State Trooper, Government Official Eye Juvenile Diversionary Programs in Relation to Bureau

By Roger A. Waha
The background, function and operation of the Youth Service Division, (YSD), received the attention of a Michigan State Police trooper and a government official, both of whom visited division headquarters in The Woods on Wednesday, April 27.

Trooper Jack Shepherd, who's involved with the juvenile diversionary project of the community youth service unit, Michigan State Police, and Dr. Andrew Barrer, of the Office of Criminal Justice Programs in Lansing, explored the day-to-day operations of the division with a focus on the school liaison concept.

The trooper, who has been charged with developing a state-wide police juvenile diversionary model, is in the process of collecting as much information as he can on such programs in the state.

Developing Goals
"We're evaluating police juvenile diversionary projects in the state and also programs on a national scale toward developing unified goals and standards for a state-wide program," said Trooper Shepherd.

Women's Role, or Lack of, As Firefighters Discussed By Firemen in Pointe

Detroit Now Accepts Applications from Females But Local Officials See More Disadvantages Than Advantages with Ladies And The Firehouse

By Tom Greenwood
Women can't hack it as firefighters. At least that's the opinion of most Grosse Pointe firemen. With Detroit now accepting applications for female firefighters, Pointe firemen were polled about sharing their dormitories and fire trucks.

"I personally don't think they're strong enough," said Farms Fire Lt. Arthur Turner. "It's demanding as far as brute strength is concerned. I'm sure they can cut it when it comes to endurance and mental stress. They have a high pain threshold, too."

"But I don't think a 112-pound woman can carry 65 pounds of equipment, scale a ladder and bring back an unconscious 185-pound man. It's too demanding for them."

Can't Cut It
Tests for the job of firefighter in the Pointes require passing mostly written, oral and physical examinations. The Woods also adds an agility test where recruits do sit-ups, run an obstacle course and must drag a 165-pound dummy at least 50 feet.

"When I applied for the position, we were tested in Detroit," said Lt. Turner. "We had to pass all the tests, do sit-ups, push-ups, climb a one-story rope with just our hands and carry a two and a half inch line of hose up a one-story ladder."

"The hose weighed 65 pounds. You had to do this without the city decides to implement a three-mill garbage levy."

A garbage tax is not included in next year's budget, and Mr. Kressbach said implementation of one in the future is a "policy decision that the city will have to make."

Board Eyes New Policy For Grades

Trustees to Consider Code, Which Offers Appeal Process, at May 9 Meeting

By Susan McDonald
Pointe students who don't like the grades they receive will be able to do something about them this semester if the Board of Education approves a new grade policy it's considering.

The trustees are scheduled to explore the new code at their Monday, May 9, meeting. If approved, the policy will be in effect for the current semester and will cover students in all grade levels.

The policy sets down, for the first time, formal guidelines for teachers to follow when they determine grades.

It also provides a three-step appeal process for students or parents who want to change an unfair or excessively harsh mark.

Outgrowth of Pact
The policy is an outgrowth of the new contract between the Board and the Grosse Pointe Education Assoc., (GPEA).

The contract confirms teachers' final responsibility for all grades, as long as they are determined in "conformity with policies established by the Board."

GPEA President Doris Cook said teachers feel a

Seniors Seek Consideration From Woods

Request for Use of Kiwanis Buses Leads to Appeals for More Fair Treatment for Citizens

By George Polgar Jr.
In an uncommon show of militancy some 50 senior citizens appeared before the Woods Council to demand more consideration from the city. The seniors gathered at the Monday, May 2, meeting initially to back a request by the Woods Senior Citizens Commission for the use of the city maintained school buses.

But the question of whether a group of seniors could use the old blue buses, donated by the Kiwanis Club, was soon overshadowed by emotional and often angry appeals for fair treatment for seniors.

The general theme of the seniors' complaint was that they had all lived, worked and contributed to the community for many years and now deserved special consideration.

Doesn't Seem Fair
"Isn't it about time we got some consideration around here?" asked Mrs. Royal Klinger, of Lancaster road. "We've been paying taxes out here for all these years and we're still paying them."

"Now, with these Kiwanis buses, we've all contributed to Kiwanis every year for all their sales and all we want is to use those buses. It doesn't seem fair."

Councilwoman Joan M. Mullan picked up on the question of fairness and asked whether it was fair for the city to extend certain privileges to only those seniors who are active in Senior Citizens Commission activities.

Quoting a figure from a Senior Citizens Commission member, Mrs. Mullan asked what would happen if all 2,900 seniors in The Woods wanted to use the buses. (Actually, there are over 3,000 seniors in the community according to a voter registration count by the commission).

Though it seemed a judicious question at the time, it soon backfired. After the meeting, one of the attending seniors commented, "If there are 2,900 seniors in The Woods, then how come the Senior Citizens Commission only has a budget of $1,000 a year?"

(The seniors' budget had just been increased from $650 to $1,000 earlier in the meeting.)

Later, a member of the audience returned to the question of how many seniors would benefit from the commission's efforts.

To Study Question
"You say there are 2,900 seniors in this community, well, we intend to get them all to join us," said Stewart Sharrow, of Ford court. "We will have more say in this community, we will have power. And we'll get buses when we ask for them."

"And, by the way, can't you people up on the council make use of this nice microphone system? I can't hear a word you're saying."

GP Mayors Offer Good Wishes for 15th Annual Thespian Confab

All Pointe mayors have proclaimed May 1-7 as "Community Theater Week" in the area in honor of the Grosse Pointe Theater, (GPT), which is hosting the 15th annual convention of the Community Theater Assoc. of Michigan, (CTAM), at the War Memorial Friday-Saturday, May 6-7.

In citing the association, a non-profit organization of non-professional theaters in the state which contains nearly 80 member groups, who are engaged in all phases of theatrical production, the mayors extended their warmest greetings and best wishes to all participants in the program.

The proclamations note, "It is through such cultural exchange and mutual artistic goodwill meetings that common ground is established for excellence that we all strive for in community theater productions."

Workshops Stated

Twice a year, CTAM holds a convention to exchange methods of working and other ideas, plus an election of officers at the spring parley. The fall gathering is held in Boyne Highlands but member groups take turns in hosting the spring convention.

This year, GPT's bid was accepted to sponsor the program—the first time such a convention has been held in the Pointes, officials report.

During "Community Theater Week," Himelech's, Hickey's, Jacobson's, Walton-Pierce, Kay Baum and the Village Book Store were scheduled to feature costumes, properties and scene designs from some of GPT's productions in their windows.

Workshops dealing with various phases of theater including production, direction, make-up, lighting, costume and administration will be held at the War Memorial on May 7 from 9 a.m.-3 p.m.

After a noninformal box lunch and an informal modeling presentation by the East Detroit Theater Group, (featuring costumes from Meadowbrook's past productions), a dinner will be given in the Crystal Ballroom. Following dinner, the GPT's Showcase Production of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" will be seen by all.

What It's About

A brunch and a tour of the Renaissance Center will take place on Sunday, May 8, before the tired thespians head for home. As for returning home, participating member groups come from as close as St. Clair Shores and from as far away as the Upper Peninsula and Illinois.

In further exploring the CTAM, Eileen Binder of the GPT says, "What goes into making that magic on stage is what 'Community Theater Week' is all about."

The purposes of CTAM, she continues, are to encourage high standards of theatrical production, to stimulate interest in theater in Michigan and to provide a means for the exchange of ideas and information about production and all theater arts.

"We have a financial assistance program which includes an annual $1,000 scholarship to a Michigan college and low interest loans to students to stimulate the further education of persons interested in any theatrical field."

"With the withdrawal of so many arts programs in the schools, the last outpost in the performing arts has become the community theater. Many of them are now furnishing for the schools expertise and programs for which the schools cannot budget," she adds.

'Managing Within Means' Theme of City Budget

By Susan McDonald
City residents will next year begin "managing within their means" with slightly trimmed down services and expenditures contained in the municipality's proposed 1977-78 budget.

Last year, City Manager Thomas Kressbach predicted a "financial pinch" in the future of the community. "This year," he said, "the description could be 'managing within our means' with careful planning and execution of the budget."

Sponsor Forum On Board Race

The public is invited to hear and question candidates for the Board of Education at South High School's auditorium, 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard, on Wednesday, May 11, at 8 p.m.

Eight candidates are running for two trustee positions in the June 13 elections. The candidates' forum is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Action Committee, made up of teachers and other employee groups in the school system.

Coleman A. Young Speaks to Pointers

Detroit Mayor COLEMAN A. YOUNG, (third from left), fields questions from Pointers after speaking at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church on Sunday, May 1. His message to the suburbs: Detroit is recovering but still needs help from surrounding neighbors.

Young Says Detroit on Road to Recovery

area is a good example of a neighborhood that was truncated by the state building those ditches," the mayor said. As the neighborhoods got broken up, the city lost more and more of its tax base.

"City services went down as we lost taxes and, as a response, more people moved to the suburbs and we lost even more taxes," he said. "And now many of the suburbs are trying to compete with the city, further draining resources."

Mr. Young told the group of suburbanites that it is up to them to realize and promote the idea that Detroit is the center of business and culture in this area.

"We must reassess our relationship to one another," he said. "And we must remember our (city and suburbs), interdependence."

Much of his optimism for the future of Detroit rests on the success of the new Renaissance Center. He rejected criticisms that the project is isolated from the rest of the city and will eventually draw business from the rest of the downtown area.

Among other projects, Mr. Young cited the much debated rapid transit system now being reviewed by SEMTA, (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority), as a promising part of the city's renaissance plan. He also suggested that city officials have been trying to attract the interest of major department stores to take part in a shopping mall project on the Kern block.

When a member of the audience asked the mayor whether Hudson's downtown store will shut down, he said that he hoped it would not because it would be a great blow to the city.

"What you have to do is get the message to the Dayton-Hudson Co., that closing Hudson's downtown would be a big mistake," he said. "The same company operates another big store in the center of Minneapolis, and they're expanding there. Prove to them that Detroit is still alive and well."

Mr. Young said that the task ahead of Detroit is to attract middle-class people to live and shop in the city again. He suggested that if the migration patterns continue as they have, Detroit may be the future home of the white middle class, with blacks and poor whites moving to the suburbs.

A Pointer reminded the mayor that suburbanites would only go to the city again when they feel safe doing so. "How can we be sure that the events of last summer, (i.e., gang violence), won't be repeated?"

The mayor answered with statistics about the relative safety of Detroit in comparison to some suburban areas. "At this time, according to an FBI crime report, there is more crime in Warren and Livonia than in Detroit," he said.

"I don't deny there is a crime problem in Detroit but I think beefing up foot patrols downtown and promoting the police mini-stations in the neighborhoods has had good results."

He lauded the effectiveness of the police gang control unit for the effective enforcement of the curfew and said that this summer will be the acid test, "to see if we can win the war on crime."

