PRESIDENT FORD said Wednesday that the U.S. must now make a major effort to mediate peace in southern Africa because racial warfare there could threaten world peace. But he stressed that he would not try to impose any peace plan on the Africans and said he has not decided whether to send Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to Africa next week even though Kissinger made "good progress" in his talks with South African Prime Minister John Vorster.

CHINESE COMMUNIST PARTY CHAIRMAN Mao Tse-tung died Thursday in Peking, ending a tumultuous life of 82 years that saw him rise from simple peasant to leader of the world's largest mass revolution and ruler of one-fourth of mankind. The surviving leaders, still locked in a power struggle since Premier Chou En-lai's demise in January, immediately called for unity and declared their intentions to pursue the policies Mao laid down in domestic and foreign affairs.

BRITISH AND YUGOSLAV jetliners collided in midair and exploded Friday, killing all 176 persons aboard and hurling flaming bodies and metal to cornfields six miles below in history's worst air collision. Sixty-three persons were aboard the British plane and 113 aboard the Yugoslav plane. Yugoslav officials arrested several persons in connection with the disaster, while several persons working in the flight control tower at Zagreb's Pleso Airport were taken into custody and questioned.

THE STRONGEST EARTH tremors in four months Saturday hit an area of north-eastern Italy devastated by a major earthquake in May, toppling buildings and driving terror-stricken residents into the streets. Police said a man in Ragogna was fatally injured when he slipped and fell while trying to get out of his bathtub. About 40 persons in Udine and other areas were hospitalized with broken limbs or other injuries and many more were given first aid bruises from falling masonry.

Monday, September 13

THE FOUR MEN AND A WOMAN who carried out the unarmed hijacking of an American jetliner last week were returned to New York from Paris on Sunday to face air piracy and murder charges. They were scheduled for arraignment today. Their final 53 hostages were released unhurt after the five Croatian nationalists yielded to a French ultimatum to surrender.

PRESIDENT FORD has ordered the veto of Vietnam's application for membership in the United Nations because of Hanoi's refusal to make a full accounting of Americans missing in action, UN Ambassador William Scranton said Monday. The other 14 members of the Security Council are expected to vote in favor of admission at the council meeting today. However, Vietnam could not be granted membership without the unanimous approval of the 15-member Security Council.

Play Big Role in Winning Season

Grosse Pointe police officers had a big year in Metro Police Softball League play by winning its Blue Division by nine games with a 23-3 mark and capturing the playoff crown with a 3-0 record. Overall, the Pointers, including Neighborhood Club and tournament play, sported a 36-10 mark. Metro Police All-Stars from The Pointe, (from left to right), include MIKE VAN DE GINSTE, (Woods), a team leader on defense and a clutch hitter; BRUCE MARONE, (Woods), who led the club in most offensive categories including batting average, (.571); MIKE MAKOWSKI, (Woods), a rookie who improved with each game and finished with a .547 batting average; and JOHN TREVILLIAN, (Shores), who led the Pointers in triples, was second in RBIs and batted .525.

Hospitals View Law On Medicaid

Local Administrators Say Measure Is Unfair to Citizens and Institutions

By George Polgar Jr.

Hospital officials in the Detroit area are concerned about the direct and indirect impact of a recently signed State law which sets a standard of three-quarters care for Michigan Medicaid patients. Section 70 of Public Act 254, which became law on August 12, states that Medicaid benefits will be limited to a patient's length of stay which does not exceed the 75th percentile of Michigan length of stay guidelines, as specified by the Department of Social Services.

The striking obscurity of this provision has been cited by opponents of the law as one of the main reasons it passed through the legislature.

Was Decision Hasty?

Seth Lampe, director of community relations for the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council, one of the groups leading the drive against the new law, feels that the implications of the

Gas Station Operators Upset over Enforcement Of Car Storage Ordinance

Law on Woods Books for 12 Years Suddenly Produces 36 Violation Tickets; Await Interpretation by Judge

By Roger A. Waha

There's a concern on the part of Woods gasoline service station operators over citations issued by the public safety department regarding the outside storage of motor vehicles on their premises in relation to possible violations of the city's zoning ordinance.

Early Wednesday morning, September 8, police issued a combined total of 36 violations (for vehicles) at seven different locations. As a result, operators will have to appear in court on Wednesday, October 6, to answer the charge.

A variety of questions have been raised by individuals in this instance with one of the most prominent ones being the definition of storage in relation to the ordinance.

Hinges on Judge

Public Safety Director Henry Marchand, who initiated the action on behalf of the department, said a main concern was over the overnight storage of vehicles, while admitting, "The whole thing hinges on the judge's interpretation of storage."

The director indicated there have been some problems regarding the outside storage of vehicles in the past with "more and more" being stored. It has gotten out of hand and legal action became necessary, he said.

"There's a possibility that some are storing cars for days or weeks and I'm concerned over the build-up," he stated, while adding this matter came to his attention and that it had to be checked out.

The background for this police action stems from a letter sent by Director Marchand to 10 gasoline service stations on July 30. The communication informs the operators of a possible violation of the city zoning ordinance in conjunction with the operation of their business.

He then quotes the ordinance, (the affected section falls under commercial district, permitted uses):

"Gasoline service stations when approved by the Board of Appeals; such service stations shall also be permitted to do minor automotive repairs and installation, including installation of mufflers, provided that the provisions hereof shall not be construed so as to permit outside storage of automobiles or auto wash establishments, or muffler installations where such is the primary business activity."

Director Marchand said, "In the event your business

Both Sides Say Progress Slow In School Talks

Teacher Strike Vote Indefinitely Postponed; Mediator Directs Groups to Continue Discussions

By Susan McDonald

Although there has been a great deal of talk (both public and at the bargaining table), both the Board of Education and Grosse Pointe Education Association, (GPEA), spokesmen are reporting little progress in contract negotiations.

Meetings continued last week and the two groups have now spent more than 200 hours at the bargaining table. Economics and the issue of making department chairpersons administrators are still keeping both sides split, according to union representatives.

A teacher strike vote that had been scheduled for Thursday, September 9, was postponed indefinitely when union negotiators said the talks were beginning to make progress.

Was "False Hope"

"It was a false hope, though," according to GPEA President Doris Cook. "The talks are now at a total standstill."

"The progress on department chairmen that we saw last week was an illusion. The Board team returned to its fixed position."

Spokesman for the Board team, Lawrence Kennedy, agreed that no progress is being made at the table. Fact-finding would be the next logical step in the negotiations process, he said.

But the Board team would not make that move, he added.

"The offers we have made are fair and equitable," Mr. Kennedy said. "It is up to the union to move now."

Make Some Moves

A mediator, appointed by the Michigan Employment Relations Commission, met with the two sides for several days over the Labor Day weekend.

According to Mr. Kennedy, the mediator directed the two groups to continue discussions without him, saying "Don't call me again unless you're both willing to make some moves."

LWV Holding League Day

The League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe, (LWV), will sponsor a League Day on Thursday, September 16, in connection with the league's national celebration of League Week.

League members will be available to answer voting questions and supply pertinent literature at booths set up in the Village at the Book Village, and on the Hill at the Book Shelf from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The league says it will be grateful for any financial assistance the community can provide to help defray the costs of its voters service activities.

GP Park Voters to Decide On New Baseball Diamond

By James J. Njaim

The Park Council on Monday, September 13, with a choice of enacting a new ordinance or giving Park voters an opportunity to decide if a baseball/softball diamond will be constructed at the Three Mile Drive Park, chose to present the matter before the voting public on the November 2 ballot.

This will be the second referendum that will concern The Park as far as local matters are concerned.

The first regards a change in The Park's Charter in which The Park's policemen and firemen are asking for an amendment which would increase their retirement pension from a factor of 1.7 percent to two percent. The municipal employees involved charge this is the lowest in The Pointe.

The other four Pointe departments are receiving a two percent factor, with The Woods, negotiating a new contract with its public safety employees who are seeking a two and a half percent pension factor.

Sufficient signatures were obtained on both petitions, certified as valid by City Clerk Nunzio Ortisi in both cases, which makes it mandatory that the referendums be placed on the November ballot.

However, in the matter of the baseball/softball diamond, the council was advised by City Attorney Richard Rohr that it could repeal an ordinance it enacted in the early 1950's, making the

Other Issues Dominate Discussions

Board Is Scheduled to Approve New Fiscal Year Package on September 20

By Susan McDonald

Issues of teacher negotiations and staff realignments dominated the boisterous three and a half hour public hearing on the 1976-77 school budget held in an overcrowded South High School auditorium on Monday, September 13.

Well over 400 people overflowed onto the small auditorium's stage, floor and hallways to continue the rhetoric that has dominated school discussions during the past month.

Scant attention was paid the $20 million budget. Rather, issues of teachers' pay, made public by Grosse Pointe Education Association, (GPEA), mailings and picketing, and the Board's announcement that it was accepting applications for 14 administrative posts, dominated the discussion.

Many Topics Discussed

Barbara Youngs, of McKinley avenue, told the trustees that "additional administrators were not what the people voted for in the last millage election. We need more teachers in the classrooms instead."

Former Board of Education trustee Barbara Thompson, of Radnor circle, responded from the floor in support of the proposed staff realignments, saying that "it is infantile to suppose an organization this size can be run without proper supervision."

Attention was often turned to the controversial new Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Coats, his $41,000 salary and fringe benefits including use of the Board-owned home in Grosse Pointe boulevard, and paid utilities.

While one woman said such benefits put the superintendent's salary close to that of the Governor of Michigan, Trustee William Huettnerman pointed out that it represented only a 7.3 percent raise over last year's salary.

Another former trustee, Lee Allen, of Moross road, focused attention on recent GPEA mailings and their effects on the school community.

Budget Shows Hike

"I believe that these pernicious insinuations in the union literature are just as insidious and deliberately misleading as literature put out by those actively working against the millage," he said.

The proposed budget, which was distributed at the meeting, shows almost a $2 million dollar increase in revenues over last year.

Most of the jump comes from an additional 2.2 mill tax levy approved by voters

Kiwanis Sale This Weekend

The Kiwanis Club of Grosse Pointe is sponsoring a Kid's Day Peanut Sale Friday, September 17, and Saturday, September 18, to raise money for various activities in the community.

Proceeds of the peanut sale will go to scholarship funds for local students, youth athletic programs, anti-drug and alcohol abuse programs, and to the handicapped and assistance for needy families.

