HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, January 20
SNOW FELL IN MIAMI
Wednesday for the first time in history. It also hit Christmas and Frostproof, Fla., and many coastal towns where winter-weary tourists came to escape from the worst siege of cold ever to hit the nation. Harsh cold crippled industry, business and transportation in almost all the eastern half of the nation. Near-zero temperatures in the deep south triggered new national gas and power crises. Florida Gov. Reubin Askew declared a state of emergency in Florida's multimillion dollar agriculture industry as citrus growers saw their fruit freeze in their trees Monday and Tuesday nights.

Friday, January 21
TWO WOMEN DIED Thursday and 45 other persons were injured when a gas explosion ripped through an auditorium at the University of Pittsburgh. The two-story concrete and steel building, which housed science lecture halls and laboratories, collapsed into a heap of tangled concrete and beams. Police said additional bodies could be buried in the wreckage and the death toll might go as high as six. The blast is believed to have been caused by a tank of methane gas stored in the basement of the building.

Saturday, January 22
PRESIDENT CARTER granted a pardon Friday to almost all Vietnam war era draft evaders, but left unsettled the status of those who deserted the armed forces during the long Asian conflict. In effect, the new president's first major act offered immediate, full legal relief to slightly more than 113,000 predominantly white, middle and upper class young men who, as he said in political campaign speeches, "knew where Sweden was" and either fled the country or refused to enter military service. The president's actions drew protests, some of them vehement, from some veterans organizations and from some conservative politicians.

Sunday, January 23
A SOVIET TU104 airliner exploded and crashed last week as it tried to land in the Central Asian city of Alma-Ata, killing at least 90 persons, unofficial sources said Saturday. It was reported the plane was at 3,200 feet when it exploded and crashed into an open field. Sources said the plane apparently reported engine trouble and was using up fuel attempting a landing when it developed trouble in a second engine. It was not known if any foreigners were on board.

Monday, January 24
COMMUNIST ATTEMPTS to radically reorganize Cambodia have resulted in more than a million people dying, including entire families slain in assembly-line fashion, a "Reader's Digest" condensation of a new book said Sunday. Almost as many people died during reorganization as during years of fighting between the Communist Khmer Rouge and various pro-Western governments, the February issue of the magazine said. The full book, "Murder of a Gentle Land," was written by John Barron and Anthony Paul, both "Reader's Digest" editors.

Tuesday, January 25
THE FEDERAL ENERGY Administration took emergency action Monday to increase supplies of natural gas and fuel oil to relieve shortages caused by the severe winter. Acting Federal Energy Administrator Gorman Smith Monday announced his agency would take several actions including ordering five refineries in four states, including one in Michigan, to make more home heating oil, at the expense of jet fuel production.

Winter has been unkind to the famed ski slopes of the Rockies and other western mountain ranges this year, while Michigan skiers have been blessed with abundant snow and ideal conditions to enjoy their sport. The rapidly expanding corps of cross country devotees didn't even have to leave The Pointe to enjoy themselves, as demonstrated by JOHN SHAHEEN, (right), program director of the Neighborhood Club, with guests, JULIE and TOM WILLIAMS, of New Jersey.

GPF Takes Aim in Area Of Obscenity

Measure Follows Examples of Similar Laws in Troy, Harper Woods
By Tom Greenwood
In an effort to curb growing concerns over the spread of pornography, members of the Farms Council passed an amendment to its general offenses ordinance on Monday night, January 10.
The ordinance specifically forbids the manufacture, exhibition, distribution or advertising of any books, pictures, literature, motion pictures or photograph records that fall with the city's definition of indecent, immoral, obscene, sadistic or masochistic. Conviction of the misdemeanor carries a 90-day jail sentence or a $500 fine, according to Farms Police Chief Robert K. Ferber.
Farms City Clerk Richard Solak indicated the city was following examples of similar ordinances passed in Troy and Harper Woods.
"The idea started in a discussion one night when Councilman Joseph Fromm felt it was important to forewarn (Continued on Page 6)

Farms' Crime Picture Shows Fluctuations; Termed Good Overall

Shoplifting, Larcenies from Vehicles, Burglaries Up, Bike Thefts, MDP, Arson Cases Down; Passive Prevention Program Planned
By Tom Greenwood
More Pointers were arrested for major crimes in the area in 1976 than in previous years. In a 42-page end-of-the-year report, Farms Police Chief Robert K. Ferber revealed that 63 percent of the major crime arrests last year involved Pointers or ex-residents of the area.
This was a 12 percent increase over 1975 when 51 percent of those arrested for major crimes in The Pointe were from this area.
"This statistic is not as alarming as it sounds," said Chief Ferber. "Historically, the majority of those arrested for crimes in The Pointe are from the area."
Narcotics Problem
"In 1974 and 1975 we averaged less arrests of Pointers for major crimes because we had a higher influx of non-resident arrests, mostly citizens of Detroit. In 1976 we had fewer outsiders coming in to commit crimes, so local arrests rose to their previous level."
"Our average local arrest percentage for the period between 1969-1974 was 62 percent, so a 63 percent arrest percentage for 1976 is not alarming," Chief Ferber went on to say that approximately 40 percent of all other persons over 17 arrested in 1976 for major and serious crimes were hard narcotics addicts.
"While this figure is down from a 92 percent rate in 1973," said the chief, "I still view narcotics addiction as a major problem in relationship to future crime trends. None of those persons arrested for such crimes had local residence, or prior residence in the Pointes."
"In other words, none of those addicts arrested were from the Pointes."
Officers Cited
Another interesting reversal from 1975 showed that crimes committed against Pointers in 1976 declined, while crimes against property were on the upswing.
"Both luck and hard work had a lot to do with the decline in crimes against persons," said the chief. "We're fortunate that many of our businesses are located near busy intersections traditionally patrolled by our scout cars. This acts as a damper on armed robbers."
"Also we don't have a lot of open 24-hour-a-day establishments that are off by themselves. They are traditionally high target areas," he noted.
"Another large contributing factor is the continued vigilance of our officers and (Continued on Page 4)

Declines on Horizon Say Schools

Census Report Shows System Has Lost Almost One-Fifth of Its Students Since 1970
By Susan McDonald
A census report just released by Pointe public schools shows the system has lost almost one-fifth of its students since the start of this decade.
The schools now serve 10,730 students — 2,550 less than in 1970. And, according to the report, those declines should continue, at least for the next few years, as the number of pre-school children, ages one-four, has dropped 16 percent since 1973.
The report is based on a door-to-door head count of Pointe residents conducted in May 1976 by the schools' pupil personnel department.
View New Trend
One bright spot has turned up in the mass of figures — a 13.7 percent jump in the number of Pointe children under one-year-old. That age group is the only one showing any increase.
Although school officials say they are mystified at the apparent upturn in births in The Pointe, they hope it represents the beginning of a new trend.
"It's the only encouraging aspect of the census," said Director of Pupil Personnel Reginald Sienkewicz. "But we won't really know what it means until the next census, though it'll be interesting to see if other districts start noticing the same trend." Although the school administration (Continued on Page 8)

GPWPOA Nixes Proposal, To Appear Before Council

By Roger A. Waha
The Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers' Assoc., (GPWPOA), unanimously rejected a three-year proposal from the city at its Wednesday, January 19, meeting.
Now, association members are planning to come before the council at its regular meeting Monday, February 7, to voice concerns over the negotiation process.
Indications from the association are, while further bargaining always is a possibility, (but slim in this case), that arbitration, the wheels of which are already in motion, will soon commence.
"The proposal, (from 1976-78), left very much to be desired," said Officer Stephen Petrik, association president. The GPWPOA wants a cost of living formula rolled into salary and, referring to the city's proposal, the officer said it went from the Detroit Index to the National Index which has been lower.
The association requested a .3 on the index and the city has offered a .4 index, he stated.
"It, (the proposal), doesn't meet what the men thought it should," said Officer Petrik, who felt, overall, it was a step backward.
While not completely ruling out the possibility of future bargaining after GPWPOA members state their case before the council, Officer Petrik indicated arbitration is probably the only means to break the current impasse.
At the same time, he wants to see how the council receives what members will say.
For his part, Officer Patrick DeVine, a member of the association's negotiating team, felt that the amount of money based on projections and other items on the proposal offered no benefits at all. He also questioned the cost of living formula and the criteria for it.
He said there would be no (Continued on Page 8)

GPF Okays Water Rate Hike

By Tom Greenwood
Residents of The Farms will lose a little bit more of their paychecks starting next month after the Farms Council approved a 10 percent hike in water bills at its Monday night, January 24, meeting.
"There's no question that we need the increase," said Farms City Comptroller Carol Lock. "Our audit showed an overall loss of $29,537 last year. The year before that, we showed a $7,000 profit."
"The problem is that we're not insulated from higher prices either. It cost us $30,000 to operate the filtration plant in 1975, and it cost $33,000 to run it in 1976. Salaries and wages have gone up, too. It's the cost of doing business."
Under the cost increase, the c'd rate of $4.20 per 1,000 cubic feet of water will be raised to $4.60. This will cover both water and sewage rates.
The new minimum charge for three months service will be $6.90, up from the previous minimum charge of $6.30.

Woods Shows Massive Drop in Crime Last Year

Known Offenses Fall by 18.3 Percent in Comparison to 1975; Public Safety Head Cites Road Patrol, Low Profile Scout Cars, Citizens
By Roger A. Waha
The level of crime in The Woods, which has generally remained steady over the past several years, with slight increases, showed a massive drop of 18.3 percent last year over 1975 based upon all known offenses.
Most classifications of criminal activity in both the Part I, (more serious crimes), and Part II, (less serious crimes), categories showed declines in 1976. The overall total of known offenses last year reached 3,015 as against 3,688 in 1975.
Elated over the department's year-end report, Public Safety Director Henry Marchand exclaimed, "It's a combination of everything, a lot of things and it's working baby!"
"A Safe Place"
That "combination" was attributed to the vigilance of the road patrol, the city's low profile scout cars and the cooperation of citizens in reporting suspicious activity to the department.
In conjunction with the consistent patrolling of the community, the director cited the darker colored vehicles which the department has been utilizing of late in comparison to the brightly colored red autos of past years which he said looked like "circus wagons."
Realizing the importance of citizen participation in the crime fight, Director Marchand stated many calls have proved fruitful, while indicating a citizen's cooperative interest and concern for a fellow neighbor. "If this cooperation continues, Grosse Pointe Woods will continue to remain a safe place," he stated.
On the surface, the 18.3 percent drop is impressive and it's even more so when compared to previous years. For example, based on computations at department headquarters, crime dropped around two percent in 1972 over 1971 but rose one percent in 1973 over 1972, five percent in 1974 over 1973 and two percent in 1975 over 1974.
Commends Department
At the same time, Director Marchand pointed out, based upon figures at his disposal, that in 1975 the crime index nationally rose nine percent and in the state, 5.3 percent. He personally feels this trend continued last year.
Meanwhile, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos said he was surprised by the big percentage drop while indicating his understanding that crime has been on the decrease in core cities and adjacent suburban areas, but on the increase in rural areas, many of which are isolated.

Election Slated for March 14

No Increase Requested As Voters to Consider Renewal of Expired School, Library Monies
By Susan McDonald
Pointe voters will decide whether or not to continue the present level of school taxes and programs for the next three years in a millage election Saturday, March 14, the Board of Education announced.
The trustees will not ask for a millage increase, but instead will put to a vote the expired 2.2 mills for schools and 1.1 for libraries approved for one year last spring.
At that time, Pointers also approved a four-year renewal of 24.35 mills, school, and 1.31 mills, library, taxes. (One mill equals $1 for every $1,000 of State Equalized Valuation, SEV).
Would Make Cuts
The Board announced the millage rate, duration and date for elections at a special meeting Monday, January 24, in administration offices.
If the tax rate is not approved by voters, the Board will be forced to cut $1.1 million out of its $20 million budget and layoff about 90 teachers, Superintendent Dr. William Coats said.
Dr. Coats and Trustee William Huettelman both said they were optimistic the proposal would win approval.
"We assume since the community has supported this level so far, they will continue to do so," Mr. Huettelman said.
The Board decided on the Saturday election date in the hope of attracting a large number of voters to the polls, Mr. Huettelman said.
If the tax is approved, Dr. Coats said they will be able to maintain the same level of programs in the schools.
Counting on Money
The budget will be balanced by making "every effort to operate within a budget increase of seven percent a year," he said. The schools will spend about $20 million this year.
Additional revenue will come from an automatic six percent increase due to normal SEV growth, he said. That growth will vary though, from between 4.7 and 7 percent in the five municipalities.
The administration also is counting on receiving $350,000 a year in state aid for the next three years. Although The Pointe district qualifies for $500,000 a year from the state, executive budget cuts have reduced the final allocation to under $200,000 for the past several years.

