THE SWEEPING INVESTIGATION of South Korean political influence in Washington is focusing on the possible involvement of 90 members of Congress, senior government sources said Wednesday. They said the inquiry could become a major expose of political corruption. One senior intelligence officer said that in the "long run" such an inquiry could extend to other governments besides that of South Korea.

JOHN D. EHRLICHMAN, once one of Richard Nixon's closest White House aides, voluntarily slipped into the Swift Trail Federal Prison Camp in Safford, Ariz., Thursday to begin serving his Watergate sentence. The 51-year-old Ehrlichman is the first of three men closest to Nixon, and the highest ranking member of the Nixon administration, to be imprisoned. Still free on bond while appealing their sentences are Ehrlichman's co-defendants H. R. Haldeman and former Attorney General John N. Mitchell. Ehrlichman was sentenced to 2 1/2 years for conspiracy, obstruction of justice and lying to a grand jury.

HIGH CASUALTIES WERE reported Friday in Lebanon as bloody fighting threatened to demolish the latest Arab peace plan. Leftist Moslem and rightist Christian private armies hammered each other with rockets, mortars and anti-aircraft guns from Thursday night until nightfall Friday. More than 75 persons were reported killed and 110 wounded in and around Beirut before efforts by President Elias Sarkis brought a lull in the fighting.

THIRTEEN PATIENTS AT Northville State Hospital have developed infectious hepatitis and some 100 others have been isolated in their wards for fear they may contract the disease, hospital officials said Saturday. John Zugich, the hospital director, said the first case of the disease—an inflammation of the liver that is highly contagious—was diagnosed at the hospital 10 days ago and the 13th case was confirmed Saturday. All of the affected patients, 11 men and two women, are being treated in the mental hospital's medical care facility, he said.

A NUCLEAR POWERED research submarine has recovered a Phoenix missile in 1,900 feet of water 100 miles north of Scotland's Orkney Islands, where the top-secret weapon was lost when a Navy jet sank last month, the Navy announced Sunday. The missile recovery put an end to fears that the Phoenix, one of the most sophisticated and deadly mobile weapons systems in the world, might fall into the hands of the Soviet Union. Efforts are still underway to salvage the missile's mother plane, a Tomcat F14, which toppled off the aircraft carrier John F. Kennedy, September 14, during NATO exercises.

CONSUMERS POWER CO. has begun mailing almost a million checks—some for only a penny—to customers it overcharged during 1970 and 1971. The company, under court order, is returning money it collected improperly from electric and natural gas customers. While some refunds will be as small as one cent, a company spokesman said that an average customer with both gas and heat and electricity from Consumers will get $10-$15. Consumers have to return the money because it didn't reduce 1970 and 1971 rates when federal income tax surcharges expired.

Last of Great Estates to Be Preserved

Determined not to let her magnificent home be destroyed, as have the other great residences in The Pointe, Mrs. Edsel B. Ford stipulated in her will that she wished the mansion and 65 acres of land surrounding it, to be maintained for the benefit of the public. She directed that a $15 million endowment fund be established for this purpose, under the direction of her four children.

New Officer Joins YSD On Nov. 1

John Albrecht Looks Forward to New Assignment in North High School District

By Roger A. Waha
The Youth Service Division, (YSD), welcomed a new detective on Monday, November 1, when Woods Public Safety Officer John Albrecht was named by Public Safety Director Henry Marchand to fill a vacancy in the bureau.

A six-year veteran of the department, Det. Albrecht joins Det. Wayne Baum in the North High School district. He replaces Officer Stuart Gerow, who requested transfer back to the uniform division for personal reasons. "Officer Albrecht has over 200 college quarter hours in criminal justice next year," said Director Marchand. "Because of his educational background and the fact I do use seniority (in making such decisions), he was the most qualified officer."

Will Be Asset
The director added that Det. Albrecht, as planned, will stay in the YSD for four years. (Under the rotation system affecting division personnel, each officer named to the bureau stays a maximum four-year period.)

Stately Homes Pass Away, Ford Mansion to Remain

By Tom Greenwood
The Pointe has been the scene of a regrettable trend in recent years. With the passing of many of its more prominent citizens has come the decline and eventual destruction of their stately homes.

In the last five years, the Schlottman estate, the Gancy home and Rose Terrace, the 73-room home of the late Anna Thomson Dodge, have all been torn down. Before her death, Mrs. Eleanor Ford determined that her home need not suffer a similar fate. In her will, she decreed that her home at Gaukler Point, and the 65 acres surrounding it, would be presented to the public for charitable purposes.

Mrs. Ford Donates Her Mansion to Public for Charitable Purposes

Strong Belief in Preservation of History Main Reason for Decision; $15 Million Maintenance Fund Provided for Building But Definite Plans Regarding Utilization Not Expected for Two Years

By Tom Greenwood
A personal commitment to the preservation of history led Mrs. Edsel B. Ford to donate her 60-room Gaukler Pointe home, along with a $15 million maintenance fund, to the public for charitable purposes, according to her will.

The Detroit Institute of Arts, Mrs. Ford's grandchildren and great grandchildren and her employees were the major beneficiaries of her estimated $85-$90 million estate. At least half of the multimillion dollar estate will go to pay state and federal taxes, according to her attorneys.

Major Reasons
The demise and demolition of the great estates, especially Rose Terrace, the home of the late Anna Thomson Dodge, were major reasons behind her wish to preserve her home as a cultural landmark, according to Pierre V. Heffler, Mrs. Ford's attorney. "The destruction of Rose Terrace disturbed her," said Mr. Heffler. "She collected many books on famous homes and how they were utilized. It was important to her that the home, and the traditions it represented, be preserved."

The 60-room mansion, situated on 65 acres in The Shores, was completed in 1927 by master architect Albert Kahn. The home boasts over half a mile of shoreline and is maintained by a staff of 35 employees.

NEWS Gets New Phone System

In an effort to give our customers more efficient and quicker telephone service, the NEWS is in the process of having direct lines installed to its editorial, display advertising and classified advertising departments. New lines will be installed to both the editorial, i.e., news and society material, and display advertising, i.e., "picture" ads or ads other than classified material. Classified advertising, the subscription department, plus accounting and management, will have the same telephone number, (882-6900).

Our readers are urged to watch for further announcements regarding the new numbers for editorial and display advertising. At this time, the 882-6900 will still reach all departments.

School Board Meets Monday

The Board of Education will hold its next regular meeting Monday, November 8, at 8 p.m., at Ferry School, 748 Roslyn road.

Free Swine Flu Shots Scheduled

General Public May Obtain Inoculations on November 12 at North, South High Schools

Free swine flu shots for the general public will be offered at the North High School gymnasium and South High's Cleminson Hall on Friday, November 12, from 3-8 p.m.

Adults, between the ages of 18-60 years, who are not chronically ill with diabetes, asthma or heart trouble, will be immunized at that time. Persons allergic to egg will not be immunized because the vaccine is grown in fertilized egg.

Other Locations
Senior citizens and chronically ill adults, who missed the vaccine program in October at the War Memorial, can get the shots at Eastland Shopping Center, Kelly and Eight Mile roads, on Saturday, November 20, from 10 a.m.-6 p.m.

Seniors' and those with chronic illness will receive a special, bi-valent vaccine, guarding against both swine and A-Victoria flu strains. The general public will receive a monovalent vaccine which protects against swine flu only.

Vaccine for children between the ages of 3-17 years, who are chronically ill, will be available at three area hospitals, according to Wayne County Health Department Project Coordinator, Doug Vilnius.

The high-risk children will be inoculated at Children's and Mount Carmel Hospitals on Saturday, November 6, from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. and at Wayne County General Hospital on Wednesday, November 10, from 1-5 p.m.

Must Cover Cost
For those who have been waiting to get their shots from private physicians, Mr. Vilnius said that all doctors' orders for the vaccine will be filled by Friday, November 5.

Although private physicians receive the vaccine free of charge, they must cover the cost of administering the shots including needles, et al. Doctors cannot charge for the shots and some have refused to take part in the program. It is a good idea to check with your family physician beforehand to make sure they will handle the vaccine. Nutrition Plan On Horizon In GP Woods

Service Would Provide Meals Free of Charge to All Senior Citizens 60 and Over in Wayne County; Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church to House Program

By Roger A. Waha
A Food and Nutritional Program offered by Wayne County for senior citizens 60 and over will soon become a reality in The Woods thanks to the efforts of the city, its Senior Citizens Commission, the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church and officials of the out-county nutrition program.

Plans for such a program, which is under the auspices of the Wayne County Agency on Aging and is open to all seniors in the county, have been in the works since summer.

Before such a program became a reality, a location to house it was a necessity. This big first step was met when the session, (i.e., ruling body), of the church approved the use of the building as the site for the luncheon program. Judy Maghakian of the church staff is coordinating the service, along with Caroline Lewis, director of the out-county nutrition program.

Work Out Details
A specific starting date has to be selected and both ladies are scheduled to meet this week to work out further details. In noting the church wants to have the program on a six-month trial basis to see how it works out for all concerned, (although no problems are anticipated), Ms. Maghakian indicated this is the first program of such a dimension which the county has offered to the Pointes.

Meals are provided (five days a week) through Federal funds under Title VII of the Older Americans Act, said Mrs. Lewis. In noting the agency on aging is currently serving 31 sites in the county, she said all meals, which are free of charge, are nutritionally balanced and are catered.

While such meals are an important part of the program, Mrs. Lewis pointed out there's also an emphasis upon socialization with seniors having the opportunity to mix and meet new people. At the same time, she cited other services provided by the agency including recreational programs, legal aid, counseling, et al. Woods Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara, who (Continued on Page 2)

Correction

A story published in the October 21 edition of the NEWS viewing the pension plan change sought by Park policemen and firefighters listed pension statistics for the five Pointe police departments. The information listed for The Woods was not correct.

It should have read retirement after 25 years of service with FAC, (final average compensation), figured at two percent with one percent added for every year after 25 years until mandatory retirement.

Pointe Symphony to Open 24th Season November 7

The Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra will open its 24th season on Sunday, November 7, with a 3:30 p.m. performance in the Performing Arts Center of North High School.

Under the direction of Felix Resnick, the orchestra will present a program of five selections with guest soloist Donald Sinta playing saxophone in Glazounov's Concerto for Saxophone and Strings.

Mr. Sinta is presently on the faculty of the music department at the University of Michigan. He is a graduate of Wayne State University and U-M and has held teaching positions at Ithaca College in New York and Hart College of Music in Connecticut. Another musician appearing with the orchestra for its opening performance is Thomas Nester Scholarship Award recipient Janice Krell, who will play bassoon in the Pique Overture by Phillip. A reception follows the program. Mrs. Michel Skaff is chairman of the reception committee this year and is assisted by Mrs. William Bradley, Mrs. Henry Cope, Mrs. Leonard Hopkins, Mrs. Kenneth Jones, Mrs. Harold Lee, Mrs. Allyne Hatfield, Mrs. Lester Maurer, Mrs. Stephen Moreland, Mrs. George Sibilsky and Mrs. Ralph Urso. Hostesses will be Mrs. John Brabson, Mrs. Wilbur Bruckner, Mrs. Frederick Clark, Mrs. Alfred Epstein, Mrs. Ellwyn Gilbert and Mrs. Stanley Smith.

