ELVIS PRESLEY, 42, died Tuesday in his Memphis mansion. The cause of death was "cardiac arrhythmia," a severely irregular heartbeat. More than 75,000 mourners gathered at the gates of Graceland mansion to see one last glimpse of the "king of rock n' roll." Mr. Presley had 48 gold records, those that sold over one million copies, during his 20 year career. The magnitude of his following was noted by President Jimmy Carter, who said of the singer, "He was unique and irreplaceable."

FEDERAL BANKING officials said yesterday that there was nothing illegal in Bert Lance's multi-million dollar personal financial transactions between 1975 and 1977. During that time Mr. Lance was the president of a Georgia bank. "Bert, I'm proud of you," President Jimmy Carter said, as Mr. Lance started his 50-minute news conference. Mr. Carter also said he should stay on as budget director. However, John G. Heimann, comptroller of the currency, still criticized one of the banks Mr. Lance led for "unsafe and unsound banking practices."

GROUCHO MARX, 86, died yesterday in Los Angeles. A hospital spokesman said he died of pneumonia. The zany, wisecracking comic, whose career spanned more than half a century, had slipped in and out of consciousness throughout the day. As his condition deteriorated, his doctor and family stood by. Groucho was one of the original five Marx Brothers along with Chico, Harpo, Gummie and Zeppo. Their movies in the 1930's delighted audiences in an era of poverty and despair during the depression. Mr. Marx entered the hospital on June 22, and was so weak during his hospitalization that he was totally unaware of the five-month battle, recently concluded over his guardianship.

THE VOYAGER II spacecraft had a successful lift-off yesterday, despite early signs that something serious had gone wrong. A boom, on the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., had not locked into place, causing a great amount of concern. Regardless, the 1,800-pound Voyager II was launched smoothly at 10:30 a.m. Detroit time.

AS A RESULT of Burt Lance's financial dealings, the Senate Banking Committee will conduct another investigation of the "ethics and soundness" of banking practices. William Brockmire, D-Wis., chairman of the committee, said the investigation will delve into many areas, i.e., compensations and correspondent bank balances, loan collateral, over-draft policies, failure of bank officials to file reports on borrowings and business ventures and varying interest rates charged to different customers.

SECRETARY OF STATE Cyrus Vance, renewing high level talks with China after a gap of nearly two years, assured his Chinese hosts Monday that good relations with Peking are still "a central element" of President Jimmy Carter's foreign policy. The first day's talks between Mr. Vance and Chinese Foreign Minister Huang Hua, however, failed to touch on the critical issue of U.S. recognition of the nationalist government in Taiwan.

August 15. Public Safety Director HENRY MARCHAND, (second from left), and Traffic Safety Officer PAUL CROOK also participated in the ceremony. The Woods has gone 19 consecutive years without a pedestrian fatality. In receiving the honor, Mr. Pinkos praised the public safety department for its effort toward making the community a safe one.

Proposal to Double Parking Rates in GPW Defeated by Council

Objective of Plan from City Administrator Petersen to Increase Revenue Base for Expansion Program Meets Opposition from Local Merchants

By Roger A. Waha

A proposal to double the current parking meter rate for the same period of time failed to materialize as the Woods Council unanimously decided to maintain the current rates, refer the matter to the Committee of the Whole as an ongoing item and reconsider the proposal at a council meeting next August.

The solons at their regular meeting Monday, August 15, also agreed to eliminate the prepaid postage feature on the parking meter violation ticket and adopt a new violation fee schedule effective January 1, 1978.

At that time, fees will be $2 if paid within 24 hours, (they are now $1 if paid within 48 hours), and $3 if paid within 10 days, (they are currently $2 if paid within a citizen's court date, i.e., around two weeks.) Under the new proposal, there is a $5 charge if the violation is paid after 10 days.

Penny Rate Stays
The proposal from City Administrator Chester E. Petersen was first considered by the council on July 18 but action was tabled pending the receipt of further information on cost factors.

Mr. Petersen not only recommended the increase in rates with an eye toward proceeding with an ambitious parking expansion program but also proposed the elimination of the penny slot on the parking meters and any such rate.

This, he said, would increase revenues approximately 12-15 percent. However, the council took no specific action on this recommendation.

Several local merchants in attendance felt the doubling of parking rates would have a detrimental effect on their businesses, while seven others sent letters to officials nixing the proposal. Their concerns had an obvious effect on the council's final decision.

In his memo to the solons outlining the proposal, Mr. Petersen presented figures on the parking enterprise fund from 1972-77. The fund from 1972 to 1975 was steadily on the plus side but in 1976 it suffered a loss of $1,721.

Greater Loss
"It would have suffered an even greater loss in 1977 if it had not been that we employed one full-time meter maid under the CETA, (Comprehensive Employment (Continued on Page 4)

Woods Alters Meeting Date

Because of the Labor Day holiday, the Woods Council unanimously changed the date of its first regular meeting to Monday, September 12.

This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, August 15.

The council meets the first and third Mondays of the month, with the second regular meeting scheduled for Monday, September 18.

GPF Seeks Input on Hill Plan

Council Directs City Manager Bremer to Contact Citizens, Groups on Proposed Expansion

By Wendy K. Settle

"I think it's a very exciting proposal," smiled City Manager Andrew Bremer at the Farms Council's regular meeting Monday, August 15.

He was referring to the proposed "Hill Development Plan." The "plan" has been the ambition of the Hill Merchants Assoc. toward making the two-block long business area into a mall-like, attractive shopping and business area.

In a memorandum to the council, Mr. Bremer stated what has to be done is to "properly set in motion the machinery to evaluate and, if deemed advisable, implement the proposed development plan submitted by the Hill Assoc."

Will Report Back
Mr. Bremer feels the most important facet of "setting the machinery in motion" is finding out how much support there is for the plan.

The people most directly affected by the project are the ones he wants to contact. Between now and October, Mr. Bremer plans to contact the following groups: the School Board, the merchants and the residents affected in order to get their opinions on the development plan.

The fourth area he will investigate is the total cost of the project, from the preliminary studies through the final stages of construction. The estimated cost has been placed at around $1.5 million.

Mr. Bremer says he can accumulate all this information by October when he will report back to the council.

There were many other specific areas discussed in Mr. Bremer's memorandum for the councilmen's consideration.

Other Studies
The following points are some suggestions mentioned in the extensive memo:

1) Traffic study, estimated cost, $5,000 to $6,000. This study would determine what shifts in traffic the expansion plan would cause, and how (Continued on Page 6)

Woods, Shores Okay Water, Sewer Hikes

Increases Mainly Result of Additional Costs Stemming from EPA Suit Against Detroit; Other Pointes Take Wait and See Attitude for Now While Conceding Outlook Appears Grim

By Roger A. Waha and Susan McDonald

Woods and Shores residents can expect their water-sewer bills to jump around 38 and 19 1/2 percent, respectively, next month as both councils approved increases in their present rates mainly in relation to increased costs incurred by Detroit for sewage treatment via a federal court lawsuit filed earlier this summer by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency, (EPA).

The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, August 15, approved an increase from the present rate of $5.42 to $7.50 per 1,000 cubic feet effective Thursday, September 1. This charge reflects a net hike of $2.08 per 1,000 cubic feet of sewer and water consumption.

This will increase the minimum bill in The Woods from $8.13 to $11.25 or a $1.04 per month hike. A minimum bill is for 1,500 cubic feet for three months.

Pass on Increase

Meanwhile, the Shores Council at its regular meeting Tuesday morning, August 16, okayed an increase from the present rate of $5.15 to $6.15 per 1,000 cubic feet, effective the date of the meeting.

This net hike of $1 will increase the minimum bill in The Shores from $10.30 to $12.30 on a quarterly basis.

Woods City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher said the increase of $2.08 incorporates an 89-cent per 1,000 cubic feet hike passed on by Detroit to the Northeast Sewage Disposal System, (NSDS), and hence to The Woods.

Other municipalities who are part of the system include The Shores, Harper Woods, East Detroit, Roseville and St. Clair Shores, plus the South Macomb Sanitary District.

Mr. Hornfisher noted in a memo to City Administrator Chester E. Petersen that the city was notified by the Wayne County Road Commission, operator of the system, that the sewer rate would be increased by 89 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. The hike will be on water (Continued on Page 2)

GPS Postpones Decision On Vernier Speed Limit

By James J. Njaim

The Shores Council at its regular meeting on Tuesday morning, August 16, postponed its decision on whether or not to lower the speed limit from 35 to 25 mph on Vernier road within the Village limits.

Residents advocating the reduction will be given copies of a survey conducted by the public safety department and the Automobile Club of Michigan to study. Village President Gerald C. Schroeder said the survey can be studied by the citizens and be brought up for further discussion at the council's next scheduled meeting Tuesday, September 20, at 8:30 a.m.

If need be, Mr. Schroeder said, a second survey will be conducted and the residents can pick the section of the road from which the study can be conducted. This offer was made when it was protested that the study was made too close to the old Vernier School building.

At a meeting on June 21, residents living in Vernier, Willson and Michaux roads presented the council with a 46-signature petition requesting the cut in the speed.

The petition cited, among other points that numerous people, including 50 school children, walk along and cross the road during peak traffic hours; that the road within the Village limits is too narrow and speed reduction would create better traffic (Continued on Page 8)

Board Prexy Expresses Disappointment over 'Silent' Hearing

By Susan McDonald

It may have been vacation time for many Pointers or just a general apathy, but whatever the cause, the controversy that has surrounded Board of Education proceedings lately seems to have disappeared.

The trustees planned a public hearing on their new $23.7 million budget Monday, August 22, but the public didn't come.

Just a handful of school employees were present at Board offices for the 8 p.m. session. The Board plans to formally approve the document at its Monday, September 12, meeting.

Board President John Bruce said he was disappointed that more citizens didn't participate in the budget proceedings. "It was an ideal time for them to have important input," he said.

Maintain Curriculum

The proposed budget includes a 10.9 percent increase in spending in general fund accounts next year, without providing any major new programs. According to School Finance Director Thomas Ott, the increase is largely due to personnel cost. "The contract settlement, (with the Grosse Pointe Education Assoc.), alone would have called for a 9.5 percent increase in the budget. If nothing else had gone up," according to Mr. Ott.

The Board will pay an additional $1.8 million to employ in salaries and fringe benefits, (including dental and optical insurance plans), in addition to new, state-mandated retirement programs.

Basically, the Board tried to stick to the commitment it made to voters during last spring's millage campaign to maintain program levels with a tax renewal.

"We told voters we would only need a millage renewal to continue current programs—and that's just what we're trying to do, maintain the curriculum with no major changes," said Mr. Bruce.

Some improvements are planned for, including additional help to both high school newspapers that ran into financial trouble last spring. Both publications will receive an extra $2,000 allocation next year.

Justify Costs

The Board also plans to start paying for substitutes during educational trips—a cost formerly financed by the students themselves. The summer program for trainable mentally impaired students will be paid for by the (Continued on Page 2)

Field Day Set By Metro Club

The Grosse Pointe Metropolitan Club, made up of policemen and firefighters from all the Pointes, will sponsor its 36th Annual Field Day for local children on Saturday, August 27, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Parents and kids are invited to the Brownell Middle School playground, 260 Chalfonte avenue, to enjoy a variety of games, moonwalk, the American Legion 40 and 8 train and clowns from the metro club—all for free. Admission is by park pass.

In addition to entertainment, popcorn, ice cream, cotton candy and prizes will be featured.

Co-chairmen of the field day are Assistant Chief Dave Taylor, of the Park Fire Department, and a firefighter Richard Tucker, of The City. Many local merchants also have contributed to the event.

Tickets for a grand award from the Metro Club may be purchased from any local policemen and firemen.

For example Mort Schrader combines a wineberry plaid one button blazer, paisley blouse with distinctive tucking and a slightly flared tweed skirt. The shorter jacket is an important one this fall. We like the gray herringbone jaunty jacket with black braid that goes with an eased skirt with braid and a gray and red plaid scarf.

By Janet Mueller

Consensus is general. "I'll miss the young people," says Gail Wog. "I'll really miss the daily associations with the kids," says Kay Sheedy. "What will I miss? The kids—and the association with some of the nice staff I have worked with all over the system: I substituted for many years, you know," says Lois Blackburn.

Here's Evelyn Toll speaking. "I hate to leave the staff and students at Brownell—it became my home away from home—but there are so many things to look forward to."

Consensus on Mrs. Toll's second point is general, too. Gail is looking forward to having time to carry through projects in a normal amount of time. Like many busy people, Miss Wog would sometimes start something, then have to drop it when something else came up... and her private projects tended to stretch on, and on...

A Chance to Sleep. Lois relishes the thought of "not having to get out in the morning and be someplace RIGHT NOW!" For Kay, retirement heaven is "sleeping in — and NO papers."

Evelyn will love waking up next winter on a dark morning... and turning over and closing her eyes. "I'm looking forward to sleeping in on ice-cold mornings — or going south."

Mrs. Toll is taking early retirement after 24 years of service in Grosse Pointe, 19 of them at Brownell. She came to teach at Pierce Junior High in 1953 and switched to Brownell when it opened.

Her background is Pennsylvania Dutch, her family came to the United States before it was the United States, in 1723, and she was born in Albion, Ind., but she grew up in Canada.

Educated in Canada. "My father transferred to Ford Motor of Canada when I was six years old, so I went all through the Canadian school system. My mother still lives in Windsor."

She was graduated from Walkerville Collegiate Institute in Walkerville, Ont., and received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Toronto, where her undergraduate majors were Household Arts, Science and English.

Armed with that B.A., she traveled through Michigan for the A&P Tea Company and helped start Woman's Day Magazine, which began as a four-page mimeo sheet of recipes — many of them Evelyn's originals.

Then she became Mrs. Benson Toll, and then came the children, Henry Benson, Jon Robert and Barbara Lynn, and then came a Girl Scout chairmanship, and presidency of the Ives PTA. An interest in children and education led to a desire for a teaching certificate and later to a Masters degree from Wayne State University. Evelyn has credits from the University of Michigan, too.

"I did my student teaching under Claudia Greenhoe at Pierce School, and then was hired to teach Homemaking at Pierce."

They Love to Travel. Mr. Toll retired two years ago from the J. L. Hudson Company. He and Evelyn love to travel. They've visited England, Scotland, Holland, Germany, Italy, Austria, Switzerland, Spain, Hawaii and the Bahamas, and this fall, when the school bells ring but not for Evelyn, they'll be off to the Orient.

"We will have time to enjoy our children, (all three are teachers), their spouses and our five lovely grandchildren, and for our hobbies: bowling, gardening, traveling, crafts, card playing, entertaining, reading."

"They'll be staying in St. Clair Shores. I'm not going to leave my garden and my house," Evelyn says firmly. They'll share kitchen responsibilities. They have ever since Mr. Toll retired, and his wife taught him how to cook.

And what that proves is that Benson Toll is very much with it: these days, the household arts are unisex activities. When Evelyn started as a teacher, no boy in his right mind would have been caught dead in a Homemaking class.

Boys Want to Cook. Last year, 24 out of her 28 Teen Cooking students were boys.

Evelyn has noticed a change in student attitudes since the turbulent 60's. "My seventh grade girls are polite, interested, eager."

Gail Wog agrees. "I'm finding the youngsters a bit more serious, more courteous, better-behaved, more interested in learning."

Miss Wog has seen other changes in the school system over the years. "Of course, the growth: when I came, there was one high school. There was one junior high school. There were not very many elementary schools. I knew most of the elementary school teachers. We all rode the bus together in the mornings."

She foresees another change. "I've been listening to the projected numbers, (of school children), for 1985. It sounds like 1945."

Gail, born in Redwood County, Minn., was graduated from Mankato High School in Mankato, Minn., and from Mankato State Teachers College. Her undergraduate major was Geography, her minors Social Science and Music.

Has Masters Degree. She earned her Masters degree at the University of Wisconsin, and also has credits from Michigan and Wayne State Universities, the University of Michigan and the University of Washington.

She came to Grosse Pointe in 1945 as a Social Studies teacher, after service as a Social Studies teacher in Fairbault, Minn. She became a counselor at Parcels in 1952.

