PRESIDENT CARTER asked Congress Wednesday to put the United States on a painful energy-conservation diet, including taxes that could boost gasoline prices to more than $1 a gallon and add $2,488 to the cost of gas-guzzling cars by 1985. In a nationally televised address to a joint session of Congress, Mr. Carter said Americans must be forced in some cases to save energy because they are not likely to give up wasteful habits voluntarily. The alternative, he said, is that "crisis" ... could overwhelm us.

MICHIGAN, LIKE MOST other states in the nation, will turn the clock ahead one hour Sunday, beginning six months of daylight savings time. The move to fast time will become official at 2 a.m. EST Sunday, April 24, but the Department of Transportation, which handles time zones and changes in the country, advises setting the clock ahead one hour before going to bed Saturday night. If you go to bed, say at 10 p.m., then turn the clock to 11 p.m. You lose an hour but get it back again on the last Sunday in October, when clocks are turned back one hour to standard time.

AS MANY AS 34 PERSONS were reported killed Friday, most of them when soldiers fired on anti-government marchers in the Army ruled city of Karachi, in the bloodiest day in six weeks of political violence in Pakistan. The new clashes came after the government of Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto imposed martial law on Pakistan's four largest cities in an effort to quell anti-Bhutto protests.

A PIPE BOMB exploded Saturday in a locker room at Washington National Airport, killing one Federal Aviation Administration employee. The agency said there was no threat to air passengers and no disruption of airline operations. Initial investigations by officials of the FBI and the aviation agency gave them a good idea about the type of bomb used but no clue about the motive for the blast. They said the bomb went off without warning.

EXPERTS AT A UN conference disagree with President Carter's warning that "we are now running out of gas and oil." They hold that the world probably has enough of both for another 100 years. A newly issued summary of last summer's conference says dozens of specialists who attended generally agreed that oil and gas from conventional sources "would last at least until about the time period 2020-2030," and that other sources will extend supplies even further. The summary was the first report of the conference, held in Laxenburg, Austria, last July 5-16. The full report is due to be issued May 1.

PRESIDENT CARTER asked Congress Monday to impose controls on "devastating" hospital costs, including a ban on hospital bed expansion for most of the nation. Michigan would be affected by the ban. Mr. Carter proposed a federal limit on construction of new hospitals and purchase of major equipment as part of his plan to hold the increase in hospital charges to nine percent next year. The legislation, which would affect 6,000 hospitals, faces a stiff fight in Congress. But the President said it would save $2 billion in hospital outlays next year.

Boy Finds Vandalism Is No Fun

Strong Action Taken Against Youth Who Emptied Three Extinguishers in Bathroom at Shores Park

A 14-year-old juvenile male and two other unknown companions apparently thought it was a lot of fun to spray and empty three fire extinguishers all over the women's bathroom at the George Osius Park Monday morning, April 18.

But the youth doesn't think it is so funny now.

Not only have the boy's park privileges been revoked, but he had to clean up the mess by himself. And his parents, who had cooperated fully in the vandalism investigation, had promised to take proper disciplinary action.

Shores Det. Sgt. Frank Mustazza, who was assigned the case, said the bathroom was a complete mess.

Earlier Involvement

He also said he found three sets of footprints in the building, indicating at least a trio of persons were involved. The 14-year-old claimed he was unable to identify his fellow vandals.

The sergeant said the youth tearfully agreed to clean up the bathroom and to pay to have the extinguishers refilled, which, if the proper disciplinary actions are taken, (Continued on Page 2)

Musical Celebration Eyes Role of Church in Culture of Community

Christ Church Hosts American Three Choir Festival of Professional Men, Boy Choirs of Trio of Episcopal Parishes, Convention of Anglican Musicians Assoc. in Big Event May 5-9

The role of the church in the culture of the total community is alive as evidenced by a grand musical celebration scheduled Thursday-Monday, May 5-9, by Christ Church, 61 Grosse Pointe boulevard.

Christ Church will host the 1977 American Three Choir Festival of the professional men and boy choirs of three leading episcopal parishes, (Grosse Pointe, Lexington, Ky., and Akron, O.), and the convention of the Assoc. of Anglican Musicians, (AAM).

The AAM is an international organization of leading Anglican (Episcopal) musicians concerned with the advancement of standards and goals of music and the performing arts of the church, the preservation of musical heritage and the role of the church in the culture of the entire community.

Haas to Speak

About 80 full-time organists and choirmasters from Episcopal cathedrals throughout the country will participate in the festival.

According to Frederic De Haven, choir director at Christ Church, few events offer such an extraordinary program, with several being open to the public.

Karl Haas, noted musicologist, will lecture on the subject of the church as Patron of the Arts on May 7 at Christ Church at 11 a.m.

As director of fine arts at WJR, Detroit, Mr. Haas has been author and host since 1959 of "Adventures in Good Music," a series of daily hour-long broadcasts acclaimed both in North America and around the world.

He also has served as United States delegate to congresses of the International Music Council of UNESCO.

To Perform Mass

Soprano Elizabeth Parcells, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Parcells Jr., of Cloverly road, will offer a performance of Mozart's Credo Mass in its original setting as the Ordinary of solemn sung Eucharistic Mass on May 8 at Christ Church at 11:15 a.m.

Miss Parcells, a prize winner of the 1977 Metropolitan Opera auditions of the air, recently completed her Master's Degree at the New England Conservatory of Boston. This summer, she will be participating in residence at the Tanglewood Music Festival in Tanglewood, Mass.

Dr. Marijyn Mason, university organist and chairman of the organ department of the University of Michigan, will present an organ recital, featuring works by contemporary composers, at (Continued on Page 12)

Pointe Church Hosts Young

Detroit Mayor Coleman A. Young is scheduled to speak at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, on Sunday, May 1, at 7 p.m. His topic will be "Forces of Power That Build or Destroy the City."

As part of a series, entitled "Profiles in Power," offered by the church, Pointers will have an opportunity to hear and question Mr. Young on the present and future direction of Detroit.

The program is open to the public.

Plan for Boat Wells Okayed In GP Park

Council Approves Master Design for 56 New Enclosures at Windmill Pointe Park; Solons to View Cost Estimates on May 9

By James J. Njaim

The Park Council on Monday, April 25, approved an overall master plan for cost estimates and general locations for 56 new boat wells of varied sizes at the Windmill Pointe Park. The firm of John Stevens Associates, Inc., architects-engineers, who prepared the plans for the proposed marina improvements, was authorized to prepare cost estimates for presentation to the council at its next general meeting Monday, May 9.

The Windmill Pointe Park Marina, rated one of the best, if not the best, in the entire metropolitan area by professional marina owners, presently has 220 boat wells.

The additional 56 wells will be a boon to Park boat owners, who are seeking mooring space. There are 129 on the waiting list, according to official figures.

Boat Issue Route

City Manager Robert A. Stone said it would be at least two months before bids will be requested. Work on the additional wells, i.e., dredging, electrical, water, construction of catwalks, et al., will start during the fall and winter months, once low bids are accepted.

The project should hopefully be completed by spring, and ready for the opening of the 1978 boating season.

Raising of funds for the proposed improvement program will be through the sale of bond issues, without the faith and credit of the city, the bonds will be redeemed with revenues from rental fees of the wells.

The plans for construction of a boat launching ramp, behind the old club house at the east side of the park, has not been completely abandoned and is still being considered for further study.

Tentative plans call for the construction of 17 additional wells, for the mooring of 25-foot crafts at the east break-wall; two new wells toward the end of Pier #2 and one at the foot of this pier; one boat space at the foot of Pier #3; two spaces at the end of Pier #4; and a completely new pier, to the west, designated as Pier #5 for 20-foot boats.

The latter layout calls for 16 wells on the east side of (Continued on Page 8)

Man Accused of Attempted Attack of Shores Woman

A would-be rapist, who tried to lure a 22-year-old Shores woman into his clutches by offering to take her to breakfast on Thursday, April 21, shortly after 2 a.m., had his meal alone in The Shores' local cell.

The man's attempted criminal assault was foiled when the woman's screams awakened her mother, sister and a neighbor, who witnessed the victim struggling with her assailant on the family's front lawn.

Woods Public Safety Officers Michael Vandegiste and Michael Makowski were credited with the arrest of the accused man, Frank Michael, East Detroit, following an all points radio broadcast by Shores Cpl. Chester

Citizens in Park Seek Cul-De-Sac

Residents in 1300 Block of Grayton Road Organize, Discuss Feasibility of Plan

By George Polgar Jr.

When a local real estate company came forward a few months ago with a street reorganization plan which supposedly would assure Pointe homeowners safe, beautiful neighborhoods and higher property values, there was some understandable suspicion of salesmen bearing gifts.

At that time, the cul-de-sac plan of the Grayton Road Estates Co. was labeled as Pointe isolationism, and even racist, by some observers.

Now a group of residents from one block of Grayton road in The Park have taken some independent action on the cul-de-sac question.

Views Aesthetics

Led by a young couple, Mike and Gerry Krag, almost half the residents of the 1300 block have organized and discussed the feasibility of putting in a cul-de-sac and mini-park somewhere in their street.

The interest of these residents is in their own block alone. They do not want to impose an unwanted traffic diverting system on any other neighborhood. And since their block is well within the interior of The Park, fear of creeping urban problems has not really entered into their deliberations.

"The people we've discussed this with in this block are not really interested in the cul-de-sac as a plan to raise property values," said Mr. Krag. "Our primary interest is the aesthetic value of a little added greenery in our neighborhood. The traffic cutting value of the cul-de-sac is part of this, too."

He went on to explain that since their block is so far from the city municipal park, the mini-park in the middle might be an alternative quiet place.

Pink Slips Given to 46 Instructors

Action Taken in Line with Superintendent's Commitment Toward Program, Staff Reductions

By Susan McDonald

In reaction to continuing declines in student enrollment, the Board of Education dismissed 46 Pointe teachers Tuesday, April 26.

The layoffs will cut about 20 full-time positions from next year's school budget, in line with Superintendent Dr. William Coats' commitment to reduce staff and programs by $200,000 annually.

The Board approved the layoff lists, including several part-time teachers, at its Monday, April 25, meeting. Pink slips were hand-delivered to the teachers during lunch hours the following day.

Grosse Pointe Education Assoc., (GPEA), President Doris Cook called the dismissals "regrettable."

Part-Time Jobs

"A reduction in enrollment also is a chance to reduce class size and, thus, to improve the quality of education," she said. "But this school system has never availed itself of that opportunity."

"I'd also like to point out that while they are cutting back on teachers, they have announced no reduction of administrators next year."

The staff reductions are possible because of an expected enrollment drop of 405 students next year, according to Director of Personnel Law, Robert W. Wynn. The projected drop would put enrollment in the public schools at 10,255 students.

The layoffs will maintain, and possibly even improve slightly, the current student-staff ratios, according to Mr. (Continued on Page 2)

Pointes View New Budgets

Hearing dates for the final adoption of the budget have been set in the Pointes, along with several so-called "working meetings," which are open to the public under the "Open Meetings Law," prior to budget approval.

The Woods will hold a public hearing on its proposed 1977-78 fiscal year budget at its rescheduled regular council meeting Thursday, May 12, at 7:30 p.m. Two budget review meetings have already been held by the council sitting as the finance committee on Thursday, April 21, and Monday, April 25.

A further meeting is scheduled for this evening, April 28, in the conference room of the municipal building, 20025 Mack avenue, at 7:30 p.m.

In The City, the council will consider the adoption of the community's proposed budget on Monday, May 16, at 7:30 p.m. Prior to that, a "working meeting" has been set for Monday, May 9, at city offices, 17147 Maumee avenue, at 7:30 p.m.

Meanwhile, the Farm's Council will consider approving its proposed budget at its May 16 meeting at the municipal building, 90 Kerby road, at 8 p.m. Two "working meetings" have been set—one was held yesterday, April 27, and the other is scheduled for Tuesday, May 3, at 7:30 p.m.

The Shores Council is scheduled to consider its proposed budget at its June meeting. Unlike the other Pointes, The Shores' fiscal year ends March 31 rather than June 30.

In The Park, the council held its budget hearing on Tuesday, April 26, (after press time).

City Changes Meeting Times

The City Council voted at its April regular meeting to begin all meetings at 7:30 p.m., rather than at 8 p.m. as earlier announced.

Citizens Eye Cul-De-Sac

"There are a lot of senior citizens on this block who can't always go out to the municipal parks, and while the cul-de-sac wouldn't provide for a big sit-down-and-picnic area, it would be a little quiet spot to just relax," he said.

Out of the 34 property owners on the block, the Krags have contacted 15. They recently staged an open house and displayed a model—which they put together—to show how the cul-de-sac would look on their street.

The model is complete with a sliding cul-de-sac which can be moved so that residents can show differing reasons for placing the traffic diverter in different spots.

"We want everyone to understand — our neighbors on the block who we haven't talked to yet, the city government and neighbors on adjoining blocks — that we aren't going ahead foolishly in some kind of vigilante effort," said Mrs. Krag.

Mr. Krag agreed and stressed that their actions thus far and in the future will be completely organized and procedurally complete.

"Our plan for going ahead with this idea is a step-by-step process," he said. "First, we want to be sure that everyone on our block agrees. We want a 100 percent vote from our block. Second, we want complete agreement on where the diverter should be placed."

"Then, we want letters from all the companies and agencies which service our block — police, fire, telephone, gas, electric, water, sewage, etc. — giving their blessings and agreeing that there would be no interruption of service. We want to consult with people on neighboring blocks as well."