The goal of the two-day drive is $4,500 according to Kiwanis Club president Russell Herring. Peanut salesmen will be circulating around The Woods handing out bags of salted in the shell peanuts for donations to the club fund.

President Herring has extended an invitation to any community men who would like to participate in the Kiwanis' projects to contact new membership chairman Robert Frederick at 882-8246.

Be fair with yourself and you will admit you're often wrong.

One portal that never gets jammed is the door to success.

Prosperity brings friends and adversity serves to prove them.

Budget Hearing Held

last June. Those funds were reduced somewhat by the omission of any State aid from the revenue account. "Given the past bitter experience with State revenues promised and not received," Dr. Coats explained, "principals of sound business management dictate that the Board not depend on revenues from the State."

He also promised that if State money did come to the system, it would be put toward reducing future budgets or proposed millages.

Increase in Athletics
Although there is an overall increase of 4.3 percent in General Fund expenditures, the Board proposes cutting the Instructional fund by about one percent. Support services, on the other hand, show a 12.4 percent increase. The $10.7 percent instruction fund, shows its greatest reduction in teacher salaries, (3.9 percent), with cuts being made at all levels.

The reductions are possible, according to Dr. Coats, because of a 450 drop in enrollment and the elimination of 18.6 teaching positions. The system's general pupil-teacher ratio is projected to be 18.7 to one—the same ratio maintained during the 1975-76 school year.

The largest increase in the instruction area is in athletics, (38.6 percent), where the school will spend $165,600 next year.

Included is a new middle school inter-school athletic program, added high school athletics and improvements in medical services. All of the changes were suggested by a citizen-staff study committee report earlier this year.

Another large instructional increase is in the area of supplies, where the Board proposes spending an additional $136,000 on new textbooks for elementary reading, and secondary math and science.

Library Fund Up
The $8 million support services category reflects increases in insurance premiums, food services, utilities and contractual services.

The Board will spend an additional $100,000 on improvement of instruction and will add a position of director of planning and evaluation, at a cost of $37,000, in this area.

There is $1.7 million left unappropriated in the budget, to "provide the School Board with funds necessary to negotiate fair and equitable settlements with all employee groups to meet other unanticipated expenditures," Dr. Coats said.

The Library Fund, totalling $809,700, represents more than a 10 percent increase in the cost of books, utilities and reductions in Federal funding.

The budget also proposes spending $60,000 on re-roofing projects at Ferry School and South High. This represents a reduction of $93,000 over last year.

The Board is scheduled to approve the budget at a special meeting Monday, September 20, in the Board offices, 389 St. Clair avenue, at 8 p.m.

back on many special classes such as languages.

A program of shared vocational facilities with the South Lake School District has helped boost the system's offerings in career education, Mr. Lucek said, while adding he would like to see the program expanded into other areas.

Past History
The transfer was originally proposed by the Harper Woods Board in August 1974, when it passed a resolution saying its city boundaries should be the same as its school district.

Grosse Pointe trustees opposed the idea, and the case was taken to the Wayne County Intermediate Board of Education, which denied the petition in October 1974. The State Board rejected the appeal in August 1975.

Consolidation Study Continues

a reduction of services in both areas.

Firefighters have taken the lead in battling consolidation with a door-to-door campaign to make citizens aware of the alleged dangers of consolidation.

The firefighters also have distributed a booklet of reports to councilmen from fire chiefs, police chiefs and insurance agencies across the country that point to alleged weaknesses in consolidation.

Insufficient training of public safety officers, response delays caused by necessary dress changes and the potential conflict between police and firefighting duties are cited as inadequacies of the system.

"The plan just won't work for one major reason," said Firefighters International Local 1975 President Lt. Timothy Champine. "They will never have the cooperation of this department."

"The average age of men in our department is almost 40 years," said Lt. Champine. "The men are in the middle of their careers and they do not wish to switch at this late date."

Distribute Memo
If The City does vote to implement the plan, Lt. Champine said the International Association would immediately get an injunction in circuit court to stop its implementation.

He said his men have been promised help from the International Association and would expect a four-man task force from Washington, D.C., to aid them in their battle.

"They can't force us to change our jobs as long as we stay together," he said.

Both fire and police departments are distributing a memorandum signed by Attorney General Frank Kelley in support of their stand. The memo calls consolidation a "dangerous weakening of law enforcement and a hazardous reduction of fire protection."

It also says, "The results of combining the police and fire departments have invariably resulted in a sharp increase in the cost of protection."

Eugene Wigglesworth, a Science teacher at South High School, resigned this past summer and left the field of education. He wrote a letter to the editor of the Grosse Pointe News. Some friends of Gene felt that the public should know why he resigned. Since the letter was not printed, they have purchased this space for it.

Editor
Grosse Pointe News
99 Kercheval
Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich.

To the Editor:

I feel I owe an explanation of my recent resignation to the students of South High and the community of Grosse Pointe.

What makes a teacher leave the Grosse Pointe system? What causes a person who has an M.A., 30+ graduate hours beyond, and nine years experience in Grosse Pointe, to leave the school system and the field of education? It has taken more than one thing to lead to the frustration that has caused my career change.

It started years ago when a community committee made recommendations about the new addition to South High. I had been warned by older staff members that teacher input was a waste of time because the decisions had already been made. It was suggested to me that they, the leaders, knew what was best for us. I did not believe this! Other science teachers and I worked many hours designing laboratory classrooms, answering questions, and doing the other things that had been requested of us.

We were told to be "innovative" but not to spend any money because the community was undergoing backlash from the construction of North High. We were told to be "flexible" but to design science facilities that were all similar and wouldn't cost much. Well, we made our sketches and turned in what we thought were flexible facilities that met national science organizational guidelines; and just as predicted, most of our recommendations were ignored.

What we were shown was a building with four big rooms where science was to be taught. Apparently, it was the brainchild of a board member and some administrators. Of course no one had ever seen one in operation at the high school level. None of these people had ever taught science in one of these big rooms, but there it was, all the same.

The Science Department protested and were eventually given only one of these large rooms, (see South High Science Dept. White Paper and Biology area at South) Curriculum has continually been revised to fit the room, not the needs of science students. Students also have not been happy with the facility. (Tower articles).

The general public is seldom aware of these changes. If you're wondering if the teachers protested these things, the answer is YES! We did everything but advertise in the Grosse Pointe News. We've regretted that ever since.

What else? Observing program cuts, 101 teachers laid off, and being close to that chopping block several times myself was too much to tolerate. I watched a new Superintendent conduct a survey to assess the community-school attitude and I knew, as a science teacher, that the survey was invalid from the beginning. It was not a random sample of the community; it was based only on those who responded. The cost to the taxpayers was probably two or three experienced teachers.

The present Board of Education passed a grading policy that allows a student to fail 3 out of 4 marking periods AND the final exam, yet pass the course if an A or B was received in the other marking period. This lowering of standards was not condoned by the teachers. Grades should be an indication of academic achievement not a Public Relations tool!

Maybe it was the way human beings were treated in the recent pink slipping. One teacher was on the list one day, off the next, back on the third. "Overkill" was the norm. Pink slipping many more teachers than necessary and then offering part-time jobs to teachers with as much as 17 years experience, caused them to look elsewhere for employment.

Maybe it was the tax monies wasted on very serious vandalism which is usually excused as pranks. Some examples of these are the flooding of South's basement, the motorcycles being ridden in the halls, and spray painting the brick walls at North.

You see, the list can be very long. If you want other reasons ask almost any teacher who is still in Grosse Pointe, they may have their own list.

Perhaps you should ask how negotiations are going. Find out that the recent millage has allowed the administrative staff to be increased by 25% and will cost between $175,000 and $200,000. Find out what "generous" offers are being made to keep well trained and talented teachers in Grosse Pointe. Better yet, call the board office and ask how many other teachers with years of experience are voluntarily leaving Grosse Pointe and also education? The list is staggering.

The analogy to Black History is strong. How many plantation owners understood why, or bothered to find out, if one of their "house niggers" rebelled or ran away. We all know what happened to the plantations in the south. Is everybody happy in your school or is there dissent out back of the "Masta's" house?

Asks Teachers to Better Schools' Public Image

By Susan McDonald
Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Coats appealed to teachers last week to keep differences of opinion behind closed doors and work for a better public image of the schools in order to help pass millage requests later next year.

"Every teacher has an important public relations function," he said at the Wednesday, September 8, all-staff meeting at North High School. "If you care about the millage election coming this spring you have to start now creating a positive image of the system."

"We must become more sophisticated and develop some political moxie," he told the teachers, adding that the staff should solve their arguments behind closed doors rather than in the public arena.

Dr. Coats and Board of Education trustees have severely criticized the Grosse Pointe Education Association in recent weeks for making public some disputes that have arisen out of recent contract negotiations with the Board.

REMS Pointe Meets Monday

REMS Pointe, Recreation and Education for Multiple Sclerosis, will meet Monday, September 20, at Saint Michael's Episcopal Church, 20476 Sunningdale drive, at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Roberta F. Cottman, assistant professor and chairperson, Department of Physical Therapy, Wayne State University College of Pharmacy and Allied Health Professions, will speak on "Mobilization Activities for the Multiple Sclerosis Patient."

Patients, family members and friends are invited to join REMS Pointe, National Multiple Sclerosis Society, which meets monthly for recreation and education.

Dr. Coats described the purpose of the traditional all-staff meeting as to form a communications network between the Board, administration and teachers. "I'm a little bit surprised that the problem, (communications), seems so big so early," he said.

"But we must make an effort to find areas of congruence and agreement. After all, we have the common goal of creating a good public image of the schools and to maintain citizen support," he said.

Dr. Coats explained, to a rather unenthusiastic audience, that one of his main objectives in the coming school year would be to develop facilities for program evaluation and student assessment.

"In the business world, where very survival depends on the quality of products, organizations spend about seven percent of their budgets on evaluation."

"I recognize that a human service organization such as a school system is not an iron foundry or pickle factory, but sound management concepts can apply," he said.

At a press conference after the staff meeting, Dr. Coats said it was a foregone conclusion that the Board of Education would have to ask voters to approve at least a renewal of the 2.2 additional mills approved for one year this June. At the same time voters approved a three-year renewal of a 24.35 mill property tax.

Board Vice-President John Bruce concurred that the 2.2 mill request is a logical one, but added "there are a great many variables to be taken into consideration before a decision has to be made."