Officials Blast New EMS Laws

Concerns Expressed over Effects of Regulations Governing Ambulances
By Susan McDonald
A trio of emergency medical service, (EMS), bills signed into law in December by Gov. William Milliken threatens to put some Pointe ambulances out of business and force others to begin charging for the service.
The bills, (Public Acts 288, 290 and 330), create guidelines for formation of a statewide emergency medical system, increased medical training for emergency attendants and more sophisticated equipment for transporting patients.
All five Pointes now provide ambulance services through their fire or public safety departments. Only The Park charges for the service.
Find Other Way
Through a "grandfather clause" included in the bill late in the session, Pointe officials may continue operating their present ambulances for about one more year.
By 1978, though, new regulations will make most of their vehicles obsolete and force them to spend thousands of dollars to train Emergency Medical Technicians, (EMT).
One option being informally considered by two cities is discontinuing the service altogether.
"We'll either go out of the ambulance business or find some other way to provide the service, such as contracting with another government agency or a private concern," said City Manager Thomas Kressbach of Grosse Pointe City.
Mr. Kressbach said The City will have to replace the station wagon they now use for emergency runs with a vehicle costing $20,000 or more. City Fire Chief Robert Marshall added that a remodeling of the police station also (Continued on Page 6)

Shores Sergeant Retires on Feb. 1

By James J. Njaim
Shores Sgt. Donald Jacob, who hasn't been working for the past three weeks, has left a void in the public safety department, where his mild and jovial manner and his booming laughter will be missed by his colleagues, from Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale down through the ranks.
Sgt. Jacob, (Don to everyone in the station, and to all his friends), was forced to leave his job for reasons of health on Tuesday, January 11.
Director Vitale, who started with the department one year before Don, and who was the sergeant's scout car partner for 10 years during their patrolling days, said that Sgt. Jacob will officially retire as of Tuesday, February 1, after nearly 22 years of service.
Sgt. Jacob, 48, a native of Detroit, resides in St. Clair Shores with two of his three daughters, Nora, 19, and Susan, a junior at St. Clair Shores' Lakeview High School. A third daughter, Mrs. Reid (Ann) Pouliot, lives in The Farms.
The sergeant is a 1947 graduate of Detroit's Saint Charles High School. He enlisted in the U. S. Army Signal Corps in June 1947, immediately after graduation, and was honorably discharged with the rating of private first class in June 1950. Following his discharge from the service, he moved to Hermosa Beach, Calif., where he resided for three years before returning to the Detroit area. He worked for a while for Sears, the Chrysler Corp. and finally with the U. S. Rubber Co. before joining the Shores Public Safety Department on May 15, 1955.
"When I was appointed a public safety officer in The Shores, I knew I found my home," the sergeant said. "I was very happy working here. It was wonderful working with such a fine community and with such a great group in the department."
"The Village officials also were wonderful to me. I have met many people and made countless friends. I am very sorry my health has kept me from staying on the job, but there is nothing to stop me from stopping by often to say 'hello' and see all my buddies in the department, especially my good friend Chief Vitale."

Woods Shows Big Drop in Crime

"It's a very good sign and I commend the department very highly," he said, while noting police have been involved "in a greater surveillance in both residential and commercial areas, spending more time on the road."

In the Part I category, the biggest drop is seen in the larceny-theft, (except auto), classification which fell from 578 known incidents in 1975 to 430 last year.

Bleak Graduation
Bicycle larcenies alone dropped over 50 percent from 258 two years ago to 121 last year. On the other hand, vehicle accessories' thefts rose from 96 to 140 in 1976 causing Director Marchand to note that thieves "have stopped stealing bikes and have graduated into CB radios."

Clearances in the larceny-theft classification were around 12 percent each year. Meanwhile, both burglaries and robbery incidents decreased. Breaking and enterings dropped from 71 to 66 in 1976, while clearances of such incidents rose from 11 percent two years ago to 24 percent last year.

Robberies fell from 10 cases in 1975 to four cases last year, while clearances rose from 20 percent, (two of 10), to 75 percent, (three of four).

Another Part I crime, auto theft, dropped from 36 incidents to 31 last year, while no forcible rape reports were received either year.

Vandalism Falls
The only Part I classifications to show increases were criminal homicide and aggravated assault, one case each in comparison to none in 1975. In the former instance, the incident was classified as manslaughter by negligence.

(where a passenger in an auto died shortly after an accident). Finally, the overall total of Part I crimes fell from 695 to 533 in 1976, while the overall clearance rate went from 12 percent in 1975 to 13 percent last year.

Under the Part II category, vandalism offenses in the community showed a big decrease from 487 two years ago to 303 last year. All breakdowns in the vandalism classification showed declines: to dwellings, to other buildings, to vehicles, vehicles over lawns, (falling by 50 percent), and "other" cases.

Calling this basically a youth-oriented offense, Director Marchand felt the Youth Service Division played a strong role in the decrease. "I have to give the division some credit for this in relation to their talks and meetings with young people. Maybe we are starting to profit by the rapport which has been built up over the years," he said.

Dog Problems
Citing the rise in driving under the influence of liquor offenses, (69 in 1975, 75 last year), the director stated this increase indicated "that my guys are working harder," and, thus, is a reflection of road patrol activity.

A big item, Director Marchand stated, is once again dog complaints. While such reports fell from 749 to 604 last year, (the majority both years being dog at large cases), he said a lot of time is spent responding to such calls—time that could be better spent in other areas.

Obviously, the cooperation of citizens is sorely needed for this classification to fall. Overall, Part II offenses toppled from 2,993 in 1975 to 2,482 last year. Citing another example of citizen participation, Director Marchand pointed out, as part of miscellaneous patrol activities, the increase in "other non-criminal contacts" from 1,648 two years ago to 2,076 last year.

Likes Increase
This classification covers the investigation of suspicious cars, persons, et al., and involves residents calling the department to report such activity. "I'd like to see this area increase rather than decrease because it indicates citizen concern," he said.

Other stats show that a total of 8,362 reports were written in 1975 in comparison to 8,228 last year. "The more time that's taken writing reports, the less time we have to patrol," said Director Marchand, who noted that those dog complaint reports "eat up" a lot of time.

Meanwhile, the department made more ambulance runs last year, (437), than in 1975, (383).

On the firefighting front, officers responded to 194 alarms two years ago and 193 last year, while response to actual fires dropped from 119 to 88 last year.

Deceptive Indicator
One civilian death was reported in 1976, (a house fire in Sunningdale drive), while none was reported in 1975.

Adjusted fire losses last year were $48,335 as against $161,811 two years ago. While on the surface such a drop looks good, Director Marchand quickly points out that such figures aren't the best indicator, with luck playing a big role.

As an example, he said a community might have only one fire all year but severe monetary damage results, while another city might have a dozen or more blazes where the combined, total dollar damage falls short of the one huge fire.

Millage Date Set

may receive full funding from Lansing in 1977.

In addition, the superintendent revealed plans to cut about $200,000 from each future budget with staff and program reductions made possible by declining enrollment.

Question Remains
The biggest factor in the school budget—pay rates for the system's 600 teachers—is still a question, though.

Water Rates

water rate increase in about four years. The Farms experienced a sewage treatment price increase about a year ago.

"We didn't like the idea of raising the water prices, but we really had no choice," said Mr. Lock. "It costs a lot of money to pump all that water."

"Since the new rate goes into effect during the winter-time, the relative impact will be negligible. Bills are traditionally lower at this time of year because people aren't watering their lawns or filling pools. Summertime is when you'll notice a difference."

The new rate hike will go into effect for January's water bills, which will be sent out in about two weeks, according to Mr. Lock.

Sillery Court Date Changed

The preliminary examination of Dr. Robert J. Sillery, of The City, in the St. Clair Shores Municipal Court on charges of Medicaid fraud was postponed from the original Monday, January 24, date to Monday, February 7.

According to the Attorney General's office, the postponement was granted on the request of Dr. Sillery's lawyer.

Robert Harrison, who is defending Dr. Sillery, said his request for a postponement was made because he needed more time to prepare his case.

He declined to make any specific comments concerning the charges against Dr. Sillery but said that his presentation at the preliminary examination would be interesting.

Park Officer Made Corporal

Park Patrolman-Det. William Furtaw, 35, has been promoted to the permanent rank of uniform corporal, effective as of Monday, January 24. It was disclosed by Lt. Gordon Duncan, the new corporal will serve a one-year probationary period before being certified for the job.

Lt. Duncan said Cpl. Furtaw will serve as a shift supervisor, and is the first to be elevated to the permanent rank. Eventually, each shift will have a corporal on a permanent basis to assist in a supervisory capacity.

The new corporal has been with the plain-clothes detail, working as patrolman-detective since January 1, 1973.

A native of Detroit, he has a bachelor's degree in Police Administration from Mercy College, and attended the Detroit College of Law for two and one half years, all while working with the department.

Before joining the department on November 1, 1961, Cpl. Furtaw was a car salesman for the Cook Ford Agency, now McDonald East, at Kercheval and Harvard. He was a member of the Park Police Auxiliary before deciding to take up his career as a regular officer.

He is married to the former Jane Harris, of Detroit, and they are the parents of four children. The family lives in Detroit.

Cpl. Furtaw was top scorer in a written and oral examination, which was taken by nearly every member of the department.

Torch Starts Fire in House

A two-alarm fire at the home of Daniel Gattley, of 805 Trombley road, on Saturday, January 22, was believed to have originated when the owner of the house was using a propane torch to thaw ice in the eave trough around the building, said Park Acting Fire Chief David Taylor.

The City Fire Department, which automatically responds to an alarm from the Park, and vice versa, did so again.

Chief Taylor said when the firefighters and equipment arrived at the scene at 5:41 p.m., smoke was billowing from the top floor of the two-story house. The fire started in the walls of the upper south bedroom and second floor sunroom.

The flames were difficult to reach because of the stone structure of the building, but fortunately firefighters were able to gain access and bring it under control within 10 minutes, the chief said.

Library Gets $8,000 Grant To Take Part in Program

The Grosse Pointe Public Library has received an $8,000 grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek to participate in the development of a statewide computer informational library network, according to William T. Peters, director.

The Grosse Pointe Public Library is one of 56 member libraries of the Wayne Oakland Federated Library System, (WOFLS), to receive a grant for the two-year program.

Grants to the system's libraries totaled $167,800, ranging from $700 for small libraries to $8,000 for libraries serving over 50,000 residents, and are part of a $1.5 million statewide grant to 450 public and academic libraries by the Kellogg Foundation.

The Grosse Pointe Public Library and 16 other libraries will pool $7,000 of their grants in a system fund to develop a system-wide computer information retrieval program to speed up public access to some three million books now housed in WOFLS member libraries.

Major emphasis of the plan, linked to existing WOFLS computer operations, will key on the production of a system-wide catalog on microform, listing books owned by member libraries. The microform lists, together with microform readers, will be placed in all member libraries. As a result, librarians will be able to search, locate and secure materials faster.

If a local library doesn't have the book a patron wants, a quick check by the librarian using the microform lists will confirm whether it's available in another WOFLS library. The lists will be updated as new books are added to the collections.

In addition to microform lists, the WOFLS plan will target on future linkups with other library systems in the state by exchanging microform lists and working out book loan arrangements with them.

Future goals beyond microform lists include possible direct access from libraries to the computer. Such access is not possible now, but in light of this, some of the pooled funds will be used to research new computer techniques and test equipment.

In addition to benefiting from the system program, the Grosse Pointe Public Library will use the remaining grant funds for mail, phone and photocopying services and conferences and workshops relating to library networking.

Dr. Russell G. Mawby, Kellogg Foundation president, said, "The grants are part of 450 similar awards made to public and academic—college, university, and community college—libraries throughout Michigan to link Michigan's libraries to the state's regional library system centers, state library services in Lansing and to national cataloging data bases.

"The Kellogg Foundation is confident that when the network system is in place, first class service will be available to every citizen utilizing library resources."

A Chalfonte road resident complained to Farms police that a pair of skis, poles and bindings she had stored on her enclosed front porch were stolen sometime between Monday, January 17, and

Tuesday, January 18.

The blue and orange skis, with accompanying equipment, were valued at $300. The sports equipment was insured.

GP Farms' Crime Picture Shows Fluctuations, Called Good Overall

the investigative efforts of our detective staff," added the chief.

The increase in property crimes during 1976, (including dollar losses), primarily stemmed from two areas. First, there was an increase in shoplifting and second, an increase in larcenies from motor vehicles, (particularly CB radios).

Burglaries Up

According to the report, in 1976, burglaries increased by 17 incidents, (including attempts), from 40 in 1975 to 57 in 1976. The increased incidents were directed towards businesses, schools and churches, as well as residential dwellings.