Vandalism Cases Few In Pointes

Cooperation of Citizens, Police, School Personnel, Plus Damp Weather, Play Big Roles

By the NEWS Staff
The Halloween weekend in the Pointes was relatively quiet on the vandalism front, according to reports from the five police departments and the school system. While a variety of incidents were reported in all communities, the volume, in comparison to past years, was smaller in number.

Besides steady police patrols on both Friday, October 29, and Devil's Night, Saturday, October 30, and groups of volunteer parents and school personnel at the schools, the rainy weather was cited by many in limiting the amount of destructive incidents on the 30th.

THE SCHOOLS—Halloween vandalism to the area's 15 public schools was minimal this year compared to the past, with one broken window at Poupard and a spray-painted door at Kerby the only reported incidents of the weekend. School officials credited their new stop-vandalism strategy, called "Project Pride," with putting a near halt to the malicious destruction which has cost tens of thousands of dollars in past years.

Under the first phase of that plan, parents, auxiliary police and Youth Service Division, (YSD), detectives kept a special watch on the school buildings all weekend long. The bolstered surveillance served as a real deterrent to the vandals, according to Assistant to the Superintendent, Dr. George Eddington.

He offered a sincere thanks to the parents who joined in, and denunciaries that boosted their patrols for the weekend. He added the kids deserve some credit, too, for putting a halt to the destruction.

THE WOODS—Public Safety Sgt. James Davidson said, "We had a real good complement of people on duty Friday and Saturday with overtime officers and auxiliary officers. We had participation from parents and had auxiliary patrols at each school."

On Sunday, the sergeant indicated the department also had extra patrols on the road, plus auxiliary officers. "There weren't that many kids out in comparison to past years," he said, an observation which was made by others, too.

As of Monday morning, November 1, no reports of tampering with candy given to youngsters were reported in the community. But the sergeant added, "It could be up to a week before any such reports are received."

The Woods received around 10 complaints on Devil's Night, with the majority being malicious destruction of property, (MDP), reports. These included the pulling up of a newly planted locust tree in Norwood road, plus some spray painting at the rear of Krieg Brothers, 19585 Mack avenue.

On Halloween Day, several MDP incidents were reported, along with one reckless driving case. In this, a car reportedly hit a light pole and ran across several lawns in an area in which small children were playing. (Continued on Page 2)

Pointes Report Quiet Halloween Weekend

dren were begging. One youth, in fact, told police the vehicle allegedly tried to run him down.

A pair of St. Clair Shores youths were apprehended by police with the case being referred to the YSD for investigation. No one was hurt.

YSD Dets. Wayne Baum, (North High School district), and Patrick Fagan, (South High district), both indicated a reasonably quiet weekend.

"There wasn't that much activity," said Det. Baum. "I worked Friday and Saturday nights and Friday was a big nothing." Noting there were no destructive incidents of any significance, he said there also were no problems on Halloween.

"All in all, with the weather being a factor, it was a very quiet Halloween period. And just in case it might be otherwise," Det. Baum added, "we were well prepared if problems arose."

Meanwhile, Det. Fagan stated, "It was very, very quiet in comparison to past years." Like his colleagues, the detective also patrolled both Friday and Saturday nights. In citing the damp weather, he said he patrolled the south end of the community and saw few youngsters on the street Saturday evening.

For those interested in the amount of leaf fires, only one was reported to Woods firefighters. This was on Friday and came from a Norwood citizen.

THE CITY — Halloween and Devil's Night vandalism have not been a problem in The City for the past several years, according to Chief Robert VanTiem, and this year was no exception.

Besides a few reports of minor destruction of private property, the weekend went smoothly for adults and youths alike.

Two auto windows, one at 405 St. Clair avenue and one at 842 Neff road, were reported shot out by B-B guns on Saturday morning.

Later that day, at about 3 p.m., a University road resident reported someone had thrown eggs on his auto.

On Saturday night, a Fisher road resident reported youths driving up and down the road throwing firecrackers out the window of their car and speeding.

Trick-or-treaters apparently had a safe Halloween as well. Chief VanTiem said only one woman called to say her four-year-old daughter had received a small piece of soap wrapped in candy paper at a City home.

The chief attributed the quiet Devil's Night mainly to the rainy, cold weather.

THE SHORES — The Halloween weekend passed with very few reported disturbances in The Shores this year, according to the public safety department.

Sgt. Stanley Otulakowski said that the relative lull in the reported activity of mischievous vandals this year was attributable to cold rainy weather on Saturday evening.

At that time, the only vandalism-related report involved a group of young boys who were observed by a resident of Briarcliff drive flinging eggs at houses and stringing trees and shrubs with toilet paper.

Officers Ronald Klotz and Michael Kenyon proceeded to the area and apprehended three local youths, who denied that they had been involved in the vandalism. They were subsequently turned over to their parents. A fourth boy also was encountered by the officers and was taken home. All four juveniles were 13.

A more serious incident involving Sunday night Halloweeners reported to the department concerned a yet unconfirmed claim that a group of children from St. Clair Shores were given candy bars with sewing needles in them at a Lake-shore road home.

The police are investigating this report further and are waiting for the alleged victims and their parents to return to the station to see if they can identify the house where the candies were reportedly distributed.

THE FARMS — Vandalism was lower over this Halloween weekend than it has been in years, according to police reports.

One resident, in Kerby road, reported that vandals broke a cement birdbath in his back yard, and removed a rubber mat from a trampoline and threw it into a tree. The resident also reported that obscene language was written in soap on his home's windows.

One citizen, in McMillan road, reported that a window was broken in his car. Damage to the window, on the driver's side, was put at $30.

Another home owner, in McKinley place, reported his car's windshield was broken with a brick. Damage was put at $125.

A house in Warner road was the target of vandals who threw paint and mustard-filled eggs at the front door, windows and side of the home. The home owner reported he saw two boys running from the scene.

Farms police later apprehended two suspects, 13-14 years-old, who admitted throwing the eggs. The boys agreed to help clean up their mess and make restitution to the home owner.

The Farms Fire Department reported three fire hydrants were opened on Devil's Night. The hydrants were located at Touraine and Beaupre roads, Vendome and Kercheval avenue and Ridge and Touraine roads.

THE PARK — Vandalism also was reported as being low in the city, according to Police Lt. Gordon Duncan.

Devil's Night destruction included youths throwing eggs on Lakepointe avenue, mudthrowing juveniles in Middlesex boulevard and smoke bomb throwing girls in Bishop road. No arrests were made.

One unusual event did occur early Monday morning, November 1. A woman reported that as she walked on Beaconsfield road towards Kercheval avenue, she heard running feet and heavy breathing behind her.

When she turned around, she saw a youth running towards her wearing only a ski mask. After the woman yelled for police, the shivering streaker reversed his direction, and ran off between two houses.

Park police are looking for the man.

Nutrition Program

helped coordinate efforts to get the program started, reviewed the steps taken in a memo to City Administrator Chester E. Petersen. (The council received and placed this item on file at its regular meeting Monday, November 1).

Steps Reviewed

In citing the recommendation of the Senior Citizens Commission that the city pursue a nutrition program, Mr. McNamara said potential sites in the community were evaluated to determine their suitability for the program. In this respect, the church was found to be most suitable and negotiations commenced between the church and the agency on aging.

Mr. McNamara noted final arrangements are now being made to initiate the plan, which will operate under the direction of the agency on aging and will be housed in the church.

"The city, therefore, will not be required to participate in the program from a financial or facilities standpoint," he added.

In viewing the overall scope of the program and the efforts behind it, Mr. Petersen said, "We're very grateful to the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church for taking on a community project. The city initiated the project to obtain the service for our senior citizens, and largely through the efforts of Mr. McNamara, we finally obtained it."

"Through the accomplishments of the city and the church, we have the program to offer to senior citizens."

New Officer

vacancy wouldn't be until June via the rotation system, Det. Albrecht said, "I'm glad to have the opportunity to go in. I hope I can be an asset, and I know I will be."

He's particularly looking forward to becoming involved with the young people. "I want to be more than a policeman to them. I also want to be their advisor, counselor and friend," he stated.

Having worked in the uniform division during his department tenure, Det. Albrecht said his new position will offer a challenge. In comparison to the immediate response which a road patrol officer makes to the scene of a crime, an emphasis upon investigation of an incident transpires in the YSD.

We have the initial response aspect as a patrol officer and there's really no follow-through on any given case, he said. Now, the detective will have the opportunity to deal with a variety of incidents from the investigative standpoint.

Enjoyed Experience

While he feels it will take several weeks to make the adjustments, he foresees no problems on the horizon.

In stressing that his decision to leave the YSD wasn't a hasty one, Officer Gerow stated the schedule of being in the uniform division was more conducive to his personal activity.

In this respect, he said he would have more off-duty time.

He also indicated there's an estimated $800-$1,000 decrease in salary for division officers as they don't receive shift differential or holiday pay.

At the same time, Officer Gerow will retain many pleasant memories of his assignment in the bureau. "I enjoyed it a lot. It was a great experience for me," he said. "But I had to weigh the personal factors... I had to do what I thought was best for me over a long period of time."

For her part, Irene Sutton, chairman of the Senior Citizens Commission, said, "I hope that people take advantage of the program. It was a most magnanimous gesture on the part of the church to house the program."

While noting the meals are free, she stated that anyone who wants to pay, may do so. But "we don't want people who can't afford to pay (in such instances) to feel uncomfortable," she said.

Another program plus, she noted, was the socialization aspect. "Senior citizens have one big thing in common — loneliness. And they often don't fix nutritional meals." With such a service, Mrs. Sutton felt both could be accomplished.

In a final note, Ms. Magharian stated while the majority of meals will be provided at the church, some would involve home delivery. She added a director of the center, plus an aide, would have to be hired, (the program itself also includes many volunteers), and those wishing further information on these positions should call her at 888-4300.

Flu Shots

Boy Secours Hospital officials report that 3,020 senior citizens and other high-risk persons were vaccinated at a two-day session held at the Center last month.

Many Volunteer

More than 100 hospital employees volunteered to assist Red Cross workers in administering the program.

Congress appropriated $125 million for the swine flu program in April, after the virus was identified in a Fort Dix army recruit who died in February.

Physicians became concerned when the new flu strain was found to be similar to a virus that caused the great flu pandemic of 1918-19, killing hundreds of thousands of Americans.

Foresight would be a greater institution if a great deal less of it was devoted to seeing troubles that never happen.

Glass in Candy Report Untrue

Farms Police have announced that the 7:30 a.m., Monday, November 1, TV Channel 2 news report that two batches of Nestle's Choco-Lite bars sold in this area contained glass are false and unfounded.

The batches of the chocolate bars thought to contain glass are batches 1344 and 1344A. The suspected glass is actually chips of honey.

"We received frantic calls from residents who passed the chocolate bars out on Sunday night, only to hear they contained glass on Monday morning," said Chief Robert Ferber. "The bars were analyzed by the state police crime lab and they confirmed the bars were perfectly safe. They contain honey chips, not glass."

A spokesman for the Nestle Co. said that 1344 and 1344 A batches of the candy were shipped to Chatham's, Krogers and A&P stores in this area.

