A MAJOR EARTHQUAKE struck a mountainous region of northeastern Turkey near the Soviet border Wednesday, flattening mud and hut homes and toppling buildings in numerous towns. Officials said thousands of persons were killed. Defense Minister Ferit Melen, emerging from a cabinet meeting in Ankara, told reporters he understood about 3,000 persons were killed in the earthquake. The Turkish radio reported 574 confirmed deaths. The tremor registered 7.9 on the open-ended Richter scale.

AMERICANS CELEBRATED Thanksgiving Day with feasts, football and fantasy on Thursday while a group of New England Indians fasted at the site of the first Thanksgiving more than 350 years ago. President Gerald Ford and President-elect Jimmy Carter attended traditional Thanksgiving dinners with friends and relatives. Meanwhile, in Plymouth, Mass., a group of Indians fasted to draw attention to their current status—regulated by a government that they say has taken away their land and many of their rights.

MAJOR CRIME in Detroit dropped sharply in October, according to police statistics. Crime in October was down an average 15.8 percent compared to October 1975. Crime was down in October in every major category in comparison with last October, but was not enough to offset the increase in the first nine months of 1976. James Bannon, acting deputy police chief, warned that the figures do not mean the city has beaten its crime problem.

JIMMY CARTER'S CHIEF spokesman said Saturday that the president-elect, following through on a campaign promise, is preparing a blanket pardon of Vietnam draft evaders and will issue it during his first week in office. Press secretary Jody Powell said Mr. Carter also plans to make the basic decision at the first of the year on whether to ask Congress for a tax cut. He said the president-elect already has staff members preparing the pardon order. He also said, however, that Mr. Carter still believes military deserters should be dealt with on a case-by-case basis.

A 30-MILE STRETCH of I-75 was closed for nearly three hours Sunday after two chain-reaction accidents left about 30 cars stranded in a severe snowstorm. State police said some persons were injured slightly as the cars plowed into each other during a storm that dumped more than a foot of snow on I-75 between Indian River and the Mackinac Bridge. Troopers said rescue vehicles had trouble reaching the stranded motorists because of high winds and deep snow.

THE NATION'S THREE leading steel makers — the United States Steel Corp., the Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the Republic Steel Corp. — announced Monday that they will go along with the six percent increases on sheet and strip steel announced last week by the six other leading producers. The Aluminum Co. of America (Alcoa), also said Monday that it will increase prices about 10.2 percent on sheet products used for beer, carbonated beverages and other containers.

Pointe Nutrition Site Opens for Seniors

ADELE C. RYDER; and ESTELLE and AL SHUKWIT, all of The Woods. Hot noon meals, plus health and social services and recreation programs, are provided at the site Monday-Friday. Persons 60 or older and their spouses are eligible. A donation of 50 cents per meal is requested but not required.

Woods Hit By Power Failure

City's Northeast Section
Darkened Thanksgiving
Evening for Almost Three Hours

By Roger A. Waha
Thanksgiving evening literally proved to be a dark one for approximately 1,300 Detroit Edison customers, most of whom reside in the northeast section of The Woods, because of a power failure, which also affected a small section of St. Clair Shores.

The failure, which occurred at 8:19 p.m., knocked out street lights, appliances, house lights, et al., in an area encompassing Eight Mile road on the north, Mack avenue on the west, Vernier road on the south and Wedgewood drive on the east, said Rick Sylvain of Edison's public information office.

"Power was essentially restored at around 11 p.m., except for a handful of customers," he stated.

Jump Cable
The failure was traced to an underground cable fault from the Vernier sub-station, Vernier and Mack, but the cause isn't known at this time and probably won't be until sometime this week.

To restore the juice, the cable was jumped to other lines.

Many Holiday Events Scheduled at Center

The War Memorial has scheduled many pre-Christmas holiday events at the Center for Pointe residents of all ages.

There will be a free play and Christmas party hosted by Santa Claus for children ages four-nine on Saturday, December 11, from 2-5 p.m. Complimentary tickets for the Grosse Pointe Children's Theater production, "David, Star of Bethlehem," should be picked up in the Center's office, 32 Lakeshore road, ahead of time for either the 2 p.m. or 4 p.m. performance.

County's Food, Nutrition Program Gets Off to Fine Start in Grosse Pointe

Site Director Pleased with Initial Response As Combined Total of Around 250 Seniors Enjoy
Hot Meals over First Three-Day Period;
Volunteers Needed

By Roger A. Waha
A Food and Nutrition Program, offered by Wayne County for senior citizens 60 and over, is off to an auspicious start as 99 seniors enjoyed a Thanksgiving turkey dinner on Wednesday, November 24, at the American Legion Hall, Grosse Pointe Post No. 303, 20916 Mack avenue, the interim location of the program.

Based upon this response, plus the 60 and 90 who had lunch on Friday, November 26, and Monday, November 29, respectively, and the potential the program offers in the area of socialization, site director Mary Ale, of The Woods, feels the plan will accelerate and grow for the benefit of all.

"I think it serves a need in the community in getting seniors out," she said, while noting the objective isn't only in providing a nutritionally balanced meal, (in fact, one-third of an individual's daily nutritional requirements), but in bringing people together and against having them "face four walls."

Empathy with Seniors
The seniors "have just been fantastic" the first three days, said Mrs. Ale, who indicated she became initially interested in the director's position because the program is "just exploding with potential." And, besides that, she cited her empathy with seniors and the problems they face.

The site is open Monday-Friday from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. with the lunch being served at 12 noon. All meals are catered and are ordered a week ahead.

"Citizens sign in a week ahead of time so the number of meals can be planned," she said. The lunch, which is hot and not highly seasoned, features such dishes as chicken chop suey over rice, frankfurters, barbecued meat balls and Salisbury steak, along with a salad, vegetable, bread, dessert and coffee, tea or milk.

"For every 100 people served here any day, we are able to feed 15 home-bound."

Woods Officers Recover
Stolen Prep Radio,
Apprehend
Involved Youths

By Roger A. Waha
Two Woods public safety officers are scheduled to receive a letter of commendation from Public Safety Director Henry Marchand for their intensive investigation which led to the recovery of a stolen handheld prep radio and the apprehension of two 13-year-old Woods boys who were involved in the larceny last month.

Youth Service Division, (YSD), Det. Patrick Fagan and Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook spent around 30 man hours between them on Friday, November 19, in tracking down the radio and the involved youths.

The radio, which was taken by the boys from a fire truck at departmental headquarters, was utilized by one of the youths Thursday evening, November 18, for broadcast purposes. At that time, he made around 25 transmissions. The following day, the youth made further transmissions which ultimately led to his arrest.

Big Danger Cited

Besides the fact that the boys committed a larceny, a big risk rested in the one youth's heavy transmissions. "The dangerous part is that the one boy could have interfered with emergency transmissions which might have occurred," said Det. Fagan.

For if two preps are keyed or transmitted at the same time, static results and no transmissions could be read.

To the detective's knowledge, no such problem occurred but the potential was there with the five Pointes and Harper Woods, all of whom are on the same radio band, being affected.

He played for one and a half hours on Thursday evening and time was wasted responding to his transmissions. These included the reading off of locations and the reporting of fictitious criminal activity taking place, he said. As a result, scout cars would respond for checks.

The detective said the boy

Rise in Home Heating Costs Burdens Seniors

Everyone Is Affected But Those on Fixed Incomes
Carry Tough Load; Trend in Increases
Appears Irreversible

By George Polgar Jr.
The chill winds of this unseasonably cold autumn have brought home owners higher heating costs than ever before and, with the deep freeze of winter still ahead, gas bills will continue to soar. Earlier this year Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., which serves 1,020,000 customers in Detroit, western Wayne County and the Pointes, announced a 30 percent price increase over the coming year.

Though the gas company was careful to note that this increase is a result of higher operating costs and will net no extra profit, the hike comes on top of an approximate eight percent rate increase granted in 1975.

This steady increase in fuel costs has been felt by all bill payers but has become a particular burden to senior citizens living on fixed incomes. In The Pointes, for example, where many senior citizens continue to live in their family homes, often alone, keeping up with heating cost increases are creating dire circumstances.

Depressing Situation
"When senior citizens are confronted with higher utility bills, the first thing they do is pay them and then cut their food budget," said Irene Sutton, chairman of the Woods Senior Citizens Commission. "You know it's so depressing for senior citizens to have to deal with this situation and we really don't know what can be done about it."

Mrs. Sutton went on to say that the commission urges people, who are hit hard by the cost increases, to contact the commission and make suggestions for a course of action.

"It seems that the only way to get results is for people to protest," said Mrs. Sutton. "The purpose of the commission is to be aware of the complaints and problems of senior citizens and to take possible solutions under consideration, as well as to call such situations to the attention of the state and local government."

Not Much to Offer
Of course, the state government is well aware of the rate increases since it is the state Public Service Commission, (PSC), which regulates the utility companies. Actually, according to a spokesman,

The organization also announced the appointment of Ken DiLaura, of The Woods, as associate director of member acquisition for its 1976-77 fiscal year. Fact-Finding Hearings Postponed to January

By Susan McDonald
The next round of fact-finding hearings for the Board of Education and the Grosse Pointe Education Assoc., (GPEA), has again been postponed to Tuesday-Wednesday, January 4-5.

The hearings were originally scheduled to take place this week in front of state-appointed fact-finder Dr. John Simpkins, dean of Wayne State University's College of Education.

Scheduling problems on the part of Dr. Simpkins and Board negotiators caused the delay.

If the hearings can be completed the first week of the new year, as planned, a final report will probably be made public in early February.

Named Chief

By Roger A. Waha

One of the original members of the Youth Service Division, (YSD), when it became fully operational in August 1970, Woods Public Safety Officer MICHAEL FERRENCE, 29, has been named chief of the DeWitt Township Police Department in DeWitt, Mich., a suburb north of Lansing.

The chief, who applied for the post in early October, learned of his acceptance on Monday, November 22, from Township Supervisor Dale Emerson. He was unanimously appointed by the township's board of trustees.

While the effective date of his resignation from the Woods Public Safety Department is tomorrow, December 3, Chief Ferrence spent his last day on the job Tuesday, November 30. He will start on a part time basis in DeWitt on Monday, December 6, and then full time on Wednesday, December 15.

Can Grow Together

With the experience he's obtained in the YSD, (of which he was a member for five years), and as a uniformed officer, plus his education, (he's completed all requirements for a Master's degree in public administration at Wayne State University and is currently working on his Master's essay), Chief Ferrence is looking forward to the new challenge.

Noting that the DeWitt Police Department is on a small scale, (nine employees including one civilian), he felt it offered a good opportunity to put his administrative background to work, as against the more limited opportunities in larger departments.

Officers Get Pay Hike of Six Percent

GPSPSOA Expresses
Thanks to Officials;
Contract Retroactive

By James J. Njain

The Shores Council at its regular meeting Tuesday morning, November 23, approved a one-year contract with the Grosse Pointe Shores Public Safety Officers Association, (GPSPSOA). Members with four or more years of service will receive a six percent increase in annual pay under the pact.

This pay hike and all negotiated benefits are retroactive to July 1 of this year. The new contract ups the pay of public safety officers from $16,497.20 to $17,487, an increase of $989.80. The agreement had been ratified by association members and needed only the approval of the council.

Get Extra Holiday

A contract for the Grosse Pointe Shores Command Officers Association, (GPSCOA), comprised of sergeants and corporals, was accepted a few weeks earlier. Their pay also was increased six percent and they received virtually the same fringe benefits.

The pay hikes of both associations include firefighting pay. Since the Shores Public Safety Department is integrated, policemen also double as firefighters.

The starting salary of a public safety officer recruit in The Shores is $13,984, according to PSO Gary Mitchell, association president.

Besides the wage hike, public safety officers were granted an extra holiday, (birthday), off and also a cost of living increase from 0.4 to 0.3 percent. This means after a review every three months, with every 0.3 percent increase in said index, each employee shall receive one cent more an hour added to his salary.

Other Benefits

Under the contract terms, two additional furlough days are given to public safety officers with 20 or more years of service, making a total of 27 furlough days.

In regards to paid sick leave, on the retirement of an officer, he shall receive 75 percent, or shall be given severance pay in the amount equal to his current daily salary up to 75 percent of unused accumulated sick leave.

Contract Talks Nearing Climax

By Tom Greenwood

Lengthy contract talks between The Farms and the Grosse Pointe Farms Police Officers Association, (GPFOA), may soon be coming to a close, according to spokesmen for both sides.