"Once we've done all that, we will take it to the city council to have them consider it."

Mr. Krag said he hopes the city would even consider some kind of portable cul-de-sac to use on an experimental basis.

Perhaps the most important question related to the implementation of the cul-de-sacs anywhere in The Pointe is where the financing comes from.

"This block could install the cul-de-sac without any financial help from The Park or the federal government," said Mr. Krag. "We have all the resources on the block, contractors, machinery and even the labor. A tentative estimate for cost is $100 per homeowner on the block—if everyone agrees to it."

Though this kind of group effort and determination seems almost too good to be true, Mrs. Krag says that their block is very close.

"We are good neighbors and we function well as a group," she said. The Krags have a large garage as testimony to this neighborhood spirit. Their neighbors helped them build the structure for their camper.

Back at Grosse Pointe Real Estate where the cul-de-sac plan originated, questionnaires about the plan are being processed and evaluated. According to Conrad Sands, who is now in charge of the project, out of 672 questionnaires circulated in The Park, 168 have been returned.

"To the question of whether people want a cul-de-sac in front of their home, 76 percent of the respondents answered 'yes.' But when asked whether they felt the cul-de-sacs would keep neighborhoods safe, pleasant, cut traffic and raise property values, 96.8 percent of the respondents answered 'yes,'" said Mr. Sands.

"That result is encouraging because it means that many people do believe the plan has some merit."

Teachers Dismissed

Kennedy.

If next year's enrollment projections prove too conservative, as they have several times in the past, it is likely many of the staffers will be called back to work.

As it now stands, 10 of the pink-slipped teachers will be offered part-time jobs next year. Legal contractual requirements mandate that the Board dismiss and then re-hire teachers whose hours they plan to reduce.

Those 10 teachers will be notified of their reduced assignments "as soon as planning permits," Dr. Coats said.

The layoff list also was boosted this year by the return from leave of absence of 15 teachers and a relatively small number of retirements, although the latter may change before September, Dr. Coats said.

He added that student elections in the secondary schools also helped determine who would be laid off.

The Pointe School System has been losing students since the beginning of this decade. Since 1970, enrollment has dropped almost 20 percent, according to a school census conducted last May.

The census indicates the decline will continue for the next several years, as the number of pre-school children, ages one-four, has dropped 16 percent since 1973.

The teaching staff has been cut by 140 positions since the high point in the early 1970's. This year there were 589 teachers in the system.

Teachers notified their contracts will be terminated on June 30 include Mary Adamo, N. Bordewyk, Barbara Boss, Franklin Bunton, Marybeth Carduck, M. Costello, Marilyn Dietz, Mary Elmer, Ann Ferguson and Lila Fuher.

More are Randi Zwada, Nancy Kline, C. Lathram, Renato Marchesi, Judith Morlan, Michael Wasilewski, L. Ahlbrand, R. Ambrose, B. Bailey, Sandra Bracci, J. Fine and Judith Flowers.

Others on the pink-slip list were Diane Gbur, A. Inman, R. Kuhn, Stella Palazzolo, William Roscoe, D. Vandenberg and Elizabeth Wilson.

Full-time staff who will probably be offered a part-time position are Mary Epstein, Marcia Hall, Richard Henn, Ilze Kalnajs, Linda Khoenle, William Kurlovec, Thomas Wolverton, Don McGaugh, Sharon Schmidt and Lynn VanRaaphorst.

Full-time substitutes and special area staffers who will lose their jobs include I. Turner, C. Kaiser, D. Lily, R. Kersten, B. Minor, R. Potter and Jean Bocci.

Woods Council Okays Trio of Ordinances

Three ordinances were adopted by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, April 18, with all incorporating increases in fees in various areas, e.g., for a fence permit, for a permit and the inspection of sidewalks, crosswalks and driveways and for certain plumbing permit fees.

All the measures become effective 20 days after enactment.

The fence law states that before any such structure is erected, placed or installed, a permit must be obtained from the city clerk upon application in writing. Upon the issuance of the document a permit fee of $3 must be paid. Previously, it was $1.

A change also occurs in the definition of a fence. It is deemed to mean any structure erected or placed along or within four feet of the property line of any premises for the purpose of enclosing, in whole or in part, such premises. Previously, the footage figure was 10 feet.

City Attorney George Catlin said prior to the 10-foot stipulation, a policy of three feet was considered by the city but this wasn't defined in an ordinance, hence, ensuring problems. He also indicated the 10-foot stipulation had caused some problems, while noting the council's overall feeling was that the four-foot figure is a reasonable regulation.

As for increasing the permit and inspection fee for sidewalks, crosswalks and driveways, Mr. Catlin said a home owner has to obtain a permit for such construction or reconstruction and such work has to be under the supervision and inspection of the city.

Like the fence dollar figure, amounts contained in this law have reportedly been on the books for over 20 years, and a change was needed, officials say.

This ordinance says the charges are as follows: for inspection and supervision, two cents, (previously one), per square foot up to 250, (previously 275), square feet, with a minimum charge of $5, (previously $1); one cent per square foot from 250, (previously 276), to 800 square feet; and one-half cent per square foot in excess of 800 square feet, provided that upon request, the council may establish a per diem rate.

Meanwhile, the changes in certain plumbing permit fees are designed to generate more revenue for the city.

Building Inspector Earl Wakely indicated that certain fees in the areas of air conditioning and plumbing, for instance, have been raised from $7 to 10 to cover the operation of necessary inspections.

At the same time, Woods Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara said all "license or registration fees," with the exception of master plumbers, (reduced from $10 to $1 to be consistent with amounts charged by other communities), have remained the same.

Journeyman plumbers performing work within the city must register their state journeyman plumber's license with the city at a fee of 50 cents. All maintenance and alteration contractors permitted to do sewer work by the state also must register their license at a $5 fee.

Finally, all plumbing contractors engaged in performing plumbing work within the city must obtain a plumbing contractor's license from the city at a $9 fee.

The council considered these three laws on a first reading basis at its regular meeting Monday, April 4, along with a proposal on "automatic alarms," which provides for penalties for false alarms and eyes the authority to disconnect direct alarms. This proposal was referred to the Committee of the Whole for further study on the 4th.

Mr. Catlin said the intent of the measure is to cut down on the number of false alarms from, not only businesses, but from residences as well. Saying the public safety department responds to all such alarms, he hoped such a law would curtail the nuisance of false calls.

The proposal notes that the public safety director, upon notice of receipt of a fourth false alarm from the same originator within 180 days, shall cause an invoice to be sent from the city to the originator in the amount of $50 for each such false alarm received by the department beginning with the fourth alarm within the 180-day period.

It says for the purposes of computing the time period contained, each false alarm shall initiate its own 180-day period in addition to falling within any already running 180-day period.

Under the authority to order alarms disconnected section, the measure says the public safety director is authorized to order an originator who fails, neglects or refuses to pay the false alarm invoice within 30 days of the date of mailing, to disconnect such alarm system and render same inoperable.

Failure of an originator to disconnect an alarm system when ordered to do so for the public safety director will be a violation of the law.

The content of the proposal may still undergo change at this time pending further council action.

Thieves Hit Gas Station

The manager of a service station at 18210 Mack avenue reported to Farms Police that he was robbed at knifepoint of $125 Saturday night, April 23.

The manager told police that two men drove into his station at about 7:30 p.m. to use an air hose. After showing them where it was, the manager went back to his office.

A moment later, one of the men walked into the office and told the manager to stand up. When the manager asked why, he was told, "Because I want your money."

When the manager said there wasn't any money, the robber struck him in the mouth, knocking him to the floor. The thief then produced a knife, threatened the man and ultimately obtained the cash.

The two men then fled eastbound on Mack avenue in an older model white car, covered with rust.

The first robber was described as a black male, 18-23 years old, 5'7" tall, 130 pounds, wearing a white tee-shirt and having an Afro hairstyle.

The second thief was described as a black male, 20-25 years old, 5'9" tall, 160 pounds, wearing a blue jean jacket and pants. His hair was wavy and parted in the middle.

Man Accused in Attack

of the suspect. Examination was set for yesterday, April 27. Aiuto was released on $2,000 personal bond pending the examination.

Sgt. Mustazza expressed his appreciation for the alertness of PSOs VanDeginste and Makowski, calling the arrest good police work.

Sgt. Mustazza said that conviction on third degree sexual criminal conduct can mean up to 15 years in prison. Aiuto has no prior arrest record, the sergeant added.

It was the victim's neighbor who first gave authorities a description of the assailant's vehicle, a light colored van. The woman positively identified the van and without hesitation pointed out Aiuto as her attacker after Woods PSOs VanDeginste and Makowski brought him into the station.

The woman told Sgt. Mustazza that she was driving home, after dropping off her boy friend at his house in East Detroit, and was traveling east on Vernier, at Harper, when she noticed a light colored van which appeared to be following her.

She said she continued east on Vernier to Lakeshore road, the van still behind. She made a turn south on the road, fearing the driver might try to get her home address, possibly to steal her car at a later time. (She was driving a 1955 Thunderbird).

When the van stayed with her, the victim said, she turned right onto Oxford into a circle drive and turned off her car lights to simulate living there.

The van's driver pulled up in front of her, opposite a driveway and began a conversation, asking her several questions. She finally asked him to move his vehicle, which he did, and she drove off. Then, after looking in the rear view mirror, she saw the van still trailing her.

She said she turned south onto Lakeshore, with the van following. She drove to South Deeplands and turned right, the van still trailing. She drove west to Ballantyne and turned north on that street, followed by the van.

She drove to Fairford and then left onto Fairford and onto the parking lot of Our Lady Star of the Sea Church and school. As she tried to drive to the west side of the lot to get onto Morningside drive, the driver braked directly in front of her, blocking her way.

She asked him if he was lost and received a negative reply. At this point, he asked if she would like to have breakfast with him. The woman said she declined his invitation and requested he let her pass, as she was in danger of running out of gas.

The van driver moved from her path and she drove on Morningside to Lakeshore. After riding a short way, she made a turn onto the street of her residence and drove into the driveway alongside her house.

As she got out of her car, the woman told authorities, she saw that the driver had stopped east of the driveway of her property. She heard the man say, "Last chance for breakfast." As she ran to her house, she turned to look and saw the driver running toward her—nude from the waist down, clad only in a tee-shirt.

She screamed and ran to the rear of her auto, the man following, and was chased around the vehicle twice before the culprit tackled her on her front lawn. As she screamed and fought, the male, whom she identified as Aiuto, attempted to put his hand over her mouth.

The woman's screams awakened her mother and sister, who donned their bath robes and slippers and ran out of the house to assist the victim and wrest her away from the suspect. Both the mother and sister yelled at the attacker as they ran to the struggling pair. The man then got up and fled from the scene.

A neighbor, also awakened by the commotion, looked out of his window and saw the assailant get into a light colored van and drive away. He gave a description of the van to officers who were dispatched to the scene. The victim also gave a good description of the man.

Officers VanDeginste and Makowski said they saw Aiuto driving his van on Vernier toward Mack avenue, and the description of the vehicle and the attacker matched that given over the air.

They radioed they had a possible suspect in custody and were requested to bring him to The Shores station, where he was later identified by the woman.

The Woods officers said that when they made the arrest, Aiuto was fully clothed. Sgt. Mustazza, who was called in a short time later, said he attempted to question Aiuto, but the man refused to answer any questions and refused to make a telephone call.

The sergeant and Shores PSO Daniel Healy picked up the victim's mother and sister and brought them to the station. The three women identified the van as being the one driven by Aiuto, and his victim pointed him out as her attacker.

Students 'Adopt' Orangutans

couple of hams." The class got a chance to see their new charges after presenting the check to Dr. Savoy. The presentation was made before TV cameras and was shown on Channel 7 news Thursday night.

The two orangutans, (which means "Man of the Jungle"), were busy swinging from bars and hanging from the ceiling when the 30 students walked in with Dr. Savoy. The male's name is Samu, 11, and his mate's name is Meri, 13. They're both from Africa.

Senior Pam Kincaid, 17, was happy with the project. "I think it's great we could help out the zoo," she said. "This way we have something to see, instead of just empty cages." Sophomore Irwin Oliver, 15, felt the same way. "I love going to the zoo," he said. "And I like watching the apes. It gives you a good feeling helping out. I'm glad we did it."

The entire school is happy they adopted the animals and Mr. Heffner would like to see it become a yearly event. "I think it would be terrific if we could make this a South tradition," he said. "I mentioned it to Dr. Savoy and he said he would like to see it in writing."

So would the orangutans.

Pointe Churches Hosting Choir

tarian Church, JOAN TUFFEY of GP Woods Presbyterian Church, GRACE IRWIN of GP Memorial, Rev. FRED F. CAMPBELL of GP Unitarian and Rev. PERRY THOMAS of GP United Methodist Church.

Music Forum Slated at North

Nathan Judson, director of North High School's Band and Orchestra, announced a "Composer Forum" performance will be given Thursday, April 28, in Room C-101, North High School, 707 Vernier road, at 3:30 p.m.

Faculty and members of the community are cordially invited to attend while students may attend by invitation only.

The performance presents an opportunity for young composers in the community to perform or to have their works performed.

Churches Join in Hosting Chicago Children's Choir

The world-renowned Chicago Children's Choir will be presented in concert by the Grosse Pointe Ministerial Committee on Sunday, May 1, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, at 2:30 p.m.

