DETROIT POLICE staged a massive blue flu strike Wednesday to protest the lay-off of nearly 1,000 officers, almost one-fifth of the city's 5,200 member force. Police Chief Philip Tannian said about 357 of the approximately 750 officers assigned to the 4 p.m. to midnight shift at the 13 precincts across the city called in too ill to report for duty. He said, however, that department officials were able to transfer enough police from headquarters to precinct duty in order to adequately patrol city streets.

TROY BALLOONIST Karl Thomas was safe aboard a Soviet steamship Thursday, after spending four harrowing days aboard a life raft in the Atlantic. His attempt to become the first balloonist to cross the Atlantic ended in near-tragedy Sunday night when thunderstorms destroyed the balloon's gondola. Although suffering three cracked ribs, Mr. Thomas was reported to be in satisfactory condition aboard the Dekabrist, the Soviet vessel which found him late Wednesday night about 550 miles southeast of New York City.

THE SUPREME COURT ruled 7-2 Friday that the death penalty is constitutional if it is carefully and fairly applied. But the court voted 5-4 to strike down those laws that make death mandatory for all persons convicted of certain crimes. Such laws, it said, treat defendants "not as uniquely individual human beings but as members of a faceless, undifferentiated mass." With the 7-2 decision, the court upheld death penalty laws in Georgia, Florida and Texas, where it said clear legal guidelines are given to judges and juries in capital cases. In those states, special circumstances—such as the severity of the crime and the character of the defendant—are considered before the death penalty is imposed.

BANDS, BUNTING and bells heralded the nation's Fourth of July weekend with Americans everywhere bent on making it the grandest birthday party yet. "Break out the flags, strike up the band, light up the sky," said President Gerald Ford, and Americans were quick to accept the invitation. The United States is observing, he said, "the greatest Fourth of July any of us will ever see."

A JUBILANT Israel went wild with joy Sunday as it welcomed more than 100 jet-liner hostages rescued by a squad of Israeli commandos. The commandos, aboard three jets, made a 4,800-mile round trip to Africa to rescue the hostages being held in Uganda by pro-Palestinian air hijackers. Israeli officials said 102 hostages, the majority Israelis, came back to a joyous and triumphant welcome in Tel Aviv.

A BIPARTISAN GROUP of governors meeting in Hershey, Pa., agreed Monday that welfare is a mess and that only the Federal Government can straighten it out with national funding to guarantee a minimum income for every American family. The principal attack on the task force proposal came from Gov. Arch Moore Jr., R-W. Va., who said it would simply transfer a headache from the states to the Federal Government while surrendering state authority. However, most comment on the proposal was favorable.

Woods to Reconsider Swim Plan

Previously Discontinued Coordinated Training Program to Be Viewed July 12

By Roger A. Waha
The Woods has confirmed that the cooperative training program between the Fitzgerald Swim Club (FSC), and North High School swimmers, which was discontinued Wednesday, June 30, will definitely be on the agenda of the regular council meeting Monday, July 12.

At its regular meeting Monday, June 21, the council via two 3-3 votes nixed a 30-day and a 12-day extension of the program, respectively, in the new 50-meter competitive pool at the Lake Front Park.

Swimmers were granted the use of the pool from June 1-30 from 8-8 a.m. at a cost of $25 per day by the council in May.

Open for Discussion
City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said this matter was discussed by the council sitting as the Committee of the Whole in a joint meeting with the Citizens Recreation Commission Monday evening, June 28. At that time, a request to have this item placed on the agenda was considered.

He said this question will be open for public discussion, (although it technically isn't a public hearing), while (Continued on Page 4)

Elm Tree Population In Grosse Pointe Park Continues to Dwindle

Estimated Total of 700 Eliminated Because of Disease in Last Five Years; City Manager Slone Expresses Concern over Losses, Cites Several Factors Which Play Role

By Roger A. Waha
Hundreds of majestic elm trees are succumbing to the cancer of the tree world, Dutch elm disease, in many communities in the Detroit metropolitan area and, for that matter, in cities across the nation. This can be readily borne out by driving along any street where elms had reigned supreme and where, today, because of the demise of many trees, only a withered stump, or absolutely nothing, remains.

A thoroughfare once filled with the swaying beauties has given way to an awesome pattern of irregularly where a few remaining elms stand out like lonely sentinels awaiting a sneak attack from the spreading disease.

The concerns over the growing loss of the elms and increased costs of tree removal were focused upon at The Park Council's regular meeting Monday, June 28.

At that time, the council unanimously accepted the bid of James Tree Service, Inc., in the amount of $17,239 to remove 85 diseased elms and two maple trees at various locations throughout the city.

Termining the fight to save the trees a "constant battle," City Manager Robert A. Slone said the municipality is trying to do everything it can to preserve the elms. But, unfortunately, for The Park and other communities the fight often appears on the futile side but one, nonetheless, which must be made.

Within the last five years, for example, an estimated total of 700 trees have been lost, reducing the city's elm population to around 5,800. Besides that, Mr. Slone said it cost an average of $178 last year to remove a tree, while this year the average amount is placed at around $188.

He attributed the five year loss to several factors including the aging of the trees, several severe storms and the fact that the city no longer uses DDT but methoxychlor, which he said doesn't have the residual of DDT. He indicated much of the disease spreads via the root system as the trees become larger and the roots become more entwined.

Costly Process
The big thing is trying to get them off the street fast enough to prevent the disease from spreading, said Mr. Slone. While winter is the best period to remove the trees, he stressed time was a factor and the city doesn't want to wait until the snow falls.

Gigantic Fireworks Display Draws Estimated 25,000 in Woods; Park's Parade Successful

An estimated 25,000 persons witnessed the fireworks display at the Lochmoor Club Sunday evening, July 4, according to Woods Bicentennial chairman Robert E. Trinklein.

Thirty-eight Woods public safety officers, an estimated 18 auxiliary officers and one clerk-dispatcher were stationed in the immediate area to control the crowd. Officers directed traffic around the Vernier road-Mack avenue intersection as spectators jammed Parcels and Mason Schools to view the fireworks marking the nation's 200th birthday.

"This was by far the best Fourth of July ever," said Mr. Trinklein. "We had 25,000 persons at the fireworks, and on Sunday afternoon, we had over 3,000 persons picnicking at Ghesquiere Park. The music was good, the food was delicious and the people were friendly."

All Worked Hard
"We didn't have one reported incident of vandalism or stealing. There wasn't even that much litter from all the picnickers. Everyone should be commended for their actions."

Centralized Dispatch Unit Under Scrutiny

Pointe, Harper Woods Officials Continue Exploring Feasibility of System; City Managers in Process of Preparing Report

By George Polgar Jr.

City officials of the five Pointes and Harper Woods have recently revived consideration of a centralized public safety dispatch system for the six community area which could theoretically represent an overall savings of $300,000 annually.

This figure was provided by Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen with the qualification that once the complex logistics of the plan were fully explored, it may turn out to be a disproportionate savings for some of the communities involved and of no utility whatsoever to others.

The plan now under investigation calls for a single police and fire dispatch system for the Pointes and Harper Woods which could, at the discretion of the individual municipalities, close down the rest of the police stations at 5 p.m. each day.

According to supporters of the plan, the number of dispatch personnel used by the six communities could be cut by almost one-third. Some of this manpower could be redirected to increased street patrol—a plus from a crime prevention standpoint—while the rest would result in personnel cuts.

The greatest cost savings would be in this unpopular area of layoffs. At the same time, the apparent economy of closing the stations at night might be offset by the need for a new jail facility which could handle the load of all the communities involved.

Will Take Look
According to Mr. Petersen, the nature of the centralized dispatch plan makes it an all or nothing deal. "The only way this plan could offer any cost savings would be if every community took part," he said.

When the plan was last discussed in late 1975, The Shores declined to participate. Now Village President Gerald C. Schroeder has said that he will wait for the report of the city managers as to the cost saving possibilities, and feasibility, of the plan.

"If the report of the city managers shows that there is a possibility of a cost savings, of course we will consider every opportunity to save money," said Mr. Schroeder.

Plan Big Meeting This Fall

Pointers Express Willingness to Cooperate in Effort to Curb End of Year Pranks

By Susan McDonald

The Board of Education has wasted no time in embarking on a community-wide campaign to curb the type of student disturbances and vandalism that marred the last days of the 1976 school year in The Pointe.

Spurred by the June 1 incident at South High School where about 500 students gathered, with one police officer being injured in the ruckus, the Board is calling for city officials and parents alike to help them devise a program to halt end of year pranks at the schools.

"For many years a certain amount of nonsense has been tolerated," said Board president Joan R. Hanpeter in a letter to city officials. "However, as time has passed, 'harmless pranks' have become dangerous, costly and destructive."

Will Consider Measures
"Therefore, it is time that a concerted effort be made by the schools, parents and other governmental agencies to bring this unnecessary destruction under control."

Mrs. Hanpeter proposed in a letter to all five Pointe governing bodies that a meeting be held before the September opening of school to discuss ways of combating this "serious community problem."

Although a date for the meeting has not yet been set, spokesmen for the five municipalities have enthusiastically indicated their willingness to cooperate in the effort.

The trustees are hoping to develop both defensive and preventive measures to combat pranks. Mrs. Hanpeter suggested certain traditional events such as "cap and gown day," which she feels inspired the June 1 incident, be considered for elimination.

View Mobile Units
Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber, who was commanding officer at South on June 1, suggested that dismissal time and students' permission to drive to school should be discussed at the gathering.

"A great deal of good could come from such a meeting," Chief Ferber said. "A lot of it can be done administratively in the school system."

Mrs. Hanpeter said she would also like to see guidance (Continued on Page 2)

New Students Should Sign Up

Newcomers to the Grosse Pointe School District, who will be attending either North or South High School in the fall, are urged to make an appointment with counselors during the summer in order to complete their registration prior to the opening of school.

School officials emphasize that all newcomers must telephone ahead of time for a counseling appointment during designated periods. Dr. Robert Hanson will be in his office in South High School's Counseling Center during the week of July 12-18 from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. to enroll students new to the district for the 1976-77 school year. He also will enroll students the week of August 30-September 3.

Anyone who wishes to enroll at South should call the school at 884-3200 for an appointment. Parents should come with the student and should take evidence of credits earned including the last report card.

Neil Curtis will be available from 8 a.m.-2:30 p.m. the week of August 2-6 to counsel newcomers who will attend North. He also will be available August 23-27 on the same daily schedule.

Potential enrollees should call North High at 886-8100 for an appointment during the aforementioned periods.

GP Symphony, Jacobson's Set Pop Concert July 16

The Grosse Pointe Symphony Society and Jacobson's are holding their second annual "Symphony Under The Stars" summer pops concert Friday, July 16.

Music lovers, friends and all residents are invited to attend the open air concert which will be held at Jacobson's D'Hondt Way, 17030 Kercheval avenue.