Negotiations between the two sides over a 1975 fiscal year contract have been held for about one and a half years.

An executive meeting between both sides was held Monday, November 22, according to Farms Officer Clarence Reichling, president of the GPFOA. At that meeting, both sides discussed proposals and propositions on the 1975 contract.

Another meeting was held Tuesday evening, November 30, to discuss what could be the draft of a final agreement.

"From that meeting we might possibly have a final copy," said Carol Lock, city comptroller for The Farms. "The draft will most likely be subject to minor modifications, but the results will probably lead to a final document."

Arbitrator for the contract talks between The Farms and the GPFOA is E. J. Forsythe, professor of economics at Wayne State University. He is a member of the American Arbitrators Society.

Seniors Burdened by Rise in Home Heating Costs

man of the PSC, the 30 percent increase expected this year is not a rate increase but a purchase increase adjustment.

"The increase that was announced by Michigan Consolidated Gas was necessitated by price increases charged by the various pipeline companies which bring the gas from the wells," said a PSC spokesman. "The pipeline companies as well as the oil companies which own the wells are regulated by the Federal Power Commission."

The spokesman went on to say that, as a regulatory agency representing the people of this state, the PSC has nothing to offer to alleviate the plight of gas customers on a fixed income.

The only suggestion offered by gas company spokesmen was that customers having difficulty paying the higher winter gas bills should take advantage of the Budget Account Plan. This plan provides for the payment of a certain sum each month, thus distributing the costs evenly throughout the year.

Called Unfeasible
Other gas saving measures offered by both the gas company and the PSC are dialing down the thermostat when leaving home for the day, having insulation installed in attics and making sure that windows are properly sealed.

According to a spokesman of the Michigan Office on Aging these suggestions are unfeasible for the citizens hardest hit by the higher heating bills.

"First of all, since older people are naturally more susceptible to cold, it does not help them much to turn their heat down to 68 degrees or lower," the spokesman said.

"Then, since senior citizens spend most of their time at home, dialing down the thermostat while they are out offers no real saving. The insulation and window sealing measures are fine except that both require major investments of time and money which most senior citizens can't afford."

Reviewing the problem, the state Office on Aging has found that fuel stamp programs which have been conducted experimentally in various parts of the state, including Oakland County, offer the best hope of relief for people on fixed incomes.

"The fuel stamp program is a concept similar to food stamps and it seems to be the most promising approach even though it has certain negative aspects," a spokesman said.

"First of all, just as with food stamps, there is a problem in getting people to take advantage of such a program and also a statewide system like this would require massive preparation."

Because of the logistical problems involved with such a system, the Office on Aging does not expect that any statewide fuel stamp program would be ready for this year but there is a possibility for such relief next year.

"The problem of senior citizens trying to keep up with these cost increases is really staggering when one considers that this is an irreversible trend," the Office on Aging spokesman said.

"The bills will keep going up and senior citizens, who pay utility bills first so their services won't be shut off, will just eat less."

leave days, up to a total accumulation of 200 days.

Included in the contract is a dental plan wherein the Village will pay 75 percent-75 percent, that is, 75 percent for fillings and 75 percent for bridges; a uniform allowance increase from $300 to $325, which includes uniform cleaning; and a 10-minute increase, from 30 to 40 minutes, for lunch.

In addition to these benefits, Officer Mitchell said the association received a binding letter from the Village.

Provision Okayed
This states in the upcoming contract negotiations, which will start prior to the expiration of the new contract on June 30, 1977, there will be a provision in the next pact on an escalator clause in the pension system, affecting all future retirees. The clause will have no bearing on officers already retired.

The negotiators and members of the association want to express their thanks to the council, and to the officials representing the Village during the negotiation period, for their recognition of the problems of public safety department members and for their fairness during discussions, said Officer Mitchell.

He also expressed his thanks to attorney Armand Bove, representing the group through the services of the Fraternal Order of Police.

"From the beginning of negotiations right through to ratification procedures, it was very apparent that all concerned had the welfare of the Village as well as the association members firmly in mind," Officer Mitchell added.

Besides PSO Mitchell, the association negotiating team was comprised of PSOs Robert Bensinger, Harry Hamilton and Michael Kenyon.

Representing the Village were Superintendent Thomas K. Jeffers and Village Attorney William Killebrew.

The contract now awaits the signatures of both sides.

Vandals Break Five Windows

Three malicious destruction to property reports were received by Woods police within a one and a half hour period early Thursday morning, November 25. In each instance, a missile was thrown through at least one window.

The first report, at 2:17 a.m., came from an employee at the Original Pancake House, 20273 Mack avenue, who said someone fired a brick through a 9'x5' plate glass window. Police feel the brick was thrown from a passing vehicle traveling south along Mack. The cost of the window is unknown at this time.

Then at 3:01 a.m., a Higbie place citizen said three windows at the rear of his home were damaged by bricks. They included a 10"x12" bedroom window, an 8"x8" kitchen window and a 4"x6" family room window. In this incident, police observed three separate sets of footprints in the snow leading to and from the home.

Due to the time of occurrence and the nature of the damage, officers believe the pancake house incident and the Higbie place vandalism are related. Monetary damages in the latter case are unknown.

The final report came at 3:47 a.m. from a Yorktown road man who said someone broke a 2 1/4'x4' thermopane kitchen window with a piece of cinder block. Tracks in the snow indicated that two persons approached the rear of the home and committed the act. No monetary value was reported.

Pointe Rotarians Stress Service

Scouts to Pick Up Bags Dec. 4

Most local Boy Scout troops have participated in the past few weeks in the "Good Turn Drive" for the handicapped employees of the League-Goodwill. The hundreds of bags they have distributed to Pointe homes will be collected on Saturday, December 4.

Householders are asked to leave their contributions of repairable clothing and newspapers on their front porch by 10 a.m. so neighborhood scouts can pick them up.

This is the first year the "Good Turn Day" collection has included old newspapers which the League recycles into retardant insulation material for home use. It ties in with the Detroit Boy Scouts "Save-A-Tree" program.

As the scouts point out, it takes 17 trees to produce one ton of newsprint.

Newspapers for the collection should be tied and bundled or placed in grocery bags for easy pickup.

Detroit Boy Scouts have distributed 300,000 clothing bags and hope to provide the League with a backlog of material for use during the slow winter collection months.

The repaired clothing is sold in Goodwill stores to provide funds to pay wages to workers.

Don't give up too easily—many people have battled the wolf and emerged with a fur coat.

Offers Advice on Tax Relief

Gov. William G. Milliken said last week several state agencies, in cooperation with local units of government and various other groups, have set up programs to assist Michigan taxpayers in filing their claims for property tax relief, according to a news release from his office.

"The state has paid out almost $400 million to home owners and renters under the property tax relief program since 1973. Another $240 million will be returned next year to Michigan residents whose property taxes are relatively high in proportion to their income," he said.

"Although Michigan is recognized as having one of the broadest programs of state property tax relief in the nation, the workings of the system seem to be unclear to many taxpayers."

"Some people fail to apply and many who do receive these property tax rebates mistakenly regard them as a form of income tax refund."

The 1973 property tax relief law reduced the tax burden on people who pay more than a certain percentage of their household income in property taxes.

For most, that cutoff point is 3.5 percent of household income; they are entitled to a rebate of 60 percent of the residential property taxes they pay above that amount.

For senior citizens, the rebate is 100 percent of the excess, and for senior citizens who receive less than $6,000 per year, the basic 3.5 percent cutoff point is lowered on a sliding scale according to the amount of income.

Most Michigan citizens claim their rebates when they file their annual income tax returns. For those who do not have to pay the state income tax, a special application form can be obtained from the State Department of Treasury.

"It is important that senior citizens and others who do not have to file income tax returns realize that they can file early — in December — and get their rebate in time to use it toward payment of their local property taxes," Gov. Milliken said.

The eligible claimant must report the year's total income and the amount of the property tax. For those whose only source of income is Social Security, the year's final income figure can be obtained from the December check.

State assistance can be obtained by calling the Individual Income Tax Division of the Michigan Department of Treasury, (517-373-2610). Treasury personnel will refer the caller to the department's nearest district office for personal assistance.

Senior citizens can call the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging, (517-373-8230), which also will refer the caller to a hometown agency for personal assistance.

Holiday Night Set at Ferry

The Ferry School PTO will usher in the Christmas spirit at a Family Night celebration Wednesday, December 8, in the school auditorium, 748 Roslyn road, at 7:30 p.m.

The Grosse Pointe North High School Choir, directed by Herman Klein, will be featured performers. There also will be caroling and refreshments to fill out the evening.

SEMTA Offers Quarter Fare

The Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA), says it will be offering an unbeatable holiday shopper's bargain through Friday, December 31. All SEMTA fares, regardless of passenger destination, will be 25 cents, and transfers will be free.

Between the hours of 9 a.m.-3 p.m. and all day on Saturdays, SEMTA states citizens can forget about driving and looking for a parking space as the 25-cent fare and free transfer will take riders to any one of 34 major shopping locations in the authority's service area.

The reduced fare campaign, known officially as the "SEMTA Claus Shoppers' Special," will be the first system-wide promotion in SEMTA's history.

All children six and under will continue to ride for free.

- A light sensor adjusts the intensity of the digital time display to provide the best visibility for differing light conditions.
- The little lamp that glows without heat to make the time and date flash on the screen should retain 80% of their original brightness after 100 years of continuous use.

Pulsar THE TIME COMPUTER

■ New — synthetic sapphire time screen. It's so close to indestructible that if you run it against a concrete sidewalk, the concrete will scratch but not the time screen. Should it scratch, chip, or break during the life of your Pulsar, it will be replaced without charge.

■ Pulsar excellence extends to every detail. For example, the metals used in the cases and bracelets are the finest stainless steel, 14 kt. gold-filled, or solid 14 kt. and 18 kt. gold. Fourteen carat gold-filled means 14 kt. gold 80 microns thick bonded to base metal, not electroplated. Ask any fine jeweler what this means.

■ Every Pulsar, with the exception of the calculator, is completely water resistant to a depth of at least 100 feet as long as case and time screen remain intact. (Even the calculator will come to no harm if you forget and wear it in the shower.)

Two Officers Cited

was obtaining locations out of the area's phone directory and, during his later transmissions, gave the names of various business places, most of which were located in The Woods.

One of his reports was a fictitious boys breaking windows incident and when police on various occasions asked him for his location, he would respond with the names and addresses of business places, often mimicking what he heard, said Det. Fagan.

"Officers also would be trying to conduct routine business and the boy would then begin asking for various checks," he stated.

Top Priority

In reviewing the steps of the investigation, Det. Fagan said he was advised by Det. Lt. Jack Patterson on the 19th of the larceny and the ensuing transmissions. "This was a top priority case because the youth didn't realize the seriousness of the offense," noted Det. Fagan.

First, the detective and Officer Crook went to The Farms radio shack and got a tape of the transmission. Then, the pair visited Brownell, Barnes, Parcels and Mason Schools and played the tape for school officials in the hope the voice would be recognized.

A $25 reward also was offered with no questions asked at each location because of the need to have the radio returned. All this met negative results.

"We got back to the station around 11:30 a.m. and were advised a short transmission was received at 9:30 a.m.," said Det. Fagan. As a result, it was felt the boy may not have gone to school. So absentee lists were obtained but "we came up with nothing."

The turning point occurred when another transmission was received around 1:20 p.m. At this time, the boy requested a check on a Michigan license number and police sent for the registration of the called in number, revealing that the car belonged to a person living in the area.

"We felt this was a heck of a coincidence for the youth to make up a number in his head and it comes back with a registration in Grosse Pointe," said Det. Fagan. So police then contacted the registered owner of the vehicle, who advised the car was in the possession of a Woods resident.

And lo and behold, after police went to that residence, the vehicle was in the driveway. A check with the citizens revealed the boy was not in school and, moments later, the youth produced the radio.

Det. Fagan interviewed the youths and learned when they visited the pop machine located in the room housing the fire apparatus, they spotted and took the radio. "Only one boy used it but both agreed to take it. The one youth took it and gave it to the other to take home," he said.

The detective reported both parents were upset over the incident and took necessary disciplinary action. Besides that, both youths were placed on the YSD's counseling program for an indefinite period of time. "The parents' cooperation has been good and both boys have had no prior contacts," he noted.

