HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the

Thursday, September 15
DETROIT MAYOR COLEMAN Young won 55.1 per cent of the vote in Tuesday's primary. The runoff opponent for mayor will be Ernest C. Browne, Jr. who received 21.1 percent of the vote. The super-confident Mayor Young predicted at a press conference held yesterday, that he will win re-election by taking 60 per cent of the November vote. Both Mayor Young and Mr. Browne are black, and Detroit's runoff in November will be the first time in a major American city that two black candidates have opposed each other in a general election for mayor.

YESTERDAY WAS the sentencing date for the two nurses convicted of poisoning their patients at the Ann Arbor Veterans Hospital. The nurses, Filipina Narciso, 31, and Leonora Perez, 33, were told by a federal judge that their sentence is being delayed and the two will be sent instead to a federal prison for mental test and evaluation. The prison is located in Alderson, Va. The nurses will be there a minimum of 90 days. Upon their return, Judge Philip Pratt will pass final sentencing.

BURT LANCE has picked up support from some of his Senate interrogators. Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., is one of those supporters. He compared the investigation to the anti-communist inquiries of the late Sen. Joe McCarthy. From the Republican side, Sen. John C. Danforth, also from Missouri, questioned reason for the committee's probing of Lance's personal affairs after they already approved him as Budget Director last January. "A card laid is a card played," he said.

IF YOU WORK in the health field or are a waitress, your job may be literally "driving you crazy." In a federal study just released, the stress involved in some professions can cause job-related mental disorders. Some other professions listed in the top 10 were quality control inspectors, public relations representatives, dishwashers and warehousemen. The study was conducted by the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health. Jobs that proved to be less stressful were newspaper editors, lawyers and teachers.

Monday, September 19
A 28-YEAR-OLD woman gave birth to sextuplets yesterday in Leyden, Holland. Doctors reported that all six babies were in "very good condition." The four girls and two boys were the first children for the parents, whose name was not released. All six were born by caesarean section within a 70-second period. The mother had been taking fertility drugs. If the babies survive, they will be the second set of sextuplets in the world. The first were born to Susan Rosenkowitz in South Africa, in January of 1974.

Tuesday, September 20
JACQUELINE KENNEDY Onassis has negotiated a $20 million settlement with her late husband's daughter. The only condition of the agreement is that Mrs. Onassis abandons all further claims to his estate. The sum is more than double what Jackie would have received under the terms of Aristotle Onassis' will, and almost seven times what she would have gotten if he had completed the divorce proceedings that he intended. The daughter, Christina Onassis, could not be reached for comment.

Clown Magic Demonstrated for Youngsters

Children are the magic of a clown. MEAGHAN O'TOOLE, (right), will attest to that. Meaghan, 9, is in the fourth grade at Our Lady Star of the Sea School. She was picked personally by T. J. TATTERS (left) to help him with a magic trick. But, as Meaghan held the magic wand it broke and out popped a long nail. T. J. skillfully caught it with his head and balanced it. A huge round of laughter and applause resulted from approximately 150 students, kindergarten through fifth grade, in the audience.

Inter-Faith Center Sets 5th Musicale

Folk Music and Singing Will Be Featured at the War Memorial on Friday, September 23

The Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice has scheduled its Fifth Annual Musicale Benefit, featuring hours of live folk music and singing.

This year the setting will be the Fries Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Friday evening, September 23.

The event will be open to all members of the community. The folk music groups from the Detroit metropolitan area will sing traditional and contemporary folk music beginning at 8 p.m. until 11 p.m.

Still Cabaret Style
The style this year will be the same as last year's, with "Cabaret" style tables and chairs. Among the well-known performers will be David Reske, Jill Phillips, ("Aging Children"), Jim and Terry Hobarth, "Bleed Street" and Chuck Mitchell.

Punch and ice will be served and guests are invited to bring any extras they would like.

Increases of One-Third Of Sewage Rates Approved By City, Farms Councils

New Rates Reflect 93 Percent Rate Hike That Is Part of Court Ordered Settlement of EPA Suit in Detroit

The City and Farms joined with two other Pointe communities in raising water-sewer rates by about a third, at council meetings Monday, September 19. The increased rates to residents in those two cities are similar to hikes approved by councils in The Woods and Shores in August.

All the cities are passing along 93 percent increases in the amount they pay Detroit for sewage treatment. The drastic cost increase is part of a court-ordered settlement of an Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), suit, charging Detroit's downriver sewage treatment plant with failure to comply with federal pollution standards.

Combined with water rates, the net effect of the sewage hike will be about 33 percent in The City. A typical customer there, now paying $20 per quarter, will in the future pay $26 per quarter. The City's minimum charge, for the first 1,750 cubic feet of water used, will be raised to $12.34.

Farms residents will pay about 39 percent more on their combined bills, with the minimum charge raised to $9.45.

Farms Controller Carroll Locke said the council decided to pass a bare minimum increase for this year, but he added that another rate hike is expected from Detroit next summer, and possibly, the summer after too.

GP Woods Seniors Set For Big Day

Second Annual Gala Celebration Planned for September 24 at Lake Front Park

By Roger A. Waha
Woods senior citizens are completing plans for their second annual "Gala Day Celebration," so proclaimed by Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, on Saturday, September 24, from 12 noon to 4:30 p.m. at the Lake Front Park's new bathhouse.

Sponsored by the city's Senior Citizens Commission, the event gives seniors an opportunity not only to socialize but to enjoy, and participate in, a variety of entertainment.

The big day will help the commission promote its goals, while showing the entire community that the city's seniors, number over 3,400, are an important segment, said Irene Sutton, commission chairman.

"Viable Program"
At the same time, she stressed, "We are trying to make the senior citizens realize we have a viable program, (sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department), in the city. We are the only Pointe which has such special activities."

Despite overcast weather last year, an estimated 400 seniors participated in the event and Mrs. Sutton hopes even more attend on Saturday. "We hope this is just a beginning. We thought last year was outstanding."

Besides the socialization and entertainment, she said the event will give seniors an opportunity to meet their city officials, all of whom have been invited, along with their wives.

"I feel people will come back and hope they bring their friends with them," she added.

The program begins with the Pledge of Allegiance, the singing of one verse of "America," the invocation and then lunch. Seniors are asked to bring their own food while coffee and cake will be provided free of charge.

After the noon opening, a welcome will be given by Mrs. Sutton followed by the introduction of guests, scheduled to include Mr. Pinkos, Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann, (Continued on Page 4)

Farms Launches Study of Planned Project at Pier

Ad Hoc Committee Consisting of Farms Residents Appointed to Offer Suggestions for Needed Improvements

By Wendy K. Settle
The Farms Council appointed an ad hoc committee to research and offer solutions to the problems involved with renovating the Pier Park. At its regular meeting held, Monday, September 19, the Council received suggested names for the committee, decided upon its members and appointed a chairman for it.

The committee will first meet around October 5 and is expected to report its findings back to the Council by February 1.

The Council has long felt the need to up-date the facilities at the Pier. But, in order to actually start work on the Pier, two questions must be answered.

Committee Is First
First is the appointing of the ad hoc committee. Farms residents are on the committee, the people who use the Pier the most. They will know the needs of the community. Therefore, the Council thinks they are best suited to give recommendations.

When the suggestions have been made, the second question is "Where do we get the money to pay for this?"

The question of money was originally discussed at the Council's special meeting on August 29. At that meeting Mayor James H. Dingeman suggested the possibility of a bond issue to finance the Pier Park improvements.

The Kerby road sewer project is being financed with a $375,000 bond issue.

Mayor Dingeman talked about $250,000 for the Pier improvements. Adding the Kerby road bonds to the possible Pier improvements equals $625,000.

The suggestion of issuing bonds to cover the cost of the improvements was not discussed at the appointing of the ad hoc committee. In fact, financing of the improvements was not discussed at all.

After February 1, when the ad hoc committee presents its findings to the Council, monies for the plan will be discussed.

Two Council members, Nancy J. Waughman and Joseph L. Fromm will be ex officio members of the ad hoc committee.

Others appointed by the council are: Mrs. Margot Wormet, of Provincial road, Raymond Chown, of Ridge-mont road, George Gerow, of Chalfonte avenue, John Brooks, of Cloverly road, Mrs. Edna McFarlane, of Hillcrest, and Walter Osus, of Ridge-mont road. Mr. Gerow was named chairman.

Members of the committee were appointed because of their interest and use of the Pier Park. The Council feels these residents represent a cross-section of citizens who frequent the Park.

All the members will be advised by the Council to "accent on long range plans and capital improvements."

The committee will also receive advice from the Parks and Recreation department.

Park Council Postpones Auto Bump Shops Action

The Park Council decided at its special September 19 meeting to take no formal action on Richard Buick Inc.'s plan to sub-lease two of its buildings on Kercheval avenue to Patmon Oldsmobile Inc. and McDonald East Ford Inc.

The council and several citizens present at the Monday night meeting were concerned over the negative impact bumping and painting of cars at the dealerships might have on the community.

"We don't want them, they're messy, dirty and a community eyesore," said Councilman Douglas G. Graham. "If you plan to expand on the bumping aspect of the business, this room won't

Boards Join Forces to Retain Law

Proposed Changes in State Unemployment Compensation Laws Called Threat to Education

In an attempt to ward off a potential crisis for local schools, the Pointe school administration has joined with boards of education from across the state to urge the legislature to vote down proposed changes in state unemployment compensation laws.

The proposed changes, contained in Senate Bill No. 714, would make non-instructional school employees, (custodians and office workers), eligible for unemployment benefits during the summer, Christmas and spring vacations.

The Michigan Association of School Administrators estimates the bill could cost Michigan school systems about $56 million a year.

Would Impose Burden
"Senate Bill 714 would put another very serious financial burden on school districts," said Pointe assistant to the superintendent Dr. George Eddington. He urged local citizens to write to their state senators to express their sentiments on the proposed changes.

According to the school's director of personnel, Lawrence Kennedy, the bill would cost The Pointe at least $45,000 this year. The Board of Education has budgeted $25,500 for unemployment compensation costs.

Under current Michigan law, school employees are ineligible for unemployment benefits during the regular school vacations.

The current policy does not deny eligibility if the employee has been laid-off, however.

The legislature is considering the amendment in an effort to bring the state into compliance with new federal unemployment requirements, in order to preserve about $450 million in tax credits to Michigan employers.

Not Required by Feds
The change in eligibility for non-instructional employees is not required by the federal law.

According to Dr. Eddington, the senate labor committee has recommended amendments to the bill that would continue the current policy on eligibility. "Organized labor is strongly opposed to the amendments," he added.

If they are not passed, the results will be "catastrophic for the schools, students and taxpayers of the state," according to a Michigan Association of School Administrators press release.

Local districts would be forced to seek higher local property taxes and/or reduce current programs should the bill be passed without the amendments, the association added.

Candidates Eye Seats in GPW

Eight candidates in The Woods qualified to run for office after their nominating petitions were approved last week.

In the mayoral race, incumbent Benjamin W. Pinkos will face William Wilson for the two-year term. Mr. Wilson is an auxiliary public safety officer.

For three four-year term council vacancies, incumbents John Sabol and E. D. Grady will battle David McQueen, former public safety department dog warden, and Thomas Fahrner, planning commissioner.

Finally, Robert E. Novitke and Arthur J. Kuehnle will face one another for a two-year term on the council. This opening is due to the resignation of Joan M. Mulian from the post.

student donation is $3. Tickets may be obtained at the door but because of space limitations in the Ballroom, it would be safer to reserve seats in advance through the Center by calling 824-0350.

Started by Churches
The Grosse Pointe branch was established in 1969 by means of working within the community to better understand and achieve racial justice for all minority people.

Some of the activities of center volunteers have included race relations workshops and seminars, textbook evaluation, and a study of Detroit's Recorder's Court. The center's offices, located at 15222 East Jefferson avenue in The Park, house a library, resource materials, a conference area and work areas where persons in the community can come for information, discussion or study.

The center is a non-profit organization which depends entirely on tax-exempt contributions from churches, individuals and groups in the community for its financial support.

The Muscalle Benefit is the fifth that Gordon and Rita Blake have held for the center, although they have held musicales for the past seven years.

All Participated
The tradition goes back many years with Mr. Blake's great aunt's, May and Elizabeth Fisher, who sponsored festivals in which all who attended had to participate. Sometimes as many as 150 people would entertain from noon to the early morning hours.

After the death of the Fisher sisters in the 1940's, other members of the family carried on the tradition of the Annual Muscalle.

Gordon and Rita Blake have continued hosting the events because they believe recreation should be a recreation of the spirit. They also appreciate the value of encouraging young people to share their talents with people of all ages.

Some of the selections will be original although most of them will be the more familiar traditional and contemporary folk music. Most of the artists playing during the night are semi-professional or professional, but they have volunteered their time for the Benefit.

2-Car Accident Injures Woman

One motorist complained of head and neck injuries following a collision with another car at Morningside drive and Vernier road on Thursday, September 15, according to a Woods Public Safety Department report.

Taken to St. John Hospital for examination and treatment of the injuries was Maria Egger of Roseville. Her vehicle was struck by one driven by Brenda Margaret Edens of the Woods.