Sgt. Jacob Retires

Sgt. Jacob earned a number of departmental citations of merit, including one in 1966 for the capture of individuals in a stolen car, and another, last year when he assisted PSO John Frasad in the apprehension of two burglary suspects.

During his early days with the department, Sgt. Jacob attended several police and fire training schools. He took a course taught by Detroit Corporate Counsel Nate Goldstick, "The Police Officer and The Law."

He also had three weeks of basic and advanced fire training for command officers at the University of Michigan in 1966. And, in 1968, he completed a Federal Bureau of Investigation Fingerprint School course. In the same year he was graduated from the Kodak Law Enforcement School of Photography.

In 1969, he completed the Wayne County Medical Examiner's course in Homicide Investigation. He also attended and completed a number of courses sponsored by the Greater Detroit Firefighters Assoc.

Sgt. Jacob's departure not only saddened the members of the Shores Public Safety Department, but also Director Vitale.

"I feel a deep sadness that Don's illness has forced him to retire. I have worked with him for many years. For 10 years we were scout car partners. We moonlighted on the same jobs together, and generally enjoyed everything together," the director said.

"We both feel we are fortunate to be working for Village officials and citizens who always expressed appreciation for our services. This is something hard to find in some communities."

"Don and I have spent many lonely nights, and many busy nights, too, patrolling the Village streets together. That is why it is so hard to see him leave," Director Vitale said. "We worked great together. I am going to miss his jolly disposition, as will the rest of the department personnel."

"Don was a good officer and is a good friend. We have been very close since he joined the force and we have a great deal of respect for each other. We all wish him the best of luck and pray his health will improve."

Sgt. Jacob said he will spend a week in Florida from January 25, February 2, visiting relatives and friends, and then will return home to take things easy.

The sergeant's departmental colleagues are holding a retirement party for him on Thursday, February 3, at the Barrister House, 21801 Harper, St. Clair Shores, beginning at 7 p.m. with refreshments. Dinner starts at 8 p.m. All of Don's friends, or anyone wishing to participate in honoring him, are invited.

Tickets are $12 apiece and may be obtained at any of The Pointe police stations and at Harper Woods police headquarters.

The chief noted that the most interesting trend developed in 1976 involving larceny-by-trick was the re-appearance of the "pigeon drop."

"Four such crimes were investigated during 1976, (three attempts, one actual), resulting in a $10,000 loss to a resident," said the chief. "While the detective bureau has obtained warrants for the arrest of the con artists, they have not yet been apprehended."

There were seven bomb threats during 1976, compared to five in 1975. The threats were all directed toward schools, with the exception of one against a local bank by Richard students, and one against a business by a disgruntled employee.

No actual bombs were discovered during 1976, nor were any bomb threat extortions attempted or perpetrated.

Bike Thefts Down

Bicycle thefts continued their five-year decline with 152 incidents reported in 1976, as compared to 182 in 1975.

Malicious destruction to property, (MDP), also declined in 1976, from 240 incidents in 1975 to 177 incidents last year.

"There were no murders in 1976, but there was one negligent homicide in The Farms involving a hit-and-run drunk driver who killed a 10-year-old boy riding his bicycle along Lakeshore road," said

Chief Ferber. "This was a repeat of 1975, when one negligent homicide was committed by a hit-and-run drunk driver who struck and killed Farms Police Officer Kenneth Pine."

The report showed there were two kidnappings in The Farms in 1975, while there was only one in 1976. It involved a 10-year-old City resident abducted while on his way home from school. Ransomed for $48,000, the youth was able to free himself and telephoned his family who told him to run and hide.

The defendant in the case was arrested, pled guilty to kidnapping and is currently serving a seven to 15 year sentence in the state penitentiary.

YSD Praised

There was one successful suicide in 1976 as compared to four in 1975. Last year saw seven attempted suicides, the same number as in 1975.

During 1976, six arson incidents were investigated as compared to eight in 1975. According to the report, the 1976 incidents all involved or were believed to have involved youngsters under 10 years of age or mentally disturbed persons. Four of the six offenses were cleared with reference to the Youth Service Division, or professional psychiatric care.

According to Chief Ferber, narcotic, drug law arrests and investigations declined by 28 percent in 1976, following local patterns first noted in 1974. There was a 12 percent reduction in 1974 and a 28 percent decrease in 1975.

"As a local problem, hard narcotic use and addiction increases have become a thing of the past," said Chief Ferber. "While many factors undoubtedly played a role, in my opinion, the reductions were due mainly to the attitude and actions of local schools, plus the efforts and actions of the Grosse Pointe Youth Service Division."

Mounting Concern

"While we in the Pointes appear to be out of the woods as far as hard narcotics are concerned, a mounting drug problem exists with regard to marijuana usage and alcohol consumption," said Chief Ferber, who added an increased combined usage of the two drugs has been noted.

"While we had an overall good year in 1976, crime in The Farms may be expected to follow national and area

Officials View Hydrant Placement Woes in GPW

By George Polgar Jr.

When 14-year-old Kurt Jaque, of Anita avenue, appeared before the Woods Council a few weeks ago to call attention to a number of hazardous placed municipal fire hydrants, he was lauded by Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos for his civic spirit.

He also was told that the council would review his complaint and take action as necessary. The gist of the complaint is that there is a fire hydrant so close to the driveway of Kurt's home that it is only with the greatest of care that a car can slip in and out without being seriously damaged.

And this situation exists in 40, 60 or 80 other locations, depending on whose estimate one uses.

To move all the hydrants at a cost of $450 each would leave the city with around a $30,000 bill. While Mr. Pinkos stated at the meeting that this problem seems to be the responsibility of the city, which he still maintains, the price tag is the major obstacle to a quick solution.

Though Mr. Pinkos has expressed his concern in this matter, his personal opinion is not an official acknowledgment of responsibility for the city.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen reports that the decision to move the hydrants is a question of council policy to be established collectively.

"The existing council policy governing this kind of situation leaves the responsibility for moving the hydrants to the homeowner," he said.

As Kurt noted in his original letter to the council, his mother, Marsha Jaque, a divorcee with four children, can ill afford the $450 cost. Nor can she afford the repair bills she has had to pay after damaging her car twice because of the obstruction.

When contacted by the NEWS, Mrs. Jaque explained that the repairs for her car have cost several hundred dollars. She also named a half dozen instances when people coming to her home have sustained considerable damage to their cars.

"It isn't just me having problems getting in here,"

Trial Date Set In Robbery Case

A 17-year-old youth, who's charged with armed robbery is scheduled to be tried in Wayne County Circuit Court on Monday, January 31, reported Woods Det. Charles Philip Hamel.

The youth, Hubert Mays, for whom police obtained a waiver, is charged in an incident which occurred last August when a Yorktown road citizen was robbed at gunpoint of his wallet containing around $40.

Another youth who was allegedly involved in that incident, Henry Lee Bennett, 18, was sentenced recently to from five to 15 years in prison on an armed robbery charge stemming from a Harper Woods case.

Because of that incident, a similar case against him in The Woods had earlier been dismissed without prejudice in circuit court.

Cottage Elects Staff Officers

David H. Barker, MD, has been elected president of the medical staff of Cottage Hospital for 1977. John H. Williams, MD, has been chosen to serve with him as vice-president. Frank B. Walker, MD, as secretary and Lyle W. Korum, MD, as treasurer.

The medical staff's recommendations for division chiefs have been approved by the Cottage Hospital Board of Trustees as follows:

R. H. Ambrose, MD, chief, division of surgery; D. A. Paris, MD, chief, division of medicine; C. B. Riddle, MD, chief, division of obstetrics; R. E. Craig, MD, chief of the general practice section; James M. Fisher, MD, chief of the pediatric section; and Benjamin Jeffries, MD, chief of the psychiatric section.

Suspect Arson In Trailer Fire

Arson was the cause of a fire which destroyed a huge semi-trailer, nearly filled with old newspapers, parked in the lot of Trombly School on Sunday, January 23.

The trailer was loaned to the school's Boy Scout Troop 86 for its paper drive.

Acting Park Fire Chief David Taylor, who said it appeared that the papers in the trailer smoldered before bursting into flames, believed the fire was deliberately set and may have been started by vandals.

He said when firefighters and equipment arrived at the scene at 6:56 a.m., the trailer was completely engulfed in flames. It took approximately 38 minutes to wash down the fire.

The chief stated the trailer was loaned to the scouts by Goodwill Industries for the paper drive. It's suspected that the paper was set afire sometime early Sunday morning.

It was impossible to save the trailer, which was completely gutted, Chief Taylor added.

WONDERFULLY GOOD

"Great is His faithfulness; His loving kindness begins afresh each day. My soul claims the Lord as my inheritance; therefore I will hope in Him. The Lord is wonderfully good to those who wait for Him, to those who seek for Him. It is good both to hope and wait quietly for the salvation of the Lord." (Lamentations 3: 23-26)

EMS Laws Blasted

will be necessary just to store a new vehicle.

Shores Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale finds himself in a similar bind with the new regulations.

"After you tally it all up, it will probably cost as much as $100,000 just to train the EMTs," he said. "When you consider we only make 100 runs a year, the cost per trip becomes ridiculous. I don't know where the money is going to come from."

Director Vitale said a decision on the matter rests with the council, but discontinuing the service is a definite possibility.

Woods residents may begin receiving bills for their ambulance rides as a result of the new legislation, Director of Public Safety Henry Marchand predicts.

Although The Woods' ambulance will probably satisfy the new standards, training requirements will be more difficult to meet in next year's budget, he said.

Meanwhile, Farms and Park fire officials said they expect their cities will be able to comply with the new law without much problem.

Extra Strain

Both Farms Chief Warren Schultz and Park Chief Philip Costa have already sent men to EMT classes. Chief Schultz said he has applied for federal funds to help finance a new, fully-equipped ambulance.

The Park's plight may be easier because of a minimum $40 per run charge to their citizens that has been in effect since September 1975.

Nonetheless, spokesmen for all five Pointes agree that the bills put an unfair and unnecessary strain on local governments. In The Pointes, they argue, hospitals are so close that most runs take five minutes or less, leaving no time for paramedical treatment in transit.

"I think the intent of the bill is good when it's directed at communities where hospitals are very remote and at some of these fly-by-night EMS operations," said Director Marchand.

"But they pass these laws up in Lansing telling you to do this and that and don't ever say where the money to pay for it all is going to come from," he added.

Defends Laws

Rep. William Bryant said he had tried to no avail to amend the bills to take the financial burden off local governments.

"It's sort of a habit that governments have, though, of telling the next guy down to provide a service and pay for it, too," he said.

Licensing chief for the state's Emergency Medical Service Division, Joseph Hull, defended the new laws, saying they would only drive those services out of business that should be driven out.

"The argument that 'we're only five minutes from a hospital' doesn't hold water any more because it's the first four to six minutes after heart failure, for instance, that are vital," he said.

"After that amount of time, brain damage occurs, so it's important that treatment be available as soon as possible."

Mr. Hull added that his inspection department will be doubled next year to insure proper inspection of facilities.

Woods Police Hire Officers

Two new officers were selected last week by Public Safety Director Henry Marchand to join the department in what turned out to be "a small world" in the competitive arena.

Both Carl P. Schuster and James DaDeppo went to school together at North High School and originally didn't know they were competing, (along with over 40 applicants), for two openings in the department. As it turned out, both classmates were selected.

Director Marchand said the new recruits will enter basic police school at the Criminal Justice Institute on Monday, January 31. After they complete their estimated eight weeks training, they will report for duty.

Officer Schuster, a Woods resident, is single and has a Bachelor of Arts degree in Criminal Justice from Michigan State University.

Officer DaDeppo, who lives in Madison Heights, is married and has one daughter. He's currently attending Wayne State University where he's a senior majoring in Criminal Justice.

Clown Corps to Hold Drive

Coming off a big year of activity, the Grosse Pointe Bicentennial Clown Corps is now making plans for a vigorous 1977 with a new member drive on Saturday, February 26, at the Woods Municipal Building, 20025 Mack avenue, beginning at 1 p.m.

We need more clowns because, in the summertime, one of our activities is a clown water show at the Woods park, said Arthur J. Kuehn, corps chairman. Those who are in the first through 12th grade, and who would like to join the corps, should call Mr. Kuehn at 881-8186.

The group, which is open to all residents of the Pointes, is involved in parades, carnivals, bike-a-thons and clown shows.

During the Bicentennial year, the corps participated in over 25 activities including a variety of parades. On June 24 the young people celebrated its first anniversary, while holding the first award night. At that time, Robert Rau was selected to receive the clown of the year award.