The seriousness of the act of stealing and the transmissions were explained and the one youth, who did the broadcasts, registered some real concern, added Det. Fagan, who felt the act was committed for fun and excitement.

Security Viewed

In a memo to Director Marchand, Lt. Patterson cited both officers for their "initiative and determination" in the case. The lieutenant said, "I would like to suggest that each officer be considered for a director's letter and that this letter be placed in each officer's file."

The boys' access to the area housing the fire apparatus raises a question on security. Director Marchand noted that the area is open from 7 a.m.-7 p.m. and after the latter hour, the location is secured.

At this time, he indicated no adjustments will be made as he felt this was an "isolated case." The director added, "I would hate to see the day we have to lock up the area all the time."

For officials prefer to keep the location as open as possible because of, for example, the consistent visits of students at all school levels via the educational process in seeing how the public safety department operates.

But further abuses to this policy might cause a re-evaluation of the situation and tighter security measures.

Fact-Finding

added.

Mr. Kennedy said the Board team cannot commit itself to acceptance of the fact-finder's report until "we see if it is in the ball park on economics and if he supports our stand."

GPEA President Doris Cook agreed there were still issues to be discussed at the bargaining table, but added she was very disappointed the fact-finding sessions were again delayed.

"I was hoping to finish up the fact-finding proceedings this month," she said, "so we could get on with discussion of these other matters."

To insure a quick settlement, Mrs. Cook said her team had proposed making Dr. Simpkins' report binding on both sides. However, since the Board team rejected that proposal, she said she could only "hope for their acceptance of his opinions on major issues."

Fine Start for Program

citizens with the meals being sent out through volunteers. This may be the only contact with the outside world for many of these people," noted Mrs. Alek.

On Car Pool
If less than 100 individuals sign up for any given week-day, the 15 percent figure of total participants is utilized for delivering meals to shut-ins. The meals are free although a 50-cent donation is requested but not mandatory.

Noting that word of mouth among seniors is growing, Mrs. Alek said she hopes some kind of car pool approach will become a reality so those who don't drive or may be unable to drive will participate on a regular basis.

As for the emphasis upon socialization, she's definitely excited over the program's possibilities. While everything is still coming together at the site, the outlook of potential activities before and after the lunch hour is varied.

For example, such services as nutrition education, legal assistance, information and referral, counseling, shopping assistance, health screening, et al., are distinct possibilities. But this aspect awaits further scheduling.

At the same time, the need and coordination of volunteers is apparent at this initial stage. Mrs. Alek said volunteers would be welcome, even if it's only for an hour any given weekday. If a volunteer can work a longer period of time, that's even better.

They are needed in such areas as setting up tables, serving tables and transporting seniors to and from the site. Speakers from a variety of professions also are welcome. Mrs. Alek suggested those who are interested in such participation, should call Sandy Anderson, site coordinator, at 224-0853. At this time, we have 14 volunteers who are seniors but "we need the young folks, too," she noted.

This program, open to all seniors in the county, utilizes federal funds under Title VII of the Older Americans Act and The Pointe's interim site is one of over 30 such locations in the county. As planned, the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack, is scheduled to become the site beginning January 4.

So the outlook is encouraging for Mrs. Alek, who returns home each day in time to welcome her two elementary school age children, and aide Diane Heavner, also of The Woods, in their initial coordination effort of the out-county plan.

For the response, at this point, has been pleasing and the outlook for this week indicates an estimated 100 people could receive hot meals each day.

Reflecting this interest, Mrs. Alek said on Monday that a lady, who must have been in her 80's, walked all the way from Marler and Roslyn roads to the hall in below freezing weather.

And that, in itself, is a good indication of more favorable things to come.

Your common sense, not public opinion, should be the guide for your daily conduct.

A Farms resident reported to police that sometime between Wednesday night and Thursday morning, November 24-25, someone broke into his car and stole $480 worth of property.

The car, parked in the 100 block of Kercheval avenue, showed no signs of forced entry.

Taken from the rear seat of the auto was a 12" GE color TV valued at $300 and a man's reversible overcoat worth $180.

Farms police have no suspects in the larceny.

School Sets Paper Drive

In an effort to salvage a vital national resource, Our Lady Queen of Peace School is conducting a newspaper collection drive in this area and is calling for the support of area schools, churches, scout troops and other organizations.

According to sister Roberta Bradley, CDP, principal of Our Lady Queen of Peace, saving and recycling old newspapers provides material for the production of new paper as well as insulation substitutes like cellulose pulp.

Vincent Ranger, who is general chairman of the drive, said cellulose insulation, which is one of the most efficient insulation materials used in the construction of new homes, is in critically short supply.

"One ton of old newspapers can be converted into enough cellulose insulation to save 1,100 gallons of fuel annually in an average insulated home," he said.

"One trailer truckload of newspaper converted into cellulose insulation and installed in 20 average size homes can save 312,000 cubic feet of gas or 260 tons of coal annually."

Further, Mr. Ranger explained that over 70 percent of all old newspapers are either burned or dumped into landfills.

Upcoming collection dates will be Friday, December 3, from 3-6 p.m., Saturday, December 4, from 9 a.m.-6 p.m., and Sunday, December 5, from 9 a.m.-3 p.m.

For pick ups, call 881-3311 or 881-6620. The next quarterly newspaper drive is set for March 11-13.

The newspaper collection drive will be a year round program.

Center Plans Hilberry Night

The War Memorial has planned a gala opening evening at Hilberry Theater on Wednesday, December 15, for the premiere of James Goldman's "Lion in Winter."

The "Lion" of Goldman's title is Henry II, King of England. The time is Christmas 1183, and the royal family has gathered to celebrate the holidays. For the reunion, Henry has temporarily released Eleanor, his captive queen, from her English dungeon at Salisbury. Their three conniving sons also have joined the family gathering to plot for Henry's crown.

Using the 20th century form of high comedy, Mr. Goldman takes these historical figures and expresses their verbal battles in the harsh language of our ruthless modern age.

In 1968, Mr. Goldman received the Oscar, the American Screenwriters Award and the British Screenwriters Award for his screenplay of "Lion in Winter."

Patrons for this dinner-theater evening will gather at the Center at 6 p.m. and take a charter bus to Mario's restaurant on Second Boulevard for a full course dinner. The bus will take them to the theater and then back to Grosse Pointe.

The cost of the complete evening is $17. Reservations must be made at the Center's office. For further information, call 881-7511.

Lead Poisoning Still Problem

Wayne County Health Department officials announced recently they will continue their four-year-old lead poisoning prevention program with the help of $163,000 in federal funds.

The federal grant from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare was approved by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners on Thursday, November 18.

The program works with door-to-door screenings and referrals to locate house and apartments that may contain the poisonous, lead-based paint. A chief source of the poison, officials say, are residences built before 1950 — such as many Pointe homes.

Children found with elevated lead levels are referred to hospitals for treatment and a public health sanitarian works with home owners to eliminate the lead danger.

Lead poisoning in children can cause brain damage, retardation, seizures, blindness, kidney problems, learning disability and even death.

According to reports published by the department, there are about 142,000 dwellings known to have lead-based paint on walls and woodwork in Wayne County.

The health department hopes to complete an evaluation of all suspect housing units in target areas of Wayne County, mostly in the downriver area, this year. In addition, they also investigated suspected cases referred to them by private physicians.

For more information on the program, call the local health department branch at Cottage Hospital at 881-8600.

Officer Spots License Ruse

Timothy James Miller, 17, of 22912 Brookdale, St. Clair Shores, was arrested early Sunday morning, November 28, for speeding and driving with an altered operator's license.

According to Shores Public Safety Officer Michael Kenyon, who made the stop and arrest, Miller was seen traveling north on Lakeshore road at 45 mph in a 35-mile zone, between Clairview and Colonial roads.

The teenage driver was stopped after the traffic signal cleared at the Vernier intersection.

On approaching the stopped vehicle, PSO Kenyon requested Miller's operator's license and car registration, both of which were handed to the officer.

Officer Kenyon said that on looking at the operator's license, he saw that it was made out to a 16-year-old male, a different person, and that the birth and expiration dates had been altered. The last digit of the expiration year showed the figure "8" had been inked in with a pen.

At the station, Miller admitted that the true birth date on the license was 4-1-1959. The numbers had been cut out and replaced with another set of figures and held in place with clear tape.

Miller was issued a violation ticket for speeding and another for unlawful application, or use of a license, (altered numbers). He posted bond of $35 pending a court hearing on Wednesday, December 8.

Mike Ferrence Gets New Post

opportunities at a larger department such as in The Woods.

Noting this position is exactly what he wants, Chief Ferrence stressed, "There's potential there. It's a small department now and both the department and I can grow together." Aware of the difference between theory and practice, he can now apply his educational background to his new position.

"It's the right size, the right location, has the right potential and the right form of compensation."

The land area of the township, which borders Lansing, is around 36 square miles and its population is approximately 12,000. "It's primarily a rural area which is in the process of development," he said.

May Go Public Safety
Besides its police force, DeWitt has a volunteer fire department containing about 40 personnel, half of whom are trained and certified via the Firefighters Training Council.

For the immediate future, both departments will remain separate but the idea of public safety integration remains on the horizon.

And based upon his experience as a public safety officer in The Woods, the new chief will lend considerable savvy in the potential transition.

His career in The Woods is dominated by his effective tenure in the YSD, which ended the summer of 1975 when he was rotated from the division, as part of the plan affecting YSD personnel, to the uniform force.

"He was one of the original people in the YSD and was instrumental in the development and success of the division," reflects Public Safety Director Henry Marchand. "He really contributed to its success. A lot of his ideas are being used today."

And as the director pointed out, Chief Ferrence has come a long way.

Learning Process
He joined the department as an animal control officer in May 1967, then had nine months of duty in the U.S. Army Medical Corps and returned to his initial position. Then in May 1968, he became a sworn officer and was assigned to the road patrol unit. The formation of the YSD, a concept which is decidedly dear to his heart.

Chief Ferrence says it was all a learning process until his selection to the division. And then it was more learning.

"I was more than pleased to get the initial assignment. It was quite a thrill. I came off my two-year probationary period, (with the department), and moved into the bureau with its potential. It was fantastic," he said.

He joined John Kendall, (who subsequently became police chief at Harbor Springs, Mich., in January 1975), now Sgt. James Davidson and Thomas Podesszwick as the division "originals."

"The first year was all-consuming, (in time, energy, the development of ideas, structural organization)," said Chief Ferrence. After the initial "absorption period" of between one to one and a half years, routines, policies and procedures became established.

Family Affair
As he puts it, "we became a family" with the cooperation of the school system.

Reflecting upon those who played major roles in the birth of the division, he cited Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, YSD coordinator, who "supported the idea and pushed it," and Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, assistant superintendent-instruction of the school system, who was "a strong advocate of the program and whom I admire much."

"In those days, he, (Dr. Spagnoli), was kind of like a father who we would go to and he would always give sound advice."

From his perspective, Chief Ferrence viewed the YSD, as he grew to understand it, as being a "problem identifier and solution facilitator, a catalyst and a vehicle for change. It brought the right people together at the right time toward helping the community. And this still remains the same."

During the first two years, this, he said, was the method of operation and "we felt it was very important to provide all the services we could."

Taking Action
These included the initiation of the YSD counseling program and initial field test analyses of substances, along with extensive public information services in the areas of substance abuse and juvenile delinquency.

In 1970-71, the area of substance abuse and the use of drugs was the big problem. "We attempted to get out factual information to all groups, both adults and adolescents, and spell away some of the myths such as smoking marijuana will make you a junky," he said.

From 1971-74, while the focus on substance abuse continued, there was a heavy emphasis upon enforcement action, and then in 1974-75, there was a shift of attention to alcohol abuse while heavy usage in the substance abuse area dwindled, stated Chief Ferrence.

He finished his tenure in the summer of 1975, which he called "a very pleasant year." But, even now, concerns remain over a possible cycle, e.g., in the area of substance abuse, and the fact that "older" problems may raise their ugly heads again. But this remains an unknown factor at this time.

Today, while alcohol abuse remains under scrutiny, the chief noted a focus in the area of criminal law, particularly regarding YSD Det. Wayne Baum's proposals toward a reorganization of the criminal justice system in the state.

Key Is Service
Whatever the current concerns may be through the passing years, the emphasis has always been the same—to deliver service.

The "what" and "how" of delivery may alter but "we have flexibility in the organization to determine the community's needs, and to make the proper adjustments to deliver the services," emphasized Chief Ferrence.