"If residents are still suspicious of the Choco-Lite bars they possess," said Chief Ferber, "just take one of the chips and place it on a glass slide. Apply heat, and the chip will melt. No one in this area accidentally passed out contaminated candy." The news report was false.

The label on the Choco-Lite bars does state, "Milk Chocolate with Crisp Chips."

Status of Coors Beer Has National Interest

By Tom Greenwood

The best laid plans of beer lovers and radio personalities often go astray, especially when the State Liquor Control Commission is involved.

Despite the urgings of WJR radio personality J. P. McCarthy, WDEE disc jockey Deano Day and ex-Grosse Pointe Jaycee George Williamson, 405 cases of contraband Coors beer, the fabled light bodied beer from Colorado, will soon be destroyed.

The three beer "boosters" have been appealing to the liquor commission to allow the beer to be sold for charity, but it looks like their efforts will follow the Coors down the drain.

"We would have taken those 405 cases of Coors and thrown a fund-raising party, with the proceeds going to a charitable cause," said Mr. Williamson, a sales representative for N.D. Industries in Troy.

"But since we can't, we instead propose to throw a Stroh party at the Stroh Haus in downtown Detroit on November 29. Stroh's will supply some local brew and proceeds from ticket sales will go to 'Spalding for Kids,' a local charity."

Although the McCarthy, Day and Williamson tandem offered to pay the tax on the beer, the stumbling block to the gigantic Coors beer bust was the brew itself.

"As an unpasteurized product, it has to be kept refrigerated," said Farms Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem, who confiscated the beer from a Muir road home on October 13.

"It's been sitting in a heat-storage area of our police department. If anyone drank the stuff now, there's a pretty good chance they'd become ill. Nobody wants to be responsible for making people sick."

Confiscation of the beer has stirred more than just local interest. Newspapers from as far away as Texas, New Mexico, Florida and Connecticut have called Farms police for details.

"We've gotten a few letters from out of state people, too," said Sgt. Van Tiem. "One Connecticut man wrote we didn't have any brains and that pouring the beer down a drain was an atrocity."

"Another Connecticut reader suggested we sell the beer and put the profits into a police pension fund. Can you imagine what would happen if we did that?"

As of press time, the liquor commission still has not decided when the beer must be destroyed. But when the time comes, the job will be done with tender loving care, and sighs of relief from the Farms Police Department.

EXPENSES APPROVED

The expenses of Woods Councilman Conrad A. Naegel, based upon his attendance at the Michigan Municipal League conference in Lansing September 7-9, were unanimously approved by the Woods Council at a recent regular meeting. The total expenses were in the amount of $124.95.

Board Nixes GPEA Proposal

The Board of Education last week rejected the Grosse Pointe Education Assoc., (GPEA), request to settle its contract dispute with binding fact-finding.

It was the union's second request for a binding settlement of the impasse. In early October the GPEA proposed the groups enter into binding arbitration of the dispute. The Board also rejected that proposal.

Spokesman for the Board team, Dr. George Eddington, said that any binding settlement would "require the Board of Education to abdicate its legal decision-making authority."

He cited a ruling by Attorney General Frank Kelley in support of his case. The ruling concluded "boards of education lack statutory authority to agree to binding arbitration." GPEA officials disagree that binding fact-finding is illegal, though.

"A binding decision by a qualified third party would be in the best interest of the community, students and schools," said Curtis Lange, chief negotiator for the GPEA. "The fact-finding machinery is all set up. All that's needed to insure a contract is Board agreement to make it binding."

Both sides will meet with State-appointed fact-finder Dr. John Simpkins beginning Monday, November 15.

hi, neighbor!

Come Sunday, a group of Pointers will get together for an hour (50 minutes really) to investigate some of the things that bug us. You probably know someone in our crowd.

We've picked five different topics to get into. With the help of trained leaders, we'll trade ideas and experiences. We feel we'll all be better off in these confused times if we join hands... and minds and hearts.

Like in the old days, good neighbors are pretty special. Maybe we can help each other. Want to sit in?

Pick one of the subjects described below. Time is 10:30 for the five Sundays. Crib care and youth programs run concurrently. Worship before or after. You'll be specially welcome.

Everybody is somebody's neighbor.

Mansion Donated

With the exception of personal bequests, the furnishings of the home will remain intact, with the $15 million fund provided to maintain the home and property.

Mrs. Ford's four children, including Ford Motor Co. chairman Henry Ford II, were named as executors of the estate and will establish the foundation to maintain the home.

It should be one to two years before a definite plan for utilizing the home for the public good is established, according to Mr. Heffler.

Receives Paintings
The Detroit Institute of Arts, long one of Mrs. Ford's major beneficiaries, received five paintings worth an estimated $4 million.

The paintings are "The Annunciation" by Fra Angelico, "Madonna and Child with Cherubim" by Benozzo Gozzoli, "The Madonna and Child" by Perugino, "Portrait of Andrea Navagero" by Titian and a portrait of Edsel Ford, Mrs. Ford's late husband, by Rivera.

The five works of art were considered to be the key paintings in her collection, according to Institute of Arts director Frederick Cummings.

"They're of enormous importance, the rarest and most important paintings in any private collection in America," he said. "They will bring the standard of the Detroit Italian painting collection up to that of any in the country."

Four other paintings, by Van Gogh, Degas, Holbein and Renoir, were given, one to each of Mrs. Ford's children.

Divided in Shares
After the endowment of $15 million for the mansion, $45 million for taxes, the disbursement of the home and major paintings, Mrs. Ford's estate—a remaining $15-20 million—will be divided in 15 shares between her family and employees.

Each of her 13 grandchildren will receive one share, to hold in trust for their children.

The remaining two shares will be used to provide allowances and pensions for the 40-50 employees at her Grosse Pointe and Seal Harbor, Me., homes.

Woods Seniors Keeping Busy

Woods seniors are keeping a busy and enjoyable schedule, according to publicity director George Kaltenbach, a member of the city's Senior Citizens Commission.

The second seniors' meeting of the new season was held Thursday, October 21, at North High School and featured a focus upon the Neighborhood Club. The well-attended session was addressed by John Bruce, executive director of the club and trustee of the Board of Education, and by John Austin, club program director.

Following the speakers, a surprise to all transpired when the chairs were cleared away and the area was made open for dancing to the music of Pete Crachola, accordionist, and Dan Vinci on the mandolin. "They played for us, our songs, and believe it or not we danced—at least some of us," said Mr. Kaltenbach.

In early October, 45 seniors visited Mackinac Island for a colorful fall weekend, he noted, with shopping, bike riding, long walks and the Masquerade Ball highlights of the trip.

Mr. Kaltenbach urged all Woods seniors who haven't participated in the group's meetings and activities to do so. The group meets the first and third Thursdays of the month at North High from 3:30-7 p.m.

an endowment, so that all this may be possible."

According to Pierre V. Heffler, Mrs. Ford's attorney, she gave a great deal of thought to the preservation of her home.

"She was disturbed by the recent trend today of letting the great estates be destroyed," he said. "She hated seeing Rose Terrace being torn down. She determined that utilizing her home for charitable purposes would help save it."

While the home is to be used for public use, Mrs. Ford was wary of infringing upon the activities of the War Memorial, former home of the Alger family.

"She had great admiration for the War Memorial," said Mr. Heffler. "She didn't want her home to compete with it."

"I hope the residents of the Pointes, especially The Shores, will accept the home as a charitable institution. There may be a bit more congestion as far as traffic is concerned, but not much."

In her will, Mrs. Ford provided that if the future plans for the estate are impractical, if they do not meet with public and governmental acceptance, her executors are authorized to "abandon the plan, to sell the residence, (or tear it down), and sell the land for the best price obtainable, and to distribute the proceeds, the endowment, and all other property that otherwise would be distributed to said foundation to one or more charitable organizations . . . that her executors may select."

"There's really only one other consideration for the home if the public doesn't accept it," said Mr. Heffler, "and that's another subdivision, just like they're going to build on the grounds of Rose Terrace."

"If they're going to construct 24 homes on the nine acres of Rose Terrace, how many could they build on the 65 acres at Gauley Point?"

To Give Talk On Economy

Dr. Patricia Shontz, of The Park, will speak on the topic of "The Economy and the New Administration" at the Wednesday, November 10, meeting of the Detroit Chapter of the Planning Executive Institute.

Dr. Shontz is an economist and professor at the University of Michigan. She is currently a professor of Business Administration and director of publications at the Graduate School of Business Administration, U-M.

She is a member of the board of directors of Warner Lambert Co., Michigan Blue Cross/Blue Shield, Manufacturer's National Bank, the Detroit Edison Co., and Jacobson Stores, Inc.

FIRST TO FLY

Admiral Richard E. Byrd became the first man to fly over the South Pole on November 29, 1929. The plane he used, a Ford Tri-Motor, was named for Floyd Bennett, the pilot who had flown Byrd over the North Pole three years earlier. Today, the plane is part of the aircraft collection at Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

Your local realtor has all the equipment to "catch" the big ones and the small ones. Chances are he may already have someone on the line who will jump at the opportunity to buy your house. Your realtor knows how to evaluate a potential customer. He knows what the current money market is and where to find the best financing. His responsibility is to obtain proper title work, insurance and prepare the numerous papers necessary to close a real estate transaction. Why not talk to a member of the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Board about selling that property? He or she stands willing and capable to do the job you may think you can do. Diabetes Forum Set for Nov. 17

"Diabetes — Update 1977" is the title of a Public Health Information Forum to be held in the Peter A. Whyte Memorial Auditorium of Saint John Hospital, 22101 Moross road, on Wednesday, November 17, at 7:30 p.m.

The forum, sponsored by the Saint John Hospital Guild in cooperation with the medical staff of the hospital and the Michigan Diabetes Assoc., is part of a series of such forums and clinics on major health related topics held throughout the year.

These programs are offered without charge as a community service by the hospital to give members of the community the latest information on symptoms, diagnosis, treatment and control of major health problems.

Future programs will be presented on Smoking Withdrawal and Coronary Artery Disease.

Sister Verence McQuade, SSJ, assistant administrator and director of the Saint John Hospital Guild, and Michael C. Burke, president of the guild, will welcome guests.

Appearing on the diabetes program are James J. Aiuto, MD, who will discuss "What's New in Diabetes"; Myron Barlow, MD, speaking on "Skin Problems in the Diabetic"; Burjos Ghandhi, MD, who will discuss "Pregnancy Problems in a Diabetic"; Gordon Murray, MD, speaking on "The Diabetic and His Kidney"; and John McHale, RD, who will discuss "Nutrition and the Diabetic."

The speakers will present the latest information on diabetes, its detection, treatment and control. Following their presentations, they will answer questions from the audience.

Free tickets to the diabetes forum and information on future forums may be obtained by calling 881-8200, extension 547.

U.S. Ski Team Benefit Slated

A car, along with major kitchen appliances and color TV's, will be auctioned to the highest bidder at Ski Prix, the annual U.S. Ski Team benefit, on Saturday, November 13, at the Northfield Hilton Inn, 175 at Crooks road, Troy.

All proceeds from the party and auction will help support the U.S. team in training and in international competition — here and abroad.