During the Thanksgiving Day parade, Mr. Kuehn and Marti Held portrayed clowns and reportedly had a great time.

Obscenity

against the possibility of local theaters showing X-rated movies," said Mr. Solak.

"It evolved from that point. We had our city attorney draft legislation drawn upon a similar ordinance recently passed in Harper Woods. The idea of what is 'obscene' has been a problem for a long time, but a few years ago the Supreme Court left the definition up to local governments.

"The ordinance could cause a lot of grief if anyone wanted to pursue the idea of what has 'literary merit,' continued Mr. Solak. "If an offender is convicted, and then appeals, the case could drag on forever."

The "Catch-22" aspect of the ordinance lies in the murky area of what is "obscene" and "pornographic."

Published in full in the January 20 edition of the NEWS, the measure determines that the test for cases falling under the ordinance would be as follows: whether the average person, applying contemporary community standards, would find that the work appeals to prurient interests; depicts or describes sexual conduct in a patently offensive way; or whether the work, taken as a whole, lacks serious literary, artistic, political or scientific value.

Views Violations

"Currently popular magazines such as 'Playboy,' 'Oui,' 'Penthouse' and 'Playgirl' all fall under this ordinance," said Chief Ferber, "and technically, they violate the ordinance. The saving factor in these cases is that the 'obscenity' of these magazines would have to be determined by our court."

"Before going that far, our prosecuting attorney would review the cases to determine if they were worthy of submitting to the court. It would help determine the difference between 'hard core literature' and magazines generally accepted today," he said.

"Copies of the ordinance have been sent to all businesses in our area that sell publications. We don't expect mass crack downs in the future, but we would like the businesses to review their publications. If they have any questions, all they have to do is call me," said the chief.

The ordinance will go into effect on Thursday, February 10.

In some countries in Europe, wine is almost used as a substitute for water. Wine is served to people of all ages at all meals, except for breakfast, of course. In England, this custom has an old and practical base. In Elizabethan times, when beer and wine were having a hey day in England, the water was not fit to drink so wine was substituted. Wine accompanied lunch and dinner. There was plenty of it and it was inexpensive. Young wine, in those days, was favored over the old, and one year old wine was the most highly prized of all. Englishers of the time enjoyed their wine so much that it never lasted long. Though the population in Shakespeare's day was one tenth of what it is today, the British imported more wine than they do now.

Enjoy wine at your table — PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 features a fine selection of inexpensive but good half gallon and gallon table wines to enhance your dining. NHS Cagers Keep Winning

By Bob Evanski

The North High Green and Gold snatched two more wins last week from the victory tree as they maintained their perfect no-loss record in basketball action.

North made it 10 wins in a row Tuesday, January 18, when they clubbed Fraser, 66-50. Pacing the triumph was senior center, Bob Brown, who hit for 22 points. Brown went into the game with a 27-point scoring average and three 30-point games to his credit.

Hot shooting guard, Dave Beyer, added 18 points, two above his average. Brian Patmon had seven assists.

The Norsemen outscored Fraser, 19-10, in the second quarter, and raced to a 33-22 halftime lead which was never relinquished.

Then on Friday, January 21, Norsemen fans were treated to more of the same when the Lancers of L'Anse Creuse were trounced, 69-46.

The one-two scoring punch of Brown and Beyer was once again the deciding factor as they netted 24 and 22 points, respectively. Others playing notably well were forwards Doug Langs and Bill Mestdag. Langs, as always, was a strong rebounder at his own end but also picked up some key buckets following his attack on the offensive boards. Meanwhile, Mestdag had a steady game playing for the injured Jim Ziemiacki.

The game was close throughout the first quarter and partly into the second before North went 10 points ahead. The Norsemen simply out ran the Lancers from this point and eventually cruised to a 50-35 advantage at halftime.

Coach Ray Ritter's squad, who were ranked number one in the Metro East Area by the "Detroit News" last week, now claim a 6-0 record in the Bi-County League and 11-0 overall.

They face South Lake Friday, January 28, in an away game beginning at 8 p.m.

Young Skaters Join Tourney

Coach Lyle Heavner's hockey Sentries beat the Comets, 5-4, on Sunday, January 25 at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink to capture the honor of being the local representative to the Squirt House Division District Tournament February 5-13 at the Warren Arena.

Encouraged by a fine effort by goalie Matt Spatafora, the Sentries rallied several times to come from behind and fought ahead on a goal by Bobby Rogers with 1:28 left in the final period. Goalie Spatafora received an assist on the Sentries' third goal.

Members of the victorious Sentries include Mark Blake, William Bock, John Bourget, Chris Clogg and Marc Cormier.

More are Joey Cueter, Steve Harris, Brad Heavner, Bobby Higby, Stan Jelic, Chris Murray, Nicholas Raffail, Bob Rogers, Matt Spatafora and Robert Young. They are coached by Mr. Heavner and Pierre Cormier and are managed by John Young.

The Sentries are sponsored by Radke's Hardware and Hockey Center.

Woods Seeks Meeting With Shores on Flooding

A feasibility report relating to flooding conditions in several areas of The Woods may be considered by the council at its regular meeting Monday, February 7, reported City Administrator Chester E. Petersen last week.

Originally scheduled to be viewed at the Monday, January 17, meeting, (and earlier ones for that matter), the completion of the report has been delayed, most recently because of City Engineer Larry Pate's illness.

In relation to this, the council on the 17th received a letter from M. J. Messerschmidt, of Van K drive, which is one of the thoroughfares, (along with Perrien place), which was strongly affected by the heavy flooding late last July.

Mr. Messerschmidt sought an updated report from city officials in relation to the area which borders The Shores. Early last August the council sent a resolution to the Village in relation to rain water runoff problems experienced by Van K and Perrien place citizens.

The resolution indicated that the problems stem from an apparent difference in grade level between developed lots and lots in the process of being developed in The Shores.

In an attempt to reach a conclusion in this matter, another resolution was drafted and approved by the council to send along to The Shores.

Citing the problems experienced by Van K and Perrien place residents during the spring runoff and heavy rainfall, the resolution notes such problems, particularly in rear yards abutting The Shores, appear to be caused in part by a lack of sufficient drainage in areas developed and under development in The Shores.

As a result, the Woods Council solicits the concern and cooperation of Village trustees to assist in alleviating the problem if possible.

The resolution also says that the council requests the trustees "to initiate an immediate investigation, as previously requested, into such flooding problems as allegedly caused by the development of residential property" within the Village.

It requests that proper action be taken to require the developer of such property to provide adequate rear yard drainage and grading in order to prevent any storm water runoff from entering properties located within The Woods.

Mr. Catlin said he feels the problems could be cleared up by spring, while citing his hope for a spirit of cooperation with Shores officials over this matter. He's also scheduled to set up a meeting between both communities to explore the situation.

He said the overall problem is two-fold. First, Mr. Pate is exploring sewer relief to lower pressure in the system, and second, the water runoff problems from lots in the Village.

In response, Shores Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jeffers said that he and Mr. Petersen have talked about the problems, and when the latest resolution is received, the trustees will be apprised of it.

Mr. Jeffers indicated that the lots in question have rear yard drainage.

In a final note, Mr. Pate's report also is scheduled to give some attention to flooding problems in the areas of Bournemouth, Raymond and Linville.

Declines on Horizon

istration has reduced the teaching staff by about 140 during the decade, they have kept all 15 schools open and intend to do so at least through the 1977-78 year, according to a recent Board of Education decision.

Further reductions in staff due to the enrollment declines will allow an average $200,000 savings a year, Superintendent Dr. William Coats said.

At the present time there are 15 vacant rooms in the system's three middle schools and Mr. Sienkiewicz said one or two rooms a building are not being used this semester in five of the elementary schools.

There are no unused classrooms in the high schools, he said.

The administration has made use of the student decline to provide space for community agencies such as the Family Life Education Council and Environmental Action Now; expanded special education programs within the system; and the removal of art and music teachers off wheels and giving them classrooms of their own, Mr. Sienkiewicz said. "The decline has given us a chance to improve some programs, especially art and music, and to eliminate some sub-standard classroom use," he explained.

At a recent Board of Education meeting, Board President Robert Warner explained the time just isn't right for closing any buildings down.

In a community like Grosse Pointe with almost no undeveloped land, the decision to sell a school will be an irrevocable one," Mr. Warner said. "We've got to be absolutely sure that we'll never have any need for the facility again, and at this point in time we just can't say that."

Closing a school, but not selling it, would save the system $90,000, Dr. Coats said. The savings would be more than offset by the addition of several hundred thousand dollars in transportation costs that would be incurred, he added.

Other highlights of the report are:

- The total population of The Pointe has decreased by 2,782, (more than four percent), since 1973. All municipalities except The Shores, which gained 14, have lower populations with the loss greatest in The Woods, (930), The Park, (548), and The Farms, (548).

- There was a loss of 2,492 children, ages birth through 19 years since 1973. The greatest losses were in the zero-four age group, (451), the five-11 age group, (932), and the 18-19 age group, (117).

- Public school attendance increased to 76 percent as compared to 73.6 percent in 1973. Parochial school enrollment dropped from 18.3 percent in 1973 to 16.7 percent this year. Private school attendance increased from 6.6 percent in 1973 to 7.3 percent in 1976.

Woods Views New Program

A recreational program for Woods senior citizens is currently being reviewed by City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, and should be before the council for its consideration on Monday, February 7.

This proposal, which already has been considered by the Citizens Recreation Commission at its Tuesday, January 11, meeting, was given the green light by the council on December 6 in conjunction with the Senior Citizens Commission, Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann and Mr. Petersen.

The council originally allocated $1,500 with this amount being included in the present 1976-77 fiscal year budget, (which ends June 30).

However, that amount has been cut based upon a commission request approved by the council on Monday, January 17. At that time, the commission asked that its budget be increased by $200 to cover future expenditures so that figure was removed from the proposed recreation program, making the total $1,300.

Recommendations being considered include budgeting money for the use of two city-owned buses for a variety of activities, i.e., transportation to various events, setting aside funds for the rental of a hall to hold various functions and making monies available to pay instructors for such activities as square dancing and physical fitness.

Irene Sutton, commission chairman, said last week, "I hope it, (the program), goes through inasmuch as we've got it as far as we have."

GPWPOA Nixes Offer

advantage to agree to a multi-year pact under the system used by the city and that, in fact, it would be better to go year by year.

While feeling the negative aspects of the proposal outweighed the positive, the officer cited some plus factors including the opportunity to cash in accumulated sick days and the fact that no reference was made to a residency requirement for officers, (a previous concern).

As for the appearance of GPWPOA members at the council meeting, Officer DeVine termed this a "fact-finding" session, while questioning why arbitration is necessary when Shores officers have "done well." (The Shores Council last November approved a one-year contract with the Grosse Pointe Shores Public Safety Officers Assoc.).

The officer said The Shores' pact has been a motivating factor from the perspective of association members for the basis of comparison, (both departments are public safety), but "we're not locked in to them."

Meanwhile, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said he had no comment on the association's vote, indicating both sides will proceed to arbitrate their differences and await the arbitration panel's decision.

When asked for his thoughts on the GPWPOA's intention to "come before the council," Mr. Petersen said, "I received their request to be placed on the agenda. Other than that I have no comment."

Saying he hoped the association would ratify the proposal at its meeting, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos stated he understood that the offer was as good or better than that received by departments in the other Pointes.

"They will be permitted to address the council, air their concerns and indicate to the council what they want. But we will not be negotiating at a council level," he said.

In an attempt to clarify any misunderstandings, Mr. Pinkos indicated the council wants to be absolutely sure what the GPWPOA's position is and vice-versa. If an impasse remains, then it will be arbitration.

The mayor added that the council has given Mr. Petersen specific guidelines in the area of negotiations and when they've been reached, to go no further.

Still, he felt there may have been some breakdown in communications between the council and the association along the way and, if so, that it might be cleared up at the meeting.

GPW Family Denied Usage of Paved Parking Area

By George Polgar Jr.

Acting under an emergency ordinance enacted last year which prohibits the parking of motor vehicles on the lawns in front of residential homes, the Woods Council denied a Brys drive family the right to use a paved parking area in front of their home.

Pat and Bob Shefferly appeared before the council during a public hearing at its regular meeting Monday, January 17, to ask that they be allowed to use a paved parking area in front of their home even though the arrangement is prohibited by a local ordinance.

When the measure was adopted in December, to curb the parking practices of a Roslyn road household, provisions were made to allow for exceptions.

According to the wording of the ordinance, the council could decide to allow the construction or maintenance of non-conforming parking areas if it was not considered detrimental to the neighborhood.

Immediate neighbors of the Shefferlys were notified of the hearing and some showed up to express their disapproval of the front yard parking area that was constructed last year, before the passage of the law, at a cost of over $1,000.