Board President Robert Warner said that the trustees would be watching closely for any possible changes in State school funding and property evaluations before making a decision on millage.

Wrong Person Gets Ticketed

The wrong person was apparently issued a violation stemming from a loud party incident late Saturday evening, August 28, and early Sunday morning, August 29, at a Roslyn road home, reported Woods police.

After making several runs in response to noise complaints during the course of the evening, police issued an ordinance violation to a man who gave his name as William Murphy for allowing a boisterous party.

However, further investigation revealed that the man wasn't Mr. Murphy at all but someone else. As a result, the violation was issued to Mark Edward Grewe, 23, who allegedly used Mr. Murphy's name when the ticket was issued. Grewe will now appear in court Wednesday, October 13, on the charge.

Mr. Murphy contacted the NEWS after a story of the incident was published in the Thursday, September 2, edition and claimed he wasn't even issued a violation.

He also contacted police on Friday, September 3, and said he now lived in The Farms, had not received any ticket but did live at the Roslyn road home until shortly after this June 1. At that time, he said he moved out. He claimed someone had used his name and stressed he wasn't involved.

Det. Everett Plumb then contacted the home, spoke to an occupant, explained what happened and said the name given at the time the violation was issued was fraudulent. This man and Grewe ultimately came to the station for further questioning.

Police said Grewe advised he was the one who received the ticket and turned over the violation issued to him by Officer Stephen Petrik under the name of William Murphy. He also said he intended to appear in court to settle the matter as directed.

Officer Petrik confirmed that Grewe was the person to whom he issued the ticket.

Meanwhile, the other man

Cottage Earns Recognition

Cottage Hospital of Grosse Pointe has been formally recognized by the American Hospital Assoc., (AHA), as an active participant in a program to more effectively monitor cost management.

The program involves the sharing of cost data submitted by nearly 3,000 health care institutions as a means for these facilities to compare their own cost control effectiveness with others of similar size.

Cottage Hospital has been taking part in the AHA-sponsored program for more than 10 years.

"We have found the data information supplied by the program to be an excellent management tool in evaluating our cost containment efforts," said Ralph L. Wilgarde, Cottage administrator.

"By keeping abreast of what other health care institutions are doing in cost areas, we are better able to adjust our own procedures accordingly."

Park Battling Detroit Tax

The Park is fighting for a principle and on this basis is refusing to pay the full amount of tax on four acres of land, part of Windmill Pointe Park, situated in Detroit, it was disclosed by Park City Manager Robert Slone on Thursday, September 9.

The city manager said that the property, which had never been taxed by its neighbor, has been assessed by Detroit at $173,000, but should have a state equalized valuation of $125,000. The size of the park is 11.5 acres, and includes land and a parking lot outside the confines of the facility itself.

Mr. Slone said that The Park received a tax bill in the amount of $10,000, but paid only half of it until the assessment question is solved.

He said that the assessment question is pending before the State Tax Commission and a decision is expected within about six weeks, if both cities have not resolved the question.

School Talks Move Slowly

(Continued from Page 1) cussion of negotiations at a public school budget hearing on Monday, September 13, with a crowd of better than 400 in attendance.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Coats revealed at that time that the Board of Education has offered the GPEA new money amounting to a seven percent increase in salary for two years.

saying her group would settle for their traditional 60 percent share of general fund and library budget for teacher salaries.

That amounts to about $1.1 million in new money for all new teacher expenses, including salaries and other fringe benefits, according to Mrs. Cook.

The Board's current offer represents $738,000 in new monies, according to Mr. Kennedy. The GPEA's demand for 60 percent would represent an increase of 17.7 percent of the teacher's current salary, he added.

The Board has yet to complete negotiations of contracts with secretary, custodial and administrative groups as well.

Park Voters Will Decide on Baseball Diamond

(Continued from Page 1) Three Mile Drive Park a passive recreation park, or it could place the matter before the voters for their decision. The solons opted to let the people have a say in the issue.

At its regular meeting held on Monday, August 20, the council was presented with petitions bearing the signatures of 1,350 qualified voters, who favored construction of the baseball diamond at the Three Mile Drive park, by John Bruce of Devonshire road, a former official of Babe Ruth Baseball League. The petitioners requested the diamond at the park, even though it was designated for passive recreation. The petitions were tabled until Monday night's meeting to give Mr. Ortisi an opportunity to canvass and approve the signatures and certify them.

City Manager Robert A. Slone informed the council that if the proposal for the diamond is approved, it would be located between the present tennis courts in the park and Essex boulevard.

It would be a full size regulation diamond and would take up five acres of the 23.5 acres of the park. This would include bleachers to seat 150 persons, a backstop, et. al., and would cost approximately $15,000, which would have to be appropriated from the General Fund.

Thomas V. Lo Cicero, president of the Henry Russell's Three Mile Drive Association, who attended Monday night's meeting, spoke on behalf of his organization, which, he said, disapproves of the diamond. "The association is opposed to the proposal to convert five acres of the park into an athletic field for the exclusive use of the Babe Ruth League of Grosse Pointe, Inc.," he said in a statement read to the council, "because its proposal is too restrictive, limiting the use of the park to organized baseball for 16-18-year-olds, with bleachers for spectators and because it will make it impossible to control its activities by a pass system now used."

"Thus, the real issue is whether the use of the park is to be limited to the citizens of Grosse Pointe Park, or open to all people, as an athletic field, without control."

"We believe that the park should be used by as many citizens of Grosse Pointe Park as possible, on a basis as a passive park, in accordance with the policy established by The Park many years ago and which has been greatly reaffirmed."

He stated, further, an athletic field for organized baseball, installed over one-fifth of the park, and used daily, either for games or practice by the senior Babe Ruth League, members, between 16-18-year-olds, would destroy the use of the remaining park for all other citizens.

Too, he added, the installation of bleacher seats for 150 people would invite people from other cities than The Park, since the Babe Ruth League includes other cities and competitive games would, without question, open the park to spectators following competing teams from everywhere.

Furthermore, Mr. Lo Cicero said, such single limited use by outsiders makes it impossible to install facilities for more tennis courts, very much in demand.

The lakeside parks of The City and The Farms do not afford an athletic field to anyone and we do not believe the citizens of The Park want any such installation in their lakeside park, he felt.

Promotion Draws Protest

(Continued from Page 1) ject matter to be determined by both the union and the chief; and that the candidate with the highest score be appointed to the position.

Other points include that should a written exam be deemed unnecessary by the union and the chief, that all interested candidates be considered equally qualified and seniority would rule; that the cost of filing and processing of the grievance be born by the city; and that the most senior interested candidate be temporarily assigned to the position until the grievance is settled.

In a July 29 response to the grievance, Chief Ferber denied the union demands in total, saying he found "no violation of contract" in his appointment of Officer Cardella.

The chief said he based his decision on Officer Cardella's extensive outside schooling and his "proven attitude and ability."

Among Officer Cardella's qualifications listed were the following: firearms training when Officer Cardella was a member of The Farms Fire Department; Law Enforcement Officers Training School; narcotic identification seminars at Macomb County Community College (MCCC); a communications class at MCCC; breathalyzer school; evidence technicians school; detective school at MCCC;

homicide investigation school; fingerprint identification school sponsored by the FBI; and his current work toward a Bachelor's degree.

"With the exception of breathalyzer school, I paid for all my courses with no financial aid of any kind," said Officer Cardella.

"And I'm the only evidence technician in all the Pointes and Harper Woods. The association tried to stop me from attending these schools on my own. They felt that if the city wanted me to attend school, the city should pay for it."

"I feel this is my city and my people and if I try to better myself to be a better public servant, then it's my duty to do so."

Officer Reichling disagreed that Officer Cardella is the most qualified for the position.

"We have at least 10 men interested in the bureau opening," he said. "With the exception of breathalyzer school, these men are as qualified as Officer Cardella. They have associate degrees, certificates in police work and some have prior experience in the detective bureau."

"If those qualifications aren't enough, they should have been chosen because they have more seniority than Officer Cardella."

With the issue still unresolved, the union has transferred their grievance to Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer.

"If the city manager does not want to answer our grievance, we will file a grievance with the arbitrator once our 1975 contract is agreed upon," said Officer Reichling.

Meanwhile, Officer Cardella became Det. Cardella on September 13.

Most people can recognize color. There are many, however, who are color-blind, and there are a few that are totally color-blind, that is, they see black and white only. The most common type of color blindness is red-green blindness. To these people the entire color spectrum is seen in yellow and blue tones. Apparently this condition is inherited as a sex-linked trait. It is more common in men than women, affecting between five to eight per cent of the male population. Color vision can be determined by many pseudo-isochromatic tests.

Visits Eatery Sans Clothes

A 16-year-old Woods juvenile will be facing an indecent exposure charge because of his alleged visit to the Steak and Eggs Restaurant, 20195 Mack Avenue, sans clothing except for a pair of jockey shorts on his head, reported Woods police.

As a result of the incident, which occurred early Thursday morning, September 9, Youth Service Division Det. Stuart Gerow filed a petition on the youth with Wayne County Juvenile Court. At the same time, the court will consider a violation issued against the boy charging him with an altered driver's license, he said.

While on patrol, Sgt. James Davidson spotted the juvenile running from the restaurant to a waiting vehicle parked in front. He said the boy had no shirt but was wearing long pants with the shorts still on his head.

The sergeant stopped the auto at Oxford and Mack. The youth was found to have two licenses with one allegedly altered increasing his age from 16 to 18. Meanwhile, the driver of the vehicle was issued a violation for driving on a restricted license.

At the restaurant, a waitress said the juvenile ran into the building without clothes on the exception of the shorts topside. She said a patron, a man from Colorado, grabbed the boy and physically removed him from the premises.

Apparently in between his quick exit and his entrance into the car, he managed to put his pants on, added Det. Gerow.

Colonial Road Variance Petition Denied by Woods

By George Polgar Jr.

A decision by The Shores Council to limit further extension of water and sewage services to new homes built at the end of Colonial road prompted The Woods Council to deny a three-month old appeal for building permit variances for the last lot on the street.

This action was taken at the Monday, September 13, regular Woods meeting with the council sitting as a Board of Appeals.

The original appeal by realtor Robert G. Edgar for a variance in building permit specifications to allow him to divide a lot at the end of Colonial for use as a site for two new homes was at first tabled pending investigation of citizen complaints of inadequate water and sewage service in that area.