A member of the audience rose toward the end of the program to thank the mayor for his time and asked him to say hello to Willie Horton for him. Mr. Young responded by inviting the man and his wife to a Manooagian Mansion reception for the former Tiger star.

set of guidelines in the area of juvenile diversionary programs toward training officers in police departments across the state.

A questionnaire revealed that 85 percent of police departments in the state are interested in that type of training, he said, with some 96 percent already practicing diversionary methods.

His impression of the YSD is decidedly favorable.

"Obviously, it's a well-run operation, it's well financed and it's strong in the area of the police-school liaison concept," stated Trooper Shepherd, who added he was particularly interested, and impressed, with the YSD counseling program and its diversionary aspects.

It's recidivism rate of around eight percent, (following counseling), is low, he noted.

In relation to the juvenile diversionary concept, he called Grosse Pointe, with the YSD, one of the leaders by having officers, assigned in this area, work with young people and the problems confronting them.

In fact, the YSD program in this area is one of around 10 such viable programs as part of a police department's overall operation out of around 550 departments in the state, he said.

"In Michigan, our probate courts have problems in dealing with youth," he noted, while emphasizing the diver-sionary concept as an alternative to the court system, to be utilized in place of it in certain cases. Hence, the overall exploration, (via a grant), of what police departments in the state are doing in this area.

Still in the research and evaluation stage, Trooper Shepherd hopes to have something on paper by December. In this respect, he plans on incorporating the strong points of the YSD concept toward the development of a state-wide diversionary program.

Meanwhile, Dr. Barrer, a clinical psychologist, who's very interested in the area of juvenile diversionary programs, works with the Michigan Commission of Criminal Justice which encompasses five committees including the juvenile justice committee.

This committee was established last October and it viewed several priorities, he said, including a focus in the overall area of diversionary programs for juveniles and the ultimate establishment of guidelines in this area.

A former member of the Governor's Youth Commission, Dr. Barrer said he was extremely impressed with the YSD and its operation. "I was especially impressed with the rapport Det. (Patrick) Fagan had with the students at the high school," he stated.

Indicating he was at first skeptical when the detective explained this rapport, Dr. Barrer said when he saw the positive reactions of the students to the detective at South, he was decidedly pleased.

I wish all cities could afford having four officers assigned in this area toward accomplishing such goals as better educating the youth and emphasizing the importance of respect for the law, i.e., exploring an understanding of where authority comes from, he stated.

For his part, Det. Fagan, who hosted the men, felt they were favorably impressed with the division, saying they felt "we were quite progressive."

He introduced them to Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, YSD coordinator, and to Woods Det. Lt. Jack Patterson, YSD supervisor in the detective bureau, both of whom explained the reason behind the division and "why we do what we do and how we do it."

New Policy

real need for a grade policy "that can be understood by all concerned."

"In the past, principals, counselors and teachers were all involved in changing grades. Now, teachers are the final judges."

Those wishing to change a grade will first take their case to the class teacher, then the building principal and finally, if no agreement is reached, to the superintendent of schools.

An administrator will change the grade only if it can be demonstrated that the teacher failed to follow Board policy, discriminated against an individual or was unreasonable in issuing the mark.

The grading policy calls for teachers to utilize criteria developed by the school and the department of instruction in evaluating students' work. All grades must be recorded and made open to inspection by parents and students.

The semester-end mark must be no lower than the average of the students' assignment grades throughout the semester, (it can be higher, though).

The records will be stored by building principals for a "reasonable period of time."

The trustees may consider on May 9 a revision of the policy, (and past practice), to allow plus and minus grades for high school courses. Now, the policy draft calls for high school course grades to be an even "A," "B," "C," "D" or "E."

Trustees William Huettner and William Fleming agreed that allowing such a provision could be beneficial to graduates competing to get into college on the basis of grade point averages.

Center Drive Gets Boost

The War Memorial's 1977 Annual Family Participation Campaign has received a shot in the arm as a result of the follow-up solicitation letter mailed last week.

Returns now show $95,154.77 from 4,276 donors as compared to $92,893.11 from 4,482 at this time last year.

The figures are encouraging in light of the fact that the drive started a week later this year than last, plus, due to the severe winter, many Pointers have just returned to their homes and haven't responded as yet, officials say.

A total of $50,000 is still needed to meet the goal of $145,000 required to fulfill the operational budget for the fiscal year beginning August 1.

It is hoped that the goal will be achieved so that a successful announcement can be made at the traditional Memorial Day Services May 30.

Further follow-up letters and telephone calls will be made by volunteers and Center staff to meet the goal.

The Center's board of directors urges all Pointers to send in their tax deductible gifts now. All gifts regardless of size are truly appreciated and needed.

Child Safety Bumper Stickers Now Available

By Roger A. Waha

A total of 6,000 State Fraternal Order of Police bumper stickers saying, "Kids, Don't Go with Strangers," were purchased by Grosse Pointe Lodge 102 and distributed to all police departments in the Pointes and also to the Harper Woods Police Department for pickup, free of charge, by local citizens.

This effort is part of the community-wide outreach program, coordinated by the Youth Service Division, (YSD), on the subject of child molesting and school safety in general, which involves all police departments, PTA-PTO representatives, and residents.

YSD Det. Patrick Fagan, president of Lodge 102, (including officers from all the Pointes and Harper Woods), said he and Woods Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook attended a district FOP meeting Wednesday, April 27, in Ferndale at which time arrangements were made to obtain the stickers.

While under the impression the stickers would be furnished free of charge to local lodges, Det. Fagan said a commitment was made to obtain some visuals so Lodge 102 paid $480 to acquire them.

"Visibility is a major part of the program and I feel it's beneficial to the community and to the children to involve ourselves like this," he said on behalf of the lodge.

As part of the overall program, red Emergency "E" cards already have been distributed to local police stations. These cards, courtesy of the Kiwanis Club, are available upon request from schools and PTA-PTO representatives. Citizens interested in participating in the "E" plan should contact their local school representatives.

This concept will find citizens placing the cards in their front windows, thus making their homes havens of safety for a youngster in trouble.

In another development, all local police departments have received guidelines, prepared by Det. Fagan, governing a suggested policy and procedures in the area of child safety toward establishing an overall program in the community. He said the manual is scheduled for distribution to all schools in the district this week.

At the same time, Det. Fagan indicated the division was invited to hear from all PTA-PTO representatives on the number of pamphlets, (viewing the child molester for parents), needed by each group.

The YSD office may be contacted at 886-2908 in this respect, and also toward scheduling a detective to speak to any group or organization on the subject of child safety.

Something new for

a collection of 13 stories by the creator of Sherlock Holmes which have never been published in the United States, stories which reveal a new dimension of the master of suspense. For minus the calm, dominating presence of Holmes, Conan Doyle was free to create tales of unmitigated terror, of sinister and macabre occurrences which seem beyond the realm of rational explanation. With the marvelously eerie drawings of Barbara Ninde Byfield and an introduction by the widow of Adrian Conan Doyle, who knew Sir Arthur personally, this volume is the perfect addition to anyone's mystery collection. As these stories reveal, the genius of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle extended far beyond the invention of the most famous detective in the history of fiction. Conan Doyle was also the author of historical novels and adventure stories, and was internationally known for his interest in the occult, an interest which is reflected in these TALES OF TERROR AND MYSTERY.

City's Proposed Budget

offset personnel reductions. The proposal to consolidate the police and fire departments, which is expected to save some $88,000 in personnel costs, is far from being implemented in The City. The local firefighters union, with backing from the International Firefighters Assoc., has fought the consolidation, which would force them to do the work of both a firefighter and a police officer, in circuit court, arbitration proceedings and in the Michigan Employment Security Commission. In a letter to citizens, which

Park to Hold Budget Hearing

By James J. Njaim
The Park Council will hold a public hearing on its 1977-78 fiscal budget on Monday, May 9, at 5:30 p.m., in the council chambers of the municipal building, 15115 East Jefferson avenue. The public hearing date was set at a special and informal hearing held on Tuesday, April 26, during which the new budget was discussed.

It was disclosed at this meeting, which was open to the public, that the tentative cost of the city government for the coming fiscal year is $3,450,000, about $210,000 more than the current 1976-77 budget. The city's fiscal year ends June 30.

It was pointed out that the cost of government has gone up due to wage increases, inflation and the cost of equipment, but the tax rate will still remain at 18.6 mills, ($18.60 per $1,000 assessed valuation), and .9 of a mill for debt service.

Under the Park City Charter, the tax levy limitation is set at 20 mills, ($20 per $1,000 assessed valuation).

Although the tax millage will still remain the same, property owners will probably pay higher taxes because the city must, under Michigan Law, adjust to state equalized valuation on all real property. This means that all property must be assessed at half of today's market value on real estate.

Municipal governments have no control over this method of assessment and must comply with the state edict.

Art Show Set At North High

North High School's Seventh Annual Art Show and Sale, "Art '77," opens Tuesday, May 10, with a 7-10 p.m. reception which is open to the public. To be held in the Performing Arts foyer, the exhibit also will run Wednesday-Thursday, May 11-12, from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. and 7-10 p.m.

The exhibit will have several special sections, including a display of many award-winning Scholastic Art Competition entries, portfolio-level work of graduating seniors, personal work of North High art teachers and an area exclusively for artworks being offered for sale by North art students.

Over 750 works will be displayed, including ink drawings, water colors, acrylics, pencil and conte drawings, collages, jewelry, textiles, wood and stone sculptures, bronze and lead castings, ceramics of all kinds, photography, prints and commercial designs.

In charge of displaying the three-dimensional work will be Mrs. Christina Brodey, two-dimensional work will be handled by Alan Ebert, and Marcy Hall will be in charge of the show's theme and graphic presentational aspects.

Eileen Hayes will head up the opening reception and hospitality, and John Wargelin will be handling publicity and sales. Donna Schulte, graduating senior, has designed the show's logo and invitations.

TIME FOR CHANGE

If you see smooth, narrow bands running across the face of your automobile tires, it means the tread groove is worn to 1/16 of an inch and it's time to replace your tires. Treadwear indicators, often called "wear bars," serve as a warning to motorists when tires are worn to the danger point.

Firemen View Women

hired. But that's not to say a woman should be hired just because she is a woman. That's not right either. "As for strength, there's plenty of men who couldn't pass these tests. We had one woman who looked like a linebacker for the Lions. I'm sure she would have qualified. She now works for the Pontiac Police Department. I say more power to them."

Explores Problems
Shores Public Safety Sgt. Frank Mustazza is skeptical of women firefighters. "I've got a daughter, and I don't like the idea of her being discriminated against, but I'm still doubtful of a woman doing the job," he said. "I have trouble going up that ladder, and if I do, a woman will, too. "They don't make two-man ladders, do they?"

At The Park, Fire Chief Phillip Costa is willing to give anyone a shot at the job, "but whether a woman can perform physically, we'll have to see," he said. "They're entitled to try for the position like anyone else. But to chop a hole in a roof, carry heavy equipment, plus, maybe a 150-pound person, I don't think so."

