Thursday, October 13
CONGRESS WEDNESDAY sustained a controversial transportation department decision to require air bags or other passive safety devices to be installed in all new cars by the 1984 model year. The Senate voted 65-31 to table a resolution disapproving the decision by Secretary of Transportation Brock Adams. Both Michigan senators, Democrat Donald Riegle and Republican Robert Griffin, voted against tabling the matter. Earlier, the House Commerce Committee prevented the issue from being raised before the full House by voting 18-14 to table a similar motion.

PRESIDENT JIMMY CARTER blamed the nation's oil companies for the "biggest rip-off in history" yesterday and likened them to war profiteers. The President, with his energy program in shambles, said in his nationally televised press conference, "The oil companies want it all." The press conference opened Mr. Carter's new campaign to try and salvage a series of energy taxes which have been cut down by Senate action, leaving no doubt who will be cast as the villain in that campaign.

BING CROSBY is dead at the age of 73. Mr. Crosby, whose crooning voice and relaxed humor entertained millions around the world for half a century, died of a heart attack yesterday after a round of golf outside of Madrid, Spain. The singer collapsed after finishing the game, which he won by one stroke, at La Moraleja club. He was not only a singer but also an Oscar winning actor. Mr. Crosby's wife, Kathryn, said, "I can't think of any better way for a golfer who sings for a living to finish the round."

Sunday, October 16
PRESIDENT JIMMY CARTER said yesterday that the U.S. and Soviet negotiators "are approaching a settlement" in the strategic arms talks (SALT) and he rejected the claims of some senators that provisions for checking Russian compliance are inadequate. "We are approaching a settlement with the Soviets, if they continue to act in as constructive a fashion as they have exhibited in the last few weeks," the President said.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE is once again talking about pornography. They are expected to start working this week on a new bill that would again ban the sale of pornography in the state. The state Supreme Court two weeks ago threw out local anti-smut laws, saying they were not needed or legal since there already was a state anti-pornography law on the books. Since the local laws are invalid, and the state law is no good, Michigan has been temporarily left without a pornography law.

Tuesday, October 18
MORE THAN 60 percent of the double-bottom tankers in Michigan failed to pass state safety inspections last week. The inspections are the result of a crackdown ordered by Gov. William Milliken to check the safety of the trucks. State Police conducted the checks and released the statistic yesterday. They showed that 83 of 132 double-bottom tankers were ordered off the road. A total of 730 violations were found.

CARLETON APPOINTED
Toastmasters International recently announced the appointment of Pointer William S. Carleton to vice-president of education of its local chapter. Mr. Carleton is employed in sales with Reynolds Aluminum in the automotive field.

Here we are! LOU BITONTI welcomes you to the Punch and Judy Theater. Those glass cases may be empty now, but in a week they'll be filled with lobby posters advertising the Robert Altman Film Festival which will open the Punch to the public once again. Mr. Bitonti, who is leasing the theater, has big plans for concerts, movies, kiddie shows and a variety of performances. "We're all approaching this venture with fun," he said, "but we need support from the community."

School Board Relaxes Policy on Transfers

The Board of Education has revised its enrollment policy to make it a bit easier for students to transfer to schools outside their normal attendance area.

The revision gives the superintendent of schools some latitude in granting transfers to "best serve the educational and emotional interests" of students.

Superintendent Dr. William Coats requested the policy change earlier this month, saying the old policy was too inflexible to be fair under some special circumstances.

He cited nine transfer requests that he could not accommodate under the old policy, even though he felt they were reasonable demands.

Shores Corporal Cited In Identifying Suspects In Kidnapping Incident

Council Reads Letter from Harper Woods Police Chief Praising Daniel Fronczak for His Alertness; Hearing Sifted for Two Pointe Youths

Shores Village President Gerald C. Schroeder read a letter from Harper Woods Police Chief Nicholas Mayer praising a public safety officer for his alertness in identifying two Pointe youths allegedly involved in a Friday, September 30, kidnapping in Harper Woods.

This action occurred at the Shores Council's regular meeting Tuesday morning, October 18.

The letter, addressed to Shores Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale, and presented to the council for perusal, lauded Shores Cpl. Daniel Fronczak, who, on reading details of the kidnapping and the basis of the description of the abductors sent over the Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN), machine, recognized the suspects and informed Harper Woods authorities.

Drive to Ohio
The corporal, who had come in contact with the suspects on several occasions, was cited by Chief Mayer as being primarily responsible for the actions which resulted in local warrants being obtained for the arrest of Alen Eugenio Beno, 18, of The Shores, and Steven Paul Brisson, 17, of The Woods.

Charged with kidnapping under a Michigan statute, they are accused of abducting Jeffery G. Niedermaier, 17, of Harper Woods.

Niedermaier was stopped for a red signal light at Vernier road and Harper when Beno and Brisson allegedly forced their way into his car.

Under verbal threats, police said they made him drive over the Michigan-Ohio state line. The pair said they were on their way to Florida to look for jobs.

When they crossed the state line, the crime automatically came under the Federal Bureau of Investigation's jurisdiction, and federal warrants were issued for the arrest of Beno and Brisson.

Niedermaier ultimately was able to induce his captors to release him six hours later in Glendale, O., near Cincinnati. How the pair continued their trip to Florida is not known.

To Stand Trial
On Wednesday, October 5, FBI agents of the Miami Office arrested Beno and Brisson at a home near Pompano Beach. The accused pair gave up without any incident.

Lights Go Out At Jacobson's

A blown fuse in an Edison transformer cut off power to Jacobson's department store in Kercheval avenue, and left four persons stranded in an elevator between floors for about an hour on Thursday, October 13.

The lights went out at about 12:15 p.m. and were not restored until two and a half hours later.

Two women and their children, one two-years-old, the other three, were stuck in the store's elevator between the second and third floor. City firefighters rescued them by prying the door open with a crow bar.

Both children reportedly slept through the entire incident and their mothers remained calm.

The power outage closed the main store for most of the afternoon, but the St. Clair Room restaurant, packed with diners when the power failure occurred, remained open and served lunch to a huge crowd, according to Jacobson's public relations director Judy Simonds. (Continued on Page 4)

Updating of Laws in GPP Continues

Controversial 'Family' Ordinance Viewed in Relation to Recodification

By James J. Njaim

The Park is in the process of updating its Ordinance Code and thereby eliminating the confusion of the many amendments made through the years, according to information brought out at a Park Council meeting Monday, October 10.

This recodification, which has been underway for several months, is in the hands of City Attorney Richard Rohr, who did not set an exact completion date.

City Manager Robert A. Stone and City Clerk Nunzio J. Ortisi said that the many amendments will be incorporated into a newly revised and up-to-date Ordinance Book, which will include the adoption of the entire enactment of the Building Officials' Code Administration (BOCA), International, Inc., on residential and commercial building zoning.

Changes Viewed
"Rather than go through the entire process of the BOCA Code book," said Mr. Stone, "it will be adopted, subject to council authority, without change. The entire recodification will include changes in laws regarding health and public safety, traffic regulations, traffic zoning, and lakeside park regulations."

The city manager and Mr. Ortisi also pointed out that one of the ordinances to be revised is the controversial No. 53, Section 22, which will do away with the prohibition of allowing two persons to live together as a "family" without the consent of the council sitting as a Board of Appeals.

When the amendment takes effect, after it is published and a public hearing is held, two persons wishing to live together to cut costs and expenses can do so without authorized permission.

The recodification will make some other changes in Zoning Ordinance No. 53 amendments covering areas like residential maintenance, such as laws adopted by The City and Farms, prohibiting keeping junk cars in back yards.

At the same time, proposals will require certificates of occupancy for both commercial and business, as well as residential buildings. (Continued on Page 2)

Neighborhood Club Strives To Aid Seniors

Comprehensive Recreation, Social Service Center on Drawing Board; Cooperation Sought from Other Local Groups to Make Venture Reality

By Susan McDonald

Neighborhood Club Director John Bruce announced this week the club is in the final stages of planning a substantial expansion of programs and facilities to serve as a center for The Pointe's growing senior citizen population.

The club has acquired property and engaged an architect to plan a building expansion that will house a comprehensive recreation and social service center for seniors.

Mr. Bruce said at a Monday, October 17, meeting of the Pointe Rotary Club that studies conducted by his staff indicate a strong need for such a service.

