LABOR DEPARTMENT investigators have found that hundreds of millions of dollars in the Teamster Union's Central States Pension Fund is unaccounted for, and the department is considering putting Federal trustees in charge of the fund, sources close to the investigation said Wednesday. In addition, the investigators are gathering evidence for possible indictments against some of the 16 present trustees of the $1.4 billion pension fund for the way that they handled the money, although a Labor Department source said that the indictments were six to nine months away.

Friday, June 25

DETROIT CITY attorneys said they will move in court to close several Detroit adult movie theaters and bookstores as a result of a U.S. Supreme Court decision announced Thursday. The 5-4 decision upheld a 1972 city ordinance prohibiting adult theaters and bookstores from locating within 1,000 feet of similar establishments or other regulated businesses such as beer parlors, hotels, pawnshops, pool halls or shoe-shine parlors. Assistant city attorney Maureen Reilly said the decision "will stop the influx of adult bookstores that are turning our commercial strips into sex strips."

Saturday, June 26

THE SUPREME COURT on Friday barred most private schools from excluding blacks on the basis of their race. In a 7-2 decision, the court said a 110-year-old Federal law "prohibits private, commercially operated non-sectarian schools from denying admission to prospective students because they are Negroes." The court did not rule on whether "private sectarian schools that practice racial discrimination on religious grounds" may legally do so. The decision mostly affects the so-called segregation academies, or "white-flight" schools, set up after the Supreme Court ordered segregation of public schools 22 years ago.

Sunday, June 27

PRESIDENT FORD, arriving in San Juan, Puerto Rico, Saturday to convene a seven-nation economic summit meeting, sharply warned Cuba against meddling in relations between the U.S. and its island commonwealth. Without mentioning Cuba by name, Mr. Ford said in his arrival statement at San Juan's airport that there are those "who seek to distort the facts, to mislead others about our relationship with Puerto Rico. The relationship is clear and open. We are proud of the relationship and we invite the world to examine it."

Monday, June 28

RED ADAIR, the legendary firefighter from Texas, worked his magic again Sunday by capping a 300-foot high gas well inferno exactly a month after it erupted. His accomplishment ended weeks of frustration and painstaking preparation at the site in a heavily wooded Northern Michigan area. The loss of natural gas per day was placed at an estimated $7,000.

Tuesday, June 29

AN AMERICAN and three British soldiers of fortune were sentenced Monday to die before a firing squad for their part in the Angolan civil war. One of the Britons had admitted ordering the massacre of 14 other British mercenaries who refused to fight. Two Americans and seven British citizens were sentenced to prison terms ranging from 16-30 years by a people's revolutionary court that called the 13 defendants "war prostitutes."

Makes His Contribution to AAUW Sale

BILLY O'KEEFE, the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. William O'Keefe, of Vernier road, drops a book in one of several American Association of University Women book barrels located in the area for drop-off contributions to the annual AAUW Used Book Sale scheduled for September.

Barrels have been placed at Mr. McCourt Shoe's in the Village, the Colonial Federal Building on the Hill, Farmer Jack's in Mack avenue and Kroger's in Lakeshore Village. Home pick-up may be arranged by calling 882-0965 or 882-3432.

Population Report Is Disputed

SEMOG Study Showing Decline Met with Skepticism by Pointe Officials

By Susan McDonald
A recent Southeast Michigan Council of Government, (SEMOG), study, which reported an average six percent drop in population in The Pointe, has met with skepticism and criticism from Pointe public officials.

The administrators are worried that the figures may be used as a basis for reductions in Federal Revenue Sharing allocations and doubt their validity.

All of them insist that the SEMOG report exaggerates their population loss, and some dispute that there has been any decline in population at all.

Questions Trend
The SEMOG study shows The City with a 5.8 percent decline; The Farms, 6.8 percent; The Park, 7.9 percent; The Shores, 3.3 percent; and The Woods, 6.3 percent.

The figures are not based on a "head count" or "population study" according to SEMOG, but are arrived at "through a mathematical formula that takes into account regional statistics such as

Concerned Parents Meet To Discuss Activities Of 'Forever Family'

Citizens Share Experience of Their Children's Affiliation with Group; Affects of Religious Cults Viewed in Relation to Deprogramming

By George Polgar Jr.

A meeting last week of parents concerned with the activities of a secretive religious group, which has been seeking converts in the Grosse Pointes, was marked by tension and confusion as participants exchanged bizarre and often conflicting stories about the sect.

All of the parents at the gathering had children who had become involved with the "Forever Family," (newly incorporated as the "Church of Bible Understanding"), at its Roslyn road location, which members refer to as a "fellowship."

Many of the parents declined to be mentioned by name in an account of the meeting. At least one mother feared that members of the sect would try to re-identify her two daughters who were removed from the group's influence and have undergone psychological deprogramming.

Constant Mobility
According to previous investigations of the "Forever Family," the group originated in Allentown, Pa., under the guidance of a self-styled Biblical scholar named Stewart Traill.

Members of his church claim that Mr. Traill is a Canadian nuclear physicist even though his only known employment has been as a vacuum cleaner sales and repairman.

The Roslyn road fellowship is one of an estimated 130 centers which serve as homes and meeting places for members of the sect.

The "Church of Bible Understanding" reports that its flock numbers at least 2,000 members in 13 states and parts of Canada. This figure is difficult to verify because of the constant mobility of church members from one fellowship to another.

At the Roslyn Road location, there is only one Grosse Pointe native while some other residents have come from Virginia, New Jersey and Washington, D.C.

Conflicting Views
The parents at the meeting discussed a variety of reports about the religious practices of the group as well as their eating, sleeping and financial arrangements.

"They don't allow members to eat more than one meal a day and they sleep only about three or four hours a night," said the woman hosting the assembly. "My daughter would come home from that place and eat ravenously and then feel terribly guilty for having been indulgent. She

GP Woods, Park Set For July 4

Both Municipalities Make Plans to Celebrate Bicentennial in Big Way

The Woods and The Park have both announced plans to celebrate the nation's 200th birthday on July 4 with a parade, picnics, fireworks and other special events.

An ambitious two-day bash, which is scheduled to run Sunday-Monday, July 4-5, has been planned in The Woods.

According to Robert E. Trinklein, chairman of The Woods Bicentennial Commission, the festivities will begin with a flagpole dedication ceremony at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19550 Mack avenue, starting at 11 a.m.

Plan Big "Bang"
Then at noon, a picnic with continuous entertainment will begin at Ghesquiere Park, behind the Woods Municipal Building, 20025 Mack avenue, and it will last until 6 p.m.

Bands, the "Lakeshore Barber Shop Chorus" and a local Woods group, the "Julietaires," will provide entertainment during the day. Hot dogs, potato salad, popcorn and soft drinks will be sold.

At 2 p.m., a bell ringing ceremony will take place to commemorate the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Bells will ring out all over the U.S. at the same time, (according to their time zones). While bells will ring at 2 p.m. in Michigan, they will ring at 8 a.m. in American Samoa.

"The best part is the fireworks display we have planned for that night," said Mr. Trinklein. "That's the best part of celebrating the Fourth of July."

Open to All
Spectators are urged to go to Parcels and Mason schools for the best views.

On Monday, July 5, the park will be open from noon until 9 p.m.

Kiwanis buses will conduct runs to the park during the festival hours.

The two-day celebration is open to all citizens of the Pointe.

Meanwhile, The Park will celebrate the Bicentennial on

Woods Nixes Bid to Extend Use of New Pool

Supporters of Cooperative Training Effort Between Fitzgerald Swim Club, North High School Plan to Place Question on July 12 Agenda As Program Ended Yesterday

By Roger A. Waha

A request from members of the Fitzgerald Swim Club, (FSC), and members of the North High School swim team for a 30-day extension of their usage of the new 50-meter competitive pool at the Lake Front Park failed as The Woods Council voted 3-3 at its regular meeting Monday, June 21.

As a result, the use of the facility by all swimmers terminated yesterday, June 30. At the same time, program supporters have indicated an effort will be made to place this matter on the agenda of the rescheduled, regular council meeting Monday, July 12.

The swimmers were granted the use of the pool by the council in May for the period of June 1-30, not to exceed five days a week during the hours of 6-8 a.m. at a cost of $25 per day. The motion stipulated that the city retain the right to terminate the activity at any time.

Another Tie Vote

After the motion to extend the program for 30 days failed, Councilman Ronald R. Kefgen, who moved for the extension, then made a motion that the program be extended for 12 days, (until it could be explored again at the July 12 session). But the vote on this also was 3-3.

Disappointment was the keynote of the coordinated program's supporters including Jack Shook, vice-president of the FSC who's also masters swim chairman for the Michigan AAU, David Rentschler, a deeply interested parent who feels the program is a big plus factor for the community, and Tom Teetaert, head swim coach at North.

"A lot of people were upset over the council's reaction," said Mr. Shook, who stated he was unaware that this matter was on the council agenda until Monday afternoon.

Hurts Prestige

In noting the Citizens Recreation Commission gave its support to the program, he felt its cancellation would affect the prestige of the Pointes in the area of advanced swimming.

With the discontinuance, Mr. Shook stated over 50

The display and classified advertising departments suggest an effort be made to submit all copy by 5 p.m. on the 2nd.

Woods Council Approves New Bicycle Ordinance

By Roger A. Waha

The Woods Council unanimously adopted an ordinance amending the 1975 city code by revising a chapter on bicycles and providing for a more stringent control over the operation of such vehicles within the community.

This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, June 21.

City officials had earlier acknowledged that additional "teeth" have been added to the city's bike law on the enforcement front. The new measure, which, as an emergency ordinance, took immediate effect upon enactment, features three new sections including lights and red reflectors, bell or warning device and signals for starting, stopping and turning.

Public Safety Director Henry Marchand expressed pleasure over the law's passage and stressed the need of cooperation on the part of parents to make it work.

The focal point, here, is the notification of violation section. In the event of a violation of any provisions of the law by a juvenile, the public safety department will notify his (or her) or legal guardian.

Details of the violation will be given and the department also will recommend confiscation of the bike, for a period of time commensurate with the violation's severity, by the parent or guardian.

GP Woods Seeks Funds For Seniors

Council Approves Grant Application to Provide Aid in Area of Home Support

By Roger A. Waha

A senior citizens' grant application, focusing upon providing services designed to assist seniors to continue living independently in a home environment, was approved by The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, June 21.

The tally, authorizing Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara to proceed with the application, was 4-2. Council members voting "yes" included Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, George S. Freeman, Conrad A. Naegel and George Cueter, while Joan M. Mullan and Ronald R. Kefgen nixed the proposal. Councilman John Sabol was excused from the meeting.

The Detroit-Wayne County Area Agency on Aging, which recently notified the city that applications must be filed by Wednesday, June 7, is coordinating the Federally funded program on a county level. Mr. McNamara stated the city is attempting to obtain funds in the loosely defined area of "in home support services," e.g., mowing lawns, snow removal service and sewage cleaning.

