PRESIDENT CARTER said Wednesday he has received information that Fidel Castro intends to remove Cuban troops from Angola. Mr. Carter said this would be a positive step toward normalizing U.S. relations with the government in Havana. The president, who made the disclosure in response to a question during an appearance before employees of the Agriculture Department, said the information came from "indirect sources."

CONGRESS ASSURED itself, federal judges and top level bureaucrats of a hefty pay raise Thursday when the House of Representatives adjourned without voting against the proposal. Last minute efforts by some House members to force colleagues to vote on the pay increase, thereby showing voters whom not to blame for the raise, collapsed when the House went home for the weekend. The vote to adjourn was 224-109. The raises were proposed by former President Gerald R. Ford after a special commission recommended them. They had the support of President Carter.

THE SPACE SHUTTLE underwent its first successful test flight Friday in California, carried aloft for two hours in piggyback fashion by a jumbo jet. Pilots of the Boeing 747 reported no problems as they maneuvered the jet and shuttle Enterprise to about 16,000 feet over the California desert. Officials said the jet and its piggyback rider reached speeds of about 300 miles per hour. The $500 million Enterprise is a prototype of the reusable craft that will carry cargo and scientists in the next phase of U.S. planned space flights in the 1980's.

AN ALASKA CONTRACTOR, who says he was a secret courier for Howard Hughes, claims he delivered the disputed Mormon will to a service station operator, a district judge was told. The claim, if true, could not only revive the standing of the controversial document, which is close to being written off as a fraud, but directly link the will to Hughes. Attorney Harold Thoden, acting executor for the will, told District Judge Keith Hayes Friday that he interviewed a contractor in Anchorage, LeVar Forsythe, who confirmed Melvin Dummer's strange story of the will's origin.

SECRETARY OF STATE Cyrus R. Vance left Saudi Arabia after being promised that the Saudis will resist any new oil price increases, but he ran into Syrian skepticism in Damascus over an early negotiated settlement of Arab-Israeli differences. The Saudi promise came during Mr. Vance's meeting Saturday with Deputy Prime Minister Prince Fahd and Foreign Minister Prince Saud al-Faisal. Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates broke with their partners in the 13-member organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries last year and refused to obey the majority decision on a 10 percent increase.

SECRETARY OF STATE Cyrus R. Vance returned Monday night from his Middle East peace mission, saying, "We have made a first step, but the road ahead is long and difficult." Before leaving for home after the seven-day, six nation swing, Mr. Vance conceded that both Arabs and Israelis are "deeply divided" about how to resolve the Palestinian question and bring peace to the Middle East.

GPF Views Arbitration Decision

Police Receive 9.7 Percent Hike in Pay in Retroactive Award

By Tom Greenwood
After 22 months of negotiations, a labor arbitration award has been received between The Farms and the Grosse Pointe Farms Police Officers Assoc., (GPFPOA).

The Farms Council voted 7-0 at its Monday night, February 21, meeting to authorize the administration to put the award for fiscal year 1975-76 into effect.

According to Farms City Clerk Richard Solak, the award calls for a percentage increase in wages of 9.7 percent over wages in the fiscal year 1974-75, when wages were increased by 5.4 percent.

This would raise the basic wage of a Farms patrolman from $14,400 a year to $15,800.

Sick Days Hiked
The increase in total compensation, including wages, overtime, holiday pay, longevity, pension, clothing allowance, health and life insurance, is 10.1 percent.

Commenting on the award, Mr. Solak said, "Although the award is higher than we would have liked, but given the bedsheet list of demands submitted by the union and the uncertainty of the arbitration proceedings, the end result could have been much more costly to the city."

Selection Committee Set to Pick Planning Consultant in Woods

Recommendation to Council Scheduled to Be Made Within Two Weeks; Group Views Areas of Land Use, Multiple Dwellings, Entire Zoning Ordinance

By Roger A. Waha
A selection committee, comprising five Woods officials whose responsibility is to screen, interview and recommend a planning consultant to the council, will probably reach a decision within the next two weeks.

"We're getting close to it," said Councilman George S. Freeman, who indicated a recommendation will be made on one of the six planning consultants currently being interviewed. Mr. Freeman, along with Councilman George Cueter and Planning Commissioners Peter Glezan, Robert Trinklein and John Kennedy make up the committee.

Last December, the council unanimously concurred in a Planning Commission recommendation to engage the services of a professional consultant to review conceptual standards of multiple dwellings and the entire zoning ordinance. The overall area of land use also is being considered.

Areas Explored
While these areas are receiving the attention of the selection committee during the screening process, and will continue to be main focal points, officials will probably zero in on other related areas once a consultant is approved by the council and further specifics toward exploration are agreed upon.

Noting that several meetings already have been held by the committee, Mr. Freeman said another session will be held before a decision is reached. "Land use and the zoning ordinance are two items we have been charged with regarding selecting a consultant," he stated.

At the same time, Mr. Freeman said six or seven other areas related to those above, and which are considered priorities, are being explored with the various planners.

One of these areas, he said, is the overall aspect of traffic flow in the city, while both City Administrator Chester E. Petersen and Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos viewed the future of the Seven-Mack Shopping Center in relation to the proposed development by Saint John Hospital.

Criteria Considered

For Mr. Freeman, the screening process has been a rewarding one. He said exchanges between the committee and the planners have "helped us learn more about the planning needs of our city."

In fact, he called this "the most educational process" in which he's ever been involved.

Cul-de-Sac Plan Draws Reaction

NEWS' Poll Gives Slight Edge to Residents Favoring Proposal

By George Polgar Jr.
The media blitz which accompanied last week's unveiling of a local realtor's Pointe cul-de-sac plan was apparently not lost on area residents.

A poll by telephone of 35 Pointers conducted by the NEWS found only two people who had not heard of the proposal.

Only persons living on streets that would be affected by realtor John Brink's reorganization plan were contacted. Of these, 13 said they favored the idea, 11 were opposed and nine were undecided.

Most of the people who said they favored the idea reported the slowdown in traffic as the most attractive feature.

Security Measure
"I think there is too much traffic running up and down these narrow side streets and this sounds like it might be a remedy to the problem," said a resident in The Woods.

"I think it would be nice to have a quiet little green space in the middle of the block, and with no traffic going through, children could play safely on the street. I'm all for it," said a Park resident.

The value of the plan as a security measure ranked as the second most favorable aspect, while the positive effect on property values followed as a close third.

"I think cul-de-sacs are fine ideas because they make a neighborhood more secure and self contained. They keep away unnecessary traffic and outsiders," said a Shores woman.

Even though the blanket coverage of the proposal by four newspapers and three TV news reports stirred widespread criticism of The Pointe's tendency toward isolationism, very few respondents favoring the plan mentioned fear of Detroit as a major factor.

Innocent Man Shot in Woods Holdup Case

Resident, Whose Description Matched Suspect's, Wounded after Police Chase; Gunman Still at Large, Says FBI

A lone gunman, who's still at large, held up the Detroit and Northern Savings and Loan Assoc., 19307 Mack avenue, and escaped with cash, (the specific amount wasn't released by the FBI), on Friday afternoon, February 18. Shortly after, a Woods man, whose description matched that of the suspect, was pursued by two Farms detectives, wounded and ultimately apprehended at Kelly and Moross, Detroit, by police.

It was after he was taken for treatment at Saint John Hospital for two bullet wounds received in the incident that police learned Mark Lawrence Monterosso, 23, of Roslyn road, wasn't involved in the holdup at all. Meanwhile, his van, in which he fled, received at least 14 bullet holes.

Mr. Monterosso suffered a through and through wound to the top of his right shoulder and a grazing wound at the base of his skull, police said.

Demands Money
One of the tellers at Detroit and Northern, who visited the hospital, said he was definitely not the man involved in the holdup. As a result, Mr. Monterosso was released by the FBI after treatment.

The incident unfolded just before 12:45 p.m. when a lone white male, between 40-45 years, around 5'11" tall with curly hair and wearing a hunter's orange hooded sweatshirt, entered and walked up to a teller's window at which time the employee was on the phone, according to the report.

Another teller asked if she could assist the man and, after he approached her, the employee said she recognized him from being in the bank earlier when he exchanged $20 for a roll of quarters.

This photograph was taken during the robbery of the Detroit and Northern Savings and Loan Assoc., 19307 Mack avenue, on Friday, February 18, at approximately 12:45 p.m. If you have any idea as to the identity of the pictured suspect, contact the FBI at 965-2323 or the Woods Public Safety Department at 886-2700. All responses will be kept confidential, said the FBI.

Friends of GP Library Present Gift of $14,307

The Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library recently donated $14,307, earmarked for books, films, newspapers and audio-visual materials for all three branch libraries.

Most of the gift, $10,000, will purchase reference and special interest books at the three branches. A tape cassette display will be purchased with another $800.

Almost $3,000 will go to updating the Central branch collection of "New York Times" on microfilm, covering the years 1970-73. The balance will pay rental on six feature-length films.

The 3,000 member Friends group, thought to be the largest in the country, is now in the process of its annual membership drive. Adults can join the group with a donation of $5 or more.

GPW Eyes Report on Flooding

City Officials, Citizen Groups to Study Document, Proposed Projects

By Roger A. Waha
A storm water run-off and basement flooding report focusing upon the northeast and southwest sections of The Woods, and ensuing recommendations, was unanimously referred to the Committee of the Whole and City Administrator Chester E. Petersen for further study.

This action on the document, prepared by City Engineer Larry Pate, was taken by the Woods Council at a regular meeting earlier this month.

Mr. Pate's report, initiated via Mr. Petersen's direction, stems from complaints of residents in the Van K-Perrien place and Linville-Raymond-Bournmouth areas of the community.

Action Sought
Based upon flooding conditions because of the heavy rainfall last July 28-29, the citizens sought action from the council to determine some ways of reducing the frequency and magnitude of basement flooding which they experienced.

Mr. Pate's recommendations include the diversion of surface water run-off from roof conductors to ground surfaces, i.e., diversion of flows from downspouts, plus the initiation of three sewer installation projects are proposed for the southerly end of the city and the other for the northerly end.

The estimated cost of the proposed projects reaches $389,100 for the northeast section of the city and $22,500 for the southwest end. As part of one item for the northeast section, Mr. Pate says an additional $66,900 can be tacked on to furnish outlets and parallel runs of eight-inch diameter roof drain interceptors.

Mr. Petersen, in saying he basically agrees with the recommendations, stated, "It's up to my office to present to (Continued on Page 6)

Document Accepted By Board

Fact-Finder's Report Spurs Possibility of Attempts at Finalizing Contract

By Susan McDonald

For the first time since the long, often bitter contract battle began last May, a settlement may be in sight between the Board of Education and teachers.

The Board announced Tuesday, February 22, it will accept recommendations for a settlement made in a fact-finder's report, and expects to meet as soon as possible with the teachers to attempt to finalize a contract.

Grosse Pointe Education Assoc., (GPEA), President Doris Cook called the Board's acceptance of the report a "major breakthrough in negotiations" and said her bargaining team is ready for the follow-through at the table.

High Price Tag
The 25-page report supports many of the Board proposals strengthening management rights, and rules in favor of the Board in the majority of language issues.

But the price tag on the suggested settlement is high—amounting to a 23 percent pay and fringe benefit increase for three years, on top of the average two percent "automatic" incremental increases teachers receive.

Although the Board is not releasing any estimates of the cost of the package, it's believed the provisions for the first year alone would cost close to $200,000 more than the Board's original offer of $750,000 in new money.

Superintendent Dr. William Coats said the settlement could be financed with the millage renewals that will go before voters Saturday, March 12.

Await Next Move
While acknowledging they are not satisfied with all the report's provisions, (especially the economic package), a Board statement says, "In the interests of settling the protracted dispute, the Board will agree to it, (the report's), terms, provided that similar total approval is received from the GPEA."

As of NEWS' press time, the GPEA negotiating team had not yet formally met to discuss its next move. They learned of the Board's acceptance at a Monday, February 21, meeting at 11 p.m. The report was presented to most Board members at a meeting earlier Monday evening.

The fact-finder, Dr. John Edward Simpkins, ruled on, at best, 20 of the 29 issues presented by the two sides. He suggested the rest be either dropped from negotiations or deferred to discussion in future contracts.

