brother, George Adams, served as lector.

Mrs. Schulte is the former Renee Irene Adams, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Adams, of Warner road. Mr. Schulte is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. Schulte, of South Euclid, O.

The newlyweds will be making their home in Royal Oak.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of candlelight satin, fashioned with a long train, and Queen Anne crown of Chantilly lace holding a silk illusion veil. Lily-of-the-valley accents from her grandmother's wedding dress trimmed the bridal petticoat.

Gardenias and stephanotis formed the bridal bouquet.

Susan Kramer To Say Vows

Pastor Larry Michael came from Grosse Pointe Woods' First English Lutheran Church to officiate at the 7:30 o'clock rites, which were followed by a reception at the Women's City Club of Evanston.

The newlyweds vacationed in Hawaii and will make their home in Evanston, where both had been residing prior to their marriage.

The bride chose a long, white, garden-type gown trimmed in old-fashioned lace for her evening wedding. She wore a lace-trimmed picture hat, and carried white daisies, stephanotis and yellow rosebuds.

She was attended by her sister, Patty Jobbitt, in a soft floral print on blue gown. John Marshall was his brother's best man. The mother of the bride selected a formal length gown, featuring a soft floral print on light beige. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink on blue print, also floor length. Yellow rosebuds accented the white daisies in Mrs. Jobbitt's corsage. Pink rosebuds accented the bridegroom's mother's daisies.

A gown of white organza and Venice lace, Empire-waisted, short-sleeved and featuring a Victorian, illusion neckline, was chosen by Ellen Louise Batts for her Saturday, June 5, wedding to Edward Arthur Jongsma, Jr.

Hello, Ludwig; Hello, Ben

Detroit Concert Band Director Leonard B. Smith is known as an innovative programmer, (last year he instituted "Waltzing with the Band Nights"), generous with encores and shares John Philip Sousa's aim to "make music for the people" — all of them.

This season, he's invited some very special people to enjoy the world-famous DCB's Summer Festival Programs beginning next Wednesday, June 23, at Belle Isle.

Would you believe Ludwig Van Beethoven, alias Russell P. Livermore, Jr., of Manchester boulevard? And Ben Franklin who, when he's not out flying his kite, goes under the name of F. Bryan Melvin, and lives in South Oxford road?

Ludwig, Ben and several friends, (Mozart, Haydn, George Washington, Paul Revere), showed up at a recent concert in Masonic Temple, and were such a hit that Director Smith invited them back whenever they'd like to come.

The open invitation runs the length of the Festival, through August 15, for Wednesday through Sunday programs either on Belle Isle or at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

Further information may be obtained by calling 886-0394.

Goodbye, Monique and Jacques

It's a sad spring for local Francophiles, for French Consul General Jacques Dircks-Dilly and Mme. Dircks-Dilly, Monique, are leaving Detroit this weekend, and everybody wishes they weren't. We all like the people we like to stay close to hand.

For the Dircks-Dillys, it's a sad-happy time: they're looking forward to his new posting in Sydney, Australia; at the same time, they hate to say goodbye to their many friends here.

Those friends have been making sure Monique (Continued on Page 32)

Croft-Monroe Rites Planned

Plans for a mid-afternoon wedding in Old Christ Church Sunday, July 4, have been made by Frances Virginia Hills (Mrs. C. Allison) Monroe, of Woodbridge drive, St. Clair Shores, formerly of Moross place, and Harry Packard Croft, of Southport, Conn.

The 3 o'clock rites with The Reverend Samuel S. Johnston officiating will be followed by a reception at the Country Club of Detroit.

After a trip to Traverse City to visit the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Pierce Hills, and to Bermuda, the newlyweds will be making their home in Southport.

Peter Monroe is coming from Clearwater, Fla., for his mother's wedding. Mr. Croft's daughter and son, Mrs. Fred Mason, of Marietta, O., and James Croft, of Simsbury, Conn., will be here, as will Mr. and Mrs. Bart Holaday and Clint Goodrich, coming from the East.

Mrs. Monroe plans to wear a yellow chiffon dress with a re-embroidered Alencon lace bodice for her marriage to Mr. Croft, a graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, holder of a doctoral degree from Case Institute of Technology, retired as vice-president of the Copper Range Company and president of Contemporary Research, Inc.