A portion of the proceeds will be used in the Michigan Regional Division to develop and provide training for talented young racers who could well be tomorrow's Olympic stars.

The most successful Michigan U.S. ski team members, Cary Adgate and Mary Seaton, will be present at the benefit.

Following the cocktail party and auction will be dinner and dancing. For reservations, call 557-7777.

Mrs. Allen Edwards is the Grosse Pointe chairman of the event.

Society Seeks Group Contact

The education committee of The American Cancer Society, Branch I, which services the Pointes, Harper Woods and northeast Detroit areas, would like interested groups to contact the organization for their meetings.

Educational material on various types of cancer, male and female, is available and include films, literature, (pamphlets and books), and speakers. There also is a rubber model which simulates a lump in the breast.

For a large enough group, a breast self examination teach-in could be organized with examination and instruction by medical personnel.

Citizens are invited to call the American Cancer Society at Cottage Hospital to set up a meeting at 343-9006. Office hours are 9 a.m.-12 noon and 1-3 p.m.

DON'T GAMBLE

GP Woods Undertaking Sewer, Water Main Work

The Woods is currently in the process of undertaking a sewer improvement program and will now begin water main improvement work as the council at its regular meeting Monday, November 1, accepted the bid of the Troelsen Excavating Co. in the amount of $117,195.25.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said the improvement will include the replacement of deteriorating water mains and the looping of the water system. The work, which is scheduled for completion in the spring, includes the following:

- Replacement of the water main on Oxford road from Mack to Holiday; replacement of the main on Cook road from Mack to Holiday; replacement of the main at the old Milk River bridge at Hawthorne road; and replacement of the main on Hawthorne west of Helen.
- Looping of the water main on Jackson from Oxford to Kenmore; looping of the main on Helen from Brys to Ridgemont, and looping of the main on Helen from Holiday to Vernier.

John F. DeBusscher of Pate, Hirn and Bogue, Inc., city engineers, recommended that the bid of Troelsen Excavating Co. be accepted because their bid was lowest of the 13 considered and also because his office has had a previous working relationship with the company.

According to the city's specifications, the bid includes furnishing of all labor, material and equipment for installing a approximately 3,447 lineal feet of eight-inch diameter ductile iron pipe including all necessary appurtenances.

Meanwhile, Mr. Petersen reported that the Wayne County Drain Commissioner's office accepted the bid of the Mago Construction Co. in the amount of $93,602.35 for the installation of relief sewers in the Vernier Drain district.

This work, which will hopefully be completed within three months, includes projects located on Severn road; Broadstone road; Littlestone road; Cook road at Ida lane west; and Cook at Chalfonte and University Liggett School.

He noted that work has been completed in the following areas: Black Marsh Drain, east of Mack from Dorthen to Torrey road, at a cost of $37,000; Girard Drain, east of Mack on Roslyn road, $28,000; and Oxford road, near Holiday, repair and replace 110 feet of defective sewer, $8,700.

"In cooperation with Charles Youngblood, Wayne County Drain Commissioner, the city has been able to install relief sewers by utilizing."

A courthouse where Abraham Lincoln once practiced law and polished his early oratorical skills now stands in Greenfield Village, Dearborn. It was moved there from its original location in Logan County, Ill. Inside is furniture from Lincoln's Springfield, Ill., home as well as the chair in which he was seated on the night of his assassination.

Bad Driving Traps Youth

A 16-year-old Woods youth was pursued and apprehended by an off-duty police officer but not before the juvenile ran two stop signs and struck another vehicle, causing the car's passenger to be thrown outside. This incident occurred late Saturday evening, October 23.

The juvenile was issued a violation for reckless driving, resulting in an accident, and he's currently awaiting a hearing in the Wayne County Juvenile Court's traffic division, according to Youth Service Division Det. Patrick Fagan.

While visiting a resident in Allard road, Woods Sgt. James Davidson observed an auto, driven by the 16-year-old, drive over the front lawn of a home with its lights out. After making a tight circle over the lawn, the car sped off west on Allard. The sergeant told the citizen whose house he was visiting to contact the department and immediately entered his vehicle to give chase.

The youth went south on Bramcaster and east on Stanhope where the officer closed in, turned on the car's inside lights, showed the boy his police badge and gave several blasts on his horn. At this time, the juvenile attempted to push him off the road, the sergeant said.

He then went north on Mack and again tried to push the officer to the side of the road. The juvenile drove west on Littlestone at approximately 45 mph, running a stop sign at Eastbourne. He continued on Littlestone, ran another stop sign at Bramcaster and struck the car traveling northbound.

The impact caused the passenger, Gary Mallet, 18, of Detroit, to be thrown out of the auto and up against a light pole. He struck his head on the pole and received a severe cut on the left side of his forehead, police said. He was taken to Saint John Hospital for treatment for lacerations of the head, kept overnight for observation and then released.

After the collision, the fleeing vehicle came to rest about three houses west of Bramcaster in an undrivable condition.

ROYAL COPENHAGEN

Blue Fluted with plain border porcelain 5-pc. place setting $85.

We're proud Royal Copenhagen is now at Hudson's. Their dinnerware and figurines are known and collected world-wide. The hand workmanship and the distinctive deep blue in so many of their patterns are justifiably famous. And their history is long and grand—two centuries of artistic and public success. Blue Fluted and Blue Flower, two of the six patterns shown here, date back to 1775—and they're just as sparkling and lively today, also quite affordable. On the other hand, consider Flora Danica, originally commissioned in 1790 as a gift for an Empress. Every piece of it was then and still is hand-shaped, hand-carved and hand-painted. Each piece is signed twice, by the painter, and by the gold decorator. It's not surprising each piece is considered a work of art, and priced accordingly—a 10" dinner plate, for example is $195. A display of Flora Danica is at Hudson's, too—along with a showing of the magnificent Royal Copenhagen figurines, beloved by so many—in Hudson's Fine China, at Northland, Eastland, Oakland and Fairlane. See the Royal Copenhagen patterns we show here and more, for these are only a sampling of our selection, in Hudson's Fine China, at all stores except Pontiac and Southland. (Please allow 10 days delivery.)

Jewelry Store Hit by Thief

Two rings with a combined total value of $4,140 were taken from the Lochmoor Jewelry, 20926 Mack avenue, on Tuesday afternoon, October 26, reported Woods police.

The incident is under investigation by Det. Everett Plumb, who indicated the department has a suspect in the case.

Cpl. Gerald Kensora responded to the store and was told by an employee that the man entered and said he wanted to buy a $1,200 watch. When he was told the store doesn't have any watches of that amount, the suspect then asked to see some rings.

After taking two rings out of the show case, the man asked if he could hold the jewelry but the employee replied she would hold them. Then, the telephone rang and another employee went to answer it. At this point, the suspect grabbed the rings out of the employee's hand and ran out the front door towards Hampton road.

Shortly after, a witness told police he was driving along Mack when he observed the man run from the store, while placing something in his coat pocket. He ultimately entered an auto and went east on Hampton with the witness in pursuit.

After following the suspect for several blocks, he lost him in the area of Vernier road because of the heavy traffic. The witness added he wasn't close enough to observe the license number of the wanted vehicle.

Gets Probation In B-E Incident

A 24-year-old Detroit man was recently sentenced in Wayne County Circuit Court on the attempted breaking and entering of an auto charge, reported Woods police.

Eugene Charles Akins, of 847 Newport, was placed on two year's probation, assessed $330 in court costs and $250 in attorney fees stemming from the incident in July.

At that time, he was arrested after reportedly removing a CB radio from the car of a Detroit man at the Bonanza Restaurant, 20460 Mack avenue. He ran from the scene upon being discovered, was chased by the complainant and was ultimately discovered hiding under a house trailer by police.

North Wins 6th Straight

By Nick Manzella

The North High School football team won its sixth consecutive game Saturday, October 30, by blanking Roseville Brables, 42-0.

The Norsemen started slowly as two turnovers halted their early scoring efforts while the defense began strong by holding the Cougars without a first down in the opening quarter.

Near the end of the quarter, and after a penalty, North began to move.

While inside the five, quarterback Harry Gemund scored on a short run for the game's first TD. Karl Tech's conversion gave North a 7-0 lead.

The Norsemen opened it up in the second quarter. Following a short Roseville punt, Gemund hooked up with John DeYonker on a 5-yard scoring strike.

Less than two minutes later, Ken Humes intercepted his 10th pass of the year, a team record, to set up North's third touchdown. Gemund hit Paul Radman for 30 yards, and Dave Walz for 10, bringing the Norsemen to first and goal on the four-yard line.

Three plays later, Steve Arthur, returning from a first quarter injury, scored making it 21-0.

North added one more touchdown before intermission as Arthur broke loose 38 yards down the sidelines for his second touchdown.

Tech kicked his fourth straight conversion giving North a comfortable 28-0 halftime lead.

The second half, for the most part, featured the defense preserving the club's fourth shutout of the season while the offense added two more touchdowns.

The victory lifted North's record to 6-1 overall and 5-0 in the Bi-County League. The scene is now set for Friday night's match between the Norsemen and Lake Shore, currently 7-0, at Lake Shore. The contest begins at 8 p.m. and will decide the league championship.

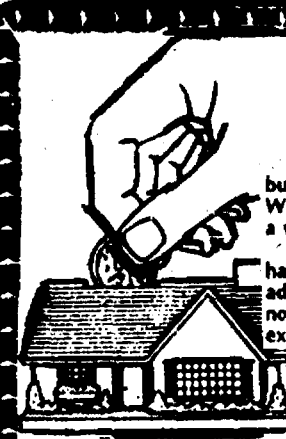

Last year, North and the Shorians were co-champions.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

The educational presentation at the Monday, November 8, meeting of the Board of Education, to be held in the gymnasium of Ferry School, 748 Roslyn road, will feature the elementary schools' science program.

Those responsible for the presentation, to which the public is cordially invited, are Principal John Rohrer and members of his building's staff. These professionals explain our system's SCIS (Science Curriculum Improvement Study) Program. They will set up six tables, each with a display of the scientific subject matter currently being used in grades one through six.

Members of the Board of Education will be invited to participate by doing experiments similar to those the children perform in class. "Doing rather than lecturing" is how Mr. Rohrer describes SCIS (pronounced "skiss").

What is the aim of the SCIS Program?

It is to improve student ability to observe, describe, discriminate, interpret, explore, apply and integrate raw data, and to test the validity of tentative conclusions using the experimental method.

Designed by the National Science Foundation, the SCIS Program is in harmony with modern concepts of teaching science, stressing process and the experience of being a scientist, as well as subject matter content.

SCIS consists of two major strands—physical science and life science.

The physical science strand that pervades the curriculum during the same period covers these topics: material objects, interaction and systems, sub-systems and variables, relative position and motion, energy sources, and models of electric and magnetic interactions.

The life science strand that runs first through sixth grades includes these topics: organisms, life cycles, population, environments, communities, (food transfer), and ecosystems.

Although the formal SCIS Program does not begin until the first grade, pupils attending our kindergarten classes are not deprived of the opportunity to grasp rudimentary scientific knowledge.

Kindergarten teachers devote a portion of the year's activities to discussions of weather and seasons, the environment, the human body and the senses, health, and living and non-living things, (plants and animals).

