HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, February 10
AMERICAN AIRLINES said Wednesday it paid $51,000 in illegal campaign funds from 1971-1973 to 71 current and former members of Congress. Under a Law passed in 1973, none of the present or former congressmen would be eligible for prosecution because of a blanket statute of limitations covering contributions for the 1972 campaigns and before. Included on the list were former President Gerald Ford and current House Speaker Thomas (Tip) O'Neill.

Friday, February 11
PRESIDENT CARTER proposed a major tax reform Thursday that would mean lower federal income taxes for those earning less than $20,000 a year. Those earning more than that would be penalized. The president dropped his tax bombshell as he spoke to a group of employees at the Department of Housing and Urban Development, saying the proposal would "almost certainly" be sent to Congress this year.

Saturday, February 12
ADOLESCENT TANKER truck, carrying 16,200 gallons of gasoline, smashed into a six-foot-high concrete divider on the northbound Fisher Freeway Friday and caught fire. The driver escaped serious injury when his cab uncoupled from its volatile load and he was thrown free. It was the second tanker accident on a Detroit freeway in five days. On Monday, a tanker carrying propane gas crashed through an overpass guard rail, plummeted onto the Ford Freeway and exploded. The driver in that accident is still in critical condition.

Sunday, February 13
EIGHT HOSTAGES escaped unharmed Saturday in Cincinnati when a shotgun-armed Utica, Mich., man, who had held them overnight at a home for unwed mothers, was tricked into believing a police officer was the son he had not seen for 20 years. Jesse Coulter, 39, and his former wife, Rita, 37, barricaded themselves and the hostages in the X-ray room of the home for 15 hours. And when it was over, they strolled arm-in-arm out of the building and were whisked away by police.

Monday, February 14
THE FOOD AND DRUG Administration announced plans Sunday to restrict the over-the-counter sale of hearing aids, saying people who are hard of hearing should see a doctor before buying an electronic device that may or may not help them. The regulatory agency said it was taking this action because a review of information given to hearing aid buyers indicated that consumers were being given "inadequate and in some cases misleading" sales pitches. About three million persons in the U.S. use hearing aids, which presently are available for sale to anyone who wants one and can pay for it.

Tuesday, February 15
A HULKING MUSCLE-BOUND sharpshooter — his body covered with Nazi tattoos—took over a New Rochelle, N.Y., warehouse at gunpoint Monday, killing five persons and stood off an army of police for several hours before taking his own life. The body of the gunman, Fred W. Cowan, 33, was found about 6 p.m. after a day-long siege in which scores of shots were exchanged. He had put a bullet in his brain with his own handgun. Killed by Cowan after he invaded the Neptune World Wide Moving Co. warehouse, where he had worked, were four of his co-workers and a New Rochelle patrolman. Officials believe Cowan went on his killing spree seeking revenge for being suspended from his job.

Looking Forward to 50th Anniversary

PTO President HELEN LEONARD and former principal FRANK WELCENBACH will be among those celebrating Trombly Elementary School's 50th anniversary next week. The portraits, one of Mr. Welcenbach, the other of Trombly's first principal Ethel Cowe, will be presented to the school at a reception on Tuesday, February 22, at 7:30 p.m. (See story, Page 9).

GPW Inks Pact with 6 Employees

Three-Year Agreement
Signed at Council Meeting; Supervisory Personnel Affected

By Roger A. Waha
A three-year agreement between the city and the Grosse Pointe Woods Supervisory Personnel Assoc., (GPWSPA), was signed at the Woods Council's regular meeting Monday, February 7.

The pact, which is retroactive to last July 1, affects six personnel including the director and assistant director of the Department of Public Works, the superintendent and administrative aide of the department, the building inspector and director of the Department of Parks and Recreation.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, who negotiated the agreement on behalf of the city, told the council that bargaining was done in good faith, while Building Inspector Earl Wakely, who, along with Leonard Ocenik, assistant director of the DPW, represented the association, said everything was handled in a gentlemanly manner.

Parity Sought
"We officially recognized the association as a bargaining unit on February 11, 1976, and negotiations, which began shortly thereafter, were completed on January 17 with the proposal awaiting the ratification of both parties," noted Mr. Petersen. The city administrator indicated the six affected by the agreement wanted to be

NCA Evaluation Gives South Excellent Marks

By Susan McDonald
South High School's administration, teachers and curriculum won excellent marks in a recent North Central Association (NCA), evaluation. The NCA team complimented South on its solid, college-oriented curriculum, innovative staff and strong administration.

An NCA evaluation is conducted every seven years in Michigan high schools. The team's recommendations, though often helpful, are not binding in any way. This year's group at South, made up of 24 teachers and administrators from southeast Michigan schools, spent three days in November watching the school in action. As a basis for the final report, the group used South's

GP Park Seeks Block Grant Funds Totaling $174,700 for Programs

Resurfacing of Alleys Called Top Priority; Construction of Municipal Parking Lot, Development of Off-Street Parking Lot Also Viewed

By James J. Njaim
The Park Council at its meeting on Monday, February 14, gave City Manager Robert A. Slone the go-ahead to obtain available federal funds for the city's Community Block Grant Program. The fund is administered by Wayne County for all communities whose population is under 50,000 and who have filed resolutions to participate in the program.

Mr. Slone informed the council that funds available for projects are allocated on an annual basis. At the present time, $174,700 can be obtained by The Park from HUD, with the latest regulations permitting the use of the funds on an income basis and for geographical areas of the city, the city manager pointed out.

He said it was brought out at recent meetings with HUD and county representatives that funds can be expended according to HUD regulations in the area bounded by Jefferson and Mack, and by Wayburn and Devonshire. With special consideration, these officials have approved the RB area, (multi-family), on Beaconsfield and Nottingham south of Jefferson.

Major Focus
Top priority will be given to the resurfacing of alleys throughout the RB area, at an estimated cost of $120,000, according to a report submitted to Mayor Matthew C. Patterson and the members of the council Monday evening.

Mr. Slone explained it is felt that this project is necessary to improve blighted areas and is financially beneficial to the city because alleys would come strictly from general funds since State Highway Funds, are not allocated for their maintenance and resurfacing.

Second on the list of priorities is the construction of a municipal parking lot at the southeast corner of Jefferson and Lakepointe, on two municipally-owned lots.

However, this project appears to be in jeopardy as a standing room only audience from the Windmill Pointe Subdivision, attending Monday's meeting, protested a proposed amendment which would permit the city to construct a 28-space, metered parking lot at the section.

Gateway to Pointe
The amendment would not change the residential zoning aspect of the property, but

Animal Control Prompts Move

In a first step towards creating a more effective animal control situation, the Farms Council voted Monday night, February 7, to send Police Cpl. Otto Glanert to the Cap-Chur Equipment Training School in Douglasville, Ga., for basic training in the use of animal tranquilizer guns. The council authorized a $700 expenditure for tuition, travel, room and board for the schooling, scheduled for March 13-19.

Upon his return, Cpl. Glanert will in turn train other officers in the department in use of the equipment, proper dosage mixtures and life supporting recovery procedures for tranquilized animals.

Farms resident Mrs. Frankie Dietz, whose dog was accidentally shot and killed by a Farms police officer late last year, attended the meeting and expressed a hope that the council's actions would "help save more abandoned animals in the future."

The Farms joins The Woods in being the second Pointe community to own a tranquilizer gun.

Street Plan Discussed By Officials

Reorganization Proposal
Would Make Area
Community of Cul-De-Sacs

By George Polgar Jr.
A massive street reorganization plan which would transform The Pointe into a community of cul-de-sacs is presently being considered by officials in The Park, City and Woods.

According to the originator of the proposal, local realtor John E. Brink, the elimination of many residential through streets in favor of a system of 250 cul-de-sacs would provide The Pointe with lasting insurance against loss of property values.

Alluding to the proximity of Detroit's tough east side and the effects it may be having on Pointe property values, Mr. Brink said his plan offers safety, beauty and stable property values.

Crime Deterrent
"Grosse Pointe is known all over the country as a fine community and the purpose of this plan is to keep it that way," he said.

By Mr. Brink's proposal, the transition from through streets to cul-de-sacs would be achieved without any encroachment on private property. A small landscaped park would be planted in the middle of the block of affected through streets and standard cul-de-sac turn arounds would be constructed.

"These mini-parks will be a fine addition to the neighborhood and the safety of the cul-de-sac will raise the value of properties," Mr. Brink said. "Besides the advantage of having less traffic, cul-de-sacs are a deterrent to crime because burglars don't like going into places where they can be easily trapped."

On paper—and in an artist's conception models—the plan looks reasonably attractive. But a number of questions arise on closer examination which could run the whole project down a dead end.

On Property Values
First, the proposal is based on certain assumptions about the value of property on cul-de-sacs. Mr. Brink maintains that such property is always worth more than land on through streets.

An informal canvass of other Pointe realtors shows no solid agreement on this assumption. Some dismissed it as false, while others said it is purely a question of individual preference of buyers.

Pointes Planning On Supporting YSD in 1977-78

Municipal Representatives Indicate Willingness to Fund Bureau But School Board Takes Wait and See Approach Pending Results of Millage Elections

By Roger A. Waha
Representatives of the five Pointes have indicated their willingness to once again fund the Youth Service Division, (YSD), during fiscal year 1977-78, while the Board of Education is taking a wait and see attitude until after the Saturday, March 12, millage elections.

This, along with proposed program improvements, were the main developments at the Wednesday, February 9, meeting of the YSD's board of managers, (including all Pointe city managers and a School Board representative).

"Until we have a specific budget to propose, the cities have indicated their intent to continue supporting the YSD, while the school system is reserving its final decision based upon the outcome of the millage elections," reported Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, YSD coordinator.

Happy with Service
While officials are awaiting precise information on costs, there seems little likelihood at this time that any municipality will not participate.

"I'm going to recommend our participation to the council," said Park City Manager Robert A. Slone. "We're very happy with the service and the way it's operating."

While both saying they needed definite cost figures, Shores Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis and City Director of Finance Dennis Foran, (who attended the meeting in place of then ailing City Manager Thomas Kressbach), indicated their communities' intention to participate.

"We haven't discussed it with the council and it would be up to them. But I expect they will continue with it," said Mr. Foran. Meanwhile, Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer stated the meeting, which offered a free exchange of ideas, was a good

Marathon Aids Music Program

North High School Band and Orchestra musicians will perform from morning to night on Saturday, February 19, in the North cafeteria to raise funds for various music programs.

The students have been taking pledges from individuals to help pay for band and orchestra tours, summer music instruction and a new harpsichord for use in the school.

The community is invited to attend the marathon. The Concert Band will perform from 8 a.m. - 12 noon; the Symphony Band from 12:45 - 4:15 p.m.; and the Symphony Orchestra from 4:30 - 8:30 p.m.

Nutrition Site Counsel Explores Seniors' Needs

By Roger A. Waha
The needs of senior citizens were explored by the site counsel of the area's Food and Nutrition Program, which is currently housed in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, at its first meeting Tuesday, February 8, at the Woods Municipal Building.

This group of citizens, which also sees that the federally funded plan for seniors functions properly, was full of enthusiasm in its effort toward establishing the groundwork for a variety of programs, reported Diane Heavner, co-director of the site with Mary Ale, and John Bruce, executive director of the Neighborhood Club.

"The initial thrust was to start the ball rolling to see

Visitors Impressed With YSD

Four Officials Explore Bureau's Operation in Relation to County-
Wide Programs

By Roger A. Waha

In an effort to develop county-wide programs toward the prevention of juvenile crime, four officials, including Juvenile Division Probate Court Judge Y. Gladys Barsamian, visited the Youth Service Division, (YSD), on Thursday afternoon, February 10, as part of trips to different communities to learn what they are doing in this area.

The visitors, who expressed their admiration for the YSD's operation, also included William Wild, who's involved in social planning and development for the county Office of Youth Services; William Wiggins, acting case-work services director, Wayne County Juvenile Court; and former Pointer Mea Sirosky, department of community resources, the City of Livonia.

Those explaining the operation of the bureau and answering questions included Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, division coordinator, and YSD Det. Patrick Fagan.

Prevention Focus
Noting officials already have visited Oakland County, and are planning to explore programs in East Detroit and Warren, Judge Barsamian said, "We wanted to visit different programs to see what has been done in the past toward developing programs in Wayne County."

Here, a focus is on diversionary and intervention programs via, for instance, volunteers from the community, without going through the court system.

Judge Barsamian cited the concerns of citizens and officials over juvenile crime, plus a lack of resources and facilities regarding placement, while mentioning the recent juvenile gang scares in Detroit. The problem is money for county-wide programs, she said, while indicating

Document Slated for Release

Paper to Be Released
This Week; GPEA Bid to Reopen Hearings Denied

By Susan McDonald

A state fact-finder's report on The Pointe teachers' contract dispute will be released within a few days, despite an attempt this week by the teachers union to reopen the hearings.

Dr. John Simpkins said a report on his findings will be completed by Friday, February 18, and will probably be released the same day.

He denied a Grosse Pointe Education Assoc., (GPEA), telegraphed request, made Monday, February 14, to reopen the hearings to include additional financial information.

Called Not Relevant

The GPEA requested an additional session so that $330,000 in state aid payments to The Pointe could be put on the official meeting record. GPEA President Doris Cook said the union was not aware any state funds had been received this year until a meeting held in late January.

"We asked for full financial disclosure at the table and we did not get it," Mrs. Cook charged.

But Dr. Simpkins said that since the Board of Education never based its case on an inability to pay, the state funds were not relevant to his findings.

"It would be a different case if the Board had been arguing it couldn't afford to pay what the union is demanding," he said. "That was not the argument, so I think the record is now complete."

Hard to Believe

"We've operated in a perfectly open manner throughout the sessions," he said. "It's a matter of public record that the state has been making most of its aid payments this year and it's difficult for me to believe the GPEA was not aware of it."

The Board did not include any state revenues in its budget for this school year because promised aid had been cut back several times in the past few years. The Board said if state funds were received, they would be reserved for future budgets to lower operating millage rates.

Within several days of their receipt of the fact-finder's report, the two bargaining teams will return to the table to try to work out a settlement, Dr. Coats said.

Naegel Leaves Council Post

Woods Councilman Conrad A. Naegel, 51, resigned from the council to take a post with the Grosse Pointes-Clinton Refuse Disposal Authority as an accountant. His resignation became effective Tuesday, February 15, at 7:50 a.m.

Mr. Naegel, who had been a councilman since 1970 and previous to that a member of the Planning Commission for over nine years, said it was a case of his looking for employment. He said he decided to resign to avoid any chance of a possible conflict of interest.

With his resignation, the council will now have to appoint someone to fill his unexpired term ending this November. Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos indicated it's possible an appointment will be made prior to the Monday, February 28, meeting.

GPW Studies Masonic Bid

The Woods Council referred a request to utilize the Lake Front Park to the Committee of the Whole for further study at its regular meeting Monday, February 7.

The request came from Clayton Lindhurst, secretary of the Acanthus Masonic Lodge No. 558 of The Pointe Masonic Temple. The lodge would like to use the park for its annual picnic on Sunday, September 11.

The Shape of Things to Come?