Trying Again

Last year, the city was unsuccessful in obtaining monies because the total of the requests exceeded the available funds, plus the fact that other agencies were able to demonstrate a greater need.

This year, the city is limiting its application to the aforementioned area and, hence, its monetary request is scheduled to be less than half of the $99,949 requested in 1975.

That total was broken down into such categories as home maintenance, home nursing component, homemaker service, buddy system and information and referral.

Mr. McNamara estimated the request would be between $25,000-$35,000 this year and, even so, he indicated the chances for the city receiving funds are slim.

Drops .50 Of a Mill Tax Levy

But, Because of Hike in Assessed Valuation, Citizens Will Pay An Average of $23.25 More in Taxes

By Roger A. Waha

Shores residents will be paying on the average around $23.25 more in taxes this year as the council unanimously adopted the Village's 1976-77 fiscal year budget at its regular meeting Tuesday morning, June 22.

The municipality's general fund budget for April 1, 1976, to March 31, 1977, is placed at $1,252,630, up from the $1,162,353 amount in 1975-76.

At the same time, the council lowered the tax rate per $1,000 State Equalized Valuation from 17.25 mills last fiscal year to 16.75 mills in 1976-77. Even though the levy dropped .50 of a mill, citizens are paying the average $23.25 more in taxes because the assessed valuation has risen in the community over five percent. This made it possible for the council to reduce the tax levy, officials said.

Higher Factor

A factor of 1.14 was applied to assessments in 1976-77, whereas the Village used a factor of 1.08 last fiscal year. (From 1972-74, the municipality used a factor of 1.00).

The Wayne County Equalization Department has already estimated what the ratio of assessment for taxes in each community is to its 1976 assessed values and what multiplier is necessary to arrive at an estimated 1976 State equalized value.

Commenting on the new budget, Village President Gerald C. Schroeder said, "What the council has striven to do is to keep our operations as such that we never spend more than we take in. We believe that we should endeavor to keep our costs and operations at a reasonable level while still providing services to our residents without a tax increase."

He then noted even though the Village tax levy decreased, citizens would pay more in taxes because of the increased equalization factor.

Save in Lighting

"We try to keep everything in bounds while improving the operating efficiency of the Village," said Mr. Schroeder. In this respect, he cited economies obtained in street lighting, e.g., savings in the cost of electricity, which helped during budget planning.

The Village purchased the existing street lighting system from the Detroit Edison Co. for $175,998 earlier this year.

In 1975-76, the community's street lighting bill was $56,836.92. This year, he looked dead on her feet." At least one couple at the meeting said that this account conflicted with what they had seen and heard from their son who lived for a time at the Roslyn house, and is now living in another fellowship in Lancaster, Pa. "This conflicts with what we've heard. In fact, our son met members of the group in a restaurant where they had been eating regularly," they said. "Every time we call him now they have to get him up out of bed to come to the phone."

Parents Discuss Activities of 'Forever Family'

Have No 'Regs'

The question of how the communal living in the fellowships is funded also was a source of confusion. Some parents said that all the money members of the church make at various mental jobs goes to the group, while others said that only a portion of their earnings were required as a donation.

The new spokesman at the Roslyn house said that they have no regulations concerning eating and sleeping. "We all work at different times of the day so we all eat at different times," said house leader Gerry Collins, who arrived here only a few weeks ago from Washington, D.C. "There is one main meal that we have together but everyone can eat when they like."

As far as sleeping and finances are concerned, Mr. Collins said if a member was not working he or she would be expected to leave the house early in the morning to find work. Once members do work they are, according to Mr. Collins, expected to contribute to the payment of the bills of the household.

Terms Used
He added every working member of the group is expected to give $10 a month to a fund that is sent to the executive branch of the organization.

It is from these donations that Mr. Traill reportedly maintains a single engine Piper 140 airplane. Mr. Traill also has stated that he draws his own living expenses from these funds.

Despite the loose communal living arrangement, the tenets of their religion prohibits members of the Church of Bible Understanding to smoke, drink or engage in pre-marital sex.

The actual religious beliefs of the Church of Bible Understanding are explained by the members with phrases and concepts taken from the Bible.

"Witnessing," "Being born again from above" and "Being of the devil" are some of the frequently used terms in the course of their missionary work.

No Rational Thought
"My daughter would come home and tell me that I was of the devil because I spoke against the church," said one mother at the meeting. "She told me I had to be born again by exposing all of my sins."

Mr. Collins at the Roslyn fellowship confirmed reports that one of the first steps to being born again was to confess sinfulness before the other members of the group.

A parent at the meeting described this ceremony as an often violent rite which usually left the initiated member exhausted and hysterical.

Barbara Andrews, a practicing psychologist and a friend of the woman who hosted the gathering, described her encounter with the woman's daughter as a conversation with a person who was no longer capable of rational, logical thought.

"She would answer questions with questions or out of context quotations from the Bible," she said.

Many critics of the religious sects that have cropped up in recent years, most notably Rev. Sun Mung Moon's Unification Church, say that the kind of pat answers that the members spew, seemingly without thinking, points to a kind of manipulation of the mind that borders on brainwashing.

Curtailing Growth
Other observers have noted that the Catholic Church also is based on a good deal of dogmatism and blind faith.

"What about the rules of the Catholic Church up until a few years ago," said one parent at the meeting who was not convinced that the Church of Bible Understanding posed a real serious threat. "They said we couldn't eat meat on Fridays, we had to go to confession and mass and communion."

Organizations determined to stop the growth of sects like the Rev. Moon's church, the Children Of God and the Church of Bible Understanding are gaining momentum.

In Michigan a group called Citizen's Freedom Foundation is involved in locating young people who have joined various religious groups and lost touch with their families. They also investigate the activities of the groups and promote deprogramming treatments for so-called cult members.

The foundation also lobbied for a resolution in the State House to initiate a formal investigation of cult group activities.

Effective Method

The Citizens Freedom Foundation is expecting to merge soon with other state organizations to form a national coalition to stop the spread of questionable sects.

According to Ann Secord, who works for the foundation, and whose brother has been with the Unification Church for more than a year, the most effective way of getting someone out of the cults is a process known as deprogramming.

Until recently this treatment has been conducted by ex-cult members with no professional psychological training.

"For a long time professional psychologists have had trouble understanding what the cults are about and how to deal with them," said Mrs. Secord.

"They think that the people who get into them are just having personal problems that will work out in time. They think that parents are just holding on to their kids too tight."

The recent opening of a professionally staffed deprogramming clinic in Boston suggests that the problem is being taken more seriously.

The aim of deprogramming is reportedly to exhaust a cult member's defenses of the inconsistency of his (or her) beliefs.

Speaks Calmly

Though there have been many alarming stories about kidnappings, brainwashing and strange rituals involving the Church of Bible Understanding, there seems to be evidence that the sect is harmless.

The mother of Joe White, the only Pointe resident living at the Roslyn fellowship, spoke very calmly about her experience with the group.

"My other son lived at the Roslyn house before Joey moved in," said Mrs. White. "He left the group on his own without deprogramming. To tell you the truth he is a little better for the experience. He's much calmer."

Mrs. White went on to say that it is hardly surprising that teenagers should go to extremes with this sort of thing since they have a tendency to go to extremes in anything they do at that age.

From the comments of the parents at the meeting it became apparent that many of the young people turned to this religion after a period of excessive drinking and drug abuse.

Rep. Bryant Attends

Mrs. White said she had consulted with a psychiatrist when she began to worry about her sons and he assured her that the only way out of the cult was for them to get into it and tire of it.

"My other son had something going in his head when he joined the group," said Mrs. White. "He worked it out and then came home. He didn't need them anymore."

The effects of membership in the Church of Bible Understanding, which have been noted as a loss of ambition, a disregard for personal appearance and a hostility toward non-believers, do not seem to be residual.

According to Mrs. White her son who withdrew from the group has regained interest in his future and the prospects of going to college.

State Rep. William Bryant attended the parent's meeting and informed them that he is looking into the legality of the group operating their fellowship in The Woods.

Woods City Attorney George Catlin said that as far as the city is concerned, the only legal irregularity regarding the Roslyn road fellowship is a possible zoning ordinance violation that restricts the number of permanent residents in the house to five.

Shores Okays Budget

said, the Village will pay Edison $20,000 for electrical power and $4,250 interest on Edison bonds because of the system's purchase via a bond issue approved by taxpayers last November.

Mr. Schroeder said a savings of over $30,000 was obtained this fiscal year in comparison to 1975-76 because the Village owns the lights, poles and transformers.

Rising Costs

Public safety department expenditures make up almost half the total of the general fund budget. In 1976-77, the Village expects to spend $536,400, while last fiscal year the budgeted amount was $501,303.

The main reason for the $30,000 plus hike is the anticipated increase in wages, pension contributions and hospitalization, said Mr. Schroeder, who added that hospitalization alone is anticipated to jump $6,000 more this fiscal year over 1975-76.

Other factors which played roles in the increase include the rising costs of police vehicles and the gasoline to run them, plus an increased share in the Village's appropriation to the Youth Service Division, ($642 more this fiscal year).

Labor negotiations are continuing with both representatives of the public safety department and department of public works and tentative increases have been incorporated in the budget figure.

New Addition

The budget includes a new category, "Village Counsel," which is part of the judicial section. A total of $1,300 has been allocated in this area to pay Village Attorney William Killebrew for his appearances in court in behalf of the community.

As more and more tickets are issued for various violations to defendants, they are bringing their own attorneys when court convenes. As a result, the municipality needs its prosecutor to be on hand. Mr. Killebrew told the council it's coming to a point where his appearance is almost mandatory, while adding it is to the Village's advantage.

On water and sewage costs, the Village spent some $84,300 last fiscal year and its anticipated that amount will jump to $125,000 in 1976-77, (including the .39 percent increase passed on by the City of Detroit).

Mr. Schroeder made it clear that citizens aren't paying 39 percent more in their bills, only the exact amount of the increase, e.g., 90 cents. The old total rate was $4.25 per 1,000 cubic feet, while the new rate is $5.15 per 1,000 cubic feet, a 21.1 percent hike.

Insurance Goes Up

Last year, the Village expected $180,000 in revenue from water and sewage and took in around $131,000. This fiscal year, the community expects to take in $190,000, he said.

A continuing trend is seen in the rise in insurance costs. In 1975-76, $13,050 was budgeted. However, as it turned out, the Village actually paid $18,914.20. This fiscal year such costs are placed at $18,400. "Insurance rates advance on us without notice," stated Mr. Schroeder, who added the Village has no control over such increases.

Councilman Robert Palmer told his colleagues that a $20,000 contingency fund has been incorporated into the budget in case an emergency arises in which case the monies could be transferred into another category.