The growth of the YSD went hand-in-hand with his growth as an individual and as a police officer. "The division gave me an opportunity to deal with people, to develop interpersonal relationships and communication skills," he said.

"It also gave me the opportunity to work with little supervision and to be responsible for decision making." Because the YSD was an integral part of his life and career, his reassignment back to the uniform division proved difficult.

Differing View
"The rotation system was the only reason why I left the division," he said. "But I learned from this—I was the employee and not the employer." Unhappy with the action at that time, he indicated he was in no position to disagree with it.

Noting the plan contains some beneficial aspects, e.g., expanding a policeman's training, he felt there are officers who have strong qualities "who would be, and who are, excellent in the YSD."

From his view, these qualities include being versed in communication skills, flexibility, a pleasing personality, a formal education, a degree of selflessness, (giving one's time without compensation and a belief in the job), a desire to work with young people and an ability to mediate conflicts and to make decisions, oftentimes in the heat of emotion.

He felt all these qualities should be considered in the selection process. Because of his emersion in the YSD, the chief disagrees that any given officer can do that job.

"If I was the employer, I would consider doing it differently," he stated, based upon his own viewpoint and perspective.

Need Is There
Citing the importance of the YSD, Chief Ferrence, with an eye toward the future, says, by necessity, the need for the division is always going to be there.

"Youngsters have different concerns than adults. This makes them unique. We need to deal with them because we're talking about young people at the time they're developing," he said.

And through the bringing together of the five Pointes and the school system, the division becomes, again, a catalyst. Through the unified effort, he continued, the problems of the young people, the police departments and the school system, itself, are brought out.

Despite his new honor, Chief Ferrence said it's difficult to leave his associates and the community which he served.

"By and large, I admire the men of this department. A normative pattern has been established by peer pressure to produce a high quality of performance and service and, in turn, good community relations," he said.

Expresses Appreciation
"I'm definitely impressed with the community. While in the YSD, I was associated with a number of organizations and was amazed at the sheer numbers of those putting their time and energy back into the community."

He added, "I'm grateful for the opportunity and the education I've been given here. I also really appreciate the attention the press has given to the YSD program and the relationship which has been developed."

If the chief and his wife, Kathleen, who have a 20-month-old boy, Patrick, will miss the community, it's safe to say the feeling is mutual. "I feel Mike always gave 100 percent of his time and effort for the good of the city," commented Director Marchand.

Calling him a very personable young man, he reflected, "I don't think the department received one complaint against him in his whole career here."

"Valued Employee"
Saying his appointment was a good example of where education pays off, the director cited Chief Ferrence's "long effort" in this area.

"I hate to see him go as he's a valued employee. But it makes me proud when they go on," he continued, while recalling Chief Kendall's appointment.

But, for Director Marchand, some consolation remains. "I'm not losing an employee, I'm gaining a member of the chiefs of police association," he added with a smile.

Olson Named Top Sportsman

Pointer Ozzie Olson, an industrialist and sports enthusiast, will be honored at the March of Dimes seventh annual Sports Award Dinner as "Sportsman of the Year" on January 19 at the Raleigh House.

Mr. Olson, the president and owner of the Olsonite Corp., was a former director and a major shareholder of the Detroit Lions prior to William Clay Ford's ownership.

He has been very active in auto racing. From 1967-1974, his championship Olsonite Eagle, under the direction of Dan Gurney and two-time Indy 500 winner Bobby Unser, were the leading team in all of USAC.

In 1974 the Olsonite Eagle won the national championship with this record-breaking team. Mr. Olson is still very active in auto racing by sponsoring the $10,000 Olsonite Driver of the Year Award as well as the Triple Crown, (Pocono, Ontario, California and Indy 500's), Points Championship.

For the past two years, Mr. Olson has sponsored the $40,000 Olsonite Tennis Classics in both Chicago and Detroit, featuring some of the game's top stars like Rod Laver, John Newcombe and 1976 dual winner Bjorn Borg.

Tickets for the Sports Award Dinner are $25. Others being honored are John Fetzer, owner of the Detroit Tigers, for his community service to Detroit, and Mark "The Bird" Fidrych as Tiger of the Year.

Rescued Man Faces Court

Dennis Lee Ogg, 25, of 8406 Hickory lane, Sterling Heights, was arraigned before Shores Municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis for a preliminary hearing on a charge of reckless driving, changed from driving while under the influence of drugs, on Monday, November 22.

The previous day, Ogg lost control of his car during an 80 mph chase by Shores officers and landed 60 feet off into Lake St. Clair.

Judge Denis ordered Ogg released on $10,000 cash bond, pending examination scheduled for Wednesday, December 22, on the reckless driving charge, and for failing to change the address on his operator's license.

The $10,000 bond was ordered because Ogg is being charged with possession of dangerous drugs and will have to appear in Wayne County Circuit Court. The $200 bond is for the reckless driving and failure to change his address charges.

On Sunday, November 21, Sgt. Stanley Otulakowski and Public Safety Officer Harry Hamilton observed Ogg traveling at a high rate of speed on Lakeshore and gave chase, pacing Ogg at 80 mph.

Ogg, driving a 1973 station wagon, lost control of the vehicle north of Stratton, went over the curb and over the seawall into the icy waters of the lake, after knocking down a small tree and skidding 225 feet.

Shores, Farms and Woods officers arrived at the scene to assist in Ogg's rescue. The officers saw the man climb out of his auto, then go back in.

Two Farms policemen, Johannes Winter and David Beekman, dove into the water and managed to reach the now submerged station wagon. They pulled Ogg, who was struggling and screaming, to the safety of the shore.

The St. Clair Shores based United States Coast Guard also was at the scene to aid in the rescue if needed.

When Ogg's station wagon was pulled out of the water by two service station tow trucks, police saw currency, radio equipment and tape decks floating in the water inside the vehicle. Sgt. Otulakowski then ordered the car hauled to the pound at the rear of The Shores station.

Besides recovering the radio equipment and tapes, they also recovered $1,140 in currency. Ogg later claimed there was more than $4,000 in cash in the car.

Ogg was taken to Bon Secours Hospital for observation and later returned to The Shores station, still wearing a hospital issued scrub suit and slippers.

He was apprehended trying to remove a glass vial in the men's room. The vial contained a white powder substance, and attached to the cover was a chain and small spoon. The vial was confiscated for analysis of the powder.

A further search of Ogg's station wagon produced a prescription type vial containing suspected marijuana.

Individual Retirement Accounts

An individual Retirement Account (IRA) is a personal tax-sheltered retirement savings plan for people who are not covered by a pension or profit sharing plan. The IRA plan allows you to deposit up to $1,500 annually, or 15% of your earned income, whichever is less, in a tax-sheltered savings account. Your annual deposit is deductible from your gross income when computing your Federal Income Tax and your IRA savings account interest is tax-deferred until you redeem your account.

- Any wage earner who is not a participant in a retirement plan may set up an IRA. This includes:
- individuals working for firms that do not have pension or profit sharing plans.
 - "new" employees who do not qualify for a pension plan at their place of employment.
 - self-employed persons who prefer an IRA to a Keogh plan.
 - employees leaving a pension or profit sharing plan can rollover into an IRA account.

The chart assumes wage earner is in the 25% tax bracket and wants to save $1500 annually with a deposit in each calendar year. With IRA the full $1500 (no tax payable) is deposited and the interest accumulates tax sheltered until retirement. Without IRA, the $1500 pre-tax dollars would be reduced by taxes to a net deposit of $1125 and all interest accumulations would be taxed during the current tax period.

Keogh Plan

The Keogh plan allows self-employed persons to set aside tax-sheltered dollars up to $7,500 each year, or 15% of your earned income, whichever is less. The amount you set aside is tax deductible and the interest earned is tax-deferred until you retire. Income taxes on both principal and interest are payable only when benefits are withdrawn from your account.

Zenn Named Tartar Leader

North High School graduate Ron Zenn has been selected again this year to be the co-captain of Wayne State University's basketball team, according to Bill Kreifeldt, sports information director.

Ron, a six-footer and a three-year letterman, has been the Tartar assistant leader in each of his three seasons on the club.

A senior at WSU this year, Ron lives in Prestwick road.

Are you planning to wear something black and glamorous this season? Why not complement that garment and yourself with some beautiful jewelry. Black is the perfect background for diamonds, or for diamond-look necklaces, for gold, or for gold-look earrings of delicate, distinct design. And do not forget your arms. How beautiful your arms can feel in a number of finely crafted bangle bracelets, or in a delicate chain which sports finely cut precious or semi-precious stones.

With the holiday season upon us, what better time to become adorned with beautiful jewelry! We invite you to come in to VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, Detroit, 881-4800, where you will find something truly different from our wide variety of one-of-a-kind items on display. If you are a buyer of unique items, be sure and see the antique jewelry and object of art left with us on consignment by their owners.

It's a unique book that never becomes obsolete. It combines prose, poetry, history and science. And it can inspire your loved ones to find peace of mind, purpose, and healing through a deeper understanding of God.

It's the King James Version of the Bible.

Why not give the Bible today to someone you love? You're welcome to stop in at a Christian Science Reading Room, and browse through the many editions we have to offer. There are paperback, hardcover, and genuine leather editions. Also foreign language and Braille editions. And while you're there, ask the librarian how Christian Science can help you discover new meaning to the Scriptures.

Live in fear of the future and you will fumble the present.

Common sense and a sense of humor pays huge dividends.

by John Lundberg

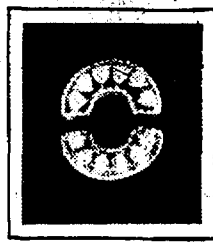

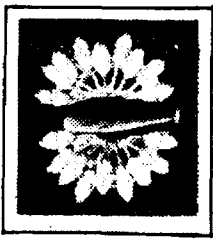

How do you decide if you should bring a bottle of wine to your dinner host? Then, how do you choose the right wine? Wine is almost a most appreciated gift. If you do not know what is being served, try a sparkling wine or champagne for before dinner. Light white wines are also appropriate here. The host and hostess should not feel compelled to serve the wine presented that evening. It is perfectly acceptable to save a gift wine for a more appropriate meal or occasion. But rest assured, any wine is a tasteful gift. You just have to choose.

PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885/0626 has a wide selection of wine for you to choose from for your holiday host and hostess. If you're planning your own holiday party, come in and find out about the advantages of serving keg beer. We have both 1/4 and 1/2 barrels and you may choose from any keg beer available in the state of Michigan; we supply all the necessary tapping equipment at no extra charge. Hours: 10-10 Mon.-Thurs.; 10-11 Fri., Sat.; noon-10 Sun.

WINE WISDOM:

Use leftover wine to spice your meals. Foods should be simmered with the wine to get the full benefit of the wine taste.

Both are certified Nordic Ski instructors and have made significant contributions to the sport.

The presentation also will feature slides, movies, equipment and plenty of tips for enjoying the sport. Details of the club's Cross Country Ski Program for teens, adults and families will be available for everyone.

'Enriched Flavor'™ breakthrough brings unprecedented taste to low tar smoking.

Today there's a way to get real taste from a cigarette without high tar.