Carrying the load isn't the only reason the chief has reservations. "It would also mean special problems concerning living quarters. They'd need separate dorms and locker rooms. Problems arise when special consideration has to be given."

"Also, if a woman is a mother and firefighter, she has the problem of being away from her family for 24-hours at a stretch. That's not good for a child. "This was always meant to be a man's job. Maybe that's discriminatory, but it's true. Around the station they could do as good a job as a man, and in the kitchen, they'd probably be better. But at a fire? I don't think so."

Charlie Pappas' Open for Luncheons

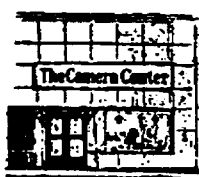

Numerous phone calls to one of the Pointe's favorite dining establishment has resulted in the decision to remain open daily through the summer months from 11:30 a.m. until 2 a.m., Mondays through Saturdays and 5 p.m. through 2 a.m. on Sundays. Initially the establishment considered closing for lunches, through the summer months only but Charlie Pappas' feels the popular request by so many Pointers should be met. The menu has been streamlined for the summer luncheons and the dinner menu will be available. The Kercheval on the Hill spot was originally the Bronze Door.

Jan Greene Elected New Prexy of Teachers Union

By Susan McDonald

The Grosse Pointe Education Assoc., (GPEA), representing 589 public school teachers, elected a new slate of officers Wednesday, April 27.

North High School English teacher Jan Greene will take over the president's spot from Doris Cook, who did not seek re-election after two years in office.

Mrs. Greene won the top post with an overwhelming margin of votes. She was opposed by Carl Lord, who served as GPEA president in 1973-75, and Janeane Avery, who worked on this year's negotiating team.

Mrs. Greene said she is pleased with the leadership her predecessor provided teachers and "would be very happy if we could continue in the same direction."

She said the greatest job she sees before her is to unite Pointe teachers.

"The last phase of contract negotiations did much to split teachers off into personal interest groups," Mrs. Greene said. "I hope we can convince all of them, especially elementary teachers, that we are still behind them."

The new vice-president of professional rights and responsibilities is Thomas Whall, a Ferry Elementary School instructor.

Mr. Whall, a former president of the Highland Park Education Assoc., will be responsible for processing teachers' grievances.

Vice-president for negotiations for the coming school year will be Dick Markel, a teacher-consultant in the department of pupil personnel.

Secretary-treasurer for 1977-78 will be Jan Janosi, a science teacher at North High School. This will mark Mrs. Janosi's second term in that office.

New coordinating council chairperson, Rita Carey Richards, will work with other units of the Michigan Education Assoc., (MEA), on various projects of joint interest.

Police Receive Bad Check Calls

Woods merchants reported two more incidents of bad check passers last week, continuing a string of such incidents which prompted police to send out special warnings to area businesses.

On Thursday, April 29, the manager of the Farmer Jacks in Mack avenue notified police that one of his cashiers had taken a bad check for $143.88 worth of groceries.

The suspect was described as a black male, 6'4" tall, about 250 pounds. He identified himself as Lorenzo Turner, of 166 Manistique, Detroit.

After calling City National Bank, the bank on which the check was drawn, the store manager found that no such account existed. The check was also listed on the store's bad check sheet.

The suspect, whose name and address also were found to be fictitious, was accompanied by two other black males. The detective bureau is pursuing the matter.

A second bad check incident involved three stolen checks missing from the Mack avenue office of Dr. Edward C. Freimuth, DDS. Dr. Freimuth discovered that the checks had been taken from his book only when they started turning up in banks.

He reported the theft to police after receiving a call from Michigan National Bank, Warren and Mack, asking whether he had authorized the payment of $1,700 to a black male, 5'9" tall and about 150 pounds.

Police visited the bank later to get more detailed description.

NHS Orchestra Draws Praise

The North High School Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Nathan Judson, traveled up to Sault Ste. Marie last month, performing two concerts at the local junior high school.

In a letter to the NEWS, Sault Ste. Marie Junior High Band Director Catherine Pontious said, "People who attended the performances were amazed by the musical maturity of the North group."

"We look upon the visit of the North Orchestra as one of the highlights of the school year," she continued, adding "Mr. Judson is to be commended for his talents as a teacher and musician."

The orchestra trip was part of an exchange program sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Assoc.

South Wins Press Awards

South High School student journalists won state championships in four areas of competition.

South's "Tower" finished second to the Jackson high school paper for the best overall newspaper at the Michigan Interscholastic Press Assoc. convention at Central Michigan University on Friday, April 22.

South has won the overall championship three times and finished second twice in the five years the competition has been held.

Walecia Konrad produced the best news story in the state with a study of proposals to raise the drinking age.

Mary Ann Vann won the sports writing championship for an interview with Mark Fidrych.

South won the award for best magazine with a special Christmas issue published in a news magazine format. Another special issue, a 24-page edition which raised more than $2,000, to cover increased printing costs, won first place for originality.

Lisa Roumell completed a sweep for South in the sports writing category when she took second for a preview on the swimming season. The school's other second came for the special fund-raising issue, in service to the school.

An in-depth story on youth violence gave Terry Berg third place in that category.

In addition, the "Tower" won seven honorable mentions: Lisa Roumell for news writing, Terry Berg and Kim Severson for interviews, Tim Boyse for cartoons and the staff for front page layout, editorial page layout and advertising.

Walecia Konrad, who is co-editor of the "Tower," was selected to the all-state newspaper staff and produced the lead story on school finance problems in Michigan for the convention newspaper.

Spring Concert Set by South

The wind ensemble will be appearing for the first time since receiving first division ratings from all judges at the recent State Band Festival held in Grand Ledge.

The band will perform works by Vaughan Williams, Strauss and the popular music from the show "Oliver."

The symphony orchestra will perform two movements from the Symphony No. 1 by Brahms.

Tickets are available at the South High music department and also will be sold at the door. Tickets for adults are $1.50, for students, 75 cents. Senior citizens will be admitted free of charge.

Short Believed Cause of Car Fire

An electrical short in the heating control under the dash of a car owned by Theodore Cymbal Sr., of Lakeshore Cymal Sr., of Lakeshore road, is believed the possible cause of a fire, which completely destroyed the vehicle's dash paneling, a Shores Public Safety Department report disclosed.

On Thursday, April 21, at 8:30 p.m., Mr. Cymbal personally went to The Shores station to inform Police that his auto, in the municipal park parking area, was ablaze.

Officers arrived at the scene to find the dash of the car, a 1975 model, engulfed in flames. The fire, which consumed the plastic vinyl of the heater, radio and padded dash, was doused with a water extinguisher.

The vehicle had to be towed to a repair shop early the following day, while Mr. Cymbal was taken home by an officer at the scene. The monetary loss is not known.

Red Cross Needs Blood

The Red Cross is calling for the continuing support of the donor program and has scheduled new stops for the bloodmobiles in The Pointe and Harper Woods.

Because the life span of whole blood is 21 days, this supply must be replenished continually. Persons interested in giving blood may do so at the Detroit Donor Center, 100 Mack avenue, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

The center is also open Tuesdays and Thursdays from 12-6 p.m. For an appointment call 833-4440.

The bloodmobiles will be stationed at Our Lady Star of the Sea, 575 Ballantyne road, in The Woods, on Monday, May 9, from 2-8 p.m. and at Our Lady of Peace School, 21101 Bournemout road, Harper Woods, on Saturday, May 21 from 11 a.m.-5 p.m.

GPW Seniors Meet Today

Woods senior citizens are invited to join their peers for an afternoon of socializing, complete with music by a three-piece combo, today, May 5.

The gathering will be held at the North High School cafeteria, 707 Vernier road, beginning at 3:30 p.m.

The world may be growing smaller, but it still takes more and more tax money to run it.

Cottage Hospital Plans Kids' Program

A summer speech and language program for pre-school and school age children will be offered again this year by Cottage Hospital, according to Cottage Administrator Ralph L. Wilgarde.

The six weeks program, which begins June 13 and lasts until July 22, is planned for children with speech, language, hearing and learning problems.

It will be directed by Dr. Gary J. Cooper, who heads the Cottage department of speech pathology and therapy services, and will consist of two weekly hour-long sessions.

"Thanks to the continued interest and generosity of Mrs. James T. Barnes, it will be possible to include children who otherwise would not have the opportunity to enroll for the therapy," Mr. Wilgarde said.

The fee for the summer program is $60. When a family is unable to pay this fee, the child's school speech therapist or pediatrician should call the Speech Therapy Department at Cottage and arrangements for enrollment will be made, Mr. Wilgarde said.

Enrollment is limited. For further information, telephone 884-8600, extension 223 or 224.

On Thursday afternoon and evening, April 28, at South High School, Mrs. Loewinsohn told about the training workshop that will be held in Grosse Pointe Monday-Friday, May 16-20.

Attempted Rape Case Delayed

The examination of Frank Michael Aiuto, 23, of 18555 Michael, East Detroit, scheduled for Wednesday, April 27, was postponed by Shores Municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis to Wednesday, May 18, at the request of Aiuto's attorney.

Aiuto, who remains free on $2,000 personal bond, is accused of third degree criminal sexual conduct in the attempted rape of a 22-year-old Shores woman on Thursday, April 21.

The accused, it is alleged, tried to rape the woman on the front lawn of her home after following her through several streets in The Shores and Woods. She tried to elude him while he trailed her car in his light colored van, police said.

Aiuto was arrested by Woods Public Safety Officers Michael VanDeginste and Michael Makowski on Vernier road in front of Mason School, following an all-points radio broadcast from The Shores station. The accused was taken into custody because he and his van matched the description given by the victim.

A description of the van also was given by the woman's mother and sister, plus a neighbor, who were awakened by the victim's screams and who witnessed the struggle on the lawn as the victim fought off her assailant.

Aiuto, it was disclosed in a Shores report, was nude, clad only in a tee-shirt, as he pursued and tackled the woman on the lawn. When arrested, he was fully clothed.

Similar Name Causes Concern

A story in last week's NEWS about an attempted assault in The Shores has brought some undue embarrassment for a Pointer whose name and age are similar to those of the attacker.

Frank Michael Aiuto, 23, of East Detroit, is accused of trying to lure a 22-year-old Shores woman into his car in the early morning hours of Thursday, April 21, Frank James Aiuto, 24, is the innocent victim of this case of mistaken identities.

The latter Aiuto is the son of Dr. James J. Aiuto, who has reported receiving calls of condolence and some social snubs because of the article.

It's worth the sacrifice — money invested in education pays the highest interest.

Open East Side Cancer Center

Getting help is going to be easier for cancer patients on Detroit's east side, including Tite Pointe. The recently opened East Service Center of the Michigan Cancer Foundation will provide a full range of cancer care and rehabilitation services for cancer patients and their families.