She's staying on in her St. Clair Shores apartment. "The first thing I plan to do is get re-acquainted with Detroit." Gail wants to visit the Detroit Institute of Arts "when it's not busy." She wants to "see some of those lovely churches." And she most definitely wants to re-familiarize herself with the waterfront, to check out the ships from all over the world that stop at/pass through Detroit.

"There used to be the loveliest loading dock for Detroit News print." Gail's been a counselor for years now, but the Geography major/Social Studies teacher still feels the romance of ports and cargos. Books, Bridge, Cooking.

She's looking forward to time for reading, playing bridge and cooking. She has a few mini-trips scheduled for the coming year, to Dallas, Minnesota and California, but nothing major. The world will have to wait until after Retirement Year One. "Then I'll decide."

Lois Blackburn has no definite future plans either. She knows she'll be staying on in Rivard boulevard: Grosse Pointe is, after all, home.

Lois, born in Zanesville, O., is a Grosse Pointe High School graduate. She received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Denison University, and has studied at Oakland and Wayne State Universities.

She began substitute teaching in The Pointe in 1935. She has had many full-time substitute assignments. She's retiring as a third grade teacher at Richard.

Lois was involved in Scouting for many years, and has served as a Red Cross volunteer. She and her husband, the late Paul Blackburn, had four children, two sons and two daughters, all married now and scattered, in Indiana, Ohio and out Ann Arbor way. One daughter lives in The Pointe.

Mrs. Blackburn is a grandmother eight times over.

Hello, World! Kay Sheedy is moving on. For Miss Sheedy, Business Education Department chairman at Grosse Pointe South High School until this June, that's nothing new.

Kay's never been one to sit by the fire and spin. She's a round-the-world traveler, likely to turn up anywhere and everywhere, from Europe to Mexico, Scandinavia to the Middle East.

Sabbatical leave for half of the 1967-68 year found her visiting vocational and technical secondary schools in Australia, New Zealand, Israel, Lebanon, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium and England.

That same year, she participated in a Retail Training Program conducted by Lazarus Department Store and Ohio State University.

She'd love to return to Africa, "under different circumstances than the present," and to Upper Norway, and she's never really seen enough of South America. The Galapagos and Easter Island are two "musts" on her list of still-to-come destinations.

Back to Ohio. Kay's leaving her apartment in Rivard boulevard and returning to Ohio, where her parents still live. She was born in Knox County, O., graduated from Centerville (O.) High School and received her Bachelor of Science degree from Ohio University in Athens. History was her undergraduate major.

She also attended Ohio Wesleyan University as an undergraduate, and has a Master of Arts from Ohio State University.

She's completed other course work at Wayne and Michigan State Universities, the University of Michigan and Kent State University.

Grosse Pointe South High School graduate KRISTINE CARPENTER, daughter of ANNE CARPENTER, of Lincoln road, has received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Interior Design and Home Economics from Adrian College, where she was a Chi Omega social sorority officer, Home Economics Club member, Panhellenic Council representative for four years and a Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity "little sister." At South High, she was involved in the school's cooperative program at Teetzel Company. Her Adrian studies included an internship at J. L. Hudson's Design Studio in Toledo and an independent project in which she decorated portions of an Adrian home constructed by a vocational-technical center students.

Navy Lieutenant PAUL R. GIFT, whose wife POLLY is the daughter of Pointers MR. and MRS. DANIEL W. MCKINLEY, was promoted to his present rank while serving with Patrol Squadron Four, Naval Air Station, Barbers Point, Hawaii.

Attending active duty training with the Air National Guard at Phelps Collins Air National Guard Base in Alpena was Staff Sergeant MYRON E. RANNEY, of South Renaud road. He is a Communications Center Specialist for the 127th Communications Flight.

History major HUGH JOHN HALES, II, of Sunningdale drive, has received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Blackburn College, Carlinville, Ill.

MR. and MRS. GARY CUNNINGHAM, of Somerset road, announce the birth of a daughter, SARAH EMILY, May 11. Mrs. Cunningham is the former SHEILA RAPPAN, daughter of MRS. WILLIAM W. RAPPAN, of Madison road. Paternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. BRUCE CUNNINGHAM, of Fisher road. Sarah has a big sister, HEATHER.

MR. and MRS. ROBERT L. HYNOS, Jr., of Meadow lane, announce the birth of a son, EMMETT SCOTT, July 18. Mrs. Hynos is the former ELIZABETH CLUGSTON, daughter of MR. and MRS. DUDLEY NELSON CLUGSTON, of Adamantina, Australia. Paternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. ROBERT L. HYNOS, of Mount Clemens.

Airman MICHAEL J. HEYMES, an Austin Catholic Prep School graduate who attended Wayne State University, son of MR. and MRS. JAMES D. HEYMES, of Balfour

Kay left Wooster, O., where she'd been teaching business subjects, in 1933, to come to Grosse Pointe as a teacher of Business Education.

Now she's going back to Westerville, just north of Columbus. She's been asked to assist the local historical society. "I'll be sort of a secretary... We're setting up a little museum, so I'll really be busy!"

Has Other Interests. It's unlikely she'll stay still enough to let the dust settle. "I love history, and I like gardening, and reading—and I'm a very poor card player, but I love it: I'm going to try again."

Through the years, Kay has been active in Delta Kappa Gamma honorary society for women educators, and has enjoyed her membership in the Grosse Pointe Sororist Club.

At one point, she and Gail Wog were out to make a million as fellow members of an Investment Club. They never did become independently wealthy, but they learned... and when the time to cash in came, they hadn't lost.

Like Gail and Evelyn, Kay's come to the conclusion that the bad years were the 60's. She's found her 60's students progressively more cooperative.

She's enjoyed Grosse Pointe, and she knows she'll miss the area, "but I'm going to one much like it: a small, college town—Westerville is the home of Otterbein College — where the living is very relaxed, the pace leisurely."

And if things become TOO relaxed, Kay can always shake the dust of Ohio from her feet and head for Tierra del Fuego.

Current president of the Assistance League is Jeanne (Mrs. Philip J.) Meathe, who is VERY proud of her 250 volunteer members who have pledged themselves to raise $300,000 for Bon Secours during a five-year period.

Ready now for a little more "once upon a time?" It was shortly after the turn of the century—in 1909, to be exact—that Mother Urban brought her little band of Bon Secours Sisters from Boston to Detroit.

They came to nurse the sick and aged. They went forth to provide care in private homes, whenever and wherever needed.

They established their general hospital in Grosse Pointe in 1945. They built it in Cadieux road, on a five-acre site, as a 35-bed facility.

Today, in 1977, Bon Secours is in the process of completing building expansion that will make it a 320-bed hospital, and will enable the Sisters to further carry on the vow of their profession: "To Serve to the Best of My Ability the Sick to Whom I Shall be Sent."

The Assistance League is helping, substantially. Last year, the League donated $90,000, realized through projects involving cultural community activities, to the Bon Secours Building Fund.

Fall Art Festival

The evening of September 10 is taken, with the Bon Secours benefit at Jacobson's, but why not plan to make a day of it, and spend the day at the 18th Annual Grosse Pointe Fall Art Festival?

It opens at 10 in the morning on the beautiful lawns of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. It closes at 5 o'clock. That leaves two whole hours to rest and dress for Kasper...

The festival is co-sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Artists Association and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

One hundred and eighty local and outstate artists and craftsmen will be exhibiting. There'll be prizes and demonstrations. Light lunches will be available.

The carillon will be peeling forth from neighboring Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, where visitors will be welcome in the tower to watch the musicians.

Water, Sewer Hike Approved by Woods, Shores

(Continued from Page 1) the city is billed for by the system "which means we will need an additional amount to pay on the excess flow of water which develops from rains and snow over and above the amount we receive through the water lines."

At the same time, Mr. Hornfisher noted a 50-cent charge passed on by Detroit to cover additional costs of excess flow, (e.g., rain, snow, et al.), was incorporated into the city's increase, along with 69 cents per 1,000 cubic feet toward replacing the sanitary and sewer lines and to pay for the excess flow of water.

The 69-cent hike, he said, would be utilized toward the maintenance of water and sewer lines and to cover a $50,000 loss in the water and sewer department last year.

This loss was suffered primarily because of broken water mains due to the severe winter. In fact, Mr. Hornfisher said the city's loss rate reached 10 percent last year in comparison to the normal annual rates of six to seven percent.

This loss percentage is figured on the purchase and sale of water for which the city is charged and which is not reflected in a citizen's bill, he stated.

Costs to Village

As part of the resolution increasing the water-sewer charges, all such bills must be rendered quarterly by the Division of Water Service of the Department of Public Works, and must be due and payable on the 15th day of the month following the end of the quarter.

A penalty of 10 percent of the bill's amount will be added in the event the bill is not paid on or before the due date.

Art Center

Schom, Renee Adams Schulte, V. Durbin Thibodeau, Frank Varga, Emil Weddige and Robert J. Wilbert. Refreshments will follow.

The new Center for Arts and Crafts is an extension of Alger House. It will be possible to house five art classes simultaneously, plus display major exhibits from the Smithsonian Institute's collection, the International Exhibit Foundation and the Detroit Institute of Art as well as one man shows by noted artists.

The War Memorial Assoc. has equipped the building with four harness Macomber looms for the instructor in weaving, kilns and materials for jewelry making and enameling, sinks for sculpture, wash-up rooms for brushes and palettes, storage for paintings in progress and an office for instructors.

Different art classes will launch the educational offerings in the building.

They include Beginning and Intermediate Painting, (mornings and evenings), Basic Drawing, Painting Composition in Oil and Acrylics, Portrait Painting and Drawing, Miniatures, Water Color, (mornings and evening classes), and Water Color—A Creative Approach.

Others are Multi Media—An Advanced Class, Calligraphy, Sculpture, Weaving, Pottery, (Decoupage on Glass), Gold Leafing and Etching, (mornings and evening), Jewelry and Enameling, (afternoon and evening), Exploring the Exciting World of Art, Picture Framing and Children's Art Classes, (ages six through young adults).

Meanwhile, Shores Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis said 83 cents of the total $1 increase was passed on from Detroit to the NSDS and thus to the Village.

The other 17 cents was incorporated to cover costs incurred by the community itself, he noted. This includes water losses, along with increased Edison rates, (Edison power is used to pump sewage.)

For his part, Mr. Petersen, in commenting upon the increase, said, "Our minimum water bill per month is still less than $4 which is better than most cities throughout the country."

May Seek Study

On the consumption front, he noted that in 1976 and 1975 total consumption was within 3,000,000 gallons each year. "Undoubtedly, because of the bad dry weather, consumption for this summer will be higher than last summer," he said.

However, an increase in rates usually lowers consumption, continued Mr. Petersen, who felt within the next two years sewer rate costs could triple, while water costs also will increase.

Because of this rising cost outlook, Mr. Petersen said he may ask the city engineering firm of Pate, Hirm and Bogue to make a feasibility study regarding the possibility of converting the big Milk River Pumping Station into a sewage disposal treatment plant "of our own" incorporating advanced technology.

Aware of citizen complaints in the past regarding odors from the pumping station area, he stressed that the considered treatment plant would be compatible with the high density environment and not be offensive in any way.

If such a proposal becomes a reality in the future, Mr. Petersen indicated the costs would be shared between his city and Harper Woods, which both utilize the Milk River Pumping Station.

Similar Hikes Seen

He also noted that the Milk River Drain Commission has been requested by the Department of Natural Resources to prepare a feasibility report focusing upon measures to be taken to prevent occasional spills into Lake St. Clair. Mr. Petersen said this occurs less than 12 times a year, while noting retention basins already have been installed.

The rate increases in The Woods and Shores are mainly the result of the EPA suit charging Detroit with failing to comply with regulations on pollution standards at its downriver sewage treatment facility.

As part of an out-of-court settlement with the EPA, Detroit has proposed a 93 percent rate increase to all the 74 suburbs that are tied into its system.

The suit also affects The Farms, City and Park, but officials in those three cities are holding off on any rate increases until the suit is resolved.

Detroit's proposed 93 percent hike would translate into net increases of from 31 to 39 percent in The Farms, City and Park—roughly equal to those in The Woods.

But officials in the three municipalities want to see several issues resolved before they recommend rate hikes, although all three city managers concede some increase is inevitable.

"Blank Check"

One of those issues revolves around Detroit's right to further increase the rates in coming years. Attorney Peter Short said at a recent City Council meeting that Detroit is virtually "asking for a blank check for increases in the second and third year."

Those rate hikes also could be as high as 93 percent, and may pose a considerable burden to the average Pointe customer.

Some of the suburbs also are seeking more input into the rate setting process in Detroit to control future requests for more money.

There are proposals to increase suburban representation on the Board of Water Commissioners and to schedule outside audits of the Detroit plant's financial records as well.

"Basically we want to stay involved in the EPA suit to protect the rights of our citizens," said Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer. "There is no question we're eventually going to have to pass on some kind of increase to our citizens, but we want to make sure it's a fair one."

Mr. Bremer said Farms residents would pay an increase that would be "somewhere in the 30's."

In The Park, City Manager Robert A. Slone said if the proposed 93 percent hike stands, Park residents will have to pay about 39 percent more on their combined water-sewer bills.

In The City that settlement could result in a 32 percent increase.

Quiet Budget Hearing

schools next year, (with some help from the county), along with a new writing class for high school 10th graders.

The budget also provides for a continuation of English as a second language program, as well as additional personnel in vocational programs.

But some cutbacks were made as well, most in the area of capital improvements.

To stay within the limits of their millage commitments, the trustees attempted to build a "zero-based" budget this year, according to Mr. Ott.

"Essentially, we told the principals and department heads that next year you don't have any money, now you have to come up with a cost for every program and justify it."

Start Out Fresh

"We tried to start out fresh with many of the accounts to avoid just automatically increasing everything because of inflation."

As a result, Mr. Bruce and Mr. Ott both feel the document more accurately meets program needs in specific areas.

The budget planning process began in January and ended last week with three straight nights of review by Board members, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 15, 16 and 17.

A few residents attended some of those meetings, including representatives of the Grosse Pointe Assoc. for Retarded Citizens and Hal Suminski, who recently proposed an expansion of middle school athletic programs.

One of the most difficult issues the Board grappled with at those meetings was a North High Booster Club request for $15,000 in matching funds to build a storage and concession stand on the North football field.

Trustee William Fleming, at least, said he considered the matter a "volatile political issue."

Although capital improvements were cutback severely, it was clear that most Board members were interested in working out an acceptable compromise with the boosters for the stand.

The budget proposal calls for a $10,000 allocation to the North "special project" with a commitment from the Boosters to repay $5,000 a year for the next two years.

A sellout benefit bridge luncheon and raffle in the Center's Crystal Ballroom and formal gardens, organized by Mrs. William Kabbush and her committee has put the War Memorial's 1977 fund drive over the top.

The ladies turned in a total of $2,237 after expenses and both they and those attending had a great time doing it, says the Center.

The War Memorial's necessary goal to operate from August 1977 through July 1978 was $145,000. With the benefit proceeds, $146,621.32 has been contributed by 6,270 donors with many more gifts still expected.

In addition to the luncheon prepared and served by Natalie Patten, the Center's cateress, the party was made a great success through the gifts of many Pointe area merchants who contributed a galaxy of prizes.

Asked to Talk at Conference

The planning committee for the Area V Conference of the National Retired Teachers Assoc. and the American Assoc. of Retired Persons, (AARP), set for Wednesday-Friday, September 14-16, in Cincinnati, O., has invited Mrs. Nora Blixt, of Vernier road, to participate at a special interest session on "People Who Live Alone: Widowed Persons Service."

Her invitation stated, "We would like to utilize your experience and expertise to enlighten our membership about programs for widowed persons and any general considerations with respect to widowhood you feel is appropriate."

Mrs. Blixt says her interest in organizing a widowed service program in The Pointe area was sparked by attending a seminar and workshop at Schoolcraft College in fall 1975.

He began his banking career in 1953 with Industrial National Bank and became associated with Manufacturers in 1955 when the two firms consolidated.

He became chairman of the board in 1973.

Suspects in Robbery Of Store Identified

Two suspects who allegedly held up Bijouterie, Inc., 19860 Mack avenue, on July 2 and took an estimated $115,000 in precious stones and around $3,000 in cash have been identified, according to Woods police.