Grosse Pointe Symphony president Nicholas Lindheim, general chairman, Mrs. Rudolph Stonisch Jr., and her committee, along with Jacobson's public relations director Carolyn Barnhart, have collaborated in making this concert a Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra benefit. The evening will begin at 8:30 p.m. with a Jacobson buffet dinner in the St. Clair Room. The concert follows at 8:30 p.m.

Program highlights will be in commemoration of America's 200th birthday and the theme is a tribute to America with Grosse Pointe Symphony maestro Felix Resnick conducting his 60 member orchestra.

The benefit concert will open with the rousing "National Emblem" by Bagley, followed by the always popular "Orpheus in the Underworld" by Offenbach, "Tales from Vienna Woods" by Strauss, selections from "The Sound of Music" by Rodgers and Hammerstein, "Strings on Fire" by Mancini, "Spangled Spectacular" by Cohan, "American Suite" by Hayman and "America The Beautiful," the finale.

Maestro Resnick has planned a program of continuous music with no intermission.

The combined dinner and concert tickets are $7 and concert tickets only are $3.50. Both are available at Jacobson's business office in Kercheval avenue.

The raincheck date will be Friday, July 30.

Correction

Last week's front page story, "Woods Nixes Bid to Extend Use of New Pool," indicated Dr. Albert Eckel's support of such usage on the part of members of the Fitzgerald Swim Club and the North High School swim team.

However, the sentence saying Dr. Eckel agreed with the council members who voted "no" at that time, (regarding the tally at the May 20 special meeting against such usage), was obviously confusing in the context of his overall viewpoint. That sentence should have read he agreed with the council members who voted for the program.

Finally, for clarification purposes, the deck beneath the lead story, "Shores Approves Budget," read "Drops 50 of a Mill Tax Levy." If that didn't seem completely clear, the reason was because the lines were transposed. It should have read "Tax Levy Drops 50 of a Mill."

such proposal in terms of increased efficiency in service. With police response time as a major factor in such service, he questions the value of the plan for The Shores.

Other Considerations
"I don't see how this system could make police response time any faster than it already is in this community," said Director Vitale.

Acting City Police Chief, Lt. Robert VanTiem, is not convinced that such a plan would increase police efficiency and is strongly opposed to the idea of closing up stations for the night.

"When you shut down a police station you close out the citizenry, and that's wrong," said Lt. VanTiem.

Besides the obstacle of having to provide a large enough jail facility for a combined community operation, there are other initial costs to be considered.

There would, of course, be the adaptation of the present community radio facilities to operate independently during the day and be combined at night. The Pointes and Harper Woods already share the same transmitter, which is located in The Farms.

If the individual cities choose to close their stations for the night some system would have to be installed at each station to handle walk-in business.

Mr. Petersen suggested that this might be some sort of closed circuit two-way communications apparatus where citizens could contact the central dispatcher when there is no phone available.

City Mayor John King, who suggested the reconsideration of the proposal which has enjoyed waxing and waning attention for a number of years, acknowledged that there needs to be a formula for proportional sharing of cost and advantages of the centralized dispatch plan.

However, in the case of The Woods, Shores and Harper Woods, there are operational factors at least as important as cost militating against their participation in the program.

The Woods and Shores, as public safety departments, have joint police and fire service which would make it difficult for them to close their stations at night.

Because the response time of firefighters is so critical in terms of preventing loss of lives and property, the centralized dispatch plan would have to provide The Woods and Shores with fire service at least as fast as they have now.

At the same time, The Woods and Harper Woods do not stand to profit from the crime prevention advantages of getting more police on street duty since their dispatch units are staffed by clerk dispatchers, not police officers.

Await Report
"We already have the most economical dispatch system," said Mr. Petersen. "If we take part in this kind of plan we face the difficult political issue of closing our station and cutting personnel."

Mr. King responded to some of these reservations by explaining that, in this formative stage of consideration, the plan has no absolutely inflexible provisions.

"As far as closing police stations at night the decision is up to each individual city," he said. "The financial needs of each community would determine the specifics of the program."

Other city officials, e.g., Farms Mayor James H. Dingeman and Park Mayor Matthew C. Patterson, are declining comment on the subject pending examination of a cost and feasibility report being compiled by the city managers.

A tentative date for the completion of the investigation is set for Wednesday, July 21.

lines set for organizing a police defense against large groups with a possible command post operation included when it is necessary to call in more than one police force.

Such a policy, involving tactical mobile units, was developed by the Pointe police forces during the 1967 riots in Detroit, but according to Grosse Pointe City Manager Thomas Kressbach, its lack of use has allowed the officers to "get a little rusty" on its operation. The only other time the mobile units were used was during the late Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.'s visit to The Pointe several years ago.

Handling Vandals
Student vandalism in general also will be a target of the Board's attack, as Mrs. Hanpeter has promised an "early and strong letter campaign to inform parents just how vandals will be handled by the school administration in the future."

"We must rely heavily on parental support in these matters," Mrs. Hanpeter explained. "They must take a great share of the responsibility for these kids' actions." She said she was very disappointed, though, in many parents' lack of cooperation with the school in dealing with student vandals.

"There is a strong feeling here that schools should support discipline and I agree," she said.

"But how can a child caught in the act of vandalism be disciplined if his parents insist on pointing the finger of blame to other students and hiring teams of lawyers in his defense? I think we face that kind of situation far more often out here than other communities do."

"Real Shame"
Shores Village Superintendent Thomas Jefferies agreed. "It is a real shame that while everyone is digging deep in their pockets to support the schools, the kids are just throwing it away. But I consider this more of a parent problem than anything else."

With or without parental support, the school trustees feel it is imperative they take stern action against the problem.

"It is a shame, but we have to face the fact that parents often pay more attention to what goes on the lawn of South High School than what happens inside it," Mrs. Hanpeter added.

City Has Jobs For GP Youth

The City of Grosse Pointe is looking for students to fill five summer positions sponsored by the Federal Government's CETA program.

Pay for the temporary positions, $2.75 an hour, is admittedly not much, according to City Manager Thomas Kressbach, but the work could be useful to both the city and the student.

Job assignments, which will be in the public works department, will be kept flexible to suit both the city's needs and the student's talents and interests.

To qualify, applicants must be between 18-29 years old, unemployed, a resident of The City and must qualify under Federal guidelines as a low income family.

That means for a family of one, the income must be $2,800 or below; two member families, $3,700; three member, $4,600; four member, $5,500; five member, $6,400; and six member, $7,300.

If the city does not fill the positions before September 3, they will not receive the Federal grant.

According to Bicentennial chairman Charles S. Tompkins, more than 2,000 persons spent the day at Three Mile Park enjoying the sights, sounds and sunlight the park had to offer.

"Everybody connected with this event ought to be thanked," said Mr. Tompkins. "Especially the police and fire departments for the help they gave us. The Park Bicentennial festivities were a success because everyone worked so hard."

The Park Council unanimously set fees in two areas at the Windmill Pointe Park at its regular meeting Monday, June 28.

A rental rate of $40, which became effective Thursday, July 1, was established for use of the recreation building. City Manager Robert A. Stone said such usage was strictly for community groups in the city.

He noted the municipality had no such fee in the past, while indicating more people are using the facility and the monies would help in the maintenance area.

Meanwhile, a pump out charge for boats requiring such service at the marina has been increased from $3 per pump out to $5, also effective July 1. An estimated six boats a week utilize this service, said Mr. Stone.

Man Tears Up GP Shores Cell after Apprehension

A 25-year-old East Detroit man, who was arrested by Shores police Sunday morning, June 27, and issued violations for excessive noise and failing to observe the lawful order of a police officer, went berserk in his jail cell, tearing it apart.

As a result, the man, who was subsequently committed to Pontiac General Hospital and released within two days, was charged with malicious destruction of Village property. He's scheduled to appear in The Shores Municipal Court on the trio of charges Wednesday, July 14.

Police said the suspect, who's reportedly a drug addict, tore the mattress and its cover in shreds, defecated on the sink-bowl, busted the chain holding the bed rack to the wall, urinated on the floor, tore up toilet paper and shouted obscenities for around a half hour.

Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale estimated the damage at around $250.

The man was spotted by Officer Robert Bensinger driving along Lakeshore road with excessive noise coming from his muffler and his left front tire wobbling. He was ordered to pull over to the curb and informed of the excessive noise violation over the scout car's public address system.

However, he ignored the orders and hollered he would only stop when he reached

Music Fest Continues On July 14

It's Back to Bach As Brandenburg Concerti Will Be Presented for Third Concert

Music lovers from the Grosse Pointe-Detroit area will have an opportunity to hear the Bach Brandenburg Concerti, Nos. 2, 4 and 5, on Wednesday, July 14, at 8 p.m. at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road.

The Bach concert is the third concert of the summer Grosse Pointe Music Festival '76, and will feature Martin Berinbaum, baroque trumpeter from New York, Gordon Staples, violin virtuoso and concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra (DSO), and Britt Wheeler, an early music scholar, recorder player and harpsichordist of Yale University.

Others who will perform include Donald Baker, principal oboist of the DSO, Douglas Cornelisen, recorder player of the DSO, and Shaul Ben-Meir, flutist of the DSO.

The concert will be conducted by Frederic DeHaven, festival musical director and organist-choirmaster of Christ Church in Grosse Pointe.

The Brandenburg Concerti are from a set of orchestral works written by Bach in 1721, in which a group of soloists play in dialogue with the full orchestra.

Audiences throughout the western hemisphere are intrigued with the elegance, majesty and dance-like quality of the music from the baroque era, and, hence, much of Bach's music is performed and enjoyed by musicians, amateurs and listeners alike, said Mr. DeHaven.

The Brandenburg Concerto No. 2, features the trumpet, violin, oboe and flute; Concerto No. 4 offers a very light sound using two recorders and violin as soloists; and Concerto No. 5 is the virtuoso harpsichord work.

Picnic Suppers
The festival has had great success with the concert on the terrace performed by the DSO in June and the evening of Opera Highlights by two singers from the Metropolitan Opera Company.

All concerts in this series are preceded with picnic suppers, which can be purchased with advanced reservations from the War Memorial, or brought in baskets by ticket holders.

Tickets for the Brandenburg Concerti Concert and the fourth concert, a piano recital by the internationally famed pianist Claude Frank Wednesday, July 21, may be obtained from the War Memorial box office by calling 881-7511.

General admission tickets for the Bach presentation are $7.50.

Tip to Police Nets Arrests

Two youths were arrested by Woods police at the "Detroit News" sub-station at Mack avenue and Anita Tuesday, June 29, and charged with possession of fireworks after the department received information that a possible sale of such items was going to transpire.

The pair charged in the incident are Raymond Anthony Brys Jr., 19, of St. Clair Shores, and Elizabeth Ann Burson, 17, of Harper Woods. The former was released after paying a $150 bond, while the latter was released to the custody of her mother. Their court date was scheduled for yesterday, July 7.