Board Seats Up for Grabs

Board of Education positions now held by Laurance Harwood and Melissa Maghielse will be up for grabs in a June 13 election.

Persons interested in running for the job must have their petitions filed by Monday, April 11.

The petitions must contain the names of at least 88 local registered voters. They should be filed by 4 p.m. on April 11 with the secretary of the Board, in the business office, 389 St. Clair avenue.

Petitions also are available from that office. Neither Mr. Harwood nor Mrs. Maghielse have yet decided if they will be candidates in the June election. However, both trustees said they are giving it serious consideration.

Candidates must be residents of the school district and a qualified registered voters. The term of office will run from July 1, 1977-June 30, 1981.

For further information, call Thomas Ott, director of business affairs, at 885-2000.

Suffering loses all its charm if one has to do it in silence. Some people look for charity because of what it covers.

Fact-Finder's Report Accepted by Board

In a conclusion to the report, Dr. Simpkins acknowledges that the "Board has not based its submissions on an inability to pay argument," and that his recommendations do not take into account their ability to pay the salaries.

He also indicates he found GPEA arguments about their loss of parity with other Wayne County teachers "persuasive," and concludes that his suggested economic adjustments "will help restore that parity."

The GPEA has argued its members have dropped during the last decade from a number one position on pay scales in Wayne County to as low as 28.

The report recommends an eight percent pay hike for teachers at the top, (11th step), of the scale in year one, an eight percent hike in year two and a six percent increase in year three.

Such a teacher would move from a present salary of $19, $850 to $21,438 this year, $22,081 in the 1977-78 school year and $23,406 in 1978-79.

For teachers not at the top of the scale, the pay increases would be six percent, seven percent and six percent for the respective three years.

On Teacher Evaluation

A teacher just starting out in the system would receive $10,600 this year, $11,569 in 1977-78 and $13,065 in 1978-79. Those figures include not only the fact-finder's suggested pay increases, but automatic moves up the salary scale.

In addition, all teachers would receive 2.5 percent increases in fringe benefits in the last two years of the contract.

Union officials maintain that even in the third year of the suggested contract they would still not be in the top 10 pay scales of the 35 Wayne County districts.

The report rules favorably on many Board proposals to strengthen management rights. The hottest of these language issues involved a Board proposal to give departmental chairpersons responsibility to evaluate teachers.

Dr. Simpkins completely accepted the Board proposal, saying it would be "of real assistance to the Board in discharging its functions."

Dr. Simpkins also supported the Board's position on teacher evaluations, the rights of teachers, make-up of professional study committees and personal leave days.

The fact-finder did support the GPEA in reaffirming their grievance rights in relation to evaluations, class size and the physical plant.

The release of the fact-finder's report was delayed somewhat on Friday, February 18, by an unsuccessful Board attempt to keep it out of the public domain until the following Wednesday.

Board spokesmen said their attempt to withhold the report was intended to facilitate free discussion between the two bargaining teams.

Planning Consultant

The committee is considering several criteria toward making a recommendation. Mr. Freeman said each firm's experience is being viewed along with "how they come across regarding presentations of what they would do for the city. We want no blanket planning but want to fit it to the city's needs, i.e., custom-made for Grosse Pointe Woods."

So far, Mr. Freeman said all are well qualified and "this makes the selection so difficult." (The six firms under consideration are from Detroit, two businesses, and Utica, Southfield, Warren and Ann Arbor).

For his part, Mr. Pinkos, who was chairman of the Planning Commission when the last consultant operated in The Woods in 1957 and prepared studies of multiple and commercial zoning areas, said he's interested in actual land use and those pieces of property in the city that are not usable and are not used.

Areas of Interest
The mayor also expressed a strong interest in the future development of the Seven-Mack Shopping Center area.

Summing up the basic breakdown of interest, Mr. Pinkos felt the Planning Commission was concerned with land use regarding conceptual standards in housing, multiple dwellings and parking in commercial areas, while Mr. Petersen was very interested in updating the zoning ordinance and the council, the general area of land use.

(Mr. Petersen had earlier called such updating "the biggest priority of all" because the zoning ordinance was obsolete in many respects such as in definitions and requirements for off-street parking in various categories, plus it has been amended so much. He also felt parts of the law weren't all-inclusive).

Meanwhile, Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara, who has been directly involved in the meetings between the committee and the planners, made it clear it's really too early to precisely determine the overall scope of a plan.

Need Objectives
"We're at the stage of trying to determine ourselves what we really want and then we'll go from there," he said.

Community goals in this area will have to be formulated once a consultant is selected, he stated, thus starting "the beginning of a relationship which will go on for some time."

At this point, as the screening process continues, it's premature to point to specifics regarding a coordinated and, perhaps, long-range program for the city.

This will come in time after a consultant is picked and after officials are able to get together to formulate specific objectives.

POINTER APPOINTED

WOMC Radio, a Metro-media Station, announced the addition of Bob Charlton of The Pointe to the staff as air personality this month. Mr. Charlton will host afternoon drive from 3-7 p.m. on weekdays and from 12 noon-6 p.m. on Saturdays. He began his radio career in 1959, at WDOG in Marine City, while doing a part-time stint as a country singer and sales engineer. Mr. Charlton was at WCAR from 1959-1963 and joined WWJ Radio in 1964. During his 12½ years at WWJ, Mr. Charlton hosted the Travel Call show for two years and Speak Out for two years.

Cul-de-Sac Plan Reaction

plan Friday night, February 18, saying that Pointers need not stop at closing off some of their streets.

"Sure, why stop there? Why don't they just close up all the streets connecting them to Detroit — the only way to get into Grosse Pointe would be by boat," he said.

Many of the respondents to the NEWS poll said the isolation factor was what spurred them to the plan. "It's actually a good idea to keep the streets safe and quiet," it also looks like a big attempt to make Grosse Pointe a closed community," said a woman from The Park. "I'm a believer in Detroit and I don't think we should try to separate ourselves from its problems."

Cost Concerns
Other people were more adamant about not simply writing off the fifth largest city in the U.S. as a goner.

"I think the idea is absolutely asinine, just stupid," said a Woods woman. "Detroit and The Pointe are not good neighbors as it is and we shouldn't try to make things any worse."

Cost and implementation problems were popular among those who were against the plan.

"There is no reason to change anything around here," said a man from The Farms. "Everything here is fine, as it has been for the 30 years that I've lived here. There is no reason to take on an added expense. Taxes are high enough."

"It looks like a nice idea," said another Farms resident. "But it'll never work so why bother with it."

One respondent from The Park didn't think much of the plan either way but thought that Mr. Brink was getting a lot of undue publicity. That response was mounted in the "opposed" column.

People responding that they were undecided either felt that they didn't know enough about the plan to offer an opinion or that there were too many unanswered questions.

Park Accident Injures Two

Two persons suffered minor injuries in a two-car collision at Jefferson and Harcourt on Friday, February 19, according to Park Police Chief Henry Coonce.

Injured were Gregory Bassett, 18, of 15036 Mack avenue, a passenger in a car driven by Thomas Cooper, 20, of 1379 Berkshire road, and Richard E. Morgan, 21, of 1812 Earlmont, Berkley, the chief said.

Bassett complained of body pains, but refused medical attention, while Morgan was conveyed to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment of cuts about the face and hands.

Chief Coonce said that Cooper was traveling west on Jefferson, when Morgan went through the intersection of Harcourt and the two vehicles collided. Both cars were damaged to the extent that they were not drivable and had to be towed from the scene.

The chief said that Morgan was issued a violation ticket for making an improper left turn without safe observation, and another for driving while his operator's license was suspended.

NAMED COORDINATOR

The Woods Council at a recent regular meeting unanimously reappointed Councilman John Sabol as the city's legislative coordinator for the 1977 legislative session. The request for such a coordinator came from the Michigan Municipal League.

Many Activities Set for Seniors

Woods senior citizens, as part of their city-sponsored recreational program, the budget of which was approved in the amount of $1,300 by the council on Monday, February 7, began rifle classes on Monday, February 21.

The classes, which are conducted on Mondays at 1 p.m. in Woods public safety department headquarters, will be held until May 1, said Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann. They are open to both men and women.

The classes will be taught by Al Rente, rifle and hunter safety instructor for the Department of Natural Resources, who's a Woods resident and a senior citizen, added Mr. Hallmann.

Saying she hasn't heard of any other senior citizens group participating in such classes, Irene Sutton, chairman of the Senior Citizens Commission, hoped for a good turnout by those interested in sharpening their firearm skills.

In other seniors' news, Mrs. Sutton reported that citizens will still meet the first and third Thursdays at North High School at 3:30 p.m., and will also gather the second and fourth Thursdays of the month at the Lake Front Park's bathhouse, (recreational building), around the noon hour.

The afternoons at the park, which begin today, February 24, according to Mr. Hallmann, will feature card lessons and playing. This program is slated to continue until mid-May. Meanwhile, a calisthenics program is in the planning stages for the first week in March.

Mrs. Sutton said seniors will attend a performance of "Pygmalion" at North High School, courtesy of the school system, on Thursday, March 3.

Then, on Thursday, March 17, a white elephant sale will be conducted at North. Those in charge of this event are Lydia Swanson and Alice Cairns.

FLEC Assists New Service

The Family Life Education Council, (FLEC), has offered its Dialogue number to the widowed persons service currently being organized in The Pointe area. The service is geared toward meeting the needs of senior citizens.

"We need cooperation from all the community to get this program in operation," said Diane Heavner, co-chairman of the widowed persons service with Mary Alek. "I'm very excited that FLEC's Dialogue 'listening ear' is going to be taking the names of volunteers for our program."

Those wanting to volunteer for counseling a recently widowed person can call the Dialogue number at 881-0270 between 9 a.m.-3 p.m., Monday-Friday, to learn more about the program.

"We are seeking about 100 volunteers," said Mrs. Alek, who indicated people of any age or sex who have been widowed more than two years, but less than 10, make the best counselors.

Unless a person has experienced the grief and loneliness of being widowed, it's difficult to relate to their problems and offer them assistance, the co-chairmen point out.

However, non-widowed persons who are interested in this project may volunteer for organizational positions.

The co-chairmen add that similar programs have proven to be very successful in other parts of the country.

Pleads Guilty To B-E Charge

A 30-year-old Detroit man pled guilty to a charge of attempted breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny Tuesday, February 15, during his Wayne County Circuit Court pre-trial hearing, reported Woods Det. Charles Philip Hamel last week.

Raymond George Vujnov, who's currently out on a $5,000 bond, is scheduled to be sentenced on March 29.

Vujnov was charged in the burglary of a Roslyn road home last December in which a stereo, turntable and two speakers were taken and later recovered by police.

He was apprehended by police at Mack avenue and Roslyn road a short time after the incident was reported.

City Reports Busy Year At Neff Memorial Park

Though no attendance records were broken, Neff Memorial Park in The City was busier overall in 1976 than in the previous year. The increasing popularity of tennis also swelled traffic at the Elworthy Field Tennis Courts so much that a reservation system had to be instituted.

According to the annual report on The City's recreational facilities, the shortened 103-day season, (four days shorter than the previous summer), drew a total of 96,055 persons. This is an increase of almost 7,500 over the 1975 season.

The best single day for park attendance was August 8 when 2,011 people turned out. The daily average for last summer was 933 persons.

The City hosted a number of special events at the park including two swim meets, a swim lesson and splash party, a diving championship, a Bicentennial concert and a fishing rodeo.

The park staff gave swimming lessons to almost 700 children setting an all-time community record. Red Cross lifesaving courses also were added to the summer program.

With the good times of the summer, a few accidents are almost inevitable but even in this area The City has been fortunate. Since 1973 there has been a steady decline in the number of serious accidents at the park, from a high that year of 17 to 11 in 1974, seven in 1975 and only six last year.

Citizen's Van Riddled with Bullets

This van was driven by Mark Monterosso, of Roslyn road, who was pursued by two Farms detectives shortly after the holdup at the Detroit and Northern Savings and Loan Assoc., 19307 Mack avenue, on Friday, February 18. Mr. Monterosso's description matched that of the holdup man and he was mistakenly pursued and ultimately apprehended in Detroit. He suffered two gunshot wounds and was treated at Saint John Hospital.