According to the report, the Edens' car was traveling north on Morningside and stopped for a stop sign at Vernier, where the other woman was heading east on the road.

The first woman told public safety officers she noticed that the Egger car had its right turn signal on and assumed that the other driver was about to make a turn onto Morningside, she started up and the two cars collided.

Mrs. Egger complained of a headache and neck injuries and was conveyed to the hospital in the Woods emergency ambulance.

Mrs. Edens was issued a violation ticket for failure to yield to oncoming traffic.

The Morningside-Vernier intersection, where the accident occurred, is a hazardous one, according to one area resident, because students from four local schools cross it every morning on their way to class.

"I've seen many accidents at that corner," said Sharon Bencie, of Sunningdale drive. "There's usually 20 cars backed-up to get into North High and dozens of children waiting to cross the intersection in the mornings."

"A traffic light would solve all the problems, before another accident occurs."

The corner is in the path of students attending University Liggett, Ferry, Barnes and North High School. Mrs. Bencie said she intends to contact members of the city council to request a traffic light be installed at the corner.

Circus

"Ooooo, Wow!" the audience roared.
"And that's only the trunk. Just think about the rest of his body."

Other interesting points were revealed. For example, the Polar bear is the most dangerous animal in the world because he doesn't show any signs of anger before he attacks. Remind your children of that if ever they decide to be an exchange student in the Arctic.

Many more interesting tidbits were learned, but are too numerous to list.

Mr. Tatters is not only the star clown of the circus. He's the star of Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey's Educational Services Department.

The Educational Services Department conducts assemblies like the one given at Star of the Sea, in every town the circus visits.

Mr. Tatters travels ahead of the circus spreading the word that "the circus is comin'." He not only performs at schools but, also for hospitals, civic groups, radio and television.

So, since T. J. Tatters is in town, the circus can't be far behind. In fact it started Tuesday, September 20, at Olympia Stadium. And will run through this Sunday, September 25.

After Mr. Tatters' performance at Star of the Sea, you can almost hear those little student's voices, "ah mom, please take me to the circus."

And why not. After all, everybody loves a clown.

Bump Shop

with citizens within 300 feet being notified of the proposed change.

The Patmon Oldsmobile dealership was instructed to present its plans to the city administration for a permit. Such a permit would be granted providing Patmon Oldsmobile does not expand on its bumping aspect of the business.

Patmon Oldsmobile would also be required to vacate its bumping facilities on Beaconsfield avenue.

Richard Buick Inc. is leaving the two buildings because of lack of space.

KRAUSE NAMED VP
City National Bank of Detroit has announced the promotion of Pointer Theodore J. Krause to vice-president in charge of the corporate services department. Mr. Krause, a Wayne State University graduate, joined the bank in 1969 as information systems manager. He is a member of the Bank Administration Institute.

Coin Column Wins Award

Pointer Susan E. Bisailon, manager of National Bank of Detroit's Money Museum, has been awarded the Maurice Gould Literary Memorial Award for her coin column, which appears each Sunday in the "Detroit News."

The annual award, co-sponsored by Numismatic Literary Guild and the Medallist Art Co., was presented during ceremonies of the American Numismatic Association's 86th annual convention last month at the Marriott in Atlanta, Ga.

Ms. Bisailon has managed the Money Museum, one of the few bank-owned collections of numismatic materials, since 1971. Her columns, which have appeared in the Sunday News since July 1976, were judged the best in the nation among non-numismatic publications of over 100,000 circulation.

The award is named for the late Maurice Gould, syndicated columnist, considered the dean of American numismatic writers.

Ms. Bisailon received a special engraved gold on silver vermeil medal bearing a portrait of Mr. Gould by prominent American sculptor Adlai S. Hardin. The "Detroit News" also received a bronze medal.

Selections of the winners is based on columns submitted by each contestant and published during the preceding 12-month period.

Judging and administration of the contest is the sole responsibility of the Numismatic Literary Guild, established in 1968, and composed of more than 200 numismatic writers, editors and columnists throughout the English-speaking world.

The awards are underwritten by the Medallist Art Company, the 77-year-old medallists who also produce the Pulitzer Prize and the Newberry and Caldecott literary award medals.

ULS Students Given Honors

Douglas W. MacKellan, Jr., Head of the Upper School at University Liggett, announced that several ULS students have been inducted into "The Society of Distinguished High School Students."

Students from The Pointe who were inducted are: Elizabeth Andrews, Sandra Terenzi, Jason Machan, Kevin Conley, Mary McBrien and William Fleischmann.

The society, which is one of the nation's foremost high school honoraries, inducted the students because of their excellence in academic and civic achievements according to Mr. MacKellan.

The National Awards Program is sponsored by 21 of America's finest colleges. Thousands of dollars in scholarship funds from these colleges are made available to Society members.

Sponsor MacKellan received a National Appreciation Award for his efforts on behalf of the students and stated that "I am extremely proud of these exceptional students and the honor that they have received. It's surely one that they will cherish the rest of their lives."

Frosh Parents Bid to Meeting

Parents of students enrolled in the ninth grade at North High School are invited to a special meeting Thursday, September 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the theater, 707 Vernier Road.

According to Principal G. Bruce Feighner, the purpose of the meeting is to provide the parents with information about the school and an opportunity to meet with the counselor.

Letters of invitation are being mailed home. All parents of freshmen are urged to attend.

PSO William Entwistle Retiring after 25 Years

Officer William Entwistle, a 25-year veteran of the Woods Public Safety Department, will retire on Wednesday, September 28, and will move from The Woods to live permanently in St. Helen, Mich., where he built a brand new home. He is 55 years old.

Officer Entwistle was appointed to the Public Safety Department on September 29, 1952. For the last four years he was the department's records officer, classifying all reports, including those received from the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Michigan State Police. He was also a first class engineer on the department's fire trucks.

A native of Detroit, he is a 1939 graduate of Cass Tech High School.

He is a veteran of World War II, serving from 1943 to 1946 in the South Pacific, with the Airborne Radar Observation Command. He was honorably discharged with the rating of corporal.

Before joining the Woods Department, PSO Entwistle worked for a security guard company, and in his earlier years, before he Secretary of State's Department took over the function of testing new drivers and issuing operators' licenses, he performed this duty for the Public Safety Department.

He is married to the former Lois Petersimes of Detroit. They have no children.

He is a member of the Grosse Pointe Fraternal Order of Police, Lodge No. 102, with which he intends to remain affiliated. He is a member of Grosse Pointe Post 303, American Legion, a life member of The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Harper Woods Post 8764, and a member of The Royal Order of Moose, St. Clair Shores Lodge No. 1837.

The retiree said that he will miss all his colleagues in the department and all of his friends in the Pointe, but he is looking forward to a complete life of leisure in St. Helen. After that, who knows, he added.

"Officer Entwistle has been a good and conscientious officer," said Woods City Administrator Chester Petersen. "He has served the city and its people well. We will miss him. We all wish him the best of luck in his retirement and whatever endeavors he might want to take."

Director of Public Safety Henry Marchand had this to say:

"We will miss seeing Officer Entwistle around the department. He has done an outstanding job as records officer and has been a first rate engineer in the fire department section. He has done an excellent job as a public safety officer, performing his duties well.

"We have worked together for a long time and we will all miss his good humor and the competent manner in which he performed his duties. Everyone in the department who has known him, are the better for it. We sure are going to miss him here."

In relation to the big day, the council at its regular meeting Monday, September 12, based upon a budget breakdown of senior citizen activities, unanimously appropriated up to a maximum of $500 for expenses with final costs to be okayed by the solons at a later date.

Mrs. Sutton said expenses will include the rental of equipment, coffee, entertainment, the mailing of invitations to some 2,800 seniors, among other areas.

In relation to the 1977-78 program, which totals $3,000, other activities include bus trips to various events, $975; special parties, incorporating funds for building rental and entertainment, $675; sporting activities, $250; funds for stationery and flyers, $350; and equipment, $250.

Cottage OK'd by Blood Banks

The American Association of Blood Banks, (AABB), has announced that the Cottage Hospital, 159 Kercheval avenue, has been accredited by the Association for another two-year period.

This certifies that the level of medical-technical and administrative performance within the (blood bank or transfusion service), meets or exceeds the standards established by the AABB.

Richard H. Walker, M.D., president of the AABB, congratulated the Cottage governing board and staff and added, "This recognition by the AABB is assurance of your continued interest in providing the highest quality medical care to the donors and patients you serve."

This facility is one of more than 2,000 blood banks and hospital transfusion services in the United States which have been accredited through this program.

The purpose of AABB's voluntary inspection and accreditation program includes elevating the standards of practice with the blood bank or transfusion service which assures superior services to blood donors and increased safety in human blood transfusion to patients.

Accreditation is based on the results obtained from a comprehensive physical inspection by one of the AABB's trained inspectors.

Richard H. Walker, M.D., president emphasized that the patient who receives a blood transfusion provided by a facility accredited by the American Association of Blood Banks can have full confidence that the facility has voluntarily met high standards of procedures and is continually striving to offer the best services possible.

The American Association of Blood Banks is the nation's largest organization comprised of community and hospital blood banks and transfusion services.

Its membership includes physicians, nurses, medical technologists and others actively engaged in providing whole blood and blood components. The AABB has operated a National Clearinghouse program since 1953.

This program provides a mechanism for donors to replace blood voluntarily anywhere in the country and to coordinate blood exchanges between banks without cost to the donors or patients. This assures better utilization of all available blood supplies.

Assuming too much, too often, usually means many mistakes.

There's a world of difference between accusation and proof.

by John Lundberg

There are probably many occasions when you would like to serve a fine wine at your table. Whether the occasion is informal and demands a popular wine for a casual get-together, or whether it is formal and demands a fine dinner wine—it is always important to be able to choose something exactly appropriate. How to learn about wines? Trial and error will eventually tell you what you like and don't like. Often, however, we can help you choose the wine that is exactly appropriate to your menu and to the occasion.

Come in and see us at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626; we'll be happy to advise you on the best wines for your particular tastes, needs and budget. Park Marina's Project Starting Date Is Oct. 10

By James J. Njaim

The Park Council on Monday, September 12, accepted the low bid of R. H. McCracken for the marina improvement project at the Windmill Pointe Park, located at the foot of Alter road. The company submitted a bid of $112,499.

John Stevens, of John Stevens Associates, Inc., architects, engineers and planners, whose company designed and will supervise the project, told the council that although the firm was small, it was reliable and can be counted on to do an excellent job.

It has done dock and boat well work for a number of communities, including The Woods, Roseville and Detroit.

The company, Mr. Stevens noted, has a reputation of getting things done right on schedule. He said the work of constructing and improving the marina catwalks, adding 57 new boat wells, dredging and borings, et al, should commence about Monday, October 10, and be completed by December 10.

The only exception is the water and electrical connections for the new wells, which should be started and finished sometime this winter, he added.

City Manager Robert A. Slone disclosed that application for a revenue bond in the amount of $170,000 has already been presented to the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission in Lansing for its approval. This sum is for engineering fees, lawyer's fees and unexpected costs which may come up.

Mr. Slone said he anticipates no problem in the financing of the bond, which will be issued without the faith and credit of the city, i.e., the bond issue will be paid off from revenue received from well rentals, rather than through municipal taxes.

Mr. Slone said the 57 new boat spaces will include a new pier, to be designated as Pier No. 5, with wells measuring 12 x 28' to accommodate boats 21' x 28' in size, because there is a shortage of wells to take care of this problem.

The city manager said he is confident that the city will have no problem in selling the bonds to raise money for the project because The Park's past history in promptly paying off its debts is very much in its favor.

The marina improvement plans call for the adding of 17 boat wells along the east wall of Pier No. 1A, 31 wells, (16 on the east side and 15 on the west side), of the new pier, No. 5, plus the remodeling and adding of several wells in Pier Nos. 2, 3 and 4.

There are presently 219 boat spaces of varied sizes in the park marina. The adding of the 57 new wells will raise the total to 276.

Currently, there are 135 boat owners on the waiting list to rent a well, Mr. Slone said.

Professional marina owners rate the Windmill Pointe Park Marina one of the best, if not the best, throughout the Detroit metropolitan area. The improvements and additions will give it an even higher rating, it was pointed out.

Maire to Host Parents Party

The Maire School PTO will host its annual New Parent Coffee at the Maire School library, 740 Cadieux road, Tuesday, September 27, at 9:30 a.m.

Representatives of the PTO and the school administration will discuss the Maire curriculum and the various special interest activities available to Maire students. Refreshments will be served.

To Show Films of Wilderness

The Neighborhood Club is holding its Annual Fall Wilderness Presentation on Thursday, September 22, at 7:30 p.m. The presentation is part of the club's year around teen wilderness program, which offers a wide variety of day and overnight trips for teens in grades 7 through 12.

The presentation is a chance for teens, adults, and families to see slides and pictures from previous Neighborhood Club trips and to get up-to-date information on the upcoming fall weekends.

A film about a whitewater canoe trip will be the highlight of the evening.

The half-hour film called "One River Down," is the story of an actual canoe trip in the wild north country of Labrador. The canoers are the authors of "The Complete Wilderness Paddler," called by some experts the best canoe book ever. It's a full color movie well worth seeing.

