FATAL LEVELS OF NICKEL CARBONYL have been found in tissue samples taken from victims of the so-called Legionnaires Disease. The head of a research team said that supports the possibility the toxic gas may be linked to the mysterious disease. Officials said that nickel carbonyl levels found in tissue samples taken from the kidney, brain, liver and other organs of three victims who died of the disease were five to eight times higher than the levels found in patients who died of other causes.

A SUDDEN STORM that hit the new Pontiac Stadium when inside air pressure was low, ripped apart two diamond-shaped panels in the fiberglass fabric dome of the $55.7 million structure Thursday and collapsed the roof. The architect, who designed the stadium, said the air pressure, which keeps the roof inflated through the use of blowers, was not as high as it should have been. The roof was expected to be repaired by Thursday, when the Detroit Lions face the Baltimore Colts in an exhibition game.

SCIENTISTS say they have artificially created a gene, the basic unit of heredity, and planted it in a living cell, where it worked like a real-life model. The discovery at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology was described by biologists as a major breakthrough in the study of genetics. The scientists say they will next begin shifting about the internal chemistry of the gene to find out why it functions only at the precise moment it is needed in the development of life.

THIRTY-NINE PERSONS were killed Saturday when two U.S. Air Force C-141 transports from McGuire Air Force Base, N.J., crashed about three hours apart, one in England and one in Greenland. The Pentagon said there were apparently no survivors among the 18 persons aboard the plane which crashed in England and that 21 persons died in the Greenland accident. Six others survived, although they were burned severely. Military authorities said there was no connection between the two crashes.

A SENATE INVESTIGATION of the 10-year-old Medicaid program in eight major cities, including Detroit, which has found rampant abuses by both providers and recipients of health services, has called for federal action to correct what is termed a "systemic administration of the program at all levels of government. In a report released Monday, the committee said one-fourth to one-half of the $15 billion spent yearly on Medicaid is being wasted through fraud, poor quality of health care and the dispensing of services to persons ineligible to receive them.

A CHEMICAL EXPLOSION on the Hansford atomic reservation, in Richland, Wash., blew out a protective plexiglass panel Monday, contaminating eight persons with a radioactive substance. The explosion occurred in a plant used to separate radioactive Americium from spent reactor fuel. It is 12 miles from the nearest nuclear reactor on the vast reservation in southeastern Washington. Officials said the blast posed no threat of radiation in the atmosphere.

GPEA Expresses Dissatisfaction with Negotiations

Grosse Pointe Education Association (GPEA), pickets, (from left to right), ELMER LEPP, KENNETH COOK and BOB GRAHM, began their day-long marches in front of Board of Education offices in St. Clair avenue on Wednesday, August 25, at 8 a.m. Union officials say they will continue their "informational picketing" as part of an overall community information program as long as negotiations continue, in spite of Board opposition.

City Police Giving Nod To Contract

Agreement Will Avoid Lengthy, Expensive Arbitration Sessions Previously Scheduled

By Susan McDonald
Grosse Pointe City and its police officers, represented by Teamsters Local 214, agreed to a two-year contract Thursday, August 26, thus avoiding the lengthy, expensive arbitration sessions which were scheduled to begin in two weeks.

The contract calls for almost a 10 percent increase in pay for the 1975-76 fiscal year, boosting patrolmen's base salary from $14,300 to $15,700. In the 1976-77 fiscal year the officers will be paid $16,800.

"Monetarily it's a decent contract," said union spokesman, Patrolman David Teolis. "For the first time we are in line with The Park on base pay, but we're lacking on the fringes such as Blue Cross-Blue Shield insurance for retirees and prescription riders on our coverage."

Cites Big Costs
City Manager Thomas Kressbach called the contract fair and reasonable for both sides, but he did point out it was a very expensive one for the City. "I don't want to make an issue of it but all parties should be aware that the costs to the city will be significant."

Continuation of Service Keynote of New School Year for Youth Bureau

Optimistic Division Looks Forward to Working with Total Community; Incorporation of Magic As Teaching Aid New Addition to Program

By Roger A. Waha
An emphasis upon service will once again be the keynote for the Youth Service Division's (YSD), four detectives, who are preparing for, and looking forward to, the upcoming year at the high, middle and elementary schools. While a main emphasis will be upon a continuation of last year's programs, a touch of magic, literally, will be incorporated into law enforcement presentations to youngsters as a visual aid.

"We will continue last year's programs and be flexible enough to make changes during the school year based on needs," said Woods Det. Lt. Jack Patterson, officer-in-charge of the YSD, who noted any changes in policy would have to go through the division's Board of Managers.

"If we continue to receive the cooperation from the school system and from the new superintendent, (Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Coats), which we have received in the past, there's no reason why we can't work together and do an excellent job."

Strive to Improve
We will continue the type of service and relationships we have had in the past with the students in the high, middle and elementary schools, stated Det. Wayne Baum, who is assigned to the North District with Det. Stuart Gerow.

But even more, "We will strive to continue and improve service. We have found that the quality of time spent is more important than the quantity of time," he said. For example, at the middle school level, the detectives have found they have more contact with the youngsters during the lunch hour period. Last school year, the middle schools were guaranteed a set time of a half day per week when the detectives would be present.

"And we still may be there like that," said Det. Patrick Fagan, who serves the South District with Det. Donald Schmaltz. However, he noted, such scheduling remains to be worked out this year.

But whatever transpires, the detectives are always available to respond to specific needs at all the schools. Echoing the previously expressed emphasis upon service, Det. Fagan stated, "We are going to offer all the services we have offered in the past to the schools. We will be available to speak to community groups and all school related groups. We will have our slide presentation, and we plan to have another criminal justice seminar at South."

Firemen Set To Oppose GPC Merger

Firefighters Walk Out of Negotiations To Protest Consolidation Proposal

By Susan McDonald
Grosse Pointe City firefighters walked out of contract negotiations Wednesday, August 25, protesting The City's proposals on consolidation of their police and fire departments.

Firefighters association spokesmen said the group refused to discuss consolidation, but would instead fight it through arbitration sessions which should begin next month in front of Inkster attorney Mario Chiesa.

"We'll go to circuit court if necessary to stop it," said the firefighters' attorney Gene Bolanowski, "but our first approach will be to educate the community on how dangerous consolidation can be."

Slow Down Response
The firefighters say that a consolidation, as outlined in a recent Citizens Research Council of Michigan study, would reduce their ability to protect against personal and property loss through fire.

The plan would boost The City's street patrol force by putting firefighters in scout cars instead of in the firehouse. The officers say this would slow down their fire response time since the patrolling men must change their clothes, lock up equipment, et al., before they are ready to fight the fire.

"In a consolidated department the role of firefighting becomes secondary to that of crime control," said local association president Lt. Tim Champagne. "The main concentration is on street patrol. Firefighting and inspection duties will have to suffer."

The Citizen Research Council report said The City could save as much as $88,000 each year by implementing a consolidation plan that would allow them to lay off at least three men.

Mr. Bolanowski maintains, however, that "whatever The City saves for its budget will be lost in higher insurance premiums to residents if consolidation takes place."

Sees No Reason
City Attorney Gilbert Cox said he saw no reason to continue negotiations with the firefighters unless the subject of consolidation could be discussed.

"As long as it is being actively considered by the council we must maintain (Continued on Page 4)

Pointes Receive Information on Encephalitis

Wayne County Department of Health Officials Visit Area with Reports on Mosquito-Transmitted Disease; Woods Starts Spraying Campaign

By Roger A. Waha
In an effort towards distributing information on St. Louis Encephalitis (SLE), a deadly disease which is transmitted by mosquitoes, officials of the Wayne County Department of Health visited The Pointe last week. They provided reports and other material on the disease for the benefit of local officials and the citizens they serve.

At this point, only The Woods is conducting what might be viewed as a formal campaign regarding control measures. However, all the municipalities have reviewed the reports and are assessing the situation within their respective boundaries. Certain measures toward preventing the disease also have been taken as part of each community's ongoing operations.

The health department, (as of Monday afternoon, August 30), says that no cases of SLE have been identified in the State at this time. But there have been two confirmed cases and one suspect case reported from the Windsor, Ont., area. There also has been one confirmed case and one suspect case reported in Ohio.

Issues Memo
In The Woods, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, in a memo to the public works department, said cooperation with any efforts to prevent a possible outbreak of mosquito-borne SLE and to provide any other precautionary measures against such in our community, your department is hereby requested to take immediate action to spray all city parks, (including the Lake Front Park), other public areas and any private areas where mosquitoes may be harboring, with an approved insecticide such as malathion."

He also asked that an inquiry be made as to the availability and/or possibility and cost of utilizing a mosquito-fogging equipped helicopter and/or airplanes for such spraying.

In closing, Mr. Petersen stated, "Your department is further requested to eliminate or cause the elimination of (Continued on Page 4)

Drive for Ball Diamond Appears Near Success

By Roger A. Waha

A petition drive on the part of the Babe Ruth League of Grosse Pointe, Inc., to place the question of the construction of a regulation baseball/softball field at the Three Mile Drive Park on the November ballot, has apparently been successful.

For petitions bearing some 1,500 signatures, (around 15 percent of The Park's registered voters), were submitted to the city by the Tuesday, August 31, deadline.

"We're checking the signatures now," said City Manager Robert A. Stone. "I'm sure they have enough." The city has 15 days, (beginning on the 31st), in which to validate the signatures, and the council, after the check has been made, could, by resolution, place the question on the ballot, he stated. It's possible the council could take this action at its Monday, September 13, meeting.

Based upon the content of the initiatory petition, the league is requesting that the field with 90-foot base paths be constructed at the park in the vacant area between the tennis courts and Essex boulevard. (The proposed diamond area would take about five of the park's 23 1/2 acres).

The request indicates the diamond should have a dirt infield and drainage, a heavy duty chain link backstop, players' benches and portable playfield bleachers to accommodate 100 spectators.

Pessimism Keynote of Bargaining

Uncertainty Clouds Chances of Return to Classrooms for School Opening

By Susan McDonald
Grosse Pointe Education Association (GPEA), officials, who are pessimistic about the possibilities of settling their contract in the seven days left before the opening of school, say they are now "not certain the teachers will go back to the classrooms on September 9."

Charging that the Board of Education negotiations team is "just killing time" at the table, the union began what they call a "public information campaign" last week with an open letter to the community, picketing in front of the St. Clair Avenue Board offices and a challenge to administrators for a public debate.

"We are not looking to get the public on our side on every issue at stake in negotiations," explained GPEA President Doris Cook. "We just hope the community will respond to the Board and push for more meaningful negotiations."

Opposition Stressed
Board of Education trustees are unanimous in their opposition to the GPEA strategy.

"Negotiations should be conducted only at the bargaining table—not in the public arena," said Board President Robert Warner. Trustee Joan Hanpeter said the public discussion of proposals forces each side to take a harder line at the table and makes it almost impossible to back down on any position.

"The impact of their 'information campaign' has just been to confuse the public and to spread a great deal of misinformation," she said.

Mrs. Hanpeter added that she thought the picketing was "detrimental to the education of Grosse Pointe students in that it lessens the traditional image of the teacher."

Charge Denied
Although Board Vice-President John Bruce said the trustees had not yet discussed the GPEA challenge to a debate, he said he personally did not favor the idea, maintaining it would not do either side any good.

The Board also denies the charge it is slowing down negotiations in order to put the teachers in a spot when school opens next week.

"We're willing to settle if we can get some reasonable proposals on the table," said Mr. Warner. "But it is a fact that hard line negotiations always seem to get moving just before the deadline appears."

4 Months to Answer
Mr. Warner added that "in a December, 1975 letter, the Board of Education informed the Union that the Board was ready and willing to begin negotiations in early January, 1976. The Union responded in April—some four months later—that it was prepared to begin bargaining in May, 1976."

Mr. Warner also said that (Continued on Page 2)

SEMTA Cites Bus Revisions

Significant revisions have been made in bus service for Grosse Pointe students since information packets were mailed by the administration last week, reports SEMTA, (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority).

Schedules for service to Montclair, Brownell, North and South High Schools will be available in the respective school offices tomorrow, September 3.

The authority adds that due to a lack of ridership, no special service will be offered for students attending Pierce and Defer Schools.

WHEEL COVERS TAKEN

A Blairmoor road resident told Woods police on Tuesday evening, August 24, that someone removed four wire spoke wheel covers from his auto sometime between Friday, August 20, and the day the report was made. The wheel covers were valued at around $350.

because the Board team is facing a "rookie group from the GPEA who we have to train in negotiations each time we bargain a contract, negotiations have been going slowly."

Mrs. Cook said the community information tactic is aimed at putting pressure on the Board to speed up negotiations in hopes of settling before Thursday, September 9.

Calls Settlement Bad

Their last contract was settled in December 1973 after 14 months of bargaining. The teachers worked the full semester without a contract. The three-year settlement reached at that time was a bad one, according to GPEA Executive Director Al Gais.

"The teachers thought the contract was stripped. Of all the districts that have signed contracts in Wayne County in the last three years, Grosse Pointe is at the very bottom in terms of monetary gains," said Mr. Gais.

"The community has done all that was asked of them by supporting the millage in June. But the Board has not offered one cent of that extra $2 million dollars to the teachers," according to Mr. Gais.

While Mr. Warner said the Board has offered the teachers an overall salary increase of five percent, Mrs. Cook said the last Board offer over the table was 3.5 percent.

A gymnastics exhibition, "Physical Fitness in Retirement," will be presented by UAW retired workers at 2 p.m. They will be followed by an exhibition from the Lighthouse Square Dancers, (including audience participation), at 2:30 p.m., St. Clair Shores bell ringers, (deaf school children), Nancy Loidle, director, at 3:30 p.m. and fun and games at 4 p.m.

Getting Acquainted

Included in the later event will be a prize for the oldest person attending and for the resident who has lived the longest in The Woods. A King and queen for the day also will be announced.

This will be a big day for seniors and all commission members hope for a solid turnout. The theme is one of getting acquainted with the commission, city officials and, most of all, with one another.

A news release from the commission views this with apparent immediacy.

"Before this summer is over and the long cold days set in, let us have a picnic together. After all, we have a lot in common.

"Let's show all the people in this city that we seniors are an active (part) of our community. There are many beneficial programs available to us through participation."

Mr. Warner also put the GPEA's one year salary and fringe benefit proposal at a 23.6 percent increase — a figure Mrs. Cook said he "must of pulled out of a hat."

She described the GPEA's economic proposal as an eight percent increase in base salary and a paid pension amounting to another five percent for the first year. Another disputed issue is the opening of 15 new administrative positions earlier this month. The GPEA has filed an unfair labor practices charge with the Michigan Employment Relations Commission over some of the positions, and say they will cost the taxpayers about $200,000.

The Board, on the other hand, maintains that only one of the positions is actually new, the rest being reclassifications of jobs formerly held by GPEA members.

Cites Commitment

They would not say how much the new positions will cost except to point out the cost will be offset by savings in other areas of the budget.

"The organizational realignment has been proposed for one reason: to improve the district's instructional program," said Mr. Warner. "Our commitment to better instructional leadership can be implemented in such a way that it will not require an increased outlay of funds."

Picketing by teams of six-eight GPEA members began on Wednesday, August 25, at 8 a.m. The union says it will continue every day of negotiations until 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Cook said that on Monday, August 30, two parents joined the picket line, one from Kerby School and one from North High.

The GPEA did strike the schools one time, for a day and a half in October 1969.

Drive for Diamond

such construction, not to exceed $15,000, shall be appropriated from the city's general fund.

In converting this cost to millage, Mr. Stone said one mill would raise around $85,000 so, as proposed, the diamond, using the $15,000 figure, would cost an additional one-sixth of a mill.

In noting that the league, which represents The Park, City and Farms, comprises 350 boys, (with around half being Park youths), between 13-18 years of age, John Bruce, past president, cited a definite need for the new diamond towards alleviating pressure in scheduling, playing time and space.