After receiving information about the potential sale, Woods Det. Everett Plumb set up surveillance at the rear of the Big Boy Restaurant, 20754 Mack, some 150 feet south of the sub-station.

Shortly, a van driven by the girl, entered the alley and stopped. Three or four male juveniles spoke to the male passenger for a few minutes before the vehicle proceeded through the alley and parked at the rear of the restaurant.

After seven juveniles approached the passenger side and spoke to the youth, Det. Plumb walked up along side the vehicle and observed the youth holding several firecrackers in his hands which he was showing to the juveniles.

Det. Plumb stated he didn't hear any of the conversation as he approached the group.

However, he observed a bag of assorted fireworks laying on the motor mount between the driver and passenger seats and a large bag of fireworks behind the driver's seat. The pair were then arrested and taken to the station, while the fireworks were confiscated.

Police added the youth told them he had obtained the fireworks in Tennessee and brought them back to Michigan to sell.

Swim Plan in Woods

urging all interested citizens to share their views.

A proposal was made at the joint session that a similar swim program be continued but only for North students. However, what transpires on this point awaits further discussion and council action.

The request that the program be reconsidered came from David Rentschler, a deeply interested parent, who had two children participating in the training sessions.

In a letter to the council, he said, "On behalf of the Grosse Pointe Woods swimmers and Grosse Pointe North High School swimmers, I wish to request that the matter of continuance of the long course workout including the Fitzgerald Swim Club be placed on the agenda."

Serving Both Sides
"We believe that since this matter was a late addition to the meeting of June 21, it did not allow enough notification for either pro or con sides to be heard."

"In that meeting, one councilman requested that he be allowed to obtain additional information before voting, (and) another councilman was missing."

"This decision, which affects approximately 25 Woods children, (and around 50 swimmers overall), deserves every opportunity to be heard and we feel that advance notice of its inclusion into your agenda would serve both sides of the issue."

Supporters of the program feel it's a big plus factor for the Woods, particularly The Woods, in the area of advanced swimming, while offering North High swimmers, who have a solid desire to learn, an excellent training opportunity towards advancing their skills.

Meanwhile, critics of the program have complained over the use of the pool by non-residents, e.g., members of the FSC, while indicating they, as taxpayers, were paying for such usage.

Arbitration in GP City

their police and fire departments into one public safety unit.

City police corporals are currently paid $15,195 and patrolmen receive $14,300 per year.

Robert Plazarski, member of MERC that appointed Father Dempsey arbitrator in The City dispute, said the Jesuit priest has at least 20 years experience in arbitration.

Father Dempsey also is a professor in the business administration department at the University of Detroit. He is a member of the National Academy of Arbitrators and is on the advisory board of the Industrial Relations Institute.

He has authored three books on the subjects of business ethics and right to work laws and has worked at Yale University and the University of Dublin. He received his PhD in economics in 1958 from the University of Wisconsin.

City Manager Thomas Kressbach said he preferred not to discuss areas still under dispute with the patrolmen. He said a tentative date for the first arbitration meeting has been set for Wednesday, August 4.

Grosse Pointe City fire-

Elm Trees Dwindle

summer is over, Mr. Slone said the city will probably have to hire a contractor for further tree removal later in the year.

"We tried to save many trees last year by severe trimming but most of these have the disease this year," he noted, while adding around seven trees in 1975 and three or four this year, (all of which had the disease in its initial stages), received chemical injections, (a newer method), which penetrate into the tree's circulatory system.

This more costly process has been fairly successful in that some trees have been saved while others have not. And going hand-in-hand with the injection approach is the severe trimming, he said.

Plant New Trees
But the point remains that the entire "tree saving" process is a year-by-year affair and any given tree, which might be considered "saved" one year, may perish the next.

If the city's elm tree population is on the decline, an effort is being made to replenish the losses with new trees. "We try to replace more trees than we lose," said Mr. Slone, with the replacements including majestic locusts, green ash and maples. This fall, for instance, the city hopes to plant around 200 trees.

While the municipality is making haste at removing diseased elms, the city manager also urged residents to take steps towards eliminating sick trees from their property to prevent the disease from spreading.

He suggested that citizens call the Department of Public Service if they have questions in this respect.

Woods Stops Brys Reports

The Woods Council accepted the last report on traffic conditions in Brys drive at its regular meeting Monday, June 21.

Such reports, which were instituted several months ago, have been discontinued because of favorable conditions. City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said while there's no necessity to continue the reports, special attention will still be given to the area by the public safety department.

In his May report, Public Safety Director Henry Marchand stated there were no reported accidents on Brys drive, west of Mack avenue, or on Eight Mile road, during the month. A total of 43 traffic citations were issued with 38 of them being for disobeying a stop sign.

One reported accident has occurred in the area in over two and a half years.

The communications stemmed from council directive, wherein the director was asked to report on a 30-day basis as to the status of Brys traffic conditions.

Citizens had earlier appeared before the council on several occasions seeking relief from what they said was heavy vehicular traffic on their streets.

Jaycees Seek New Members

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees are planning to hold its first membership night of the year Thursday, July 15, in the Veteran's Room of the War Memorial at 7:30 p.m.

Presently, the organization has 73 members between 18-32. Not only is there a range of ages but there also is a range of talents and backgrounds.

The Jaycees offer an opportunity for every young man to get involved in both community and personal development.

Activities which help achieve these goals include the Miss Grosse Pointe Scholarship Pageant, "Jelly Week," which raises money for the Grosse Pointe Foundation for Exceptional Children, leadership training and a chance to take charge of any number of projects, according to the group.

The featured speaker for "M" night is Tom Ritter, past president of the Michigan Jaycees.

For further information, call 881-8973.

Receive Honors In Special Meets

Three Pointers recently participated in the State and County Special Olympics and earned various honors.

Wendy Cope, of The Farms, won a bronze medal in the 25-yard backstroke in the 16-17 category at the State event held at Central Michigan University. She won first place in the same event in the county Special Olympics held at Plymouth Salem High School. At that meet, Wendy also took second place in the 25-yard freestyle.

Pat Lane, of The Woods, won a gold medal at the State Olympics in the 25-yard backstroke for ages 18-19. At the county meet, Pat took third places in both the 25-yard backstroke and freestyle.

Meanwhile, Pam Buehler won a gold medal in the State competition for her performance in the 50-yard dash, ages 18-19.

Wendy and Pat are coached by Bernie LeMieux and Marianne Caras.

It is noteworthy that the eggs of discontent are hatched by fellows who just sit around.

Woods Approves Pact For Concession Stand

An agreement between B and A Concessions of Detroit and the city for the former to operate a concession stand at the Lake Front Park was unanimously approved by The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, June 21. The pact remains in effect until October 31, 1978.

Indicating that the city had operated its own concession stand in the past, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said the expected gross per year is estimated at between $25,000-$30,000.

According to the agreement, B and A will pay the city, as compensation for the use of the refreshment stand, a lump sum guarantee of $1,200 per season, plus 12 percent of gross sales over $12,000, less Michigan sales tax.

Payments of $400 will be made to the city on July 15, August 15 and September 15 of each year. The payment of additional compensation will be made on October 15 of each year, less the $200 annual deposit, accompanied by a letter from B and A's certified public accountant, which states gross sales.

Highlights of the pact include the following:

- During June, July and August of each year, B and A will keep the refreshment stand open for business during such hours as there's reasonable demand for goods. In May, September and October of each year, B and A will have the right to determine the days and hours during which the stand will be open for business.

- During November 1-April 30 of each period covered by the agreement, the stand will be closed and any B and A equipment must be removed, stored or closed down to the city.

Recycle Cans At Eastland

Detroit area residents exchanged over 29,000 pounds of aluminum for on-the-spot payments of more than $4,300 in June as part of the Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Program.

The Reynolds mobile recycling unit will continue its weekly visits to area shopping centers in July.

Identified by its red, white and blue recycling sign, "Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Pays," the truck will be stationed at the Eastland Shopping Center parking lot from 10 a.m.-12 noon on Tuesdays, July 13, 20, and 27.

The company pays 15 cents a pound for all aluminum cans and other clean household aluminum such as pie plates, foil, frozen food and dinner trays.

Other items, such as aluminum siding, gutters, storm door and window frames and lawn furniture tubing also are worth 15 cents a pound.

All aluminum must be free of foreign materials and cut to lengths not exceeding three feet. Cans should be kept separate.

Half of anyone's worry comes from the fact that his neighbor may be too extravagant.

Bob-Lo Cruise Aids St. Paul

The eighth annual Bob-Lo Cruise sponsored by the Saint Paul-on-the-Lakeshore Athletic Association has been scheduled for Wednesday, July 14.

Saint Paul cruisers will leave from the Bob-Lo dock behind Cobo Hall at 8 p.m. and sail directly to the island, which has been reserved for the evening exclusively for members of the athletic association, their friends, neighbors and guests.

Cruise chairman Jim Boettcher, of Kenwood Court, has planned an informal evening for everyone following the formal established last year. On the way to the island all on board will be served a complete box dinner. When the boat docks, all 32 rides will be available until the boat leaves for home. On the return trip there will be more music, dancing and refreshments.

All proceeds from the affair will be used to support the extensive athletic program at Saint Paul. Over 250 youngsters from the third-eighth grades participated in interscholastic competitive sports during the past school year, and over 800 students from first grade through college utilized parish facilities.

"Such an all-encompassing program costs a great deal of money," said ticket chairman Marshall Downs, of McMillan road.

"Coaches' salaries, uniforms, equipment, team entry fees, facility maintenance and travel expenses all call for a substantial yearly budget, provided mostly by the athletic association. The Bob-Lo Cruise is the association's major fund raiser."

Cruise tickets are priced at $10 per person and are available from members of the athletic association or by calling 885-3014.

This action was taken at the regular council meeting Monday, June 28.

Officials said the roof, which was laid in the early 1950's, has been deteriorating through the years. Director of Public Service James G. Ellison stated, "If we don't take care of it now, there will be more damage in the future."

Indicating that basically a whole new roof will be needed, Mr. Ellison said there are several areas in which the original roof is exposed and that water is penetrating these spots.

At this point, nine gypsum panels, about 2 by 4-foot each, have been damaged, and the more water which is taken in, the chance that further panels will be affected grows.

RESIDENT RETIRES
After 45 years as director of finance and administrative services of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit, Leo Schulte, of The Farms, has retired. Mr. Schulte, who started working for the Archdiocese in 1928 as a bookkeeper, is a member of Saint Paul's Parish.

The general chairman for the 1976 campaign is GM executive vice-president Roger B. Smith.

Last year's Torch Drive raised $34.8 million.

Selects Group To Review Laws

A committee of six officials, appointed by Park Mayor Matthew C. Patterson to review and prepare proposed changes towards updating the city's general ordinances into one book, was unanimously approved by the council at its regular meeting Monday, June 28.