There is no charge for the evening. Teens interested in upcoming trips but who are unable to attend, please call the Neighborhood Club at 885-4600.

Jim Oberliesen, Community Relations Manager, offers you this telephone tip:

"How can you tell if the person at your door is really a Michigan Bell Employee?"

As you may have noticed, our employees do not wear uniforms. They dress in the way they think is most appropriate to get their jobs done. While this permits them to look like the individuals they are, it really doesn't help you identify them as Bell employees. But, there is a way. Every Michigan Bell employee is required to carry a Michigan Bell identification card giving his or her name, photograph, and signature. For your protection, be sure to see this card before you admit them into your home. They'll be happy to show it to you.

Michigan Bell

Nancy Dickerson, prominent national correspondent, reports for Detroit Edison:

"Before another cold winter, learn about the heat pump. It's one of the most energy-efficient ways to heat your home."

Today's heat pump is one of the most energy-efficient ways to heat your home, apartment, office or commercial building. It returns over 1 1/2 units of heat for every unit of energy it uses.

Think what this can mean in conserving energy and helping to keep your heating and cooling costs down.

There's a unique reason why the heat pump is an outstandingly efficient heating system.

It makes good use of outdoor heat.

Yes. Even in winter there's heat in the outdoor air that can help keep you warm. The trick is to move that heat inside where you can use it. That's what the heat pump does. Only during very low temperatures is supplementary heat needed.

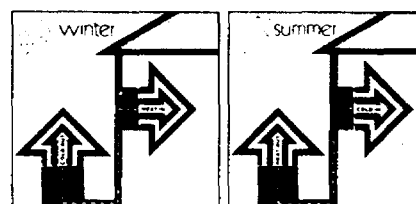

In summer, the heat pump moves heat out of your home for energy-efficient cooling. It's an all-year comfort system that also filters and dehumidifies. And it's clean because no fossil fuel is burned in your home.

The heat pump works something like your refrigerator.

A heat pump is more sophisticated, but it works in much the same way. Imagine the cold air in your refrigerator as the cold winter air outside your home. The hot air that you sometimes feel being blown into your kitchen is actually being extracted from the cold air inside the unit. This is how the heat pump warms your home. In summer, the process is reversed to cool your home: the heat in the inside air is extracted by the heat pump and moved outdoors.

Here's how the heat pump works.

See for yourself.

You can see heat pumps in the new homes displaying the Detroit Edison EEE Award. This Award is presented to builders who incorporate energy-efficient excellence standards into their homes—including proper insulation, energy-efficient appliances and lighting, as well as electric heat pump heating and cooling. Ask Detroit Edison for names and locations of builders who have EEE Award homes on display.

Conserving with comfort.

Detroit Edison wants you to know about the heat pump because it generally is the most energy-efficient way to provide homes and buildings with year-round comfort.

The heat pump can also be an important answer to conservation because the natural heat it uses helps save our non-renewable fossil fuels.

As a concerned participant in America's crusade for conservation, Detroit Edison is working hard to do its part. But it requires a working partnership between those who supply energy and those who use it. So if you're planning on buying, building or replacing your present heating system, consider a heat pump as part of your plans.

Detroit Edison has a folder, "Your all-season space conditioner, The Heat Pump." Pick one up at any Detroit Edison Customer Office and learn more about this energy-efficient way to heat and cool homes and buildings. Or write to: Customer Relations, Detroit Edison, 2000 Second, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

Conserve for all it's worth. The power is in your hands.

Woods Police Accuse Pair In Prescription Incident

Woods public safety officers arrested a man and woman on Friday, September 16, on a charge of attempting to pass a fraudulent prescription at a Woods drug store.

Arrested were Gary Robert Benard, 26, of Detroit, and Susan Lee Upledger, 17, of Harper Woods.

Information put on the Law Enforcement Information Network brought back a reply that Miss Upledger has no previous record, but that Benard had a long traffic record, and that he was wanted by Roseville authorities on a felony warrant.

Benard was specifically charged with possession of a fraudulent medical prescription and Miss Upledger was charged with possession of such a prescription and also for being in possession of narcotic paraphernalia.

According to an official Woods Public Safety Department report, authorities received a call from a druggist at Harkness Pharmacy in Mack avenue, in which it was related that a man had called claiming to be a "Dr. Shaya" of Warren, Mich., and that he wanted a prescription filled for 750 mg of Thorazine.

The druggist informed "the doctor" that the drug does not come in that heavy a dosage and the person then quickly said he made a mistake and actually wanted 750 mg of Placidyl, in the name of "Jennie Benard."

Following the phone call, the druggist notified the Woods authorities, stating that he had called a Dr. Shaya's office and was told that the doctor was out of town.

At 6:13 p.m., the druggist again called police to disclose that a man and woman were in the store attempting to get a prescription filled for "Jennie Benard."

PSOs Donald Sun and Patrick DeVine were dispatched to the Harkness Drug Store and arrested Benard and Miss Upledger and confiscated the prescription as evidence. The pair were taken to the station.

At the station, a custodial search was conducted and officers found in Miss Upledger's purse items commonly used by drug addicts. They found syringes, a burned spoon and matches, which were retained as evidence.

At 7:30 p.m., Miss Upledger was informed of her rights, but she refused to make a statement. Benard also refused to talk.

Benard and Miss Upledger are scheduled for a hearing in Woods municipal court on Wednesday, October 16. Woods police released Benard to Roseville authorities and placed a hold on him with that agency.

The young woman was unable to post any bond, but she was released until the October court date.

Mr. Piana, a native Detroit, joined Auto Club in 1940, the year he graduated from the University of Detroit. He became a district sales manager in 1955 and in 1960 was named manager of the club's downriver branch.

He also managed the club's Gratiot and northwest branches and served as field operations manager and special assistant to the general manager.

He is an Army veteran and is a member of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce.

Pointers Head Torch Drive

Three Farms residents recently signed on as top volunteers in the United Foundation's 1977 Torch Drive.

They are Roy D. Chapin Jr., chairman of the board and chief executive officer, American Motors Corp., David K. Eastlick, president and chief executive officer, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., and Donald E. O'Neill, president, Parke, Davis and Co.

Mr. Chapin will chair the Torch Drive's automotive manufacturers unit, Mr. Eastlick, the service unit and Mr. O'Neill, the commercial unit.

All three groups are among the six chapter campaign units which together raise more than 90 percent of the Torch Drive's total goal.

Mr. Chapin, a United Foundation board member, will be responsible for the solicitation of the four automotive manufacturing firms in this year's campaign.

A graduate of Yale University, Mr. Chapin is past chairman and a director of the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Ass'n. He is a trustee of Leader Dogs for the Blind and a vice president of the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, both Torch Drive-supported agencies.

A long-time worker for conservation, he has been a director of the World Wildlife Fund and a trustee of the North American Wildlife Foundation.

Mr. Eastlick, who serves as UF secretary, will direct the solicitation of over 2,000 service-oriented organizations in the metropolitan Detroit area.

A former president of Indiana Bell, Mr. Eastlick holds an AB degree in business administration from the University of Michigan. He was a Sloan Fellow at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1954.

He is a director of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, Detroit Renaissance, Inc., Economic Club of Detroit and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Name October FLEC Month

The month of October has been unanimously proclaimed "Family Life Education Council," (FLEC), month in The Woods. The council at its regular meeting Monday, September 12, unanimously authorized Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos to sign the document.

With this action, Mr. Pinkos joins the mayors of all the Pointes and Harper Woods in citing FLEC.

The measure notes that FLEC has been of great service to citizens of the six communities through its many education programs, along with providing counseling services to many youths through its operation of Center Point.

It also notes that FLEC provides medical services to young people through the operation of its medical clinic, plus its operation of the Dialogue "help line" offering trained listening service for adults.

Distinctive Dining by

Larry Lavigne

Avocados vary in shape, size, color from green to almost black. Small finger-like avocados are seedless. When selecting an avocado, cradle it in the palm of your hand; if it yields to gentle pressure, it is ready to eat. To be at its best, an avocado must ripen till no feeling of firmness remains. Keep at room temperature until ripe and then refrigerate up to three days until needed. To prepare, halve lengthwise and twist gently to separate. Twist and lift out seed. Loosen skin and strip from fruit, starting at the narrow end. Brush with citrus juice to keep fruit from darkening.

This Saturday North's top seven runners will travel to Toledo, O. to compete in the Tri-State competition.

Varsity Loses, But JV Wins

By Mike Merlo

University Liggett School (ULS) varsity football lost to Hamtramck on Friday, September 16, 13-6. The first quarter touchdown scored by Tom Graves proved to be the only points scored for ULS.

From then on it was Hamtramck's ball. They scored at the beginning of the second quarter and kicked the extra point, taking the lead 7-6. Minutes later near the end of the half, Hamtramck scored on a 12-yard run up the middle but failed to get the extra point because of a blocked kick.

The score remained 13-6 the rest of the game.

The Hamtramck defense succeeded in keeping ULS's star fullback Will Hummel from gaining yardage the entire afternoon. Even many Hamtramck penalties did not help the ULS attack.

ULS is now 1-1 for the season.

The ULS Junior Varsity, on the other hand, destroyed the Hamtramck J.V. on Thursday, September 15 by a score of 28-6. Their record is now 2-0.

Hammer Runs For Hillsdale

Tom Hammer, a 1974 graduate of North High School and former state champion in Class A track, began his senior season with the Hillsdale College cross-country team on Saturday, September 3.

The season started with a race at Taylor University, in which Tom, a co-captain finished fifth and helped the Hillsdale Chargers win the team championship.

Tom teamed up with Rich Bennett, of Jackson, alternating miles in the relay, for a total of six miles. Their combined time was 30 minutes, 41 seconds. Tom's individual time totaled 15 minutes, 24.5 seconds.

Teams Divide Soccer Games

By Mike Merlo

The University Liggett School, (ULS), soccer teams traveled to Maumee, O. on Tuesday, September 13 only to have the varsity defeated 4-3.

ULS scored three goals right away, two by Bret Morrow and one by Carl Popkey. Maumee came back and it was 3-2 at the half. Maumee plugged two more past the ULS defense and walked away with the victory.

The ULS junior varsity defeated the Maumee J.V.'s in a 1-0 decision. ULS will get a rematch against Maumee next year on ULS's turf.

ON THE SPOT
Many would enjoy seeing the man who invented the budget system on a vacation trip.

Girls Big Stars in Horse Show

Two University Liggett girls distinguished themselves as the outstanding competitors on Sunday, September 18, at the fall horse show at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club (GPHC), which was forced indoors by torrential downpours that swamped the outside jumping courses.

Brooke Beardslee, 12, of Provincial road, and Andrea Carstens, 15, of Chalfont road, swept all six of the major jumping classes, each winning three.

Riding her pony, Grey Boy, Miss Beardslee took first place in Open Jumper, Junior Hunter, and Junior Equitation Over Fences. Miss Carstens won Open Working Hunter, the Medal class, and the arduous Hunter Classic aboard her gelding, Montego Bay.

The largest class of the day, Junior Equitation on the flat, was won by Katie Phillips, 13, of The Woods, who rode Boston War, owned by Lawrence Marantette, also of Grosse Pointe.

Miss Phillips beat 15 other entries in a special ride-off against Miss Beardslee, her best friend.

The two were required to trade horses and perform figure eights and a counter-canter without stirrups.

Other prize winners were Nancy Johnson, 18, whose chestnut gelding, Wayward Son, won several ribbons including first place in Working Hunter Under Saddle; Beth Epstein, who won six ribbons with Jericho, owned by GPHC riding master Tom Smith; and Roxanne Lie, whose horse Equus compiled 161 points and a second place finish in the double-round Hunter Classic, just two points behind the winner, Montego Bay.

It was a nostalgic day for judge Troy Maschmeyer, Jr., 22, of Grosse Pointe, who learned to ride at the Hunt Club at the age of four.

Mr. Maschmeyer went on to compete in the Olympic-style Grand Prix jumping circuit, which took him all over the United States before he "retired" to join his father's construction business.

The horse show, in which guests from Win-A-Gin Farm in Metamora competed, was a "schooling" show. One purpose of which was to afford novice riders an opportunity to test their progress.

Unlike formal "recognized" shows, the judge (Mr. Maschmeyer) gave individual critiques upon request and furnished impromptu seminars explaining his choices and penalties.

Even for the most seasoned riders, schooling shows provide helpful learning situations in which weaknesses can be pinpointed and hopefully, corrected prior to the bigger shows where trophies and prize money are awarded and the competition is much, much stiffer.

The ONE fertilizer your lawn needs this Fall and why.

Lawn experts agree, your lawn receives more long-lasting benefits from fertilizing in Fall than at any other time of year.

There's ONE product specially formulated to give all the nutrients your lawn needs at this critical time of year... Winter Green... the Fall Fertilizer. Its special Fall formula greens your lawn now... and keeps it green into Winter. More important, Winter Green promotes a deeper, stronger root system, which encourages growth of creeping, underground rhizomes. These produce new grass plants to give you a thicker, richer-looking lawn next Spring.

$6.25 5,000 sq. ft.
$11.45 10,000 sq. ft.

DANDELIONS? FALL WEEDS?