Since Colonial road originates in The Shores and comes to a dead end in The Woods, utility, police and fire services for the whole street are the responsibility of The Shores by contractual agreement.

When The Shores Council first took the matter under consideration the problem of inadequate water and sewage service was acknowledged and various courses of action were discussed.

Responding to the final decision of The Shores, Woods Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos told Mr. Edgar that the council had no alternative but to deny his request for a variance and building permit.

He then directed City Administrator Chester E. Petersen to consult with the city engineer about relieving the water and sewage problems that do exist for residents at the end of the street.

This directive was hastened by comments of George Roby, the present owner of the lot on which Mr. Edgar had planned to build, that his property is worthless for all intents and purposes without access to utility service. "If there are no services available for that land then I've been paying taxes on property that I cannot use," he said. "I might as well ask for a waiver of my taxes then."

Mr. Petersen told the council that some means of extending services to those properties could be devised but he added that the costs of such projects would probably have to be assessed against the property owners via a special assessment district.

In the course of the discussion concerned citizens from Colonial road voiced complaints related to the condition of the vacant lot and the inadequacy of police and fire service provided for them by The Shores.

One neighbor complained that the property had not been mowed all summer while another said that they have to rely on The Woods for public safety service.

The council directed Mr. Petersen to check into both of those charges.

Giver of Party Faces Charges

Shores public safety officers, responding to numerous complaints, dispersed a large crowd at a party at the home of Mark Waterman, 56 Weber place, at 12:35 a.m. on Thursday, September 12.

Farms and Woods police responded to calls of assistance in breaking up the affair, attended by an estimated 500 persons, arriving and leaving.

Shores Sgt. Stanley Otulakowski said citizens phoned the station complaining about the loud noise and music, empty beer bottles being tossed into the street and people trespassing on private property on Fairford and Clairview, crossing back yards to get to Weber.

The sergeant said cars took up every available space on Ballantyne, Clairview and Fairford, starting from Lakeshore road. Cpl. Daniel Fronczak and PSO John Frasad issued a total of 31 parking violation tickets after they arrived at the scene.

Sgt. Otulakowski said a request had been granted to Waterman for a party, not of that magnitude, to start at 5 p.m. and not lasting longer than 11 p.m., but apparently it got out of hand as cars and people came from all over the area.

Farms Cpl. Ronald Wooten and Woods Cpl. Thomas Kervin were dispatched by their superiors to assist Shores public safety officers who requested help. The partygoers dispersed when requested by the officers, the sergeant said.

A ticket was issued to Waterman for violating Village Ordinance 138, Section 16, Paragraph 6—disturbing the peace by the use of excessive noise and by the unnecessary or excessive application of volume control. Waterman is scheduled for a court appearance on Monday, October 13.

Ages of persons attending the Waterman affair ranged from juveniles to adults from 18 to 30-years-old. At least one juvenile was picked up in an intoxicated condition and taken to The Shores station. He was later released to his parents, the sergeant added.

Hospital Administrators View Medicaid Law

bill were not adequately explored by the lawmakers.
"It seems that many people in Lansing simply did not understand the bill or the issues involved," said Mr. Lampe. "And now some of them are wondering whether their decision wasn't a little hasty."

The immediate result of the new law will be that roughly 20 percent of all Medicaid patients will lose coverage before they are ready to leave the hospital, according to a Michigan Hospital Association (MHA), report.

Since it is unlikely that many of these patients will go home before they are well, (only a patient's doctor can authorize a discharge), they will stay on at the expense of the hospital.

Most to Lose
The extra expense that hospitals with heavy Medicaid case loads must bear will be passed on to the self-paid and commercially insured clients.

"What the State wanted to do was save a little money," said Mr. Lampe. "So they cut about $50-58 million from the Medicaid benefits. Everyone who pays premiums for commercial hospitalization insurance or settles hospital bills out of their own pockets will make up for the State's saving."

Because southeastern Michigan has more Medicaid patients than any other part of the State, hospitals and patients in this area stand the most to lose.

Though the impact on the three hospitals in The Pointe will be relatively slight, administrators at those institutions share the alarm of their colleagues as to the long range consequences of the bill.

According to Barry Spero, executive director of Bon Secours Hospital, the new law will not take a great toll on his institution because of its low Medicaid case load.

Calls Law Unfair
However, he stressed the more important fact that it is totally inconsistent with all previous health care provisions for indigent citizens.

"The bill is definitely in the worst interest of the people. It arbitrarily penalizes people who simply cannot pay and puts hospitals in an impossible financial situation," he said.

Cottage Hospital, which also has a low Medicaid case load, will probably not bear extra financial burdens as a result of the new provisions but chief administrator Ralph Wilgarde decried the law as unfair and unjust.

"The government, both State and Federal, has said repeatedly that proper health care is a right that every citizen is entitled to, whether or not they can pay."

"Medicaid was set up to insure this right and now the State turns around and says that they will only pay for part of that quality health care," he said.

Expresses Concern
Saint John Hospital has a seven percent Medicaid case load and does expect to suffer as a result of absorbing the costs that the State will no longer pay.

Hospital president James Farley believes that the new Medicaid law will have disastrous effects on some hospitals, particularly those with high State paid case loads. He cited hospitals in Detroit's sprawling Medical Center as those particularly endangered.

"I think that the legislature and the Governor have been dishonest or at least unfair in not explaining to the public that they are simply reducing benefits in the health care system," he said.

"It puts hospitals in the position of either having to discharge non-paying patients, which they can not do, or of absorbing the costs, another thing the hospitals simply can not do."

At present the MHA based in Lansing is calling for legislative action to reconsider the three-quarters care Medicaid provision.

If nothing is forthcoming from the legislature, the MHA will consider taking legal action and there is some indication that the legislature may have violated a Federal law with the passage of Public Act 254, stated Mr. Farley.

Orchids Theme for Men's Club

Joseph A. Kotewicz, an amateur vocalist, formerly active with the Windsor Light Opera and the Rackham Symphony Choir, (official choir of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra), will be the guest narrator at the Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe meeting tonight, September 16, at 8 p.m. at Brownell Middle School, 260

Chalfonte avenue.

His subject will be "Genesis: Orchid Beginnings," with a musical background accompanying his narration.

Mr. Kotewicz, who has been with Chrysler Corp. in the data processing and computer fields for 23 years, began growing orchids as a hobby seven years ago when his musical career was curtailed because of a change in working hours.

As a result of this career interruption, he built a small greenhouse where he grows as many as 600 "intermediate" orchids.

"Intermediate," he explains, refers to temperature: there are warm, intermediate and cool orchid varieties, of which the intermediate requires low night temperatures of 58-60 degrees.

Mr. Kotewicz's presentation will be a natural color, two-screen, two-projector slide program.

In putting the program together he requested material from various parts of the world and encountered one big problem — the vast difference in material taken with different types of films. He advocates the adoption of a standard type of film for orchid photography.

Following his presentation, Mr. Kotewicz will be joined by William C. Hill, the Garden Club's second vice-president, in a question and answer period concerning orchids.

Marsh Subject Of Film, Talk

"St. John's Marsh . . . Saved or Paved?" will be the question explored by Raymond Trombley as he presents his sound film and slides at the War Memorial's Alger House on Tuesday, September 21, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Trombley, a Mount Clemens resident, is chairman of the Lake St. Clair Advisory Committee as well as a professional fisherman and guide.

He will explain the importance of these wetlands, found on the northeast shore of Anchor Bay at the head of Lake St. Clair, and the threat by private developers who want to fill in an area for high-rise apartments.

Working in cooperation with the State's Department of Natural Resources and the Federal Government, he hopes to raise sufficient funds for the purchase and preservation of St. John's Marsh as a sanctuary, study area and limited hunting and fishing grounds.

It has often been described as the Everglades of Michigan.

The marsh is not only invaluable as a breeding ground for wildlife and stop-over for migratory birds, but also is vital for the renewal of fish resources, stabilization of the water table and protection of downstream water from pollution.

The slide talk is an open meeting with appeal for fishermen, boaters, duck hunters and the nature lover in everyone. It will be co-sponsored by the War Memorial and the East Michigan Environmental Action Council, (formerly Environmental Action Now, Inc.).

EMEAC Corp. was created by a merger between Grosse Pointe-based EAN, Inc., and the Birmingham-based East Michigan Environmental Action Council.

Together, the two new organizations hope to serve each community more adequately and to have a greater impact on environmental issues in the state.

Mr. Trombley's talk is their first offering to the public.

Aerobic Dance Class Slated

Aerobic Dancing, a unique, endurance fitness program has been scheduled for the fall session of activities offered by the Department of Community Services.

This mode of dancing consists of simple vigorous dances in which the emphasis is on fun and a good workout rather than skill or technique. The program is designed for individuals who are physically fit and wish to maintain their present level of fitness. The course will be taught by Joan Thornton on Mondays and Wednesdays in the boys' gym at South High School, 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard, and on Tuesdays and Thursdays in the gym at Parcels Middle School, 20600 Mack avenue.

Free demonstrations have been scheduled for Monday, September 20, at 6:45 p.m. in the boy's gym at South and on Tuesday, September 21, at 7 p.m. at the Parcels gym. For further information on enrollment, call 885-3808 or 885-0271.

TV Removed In Woods B-E

A 20-inch portable color television set was reported missing after the burglary of a Lochmoor boulevard home, reported Woods police.

The citizen left Wednesday, September 1, and returned home Wednesday, September 8, to discover the break-in.

A thin six-inch slot had been cut in the rear screen door adjacent to the lock, while a pane of glass had been shattered in the lower portion of an inner door, police said.

Outside of the television, which was valued at around $500, the resident said nothing else in the home appeared disturbed.

Ducks Unlimited Slates Banquet

The Royalty House, 13 Mile road and Van Dyke, Warren, is the site for this year's annual Ducks Unlimited banquet, according to Earl Etzel, publicity chairman.

The banquet will be held Thursday, September 23, starting at 6 p.m. Tickets are $25 reserved, or $30 at the door.

Ducks Unlimited is a privately financed, non-profit conservation group that leases and maintains two-and-a-half million acres of wetlands, where 80 percent of North America's waterfowl originate, according to Mr. Etzel.

"The organization raises most of its funds through memberships, contributions and banquets held throughout the country," said Mr. Etzel.

"We have 4,700 members in Michigan and 165,000 nationwide. Our goal here this year is to raise $25,000 and we hope to raise $60 million overall by 1980. This all goes for maintaining wetlands for geese, ducks and 300 other species of wildlife."