Det. Charles Philip Hamel received information on Tuesday, August 16, from the armed robbery unit, Detroit Police Headquarters, that the female suspect, Suzanne Barber, 28, of 14909 Washburn, Detroit, was arrested in connection with an armed robbery in Detroit.

Detroit police then learned that she and Roderick Simpson, 26, of 16934 San Juan, Detroit, were allegedly involved in The Woods incident after questioning witnesses.

After receiving a consent to search form for her home, police discovered the dress and wig described in The Woods robbery.

At the same time, Det. Hamel took print cards on both suspects to the Michigan State Police Crime Lab to be compared with print lifts taken at Bijouterie. Michael Link, latent print specialist, said he matched latent prints of Miss Barber with one which had been lifted at the jewelry store.

Det. Hamel said warrants charging the pair with robbery armed with a gun were obtained from the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office on Thursday, August 18. Miss Barber was arraigned on the charge before Woods Municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis in Detroit Recorder's Court.

She was placed on a $15,000 bond, two sureties or 10 percent, and was held in lieu of bond in the Wayne County Jail, pending her examination before Judge Denis, which was scheduled for yesterday, August 24.

Meanwhile, Simpson remains at large, according to the detective.

An estimated $2,000 in missing jewels were identified by Bijouterie's owner after Detroit's 12th Precinct told Woods police that four men arrested on July 11 were found to be in possession of several jewels not in settings.

Precious stones taken during the incident included diamonds, sapphires, rubies and opals.

Armed Bandits Rob Cleaners

Park police are looking for two men who held up the Conner Cleaners, 15124 Mack avenue, at gun point on Saturday, August 20, reported Lt. Gordon Duncan.

According to information given by the daughter of the owners, two well-dressed black males entered the place at about 5:11 p.m. and asked for several articles of clothing, supposedly left there for cleaning.

When the daughter asked for identification and receipt, one of the robbers pulled out a blue steel .38 caliber revolver, announced a holdup and forced the women to open the cash register.

When the bandits reached over the counter and grabbed eight singles and two five-dollar bills and then the pair fled out the front door. They were seen running west on Mack and then north on Wayburn before they disappeared.

The parents of the woman were in the rear of the building when the holdup took place. They were unaware anything was wrong until their daughter told them what had occurred.

The father grabbed a firearm from the rear of the store and ran out the door, but by that time, the bandit duo had disappeared. In the meantime police were called.

Lt. Duncan said the first man was described as being between 5'11" to 6' tall, weighing about 150 pounds, about 17-years-old with kinky hair and medium dark skin. He was wearing tan striped trousers, a white dress shirt, a orange-tan colored hat and dark sunglasses.

His companion was described as being of the height, weight and complexion. He also had kinky hair and wore sunglasses. He was wearing a black and gray striped shirt and black trousers.

Proposal to Double Parking Rates Defeated

Training Act), program," he stated.

During the aforementioned period, the best year was 1974 when a net income of $48,364 was obtained. Last year, a total of $1,973 was gained. That would have been greater if a $19,923 expense for crossing guards wasn't included in the parking fund, (such an expense wasn't incorporated from 1972-76.)

Mr. Petersen noted that the council approved the inclusion of the crossing guard cost in the budget as a legitimate expense charged to the parking meter fund to offset an increase in the general tax levy.

As provided by city code, Mr. Petersen stated, "The parking enterprise fund is supposedly to be self supporting and should not be subsidized by the general fund to provide, maintain and/or expand vehicle parking spaces for the benefit of customers, patients and patrons of private business."

He also felt "if a majority of the Mack avenue business community expects the city to assume the responsibility for providing and maintaining additional off-street parking facilities, such additional facilities will have to be either financed from the revenues generated by the parking meter system or the lots could be financed by the creation of special assessment districts."

Last Hike in 1968

In the latter case, businesses benefiting from the construction of an off-street parking lot would pay for acquisition, plus construction costs.

Parking meters were initially installed along Mack in 1954. Rates at that time were one cent for 12 minutes, five cents for one hour and 10 cents for two hours.

The first increase was adopted by the council in 1968 with the charges still in effect. Current rates are one penny for six minutes, five cents for 30 minutes and 10 cents for one hour.

At the same time, rates for some off-street lots and side street parking bays also were adopted in 1968. These include five cents for two hours, 10 cents for four hours and 25 cents for 10 hours.

Besides the need for funds for proposed parking expansion, Mr. Petersen noted that the parking enterprise fund has suffered from inflation with salaries and fringe benefits over the past 10 years increasing "substantially." Increased postage and printing costs also have eroded the revenue base of the parking system, he noted.

Seeks One Lot

Since the 1968 rate increase, Mr. Petersen pointed out that the city has been able to increase the number of available metered parking spaces from 597 to 860. This jump of 263 additional spaces for the Mack business community resulted from the construction of additional off-street parking lots and on-street parking bays.

(The last off-street lot up to now was constructed at Mack and Newcastle at an estimated cost of around $50,000 including land acquisition, installation of walls and meters, et al., said Mr. Petersen.)

He hoped one additional off-street lot could be constructed this year to service businesses on the east side of Mack. Some $50,000 for the acquisition, construction and equipment is included in the current capital improvement budget for this purpose.

"This proposed lot will be financed entirely from the surplus reserves built up through the years from the parking system for this purpose and such will practically deplete our reserves for future expansion of the parking system," stated Mr. Petersen.

Looking ahead, he noted through the acquisition and construction of two additional off-street parking lots on Mack's east side between the south corporate limits and Verner at an approximate cost of $165,000, all on-street parking on Mack within this area could be eliminated.

More in Future

This, he felt, would provide for improved traffic flow, plus better safety features along this stretch.

"Likewise, it is proposed to acquire and construct another five off-street parking lots costing an estimated $507,938 on the west side of Mack avenue within the next 10 years," he stated.

The construction of these eight additional lots would provide an estimated 348 additional parking spaces. For such a program, he said the city must increase its revenue base.

However, the merchants felt the proposed doubling of rates wouldn't be beneficial to their businesses.

Paul McCarthy, president of the Grosse Pointe Merchants Assoc., acknowledged that many merchants have cited parking as their biggest problem, while noting the proposal would have a bad psychological effect, and be detrimental to the business community.

Some even felt, if the rates were doubled, that prospective customers would be driven away to shop in other areas, e.g., Eastland, where there are no meters, while the convenience of shopping locally would be lost.

Andy Bonior, a member of the association's board of directors, suggested that the violators pay by doubling the fines and the prepaid postage.

Consider Plight

Meanwhile, in communications received by the council, Barbara Dinkel, association corresponding secretary, said the proposed hike "would create bad relations with our customers and result in a decline in business on Mack avenue."

She added, "We are extremely disappointed that the council would consider such a measure without consulting the merchants of Mack avenue."

Robert E. Mozena, another merchant, stated the proposed resolution wouldn't help to hold inflation down, while Elizabeth S. LeBlanc, secretary, First Church of Christ, Scientist, 282 Chalfonte avenue, stated she hoped that the council, in arriving at its decision, would show concern "for the plight of the Mack avenue businesses whose taxes must represent a considerable portion of the city's gross revenue."

"It is our opinion that anything that threatens the vitality of the Mack avenue corridor should be avoided." During the discussion, Councilman John Sabol asked Mr. McCarthy if the merchants themselves ever discussed the possibility of financing a parking lot.

Saying that this matter hasn't been explored, Mr. McCarthy felt it would be impractical if such a lot only served a two-block area, i.e., around 20 businesses, rather than some 40 stores.

Eyes "Status Quo"

Indicating he wasn't in favor of hiking the rates at this time, Councilman George S. Freeman made the motion to keep the fees the same, eliminate the prepaid postage feature, (which became a reality in the early 1960's), and to increase violation fees, while looking at proposed increases on an ongoing basis.

For his part, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, in saying he preferred to maintain a "status quo" condition, asked Mr. Petersen to submit further reports in the future on items which the city administrator felt should be considered by the council in this area. On the subject of violations, Mr. Petersen informed the council of those who received them, an estimated 35-40 percent are non-residents, that the payment of fines under the present rate system is good overall and that, while the delinquency rate would be expected to increase when the new violation costs go up, the city should still be on the plus side.

Saying the city will still try to acquire the one off-street lot this year, Mr. Petersen said three alternatives toward the parking expansion program can be considered in light of the decision to maintain the current rates.

First, he said no additional off-street lots would be acquired and developed in the future "unless we can offset our losses" while not setting $18,000 has been set aside in the present budget for the maintenance and repair of lots and meters.

Will Come a Day

Second, if the financial picture turns around and some surplus funds are acquired, parking program expansion could be conducted on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Third, he said the council can set up a special benefit district toward acquiring, by purchase or condemnation, sites for off-street parking, charging the costs back to abutting commercial properties benefiting from such construction. This action would require public hearings.

"There will come a day when on-street parking on Mack will have to be eliminated to accommodate the flow of traffic," mused Mr. Petersen.

"All we can try to do is to plan ahead so we can provide necessary off-street parking, which is needed."

Doctor Dies in Lake Mishap

The damage done to Dr. James Nelson's automobile reflects the force with which it hit the breakwater on Lakeshore road. The vinyl was stripped off the roof after the car slid 75-feet. All windows and glass were shattered and the interior seats were ripped by flying particles of metal. Only the steering wheel and rear lights were found totally intact. Dr. Nelson died 45 hours after the accident, which occurred Saturday, August 20, around 5:54 a.m., at Henry Ford Hospital.

Accident

ported the victim to Cottage Hospital.

A blood-alcohol test showed he had not been drinking. Cpl. Glanert and Patrolman Deburghgraeve returned to the scene with scuba gear, and E and H Hoisting Services, Inc., of Roseville, had arrived to retrieve the car. Sgt. Gary Luzier of the fire department also was there to assist, while other Pointe fire and police departments were standing by.

The car was recovered and taken to The Farms police station.

At 3 p.m. Saturday, Dr. Nelson was transported to Henry Ford Hospital. He died at 3:30 a.m. on Monday.

Farms police are still investigating Dr. Nelson's whereabouts before the accident. He had left Ford Hospital at 5 p.m. on Friday and did not go home. His wife, also a doctor at Ford, called the hospital at 9 p.m. that night and was informed he had left.

The next time Dr. Nelson was heard of was 12 hours later when his car plunged into the lake.

Cpl. Glanert and Patrolman Deburghgraeve have been recommended by Chief Ferber for "Lifesaving Awards."

"They thought clearly and acted efficiently," Chief Ferber said. "They both did an outstanding job. They did everything they could to save that man's life."

Telephone Reassurance

he will be out of range of the telephone at the appointed time.

Seniors wishing to participate in the service will have to give necessary information to the coordinator.

Citizens should call the re-assurance phone number if they desire to participate or have any questions.

Hill Plan

the city could deal with the changes. It would also involve an evaluation of the parking situation.

2) Feasibility study, estimated cost, $25,000 to $30,000. This is necessary to determine the effects of the development on the area, i.e., will the benefits derived by the merchants, property owners, school system, et al., be large enough to warrant the cost of the project.

Financing the project also is the major concern. Mr. Bremer's memo included several suggestions in that area, including the following:

• The Downtown Development Authority.

A.) With approval from the council, the authority may levy an ad valorem tax, not exceeding two mills on taxable property within the district.

B.) Tax increment financing would create increases in tax revenues.

View Realities

C.) Tax increment bonds would utilize the aforementioned tax increment revenues to meet debt service payments, but also requires full faith and credit as additional security.

D.) Revenue bonds. Improvement must be revenue-producing, such as a parking lot.

• Economic Development Corporation Act.

• Grants, such as the Community Development Block Grant.

• Special Assessment District.

• General Obligation Bonds.

"All who have viewed the proposed plan of development have exhibited a great deal of enthusiasm regarding its potential to improve the 'On-the-Hill' area," Mr. Bremer concluded.

"We share this enthusiasm, but recognize that the realities of the situation must also be explored."

MOVIE CLASSICS KEPT ALIVE

Fifty years ago in October, Warner Brothers-First National Films released "The Jazz Singer," advertised as the first all-talking film even though dialogue was limited to 291 words. The Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, keeps the memory of the film classics alive with their Famous Early Movies series. This October they feature the 1926 classic, "Don Juan," which had a musical score synchronized to part of the film, predating "The Jazz Singer" by almost a year.

by John Lundberg

Any wine can be labelled Bordeaux as long as it is grown and bottled in the Bordeaux region as designated by law. But because something is labelled Bordeaux, it does not mean it is going to be a great wine. The Bordeaux region is divided, again by law, into smaller regions or districts, and these district names are also on the bottle. Of course, the wine varies from district to district, but there are four Bordeaux districts that can guarantee excellent wines almost every time. They are: Medoc, Graves, St.-Emilion, and Pomerol. These areas are known for their reds and whites and a dinner served with one of these wines is bound to be a taste experience.

Wine appreciation can be a beautiful experience, and we at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 can guide you in the selection of the best wine to suit your taste. We feature an extensive selection of imported and domestic wines. And for your Labor Day cookout, ask us about serving keg beer to your guests. Open: 10-10 Mon.-Thurs., 10-11 Fri., Sat.

GPT Members Pool Talents for Film

The life of a filmmaker is definitely satisfying from a creative standpoint but it also is decidedly frenetic. DENNIS WICKLINE, (foreground), director and writer of "Sheer Luck Holmes and the Pithenstein Sword," will attest to that as he prepares to shoot a scene at Lambardi's Restaurant, 17125 East Warren, Detroit, on Wednesday evening, August 17. Utilizing the talents of Grosse Pointe Theater, (GPT), members in front of and behind the camera, the film is basically being done as a training experience.

'Sheer Luck' to Save Day
In GPT Members' Romp

By Wendy K. Settle
"Give my regards to Broad- way, remember me to Harold Square, tell all the gang at Forty-second street, that I will soon be there!"

No this is not an excerpt from "That's Entertainment, Part II." But it is one of the numbers in "Sheer Luck Holmes and the Pithenstein Sword."

Sheer Luck, who? and the Pithenstein, what? Sounds ridiculous, you say? Well, let me explain. It's really elementary, Witson!

Many of the members of the Grosse Pointe Theater, (GPT), are presently involved in the production of the movie, "Sheer Luck Holmes and the Pithenstein Sword." Known as "Sheer Luck," for short.

The story is an original farce, written by Dennis Wickline and Dale Pegg of GPT. The screenplay was written by Mr. Wickline.

There are 36 characters in the movie and the plot is as long as the list of characters, and a lot more involved. It's no wonder that the film may last an hour and a half.

It would be impossible to tell the whole delightfully intricate story, but here are the basics.

Picture a tiny, scenic European country, called Pithenstein. Now, this country is small but very rich with silver deposits. Because of all the silver, the country's symbol is a pure silver sword.

In order for the King to rule, he must have at all times, the sword in his possession.

Everything in Pithenstein is fine until the King and Queen have twin boys. Since only one can rule, when their parents die, one son leaves, goes to Hollywood and becomes a filmmaker.

To make a long story short, the filmmaker makes a film about the Pithenstein sword, and, in the process, the sword is stolen.

The chase begins, and as you probably guessed, this is where Sheer Luck Holmes comes in with his side kick, Jimmy Witson.

As the old saying goes, "it's elementary," but it's not. During the course of the movie Sheer Luck and Witson run into everything from pies-in-the-face to policemen hand-cuffed to toilet seats. They also encounter every one of those 36 characters, including a chicken, (played by the director's wife . . . type casting?).

The director is Mr. Wickline and the producer is Mr. Pegg, who also is the cameraman and technical director.

The financial backers wished to remain anonymous.

Mr. Wickline and Mr. Pegg see the movie as a training experience. "It's something we've always wanted to do," Mr. Wickline laughed. "We just played around with the plot and characters and put everything in it that we thought was funny."

This is not Mr. Wickline's first movie. In 1976 he won a "Best Film" award from the Photographic Society of America for a six and a half minute movie named "Bert."

Mr. Pegg, who is a resident of The Woods, works for TV-2, and won an award for a documentary he did in 1971.

"Sheer Luck" was filmed entirely on location in the Grosse Pointe area, including the War Memorial and homes of local members.

The starring characters are Sheer Luck, Bill Clynne, of Detroit, and Jimmy Witson, Jon Hart, of The Pointe.