"As a Park citizen, and resident most of my life, I find it deplorable that The Park doesn't have adequate recreation space," he said. Indicating there was no full size baseball diamond, he felt there was very little in organized facilities outside of tennis courts and the waterfront parks. "This is deplorable for a community of our size."

At the same time, he stated he has been involved in the Babe Ruth League and youth activities for many years, while stressing the growth of the league itself. "This past year we had the largest program we've ever had," stressed Mr. Bruce in citing the need for the new facility.

In breaking down the league and teams affected, Mr. Bruce said there is the American League made up of 13- and 15-year-olds from The City and Farms which plays at Kerby.

There's the six-team All American League made up of The Park, City and Farms which plays at South, plus the six-team National League, all Park, which plays at Elworthy Field.

Bon Secours Hosts Seminar

A 14-week gastroenterology conference will be offered to physicians by Bon Secours Hospital beginning Thursday, September 9, at 7 a.m.

The course will introduce the most recent advances in the diagnosis and treatment of gastrointestinal diseases.

William B. McIntyre, MD, clinical assistant professor of medicine at the Wayne State University School of Medicine, will direct the course.

"What's New in Endoscopy of the G-I Tract," a talk by Benjamin H. Sullivan Jr., MD, head of the section of endoscopy, department of gastroenterology, at the Cleveland Clinic in Cleveland, O., will be presented at the first conference.

Guest speakers at the other programs are drawn from the faculties of the Wayne State University School of Medicine and area hospitals.

The course is approved for Category I credit for physicians continuing education requirements of the Michigan State Medical Society and the American Medical Assoc.

The weekly breakfast conference is sponsored by the James and Lynelle Holden Foundation.

The late James Holden was instrumental in organizing the conference, now in its 11th year. He once said, "If these men will come to an educational meeting at 7 in the morning to render better care to their patients, the least I can do is buy their breakfast."

For further information and registration, contact the Medical Education Department, Bon Secours Hospital, at 343-1611.

Today a great many people are looking for less to do, more time to do it, and more pay for not getting it done.

Youth Nabbed after Chase

Grosse Pointe City police arrested a 16-year-old Sterling Heights boy Saturday, August 28, after the youngster led five police departments on a 90 mph chase through heavy traffic on Jefferson avenue.

The youth ran several roadblocks set up by St. Clair Shores, Grosse Pointe Shores, Farms and Park police officers.

Larceny Case Sentencing Set

A 24-year-old Detroit man pled guilty to a reduced charge of attempted larceny from motor vehicle stemming from an incident on July 25, reported Woods police.

This action occurred at the Wayne County Circuit Court arraignment and pre-trial conference Thursday, August 19 in the case pending against Eugene Charles Atkins, of 837 Newport.

Originally charged with larceny from a motor vehicle, police said it was decided at the conference he would have to plead to a felony or no plea would be accepted in the case. Det. Everett Plumb said Atkins' scheduled sentencing date is October 8.

He was arrested after reportedly removing a CB radio from the car of a Detroit man at the Bonanza Restaurant, 20460 Mack avenue. He ran from the scene upon being discovered, was chased by the complainant and was ultimately apprehended by police while hiding under a house trailer.

PEGGY PROMOTED

She is currently studying business administration at Macomb County Community College.

Auditions Set by GP Theater

One of the most acclaimed Broadway musicals of the decade comes to the Detroit area this fall when "A Little Music" is presented by the Grosse Pointe Theater. A 10-performance run will open at the War Memorial on November 10.

Auditions will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, September 8, at the War Memorial. Call-back tryouts will be held at the same time and place the following night.

"A Little Night Music" is an adaptation of Ingmar Bergman's film, "Smiles of a Summer Night."

The rest of Grosse Pointe Theater's 29th season consists of "Catch Me If You Can," a comedy-mystery; Moliere's classic comedy, "The Imaginary Invalid"; a special Showcase Theater production of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest"; and the hit musical, "Cabaret."

Mental health depends on many factors and one of these is the body mechanisms that maintain an appropriate chemical balance. When the body metabolism, which regulates this balance, is upset in some way, a mental disturbance may result. The underlying causes of metabolic changes is not very clearly understood.

An excess of certain chemical substances, however, seems to cause mental disturbance, so can excess of certain chemical substances. Today it is possible to treat this condition by administering chemical drugs.

Shores Juvenile Charged With Taking Cash at Party

Shores police arrested a 14-year-old boy at his home early Sunday morning, August 29, in connection with the theft of almost $300 from guests at a teenage party at a Lakeshore road residence.

According to accounts given by the police and complainants, Officers Harry Hamilton and Archie Griev responded to a call at 1:30 a.m. about a gathering of teenagers outside a Roslyn road address.

When they arrived, the group of 12 youths said that a boy residing in the house had rifled three unattended purses during their party and had made off with three wallets and several hundred dollars in cash.

According to the party's host, the suspect had showed up earlier in the evening and had been asked to leave. This was because he was not invited and also because he was only half dressed, wearing neither shoes nor a shirt.

After a time, the guests at the party took up a heated debate about crime in Detroit in the kitchen of the home. The suspect returned to the house and was seen sitting alone in the living room where a number of purses had been left.

After the suspect left the house, the guests discovered that the purses had been disturbed and that the wallets were missing. The group then went to the Roslyn road residence and informed the suspect's parents of what had happened.

They said that they were sure the suspect was the thief because he was the only person who had left the house during the party.

The parents denied that their son had stolen the money and called police to disperse the crowd outside their home.

By the time officers arrived, his brother had discovered the wallets and the money stuffed into an easy chair in the suspect's room. The stolen items were returned in the presence of Shores officers, who requested that the whole group come to the police station to file a complaint.

The suspect's parents were asked to bring their son to the station as well. When the boy arrived he was questioned by police, who determined that he had been drinking heavily during the evening.

He was charged with larceny over $100, and was picked up by Youth Services Division Det. Wayne Baum, who transported him to the Wayne County Youth Home. He was held there until his preliminary hearing, after which he was released to the custody of his parents.

Det. Baum is filing a petition with the Wayne County Juvenile Court to take jurisdiction in the case. The suspect's trial is expected to come up at the end of October or early November.

According to Det. Baum, this is not the first time the suspect has been in trouble with the law.

Few people would be satisfied even if their dreams came true. Revenge has a way of dealing from the bottom of the deck.

Area Receives Encephalitis Information

any and all areas wherein the pooling of stagnant water is apparent.

Leonard Ocelnik, assistant public works director, said a reported low area in Ghesquire Park, which is used for an ice rink in the winter, was filled in and sprayed with malathion.

Other locations sprayed include Sweeney Park, the Chene-Trombley Park, Lake Front Park, the municipal garage area, and parkways and islands in Vernier road, Lochmoor boulevard and Fairford road. He indicated necessary spraying will continue this week.

Cut Tall Grass

As for the possibility of utilizing a helicopter and/or airplanes for spraying, Mr. Ocelnik said this matter is still under investigation.

Building Inspector Earl Wakely reported a city ordinance says grass and/or weeds must not be higher than six inches on residential property or vacant lots. They are potential mosquito breeding grounds and he suggested that owners should cut them even if they're close to that height.

Mr. Wakely added if residents feel there's a potential problem where mosquitoes might breed, e.g., pools of stagnant water, they should call the city at 884-6800 and the switchboard will refer the call to the right department.

City Manager Thomas Kressbach of Grosse Pointe City said his community has no specific campaign at this time, while noting there hasn't been any indication from the health department that such a move is required or necessary as yet.

A health department report on SLE dated Wednesday, August 25, said early in the week of August 30, the department expects to have detailed information from regional mosquito surveillance and wild bird surveillance efforts.

"Should analysis of this information indicate certain local areas where increased control measures would be beneficial, this department will promptly contact the designated local official."

In citing these efforts, Mr. Kressbach said the department is the professional agency which keeps the communities posted, and that his city will act as necessary in fighting the disease, based upon information received from the county.

"We have a continual weed cutting program in vacant lots," he added, while urging all property owners to keep their lawns cut.

Meanwhile, Park Director of Public Service James Ellison said his city will do some spraying where necessary, e.g., in areas where water may congregate, while noting this action is taken consistently. At the same time, he said the city has a continual weed cutting program in vacant lots and alley rights-of-way.

Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer stated the city has sprayed its park all summer with the location being a potential breeding spot for mosquitoes. "We will spray the park once a week as long as we have people there and the mosquito season is here," he said.

Hints for Residents

Shores Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis reported he received information on SLE in the mail over two weeks ago, while noting, to his knowledge, no health official visited his community last week. He said the Village has no formal campaign as such but has a continual program towards keeping weeds cut.

The health department dropped off sheets to city officials on mosquito control around the home for the benefit of residents. This information stresses that mosquitoes require water for hatching eggs. The elimination of water-holding containers or ponded water on residential property will assist in reducing mosquito problems, the department advises.

Realizing that citizens also must do their part, the department says the following actions should be taken:

- Keep water changed daily in wading pools.
- Swimming pools unused for several days should still be filtered and disinfected daily.
- Keep water changed in bird baths.
- Check gutters.
- Fill in low areas of yards that cause water ponding.
- Discard any item such as old tires that hold water.
- Check house rain gutters and downspouts for clogging or holding water.
- Keep drainage ditches in front of property clean.
- Ornamental ponds should either be stocked with fish or drained and cleaned weekly.
- Keep vegetation such as grass and weeds cut close to the ground.
- Vegetation in the yard should be treated with a residual insecticide such as malathion, which an official said does "a good knock down job."
- Short term control up to one or two hours may be achieved with the use of pyrethrum. It is a contact spray and not residual. It is a relatively safe insecticide; however, its effectiveness is limited.

Other Steps

The department also says to minimize annoyance of mosquito bites, the following steps should be taken:

- Keep all doors and windows closed unless screened.
- Wear protective clothing outside.
- Use insect repellants.
- Stay away from heavy mosquito areas.
- Stay indoors in the evening hours, or when mosquitoes are very active.

In a final note, the department states for safe and effective use of insecticides, follow the manufacturer's label instructions.

The encephalitis virus is carried by birds such as sparrows and blackbirds. Mosquitoes pick up the disease from the birds and pass it on to humans.

Transmission Cycle

It is maintained in nature by a transmission cycle involving birds and certain species of mosquitoes, says the department. "Man is only an incidental or a dead-end host in the cycle; and thus human cases occur only when a person, instead of a bird, is bitten by an infected mosquito."

In severe cases, the virus can cause paralysis, coma or death, while in mild cases, the victim may suffer a headache and a slight fever. It also causes stiff necks, vomiting, drowsiness and a fever. The very old, the infirm and the very young are generally most susceptible.

The department advised each community to assess the level of mosquito activity within its boundaries, while keeping abreast of mosquito surveillance and disease information released through the communications media. It also says each city should be responsive to any apparent health threat.

Suggests Actions

Actions suggested by the department on the part of municipalities include:

- Community officials can continue existing mosquito control efforts or can initiate programs with their own employees, or seek assistance from nearby communities, or contract for mosquito abatement services.

• Communities can help control the culex pipiens species of mosquito by treatment of catch basins and manholes. Application of liquid Vapona or use of Vapona strips in these catch basins and manholes will be effective.

To Oppose Consolidation

that any contract signed must have a provision in it dealing with consolidation," he explained.

"We thought it would only be fair to give the firefighters a chance to express their point of view on how or what kind of program we should pursue. To keep on pretending it isn't even a possibility, as they are doing, would be to negotiate with our heads in the sand."

A representative from the International Firefighters Association, in Washington, D.C., met with the firemen and their attorney last week to assist them in their battle against consolidation.

Lt. Champine said the representative, David Eberhart, was mainly on a fact-finding mission. A decision will be made at a later date by the International on just how much assistance they will offer their Grosse Pointe local.

Start Campaign

In a telegram to city officials International Firefighters president W. H. McClenan promised to "assist the local in their efforts to stop this unwise threat to the safety, health and welfare of the city."

City firefighters also are trying to muster public support for their cause by a "public awareness campaign." They began distributing letters door-to-door on Sunday, August 29, to City residents, expressing their views on consolidation.

City Manager Thomas Kressbach said that he hopes the firefighters "will be objective about the matter. If they can show ways that consolidation is not feasible, I'm sure the council will take their views into consideration."

He called the letter distributed over the weekend "erroneous," and added "it's a campaign of emotions and propaganda. They really haven't shown any good reasons not to consolidate."

The City Council may consider the matter of consolidation at its Monday, September 20, meeting, according to Mr. Kressbach.

Farms Citizens Protest Removal of Stop Signs

By Tom Greenwood

Approximately 50 persons, some with their children, attended an emotional Farms Council meeting Monday night, August 30, to protest the scheduled removal of three stop signs on two major city streets.

The largest protest surrounds the proposed removal of a stop sign at Fisher road, where it meets Beaupre road. Two other citizens voiced objections to the removal of stop signs on Chalfonte at Bournemouth and Barclay roads.

The Farms has been told to remove the signs by the State under the Manual for Traffic Control Devices, which was originally scheduled to go into effect on January 1, 1977.

GP Ski Club Plans Meeting

The Grosse Pointe Ski Club will begin its fall season with an informal meeting at the War Memorial on Wednesday, September 8, at 8 p.m.

Information will be available on upcoming weekend and week-long trips. A short film on backpacking also will be shown and refreshments will be served.

Guests are welcome.

FOX PROMOTED

Farms resident T. Bruce Fox has been promoted to second vice-president and account officer in the Michigan Division of Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, according to senior vice-president Michael T. Monahan, head of U.S. banking. Mr. Fox joined the bank in 1971 as a credit analyst and was promoted to loan officer in 1974. He received a BA from DePauw University in 1969 and an MBA from the University of Michigan in 1971. Mr. Fox is son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Fox.

However, Farms Police Chief Robert K. Ferber told the crowd of angry parents that the deadline for complying with the manual would be delayed "because the State can't meet the deadline it set either."

The main thrust of the argument was that the stop signs slowed down speeding traffic on the streets and made the thoroughfares safer for their children.

One citizen pointed out that there were 37 children living in 10 homes within the Beaupre-Fisher road area.

When the citizens asked why the stop signs were to be removed, they were told that the State had ordered their removal.

According to the State, all minor roads, such as Beaupre, must yield to major roads such as Fisher. It was reasoned that the stop sign on Fisher at Beaupre was used only as a traffic control device to slow speeders, and was therefore illegal.

This also applied to the stop signs on Chalfonte at Barclay and Bournemouth roads.

While the council pointed out they agreed with the residents, they emphasized they had to comply with the State, or face possible liability in suits involving accidents, or possible loss of State revenues.

The Farms receives about $164,000 per quarter year for their share of State revenues. These monies are used primarily for paving streets and curb repairs throughout the city.

The council stated that if the city lost these revenues, the taxpayers would have to make up the difference.

After further debate, the issue was somewhat resolved when the council decided to contact officials in the State Highway Department to try and establish guidelines to obtain variances covering such situations as those facing the residents on Fisher and Chalfonte.

SEMTA Makes Route Change

SEMTA, (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority), responded to citizens suggestions expressed at a Tuesday, August 26 public information meeting by revising one of its routes scheduled to go into effect Thursday, September 9.

The revised Kercheval-Mack line will operate hourly mid-day trips on a route from Little Mack, 10 Mile road, Jefferson, Nine Mile road and Greater Mack. This route will be followed approximately 9 a.m.-5:30 p.m. on weekdays, and all day Saturday.

Many passengers expressed concern over the original proposal which provided access from Jefferson to the Nine Mile and Mack business center via a transfer to the Nine Mile route, SEMTA said.

Although the Nine Mile line will continue to operate, most passengers will be able to complete their trip without transferring by using the Kercheval-Mack line.

The revised routes and schedules will go into effect on the 9th. The revised Jefferson, Kercheval-Mack and Charlevoix-Harper lines were designed to offer faster trips on more direct routes and to offer service to new areas such as Mount Clemens, Fraser, Clinton Township at 15 Mile and Harper and at 16 Mile and Little Mack, says the authority.

"It is SEMTA's goal to attract new riders while providing attractive service to current transit passengers. This 9 Mile-Jefferson change and direct trips on Harper road to Detroit were included in the service revision as a result of public information meetings in local communities," adds SEMTA.