Use Two-Way Winter Green. It's not only the fall fertilizer... but contains an extra-strength formula for hard-to-kill fall weeds. Works 3 ways:

- It greens now.
- Builds roots and rhizomes for a thicker spring lawn.
- Eliminates most weeds now, so next spring your lawn will be practically weed-free!

$7.95 covers 5,000 sq. ft.

Benign Neglect
For Dumbcane

Dumbcane is a resilient houseplant that does better when you neglect it a bit.

Michigan State University horticulturists explain that the dumbcane, (Dieffenbachia), should be watered thoroughly, then allowed to dry moderately before being watered again. Too frequent waterings will cause the lower leaves to yellow.

Go easy on the fertilizer. Feed every two or three months with any standard houseplant fertilizer at half the recommended rate.

Dumbcane can survive in light so low that your hand barely casts a shadow, but it prefers the light near a sunny window. It also will do well under artificial light.

Warm temperatures—80 to 85 degrees F during the day and a minimum of 62 to 65 at night—are the ideal, but the plant will grow at lower temperatures.

Several members of the Dieffenbachia family are commonly available. All have canelike main stems and large leaves.

The leaves of Dieffenbachia "Exotica" are speckled in medium green and cream. D. picta superba has leaves with dark green borders, white along the center vein and green and yellow splotches in between.

D. picta "Rudolph Roehrs" has nearly white leaves with grass-green borders and center veins. In low light, the leaves tend to be darker. D. amoena has medium green leaves with patches of yellowish-white parallel to the veins.

Most Dieffenbachias grow to about four feet tall. They are propagated by stem segment or air layering.

The sap of the stems is poisonous. If put in the mouth, it causes the tongue and mucous membranes to swell. Suffocation may occur.

Chamber Group
Donates Music

Sheet music for chamber groups, donated by the Grosse Pointe Chamber Music Players in memory of Henry Pringham, is now available on loan at the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue.

Mr. Pringham was an ardent chamber musician, a charter member and past president of the Chamber Music Players. Richard Pringham, his brother, of the London music publishing house Musica Rara, contributed many of the compositions.

The collection of 368 compositions will provide a rich musical resource for adult musicians and for high school students.

Another musical collection that is available at the Central Library is the Choral Music Collection.

Started more than 10 years ago, this collection of sheet music for choral groups as large as 100 voices includes over 500 selections.

The program is voluntary, according to Elizabeth Soby, reading consultant, and, in past years the response has been overwhelming.

Students are given help in organization of materials, planning study time, increasing reading efficiency and other related areas.

It's Only Natural

by L.C. Termini N.D.

One of the most important times of all of our lives is a time we do not have any memory of at all, and would never be able to describe. I don't mean the time we spend sleeping, though that certainly is important. No, I mean the time we are in our mother's womb. It is perhaps the most nutritionally important time of our lives. That is why it is especially important that a pregnant woman eats a balanced and properly supplemented diet. After all, as they say, she has more than just one mouth to feed, and a well nourished mother-to-be, means a lot toward having a happy and healthy baby.

At VIM & VIGOR HEALTH FOODS, 21151 Mack, 886-9466 we don't give you health advice (we leave that to your physician), but we can tell you about the benefits of using natural foods. I can also give you professional naturopathic advice and nutritional guidance, by appointment only. Come in and browse through our wide inventory. Open 9:30-9 Mon-Sat; 11-5 Sun.

Inexpensive Smoke Alarms May Save a Life

For about the same price as a blender, toaster or food grinder, homeowners can install a smoke alarm that could save their house and family.

In many communities, including The City, residents are required by law to install the alarms before selling or renting their homes.

"A residence catches fire every 45 seconds in the U.S., adding up 1,900 per day and more than 700,000 annually, claiming an estimated 6,500 lives, one-quarter of whom are under 14," says Dr. Richard G. Pfister, Michigan State University Extension safety engineer.

He says that as part of Fire Prevention Week, October 9 to 15, homeowners should seriously consider the benefits of a smoke detector and a family fire escape plan. It can prevent a needless tragedy.

Of those who die from household fires, some succumb to burns, but three times as many die from smoke inhalation — breathing deadly toxic gases released into the air when common household furnishings burn.

"Most home fires, rather than starting with a burst of flame, start by smoldering, producing a lot of smoke. Detectors, properly placed in the home, should give occupants plenty of time to escape once the alarm is sounded," Dr. Pfister says.

Smoke detectors are easily installed, self-contained units that operate on batteries or can be plugged into existing electrical systems. The two types listed by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission are the ion-chamber detector, (battery or electric power), and the photoelectric detector, electric power only).

The ion-chamber detector uses a radioactive source to produce electrically charged molecules, (ions), in the air. This sets up an electric current within the detector chamber.

When smoke enters it, current flow is reduced and the alarm is triggered. Concern about radiation hazard from the detector does not appear to be justified.

Photoelectric smoke detectors have an "electric eye" which responds to extremely small "quantities" of smoke. When smoke bounces light into the eye, current flow is reduced and the alarm is triggered.

The unit contains a bulb which will have to be periodically replaced and those ionization units that operate on a battery will likely have to be replaced each year. No matter what type of unit is purchased, be sure replacement parts can be readily purchased from a local retail outlet.

When buying a smoke detector, look at a variety of models and obtain several price estimates. Be sure the product has the Underwriters' Laboratory or Factory

Kline Heading Study of Coal

Park resident, professor Kenneth A. Kline, will be heading a Wayne State University research project with Professor Shimo Carmi, of Birmingham.

The project is a study of coal and oil slurries. It was made possible through a grant of $40,000 to WSU's College of Engineering, Energy Center. The grant is from the United States Energy Research and Development Administration.

Professors Kline and Carmi will explore the direct utilization of coal in existing boilers and furnaces, emphasizing the use of pulverized coal in oil mixtures.

Mutual labels. Read the guarantee carefully and understand under what conditions the manufacturer will honor it.

One smoke detector installed outside the bedroom area on the ceiling or wall may provide basic protection for the average home.

However, if the dwelling is a two-story structure with bedrooms on both floors, two units are recommended—one outside each bedroom area. A mix of photoelectric and ionization units provides some advantages.

The ionization units generally respond quickest to fires without much smoke, while photoelectric units respond quickest to smoldering fires.

An additional unit may be installed at the head of the basement stairs if the homeowner wants more protection. critical for older people, as this protection may be more they tend to sleep more heavily and sometimes don't hear as well as younger persons.

"Even though fire may be detected early, it still can endanger the lives of occupants, if they do not have a plan to evacuate the premises quickly and safely," Dr. Pfister says.

"Alternate exits from each area where occupants are likely to be trapped by smoke and flames are most important. This should be done even if you are not installing an early warning system. You may wish to consult with your local fire department for help in designing an escape plan," he adds.

Dr. Pfister advises talking with a local fire officer about the purchase and use of fire extinguishers in the home. Buyers should fully understand the operation of such units and the types of fires they will put out.

"However, home owners should not attempt to battle a sizeable fire unless they have some basic knowledge of how a fire reacts. The best policy is to get the family out, call the fire department and let the officers do their job," Pfister says.

More information about smoke detectors and how to locate them in the home may be obtained from the Michigan State University county Extension office. Ask for AESIS publication 360, "Smoke Activated Fire Alarms."

Walk to Benefit Diabetes Fight

Residents of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties can enjoy the cool, crisp autumn outdoors while helping to beat this nation's third leading cause of death, diabetes.

The American Diabetes Association, Michigan Affiliate, (ADA/M), is sponsoring seven area Walk-A-Thons for October with routes in Mt. Clemens, Dearborn, Downriver, Warren, Northwest Detroit and an east side route encompassing Grosse Pointe Woods, Harper Woods, East Detroit and St. Clair Shores.

ADA/M is a non-profit voluntary health agency serving Michigan youths and adults by providing annual testing for those who suspect they may have diabetes; educational programs to teach diabetes how to take better care of themselves; summer camping for diabetic youth; and funding of research to find a cure.

The Association conducts fund-raising programs such as the Walk-A-Thons to support its year-round programs. Anyone, of any age, can participate in the walk. Prizes, including a portable color television as statewide Grand Prize, will be awarded to those who turn in the most sponsored money.

A sponsor can be anyone—friends, relatives, businessmen, etc. who pledge a certain monetary amount for each mile the participant walks.

For more information and/or an entry form, call either of the Association's offices, in Royal Oak, 288-6010, or Detroit, 342-9333.

Pointers Play At Forest Hills

The Hodges team was defeated in the first-round action in the championship playoffs. The duo lost to Ben Varn and his daughter Snookie, of Charleston, S.C. by scores of 5-7, 7-5, 7-5.

Earlier this summer, the Hodges won local and sectional events to advance to the Forest Hills playoffs, where they competed against 15 other sectional winners for the national title.

Invite Parents to Orientation

The Defer Elementary School PTO is sponsoring Back-to-School Night on Wednesday, September 28, with orientation for kindergarten parents beginning at 7:30 p.m.

A meeting for all Defer families will be held in the gym at 8 p.m. Barbara Fordree, PTO President will preside and introduce Dr. Sally Bell, principal, who will speak.

Students and parents will then have an opportunity to visit their classrooms and meet with the teachers. One of the highlights of the evening will be an opportunity to visit the library and see the new furniture and books bought with money raised by the PTO.

"Thanks and credit are due members of the Defer PTO during the past year who have helped to raise money for the library furniture and books," said Mrs. Fordree.

Other members of the Board are as follows: Kenneth Harris, first vice-president; Suzanne Suski, second vice-president; Karen Fahle, third vice-president; Mickey Dietz, fourth vice-president; Mary Jo Knight, secretary; Eleanor Tacke, membership; and Ann Curtis, teacher representative.

"The Board looks forward to a very successful year with lots of student and parent participation," said Mrs. Fordree.

City to Hold Garage Sale

The City will hold a public auction on Saturday, October 1, beginning at 10 a.m. at the City garage, 17147 Maumee avenue.

Bikes, jewelry, watches, radio and a compass will be among the items for sale.

In addition the City will auction off two 1970 pick-up trucks, (with minimum bids of $450), and two Jeeps, (with $600 minimum bids). A coin sorter will also be sold.

IRS Offers Seniors' Info

Older Americans may now want to amend their 1976 income tax returns to claim the retirement income credit that has now been extended through 1976, the Internal Revenue Service, (IRS), reports.

The Tax Reduction and Simplification Act of 1977 gives some taxpayers the option of reducing their tax liability for 1976 by choosing either the new tax credit for the elderly or the former retirement income credit.

Previously, under the Tax Reform Act of 1976, the retirement income credit could not be used on 1976 tax returns since it was replaced by the tax credit for the elderly.

The IRS also advises taxpayers who claimed the tax credit for the elderly on their 1976 returns to consider recomputing their taxes to determine whether they could get a larger credit under former retirement income credit provisions.

In general, taxpayers over age 65 with larger incomes which substantially limit or completely eliminate eligibility for the tax credit for the elderly, will benefit by electing the retirement income credit.

Married individuals who filed separate returns and lived with their spouses at any time during the year are not permitted to claim the tax credit for the elderly. Taxpayers in this situation may, however, be eligible for the retirement income credit.

Amended returns—Form 1040X—and new retirement income credit computation forms—1976 Schedule RIC, (Form 1040)—are available at local IRS offices.

Laziness may not be a crime, but in the long run it leads to a great many of them.

Kids, Medicine Study Subject

How did your mother react to your complaints of a scratchy throat when you were a child? It was early in the morning, did she kick you out of bed and send you on your way to school with something unmotherly like, "It will get better as the day goes on," or did she make a fuss and immediately call the doctor?

According to an article on research sponsored by UCLA's Department of Medicine in the August issue of the "Bulletin of the American College of Physicians," children tend to follow their mothers' pattern of seeking medical care.

The researchers also discovered that if the mother thought her child was healthy, (or unhealthy), the child usually thought the same way. The implication is that children who are often taken to the doctor for minor ailments tend to grow up high users of medical care or so called "hypochondriacs."

Dr. Charles E. Lewis and his wife, Mary Ann Lewis, a nurse practitioner, do not like the term hypochondriac. The Lewises headed the study at UCLA's University Elementary school which included an attempt to involve the children in the health care process.

This was done by allowing each child to initiate visits to the school nurse practitioner and, subsequently, to help decide about the treatment and disposition of the problem.

"What we attempted to do was encourage self-reliance," explained Dr. Lewis, a professor of medicine at UCLA. "It was the child's problem, their cut or sore throat. The nurse would explain the alternatives — wash out the injury, drink water, go home, call mother, go back to class — and it was up to the child to decide the course of action.

"Then we would attempt to simulate or model. If this happens again, what do you do?" The child would answer: "Clean the area to prevent infection, put some stuff on it, and don't play so hard on the playground for a while."

It is very difficult to deal with health habits after they have been established for 20 years noted Dr. Lewis. Persuading adults to change their ways is an almost hopeless task, but the school physician may well have better luck with the young.

To Dr. Lewis, this means that children must be encouraged not to use illness as a "copout" or as a means to manipulate others; children must have help in learning to deal with stress by other means.

The study involved more than 300 pupils who were observed for two years. During this period they could go to see the school nurse practitioner by filling out a "care card" without having to obtain the teacher's permission. Any treatment was within the confines of California law; no drugs were administered nor procedures performed without permission of a parent.