The technical staff includes choreographer Pat Thompson, of The Woods; props, John Guadagnoli, of Detroit, and Chris Kaiser, of The Park; make-up, Arlene Schoenherr, of The Park; lighting, Chuck Chrisman, of Harper Woods, and W. F. Hoover, of The Woods; construction, Mr. Chrisman; and sound, Steve Linne, of The Pointe, and Joe Foxa, of Harper Woods.

The musical-comedy will be six to seven more months in production. GPT hopes to have a few public showings in the Grosse Pointe area but, we'll have to wait and see.

"Wait and see . . . wait and see, what?"

"Wait and see who stole the silver sword, Witson."

"Sheer Luck . . . I already know who stole the sword. Now let's sing some more."

"Give my regards to old Broadway, and say that I'll be there 'ere long!"

GPT Approves
Division of Lot

A proposal to split Lot no. 260, located at Kerby and Mirabeau place, was approved by the Farms Council at its regular meeting Monday, August 15.

Richard Lambert, representative for LPR Land Co., requested the division to create two separate lots in order to build a house on each one.

Two citizens from the area involved appeared at the meeting to oppose the split. They felt that the value of their homes would decrease if the lot next to them was split into two smaller lots with two smaller homes on them.

Gene Lambert, of LPR Land Co., said the division would not affect the value of surrounding homes. "We're trying to maximize the value of the lot," he stated.

The things you try to overdo are usually only half done.

Recover Guns
Taken in B-E

Two of four guns which were reported taken during the burglary of a Blairmoor road home earlier this month have been recovered, reported Woods police.

Det. Thomas Podewzik said last week one of the guns, a Colt .38 six-shot, blue revolver was found by a St. Clair Shores citizen under some bushes near his home.

The other, a Winchester deer rifle, was discovered by the complainant under a dresser in his home.

Guns still missing include a Colt .45 blue automatic pistol and a Smith and Wesson .38 five-shot, blue revolver.

It is easier to bear all the misfortunes of our neighbors than one of our own.

'Village' to Get Improvements

The City is planning a number of improvements for "The Village" shopping center in Kercheval avenue, including old-fashioned sidewalk lights, curb ramps and bike racks. Federal Community Development Block Grants will finance the entire project.

Work will begin in about six weeks on the installation of $20,000 worth of lantern-type light fixtures along Kercheval. The vapor lights will supplement the Detroit Edison fixtures already lining the street.

The lanterns will be on top of 10-foot poles with ornamental iron work around the base. The City will install 20 of the new lights, with all funds coming from the 1976 federal grant.

Five thousand dollars will be spent sometime this fall or early next spring to build sidewalk ramps for the handicapped and bike racks for cyclists at shopping center corners.

Monies for that project will come from the 1977 federal grant to The City.

The council approved the projects and Splane Electric's bid for the vapor lights at its Monday, August 15, meeting.

State Renews Cottage License

The Michigan Department of Public Health recently renewed Cottage Hospital's license to operate, according to a health department release.

The 155-bed hospital was one of 30 other hospitals in the state to receive its annual license renewal.

The department of health is charged by the state with licensing all hospitals, nursing homes, homes for the aged and county medical care facilities.

Vernier Speed Limit

fic control; and that numerous accidents involve parked cars and occur at the Lakeshore-Vernier intersection.

The survey was conducted by Robert V. DeCorte, traffic engineer, with the assistance of Public Safety Officer Daniel Healy. Mr. DeCorte is with the Safety and Traffic Engineering Department of the AAA.

Mr. DeCorte disclosed in his report, addressed to Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale, that during the study 24-hour traffic counts were conducted, three speed studies were undertaken and several field observations were taken on the road between Lakeshore and the west Village limits.

All accident reports in this stretch totaled only 18, and occurred during 1972 through 1976. Six of these accidents involved parked cars, six were caused by motorists turning into driveways and six were classified as miscellaneous.

None of the accidents during this period were attributed to excessive speed.

The speed studies indicated that 85 percent of the motorists east bound and westbound on Vernier were driving at or below 37.5 mph. The median speed for westbound traffic was 34 mph, while for eastbound it was 35 mph.

The average speed for all motorists, during the study was 34.2 mph. The slowest was 27 mph and the fastest, 42 mph. This indicates, it was pointed out, all motorists traveled within the 15 mph speed difference.

Tests and studies, Mr. DeCorte stated, have been conducted indicating that most motorists will drive in a reasonable fashion and at a safe and prudent speed regardless of the posted speed limit.

If the speed limit were reduced to 25 mph, the following problems would occur:

- Every motorist on Vernier road could be ticketed for exceeding the speed limit, since the slowest speed, according to the study was 27 mph.

- A "speed trap" would be created since the speed limit on Vernier, west of Village limits, is 35 mph, and the speed limit on Lakeshore road also is 35 mph.

- The public safety department would have to assign an officer almost full-time to enforce the lower speed, which would obviously detract from the effectiveness of the entire department elsewhere in the community.

- The distance from Lakeshore to the west Village limits is about 1,950 feet. Since the speed limit in The Woods is 35 mph, sufficient distance must be allowed for motorists to reduce their speed to 25 mph.

If 300 feet were allowed to do this, and if 500 feet were allowed to accelerate or decelerate at Lakeshore, this would allow only 1,000 feet during which the motorist could travel at 25 mph.

With the full understanding that Vernier is a residential road, Mr. DeCorte stated, it also is a main thoroughfare between Lakeshore and Mack, or the 1-94 Expressway, because of the traffic volume.

Traffic counts between August 3 through August 5 indicate that more than 5,200 vehicles travel on Vernier.

These volumes were divided evenly, (2,600), for westbound and eastbound traffic. The peak traffic load occurred between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. and amounted to 438 cars.

In view of all this information, Mr. DeCorte said, it is unrealistic to change the existing 35 mph speed limit.

None of the accidents recorded in this area were attributed to excessive speed, and therefore do not reflect the accident experience, it was noted.

Seniors Given Safety Advice

If a thief is after your purse or wallet, drop it, if you can, into the nearest mailbox. The thief won't get your money and the post office will return your purse or wallet to you.

This is one of many crime prevention tips from the Senior Safety and Security Program in Cuyahoga County, O.

The program, begun in 1974 with a grant from the federal government, is featured in a recent report by the Aging Program of the National Assoc. of Counties Research Foundation, (NACoRF).

Other tips for seniors, according to the NACoRF news release, reminds citizens to avoid carrying cash by opening checking accounts; install deadbolt locks on doors and key locks on ground level windows; remove titles such as Miss or Dr. from mailboxes; have keys in hand upon approaching your car; and mark all valuables with your name or other identification.

The report stresses prevention is the key to a safety for senior citizens, and, by taking preventive measures, seniors can avoid becoming victims of crime.

Police Seek Biting Dog

Park police are looking for, and seeking information on, a mixed breed dog which inflicted a deep puncture bite over the right ankle of Ted Marshall, 14, of Maryland avenue, Friday afternoon, August 19.

Lt. Gordon Duncan said the bite was reported by Ted's mother, Kathy, who disclosed that her son was bitten while riding his bicycle near their home.

The boy was transported to Bon Secours Hospital where he was given an anti-rabies shot. If the animal is not found soon, the boy will have to go through a painful series of shots, the lieutenant pointed out.

According to information given to police, young Marshall was pedaling his bike on the sidewalk and passed a large white dog, possibly a mixed collie, shepherd and St. Bernard, held on a leash by a young girl. The girl was with an older female, possibly her mother.

As the youth passed the animal, it turned and bit him just above the ankle. Either the two females did not bother to stop, or did not know the animal had bitten the cyclist, Lt. Duncan said. Neither the girl, nor the older woman, had been seen in the area before.

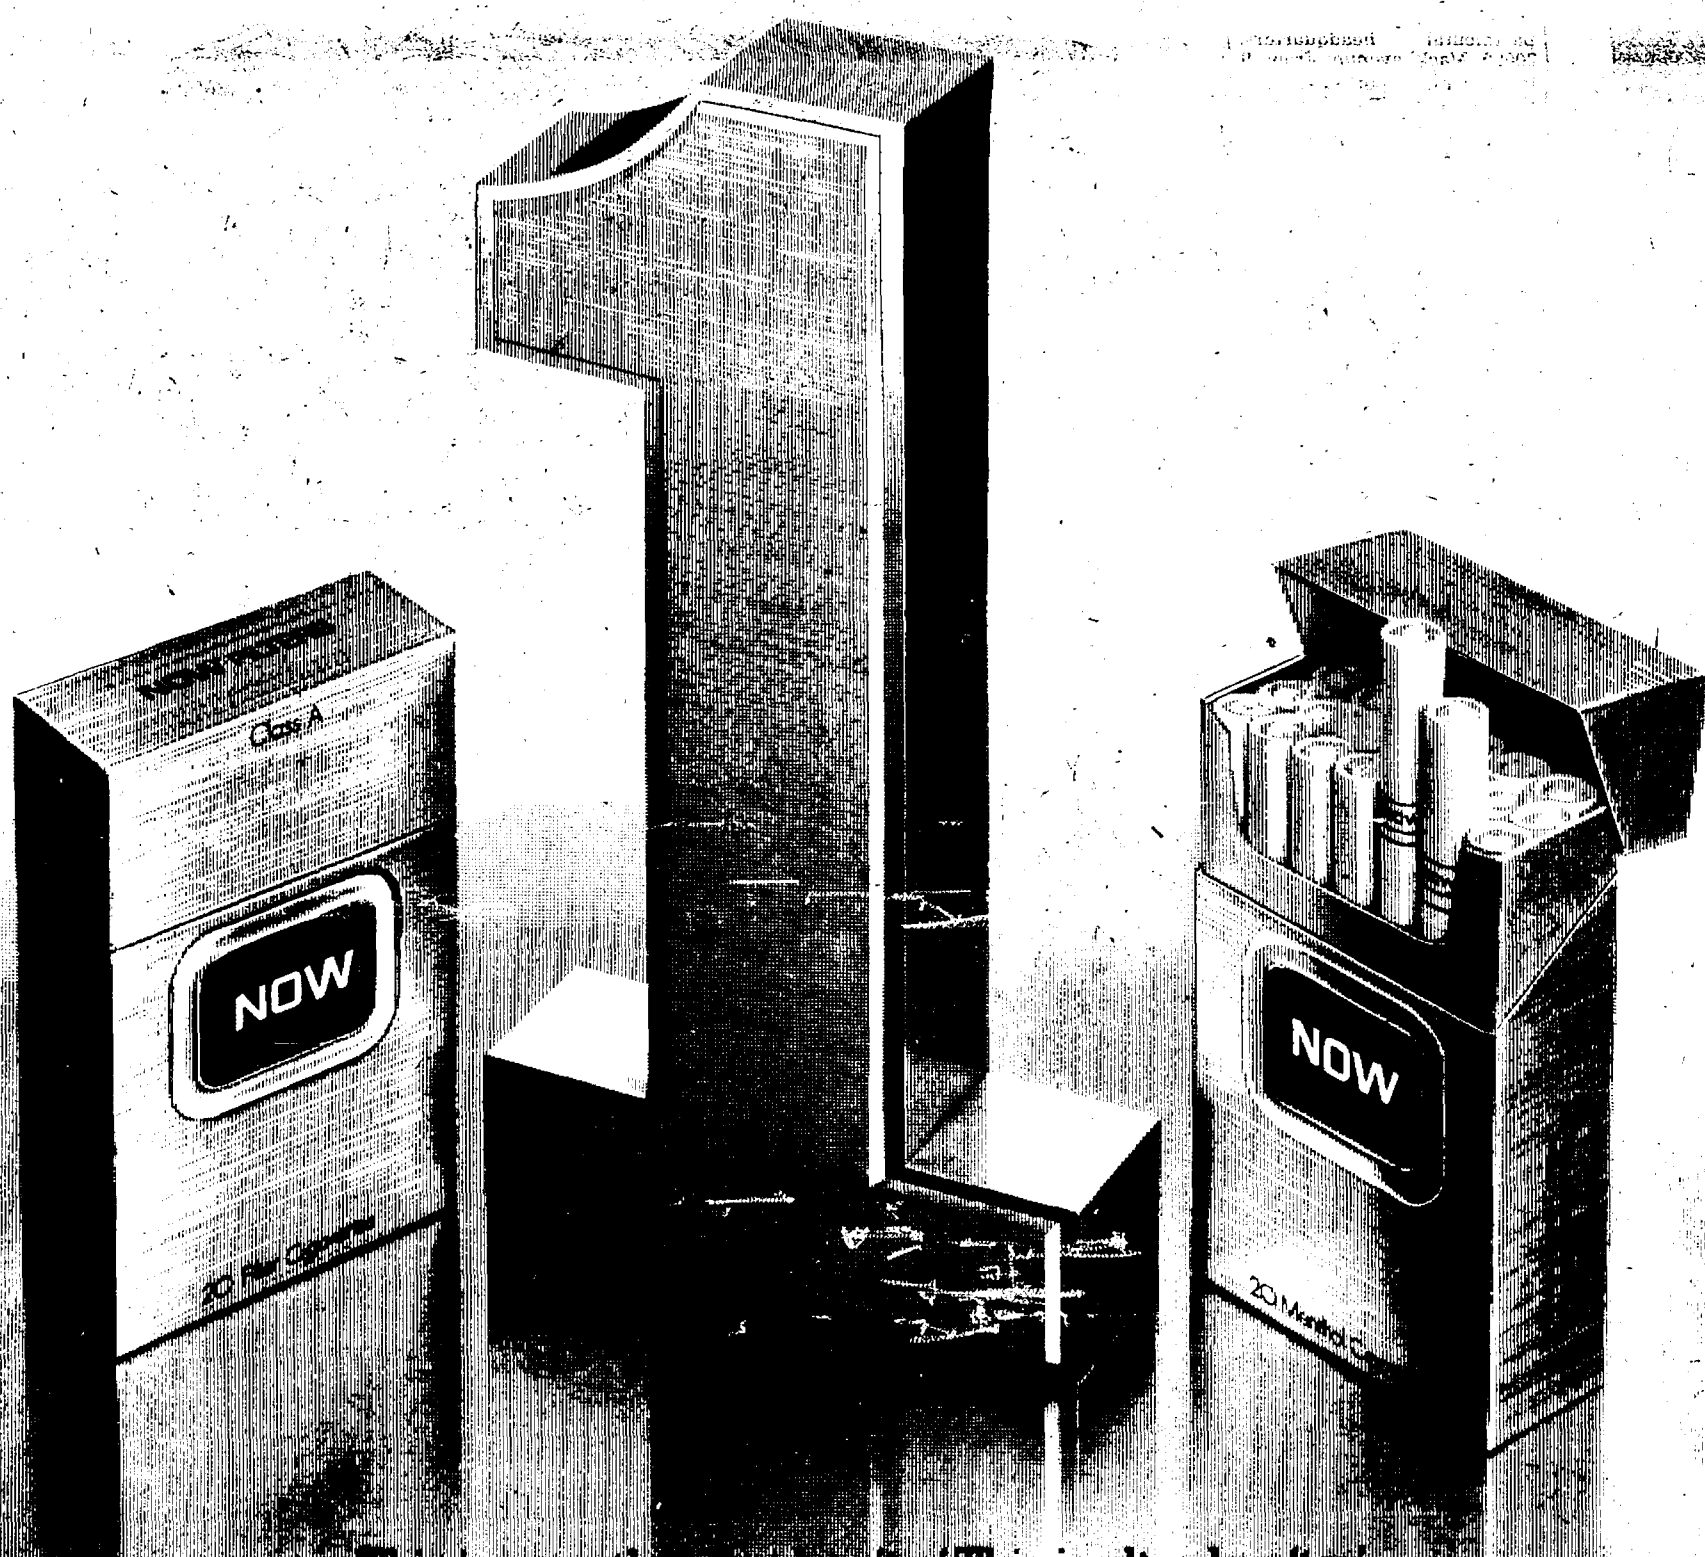

The two females with the canine were last seen going north on Maryland towards Kercheval and then they disappeared.

Anyone with information regarding the females and the pet are asked to call Park police at 822-7400.

VILLAGE HARVEST TIME

In the days when America was still a rural nation, harvest time provided an excuse for lively social gatherings. Greenfield Village in Dearborn recaptures much of the spirit of the old event in their Autumn Harvest Weekend, held in the Village October 1 and 2 this year. There are demonstrations of century-old farm equipment, crafts, country music and more. There is no extra charge beyond the regular Village admission price.