In addition to the required curriculum in kindergarten as well as participation in SCIS in grades one through six, elementary pupils in the Skills/Talent Program have six topics in which they may enroll to supplement and enrich their basic learnings.

They are "Man in Space," "Man in the Ocean," "It's a Small World," "Experimentation in Science," "Environmental Action" and "Behavioral Science."

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In the "Grosse Pointe News" edition of October 21, in a story headlined "Pointes Pleased by Prospect of Receiving Funds," some assertions are made that cannot go unchallenged. I am reminded of the thought that if a statement is repeated often enough, and remains unchallenged, it comes to be accepted as a "fact" regardless of its accuracy.

On a previous occasion, to wit on October 13, 1975, I had occasion to write to the "Grosse Pointe News" on the same topic: the basis for estimating population for revenue sharing purposes. The offending paragraph in the recent news story states as follows:

"This April the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, (SEMCOG), published a study which reported that the population of the five Pointes had dropped six percent."

"Though the revenue sharing office has declined to explain where they get their population figures, officials assume they are based on the SEMCOG finding."

The latter statement is simply not true. There is no "secret" as to how the U.S. Department of Treasury, Office of Revenue Sharing, estimates population for revenue sharing purposes. Anyone who would take the time to write to them would receive the same information which is at my disposal.

I am enclosing, in the hope that it will put this issue to rest once and for all, a copy of the Federal Register of Friday, July 2, 1976, wherein the Department of Treasury printed their methodology for estimating population for revenue sharing purposes at least up to this date. Some of the pertinent sections of this enclosure are as follows:

"The population of a unit of government for revenue sharing purposes is the resident population as of July 1, 1973, as determined by the Bureau of the Census . . . July 1, 1973, estimates of population were derived by the Bureau of the Census using a component procedure whereby components of population change are estimated separately and then added to the numerated 1970 census populations of the units of local government. . . . The components of population change are:

"1. Natural Increase, i.e., the excess of births over deaths: Annual births and deaths are compiled from state vital statistics offices supplemented by data from the National Center for Health Statistics . . .

"2. Net Migration: This component of population change was estimated for each unit of government by developing a net migration rate for the period between 1970 and 1973. The net migration rate was developed by matching IRS files of 1972 tax returns and 1969 tax returns. Thus it was possible to determine for each unit of local government the number of taxpayers who did not move, or who moved in or out of the jurisdiction between 1970 and 1973 . . .

In essence, the basis for population estimation for revenue sharing purposes by the Department of the Treasury are figures assembled by the Bureau of the Census from data supplied by the Internal Revenue Service, compiled from income tax returns.

I hope this will settle the point, but if any questions remain I suggest that you, or anyone else who is interested, write directly to the Department of the Treasury, Office of Revenue Sharing, 2401 E Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20226.

A copy of this letter, together with all enclosures, is being sent to each of the Managers in the Pointes.

Very truly yours,
Michael M. Glusac,
Executive Director,
SEMCOG

(Editor's Note: This letter was originally written to NEWS staff writer George Polgar Jr. and is printed with Mr. Glusac's permission).

Farms Takes Traffic Count

Motorists driving in The Farms, who have observed wires stretched across the roadway at intersections, need not fear being victims of speed traps—at least not this time.

The wires and the boxes to which they are connected are counting devices being used to measure the volume of traffic at intersections where there are signal lights. These figures are being compiled for a federal grant application for money to update all traffic signs and signals in The Farms.

According to Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber, efforts to obtain the necessary funds have been underway for almost two and one half years, and The Farms' bid to have traffic signs replaced has already been accepted.

"We have already gotten the grant for the street signs," he said. "The grant is set up so that the federal government pays 90 percent, the state pays five percent and the community pays the other five percent. All together just the traffic signs will end up costing between $80,000-$70,000."

Chief Ferber added the replacement of the signal lights would be considerably more expensive since the cost of a single signal light unit is in the area of $5,000-$8,000.

"What we want to do is bring all the traffic signals up to the present manual code specifications," he said. "Some of the lights we have now are 30- and 40-years-old. The manual code requires that there be two traffic indicators for each approach."

Michigan State University was the first American university to appoint a dean of international programs and conducts educational assistance programs in 18 countries in Asia, Latin America and Africa.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur Woodford
Chief of Central Library

"Although much has been written about Adolf Hitler, he remains a creature of legend, myth, and misconception." So states John Toland and in his new monumental biography ADOLF HITLER, (Doubleday).

In writing this long and impressive book, (over 1,100 pages in two volumes), Mr. Toland conducted 250 interviews with people acquainted with Hitler and unearthed previously unpublished materials from U.S. and British National Archives.

For example, Mr. Toland examined the dossiers of the U.S. Army Counter-Intelligence Command, including one agent's interview with Hitler's sister Paula; a secret psychiatric report on Hitler written in 1918; the recently discovered Goring-Negrelli correspondence of 1924-25 which sheds new light on Nazi-Fascist relations; the secret speeches of Himmler; and unpublished diaries, notes and memoirs including the revealing recollections of Traudl Junge, Hitler's youngest secretary.

By means of shrewd questioning and cross-checking, Mr. Toland has managed to provide a quite objective biography and to debunk a lot of nonsense that has been published about Hitler.

He writes that Hitler was never a paperhanger or a house painter, but he was once a choirboy who loved to read westerns and play cowboys and Indians; Hitler was plagued by a paranoic fear of cancer and by a genuine heart condition; he could type, drive a car, (barely), play the piano, (somehow), used an elastic exerciser to stay in shape, and, like Napoleon, had a photographic memory.

Hitler also was the first head of state to promote modern urban planning and anti-pollution devices in cities, and at least four women attempted suicide over Hitler and at least three succeeded, he notes.

Although he devotes a good deal of space to tracing the labyrinthine path of Hitler's anti-Semitism, Mr. Toland does not attempt any "psychohistory" analyses of his subject.

He does state however that the "Jewish question" was a long time obsession which directly or indirectly influenced almost all of Hitler's major political and military strategies; that Hitler was the central architect of the "Final Solution" and some of its methods were inspired by the U.S. Government's subjugation of the American Indian; that the Nazi laws defining "Jewishness" were carefully drawn to exclude both Jesus Christ and Adolf Hitler, who feared that one of his grandfathers might have been a Jew.

Mr. Toland has molded his disparate materials into a smooth-flowing narrative that focuses on Hitler himself at work and at leisure, and neatly keeps the summaries of military and political history in the background.

John Toland first wrote about Adolf Hitler in his best-seller THE LAST HUNDRED DAYS, (Random House), which was published in 1966. Many readers also will remember his last book, THE RISING SUN: THE DECLINE AND FALL OF THE JAPANESE EMPIRE, 1936-1945, (Random House), which was published in 1970 and was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for non-fiction.

Of his newest work Mr. Toland states, "My book has no thesis, and any conclusions to be found in it were reached only during the writing, perhaps the most meaningful being that Adolf Hitler was far more complex and contradictory than I had imagined."

Other books in our Library collection by and about Adolf Hitler include his famous MEIN KAMPF, (Houghton). It was written not as propaganda, but for the instruction of those committed to the Nazi movement. It is a significant historical document, written by Hitler, which tells the story of his life and traces the growth of his social, economic and political philosophy.

In HITLER: A STUDY IN TYRANNY, (Harper), author Alan Bullock covers Hitler's career and the role of Germany in World War II. Mr. Bullock's sources include the "German archives, evidence given at the Nuremberg trials, and countless documents, speeches, memoirs and diaries of men in close contact with the Führer."

Another interesting book, one that was classified top secret for more than 25 years, is Walter C. Langer's THE MIND OF ADOLF HITLER, (Basic Books).

This is the result of a psychological profile of Hitler prepared in 1943 by psychoanalyst Langer for the OSS.

In it, Langer outlines Hitler's various manias, phobias and contradictions, and catalogs his apparent strengths. He sees Hitler's career, clinically, as an "elaborate, defensive, psychosexual acting out of his deepest fears and self-loathing."

Woods Pays Six Invoices

The Woods Council unanimously authorized the payment of six invoices from the Recreation Construction Fund at a recent regular meeting. The overall total of the invoices was $9,451.73.

These included the following payments: Pate, Hirm and Bogue, Inc., city engineers, $2,381.87, for Lake Front Park storm sewer work; Pate, Hirm and Bogue, $850, for overall map of the park; Detroit Edison Co., $933.31, for the relocation of one pole; Ryerson Steel Co., $400.55, for steel edging; and Robertson Brothers Service Co., $350, for winterizing the swimming pool.

The final architectural fee payment, including additional services, to TMP Associates in the amount of $4,547 also was approved. It was noted that the firm's contractual obligation with the city was complete.

However, the municipality at this time is withholding final payment to Brenco Contractors, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said the firm hasn't satisfied its contractual pact with the city as some remaining "punch list" items still have to be completed.

Some of this work, i.e., in the pool and parking lot area, will have to be done in warmer weather. "We have letters of commitment from various sub-contractors who will make the repairs in the spring," noted Mr. Petersen. Until such work is complete, he indicated he wouldn't recommend final payment to the firm.

Group Hosts YSD Speaker

Proposed changes in the criminal justice system for juveniles will be the topic at Pierce Junior High School on Thursday, November 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Det. Wayne Baum of the Youth Service Division will be the speaker in this program presented by the Grosse Pointe Park Civic Association. Many residents of The Pointe have already heard Det. Baum discuss his proposed changes in state law, and it's hoped many others will participate in this program, especially since any potential changes in criminal law regarding juveniles affects all residents, says the association.

The meeting is open to all citizens.

The Phoenicians as international traders from about 1000 to about 500 B.C. were active in carrying foreign jewelry from country to country. In addition they produced native work based largely on Egyptian and Assyrian forms. They were among the luckiest of peoples, for through them the cultures of all countries were widened, and handicraft became even more expert through the communications of jewelry makers from country to country. Luckily for us today, out jewelry is created along the same principles of communication.

At VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, Detroit, 881-4800, we've been designing fine jewelry since 1934, but our perspective is on today and tomorrow. You can come in and tell us what ideas you want incorporated and we can custom make jewelry to suit your personal tastes and budget requirements. We can show you a drawing of your custom-made jewelry for your approval before we start to make the setting.

Since the Distinguished Women ceremonies were first held in 1970 in Detroit, 82 women have been recognized for their contributions to society. This year's event will bring the total number of honorees to 92.

Among those who have previously received The Distinguished Women's Award Medal, designed by Italian sculptor Giulio de Tamassy, and The Distinguished Women's Award Book, "the story of their lives" published by Northwood Institute, are advertising executive Mary Wells, Celanese Corporation corporate vice-president Dr. Dorothy Gregg and Dame Freya Stark, of Treviso, Italy, ranked with T. E. Lawrence for her work with the Arab world in World War II.

These are just "sample" names, to give you an idea of the sort of club this is.

Voigt-Books Vows Spoken

Kenneth Robert Voigt claimed Margaret Denise Books as his bride Saturday, October 9, at an afternoon ceremony in Allen Park United Presbyterian Church, with The Reverend Donald R. MacPherson, association executive of The Presbytery of Detroit, presiding.

The 4 o'clock rites were followed by a dinner in the Church Fellowship Hall.