Those named to the group include Councilmen Douglas G. Graham and Clayton P. Alandt, City Manager Robert A. Slone, City Clerk Nunzio J. Ortisi, City Attorney Richard D. Rohr and Mr. Patterson.

Mr. Rohr said he has developed a compilation of some 45-50 ordinances which have been passed since the last ordinance code in 1957. Indicating he's prepared to move forward on the project, Mr. Rohr stated, "I'll be happy to present some suggestions to the council and to work with the committee towards the final book."

The city attorney also said he wants the council's guidance in the overall ordinance revision process in certain areas which need to be reviewed.

At this point, the project is in its initial stages. Mr. Slone had earlier stated his hope that it will be completed within six months so citizens can purchase the new book at a yet unspecified cost.

He also is scheduled to make recommendations towards including the park pass procedures in the ordinance.

Named after the verdicchio grape, it is full-bodied and delicious when served lightly chilled. Two Verdicchio wines have DOC status, the wellknown del Castelli di Jesi from the Esno river valley, and di Matelica, from a district further up river, south of Fabriano.

GPYC Holds Big Regatta

By C. G. Eugenides
The winds for the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club (GPYC) regatta Saturday, July 3, were most unusual. The first half dozen starts were spinning sets. By the time the Class D yachts started it was drifting conditions.

In addition there was an enormous wind shift which re-arranged the fleet. Wind speed varied from zero to 20 knots, and a little rain came along to keep things interesting.

The Uznis brothers sailed Hot Flash to another first overall for Division II, and Bob Beck won first place in Division I with his Pirana.

There were 156 yachts that sailed the 20- and 26-mile course laid out by the race committee. The first 10 start in classes sailed the 26-mile course while the last five sailed the 20-mile course.

Cruising A cup winners were Valkrie, Fujimo and Aphrodite. Ripple, Meteor and Windhover finished as listed. Racing A was won by Pirana followed by Leading Edge, Aggressive II and Ricochet. Class B had 15 yachts hit the line with spinnakers flying. Moonraker, Hot Spur and Piet Hein won the trophies.

for the class and they were followed by Pendragon, Checkmate, Foxy, Dawn Treader, Epee, Han Dynasty, Morning Star, Azteca, I Luff Lucy, The World is Mad, Free Spirit and Tangerine. Gangbusters took a first in One Ton by a considerable margin due to a favorable wind shift. Bluejacket and Leonore came in second and third, respectively. The balance of the finishers were Talaria II, Shillelagh, Rage, Hustler, Razzia, Goldbug, C-Spray and Micjay.

Marmalade, Rumrunner and Arbitrage picked up the silver for the 3/4 Ton Class. Rage, Psyche, Quicksilver, TNT, Menagerie and Treble Clef IV finished as listed. Class C trophy winners were Beeline, Whiskers and Easterly. Cannibal, Jaeger, Exile, Yellow Bird, Wolverine, Zorba and Vitamin Z finished as listed.

Class D trophies were awarded to three brand new half tonners, namely, Hot Flash, Sundance II and Division Street. Hyperbole, Candor, Yabsou, Chacka, Cheers and Aries were the balance of Class D.

The standings for CIC were Wagon, Cygnus, Spook IV, Bewitched II, Ghost, Scrimshaw, Tir Na Nog, American Way, Excalibur, Amorina, Bolero, Snafu, Revenge, Confederate Yankee and Resolute.

Windtime, Sapphire and Belle Aurore were in the money for Modified A. Tortue, Great Lakes, Tigress, Debbie Sue, Asamara, Wind Toy IV, Gretch III, Fanello, Highlander and Apache finished as listed.

Modified B was won by Columbia III, Old Bear and Alida. Hypothesis, Rhogee II, Yare, Sea Hawk and Cochise finished as listed.

Woods Pays Six Invoices

Six invoices were unanimously approved for payment by The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, June 21. All the work performed was in the area of park improvements with the monies coming from the Recreation Construction Fund.

City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher said last week that $1,847,239.57 has been paid out of the fund, which still has around $128,000 left. He indicated that proposed expenditures are placed at $146,000 but that some work will have to be eliminated to keep the figures in line.

Mr. Hornfisher added the city receives income regularly on the $1,900,880 bond issue approved by voters for park improvements via interest on the bonds and other investments.

According to police reports, the middle-aged woman victim was walking in the 900 block of Barrington on Tuesday, June 20, when a car bearing the two suspects drove past.

According to the woman, the two men asked a question, which the woman ignored. One of the men then ran up behind the woman and took her purse, containing $5 and some identification, and fled back to the car.

Tensions built up during the day and evening become deterrents to sleep. When you retire, make yourself relax, consciously, while sitting in a comfortable chair. Make all body movements slow and deliberate. Sip a warm drink. When the desire to sleep comes, move very slowly through the routine of preparation for retiring, and keep your mind set on total relaxation. Concentrate on how good your bed feels, banish all worries, and go to sleep.

One View from the Capitol

By William Bryant

Michigan may be headed towards a stricter open meetings law. The House recently approved a wide-ranging bill requiring open meetings throughout state and local government with limited exceptions. The Senate has now rejected the House version so the bill is in a conference committee.

Under current law, governmental bodies are required to hold final votes in public. No mention of exemptions for closed meetings is made. Court rulings have described several matters which may be handled in closed meetings. The bill we approved would retain most but eliminate a few of those court-approved closed meetings. Under the bill, beginning January 1, 1977, deliberative meetings would have to be public if a quorum were present. The right of the public to attend meetings would be assured with few exceptions. The right to be heard also would be assured.

Closed meetings would be permitted for discussion of dismissal, suspension or disciplining of students or employees if those persons requested secrecy.

Other discussion meetings could be closed by a two-thirds vote for collective bargaining negotiations, for discussion of property purchases or with legal counsel and for talks about material ruled confidential by other existing law.

All decisions would have to be made in the public meeting.

The legislature would be affected in good ways by mandating all committee meetings be open and prior notice given. Nearly all are open now, but a few committee chairmen do hold non-public meetings.

The bill should aid the people in knowing how the decisions of their governments are reached and better assure the right to be heard.

Solar Heating Project Pleases GPW Citizen

By Susan McDonald

Is there really enough sunshine in Michigan to heat water for a family of three?

To anyone who has lived through a few stormy Michigan winters that most often stretch into spring, the answer would seem to be no.

"A lot of people forget, though, that on many of those bitter cold winter days the sun is still shining brightly," says Richard Beaman, of Hidden Lane. "No one knows for sure, but that sun may just bright enough to be put to use."

And if it is, Dick Beaman will be one of the first to know.

Curiosity, the impulse to economize and a touch of the adventurer inspired Mr. Beaman to invest close to a thousand dollars for what must be one of the first residential solar water heating systems in Michigan.

It went up last week, with the help of four workmen who lugged the 250-pound, 96 by 46 inch solar collector deck onto his roof. Pipes run from the roof, through the attic to the basement where, on a sunny day, hot water is stored in his old gas water heater tank being warmed by the sun's rays.

The old gas heater, by the way, stays around in case of an emergency.

Mr. Beaman's neighbors so far have not reacted negatively to the huge heat trap on the roof. It is really an unobtrusive looking thing, laying almost flush with the roofline.

"Anyway I warned them in advance about what was going on, just so they wouldn't think it was a billboard or anything," he said.

Although the adventure was mainly inspired by curiosity rather than economy, Mr. Beaman may save himself about $10 a month on his gas bill, figuring that his family uses about 45 gallons of hot water each day. The savings for a three-member family with an electric heater would probably be even higher, he says.

The unit cost $650, and about $200 to install. At that rate he will make his investment back in about eight or nine years, if gas prices stay at the same level, which is unlikely.

Although it is too early to know if the system will work that well, Mr. Beaman will undoubtedly be satisfied with the project either way.

Working in the heating and cooling industry himself as a manufacturer's representative for 40 years, he has heard much about solar installations going on all over the country, although he doesn't sell them himself yet.

"I've seen them at work all over the south, heating and cooling homes, swimming pools and water systems. I just couldn't resist trying it out here in Michigan," he explained.

He firmly believes that solar energy is a thing of the future and apparently many people agree, even in Michigan.

State officials, with the help of the Michigan Energy and Research Association, are pushing hard to get the Federal Energy Commission to build the National Solar Research Institute they have been planning right here in the Detroit area. It could be a multi-billion dollar business and generate thousands of jobs.

The officials are saying that Detroit's abundance of engineering and manufacturing technology would provide an ideal climate for the development of solar manufacturing, despite its weather.

In addition, one of the most sophisticated solar heating/cooling systems in commercial use in the nation is currently being run in downtown Detroit at the five-story office building of Smith, Hinchman and Grylls Associates.

Although the success of that project has not yet been determined, the architectural and planning firm is collecting valuable data on the feasibility of solar power in northern climates.

So if he ends up getting one or 40 gallons of hot water a day from his own unit, Mr. Beaman will be happy knowing, at least, that he was a pioneer in the effort.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur M. Woodford
Chief of Central Library

Before long bags will be packed for Petoskey, Harbor Springs, East Tawas and the wilds of the Upper Peninsula. It's vacation time once again. As a service to our patrons, the Grosse Pointe Public Library has a vacation-loan policy where readers may borrow books on a long-term basis during the summer months.

This vacation-loan is restricted to popular titles which are at least one-year-old and not in current demand.

Here is your chance to catch up on those books you never got around to reading, or a chance to reread some of your old favorites. This time let's go way back, how many of these best sellers from 15 years ago have you read?

The best-selling novels of 1961 were definitely high in interest and excellence. The leaders of the year, Irving Stone's great novel of the life of Michelangelo, THE AGONY AND THE ECSTASY, (1), and J. D. Salinger's second novel, FRAN-

NY AND ZOOEY, (2), were challenged by a newcomer, first novelist Harper Lee.

Her TO KILL A MOCKINGBIRD, (3), a sensitive and compelling story of a small southern town in the 1930's, won the Pulitzer Prize in 1960. Its two-year total sales was close to 200,000 by three book clubs.

Following his EXODUS of two years before, Leon Uris wrote a story of the Warsaw ghetto in World War II, MILA 18, (4).

Popular novelist Harold Robbins made his first appearance on a best seller list with his novel of "modern American life," THE CARPENTERS, (5).

In sixth and seventh place appeared two dissimilar titles, both, however, originally published over 25 years earlier.

Henry Miller's TROPIC OF CANCER, (6), long an under-the-counter item, and considered the most-banned book of its time, was openly published in the less-strictured 1960's. It sold 100,000 copies in hardcover plus a paperback sale of two and one-half million.

WINNIE ILLE PU, (7), forerunner of a vogue for publishing well-loved English language books in other languages, was a Latin translation by Alexander Lenard of A. A. Milne's WINNIE THE POOH.

Books by Morris West with his first best seller, DAUGHTER OF SILENCE, (8), and perennially popular John Steinbeck with THE WINTER OF OUR DISCONTENT, (10), wound up the fiction, along with THE EDGE OF SADNESS, (9), a novel about a New England political figure by another writer new to the list, Edwin O'Connor.