If the city governments and Pointe residents accept the idea this might be the look of the future for many neighborhoods. A plan proposed by local realtor John E. Brink would replace many residential

Officials Discuss Street Plan

Even if such property is generally worth more now, it is conceivable that if there were too many cul-de-sacs, property on through streets would be in demand, thus depressing property values on newly created dead ends.

A second stumbling block would undoubtedly be the source of funding for the project.

According to Mr. Brink, initial estimates for the cost of each mini-park and two dead end turn arounds would be between $3,000-$15,000. "There are a number of possible ways to get the money for the project," said Mr. Brink. "It might be possible to get foundation grants or memorial contributions from individual families and then maybe people on each street could pitch in to raise the money for their own mini-parks."

These three suggestions seem somewhat unlikely unless a storm of philanthropy suddenly grips The Pointe. Other more plausible approaches to the funding question may be special bond issues or taxation. While plausible, these are not going to be very popular.

Federal funding for the cul-de-sac plan is a possibility, but to date only The Park and The City have been involved in Community Block Grant programs and the other cities are either opposed to the use of federal monies or have shown no interest in getting any.

Possibly, the most crucial question facing Mr. Brink is winning public support for the proposal. For the plan to be undertaken on any street in any of the Pointes, a public hearing would have to be called to gauge the reaction of affected property owners.

Park Reviews Plan

To do this for several hundred streets would be an enormous logistical task for the cities, and there would surely be many people who would oppose having their

Woods Changes Meeting Date

The regular Monday, February 21, meeting of the Woods Council has been rescheduled because it falls on a national holiday, Washington's birthday.

The council at its regular session Monday, February 7, voted to change the date to Monday, February 28.

LICENSE APPROVED

The Woods Council unanimously approved the issuance of a license to Giuseppe Badalamenti of Mount Clemens for the parking lot located between This N That for Pets and the Pointe Time Shop in Mack avenue at its regular meeting Monday, February 7.

The City and The Farms also have been informally approached by Mr. Brink concerning the plan. Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer said that he does not know enough about the idea to give it serious consideration and City Manager Thomas Kressbach of The City said it is being informally reviewed.

Shores Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferies said he has never been approached about it.

Tax Campaign Gets Underway

By Susan McDonald
"Renew Our Pointe" will serve as the slogan for citizens working during the next three weeks to rally support for schools at the Saturday, March 12, millage elections. The slogan, according to citizen millage campaign co-chairman Mrs. Robert Feeser, is intended to remind voters that the Board of Education is not asking for a millage increase next month—just a renewal of the current tax rate.

Voters will decide March 12 whether or not to continue a 2.2 mill, school, and 11 of a mill, library, tax for the next three years. The Board of Education has committed itself to maintaining the current level of programs with the tax.

Last spring Pointers approved for four years a 24.35 mills, school, and 1.31 mills, library, tax rate.

The grass-roots citizen group, with representatives from every school building, plans to conduct an energetic campaign, distributing the traditional flyers, blue and white bumper stickers and newspaper ads.

Support has come from several community groups, students and parents, Mrs. Feeser said. Anyone wishing to volunteer time for the campaign should leave his or her name with their local elementary school office.

High school students have devised a novel, if time-consuming campaign tactic. They are searching out Pointe public school graduates from the past few years and are mailing absentee ballot applications and cover letters to each and every one, asking their support.

Board of Education trustees also are available as speakers and will supply school finance information to citizens, who call 885-2000, extension 56, 57 or 58.

Although she's optimistic about the election, Mrs. Feeser said she has noticed some opposition to the millage, much of it centered around the lack of a teacher-Board of Education contract.

"They seem to feel that any money they approve as millage will just be more money for the teacher union to draw on for a contract settlement," Mrs. Feeser said.

"But really, that's not true. Both sides have already established their economic guidelines and the whole thing is now in the hands of the fact-finder. Approval of this millage will have no effect on the eventual settlement."

GP Woods Acts On C-W 'Recs'

The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, February 7, concurred with several Committee of the Whole (C-W), recommendations including the awarding of a Department of Public Works construction contract and the approval of improvements to Ghesquiere Park recreational facilities.

The Edington Construction Co. of Troy received the council's nod for the construction of a one-story addition located between the existing DPW building to the east and the existing DPW garage to the west. The approved amount totaled $58,940 and was the lowest bid received.

Part of the motion included the stipulation that the amount be reduced by $300 by omitting the job sign as called for in the general conditions of the bidding documents.

As for improvements to existing recreational facilities at the park, the council referred the updating of lighting of the magic square to accommodate new tennis facilities, ($9,700), and the updating of lighting of existing tennis courts, ($9,700), to City Administrator Chester E. Petersen for consideration in the 1977-78 fiscal year budget.

In other action, the council referred a proposed ordinance defining "family," i.e., saying that not more than two unrelated persons may occupy a single family residence, to the Planning Commission for its review and recommendation back to the council.

The council also referred a proposed ordinance defining commercial vehicles and regulating their storage to the commission.

Finally, Carl R. Meier was appointed to fill the vacancy on the Insurance Commission because of the recent resignation of Richard E. Maxwell. The term expires on January 1, 1979.

The solons also concurred in Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos' intention to appoint Adele Ryder to the Senior Citizens Commission for a one-year term expiring January 1, 1978.

Pointes to Share $203,901 From State Highway Fund

The State Highway Department disclosed on Thursday, February 10, that state fuel tax revenues continue on the increase, climbing 6.3 percent in the fourth quarter of 1976.

However, because the 1977 license plate tabs are not as popular with motorists as the red, white and blue plates issued a year earlier, weight taxes collected in the October-December quarter fell by 19.2 percent.

Auto owners were slow to buy the new tabs when they were first issued, but sales in the current quarter ending March 31 are certain to make up the loss.

Revenue from gasoline, diesel fuel and liquid petroleum gas taxes in the October-December period totaled $106,165,555, an increase of $6,318,596 from the same period of 1975.

License plate fees, based on vehicle weight, brought in $29,474,290, a drop of $7,002,420.

All motor fuel and weight taxes go to the State Motor Vehicle Highway Fund.

According to information released by the highway department, the five Pointes will receive a total of $203,901 from the last quarter collections of 1976, as compared to $201,587 received for the same period in 1975. The distribution is as follows for the 1976 October-December period:

The Woods, $72,950; The Park, $52,461; The Farms, $42,978; The City, $23,669; and The Shores, $11,843.

For the same period in 1975, The Woods received $72,111; The Park, $51,863; The Farms, $42,497; The City, $23,405; and The Shores, $11,711.

After deductions of the State Waterways Commission's 1.25 percent share of gas taxes, the General Transportation Fund's 1/18th share of gas taxes and collection costs totaling $5,585,275, proceeds are being distributed to the state, counties and municipalities for construction and maintenance of highways, roads and streets.

Combined fuel and weight taxes showed a decline for the quarter, but the net amount distributed to the state, counties and municipalities increased by $1,749,206, or 1.4 percent.

Pointes Intend to Support Youth Bureau

one. "There's nothing to preclude us from participating again but the final decision is up to the council," he noted.

On the other hand, Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, assistant superintendent-instruction and the school's representative on the board of managers, said, "I don't know (if we'll participate). I haven't discussed it with the Board."

To Hold Increase
Saying that official action will transpire sometime after the millage elections, Dr. Spagnoli indicated there's a better chance the Board will participate if the elections pass. If they fail, such participation will have to be evaluated.

As for the proposed budget, Mr. Petersen, who plans to complete the document around May 1 and then review it with the board, said, "Hopefully, with a little cash surplus to be reapplied to the new budget, we'll try to make every attempt to hold a budget increase to between seven and nine percent."

The division's 1976-77 fiscal year budget is $140,083. In relation to costs, Mr. Petersen said he pointed out to the board of managers that The Woods has never included charges for the rental of office space, (the YSD is housed in the public safety department building), including "tremendous increases in telephone, electrical and gas rates not previously passed on into the YSD budget."

"But we feel we may have

Upgrade Counseling

On the program front, he stated, "We plan on continuing and upgrading the counseling program because our youth problems don't have a high priority with juvenile court. But they are problems to us."

In this respect, he plans on upgrading the hourly wage paid to the part-time counselors from the current $2.20 amount to $3. The objective, here, is to attract and keep counselors of a high caliber. Mr. Petersen noted that the YSD has had such counselors in the past but there has been a problem in keeping them because of the wage.

At this point, the division has one counselor and is in the process of hiring another to maintain the working total of two.

In another area, a coordinated effort, where the YSD would work in cooperation with the traffic safety officer of each municipality toward expanding programs in both elementary and middle schools, is being contemplated.

Inherent Dangers

The idea behind this program, he said, is to "help the traffic safety officer in each department when that help is requested. We feel by correlating the efforts of both we can do a better job, (e.g., warning youngsters, for example, of the inherent dangers involved in accepting a ride or candy from a stranger), primarily in the elementary schools."

A focus also will be placed on drugs in relation to this program.

In this emphasis upon a child's welfare, Mr. Petersen stressed the importance of reaching young people regarding the aforementioned areas at both the elementary and middle school levels, before they enter high school, while emphasizing a continuous learning experience for youngsters attending elementary school.

Lastly, the board of managers authorized Mr. Petersen to explore the possibility of obtaining a juvenile court referee or judge to serve the east side area, (as is done on the west side), and what the possible costs would be for this service.

To Report Back

He said he understood that the cost for the west side service was born by the county, and he would see why such a program couldn't transpire on the east side.

Mr. Petersen added he would report to the board at some future time on this matter.

In a final note, Woods Det. Lt. Jack Patterson, YSD supervisor in the detective bureau, said his report on what the division has done in the past and what it will be doing this year was well received by the board.

He indicated all parties were very supportive of the YSD and the job it has been doing.

funds might be obtained through federal grant monies. As for the division, she stated, "I think they are doing a wonderful job," while stressing the foresight in the YSD's operation, particularly in relation to the variety of diversionary programs utilized, (including the bureau's own counseling program), without going through the court system.

"Unique" Approach

What stands out in her mind is the relationship of the YSD with the schools, (where the detectives have offices). Judge Barsamian added she likes to see communication between police and the schools, plus other agencies involved in the juvenile justice area.

Meanwhile, Mr. Petersen said the officials were interested in making inquiries from various cities as to how to develop a YSD-type operation, methods of financing, programs incorporated and overall effectiveness.

"I felt they were all impressed by our graduate student counseling program," he added.

"We did all the answering," said Det. Fagan, regarding the questions posed by the visitors. "They were interested in the ideas, processes and policies of our youth bureau."

The main impression he received from the exchange was meeting "people who are involved heavily in the juvenile justice system," and seeing that "the system as it's set up right now, doesn't work."

Fame is at best fleeting, but it lives longest on personality.

Busy Answering

"I was impressed with the officers' attitude, and the coordination of the five Grosse Pointes in terms of a master juvenile bureau is very good," she said. "It (the division), shows the combination of efforts toward one distinct purpose."

She also was impressed with the school liaison approach regarding the development of a positive rapport between students and police officers, plus the attitudes of everyone "toward achieving a mutual goal."

Woods Okays Trip Expenses

The travel request and expense reports of five officials were unanimously approved by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, February 7.

Both Councilmen John Sabol and George S. Freeman had their reports okayed in the amounts of $730 and $717.95, respectively, based upon their attendance at the National League of Cities conference in Denver, Colo., from last November 27-December 1.

The expenses of Fritzeth Komerska of the Senior Citizens Commission, and Irene Sutton, commission chairman, in the amounts of $23.28 and $18.28, respectively, based upon their attendance Tuesday, January 18, at the Michigan Recreation and Parks Convention, Dearborn, also were approved.

Finally, the expenses of City Administrator Chester E. Petersen in the amount of $50.68 based upon his attendance at the 29th Annual Management Institute, Ann Arbor, were okayed by the council.

Report Praises South

the lack of a system to remove gas fumes from the basement working area.

In South's wood shop, the report says, the lack of dust collecting facilities "creates a health hazard" for both students and instructors.

While South Principal Dr. James Hoeh concedes the industrial arts area is a "poor teaching facility, in dire need of improvement," he said a recent OSHA, (Occupational Safety and Health Acts), inspection assured him the facility was safe.

"Renovation of the facility would require some kind of major financing effort, such as a bond issue," Dr. Hoeh explained.

"With enrollments going down as they are, this just doesn't seem to be the right time for such a thing."

Dr. Hoeh added that the Board of Education is aware of the building's condition. Problems in the Industrial Arts complex also were named in South's self-study as one of the building's biggest problems, along with a decrease in teacher morale due to annual layoffs, (the "pink-slip syndrome"), and teacher-board contract disputes.

Although the NCA report noted high teacher morale, in a few instances it cited teacher dissatisfaction due to their exclusion from curriculum development.

The NCA visitors also concurred with the conclusion of a citizen survey, conducted last fall, which held the curriculum at South to be a bit too college oriented.

Though the NCA team noted that 62 percent of South's grads go on to four-year advance degree institutions, they concluded that more programs should be offered for the one-third who do not go on to such schools.

The next step for the 45-page NCA report is evaluation by each curriculum department at South.

"We finalize their recommendations by priority," explained South's NCA coordinator Carl Lord. "We'll determine if the suggestions can be accomplished by teachers, or will require action by the administration or Board."

"The intent of the NCA visit is to bring the team's opinions to the attention of the staff—and then to let the system decide what to do. It encourages an exchange of ideas, and that, in itself, helps tremendously."

Shores Police Accuse Pair

Two Shores public safety officers, investigating a motorist and his passenger for trespassing on private property, first charged the pair with violation of state liquor laws, and then charged the charge to possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

The passenger also was charged with possession of a concealed weapon, when a switch blade was found in his possession.

PSOs Harry Hamilton and John Trevillian, while on routine patrol on Lakeshore road on Friday, February 11, at about 11:30 p.m., observed two men in a car pull into the driveway of 976 Lakeshore and stop. The officers became suspicious, went to investigate and found open cans of beer in the vehicle.

They arrested Rudy Raymond Richter, 18, of 132 Yule, Leonard, Mich., and Anthony John Rocha, 17, of 49 Miller drive, Rochester Township.

The two men were charged with the liquor law violation, the officers said, until a search of the pair brought out they were in possession of suspected marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

Officers Hamilton and Trevillian said while conducting a lawful search of the men for possible offensive weapons, they discovered a container of suspected marijuana, plus a glass vial containing a reddish brown liquid, believed to be oil of hashish, a metallic hashish pipe and pipe bowl in Richter's pockets.

Rocha also was searched, and a three and one-half-inch switch blade knife was found in his trousers pocket. He was charged with carrying a concealed weapon, under a Village ordinance, rather than under a state statute.

Sgt. Frank Mustazza said that according to Michigan's concealed weapons law, private citizens, except one-armed persons, are prohibited from owning, or being in possession of switchblade knives of any size. And, as with blackjacks, private citizens cannot even have one in their homes.

Rocha was not only charged with possession of a concealed weapon, but also charged under the Village's Controlled Substance Ordinance, when cigarette papers, hashish pipe, a green hand tamper and other paraphernalia were found on his person.

Neither Rocha nor Richter was conveyed to The Shores station, where Richter was required to post a bond of $25 and Rocha, a total of $150, before they were released.

