BENT ON REVENGE for a 1973 mass slaying, black gunmen raided the Washington, D.C., city hall, B'nai B'rith headquarters and a Moslem mosque Wednesday. They killed a radio reporter, wounded other victims and held scores of hostages under threat of death. The terrorists, all black and members of the small Hanafi sect of Moslems, held their captives into the night in buildings ringed by police. Officers sealed off sections of Pennsylvania avenue, close to the White House, and Massachusetts avenue, in the heart of embassy row. A leader of the gunmen demanded delivery to his group of rival Black Muslims responsible for the 1973 death of seven members of the Hanafi sect and the halt to the showing of the movie "Mohammad, Messenger of God."

DETROIT POLICE reported Thursday a dramatic drop in serious crimes—especially murders—over the last five months. In a report to the Civilian Board of Police Commissioners, Deputy Chief Gerald Hale said the homicide rate had dropped 26.5 percent since October, while armed robbery was down 23.7 percent and rape was down 12.7 percent. Police also noted similar decreases in larceny and assault cases.

REPORTS FROM Kinshasa, Zaire, told of three Michigan residents who are among eight American missionaries reported being held under house arrest in one of several towns seized by thousands of invading mercenaries from Angola Friday. Zaire reported recapture of the towns and said the American missionaries under house arrest were in a town still held by invaders but were unharmed.

THE U.S. NAVY may attempt to build Project Seafarer elsewhere in Michigan if Gov. Milliken vetoes plans for the current site in the central Upper Peninsula. At most certainly, the alternate sites also would be in the U.P. The newest development in the controversial submarine communications system means that Michigan may not be free of the hotly debated Seafarer issue even if the governor exercises the veto power guaranteed him by the federal government. Upon learning of the new development, a Milliken aide raised the prospect of a succession of gubernatorial vetoes.

UGANDA THREATENED Sunday to take severe measures against U.S. and British residents as a reprisal for "false information" about massacres and torture under President Idi Amin's regime. Uganda observers said the warning—the second in two weeks directed at the American community—appears to be an explicit threat by Amin to take drastic steps in response to news reports which he considers critical of his rule.

GUNMEN TRIED to assassinate the son of Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, as he rode through a rural district while campaigning for parliament. Sanjay Gandhi was not hit, but the national news agency said three bullets hit the car of the controversial politician in the first assassination attempt against a member of a prime minister's family since India became independent 30 years ago.

'Veterans Memorial Parkway' to Bloom in Woods

Citizens entering The Woods along Vernier road at the Harper Woods border and near the Mack avenue intersection will be greeted by the "Veterans Memorial Parkway." This project will become a reality this summer thanks to the cooperative efforts of the Beautification Commission and Woods city officials. This rendering by the firm of Eichstedt, Grissim and Young, features the early American style brick walls, flagpoles, coach lamps and appropriate landscaping. Unlike that shown in the picture, the name of the city will be above the identification of the parkway on the walls.

Officials Air Dissent On New Law

Woods Councilwoman Mullan, Councilman Kefgen Disagree with Passage of 'Family' Ordinance

By George Polgar Jr.

The Woods Council adopted an ordinance limiting to three the number of unrelated persons permitted to share a single family residence. Over the dissenting votes of Councilwoman Joan M. Mullan and Councilman Ronald R. Kefgen, the measure was passed by a 4-2 vote at the Monday, March 7, regular council meeting.

City Attorney George Catlin drew up the ordinance which changes the present limit of five unrelated persons living together in a single family home to three, in response to problems the city had last year with two households in Roslyn road.

No Clear Connection
After repeated fiery public discussions concerning the Forever Family and another group of young people, the council attempted to find a solution to the problem of "disruptive" groups living in residential neighborhoods.

The suggestion to change the five person limit to something lower came from angry residents of Roslyn road and was accepted rather reluctantly under public pressure for some kind of action.

During numerous public meetings on the matter, Mrs. Mullan consistently opposed changing the limit from five.

Beautification Group Looks Forward to Start Of Big Parkway Project

Council Approves Advertising for Bids for Initial Construction Phase Near Entrances to Woods in Vernier Road; Objective of Program Is to Honor Veterans

By Roger A. Waha

The recent and most pleasant break in the weather is an obvious sign that spring is in the offing, (until the next snowfall, that is), but more than that, it's an added source of inspiration to members of the Woods Beautification Commission who are excitedly making plans for the initial construction and dedication of the "Veterans Memorial Parkway" project.

Four commission requests, three of which involved the project, were considered by the council at its rescheduled regular meeting Monday, February 28.

First, and most important, the solons unanimously approved the plans and specifications for the development of the parkway as submitted by the firm of Eichstedt, Grissim and Young, while authorizing City Administrator Chester E. Petersen to advertise for bids on the initial construction phase.

Gateway to City
Bids for site improvement work along the Vernier road islands will be received until Wednesday, March 30, at 3 p.m. by the city. The work consists of the construction of masonry walls, flagpoles, site lighting and landscaping.

As proposed, early American style brick walls will serve as a gateway to the city from the Harper Woods border on the west, to the eastern terminus of the Vernier road median east of the Mack avenue intersection. Each wall will contain the wording "Grosse Pointe Woods, Veterans Memorial Parkway."

Vanessa Helin Busy Making Preparations for Big Event This Summer

By Roger A. Waha

So far it has been an enjoyable year for Vanessa Helin, 21, Miss Grosse Pointe for 1976-77, albeit a busy one with college-related activities. The outlook shows no lapse in her schedule either, with the local pageant in April and then the state pageant in June.

"I've really had a great time. The people I've been involved with are fantastic—the Jaycees are a phenomenal group," said Vanessa, a 1973 South High School graduate who graduates next spring from the University of Windsor where she's majoring in music, (emphasis in voice).

Last summer, she participated in a trio of parades, including The Park's Bicentennial Parade, and visited most of the local councils with her chaperone, Mrs. Carter Billiu, toward informing officials of her availability to participate in city and other community-oriented events.

"Do Your Thing"

Now, Vanessa's currently preparing her musical selection, an operatic aria, for the local pageant, scheduled for May 14 at Parcels School. She also will perform the selection at the state event in Muskegon.

"I have lots of mental work to do before the performance," she said. "I went up last year, (i.e., to Muskegon), and there was a huge audience. But you have to come up by yourself and do your thing."

This isn't to say that Vanessa isn't a bit apprehensive about the Michigan pageant, (interviews with judges not included for she loves talking to people), but she looks forward toward doing her best, not only for herself, but for the community she represents.

Her title hasn't really changed her life at all. ("It's not like it's a major part of my life"), although she emphasizes, "What bothers me is when people think of me as Miss Grosse Pointe rather than as Vanessa Helin."

Being just Vanessa is most important to her and if her title helps advance her singing career, she's all for it. At the same time, the experience she has gained in meeting and working with

GP Park Fire Losses Lowest In Three Years

Chief Costa Attributes Decrease to Several Factors Including State Training, Improved Prevention Bureau System

Fire losses in The Park for 1976 were lower than the two previous years, although fire runs increased, according to an annual report submitted to City Manager Robert A. Slone and presented to the Park Council on Monday, March 14.

Last year's loss to buildings, contents and autos amounted to $127,615, the report disclosed.

The fire losses in 1975 totaled $293,217, while in 1974, the amount was $209,404.

Fire Chief Phillip Costa stated in his report that he attributed the reduction in last year's losses to the following factors:

Department personnel completing the 240-hour Michigan State Training Council prescribed training course, (the first in Wayne County and one of five paid fire departments throughout the State to complete this program.)

Ambulance Viewed
Mutual aid from other departments, (manpower and equipment.)

An improved Fire Prevention Bureau System and take-home fire prevention pamphlets by school children.

Fires last year were in smaller homes instead of the larger mansion-type which resulted in better control with less loss to contents.

The department's ambulance service was very active, (422 runs), the chief said, (adding that the citizens of The Park a very professional first aid service.)

In anticipation of new state laws governing the operations of an ambulance, the chief said, five firefighters and one officer have been enrolled in the Michigan Department of Health approved Emergency Medical Technician, (EMT), program.

These men, plus four others who are already EMTs, will be more than enough to keep within the law that requires an EMT on all ambulance calls.

More Runs Answered
Total fire runs answered in 1976, (including mutual aid, justified and malicious alarms), was 837, while in 1975 the number was 815. In 1974, it was 789.

SHS Students Seek 'Trouble'

Students in the auto mechanics classes at South High School will have a chance to represent their school in the upcoming Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest, according to school principal Dr. James Hoeft.

A written test will determine which two-student teams will qualify for the state championship mechanical competition. State champions, in turn, win all-expense paid trips to the National Championships in Atlanta, Ga., June 19-22 to compete for scholarships and other prizes.

GP Symphony Concert Features Ruth Burczyk

Ruth Burczyk, Grosse Pointe's own "First Lady of the Piano," will appear as soloist in the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra's third concert of the 1976-77 season Sunday, April 3, in the Performing Arts Center of North High School, 707 Vernier road, at 3:30 p.m.

Performing the familiar Saint-Saens Concerto No. 2 in G Minor for Piano and Orchestra, Mrs. Burczyk's reputation as an artist of great technique and musical sensitivity has been widely acclaimed throughout the music circles of the midwest and Canada.

Since her professional debut at 16 years of age with the Wisconsin Symphony Orchestra, she has steadily become one of the most popular concert pianists in the area. Her performances with numerous symphony orchestras, including repeat performances with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, have thrilled audiences and critics alike.

Renewal Proposals Pass Easily

Officials Express Pleasure over Result; Only One-Third Bother to Cast Ballots

By Susan McDonald

Both school and library millage renewals were passed by almost a three-one margin by voters in the Saturday, March 12, school elections.

With the exception of the Poupard district in Harper Woods, all precincts approved the 2.2 mills, school, and .11 of a mill, library, tax renewals for three years.

The vote was 7,597 "yes" and 4,500 "no" on the school proposal and 8,067 "yes" and 3,974 "no" on the library question.

The Trombly School district was most overwhelming in its approval of the taxes, passing both propositions by almost a four-one margin.

Best Loss Ever
The Poupard district barely voted the millage down with 438 "yes" and 447 "no" votes on the school ballot. But, as one millage campaign worker said, "That's the best loss we've ever had at Poupard."

In that district the library tax was defeated by a mere 27 votes, (433 "yes" to 460 "no"). Harper Woods residents who live in that area also pay a municipal tax in support of a city library.

Board of Education President Robert W. Warner was clearly delighted with the results.

"For the next three years, with negotiations now behind us, we can put all of our attention where it should be and figure out how to get the best possible mileage out of what has been given us," he said.

The vote "shows that people are satisfied with the general direction of the system," he added. "Now we just need to do some refining."

Though Superintendent Dr. William Coats said the vote shows strong support for the school system in the community, he expressed concern about the number of "no" voters. "There are obviously additional needs out there to be met," he said.

Woods Police Aid in Rescue

A 63-year-old Farms man suffered a coronary arrest while reporting an auto accident minutes before, in Woods public safety department headquarters Monday, March 7, police said.

Officers immediately administered cardiopulmonary resuscitation to Richard Parnell and transported him to Saint John Hospital where he was reported in fair condition as of Monday afternoon, March 14.

In his report, Officer Arthur Gekiere said he heard a yell from the clerk-dispatcher, then a call for a stand-by man up front where he saw Mr. Parnell lying on the floor near the police desk.

Along with Officers John DeLora and Michael Geneaux, Officer Gekiere worked on Mr. Parnell, as he had stopped breathing. En route to Saint John, he was administered oxygen and still wasn't believed to have been breathing at this time. At the hospital, personnel reportedly "brought him back," the officer said.

Police stated a call was received from the complainant's brother, a doctor, who said he had been seeing Mr. Parnell for a heart condition. Before entering the station, Mr. Parnell was involved in an accident where, police said, he ran into the rear of a car, driven by Thomas John Mosed, 74, of St. Clair Shores, which had stopped for a red light along Mack avenue.

Mr. Mosed also was taken to Saint John, suffering from a fractured rib. He was released on March 14.

No enforcement action was taken by police.

Millage Propositions Approved by Voters

The greatest obstacle in the millage campaign, according to millage volunteers, was the teacher-board of education contract dispute. The announcement of a tentative settlement on Monday, March 7, had a strong "settling influence," according to Mr. Warner. "But I do think it would have passed without the agreement," he added.

Less than a third, (12,106), of The Pointe's 40,500 registered voters made it to the polls on the soggy election day. It was a lower turnout than for either of last year's school elections.

About 12,500 voters defeated two propositions in March 1976 and a near record of 17,500, (44 percent), approved the four propositions two months later.

The library tax proposal received even more support than school millage with 67 percent voting "yes" to libraries and 63 percent supporting schools.

"The results show a willingness of the community to finance the libraries in this fashion, rather than the usual method of going through the municipality," said Library Director William Peters.

Campaign Helps
Millage co-chairmen, the Robert Feesers and Sterling Berries, gave credit for their success to the more than 1,000 volunteers who helped distribute flyers and make last-minute phone calls to voters.

Poll watchers, equipped with lists of voters considered likely to support the millage, (such as the parents of public school students), were stationed at eight of the elementary schools on voting day.

Everyone on their lists who had not placed their vote by 4 p.m. got a call from a millage worker urging them to get out and vote, according to Mrs. Berry.

The only vocal opposition to the school tax propositions came in a last-minute mass distribution of several thousand flyers calling for postponement of the "increase" until next year.

The flyer, signed by six Pointers, claimed the system would have an extra $1.7 million next year without the millage renewals. The flyer failed to take into account any cost increases the schools may face in the coming year, (such as utilities or instructional materials), or any pay increases for school employees.

Yearly Bill
As a result of the mass mailings, though, two companies, the Flame Furnace Co. and Independent Postal Service, have received dozens of phone calls and complaints from irate Pointers. Both company names were written on bags used to distribute the anti-millage flyers for advertising purposes. Spokesmen for the organizations say they did not take any stand on the proposals.

For a Pointe homeowner whose $80,000 home has a State Equalized Valuation, (SEV), of $30,000, the yearly school and library tax bill will be about $1,160.

This includes levies of 26.55 mills, school, 1.42 mills, library, 2.1 mills debt retirement, and 8.65 mills in Wayne County taxes for a total of 38.72 mills. (One mill equals $1 per $1,000 SEV).

According to school budget projections, the approved tax rate, along with annual six percent increases in the SEV, will allow for a complete continuation of programs for the next three years.

The budget will be balanced by not exceeding seven percent growth a year and making reductions of about $200,000 annually in staff and programs made possible by enrollment declines.

By the 1979-80 school year, the projections show that schools operating with a $23.5 million budget, with almost $22 million of its revenues coming from local taxpayers.

MEMBERS RESIGN

The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, March 7, accepted the resignations of Jesse R. Lowther and Kathleen Luberto from

GP Symphony Concert

Made up of non-professional musicians who are doctors, lawyers, bankers, engineers, teachers, housewives and students, it continues to give pleasure of ensemble playing, public performance and satisfaction through personal enjoyment, and continued development of musical talent.

Each spring, students up through the 11th grade are given the opportunity to audition for the Thomas Nester Memorial Scholarship Award Competition.

The purpose of the scholarship is to reward talented young people with an opportunity to participate in a symphony orchestra and perform as soloist with orchestral accompaniment.

It is necessary that the successful candidate attend all rehearsals and concerts of the Grosse Pointe Symphony during the season in which he or she performs his solo.

This year, two scholarships of $200 each, to be used to further the student's musical education, will be given to young orchestra instrumentalists, (excluding piano).

Auditions will be held on May 13 at South High School, in the orchestra practice room, beginning at 4 p.m. For further information, call 331-0951.

Winners of the scholarship award in previous years have been Wendy Judson, flute, Lise Erwin, oboe, and Janice Krell, bassoonist.

Felix Resnick, orchestra conductor for the past 18 years, has brought to the organization a gift of musicianship, coupled with a sensitivity and skill for working with people.

A regular member of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for the past 33 years, Mr. Resnick has written original music scores for documentary films, has served as music director of a local FM radio station and is presently conductor of the Pontiac-Oakland Symphony and West Bloomfield Symphony Orchestras.

For the April 3 concert, Mr. Resnick and the orchestra will join forces with Richard Vernick whose "Musical Photo Paintings" will provide a graphic as well musical presentation of the Grand Canyon Suite.

Panoramic scenes, depicting the everchanging moods and colors of the Grand Canyon, will be shown on a screen in the auditorium as the orchestra weaves its way thru the descriptive music.

The suite is divided in five sections with each seeking to evoke the essential feelings inspired by the imposing beauty of America's mighty natural wonder. "Sunrise," "The Painted Desert," "On the Trail," "Sunset" and "Cloudburst" was first performed by Paul Whiteman and his orchestra in Chicago in November 1931.

The basic style is symphonic jazz, unquestionably American, yet the Grand Canyon Suite can be enjoyable to listeners of all musical tastes. Additional orchestral programming will include the Overture to Prince Igor by Alexandre Borodin.

Tickets at $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for students may be obtained by calling 331-0951 or 884-3052 or at the box office the afternoon of the concert.

MAILE APPOINTED

Park resident Boniface R. Maile, of Balfour road, has been appointed a crusade committee member of the American Cancer Society during Cancer Control Month, March 14-April 15. Mr. Maile was formerly special assistant attorney general under Gov. Harry F. Kelly and assisted in the formation of the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund.

Air Dissent

because there was no clear connection between the number of people living in a house and their relations with neighbors.

Before the new ordinance was adopted last week, Mrs. Mullan reaffirmed her stand on the matter.

"I'm going to put Mr. Catlin on the spot here," she said before the final vote was taken. "Do you think this ordinance will do any good?" Mr. Catlin said he believed it would, to which Mrs. Mullan replied that she disagreed.

Questions Need
Meanwhile, Mr. Kefgen said his opposition was based on three factors.

"First of all, I am not convinced that there was a need for this change," he said. "Second, I question the constitutionality of these restrictions and, third, I don't know how it will be enforced."

He went on to say that because of the pressure of public outcry from residents of Roslyn road, the council has had to adopt two ordinances—the first prohibiting parking on front lawns—that do not clearly solve the city's problems.

"The parking law was adopted too quickly in my opinion and because of our action we had a case in less than a month after passage where we put a family to some inconvenience by not letting them use an already constructed front yard parking lot," he said.