Not surprisingly, the same variables that influence "graduates" of child health services — adults — surfaced among the children. Pupils from more affluent backgrounds made more visits and girls tended to use the services more than boys.

Also, 15 percent of the children accounted for more than half of all visits over the two year period while 17 percent did not seek out the nurse even once.

The experience also encouraged some of the children to talk directly to "their doctor," stated Dr. Lewis. The pupils also demonstrated considerable ability in caring for their minor injuries. Despite some initial concern along the lines of "But you are supposed to tell me what to do!" almost all the children were aware of the shift in decision-making from "she" (the nurse), to "me" or "us".

Dr. Lewis sees this as a hopeful sign for the future, noting that we may "reorganize medicine and develop more elaborate and expensive diagnostic techniques."

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

"My challenge to you this morning is not to give into the temptation to close your door," John M. Bruce, President of the Board of Education told 900 teachers and other employees at the first all-staff meeting of the 1977-78 year, held Tuesday morning, September 7, in the auditorium of North High School.

Mr. Bruce's remarks about the school system stemmed from his own unique vantage point. As some readers may know, Mr. Bruce, currently Executive Director of the Neighborhood Club, and a former local teacher, is the father of four children currently attending classes in our system.

Striking a theme for unity, Mr. Bruce, drew extensively from his background.

Mr. Bruce recalled that as a teacher, he "knew that one way to deal with the complexity of the system was to set his own goals, evaluate his own performance, and enjoy his own rewards by symbolically and literally closing my door to the outside world."

While recognizing such an option, Mr. Bruce challenged the staff not to close the door.

Mr. Bruce told his attentive audience that "Everything we are about should relate to what's best for the kids. That should be our ultimate goal—to perform in all areas in a manner that puts the best interests of students and their education first."

"As with all the goals this system sets, the statement of the goal is the easiest part. The test is the creation and implementation of the various strategies that are necessary to move toward the successful completion of my goal," he said.

"The continued existence of public education as a viable social force may well depend on our relaxing the adversary posture that has resulted from collective bargaining and has driven boards and teachers and other employee groups apart at a time when we most need to stand together," he said.

"My challenge to you is to work with us to push aside tangential issues and give attention to what happens in the classroom. This does not mean that we must agree with one another at all costs. It does mean that we must assume that each of us has ideas, hunches, and reactions that are worthy of exploration, and that each of us is primarily motivated by a desire to achieve the highest possible quality of education for our children," Mr. Bruce added.

"As we look to the future and our desire to improve the quality of education, I hope we look first to the quality of our relationship with one another," he commented.

"Let us open the doors, put aside our differences, focus on our common constituents—the students—and work with Dr. William Coats, (Superintendent of Schools), and with each other to make Grosse Pointe the finest educational system in the United States," he said.

"As we begin this new year, let us attempt to learn from the lessons of the past, admit that we all can improve personally and professionally and once more try to solve our problems through accommodation instead of confrontation.

"I know that, as with a statement of goals, it is easier to say something than to do it. I also know that there is less risk in being a cynic and saying 'I told you it wouldn't work,' than there is in being an advocate and making it work," he urged.

"The challenge to improve our system is a shared responsibility, yet that must not diminish the individual commitment needed to succeed. If we can continue to recruit more advocates than cynics we will succeed. Let us work together for the sake of the absent majority—the kids," he concluded.

I was pleased that Mr. Bruce and the other Trustees took time from their busy lives to be with us at the important all-staff meeting. President Bruce's message was most appropriate for the beginning of a new year.

One View from the Capitol

By William R. Bryant Jr.

The State Legislature is back in session. I knew you would be pleased.

The hit parade for Fall sounds expensive. First on the list is a piece of black-mail perpetrated by the AFL in the form of a giveaway grant for the Wayne County Sheriff in return for allowing the State Police to remain on our freeways.

Second will be a probable attempt to override a Governor Milliken veto of a bill.

The bill is a power grab by the legislative leadership who wants to be able to block executive department rules merely by ignoring them, by refusing to act to approve or disapprove at least two of our State Senators, Fitzgerald, and Snyder, will probably vote to override, but Senator Hertel hopefully understands the correctness of the veto and will be willing to compromise.

My fear is that someone like Senator Joe Mack who opposes environmental legislation could block action on rules and, singlehandedly, defeat rules needed to implement a statute already passed and signed by the Governor.

Please write your State Senator.

Third on the hit parade will be an unemployment compensation bill which, because of new federal mandate, must be passed by year end. The bill will require our cities to cover their employees under provisions more wasteful than the "comparable" system they now have.

But we have no choice. The feds got us again. All I can think of to do I have done and that is to argue for increased state revenue sharing.

Coats to Speak To PTO Council

Superintendent of Schools, Dr. William Coats, will discuss "Planning for 1977-78: Our Goals and Budget for the New School Year," when the PTO Council opens its year on Tuesday, September 27.

The meeting, open to all interested citizens, will be held in the schools' Administration Building, 389 St. Clair avenue, at 8 p.m.

The PTO Council is made up of delegates from the district's 15 schools. Daniel R. Beck will serve as president of the group for the 1977-78 year.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters,
Director of Public Libraries

A type of book that seems to have almost universal appeal is the "now it can be told" type. Often it's more of a "kiss and tell," but that doesn't dim its popularity. This week we are going to mention a few among many that have attracted our readers.

William "Fishbait" Miller, for 28 years Democratic Doorkeeper to the House of Representatives, kept his eyes open and his mouth shut during his 42 years on Capitol Hill.

Now that he has retired he talks and talks and talks in the bestseller, FISHBAIT, THE MEMOIRS OF THE CONGRESSIONAL DOORKEEPER, by William "Fishbait" Miller, as told to Frances Spatz Leighton, (Prentice-Hall, 1977).

He tells who the hard drinkers were, as well as the hard prayers; the strengths, (many), of presidents from Franklin D. Roosevelt to Gerald Ford. The book is an inside look by a man who witnessed and participated in the life of Capitol Hill. He may over-emphasize his own importance and influence, but the book is never dull.

Another former employee, this time of the White House, who found fortune and a modicum of fame by writing of her experiences, is Liz Carpenter, RUFFLES AND FLOURISHES, (Doubleday, 1970).

Liz Carpenter's job in the White House was staff director and press secretary to Lady Bird Johnson. She writes a lively chronicle of behind-the-scenes life in the White House during the Johnson Administration.

HOW IT WAS, by Mary Welsh Hemingway, (Knopf, 1976), is a book that provides new insights into the life of Ernest Hemingway by his wife of 15 years. The book isn't all Hemingway, as the author writes of her own exciting career as a reporter before her marriage.

Of special interest are the years Ernest and Mary Hemingway spent in Cuba. It is a biography written with love and candor.

On June 30, 1974, after 35 years in the U.S. Navy, the last four of which were served as Chief of Naval Operations, Admiral Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr. felt morally obliged to retire.

He refused other government appointments because, "I had become so sure that certain continuing national policies and procedures were inimical to the security of the United States that I no longer wanted to be associated in any capacity with an administration responsible for them. Indeed, I wanted to be far enough outside to be free to criticize those policies and procedures."

Admiral Zumwalt speaks out in ON WATCH, (Quadrangle, 1976). He levels accusations against Richard Nixon and former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger stating that they systematically practiced concealment and deceit in matters of foreign policy.

He draws upon his experience to evaluate our country's position in today's world and finds that he has little in common with Kissinger's view.

Admiral Zumwalt never leaves his own views in doubt as to his own views, which are as direct and unyielding as those of his opponents. Old sailors never die, they just write away.

For those still interested in the Patty Hearst story, Miss Hearst's ex-boy friend, Steven Weed, tells everything he knows in his book, MY SEARCH FOR PATTY HEARST, (Crown Publishers, 1976).

A book with more substance is Morton Sobell's ON DOING TIME, (Scribner, 1974). The author was brought to trial with Julius and Ethel Rosenberg on March 6, 1951. The charge: conspiracy to commit espionage. The three defendants were found guilty; the Rosenbergs were sentenced to death and Morton Sobell to 30 years in prison.

Released after serving 18 years in prison, five of them in Alcatraz, Sobell gives us a detailed account of what happened—from his kidnapping in Mexico through his long imprisonment. He maintains his innocence to this day and continues to seek redress.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

There'll be music in the air in October, as the Detroit Symphony Marathon runs for 28 hours, starting Saturday, October 8, and ending Sunday, October 9, on radio station WJR.

The marathon is a joint venture of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony and WJR, which is donating the air time, to raise funds for the orchestra.

Besides music, there'll be celebrity telephone interviews, talk and fund-raising premiums. WJR radio personalities will serve as hosts.

Listeners can pledge money to the symphony by pledging toward the playing of a favorite piece on the air, or for gifts and excursions ranging from buttons and tee shirts to special dinners to a hot air balloon ride.

The Symphony Juniors have rounded up literally hundreds of premiums to assure the success of the project, which gives the entire metropolitan area the opportunity to become involved in keeping symphony music alive and will in Detroit.

Oktoberfest For Hunt Club

"We don't care how casually our members and guests dress for our Oktoberfest on Friday, September 30, but we think our husbands deserve gold medals for promising to don the authentic lederhosen," according to wives on the entertainment committee at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

Liederhosen, by the way, are those leather shorts worn in the Alps, that husbands, Don McConachie, "Pug" Murray, Tom VerBiest and Don Yerkes have promised to wear for the big event.

The committee, including Audrey McConachie, Marion Murray, Sue VerBiest and Joan Yerkes, plan to transform the Hunt Club dining room into a typical Rastkeller, complete with adjoining Biergarten on Friday.

"Our chef excels in German Cooking — sauerbraten, potato pancakes, apple strudel," according to committee workers. They have also engaged a strolling musician for the 7:30 o'clock cocktail hour, a foot-stomping band for a sing-along and Don Jacobs of the Red Garter Band.

Reservations should be made by Sunday, September 25.

'Piggy' Banks Are on Display

As we all know, saving money is a difficult thing to do. The rainy days for which we all save seem to come too quickly and too often.

Perhaps if the process of saving money were made more entertaining, everyone would find the experience more enjoyable—and, in the end, more profitable.

Around the turn of the century, Americans had just that opportunity, as a new exhibit at the Detroit Historical Museum shows.

Approximately 50 cast-iron piggy banks from the late 19th and early 20th centuries have been put on display in the museum's Collector's Corner.

They were selected from a much larger collection compiled over the past two decades by R. L. Lyons, of Ypsilanti, who, like many other collectors, was intrigued by the banks' solid construction and intricate details.

Of particular interest are the fascinating mechanical banks depicting a number of humorous as well as historical scenes.

Christopher Columbus, Teddy Roosevelt, Uncle Sam and a Tammany Hall politician are just some of the historical figures.

Jonah and the Whale, Rumpelstiltskin, Punch and Judy, the Boy Scouts, circus acts and automobiles also are portrayed.

The cast-iron banks will be at the Detroit Historical Museum until November 20.

The museum, located in the Cultural Center at Woodward avenue and West Kirby, is open Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays from 9:30 to 5 o'clock, Wednesdays from 1 to 9 and Sundays from 1 to 5 o'clock.

Miss Doyle Speaks Vowson August 26

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas John Rollins are At Home In Kalamazoo; Reception Is Held At At The Barrister House

In a gown of silk chiffon with a jewelled neckline, draped bodice and cap sleeves banded in Venetian lace was Karen Marie Doyle for her marriage to Thomas John Rollins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin O. Rollins, of Algonac, Friday, August 26, at 5:30 o'clock, at Saint Joan of Arc Church.

The Reverend John Kaul officiated at late afternoon ceremony which was followed by a reception in Barrister House.

The bride's lace-covered cap caught her custom-made fingertip veil, also banded in Venetian lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white stephanotis.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Doyle, of Aline drive, asked Pamela M. Brooks, of Bloomfield Hills, to be maid-of-honor. She and bridesmaid Debra K. Masten, of Grosse Pointe, chose mint green jersey gowns featuring cap sleeves and waist sashes.

They carried arrangements of white daisies and baby's breath. They tucked daisies in their hair.

Serving as best man was William J. Soellner, of Kalamazoo. Ushering were Frederick P. Rollins, the bridegroom's brother, and Joseph W. Doyle, of Kalamazoo, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother's apricot jersey gown was long-sleeved with lace appliques on the neckline and sleeves. Her wrist corsage was a white orchid.

A yellow, floral print, sleeveless gown with a chiffon jacket was selected by the bridegroom's mother.

The bridal couple will be at home in Kalamazoo.

Mrs. Thomas Rollins

KAREN MARIE DOYLE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Doyle, of Aline drive, was married to Mr. Rollins, son of the Edwin O. Rollins, of Algonac, Friday, August 26, at Saint Joan of Arc Church.

Moran-Spence Rites Are Read in The North

The Saginaw Jefferson Avenue Methodist Church was the setting for the Friday, September 9, wedding of Catherine Anne Spence and Mark Dodge Moran. The 7 o'clock candle-light service was followed by a reception at the Saginaw Club. The Reverend Asa Compton officiated.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald James Spence, of Saginaw, was given in marriage by her father. She chose an ivory jersey, floor length gown, styled with high mandarin neckline and long straight sleeves.