It is composed of boys and girls, ranging in age from 10-18, from varying economic, racial and cultural backgrounds in the Chicago area.

The group will be directed by its founder, Christopher Moore, who is assisted by Fred Wooden, a Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church member attending Meadville Theological Seminary, Chicago.

Touring teams of the Chicago Children's Choir have been performing for enthusiastic audiences throughout the United States, Canada and Europe since 1965.

They sing all kinds of music, high voice and mixed choruses, folk songs and traditional songs with skillful accompaniment to the musical styles and demands of each work.

The complete program of the choir involves 250 children and young people, although only 120 take part in the various touring teams. Rev. Moore founded the group, having been a student of Dr. Ferdinand Grossman of the famed Vienna Choir Boys.

In its appearance here, the choir will present a special family concert designed to interest the youngest listener as well as the more musically sophisticated. Often the audience will be asked to participate in the singing, in call and response numbers, and works with clapping rhythms.

Some of the selections to be featured are Benjamin Britten's "A Ceremony of Carols," Irving Fine's settings from "Alice in Wonderland" and Bela Bartok's "Four Slovak Folk Songs."

The choir's Pointe appearance will be the last show in a tour which took the New England states and Ontario.

Following the concert, members of the choir will be treated to dinner by members of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church under the direction of Pam Miller.

Working on arrangements for the concert are Rev. Fred F. Campbell of Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church and Dr. Ray H. Kiely of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. Other Memorial Church organizers are Elaine Irwin and Richard Kay.

Lending a hand from Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church are Rev. Perry Thomas and Robert Hanson. Others handling arrangements are Esther Peters of Saint Paul's Evangelical Lutheran, Joan Tuffey and Rev. Robert Linthicum of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, Joan Hines and Darlene Krato of Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church and Marjorie Young of Grace United Church of Christ.

The Grosse Pointe Ministerial Committee is under the leadership of Rev. Robert F. McGregor of Christ Episcopal Church.

Admission to the concert is free but donations in support of the choir's on-going program will be accepted.

Park Approves Boat Well Plan

Estimated Cost
The Detroit-based firm of John Stevens Associates originally planned 26 wells at the south breakwall, but this was decided unfeasible, hampering boat traffic to and from the marina.

Mr. Stevens, a resident of The Park, was commissioned by the council to make a study and to prepare the proposed marina improvement plans, at a cost not to exceed $1,500, which will be credited to the final plans and specifications.

When the final plans and specifications are presented to the council at its next regular meeting, as modified at Monday night's session, it is estimated that the cost of the improvements and well additions will be approximately $100,000.

If the council decides to go ahead with the building of the boat launching ramp(s), the cost will be much higher.

Mr. Stevens, in his study report to the solons, disclosed that all new boat wells are sized for powerboats and sailboats 23 feet or less, the size which is most in demand.

He said that final engineering plans and specifications, when approved by the council, must be submitted to the United States Army Corps of Engineers, the Michigan State Department of Natural Resources and the United States Coast Guard.

These departments have already been notified of the proposed marina improvement project, he pointed out.

(Continued from Page 1) ing," said the spokesman who added that Oldsmobile has nothing to lose since all their models meet mileage requirements through 1985.

The White House media barrage on the energy policy seems to have turned off some of the general public to the subject. A random telephone poll of 15 Pointers revealed a surprising attitude of weary ambivalence in a community where people usually have definite ideas of issues and don't mind talking about them.

Many of the people questioned liked some parts of the energy policy and disliked others. Some were unclear about specifics and unsure about the intended impact of some parts of the plan.

Others simply didn't want to talk about it at all.

Mr. Dilber questions whether the small cars in today's market can effectively replace the larger, more durable models. "It is a proven fact that smaller cars wear out faster, are tougher on tires and have a poor resale value. And they aren't a good enough buy to begin with," he explained. "If you have to spend about $5,000 for a car with a few extras why would you settle for a small car when you can get a big one for the same price."

Mr. Dilber also wonders whether people are really convinced of the urgency of the energy situation.

Time Will Come
"I believe there is an energy problem... but a crisis, I don't know?" he said. "On the one hand, you have the President saying that we're in bad shape as far as energy goes. You almost feel you have to believe him. What does he have to gain by making it up?"

"Then again you read reports about other experts who say things aren't so bad after all. So who do you believe?"

Mr. Dilber made this comment before the publication Monday, April 25, of a report prepared by the United Nations saying that the world probably has enough oil to last for 100 years.

Finally, Mr. Dilber conceded that the time of the small car will come as the attitudes of today's younger generation take control of the market.

"Young people today don't mind the inconveniences of the smaller cars, so smaller cars will become the norm. But you can't force generations of big car buyers to just give them up overnight," he said.

Weary Ambivalence
Other comments from area dealers focused on the lack of oil exploration incentives in the President's proposal and the fact that the auto industry seems to be an easy and, thus, frequent target of government regulation.

A spokesman from Patmon Oldsmobile said the new energy policy is just another attempt by the government to get the auto industry.

"I think Carter is just screwy. This plan of his will never pass the Congress. The auto industry is too important to take this kind of beat-

Well cared for nails are polished, trimmed, clean and colored in good taste. To avoid ingrown toenails, particularly of the big toe, the nails should be cut straight across. When fingernails or toenails have been cut to the desired length, they should be smoothed with a file. It's wise to trim the cuticle; it should be pushed back gently. A common complaint about fingernails is dryness. Heavy detergents tend to dry the nails. Avoidance of this and fingernail polish remover will restore natural oil to the nail.

Good grooming aids for the nails, hair and skin are featured at THE PARK PHARMACY, 15324 E. Jefferson, Grosse Pointe Park. We offer a complete line of health and beauty aids along with a modern professional prescription department. Bring your prescriptions to us for prompt, dependable and personalized service. The problem of short-term financing isn't limited to big business.

Short-term financing, as any good businessman knows, is a function of cash flow.

Like when school tuition is due before the bonus is paid. Or vacation time arrives before the tax refund.

Usually you handle it with one or more bank loans. Which means one or more trips to the bank.

Now there's a simpler way: Instalene, the new revolving credit account at National Bank of Detroit.

You apply only once for Instalene. Then, any time you need money, you simply write in the amount you need on a special Instalene form, then cash it at any NBD office.

You can apply for Instalene credit in an amount as low as $500, or all the way up to $10,000. You have the protection of minimum monthly payments. And the advantage of being able to make large partial payments, or repay the amount in full, at any time with simple interest. And Instalene costs you nothing until you use it.

Instalene. For everyone who occasionally needs help in covering the financial peaks and valleys of life. And you can apply for it at any NBD office.

Members of the Youth Forum of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 1950 Mack avenue, will conduct a rocking chair marathon Saturday-Sunday, April 30-May 1.

Farms Parade Begins Season

By George A. Haggarty

The fire truck sirens will announce the 1977 Farms Little League Parade on Saturday, April 30, and the beginning of another baseball season.

It will depart at 10 a.m. from Kerby Field and proceed throughout The Farms area.

Little League president James Dingeman Jr. will serve as the Parade Marshal and judge for the floats.

Past president John Brooks, Farms Mayor James Dingeman Sr., Farms councilmen, Farms Fire Chief Warren Schultz and Police Sgt. Arnold Parsons will be the guests of honor in the lead parade cars.

League directors Dick Pierce, Larry Doyle and John MacLeod will be leading their respective divisions in the parade. This year's Little League will see about 275 boys from The Farms participating.

Opening Day ceremonies following the parade will be held at the main diamond in Kerby Road with speeches by Mayor Dingeman, James Dingeman Jr. and special benefactor Marshall Noecker on behalf of Kaufmann Window and Door, which has been a little league sponsor for 25 years.

The winning floats will be announced at the award ceremonies and prizes will be awarded for the first unassisted triple play and the first no-hitter to take place during the league season.

Following the ceremonies it will be batter-up, with games scheduled for Saturday afternoon. They will run through the month of June.

Offer Breast Exam Program

Instructional programs on breast self-examination will be offered in late April and early May to Pointe high school girls and mothers of high school students.

The program is sponsored by the Health Education Council of Grosse Pointe in conjunction with the American Cancer Society.

Mothers and 11th and 12th grade girls are invited to attend the program at the South High auditorium, 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard, today, April 28, or at North High School's auditorium, 707 Vernier road, on Monday, May 9.

Both programs begin at 8 p.m.

The film, "Something Very Special," will show correct methods of breast examination. Volunteer nurses will lead a question and answer session following the film.

With parental permission, 10th grade girls may view the same program during the school day today-tomorrow, April 28-29, at South High.

MARINES NAMED

Louis L. Marines, of Neff road, was named vice-president and general manager of William Kessler and Associates. Mr. Marines recently moved to The Pointe from Philadelphia, Pa., where he worked with Cox Associates. He received his education at Washington and Jefferson College and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Offers Advice For Residents

Now that spring is here, citizens have a greater tendency to leave their garage doors open while working in the yard or even when they're away from home, even for a short time.

This is an open invitation for "hit and run" artists to take a lawn mower, bicycle or a variety of other equipment, cautions Woods Det. Lt. Jack Patterson.

He advised all residents to keep their garage doors closed, and locked, to erase the chance of a touring opportunist from stealing their belongings.

Last July a ravaging flood claimed some 150 lives and destroyed or damaged hundreds of houses and businesses. Reconstruction is expected to take years.

As members of the work camp, the young people will assist the returning residents, many of whom are elderly and on fixed incomes, in the reconstruction of their homes and property. The work camp also will be attended by 160 other youths from around the country.

In addition to the rocking chair marathon other projects including bake sales, car washes and slave days have been planned to defer the cost of the program which will total several thousand dollars.

Advisors directing the group include Bob Schroeder, Mary Schroeder, Harry Maghakian, Judy Maghakian and Gail Thomas.

The marathon will begin about 11 a.m. on Saturday and continue until 12 noon on Sunday.

For further information regarding pledges, call Mr. or Mrs. Schroeder at 886-7260 or the church at 886-4300.

Clothing Taken From Garage

A resident in Blairmoor road reported to Woods police that a person or persons unknown removed clothing, valued at around $600, from his garage Thursday, April 21.

The citizen stated for the past four years he had been putting his dry cleaning in a closet in his garage for pick up by a local cleaner.

The missing clothing included one brown wool suit valued at $200, one tweed suit valued at $200, one pair of brown pants valued at $50 and 11 shirts valued at about $13 each.

Plat Okayed in GP Woods

The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, April 18, unanimously concurred in a Planning Commission recommendation approving the proposed preliminary plat for the Grosse Pointe Green Subdivision for the northeast corner of Vernier road and Morningside drive.

The plat was submitted by Hillard Green, of Stanhope road.

Building Inspector Earl Wakely said the material must now go through several channels, according to city ordinance, including exploration by Detroit Edison, the public safety director, the city engineer, the Michigan Department of Health, et al., before ultimate approval is given to the final plat. Then, his office will issue necessary permits.

He added that nine single family residences located around a cul-de-sac are proposed for construction.

Woman Escapes from Police

A suspected shoplifter slipped out of her handcuffs and escaped from City police offices Tuesday, April 19, hours after she had been arrested at Jacobson's in the Village.

As of Tuesday, April 26, the suspect was still on the loose. Police identified her as Delores Hudgins, a 32-year-old Detroit woman, but added she has used five different names in the past.

City police were joined in their search for the woman by the Detroit Corrections Center, from which she allegedly escaped several weeks ago, police said.

The suspect was spotted at about 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday by a Jacobson's employee who told police she was carrying a plastic garbage bag containing $1,284 worth of clothes.

The employee chased the woman across the store and finally overpowered her on the back stairs, according to the police report.

City Cpl. John Drummond and Ptl. Ronald Pryor were called to the scene and made the arrest.

Acting Police Chief Robert VanTiem said the suspect was handcuffed to a vault in police offices after her arrest. She could not be locked in The City's only cell because a male suspect was being held in it the time, he said.

The woman apparently slipped the handcuffs off and took off through the back door of the station, through The City municipal office, making her escape through the rear door.

Anyone's deficiency in dollars can in many cases be traced to a deficiency in common sense.

Students Take Writing Honors

Three South High School journalism students recently received major national writing honors.

The international honor society, Quill and Scroll, awarded gold keys to Terry Berg, Walecia Konrad and Mary Ann Vann.

Terry was a winner in the investigative reporting category for a story on youth violence and its increasing impact in The Pointe.

Walecia won honors in news writing for a story on the legal drinking age, while Mary Ann used an interview with Mark "The Bird" Fidyich to take top prize in the sports writing category.

Each gold key winner is now eligible to enter scholarship competition.

Students Cited by Bashara

Judge George Bashara, chairman of the Michigan Commission on Substance Abuse Services, presented certificates of achievement to 13 local high school students at an awards ceremony Wednesday, April 20, at Family Life Education Council, (FLEC), offices, in Chalfonte avenue.

The certificates were awarded the students in recognition of their completion of an authorized training program on alcohol prevention and their volunteer work with students in various schools.

Judge Bashara, in making the presentations, stressed the importance of the work the students have undertaken.

"Every one dollar spent on prevention is as effective as $20 spent on treatment," he said. The students, with resource materials from the local FLEC office, have completed alcohol awareness projects in several local elementary schools. They hope to expand their program in public middle schools this spring.

The students have completed a course including: four, three-hour sessions on the history and psychology of alcohol usage, pharmacology of alcohol and youth and alcohol. The course was organized by Mrs. Kenneth Adler, chairman of the alcohol awareness training program in cooperation with the Catholic Youth Organization.