In this case, the law might do what the council intended it to do but there is no assurance because of the difficulty of enforcement, he stated.

"The conditions we tried to prevent by passing this ordinance may be affected but we may also have created a lot of other problems along the way," he added.

Woods Police Nix Proposal

The Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers Assoc., (GPWPOA), voted unanimously not to ratify a proposed agreement between the group and the city at a contract meeting Friday afternoon, March 11, at departmental headquarters.

Officer Stephen Petrik, association president, said the vote was 31-0 nixing the proposal. However, despite the vote, the officer felt "a couple of items," (including a concern over proposed pay for corporals), need more work, while hoping for further negotiations.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen acknowledged the association formally conveyed the result of Friday's vote, while indicating he wants to discuss the overall status of the situation with the city council.

Before a flurry of negotiation sessions earlier this month, (bargaining first began early last summer), arbitration remained prominent on the horizon. The GPWPOA in early January already made a move in this direction by designating its representative to a proposed arbitration panel.

What happens now awaits further developments on the bargaining front.

Fraud Hearing Delayed Again

The preliminary examination of Dr. Robert J. Sillery, of The City, on charges of Medicaid fraud has been postponed for a third time in the St. Clair Shores Municipal Court.

The first doctor arrested in the state attorney general's Medicaid abuse probe, Dr. Sillery is accused of billing the system for $1,500 worth of work which was never performed.

After his arrest in mid-January he was released on $20,000 bond. His court appearance is now set for Monday, May 16.

Sen. Snyder Receives Petitions

Pointers Seek Hike in Drinking Age

By Susan McDonald

State Senate bills to increase the drinking age in Michigan got additional support from the Pointers recently with the presentation to lawmakers of some 3,200 local names in support of the proposed law.

Community leaders representing four local school groups delivered the petitions, calling for a hike in the age to 19 years, to Sen. Joseph M. Snyder.

Two bills, (No. 31 and 32), were introduced early in the 1977 session, co-sponsored by Sen. Snyder and 16 other lawmakers. They are still being considered by the Senate Committee on Commerce and have not yet come to the floor for debate.

Pointers who presented the petitions to Sen. Snyder at a meeting in Pointe Board of Education offices were Parcells PTO Representative Robert Goulder, South High School Mothers' Club President Mrs. Gerald Warren, Board of Education Trustee Joan Hanpeter and PTO Study and Action Committee

President Mrs. Douglas Graham.

Mrs. Graham spearheaded a drive beginning last November to circulate petitions in the area calling for a halt to teenage drinking.

Among the local groups distributing and signing the documents were several middle school parent clubs, local churches, the League of Women Voters, Lawyers Wives of Grosse Pointe and the Motion Picture Council.

The Board of Education unanimously passed a resolution in December supporting a hike in the drinking age.

The legal Michigan drinking age was lowered from 21 to 18 years in 1972 as part of a new age of majority law.

Besides the distressing increase in traffic deaths involving teenage drinkers, Mrs. Hanpeter said the lower drinking age has "caused serious and distressing problems in the schools."

"We know that 18-year-olds in our high schools are buying liquor for their younger classmates," Mrs. Hanpeter explained. "We had hoped they would be more responsible about this, but it just hasn't worked out that way for most."

The effect of raising the drinking age to 19 years would be to remove alcohol from the schools, she added.

Data gathered by the Office of Highway Safety Planning shows that while the total number of accidents for the 18-20 year age group has decreased since 1972, (in line with other traffic trends), the number of drinking teenagers involved in accidents has increased sharply, by about 27 percent.

Between 1972-75, the number of teenagers arrested for driving under the influence of liquor increased by almost 50 percent, while overall arrests for that crime jumped by only seven percent.

Both the leaders of the House and Senate have publicly committed themselves to taking a close look at raising the drinking age.

The Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning also has recommended raising the drinking age, but has opted for a return to 21 years, rather than just 19.

Dr. Dahl Receives Jaycees Award

Club, last year's award winner; Pieter vanHorne, Jaycee and previous recipient in 1973; Clarence Waseher, general store manager of Jacobson's and honorary Jaycee; and Edmund T. Ahee, of Ahee Jewelers, who's also an honorary Jaycee.

Indicating he was pleased over those nominated, Mr. Krass said they represented a cross-section of the community. He added the decision was a difficult one because "we had some excellent nominees." And based upon their request, he declined to reveal their names.

"National Force"

The pleasure of the announcement wasn't only confined to Dr. Dahl and his family but to the hospital overall. Mr. Farley, who learned about the doctor's honor two weeks before the event, said, "I'm very pleased and also very proud of Andy. I also feel it's a well deserved honor, too."

"Andy is an outstanding young man and is rapidly becoming, not only a local, but a national force in the health care field."

Mr. Farley also said Dr. Dahl is an asset to his community, while noting he's a member of the board of directors of the Northeast Guidance Center, the advisory board of Project Headline and the administrative board of Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church. He also was recently elected to the board of the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

"He has been working with me for three years and I know what he has accomplished for Saint John Hospital and the health care community of Michigan," said Mr. Farley, who added he knew Dr. Dahl was the outstanding young executive in the community, while wanting others to know this, too.

On Hospital's Role

After accepting the award, Dr. Dahl addressed the Jaycees saying the organization's work in the area of retardation and burn care, and also in social services, has been appreciated by those involved in health services.

He felt the Jaycees have made a major contribution via monies raised, and their commitment, in the area of the health and well being of the community.

"I feel a big chunk of this award should go to Saint

Fire Losses

The chief broke down the fire losses for last year as follows: residential buildings, $79,405.78; commercial buildings, none; content loss, $44,814.80; and automobiles, $3,395, total, $127,615.58.

The value of buildings involved shows $3,157,000, contents, $1,090,825, and the value of automobiles, $13,700.

Fire loss per capita based on a population of 15,641 is $8.16, the report showed.

The Mutual Fire Aid Pact between the Pointes and Harper Woods proved its worth by supplying manpower and apparatus when needed at the scene of an emergency, be it an ambulance emergency or a fire call, Chief Costa stated.

Reassuring Feeling

As an illustration, he pointed to records which showed that the City Fire Department responded to The Park 37 times, The Farms responded three times and The Woods and Harper Woods, once each.

Many of these responses were cancelled while en route to The Park, the chief said, but to The Park, it was a reassuring feeling knowing that additional manpower and equipment was on its way.

The Park responded 17 times to The City and seven times to The Farms, Chief Costa added.

Beware of the fellow who has honest motives, but habitually insists on dishonest practices.

John Hospital's board of trustees, the management and medical staff," he said, while noting the growth and development of the hospital over the past 10 years, and its "major re-evaluation" of its role in the area of health care in the community.

In relation to this, Dr. Dahl viewed the hospital's role within the eastern metropolitan Detroit area toward organizing a more satisfactory and more cost effective system to deliver health services.

Stressing the need of Saint John and other hospitals toward meeting the needs of the community in that area, he said, "That's what it's all about and I can only accept the award with this kind of understanding."

Extensive Background

Dr. Dahl has been director of planning at Saint John since 1972, and is responsible for corporate managerial planning and community health planning. Programs in which he has been involved include a $60 million, five-year development plan; a three hospital program merger plan; a multiple year, variable capital and operating budget; and a hospital management planning system.

He represents the hospital in matters of health planning and policy formulation at regional, state and national levels.

Besides this, he's an assistant professor, department of community medicine, Wayne State University Medical School, and is on the visiting faculty at Cornell University, Sloan Institute of Hospital Administration. He also is a consultant with the Johns Hopkins University Group Practice Health Accounting Project.

Dr. Dahl is a member of such professional organizations as the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council, the Michigan Hospital Assoc., the American College of Hospital Administrators, American Public Health Assoc. and the American Hospital Assoc.

He also has presented professional papers concerning health planning and hospital administration at various regional and national conferences.

Getting Involved

Raised in Worcester, Mass., Dr. Dahl married Janice O. White in 1965. He has three children, Kristina, 11, Jennifer, 5, and Meredith, 1.

Following Dr. Dahl, the Jaycees heard from keynote speaker Tom Ritter, past president of the state organization, who talked about getting involved in the community and turning "apathy into empathy." He was followed by Mr. Pattee, who emphasized the need and commitment to grow on the part of members toward making The Pointe a better community in which to live.

Besides Mr. Bruce and Mr. vanHorne, other recipients of the award include John Prost, former president of the PTO-PTA Council, 1969; former School Board Trustee William Adams, 1970; Rep. William Bryant, 1971; former Youth Service Division Det. John Kendall, 1972; Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber, 1974; and Raymond V. Ingham, director of the Department of Cardiopulmonary Services, Bon Secours Hospital, 1975.

It's sad but true—one good turn builds up hope for another.

Woods Citizens Oppose Proposed Development

By George Polgar Jr.

Another confrontation is brewing between Woods residents, who want to keep their neighborhood the way it is, and a developer who wants to put up multiple family dwellings.

At a special Woods planning Commission meeting on Tuesday, March 8, officials received a petition bearing the names of 70 residents of the Vernier road and Christine court area opposing the construction of two duplexes and four garages on a lot in Vernier road.

The site in question is only a few blocks from another empty lot where plans to build multiple family residences have been repeatedly scuttled by strong public opposition.

"The situation in this case is a little different from previous disputes," said City Administrator Chester E. Petersen. "In the other cases, developers planning to build multiple family dwellings came to the council to get the property rezoned. The owner of the property in question already has the lot rezoned to R-2 two family residential."

According to Mr. Petersen this rezoning was granted in July 1974. Some of the signers of the petition opposing the construction of the duplexes say that they were not notified of the public hearing called at that time to consider the rezoning request. Besides wanting to keep their neighborhood one of single family homes, the dissenting residents say that the 68-by-230-foot lot is too small for the planned four structures.

"According to the plan presented to the planning commission there is going to be a 20-foot wide driveway for the duplexes and four patios," said Mrs. Laverne Akers, of Christine court.

"These are going to be on or very close to the lot lines and adjoining property. There is hardly going to be any grass left on the property."

"A lady who lives across from the lot says that outside her front door it's going to look like gasoline alley."

She went on to say that most of the citizens signing the petition wouldn't mind so much if there was going to be only one duplex, but two is definitely too much.

Mr. Petersen said the rezoning from single to double family residential for the lot was granted partly because the area is no longer a strictly single house neighborhood.

"There are duplexes across the street and apartments a little further down on the other side," he said.

To this, Mrs. Akers said the duplexes and apartments across Vernier at least have some grass and landscaping to make them look like surrounding properties.

Among the other complaints of area residents is the parking problem that will be created by having four new families living there. As it is, there is no parking on Vernier road and they fear that further people living in the immediate area will cause more parking congestion than already exists on the side streets.

A public hearing on the question will be called sometime in the future and the dissenting residents are gearing up to make a good showing at that time. They are reviewing their petition list to see if any of their neighbors are attorneys.

To get their way in this case the residents will likely need more than just numbers and strong voices.

Quartet Group Seeks Singers

The Barber Shop Singing Society, which meets in Saint Mark's Episcopal Church, 14510 East Seven Mile road, is looking for Pointers to join the group.

The society meets every Tuesday evening at 7:30 and the first and third Friday of every month at the same time.

NHS Athletes Swim for Sports

The annual North High School Swim-for-Sports Marathon will be held on March 18-19, from 4 p.m. Friday—4 p.m. Saturday.

The Booster Club, composed of parents of student athletes, is sponsoring the marathon. The club aids the voluntary supervision at contests as well as fund raising athletic program through for supplementary equipment.

Some of the equipment they've provided this year is a Colorado Timing System, swimming record board for the girls, six digital stop watches, wrestling practice equipment, a whirlpool for the girls, special lenses for the movie projectors to show football movies to the parents, 12 rain suits for the cross country team and volleyball nets, plates and floor standards for the girls.

In addition, the Booster Club has an ongoing program to supplement the cost of transportation to away events.

Seven-hundred pledge booklets have been handed out so far. The top 60 pledge raisers are invited to an all-night, chaperoned party at the school. Those who earn $50 or more are given a free Swim-for-Sports tee shirt.

JC's Jelly Sale Set April 1-3

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees, in cooperation with the Jaycee Auxiliary, the Foundation for Exceptional Children and the Grosse Pointe Assoc. for Retarded Children, will hold its annual Jelly Sale Friday-Sunday, April 1-3.

Grape jam will be sold at many stores including Jacobson's in-the-Village and at various banks in The Pointe area.

Door-to-door sales also will take place over the weekend, said John Chouinard, chairman.

The jam comes in a reusable mug at a minimum donation of $1. All proceeds will go directly to the foundation and the association, both of which benefit the mentally and physically handicapped children of The Pointe. A total of 7,200 jars have been ordered.

Mr. Chouinard added that donations and/or help in selling jelly for the youngsters' benefit will be welcome. Those who are interested in helping should call him at 886-7700 during the day or at 821-6737 during the evening.

It may be true that enough is as good as a feast, but few know when they have enough.

NOTICE!

This notice is in response to the many phone calls received by the Independent Postal System of America and the Flame Furnace Company accusing both businesses of opposing the school millage of the Grosse Pointe School system.

Neither the Independent Postal System of America nor the Flame Furnace Company either approved the millage or opposed the millage.

Flame Furnace Company ordered an advertisement on the plastic bag delivered by IPSA without control over the content of the mail. IPSA merely delivers second, third and fourth class mail.

Literature opposing the school millage contained in the plastic mail bag made both companies innocent victims of circumstance.

The Independent Postal Service of America and Flame Furnace Company regret any misunderstanding in the Grosse Pointe school district.

We are in BUSINESS not POLITICS and hope to continue to serve you in the future.

An application for a refuse vendor license was denied by the Woods Council. The request of Earl Irvin Hardy for a permit was refused because there are already four refuse vendors operating in the community. This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, March 7.

Woods Council Cites St. John

The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, March 7, approved a resolution marking the 25th anniversary of Saint John Hospital. It cites the institution's service and contribution to the community in the past quarter of a century and expresses the gratitude of the mayor, the council and the citizens. The council also declared May 14-15 as Saint John Hospital Silver Anniversary Days.

Miss GP Views State Pageant

"Sneaky" Entry
Interestingly enough, she admits going into the pageant half-heartedly. "My brother, (Wallace Helin, a Jaycee), entered me in it behind my back. I told him I had no time because I was busy in school. But I went in and said I'd do the best I could."

"I feel if they would choose me it would be because I'm me. It's the same for the others in being what they are. If I won, fine, if not, that would be okay."

As it turned out, Vanessa wasn't only crowned Miss GP but also won the talent award for her rendition of Musetta's Waltz from "La Boheme." (This was at least the third time the young lady who won the talent award was selected Miss GP.)

While she likes to participate in a variety of activities during her spare time, e.g., playing tennis, cycling and reading, (her favorite authors are Taylor Caldwell and Tennessee Williams, who she calls "crazy but absolutely fascinating"), Vanessa's major interest is music.

"I've always been interested in music," said Vanessa, who's a member of the University Singers and the Chamber Choir at the University of Windsor. While singing is her main attraction, "I've also played a little piano here and there," she says.

Five in One

Her pleasant rapport with opera as an art form stemmed from a visit with her mother to five operatic performances during a one-week period when she was nine-years-old. "I had a grand old time and was overcome by all the pageantry. I said I would love to sing like that," stated Vanessa excitedly.

She pursued her singing career in high school in a variety of ways. "I was in a couple of musicals but not the lead roles. I was too inhibited," she noted. Vanessa also participated in the Tower Belles and the choir and took part in the solo and ensemble festivals all four years. She performed in the state festival, too.

After her graduation from the University of Windsor, Vanessa plans on pursuing a Master's degree in music. "I'm unsure of where. It may possibly be at the University of Michigan or in Toronto," she said. At this point, she feels there's more opportunity in Toronto because "there's more emphasis on the arts in Canada than in Detroit."

While looking toward the future the activities of the present are distinct challenges.

In preparing for the local pageant, she advised the young ladies who plan on becoming contestants to do everything those in charge say and to do, talent-wise, whatever they put their mind to—just "keep going after it as long as you enjoy what you're doing."

It's safe to say that Vanessa is enjoying what she's doing, and her supporters hope that the powers that be in the state pageant enjoy the Fisher road lady's work, too.

Farms Rejects Harte's Bill

The prosecution of Russell Harte on two counts of snowball assault was at first amusing, later distressing and now too costly, according to the Farms Council.

At the Monday, March 14, council meeting a bill from Harte's court appointed attorney, John C. Louisell, in the amount of $1,325 was referred to Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell for review.

Some council members feel it is too much to pay for the defense of an indigent offender.

The fee for court appointed attorneys is determined by the presiding judge. Whether the judge can change his original decision on the fee is as yet unclear.

Councilman Lloyd Semple said that $50 an hour seemed very high for a court appointed attorney and that, in any case, the defense costs should not be greater than the prosecution's.

After the whole affair is settled, including appeals and court costs, Harte will have cost the city about $7,000.

according to City Manager Andrew Bremer.

Councilwoman Nancy Waugaman asked if there was any way the city could get its money back from Harte if he ever goes back to work. City Attorney George E. McKean is expected to report back on the question.

LWV to Meet On March 23

The Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters, (LWV), held one unit meeting on Wednesday, March 16, to arrive at a consensus concerning the United Nations and its policies.

A general meeting will be held Wednesday, March 23, in the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, 240 Chalfonte avenue, at 1 p.m. The meeting topic is "Local Land Use Consensus."

Following the session, a reception will be held honoring Ruth Conover for her many years of service to the league. Mrs. Conover is moving to Canada.

Parcels Issues Pancakes Call

A dinner including all the pancakes you can eat, three sausages and a beverage will be selling for $1.50 at Parcels Middle School Thursday, March 24.

Tickets for the fund raising dinner can be purchased from Mary Roland, PTO Pancake Supper chairman, by calling 884-2981, or by calling the school, at 881-8950. They also can be purchased at the door.

Dinner time is 5-7 p.m. at the school, 20600 Mack avenue.

Funds raised from the event will supplement educational programs. Diners also will have an opportunity to view student projects on display in art, woodworking, metalworking and homemaking.

Men needn't worry about the years ahead if they've spent the years behind intelligently.

Home Buyers Deserve Expert Help...