Diagonal seams were featured from shoulder to waistline finishing with a drape to the hemline of the skirt and attached train. A fingertip veil edged in lace was caught by a camelot headpiece.

Mrs. Robert J. Rosenberg was matron of honor for her sister. She and the other attendants selected wrap gowns of rosette knit, detailed with capelet sleeves and layered skirts finished with a lettuce edge.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald J. Spence, Jr., of Bay City, the bride's sister-in-law, Cynthia J. Spence, her cousin, Jennifer M. Suppes, and Nancy E. Reinert, all of Saginaw.

The ushers were Jeffrey Moran, of Grosse Pointe, the bridegroom's cousin, Donald J. Spence, Jr., of Bay City, the bride's brother, Daniel Webb, of Kirksville, Missouri, and David Baird, of Lansing.

The bride carried a bouquet of white roses, brown bakers fern, and baby's-breath tied with ivory satin ribbon. The attendants' arm bouquets were astors, rose gladiola flowerets, brown bakers fern and baby's-breath.

The bridegroom, son of Pointers Mrs. James Philip Danaher and Francis Neville Moran, is a great grandson of automotive pioneer John Francis Dodge, chose his brother John Francis Moran as best man.

The bride, a graduate of Douglas MacArthur High School, Saginaw, is attending Michigan State University majoring in Child Development. The bridegroom is a graduate of University-Ligette School. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Michigan State University.

The mother of the bride, in a classic floor length A-line gown of heavenly blue jersey featuring long sleeves, wore an arrangement of stephanotis in her hair.

The bridegroom's mother's turquoise jersey gown was Empire waisted and long sleeved. It featured bands of rhinestones on the neck and sleeves. She carried a white cymbidium orchid.

Fashion Trends Mirror History

The rapid changes in women's clothing and accessories over the past century are presented in a most attractive exhibit which recently opened at the Detroit Historical Museum.

"The Final Touch of Fashion: A Century of Hats, Gloves and Footwear" details decade-by-decade evolution in women's clothing, from the full hoop skirt and completely covered styles of the Civil War years through the 1950's A-line and "sack," when large, dramatic hats and spike heels were in vogue.

The display shows how women's fashion often paralleled the ebb and flow of world and national events—and, of course, the prevailing social attitude on woman's role in life.

The exaggerated bustle of the Gay 90's, the large hats and full scarves of the early automobile years, the straight tube and costume jewelry of the Flapper decade, the more

"mannish" 1930's and the very utilitarian, versatile and simple fashions of the Second World War years highlight this evolutionary process.

"Final Touch of Fashion" will be at the Detroit Historical Museum until October 22. Museum hours are 9:30 to 5 o'clock Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 1 to 9 Wednesday and 1 to 5 o'clock Sunday.

The new motion picture "Valentino," starring Rudolph Nureyev, will stage its Midwest premiere to benefit the Detroit Institute of Arts, Wednesday, September 28.

The first night audience for the new hit movie will also be entertained with cocktails, light buffet, and music in the indoor tropical gardens at the Prudential Town Center Atrium in Southfield.

The evening benefit for the Founders Society will begin at 7 o'clock with pre-show fashion events. A major highlight of the evening will be the drawing for a creation by Italian fashion designer Valentino.

The proceeds of this event will go directly to the museum's Founders Society to help match the $750,000 Challenge Grant offered by the National Endowment of the Arts, (NEA). The Founders Society has been given two years to raise $2,250,000 for the museum and thereby earn an extra $750,000 from the NEA.

For every $3 raised — through the efforts of fundraising benefits, membership expansion, encouragement of corporate and private contributions — the Founders Society earns $1.

"Valentino" benefit tickets at $50 per person are available through the Founders Society. Seating is limited to 400 couples. For more information call 833-7969.

Cop's No Dirty Word to Gail

Eastern Michigan University's campus police department, rocked by conflict during the campus activism of a decade ago, has turned to students to help establish a rapport even the most optimistic 60's observer would have thought impossible.

Gail Haddad, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Haddad, of Balfour road, is one of these students. She is working for Eastern's campus Safety Department as a communications officer while finishing her undergraduate work.

While the 23-year-old acknowledges a definite improvement in student-police communication, she finds wearing a uniform to class a little unnerving at times.

"Attitude really has a lot to do with this job — especially the attitude of other people," she laughs. "A lot of times in my regular classes people shy away from me."

The difference, she says, can be amazing when she's wearing the brown and gold departmental garb.

"When you're in uniform, you're still 'authority,'" she states, but she admits she wishes people would become just a bit more discerning about what a police officer is — and what she isn't — at first impression.

"I'm just a student dispatcher in communications. I wear my uniform when they tell me to: no gun; a skirt."

"People don't read the patches that say 'Communications.' I don't have a badge or a card."

Gail says she's learned to handle complaints from her classroom peers about parking tickets by saying, "Listen, I'm not a police officer — I may look like it — but you'll have to either call the police or someone else."

She says that even though her job is interesting and the law enforcement field does offer opportunities these days, "I just couldn't give it a full-time commitment."

She's a Biology major who plans to enter nursing school next year. "But just think — a registered nurse as a cop! All the PI, (personal injury), accidents I could assist... I could bandage them up, know what was wrong and transport them to the hospital..."

SUSAN HACKMAN, of Maison road, has been graduated from the Research Medical Center School of Medical Record Technology, Kansas City, Mo., and is eligible to take a national accreditation examination this month. After successful completion of the test, she will become an accredited records technician.

of small classes to promote individual attention.

Pioneered in Paris and successfully taught the world over, the Alliance Francaise of Detroit Institute of French language instruction is geared to practical and quick results by means of a direct method based on latest linguistic research in word-frequencies, allowing French to be spoken from the very first lesson.

Originally, the Alliance Francaise was established in Paris in 1884 to disseminate French language and culture. Today, there are more than 1,000 branches in 137 countries with 400,000 members.

In Detroit, the Alliance Francaise was founded in 1909 as a branch of a Federation headquartered in New York City as a non-profit, independent cultural organization, supported by dues and individual donations from a Franco-American membership.

The Institute of French represents an effort to broaden the activities of the Alliance Francaise of Detroit. Long in the planning, the responsibility for organizing the program was shouldered by a Special Committee from the Board of Directors.

The Alliance Francaise of Detroit Institute of French offerings should present a particularly effective answer to specific needs existing in Detroit, for its goal is not one of "adult education" but rather to serve the requirements of highly motivated students.

Alliance Francaise instruction throughout the world is uniform and provides ever available learning continuity and is recognized by the French Government and the Ministry of National Education as being of "public good."

The Institute owes grateful thanks to those who so generously offered their premises for classroom instruction. Among them is Mr. Kim Nuyen, who has made space available in the Nuyen Building, 1708 Mack avenue.

For further information concerning registration and times of classes offered by the Institute, please call: 837-1414.

Volunteers Recruited By Girl Scout Councils

For the first time, all four Girl Scout Councils in the tri-county area are combining efforts in conducting an all-out recruitment campaign for adult volunteers. Participating Councils include the Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit (most of Wayne County), Northern Oakland, Southern Oakland and Olskita (Macomb County).

The Councils report that their waiting lists are filled with the names of hundreds of local girls who want to be Scouts, but can't because there aren't enough leaders or troops in their areas.

So, the goal of this campaign is to recruit enough volunteers to make scouting available to every girl who wants to participate.

The requirements for being a Girl Scout volunteer are few. All one needs is a little spare time and a genuine interest in working with young people. There is a mistaken belief that one must be a parent of girls to be a Girl Scout volunteer.

This is definitely not true. All adults, men as well as women, from young singles to senior citizens, are eligible to be volunteers.

No special skills, experience or education is needed. Free training in leadership and other skills are provided by the Girl Scout Councils. Training classes are set up at various locations, during the day and in the evening so as to offer volunteers maximum convenience. Additional assistance is available at all times.

To accept calls from potential Scout volunteers, the tri-county councils have established a special "Hot Line" which will be in operation 24 hours a day. The number is 569-5807. Anyone interested in serving as a leader, co-leader, committee member, resource person, or in various other capacities, can contact the "Hot Line" for additional information.

High School Freshmen Urged to Plan

High school freshmen who plan to go to college will find the job market much improved by the time they finish in 1985, says Jack Shingleton, director of Placement Services at Michigan State University.

After 1985, the number of people in the 22 to 45 age group will decline, thereby improving the job market's supply/demand ratio.

Until then, college grads in certain careers may find the going rough, although overall fewer college grads are unemployed than those with less education, Shingleton points out.

Citing United States Department of Labor statistics, Shingleton says that in March, 1975, only 2.9 percent of those with four years or more of college were unemployed compared with 9.1 percent of those with only four years of high school.

"The more education an individual has, the better that person does in the job market," Shingleton maintains.

Students won't have much to worry about in the job market, though, if they choose careers in computer and information services, physical sciences, accounting and other business and management fields, health services and engineering.

The demand for workers in these fields exceeds the supply.

"This has been true for a number of years," Shingleton says, "and the pattern will hold."

Careers in which the supply and demand are about equal include library science, architecture and environmental design, public affairs, agriculture, mathematics and statistics and biological sciences.

Communications careers border on having about an equal supply of jobs and people trained in those areas, but are dangerously close to "supply exceeds demand."

Others in the latter category include foreign languages, fine and applied arts, psychology, education and social sciences.

Shingleton, who heads one of the largest university placement services in the country, advises youngsters to start thinking early about careers they might be interested in, to read about them and talk to people in those fields.

In addition, he urges young people to respect the work ethic.

"Although politics, timing and luck all play a role in a successful career, the one standard ingredient for success is a respect for the work ethic," the placement director observes. "The person who is willing to work hard will get ahead."

He advises students to try to get jobs while in high school and college that will give them career-related experience.

While many teenagers might say that is easy advice to give, Shingleton maintains "if you really want to work you can."

A lot of jobs are going begging because people won't take jobs which are below their expectations. "But you have to start somewhere and one job usually will lead to another until you get the job you want."

Shingleton cautions young people to choose their careers wisely and consider factors other than "where you will make the most money and where the so-called prestige lies."

A lot of people would be much happier if they chose work which is useful to society and fulfilling to the individual. "There is nothing wrong with a college-educated carpenter," Shingleton says, "if the carpenter feels comfortable with his job."

Creating Harvest Card Party Decor

DONALD J. KRAUS and his wife MARY ANN, general co-chairmen of the Fontbonne Auxiliary of Saint John Hospital's 1977 Harvest Time Card Evening, have spent a good part of the summer getting ready for fall. They've been preparing the centerpieces — polished loaves of homebaked bread decorated with autumn flowers and ribbon-bedecked — for their Wednesday, November 9, party. The pinecone wreath Mr. Kraus is holding will be one of the gifts presented to an attendee.

Committee chairmen and co-chairmen include Mrs. Paul J. Lauri, decorations; the Mesdames John Atkinson and Richard Slivik, prizes; Miss Dorothy Russell, patrons; Mrs. Robert Pentland, posters; Ms. Pepper Whitelaw, publicity; Mrs. Nick Bonmarito and Mrs. Frank Mocerri, refreshments; Mr.

Robert Du Ross, reservations; Mrs. Murray Klimchuk and Mrs. Herbert Krickstein, special awards; and the Mesdames Andrew Dahl and K. Michael Beizai, consultants. Men are invited to attend this year. Activities begin at 7 o'clock, in Saint John's Center for Health Education. Cheese and crackers, cakes and beverages will be served, and there'll be many prizes donated by local merchants. Tickets for the annual event are $5. Proceeds will be used for Saint John's Neonatal Intensive Care Unit. Reservations may be made by contacting the Fontbonne Office, 681-8200, Extension 545.

Experimental College Is Now a Reality

Seminar College, an experimental program for women, greeted with skepticism by many, has become a reality. Classes will begin Monday, September 26 at the Rackham Memorial Building under sponsorship of the University of Michigan Extension Service.

Openings are still available, but, Coordinator Jude Huette-man, of the Pointe, emphasizes that the carefully selected pioneering group of women enrolled in Seminar College will strongly influence future admissions.

"So far, the enrollments reflect a broad range of age, interest, and geographical location. We are attracting the exact women for which this was planned," says Mrs. Huette-man.

"Having talked to many persons interested, I find an energetic, community-oriented intellectually curious woman who has now decided to do something for herself."

"They are mostly excited about the prospect of working with women who are their peers, and with top caliber, exacting faculty who can yet understand when they must take a few days off for family illness or husband's business trip."

Seminar College is specifically designed for women who have been out of college or the business world for a number of years and who wish to enter the academic world in an atmosphere other than the traditional university program.

Two of the group already registered include a fine arts teacher who wants to go into business and a former teacher for whom a field study project in architecture has been arranged.

The group also includes graduates of Stanford, San Francisco University, George Washington University, Enryone State University. Enrollees come from the Grosse Pointes, Huntington Woods, Lathrup Village, Birmingham, Southfield, Troy, Farmington Hills, Allen Park, Royal Oak and from Ann Arbor itself.

As a continuing education experiment, Seminar College is unique in that it requires an eight-month commitment from students. Courses include literature, mathematics, theology, botany, architecture, aging and work.

