HOUSE DEMOCRATS LAMBASTED the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee for failing to adequately supervise the nation's nuclear power policies and voted Wednesday night to strip the 30-year-old panel of all bill-writing power. The move to turn the once-powerful committee into little more than an advisory group was led by Rep. Jonathan Bingham, of New York, who said the panel has outlived its usefulness. The Democratic caucus decision is certain to be approved by the full House, since the party will control the next Congress by about 2 to 1.

THE CHAIRMAN OF the state Public Service Commission, (PSC), proposed Thursday that gas utilities pay to insulate and make other energy-saving improvements in over one million Michigan homes, saving the average customer with a gas furnace up to $80 a year. The capital cost of the plan, estimated at $650 million, would be recovered through higher utility rates averaging perhaps $20 a year per customer. But the insulation and other improvements would produce a net fuel cost saving for an average customer of from $40-$80 a year, according to the PSC staff.

THE NATIONAL ACADEMY OF SCIENCES has given a relatively clean bill of health to Project Seafarer, the controversial submarine communications system which the Navy proposes to build in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. In a preliminary NAS report delivered Friday by the Navy to the Michigan Environmental Review Board, Seafarer was portrayed as presenting no substantial hazard to the health and safety of "plants, humans or other animals." However, the report is not likely to produce a wide acceptance of Seafarer in the UP, where elections have shown residents opposing the project by margins of 10 to 1.

POSSIBLE COLLUSION between federal agencies and the Alyeska Pipeline Service Co. involving falsified X-rays of defective welds was charged by a House subcommittee staff Saturday. It said finding the welds and correcting them could cost "hundreds of millions of dollars" and delay the Trans-Alaska pipeline opening, now scheduled for mid-1977. Radiographers for the nearly completed pipeline have told the subcommittee that they took part in a scheme to falsify up to 200 X-rays of defective double-joint welds. The falsification took place after the 200 pipes with defective welds were strung along the 800-mile pipeline without repairs, the staff of the subcommittee charged.

LEFT WING EXTREMISTS in Madrid said Sunday they kidnapped the number two man in the Spanish government and threatened to kill him unless 15 Basque and Maoist prisoners are released. At first, police with held judgment on the communiqué from the "October 1 Anti-Fascist Resistance Groups." But national security headquarters said Sunday night the kidnappers had been identified definitely and were in fact the October 1 group.

THE SUPREME COURT lifted a stay of execution Monday for condemned slayer Gary Gilmore, clearing the way for Utah to grant his wish to die before a firing squad. The justices acted, 5-4, after Utah claimed that denying Gilmore his right to waive appeals and confront the firing squad "affronts a basic sense of justice."

Kids Present Fairy Tale As Gift to Pointe

Dozens of Pointe youngsters are busy this week putting finishing touches on their roles in the Children's Theater Christmas package for The Pointe—a three-act musical version of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." In the front are AMY DIETZ, as the charming Snow White, and the dashing Prince Valor, played by ANDY VO-

Firemen, GPC Okay New Pact

But Question of Consolidation Remains Undecided; Arbitrator Will Make Decision

By Susan McDonald

Grosse Pointe City reached agreement with its firefighters last week on basic wage and fringe benefits for the 1976-77 year. The one-year settlement, calling for a 7.2 percent increase in base pay, will add about $23,000 to the City's yearly budget, according to City Manager Thomas Kressbach.

However, the major issue of dispute between the City and the firefighters—consolidation of police and fire forces—was left undecided. A state-appointed arbitrator, Mario Chiesa of Inkster, will begin hearing testimony on that question Saturday, December 18.

The arbitrator will eventually determine the fate of the administration's cost-cutting consolidation plan by determining if the firemen must take training in police work and, in turn, if they must provide firefighting training for police officers.

Show Willingness

Mr. Kressbach said he was disappointed no agreement was reached on the consolidation question. "But I think with this pact the council has demonstrated a strong willingness to cooperate with the men in that direction," he said.

Woods Council's Action Pleases Senior Citizens, Beautification Groups

Recreational Program Incorporated into Budget for Seniors, While "Veteran's Memorial Parkway" Project Takes Big First Step Forward

By Roger A. Waha

Two Committees of the Whole, (C-W), recommendations, one which pleased members of the Senior Citizens Commission and the other members of the Beautification Commission, were unanimously approved by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, December 6.

For the council approved the formulation of a recreational program by the Senior Citizens Commission with Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann and City Administrator Chester E. Petersen. At the same time, a total of $1,500 was approved to be included in the present 1976-77 fiscal year budget for such a program.

In relation to senior citizen activities, the seniors also concurred with a C-W recommendation authorizing Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos to appoint a council member as an "ex-officio" member of the Senior Citizens Commission. Councilman George Cueter received the mayor's nod.

Develop Program

Meanwhile, the council gave its authorization to have an architectural firm complete preliminary plans for the "Veteran's Memorial Parkway" project, and advertise for bids for initial construction. All this was limited to a maximum amount of $16,000.

On the new recreational program, Mr. Petersen said, "It's up to the Senior Citizens Commission to make recommendations on the type of programs they would like to see."

After the seniors decide on what they would like to have, they will meet with Mr. Hallmann and then recommendations will be reviewed by the Citizens Recreation Commission. That group, in turn, will go over the recommendations with Mr. Hallmann and Mr. Petersen.

Mr. Petersen added the council is considering budgeting $3,000 for the program in fiscal year 1977-1978, although that specific figure isn't a certainty at this time. Plans call for the program to begin around February 1, noted Mr. Hallmann, who called the concept "a great idea. The senior citizens are enthusiastic over the program and so am I."

Example of Progress

Hopefully, we'll be able to get something back for the council's consideration, (regarding a specific format), in the middle of January, he said. At this time, potential activities include a square dancing, physical fitness, card parties and shuffleboard.

For her part, Irene Sutton, chairman of the Senior Citizens Commission, stated, "I'm so excited I can't stand it. This is an example of progress, (regarding the city) (Continued on Page 4)

Policemen Cited for Heroism

Four Officers Receive Plaques at Grosse Pointe Lodge No. 102's Presidential Ball

By Roger A. Waha

Four police officers were honored for meritorious service at the annual Presidential Ball of Grosse Pointe Lodge No. 102, Fraternal Order of Police, Monday evening, December 15, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. Each officer received a plaque.

The men, who were nominated by the Police Officer of the Year committee, which then made its recommendations to Lodge 102's executive board, include Farms Cpl. Ronald B. Wooten, the 1975 recipient, and Harper Woods Sgt. Paul Turrill and Patrolman Lawrence Rice, co-recipients for 1976. Meanwhile, Shores Public Safety Officer Gary Mitchell will receive a recognition award for 1976.

"Any officer can submit his recommendation to the Police Officer of the Year committee from December 1-December 1," said Park Patrolman David Hiller, committee chairman, who added the group is now taking recommendations for 1977.

Brought to Attention

Noting that the state lodge has given such awards, Patrolman Hiller said late last year "a couple of us talked about such awards on a local level, (Lodge No. 102 includes all Pointe and Harper Woods officers), as too many incidents go unnoticed in the Grosse Pointes. We felt they should be brought to the attention of our lodge and the community."

The reason why the 1975 award was presented on Monday is because this program got started too late last year, and "we wanted the award to be presented at a formal ceremony," he said.

So the presentations were made at the ball, which included participation by lodge officers, their wives and associates. State and national officers also participated in the event.

Reporter Visits Forever Family House in Woods

Carries on Own Investigation of Allegations Made by Neighboring Residents; Finds Members of Religious Group Evasive to Questions

By George Polgar Jr.

"Behold, how good and pleasant it is when brothers dwell in unity" (Psalm 133:1). With hand lettered posters bearing this and other Biblical quotes decorating the stark brightness of their living room, members of the Forever Family remain oblivious to the neighborhood furor surrounding them.

Commenting on allegations made against them at the Woods Council's meeting Monday, December 6, by residents of Roslyn road, a group member named Alice told the NEWS, "Our neighbors are being terribly unfair. We are here doing the work of Jesus and we are being persecuted just as He was."

While the neighborhood has yet to ask for public crucifixions, residents have clearly indicated that they want the youthful religious group out. And after two years of frustrated legal attempts, half serious rumblings could result in more direct tactics.

Attitude of Citizens
The intensity of the neighborhood ill-will could be sensed in the tumultuous outbursts at the Woods Council meeting. A visit to the Forever Family home can reveal further traces of the neighborhood attitude.

Parking a car across the street from the house brings surrounding neighbors to darkened windows, peering with a "now what?" expectancy. Strollers on tree-lined Roslyn road look askance at the peeling porch of the Forever Family bungalow and shake their heads.

(Editor's Note: Based on the observations of NEWS reporter George Polgar Jr. during two visits to the Forever Family house last week, many of the allegations made by neighbors concerning the condition of the property appear to have been exaggerated.)

Inside the house a visitor must squint to adjust to the glare from two unshaded bulbs on a floor lamp. The walls are lined with couches (Continued on Page 6)

Woods to Hire Consultant To View Zoning, Land Use

By Roger A. Waha

The entire zoning ordinance, along with multiple dwelling standards, will undergo a review in The Woods as the council at its regular meeting Monday, December 6, unanimously concurred in a recommendation from the Planning Commission.

As a result, the city will engage the services of a professional consultant who will review with the commission conceptual standards of multiple dwellings and/or the entire zoning ordinance.

At the same time, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen was authorized to receive proposals from various professional planners for the complete updating of the zoning law for the council's consideration.

Noting that the zoning ordinance has been amended "so many times" and that it was difficult to put matters in the right perspective, Mr. Petersen said the city will focus on several areas. These include updating the zoning law, proposals for preparing a land use plan and proposals toward a master re-development plan.

Zoning Law Variance Approved

Two Career Men May Now Live Together in Home in Kensington road

By James J. Njaim

A November 22 tie vote, which virtually denied two career men a permit to live together, was broken on Monday, December 13, when the Park Council, sitting as a Board of Appeals, approved the pair's right to live in the same house. The approval also cancelled an eviction notice served on the two to vacate their living quarters by a November 30 deadline. This notice was extended to Monday night's session for a review.

Don Mazzola and Richard Gronan, who have been living at 1435 Kensington road, since early September, prior to an issuance of a permit granting them a variance to zoning ordinance 22, had moved into the house in good faith. They expected that a permit would be granted as a matter of formality.

Creates Furor
Taking up residence in the house, owned by the Verheyden Funeral Home, Inc., created a furor among residents living within 300 feet, and along Kensington, at a previous hearing.

Citizens claimed that the two men living together would ruin the single family character of their neighborhood and decrease property values.

The opposing forces appeared at a public hearing on October 25 in numbers, and presented the Board of Appeals with a 77-name petition requesting that the permit be denied to Mr. Mazzola and Mr. Gronan. Many persons in the audience also voiced verbal opposition to the granting of the permit.

With the Board short one vote, (as Councilman Clayton Alandi, an executive director of the funeral home, disqualified himself), three Board members, Mayor Matthew C. Patterson and Councilmen George Verdonck and (Continued on Page 2)

Food Program Draws Interest

Interest in Wayne County's Food and Nutrition Program in The Pointe continues to grow as around 120 senior citizens are being served meals Monday-Friday around the noon hour at the American Legion Hall, Grosse Pointe Post No. 303, 20916 Mack avenue, the interim program site.

"We expect more people when we get to the church," said site director Mary Ale, regarding the scheduled opening Tuesday, January 4, of the site at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue. The interim site, which is open from 10 a.m.-2 p.m., has been drawing an enthusiastic group of seniors, she continued. "The people have been very cooperative. The senior citizens, themselves, are rolling up their sleeves and pitching in," (on a volunteer basis).

While the program is "off the ground and taking off," according to Mrs. Ale, the need for volunteers remains, particularly in the area of the home delivery of meals to shut-ins. If you are able to help, call Sandy Anderson, site coordinator, at 224-0953.

In another development, Mrs. Ale expressed her pleasure over the donation of $50 on the part of the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club. Robert B. Frederick of the club said the money will be utilized to provide small Christmas gifts for seniors, or for prizes stemming from games. The overall objective of the donation, he indicated, is to assist seniors in the area of socialization. The program is open to all seniors, 60 and over, who reside in the county. Although a 50-cent donation is requested for the lunch, it's not mandatory.

Correction

THE NEWS received a number of calls concerning a story in the December 9 issue which stated that Rosalind Russell had a daughter.

The original source for the story gave that information and it was corroborated by the director of the Kennedy-Michigan Foundation, with which Miss Russell was closely associated.

Upon further investigation, it was learned that Miss Russell had no daughter but did have a son.

This information was verified by a doctor who worked closely with Sister Kenny in the 1940's.

ULS's Career Talks Prove Profitable for Students

Young people today are concerned about their futures, and they ask questions, reports University Liggett School.

What career opportunities are open to them after they've "closed the doors" on their high school years? What colleges or training schools are best suited to meet their needs? How can they set career and educational goals that will give them personal satisfaction, as well as make them of value on the job market?

These matters also are the concern of many prominent business and professional leaders in the community who gave their time and shared their experiences with students at recent Career Assemblies at University Liggett School, 1045 Cook road.

Four professionals from diverse fields spoke at the school and took part in a question and answer period afterwards.

Peter Clark, editor and publisher of the "Detroit News" and president of the Evening News Association, spoke on the topic, "How the Federal Reserve System Affects Your Daily Life."

Mrs. Barbara Rose Collins, state representative of the 21st District in Detroit, vacated her seat on the floor of the House for a few hours, to speak to the students on "What the job of legislator consists of." She explained how committees are formed, how laws are made and what goes on "behind the scenes" in meetings and debates.

James Boomgard, director of the Children's Home of Detroit, spoke about "Administration of Health Care Facilities." He emphasized the importance of having more than one "specialty" in today's highly competitive world.

Although he was a hospital administrator for many years, specializing in geriatrics, Mr. Boomgard also has a Masters Degree in Business Administration from the University of Chicago. His broad, general background in the field of business has enabled him to be flexible and to be qualified to direct any large organization.

Dr. Charles Vincent, who is an obstetrician and the director of admissions at the Wayne State University School of Medicine, shared his views of "The Future of Medicine and Medical Politics."