For further information, call 962-5515.

APPROVES PAYMENT

An invoice from Coopers and Lybrand in the amount of $2,050 for services rendered was approved for payment by The Woods Council at its regular meeting, Monday, August 16.

Jaycees Seek New Members

If any man between the ages of 18-36 is interested in making his community a better place in which to live and at the same time develop himself as a leader and person, the Grosse Pointe Jaycees could be the answer.

This is the feeling of the organization, which will hold its second quarter M-Night on Thursday, September 9, at the War Memorial, beginning at 8 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is to provide every young man with the opportunity to see what the organization contributes to The Pointe community.

The meeting is being held in conjunction with the Jaycee Auxiliary. Members and prospective members are encouraged to bring their wives or girl friends. Refreshments will be served.

The Jaycees said that as a result of the first quarter M-Night in July, eight men joined the chapter.

They are Edgardo L. Arcinue, John E. Chouinard, Donald E. Diedo, Joseph J. George, Gary F. Marowski, Richard A. Rumon, John F. Smith Jr. and David M. Zak.

For further information and/or a reservation, call Al Hillenbrand at 343-0181, (after 6 p.m.), or Ric Rutan at 881-8972.

BOYCE TOPE HONORED

On August 3, Boyce M. Tope of The Woods, was named the Outstanding Member of Organization Executives of Michigan, (O.E.M.) for the year of 1976. O.E.M. is an organization of Chamber of Commerce and Association executives of Michigan. Mr. Tope, who is a past-president of the group, received two bronze plaques—one to keep permanently and one to hold for a year until the next winner is chosen.

We Don't Have A Pension Plan Where We Work, But We've Done Something About It.

Oh, we'd like a company sponsored pension plan, but in the absence of one, we decided to do something about it. After a thorough investigation of the individual retirement accounts offered by financial institutions, mutual funds, and insurance companies, we started our retirement plans at Detroit & Northern Savings.

Why D&N?

Well, to start with, our money earns more at D&N. It earns 7 3/4% per year compounded daily. None of the other plans we examined paid as much. That's one of the important considerations to keep in mind when you put your money in an individual retirement account, but there's more:

1. D&N'S IRA is inexpensive; in fact, it's FREE — no fees, commissions or charges;
2. There's no risk because your earnings are guaranteed, unlike mutual funds;
3. At D&N the money in your retirement account is insured safe to $40,000 by an agency of the U.S. Government;
4. Each time you make a deposit to your account, you get a receipt for your records, and at the end of the year, D&N will send you a statement showing the deposits and earnings for the year, as well as a summary of the total amount in your account.

We're glad we started our individual retirement account at Detroit & Northern, and we're enjoying the tax break we get each year when we deduct our IRA contributions from our income tax. It's like pennies, no, dollars from heaven, if you know what we mean.

And remember, if you and your spouse both work and are not covered by a company sponsored pension plan, each of you can have an IRA. Each of you could save up to $1,500.00 every year and deduct the total from your taxable income.

If you don't have a pension plan where you work, see the people at D&N. Or right now, fill out the form at the bottom of this page and mail it to them. They'll send you all the information you need to get started. Don't wait. Enjoy tax-free income now by putting your funds in an IRA at Detroit & Northern Savings.

YSD Looks Forward to New School Year

(Continued from Page 1) a look at the Grosse Pointe community and its schools, but also a view of the juvenile justice system.

Cites Success

"We will continue to work with the elementary school teachers and principals, and continue our program on substance abuse education," said Det. Baum.

"We feel this, (i.e., such a program), is why other communities in the area are having a problem with drugs in schools. We have been successful because of continuing educational programs from the beginning and they, (the youths), have had an opportunity to make up their own minds. This is the key."

On the high school level, the division will maintain the same service as before with a detective being at both North and South every day during school hours. Any further developments on this is contingent upon the new superintendent and further input from the system, said Det. Fagan.

Visual aids, including the incorporation of magic, will add a new dimension to elementary school programs, which will be utilized throughout the entire division.

While the use of magic as a visual aid isn't a new technique, it's a first for the YSD.

Holding Attention

Such usage as a teaching aid caught the eye of Det. Fagan, who saw a newspaper advertisement on this topic. And before you could make a rabbit disappear, he enrolled in the Emporium of Magic in West Eight Mile road for a 10-week seminar, (he still has three weeks to go).

"Due to the fact we talk to groups and youngsters, and because I heard about it from others, I felt it would be an added dimension. So I checked into the school and pursued it," he stated.

In noting the city sponsored his attendance in the seminar, Det. Fagan said he will put together a program incorporating magic in addresses before youngsters. In fact, he hopes to ultimately share some techniques with his colleagues along the way so they, too, can utilize a "magical approach" with children.

"In working with elementary school children, it's difficult to maintain their constant attention," he noted. "I've given talks to elementary school youngsters in the past and have attempted to use visual aids such as drawings on the blackboard. With magic, we'll have an added dimension utilizing tricks to hold their attention."

At this point, Det. Fagan has about 30 tricks which can be incorporated into his talks but what tricks will be used in what addresses awaits a final decision.

He indicated, for example, a rope trick would readily fit into a talk on bike safety particularly in regards to locking a bike when it's not in use.

Optimistic Outlook

To make certain no one has the wrong impression of the planned use of magic, Det. Fagan emphasized, "This will be no magic show per se."

The specific idea is to give a talk which is law enforcement oriented, (e.g., bike safety, substance abuse, alcohol abuse), and to use illusions and tricks, which are secondary, as visual aids throughout a talk.

For both detectives, an optimistic outlook over the new school year is apparent. "Last year, I was optimistic about the year and the students, who didn't disappoint me," commented Det. Baum. "I feel this will even be a better year because of the caliber of students I've come to know."

Those students who are unpleasant to be around are declining in number, while those who are "super" to be around are increasing, he said.

In noting that vandalism has decreased, Det. Baum felt the entire situation will continue to improve regarding the whole student body. "There are still those who require a lot of attention but I'm looking forward to the school year."

Going into his third year in the YSD, Det. Fagan stated, "The longer the period of time I've spent, the more people I've gotten to know. On that basis, one of the main things this office operates upon is rapport with the students. And I'm optimistic on that point."

"The large majority of kids are really good kids and I'm looking forward to a good school year."

Ask Parents' Help

In relation to students and the opening of school, both detectives offered a few words for parents.

"The role of parents and the behavior of their children is very important," stated Det. Baum. "We are happy when we know parents are aware of their children's activity and restrict their free floating time in the community."

Meanwhile, Det. Fagan said, "The YSD is still here to serve the entire community but we can't do it alone. We need the parents' involvement and cooperation in dealing with young people of the community such as we have had in the past."

In viewing this involvement and cooperation, Det. Baum quickly interjected, "This is what separates our community from Detroit and the problems they have."

An important aspect of the division's service is the part time counseling program. We expect counseling to continue serving youths assigned to the program as an alternative to the criminal justice system, said Det. Baum.

Willing to Speak

At this time, the division has two counselors, Marlene Pesta, and newcomer Jean Faria, who starts this week. With the resignations of two other counselors, the YSD is one short of its usual operating total.

"We'd like to hire a third counselor, possibly a male," said Lt. Patterson, "but there's a problem in finding qualified people."

Counselors receive $2.20 per hour and work between five and eight hours per week. Another problem regarding potential applicants is the relatively low $2.20 per hour figure considering the nature and importance of the job.

In a final note, Lt. Patterson said all of the detectives are available for speaking engagements, not only one or two.

"All should be exposed to the community, while the community should be exposed to all of them," he stated.

Those who are interested in having a detective address a group or organization are invited to call the YSD office at 886-2908.

Police Pact

Mr. Kressbach said he was relieved the two sides had come to agreement in time to avoid that time-consuming process.

Other contract provisions call for a $50 increase in the officers' annual clothing allowance, bringing it to $275 per man, a $25 increase in longevity increments and an increase in holiday pay from straight time to double time.

On Pay Rates

An extra vacation day was added to the schedule of officers with eight years or more seniority. The department's only part time officer also was granted a $1,600 pay increase over two years.

The City will begin distributing retroactive pay increases of about $2,000 per man later this month, Mr. Kressbach said.

The contract also contains language establishing the officers' unit right to negotiate pay rates if The City should decide to implement a consolidation of its police and fire departments, as a recent Citizens Research Council study proposed.

Negotiations in that case would have to begin 60 days before such implementation takes place and would be subject to binding arbitration.

"Logical Approach"

Patrolman Teolis reaffirmed the officers position against the proposed consolidation, but said the contract language "at least assures us of some protection in case the city does decide to consolidate."

Mr. Kressbach said the language "provides for a logical approach to the matter of public safety, including training and pay rates."

The city manager also said he expects The City Council to formally ratify the contract at its Monday, September 20, meeting. Most of the councilmen, reached over the phone, initially approved the agreement last week, he added.

P and J Owners Optimistic

(Continued from Page 1) down," said Mr. Crawford. "We like to look at the P and J as a community facility and in that sense it's really up to the community to help keep it alive."

There is seating for 600 and the building was given an "A" plus rating by an architect who recently inspected it.

While it will remain primarily a movie theater, the new management of the P and J is prepared to experiment with other possible uses for the auditorium.

"We're not really sure exactly what we'll be doing with the P and J," said Mr. Edgar. "We may experiment with some daytime uses as a meeting or lecture hall. We are considering matinees and shifting evening showing times to try and attract a wider audience. There may be a reduced rate policy some evenings for senior citizens. We're open to suggestions."

When asked about the future price policy of the theater, Mr. Edgar said that the present bargain rates would be changed for a number of reasons.

The chronic problem of the P and J in the past has been that new movies appeared there much later than in other first run theaters. According to Mr. Edgar, though the reduced price policy attracts larger crowds, it does not remedy the programming problem.

"Distributors of new movies will not deal with bargain theaters at a film's first release because it cheapens the reputation of their product and isn't worth it to them financially," he said.

The distributors charge by taking a percentage of ticket sales so bargain theaters cannot compete with houses charging $3.50 a head.

Mr. Edgar went on to say that, after a time, the bargain begins to attract the type of clientele which could vandalize the theater and drive away good customers.

The new owners are planning some minor renovations and have retained a theater management company to negotiate with distributors for newer films. Frank Krueger, who managed the theater for years before his recent retirement, will serve as a consultant to the new owners.

Both Mr. Edgar and Mr. Crawford have high hopes for the future of the P and J and are counting on some of their policy changes and community support to make it a going concern.

"It's really a beautiful theater and it would be a shame if it ever had to be closed

80 Trophies Later, Susan Might Stay with Tennis

By Tom Greenwood

A currently popular bumper sticker touts the message, "If it feels good—Do it!" What feels good to 12-year-old Susan Mascarin is winning big tennis tournaments.

Her latest triumph was winning the 1976 USTA Girls 12 National Tennis Championship held earlier this month in Savannah, Ga.

Playing in the event for the third time, she easily defeated her opponent, Andrea Jaeger, of Lincolnshire, Ill., in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2.

Susan, of Webber place, also defeated Miss Jaeger

Mascarin house might start sinking into the ground. "I've probably won about 80 trophies so far," said Susan shyly. "What I really like are the silver trays some tournaments give to the winners. They're beautiful."

Let anyone think Susan lives on a tennis court, her parents have just brought her back from a three-week vacation to Disney World, Cedar Point and a friend's cottage.

Susan hopes to turn professional some day, but sees years of practice ahead of her. "I'd like to make it into the professional ranks, but I've got to keep working hard to do it," she said.

Her favorite tennis players are Chris Evert and Evonne Goelagong. "I like Chris for her terrific game and Evonne for her great personality," said Susan.

A seventh grader at University Liggett, Susan plays out of the Wimbledon Racquet Club in St. Clair Shores. She's currently gearing up for her next tournament, the National Indoors at New York City over the Thanksgiving holidays.

She is the defending champion.

The daughter of Telesforo and Yolanda Mascarin, Susan regularly defeats her parents on the tennis courts.

"I haven't been beating them that long though," said Susan. "Just since I was 10."

last fall to win the National Indoor Championship.

"It felt really good winning the tournament in Savannah," said Susan. "But it'll be tougher the next tournament I enter. I'll have to compete against 14-year-olds because I'm no longer eligible in the 12-year-old category." She turned 12 in June.

Being a winner is hard work. During school days she practices two to three hours a day. In the summer she spends at least five hours a day on the court. "And more before a tournament," added Susan.

Apparently all that hard work is paying off. If she wins any more trophies she

Youths Facing Theft Charge

Two 16-year-old Woods youths have been charged with armed robbery in the Friday afternoon August 27, hold-up of a 13-year-old Farms newspaper boy.

According to police reports, the paper boy parked his bicycle in front of a Mack avenue ice cream parlor and went inside.

When he came out, he found his bike had been removed to the rear of the building. When he went to recover it, he was assaulted at knife point and robbed of $18.60. The money had been collected from his paper route.

After searching their victim for more money, the two thieves left the area.

A description of the boys was broadcast, and they were picked up by Woods Officers Robert Kwiatkowski and Michael Makowski.

They were turned over to Youth Service Division Det. Patrick Fagan, who is handling the case.

A search of one of the boys turned up a Boy Scout knife.

Church to Hold Barbecue Party

The annual Grosse Pointe Memorial Church barbecue will be held Monday, September 13, from 5:30-7:30 p.m. in the church parking lot, 16 Lakeshore road. (In case of rain, the meals will be served in Fellowship Hall).

The price of the steak dinner is $3.50, while the hot dog dinner is $1.25. This includes the main course, fresh tomatoes, fresh corn, French bread, homemade pies, coffee or milk.

Reservations have to be made by 12 noon, Sunday, September 12, by calling the church office at 882-5330. Entertainment will be provided by the French Forty and Eight.

The general chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. William Scott, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marx, Forbes Henderson, James Bierbusse, Richard Hicks, George Lewis and Jon Gandelot.

PART OF LIVING

The man who does nothing makes a mistake, and before he accomplishes anything he will make many more mistakes.

Youth Struck; Bicycle Taken

A 15-year-old St. Clair Shores youth was knocked down and robbed of his 10-speed bicycle while riding on Jefferson avenue at Somerset road on Wednesday, August 25, according to Park police.

The boy said he was riding against traffic when a car dove up and a man leaned out and struck him, knocking him off of his bike.

The car, a blue two-door, stopped, and a passenger got out and put the bike into the trunk and then drove off. The bike was valued at over $100.

Letters to The Editor of The News

To the Editor:

The "Grosse Pointe News" on August 26 carried a column by the Superintendent of Schools, Dr. William Coats. Some statements made therein need clarification.

Dr. Coats is playing games with words when he states "While the overall realignment involves a total of 15 positions, only one of these is a new one." Seven of these positions were not on the payroll last year.

Yes, six of them have existed in the historical past and were eliminated as long ago as 1970. But adding positions that were not in the budget last year has to increase the administrative cost in the budget for this year. This is what Dr. Coats proposes after only a month on the job.

Incidentally, the positions of school nurses were also abolished some years ago, but no effort is being made to re-establish them.

The Grosse Pointe Education Association was told at the bargaining table this past Childrens Fund, 22856 Woodward, Ferndale 48220.

Mr. Summers donated his body to the Wayne State University Medical School.

PETER A. HAHN
Services for Mr. Hahn, 41, of Harvard road, were held Tuesday, August 31, at the A. H. Peters Funeral Home and Saint Clare de Montefalco Church.

He died Sunday, August 29, at Saint John Hospital.

Born in Wisconsin, he was a senior scientist microbiologist with Parke Davis.

He received his Bachelor and Masters degrees from the University of Wisconsin.

He is survived by his wife, Laura; a son, Mark; a daughter, Jacqueline; his mother, Mrs. Harriet Hahn; one brother, and one sister.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Michigan Cancer Foundation or to Saint Clare de Montefalco Church.

Interment was at Mount Olivet Cemetery.