Thieves Visit St. Michael's

Saint Michael's Episcopal Church, 20475 Sunningdale drive, was victimized by thieves on two occasions last week, according to Woods police.

On Wednesday morning, August 10, the Rev. James A. McLaren said someone returned to the church between 5 p.m. on Tuesday, August 9, and 8:30 a.m. on the 10th to take a steel blower which had previously had its cover removed in an earlier larceny.

At that time, only the blower cover was taken, not the mechanism, valued at $334.95, itself.

Meanwhile, on the 9th, an edger was removed from a shed, after the culprit popped the lock to open the doors. It was valued at $179.95.

Kids Enjoy Reading Club Party

Seven-year-old STEPHEN BYRNES, (center), a second grader at Kerby Elementary School, was among 300 local children enjoying a magic show, old fashioned games and refreshments at the recent Pointe Public Library's annual Summer Reading Club party. About 1,500 children joined the program this summer at one of the three branch libraries. Some of the children came to the party dressed as their favorite storybook characters, including Peter Pan, Cat in the Hat, Nancy Drew and Snoopy.

YSD Welcomes New Counselor

The Youth Service Division, (YSD), welcomed a new part-time counselor on Monday, August 15. She's Denise Ann Thomas, 22, of Bishop road, a graduate of Saint Charles grade school, Detroit, and South High School.

Looking forward to her new job, Miss Thomas, who recently received her Bachelor of Arts degree in Human Resources and Development at Oakland University, said "getting to know the kids" is a first priority.

In relation to this, she feels it's important to learn how a young person feels about the violation he or she commits. Is the youth, for example, sorry over the action or does the offender feel it's a lark?

When an attitude is established, Miss Thomas will then be able to clearly proceed toward helping the youngster.

Miss Thomas comes well qualified for her new position as, from this February 7 through June 28, she worked as part of a probation team in Oakland County Circuit Court. As an intern, she obtained correctional experience and knowledge from certified probation officers, plus supervisory and administrative staff.

With her employment, the YSD counseling staff totals three persons, including Denise Cain and Gary Kuchinko.

St. Joan of Arc 50 Years Old

The Woods Council unanimously approved a resolution citing Saint Joan of Arc Parish, 21620 Mack avenue, on the celebration of its 50th anniversary of its founding on December 8, 1927.

Highlighting its Golden Jubilee celebration will be a Jubilee Mass this December 4 presided over by Archbishop John Cardinal Dearden.

While Saint Joan is located in St. Clair Shores, one-third of the parish territory is in the Woods, said the Rev. Edward J. Mitchell, pastor. The parish numbers around 4,000 families and is one of the largest in Michigan.

The resolution, which will be included in the parish's Jubilee Book, was approved by the Council at its regular meeting Monday, August 15.

Library Gives Party for Kids

Dressed as their favorite storybook characters, about 300 children turned out last week for the Pointe Public Library's annual Summer Reading Club Party.

All kinds of old familiar friends were there—Cat in the Hat, Peter Pan, Willy Wonka, Nancy Drew, Amelia Bedelia, Snoopy, Cinderella and Alice in Wonderland—to name just a few.

The mystery guest was a visiting magician who entertained the group with a baffling array of magic tricks. After the magic show, the children adjourned outside for a round of old fashioned games including egg and spoon relays, hot potato and a giant tug of war.

As a final treat, each child received a balloon and a whistle pop.

The library has been offering a summer reading program for children for the last four years, and each year the number of members increases. This summer more than 1,500 children registered at the three libraries.

Each child must read 10 books in order to qualify for a reading certificate. Seals, ribbons and stars are added as the child reads more books. Most children have read 20 or more books some even as much as 50 or 100.

By keeping such a record, or "book diary," the children can look back and remember all the good books they read over the summer.

Bicycle School Set to Resume

The Woods Department of Public Safety will continue its bicycle safety school on Tuesday, August 30, at departmental headquarters, 20025 Mack avenue, from 9 to 11 a.m., reported Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook.

Thirty-six notices have been mailed to youngsters receiving violations and the officer hopes for a better response than at the opening session on Thursday, August 4. At that time, two of 22 youngsters attended the meeting.

Feeling the slow response was because of summer vacations, (three parents subsequently called and said their children were involved in other activities, while expressing an interest in the program), the officer felt it would pick up as families prepare their youngsters for school.

Strictly voluntary, it will be scheduled upon demand, i.e., the number of juvenile safety violations issued to children by the department. The school includes films, an exploration of laws, care and security, plus a test and discussion.

It was organized because of the concern of city and police officials over the lack of follow-through with children receiving bicycle violations.

Ambulance Pleases GPF

The Farms Fire Department has the only ambulance in the Pointes that is up to federal code, according to Farms Fire Chief Warren Schultz.

The department received the new ambulance on July 1. It is a van-type vehicle and cost, including all "life-saving" equipment, $15,591.

A federal grant paid $10,500 of the cost and the city covered the remaining $5,091.

The Farms was one of the last cities to receive a federal grant of this kind. The new ambulance has many refinements, such as increased headroom for attendant mobility, care facilities for greater patient comfort and direct radio contact with the local hospitals.

Many Options in Miniatures

A true rose plant with blossoms only one-fourth inch across is just one of the possibilities when you explore the world of miniature roses.

These plants grow no taller than two feet; many are much smaller. Though they are often grown in containers, indoors and out, they can also be used as flower bed borders or in rock gardens.

Flowers usually range from dime to half-dollar size.

Michigan State University horticulturists note that the miniatures generally have no thorns. They also usually lack a fragrant scent. Their flowers come in all the standard rose colors, and some are bicolored.

Unlike their standard-sized cousins, miniatures tend to be very resistant to black spot, mildew and other common problems of garden roses. A regular disease and insect control program is still a good idea, however.

Plant miniature roses outdoors in good garden soil that is well-drained and slightly acid. They need at least a half-day of full sun every day and fertilizer at half the recommended rate twice a year.

Avoid fertilizing after mid-August, the experts advise—this interferes with the plant's dormancy. Mounding and mulching with straw or evergreen boughs is all the winter protection they require.

Prune in the spring to remove old dead wood and stimulate new growth. Snip off blossoms as they fade.

Though miniature roses can be grown indoors under artificial light, they generally do better outdoors. They tend to get leggy indoors, even under bright light.

If you want them to bloom indoors, you must also expose them to a period of cold temperatures. A few weeks in a plastic bag in the refrigerator should be sufficient.

Propagation is by cuttings taken in September and October.

Nab Speeder After Chase

A 17-year-old St. Clair Shores youth, who was pursued by Woods and Shores police at high rates of speed, Friday evening, August 19, has been charged with reckless driving.

William George Giannetti, of Kipling road, was released after paying a $100 bond, pending his scheduled court appearance on October 26.

The incident unfolded while Officer Ronald Hayden and partner Sgt. James Davidson were patrolling west on Van Antwerp at Helen.

They observed the motorist turn left from Lennon at a high rate of speed.

The driver passed the scout car north on Helen to Vernier, where, police said, he ran a stop sign at 30 mph and then went east on Vernier at an excessive speed.

After running a red light at Vernier and Mack at a speed in excess of 60 mph, he drove east to Marter at around 80 mph where he went left of center to pass autos stopped for a red light, police stated.

The motorist ultimately went along Morningside, South Brys, Van K and North Brys. Police reported he went west on North Brys and ran a stop sign at speeds in excess of 60 mph at Morningside and Wedgewood.

While the officers lost visual contact with the vehicle at a curve in North Brys, they had already broadcast a description of the car to other units.

As a result, Shores Officers Michael J. Kostas and Daniel Healy, while checking the North Brys area, passed the wanted auto as it was going eastbound on the thoroughfare at Wedgewood.

The suspect and his passenger, who was released, were ultimately apprehended after ending up on Canterbury court, a dead end street.

A new process has been developed for peeling hard-boiled eggs. As soon as the eggs are cooked, put them in a bowl of ice water for exactly one minute, then return them to the still boiling water they were cooked in for exactly ten seconds. Removing them, crack the shells, and then roll the eggs between your hands to loosen the shells. When peeling the eggs it is easiest to start from the large end of the egg, peel it under cold water, either from the top or in a bowl; the water prevents breakage into the white.

GOURMET TIP:

Try garnishing your next salad with a couple of quartered, hard boiled eggs.

An Easy Plant to Maintain

Everybody likes a houseplant that is attractive and easy to grow. That's probably why the wandering Jew, (Zebrina pendula), is so popular.

Michigan State University horticulturists point out that this native of Mexico grows quickly, branches freely, has no major pests and roots readily at the stem joints in either water or damp soil.

Pot in a standard houseplant potting mix with provisions for good drainage. Water as often as necessary to keep the soil from drying out.

Fertilize with any standard houseplant fertilizer at half the recommended rate every few months. Place the plant where it will get bright, diffused light but not full sun. Pinch off the stem tips occasionally to encourage bushiness.

Wandering Jew prefers humid air, so it makes a good plant for the bathroom, kitchen or terrarium. Because it will grow in plain water, it can also be part of a windowsill bottle garden.

Zebrina pendula is often confused with members of the Tradescantia family. Zebrina has dark blue-green leaves with silver lengthwise bands on the upper surface and purple undersides.

The Tradescantias — also known as variegated wandering Jew, inch plant, giant inch plant and Tahitian bridal veil — are not so brightly colored. Also, their leaves appear to be wrapped around the stem where they are attached.

The leaves of Zebrina appear to arise out of joints in the stems. There is no wrap-around effect.

Driver Facing Drunk Charge

Shores authorities, warned by a Woods public safety department dispatcher, arrested a motorist allegedly so intoxicated he could not sit up to drive his automobile, according to a Shores report dated Saturday, August 20, at 11:24 p.m.

Shores PSO Bruce Darlington was in the station when a police radio broadcast from The Woods disclosed that a motorist traveling on Vernier road, and heading east toward Lakeshore road, was believed to be in a state of intoxication.

Officer Darlington said he saw the described vehicle, got behind it in his scout car and noticed the driver, later identified as Donald Joseph Swisher, 24, of 20226 Alcoy, Detroit, behind the wheel.

The driver's head was hanging outside the window, and when Swisher drove in front of PSO Darlington, he fell over the front seat. The officer said he was unable to see him for a distance as the other car headed toward the Vernier-Lakeshore intersection.

As they approached the fire station entrance, the officer said, Swisher got up and continued east on Vernier and, at Lakeshore, he went through a red traffic signal and stopped in the middle of the intersection blocking both traffic lanes.

The driver then made a right turn and stopped at the crossover in front of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, at which point Officer Darlington got out of his police vehicle and ordered Swisher from his auto. Swisher could barely stand, according to the officer.

He was taken to the station and agreed to take a breathalyzer test, which he failed.

Swisher was issued a violation ticket for driving while under the influence of liquor and placed in the local cell until he was sober enough to be released. He posted a bond of $150, pending his scheduled court appearance on Wednesday, September 28.

Parkies Win Hockey Title

The summer hockey season concluded Thursday, August 11, with the Senior Men's League championship game at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink.

The Parkies clinched the championship with a 4-3 win over Harper Sport.

The team, sponsored by Parkie's Party Shoppe, 17255 Mack avenue, is comprised of high school and college boys from The Farms, City and Park.

The Parkies struck first with goals by Max McKee, Tim Kelly and Steve Kovalick. Minutes later, John Palfy scored what proved to be the game-winner as Harper Sports fought back with three quick goals but Parkie's hung on to win.

Other players on Parkies include player-manager, Pat Mallon, Mike Mallon, Bob Barker, Tim McGillen, Jay McCullagh, Damian Kiska and Neil Blondell.

Master Plans Now Available

Bound copies of a 90-page general development plan for The City, including a framework for future housing developments, zoning changes, street planning and additional recreational facilities, are now available at City offices, 17147 Maumee avenue, for $10.

Interested citizens may review the report without purchasing it, at the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue, or at City offices.

The master plan was approved last November by the City Planning Commission. City Manager Thomas Kressbach said the contents may be of interest to developers and subdividers as well as citizens who want to learn more about their community.

Included in the report are data on land use, the socioeconomic profile of the population, structural quality of various neighborhoods and traffic patterns in the area.

Twenty-six tables and maps describing everything from "Problem Maintenance Blocks" to "Home Sales" to "Accident Statistics" in the community also are included.

Cars in Crash on Lakeshore

Two cars were severely damaged and one driver suffered minor injuries in a collision at the Lakeshore-Vernier intersection on Thursday, August 18, according to an official accident report by the Shores Public Safety Department.

Neither of the drivers signed complaints and no violation tickets were issued.

The report, prepared by PSOs Harry Hamilton and Archie Grieve, disclosed that Katherine Joanne Bogas, of The Shores, according to witnesses, failed to yield the right-of-way to Anne Louise Hoover, of St. Clair Shores, and the crash ensued.

There was heavy damage to the front end of both vehicles. Miss Hoover suffered a bump on the head and a small cut on the ear, but did not require medical attention.

The officers dispatched to the scene stated that Miss Hoover was traveling south on Lakeshore road, with the green light favoring Vernier, when the other woman came off, Lakeshore and made a left turn onto Vernier. The collision resulted.

Both women were taken to the station to make official statements. Each said she was insured.

The autos were towed from the scene to a service station since they were not driveable.

Six Invoices Paid by GPW

Six invoices were approved for payment from the Recreation Construction Fund by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, August 15.

They included the final Lake Front Park payment to the T and T Contracting Co. in the amount $4,664.84, plus seeding and mulching work via the J. D. Armstrong Landscape Co. at $3,978.50.

Others receiving payment included the City of Grosse Pointe Woods, labor and material to install a sprinkler system, $1,918.53; Gerald S. Fouchey, electrical work, $120.50; Commercial Hardware, wall mounted stop holder, $83.19; and Rose Lagae, stove for the Lake Front Park, $45.

Farms Council Sets Meeting

The Farms Council will hold a special meeting on Monday, August 29, at 7:30 p.m.

At the time the NEWS went to press, the agenda for the meeting had not been decided. It is expected that part of the meeting will be conducted in a closed session.

Fishing Rodeo Great Success

The Farms and The City held their annual Fishing Rodeo on Saturday, August 20. Approximately 300 children attended.

Free hot dogs and pop were served and every child participating in the fishing received a prize.

Shores Police Probing Theft

An amplifier and speaker cabinet was reported missing from the home of Donald B. Stewart, of Hawthorne road, last week. The items were missing when the Stewarts returned home after a short absence, according to Shores authorities.

Mr. Stewart told Officer John Trevillian, who was dispatched to take the report on Friday, August 19, that the equipment was missing from the rear screened-in porch of his home. The property belonged to a friend residing in Sunningdale.

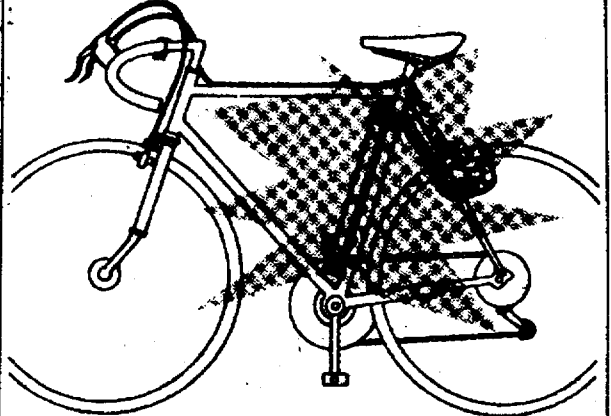

He said he assumed that his friend had taken the items, until he called him and found differently. The set was last seen on Thursday, August 18.

PSO Trevillian, in his report, stated that there was a rip in the rear porch door screen near the door handle.

The value of the amplifier and cabinet was placed at $300, according to the owner.

Det. Sgt. Frank Mustazza is investigating the incident.

The opal, symbol of hope, is the birthstone for those people born in October. This gem derives its name from the Sanskrit word meaning "precious stone." The best known opals have a background of pearl gray-white, or dark gray, which seems to contain a rainbow of bright colors. Only these gems are considered precious. The opal is different from every other gemstone in that it consists of a "gel" made of non-crystallizing silicones and water. As an opal's water content varies, so does its hardness and transparency. The rainbow of colors is caused by the interference of light being reflected and refracted from layers of the stone with different water contents. Opal may crack if exposed to very dry conditions. They wear better the more you use them, because body humidity prevents any damage.