..they can count on Detroit & Northern

Because we specialize in home financing, you get the best help available when you talk to one of our home loan specialists. He'll tell you about our many loan plans and options and how to determine how costly a home you can afford. At D&N there is a loan plan right for every budget. We have the popular conventional loan, as well as FHA and VA loans for those who qualify. Our home loan rates are competitive, but beyond that, the home buyer can expect much more at D&N.

Several Options ...

We've been lending money to home buyers since 1889, and our experience shows in the service we render our customers. For example, at D&N we have several term options to help meet each borrower's particular needs. The term of the loan, along with the down payment amount and interest rate determine your monthly payment. Depending on the age and condition of the home, a term of up to 30 years may be selected. Ask a D&N home loan specialist to explain how your monthly payment is affected by the term you choose.

For your security, D&N offers mortgage life insurance. This protection provides for the full payment of your loan in the event of death. Disability insurance is available, too, providing for the payment of your monthly loan if the family breadwinner should become disabled.

Loan Payment Convenience ...

In addition to security, D&N offers some real conveniences, too. To make your monthly payment as easy as possible, we have a plan called "Transmatic." With this plan, your mortgage payment is automatically deducted from your checking account and transferred to D&N on a set date each month. Using the "Transmatic" plan, you needn't worry about forgetting to make a payment when you are on vacation or out of town. A special trip and writing an additional check each month are eliminated when you choose "Transmatic."

Handling Details ...

Many of the details involved in closing the deal will be handled by Detroit & Northern. We will arrange for an appraisal of the property, which will assist in determining the amount of the loan. If a survey is required, D&N will arrange for it. In addition, we can arrange for title insurance. D&N will perform the routine credit checks and handle the recording of your purchase. At the "closing," Detroit & Northern will assemble the various mortgage and legal documents and review them with you.

Continuing Service ...

After receiving your Detroit & Northern home loan, you will enjoy the continuing services we provide homeowners. D&N will handle the payment of your property taxes, hazard insurance, mortgage life and disability insurance. For your records at the end of each year we will send you an analysis of your escrow account and a statement outlining each financial transaction.

AT DETROIT & NORTHERN YOU ARE CONSIDERED A FRIEND AND NEIGHBOR. WE VALUE YOUR BUSINESS. BEFORE BUYING A HOME, SEE A DETROIT & NORTHERN HOME LOAN EXPERT. HE'S A PROFESSIONAL.

GPS Chief Cites Citizens, Police for Crime Drop

By James J. Nijam
 The Shores' low crime rate in 1976 is attributed to the excellent cooperation between the citizens of the Village and the Department of Public Safety, according to an opinion expressed by Director Joseph Vitale.

The residents are alert to suspicious persons and activities and the officers of the department are quick to respond and investigate all calls, he noted.

In his annual crime report, Director Vitale presented the following statistics:

Last year, there were three reported burglaries, of which two were cleared with arrests and one remains open, whereas in 1975, no break-ins were reported. In 1976, there were two attempted burglaries, as compared to one in 1975.

In larcenies over $200, six were recorded in 1976 and five in 1975. Last year, larcenies under $200 showed a big drop, 37, as compared to 68 the previous year.

The number of assaults last year dropped to seven whereas in 1975, the total was eight. The number of vandalism incidents committed in 1976 was five less than in 1975, in which year 62 were recorded.

Director Vitale said one of the biggest drops occurred in the theft of bicycles. In 1976, only 13 were reported taken. In 1975, the figure was 32.

Another big drop was in the arrest of persons on narcotic charges. Last year, formal charges were made against eight persons found to be in possession of illegal drugs and paraphernalia. In 1975, the number of arrests totaled 26.

In 1975, records showed, a total of nine persons were arrested for possessing stolen property. Last year, only four were taken into custody and charged with having stolen goods.

"I am of the opinion that the drop in major crime in our community is mostly due to the fine cooperation between our citizens and the public safety department. The rapport is beautiful," he said.

"We have started the first two months of this year with only one reported crime but if the 1976 trend continues, I am looking forward to another year of still less serious crimes in our community," added Director Vitale.

Dilber Hosts Lung-A-Thon

The first Southeastern Michigan Lung-A-Thon will be held on Saturday, March 26, in the Mike Dilber Lincoln-Mercury showroom, Kercheval on-the-Hill, from 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

Sponsored by the American Lung Assoc. of Southeastern Michigan, the Lung-A-Thon is a stationary bike ride fund raising event. Mrs. Arthur Judson was appointed chairperson of the affair by the association's president, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Loosely, of The City.

The Lung-A-Thon works as follows: There are four teams with managers and coaches and 12 riders for each team. It is not a marathon. Each person rides only 15 minutes, and contributions are solicited for the total number of minutes each contestant rides.

The teams will be made up of adults, who are encouraged to dress in costumes and clown it up for the benefit of onlookers. There are no prizes and no racing against the clock or other riders.

Participants will set their own pace and the only reward is the satisfaction of helping a worthy cause.

The funds raised for the association go to support research, professional and public health education and community service programs. The Southeastern Michigan chapter serves Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

For information on how to sign-up for the ride or to make a contribution, call the association at 961-1697.

Thieves Enter Travel Agency

Persons unknown entered Dely Travel, 20225 Mack avenue, on Tuesday evening, March 8, and ransacked several offices, according to a report received by Woods police. However, officers noted, nothing was reported missing at this time.

The son-in-law of the owner told police he was going south along Mack when he looked into the front window of the business and spotted a figure moving in the dark. He contacted police who immediately responded.

At the scene, it was discovered that entry was apparently gained via a bathroom window which was left partially open. The metal crankout window was opened by the culprits after an inner screen was pushed in.

All interior doors had been opened by prying the door stop and slipping the locks. Various items inside, including pieces of business equipment, were left untouched.

Two Will Run for Board Posts

The Board of Education's self-named representative of Pointe senior citizens, Laurence Harwood, announced Monday, March 14, he will run for re-election to the post this June.

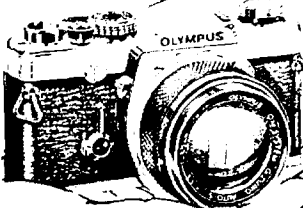

Mr. Harwood, of Moran road, a retired Michigan Bell Telephone Co. executive, said he found his last two years on the Board interesting and added he would like to continue representing the thousands of senior citizens and the 20-30 percent of the population that have no children in the school system.

Current Board Secretary Melissa Maghielse, of Lakeland avenue, announced at the Board's regular monthly meeting that she would not seek re-election in June.

"I've enjoyed my years on the job," she explained, and added that now, especially since passage of school millage renewals, she's confident Pointe students will continue to receive the best possible education.

So far, only one other person has declared her candi-

Group Looks Forward to Parkway Project

The overall objective of the project is to honor the veterans of our country," said Dr. Albert C. Howe, commission chairman, who cited the planned involvement of the entire Pointe community in this living memorial to those who served their country over the past 200 years.

The commission, he noted, has assumed the responsibility for developing the entire parkway with the help of public contributions.

At this point, it's planned that the initial construction phase will begin in late April or early May. "We hope to have the project completed by Dedication Day, which is tentatively set for June 19," noted Dr. Howe.

Significant, Yet Simple For Dedication Day, the council asked the commission to submit a proposed agenda of the program for its consideration with the stipulation that no monies be spent without council approval and that the program be reviewed by the public safety department.

The commission is already gearing for the big day with contacts being made with military components with the hope of having a color guard, representing the five armed services, participate in the program, said Dr. Howe.

At the same time, he would like to have a military drum and bugle corps or a band also take part.

Invitations are scheduled to be sent to civic officials of all the Pointes, to neighboring communities, community service groups, state and federal representatives and even to President Jimmy Carter and Vice-President Walter Mondale and their wives. A souvenir program also is being considered for publication.

Emphasizing his hope that the dedication will have a solemn, respectful tone, Dr. Howe indicated the commission wants to make it something that's significant, yet simple.

Greenery Development After the initial construction is completed, the long-range program of development and maintenance will involve citizen participation. "We will accept contributions in any amount from anyone in the Pointes," said Dr. Howe, who noted a special effort will be made toward involving schools, churches and other organizations.

As planned, the money will be put in a general fund and "it will be spent as we feel it should be used" in the area of planting, landscaping, et al., he said. Everyone who makes a contribution to the ongoing greenery development fund will be notified and thanked in an official manner.

A previous idea, i.e., to have a citizen donate money for a tree in memory of a specific veteran, for instance, was scrapped.

The landscape design will use around 16 varieties of trees and shrubs along the parkway toward providing a surge of color in the spring and fall. Permanent greenery is provided by Scotch and Austrian Pine, Douglas Fir and Norway Spruce. Deciduous trees include Green Ash, Red Maple and existing parkway trees.

The commission in a release reports that Washington Hawthorne and Sargeant Crabapple will be used as background planting for the annual red, white and blue flower beds at the Mack-Vernier intersection. Along the center of the parkway will be slightly raised berms of massed flowering trees varying in shades from deep red to soft hues of pink and white.

Emphasis on Color The trees selected will be small but hardy and capable of presenting fall brilliance and berries for wild birds, the group says.

Among the trees will be

Red bud, Japanese white bud, Carmine, Sumi crabapples and Shadblow. "One of the more interesting is the historical Sarvistree" which is "a white flowering bloom with a yellow fall color and an ability to withstand adverse weather," notes the release.

The parkway development will proceed in stages governed by seasonal planting, installation of additional irrigation and available funds. Dr. Howe feels the augmenting of the current irrigation system is the next big step.

The overall schedule of development shows the colonial walls and planting of areas now irrigated beginning this spring. In the fall, deciduous and flowering trees will be planted. Then, next spring, the parkway should present an outstanding array of beauty for all to enjoy.

Cites Assistance Obviously pleased with the project's progress, Dr. Howe stated, "The city council has been very cooperative and the city manager has been most helpful. All commission members also have participated in forwarding this project all the way. It has been a very harmonious effort."

Besides also citing the assistance of Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara, Dr. Howe added, "This has been a model of cooperation in the community and we'll see the results of what we accomplish in the future."

In relation to the third council action on the parkway project, the solons referred a request on turf upgrading to the Committee of the Whole for further study.

The request from the commission asked that upon completion of the entrance walls and related facilities that the council direct Mr. Petersen to proceed with the upgrading of parkway turf utilizing required top soil, fertilizer and seed; and that a regular watering system be formulated to those medians presently having the irrigation system.

On this, Mr. Petersen said upgrading could be added as an alternate to the contract if the bids received for the entrances' construction were lower than the maximum set by the city.

Eye Flower Sale

The final commission request asked the council to direct Mr. Petersen to secure the services of a CETA, (Comprehensive Employment Training Act), groundskeeper-gardener for maintaining city property this spring and fall. This was referred to Mr. Petersen for consideration in the preparation of the 1977-78 fiscal year budget.

From his perspective, Dr. Howe said the group was thinking of someone, perhaps a college-age person, independent of the public works department on a part-time basis to consistently maintain plantings in the parkway, the big flower bed in front of city hall, city flower boxes, et al.

In a final note, the commission is in the midst of planning a variety of other activities for the year. One being considered is a flower sale to be held on city hall property with the proceeds to go toward the beautification of the city.

Plan School Visits

"We'd like to have something similar to the annual flower sale held at the Eastern Market," said Dr. Howe, who indicated plans call for a supplier to be selected on a consignment basis to display his wares with everyone getting a good bargain.

"We hope to keep a certain percentage of the profits with the supplier keeping the rest," he said. The monies will be used for the group's annual plantings within the city, including the parkway and flower bed locations. The tentative date for the planned sale is May 21.

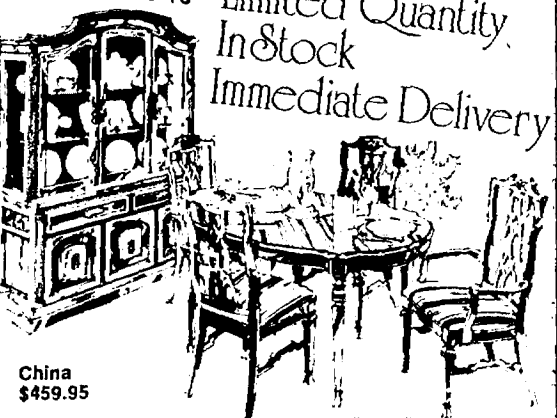

In the fall, Dr. Howe added he hopes to have speakers visit the schools and address students on nature and environmental considerations, litter problems and sharing views toward special projects.

ON BELTING BOOZE

Americans are no longer the two-fisted drinkers they once were. In the 19th century they belted down a whopping per-capita average of 7.1 gallons of alcohol a year, in the belief it was extremely good for them. But in 1975, the February "Reader's Digest" notes, consumption was down to 2.7 gallons per person. Even so, the U.S. ranks 16th in per-capita consumption of the 27 countries for which comparable figures are available.

Exam Scheduled in Robbery Case

An examination date of Monday, April 11, has been scheduled for a 35-year-old East Detroit man on an armed robbery charge stemming from the holdup of the Detroit and Northern Savings and Loan Assoc., 19307 Mack avenue, on February 18.

The suspect, Kenneth Leroy Cassale, of 23035 Normandy, who was previously arraigned before United States Magistrate Chris Stith on Thursday, March 3, currently is out after posting a $10,000 bond pending his exam date, reported Assistant U.S. Attorney Sharon Edwards.

Cassale was arrested by the FBI on Wednesday, March 2, and charged in which $3,431 was taken. Authorities said some of the money had been recovered.

In relation to the holdup, the investigation of the shooting of an innocent man is still continuing by the Harper Woods Police Department in conjunction with the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office.

Harper Woods Lt. Douglas Garascia said the prosecutor's office has given further instructions regarding individuals "we should be interviewing."

The man, Mark Monteroso, 23, of The Woods, whose description matched the wanted man's, was wounded in a chase involving Farms police and was treated for the injuries at Saint John Hospital and released. His van was struck by at least 14 bullets.

Celebration

Special greetings will be read from Dr. Frank Pitt, the pastor emeritus of Memorial Church who, more than anyone else, worked for the founding of a church in the community that eventually became Grosse Pointe Woods.

After the worship service, Rev. Rauth and Dr. Linthicum will lead a procession of the congregation to a newly-renovated room in the Church, the "Heritage Room." The dedication of the Heritage Room will complete the festivities.

This room will then open as a museum in which the artifacts, objects and records of the church's past will be filed and displayed, as well as being a very practical conference and dining room.

A special committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ernest Spilos has made and carried out the plans for the creation of the Heritage Room, the compiling of the church records and displays and the development of the worship service.

AARP Meets on March 28

The next meeting of the American Assoc. of Retired Persons, (AARP), Grosse Pointe Chapter #2151, will be held at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, on Monday, March 28, at 1 p.m.

For this meeting only, members are asked to meet in the church proper, as the social hall is unavailable that day.

The program, as arranged by Rita Fincham, will include three speakers. Mrs. Maureen DuFour, director of volunteer services, Bon Secours Hospital, will present opportunities for service in the community, while Mrs. Diane Aspey will speak about available community service in Wayne County.

Mrs. Joseph Gillyuly, representing Crafty Corners in the Village, will demonstrate arts and crafts, and promises something for everyone.

In other news, education chairman Frank Komerska announces an intermediate bridge class will be offered, starting on Wednesday, March 23, at Parcels School, room B-4, at 3:45 p.m. There will be eight sessions free of charge. For information call Mr. Komerska at 881-1543.

A social hour with refreshments will follow the meeting.

Weithas Honored

Richard Weithas, of The Farms, has been elected senior vice-president and management supervisor of Campbell-Ewald Co., according to Campbell-Ewald board chairman Thomas B. Adams. Mr. Weithas has been vice-president and senior account supervisor for the agency's Borden consumer products accounts since March 1974. He has also worked as manager of media information services, Multi-Products media planner, and account executive on accounts including Delco Electronics and Kava Instant Coffee. He joined the agency in 1966 after working for Papert, Koenig, Lois and D'Arcy Advertising, both in New York.

by John Lundberg

You may have heard that wines and liquors have great medicinal qualities. Well, one German wine, Bernkastler Doktor, received its name because of its curative abilities. Six hundred years ago, the Archbishop of Trier was stricken with a fever in the village of Bernkastel and was treated with every known remedy. Nothing worked. Finally, an old soldier tried out what had always worked with him, some of his home grown Bernkastel. The archbishop drank two glasses doubting that it would help, fell asleep, and woke up the next morning without a fever. Since the wine turned out to be such a great doctor, it has been known as Bernkastler Doktor ever since.

And you may have heard about the fine service and quality selection at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626; why not come by soon and see for yourself. RADIO EQUIPMENT

President Franklin Roosevelt began his tenure on an informal note with the first of his fireside chats on March 12, 1933, just eight days after he took the oath of office. In those days, radio brought the outside world into nearly every American home. Examples of early radio transmitting and receiving equipment are on display in Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

New Damman Hardware In The Village

The Grand Opening celebration for the new expanded Damman Hardware is scheduled to begin March 29. "We are really proud of this store and are pleased to be able to better serve our Grosse Pointe area customers," says Henry Feys, the store manager. Henry has served the Pointes for over 30 years with his knowledge and extra service.

"This move will provide us with approximately four times the sales and storage area as we had in the old location," Henry also indicated that the former A & P building has been completely renovated with new fixtures allowing him to broaden and expand all departments. "In the past our size restricted us from stocking the complete selection of merchandise as carried in the other 5 Damman Hardware stores. "Now we can offer just about everything you could imagine in a hardware store." Henry, born in Waters, Michigan, has lived in Grosse Pointe Park most of his life. He and his wife, Genevieve, have two children and one grandchild. An ardent fisherman, Henry fishes Lake St.

Spring Term of Classes Set to Begin at Center

There is still time to sign up for the spring term of several of the classes being offered at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road.

Beginning Thursday, March 24, and continuing through June 9 with a week off at Easter, Ted and Lillian Forrest will offer their popular class in ballroom dancing.

Beginners will meet from 7:30-8:30 p.m., while intermediate students will gather from 8:30-9:30 p.m. The 11-week term includes a night of instruction in Greek circle dancing. The tuition is $24.

Joseph Maniscalco, noted portrait artist, will offer an afternoon class in Portrait Painting and Drawing on Thursdays, March 17-June 2. The classes meet from 12:30-3 p.m. in the recreation room of the Alger House. Instruction is $45 for the term plus a small fee for the model.