In addition, the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters presented a group, leadership workshop for the students.

South High School students who completed the course are: Wally Konrad, Dave Shelley, and Jill Graham. Jeff Kirkman, of North High School, Debbie Elliott, Denise Pulte, Geraldine Ruthenberg and Patti Coman, of Harper Woods High and Laura Jean French and Tina VanDeGara, of University Liggett, also received certificates.

Star of the Sea High School's Beth Burns and Mary Treder and Notre Dame High's Ed Trombley and Joe Marino also completed the course.

Among the special guests attending the ceremony were Dr. James Hoeh, South High principal, G. Bruce Feighner, North High principal, Sister Martha and Sister Cathy, of Star of the Sea High, and FLEC President Mary Evelyn Self.

In addition to the alcohol education program, FLEC sponsors Center Pointe Crisis Intervention Center, the Medical Clinic for young adults, and the Dialogue adult help-line.

Woods Rescinds Action On Three-Cycle Light

The Woods Council, based upon the recommendation of Public Safety Director Henry Marchand and Gene Clinton, Wayne County Road Commission traffic engineer, unanimously rescinded a previous motion authorizing the installation of a three-cycle traffic signal at the North High School drive-Vernier road intersection.

This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, April 18.

The council originally considered a three-phase signal in an effort to alleviate congestion and pedestrian problems in the immediate area. However, at the meeting, it was said to replace the entire traffic signal system at the location could cost an estimated $20,000.

In his memo to City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, Director Marchand said a study by Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook revealed the following facts: in the morning the congested period is only 10 minutes, (from 7:55-8:05 a.m.), in the afternoon, it, again, is 10 minutes, (from 3:05-3:15 p.m.), and a number of students do not cross at the light but rather at mid-block.

(In fact, a female student was recently struck by a vehicle while crossing Vernier road approximately 100 feet west of the school drive).

The director felt the proposed signal system could be set to function only during the congested periods and then revert to the regular two-phase system the remainder of the time. But he indicated Mr. Clinton said this was impossible to build into the system.

"Subsequently, to require that all traffic on Vernier road and the school drive be held up an additional 20 seconds every traffic light cycle, 24 hours a day, when the problem only adds up to 20 minutes per school day, does not warrant the inconvenience it would cause motorists, let alone the waste of energy," he stated.

As a result, Mr. Clinton, the director continued, proposed a compromise, which can be accomplished with the present system at little or no cost.

"What actually happens down there is that whoever is first off the line when the light changes, be it pedestrians or motorists, gets to cross the intersection first. This often results in a Mexican stand-off.

"Mr. Clinton can manipulate the timing device and delay the green light phase for traffic exiting the driveway a few seconds, or long enough for the students crossing Vernier road to get the jump on vehicles turning into Vernier," said Director Marchand.

Calling the proposal a mini three-phase signal system, the director cited three steps including red for Vernier, walk signals come on for pedestrians crossing Vernier and the red stays on for traffic exiting the driveway for an additional four seconds, thus enabling pedestrians to start across Vernier before the light turns green for the driveway.

As a further precaution to assure that traffic exiting from the driveway is stopped and remains stopped until the pedestrians clear the crossing, a "no turn on red" sign would be installed. It would say no turns from 7:55-8:15 a.m. and from 2:45-3:15 p.m.

The visuals have been ordered, the director said, but haven't been received as yet.

At the same time, he stated an engineering firm is scheduled to come out sometime this week to review the three-cycle situation and explore potential cost factors involved.

Pointers Cited As Outstanding

William O'Keefe, of Vernier road, Albert Kasper, of South Oxford road, Dennis Cavanaugh, of Prestwick road, and James Pattee, of Rivard boulevard, are Pointers chosen for the honor.

The men were selected on the basis of service to their community, professional leadership, academic achievement, cultural accomplishments and political participation.

St. John Eyes Visitor Passes

For the convenience of patients and their relatives and friends, a visitor pass system will be initiated at Saint John Hospital on Tuesday, May 10.

The purpose of this system is to promote the quality of health care by reducing the disruption to patient care and treatment, and to provide an environment of rest and quiet essential for the patient's recovery.

During regular visiting hours, visitors to patient areas will obtain visitor passes at the reception desk in the main lobby. The passes are designed to assist the visitor in locating the patient's room.

The number of visitors in non-private rooms will be limited to two per patient at any one time. Visitors must be 14 years of age or older.

Visiting hours in medical/surgical units are from 4-8 p.m. Monday-Friday, and from 2-8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Pediatric unit visiting hours are from 11 a.m.-7 p.m., while visiting hours in private rooms are from 8:30 a.m.-8 p.m.

In the intensive care areas, visiting hours are individualized to accommodate the patient and his special needs.

A spokesman for the hospital added a note to visitors by reminding them that at all times they should be helpful, optimistic and supportive of the patient, always keeping in mind that rest and quiet are an essential part of the patient's recovery.

"Merv's great, but somehow it's hard getting used to a talk show before bedtime."

In New York the choice is yours

The networks think they know what's good for the New York market.

They know that from 8 to 9 p.m. New Yorkers are supposed to like situation comedies. And that from 9 to 11 p.m. they should want to see detective shows. And that everyone expects to see the news at 11 p.m.

But WNEW-TV knows differently. People are not sheep. Not everyone wants exactly the same thing at exactly the same time.

So we put The Merv Griffin Show on at 8:30. And

New Yorkers like that. We follow with The 10 O'Clock News, an hour earlier than the network stations. And New Yorkers like that. We have the imagination to schedule a sophisticated soap opera at 11 p.m. — Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman. And, just as we imagined, New Yorkers like that, too.

New York likes us so much, in fact, that more homes tune to WNEW-TV than two out of the three network stations. Because we give New York viewers a choice, Detroit advertisers get a choice in New York, too.

Musical Celebration

Christ Church on May 8 at 6 p.m.

Included in Dr. Mason's program will be the world premiers of two compositions by Swedish composer Bengt Hambraeus, and by the American composer Normand Lockwood.

Dr. Mason has been heard in recitals throughout North America and Europe. She was the first American woman to play in Westminster Abbey, when she represented the United States at the International Congress of Organists in 1957.

Among the panoply of events in this music season is the participation of the boy choirs of the Three Choir Festival in season-ending performances by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra of the Third Symphony of Gustav Mahler May 5 at Ford Auditorium at 8:30 p.m., May 6 at 10:30 a.m. and May 7 at 8:30 p.m.

These performances will mark the final appearance of Aldo Ceccato as music director of the symphony.

"The Play of Daniel," successfully presented last February in three sellout performances, will be repeated by the Christ Church Players with a consort of medieval instruments, featuring members of the Ars Musica and the Jongleurs of the University of Michigan.

It will be presented at the Cathedral Church of Saint Paul, Detroit, on May 6 at 8:30 p.m.

Carmen Cavallero as Daniel and Pointer David Ludwig as the Prince are included in the cast. This liturgical drama, written in 1150 AD, will be staged by Nikos Psacharopoulos, the original director for the New York Pro Musica performances in the Cloisters of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. He has directed performances of the play elsewhere in the United States and Europe.

Some 20 young people are involved in this presentation. Portraying angels are two 10-year-olds, Pointer Marcel Santiz and John Dunn.

Enriches Life

The American Three Choir Festival has its roots in the Southern England Three Choir Festival of Chorus from Winchester, Salisbury and Chichester Cathedrals. Observed annually for many years in the Midwest, the American Festival will be held in Detroit for the first time.

Professional boy choirs, traditionally established at churches, have been the historic centers of the singing arts, and have provided the early phases of proper music training to future musicians. Although long a part of musical heritage, the performance of choir music by men and boys is rarely available to the general public.

"We believe such an offering of concerts as this enriches the cultural life of the community and we hope that people will take advantage of the opportunity," said Mr. DeHaven.

There will be an admission charge for the lecture and all performances, except for the Sunday Mass. The program is supported by the Michigan Council for the Arts.

Activities Set for Senior Citizens

The Woods Parks and Recreation Department has planned a variety of summer activities for senior citizens in the community, according to a proposed schedule from Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallman.

Starting off the festivities, today, April 28, is modern dancing at the Lake Front Park at 3:30 p.m. with "a surprise band," (sans Guy Lombardo).

SKY HIGH

Building material is expensive now, but wait until you see this summer's political platforms.

On Monday, May 2, a luncheon and antique display program will be held at the Harper Woods Recreation Center from 12-5 p.m.

Then, a four-day shuffleboard tournament will take place on May 13 and 27 and June 10 and 24 at the Lake Front Park next to the old bathhouse from 1-4 p.m. Trophies will be awarded.

A physical fitness program will begin on Tuesday, May 24, and Thursday, May 26, at the Lake Front Park's new bathhouse from 10 a.m.-12 noon. Seniors should bring their own sweat suits, bathing suits and towels. This program will continue June 7, 9, 14, 16, 21, 23, 28 and 30.

A hobby day will usher in the month of June, (on June 2), where seniors can display and explain their hobby in the front lobby of the new bathhouse from 2-4 p.m. A picnic lunch will kick off the day from 12-1:30 p.m.

For tennis buffs, a net instruction program will be given June 6, 8, 13, 15, 20, 22, 27 and 29 from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. at Lake Front. Citizens should bring their own rackets and a can of tennis balls.

Mr. Hallman said registration is necessary for the physical fitness and tennis instruction programs, and the department should be contacted at 884-6800, extension 58, in this respect.

Jr. Symphony Plans Concert

The Grosse Pointe Junior Symphony's annual spring concert will feature five soloists this year, performing the works of Rimsky-Korsakov, Tchaikovsky and Giannini, among others.

The concert will be held Tuesday, May 3, in the Parcels Middle School auditorium, 20600 Mack avenue, at 8 p.m.

The program opens with the "Procession of the Nobles," performed by the orchestra. First soloist, Michaela Kemp, will then present "Viola Concerto in G Major." Miss Kemp is a member of the Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra.

Next on the program will be the "Second Symphony" by Giannini, followed by the second soloist, Meredith Longley, playing the "Concerto for Clarinet" by Stamitz. Miss Longley has been awarded many musical honors and attended music camps at Blue Lake, Interlochen and Michigan State University.

Next soloist, flutist Kathryn Thomas, will perform Kent Kennan's "Night Soliloquy for Flute."

The lyrical French horn will be featured next in Weber's "Concerto, Opus 45." Michael Reed, son of Junior Symphony conductor Russell Reed, will perform on the French horn, accompanied by Virginia Shover, on piano.

"The Fair," by Stravinsky, will be next on the program, followed by Ravel's "Pavane." Then, oboe soloist Ann Willison will perform "Concerto for Oboe" by Haydn.

The program will conclude with the orchestra's playing of "Caravan" by Ellington.

Caviar, that most delicate of delicacies, comes from theurgeon. Swimming low at the bottom of the Caspian Sea, the best sturgeon for caviar are found in the Iranian section of the sea. After the sturgeon is killed, the ovarian sac is removed and pressed through a wooden sieve to separate the roe, or eggs, from the sac. The eggs are then carefully processed with varying amounts of salt under the master guidance of a nastavnic, a master taster. Today, nastavnics are few, but caviar tasters are plenty!

GP Woods Hits District Courts

A communication from Sen. Joseph Snyder regarding a House Judiciary Committee hearing Friday, April 22, on the conversion of municipal courts to district courts sparked the Woods Council to send a previously drafted resolution against such conversion to state officials.

The council took this unanimous action at its regular meeting Monday, April 18.

Having gone on record on several earlier occasions on this subject, the solons' previously approved resolution of October 4, 1976, was sent to Sen. Snyder, Sen. John C.

Hertel, Rep. William R. Bryant, Rep. Paul A. Rosenbaum, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, and to all members of the committee.

The measure says the council is unilaterally opposed to the abolition of its municipal court, while noting "the imposition of a district court upon the citizens of the community of Grosse Pointe Woods will create a costly and unnecessary expense far in excess of any benefits to be derived from such court."

An efficiency expert is a man clever enough to get his own price for guessing at things.

Senior Men Slate Show

The Senior Men's Club of Grosse Pointe will hold a Hobby, Arts and Crafts Show Thursday-Friday, May 5-6, in the Crystal Ballroom of the War Memorial. The hours are from 10 a.m.-10 p.m. on Thursday and from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. on Friday.

It is open to the community and there is no admission charge.

The Senior Men's Club is an organization of nearly 1,000 retired Pointe businessmen. Many have unusual and interesting hobbies which they will be demonstrating and explaining.

In addition to various collections, some of the crafts which will be displayed are wood and metal working, leaded and stained glass, ceramics, painting, sculpturing, rug-hooking, decoupage, lapidary, collecting and restoring old clocks, tying trout flies, building ship models and coloring photographic prints.

On Thursday evening the Senior Men's Club Choral Group will entertain, beginning at 8 p.m. During the day, members will be playing the piano and the organ.

Frank Welchenbach, retired principal of Trombley School, has contacted the skill talent teachers of high and junior high schools and most of them will be bringing their students to the show.

It is hoped this will encourage young people to learn an art or craft, while giving them a chance to talk to the men and get their questions answered.

Sewer Waiver Bid Approved

A resolution viewing the extension of a sewer across Vernier road was unanimously approved by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, April 18, for submission to the Wayne County Road Commission.

The existing Vernier road sewer is a part of a combined sewer system and the proposed extension would be a combined system, the resolution says, while the cost of extending the Vernier road sewer crossing as a sanitary sewer system would be prohibitive and disproportionate to benefits received.