Both are scheduled to appear for a court hearing on March 2.

Farms to Again Stress Bicycle Safety for 1977

By Tom Greenwood

Inattentive bicycling, improper turning movements, failure to stop when and where required and riding on the wrong side of the road were the four most hazardous reasons for bicycle accidents in The Farms last year, according to a year-end traffic report issued by Farms Police Chief Robert K. Ferber.

There were 19 reported bike accidents in The Farms in 1976. The average bike mishap involved a 14-year-old boy in an accident with a car during daylight hours. In 74 percent of the accidents, the cyclist was at fault.

In an effort to cut down on these incidents, The Farms will continue its long standing public information and safety programs involving cyclists, according to Farms Traffic Safety Officer Joseph Belanger.

"We will be stressing bike safety all the way," said Officer Belanger. "This spring we will again resume our general bike inspection program. We inspected at least 400 bicycles last year and participated in five bike-athons to help promote safety consciousness."

"Our program also includes films and lectures. We visit schools and stress sign and signal identification to the children, especially at the elementary school level."

According to the report, Farms police observed 1,054 enforcement actions in 1976, ranging from warnings to physical arrests and detention.

"While the most numerous offenders are young, teenage boys, the worst offenders are adults," said Chief Ferber. "When members of our department stop them for violations, they often become incensed and abusive. They feel because they're adults, they needn't worry about bicycle safety."

"With proper education, engineering and enforcement, we hope to change this way of thinking."

During 1976, property damage accidents rose by 10 incidents over 1975 records, from 264 to 274. Personal injury accidents dropped from 95 incidents in 1975 to 73 last year.

Hit-and-run accidents, mostly involving fender-benders, dropped by one incident, from 46 in 1975 to 45 in 1976. However, traffic fatalities rose by one in 1976 with three recorded deaths.

The deaths included a hit-and-run fatality involving a drunk driver and a 10-year-old boy on Lakeshore road; an eight-year-old girl who ran into the path of a truck at the Country Club of Detroit; and a 54-year-old motorist who lost control of his vehicle and struck an Edison pole on Lakeshore road.

The six most dangerous accident locations in The Farms last year included Mack avenue and Moross road — 20 accidents; Kerby road and Mack avenue—18; Lakeshore and Provincial roads—11; Kercheval avenue and Moross road—11; Lakeshore and Moross roads—10; and Moross and Chalfonte roads—eight.

On the brighter side of the report, 1976 was highlighted by the fifth consecutive National Award from the American Automobile Association for Traffic Safety Excellence. The award is based upon educational, engineering and enforcement programs for 1975.

Park Group Seeks Members

The Grosse Pointe Park Civic Association has kicked off its 1977 membership drive.

This non-profit corporation was founded in August 1976 for the purpose of encouraging participation by the residents in community affairs and events and acting as a catalyst for worthwhile projects benefiting the whole community.

Other objectives include disseminating information of community interest and providing the city council with assistance they may request.

More Articles Missing in B-E

Woods police received further information on missing articles stemming from the breaking and entering of a Stanhope road home on Tuesday, February 1.

Besides 25 silver dollars and assorted coins with a face value of around $50, which were originally discovered taken, a ladies' antique yellow gold ring, a man's white gold star sapphire ring and a hunting knife with a six-inch blade and sheath, all of unknown value, were found missing.

The incident is under investigation of the detective bureau.

Membership is open to all residents of The Park.

During the past year, the association developed a tree planting program whereby a $30 return payment was made to residents who made private arrangements to replant a downed city tree. The group also held a Bicentennial celebration.

The group's current officers include Cynthia Brooks, president; Shelby Carter, secretary/treasurer; John Prost, membership chairman; and Phillip VanTiem, chairman of publicity.

The members of the organization say they are urging all civic-minded Park residents to support their community by joining their neighbors who are members of the association.

Membership dues are as follows: family membership, $5; sponsoring membership, $15; philanthropic membership, $25; and lifetime membership, $50.

Checks should be made payable to the Grosse Pointe Park Civic Association, 15439 Windmill Pointe drive, Grosse Pointe Park, 48230. Interested citizens also should include their name and address with the membership check.

Membership dues will cover cost of mailings which will keep residents apprised of activities and functions planned by the organization.

City Adopts Obscenity Law

In anticipation of some future necessity, the City Council has adopted a wide ranging anti-obscenity ordinance modeled on a Detroit statute and a similar law recently passed in The Farms.

This action was taken at the Monday, February 14, regular council meeting.

Noting that The City has never had an ordinance governing obscenity and that The Farms had recently adopted one, Mayor John King said that having the law on the books would serve to avoid future problems in this delicate area.

The ordinance covers the sale, publication, distribution and in some cases, possession of materials which depict, describe or represent specified sexual activities.

Because obscenity laws deal in such a vaguely defined area, the new City ordinance allows for the possibility that some portion of it may be contested in court.

Under the heading of "severability," the ordinance specifies that "if any portion of it is deemed unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, that portion will be considered separately and will not affect the validity of the remaining portions."

Woods Okays Liggett Bids

The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, February 7, granted University Liggett School permission to hold a school fair and antiques show on its campus, 1045 Cook road.

The school fair, chaired by Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Young, will be held June 4-5, while the antique show will be held June 16-18. It will be chaired by Mrs. Charles M. Endicott.

Wine Lines
by John Lundberg

Only the finest grapes are chosen for the privilege of becoming champagne. If a grape is bruised, broken, or otherwise marred, it is discarded. Teams of women are responsible for picking only the best grapes at harvest time. The next step is pressing, done right on the vineyards so that the grapes can be pressed before skin breaks and any of the valuable juice is lost or contaminated. The liquid from this first pressing of the grapes is what is used in the finest and most expensive champagne. Then they are left to ferment for a while and are tasted several weeks after the first pressing. An educated palate can tell at this point what proportion of wines from different lots is necessary to obtain the taste that is wanted. The tasting rooms are spotlessly clean as any stray odor or dirt could severely affect the wine.

You can choose from the finest champagnes and wines at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626. We welcome you to come in and browse; we will be happy to answer any and all questions you may have about wine and to recommend a wine to suit your needs, taste and budget. Hours: 10-10 Mon.-Thurs.; 10-11 Fri. & Sat.

GP Woods Inks Pact

on parity with the command structure of the Department of Public Safety, while adding they have now achieved that goal.

Related to this, Mr. Wakely said the association was formed in an effort to achieve such parity on behalf of supervisory employees. Both he and Mr. Petersen said that parity was a reality several years ago but gradually began to diminish.

Citing continually escalating costs, Mr. Wakely said the employees recognized, under such circumstances, the necessity to form an association as their responsibilities were important to the city, particularly in the area of maintenance.

Pay Increase

From the bargaining standpoint, Mr. Wakely said, for his part, the situation was difficult in the sense that the supervisors encompass more than one department and "we'd have to jump back and forth but, all in all, our fellows were satisfied."

Mr. Petersen, in reviewing the pact's provisions, said the average economic package for the six employees provides a 5.98 percent salary increase the first year, a 6.67 percent hike the second year and a 5.95 increase the final year.

"The larger increase during the second year, (in comparison to the first), is compatible with Local 1121, (of Council 23 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees), provisions, and both groups have retirement provisions similar to those of the Department of Public Safety," he said.

(The council approved a three-year agreement with Local 1121 last August. Retroactive to last July 1, the pact affects over 40 employees in the department of public works and administrative personnel — all general employees with the exception of department heads, appointed officials and public safety officers).

Cost of Living

According to Mr. Petersen, the pact has provisions saying the city will pick up $331 annually in Blue Cross-Blue Shield and the dental care program.

The agreement also continues the present cost of living formula as implemented with Local 1121, said Mr. Petersen.

This formula views the average increase in the index for the metropolitan Detroit area, and then the difference between the 12-month average of the cost of living index from the previous 12-month average is determined.

For each four-tenths percent increase, employees are allowed one cent an hour cost of living, payable primarily in the middle of January via a separate check, stated Mr. Petersen, who added this is actually called a cost of living bonus. A recent payment totaled 21 cents for each hour worked.

Put in Writing

At the same time, the pact set forth the employees' working conditions in writing whereas, in the past, they were mutually agreed upon.

"This is similar to the working agreement of Local 1121 but it's tailored for this particular association," he said. Such conditions cover the areas of holidays, health care, sick leave days and other fringe benefits.

With the signing of the agreement, the city has completed finalizing pacts with all employee groups with the exception of the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers Assoc. and the department's sergeants and lieutenants.

Grad Returns For SH Concert

Music of Bach, Beethoven, Barber and Foss make up the program to be presented by cellist Stephen Eliason in the South High School auditorium on Sunday, February 20, at 3 p.m.

Mr. Eliason, 21, currently a senior at Hope College, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eliason, of The Park.

A graduate of South, he served as principal cellist in the school's orchestra for four years, and also was assistant principal cellist of the Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra.

He performed as soloist with the Grosse Pointe Symphony while still in high school as a result of a scholarship audition.

Last year Mr. Eliason appeared as soloist with the Hope College Symphonette during their spring tour of Great Britain. He also qualified for a scholarship from the American Federation of Musicians which allowed him to participate in an eight-week session of the Congress of Strings in Cincinnati last summer.

Sunday's concert, in which Rebecca Waller will serve as accompanist, includes Bach's Fifth Suite for Unaccompanied Cello, Beethoven's Sonata for Cello and Piano, Op. 102 No. 1, Lukas Foss' Capriccio and Samuel Barber's Sonata.

The concert is open to the public without charge.

Theater North Receives Honor

North High School's performing theatrical group, Theater North, won the district competition sponsored by the Michigan Interscholastic Forensics Assoc. on Monday, January 31.

The cast, under the direction of Gael Barr, competed against five local high schools doing a cut version of "The Star Spangled Girl."

Freshman Tony Lovasco received a superior rating for his efforts, junior Debbie Saunders, a superior rating, and senior Dan Pierron, an excellent mark.

Pointer Chairs Bank Program

William Kalmr, of 893 University place, will chair a one-day Bank Security Conference covering security procedures and planning on Wednesday, March 30, at the Fairlane Manor, Dearborn.

The conference, sponsored by the Detroit Chapter of the Bank Administration Institute and the Michigan Bankers Association, will feature area speakers and representatives from businesses supplying surveillance and security equipment.

Over 200 people from banks all over Michigan and parts of Ohio are expected for the conference, Mr. Kalmr said.

Among the speakers featured at the conference are Farms resident Martin Hayden, vice-president and editor of the "Detroit News," who will discuss the "Role of the Media in Crime Reporting," Steve Marley, vice-president of Financial Insurance Services, Inc., who will speak on "Risk Analysis" and L. Brooks Patterson, prosecuting attorney for Oakland County, who will discuss "The Prison Parole System."

An "ask-the-experts" panel, which includes representatives from the FBI and local banks also will be featured.

The cost for the conference, which runs from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., is $25 per participant. The cost includes coffee and doughnuts at the morning registration and lunch.

Registrations should be made before Friday, March 18, to Ms. Chris Clark, conference coordinator, Michigan Bankers Assoc., Lansing Towers, 610 West Ottawa, Lansing, 48933.

For more information, call Mr. Kalmr, assistant vice-president at Detroit Bank and Trust, at 222-3368.

Keeping a budget today is an orderly way people have found of living beyond their means.

Parent Council Picks Officers

The Grosse Pointe PTO/PTA Council, made up of parent group presidents and principals from all public schools, has elected a new slate of officers for the year.

President of the group will be Daniel Beck, who also serves on the Shores Council. The vice-president is Mrs. James Wishart, treasurer, Marieke Allen, and secretary, Frank Zinn.

The officers were elected at the Tuesday, January 25, regular meeting.

Mr. Beck said his administrator hopes to continue the leadership standards established by 1976 president John Frost.

Seniors' Needs Viewed

who represented the club at the gathering, said, "I'm very excited with the meeting and the representatives were enthusiastic."

At this point, he's looking forward toward a real movement in starting a community-wide newsletter for seniors of all the Pointes, and added, "I'm more than willing to have the Neighborhood Club help in program development."

Jon Austin, club senior citizens director and member of the site council, said a transportation schedule should be completed within two weeks.

A total of 45 people already have expressed an interest in such transportation and Mr. Austin wants to contact them again to see if they still want to utilize the bus service. At this time, he said the club has two bus drivers for the van but still needs two more.

He added seniors recently went to the circus and are planning to go to Meadow Brook to see "Sleuth" this week.

Other members of the site council, according to Mrs. Heavner, include the following:

Nora Blixt, assistant state director for Wayne County's 12 chapters of the American Assoc. of Retired Persons; Carl Schoessel, department of community services, Grosse Pointe School System; Woods Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara; and Judy Maghakian of the church staff.

Others are Woods Councilman George Cueter, Sandy Anderson, of the county program; Ensi Shore, Wayne County Visiting Nurses; Maureen DuFour, Bon Secours Hospital; and Barbara J. Youngblood, registered dietitian, Cottage Hospital.

From the site, itself, are Adele Ryder, Betty Killine, Dr. Albert Eckel, Robert Goodhand, Kay Whittaker, Stuart Sharrow, Harry Findlay, Margaret Donahue, Sid Ariemma and Elmer Nelson.

The nutrition program is for all county residents 60 years and over or those with a spouse 60 or over. A typical menu for the noon hour meal, (except Wednesdays at 11:30 a.m.), includes Salisbury steak, scalloped potatoes, asparagus / cheese sauce, pears, bread, oleo and milk. A 50-cent donation is requested but isn't mandatory.

Activities include cards, checkers, shuffleboard, a Friday craft program, square dancing every other Thursday and speakers on various interests and needs, (e.g., health, legal aid, tax problems).

For further information, call Mrs. Alecy or Mrs. Heavner at 886-4532, between the 10 a.m.-2 p.m. time slot. The site will be closed Tuesday, February 22.

GP Police Endorse Law Against Violent Criminals

By James J. Njalm
Pointe chiefs of police and the presidents of their respective departmental associations are heartily endorsing the efforts of Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brook Patterson's statewide circulation of petitions making it mandatory that convicted felons be made to serve at least the full minimum term of their sentences before being released on parole.

The kick-off date for the petition drive is set for Law Day, May 1.

Mr. Patterson's intention to persuade the Michigan legislature to enact into law this proposal was first brought up by the Oakland County prosecutor at a meeting of the Wayne County Association of Chiefs of Police, (WCACP), meeting held at the Fairlane Club, Dearborn, in December.

Last month, the WCACP, of which Pointe chiefs are members, voted in favor of passage of such a law at its regular monthly meeting.

All Pointe chiefs agreed and voiced similar opinions that minimum sentences be served before a convicted felon be freed on parole.

However, they felt that this should be tied in with the construction of more and bigger prison facilities under our present system of judicial justice to hold these people. Or, if new prisons cannot be constructed, then the present buildings should be expanded.

Endorsing Mr. Patterson's proposed intentions, were Park Chief Henry Coonce; City Chief Robert VanTiem;

Farms Chief Robert Ferber; Woods Director of Public Safety Henry Marchand; and Shores Director of Public Safety Joseph Vitale.