Innocent Man Shot

At this time, the man said he forgot a roll of nickels and dimes and gave her a $20 bill, received his change and stated, "Maybe you can help me with this."

He then gave her a piece of receipt paper stating the following: "Give me all your money and you won't get hurt."

Tells His Story

After he took the note back, the teller gave him some cash and the suspect then walked to another teller and demanded more money. At this point, he placed his hand into his jacket breast with the teller saying she saw the handle of a gun. After giving him the money, the suspect left, direction unknown.

Minutes later, while at the bank, Woods Det. Lt. Jack Patterson reported at around 12:58 p.m., he heard a radio broadcast from Farms officers who said they were pursuing a man believed to be the robbery suspect. After he was stopped, the lieutenant said the man, who was placed in a Harper Woods police scout car, was wearing an orange jacket.

At the hospital, Mr. Monterosso who was read his rights governing custodial questioning by Woods Det. Charles Philip Hamel and FBI Agent Al Bassett, agreed to talk to the officers. (The NEWS was unable to reach Mr. Monterosso for further comments.)

A builder, Mr. Monterosso said he was at a City residence working on a house and then went to another location at Cook and Wedgewood to have lunch with his father, according to the report.

After leaving at around 12:45 p.m. he went to the National Bank of Detroit at Vernier and Harper to withdraw some money from his savings account and deposit some funds into his checking account. Then, he left the bank with some cash in his pocket.

Mr. Monterosso entered his van and started it, he told police. At this time, two men approached the vehicle, one on each side. (These men were Farms Dets. Earl Field and Sam Cardella). He stated one of the men said, "I want to talk with you young man." At this point, Mr. Monterosso said he drove off, according to The Woods' report.

He went west on Vernier to Kelly and north on Kelly to the first crossover where he made a U-turn onto southbound Kelly. While going south, he told officers he called a "May Day" on his CB radio. He also feels he was wounded at this time from gunshots.

Upon approaching Moross, Mr. Monterosso spotted a Detroit police scout car and started blowing his horn. He ultimately stopped his van, exited and found both Detroit officers pointing their guns at him. He was then arrested and taken to the hospital.

Review Held

Farms Police Chief Robert K. Ferber said a review of the incident was held Tuesday, February 22. Calling this a standard operating procedure, the chief stated, "A review is held any time an officer is involved in a shooting."

While the Farms Police Department had an official "no comment" on the shooting, Farms Chief of Detectives Sgt. George VanTiem did say, "While we can't comment on the incident until after the review, it is the policy of our department that when any police officer approaches a citizen, he immediately identifies himself. This is especially true when it concerns officers in the plainclothes division."

Chief Ferber and Det. Sgt. VanTiem will represent The Farms at the review, which also will include officials from the Wayne County Prosecutor's office.

April 1 Change For DUI Law

Michigan's revised drunk driving law giving greater control to the court becomes effective this April 1.

The implied consent provisions will not be changed, according to the Traffic Safety Assoc. of Detroit. What will change are several provisions.

The mandatory 90-day suspension of a driver's license by the Secretary of State for driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor, (DUIL), is removed from the law. Instead, the court is given authority to set the terms of suspension and notifies the Secretary of State to take such action.

The suspension may be for not more than two years, but the court may order the Secretary of State to issue a restricted license for driving to and from work.

Driving visibly impaired, (DVI), and DUIL become more similar. The court may issue identical penalties except that a DVI conviction has no minimum fine and puts four points on your record, and DUIL has a $50 minimum fine and six points.

The law still provides for a jail sentence of not more than 90 days or a fine of $100 or both, plus court costs.

Let's Talk
Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Well, we've launched our Cut-De-Sac program and the response is, as we knew it would be—favorable and why shouldn't it be? Who wouldn't like to have "thru" streets safer from speeding cars, who wouldn't like to have their street become more beautiful and doesn't everyone want their property to become more valuable?

Well, there are problems. Nothing comes easy and usually nothing comes free! Our biggest battle is misunderstanding. We simply are introducing an ingenious system for a Cut-De-Sac—mini park—Cut-De-Sac pattern. It's an invention! It's something as far as we know, that no one has ever thought of before. It's novel and its benefits are monumental!

We view our position in this as Community merchandisers we've found a fantastic way to improve an already fantastic community. We've checked our idea with other community leaders who should have some insight into what we're introducing and they agree that we're on the right track!

But—we won't go one step further unless every single G. P. resident agrees and wants our "Cut-De-Sac" idea. Soon now you'll be called by one of Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. (882-0087) Associates. He'll tell you more and also give you a brochure and questionnaire. It's exciting and hopefully will be very profitable for every resident in G.P.!

Host Students at Bon Secours

As a community service, Bon Secours Hospital is opening its doors to 30 high school students who will study medical biology on Saturday mornings inside the hospital.

Last year, 14 junior and senior boys from Austin Catholic Prep School participated in the program.

This year the Austin boys are being joined by girls from Our Lady Star of the Sea in a course aimed at showing students the relationship between advanced biology and clinical medicine.

Under the supervision of Thomas Bailey, Austin assistant principal and director of studies, and Melvin Swovick, medical biology teacher, the class meets at the hospital for three hours every Saturday morning throughout the school year.

Lectures, given by Bon Secours resident and attending physicians, department directors and technologists, cover topics ranging from disorders of the nervous system to the development of the human embryo.

Combining lectures with practical experience, the program also puts students in the laboratory where they have an opportunity to scrutinize blood and tissue samples under the microscope.

"Most of the students plan on getting into health related professions and some plan to become physicians," said Richard C. Connelly, MD, director of medical education at Bon Secours Hospital.

"Our staff has been eager to participate in this program and we are proud of the young people."

Music Class Set at Library

"Meet the Masters," a music appreciation class led by instructor Mrs. Robert Kaiser, will meet for four sessions at the Central Library, 10 Kercheval Avenue, beginning Monday, February 28, from 1:20-3:00 p.m.

The topic for this year will be "Man and His Music." Four composers will be presented—Haydn, Sibelius, Beethoven and Mahler. Through study of the man, his personality, his philosophy, the times in which he lived, a better understanding of the music he wrote can be made.

Records, piano and theme sheets will be used for illustration. Whenever possible, music about to be played by live performers around town will be reviewed. Discussion and coffee are a part of this informal session. Anyone who enjoys music, or would like to, is welcome.

"Meet the Masters" is sponsored by the Department of Community Services and the Grosse Pointe Public Library. The fee is $8.

City Seeks $184,000 in U.S. Funds

Variety of Projects Sought for Approval; Community Hopes for $80,000

By Susan McDonald

The Grosse Pointe City Council recently applied for almost $184,000 in federal funds for community projects ranging from tree plantings, renovation of lighting and road systems to housing rehabilitation.

The City is applying for the funds through Wayne County's "Urban County" program. Under that plan, 24 county communities submit their applications to the county which then reviews and assimilates them into a single bid for federal funds.

Though no one in city offices expects all projects to be funded, Mayor John King said there is a good possibility the community may receive as much as $80,000 this year.

Streets Main Focus

Top priority in this year's application is a bid for $50,000 to resurface city streets, an ongoing concern for the community. A new project, to repair sidewalks and install ramps and bicycle racks in the "Village," would require $8,000 from the government.

Other projects include street light upgrading, storm sewer work, development of a housing rehabilitation program and land acquisition for off-street parking.

This will be the third year of city participation in the program. Storm sewer pumps were renovated in 1975 with a $26,000 grant. Streets were resurfaced and lights upgraded with $53,000 last year. Of the five points only The City and Park participate in the program.

Spanish Club Meets March 7

Dr. David Rabchinsky, a native of Mexico and graduate student at the University of Michigan, will present slides of Mexico City at the Grosse Pointe Spanish Club's meeting Monday, March 7, at the Center, 32 Lakeshore road. Everyone interested in the Spanish language and Spanish American culture is invited to attend the 8 p.m. event.

What this country needs is more illuminated boulevards and fewer illuminated drivers.

Man Violates Weapons Law

Theodore Andrews, 33, of 4642 Cope, Detroit, was walking north on Lakeshore with a three-gallon empty gasoline container in his hand when he was stopped by a Shore's public safety officer. The man was ultimately charged with public drunkenness and carrying a concealed weapon.

PSO Bruce Darlington stated in his report he was on routine patrol heading south on Lakeshore road on Friday, February 19, when he observed Andrews staggering north on the sidewalk toward Lakeshore lane, gas can in hand. The officer stopped to investigate, found that Andrews was intoxicated and that he had left his car, out of gas, on an unknown street in the Village.

PSO Archie Grieve, who arrived at the scene to assist, searched the area and found the vehicle a few blocks away. In the meantime, Officer Darlington searched Andrews and found a pearl-handled, three-inch blade knife in his right side pocket, a violation of the concealed weapons law of the state and the Village.

Under both the state statute and the Village ordinance, a knife with a blade of three inches or more is a prohibited weapon, unless it can be proved that it is used in a legal type of work, such as electrical, et al., according to Lt. Charles Wenrich.

No one is allowed to carry such a weapon on his person just for the sake of having one.

Andrews was taken to The Shore's station where he was charged with public drunkenness and carrying a concealed weapon. He was required to post a bond of $200 before he was released. He is scheduled for a court hearing on Wednesday, March 23.

Shirking responsibilities can make progress lose balance. Treat all criticism just like charity—let it begin at home.

Woods Studies Report on Flooding

"More Clout"

While not completing an in-depth study of the report as yet, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos stated he would like to have the city participate with the federal government, with each paying a portion of the cost. He added his hope that the council would go along with applying for federal funds.

The mayor said the city may try to get the drain commissioner's office to become involved in such an application because "they have more clout than we have," and they have been cooperative.

He added, "I'm willing to go in any direction to alleviate the situation."

The next step for officials is to meet with citizens' groups from both affected areas to review the report and explore solutions, said Mr. Petersen. Copies of the report are being made and will be sent to the residents for a planned meeting after Tuesday, March 1.

Practical Plan

In his recommendations, Mr. Pate said diversion of surface water run-off is relatively simple and certainly not detrimental to basement walls, lawns, driveways, shrubs, sidewalks or streets.

As a result, he felt such a program was practical, beneficial and relatively inexpensive.

Results of continuing inspections by the DPW of sewers throughout the city indicate "that while the need for repair and/or cleaning is never ending, the present system appears reasonably sound. Based on such information, we see no reason to proceed with any city or entire area-wide leveling of the physical plant," he said.

On the proposed projects, Mr. Pate stated, "The benefits to be achieved by each (sewer) installation, downspout diversion of roof water and catch basin restoration will not only affect the immediate service areas but downstream laterals and/or trunk sewers normally receiving more concentrated flows."

On Construction

In the northeast section, besides the focus on downspout and catch basin work, Mr. Pate recommends the construction of one storm sewer in Van K from Blairmoor to Perrien place, in Briarcliff from Van K directly to the Milk River, "acquiring necessary permanent and construction easements across private property westerly of River drive . . . and in Morningside drive from Briarcliff to Woods lane."

And to insure that no faulty pipe or obstructions may be present in the existing combined sewers in Van K, he believed such lines should be televised.

Meanwhile, in the southwest section, specific recommendations include, besides downspout and catch basin work, the construction of a relief sewer from the easement between Newcastle and Prestwick to the Prestwick arm of the Vernier Relief Drain or directly from the low point in Newcastle, to

Leslie, and the placement of a "full brick bulkhead in the 24-inch sewer easterly of Raymond in Bournemouth."

In reviewing the intensity of the rainfall last July, Mr. Pate said the Torrey Road Pumping Station storm water pumps were operating by 11:26 p.m. on July 28, (when the wet well depth reached 10 feet), and continued in service until 3:35 a.m. on July 29, (when the wet well depth was below six feet), at which time the large pump shut off.

Full Capacity

The last pump at the station, (a small one), eventually shut off at 6:15 a.m.

Meanwhile, at the northerly part of the city, the Milk River Pumping Station also operated at full capacity. All seven pumps, including three rated at 184,500 gallons per minute capacity and four at 137,250 gallons per minute capacity, were operating by 11:35 p.m. on the 28th.

They continued in service for over two hours before the first large pump was shut off at 1:45 a.m. on the 29th. The last pump shut off at 4:55 a.m.