Have Obligation
The five Pointes, he said, have an abnormally high ratio of seniors but, he continued, while millions of dollars are spent on youth and other segments of the population, next to nothing is spent on seniors.

"We have an obligation to provide seniors an opportunity to become active, contributing members of society," Mr. Bruce said. "Our seniors are typical in that many of them are unprepared for retirement... and our community is largely unaware of the problems some of them face."

Some of the statistics gathered through census and voter registration files by the club staff show the following:

• Nineteen percent of the population in the Pointes is 60 years or older. That is almost twice the national average of 11 percent.

• Forty-four percent of the homes in The Pointe have at least one person 60 years or older living in them.

• There are close to 10,000 persons 60 or older living in the Pointes.

Irene Sutton, chairman of the Woods Senior Citizens Commission, who has lobbied hard for senior citizen programs in her community, called the Neighborhood Club commitment to the new project "tremendous."

GP City Calls Local CBers

Grosse Pointe City Police Cpl. Edward Behrend is looking for local citizen band, (CB), radio buffs who might be interested in joining a CB auxiliary to assist police in emergency situations.

Cpl. Behrend said he needs between 25 and 30 persons to man stations throughout the community in the event of a heavy storm, downed power lines or other emergency.

The Farms has a similar group already in operation. Interested persons should call Cpl. Behrend at the City Police Station, 886-3200. (Continued on Page 2)

School on VIP Protection Draws GPF Detectives

By Wendy K. Settle
There is a growing concern among law enforcement agencies over the protection of prominent persons.

This concern results from statistics which prove that criminal assaults against VIPs are on the rise.

Kidnappings of business executives, doctors, lawyers and other professional people occur on the average of once a week in Europe.

The art of kidnapping is big business, and this problem is not isolated to European countries. The United States has its fair share of "white collar crimes" as well.

Because of these frightening facts, the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, Internal Security Bureau, is holding a 20-hour, two-day intensive training school Saturday and Sunday, October 29 and 30.

Police officers from various cities and departments in Wayne County, including two Farms detectives, will be attending the school.

Dets. Earl Field and Sam Cardella will go through the training program at the Wayne County Development Center in Northville.

"The school will show films and hold field operations," said Det. Field. "There will be actual ambushes, smoke bombs and blank ammunition will be used. It's really like playing war games."

Plans Call For Leasing Of Theater

Variety of Programs Slated Including Film Festivals, Live Entertainment

By Wendy K. Settle

The future of the Punch and Judy Theater has been decided. It has been leased, with an option to buy, by a downtown restaurateur, who plans to open the Punch as a theater the night of Thursday, October 27.

Robert G. Edgar, co-owner of the Punch, and Lou Bitonti, owner of the Salt Mines restaurant, have a "verbal agreement" on the lease. The final papers are in the hands of their attorneys, and Mr. Edgar said they will be signed by the end of the week.

"I'm very optimistic," Mr. Bitonti smiled. "The Punch will be a theater for all reasons."

Need for Support
"They're going in there with their eyes open," Mr. Edgar said. "But, this is a business and if the community doesn't get behind it, it (the Punch), will fail again."

"Lou's taking over a theater that's been a loser for six years. He's concerned about community support and is hopeful the town will get behind him. If that doesn't happen, it will fail again."

Dick Crawford is the other co-owner of the Punch. He has been unavailable for comment until this time because he lives half of the year in Texas.

But he's back in The Pointe and viewed the agreement by saying, "I don't think it's the ideal solution. I liked the first proposal from the Unity Church. I think that would have opened the Punch to the community more."

The first proposal, Mr. Crawford noted, was given last summer when the Unity Church wanted to buy the theater. At that time, the Farms Council unanimously denied Unity a zoning variance to convert the theater into a church.

"I've been out of town and haven't as yet seen the papers," Mr. Crawford said, "but I think it's a tremendous thing Mr. Bitonti is doing. He gave the only concrete proposal, and given the alternatives, Lou's use for it is the most feasible."

The alternative to the sale or lease to use the Punch was to tear it down.

"Make It Go"
Mr. Bitonti, 29, will be the only one signing the lease but he represents Main Events Ltd. (Continued on Page 2)

School Office Hit by Robber

A custodian at the public school's Administration Building, 389 St. Clair avenue, reported to City police on Tuesday morning, October 11, that someone had broken into the building during the preceding night, taking an IBM typewriter valued at about $450.

School officials said it was the first known break-in of that building in at least 10 years.

The thief gained entry by breaking a 10" by 8" window in the front door, police said. A 3' by 3' glass also was broken to provide entry into the office of Robert Welch, director of secondary education, where the typewriter was stolen.

The building had been secured at 12 a.m., according to police. The custodian reported the break-in at 7:14 a.m.

Vandals returned to the building later that week, breaking three more windows in three different doors in the front of the office. A custodian reported the vandalism took place sometime between Friday evening, October 14, and Sunday, October 16, at 5 p.m.

Punch and Judy's Future Appears Bright

(Continued from Page 1) poration that was formed by Mr. Bitonti, Larry Lyman and a doctor from Bloomfield Hills to lease the Punch. "We formed Main Events for financial reasons," Mr. Bitonti said. "We're not a big conglomerate, we're just some young people working very hard to make it go."

Mr. Lyman, 28, is managing director of the theater, while the doctor isn't actively involved and requested that his name be withheld.

Starting the 27th, the Punch will be open four nights a week, Thursday through Sunday. On weekends, special children's matinees will be shown.

Mr. Bitonti is opening his new theater with a Robert Altman Film Festival. "All shows will be double features and will cost about $2.50 for a ticket," he said.

"You can't get first run films for a theater like the Punch," he noted. "I'm a little independent and independent just can't run top films, so I'm appealing to a different crowd."

"We're going to press exclusiveness. And if there is one thing I want to stress, it's that everything will be done with class and taste."

Wants It Packed Mr. Bitonti compared the Punch to the Music Hall and Art Institute. "I like the Music Hall format, and we're planning on being something like an extension of the things which run at the Art Institute."

The Punch will not only be a movie house. There are plans in the works to line up light jazz performers, excerpts from operas, live theater, lectures, dance groups and musicals.

"The weekend kiddie shows are a whole different thing," laughed Mr. Bitonti. "We're going to show Disney movies, puppet shows, mime and all sorts of things. All of us involved are approaching this thing with the idea of having fun."

Mr. Edgar and Mr. Bitonti agreed that the reason the Punch has failed in the past was because of programming and community support.

"I'm going to spend a lot of money on programming. I'm sure I can make that work, but you can't buy community support. That will just happen . . . I hope," said Mr. Bitonti.

He remembers going to the Punch when he was a child. "That theater has so much character. When I found out it was just sitting there, I had to have it. I look at it as a long term investment. I'm going to eventually restore it to its original state. It will take a lot of money and time but I'm a perfectionist and think the place deserves to be restored," he continued.

"I honestly believe that I can pack that theater, and I really want to see that place packed."

"Last Stand"

Mr. Bitonti is getting married in December and has bought a house in Grosse Pointe. He says he plans on being here a long time.

"We are giving the Punch our best shot. If I can't market this, it will be very hard for somebody else to. This is Custer's last stand."

The Punch seats approximately 600 people and there are 572 parking meters within a three-minute walk of the theater.

"We really don't foresee any problems with parking," Mr. Edgar said. "At the time when the theater is open there really isn't that much traffic."

At the present time, Mr. Bitonti and his staff are attacking the Punch with brooms, mops, vacuums and love. Seats are being restitched and floors are being polished.

"We've even bought a new popcorn machine," Mr. Bitonti grinned.

"And it makes great popcorn."

Updating

(Continued from Page 1) to bring them completely up to code before new owners or tenants can take them over for use.

Both Mr. Slone and Mr. Ortol said it is not known when the ordinance reodification will be completed, but when it is, it will be in book form with all amendments enacted through the years incorporated in precise language into each local law.

When completed and published, the book of ordinances and codes will be available for sale to the public for a price which will be set by the council.

Self-Serve Operation

During the discussion, the council reiterated its concerns over potential effects a self-service station would have on traffic flow and/or congestion in the immediate area and ensuring safety factors, plus possible noise, lighting and aesthetic factors.

Responding to this uneasiness were Ray Shelden, of Marathon, and Bill Gilbert, of Consolidated Stations, Oshkosh, Wis., a district manager of several Speedway stations, including at least six self-service ones, in the metropolitan Detroit area.