According to Dr. Vincent, only one out of seven applicants are now being accepted into medical schools, and they must be highly qualified and highly motivated students.

As for medical politics, the doctor would like the students, (and the general public), to know of the conflicts that exist, at the moment, between the medical profession and the government. "Many physicians are leaving the state due to malpractice suits and increasing governmental control of medical care for the populace."

For example, he said, a recent ruling was made by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, that any patient without insurance automatically becomes a county patient and has to be treated at Wayne County General Hospital. "This means that a doctor can no longer choose a hospital for his own patients and interferes with his professional rights."

These speakers are part of a University Liggett School program known as "Beyond the Classroom," which takes students on monthly excursions into the working world. Thus far, visits have included the Ford Motor Co. Design Center, Harper Hospital, Wayne State University Law School, the Renaissance Center and the Detroit News Printing and Telecommunications Plant in Sterling Heights.

In addition to this, University Liggett students have had the opportunity to meet informally with career leaders, to see how and where they work, and to gain insight into what they do.

Exposure to various careers helps the individual student to choose their own "niche" in tomorrow's world.

Pointers Play With U-M Group

Pointe high school students Christine Carmell and Barbara Gabbart are among musicians from 35 Michigan secondary schools performing this year with the University of Michigan Youth Band/Wind Ensemble.

The group was formed in 1973 to offer the students performing opportunities as well as master instruction from graduate students and faculty at the U-M music school.

The students are recommended for the ensemble by their high school music directors and must audition for membership. They practice every Saturday morning throughout the academic year on the Michigan campus under the direction of Professor Thomas L. Dvorak.

Citizen Gets 'Special' Mail

The case of the missing bracelet which subsequently found its way back to its owner.

No, that's not the elongated title of a new movie but an actual occurrence as reported to Woods police on Monday afternoon, December 6.

A 21-year-old Woods woman said her silver wrist bracelet with a square turquoise stone was missing from an upstairs bathroom. Valued at around $170, it has been in the family for 40 years.

That morning, two men from a moving company had removed some furniture from her home. One of the movers, she said, became ill and was in the bathroom for some time. Noting the bracelet was left there the previous evening, she felt the man had taken it.

The girl's mother contacted the company and was advised the two movers were not in the office. Then Det. Charles Philip Hamel contacted them, she said, and they agreed to return the bracelet. She said she would prosecute.

After speaking to a supervisor and explaining the case, the mother told the detective, upon checking the mailbox the following morning, that the bracelet was found inside.

So, with the return of the jewelry, there was no interest in pursuing the complaint, and the case was cleared and closed.

Bon Secours' Variance Bid Subject to Hearing

To help ease some of the parking congestion in the area surrounding Bon Secours Hospital, officials there have requested a zoning amendment to allow for the construction of a new parking lot.

The hospital has asked City officials to rezone a lot on the corner of Cadieux and Caroline roads from residential to parking district. The lot is presently empty and is not landscaped.

The proposed 35-car lot would be depressed two or three feet, similar to the emergency lot along Cadieux. Trees, hedges and a low brick wall would line the structure, making the cars almost invisible from the street, according to Bon Secours Administrator Barry Spero.

The City Council will consider the request at an 8 p.m. public hearing Monday, December 20, in the city offices, 17147 Maumee avenue.

City Planning Consultant Brandon Rogers said he is studying the matter and will have a member of his staff present his recommendation to the council on Monday.

"It is a basic land-use decision," he said. "The council must consider, on the one hand, the impact any such change will have on the residents in the area and, on the other hand, the real need for parking as the hospital service continues to grow."

Mr. Rogers said he is aware of a certain amount of congestion in the Maumee-Cadieux road area now, but noted that some of it may be due to an unwillingness to park in the Bon Secours ramp located off Jefferson avenue, quite a way from the hospital doors.

The hospital has owned the one-third acre lot for six years. It has been used most recently for the storage of construction equipment.

Presenting Mr. Rogers' recommendations at the Monday meeting, will be Parkings Rogers & Assoc., staffed by Edward Bayer, who lives in Cadieux road, just across from the lot in question.

Center Yule Party Tonight

Vincent Price's "A Christmas Carol" will be shown on the movie screen in the Center's Fries Auditorium following dinner and a musical program in the Crystal Ballroom on Thursday, December 16, at 6:30 p.m.

As families arrive, they will pass through a Christmas boutique set up in the foyer by students of South High School. All items are suitable for Christmas gifts and have been made by and are for sale by the students.

In the fairyland of the Crystal Ballroom with its huge twinkling tree, the Center's Youth Council will serve a holiday turkey dinner prepared by the Center's catering staff.

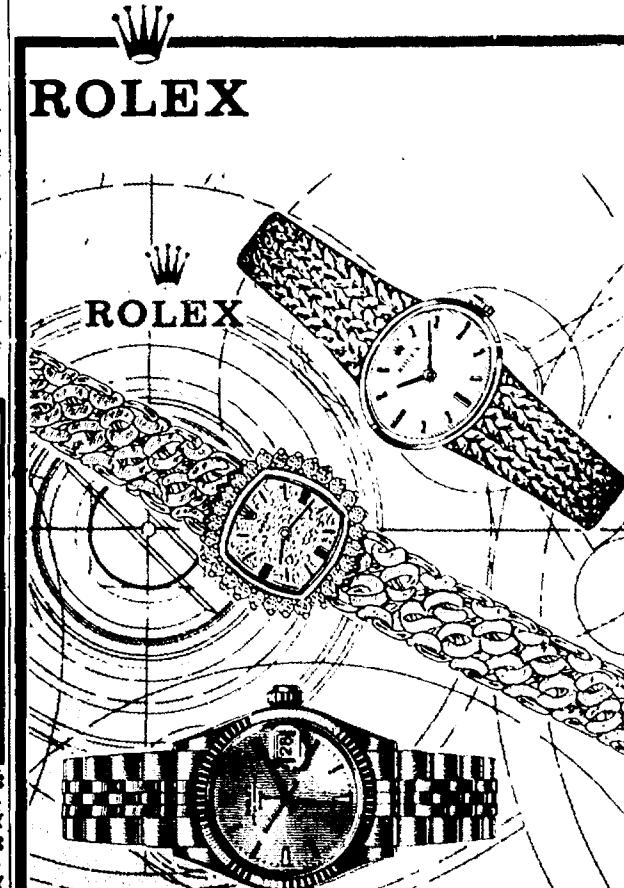

The entire evening, dinner, musical program and movies, is $5.50 per person or $2.75 for elementary school children. Reservations must be made in advance.

Ambitious men will do their best whether watched or not. The recipient of free advice should shake it before taking.

taking over and directing such a program), and I hope the other cities will follow suit." In this respect, she felt there was a moral responsibility on the part of the other Pointes in relation to senior citizens.
Besides the aforementioned activities, Mrs. Sutton focused upon the socialization aspect of such a program, plus service projects toward a definite goal where seniors will be able to utilize their talents.
"If we all put our heads together, we should come up with something that's well rounded," she added.

Meanwhile, Mr. Cueter was decidedly pleased over his appointment as an "ex-officio" member to the commission. With a strong interest in senior citizens and their welfare, he said, "I hope I can do some good for them. I was honored to accept the appointment as I have a soft spot in my heart for senior citizens."

Feeling that seniors in the country have often been neglected, he said, "They have given of themselves throughout all their lives and the community should give them something back."
At the same time, Mr. Cueter felt Woods seniors were fighting "a tough council" as "some (members) don't feel the need to help seniors."
"The council (as a whole) fails to recognize that these people in the community are not all well-to-do people. Regardless of their income bracket, they deserve the attention, and should be given can be reached, Officer VanDeGinste added, "From what has transpired so far, it will probably be arbitration."

For his part, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen stated, "As far as the City of Grosse Pointe Woods is concerned we have never had any real bargaining on outstanding economic issues. From what the mediator advised us yesterday, (Monday), the association did not attempt to bargain or mediate those issues."

As for the submission of a last best offer on the city's part, he replied he didn't know at this point if this would transpire. "If they remain adamant on one or two points and do not bargain those points there's no need to make an offer." One of these points, he said, is a proposal to change the cost of living formula and the compounding of the cost to the city.

Mr. Petersen indicated if such problem areas could be resolved he was confident all other economic differences could be resolved.

As for the association's last proposal, he said, "We will study their last proposal and make a determination whether or not it's worthy to continue trying to negotiate a settlement."

He added, "If they are willing to negotiate and bargain over the issues as contained in the last proposal without being adamant that an additional cost of living provision must be included in any package, we will consider that."

the recognition, of the community."

Noting that Mrs. Sutton has done "a fantastic job," he expressed an interest in helping her achieve her goals. Saying he will try to attend all commission meetings, Mr. Cueter indicated he also wants to address the seniors' group which meets twice a month at North High School.

"I hope I can be a credit to these people," he added. Happiness wasn't confined only to Woods seniors, as the Beautification Commission project took a big first step forward with the council's concurrence with a C-W recommendation.

"Stepping Stone"
While originally hoping for a federal grant for the estimated $140,000 memorial and beautification plan, based upon cost estimates prepared by Eichstedt, Grissim, Young and Associates, landscape architects, Dr. Albert C. Howe, commission chairman, said he was pleased with the council's initiatory action.

Indicating this was a "stepping stone," he said its scope includes two entrance signs, incorporating brick walls, saying "City of Grosse Pointe Woods, Veteran's Memorial Parkway," at a cost of around $12,000, and four coach lamp type light poles, with two at each wall, at a cost of $4,000.

One wall will be located at the Harper Woods boundary line in Vernier road, while the other will be placed in the area of The Shores boundary line to the city. A flag pole also is being considered at the Harper Woods boundary line.

Mr. Petersen said the city will not advertise for bids on the project until early spring, while indicating the estimated $16,000 amount includes the landscape architect's fees.

He added the monies will probably come from either the municipal improvement fund or the major street fund. However, the council will have to make the ultimate decision on this matter.

May Solicit
Meanwhile, Dr. Howe hopes the project will be completed in time for a Memorial Day dedication next year.

On the proposed planting of a variety of trees, e.g., flowering type, evergreens and shade trees, along the parkway, he stated plans call for this to be handled on a solicitation basis.

As proposed, Woods residents would purchase a tree in memory of a veteran, friend, relative or even a historical figure. The commission would be responsible for coordinating this aspect, he noted, while it's hoped the city would maintain the grounds.

Expressing his hopes for the project, Dr. Howe said, "This is an indication of the interest of the city and the community in honoring veterans and in beautifying the area."

"It's a beginning of change, reflecting the character of the city in honoring veterans, and it also will be a thing of beauty."

In fact, he hoped this project would be contagious and affect the other Pointes in that they would begin projects of their own, perhaps even complementing The Woods' effort.

Woods to Hire New Personnel

With the loss of Michael Ferrence and the retirement of Det. Everett Plumb later this month, the Woods Department of Public Safety will be hiring new personnel in the near future.

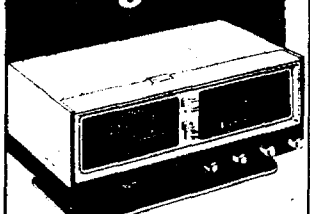

At the same time, Public Safety Director Henry Marchand reported that Officer Thomas Podewzik will be assigned to the detective division effective Monday, January 3.

The department, which was scheduled to conduct tests for patrolmen Tuesday, December 14, will hire two new officers, the director said.

Officer Podewzik, who joined the force in September 1964, was an original member of the Youth Service Division, (YSD), when the bureau became fully operational in August 1970. As part of the rotation plan affecting YSD personnel, he was assigned to the uniform division in early 1974.

Meanwhile, Officer Ferrence resigned from the department to accept the position of chief of the DeWitt Township Police Department, DeWitt, Mich., a suburb north of Lansing. He spent his last day on the job on Tuesday, November 30, in The Woods.

Visit Made to Forever Family House

From an adjoining dining room two group members talking on telephones nod and smile. At around 5 p.m. each day the phones are busy "calling lambs" for the nightly meetings which begin at 10 p.m.

Contrary to reports made at the council meeting last week, the house is not dirty. The carpeting throughout the living and dining rooms is a burnt orange pattern which shows no sign of neglect.

Question Charges

"Today is cleaning day," says a girl named Liz to the unexpected visitor, as she shoves a vacuum cleaner across the floor with one foot.

Though the kitchen does not gleam with white counter tops, the worst that can be said of it is that it fits the rather bohemian life style of the residents.

The basement of the house was described by some neighbors at the council meeting as surely a breeding place for vermin. In fact, the basement is in no worse condition than that of other houses which experienced severe flooding last summer. The floors are covered with the usual storage cartons and assorted odds and ends.

There are a number of telescoping posts undergirding the wooden beams as was reported to the council. However, they seem in no danger of giving way and are apparently being used for exactly the purpose which they are manufactured.

When questioned about specific charges of late night noise or illegal parking of cars, vans and even school buses, the group members are evasive or very brief.

"The charges are greatly exaggerated."

On House Rules

The conversation with group members invariably strays from their problems to the plight of the questioner, who is obviously "not right with the Lord," and in need of "getting saved."

The only frame of reference in these discussions is the Bible, from which group members quote constantly. They assault the individual's pride, ambition, knowledge and honesty with insouciant smiles.

Alice denies being the house leader though group members repeatedly report to her concerning a variety of activities—shopping for groceries, calling "lambs," et al. She says she has no idea of how many people live in the house on a regular basis.

"People come and stay a few days and then move on, and others come and they move on as well."

Though Alice did not acknowledge that any of the group's vans had even been ticketed she said such fines would be paid from a common house fund. Further she maintains that charges of late night comings and goings are not true since they would violate house rules.

"The house rules say that everyone has to be in the house at 10 p.m. when our meetings start," she said.

Saying "Hello"

The implication of this is that everyone who attends the meetings spends the night. If this is the case, they would repeatedly be in violation of The Woods zoning ordinance which limits the number of unrelated persons residing in the house to five.

The condition of the house, according to Alice, is the responsibility of the owner with whom she says she has not discussed the possibility of repairing the exterior.

"We keep up the yard, we shovel our walk, we do what we have to do to keep the place up," she said.

When asked why city officials had to call the house recently to remind them that the following day was trash day, Alice stated that they had simply not known when trash day was and have put their bags out ever since.