During the storm period, approximately four inches plus were recorded at the Milk River Station, resulting in a maximum wet well depth of approximately 30 feet with the volume of water pumped being approximately 278,000 gallons. All water was discharged to the open Milk River Drain.

Ironie Note

In a final note, Mr. Pate said, "Ironically the pumping records published in the Dow Chemical Report on the Milk River Basin indicated that, from 1960-1968, the running time for the complement of seven pumps operating to gether totaled only 71 minutes."

"With such a high intensity rainfall, the existing carrying capacities of the sewer systems and pumping rates of stations at both the northerly and southerly ends of the city, designed to handle a 10-year frequency run-off, were stretched well beyond their design capabilities."

Arbitration Decision

Of the 17 economic demands submitted by the union, the arbitrator chose three: wages of $15,800 a year; an increase in the number of sick leave days per year from 12 to 15; and a 50 percent payout of sick leave upon retirement.

This also includes a 50 percent payout to survivors upon death after retirement and a 75 percent payout to survivors upon death before retirement.

The Farms submitted six economic proposals, of which two were awarded. The first proposal deleted any mention of Blue Cross-Blue Shield in the contract with the officers, allowing The Farms some flexibility in the choice of a carrier for its hospitalization and medical insurance.

The second award reduced the clothing allowance received by the officers for purchasing and maintaining the uniforms, from $300 to $50 a year, with the city purchasing the necessary uniforms directly.

The Farms received five of the seven non-economic awards issued, including a strengthened Management's Rights clause; a weakened maintenance of conditions clause; the retention of the right to require a sick leave form to be completed prior to receiving compensation for sick days; no change in personal leave requirements; and no change in the establishment of a payroll savings plan.

The union was awarded the right to submit a grievance to an arbitrator as the last step in grievance procedures and retention of the present language of the contract that does not require officers to live within The Farms.

Summing up the feelings of the City, Mr. Solak said, "As in the firefighters' arbitration award of last fall, this award contains elements which are unsatisfactory to the city and, I am sure, elements equally unsatisfactory to the police. This seems to be more and more the commonplace occurrence in the nature of settlements imposed by a third party."

"We are hopeful that just as with the firefighters this year, we are now able to come to the table and bargain constructively and meaningfully and thereby bypass the necessity of a further unsatisfactory arbitration of the issues."

Officer Clarence Reichling, president of the GPFPOA, said, "We're happy with the award. The sick leave payouts was a significant step forward for us. It puts us on a par with several other communities, including The Woods and Shores."

"We're also happy with the salary increase. We would have liked to settle with the city directly across the table, but were unable to effect a settlement."

"This is the third year we've gone into arbitration and each time we seem to win more and more. You'd think the city would take this into consideration along with the added expense to the taxpayers."

"I'm sure we, along with the city, would like to settle across the table in the future and avoid delays and economic setbacks."

The arbitration award is retroactive to July 1, 1975.

Drop in Crime

A shortage of manpower was the most obvious reason for the decrease in police patrols for the year, according to Chief VanTiem. Almost 90,000 miles were logged patrolling city streets in 1976, down from 106,500 in 1972. A consistent decline has been seen in this area from 1972 on.

The City police force is down to 17 full-time officers, (compared to a high of 27 men several years ago), and will be reduced even more this year through retirements.

Although Chief VanTiem said he has requested two more men be hired by the council, he doesn't expect any action until the council's police-fire consolidation plan is fully implemented. That proposal is being contested in court and arbitration proceedings by the City Fire Department.

Another factor contributing to the cut in patrol time may have been the extraordinary amount of sick time taken by men on the force—an average of 19 days apiece.

Chief VanTiem said the sick rate was not due to abuse of the system, but rather an unfortunate number of severe, off-duty accidents suffered by a few of the men.

Mayor John King, however, remarked at a recent council meeting that the sick day use seems to be excessive and directed City Manager Thomas Kressbach to look into the matter.

City police arrested 206 people, 100 of them juveniles. Municipal Judge Stan C. Kazul convicted 151 persons of various crimes and seven were convicted in state courts.

City police received about 4,500 calls for help from citizens last year.

Besides chasing criminals, they were asked to catch a missing iguana, intercede in 27 family disputes, supervise the visit of Santa Claus and investigate five various odors.

Do you have trouble developing an appetite for dinner? They say that a mildly alcoholic beverage before dinner is perfect to get those gastric juices moving. If you are having guests for a buffet, a cocktail hour before dinner would be nice, but if you are having a large meal, an aperitif would be appropriate, since you want only to start the gastric juices, not have the people filled up with liquor before they taste your cooking. Aperitifs are aromatic wines and are often fortified or spiced with roots, barks, or flowers. A bit of quinine, or brandy, can give the aperitif an extra bite. Most aperitifs are, imported to the United States and are either white or red, as with other wines. The variety is endless when you consider the spicing possibilities. There are over forty aromatic herbs that are commonly used to spice aperitifs.

For aperitifs to after-dinner liquors, see the helpful people at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626. Your complete party shoppe, we feature a full selection of wines, beers and whiskeys; nuts, cheeses and hors d'oeuvres; party crackers and potato chips; and plastic glasses and bar accessories. GP Memorial Plans for Lent

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church has initiated in-home study, discussion and prayer periods on Wednesday nights during March so that members can focus on "God's Order in Grosse Pointe."

Members will gather for informal meetings from 8-9 p.m. weekly throughout the five weeks of the Lenten season.

The Lenten observance began last night, February 23, with worship and Holy Communion in the sanctuary. It will climax with the Seder Supper on Maundy Thursday, April 17, the Tenebrae Service on Good Friday, April 18, and worship-celebrations on Easter Sunday, April 19.

The homes of 10 families who have volunteered to assist in the special program will be opened to members who register their interest in attending the gatherings.

Members can register by phone or card at the church and then will be invited by a host/hostess to their home to attend as many Wednesday night gatherings as they can. The first meeting night is March 2.

Trained leaders will guide the discussion in homes. They will receive instruction on Sunday mornings at the church starting Sunday, February 27, under the direction of John McCreight, associate minister for parish life.

In a letter to all members of the church, Mr. McCreight said participants in the in-home gatherings "should gain friends, new and old, knowledge of what God wants in Grosse Pointe, understanding

Woods Donates to TV Auction

Woods Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos and Municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis were on hand Tuesday, February 15, at city hall to present go-getters from the Channel 56 "Auctionmobile" with street signs for the TV station's auction to be held in April.

The auctionmobile is traveling to various communities in the metro area, covering Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Washtenaw Counties, in search of gifts to auction off during the week of April 22-30.

Through the presence of the auctionmobile in their communities, Channel 56, Detroit's only public TV station, hopes to alert merchants to the opportunity of donating merchandise to the auction.

The over 600 go-getters,

Vespers Set at St. James

Saint James Lutheran Church, McMillan road and Kercheval avenue, will observe Lent with a variety of worship experiences offered at the Wednesday night Vespers, which began Ash Wednesday, February 23.

Members of the congregation brought their love loaves to this service as a part of their ministry toward world hunger.

The services on the five following Wednesdays will include the following:

March 2—the young people are preparing a special order of worship for this service, with organ music leading the singing.

March 9—the service will focus upon the suffering of Jesus.

March 16—"How Great Thou Art," a presentation of the greatness of our Lord's love through the multi-media of three projections on three different screens at the head of the nave, presented by Bob and Arlene Bush, will be offered.

March 23—the chance choir of Saint James Church, directed by Herman Klein, will offer a sacred concert of Lenten music, assisted by the Handbell Choir, directed by Mrs. Robert Ambrose.

March 30—the young people will offer chancel drama at this Vesper with the Guitar Choir, led by Ellen Smith, accompanying the singing.

The pastors of Saint James Church, the Rev. George Kurz and the Rev. George Scheller, have planned the services around the centrality of Jesus' suffering and death and resurrection. Community friends are cordially invited to participate in these worship experiences.

FEESER APPOINTED

Woods resident Robert P. Feeser has been appointed executive vice-president of City National Bank. In his new position, Mr. Feeser will supervise the activities of the international, trust and investment functions of City National.

Kitchen Guttled by House Fire

A fire, believed to have started by flames igniting grease in a stove, totally destroyed the kitchen and contents of a lower flat at 1123-1125 Lakepointe on Friday, February 18, at 4:05 p.m., reported Park Fire Chief Phillip Costa.

The chief said there was extensive heat and smoke damage to the lower flat occupied by Mrs. Elizabeth Beattie, and slight smoke damage to the upper flat, occupied by the building's owner, Wally Mashini. No injuries were reported.

The chief said that Mrs. Beattie was cooking on the kitchen stove when flames ignited the grease in the oven. The fire spread to the walls and ceiling of the kitchen.

Park firefighters arrived at the scene to find a "going" fire, the chief said, and battled the flames for 25 minutes before putting it out. The blaze was confined to the kitchen, due to the quick response of the firefighters, who remained at the scene for a total of 50 minutes to make sure everything was in order. The chief lauded the good work of the personnel of his department.

He also praised Mrs. Beattie's presence of mind in calling the department as soon as the fire started. Otherwise, he said, the fire could have spread to the rest of the lower flat and building.

Chief Costa said the monetary value of the damage is not known and will have to be determined by insurance adjustors.

Sign-Up Time for Ruth Loop

Babe Ruth baseball registration for those living in The Farms and City will be held at Brownell School, 260 Chalfonte Avenue, on Monday, February 28, and Tuesday, March 1, from 7-9 p.m. Leagues are for boys from 13-18. In the 13-15 league, participants must have been born on or after August 1, 1961, and before August 1, 1964. In the senior division, (ages 16-18), a player must have been born on or after August 1, 1958, and before August 1, 1961.

Registration fees are $20 in the 13-15 division and $25 in the 16-18 division. Any player registering for Babe Ruth for the first time must show a proof of age, such as a birth certificate, at registration. The Farms-City Babe Ruth provides for two separate leagues in both the 13-15 and 16-18 divisions. This allows players a chance to participate at a level of competition that gives each of them maximum enjoyment and participation. Officials hope they also will be successful in re-establishing a "Tournament of Champions" at the end of the season. This tournament would match the winners of the respective league champions from the Woods-Shores Babe Ruth along with the Park League and the Farms-City.

Woods to Hold Tennis Tourney

A tennis tournament at the Lake Front Park for Woods residents is currently under consideration for this August by the Citizens Recreation Commission and the Department of Parks and Recreation.

"It's not finalized yet, but I'm sure it will be," said Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann last week. The commission, he added, is scheduled to give the proposal further consideration at its March meeting.

As planned, there will be singles play in the following divisions: boys and girls, 9-13, boys and girls, 14-17, women and men, 18-34, and women and men, 35 and over. There also will be men's and women's doubles and mixed doubles, all 18 and over.

The proposed rules say there will be no seeded players, a 15-minute default time and a maximum 10-minute warm-up time.

Other stipulations note that a minimum of eight participating players is needed to have each division, and that each player must furnish one can of new balls for each match played with the winning player taking the new balls and the losing player taking the old ones.

Other proposed regulations say tie breakers will be used to decide sets if necessary, plus no player may enter more than two events.

Pleads Guilty Of Bad Driving

An 18-year-old youth pled guilty to a charge of careless driving before Woods Municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis on Wednesday, February 16, stemming from an incident last July.

Stephen Thomas Rogers, 18, was charged in the automobile accident which claimed the life of his 17-year-old passenger. The victim, Glenn Shannon, also of Moorland drive, died in the Saint John Hospital emergency room after the car crashed into a street light pole on Wedgewood near Hawthorne road.

The youth was fined $100, issued $50 in court costs, placed on two years' probation and had his driving privileges suspended for one year concurrent with the Secretary of State's office.

A negligent homicide charge against Rogers was dismissed by Judge Denis at the youth's examination last August. At that time, the judge felt there was no evidence to support findings that the driver of the car was negligent in any way.

However, after that decision, the case was subsequently reopened and a warrant charging Rogers with careless driving was obtained from the Wayne County Prosecutor's office, noted Det. Lt. Jack Patterson. Hence, the resultant court case.

$5,500 Computer Taken from Car

A computer valued at $5,500 was taken from the car of a Woods lane resident sometime between Thursday, February 17, at 6:30 p.m. and Friday, February 18, at 12:20 a.m., reported Woods police.