Backing their respective chiefs' endorsement of Mr. Patterson's proposal, while indicating that they and their members are ready to help gather names on the petitions, are the presidents of the following associations:

Officer Michael Kortas, Grosse Pointe Park Police Officers Assoc.; Officer David Teolis, Grosse Pointe City Police Officers Assoc.; Officer Clarence Reichling, Grosse Pointe Farms Police Officers Assoc.; Officer Stephen Petrik, Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers Assoc.; and Officer Gary Mitchell, Grosse Pointe Shores Public Safety Officers Assoc.

Mr. Patterson's intention of circulating the petitions on a statewide level is to gather 400,000 or more signatures requesting the state legislature to enact into law that prison inmates "be made to serve at least the minimum sentence and that the Department of Corrections shall not release a prisoner until he has served it."

The Oakland County prosecutor, so far, has received the names of more than 3,100 volunteers willing to take part in the petition drive. At least 4,000, or more, are needed, with each volunteer hoping to obtain 100 signatures.

Mr. Patterson appropriately picked Law Day as the kick-off day for the petition circulation.

Petition circulators are being recruited from the state law enforcement agencies and private citizens interested in trying to make their communities and state safe from violence and from the criminal elements.

Statistics show that when a person is convicted of a serious crime and is sentenced, say from 2-5 years, or 5-10 years, and is released for good behavior before the full minimum is served, that person returns to a life of crime. Of course, there are exceptions.

Those interested in becoming volunteers can contact their local police for further information, or better still, contact Mr. Patterson at the Main Office, Court House Tower, Pontiac 48053, phone 858-0656, or the branch office, 2401 East Fourth street, Royal Oak, 48067, phone 399-2440.

Cinema League Views Mexico

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present "A Mexican Mosaic," a color slide show by Gerald and Beverly Persall, when it meets Monday, February 21, in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium at 8 p.m.

The show, photographed last summer on a car and travel-trailer tour, gives an interesting overview of a fascinating country. It covers historic and modern areas, rural regions and crowded cities, sea-level tropics and two-mile high mountains, "tourist traps" and sites rarely seen by tourists.

Places of interest include Mexico City and nearby Tula, Xochicalco and Teotihuacan. There are views of the archeological ruins of Chichen Itza and Uxmal in the Yucatan.

The camera also visits Monte Alban at Daxaca and the contrasting resorts of Aca pulco and San Jose Purua.

There is deep sea fishing for Marlin at Mazatlan, and visits are made to the three preserved Colonial cities of Taxco, Guanajuato and San Miguel de Allende.

The program concludes with a colorful Spanish-Mexican ball in Guadalajara.

The public is invited to attend the program without charge. A reception for Cinema League members and their invited guests follows the presentation.

North to Host MSU Program

Michigan State University, (MSU), undergraduates, faculty, residence hall staff members and admissions officers will come to The Pointe Thursday, February 24 from 7-9 p.m., to provide an evening of orientation to future MSU students.

Invited are high school seniors, who have applied or been accepted for entrance next autumn, and their parents. The program in North High School auditorium, 707 Vernier road, will feature slides of campus life and information on the orientation for incoming freshmen during the summer.

Troop 96 Cites Eagle Scout

Boy Scout Troop 96, sponsored by Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, held a recent Court of Honor in Barbour Chapel.

Dr. Foster Redding, chairman of the parents committee, welcomed the scouts, their parents and friends, and Tom Van Tiem, master of ceremonies, introduced Stuart Dykstra, the troop's new scoutmaster. George Wyatt, assistant scoutmaster, also was in attendance.

Coleman Rogers was presented with his Eagle Award by his former Scoutmaster, Chuck Donovan, who came with his wife and family from Brighton to honor the recipient.

Twenty-four merit badges are now required for Eagle Scout and many hours devoted to a service project to benefit either the community, school or church is necessary.

Coleman chose as his project the collection of children's books which he donated to the Children's Home of Detroit in Cook road. He donated 650 books which were received with much delight by the children.

Before being presented his award, Mr. Van Tiem called on all former Eagle Scouts in the audience to join Coleman and his parents at the altar. Flanking him were Mr. Donovan, Mr. Dykstra, Ross Murray, Christopher Powell, Dr. Foster Redding, Andrew Richner and Danil Riddle.

Numerous other awards were taken home by these Scouts. The Bronze Palm, an award given after the Eagle Award, was won by Ross Murray, Chris Powell and Andrew Richner, and John Onstwedder earned the Life Award. Star Progress Awards were received by Ron Durkin, Alan Johnson and John Wyrembelski.

First and Second Class Awards were achieved by Rick Richner, while Vincent Clark, Brian Coles and Mark Lieblich also attained Second Class. Reaching Tenderfoot status were Kurt Allen, Lachlan MacKay, Scott Rowe, John Shope, Tim Shope, Matthew Van Tiem and Steve Webster.

Year pins were received by many of the scouts. First year pins were given to Brian Coles, Vincent Clark, Richard Gersch, Mark Lieblich, Rick Richner and Steve Webster. Second year pins were presented to John Wyrembelski, John Brooks, Tom Durkin, Alan Johnson, Jeff Powell and Andy Woodrow.

Third year pins went to Don Kavanagh, Wayne Onstwedder, David Rogers, and Walt Van Tiem, while four year pins were given to John Onstwedder, Chris Powell, Steve Redding, Andy Richner and Coleman Rogers. A five year pin went to Ross Murray. Mr. Donovan, who began his scouting career with Troop 96 in 1958, was awarded his 17-year pin.

Forty-nine merit badges were awarded to 17 scouts by Mr. Dykstra. Among those who received them were Vincent Clark, Tom Durkin, Richard Gersch, Don Kavanagh, Mark Lieblich, Lachlan MacKay, Steve Redding, Scott Rowe, Rick Richner, Tim Shope, Walter Van Tiem, Matthew Van Tiem, Steve Webster, Andy Woodrow and John Wyrembelski.

Students Win Essay Prizes

Three students from Our Lady Star of the Sea have earned the school's first, second and third place awards for their entries in the eighth annual "America and Me" essay contest, sponsored by the Farm Bureau Insurance Group.

The three top essayists, who will receive award certificates for their achievement, are Linda Zehetmair, first; Patrick Haddad, second; and John Lundy, third. In addition, the name of the school's first place winner will be engraved on a plaque for permanent display in the school.

Nearly 8,200 eighth grade students from 330 Michigan schools submitted entries in the current contest, which is being conducted with the help of Farm Bureau Insurance Group agents across the state.

Open to any eighth grade student in the state, the annual contest gives Michigan's young people the chance to seriously consider their roles in America's future through "America and Me" essays. As the school's first place winner, Linda's essay has been entered into the statewide competition from which 10 state winners will be selected.

Prizes for the top 10 in the state include a $500 savings bond for first place, $250 in savings bonds for second place, $100 bonds for third, fourth and fifth place, and $50 bonds for each of the remaining essayists in the top 10.

A panel of state dignitaries, headed by Gov. William Milliken, will determine the top winners.

GP Park Seeks Funds

The amendment would allow parking lots adjacent to buildings in the business districts only and nowhere else. An annual permit would be issued for operation of the lot.

Only three persons spoke in favor of the lot development, while the majority of speakers opposed it, claiming that The Park is the gateway to The Pointe and the property should be developed into a green strip, such as the park opposite the municipal building.

The landscaped lots, between Pemberton and Lakepointe, are located on the south side of Jefferson.

After hearing the people interested in the Jefferson-Lakepointe controversy, the council decided to table the matter for further study and to bring it up at its next meeting on Monday, February 28, at 5:30 p.m.

Would Cost $30,000

In his report to the council, Mr. Slone stated, the parking lot would receive HUD approval because it is a continuation of the project of purchasing land and building a parking lot at this location, even though this area does not fall under the HUD classification.

The estimated cost of the project, if it is approved in spite of citizen opposition, is estimated at $30,000.

Included in the Community Block Grant Program is the development of an off-street parking lot on Mack avenue between Wayburn and Maryland at an estimated cost of $4,500.

The proposed amendment, so strenuously opposed by the people at Monday night's meeting, also would give the city the authority to develop this lot which The Park recently purchased.

Other Projects

The fourth project is the sidewalk repair program in an area bounded by Jefferson to Mack and by Wayburn to Devonshire. A part of this program would be intersections, curb cuts, et al., for which The Park would be responsible. Approximately $20,000 has been set as the cost.

Then, there is the redesigning and rebuilding of the public right-of-way in the Kercheval Business District at an estimated cost of $50,000. This would consist of tree planting, sidewalk replacements, using brick to add interest and texture, and the modernization of the right-of-way to enhance the district.

Finally, there is tree planting and right-of-way improvements along Mack, between Somerset and Wayburn, to remove blight and enhance the business district.

Review Board Dates Revealed

The Woods Council unanimously passed the schedule of meetings for this year's board of review at its regular meeting Monday, February 14.

Board of review meeting dates will be held on Tuesdays, March 15 and 29, from 9 a.m.-12 noon and from 1:30-5 p.m.

The board meets annually for the purpose of reviewing the 1977 city assessment roll.

All persons considering themselves aggrieved by their assessment or who have any questions or comments may present themselves to the board of review at the above times.

Cause of GPW Fire Unknown

The cause of a fire which destroyed a home in Brys drive hasn't been determined as yet, according to the Woods Public Safety Department.

A total of 39 men, including firefighters from The Woods and Harper Woods, fought the blaze which began in a vacant bungalow, then under renovation, at 1592 Brys Sunday morning, January 30.

Building Inspector Earl Wakely added the home is currently boarded up, with the investigation continuing.

LWV Discloses Full Calendar

The Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters, (LWV), has a full calendar of events this month.

A final decision on the state, metro and local programs for the year 1977-78 were to be made at two unit meetings this week. An evening unit met on Tuesday, February 15, in the home of Myrt Everett, of Woodland Shores, while a 9:30 a.m. morning unit gathered Wednesday, February 16, at Saint Paul's Lutheran Church.

The league's annual fundraising fashion show and brunch will be held in the St. Clair Room of Jacobson's, Friday, February 18, at 9:30 a.m. Reservations and tickets may be obtained by contacting Crete Thompson at 882-7183.

'Haunted Barn' Heats ULS Rink

Part of the proceeds from University Liggett School's "Haunted Barn" have been used to install a new heating system in the school's widely-used McCann Skating Rink.

The rink, located across from the ULS main campus in Cook road, is used primarily by the Grosse Pointe Hockey Assoc. which serves lower and middle school children throughout The Pointe.

"We felt this would be the most useful and practical way of saying 'thank you' to the thousands of community residents who visited the 'Barn' last October and made the venture so successful," said Mrs. Bruce D. Birgbauer, chairman of the project.

More than 600 ULS volunteers transformed a vacant barn at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club into a pre-Halloween extravaganza with booths set aside for Frankenstein's creations, a macabre butcher shop, the Salem witches and assorted horrors and surprises for children of all ages.