To charges of continued solicitation of passers-by, against which the city obtained a civil injunction last year, group members claim that they say "hello" to people on the street just as anyone else would.

"Aren't we allowed to talk to whoever we like? Is there some law against being friendly?"

Taken to Station

As yet Woods police have been unable to act on any reports of improper activities in and around the house although officers have checked the area closely for around three weeks for possible violations of an ordinance prohibiting the storage of commercial vehicles on private property. A few violations were issued.

In fact, on Friday, December 10, at 2:11 a.m., police approached the driver of a vehicle which pulled into the Forever Family driveway

City Workers Get Pay Hike

The City Council approved wage and fringe benefit agreements for the 1976-77 year with its public works, office and administrative workers at a special meeting Thursday, December 9.

The settlements, all retroactive to June 1976, will add at least $35,000 to the city budget, according to Finance Director Dennis Foran.

A 30-cent an hour pay hike was agreed upon for The City's 18 hourly employees in the office and public works departments. Longevity pay for that group was increased to a maximum of $400 for 15 years service as well.

Hourly workers with five years or more on the job will get one extra vacation day a year under the agreement, and an increase in their sick day bank from 120 to 144 days.

The City also agreed to pay Blue Cross-Blue Shield insurance premium increases amounting to about $310 per family and to add either a prescription or eye glass rider to the policies.

Public works employees alone will be reimbursed for the purchase of one pair of safety shoes each year under the settlement.

Supervisory and administrative employees, including the city manager, director of finance, chief of police and fire and public works supervisors, will receive a straight seven percent increase in their salaries along with the insurance benefits allowed the other groups.

None of the office of public works employees are unionized, and negotiations are done on an informal group basis.

GP City Hires A Meter Maid

With the help of federal CETA funds, The City hired last week its first meter-maid, Ann Austin, of Neff road.

On the job since Monday, November 29, Miss Austin has been assigned to walk a beat in "The Village" shopping center, giving out an average of three tickets a day during her first week on the job.

But, City Manager Thomas Kressbach has other plans for the new worker.

"We're still feeling our way around a bit," Mr. Kressbach said, "but I would like to emphasize some positive aspects of the new job. She can provide general assistance to motorists, help crossing guards at the schools and take care of some of the clerical work, too."

Miss Austin, a graduate of Dominican High School, is a third-year criminal justice student at Wayne State University.

"I'm generally interested in the field of law enforcement, but I don't know yet what will come of my studies," she said. "I might like to be a policeman, but not in Detroit or any place like that."

So far, she thinks her new job is "great."

"Everybody's been just beautiful."

NHS Students Good in Math

Seventeen North High School students finished in the top five percent on Part I of the Twentieth Annual Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition. They were among 1,100 Michigan students to compete in the final examination earlier this month.

North math students who qualified for the second test were Elizabeth Barrett, Barbara Bidigare, Richard Carter, Daniel Connors, Robert Crane, Mike Daskas, Terry Gardner, James Halk, Marlee Held, Mary Huetteman, Tim Kuzel, Martin McDonald, Walter Roth, Linda Schmidt, Stuart Sweet, David Thomas and Victoria Vorhees.

The competition is sponsored by the Michigan Section of the Mathematical Assoc. of America and is designed to foster a wider interest in mathematics, to focus attention on the necessity of mathematical training in most professions and to provide scholarships for capable mathematics students in the state.

The 100 winners of the competition will be honored at the Awards Program to be held at Western Michigan University in February with a total of approximately $7,000 in college scholarships.

The scholarship fund includes contributions from the Burroughs Corp., the Kuhlman Corp. and the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Earl Veenendaal, North Math Department head, has served as the high school supervisor for students competing in the examination.

Silence is golden only if it carries an expensive price tag.

Library Hosts Two Exhibits

A collection of Bicentennial wall hangings and a display of "Christmas Past" are special exhibits hosted throughout December by the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue.

Mrs. Sidney Probert, of Rivard boulevard, dipped into her private collection and family relics to portray the mood of 19th century holidays in two showcases in the library lobby.

Children's gifts, including jewelry, circa 1850 ice skates and a 1890 German Bisquit doll are artfully displayed along with antique Christmas tree decorations, and a collection of children's books published between 1820-1920.

The wall-hangings, sewn by the Detroit-based Needle-Threaders group, represent themes from America's past,

Cut Your 1976 Federal Income Tax Before December 31, 1976

With a Tax Sheltered Retirement Savings Account at Standard Federal Savings!

Individual Retirement Accounts can save you money!

An Individual Retirement Account (IRA) is a personal tax-sheltered retirement savings plan for people who are not covered by a pension or profit sharing plan. The IRA plan allows you to deposit up to $1,500 annually or 15% of your earned income, whichever is less, in a tax-sheltered savings account. Your annual deposit is deducted from your gross income when computing your Federal Income Tax and your IRA savings account interest is tax-deferred until you redeem your account.

How Individual Retirement Savings Accounts grow compared to normal savings accounts

INTEREST RATE	AFTER 6 YEARS	AFTER 12 YEARS	AFTER 18 YEARS	AFTER 24 YEARS
5 1/4%	$10,845	$19,257	$28,529	$38,858
6 1/2%	$11,347	$20,404	$30,529	$41,858
7 1/2%	$11,875	$21,697	$32,829	$45,158

The chart assumes wage earner is in the 25% tax bracket and wants to save $1,500 annually with a deposit in each calendar year. With IRA the full $1,500 (no tax payable) is deposited and the interest accumulates tax sheltered until retirement. Without IRA, the $1,500 pre-tax dollars would be reduced by taxes to a net deposit of $1,125 and all interest accumulations would be taxed during the current tax period.

KEOGH PLAN The Keogh plan allows self-employed persons to set aside tax-sheltered dollars up to $7,500 each year, or 15% of your earned income, whichever is less. The amount you set aside is tax deductible and the interest earned is tax-deferred until you retire. Income taxes on both principal and interest are payable only when benefits are withdrawn from your account.

Your Retirement Savings Account May Be Opened In Any Of The Following Savings Programs.

We Offer the Highest Rates of Interest Available on Insured Savings Accounts.

5 1/4% Regular Passbook Savings Accounts Daily Interest	6 1/2% One-Year Savings Certificates* $1,000 minimum deposit	6 3/4% 30-Month Savings Certificates* $1,000 minimum deposit	7 1/2% 48-Month Savings Certificates* $1,000 minimum deposit	7 3/4% 72-Month Savings Certificates* $1,000 minimum deposit

Your Savings Insured to $40,000 with the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

*You can withdraw your money at any time. However, in accordance with federal regulations on all certificate accounts, a substantial interest penalty is required for early withdrawal. The withdrawal will lose 90 days' interest, and in addition the interest on the withdrawn funds will be recalculated from the original term of the certificate at the then current regular passbook interest rate.

Nab Motorist on Two Charges

A Mount Clemens motorist who was driving along Lakeshore road Saturday, December 11, at 10:26 a.m. was arrested by Shores police and charged with speeding and driving while his operator's license was suspended.

Shores authorities said that the license of Charles Clemons, 23, of 34840 Maynard, was suspended by the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing because of Clemons' bad driving record, and because he failed to appear in Detroit's Traffic Court on a stop sign violation charge.

Clemons was apprehended by Public Safety Officer Bruce Darlington, who stated in his official report that he was on radar watch on Lakeshore when he observed the motorist traveling north in excess of the posted 35 mph speed limit.

He was locked in on radar at 45 mph and was stopped by the officer.

The officer said that Clemons produced a valid operator's license and car registration, but the registration was not to the vehicle. The proper certificate was presented by the passenger in the car, who, the officer said, is the owner, but who was legally blind.

Clemons was taken to The Shores station where he was issued violation tickets for the two offenses. He posted a bond of $150 pending a scheduled court appearance on Wednesday, January 26.

Most folks who break a promise are willing to make two new promises to replace the one.

At the scene, they observed the victim, David Anderson, sitting in a vehicle which was resting on the top of the base of an Edison pole that had been sheared off in the accident. The victim, police reported, had serious facial injuries and possible internal injuries.

Flames Appear

The wires also were arcing and there was a great danger of the vehicle being electrically charged.

On several occasions, the victim attempted to exit the vehicle but the officers talked him into remaining inside. At this time, flames appeared in the engine compartment of the car and it was obvious that the victim was in even greater danger.

Cpl. Wooten, with no regard for his personal safety, pulled the man from the auto. Less than a minute after the injured man was removed, the passenger compartment burst into flames.

In his recommendation to the lodge's executive board, Patrolman Hiller said, "It is obvious that without his actions, the victim would have (been) electrocuted and or burned in the vehicle."

Patrolman Dave Zatorski submitted the names of Sgt. Turrill and Patrolman Rice based upon a working house fire which occurred on September 30, 1976, at 1:30 a.m.

The first unit on the scene at 20847 Lennon road was manned by both officers. Upon their arrival they observed flames coming from the rear of the first floor. They kicked in the front door at which time Officer Rice was enveloped by smoke and had to back off. Sgt. Turrill went inside the burning house but he, too, had to exit.

After they regained their breath, the pair entered and found Mary Dallman, 37, lying unconscious on the living room floor. Both officers grabbed and pulled her from the house. She was then conveyed to the hospital by ambulance.

Meanwhile, two younger children managed to escape out of the rear of the house. Upon the arrival of the fire department, two additional members of the family were removed and taken to the hospital where they were pronounced dead on arrival.

Numerous officers from both The Woods, Harper Woods and the Harper Woods Fire Department also suffered smoke inhalation and other injuries in the blaze which destroyed the dwelling.

Sgt. Turrill and Officer Rice remained at the scene to assist before they too were conveyed to the hospital for smoke inhalation.

Starts Respiration

"Without the total disregard for personal safety, and on two separate occasions entering a burning house, Sgt. Turrill and Officer Rice would not have been able to save the life of the victim," said Patrolman Hiller. "Their professional actions will be forever appreciated by the two young children who escaped the fire."

The name of Officer Mitchell was submitted for consideration by Sgt. James Jurcak based upon an incident on June 6, 1976, at 11:43 a.m.

At that time, the officer was dispatched to 56 Hampton road on a possible drowning. He found Janey Pakarek, 12, had been pulled from the pool by companions and was lying unconscious at pool side. She wasn't breathing and her eyes were rolled back.

Acting without hesitation, Officer Mitchell started artificial respiration. Upon the arrival of Sgt. Jurcak with the department's ambulance and respirator, the officer was still intensely working on the girl, sustaining her breathing faculty.

The respirator was then applied, the girl responded and she was conveyed to the hospital for possible shock.

"It is apparent that the professionalism displayed by PSO Mitchell both in the way he handled the observers at the scene and the obvious life-saving action taken by him on the victim is a credit to his job," said Patrolman Hiller. "Without this action there is little doubt that the young girl would not be alive today."

While both Sgt. Turrill and Officer Rice, plus Officer Mitchell, performed life-saving actions, the committee selected the Harper Woods officers as co-recipients for police officer of the year because their lives were directly threatened, said Patrolman Hiller.

At the same time, it was strongly felt that Officer Mitchell's life-saving action definitely deserved acknowledgement, so he will receive the recognition award.

In a final note, Patrolman Hiller indicated that the possibility of citing citizens for their assistance to police officers, via nominations from the six police departments, remains open for the future.

Mr. Goodwrench says,
"Keep that GM feeling with Genuine G.M. Parts."

You only have until December 31 to reduce your 1976
income taxes by starting your own
retirement plan
with us.

If you or your spouse (if employed) are not currently enrolled in any other retirement plan, you can open an Individual Retirement Account now to establish your own tax-sheltered retirement plan.

And if you act before December 31, you will get the benefit of an entire year's tax deduction for every dollar you put in your I.R.A. (Individual Retirement Account).

So, a tax-sheltered I.R.A. makes your money worth more now, because each dollar you save is tax deductible.

Here are the facts:

- You can deposit 15% of your income, from $25 up to $1,500 each year in I.R.A. savings, until you reach age 70.
- Anytime after age 59½, you can begin withdrawing your I.R.A. savings for your retirement. And the savings interest you earn in your I.R.A. is not taxable until you withdraw it.
- If you make withdrawals before you reach age 59½, unless you become permanently disabled, you must pay penalties on the amount withdrawn.

It's as easy to start your own Individual Retirement Account as opening a savings account. Just stop in at any office of Detroit Bank & Trust before December 31 and get started toward a money-saving tax deduction for you now, and a positive step for making your future years much more secure.

Suppose that you could reduce your taxable income for 1976 by as much as $7,500? And begin building a nest egg at the same time? If you act now, National Bank of Detroit can help you to reach both of these goals through the Keogh Retirement Savings Plan, our IRS-approved retirement program for self-employed individuals. Physical fitness is to some extent measurable. In the physically fit person there is 1.) A slower pulse rate during the working period and a faster recovery to normal at the conclusion of the task. 2.) A slower rise in blood pressure during the physical exercise and a quick return to normal. 3.) A lower intake of oxygen during the exercise. This is the result of a better-conditioned oxygen transportation mechanism. Remember that physical fitness is never a gift, nor is it static. Fitness must be maintained.

There will be four performances at the Center's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore road. Two matinees will be presented on Saturday, December 18, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. and, again, at the same times, on Wednesday, December 22.

Men Gardeners Set Slide Show

"Blossoming Plants of South Florida," a colored slide program contributed by the Men's Garden Club of Fort Myers, Fla., will be featured at the regular meeting and Ladies' Night of the Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe.

The session will be held tonight, December 18, at Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue, beginning at 8 p.m.

The program was prepared by the Florida Club as a memorial to the late George Wright, a well-known garden photographer. The slide collection is considered to be one of the finest collections of Florida flowering plants and trees.

The Fort Myers Club was formed in 1944 in the city which now has a population over 27,000. The club holds meetings at the Edison Museum, part of the Thomas A. Edison Winter Home complex. In addition, there is a laboratory, workshop and 14 acres of botanical gardens.

The narrator for the program will be Mrs. George (Marguerite) Vincent, former secretary and current chairperson of the ways and means committee of the mid-century toastmistress club.

The program also will feature the installation of officers for the year 1977, and the presentation of horticultural trophies, awards and service awards for the year 1976.

All gardeners in the area are invited to attend.