THIS IS UNIBANK.

One Account At NBD For All Your Normal Banking Needs.

You can write all the checks you want without a service charge.

No-charge checking is a big part of the UniBank account. It's yours simply by opening a $500 savings account. Or by maintaining a $200 minimum or $500 average monthly balance in your UniBank checking account.

Either way, you can plan on saving important dollars in service charges.

Your savings account will be earning you money while it's saving you money.

When you put your savings into a UniBank account at NBD, they'll not only save you important dollars in checking account service charges, they'll also earn you the highest interest that any bank pays on savings:

7-1/2% on Investment Savings Certificates with a maturity of 6 years in amounts of $1000 or more.

7-1/4% on Investment Savings Certificates with a maturity of 4 years in amounts of $1000 or more.

6-1/2% on Investment Savings Certificates with a maturity of 30, 36 or 42 months in amounts of $1000 or more.

6% on Investment Savings Certificates with a maturity of 12, 18 or 24 months in amounts of $1000 or more.

5-1/2% on Time Deposit Savings that mature every calendar quarter.

5% on our EveryDay Interest Account—the savings account that makes you a little richer every day.

Interest on your savings at NBD is compounded quarterly, and on any Investment Savings Certificate of $5,000 or more, you can receive your interest in the form of monthly checks.

You get the convenience of banking 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

As a customer of National Bank of Detroit, you'll have the convenience of being able to bank at any of our more than 100 offices—not just the office where you opened your account. That includes our 78 Drive-In Offices open until 7:30 every week-night, and from 9 to 1 every Saturday.

And as a UniBank customer, you're automatically entitled to our NBD 24-Hour Banker card. It lets you get cash from your UniBank checking or savings account anytime of the day or night at 27 locations all over town. You can also use your 24-Hour Banker card to make deposits, transfers—even get a cash advance on your NBD Master Charge card.

There's also Checkmate and Master Charge.

Among the UniBank services is our Checkmate line-of-credit. At NBD, we have always maintained high credit standards, counselling our customers to borrow only for worthwhile purposes and to repay loan obligations as soon as they could. Checkmate is totally in keeping with this tradition. It is designed specifically to allow you to take advantage of outstanding opportunities and to meet unforeseen needs. At the same time, it provides a safeguard against the charges that banks commonly impose for over-drawing your account.

When you qualify for Checkmate, you have a way to write yourself a loan simply by writing a check. Checkmate also offers a feature that we call Simple Interest; you pay interest only on the amount of your daily loan balance—nothing more.

When you sign up for UniBank, you can also apply for NBD Master Charge. When there's a Master Charge card in your purse or wallet, you enjoy extra buying power and greater shopping convenience. Yet there's no finance charge on your purchases so long as you pay for them in full each month.

And you get the security of Michigan's biggest bank.

Come in and sign up for UniBank; you'll walk away with the good feeling of knowing your savings are safely inside a bank with a reputation for sound financial management, and more assets than any other bank in Michigan.

If you'd like this security behind your money, and the convenience of being a customer of Michigan's biggest bank, why not open a UniBank account now?

As you can see, for a $500 savings account, you get a lot more than a $500 savings account.

Making banking better for you.

You should know that by Federal Regulations a substantial penalty is required for early withdrawal on time deposits.

Upset over Ordinance

operation includes the outside storage of automobiles, you have until September 1, 1976, to comply with the provisions of the zoning ordinance." After September 1, legal action would be taken against those operators found in violation of the provisions, he added.

So on the 8th, police conducted a survey of the service stations with a view toward enforcement of the ordinance. Photos were taken and violation tickets prepared for delivery by the records office.

The following stations were issued violations according to police: Grosse Pointe Service Center, 19770 Mack, 11 vehicles; Joseph's Service Center, 20700 Mack, nine vehicles; Woods Service Center, 19419 Mack, five vehicles; and Ray Summers Service, 19733 Mack, five vehicles.

Others are Connolly Brothers, 20675 Mack, three vehicles; Richards Service, 20397 Mack, two vehicles; and Dale's Standard Service, 21110 Mack, one vehicle.

City Attorney George Catlin said the ordinance has been on the books about 12 years, while indicating this matter hasn't been one of a great magnitude in the past.

He said, however, one service station has permitted a resident to park his truck overnight and "this has come to light in the past few years."

Views Ordinance

Mr. Catlin added that Building Inspector Earl Wakely has been more involved in this area and, when asked if this has been an ongoing problem, Mr. Wakely replied, "I don't think so."

In noting the content of the ordinance, he said permitted uses in the commercial business district deal with a variety of categories including business offices, medical centers, taverns, restaurants, et al. Mr. Wakely stated that automobile sales and service buildings are permitted to store a certain amount of cars outside on their premises in connection with their businesses.

In viewing the measure in relation to service stations, he noted there's a question in relation to the strict definition of storage, while citing the emphasis upon an auto rather than a truck or commercial vehicle. He added:

Drop Charges In Woods Case

Two Woods charges against a Roseville man, carrying a concealed weapon and violation of the controlled substances act, were dismissed stemming from his recent conviction on a counterfeiting charge, reported the Youth Service Division, (YSD), office.

Leonard Terry Marchesani was arrested last December by Woods police after being stopped for speeding along Vernier road.

At that time, he dropped a bottle containing PCP, (phencyclidine), an animal tranquilizer, and at the station, a custodial search of his vehicle revealed a .32 caliber automatic with four bullets in the magazine and none in the chamber, officers said.

YSD Det. Stuart Gerow, who investigated the incident, indicated Marchesani's scheduled appearances in Wayne County Circuit Court were adjourned throughout the first part of this year because of the pending counterfeiting charge.

Marchesani was convicted of the charge in Federal Court in Detroit, (stemming from an incident in Milwaukee, Wis.), and was sentenced to three years in prison, followed by two years probation.

As a result, Det. Gerow said it was mutually agreed upon with the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office that the pair of local charges would be dismissed.

Church to Host Guest Preacher

Returning to Grosse Pointe Memorial Church after six years is Dr. George Arthur Buttrick as guest preacher on Sunday, September 19, at 9:30 and 11:30 a.m.

He will be appearing as part of the Elizabeth Cook Memorial and will take this opportunity to greet the many friends he made while he served at Memorial Church during the interim of their search for a new senior minister.

Dr. Buttrick was born and educated in England and has served as pastor of a number of churches and as a teacher at seven different theological seminaries. He is also the author of more than a dozen books on theology.

ed the judge will have to rule on this matter.

Meanwhile, the NEWS contacted the two service stations which received the most violations and representatives from each expressed great concern over the situation.

Chester Yavor, an employee at the GP Service Center, questioned the meaning of storage and cited several problems which his station faces in relation to the ordinance.

"We keep certain vehicles at our station overnight to be repaired the next day. We don't store anything or charge any kind of fee (for storage). And we seldom keep vehicles over two days," stated Mr. Yavor.

Cites Necessities

He indicated in certain instances it's necessary to keep autos overnight and in some cases even longer depending on the repair job and the availability of parts. "We can't run a business this way," (in relation to the ordinance violations), emphasized Mr. Yavor.

"We've been in business since 1957 and all of a sudden this comes up. I don't know why," he added.

For his part, Moses Joseph, of Joseph's Service Center, said, "It's not humanly possible to operate a service station with full facilities without having cars on the premises overnight."

He felt if a station pumped gas only, enforcement of the ordinance would be okay. However, Mr. Joseph stressed his business provides full service to citizens, while paying taxes to the city.

In questioning how the law as written can be enforced, Mr. Joseph said the police department on occasions has contacted his station regarding the towing of autos, (e.g., those involved in accidents), and they have to be left on the premises. (Such police contact also was mentioned by Mr. Yavor).

For some disabled cars, he has to wait one to two weeks to obtain parts, while noting "Our mechanic can only do so much." Sometimes, he stated, cars are pushed into the station at night without contact information and it could be a day or two before personnel learn who made such a "delivery."

"If the law is enforced, we cannot operate," stressed Mr. Joseph. We're not in the storage business, charge for vehicles to be left on the premises, he said, while stating if it came to a point where an operator would have to obtain a license from the city to store a car overnight, "I'd buy one or I'd have to close up my business."

"I've been here eight years. Why are they enforcing an ordinance like that now? We serve the community and Woods taxpayers," he said, while citing a further concern over potentially driving such businesses out of the city.

The penalty for such a violation is a fine not less than $25 nor more than $100, or imprisonment not to exceed 90 days or both.

Detroit Police Arrest Suspect in Woods R/A

An 18-year-old Detroit youth, who's charged with robbery armed, (R/A), stemming from an incident late Monday evening, August 23, was scheduled for examination in The Woods Municipal Court yesterday, September 15.

Henry Lee Bennett is charged with robbing a Yorktown road resident at gun point and taking his wallet containing around $40 in cash, after the citizen had parked his car in his garage and walked toward his home.

The suspect stood mute at his arraignment on Wednesday, September 8, and a plea of not guilty was entered for him by Municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis. Bond was set in the amount of $30,000 and Bennett was returned to the Wayne County Jail pending his exam, police said.

A 19-year-old Detroit man, who was with Bennett at the time, wasn't charged in the incident, while a 16-year-old Detroit juvenile may be charged. In the latter case, Det. Charles Philip Hamel said the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office is trying to obtain a waiver on the boy to try him as an adult.

The incident unfolded when the 60-year-old citizen said he was followed by an auto as he turned off of Mack avenue onto Yorktown. As he pulled into his driveway, the car drove two houses east of his home and parked in the fire route.

At this time, two men exited and started to walk past his home, the resident said. By this time, his wife had opened the garage door and the man drove his vehicle inside and exited. He was then met by a youth armed with a blue steel, short barrel revolver. The complainant said the suspect demanded his wallet, which he gave him.

At that time, police put out a general broadcast of the incident but met with negative results in locating the suspect or the vehicle. A check with neighbors also proved unfruitful.

However, some three hours later, early Tuesday morning, August 24, Detroit police advised they had three men in custody and found the resident's wallet in their possession. So Det. Everett Plumb and Youth Service Division Det. Donald Schmalz went to the Fifth Precinct to interview the trio.

Bennett, police said, refused to answer any questions. However, the driver of the car stated he dropped the suspect off with the youth walking out of sight. The driver added he had no idea what happened.