He is also retired from the United States Army with the rank of Colonel.

Form Science Center Friends

Science education will get a helping hand in Detroit when Detroit and suburban-area cultural and community leaders interested in the Detroit Science Center's expanding associate membership program gather at an informal koffee klatch next Wednesday, June 23, at 10:30 o'clock at the Science Center in East Forest avenue.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Mitchell Kafarski of Bloomfield Hills, the group will form the nucleus of an associate membership task force to expand awareness of the Science Center and recruit support for the major science museum now being erected in the Detroit cultural center.

Members of the public interested in becoming a part of the membership program are invited to attend, and requested to notify the Center in advance by calling 833-1892.

The short meeting will be followed by a tour of the pilot museum and an invitation to see the construction site of the new $5 million building at John R and Warren avenues.

Organized as a public, non-private corporation in 1970, the Detroit Science Center is expected to serve 100,000 visitors this year with its "hands-on" exhibits and demonstration programs.

Plans are to complete the 36,250-square-foot permanent museum, with its dramatic space theater, by December, 1977.

FRANK H. MUSTAZZA, of Hollywood avenue, has been inducted into Omicron Delta Kappa men's leadership honorary at Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, O.

Exhibit Traces Pointe Heritage

With the demolition ball poised to destroy Rose-Terrace forever, it is good to know there are people, like The Questers, working to save and preserve our heritage.

Ribbon Farms Questers' Chapter has prepared an exhibit, on display at the Grosse Pointe Central Library through Saturday, June 26, focussing on the "heritage" pieces of its own members.

Among items on display are a Carnival Glass fruit bowl and a beautiful cut glass bowl. The library has many illustrated, descriptive books which can provide background information on the pieces.

The exhibit is presented by Ribbon Farms as a community service. Included is a map of Early Grosse Pointe, showing the ribbon farms of the Rivards, the Fishers, and "Mrs. Moross" (Moross), among others.

Festival Time For Hilberry

The seventh summer theater festival at Wayne State University, with the accent on musicals, has been scheduled for June 30 through August 14 at the Hilberry Theatre and the Studio Theatre, downstairs at the Hilberry.

The summer repertory company will present Stephen Sondheim's "Company," the 1970 Broadway musical hit, and Neil Simon's "The Good Doctor," a 1973 comedy with music based on stories by Anton Chekhov.

For children, the company will offer matinee performances of another comedy with music, "Sacramento Fifty Miles," written by Eleanor and Ray Harder and based on the lives of the Sacramento Musicians.

"Company," directed by Russell Smith, will run July 8 through 24. "The Good Doctor," directed by Richard Spear, July 30 through August 14. Performances are planned Wednesday through Saturday at 8:30 o'clock.

The children's play, directed by Gary M. Witt, runs June 30 through July 29. Performances are Tuesdays at 1 o'clock, Wednesdays and Thursdays at 10:30 in the morning.

The Studio Theatre will present a double bill by the Festival's Black Theatre Company, under the direction of Martin Moulson, and Edward Albee's "Seascape," performed by another cast under the direction of Robert T. Hazzard.

"The Owl Killer" by Philip Hayes Dean, author of "The Sty of the Blind Pig," will be the curtain-raiser for "Black Girl," J. E. Franklin's off-Broadway success, running July 7 through 24.

"Seascape," Albee's Pulitzer Prize and Tony Award-winning play of the 1975 season, will play July 28 through August 14. Performances are Wednesday through Saturday at 8:30 o'clock.

Issuing Call for Volunteers to Assist League-Goodwill Project

All of the clients are in special school situations during the school year, and are referred to the summer program by the State's Offices of Services For the Blind.

Especially needed is a van driver who either has or can obtain a chauffeur's license to drive the group on field trips one day each week.

Volunteers' hours can be arranged. Meals and transportation expenses will be furnished. Anyone interested in working with this group may contact Wilma Price, volunteer coordinator, TRinity 3-3600, for further information.

A League-Goodwill social worker and mobility instructor will work with the group assisted by the volunteers.