Farms Okays Legal Fee

The Farms Council at its regular meeting Monday night, December 6, approved the payment of a statement in the amount of $13,600.46 for legal services rendered on the city's behalf from the firm of Dickinson, Wright, McKee, Cudlip and Moon. The payment approval passed by a 7-0 vote.

Members of the cast represent schools in Grosse Pointe and outlying communities.

Amy Dietz and Pauline Dionne will share the lead role of Snow White and Sue Brammer and Dianne Millenbach will be seen as Queen Brangomar. Jerry Chamberlin and Andy Vogel will enact the part of Prince Valor.

Those sharing the roles of the Seven Dwarfs are Karen Alpert, Jeannie Bentley, Cammie Dionne, Liz Johnson, Chris Roberts, Lynn Pellerito, Katie Mercier, Amy Quarters, Audrey Stewart, Jennifer Sutton, Jackie Dupree, Sheila St. Amour, Jency York, Jenny Marshall and Heather Cross.

Marie Trombley will portray the part of Witch Hex and Tom Wieseley will play the huntsman, Berthold. Cats who will dance their way through the play are Cindy Wallace, Melissa Buck, Heidi Taylor, Mary Skewes and Vicki Boone.

Ladies in Waiting include Carol Michael, Kelly Mulaney, Jennifer Coughlin, Carolyn Chrzanowski, Melissa Buck, Mary Skewes, Kerry Raser, Lisa Blood, Colleen Selby and Tina Taylor.

More are Shelly Roehl, Elizabeth Taylor, Liz Perkin, Vicki Boone, Sarah Martinez, Marie Hinz, Patty Kraloch-will, Grace Lucido, Heidi Taylor and Kelly Kane.

Sally Reynolds will direct and produce the play. Mrs. John Mazer is musical director.

Record Studio Hit by Thieves

The owner of a Mack avenue recording studio reported the theft of about $3,700 worth of various items from his shop on Saturday, December 11.

City police, on a routine patrol of the area at 12:30 a.m., discovered the rear door open at Cloud Born Productions, Inc., 18000 Mack avenue.

Owner Gary Praeg was called to the scene and discovered a $500 television; a $2,200 tape recorder; a $300 record-a-call; a $500 oscilloscope; two $100 microphones; and a few tool boxes missing.

Police do not know how entry to the building was gained, and have no suspects in the theft.

To be a pioneer of progress a man must be free to think and work as he pleases.

It isn't often that one sees a red fox touring The Pointe but a Newcastle road citizen spotted one running on the University Liggett School playfield in Cook road Sunday afternoon, December 12.

Upon arriving at the scene, Woods Officer Bruce Marone observed the creature enter the Children's Home of Detroit property. The fox was last seen going over a fence on the east side of the grounds, heading for The Shores.

Local Crooners Seek Members

The Lake Shore Chorus of the Grosse Pointe Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America sang Christmas songs in barber shop harmony on Tuesday, December 14, at the Eastland Mall from 6:45-7:30 p.m.

The performance had two purposes, according to Sterling Berry, chapter membership chairman — to help usher in the holiday season and to recruit new members for the chapter.

Pointe area men were urged to attend and to visit the chapter at its regular weekly meeting immediately afterward.

Although potential members are auditioned for admission, Mr. Berry emphasized that musical training or ability to read music are not required.

"All we look for is the ability to match tones with others, in other words, to carry a tune. We'll take care of the rest," he said.

The Grosse Pointe Chapter is one of over 700 in the 88,000-member society, the world's largest men's singing organization.

Academy Holds Old Time Yule

The community of the Grosse Pointe Academy relied on tradition in its celebration of Christmas this year with an old-fashioned "Hanging of the Green" party on Sunday, December 5.

From 3:30 p.m., parents, teachers and students followed the old English tradition of decorating the school, room by room, with many natural materials the students collected on Academy grounds. Themes of decoration ranged from the "12 Days of Christmas" to "Christmas in Other Lands."

Later, the group was treated to refreshments and caroling to the tune of a glockenspiel.

Art teacher Robert Hall and music teacher Kenneth Chriner were joined by parent co-chairmen Mrs. Michael Timmis and Mrs. John G. Henchel in planning the event.

Woods Praises City Assessor

Woods City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher received the council's praise after the solons received and placed on file a communication announcing an award of a Supplemental Certificate of Conformance for its annual financial report for the fiscal year ending this June 30.

This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, December 6.

"It is the decision of the special review committee for award of Certificates of Conformance that the excellent report prepared by your governmental unit has substantially conformed with the high standards for financial reporting," said Donald W. Beatty, executive director, Municipal Finance Officers Assoc.

The aforementioned standards are ones established by the Municipal Finance Officers Assoc. of the United States and Canada, and the National Council on Governmental Accounting.

"The governmental unit is highly commended for continuing its excellence in financial reporting which first earned its Certificate of Conformance on March 9, 1959, for its annual financial report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1958," said Mr. Beatty.

He noted the association reviewed over 2,173 submitted annual financial reports, and including The Woods, certificates were awarded for such reports prepared by six states and state agencies, 50 counties, 37 special districts and authorities, 20 Canadian municipalities and 284 U.S. municipalities. These governmental units are located in 38 states and five Canadian provinces.

The Woods will receive an embellished certificate with suitable inscription during a formal presentation when it's received from the artist, noted Mr. Beatty.

In relation to citing Mr. Hornfisher on this achievement, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen also cited City Treasurer Helen L. Fox.

Center Ballet Dancers Busy

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial presented its Ballet Christmas program Friday, December 10, with senior and apprentice groups of the Center's corps de ballet participating.

The Senior girls of the troupe were selected this year to perform in Saginaw at the Tri City Ballet Festival Sunday, December 5, just prior to their appearance at the War Memorial.

They performed "Concerto" by Gershwin, which they repeated Friday night in Fries Auditorium. The Tri cities of Bay City, Midland and Saginaw have joined to form a performing ballet company to further the training of talented ballet students and annually hold this program.

The girls of the Senior Ballet group are Janet Bristol, Cynthia Ehrlich, Kristin Finger, Julie Helin, Marie Leithausen, Anna Platt, Kathleen Rowe, Martha Wenz, Ann Wilson and Melanie Yanchuk. Apprentices are Kelly Bernard, Margaret Pandy and Gretchen Reger.

In addition to the "Concerto" the Evening of Ballet at the War Memorial featured Schumann's "Scherzo" and "Jeux D'Enfants" by Bizet.

The ballet performance was under the direction of Mary Ellen Cooper.

The first tax shelter for the little guy.

If you're not now in an employer-sponsored pension or profit sharing plan where you work, act fast and you can save yourself a lot of tax dollars this year.

You can postpone paying Federal income taxes on 15% of what you earn this year, up to a maximum of $1500*.

By opening an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at National Bank of Detroit by Dec. 31.

How it works.

An IRA is your own personal pension fund.

The money you put into the IRA, and the interest that money earns, are exempt from federal income taxes until the money is withdrawn.

At retirement age, when you begin to withdraw money, you're likely to be in a lower tax bracket, which means an additional tax reduction.

We'll help you set it up.

You can open an IRA at any NBD office. We'll answer your questions and help you select the NBD savings plan that's best for you. And you can walk away secure in knowing your money is protected by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and by the substantial capital of Michigan's biggest bank.

Open your account now.

Interest rates on savings at NBD have never been higher—a full 7-1/2% annual interest over 6 years on Investment Savings Certificates in amounts of $1,000 or more. (Substantial interest penalty required for early withdrawal.)

Come in and open your IRA today. It's about time you got a tax break. But you have to act now.

*Has your company terminated its pension plan? Have you changed jobs so that you will receive money from your previous employer's pension plan? You can tax shelter that money in an IRA if you open the account within 60 days after you receive the funds.

Making banking better for you.

SINNING PEOPLE
 "The land suffers for the sins of its people. The earth languishes, the crops wither, the skies refuse their rain. The land is defiled by crime; the people have twisted the laws of God and broken His everlasting commands. Therefore the curse of God is upon them; they are left desolate, destroyed by the drought. Few will be left alive." (Isaiah 24: 4-6)

Breathers' Club Meets Monthly

"It doesn't take the place of medical treatment, but it makes life easier for those of us who have respiratory problems."

This is how one member of the Eastside Breathers' Club feels about the monthly meetings held in the home-like room, contributed by Georgian East Extended Care Facility.

The group, sponsored by the Christmas Seal Agency, the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan, has been meeting here for over five years. Anyone who has respiratory problems is welcome.

The members have just written a small booklet, "Living with Lung Problems — from the Patient's Point of View," hoping it will help other persons who share their problems.

At a Christmas party on Tuesday, December 21, at the Georgian East Extended Care Facility, 21401 Mack avenue, they are hosting the Mount Clemens and Northwest Clubs. The event starts at 2 p.m.

Each person attending the party will receive a complimentary copy of the booklet, autographed by the authors. Afterward, the group plans to use the proceeds from the sale of the book for future lung association programs.

He teaches Sociology, Philosophy of Religion and Philosophy at the university and is a sociologist at the Hydro-Electric Co.

NO CHANCE

If a man can't recognize an opportunity when he sees it, an education is of little benefit.

'Tis the Season to Be Careful

While many take pleasure in the painstakingly prepared Christmas ornaments decorating neighborhood homes, vandals take the opportunity to vent their hostility.

Of the more than $50 million damage done to private property each year by vandals across the country, the holiday season is prime time.

According to Shores Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale, having timers on lights and notifying neighbors of lengthy absences are the surest ways to keep vandals from making short work of holiday ornaments.

"There is no better protection against vandals than having good neighbors," said Director Vitale. "Keeping the house lit, making it look lived-in, will keep most vandals away."

Timing devices for indoor and outdoor lights are small expenses compared to those incurred when an unprotected vacant home is invaded by vandals.

"Luckily we in The Shores have not seen sharp increases in serious vandalism in past Christmas seasons but there is usually an increase of cases of kids stealing Christmas lights and that sort of thing," Director Vitale explained.

Generally residents should take extra measures to protect themselves from Christmas season break-ins. With homes full of expensive Christmas gifts this is the in season for burglaries, according to a release from the National Association of Realtors.

No man adds to his stature by treading on other people's toes.

Club Answers Santa Letters

The Business and Office Education Club of North High School is answering "letters to Santa Claus" written by the first and second graders at area elementary schools.

The students involved in this Christmas project are Sue Crocker, president, Kerri Kurtz, vice-president, Terri Reardon, reporter, and Linda Poultz, secretary. The club adviser is Paul Pierron.

Tax-Deferred Earnings For Your Retirement

Your opportunity to retire rich.

If you are not covered by a regular pension plan (other than Social Security), you are eligible for an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at Detroit & Northern. With an IRA, you can save up to $1,500 or 15% of your gross annual income (whichever is less) and not pay income taxes on it until you retire. The earnings from your savings are tax-deferred until retirement too. You save for your retirement while you cut your income tax bill. The table below shows how your retirement savings build if you were to deposit $1,500 per year to your IRA at D&N.

Number of Years	IRA Tax-Deferred Savings Account At $1,500 Per Year
5	$ 8,809.97
10	21,789.10
15	40,910.37
20	69,080.46
25	110,581.52

This table assumes $1,500 deposited on the last day of each year in D&N's 7% savings certificate.

With an annual deposit of $1,500, at the end of five years you would accumulate $8,809.97. Assuming you had to pay a 25% income tax each year on the deposits and their earnings, you would only have $6,607.48. With an IRA you save $2,202.49 from your tax bill. At the end of 25 years your income tax savings would amount to $27,645.38. Is it in your best interest to open an IRA today at Detroit & Northern? No question about it.

Besides tax savings, though, there are more good reasons for starting your Individual Retirement Account at D&N. Check these benefits:

1. High rate of return. Our high interest savings plans are available, including one with an effective annual yield of 8.05%.
2. No cost. Currently, you pay no start-up or operating costs.
3. A record of earnings. Each participant receives a statement which reflects all deposits and accrued earnings.
4. Eliminates investment risk. Your money at D&N is not subject to the uncertainties or fluctuations of the money market.
5. Insured safe. Deposits are insured safe by a permanent agency of the U.S. Government and by the strength and experience of a pioneer Michigan financial institution.

Alterations
Men may be born free and equal, but the world sees to it that many changes are made.

Just Human
Even the shrewdest of men has at one time purchased a gold brick in the form of experience.

Wine is not just made from grapes. Fruits, grains, and flower petals may be the source of this delicious and soothing beverage. To ferment any liquid containing sugar, you simply add yeast, but grape wines need no such human intervention. Yeast molds are present in the air around vineyards and settle on the grapes, the sugar in the grapes. After the fermentation is finished, the wine matures in casks where its special quality and flavor develop. There are many things that can vary, which means there are tremendous differences in wines. The type of grape, the place where the grape grows, the wood of the cask, the amount of rain received, and multitudes of other factors are important in making fine wines.

PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 has a wide selection of fine wines, imported and domestic, to suit your taste and budget. If you're looking for an unusual gift for those special people on your Xmas list, let us prepare a personalized gift basket. May we be among the first to wish you a Very Merry Christmas and a Joyous New Year. Hours: 10-10 Mon-Thurs; 10-11 Fri, Sat; noon-10 Sun.

NHS Hoopers Win 3 Straight

By Nick Manzella

North High School's varsity basketball team won its third straight game Friday, December 10, as it dumped Lake Shore, 64-58.

The Norsemen are now 3-0 overall and 1-0 in the Bi-County League. They have gone undefeated through what many believe to be the toughest part of their schedule.

In North's victory over the Shorians, unlike its first two games, the club overcame a first half deficit and then hung on to hold off Lake Shore.

The teams were tied, 10-10, at the end of the first quarter, but Lake Shore played a strong second quarter to take a slight margin into the locker room at halftime.

The third quarter was a different story as North overtook the Shorians to grab a 48-42 lead at the end of the third frame.

North's offensive surge was led by Bob Brown, North's leading scorer along with Brian Patman, who had a season high of 10 points.

The fourth quarter saw Lake Shore repeatedly attempt a comeback but the Norsemen were too strong, as Brown continued his hot shooting, finishing with 26 points, while forward Bill Mestdaugh came off the bench to give North a solid effort in adding eight points.