If you are a buyer of unique items, come in and see the antique jewelry and objects of art left with us on consignment, here at VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, Detroit, 881-4800. First Major Alternative To High Tar Smoking.

Low tar MERIT delivers flavor of higher tar cigarettes—'Enriched Flavor' breakthrough confirmed.

For years, you couldn't get real tobacco flavor without high tar. As a result, many smokers wanting to switch to a low tar cigarette couldn't.

Couldn't—until MERIT.

Until 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. A breakthrough in tobacco science that resulted in a way to boost natural tobacco flavor without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

This breakthrough has made MERIT one of the most popular new cigarettes in twenty years. More importantly, over 75% of all MERIT smokers are former high tar smokers.

It's clear: low tar MERIT is delivering the kind of flavor that can satisfy high tar smokers, the toughest "taste" critics of low tar smoking.

Taste-Test Proof

MERIT and MERIT 100's were packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. And taste-tested against a number of higher tar cigarettes.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of both MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested.

Cigarettes having up to 60% more tar!

Only one cigarette has 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. And you can taste it.

Fun Machines Are on Display

A lively and glittering exhibit, "The Fun Machine: Coin Operated Amusements," a collection of historic nickelodeons, pinball games, music boxes, player pianos and slot machines, is dazzling visitors to the Detroit Historical Museum.

Holly Ulseth, the museum's Curator of Social History and the show's organizer, points out that some of the items are in such excellent shape that they are still playable.

"In fact," she adds, "they have been getting quite a workout from youngsters who have visited the museum since the exhibit opened May 7."

The museum staff included a few modern pinball and video games in the exhibit, as historical comparison as well as to test skill.

"Among the prized items on display," according to Ms. Ulseth, "are a Violano-Virtuoso, a mechanized violin-piano combination built over 60 years ago, a Seeburg juke box from the 1930's and a 'Rock-ola' from the 1940's, a mechanical 'claw' arcade machine, a Wurlitzer player piano and a number of slot machines built by Arthur and Adolph Caille of Detroit who, during the late 19th century, were national leaders in the production of 'one-armed bandits'."

Judging from initial visitor response, Ms. Ulseth feels that The Fun Machine will prove to be one of the most popular displays at the Detroit Historical Museum this year.

The museum, located in the Cultural Center in Woodward Avenue, is open Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Wednesdays from 1 to 9 p.m. and Sundays from 1 to 5 p.m.

"The Fun Machine" closes September 24. Admission to the museum is via a voluntary donation.

Art Institute New Home for Masterwork

Cotopaxi, the Frederic E. Church masterwork often called the greatest landscape by an American artist, has been acquired through private funds for the permanent collection of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Newly-restored to the brilliant hues which dazzled the art world of the 1860's, the 48 by 85-inch oil painting depicts the Ecuadorian volcano Cotopaxi and is on permanent display in Gallery 227 of the museum's American Wing.

A vast foreground of volcanic rock projects the viewer into the scene, 10,000 feet above sea level, looking across a placid lake in the middle ground to the climax of the visual drama: Cotopaxi smoldering as the rising sun floods the atmosphere with warm light.

Art Institute director Dr. Frederick J. Cummings describes Church's 1862 work as "the most exciting and significant American painting to enter our collection in a generation."

Cotopaxi was first shown in 1863, in the period of Manifest Destiny, when a self-confident America wanted its own heroic art. Church's landscapes supplied that need.

Approves Gift Of Headphones

The Board of Education voted to approve a $1,200 gift from the South High School Dads' Club at the board's regular meeting Monday, August 8.

The Dads' Club gift to South will be two complete sets of headphones for both the home and visitors side of the football field.

The headphones will enable the coaches to plan strategy and relay it quickly to the players on the field.

The Dads' Club will underwrite the total cost of the equipment and installation even if it is more than the estimated $1,200.

They were admired as spectacular symbols of the awesome variety of nature and man's expanding frontiers.

Curator of American Art Nancy Rivard notes, "Church was the nation's foremost landscape painter when landscape painting was the nation's foremost art. Today, scholars recognize Cotopaxi as one of Church's finest paintings and an icon in 19th century American art."

Cotopaxi was acquired from a New York dealer by the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts through the Robert H. Tannahill Foundation Fund, Gibbs-Williams Fund, Dexter M. Ferry, Jr. Fund, Merrill Fund, Beatrice W. Rogers Fund and Richard A. Manooogian Fund.

Frederick Edwin Church, (1826-1900), combined two loves: painting and exploration. Born in Hartford, Conn., he eventually became a pupil of Thomas Cole, founder of the Hudson River school, who brought landscape painting to prominence in America.

Inspired by the writings of German naturalist-explorer Alexander von Humboldt, Church sought out geological wonders—Niagara Falls, the cliffs on Canada's Grand Manitou Island, icebergs in the North Atlantic, the Ecuadorian Andes, sites in Jerusalem and the Near East—and painted them in panoramic sweeps of exquisite detail.

Church made two trips to tropical Ecuador, the setting of Cotopaxi which Humboldt called "the most beautiful and most terrible of the American volcanoes." Church painted it several times. The Detroit acquisition is acknowledged his largest and finest version.

Like a vision from Genesis, the scene combines the cosmic drama of light dispelling darkness with explicit Christian symbolism in the cross formed by the sun's reflection on the lake. It is a rising, not a setting sun: a symbol of the New World.

As Church described his painting at the time of its first showing, "Cotopaxi is represented in continuous but not violent eruption. The discharges of thick smoke occur in successive but gradual jets . . . so that the newly-risen sun flares with a lurid fire through its thick volumes . . ."

"The cliffs and plateaus which diversify the surface of the country, the foliage in the foreground and the aspect of the horizon and vegetation are all minutely studied from nature."

Commissioned by James Lenox, book collector and philanthropist, Cotopaxi passed to the Lenox Collection of the New York Public Library and was sold in 1947 to John Astor, a descendant of Lenox.

For nearly 30 years it was on indefinite loan from the Astor family to New York City's Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Last season it was a highlight of the Museum of Modern Art's biennial exhibition "The Natural Paradise: Painting in America 1800-1950."

According to Ms. Rivard, Cotopaxi was overlaid by a heavy coat of discoloring varnish when it arrived in

Birds Succumb To Oil in Lake

By Dave Robertson
A sea gull died on Friday, August 12. Although it was not a cause for concern for most people, it was for two Pointe youths.

John Shamo, 14, of 321 McMillan road, and Charles Kessler, 15, of 275 Lewiston road, found the gull floating in Lake St. Clair while fishing at The Farms Pier Park. The gull was covered from its beak to its tail feathers with oil.

John and Charles netted the bird and took it to Charles' house, where, with the aid of Charles' mother, they cared for the gull.

The Humane Society recommended they rub corn meal over the bird to remove the oil, and they gave the bird a shampoo.

John and Charles even gave the bird a little whiskey and water to bring it around.

The incident was reported to the U.S. Coast Guard for investigation of a possible oil spill in the area.

John's brother had reported earlier seeing several swallows and a duck, floating dead in the lake, covered with oil.

After its investigation, the Coast Guard said the oil apparently came from an unknown source.

"We have no idea where it came from," an officer said. "There are a lot of marinas in the area. Somebody could have pumped their bilges or it could have been an accidental spill that no one reported."

So on Friday, John and Charles thought the bird might be able to fly away. Instead, it died from an unknown oil spill.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

In our continuing efforts to develop short and long term goals for the school system, it is important to conduct periodic assessments of our progress.

Therefore, early this summer we developed a document called "Goals and Outcomes" (Project GO). Project GO is a plan for the systematic establishment of goals and the detailed reporting of outcomes.

Thus, the document is designed to serve as a primary information base which will be used to develop goals and priorities for the next and succeeding years.

The project, which is the first annual year-end accounting of accomplishments in all aspects of the school system under the direct supervision of cabinet personnel, consists of 171 pages and is on file in the central administration building for the perusal of interested citizens.

During the 1976-77 year, many of our efforts were related to programs begun during the 1975-76 school year. Therefore, the report spans a two-year period.

In that regard, it is an attempt to reconstruct the accomplishments of 1975-76 and to report more directly the progress for 1976-77 which was the first year of implementation of Project GO.

The document contains a record of the operation of all centralized departments organized in the following format: Major Achievements; Status Report; Goals and Outcomes; Unfinished Projects and New Problems; and Recommendations for Future Action.

The implementation of the Project GO model is highly significant in that it has added, in a systematic way, a new dimension to the operation of the school system. This dimension involves purpose, commitment, direction, responsibility, order and achievement.

The Philosophy Statement adopted by the Board of Education in the fall of 1976 defines the general areas addressed by the first report of Project GO.

That statement, in conjunction with the information in the report and continuing discussions with Board members, employees and citizens, provided the basis for the set of specific goals adopted by the Board at a special meeting held Monday, August 22.

Shores Honors Chester Ogden

The Shores Council, at its regular meeting Tuesday morning, August 16, adopted a resolution designating Thursday, August 18, as "Ogden Day in Grosse Pointe Shores."

Chester (Chet) F. Ogden, a former Village trustee, (councilman), who was defeated for re-election in May's election, was the guest of honor at a private dinner at the Lochmoor Club, 1018 Sunningdale, that same evening.

The occasion was for his many years of service to the community, including 13 years as a trustee, of which the last few years he served as president pro tem.

At the dinner, Mr. Ogden was presented a framed copy of the resolution signed by Village President Gerald C. Schroeder, members of the council and other Village officials.

He had served The Shores for more than 30 years, first as a member of the Village Planning Commission since the early 1950's.

His service was temporarily interrupted when he was assigned to Washington, D.C., in connection with his firm, Detroit Edison. He then served as a trustee from 1964 to 1977.

Mr. Ogden accepted the position of president pro tem in 1971, and held that post until his defeat for re-election.

The council further made the resolution a permanent part of the minutes of Tuesday's meeting.

Mr. Schroeder and the trustees expressed their appreciation for Mr. Ogden's valued leadership and his contributions to the Village, for his wise counsel and keen insight "so characteristic of his sound business acumen."

Farms Grants Fence Request

David C. Yates' appeal to construct a fence along the rear of his property was approved by the Farms Council at its regular meeting Monday, August 15.

The six-foot, stockade fence will run along the Charlevoix avenue side of the rear yard of Mr. Yates' lot in Touraine road.

The council set one condition on the approval. If the fence, which is within 18 inches of the sidewalk, is ever accidentally damaged by city snow removal procedures, the city will not be responsible for the cost of repairs.

CATCHY STYLE

Fashion sometimes gains its name from the strangest places. The Tuxedo coat is one example. On October 10, 1886, Griswold Lorillard walked into a club wearing a tailed dress coat and a scarlet satin waistcoat. The location was the Tuxedo Club in Tuxedo Park, N.Y., and the style caught on.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters,
Director of Public Libraries

Guest Columnist,
Phyllis Huxley

Summer is fast turning into autumn, the new theater season is just around the corner and it's that time when all theatergoers feel that quickening of the pulse which spells "showtime."

It seems that anyone who has anything to do with a performance takes on the glow and luster of make-believe. It is especially true of the actors and actresses who are out there center stage.

The play may be the thing, but it's the actors, directors, writers and composers who steal the show. Interest in these personalities, always great in America, has been whetted of late by the publication of books about these favored people.

They vary in style and they vary in content. Some tell more than others, but they all tell something not generally known. It's a chance for the stagestruck public to get its fill of the little-known facts, the behind-the-scenes maneuvers and the answer to "What are they really like?"

Well, some are admirable, some are remarkable, some notable, some are even a little bit like you and me. Not too much though, for if anything is true of these people it is that they are super-ambitious, and willing to work very hard for what may be fleeting fame. After all, one is only as good as one's last review.

But go ahead start your own season; ring up the curtain at 8:30 with some of these "show biz biogs" currently at GPPL.

THOSE PHILADELPHIA KELLYS, (Morrow, 1977) is a biography of three generations of some very unusual people, the Mainline Kellys of Philadelphia, most notably Grace.

Interest in Grace is still great, maybe even more so since she became Princess Grace. Interviews with family and friends, and research into press sources form the basis for this sure-to-sell book.

SCARLETT O'HARA'S YOUNGER SISTER, (Lyle Stuart, Inc., 1977), concentrates more on the off-screen adventures of Evelyn Keyes, an "almost big star" of the '30's and '40's.

Her journey to film featured no bed of roses. There's a key word there. Many greats and near greats parade before the reader here, most of them men. Anyway she's a very lively writer; nothing is dull in these pages and she is candid.

VALENTINES AND VITRIOL, (Delacorte, 1977), is well-known critic Rex Reed's contribution to the education of the fan. He has a way with words and some of them are not so nice.

He lets us in on some of the casual opinions of Bette, Sophia, Audrey, Liz, Pearl and other biggies. He knows the scene first hand and he deals out information lavishly in this book of tributes, brickbats, anecdotes and gossip tidbits. You'll know more, much more, than when you turned to page one.

VIVIAN LEIGH, (Simon and Schuster, 1977), has captured the public fancy. This is a good example of hard work paying off in terms of career success.

Perfection was her goal and she let nothing stand in her way. This was difficult for people near her and she was often left alone to deal with her problems.

Biographer Anne Edwards, an old hand at show business biography, reveals Vivian Leigh as a tortured person in the throes of mental illness. The reader feels a good deal of sympathy for her even though she herself was most difficult, but somehow, one feels, helpless.

In keeping with the trend of tell-all biographies is Charles Schwartz' COLE PORTER: A BIOGRAPHY, (Dial, 1977).

The much admired and beloved composer of many memorable tunes is here revealed as a homosexual. The fact is not really overemphasized and well it shouldn't be. Anyone who has heard a Cole Porter song could care less. But it is a fact and it appears here along with all the other biographical details of import.

Cole was Indiana-bred, Yale educated and Broadway became his own territory. A real talent, he is shown as a most complex man, one who will always be remembered for his music, not his private life.

Brooke Hayward, daughter of actress Margaret Sullivan and agent-producer Leland Hayward, has a best seller in HAYWIRE, (Knopf, 1977).

In a somewhat unusual format, she presents her family, (mother Margaret, father Leland, sister Bridget and brother Bill), in what had to be the ultimate setting of glamour, glitter and excitement, not to mention wealth.

Her character studies are excellent and made fuller by the comments scattered throughout of close family friends, many of whom were major stars themselves. It is fascinating though often sad reading.

French film director Roger Vadim, who has been married to some of the most beautiful women in the world, joins the writing world with his MEMOIRS OF THE DEVIL, (Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, 1977).

Not to disappoint you, he comments upon each of his wives and his comments are unusual and frank. Mixed in his life as an internationally noted director. To quote one reviewer, "Vadim's has been an outrageous life." Right.

Bond Bid Eyed For GPF Road

The Farms has sent a request to the State Finance Commission for permission to issue $375,000 in Series A bonds. The action was taken in hopes of covering the enormous expense incurred by the Kerby road repairs.

Work is being done on Kerby road because of a sewer line collapse last March. The residents of The Farms may put the question of issuing the bonds on the November ballot by presenting a petition signed by at least 10 percent of the registered voters. If, in November, the request of the petitioners against the bond proposal passes, the bonds will not be issued.

If no petition is presented to the city clerk, the bonds will be issued.

Farms City Comptroller Carol Lock said the request for the bond issuance was made about 45 days ago. He expects the approval from the state within 30 days.

The bonds have five year terms and are tax exempt. They will be sold to whoever offers The Farms the lowest interest rate.

Little League Football Starts

Police Arrest 3 Car Looters

Responding to complaints from some residents living in Trombley, Harcourt and Westchester roads, that their cars had been entered and valuable items taken, such as radios and eight-track tapes, Park police placed a stake-out on each of the streets.

The eventual climax resulted in the arrest of two 14-year-old local boys and a 15-year-old lad who had been visiting them, according to Park Police Lt. Gordon Duncan.

The lieutenant said several items had been found and brought to the station before the citizens began to call on Monday, August 15. At 2:13 a.m. the same day, the three were arrested.