The East Service Center, 21312 Mack avenue, was opened as part of the nation's first community cancer control program—Cancer Action Now, (CAN).

"One of the goals of the CAN program is to make sure cancer patients and their families get the best care quickly," said Tom Reynolds, East Service Center manager.

"This center will help us serve more people by bringing the programs of the MCF Patient and Family Care Service directly into the community."

Special nurses and medical social workers provide counseling and rehabilitation programs for persons who are recovering from cancer surgery.

Cancer Care Teams, which consist of the patient, his doctor, a cancer nurse, a social worker, the family and the family's clergyman, can help care for terminally ill patients in the hospital or at home.

Volunteers from the "Compassionate Visitor" program give personal help by shopping, preparing meals, doing errands and being a friend to seriously ill cancer patients.

The center also provides the special equipment cancer patients sometimes need free of charge.

"We want people in the community to know we're here for them, to help them get what they need, when they need it," Mr. Reynolds said.

For more information, call the East Service Center, at 881-2413, from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. weekdays.

CAN is co-sponsored by the Michigan Cancer Foundation and American Cancer Society and funded by the National Cancer Institute in Washington and the United Foundation in Detroit. More than 60 local agencies are participating in the program.

The Inn hosts, who also operate the Church restaurant in Stratford, will present slides and explain how the century-old mills were converted to today's accommodations in a 75-acre, wooded park with streams and pools stocked with salmon and rainbow trout. Tennis courts, a swimming pool and golf facilities also are available.

At Stratford, patrons will see Shakespeare's comedy "All's Well That Ends Well," "The Guardsman" and the Preservation Hall Jazz Band.

This Stratford trip includes round-trip transportation from The Pointe, lodging and meals at the Ben Miller Inns, transfers in-and-out of Stratford, dinner at the Church restaurant and tickets for three performances for $139.50. (TICKETS WILL BE AVAILABLE MAY 10-12, 1977.)

The Foundation for Exceptional Children, 16 Lakeshore road, recently received $2,000 from the Telethon for the Retarded last year.

Some $230,000 was pledged last year and the goal for this year's telethon, scheduled for June 11-12, is $500,000.

"We raised our sights this year because we want to provide assistance to more organizations to help the 265,000 retarded people in Michigan," said James M. Perna, executive director of the telethon.

To help reach the goal, corporations and foundations are being asked for the first time to provide grants.

"The telethon has been and will continue to be a grassroots operation, with concerned individuals doing so much for this cause," Mr. Perna said. "Now we hope that some larger companies and organizations will step forward and give this program the support it needs."

Michigan organizations involved in working with the retarded can submit applications for financial aid to Telethon for the Retarded, P.O. Box 420, Detroit 48226.

The active Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library announced the donation of $6,800 to various library projects. The gift was approved by the Board of Education at its Monday, April 25, meeting.

The Juvenile Room at the Central Library will be partially refurbished with $4,500 of the donation. The library's permanent collection of 16mm films will be expanded with an extra $1,500. An additional $800 will purchase a microfilm file for the audio-visual room at Central Library.

Cottage Hospital Earns Accreditation from Group

Cottage Hospital of Grosse Pointe has again been accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, (JCAH), according to Cottage Administrator Ralph L. Wilgarde.

The two-year accreditation is the result of an on-site survey made last December by field representatives of the Joint Commission's Hospital Accreditation Program. Accreditation indicates that Cottage Hospital operates according to high standards set by the commission.

"We are, of course, pleased to receive accreditation as a result of the survey," said Mr. Wilgarde, "but I must say we are not surprised. The representatives who visited us following their investigations found that they were 'impressed' because they couldn't find anything wrong with the place!"

"Among other things they told us at that time," Mr. Wilgarde continued, "was that our nursing care is excellent and that Cottage is one of the cleanest hospitals they had ever visited."

The Joint Commission's Accreditation surveys are voluntary. It is not legally necessary for a hospital to be accredited, but health care facilities have sought accreditation because it represents a benchmark of quality that is higher than governmental licensure alone.

People bent on causing trouble use the light of truth to cast the shadow of suspicion.

The chief aim of the Hospital Accreditation Program is to help hospitals in their pursuit of excellence and thereby provide a higher quality of care to patients. The program also seeks to recognize, and to identify for the public, those facilities which meet its standards.

Member organizations of the Joint Commission are the American College of Surgeons, the American College of Physicians, the American Hospital Assoc. and the American Medical Assoc.

Cottage Hospital is one of approximately 4,800 general hospitals throughout the country that have earned accreditation. There are approximately 7,150 hospitals in the United States.

There is no one good posture for everyone or for every occasion. Posture varies with individuals and their needs. The most effective posture is one which is best adapted to the task at hand and which requires the smallest use of energy. The posture that permits freedom of body movement with a minimal use of energy and which best suits the individual in accordance with his own condition and the condition of his environment — the experts say that that is what can be considered to be normal posture.

Seniors Needed to Volunteer

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program, (RSVP), of Wayne County, a national program partially funded by ACTION of the federal government, is designed to aid the older adult, 60 years and over, who wishes to volunteer his or her time and talent to people in their community.

RSVP volunteers trade loneliness and inactivity for volunteer roles which continue to utilize their wisdom, experience and talents, reports Diane Apsey, metro-east supervisor for RSVP.

RSVP relates formally to 150 agencies throughout Wayne County and offers a large variety of volunteer roles to the senior adult, she said.

The Metro-East RSVP east-side office is located in the Mount Hope United Methodist Church, 15400 East Seven Mile road.

The staff is ready to help the senior adult find the volunteer role most rewarding.

Drunk Driving Trips Motorist

Vernon L. Blundell, 52, of 10592 Somerset, Detroit, arrested by police on Friday, April 22, on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor, had his driver's license automatically suspended when he refused to take a breathalyzer test, according to an official Shores Department of Public Safety report.

Blundell was arrested at 10:15 p.m. by PSO Archie Grieve, who observed the man driving south along Lakeshore road at North Edgewood. At this intersection, the officer stated, Blundell suddenly applied his brakes very hard for no apparent reason.

PSO Grieve said he got behind Blundell and watched as the motorist weaved back and forth inside his lane. Then he drove the legal speed limit of 35 mph before slowing to 20 mph several times. The officer ordered him to stop in front of 619 Lakeshore road. When he approached the man's car, the accused got out of his vehicle and the officer said he detected an odor of alcohol on Blundell's breath.

At the station, when informed of his right to a breathalyzer test, Blundell refused to take one and it was so noted on a refusal form which he signed. Under Michigan law, such a refusal means automatic suspension of a motorist's operator's license for 90 days.

Blundell was required to put up a bond of $150, which was paid by a relative, pending a court hearing scheduled for Wednesday, May 18.

Farms' Loop Opens Year

By Joe Fromm
The Tigers, Phils and Yankees opened the 1977 Farms Little League season with victories on Saturday, April 30.

Todd Ciavola was the winning pitcher for the Tigers in a close pitching duel, 3-2, over Craig Haase of the Indians.

The Phils downed the Pirates, 13-7, and the Yankees defeated the Red Legs, 5-1.

Farms Mayor James Dingeman was the judge for the parade decorations and awarded prizes to Rochester in Class C, Hawaii in AAA League and the Phils in the Major League.

ing to him/her, to assure proper orientation to that volunteer role and to maintain communication with the volunteer and the agency served to assure continuing rewards to the volunteer in his/her work.

RSVP provides transportation in five 14-passenger vans, or offers mileage reimbursement, pays $1.25 toward lunch when the volunteer gives four hours or more of his/her time. Volunteers are covered by an accident policy while away from home at their volunteer activities, she said.

The only requirements for RSVP membership are that the senior be 60 years or older and be willing to serve four hours each month.

In addition to the volunteer requests listed below, the RSVP eastside staff is looking for another community worker to help with recruitment and placement of volunteers in eastern Wayne County. Community workers are part of paid staff, must be 60 or over and work 20 hours weekly.

"If you are energetic, enthusiastic, love people, reside in north east Detroit, the Grosse Pointes or Harper Woods, call the eastside RSVP office at 839-7979," she stated.

RSVP volunteer opportunities include work in the public schools of The Pointe and Detroit, plus service at the American Red Cross, the Michigan Cancer Foundation, 21312 Mack avenue, various hospitals including Saint John and Cottage and the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice, among other areas.

Pointe Included In Bike-a-Thon

The Pointe area will be one of 25 routes planned across the state for the American Diabetes Association's Fourth Annual Bike-a-Thon weekend planned for Saturday-Sunday, May 14-15.

Ray Lane, sports director at WJBK-TV, is chairman of the event, which is sponsored by WDRQ-FM 93 radio and Arby's Restaurants. Proceeds will go toward the association's programs of diabetes research, education of patients, health professionals and the general public, plus Camp Midicha, a special medically supervised summer camp for children with diabetes.

To participate, riders need a sponsor sheet/entry form, available at Arby's Restaurants, AAA offices, schools and bike shops. Then, sponsors need to be obtained, to pledge monetary amounts for each mile the participant rides.

The route in The Pointe will cover 16.1 miles, beginning at 9 a.m. on May 15, and running until 4 p.m. Check points will include Parcels Middle School, 20600 Mack avenue, South High School, 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard, Lakewood East Park, at the foot of Alter road, and Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue.

Volunteers are needed to man each checkpoint and mark the riders' sponsor sheet, verifying the participant passed that point. A statewide grand prize will be awarded to the rider who returns the most money by the June 17 deadline. Other prizes will be awarded from each route, at various levels and age groups.

For more information, call 342-9333 or 288-6010.

Because we don't have to please
Detroit, we end up pleasing New York

The networks have to please all of the country all of the time. They can't afford to program just for one area.

WNEW-TV is a television station for the New York market. Alone. So we can give the people in this area the programs they want.

At 11 p.m., for instance, we give them the choice of Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman. Instead of the news, the news, the news.

We can do that because we've already given them the news at 10 p.m., an hour ahead of every other major late-news show.

We put The Merv Griffin Show on in prime time. Instead of in late fringe.

What the New York territory likes is a choice.

That's why, in New York, we've got more homes watching us than two out of the three network stations. So WNEW-TV can give Detroit a choice.

You can advertise to the New York market on network stations, which try to please all of America. Or you can advertise on WNEW-TV, which programs just for the New York market.

Brand Loyalties Shaken By Taste Impact Of Low Tar Merit.

MERIT taste delivery switching high tar smokers away from age-old favorites.

There is a taste alternative to high tar cigarettes.

Modern technology created it.

Tests proved it.

Smokers are confirming it.

Today most MERIT smokers are coming from high tar cigarettes — many from brands they had been loyal to for years.

Yet they're switching to — and sticking with — MERIT.

The reason is a real advance in tobacco technology that resulted in a way to boost natural tobacco flavor without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

© Philip Morris Inc. 1977

It's called 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

MERIT and MERIT 100's were both packed with this special tobacco. And taste-tested against a number of higher tar cigarettes.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of both MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested.