Guard Dave Beyer had 11 points while dishing out a high of nine assists. Lake Shore was able to draw within four points with less than a minute remaining, but Rick Zenn hit two free throws and Jim Ziemiacki rejected a final Shorian shot to seal the win.

Earlier, North won its second game by topping South High School in an overtime thriller, 61-56.

The first half was marked by sluggish efforts from both teams.

However, in the third quarter, North came out running, trouncing South offensively and defensively to take a comfortable 41-26 margin into the final frame.

Strong play by forwards Brown and Doug Langs, along with centers "Z" and Dave Giles, led North as they consistently beat South at both boards while drawing a number of fouls on the Devil big men.

The fourth quarter was a

Season Ended for Girl Cagers

Over one hundred girls participated in two leagues in this year's girls basketball program at the Neighborhood Club. The Midget-Midgie League was made up of fourth through sixth graders. The second league included seventh and eighth graders with six teams participating in the Midi League.

The final championship game in the Midget-Midgie League was played at Brownell Saturday, December 11. The Miami Spirits defeated the New York Wind-songs, 25-7. The leading scorer in the game was Sue Coppiellie of the Spirits with eight points.

The Spirits were coached by Marge Alleman, Phyllis Hogan, and Maureen Mechan. The team includes Suzanne Coppiellie, Susie Edwards, Janice Hamilton, Kathy Her-inton, Laurie Jones, Laura LaForge, Jennifer Lugo, Pam Mihalik, Tina Rolain.

It takes a mighty glib speaker to talk fluently about nothing.

There are many better halves who would like better quarters.

Special Events Set at Academy

Students at the Grosse Pointe Academy are exploring the meaning of Christmas this year through a number of classroom activities centered on the theme, "Christmas is Giving."

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Swart's fourth and fifth grade classes will make a gift of hand-made candy houses to children confined to Saint John Hospital over the holiday season.

Under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Chrisher they also will sing Christmas carols to the accompaniment of Orff instruments and recorders. Their performance will be telecast throughout the hospital on closed circuit television.

The first and third grade classes of Mrs. Richard Wolney and James Alvaro have concentrated their studies on the tradition of Christmas in Germany. Earlier this month, they talked with Marianne Baackelandt and Ulrike Pressler, who shared their childhood experiences in Germany with the children.

The ladies brought a Knus-perhaus along with them, which the students decorated with cookies.

Middle school classes at the Academy will sing carols at Bon Secours and Cottage Hospitals and the Saint Anne, Georgian East and Grosse Pointe Nursing Homes.

Many people make the mistake of trying to correct the mistakes of their friends.

what about your children's deeper needs?

Their everyday needs are important. But they yearn for spiritual things as well—for love, and certainty, and knowing God cares for them.

In the Bible lessons at our Sunday School, young people's questions about God are answered in ways they can understand and prove.

We welcome your children, any Sunday.

Tar/Taste Theory Exploded.

Taste-science breakthrough gives low tar MERIT the flavor of cigarettes having 60% more tar.

By locating certain flavor-rich ingredients in cigarette smoke, ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar, researchers at Philip Morris have disproven the theory that cigarette flavor depends on the amount of tar that goes with it.

They've discovered how to pack flavor—unprecedented flavor—into a cigarette that delivers one of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor.' It's extra flavor, natural flavor, and only MERIT has it.

9 mg. "tar," 0.7 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

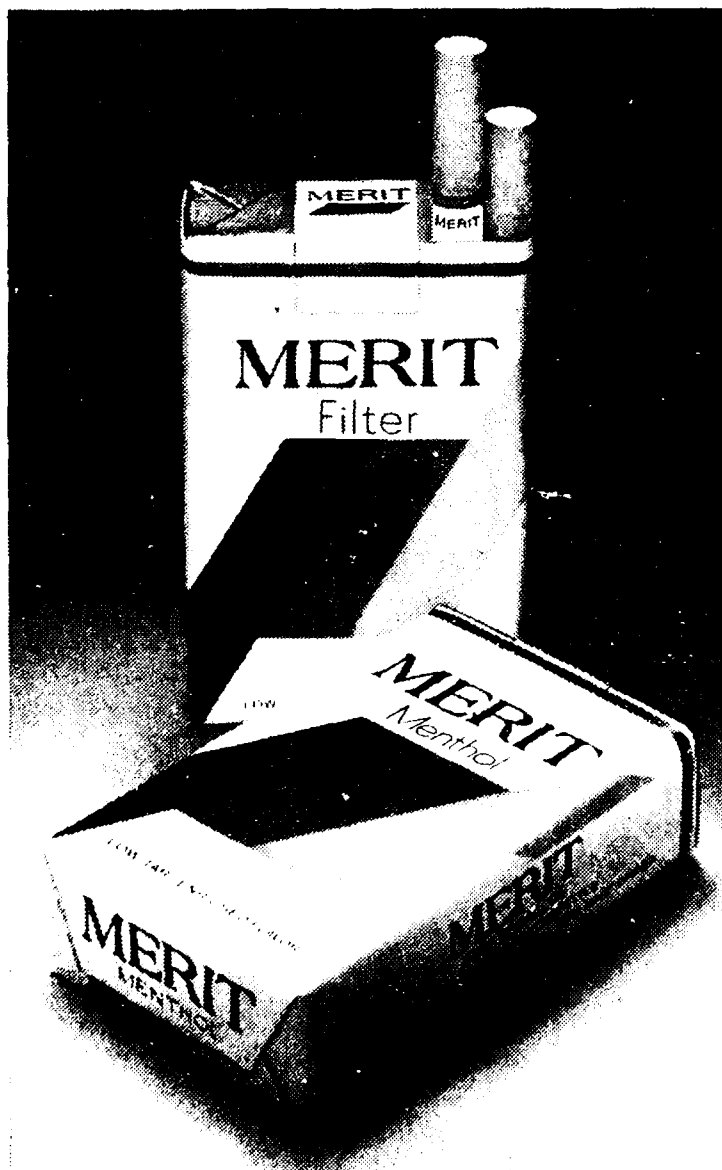

Tests Verify Taste

In taste tests involving thousands of cigarette smokers like yourself, MERIT was reported to deliver as much—or more—taste than current low tar leaders.

What's really startling is that these brands have up to 60% more tar than MERIT.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette. MERIT. Incredible smoking satisfaction at only 9 mg. tar.

Bruins Do Well in League Play

The Grosse Pointe Bruins were thwarted twice by the Sharks in recent hockey tournaments. In the Thanksgiving holiday, the Bruins first faced Adray Vak and scored a convincing 5-0 win.

Allen Taber opened the scoring assisted by Mike Burkheiser and Matt Costello. Jeff Grade scored another first period goal after a pass from Burkheiser and John Davies.

Scott Seaver posted the third Bruin goal with assists going to John Ferlito and Greg Johnson. Costello then tallied assisted by Burkheiser and Taber. Johnston scored the final goal with Grade assisting. Drew Mascarin earned the shutout.

In the second game, Northwest was the opponent. Grade scored first, assisted by Jim Kennary. Northwest tied it up but the Bruins went ahead on two goals by Taber to post a 3-1 victory. One goal was assisted by Grade and Jeff Penny, while the other was unassisted.

In the third game, against the Sharks, the Bruins went 2-0 on goals by Taber and Grade but ended up losing 4-2. The last Shark goal was in an open net after the Bruins pulled their goalie for a sixth attacker.

In the Johnny Phillips Tournament held this past weekend, the Bruins met the Sharks in the first game and were defeated 3-0. They next met Adray Slator and posted a 3-1 victory with two goals going to Taber and one to Grade.

They also tied a fired-up Adray Vak team 1-1. Scott Seaver scored the lone Bruin goal. The Bruins were eliminated from continual play in the tournament because they had not acquired enough total points.

The Bruins were more successful in league play, posting three more wins to remain undefeated. Late last month, they played the Michigan Stars and won 4-1.

Davies scored on a power play assisted by Taber. Taber then scored on a play from Burkheiser and Bill Seaver, and then he tallied an unassisted goal.

Against Rochester, Lisa Stout once again finished first in all five events, including an exceptional score of 7.85 in tumbling, for a point total of 35.1. Carol Gagliardi and Sue Moody each added 12.15 points.

This year's gymnastics team is made up of 16 girls, including two seniors, one junior, five sophomores and eight freshmen. Coach Byseaver, assisted by Penny, finished the scoring. Again facing the Stars in a league game Tuesday, December 7, the Bruins scored a convincing 7-1 win. Ferlito posted two goals and single goals were scored by Bill Seaver, Burkheiser, Grade, Davies and Kennary.

In recent exhibitions games the Bruins played very well. Early this month, Windsor, Ont., hosted the Bruins and Mascarin posted another shutout, 4-0. Taber scored two goals and Davies and Costello each posted one.

The Bruins found easy goals against the Sterling Rockets with an 8-0 shutout credited to Mark Chiamp. Burkheiser scored the "hat trick."

A fine exhibition game was played against Northwest on Wednesday, December 8, and Chiamp earned a second shutout 3-0.

The Bruins have been without the service of Jim Morris since his injury against Saint Michaels, Ont., on November 13.

Now the Bruins start play in the Silver Stick Tournament this weekend.

NHS Wrestlers Win Two Meets

By Mike Klotzchwill
The North Kitchichewi wrestling team defeated Roseville Brabec, 49-18, in a Bi-County League meet on Thursday, December 9. The victory raised the Norsemen's record to 2-0 in the BCL and 3-1 overall.

Leading the Norsemen's efforts were Pete Vier, Brian Hutchison, Jed Witzky, Clay Kubacki and Don Stewart, all of whom pinned their opponents. Dave Pastorcia and Chris Petrilli won their matches on decisions.

In the JV meet, the Norsemen also were victorious, 30-9. Jim Coury, Tom Sullivan, Bill Fleming, Clay Ottoni and Bill Coubaul all pinned their opponents.

The next meet for the Norsemen is the Macomb County Championship at the Macomb Community College on Friday, December 17. They also will compete in the Christmas Tournament at Lakeshore High School on Saturday, December 18.

Girl Gymnasts Win Two Meets

By Sue Fancett
Coach Mary Byerly's girl gymnastics team at North High School has begun meet competition in what hopes to be their third straight year as Bi-County League Champions.

The Norsemen opened their season against Star of the Sea with a 92.87 to 42.90 victory on Tuesday, December 7, and then defeated Rochester, 92.85 to 53.05, on Wednesday, December 8.

In the meet against Star of the Sea, Lisa Stout took first place in all five events, (bars, beam, vaulting, tumbling and floor exercise), which was good for a total of 34.45 points. Joan Urbancic, competing in tumbling and floor exercise, contributed a total of 12.45 points.

Others making significant contributions to the point total were Patti Hallman, Carol Gagliardi and Jody Stout. Against Rochester, Lisa Stout once again finished first in all five events, including an exceptional score of 7.85 in tumbling, for a point total of 35.1. Carol Gagliardi and Sue Moody each added 12.15 points.

This year's gymnastics team is made up of 16 girls, including two seniors, one junior, five sophomores and eight freshmen. Coach By-erly looks to Lisa Stout and Patti Hallman, the only seniors on the team, to lead them in their quest for the championship.

Junior Sue Moody should be a strong contender in tumbling this season, since the event that she finished first in regionals last year, trampolines, has been dropped.

SH JV Cagers Show Promise

By Rick Bayday
South's JV basketball team lost 51-31 to its rival North High School in their opening game Tuesday, December 7. Showing a lack of unity in the first half, South was down by 14 points. The Devils came back in the second half and played excellent defense, but were unable to get their offense moving, shooting a poor 29 percent from the field.

Brad Wilson led the team with 19 points and seven rebounds.

On Friday, December 10, the JV Devils took on East Detroit High, and pulled through to win, 50-49. The team played tight defense, and effectively pressed throughout the game. They shot 30 percent from the field.

Bob Baker led the scoring with 16 points and four steals, followed by Jim Heidt with 10 points and four rebounds. South's Varsity and JV will challenge Notre Dame away on Friday, December 17. The JV game begins at 6:30 p.m. and the varsity at 8:15 p.m.

Every night we make resolutions about getting up earlier, and break them in the morning.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The board of the Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women joins the Macomb County Chapter of NOW, the National Organization of Women and the Detroit police in objecting strongly to the film made by author Peter Storaska entitled, "How to Say No to a Rapist and Survive."

This rape film is being shown by the St. Clair Shores police and the Michigan State police who lend it to other law enforcement agencies for public viewing. It is also available through several libraries such as the Dearborn library.

Contrary to his title, Mr. Storaska advises women to submit to rape and gives other advice which could be dangerous if followed. His statistics and oversimplified advice go against studies of experts in the field. He has no background or qualifications as an expert other than having seen a rape.

Moreover, his presentation is based on repeated jokes about rape, interspersed with raw fear—hardly a balanced presentation of an extremely complex, delicate subject.

Recognizing that Mr. Storaska's film is not only full of showmanship but potentially dangerous, organizations have joined a coalition to improve the quality of rape presentation programs in Macomb County.

On Monday, January 17, at 7:30 p.m., the coalition will review and evaluate other rape prevention films in order to recommend films more suitable for rape prevention programs. The meeting will take place at Faith United Church of Christ, 12221 Martin Road, Warren, between Hoover and Schoenherr.

Our AAUW branch will be represented and we urge other concerned and interested readers of the "Grosse Pointe News" to attend. We do not want Mr. Storaska's film shown in Wayne County or Grosse Pointe, but we do recognize the importance of a good film on rape prevention.

One View from the Capitol

By William R. Bryant Jr.

The bill which will give our communities control over liquor licenses for serving liquor by the glass should be signed by the Governor.

Attempts in past years to give communities in Wayne County the same control that those outside our county have always had failed.

When I introduced the bill this term there was strong opposition which threatened to defeat, again, such a proposal. Detroit opposed it and so did some of the bar owners.

I changed the bill to make it so it did not affect Detroit. Still there was opposition from bar owners. We talked with their lobbyist and with Municipal League officials. The bar owners wanted other changes if this one was to occur. Those other changes were highly controversial.

Finally, it was agreed to go with the bill the way I had it, taking Detroit out of the bill.

Then an Oakland legislator wanted to piggy back on the bill to broaden it to include liquor stores, to include off-premise as well as on-premise licenses.

That was agreed, providing it would not kill the bill. No objections were raised.