On the revenue side, the Village anticipates $856,587 to be collected in taxes, while a total of $828,999.31 was collected in 1975-76.

In other categories, building and grounds for 1976-77 is budgeted at $83,094; sanitation, $98,999; parks and recreation, $54,117; and fringe benefits, $14,100.

SPORTS HIGHLIGHTS

by Tom Seiter

Mounted on a horse, or, as one historian puts it, in early days, in a chariot, man followed his prey. Hunting became a favorite pursuit, regarded as a whole art in man's history. After all the necessity of food was not that important any more, hunting was taken up for the excitement it gave, and its precious loot in the form of hides, furs, horn and tusks. Once the "labor of the savage," today, hunting is often "the amusement of the gentleman." The spice of danger, adventure, and the demand for powers of observation, concentration, and endurance have always attracted man.

Appeals Aired at 2 Hearings

The Woods Council unanimously approved one building permit appeal and tabled a second one at two public hearings at its Monday, June 21, regular meeting.

Arthur L. Wilhelm received approval for the addition of an enclosed front porch at his home at 748 Hampton road when no one at the hearing voiced any opposition to the variance in the front yard requirements.

Meanwhile, the petition of Robert G. Edgar to permit the use of a lot at the end of Colonial road as a site for two new homes was tabled pending investigation of utility service and traffic problems that might result from the planned construction.

The former owner of the property supported Mr. Edgar's petition because he said neighborhood children, who he had given permission to use the vacant lot, had utilized it as a go-cart track and a B-B-gun range.

Mrs. Frederick P. Murphy, of 520 Renaud road, said that a house on the lot adjacent to her property would be close to their swimming pool. She opposed granting the permit in a letter to the council.

John Junisco, of 491 Colonial, the property next to the proposed building site, questioned the adequacy of water pressure if the city had to extend the water lines to the new homes.

He said that both he and other neighbors on the street were having problems with low pressure as it is.

Mr. Junisco also noted if the water main were extended it might require considerable excavation on his property, damaging his lawn and shrubs. He had similar questions considering the extension of electrical wires to the new homes.

The problem of turn around space for traffic on Colonial road, especially service vehicles like trash trucks, also was called to the attention of the council.

Colonial road has no outlet and up to now traffic going down the street could turn around at the end in the circular driveway which will serve as a common drive for the proposed new homes.

Council directed city officials to look into these problems and has set August 2 as the date for its final decision in the matter.

Disturbance Complaint Heard by Woods Council

By Roger A. Wahn

A meeting has been scheduled this month between Woods officials and a representative group of citizens to work towards the solution of an apparent disturbance problem which has caused great concern to residents in the Wedgewood drive-Maple lane area.

An estimated 15 citizens attended the regular council meeting Monday, June 21, to seek relief from what they said were noise, littering and vandalism stemming from a party at a Maple lane home Saturday evening, June 19, and early Sunday morning, June 20.

The council received a petition bearing 35 signatures supporting a statement of a Wedgewood drive citizen, who said he contacted the public safety department on three occasions, attempted to reach Public Safety Director Henry Marchand at home two times and even called Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos early Sunday morning.

"This disturbance is chronic. Approximately one year ago, a similar disturbance was held which resulted in damage to neighbors' lawns, houses and automobiles," the citizen said, while citing other neighbor complaints.

He then asked, "My question to you is—why is the police department allowing the noise, loitering of young people, littering, destruction to property and illegal vehicle operation?"

Residents complained that similar occurrences have happened in the past, with one lady saying she felt the neighborhood was going "down the drain."

Mr. Pinkos, who emphasized that the residents should be relieved of such problems, suggested that two or three citizens meet with City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, City Attorney George Catlin and Director Marchand to work towards a solution. The council had no objection to this action.

At this point, the session is tentatively set for Tuesday, July 13, according to Mr. Petersen. Ways and means will be explored to control any possible incidents in the future, he said, while adding, "We're confident there are things we can do to help improve the situation."

Man Convicted On Two Counts

A Woods man was found guilty of two charges by a Wayne County Circuit Court jury after his trial concluded last month, according to the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office.

Abraham Karmey, of Hampton road, was convicted of receiving and concealing stolen property over $100, a five-year felony, and of conspiracy to burglarize a business place with intent to commit larceny, a 10-year felony, reported assistant prosecutor James Mitchell.

Karmey was arrested by Woods and Organized Crime Task Force officers last October on the receiving and concealing charge.

His scheduled sentencing date is Friday, July 30.

WISE ADVICE

Listen to this wise advice; follow it closely, for it will do you good, and you can pass it on to others: Trust in the Lord. (Proverbs 22: 17-19)

Several of the residents expressed some displeasure with police action. Mr. Catlin responded by calling such an enforcement situation a difficult one, and stressed the need for a complainant to testify in such a case, plus the fact that officers must see the commission of an ordinance violation. (Mr. Petersen indicated five tickets were issued for parking on the wrong side of the street in this incident).

An official department report on the 20th at 12:25 a.m. said a citizen, (the man who geared the petition drive), called and complained of a large van with loud music at the party scene. Saying he had enough, he requested a scout car to go to the area and break the party up.

At the scene, police said they didn't find the party out of hand. The group was warned of numerous complaints received and police advised if the party was to continue, it would have to be kept orderly and peaceful. Lt. Bernard Kelly said he was unable to observe any van with music.

Then at 1:20 a.m. another citizen called and said more guests were arriving and a bag full of bottles had been broken in the street. When told of the earlier investigation, the resident said a group of neighbors were standing outside and they all agreed it was out of order.

Police said several calls of an advisory nature were received and patrol cars were instructed to give special attention to Maple lane. When the first formal complaint was received, (at 12:25 a.m.), the host was warned. Police noted he said he would comply in keeping the party orderly.

Since the party did not degenerate into a neighborhood disturbance no formal police action was indicated and none, other than the aforementioned action was taken, police added.

In a final note, Mr. Petersen told the citizens the public safety department would enforce the provisions of the ordinance to the best of its ability and write as many tickets as possible in such a situation.

Tie Vote Kills Fee Reduction

A tie vote from The Woods Council dealt a blow to a proposed ordinance amending the city code to provide a discount in boat launching fees for senior citizens.

The 3-3 vote with Councilman John Sabot being excused from the regular meeting Monday, June 21, made the proposal a mute issue at this time.

If approved, applicants over the age of 64 would have been able to obtain permit fees for half price, e.g., seniors would pay $2.50 for a seasonal fee rather than $5, and 25 cents for a single launching rather than 50 cents.

Voting for the measure were Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos and Councilmen George S. Freeman and George Cueter. Nixing the proposal were Councilwoman Joan M. Mullan and Councilmen Ronald R. Kefgen and Conrad A. Naegel.

No Personnel Change in YSD

The four detectives in the Youth Service Division, (YSD), will remain together until July 1977 as the rotation system will have no effect on personnel this year.

Public Safety Director Henry Marchand explained that, according to the rotation schedule, Det. Donald Schmalz would be the first of the current group to leave the YSD.

However, each detective is required to work four years in the division under the plan and, as of today, July 1, et. Schmalz had been in the YSD for three years.

Woods Seeks Grant for Funds to Help Seniors

A tentative total of $479,471 has been scheduled this year for the county with around 70 percent of the total going to Detroit and the other 30 percent, (about $143,841.30), being utilized by the rest of the county, excluding Detroit, he said. Last year, the figures were $791,729 and $237,518.70, respectively.

Could Expand

Mr. McNamara noted the services which the city is focusing upon have a relatively low priority in comparison to other areas. However, these services would provide a foundation for the community if it receives some money and also if there's a good response from senior citizens.

According to census figures, he said over 3,000 seniors reside in the community. Of this amount, an estimated 300 are at or below or just above the poverty level.

If the city's application was approved, services would be provided free of charge to these citizens. "To make it a viable program, we would offer the same services to other seniors who are willing to pay for them," he stated.

"Based upon the reception of such a concept, we may be able to extend such services to include, (for instance), putting up storm windows and screens and home repairs." If monies were obtained, the city would have to set up a new department to coordinate the program. But Mr. McNamara said no final word on the grant application will be received until probably October.

For her part, Irene Sutton, chairman of the Senior Citizens Commission, said the group was unaware that the city was planning to participate in the program until some three weeks ago. Nonetheless, she noted the commission unanimously gave its official blessing to the application on Wednesday, June 23, (after the fact).

"I'm glad they, (the council), passed it. If it helps the city, I'm for it," said Mrs. Sutton, who added her hope that the result will prove fruitful for seniors. "It's worth a try and I'm all for trying out new ideas."

At the council meeting, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen stated, if the municipality was successful in obtaining funds, all monies would go through city offices and seniors would have to go through the city to demonstrate a need for such services.

Monies are dispersed according to Federal guidelines, it was noted, with the program being administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Title III grant. Funds are allocated to the State, which subsequently disburses them and the Area Agency on Aging is the administering body on a county level.

Explains "No" Votes

During the discussion, Mrs. Mullan said she's opposed to applying for Federal funds for any purpose because it would be an invasion of the "home rule" concept of government.

In further explaining her negative vote, she said the city doesn't know about the specific needs of seniors in this regard. At the same time, Mrs. Mullan felt such services could be obtained on a local level, e.g., through the Neighborhood Club's Job Opportunities for Youth program.

For his part, Mr. Keegen stated he had serious doubts regarding the need for such monies as he has seen no studies, for example, that indicate such a need exists. "I would hate to apply for funds and find out no one may be involved," he said.

Like Mrs. Mullan, he felt such services could be obtained on a local level without applying for a grant.

"I hate to see us get tangled up in a Federally funded program where there may not be a need. We need more information on the appropriation of funds. I would be in favor of applying for monies if a need was demonstrated," added Mr. Keegen.

Holiday Celebrations

July 4 with a parade and show at Three Mile Park.

The parade will leave the south end of Pierce Junior High at 2 p.m. and wind down Somerset to Jefferson avenue, east on Jefferson to Westchester road and south on Westchester to Essex where it will be joined by children with decorated bikes and wagons. From there, the parade will continue to Three Mile Park.

Wants The Best

According to Bicentennial chairman Charles S. Thompson, the parade will include a horse-drawn covered wagon, a calliope, convertibles, old cars, beauty queens, floats and clowns. Children with decorated bikes should gather at Trombly School at 1 p.m. for judging and the awarding of prizes. Adult participants should meet at 1:15 p.m. at the Pierce playing field, (south end).

"Floats and entertainment can still be registered," said Mr. Thompson. "We are hoping for a real big turnout. We hope to make this the best fourth of July ever."

Festivities at Three Mile Park will begin at 3 p.m. and Mr. Thompson hopes around 2,000 people will attend. Entertainment will feature bagpipers, the South High School stage and marching bands, square dancers, a Charleston exhibition by Betsy Dee, solos by Vanessa Helin, Miss Grosse Pointe for 1976-77, and Mrs. Joseph Shaheen, plus a barber shop quartet.