A new translation of the Bible always reaffirms the aphorism that the Bible is the best seller of all time. THE NEW TESTAMENT, (1), issued jointly by Cambridge University Press and Oxford University Press as part of THE NEW ENGLISH BIBLE easily led the non-fiction list in 1961, selling 756,575 copies.

In second place, in its second year, was THE RISE AND FALL OF THE THIRD REICH, (2), selling an additional 203,346 in 1961.

Among other non-fiction titles for the general reader on the 1961 list was A NATION OF SHEEP, (5), by William Lederer, co-author of THE UGLY AMERICAN of two years before. This new book was a critical discussion of U.S. foreign policy and of how news about foreign affairs reaches the public.

Another book of political content was Theodore P. White's THE MAKING OF THE PRESIDENT, 1960, (7), which won a Pulitzer Prize in 1961.

This year there were five big sellers in the field of home economics: THE BETTER HOMES AND GARDENS NUTRITION FOR YOUR FAMILY, (6); CALORIES DON'T COUNT, (8), by Dr. Herman Taller; and BETTY CROCKER'S NEW PICTURE COOK BOOK, (9).

A refreshing book wound up the list, Gavin Maxwell's RING OF BRIGHT WATER, (10), an account of the author's home on the Scottish coast and of his nature adventures shared with two pet otters.

These were the best sellers of 15 summers ago — why don't you pack a couple of them in your vacation suitcase.

Woods Seniors Finish Census

The Woods Senior Citizens Commission recently completed a census towards obtaining information on the number of seniors in the community.

They discovered that at least 3,194 seniors over 60 years of age reside in the city after going through voting registration material dating back to 1916, said Irene Sutton, commission chairman.

At the same time, she stated this total wasn't 100 percent official for several reasons including the fact that some citizens might not be registered.

Nonetheless, the commission is pleased with the results it obtained. The information will be used to notify seniors "of very important events in our city which will involve them," said Mrs. Sutton.

Around 15 persons worked on the project under the guidance of George Kallen-

Lochmoor Sets Golf Tourney

Lochmoor Club members are gearing for their 33rd Annual Invitational Golf Tournament—one of the biggest events of its kind in the United States, according to Paul Saylor, publicity chairman.

The event, scheduled for Wednesday-Sunday, July 14-18, comprises 160 two-man teams in 10 different flights, grouped according to combined team handicaps. Point, Alex Venetis and his partner Terry Shook will defend their crown in the championship flight, which generally features some of the outstanding amateur golfers in the State.

Through the courtesy of member Bill Farrah's Lincoln-Mercury dealership, two new cars will be awarded to any contestant scoring a hole in one at the eighth and 16th holes. The closest shot to the pin at either of these holes also wins the use of a car for one year through courtesy of McCullagh Leasing.

Other festivities scheduled for the week include a driving contest, (also won last year by Mr. Shook), a stag dinner, ladies' luncheon and entertainment and a gala dinner dance Friday and Saturday night.

Awards will be presented by chairman Ken Adler and toastmaster Fred Wolf during a buffet supper following the final event Sunday.

From Another Pointe of View

Who could POSSIBLY be "thinking Christmas" these hot, muggy days? The Detroit League for Planned Parenthood, that's who...

League members, well aware of the speed at which autumn follows summer, are busy with plans for their Holiday Mart, returning to Our Side of town this year.

It's scheduled for October 12, 13 and 14, (that's a Tuesday through a Thursday, in case you're interested right now), at the Sentinel Center in East Jefferson avenue.

The Holiday Mart committee already has promises from specialty stores all over the country. The stores will be bringing their most attractive wares to Detroit, so we all can have a ball shopping from Palm Beach to New York—in one close-to-home afternoon or evening.

Or two afternoons or evenings, or three... The Holiday Mart tends to draw shoppers back, and back again.

Co-chairmen for the '76 Mart are Mrs. Robert K. Hydon and Mrs. James L. Rauth. Patron chairman is Mrs. Edwin O. Bodkin, assisted by Mrs. Henry H. Hubbard, III.

Proceeds go to planned parenthood's clinic and educational programs.

All set to serve up a terrific Tennis and Crumpets benefit this fall are T&C '76 committee members, (left to right), MRS. JOHN MACLEOD, MRS. E. DAWSON FISHER, MRS. THOMAS F. MCGANN, MRS. GRADY MERRITT, MRS. HOWARD S. BUHL and MRS.

WILLIAM J. RICE. The tournament, which raises funds for Children's Hospital of Michigan, begins the weekend of September 18 and 19, with finals and a dinner dance scheduled for the following Saturday, September 25.

T & C Tournament Set for September

Mixed Doubles to Be Played in Four Classes, Pro to Novice; Both Dinner Dance and After-Hours Cabaret Offered

If enthusiasm could be bottled and sold, someone could make a bundle by tapping the resources of the 1976 Tennis and Crumpets tournament committee, led by Grosse Pointe chairman Mrs. Rex Ciavola, of Cloverly road, and honorary chairman Mrs. W. Warren Shelden, of Provencal road.

T&C ladies have been meeting regularly since March to plan the September matches and dinner dance benefiting Children's Hospital of Michigan.

Since 1967, T&C tournaments throughout metropolitan Detroit, (they're held in Oakland County, Dearborn and Grosse Ile as well as Grosse Pointe), have raised more than $223,000 for Children's.

This year's Grosse Pointe benefit begins Saturday, September 18, continues Sunday, September 19, and winds up Saturday, September 25, with the finals and dinner dance.

The metro SUPER finals will be played the following Saturday, October 2.

Almost everyone associated with T&C agrees that, besides being a terrific fund raiser, it's a really fun event—and a bargain. The $12.50 per person entry fee entitles each couple to six-and-a-half hours of reserved court time, (playing round robin with five other couples), a catered box lunch and a souvenir wine glass bearing the T&C insignia.

Mrs. William J. Rice, tournament chairman, notes there is a change in the classifications this year, to accommodate every type of tennis player.

Miss Jones Wed To Paul A. Riemer

Flute Concert Precedes May Day Rites; Pair Vacation in Jamaica; Are Making Their Home at Muirwoods

Setting for the afternoon wedding of Claudia Joyce Jones and Paul Alan Riemer Saturday, May 1, was Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church. Dr. Robert C. Linthicum presided at the 4:30 o'clock rites.

Performing a flute duet before the ceremony were Elizabeth Ann Sweet and Carolyn Jeanne Jones, who also served as her sister's honor attendant.

After a reception at Lochmoor Club, the newlyweds vacationed in Jamaica. They are making their home at Muirwoods in Farmington Hills.

The bride, daughter of the Robert E. Joneses, of Fairway drive, wore a silk organza gown styled with a pale pink bodice and a hem banded in pink. A pink chiffon headpiece covered with lace appliques matching the gown held her long, silk illusion veil.

Honor attendant Carolyn Jones and bridesmaids Lauri Stockton and Peggy Ann Marshall, the bride's Alpha Chi Omega sorority sisters, Lindsey Geldart and Nancy Hincks wore two-tone pink, caped frocks.

They carried pink and white dried flower arrangements. Two-tone pink ribbon bows trimmed their white picture hats.

Kimberly Riemer, the bridegroom's niece, in a white dress with a two-tone pink skirt ruffle, and a matching pink cape, was flower girl.

Mark Riemer served as his brother's best man. They are the sons of the Harry B. Riemers, of Hidden lane. In the usher corps were Joseph Sheehan, John Kurdlemier and John Gilbert, Michigan State University friends of the bridegroom, and Allen Jones, the bride's brother.

The bride's mother wore a floor length, beige crepe dress and matching shawl. The bridegroom's mother selected a long, lime green gown.

Pink orchids formed both mothers' wrist corsages.

August Bride

Photo by Collingwood Studio. August wedding plans are being made by CARRON MARIE PROMACK and J. Randall Barr, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Walter B. Promack, of Thorn Tree road.

Miss Promack was graduated from Our Lady Star of the Sea High School and attended Eastern Michigan University. Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Alan Barr, of Bloomfield Hills, is a tennis pro and will attend the University of Michigan in the fall.

Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wikle, who came from California; his great-aunt Miss Kathryn Howard, of Toronto, Ont.; the bride's uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. William H. Jones and their family, from Providence, R.I.; another uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. David G. Kipley, of Traverse City; the bride's cousins the Daniel Kipleys, of Marquette; and the bride's great-aunt Miss Doris M. Allen, of Springfield.

Family friends included the Don H. Rohrsers, from Rhode Island, the John A. Reburns, from Indiana, Mark Erick, from Saudi Arabia, the Michael Haskas, from Ohio, and Mrs. Lee S. Palmer, from Georgia.

Married Saturday, May 1, in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church to Mr. Riemer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Riemer, of Hidden lane, was CLAUDIA JOYCE JONES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Jones, of Fairway drive.

Tennis Tournament

There are dinner dance innovations this year, too, according to party chairman Mrs. Guy B. Willets. As in past years, the party will be held at the Country Club of Detroit — but will feature BOTH a dinner and an after-hours "night spot" of cocktails and cabaret type entertainment.

The dinner starts at 6:30 o'clock, with cocktail sipping to James Mautscales' piano music.

Dinner, says Mary Lou Willets, "will be the Country Club's terrific, full-course prime rib buffet, with a salad bar, seating at small, round tables, and lots of candlelight."

The night spot starts at 9, with dancing to Chet Bogan's Orchestra and entertainment by the singing Grunions.

Tickets for the dinner dance, including the night spot, are $35 per couple. Those who can only attend the night spot may do so for $5 per person.

Invitations to the tournament/dinner dance went out last week under the direction of Mrs. G. F. Schaefer, Jr., and Mrs. Eugene Kornmeier, III. Anyone who hasn't received one is still MOST WELCOME to participate. A call to Mickey Schaefer, 889-0320, will bring an invitation to your door.

Reservation deadline for the tournament is August 20. Reservation deadline for the dinner dance is September 20—but tickets for the night spot may still be obtained during the semi-finals at the Country Club September 25.

Other members of the '76 T&C benefit committee are the Mesdames Charles B. Begg, Jr., Robert Benkert, Walter V. Bernard, Jr., L. D. Blatt, Howard S. Buhl, Michael A. Conway, John D. Durno, E. A quartet of Grosse Pointe's finest Junior equestrians rode off with honors at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club this June, as top amateurs and professionals from four nations competed for ribbons, trophies and prizes in the Detroit Dressage Show, the Motor City Horse Show and the Detroit Horse Show.

Mike Elmore finished among the top three spots in 11 events, Billy Beardslee in seven. Sisters Martha and Lisa Fruhauf were winners, too, Martha finishing among the top three in five events, Lisa in two.

Phil's Bicentennial Contribution

The Officers' Stone quarters, latest of Fort Mackinac's buildings to be renovated, were officially opened and formally dedicated July 4, at a special Bicentennial celebration on Michigan's historic Mackinac Island.