Lt. Duncan said a manned police car was parked on each of the streets. A police crew on Trombley saw two youths coming from a yard. When the lads saw the scout car, they ran from the area but were captured a short distance away, hiding behind some bushes at the rear of 876 Trombley.

The third boy was arrested at Fairfax and Trombley as he was trying to escape.

Involved in the stakeouts and arrests were Sgt. Walter Paton and Officer David Hiller, Gerald Kolakowski, Barry Oleksyk and Jerry Reeves, the lieutenant said. Most of the loot from the cars was recovered and returned to the owners, while a few items were retained as evidence, the lieutenant added.

The matter was referred to Youth Service Division Det. John Albrecht, who filed charges against the trio with Wayne County Juvenile Court authorities.

The boys are charged with breaking and entering automobiles and larceny from automobiles. They are awaiting a hearing at the next session of juvenile court.

Blood Sought By Red Cross

Red Cross is sending out a five-county appeal for blood donors as a result of the halt in local blood collections during the four-day labor dispute with its mobile unit assistants, according to a news release from the organization.

"Our normal blood reserves were quickly depleted last week when attempts to collect blood at our permanent and mobile sites during the dispute failed," said A. William Shafer, MD.

"Although we received enough blood from other centers throughout the country to meet emergency needs at the time, our ability to resume normal operations hinges on the participation of community residents now."

Dr. Shafer said donations often sag dramatically from now until Labor Day, which compounds this problem.

He urged every eligible area donor to call the Red Cross Blood Center at 633-4440 to make an appointment.

Persons between the ages of 17, (with parental permission), and 65 who are in good health are usually eligible to give blood.

Mary, Larry, not-at-all contrary, how do your gardens grow?

As column leads go, I know that's a bit cryptic, but the idea is to get your attention, so . . . if cryptic works, so be it.

I know you're out there, you see: up and down and around Grosse Pointe, dirt under the fingernails of your green thumbs, grass-stained knees and all.

Yes, I mean YOU—the Grosse Pointe Gardeners, and I don't give a hoot whether your "plot" is six rose bushes or a half-acre that keeps you in home-grown vegetables all year long.

Neither does the Grosse Pointe Garden Center. Come out, come out, wherever you are!

Because . . . it's almost time for the Grosse Pointe Garden Center's Fall Horticulture and Bonsai Show, co-sponsored with the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association.

And you are invited—URGED!—to enter some of your flowers, fruits and vegetables in the show. Who knows? You might win a ribbon . . .

Museum Honors Eleanor and Edsel

South Wing at Detroit Institute of Arts Is Re-Named to Pay Tribute to a Pair of Distinguished Patrons: The Fords

The south wing of the Detroit Institute of Arts has been named the Eleanor and Edsel Ford Wing in honor of their distinguished patronage and leadership on the city's Arts Commission, which they served during successive terms totaling 55 years.

A simple ceremony attended by Detroit Mayor Coleman A. Young and museum officials marked the re-dedication in mid-July.

Letters inscribed in the marble on the wing's exterior and on a bronze plaque inside the Farnsworth entrance identify the honored couple.

Edsel B. Ford, (1893-1943), only son of the founder of the Ford Motor Company and the firm's former president, was appointed to the Arts Commission in 1925 and influenced the planning of the museum's main building, dedicated in 1927.

An amateur art scholar of merit, he became president of the Arts Commission in 1930.

He contributed some of his private fortune to maintain key museum services during the Depression. He added then-director Dr. William R. Valentiner in building the museum's collections, often traveling abroad in his company on buying trips, and sponsored and successfully defended the controversial Diego Rivera frescoes, now among the Art Institute's most treasured masterpieces, in the late 1930's.

Mr. Ford served as Arts Commission president until his death.

Eleanor Clay Ford, (1896-1976), succeeded her husband on the Arts Commission in 1943, serving for 33 years until her death last year.

She was faithful in attendance, setting a standard of punctuality and attention to details of museum operation which inspired other civic appointees on the commission.

A second generation of Ford family concern for the Art Institute is represented by Eleanor and Edsel's eldest son, Henry Ford, II, who accepted appointment to the Arts Commission this year.

One hundred and forty-one works of art were donated, in whole or in part, by Edsel and Eleanor Ford during the six decades of their Arts Commission participation.

Eleanor, in her later years, established three separate Founders Society endowments, each more than $1 million, to further museum work: sponsorship of special exhibitions, educational and publication services for the community and purchase of traditional African art.

She also donated $1 million for new construction in 1964, which led, through private, Federal and municipal matching funds, to the museum's south and north additions to the main building.

Miss Gurney Bride Of Kim K. Linville

They Are at Home in South Bend, Ind., after a Wedding Trip to Fort Lauderdale; Bride's Cousin Serves As Maid of Honor

Paula Marie Gurney and Kim K. Linville spoke their marriage vows Saturday, May 14, at 6:30 o'clock in First English Lutheran Church. The ceremony at which The Reverend Paul Keppler officiated was followed by a reception in the Georgian Inn.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gurney, of Aline drive, selected a gown of white Qiana.

Viennese lace accented her keyhole neckline, Empire waist and sleeves. Her long skirt extended into a cathedral train.

Her matching cap detailed with two rosebuds, holding a fingertip veil edged with satin roping, was made by her mother. Gardenias, baby's-breath and ivy formed the bridal bouquet.

Honor maid Mary Milne, the bride's cousin, and bridesmaids Mrs. Jack Gurney, Pat Eisle and Karen Freidhoff wore floor length, sleeveless, pale aqua frocks.

They carried cascades of yellow roses and trailing ivy.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Linville, of Niles, asked his twin brother, Timothy, to act as best man.

Ushers were Jack Gurney, of Sterling Heights, brother of the bride, Mark Godsey and Brent Baer, of Niles.

The mother of the bride chose a floor length dress of jade Qiana and a gardenia wrist corsage. The bridegroom's mother pinned a cattleya orchid to her long gown of apricot polyester crepe.

The newlyweds vacationed in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. They are at home in South Bend, Ind.

Jill Remter Wed To Gregory Irvine

Julie Remter Attends Her Sister, Douglas H. Irvine Is Best Man for His Brother at Family Rites Followed by Reception at DAC

At a late afternoon ceremony Friday, August 12, in Saint James Lutheran Church, witnessed by members of the immediate families and godparents of the bride and bridegroom, Jill Christina Remter was married to Gregory William Irvine.

A dinner reception at the Detroit Athletic Club followed the 4 o'clock rites at which The Reverend George E. Kurz presided.

After a brief vacation in Toronto the newlyweds will be at home in Ann Arbor, where he is a Medical student at the University of Michigan. Jill, a University of Michigan graduate, is doing research.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald O. Remter, of Woods lane. He is the son of the George William Irvines, of Cadillac.

The former Miss Remter wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory silk tulle, fashioned with a full, slightly sweeping skirt and a short-sleeved, fitted bodice, its off-the-shoulder effect formed by a froth of Chantilly lace. Silk illusion filled her jewel neckline. Her gathered tulle bonnet, accented with tiny lace flowers and seed pearls, held an elbow length, silk illusion veil.

She carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

She was attended by her sister, Julie Remter, in an A-line frock of spring green chiffon featuring a layer of chiffon at her neckline, forming a cape effect.

She carried a Colonial arrangement of yellow Sweetheart roses and baby's-breath.

Douglas H. Irvine came from Cadillac to serve as his brother's best man.

The mother of the bride pinned a white orchid to the neck of her seamstress green, cocktail length dress. The bridegroom's mother selected a beige dress, also cocktail length, and a corsage of ivory cymbidium orchids.

Mozart Time This Week for Meadow Brook Festival

Except for one-night stands by Helen Reddy and Bobby Short, Mozart dominates the programming at Meadow Brook Music Festival this weekend.

Musica Aeterna Orchestra and its conductor, Frederic Waldman, are presenting four Mozart concerts: tonight and Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock, a Friday luncheon Woodwind Chamber Concert in the English Garden at Meadow Brook Hall at noon, ($10 for concert and luncheon), and a Sunday afternoon special at 2:30 o'clock.

Tickets for all concerts are on sale now at the festival box office.

Helen Reddy is the Friday evening attraction. Only a few $6 lawn seats remain for her concert.

Ms. Reddy's recording of her own song "I Am Woman" won her a coveted Grammy award in 1972, but she is also well known for her recordings of such favorites as "Delta Dawn," "Angie Baby" and "Ain't No Way to Treat a Lady."

Her background includes hosting a television show and a featured role in the movie "Airport '75". She stars in the soon-to-be-released Walt Disney production "Pete's Dragon." Starting time tomorrow evening is 8:30 o'clock.

Bobby Short, in one of his numerous forays from his home base at New York's Cafe Carlyle, brings his trio to Meadow Brook at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

Singing and accompanying himself at the piano, Short will take his audience on a nostalgic trip through selected works of Cole Porter, George Gershwin, Noel Coward and others of the great generation of musical comedy composers.

Guest soloists who will appear with Musica Aeterna Orchestra during the Mozart concerts include pianist Gary Graffman tonight, soprano Judith Raskin and pianist Flavio Varani Saturday and flutist Jean-Pierre Rampal in the Sunday afternoon special.

Cluny and Venise Lace Accent Bride's Silk Organza Gown; Her Attendants Select Blue and Purple Print Voile Halter Frocks

The wedding of Nancy Lee Vukin and Otto R. Canis Saturday evening, July 9, in Saint Michael's Chapel, Fraser, with Father Lawrence Jackson and Pastor Norman Ryding officiating, was followed by a reception at Hillcrest Country Club.

The bride, who had attended Grosse Pointe schools since kindergarten and is a Grosse Pointe South High School graduate, holder of a Bachelor's degree in Education from Central Michigan University and a Masters degree in Elementary Teaching from Oakland University, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Vukin, of Country Club drive.

The bridegroom, who holds a degree in Pharmacy from Ohio Northern University and is associated with Parke Davis in Pharmaceutical Research, is the son of Mrs. Robert P. Canis, of New Castle, Pa., and the late Reverend Canis.

The newlyweds vacationed at Las Brisas in Acapulco, Mexico. They are at home in Sterling Heights.

The former Miss Vukin wore an ivory wedding gown of silk organza, fashioned with a Cluny lace-banded neck. Her V-shaped yoke, accented with silk Venise appliques, was outlined in Cluny lace.

Matching lace accented her Empire waist and Bishop sleeves, and her circular skirt ended in a flounce trimmed with the Venise and Cluny lace.

Her headpiece and long, illusion veil were lace-trimmed. She carried three cymbidium orchids in an arrangement of stephanotis and baby's-breath, with purple accents.

In Empire-waisted, floor-length, halter frocks of blue and purple print voile, with matching, detachable capes, were honor attendant Mrs. Bruce Porritt, of Clarkston, and bridesmaid Kathy Lavette, of Escanaba.

Their headpieces were fashioned of blue and white daisies and baby's-breath, with purple accents, matching their lace-circled bouquets tied with long, flowing, purple and white ribbons.

Ravi Sethi, of Mount Clemens, was best man. Douglas Rohloff, of Union Lake, ushered.

The mother of the bride chose a floor length, beige lace dress for the 6:30 o'clock rites. The bridegroom's mother selected a floor length, two-toned blue flowered print.

Phalaenopsis orchids and baby's-breath formed both mothers' corsages.

Point Sojourn for Meisters

Professor Karl Meister and his wife Hilde have come again from Munich, Germany, to visit their daughter, Inge, in Yorkville road, and are enjoying reunions with the many Pointers with whom they became friends on previous visits.

They are also enjoying summer in Michigan. In past years, the Meisters made winter trips here — and they're delighted to discover the American midwest is NOT eternally icebound!

The Meisters, fond of hiking and all water sports, have a trip to the Upper Peninsula on their 1977 agenda, as well as visits to the Renaissance Center, Bob-Lo Island and Meadow Brook, plus a tour of Interlochen National Music Camp. Interlochen is of special interest to Professor Meister, a composer well-known in his own country and abroad.

Fall Art Fair Slated at Zoo

The Detroit Zoological Park will present its annual art fair Sunday, September 11, from 10 to 5 o'clock on the zoo grounds.

The outdoor show features paintings, drawings, prints, textiles, photographs, sculpture, pottery and other original crafts. It is open to all high school and college students, amateur, free lance and professional artists in the Detroit and Windsor metropolitan areas.

There is a $2 registration fee for participating artists. Entry forms are available at the zoo office, (388-0903).

Registration deadline is Wednesday, September 7. The limited number of art racks available will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis.

This year, the zoo's art fair will feature a "Sketch-The-Animals Contest." Prizes will be awarded to the artists presenting the best sketches of the zoo's lovable llama, "Jane." She will be in the art exhibition area during the contest.

The show is open to the public, with regular zoo admission prices in effect.

Alma Offering Pre-Term Time

Democracy, God, cities, love, ancient chemistry, body language, PBB, computers and dance are among the first subjects that will be studied and discussed by 250 Alma College freshmen who arrive on the mid-Michigan campus this Saturday, August 27, to begin an 11-day pre-term orientation-seminar program.

Among them will be three from Grosse Pointe: Brian P. Hutcheon, of Wedgewood drive, Thomas G. Phillips, of Maple lane, and Martha E. Tyler, of Moorland drive.

The optional program affords new Alma students an opportunity to enjoy a comparatively informal introduction to college life while participating in one of 13 small-group seminars designed to sharpen study, research, writing and speaking skills.

An additional 100 Alma freshmen, who have elected not to participate in the pre-term experience, will join their classmates on the campus a week later, September 3.

Of the 13 pre-term seminars on the Alma schedule this fall, seven are one-credit courses which meet entirely during the 11-day period prior to the regular beginning of the college's academic year.

Six are four-credit seminars which continue through the fall term, ending December 16. Maximum class size for the seminars is 18 students.

Among the one-credit seminars is one in which participants will write and edit a small daily newspaper, "The Pre-Term Times," covering the activities and personalities of the orientation period. The students also will discuss journalistic policies and procedures.

WUF Presidential Gavel Changes Hands

MRS. CHARLES R. (Sue) KINNAID, of Moran road, (right), outgoing president of Women for the United Foundation, passes the WUF gavel to MRS. LEROY (Margie) BORNHAUSER, of Birmingham. Mrs. Bornhauser was elected president at the WUF annual meeting and tea June 1. Mrs. Kinnaid, who headed WUF for two years, was recently elected to the United Founda-

$800,000 in donations from the Founders Society, Detroit was able to match a Federal grant and build the $3,750,000 south wing in 1966.

The City of Detroit had agreed at this same time that the municipality would construct the north wing under city bond if the south wing were completed; thus Mrs. Ford had the pleasure of attending the 1971 dedication of the north building inspired by her first contribution.

The Eleanor and Edsel Ford Wing was an architectural breakthrough in museum building a little more than a decade ago.

Thirty-eight galleries, including the main special exhibitions area and the impressive, balconied South Sculpture Court, are provided within three stories and a basement.

The Ford wing's three-and-a-half acres contain permanent displays of the museum's famed Dutch and Flemish collection under skylights on the top floor, the English and French master paintings, the Elizabethan Room, the Dodge music room of 18th century French decorative arts collected by the late Anna Dodge for her Rose Terrace mansion — and a model 18th century drawing room.

The wing also has the Holley Lecture Room, the Art Rental Gallery and the main Museum Shop.

The wing has been called "a building without corners" because of its use of glass, inviting natural light and vistas showing the surrounding Cultural Center.

Flexibly designed for changing exhibitions and expanded collections, walls are covered with linen and are removable for changing use.

The wing is connected at the South Sculpture Court to the main building of the Art Institute, in an original design by Gunnar Birkerts and the firm of Harley, Ellington, Cowin and Storton.

sign by Gunnar Birkerts and the firm of Harley, Ellington, Cowin and Storton.

The wing is sheathed in dark pearl granite from Minnesota, with interior decoration of marble from France and Italy and oak parquet floors.

More than five million visitors are estimated to have enjoyed the Ford Wing since its public opening June 22, 1966.

Another one-credit seminar, "The Chemistry of PBB," will involve its participants in an investigation of the PBB controversy. Using both newspaper and scientific reports, students will attempt to separate facts from fears and misunderstanding about the impact of chemical substances on the human food chain.

A second chemistry seminar, "Ancient, Medieval and Renaissance Chemistry," will help participants understand the influence of chemical technology on our ancestors by recreating the chemical processes of the past, using materials and techniques similar to those practiced before the emergence of chemistry as a science.