Party Successful

While refreshments will be available, Park citizens also are invited to bring a picnic lunch and make an afternoon of it. Admittance will be by park pass only.

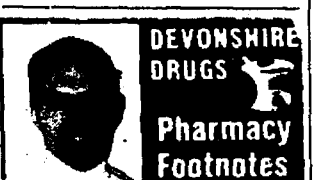

On Saturday, June 26, the Park held a Bicentennial party on the deck of the swimming pool at the Waterfront Park. According to Mr. Thompson, the party was a big success with several hundred people attending.

Besides square dancing, called by Doug McKinnon, an added attraction was the selection of Miss Grosse Pointe Park Bicentennial. The winner was Sue Dotsen and first runner-up Dawn Westervelt, Candy Angott and Kathy Eklund comprised her court.

Mrs. Charles (Cynthia) Brooks conceived the idea of a dance as a money raiser to defray the expenses of the upcoming Bicentennial celebration. Her committee included Jo Ann Kelly, Fred and Ann Campbell, Marg Gaglio, Jackie Rentenback, Nancy Ross, Jean Thompson, Sally Cook and Bonnie Ault.

The other Pointe municipalities reported no specific Bicentennial-related activities for the Fourth of July weekend.

The greatest demand for protein comes during the periods of most rapid growth. During the first year of life, the protein requirement per kilogram of body weight is greater than at any other time. one must not forget, however, the maintenance requirement for protein which persists through life. When one ceases to grow, there is still a need for protein to repair or replace tissues. Meat, fish, poultry, and eggs are among the best primary sources of proteins. But soybeans and dried beans, peas, and nuts are good plant sources of protein.

The sweet white wines of Bergerac have a luscious, delicate flavour, similar to the Sauternes of Bordeaux. The best wines come from Monbazillac, whose vineyards are crowned by a picturesque hill, just a few miles from the town of Bergerac on the right bank of the Dordogne river. As Sauternes, the grapes are not only harvested after they have the "noble rot", but the golden wines have an alcohol strength of 13-14%, and are ready for drinking only after six years in the bottle.

Whether you prefer the sweet white wine of Bergerac or the dry white wine of Mentravel, PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 can meet your needs. If your planning a party for the July 4th weekend, why not serve your guests genuine draft beer; we have both ½ and ¼ barrels available and supply all the necessary tapping equipment at no extra charge. Open: 10-10 Mon./Thur.; 10-11 Fri., Sat.; noon-10 Sun.

WINE TIP:

Dry white wines of Mentravel are light in color and soft, and are great dessert wines, or with chicken and fish.

INCREASE YOUR MONTHLY INCOME

CHECK-A-MONTH Certificate Savings Accounts at Standard Federal Savings Will Send You An Interest Check Every Month

What could be more convenient than having your current month's interest sent right to you through the mail at the end of each month!

With a Check-A-Month Certificate Savings Account you receive your interest in 12 equal monthly checks throughout the year without disturbing your original savings deposit.

You can open a seventy-two month 7 1/2% Check-A-Month Certificate Savings Account, a forty-eight month 7 1/2% Check-A-Month Certificate Savings Account or a thirty-month 6 1/2% Check-A-Month Certificate Savings Account with any deposit of $5,000 or more . . . no special even figure is needed.

As an example, if you deposit $20,000 in a seventy-two month 7 1/2% Check-A-Month Account you will get a check each and every month for $129.17 from Standard Federal Savings. If you choose to deposit $20,000 in a forty-eight month 7 1/2% Check-A-Month Account, you will receive a check for $125.00 every month. The chart on the right shows what your monthly income will be for deposits from $5,000 to $50,000. Of course your account can be opened for any amount of $5,000 or more.

As you can see, Check-A-Month pays a handsome return.

You can withdraw your money at any time. However, in accordance with federal regulations on all certificate accounts, a substantial interest penalty is required for early withdrawal. The withdrawn funds will lose 90 days interest and in addition the interest on the withdrawn funds will be recalculated from the original term of the certificate at the then-current regular passbook interest rate.

Population Report Disputed

housing demolitions and starts.

Although the report, "Population and Occupied Dwelling Units in Southeast Michigan 1975," recognizes a growth in The Pointe's housing stock, it also points out: a decrease in average family size.

"What they are actually doing," according to Woods
City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, "is basing our population drop on Detroit-area trends in family size, and who's to say that is correct."

"Based on our information
I would say there has probably been an increase, mainly because larger families are moving into the area to take advantage of the school system."

Officials Agree

Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer agreed, saying
"I can't believe we've had a drop in population with the number of new houses we have going up. Detroit is losing people and they are attributing it to us."

Mr. Petersen, who led his city's unsuccessful battle to contest SEMCOG's figures and the resulting drop in revenue sharing funds last year, said a phone survey of 12,000 Woods residents indicated the average family size to be 3.5 persons, rather than SEMCOG's figure of 3.1 persons per occupied dwelling.

"None of the government agencies involved would accept any of our figures but they wouldn't explain what they based their own on,"
Mr. Petersen said. "There is really not much you can do."

Grosse Pointe City Manager Thomas Kressbach agreed, saying, "we'll just have to wait until the next census in 1980 to find out if we're right or wrong."
The revenue sharing formula is very complex, but, according to Mr. Petersen,
"One of the biggest revenue sharing factors is per capita income. Their lower population figures make our average income, (based on Federal income tax payments), to be much larger than it actually is, and the city loses out."

Not Very Accurate
Although SEMCOG officials insist their reports are not used as the basis for revenue
sharing, the Office of Revenue Sharing's unwillingness to explain where they do get their figures leaves city administrators skeptical.

Many are looking to the public school system's census, set for completion in the fall, to finally clear up the population question. Although school figures indicate a 3,000 student drop in enrollment since 1970, officials think the census will prove both SEMCOG and revenue sharing figures to be faulty.
"I don't think the SEMCOG figures are very accurate and I have a lot more faith in the school census," said
Shores Village Superintendent
Thomas Jefferis.

"I am quite sure we have not lost any population, especially when I look at all the new subdivisions we have out here."
Offer "Bad News"
The SEMCOG study reports population of The City to be 6,250; The Farms, 10,800;

The Park, 14,400; The Shores,
2,810; and the Woods, 20,500.
Other Detroit-area communities losing population, according to the report, are Dearborn, Warren, Ann Arbor, Birmingham, Royal Oak, Huntington Woods, St. Clair Shores, Roseville and Harper Woods.

SEMCOG information service coordinator James Thomas said that his agency's population figures have met with much controversy because "they are bad news to most people."

"All we are trying to do is educate the region that there are many areas losing population and they must be ready to cope with it," he said.

Cite Concern over Home

plaster is good and the house can be fixed up and be an asset to the neighborhood."

A prospective buyer has formalized a list of what he wants to do and we will tell him what needs to be done to occupy it, said Mr. Slone.
"The family said they would sell the property to (the prospective buyer) so we're making progress."

One citizen asked what are the requirements for repairing the structure and Mr.
Slone stated it would be brought up to existing city codes. The resident then said he wanted the restoration done right and promptly and the city manager replied,
"The sale must be made first. We want to make sure

it's in the proper state of repair. We're putting every effort to move it along."

Members of the family told the council the situation is a personal one and stressed
they intend to sell the home and put it in proper order.
At the same time, the neighbors were thanked for their cooperation in this matter with one lady saying, "We're trying to work together to get it done now. We want to settle it with the city and the buyer."

One citizen felt if the planned deal fell through there might not be a guarantee of another buyer. "The house stands out on a beautiful street and we want to keep the neighborhood in good condition," he said. She also was concerned for the safety of youngsters playing in the immediate area.

Several residents added that raccoons, rabbits and opossums often visit the vacant home.

Mayor Matthew C. Patterson emphasized that the city will act quickly on this matter and asked Mr. Slone to report back to the council as to the progress between the owner and the buyer.

In a final note, a citizen took the opportunity to report that a home in Maryland road, which she said has been vacant for three years, also needs some attention. The woman said that the back yard still contains debris
from the March ice storm.

Mr. Patterson indicated the department of public works would check on this situation.

City Raises Rubbish Fees

Citing greater than 10 percent increases in its incineration costs, the Grosse Pointe City Council at its Monday, June 21, meeting voted to raise its commercial rubbish collection fees from $2 to $2.25 per cubic yard, effective today, July 1.

A cubic yard of rubbish is equal to that contained in one commercial container. The first two cubic yards per week per container will still be collected without charge.

Upon the failure of the parent or guardian to cooperate in this matter, the department at its discretion may issue a regular violation ticket.

Such a ticket is forwarded to Wayne County Juvenile Court for action but based upon past experience, officials have expressed disenchantment with the court's follow-through. Hence, an emphasis on cooperation between parents and the department.

Estimating that there are between 15,000-20,000 bicycles in the city, Officer Stephen Petrik, who was traffic safety officer for nine years until his reassignment today, July 1, said bicycle-automobile accidents in the community haven't been great in number.

For instance, there were 10 such mishaps in 1972, eight in 1973, (all resulting in injuries both years), eight in 1974, (with six injuries), and 10 in 1975, (with nine injuries). The last bicycle fatality occurred in July 1970.

Beginning in 1974, he indicated more bikes were sold in the United States than automobiles with this trend continuing today, while complementing the road patrol for helping keep such accidents down.

Interestingly enough, the officer said less bicycles were inspected at city schools this year in comparison to previous years. He attributed this drop to the decrease in the school population. In the past, some 1,700 bikes were usually checked but this year the number fell to around 1,250.

In reviewing some of the problems regarding bicycle safety, Officer Petrik said the department issues bike warning tickets and some traffic violations for Juvenile Court. "The big problem for everyone is to get through to the kids is that laws for bicycles pertain to cars," (and vice versa), he stated.

The ordinance makes this clear by saying every person riding a bike upon a roadway shall be granted all of the rights and shall be subject to all the duties applicable to the driver of a vehicle by State laws declaring rules of the road applicable to vehicles, or by traffic laws of the city aplicable to the driver of a vehicle.

Like Director Marchand, he, too, echoed the need for cooperation. "Parents must cooperate with us to get anywhere. Bicycle accidents have been high in other areas but we are fortunate here," he said.

The officer stressed youngsters must avoid riding double and must use audible signals. He felt such signals were necessary when, for example, youngsters ride a bike on the sidewalk. They should signal to warn pedestrians upon approaching them from behind.

"Youngsters also must watch for cars backing out of driveways and a signal can warn the driver," he noted.

"We hope all kids riding in the street will heed the traffic laws," such as stopping for stop signs, ("intersection accidents are devastating to cyclists who are hit broadside"), and riding with traffic, staying to the right, the officer added.