That's the report on a new taste discovery called 'Enriched Flavor.' A way to pack flavor—extra flavor—into tobacco without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The cigarette packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco is remarkable new MERIT.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

Tests Verify Taste

9 mg. "tar," 0.7 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

MERIT delivered more taste than five current leading low tar cigarettes having all the way up to 60% more tar.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

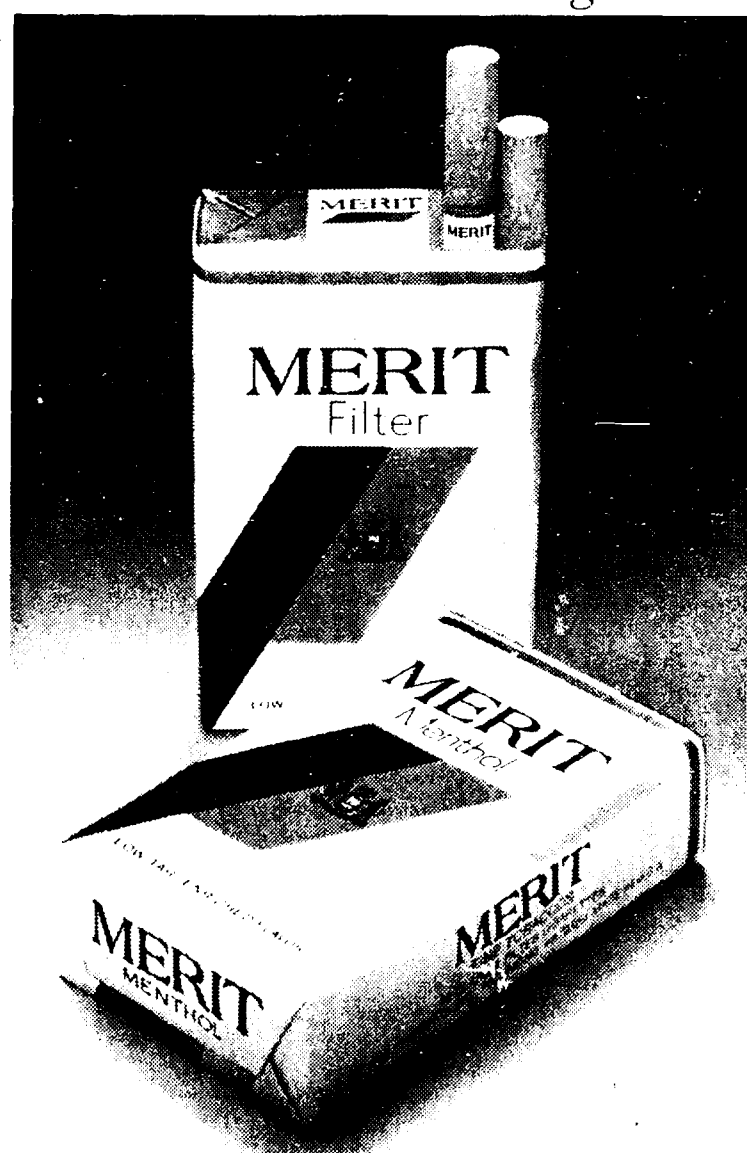

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, MERIT MENTHOL was reported to deliver as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette. MERIT.

at 8:00 p.m. to hear the appeal of Mr. William J. Young, owner of the premises located at 24 Fair Acres, from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Permit for the construction of a Therapeutic Pool Building in the rear of their home at the foregoing address. Such permit issuance was denied for reason that:

1. The residence located on the foregoing premises is non-conforming for reason that it projects into the required open rear yard space in violation of the provisions of Article XIII, Section 1300 of the City's Zoning Ordinance, and in accordance with the provisions of Article XV, Section 1502, Item 4-A of the City's Zoning Ordinance, no such structure may be enlarged or structurally altered unless a variance is granted.
2. The proposed addition of a Therapeutic Pool Building in the rear of the home located at the foregoing address further infringes upon minimum required open rear yard space of 30 feet, leaving a rear yard of 22 feet, 2 inches, and thereby requiring a variance from the provisions of Article XIII, Section 1300 of the City's Zoning Ordinance.

The Hearing will be public. Interested property owners or residents of the City are invited to attend.

Pointer's Film Wins 2 Awards

The 26-minute documentary, "Walkin' Too Slow," made for the Michigan Coalition of Runaway Services and the Office of Children and Youth Services of the Michigan Department of Social Services, earned two awards last month at a pair of film festivals.

Produced and directed by Bill Pace, of St. Clair Avenue, the movie earned a Silver Award for second place in the documentary category at the Virgin Islands International Film Festival. A total of 117 films were in this competition.

It also received the Bronze Award for third place at the 19th annual New York International Film and Television Festival in the documentary classification. The 16mm color movie, shot on location in Michigan and throughout the United States, views six young runaways who reveal their experiences in crisis centers, juvenile court, youth homes and on the streets of America.

A former radio news director, Mr. Pace, co-founded and was the first executive director of the Detroit Transit Alternative Runaway House, Inc.

The movie is available for showing to Michigan schools, churches and youth, community and professional groups. For further information, contact Bandanna Media, Inc., 572 St. Clair, at 885-2491.

Mrs. Peters Still Winning

Ho-hum. Another week, another $100,000.

Mrs. Margaret Peters, of The Farms, won another $100,000 in the Michigan Lottery Super Drawing on Friday night, November 26.

This latest win brings Mrs. Peters total lottery winnings to $412,500 for four weeks play. Already the all-time super winner of the weekly televised drawing, Mrs. Peters will compete for another $100,000 tonight, December 2, at the television studios of Channel 4 at 7:30 p.m.

"I just can't believe all the luck we've been having," said Mrs. Peters. "Everyone has been so nice to us in The Pointe. Everyone seems to be rooting for us. It's a great feeling. We've really been blessed."

Mrs. Peters is the wife of Vince Peters, a 24-year veteran of the Farms Police Department. Married for 29 years, the Peters have four children.

When Mrs. Peters is no longer the lottery champion, she and her husband plan to take an extended vacation with part of their winnings.

TEACH YOUR WAYS

"Create in me a new, clean heart, O God, filled with clean thoughts and right desires. Don't toss me aside, banished forever from your presence. Don't take your Holy Spirit from me. Restore to me again the joy of your salvation, and make me willing to obey you. Then I will teach your ways to other sinners, and they—guilty like me—will repent and return to you." (Psalm 51:10-13)

HARKNESS PHARMACY

Relieving symptoms of an allergy is only a stoppage measure, most experts agree. In fact, the continued treatment of an allergy by relieving the symptoms only is not always recommended by a physician. Often, the wisest course is to ask a physician's advice. He may recommend the immunization process. After a time with this process, a tolerance is developed which permits an ordinary exposure without an allergic reaction. Unfortunately, all allergies do not respond to immunization.

The latest prescription and non-prescription medications for allergies are available at HARKNESS PHARMACY, 20315 Mack Ave. at Lochmoor Blvd., Grosse Pointe Woods. Our modern prescription department offers prompt, personalized and professional service, and our pharmacists are always happy to answer questions on your medications. Visit HARKNESS PHARMACY for all your health and beauty needs. We also have a large selection of Christmas greeting cards, nationally-known cosmetics, and a full line of liquor. Call us at 884-3100 for free prescription delivery! We are open daily from 9 A.M. until 9 P.M., and on Saturdays until 5 P.M.

Platform Net Tourney Slated

Coca-Cola of New York will sponsor the Detroit Junior Platform Tennis Tournament to be held in The Pointe on Saturday-Sunday, December 4-5, according to Mrs. Suzanne R. Boydell, tourney chairman.

The tournament, for boys and girls in "15 and 18 and under classifications," will be held at the Country Club of Detroit, Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, Lochmoor Club and the Grosse Pointe Club.

The semi-finals and finals will be held Sunday at the Country Club of Detroit.

Winners of the Detroit Junior Tournament will be sent to the National Junior Tournament in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Teams entered from The Pointe are Lee and Julie Robinson, Terri MacLeod and Ann Sherer and Ann Lesesne and Lee Ford in girls 15 and under.

Julie McNair and Sarah Lesesne, Lisa Black and Judy Hodges, Meg McKee and June Bookmyer, Patty Boydell and Lisa Vanderzee and Tomasine Polizzi and Nancy Fruehauf will participate in girls 18 and under.

In boys 15 and under, teams include Rusty McNair and David Parker, Bill Harahan and Gar Knight, Tom Willets and Jeff Measelle, Stewart Morris and Tony Padock, Gerry Sherer and Chris Robbins and Peter Gushue and Biff Fisher.

Boys 18 and under teams are Ted Parker and Bill Murray, Craig Shannon and Jeff Smith, Jim Peters and Bruce Stafford and Tom Thurber and Paul Van Walleghen.

Meg McKee, of The Pointe, and her partner, Julie Bookmyer, of Birmingham, are defending the 18 and under girls title of 1975. They are ranked fourth nationally.

Friends Slate Family Films

The Family Film Night series, presented jointly by the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Library and the Grosse Pointe Public Library, hail the holiday season with films on the theme of gifts Tuesday, December 9, at 7:30 p.m.

"Boy and the North Wind" is a 16-minute color presentation about a youngster who receives a series of gifts from the North Wind which are stolen by an innkeeper. The final gift, a stick of punishment, resolves the story.

The special effects, original songs, lively action and moral point make this an appealing film for all young people.

"The Littlest Angel" is a color film, 15-minutes long. Based upon the Christmas story by Charles Tazewell, it tells of the littlest angel in heaven who gets into one trouble after another until he is called before the kindly judge of heaven.

Upon hearing the problems faced by our hero, the head angel grants him the wish to get his treasure from earth. This turns out to be the unselfish gift he gives to the Christ Child.

"Occurrence at Owl Creek Bridge" is 27-minutes long and is in black and white. The film, an Academy Award winner, visually retells Ambrose Bierce's short story in which the gift of a miracle is needed to save the condemned man's life at the last minute.

The Civil War and the play of man's imagination are faithfully captured in this classic of mood and atmosphere.

Christ Church Awarded Grant

The Michigan Council for the Arts has awarded Christ Episcopal Church, 61 Grosse Pointe boulevard, a $3,380 grant to cover performance expenses for the 1977 Three Choir Festival which is being sponsored this year by the church.

The festival, which is scheduled to be held from May 5-10, will feature boys' choirs from Ohio, Kentucky and the Christ Church group, and will coincide with a conference of 120 church organists from around the country hosted by Christ Church organist Frederic Dellaven.

"The reason this grant, as well as this whole three-choir program, is so important is that boys' choirs are a traditional art form and they are becoming rare and deserve to be promoted," said Mr. Dellaven.

The three boys' choirs will present four concerts during the festival including three performances with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

PROMISE OF SALVATION

"For God loved the world so much that he gave his only Son so that anyone who believes in Him shall not perish but have eternal life. God did not send His Son into the world to condemn it, but to save it." (John 3: 16-17)

Police Accuse Drunk Driver

Two Shores public safety officers could not help but notice a speeding motorist at 8:55 p.m. on Wednesday, November 24, because the driver was seen through the rear view mirror of the scout car before passing the officers at an estimated 60 mph.

Sgt. Stanley Otulakowski and PSO Archie Grieve said they were on routine patrol along Lakeshore when the driver, identified as Lawrence Edward Keegan, 46, of 1034 Devonshire road, whizzed by.

The officers said during the chase, Keegan slowed up to 45 mph, which is still 10 miles faster than the posted speed limit on the road.

During the pursuit, the officers said, Keegan continuously straddled lanes and was weaving back and forth on the road, until he was stopped in front of 515 Lakeshore.

Sgt. Otulakowski and PSO Grieve said when Keegan got out of his car, he staggered and that there was a strong odor of liquor about his person. The driver was then placed under arrest.

At The Shores station, Keegan agreed to a breathalyzer test and was conveyed to The Farms station where two tests were administered. Keegan failed both tests and was returned to The Shores where he was issued a violation ticket for driving while under the influence of liquor.

He posted a bond of $140 and is scheduled for a court hearing on Wednesday, December 8.

An investment of good will and honest work can be counted on to pay the greatest dividends.

North High School Girl Cagers End 7-9 Season

By Sue Fancett

North High School's girls varsity basketball team deserves a great amount of credit for the way in which they closed out the Bi-County League season.

The Norsemen won four of their last five games to even the team's league record at 6-6, good for fourth place in the league. Their overall record is 7-9. This was quite an improvement from their 3-6 mark the first half of the season.

North downed Clintondale, 49-42, in a season rematch, crushed Fraser, 42-33, and slipped by Lakeview, 51-45, in overtime. Against Lakeview, junior Mary Spagnolo had a season high of 26 points.

The Norsemen won the last league game of the season against Brablec, 45-41, after trailing until the last minute of the contest.

North lost its state district game to the Dominican Ravens, 81-42, who went on to beat South High School in the finals at East Detroit High School.

Final season statistics show that Spagnolo finished on top for the Norsemen in scoring, (178 points), and rebounds, (106). Ann Belloli led the team in steals, (36), and she had the highest field goal percentage (44 percent). Theresa D'Angelo had the highest free throw percentage (74 percent). Julie Carnaghi was selected by the league coaches to the All Bi-County Second Team and Spagnolo, Belloli and D'Angelo received honorable mentions.

THE BEST TEACHER

"The Lord is good and glad to teach the proper path to all who go astray; He will teach the ways that are right and best to those who humbly turn to Him. And when we obey Him, every path He guides us on is fragrant with His loving kindness and His truth." (Psalms 25:8-10) ancestry of Michigan residents in this Bicentennial year.