Cigarettes having up to 60% more tar!

Only one cigarette has 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. And you can taste it.

FUTURE SHOCK!!!
Who would have thought that we'd ever look forward to an annual inflation rate of 6% with an emotion close to ecstasy? Yet, today that's what we're doing. The reason, of course, is that after three successive yearly hikes averaging better than 6%, 1976's 6% increase looks pretty good. Don't be fooled - 6% inflation is high. At that rate prices double in 12 years.
What would happen to housing prices with a 6% yearly cost-of-living increase? A home that cost $45,000 now would increase to $90,548 in 12 years. In 20 years it would cost $144,320. In 30 years it would sell for $258,456.
What does all this mean? Whatever your age, you must find a way to create an income in addition to your pay check. Although there is no such thing as the perfect investment, real estate may be the nearest thing to it. It can be an income producer, a shelter from high taxes, and an ideal protection from the ravages of inflation. Real estate values historically increase faster than general inflation prices and maintain a higher value than most assets in depression. The ideal hedge.

Driver Nabbed at Gun Point
A Canadian motorist, who appeared to attempt to run down a Shores public safety officer following a high speed chase early Saturday morning, April 16, came to a halt when the officer was forced to draw and aim his service revolver at him.
A second Shores officer kept a shotgun ready while the motorist was being searched. Arrested was Gordon Koppes, 47, of 31 Highland drive, Chatham, Ont., who was charged with reckless driving and operating a motor vehicle while in possession of open alcoholic beverage containers.
Koppes posted bail of $150 and is scheduled for a Shores Municipal Court appearance on Wednesday, May 25.
According to Cpl. Daniel Fronczak, the arresting officer who was on radar duty, Koppes was traveling north along Lakeshore road and passed the corporal at an extremely high rate of speed. He said Koppes was traveling in the left lane and was pulling away from the police car at 70 m.p.h.
During the chase, the officer said, the motorist struck the island median curb at least three times. Pedestrian and bicycle traffic was heavy at the time.
The officer said as the chase neared the traffic light at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club entrance, all traffic lanes were blocked by other vehicles. Koppes slammed on his brakes and made a fast turn at the island crossover, with the corporal close behind.
Cpl. Fronczak said Koppes then drove into the driveway at 785 Lakeshore and stopped in the north section of the drive.
As the officer exited and approached, Koppes then drove off the driveway. The corporal ran across the grass and ordered Koppes to stop, verbally and with hand signals, but the man paid no heed and continued toward the officer. At this point, he drew his revolver and shouted to Koppes to stop and put his hands on the windshield of his auto where they could be seen.
At this time, PSOs John Frassard and Michael Kenyon arrived to assist. Officer Kenyon covered the Canadian with the shotgun, as his colleagues ordered him out of the car. When Koppes refused to comply with the command, he was forcibly dragged out.
An open can of beer was noticed on the front seat, as well as a grocery bag containing several empty beer cans and a full one.

Woods Grants Bid of Scouts
A request from leaders of Girl Scout troops at Ferry, Mason and Parcels Schools for a group permit to utilize the Lake Front Park on Saturday, May 21, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon was unanimously granted by the Woods Council.
This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, April 18, with the council stipulating that any conditions imposed for the training session by the Department of Parks and Recreation be obeyed.
In noting the pool will not be open for use at that time, hence, no apparent conflict, Councilman Ronald R. Kefgen said this effort toward utilizing the facility for such outdoor instruction was a good thing.

In a letter to the council, Betsy Martin, of Lochmoor boulevard, and Mae Gallagher, of Hampton road, said leaders of the troops at the three schools have expressed a need for their girls to learn various outdoor skills, such as lashing, use of small hand tools, firebuilding and how to erect small tents.
"The senior troop of high school aged girls which we advise have volunteered to teach these skills to the younger scouts, and now we need a place to hold the event," they said.
Citing problems in scheduling such an activity regarding other days and locations, the leaders said they anticipate that about 250 scouts will participate, while some 25 adults will be responsible for supervision.
"While we estimate that about 90 percent (of the girls) are residents of Grosse Pointe Woods, we cannot exclude those from another community since our troops are organized by school boundaries," they noted.
Both ladies added for some time the scouts have offered their services to the community in picking up litter, helping the Beautification Commission and by making themselves available for many projects, while hoping the council would grant their request.

The price paid for experience is negligible—it's knowledge you gain that counts.

by John Lundberg

Do you know the vintage of the champagne you buy? Don't be upset if you never thought of champagne and vintage. Most of the time, no vintage year is marked for champagne. Each brand has a slightly different taste, but most of the major brands are good from year to year. Regular champagnes are blended before they are bottled, with champagnes from previous year's crops. So with each bottle of non-vintage champagne, you are getting a little bit of history. Only an exceptionally good year will be marked. Vintage champagne is not mixed with any other year's wine. Of course, these wines are more expensive. So, with a vintage champagne, know what the year means. On non-vintage champagnes, stick with the young ones for best and freshest taste.

Two malicious destruction of property (MDP), reports, one occurring at a building site and the other at a business, were received by Woods police on Tuesday, April 18. Builder Thomas Gallagher reported sometime on Sunday, April 17, someone threw mud in sump pump wells causing the motors to overheat and burn out at the construction site in Vernier road where duplex homes are being erected. The damage was estimated at around $180, plus labor.

Meanwhile, earlier in the day, someone fired a B-B or pellet gun at a window at Pointe Paint and Decorating Center, 19655 Mack avenue causing an estimated damage of $300, police said. Six holes were discovered in the glass.

NHS Thinclads Sweep 3 Meets

By Diane Marsteller

This past week the North High School track team competed in two dual meets and an invitational, winning all three meets.

On Tuesday, April 26, the Norsemen ran against the Lakeshore Shorians and defeated them, 128-30. The Norsemen won 15 of 16 events. Bill Weidenbach led the team with a record breaking 9:04.2 in the two-mile run. He also anchored the mile relay team of Bob Brown, Karl Tech and Darrell Graham.

Dan Beck and Bob Roberts were double winners—Beck in the 880-yard run and mile run, and Roberts in the 100-yard and the 200-yard dashes. Sam Arvantes won the long jump, Mike McBrien was first in the shot put and Carl Weber was victorious in the discus.

In the 330-yard low hurdles it was Brown and in the 440-yard dash it was Graham. The Norsemen also won the 440 and 880 relays. Ken Humes won the high jump and John Brucia was first in the pole vault.

On Thursday, April 28, the Norsemen took first place in all events. Steve Trupiano won the long jump, Humes was first in the high jump and Joe Asey won the pole vault. Lewis won the two-mile run, and in the mile, it was Beck. Willing the 880-yard run was Weidenbach.

Brown won the 330-yard low hurdles, and, in the high hurdles, it was Joe Saycz. In the 440-yard dash the winner was Jeff Nerdum, Graham won the 220-yard dash and Weber took the 100-yard dash.

Weber also won the discus and McBrien was first in the shot put. The Norsemen thinclads won all three relays; the 880-yard, the mile and the 440-yard.

On Saturday, April 30, the Norsemen traveled to Central Michigan University to compete in the CMU relays. The Norsemen track team scored 68 points to bring home first place. Flint Southwestern was second with 54 points and Midland was third with 39 points.

Weidenbach led the team by breaking the mile record of 4:18.4, set in 1970, with a time of 4:16.6.

Weidenbach also ran on the distance medley team that broke a record set in 1967. Mark Kennedy, Brian Patman and Ed Hammer also ran on that team with a time of 10:27.3.

The middle distance relay team of Brandt, Graham, Ciaravino and Beck finished first at 5:43.6, to break a record set in 1964.

Coach Tom Gauerke was extremely pleased with his team and is looking forward to the next home meet today, May 5, against Clintondale.

North Also Takes Opener

The North High School varsity track team opened the league season with a win by defeating Roseville Brallec, 140-18, on Thursday, April 21.

The Norsemen finished first in 15 of the 16 events, and coach Tom Gauerke was very pleased with the results.

The high jump proved to be the most exciting event of the meet as Ken Humes set a new field and varsity record by jumping 6'7 1/4".

Bob Roberts was a double winner, taking first in the 100-yard dash at 10.1 and first in the 220-yard dash at 22.9. Roberts also led off the winning 880-yard relay team, followed by Karl Tech, Darrell Graham and Jeff Nerdum in 1:31.8.

Weidenbach also anchored the mile relay lead off by Tech, Bob Brown and Luke Przeslawski at a time of 3:31.3.

Brown won the 330-yard low hurdles in 40.0 and Joe Saycz won the 220-yard high hurdles at 15.5.

Clay Ottoni, Steve Van Every, Bob Lossman and John Long made up the winning 440-yard relay team, which finished at 45.7.

WATCH WASTE

Motorists may waste more than $100 million in tire wear this summer unless they pay more attention to proper inflation, the Tire Industry Safety Council warns. Under-inflated tires also waste gasoline because they use more energy.

HIGH PERCENTAGES

Trucks carry 89 percent of all agricultural products from farm to initial markets, and 97 percent of frozen foods and vegetables in shipments of 500 miles or less, according to the American Trucking Associations, Inc.

CHEAPEST SERVICE

A breath of free air is the cheapest service you can give a tire, says the Tire Industry Safety Council. Proper air pressure reduces tread wear, increases gasoline mileage and provides optimum traction and braking, easier steering and better cornering.

Being on a low cholesterol diet doesn't mean you have to give up everything that is good to eat. Fish, chicken, turkey and veal are meats that, when cooked to remove excess fat, are perfectly o.k. So are baked goods that are cooked with the right kinds of oils. Corn oils are the kind to look for. The same rule applies in margarines — margarine containing corn oil is your best bet for health. Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

As a result of the recent ratification of the Master Agreement between the Board of Education and the teachers' union, I have received a number of questions from local taxpayers about its contents. Among the most frequently asked are the following:

1. What are the most important changes contained in the new three-year contract? Space does not permit a full report on this document, but I would like to summarize two features, the major economic and the non-economic aspects of the Master Agreement.

First, the economic picture. For 1976-77, the BA schedule goes from $10,600 to $18,792 in 11 steps, while the MA goes from $12,720 to $21,438.

In 1977-78, the BA schedule will go from $10,812 to $19,356. The MA will begin at $12,974 and go to $22,081.

In 1978-79, the third and final year, the BA schedule will go from $11,461 to $20,517; the MA schedule from $13,752 to $23,406.

Second, the non-economic aspects. We feel that significant improvement was achieved in the area of management rights including the extension of supervisory responsibility to a number of professional staff members.

Chairpersons in the secondary schools will be appointed by the principals, (instead of being elected by department members), and will assume evaluative and supervisory responsibilities.