MRS. VERA TRAVERS KRIEGHOFF
Services for Mrs. Krieghoff, 84, formerly of Torrey road, late of Meadville, Pa., were held in Meadville.

She died Monday, August 30, in Meadville.

A native Detroit, she was the wife of the late William R. Krieghoff and mother of the late William T. Krieghoff.

She is survived by her daughter, Vera Louise Crispin; one daughter-in-law; five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Interment was at White Chapel Cemetery.

week that the new Guidance Coordinator proposed for each high school would replace one counselor and not be an additional position. Because of administrative work assigned to him, he would carry a reduced number of students to counsel. The other counselors would as a consequence add 25 to 30 or more kids to their load.

This would reduce the cost of this new administrative position, but would it mean more and better counseling for the North and South students? We think not.

We have also been told that one of the new administrative posts in the Department of Instruction may be a trade-off for one in existence which will be abolished. This must be the 15th position involved in Dr. Coats' counting. If this is done, and someone is not brought in from outside the system, the cost of this post then would probably be nil.

But the others? Positions not in existence in last year's budget have to be an added cost in this year's budget. To quote the article in the "Detroit News" of August 18: "Coats said that, although the new positions will increase the administrative side of the budget, 'we'll make that up somewhere else.'"

The GPEA urges local citizens to attend the School Board Meeting on Monday, September 13, in the South High Auditorium. The budget will doubtless be a major agenda item. Copies are usually available at the Board Office a few days prior to the meeting.

And the teachers continue to be concerned with the seeming unwillingness of the negotiating team representing the Board of Education to reach an agreement with the GPEA.

Has all the real attention been focused on increasing the administrative ranks to the detriment of contract negotiations? What other uses are now being planned for the millage money voted to restore teaching positions and programs, negotiate contracts and pay increased costs? How can "extensive assessment of our instructional program" leading to radical changes in school staff be made by a superintendent in less than a month?

We hope citizens will ask such questions of the Board of Education on September 13.

Sincerely,
Doris M. Cook,
President,

To the Editor:

As a Grosse Pointe parent, I feel that I have been manipulated by the Grosse Pointe School Board.

When they asked for the increased millage last spring, asking for the barest essentials, cutting to the bone, etc. —I voted "yes."

Now I find that 13 new administrators are going to be added to the payroll—eight

NOTICE OF HEARING ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

Notice is hereby given that the Zoning Board of Appeals will meet in the City Hall at 90 Kerby Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, on at 8:00 p.m. to hear the appeal of Mr. and Mrs. William Isbey, owners of the premises located at 112 Mapleton Road, from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Permit for the construction of an addition to the single-story portion of the dwelling and the construction of a second floor over the whole one-story area to the rear of their home at the foregoing address. Such permit issuance was denied for reason that the residence located on the foregoing premises is non-conforming for reason that it projects into the required open rear and side yard space in violation of the provisions of Article XIII, Section 1300 of the City's Zoning Ordinance, and in accordance with the provisions of Article XV, Section 1502, Item 4-A of the City's Zoning Ordinance, no such structure may be enlarged or structurally altered unless a variance is granted.

The Hearing will be public. Interested property owners or residents of the City are invited to attend.

PROPOSED ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND TITLE V, CHAPTER 3, SECTION 5-3-8 OF THE 1975 CITY CODE OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE WOODS TO DEFINE COMMERCIAL VEHICLES AND REGULATE STORAGE THEREOF

The City of Grosse Pointe Woods Ordains:

SECTION 1: That Title V, Chapter 3, Section 5-3-8 of the 1975 City Code of Grosse Pointe Woods shall be amended to read as follows:

5-3-8: COMMERCIAL VEHICLES: No commercial vehicle, truck or trailer shall be parked, housed or stored upon residential property or the public streets and alleys in any district except for the period actually required in connection with the delivery of merchandise or materials or the rendering of any services or performance of any building construction; provided, however, that no more than one commercial vehicle, truck or trailer of a rated capacity of three fourths (¾) ton or less may be housed or stored when entirely within a suitable garage, and further provided, that this requirement shall not apply to any business requiring truck delivery or service in the operation of the business. The term "commercial vehicle" shall mean any motor vehicle containing any sign, lettering or advertising on display of a commercial nature.

SECTION 2: Effective Date. This Ordinance shall become effective twenty (20) days after the date of its adoption.

Police Kept Hopping by Loud Party

20 Violations Tickets Issued After Complaints Poured In over Three-Hour Period

Woods police made several trips to a Roslyn road home Saturday evening, August 28, and early Sunday morning, August 29, to investigate complaints over a loud party.

Before the gathering ultimately broke up, around 20 violations were issued, police said.

After receiving a call on the party at 11:45 p.m. Saturday, Officer Stephen Petrik reported that an estimated 200 people were in attendance. The only violation present at that time was loud voices and music from the rear of the address. The resident was contacted and police said he assured them the guests would quiet down.

At 12:23 a.m. Sunday, the officer received another call and made another run to the scene. He again warned the citizen, who advised he would attempt to have the guests go inside the home.

Then at 1:35 a.m. police stated noise from the party was again building up. At this point, the resident was advised if any more complaints were received, he would be ticketed.

Police stated the citizen told them the party was just breaking up and the guests would soon be leaving. Two violations, one for blocking a fire hydrant and one for blocking a crosswalk, were issued at this time.

Make Another Run

Finally, at 2:37 a.m. police made another run to the location.

At the scene, officers said loud talking could be heard from the rear of the home, while several firecrackers were being ignited in the immediate area.

Police then ordered the resident to terminate the party as howling and whistling could be heard from the rear of the home while officers talked to the man.

The citizen, William Murphy, 23, was then issued an ordinance violation for allowing a boisterous party and he's scheduled to appear in court this month on the charge.

He was advised all autos in the street would be ticketed for violation of the no parking law between 3-5 a.m. As Officer Petrik, Lt. Peter Thomas, and Officers Michael Genereaux and John DeLora began writing tickets, many of the people from the party left the area.

In all, 18 violations were issued on the no parking law, one for blocking a fire hydrant and one for a horn blowing. After the violations were written, only four or five vehicles were left at the scene and the home was quiet, police added.

JOHN BRUCE PROMOTED

Pointer John M. Bruce has been appointed general manager of Chrysler Corporation's new Engine and Casting Division. He will direct all the activities of five plants in three states including Huber Foundry, Mound Road Engine and Trenton Engine in the Detroit area; the Indianapolis Foundry in Indianapolis, Ind.; and the Fostoria Foundry in Fostoria, O.

Suspect Has Rough Time

It just wasn't a good day to steal a bicycle. A 21-year-old Detroit man had everything going against him when he tried to steal a 10-speed bicycle in The Farms on Monday, August 18.

According to police reports, the suspect, Gregory Lewis, allegedly stole a bike sitting in front of Kent Drugs, 1 Kercheval avenue. A woman, sitting in a car, saw the man mount the bike and ride north on Fisher road. She followed him in her car.

At this point, the owner of the bike, a 15-year-old boy, came out of the store and started chasing the bike thief.

Another passing motorist, who had witnessed the theft, picked up the boy and began chasing the thief in her car.

All parties caught up with Lewis in the 400 block of Fisher road when he crashed the bike into the curb, dislodging the bicycle's chain.

A confrontation began, with Lewis allegedly cursing and threatening the women and the 15-year-old boy.

At this point the luckless suspect was arrested. Not by Farms police, who responded a few minutes later, but by an FBI agent in front of whose house he had crashed.

The man was turned over to police and was charged with larceny.

Lewis faced his examination on Wednesday, August 25, before Farms Judge Robert H. Pytell and is currently behind bars in the Wayne County Jail awaiting his scheduled Wayne County Circuit Court arraignment date of Monday, September 20.

The two women, who chased the thief, have been commended for their actions by Farms Police Chief Robert K. Ferber.

Classes View Seniors' Needs

Wayne State University's College of Lifelong Learning is offering a new fall program for senior citizens and those nearing retirement, according to Assistant Dean Earl Hall.

Offered in six sessions, beginning October 30, from 2-4 p.m. at the War Memorial, the program is designed to help seniors find answers to questions that may puzzle them at that time of life.

The enrollment fee is $35 per person, or $50 per couple. It will cover subjects such as goal setting, Medicare and Medicaid, wills and investments and projects and pastimes.

For free trial, information and reservations, call 881-8200, extension 547 or 405.

Wine Lines

by Pat Ulatowski

The oldest liqueur to survive the test of time is the world famous D.O.M. Benedictine, which is still produced on the identical spot where its secret formula was discovered in the year 1510. Dom Bernardo Vincelli devised the elixer from a number of different herbs, plants, peels, on a fine Cognac brandy base. Once the ingredients are blended, the liqueur is aged for four years before being bottled. Originally the drink was intended as a medicine for those in the monastery.

From fine brandies to excellent wines, PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 has everything for your party needs. If you're planning a party for the Labor Day weekend ahead, come in and find out about the advantage of serving keg beer. Know Your Schools

By William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

In the next columns I expect to share my view of the role of all segments of the school community: citizens, Board of Education trustees, management personnel, classroom teachers and students as well as the superintendent. I hope that this use of space, beginning next week, will enable readers and all members of the community to understand the school system.

Such an approach is necessary, I believe, because during any school year in any community in the nation many issues arise concerning the school system that seem to need clarification.

As I perceive my role, I shall, as the Board of Education's representative, generally attempt to express the point of view of our students and citizens. (I shall have more to say on this at a later date.)

It is a fact that any dynamic institution involving to some degree thousands of people—in our case an entire community—has so many projects under way at the same time that problems and misunderstandings are almost inevitable.

Such issues and concerns may cover policy matters, curriculum and staffing patterns. Uppermost in my mind as these issues arise is to seek to solve them to the best advantage of our students. They are the only reason for a school system.

In Grosse Pointe I should expect that such problems would be minimal because of the quality of our personnel. Although I have not yet met all of our staff members, I am favorably impressed by the calibre of those whom I have already encountered. Thus, I believe we can look forward to a year of solid educational progress.

What makes a great school system? The basis is, I believe, the quality of its staff and the degree of support accorded the schools by the citizens of the district. From my early observations, Grosse Pointe is a winner on both counts. Therefore, I shall be pleased to entrust my three school-age children to the care of our well-trained, well qualified teachers.

My interest in the school system is both a personal and professional one. As a parent, I want, and will work for, the best education possible for our young people.

I am confident that 1976-77 will be a good one for our system.

French, Russian Classes Slated

Both French and Russian will be taught this fall at the War Memorial Center.

The basics of French grammar, both written and oral, will be taught by Janet Bachrach on Monday evenings. Starting September 27 there will be a beginning group from 6-7:30 p.m. and an intermediate group from 7-9 p.m. The fee is $38 for 12 weeks.

French Conversation Salons for students who have had prior background in French will be offered on Tuesday mornings, September 21-December 14. Intermediate French conversation will meet from 9-10:30 a.m. and more advanced students from 10:30-noon.

The salons will be directed by Mrs. Pierre Augier, who will draw upon current French publications for subjects of discussion through which people become at ease in thinking and speaking French.

Everyone wishing to register for the French Salons are asked to meet with Mme. Augier in advance on Monday, September 10, between 10 a.m. and noon at the Center. The fee is $35 for 12 weeks.

A follow-up class in Russian will be offered this fall by Mira Seski who introduced Russian to the Center's course of study earlier this year.

It will be given Tuesday evenings, September 28-December 14, from 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Letters to The Editor

at the annual salary of $25,000 or more! This is explained as a linkage between the School Board's decisions and what goes on in the classroom.

What may I ask are the principal and the superintendent for? Is that not their job?

I was always proud that the Grosse Pointe teachers were always earning graduate credits and that so many had Masters degrees. We had teachers who were not stagnating, but eager to learn and improve their abilities.

And so now the Grosse Pointe School Board is against additional pay for additional graduate credits. (Which they have been paying for years).

Thus, I can only conclude that the Board wants top-heavy administrators and unmotivated teachers. This takes care of the educational needs of our children?

Our house was bought 15 years ago because of the great reputation of the Grosse Pointe schools. After having three of our children graduate from this system, I can honestly say the schools are slowly going downward.

The parents voted "yes" to the millage to keep the schools' great reputation intact. The senior citizens voted "yes" to keep up the value of their homes. We voted "yes" to good schools. Not "yes" to high cost administrators, but "yes" to good teachers. Can't the Board realize that?

Their continued attitude to the teachers will mean that in years to come our teachers will all be new graduates using our school system to get the experience so they can move on to greener pastures where their graduate credits will be encouraged and paid for. And the reputation of the Grosse Pointe schools will be low and the entire neighborhood will go downhill.

I honestly feel that an in-depth answer is due from the School Board as to why they have not used our tax money as was specified before the last millage vote in the spring. They obtained our money under false pretenses.

Truly yours,
Barbara W. Youngs,
448 McKinley Avenue,
Grosse Pointe Farms

Dear Editor:

The Trustees of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education deeply regret that Mrs. Youngs, or anyone else in the school district, feels "manipulated" by us. As most of you know, we are parents and taxpayers like yourselves. We serve on the Board of Education because we believe in public education and because we believe Grosse Pointe can do an excellent job of education.

Unfortunately, there is some confusion about the new positions which are being proposed. Some posts which have been deemed as unnecessary are proposed for elimination, while others which carry the necessary management authority to supervise staff and programs are proposed to replace them. Only one additional position is planned over the present total, with the overall cost to the school system not expected to be increased. As we have stated, the proposal is really a realignment of responsibilities rather than a sweeping and expensive addition of personnel.

I can assure you that the Board of Education does not believe the system would be top-heavy administratively and it does not believe that the majority of our fine staff will ever need extra motivation to do an excellent job in the classroom.

The maintenance of a quality school system is the surest way for all concerned—from youngsters who attend school to senior citizens—to benefit to the fullest from community life. The quality and reputation of the school system are in no small way a factor in the steady increase in the value of local real estate.

Finally, let me assure the entire community that the tax monies levied for the school system will be used as they were promised—for the best quality public education that can be obtained. As your duly elected Trustees, we on the Board of Education are totally committed to this.

Sincerely yours,
Robert D. Warner,
President

Cave-In Opens Up 'Hole' New Scene

Passerby DON PALAZZOLO, (left), of The Park, explores a street cave-in site at Neff road and St. Paul avenue while MIKE READ of the Farms looks on. The pavement gave way during Friday afternoon,

August 27, exposing a cavity 12 feet across and eight feet deep. A painter in the area noticed the trouble just in time to stop a motorist from taking the plunge.

Alert Painter Stops Cars In City Street Cave-In

By George Polgar Jr.

The gaping hole at the intersection of Neff road and St. Paul avenue was a rather disquieting sight for a person who has always had great faith in the solid ground beneath his feet. But for neighborhood kids, the eight-foot deep cave-in was the next best thing to a disaster movie.

Some time around noon Friday, August 27, a painter working near the intersection noticed the pavement dip as a car passed. Walking over to inspect the situation he noticed that... something was afoot.

Just as he began stopping traffic, the asphalt began to shift and shimmy and then give way. If the alert painter had not halted traffic when he did, some surprised motorists would have pioneered below ground parking in the Pointes.

According to City Manager

Thomas Kressbach of Grosse Pointe City the cause of the cave-in was a partial collapse or open joint in one of the two sewers in the area.

He also confirmed that there was work done at the location recently to fill a depression in the roadway. The problem was not explored further at the time of the repair.

Mr. Kressbach also said that the repair bill for this cave-in could range from $200-$5,000 depending on the extent of the damage to the sewers.

"Both sewers in that area are 50- or 60-years-old so we may have to dig all the way down to repair it," he said. "There may be a number of places around The City where similar sewer damage could create cavities under the street."

Keeping that in mind there is only one appropriate piece of advice—watch your step.

Gridders at ULS Face Rebuilding

By George Polgar Jr.

Going into the 1976 season University Liggett's varsity football squad has many untold players, a tight roster, tough competition from bigger schools and plenty of enthusiasm.

According to coach Tom Taber, the University Liggett team faces a rebuilding job in the coming months with only two seniors and five returning junior lettermen on the 18-man line up.