As a result, the council petitions the Wayne County Road Commission to grant a waiver of the design and construction requirements for wastewater transmission facilities to permit the extension of the Vernier road sewer as proposed.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said the request was made in order to service two duplexes under construction in the Vernier-Fairway lane area, and also to serve any other future development needs in the immediate vicinity.

He added that Wayne County now requires all sanitary and all storm sewers to be separate, while the city has a combined system.

Armed Robber Hits Station

An armed robber escaped with $251 in cash from the Mack-Rivard Standard station on Wednesday, April 20.

The 17-year-old station attendant, who was on duty at the time of the robbery, described the thief as a white male in his 20's, about 6'2" and 180 pounds. He had a medium build and dark brown hair.

The thief, who was wearing a drab, olive shirt with US Marines-Vietnam printed across the chest, wielded a .45 caliber Browning service revolver.

The man reportedly entered the station at about 11 p.m., asking for change. After making a phone call in the station, he began asking questions about station personnel and operations, according to police.

Suddenly, the man pulled a gun from his waistband, and demanded that the attendant give him "all the money." He forced the attendant to sit on the floor while he escaped on foot.

The youth was not injured.

TRUCKS AND TAXES

Annual state and federal highway user taxes for a typical heavy truck range from $1,834 for a three-axle tractor trailer to $3,941 paid by a five-axle truck and trailer. On the average, state and federal user taxes paid by one large truck equals taxes paid by 36 passenger cars, according to the American Trucking Associations, Inc.

Nancy Dickerson, prominent national correspondent, reports for Detroit Edison:

"After last winter's severe cold, a lot of homeowners are warming up to the electric heat pump. Here's why:"

Home pictured built by Guenther Building Company, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Today's heat pump is one of the most energy-efficient ways to heat your home, apartment, office or commercial building. It returns over 1½ units of heat for every unit of energy it uses.

Think what this can mean in conserving energy and helping to keep your heating and cooling costs down.

There's a unique reason why the heat pump is an outstandingly efficient heating system.

It makes good use of outdoor heat.

Yes. Even in winter there's heat in the outdoor air that can help keep you warm. The trick is to move that heat inside where you can use it. That's what the heat pump does. Only during very low temperatures is supplementary heat needed.

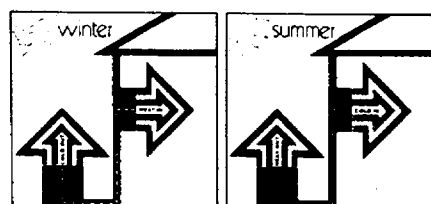

In summer, the heat pump moves heat out of your home for energy-efficient cooling. It's an all-year comfort system that also filters and dehumidifies. And it's clean because no fossil fuel is burned in your home.

The heat pump works something like your refrigerator.

A heat pump is more sophisticated, but it works in much the same way. Imagine the cold air in your refrigerator as the cold winter air outside your home. The hot air that you sometimes feel being blown into your kitchen is actually being extracted from the cold air inside the unit. This is how the heat pump warms your home. In summer, the process is reversed to cool your home: the heat in the inside air is extracted by the heat pump and moved outdoors.

Here's how the heat pump works.

See for yourself.

You can see heat pumps in the new homes displaying the Detroit Edison EEE Award. This Award is presented to builders who incorporate energy-efficient excellence standards into their homes—including proper insulation, energy-efficient appliances and lighting, as well as electric heat pump heating and cooling. Ask Detroit Edison for names and locations of builders who have EEE Award homes on display.

Conserving with comfort.

Detroit Edison wants you to know about the heat pump because it generally is the most energy-efficient way to provide homes and buildings with year-round comfort.

The heat pump can also be an important answer to conservation because the natural heat it uses helps save our non-renewable fossil fuels.

As a concerned participant in America's crusade for conservation, Detroit Edison is working hard to do its part. But it requires a working partnership between those who supply energy and those who use it. So if you're planning on buying, building or replacing your present heating system, consider a heat pump as part of your plans.

Detroit Edison has a folder, "Your all-season space conditioner, The Heat Pump." Pick one up at any Detroit Edison Customer Office and learn more about this energy-efficient way to heat and cool homes and buildings. Or write to: Customer Relations, Detroit Edison, 2000 Second, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

Conserve for all it's worth.
The power is in your hands.

What do you know about chablis? It is true that it is one of the most famous wine names in the world. In France the chablis wines are produced from grapes that grow in and around the town of Chablis, which is 110 miles south-east of Paris. The soil is hard with very little topsoil. Julius Caesar found vines in this region during one of his conquests. The vineyards must rest for up to twenty years before they can become productive again. Despite this, this one region supplies the entire world with French Chablis.

From French chablis to Italian chianti, you'll find all your favorite wines at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626. For a special Mother's Day gift this year, let us prepare an unusual gift basket filled with the wines, cheeses and other items Mother would enjoy. Hours: 10-10 Mon.-Thurs., 10-11 Fri., Sat.

WINE TIP:

Open red wines an hour before pouring so they may breathe.

Chamber Music Banquet Slated
A clarinetist from Birmingham and a basso from The Pointe will be the featured artists at the annual banquet of the Chamber Music Players of Grosse Pointe.
The affair will be held at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, on Friday, April 29.
Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. in the Crystal Ballroom. It will be followed by the annual meeting and election of officers for the 1977-78 season. The presiding officer will be Mrs. Frank Zocharski, current vice-president.
A short concert will close the group's activities for this season.
James Upstill, clarinetist, will play three movements, Allegretto, Allegro animato and Molto allegro from the "Sonate pour Clarinette" by Camille Saint-Saens.
Paul J. Kelley, basso, of Sunningdale drive, will sing the "Arie des Sarastro" from "The Magic Flute" and the "Arie des Leporello" from "Don Juan," both by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart.
Helene Vabollis, pianist, of Aline drive, will be the accompanist for both artists.

Stolen Checks
Lead to Arrest
City police arrested a 21-year-old Detroit woman on Friday, April 22, for allegedly passing a stolen check at Kroger's, 16919 Kercheval avenue.
The suspect, Barbara Jean Kendzor, (alias Barbara Jean Lee), gave her address as 5061 Beaconsfield, Detroit. She was arraigned on uttering and publishing charges on Saturday, April 23, and is being held in Wayne County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.
Police said the suspect attempted to cash a check that had been reported stolen from a Greenbush, Mich., manufacturing company last Sunday. An alert Kroger employee recognized the name of the company and called police to the scene.
Identification cards used by the suspect to cash the check also were stolen, according to police reports.
A tentative exam date was set for yesterday, April 27.

Vandals Smash
Five Windows
Several City residents reported to police that their auto windows had been smashed by vandals sometime between Saturday night, April 23, and Sunday morning, April 24.
All five residents reporting the damage said their cars had been parked on the street all night on Rivard road, Cranford lane, Lakeland avenue, St. Paul road and Lakeshore road.
Every person has a sense of duty, but not every person has sense enough to benefit from it.

Suspects Face Murder Charge
Two men, who are charged with first degree murder in the slaying of a Woods man in January, were arraigned in St. Clair Shores Friday morning, April 22, after the pair were extradited early last week from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Macomb County.
The suspects, Daniel B. Clements, 30, and James A. Dunn, 34, both from Louisiana, are allegedly involved in the murder of Jack Whiteley, 60, whose body was found at the Shorian Motor Inn, 20000 Nine Mile road.
St. Clair Shores Sgt. William Hannah said both suspects were remanded to the Macomb County Jail without bond, pending their scheduled examination date of Monday, May 2.
They were arrested in early February in a Pittsburgh cafe after police spotted an illegally parked pickup truck which matched a description given by Michigan authorities in the incident.
Police had earlier learned from witnesses that the suspects were motel guests, who gave Louisiana addresses and who had arrived in a pickup with Louisiana license plates. After police traced the vehicle's plates, an all-points bulletin was put out.
The extradition of the pair was approved by a Pittsburgh judge after a hearing was held on Michigan's request.

Woods Cites
GP Symphony
A request from the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Committee to the Woods Council to proclaim the week of May 15-21 as "Grosse Pointe Symphony Week" was unanimously granted by the solons.
This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, April 18.
The proclamation cites the symphony's contributions to the community as a cultural asset, while noting that the group is now involved in its 24th season of community symphonic concerts.

We'll help you save because you want to, not just because you think you're supposed to.

We believe that too many people think of saving as something that's difficult to do. Well, we suggest that you think of saving as accomplishment rather than requirement.

Think of it in terms of the pleasure and usefulness your saved money can provide, instead of just thinking about all the terrible things that you might suddenly need money for.

If you only think about the bad things, it's hard to have a good feeling about saving. And we think that makes it harder to build good savings habits.

Maybe if you talk about it with us, you'll see that your concern with not being able to save enough money has kept you from saving whatever money you could have saved.

Come and talk. We think you'll find it an enriching experience.

We know what money is for.

Center Passes Halfway Point

The War Memorial's 1977 annual Family Participation Campaign is a little more than halfway to its goal of $145,000.

To date $79,515.77 has been received from 3,603 contributors. The first follow-up letters were mailed last week and responses are being received.

To encourage and accelerate contributions and memberships, two free entertainments are being given to contributing members in the Center's Fries Auditorium.

The first, "One Flew over the Cuckoo's Nest," will be presented by the Grosse Pointe Theater on Wednesday, May 4, at 8:30 p.m. for new first time contributors.

All prospects, (those new to the community and those who have never been members before), were mailed an "entertainment carrot" which they should bring to the Center's office to exchange for tickets upon contributing.

The second is the movie "Gypsy," on Sunday, May 15, at 8 p.m.

Everyone would love to own precious gold jewelry, but there are times when economy makes it difficult. Still, there is a great deal of lovely jewelry created out of metals which are made to resemble real Karat gold. Because pure gold can be pressed into tissue-thin sheets, these sheets can be molded to the surface of other metals by a process of heat and pressure. The layered end product is known as rolled gold plate. If the amount of gold by weight composes more than one-twentieth of metal, any piece made from such a metal is called gold filled. Some metals are dipped into a gold solution to be gold-plated. In this process, an electric current causes some of the gold to coat the metal's surface.

At VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, Detroit, 881-4800, we carry a good selection of 14k gold and gold filled jewelry at all prices. We are very favorably known throughout the area for our integrity and high degree of professional workmanship. Our desire is that your visit with us will be a friendly, relaxing and enjoyable experience so do feel free to come in soon and browse. Remember that special woman in your life on Mother's Day with jewelry from VALENTE.

GEM FACT:

A gold-plated item can be told from solid gold if you try to nick the surface.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

Last week I wrote about the instructional objectives in our middle schools for 1976-77. This week I wish to comment upon the aims of our senior high schools for the current year.

As I have indicated previously, Robert Welch, named director of Secondary Education during last fall's reorganization of the Department of Instruction, is charged with the responsibility for overseeing the implementation of our instructional goals at both the middle and senior high school level.

In addition to a number of general goals, instructional aims have been outlined in 15 areas.

They are Guidance, Alternative Education, Career Education — Vocational/Professional, English, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, Art, Business Education, Foreign Language, Home-Making, Industrial Arts, Library - Materials Center, Music and Physical Education.

As was the case with the Elementary and Middle School Curricula, the objectives in each high school area have been compiled, those responsible for implementation of the goals have been identified and criteria appropriate to measure the implementation of these aims have been enumerated.

Let's look at some of the goals in several areas of concern. First, Guidance.

One of our objectives is to evaluate and to make recommendations concerning specific ways to implement the counselor's role as defined in the new "Counselor's Handbook."

To achieve this objective, assistant principals having responsibility for guidance programs will organize meetings and will conduct discussions of middle and high school counselors to evaluate and make recommendations for needed additions to the "Counselor's Handbook." An evaluation report on this project is to be submitted to the director of Secondary Education by June, 1977.

Let's look at another area: Business Education. One of the goals in this high school department is to continue to determine terminal skills keyed to job entry for all courses.

Implementation of this aim is to be coordinated by department chairpersons who nominate a committee to assist in working out these important terminal job entry skills. The list of skills is to be submitted to the director of Secondary Education by June of 1977.

Still another area is Music. An aim is to develop a common high school proposal for offering worthwhile musical experiences for students who are not performance-oriented.

It will be the responsibility for the high school instrumental and vocal teachers to prepare a joint recommendation using student input and to submit a proposal to the director of Secondary Education by June 1977.

And so it goes throughout each of the areas of the curriculum which I listed earlier. An efficient pattern of operation has been established. Input for program improvement is sought from all concerned: students, teachers, department chairpersons and administrators, who will channel their suggestions to the director of Secondary Education.

Admittedly this is a complex and time-consuming process, but we believe that it is one which will pay handsomely in improved instructional opportunities for our students at both North and South High Schools.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

I recently have had business in the capitol of the state. The hotel where I stayed was the best in town and certainly far from inexpensive. The first week that hotel was literally filled with high school teenagers screaming up and down the halls, slamming doors all hours of the night.

It was "Basketball Week" and the teams and coaches from near and far were obviously living it up. The room damage alone amounted to something over $7,000.

But I must continue to work hard to pay my school taxes so I return to the problems in the same state.

To find that the same hotel was literally filled with a group of high school teenagers all screaming up and down the corridors, slamming doors all hours of the night because this was "Music Education Week" and the teachers had come with their pupils from near and far to live it up for a few days at you know whose expense.