There is much more to review in the Complete Membership Roster of the Michigan Society, Sons of the American Revolution, (SAR).

According to public relations chairman, Harold M. McCracken, of The Farms, the SAR was founded in 1890 for male descendants of those who participated in the American Revolution that saw the formation of the United States of America.

The state SAR roster contains the names of 2,460 Michiganders, (living and dead), who have researched and documented their Revolutionary War ancestry. Each SAR member has a national and state registration number.

Michigan Number One, (National number 3001), was issued in 1890 to Samuel Lynde Foster, of Bay City, whose ancestor was Benjamin Lynde.

Six Fords are Michigan SAR members, but family names of their ancestors are Henry Lane, Elisha Way and Jacob Ford.

President Gerald R. Ford has number 2,429, tying him to his patriot ancestor Ezra Chase.

There are 13 Johnsons who trace their ancestry back to those whose family names were not only Johnson, but Wells, Kittle, Leete and others.

Nathan Hale's descendant is Carlyle G. Hoyt, (2208), of Highland Park, while William M. Booth II of Alden and William M. Booth III, Kalamazoo, are descendants of Samuel Morris, who were issued registration numbers 2,436 and 2,437 in 1974.

The roster was the Bicentennial project of the Michigan SAR during its own 86th anniversary. It was compiled by Lynn S. Gordon, of Rapid City, president.

Copies of the book are available to the general public at a non-member price of $11 including postage from C. Samuel Bishop, 27373 Hystone drive, Farmington Hills 48024. Copies are being made available to libraries.

The Michigan Society offers assistance to those who have a desire to establish their descent from a patriot. Usual sources of verification begin with family bibles, census data, court records, and other written records.

Additional membership information can be obtained from Mr. McCracken, 295 Stephens road.

Eligible females may join the Daughters of the American Revolution, (DAR), and those under 18 may join the Children of the American Revolution, (CAR).

Christ Church Hosts Concert

The combined choirs of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, will perform "St. Nicolas," a cantata by Benjamin Britten on Sunday, December 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the church, 61 Grosse Pointe boulevard.

Saint Nicolas, the patron saint of children, seamen and travelers, cared for the poor and oppressed.

The choirs of Christ Church will perform the cantata about the fourth century Saint with a chamber orchestra, comprised of members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and soloists.

Phillip Mooney, tenor, will sing the principal role of Nicolas, and Frederic De Haven, Christ Church organist and choirmaster, will conduct.

Like many of Britten's works, "St. Nicolas" allows the audience to participate in two hymns which are performed with the congregation, choruses and orchestra.

All members of the family should enjoy this Christmas season musical offering. For more information on the concert and tickets, which are $2.50 per person, contact the church office at 885-4841.

HE SEES EVERYTHING

Detroit Lutheran Singers Present Three Concerts

Pointers Lori and Robert Lang, Carol Droege and Charles Schock are members of the Detroit Lutheran Singers, a 50-voice choir drawn from metropolitan area churches, which presented three concerts during November.

The Singers performed Sunday, November 14, at 7:30 p.m. at Our Shepherd Lutheran Church, Birmingham; and Sunday, November 21, at 3:30 p.m. at Emmanuel Lutheran Church, West Dearborn, and at 7:30 p.m. at Bethany Lutheran Church in East Outer drive.

Their programs included Vaughn Williams' "Mass in G Minor" and compositions by Reger, Billings and others. All concerts were free, with donations accepted during intermission.

Some are against all taxes — they even hate to tax their minds with responsibility.

One View from the Capitol

By William R. Bryant Jr.

The House Republican leadership election caucus held last week was a wild one.

While the Republican leader and his assistant were not challenged, the rest were and, as floor leader, I was the only one to survive the challenge.

It took nearly two hours and some 20 plus ballots for the challenge to me to fail.

Some reporters have tried to make more of the caucus elections than can be established.

First, there were five members absent so, even though a vote of 22 of the 42 elected were required to win, there were only 37 members present. So, after having 21 on the first ballot the next 20 or so bounced around until I finally got the 22 needed.

The other incumbent leaders did not fare as well and all of them lost.

What was happening was not a revolt to the right or even any definable dissatisfaction with our present leadership.

What happened was a mixture of a number of things. First, many of those not in leadership always view leadership with some suspicion and some jealousy.

Second, we have five new, incoming members who had little if any idea who merited support.

Third, the group in our caucus who are just finishing their first term felt they should be represented in leadership and worked to that end.

Fourth, upstate conservative members felt the leadership should be more balanced geographically and philosophically.

Fifth, there is always a tendency to change leadership just for the sake of change and to give others who have not had a shot at being in leadership a chance.

Sixth, we lost two seats in this election so there was concern about our minority position, made worse by the feeling we do not have an identity which we can offer to voters.

And, seventh, in my case, the position of floor leader is the most visible of all. It's a job which, per se, must entail making some members upset at almost any given action taken by the floor leader, and not unimportantly, I am from Grosse Pointe and am an attorney and did graduate from an Ivy League college.

So, it was an interesting evening, but they will still have me to kick around for another two years.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur Woodford
Chief of Central Library

In the course of a year, I have the opportunity to see hundreds of newly published novels. Most of these, I only have time to glance at. Of the many I am able to read from cover to cover, some are very good, others not so good.

This week I would like to share with you the five novels that I have most enjoyed reading this past year.

Using the same technique he has used so often before, Louis Auchincloss presents in THE WINTHROP COVENANT, (Houghton), a series of interlocking stories, each complete in itself. Taken together they chronicle brilliantly the passage of time from 1630 in this country to Vietnam, and "the rise and fall of the Puritan ethic in New York and New England."

A number of the Winthrop clan appear in each story, but often much more interesting are the outsiders who react strongly against or comment acutely upon a driving urge to maintain at all costs a monumental Christian belief that the divinely ordained know best for every one else in the world. Polished, urbane, beautifully characterized, these tales are Auchincloss at his best.

Although this new book was published in 1975, I didn't get to read it until this past summer. It is SHOGUN, (Atheneum), by James Clavell. In an extraordinary performance Mr. Clavell, (author of TAI-PAN), has achieved a vast and dramatic re-creation of early 17th century Japan in which a stunning amount of historical material has been molded to the contours of the narrative.

In portraying what is basically the power struggle between two great "daimyo," (feudal lords), who aspire to become "Shogun," or absolute ruler of Japan in the name of a puppet Emperor, Mr. Clavell not only brings us a tale surging with action and intrigue, but makes comprehensible the savage, beautiful, death-filled code of the "samurai."

In a huge cast that reflects every level of a rigidly stratified society, the main protagonists are Toranaga, one of the great "daimyos," grand master at the game of political chess, and a shipwrecked English pilot-navigator, John Blackthorne. Blackthorne, through courage, cunning and luck, ascends from despised "barbarian" to trusted vassal of Toranaga, with the status of "samurai," and lover of an accomplished, powerful woman.

This is a huge book, well over 1,000 pages, and one of the best I have read in a long, long time.

The letter-perfect detail and a close shave make it worthy of Arthur Hailey at his best but Robert Davis' THE PILOT, (Morrow), has more going for it than suspense. Indeed, his portrait of an airline pilot walking the line between alcoholism and sobering responsibility is dramatic enough to keep you reading all night.

Mike Hagen is the best captain I've International has, although computerized, conglomerate run aviation depresses him. As an escape, he tosses down "spookers"—even while in the air—and no one notices because Mike "drinks so well." That's until a shaky landing sends him headlong to a psychiatrist.

Then comes an edge-of-your-seat race between Mike's withdrawal schedule and the likelihood management will catch on, or a crash will happen with an incriminating bottle aboard. A most convincing story.

My favorite Bicentennial novel of the year is Thomas Fleming's LIBERTY TAV-ERN, (Doubleday). Liberty is on the main road between Perth Amboy and Philadelphia. In 1776 you voted there, got your mail there, argued the great debate between England and America there and got sworn into service there.

Some 50 years later, James Kemble sets down his memories of the tavern and of the men who meet there, men as deeply immersed in politics as a hot poker in a rum flip. Most of the fighting goes on up north, but in and around Liberty Tavern neighbor turns against neighbor. Jonathan Gifford, the tavern's owner, and his daughter Kate are the central figures.

But the real story hinges on her brother Kemble's assassination of a rebel officer. This outright murder is a "family sin" which stands for the brutalization the war brings even to the best of men. Still it's the homefeelings of tavern life that come through in the end.

The setting for Irving Wallace's THE R DOCUMENT, (Simon & Schuster), is 1976. With crime reaching a crisis point, the U.S. is ripe for a new amendment to the Constitution that would suspend the Bill of Rights when necessary to protect "national security" and give emergency powers to the director of the FBI.

Only one more state, California, has to ratify Amendment 35 to make it law, and honest young attorney general Chris Collins is sent out there by the President to push for the amendment. He learns of an elusive R Document which outlines the reality behind the 35th—a widespread conspiracy of the director to take over the country.

Collins is caught in a web of blackmail and dirty tricks, but he drives himself unmercifully to expose the conspiracy just in the nick of time.

A good "who-done-it" with Wallace, as usual, telling his story with painstaking thoroughness.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

We view accountability as responsible management in education. In much the same way that a ship must have a destination, a plan of action for reaching its destination and feedback systems for monitoring its course, a school system also must have goals, objectives, management strategies and data collection for making appropriate changes. Accountability is simply a label indicating that we as a school system are assuming some responsibility for certain components of student growth.

It is the job of the schools to see that all children receive the type of good education which will give them the best possible start in life. We must assure that the thousands of children in our school system gain the basic skills and understandings that will enable them to compete for jobs and to succeed in higher education. That is what we mean by accountability.

Accountability is a two-step process. We must first determine what we are to be accountable for and then we must define the process by which we will be accountable. The basic academic skills—reading, expressing oneself in the English language in both written and oral form, and the ability to work with and understand mathematical concepts—are our highest priorities. Beyond these minimum objectives, we must develop standards of academic excellence which encourage each student to progress as rapidly and as far as possible. We must also provide opportunities for students to explore the entire field of career opportunities.

Local History Comes Alive For Kerby School Students

By Susan McDonald

The best way to teach children anything is to get them involved. That may sound simple enough, but with the study of history, it can pose a problem.

Unless, of course, you're Darlene Krato. When she was named chairman of Kerby Elementary School's Bicentennial program, she found a way to get the kids involved—with things they could see and feel and places, families and streets they had known for years.

"We, (Mrs. Krato and Kerby Principal Dick Kay), wanted to base our Bicentennial studies on local history so it would make sense to the kids," she explains. "But how do you get that into the classroom?"

A series of demonstrations and lectures on early American crafts was one way. But another, and probably her most lasting contribution to the birthday celebration, was a collection of 16 tapes she researched and narrated, all about the history of The Pointe area, now on file in central school offices.

To a history buff like Mrs. Krato, the research was no problem. She spent a year in the Burton Historical Collection in Detroit searching out those details of early Grosse Pointe life that kids most want to know—everything from ancient, local Indian myths to the sometimes bizarre details of Indian battles and kidnappings of local characters.

Subjects of the tapes range from the man for whom Kerby School was named, to Cadillac's wife's point of view of life in Michigan wilderness, to the tale of a family held in slavery by Indians for many years before they were ransomed by Cadillac and took up residence in the Neff and Lincoln road area.

The results were a delight to Kerby students who listened to the 15-minute tapes during their Bicentennial celebration.

But they also caught the attention of the American Association for State and Local History. On Tuesday, December 14, at an 8 p.m. PTO meeting, Mrs. Krato will accept for Kerby School a Certificate of Commendation from the association in recognition of their achievement in the field of local history.

The association is a non-profit educational agency that publishes books, technical leaflets and a monthly magazine called "History News." They awarded 49 certificates this year to schools and agencies across the U.S. and Canada.

Mrs. Krato is understandably proud of the honor. But it is obvious that, with or without awards, her enthusiasm about history would keep her going in the field.

"I just enjoy the work," she says. "And I really bemoan the fact that my children don't get enough local history education in school. Since the state-wide program in Michigan was dropped, it's up to local districts entirely to come up with the programs."

To that end end, there is no doubt Mrs. Krato has done her share.

Letters to The Editor

(Editor's Note: This letter was originally written to the Park City Hall. A copy of the communication was sent to the NEWS.)

I have just heard on the CBS Morning News of your proposed legislation to bar people who are not related by blood or marriage from living together in a single family dwelling. Congratulations on the publicity. I'll be watching for your December 13 decision.