Meanwhile, Ingrid Hofer will be teaching a short course in Water Color on Monday evenings, April 14-May 2, from 7-9 p.m., and a morning session from 9-11:30 on Thursdays, April 7-May 5. The fee for the term is $27.50 for five lessons.

For children, Carol Lachusa will offer an art class for youngsters in the afternoon with ages six-eight meeting from 4-5 p.m. on Mondays, March 21-June 6; children nine-11 meeting for a half hour longer on Tuesdays from 4:30-5 p.m., March 22-June 7; and young people 12 and up meeting on Wednesdays, March 23-June 8, also from 4:50-5:30 p.m. The classes will work out of doors when weather permits.

The Mondays group tuition is $18 for 10, one hour sessions plus a material fee of $3. The tuition for the Tuesday and Wednesday classes is $25, plus a $5 material fee. Russian classes will begin a new term on Wednesday, March 23, and continue through June 1 from 7:30-9:30 p.m. Mira Seski is the instructor, and the fee is $36 for 10 lessons.

Registration for all War Memorial classes should be made in advance at the Center office.

Arrest Youth in Car Thefts

Park Officer Richard Warren was credited with the arrest of a 14-year-old boy, responsible for taking two automobiles and a number of credit cards from relatives with whom he was staying in Southfield.

The cars and cards were recovered and returned to the owners, according to information released by Police Chief Henry O. Coonce, and the young man was released to the Youth Service Division, (YSD), for questioning and investigation.

On Tuesday, March 8, Officer Warren was on patrol, traveling south on Lakepointe, when a "be-on-look-out" call was sent to all law enforcement agencies for a teenage boy driving a 1974 yellow, two-door auto reported missing by Southfield police.

Park police said that the teen and vehicle were reported seen in The Park area.

At Charlevoix, the policeman saw a speeding car fitting the description and gave chase. The pursuit continued north on Lakepointe into Detroit, where an unknown school bus driver, on seeing the speeding auto, the flashing lights of the scout car and hearing the siren, quickly maneuvered his bus to block off the boy's escape. The youth was forced to come to a screeching halt.

Officer Warren jumped out of his car and placed the boy under arrest. At The Park station, the youngster confessed to taking the car from his relatives without permission.

The boy also volunteered information about his relatives' second car, a 1975 model, which he had taken earlier, was parked in Maryland road on the Detroit side. He was issued a violation ticket for Wayne County Juvenile Court for operating a motor vehicle without a valid operator's license.

The teenager, who said his parents are residents of The Park, was released to YSD detectives. He has had several brushes with the law in the past, Chief Coonce added.

Pointer Plans Piano Recital

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Musicales will present Janet Crossen in a piano recital Sunday, March 20, in the church sanctuary at 4 p.m. Miss Crossen, of Tonnancour place, will perform works by Haydn, Schumann, Copland and Prokofiev.

She attended local schools and was graduated from the Interlochen Arts Academy.

Locally, Miss Crossen studied piano with Winifred Fenton, Camella Erlich and the late Gizi Szanto. Her four years of college piano study were with Menahem Pressler, pianist of the prestigious Beaux Arts Trio. She received a Bachelor of Music in Piano from Indiana University in 1975.

She has pursued her graduate studies at State University of New York, (SUNY), at Stony Brook with Martin Canin and Gilbert Kalish. She will receive her Masters in Piano from SUNY this spring.

Presently, in addition to her studies, she teaches a large class of piano students on Long Island.

Miss Crossen participated in several concerts of contemporary chamber music in the New York area and will perform with members of the New Jersey Percussion Ensemble in May.

The public is cordially invited to Sunday's recital. A reception in the church lounge will follow.

There will be a door donation of $2, ($1 for children under 12), to benefit the church Musica Fund.

Christ Church To Host Choir

The Saint Augustine College Choir of Raleigh, N.C., will be featured in concert at Christ Episcopal Church, 61 Grosse Pointe boulevard, on Friday, March 25, at 8 p.m. There will be no admission charge.

The 36-person choir, under the direction of Dr. Addison W. Reed, will perform music from the Renaissance through the 20th century, including both sacred and secular selections.

Members of the choir will be staying in homes of Christ Church families during their visit.

Saint Augustine College was founded in 1867 and is a member of the United Negro College Fund.

St. James Sets Lenten Vespers

Saint James Lutheran Church, McMillan road near Kercheval avenue, will continue its Lenten Vespers under the general theme, "Lent—A Time For Renewal," on Wednesday, March 23, at 8 p.m.

This fifth vesper will offer a sacred concert of Lenten music by the Chancel Choir of the congregation, under the direction of Herman Clein. The Handbell Choir, directed by Mrs. Robert Ambrose, also will participate in the service.

The worship service will include a homily by Pastor George E. Kurz, whose message on the suffering of Jesus will be a part of the ministry of the Word. The ministry of Music will combine to make this an unusual worship experience.

The congregation invites friends in the community to join them at this Wednesday Vesper.

STECKEL PROMOTED
Matthew Steckel, of Edgemere road, has been named chairman of the board and chief executive officer at the Bank of the Commonwealth. A former vice-president of the First Arabian Corp., Mr. Steckel received his MBA in international banking and finance from Harvard Business School and his BA in economics from Drew University.

Students Study in Washington

The seven Pointe high school students who took part this year in the Presidential Classroom in Washington, D.C., have returned with a better understanding of the political process and its participants. They spent six days, February 20-26, in the nation's capital.

A week of seminars, lectures and meetings with government officials was attended by Tom Rousseau and Stuart Sweet from North High School and Terry Berg, Sue Jones, Julie Johnson, Leslie Haughton and Nancy Kirk from South High.

The daily schedule of the visiting students started at 6:45 a.m. and wound up after 11 p.m.

Discussion during the week ranged for censorship to the eroding American image abroad.

Among the prominent people the students met were former CIA director William Colby, ABC White House correspondent Ann Compton, political author Jack Valenti and General David Jones, the Air Force Chief of Staff.

Other activities included visits to the Smithsonian Institution, the Air and Space Museum and the CIA building. They were the only high school group to tour the CIA site.

The Rotary Club of Grosse Pointe paid the expenses of the students from North High, while the Student Association paid for Terry and Sue from South. The other three South students paid their own way.

THE PARK PHARMACY

There are two kinds of fractures, simple fracture where a bone is broken but the skin is not, and compound fracture, where both bone and skin is broken. Where a compound fracture has occurred, the danger of infection is great, and especially serious damage can be done by careless handling. Try not to move the victim before medical help arrives. Never try to push a broken bone into place. Do not try to straighten the limb. Control bleeding if necessary.

Convalescent aids of all types—walkers, crutches, wheel chairs, etc.—are available for rent or for sale at THE PARK PHARMACY, 15324 E. Jefferson, Grosse Pointe Park. We have a complete stock of sick room supplies and health aids. Our modern prescription department offers prompt, professional and personalized prescription service and has all the latest medications available for when your doctor orders them for you. We also carry a full line of liquor, beer and wine. Stop in for baby supplies, greeting cards and Sanders candies. Call us at 822-2580. GP Shores Fire Report Shows Decline in Losses Fire losses in The Shores last year amounted to a total of $38,616, in comparison to $47,847 in 1975, according to information released by Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale. The total number of local alarms answered last year was 41 as against 56 the previous year.

The director pointed out responses were to all types of alarms, and that the monetary losses included property other than residential buildings and contents.

The public safety department had 83 ambulance runs in 1976 and 74 in 1975, Director Vitale said. He gave the run-down on fire alarms as follows:

During 1976 public safety personnel and volunteers responded to 19 residential fires, six car fires, two grass fires, two marine (boats), alarms, four miscellaneous and two mutual aid alarms, assisting other cities under the Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods Mutual Fire Aid Pact). Eight of the total alarms answered were false, but called in good faith.

By comparison, the number of alarms in 1975 included 20 homes, three cars, four miscellaneous and 19 mutual aid. There were no marine fire alarms. A total of 17 alarms sounded were false.

As far as traffic accidents recorded, a total of 77 were reported last year and 75 in 1975.

Twenty-two persons suffered varied injuries, ranging from bodily pain to broken bones or bleeding wounds during 1976, with the same number of injuries reported in 1975.

There was one traffic fatality in 1976 and none in 1975, Director Vitale said.

With no serious accidents reported for the first two months of this year, the director added, he is looking forward to a good year with such an excellent start, while remaining hopeful the rest of the year will see no change.

GPSC Swims in Two Meets

The Grosse Pointes were well represented in national and state swimming action last month with many children placing in the Cincinnati Marlin Winter Invitational AAU meet and the East Detroit Seals Swim Club Class B AAU meet.

With swimmers from 38 states and five countries, Grosse Pointe Swim Club (GPSC), 11- and 12-year-old boys, Jeff Colton and Mark Stoyka, had to come through with excellent times to place fifth in the 100-yard back (1:05.23) and sixth in the 100-yard breast (1:11.19), respectively.

These times place both boys at the very top for State of Michigan swimmers in the same age-group.

Other GP swimmers competing but not placing were Sara Brieden, (13-14 girls), Geoff Brieden, (eight and under), and Frances Shook, (13-14 girls).

Pointe residents who swam for the Detroit Yacht Club, (DYC), and placed third in the 10 and under boys 200-yard medley relay were Hans Brieden, Jack Nelson and Ken Baculis. Their time of 2:18.57 is the second fastest recorded in Michigan this year.

Jack also was first alternate for the finals, (ninth place), in the 10 and under 50-yard fly, (32.12).

The GPSC came on strong in the East Detroit Meet with Andy Montague placing first in the 100-yard fly, (1:05.73), second in the 200-yard free, (2:05.2), and fourth in the 400-yard IM. Andy, 13, an eighth grader at Brownell, swam in the 13-14 age group and open in the 200-yard free.

Nancy Georgi, 9, placed second in the 10 and under girls 100-yard free, (1:12.1), which is a fast "A" time. Ann Mitchell, 11, placed well in her 11-12 girls age-group by taking home ribbons for her third in the 50 free, and fourth in the 100-yard back and 100-yard individual relay.

Other GPSC swimmers showing their best times for their new coach, John Sfere, were Meg Maghielse, Stephanie Smith and Suzanne Wilson.

High school varsity and junior varsity swimmers are reminded that they can become eligible to swim in the Michigan Boys State AAU Championships Friday-Sunday, March 25-27, at Clarenceville, (Livonia), Swim Club by calling Mr. Sfere at 771-5515 and sending in a 1977 AAU membership form.

The GPSC is sponsored by the GP Community Services.

Bruins Roll to Victories

The Grosse Pointe Bruins recently completed play in the Michigan National Hockey League, posting a 20-0-4 record. During February the club played four league games.

Against the St. Clair Shores Boilermakers, the Bruins were victorious, 5-1. John Davies, Mike Burkheiser with two and Allen Taber scored the goals.

S&A then hosted the Bruins in a league game and Drew Mascarin was in goal for a 4-0 shutout. John Ferlito with two, Matt Costello and Davies netted the goals.

The Bruins faced the Michigan Bulls at home and won this league game, 5-3. Taber and Ferlito scored a pair apiece, while Costello had the other goal.

In the last league game of the year, the Bruins faced a tough Paddock Pool team and Mascarin posted another shut-out, 3-0. Ferlito scored two goals and the third goal was an unassisted effort by Greg Johnston.

The Bruins also were victors in the recent District 3 playoffs in Warren. The Bruins won the first game against St. Clair Shores, 2-1. Jeff Grade and Jim Kennary, with the winner, scored.

The Bruins next faced the Michigan Stars in the districts and Mark Chiamposted a 3-0 shutout. Jim Morris, Mike Eugenio and Taber, who scored in an open net with 16 seconds left in the game, put the red light on.

In the final game again against St. Clair Shores, the Bruins became District Champs with a 3-0 win. Taber, Burkheiser and Johnston were the Bruin goal scorers.

In a recent warm-up game before the state tournament, the Bruins scored a convincing 7-0 victory over the Michigan Bulls. Kennary, Scott Seaver, (just back after suffering a broken thumb), Taber, Grade, Burkheiser, Eugenio and Costello each scored one goal.

An exhibition game was played against Adray Kings on Friday, March 4. After a scoreless first period, the Bruins opened the scoring with Eugenio posting a short-handed goal with Johnston assisting. Costello scored after receiving a fine pass from Burkheiser and then scored the final goal with assists going to Taber and Kennary. Chiamposted his 3-0 shutout.

Health Council Hosts Caravan

The Grosse Pointe Health Education Council will host the Nutrition Caravan, co-sponsored by National Bank of Detroit and the Dairy Council of Michigan, on Monday, March 28, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road.

The program, open to council members, will view basic nutrition, food preparation for the family, food shopping, nutrition labeling and weight control.

A snack, box lunch, and nutrition education materials will be provided by the co-sponsors, Betty Chapman, of the National Bank of Detroit, and Gussie Saffer and Diane Winnie, of the Dairy Council of Michigan, will present the program.

NH Girls End Volleyball Year

By Sue Fancett
North High School's girls' varsity and junior varsity volleyball teams completed their seasons on Monday, March 7.

The varsity team finished with an 8-4 record in the Bi-County League and a 10-9 record overall.

The Norsemen, playing without the services of Barb Wybo, dropped its pre-district game to Dominican High School on Friday, March 4. Wybo, who injured her wrist diving for a ball against L'Anse Creuse, was the top server on the team, and her absence from the line-up may very well have had something to do with the loss.

North finished its league season with a come-from-behind victory against Roseville Brablec. Brablec won an exciting first game, 17-15, but the Norsemen rebounded to win the next two games, 15-9 and 15-8.

Senior Estelle Hermann, Juniors Wybo, Jayne Dutcher, Alexandra Georgalas and sophomore Ann Belloli deserve recognition for being consistent assets to this year's team. With the exception of Hermann, all of them should be back next season, making for an excellent team.

The junior varsity team failed to win a game all season, but it wasn't because they didn't try. None of the players had had any experience in power volleyball before this season.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

With the March 12 millage renewal election now successfully behind us, I wish to make a couple of observations on the local election process.

I want to thank publicly all those who had a part in informing our citizens about the need for passage of the two levies. There were about 1,000 volunteers working under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Berry and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Feeser.

Key building level leaders included Cornelia Brooks and Emilia Cusenza, Barnes; Eleanor Tacke, Defer; Mary Black, Ferry; Anne Lewis and Anne Osborn, Kerby; Bob and Gloria Kotas, Maire; and Patricia Bakeman and Catherine Brierly, Mason.

More are Lynne Millies, Monteith; Juanita Mallmann, Poupard; Claire Perry and Kay Elliott, Richard; Jim and Lucy Smith and Frank and Ruth Zinn, Trombly; and Ed Haug and Sandy Gentile, Brownell.

Still others include Bob Goulder and Jim Plath, Parcells; Leonard and Marsha Winder, Pierce; Dave and Diane Rentschler, North High; Joe and Bev Fromm, South High; and Frank J. Sladen Jr., Library.

We also are indebted to leaders of the student associations in both high schools.

Tom Rousseau at North and Greg Jay at South rallied volunteers for the distribution of literature.

The citizens' campaign committee also organized an advisory group which should be singled out for praise. Leaders in that phase included Luanne Ahlbrand, Phil and Ann Ardussi, Dr. C. G. Browne, Dick Campbell, Joy Dickson, Marie Fisher, Bill Hurley, Herb Levitt, Jesse Lowther, Bill and Ginny Peattie, Bill Peters, John Prost, Lois Venderbush and Marjorie Wehmeyer. Bob Tyrrell and Dr. Robert Peterson also assisted.

Finally, I want to thank those who voted on Saturday for such a resounding vote of confidence in our public schools and public libraries over the next three years.

As readers know, the vote on Proposition One, (renewal of 2.2 mills for schools), was 7,597 affirmative to 4,500 negative. Proposition Two, (renewal of .11 of a mill for the public libraries), was approved by 8,067 to 3,974.

Our schools and libraries are now assured of a stable financial base for the next three years given our previously stated assumption on which the millage request was based.

One View from The Capitol

By William R. Bryant

The Single Business Tax Task Force, appointed by the governor to recommend changes to the state's new method of taxing businesses, has completed its work. The product of the Task Force, in spite of the yeoman efforts of Lt. Gov. Jim Daman, is very disappointing.

The problem with this business member group was that most of the members had great difficulty, apparently, in separating tax philosophy and what may be good for the overall business climate from what would be the specific effect on their own business.

This reinforces my view that, when it comes to taxation, "equity" is not a helpful concept. Equity to nearly any taxpayer means he doesn't pay and someone else does pay.

At least two helpful ideas did gain approval of the Task Force. One is to allow some credits against personal income tax which are not now allowed and the other is an alternative tax which could be elected by small businesses. The alternative tax would be a tax on profits plus payments to owners in excess of a modest salary. The governor and lieutenant governor want major changes made which will ease the impact on small businesses.

We have toyed with repeal and replacement with a tax on profits plus payments to owners. The idea is sound, but the problem is it would get the state back into a situation of wildly fluctuating tax revenues.

This problem was one of the major reasons why we abandoned the corporate income tax and opted for the Single Business Tax two years ago. Every time profits fell sharply and therefore the tax yield based on those profits also fell sharply, there was a strong push for increasing the rate.

Repeal would be very difficult. Changes, however, must be made. One additional change I will push for is to take the costs of Unemployment Compensation and Worker's Compensation out of the base used in computing the tax. To tax the obviously high costs of these items is doubly obnoxious.

We can make major changes now. I intend to make them now. Any attempt to block immediate changes should be met by immediate calls and letters by business people to whom ever is blocking action.

Student Volunteers Play Role in School Program

High school volunteer workers added a new dimension this year to the Learning Disability Program, (LDP), for public school elementary students.

Most of the LDP students are boys whose disappointments in earlier grades have led to some behavior problems. The idea was to provide a young male model with whom the youths could identify.

But, in talking with three of those volunteers, one begins to wonder who's actually getting the most out of the program — the workers or students.

For North High School students Joe Ciaravino, Don Ford and Jere L'Hereux, the one hour a week they spend at the Ferry School center is becoming the highlight of their high school experience.

The volunteers function not as tutors, but rather as older friends to the LDP students. The three of them work with 10 students at a time, painting murals, tie-dyeing shirts, baking — just about any activity that will draw the group together as a team.

They began to see results soon. "They stopped fighting among themselves, because they didn't see us fighting," observes Joe.