Meet Lois Nair and our resident engineer

Lois Nair, Whittier Towers admissions counselor, would like to introduce you to George Woodson. When the Woodsons sold their home and moved to Whittier Towers, he also phased out his electronic service business. Or so he thought.

But very soon fellow residents began phoning to say things like: "There are squiggly lines all over my TV screen." The calls come in and off he solves the problem.

But, at Whittier Towers there's much more in life for George Woodson than keeping TVs healthy. He and his wife organized a painting class for one thing. They find maintenance-free living with meals and weekly maid service gives them more time for all their interests.

If you are 62 years or older, you too can enjoy the comfort, convenience and security of life at Whittier Towers. Come down to visit Lois Nair or call her at 823-6470 or 822-9000.

Miss Rini Married To Thomas Erhart

Communion Gifts Are Carried to Altar by Bride and Bridegroom's Mothers; Hunt Club Reception Follows Rites

Setting for the double ring ceremony Saturday, June 26, at which Pamela Jane Rini and Thomas R. Erhart exchanged marriage vows was Our Lady Star of the Sea Church. Father Hector Saulino presided at the morning rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John V. Rini, of Robert John road, and the late Mr. Rini.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. R. J. Erhart, of West Bloomfield, and Robert Erhart, of Stockbridge.

Leslie Logan sang and played the guitar as guests were seated in the church, and sang and played "The Wedding Song" during the offertory of the mass. Mrs. Rini and Mrs. Erhart carried the communion gifts to the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Richard J. Rini, of New York City, wore an Empire gown of ivory silk organza over peau, its bodice and sleeves fashioned of re-embroidered Alencon lace matching the Alencon lace trimming the front of her skirt. The gown featured a short, organza train.

Her waist length, silk net veil fell from a lace-trimmed Camelot cap. Her pearl earrings and opal necklace were the bridegroom's gifts. She carried a nosegay of dried white strawflowers, baby's-breath and white silk roses, tied with ivory satin streamers.

In frocks of multicolored pastel Qiana, muted blues, greens and yellows, princess style and fashioned with elbow length, full sleeves were honor maid Nancy J. Tamblin, whose bouquet

James Flowers, of Atlanta, Ga., was best man. In the usher corps were Jason Hunt, Scott Schmaltz and Peter Esbrook, all of Ypsilanti, where the newlyweds will be making their home when they return from a vacation at Ocho Rios, Jamaica.

For the 11:30 o'clock ceremony, followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, the bride's mother selected a long-sleeved, floor length, sky blue eyelet shirtwaist, styled with a ruffle down the front and self-covered buttons.

She carried an antique bag, beaded in blue and green. Daisies, bachelor buttons and baby's-breath formed her corsage.

Historic Church Tours Continue

The Detroit Historical Society and The National Society of Colonial Dames of America in the State of Michigan will continue their popular Monday tours to Historic Detroit Churches through the 1976-77 season.

In addition, evening tours are scheduled for Thursdays, June 24, July 29 and October 28 to accommodate those who cannot attend the daytime programs.

Repeated, too, during these summer months will be the evening Historic Tracker Organ Concerts. They will take place on Thursdays, July 15, August 19 and September 16.

Tickets for the Monday tours are $5 each, including lunch. An $8 fee covers a "church supper" and the evening tours.

Complete schedules for all three programs are available by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Detroit Historical Society, 5401 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich. 48202.

The tours, developed as an out-reach program, are presented to acquaint Detroiters with the contributions their churches have made in the development of the religious and cultural life of the area, and the importance of their preservation as visible history in the evolution of the city.

The Monday series began with tour Number III on June 7, to be repeated October 4 and again on February 7, 1977. Churches visited include First Congregational, dedicated in 1891, noted for its Byzantine art and early Christian symbolism; Church of St. John-St. Luke, styled after a New England Meeting House, (the parish originated as the Evangelical Protestant St. John's Congregation and recently affiliated with the United Church of Christ); Christ Church, built of native rock-faced gray limestone in the form of a Latin cross.

Christ Church parish was organized in 1845. The church's interior woodwork, all, but for the roof, of butternut, is unique.

Also included in tour Number III is St. Mary's third oldest Roman Catholic parish in Detroit. Its German congregation built the first

Deaf Troupe Will Give 'Show of Hands'

Eight members of the Detroit Sign Company, a unique group of deaf performers including Pointer Joe Rourke, will sing in "sign" dance and do pantomime at Livonia's Madonna College this Sunday, July 11, at 4 o'clock.

The "Show of Hands" is the culminating activity of a workshop in artistic interpreting for deaf persons, presented by the new Madonna College Department of Interpreting and Communication.

Guest artist with the local deaf theater group that has performed to both deaf and hearing audiences throughout the country will be Eric Malzkunn, of the faculty of Gallaudet College Model Secondary School for the Deaf in Washington, D.C.

The Detroit Sign Company utilizes a scenario technique featuring electronic sound equipment and costumes suiting the mood of the music troupe members interpret through sign and mime technique, dance and creative movement and "sign singing."

Their Sunday program will include interpretations of such popular songs as Helen Reddy's "I Believe in Music" and of Shel Silverstein's children's story "The Giving Tree," as well as a "hands medley" of "You Have to Be Deaf to Understand" and "I Hear Your Hand."

Assisting director Mary Wells will be Pointer Maur- een Wagner. Larry Przybysz and June Nogoski will serve as interpreters. Guest choreographers are Alana Baxter, instructor of Dance at the University of Detroit/Mary- grove College, and Glen Stewart, a dancer and graduate in Fine Arts from the National Theater for Interpreters for the Deaf.

Tickets for the "Show of Hands" at $1.50 for adults, 75 cents for children 12 and under, will be available before the performance in the Activities Center of Madonna College in Schoolcraft road. The performance is open to both deaf and hearing persons.

structure in 1841; the present structure is Victorian Gothic, built of brick and featuring a basilica-type interior.

St. Albertus, organized by and for the Polish people who settled in Detroit, mother church of 33 parishes in Detroit, Hamtramck and Wyandotte, will also be visited.

Tour Number IV, offered on July 12, November 1 and March 7, 1977, includes St. Paul's Episcopal founded in 1824, the pioneer Episcopal parish of the Northwest. The present building, the congregation's third, is built of limestone in the English Gothic style of the 13th century.

Also featured on tour Number IV are Holy Family Roman Catholic, its parish- ioner's Sicilian background reflected in the Baroque 17th century style of the church, serviced by the Benedictine- Sylvesterian Order; Second Baptist, oldest black congregation in the state, organized in 1836, (the first celebration of the Emancipation Proclamation in Detroit was held in the church January 6, 1863); and Church of the Messiah whose cornerstone reads "August 13, 1851—St. Paul's April 25, 1901—Church of the Messiah," as the building was originally St. Paul's Church.

Located at Congress and Shelby, it was moved to East Grand Boulevard and Lafayette following its gift to the Messiah parish in 1901.

Elmwood Cemetery, scene of a great battle in the Pontiac uprising against the British, and its chapel, built in 1855 of quarried limestone in the Norman Gothic style, are also visited.

Tour V takes place on August 16, December 13 and April 18, 1977. A stop is made at Woodward Avenue Baptist Church, whose congregation was organized in 1860. The present building was begun in 1885. Its plan is the form of a Greek cross. The trusses of its interior roof are supported by slender iron columns rather than the heavy piers of the Gothic tradition; originally, there were galleries supported by shorter iron columns on all four sides.

Also visited are Sacred Heart, the first major architectural effort of Peter Ded- ick's at the age of 17, (originally a German parish, it now has a black congregation which had its beginnings in 1911 at Old St. Mary's); and Trinity Lutheran, established as the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran congregation in 1850.

The present church, built as a gift by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gauss, is designed in the structure of a "modern adaptation of 16th Century English Gothic Pier and Clerestory Church Architecture." Its beautiful stained glass windows were executed by the Detroit Stained Glass Company and Henry Lee Willet of Philadelphia.

Mariner's Church was built for sailors on the lakes, for whom "the sitting shall be forever free" through a bequest of Miss Charlotte Ann Taylor and her sister, Mrs. Julia Anderson. First occupants of the two shops, whose rental was to help provide support for the church, were the Detroit Bank and the United States Post Office.

Tour V also visits St. Boni- face, started as a German parish in 1869, (like many ethnic churches, it represents an act of faith by early members as it was paid for with nickels and dimes from their small earnings; notable is the carved wood altar); and Trumbull Avenue Pres- byterian, started as a mission Sunday School in 1877, an offshoot of Fort Street Presbyterian, and carried on by its young people.

The present building, begun in 1886, features a small tower and a number of pin- nacles on the projecting points.

Tour I takes place August 2, December 6 and April 4, 1977. Visited will be St. John's Episcopal, Victorian Gothic in style, (Henry P. Baldwin, a shoe manufacturer who also served as Governor of Michigan and as a United States Senator, was its principal benefactor); and St. Anne's, the parish founded by Cadillac in 1701.

St. Anne's church records have been kept continuously from 1704. The building, the parish's eighth, contains an altar from the seventh St. Anne's built in 1818. Many of the clerestory windows are also from the 1818 church.

Talks Offered by Volunteers

Clubs and other adult audience groups are invited to discover a new source of unique programs tailored to their special interests: the Speakers Bureau, organized within the Volunteer committee of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts.

The Speakers Bureau is staffed by experienced volunteers, including Pointer Mrs. Frank Kruse, who plan their talks and slide illustrations after consulting with the program chairman of a specific group.

They are available year-round for engagements, but request six week's advance notice.

In line with their purpose of assisting the Art Institute as well as providing a service, tax-deductible contribution is requested from the audience group.

With the extensive collections of the Detroit Institute of Arts as a starting point, the Speakers Bureau repertoire is varied. Topics range from Colonial Whitey Hall, African Art and the Impressionists to "The Bible As Subject in Art," "The Diego Rivera Murals—An Insight into Industrial Life in Detroit" and "Realism, Expressionism and Abstraction in the Art Institute."

Introducing Sabroso.

"Savory, delicious, palatable, tasty, pleasant, delightful..."

—Appleton's New Spanish-English Dictionary.

Who are we to quarrel with noted authorities?

After all, we make Sabroso Imported Coffee Liqueur to be the richest, smoothest coffee liqueur you can buy.

Some say it's the world's richest coffee liqueur. They can go on saying it.

We gather the finest coffee beans in all of Mexico to make Sabroso. They provide the flavor, the body, the coffee-ness that extracts just do not have.

Try it straight. On the rocks. Or in a mixed drink. After dinner—or after anything. You'll see why we insist on making Sabroso from scratch.

Yet at $6.10, this rich liqueur is many pesos less than the leading brand.

Our liqueur is so rich, we had to call it "Sabroso"—Spanish for "savory, delicious, palatable," etc. That's why of all the coffee liqueurs, we get rave reviews in every Spanish-English dictionary.