The citizen said the Texas Instrument Programmable Data Terminal was taken from the rear of his station wagon, which was parked in his garage.

He also stated the garage door was open and the car was unlocked.

If worry got us anywhere, a great many would be paying much higher income taxes.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

Some confusion seems to surround the question of the payment of State Aid to the Grosse Pointe Public School System. Therefore, I am using this week's column in an attempt to clarify this issue.

First, an understanding of terminology is necessary. When we talk about "State Aid" to our district, we really mean "Categorical State Aid for Special Education," although the system is entitled to small amounts for vocational education and driver education.

Our school system receives no money from the State of Michigan for general use. We are one of a few "out of formula" districts who do not qualify because the State Equalized Valuation of real estate within the boundaries of the school district, when figured on a per pupil basis, is too high to allow us to qualify for Central State Aid, given the current formula.

The only programs for which the State of Michigan permits local districts such as Grosse Pointe to receive funds are generally those which the State requires such school systems to offer, such as special education, vocational education and driver education.

Most of the State Aid which we receive must be used to operate one of our numerous and rather costly special education offerings: Speech Correction, Teacher Consultants for the Handicapped, School Social Workers, Teachers of the Trainable Mentally Impaired, Teachers of the Educable Mentally Impaired, School Psychologists, Teachers of the Learning Disabled and transportation for Special Education students.

Now, for a bit of history. Until the current year, the Board of Education has felt that it should budget as a revenue item in the yearly operating budget at least a portion of the State Aid to which the district was entitled to operate the programs listed above.

This year it did not budget these funds because of the implementation of Gov. William Milliken's recent executive orders. During 1974-75 the state withheld from our system $121,448 and during 1975-76 it withheld $382,047. Remember that these funds had been budgeted to operate programs. Thus it was difficult to retrench since commitments had already been made to personnel and programs involving large numbers of students.

Because of these experiences, during last year's second millage election, and during the preparation of the budget this fall, the Board reiterated its position that State Aid could not be counted as a revenue for this year. Therefore, sufficient millage was requested last spring to operate the school system for the current year without any State Aid.

The Board further indicated its previous position that any State Aid received for this year would not be used immediately, but rather, reserved to reduce subsequent millage requests. Last week the Board received another $60,000 in State Aid for Special Education. Total State Aid monies now available to be used to meet future budget needs equal approximately $330,000.

This cash balance, plus the anticipated normal increase in local State Equalized Valuation of six percent per year, should be sufficient to allow the Board to maintain current programs based on annual budget increases of approximately seven percent per year.

These factors, coupled with a probable enrollment decline, make it possible to seek a renewal of millage rather than an increase.

I hope this statement clarifies the situation regarding State Aid, or rather Categorical State Aid for Special Education.

JC Art Auction to Benefit Bon Secours Child Unit

It's a house of glass with bright graphics on the few solid walls. A central playroom is filled with toys while a dayroom down the way has overstuffed furniture, a television and stereo equipment.

It sounds like a comfortable retreat for youngsters, but the new Bon Secours Hospital pediatrics unit, scheduled to open in early March, represents a combination of innovative childcare facilities and the cheerfulness that can make a sick and frightened child feel reassured.

With beds for 19 patients, the new hospital area will be separated into three and four bed wards, semi-private rooms and an isolation room. While the glass walls lend a bright open character to the unit, they serve the more practical dual function of providing viewing capability for nurses who can see into patient rooms as well as comforting the children who are able to see out.

Utilizing the hospital's unique nursing system, each room has a nurse-server, a closet containing thermometers, linen and other supplies needed to serve the young patients.

In this way, a nurse is able to change a bed or take a temperature without leaving the room.

The same system, used throughout Bon Secours, contributes to the personalized care that attracted the Grosse Pointe Jaycees Auxiliary to donating funds from their annual art auction to the new pediatrics unit.

"Both my husband and mother-in-law have been patients at Bon Secours and both received excellent care," said Mrs. Peter Levin, a co-chairman of the auction. "We send so much money to Ann Arbor and other hospitals, I suggested we do something for someone closer to home."

The something turned out to be an auction of original prints, paintings and sculpture to be held today, February 24, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. Viewing will begin at 7:30 p.m. with refreshments available at an open cash bar. Bidding for the 200 works will begin at 8:30 p.m. According to Fred Grossman, owner of the Gallery Art Center which will supply the art, items will reflect a mixture of styles.

"There will be something for everyone," Mr. Grossman said, listing artists like Norman Rockwell, Salvadore Dali and Alexander Calder. "Art will be available at prices as low as $9 — up to $700 for larger paintings."

Mr. Grossman, whose gallery sponsors over 350 auctions each year, said the events are attractive because auction prices are always lower than regular retail prices.

"We begin the bidding at up to 50 percent off of the regular retail price," Mr. Grossman said, "and at our gallery, we never allow the price to go above it."

Admission tickets, priced at $1, will be available at the door.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I have just returned from what should have been an enjoyable hour at North High School.

A combined concert by the choirs of five elementary schools, the three middle schools and North High, including the orchestra, comprised the program.

With obviously a great deal of practice by the choirs separately, and only one combined rehearsal, it was truly an impressive performance, one for which all those participating can well be proud.

As a member of the audience I am embarrassed. I feel an apology is due all those young people who give their time and efforts to produce an excellent showing of their talents; not possible without the dedicated teachers we are generally lucky to have in the Grosse Pointe

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters
Director of Public Libraries

During the past couple of years there has been a renewed interest in one of the most notorious unsolved crimes of the 19th century—the murders of Jack the Ripper.

Just who was Jack the Ripper? Was he Albert Victor, Duke of Clarence, heir to the throne of England? Or his woman-hating tutor, James Stephen? Or perhaps professional wife-killer George Chapman? Was he a man at war with society?

Whoever he was, his grisly murders terrorized the London of 1888 and have since become classic crimes, the ultimate in unsolved mysteries.

In THE COMPLETE JACK THE RIPPER, (N.Y. Graphic

Society, 1975), Donald Rumbelow explores anew the murky East End slums and the hideous violence they spawned, casting fresh light on the master criminal whose identity has fascinated countless mystery fans and amateur detectives for the past 90 years.

As a member of London's City Police force, author Rumbelow has had access to official police files on the Ripper murders, kept by law from public view until 1992.

Carefully summarizing all the facts, Mr. Rumbelow describes the five murdered prostitutes and painstakingly reconstructs each of the five murders. He analyzes the initial police investigations, badly bungled, perhaps deliberately botched. And he publishes in full, for the first time, the two major documents in the case.

Mortuary photographs of the corpses, facsimiles of letters certainly written by the real Ripper, and police bulletins illustrate the full horror of the Whitechapel murders. It would be unfair to reveal what conclusions Donald Rumbelow comes to in this book, but its readers just may end up identifying the real Jack the Ripper.

In CLARENCE: WAS HE JACK THE RIPPER? (Drake, 1974), the first in-depth biography of Edward VII's elder son—and heir to the throne, who died too young, (1892 at age 28), to succeed — author Michael Harrison has combined his outstanding qualities both as historian and as detective.

Official silence in the matter of "Prince Eddy's" private life, with the consequent inability to consult official archives, forced Mr. Harrison to uncover the details of Eddy's life without the advantage of any but the most trivial existing material.

What he eventually unearthed and presents in this unique book will positively fascinate the reader.

In the past several years an extraordinary story has circulated that Prince Eddy, Duke of Clarence, was Jack the Ripper. In testing the validity of this rumor, Mr. Harrison has come up with some startling information about this notorious homicidal maniac. He identifies who he believes the murdered to be and the motives for these terrible crimes.

Mr. Harrison goes further to tell the story behind one of the most notorious court cases of the last century: that revolving around the existence of a male brothel in the heart of Victorian London, one frequented by homosexual members of the nobility and upper classes.

For all the vice and crime described in this book, the author does not attempt to create new scandals. Indeed, Mr. Harrison treats the Duke of Clarence in a most sympathetic manner.

This is the compassionate story of a weak, charming character, endowed with good looks, highest rank, bisexual, a doomed man whose self-indulgence involved far too many in scandal and tragedy. Above all, CLARENCE is a murder mystery, a detective story of the highest order and one whose interest is heightened because it is entirely true.

If stories about Jack the Ripper and other Victorian crimes are your "cup of tea," here are two other books you might enjoy reading.

In VICTORIAN STUDIES IN SCARLET, (Norton 1970), author Richard Altick describes, in the first chapters, the Victorian delight in murder as a social phenomenon. The remainder of this book is constructed around classic murder cases that afford a vivid perspective on the way people lived — and died — in the Age of Victoria.

In THE VICTORIAN UNDERWORLD, (Temple Smith, 1970), Kellow Chesney has gone back to the contemporary sources and produced a panorama of the Victorian underworld that reflects all the strangeness and vividness of the original.

In this book the violence and energy of the underworld, its many different faces, its impact on society at large from fashionable St. James to the squalid depths of a dockyard slum will strike home to the modern reader.

Seniors to Get Special Pass for School Events

By Debbie Ritter

Senior citizens may get free admission to Grosse Pointe school athletic, musical and dramatic events and reduced fees on adult education programs through use of the Department of Community Service's "Senior Citizens Pass" approved by the Board of Education on Monday, February 14.

Gets Top Prize In Art Contest

One of the five outstanding student artists from the Detroit area, North High School's Melinda Murphy was awarded a top prize in the 1977 Scholastic Art Awards program.

Her entry will compete for the $100 Hallmark honor prize in the National Scholastic Art Awards this June in New York City.

Her work, along with that of several other award-winning Pointe students, will be on display until Saturday, February 26, at Northland Center, Southfield.

Among the show's Blue Ribbon finalists are Lawrence Tumacder, student at the Grosse Pointe Academy, and South High students Joe Greiner, John Leslie, Mary Nelson, Ann Pfandtner and Elizabeth Ward.

North High students receiving the same honor were Christine L. Dailey, Liddia Diemer, Paul Kessler, Amy Lehmann, Michael Joe Vior and Donna Schulte.

Co-sponsors of the awards, now in their 50th year, are the "Detroit News," Hudson's and the Northland Center Merchants Assoc.

Community Services Director Carl Schoessel said the gold seniors' pass is available to all residents 62 years and older of the GP School District, which includes part of Harper Woods.

The pass will enable seniors to attend most of the school system's events free of charge, though Mr. Schoessel said building principals of each school will handle admissions as they see fit.

Seniors wishing to attend a specific event should contact the appropriate school office in advance to determine if seats are available and if it is necessary to obtain tickets.

Mr. Schoessel also said the 25 percent reduction on courses offered through the adult education program will be applicable to virtually all of its offerings, with the only exception those programs given in conjunction with other groups or services.

Board of Education Vice-President John Bruce, who has proposed that the Board compose a senior citizen definition consistent with all seniors' groups, said the Board may consider such a definition as early as its March meeting.

The definition could establish the age of a senior citizen as anyone 60 years or older, or merely as a retiree, Mr. Bruce said.

The pass is available by calling the Department of Community Services at 885-3808 or 885-0271.

"In addition, we are making contacts with appropriate community groups like the American Assoc. of Retired Persons to see about sending their entire membership the passes," Mr. Schoessel added.

Jewels & gems
by Jerry Valente

Back to basics is the jewelry turn for most buyers this year. They are looking, sensibly, for quality and long lasting usefulness in their jewelry. Fine chains of longer lengths, opal, jade, diamonds, and other precious gems are important these days for the modern dressed-up feeling of today's fashion. Also popular are trendy clutch bags, lush knotted cord chokers in vibrant colors to match the peasant movement that is part of the talk of fashion circles, and cuff links, tie pins and vest chains for the men.

We invite you to come in to VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, Detroit, 881-4800, whether you are presently contemplating the purchase of a piece of fine jewelry or not. We have a wide selection of dinner rings, watches, diamonds, antique jewelry, etc. We can also help you discreetly dispose of old or unwanted jewelry. VALENTE JEWELRY is open daily from 9 'til 5:30 and Friday 'til 7:30.

Churches Plan Day of Prayer

"Love in Action" will be the theme for the 1977 World Day of Prayer celebrated locally by members from 27 area churches Friday, March 4, at Saint Paul's Lutheran Church, 375 Lothrop road, beginning at 1 p.m.