In a final note, Officer Petrik expressed pleasure over his tenure as traffic safety officer because, during that period, the city received many honors from the AAA in the area of pedestrian safety.

These, he said, included four Grand Awards and four Awards of Excellence in the under 50,000 population class. The city hasn't had a pedestrian fatality since December 1, 1957.

The department's new traffic safety officer is Paul Crook.

Library Begins Summer Fun

The Children's Department of the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries will open its summer program this week.

The Summer Reading Club is already well underway with over 900 children registered and working toward a Bicentennial Certificate which resembles the Declaration of Independence, decorated with seals, ribbons and stars for their reading efforts.

A summer film program for school age children is planned at all three libraries: the Park Branch at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesdays, the Central Library at 1:30 p.m. on Thursdays and the Woods Branch at 10:30 a.m. on Fridays.

St. James Rites Mark July 4

St. James Lutheran Church, McMillan road near Kercheval, will join other churches throughout the nation in observing our country's Bicentennial with special services on Thursday evening, July 1, at 8 p.m. and Sunday morning, July 4, at 9:30 a.m.

The identical services will be enriched with special music by the choir, including "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Great God of Nations."

Pastor George Kurz will preach the sermon on both occasions, with Pastor George Schelter leading the worship.

Michael Counen, president of the congregation, will read from Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence, and Samuel Ulmer, president-elect, will read from Governor John Winthrop, preaching to the Puritans as they crossed the Atlantic in 1630.

Other special music sung by the congregation will include, "God Bless America," "God Bless our Native Land," "Faith of our Father," "America, the Beautiful" and "Morning Has Broken."

At the start of the service there will be a Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and also a Pledge of Allegiance to the Cross of Jesus Christ. The tower chimes will be rung during the afternoon, together with chimes and bells of the churches in the Pointes.

Members of the community are invited to attend both services.

Church Slates Two Day Social

Christ the King Lutheran Church, 20338 Mack Avenue, is planning an old fashioned Ice Cream Social and General Store from 2-6 p.m. Sunday, July 4, and Monday, July 5, on the church grounds.

Everyone is welcome to enjoy ice cream and cake and to visit the store.

Little League Results

FARMS MAJORS
By Joe Fromm

The battle for second place between the Tigers and Pirates went down to the last play of the season. The Pirates were a half game behind the Tigers and a win over the Indians by the Pirates on Saturday, June 26, would have resulted in a deadlock.

The Pirates lost, however, as Craig Haase of the Indians scored from third on a passed ball with two out in the bottom of the sixth to break a 5-5 tie.

The Indians won three games last week, defeating both the Tigers and Pirates, to finish with an 18-2 record. The Tigers were second at 13-7 followed by the Pirates at 12-8 and the Red Legs at 11-9. The Yankees finished in fifth at 4-16 followed by the Phils at 2-18.

Gerry Chamberlin of the Pirates hit a three-run homer to give the Pirates a 3-1 lead in the game against the Indians. The Indians went back in the lead 4-3 with Rob Carr's double the key blow.

But the Pirates bounced back to lead 5-4 on doubles by Rick Gallagher and Bill Cunningham. The Indians tied the score at 5-5 in the fifth to set up the exciting finish in the sixth.

The Pirates downed the Phils, 10-9, in another exciting game on Wednesday, June 23. The Phils took an 8-6 lead as Bill Songe drove in six runs with a double and home run. The Pirates won on Rick Gallagher's grand slam home run with two outs in the fifth.

Gregg Restum won his eighth game of the season against no losses as the Indians defeated the Yankees, 10-4, on June 23. Restum finished the season leading the league in wins and strikeouts with 67.

The Indians broke the game open with nine runs in 10 hits in the fourth, highlighted by two triples by Craig Haase and one triple by Jon Dolson.

The Indians won their third game of the week, 6-1, over the Tigers on a masterful one-hitter by Rob Carr on Friday, June 25. Rusty Trivillion's sharp single to center in the fourth was the only hit off Carr. John Keane homered for the Indians.

Todd Ciavola of the Tigers pitched a no-hitter in the Tigers 10-0 win over the Red Legs on Thursday, June 17, for the only no-hitter in the majors this year. Ciavola struck out five and walked five. Tiger catcher John Murphy helped Ciavola by throwing out three Red Leg runners at second base.

With the season's conclusion, recognition should be given to the managers and coaches of the teams who devoted many hours working with the players. The managers are Bob Haase, Indians; Tom Laquiere, Tigers; Dick Suhrheinrich, Yankees; Mike Crow, Phils; Dick Gallagher, Pirates; and Dick Nugent, Red Legs.

On Sunday, June 20, Rochester defeated Toledo by forfeit.

Three hits and five RBIs by Brad Restum led Richmond past Buffalo, 15-0, on Monday, June 21. Mike Crow shared the pitching with Steve Nagler and Kevin Downs. Buffalo's Jim Raum had a triple and double and John Rowady singled.

In a tight pitching duel with Miami's Hobey Echlin, Fred Fardon of Albany threw a one-hitter and struck out 18 batters as his team went on to a 2-0 victory Tuesday, June 22.

Dan Mooney and Scott Laquiere had hits for Albany. Echlin struck out 14 Albany batters while his teammate Dan Moehring gained Miami's lone hit.

Brett Augsburger hurled his seventh shutout of the season as Richmond eased past Syracuse, 14-0, on June 22.

Augsburger also led the offense with a double, two home runs and five RBIs. Jeff Kaye chipped in with three hits and Sarah Dingenmeier knocked in three runs.

On June 23, Dan Mooney, pitched his Albany team to a 9-0 victory over Toledo. Mooney allowed only one hit, a single by Mike Snow, while striking out 17 Toledo batters. Dan Bowen led Albany's hitting attack with a grand slam home run.

Then on June 24, Syracuse defeated Miami, 3-0, behind the one-hit pitching of Ty Zablocki. Phillip Rahm and Billy Adlhoeh had two hits apiece for the winners. Dave Spindler had the lone hit for Miami.

In an exciting semi-final playoff game, a two-run homer by Brett Augsburger in the bottom of the fifth, gave Richmond a come from behind 5-4 victory over Albany.

PARK LITTLE LEAGUE

By Fran Ceaser

The Orioles won both its games in the American League loop. On June 21, they topped the Yankees, 11-6. Ken Vermeulen, Rick Overbey and Bill Wincer not only fired some hot strikes from the mound, but had some key hits.

On June 23 the Birds ousted the Senators, 8-3. John Terice hit a homer with two on for the Senators' only runs and hurled four innings. Harold Cote slugged a homer for the Orioles with two on, with a "double connection" from Overbey and one from winning pitcher Devon Jeffrey.

The Athletics topped the Senators on June 21, 16-13. After six innings the score was tied 13 all. Terice clouted one double and Mark McCormick sliced three. The excitement of the eighth inning decided the A's victory when they scored three runs.

The Indians clouded the A's on June 23, 8-7. Pat Drummy and Ted Aurelius shared the mound four and two for that "instinctive Indian" pitching.

On June 21, the White Sox beat the Indians, 14-11.

The National League Pirates stopped the Braves on June 22, 13-3. Tom Emmerich cracked a homer and Mike Lyon notched his first grand slam of the season.

The Dodgers were a "shade" down from the Pirates on June 25. Joe Yott and Tom Wilson vied from the mound, Yott allowed only three runs and Wilson permitted two when Joe Craig lambasted a fourth inning homer with one on. The final 3-2 score was a heartbreaker for the Dodgers.

The Giants nipped the Red Legs 8-7 on June 22. Mike Allen and Pat Schulte tripled for the Reds with a bases loaded double from Dom Ceaser, a double from Dale Graham who brought two home, and a two bagger from Pat Boll—all in the third inning. Tony Tocco had an unassisted double play at third base in the fifth inning.

On June 22 the Dodgers took the Cards, 16-10. Jamie Dupree had a grand slam for the Cards. Their demise came when Dodgers' Mark Schneider slugged a homer. He was followed by Yott and Craig who each rifled one.

The Cards bounced back June 25 and tripped the Giants, 13-11.

On June 26 the Reds clobbered the Braves, 9-3.

Ohio State creamed Northwestern, 19-9, but not without some exciting hits from NW in minor league play. Steve Landuyt whacked a grand slam and OSU's Tim Maniere, Don Kuhnlein and Tom Rohr all bombed homers in the June 16 game.

On June 18, Andy Stephan clobbered a Michigan homer to shade Purdue, 5-4.

Michigan and Ohio State tied 12-12 on June 21, with capital action. Ed McCarty homered twice for M. Maniere, Rohr, Kuhnlein and Pat Fleming all socked homers for OSU. Kuhnlein doubled and tripled for the "Reds."

On June 23, Michigan quashed Northwestern, 19-6. Andy Stephan had three homers and a triple, Mark LeChard chalked a homer and McCarty cut a double and a triple.

Illinois and Notre Dame tied 2-2 in the Instructional League on June 22. Then, ND zonked the Marines, 14-4.

The same day Army slammed Illinois, 12-5.

GP CITY

By Ralph Gray

The Orioles turned into a team of unstoppable sluggers as they topped the Mets 14-6, on June 23, and the Indians, 15-0, on June 26.

Things were pretty even in the Mets game until the last half when Orioles runs were carried across the plate by Mike Coles, (two), Jim Joliet, (three), Kirk Bevier, Neil Haarz, Richard Roberts, (two) and Craig Henzel, (two). Brian Wagner and Brian Anderson both scored twice for the Mets.

Henzel, Matt Lane, Bevier and Jerry Joliet combined for the June 26 shutout while most of the rest of the team circled the bases. Among the leaders were the Joliet, Mike Coles, Tom DeBoer, Neil Haarz, Rick Roberts, Tom DeBoer and Eric Warezak.

The Mets again fell victim, this time 11-8, on June 26, to the Yankees who kept their hold on first place. The Yanks got only five hits from the stingy Mets but made them count.

The Braves suffered twin losses to the Cardinals, 9-7, on June 23, and the Cubs on June 21. It was the Cub game that hurt because it tumbled the Braves out of a tie with the Cubs for first place.

The Cubs bats pounded out nine hits. Fred Crave got a home run, double and single to drive in four runs. Dave Fitzgerald and Scott McCarty had two singles each while Rick Rhicner and two hits for the Braves.

Then, the Braves nearly broke even for the week. With the Cardinals leading 7-3 on a three run double by Dave Christofferson, the Braves sent 10 players to the plate in the 6th scoring four runs.

John Hurley drove in three runs on a double. But in the decisive seventh, the Cards scored twice on a walk, a couple of singles and errors and the Braves could not respond.

Fog Forces Boat Aground

Heavy fog and a faulty compass proved to be the undoing of a Park man sailing on the Detroit River last week.

Thomas M. Clark of Pemberton road, was sailing up river with his wife and son to get his compass repaired when he ran into a dense fog bank.