Mr. Pinkos, speaking for himself, told the station representatives the procrastination of the entire matter was directly related to his concern over the proposed transition regarding the welfare of citizens living in the immediate area. He viewed the question regarding the welfare of potentially "bothersome" lighting and the overall area of privacy.

The hours of operation, as suggested by Mr. Gilbert, would be from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m., and he emphasized the proposal would offer citizens a choice, i.e., to go the self-service route if they so desire. He also stated a split operation, half self-service and half full-service, would be undesirable.

Councilman Ronald R. Kefgen noted he personally hadn't heard much either way from citizens. Those in favor of the changeover were the Marathon representatives, while those against was one letter writer, and as it turned out, two citizens at the meeting who mixed the transition mainly because of alleged fire hazards.

The safety question has been a main concern of the council and both Mr. Shelden and Mr. Gilbert addressed themselves to this matter.

Saying the station hasn't been acting in its original capacity as planned and that it would be more functional as a self-service operation, Mr. Shelden stressed that the equipment is computerized, is safe, (in fact, "far safer than the older concept of equipment"), and is simple to operate.

It also was noted that the state Fire Marshal's Office has promulgated the necessary regulations governing the operation of such stations.

For his part, Mr. Gilbert stated a self-service operation is "doubly safe" because two persons, the customer and the attendant, control the flow of gas into a vehicle. At the same time, he said a self-service station has no automatic nozzle, as in a full-service operation. As a result, the customer has to physically and consistently squeeze the nozzle to obtain gas.

But lingering concerns remained as Councilman John Sabol felt there was still a chance for error with the attendant having too much to do with running the controls, taking money, making change, et al., while Councilman George Cueter felt increased traffic problems could result with the self-service operation.

Meanwhile, Mr. Kefgen said such a station offers a type of service to citizens which isn't available at the present time while indicating he also had reservations.

He also cited the representatives for their efforts to cooperate over a long period of time. Action dates back to the summer when the Planning Commission recommended approval of the changeover pending changes in the original plans.

But what ultimately happens now will have to wait for the November 21 council meeting — procrastination in one way and patience in another not withstanding.

VIP School

"There's a lot of smart criminals out there," Sgt. Megge said. "All police officers are trained to combat most crimes by confronting the criminal, but this training school is to teach the officer how to protect his prisoner or whoever he has in protective custody against an often unseen danger."

Classes will run from 8 a.m. on both days until 6 p.m. Some of the topics to be covered include protective operations, vehicle control and ramming road blocks, bomb searches and motorcade movements and field operations.

Tests will transpire after all classes and a final exam will be given at the end of the two days.

Upon Dets. Field and Cardella's return from the training school, a service training program will be conducted by the detectives to relay what they learned to the rest of the officers on The Farms' police force.

Monteith Hosts YSD Detective

Youth Service Division Det. John Albrecht will speak at Monteith Elementary School, 1275 Cook road, tonight, October 20, at 8 p.m.

Det. Albrecht will discuss safety to and from school, smoke detectors and child molesters.

The meeting is sponsored by the Monteith PTO, and the public is invited.

Library Shows Artist's Work

As part of an arts and crafts theme for the month of October, the Park Branch of the public library, 15430 Kercheval avenue, has on display some of the works of Edward Gehrig, of Balfour road.

Mr. Gehrig, a Friend of the Grosse Pointe Library, has donated his collection of copper and enameled pottery, personally made and designed, to the library.

His works portray a variety of birds, including Michigan flying geese, ducks and cardinals.

Park Council Cuts $933 From Insurance Premium

The Park Council on Monday, October 10, decided to cut premium costs on insurance coverage on municipal real and personal property by taking a $1,000 deductible policy from the Michigan Mutual Insurance Co.

The third installment is due and the council's action will save the city taxpayers $933, at least for the coming year.

Council members turned down a $2,000 deductible on liability and damage coverage per each occurrence, which would further cut the premium $2,509 a year on this type of coverage because it was felt that The Park, as a municipality, is open to potentially large number of claims.

The $2,000 deductible, which the city would have to pay, could be too costly, especially if there are many lawsuits filed against the city for damages, such as accidents, falls, et al.

At a regular meeting held on Monday, August 22, Kathleen Suty and Robert Hannon of Johnson and Higgins, The Park's agent of record, informed the council that the third installment for property damage and general liability through Michigan Mutual is due and that the premium has risen considerably, from $25,000 a year to $28,546 a year on the renewal.

The agents told the council that the increase in cost is due to hikes in municipal payrolls and inflated property values.

They pointed out that many insurance companies are extremely reluctant to sell insurance to municipalities and premiums are increasing. Another reason cited is that persons filing lawsuits are asking for and receiving higher settlements awarded by juries.

It is becoming increasingly difficult for local governments to obtain insurance, it was noted.

City Clerk Nunzio J. Ortisi informed the council at the October 10 session that within the last five years, there has only been five damage lawsuits filed against the city.

However, he stressed, the trend is going more and more to multiple small claims and if the city is hit with many lawsuits, paying the first $2,000 would be very costly.

Mr. Hannon remarked that it takes from five to seven years before a final lawsuit judgment is rendered.

Ms. Suty said at the August 22 meeting that the third installment for property damage and general liability through Michigan Mutual has jumped from $25,000 a year to $28,546 a year for the renewal.

GP City Mayor Not Opposed

Grosse Pointe City Mayor John King will run unopposed for another two-year term in office in City municipal elections Monday, November 8.

The deadline for filing for the mayor's seat, as well as three council positions, was Saturday, October 15.

Six candidates filed for three, four-year council terms including incumbents George Henry, of University place, Robert Nugent, of Washington road, and David Robb, of Washington road.

Challengers are George Cotichio, of Lakeland avenue, an attorney with the firm of Cotichio, Zotter and Sullivan; Kelly Ketterman, of University place, manager of the Kercheval avenue Wright Kay store; and John Rudnick, of Lincoln road, an assistant administrator at Wayne State University's Medical Center.

GPF Workers Get Pay Hike

In a memo to the Farms Council, City Clerk Richard Solak requested that the council approve a pay increase for the city's Election Inspectors from $2.20 per hour to $2.30.

The request was made pursuant to state law, regarding the minimum wage which is $2.30.

The council unanimously approved the proposal at its recent regular meeting.

GPARC Sets Fall Dinner

The Grosse Pointe Ass'n. for Retarded Citizens, (GPARC), will kickoff its year with a pot luck dinner, Wednesday, October 26, at Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, 240 Chalfonte avenue, at 6:30 p.m.

State Sen. John C. Hertel will address the group at 8 p.m. His topic will be a legislative proposal for 12-month mandatory special education programs.

GPARC is made up of about 70 persons who, as parents or interested citizens, work to provide programs for retarded citizens in The Pointe. Any member of the public is invited to join the group, headed this year by Hal Cornelius.

For more information about the dinner, call Delores Powell at 884-7107.

Seeks to Aid Seniors

ple of Grosse Pointe," she said. "There is a terrific need for a facility like this so seniors can have a definite home and begin to develop programs."
According to Mr. Bruce, the Neighborhood Club would hope to cooperate with groups like Mrs. Sutton's Woods senior citizens, as well as the War Memorial, local governments, service organizations and hospitals, to coordinate a broad range of senior programs.
Although the 20 or so clubs that are already organized for the elderly are doing a great job, he said a lack of facilities seriously hinders their services.
The Neighborhood Club is "uniquely equipped" for the coordinating job because it is geographically in the center of the highest concentration of senior citizens and because of its experience in programming, Mr. Bruce said.
In addition, Jon Austin, program director at the club, recently completed course work at the University of Michigan toward a certificate in gerontology.

The Neighborhood Club, which has been in The Pointe for 65 years, now offers a full range of recreational classes and organized sports for youths and adults.
Paid membership in the club has tripled in the last five years from 1,900 to 6,200 persons. Last year, the club provided about 170,000 hours of recreation in dozens of programs throughout the community.
"We've experienced a growth in all areas of our program in the last few years," Mr. Bruce said. "But the most overwhelming response in all my years here has been from senior citizens."

He said a Neighborhood Club-sponsored seniors group, the Village Club, which was started just a year ago with 125 members, has grown to include more than 600 elderly residents.