The day will be celebrated by men and women in 170 countries, spanning six continents and observed in 1,000 languages by Protestant, Orthodox and Catholic Christians.

Mrs. Elizabeth MacDonald, wife, mother, and member of the Board of Winning Women, will be the featured speaker at the local service.

It will be followed by a tea at 2 p.m. in the Firewide Room at the church. A nursery will be provided free of charge from 12:30-3 p.m.

The service, open to all Grosse Pointe citizens, marks the 91st gathering of people united in prayer around the world. It can be described as the most important ecumenical and international observance of the year.

This year's service was prepared by women of the German Democratic Republic in East Germany and reflects their hope that people will "strive together to find ways—familiar and new ways—for 'Love in Action.'"

The chairman for the Grosse Pointe area is Mrs. Judi Bell of Saint Paul Lutheran Church.

One View from the Capitol

By William R. Bryant

The recent Republican Party State Convention was an exciting one. That, itself, is good news. It was a revival meeting, rather than a wake.

I was active in the convention, nominating former Rep. Bob Edwards against the present party chairman Bill McLaughlin. McLaughlin was the choice of the Governor.

The battle was based on our view that the Republican Party must pay more attention to grass roots broadening and building of the base and on local and county elections. We felt too much emphasis, at the expense of local races, had been placed on the Governor's and U.S. Senator's races.

We narrowly lost the chairmanship, but came close enough so, I believe, our arguments will have a good effect on the party and there will be new emphasis placed on local organizations and elections.

Some reporters have said the close race for party leadership was a repudiation of the Governor. It was not that, not in any way.

Both candidates support Gov. Milliken and hope he will seek re-election. The argument was over what else we must be doing and the degree of urgency to be attached to other activities.

At any rate, it was great to have those active in the party, throughout the state, excited about the future and caring about strengthening the party.

It was a healthy struggle. Out of it emerged a united and healthy Michigan Republican Party ready to listen to new ideas and to do those things necessary to reverse the erosion of the past four years.

FLEC Dinner Set for March

The Family Life Education Council, (FLEC), is mixing fun with its fund-raising this year at its Down East Clambake Dinner planned for Wednesday, March 16, at the new Jerry's Marine Bar, the Roostertail, at 7:30 p.m.

David Gamble, former FLEC vice-president and finance chairman, is honorary chairman of the event.

"Mr. Gamble's avid interest in boating made him a natural selection," said Mary Evelyn Self, FLEC president. "The organization also wished to publicly acknowledge his generous support over the years."

The clambake will be a casual evening in Jerry Schoenith's nautical riverfront restaurant. The menu will include steamed clams, fisherman's stew and live Maine lobster.

Tickets for the evening are $25 per person with proceeds going to finance FLEC's community projects.

FLEC is a non-profit, charitable and educational corporation which sponsors the Center Point Crisis Center in Grosse Pointe, the Dialogue Adult Help Line, a Medical Clinic and alcohol education program in the Grosse Pointe/Harper Woods schools.

A recent fund-raising campaign fell nearly $8,000 short of its goal and the clambake dinner is the first in a series of special events planned to make up the deficit.

Further information and ticket reservations may be obtained by calling Peggy Hodak at the FLEC office at 885-3510.

Now hear this: anyone who requests "Ach, du lieber Augustin" of the piano player during cocktail hour at Bon Secours Hospital Assistance League Group I's Saint Patrick's Day party deserves to be pelted with shillelaghs!

Or, at the very least, to have his/her supply of Green Beer turned off.

The Green Beer comes courtesy of each $25-per-couple admission ticket to the benefit in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom Thursday evening, March 17.

Dinner's included, (the menu will be "typically Irish"), and a cash bar will be provided for those who prefer hard or soft beverages.

After-dinner entertainment features a local Barbershop Quartette—maybe even an octette—and, of course, any guest who is inspired to sing-along needn't feel shy... It's not that sort of party.

It's the sort of party for which you're expected to dress comfortably, to which you're expected to come for a good time.

It's being chaired by Mrs. William A. Cole, (Peg Harrigan that was), assisted by Mrs. Robert Barton, who's accepting reservations at TUxedo 4-6113 through Thursday, March 10, and Mrs. Carroll Treder.

Handling the "heavy" assignments are the Mesdames Walter Bayer, Archie Bedell, Arthur

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Days Ahead

Five Varieties to Be Available at Booths in Local Banks and Businesses During This Year's 10-Day Event

It's that time of year when cookie lovers start smacking their lips while dieters run for cover—in other words, it's Girl Scout Cookie Time, starting tomorrow, Friday, February 25, and continuing through Sunday, March 6.

Some 25,000 Scouts will participate in the 1977 Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit Cookie Sale.

Five popular varieties—chocolate mint, peanut butter pattie, vanilla sandwich, shortbread and PB, the peanut butter sandwich introduced with tremendous success last year—will be available.

The family-size boxes, attractively packaged with wrapping that pictures colorful scenes from America's national parks, sell for $1.25 each.

"This Council, which covers most of Wayne County, has always been very safety conscious, and we have not permitted our Scouts to sell cookies door-to-door for over 20 years," notes Mrs. Thomas E. Coulter, of Westchester road, GSMD president.

"As an alternative, cookie booths are set up in neighborhood stores and banks which provide the Scouts an opportunity to sell to the public."

This cookie booth aspect of the sale was originated on a very limited basis by GSMD when door-to-door sales were banned. Through the cooperation of merchants and other businessmen the number of cookie booths has steadily increased: this year there will be more than 800 booths in operation during the 10-day sale. Each booth is staffed by an adult and two Scouts. During school hours, two adults operate the booth.

"Approximately 45 percent of our total operating budget is raised by the sale," says Mrs. Coulter, explaining the importance of the project. "We conduct this once-a-year fund-raising event with the approval of the United Foundation, to supplement our Torch Drive funds and Girl Scout camping fees."

"The revenue raised helps support our many year-round programs, including the operation of our three camps."

GSMD credits participation and cooperation of parents as a key factor in the success of its annual cookie sale. In addition to efforts by Scouts and their parents, nearly 1,600 other volunteer men and women help organize and conduct the campaign.

Local adults serving as Girl Scout cookie managers include Lois Cooper, of Stephens road, area manager, Martha Barry, of Lochmoor boulevard, Carol Calcaterra, of Oxford road, Joyce Brackett and Susan Witzke, both of Rivard boulevard, and JoAnn Kelly, of Westchester road.

Seek Artists For Schools

The Michigan Council for the Arts is seeking visual artists and craftsmen to work in its Artists-in-School program during the school year that starts next fall.

Artists who might be interested in being considered for this program should contact the MCA Office of Development Services for application forms immediately.

Closing date for receipt of applications is March 31. The Artists-in-School program operates in a number of selected school sites, public and non-public, grades K through 12, in several artistic disciplines.

In the area of visual arts and crafts it is anticipated there will be six Michigan school districts involved during the 1977-78 school year.

According to MCA Arts-in-Education coordinator Donald Gheen, "The program also provides 'working' artists and craftsmen an opportunity to function in schools and communities in a manner and under working conditions that are conducive to their own artistic development."

Potential residents are selected by a panel composed of Michigan Council for the Arts advisors. Final decisions are made by the participating schools.

Even those artists who have applied for this program previously must reapply for the coming year. For information contact the Michigan Council for the Arts, 1200 Sixth avenue, Detroit, 48226; 256-3495.

Seek Artists For Schools

The Michigan Council for the Arts is seeking visual artists and craftsmen to work in its Artists-in-School Program during the school year that starts next fall.

Artists who might be interested in being considered for this program should contact the MCA Office of Development Services for application forms immediately.

Closing date for receipt of applications is March 31.

The Artists-in-Schools program operates in a number of selected school sites, public and non-public, grades K through 12, in several artistic disciplines.

In the area of visual arts and crafts it is anticipated there will be six Michigan school districts involved during the 1977-78 school year.

According to MCA Arts-in-Education coordinator Donald Gheen, "The program also provides 'working' artists and craftsmen an opportunity to function in schools and communities in a manner and under working conditions that are conducive to their own artistic development."

Potential residents are selected by a panel composed of Michigan Council for the Arts advisors. Final decisions are made by the participating schools.

Even those artists who have applied for this program previously must reapply for the coming year. For information contact the Michigan Council for the Arts, 1200 Sixth Avenue, Detroit, 48226; 256-3495.

Miss Galvin Bride Of R. F. Ottaway

Little Club Reception Follows Friday Evening Rites; Pair Will Return from Caneel Bay Vacation to Reside in Touraine Road

Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore was the setting Friday, February 18, for the marriage of Anne Bartley Galvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Thaddeus Galvin, Jr., of McKinley place, and Robert Flinn Ottaway.

Monsignor Francis X. Canfield presided at the 5:30 o'clock rites, assisted by The Reverend Ray H. Kiely, of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The bride's Empire wedding gown of candlelight satin appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace featured a scalloped neckline, long sleeves ending in wrist points and a cathedral train. A Juliette cap of matching lace held her fingertip length mantilla, fashioned of French Alencon lace, and she carried a cascade of stephanotis, gardenias and ivy.

Sarah Shaw Galvin was honor maid for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Peter A. Dow, the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. John P. Ottaway, Jr., Kathryn A. McGraw, of New York, Lynn M. Ruhlman, of Columbus, O., Dana V. Wigton, the bride's cousin, and Jennifer O. Dow and Amanda F. Ottaway, the bridegroom's nieces.

Their apricot jersey frocks were long-sleeved and cowl-necked. They carried narcissus, apricot Sweetheart roses and ivy.

John P. Ottaway, Jr., acted as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Dr. and Mrs. John Palmer Ottaway, of Touraine road.

Guests were seated by Mr. Dow, Don Thaddeus Galvin, III, and Edward M. Galvin, the bride's brothers, R. Dixon Bartlett, III, and Carey L. Meushaw, both of Alexandria, Va., Richard P. Shammas and John D. Mabley.

The mother of the bride wore watermelon and white chiffon, styled with a square neckline and tucked bodice. The bridegroom's mother selected a long-sleeved, flowing floral print. Each mother pinned a cymbidium orchid to her purse.

After a reception at the Grosse Pointe Club, the newlyweds left to vacation at Caneel Bay in the United States Virgin Islands. They will return to make their home in Touraine road.

The new Mrs. Ottaway, a paralegal with the Detroit law firm of Hill, Lewis, Adams, Goodrich & Tait, is a graduate of Michigan State University and The Paralegal Institute of Philadelphia.

She is a great-granddaughter of the late Edward Ver Linden, former Oldsmobile president and General Motors director.

Mr. Ottaway, a trust officer of the National Bank of Detroit, was graduated in 1969 from the University of Virginia and received his J.D. from Wayne State University Law School.

He is a grandson of the late E. J. Ottaway, publisher of the Port Huron Times Herald.

Another Job for Joan

Camp Fire Girls has announced the appointment of Joan R. Hanpeter as president of the board of directors of the Detroit Area Council. She'll serve as president until the next Councilwide election of officers in June, completing the term of resigning president Elsa Lodholz.

Well, as they say: ask a busy person . . .

Mrs. Hanpeter ended a two-year term as president of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education last year. She's still a board member.

She serves on the executive board of the Wayne County Association of School Boards, is a trustee of the Grosse Pointe Foundation for Academic Enrichment and is an elder at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

She was formerly chairperson of the Detroit Camp Fire Council's Group Organization, (girl-leader recruitment), committee, and has been a Camp Fire leader for seven years.

She's married to attorney Edward Hanpeter. They have four children, ranging in age from 10 to 18.

Joan's goals in her new presidency are the strengthening and focusing of the volunteer board of directors to meet the agency's membership and

Elmwood Recognized As Historic Site

where Secretary of State RICHARD H. AUSTIN and Detroit Mayor COLEMAN A. YOUNG, (right and left, flanking Mrs. Wrigley), presented an official state historic marker, were WILLIAM S. SCHINDLER, (far left), a member of the Detroit Historical Commission who served as master of ceremonies, and Detroit City Councilman ERNEST C. BROWN, JR., (far right), chairman of the Black Historic Sites Committee.

Elmwood is the oldest non-sectarian cemetery in Detroit. Buried in it are six former Michigan Governors, the manager of Detroit's Underground Railroad and members of the families of black and white community leaders, including the Algiers, the Russells and Governor Lewis Cass.