"It's going to be tough with so many new players and we're going to be relying heavily on the experienced boys," said coach Taber. "But everyone is very enthusiastic and we're going to try out a new offense so we hope to have a good season."

Some of the players to watch this year are co-captains Will Hummel, a junior fullback, and Dino Valente, a senior guard. Other standouts should be senior quarterback Dave McKinney, junior halfback John Engel, junior tight end Tom Graves, junior halfback Todd Shulock and junior split end Chuck Vincent.

"We've got a lot of talented athletes here but the school is so small and we have so many sports programs that we kind of spread ourselves too thin," coach Taber explained.

"If some of these older, more experienced players get injured or something we'll be in bad shape. We might even have to use some freshmen on the varsity team."

The University Liggett team will play eight games this season, and according to school size they will be outclassed in many of them.

On Friday, September 17, they play Saint Andrews in a 4 p.m. home game. On Saturday, September 25, the ULS squad travels to Cranbrook Academy for a 2 p.m. contest.

In another away game on Saturday, October 2, at 2 p.m., ULS meets Lutheran North. Returning home on Friday, October 8, the Knights will play Hamtramck at 4 p.m. Then they go to play Harper Woods on their own turf on Friday, October 15, at 4 p.m.

ULS will play host to Lutheran East on Friday, October 22, also at 4 p.m. After a final away game at Lutheran West on Friday, October 29, at 8 p.m., the Knights will take on their number one rival, Detroit County Day School, on Saturday, November 11, at 2 p.m.

Coach Taber is sure it will take some work but the University Liggett squad hopes to make a comeback from last year's 2-6 losing season.

Crescent Sail Captures Scherer Sailing Honors

The J. Otto Scherer Memorial Junior Sailing Championships were held Sunday, August 29, at the Crescent Sail Yacht Club.

Fresh 15-20 knot northwest winds provided a challenge to the competitors sailing the three race series in flying juniors. The shifty offshore breezes made the starts and finishes close and exciting.

Harold Kotler of the Crescent Sail Yacht Club was the winning skipper. With his crew, Sue Leverenz, he had finishes of three-one-one for a total of 4½ points.

Second place went to skipper Wick Smith and crew Tom White of the Detroit Yacht Club. They finished one-four-two for a total of 6½ points.

Skipper Lauren Abramson and crew John Levin of the Great Lakes Yacht Club took third place with finishes of two-two-three, good for 7 points.

Windows Hit At Restaurant

Four windows were reported broken at Mr. Tony's Restaurant, 19341 Mack avenue, on Friday, August 25, when Woods police.

An employee said between Thursday, August 26, and the 27th someone smashed three 16" by 20" windows and one 16" by 18" window at the rear of the store. The estimated total damage was placed at around $125.

The employee added there apparently was no attempt to break into the building.

The Crescent Sail Yacht Club boat number two skippered by Ron Sherry and crew Janel Bertelsen took fourth place, while Stu Argo, skipper, and Andy Sloss, crew, from the Bayview Yacht Club captured fifth.

Meanwhile, the Detroit Boat Club boat skippered by Eric Kristan and crew Polly Kristan finished sixth. Seventh place went to skipper Kate Abramson and crew Mark Schostak in the Great Lakes Yacht Club's boat two.

Bayview Yacht Club's second boat, skippered by Greg Drais and crew Dave Askew, took eighth place, while skipper Steve Webster and crew Lee Robinson of the Grosse Pointe Club finished ninth. Their second boat, skippered by Lisa Black and crew Jim Lambrecht, took 10th place.

Commodore Herbert Mainwaring, race chairman of this event for 13 years, was assisted by Vice Commodore Lee E. Sutton, Mrs. Herbert Mainwaring, Commodore William Herbert, Gene Bertelsen, Chris Groschner, Bernard Tonowski and William Sadler.

The competition was open to boys and girls between 12-18 years of age. They are all bona fide junior members of Detroit River Yachting Association Clubs.

The trophy is named for the late Mr. Scherer, of The Park, in recognition of his great interest in the junior sailing program and for the outstanding contributions he made in furthering the sport among youthful sailors.

Mrs. J. Otto Scherer presented the trophies to the first three winners.

The problem of the cuff link is to design a back that can be readily attached or removed and yet not fall off. A compromise must be made as to the size and shape of the cuff back. A double cuff link, each side of which fastens to a side of the cuff and then snaps and unsnaps, is an extremely attractive idea that has not been used to its full potential. The chain link between a cuff-link front and smaller back is also very attractive, and gives a distinctive look to the cuffs of the man in your life.

Something Beautiful is coming to Alger House of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial in mid-September.

It's "American Heritage in Grosse Pointe: 1679-1979," a flower show celebrating our country's 200th birthday, to be presented Friday, September 17, from 2 in the afternoon until 9 at night, and Saturday, September 18, from 9:30 to 3:30 o'clock.

The 15 garden clubs comprising the Eastern Area of District One, Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, will be responsible for 48 artistic arrangements and many horticultural specimens.

Each of the 12 classes in artistic design has an historic title, beginning with "1679 Lake Sainte Claire," a tribute to Father Hennepin, who arrived on August 12 of that year.

Class titles progress through "1712 Windmill Pointe," "1740 France," "1760 England," "1783 America," "1825 The First Church," "1850 Grand Marais," "1925 Tomorrow's Heirlooms," "1951 Informal Entertaining," "1960 Growth of the Suburbs" and "1970 La Petite," closing with a glimpse of the immediate future, "1979 Gardener's Delight."

Open 'Lighter Side' With Fall Cabaret

"City Lights" to Be Featured at First of This Season's Four Programs; Series Closes with Celeste Holm and Wesley Addy

A cabaret co-sponsored by the Junior League of Detroit will raise the curtain on the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's 1976-77 "Lighter Side" series Tuesday evening, September 28, in the Center's Fries Building.

Patrons may elect the complete evening, beginning at 7 o'clock with a buffet dinner and continuing through the 8:40 o'clock show, for $14.50, (tax and service included), or the show only for $7.50.

Patrons who subscribe to the complete series will get four dinner and show evenings for $60, or four shows only for $30.

The opening Cabaret features "City Lights," three young men who mix sounds of the past and present in a performance that brings real singing back into style, in their first Detroit appearance.

It all started in 1974, in Greenwich Village, when the trio, together with their musical director-arranger and four instrumentalists, began creating a whole new musical scene, combining the art of traditional jazz vocal groups with contemporary sounds.

After a five-week engagement at Radio City Music Hall, they joined Marlene Dietrich for a tour of the Eastern states. They broke into television via an opening performance on the Jerry Lewis Telethon, and were immediately asked to perform with such stars as Bette Midler and Ethel Merman in a Lincoln Center salute to Ira Gershwin.

They have performed at Lake Tahoe with Sammy Davis, Jr., Wayne Newton, Bill Cosby, Frank Sinatra, Charlie Rich and others.

The second "Lighter Side" program Tuesday evening, November 23, presents the Cleveland Ballet, 24 young dancers under Ian Horvath, director, and former Pointer Dennis Nahat, associate director, in their official professional Detroit debut.

The Four Freshmen usher in the Christmas season Thursday, December 9. Since the 50's, the Freshmen have weathered the Elvis Phase, the Folk Singing Craze, Beatlemania and Acid Rock, winning every major music poll.

In addition to singing, they play a total of seven different instruments.

The series finale Friday evening, February 25, will feature Celeste Holm and her husband, Wesley Addy, in "With Love and Laughter," a melange of such writing and composing talents as Shaw, Shakespeare, Hammett, Anouilh and John and Abigail Adams.

After the initial cabaret buffet, with a cash bar open throughout the evening, all "Lighter Side" programs will be preceded by subscription cocktail parties.

J. M. Stearns Claims Bride

James McClure Stearns, son of Mrs. C. Paul Hodgkinson, of Kenwood court, and the late John Randolph Stearns, claimed Mary Beth Hoffmann, daughter of the Richard Hoffmanns, of St. Paul, Minn., as his bride Saturday, August 28, in Hennepin Avenue Methodist Church, Minneapolis, Minn.

After a vacation in northern Wisconsin the newlyweds will make their home in Chicago, where he is associated with The Harris Bank and is working toward his Masters degree in Business Administration at the University of Chicago, and she is associated with Standard Oil, in the Public Affairs Department.

The 7 o'clock ceremony uniting Molly and Jim, former classmates at Boston's Tufts University, was followed by a reception at the Minneapolis Club.

Dr. Jerald Jackson and Dr. Bertram deH. Atwood presided at the service, for which the bride chose an Empire gown of white silk organza and Venice lace, styled with a sheer yoke, cap sleeves and an A-line, floor length skirt.

Her chapel length veil was circled in lace and edged with Venice lace scallops. Her bridal bouquet featured stephanotis.

Debra Ann Hoffmann, in sleeveless, sheer white cotton splashed with large pink roses, was her sister's honor attendant.

Bridesmaids, dressed identically, were Lynn and Mary Strand, the bride's cousins, Diane Gutmann, Molly's Tufts roommate, Madeleine Reichert and Kristin Stenson.

Four-year-old flower girl, Erica Speed wore a cap-sleeved frock fashioned of the same material as the senior attendants' dresses.

Scott Mohr, of Lake Forest, Ill., a Tufts classmate, was best man. John Stearns headed his brother's usher corps, which included Ronald Speed and David Westby, cousins of the bride, Christopher Phillips, another Tufts classmate, Jeffrey Horne and Marc Stadler, Jim's classmates for four years at Cranbrook School, and Vincent Broderick, camper with Jim, (they were later counsellors), at Camp Pasquaney in New Hampshire.

The mother of the bride wore a short-sleeved, two-piece pink silk ensemble, and a small wrist bouquet of pink roses.

The bridegroom's mother chose a full-skirted shirtwaist of pink chiffon. Her wrist corsage also was fashioned of pink roses.

Rites in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Are Followed by Reception at Detroit Golf Club; Pair to Live in Kercheval Avenue

A Duchesse lace gown, sleeveless and styled with a scoop neck and circular chapel train, was Jane Christine Cowles' choice for the late afternoon ceremony Saturday, August 14, at which she became the bride of Charles Upton Shreve, IV.

A band of satin defined her Empire waist. Her double, cathedral length veil of white illusion, highlighted with scattered stephanotis, fell from a cap of silk stephanotis.

She carried a cascade of white gardenias, stephanotis, baby's-breath and ivy.

The former Miss Cowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Jackson Cowles, of South Oxford road, attended high school in California, the University of Arizona, Tucson, where she affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority, and received her Bachelor of Science degree in Elementary Education from Indiana University.

She teaches second grade at University Liggett School.

Mr. Shreve, son of Colonel and Mrs. Charles Upton Shreve, III, of Indian Village, is an alumnus of Grosse Pointe University School and was graduated from Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., in 1974. He affiliated with Psi Upsilon fraternity. He is with City National Bank.

The 4:30 o'clock rites in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, John McCreight presiding, were followed by a reception at the Detroit Golf Club.

The newlyweds vacationed in northern Michigan and will be making their home in Kercheval avenue.

In frocks of yellow Qiana jersey, fashioned with thin straps, and matching, front-tied bolero jackets, were honor maid Mary Jane Jennings, who carried white daisies, yellow roses and ivy, and bridesmaids Mrs. James L. Louisell, Christine Pruneau, of Los Angeles, Calif., a sorority sister of the bride at the University of Arizona, Deborah Kuntz, of Bloomington, Ind., a sorority sister at Indiana University, and Georgia Shreve, of New York City, the bridegroom's sister.

outlined V-neck. Pink cymbidium orchids formed her corsage.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Manning Burleson, of San Jose, Calif.; the bridegroom's uncle, George Gore, of Carmel, Calif.; his aunt, Mrs. Edward Oshier, of Rapid City, S.D.; and another sister, Elizabeth Shreve, of New York City.

The original research was done by former Pointer Mrs. Ralph Dennis, now deceased. She was a nationally-accredited flower show judge, president of the Harper Woods Garden Club and member of the Greater Detroit Flower Arrangers Guild.

Consultants for the artistic arrangements are the Mesdames James B. Lewis, Lowell Montgomery, Gaylord W. Gillis, Raymond Kaye, Osborne Day and William Beckenhauer.

Among the horticultural specimens will be annuals, perennials, bulbs and tubers, shrubs and trees, (one in this class is eligible for the Arboreal Award), vegetables and fruit, potted plants, and herbs.

There will also be a Junior Section, open to children of member clubs, featuring arrangements, pot plants, fruits and vegetables and specimen blooms . . . and a special exhibit on the St. John Marsh, "Save Our Wetlands," arranged by Mrs. Richard Piper and Mrs. Charles DeFever.

There are three national awards — the Tri-Color Award, Creativity Award and Horticulture Award of Excellence — that can be presented at the show.

Only those participants achieving the necessary points by the judges and displaying marked superiority and expression will receive the first two awards. The finest horticulture exhibit will receive the third award.

Bonsai Show Opens Today

A Bonsai Show sponsored by officers and members of Grosse Pointe's Dai Ja Na Ki Bonsai Society will be presented through the courtesy of Tom Bush, vice-president of Colonial Federal, today, Thursday, September 2, from 10 to 4:30 o'clock, and Friday, September 3, from 10 to 8 in the evening, at the Colonial Federal Building on-the-Hill.

There is no admission charge to view the display of dwarf and miniature trees grown in pots and trays. The show is designed to show local specimens and to stimulate interest within the community in the Japanese art of Bonsai. No specimens are for sale.

The Dai Ja Na Ki Bonsai Society meets the first Wednesday of each month on the upper floor of the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval avenue at Fisher road.

Pendy-Hellner Troth Is Told

Planning to be married next June 4 are Sharon Lynn Hellner and Michael Francis Pendy, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hellner, of Ann Arbor.

The bride-elect is an alumna of Ann Arbor's Pioneer High School and the Patricia Stevens Career and Modeling School in Milwaukee, Wis.

Mr. Pendy, son of Dr. and Mrs. George V. Pendy, of Newberry place, is an alumnus of St. Paul's High School and Eastern Michigan University, where he affiliated with Theta Chi social fraternity.

Kathleen Crowley Married in July

F. Joseph Steeles Are at Home in Detroit's West Side Following Vacation in Canada and The New England States

Concelebrating the nuptial mass at which Kathleen Anne Crowley and F. Joseph Steele exchanged marriage vows were The Right Reverend Francis X. Canfield, pastor of Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore where the ceremony took place, The Very Reverend William J. Gibbons, C.S.B., Provincial of the Basilian Order, presently stationed in Toronto, and The Reverend Joseph A. Muenzer, S.J., pastor of Gesu Parish.

Readings during the mass were presented by the brothers of the bride and bridegroom, John Martin Crowley and Daniel P. Steele.

The former Miss Crowley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gerald Crowley, of Ridgmont road, was given in marriage by her father.

She wore an Empire-waisted gown of white voile with accents of Nottingham lace, featuring a short, lace-edged train. Her long illusion veil fell from a matching lace cap.

She carried a cascade of white Sweetheart roses, baby's-breath and ivy.

The 5:30 o'clock rites Friday, July 30, were followed by a reception in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Ballroom, after which the newlyweds left to vacation in Toronto, Montreal, Quebec, New York and the New England States.

They are making their home in Detroit's West Side.

Patricia Anne Crowley, honor maid for her sister, and bridesmaids Margaret L. Steele, the bridegroom's sister, Dorine A. Dziuba, Jane Mary Kent and Mrs. Timothy Murphy wore V-necked, Empire-waisted, sleeveless frocks, very pale blue in color with clusters of blue, green and yellow flowers widely spaced in an overall pattern.

They carried natural wicker baskets filled with daisies, mums, carnations, baby's-breath and ivy.

Charles E. Steele was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mrs. Francis J. Steele, of Wildemere, Detroit, and the late Mr. Steele.