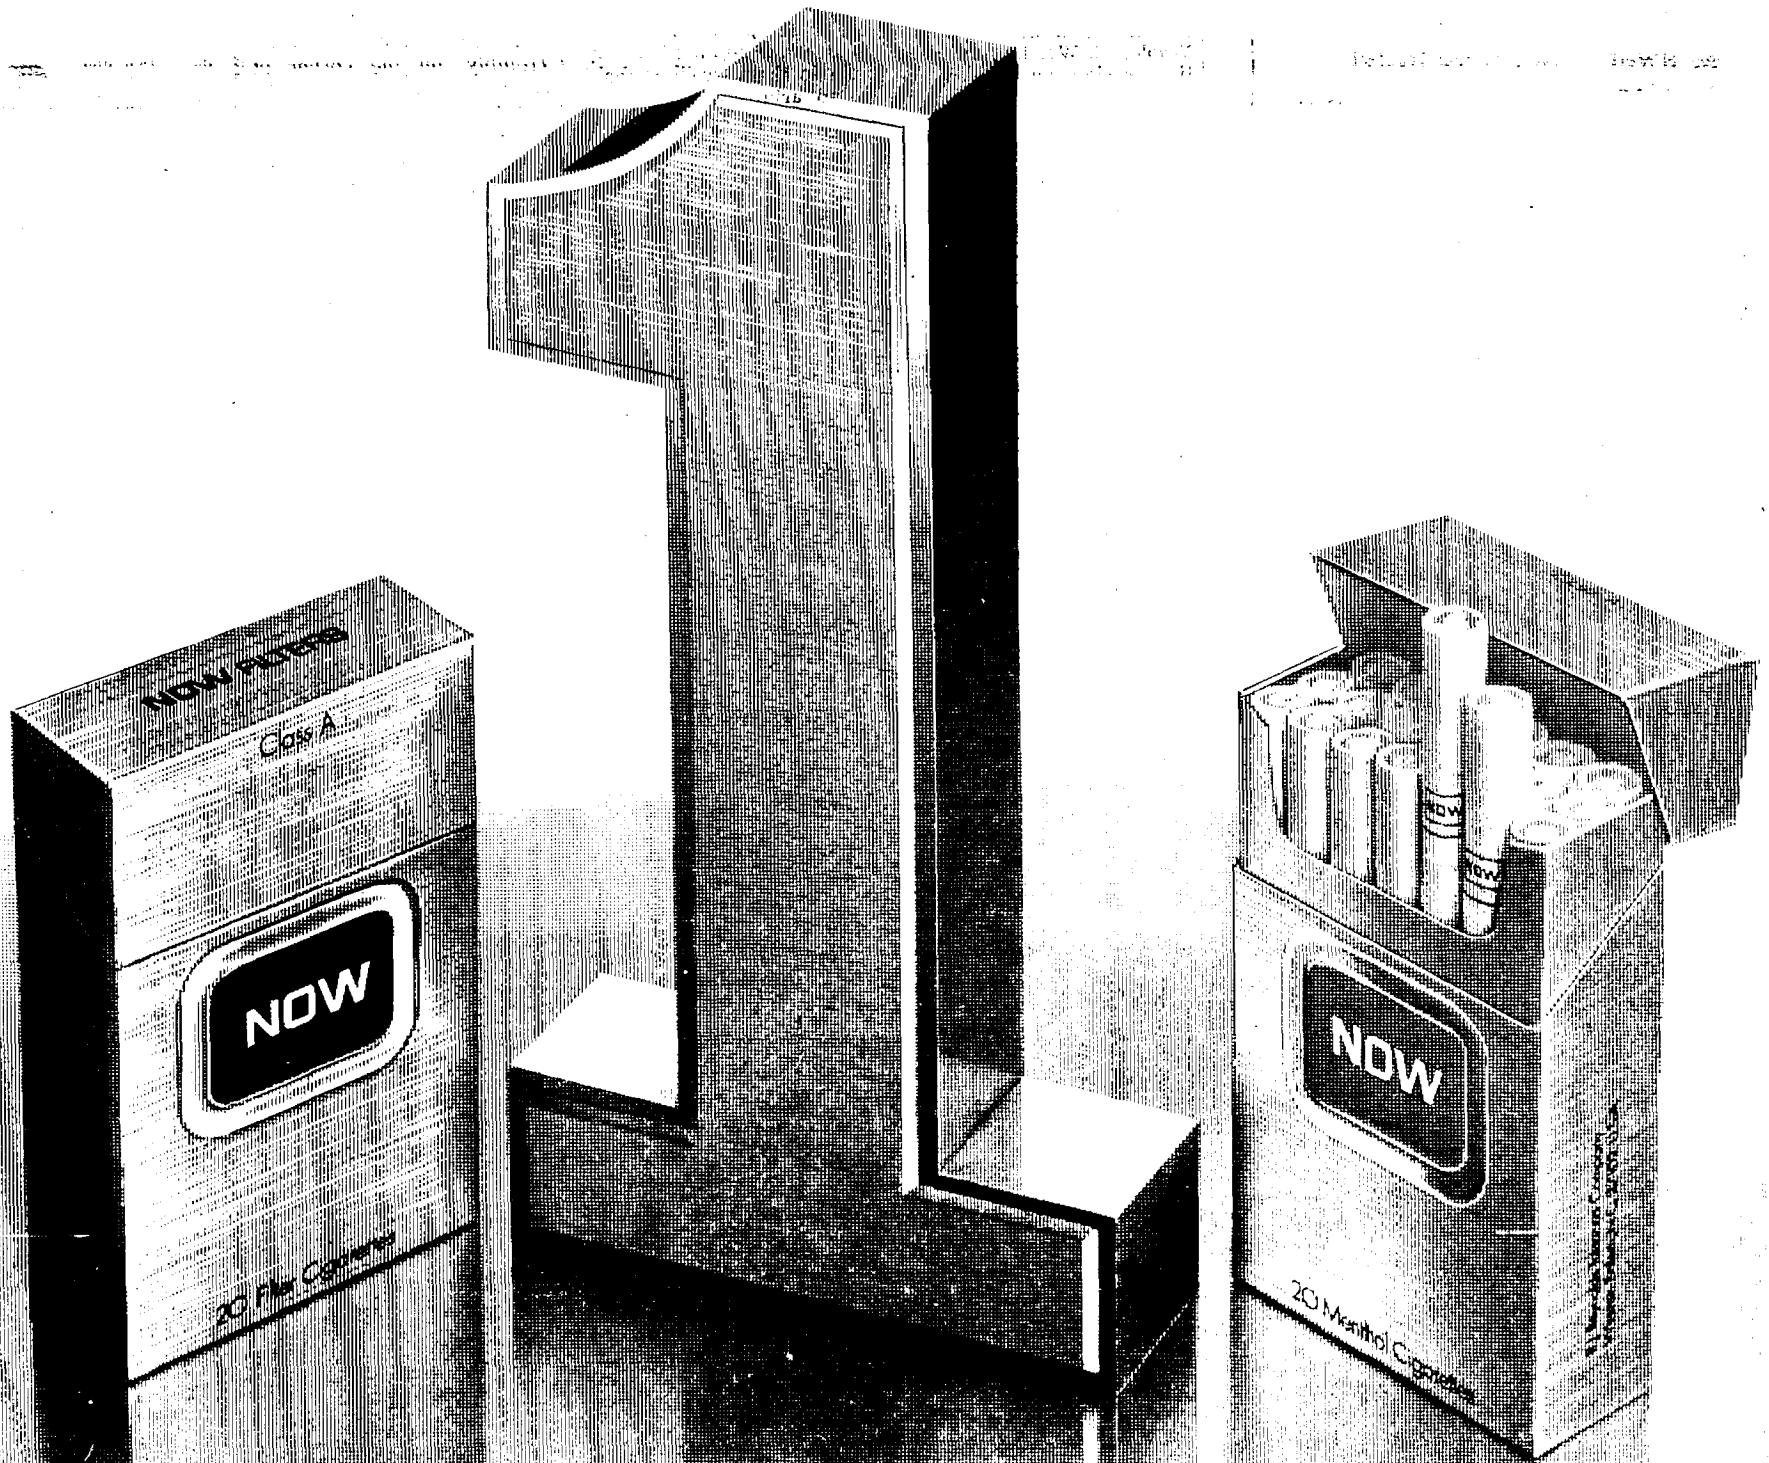

The week-long "Barn," a first for the school, grossed $13,500 after expenses and is described as one of the school's most successful fund-raising efforts.

Some $10,000 of the proceeds have been set aside for the rink's endowment, which is used for the new heating system.

Besides the hockey association, which uses an estimated 60 percent of the rink's ice time, McCann Rink is used by a number of independent figure skating clubs and for ULS physical education classes.

The rink was built in 1966 in honor of Francis J. McCann, for many years the school's director of athletics. It is one of the few school-owned and operated ice rinks serving The Pointe.

GP Woods Budgets $1,300 For Seniors' Recreation

By Roger A. Waha

A budget of recreation activities totaling $1,300 for senior citizens was unanimously approved by the Woods Council for the fiscal year ending June 30.

This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, February 7.

The original proposal was in the amount of $1,500 but the use of Kiwanis buses for planned activities such as baseball games, visiting Cranbrook, et al., placed at $250, was deleted from the final budget. The $50 difference will be incorporated into the overall program.

On the buses, which Senior Citizens Commission Chairman Irene Sutton had earlier said was a big need, City
Administrator Chester E.
Petersen stated, "The Kiwanis buses cannot be used by any organization for activities outside the city. The seniors will have to charter their own bus for outside activities and charge a fee to cover costs."

Mr. Petersen added that the seniors can use the buses within the boundaries of the city, such as for a specific event at the Lake Front Park where everyone could gather at city hall and be transported to the area.

The budget as approved by the council breaks down as follows:

- Instruction—for activities such as card playing, physical fitness, square dancing, modern dance and other areas of interest to group members, $450.

- Awards—for prizes to be given as the result of competition in such activities as bowling, (including entrance fees), golf, shuffleboard,
swimming, gym activities,
dancing, tennis, rifle range,
et al., $250.

- Mailing—for communication with members concerning their interests or proposed activities via newsletters, notices, questionnaires or other means, $175.

- Equipment—for such items as bingo, pads, pencils, rifle range supplies and other related necessities, $150.

- Hall rentals—for times when existing city and/or school facilities are not available or are not suitable, $125.

- Convention—to send three members of the citizens group to the Michigan Recreation and Park Assoc. convention last month, $100. (As it turned out, only two commission members participated for one day, Mrs.
Sutton and Fritzeth Komer-ska. Their total, combined expenses were $41.56).

The program, which was considered by the Citizens Recreation Commission at its meeting last month, was given the go ahead by the council last December in conjunction with the recreation group, Parks and Recreation Director Donald J.
Hallmann and Mr. Petersen.

For fiscal year 1977-78, the council is scheduled to consider budgeting around $3,000 for the recreation program.

awards for their 30 years of

Trombly Gears for Big Anniversary Celebration

By Susan McDonald

It was 50 years ago that Trombly Elementary School opened its doors and next week the current crop of students at Beaconsfield and Essex road will mark that anniversary with a host of events for the entire community.

The celebration will join generations of the Trombly family—from some of its first students and teachers to those of the present.

Its three principals, including the original Ethel Cowe, who lives in California now,
and Frank J. Welchenbach, who will participate next week, will be honored with official school portraits, to be presented to current principal Dr. Eric Folio.

In addition, Mrs. Roberta LoCicero, a Trombly parent appointed historian, has spent hours digging into the school's past.

As a special surprise she will present the school's first portrait of the man for whom the building was named—
Robert Trombly, Grosse Pointe Justice of the Peace for 40 years and, for 30 years, trustee of the Board of Education.

He was born in 1847 in The Park, and lived all of his 78 years in the area. His family, the legend goes, came originally from Quebec in the early 1700's, settling in upper
New York, until two daughters were kidnapped by Indians.

From then on, the family, headed by Robert's great-great-grandfather, moved west in search of the girl's, finally settling on a ribbon farm granted by the King of France that was bounded by, what is now called, Trombly road.

The present Trombly
School, Mrs. LoCicero discovered, was not the first one.
Back in 1903 Rural Agricultural School District No. 1 built the first, four-room Trombly, on the corner of Jefferson and Beaconsfield.

After being used for storage by the district for several years after it was closed to students, the building was sold to the Sun Oil Co. in 1948 for $46,000.

Next week's celebration will begin on Tuesday, February 22, in the school at 7:30 p.m. The Grunys will sing the entire Trombly including the entire Trombly community, past and present.
The public is invited and refreshments will be served.

The next day, at 1 p.m., the kids will celebrate the 50th birthday with songs and poems, gifts to the school and a huge birthday cake.

On Friday, February 25,
the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club will host a staff dinner party beginning at 6 p.m. Tickets can be obtained by calling Lou Jorissen at Trombly School. Two of the original teachers at the school have promised to attend.

The general chairman of the anniversary celebration is Trombly teacher Martha Graham. Parent activities are coordinated by Mrs.
Philip Ardussi, Mrs. Sheldon
Blazer and Mrs. Daniel Holland.

Student activities were arranged by first grade teacher Eleanor Pawluck.

Woods Nixes Meeting With GPWPOA As C-W

By Roger A. Waha

The Woods Council, sitting as the committee of the Whole, (C-W), i.e., in executive session, on Monday evening, February 14, has decided not to meet with representatives of the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers
Assoc., (GPWPOA), at committee level, reported Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos.

Saying the reason for this decision was the council's feeling they would be circum-venting their host, City
Administrator Chester E.
Petersen, the mayor stated
Mr. Petersen has guidelines from the council, and has the authority to shift monies
within certain areas, e.g.,
salary. Hence, the aspect of flexibility.

Family Night Set at South

All residents of The Pointe school system are invited to participate in Family Fun Night at South High School
on Friday, February 18.

The activity is co-sponsored by the Neighborhood Club and the Department of Community Services. From 7-9:30 p.m., the gym facilities will be open for a wide variety of sports activities, children's movies will be shown and craft activities, (costing 50 cents), will be available for children.

There is a charge of $2 per family or $1 per person.
Those under 16 are to be accompanied by an adult, and children must be at least three years of age.

South High is located at 11
Grosse Pointe boulevard.

"Mr. Petersen has contacted the association regarding the resumption of negotiations and if nothing is acceptable to them, we'll probably go to arbitration," said Mr.
Pinkos. Mr. Petersen is actively on the council's authorization and if there's any problems, the mayor indicated, he cannot be blamed.

On contacting the GPW-POA, Mr. Petersen said, "I issued a written invitation to the association to resume negotiations if they so desire."
This was done on Thursday, February 10. As of Tuesday morning, February 15, he said he has received no reply.
"I presume if there's no reply, we go to arbitration," he added.

In commenting upon the decision of the council, Armand
D. Bove, GPWPOA attorney, said he thought it was proper.

Referring to the attendance of an estimated 20 officers at the Monday, February 7, council meeting, he stated they wanted the council to know their dilemma regarding the impasse in bargaining.

As for Mr. Petersen's communication, Mr. Bove indicated representatives may end up meeting with him if he's willing to discuss cost of living (rolled into salary).

"We've got to have it in the base salary," he stated, while noting the association has withdrawn all its demands except for such a proposal.

In saying he would like harmony with the city, Mr.
Bove added he plans to contact Mr. Petersen sometime this week.

Meet Attracts 45 Swim Clubs

The Grosse Pointe Community Service's sponsored Grosse Pointe Swim Club (GPSC), had five swimmers competing in the Bulldog Aquatic Club's 13th Annual Age Group and Open Class "A" AAU Swim Meet held Friday-Sunday, February 4-6.

The competition was stiff in the Schoolcraft Community College's pool as swimmers from over 45 swim clubs from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and many Canadian cities competed in the tourney.

The Pointers, swimming under new coach John Sfira, did well and are pointing toward the Michigan AAU state championships later in March.

Jeff Colton, (in the third fastest time posted in the state in this season's competition), took first with a time of 1:06.23 in the 11-12 boys 100-yard backstroke.

Whitney Semple and Andy Montague showed promise for the state championships in their 13-14 age group events.

Swimming in the same age group was Sara Brieden, a new member of the GPSC, who placed second in the 50 free, (26.17), and fourth in the 13-14 200 free, (2:03.44).

She also did well in the 400-yard IM and 200-yard fly.

Sixteen-year-old F.A.M.s resident Nick Trost placed second in the open boys 200 fly, third in the 100 fly, fourth in the 200 back and fifth in the 500 free, (5:06.29). He also placed among the fastest six swimmers in the 100- and 200-yard frees.

Fifteen-year-old Park resident Toby Lindheim swam to a third in the 200 back, a fourth in the 100 back and a fifth in the open 50-yard free.

Other Pointe residents, swimming for the Detroit Yacht Club, and placing were Jack Nelson, Ken Baciulis and Hans Brieden, who all swam on the second place 200-yard free and medley relays for 10-and-under boys.

Jack also took home individual medals for his seconds in the 200 free and 50 fly and thirds in the 50 free and 100-yard free.

Woods Cutting Use of Energy

Though last week's temperatures seemed a reprieve from the long cold spell, Woods municipal department heads met on Tuesday, February 8, to discuss ways of cutting energy usage in public buildings.

According to City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, the meeting resulted in the decision to cut back heating in the three DPW garages and also in non-active rooms of the municipal buildings.

"The garages and building rooms, like the council chambers, will have the heat turned down. As far as the offices are concerned, we'll do what we can but they all run on different thermostats so it may be a little hard to control," Mr. Petersen said.

He added that The Woods also is considering replacing the storage garage heaters with a more energy efficient infra-red heating system.

It's better to be mistaken and own up than it is to continue blindly on the same course.

NAMED TO BOARD

Benjamin H. Paddock III, president of City National Bank of Detroit, recently announced the appointment of Pointer Robert D. Krestel to the board of directors, Mr. Krestel joined CNB in October 1976. He is executive vice-president of the bank, responsible for supervising and directing the activities of the various lending areas.

Prior to joining the bank, Mr. Krestel was vice-president of finance, treasurer and a member of the board of directors of American Broadcasting Companies, Inc. He is a graduate of Michigan State University and holds a JD degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

PROST HONORED

John C. Prost, of Pemberton road, was recently honored by the Michigan State Senate as a leader and innovator in the life insurance profession. A resolution, introduced by Sen. William B. Fitzgerald called Mr. Prost "one of the most outstanding members of his profession."

800 Perform In NH Concert

The voices of 800 Pointe children joined in song Wednesday, February 16, at the school system's annual Choirs in Review concert.

The performance, which began at 8 p.m. in the North High gymnasium, included students from Ferry, Mason, Monteith, Barnes, Poupard, Brownell, Parcells, Pierce and North High.

Chorus from all nine schools were joined by the North High Orchestra to begin the show with "America Our Heritage," under Herman A. Clein's direction.

"Praises Be!" was sung by elementary choir under director Jeanne Zeck. It was followed by "Harmony," directed by Dan Evola.

Middle school choirs performed "Now Let Us Sing," "Simple Gifts" and "A Better World" with Robert Ambrose, Anita Kalousdian and Ann Maters directing.

"Copland's 'Hoe-down'" was performed next by the North High Orchestra under Nathan Q. Judson's baton.

The high school's concert choir followed with "Joyful, Joyful We Adore Thee," "Every Night When the Sun Goes In," "Steam Heat" and "Paddlin' Steamers," under Herman Clein.