In "Body, Symbols, Space: Non-Verbal Communication," students will examine forms of non-verbal communication used by both humans and non-humans.

"The American Male in a Time of Female Liberation" will examine the changing sex roles of the American male, while a history of science seminar, "Thinkers and Tinkers: Men of Early American Science," will focus on the personality and philosophy of early American scientists and the math, physics and chemistry they used.

An acquaintance with folk, social, jazz, ballet and modern dance will be provided in "Survey of Dance Forms" which involves discussion, research, films and dance experience.

Two sections of a popular seminar which acquaints students with digital computing in general and the Alma College Computing Center in particular will be offered. The course is labeled "Creative Computers: An Introduction to Digital Computing."

Among the four-credit seminars which continue through the college's fall term is "The City in American Novels," a course in which students will explore American cities through 20th century novels such as those by Stephen Crane, Theodore Dreiser and John Dos Passos. Brian Hutcheon has elected this one.

Another is "Liking and Loving: The Psychology of Attachment and Interpersonal Attraction." Participants, including Martha Tyler, will study development of affection, physical attractiveness, attitude similarity and proximity.

Other four-credit seminars are "Literature and Related Arts," a course which focuses on relationship of literature and other art forms such as architecture, music, painting and sculpture; "The Jesus of History and the Jesus of Faith," an examination of the four Gospels and discussions aimed at expanding religious horizons; "Democracy in America," (Thomas Phillips' choice), an examination of democratic forms and problems including participation in neighborhood organizations, public opinion polls, civil disobedience and consumerism; and "God, Man and Nature," a consideration of three components of the Biblical view of community through examination of selections from the Old and New Testaments and evidence from archaeology, history and literary studies.

From Another Pointe of View

The 1977 show will be staged two weeks from today, Thursday, September 8, from 2 in the afternoon to 9 in the evening in the War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom, than which, with its view of the water and the Garden Center's colorful Trial Gardens on the lakefront lawn, no lovelier setting could be imagined.

Mrs. J. Crawford Frost, Jr., this year's chairman, suggests that would-be participants phone the Garden Center Room, TUXedo 1-4594, after next Thursday, September 1, for answers to questions about their exhibits. Mrs. Harold R. Smith is chairman of the schedule and invitations.

Mrs. Harley G. Higbie and Mrs. Monte J. Edelen are in charge of the Bonsai exhibition. They have asked Ralph O'Riley, an expert, to judge these exquisite miniature trees created in the Japanese manner by many Pointers who have been at the Garden Center's Bonsai Workshops.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

In the past few weeks there have been several articles dealing with the various community improvement programs proposed by the Grosse Pointes. Most of these programs have a similar theme—improve the appearance of the Pointes, add some greenery to the area, and reduce traffic on residential streets.

Obviously, we're pleased because every program has included the basic theme of our proposed cul-de-sac program. If you've read about our program, attended any of the meetings we've spoken at, or discussed it with friends and neighbors, then you know that we've been proposing the same ideas, except maybe a little sooner than the rest.

We feel very strongly that our proposed program will provide quieter, safer streets. We feel strongly enough to commit our time and resources to developing the concept, conducting the survey, and keeping everyone informed on the status of our work.

Our gain—most important is the fact that this community where we work and live will benefit from the program. Second, we hope people will remember the service we are trying to provide and will let us provide the same service in the buying or selling of their home.

Any questions about the program—or about buying or selling your home? Call us at 882-0087 and we'll do our most to help.

YOU'LL BE A BELIEVER when you find this house has two first floor family bedrooms and two more on the second floor. In addition there is a separate apartment with living room and fireplace. These quarters have direct access to the main house and by separate outside entrance. All this on an acre-sized lot with heated swimming pool and greenhouse. One of our sales associates will show you inside on Sunday afternoon at 85 WOODLAND SHORES, off Lake Shore Road between 7 and 8 Mile Roads.

THAT LITTLE BIG HOUSE with the first floor master suite is now on the market. It comes neatly packaged on Tonnancour Road in the center of the Farms, just a block from the Lake Shore and the Country Club. There are two fine bedrooms on the second floor with a large connecting bathroom. There also is a third bedroom and bath for live-in help. If this is what you have been waiting for, the wait was worth it.

ENJOY CONDOMINIUM living at its best in a fabulous Georgian Colonial building in Shorepoint. This spacious, two bedroom apartment has a large sitting room off the master bedroom and a large formal dining room. The two story living room is most impressive, with its French fireplace and high ceilings.

The acre plus lot is densely wooded with enough room for tennis court and pool. Designed by Girard and Yamasaki, this contemporary home "opens up" to the outdoors, yet is completely private. There are four bedrooms and four baths in the owner's wing. Two more bedrooms are in the service wing. Living here you'll enjoy the best of two worlds... both inside and out.

WHAT A STARTER HOUSE! This little colonial has aluminum siding and has a first floor bedroom and another upstairs. There is a one car garage and the furnace and roof are less than two years old. Total price, $15,000.

THE FAMILY ROOM IS SPECTACULAR!
This beautiful center entrance colonial is extra special, from its fresh and tasteful decor right on to its three bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths, and attached two car garage. But the big story here is the family room . . . it's a work of art. If you can afford $71,000, take a look; this could be that "special home" you've been searching for!

FAMILY SIZED COLONIAL
If you're tired of tiny colonials, rejoice! There's enough room, closet space, and bathrooms for your family in this value-packed four bedroom, 2 1/2 bath colonial. And the list of extras that fill this fine home include: Central air, with electronic filtration, attached automatic 2 1/2 car garage, spacious 80' lot, new carpeting in almost all the rooms, and a family room, too. Top value in the low 80's!

ONE OF THE FEW TRULY UNIQUE MANSIONS
NOW AVAILABLE.
Why try to do this special investment justice with words; when you're discussing an 18 room home with carriage house, only an inspection of the premises will answer your many questions.

WHO NEEDS IT?
Let's face it. Not everyone who wants and needs both Grosse Pointe's fine school system and the beautiful parks can afford the "forty-plus" that most starter homes are priced at. We'd like to tell you about $21,000, and the excellent 3 bedroom, two bath frame home that it will buy. Who needs it? Maybe you do.

Nature provides much of the decor that compliments this charmingly decorated four bedroom center entrance Colonial. Meticulously maintained by the present owner, for example: painted two years ago, gutters are 3 years old, family room was built 4 years ago, Mutschler kitchen was built 8 years ago. Fireplaces, in the library, family room and living room. Mrs. Stroh will greet you at 308 GROSSE POINTE BLVD.

DON'T JUDGE . . . this spacious ranch until you've seen it. Two large bedrooms, large living room, dining and family rooms. Oak Panneled library that could be used as a third bedroom. Tiled recreation room with a fireplace. Convenient to schools.

WELL CARED FOR . . . Center Entrance Cape Cod, located in the Farms. Featuring large living room, dining room, library and 1st floor lav. Upstairs, large master bedroom + 2 additional bedrooms and bath. Finished recreation area in basement. Quick possession can be negotiated. Priced realistically under $55,000.

A Little Tender Loving Care . . . is all this house needs to give its new owner years of satisfactory service. Cut glass windows and doors, a magnificent fireplace, large kitchen, living room and dining room are outstanding features of this four bedroom English home in the Farms. Convenient to schools, transportation and shopping.

GLASS IS MEANT TO SEE THROUGH . . . That's why so much of it went into the construction of this five bedroom, skylighted, contemporary home in the heart of the Farms. Verdant vistas drenched in the shade of mature trees remain just a window away. The spectacular step-down, thirty foot long living room, master suite with private patio, the barn siding in the large family and breakfast rooms, extra wide fireplaces, first floor utility room, parquet floors, atrium, and recreation room are just a few extra details that give a hint of the thought and attention that the present owner gave to functional living when he built the home in 1961. Convenient location. Early possession.

Children Must Be Immunized

The Wayne County Department of Health announced a crackdown this fall on violators of state immunization laws concerning children entering school. State law requires that all children planning to attend school for the first time be immunized against diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus, polio, measles and rubella.

Children must have written proof of immunization within eight weeks of the beginning of the school year, or else be excluded from classes, according to a health department release.

The health department periodically offers free immunization clinics which Pointers may take advantage of at the Harper Woods Community Center, 19746 Harper. Clinics are scheduled for Wednesdays, September 21 and October 26, from 9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m. both days.

Pointe school officials say they intend to cooperate fully with the new Wayne County directives, adding that lack of immunization has not been a real problem in recent years.

AN EARLY COIN
One of The United States' earliest coins was the half-dime. The tiny silver coin, half the size and thickness of a 10-cent piece, was first authorized by Congress on October 9, 1792. Eventually the coin was replaced by a nickel-based five-cent piece which was larger and easier to handle. The Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, maintains an extensive collection of Early American coins and currency.

Bye-Bye Birdie at Arrangement

The beautifully carved "Sea Gull on Pier" statue which graced the front lawn of The Arrangement in the Village this summer was reported missing Saturday, August 13, by store owner Don Jensen.

Thieves apparently lugged the six-foot tall, solid wood bird 20 feet from its roost to St. Clair avenue and drove away with it early Saturday morning, according to City police.

The theft was no easy task. The statue, portraying a full-winged sea gull making a graceful landing on a pier, weighed about 300 pounds. Workmen had to use a crane to install it in front of the store early last June.

Mr. Jensen said he paid $450 to commission the work by artist Ken Boshell, of Sterling Heights.

"The gull was a one-of-a-kind item, and it looked so pretty on the corner. The artist never made any other carving like it and he never will," Mr. Jensen said.

"Artists were coming from all over to see it, because it was unique."

Although he believes that the statue has probably been mishandled and broken by now, Mr. Jensen still plans to offer a reward for information leading to the return of the gull.

South Sets Registration

In all cases parents should go to school with the student and take evidence of credits earned, including the last report card.

SUSAN MASCARIN, OF WEBBER PLACE

By Ann Wallace

Susan Mascarin, the 13-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Telly Mascarin, competed in the National Tennis Tournament Finals held during the first week of August in Birmingham, Ala. The results were impressive as she placed fifth in singles competition in the girls 14 and under division, and with her teammate, Anna Van Wallegem, of Coventry lane, won the doubles championship in their age division.

This is the third consecutive year in national competition that Susan has won first place awards — once in singles competition and twice in doubles competition.

Susie, (she likes "Susie" rather than Susan), has been the 1976 National girls 12 and under division champion.

In Birmingham, she competed for the first time in the girls 14 and under age group. "I hope that I can place at least within the top six places this first time in competition at this level.

"This is what I did when I played in the girls 12 division for the first time," she said before she left for the competition. She made it.

To prepare for such competition, Susie practices six hours a day, six days a week, and takes weekly lessons for the duration of the summer.

There is no time off in the winter as she continues this regimen but practices "only" two hours a day, six days a week. She also continues with her lessons.

This devotion to such a schedule has resulted in some marvelous achievements for a person so young. Since June 3, she has played throughout the country in 11 tournaments, (singles and doubles), and has won seven of them, placing in two finals.

She won all of the singles matches in competition for the annual Junior Wrightman Round Robin held in Whitewater, Wis., and placed fifth in the National Clay Court Tournaments in Greensboro, N.C., where the temperature was 105° during competition.

"It was very hot," notes Susie, "but I drank lots of fluids and this helped. I really developed a dark tan, though, from all that sun."

"Some of the matches last four hours, and require much stamina," says Mrs. Mascarin, and adds, "Susie has played tennis for a long time and has gradually developed the strength and endurance that is necessary to compete in all her matches."

Susie started playing tennis at the age of five—"to keep her busy," says her mother. John Conti, a tennis instructor, took Susie and other children to Baldock Park and Belle Isle to play tennis at the courts there in the summer.

"Because of a lack of indoor tennis courts at that time," continues Mrs. Mascarin, "it was necessary to use the wall of a gym in the winter to practice various shots."

"But now, with the development of the tennis houses throughout the area, it is possible to play year-round tennis. The result has been the development of top tennis players.

Slate Cantata Group Tryouts

Detroit's internationally-known Cantata Academy has scheduled auditions for vocal musicians for Friday, September 2, and Saturday, September 3. A few additional singers are required to fill each section.

All candidates will be expected to demonstrate their ability to read music at sight and to perform uncomplicated vocalises, demonstrating tone production and fluency of execution. Interested musicians should apply directly to Frederick Bellinger, director, 886-2754, or Millie Gardner, president of the 40-voice choral ensemble, 528-1331.

Seventeen years ago, during the emergence of interest in Baroque music, the Cantata Academy was organized as a Bach choir—but very quickly, madrigals, motets, choral songs and Gregorian chants made their way into the repertoire.

Today, the Cantata Academy performs all styles of music, from late Medieval to contemporary.

Its annual activities generally include three major concerts in Detroit, an out-of-state performance, participation in Westminster Presbyterian Church's Music Series and, increasingly, performances with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Concerts are, on occasion, re-broadcast over radio station WDET FM.

The Cantata Chamber Singers, a smaller, select group, has toured Europe on three occasions. Plans are being made for return visits.

From Another Pointe of View

Mrs. Livingstone Howard will serve as a clerk for this section of the show.

By the time exhibitors arrive at 8:30 in the morning September 8, Mrs. Clarence E. Maguire, Garden Center president, and a corps of trustees will be receiving and selling delectable gourmet baked goods in the Fries Building's loggia.

The Bake Sale is a new-this-year feature of the annual show, designed to swell the Garden Center's coffers. The Mesdames Byron B. Phillips, Robert Russell and John W. Mulford head the Bake Sale committee, and all trustees are contributing.

Also new this year will be a special center-of-the-ballroom feature.

Tables, covered with white silk taffeta, will display invitational place settings for tray tables, featuring flowers, china, silver and all types of linens.

Mrs. Hansel D. Wilson and Mrs. Erik Erikson are calling all local garden clubs, asking that they designate representatives to exhibit.

Mrs. C. Bayard Johnson, a former general chairman of the show, is in charge of 1977 entries. Mrs. Herbert Schmitz and Mrs. J. Lane Donovan are finance chairmen. Mrs. Maguire is lining up a corps of hostesses for day and evening hours.

Those evening hours were instituted a few years back, (the show was for many years an all-DAY show), so that working people might have an opportunity to view The Pointe's bounty. The extended hours have proved to be one of those "Why didn't anyone ever think of THAT before?" super-popular innovations.

It's all free. It doesn't matter a bit if it rains: the Fries Ballroom is magnificent, rain or shine.

Mrs. Henry S. Walker is in charge of a post-judging sandwich luncheon for judges and workers who make reservations. Mary Lou Frost entertained all her chairmen at a sandwich luncheon yesterday.

Mary Lou's get-together in Fair Acres drive was the final planning/coordinating session for the show.

So . . . all systems are go, thanks to all persons mentioned above and many, many more.

Mrs. George E. Rapp and Mrs. James L. Schueler, for instance. They were responsible for addressing and mailing the invitations: a labor of love and hard work combined.

Mrs. James A. Lafer is doing her usual super job as Publicity Person.

And let's hear it for Mrs. Edward R. Harrigan, a past Garden Center president, and her daughter, Mrs. William A. Cole, a past recording secretary! They're tackling the staging AND the un-staging, which means, when everyone else is sitting back and relaxing and congratulating themselves on a job-well-done . . . Neil and Margaret are doing cleanup.

Which proves the obvious: once a trustee or officer, always a faithful and devoted worker. That's what makes the Grosse Pointe Garden Center tick.

To Re-Crete Revolution

Over a dozen 18th century military units plan to converge on Greenfield Village Saturday and Sunday, August 27 and 28.

Many of the participants in the fourth annual Colonial Military Muster are seasoned veterans of the three earlier campaigns.

Over 200 of these spare-time troopers appear in authentic costumes and use antique weapons during their forays onto the battlefield—known as the activities field in more peaceful times—of Greenfield Village.

Each day begins with a flag raising and muster of units. After the formal opening, each unit parades into the village for a massed review in front of the activities field grandstand.

Along with the regular program, visitors are treated to a number of special events. Colorfully garbed participants vie for costume recognition. Period campsite displays complete the historical setting.

The two days of drill, competition and battle are open to Greenfield Village visitors at no extra charge besides regular admission.