Last November, Elmwood was the scene of extensive vandalism and a fire which destroyed the historic chapel, built in 1855. The check presented by Mrs. Wrigley symbolizes the Historical Society's interest in and support of efforts to restore that chapel to its original state.

A minimum goal of $200,000 has been set by the Elmwood Cemetery board of trustees to accomplish this restoration, and an appeal issued to concerned citizens in Michigan to support the Chapel Restoration Fund.

"We are determined," notes Mr. Ledyard, "that the vandals of our time must not be permitted to obliterate the cherished objects of our past."

Sister Quinlan To Give Talk

The Grosse Pointe Alumnae of the Sacred Heart will sponsor a talk by Sister Mary Quinlan, R.S.C.J., on the Status of Women in the Church and the Educational Program of the Society of the Sacred Heart, Past and Present, next Thursday, March 3, at 1 o'clock in the Grosse Pointe Academy's auditorium.

Sister Quinlan's presentation will be followed by a reception and tea in the parlour of the Academy's lakeside building. Admission is free. Parking is available at Saint Paul's Church. Baby sitting will be provided.

The speaker holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Manhattanville College and Master of Arts and Doctoral degrees in History from Catholic University. She served as academic dean at Newton College from 1953 to 1970, and currently teachers in the major seminary of the Boston Archdiocese.

She is a member of the Woman's Theological Coalition in the Boston area.

Louisa St. Clair DAR Cites Good Citizens

Louisa St. Clair Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, presented "Good Citizen" pins and awards to selected high school seniors at a meeting Thursday, February 17, in Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. B. Thomas Wehling, 111, regent, introduced the students and their parents at the luncheon. Miss Josephine E. Benson, chairman of Louisa St. Clair's Good Citizens committee, made the presentations.

Miss Mary V. MacDonald, of the Dearborn Historical Museum, spoke on "The Infinite World of Toys."

Among the 1977 honorees are Nancy Blicharz, Saint Andrew's High; Karen Semarjian, Lutheran High East; Judith Ann Glasper, Denby High; Carolyn Brazton, Martin L. King High; Mach McClelland, Saint Martin de Porres; James R. Moore, De La Salle Collegiate; John Michael Mulroy, Catholic Central; Kevin Bach, Austin Prep; and Barbara Coplen, Southeastern.

Brass Program For Pettipointe

Pettipointe Chapter of Quesset members and their guests will gather Thursday, March 3, for a noon luncheon in the Balfour road home of Mrs. William Kennedy.

Mrs. Gordon Sorenson will present a paper on "Monumental Brasses and the Art of Brass Rubbing."

Monumental Brasses are grave markers found on the floors and walls of old churches, many giving names and dates as well as very handsome likenesses of knights and ladies, children, priests, monks, tradesmen, students, lawyers and nobles.

Betty Sorenson will illustrate her program in Jayne Kennedy's home, where warm wood detailing accents fine handmade crewel and needlepoint accessories, with brass rubbings she (Betty) made in England.

Ming Magic for Phase I

Phase I, an all-singles group, will present a magic tour featuring Ming the Magnificent—only person in the world who performs the illusion of the erupting volcano—this Sunday, February 27, at 7:45 o'clock at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

DSO's Eastern Tour Praised

The Detroit Symphony was "striking," "exciting" and "brilliant" in performances on its recently-completed winter tour.

These are the words critics used to describe the music of the DSO on its eastern seaboard tour, which ranged from Massachusetts to Florida, with stops in New York, Washington, D.C., Virginia and the Carolinas. Music Director Aldo Ceccato conducted all 10 concerts.

New York Times critic Raymond Ericson called the DSO's performance in Carnegie Hall "strong, colorful and rhythmically firm." Ericson wrote: "The Detroit Symphony is a very efficient, smooth-functioning machine with a more homogeneous sound than that of comparable orchestras. On Friday, it played with a good deal of verve and brilliance."

Washington Post critic Joseph McLellan described the DSO's Kennedy Center concert as "striking—particularly good at climactic points. Mozart's great Concerto in C minor was well-integrated, and the woodwind dialogues with the piano in the slow movement were superb."

"It was a great sound, with lush vibrancy that is exciting to hear," according to the Charleston, S.C., News and Courier. "The strings sang with sharp precision, the horns and woodwinds were alternately controlled and glorious, and they sounded together with one purpose."

The Wilmington, N.C. Morning Star praised the DSO for its "strength and quality—expert and robust without being flashy."

The Orchestra returned to Detroit February 14, and resumed its Ford Auditorium concert schedule last weekend with a chamber orchestra performance Thursday evening, February 17, and three performances with the Joffrey Ballet Saturday and Sunday, February 18 and 19. Upcoming DSO special events include Professor Peter Schickele with "P.D.Q. Bach" Friday evening, February 25, at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

Arts Education Aid Available

The Michigan Council for the Arts has announced a new grant program, Arts-In-Education, being made available for 1978 contingent upon legislative support for funding recently recommended by Governor William Milliken.

According to the Council's education coordinator Donald Gheen, this pilot program is designed to involve people of all ages in innovative arts activities which go beyond the traditional school arts curriculum.

It also will explore ways in which the arts and artists can become an integral part of the education process.

It is intended to provide funding for pilot activities, not for support of current programs or the restoration of programs dropped due to lack of funds.

Deadline for the submission of applications for projects taking place in 1978 is May 27, 1977. Grants will be awarded in amounts over $2,500 but not exceeding $20,000.

Further information, guidelines and application forms may be obtained from the Michigan Council for the Arts, 1200 Sixth Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226, (256-3495).

THE PARK PHARMACY

Many of the customs of our ancestors have helped materially in protecting and saving, as well as improving human health. The utilization by our forefathers of natural forces, such as sunshine, sleep, rest, and invigorating work, are good examples. On the other hand many customs and beliefs from the early days are based entirely on superstition. Here are some medical beliefs held over from earlier days. 1. A baby will not grow if a hat is placed upon his head before he is one year old. 2. Illness of a child may be prevented by bathing him in greasy dishwater. 3. A sore throat is cured by drinking water out of a stranger's shoe.

Professional pharmacists at THE PARK PHARMACY, 15324 E. Jefferson, Grosse Pointe Park, are always happy to answer questions on your medications; we work closely with your doctor to make sure you and your family get the proper and latest drugs. Bring your prescriptions to us for prompt, personalized and dependable service. We also carry a full line of all health and beauty aids, convalescent aids, (including wheel chairs, crutches, walkers, etc. for rent or purchase), and a full line of liquor, beer and wine. Stop in and see our fine selection of fresh fruits, vegetables and fresh Sanders candies. Call us at 882-2580. We are open daily until 8 P.M., Fridays and Saturdays until 9 p.m., and on Sundays from 10 A.M. until 3 P.M.

Center Hosts German Film

Ed Lark's "Germany" is next on the War Memorial's Adventure Series. The personally narrated travelogue will be presented on Wednesday, Thursday, March 9-10, in the Fries Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Each presentation will be preceded at 7 p.m. by a Bavarian banquet in the Crystal Ballroom above the theatre.

The full evening dinner and show with tax and service included is $10.25. Admission to the lecture and film only is $2.75.

The film begins in Munich, with visits to the Marienplatz, the famous Glockenspiel and the Baroque Nymphenburg Palace. Then the film moves out into the Bavarian countryside to Mad Ludwig's storybook castle Neuschwanstein and Oberammergau, the setting of the Passion Play.

The audience will then be taken to the ancient walled city of Rothenburg and on to the famous spas of Baden-Baden and Bad Homburg.

A journey up the Rhine river past vineyards and castles takes one to the Cologne Cathedral, one of the greatest gothic structures in the world. Then the film moves over communist territory to Berlin.

From the old capital, Mr. Lark takes his viewers to the new political center of West Germany, Bonn, and then to the university town of Heidelberg. The film ends in Germany's dynamic industrial heartland, Frankfurt and Mannheim.

The Center is located at 32 Lakeshore road.

Planning Visit To Ice Capades

The War Memorial's announcement offering brunch and charter bus service to and from Olympia to see the Ice Capades has met with instant response, particularly since special prices are offered to both senior citizens and children along with regular prices, reports the Center, 32 Lakeshore road.

The date is Saturday, March 19, and others interested in taking in the show in this manner should make reservations at once.

The crowd will gather at 10:15 a.m. for brunch in Alger House, then be chauffeured to the door of Olympia for the early 12 noon matinee, where a block of seats has been reserved in the promenade section. The show features Olympic and world champion skater Dorothy Hamill.

Following the show, patrons will be picked up and taken back to the free parking lot at the War Memorial. Brunch including tax and service, parking, chauffeured round trip transportation and a reserved seat for the show is $14.50 or $10 for senior citizens and children.

Weaving Class

Being Formed

Few homes can accommodate huge looms and few people can afford to acquire and learn to use them, but a new course at the War Memorial Center will teach people how to construct a simple frame vertical loom, suitable for continued work.

Instructor Carolyn Currier will teach students a variety of weaving techniques from traditional tapestry and Navajo Indian to modern design with emphasis on color.

Miss Currier will lead her students in processing yarn from raw wool through the dye bath and will discuss with them the merits and uses of various wool fibres.

The fee is $40 for 10 weeks of two-hour classes which will be held at the Center on Thursday afternoons, February 24-May 5, from 1-3 p.m.

"THE FREE APPRAISAL"

When was the last time you got something of "value", for nothing. Can you afford to rely on a "Free Appraisal" when establishing the market value of your property? We believe that one criteria for selecting your realtor should be the complete, professional way your property is appraised, including the facts that support the real-dollars could be lost due to a "Free Appraisal" that under-prices your house. Yet, a "Free Aphave a real need to sell now, can delay or prevent its sale entirely . . . to your detriment.

A careful "market value" appraisal is just one of the many services you receive when you market your

NHS Natators Double Victors

By Diane Marstiller
This past week the North High School swim team competed in two Bi-County dual meets, winning both of them. Norsemen tankers took all 11 first places in both meets.

On Wednesday, February 16, the Norsemen traveled to Lakeshore and defeated the Shorians, 139-32. Top performers for the Norsemen were Tom Shook first in the 200-yard individual medley and Mike Brown who won the diving event.

Class Offered By Tom Pettit

Farms resident Tom Pettit, of Hillcrest road, will teach a piano workshop with informal talks and technical demonstrations in cooperation with Wayne State University's (WSU), theatre and music departments.

Mr. Pettit is a piano technician who has serviced the concert pianos of such artists as Artur Schnabel, Vladimir Horowitz, Van Cliburn and Claudio Arrau.

He also is vice-president of the Detroit-Windsor chapter of the Piano Technicians Guild.

The workshop, which runs eight weeks, begins Monday, February 28, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the McGregor Memorial Conference Center on the WSU campus.

For more information on this and other workshops, call coordinator Dean Coffin at 577-2406.

John Dimond was first in the 100-yard butterfly, while other winners were Shawn Lakin, a double winner in the 200-yard freestyle and 500-yard freestyle at 1:52.9 and 5:04.3, respectively. Doug Rentschler in the 50-yard freestyle at 23.1 and Taylor Henkel in the 100-yard backstroke at 60.4.

Matt Brady won the 100 yard freestyle at 52.5, Brian Deman won the 100-yard breaststroke at 1:08.9 and the Norsemen won the 400-yard freestyle relay and the 200-yard medley relay.

On Friday, February 18, the Norsemen hosted Clintondale and won, 133-39. The tankers had two double winners. Shook in the 200-yard individual medley and the 100-yard breaststroke at 2:09.7 and 1:07.4, respectively, and Scott Nixon in the 50-yard freestyle and 100-yard freestyle in 23.1 and 50.5, respectively.

Matt Sobieski won the 200-yard freestyle in 1:52.6. Brown won the diving event with 265.2 points and Dimond, the 100-yard butterfly at 56.7. In the 500-yard freestyle, it was David Howe at 5:01.4, while Gordon Haigh won the 100-yard backstroke at 59.1. The tankers also won both the 400-yard freestyle and 200 medley relays.

The Norsemen will be competing at Ann Arbor Pioneer on Friday, February 25, at 7:30 p.m., and coach Tom Teetaert is looking forward to the remaining meets.