The newlyweds are at home in Milford, where they are co-directors of Christian Education at the Milford United Presbyterian Church.

The former Miss Books is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Books, of Belleville. Mr. Voigt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Mrs. Voigt (Dorothy) was a social worker in the Grosse Pointe Schools.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta, styled with a scoop-necked, fitted bodice and a hoop skirt featuring a front panel and tiers of ruffles extending into a cathedral train.

Honor maid was Ruthellen Walters, the bride's college roommate. Bridesmaids were Mrs. David Buchele and Katherine Voigt, the bridegroom's sisters, both residents of Loveland, Barbara Schimmel and Susan Carlson, both from Belleville.

They wore floor length frocks of woven polyester and cotton, the honor maid's orange, two bridesmaids in green and two in yellow. Natural lace edged their square necks. Their sleeves were long and full, and lace inserts separated the tiers of their full skirts.

Their ripple-brimmed picture hats, covered in beige, orange, yellow and green chiffon, printed, featured ribbons and streamers matching their gowns. They carried identical baskets of dried yellow and orange strawflowers, green starflowers, statice and baby's-breath.

Best man was Matthew Sullivan, Ushering were Michael Seaver, Steven Harkness, James Harkness and Martin and Michael Books, the bride's brothers.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length gown of polyester jersey in an autumn print of brown, beige, orange and gold, and a corsage of butterscotch daisy mums. The bridegroom's mother selected a floor length dress and jacket ensemble of ice blue brocade, and a corsage of yellow daisy mums.

Miss Diedo Bride Of Mr. Bednarczyk

She Designs and Fashions Lace-Appliqued Candle-light Sata Peau Gown and Lace-Edged, Triple-Tiered Illusion Veil

A Papal Blessing was bestowed upon Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stephen Bednarczyk following their wedding Friday evening, September 10, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church. The Reverend Hector J. Saulino presided at the 5:30 o'clock rites.

They are residing in East Lansing while the bridegroom completes his studies in Marketing.

The bride, the former Marilyn Louise Diedo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Diedo, of Doyle place west, designed and made her candle-light sata peau gown, featuring appliques of pearl-beaded Alencon lace at the bodice, a scalloped, scoop neckline framed in lace, and long, fitted lace sleeves.

More lace bordered the hem of her A-line skirt and cathedral train.

She also made her triple-tiered, cathedral length, silk illusion veil, rimmed in matching lace and falling from a beaded lace Camelot cap. Lace appliques accented her shoes, and she carried the lace handkerchief her mother had carried on her wedding day.

Apricot and ivory silk roses, with pearls and dried flowers, formed the Colonial bridal bouquet.

Honor matron Mrs. Donald E. Diedo wore apricot Qiana, with a short jacket, and carried a brass cricket box filled with apricot silk roses and dried flowers.

Bridesmaids, dressed identically in peach Qiana, their cricket boxes filled with white silk daisies and apricot dried flowers, were Catherine Bednarczyk, the bridegroom's sister, Kathleen Cleary and Diane Cortis, cousins of the bride, Mrs. Gregory Sowulski, of Saginaw, Christine Shovin and Debra Snyder.

Miss Vaughan Will Be Bride

The engagement of Margaret Fenley (Wendy) Vaughan to Robert Brickman has been announced by her father, Henry F. Vaughan, Jr., of Merriweather road.

The bride-elect, who is also the daughter of the late Mrs. Vaughan, was graduated from University Liggett School and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing from Cornell University.

Her fiancé, son of Mrs. Ray L. Brickman, of Winter Park, Fla., and the late Mr. Brickman, received his degree in Hotel and Restaurant Administration from Florida State University.

The wedding is planned for November 27, in Coral Springs, Fla.

Flower girls Tamara Diedo, the bride's niece, and Theresa Keenan, the bride's cousin, wore frocks of apricot chiffon forget-me-not print over apricot crepe, designed and made by the bride.

Their small brass cricket boxes were filled with apricot forget-me-nots and dried flowers.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bednarczyk, of Dearborn Heights, asked James Butler to act as best man.

In the usher corps were the bride's brothers, Donald and Allan Diedo and Ernest Diedo, on leave from Italy where he is stationed with the United States Navy, Dennis Colensky, Michael Quirio and James Bowers, the bridegroom's cousin.

Set Pewabic Talk at Museum

Pewabic Pottery will be the subject of Thomas W. Brunk's illustrated lecture at the Detroit Institute of Arts Wednesday, November 10, at 8 o'clock.

Brunk calls his talk "A Background for Collectors," and speaks knowledgeably both as a former antique dealer and collector of Pewabic. He has studied the pottery intensively for the past two years.

His most recent projects are preparation of the pottery's papers for microfilming by the Archives of American Art, and a film script on Pewabic.

His lecture is a timely prelude to the major exhibition "Arts and Crafts in Detroit: 1906-1976," which opens at the Art Institute Friday, November 28. Brunk is a consultant for that show's section on Pewabic pottery.

"Pewabic Pottery: A Background for Collectors" is open to the public with a general admission of $1.50, (students with ID 75c), at the door of the lecture hall. It is sponsored by the Associates of the American Wing of the museum's Founders Society.

Juliette Primeau Wed to Mr. Shaw

They Are at Home in East Lansing after Vacation in Cartagena, Colombia; Bride Chooses Traditional Gown for Early Afternoon Rites

A reception at the Village Club, Bloomfield Hills, followed the Saturday, September 11, wedding of Juliette Louise Primeau and Joseph Edward Shaw, III, in Saint Regis Church, Birmingham.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Primeau, of Saint Clair Avenue, and the late Louise Mack Primeau, granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Primeau, of Grosse Pointe, and the late Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mack, of Lakeland Avenue and Clearwater, Fla.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edward Shaw, Jr., of Birmingham, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Horton F. Anderson, of Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Brogan, of East Lansing, all of whom attended the wedding.

Other out-of-town guests included the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Anglin, of Leesburg, Ind., her great-uncle Azel W. Mack, of Cambridge, Mass., her cousins Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Anglin, of Wabash, Ind., Mrs. William E. Beckham, Jr., of Miami Beach, Fla., and Mrs. Charles U. Slick, of Atlanta, Ga., and her godfather, Chester E. Homer, Jr., of Wellesley, Mass.

Brogan, of Dover, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Shaw, of Paris, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Leeds, of Albion, and Mr. and Mrs. John R. Lapelle, of Midland.

For the rites at which Father Howard L. Vogan presided, the former Miss Primeau chose a traditional white gown, scoop-necked and short-sleeved, its Empire bodice accented with applique lace flowers. Her A-line skirt, extending into a short train, was trimmed with bands of matching lace, and lace flowers edged her shoulder length, lace mantilla.

She carried Eucharis lilies with accents of baby's breath and ivy, gift of Mrs. Robert L. Melick.

Her attendants were in rust orange polyester knits styled with deep V-necklines and spaghetti straps, and matching, long-sleeved jackets. They carried straw baskets, trimmed with yellow ribbon and filled with orange Zorina Sweetheart roses and yellow daisies.

Honor maid was Mary Katherine Shaw, the bridegroom's sister. Bridesmaids were Kathryn Sue Eddy, of Pontiac, Marjorie Price Rothman, of White Plains, N.Y., Marjorie Lynn Sultzman, Margaret Anne Elliott and Margaret Susan Shaw, another sister of the bridegroom.

Best man was James Marshall Sinks. Ushering were William Marshall Potter, Fredric Alan Maxwell, of Albion, Robert William Lyle, Michael Glen Sandlin and John Robert Shaw, the bridegroom's brother.

Mrs. Primeau wore a long, pale peach knit, its turtle-necked bodice and matching jacket edged with peach knit lace. Pink cymbidium orchids formed her corsage.

The bridegroom's mother selected an emerald green polyester knit shirtwaist, styled with a wide, tie belt and long, flowing skirt. White cymbidium orchids formed her corsage.

The newlyweds vacationed in South America, in Cartagena, Colombia. They are making their home in East Lansing.

Introducing . . . the Sensor Perm System. We've got comput-ers to do almost everything else for us—why not one to help curl your hair?

The Sensor Perm (marketed by Revson-Realistic Professional Products, Inc.) is being installed in Intercoiffure America salons across the country. Locally the technique is being used at the Bart Edmond Salon in Grosse Pointe Woods, one of eight Intercoiffure salons in Michigan.

According to owner Edmond, the system is actually a tool to correct the variables involved in what he says can be the "hit and miss" process of getting a per-mament. Edmond states that timing, moisture, pH acid balance, and the hair's cuticle and cortex are under control with the new sys-tem.

"It'll take the same amount of time to give a regular perma-nent," he explains. "But this system guarantees the hair will have a good body wave and there will be no fuzziness."

Edmond says while other per-mament techniques rely on visual accuracy, the new process combines solid state electronics, acid pH chemistry, and professional expertise to achieve perfect tim-ing each time.

The system includes three ma-jor components: sensor perm in-strument, probe and chemistry. And Realistic representatives say that they consider the real breakthrough to be the electron-ic monitoring and controlling of the perm processing because the operator is signaled at the pre-cise fraction of a second when perfect processing has been achieved.

After the beautician classifies the type and quality of the cus-tomer's hair, he or she prepares the hair by shampooing it. The hair is wrapped while wet (not dripping) and when completed is sprayed with a fine mist of water.

The test rod is placed at the highest position on the head and this rod is wrapped in the usual manner. The Sensor probe is hooked into the test rod so it doesn't move or shift and it must be touching the hair.

Information is fed back to the Sensor Perm instrument when the Sensor Perm probe touches the hair and lotion. By using this, the hairdresser doesn't have to take a test curl.

After the curling lotion is mixed, a plastic cap is applied and clipped shut. The Sensor Perm dials are then set to bleached, tinted, normal or resistant (strong hair with little porosity, closely aligned, hard cuticle, firm finish that resists penetra-tion), according to the hair type determined in the evaluation.

Edmond explains that just as with any permanent, the Sensor should not be applied to hair that's obviously breaking, ex-tremely over-porous, or has been recently bleached or tinted.

The hair's porosity — which influences its ability to absorb fluids—has also been checked in the pre-perm evaluation and now a porosity compensator dial is also set according to the test results.

The patron is placed under a dryer that has not been pre-heated. The dryer will turn off and on throughout the perming process and the customer should not leave the dryer until the buz-zer sounds to indicate processing is complete.

Once the processing is started, Realistic says there is nothing more for the operator to do until the buzzer sounds. When it rings the patron's plastic cap is re-moved and hair is rinsed in hot water for two minutes.

Neutralizer is applied, left for five minutes, then the rods are removed. The solution is moved thoroughly through the hair and then completely rinsed out. Bond fortifier and deodor-ant is applied as the final step before styling.

Edmond and Realistic say the system has been tested and "meets rigid standards for per-formance and reliability." The operators are also instructed to be aware of indicators of any system malfunction. At his salon, Edmond says all his stylists using the new pro-cess must attend at least two instructional workshops in the system's operation.

Ralph's long hair about to be restyled together with a new computerized permanent wave. This Sensor Perm instrument is classified as the "electronic brain" of the system since it scans and controls every moment of perm processing. The system's other major components are the probe and its chemistry. The Edmond Salon in Grosse Pointe Woods is one of eight salons in Michigan using the Sensor Perm system.