Hospital Cites Frank Sladen

Henry Ford Hospital has founded a new medical society in the name of the late Dr. Frank J. Sladen of The Pointe.
The Frank J. Sladen Medical Society held its first meeting on Thursday, October 13, with Dr. Richmond W. Smith Jr. as chairman. Dr. Smith also is the chairman of the internal medicine department at Henry Ford Hospital.
Dr. Sladen was the first and founding physician of Henry Ford Hospital in 1915. He died at the age of 91 in 1973.
When asked to describe Dr. Sladen, Dr. Smith said, "He was to Henry Ford Hospital what George Washington was to this country."
A 1906 graduate of Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, Dr. Sladen was in private practice in Detroit when he accepted Henry Ford's invitation to develop and organize a medical staff for a new general hospital.
Under Mr. Ford's direction, Dr. Sladen and the late Dr. Roy D. McClure established one of the country's first group practice health care centers, and pioneered the concept of a "closed staff" of physicians and surgeons whose offices and total practice were at Henry Ford Hospital.
Dr. Sladen's leadership at the hospital spanned 37 years. When he retired to consultant status in 1953, he continued to maintain an office at the hospital and to see patients well past his 89th birthday.

Prizes will be awarded for pumpkins in three categories—the most beautiful, most original and funniest.
In the costume contest, prizes will be awarded by age groups including five-years and under, six to nine years and 10 to 12 years.
Prizes are being donated by members of the village association which promises no one will leave empty-handed.

Larceny Incidents Lead YSD's Monthly Case Load

A total of 74 complaints were referred to the Youth Service Division, (YSD), for investigation last month making the total for the year, 628. For the same period last year, the tally was 547.

Larceny, with 14 cases, was the category of highest incidence. With related categories, burglary, six, robbery, two, defrauding an innkeeper, one, possession of stolen property, one, and the unlawful taking and using of an auto, one, the total number of juveniles involved were 24 boys and five girls.

Of these categories, 13 cases are not yet cleared, the youths involved unidentified.

"Bicycles or motorbike thefts continue, as do breaking and entering of homes with intent to steal. This summer we have noted an increase in incidents of purse snatching, (from elderly women), and fraudulent collection of monies on newspaper routes," says the YSD.

In other categories, malicious destruction of property incidents totaled 11 and involved nine known juvenile males. However, seven of these reports are not cleared at this point, with involved persons remaining unidentified.

GP Lodge 102 Has New Home

Grosse Pointe Lodge No. 102, Fraternal Order of Police, has a new home after 20 years of searching for a permanent headquarters.

The building, located in East Detroit, was previously utilized as an assembly rental hall. It will now serve the needs of its members, all of whom are police officers in The Pointe and Harper Woods.

Youth Service Division Det. Patrick Fagan, lodge president, said the organization has had a building fund but, through the years, nothing was approved by the members. Now, with the new structure, retired Park Police Officer Art Conlan has been hired as manager to run and maintain the building.

And as for maintenance, lodge members pitched in over the weekend to begin refurbishing the exterior of the structure.

Prior to obtaining the building, Det. Fagan said for years the Grosse Pointe Youth Club permitted the organization to meet at its facility, while expressing his gratitude to officials there for their kindness.

While work will continue inside and outside, the lodge is holding a name the building contest, seeking suggested names from members or their families. A $50 U.S. Savings Bond will be awarded to the person submitting the selected name.

The building's board of managers, comprising seven officers, are delegated with the responsibility of making decisions.

Besides Det. Fagan, who's chairman of the group, members include Park Officer David Hiller, City Officer Dennis VanDale, Farms Officer Vincent Peters, Harper Woods Officer Larry Semple, Woods Cpl. Robert Setchell and Park Lt. Gordon Duncan.

Harvard Club Hosts Hayden

Martin S. Hayden, retired editor-in-chief of the "Detroit News," will be the speaker for the October dinner meeting of the Harvard Club of Eastern Michigan.

Mr. Hayden will view on "New Trends in Investigative Reporting."

The meeting will be held Thursday, October 27, at the Michigan Inn, 16400 J. L. Hudson drive, Southfield. It will begin at 6:30 p.m.

All Harvard Club members and their guests may make reservations by calling Elliott H. Phillips at 259-3232.

People who complain that life isn't worth living act as if they were trying to prove it.

fied. The division notes that "a persisting type of this offense is deliberate damage to lawns by use of vehicles."

Meanwhile, five violation of controlled substances cases included four marijuana or hashish reports. These involved three adult males and 10 juvenile males. The other incident was found paraphernalia, (heroin), involving two adult males.

Two unlawful use of alcohol reports involved two adult males and two juvenile males.

Runaway incidents, totaling four, involved three boys, (with two running away together), and two girls.

Two boys and one girl voluntarily returned to their homes. One girl and one boy were arrested and turned over to their parents, with this girl scheduled to be filed upon with Wayne County Juvenile Court by her mother for incorrigibility.

One juvenile girl also was reported missing, not having returned to her home after school. The police force of the community in which she lives and attends school and the YSD late man were alerted, and she was quickly found. Quite new to the neighborhood, she had merely become lost between school and home.

"This type of missing report usually proves to be harmless—a lost child or a preoccupied child," notes the YSD. "Nevertheless, all police resources respond with a sense of apprehension and urgency until that child is found."

Five applications for petition were filed with juvenile court, two of which have been authorized for a court hearing. Seven applications for petition, submitted prior to September, also received court action with six being authorized for a court hearing, while one was adjusted by court counseling.

Through September, referrals to the YSD from all the Pointes, except for The Shores, are up.

The largest increase is seen in The Woods as 259 cases have been referred to the division as against 217 for the same period last year. The City follows with 45 referrals this year, 17 last year, while Park referrals show 184 this year and 178 to 1976. The Farms referrals increased by five, from 125 last year to 130 this year.

The Shores' total, meanwhile, dropped from 12 in 1976 to 11 this year.

Julie Plays Famous Poet

Actress Julie Harris, a Grosse Pointe Park native, believes Emily Dickinson had a lot to do with the recent television and stage play about her life, "The Belle of Amherst."

Miss Harris stars in this one-person dramatic autobiography which encores on Channel 56 Tuesday night, November 1, at 8 p.m.

The poet certainly supplied the words as "The Belle of Amherst" is based on her poems, notes and letters—the bulk of which were discovered after her death in 1886 by her sister, Lavinia.

Artistic Advisor Charles Nelson Reilly shares Miss Harris' belief that she influenced the production by telling the following story:

"We needed a name for Emily's English teacher, and we were in a hurry. I said 'How about Crowell?' and Bill Luce, the playwright, said, off the top of his head, 'How about Uriah Crowell?'"

"So we put it in, and weeks later, the president of Amherst College told us his researchers had finally learned the name of Emily's English teacher, and it was Uriah Crowell."