Vote for bond issues, support the starving school system, pay higher and higher taxes—nuts.

Sincerely,
Henry T. Gage

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters,
Director of Public Libraries

Eleven years ago, in June 1965, 28 women founded an organization they named the National Organization for Women, or NOW. This past weekend the organization, with a current membership of over 55,000, held its national convention in Detroit.

Considering the immense social impact organized groups of women are having on society, it seemed appropriate to review some biographies by and about women.

Dorothy Thompson was an extraordinary woman in an extraordinary time. Her biography DOROTHY THOMPSON: A LEGEND IN HER TIME, by Marion K. Sanders, (Houghton Mifflin, 1973), is the first full story of what Dorothy Thompson called her "love affair with life."

Her marriage to Sinclair Lewis in London was one of the most celebrated literary unions of the century, but it was in her own right that she became "the First Lady of American Journalism."

She became an international celebrity in 1934 when she was expelled from Germany by Hitler's personal order.

Born in 1893 in Lancaster, N.Y., where her father was the Methodist minister, she was graduated from Syracuse University in 1914. Her first job was that of a suffrage organizer in central and Western New York state. She started her journalistic career in 1920, and her farewell column was published August 22, 1958. In 38 years as a reporter and columnist, her political opinions were read, heard and heeded by millions.

Marion Sanders has written a candid and compassionate biography based on Dorothy Thompson's journals and personal papers, and on extensive interviews with friends and associates.

A far different type of woman is Maureen Dean. Unlike Dorothy Thompson, who firmly controlled her destiny, Maureen Dean lets events shape her destiny. No one who watched the Watergate Hearings when John Dean started his testimony on June 25, 1973, could fail to notice the beautiful blond woman seated in back of him. It was his wife of less than a year, Maureen.

In the book "MO": A WOMAN'S VIEW OF WATERGATE, (Simon and Schuster, 1975), she tells her story with candor but not without bitterness toward the press. They subtract the "human" from "human beings," and the Watergate Committee.

"MO" does give the reader some interesting tidbits that the media somehow missed.

ROSALIND FRANKLIN & DNA, by Anne Sayre (Norton, 1975), is about a research scientist, one of four, whose work was most responsible for the discovery of the molecular structure of DNA which is the key to heredity of all living things. Rosalind Franklin was born in London in 1920 and died there in 1958, at the age of 37.

This book is written to refute what Nobel prize winner James Watson had to say about "Rosie." In his book, THE DOUBLE HELIX, (Atheneum, 1968), Rosie is Rosalind Franklin who, according to the author, was not given her full share of credit for the DNA, (deoxyribonucleic acid) breakthrough.

Depicting Rosalind Franklin as a gifted woman working in an especially male profession, the author reviews her accomplishment prior to her work with James Watson in the 1950's.

The author, Anne Sayre, researched the scientific work of James Watson and Rosalind Franklin over a period of years to come to the undeniable conclusion that death and her fellow scientist, James Watson, had robbed her friend Rosalind of her place in the annals of science as one of this century's outstanding research scientists. Filled with scientific terms, the book is not easy reading.

LORETTA LYNN: COAL MINER'S DAUGHTER, by Loretta Lynn with George Vecsey, (Regnery, 1976), and A PRINCESS REMEMBERS, by Gayatri Devi and Santha Ram a Rau, (Lippincott, 1976), show two contrasting life styles.

Loretta Lynn grew up in the hollers and coal camps of isolated Appalachian mountain areas—a bride at 13, a mother of four by 18 and a successful country singer by the time she was 30.

Gayatri Devi, the daughter of the Maharajah of Cochin Behar and the widow of the Maharajah of Jaipur, was raised in a sumptuous palace staffed with 500 servants. She won unprecedented success in the political arena, and became a prominent figure in India's women's movement.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

"What was the weather like in Kuala Lumpur?" "Great Bear Lake isn't fished out yet, but if you REALLY want a great experience, try going after salmon in Iceland." "As far as I'm concerned, I don't care if I ever see another yurt!" "You're going down the Amazon? ... take as much insect repellent as you can carry: it's the buggiest place this side of Madagascar ..."

As cocktail conversation goes, you've got to admit it beats "How's the wife?"

North American wild game hors d'oeuvres will go along with the Kuala Lumpur-Great Bear-Amazon, (and all points in between), cocktail conversation at the Detroit Athletic Club Friday, May 6, when the Circumnavigators Club, Polar-Equator Club and Explorers Club join forces to present their Spring Fun-Fest.

One thing we'd like to make clear right now: all these references to strange and exotic dots on the map, expeditions to Everest and the Sahara ... all those sentences that sound like put-ons—they're not.

These people have really been to these places. For instance: if you want to find out what's going on in China, look up Dr. Donald G. McIntyre, of Neff lane, during the cocktail hour.

He's in China at the moment, one of 14 members of the Circumnavigators Club who left in mid-month on an 18-day Goodwill Mission to the Peoples Republic of China. J. Thomas Smith, of Bloomfield Hills, is another member of the Circumnavigators' China Mission.

They're visiting Peking, Nanking, Shanghai, Kweilin and Kwangchow. They'll be coming home a few days before the party.

Another person you might want to share a few fascinating words with is Dr. Maynard Malcolm Miller, geologist and explorer who won the Hubbard Gold Medal for participation in the American expedition that successfully scaled Mount Everest.

According to George F. Pierrot, chairman of the Michigan Chapter of the Explorers Club, Dr. Miller has promised to fly in from Idaho for the Fun-Fest.

Pre-Vue Memorial Church Fair May 5

Nearly 40 Booths to Be Featured; Doors Open at 1 in The Afternoon, Close at 8 in The Evening

It sometimes seems that the Fair workers at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will go to any lengths to insure the success of their biennial November Christmas Fair and its Spring Pre-Vue, to be held this year next Thursday, May 5, from 1 to 8 o'clock at the church.

For instance: ecology-minded members of the Plants and Pleasures Booth committee spent several strenuous days last fall jaunting about to farm after farm north of the city, to acquire cornhusks and straw to make the beautiful and original decorative wreaths and table decorations which are a feature of this booth.

Once they even had to husk corn for the farmer in return for their loot!

Hanging planters and garden sculpture as well as aloe and other exotic plants will also grace Plants and Pleasures. Mrs. Joseph Spitzley heads the booth committee. This year, for the first time, Church Women's Association Circles will be represented at the Fair, with a booth under the direction of Circle Eight members who have made fabulous tree decorations and small gifts. Mrs. Alan Buchan is chairman.

General co-chairmen Mrs. J. Ross Bush and Mrs. Alfred S. Warren spend most of their time at the church these days, attending to the myriad details necessary to insure the success of the Pre-Vue now and the Fair to come in November. Proceeds help support many worthy causes.

Special hostesses who will be on hand Pre-Vue day include Mrs. Ray Kiely, Mrs.

This is a hair that used to be grey.

It didn't like being that way. So it came to us and said make me a pretty warm rich brown again. And we did. And now it looks years younger and feels years younger and is enjoying life all over again. We don't always think grey should be eliminated. Some heads turn that way magnificently. Others only seem wan and washed out. If your case is the latter, see us. We know how to make big bad grey go away. Like that.

To Bid Fran Fond Farewell

The Grosse Pointe Co-operative Nursery is inviting all parents who have been members over the years to a farewell reception Wednesday, May 11, in honor of Mrs. Robert (Fran) Meyer.

Refreshments will be served during the 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock party at Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church.

Fran Meyer has devoted 12 years to the nursery, during which many hundreds of three and four-year-olds have experienced her very special qualities as a teacher and friend.

Her aim has been to develop self-esteem and confidence in pre-schoolers. Her methods of communicating with children emphasize praise and positive responses, with fun and free play balanced by craft activities for small muscle development.

Pipe-cleaner turkeys, paper cup Christmas bells, woodland collages... these are but a few of the creations treasured by Mrs. Meyer's pre-school parents.

Mothers have found working with Fran a learning experience in how to be, (in her own words), "gentle without being weak, firm without being harsh." Careful observation, testing, conferences and personal contacts with parents have all been significant parts of her approach.

Her dedication was demonstrated graphically when she returned to her teaching duties in a wheelchair less than a week after breaking her leg in a snowmobile accident. Needless to say, the cast soon bore dozens of cheerfully-applied names and drawings.

Mrs. Meyer, born in Saginaw, received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Michigan. She and her husband have two daughters and three grandchildren.

Throughout her teaching career, Fran has found time to keep up with her sewing and volunteer activities. She and Bob will be moving permanently from Harper Woods to their summer home at Higgins Lake in the near future.

Louisa St. Clair DAR Meets at Lochmoor

Louisa St. Clair Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, meets at Lochmoor Club today, Thursday, April 28, at 10:30 in the morning.

Mrs. B. Thomas Weyhing, III, regent, will preside. Mrs. Weyhing, Mrs. Robert O. Artner and Mrs. Cornelius G. Egan will report on the 86th DAR Continental Congress, held April 17 through 22 in Washington, D.C.

Delegates to the DAR State Conference will be elected.

At the DAR State Spring Awards meeting at Kalamazoo Center April 5, Louisa St. Clair sponsored a second place winner. Austin Catholic Preparatory School's Kevin Bach won a $75 bond. His mother, father, sister and grandmother attended the state meeting.

Still more are Mrs. Manfred Whittingham, Mrs. Frank Sladen, Miss Louise Lee, Mrs. Edward Hanpeter and Mrs. James Lafer.

Still others, under the direction of Mrs. Lawrence Ruby and Mrs. James Masarone, co-chairmen, are Mrs. Charles Tompkins, Mrs. Ralph Bleich, Mrs. Clarence Campbell, Mrs. Richard Marks and Mrs. Hugh Dill.

Workshops have been meeting almost every Tuesday morning and again after lunch. On Association Program Day, (the second Tuesday of each month), the groups meet after lunch.

On Book Review Day, (the third Tuesday), they meet in the morning.

Beautiful and unusual hand-crafted treasures are accumulating in great numbers. Workshops meeting at the church include Decorative Pillows, Christmas Decorations, Smocking, Knitting and Circle Eight.

Anyone who would like to learn a new skill and make new friends is invited to join in and, in the words of the Fair slogan: "Be an Angel—lend a hand."

The Second Chance Corner, (formerly owned treasures and White Elephants), is accepting large and small donations. Gifts for the Pick-A-Pretty Package booth are also most welcome.

Supper will be served at the Spring Pre-Vue. A continuous Bake Sale will be a feature of the day.

Homemade baked goods are needed; anyone wishing to donate a specialty is asked to bring it, packaged for sale in a disposable container, to the church on the morning of the Pre-Vue.

Assisting Mrs. Bush and Mrs. Warren in the management of the Fair arrangements are Mrs. Michael Madarasz and Mrs. Raymond Eddy, treasurers; Mrs. Martin Hutchinson, recording secretary, and Mrs. Frank Perkins, corresponding secretary.

Service chairmen include Mrs. Robert Batten, volunteer placement; Mrs. Jack Stephenson and Mrs. Glenn Clark, food and cookbook, respectively; Mrs. Ruby, hostesses; Mrs. Joseph Trowern and Mrs. Don Ash, set-up and supplies; Mrs. Robert Sheridan, staging; Mrs. Harold Quackenbush, special mailing; Mrs. Joseph Schaffer, tellers; Mrs. Douglas Smith, runners; and Mrs. Jarvis Schmidt and Mrs. Sidney Probert, publicity.

Nearly 40 elaborate booths will occupy charmingly decorated rooms on Pre-Vue Day, in a happy mingling of springtime and Christmas-yet-to-come.

Member of the Wittenberg University indoor track team is senior BOB QUIGLEY, son of the ROBERT QUIGLEYS, of Washington road.

Cooper-Leet Rites Read on March 5

Fort Street Presbyterian Church Is Setting for Afternoon Ceremony; Pair Are at Home in Birmingham

A spring luncheon is being planned by Mrs. Ralph R. Cooper, of Lakeland avenue, to honor her nephew's bride, the former Linda Sue Leet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Leet, of Demorest, Ga.

Miss Leet and William Lewis Cooper, who has been residing in Washington, D.C., son of Mrs. Frank E. Cooper, of Merriweather road, and the late Mr. Cooper, exchanged marriage vows Saturday, March 5, in Fort Street Presbyterian Church.

The Reverend Robert Criley presided at the 4 o'clock rites which were followed by a small reception at the Jones street, Detroit, home of Mrs. J. D. Burnett, a good friend and former neighbor of the bride, and a large, evening reception at the Troy home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Burleigh.

The wedding was small, with no honor attendants named as such, but Sara Fink, of Panama City, Panama, assisted her sister, and Edward H. Cooper, of Ann Arbor, brother of the bridegroom, ushered.

The bride's Victorian gown of ivory accordion-pleated chiffon over a pale apricot underslip featured a high neckline and sash of deep ivory, re-embroidered Alencon lace, matching the lace cuffs of her Bishop sleeves.

She wore a custom-designed hat fashioned of pale peach peau de soie decorated with lace and mushroom puffs of tulle extending into long, back streamers, and carried an arrangement of white baby orchids, white rosebuds and stephanotis.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length, rose satin knit, with three-quarter length sleeves. Her corsage was a white orchid. The bridegroom's mother chose a floor length dress of navy and white crepe, with a wide, navy patent leather belt, and a white orchid corsage.

The wedding trip, delayed until the Easter Break as the bride is a Detroit school teacher, took the couple south, with a stop in Georgia.