Jere's greatest surprise was to discover how quickly he had to abandon his well-intentioned plans for the day. "I learned how important flexibility is," he said. "If a kid didn't cooperate with me, it was because he wasn't emotionally ready that day. That was the most difficult lesson for us."

The LDP program, now in its second year, serves elementary children of average or above intelligence from all over the school district. Classes are limited to 10 children and are taught by a certified special education instructor with help from a teacher's aide.

The program's goal is to help the children learn the social skills to live a happy, productive life, according to school social worker Jane Stone.

"To get along with each other, to learn how to share, to be proud of what one does well and to discover skills by which one can compensate for his limitations are what we hope each child gains from his involvement in the program," Mrs. Stone explained.

"That is why the high school boys' volunteer work is such an important ingredient. They have a chance to observe positive attitudes in the way the older boys relate to each other and soon begin to imitate."

Both Mrs. Stone and teacher Lil Goodwyn say the children can't wait for the day the teenagers come to visit. Mrs. Stone has requested that recognition of the volunteers be placed on their permanent school record.

Group Views Seniors' Needs

A steering committee, made up of members of The Pointe's Food and Nutrition site council, has been formed to come up with a plan in relation to the needs of senior citizens in the community.

The site, housed in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, is sponsored by Wayne County Monday-Friday from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. A noon hour meal is featured, along with socialization and a variety of programs.

Woods Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara, a committee member, said the group met Monday afternoon, March 14, and has scheduled another session for Monday, March 21.

Noting at this point, the committee was at "ground zero," he said an attempt will be made to put an organizational chart on paper, along with a statement of purpose, on the 21st.

Some seniors' needs cannot be met at the site, which has to be administered under certain county guidelines. For example, 15 percent of the total number of citizens fed any given day can be reached via the home delivery of a hot meal. If 100 participate, 15 can be reached at home.

But Mr. McNamara notes some 40-50 seniors are in need of home deliveries and "we must try to help those people." Other concerns include transportation to and from the site and the overall coordination of a variety of senior citizen activities.

The steering committee, he indicated, could make a recommendation that a new organization be created to tackle these concerns or that the committee, itself, would be responsible. But whatever ultimately happens will occur after a report is made to members of the site council.

Site director Mary Alely said members of the committee, besides herself and Mr. McNamara, include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodhand, Dr. Albert Eckel, Adele Ryder, Carl Schoessel, Jon Austin, Nora Blixt, Diane Heavner, Robert Pytell, Barbara Youngblood and Barbara Locke.

Stroh to Head Founders Drive

Founders Society president Norman B. Weston has announced the acceptance of Farms resident Peter W. Stroh in the volunteer position of corporate campaign chairman for the Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Mr. Stroh will be assisted by some 60 volunteer executives during the May-June drive to strengthen museum support in the business community.

Active in business and civic affairs, Mr. Stroh is chairman of the U.S. Brewers Association and a director of the National Center for Resource Recovery.

He is the board of National Detroit Corp., Detroit Renaissance and the Economic Growth Council of Detroit, and is vice-chairman of the Detroit Medical Center Corp. and a trustee of Children's Hospital of Detroit.

The Founders Society is the 1,200-member public organization which underwrites all levels of the museum's education department, publications, special exhibitions and the continuing purchase of all works of art.

Watch your conversation — it goes a long way toward interpreting your inner thoughts.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters,
Director of Public Libraries

Once again you can ride a trolley in Detroit. The Washington Boulevard Trolley Co. is in full operation. From Grand Circus Park to Cobo Hall, it's rail all the way.

Trolleys emerged in the gay nineties as a transportation phenomenon that was to revolutionize the world of travel and industry.

In TROLLEYS, (Hawthorn Books, 1976), Ruth Cavin has written an entertaining history of the electric interurban railways. Less than 50 years ago trolley cars between towns and cities were an American commonplace. The interurbans fit into the place between city trolley cars and the steam railroads.

TROLLEYS is illustrated with maps and timetables, as well as with scaled plans, blueprints, etchings and old photographs of the varied exteriors and interiors of the cars.

Ms. Cavin discusses the specialized interurbans — freight cars, funeral cars and the weekend commuters, post office trolleys, school and amusement park trains, the demise of the industry and the trolley as a means of transport tomorrow.

TROLLEYS offers more for the reader than nostalgia, it may offer a peek into the future.

Cable cars and San Francisco seem to be one and inseparable. As "San Francisco Chronicle" columnist Herb Caen put it, "What other mode of public transportation brings smiles to the faces of people who have to ride it?"

Jeremy Joan Hewes and others have written a fascinating book CABLE CAR.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

A sincere thanks to the "Grosse Pointe News" for supporting passage of the millage proposition for our schools and libraries!

I am sure that your in-depth coverage by Susan McDonald and editorial written by Roger Waha did much to convince the concerned citizens of Grosse Pointe that a "yes" vote was in the best interests of this community, as well as their own personal best interest, in spite of a relatively small tax continuance.

Though I'm not directed to speak for the many people with whom I worked to gain passage of the millage, I know that they also send their heartfelt thanks! You played a large part in our victory. I'll explain how.

The loyal opposition once again tried to persuade the electors to turn down the library and school propositions. This was in the form of a one-page letter sent to all homes in Grosse Pointe. If you had not so clearly informed the people, they may once again have been successful, as they were last March.

They have a right to present their side of the story in our democracy. They certainly are determined and well funded, spending thousands to influence this election. The thing that I strongly resent is their method.

Again at the 11th hour and the 59th minute, a flyer is distributed that cannot be proved or disproved prior to voting (and), in my opinion, (is) clearly another "cheap shot." Without your coverage, many people could have been persuaded to vote "no."

If the intentions of this group are honorable, why can't they come forward at the public school board meetings and state their case, giving specifics and suggestions for a course of action. Instead they resort to "hit and run" techniques that I maintain do a distinct disservice to our community.

Your newspaper has helped in stopping a small, determined, well funded group from upsetting an important election.

Sincerely yours,
Richard S. Campbell,
Of Hillcrest Avenue,
Grosse Pointe Farms

(Ten Speed Press, 1973). This brief, 126-page, paperback volume is divided into three parts.

Part one, "As It Is," describes the small world the San Francisco cable car travels in; there are only three routes comprised of 10 and one-half miles of track divided among eight streets. As a tourist attraction, the cable car is almost without peer. Over 13 million passengers ride the cars each year.

The route of each line is described and illustrated with contemporary black and white photographs. Readers are reminded of historical landmarks, famous restaurants and other sights of the city which are on or close to the cable car routes.

"How It Works" makes up the second part of CABLE CAR. In the case of the cable car, what you don't see is what you get. The authors go into great detail describing the complex machinery capable of moving, during peak hours, 30 separate vehicles carrying over 1,800 people. Some gears and a power plant of only 750 horsepower move 270 tons.

Underground are rope cables wrapped with wire which run through a series of tunnels. The cable car is controlled by both gripman and conductor activating various levers, pedals and bells. The wondrous thing is that the system really works.

The final third of CABLE CAR is a history of the San Francisco cable railway system including reactions of earlier passengers as well as many old photographs. In 1967, the cable car system became a Registered National Historic Landmark.

Railroads, once thought to be a dying means of transportation are demonstrating their unique ability to serve the transportation needs of our country. The modern railroad doesn't rely on steam but, as Oswald S. Nock in his book RAILWAYS OF THE MODERN AGE SINCE 1963, (Macmillan, 1975), points out, it is speed, bold colors and electronic sophistication that provide today's excitement.

The promise of high speed passenger trains operating between major cities has been achieved in Great Britain and to an even greater degree in Japan. Filled with a large number of color plates of locomotives operating on railroads throughout the world, the model railroad buff will be delighted with the book.

A major part of the book is devoted to a short description of new developments which may convince most readers that the day is fast approaching when a person can travel as fast on a passenger train as he could 40 years ago.

SHS Tankers Win EML Title

South High School tankers closed out the 1976-77 season with a big win earlier this month to capture the EML championship for the fourth straight year.

The Devils finished the year with an 8-0 record in the EML and a 9-5 showing overall.

South took first in seven of 11 events at the five team EML meet held at Mount Clemens. Steve Swanson set a new EML record in the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 1:02.7.

Steve Soderberg, with a 57.7 in the 100-yard backstroke, also set a new EML record.

In the Milan Invitation, held in late February, South placed third in a field of seven teams selected from all over the state to participate. In this meet, the 200-yard medley relay team of Soderberg, Swanson, Wally Kilgore and Tony Montague broke the Milan pool record, and qualified for the state meet with a time of 1:44.09.

Soderberg broke the varsity record for the 100-yard backstroke with a 56.7 time in the 25-yard pool. Swanson also broke a varsity record with his first place finish of 1:02.09 in the 100-yard breaststroke.

Rivals Become Partners In Building New School

By Susan McDonald

Competition between cross-town rivals North and South High Schools can get rather heated when it involves things like football games, scholastic contests and art shows.

But, when it comes down to something important — like building a school — the two student bodies can always work together peaceably.

Student associations at North and South have collected $1,300 for a joint building project in the farming village of Agona, Ghana in West Africa. Working through the Peace Corps, their dollars will add three rooms, (including a bathroom), to the town's existing middle school. The townspeople have been building the school, room-by-room, since 1967 and will contribute one-quarter of the material costs and all the labor for the new project.

Illiteracy in the West African nation is about 75 percent, points out North SA President Tom Rousseau, and that's the reason for the project.

"I think giving education to people who don't have it is a good thing for a school to do," he explains.

South SA member Sue Jones said the project appeals to her because "it is a chance to do something together."

"It seems like North and South are always pitted against each other in everything we do," she said. "Hopefully, this will bring us together."

Funds for the project have already been sent to Ghana so that construction can begin before the June rainy season hits.

But the two communities' relationship will not end there. "They've promised to keep in touch," according to Tom, "so we can really see where the money is going."

At North, about 10 students have established pen pals in Agona and Tom hopes to make use of those letters, along with art work and pictures, in social studies and anthropology classes at North.

Both student associations are now faced with empty treasuries, however, and have planned several events to reimburse them for next year's group.

First will be a joint movie, (at North), and dance, (at South), on April 23. Later this spring, a car wash and talent show are tentatively scheduled.

Camp Fire Girls Cited

Woods Mayor Pro Tem George S. Freeman proclaimed the week of March 13-19 as National Camp Fire Girls 67th Birthday Week during the rescheduled Monday, February 28, regular council meeting.

Grosse Pointe Woods encourages all citizens to commend . . . the Camp Fire Detroit Area Council and National Camp Fire in their efforts to bring people of all ages, races, creeds and economic backgrounds together, united in common purpose," the proclamation says.

Attending the meeting were Camp Fire Girl Leader Marlene Miller and 18 girls from two groups in The Woods area.

The pair of groups, which meet weekly, are led by Mrs. Miller and assistant leader Bonnie Woods and by leader Mary Ann Sweeney and assistant leader Marilee Rinke. They have been very active over the past year, with a camping in Holly, Mich., visiting Greenfield Village and posting ballots during the November elections.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS
The highlight of the presidential election to the presidency signaled the rise of the common man to political power and Old Hickory's fellow frontiersmen could not let that event go unnoticed. On March 4, 1829, a tremendous crowd jammed the White House for the inaugural party, breaking furniture, china and glass as they came. A mahogany desk used by Andrew Jackson in quieter times is now on display in Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn. It was made about 1810.

Jewels & gems
by Jerry Valente

Topaz may be colorless, yellow, green, blue, or red. They come in many varieties, but the crystallized varieties, because of their hardness are valued as gems. The best topaz comes from Ceylon and other parts of India, Brazil, and in the United States; from various localities in Maine, Colorado, and Utah. The most popular color of Topaz gem stones is a rich orange yellow somewhat resembling the color of sherry wine. Rose topaz is a delicate rose pink in color.

We invite you to come in to VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, Detroit, 881-4800, whether or not you are presently contemplating the purchase of a piece of fine jewelry or not. For someone not familiar with jewelry, knowing and having confidence in your jeweler is of the utmost importance. That's why it will be to your advantage to talk to us at VALENTE JEWELRY where there's absolutely no high pressure tactics used.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Susan and Terry (Mr. and Mrs. Charles S., III) Davis, of Ellair place, have the lead roles in the romantic comedy "Love in E-Flat," to be staged by The Fine Arts Society of Detroit Friday and Saturday evenings, March 18 and 19.

Directing the Norman Krasna Broadway hit of several years back for performance at The Players Playhouse in East Jefferson avenue is Edmund Oldani, assisted by Carole Drucker.

Producer of the two-act play, Fine Arts' third offering of the current season, is James B. Hughes.

The action takes place in a converted brownstone on New York's East Side. The story revolves around the romantic interaction of two single persons with apartments one above the other.

A unique split-level staging, designed by Jeff Kurtz, lets the audience in on what's happening in both apartments at the same time.

Besides the Davises, the cast includes Nita Mikos, Roy Adelberg, Frank Brossy and Michael Traicoff.

As the audience enters the Playhouse, they'll find caricatures of the "Love in E-Flat," cast, created by Bogdan Baynert, of Hidden lane, decorating the lobby.

Fine Arts, one of Detroit's most venerable theater groups, (which is not to say it's hoary with age—rather, it's been around long enough to know its craft), has been staging productions for members and their guests since 1906.

Open Titian Show Via Venetian Gala

Preview of Woodcut Exhibition to Highlight Drawing and Print Club's 10th Anniversary Celebration

To celebrate its 10th anniversary as one of the most active special-interest groups within the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts, the Drawing and Print Club is planning a Venetian Gala for Thursday evening, March 31.

Highlight will be a preview of the museum's major loan exhibition "Titian and the Venetian Woodcut," which opens to the public April 1 and will run through May 29.

The Drawing and Print Club has invited its 250 members, including Painters Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm L. Denise, Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Doerer, James F. Duffy, Jr., Neena Rich, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Ruffner, Justice and Mrs. Peter B. Spivak, Mrs. Edward J. Tutag, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Villwock, Mrs. Ann K. Warren, Mrs. Erwin E. Wood, Michael J. Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Emery, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Ruwart, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. Reginald Harnett and Richard J. Miller, and their guests, to participate in the evening.

The Gala begins with a talk on "Titian's Graphic Language" by Dr. David Rosand, co-director of the exhibition. Cocktails, dinner and the preview follow.

Invitations have been extended to the print clubs associated with the art museums of Chicago, Cleveland and Cincinnati, which the Detroit group has previously visited.

Chairmen Mr. and Mrs. John L. Greenberg promise decor, menu and Renaissance music by The Jongleurs in keeping with the Venetian theme.

Ellen Sharp, curator of Graphic Arts, assists the Drawing and Print Club with its diversified program of lectures, films, demonstrations, study groups and special tours. Membership is open to all Founders interested in the study and collection of original drawings and quality prints.

One hundred innovative prints from 21 major collections in this country and abroad appear in "Titian and the Venetian Woodcut" to celebrate the quadricentennial of the greatest of Venetian artists.

Woodcuts executed from Titian's designs and those of his predecessors, contemporaries and followers will be installed only steps away from the museum's new Italian Wing for a comprehensive view of Italian art during the High Renaissance.

Titian, an innovator in the history of the woodcut, raised this most inexpensive of graphic art forms to a new height of expressive vigor. The most influential and successful Venetian painter of his time, (1485/90-1576), was the first major Italian artist to create designs which must be chiseled out with cutters' tools on a wood block.

Church Tour For Questers

Windmill Pointe Questers have scheduled their monthly meeting for Monday, March 28, at Helen Carter's Cloverly road home. The Chapter also plans to participate in the March day-long tour of Historic Detroit Churches.

Outstanding speakers have keynoted the group's programs this year. Sue Jackson, a Pointer and area chairman for Questers, talked on Winterthur in January before 53 ladies from the Fox Creek, Grand Marais and Grosse Pointe Chapters as well as the Windmill Pointe Chapter, gathered at the Grosse Pointe Central Library.

Mrs. Jackson, a former Winterthur docent, knew the duPont family and was privileged to visit and examine furnishings in areas of the estate not open to the general public.

The February meeting in Dorothy Davis' University place home featured Liz Hardwick, also a resident of University place, who showed slides and talked on "Quilts and Quilting."

Mrs. Hardwick further illustrated her presentation with quilts from her own collection.

Slate Fontbonne Fashion Luncheon

Annual Spring Show to Salute Saint John Hospital's 25th Anniversary; Reservations Are Now Being Accepted

The Fontbonne Auxiliary of Saint John Hospital will hold its annual fashion show Thursday, April 21, at the Royalty House in Warren. Theme of the party is a 25th Anniversary Salute to Saint John.

The luncheon commemorates the hospital's 25 years of service to the community.

Festivities begin with cocktails at 11 o'clock and luncheon at noon. Fashions from Hudson's will be featured.

Tickets are $10; proceeds will provide gynecological equipment to serve as aids in diagnosing female problems. Decorations will feature the hospital colors, blue and white, with silver accents.

The centerpiece—crystal ice buckets trimmed in silver, with silver ice tongs—will be filled with blue and white dried flower arrangements. A gift bottle of champagne will be presented to one person at each table.

Highlight of the day will be a visual slide display in the lobby featuring Saint John's first 25 years, the present-day hospital and the hospital of the future.

Mrs. Frank Pugliesi is chairman of the event. Mrs.

Yvon DesRoberts is co-chairman.

Honorary chairmen are Mrs. Leonard Ciaffone and Mrs. Mark Valente, Jr.

Fort Pontchartrain DAR Eyes National Defense

Fort Pontchartrain Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, gathers Friday, March 18, at the Detroit Boat Club for a noon luncheon followed by a business meeting.

The afternoon program will focus on the theme of national defense. Captain Joseph Gabelberger and Lieutenant Allen Rednew of the Detroit Artillery Armory will talk on the "History and Mission of the Michigan National Guard."

Rose-y Night Heralds Spring

Members of the Evening Group of the Women's Association of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will get a glimpse of summer at their meeting next Tuesday, March 22, at 8 o'clock in the Church Lounge.

Mr. and Mrs. William Marshall will present the program, featuring his illustrated talk on "Roses That Speak of Christ," and her short, humorous reading.

Mr. Marshall, author of "Intercepted Letters," a book of Biblical reflections on vital issues, is an authority on rose culture.