Hours will be 9 to 3 o'clock Monday through Thursday. Purpose of the program is to provide vocational exposure and social adjustment for a group of 15 visually-impaired persons in the 18 to 25 age group who, because of their handicap, have had limited experiences. Included will be mobility instruction and a variety of field trips, (some to businesses), and recreational areas.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

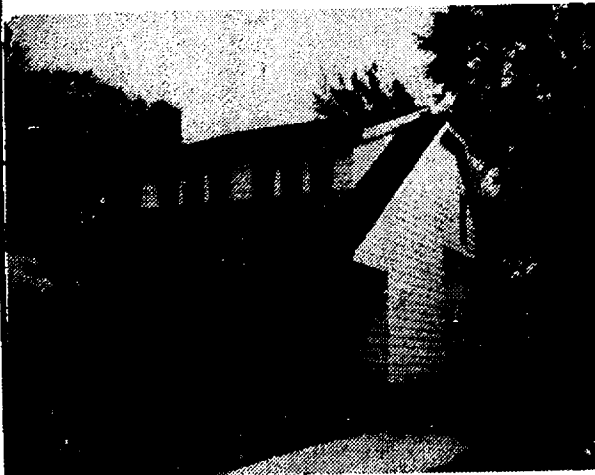

Some general features of houses appeal to some sorts of people: the type of style of house you choose, is mainly a matter of personal taste. But there are general features, not really structural in nature, which may also be important for you to consider. Some questions you may want to answer are: which way does the house face (especially if you like plants)? Is the arrangement and size of rooms good? How about natural light and cross-ventilation? Do the rooms provide enough wall space or storage space? Does the plan permit some flexibility of living arrangements? If these questions are satisfied, then your choice is probably a good one for you and your family.

Also very important is the condition of various working parts of your next home. An inspection will rarely point out a faulty furnace or a dishwasher that is about to stop forever. That's why Electronic Realty Associates, one year warranty is so valuable. Your furnace, hot water heater, built-in appliances, electrical system, plumbing system and central air conditioning are all covered with the owner paying only a $100.00 deductible. Only Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co., 882-0087 can deliver you this very important warranty with your next home.

DID YOU KNOW?

Foundation walls on new homes should extend at least six inches above the finish ground level.

Introducing Sabroso. “Savory, delicious, palatable, tasty, pleasant, delightful...”

—Appleton's New Spanish-English Dictionary.

Who are we to quarrel with noted authorities?

After all, we make Sabroso Imported Coffee Liqueur to be the richest, smoothest coffee liqueur you can buy.

Some say it's the world's richest coffee liqueur. They can go on saying it.

We gather the finest coffee beans in all of Mexico to make Sabroso. They provide the flavor, the body, the coffee-ness that extracts just do not have.

Try it straight. On the rocks. Or in a mixed drink. After dinner—or after anything. You'll see why we insist on making Sabroso from scratch.

Yet at $6.10, this rich liqueur is many pesos less than the leading brand.

Our liqueur is so rich, we had to call it "Sabroso"—Spanish for "savory, delicious, palatable," etc. That's why of all the coffee liqueurs, we get rave reviews in every Spanish-English dictionary.

© 1976 Mexican Coffee Liqueur
50 Proof. Imported by United International Brands, N.Y., N.Y.

We call our coffee liqueur Sabroso. In Mexico they call it delicious.

By George Polgar, Jr.

Long before the CB radio caught the fancy of America's craze-makers, the rasp and crackle of the airwaves was music to the ears of a more select group of radio hobbyists. Actually, calling ham radio operators hobbyists belittles the seriousness and sophistication of their pastime.

Everett M. Hawley, of South Oxford Road, operates a 1000 watt radio transmitter from a 720-foot tower in the basement of his home.

There is more to see in this little room than meets the eye. It is in the whole of an average house.

Sitting in a green leather upholstered chair, Mr. Hawley feeds a battery of lights and dials. Flicking a switch, he needs barely to quiver his lips and a stream of small viewing screens.

"Oh, it's not really that complicated," he assured, answering a startled look.

World in One Room
The walls, covered with framed certificates, book shelves and the cards from all the countries Mr. Hawley has contacted, brought a business to the room without any human connection.

Telephones and tools here and there around the cubicle added to the atmosphere of activity in the space barely big enough to turn around in.

Mr. Hawley, a retired lawyer and Certified Public Accountant, took up ham radio as a hobby after a heavy workload resulted in a long illness.

"Little too much work and the old ticker warned me to stop bringing the whole day home in my briefcase," he said.