Then another representative came to me. What could he do, he explained, to get a bill similar to mine. He was being hounded by his constituents because of tenuous bars in his western Wayne County community, which his city council couldn't control. The legislative service bureau would not give him a new bill because I had the bill already. But he had promised to introduce a bill.

So, I told him I would help him. I gave him the changes we were ready to make to my bill. He could get a new bill with the new language.

He did and we moved the bill out of committee and through the House and Senate. It went to the Governor. The Governor's staff said "no problem" and the Governor would sign it at the end of the 14-day waiting period he has to study bills brought before him.

Then a problem arose. Suddenly, the Liquor Control Commission had severe reservations about including liquor stores in the bill, not about my language but about the language we allowed to piggy back onto our bill.

The Governor's legal advisor agreed. There was a serious problem. The Governor would probably be forced to veto the bill.

He better not was my response and that of the new sponsor. Let us call it back and remove the "off-premise" language. But the Oakland legislator wanted that language, and he agreed to its removal only after being convinced he could not prevail. The Senate asked the House to recall the bill from the Governor, to send it back to them for the amendment. We did. The Senate got the bill and, last Thursday, made the change. By the time they did it the House had already adjourned, so the House had to wait until it reconvened this week to read it in.

It would "lie over" one day unless the rules were suspended to take the bill up immediately. The rules were suspended to concur in the Senate amendment.

That is all I can write with assurance because deadline for this article is before the last chapter can be written.

Hopefully, we will concur in the Senate change and send the bill back to the Governor. If we do, this time he will sign it. We will try to get him to sign it right away.

So, that is the story, the story of how my simple little bill to give equity to our communities came to be a complex bill of someone else and nearly got itself vetoed.

Paddle to the Sea never had such a wild adventure. Ever get the feeling nothing is simple these days?

The first of the seven goal areas is Basic Skills normally enumerated as reading, written expression and mathematics.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur Woodford
Chief of Central Library

Last week I reviewed the five novels I most enjoyed reading during 1976. This week, my non-fiction favorites.

OF MATTERS GREAT AND SMALL, (Doubleday), is a collection of eight science essays by one of the most prolific writers of our time, Isaac Asimov. Here, the amazing Asimov ventures into the remotest crevices of light in the observable universe and reveals that its diameter is 25,000 million light-years and will remain so until we invent an instrument that measures speeds faster than light.

He also corrects Shakespeare's Caesar, who said, "I am as constant as the northern star." When Caesar was alive, "there wasn't any North Star!" Mr. Asimov's explanation is rather complicated, but he's right.

He also discusses the chemical inevitability of life on Earth, thoughts on why the U.S. allowed its energy crises to build, the largest prime number ever conceived and much more.

Each article is introduced with the now familiar amusing autobiographical anecdote. These essays are ingratiating and mind stretching when not boggling.

Seventy-five lightweight vignettes on how people enjoy themselves are the substance of Julius Fast's THE PLEASURE BOOK, (Stein and Day). Fast's theme is to introduce the idea that it is okay to enjoy yourself and that you can "expand your consciousness" by listening nonjudgmentally to other people talk about their pleasures and by trying some of these yourself.

Nightwalking, lunch-hour movies, massage, (not the "parlor" variety), cycling, soaring, puttering with plants, meditating, "creative cooking," going nude, taking train trips, whitewatering, raising kittens—a pleasure gamut of all the senses.

The key to Mr. Fast's success lies in his casual, non-didactic approach as well as in his variety and scope. This is not a book that is destined to become a classic, but it is a pleasure to read.

THE MINUTEMEN AND THEIR WORLD, (Hill and Dang), by Robert A. Gross, brings to life the community of men who began the American Revolution on April 19, 1775, at the Old North Bridge in Concord, Mass.

Through intensive study of family genealogies, diaries, tax lists and other public records, the author has recreated the daily pattern of pre-Revolutionary life: how individual farmers, artisans and merchants earned a living, raised their families and carried on their politics in a New England country town before the coming of the war.

Within this setting, Mr. Gross masterfully traces the growing intrusion of the Revolutionary crisis into the affairs of the town and shows how local conflicts shaped responses to British policy.

His lively narrative carries through to the beginning of mobilization, and then follows individual Minutemen from the first battle through the succeeding war to their postwar careers.

It's a vividly drawn picture of the small town New Englanders who played decisive roles in the American Revolution.

Her own rather dramatic midlife crisis prompted Gail Sheehy to study the various phases and crisis periods common to many adults in our culture. From this study has come her new book PASSAGES: THE PREDICTABLE CRISIS OF ADULT LIFE, (Dutton).

The book begins with a survey of current theory: Erik Erikson, Daniel Levinson and others who have postulated definite growth and transition stages in the normal psychological development of adults. To flesh out theory, the author interviewed many people who seemed to exemplify the conflicts and attitudes characteristic of each stage.

Ms. Sheehy shows how male and female life stages differ and examines the typical clashes that result from these differences. This is an intelligent and informative treatment of a subject that is near universal in its appeal.

"Although much has been written about Adolf Hitler, he remains a creature of legend, myth and misconception." So states John Toland in his monumental biography ADOLF HITLER, (Doubleday).

In writing this long and impressive book, Mr. Toland conducted 250 interviews with people acquainted with Hitler and unearthed previously unpublished materials from U.S. and British National Archives.

Although he devotes a good deal of space to tracing the labyrinthine path of Hitler's anti-Semitism, Mr. Toland does not attempt any "psychohistory" analysis of his subject, but admits that "Hitler was far more complex and contradictory than I had imagined."

Mr. Toland has molded his materials into a smooth flowing narrative that focuses on Hitler himself and neatly keeps the summaries of military and political history in the background.

Santa's elves could take lessons from Mrs. George Hefferan, whose special talents include the Gift of Making Things Beautiful.

Mrs. Hefferan's fine touch is evident everywhere at The Thompson Home, where rooms and halls, mantels, mirrors and dining tables express the Spirit of Christmas.

She does, of course, have something rather wonderful to work with, for The Thompson Home, recently designated an Historical Landmark, is one of Detroit's most gracious centenarians.

The Thompson Home celebrated its 100th birthday this year. It was founded by Mrs. David Thompson, widow of a Michigan lumber pioneer, in 1876, in accordance with his wish to establish a benevolent institution.

The present Victorian Gothic building at the corner of West Hancock and Cass avenues dates from 1884. It stood then in one of Detroit's most fashionable residential districts.

It remains a reminder of that by-gone time and place, a "window on the past" where retired ladies

The Christmas spirit came alive for 400 senior citizens Saturday, December 11, when the Junior League of Detroit sponsored a traditional Christmas dinner with all the trimmings and a program of entertainment at Butzel Middle School.

The party is a Junior League tradition: the League's gift to Adult Service Centers, founded by the Junior League as the Senior Center in 1953.

Festivities began at noon. Channel 62 news director Doug Morrison acted as master of ceremonies.

Another organization founded by the Junior League is Assisting the Junior League in serving at this party were the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries, the board of League-Goodwill and members of B'nai B'rith.

The Junior League Gardeners decorated the dining room and wrapped gifts.

Autumn Wedding For Mary Albrecht

Dr. and Mrs. John Allen Schiessler Vacation in Las Vegas after September Rites Followed by Reception at War Memorial

Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church was the setting for the Saturday, September 25, wedding of Mary Gretchen Albrecht and Dr. John Allen Schiessler, who are now making their home in East Lansing.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Albrecht, Jr., of Perrien place, the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Schiessler, of Birch lane.

For the 5:30 o'clock rites at which Dr. Robert Linthicum officiated, the former Miss Albrecht chose a Victorian-necked Empire gown, trimmed with Chantilly lace and featuring a chapel train.

Her long veil, edged in matching lace, fell from a Juliet cap. White rosebuds and orchids formed her bouquet.

Dressed in pale blue, Empire-waisted frocks, and matching jackets, carrying yellow mums, were honor matron Mrs. Christopher Slowik and bridesmaids Mrs. Philip Nader and Denise Dossin, cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Terrence Dean, of Ann Arbor, the bridegroom's sister.

Joseph Weber came from Lake Stevens, Wash., to act as Dr. Schiessler's best man. In the usher corps were Walter Albrecht, III, the bride's brother, Dr. A. Lee Townsend, of East Lansing, and Dr. Craig Sawka, of Grosse Ile.

Mrs. Albrecht selected a long gown of golden yellow chiffon, high-necked and styled with an attached, floating cape of matching chiffon, for her daughter's wedding. She wore an orchid wrist corsage.

Audience May Join 'Messiah'

Detroit's backyard basso profundos and shower sopranos finally get their chance Tuesday evening, December 21, at 8:30 o'clock when DSO conductor-in-residence Paul Freeman leads the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, four vocal soloists, the Kenneth Jewell Choral and the audience in a sing-along performance of Handel's "Messiah" in Ford Auditorium.

Anyone with a voice and the desire to use it is welcome to join the sing-along. Those who would rather remain listeners/spectators are invited to sit in the balcony. Seats are unreserved, but ushers will help audience members take places in the marked vocal sections of their preference (soprano, alto, tenor or bass).

Vocal scores of the DSO sing-along choral selections in "Messiah" are available for $1 at the Ford Auditorium box office or by mail, and will be for sale the night of the performance.

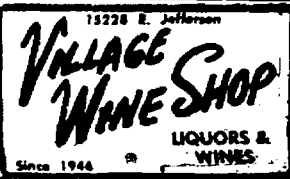

Singers may, of course, bring their own scores if they wish.

The audience will not have to sing the entire evening, but will occasionally be allowed to sit back and listen to some of "Messiah's" best-loved solo pieces, performed by soprano Candace Goetz, contralto Louise Parker, tenor Maurice Stern and bass-baritone Benjamin Matthews.

The Kenneth Jewell Choral, directed by Eric Freudenman, also will perform some choruses by themselves.

General admission to the Messiah Sing-along is $4 at Ford Auditorium, all Hudson's and Montgomery Ward ticket outlets.

Information on all forthcoming DSO concerts is available 24 hours a day by calling 961-7017.

Married in October

Exchanging marriage vows in Cambridge, Mass., in Harvard University's Memorial Church Saturday, October 23, were KATHARINE WALKER SHAPLEIGH, daughter of Mrs. Bradford Shapleigh, of Chesterfield, Mo., and Dr. John Blasdel Shapleigh, of St. Louis, Mo., and MICHAEL EDMUND KOLOWICH, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Frederick Kolowich, of Touraine road.

To Celebrate Holy Season

Old Christ Church, located in East Jefferson avenue at the Chrysler Expressway, has decked its halls for the Holy Days of the Christmas season.

On Christmas Eve at 6 o'clock, the Children's Service for young families will celebrate the Birthday of Jesus with carols, candles, choristers and bells.

Processing from the Church to Ledyard Hall, the children will find a large birthday cake and other Christmas surprises waiting them at this special birthday party prepared by Barbara Hall, director of Christian Education.

The Christmas Eve celebration begins at 10 o'clock with music by a French Horn Quartet led by Shawn Campbell, and caroling by the congregation.

The Christmas Eve Service and Holy Communion follow at 10:30. Dr. Samuel S. Johnston, rector, will give the Christmas message.

Music from Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" with instrumental accompaniment will be interspersed throughout the service, with Charles Fantazzi, Nancy von Oeyon and Anne Jaffe as soloists. Eleanor Felver and her children, Susan, soprano, and Charles, on recorder, will perform Gruber's "Silent Night" around a small reed-organ with lighted candles.

The offertory anthem sung by the 40-voice professional choir will be Dickinson's, "Nowell Nowell."

After the singing of Alfred Burt's "Caroling, Caroling," the service will close with a Bell Crescendo by the choir culminating in "Joy to the World" played with full organ.

Dr. Malcolm Johns, of Rivard boulevard, is organist-choir master for the church. The 10:30 o'clock service Sunday, December 26, will feature the Festival of Lessons and Carols. Young adults, under the direction of James Hughes, will read the lessons. The congregation will sing traditional carols. "The Holly and the Ivy," an English carol, will be the offertory anthem. The message will be given by the new assistant to the rector, Dr. Fred Burnham, an ordained Episcopal priest who is also a professor of History at Wayne State University.

Old Christ Church parishioners extend a warm invitation to anyone wishing to share the true spirit of Christmas with them. Further information may be obtained by calling the Church Office, 259-6888.

Women's Economic Club Hosts Amory

Cleveland Amory, author, conservationist and columnist, was guest speaker at the Women's Economic Club of Detroit luncheon Tuesday, December 7, in the ballroom of Detroit's Veterans Memorial Building. The program also featured holiday music by Mercy High School students, Larry Teevens, director.

Eastern Wedding For Michael E. Kolowiches

Heirloom Veil of Brussels Lace Is Worn by Katharine Walker Shapleigh; Pointers Travel to Massachusetts for Rites

Michael Edmund Kolowich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Frederick Kolowich, of Touraine road, claimed Katharine Walker Shapleigh as his bride Saturday, October 23, in Harvard University's Memorial Church.

Presiding at the 3 o'clock rites in Cambridge, Mass., was The Most Reverend Francis X. Gokey, S.S.E., Superior General of the Society of Saint Edmund.

Musicians were The Reverend Dom Ambrose Wolverton, on organ, and The Reverend Dom Anselm Hufstader, flute, former teachers of the bridegroom at Portsmouth Abbey School, Portsmouth, R.I.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Bradford Shapleigh, of Chesterfield, Mo., and Dr. John Blasdel Shapleigh, of St. Louis, Mo., wore a gown of ivory chiffonette styled with lantern sleeves. Her veil of Brussels lace was a three-generation family heirloom. She carried a cattleya orchid centered in English ivy, baby's-breath, stephanotis and eucalyptus foliage.

She was attended by her sisters, Barbara Shapleigh, of New York, N.Y., in a square-necked frock of emerald green faille, as honor maid, and Louise Shapleigh Starcher, of Leesville, Va., in cranberry faille, as matron of honor, and by bridesmaids Sara Lynn Kolowich, the bridegroom's sister, Mary R. MacMillen and Mary Mead, both of Hanover, N.H., in honeybear brown, oriental blue and copper faille.

Their bouquets were fashioned of yellow dried mums, baby's-breath, statice and English ivy.