The strongest complaints came from the Shefferly's next door neighbor, George Loersch, who complained that their parking arrangement was unsightly, dangerous and noisy.

"The place looks like the city dump," said Mr. Loersch. "They've got a wall of mud and concrete dumped on one side. They park their cars so one of them is always hanging over the sidewalk. He, (Bob Shefferly), starts three cars every morning at five right outside my window."

Other neighbors questioned the safety of having cars parked next to the sidewalk and expressed concern that the Shefferlys' parking lot brought down the value of their homes.

Some contradicted Mr. Loersch's complaint that the mud and concrete wall constructed alongside the parking area looked like "a city dump."

Louise C. Reese questioned the desirability of having such a parking lot in a residential neighborhood but said that the Shefferlys had done a nice job on the wall and the landscaping.

The question of the original authorization to build the parking lot was raised and it turned out that the Shefferlys had been in touch with Building Inspector Earl Wakely to inquire whether there were any restrictions against putting in such a lot.

Mr. Wakely told them there was no restriction but he strongly advised against going ahead with their plans. Mrs. Shefferly denied that he had given them any warning.

After all complaints were aired, Mrs. Shefferly presented her case. She attempted to show that the parking lot had been constructed to overcome a special parking problem.

"We have a very narrow drive and there is about one car length when a car is wedged between our house and Mr. Loersch's fence. If there was ever an emergency and someone got stuck in a car in that spot, there is no way to get out," Mrs. Shefferly explained.

She went on to note that the reason they do not use their two-car garage and the parking area in the back is because it is too difficult to pull through the driveway. They also have a stalled car in the back now which they cannot have repaired because a tow truck cannot fit through.

Council members asked the Shefferlys why they could not live with the same narrow drive that other residents in that area live with, and the response was that there were no other properties with the same conditions. At least four members of the council were not convinced.

When the issue came to a vote the council decided 4-3 to deny the Shefferlys the continued use of their entire front yard lot. They may still park on a portion of the paved surface as long as their cars do not take up more than 30 percent of the front yard.

The council has no power to make the Shefferlys take out the pavement they installed at considerable expense but they can no longer use it for parking. If they do, the police will ticket them.

Mrs. Shefferly told the council she planned to seek legal recourse to get around their ruling.

Farms Officer Hurt in Scuffle

One policeman was injured and three Pointe youths were arrested in the assault and battery of a Farms officer on Sunday morning, January 23.

Currently released on $100 bond, and charged with the assault and battery of a police officer, is Martin Dennis McMillan, 19, of 1000 Devonshire road.

Charged with resisting arrest is George Edward Daudlin, 20, of 15990 East Jefferson avenue, who's also released on a $25 bond and charged with loitering and disorderly conduct is John Charles Leonard, 19, of 581 Rivard boulevard.

Injured in the fracas after being kicked in the face is Farms Patrolman Gerald Deburghgraeve.

According to police, Officer Deburghgraeve and his partner, Patrolman Donald Pilon, were patrolling east on Mack avenue, near Kerby road, when they passed the subjects. The officers reported that the three youths shouted obscenities at them.

Pulling into a nearby alley, the officers asked what the trouble was, but allegedly received more obscenities. The officers reported the youths appeared to be intoxicated.

When asked for their ID's, the patrolmen said Daudlin replied that he didn't have to show anything. When Officer Deburghgraeve opened the car door to exit, Daudlin allegedly claimed the door injured him and he would sue.

Asked again for his ID,

Daudlin refused. He also refused to go to the police station if arrested. When Officer Deburghgraeve attempted to prevent the subject from leaving, Daudlin allegedly began pushing and kicking.

The two officers wrestled the subject to the ground, and while Officer Deburghgraeve tried to put handcuffs on Daudlin, McMillan allegedly kicked him in the face.

The patrolman was knocked face down onto the pavement, and McMillan reportedly fled east on Mack avenue.

Daudlin was handcuffed and placed in the scout car, while Leonard was placed in a back-up City car driven by Officers Arthur Maes and Cpl. George Brackx.

Officer Deburghgraeve was transported to Saint John hospital where he was treated for lacerations, a concussion and was given a tetanus shot for cuts on his hands. He also had sutures taken on the bridge of his nose.

McMillan was later arrested by Woods Officer John Harwood.

Farms Police Chief Robert K. Ferber said he was "very sad about what happened, but glad that Officer Deburghgraeve wasn't hurt any worse. It could have been very bad if he had been struck in the eyes or temple."

A court date is pending for the three suspects.

An optimist is a man who is as enthusiastic about his garden in July as he was in January.

'77 Hairfashions Previewed at Jacobson's

There are no options with hair styles this year—you've just got to dress it up.

That's the word from New York based John Chadwick, director of fashion education for the salons of Seligman & Latz Inc., located in specialty stores across the nation.

Mr. Chadwick was in Grosse Pointe at the invitation of Jacobson's earlier this month, showing the newest ways to doll-up last season's soft, carefree styles with knots, braids and dazzling hair ornaments.

Chignons—two or three at a time, knotted over the temple, crown or nape of the neck and ornamented with tortoise shell combs or colorful flowers—will be best for evening and are the main ingredient of the Chadwick style collection.

Jacobson's own style team, from stores across the state, added their own versions of next year's look at the January 17 press preview held in Jacobson's Pointe store.

They featured a nostalgic return to 1940's waves around the face and frizzy permanent curls for fine hair as well as the Choirboy, a longer, fuller and slightly flipped remake of 1976's popular beehive.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

In previous columns I have devoted space to an explanation of the major components of the school system's recently-adopted Philosophy Statement. This week I wish to discuss Cultural Development, the sixth of the seven major topics treated in our revised statement.

Once again in attempting to determine the meaning of this component of our statement, we must define terms. For our purposes, culture means "the act of developing by education, discipline or training" or "the enlightenment and refinement of taste acquired by intellectual and artistic training."

Although the fine arts cluster of music and art immediately comes to mind, Cultural Development has broader ramifications for our curriculum and extra-curricular programs.

Considering again this definition, note that we are dealing with the enlightenment and refinement of taste acquired by intellectual and artistic training and by cultural awareness. I believe this is a fairly comprehensive approach.

In our language program we attempt, after having provided students with the basic tools, to provide instruction in poetry, in the essay, the "fine arts" of the language program. After we see our students master the decoding of letters and their reproduction, we lead them to a step beyond mere reading to that body of learning called "literature."

And so it goes through each subject of the curriculum.

Of course, it is obvious that the school system's role in Cultural Development is not limited to the formal curriculum and to those activities confined to the daily schedule. Plays, concerts, creative writing competitions, yearbooks, newspapers, debates, art exhibits and other activities are a means of permitting students to display their talents above and beyond their grasp of the basic curriculum.

Even this is not the complete story of the component of Cultural Development as one of our system's goals. Another important application of it falls in the general area of Value Education.

We strive through as many means available to enable our students to have an awareness of, and an appreciation of, the contributions of the broad range of ethnic and cultural groups that comprise our country and the world.

In addition, we endeavor to have our students appreciate the basic, traditional cultural beliefs of our nation.

Readers will undoubtedly agree with me that a student's Cultural Development is a complex process which involves the schools and the community-at-large.

One View from the Capitol

By William R. Bryant Jr.

The 1977 legislative session has begun in earnest starting this week.

House Speaker Bobby Crim, top Democratic majority leader in the legislature, has warned he does not believe the Governor's proposed budget for the next fiscal year can be funded without a general tax increase even though the Governor opposes such an increase.

I oppose any income or business tax increase to increase revenues for state programs. As we emerge from the recession, the state revenue picture is brightening and we can, and must, live within projected revenues from present tax rates.

In my own view the top broad legislative priority this session should be obvious. It is to revise our juvenile and criminal laws to provide certainty of punishment for those guilty of violent crimes.

Further, we must revise the parole laws to stop early release of dangerous criminals and, perhaps most importantly, step up prosecution of repeat offenders and career criminals.

There should be three top legislative priorities relating to the business sector. They are (1) amendment of the Single Business Tax to provide relief for small and labor intensive business; (2) reform of the Worker's Compensation law to eliminate major abuses and to reduce cost; and (3), legislation to relieve the critical situation in product liability insurance costs.

It promises to be a busy session of the legislature.

As we start this new session let me again call on you, my constituents, to provide me with your ideas, your comments and your criticisms.

Please feel free to call or write me on any matter or problem relating to state government. To write me simply address your letter to me, State Capitol, Lansing 48909.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

The choice among house types and among individual examples of each is really quite complex. Usually single family houses offer the most privacy. Duplexes and row houses are more private, than let say, apartment houses. Many people prefer the sense of a small private world, which is possible in a well designed and well maintained house. They also believe that separate houses are better places for children. What does your family prefer? Before you do any serious house-hunting, sit down together and decide what you feel would be essential to good housing for you as a family unit.

Dependable professional service in all phases of real estate is offered at GROSSE POINTE REAL ESTATE CO., 20087 Mack Ave., Grosse Pointe Woods, 882-0087. Our professional representatives give personalized service to buyers and sellers alike. If you are looking for property in this area visit our office and check our selected listings. After you find the one that best suits your needs we will help you obtain financing. Feel free to ask us any questions you may have about real estate in general. Open: Mon.-Sat. 9-5, Sun. noon-5, 24 hour answering service.

Club's Board Initiates New Seniors' Programs

New transportation and communication programs for the Neighborhood Club's senior citizens group, the Village Club, were approved by the club's board of trustees at its Thursday, January 20, meeting, announced John Bruce, executive director, in a news release.

Details for the program are scheduled to be worked out by Monday, February 7, so Village Club members will be provided transportation to the area's Food and Nutrition Program site housed in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue.

This effort on the club's part is an outgrowth of several meetings between club officials, site director Mary Ale and aide Diane Heavner to work out plans where Village Club seniors can take part in the noon hour meal and socialization at the church and citizens from the site can utilize club facilities.

Tentative plans call for interested Village members to call the nutrition site at 886-4532 between 10 a.m.-2 p.m. in order to make reservations for a seat on the van, which seats 15.

Site directors will coordinate the reservations along with their meal planning, while members will be asked to call a week in advance, so that transportation, activity and meal plans can be made. Plans call for various pickup sites in each of the Pointes for Village Club members. Pointe school district residents who are not currently members of the Village Club can call 885-4600 for information. Annual Neighborhood Club membership dues are $5.

In order to allow for increased flexibility in meal availability, Mrs. Ale requests that individuals who registered but cannot attend on a particular day call to cancel their reservation. This will allow other individuals an opportunity to utilize unused meal reservations.

Meanwhile, Mr. Bruce stressed that Village Club members can attend the site to participate in the programs only or can choose to also partake in the noon meal. The meals are provided through a federally funded nutrition program and seniors may donate 50 cents for the meal.

Any growth of the program will benefit other seniors, because one meal for each 15 served can be sent to a homebound individual.

In addition to providing transportation to and from the activity-meal center, the Neighborhood Club will help deliver meals to homebound residents.

The club's board approved this service for its Village Club participants for the period through May 1, at which time it will be evaluated and perhaps extended through the summer.

Mr. Bruce stressed that this is only an interim solution to the transportation needs of Pointe senior citizens. In the long run he feels that serious consideration needs to be given to some type of privately or municipally-sponsored transportation system shared by all Pointe communities.

A second major program receiving approval from the club's board is the development of a community-wide monthly newsletter.

Jon Austin, club senior citizens director, will contact various senior citizen groups to develop a mail list and to mold plans to share information for the benefit of all older residents.

As part of this information gathering project, Mr. Austin also would like to work with local senior citizen groups and local city administrators to develop a questionnaire and a comprehensive Pointe senior citizen mail listing.

The Woods Senior Citizens Commission has already compiled such a list for its community.

"It's hoped these two new projects will dovetail with the Neighborhood Club's previous commitment to the food and nutrition program site directors to develop cooperative recreation programs, to supplement each others activities and to cooperate in areas of general service for community residents," said Mr. Bruce.

In relaying the decisions of the club's board to extend a helping hand, he emphasized that the needs of senior citizens are just beginning to be realized.

"A great deal of education, cooperation, assistance and sacrifice will be needed on the part of Pointe organizations, governments and individuals if we are to meet the needs of our senior residents who have given so much to us."

"The quality of life in our community will only be maintained if all of our diverse interests are recognized and we work together to meet the needs of all of our citizens," stated Mr. Bruce.

"Grosse Pointe has a history of rising to meet the needs of the total community. We have fine schools, excellent parks, efficient public safety protection and extensive recreation services."

"Yet, we will only be able to maintain the high level of these services and answer the increasing service needs of our senior citizens who helped build this community if we are willing to work together to support all our community programs," he added.