Mackinac Island Setting for Rites

Heirloom Gown Is Worn by Phyllis Gail Cox As She Speaks Marriage Vows to Gregory Keith Steiner

The little stone church on Mackinac Island was the setting Saturday, September 18, for the wedding of Phyllis Gail Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smallwood Cox, of Grayton road, and Gregory Keith Steiner.

The 3:30 o'clock rites at which John O'Connor presided were followed by a reception at the Island House Hotel.

The newlyweds vacationed at Taguamenon Falls, and are making their home on Mackinac.

The bride was a third generation member of her family to wear a gown of white antique slipper satin, its long train appliqued with her grandmother's lace. Insets of matching Alencon lace detailed the sleeves and front of the gown.

Her veil was of Brussels lace. Baby's-breath rimmed her traditional bridal bouquet, with its accent of roses. Ruffles accented the sleeves, necks and pockets of the cream knit frock worn by honor matron Mrs. Armin Porter and bridesmaids Sandy, Jeanne Marie and Jacqueline Bell Cox, sisters of the bride, and Mary Anne Chartrand.

Best man was Michael Emmons, of Mackinac Island. Tom Doughty, of Chicago, Robert Steiner, of Bluffton, O., Tom Marks and Jack Hollingsworth, both of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., ushered.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Even B. Steiner, of Bluffton, O.

The bride's mother's ecru lace shirtwaist featured a tapestry belt. The bridegroom's mother wore floral-printed Qiana.

DRC Planning Windsor Day

Members and guests of the Detroit Review Club will travel to Canada next Tuesday, November 9, for a noon luncheon at Windsor's Holiday Inn, and a program by internationally-known jeweler Pearce Lettner.

Miss Vera Brown, DRC president, will act as official hostess. Mrs. Aaron E. Wilcox, of Loraine road, will introduce Mr. Lettner, who designs and manufactures silverware for all Canadian Government Official Residences abroad, and is known to museums and collectors around the world.

A jeweler for 35 years, with offices in Milan, Italy, London, England, and Paris, France, as well as Windsor, he studied gemology in London and design in Paris.

Many Pointe socialites own pieces of jewelry once owned by Royal Families, collected by Mr. Lettner. His personal collection includes pieces from Princess Beatrix, the Marquis of Carisbrook and the late Duchess of Kent.

Born under the sign of Cancer, Mr. Lettner will tell about jewels appropriate for each Sign of the Zodiac. He will also focus on stories of specific jewels, and will bring part of a fabulous collection of 18th and 19th century antique jewels to show the DRC ladies.

Interested in gourmet cooking and a collector of paintings and objects d'art as well as jewels, Mr. Lettner is past-president of the Art Gallery of Windsor and the National Ballet of Canada. He has served as chairman of the advisory boards of both the Art Gallery and the National Ballet.

Mrs. Gilbert Bland and Mrs. Frederic Beddow are taking luncheon reservations. Among Pointers who have already made them are Mrs. A. Edmond Allan, Mrs. Allyn Litchfield, Mrs. Otto Robert Neumann, Mrs. Betty Priestman, Mrs. Robert Auld, Mrs. Charles Brundie, Mrs. William Howard, Mrs. Francis Quigley, Mrs. H. Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Terms of home mortgages have lengthened substantially. Conventional institutions lend for 20 years or more. FHA insured mortgages on new homes for 35 or 40 years. Long-term mortgages allow some families with relatively low income to become homeowners. They enable some to buy more expensive houses than would otherwise be possible. They may make it easier to sell a house when necessary, because buyers may be attracted by a long-term mortgage and a small cash down payment.

GP Lions Win Three Games

The Lions varsity didn't use any tricks to get its treats on Halloween afternoon as they ran over the Sterling Heights Chargers, 26-0.

The defense allowed only two first downs, both on penalties, as they registered their first shutout of the year. A pass interception by Steve Root, returned for a TD, and a blocked punt, highlighted the defense effort.

The defensive line play was spearheaded by John Gregg, Ken Hawk and Joe Leto, with fine hitting from Bill Ratsch, Scott Strzempek, Eric MacMichael and Gregg Rivard.

The offense moved the ball well with solid blocking from John Tien, Pat Fleming, Bernie Van Antwerp and Brian Connors. The running of John Strabel, who scored twice, Harry Constant and Brian Carrion kept control of the ball the majority of the game.

The final game of the season pits the Lions against the Grosse Pointe Red Barons, Board members Jill Bevier and Ginger and Karl Barr invite all Lions fans to watch the game at South High School on Sunday, November 7.

The first game will start at 12 noon.

Co-chairpersons Andrea Reeder and Tom Gibney are expecting a large turnout for the Lions awards banquet on Monday, November 8, at 6 p.m. at the Gourmet House in Jefferson avenue.

They ask that all parents who have not made reservations contact one of them immediately.

The Lions junior varsity squad downed the Chargers JV, 7-0. The Lions scored on a sustained drive over the left side of the line during the first half.

Offensive coach Ron Gorman said the offensive charge was spearheaded by the outside sprinting of Steve Suminski and the powerful inside running of John Kline. He particularly praised the sustained blocking of linemen Paul Gormley, Dave Desmyter, Jeff Bodkin and Steve Carrier.

Special teams coach Skip Caverly gave praise to the punting of Kurt Allen and the extra hustle of linemen Hal Brown and Jeff Payset on the punt coverage.

Defensive coach Ron Hauser complimented the line penetration of Craig Clark, Matt Lutz and Sean Caverly.

He singled out the extra effort by Steve Carrier and Mark Hauser, who blocked the Chargers' punts. The quick reactions of linebackers Robb Coddens, Don Walsh and Spence Weidig stopped the running of the Chargers all afternoon.

The Lions freshmen began the perfect day as they came from behind to fashion a 7-6 win.

Paul Hawk, Steve Reynolds and Pete Kohut were instrumental in opening the large holes for Lions backs Shawn Whelan, Darren Desmyter and Jim Wade on long drives.

Jud Kotas, Kirk Bevier, Sean Sullivan and Mike Fleming made key blocks on the game winning extra point.

Colin Barr, Todd Brookes, John Ratsch, Mike Grow and Dan Kohut continually penetrated the Charger offensive line giving linebackers John Moffitt and Jeff Kline clear shots at stopping the Charger running backs.

Troy Brown and Chuck Pentecost also made key contributions on defense as John Tavery handled the Chargers deep passing attempts from his defensive halfback position.

Park Zoning Law Change Requires Public Hearing

By James J. Njaim

The Park Council at its regular meeting Monday, October 25, authorized its city attorney to prepare an amendment to the off-street parking ordinance which would permit construction of a municipal parking lot at the southeast corner of Jefferson and Lakepointe.

A public hearing on the law change is planned in the future.

City Manager Robert A. Slone said the lots are still in a residential area and are zoned residential, not commercial.

There is nothing in the law

Survival Trip Set by Club

The Neighborhood Club is sponsoring a Wilderness Survival Training course in Highland State recreation area Friday-Sunday, November 12-14.

The program is an elementary but rigorous weekend of instruction in basic survival skills such as shelter construction, clothing, map and compass reading identifying wild edibles.

Other skills offered in this outing open to students from grades seven through 12, are fire building, trapping techniques and emergency first aid. Professionals from Round River Adventures will be the instructors for the course, while Neighborhood Club staff will chaperone.

According to program director John Shaheen, participants need only a warm sleeping bag, a change of clothes, a ball of twine and a pocket knife.

"Nothing else is needed or allowed," said Mr. Shaheen. "The teens will be learning how well they can get along without the usual assortment of camping gadgets."

The fee for the weekend is $25, which includes meals, instruction and transportation from the club. A current membership also is required. There are separate sections for junior and senior high school students, with a limit of 10 students in each section.

A place may be held with a $10 non-refundable deposit. More information may be obtained by calling the club at 885-4600.

Recycle Cans At Eastland

With Thanksgiving approaching, Detroit residents will be given the extra opportunity to recycle aluminum for 15 cents a pound with the Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Co.

All of the extra cooking including the traditional turkey which oftentimes is baked in aluminum foil, plus more beverages being consumed, can mean extra money for those who save these aluminum household items and turn them in to a Reynolds mobile unit truck.

In October, Detroit area residents turned in nearly 29,000 pounds of aluminum cans and other clean household aluminum, and received more than $4,000 for their efforts.

The Reynolds Metals Co. subsidiary pays 15 cents a pound for all-aluminum cans and other clean household aluminum such as pie plates, aluminum foil, frozen food and dinner trays, dip, pudding and meat containers.

Certain other items, including aluminum siding, gutters and aluminum storm door and window frames, and lawn furniture tubing are also worth 15 cents a pound if properly prepared.

This aluminum must be free of all foreign materials, cut to length not exceeding three feet and should not be mixed with aluminum cans. The mobile unit will visit The Pointe area every Tuesday, November 9, 16, 23 and 30, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the Eastland Shopping Center, Kelly and Eight Mile road.

Soccer Finals Slated by Club

The Neighborhood Club fall soccer program has been popular with the youth of the Grosse Pointe area with 270 players participating in league play, while 325 attended the soccer clinic.

The finals of the fifth and sixth grade league and seventh and eighth grade league will be played Saturday, November 6, at Brownell Middle School, at 1 p.m. and 2 p.m., respectively.

The world accepts the rule of gold rather than the gold rule.

to indicate that the property is now owned by the city. Only a slight change in the zoning ordinance can mean that the city can go ahead with construction of the lots for off-street parking because they abut commercial property.

Deputy City Attorney Herold Deason said this would be legal under the ordinance and the slight change, indicating that the lots belong to the city, would still not remove the land from the residential zoning district, even with the lots converted for parking.

Mr. Deason concurred with Mr. Slone that the change will not mean that the lots will be zoned commercial.

Mr. Slone pointed out it was too late to start the project because of the weather. This will have to wait until spring.

It was disclosed at the

GP Red Barons Drop 2 Games

The Grosse Pointe Red Barons played host to the Sterling Heights Vikings at North's Memorial Field on Sunday, October 31. It also was Parent's Day for the Red Baron faithful, as each player presented his parents with a gift of appreciation during ceremonies held before each game.

The junior varsity crushed the Vikings, 46-7. The passing of Craig Haase with the power of Bill Crow and the quickness of Jim Strong were too much for the defense.

Scott DeClaire and Strong netted two TDs and Crow, Brian Hopp and Ken Sanders each scored one to account for the total. Brian McGovern and Crow added the PATs to complete the scoring.

The offensive line of Buddy Marzejon, Scott Cooper, Willie Jackson, Sam Abdo, Mike Hall, Tom Cobau, Jim Seagram, David Babcock and Hopp provided excellent blocking along the line of scrimmage.

Mike Marasco recovered a fumble to pace the defense. John Fischer, David Fitzsimmons, Chris Turzak and Mike Bartoszewicz combined to hold the Viking horde in check.

WINS SERVICE AWARD

Lewis A. Rockwell, of The Farms, an attorney and director and trustee of the National Assoc. of Investment Clubs, was recently honored for distinguished service in the field of investment education by the Investment Education Institute of the National Assoc. of Investment Clubs at the closing banquet of the World Congress of Investment Clubs in Washington, D.C. Mr. Rockwell was cited for his belief in the importance of investment education, his legal skills and his personal energy, integrity and dedication in over two decades of service.