Murray L. Feldman, of East Providence, R.I., was best man. In the usher corps were R. Bradley Kolowich and Brian D. Kolowich, the bridegroom's brothers, John C. Shapleigh, of Jefferson City, Mo., the bride's brother, and Philip B. Levy, of Framingham, Mass.

The mother of the bride wore a blue and green gown with a dark green coat. The bridegroom's mother chose green wool trimmed in ultrasuede. Both wore corsages of Eucharis lilies.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the bridegroom's home in Strawberry Hill road, Acton, Mass., where the newlyweds are now in residence after a trip to Bermuda.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's aunt Mrs. Barney Bowie Holland, of Fort Worth, Tex., the bride's uncle Lindsey Bradford, of Stonington, Conn., the bridegroom's great-aunt Mrs. Chester Anthony, of Albany, N.Y., Mr.

and Mrs. William King and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jennings, from Louisville, Ky., and, from Grosse Pointe, the bridegroom's grandfather Robert Convery, Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Meathe, Mr. and Mrs. John L. King, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Frear and Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Somes, Jr.

Camp Fire Girls Enjoy Busy, Useful Schedule

By Katie Elsia

Last weekend, while many Pointers scurried around frantically getting ready for Christmas, 12 neighborhood girls were relaxing and enjoying the holiday spirit at Camp Wathana, the Camp Fire Girls' camp in Holly.

Theme of the weekend was "Christmas Fantasies," and after invigorating sessions of sledding, ice skating and Christmas caroling, the girls sat around a roaring fire and dreamed ahead to a spring backpack or canoe trip.

The camping weekend is just one of a variety of activities the girls, all members of the Yonickia Discovery Club, have participated in all year, under the leadership of Joan Hanpeter. Discovery Club units of the Camp Fire Girls are for seventh and eighth grade girls.

Says Mrs. Hanpeter, a Camp Fire Girls leader for seven years and a member of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, "I've noticed an increasing interest in group activities among young teens.

"In the late 60's and early 70's, the trend seemed to be against an interest in organized school activities and student government. The feeling seemed to be do your own thing and don't bother your neighbor. Now it seems to be different."

Grosse Pointers who voted November 2 in the presidential elections at Pierce School appreciated the coffee and delicious baked goods the girls sold there.

Most were unaware, however, that before the sale the girls attended four "baking workshops" in the home of Mrs. William Waugaman, an experienced dietician/restaurant manager who taught them how to do quantity baking and professional pricing.

Proceeds from the bake sale went to the "Feed an Animal" project the girls are involved in through the Detroit Zoo. Their money is helping to feed a porcupine, one of the few animals whose yearly food budget they found they could afford.

You may have read about the group in the Detroit News this fall, when several of the girls won awards in the National Art Competition co-sponsored by Camp Fire Girls and Kodak. In preparation for entering the contest, the group attended a photography workshop, saw a demonstration of how film is developed and learned how to mount a photograph.

Plan Sweetheart Ball

Among members of the committee for the Fifth Annual Sweetheart Ball who gathered recently for a preliminary planning session at Stouffers Northland Inn were this trio of Pointers, (left to right), MRS. RAY J. DROSTE, MRS. JOHN ELIAS and MRS. ARTHUR PFANNEN-SCHMIDT, who has just moved to Royal Oak after many years in The Pointe, first in Virginia Lane, more recently in Vernier road. Film and television actress Jane Wyatt, a long-time volunteer for the National Foundation-March of Dimes, has been invited to be a guest at the gala, a benefit for the Metropolitan Detroit March of Dimes, set for Saturday, February 12, at Raleigh House. Mrs. Frank S. Marra is chairman of the 1976 Sweetheart Ball, which raises funds to aid the March of Dimes to further its goals of eliminating and alleviating birth defects.

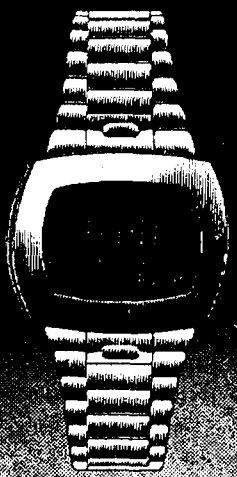

Learning baking, photography and camping skills is all part of Camp Fire Girls' program of helping young girls develop and build new skills.

Learning to think for yourself is another skill that is stressed. People who know that 12 year olds can and do think about the important issues of our day would not have been surprised to hear the debate the girls organized on the Equal Rights Amendment.

of the present enjoy today's comforts in the setting of a warm and beautiful home.

Every year, The Thompson Home's trustees, (who, through the years, have included members of the city's most prominent families), give a Christmas party for "their" ladies.

The halls are decked a few days before the party. Mrs. Heffernan and her helpers, the Mesdames Robert McKean, Cyril Moore, Harold Tyree, Menen Williams and William Laurie, were delightfully busy with that task last week.

The party took place Sunday. Mrs. Irving Book, president, trustees Mrs. John Bayne, Mrs. Henry T. Ewald, Jr., Mrs. J. Jenness Newcomb, Mrs. Ferdinand Cinelli, Mrs. William Ledyard, Mrs. G. Thomas McKean and their husbands were there, as were friends and families of The Thompson Home residents, making merry in the midst of Christmas beauty.

Busy Year Continuing For Alpha Zeta Chapter

Beta Sigma Phi's Alpha Zeta Chapter, formed in Grosse Pointe with 15 active members in November, 1969, has always been involved in various activities and projects.

This year, the Ways and Means committee's Avon party proved a very successful fund-raiser. The Service committee has adopted a pony at the zoo, donated a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family and helped children make Christmas cards and ornaments at the Detroit Historical Museum.

The Social committee has sponsored an apple-picking outing at Rapp's Orchard and a trip to the Detroit Zoo as well as participation in the annual state convention, which took place at Hillcrest Country Club.

President Linda Hoefflein arranged a surprise anniversary dinner a few weeks ago at the Stag and Hounds Restaurant. This month's activities include a Christmas Walk/sleighride at Greenfield Village and Alpha Zeta's annual Christmas potluck party, to be held in a few days.

A mystery trip by bus to an unknown destination has been scheduled for January.

Alpha Zeta seeks to render community services as well as to provide social and service outlets for its members.

Debut Nights for Symphony

Zoltan Pesko, music director of the Civic Theater, (Treatro Comunale), of Bologna, makes his United States guest-conducting debut at a pair of Detroit Symphony Orchestra concerts to-night and Saturday evenings, December 16 and 18, at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

Guest soloist will be young Canadian pianist Janina Fialkowska, making her DSO debut in performances of the Chopin Piano Concerto No. 1 in E minor.

The other two works on Maestro Pesko's program are both Hungarian: Bartok's "Music for Strings, Percussion and Celesta" and Kodaly's "Dances of Galanta." Zoltan Pesko, born into a musical Budapest family, attended the Franz Liszt Academy of Music in his native city, where he studied musical folklore under Zoltan Kodaly.

His conducting talent was discovered and developed by Sergiu Celibidache.

After three years of conducting and composing for Hungarian National Television, he left Hungary to study composition with Goffredo Petrassi and conducting with Franco Ferrara and Pierre Boulez in Italy and Switzerland.

He was Lorin Maazel's assistant in Berlin, and in 1973 became chief conductor in Bologna, where he also directs the symphonic season. He is a regular guest conductor with many European orchestras.

Janina Fialkowska, a native of Montreal, was a prize winner in the First International Artur Schnabel Piano Competition in Israel. She studied first at the Vincent d'Indy Music School and at the Juilliard School with Sascha Gorodnitzki. She has given recitals and concerts all over Europe and North America, as well as in Israel.

Her first recording, piano music of Liszt, will soon be released in this country by RCA.

Thomas Roelligs Reside In Ithaca

Marianne Petersen Fashions Gown of Pale Blue Lute Song Fabric, with Cuffs and Bodice Inset of Lace, for Her Midsummer Wedding

At home in Ithaca, N.Y., while they pursue graduate studies at Cornell, he in Astrophysics, she in Physical Chemistry, are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leonard Roellig, who were married Saturday, August 7, in Saint James Lutheran Church.

Both the bride, the former Marianne Petersen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henning O. Petersen, of Menlo Park, Calif., and the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard O. Roellig, of Bedford road, received Bachelors degrees from Stanford University.

Special guests at the 6 o'clock rites, at which The Reverend George Kurz presided, were Tom's grandmother, Mrs. Oscar Roellig, of Detroit, and Marianne's grandmother, who came from Copenhagen, Denmark, for the ceremony and reception at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The former Miss Petersen made her wedding gown of pale blue lute song fabric with a bodice inset and cuffs of re-embroidered Alencon knit, with a lace jacket, and a white rose shoulder corsage. The bridegroom's mother chose a long dress and jacket ensemble of pale green Qiana. Peach Sweetheart roses formed her wrist corsage.

Well-Received Recipes Make a Hostess Happy

There's nothing that makes a holiday hostess happier than knowing her party is going well, and there's nothing that makes a holiday party go better than lots of delicious food and drink... and that's where "The Happy Hostess Entertains" comes into the picture.

It's a cookbook, compiled and published this year by the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center, sequel to the Assistance League's 1973 "Happy Hostess."

That first "Happy Hostess" sold off the shelves. The second threatens to do the same. One really nice thing about "The Happy Hostess Entertains" is its format: it's divided into sections according to party types, brunch to buffet, dinner to barbecue, featuring main dishes, accompaniments and desserts suitable to the occasion.

For instance: suppose you have ladies coming for lunch early in January, and there's leftover Christmas turkey, leftover New Year's ham in your refrigerator, and you'd like to serve something simply super. AND you'd like to use up some of that ham and turkey.

Daphne Ottens' recipe provides a marvelous solution to that problem: SWISS TURKEY-HAM BAKE
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 2 T. margarine
 3 T. flour
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. pepper
 1 3-oz. can sliced mushrooms

rooms
 1 cup light cream
 2 T. dry sherry
 2 cups cubed cooked turkey

1 cup cubed cooked ham
 1 5-oz. can water chestnuts, drained and sliced
 1/2 cup shredded Swiss cheese

1 1/2 cups bread crumbs
 3 T. margarine, melted
 Cook onion in the 2 T. margarine until onion is tender but not brown. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add undrained mushrooms, cream and sherry. Cook and stir until thickened. Add turkey, ham and water chestnuts. Pour into 1 1/2 quart casserole; top with cheese. Mix crumbs and melted margarine. Sprinkle around edges. Bake in 400 degree oven 25 minutes. Serves six.

Now suppose you're entertaining at Christmas cocktails, and you're all set for nuts and dips, but it's cold outside, and you'd like to offer a simply smashing hot hors d'oeuvre.

Toni Stewart admits her recipe takes a little bit of time—but it makes up beautifully for a large crowd, and it can be made ahead of time, refrigerated and popped into the oven for a few minutes before serving... and that's something that makes a hostess happy, for the more ahead-of-time work she does, the more she can enjoy her own party.

MINIATURE CREAM PUFFS STUFFED WITH CHICKEN
 Cream Puffs—Four Dozen
 1 cup boiling water
 1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
 1 cup flour
 1/4 tsp. salt
 4 eggs
 In a medium saucepan, combine water and butter. Place over moderate heat and stir until butter is melted and mixture comes to a boil. Reduce heat to low and add flour and salt. Stir vigorously over heat until mixture forms a ball and leaves sides of pan, (about 1 minute). Remove from heat. Cool slightly.

Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until smooth and satiny. Drop level teaspoons of the batter onto greased cookie sheet about 1 1/2 inches apart. Bake at 450 degrees for 15 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to 375 degrees and bake 15 minutes longer, until sides of puffs feel rigid. Cool on wire racks.

Cut a slice off top of each puff. Fill with creamed chicken. Replace tops and place puffs on cookie sheet. Refrigerate. When ready to serve, heat in 250 degree oven about five minutes.

Creamed Chicken for Puffs
 3/4 cup milk
 1 1/2 cup chicken broth
 4 1/2 T. butter or margarine
 4 1/2 T. flour
 2 1/4 cups cooked chicken, finely diced
 3 T. sherry
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/8 tsp. pepper
 1 tsp. dried minced onion
 1 tsp. parsley

Combine milk and chicken broth in a small saucepan over moderately low heat and heat until bubbles appear around the edge. In another pan over moderately low heat, melt butter. Blend in flour with wire whisk or wooden spoon and cook until foamy. Remove from heat and add hot broth mixture, stirring constantly with wire whisk. Return to heat and cook and stir until sauce is thickened and smooth. Add chicken, sherry and seasonings.

Holidays are no time to cut calories, and the hostess who provides her guests with a really gooey, "evil" dessert has their thanks: you may not eat like this again all year, but Christmas is special. All diets start January 2.

Jan Arndt's diets-be-damned recipe is included in the Ethnic section of "The Happy Hostess Entertains." We defy any American to resist it.

CHOCOLATE CAKE, HUNGARIAN STYLE
 5 large eggs
 1/4 tsp. salt
 sifted confectioners sugar
 1/4 cup sifted cocoa
 1 tsp. vanilla
 1 cup heavy cream, whipped and sweetened
 toasted sliced almonds (optional)

Separate eggs and beat whites with salt until stiff but not dry. Beat in 1 cup sifted confectioners sugar 1 T. at a time, then fold in cocoa. Beat yolks until thick and lemon-colored and fold into cocoa mixture. Add vanilla. Spread in 15 x 10 x 1 inch pan lined with waxed paper and greased. Bake in 350 de-

Safe 'Decking' Tips Offered

Decorating inside the home with evergreen boughs is a holiday tradition for many families. Michigan State University Extension specialists offer these tips for safe use of holiday greenery.

Use freshly cut evergreens whenever possible. Except for pines, which should be pruned in early summer, most landscape evergreens can be pruned now to yield boughs for decorating. Use sharp tools and proper pruning techniques.

Store cut greens in water in a cool place until you're ready to use them.

Warm temperatures and low humidity in the home cause even fresh greens to dry out quickly. Whenever possible, design arrangements so that the greens can be kept in water.

Keep greens away from any source of heat, such as vents, radiators, fireplaces or appliances that give off heat.

Keep greens away from open flames. Sparks from a fireplace or a candle can ignite even fresh greens in a moment.

Greens, like Christmas trees, may be treated with fire retardant chemicals. Such materials will not prevent fire, only slow its spread. Greens kept indoors get so dry in a few days that fire retardant chemicals have little or no effect.