South Students Excel in Math

Three South High School math students have been named award winners in the 20th annual Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition. Nick Graves, son of Dr. James and Dr. Helen Graves, of Buckingham road, Greg Jay, son of the Robert Jays, of Lincoln road, and Terry Burnham, son of the Thomas Burnhams, of Barrington road, were among the top 100 student mathematicians in Michigan.

They will be honored at an awards program in Kalamazoo this month. College scholarships totaling $7,000 will be awarded to 40 of the winners. The program is sponsored by the Burroughs Corp., Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics and Michigan Bell.

SH JV Cagers Drop 2 More

By Rick Mayday
Chalk up another two losses for South's JV basketball team.

First, the Devils lost to Highland Park, 43-38, on Tuesday, February 15, at home. The JV cagers shot fair from the foul line, making 12 of 22 free throws. Bob Baker led the scoring with 13 points and Jim Heidt scored eight.

Camp Slates Slide Show

Young people, 10-17 years of age, and interested parents are invited to Miller Hall in Christ Episcopal Church, 61 Grosse Pointe boulevard, on Sunday, February 27 at 7:30 p.m. to meet J. Kenneth Bryant, director of Camp Merrowvita, and to see the sound-slide production "A Brand New Day."

Camp Merrowvita, located on 550 acres in the Ossipee range of the White Mountains of New Hampshire, is a non-profit, Christian oriented camp under the auspices of the American Youth Foundation of St. Louis, Mo.

Among the activities are backpacking, canoeing, sailing, bicycle trips and a waterfront program. Their 1977 four-week session for girls is June 26-July 23, and for boys, July 31-August 27.

For further information on this camp, which is accredited by the American Camping Assoc., phone 881-8562 or 382-0763.

On Friday, February 18, the JV team came up short again, losing to Port Huron Northern 48-45, in an exciting game. The JV team choked in the fourth quarter in adding another loss to the books. Joe Quinn led the scoring with 13 points. He was followed by Baker with 10 points, nine steals and eight rebounds.

It's been a rotten year for South's once hopeful JV basketball team. The Devils are finally about to end the long 1976-1977 season with one more game left on the road at Roseville Friday, February 25. The club is 5-12.

Church to Host Ethiopian Talk

The Rev. Edwin Erickson, a missionary to Ethiopia who trains national leaders, will be featured at a polluck supper Wednesday, March 2, at the Chandler Park Drive Baptist Church, 17300 Chandler drive, Detroit, at 6:30 p.m.

Mr. Erickson will give a visual presentation of his work which involves preparing enlarged photographs to symbolize Bible teachings and to teach non-literate Ethiopians.

"This method of teaching has great potential because over 95 percent of church members are not able to read," Mr. Erickson said.

The church includes Pointe members.

Pointers of Interest

MR. AND MRS. HENRY KOHRING, OF RADNOR CIRCLE

By Donna Moran

Henry and Jane Kohring are a fascinating couple, their interests different but intertwined in a loving home atmosphere that reflects Henry's long years in the travel business and Jane's interest in wildlife and the beauty of nature. Each is an individual, with a different slant on life and a different story to tell.

They've traveled throughout the world, but have discovered that, for them, the most interesting and exciting life can be found within a 50 mile radius of their Grosse Pointe home.

Henry was on the landing field in New Jersey on that fateful day in May, 1937, when the Hindenburg zeppelin burst into flames. But more about that later. He would rather talk about his present "adventures" in the Kresge Library at Wayne State University, recording tapes for the blind.

Every Monday and Wednesday Henry volunteers his time, reading and translating German textbooks for cassettes which are used by blind and physically-handicapped students. These tapes are circulated to college libraries throughout the country by Recording For The Blind, a Torch Drive Agency.

They Help Thousands Henry, and other volunteers like him, make it possible for thousands of students who are blind, have perceptual difficulties, cerebral palsy or multiple sclerosis to prepare themselves for future careers and to lead more independent, productive lives.

Recording For The Blind "opened the eyes" of Dr. David Hartman, who was graduated last spring from Temple University: the first blind student to become a medical doctor in this century. Dr. Hartman has a sense of humor and states that, "When the lights are out, I'm the best surgeon in the room."

Readers for the blind must pass voice tests and have a grasp for specialized subject matter. Henry Kohring more than qualifies for this, as he speaks in a pleasant bass that any knowing choir director would gladly seek out, and is fluent in French, Dutch and German.

He is a natural for the job, and willingly gives the gift of his time to help others less fortunate.

Retired Travel Agent

Henry is retired from the working world now, but years ago was the general agent and later western passenger manager, in Chicago, for the Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd Steamship Lines.

As a part of his job he arranged cruise trips and played host on the company's steamships.

He and Jane saw the world through a porthole. On one memorable Mediterranean cruise through the Greek Islands, the Kohrings were the only persons who spoke English on a ship carrying passengers of 18 different nationalities. (Jane comments that the Argentinians were the best dancers, even if she couldn't converse very well.)

When the Hamburg-American Lines added zeppelin flights to their growing company, it seemed an ideal way to travel. The Hindenburg was one of these ships, and made several trips back and forth from Hamburg to New Jersey with no mishaps.

The passengers were happy and found it a noiseless, convenient and picturesque way to travel.

Was Fastest Trip

The trips took two nights and one day, and since the jet age had not arrived, this was the ultimate in speed for a trans-Atlantic crossing. The ship itself was propeller driven and had a crew of 46. The gondola accommodated 60 passengers in 30 luxurious staterooms, had a lovely dining room and was surrounded by a promenade deck.

On that fateful day in May, 1937, Jane was at home in New York and Henry was on the landing field in New Jersey. The landing cables had been dropped, and Henry was standing under the ship, talking with the passengers on board, when the Hindenburg suddenly blew up. The rest is history.

Jane heard the radio report, and never expected to see Henry again.

No one knows what caused the tragedy. It may have been lightning or atmospheric conditions, or the contact of the landing wires to the ground may have somehow ignited the highly flammable hydrogen gas.

At any rate, it was fortunate that Henry Kohring escaped without injury, and is now adding his talents to community life in this area.

War Ended Job

A few years after the tragedy World War II broke out, and Henry found himself without a job and with three growing children to raise. He had to quickly shift gears and rearrange his life.

He went to work as secretary-treasurer of the Lieberman Tobacco Company in Detroit, and in 1961 became president. In 1968 he sold the company and began his active life of retirement in Grosse Pointe.

In addition to his work with the blind, Henry likes to "get his hands in the dirt." He is an avid gardener, when weather permits. He also is an active member of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, and a charming gentleman who genuinely cares for people.

Jane is the Bird Lady of Radnor circle. As an active member of the Audubon Society, the Michigan Botanical Society and the Grosse Pointe Camera Club, she prepares and presents programs on Michigan Wildlife for garden clubs, church groups and other interested organizations.

Beauty Close By

This nature-loving dynamo believes "beauty is to be found close to home, if only our senses are keen and alert and we have our eyes open"—and sets out to prove it.

"Bird walks are best taken in the morning," she explains, "as the birds like the early morning light and sing before the sun gets too high. Also, they can be observed feeding their young at break of day."

PHILIP LEON, of Lakeshore road, has been named a 1977 member of the Good Will committee of the American Contract Bridge League.

Participating in Mount Holyoke College's Career Exploration Program, a four-week project which gives students first-hand experience in a professional field, is junior JANA KIRLIN, daughter of the JOHN A. KIRLINS, of Provincial road. Jana is an intern with the National Health Service Corps in McCormick, S.C.

ciety has a Rare Bird Alert phone number, 545-2224, and anyone who sees a bird outside its usual territory, or out of its migration season, is invited to call so we "can keep track of such things."

Jane proudly shows her bird feeding stations in the backyard, outside her breakfast room window.

Had Rare Visitors

"We get chickadees, juncos, cardinals, goldfinches and nuthatches here, and last Thanksgiving, just as we were sitting down to dinner, we were 'rewarded' by a flock of evening grosbeak who came to share the feast."

"Generally, they aren't found in this area."

One of the Kohrings' favorite places is Seven Ponds Nature Center, located near Dryden. This Center is supported by memberships in the Audubon Society, and the land was contributed by generous people in the area.

According to Jane, there are about 245 acres of property, with woodland trails for walking, "protected" wildflowers, waterbirds, swamps and a naturalist in residence. "There are also several different types of special habitats, such as the prairie developed by Earl Neeb, the former naturalist at the center. Grasses and flowers found only in prairie regions have been planted there."

"In addition to the wonders of nature, there is a small picnic ground for families to enjoy."

Another Favorite

Another organization of interest to the Kohrings is the Michigan Nature Association, located in Mount Clemens. Through contributions and memberships, this group buys wild acreage and puts trails through for sanctuaries which provide a harmonious and natural environment for wildlife.

The Association is selective, however, and chooses the sanctuaries for various reasons. There may be unusual birds or wildflowers in the area, or handsome trees, or it may be chosen to complement other sanctuaries.

Sanctuaries range in size from 15 to 550 acres, and are found in both the lower and financial dilemmas this year, for decreased membership—shared with all youth agencies and many volunteer organizations—has affected Camp Fire's abilities to recruit new members and to continue its tradition of financial stability.

If something can be done about that, Mrs. Hanpeter's the person to do it.

A New Job for Denny

Denny Edgar Gordon has a new job. As of February 1 she's a president, of the newly-formed Butler-Gordon Public Relations Company in Vero Beach, Fla.

Before that, she was managing editor, then editor of Indian River Life magazine.

Denny and her family moved to Vero Beach in 1973, from Chappaqua, N.Y. Before that, there were all the years in Grosse Pointe... After graduation from Mount Holyoke and a year in Boston, she was a Grosse Pointe News staff writer.

And now she's President Gordon: you could say Denny's adjusted well, happily and successfully, to life in the Sunshine State.

A 'Different' Job for Bill

W. Joyce McTighe is coming home next month, for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Ray Dresden, and Mr. Dresden in Ridgmont road, during which, no doubt, he'll fill them and all their/his local friends in on the latest doings of "Sealskin Charlie."

"Sealskin," (otherwise known as Charles McAlpine), is the internationally-known Alaskan fur trader who provides McTighe with the raw materials for his new concepts in jewelry.

Those raw materials are fossilized ivory, from the Woolly Mammoth, (Mammuthus primigenius), and Mastodon, (Mammuth americanum), both long extinct, whose bones have been buried for thousands of years in the far, frozen north.

The Ice Age did them in. Now W. Joyce McTighe and Company, headquartered in Manhattan, is resurrecting them, using their ivory with its fascinating textures and colors as basis and inspiration for a collection of extraordinary fashion accessories.

It's a project that appeals to sophisticated designer McTighe as well as to scholar McTighe, the St. Paul's High School alumnus who went on to take a degree at the University of Michigan and pursue graduate studies at Johns Hopkins, the young man who has always been intrigued by primitive cultures.

It also appeals to conservationist McTighe. His jewelry uses no ivory from living animals.

upper peninsulas. Typical examples would be the Big Hand Sanctuary near Muttonville and the Trillium Trail near Memphis.

Is Also Photographer

Another of Jane's great loves, (besides Henry), is photography. She happily lugs her camera equipment on her nature walks.

"Eight years ago I woke up one morning and decided I wanted to take pictures of wildflowers. So I went to Hudson's, bought a Japanese camera, and have been avidly using it ever since."

As a member of the Grosse Pointe Camera Club, she goes to meetings twice a month and presents four slides for competition, criticism and possible awards.

One trophy Jane is particularly proud of is for a slide of a close-up view of the bark of a beech tree. She describes it almost poetically.

"It's the color and texture of elephant hide, with the wrinkles, scars and warts usually found on elephants if anyone takes the time or trouble to look closely enough." (How many of us do?)

Big Slide Collection

With great enthusiasm she shows other slides from her vast collection. "Here's a white Turtleshead flower that's often found in ditches, growing with its feet in water. See how each blossom, (up close), is shaped like a turtle's head?"

"And here are some wild orchids. At least 50 varieties are found in bogs and wet, grassy places in Michigan."

"And look at these fungi. A fungus is truly a beautiful thing. I like their colors, textures and shapes. They are a part of nature's wonderful cycle, and feed upon dead logs and humus, breaking down the wood to become a part of the soil again."