Mr. Clark, a boating enthusiast with 25 years experience on the river, tried using a little Kentucky windage and ended up running his 25-foot Chris Craft aground at Three Mile Park.

There were no injuries, while the boat and the chain link fence it hit sustained minor damage. The boat was hoisted onto a barge and was removed from the scene.

No violations were issued.

Dad Gets Ace On Fathers Day

William R. Huber, of Lenon road, gave himself a present on Fathers day, Sunday, June 20: a hole-in-one on the 180-yard second hole at the Oak Ridge Golf Club.

It was Mr. Huber's first ace in 26 years on the links and he used a four-wood to accomplish the feat.

Woods Council Discontinues Use of New Pool by Swim Teams

swimmers were hurt, including some 23 Woods residents who were receiving great benefits from the program. As for the FSC swimmers, he said members will probably return indoors at the club which is "most ineffective."

Continuing, he said, "We went along with all the requirements they asked for and everybody was right in line." At the same time, he felt the city apparently didn't want young people from the outside using the facility, while adding, "That's the way the ball bounces."

In a letter to the council and the Citizens Recreation Commission, Mr. Shook thanked the officials on behalf of all the coaches and swimmers for use of the pool, which he called "the finest in the Midwest," during June.

Wants to Continue

Noting that the training program was "really beginning to show some fine results for both the children of Grosse Pointe and the other areas," he expressed his deep regrets over the program's suspension.

"As a permanent member of the Michigan AAU Swim Committee for two years I have been working to build some concepts that would enable our State to compete in the sport of competitive swimming on a national level. The defeat of this program has seriously damaged our chances," said Mr. Shook.

"We are grateful to the people who strived hard to make the program go and we are equally disappointed in those who put up the roadblocks to end it. The prestige of Grosse Pointe Woods in the swimming community of Michigan will certainly be affected unless we can do a turnaround and prove that we are not 'big fish in a little pond.'"

He added those concerned with the program would appreciate the opportunity to continue it.

Cooperative Effort

For his part, Mr. Rentschler, who had two children involved in the program "which did much to enhance the reputation of Grosse Pointe Woods," said he will request that this matter be placed on the agenda for consideration on July 12.

In citing the importance of the program, he emphasized it was a cooperative training effort between the FSC and North High.

"They, (the FSC), came in with knowledge and expert swimmers and we came with the pool and people who want to learn," he stressed. "They have good coaches and swimmers. If they didn't, we wouldn't be interested in having them in the 50-meter pool."

To Mr. Rentschler, the main issue in having such a program is the opportunity to "expose our youngsters to excellence." He cited the excellent facility and the opportunity of making it work for the swimmers.

"The Grosse Pointe North swim team has a great chance for a super team next year and it has one fine coach," he said.

Would Aid Others

Mr. Rentschler praised Mr. Teetaert for his enthusiasm, while calling him "a fountain in the community" who will stay and help many other swimmers with further coaching experience gained from the coordinated program.

He definitely hoped the spirit of cooperation between the two groups would be able to continue.

Meanwhile, Mr. Teetaert stated he was extremely disappointed over the result. He felt swimming programs in the Grosse Pointes were not geared to the youth who has an outstanding desire to go beyond area programs. He noted the combined effort of FSC and North High personnel resulted in a "fantastic program for kids with fantastic desire."

Because of its discontinuance, he felt the rug was pulled out from under the program.

Big Loss

In viewing what the end of the program will mean to North swimmers, Mr. Teetaert said it will set them back, affecting their opportunity to do well at the State meet next year. Thus, to the coach, a powerful swim program has been deleted in this respect, while other communities, e.g., Dearborn, Ann Arbor and Birmingham, have active summer programs.

He said North swimmers were very disappointed, while noting it was a sacrifice for them to get up at the early hour for training. Mr. Teetaert said his swimmers had a good rapport with FSC swimmers, while indicating many friendships were made.

If North swimmers were permitted to go it alone in a similar program, he felt there would be a loss on the training front in several areas including motivation.

"The real advantage, (with the coordinated program), is that we had the opportunity to compete with kids with fantastic motivation and ability," stated Mr. Teetaert, who added he was undecided at this point whether or not to go it alone if the opportunity arose.

Comply with Rules

At the June 21 meeting, Mr. Shook, in making the request for a 30-day extension on behalf of FSC and North swimmers, said everyone was grateful for the use of the pool during June, terming the entire program "absolutely fantastic." He said, "We will pay $25 fee, (the $25 fee), to take care of the extra help."

With that, the pros and cons of the program, were discussed. Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos indicated a complaint about loud noises was received from a St. Clair Shores resident who lives near the pool area. That was investigated and it was said that since that initial complaint, no further official complaints were lodged.

Mr. Kefgen asked City Administrator Chester E. Petersen if all requirements, i.e., rules and regulations, prepared by the parks and recreation department were complied with. Mr. Petersen replied in the affirmative, based upon information obtained from Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann, with the fees being paid in advance.

Councilman George Cueter stated, based upon a conversation with Mr. Hallmann, (confirmed by the latter), that Woods swimmers weren't initially receiving the same treatment as those from the FSC, who were allegedly receiving more attention.

Mr. Teetaert explained the reason the teams weren't at first integrated was because, during the first week, North swimmers weren't able to compete with the more advanced FSC swimmers. However, he said, as North swimmers progressed, everyone became quickly intermingled.

The coach noted, in this respect, that the training techniques acquired have been "astronomical," while adding his swimmers have not been slighted during the program.

Mr. Rentschler ultimately spoke and stated both of his children have benefited from the program. "They received individual attention and a great deal of encouragement." And, he added, the additional FSC coaches really helped put the program together.

Supports Program

Dr. Albert Eckel, a member of the Senior Citizens Commission, said he has heard the arguments against such a program, (e.g., some citizens complaining over the use of the pool by non-residents, while indicating they, as taxpayers, were paying for such usage), and agreed with the council members who voted "no" at that time. Speaking as an interested citizen, Dr. Eckel said, "You have to be dedicated to use the pool during the hours of 6-8 a.m.," while stating he was in favor of such usage.

Moments later, Mr. Kefgen moved to grant the 30-day extension under the same terms and conditions as specified in the 4-3 vote of approval in May. However, with Councilman John Sabol, who voted "no" at that time, excused from the session as he was out of town, the tie vote resulted.

Voting for the extension were Mr. Kefgen, Mr. Pinkos and Councilman George S. Freeman, while those nixing it were Councilwoman Joan M. Mullan, Councilman Conrad A. Naegel and Mr. Cueter.

Further discussion then commenced and Mr. Shook, in response to a question on the need of the facility for training, said while it was important to use the pool in June because of the long course season, (and that July would be too late as major meets in the State and the country would be held after August 20), he hoped it would be possible to use the facility up to August 19 for continuity in the overall training program.

"Bartering Point"

Then, in reply to a question on complaints received from residents against the program, Mr. Petersen said his office had not received any but City Treasurer Helen I. Fox received a call from the St. Clair Shores citizen who complained about the noise.

At this point, Mr. Kefgen moved for the 12-day extension and Mr. Naegel said, "We're down to a bartering point. I think it's wrong and I'll vote 'no' on the motion." The vote was then taken with the council tally being the same as before.

The question came up from the program's supporters of calling a special council meeting but Mr. Pinkos said he would rather not call a special session which would be "like pulling at every straw." If such a meeting were to be called, he felt it would be better if a majority of the council agreed to have such a session.

On the special meeting question, the mayor explained that "some repercussions" were received from citizens after the council approved the program at such a session in May. He said the solons had received some criticism because of this.

Not Enough Notice

Mr. Pinkos also said some residents felt they didn't receive sufficient notice of the May 20 special meeting in the press, while expressing their feelings to him that pool improvements were voted upon by taxpayers via a bond issue and outsiders shouldn't be invited to use the facility.

(A story was published in the May 20 edition of the NEWS announcing the special meeting. However, due to the editorial deadline it was impossible to announce the special session earlier as the council tabled action on the pool usage question on May 13 so the Citizens Recreation Commission could meet and give its recommendation, which was favorable, for the council's consideration on the 20th).

Mr. Cueter, who had voted "yes" on the 20th, said he changed his vote on June 21 primarily because of the report he received from Mr. Hallmann.

The councilman also expressed a concern over the lack of communication between citizens and the city regarding this issue, and for that matter, other council business. He felt communication could be improved through the efforts of the press, the city and residents themselves, who should make an attempt to become more knowledgeable on what's happening in the community.

Give Viewpoints

Mrs. Mullan, on two separate occasions during the June 21 meeting, explained to the program's supporters why she voted "no."

Noting she received no calls over the question pro or con, Mrs. Mullan said she wasn't in opposition to the program per se but felt this year wasn't a good one to begin because the facility was new and her concern over potential pool problems.

She also felt guidelines from the Citizens Recreation Commission on pool usage were necessary prior to such a program.

For his part, Mr. Kefgen reacted to the tie votes by saying, "It's a shame. I don't blame any council members for voting the way he did. The votes were cast based upon information each one was privy to."

"It was established that the majority of youths in the program were from Grosse Pointe Woods. Most of them are part of the competitive swim program at North High. I feel they derived great benefits from the program and they were just getting in the groove."

"I feel the program is beneficial to the Grosse Pointe Woods residents involved and isn't detrimental to other residents."

Offers Opinion

He stated the young people complied with the rules and regulations, while saying, "There has been no difficulties with the program to my knowledge. There's a need

Shooks Shake Up Swim Meet

Two Woods swimmers competed in the Michigan Junior Olympic Meet at Trenton's 50-meter facility in the first long course meet of the summer in Michigan. Tom Shook, 14, who swims for the Fitzgerald Swim Club, won the 100-meter breaststroke with a time of 1:19.2. Frances Shook, 13, the outstanding woman breaststroke swimmer in Michigan last year, won the 200-meter breaststroke event in 2:57.0, her best time ever. She also placed in the 100-meter back and the women's open 400 IM. Sue was second in the 200 IM and the 100-meter breaststroke with a time of 1:23.0, and placed fourth in the 100-meter free with a time of 1:08.0. Both of Frances' breaststroke times qualified her for the Senior AAU Regional in Springfield, Ill., later this month. There were over 4,500 entries in the meet from 40 clubs around Michigan. The Fitzgerald Swim Club took team high point honors with the Ann Arbor Swim Club finishing second.

One View from the Capitol

By William Bryant

The Senate Appropriations Committee has redrafted the proposal to revamp and fund SEMTA, our regional transit authority.

I support their changes which were (1), to increase and change the board; (2), to use a seven county weight tax rather than a three county property transfer tax for funding; and (3), to prohibit a subway system.

In the past I had been supportive of a rapid transit system for the Detroit area, even if that included a subway, though I had doubts about the need for or feasibility of a subway.