Mr. Hawley and his wife Alice moved to Grosse Pointe in 1942 from Washington, D.C., where he had been a partner in an international CPA firm and a practicing lawyer.

After taking his law degree at American University in Washington, Mr. Hawley worked as a Special Agent in Charge of the Treasury Department. But that's a whole different story.

The Hawleys have one son, seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. This too is another story in itself.

Retirement has hardly given Mr. Hawley the opportunity to sit around the house. Presently, he is serving as vice-president of the State Board of Accountancy and also as chairman of the board of Walsh College.

RACES OFF
Relating to his radio interests, Mr. Hawley is the Wayne County officer of the Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Service (RACES), a nationwide group of hams assisting Civil Defense and the Red Cross in times of crisis. Membership in a number of other ham radio clubs and the military has an occasional article for ham magazines rounds out his spare-time interests.

If the origin of the term "ham" is confusing, knowing that it is short for amateur equipment... should make things clearer (or does it?).

"Well, it's like the reverse of the British. (Cockney). There's a New Fresh Shipment... of Turnbull's mustard at the Merry Mouse. It's great with Norwegian Forland (Swiss) type cheese. Kercheval corner of Notre Dame. See the new selection of Lucite and vermillion items and cheese servers.

hams are idle challenges falls that Hams, most of them well versed in the intricacies of electronics, do much of their own repair work and like Mr. Hawley build much of their equipment.

"Some of it you build with kits," Mr. Hawley said, "and then you modify surplus telephone company machines for a lot of it."

When Mr. Hawley is not busy working on his equipment, he likes to get together with other hams and help them with the bugs out of their gear.

There are plenty of hams to get together with. In the Detroit area there are about 4000 active operators. In Michigan there are 11,000, and 30,000 nationwide. In the rest of the world hams number somewhat fewer than the American total.

The club members of all ham radio stations both in the U.S. and abroad are listed in call books that resemble the yellow city telephone directories.

Making long distance contacts is one of the most interesting aspects of a radio hobby. When a ham makes contact with a distant station the conversation is usually an exchange of personal information, discussion of respective equipment and often the setting of a date for further communication. Since English is the international language of the airwaves, American hams have no trouble talking to hams anywhere else in the world.

QSO Cards Go Out

The sending of QSO cards between hams is a double purpose. (A QSO card bears the ham's name, call sign and location. The initials are taken from the wire code meaning, what is your location?). They provide any information a ham might need to call, write or visit the fellow hams.

"That's the greatest thrill of long distance contact: when you get the opportunity to hear a fellow ham having conversations with for months or years," Mr. Hawley said, pointing to a picture of a ham and radio friend who lives in Florence, Italy.

The cards also serve as an impressive display of a ham's radio trophy collection. Some of Mr. Hawley's cards come from such varied locations as France, Japan, The Congo, Peru, India, Columbia, Russia and even Antarctica.

The message—KRTT calling WITUW with traffic—is another way of saying that a ham is helping someone beat the high cost of calling long distance. Mostly between continents.

Some hams will arrange to have exchange students and their parents get in touch around the holidays," said Mr. Hawley. "It's nice for everybody, and cheap too."

Sometimes the traffic is heavier than happy hams are ya's. Thanks to ham radio operators, communications have been a hard time for everybody, and cheap too.

Grosse Pointe North High School teacher J. JOIN E. FOX is the new president-elect of the Michigan Council of Teachers of English. Mr. Fox, who served as first vice-president of MCTE during the 1975-76 school year, is the first local teacher to be elected to his current office in more than 25 years. Mr. Fox is a Bachelor of Arts degree from Milton College, Milton, Wis., and his master of Arts from the University of Wisconsin, and has done additional graduate work at Wayne and Michigan State Universities and the University of Michigan. He has taught English in Grosse Pointe for the past 25 years. Mr. Fox is also an associate chairman of the Ethnic Literature Sectional Meeting held at the University of Wisconsin, San Diego. He introduced the Black Literature Sectional Meeting of the MCTE's 1974 convention in New Orleans.

Mr. Fox is also a member of the Detroit News Scholastic Writing Awards for the past 20 years, as a member of the National Writing Awards board of directors for the past two years, and as an executive committee member for the South News Scholastic Education Association for the past five years.

earthquake in Guatemala were kept open until regular phone and mail services were restored.