The newlyweds are making their home in Larchlea drive, Birmingham.

Mrs. Ralph Cooper's luncheon, to be held Saturday, April 30, at the Detroit Boat Club, is designed to give the bride an opportunity to meet more of the Cooper relatives and friends.

St. Paul Lutheran Co-op Slates Open House Tea

Saint Paul Lutheran Cooperative Nursery will hold an Open House Tea, designed to acquaint parents of prospective students with the school's philosophy, equipment and operation, next Tuesday, May 3, from 7:30 to 9:30 in the evening.

The school is located in the church basement, at the corner of Lothrop road and Chalfonte avenue. Further information may be obtained and reservations made by contacting membership chairman Sue Miller, 889-0532.

Clark Women's Club To Meet Next Monday

Clark Women's Club members gather Monday, May 2, at 12:30 o'clock at Christ Methodist Church for a tea and social hour followed at 1:30 o'clock by their annual meeting.

State Women to Meet In Lansing June 10-11

Bernice Zilly, of Merriweather road, is one of 28 women appointed by Washington to serve on the State Coordinating Committee for Michigan's International Women's Year meeting, "Focus: Michigan Women," which has moved into high gear in its planning for a statewide gathering June 10 and 11 at the Lansing Civic Center.

Following the 1975 International Women's Year Conference in Mexico City, Congress mandated, (PL 94-167), that state and territorial meetings should be held prior to July of this year preceding a National Women's Conference in Houston, Tex., November 18 through 21.

Forty-eight Michigan delegates to the national conference will be elected during the Lansing meeting.

Governor William G. Milliken recently pledged his wholehearted support to the conference.

The Governor, issuing a proclamation saluting the historic statewide meeting, recognized the many contributions of Michigan women in the state's economic, social, cultural and political development. He also urged all state departments to lend support whenever possible.

The Coordinating Committee represents a broad cross-section of Michigan women. They have been working since early December to plan the meeting, supported by a grant from the National Commission on the Observance of International Women's Year, Washington, D.C.

Two days of workshops, discussions, films, speakers and special events to highlight women's concerns, needs and contributions to Michigan will focus on such subjects as double burdens, spouse abuse, sexual assault, problems of aging women, child care, health, poverty and the working poor, teenage pregnancy, women in power, women in education, farm and rural women and special concerns and problems.

Ethnic, cultural and sports exhibits are planned.

Thousands of Michigan citizens representing a broad spectrum of ages, racial, ethnic and religious groups as well as socio-economic backgrounds are expected to attend.

Michigan's House and Senate leaders have joined together to salute the conference.

House Concurrent Resolution #88 states: "The June meeting will provide the unprecedented opportunity to focus serious public attention on the ongoing struggle for women's rights. Not only will the contributions of women be recognized, but efforts will be directed towards assessing the role of women, identifying the barriers that prevent the full participation of women in national life, and setting goals and time tables for the elimination of such barriers."

Representative Barbara Rose Collins, a member of the Coordinating Committee, presented the resolution to the organization.

Mr. Pierrot isn't exactly a cocktail conversation dud, either. He's been an active member of the Explorers Club for 38 years, and is honorary president of the Michigan Chapter of the Circumnavigators Club.

You might ask him how it felt to carry the Explorers Club flag as co-leader, with the late Dr. Clyde Fisher, of the 1944 Expedition that filmed, measured and observed El Paricutin, the then-Mexican volcano near Uruapan. Among other things...

Actually, you'd be hard put to find a cocktail conversation dud among any of the Fun-Fest guests. Among those you're likely to run into are W. H. Hagenmeyer, of North Deeplands road, current president of the Michigan Polar-Equator Club, (and a Circumnavigator), and Francis B. Van Deusen, of Harvard road, current president of the Michigan Circumnavigators.

And the latter group's immediate past-president, Paul I. Moreland, of Harvard road, and Fred J. Flom, of Rivard boulevard, Michigan Circumnavigators vice-president, and their fellow directors, including Pointers Victor R. Breidenbach, Leslie C. Putnam, Victor H. Wehmeier, Lester M. Elliott, James J. Trebilcock and Arthur O. A. Schmidt. And their ladies. This event is open to members' ladies. To a woman, they wouldn't miss it.

It's not just cocktails. It's a prime rib dinner, in the DAC's main dining room, followed by entertainment featuring Don Cooper, "The Alaska Lumberjack" whose film presentations and commentary are a side-splitting delight.

It's not just cocktails-and-dinner-and-entertainment. It's FUN!

Now a bit about the three Fun-Fest sponsoring organizations...

Some 85 percent of the world's famous explorers belong to the Explorers Club, an international organization whose current honorary president is Lowell Thomas.

The Michigan Chapter's 32 members are scattered throughout the state, with 11 residing in the Detroit area.

Honorary president of the 75-year-old Circumnavigators Club is United States President Jimmy Carter. Other famous names among its some 900 current members, (they live in 20 countries around the globe; a continuous circuit of the globe is a requirement for club membership), are Senators Barry Goldwater and John Glenn, Astronaut Neil Armstrong, The Most Reverend Terence Cardinal Cooke and Lowell Thomas.

Among past illustrious Circumnavigators was William Jennings Bryan, who gave the club the whale's tooth gavel which is handed down from president to president as a symbol of authority and prestige.

Youngest of the trio is the Michigan Polar-Equator Club, which held its first organizational meeting at the Michigan State University Museum in East Lansing January 13, 1965.

Membership is limited to 100 hunters/conservationists/travelers who meet four times a year to exchange information on their adventuresome avocations.

Something New for Salad Sampler

MRS. LOUIS ASMUS, (left), and MRS. DAVID GOODSON admire the new tablecloths and matching aprons local Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae have made for their 11th Salad Sampler luncheon. It's set for Wednesday, May 11, from 11:30 to 1 o'clock at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and will, according to co-chairpersons Asmus and Goodson, feature a whole new look—but the salads remain the favorites for which this benefit has become a Pointe

A limited number of tickets is available at $4 each from Mrs. Draper Hill, 885-5435, Mrs. Harry Sellers, 886-1291, or any Kappa member. Other Salad Sampler '77 committee workers are the Mesdames Michael Marston, John Smith and Edward Hathaway. Luncheon proceeds help Kappa's national and local health and rehabilitation projects.

It deals with the process of psychological adjustment generally as well as with the social and psychological processes of divorce, including mourning, child adjustment and child rearing, living alone and remarriage.

The series will be held at the First United Methodist Church, Dearborn, Tuesday nights, May 3, 10, 17 and 24, at 7:30 o'clock.

A. Thomas Capps, Ph.D., of Aline drive, a consulting psychologist, is the instructor. A Diplomate in Clinical Psychology, he is in private practice as a clinical psychologist and marriage counselor.

Tuition for the series is $15 per person. Partial scholarships are available on the basis of need.

Founder's Day Fete For Beta Sigma Phi

Local members of Beta Sigma Phi, a social, cultural and service organization for women, mark the 46th anniversary of their sorority's founding today, Thursday, April 28, at the Thomas Manor in East Detroit.

Beta Sigma Phi's Detroit City Council, encompassing metropolitan area chapters, is joining with other chapters around the world to observe Founder's Day.

The Detroit-area celebration is being chaired by Gamma Xi chapter, founded in February, 1940, with 10 other chapters participating. Sandra Witt, president of the Detroit City Council, will bring a message from the international offices. Awards will be presented to local members and outstanding chapters.

Throughout the world, Beta Sigma Phi chapters of five different degrees meet the growing needs of various age groups. Members are active in small, chapter groups; each chapter adapts plans for social, civic, service and cultural activities to fit the interests of its members.

When Beta Sigma Phi events or civic endeavors are larger than one chapter can plan alone, all chapters in a city or area may combine to assure the success of a project. State conventions, held each year, are open to all members.

Internationally, the chapters have created several special funds. Members help each other through the International Loan Fund. The International Endowment Fund has donated over $1 million to cancer and cystic fibrosis research, homes for underprivileged children and many other causes.

The Exemplar Fund helps to support Literacy Village in India. A College Scholarship Fund is available to members, their sons or daughters.

Beta Sigma Phi is non-academic, non-political and non-sectarian. Its 250,000 members are organized in over 12,000 chapters, in 25 countries.

Among those who received degrees in December from Central Michigan University was RICHARD MADDOX, of Merriweather road, Bachelor of Science in Education.

Artists Market Show to Open

The Detroit Artists Market will present a group show featuring paintings by Bill Dilworth, Naomi Dickerson and Bill Lapham and another installation piece by Bobbi Litwin, who was in the March group show, during May.

Gallery hours at the Market in Harmonie Park are 10 to 5 o'clock Monday through Saturday.

Concert Slated by Pro Mozart

Pointer Roma Riddell, soprano, will be among artists participating in the annual concert of the Pro Mozart Society of Greater Detroit, set for Sunday, May 1, at 3 in the afternoon at Madame Cadillac Hall on the Marygrove College campus.

The program will feature 12 variations on an aria from "The Marriage of Figaro" plus compositions by Beethoven, Franz Schubert, Gustav Mahler and Richard Strauss.

Concert proceeds will be directed to the Mozarteum for publication of an 81st volume, the opera "Cosi fan tutte" to the text of Lorenzo DaPonte.

Tax deductible tickets at $4 per person may be obtained by contacting Francis M. Dodge, of East Jefferson avenue, vice-president and treasurer of the Mozart Society, 961-0100.

Other participating artists are Earnestine Nimmons, soprano, Rosemarie Murch, mezzo-soprano, Edward King, tenor, Emily M. Austin, violinist, Fedora Horwitz, pianist, and Lawrence LaGore, the Society's music director, pianist.

Marguerite Kozen-Chajes, artistic director, founded the Pro Mozart Society of Greater Detroit, first of its kind in the United States, in 1960.

Garden Club Meets May 4

Windmill Pointe Garden Club will meet Wednesday, May 4, at noon at the Lakeshore lane home of Mrs. Rollin Allen, where the agenda following luncheon will include election of new officers and a members' plant exchange.

The International Foundation Mozarteum in Salzburg had started work in 1956 on a new, scholarly, revised edition of Mozart's more than 600 compositions. Eighty volumes have so far been published.

Preface to the 55th score published some years ago, Mozart's great opera "The Magic Flute," states that the Pro Mozart Society of Greater Detroit made its publication possible.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Many people selling their home wonder to what extent they should go in putting their home in the most salable, attractive condition. This is a question that the seller should not attempt to answer because it is too relative.

One of the services your Real Estate Broker will perform for you is a frank opinion regarding the improvements that should be done. The general rule in Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co.'s (882-0087) office is that you generally will get double back the amount you spend—if it is done professionally and in good taste. An example of this might be a new interior paint job and new formica tops in the kitchen. If the cost comes to $1,200.00 you should be able to ask $2,400.00 more for your house. In many instances this figure can triple or quadruple.

And we can't let this article go by without referring to Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co.'s Community development program, or Cul-de-Sac, whichever. We feel the same appreciation formula can apply to our community as a whole. If we spend $2,500,000 on 250 Cul de Sacs, we feel our community value will increase, through our personal residential real estate—ten fold! Selling anything—whether it's homes or community, follows the same basic gut principal. The more attractive your "commodity", the more you'll get for it and the easier and faster it will sell.

We're sure everyone would like to know the value of their property, so why not call Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087 and have one of their associates stop over for a visit. We feel we have about ten features that are exclusive to us and naturally, give you an opportunity to demand more for your home. Example? How about our one year warranty?

WHY SELL NOW?

Year after year, homes in Grosse Pointe that are marketed in the Spring and Summer months bring higher market prices than the same homes sold in late fall and winter months.

WHY SELL YOUR HOUSE THROUGH STRONGMAN, KELLY & ASSOCIATES?

Knowledgeable sellers realize that a skilled Realtor is an investment, not an expense, and we can prove it!

The intelligent marketing of a house in our community is rapidly becoming more complex; property values are changing almost daily, and a competent, knowledgeable Realtor is your "insurance" that your best interests are correctly represented. If you've read this far, and you agree up to this point, ask yourself why Strongman, Kelly & Associates are representing more property owners and buyers than ever before.

889-0800 Dedicated to representing you through knowledge and service.

OPEN SUNDAY 2-5

IMPRESSIVE. Do your family and your wallet a favor. Don't buy a family sized house until you see this special offering. Although spacious (6 bedrooms, 3½ baths) there is also charm that only homes built in the late 20's seemed to capture. Remember when a really special home had a front and back stairway, or a landing with a beautiful window that seemed to flood the staircase and hall with sunlight? If you ever promised yourself that someday your family would enjoy this type of life, someday just came!

WILLIAMSBURG STYLE- CONDO CONVENIENCE! $38,000

GPT Reports Good Seats Remain for 'Cuckoo's Nest'

Good seats are still available for the Grosse Pointe Theater's (GPT), production of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

GPT's second Showcase Theater presentation runs Wednesday-Sunday, April 27-May 1, at the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore road.

Because the regular season is a near sellout, many people have incorrectly assumed tickets are equally scarce for "Cuckoo's Nest," GPT reports. Such is not the case.

"Apparently, quite a few of our regular patrons are shy away because they think this show is heavy or depressing," says director Joyce Schultheiss, of Port Huron.

"They're wrong. And they'll be sorry they missed it."

Mrs. Schultheiss points out that the powerful play, an absorbing portrayal of life in a mental hospital, is hilariously funny almost as often as it is profoundly moving.