He is a member of the Detroit Rose Societies and the National Rose Society of England, and a three-time winner of the Detroit Rose Show's "Queen of the Show" award for best individual rose. He maintains an exquisite rose garden at his own home near Mount Clemens.

New officers of the Evening Group are Mrs. Jack LeFebvre, president, Mrs. Glenn S. Lockwood, vice-president, Mrs. Ralph D. Ranney, recording secretary, and Mrs. Paul D. Cornelissen, treasurer.

'Choices' Gives Women Opportunities to Grow

By Katie Elsil
Every woman has choices to make in her life, so "Choices" seemed to be a perfect name for the new women's resource center, a non-profit facility which opened in January at 14920 Hampton road, near Jefferson and Alter.
The creation of four Grosse Pointe women — Sarah K. Hepburn, Ann McCleary, Shirley Piku and Connie Tily — Choices offers women in Grosse Pointe and neighboring Detroit a variety of courses, a lending library and a counseling and referral service.
"We wanted Choices to be a place where a woman can turn for the information and support she needs in order to fully explore her options," explains Ann McCleary.

Getting women of diverse backgrounds and ages together is one important goal of Choices. In today's mobile society where mothers, daughters, aunts and grandmothers may no longer live near each other, it's very easy to become separated by age. If your child is in nursery school, you may only meet women in the nursery school mother age group.
"We hope to create a setting," says McCleary, "in which women of all ages can share experience, a place where an older woman could say to a younger woman, 'Yes, I had that experience and this is how I handled it.' That's a very affirmative process. It's helpful to know that others have been successful in accomplishing tasks which may seem insurmountable to you."

"At the end of a recent Assertiveness Training class at Choices," McCleary relates, "a young woman thanked an older friend in the class for the insight and support she'd received from her."
The young woman is not alone in her enthusiasm. Many women are responding positively to the encouragement and support they've experienced at Choices.

Shirley Piku comments, "I think this sense of emotional support is missing in so many of the task-oriented organizations women belong to. A woman can go to five meetings a week and never talk about herself or her feelings."
Anthropologist Margaret Mead has spoken of the importance of people of diverse backgrounds and ages meeting to talk of common concerns and, similarly, Dr. Urie Bronfenbrenner, at Cornell University says that it may be imperative to create centers where people can get together to talk about the things that really matter to them.

A survey of the courses being offered at Choices reveals that women are indeed talking about the things that matter to them. Courses include: Job Hunting, Assertiveness Training, New Roles for Grandma, Active Listening and Life Planning.
In addition, several one-day "mini-courses" are being offered with such titles as: Child Development, You Are a Household Manager, Furniture Refinishing, Human Development and How to Write Publicity for Women's Organizations.
Babysitting is available at a small charge for all the courses and workshops. Visitors to Choices will find a circulating library of books, pamphlets and an extensive clipping file of articles of interest to women.

Individual counseling is offered by Sarah G. Hepburn, M.S.W. Counseling begins with an evaluation session. Then, depending on the nature of the problem, Hepburn continues to counsel an individual or refers her to an appropriate established agency in the area.

As one woman commented, "I found it very helpful to have that supportive first step."
The courses, library and counseling services are just the beginning. Ann McCleary predicts "we will grow in relationship to the nature and needs and demands of the women who use the Center. "We are vitally interested in hearing from women about what they would like to see happen at Choices."

"We also see ourselves as facilitators. We know that there are a lot of talented women in the community. We would like to offer our services to help anybody who would be interested in setting up a course."

Shirley Piku adds, "Volunteers are welcome and needed to help in the office in a variety of ways depending on their interests."
Teaching women to work in teams is another goal at Choices. McCleary points out, "Men have obviously worked together for years to meet individual and collective goals. We think teamwork is a worthwhile concept for

Motor City Business Women Greet Spring

Motor City Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association will celebrate spring Sunday afternoon, March 20, via a Bloomin' Garden Party, the ABWA spring enrollment event, one of two gatherings scheduled each year to introduce ABWA and the local chapter to area business women.
ABWA membership is by invitation only. Interested business women may contact Rose Casey, Motor City president, at 823-6000 days or 771-1218 nights, for further information.
The Association, founded in Kansas City in 1949, now numbers more than 88,000 members. Last year, chapters throughout the United States and Puerto Rico awarded nearly $1 million in scholarships to women students.
The ABWA national scholarship fund, SBMEF, awarded an additional $135,000 in scholarships during the same period.

Slate Sunday DSYO Concert

The Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra continues its seventh season with a concert Sunday afternoon, March 20, at 3:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium. DSYO conductor Philip Greenberg will be on the podium for a program featuring violinist Diane Driggs.
Maestro Greenberg, assistant conductor of the parent DSO, has chosen music by Beethoven, Mendelssohn and Brahms.

Miss Driggs, a 21-year-old junior at the University of Michigan and a pupil of Gustave Rosseels, will perform the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto.
A native of Chicago, she attended Interlochen Arts Academy, where she was orchestra concertmaster, and has won several recent competitions, including the Grand Rapids Symphony concerto competition.
General admission to the DSYO concert is $2. All proceeds go to the Youth Orchestra scholarship fund. Tickets are available at the Ford Auditorium box office.

Society News Gathered from the Pointes

April Bride

An April 30 wedding is being planned by MARGARET MARY KEMP and George R. Towne, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Kemp, of Christine court.

The bride-elect, graduated in 1973 from Regina High School, will receive her Bachelor of Arts degree in Journalism from Michigan State University this month.

Mr. Towne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall E. Towne, of Wayland, received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Education from MSU in 1972, and expects to receive his Masters degree in Journalism next year.

Will Wed

Planning a September wedding are DENISE MARIE OZARK and MICHAEL R. VIANE whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Ozark, of Hampton road.

The bride-elect was graduated from Grosse Pointe North High School in 1973 and is now with Michigan National Bank Corporation. Mr. Viane, son of Mrs. Bernice and Gerard Viane, both of Detroit, was graduated from Jared Finney High School in 1973. He has a degree in Machine Tool Making from Allied Career Institute and is with Scott Manufacturing and Equipment Corporation.

To Marry

The engagement of PAULA M. GURNEY and Kim K. Linville has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Gurney, of Aline drive. A spring wedding is planned.

Miss Gurney, a Grosse Pointe North High School alumna and a graduate of Western Michigan University, with a degree in Fashion Merchandising, is currently with the L. S. Ayres Company of South Bend, Ind.

Mr. Linville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Linville, of Niles, also was graduated from Western Michigan University, with an Accounting and Business degree. He is with Price Waterhouse Company.

The Mark G. Swans

Exchanging marriage vows in the Shrine of the Little Flower Saturday, October 23, were MARIE A. JOLIN, daughter of the Jerome Kaczmareks, of Royal Oak, and Mr. Swan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard K. Swan, of Aline drive.

The Shrine of the Little Flower was the setting for the autumn wedding of Marie A. Jolin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Kaczmarek, of Royal Oak, and Mark G. Swan, son of the Leonard K. Swans, of Aline drive.

The mid-afternoon rites Saturday, October 23, Father Edward Prus presiding, were followed by an evening reception in Ferndale's Fraternal Order of Police Hall.

The bridegroom's brother, Ken Swan, S.M., played the organ and guitar before and during the ceremony. Communion gifts were presented by the bride's brothers and sisters and a sister of the bridegroom.

For the 2:30 o'clock ceremony, the former Miss Jolin chose a white silk gown styled with an attached train, a bodice deeply encrusted with lace and beading, long, bouffant, chiffon sleeves and a chiffon skirt overlay.

Her lace-edge veil fell from a lace headpiece. She carried peach roses, trailing ivy and eucalyptus.

Honor maid Nancy K. Pendleton and bridesmaids Susan Jolin, sister of the bride, Mary Swan, of Berkeley, Calif., the bridegroom's sister, and Coleen Criger Stephens, of Toronto, were in Empire-waisted, floor length rust knits.

Their glass flower baskets, gifts of the bride, were filled with rust roses and gold daisies, ivy and eucalyptus. They wore matching floral crowns in their hair.

Tim Fox was best man. Ushers were John Swan, the bridegroom's brother, Greg Jolin, brother of the bride, and Brian Compton.

The bride's mother wore floor length, green Qiana

June Bride

At a Valentine's Day party in her Fisher road home, Mrs. James John Livingston announced the engagement of her daughter BARBARA LEDOS LIVINGSTON to Steven T. Quart, son of the Leonard J. Quarts, of Birmingham. A June 4 wedding is planned.

Two on Tap For Phase I

Phase I, an all-singles group, has scheduled two events for this weekend: an Ice Capades party tomorrow, Friday, March 18, at Olympia Stadium, and a talk by Douglas Fraser, vice-president of the United Auto Workers, at its regular meeting Sunday, March 20, at 7:45 o'clock at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Singles interested in attending the Ice Capades may obtain ticket information by contacting Gust Jahnke at the church, 882-5330.

A social hour follows Mr. Fraser's Sunday evening talk, for which no reservations are necessary.

All singles between the ages of 20 and 39 are invited to participate in Phase I programs and activities. Regular meetings are held every Sunday evening at Memorial Church. Further information may be obtained from Mr. Jahnke.

Fashion-able Luncheon For Alpha Chi Omega

Epsilon Epsilon of Alpha Chi Omega will present its second annual fashion show luncheon this Saturday, March 19, at 11:30 o'clock at The Fairlane Club in Dearborn, with all proceeds going to Cystic Fibrosis and Easter Seal organizations.

In keeping with the Country Fair theme, there will be a marketplace stocked with homemade canned goods and baked goods, jellies, plants and crafts.

Prizes will be featured. Fashions will be by Alvin's. Joan Armbruster, of Bedford road, Epsilon Epsilon president, will serve as hostess. Among those assisting baked goods chairman Carol Tock, of Bedford road, will be Donna Johnston, of Roslyn road, Pat Mantho, of Mount Vernon road, and Darlene Krato, of Chalfonte avenue.

Marsha Livermore, of Dearborn, is general chairman of the event.

Perform Bach 'Magnificat'

Old Christ Church Detroit's choir and orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Malcolm Johns, of Rivard boulevard, organist-choirmaster, will present J. S. Bach's Magnificat Sunday, March 20, at 10:30 o'clock.

Dr. Samuel S. Johnston, rector, will preside at the Morning Prayers, assisted by Dr. Fred Burham.

The Magnificat marks the Annunciation of Mary observed by Christian churches on March 25.

"The Song of Mary" was composed in 1723 for a five-part choir, soloists and orchestra, with a Latin text taken from Luke 1: 46-55. It is considered one of Bach's greatest works.

Soloists from the choir will be Anne Jaffe, Faye Blakely, Washington, Jeannette Dag-ger-Havias, Eleanor Felver, William Kelly, Gene Wabeke and Davis Gloff.

The performance is a gift from Robert and Marlene Barrett to the Old Christ Church Parish in appreciation of the love and kindness given to their young son, Matthew. Last year's performance of the Magnificat marked Matthew's last visit to his church.

Old Christ Church, one of Detroit's historic landmarks, is located in East Jefferson avenue at the Chrysler Expressway, adjacent to the Renaissance Center. Parking is available at the rear of the church.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the church office, 259-6688.

Society News Gathered from the Pointes

Federal Grant Goes to DIA

The largest single Federal project grant ever received by the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts has been acknowledged by Dr. Frederick J. Cummings, director.

A sum of $261,500 has been awarded by the National Endowment for the Arts to help establish total climate control for the museum's 101 galleries, storage areas and public and office spaces.

With the NEA grant and a $325,000 public bond now being offered by the City of Detroit, Dr. Cummings said that the Art Institute hopes to start construction work during the current year.

The remaining $500,000 needed to complete the $1,046,040 humidity control project will be sought by the development office of the museum's Founders Society from private foundations and corporations.

The museum's climate control system has been under duress for the past 10 years. Air conditioning originally installed in the Main Building 50 years ago outlived its work expectancy a decade ago, while the addition of the South Wing in 1966 and the North Wing in 1970 resulted in imbalance of the system. This will ultimately be linked by the new system.

Conservation of works of art, Dr. Cummings pointed out, is one of the principal missions of a museum. The Art Institute is the caretaker of some 30,000 art objects.

He hailed the Federal Government's NEA grant as "sensitive and practical."

He said that such conservation aid indicated that the public intends to preserve its historic resources, natural and cultural.

Titian

cessions, animals, thunderous seas, massive cliffs—he devised a graphic equivalent to the free, open painting style for which he was famous.

Titian's success in the woodcut was a tribute to his business acumen. He could command exorbitant prices for his paintings—and he did. He was aware that such works were beyond the great mass of buyers. For this wider audience, he designed the popular-priced woodcut prints.

"The Submersion of Pharaoh's Army in the Red Sea," one of his largest prints, (more than four by seven feet), is a highlight of the exhibition, considered Titian's masterpiece for its bold, swelling lines.

"The Triumph of Christ," the earliest woodcut designed by Titian, is an impressive sight. Almost nine feet long, this multi-block print appeared during the 16th century in several editions, with accompanying texts in various languages to meet popular demand.

The exhibition includes works by Domenico Campagnola, Nicolo Boldrini, Giovanni Brito, Francesco Marcolini, Giuseppe Porta Salvati, Guiseppe Scolori and others.

Among the landscapes, portraits and book illustrations is the early medical treatise of Vesalius, containing the first accurate anatomical illustrations.

"Titian and the Venetian Woodcut" was organized by the International Exhibitions Foundation and is supported by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts. Its showing is limited to three cities: Washington, D.C., Dallas and Detroit.

An illustrated catalogue by exhibition guest curator Rosand, professor of Art History, Columbia University, in collaboration with Professor Michelangelo Padua, of the University of Padua, is available at the Museum Shop.

The exhibition is open to the public without charge during regular museum hours, Wednesday through Sunday, 9:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

Appointments for group tours, (10 or more persons), combining "Titian and the Venetian Woodcut" with the concurrent "Art of the Woodcut" may be arranged by contacting the Education Department, 833-7980.

Two Workshops Set By Michigan Nurses

Two workshops to be held in Michigan this spring will underscore the Michigan Nurses Association's commitment to the importance of acknowledging how cultural differences affect health care.

"The Influence of Cultural Beliefs on Health Care" will be explored, under sponsorship of the MNA Committee on Conferences and Programs, Thursday, April 14, in Dearborn.

Participants will include Joan Ceglarek, R.N., Oakland County Department of Health; Patricia Barnes-McConnell, Ph.D., Department of Urban Development, Michigan State University; Mary Sprik, R.N., Wayne State University; Jean Stallwood-Hess, R.N., Wayne State University; Bernice Morton, R.N., Wayne State University; and Anita Sodawallo, R.N., Grace Hospital.

Presentations of actual cases will demonstrate how culturally-based values and beliefs affect a patient-nurse communication channel.

Another workshop is being planned for May. Further information may be obtained by contacting the Michigan Nurses Association, 120 Sparan avenue, East Lansing, Michigan 48823.

Let's Talk Real Estate
by John E. Brink

When the recent Grosse Pointe News poll proved that 95 out of every 100 Grosse Pointers were familiar with the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Company's Cul-de-Sac plan, we were delighted.

We realize that no one ever introduced a revolutionary new idea which was instantly accepted by an entire community, and for that reason, we expect a variety of personal opinions.

But whether residents accept or reject the program is incidental to us. The important point is that we have sparked the interest of 95% of our Grosse Pointe property owners. We have furnished a catalyst which is stimulating community thinking, provoking discussion and involving the vast majority of our home owners in community improvement planning.

We expect Grosse Pointers will weigh the merits of the plan and make their personal decisions, but before intelligent conclusions can be reached, each family must understand our recommendations EXACTLY as we propose them—and WITHOUT the objectionable motives which can be attributed to others.

For that reason, we intend to furnish you with an illustrated brochure which describes the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Company's Community Development Program in detail.

It shows you exactly what we propose; how the plan will be accomplished; what it will achieve; where we suggest to locate the Cul-de-Sacs; how the project can be financed—and what we expect to get out of it!

In addition, you will be asked to express your views and to indicate whether you are "for" the plan or "against" it.

We will contact you by telephone in the near future.

Alpha Gamma Delta Reunion Day Is Set

Pointer Mrs. John Baetz, Province vice-president, will address the more than 200 women expected to attend Alpha Gamma Delta Reunion Day Saturday, April 16, at The Michigan Inn, Southfield.

The program, scheduled to begin at 12:30 o'clock, will be hosted by the Detroit North Suburban Alumnae Club. Theme is "A Day of Golden Opportunities — A Time of Golden Opportunities."

Chapters to be represented at the luncheon include Michigan State's Chi, the University of Michigan's Alpha Beta, Wayne State University's Alpha Pi, Central Michigan's Alpha Psi, Ferris State's Alpha Upsilon and Eastern Michigan's Zeta Alpha.

Registration and additional information may be obtained by contacting Reunion Day chairman Marilyn Burke at 642-9564.

Alpha Gamma Delta, founded in 1904 at Syracuse University, provides training grants for individuals working with children with learning disabilities, and sponsors an annual symposium for cleft palate research.

DSO Concerts Feature 'Missa'

Four vocal soloists and the University of Michigan Choral Union will join music director Aldo Ceccato and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for two performances of Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis" at Ford Auditorium Friday and Saturday, March 18 and 19. The program will be repeated Sunday, March 20, in Ann Arbor.

Tomorrow's performance is an NBD Coffee Concert at 10:45 o'clock. The concert will be preceded by a coffee/tea hour at 9:30 and a fashion show at 10:15 o'clock.

The Saturday evening performance begins at 8:30 o'clock.

Soloists will be soprano Benita Valente, mezzo-soprano Elaine Bonazzi, tenor Seth McCoy and bass Ara Berberian, all of whom have appeared as guest soloists with the DSO previously and are known internationally for their oratorical and operatic singing.

The University of Michigan Choral Union, under director Donald Bryant, most recently performed with the DSO last season in the Beethoven Symphony No. 9.

The "Missa Solemnis," Beethoven's greatest religious work, was begun towards the end of 1818 and completed around the middle of 1823.

Though Beethoven the man was constantly embroiled in life's petty problems, Beethoven the creator dissociated himself completely and was able to concentrate on the Mass as if earthly worries did not exist.

During the time he was writing the Mass his household was in turmoil, with arguments between himself and his servants, a succession of hirings, firings and resignations of household employees, and rain leaking through the roof, onto the composer's head.