Symphony Jr.'s Plan a Picnic

Members of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, their husbands, their guests and orchestra members will share picnic suppers prepared by the Juniors this Saturday, July 10, at 6 o'clock on the lawn at Meadow Brook, (in the pavilion, if the weather is rainy), prior to the DSO's evening concert.

Ste. Anne to Celebrate Via 'Birthday' Mass

Ste. Anne de Detroit, in keeping with its year-long celebration as the oldest parish in Detroit and in concurrence with the Bicentennial Year, is planning a special noon mass this Sunday, July 11, and invites all present and former parishioners, students of Ste. Anne's Grade and High Schools, to participate.

After the Eucharistic Liturgy, those attending will be welcome to view the refurbished Gabriel Richard Chapel and the new marble tomb in which the body of Father Richard rests. A glass aperture enables visitors to see Father Richard's mahogany coffin as well as a bronze bust of Ste. Anne's most illustrious pastor.

The Chapel altar is the original main altar of the old Ste. Anne's Church. The artistic work of refurbishing was executed by Frank Varga.

Ste. Anne de Detroit will be celebrating its 275th birthday July 26. The parish is believed to be the second oldest in the United States. Parish records are continuous and unbroken since 1701, the year Antoine de La Mothe Cadillac founded Fort Pontchartrain.

Fall Bride

A September 11 wedding is being planned by JULIETTE LOUISE PRIMEAU, daughter of George H. Primeau, of St. Clair avenue, and the late Louise (Betty) Primeau, and Joseph Edward Shaw, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edward Shaw, Jr., of Birmingham.

The bride-elect, a Grosse Pointe South High School honor graduate and National Honor Society member who studied Art History at Goldsmith's College, University of London, England, in the summer of 1975, received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Michigan State University, where she majored in Religious Studies, this June.

Her fiancé, a Birmingham Seaholm High School alumnus, is a senior at Michigan State, majoring in Hotel Management. He is working this summer at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island.

Lenz-Seltzer Betrothal Told

Mrs. James A. Martin, of Clark Lake, is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Michelle Jennifer Seltzer, to Jeffrey W. Lenz, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. William Lenz, of Ford court. They plan to be married next summer.

Michelle, who is also the daughter of Norman Seltzer, of Jackson, was graduated from Columbia Central High School, Brooklyn, Mich., and like Jeff, a Grosse Pointe North High School honors graduate, is a senior at Western Michigan University.

She is affiliated with Alpha Phi social sorority. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity and Beta Gamma Sigma national business honorary.

Michelle is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Graham, of Salem, Ore. Jeff is the grandson of Mrs. Ralph F. Brozo, of Fisher road, and the late Mr. Brozo, and of Mrs. John L. Lenz, of Farmington, and the late Mr. Lenz.

Wedding, Engagement Publication Guidelines

It's getting to be that time of year . . . and the NEWS is delighted to receive notification of all the happy things, (births, engagements, weddings, anniversaries), of its readers, but we do have a few rules, things that make it easier for us, and easier for you, to "get a good write-up."

Rule Number One—this applies to ANY item submitted for publication in ANY paper: ALWAYS include a telephone number WHERE YOU CAN BE REACHED DURING THE DAY, either clipped to or written on the copy submitted.

Rule Number Two—this applies to ANY item submitted for publication in ANY paper: Submit legible copy. Typed copy is best; if you can't type, and your friends tell you they can't read your postcards, PRINT ALL PROPER NAMES. It's wise to double check those names, too: people have been known to misspell their own names on wedding forms.

Both wedding and engagement forms are available at the NEWS office. They may be picked up, or may be requested by mail, PROVIDING A STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED envelope is included with the request.

Rule Number Three — Only BLACK-and-WHITE photos, 5 by 7 or 8 by 10, will be accepted for publication. We do NOT accept color. A "glossy" (shiny surface) print, (black-and-white, of course), usually reproduces best. A duller surface will reproduce, but not as well as a glossy. We cannot make any picture better than it is; if you hand us a blur, it will reproduce as a blur.

Because of space limitations, we regret that we cannot print photographs of out-of-town brides unless they are pictured with their Grosse Pointe bridegrooms.

Because of space limitations, we regret that we cannot print engagement photos of former Pointers, unless their families have moved VERY RECENTLY from The Pointe, or unless they return to The Pointe to be married.

In all the above cases, however, we will be most happy to print the "story," without a picture. One word of caution: in filling out a wedding form, a married woman is identified by her married (husband's) name—unless she is divorced. It's formal, social usage. A matron of honor or married bridesmaid, for example, would be "Mrs. John Smith"—not Shirley Smith, or Mrs. Shirley Smith. And a woman is NEVER simply "Mrs. J. Smith," nor is a man "J. Smith." Either his first name, or two initials, must be used: J. E. Smith or John Smith or John E. Smith would all be correct.

Normally, any information submitted in writing for publication ONE WEEK BEFORE THE ISSUE in which you would like it to appear in the requested week's issue. In "heavy" wedding seasons, however, (June through August, Christmas), we must take weddings and engagements as they come in, and put them in line, and put them in the paper as space becomes available.

The alternative to this would be to run smaller wedding/engagement pictures/stories during "heavy" seasons—which would mean that, if you got married in February, you'd probably get a nice, big picture and story; if you got married in June, you'd get a paragraph, and a one column head-and-shoulders picture, and most of our brides have indicated that they'd rather wait a week or two for the traditional NEWS wedding write-up.

Rule Number Four—We take weddings as they come in. NOBODY gets bumped down a peg for somebody else.

Pictures submitted for publication may be picked up at the NEWS office ONE WEEK AFTER THE ISSUE IN WHICH THEY HAVE APPEARED. Because of the volume received, we regret that we are unable to return photographs by mail. If a photo has not been picked up within a year, we tend to throw it out.

If you are submitting both a picture and a wedding or engagement form, please submit them TOGETHER. If we receive a form with no picture attached, and no indication that a picture will be forthcoming, we assume that there will be no picture. Submitting the form before the picture does not put you "ahead" in the wedding/engagement line-up; your "place" is determined by the date and time at which all the pertinent information, (picture included), is in our hands.

Church Tours Continue Throughout Year

Central Methodist was founded by the oldest Protestant denomination in the Detroit area. Their first church was built in 1818, in what is now Dearborn.

Sts. Peter and Paul served as the cathedral for the Roman Catholic diocese from 1848 to 1877. It is a basilica-style church, noted for its high altar of Carrara marble, the work of Gustav Mueller.

Also included on Tour I is St. Joseph's, started as a German ethnic church in 1856. The present building, begun in 1870, bears an unmistakable resemblance to the churches of Southern Germany.

Tour II will be held on September 13 and January 3 and May 2, 1977. First Presbyterian, first church on the tour, is of rock-faced, red sandstone in Romanesque Revival style.

Fort Street Presbyterian, its majestic 265-foot spire still dominates the near west side skyline, is next, followed by Trinity Episcopal, built by James E. Scripps to "stimulate, if possible, in church architecture a return to the older and more truly artistic forms." This Gothic structure is in the style of the Southern English churches of the late 14th century.

Most Holy Trinity, the first English-speaking Roman Catholic parish in the city and the second Catholic parish also organized in Detroit, is also included, as is Sweetest Heart of Mary, largest Catholic Church in Detroit, late Victorian Gothic in style and the second church for the parish, constructed in 1893.

Slate Harmonie Park Arts Festival in July

The third annual Detroit Arts Festival in Harmonie Park, scheduled for the weekend of July 9, 10, and 11, will feature 300 artists and craftspeople from Detroit, upstate Michigan and around the country.

All items displayed are handcrafted, and will be sold by the original artists.

The event this year will be more festive than ever, for the art work will be displayed, and entertainment and refreshments offered among the newly-planted trees.

The Thursday Twilight Tours June 24, July 29 and October 28 will cover four churches. Although confirmation has not been received for all dates, the churches visited will be drawn from those listed on the Monday tours.

The Evening Organ Recitals will be given at Cass Methodist which has the largest tracker in the city, built by Johnson and Sons in 1892; St. John-St. Luke with its c. 1873 organ built by G. F. Votteler, the fore-runner of Holt Kamp; St. Joseph, where the organ was built by William M. Worden in 1913, using many of the original parts from the 1873 organ built by J. H. and E. S. Odell of New York; and Trumbull Presbyterian which has a two manual 29 rank tracker, built by Grand ville Wood and Son of Northville, c. 1889.

Mr. Worden will give the commentary on the organs. Thomas M. Kuras, F.A.G.O., will be the organist.

Travel for all tours will be aboard the Historymobile and parking arrangements for Monday tours will be made at the first church visited. Parking information will be forwarded with the tickets.

The day tours begin at 10:30 and end at 3:30 o'clock. Evening tours will originate from the Detroit Historical Museum at 5:30 and return there at 10:30 o'clock.

As past tours have been sold-out to capacity, advance reservations of four to six weeks are suggested, and only up to five names per reservation can be accepted.

THE OLD BIRCHWOOD FARM ESTATE.

(3 miles from Harbor Springs, 14 miles from Petoskey)

It's not just the golf, tennis, riding, boating, fishing, swimming, skiing and other superb sports and social activities that make the Harbor Springs/Petoskey area so desirable for you.

It's also the people who own property at Birchwood.
Let us introduce you to some of them — and tell you some reasons why they chose us.

You have every right to ask us precisely who now owns property at The Old Birchwood Farm Estate leisure colony in the superb Harbor Springs/Petoskey area of Lake Michigan. A young, ear, nose and throat specialist, for one, and a bit older doctor, who's one of the most highly regarded orthopedic surgeons in the U.S. A youthful Chairman of the Board of a national company, and a retired manufacturer. An attorney for one of the two major motor companies, and a former corporate comptroller for the other. A research physicist, and the owner and President of the local title and abstract company in the county in which Birchwood is located (who certainly should recognize a desirable real estate situation when he sees it). And many other well known professional and executive people from many parts of the Midwest, along with others who are not so famous or wealthy, including individuals in retailing, construction, communications, electronics, aviation, property, dentistry, accounting — and yes, the head of the company developing The Old Birchwood Farm Estate.

Pictured above at the left are an owner and his wife, the young radio and television personality, J. P. McCarthy from Bloomfield Hills. Because of his expertise, we asked J. P. to interview some of his fellow Birchwood Farm Estate property owners to find out more about them as people — and to learn why they decided to buy here instead of elsewhere, and what happened after they did. Some of his questions: Did they choose property ownership for personal use? How really well-planned do they think are the Birchwood Farm Estate 18-hole championship golf course, the tennis courts, clubhouse complex amenities and facilities, scheduled for completion in December 1975?

Have there been any surprises, pleasant or otherwise? Are they satisfied with the management, and are its promises being kept? Are there business opportunities for anyone who'd like to live here full-time, now or later? These questions and many more.