More recently the long range operational costs of a subway, combined with the huge costs and cost overruns of such new systems as in Washington, D.C., have led me to believe Detroit should not attempt a subway.

We have rail routes into downtown from the north, northwest, and west and I believe these could be updated and made to offer good rail service.

Beyond such rail service we should concentrate on regional bus service and only consider new forms of fixed right-of-way transit on the most solid of evidence it will be supported by high ridership.

One of the things which had led me to accept the idea of a subway was the "promise" of $800 million startup money from the Federal Government.

Now they are talking about no more than $400 million and the Federal transportation authorities are still very reluctant about approval of any subway for Detroit.

Further, with recent widespread holdups of buses, the thought of such a crime on a shiny new subway leads to further visions of an empty shiny new subway.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I wish to take exception to some of the remarks and presuppositions of an article under the by-line of George Polgar Jr. in the issue of June 17, ("Nature of Scholastic Aptitude Test Results Explored by Educators").

Although I am not a parent, I have, as a college instructor, (in philosophy), a great interest in the proper teaching of English.

My recent experience has shown me that most of the students graduated from our high schools cannot write clear, grammatically correct sentences or put such sentences into coherent paragraphs. Most students seem unaware that words have meanings.

They have great difficulty in analyzing paragraphs, extracting arguments from them and formalizing the arguments.

Why should this be so? True enough, television and other diversions have hindered the development of reading and writing skills. But I wonder whether pointing the finger of blame at them alone is not a poor attempt at self-justification by high school English teachers.

It is true that scores on SAT verbal tests, either individual or in the aggregate, do not prove much. I agree that the best index of probable success in college is the high school GPA. The SAT tests are simply subject to too many uncontrollable variables.

Consequently, I do not think we should put too much stock in them. Nevertheless, students who cannot communicate effectively, whether in writing or in speech, will not be successful in college or in the "real" world.

Mr. Polgar seems to think that conservative critics of contemporary educational theories and practices can be dismissed merely by calling them proponents of educational backlash. Surely, the educationalists and Mr. Polgar should know that "argumentum ad hominem" and "argumentum ad populum" are fallacious and prove nothing.

Why does Mr. Polgar assume that conservative critics are stupid? Why does he rule them out of court because they are conservative? Why is he and the educationalists for whom he is an apologist unwilling to even try to understand the basis and legitimacy of conservative criticism?

Is it too much to ask our high school English teachers, (and the teachers of other subjects, too), to emphasize grammar, good writing, comprehension in reading and the ability to make sound analyses? Why are students so unwilling to expose themselves to these fundamentals?

A good education, it seems to me, does not consist only in relevant courses or what students find exciting at a given moment. What students need and what students want are not always the same.

I suggest, in conclusion, that it is time for the educationalists and Mr. Polgar to engage in a serious dialogue with their conservative critics. (They seem all too willing to accept any liberal criticism that comes along without hesitation.)

The time for attempting to win arguments through name-calling and the use of unfounded, not to say false, presuppositions has come to an end.

Sincerely yours,
Robert G. Leisey, PhD,

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur M. Woodford
Chief of Central Library

"When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitled them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation."

And so begins one of the greatest documents in the history of man's existence—the "Declaration of the 13 United States of America" signed at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, July 4, 1776.

It is 200 years ago this coming Sunday that representatives of the British colonies in North America adopted this eloquent document, setting forth the reasons for declaring their independence from Great Britain.

No one in 1776 was much surprised at the news. War against England had already begun. George Washington had been named to head the colonial army. The spirit of independence was abroad in the land. Many men were asking, with Samuel Adams, "Is not America already independent? Why not then declare it?"

The actual birthday of the country was much quieter than later celebrations of its anniversary. The great decisions for independence had really been taken much earlier.

On June 7, Richard Henry Lee of Virginia moved in the Continental Congress that "The United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States." Three days later, Congress voted to name a special committee to draft a declaration supporting Lee's resolution.

On June 11, it named John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, Robert Livingston and Roger Sherman to the committee. Jefferson was given the task of preparing the draft.

While Congress adopted the final draft of the Declaration on July 4, the public did not learn the actual words of the document until July 8, and it was not until July 15 that the New York delegation to Congress reported that it favored the Declaration making it a "unanimous" document.

The ideas contained in the Declaration were not new. The English had used many of the same ideas to justify their revolution of 1688. But the simple beauty of the Declaration of Independence stirred the hearts of men and women from New Hampshire to Georgia.

One fitting way to celebrate our Bicentennial is, I believe, to read a copy of the Declaration of Independence. Copies of the Declaration will be found in any one of several books available for circulation at your Grosse Pointe Public Libraries.

In addition to the historic document itself, I would like to mention two new books recently added to our collection that tell of the background, writing, and signing of the Declaration of Independence.

In THE BIRTH OF THE UNITED STATES, (Morrow) author Jim Bishop takes on a theme well suited to his personal approach, offering a vivid realistic minute-by-minute account of the four momentous days that culminated in the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Despite over-simplification, Mr. Bishop's smoothly paced narrative is an engrossing drama.

He recaps major events from the early 1760's to July 1776, and then relives those sultry days when 50-odd delegates to the Continental Congress tore apart Jefferson's document, line-by-line, then reassembled it and signed it.

In HONORABLE TREASON: THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE AND THE MEN WHO SIGNED IT, (Viking), David Freeman Hawke has written a splendid account of that hot summer in Philadelphia and the men who made the ultimate decision for independence.

Mr. Hawke avoids the usual colony-by-colony sketch of the delegates; instead, he introduces each man as he works behind the scenes or debates the issues, or groups them as politicians, oddballs, misfits. He points out that nearly every delegate had been involved in public affairs in his own colony for at least a decade, that the majority were mild and steady men.

Most of the action takes place in June, and Mr. Hawke conveys the tension, fatigue and determination among the delegates during those difficult days.

In addition to these two books we have several older titles that also tell the story behind the Declaration of Independence.

These include Donald Barr Chidsey's JULY 4, 1776, (Crown), Cornel Lengyel's FOUR DAYS IN JULY, (Doubleday), and that classic in the literature of American history THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE: A STUDY IN THE HISTORY OF POLITICAL IDEAS, (Knopf), by Carl Becker.

These are my suggestions for Independence Day. Good reading and have a happy July 4, 1976!

City Okays Parking Ban

The Grosse Pointe City Council passed a resolution at its Monday, June 21, meeting that may ease some residents' parking and traffic problems.

The resolution calls for the prohibition of parking on parts of Cadieux, Maumee, Charlevoix, St. Clair, St. Paul and Waterloo.

However, the prohibitions will not go into effect unless The City's current Federal Highway Act grant application is approved.

The council originally planned to close off the streets to parking in either 1977, 1978 or 1979, but cited considerable savings at implementing the plan now.

If the grant is approved, drivers will not be able to park on Cadieux from Maumee to Mack on the east side; Maumee from Cadieux to Fisher on the south side; Charlevoix from Cadieux to Fisher on the north side; St. Clair from Jefferson to Mack on the west side; St. Paul from Cadieux to Fisher on the north side; and Waterloo from Cadieux to Fisher on the south side.

Shores Buys Two Trucks

The bids of Roy O'Brien Ford for a pair of trucks were unanimously accepted by The Shores Council at its regular meeting Tuesday morning, June 22.

A van in the amount of $3,975 and a pickup at $4,500 will replace the water department's 1969 panel truck and a 1972 heavy pickup.

An initial motion to purchase the pickup at the low bid of $4,475, ($25 less than Roy O'Brien's bid), was ultimately shelved by the council after learning that the public works department felt Roy O'Brien would give better service than the competition.

The art of enameling was practiced among the most ancient of civilized people. No enameling has yet been discovered that is equal to the ceramic decor of the walls of the palace of Rames III at Tell el-Yehudia in the delta of the Nile, or the palace of Nimrod in Babylon. The Egyptians used a type of enameling known as cloisonné in their jewelry, which was exquisite. In Byzantine times, cloisonné reached its height. With a genius for design and color, Byzantine artisans used it for a number of ecclesiastical objects.

At VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, Detroit, 881-4800, we have a wide selection of dinner rings, many with genuine stones. For someone not familiar with jewelry, knowing and having confidence in your jeweler is of the utmost importance. Whether you are making a purchase or having an item repaired, our reputation at VALENTE JEWELRY, is your guarantee of satisfaction.

in Los Angeles, where she has a large student following and is a consultant to other professionals.

Her work has been selected for exhibition by the Los Angeles County Museum and the Sacramento State Fair, and by invitation from various groups of California painters.

She's been fascinated by painting ever since she can remember. As a child in Hankow and Shanghai, China, she was taught drawing and dancing by expatriate Europeans of international reputation, conditioned by their belief that discipline and art are synonymous.

Post-high school, she continued her painting and dancing studies in Vienna, Austria, for two years. Finally, she received training in the art of portrait painting under the celebrated American painter, author and teacher Frederic Taubes.

According to Taubes: "Andrea Day not only covered a lot of geography in her travels, but also with remarkable skill and dexterity charted her way through that maze that surrounds the discipline of portraiture."

"Endowed with a faculty for rendering a likeness with ease and a good color sense, her portraits are appealing as works of art, besides being sympathetic representations of her models."

Forty or more of Mrs. Day's paintings—figures, still lifes and landscapes—will be on exhibit for a week at Charterhouse, which has offered to turn over its commission on sales to Cottage.

The Soroptimist Club will, of course, do the same; Mrs. Day has already sent "Bouquet," a colorful 15-by-17 inch still life valued at $500, to Grosse Pointe. It's her gift, to be sold by the Grosse Pointe Soroptimists.

All proceeds will, of course, go to Cottage.

Mrs. Day is coming to town for the show, driving from the West Coast to Grosse Pointe via van, (how's THAT for a Bicentennial trip?!), with her son, Andrew. They plan to arrive a few days before the Charterhouse opening.

They'll stay with a cousin, Alice Curtis Walmsley, and her husband, Jack, in Cranford lane.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

The experts say that at one time various segments of our economy are competing for the investor's dollar. The investors on the other hand are competing with each other to obtain the best investments at the most favorable rates. If you invest your money you give up the privilege of spending it, in essence. So in return for giving this up, the lender expects a promise from the borrower to repay it at a future time, and he requires that the borrower pay a certain amount for the use of the money. This is called interest, and this is the way your home mortgage works.

People also expect a home to be in good working order when they purchase it. If it is not, then it is reasonable to assume that an allowance is made in the price. With all good intentions, however, things do go wrong and usually the new buyer is stuck with the problem and the cost of repairing or replacing it. Sometimes it requires an attorney to attempt to settle the matter—and on and on! This is why we sell ERA's one year, $100.00 deductible Warranty. Call Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087 and find out more about this all important Warranty.

Display Focus Is Americana

All members of Windmill Pointe Questers 385 contributed to the display of Americana in Jacobson's St. Clair Window, delving into their personal collections to find the pieces, many of them of their family heirlooms, for their special Bicentennial exhibit.