In a final note, Mrs. Ale said an average of 100 citizens per day have been taking part in the nutrition program with 130 participating in square dancing on January 20.

Pleased over the consistent response, she noted, "We see people making friendships with the site turning out to be a meeting place."

She added seniors should be aware that the site will be closed the fourth Tuesday and Friday of both February and March because of a church activity.

Children Offer 'Wizard of Oz'

In spite of sub-zero weather, members of Grosse Pointe Children's Theater have been braving the elements to put the finishing touches on their Valentine package for the community, a magical trip over the rainbow to the Land of Oz.

This classic, "The Wizard of Oz" is guaranteed to warm the hearts of all families as they follow the yellow brick road with Dorothy as she dances her way through the Munchkinland, the Enchanted Forest and other magical places into the beautiful Emerald City.

Those lovable characters, the Scarecrow, Lion, and Tinman are part of the storyland package.

Dates and hours of the production are Fridays, February 11 and 18, at 8 p.m. and Saturdays, February 12 and 19, at 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

With a touch of her magical wand the Good Witch of the North will transform the Fries Auditorium into the Land of Oz where all six productions will be presented.

Tickets are reserved and may be purchased through the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, (881-7511).

Admission is $1.50 for students and $2 for adults for the matinees and $1.75 for students and $2.25 for adults for evening shows. Excursion fare for groups may be secured at a reduction by calling 886-1926. Special recognition will be given to "birthday people."

The entire production will be under the direction of Mrs. Sally Reynolds, who's assisted by Mrs. John Mazer, musical director. Members of the cast represent many schools and children range in age from seven-18.

Sue Brammer, who has been a member of Children's Theater for 10 years and who will be graduating in June from South High School, will play the lead role of Dorothy. Her role will be shared by Mary Helen Berg and Lisa Keegan.

John Wise and Joe Pellerito will be seen as the Scarecrow, and Tom Wisley and Dianne Millenbach as the Cowardly Lion. The role of the Tinman will be shared by Leo Babcock and Marie Trombley. Glinda, the good witch, will be brought to life by Teri Turpin.

Robin Lees and Martha Terry will be seen as the Wicked Witch with understudy, Sue Kappaz. Andy Vogel and Don Clark will enact the role of the Wizard. Sandy Caverly will play Auntie Em. Forty other youngsters will be seen as Munchkins and people of Oz.

HISTORIC CARS

Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin got together to hash out some controversial wartime issues in 1945 at Yalta in the Crimea. Among other things, their agreement, signed on February 11, 1945, brought the Soviet Union into war against Japan. As on many official trips, President Roosevelt took along his 1939 Lincoln convertible, the "Sunshine Special," on display at Greenfield Village.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur Woodford
Chief of Central Library

The recent TV special about Stonehenge and the other stone monuments of early Britain has sparked a renewed interest in the subject at our library.

Stonehenge, the ruins of a Stone Age monument situated on Salisbury Plain in southern England, is one of the most imposing and complex of the 40-50 prehistoric circular enclosures or "henge" monuments known in the British Isles.

Of the many books written about Stonehenge, the best known is probably Gerald Hawkins' STONEHENGE DECODED, (Doubleday), which was published in 1965.

It is the contention of astronomer-author Hawkins, after extensive computer analysis, that the circle of great stones on the Salisbury Plain—long believed to be an ancient religious monument—is in reality an astronomical observatory.

Although Dr. Hawkins' complex theory of Stonehenge's purpose stands at the heart of this fascinating book, he has also included an outline of what has been written about the monument—legends from early myths to the romanticisms of recent poets; theories of how it was built, including his own on how the huge stones were brought from Milford Haven in Wales; and guesses about its use.

Dr. Hawkins followed his first study with a book entitled BEYOND STONEHENGE, (Harper and Row), which was published in 1973. In this book Dr. Hawkins describes a number of study expeditions in several countries with sites containing astro-archaeological remains.

He discusses the possible astronomical use by the ancients of such sites as Machu Picchu, the shores of Lake Titicaca in Peru; geometric mounds in the U.S.; Mayan remains in Mexico; the statues on Easter Island; the pharaoh temples of Egypt; Stonehenge; and the megalithic remains in Scotland.

This is a fascinating account of an ancient man's knowledge of the sun and the stars written for the layman with a scientific bent.

An entirely different view of Stonehenge will be found in Patrick Crampton's STONEHENGE OF THE KINGS, (John Day), published in 1967. Contrary to Dr. Hawkins' thesis that Stonehenge was a type of prehistoric astronomical computer, Mr. Crampton argues that Stonehenge was the headquarters of a warrior society, a place of kings.

Based on new evidence this reconstruction places the mysterious site of Stonehenge in the context of Bronze Age culture and sea trade. The author's idea is so beguiling that one shares his candid regret at the way he is obliged to back it, "roughly an ounce of evidence to a ton of speculation."

Two new books have been added to our collection during the past year are Evan Hadingham's CIRCLES AND STANDING STONES, (Walker), and Aubrey Burl's THE STONE CIRCLES OF THE BRITISH ISLES, (Yale University Press).

Both of these books present objective views of the nearly 1,000 megalithic rings that still survive in the British Isles.

In his book, Mr. Hadingham explores the mysteries of the megalithic monuments of early Britain.

He answers such questions as: Who were the builders of the fantastic circles and rows of huge standing stones that abound in England, Scotland, Ireland and Brittany? What prodigious technology was applied—thousands of years before Stonehenge—to stand 100-ton boulders on end? How did early priest/astronomers master the mathematics to create megalithic alignments that predicted celestial events 50 and more years in the future?

Throughout this book the author offers his personal field observations augmented by his drawings, maps and excellent photographs.

IN THE STONE CIRCLES OF THE BRITISH ISLES, Mr. Burl first provides a hypothetical chronological framework for the circles and considers their origins and purpose, examining in particular their possible astronomical function.

He then discusses each regional grouping of circles, describing their architectural types and the finds from excavations. Special attention is paid to Stonehenge and Avebury, the two best known and most spectacular rings.

This book also includes a catalog which provides a complete list of stone circles, with details of their exact size, excavation, possible astronomical significance and major bibliographical references.

Over 50 diagrams and 36 photographs illustrate the variety and beauty of these magnificent monuments.

Cans Will Net More This Year

Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Co. has announced it will increase from 15 cents to 17 cents a pound the amount it pays for aluminum cans and other clean household aluminum.

The announcement was made by Harold L. Albrecht, president of Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Co. He cited projected results of the company's best volume year in 10 years and the fact that aluminum cans are becoming a more valuable commodity in the consumer recycling system as reasons for the pay increase.

"Each time we recycle aluminum we save 85 percent of the energy that would be required to make primary aluminum, and the cans can be recycled again and again," Mr. Albrecht said in a press release.

Pointe residents can sell aluminum at the Reynolds Mobile Recycling Truck, stationed at Eastland Shopping Center, lot five, from 10 a.m.-12 on Tuesdays.

Besides cans, citizens can recycle aluminum siding, gutters, storm door and window fixtures and lawn furniture tubing, if properly prepared. All items must be free of foreign materials and cut to lengths not exceeding three feet.

In 1975, Reynolds recycled about 1.8 billion cans and paid the public $13 million. They are now recycling almost 50 percent of the cans they manufacture and are working toward the day when they'll recycle 100 percent, according to Mr. Albrecht.

Nature is probably the greatest influence for the bulk of jewelry ideas, especially today. Even free form looks are actually inspired by nature, in its irregularity, since nature seldom duplicates with exacting similarity. Stoneware beads are individually crafted by young artists. Not only are these craftsmen talented, but their work represents the taste of the young population. Because stoneware work is all hand made, no two beads can be exactly alike. It is the same dissimilarity one discovers so often in nature.

VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, 881-4800, have been designers of fine jewelry since 1934. We do our own work and we are very favorably known throughout the area for our integrity and high degree of professional workmanship. ## A New President For Garden Center

Mrs. Clarence E. Maguire Accepts Gavel from Mrs. Arthur O. A. Schmidt at Annual Meeting; Honorary Membership Awarded to Marie Louise Anderson

The Grosse Pointe Garden Center has a new president, Mrs. Clarence E. Maguire, of Lochmoor boulevard, who accepted her gavel of office from Mrs. Arthur O. A. Schmidt, of Lakecrest lane, at the Garden Center's annual luncheon meeting last Friday, January 21, in Alger House of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

"Madame President" is no new title for Ginny Maguire. She has twice been president of her garden club. She was president of the Michigan Division of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, and is presently first vice-president of the national board of WNF&GA.

She is a past-president of the Women's Association of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and, in addition to serving as head of the Garden Club Council, has been active locally and nationally in "Keep America Beautiful."

Mrs. John N. Failing, Jr., chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of new officers. Elected to serve with Mrs. Maguire as first and second vice-presidents, respectively, were Mrs. Wesley R. Johnson and Mrs. David C. Lowe.

Mrs. Harold R. Smith is recording secretary, Mrs. Stanley F. Dolega assistant recording secretary. Mrs. John H. Carter is corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. Crawford Frost, Jr., assistant recording secretary.

Treasurer and assistant treasurer, respectively, are Mrs. J. Lane Donovan and Mrs. Daniel J. Clifford.

An Honorary Grosse Pointe Garden Center Membership was presented to Miss Marie Louise Anderson, in recognition of her complete and unswerving devotion to the Garden Center since its inception.

Single-handedly, Marie Louise — "Miss Grosse Pointe Garden Center" — has built up and maintained the Garden Center's membership of 1,000 people. She has manned the Garden Center Room at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial for 10 months of the year since time immemorial.

Miss Anderson served two terms as first president of the Grosse Pointe Garden Center, and has been membership chairman ever since.

A History of the Past Year, her own condensed version of all the annual reports, was presented by Mary Lou Frost, and Vicky (Mrs. Richard P., III), Joy reported on the Garden Center's beautiful Bicentennial Trial Garden.

The program ended with a fascinating slide presentation by Dr. Woodburn O. Ross on "Egypt — Its Mystery and Majesty," covering the Nile banks, (pyramids, tombs and temples), from Cairo to Assuan.

Chairmen of arrangements for the day were Mesdames Dolega and Lowe.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allan Neef, of Stonehurst road, the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vail, of Schenectady, N.Y.

Pearled, re-embroidered Alecon lace detailed the cuffs and bodice and circled the cathedral train of the ivory satin bridal gown.

Offer Italian Opera Course

John Guinn, classical music critic for the "Detroit Free Press," will teach a course titled "A Music Critic Looks at Italian Opera," under auspices of the Community Services Office of Wayne County Community College, beginning Monday, February 7, and continuing for eight Mondays from 7 to 9 o'clock at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The course is open to anyone interested in learning about Italian opera. "No previous knowledge of opera is required," stressed Guinn, "and no musical background is needed."

"As a matter of fact, ignorance of the subject matter is perhaps the best prerequisite."

By means of recordings, performances and lecture-discussion, Guinn will explore operas by Verdi, Puccini, Bellini, Donizetti, Mozart and Rossini.

The operas will be examined in pairs, with excerpts from each set listened to and discussed. In addition, one complete opera, (Puccini's "Tosca"), will be examined.

Guinn holds a Masters degree in music from the University of Notre Dame, and served as chairman of the Music Department at the University of Detroit from 1972 to 1975.

A pianist, organist, composer and conductor, he is director of music for Our Lady Star of the Sea parish, and serves on the music advisory panel of the Michigan Council for the Arts.

Tuition for the course is $25. Registration takes place at the first class meeting.

A Little Morning Music

"Music For A While" is a new concept — a morning concert series performed by professional, Detroit-area musicians.

"Music For A While" is also the name of a song by Henry Purcell, and that song will, of course, be sung, (by soprano Nancy Zanolli-vonOeyen, of Detroit, accompanied by Pointer Helen Wu), at the first "Music For A While" concert.

It's set for Thursday, February 10, at 10 o'clock in the third floor music room of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. Elevator service and parking are available at the rear of the church. Admission is $2.

The vonOeyen-Wu duo will perform six songs by Poulenc as well as the group's Purcell theme song. The program will continue with a sonata for violin and piano by Veracini, performed by Pointers Barbara Porbe and Louise Gall.

Alice Ellison and Laurie Lindemulder, another Pointe pair, will play a piano duet, Mozart's "Fantasie," No. 1, K.594.

The concert closes with a trio in D Minor by Mendelssohn, played by Pointer Betty Peterson, violinist, and Detroiters Don Trout, cellist, and Marjorie Connell-Strimple, pianist.

The next program in the series is scheduled for March 3. Additional information on "Music For (Continued on Page 26)

Married in July

In Saint James Lutheran Church Saturday, July 24, SUSAN ELIZABETH KURTH became the bride of MARK LAWRENCE MONTEROSSO. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Kurth, Jr., of Hollywood avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence P. Monterosso, of Harper Woods.