A similar new role has been achieved for Athletic Directors, Elementary First Assistants, Chief of the Central Public Library, Branch Head Librarians, Chairpersons of Special Education sections and the Chief Psychologist.

These changes are truly important ones which we believe will strengthen our program and will help the Board better manage the school system in line with the preferences of the community.

2. How does the settlement finally agreed upon differ from earlier positions taken by both sides?

Basically, the final agreement followed the recommendations of the report of the fact-finder.

The overall financial settlement was somewhat higher than offered initially by the Board. The Board had on the table 7 percent new money for each of the next three years.

The settlement included 8 percent each for the first two years of the contract, and 6 percent in the third year, plus the maintenance of the incremental steps on the salary schedule and an increase of 1.5 percent in fringe benefits.

The primary trade-off for the Board is the significant gain in language indicated above.

One View from the Capitol

By William R. Bryant Jr.

A proposed state ban on phosphate use in home laundry products is pending in the Michigan legislature. The ban would reduce to zero the allowable level of phosphates.

The principal arguments in favor of the ban are that continued use in the home is not necessary to order to adequately clean home laundry and that its use contributes to plant growth in rivers and lakes thereby reducing oxygen content and hastening the slow, natural process of the aging of lakes.

They say the reduction in allowable phosphate content which we adopted a few years ago is not adequate. They argue the evidence our lakes are still dying is convincing and a ban is the best and fastest, and perhaps the only solution.

Opponents say it is cheaper and more effective to allow phosphate use and to treat the sewage containing the drained phosphate in water treatment plants using available and relatively inexpensive compounds.

The real impetus, they feel, for passage of a ban is the failure of Detroit to properly treat its sewage before dumping it in the Detroit River at Lake Erie.

Washing machine operators say that phosphates keep machines from getting gummed up. It also is claimed as fact that if users want clothes to be as clean as they now are that more frequent washes, with hotter water will be necessary. Together these will mean more machine repairs, more wear on clothes and more energy and water consumption.

Added to this cost, they say, would be the cost of replacement, but less effective, additives, and the cost of more soap or detergent to handle the additional washings.

The ban would not effect commercial use of phosphate detergents because it is acknowledged they do clean substantially better than other wash products and are needed in many commercial washing processes such as hospital wash.

The ban, also, would not prohibit home use, only the sale for home use, so there would be some people purchasing phosphate detergents out-of-state.

Proponents believe it is not just a question of Detroit water treatment which is involved. They point out the problem of treatment in smaller communities and that there are places with no central sewers to even allow central treatment. They grant these involve a small minority of the population but insist the problem is not minor.

Assuming the current federal insistence that Detroit update its treatment processes is successful, there would be no problem in the Detroit area allowing use and taking the phosphate out at the treatment facilities. Other communities have updated or soon will have to improve their treatment processes.

The federal government is considering banning use of phosphates in all Great Lakes basin states in order to reduce their introduction into the Great Lakes.

This would not stop all phosphates from going into the lakes. All living organisms contain phosphates, as do their excretions and the soil. So groundwater will always carry some phosphates into the lakes. The question is one of degree.

A possible compromise to a complete ban would be to prohibit phosphate use on premises not served by a central sewage treatment facility and mandating adequate phosphate treatment at that facility.

Some leeway could be allowed to provide that county health departments could grant use exceptions to premises based on special need to use phosphates or on other circumstances indicating lack of impact of use, on those premises, on the groundwater, rivers or lakes.

It is easy, in a way, just to say "ban the stuff." But we should have progressed to the point where we want to protect our environment, and want to do it understanding all aspects of the problem and probable results of various proposed solutions. We need to sensibly and knowingly choose our courses of action.

I want your input on the phosphate question. Do you think home use should be banned? If home use is to be banned, should commercial use also be banned? Should we resolve the problem as well and rapidly as we can by treatment of phosphate sewage? Should we seek a middle ground, for example, as I set forth above as one compromise option?

What should we do? To properly represent you I need your input before making by decision based on all the input.

Ever get the feeling nothing is easy any more?

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters,
Director of Public Libraries

Who owns the oceans? For centuries the oceans were regarded, as the moon is today, as belonging to no one. Freedom of the sea in more modern times has meant freedom for powerful maritime nations to exploit and divide up the oceans for their own benefit.

Only recently has there been a challenge to the long accepted idea that the seas are an inexhaustible source of living resources and a suitable receptacle for all the waste and rubbish dumped into them.

The United Nations and the international community are actively engaged in search of a new law of the sea.

Robert Claiborne, once editor of "Scientific American" and now a free-lance writer, is author of ON EVERY SIDE THE SEA, (American Heritage Press, 1971), an engrossing study that will not fail to broaden every reader's appreciation of the oceans that make every continent an island.

Mr. Claiborne writes of the now recognized need of more economical use of the fish we catch.

He states that by increasing our harvest from the sea, we could go far toward satisfying the world's ever-growing need for protein.

He argues that more must be learned about the factors affecting the reproduction and migration habits of commercial species of fish, while at the same time avoiding the kind of disastrous overfishing that has virtually wiped out the whales.

A comprehensive and lively study for students, as well as marine biologists and others having a professional interest in the sea, is THE SEAS IN MOTION, (Crowell, 1973), by Frederick George Smith, dean of the Rosentiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science, University of Miami, Florida.

Dr. Smith is concerned with waves, tides and currents—how they work, their cause and the effects which they have on our lives.

With the aid of 70 photographs and 50 diagrams, Dr. Smith explains the critical heat exchanges where the sea and air meet that account for much of the energy of storm waves, currents and upwellings of the water from the deep; describes the relationship between the movements of the sea, weather and climate; and tells how oceanic movements affect marine life as well as man's endeavors, ranging from navigation and ship design to fishing and yachting.

An English scientist concerned with ocean currents is Thomas F. Gaskell, author of THE GULF STREAM, (John Day, 1972). The Gulf Stream that funnels out of the Gulf of Mexico, travels up the eastern coast of the United States, and crosses the Atlantic to northwestern Europe has been of major historical importance.

During the 18th century scientists started to study it and now it's also assumed a political role, because like other currents of water it is both a rich source of natural resources and a carrier of pollutants.

Dr. Gaskell's book is a thoughtful study, particularly the chapters that deal with basic questions like, "Who owns the Gulf Stream?"

THE OCEAN ENVIRONMENT, edited by Jonathan Bartlett, (H. W. Wilson, 1977), vol. 48, number 6 of THE REFERENCE SHELF series, is perhaps the most concise informational source on all aspects of the ocean.

It contains articles by experts on many subjects of current concern such as Farming the Sea, Pollution or Preservation and the 200 Mile Fishing Limit.

On sea, as on land, science can only point out the consequences of our actions—how we then choose to act is up to us.

Jewels & gems
by Jerry Valente

Diamonds and other precious stones cut in facets are meant to catch and reflect light. It is this brilliant display of light which makes them such lovely and valuable gems. When even a thin layer of grease or dirt settles on the stone, the jewel's transparency and stunning effect are diminished. There are prepared jewelry cleansers which are especially good when you want to do the job quickly. Make sure that you read the preparation's label — sometimes certain metals should not be treated with a given solution. Such cleansers can be re-used, so simply dip the piece you want to clean right in the jar. Then rinse it in a clear water bath and dry carefully with a soft cloth.

VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, 881-4800, carefully selects all diamonds for style and value to our customers. Diamonds, both engagement and wedding sets and dinner rings are available in all price ranges. VALENTE JEWELRY has been designers of fine jewelry since 1934. Come in and tell us what ideas you want incorporated and we will design and custom make jewelry to your taste. MasterCard and BankAmericard welcome.

GEM FACT:

Use tweezers to dip very small pieces in the cleanser, and an eyebrow brush for polishing tiny crevices.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
The headline, "Board Dismisses Teachers" in the April 28 issue of the NEWS certainly paints a blacker and more dramatic picture than the situation it describes.

Unfortunately, for the casual reader, (or for the person who does not read the article in its entirety), the implication is that an unexpected, massive layoff of teachers has occurred.

Of course, such is not the case. In the interests of economy, the non-renewal of contracts for persons filling 20 positions was completely in line with the promise made by the Board of Education at the time of the millage rate renewal in March.

In a blue flyer delivered to homes by volunteers, one of the assumptions on which the three-year millage renewal request was based was: "Staff and program reductions of approximately $200,000 per year because of declining enrollment."

In addition to the cut of 20 positions due to declining enrollment, we had 15 people returning from leave of absence and, as required by contract agreement, have seniority rights to a position within the system.

Unfortunately the article implies, (through a quote of a teacher union official), that the Board is not interested in the reduction of class size. This is absolutely not the case, as the following figures for the six years I have been a member of this Board of Education indicate.

A count of our teachers per 1,000 students reveals no lack of attention to class size:

1971-72	— 46.64
1972-73	— 47.64
1973-74	— 48.5
1974-75	— 50.18
1975-76	— 52.94
1976-77	— 53.51

And I anticipate at least as favorable a pupil/teacher ratio for 1977-78 as for this year. I also wish to remind readers of the NEWS that in recent years the elementary program has been improved greatly with the addition of both the Skills/Talent Program and Elementary Art, as well as the reinstatement of the Full Instrumental Music offering.

The Special Education program has been expanded, with most of those requiring such services, now housed in our own buildings instead of being sent outside the district. At the secondary level, our vocational programs have been expanded.

Finally, in no way do I wish to minimize the seriousness of the dismissal of the valued employees holding the equivalent of 20 positions which are to be eliminated and those who are being replaced by teachers returning from leaves of absence.

As indicated at the April 25 meeting, I regret very much having to take this action. However, this information must be viewed in what I believe to be its full and proper context.

Sincerely,
Robert D. Warner,
President,
Board of Education

To the Editor:
In response to recent articles concerning the construction of cul-de-sacs, The Park should begin construction for the following reasons: increased community involvement, the safety of children and the accompanying increase in property values.

I was disappointed to read in previous issues that surrounding communities felt we were adverse to the idea. Realizing the advantages of the proposed construction indicates why the idea is both beneficial and essential in maintaining our community.

Deterring prospective property owners from The Park for fear that their purchases would not be a wise, long term investment is extremely detrimental to our community.

Let us begin construction of the cul-de-sacs and show how progressive our community really is.

Sincerely yours,
Daniel Kuhnlein,

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

If hard work and enthusiasm mean anything, the "Broadway Bouquet" to be presented Sunday, May 15, by the Judelaires should be the lushest, loveliest, liveliest of spring fantasies.

The show, featuring selections from "Cabaret," "The Fantastiks," "The Sound of Music," "My Fair Lady" and—are you ready for this?—"The Student Prince," starts at 7:30 o'clock.

Place is the Dominican High School Auditorium, Whittier at McKinney in Detroit. Proceeds will benefit the I CARE organization, a group of dedicated citizens who work, strictly as volunteers, to help people in desperate situations.

I CARE'S business, professional and working members provide immediate help to alleviate immediate problems, on a one-to-one basis.