In the usher corps were Daniel P. Steele, another brother, Richard L. Kramer,

Hand Puppet Hands Needed

The Fontbonne Auxiliary of Saint John Hospital is forming a committee to make hand puppets for children between the ages of two through eight who are admitted to Saint John's Emergency Room as patients. The objective is to provide youngsters with a cheerful diversion at a critical time. But to make the project a success, Lee Ann-McCarthy, Hand Puppet committee chairman, needs help in many areas, from material donations of all sorts to most of all — volunteers to help cut and make the hand puppets. They are very easy to assemble.

The committee will meet at Saint John's space a week, beginning in the latter part of September. Anyone interested may contact the Fontbonne Office, 881-8200, Extension 545, or call Mrs. McCarthy at 888-3814.

Volunteers who would rather work at home will be given the supplies to do so.

Madrigal Club Sates Auditions Next Week

Auditions to sing with the Madrigal Club of Detroit, Charles Gleason director, will be held next Thursday, September 9, from 7 to 8:30 in the evening in the Rehearsal Room at Southfield's Calvary Lutheran Church.

Openings exist for all voices in the women's chorus, about to begin its 61st season. Applicants must be at least 18 years old and able to sight-read music. Each must bring a prepared piece — aria, folk song or hymn — to sing. An accompanist will be provided.

Audition appointments may be made and further information obtained by contacting Sally Murray, 881-0127, or Cleo Hamilton, 645-0663.

Regular Monday night rehearsals for two December concerts, one featuring the Madrigal Club and the Orpheus Club male chorus, together for the first time, performing Handel's "Messiah," begin September 13, at 7:45 o'clock.

Maxon-Sandrock Rites Celebrated

Bride's Father Escorts Her Down The Aisle and Presides at Mid-Day Ceremony; Reception Follows at War Memorial Married Saturday afternoon, July 10, in Saint Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church were Susan Marguerite Sandrock, daughter of The Reverend and Mrs. Charles W. Sandrock, of Williams avenue, and Alin Alfred Maxon.

The Reverend Sandrock escorted his daughter down the aisle and officiated at the 12:30 o'clock ceremony. A reception followed at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Venise lace formed the cap sleeves of the bride's Empire-waisted linen gown.

Matching lace trimmed her scoop neck and formed a deep ruffle at her floor length hem.

She carried a bouquet of daisies, pink roses and baby's-breath.

She was attended by Joanne Foresman and the bridegroom's sister, Ruth Maxon, in Empire-waisted frocks of peach and yellow Qiana, carrying daisies and baby's-breath.

Season Starts With a Picnic

Windmill Pointe Garden Club will hold its first fall meeting of the season next Wednesday, September 8, at the Harsens Island summer home of Mrs. Fredrick Schumann, who will present the program.

Hostesses for a picnic lunch will be Mrs. Stanley R. Remus, Mrs. Richard Noyes, Mrs. Rollin Allen and Mrs. Kenneth L. Kimmel.

Mr. Maxon, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lou Maxon, asked his brother, Frank Maxon, to act as best man.

The bride's brother, John Sandrock, also participated.

William Langbauer, Frank Vendemio and Christopher Winnie seated the guests.

After a Caribbean vacation, the newlyweds are at home in Ann Arbor.

ALBERT J. HILLEBRAND, of McKinley avenue, was graduated this spring from Villanova University.

The Alin A. Maxons

Marriage vows were spoken by SUSAN MARGUERITE SANDROCK and Mr. Maxon, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lou Maxon, Saturday, July 10, in Saint Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church. The bride is the daughter of The Reverend and Mrs. Charles W. Sandrock, of Williams avenue.

Season Starts for Pettipointe

The Pettipointe Chapter of Quilters opens its fall season with a salad and dessert luncheon next Thursday, September 9, at noon, at Darlene Van Tiem's Kensington road home.

Pettipointe will welcome two new members, Jayne Kennedy and Madeline Scranton. Highlighting the business meeting will be a report on Quilters Bicentennial Grants. Thousands of dollars have been donated, nationally, to 40 projects.

Pettipointe received $100, matching its own $100, to be donated to the Moross House in East Jefferson avenue. Michigan received five chapter grants, plus $3,500 to furnish the lower floor of a Gothic Victorian house in Northville's Mill Race Village.

Also on the day's agenda is hostess Darlene Van Tiem's study paper: Victoria.

Calathea Good In Terrariums

Calathea species belong to the same plant family as the familiar prayer plants, (Maranta species). They have long, broad leaves with veins running diagonally from the main rib to the outer edges. The leaves are usually tiger-striped parallel to the veins.

A need for high humidity and warm temperatures makes calatheas good terrarium plants. They require at least 50 percent relative humidity. Ideal temperatures are 80 to 85 degrees F during the day and a minimum of 62 to 65 degrees at night.

Michigan State University horticulturists recommend potting calathea in a humus soil mix made of equal parts loam, sand, peat and leaf mold. Keep the soil evenly moist but not soaking wet.

Set the pot near a sunny window where it will get a fair amount of indirect light. Feed established plants every two weeks except during late fall and early winter. Propagate by dividing roots at repotting time in the spring.

Scorched leaf edges may mean the soil is too dry, the humidity too low or the plant is getting direct sun. Brown leaf tips are usually a sign of low humidity.

Set Mistletoe Mart November 10

The women of Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, under general chairpersons Mrs. Robert Bogan, Mrs. William Frame, Mrs. Stewart Purcell and Mrs. Robert Stewart, have been meeting throughout the summer—and before—to organize their popular Mistletoe Mart.

Open Goodwill Women's Year

The Women's Association of Goodwill Industries will open its 1976-77 season next Wednesday, September 8, with a tour of the new newspaper recycling plant adjacent to the Goodwill Building in Brush street at East Grand boulevard, following an 11:45 o'clock mini-luncheon.

Mrs. Bernard M. Segner, of Westchester road, program chairman, will introduce Russell Albrecht, president of League for the Handicapped-Goodwill Industries, who will describe the plant's method of converting newspaper into low-cost, fireproof insulation material which may be installed by homeowners or blown into walls and attics by professional crews.

Mr. Albrecht also will discuss other recent developments in the agency, which provides vocational testing, training and employment for handicapped people.

Mrs. Elroy Scheifele, Women's Association president, will officiate at a 10:30 o'clock board meeting and the members' meeting following Mr. Albrecht's presentation.

Mrs. James Wellons is luncheon chairman. Mrs. R. S. Garypie, past-president, will give the inspirational message.

Membership in the Goodwill Women's Association is open to any person interested in providing services to handicapped people. Parking for Association meetings is provided on the Goodwill lot in Milwaukee boulevard, between John R and Brush streets.

The bazaar is set for Wednesday, November 10, from 10 in the morning until 4 in the afternoon at the church.

Colonial Christmas 1976 is this year's Mart theme. As always, handcrafted items will be featured, and Church members have spent their summer months working on stitchery, Colonial crafts made of felt, bread dough and pine cone fantasies, macramé and the ever-popular decoupage.

There'll be plants, too, and a potpourri of treasures collected for the Bargain Barn.

Secretary and treasurer of the Mistletoe Mart board are Mrs. Richard Harrison and Mrs. Douglass Hoerner, respectively. Mrs. Alan Wright and Mrs. William Potter are in charge of personnel, Mrs. Stewart of publicity.

The Mesdames Robert Martin, Carl Fischer and Robert Lake share decoration and layout responsibilities, with Mrs. Fischer also in charge of purchasing. Mrs. Martin Hawley will handle coffee and luncheon service.

You can spend your money but good taste is hard to find.

Exhibit Focus Is on Sphinx

For 4,500 years, the Great Sphinx at Giza has loomed as one of the most fascinating and mysterious images of ancient Egypt. Archaeologists, engineers, writers, artists, scholars and tourists have stared, studied, excavated, restored and speculated about its origin and meaning.

In "The Changing Face of the Sphinx," at the Detroit Institute of Arts now through September 5, museum visitors may see the Sphinx documented in illustrations from books as early as 1579, in drawings, paintings, photographs and even cartoons, as well as newspaper and magazine coverage of excavations in the last 200 years.

The show was organized by William H. Peck, curator of Ancient Art, who explains: "Present opinion is that this lion-bodied, human-headed demon was made at the time the pyramids were built, as a portrait of Chephren, a fourth dynasty king, (2570-2450 B.C.)."

"But it is of multi-purpose significance because it also represents the Egyptian sun

Interlochen Reunion

MARY SCHOOFF, (left), attending Interlochen National Music Camp as an eight-week piano and drama student in the High School Division, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Schooff, of Lochmoor Boulevard, interrupts her activities to chat with RUTH (Mrs. Walter J.) BURCZYK, of Littlestone road, in the midst of her second summer as a member of the Camp's piano faculty. Concert pianist Ruth Burczyk has performed this season in two faculty concerts, held in Interlochen's Kresge Auditorium and the Jessie V. Stone Building located in the center of the campus, choosing for her programs Beethoven's Sonata, Op. 57 (Appassionata), Franz Liszt's Consolations III and Edward MacDowell's Concert Etude.

god, Horus. And the alert, crouching posture makes the Sphinx a guardian figure for the royal tombs at Giza."

Carved from the natural limestone of the Giza Plateau, the Sphinx is physically impressive — about 65 feet high and 190 feet long. A mere thousand years after it was built, reclamation began.

King Thutmose IV, (1413-1404 B.C.), cleared sand which obscured it, following instructions received in a dream.

Two hundred years later Ramesses II, (1290-1224 B.C.), ordered repairs on the figure. Later Greek and Roman rulers of Egypt made additional repairs and built futille retaining walls to keep back sand.

Napoleon's Egyptian expedition at the end of the 18th century gripped popular imagination, as official and unofficial accounts describing and illustrating the marvels of Egypt were widely published.

The first serious modern excavation of the Sphinx was made by a Captain Caviglia in 1818. Contemporary engravings in the DIA show detail his efforts.

In 1886, Gaston Maspero used narrow gauge railroad dump cars to clear sand from the Sphinx. Photographs of this project were made by cameramen struggling with their own awkward, heavy equipment in the heat and sand.

Efforts to keep the Sphinx visible continued with Baraize, (1925), and Selim Hassan, (1936-37), re-excavating for the Egyptian Department of Antiquities. All are documented in the exhibition's historic publications and photographs, including pastel-colored stereopticon views for leisurely parlor viewing.

The ancient figure's impact is evident in quotes from Napoleon, Mark Twain and in the modern Arabic name for the Sphinx.

In his 1869 book "The Innocents Abroad," Twain romanticized the figure: "If ever image of stone thought, it was thinking . . . It was looking over and beyond everything of the present and far into the past . . . over the ocean of Time, over the lines of century waves . . . and blended at last into one unbroken tide away toward the horizon of remote antiquity."

Napoleon, economical with words, halted his troops before the Battle of the Pyramids, (July 21, 1798), to announce: "Soldiers, forty centuries look down upon you."

In Arabic, the awesome Sphinx is simply "Abul hol" — "Father of Terror."

"The Changing Face of the Sphinx" in Gallery 147 of the Art Institute's South Wing is open free to the public during regular museum hours Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday, from 9:30 to 5:30 o'clock, and Friday from 1 to 9 in the evening.

Grant Assists DSYO Students

The Rose Phillips Himeloch Educational Trust has made a $15,000 grant to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, to help fund its Youth Orchestra scholarship program.

The trustees announced that the grant, to be known as the Rose Phillips Himeloch Scholarship Fund, "by mating education with music, represents a fulfilling consummation of Mrs. Himeloch's interest in these two fields of culture."

Rose Phillips Himeloch (1884-1973) had a long and distinguished career with the Detroit Board of Education and shared the enthusiasm of her husband, Israel Himeloch, for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Himeloch was on the board of directors of the DSO for six years during the 1940's.

The Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra has, since its establishment in 1970, provided quality professional training and experience for young orchestral musicians. One of its most important

Change Michigan Arts Council Funding Period

Michigan Council for the Arts, a state agency, has announced a change in funding period for one of its major grants programs for the coming year.

Projects funded under the Community Assistance Program, with grants of up to $1,000 for arts projects sponsored by nonprofit organizations, may now take place during any portion or all of the period from October 1, 1976, through November 30, 1977.

Previously, the beginning date for projects in Mini Grants, Artist-in-Residence, Consultant Service, Conference Assistance and Touring Presentations was December 1, 1976.

The reasons for this change, according to E. Ray Scott, programs has been in providing scholarship funds to enable some of its members to pay for lessons with players from the Detroit Symphony.

Several former members of the DSYO, including DSO bassoonist Philip Austin, have gone on to professional careers in major orchestras.

Evening Wedding For Miss Fahrner

Pearled, Re-embroidered Alencon Lace Accents Ivory Satin Organdy Gown in Which She Becomes Bride of John M. Matous

At an evening ceremony in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church earlier this year, Diane Marie Fahrner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Fahrner, of Woods lane, became the bride of John M. Matous.

Pearled, re-embroidered Alencon lace accented the sleeves, bodice and hem of her ivory satin organdy gown.

Matching pearled lace accented her illusion veil.

Deborah Zablocki was her sister's honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Mary Lou Robbins, Linda Denys and Suzanne Fahrner, another sister. Flower girls were Jill Miskowski and Kimberly Matous. The senior attendants' frocks of aqua chiffon featuring embroidered flowers on over-capes were complemented by glamellia floral arrangements.

The flower girls, in champagne dresses, carried matching drawstring purses.

Stephen Matous was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs.

The John Matouses

Wedding vows were spoken earlier this year in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church by DIANE MARIE FAHRNER, daughter of the Thomas J. Fahrners, of Woods lane, and Mr. Matous, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Matous, of Detroit.

Frank Matous, of Detroit. Ushering were Ronald Grenda, William Zablocki and Brian Miskowski.

The mass celebrated by Father Robert Zerafa, a close friend of the family, with Philip Matous, another brother of the bridegroom, as commentator, was followed by a reception at Amber House in Warren.

The mother of the bride wore pastel coffee chiffon. The bridegroom's mother selected a floral print.

The newlyweds vacationed on St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands.

Western Home For Gomleys

At home in El Cajon, Calif., where he is stationed with the United States Navy as a propulsion plant operator, are the Jeffrey Rom Gomleys, who were married Friday, April 23, in Birmingham's Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Catholic Church.

Mrs. Gomley, a graduate of Birmingham's Marian High School, is the former Mary Beth Cooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon S. Cooley, of Pontiac.

The bridegroom, a Grosse Pointe South High School graduate who, like the bride, attended Eastern Michigan University, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Romuald H. Gomley, of University place.

Rose Society Meets Sept. 8

The next meeting of the Grosse Pointe Rose Society will be held at the Central Branch of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, Kercheval avenue at Fisher road, Wednesday, September 8, at 8 o'clock. Topic of the evening will be "What's New in Roses."

Walter LeMire, who hails from Canada and grows many new varieties of roses, some of which are not yet available in the United States, will speak about the new roses he has experimented with this year.

Mr. LeMire has done a radio program for CBC on horticultural subjects and is a well-qualified lecturer. He has served as president of the Windsor Horticultural Society, vice-president of the Detroit Rose Society and regional director for the Canadian Rose Society. He has won numerous awards at rose shows, and is an accredited judge and a consulting rosarian.

A question-and-answer period will follow the program. Refreshments will be served. Interested rose growers are cordially invited to attend.

Wisconsin Workshop for Bettina McCleary

Pointer Bettina McCleary recently completed a two-week course in field ecology and conservation at the Audubon Workshop in Sarona, Wis., participating in studies on animal and bird life, plant identification, geology, weather and the interrelationships between them all.

The program, designed to present a total picture of man in the context of his physical and cultural environment, featured excursions to Lake Superior, Crex Meadows, Amnicon Falls and a canoe trip down the Namekagon River.

Mrs. McCleary was among more than 200 adults from all walks of life who enrolled in environmental education courses at one of the National Audubon Society's four summer workshops during the past two weeks.

The other camps are at Medomak, Me., Dubois, Wyo., and Greenwich, Conn.

Martha Whitehouse Says Nuptial Vows in August

Martha Leigh Whitehouse spoke her marriage vows to Philip Laurence (Larry) Gray Saturday, August 14, at a late morning ceremony in Christ the King Lutheran Church.