DSO Features Italian Pianist

Italian pianist Michele Campanella will make a return engagement with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at a pair of concerts Thursday and Friday evening, January 27 and 28, at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

The young musician, who first appeared with the DSO in April of 1974, will perform Ravel's Concerto for the Left Hand in a program devoted entirely to music of Ravel and conducted by DSO music director Aldo Ceccato.

Other works include the "Pavane pour une infante defunte," "La valse" and the famous "Bolero" by Maurice Ravel.

These pieces represent a change of program from the concerts as originally announced: the Bartok Concerto for Orchestra will now be performed at the concerts of March 4, 5 and 6.

Tomorrow evening's concert is the third in this season's Zodiac series, and includes a special pre-concert Prelude at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium.

This week's Zodiac Prelude features soloist Michele Campanella in a short piano recital. Mr. Campanella will play three sonatas of Domenico Scarlatti, (K. 486, K. 481 and K. 427), three studies from Muzio Clementi's "Gradus ad Parnassum," (Nos. 24, 80 and 65), Franz Liszt's concert paraphrase of the "Spinning Chorus" from Wagner's opera "Der Fliegende Hollander" and Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2.

Michele Campanella was born in Naples in 1947. He studied at the Conservatorio di San Pietro a Majella under Vincenzo Vitale, continuing at the same time classical studies at the Faculty of Philosophy. In 1968 he was the youngest Casella International Piano contestant and the first Italian ever to win the Alfredo Competition of the Accademia Musicale Napolitana. He has since concertized widely all over Europe and America, including appearances with the orchestras of Detroit, Cincinnati, San Francisco and Cleveland, where he made his United States debut with Aldo Ceccato in the summer of 1973.

He has made several recordings for the Philips label and is now planning other recordings with the British firm PVE. Tickets for Thursday evening's concert, priced from $4 to $9, are available at the Ford Auditorium box office, all Hudson's and Montgomery Ward ticket outlets. A limited number of $2 tickets for students and senior citizens are available at the Box Office starting at 8 o'clock this evening. Tickets for Friday's Zodiac concert, also available at the box office, Hudson's and Ward's, are priced from $4 to $7, (half-price for students).

Recorded information on all forthcoming DSO concerts is available 24 hours a day by calling 961-7017.

Monterosso-Kurth Vows Exchanged

Alencon Lace and Pearls Accent Bride's Ivory Chiffon Gown; Her Attendants Wear Peach Polyester Knits

At home in Roslyn road are Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lawrence Monterosso, who vacationed in Florida after their wedding Saturday, July 24, in Saint James Lutheran Church, and a reception at Hillcrest Country Club.

Mrs. Monterosso is the former Susan Elizabeth Kurth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Kurth, Jr., of Hollywood avenue. Mr. Monterosso is the son of the Lawrence P. Monterossos, of Hawthorne road, Harper Woods.

For the 5 o'clock rites at which The Reverend George M. Scheller presided, the bride chose a gown of ivory chiffon accented with Alencon lace and pearls, styled with full chiffon sleeves ending in deep cuffs of lace and pearls, and a Watteau train.

A matching lace and pearl Juliet cap held her cathedral length veil. She carried an arrangement of dried flowers with ivory silk roses and eucalyptus leaves.

She was attended by her sister, Barbara Anne Kurth, as honor maid, and bridesmaids Mrs. Thomas W. Harrington, the bridegroom's sister, Susan Jane Hoffman, of Portage, a sorority sister, Deborah Jean Maxey, a cousin, and Jeannine Diane Timm.

Their long, peach polyester knits, U-necked and cap-sleeved, featured knotted sash belts and slightly gathered skirts. They carried bouquets of peach, yellow and apple green dried and silk flowers.

Flower girl Stephanie Ann Harrington, the bridegroom's niece, carried a small wicker basket filled with peach, yellow and apple green dried and silk flowers. The puff sleeves and high waist of her long, polyester knit peach print were trimmed with lace and matching ribbon.

Christopher Lyle Chamberlain came from East Lansing to serve as his fraternity brother's best man. In the usher corps were Roger Charles Johr, another fraternity brother, also from East Lansing, Michael Dennis Jennings, of Ann Arbor, the bridegroom's college roommate, Mr. Harrington and James Arthur Fenton. The mother of the bride wore floor length chiffon printed in shades of orange, peach, green, blue and white, self-belted and styled with full, raglan sleeves. She pinned peach silk roses and lilies of the valley to her purse.

The bridegroom's mother selected an open-collared, long-sleeved, floor length shirtwaist of cocoa brown overlaid with off-white lace, and a cocoa and cream silk rose corsage.

Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's uncle, Donald Monterosso, of Lighthouse Point, Fla., the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Worth Helms, of Garden City, S.C., and the bride's cousin, Mrs. Jack Steed, of Mesquite, Tex.

Mrs. Allen Dickinson, the bride's cousin, was soloist during the ceremony.

Cathy Mason Becomes a Female 'First' at MSU

By Barbara Hughes

Catherine Mason, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Mason, of Buckingham road, has been elected first woman president of a co-ed dormitory Senate at Michigan State University. The Senate is the governing board of each residence hall on campus.

Cathy was graduated from St. Mary's of Redford Catholic High School, where she belonged to the ski and tennis clubs and was on the baseball, basketball and swim teams.

Her responsibilities as Senate president of Shaw Hall take up about 20 hours a week in paperwork and time talking with people about their ideas for the dorm.

Cathy explains that the Senate of each dormitory at Michigan State levies a tax of 1.50 a term which is used to purchase sports equipment, library books, magazines and movies which are made available to all residents.

The Senate also works with management to allocate space for public use such as lounges, party rooms and television rooms.

The Senate is involved in developing relations between MSU and the community by inviting outside service groups into Shaw to sponsor holiday parties and activities for underprivileged children.

Under Miss Mason's leadership, a new dorm damage policy has been worked out for Shaw Hall. A representative from each floor participates in evaluating damage and judging what restitution will be made.

Other issues Cathy and the Senate are working on include planning the dorm's budget, implementing improvements for the Black Culture room and establishing a dorm library.

Cathy says the main difficulty that she has experienced with her new position is trying to juggle its responsibilities with classes and her part-time job in the Shaw cafeteria. She decided to run for Senate president because she wanted to get involved in the dorm and see some changes made.

Cathy is a sophomore Business major. "A lot of people have told me that Business is a good place to be right now," she explains. "I have an eye on Law School in the future, but in undergraduate programs, business majors are the only ones who seem to feel they have really secure chances of getting good jobs."

Miss Mason adds that being Senate president is giving her valuable experience in working with people and teaching her how to compromise.

Present Kipnis Mime Theatre

The Claude Kipnis Mime Theatre pays its first visit to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra during a pair of Young People's Concerts this Saturday, January 29, at 11 and 2 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

Mr. Kipnis and his company, cited as "one of the finest entertainments to be found anywhere today," will perform two pantomimes with the DSO under the direction of assistant conductor Philip Greenberg.

The productions are "The Sorcerer's Apprentice," to the well known music of Paul Dukas, and "Le Boeuf sur le Toit," an improbable circus created to music of Darius Milhaud.

The strictly musical works on the program include the overture to Rossini's "William Tell" and two more circus-pieces: Stravinsky's "Circus Polka" and Fucik's "Entrance of the Gladiators," made famous by the Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey band.

Claude Kipnis has been hailed by the New York press as "a giant in contemporary theatre."

He first came to the United States in 1966 for a nine-week engagement at New York's Theatre de Lys; since then he and his company have completed consecutive national tours including appearances at Chicago's Ravinia Festival, returning this past summer for the third time to the Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival.

Mr. Kipnis and his company also had the honor of appearing at the White House for President Ford.

The company has appeared with symphony orchestras throughout the country, with Mr. Kipnis being requested to stage and create works for the New York Philharmonic, The Little Orchestra of Lincoln Center and a special Stravinsky Celebration sponsored by Sarah Caldwell and the Boston Opera Company.

Mr. Kipnis also served as director-in-residence with the Boston Opera Company, then as artist-in-residence at the University of Illinois, (Champaign-Urbana).

He has been seen on major TV talk shows across the country, created special pro-

Rites in November For Mary Coleman

Reception at Country Club Follows Ceremony in Our Lady Star of the Sea at Which She Becomes Bride of Richard R. Scarfone

In her mother's wedding gown of candlelight satin, rosepointe lace defining a U-shaped neckline and forming the crown which caught her bouffant veil, Mary Purdy Coleman was married Saturday, November 20, to Richard R. Scarfone.

Her cathedral train fell from a gathered bustle. She carried a cascade of stephanotis, white roses and baby's-breath.

The former Miss Coleman is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Coleman, of Webber place, who entertained at a reception at the Country Club of Detroit following the noon ceremony in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church.

The Reverend Fathers Ralph Barton, Hector Saulino and Eugene Sweeney presided at the rites.

Janet E. Coleman, honor maid for her sister, wore a long-sleeved frock of emerald green peau, ivory Venetian lace trimming her mandarin neckline and cuffs.

Bridesmaids, dressed identically, were Suzanne Scarfone Longo, Patricia Scarfone and Mary Scarfone. They wore wreaths of ivy and baby's-breath in their hair, and carried arm bouquets of gladioli, roses, baby's-breath and ivy.

Kristina Sieffert, the bride's niece, was flower girl.

Mr. Scarfone, son of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Scarfone, of Thorn Tree road, asked Louis Palombit, Jr., to act as best man. Guests were seated by Joseph T. Longo, Robert Scarfone and William Scarfone.

Multi-colored ribbon trimmed the bell sleeves and hem of the navy blue pleated chiffon gown selected by Mrs. Coleman for her daughter's wedding. Her flowers were cymbidium, orchids.

The bridegroom's mother chose mint green Qiana, long-sleeved and featuring a low V-neck with silver-bead fringe. She pinned gardenias to her purse.

The newlyweds vacationed in Pompano, Fla., and are at home in Grosse Pointe City.

The bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. Michael Coleman, came from their home in Scottsdale, Ariz., for the wedding.

Other out-of-town guests included Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Gerace, John Johnstone and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Purdy and Randy Purdy.

Performing in Eastern Michigan University's "Dance and Dancers in Progress" early in December was Pointer MARGARET FRANCE, an EMU Dance major.

By Tom Cavanagh
North High School freshmen cakers demolished Chippewa Valley, 73-28, on Friday, January 14.
The Norsemen came out with full-court pressure early to destroy the Chippewa Valley squad. North's bench had plenty of playing time throughout the second, third and fourth quarters. Brian Engel played an outstanding offensive game, shooting eight for 12 from the floor for 16 points.

But on Wednesday, January 19, Bishop Gallagher outlasted the North squad, 60-51.

The Norsemen came out tense in the first quarter and shot poorly. They soon settled down and broke back into the game with their excellent full-court press, plus impressive rebounding.

The game was lost at the free throw line as Bishop Gallagher shot a respectable 16 for 27 and North a poor three for seven.

Despite the loss, Bob Brown and Engel played superbly combining for 30 points, 16 and 14, respectively. Mike Koepsell had a fine game scoring 10 points and producing eight steals.

Center Offers Free Eye Tests

Threats to sight come in many forms including cataracts, diabetes, injuries and glaucoma.

In an effort to educate people in ways to preserve sight, the Friends of Bon Secours, the Detroit Institute of Ophthalmology and the Grosse Pointe Lions Club will present a Town Hall for Health at the War Memorial on Monday, January 31.

The two part program will include a lecture given at 7:30 p.m. by an ophthalmologist entitled "Vision Loss—Today's Major Causes." Admission to the lecture, which will examine the four major causes of blindness, is by ticket only.

Testing for glaucoma, one of the major causes of blindness, will be available from 12 noon-9 p.m. free of charge and without appointment.

This short and painless test, done by the ophthalmologists, can make the difference between the administration of sight-saving measures in the early stages of the disease, and loss of sight when glaucoma goes undetected.

Information and free tickets for the lecture are available by calling 353-1520.

Pointe Theater Sets Tryouts

Open casting for Grosse Pointe Theatre's Showcase Theatre production of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" will be held Wednesday-Thursday, February 2-3, in the Terrace Room of the Center at 8 p.m.

The play, which will be produced April 27-May 1, is Dale Wasserman's adaptation of Ken Kesey's novel of life in a mental hospital in the Pacific Northwest.

A chief difference between the play and the Oscar-winning film is the key stage role of Chief Bromden, the apparently mute Indian whose moving monologues mold the play together.

Strong performers also are needed for the other 18 main roles, including main characters Randle McMurphy and Nurse Ratched.