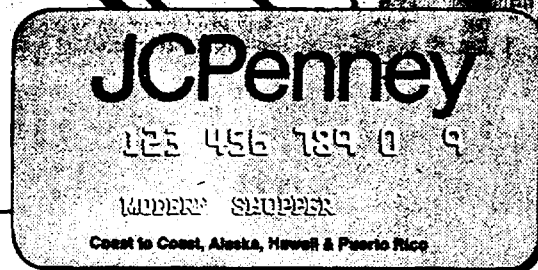

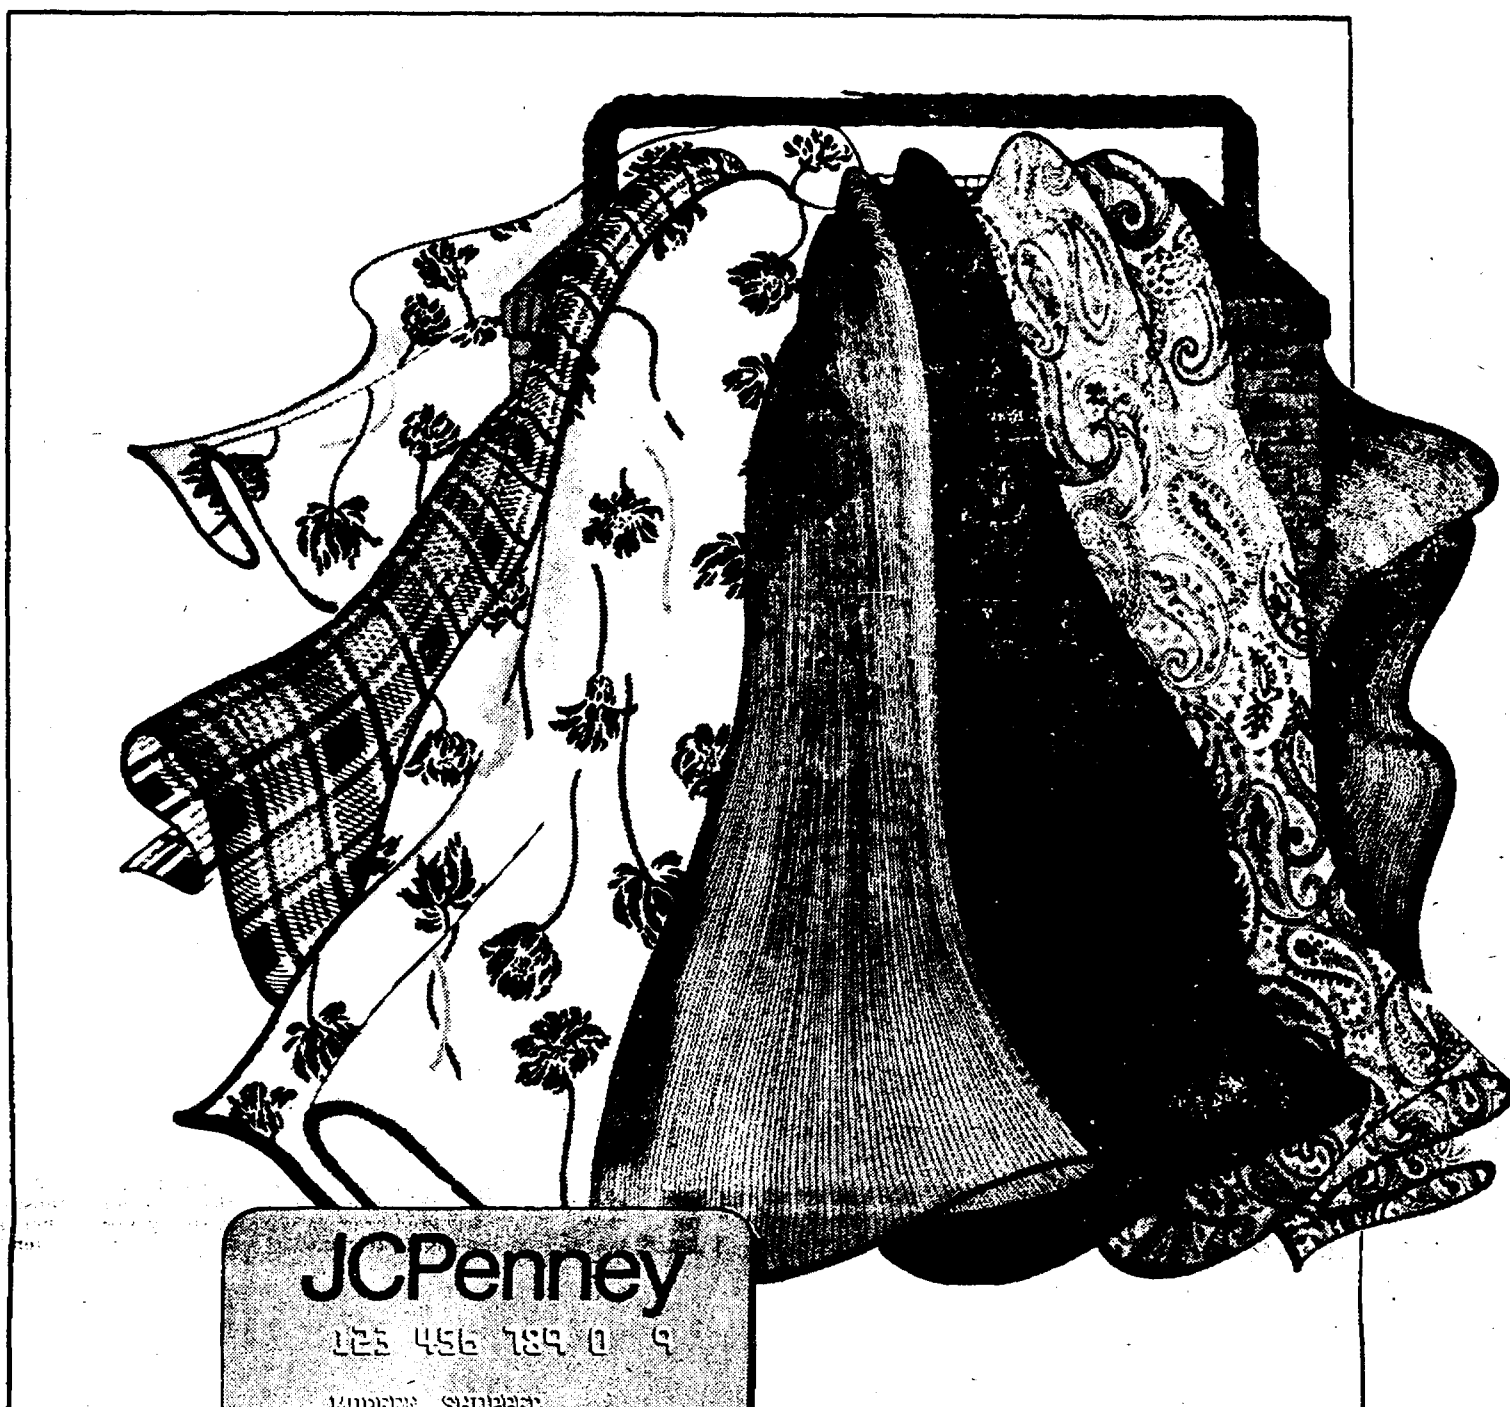

"Now that's the truth, and that kind of thing happened all the time."

Regardless of the source of inspiration, the "New York Times" describes Miss Harris' performance as "generous, spiny, proud, bemusedly defiant, subtly yielding evocation" of America's first great woman poet.

Youth Group Honors Head

At a Fellowship Hour following the Sunday service on October 9, the Youth Group of Christ the King Lutheran Church, 20338 Mack avenue, honored retiring director Walter Geffert Jr. for 16 years of service. Since 1955, he had planned paper drives, cooked Easter breakfasts, survived ski trips and hay rides with the youth group.

As a testimonial, Karen Nickeloff and Sue Carter presented Mr. Geffert with amusing gifts representing special occasions worth remembering. The Rev. J. Fabry, pastor of Christ the King, thanked Mr. Geffert on behalf of the congregation for his untiring efforts and leadership.

A cake was served at the coffee hour, and as a final token of appreciation, the new youth director, Margaret Oster, presented Mr. Geffert with a gold watch from the group.

Since the date of this occasion coincided with Mrs. Geffert's birthday she also was presented with a cake glowing with candles and thanked for her loving assistance through the years.

Mr. Geffert spoke briefly expressing his appreciation for an unforgettable day.

GP Park Okays $14,697 in Bids

The Park council at its regular meeting on Monday, October 10, approved the expenditure of $14,697 for the purchase of a new vehicle for the Department of Public Service, a salt spreader and a new half-ton cargo van for the Department of Public Works.

The fourth low bid was for the removal of nine diseased elm trees from private property, whose owners have not as yet complied with a city ordinance which requires citizens to do the job, (or it will be done by the city).

The new vehicle for public service will be purchased from Roy O'Brien, Inc., which offered to sell a 1978 station wagon for the sum of $4,216, with a trade-in allowance of $53 on a 1969 van, making a net bid of $4,163. The gross bid was the lowest of five submitted.

Acting on the recommendation of City Manager Robert A. Slone, the council voted to reject the trade-in allowance and pay the $4,216 because the city manager felt the old van was worth more than $53 and could bring more if it sold to a high bidder. The vehicle should bring in at least $200 on a bid basis, Mr. Slone said.

Of the four bids submitted, the lowest was made by Jefferson Chevrolet, a gross bid of $4,604, for a half-ton cargo van, with a $110 allowance on a 1969 half-ton Dodge van. The net bid was $4,494.

The salt spreader will be bought from Motor Truck Distributors, Inc., for snow and ice control. Its cost was $1,845, the lowest of two bids offered, and the spreader can be attached to the rear of a salt truck.