The program ended with the massed chorus and orchestra singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," directed by North Principal G. Bruce Feighner.

Thousand Get Free Eye Test

Despite unseasonably cold temperatures, 1,050 persons came to the War Memorial on Monday, January 31, to take advantage of free glaucoma testing.

The Town Hall for Health was sponsored by the Friends of Bon Secours, the Grosse Pointe Lions Club and the Detroit Institute of Ophthalmology.

The short and painless test, done by ophthalmologists, measures intra-ocular pressure. Because elevated pressures are seen in patients suffering from glaucoma, the test can help to identify people who may have a problem.

Of those tested in January, 50 persons were found to have above normal pressures, and were referred to their personal physicians for a complete eye examination.

CITY OF GROSSE POINTE ORDINANCE NO. 184

(Note: Following is the text of Ordinance No. 184 adopted by the Council of the City of Grosse Pointe at a regular meeting February 14, 1977 to become effective ten (10) days after date of publication.)

A REGULATORY ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE TO AMEND THE CODE OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE BY ADDING A NEW CHAPTER, WHICH NEW CHAPTER SHALL BE DESIGNATED AS CHAPTER 119 OF TITLE IX OF THE CODE OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE.

CHAPTER 119
ANTI-OBSCENITY

DEFINITIONS - For the purpose of this Chapter, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Knowingly" - means having actual or constructive knowledge of the content and character of work. A person shall be deemed to have constructive knowledge of the content and character of a performance of work if he has knowledge of facts which would put a reasonable and prudent man on notice as to the nature of the work.

(b) "Person" - any individual, partnership, firm, association, corporation, trustee, lessee, agent, assign, or other legal entity.

(c) "Specified Sexual Activities" -

(1) Descriptions or representations of sexual intercourse which includes genital-genital, anal-genital or oral-genital, whether between human beings or between a human being and an animal, actual or simulated.

(2) Descriptions or representations of fondling or other erotic touching of human genitals, public region, buttock or female breast, actual or simulated.

(3) Explicit close-up representation of human genital organs.

(4) The stimulation of the human genital organs by any device, tool, implement or object.

If any of the depictions or descriptions of sexual conduct described in this Section are declared by a Court of competent jurisdiction to be unlawfully included therein because such depictions or descriptions are constitutionally protected or for any other reason, such declaration shall not invalidate this Section as to other patently offensive sexual conduct included herein.

9.162 OBSCENE BOOKS, PICTURES, LITERATURE AND MOTION PICTURES.

(a) Indecency and Immorality: Obscene, Sadistic or Masochistic Literature, Recording or Images: penalty for sale, transmutation or possession. Any person who knowingly either manufactures, provides, publishes, insures, transfers, transmits, circulates, exhibits, sells, lends, gives away, distributes, shows or transmits or offers either to manufacture, provide, publish, insure, transfer, circulate, exhibit, sell, lend, give away, distribute, show, transmute, or otherwise transmit, or has in his possession with intent to either manufacture, provide, publish, insure, transfer, transmit, circulate, exhibit, sell, lend, give away, distribute, show or transmute or advertise in any manner, or who otherwise knowingly either offers for either loan, gift, sale or distribution, any obscene, lewd, lascivious, filthy or indecent, sadistic or masochistic book, magazine, pamphlet, newspaper, story paper, writing, paper, photograph record, picture, photograph, motion picture film, figure, image, wire or tape recording, or any other device of communication of any written, printed or recorded matter of an indecent character, which is distinguished or characterized by its emphasis on matter depicting, describing, or relating to "specified sexual activities" which may or may not require mechanical or other means to be transmitted into auditory, visual or sensory representation of such character, shall be guilty of a violation of this ordinance.

(b) Obscene literature, recording or image: upon average person of community-offensive sexual conduct; no literary, artistic, political or scientific value. The test to be applied in cases under this section of this ordinance shall be:

(1) Whether the average person, applying contemporary community standards would find that the work, taken as a whole, appeals to the prurient interest;

(2) Whether the work depicts or describes, in patently offensive way, sexual conduct specifically defined by Section 9.161.

(3) Whether the work, taken as a whole, lacks serious literary, artistic, political or scientific value.

Such test shall be the effect of the book, picture or other subject of the complaint considered as a whole upon all those whom it is likely to reach, that is, its impact upon the average person in the community. The book, picture, or other subject of the complaint must be judged as a whole in its entire context, not by considering detached or separate portions only, and by the standards of common conscience of the community of the contemporary period of the violation charged.

(c) Publishing, distributing. Any person who publishes or distributes for resale or for reading or other personal use any book, magazine, or pamphlet, so composed as to constitute a compilation of pictures, illustrations, caricatures, cartoons, words, stories and advertisements, or any combination or combinations thereof, featuring and primarily devoted for the purpose of commercial exploitation, to the description or portrayal or suggestion of illicit sex, or sexual relations or perversions, lust or sexual passion, or to any combination or combinations thereof, which are distinguished or characterized by its emphasis on matter depicting or relating to "specified sexual activities" (as defined in Section 9.161), shall be guilty of a violation of this ordinance.

(d) Requiring retailer to accept. Any person who shall as a condition to a sale, allocation, consignment or delivery for resale of any paper, magazine, book, periodical or publication require that the purchaser or consignee receive for resale and other article, book or other publication which is contrary to this ordinance, or shall deny or threaten to deny any franchise or impose or threaten to impose any penalty, financial or otherwise, by reason of the failure of any person to accept such articles, books or publications, or by reason of the failure of any person to accept such articles, books or publications, or by reason of the return thereof shall be guilty of a violation of this ordinance.

(e) Obscene, sadistic, or masochistic literature, recording or image: distributions to minors, penalty. Whoever knowingly either sells, distributes, or imports for the purpose of selling or distributing to a person under the age of eighteen years or who displays at newsstands or any other business establishment frequented by minors under the age of eighteen years or where said minors are or may be invited as a part of the general public any obscene, lewd, lascivious, filthy or indecent book, magazine, pamphlet, newspaper, story paper, writing, paper, photograph record, picture, drawing, photograph, motion picture film, figure, image, wire or tape recording, or any other device of communication of any written, printed or recorded matter of an indecent character which is distinguished or characterized by its emphasis on matter depicting, describing or relating to "specified sexual activities" (as defined in Section 9.161), which may or may not require mechanical or other means to be transmitted into auditory, visual or sensory representations of such character, either for the purpose of sale, exhibition, loan or circulation to a person under the age of eighteen years or with intent to introduce the same into a family, school or place of education, shall be guilty of a violation of this ordinance.

9.163 POSSESSION. Possession of six or more identical or substantially similar copies, or six or more articles of any obscene, lewd, lascivious, filthy or indecent book, magazine, pamphlet, newspaper, story paper, writing, paper, photograph record, picture, drawing, photograph, slide, motion picture film, figure, image, wire or tape recording, or any written, printed, or recorded matter of an indecent character, which is distinguished or characterized by its emphasis on matter depicting, describing or relating to "specified sexual activities" as defined herein shall be prima facie evidence of possession with intent to sell, lend, give away, distribute, show or transmute the thing.

9.164 SEVERABILITY. Should any provision or section of this Chapter be held invalid or unconstitutional by any Court of competent jurisdiction, such portion shall be deemed a separate distinct and independent provision and such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions thereof.

9.165 PENALTY. Any person convicted of a violation of the within Chapter shall be punished in accordance with terms and provisions of Section 1.12 of the Grosse Pointe City Code.

9.166 EFFECTIVE DATE. The effective date of the within Ordinance No. 184 shall be ten (10) days after date of publication thereof.

On Unruliness in Court

The jury came in and Russell Harte lost out. Found guilty of assault and battery in the snowballing of his neighbor, Harte was led back to his cell.

The verdict given Monday, February 7, cheered a lot of people, especially Harte's neighbors in Manor road. For them, a menace had been removed from the neighborhood.

I won't debate their feelings. Although I never witnessed the feuding between Harte and his neighbors, I believe there were bad feelings in the neighborhood.

But, if Harte is "crazy," as his neighbors claim, so was the trial held against him. Spectators at the trial were unruly, unfair and vocally biased in their feelings against Harte.

The presumption of innocence before the law was meaningless to them as they openly and loudly expressed Harte's guilt among themselves. But sitting among them were the prospective jurors who would sit in judgment of Harte.

When Harte exercised his right to dismiss jurors, groans and boos filled the courtroom. At least once the judge threatened to clear the courtroom because of their outbursts.

Many spectators complained "they" had to supply Harte with a lawyer and "that was wrong." Never mind a Supreme Court ruling guaranteeing a defendant a lawyer if he cannot afford one.

"They" had money. Why didn't Harte?

Smug opinions doubting Harte's sanity were widely expressed. Psychiatrists all, the crowd held careful consultation and stated Harte was guilty because he was "crazy."

It never dawned on them that "crazy" men are judged to be innocent before the law. No tests, no interviews and no authentic medical opinion concerning Harte's mind were ever ventured before the trial.

Some spectators baited Harte during recesses in the trial. "You're not one of us. You don't belong here. We don't want garbage like you around here" were thrown at Harte sitting a few feet from the crowd.

If Harte was "crazy," did they enjoy taunting a sick person? Would they make similar remarks to someone crippled or blind?

Until proven otherwise, Harte is sane and those remarks were cruel and unfair. Whatever happened to fair play? Is it for everyone, or just those popular with the neighbors?

This is no effort to turn Harte into a modern day Dreyfus. His trial was a minor affair, the culmination of a running feud between neighbors.

What is important is that ordinarily good people let emotions overrule their decency.

What is important is that every man is innocent before the law whether facing treason or trespassing.

What is most important is that every man be given his trial with a maximum of dignity and a minimum of bitterness.

T.G.

Delay Sentence of Snowballer

The sentencing date for day, February 9, to Wednesday, February 16, Harte, 33, of 435 Manor road, could face a maximum snowballing of his neighbor, or a $500 fine.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Even though this is a "Letter to the Editor," it is really a letter to you as well as a letter through you to readers of the "Grosse Pointe News."

I am protesting two of your editorial policies. First, when a "Letter to the Editor" concerns schools, students, teachers or education in any form, you obviously send the letter to the Board of Education so that an "answer" is printed immediately below the protesting letter—or the protesting letter isn't printed.

You don't send letters identifying problems with the post office parking lot to the Farms Council before you print it.

You don't send letters complaining about snow removal or trash pickup for mayors to answer at the same time the complaint is published.

Why does the Board of Education rate special treatment?

Second, you provide space for a weekly column by the superintendent without providing any opportunity for rebuttal or another point of view. Thus, one man's opinion becomes the word on any educational issue, according to the "Grosse Pointe News."

The superintendent is not the authority on the learning which takes place daily with children in our classrooms, but hundreds of teachers are.

The superintendent has less authority than almost any teacher in the system when it comes to historical perspectives in Grosse Pointe education.

The superintendent has no first hand knowledge of negotiations with teachers, because he has never attended a session.

Despite these truths, he, not teachers through the Grosse Pointe Education Assoc., is given space to speak on teaching, teachers, children in classrooms, negotiations or any subject of his choice.

The readers of the NEWS are sophisticated citizens who deserve editorial policies which neither limit nor prejudice their information. I recommend you alter these

To the Editor:

The best headline on a front page of the "Grosse Pointe News" that I have seen is that of the issue of February 3, 1977: "Scene of the Pointe's Major Tragedy in 1976," with an airview of the now demolished Rose Terrace.

This should bring tears to the eyes of all who love Grosse Pointe, and blushes of shame to all the people with money who pride themselves as public spirited citizens of this wealthy residential region.

As one who is able to support worthwhile institutions in this city, (the library, War Memorial, Christ Church), with only modest contributions, I wonder at the blind callousness of those who control thousands, millions, even billions, that they could not save a valuable piece of waterfront and an important architectural structure in a suitable setting for the benefit of present and future Grosse Pointers as well as for world-wide admirers of architecture and visitors from all over.

Thank you for the picture and for the admiration of Rose Terrace which it expresses.

Very sincerely yours,

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

With an important millage renewal election slated for Saturday, March 12, I want to devote this column to answering three important questions that have been asked of me during the last week.

1. In the face of inflation and constantly rising costs, how can the Board of Education provide today's program in the future with a simple renewal of expired millage?

In making the decision to seek a straight three-year renewal, the Board has attempted to compare estimated expenses for each of the next three years with estimated revenues.

With respect to expenses, the Board will make every effort to operate within an overall budget increase of seven percent per year minus any staff or program reductions due to declining enrollment. This seven percent increase will be adequate to maintain existing programs.

Also, the Board projects an average increase in the State Equalized Valuation of local real estate of six percent per year. This normal increase in local property values, plus State Aid which has been received for the current year, (even though unanticipated), would be sufficient to support the current program.

2. Without renewal of the two operating millage proposals, how will the schools and libraries be affected?

If the levies are not approved, drastic staff, (approximately 90 full-time positions—the equivalent of up to 120 people), and program curtailments would have to be made, since the school proposal alone accounts for over $1,200,000 for the next year.

3. Without a signed contract with the teachers' union, isn't the current millage request timed badly?

Probably so, but we have no choice. By contractual agreement we must notify all employees by April 1 if they are to be laid off. Therefore, we must know how much money we can depend on in the unfortunate event that we might have to notify as many as 120 individuals of an impending layoff.

Woods Adopts Emergency Law

A complaint from a licensed vendor that unauthorized persons have been collecting newspapers and other material within the city has led the Woods Council to adopt an emergency ordinance clarifying that refuse collectors must be licensed by the city.

This action was taken at its regular meeting Monday, February 7.

City Attorney George Catlin said that Raphael Bernardi, a licensed vendor, issued the complaint, while noting the public safety department doesn't feel that existing city code provisions clearly define the requirement that such collectors be licensed. As a result, no violation tickets were issued to these persons.

In an attempt to clarify that it's unlawful for others to collect such refuse without a license, the ordinance was adopted.

It says that it's against the law for any person to engage in the business of a vendor, a peddler, a hawk or a huckster, or a house to house solicitor and canvasser, or a refuse collector, without having obtained a permit and license.

The law defines a refuse collector as any person, (with the exception of a department of sanitation employee), traveling in the city and removing or carting away refuse, including but not limited to newspapers, cardboard boxes, scrap metal and other items placed at or near the curb.

It also notes that the annual fee for a refuse collector is $20.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters
Director of Public Libraries

Books on horses and horseback riding are some of the most frequently requested items at our Library. As an illustration of the types of books in our collection, here is a sample of titles on this subject that we have added during the last year.

THE COMPLETE BOOK OF THE HORSE, (Arco), edited by Elwyn H. Edwards, is an authoritative survey of all aspects of horses and horsemanship. It combines a wealth of practical and technical guidance with a wide variety of historical and general background information. The book has been arranged in 10 major sections which include the following: The history of the horse; care and management; methods and techniques of training; the horse at work; and the health of the horse.

This volume is fully illustrated, and the result is a book that is both instructive and entertaining—a book that will be of immense value to anyone interested in horses.

INVITATION TO RIDING, (Simon and Schuster), by Sheila W. Hundt is a practical, readable book, the ideal guide for the equestrian novice who is just starting off with horses.