After the taping, we secured the permission of the owners to present their thoughts and their names in a special booklet, because we think you'll find this information interesting and important. We also have prepared a fine presentation book which contains a multitude of unretouched color prints showing Birchwood Farm Estate's unexcelled natural endowments and the extraordinary array of recreational facilities being created here. And, at this particularly opportune time, we will deliver both of these to you, for your personal perusal in the privacy of your own home.

AN INVITATION

We invite you to receive this complete information on Birchwood Farm Estate entirely without cost or obligation of any kind, along with an invitation to see this luxurious leisure colony and surrounding area as our overnight guest, if you are sincerely interested in investigating further.

LILLIAN W. SEEGERS, (LEFT), FREDERICK B. NELSON AND RUBY M. GOBLE, RETIRING THIS YEAR FROM THE GROSSE POINTE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

By Janet Mueller

Some things about retirement are immediately good. "I'm going to take my alarm clock," says Lillian Seegers, "and smash it to pieces!" Fair enough: the alarm clock has, after all, ruled Mrs. Seegers' life for 20-plus years. Some things aren't so good. "I wish to be away from the Grosse Pointe School System next Labor Day," Lillian doesn't want to see the children go back to school.

She'll miss her Maire School second graders.

She's taking early retirement, after a 21-year Grosse Pointe career that began at Richard School. There was a career before that, too.

Mrs. Seegers, born in Galesville, Wis., brought up in Iowa, where she was graduated from East Waterloo High School and earned her Bachelor of Science degree in Home Economics, with a minor in Science and Social Studies, and Master of Science degree from the University of Iowa, started her working life as a nutritionist and dietitian.

In World War II, she accompanied Detroit Public Health Nurses on their rounds, giving speeches and food demonstrations, teaching about the food stamp program. She worked in hospitals.

Switches Careers

But: "I couldn't do midnight suppers for the interns and take care of a husband and child." So the wife-mother decided to switch careers. She got her teaching degree at Wayne State University. She has additional Michigan State, University of Michigan and Wayne State post-graduate hours to her credit—50 of them, in fact. That's almost enough for a Ph.D., but Lillian's not going on for one.

Two Ph.D.'s per family are sufficient. Actually, if you count daughter Dody's husband, it's three Ph.D.'s. Dody, a Grosse Pointe South High School graduate, got her Ph.D. in Ann Arbor. Before that, she got her Phi Beta Kappa key.

Walter Seegers, Ph.D., is a Wayne State University professor. Lillian thinks there are advantages in educator-educator marriages. "It's been okay. He's geared to academics." It's nice, too, when two people who love to travel get together.

Give Lillian an excuse to take off, and she's gone. She's been through the United States, to Scandinavia, England, France and Mexico, to the Bahamas and Taiwan, to Turkey, to South America for a month in 1961, (she's been back twice since), to Japan three times.

Back To Japan

She and Walter are going back to Japan in September. If you want to avoid seeing the children go back to school, that's the way to do it.

Mrs. Seegers' professional affiliations include Omicron Nu honorary in Home Economics, Iota Sigma Pi honorary Chemistry society for women, and Alpha Delta Kappa teachers honorary. She's a member of ADK's Beta Alpha chapter.

Post-Japan, there are quite a few things she'd like to take up. She's interested in gourmet cooking, and she'd like to refresh her German. She plans to enroll in a sewing course.

She'd like to find, and take, a mini-course in law, something like, (this is a made-up title, but it gets the idea across) "Law for the Layman." She's curious. Suppose you find yourself in Small Claims Court: What do you do, how do you behave, what are your rights?

Mrs. Seegers may not know now. But she will.

Silents, Please!

If Mr. Nelson gets bored away from the classroom, he can always get out his movie projector. Depending on his mood, he might roll one of his own films . . . or he might settle back and watch Lon Chaney in "The Phantom of the Opera," Douglas Fairbanks in "The Thief of Baghdad," the original "Dracula."

Mr. Nelson's collection of silent films has delighted friends, and students, for years.

Frederick Nelson was born in Marshalltown, Iowa, went through high school in Albert Lea, Minn., and earned his Bachelor of Education degree with a double major, English and Social Science, History, at Winona State College, Winona, Minn.

He holds a Master of Arts degree from the University of Michigan. He has pursued additional studies at White-water State University, Harvard, Wellesley Summer Theatre, Wayne State, Northwestern and Temple Universities.

He spent a fabulous month at the John Hay Whitney Institute in Humanities in Colorado Springs, where everything was furnished, including the magnificent view of Pike's Peak from the picture window in his dormitory room.

Always Stage-Struck

He's always been stage-struck. He's a 28-year member of The Players. He's done summer stock at Alpena. He directed Grosse Pointe South High School's Pointe Players for 23 years, in a total of 46 plays ranging from Eugene O'Neill's "Beyond the Horizon" to "Life With Father," to Moliere's "Imaginary Invalid."

When Pointe Player productions began to be performed at the Grosse Pointe School System's new Performing Arts Center, located in the new North High, he decided to call it a day. "I couldn't see going to North to see South's plays." He's always been blessed/afflicted, (depending upon your view of the matter), with wanderlust. He's made three world tours, plus European tours, and traveled in South America, Mexico and the Yucatan Peninsula.

Three years' Army service during World War II took him to Australia, New Guinea and The Philippines.

He came to Grosse Pointe in 1948. He'd already taught six years, in Rochester, Minn., and Wyoming, Mich. He's taking early retirement after a total of 36 years in education.

Gourmet Cook

It's unlikely he'll be bored. If the silent films pall, and he gets tired of taking his own movies, there's always gourmet cooking and gardening, both of which he thoroughly enjoys, and—of course!—acting and directing plays.

He's considering the possibility of reading for blind students down at Wayne State, and of volunteering at the Art Institute, or the Music Hall. He's always been attracted to this sort of volunteer work, but there was always the problem of time. It may still be a problem. There are those who wonder how Fred Nelson ever found time to fit in the time for teaching!

The answer to that is, of course: you always find time for the things you MUST do. Mr. Nelson has always been an educator. "I like to look back on the students that I've helped. You try to help them all, of course, and of course you can't, but the ones you can make it all worthwhile."

There are Grosse Pointe parents, South High alumni who studied under Mr. Nelson, whose own sons and daughters have studied under him. "You're taking an English course from Mr. Nelson this semester?" the parents say. "Aren't you lucky?"

The kids think so, too. "My mother was extremely hard of hearing, and I realized the problems of the deaf." That's how Ruby Goble came to select Special Education as her special field.

Mrs. Goble is a native Detroit, graduate of Southeastern High School. She earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in Elementary Education, with a minor in Science and History, and her Master of Education in Special Education from Wayne State University.

Her first job was teaching the deaf at Detroit's Lutheran Institute. She taught 11 years at Joyce and, (briefly), Hamilton Elementary Schools in Detroit before coming to Defer in 1968. For the past seven years, she's been Special Education teacher at Montclair.

"Special Education involves everything. We concentrate a lot on reading, because it's one of the skills one has to have to operate in this world. A large part of our job is helping children to recognize that everyone has limitations, to accept another's limitations as well as their own."

Ruby always wanted to be a teacher. Her own teachers, and her friends, said she should. But she took time out to be a homemaker before getting her degrees and getting to work, and then, once started, you couldn't stop her. She spent three summers as a teacher in the Head Start Program.

Her professional affiliations include Pi Lambda Theta and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Her feelings on retirement are very mixed. "I do hate to leave the children. I've enjoyed my colleagues at Montclair very much." She's looking forward to "just being on my own and taking the time to do the things I want to do," however, and there will be a certain release in not having anyone dependent upon her.

Special Education students tend to become very curious about and possessive of their teachers. "My children always wanted my address and phone number. But they lack discretion." Mrs. Goble didn't give out that information, but it is findoutable . . . and Mrs. Goble is not the sort of teacher, or woman, who can turn off a child's call.

She's making no plans. "The first year, I'm just going to loaf." She'll have time for gardening and cooking, two of her favorite things.

She spent the spring of her junior year studying at Princeton University, and the summer of 1975 and January, 1976, working for Congressman LUCIEN N. NEDZI. She was a member of the Wellesley varsity tennis team for four years, captain for one year, and served as co-chairwoman of a Centennial Class project and senior representative for her residence hall.

She was selected to participate in the MSBA Honors Orchestra, which performed at Michigan Central University May 22, and to perform in the "Sounds of '76" Orchestra touring throughout the state June 15 through July 5.

Picture-taking Traveler Travel and Photography are two others. She's traveled, with camera, in the continental United States, Alaska and England. She'd like to go to Australia.

She's served notice that she'll do baby sitting "for family only." Since family includes a niece and nephew, with children, in Alaska, that could mean another trip north.

For now, though, Ruby's playing it by ear, without cutting any options. She's not going to smash her alarm clock. "I'll enjoy not using it, but I'm not going to get rid of it."

"I may need it: if I go on a trip, I've got to be on time."

ton road, did most of the research and arrangements for the apartments in the stone barracks, used to house married officers and their families.

The building may be the oldest in Michigan, Phil believes. Records are imprecise, but he thinks it was probably completed in 1796, by the Fort's first American garrison.

It had been begun by the British in 1780, when the Fort was moved from the mainland to the Island.

Three of the barracks' four two-room apartments are furnished in styles of different periods of the Fort's history. Ninety-nine percent of the furnishings are actual period antiques.

The fourth apartment will be used as a display room. The reconstructed apartments simulate those used in the 1820's by Dr. William Beaumont and his family, the 1876 quarters of Lieutenant John McAdams Webster and his wife, and the rooms used by Lieutenant Benjamin Morris and his bride in 1890.

Lieutenant Morris served with one of the last troops at the Fort, which was decommissioned and turned over to the State Park Commission in 1895.

Fort Mackinac's military importance had ended two decades before, however, for by 1875 railroads had replaced waterways as Michigan's main means of transportation. The War of 1812 was the last time the Fort saw a major military conflict.

After 1812, Fort soldiers participated in a few border disputes with Canada, and during the Civil War three Confederate prisoners were housed there, but by the last quarter of the 19th century it had become clear that Fort Mackinac's future lay as an historic symbol.

It is that—and it is also Living History; a place where people of today can see and "feel" America's past.

Phil Porter, re-creating the Officers' Stone Quarters, has been as concerned with "feeling" as with seeing. He loves Mackinac. It's his home. He was married there last summer; his wife, Valerie, has just been made executive director of the Mackinac Island Chamber of Commerce.

Now, if you're curious as to what a Mackinac Island State Park Curator of Exhibits looks like, get hold of a Michigan Official Transportation Map for 1976-77, and take a look at the picture at the top of the map.

It's a view of Fort Mackinac, with three "defenders" at its foot. The Redcoat on the left, holding the musket, is Phil.

FRED ANDARYS, of Edmundton drive, have become active members of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority at Albion College. Both girls are Grosse Pointe North High School graduates and will be sophomores this fall at Albion.