Mr. Slone disclosed there are nine diseased elms on private property. The city, under its Dutch Elm Disease law, can act on its own and have the trees removed and disposed of, assessing the cost to the owners. The cost of removal depends on the size of the tree, the city manager said.

The contract for the job went to Cal Fleming Landscaping and Tree Service, the lone bidder. The cost of cutting down and removing the nine elms is $4,185, with the possibility of one tree costing the owner as much as $2,000, it was said.

Fallen Wire Causes Detour

A worn out high tension Edison wire cut off rush hour traffic on Jefferson avenue, at Rivard boulevard, for one and a half hours Monday, October 10, according to City police.

The wire went down at 5:45 p.m. and police rerouted commuters until it was cut and removed by Edison workmen at about 7:20 p.m.

Same Driver, Same Offense

Karen Margaret Burns, of The Woods, who was arrested for speeding by a Shores public safety officer on Tuesday, October 11, also was issued a violation for driving while her operator's license was suspended. She posted bonds totaling $350.

PSO Gary Mitchell said he was on routine patrol on Lakeshore road at about 4:06 p.m. when he saw a car speeding 48 mph north on the road. The officer gave chase and stopped the driver, Mrs. Burns, at the Fontana lane intersection.

She volunteered that her license had been suspended before she was asked to produce the document, police said.

Officer Mitchell ordered the woman to drive her car to The Shores station where a Law Enforcement Information Network, (LEIN), message to the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing brought back a reply saying she was wanted by St. Clair Shores and East Detroit authorities on their warrants for driving while her license was suspended. Her license had expired on July 26, 1973.

The Shores officer said not only was the license still, at the time of suspension, under her maiden name, but she had given him the wrong date of birth.

The end result was that Mrs. Burns was required to post a bond of $200 on the St. Clair Shores charge, $50 for East Detroit and $100 for The Shores for speeding and driving under the license suspension.

Mrs. Burns is scheduled to appear in the Shores Municipal Court on Wednesday, December 21.

AARP Meets October 24

The next meeting of the American Association Retired Persons, (AARP), Chapter #2151, will be held at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, on Monday, October 24, at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Lillian Chambers has scheduled a program on the "Legislative Processes." The speakers will be Kathy De Grow, a staff member of the House of Representatives, and Larry Best, of the Office of Services to the Aging.

Miss DeGrow is concerned with young families and senior consumer rights. Mr. Best is a supervisor for the Policy and Program Development Office.

Meanwhile, Frank Komerska, continuing education chairman, announced three new classes. They are emergency health care, the metric system and automotive repairs, (for women only). For further information, call 881-1543.

Kramer Foster, travel chairman, said there are a very few openings left for the December 7 trip to Greenfield Village, including a sleigh ride, candlelight dinner at the Clinton Inn and a review of historical homes decorated for Christmas. For reservations, call 884-1124.

Harper-Grace Cites Cartmill

George E. Cartmill, of Touraine road, was recently honored by Harper-Grace Hospitals for 30 years of service to the institutions.

The president of Harper-Grace, Mr. Cartmill received a gold tie chain containing a hospital emblem studded with two diamonds. The presentation was made at a board of trustees meeting by Joseph L. Hudson Jr., chairman of the board.

Mr. Cartmill was among more than 1,200 employees receiving awards for long service to the hospitals.

Mr. Cartmill first went to Harper Hospital as a student while completing requirements for his Master's degree in hospital administration at Columbia University, New York. He became assistant director, director and president.

In 1974, when Harper and Grace Hospitals merged, he became president of the corporation which operates the 999-bed Harper Hospital Division in the Detroit Medical Center and 425-bed Grace Hospital in northwest Detroit.

As a tribute to his assistance in providing in-hospital educational opportunities for university students of hospital administration, about 30 former administrative residents at Harper Hospital honored Mr. Cartmill at a dinner at the Detroit Plaza Hotel.

A kind word now and then costs nothing, but buys so much.

ANN MACDONALD BELIEVES WE CAN DO MORE

To Improve Commercial Properties.

• The commercial zones of Grosse Pointe Park are the gateways to our community. We should support our local businesses, while at the same time strongly urging business property improvements where needed. Tax incentives and federal funds are two ways of encouraging such improvement.

• Better parking must be provided.

• A beautification effort should be undertaken by the City.

ANN MACDONALD, a 13-year resident of Grosse Pointe Park, has demonstrated her leadership and commitment to community service.

Woods Okays Bill of Seniors

The Woods Council at a recent regular meeting unanimously approved expenses of up to $800 for Senior Citizens' Day held Saturday, September 24, at the Lake Front Park.

A list of expenses totaling $748 was submitted by Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann, while an additional $25 in costs was voiced by a senior in the audience.

The seniors have a total of $3,000 in their current budget and it was felt they should receive a balance sheet after all Senior Citizens' Day expenses are recorded. City Comptroller Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher indicated last week around $2,000 is left in the budget but this figure could change pending the receipt of other bills.

As part of the motion of approval, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen was asked to verify listed labor costs to set up, move and remove various pieces of equipment.

Councilman George Cueter, council representative on the Senior Citizens Commission, said the seniors originally budgeted around $500 for the big day, while noting the estimated cost figure of $748 was higher primarily because of the labor charges. Labor cost estimates reached $192.60.

Meanwhile, Councilman Ronald R. Keigen said he had no disagreement with the activity but cautioned if the expenses keep piling up, the seniors could run dry with half a year left.

As a result, it was suggested that they receive a copy of the expense list, with an overall balance sheet being made up.

Talk to View Lutheranism

The Rev. Dr. John Tietjen of St. Louis, Mo., president of Seminex, a clergy training seminary of the Ass'n. of Evangelical Lutheran Churches, will be featured in an open forum meeting at Christ Lutheran Iroquois Avenue Church, 2411 Iroquois, in Indian Village, Detroit, on Sunday, October 23, at 6 p.m.

The subject which Dr. Tietjen will bring under discussion is "Lutheranism — Platform or Box?"

He also will preach at the 10:45 a.m. worship service on that day, with his appearance being part of a celebration commemorating the 460th anniversary of the Lutheran Reformation.

The church reportedly has a membership comprised of 65 percent Pointers.

Since 1973 Dr. Tietjen, then president of Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, the world's largest Protestant Seminary, has been the center of controversy in the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, second largest Lutheran Church body in the United States.

In the July 1973 New Orleans Convention of that church body, he, together with the majority of his faculty colleagues, was charged with teaching false doctrine which "cannot be tolerated in the church of God."

This resulted in a faculty "walk out" and the establishment of Concordia Seminary in Exile, called Seminex, which was provided facilities by St. Louis University, a Roman Catholic institution, and Eden Seminary, owned and operated by the United Church of Christ.

This controversy also helped to precipitate a split in the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod and a movement of more than 100,000 members and over 200 congregations into a new Ass'n. of Evangelical Lutheran Churches of which the Rev. Dr. Harold Hecht, of Detroit, is a regional president. This September, Dr. Tietjen was finally expelled from the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod in a reversal of a decision which had previously cleared him of all charges of false teaching.

Iroquois Avenue Christ Lutheran Church, who is sponsoring Dr. Tietjen's appearance, is one of the 16 congregations in the greater Detroit area who are currently members of the new Ass'n. of Evangelical Lutheran Churches.

The public is invited to attend.

LABOR HISTORY

The first federal arbitration law, passed in 1888, applied only to railroad workers and provided for voluntary arbitration by a presidentially-appointed three-member board, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

UF Agencies Serve Pointes

Nearly 4,500 residents of the Pointes were directly served by agencies funded by the United Foundation, (UF), in 1976.

The UF says about 3,700 of these represent those involved in the Boy and Girl Scouts, YMCA and YWCA, Camp Fire Girls and the Boys Club. The remainder dealt with such areas as family services and health care provided by United Community Service agencies which the Torch Drive funds.

The number of Pointes being aided by UF agencies has continually increased in recent years, particularly in the youth organizations. While school enrollment has decreased, the number of children involved in the groups has gone up.

Health care services, including the Visiting Nurses Ass'n. and the Saint John Hospital outpatient clinic.

A good reputation helps, but character and sincerity are the mainstays of anyone's life.

also are aiding more people, reports UF.

All five Pointe communities made use of these agencies last year with 1,487 Woods residents being served, 1,123 from The Park, 889 from The Farms, 823 from The City and 175 from The Shores.