Locked in his living room, oblivious to it all, Beethoven worked for hours on end with neither food nor sleep, writing his prayer to God and to man.

He wrote at the beginning of the manuscript: "From the heart—may it go to the heart!"

The work was most recently performed in the Detroit Symphony Orchestra subscription series in March, 1967, with Paul Paray conducting.

Benita Valente has won international renown as a singer, orchestral soloist and operatic performer.

The young, California-born soprano began her climb to fame when she won the Metropolitan Opera Auditions in the early 1960's. She has since performed more than 40 operatic roles, and has appeared as soloist with major symphony orchestras throughout the world.

Miss Valente last appeared with the DSO in January of 1976.

Fashion Party Planned by German-Americans

The Ladies Auxiliary of the German-American Cultural Center has scheduled its spring luncheon and fashion show for Tuesday, March 29, at noon at the Center clubhouse in East Outer drive, Detroit.

"South of the Border" styles will be presented by B. Siegel, with commentary by Mary Morgan.

Chairman of the day is Ruth Koerbel. Co-chairman is Agnes Neumann. Accepting reservations at $6.50 per person through next Tuesday, March 22, is Delores Lottholz, 264-9273.

Delta Kappa Gamma Council to Convene

The Metropolitan Detroit Council of eight local Delta Kappa Gamma Chapters will hold its 11th birthday luncheon this Saturday, March 19, at noon at Mercy College of Detroit's Conference Center.

The invocation will be given by Frances Morris, of Beta Xi Chapter.

Dr. Joan Israel, from the Michigan Unit of NOW, will talk on "Looking Forward to a New Beginning: Women, Where to Now?"

Merc Jacobs, president of Alpha Mu Chapter, is taking reservations. Norma Stevenson, president of Beta Xi, is handling decorations. Isabel Gilbert, president of Beta Delta, is in charge of name tags.

Both Doris Cook, past-president of Beta Xi and secretary of the Metropolitan Council, and Ginny Downs, past-president of Alpha Mu, current treasurer of the Metropolitan Council, invite members of all the chapters to attend Saturday's session.

Marionette Performance Will Benefit U. of M.

The Macomb University of Michigan Alumnae Club will sponsor Meredith Bixby's Marionettes in two performances of "The Enchanted Birds" Saturday, March 19, at Warren High School Auditorium.

Performances are at 11 in the morning and 1:30 in the afternoon. All seats are unreserved. Admission is $1. All proceeds go for local scholarships.

Ticket information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. J. Robert Pavlik at 268-1456.

'Spirit' Theme for Day Apart

"Fruits of the Spirit" is the theme for the annual Day Apart for women of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and their friends. It will be held this year at the Lakeland avenue home of Mrs. Charles Beltz, president of the Church Women's Association.

Participants gather next

Tuesday, March 22, from 10 until 2 o'clock for fellowship, prayer and a renewal of spirit. There will be a program presented by Mrs. Gust Jahnke and Mrs. Ray Kiely. Luncheon will be served at noon; reservations for this light meal may be made by calling the church office.

City-Wide Meeting Slated by MACLD

Guest speaker for the Wednesday, March 30, city-wide meeting of the Detroit Chapter of the Michigan Association for Children with Learning Disabilities will be Dr. Joseph Fischhoff, chief psychiatrist at Children's Hospital of Michigan.

Dr. Fischhoff has selected "The Hyperactive Child at Home" as his topic.

The meeting at 7:30 o'clock at Epiphany Lutheran Church in West Seven Mile road, one block east of Woodward avenue, is open to anyone—parent, teacher, relative, neighbor—who has contact with a hyperactive child, as well as those who are simply interested in the problems of the hyperactive child in general.

MACLD has invited 30 speakers to participate in an April Parent Workshop. Topics will be announced at a later date. Further information on the workshop may be obtained by calling 884-6582 after 7 o'clock.

An Art Auction benefit is planned for May at the Gallery Art Center, where a champagne preview at 7:30 o'clock will precede bidding at 8:30. Signed oils, lithographs, etc. will be sold. Ticket donation is $1. All proceeds go to MACLD. Further information may be obtained by calling 839-8125.

Grady Named Bell Manager

E. Daniel Grady, of The Woods, has been named general manager in charge of Michigan Bell operations in the metro west area, effective Tuesday, March 1.

Mr. Grady, 45, had been general manager in charge of operator services.

A native of Detroit, he began his telephone career with Michigan Bell in 1957 as a traffic engineering assistant. He held a variety of management positions in the commercial and traffic departments, and, in 1968, was named traffic operations manager for business services with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. in New York City.

The following year, Mr. Grady returned to Michigan Bell and was appointed division traffic manager in Saginaw for the company's northern area. In 1971, he was named division manager operator services and early last year he became general manager-operator services.

A graduate of the University of Detroit with a degree in business administration, he is a member of the Woods Planning Commission and a former member of the Woods Citizens Recreation Commission.

It's easy to be optimistic when things are coming your way.

Austin Prep Rated Tops in Hockey

By Donald J. Schmid
Austin's varsity hockey team captured the Michigan Metro High School Hockey League championship by defeating Country Day, 6-5, on Wednesday, March 2.

Played at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink, Country Day took a one goal lead in the first period, but Austin tied it up at the 10:30 mark in the second period on a goal from defenseman Ken Knight.

The Friars fell behind again when Country Day scored two quick goals late in the second period. But Austin fought back by scoring at the end of the period and at the beginning of the third period.

Dave Carron and Bill Jeffery netted the goals.

Country Day bounced back by scoring two goals within seconds to take a seemingly commanding 5-3 lead. The Friars roared back, however, scoring three unanswered goals and held on for the win. Sophomore Kevin Knight scored two of the goals, including the winning one, and Carron scored the tying goal.

The victory, along with a 6-3 win over Brother Rice on Saturday, March 5, gives the Friars an 18-1-1 league record and a 21-2-2 overall mark.

Kevin Knight, the leading scorer, is second in the top 10 list in league scorers.

Goalie Marc Matthews is second among league goalies, compiling a 1.7 goals against average.

Austin's varsity hockey team is currently ranked fourth among high school hockey teams and will enter state playoff action soon.

MERIT FINALISTS

Austin Catholic Prep School students Michael Stone and William Soullier have reached finalist positions in the National Merit Scholarship Competition based on their scores on the PSAT test. Both students are now eligible for scholarship monies.

ULS Athletic Director Named Net Coach of Year

Robert G. Wood, athletic director at University Liggett School, has been named State Tennis Coach of the Year and has been cited for outstanding contributions to tennis by the Michigan High School Coaches Assoc.

A graduate of the school, Mr. Wood, 35, has compiled an impressive record since joining the University Liggett Athletic Department in 1965.

In the last 11 years, University Liggett tennis teams have captured eight State Class C-D Championships, the last five in a row, won 10 of the last 11 regional championships and walked away with every Metro Conference Championship since the conference was organized three years ago.

Beyond that, they have won a total of 157 out of 202 regular season matches played under Mr. Wood's coaching, and their record in the last three years is 68-6.

One of the major reasons

for this outstanding success has been the depth of the University Liggett tennis teams, reports the school.

During the past three years, University Liggett's number two and three doubles teams have lost only one regular season match.

A believer in discipline, tough competition and "plenty of hard work, both on and off the court," Mr. Wood sees tennis and all school athletics as preparation for life.

"Whether on an athletic team or a corporate team, you have to hold up your end. You learn a lot about responsibility to others on a varsity squad and it stays with you," said Mr. Wood, an NCAA singles and doubles champion in the small eastern college division while a student at St. Lawrence University, Canton, N.Y.

His teams virtually live tennis each April through early June, the school's regular tennis season, which includes competition mostly with larger Class A and B schools and many tournaments.

Mr. Wood, a lifelong Pointe resident whose three children, Robby, 9, Kim, 7, and Doug, 5, also attend University Liggett, credits the school's eight-state championships during the past 11 years to his players and, in part, to his wife, Sharon.

"The fact is, we won when she's there and lost when she's not. Out of our eight state championships, she was there for each one of them. The three years that we didn't win the state's, she was not in attendance at the tournament."

"Coaches are a very superstitious breed. I guess my wife is our 'lucky charm'," he said.

Not surprisingly, tennis is considered one of the top sports at University Liggett, along with eight other interscholastic sports offered for 156 boys, and the six interscholastic sports offered for 165 girls.

"Ours is very much a tennis community. We get a lot of good material to work with and, believe me, we make them work. Winning is very important; however, winning can be accomplished in so many ways."

"It is very difficult to define what winning really is. I feel that we could have a winning program and never 'win' a match," he said.

Mr. Wood, who previously taught at the Harrisburg Academy in Pennsylvania, is founder and chairman, pro tem, of the Michigan High School Tennis Coaches Assoc. He has twice been named All-Metro Tennis Coach of the Year, in 1972, and again in 1976.

He will receive the 1977 Michigan Tennis Coach of the Year Award Saturday, March 19, at the State Semi-Minor Basketball Tournament in East Lansing.

He is among six Michigan High School Coaches to be honored by the Michigan High School Coaches Assoc. during a banquet in the Big Ten Room at Lansing's Kellogg Center.

GETS BIG POST

Richard D. Ryszewski, MD, of The Farms, has been named chief of staff at Children's Hospital of Michigan in the Detroit Medical Center. He joined the hospital's staff in 1969, after completing his pediatric training there in 1967. He has served as the chairman of the Pediatric Committee at Children's Hospital, as well as a member-at-large to the Medical Executive and Medical Advisory Committees. After completing his undergraduate studies at Wayne State University, Dr. Ryszewski attended medical school at the University of Michigan and interned at Bon Secours Hospital.

GP Spartans Keeping Active

The Grosse Pointe Ziebart Spartans Bantam Travel Team continued its successful season by reaching the finals of the State District 3 championships held last month in Warren and the Michigan National Hockey League playoffs also held last month in River Rouge.

The team also participated in the State Bantam A Championship Tournament as the District 3 representative.

The Spartans are sponsored by the east side Ziebart dealers and Smith, Hague and Co., and represent the Grosse Pointe Hockey Assoc. in the Bantam Minor Division of the Michigan National League.

The Spartans reached the finals of the District 3 Tournament with two victories over St. Clair Shores. Dave Parker, Nick Land and Tom Smith scored goals in the first game to pace the 3-1 victory over Shores.

The second game required an overtime goal from Sam Curcuro to notch a 3-2 win. Other goal scorers were Don Hiles and Nick Land, assisted by Lloyd MacEachern and Curt Runey.

The Pointers lost a two-out-of-three championship series to Royal Oak. After suffering a 3-0 defeat, the Spartans came back to defeat Royal Oak, the top rated Bantam A team in the State, 5-1.

Hiles scored two goals and Curcuro, Parker and Runey each added one. Smith, Tom Koltvedt, Rich Carron, Paul Treder and MacEachern assisted.

Parker scored first for the Pointers in the championship game assisted by Curcuro and Land. However, Royal Oak came back with two goals in the second period for the 2-1 victory.

The Spartans participated in the Michigan National League Playoffs and advanced to the finals with victories over St. Clair Shores and Little Caesars.

Parker and Land each scored two goals in the 4-1 victory over St. Clair Shores. Then, the Pointers followed with a 4-1 win over Little Caesars. Hiles scored twice and Parker and Land each tallied once.

The Pointers advanced to the final game against the league champion Michigan Stars, and were defeated 5-0.

The Spartans participated in the Bantam A State Finals held in Royal Oak over the weekend of Friday-Sunday, March 4-6. The eight participants had gained the state final championship tournament by winning their respective district championships.

The Pointers were defeated by strong teams from Port Huron and Muskegon as well as the Michigan Stars, and were unable to gain the semi-final round.

However, the Spartans now look forward to the State Minor Invitational Championship Tournament to be held at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink over the weekend of Friday-Sunday, March 25-27.

Club Crowns Cage Champs

The Neighborhood Club Boys' and Men's Basketball Leagues after 375 games have finally crowned their 1977 champions.

Seventy-five teams from the fourth grade through adult competed this year with the excitement of the season hitting its peak on Super Saturday, March 5, at Brownell School, when six championship games were played.

In the fourth grade, Ohio State beat Michigan, 10-7, with Brett Augsburger scoring five for the winners. In the fifth and sixth grade Pro League, Alabama, the central division champion, defeated Rutgers, the south division champion, 23-16, with Bart Leu scoring 21 points for the winners.

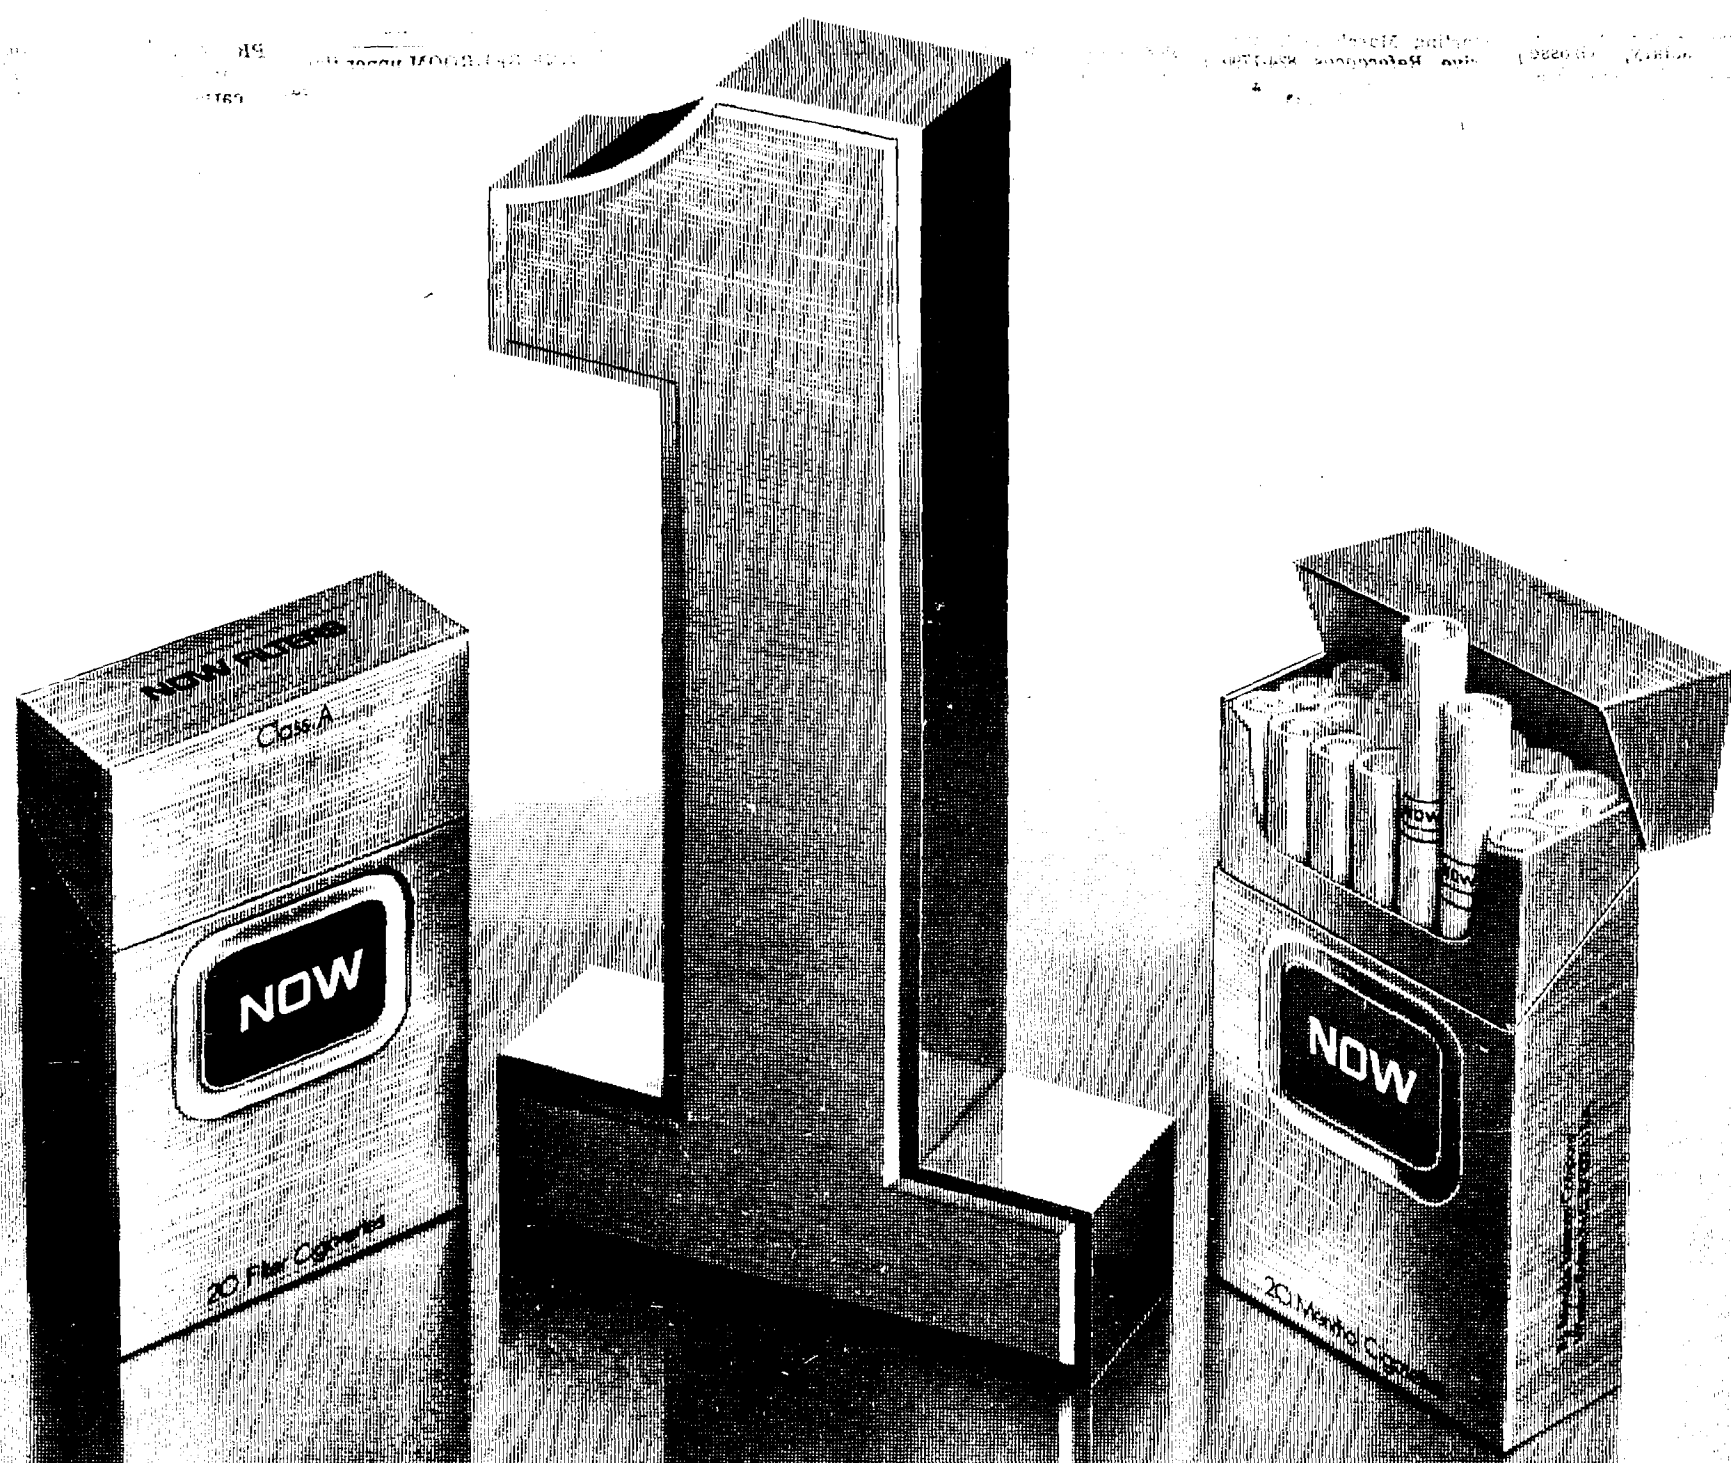

The north division champion was Oregon State, who was defeated by Alabama in the semi-finals. The 76'ers defeated the Lakers, 27-21, in the Giant League, (seventh and eighth grades). Bob Schippert led all scorers with 15 points.