Through their investigation, Woods police learned that Detroit officers on routine patrol in the vicinity of Richter and Pennsylvania observed an auto parked with its left wheels to the curb. The right door of the car was open causing the policemen to apply their brakes.

When a man, identified by police as Bennett, exited the vehicle, one officer spotted a gun butt protruding from under the man's T-shirt and he was placed under arrest. A custodial search at the Fifth Precinct revealed the complainant's wallet in Bennett's possession.

Park Police Ask Charter Change to Boost Pension

By James J. Njaim

The Grosse Pointe Park Police Officers Association, (GPPPOA), has started its campaign to ask Park voters for support on Tuesday, November 2, for a charter amendment change that will give its members a better retirement pension, it was disclosed by Patrolman Charles Slusser, chairman of the association's pension committee.

In a direct appeal to Park citizens, Officer Slusser said, "We ask for your support of the proposed pension improvement for police and firemen of Grosse Pointe Park."

This proposal, if passed, will bring us up to the other four Pointes with a two percent per year instead of the present 1.7 percent we now have.

"The citizens of The Park enjoy excellent service from their police and fire departments and we are certain that you want equal pension benefits for us."

"Please contact your friends and neighbors and ask them to become active in getting everyone to help pass this proposal which will appear on the November 2 ballot."

Austin Hopes for 'Instant Replay' of Last Season

By George Polgar, Jr.
The standard that the Fighting Friars of Austin Catholic Prep are shooting for this football season is a repeat of their own A-East Catholic League Championship performance of last year.

The strength the Austin gridders displayed in their first winning season since 1964 was dubbed "the new era;" this year the slogan has changed to "establishing a tradition."

According to head coach Pete Pucher, Austin's chances for another championship title may be decided in the first four games.

"The early games in the schedule will probably determine our season, especially the third and fourth against our toughest competition, Saint Clement and Pontiac Catholic," he said.

Austin will field strong offensive and defensive units this year and Coach Pucher expects to use some younger players who show the most improvement in training.

The specific strategies that the Friars have worked out for this season are the Oklahoma 5-2 defense and the Wishbone offense.

Third year starter Rich Counsman was elected by his Austin teammates as captain. He will be starting half-back on offense and also is expected to see action on defense as cornerback.

Starters from The Pointe include wide out Tom Borland, center Jerry Brosnan, tight end Gene Belanger, full-back and middle guard John Salkowski, linebacker Bob Neville, defensive halfback Joe Fikany and defensive end Tom Kearney.

Joe Sabatella will lead the team at quarterback for the third year.

Austin's nine game season is as follows: Saturday, September 18, Osborn, away, at 1 p.m.; Friday, September 24, Finney, away, at 3:30 p.m.; Sunday, October 3, Saint Clement, away, at 2 p.m.; and Sunday, October 10, Pontiac Catholic, home, at 1 p.m.

More include Sunday, October 17, Saint Ladislaus, home, at 1 p.m.; Sunday, October 24, East Catholic, away, at 2:30 p.m.; Sunday, October 31, Holy Redeemer, home, at 1 p.m.; Sunday, November 7, away, Catholic League playoff; and Friday, November 12, Lutheran East, away, at 8 p.m.

The home field for Austin is at South High School.

Morality Group Slates Contest

Morality in Media will once again sponsor a Youth Essay contest awarding a $100 Savings Bond and other cash prizes for the best essays submitted by Michigan students in grades nine through 12.

The essays must not exceed 500 words and be signed by a parent and English teacher. They should be submitted to Morality in Media of Michigan, Inc., P.O. Box 8621, Detroit, 48224, on or before November 15.

Topics for this year's essays are: "We all know that we have certain rights and privileges as American citizens, but do you feel that all citizens, including young people, should realize they have a definite responsibility and obligation to obey the law if they wish to enjoy those rights?"

Another topic is: "Authorities tell us that pornographic theaters and bookstores are major breeding grounds for crime, which has now reached epidemic proportions. Do you feel that these places should be closed for the protection of society, and that the communication media including newspapers, magazines, radio and TV should refuse to advertise and promote them?"

How does Studio Camera do it?

That's what camera stores all over the state are asking themselves — how does STUDIO CAMERA sell at such ridiculous low prices 365 days a year?

The answer is simple. We keep our overhead low. We run our store efficiently. We DON'T use "razzle-dazzle" gimmicks like so-called "free finishing coupons" or "half off" on over priced electronic flash units.

There's no haggling over price at STUDIO CAMERA. Our Cash Price is our BEST price. All our prices are printed, and up front. No one works on commission, so you buy what you want, when you want. You'll never get pressured into "package" deals, or any of the other gimmicks you've run into in other camera stores.

This straight forward, no "gimmick" way of doing business is the reason we sell more cameras to more people than any other camera store in Michigan.

We must be doing something right

Computer Eliminates Guesswork On Auto Repairs

Seeing is believing, and when it comes to pinpointing an automotive problem, the consumer can now look at the screen of a remarkable piece of electronic equipment and know exactly what's wrong.

The system is the SUN 2001 DIAGNOSTIC COMPUTER... so new, accurate and expensive that only twenty-three exist in the State of Michigan.

For the do-it-yourself mechanic or for the majority of motorists who don't really know too much about what makes a car tick, anyone can now in a matter of minutes be assured of where the problem is and be given an accurate quote on correcting it.

"Nar" Greene, pictured above, chief mechanic for Jess's servicenter points out that the special "bonus" a customer receives is the computer print-out (before and after) of work performed on their car.

Another plus feature is that for a nominal charge the customer can take the print-out to any mechanic of their choice and he in turn can also save time and money by simply reading the print-out and making necessary repairs.

Jesse Rose, owner of the Sunoco Servicenter at E. Jefferson and Beaconsfield in Grosse Pointe acquired the unit to specifically provide old and new customers the most advanced method of trouble shooting with prompt, accurate estimates on repair cost. He feels that the small charge for analyzing your car's performance will more than pay for itself in improved gas mileage and trouble free enjoyment.

With Our Blessings

This is the time of year when we say goodbye to you young men and women who are leaving for college. Some of you who attend institutions close by will be back with us often; others will not return until the Thanksgiving or Christmas vacation periods.

If your powers of perception were abnormally keen, you could find, tucked away in that outrageous assortment of luggage and duffle which is always affected by the college crowd, things other than the equally absurd collection of personal items which go everywhere with you. You would see a million tiny, unuttered thoughts, bits of advice which we never quite got around to passing on to you. There would be a trunk full of fervent wishes and bright hopes, a generous sprinkling of prayers, and those myriad stains would be the remnants of tears, dropped mostly by the mothers of the youngsters who are leaving home for the first time.

So much of us goes with you, it is just as well you do not know. Accepted with the seriousness with which it is sent, it would constitute a burden that young people should not be called upon to carry.

It is an unchanging law of life that the younger generations grow constantly further away from their parents. And it is, for us, a sad truism that just the reverse holds with the older ones. Our interests turn inward and focus sharper with every passing year on the events which make up the lives of our children and we would have it no other way.

Advice is easy, and there are so many things we think we could and should have told you, to make things easier. Looking back, we are so prone to think of these years through which you are now passing, a painless period of enchantment and frivolity. Time is a great eraser and most of us have forgotten that all things are relative; that the troubles of youth, though they may seem negligible to us, may be just as bitter to swallow as our own most devastating trials. If we are lacking in understanding, we ask your forgiveness.

The shyness of youth, if such a thing still exists, is surely equalled by the shyness of a parent who is afraid to bare his soul to his own children lest he appear weak, or in fear that he may embarrass the youngster with a display of maudlin sentiment. In removed repose, it appears to us that a great deal more of this interchange of inner feeling would be a healthy and highly satisfying experience.

We wish we had not hesitated to tell you how proud of you we are, and what tremendous boons you have granted us through your accomplishments. We are sorry about the beratings we felt at the time they were merited, and we wonder fearfully whether they were harmful or helpful.

We are so mindful of our own first days in college, and of little incidents and soul-shaking experiences, which followed in quick succession through all those wonderful years. We are going through them again with you now, and hoping that something we have imparted is helping you, either to get the utmost enjoyment or the least sorrow out of them as they come along.

College is such an immense hodge-podge of opportunities and pitfalls, with so many doors that should be opened and entered, and so many others that should remain closed; so many roads that should be explored, and endless turns that should never be taken. Now, infinitely more than ever before, you are going to have to rely on your own judgment. But we want you to know that if you err, and if help is needed, we want to be given the first chance to provide the help.

There is so much said about our "future citizens," the "leaders of tomorrow," the "hope of the world," that we trust you will pardon us for mentioning these old cliches. We like to remember the college president who told the entering freshman class: "If by the time you have been graduated from here you have learned how to educate yourselves and can use a library intelligently, we shall consider that we have done a good job."

These years are but preparatory ones for the many, many which lie ahead, each pregnant with possibilities for broadening your education. The truly wise man is the one who continues to learn every day of his life, who is always honest enough to admit he does not know the answer, but then makes a point of finding out.

Your education has to do not only with classrooms and textbooks and lecture halls, but with mixing with your fellow students and faculty members, both socially and intellectually. Understanding is an attitude to be devoutly cultivated.

Let religion be a large part of your lives and be thankful that there is a noticeable surge today in the movement back to the Greatest Teacher. There will be many times when you find yourselves in need of His instruction and you will find it helpful to be on close terms with Him.

These are the golden years and yours is the privilege to make them what you will. If we have helped you walk across the threshold with confidence, we are grateful. If we have failed you, forgive us.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

The days and weeks immediately following the opening of school in the fall are a time of high hopes and high expectations by everyone involved in the school system.

But these high hopes cannot materialize into reality unless all concerned — parents, teachers, management personnel, classroom teachers and Board of Education trustees — have an understanding of their respective roles in the education process.

This week I would like to share my view of the role of one important segment of management personnel — job expectations of building principals.

I would hope and expect that most, if not all, of the following expectations would fit our 15 principals as well as assistants in the middle and senior high schools.

1. Engage in the systematic use of relevant information to improve the effectiveness of all staff members.
2. Promote efforts to individualize and personalize the teaching-learning process.
3. Compile evaluations of all staff through systematic observations.