The Visiting Nurses, which aided 213 Pointers, was the single agency most used by the community. The association brings health care to the homes of patients, many of whom are elderly. It has found its services more needed as hospitals try to shorten patient stays to lower costs.

Family counseling services offered by Catholic Social Services were used by 36 area residents. Other groups serving the area include Children's Hospital of Detroit, Detroit Hearing and Speech Center, Greater Detroit Society for the Blind, Legal Aid and Defenders Ass'n and the National Council on Alcoholism.

The number of people served by some other Torch Drive funded groups, such as the Michigan Cancer Foundation and the Michigan Heart Ass'n, are unable to be determined, adds UF.

Halloween Toy Sale Planned

Be prepared for those witches and goblins with safe Halloween treats, says the women's auxiliary of the Grosse Pointe Jaycees.

The group is holding a Halloween treat sale at J. C. Penney's Moross-Mack store on Saturday, October 22, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Plastic Halloween toys will be sold for $1.50 for a bag of 40.

The Grosse Pointe Jaycee Auxiliary is a non-profit community service organization. All profits from the sale will be donated to Center Point Crisis Center sponsored by the Family Life Education Council.

This sale is being chaired by Nancy Meyers. Assisting her will be Jeanne Bunn, Anne Billiu, Marianne Diedo, Terry Ann Dorn, Sue Martin, Maureen McHugh, Gail Priest, Marilyn Ruh and Sally Vermeulen.

ULS Welcomes Two Students

The American Field Service is sponsoring two foreign students, Jennifer Tebbs, of New Zealand, and Graham Bullen, of South Africa, at University Liggett School, (ULS).

Jennifer is living with the Philip Meathe family and in addition to an active interest in athletics, is involved in art, theater and music programs at the school.

Graham, who also has lived in England and Australia, is the guest of the G. Fred Schaefer family. He is studying French and Spanish at ULS.

Studded Tires at End of Road

Michigan's studded snow tire era should click to an end this winter, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan in a news release.

Snow tires with metal studs have been illegal in Michigan since April 1975. Only vehicles equipped with radial-ply tires using studs known commercially as Perma-T Grippers are permitted on state roads now.

The firm that produced Perma-T Grippers discontinued them in 1976, and an Auto Club check could find no other manufacturer. Auto Club was told by the only known Michigan distributors that when the existing stud supply is exhausted, no more will be available.

A spot check of tire dealers in the Detroit area finds the existing supply of legal studs very limited.

Michigan motorists whose vehicles already are equipped with the approved tires and studs may use them on Michigan roads north of a line from Mason to Arenac Counties from October 1 to May 1. Below that line, they are permitted from November 15 to April 1.

Michigan motorists traveling state roads with illegal studs or with legal studs outside the set time periods are subject to a fine of up to $100 and/or a jail sentence of up to 90 days, the Auto Club warns.

It is the practice of Michigan State Police to extend to out-of-state motorists traveling Michigan roads the same privileges for studded tires permitted in their home states, the club notes.

Studs are illegal at any time in Wisconsin and in Ontario. Six other states in which studs are totally banned are Hawaii, Illinois, Louisiana, Minnesota, Mississippi and Texas. (Minnesota permits out-of-state motorists with studded tires to drive on its roads for 30 days.)

Auto Club notes that this year, 30 states allow studs, with varying time restriction. The District of Columbia permits studded tire use from October 15 to April 15. Twelve other states have no restrictions.

Camera Club Views Slides

The Grosse Pointe Camera Club is sponsoring a special program on contemporary slide techniques Tuesday, October 25, at Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue, beginning at 8 p.m.

The program will be presented by Leo Lawson and Ted Fedoruk, who both have exhibited their contemporary color work in international photographic salons.

Contemporary slides are defined as creative, experimental, imaginative and/or departures from realistic representation.

Techniques used may be relatively simple slide manipulations, such as montages—super-imposing one slide on another.

More complicated processes include multiple exposure, bas-relief and derivations using Kodalith film.

Visitors interested in learning how to make contemporary slides are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Steiner Views Vets Benefits

Wayne County Commissioner Ervin Steiner Jr. of Grosse Pointe has urged eligible women to apply now for Veterans Administration educational benefits if their veteran husbands have died or suffer from a service-related permanent disability, according to a board of commissioners news release.

Mr. Steiner said the Soldiers' Relief Commission of Wayne County had advised the board of commissioners that many eligible women stand to lose valuable benefits if they don't apply within the next 13 months.

"Under the Dependents Educational Assistance Act of 1968, widows and wives of disabled servicemen became eligible for up to 45 months of schooling for the first time in the history of this nation," he said.

"Many of these women either don't know about these educational benefits or haven't made a decision about applying for them," Mr. Steiner stated. "But time is running out for those who became eligible on December 1, 1968. They must apply by November 30, 1978, or forever lose these valuable benefits."

He said Congress stipulated that a spouse had 10 years to apply from the date the act was passed—or 10 years from the date of death or the date the permanent service-connected disability was acknowledged, (if these events occurred after December 1, 1968).

"The November 30, 1978, cut-off date, therefore, affects only those spouses who became eligible in 1968," he explained. "Any widow or wife who has a claim after that date will be allowed to apply under the '10-year' stipulation."

Mr. Steiner urged all women who think they might be eligible to contact the Veterans Administration directly for further information.

Ski Hi is open to all junior high and high school students in the Grosse Pointes. A $5 youth council membership entitles one to all Ski Hi activities and to the Youth Council trips and activities, as well as 25 percent off functions at the War Memorial.

ANNUAL FINANCIAL REPORT THE GROSSE POINTE PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM

The following report is a summary of the financial condition and the financial transactions authorized by your Board of Education in support of the total educational program of the Grosse Pointe Public School System for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1977 and 1976.

The Board of Education wishes to supplement the financial data with a few brief comments:

In accordance with State Law, all funds received and disbursed by the Grosse Pointe Public School System are maintained under five major classifications: GENERAL FUND, LIBRARY FUND, BUILDING AND SITE FUND, DEBT RETIREMENT FUND and LONG TERM DEBT.

As indicated by the title, this fund provides for all activities of the School System, other than those specifically designated as Building and Site or Debt Retirement.

The General Fund receives the bulk of its revenue from two main sources. The first, and largest source, is from tax levies on real and personal properties within the school district. The second is from State Aid.

Expenditures from the General Fund are made in accordance with a budget prepared by the Superintendent of Schools and as reviewed and adopted by the Board of Education.

Comments on the General Fund Operations:

For the year under review we report that the School System received no basic per pupil membership allowance under the 1976-77 State Aid Act. Our School System does not qualify for basic membership State Aid because our State Equalized Valuation per pupil is greater than the equalizing factor contained in the applicable distribution formula.

The System, however, does qualify for some State assistance in financing our special education program, such as Remedial Reading, Mentally and Physically Handicapped, Emotionally Impaired, Teacher Aides, Social Workers, and School Psychologists.

The Board of Education continues to be committed to the concept of a balanced budget and will periodically review its financial condition and consider necessary adjustments to finance the educational programs within available income.

Jaycees Fight Alcohol Abuse

The Michigan Jaycees and the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary have jointly proclaimed October as Substance Abuse/Alcoholism Awareness Month.

Over 350 Jaycee chapters and over 200 Auxiliary Chapters representing over 18,000 young leaders in Michigan are being asked to "make our communities more aware of the illness of alcoholism as well as where to go for treatment and information."

In making the announcement Mike Robinson, President of the Michigan Jaycees, and Sue Pogarch, President of the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary stated that "it is our hope that we can get local people and local leadership to spread the word about the services and facilities available to people in need of help."

The leaders of this month-long awareness campaign are a Livonia family, Wayne and Sue Templeton. This is their third year of involvement on a state level representing the Jaycees and Jaycee Auxiliary in working on this all important problem.

According to Mrs. Templeton "if you saw someone close to you in great emotional distress I'm sure you would want to help them out. But, sometimes getting involved means too many complications especially if the problem is alcoholism."

Mr. Templeton continues, saying "we are taking the leadership found in local Jaycee chapters and working with the Governor and the Office of Substance Abuse Services to put on an awareness campaign during October."

There are 10 million known alcoholics in this country. For each one, four other persons are closely affected.

Obviously a drunk is not always easy to live with. Deteriorating health can cause financial and emotional problems. Continuous accidents and embarrassing conduct can be disastrous. Family stability is definitely threatened. Anyone close to the alcoholic is sharing an alcohol problem second hand.