"It ends on an optimistic note. People will find they've become very involved with the characters—without being preached to."

"More important, this is simply a great play. It's not done all that often, but it's undoubtedly one of the best written plays to come along in this half of the century."

Besides her intimate knowledge of the play, Mrs. Schultheiss brings a lifetime of theater experience to the job of director. With GPT, she played the lead female role in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" and directed two previous musicals.

She points out that "Cuckoo's Nest" is unusual, fresh theater and very different from the hit movie. The play was first produced in 1963.

"People react very positively to it today," Mrs. Schultheiss says. "It's not only that people have come to accept the occasional dramatic use of strong language. What really happened is that the play is recognized now as a brilliant, timeless piece."

NH Girls Top L'Anse Creuse

By Jane Mills

The North High School girls track team defeated L'Anse Creuse, 84-52, on Wednesday, April 20. North received 10 out of the 14 first places.

Recipients of these first places were Karen Stoeckel, discus, Marie Zapytowski, shot put, Jeannette Howard, two mile run, plus the 880 relay team of Maryjo Rauch, Pam Stewart, Karen Fields and Janet Fisher.

Other winners were Maryjo Rauch, 110-yard hurdles, Jodi Stout, high jump, Heidi Fach, one mile run, Suzanne Stahl, 880-yard run and Pam Stewart, 220-yard dash.

Two school records were broken at this meet. Janet Fisher broke the 440-yard run record with a time of 63.5. The mile relay team consisting of Heidi Fach, Sue Schmitt, Janet Fisher and Karen Fields broke the standing school record set in 1975, of 4:28.8. The mark was lowered to 4:20.1.

The team's record this season is 1-0 in Bi-County play and 3-1 overall. The girls next meet is Wednesday, May 4, against South Lake at North.

Choir's Bus Vandalized

Someone sprayed black paint on a bus belonging to the Howe Military School, whose boys choir was performing at Saint Michael's Episcopal Church, 20475 Sunningdale, last weekend.

The incident, which was reported on Sunday, April 24, was investigated by Woods Officer Ronald Hayden. He said the bus, which was parked in the rear lot of the church, was the recipient of obscenities at the front and rear and on both sides.

The choir, which comprises 30 voices and is composed of boys in grades five-12, were guests of the parish. The school is located in northeastern Indiana.

Towar, owner of the premises located at 332 Stephens Road, from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Permit for the construction of a lavatory addition which would be located either at the rear or side of his home at the foregoing address. The final location of such proposed lavatory addition shall be determined at the Public Hearing. Such permit issuance was denied for reason that the residence located on the foregoing premises is non-conforming for reason that it projects into required open rear yard space in violation of the provisions of Article XIII, Section 1300 of the City's Zoning Ordinance, and in accordance with the provisions of Article XV, Section 1502, Item 4-A of the City's Zoning Ordinance, no such structure may be enlarged or structurally altered unless a variance is granted.

If the location is determined to be at the rear of the home, the Board will consider the granting of a further necessary variance to the provisions of Article XIII, Section 1300 of the Zoning Ordinance, for reason that the proposed addition would further project into the required open rear yard space of thirty feet.

The Hearing will be public. Interested property owners or residents of the City are invited to attend.

Pointer of Interest

MAE GALLAGHER, OF HAMPTON ROAD

By Janet Mueller

You'll never get her on the stage. "I came in the back door, because my husband wanted to join," Mae Gallagher, who has two Grosse Pointe Theatre "Clarences" to her credit, admits. It's Tom who is the family ham. "Unfortunately, when they found out he was a builder, it was into sets..."

That "unfortunately" is, of course, an exaggeration. It's the way theatre people tend to talk, said with a smile and a look in the eyes that says, "You know I'm putting you, and Tom, on."

Tom has three Clarences of his own: one for "Worker of the Year" (1967-68) and two for Best Technical Director, (1968-69 and 1973-74). You'll have figured out by now that Clarence is the Grosse Pointe Theatre's equivalent of Oscar. The statuettes are awarded at the end of each season of four plays and one showcase production.

The Reason Why Why Clarence? "Because the first play the Grosse Pointe Theatre ever did was 'Clarence'."

Technical direction is, frankly, Tom's forte, and he enjoys it. "He's tech directed so many shows I can't believe it," Mae says. "His first was 'Most Happy Fella.' He's done one a year for at least 10 years."

Now, lest you feel sorry for this man who wanted to act, be it known that Tom's trod the boards quite a few times, most recently as the Sergeant in "The Devil's Disciple." He carried a spear in "Man of La Mancha," for which he built a super set of stairs, complete with clanking chains, leading to the dungeon.

Mae'd balk even at carrying a spear. Backstage, however, she's ready for anything.

She's worked on set dressing, chaired the nominating and play reading committees.

Mae Likes Props

She's had a great time with props. She was in charge of them for "Forty Carats" and "The Devil's Disciple." "That was especially interesting, because I had to research it" — and "Ready When You Are, C.B.," for which she collected her second Clarence in 1974-75.

"They gave it to me because I had a fresh salami there every night," Mae maintains. Among "C.B.'s" critical props is a salami hanging on the inside of a closet door. Mae saw to it that each time that door opened, it opened on a real, redolent salami.

Her first Clarence came in 1971-72, for producing "Fiddler on the Roof," and last autumn Tom and Mae Gallagher and two other Grosse Pointe Theatre couples went down to The Fisher to see the original "Fiddler," Zero Mostel, in the role he made famous.

Tom is currently chairman of Grosse Pointe Theatre's board of trustees. Mae had produced GPT's "Fiddler," one of the men they were with had directed it, so the group decided to see if they could use a little clout and get in to see Mr. Mostel.

Zero Has Irish Wife

They could. "He, (Zero), is a charming man," Mae says. "He made a special point of telling me his wife was Irish."

The Gallaghers have been Pointers, residents of the house that Tom built in Hampton road, for 24 years. Mae's originally from Connecticut. She was working for the government, in the ordinance department, when she met Tom. He was working for the ordinance department, too.

Married and out of government service, they settled down on Tom's home ground and produced five children.

Tom, Jr., is living and working in California. Kathy is currently living in Birmingham. John is working, and living at home. Jim is at the University of Michigan, and Mary Ann is a junior at Grosse Pointe North High School.

Early on—about 18 years ago—Mae became involved in Girl Scouting. She still is very involved. She's a camp-out veteran, and has traveled to Mackinac in the summer with her Scouts. She's been to Europe twice with them, most recently for four glorious weeks last summer.

Choose Switzerland Europe was the choice of the Senior Scout Troop Mae started in the fall of '71. Mrs. Gallagher, who had gone to national conventions, knew the possibilities: "There's our own National Center, and there's the Cabana, in Mexico... and there's the Chalet."

Where's the Chalet?

"In Switzerland." Switzerland! "That's it," said Mae's Scouts, and set about earning a percentage of the money that would take them there. They went over for the first time in 1974.

Mae loves to travel. So does Tom. They've taken several Grosse Pointe War Memorial tours and enjoyed them all, especially the first one, to Greece: "That was perfect." They visited Mae's relatives in England during a London trip.

Recently, the Gallaghers have been spending some summer time in Wapakong, R.I., where Mae vacationed as a child, and where her family still vacations. She loves the ocean, "but I love the lakes, too. I think Michigan, beyond Clare, is one of the most beautiful parts of America."

Proud of Pointe

She's pretty proud of Grosse Pointe, too, anxious to show it—and especially the Grosse Pointe War Memorial—off to members of the Community Theatre Association of Michigan when they meet at the War Memorial in May.

The Grosse Pointe Theatre is CTAM spring convention host this year. Mae is general chairman of the three-day gathering.

"We're not sure," says Mae, "but we think this is the first statewide convention ever held in Grosse Pointe. At least we can't find any record of any other."

Eighty groups belong to the CTAM. "We hope to have representatives from most of them." As the annual meeting is always a feature of the spring convention, each member group is entitled to send two voting delegates. Any other members of CTAM member organizations are welcome, too.

Housing for those who come from far afield will be at the Georgian Inn, where there'll be a Hospitality Room. Convention headquarters is the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. "That's where everything's happening."

Curtain Rises

"Everything" begins late

Short and to The Pointe

Receiving degrees from Oakland University in December were ANNE M. LEITHAUSER, of Audubon road, Bachelor of Arts in Psychol-

Friday afternoon, May 6, with registration. There's a dinner scheduled that evening for the CTAM board, an optional buffet in the Crystal Ballroom for anyone else attending, a "Meet the Candidates" session, primarily for voting delegates, and entertainment: a performance by the CTAM scholarship winner and a mime presentation.

The Big Day is Saturday, May 7. After registration, (for those who didn't make it on Friday), and a continental breakfast, the group will split up into workshops on topics ranging from How to Attract an Audience to Getting the Beginning Actor on Stage to Elocution, Direction and Basic Stage Movement.

One group will concentrate on administration. Another, the Technical Workshop, will meet in GPT's Scene Shop in the old Carriage House at the War Memorial, where show is a natural accompaniment to tell. Tom Gallagher's method of making flats by stretching muslin across a wood frame, then painting on it, promises to be a demonstration highlight.

Mae's hoping May won't let her down. If the sun shines, the perfect place for conventioners to eat their box lunches is the War Memorial lawn, and the Parade of Costumes promised by an Escanaba community theatre would look lovely out-of-doors.

Banquet and 'Cuckoo'

The afternoon will be devoted to repeats of the morning workshops. The evening begins with a 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock champagne reception, CTAM's traditional "Collins' Cocoa Hour," preceding the big banquet and annual business meeting.

Then it's down to Fries Auditorium for GPT's 1976-77 showcase production "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," then upstairs again for an afterglow with a live band.

Sunday... well, after all that, there's nothing "official" planned for Sunday, but those who can drag themselves out of bed and down to the War Memorial by 10:30 in the morning will find buses ready to take them on an optional tour of the Renaissance Center, with brunch. Mae's looking forward to that.

She's looking forward to every bit of her convention. It's been a long time coming.

It all began back in November of 1975, when Mae was commissioned to do a feasibility study of Grosse Pointe as a CTAM spring convention site. It began that far back because the Grosse Pointe Theatre had to put a bid in for the '77 convention

From Another Pointe of View

In 1971, the club started the Michigan Polar-Equator Trail, the scenic/historic route following the 45th parallel, half-way between the North Pole and the Equator, across the state.

ogy, and CHARLES M. JOHNSON, JR., of Stephens road, and ROBERT F. CAIRNS, of Shoreham road, Bachelors of Science in Management.

DEBORAH FEDORUK, daughter of MR. and MRS. TED FEDORUK, of Cadieux road, has been accepted by the Atlanta School of Fashion and Design. The Grosse Pointe South High School graduate has completed two years at Kendall School of Design.

CYNTHIA JOAN HALTER, daughter of the DAVID HALTERS, of Three Mile drive, is among 31 DePauw University students studying this semester in DePauw's special international program at the University of Freiburg, Germany.

DIANNE THOMPSON, daughter of the EVAN L. THOMPSONS, of Bishop road, a senior at Williams College, conceived and directed an original student production which was performed recently at the Adams Memorial Theatre in Williamstown, Mass. "Stasis in Darkness" is a dramatic rendition of poems from Sylvia Plath's "Ariel" and portions of her novel "The Bell Jar." Dianne has been active in the theater throughout her four years at Williams.

Notre Dame High School senior THOMAS M. SULLIVAN, of Brys drive, received second place honors and a $400 scholarship in the state finals of the American Legion High School Oratorical Contest for his oration on the United States Constitution: "All Men Are Created Equal." He represented the American Legion's Zone 1 and his sponsoring post, National Guard Iron Fist 70, Detroit, in the finals in Lansing. He plans to use his scholarship at the University of Detroit.

by January 1, 1976. "In late winter we found that we'd got it."

Planning Begins

Then the real planning began. A treasurer was appointed. Public relations, entertainment, registration, housing, food service, refreshments and hospitality committees were set up.

Joyce Schultheiss agreed to chair the workshops committee. As an ex-CTAM president, she knew people all over the state: what they wanted, what they could offer, whose talents to call upon to get what was wanted offered.

Joyce's is a major job, and she has a hard-working assistant chairman. You can't do everything, and Joyce is not only workshops chairman: she's directing "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

Mae had been preparing for her job before she even dreamed of it. CTAM holds a fall convention each year at Boyne Highlands. The Gallaghers have been going to that for about 10 years. Mae's no stranger to spring conventions, either; she'd attended one in Port Huron, and one in Battle Creek in 1975, and last year, knowing that Grosse Pointe would be the convention scene this year, she was, of course, in Saugatuck.

"They're all the same — except that each one is different."

A Taste of Honey

Each theatre and each community has its own flavor, which determines the convention's flavor. Grosse Pointe's, Mae believes, will taste very, very good.

"CTAM came here in January to see what our facilities were and to look things over. Our War Memorial really impressed them. And I must say that the War Memorial is as excited about this convention as we are. The War Memorial has been bending over backwards to help us."

Post-convention, post-summer, in Grosse Pointe Theatre's 1977-78 season, Mae hopes to be doing more WITH the theatre. "I worked on set dressing and props for 'Little Night Music' this year. I like the play reading committee."

"Oh, I like everything! I've really enjoyed working on the convention; I think it's fun, exciting..."

And backstage, That's one point Mae Gallagher is firm on. She's a tiger behind the scenes, but to actually get out there and act... that's never turned her on. "No way," says Mae, and means it."