The idea is to feed people who are hungry, clothe people who have lost their clothing, (through fire, for example), shelter families who have lost their homes, (through foreclosure, for example) ... to, in short, BE THERE for those in need.

There was, for instance, the woman whose addict son had robbed her. I CARE came up with money to buy the medicine for which she had put the original money aside.

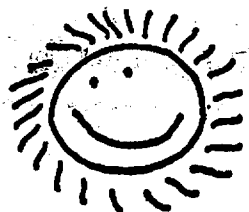

The Judelaires' "Broadway Bouquet" is being directed by De Shaheen, accompanied by Janet Drolshagen, staged by Mary Lou Mantho.

Other Pointers among the company are Joan Dessinger, Vickie Johnides, Mary Juratovac, Mike Keegan, Lou Mueller, Bob Rau, Mark Scott and Rita Vermilion.

Tickets may be obtained by calling 772-8792.

Pro Musica Celebrates Its First Half-Century

With champagne toasts, Pro Musica members looked back on 50 years of concerts and forward to their 51st season at their anniversary party Friday evening, April 22, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Free Press music critic John Guinn praised Pro Musica's 50 years of musical achievement and wished the society 50 more. President Alex Sucek commented on the artists for the 51st season.

Pro Musica's three concerts for next year at the Detroit Institute of Arts will feature pianist Lydia Artimov November 18, the Marlboro Trio February 3 and soprano Valerie Girard April 7.

Among Detroit musical figures who joined Friday's celebration were Marshal Turk, executive director of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and Gordon Staples, violinist and concertmaster for the DSO, with his wife Beatrice.

Also there were Ted Seemeyer, entertainment editor of "Impressario" magazine, Ralph Votapek, concert pianist and artist-in-residence at Michigan State University, with Mrs. Votapek, and Mischa Kottler, retired pianist of the DSO and former board member of Pro Musica.

Giving Mischa a gold pin for his services, Sucek reminisced of the time in 1931 when Kottler and George Miquelle donated a concert to Pro Musica's schedule to get the society through the bank holiday.

Kottler was on Pro Musica's board of directors for 20 years, and is one reason for Pro Musica's 50-year history of presenting musicians and composers just before they become famous—and expensive.

Staples dedicated a Bach Preludium to the only living charter member of Pro Musica, Mrs. Frank Coolidge, who served as president of Pro Musica for 41 years.

Grey hairs on his own head, Staples joked, "I used to say that two people would attend my funeral: my father and Dorothy Coolidge."

"And Dorothy," he added, "that isn't funny anymore!"

Pianist Votapek honored Pro Musica's history by playing several compositions by Maurice Ravel, who performed for Pro Musica in 1928 in his only tour of the United States.

In that year, DSO harpist Djin Ostrowska learned Ravel would tour and asked the conductor Ossip Gabrilowitsch to bring in the composer. Gabrilowitsch looked down his nose, called Ravel an upstart, and said it was out of the question.

Ostrowska contacted Detroit music supporters and formed Pro Musica. The late Mrs. Edsel B. Ford was one of the original patrons, as were Edouard Werner, past president of the Detroit Federa-

Slate Lecture on Needlework

The Metropolitan Detroit Stitchery Guild and the Needlework and Textile Guild of Michigan, (Birmingham), will present a slide talk featuring Jacqueline Enthoven tomorrow night, Friday, May 6, at 7:30 o'clock at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Chalfonte avenue at Lothrop road. Admission is $1.

Mrs. Enthoven, besides developing a method of embellishing costumes with bands of embroidered flowers, is an author whose several books include "The Stitches of Creative Embroidery," "Stitchery for Children" and, most recently, "Stitches."

She teaches stitchery workshops, including Pakistani embroidery. She began to develop an impressive stitchery background as a child in her native Paris, continued through travels in England, Brittany and France.

She attended the Sorbonne and Oxford and now resides in Santa Barbara, Calif., when she is not conducting seminars in universities, colleges and school systems and for stitchery guilds throughout the United States.

Her slide talk is unique, done with two projectors: one showing slides of natural flowers, the other stitched interpretations of the flowers.

The sponsoring guilds, local chapters of the National Standards Council of American Embroiderers, are dedicated to crafts involving a needle with an eye.

The Metropolitan Detroit Guild meets the third Monday of the month, at 7:30 o'clock, at St. Paul Lutheran Church.

Salton Peanut Butter Maker

Fresh ground peanut butter is a taste treat so good you have to try it to believe it. And now it's easy to make. Just put peanuts in the hopper, dial the consistency you like, from smooth to chunky, and out of the spout comes pure, natural peanut butter. Fast, too. You can make half a pound in just minutes... or grind just enough for a sandwich in seconds. Choose the Peanut Butter Maker in white or brown; it's safe to use, easy to clean. 29.95

Windsor Light Opera Presenting a Musical

Friday and Saturday evening performances are set for May 6 and 7 and 13 and 14, Sunday matinees for May 8 and 15.

Faculty Wives Greet Spring

Grosse Pointe Faculty Wives gathered for their annual spring luncheon Saturday, April 23, at member Mrs. Frank Ford's Lincoln road home.

A spring bouquet decorated the punch table. Luncheon theme was Country Hospitality.

Mrs. Edwin Wendt, whose husband is retiring this year as principal of Poupard School, was a special honored guest.

Also honored were the Faculty Wives' retiring officers: Mrs. John Rohrer, 1976-77 president, Mrs. David LaDuke, vice-president, Mrs. Curtis Lange, secretary, and Mrs. Herb Ladd, treasurer.

Election of new officers, annual reports and plans for the coming year comprised the business portion of the afternoon.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Willis Brown and Mrs. Jack Harrigan, assisted by Mrs. John Bingham, Mrs. Don Dungan, Mrs. Harlan Minor, Mrs. Frank Ford, Mrs. Art Weinkle and Mrs. Roy Matchko.

Opening DSO Drive in May

The appointment of Philip Caldwell as general chairman of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's 1977-78 fund drive has been announced by Robert Semple, of Beacon Hill, president of the Detroit Symphony board of directors.

Mr. Caldwell, vice chairman of the board of directors, Ford Motor Company, has been associated with the fund drive for three years, serving as general co-chairman in 1976 and chairman of the Business and Industry committee in 1975.

He is a director of the DSO board. "The $1.5 million fund drive this year is especially important to the future of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra," said Mr. Semple.

"Mr. Caldwell's committee will be responsible for raising a sizable portion of the anticipated $2 million difference between the orchestra's earned income and the expenses we anticipate for the 1977-78 season."

"Ticket sales revenues provide the Detroit Symphony Orchestra with less than half the cost of operating the regular concert series, the Summer Festival at Meadowbrook and the outstate concerts."

"The balance must come from public grants and this fund raising drive, which also provides the financial resources for the educational programs, free concerts and youth programs of the orchestra."

The 1977-78 fund raising drive began May 2 and concludes June 24.

June Bride

The bride-elect attended Grosse Pointe North High School and Ferris State College. Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nadlonek, of Warren, holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Microbiology from Michigan State University.

The art exhibit and auction is being coordinated by the Gallery Art Center of Berkeley, the plant display and sale by Nature's Creations in Mack avenue.

The annual Geranium Luncheon of the Women's Association of Goodwill Industries, to be held next Wednesday, May 11, in the Goodwill Building, Brush street at East Grand boulevard, will mark the installation of officers for the 1977-78 club year.

Mrs. Elroy Scheifele, who has been elected to a second term as president, will be assisted by Miss Frances Bidwell and Mrs. James Wellons, vice-presidents, Mrs. Herman C. Roscoe, recording secretary, Mrs. Joseph Bridges, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Claud L. Stevens, membership secretary, and Mrs. A. Warren Brock, treasurer.

Mrs. John J. Lee, past-president, will conduct the installation.

ance at its functions are open to any persons interested in providing vocational testing, training and sheltered employment for handicapped people. Courtesy parking is available at the Goodwill lot in Milwaukee, between John R and Brush streets.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

If every person selling his home in Grosse Pointe would sell through one specific Real Estate Co. two things might happen. Real Estate values could go steadily down because of improper listing, or they could soar beyond our fondest dreams! The theory of monopolizing the market is legal to a degree because there is not necessarily a master company but simply a group of home owners listing with who they feel can best help them.

Wouldn't it be wise then to seek out a Realtor who understands and feels the total marketing concept regarding Grosse Pointe. What percent of our buyers come from outside Grosse Pointe? What are these buyers expecting to pay? Will they pay more? We naturally feel there is at least a thirty percent discrepancy in values that the market could absorb.

But all this is the dreaming of an aggressive Broker who's dream is the betterment of Grosse Pointe. Then, too, it could work. Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087 has founded a revolutionary community development program involving numerous Cul-de-Sacs. This was only a dream, too—but the more it goes on the more possible it begins to look. All we would like to say is we love our community—and we want the values to soar. An overall agreement by the sellers in the Pointes could speed up this appreciation by co-operating with the Brokers who demonstrate a positive desire to help build our values.

GP Skaters Take Crowns

Grosse Pointe's entries in the first Michigan State Invitational tournament, recently held at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink for minor teams, swept past opposition in the Squirt, Pee Wee and Bantam Divisions to capture all three titles.

The GP Blue Devils won the Squirt crown in a triple overtime thriller over the Redford Stars, 3-2, the GP Chargers stopped the Detroit Nationals, 4-3, in the Pee Wee final and the GP Ziebart Spartans edged the Waterford Lakers in the Bantam title game, 2-1.

The Blue Devils triple overtime win over State

Squirt "A" champs Redford Stars began when Tony Vergilio gave the Devils a 1-0 lead, assisted by Jeff Koppitch and Stuart Whitney.

Redford then scored two quick goals to go ahead 2-1. An unassisted goal by Jim Carson in the third period forced the series into overtime. Carson's second goal of the game, with assists from John Hirschfield and George Krappmann, brought Grosse Pointe the title.

The Blue Devils made the Adray Squirt A League champions and playoff champions as well as the MAHA District Three Squirt "A" playdown champions.

Clinics are offered in the morning for adults and youth, and in the evening for adults. Three skill levels are available—beginner, intermediate and advanced. The head instructor will be Stephanie Prychitko.

For the first time this year, a community tennis program is being organized. It is designed to offer individuals a chance to play other players of equal ability.

Players are classified by age, sex and ability and will play in an ongoing ladder tournament beginning Saturday, May 21 through July. Starting in late July, a double elimination tennis tournament will be played.

Fees for this service are $2 per individual or $3 per couple and will include a monthly newsletter and free tennis balls to monthly winners of the ladder tournaments.

Players must acquire their own court time. Registration is going on now at the club. The limit is 120 people.

Movie on TM Set for Today

A 30-minute color film, "The Transcendental Meditation Program in Education," will be presented today, May 5, at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, at 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Each showing will be followed by discussion of the possibilities the Transcendental Meditation, (TM), program offers as an adjunct to fulfill the goals of the present system of education.