The 11 o'clock rites at which The Reverend Harold Hecht presided were followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Fred W. Whitehouse, of Blairmoor court, wore a white dotted voile gown, styled with a scoop neck and caplet sleeves edged in Venice lace.

Her high-rise, belted circular skirt ended in a flounced hem trimmed with matching lace.

She wore a crown of miniature white roses and baby's breath in her hair, and carried a nosegay of matching roses and baby's-breath, with accents of tiny, yellow carnations.

Amy Whitehouse, honor maid for her sister, carried a nosegay of miniature yellow roses and white carnations, accented with yellow ribbons. Bridesmaid Sarah Whitehouse, another sister, carried a similar bouquet, with pink roses and ribbons.

They wore spaghetti strap gowns of crinkle voile in blue and melon. Front-tied, caplet-sleeved bolero jackets completed their ensembles.

Michael Gray came from Rancho Palos Verdes, Calif., to act as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gray, of Manhattan Beach, Calif.

Ushering were Kenneth Vitale and Thomas Kliman, both of Ann Arbor, where the newlyweds are making their home after a short auto trip in Ontario, and Donald Ducastral, a classmate of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a chiffon gown floral-printed in aqua and white, styled with long, sheer sleeves and a soft, tie neck scarf. The bridegroom's mother's gown, also featuring long, sheer sleeves and a scarf, was of jade green chiffon. Yellow miniature roses formed both mothers' corsages.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Fred T. Whitehouse, of Evanston, Ill., and her cousins, Valerie, Mark and Erich Whitehouse, of Boulder, Colo. The former Miss Whitehouse, a Grosse Pointe North High School graduate, holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in French from the University of Michigan, where she began Medical School studies August 28.

The bridegroom, who holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Marketing from the University of Southern California and a Masters degree in Physical Education from the University of Michigan, has just completed requirements for a Teaching Certificate at Chapman College.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Perhaps no other person typified urban land speculation during the late 1700's better than Jacob Astor, active on the burgeoning island of Manhattan. Astor, a German immigrant, arrived in New York in 1784 and immediately involved himself in the commerce of the city. When the Jay Treaty was signed in 1796, fur trading opened up to the Northwest, and Astor became the dominant figure in this trade. With the funds from his various trading exploits, Astor began buying up Manhattan real estate—with tremendous profits for himself.

Did you know that you can also speculate in urban land? Your next home can and should be part of your investment portfolio. And why not. Property in Grosse Pointe has appreciated with such steady growth to outstrip almost all other types of investment. So—on your next home add on extra 25% to it and call that your urban investment!

For an honest evaluation of your home talk with the professional representatives at GROSSE POINTE REAL ESTATE CO., 20087 Mack Ave., Grosse Pointe Woods, 882-0087. Open: Mon.-Sat. 9-5, Sun. noon-5. 24-hour answering service.

Worrell-Ambrose Vows Are Spoken

Bride Carries Great-Grandmother's Lace Handkerchief at Candlelight Service; Sisters and Brothers Attend Pair

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick James Worrell, who vacationed in Michigan's Upper Peninsula following their marriage Friday evening, July 30, in Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church, are at home in Beaconsfield avenue.

Mrs. Worrell, the former Mary Alice Ambrose, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Ambrose, of Roslyn road, was graduated from Grosse Pointe North High School and Western Michigan University, where she majored in Physical Education.

Mr. Worrell, son of Dr. and Mrs. Calier H. Worrell, of Audubon road, is a Grosse Pointe South High School alumnus who received his degree in Political Science from WMU.

Officiating at the 8 o'clock candlelight rites were The Reverend Perry Thomas, Pastor of Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church, and The Reverend Fred Brunson, deacon at St. Paul's Episcopal Cathedral, Detroit.

The St. Saens Sonata for Oboe and Piano was performed prior to the service by the bride's youngest sister, Nancy Ambrose, on oboe, and Mrs. Robert Shover, piano. Mrs. Jack Ellis performed several of the bride's favorite organ selections before and after the ceremony.

The bride's high-necked, long-sleeved, chapel-trained gown of white Qiana, styled with an Empire waist and A-line skirt, featured inserts of Alencon lace. A lace Juliet cap caught her lace-bordered illusion veil.

She carried her great-grandmother's lace handkerchief, and a bouquet of white daisies, pink carnations and roses, and baby's-breath.

Mrs. Robert Priebe, honor matron for her sister, wore a princess style frock of pink Qiana, with a chiffon capelet. Bridesmaids, dressed identically in pale green, were Virginia and Nancy Ambrose, two other sisters, Cindy Worrell, the bridegroom's sister, and Jennifer Kondolf.

They carried baskets of pink and white daisies, carnations and rosebuds.

Calier Lee Worrell was his brother's best man. Ushering were four other brothers, Christopher, John, Robert and Lee Worrell, and the bride's brother, Robert Ambrose.

White daisies and pink roses trimmed the wedding cake served at the reception at Lochmoor Club following the ceremony.

Mrs. Ambrose chose a beige lace dress, styled with long, full sleeves and a scoop neck, for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Worrell selected yellow and white chiffon with a short, removable jacket.

Both mothers pinned cymbidium orchids to their purses.

Out-of-town guests included the Donald L. Ambrose family, of Midland; the Bruce W. Ambroses and the A. D. Ambrose family, of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ambrose, of San Salvador; the bride's cousins Mr. and Mrs. Steven Miller, of Denver, and the Allen Higgins family, of Berywyn, Ill.; Lee Worrell, Mrs. George Mitchell and Berry Mitchell, of Goodlettsville, Tenn.

The Patrick Worrells

At a candlelight service Friday evening, July 30, in Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church MARY ALICE AMBROSE, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Ambrose, of Roslyn road, became Mr. Worrell's bride. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Calier H. Worrell, of Audubon road.

A Good Table Display Plant

The Japanese Aralia, (Fatsia japonica), is an easy plant to grow if you can meet its requirements for cool growing conditions.

According to horticulturists at Michigan State University, the ideal temperature range for the Japanese Aralia is 55 to 60 degrees F during the day and a chilly 40 to 45 degrees at night.

At higher temperatures, such as those in most homes, the plant needs increased humidity to keep the leaves from drying out.

It grows best near a sunny window, but can survive in lower light. Too much light will cause the leaves to turn yellow.

A standard potting soil mix kept moderately moist at all times is recommended. Good drainage is essential to avoid root rot.

Its bushy growth habit and deep-lobed, maple-like leaves make Fatsia japonica an attractive plant for a table display. It will eventually grow to about four feet tall.

Election Years Are on Display This Autumn

Henry Ford Museum is presenting a special exhibit of gimmicks and gadgets from bygone political campaigns to coincide with the nation's 48th presidential election.

"A History of Political Parties in the U.S." traces a uniquely American institution—the presidential campaign—from Washington to Nixon.

While the fervor of past campaigns fades every four years with the tabulation of votes, each has left behind a raft of partisan paraphernalia as reminders of contests waged and issues raised.

Hundreds of these items, representing not only the Democrats and Republicans but the lesser-known Whig, American Know-Nothing, Free Soil and Bull Moose parties, (among others), have been assembled in the museum's Folk Art Gallery.

Buttons and badges, broadsides and banners proclaim a variety of causes and candidates.

One entire wall of the Folk Art Gallery is devoted to a time line, tracing political party development in the United States. Juxtaposed against a chronological account of events in the nation's history is a chart showing the rise and fall of individual parties, from Washington's Federalists through Wallace's American Independents.

Political parties did not really take hold in America until the franchise vote was extended in the 1820's to include a wider segment of the male population. Quite logically, it is in this era that campaign gadgets made their debut.

Among the earliest of such memorabilia in the museum's exhibit are a cast iron frog emblazoned with "I croak for the Jackson wagon" and a pressed glass cup plate decorated with William Henry Harrison's log cabin birthplace.

In the mid-19th century political activists used torchlight parades as a way of showing strength in numbers for their candidates.

Examples of the kinds of torches carried, along with a black oilcloth cape—this one bearing the names Grant and Colfax—of the type used to protect shoulders from dripping oil, are on display in the center of the Gallery.

Elsewhere in the room visitors will find such assorted memorabilia as a Lincoln button from the 1860 campaign, a Garfield shaving mug from 1880, a china plate decorated with Grover Cleveland's likeness, a Teddy Roosevelt fan designed to cool the perspiring political brows of 1904 and a banner for the New York State Woman Suffrage Party, dating from 1872, the year the first woman ran for President.

From the campaign of 1896 when the Republicans touted McKinley as the "advance agent of prosperity," there's a button which reads "Count me for McKinley and a full dinner pail." Nearby is a tin dinner pail bearing the candidate's name.

There are "I Like Ike" cigarette packages and "Win with Dick" cigars, a McGovern for President poster and, just to bring visitors up to date, an editorial cartoon with a message about the Carter/Mondale ticket.

Overhead, umbrellas urge the election of William Jennings Bryan, William McKinley and Hubert Humphrey. A collection of canes recalls a series of campaigns ranging from Tilden and Hendricks in 1876 to Roosevelt in 1932.

Walls are decorated with red, white and blue bunting, political cartoons, posters and campaign sheet music. Adding to the spirit of the exhibition are campaign songs which play continuously in the background, touting the likes of Fremont, Fillmore, Jackson and others.

From a 1930's vintage radio in one corner comes the voice of Franklin Roosevelt declaring that "the only thing we have to fear is fear itself."

Woods Garden Club to Meet

Grosse Pointe Woods Garden Club begins its new season next Tuesday, September 7, with a noon luncheon at the Troy home of Mrs. Karl Anderson, who will be assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. John Sullivan and Mrs. Neil McDonald.

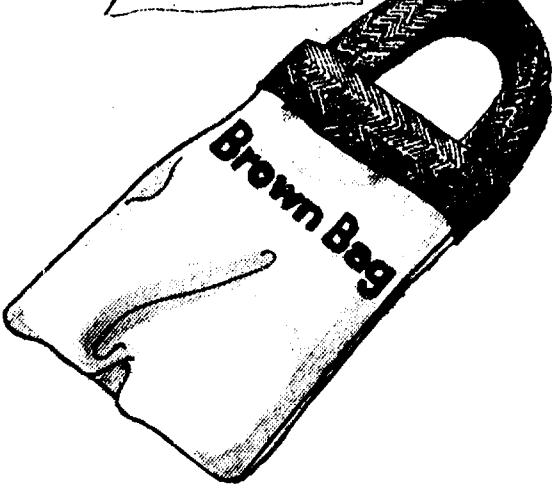

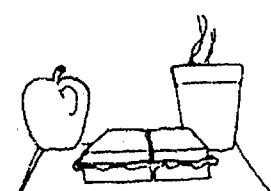

No program is planned. Members are advised to come prepared to pay their annual dues.

Society News Gathered from the Pointes

Mrs. John M. Getz

KATHARINE PARRISH WORCESTER was married to Mr. Getz at a late afternoon ceremony Saturday, August 28, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. She is the daughter of the John Philip Worcesters, of Kerby court. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Henry Getz, of Buckingham road.

JAMES WILSON, son of Dr. and Mrs. Francis Wilson, of Lewiston road, has been accepted into the Honors Program beginning in September at Albion College.

CYNTHIA BRADEN, of Fisher road, who has been studying at Grand Valley State College, will be heading for Michigan State University's campus when classes resume in the fall.

The Young Americans

Oscar de la Renta will attend The Young Americans party which is sponsored by Jacobson's for the Professionals of The Junior League of Detroit. The champagne party and fashion show will feature Oscar's complete fall collection the evening of Saturday, September 11. Proceeds from the event will go to The Community Trust Fund. The black tie evening will also feature American show tunes performed by members of The Grosse Pointe Symphony and a collection art show by Michigan artists.

One of the top creative designers in contemporary fashion, Oscar de la Renta was born in Santo Domingo and received his education in Madrid where he studied art at the Academia de San Fernando. He was bent on becoming an abstract painter, but detoured into fashion when Cristobal Balenciaga engaged him on the staff of the Balenciaga couture house in Madrid.

In 1961 Antonio Castillo, the Spaniard then designing for Lanvin-Castillo in Paris, brought de la Renta to France as his assistant. Two years later Oscar followed Castillo as designer of the Elizabeth Arden couture and ready-to-wear collections in New York. In 1965, Oscar de la Renta and the American designer Jane Derby formed an alliance which evolved, after Mrs. Derby's retirement into the present de la Renta organization.

Almost from his first months on the American fashion scene, Oscar de la Renta was recognized as a dominant talent. In 1967 he received the "Winnie" of the Coty American Fashion Critics' Award, and his Russian and gypsy fashion themes were immediately cited as pacesetters for the ethnic fashion period that eventually swept the world.

The very next year, in an unprecedented decision, the Coty jury voted a second "Winnie" called the Return Award, to Oscar de la Renta, citing other highly influential trends launched that year. In 1971, Oscar de la Renta received the Award of merit for his distinguished use of prints and leadership in the American Fabrics Council's current fashion for printed evening clothes. In 1973, his achievements in American fashion gained him the Coty Award's Hall of Fame.

Today, Oscar de la Renta's flair for the different and the beautiful has found numerous outlets: his fashion firm is the central force, and, in addition, he designs men's clothes, luxury blouses, household linens, home sewing patterns, bath accessories, scarves and umbrellas. A signature perfume is also in the planning stages, scheduled to be launched sometime in 1977.

The President of the Dominican Republic honored Oscar de la Renta with the order of Juan Pablo Duarte, grado Caballero, and the order of Cristobal Colon, grado de Gran Comandante, for being one of his country's most distinguished citizens.

Oscar and his wife, the former Francoise de Langlade, who was editor-in-chief of French Vogue until their marriage in 1967, are constant world-travelers, with friends in every capital.

Miss Worcester Wed to Mr. Getz

Neff Road Home Awaits Couple, Vacationing on Bermuda After Late Afternoon Rites in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church

Mr. and Mrs. John Philip Worcester, of Kerby court, entertained at a reception at the Country Club of Detroit Saturday, August 28, following the wedding of their daughter, Katharine Parrish Worcester, and John Michael Getz.

Dr. Ray Kiely and Father Francis McDonnell presided at the 4 o'clock rites in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The newlyweds will return from a Bermuda vacation to make their home in Neff road.

Appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace accented with seed pearls trimmed the bride's white organza, Empire gown, styled with a high, scalloped neckline, long, pointed sleeves and a cathedral train.

Her long mantilla, outlined with re-embroidered lace, fell from a caplet of cut-out lace floral motifs accented with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of Eucharis lilies, stephanotis and ivy.

Honor maid Hadley Mack, honor matron Mrs. Dennis

Adams, bridesmaids Mrs. Frederick J. Robinson, III, Elizabeth Tomkinson, of Farmington, Mrs. Dennis Okin, of Cincinnati, O., Lise Moran and Marny McCaughan, of New York City, and junior bridesmaid Margaret Anne Hastings, the bride's cousin, carried bouquets of white daisies and baby's-breath, matching the flowers in their hair.

Their floor length frocks of lime green organza featured ruffle-trimmed, halter-necked bodices, sheltered by ruffled stoles, and ruffle-banded hems. The junior bridesmaid wore white dotted swiss with a lime green sash.

Arthur Henry Getz, Jr., was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Henry Getz, of Buckingham road.

In the usher corps were Charles Getz, another brother; John Worcester, Jr., and Peter Worcester, brothers of the bride; John Park, Frederick J. Robinson, III, John Boccaccio, Jeffrey Ford, of Harbor Springs, and Mark Cleary, of Princeton, N.J. The mother of the bride wore floor length floral chiffon. The bridegroom's mother selected a floor length, shell pink gown, Cymbidium orchids formed both mothers' corsages.

A special guest was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Philip Worcester, of Vendome road.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Peter P. Ruppe, of Hampton road, have announced the engagement of their daughter DEBORAH to Joseph F. Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nichols, of Warren. An October wedding is planned.

Frame-Kulka Betrothal Told

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kulka, Jr., of Mount Vernon road, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Justine, to Philip W. Frame, son of Mrs. William M. Frame, of Somerset road, and the late Mr. Frame. A March wedding is planned.