Psychic Expert To Visit PWP

The Grosse Pointe Chapter of Parents Without Partners, (PWP), will hold its next general meeting Friday, January 28, in the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, at 7:30 p.m.

Following the coffee and social hour, Dr. Dale Cottrell, a specialist in para-psychology, will speak on astral projection, life after death, pyromancy, auras, Atlantis, UFOs and the Bermuda Triangle.

Dr. Cottrell teaches at Macomb Community College and is faculty advisor for the Macomb Psychic Investigation Club. He and some of his students will give demonstrations of some psychic phenomena at the meeting.

All members and eligible prospective members, (divorced, separated, widows and widowers), are urged to attend.

An afterglow will be held following the meeting.

Jaycees Set Paper Drive

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees hope to collect 40 tons of newspaper in the community as part of a paper drive Sunday-Monday, February 13-14.

"Your support will be greatly appreciated. Because of such a large area, it would be impossible to cover the whole Grosse Pointe community but we will try to cover as many streets as possible," said Doug Coley.

If you have any large quantities of newspapers to be picked up, contact Mr. Coley at 526-0839.

All profits from the paper drive will go to the Burn Center in Ann Arbor.

The organization's collection trailer will be parked behind the DeFours Insurance Agency, 20369 Mack avenue.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the City Council of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms, Wayne County, Michigan, has authorized the execution of a full faith and credit general obligation Contract of Lease between the City of Grosse Pointe Farms and the City of Grosse Pointe Farms Building Authority. The Contract of Lease will provide, among other things, for the acquisition and construction of a parking facility, which facility will be leased by the City to the United States Postal Service. The said Contract of Lease will further provide that the City of Grosse Pointe Farms Building Authority will finance the acquisition and construction of said parking facility by the issuance of Building Authority Bonds pursuant to the provisions of Act 31, Public Acts of Michigan of 1948 (First Extra Session), as amended, in anticipation of the receipt of cash rental payments to be made by the City of Grosse Pointe Farms to the City of Grosse Pointe Farms Building Authority pursuant to said Contract of Lease. The maximum amount of bonds to be issued is $200,000.

FULL FAITH AND CREDIT AND TAXING POWER OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE FARMS WILL BE PLEDGED

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN, that in said Contract of Lease the City of Grosse Pointe Farms will obligate itself to make cash rental payments to the City of Grosse Pointe Farms Building Authority in amounts sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds to be issued by the City of Grosse Pointe Farms Building Authority and that the full faith and credit of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms will be pledged for the making of said cash rental payments. Pursuant to said pledge of its full faith and credit, the City of Grosse Pointe Farms will be obligated to levy such ad valorem taxes upon all taxable property in the City, without limitation as to rate or amount, as shall be necessary to make such cash rental payments. If the City, at the time prescribed by law for the making of its annual tax levy, shall have other funds on hand which have been set aside and earmarked for payment of its obligations for which a tax levy would otherwise have to be made, then the tax levy shall be reduced by the amount of such other funds. Such other funds may be raised from any lawful source such as the rental payments received by the City from the United States Postal Service. In addition to its obligation to make cash rental payments, the City of Grosse Pointe Farms will, in said Contract of Lease, agree to pay all costs and expenses of the parking facility and all expenses of the Authority incidental to the issuance and payment of the bonds to the extent such expenses are not payable from the proceeds of the bonds or by the United States Postal Service.

RIGHT TO PETITION FOR REFERENDUM

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN, that this notice is given to and for the benefit of the electors and taxpayers of the City, in order to inform them of the intention of the City to enter into the above described Contract of Lease and also to inform them of their right to petition for a referendum upon the question of entering into said Contract of Lease without a vote of the electors thereon, but the Contract of Lease shall not become effective until 45 days after publication of this notice. If, within said 45-day period, a petition for referendum requesting an election on the Contract of Lease signed by not less than 10% or 15,000 of the registered electors of the City, whichever is less, has been filed with the City Clerk, the Contract of Lease shall not become effective unless approved by a majority of the electors of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms voting thereon at a general or special election.

This notice is given by order of the City Council pursuant to Act 31, Public Acts of Michigan, 1948 (First Extra Session), as amended. Further information may be secured at the office of the undersigned City Clerk.

SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENTS, MAÏJA KARIKOSKI, FROM FINLAND, MARC BUDGE, FROM AUSTRALIA, AND EDNA PEREZ, FROM MEXICO.

By Susan McDonald

South High School's delegation of foreign exchange students is a varied one this year — geographically, at least, they couldn't come from more distant homelands.

There's 17-year-old Maïja Karikoski, who hails from the mid-sized industrial town of Jyväskylä, in Finland. It's located in the country's central plain, an area dotted with thousands of small lakes and a climate so similar to Michigan's she feels right at home here with the Gretchen Wilmoth family in Whittier road.

And, from the "quiet continent" of Australia, there's Marc Budge, 18, who's already in his first year of pre-medical school at the University of Queensland. He's a native of Brisbane, on Australia's east coast and he's getting an introduction to American homelife with the Bruce Sanders family of Yorkshire road.

And, finally, from the south is Edna Perez, from the ancient city of Jalapa, (Xalapa is its Aztec name), on the Gulf of Mexico in Veracruz. Sponsored here by the Rotary International, Edna will stay with three Pointe families during the year. She's now living with Dr. and Mrs. John Bradford and their family in Hamilton court.

Adjusted Easily Adjustment to U.S. life has been a breeze for all three, with the help of their American "families". Marc had an edge with the language—always the first hurdle for young travelers, but the snow and cold, which he is not used to, has put him off a bit.

He's finished with high school, but is certainly not bored with school at South. He's taking advantage of what he calls South's "well-rounded" curriculum with computer science and language classes he'd miss at home.

Snow was new to Edna too, but she's being much more adventurous about it. She's taken up skiing, skating and everything else that helps make a Michigan winter bearable—and she's loving it. Since, unlike Marc and Maïja, Edna will get some credit for her school work here, she's taking that seriously. Still, it's a breeze compared to the 11 classes a semester she must carry at home.

Call Classwork Easy All three agree that classwork for high school students is quite easy compared to home.

"It's simple; if you don't like math here, you just don't take it," says Maïja with surprise. And since she doesn't like math, she's substituted co-educational gym, and thinks it's great.

But, no matter how well they're enjoying themselves, there's always something to miss from home. "Sauna—you have no sauna here, it's the best sleeping pill in the world," says Maïja. And, according to her she needs some relaxation. The roughest thing for her to get used to in the U.S. is what she calls our "go, go, go" lifestyle.

No Time to Rest "At home, we do something and then we rest for a while before we do something else," she explains. "But here, it's one thing after another, never stopping. I just don't understand it."

Marc has been somewhat put-off by the same phenomena and obviously prefers the Australian way of doing things.

"Life just goes too fast here," he says. "Back home we look around at what everyone else is doing and then pick out what we like best. Here, you try to do everything."

Edna seems to be swept up with the pace herself, keeping a busy schedule of weekly luncheons and speaking engagements, (besides changing residences every few months), that are required by her Rotary International sponsorship.

She's very busy, "but I'm seeing a lot this way and meeting many people—probably more than I would if I were just doing it on my own."

It Can Be Difficult No matter how outgoing they are though, being the center of attention as they so often are during their first months here, can be difficult.

They all have a list of outlandish questions posed to them since their arrival. Maïja swears several students have wondered what language is spoken in Finland, (quick now, it's Finnish), and says some of her peers have been surprised to discover that she had seen an orange before coming here. It all leaves Maïja amazed at the lack of understanding of Europe that the U.S. students have.

There is more than a hint of chauvinism apparent in some of the queries too. Questions such as, "Do you have a television?" and "Does everyone in Mexico ride around on horses?" must hurt. But it's hard for Edna to stay offended for long.

They Take It In Stride "Everyone is so interested, they just keep asking and asking; they want to learn so much and they really catch on fast."

So they learn to take it in stride, and explain for the hundredth time, as Marc contends he has, that Australians do not keep kangaroos hopping around the house as pets.

Marc, more than the others, seems to enjoy all the questions. "Home" is his favorite subject, and it takes little prompting for him to speak of Australia's virtues for the traveler — from the Great Barrier Reef, just north of his home, where thousands of years of coral formation makes for a beautiful sight along hundreds of miles of coast; to the cultural center of Adelaide; to the amazing Ayers Rock, rising 350 meters out of the desert, right smack in the center of the continent.

That's The Purpose They all do a lot of explaining, but, after all, that is the purpose of their trips and the giant organizations that sponsor them.

Youth for Understanding, (sponsoring Maïja), American Field Service, (sponsoring Marc), and Rotary International, (sponsoring Edna), all share a common aim in their vast exchange programs. They hope to help people from different nations achieve an understanding of each other that can come only through sharing a year of each other's life.

It's also the purpose behind the committees and clubs on the local level that support the overseas trips. At South High it's the Adult Foreign Student Committee, made up of parents and students who have either been abroad or hosted a student in their home.

International Dinner One of the committee's major means of support is the annual foreign student scholarship fund raiser—the International Dinner—set for Wednesday, February 2, at 6:30 o'clock in the second floor cafeteria at South High. The cooks over at South may have a rough time coordinating a menu featuring the unlikely combination of Australian, Mexican and Finnish foods — but they must. It's traditional for the dinner to reflect a touch of home for each of South's exchange students, and it's guaranteed to be good.

Harriet Genburg, a native of Sweden herself, has been handed more imposing tasks in her years as Adult Committee catering chairman, and she's always come through to make the annual benefit dinner a fine one.

Club Will Serve Student members of South High's Foreign Exchange Club will be serving the dinner, which will be followed by a program of international music, presentations by Maïja, Edna and Marc and South students selected to go abroad this year.

It's also a good chance to get information on how to host an exchange student yourself.

Tickets for the dinner are $3.25 for adults and $2 for children 12 years and younger. They'll be on sale at the school on Monday or may be purchased from exchange club members. Advance reservations may be made by calling 885-6166 before January 31.

Just arrived at Peck & Peck, 16910 Kercheval, cruise and spring wear by Austin Hill, Liz Claiborne, Gordon of Philadelphia, Tannerway, Evan Picone and Prestige. Don't miss our ½ off and more sale on winter merchandise.

Following graduation, she plans to return to school to study Architecture—and will teach dance while doing so.

A Little Morning Art

Jacobson's has a treat in store for Grosse Pointe art lovers who, daunted by snow and ice-covered roads, may not be making it down to the Detroit Institute of Arts as often as they'd like.

A mini-series—four art lectures, with slides, from the Art Institute — will be presented at Jacobson's Grosse Pointe on four Wednesday mornings in February.

The first program, February 2, will feature Roberta Betz talking on three American artists, Cassatt, Whistler and Sargent, "Sophisticates Abroad."

The second, February 9, will present Zelma Horwitz in a mini-tour of paintings in the Detroit Institute of Arts, "Realism, Expressionism, Abstraction."

Patricia Jehle will zero in on "The Impressionists" February 16, and the series closes February 23 with Nancy Matisse discussing "Famous Artists and their Masterpieces in the Detroit Institute of Arts."

Jacobson's will offer complimentary continental breakfast, sweet rolls and coffee, at 9:30 o'clock preceding the lectures, which run approximately 45 minutes. Reservations may be made by calling 882-7000, Extension 117.

Supplementing the lecture series, Jacobson's Store For The Home will feature an exhibit of original art during the month of February.

Double Duty for Tom

Yes, that WAS Tom Wells playing two parts—a beggar in the first act, a soldier in the second—in Michigan Opera Theatre's delightful "Naughty Marietta."

Tom, you remember, is the gentleman whose broken leg prevented him from being in "The Barber of Seville," but who, leg healed, turned up in MOT's world premier "Washington Square." Now they can't get him off the stage!

Another Pointer who's been bitten by the MOT acting bug is De Shaheen, of Yorkshire road, one of the best, and prettiest, members of MOT's chorus for three years.

Pointers are hard at work behind MOT scenes, too. Consider the cases of Lucy Prost and Joanie Grierson, now in their second seasons as volunteer assistants in the costume department. They're having a ball.

Psychology major JAMES A. SEDER, of Vendome road; Hotel and Restaurant Management major LESLIE A. EDMUNDS, of Merriweather road; Human Ecology majors CATHERINE A. MAKOS, of Notre Dame avenue, and MARY C. BAYER, of Cadieux road; Pro-Professional major CHRISTOPHER MEINGAST, of Essex drive; English major DAVID S. VERSICAL, of Willow Tree place; Romance Languages major DONALD A. BROWN, of Torrey road; Biology major JANE CORTEVILLE, of Hollywood avenue; Chemical Engineering major JOHN P. MEIER, of Lochmoor boulevard; and Physical Sciences major JAMES L. TELFER, of Cloverly road.