The book also is much more—it is a truly inviting introduction to the whole range of riding pleasures and challenges that await the rider who has already made a start, from simple trail riding, elementary dressage and jumping to the show ring, cross-country course and hunting field.

To top it off, there is invaluable advice and information about all phases of horse ownership and care, from the initial search and purchase to feeding, clothing, stabling and providing first-aid care for it. This book concludes with a useful appendix of sources, addresses and recommended reading.

BETTER RIDING, (Scribner), by Bill Froud tells how to become an effective—and gentle—rider. Emphasis is placed on three basic principles which, according to the author, are too often ignored: one, that would-be riders must make an effort to understand the characteristics and mental processes of the horse; two, that riders must take the time necessary to develop a well-balanced seat; and three, that beginners must learn on a trained well-mannered horse.

This book tells how best to begin and then sets out clearly and simply, in words and pictures, each logical step in the learning process.

The author has been associated with horses all his life and at the time this book was written, Bill Froud was national instructor to the British Horse Society.

IN THE ART OF DRESSAGE, (Doubleday), by Alois Podhajsky, the skills of dressage, which essentially means the utmost in natural grace and harmony of movement, is discussed from the point of view of proper performance and fair judging.

In applying the basic principles of classical horsemanship, he shows how they are the foundation for riding and training a horse to be used for any purpose, whether cross-country hacking, hunting or participation in shows.

The result is a provocative, candid view of today's dressage world and at the same time a thoroughly instructive manual for riders at all stages of development, for their instructors and for those who are to assess their accomplishments.

The photographs of the top international dressage riders included in the book are not only instructional but also constitute an invaluable pictorial record of the fine art of dressage.

HORSEBACK VACATION GUIDE, (Greene Press), by Steven D. Price, blazes a clear trail to a variety of horseback vacation opportunities in the U.S., Canada and on the continent.

Specific and practical chapters deal with pack-tripping, trail rides, dude-ranching, fox hunts and outstanding rodeos, shows and race meets, (with dates), plus information on summer riding camps for the younger set. A hacking chapter features tips on handling unknown horses. A special chapter features maverick horseback vacations for new-adventure seekers to choose from—from signing on a cattle drive to sleighing in Lapland.

Other books in our collection include THE MOST BEAUTIFUL HORSES, (Minerva), by Dominic Klein; AMERICA'S LAST WILD HORSES, (Dutton), by Hope Ryden; THE AMERICAN HORSE, AN ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF MAN'S NOBLEST FRIEND IN THE NEW WORLD, (Macmillan), by Barney Nagler; and HORSES, THEIR SELECTION, CARE, AND HANDLING, (Barnes), by Margaret Cabell Self.

In addition, one missing person was reported to the YSD. This was a 17-year-old girl who was found by the investigating division officer to be attending school the next day, (hence, no longer considered missing).

Incidents of larceny, four cases, and related categories, e.g., breaking and entering, one report, and auto theft, one report, involved three identified juvenile males regarding incidents solved to date. However, three of the larcenies are unsolved at this time.

Two of these incidents took place in homes where unsupervised teenage parties were held where many youths attended, (some of whom were uninvited), and money and articles of value were stolen.

Four assault incidents were reported, all being cases of one youth hitting another with his fists. Two of these cases necessitated the victim being transported to the hospital for medical treatment.

Weather 'Chilled' YSD's Case Load Last Month

The extremely cold weather last month has obviously played a role in the low number of cases referred to the Youth Service Division, (YSD), for investigation.

A total of 34 complaints, (one incident proved to be unfounded), were handled by the division. This was a considerable drop from the 51 and 79 complaints of last December and November, respectively, (in each instance, one proved to be unfounded). Last January, 41 incidents were received.

Violation of controlled substances, seven cases, was the category of highest incidence. One related offense, reported as an overdose, ultimately proved to be drunkenness.

Four marijuana incidents involved three adult males and two juvenile males, while one marijuana report remains unsolved at this point.

Meanwhile, one marijuana and beer case involved one adult male and three juvenile males, and one suspected sale incident remains unsolved. The drunkenness case involved a juvenile male.

The next highest category of incidence was runaways, five reports, involving six boys and one girl. The girl and one of the boys were self returned to their homes, while two of the incidents involved the same pair of boys on two separate occasions. These boys and another youth were apprehended by police and turned over to their parents or guardians.

In addition, one missing person was reported to the YSD. This was a 17-year-old girl who was found by the investigating division officer to be attending school the next day, (hence, no longer considered missing).

Incidents of larceny, four cases, and related categories, e.g., breaking and entering, one report, and auto theft, one report, involved three identified juvenile males regarding incidents solved to date. However, three of the larcenies are unsolved at this time.

Two of these incidents took place in homes where unsupervised teenage parties were held where many youths attended, (some of whom were uninvited), and money and articles of value were stolen.

Four assault incidents were reported, all being cases of one youth hitting another with his fists. Two of these cases necessitated the victim being transported to the hospital for medical treatment.

Three applications for petition were filed with the Wayne County Juvenile Court, one of which has been authorized for a court hearing, (a breaking and entering of a business case in The City).

With its January report, the YSD is initiating the inclusion of letters of commendation to its personnel. Det. John Albrecht was the recipient of praise from a Detroit man based upon an incident last November in a letter sent to Public Safety Director Henry Marchand.

The man said his son's wallet containing $45 in cash and a $7 check was taken from a locker at one of the high schools. A report was made and subsequently the check was cashed at a nearby establishment with a Xerox copy of the cancelled check being added to the police report.

"At this time, I suppose that we gave up any hope of recovering anything. What we failed to realize was that your Youth Service Division does, indeed, take an interest in youngsters who prefer to work rather than obtaining money dishonestly," the citizen said.

"Through the time, effort and fine work of Det. Albrecht, my son was fully reimbursed."

License Tab Deadline Set

The deadline for displaying 1977 Michigan license plate tabs on trucks, trailers and commercial vehicles is Tuesday, March 1, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Commercial vehicle owners who fail to have tabs displayed in the upper right corner of last year's Bicentennial license plate by March 1 will be ticketed," stated Auto Club Touring Manager Joseph Ratke, who added that state motorists have until April 1 to put tabs on plates for passenger cars and motorcycles.

To obtain a tab for trucks, trailers and commercial vehicles at Department of State or Auto Club offices, vehicle owners must bring in either the prepared renewal form mailed by the Department of State, the 1976 registration or the certificate of vehicle title, plus proof of public liability and property damage insurance.

"Persons who use their vehicle title for proof must number," Mr. Ratke explained.

Total license plate tab sales are down approximately 677,000 from last year at this time with the cold weather and unemployment primarily blamed for the lagging sales.

The diamond, April's birthstone, is the most noted of precious stones because of its rarity and beauty. The hardest and costliest of gems, the diamond is pure carbon—the only gemstone composed of one element. Pre-historic volcanoes provided the heat and pressure needed to force the carbon atoms into the crystalline form. The diamond's sentiment as a birthstone is innocence, and those who wear it are bequeathed marital happiness and good fortune. The Talmud tells how diamonds could be used to determine guilt or innocence in a trial. If the person was guilty, the diamond would cloud up, otherwise it would remain shining. Once the idea was common that diamonds were both male and female and could reproduce—perhaps this notion underlies the diamond's popularity for engagement rings.

Diamonds and good jewelry are likely to appreciate in value. If your jewelry is not insured, bring it in to VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, 881-4800, Detroit, for appraisal, and ask your insurance agent to be sure that you are adequately protected. If you are in market for your first piece of fine jewelry such as a diamond, do see us—we are very favorably known throughout the area for our integrity and high degree of professional workmanship.

Ruth Kaiser, of Lothrop road, is instructor for the special series of Detroit Symphony Orchestra Concert Previews, sponsored by the DSO's Junior Women's Association, which opens next Tuesday, February 22, at 1 o'clock at Ford Auditorium.

Four more programs are scheduled, on Tuesday, March 1, Wednesday, March 9, Tuesday, March 15, and Tuesday, March 22, all at 1 o'clock, all at Ford Auditorium.

Each session occurs a few days before the concert previewed is to be performed. The idea is to give the concert-goer a better understanding of the music he is about to hear and, to that end, guest speakers will be the artists who are appearing at the concerts as conductors or soloists.

The one Wednesday program is a DSO Lecture-Open Rehearsal. Mrs. Kaiser will speak on "Sibelius—Man and Musician."

Tuesdays, one hour of each hour-and-a-half class will be spent listening to records and piano illustrations of the music to be performed by the DSO later in the week. A discussion of the life, musical style and times of the composers involved will be included, along with study sheets for reference.

Non-Profit Women's Resource and Referral Center Opens in The Park; Workshops, Counseling and Printed Materials Available

Grosse Pointe now has its own Women's Resource and Referral Center, a non-profit facility, located at 14920 Hampton road in The Park, result of intensive study and planning by four local women: Sarah K. Hepburn, Ann B. McCleary, Shirley A. Piku and Connie Tily.

Through workshops, support groups, counseling and referrals, the Center hopes to offer women a chance to learn about themselves, examine their possibilities and

A Busy Week For Symphony

The Joffrey Ballet performs Sunday afternoon and evening, February 20, with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at Ford Auditorium.

The matinee performance, with tickets half-price for children under 12, is set for 2:30 o'clock. The evening program will be at 8:30 o'clock.

Professor Peter Schickele comes to town with "P.D.Q. Bach" Friday, February 25, for one performance only with the DSO. Billed as "an evening of musical madness," the concert starts at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

DSO conductor-in-residence Paul Freeman will conduct a pair of concerts featuring internationally-acclaimed cellist Arto Noras Saturday, February 26, at 8:30 o'clock, and Sunday, February 27, — a Kresge Family Concert — at 3:30 o'clock.

The afternoon Joffrey program includes Robert Joffrey's "Pas des Deesses" (Goddesses Dance), Twyla Tharp's "Douce Coupe II" and John Cranko's "Pineapple Poll."

Evening ballets will be "Moves" by Jerome Robbins, "Cacklin' Hen" by Twyla Tharp, Tchaikovsky Pas de Deux by George Balanchine and "Rodeo" by Agnes De-Mille.

Professor Schickele's selections for the "P.D.Q. Bach" presentation range in ridiculousness from the "Desecration of the House" overture to "Concerto for Bassoon versus Orchestra." Other works are the "Hindenburg" Concerto, "Canine Cantata: Wachtel Arf!" (Sleeping Dogs Awake) and Echo Sonata for Two Unfriendly Groups of Instruments.

Finish cellist Arto Noras makes his debut with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in the Haydn Cello Concerto No. 1 in C and Kokkonen's Cello Concerto.

Also on the program will be the Prokofiev Symphony No. 3.

Tickets for the Joffrey Ballet, as available, will be on sale at Ford Auditorium box office Sunday, priced at 6.50, $5 and $3.50 (children under 12, half price for matinee only).

How to buy a CRYSTAL CHANDELIER

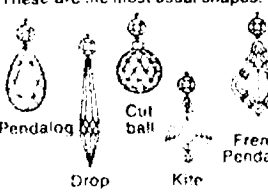

A fine crystal chandelier adds a special sparkle to a home. But when you go to buy a crystal chandelier there are some basic facts you should know.

What is lead crystal? Crystal is a kind of glass—the way diamonds are a kind of carbon. It's called lead crystal because crystal usually contains from 8 to 15% lead oxide. Lead makes the crystal workable—easier to blow into shapes, mold into crystal pendants and to cut with ornamental designs. The lead content also gives crystal its distinctive water-white purity.

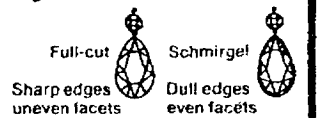

Why do they cost so much? All don't. While we can show you crystal chandeliers priced close to $1,000, we also have a good selection for less than $50. The difference in price usually depends on the quality of the crystal, the quantity of crystal, the variety of crystal shapes or decorations, plus the size and number of lights on the chandelier.

Crystal shapes. Crystal is either pressed in a mold or hand blown. You can't "ping" a chandelier to check its quality as you would do to a crystal goblet. You can inspect the quality of the pressed pendants. The more pendant shapes and sizes on a chandelier the more its value. These are the most usual shapes.

(P.S. You always hang the fatter side of the pendant toward you for maximum prismatic effect.)

Full-cut vs. Schmirgel. A pendant comes out of the mold with a dull surface and must be polished so it will reflect and refract light. The first polishing is done with fire. The cheapest pendants, called schmirgels, are only fire polished. They have dull edges and even facets.

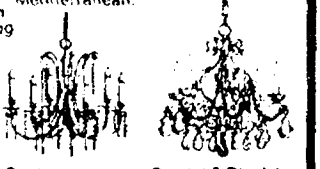

The next step is to polish only the outside edges. This is called "half-cut." The best crystal has every single facet carefully polished by hand on a wood wheel. You can feel sharp edges all over and since machines are not used, you can see the facets are irregular. This is called "full-cut" and is the highest quality.

What is Strass crystal? Strass is another type of chandelier jewelry. In fact, 80% of Strass crystal is actually used for jewelry. We can't tell you now it's made because it comes from one European source which won't reveal the secret process. But you'll recognize these sparkling stones because they look like diamonds. Each octagonal crystal is sharply cut to 24 facets like a diamond. Each is polished to a starlike brilliance. Each sparkles with rainbow reds, blues, and yellows like a diamond.

Strass festoons on swirling 24K gold plated frame.

Is crystal all Traditional? No. We also have handsome crystal that goes with Contemporary or Mediterranean.

The Wilcoxes' Golden Year

It just so happened that the Bicentennial Year 1976 was the Golden Wedding Anniversary year of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron E. Wilcox, and their private celebrations included—most appropriately!—an 8,000-mile cross-country automobile trip west, in company with Lou's brother-in-law and sister, the Gerrit Byls, of Grand Rapids.

There was a stopover in Estes Park, Colo., one of Ed and Lou's favorite vacation spots, for a rendezvous with good friends Dorothy and Jim Durrett.

Former Pointers Colonel and Mrs. J. C. Davenport opened their Davis, Calif., home to the travelers. Barb, a former fashion designer, writer for Vogue et al., interior decorating whiz AND gourmet cook, spent her time during the Davenports' three-year sojourn in Japan, (Dav was in SAC during the Korean War), writing on fashions for the Tokyo newspapers and collecting the beautiful Oriental antiques that grace their California home.

After a stay in the Bay area with Mrs. Margaret Powell Otzman, formerly of Grand Rapids, it was turn-around time. Crater Lake and Victoria, B.C., Banff and Glacier National Park, through Yellowstone to relax awhile in Jackson Hole...

Fourth of July found the Wilcoxes in Wisconsin, houseguests of the Dwight Nelsons, Jr., formerly of Windmill Pointe drive. Here, Ed and Lou discovered that their son-in-law, John Dieters, of Maplewood, N.J., had been collaborating with Sally (Mrs. Fred) Woelkers, of East Detroit, on a big Welcome Home/50th Anniversary party, to be held—where else?—in Ed and Lou's very own home in Loraine road.

The Maplewood-Michigan long-distance lines buzzed as the guest list was finalized and plans for a festive garden party, complete with umbrella tables and outdoor bar, were completed.