My question: Have you gone mad?!! You will now take it upon yourself to legislate friendship, love... and even simple economic convenience? Have you some idea that you are justified in this mindless interference into private lives?

The exposure of your behavior is well-deserved... and helpful to me, because you are the people I am educating my children to recognize, understand and, I hope, to fight throughout their lives.

I could ignore you and others of your ilk, with only passing amusement, as the pitiable creatures you are, if you were not engaged in the systematic destruction of individual freedom.

Take a look at the system you are advocating—and stop it!

Sincerely,
Beverly K. Cochran,
Of Greenville, Me.

Nabozny Awaits Electric Chair

An Ohio judge sentenced William V. Nabozny to the electric chair Monday, November 29, for the stabbing death of Pointer James Crawford.

Nabozny, 38, of Dearborn, was convicted of aggravated murder after a three-week trial in early June. His execution is set for April 18 in the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility in Lucasville.

Mr. Crawford was 25-years-old and resided in St. Clair avenue. He was arrested on December 5 as he arrived for work at the Michigan and Junction Branch of the National Bank of Detroit, where he was assistant manager.

The kidnappers demanded $250,000 ransom in phone calls to random citizens and later negotiated through radio stations. They never gave instructions for the delivery of the money.

Mr. Crawford's body was found six days after the abduction in a wooded area in central Ohio.

Two other suspects have been charged with the murder. One already has been convicted and is awaiting psychology examination. The other will go to trial soon.

The Ohio Supreme Court ruled just last week that the death penalty in the state is constitutional.

"Echoes From the Moon," an anthology of poetry published by the Detroit Women Writers, includes selections by three Grosse Pointers as well as a featured poem by a former resident.

The 120-page paperback presents serious, traditional and avant garde offerings, poetry for children and light verse. Each of its 31 contributors is a member of the Detroit Women Writers. Their work was selected for publication by a panel of four poets.

Peggy (Mrs. Frank) Boyer, who proves her versatility by appearances in both the serious and light verse categories, describes her "Slice of Silence" as a plea from the mother of six children.

Miss Stansby Wed in West

At a double ring ceremony Saturday, September 18, in Saint Catherine's Anglican Church, North Vancouver, B.C., Elizabeth Anne Stansby and James Robert Young exchanged marriage vows.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Dent Stansby, former Farms residents who now make their home in North Vancouver, is a graduate of Grosse Pointe South High School and the University of Michigan.

The bridegroom, who also received his degree from the University of Michigan last May, is the son of Mrs. Wesley Young, of Paw Paw, and the late Mr. Young.

For the rites at which The Reverend Ian Grant officiated, the former Miss Stansby, given in marriage by her father, chose a candlelight gown of embroidered organza trimmed with Venise lace.

Seed pearls and lace accented her ivory veil. She carried coral Sonja roses, stephanotis and baby's-breath, with ivory satin streamers.

Patricia Stansby, honor maid for her sister, wore a long gown of coral silk jersey, with a short cape, and carried a nosegay of pale yellow daisy chrysanthemums and baby's-breath, with coral satin streamers.

Charles Young was best man for his brother, Mark Fromberg and Stuart Harrison, both of North Vancouver, seated the guests.

The mother of the bride wore a long-sleeved, formal length, coral and green floral-patterned gown. The bridegroom's mother chose a long-sleeved, royal blue knit.

After a reception in the Fireside Room of the Canyon Gardens Restaurant, the newlyweds left to vacation on Kauai, Hawaii. They are making their home in Arlington, Va. Mr. Young is associated with a Washington, D.C., law firm.

Club members will be welcoming a new member, Mrs. Howard Trowen, of Berkshire road, and her husband.

Mrs. M. E. Stevenson

Speaking her marriage vows Saturday, November 13, in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore to Mr. Stevenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Stevenson, of Berkley, was DEBORAH JANE SHONTZ, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Shontz, Jr., of Bishop road.

May Wedding Date Is Made

Plans for a May 13 wedding are being made by Martha Anne McCarron and James Gerard Victor, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. McCarron, of Lochmoor boulevard, Harper Woods.

The bride-elect was graduated in 1970 from Grosse Pointe North High School and in 1973 from Detroit Practical Nursing Center, with an L.P.N.

Miss Shontz Wed To Mr. Stevenson

Her Two Sets of Grandparents Attend Afternoon Ceremony; Kevin Stevenson Serves As His Brother's Best Man

A reception at the Detroit Athletic Club followed the Saturday, November 13, wedding of Deborah Jane Shontz and Mark Edward Stevenson in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore. The newlyweds vacationed in Florida, and will make their home in Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Shontz, Jr., of Bishop road, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. O'Donnell, of Detroit and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Shontz, of Boynton Beach, Fla., all of whom attended the ceremony.

The former Miss Shontz selected a candlelight gown for the 2 o'clock rites. Band-necked and long-sleeved, it featured a low torso bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace and a gored skirt of silk chiffon, extending into a chapel train.

A Juliet headpiece of lace and pearls held her long, candlelight silk chiffon veil. She carried a cascade of Eucharis lilies and ivy.

Honor maid Kimberly Walters wore a long-sleeved, V-necked, Empire-waisted frock of dusty rose silk jersey, accented with appliques of Venise lace at the neckline, and a draped profile hat of matching jersey, with matching lace motifs.

Bridesmaids Barbara Erickson, Sue Marantette and Kathy Miotke were dressed identically in wine jersey gowns and hats. They carried bouquets of shattered African proteas and French silk roses.

Kevin Stevenson was best man for his brother. They are the sons of the James E. Stevensons, of Berkley. Ushers were John Larry, Jim Westra and Rick Simi.

Mrs. Shontz wore a long, pale beige dress of pleated chiffon. The bridegroom's mother's long gray chiffon dress had floating panels.

Preview Launches Hilberry's Season

Pre-Performance Dinner and Post-Performance Champagne Reception Are Features of Gala "Thank You" Evening for Theatre's Sponsors

The 14th annual President's Preview at Wayne State University's Hilberry Theatre earlier this month was a double celebration for the full house of Theatre Sponsors who were guests at the black tie opening.

The event inaugurated Hilberry's 14th season and was a record-breaking fund-raiser for the "Understudies," the committee of metropolitan-area women who have assumed the task of finding Sponsors to contribute to the support of Hilberry's graduate repertory company.

Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker, Jr., of Merriweather road, "Understudies" chairman, announced an all-time high of $41,250 in contributions, mostly raised through individual $100 donations.

The Preview, hosted by WSU President and Mrs. George E. Gullen, Jr., as a "thank you" for the Sponsors, featured a performance of Ronald Ribman's "Journey of the Fifth Horse," an Obie Award-winning drama based on Turgenev's "Diary of a Superfluous Man."

The production, a Detroit premier, featured the entire Hilberry acting company, beneficiaries of the fund-raiser. Post-performance, actors joined guests in the Theatre foyer for a champagne reception.

Prior to the performance, 260 Sponsors gathered for cocktails and dinner at the Standard Club.

Many Pointers were among the Preview guests. Supreme Court Justice G. Mennen Williams was there, with his wife, Nancy, an "Under-three houses will welcome visitors to "Christmas Street" Tuesday, December 7, between 1 and 5 o'clock. Tea will be served at the Denise's, a Bake Sale presented at the Cherry's, and the Downie house will resound with the sound of music, by ensemble groups from Grosse Pointe North and South High Schools, throughout the afternoon.

study." Judge and Mrs. Horace W. Gilmore were there. Pointe "Understudies" and their husbands attending included the Edward J. Tutags, Dr. and Mrs. C. Jackson France, the Ronald E. Goves, the Ronald W. Haughtons, Dr. and Mrs. Carl W. Lohmann, the Wilber Hadley Macks, Mr. and Mrs. Edward St. C. Thomas, Dr. and Mrs. L. Murray Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Vance, Jr., and the Anthony J. Vincis.

The President's Preview is the annual culmination of the "Understudies" fund-raising drive to support the Hilberry Repertory Company, this year including 42 members from 24 states.

Twenty-two actors and actresses, 16 technicians and four administrative assistants comprise this year's Company. They come to Hilberry for advanced training and intensive performance experience preparatory to professional careers. They are selected, by audition, from hundreds of applicants. They are students, but such talented students that the quality of Hilberry productions is completely professional. Nearly 200 former Hilberry members are currently working in the American theater as actors, teachers, directors and designers.

Besides "The Journey of the Fifth Horse," this year's Hilberry repertoire includes "The Lion in Winter," "The Three Sisters," "Othello," "Moby Dick — Rehearsed," "You Never Can Tell" and revivals of last season's "As You Like It" and "The Miser."

Further information on the 1976-77 season is available at the Hilberry box office, 577-2972.

Unitarians Set Christmas Tea

The Women's Alliance of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church will hold its Christmas tea Tuesday, December 14, at 1 o'clock at the Church in Maumee avenue.

After a cookie exchange in the Gallery, the women will convene in the Sanctuary to hear Cass Technical High School's Madrigal Singers in a reprise of their successful Christmas performance for the Unitarians last year.

Christmas Concert for Musicales

Tuesday Musicales of Detroit, Mrs. Burt E. Taylor, Jr., of Ridge road, president, will present its annual Christmas Concert next Tuesday, December 7, at 10:30 o'clock at Redford Presbyterian Church, where a luncheon follows the program.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made through today, Thursday, December 2, by calling Mrs. Joseph Shaheen, 882-0710. Both the concert and the luncheon are open to the public.

The program, planned by Mrs. M. A. Klerkx, begins with the Tuesday Musicales Choral Ensemble, directed by Mrs. Clark Pardee, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. Harry Peels, singing McLenore's "Noel," Michael Haydn's "Come Children, Praise Our Lord" and "Seven Joys of Christmas" by Mechem.

Pointers Mrs. John V. Deaver and Mrs. Arnold Lungershausen will perform Correll's "Variations on La Folla," composed for alto recorder and harpsichord.

Mrs. George Fenstermacher will accompany Mrs. C. Edwin Smith, contralto, as she sings "Patiently Have I Waited for the Lord" from Saint-Saens' Christmas Oratorio, Peter Warlock's "Bethlehem Town," Carl Thorp's "O Men from the Fields" and "The Bird's Noel" by Cham-inade.

Performing Biber's "Sonata a 3" will be Mrs. Frank Zocharski, of Detroit, violinist, and Pointers Mrs. Peter Cubba, violinist, Mrs. Robert Crossen, trombonist, and Mrs. Edward Vabolis, continuo.

Mrs. J. N. Jennings, organist, will present "Sheep May Safely Graze" from the Birthday Cantata composed by J. S. Bach, arranged by E. Power Biggs, the "Choral Prelude" based on Johannes Brahms' "Behold A Rose Is Blooming" and Robert Leech Beddell's "Noel Provençal."

The Choral Ensemble closes the program with "New Born," a Christmas spiritual arranged by John W. Work, featuring soloists Mrs. Gary N. Spencer, of Mount Clemens, Pointer Mrs. Richard Williams and Mrs. W. J. Atkinson, of Detroit, plus "Three Little Carols" by Dale Wood, "Let Us Play a Gay Musette," arranged by Albert Lee Carr, "The Flowering Thorn," arranged by Jean Britton and, as finale, "The Sleigh," composed by Kountz.

Mrs. H. Cushing Smith is in charge of the post-concert luncheon.

Cinders to the Castle Path Open to Pointers

By Katie Elsil

Close your eyes. Imagine your fairy godmother gently tapping you with her magic wand and granting you your secret wish. Now open your eyes.

Surprise! There is no fairy godmother — but, as several Pointe women have recently discovered, a motivated woman can make her own wishes come true.

The discovery was made in an innovative class called "From the Cinders to the Castle, (with or without the Prince)," offered through Wayne County Community College at Grosse Pointe North High School.

The class was designed by Jo-Anne Roth and Sharon Hall, two imaginative women who are committed to helping people discover what is good about themselves.

"So many people walk around feeling defective and unworthy," Jo-Anne explains. "Sharon and I wanted to plan a class that would move a person toward believing in herself—to know that she can achieve and change in ways that are important for her."

Jo-Anne and Sharon use a variety of methods to achieve their goal, from direct teaching of various psychological theories to exercises which draw on the students' own life experiences, and group discussions.

They use a variety of transactional analysis, (Hall and Roth are both members of the Transactional Analysis Association), Gestalt and Behavioral Modification.