The two-piece wooden hutch, ladderback chair and pine table originated in North Carolina. Slave labor in Louisiana fashioned the wooden dough tray, while from Virginia came such lovely pewter pieces as the candle holder, bowl and plate.

The copper teakettle, crocks and wooden spoons show the skills of Northern householders.

Assisting Windmill Pointe Questers President Grace Harrison and Joan Gillis in coordinating the project was Jacobson's David Murray.

Open Meadow Brook Season

A long weekend of all-American sounds—classical, jazz and pops — will simultaneously usher in summer and the 12th season of the Meadow Brook Music Festival starting tonight, Thursday, June 24, at Baldwin Pavilion on the campus of Oakland University.

Under the baton of DSO music director Aldo Ceccato, the Detroit Symphony will welcome concert-goers to its summer home with symphonic programs Thursday and Saturday evenings featuring works of two American composers, Gershwin and Copland.

Between these two concerts, jazz aficionados will be treated to a Friday evening with Benny Goodman, one of the kings of the Big Band era.

Then the Symphony will literally blow the lid off in a five-hour Beethoven Marathon Sunday, climaxing with a fusillade of 16 cannon shots to punctuate the grand finale: Wellington's Victory Overture.

"Choice seats are available in the Pavilion for all concerts except the Friday night jazz series," says Leon Petrus, managing director of the Festival.

"Season ticket buyers have completely bought out most of the Pavilion for Friday evenings throughout the 10-week festival. There still is a limited number of tickets available for section three, but they are going fast. After they are gone, we will be able to accommodate jazz fans only on the lawn."

Single-performance tickets went on sale June 10, at the Meadow Brook box office at Baldwin Pavilion and at any ticket service of Hudson's, Grinnell's, Sears' or Montgomery Ward's.

Ticket information is available at 377-3010.

The Meadow Brook ticket office is open Mondays through Wednesdays from 1 to 7 o'clock, Thursdays through Saturdays from noon to 9 and Sundays from 2 to 8:30 o'clock.

This week's identical Detroit Symphony concerts Thursday and Saturday will feature Lorin Hollander, pianist.

The Orchestra, conducted by Aldo Ceccato, will present Gershwin's "An American in Paris" and Copland's "Lincoln Portrait," followed by "Rhapsody in Blue" and Copland's "Piano Concerto" with Mr. Hollander at the piano.

The Sunday pops concert Beethoven Marathon begins at 5 o'clock, two-and-one-half hours earlier than usual. Among compositions to be heard is Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 3 in C Minor, with Mario Miranda as soloist.

The program also will feature the Symphony No. 9 with Glenda Kirkland, soprano, Elsie Inselman, mezzo-soprano, John McCollum, tenor, Leslie Guinn, baritone, and the Meadow Brook Festival Chorus.

The concluding work will be Wellington's Victory Overture. Performing some of the composer's chamber music will be Flavio Varani, pianist, Bogos Mordchikian, Inez Redman and James Waring, violinists, David Ireland, viola, and Mario Di Fiore, cellist.

The second week of the Music Festival season will present Oscar Peterson at the jazz concert July 2; the DSO featuring the works of

Pair to Face Circuit Court

Two men, both of whom are charged with the delivery of a controlled substance, i.e., marijuana, were bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court for trial, while charges against a third man stemming from the same incident were dismissed, reported the Youth Service Division, (YSD), office.

This action was taken at The Farms Municipal Court examination of Charles Briggs Raudabaugh, 25, of 2216 Michael, Warren; Philip Nelson Porter, 27, of 27745 Bohnhoff, Roseville, and Robert Patrick Romain, 24, of 937 Washington road, on Wednesday, June 16.

Both Raudabaugh and Porter were bound over to circuit court and their arraignment date is scheduled for mid-July. Meanwhile, charges were dismissed against Romain.

The trio were originally arrested on April 7 after an intensive investigation, which was conducted for around one month by YSD Det. Donald Schmalz and an undercover agent from Capac, Mich.

Several officers provided aid the day the alleged sale was made including all YSD detectives and men from The Woods, Farms, and a representative from East Detroit's Narcotics Unit.

Sun Is Friend To Burro's Tail

No burro you ever saw had a tail that looked like Burro's Tail, (Sedum morganianum).

This succulent plant from Mexico grows in drooping chains of waxy, pale blue-green, bean-shaped leaves that may reach three feet in length. It is very attractive in a hanging basket of creeping over the edge of a low planter.

For best luck with Burro's Tail, Michigan State University horticulturists advise giving it full sun or bright light and temperatures on the cool side.

Average home temperatures, (50-68 degrees F at night), are fine, though the plant will tolerate temperatures into the 40s.

Pot in a sandy soil mixture made of two parts sand and one part each loam and peat. Let soil dry between waterings, and fertilize once a month when the plant is actively growing.

You can propagate Burro's Tail by sowing seed in the spring or by cuttings or divisions. By far the easiest method is to simply break off a few leaves and drop them on the soil surface.

They will quickly root and form new plants.

Gives Report On Recreation

The Shores Council received a favorable report on recreation related developments at its regular meeting Tuesday morning, June 22.

"The park is moving along in good shape," said Councilman Daniel Beck, who indicated tiling of the floor in both the men's and women's locker rooms, plus office space, would be completed by Thursday, June 24. He felt the permanent ceramic tiling would help on the maintenance front.

In noting the marina was in excellent condition, Mr. Beck said only one well of the community's 144 remains open, (and that one is a 50-footer).

The tennis program is going well but he stated four of the five courts are in need of refurbishing. Mr. Beck stated these courts suffer from jagged cracks but are definitely playable.

In an effort to prevent potential major work in the future, he said the Village will have to advertise for bids in the areas of resurfacing and color coating, along with some necessary filling. He added bids will probably be considered by the council at its July meeting.

NAMED MANAGER

Peter J. Mercier, of Washington road, vice-president of Cushman and Wakefield, Inc., New York based national commercial real estate firm, has been appointed manager of C & W's industrial real estate operations in Michigan. Mr. Mercier will be located at the company's offices in the Detroit Bank and Trust Building.

Cool Is Best For Holly Fern

The holly fern, (Cyrtomium falcatum), has none of the lacy qualities you think of when you think of ferns. Its leaves are dark green and leathery with sharp-toothed, wavy edges. Their resemblance to holly leaves gives this fern its popular name.

Horticulturists at Michigan State University advise placing a holly fern near an east or north window where it will be out of bright light or direct sun.

Cool temperatures — not over 75 degrees F in winter — and higher than average house humidity — 30 percent or more — provide the best growing conditions.

The holly fern does not do well with water standing around its roots. Repot every two or three years in a soil mix made of equal parts loam, sand, peat and leaf mold, with provisions for good drainage.

Pieces of broken clay pot or a handful of gravel in the bottom of the pot will provide for drainage.

Fertilize the holly fern every month and remove runners as they appear. They take strength away from the plant.

Possible problems with holly ferns include scale and mealybugs. Yellowing of leaves means the roots are too wet.

Propagation is by division in the spring.

Agaves Come From Mexico

One variety of the agave, (Agave americana), is the famous Century Plant, so called because of the belief that it blooms only once every 100 years.

According to Michigan State University horticulturists, it takes most agaves 10 years or so to mature and blossom.

Agaves are members of the amaryllis family and native to Mexico. They grow in the form of a symmetrical rosette of broad, gray-green, fibrous leaves, usually tipped with spines and studded with hard, sharp teeth.

Agaves are often confused with aloes, which have a similar shape but tend to be softer, fleshy and much less spiny.

The agave usually grown as a houseplant is Agave miradorensis, the Dwarf Century Plant. Another small agave is A. pumila. Its very stiff, dark green leaves are striped with silver and tipped with black. Other agaves grow too large to be used as houseplants.

A sunny window and average house temperatures and humidity levels are congenial to the agave. It does best in a soil made of two parts loam and one part sand.

Water sparingly when the soil is bone-dry on the surface.

Propagate by removing and potting offsets. The parent plant dies after blooming.

WINS RACE

Raymond Marcell, 19, of The Woods, won the 1976 Mott Furay Memorial Waiters and Waitress Race at Belle Isle Sunday, June 13. Ray missed the big win twice, coming in second last year and being disqualified at the finish line in 1974 because he spilled a quarter ounce of champagne. He's an employee of the Georgian Inn, Roseville.

Project HOPE, (Health Opportunity for People Everywhere), is a national organization doing work on an international scale. It is the principal activity of the People-to-People Health Foundation, a private, non-profit corporation with international headquarters in Washington, D.C. Detroit is one of 30 chapters nationwide working to raise funds for the Foundation.

Its principal objective, since its founding in 1958, has been the improvement of health conditions through education. The Project, aware that treatment alone does not alleviate an area's long-term health problem, believes it is essential that local personnel be capable of dealing with local conditions.

It is HOPE's objective to prepare them for that task. The organization is probably best known for its support of the SS HOPE Hospital Ship. Launched in 1960, she was retired from active duty in 1974 to permit the Project to respond to repeated invitations from countries which did not have adequate docking facilities for a 15,000-ton ship.

During her missions at sea, the SS HOPE traveled 103,625 miles, bringing medical care and education to more than 200,000 patients in 11 seaside countries on four continents. Her staff performed more than 19,000 operations — and immunized about 3,000,000 people!

More than 2,500 North American medical personnel have served with the Project, and have trained more than 8,000 physicians, dentists, nurses and allied health personnel.

Currently, Project HOPE has on-going programs in Colombia, Peru, Brazil, many Caribbean islands, Tunisia, Nigeria, Egypt, Poland and several Mexican, American and American Indian communities in the southwest.

A pair of Pointers, PAUL J. ARNONE, son of the JOSEPH A. ARNONEs, and MONICA ANN MULLINS, daughter of MR. and MRS. BERNARD F. MULLINS, who plan to be married in August received Bachelor of Science degrees this spring from Lake Superior State College. Paul, an Accounting major who plans to work as a tax or cost accountant with a manufacturing firm, is an Austin Catholic Prep School alumnus. Monica, a Sociology major who plans to work at the Children's Home of Detroit in Cook road, is an alumna of Our Lady Star of the Sea High School. At Lake Superior, Monica has been active in Student Senate activities, Circle K, children's theater and Associated Women and Men Students. A consistent Dean's List student, she has participated in many community activities, such as religious education and as a volunteer for Chippewa County Social Services. Paul, who served as treasurer of Lambda Sigma Beta professional business fraternity in 1975-76, has also been active in the LSSC Dorm Club and the Newman Christian Center. He participated in the preparation of the Edison Sault Electric Annual Report to Stockholders, and is currently working on the Kincheloe Impact Special Survey.

JOSEPH EDWARD FARLEY, of Vendome road, has received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from Tulane University.