In the freshmen game, the Vikings ransacked the Red Barons, 20-12. The Baron offensive unit played well despite a glaring difference in physical size. Cedric Patmon and Brett Augsberger each tallied a TD to account for the scoring.

Chris Bingamen, Phillip Garner, Greg Fleming, Greg Lambrecht and Chris Piche played valiantly for the Red Baron defense in a losing cause.

Darryl Chauvin scored two TDs and two PATs, and Jamie Keough added one TD to lead the Red Baron varsity to a 20-0 victory. Craig Stafford, playing his first game at QB, showed he could do the job as he ran the offense as though he had designed it.

Tim Labadie and John Bautista each intercepted a pass to spark the defense. Brad Kangas, David Roland, Matt Lehmann, Marty Frisbee, Scott Eaton and Kyle Kurtz played excellent defensive football. Lehmann also recovered a fumble to set up the second TD.

The final game of the day pitted the Red Baron Whites against the Black Knights of St. Clair Shores. The Red Barons came out on the wrong end of a 21-0 score despite the poised leadership of Baron QB Michael LaRue.

The offensive line of Todd Kniesel, Jay Haase, Chris Meda, Chris Langley and Steve Williamson had another fine day for the Barons.

Gary Meda, Jeff Stephens and Pat Mahan spearheaded a defense that played well even though allowing three TDs.

The season finale for the Red Barons will be Sunday, November 7, against the Grosse Pointe Lions at South High School. Game time is upon followed by the junior varsity and varsity games. The Red Baron Whites will complete their season against the Northeast Detroit Shamrocks at Northeast Detroit.

HW Rotarians Slate Brunch

The Rotary Club of Harper Woods is sponsoring its "Annual Pancake Brunch" on Sunday, November 7, at the Harper Woods Community Center, 19748 Harper avenue, from 9 a.m.-1 p.m.

It will feature pancakes, all you can eat, sausages and a beverage. It is the repeat of last year's popular brunch, and is designed to satisfy the most hungry after-church goers, after-game golfers and pancake lovers.

Tickets are $1.75 per person and may be purchased at the door.

The brunch will help the Rotary Club continue the services they have given over the past 17 years such as dental, medical and eye care to needy children, wheelchairs to needy citizens, college scholarship fund, annual awards to school children for safety slogans, $4,000 for the Harper Woods Kennedy Library, plus others.

For further information, call Al Thoms at 881-2378. Nine Pointers are reportedly club members.

WATERSON APPOINTED

Detroit Bank and Trust has announced that Park resident James R. Waterson, vice-president and officer-in-charge of the metropolitan division of the bank's commercial loan department, has been appointed the representative for Robert Morris Associates to the newly formed inter-association committee on bank accounting.

MRS. ROBERT H. KENNEDY, OF TROMBLEY ROAD

By Janet Mueller

She's out of the kitchen at last. In a manner of speaking, that is: for though Shirley Kennedy is chairman of committees for the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries' 29th Annual Antiques Market and Sale, she's found time to direct the canning of 308 pints of Chili Sauce at Goodwill's Brush Street plant, to make dessert plums and stewed tomatoes.

She's helped out on other canning bees at the plant. "We expect to have over 3,500 items for sale in our Pantry Shelf this year."

Many are new items. Many are the homemade jams, jellies, pickles, relishes, salad dressings and spaghetti sauce for which the Junior Goodwill is famous.

A separate Bakery Counter will feature homemade pies, cakes, breads, et al.

Traditional Feature

The Pantry Shelf is a traditional feature of Junior Goodwill's Antiques Market-Sale, bringing 45 dealers from all over the United States and Europe to show their American, English, French and Oriental furniture, jewelry, prints, clocks, silver, china, glass and pewter, (among other things), to metropolitan Detroiters.

It will be presented at Dearborn's Fairlane Manor, where there's valet parking for 1,200 cars.

It opens Wednesday evening, November 10, with a 7 to 10 o'clock invitational champagne preview, admission by advance tickets, ($15 per person), only. Ticket information is available by contacting patron chairman Mrs. Thomas Murphy, 821-C146, or Mrs. Sheldon Drenan, 882-8984.

It runs Thursday and Friday, November 11 and 12, from 11:30 in the morning until 9:30 in the evening, and Saturday, November 13, from 11:30 until 6 o'clock. Admission donation all three days is $2.

Does Her Darndest

Shirley's been doing her darndest to help various Antiques Market committees with a personal contribution of time and effort. She's crocheted for the Boutique, another Market tradition, for which the Juniors fashion gift items and unique Christmas ornaments.

She's made cuttings for the Greenhouse, which will offer unusual houseplants in containers culled from Goodwill collections: tea pots and sugar bowls from unmatched sets, for instance. "We go through all the pots that come into Goodwill and pick out the best."

There's a miniature jungle growing in one corner of the Kennedy porch. Shirley has this fantastic grape ivy. She keeps rooting it, and it keeps taking.

Kitchen Is First Love

The kitchen remains her first love. She's been a Junior Goodwill member for over 12 years, and served on the board in various capacities for several years.

She's been publicity chairman, and worked on ways and means. She's been revisions chairman, and handled contributions to the Tribute Fund. She's been cookbook chairman, and house and hospitality chairman.

The house and hospitality committee is responsible for planning the Junior Group's monthly luncheons at the Goodwill plant. They used to be catered, but a few years ago the Juniors lost their caterers and decided, after a few experiments with other services, to do-it-themselves.

"Now the girls volunteer to prepare and bring the luncheons the first Monday of the month. We charge $1.50, and end up making a little money. And the food—our members are such good cooks!—is delicious."

Prisoner of Kitchen

When the Antiques Shows were located in the Brush Street Plant, Shirley worked mostly in the dining room. She was luncheon chairman, and dinner chairman, and chairman of the whole dining room operation. "I hardly ever got out of the kitchen." She worked closely with Beverly (Mrs. Warren F.) Boos. "We served a luncheon offering a large variety of homemade soups. Beverly's specialty was Fork Soup: so thick you almost had to eat it with a fork." Shirley's Onion Soup drew raves, too.

Their luncheons featured sandwiches, (including one hot one, such as a Souffle Sandwich), salads, (Maurice, with the famous Junior Goodwill dressing, was a favorite), and homemade desserts. They also served a full-course dinner.

Served About 500 Daily

"Everything was prepared in the Goodwill kitchen, by the Juniors. We served close to 500 show patrons each day." At the end of the day, when husbands came to pick up their working wives, the men were put to work helping tally the day's receipts.

Shirley's still working closely with Beverly. Mrs. Boos is chairman of exhibitors for the 1978 show.

Shirley's still working in the Goodwill Plant kitchen, for the Juniors have tried to do most of their canning for the 1978 show as a group at Goodwill. "We've put a lot of importance into quality control. We abide by all Board of Health rules."

But kitchen duty during the show has been simplified at Fairlane. "Because of the limited food preparation facilities available to our Ice Cream Parlor committee, we are serving a sandwich bar-type luncheon."

Plan Special Supper

The Ice Cream Parlor will offer coffee-and-dessert all during show hours. Fairlane Manor is arranging a special "Antiques Supper," to be served Thursday and Friday, from 4 until 8 o'clock, in the North VIP Room — at less than $2.50!

On her second wedding anniversary, Shirley Kennedy had four sons. She brought Mel home from the hospital on her first wedding anniversary, and by the time Jay arrived, 11 months later, Bob's two sons from a previous marriage were living with them.

Bob, Jr., married now and living in Sterling Heights, is the father of the two Kennedy granddaughters, Lisa and Laura. Tom, married and living in Colorado, provided the grandson, Landon. Mel, 22, is in New York, making a career in the Navy. Jay is a first year Law School student at the University of Michigan.

Barb, (finally!)—a daughter!—is a senior at Grosse Pointe South High School, working at Jacobson's under South High's co-op program.

Was in Advertising Shirley worked in an advertising agency before she and Bob were married. She was a publicist, buying mats for newspaper publicity. Bob, who still sells graphic arts, was her supplier.

Married, she became "100 percent" housewife . . . until about four years ago when, her children sufficiently grown-up, she began selling real estate for William Champion and Company.

She likes her job. "Of course," she says, "it takes priority." She manages to find time for other activities, from golf to bridge to "having people in"—the Kennedys delight in entertaining, and Shirley delights in cooking up a company meal—to Junior Goodwill.

Fortunately, she's one of those people who wake up early, wide-awake, and stay wide-awake all day. "I have really been blessed with good health and energy."

She and Bob live in the house Bob's parents built. That was a happy fluke: the Kennedys, first married, had a house they considered quite sufficient for newlyweds and a normally growing family. Four sons in two years isn't exactly normally growing.

Bob, who'd remained friendly with his parents' Trombley road next-door neighbor, heard the "old house" was up for sale. Bob had always loved that house. Shirley took a look, and fell in love with it, too.

"The house had changed hands twice between Bob's folks and our family."

University of Michigan football games are the Kennedys' favorite fall recreation. They've been driving to Ann Arbor for 18 years. "We rent a garage, (in case of rain), take a lunch and set up housekeeping." It's a great way to spend a Saturday.

Scout's Church P-T-A

Through the years, Shirley Kennedy has done volunteer work for the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts. She's done her bit for the Episcopal Church Women of Saint Michael's Church, (they had her in the kitchen a lot, too), and for the Trombley School P-T-A.

"I think I served on just about every (Trombley) committee."

She's never found a more "professional" group of volunteers than the Goodwill Juniors. "We work just as hard at spending our money as making it."

The Juniors have donated quite a bit toward the Jolly Cheers, a group of handicapped people who meet every Monday for a two-hour education program, either in crafts or a lecture. Games and songs also are offered.

Home for Handicapped

Saint Ambrose Home, a residence for mentally handicapped women with varying degrees of disability who are learning to live independently, has received over $10,000, for carpeting, furniture, kitchen equipment, a washer and a dryer.

Monies have been appropriated for purchase of a 15-passenger van and a $6,000 dump truck, for palettes and large lifts needed at the plant.

"We spent over $20,000 for equipment to manufacture a new insulation material, made from old newspapers, in a League-Goodwill plant. We are now working on a monumental paper drive to provide material for this project: a stack 900 feet high is needed every day—16½ tons per shift—for production of the insulation." That's called Protecting Your Investment.

The majority of the Juniors' funds are raised via the Antiques Market and Sale, and that, too, is a business. "We give our final reports in December, and in January start working on next year's show."

During the past 43 years, the Group has raised and contributed over three-quarters of a million dollars to Goodwill Industries and League-Goodwill.

Staffed by Juniors

The Antiques Market is coordinated and staffed, with the exception of the Dealer's Booths, by Junior Group members. The Juniors maintain their own Goodwill Booth, featuring antiques, collectibles and items-of-quality gathered by League-Goodwill during the year. They publish a catalog including a list of exhibitors, advertisers, a floor plan, pictures and special interest articles.

All proceeds from the Antiques Market are used for building repairs, medication, insurance, school tuitions and rehabilitation services for the mentally, socially and physically handicapped clients of League-Goodwill.