Help In Disasters

Here in Detroit a doctor, whose wife and children were in Guatemala during the earthquake, was directed by the Red Cross to seek the aid of ham operators in getting word to his family. He did so and learned happily that they were safe.

One of the places radio is the only link with the rest of the world.

"Once I handled a call from the wife of a navy man in the jungles of Peru," said Mr. Hawley. "She wanted to find out about her mother's health. I told her that the lady had recently died, and so I arranged to have her mother called here from South America."

In May, hams assisted in the rescue of a 68-foot tug that was stuck in a hole while en route to the U.S. from Japan. Setting up what is known as a group of hams maintained contact with the stricken vessel for 24 hours until a Coast Guard cutter arrived.

If being a white knight of the airwaves isn't exciting enough to try ham radio, there's a hobby, how about the prospect of picking up on some little known facts about well known names?

Did you know that Barry Goldwater is a ham? If you ever contact him over radio he might tell you about his electronic flag pole that raises the stars and stripes at a stroke to tell you that he's home.

Or you might even come across Arthur Godfrey, a ham, who has been a ham since the 1930s. Remember General tripe Lemay who ran for vice president with George Wallace? Since he's been out of SAC, (Strategic Air Command) he's been a ham.

and Jacques take the best of end-of-Detroit-assignment memories "Down Under" with them.

M. Dircks-Dilly performed his last official duty here for the French government at the farewell party Mireille and Warren Wilkinson hosted mid-week last week, at their Woodland place home.

It was a most pleasant duty: conferring the Chevalier des Palmes Academiques, awarded for furthering cultural relations between America and France, on three Pointers, Mrs. Guillemette Bachrach, Dr. Antoine Nahoum, and hostess Mireille Wilkinson, and the Chevalier dans l'Ordre National du Merite on Anne Frangas.

Anne, the Consul-General's private secretary, is a veteran of 27 years' service in the French Foreign Office.

The night was as beautiful as the party. Every one dined outdoors, with Warren giving the after-dinner toast to the departing party. The Menus Dancers performed their intricate figures. The Little band from the Cafe Cadeaux played for "modern" dancing and moonlight strolling.

The Dircks-Dillys left with a picture, one of two Mireille had mounted and framed and waiting for guests to sign as they arrived.

Among the 27 guests were Consul of Lebanon Samir Z. Kouril, Vice Consul of France Jean Maguere, Mrs. Joyce Garrett, head of Detroit's Bicentennial Commission, and a passel of Pointers, including the Frank Donovans, the Ralph McElvenny's, the Thomas Monroes, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Vance, Jr., the Ted Wickes, the Peter Strohs and the R. Alexander Wickes.

Sunday saw another lovely farewell fete for Monique and Jacques: an afternoon reception hosted by the Alliance Francaise de Detroit, the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe and the French Women's Benevolent Club, at the Washington road home of Dr. and Mrs. Garfield Tournay.

hams in the White House? President Herbert Hoover was an ardent ham radio hobbyist, (a diversion he took up to relieve depression, no doubt).

"I can't even call my basic ham radio set for about $150, there is more to ham radio than that," said Mr. Hawley. "The Federal Communications Commission issues amateur licenses to hams who must pass a rigorous examination. Prospective hams are tested on code copying, understanding of transmitter theory and familiarity with rules and regulations of amateur radio operation."

One of the strictest rules is that hams may conduct no business over their sets.

"I can't even call my office and tell them I'll be coming in a little late," (hams can patch into regular phone lines), said Mr. Hawley. "But I can call my wife and tell her to call my office."

Hams welcome newcomers to their ranks and often help beginners in finding frequencies and making contacts. "Here, we might make a ham out of you yet," said Mr. Hawley, extending the radio amateur handbook.

If there are any Hams or Ham-to-be reading this, remember to join RACES. Mr. Hawley says that with the "Skyway" project underway they can use 60 more volunteers.

"This is K1FTT, excuse me," intones a third voice during a pause in another conversation. "Mr. Hawley said, 'We'll be switching over to simplex, do you mind if I try?'"

"That's the big difference between hams and CB operators," Mr. Hawley said. "We don't try to out over others on the same frequency. Hams are courteous and share their rights to use the airwaves."