The film, made in Berkshire County, (Massachusetts), presents observations and remarks of school administrators, faculty, parents and students regarding the implementation of the TM program in the local school system.

Improvements were noted not only in the academic and administrative spheres, but also in the areas of personal development, athletics, special education and family life.

Scientific research conducted in over 25 countries indicates that practice of the TM technique results in clearer thinking, better health, improved mind-body coordination, greater self-awareness and self esteem, plus more harmonious and fulfilling relationships with others.

The film is offered as a public service of the International Meditation Society, 17108 Mack avenue, Grosse Pointe, a non-profit educational organization. For further information or literature, or to arrange a private showing for a school group, call 885-5566.

By George Polgar, Jr.

This year the Grosse Pointe District will be losing four ladies who have served long and well. Helen DeConinck, of the Business and Finance office, Louise Leeson, of Central Library, Helen Doherty, of The Woods Library, and Betty MacDonald, of Community Services, are retiring.

When asked how they feel about retirement—which seems to sound more ominous as it draws closer—all but Betty say they have mixed emotions.

"Oh, I'm definitely looking forward to retirement," says Betty, turning to her not-quite-convinced colleagues. "Why, there is so much that a person can do if she has the time."

No Solid Plans
As yet none of the four has very solid plans for her extended vacation. Helen Doherty wants to catch up on some back yard farming. Helen DeConinck is going to listen to all the music she can.

"I love music and I've never been able to go to all the concerts I wanted to. It doesn't even matter what kind except, of course, for that, uh... long-haired stuff," she said, wondering if she was offending her untidily-shorn interviewer.

Louise, who has spent the past 17 years working among books at the Central Library, says she might try her hand at writing. "My children want me to sit down and write a family history—and I might, after I sit and rock for about a month."

Travel is always high on the list of retirement activities, mainly because it is one of the few occasions when a person can take their time at it.

Betty is looking forward to a trip to England and Scotland—of course, a good MacDonald, Helen DeConinck has her heart set on the greenery of Ireland. Travel plans for Louise might materialize after she finishes her month of rocking.

Where First?
The other Helen in this story only has to decide where to go first.

"Well I have family all over the country, in California, Texas, Kansas... if I have time I'll get to see them all."

Though they aren't panicky about it, all four are thinking about things to do a little closer to home to keep active. "Some people are hobby crazy, but I don't know what I'm going to do," says Helen DeConinck. "Then again I think I could spend hours watching the river, (she lives on the 11th floor overlooking the Detroit river), and never get bored, I just love it up there."

"It's so beautiful, and I'll probably appreciate it more now that I have all this time on my hands."

Though Helen Doherty probably doesn't think of herself as hobby crazy, her gardening will doubtless take up much of her time.

"This time of the year, I just can't wait to get out into the garden. It is the most fantastic thing, I can go out in the morning and spend the whole day digging and planting."

Has Green Thumb
Does she have a green thumb to go with her enthusiasm?

"You bet I do. I grow lettuce, tomatoes, peppers... some of my neighbors say I should set up a roadside stand and sell my harvests."

Whatever they all decide to do, Louise sums up much of their feelings for the future—waxing philosophic as bibliophiles are wont to do—saying, "We will all have to make a lot of adjustments. It will be like an entirely new life."

Well, what about the working lives they are leaving behind? Again Louise is the first to answer. "I enjoyed myself so much at the library. It was always such a lively place even though it's quiet all the time."

Helen Doherty also is leaving the library with a private library of fond memories. "After 23 years there, all I can say is that it was very pleasant. The people who used the library, the staff I worked with, everyone was very nice."

MAGHIELSES, of Lakeland Avenue, RICHARD ALLAN SPEER, who pledged Sigma Chi, son of the RICHARD SPEERS, of Moran Road, and JOHN F. WILSON, who pledged Alpha Tau Omega, son of DR. and MRS. Rose Society Meets May 11

Joe Stankiewicz, president of the Greater Saginaw Rose Society, will speak at the Grosse Pointe Rose Society's meeting Wednesday, May 11, at 7:45 in the evening at the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval Avenue at Fisher Road.

Mr. Stankiewicz, a Consulting Rosarian since 1967, captured the McFarland Trophy, King of the Show, Sweepstakes and Best Miniature. Open Bloom awards at the 1976 Great Lakes District Rose Society convention, held in Kalamazoo.

The previous year, at the convention in Detroit, he won the All American Rose selection for three hybrid teas.

The meeting, open to the public, will be conducted by Andrea Parent, president of the Grosse Pointe Rose Society. Residents of Grosse Pointe, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores are especially invited to attend, and to become members of the Pointe Society.

Refreshments will be served. Entrance to the library is via the rear door.

From Age to Age
She goes on to muse about all the people she has seen come through the library. "I watched some people grow from childhood to marriage."

Betty and Helen DeConinck, whose work was mostly behind the scenes in the school offices, look back on many experiences and people they have seen and are happy and sad to go.

"Well, day to day you don't really think about working the way you do when it's behind you. Over the 10 years I've been working for the schools there have been ups and downs but also a lot of nice people."

Even though I didn't have any contact with the public I was one of the ones who made sure the bills got paid, so I feel I've done my part," says Helen.

Now that Louise, Betty, Helen and Helen, (take your pick), are retiring there is little doubt they'll do just as good a job keeping themselves going as they did helping the schools keep going.

when the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center presents a unique, upbeat parade of women's, (by Himelhoch's), and men's, (by the E. J. Hickey Company), fashions.

It will be an "arty" evening, too, for Shirley Dornin, the League's art chairman, is coordinating an exhibit of Lubjo Biro's latest work.

Mr. Biro, as you know, is the gentleman who demonstrates his love of Detroit in the way he brings area buildings and landmarks alive on canvas.

His artistic romance with the Detroit area is so great, in fact, that officials of the Metropolitan Detroit Convention and Visitors Bureau recently commissioned him to do eight paintings of area scenes for their offices.

Mr. Biro has captured the Renaissance Center, views from Windsor, Cobo Hall, Woodward Avenue... all the places we all know.

His exhibit, plus the summer fashion parade, are enough in themselves to fill Himelhoch's for the benefit evening, but the Assistance League promises more: complimentary cocktails and hot and cold hors d'oeuvres.

Sally Bernard, Kathy Lenz and Carroll Velie are co-chairing the project. Their committee members include Katy McKenzie, Sally DeSandy, Carole Berkey, Marcie Shannon, Mary Des Rosiers and Donna Becker.

"The Summer Scene" starts at 7:30 o'clock. Tickets, at $9 per person, may be obtained by contacting Mildred Jackson, 824-8000. Proceeds go to the Northeast Guidance Center, our own community mental health agency.

National Honor for Mrs. Weyhing

Mrs. Burt Thomas Weyhing, III, of Lewiston road, has been selected as 1977's Outstanding Junior Member of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She's a grand choice: current regent of the Louisa St. Clair DAR Chapter, with past service as treasurer and first vice-regent, veteran of three state chairmanships and a national vice-chairmanship, of the Junior American Citizens Committee; a page at seven state and national conventions; a dedicated private patriot who has placed DAR Citizenship Manuals in several area hospitals for use by foreign medical personnel, and has brought greetings from the Judge's Bench during several naturalization ceremonies.

Claire Andrea Egan Weyhing holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Southern Connecticut State College and a Masters degree in Education from Wayne State University.

She is a former teacher of the Mentally Handicapped. She received a fellowship from WSU, and has been listed in "Outstanding Young Women of America." She was named Bicentennial Mother by the Detroit News.

She is a Red Cross Swim Instructor, and remains very busy with groups that work with exceptional children. Her own three children range in age from two to eight.

She supports volunteer activities in local hospitals, and donates time to the Detroit Zoological Society and University Liggett School. She is, as we said, a grand choice...

Juniors are DAR members between the ages of 18 and 35. Among their primary responsibilities is raising money for the Helen Pouch Memorial Fund, which provides scholarships, medical aid and general financial assistance to the two DAR-owned schools: Tamasee and Kate Duncan Smith.

Old Pear Trees Brighten Pointe

Those white fruit trees that burst into bloom at the end of April and brighten our scene until early May are older than you think, with several of the largest dating back to the days of the French settlers' ribbon farms.

Most have broken and been cut down, like the huge "Twelve Apostles" which stood on the old Fred T. Murphy estate in the 30's. The last of the twelve was recently removed from Camerone place.

But a few remain... like the sturdy, old specimens with twisted trunks at both Bishop and Yorkshire, on the north side of Jefferson. One, over 50 feet tall, towers over the old Wardwell House at Three Mile Drive and Jefferson.

Two other giants are in front and behind the Scherer House in Lakeshore road. "There are lots of pears," says the lady of the house, "all very hard—but the squirrels love them."

The Alexander Wieners of Woodland place, enjoy a whole alley of smaller, second generation French Pears.

The French Pear, a large, prolific and long-lived tree, has always been valued for its wood. When one of two fine trees in Newberry place was recently cut, the priests at Saint Paul's-on-the-Lake-shore hurried to collect every piece.

The Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council urges all residents to pause and admire the clouds of shining white blossoms and gnarled, dark trunks marking the spots of the earliest orchards surrounding the farmhouses that dotted The Pointe before the century began.

There are many old pears along East Jefferson Avenue, especially in Grosse Pointe Park. Perhaps one stands in your own back or front yard.

Just arrived from England... Carr's Cookies in a dozen different decorative tins—including the special commemorative tin for the Queen's Silver Jubilee... at The Merry Mouse, corner Kercheval and Notre Dame.

Saturday Night... and where do you go? To Perini's where so many Pointers head. If you have a yen for lobster tails or surf and turf you'll find it on the menu which features seafood, steak, pasta, veal and chicken served in so many delightful ways. Perini's specials, too! There are two light-fest parking lots, a cozy atmosphere inside and friendly service. What more could you ask? Yes, the prices are reasonable so you can dine out more often and conveniently at Perini's, 10721 Whittier DR 1-2484.

The new owner of The City Card & Gift Shop, 22377 Moross Road, invites you to come in and browse.

Mother's Day gifts... mugs, sun catchers, aprons, bulletin boards at KALEIDOSCOPE, 16906 Kercheval and Kimberly Korners, Mack at Lochmoor.

There's Always A Good Selection... of greeting cards and gifts at Wright's Gift and Lamp Shop. Now featuring Mother's Day. Wright's also is known for a wide range of lamp shade styles and sizes. It's so convenient to bring in your lamp base for proper fit... 18650 Mack Avenue next to the Grosse Pointe Post Office.

Treat Mother to a wicker bed tray, a battery operated clock with wicker trim by Howard Miller or a piece of beautiful copperware from Holland. Also arriving, glass boxes with brass trim for figurines or flowers at The Wicker World, 20643 Mack Avenue... 886-8469.