In the Senior League, Wake Forest nipped North Carolina State, 43-42. The victors were led by Randy Steen with 14 points and Rob Maywood had 13 points. John Day had 14 points and Dan Meyers, 13 points, for the losers.

In another close battle, Golden State squeaked by Phoenix, 48-46, to take the Young Adult championship. (11th and 12th grades). Dave Van Egmond led all scorers with 21 points.

In the men's championship, the Hustlers beat the Vikings twice to take the upper division playoff. In the lower division playoff, the Average White Team nipped the C.C.D. Jocks with a basket at the buzzer to take the title.

Thinking of selling this Spring? Then avoid costly Mistake No. 4

PLACING YOUR PROPERTY WITH A REALTOR WHO IS NOT A MEMBER OF AT LEAST ONE 'MULTI-LIST' SERVICE

Realtors who invest the time and dollars in a multi-list service do so because they know it is the single most important marketing tool they can offer you, because:

1. Complete information, including a photo of fellow multi-list Realtors and their salespersons.
2. Competent, successful salespersons gravitate to Multi-List Realtors because they can offer the best in service to their clients; buyers who may be looking for a house like yours.
3. Multi-List Realtors tend to be the more established, full service real estate brokers, committed to rendering the caliber of service you and your property deserve.

And the fact that the overwhelming majority of homes in your neighborhood are sold by multi-list Realtors, means that a multi-list Realtor is your best investment when it's time for you to sell.

And speaking of investing in a Realtor—Strongman, Kelly & Associates are members of not just one but the two largest Multi-Listing Services in our community.

889-0800 ISN'T IT TIME YOU CALLED?

59,664 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AND PRIVACY

All in the heart of Grosse Pointe. And if that isn't intriguing consider this: An absolutely elegant home in move in condition, in structure and in decor, with a beautiful greenhouse just steps from the spacious dining room; the roomy screened terrace that overlooks the sun lit pool. What else does this special offering have to justify its $149,000 price? We'll be happy to show you.

WOULD A 'CONDO' ON CRANFORD APPEAL TO YOU?

Is a "walk to everything" location what you desire? Do you wish four bedrooms, 2½ baths and modern kitchen? Does a mid-50's price appeal to you? Will you be disappointed if we sell it before you see it?

FARMS RANCH: MAJOR REDUCTION!

June possession guarantees you the enjoyment of this beautifully decorated 3 bedroom ranch in time for the many enjoyments of summer in Grosse Pointe Farms. Now at savings to you of thousands of dollars! A quick sale is predicted, call now!

OPEN SUNDAY 2-5 (IF NOT SOLD FIRST!)

FIRST OFFERING

Picture yourself enjoying the Verdant Vistas of the Country Club Golf Course as you sit in the spacious living room of this custom built ranch style home. The original owner spared no expense and insisted on quality construction and special features throughout. There are three bedrooms, two bath rooms, den with parquet floor, Florida room facing the golf course, and a recreation room with a wet bar. As far as we could see there isn't any plywood in the house. There is extensive use of Vermont slate, Wormy Chestnut and Pecky Cypress. Call us for more detail.

PROVENCAL ROAD... is synonymous with quality homes that offer spacious rooms with charm and graciousness. Are you looking for three family bedrooms with the possibility of using the four maids bedrooms for the older children? Large stepdown living room, charming dining room overlooking a beautifully landscaped yard.

THIS FRENCH NORMANDY COLONIAL... features 4 large bedrooms. You can picture yourself having a dinner party in this dining room with a soft glow from the fire, because both the living room and dining room have fireplaces. Modern kitchen, paneled den and large family room. The 3rd floor has an additional bedroom and bath. Call for more information.

ENGLISH IN THE FARMS... Three bedrooms, remodeled kitchen plus finished basement. Priced in Mid forties.

NEAR GROSSE POINTE... Cadieux, Outer Drive Area. This brick bungalow offers 2 bedrooms down and large nicely finished bedroom upstairs, large kitchen plus good size dining area. New carpeting in Living plus aluminum storms and screens. Priced in low twenties.

Meet Diane of Denmark . . . a very creative young jewelry designer who will be at Walton-Pierce, Grosse Pointe, Friday, March 25th . . . Somerset Mall, Saturday, March 26th. She will present her entire collection of fine gold and silver jewelry. Some are one-of-a-kind. There are petal rings and bracelets, sculptured bracelet, city skyline bracelet with black onyx, ivory or tiger pieces, collar necklaces with amber, eggs rings to mention a few. Her earrings were featured on the cover of Vogue, November issue and several earrings in Vogue, February issue. Simplicity, clean lines and beautiful finishing are characteristic of her jewelry. Diane received a fellowship to study at the University of Copenhagen. She studied Danish design in all forms, art, architecture and jewelry. She had the opportunity to travel extensively through Eastern and Western Europe. She returned to Boston and started her own business with a fine jeweler, Mark Cortell. Several creative and talented American silver and goldsmiths are now part of the Diane of Denmark staff in Boston. You'll enjoy seeing her collection and talking to her about it.

At Ultima . . . Michael Brooklier and Ronald Ruel, two of Grosse Pointe's well known and most talented hair designers are enhancing hair color using henna, brown, red or neutral. Luminizing hair of any color will add highlights and sheen . . . hair painting, natural streaking or shading in different tones of gold or brown. If you have had problems getting the color you prefer, Michael and Ron, experts in color correction will see that you have it plus keeping your hair in superb condition. Call 881-0182 for appointments.

THE PETER O'ROURKE FAMILY, OF LEWISTON ROAD

By Janet Mueller

When the kids wake up with a 103° temperature, and cry because they can't go to school, the school must be doing something right. "I think," says Peter O'Rourke, "the Grosse Pointe Academy is excellent. Of course, Katie and Peter have never gone anywhere else, so it's difficult for me to compare."

"But they seem to enjoy school, and the learning process. They're eager to learn—and I think that's a major accomplishment for any school."

Susie thinks so, too. "They seem to have developed a natural curiosity for so many things. For them, learning is not a task."

Now let's hear it from the horse's mouth: Kathleen, grade two, and Peter, grade one, who've been "at" the Grosse Pointe Academy a long time now, (each started in Montessori).

"Do you like school?" No pause for reflection, no dropping the eyes: an instant, unhesitant "Ye-e-e-es!"

In Good Company A lot of people like the Grosse Pointe Academy. Susie, having agreed to co-chair, with her husband, Action Auction 1977, the Academy's big, annual spring fund-raiser, received a telephone call from Henry Ford, II, in early October.

His donation, a trip for eight aboard a Ford freighter, was Action Auction '77's first acquisition.

Donations are still coming in. Trips and the use of vacation homes and condominiums, cocktail parties and dinners, a smoke detector, snow removal for a year, color, sound movie equipment, a completely restored classic car . . . all go up for bids at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, Friday, April 22. Denny (Mrs. David S.) Summers has neededpointed a backgammon cover which, mounted on a table, is unique.

The Academy Garden Club has agreed to plan and plant a vegetable garden. A father-son "Day with the Red Wings" at their training camp in Kalamazoo includes morning skating with the team, lunch at the training table, a chance to watch afternoon practice and supper seats for the evening game. "We're still in the process of lining things up," Susie reports. "We need over 200 items, little to big, services included."

Everyone Welcome The Auction is open to all at $15 per person, including one drink, hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar. Those who wish may stay on at the GPYC for a post-auction prime rib dinner. Peter and Katie are the third generation to attend

The Sale Goes On . . . at Harvey's Complete Traveler. They are finding more things to put on sale, so stop in again, 345 Fisher Road.

Like Chippendale Styling? . . . See the two new occasional chairs with leather seats on display at Pierson-Interiors East, 377 Fisher Road Mews.

A Large Shipment . . . of new lamps and shades has just arrived at Wright's Gift and Lamp Shop, 18650 Mack Avenue next to the Grosse Pointe Post Office. There's always a good selection of greeting cards and gifts at Wright's and now there's a spring-fresh display of Easter cards and charming Easter gifts.

Silk Flowers . . . on gold neck wires, ribbon belts and hair combs . . . beautiful, feminine and NEW at Two's Company, 389 Fisher Road.

CHILDREN'S NEEDLEWORK . . . Visit our new "Kiddie Korner." Needlepoint, quickpoint, crewel cross stitch and rug hooking designed just for children . . . Peanuts, Sesame Street, Mickey Mouse, all their friends and more . . . needlepoint classes for young ones also at Fran Kirkland's, 18930 Kercheval in the Village. Open Thurs. evenings.

Country Sophisticates By Pendleton . . . are now at Hartley's Country Lane, in coral, sea blue and black, shantung, silk look with beautiful pearl buttons on the blazer to be coordinated or matched with slacks and skirts . . . 20641 Mack Avenue.

begged so hard to go along that their parents, despite misgivings, agreed. "We thought they were much too young," Susie and Peter, Sr., also thought their offspring would get cold, and would get tired of falling down, and would decide for themselves that they were much too young.

Proved Parents Wrong They did get cold—but they ran inside the lodge, got warm, and came out again.

They did fall down—but they picked themselves up and started down the slopes again.

They were, they decided, EXACTLY the right age for skiing.

They're veterans now. "We follow them," Susie and Peter report.

The young O'Rourkes are very much into swimming, too. It runs in the family. "I was a swimmer when I was a kid," Peter notes. What he was, actually, was All-American at Highland Park High School. Susie describes herself as a "summer swimmer."

Their daughter swims, by choice, all winter long with the Grosse Pointe Swim Club. Their son takes lessons in the winter. Summers he, like his sister, swims on the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club team.

All the O'Rourkes enjoy the GPYC. Peter is a director of the club where their "Aeolus" is moored.

Sailor's Daughter

"Before Katie knew left and right, she knew port and starboard. Sailing is a nice thing we can do as a family." They do a lot of it, from day trips—"We like to anchor out and row around in the dinghy"—to weekend excursions to longer vacations up north.

The children love it, as long as there's wind. Peter loves it even in a dead calm, (of course, he'd prefer wind).

He's always been interested in oceanology, and is a member of the National Oceanic Society. After graduation from Detroit College of Law, (he took his undergraduate degree at Wayne State University), he joined the Coast Guard and shipped out of Hawaii—as a navigator. He cruised the South Pacific and all over the Far East. "I wouldn't trade that experience for anything else I could have been doing those years."

He did some legal work for the district, too, (handling courts martial, e.g.), then was assigned to teach Law Enforcement throughout the midwest, then served in Europe for a month and a half before his discharge.

He's a Commander in the Coast Guard Reserves. He has friends all over as a result of his Coast Guard service, for the Coast Guard sent him virtually around the world, and he keeps in touch. It's not difficult: Coast Guard personnel tend to know one another. "When I was in, there were about 28,000 Coast Guard members. That's smaller than the New York Police Department."

At one time he was Commodore of the Yacht Club on Mackinac Island, at one time he sailed regularly in the Mackinac Races, but now he and Susie use the summer time to take the kids sailing.

Last summer they took Peter and Katie to New York to see the Tall Ships, then up to Nantucket, then home by way of Pennsylvania, where they visited friends, and Ohio's Sea World, a typical spontaneous side trip, ("Oh," someone says, seeing a sign, hearing a radio ad, "let's go THERE!").

Peter and Susie enjoy tennis equally, but Susie admits to having more time to play. The volunteer time she doesn't devote to the Grosse Pointe Academy she spends as education chairman for the Junior League of Detroit.

But school is her first priority. Perhaps because she has no more alma maters, (Sacred Heart, Grosse Pointe, is now the Grosse Pointe Academy; Newton College is part of Boston University), she's dedicated to promoting and maintaining the excellence of her children's school.

The O'Rourkes became Academy parents in 1971. By 1972 they were chairman of the Millionaire's Party. They've worked on every Action Auction since the first; last year, they were chairmen of silent bidding.

A Quality Event

"I think the quality of the auction was really substantiated last year," Susie observes. "It can be as expensive—or as inexpensive—as

THOMAS MARFIZO whose wife, TERESA, is the daughter of MRS. THOMAS McCORMICK, of McMillan road, has been promoted to technical sergeant in the United States Air Force. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Psychology from the University of Detroit, and is assigned to the USAF hospital at New Hampshire's Pease Air Base as a psychiatric technician.

Appearing as Mrs. Pryne in Southern Methodist University's on-campus production of the Irish comedy "Da" was SUSAN FETTERS, daughter of MR. and MRS. LOUIS E. SENDELBACH, of Handy road.

Promoted to the grade of full colonel January 26 was Air Force Reserve Unit commander ROBERT E. DOTSON, of Kensington road, commander, 927th Technical Airlift Group, Selfridge Air National Guard Base.

Among students displaying in Ohio Wesleyan University's recent exhibition of fiber art was junior Fine Arts major CAROL FISHBACK, daughter of MR. and MRS. F. C. FISHBACK, of Merriweather road.

Named to the most recent New England College Dean's List is senior DOROTHY D.

STEWART, daughter of MRS. JOANNE W. STEWART, of Kercheval avenue, and JOHN N. STEWART, of Balfour road. Dorothy is a University Liggett graduate.

DR. EBERHARD F. MAMMEN, of Woods lane, Wayne State University's dean of Pharmacy and Allied Health Professions, welcomed pharmacists to WSU's 23rd annual Stephen Wilson Pharmacy Seminar Tuesday, February 22, at the Engineering Society of Detroit.

DR. and MRS. ALEXANDER BYRON, of Oak Park, announce the birth of a son, ALEXANDER KENNETH, December 9, Mrs. Byron is the former CATHY MCCUBBIN, daughter of the DONALD MCCUBBINS, of Ridgemont road. Paternal grandparents are the KENNETH BYRONS, of Grand Marais boulevard, Dr. Byron is associated with Greenfield Animal Hospital, Southfield.

Grosse Pointe South High School graduate THOMAS G. ROGERS has been selected for technical training in the Air Force civil engineering structural and pavements field at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex. Airman Rogers recently completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

JULIA A. SUTHERLAND, daughter of the A. D. SUTHERLANDS, of Lewiston road, and MARY ANNE ZAVELL, daughter of DR. and MRS. PAUL M. ZAVELL, of Moran road, have been elected officers of Gamma Omega Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority at Denison University, where both are sophomores. Julie is corresponding secretary, Mary Anne social chairman for 1977.

you want it to be. It's been a wonderful fund-raising vehicle: everyone has a lot of fun, and we raise a decent amount of money for the school."

All monies raised via Action Auction go into a general fund for Academy maintenance and improvements. The approximately 350 Academy students come from all racial, ethnic and economic backgrounds. Some are on scholarship, but tuition alone does not cover the expenses of any child who goes there. There's a deficit of $312 per student.

So the Academy conducts two major fund-raisers per year: Annual Giving and Action Auction.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet E. Tracy, (they're Denny Summers' parents), are honorary chairmen of Action Auction '77. Among Susie and Peter O'Rourke's chief assistants are Ed and Mary Stroble, who head the acquisitions committee, Ann and Butch Mullen and Joyce and Gene Wambold, on advertising, and Laura and Ned Evans, responsible for major prizes.

"I still do other things," Susie O'Rourke reports, "but maybe three days a week now I'm over at the school, for six or seven hours."

When school's out, so is Susie. "I make it a point to be home when the children get home, no matter what I'm doing."

It's Peter's Turn Peter attends committee meetings regularly, and does a lot of the contact work, (telephone calls, letters), in his free time.

He helps—as Susie will be helping him when their co-chairmanships of the Friends of Bon Secours' big June benefit, a premier of Liza Minelli's "New York, New York" at the Eastland Theatre, preceded by cocktails in a private home with a parade of vintage cars transporting major subscribers from the cocktail party to the theater, moves into high gear.

After the show, adds Peter, project chairman for the Bon Secours Friends, there'll be an Afterglow at Stouffers, with special celebrity guests.

In between the two co-chairmanships, the O'Rourkes are planning a trip to Ireland. It's not the South Seas, but it'll do until the dream comes true. What Peter would really like to do is get a hemp boat and GO.

"I've told Sue," says Peter, "that one of these years I'll take six months off, we'll take the kids and sail away . . ."

Maybe next year, maybe never . . . but isn't it a lovely dream?