The classes also incorporate literature, film and music.

Six weeks ago, at the beginning of the class, 13 strangers introduced themselves and shared the wish they'd want granted from their fairy godmother. Many, indeed, felt like Cinderella sitting in the cinders.

At a recent class meeting the same 13 women, now a cohesive group, shared a delicious potluck meal and cel-achieving their progress toward achieving their goals. Some had taken the first tentative steps, others had taken more, but all agreed that they had each moved ahead on the road to their personal castles. Pat Kimel said, "I really enjoyed the class. Besides being a learning experience, it was also a lot of fun."

Sharon Cillelte agreed, adding, "Each week I really thought about what we had discussed and looked forward to the next class."

Sharon's classmate, Mildred Koeppel, observed, "People tease me about taking classes at my age, but I feel that you're never too old to learn, and I plan to register for another class next semester."

Tillie Haelewyn summed up what she had learned by saying, "The class speaks in modern terms for today's woman and teaches that where there's a will, there's a way!"

The course will be offered again beginning February 14. More information may be obtained by calling Wayne County Community College, 832-4750.

Joy Is Theme For Baptist Tea

The Women's Missionary Society of the Grosse Pointe Baptist Church presents a Christmas Candlelight Tea next Tuesday, December 7, at 7:15 o'clock in the Church Fellowship Hall.

The program, with "Joy of the Lord" as its theme, will feature guest speaker Marge Flora, of Bloomfield Hills, active in Christian women's groups, retreats and Bible Study classes for 15 years.

Mrs. Flora, wife and mother of four children, bases her messages on family relationships on personal experience, and applies her Bible messages to the problems of everyday living. She attended Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S.C. She is a past-president of the Protestant Youth Organization's Women's Auxiliary, Southfield. She is presently on the staff of Farmington's Winning Women, Inc.

The Wesley Bell Choir of Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church, under Camille Thompson's direction, will present Christmas carols and sacred selections. This five-year-old Bell Choir has appeared on television, toured in the United States and England and played in the Washington Cathedral during Bicentennial celebrations.

Tea tables will feature holiday centerpieces. Refreshments will be served by the Ruth and Naomi White Cross Circles. All women of the community are invited to attend.

To Launch Music Hall's Fund Drive

Monies Needed to Make Up Performing Arts Center's 30 Percent Operating Deficit; Contributions of Any Amount Are Welcome

Pointer Ruth Glancy, chairman of the board for the Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts, Inc., has announced that a public drive for $400,000 in contributions for Music Hall will be launched in December.

"These funds are needed to cover a projected operating deficit of $400,000," Mrs. Glancy explained. "This is only 30 percent of the total budget—a much lower figure than comparable organizations in other cities."

In 1973, when the fine, legitimate theater built by Matilda Dodge Wilson in 1928 for $1.8 million was scheduled for razing, (it could not have been replaced for less than $8 million today), two metropolitan Detroit institutions recognized the loss the city would suffer via the demolition, and the gain that would be realized should it become a non-profit Performing Arts Center.

The Kresge Foundation purchased and donated the building to the Detroit Institute of Technology, with the provision that it be used as a non-profit Performing Arts Center.

Detroit Renaissance allocated a total of $150,000 in operating capital.

A board of directors was assembled, other civic-minded organizations and individuals recruited, a skeleton staff retained.

Fifteen different performing arts events were presented in the new Center that first year, and Music Hall became, instead of another parking lot, a vital cultural force in the nation's sixth largest city.

Today, Music Hall provides a broad spectrum of dance, theater and musical productions. Ticket prices are held as low as possible, and discounts are given to students and senior citizens.

But the Center has, as yet, received no endowments. Expenses must be met through the sale of tickets and the receipt of contributions from individuals, foundations and the business community.

The bulk of the Knight Foundation's recent gift of $50,000 will be used to pay for a new roof on the theater. Many other physical improvements and restorations are needed, ranging from repair of basic mechanical systems, (plumbing, heating, wiring, et al.), to cleaning, painting and seat repair, and eventual modification, replacement and addition of other interior/exterior facilities.

A feasibility study by the theater's original architects, Smith, Hinchman & Grylls, is underway, to determine costs and phases by which to proceed in the restoration.

Meanwhile, Music Hall is proceeding with as many minimal and basic improvements as possible, in order to bring the building "up to code." Rebuilding of the box office and renovation of the lower lobby lounge are initial features of this restoration; they are priority areas because they are in themselves revenue producing facilities, as well as visual and supportive evidence of the Center's health and growth.

For the Center is healthy, and growing. Attendance was up 45 percent during the 1975-76 season, with paid admissions totaling 210,000.

Music Hall has its own resident company, Michigan Opera Theatre, directed by Dr. David DiChiera.

The current season is full and varied. Listings and seat prices for all scheduled 1976-77 productions may be obtained by writing to the Music Hall Center, 350 Madison Avenue, Detroit 48226, or phoning 963-7622.

Donations of any amount are most welcome, and are tax deductible. Patrons who wish to help the Center financially are urged to contact Mrs. Glancy at the Music Hall Center box office.

Law Program For Phase I

Job and sex discrimination will be among topics touched on by Carole L. Chiamp, attorney and member of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, when she discusses "Single Persons and the Law" at a Phase I meeting Sunday, December 5, at 7:45 o'clock at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

A social hour follows the program.

Phase I, open to all singles between the ages of 20 and 39, has an evening of volleyball, a chance for all interested singles to meet new friends in an informal setting, planned for tomorrow, Friday, December 3, at 7:30 o'clock at Memorial Church.

Phase I meets every Sunday evening at Memorial Church, where further information on the group's activities may be obtained by contacting Gust Jahnke at 882-5330.

Forming New Garden Club

The newly-forming garden club in Grosse Pointe Woods, membership limited to Woods residents although guests are welcome, has scheduled its third meeting for Monday, December 6, at 1 o'clock in the Community Room in the basement of the Grosse Pointe Woods Municipal Building.

The program will be a workshop on the Art of Making Bows. Practice material will be furnished—but those who wish to make a really good bow should bring funds for the purchase of good ribbon.

Further information on the club and its programs may be obtained by calling Jean Rice at 886-2097.

Club to Hold Couples Party

The holiday-decorated Depetris way home of Mr. and Mrs. Erik Erikson will be the setting for Windmill Pointe Garden Club's annual couples party Wednesday, December 8. Cocktails and dinner will be followed by music, planned by Mrs. Erikson.

Presenting Nativity Film for Goodwill Women

Mrs. Syd Reynolds, director of the Grosse Pointe Children's Theatre, will present a Christmas art film, "The Nativity," at the Wednesday, December 8, in-gathering of funds to support the service projects of the Women's Association of Goodwill Industries.

Reservations for a donation mini-luncheon, to be served at noon in the Goodwill Building in Brush street near East Grand Boulevard, are being accepted through Monday, December 6, by Miss Geraldine Sellers, Townsend 6-7342, and Mrs. James Wellons, Townsend 6-5044.

Following luncheon, Mrs. Bernard M. Segner, of Westchester road, program chairman, will introduce Sally Reynolds, a personal friend of Father Patrick Peyton, under whose auspices the film was made.

Miss Sellers, chairman of the Goodwill Women's Pantry Shelf-Medical Chest, reports that Christmas gifts have been purchased and individually-wrapped for 300 handicapped persons in the Goodwill operations division of League-Goodwill, who will be the Association's guests at a Christmas turkey dinner Thursday, December 16.

Miss Sellers' committee members include Mrs. George W. Stark, Mrs. A. Warren Brock and Mrs. Elroy Scheifele. Personal medical needs of Goodwill's clients, as requested by the nursing staff, are met throughout the year from proceeds of the Christmas in-gathering.

Each member of the Women's Association received a bronze-colored paper replica of the Liberty Bell, with the request that it be signed and returned, accompanied by a donation for the Pantry Shelf-Medical Chest.

The bells will be mounted on a large replica of the Shield of the United States, signifying the purpose of Goodwill Industries and the Women's Association: to help free handicapped people from their restrictions. Mrs. Boisey Wyeche will give the day's inspirational message. Luncheon chairmen are Mrs. Alvin Washington and Mrs. Pauline Westfall.

Free supervised parking is available in the Goodwill lot in Milwaukee boulevard, between John R and Brush streets. Membership in and attendance at functions of the Women's Association are open to any persons interested in providing testing, training and employment of handicapped people.

From Pens to Palettes

One of Grosse Pointe's most distinguished artists is Louise (Mrs. Marco) Nobili, 31 of whose Paintings from a Sabbatical Project are on display through December 12 at Wayne State University's Community Arts Gallery.

"Reflections fascinate me," she observes, "as they curiously modify, distort or transform appearances. The qualities they project often resemble dream or memory imagery. That motivates my painting."

"Sometimes the bizarre shapes they create simply act as a catalyst for pictorial invention."

Mrs. Nobili's reflections range from an oil-on-canvas "Echoes of Time" through many moods and media, all of which she handles beautifully.

To Fete Kids with Arthritis

Arthritis is "that old people's disease" that 250,000 kids have, and Jerry Schoenith, a victim of arthritis since he was 17, wants to do something about it.

That "something" is to throw a holiday party for young arthritis victims and their parents. Place is the Roostertail, (Downstairs at Jerry's). Date is this Saturday, December 4.

Hours are noon to 3 o'clock and there'll be clowns, food, entertainment, presents . . . even a visit from Santa.

Admission is free but by invitation, through the Michigan Chapter Arthritis Foundation, 561-9098, which will have an Arthritis Information Display, with literature available to parents, in an adjoining room.

James Lightbody, M.D., medical director of the Chapter, will be on hand to answer questions.

Jerry, who wants people to understand that not only are younger people afflicted with arthritis but, through proper care and education, it need not be crippling, would like this to be the first of many annual parties.

At eight, Bayard Kurth was a student at the John Wickers School of Fine Arts. Later he studied under Sam Cashwan and Sarkis Sarkisian at Detroit Arts and Crafts. Recently he has worked with Ray Fleming of Birmingham, Laraine McCarty of Royal Oak and Carol Wald of New York.

His one-man show of 45 paintings, (the majority in watercolor and acrylics, some monoprims and serigraphs), opens this Sunday afternoon at the Art Studio in Morang drive, three blocks west of Cadieux, where it will continue through Christmas, during regular gallery hours.

Mr. Kurth, a Grosse Pointe resident for the past 26 years, is a member of the Grosse Pointe Artists Association and the Scarab Club.

Talent runs in the family. His father was an artist. Two of the four Kurth children are artists: one son has his own studio in New York, where he works in fine and commercial arts; a daughter does architectural drawing in California.

DSO Features Pianist Debut

Klaus Tennstedt conducts the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in a pair of concerts tonight and Saturday, December 2 and 4, at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium. Guest soloist will be young Bulgarian pianist Juliana Markova, making her DSO debut in performances of the Prokofiev Piano Concerto No. 1. The other work on Maestro Tennstedt's program is Anton Bruckner's Symphony No. 4 in E-flat major, subtitled "Romantic." Conductor Tennstedt, 50 years old, was unknown in the United States and most of Europe before he fled from East Germany in 1971. Born in Merseburg, he was educated in Leipzig and became concertmaster of the Municipal Theater in Halle, (Handel's birthplace), soon rising to the conductorship there. Later he became general music director of the Dresden Opera, then director of the state orchestra in Schwerin. After his defection, he became general music director of the opera in Kiel. He made his North American debut with the Toronto Symphony, and achieved a phenomenal success at his United States debut with the Boston Symphony in 1974. Juliana Markova was born in Sofia, Bulgaria, and educated, (at first as a ballet dancer) there and in Milan, at the Verdi Conservatory, where she was graduated with highest honors. Prize-winning performances at the Georges Enesco Competition in Bucharest and the Marguerite Long Competition in Paris launched her European career. After many successful appearances in recital and concert all over Europe, she made her United States debut with the Los Angeles Philharmonic in 1974; 1975-76, her first full season in this country, included a debut with the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Prokofiev's Piano Concerto No. 1 was first played in Detroit by Prokofiev himself, with the DSO conducted by Victor Kolar at a special concert in February, 1938. It has never been performed on a DSO subscription program. It dates from Prokofiev's student days, in 1911. Tickets for the Thursday and Saturday concerts, priced from $4 to $9, are available at the Ford Auditorium box office. A limited number of tickets for students and senior citizens, at $2, is available at the box office starting