Seminars deal with history, humanities and economics. There are no formal prerequisites, no exams, and no credits other than completion of a commencement portfolio. The classes meet on Mondays and Wednesdays, beginning September 26 and continuing until April, 1978.

Further information is available by phoning the University of Michigan Extension Service at 832-7400.

Busy Season for Bonstelle

The 1977-78 Bonstelle Theatre season will bring works by Shakespeare and Shaw, music and plays from Broadway, Off-Broadway and Trinidad to the Wayne State University stage.

The season opens October 14 with Phillip Hayes Dean's modern tragedy "Freeman." First produced with great success at New York's American Place Theatre, it was described by Clive Barnes as "a fascinating play" by a playwright with "fire."

This story of a young black man's uncompromising independence will be directed by Martin Molson, Wayne State's Black Theatre director. Evening performances are Friday and Saturday, October 14 and 15 and 21 and 22.

Matinees are scheduled for Sundays, October 16 and 21. A rarely-produced Shakespearean play, "The Winter's Tale," will be presented evenings November 25 and 26 and December 2 and 3, with matinees November 27 and December 4.

Called a comedy, but more truly a tragic-comedy, it is, like "Othello," a tale of jealousy—but with a happy ending. Robert Emmett McGill will direct.

The musical adaptation of Voltaire's "Candide" follows. Directed here by Russell Smith and James Hohmeyer, "Candide" was produced on Broadway by the Chelsea Theatre Center of Brooklyn in conjunction with Harold Prince and Ruth Mitchell.

The music is by Leonard Bernstein, book by Hugh Wheeler, lyrics by Richard Wilbur, additional lyrics by Stephen Sondheim and John LaTouche.

Performances will be Friday and Saturday evenings, January 27 and 28 and February 3 and 4, and Sunday afternoons, January 29 and February 5.

From Trinidad comes Errol John's "Moon on a Rainbow Shawl," the season's second black play. A London Observer critic wrote that its "speech rhythms, snatches of calypso, hymn tunes, street cries convey a lyrical complexity of experience; it is nearer to O'Casey than anything else in our language."

Martin Molson will direct. Performances are March 10 and 11 and 17 and 18 in the evening, with matinees March 12 and 19.

"Arms and the Man," George Bernard Shaw's comedy, will be directed by N. Joseph Calarco and performed evenings April 28 and 29 and May 5 and 6 and afternoons April 30 and May 7.

The first of Shaw's "Plays Pleasant" and the basis for the operetta "The Chocolate Soldier," it presents an anti-romantic view of war but its satire is witty and light-hearted throughout.

Elmer Harris' Broadway, film and television success about a deaf-mute girl, "Johnny Belinda," is the final production of the series.

Directed by Robert T. Hazard, it will be presented in WSU's Hilberry Theatre following the close of the Hilberry Graduate Repertory season. Because the Bonstelle Theatre is not air conditioned, this move is being made for the greater comfort of the audience.

Performance dates are Friday and Saturday evenings, June 2 and 3 and 9 and 10, and Sunday afternoons, June 4 and 11.

Sunday matinee curtain time this season is being moved up to 2 o'clock. Evening performances again will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Two additional productions also will be part of the Wayne State University Theatre 1977-78 season.

The WSU Black Theatre Touring Company's production of Phillip Hayes Dean's "Sty of the Blind Pig" has been booked at the Hilberry Theatre September 30 and October 1 at 8:30 o'clock.

"Ernest in Love" will be presented in the Studio Theatre, (downstairs at the Hilberry), October 18 through 23 as a benefit for the Blakeley Scholarship Fund for theatre students. This musical was adapted by Anne Crosswell and Lee Pockriss from Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Brochures with complete information about both the Bonstelle and Hilberry seasons may be requested by calling 577-2972 weekdays between 10 o'clock and noon, or by writing to: Wayne State University Theatre Box Office, Detroit, Mich. 48202.

View Fall Leaf Colors Early

If you've planned this year's fall color tour for the same time as last year's, be prepared for a disappointment. Like summer, apple harvest and insect problems, fall leaf color should be earlier this year.

"Some parts of the western Upper Peninsula are already having good fall color displays," says Mel Koelling, Extension forestry specialist at Michigan State University. "It should peak in another week or 10 days. That'll be nearly 10 days to two weeks ahead of normal."

The rest of the state can also look forward to early fall color and leaf drop, he predicts. He expects leaves to develop full color 10 to 14 days earlier than normal and the color to be somewhat less spectacular than last year's display.

The reason, he explains, is the dry weather Michigan has been having.

"As long as trees get sufficient moisture, warm temperatures and sunlight, leaves manufacture the green pigment chlorophyll," Mr. Koelling says. "This green color masks the yellow and orange pigments that are also present in the leaf all summer. When the leaves stop producing chlorophyll, the other pigments show through."

In some areas of the state, drought has already caused many trees to turn color, because lack of moisture interfered with chlorophyll production. Severely afflicted trees are suffering leaf browning around the edges and early leaf drop. When this occurs, the tree skips the fall color stage, going from green to brown to bare.

Contrary to popular belief, it is not Jack Frost and his paint brush that bring us spectacular autumn color displays. In fact, Koelling says, a hard frost will affect maples and other trees the same way it affects your tomato plants — it kills the leaves, which then turn blackish brown and fall off.

"We don't want a hard frost that would kill the foliage," he says, "but we do want cool night temperatures to promote red leaf color."

The red color, like the green, is caused by a manufactured pigment, he points out. Whether trees develop a lot of red color depends on the past growing season and the fall weather.

The red pigment is manufactured from sugars in the leaf, he explains. If the growing season has promoted good growth and the manufacture of plenty of sugar, and if autumn provides plenty of cool night temperatures and bright, sunny days, the red color will appear.

Cool weather at night prevents the movement of the sugar out of the leaves, he notes.

If fall weather is wet and cloudy, the fall color display will lack the brilliant reds, he says. Without lots of sunlight, the sugar in the tree leaves is not converted into the red pigment and only the yellows, oranges and browns are visible.

Because of the dry weather this year, the leaves of trees in much of the state are probably not rich in sugar, so the red leaf colors may be somewhat subdued.

Other leaf colors, such as purple, represent combinations of the ever present yellow and orange pigments and the manufactured red and green ones, Koelling notes. They do not reflect the presence of a purple pigment.

"Whether we have great fall color or nothing to write home about may not seem very important at first glance," Mr. Koelling says, "but it does have its economic implications."

Some parts of the state, like the Traverse City area, count heavily on fall color tours for a good share of their tourist trade."

Another economic aspect of fall color occurs in the maple syrup industry. Color determines sugar content of the tree sap.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Would you believe that we are getting angry calls from our friends who have been supporting our Community Development Program (Cul-de-Sacs)? They are becoming impatient with our slow progress and are beginning to demand their Cul-de-Sacs NOW!

Well, here's our problem: If you'll study the questionnaire we are asking Grosse Pointe homeowners to complete, you will notice that we are mighty curious about the family's traffic habits. We ask which streets the husband travels when he goes to and from work; which streets the wife takes when shopping. If the children drive, we ask which schools they attend. We even ask if they've had speeding tickets or car accidents—and if so, where and when.

This information is extremely important in determining traffic flow patterns and isolating problem areas.

In addition, we inquire about the number and ages of the children and the schools they attend.

By combining the traffic flow patterns with the information about the youngsters' travel habits, we have the beginning of an analysis which shows where safety needs — and Cul-de-Sacs are most important.

Our greatest fear is that we will receive Cul-de-Sac program will be ruined by the premature actions of overzealous homeowners who are eager for a mini-park and Cul-de-Sacs on their street.

We will soon have nearly 20,000 questionnaires completed. This data will be collated and evaluated, then turned over to our City governments for consideration.

... and incidentally, we happen to believe that we have five of the best run municipalities in the State. All of the officials are dedicated, top-notch executives. They have encouraged and helped us tremendously. If everything continues on schedule, we expect to have our suggested Cul-de-Sacs, and with them, a safer, more beautiful and more valuable community!

Nature Center Trip for Club

The Five Pointes Garden Club, with president Mrs. James Lindsay, of Moorland drive, will travel to the Seven Ponds Nature Center for an outdoor program, weather permitting, on Thursday morning, September 22.

Mr. Frank Seydler, of North Oxford road, who has made the arrangements, asks club members to meet at the parking lot of Saint Michael's church, 20475 Sunningdale drive, at 11 o'clock. Transportation will be provided to the Nature Center. A box luncheon will be served before the one o'clock program.

In case of inclement weather, a slide presentation will be shown.

Garden Club Will Tour

The Pointe Garden Club's first meeting of the year was a tour of the Jackson Rose Garden in Windsor Monday, September 19.

The group met in the parking lot of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church at 11 o'clock in the morning and proceeded to a pre-tour luncheon at L'Auberge de la Bastille restaurant in Windsor at noon.

Pair of Spider Plant Theories

It's easy to see how spider plant got its name. Its rosette of grasslike leaves does resemble a many-legged spider.

The appeal of the spider plant, (Chlorophytum) is not in its resemblance to its namesake but in its habit of forming plantlets on long, flowering stalks that originate in the center of the rosette of leaves.

A plant with cascades of plantlets suspended around it makes a striking hanging display.

The two popular theories on what triggers the parent plant to propagate itself are the short days, long nights theory and the underpotting theory.

According to the first theory, the spider plant sends out shoots and makes plantlets when it is exposed to short days—eight to 10 hours of sunlight—and long nights.

The fact that some spider plants make baby plants only when they get 16-hour days casts some doubt on the short-days theory.

According to the underpotting school of thought, spider plants send out plantlets only when they are pot-bound. The best advice horticulturists at Michigan State University can give is to observe your plants and try to figure out what works for them.

Normal care for the spider plant means giving it a spot near a sunny window where it will get temperatures around 70 degrees F during the day and 50 to 55 degrees at night.

Pot in a well drained potting mix that provides good drainage, and water whenever the soil surface starts to dry. Fertilize every two months with a standard houseplant fertilizer according to label directions.

Browning of the leaf tips is the most common problem of spider plants. This may occur because the soil or the air around the plant is too dry, because the plant has received too much fertilizer or too little light, because the soil is acid or because the water used on it contains a lot of fluoride.

To avoid the problem in the future, water more often, increase the humidity around the plant, fertilize less often, increase the light, add lime to the soil or water with distilled or rain water.

Spider plants do not usually suffer from insect infestations, but spider mites can be a problem.

Propagate by potting up the plantlets. Cut them from the parent plant after they have developed their own root systems.

Receiving degrees with honor this summer from Michigan State University were DENISE M. SILLERY, of Lakeland avenue, Bachelor of Arts in History, and SUSAN M. ELLIS, of Allard road, Bachelor of Science in Consumer Community Services.

JOHN R. KAZMAREK, of Blairmoor court, received a Bachelor of Science degree in Retailing of Clothing and Textile. SARAH L. WURZER, of Broadstone road, attained a Bachelor of Science degree in Ecology.

Among the most innovative concepts shown by the Bart Edmond Staff are their ingenious new cuts, that have side-swept "wings" lightened to define the line of the hair as it curves around the head to an angular new shape in back. Longer at the sides, the hair is lamp dried and brushed into a natural buoyant shape; or it may be sleeked down for a more sophisticated look. Men and Children hair cuts — bi-level cut, short in front, long in back sport cut for games and sports. At Bart Edmond Hairdressers they call it "care-free cut."

Jackie, make-up consultant, explained how women can achieve their full beauty potential, how make-up can make you look younger and prettier. As Bart Edmond said, "we work with our soul, with our heart, If you came to our Salon you know that's the best part."

Woods Accepts Added Change

The Woods Council unanimously authorized an additional payment of $843.90 to the National Institute of Municipal Law Officers (NIMLO), to participate in the organization's litigation in relation to federal unemployment requirements.

This action was taken at its regular meeting Monday, September 12.

The council had earlier authorized a contribution of $250 but subsequently learned that amount wasn't correct, via a population formula. With approval of the additional amount, the total reaches $1,093.

The fund was established to contest the Federal Unemployment Compensation Act as applied to cities, counties and other political subdivisions, noted City Attorney George Catlin.

Two to Stand Robbery Trial

Two Detroiters will stand trial in Wayne County Circuit Court for the July 2 robbery of the Bijouterie Jewelers in Mack avenue, according to information released by Woods Det. Charles P. Hamel.

The pair, Roderick Simpson, 26, of San Juan, and Suzanne Barber, 28, of Washburn, are charged with robbery armed with a gun. Conviction can mean a mandatory sentence of two years in prison for committing a felony with a gun, under a new Michigan statute, plus any sentence imposed by the trial judge. The full two years must be served without parole or probation before the sentence imposed by the court can be served.

In addition to the Woods hold-up, Simpson also faces armed robbery charges in Detroit, it was disclosed by Det. Hamel.

Approximately $2,000 worth of missing jewelry was recovered by Detroit authorities after they arrested four men on July 11. The jewelry, unmounted gems, was found in the men's possession and later identified by the owner of the jewelry store.

Simpson and Miss Barber were arrested by Detroit police on July 11, several days after the Woods hold-up, and in questioning witnesses learned that Miss Simpson was also allegedly involved in the crime committed in the Woods.