4. Effectively communicate the primary thrust of the Board of Education.
5. Initiate and monitor programs which will improve academic achievement.
6. Maintain a school which reflects an orderly but relaxed and friendly atmosphere.
7. Implement programs designed to eliminate all types of discrimination.
8. Increase parent involvement in the activities of the school.
9. Achieve high staff morale.
10. Implement and monitor extracurricular programs which supplement the regular school learning environment.
11. Improve professional expertise as the instructional leader of the building.
12. Effectively utilize all supportive staff.

I hope that the enumeration of the preceding 12 points will help not only the public-at-large but also the parents of children attending our schools, to gain a better understanding of the role of our district's building principals.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Hopefully many Grosse Pointe teachers would have had difficulty identifying with many of their colleagues who jammed the September 13 Board of Education meeting. It is interesting that not a single teacher in attendance rose to protest the lack of civility of countless members of the Grosse Pointe Education Association.

If anyone among them came seriously seeking answers to questions, this was not apparent. To ensnare and heckle the superintendent and Board seemed to be the sole purpose of turning out by the hundreds.

No teacher can escape responsibility for their organization's public posture. To pay dues to the union—however reluctantly—is to underwrite by more than $200 annually its activities.

And these activities include not only offensive conduct at meetings but also blanketing the community with gravely inaccurate, harassing printed material.

To teachers who do not endorse the current union profile, I say, "Don't tell us—tell your bargaining team and your GPEA officers!"

It would appear that the staff realignment proposed by the Board of Education is in direct response to parents' pleas for more nearly universal high quality of classroom teaching. Under the Michigan Teacher Tenure Act, lack of extensive assistance for and supervision of the classroom teacher virtually precludes dismissal for incompetence.

I accept the Board's statement that the increase in supervision, (but not of personnel), will be accomplished without additional cost; but even if it were to increase the budget, I should applaud their proposals as having been needed for a very long time.

For parents to vote against millage is an inappropriate response to distress about their child's education. An appropriate response might well be to communicate immediately to the Board of Education or administration some encouragement for their efforts in this area of supervision.

Sincerely,
Barbara R. Thompson,
(Mrs. Joseph P. Thompson),

Local Interlochen Friends to Gather

Center President and Mrs. Roger E. Jacobi Expected to Be Present at Dinner Meeting Wednesday at War Memorial

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial will be the setting for an autumn dinner-meeting of Friends of Interlochen next Wednesday, September 22, with dinner served in the Reception Room of Alger House at 6:30 o'clock.

Members unable to be present for dinner are most welcome to attend the meeting, scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

The agenda includes projections of the year's activities, focused on celebration of Interlochen Center for the Arts' 50th season in 1977.

Friends of Interlochen was organized in 1975 by alumni, parents of students and friends. Its purpose is to give the Center support and financial assistance, and to promote enrollment of qualified students.

It obtains revenue through fund-raising projects and contributions, which are disbursed where needed, (to the scholarship fund, to development projects, e.g.).

The internationally-known Interlochen Center for the Arts is a year-round operation. Its summer National Music Camp prepares young people for careers in the visual and performing arts.

The Interlochen Arts Academy, (high school level), offers a unique curriculum of arts and academic subjects during the winter season.

The Michigan Council for the Arts identified Interlochen in 1974 as one of six major cultural institutions in Michigan.

It is located on a 1,200-acre wooded campus 17 miles southwest of Traverse City. Both the Camp and Academy are non-profit educational institutions, supported solely by tuition, grants and gifts.

In charge of Friends' dinner arrangements is Mrs. Alfred D. Moran, of Prestwick road, who plans colorful table centerpieces of garden mums. Dinner reservations may be placed by calling her at TUxedo 4-4387.

Expected arrivals from Interlochen include Interlochen Center President and Mrs. Roger E. Jacobi and George J. Worden, director of Development.

On hand to greet guests will be the season's new slate of Friends officers, including Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Okuniewski, of Madison Heights, and Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Yee, of Troy, co-presidents; Secretary and Mrs. Robert W. Bradley, of Three Mile drive; and Mrs. Alice Callum, treasurer, of Birmingham.

Among local members are Mrs. Aldo Ceccato, of Pemberton road, Edward P. Frohlich, of Preston place. (Continued on Page 15) successful career diplomat. When, in 1813, Lewis Cass was appointed governor of the newly-organized Michigan Territory, he brought his young family to Detroit.

While he was developing treaties with the Indians, building roads, organizing townships and counties and laying the foundations for a civilization in the wilderness, his wife was creating a legend of hospitality in the historic St. Martin Mansion on the banks of the Detroit River, where Cobo Hall now stands.

The Mansion, so old that it was thought to have been built for Cadillac's arrival in the New World, was home to the Cass family. In it, Elizabeth trained her Indian helpers to smoke hams and fish, put down pork in brine, dry fruits and vegetables and prepare preserves and pickles.

She "maintained a very fine table," it was said. Testimony to this is the fact that newcomers to the wilderness territory frequently stayed at the Mansion for a day, a week, a month... as long as it took them to locate and settle in.

Along with her housekeeping chores, according to a daughter's memoirs, Elizabeth found time to read two hours a day. She was adaptable: when the handsome carriage Governor Cass had brought to Detroit was sold because citizens of the frontier community grumbled it was "too elegant to be used in a democratic country," Elizabeth and her daughters took—very well—to a rattling, two-wheeled cart.

Four of the seven Cass children survived, and married well. Their descendants include members of Grosse Pointe's distinguished Ledyard family.

The Cass name remains in evidence throughout the state, in parks and streets and byways, but Elizabeth and Cass Lakes are Elizabeth Spencer Cass's very own, christened in her honor by a devoted husband who recognized perfection when he saw it.

Miss Metes Bride Of Larry Channell

She Accents Her Paternal Grandmother's Heirloom Pearl Necklace with Pearl Earrings, Gifts of The Bridegroom

The wedding of Mariann Elizabeth Metes and Larry Parker Channell Friday evening, August 13, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church, The Reverend Hector Saulino presiding, was followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John S. Metes, of Webber place, the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson S. Channell, of Briarcliff place.

For her 8:30 o'clock marriage, the former Miss Metes chose a gown of sheer satin, styled with an Empire waist and cathedral train. Re-embroidered Alencon lace and pearls trimmed her scoop neckline, bodice and skirt front, and formed the cuffs of her long sleeves.

Matching lace edged her fingertip, illusion mantilla. She wore her paternal grandmother's heirloom pearl necklace and pearl earrings, gifts of the bridegroom, and carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis, Hawaiian leaves and ivy.

In cap-sleeved, open-necked frocks of apricot jersey knit, styled with inset waistbands, were honor attendants Arlayne Carson and bridesmaids Mrs. Allen Kilka, of Minneapolis, Minn., sister of the bridegroom, Sandra Badila and Julie Zaenglein, both cousins of the bride, and Jeannette Metes, the bride's sister.

They carried bouquets of apricot roses, white carnations and baby's-breath.

Dan Kuzma, a Theta Chi fraternity brother of the bridegroom at Michigan State University, was best man.

Ushering were two other Theta Chi fraternity brothers, Keith Pritchard, of Richmond, Va., and Scott Meyer, of West Lafayette, Ind., Joseph Metes, the bride's brother, and John Zaenglein, the bride's sister.

as in the forthcoming Detroit Chamber Opera performance, is as common as staging.

All Detroit Chamber Opera productions are in English. Admission will be $3 at the door, $2.50 for students with current I.D. cards. Parking is available in the Art Institute garage and, as the museum is open Friday evenings, early arrivals may stroll through the galleries before curtain time.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Mark Watson, founder of Detroit Chamber Opera, who will appear in the role of Adonis opposite Julia Broholm as Venus. Both are students of Eva Likova at the University of Michigan.

Mr. Watson can be reached at 882-9504.

Others in the cast are Carroll Strickland in the role of Colas, the shepherd in "Bastien and Bastienne"; Carol Petty, Diann Moskal, Mary Agnello, Lynette Gunn, Timothy Humphrey and Paul Edson.

She wore a wrist corsage of white cymbidium orchids, as did the bridegroom's mother, in a long, sleeveless gown and matching jacket of coral jersey, both accented with beading.

After a short vacation, the newlyweds are at home in St. Clair Shores.

The bride's uncle and aunt,

Mr. and Mrs. Florian Metes, traveled from Cluj, Romania, for the wedding. Other out-of-town guests were The Reverend and Mrs. Raymond Brooks, who came from Flint; Mr. Kilka, the bridegroom's brother-in-law; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swander, of Wadsworth, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sabo, of Grand Rapids.

Let's Talk Real Estate
by John E. Brink

If you are buying a home don't be shy! Every home for sale has an asking price and only the seller truly knows what he will accept. This is a phenomenon to people who study the intricacies of selling Real Estate. A seller who says this is a "firm price," some experts say, is the weakest seller of all!

There are events that have a psychological effects on almost all sellers. Sometimes it's a sad situation such as a death, divorce or loss of a job. Sometimes it's a new promotion, an unexpected bonus, a drastic upturn in the stock market, or even a big sale. What happens, we guess, is that the seller really only has an "idea" of what he wants and he firms up that idea when confronted with an offer.

This isn't to say that a firm price isn't firm or that a price is not negotiable! It is merely an interesting look at the value of an asking price set on a home. About being shy, we say let your salesman carry the ball with your offer. You are free to make any offer you please. If it's a low ball, chances are it won't go through — not even a counter offer. This doesn't preclude your making a second offer does it? In almost all instances the seller wants to get something going.

Don't be shy also about asking your Real Estate salesman if he can give you a one year warranty. If he tells you it's nonsense, we say call Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087 to see what their views are!

13—REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

A SCOTT-BUILT COLONIAL IN A CHOICE LOCATION

The two story foyer with curving staircase and balcony is a dramatic entrance leading to the formal living room and dining room. A large, sunny kitchen with ample eating space is the glamorous hub of the house. Completely carpeted, and furnished with Quaker Maid cabinets, it includes the finest of G.E. appliances, including double self-cleaning ovens. Sliding doors lead from the eating area to a canopied patio. A handsome paneled family room with fireplace and built-in book case, a first floor laundry area, and 2 half baths complete the main floor.