Muffy attended the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Grosse Pointe, was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School and is attending Michigan State University.

Her fiancé, a Grosse Pointe North High School alumnus, is also a Michigan State University student.

Artists Market Opens Sept. 7

The Detroit Artists Market has scheduled its fall opening for Tuesday, September 7, with gallery hours set at 10 to 5 o'clock Mondays through Saturdays.

The first show of the season, featuring Contributing Artists, will run Friday, September 24, through Saturday, October 9.

Sheldon Iden will present a one-man show October 15 through November 6, and the traditional Christmas Show will be featured November 12 through December 31.

The new year opens with a Society of Arts and Crafts-Center for Creative Studies exhibit January 4 through February 26. Shows are scheduled throughout the winter and spring, culminating in the traditional Garden Sale at a private residence in June.

BE THE FIRST to see this very special French colonial in the Farms. Recently redecorated from stem to stern, the top deck has three large bedrooms and two full baths. There is a family room to complement the formal dining room and living room. The yard is fenced and serviced by underground sprinklers.

OH GIVE ME A HOME with plenty of backyard to roam. Where the kids and the animals will play. Where seldom is heard a disparaging word, 'cause this house is perfect in every way. Four bedrooms, all range-size and a family room large enough to accommodate all those extra hands. The gas barbeque is just off the patio and ready for your party.

OPEN SUNDAY 2 - 5

843 N. RENAUD. Custom built. This spacious three bedroom home on Renaud Road has an extremely large, step down living room and a library paneled in pickled oak. A covered patio has entertainment-size proportions and the backyard has plenty of privacy.

WON'T YOU CONSIDER a four bedroom colonial with a large family room with fireplace and an attached garage? We can offer you a selection of two such houses from which to choose. One is ready for immediate occupancy and the second is scheduled for your fall move. See us at LAKESIDE COURT, a dead-end street leading to the lake from Jefferson near Bon Secours Hospital.

HELP US SETTLE AN ESTATE. 20256 Lennon. Price reduced on this three bedroom, one and one half bath ranch located in Harper Woods with Grosse Pointe schools. Large glassed-in porch, all major appliances are included, over-sized garage. Immediate occupancy.

DO YOU HAVE A PENCHANT for white colonials nestled on a dead-end street and with a view of the lake? Do you demand four bedrooms, each having a private bathroom? Do you want a large lot with mature trees? Must that next house have an attached garage and central air conditioning. Do you insist on a large library with plenty of bookcases and fireplace flanking the bay window which looks out to the lake? This one has it all. Don't you want to call us?

CHARM INSIDE and out is standard equipment in this magnificent, mini-estate in Grosse Pointe Farms. A definite European flavor prevails in this Tuscan villa with its high, hand painted ceilings and many stone and tile fireplaces. All main first floor rooms have access to a secluded patio. There is a separate apartment with private entrance and garages for your fleet.

MERRIWEATHER ROAD continues to be a much desired street, and to complement this address we are offering an architect's designed house featuring a large, octagon shaped foyer with library, living room, staircase, garden room and formal dining room all fanning out from this central area. The second floor has four bedrooms serviced by three baths. There are two additional rooms and another bath on the third floor. A completely private yard is majestically landscaped and features a slate terrace.

BUY IT if you know of another three bedroom colonial on the market which comes with an enclosed breezeway between the garage and house. If it has a divided basement with playroom and separate laundry and furnace rooms. If it comes on an over-sized yard and is handy to schools and transportation. If not, see ours on Linville and buy it.

JIM SUTTON 1877 Bry

Center Slates Many Art Education Classes in Fall

A new "Drawing from Life" class will introduce a large and varied field of art education at the War Memorial Center this fall.

Taught by Caroline Currier, the course will be offered on Monday evenings, September 20-November 23, from 7:30-9:30 p.m. in the Terrace Room of Alger House.

It will emphasize the structure of figure, bone and muscle. The fee is $35 for 10 weeks plus a stipend for the model.

Joseph Maniscalco will come from Bloomfield Hills each Thursday afternoon, September 23-December 2, from 12:30-3 p.m. to instruct Portrait Painting in oil or acrylics.

His portraits of notables such as Gordie Howe and George Romney, plus his aptitude with children, have won him wide acclaim and he is an artist who can impart the technique to students. The fee is $45 for 10, 2½-hour classes.

Folk Guitar Class Slated

Alexander Suczek, Harvard Troubadour and founder of the Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival, will teach two classes in folk guitar this fall at the War Memorial Center.

He will use a system of teaching progressively more complex chords so that students can learn to accompany themselves and others on at least one song after just one lesson.

Mr. Suczek sings and plays songs in nine different languages.

The beginning folk guitar class will be held Monday evenings, September 20-November 22, from 6:45-8 p.m. A class for intermediates follows from 8-9 p.m. The fee is $22 for 10 weeks.

Mr. Suczek and selected students will appear in demonstration of their folk guitar technique at the annual dinner meeting of Center contributors.

The Pointe's own Ingrid Hofer with degrees from Hamburg, Germany, many credits to her name and who was recently featured as "Pointer of Interest," will teach two water color classes at the Center.

One will be on Wednesday evenings, September 30-December 9, from 7-9:30 p.m. The other is scheduled on Thursday mornings September 30-December 9, from 9-11:30 a.m.

This arrangement allows both people busy through the day and those with responsibilities at night a time when they are free to pursue this specialized art. It also will keep the classes small for a maximum of individual attention. The fee is $45.

Popular aviatrix artist Loraine McCarty will come to Grosse Pointe from her studio in the northern suburbs to teach three classes at the Center on Tuesdays, October 5-November 30.

Miss McCarty will teach two classes in Painting All Media and Drawing: One will be held in the mornings from 9 a.m.-noon. The other will be taught in the evenings from 7-10 p.m. to accommodate those employed through the day.

For both beginning and intermediate students these classes will alternate two weeks of painting with a week of drawing throughout the nine-week session. The fee is $49 for nine three-hour classes.

In the afternoon, on Tuesdays, October 5-November 30, from 12:30-3:30 p.m. Miss McCarty will offer a new course in Painting and Critique where students will be encouraged to develop a personal style through discussions, special assignments and criticisms. The $49 fee applies to this nine-week course.

Sculpture classes will be taught by Hungarian-born sculptor Frank Varga on Thursday evenings, September 23-December 2, from 8-10 p.m. Students will work in clay and their works be fired and even bronzed in Mr. Varga's own kiln. The fee is $40 for 10 weeks.

William A. Bostick, chief administrator of the Detroit Institute of Arts, will present a course in "Calligraphy," the fine art of Italian handwriting, on Wednesdays, September 22-November 19, from 7:30-9:30 p.m.

This course will probably be sold out early so immediate registration at the Center's office is advised. The fee is $45.

Calligraphy is useful and decorative in making all sorts of invitations, motto cards, signs and in correspondence.

Trip Behind Iron Curtain Opens Center Film Series

The Grosse Pointe Adventure Series at the War Memorial Center accents adventure this season as well as the best of George Pierrot's selected personally-presented travel films.

It is held on consecutive Wednesday and Thursday evenings, September through June, in the Center's Crystal Ballroom and Fries Theater. International dinners precede the film lectures and shows.

A trip behind the Iron Curtain, "A Grand Tour of Eastern Europe," produced and narrated in person by Andre De La Varre Jr., begins the season Wednesday-Thursday evenings, September 22-23.

The showing comes in time to prepare War Memorial patrons who are going on the Center's own tour of Eastern Europe and Russia in October.

Mr. De La Varre was born and raised in Vienna. A concert pianist, he has played throughout Europe and the United States, including being a soloist with the Detroit Symphony.

His father's life work was film production and he turned to filmmaking himself, becoming a co-owner of the Burton Holmes Theatrical Travelogue organization. His films have won the Golden Eagle CINE award and been honored at the Vienna International Film Festival.

Mr. De La Varre had no trouble obtaining permission to film the first part of his 10,000 mile journey through Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland but was delayed in completing the project until an agreement could be worked out with Russian Intourist to film in Leningrad, Moscow, Sochi and Tibili.

When the Russians were finally convinced that the film was strictly nonpolitical and cultural, everything went like clock work.

The series continues in October with the Magnificent World of the Mountain King, the story of King Ludwig II of Bavaria, the bizarre castle builder.

Then John Jay comes to narrate skiing films December 1-2, showing the great ski areas of the world and the antics of skiers from Japan to Zermatt and Mt. Blanc to the Hindu Kush in "Winter Magic Around The World."

Thayer Soule's "London To Venice," begins 1977 showings which continue in February with Chris Borden's "Faces of France" and Ed Lark's "Germany" in March.

In late spring the program moves on with young Doug Jones' "Hawaiian Adventure" in April, Phillip Walker's "Tahiti and the Islands of the South Seas," a yachting adventure in the most romantic part of the world in May and finally a sojourn with the animals in East Africa with Russ Potter in June.

Patrons can subscribe now for the series of nine complete evenings on either Wednesday or Thursday. In-

The Fall Art Festival co-sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Artists Association and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial has always been an Adult's Paradise, but this year it will be a Paradise for Children, too, with a special section, just inside and to the left of the main entrance to the War Memorial's lawns, designed to appeal especially to youngsters. There they can view miniature lead soldiers in authentic historical costumes, see how hand-carved wooden toys are made, delight over soft toys, finger puppets and "looks-good-enough-to-eat" candles, and generally have as fascinating a time as five-year-old SHEILA PROPHIT is having as she watches Pointe artist MARIE (Mrs. Cass) PIERONEK put the finishing touches on a ceramic gingerbread house. The 17th Annual Festival is scheduled for Saturday, September 11, from 10 to 5 o'clock, outdoors at the War Memorial.

Focus on Fashions: Past and Present

MRS. ALEX McCLOSKEY, of Lakepointe avenue, (left), representing the Detroit Historical Society Guild, and MRS. JOHN C. PROST, of Pemberton road, (right), of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, admire an 1865 cape held by HOLLY ULSETH, curator at the Historical Museum. The Guild and Association are joining forces to sponsor a fashion show and tea Saturday, November 6, at Mercy College. Jacobson's will be showing styles of today. Fashions of the past will be from the museum's fine collection. Name of the benefit is Holiday Fashion Lore.

Trio Leads Music Hall Association

very road, new ways and means chairman for the Association, beginning its third year as the volunteer sustaining organization of Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts. Mrs. Alfred R. Glancy, III, of Cloverly road, is chairman of Music Hall's board.

Men Only... After five p.m. Monday, men can book appointments with either a man or woman stylist. Available are haircut, trim, styling, coloring, permanent and manicure at The Grosse Pointe Coliseum, 20335 Mack Avenue, 881-7252.

FRANK DODGSON JEF. FERIS, of Lakeshore road, has received a Master of Public Affairs degree from the University of Texas at Austin.

They're Donating Themselves

Ray Senkowski and Jon Hainline will contribute their skills to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's Tennis Auction Ball Tournament at Beverly Hills Racquet Club Sunday, September 19.

Their men's doubles partners will be high bidders on items auctioned off during the Tennis Auction Ball Saturday evening, September 18, at the Hotel St. Regis.

Ray, who has competed in 17 countries as an internationally-ranked tennis player, was twice All-American at the University of Michigan as well as a National High School Champion. From his home base in Hamilton court he is tennis consultant to several metropolitan-area racquet clubs.

Jon, currently ranked number one in southeastern Michigan and the midwest, captained the varsity tennis team during his senior year at the U. of M., where he won two Big Ten championships. He is now a pro at Lochmoor Club.

Ray and Jon are among 16 metropolitan-area pros donating their skills to help support National Cystic Fibrosis Foundation programs aimed at finding a cure for the inherited, most serious of lung damaging diseases affecting children.

Tennis Auction Ball ticket donations are $30 per person. Reservations must be made in advance by calling 851-1001.

Hagen Tourney Benefits ACS

The Women's Division of the Walter Hagen Invitational Golf Tournament, held in mid-August at Lochmoor Club, netted over $6,000 for the American Cancer Society, according to tournament chairperson Carol Haire. Winning team members Betty Blomberg, Donna Myles, Phyllis McKinley and Marge Schwark will play in the state semi-finals September 18 and 19, at Boyne Highlands. National finals are scheduled for December 3, 4 and 5, at Disneyworld in Orlando, Fla.

Heritage STEEL CLAD THERMAL ENTRANCE DOORS

The strength, strength and durability of steel clad thermal entrance doors are well known. You have the basic idea of steel clad doors. Strong enough to deny even the most determined burglar or thief; yet light enough to be far opened and closed easily and safely.

TO CALCULATE ROUGH OPENING

Add:
2-3/16" to single door width for R.O. width
2-7/8" to mullion door width for R.O. width
1-1/16" to door height for R.O. height
Example:
3'0x6'8" door unit would have R.O. of
3' 2-3/16" x 6' 9-1/16"

• Magna-therm
• All purpose thermal break
• All purpose weatherstripping
• Lock bolt rated 2-1/8" for door steel

Scheirich

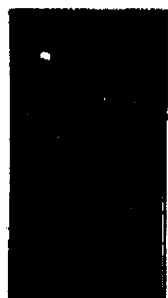

GARDENCOURT KITCHEN CABINETS

Not only do you get cabinet beauty on a budget, but you also get durability. Scheirich came up with a new concept in cabinetmaking: wood fibers bonded solidly together to provide strength and resistance to temperature and humidity. Cabinet exteriors are sheathed in handsome pecan grain vinyl, and overlaid with clear vinyl for extra protection. They clean with a damp cloth. The pewter-type pulls provide an opportunity to coordinate decorating with easy-to-change color backplates.

Scheirich Kingswood KITCHEN CABINETS

When good craftsmen have beautiful oak to work with, they want to enhance its natural beauty. That's why at Scheirich, they finish it by hand. After the brown stain, they hand-wipe it, pad it smooth and highlight the grain of the oak veneer. Then they protect the beauty with two coats of water-resistant sealer, and hand-sand it to a patina. See Kingswood, fine furniture for the kitchen. Without the worry.

Church's HAS AN INVENTORY OF OVER 30,000 PANELS!

Now's the time to wake up your rooms with Wal-Lite® Panels

WAL-LITE Panels are a wise investment now and for years to come. They offer more features, at less expense, than comparable wood paneling. There's no maintenance cost every few years for paint, stain or wallpaper — no repainting or refinishing later. Just an occasional wipe-down with a damp cloth keeps WAL-LITE Panels looking new for years — with only minutes of care. Now's the time to wake up your rooms with WAL-LITE!

WAL-LITE HARDBOARD PANELING

Each panel is protected by a tough plastic finish to resist scuffing, chipping, dirt and wear — elegantly printed woodgrain patterns.

Church's GIVES YOU QUALITY, SERVICE & VALUE!

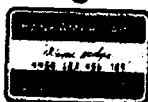

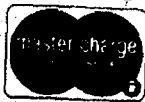

Church's 1890

Church's 1976

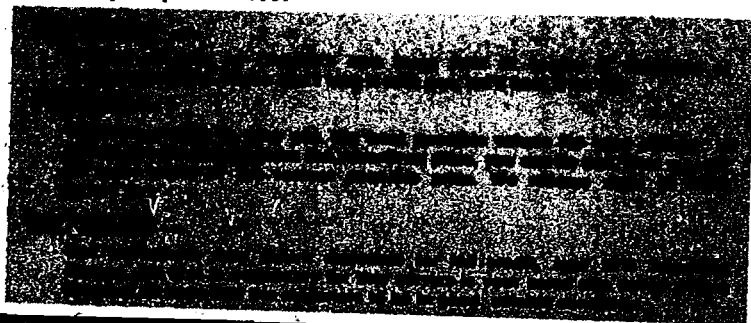

It all began in 1890 . . . Church's Lumber Yard was founded in Utica, Michigan. Grandfather Calvin Church sold coal, feed and lumber to the public. Since the good ol' days Church's has grown from one yard to 10 yards — by having just about everything a builder or thumb-thumping do-it-yourselfer could need — Plus friendly, expert advice.