It was, of course, a smashing success. Mingling with the local guests were the Wilcox grandchildren, Pat and Bob Dieters, the Larry Wilcoxes, of Jackson, and the Jimmy Byls and Ray Huartsons, of Grand Rapids.

Having made it to the West Coast in '76, Ed and Lou decided it would be appropriate to con-

Let's Talk Real Estate
by John E. Brink

When the school millage vote came up we stuck our necks out and supported it publicly with large ads in the newspapers. We probably alienated many but if we did they misunderstood our reasoning. We were for supporting our property values which we felt stemmed from the success of our school systems.

Well here we go again. We have just publicly introduced a revolutionary street system for all of our Grosse Pointes. This new system will be available for all G.P. residents in a brochure from soon. From our studies and the opinions of those we have discussed our plan, we know we have a winner.

Simply said we break up through streets—the ones we live on. We do this by placing ending the street mid-block. This creates a mini park where the street is ended and forms two subdivisions. This restricts traffic, making it more quiet, safer and more beautiful. The idea can be used on almost every street in Grosse Pointe. Facts in the past tell us that houses on cul-de-sacs command more money, a more beautiful community with quiet streets should also improve property values. About the only complaint we've heard thus far is that we don't have a cul-de-sac in front of their particular house!

clude their Anniversary/Bicentennial celebrations on the East Coast.

During two weeks of Christmas socializing in Maplewood they were entertained by scores of friends, including former Pointers Dorothy and Vincent Norako.

The day granddaughter Pat left for Endicott College was a let-down... but the Wednesday after New Year's, Lou and Ed were lunching at Sardi's, guests of Dr. Margaret Ferguson, a psychiatrist friend they had met at the Georgetown home of the Charles Marwicks.

A few days later the Wilcoxes arrived in Washington, D.C., ("just in time for the first big snowstorm"), to be guests of the aforementioned Helen and Charlie Marwick, who entertained January 7 at a dinner party in their townhouse.

The conversation was sparkling; suffice it to say that gathered at the Marwicks' table were mystery writer Patricia Moyes and her husband James Hazzard, Chief of Translators for the International Monetary Fund — World Bank, Eloise Engle, who has written 18 books, and her husband Lauri Paananen, an ex-aviator in the Finnish Air (Continued on Page 26)

Dionne Debuts At April Pops

Dionne Warwick will appear as guest artist in the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's Weekend Pops concert April 15 and 17 at Ford Auditorium.

Trumpeter "Doc" Severinsen, originally scheduled to perform at the April concert, will appear instead with the DSO during its Cabaret Pops series in May. Details on Severinsen's Cabaret Pops appearance will be announced in early spring.

Miss Warwick, who will be making her debut with the DSO, will give two performances with the Orchestra: Friday, April 15, at 8:30, and Sunday, April 17, at 3:30 o'clock.

Tickets, priced at $7.50, $6 and $4.50, are available at the Ford Auditorium box office.

MACLD Schedules East Side Meeting

The Detroit Chapter of the Michigan Association for Children with Learning Disabilities has scheduled an East Side meeting for Monday, February 28, at 7:30 in the evening at Peace Lutheran Church in East Warren avenue.

Guest speaker Florence Sharp, originator of the "Bucket Brigade" method of using parent volunteers to tutor children in school, will tell how to start "Bucket Brigades" in local schools.

The meeting is free and open to the public. The presentation will be followed by a social hour, at which parent and professional advisors will be available to answer questions.

Natural Foods Gain in Local Popularity

By Katie Elstila

According to Steven Pruette, Frank Perraino and Dan Healy, people in the Grosse Pointe area are becoming more and more health conscious. As owners or managers of natural food stores in the Pointe, the three men are in a good position to make that claim.

Perraino is the manager of Vim and Vigor, which has operated for six years in Mack avenue in the Woods. "I've definitely seen an upward trend in our business," he says. "People are more aware of chemicals and additives in their food—especially in Michigan, where we've had the recent PBB scandal."

Perraino feels that many people, unfortunately, think of health food stores as just a freaky fad. "Not so," he asserts. "We simply offer honest food untainted by artificial preservatives or flavors. Actually, this is the same type of food you could find in any neighborhood supermarket years ago, before the large food companies discovered that preservatives could increase their profits by increasing the shelf life of their products."

He smiles and adds, "You know, it really strikes me as funny when you go into a large grocery store and find a 5 by 10 shelf labeled 'health foods'. Now just what does that say about the rest of the food in the store?"

Dan Healy, owner of Healy's Health Hut, also located in Mack avenue in the Woods, says, "Valuable food has to be sought. Our business has grown in the six years we've been open because people are learning that being healthy is beautiful and good nutrition is crucial to good health."

"They're also realizing that food that is good for you doesn't have to taste horrible!"

Steven Pruette, owner of Nature's Best, Kercheval avenue in the Village, is interested in nutrition and preventive medicine. He points out the enormous amount of money a family can save by viewing good nutrition as a means of preventive medicine. "Good health can radically cut down on your medical bills!"

Judging by a visit to Nature's Best recently, yogurt is very popular with local residents. Claudette Bokram, of the Farms, stopped in to buy a few pints. "I grew up in Europe," she explained, "and yogurt was a basic in my diet. I enjoy it as a snack because it's so nourishing and refreshing."

Marlena Dossin, of the Woods, saw the "frozen yogurt" sign in the window and decided it sounded good. "I like granola, too," she added.

Jerry Hudson, a visitor from Pittsburgh, Pa., is thinking of opening a frozen yogurt stand back home. He stepped up to the snack bar and assertively ordered his first. We waited breathlessly while he tasted the creamy honey-strawberry treat. He hesitated.

"A qualified success," he conceded, mustering a smile. Mary Waldron, of Grosse Pointe City, is the clerk at Nature's Best. She reports that there is no "typical" customer.

"I've been surprised by all the different kinds of people who come in to shop," she said. "We get a lot of adults coming in for unprocessed bran. In fact, it's one of our most popular items. They add it to their cereal or eat it plain. It adds fiber to the diet."

"We also get a lot of young kids coming in to buy candy bars. The candy has no preservatives, no artificial flavors and uses honey instead of sugar. We've even got yogurt bars."

Frank Perraino agrees. "Our customers are people of all ages. There's an 85-year-old man in our store right now buying yogurt and raw honey."

Marvelling at the more than 100 types of tea in the stores, with intriguing names like red zinger, pink mint and blueberry leaf, we wondered if tea sales had zoomed since the increase in coffee prices.

"Definitely," said Dan Healy. "We can hardly keep it on the shelf."

"Even more popular than tea with coffee drinkers," notes Perraino, "are the coffee substitutes, pero and cafix. They're cereal beverages, and are made from roasted barley, malt, chicory and molasses."

Anybody who is interested in learning more about good nutrition will find bookshelves filled with information at all three stores, plus enthusiastic, knowledgeable staffs to answer questions. And, while nutrition-conscious cooks pick up their bean sprouts, whole wheat macaroni and sea salt, they can also find cosmetics made from natural ingredients that sound good enough to eat!

The amount of money your home is worth can vary, depending on the knowledge of the appraiser, the brokers ability to "market" your property, and the "small dollar" advice you receive. Often a few small dollars carefully spent, will bring back big dollars when your property is sold. Pointer of Interest

MRS. HERMAN P. SATTLER, OF WEBBER PLACE

By Janet Mueller

A few years back, Mabel Sattler developed what could have been a very serious eye problem. For six weeks she tried, unsuccessfully, to have it diagnosed. Then, through the courtesy of the late Dr. John Ganschow, (Mrs. Ganschow, Vera, and Mabel were good friends, for they're both the kind of ladies who wind up working for every good cause), she was referred to Dr. Philip Hessburg at Ford Hospital.

Dr. Hessburg found the trouble in less than 10 minutes, and remedied the cause the following morning with a laser beam.

But Mabel had had a taste of what it might be like to wander through a blurry world — worse, to wander through a world in darkness — and her trips to Dr. Hessburg's office in connection with her eye problem left her with a deep sympathy for people who had serious eye problems, the very young and the very old, many coupled with other physical problems.

Gives Her The Credit

"Dr. Hessburg, right or wrong, graciously credits me with planting the seed which grew into the Detroit Institute of Ophthalmology. All I recall is telling him it was so strenuous for those with serious eye problems to make a rather long trip, ride elevators and go through long corridors to seek medical help."

How, Dr. Hessburg asked his patient, should it be? "A one-story building," answered Mabel, "on a major transportation line, with city-wide connections."

The Detroit Institute of Ophthalmology is located in East Jefferson Avenue, a major transportation artery with city-wide connections, in Grosse Pointe Park.

It's a one-story building. Dr. Hessburg, with the assistance of Mr. Sattler, was successful in negotiating with Chrysler Corporation for the unused building. They were successful in securing parking space as well.

Takes Lot of Money

It takes a lot of money to start a new project. The building had to be entirely remodeled. Half that remodeling was done immediately, for the DIO, as a fledgling organization, needed only half the space to open and begin operations.

Dr. Hessburg, encouraged by Mabel Sattler and Harvey Firestone, Jr., pursued the idea of the Institute with his own thoughts and beliefs. Today the DIO is a going and growing organization. It has become a beehive of activity, and considerably widened its scope in the study, teaching and practice of Ophthalmology.

It has become affiliated with Bon Secours Hospital. It has organized such programs as January's Glaucoma Screening Clinic and lecture at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, co-sponsored by area Lions Clubs and the Friends of Bon Secours.

Will Be Co-Sponsor

Next summer the DIO will co-sponsor, with Bon Secours and Henry Ford Hospitals, a three-day course for graduate ophthalmologists at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn. It will be concerned with diseases and surgery of the retina, and will feature approximately one dozen speakers from all over the country.

The course has been organized by Drs. Howard Joondeph, of the Institute, and J. David Carey, of Henry Ford Hospital.

The Detroit Institute of Ophthalmology's growth has been phenomenal, and in order for that growth to continue it has become necessary to consider remodeling the other half of the building. That means money — so, to help raise funds for this physical renovation, the Institute will have its first benefit: a $25 per person champagne, hors d'oeuvres, entertainment, (by the Windsor Light Opera Company), and dancing "Vision to Remember" this Saturday evening, February 19, at the top of Detroit's new Renaissance Center.

Mrs. Lee Iacocca is honorary chairman for the event. Mrs. Florence E. Sisman is general chairman. Co-chairmen are Mrs. A. J. Ricca and Mrs. Herman P. Sattler. Real Love Affair

When the Sattlers first moved to Detroit, 30 years ago, they were known as "that strange young couple who were transferred to Detroit and liked it." Their love affair with Detroit, and Michigan, has never ended.

"I even like the cold weather," says Mabel. "I couldn't live in Florida: I'd miss the four seasons, and besides, I'd get homesick."

They're Grosse Pointers/Detroiters by choice, not birth. Mabel was born in Louisville, Ky., but spent about half of her childhood in Pittsburgh, Pa. Herman, too, is a native of Kentucky, (Fort Thomas, on the Ohio border), but spent most of his early years in Cincinnati.

They met in Louisville, where Mabel was employed in the Chevrolet-GM Division, in the Sales Promotion Department. Herman, who had been with the same GM Division in Charleston, W. Va., was transferred to the Louisville Branch. He was subsequently transferred to Atlanta, Ga., where he was stationed when he and Mabel were married.

Have Had Many Homes

During the course of their married life, they've lived all over the southeast section of the United States, in Chicago, and in Washington, D.C., which, next to Detroit, is Mabel's favorite city. "I loved becoming better acquainted with the seats of government... and, if you live in Washington, everybody comes to see you."

Their daughter, Judith, was born in Birmingham, Ala. She's Mrs. William J. Cox now, and resides in Grosse Pointe Woods with her husband and their two young sons, Charles and John. Mr. Cox is on the board of directors of the Ferry School PTA.

"The best thing in the world is a good marriage," Mabel believes. She's had one herself, her daughter's having one, and the grandsons are frosting on a cake good enough to eat without.

The Sattlers moved three times to the Detroit area. "The third was the last, and we made our permanent home here."

Shopping Was Fun

"Crime was not so rampant in the area as it is presently. The Woodward strip was a fine shopping center. Kern's national award. However, it's nice to know if you're planning a very small decorating venture, they will welcome you, warmly."

was still alive and well, and downtown shopping was great because you always ran into your friends on the same mission."

The Women's City Club was quite an institution at the time, with close to 6,000 members. Mabel became affiliated with it and, being Mabel, was soon much more than a name on a membership roster. She served as contributing editor and chairman of the Club Magazine, as chairman, (twice), of the Club's Christmas Fair, as a member of the House and other committees. "It was a wonderful experience. We were like a whole family of friends."

The Sattlers became affiliated with a local church, where Herman was chairman of the Finance committee and Mabel directed the Youth Choir before becoming Sunday School superintendent.

Worked with Elderly

The good, busy years flew by. For a time Mabel directed a Glee Club at Carmel Hall. "They had a Mother Superior there who would put Conrad Hilton to shame." Mabel got a great kick out of working with the elderly residents, sharing their exuberance and savoring the personal satisfaction of drawing out an occasional diamond in the rough. (She is not, by the way, Catholic.)

The piano in the Sattlers' living room and organ in their family room are used instruments. "I play 'at' both of them," says Mabel, past member of Tuesday Musicals and the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Association, veteran of the Detroit Grand Opera Women's Association, member and past board member of the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

She thrilled to the news that Anatol Dorati is coming to the DSO, for she thinks he's "the best in the world." Mabel first heard Dorati in

"Naturally," Lou recalls, laughing, "I had to 'perform.'" Once the other guests find out you're an accomplished caster of horoscopes, there's nothing for it but to do a little casting... fortunately, Lou always considers her role of caster as much fun as that of castee, and has a grand time "looking up stars."

She didn't consult them to find out when it would be an auspicious day for the Wilcoxes to return to Grosse Pointe, however. The weatherman's warning of a second big snowstorm on the way was enough: the day after the Marwick's dinner, Ed and Lou decided that although they'd be missing some nice parties, they'd better be heading home.

do it. Besides, it's a good way to see all the neighbors." She's a good organizer, and has worked extensively on program books, in every capacity from ad salesman to editor. She's a sucker for good causes and, once committed, is a dynamo, giving her all to such organizations as the American Lung Association and the Women's Division for Project Hope.

Is Charter Member

During her presidency, (the fourth; she is also a charter member), of the latter group, the Hope Ship League was founded.

Mr. Sattler is on the board of directors of the Detroit Institute of Ophthalmology. Mabel is on the honorary board.

"A Vision to Remember" combines two of Mabel's loves: Detroit and the DIO. She hopes that party-goers, from the top floor of Renaissance Center's Tower I with its magnificent view of the city, will realize that the city they are looking down on is magnificent—and is theirs.

Theirs, too, is the Detroit Institute of Ophthalmology, an asset, not only to the Grosse Pointe community, but to all of Detroit. When the new area is completed, housing research laboratories, library facilities and a center for use in a program of training resident ophthalmologists in association with Bon Secours Hospital, the DIO will be even more of an asset as it continues in its program of healing, teaching, and the treatment of the human eye.

You don't have to tell Mabel Sattler that sight is a precious gift. She's been there. She knows.