The lower level of this house can hardly be called a "basement". A carpeted stairway leads from the kitchen down to the games room. This 29x29 room has the ambience of a Spanish bodega. Rough swirled plaster and dark paneling set off the spanish patterned carpeting. Tiles, set in the plaster over the fireplace, depict a monk in his wine cellar. The wet bar is surrounded by dark wood cabinets. A handsome powder room boasting Spanish light fixtures and tile motif wall paper continues the theme. An adjacent storage workshop room is tiled and fitted with custom shelving. The four large bedrooms in this house each have a huge walk-in closet. The master bedroom is 13.9x16.10. It is connected to the master bath by a dressing area which features a built-in vanity. Three other bedrooms, measuring 13x14, 12x13, and 13'9x14'11, open off the balcony. The main bath has a huge linen closet and built-in vanity.

DO YOU HAVE A PENCHANT for white colonials nestled on a deadend street and with a view of the lake? Do you demand four bedrooms, each having a private bathroom? Do you want a large lot with mature trees? Must that next house have an attached garage and central air conditioning? Do you insist on a large library with plenty of bookcases and fireplace flanking the bay window which looks out to the lake? This one has it all. Don't you want to call us?

CHARM INSIDE and out is standing equipment in this magnificent, mini-estate in Grosse Pointe Farms. A definite European flavor prevails in this Tuscan villa with its high, hand painted ceilings and many stone and tile fireplaces. All main floor rooms have access to a secluded patio. 'Lighter Side' Series Starting

A cocktail buffet and cabaret performance by the "City Lights" company will be the curtain raiser to the Center's 1976-77 "Lighter Side" Series. The Cabaret will be held in the Center's Crystal Ballroom on Tuesday evening, September 28. The evening begins with a cash bar open from 6:30 through the rest of the evening and continues with a buffet dinner, (tax and service included), served at 7:30, followed by an 8:40 show for $14.50. "City Lights" in this, their first Detroit area performance, will present young singers and instrumentalists who mix the sounds of the past and present in a show that brings real singing back in style. They're here from a record breaking run at New York City's Radio Music Hall, the Jerry Lewis telethon, the Gershwin salute in Lincoln Center and stints in Lake Tahoe and major cities.

Following this curtain raiser the Lighter Side Series will present the Cleveland Ballet, November 23, the Four Freshmen, December 9, and Celeste Holm and Wesley Addy, February 25. All these evenings will begin with cocktails by subscription in a private home or club followed by sit-down dinners in the Center's Crystal Ballroom and performances in Fries Auditorium.

Police Find Stolen Auto

An automobile which was stolen from the parking lot at the rear of Saint John Hospital early Monday evening, August 30, was recovered the next day in Detroit the worse for wear, reported Woods police.

The complainant, a St. Clair Shores woman, said she parked her 1974 Ford around 3 p.m. and returned over three and a half hours later to find it missing. A police check of the lot for the car met with negative results.

Then the following morning the Detroit Auto Recovery Section called and reported the car was found at 5937 Concord in a vacant lot just north of East Grand boulevard. It had been stripped with three tires, the spare and the radio all missing.

And, yes, the ignition had been punched.

Police said on Wednesday, September 1, damage was placed at $934.86.

Some find it easier to please others than please themselves.

Energy Saved at Bon Secours

Bon Secours Hospital officials say a new energy conservation program there has saved about $13,000 in utility bills in the last four months of operation.

Their plan is aimed at cutting about $40,000 off the hospital's yearly gas, water and electric bills, according to Director of Building Service Joseph Catalio.

While there is no way to reduce the electricity used to run sophisticated diagnostic and treatment equipment, Mr. Catalio said an effort has been made to conserve on lighting and air conditioning bills.

Their target is a $10,000 savings on electricity alone during the first year.

Among the measures instituted recently were a shutdown of air handling units in non-patient areas at night, a delay in use of some equipment during peak demand periods and a reduction of lighting in corridors in unoccupied areas after hours.

In addition, the hospital is equipped with a complex system for energy recovery, according to Mr. Catalio.

Between 60-80 percent of all heat or air conditioned energy is reclaimed in the system before it is exhausted to the outside.

Pointer of Interest

SAXTON VOELKER, OF COUNTRY CLUB DRIVE

By Janet Mueller

"I have a queer mind," says Saxton Voelker. A better adjective might be: inventive. There was, for instance, the time she had new siding put on her house, and the workmen removed her flagpole holder. Came near the Fourth of July, and Saxton couldn't imagine a Fourth without a flag flying high . . .

So she built a flagpole, and put it up, and invited the neighbors over for a Flag Raising Ceremony.

Then there was the time she came home from vacation to find three inches of rock-hard, crystalline ice decorating her frost-free refrigerator. Most of us would have called—loudly—for the Repair Man, but Saxton took a look, between chipping away at the ice, for what had gone wrong, discovered a defective drainpipe, thought for a minute, remembered an aluminum pie plate, made a drainpipe tube out of the pie plate aluminum, and has had a trouble-free frost-free ever since.

It All Depends
"You find ways of doing things," she maintains. ("Depends," think I, "on the YOU.")

As Supervisor of Tellers at Detroit Edison, Saxton had to pull her workers off their primary jobs to help out when the mailroom got swamped. Sacks and sacks of mail would arrive, tons and tons, and each enclosure had to be separated from its envelope by hand.

"There must," said Mrs. Voelker, "be a better way." She began to experiment. Saxton's machine to open and sort mail, keeping the envelope and its contents together, ("Sometimes, the envelope is your only clue"), was accepted by the United States Patent Office on her very first try.

The Canadian patent for an Envelope Emptying and Contents Stacking Machine followed two years later.

Sort of Retired
Saxton is retired now, after 33 years' total service with Detroit Edison. "And I worked for the Detroit Bank for four years." She also took a 15-year Housewife Break, returning to the professional labor force with some trepidation. How will I do? How will I cope? Fifteen years is a long time . . .

She needn't have worried. Retirement is keeping her as busy as work. She's just put in a brand new garden, starting from scratch this year. It's a beautiful thing, a mass of healthy flowers against a bright green lawn.

The plants came through wintering on Saxton's back porch with flying colors, (literally). Knowing she was going to put in a new lawn and do some landscape re-designing, she moved practically her whole garden indoors last fall, set it out again in the spring, crossed her fingers and hoped.

She needn't have worried. Her Third Garden. "I always have gardened. I love it." This is Saxton's third garden. The original one was started before the house, when the Voelkers lived in a flat and were thinking of building. Their weights. Detroit Altrusa picked up the cost.

Detroit Altrusa's current on-going project is the Heartline homes for girls.

Saxton, a past-president of the Club, is currently serving as its ways and means and project chairman, AND as publicity chairman for the fall conference, bringing Altrusa women from Ohio, West Virginia, Michigan and southwestern Ontario to Dearborn's Hyatt Regency for a weekend of meetings early next month.

45 Clubs in District
There are about 45 clubs in the district. Between 250 and 300 women are expected at the conference.

"We have international projects, too," Saxton reports. Grants-in-aid of $250 to $1,000 are awarded to women graduate students from Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Middle East enrolled in colleges and universities in countries other than their own in which Altrusa is established.

Founders Fund Vocational Aid provides grants of $50 to $350 to women who plan to enter the labor market within 12 months, and who need money to brush up old skills or learn new ones.

"Altrusa's new international president, LaVora Conklin, is a member of our Club," Saxton notes proudly.

Altrusa conferences and conventions have taken Mrs. Voelker many places, from Montreal, ("that was great"), to San Francisco, from where she went on to visit Hawaii, ("That was GREAT").

Loaves To Travel
She loves to travel. Her most ambitious trip so far, ("That was GREAT!!!!"), was a 31-day European excursion highlighted by a cruise through the Greek Islands.

"We flew to Milan and traveled overland to Venice." On the way home from Athens, Saxton stopped at Dubrovnik in Yugoslavia, in Paris and in Madrid, flying home from Lisbon.

She doesn't do things halfway. She's currently president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Volunteers of America, another service organization. She's a member of the Women's Economic Club, serving on its hostess committee.

She says, "I belong to the Detroit Edison Boat Club, a fantastic organization—one of the best clubs on the river." Specifically, she belongs to DEBC's Sloop Group.

Made Own Patio
She hauled bricks this summer, transporting them by truckloads in her car, for she had a lovely railing left over when she re-designed her garden, and she thought a brick patio would go nicely with that railing.

It does. She learned a lot as a member of an investment club. Among her immediate future plans is a course on House Plants, for which she'll travel to the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

refrigerator as a bulletin board. All that lovely white space!

She's put up pictures of her children—nieces and nephews but nonetheless hers—and of her friends, and of herself. The pictures can be flattering, but beauty is not a prerequisite for hanging. "Hysterical" will do as well, especially if the subject is Saxton herself.

Cuts Across All Ages
The gallery cuts across all ages, for Saxton Voelker has always had lots of younger friends. And friends older than herself. And contemporary friends. And in-between.

The refrigerator door is a jumble of things that have caught her fancy, such as newspaper or magazine cartoons, and things that she needs to know, such as the Detroit Tigers baseball schedule, or a list of Detroit Concert Band performances.

Somewhat, it all hangs together. Like Saxton. She's a gen-u-ine, dyed-in-the-wool enjoyer, and we won't quarrel with her when she says her mind is "queer."

But a better adjective might be: delightful.

From Another Pointe of View

A Twelve-Year Mission

Twelve years ago, Ruth (Mrs. John) McNamara, of Touraine road, volunteered her services as instructor of a free course in the transcription of reading materials into braille books for the blind. She billed it as "an excellent opportunity for Pointe women who have wanted to devote some time to a really worthy project." She still bills it that way. She still feels that way.

This morning, Mrs. McNamara, president of the Braille Volunteers of Grosse Pointe, begins a new course in Braille Transcription at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

The course will be given Thursday mornings, at 10 o'clock. Although there is no charge for instruction, materials required will run approximately $15.

When lessons end, each student is given a manuscript to transcribe into braille. Completed manuscripts are sent to the Library of Congress, which issues Certified Braille Transcribers' authorization to all who attain an acceptable level of proficiency.

According to Ruth, and others who do it, braille transcription is not difficult. It is exceptionally rewarding. It can be mastered in a surprisingly short time by a conscientious student.

So . . . if you are a Pointe woman who has wanted to devote some time to a really worthy project, why not try Ruth's? The number to call for more information is 881-9566.

The Braille Volunteers of Grosse Pointe racked up an extraordinary amount of hours on their really worthy project this summer, transcribing 12 textbooks, consisting of 2,400 braille pages, (30 volumes), requested by individuals and schools in neighboring communities.

That's just during the SUMMER! The Volunteers and their guests will travel to Lansing Tuesday, October 5, to visit the Michigan School for the Blind.