On the July 2 date, the accused pair is said to have taken an estimated $115,000 in precious stones. About $3,000 cash was also taken in the incident.

service station in order to create or operate a self-service gasoline station shall provide the Building Department with plans for such proposed station, which plans shall include the location of the pumps, control console, fire extinguishing equipment and controls therefor. No such construction, alterations or conversions of existing facilities shall be undertaken unless such plans have been approved by the Building Department and the Director of Public Safety. Once approval therefor has been obtained, such construction shall follow the approved plan. Any variance in construction from said plan shall require written approval of the Building Department and the Director of Public Safety.

7-3-4: FIRE EXTINGUISHING EQUIPMENT REQUIREMENTS: An Underwriters Laboratories approved fixed-pipe dry chemical extinguishing system, provided with automatic and manual controls shall be installed at each pump island where self-service is utilized. Such installation shall be approved by the Building Department. The manual control shall be clearly identified, easily accessible and installed at the location of the control console containing the emergency electric shut-off switches. Each extinguisher head shall be installed in such a manner that accumulation of ice or snow shall not adversely affect the operation of the system. Approved portable fire extinguishers having a rating of at least 10 BC shall be provided and located so there is one (1) such extinguisher within fifty (50) feet of each pump island in at least two (2) directions. No portable extinguisher required under this section shall be located closer than twenty (20) feet from the pump island.

7-3-5: EMERGENCY ELECTRIC SHUT-OFF: An Underwriters Laboratories approved electric switch or circuit breaker shall be installed at a location remote from the pump islands so as to permit shutting off the electric power to all dispensing devices in the event of an emergency. Such switch or circuit breaker shall be clearly identified and shall be within one hundred (100) feet of any pump island. Self-service pumps may be equipped with a switch that de-activates such pump when the fueling operation is complete, or such pump shall be de-activated at the emergency control position upon completion of the fueling operation. Self-service pumps shall be activated only from the emergency control center.

7-3-6: PERSONNEL REQUIREMENTS: There shall be an attendant on duty at all times when such self-service gasoline station is operating. The attendant's primary function shall be to supervise, observe, and control the dispensing of flammable liquids while same are being dispensed. The attendant shall remain at the emergency controls during the dispensing of gasoline. Such attendant shall be permitted a reasonable degree of movement beyond his physical reach of the emergency controls; however, such attendant shall not be considered to be at the emergency controls if he is removed therefrom by a distance greater than would permit his ready and immediate access to the controls. Such attendant shall observe any self-service dispensing operations occurring at the pump islands so as to be able to de-activate such pumps in the event of a spill or fire or other hazardous occurrence. No attendant shall be under the age of sixteen (16) years.

7-3-7: SIGNS REQUIRED: Permanent signs and placards printed in not less than three (3) inch block letters on a contrasting background shall be conspicuously posted in full view of the pump island area stating:

No Smoking Within 15 Feet of Pumps
Vehicle Engine Off Before Fueling

7-3-8: NOZZLE REQUIREMENTS: Each pump hose used for self-service shall be equipped with an automatic closing shut-off without a hold open latch.

Section 2. EFFECTIVE DATE: This Ordinance shall be deemed to be an emergency ordinance necessary to the public health and safety and shall become effective upon posting.

Pointer of Interest

FRANK A. MORGAN OF CHALFONTE AVENUE

By Janet Mueller

One day, in Seattle, Frank Morgan got a call from Detroit. The Detroit Institute of Arts was looking for a new manager for its Founders Society. Frank's name had come up. Would he be interested...?

Well, now, after 19 years on the West Coast, (very good years, incidentally), a move back to the midwest was the farthest thing from Frank's mind.

Still... Detroit WAS the town he'd been born in, grew up in, married JeNette in, worked in for years, first associated with the Union Guardian Group, then with the Detroit Community Fund—War Chest of Metropolitan Detroit, predecessor of today's United Foundation.

The Morgans had family in Detroit, and many, many good friends.

He and JeNette had been members of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

No Retirement Age But to re-locate, at 59... "I'm too old to change jobs," thought Frank... and then learned that THIS job, with the Founders, had no compulsory retirement age.

And so the Morgans came home. That was in May of 1967. A little more than a decade later, as of this August 1, Frank officially retired as chief administrative officer of the Founders Society, established in 1885, the public membership organization supporting the growth and activities of the city-owned museum.

Membership Doubled During the Morgan Decade, Founders' membership rose from 6,585 to 12,712.

The annual budget for museum support operations and purchase of works of art climbed from some $500,000 annually to $2,200,000.

The Founders Volunteer Committee now numbers 430 persons, contributing more than 38,000 annual hours of service as docents, speakers and aides in galleries, offices and museum shops.

Museum staff funded by the Founders has risen to 68 full-time and 18 permanent part-time employees.

Frank also supervised the growth of special-interest auxiliary groups which participate in museum art programs, including the African Art Gallery Committee, Associates of the American Wing, the Antiquaries, the Friends of Modern Art, the Friends of Asian Art, the Drawing and Print Club and the Junior Council.

Lacks Art Background "I don't have an art background," Frank insists. "My concerns have been with people and with money." But get him talking about the museums as an institution, what it offers, what it holds...

"We've always had great art there, and art is the history of mankind. Wherever man has been, man has left his mark: those marks are the thing that reveal him." And the revelation is fascinating.

Curious George... has come to THE SCHOOL BELL, 17010 Mack Avenue. The new and exciting Parker pre-school game is a delightful gift at $4.59.

New Mirrored Wall Plaques... with new designs and new sayings are at THE KALEIDOSCOPE, 16906 Kercheval and in Kimberly Korner, Mack and Lochmoor.

Contemplating... where to spend your last few days of vacation? Stop by TRAVELWORLD, 21127 Mack (north of Vernier) and let them assist you, whether it be a week long or just a weekend. Call 882-8190.

At Limited Editions... see the new Uter trench coats with zip out linings from Montreal. Also for the fashion-wise man, there's a new collection of Hartog velour sweaters, 16227 Mack Avenue.

been a wide-open city. It was cleaned up through the efforts of private citizens who determined to live their religion, to ask God's help and with it, get going!

"If you believe," Frank explains, "you better make it work for more than an hour on Sunday. You better be sure the God you worship is the right one, and you better get to know and love your neighbor."

Breakfast Groups The Breakfast Groups which began in Seattle, each participant bringing a brown bag and a Bible, are the National Prayer Breakfasts now. All over the country, groups of men pause in their day's work to come together and reflect, and to use the reflection as the basis for their working/social lives.

The men don't talk about it. They just do it. Frank belonged to a National Prayer Breakfast group in Seattle. He belongs to one in Detroit. It's like breathing: a condition of life.

Back up 10 years to William M. Day, then-president of the Founders Society, contemplating men who might be good as the Founders Society's new manager...

"How about Frank Morgan?" He was very active in the War Chest, and knew all the families we're working with? He might be interested...?

Through the years, Walter Laidlaw had become involved with Founders. "Walter knows Frank," George Pierrot said. Turned out: just about everybody knew Frank, so it was decided to give him a call.

So They Came Home And Frank resigned as sales manager of the international firm of Heisdorf and Nelson Farms, Inc., headquartered in Seattle, and he and JeNette came home to Detroit.

Third generation members of families Frank had worked with in the War Chest days are active in the Founders Society now. They're as fond of Frank as their parents and grandparents were.

His retirement was the occasion for a few tears. (What will we ever do without him?), and more than a few parties, including the luncheon given by Peggy Winkelman and other members of the Museum Shop Committee at which Hy Vogel did the caricature of Frank is contemplating in the "Pointer" picture, ("I never thought," he muses, "I looked like Nelson Rockefeller!"), and a dinner at the Detroit Club, hosted principally by Founders trustees.

Has Other Interests His civic and philanthropic associations include the Economic Club of Detroit and the Engineering Society of Detroit. He's a trustee of the World Adventure Series.

He's a past-president of the Torch Club of Detroit—and of the Washington State

Airman Winship is an administrative specialist at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

Poultry and Hatchery Association. (Heisdorf and Nelson were basic breeders of leghorn chickens produced just for eggs; Frank, in sales, worked primarily with people, not chickens, but he was, of course, familiar with all phases of the operation: would you believe one million chickens in a single facility, none of whose feet ever touched the ground? They were raised on wire.)

Frank was a director on the board of the Boy Scouts of America's Chief Seattle Council. "That was Bruce's fault."

Bruce is the Morgans' son, born 12 days apart from his cousin, Jim Blacketter. Their mothers are identical twins.

Very Much Alike "When we were living on the West Coast, JeNette and LeNette would write one or two times a week. Jeanne has always been very energetic—she makes all her own clothes, and most of mine; she wallpapered, painted... and one day, when she had just finished wallpapering our bathroom, a letter came from Lee, saying SHE had just finished wallpapering her bathroom, and enclosing a sample of the paper. "And it was the same paper!"

That's not an isolated instance. Roy Blacketter retired a few years back. He and Lee, after 30-some years in Ridge-mont road, moved to Sarasota, Fla. The Morgans have been regular visitors.

Frank and Jeanne had thought about returning to the West Coast after his retirement. They planned at least to take a good, long trip west and look around. But last Christmas, visiting the Blackettters, they went walking, and walked past a house with a "For Sale" sign, and it was perfect, right down to the nice, little, swimming pool in the screened-in patio.

The Twins Are Happy Frank closed the deal April 1. The twins rejoiced.

The Morgans, headquartered in Sarasota, may do a bit of traveling. They've enjoyed seeing the world. Their big trip, in '74, took them right around it: to Singapore via London, to Australia and New Zealand and home across the Pacific via Fiji, where they "collapsed," eating and sleeping and having a generally glorious, relaxed five days.

"We were in the Energy Crisis, and they kept changing the flights on us." That played havoc with their hotel reservations, too, but there are two ways of looking at this sort of situation: as a challenge or a disaster. The Morgans—naturally!—opted for the former.

Has Simple Solution When Frank, who enjoys photography, lost 760 slides history, museum patrons are planning to raise nearly $250,000 from friends and the general public in order to buy a major piece of art.

Two pieces of art, actually: companion pieces entitled "The Wild Poppies," ("Les Coquelicots"), by the late Henri Matisse. The related works, 11 feet long and two-and-a-half feet high, comprise a stained glass window and the model paper cut-out created by the French master.

Purchase price is $360,000—but Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Jospey, co-chairmen of the museum's Friends of Modern Art fund-raising committee, report that $100,000 has already been pledged by the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts.

Another $40,000 has come from enthusiasts who have already seen the work. Now the idea is to solicit the remaining $220,000 from the 250 members of the Friends of Modern Art, the 12,000 members of the Founders Society, national corporations and businesses in metropolitan Detroit... and the public at large.

If the Detroit community has never been asked to contribute such a large amount of money to acquire a masterpiece for the museum's permanent collection, the opportunity to acquire such a masterpiece at such a bargain price seldom comes up.

"The Wild Poppies," in both versions, will be seen at the DIA November 23 through January 8; one of 58 works in the major exhibition "Henri Matisse Paper Cut-Outs" which premiered at the National Gallery of Art in Washington September 10 and will continue on to St. Louis after the Detroit run.

The DIA has an option on "The Wild Poppies" which expires at the end of the show, so there's a time limit in which the purchase price must be raised.

So... all over the metropolitan Detroit area, fund-raising is going on. In Grosse Pointe, the committee is chaired by Mrs. Peter Spivak and includes Mrs. John Renchard, Mrs. Michael E. Rollins and W. Hawkins Ferry.

Dr. John Hallmark Neff, curator of Modern Art at the Detroit Institute of Arts, describes Henri Matisse, (1869-1954), as the unrivaled master of modern art in the 20th century. Many of his paintings have sold from more than $2 million apiece.

"The Wild Poppies" is not cheap, but it's a bargain," Maxwell Jospey notes. "Asking all the museum's friends and the general public to help us is the only way we'll be able to capture this beautiful work for Detroit."

A Pair of Navy Persons

Commander John Siemer, Navy Recruiting District Detroit's executive officer, administered the oath of enlistment August 30 to sisters Patricia and Mary Jo Hunt, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Hunt, of Maryland avenue.

So now the Hunt girls are officially Navypersons... but, because they opted for the Delayed Enlistment Program, they won't leave for recruit training in Orlando, Fla., until next May.

And after recruit training, they part company. Patty will attend Radioman, (shouldn't it be "person"?), School following boot camp. Mary Jo will train in San Diego, Calif., to become a hospital corpsman, (there's that "man" again!).

Both Huntpersons are graduates of Grosse Pointe South High School.

from their Japanese trip in the flooding following the ice storm of '76, Jeanne took the long view: "It's simple. We'll just go back, and you can take them over again."

Whenever they go, there are people. Frank and JeNette are human magnets, attracting acquaintances who turn into friends. For them, Frank's job at the Art Institute has been a grand personal opportunity. "Think of all the marvelous people we've met!" He's leaving it because he thinks it's the proper time, for him and for the museum.

"With my retirement, Fred Cummings has just about completed the building of his new team. I mean that in the good sense: If you've got a brain in your head, you're not going to build around a 70-year-old person."

"Fred is able and eager, and he's got a strong board. Sure, there are lots of stresses and strains, but the possibilities, the potentials! I think the future is just great!"