Careful use of greens to minimize the hazard of fire is the best defense against it.

Turn out on towel sprinkled with confectioners sugar. Very gently peel off waxed paper, using a small spatula to separate cake from paper if it sticks.

Cool and cut crosswise in quarters. Put layers together with whipped cream. Spread with glaze; decorate with almonds, if desired. Chill and slice.

Chocolate Glaze
 1 T. butter
 1 square unsweetened chocolate
 1/2 cup confectioners sugar
 2 T. boiling water
 dash of salt
 1/2 tsp. vanilla
 Melt butter and chocolate over boiling water. Remove and add confectioners sugar, 2 T. boiling water, dash of salt and vanilla. Beat until smooth and glossy.

Five hundred more recipes, each as delectable as these, are contained in "The Happy Hostess Entertains." All have been tested by the cookbook committee, Linda Shaalan chaired the project, assisted by co-chairman Marilyn Wheeler. The delightful drawings are the work of Kurt Borgman.

"The Happy Hostess Entertains" is available at $6 per copy postpaid by sending checks or money orders, payable to the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center, to Mrs. Sande Belfore, 2621 South River road, Mount Clemens, Michigan 48043. It is available at $5 per copy at local bookstores, beauty salons and specialty shops.

All proceeds go to the Northeast Guidance Center: the local, non-profit community mental health agency

You want an attached garage and full attic and insist on a yard with good dimensions. Your budget dictates you can afford a house that will sell in the sixty thousand dollar range. Well, there is a Santa Claus, and he has this package for you.

A FULL-SIZED COLONIAL with extra room on the first floor and a two car garage can be purchased with a lease option. The basement has been developed for partying and the convenience of Mack-7 shopping is two blocks away.

FIRST OFFERING on this lovely Georgian colonial condominium. A beautiful community built three years ago on six and one half acres. You will discover it to be the most unique ever built in this area.

DISTINCTIVELY DECORATED colonial located in a very desirable area of Grosse Pointe Woods. A fine, well built home featuring a spacious living room with fireplace, formal dining room, comfortable family room and a pleasure recreation room. This outstanding home is a delight to see and a pleasure to own.

IF FOUR BEDROOMS be enough we can offer a center entrance colonial with an extra room on the main floor and decorated with lots of good carpeting. Priced realistically in the high forties.

A SMART LOOKING farm colonial is always in style. This one has four bedrooms and a super family room with fireplace and beamed ceiling. The laundry is on the first floor and the garage is attached. Central air conditioning and electronic filter system contribute to easy maintenance.

WE THINK THIS four bedroom colonial will appeal to those who want generously proportioned rooms and an easy to maintain yard. Three fireplaces, central air conditioning and service stairs off the rear hall are features not found in many newer homes.

Yellow A Happy Color . . . is also a happy fashion choice for north now . . . south later. At Walton-Pierce shades of yellow spark the Sports-wear and Dress Departments. A smart yellow single breasted jacket with crest buttons tops a bright multicolor striped shirt and white polyester pants. The outfit is machine washable. From the separates group there's a lemon jersey top, styled with a cowl neckline and side slits. The matching pants have an easy fitting elasticized waist. Soft buttercup yellow is the color for an Ultra Suede dress with the newest tied belt. Ultra Suede collars and cuffs a mellow yellow jersey dress. For half sizes . . . and abstract print is splashed on sunny yellow. The accents are black piping and buttons. Lilly designs the gayest cruisewear and Walton-Pierce has an excellent selection. There's a charming cotton sun dress, green and yellow with an applique of crisp white lace flowers on the bodice. We also like the nylon smocked top over pants that comes in many prints and colors. There is a good choice of light weight wool dresses in lovely colors to wear right now. Two favorites are by Robert David Morton. One is a shaping of rose wool jersey the other style is a soft rust shade. Both are figure flattering in the Morton manner.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENTS SUSAN MacCOLL, LYNNE GARRED AND BIRGIT MAHNER

By George Polgar Jr.

When our mechanical envoy touched down on Mars there was great speculation as to the forms of life our probe would encounter. Many expected the first photos relayed back to show a group of little green men with antennae, holding up a sign saying "Welcome Earthlings."

While our understanding of our terrestrial neighbors is more firmly founded in reality, stereotypes and misconceptions still abound. Hence the ever popular ethnic joke.

The aim of exchange student programs sponsored by the American Field Service (AFS), is to make use of a natural resource — youth — to break down some of the walls that still separate us from other cultures and vice versa.

Though it would be difficult to argue that the exchange of a relatively few, (5,300), students a year between the United States and 63 foreign countries has any impact on the course of international relations, young people bear very few grudges and can be trusted to generate good will.

Unschooling Diplomats At the same time these student ambassadors, unschooled in the art of diplomatic evasiveness, will be honest enough to offer criticism where it is due. (If there were a place in the world that no one could find anything wrong with, everyone would be there.)

And so it is with three University Liggett School seniors who have taken and are taking part in the foreign exchange experience. Susan MacColl, Lynne Garred and Birgit Mahner have both positive and negative reflections about their contact with foreign cultures.

Last summer Susan spent three months in the small town of Halle, Belgium. At the same time Lynne headed way down south to Cusco, Peru. While they were coming home, Birgit was being dispatched for a year to a far off — and now frozen — region of North America known as Grosse Pointe. She is, by the way, a native of a Bavarian town named Lindenburg in Germany.

Varied Impressions All three girls have understandably different high points to recall—Susan marveling at architecture that was already old when Christopher Columbus was trying to figure out which way was up, Lynne braving the piranha-infested waters of the Amazon for an afternoon swim; (she didn't tell you about that Mom, 'cause you'd have worried); and Birgit giving up a spot in that American classic, "Guys and Dolls" in favor of the volleyball team.

One revelation that all three agree on is the effect their experiences have had on them as individuals.

"It was a maturing experience," said Lynne. "I mean, there you are with problems with the language, a whole new set of customs and all these new people. You learn to handle yourself. You really have to."

Susan added that the simple situation of having to meet new people in a foreign environment brought out self confidence she never had before.

Birgit Feels Pressure

For Birgit, who still has seven months to be here, the position of being the center of attention in school creates a good deal of pressure. "It takes some getting used to: it's even dangerous in a way. To be the exchange student, you can't be self-conscious for long."

"People are always asking you questions . . . they are all very nice but sometimes it is difficult to tell someone the difference between Grosse Pointe and Lindenburg. They are completely different and there is no comparison." Birgit's latest quandary is her assignment to take charge of decorating a Christmas tree for the school, German style, "but I'm not allowed to use real candles, and that's the only difference between an American tree and a German tree."

Though tourism is not the main emphasis of the AFS program, it would have been a chance missed if Susan had not availed herself of Belgium's central location in Europe.

Enjoyed Many Trips

"While I was there my Belgian family was on vacation so we went on a lot of day trips around Belgium, and longer trips to Holland, Germany and France. I really loved Paris even though we only spent two days there. "Before going to Belgium the only foreign country I had ever visited was Canada, and coming from Detroit that is no big deal."

Lynne of course was forever being asked by her Peruvian classmates, (school went all summer for her, unfortunately), whether she had been to Machu Picchu, the fabled capital of a lost Inca empire. She did visit some of the ruins and also Lima, which was at the time in the midst of the yearly political turmoil.

Most American Thing As for Birgit, she wouldn't be much of a cultural student if she hadn't gone to Ann Arbor to see a U. of M. football game. She did.

"That afternoon must have been the most American thing I have ever seen," she commented.

Another cultural experience which can hardly be missed if one is spending more than a few hours in a country is sampling the varied culinary specialties.

appreciated than to be showered with diamonds. Dresses are beautiful. Jewelry is romantic. Return to romance this Christmas by selecting your special gift for her from the beautiful jewelry collection at Charterhouse and Company. Fine jewelry from $100 . . . 16835 Kercheval in the Village, 885-1232. Open weekday evenings till 8:30 until Christmas.

GIVE A GIFT CERTIFICATE . . . for that "hard to find something for" person on your Christmas list. Remember too, our January needpoint classes are filling up fast . . . so sign up now! 16930 Kercheval in the Village. Open every evening til 9 p.m. until Christmas.

Lynne reports that her experience in this respect was generally favorable but she did have to give up trying to figure out what she was eating.

"Oh, the food was really good but . . . they eat all kinds of strange things that don't sound too appetizing," said Lynne. "I finally gave up asking what was on my plate after sampling the Peruvian delicacy of fried guinea pig. And then there were these miniature rhinoceroses . . . well forget it."

Her Favorite Snack

Susan's favorite Belgian (let's get fat) snack is french fries covered with mayonnaise. Don't knock it till you try it. Pumpkin pie and steaks head the list of American gastronomic delights for Birgit. Apparently the thrill of the Golden Arches has vanished even for foreigners.

Since 1943 the AFS has given over 80,000 students from the U.S. and other countries the opportunity to trade anecdotes like those above. Those same students have also had the opportunity to live with foreign families as family members, to learn their languages, understand their customs and to recognize what the difference and similarities are between cultures and people as individuals.

Well, that's 80,000 fewer people in the world who think all Germans run around in little leather shorts and eat sauerkraut, and all Swiss ski through the Alps yodeling, and all Frenchmen sport berets and pencil thin mustaches, and all Italians smell like garlic, and all the Chinese press pants and so on. Think We're All Rich

By the way, the prevailing rumor abroad about Americans is that we are all rich. As the story goes, the only difference between a rich American and a poor American is that the poor American washes his own Cadillac. And now for the wind-up and the pitch.

Since the whole AFS program is a non-profit venture funded by various community money-raising efforts around the country, ULS will present a musical production of "Guys and Dolls" on Saturday, February 5. Tickets for the show and dinner are available at a cost of $12.50. Places are also available for the show and an international dessert for a more modest $5.

Ticket information is available by calling Margie Fahim 881-3919.

CONSTANCE B. DRYSDALE, daughter of MRS. WILMA DRYSDALE, of Harbor Hill, received her nurse's cap at a recent nursing dedication ceremony at Marymount College, Arlington, Va. where she is a candidate for an Associate degree in Nursing which allows her to sit for the Registered Nurse exam.

SPECIAL DISCOUNTS . . . Metro Tower announces that for a limited time they will offer discounts on their high rise apartments overlooking Lake St. Clair. Rents start at $215 and with discounts they'll be even less. Call 296-2320 . . . 463-5558. Evenings 465-2751. Located at 25640 Crocker near Jefferson.

Phase I Plans To Go Caroling

Phase I, an all-singles group, will celebrate Christmas this Sunday, December 19, by going caroling at homes of Pointe-area shut-ins. Afterwards, the singers will warm up around a fire in the lounge at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Participants are requested to meet at Memorial Church at 6 o'clock to form carools—which are a must, because of the difficulty of parking in many areas.

Other upcoming Phase I activities include a progressive dinner Saturday, December 18, and a New Year's Eve house party.

All single persons between the ages of 20 and 39 are invited to attend any or all of these programs, and may obtain further information on these and other Phase I activities by contacting Gust Jahnke at Memorial Church, 882-5330.

Phase I's regular Sunday evening meetings at Memorial Church will be suspended December 26 and January 2. Regular Sunday programs resume January 9, and will continue every week, at 7:45 o'clock, until June.

New members are always welcome.

From Another Pointe of View

More Living History

Another historic Detroit home which is very much a part of the city's life today is Moross House in East Jefferson avenue, headquarters for the Detroit Garden Center.

It, too, is wreathed and garlanded in keeping with the season. It, too, had a deck-the-halls festivity: an open house flower show the first weekend in December.

Grosse Pointe's Pettipointe Chapter of Questers has given a Christmas gift to Moross House — a very fine Sheraton-Empire chest of drawers (1820-1840), purchased with proceeds from Pettipointe's spring Bicentennial auction matched by a grant from Questers' national organization.

The chest, of fine-grained cherry, charmingly detailed and proportioned, comes from the home of a Kenwood road family. Its mushroom-shaped cherry drawer knobs are original.

Our Own Community Home

Grosse Pointe is truly fortunate in having its own community home: the magnificent Alger House, nucleus of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

Once upon a time, Lakeshore was a string of such fabulous estates. The castles and palazzos are gone now. Their lawns and gardens have become subdivisions — luxury subdivisions, to be sure, but nothing like the opulent acreage of the past.

Alger House remains, the Alger family's gift to all Grosse Pointe, and it remains alive, for it's axiomatic that at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial "there's something happening every minute."

Alger House is decked for the holidays, of course, as is the War Memorial's Fries Crystal Ballroom where, this evening, Pointers will gather for Family Night around the Christmas Tree, featuring supper, a Christmas bazaar of gifts by South High School students, entertainment and a community sing.

Saturday evening, the Center presents its traditional Viennese Christmas Ball.

We're all welcome, any time during the holidays, to stop by and view Alger House and the Fries Building in their holiday finery. After all, it's home . . .

Say It With Pictures

If a picture is worth a thousand words, Ken Van Dellen, of Nottingham road, has a lot to say in the Christmas issue of Michigan Natural Resources magazine.

The special issue features a "Michigan Outdoors" pictorial, fruit of a statewide contest to find the best possible pictures for inclusion.

Two of the 10 color slides Ken entered in the contest were selected for the pictorial . . . and that's just about the nicest Christmas present possible for any amateur photographer!

When he's not taking pictures, Ken, a graduate of Grand Rapids Calvin College and Michigan State University, is a Macomb County Community College geology professor.

He has taken many slides of different areas of the state and country, and often uses them to supplement his classroom lectures.

FRAME, of Lakepointe avenue, and DANIEL THOMSON, of Three Mile drive, at Aix, France; JAMES FOX, of Audubon road, at Caen, France; and CHARLES FROHMAN, of Brys drive, at Erlangen, Germany.

THUR POST, of Brys drive.

Vacationing recently in Sun City, Ariz., were MRS. H. M. CHRYSLER, of Whittier road, and MRS. LILLIAN KIMBER, of Detroit.

MARTHA JAYNE WAYLAND, daughter of MR. and MRS. ROBERT WAYLAND, of Hampton road, is serving as Sigma Sigma Sigma representative to the Panhellenic Council at Central Michigan University, where she is a junior.