Looking at it another way, there are 40 million potential helpers available to help the alcoholic get treatment. To do this they must learn about the illness and where to go for help.

Numerous booklets are available through: Alcohol Clearinghouse for Alcohol Information, Box 2345, Rockville, Md. 20852; National Council on Alcoholism, 733 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017; Office of Substance Abuse Services, 3500 North Logan Street, Lansing, Mi. 48914; and Operation Threshold U.S. Jaycees, Box 7, Tulsa, Oklahoma 74102.

Local assistance groups include Alcoholics Anonymous, for the alcoholic and Al Anon for the family, whether he is ready to quit drinking or not. These organizations can give immediate attention to the problem as well as continued support.

After learning more about the illness, try to talk to the alcoholic about the problem and guide them to treatment. Timing and attitude are very important in this step. Fighting and threatening don't help, but only aggravate the situation.

Support the alcoholic, he is sick. He needs warm, human concern. This does not mean to cover up, make excuses or take over responsibilities for him. This will leave them with no sense of importance or dignity. Changing your attitude could speed up recovery. Encourage treatment, but don't put down slow progress or relapses.

Above all, don't put off facing the reality that alcoholism is a progressive illness that gets increasingly worse as drinking continues. To do nothing is the worst choice you can make because untreated alcoholism will almost certainly lead to death.

Deaconess Has Anniversary

Evangelical Deaconess Hospital, Detroit's oldest east side general hospital serving the Pointes and southern Macomb County, has begun celebration of its 60th anniversary.

It was 60 years ago this fall that religious and lay leaders of the German Evangelical Synod of North America, (now, the United Church of Christ), began renovation of a three-story stone house on Detroit's eastside for use as a hospital.

Dedication of the area's first hospital on December 16, 1917, launched six decades of health care service in which three generations of Detroiters, more than a half-million persons, have been served.

The public is invited to join in the events celebrating the hospital's anniversary planned for this fall.

The first event is scheduled for Sunday, October 23, at a hospital open house from 1 to 4 p.m. Deaconess Hospital is located at 3245 East Jefferson avenue.

Tours of the hospital will be held, and there will be demonstrations of cardiopulmonary resuscitation and free blood pressure tests. An historical display will be on exhibit in the hospital lobby, and mementos will be given to those in attendance.

Kathryn Hager, Irma Kolper and Stella Fox in bridge, Irene Berno, Laura Schofield and Madeline Lard in physical exercise, Stewart Sharrow and Winnie Klinger in shooting practice and Mrs. Dettmer in swimming also were honored.

Further information is available by calling the hospital personnel office at 259-2200.

To Face Trial In Circuit Court

A Wayne County Circuit Court trial date of Tuesday, November 1, has been scheduled for a 25-year-old Woods man, who's charged with criminal sexual conduct, third degree, based upon an incident which allegedly transpired in The Woods in February.

Thomas Walter Bayer is allegedly involved in having sexual relations with a 14-year-old Farms girl at his Vernier road residence.

The suspect was arrested shortly after returning to the area from the Virgin Islands in August at the Shorian Inn, St. Clair Shores. Police noted upon conviction on the charge, he could receive up to 15 years in prison.

Bayer also is facing a similar charge in The Farms but this case is currently held in abeyance, police noted.

ELECT
Anthony C. Penta Jr.
Municipal Judge
Grosse Pointe Farms
VOTE
Tuesday, November 8
• INTEGRITY
• DEDICATION
• EXPERIENCE

What's in a Name?
Listing names of a handful of neighbors, friends and fellow attorneys should not be a major factor in convincing you to elect me Municipal Judge of Grosse Pointe Farms on November 8, 1977.

Neither I nor the committee, have sought public endorsement from individuals or special interest groups.

I know that you are more interested in making a knowledgeable decision rather than blindly following others who may know me well but have not, and perhaps never will, come into contact with me in court.

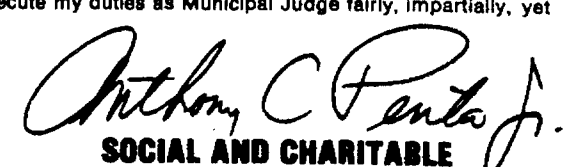

My years of concentrated court experience, including civil, criminal, trial and appellate practice — both state and federal — have been preceded by over a decade of law enforcement duties: (1) Investigative Aide for a major police department, (2) as a Special Agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation and, (3) as Assistant Prosecuting Attorney.

In addition, my private law practice has been supplemented by active and meaningful participation in various Bar Association functions and seminars.

This year, the voters of Grosse Pointe Farms will be asked to decide three issues which will have a substantial effect upon the administration of the Municipal Court. We feel that the most important issue is which of the two candidates should hold the office of Municipal Judge.

I pledge to use my experience and all my efforts to bring to Grosse Pointe Farms a more knowledgeable, efficient, yet thorough administration of the Municipal Court, and an increase in the morale of the Grosse Pointe Farms police officers.

I pledge to be sensitive to the rights of all and to execute my duties as Municipal Judge fairly, impartially, yet firmly. And one more thing... I'll sign my name to that.

Bowling Alley Plans Benefit

Jack Degriek's Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation, 20422 Mack avenue, will host an American Lung Ass'n. "Bowl-A-Thon" this month and next to raise funds for use against lung disease. The Bowl-A-Thon will be held Saturdays, October 22, 29 and November 5, to give young bowlers a chance to express a commitment to good health, according to Elizabeth D. Loosley, president of the American Lung Ass'n. of Southeastern Michigan, (ALASEM). During the first week of the Bowl-A-Thon, the junior bowlers will solicit pledges for each pin they knock down during their regular week play on October 29.

The following week the young keglers will collect the money pledged and turn it in November 5. Robert Kenward, manager of Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation, said that among the awards to be given will be first, second and third place trophies for the three persons in each league to turn in the largest amounts of money.

Volunteer co-chairpersons for the Bowl-A-Thon are J. J. Cius, of The Park and Charles Stumb, of The Woods.

Proceeds of the event will be used in the prevention and control of lung disease, according to James E. Pender, director of resource development for ALASEM.

"It is fitting that the younger people are making this effort to help out the American Lung Ass'n.," said Mr. Pender, of The City, "since lung disease, particularly asthma, is one of the major causes of school absenteeism for children with chronic illnesses."

The freshman class at North High School is an enthusiastic group, according to class sponsor Marjorie Paquette.

Under the student leadership of David Simon, president, Becky Nicholaides, vice-president, Donna Danielson, secretary, and Kelly Rogers, treasurer, they are working on the class float for this year's Homecoming parade, scheduled for Saturday, October 15.

The junior class sponsor, Thomas Smith, works with officers Cindy Cordoba, president, Renee Clemente, vice-president, Margaret Couden, secretary, and Christopher Callahan, treasurer.

Meanwhile, the senior class president, Ed Hammer, works with officers Paul Cusenza, vice-president, Judy Olsen, secretary, and Eric Spitzer, treasurer. Frank Gune, a teacher of English, sponsors this class.

All of these four classes cooperate with the Student Association, headed by Jim Clinton, president, Joseph Sehee, vice-president, Providence Vitale, recording secretary, Ron Fergle, treasurer, Jeff Kirkman, corresponding secretary, and Sue Mashour, student activities director. Donald Dungan sponsors the group.

Gunman Robs Park Couple

A Park man and his wife, while walking near their home in Pemberton road on Friday evening, October 14, were held up at gunpoint by a male suspect.

The couple asked that their name and address not be released for fear the robber might return.

They told Park police that they were walking south on Pemberton, when they were approached by the holdup man, who was walking north on the same side of the street. As he neared the couple, the robber pulled out a blue steel revolver, and pointed it at the man and woman, demanding their money.

The husband handed over his wallet containing $30 and the wife gave the robber a single dollar bill, all the money she had on her person. Grabbing the money, the man ran north on Pemberton and then east on Jefferson before he disappeared.

The couple told investigating officers that the man was black, between 20 and 25 years of age, about 5'10" tall and about 155 pounds. His hair was medium Afro and he was wearing a dark jacket and a red sweater or vest. On Saturday, October 15, a mailman called the victims' home and informed them that he had found the husband's wallet in a mailbox at Kercheval and Lakepointe. Other than the fact that the money was gone, the contents of the wallet were intact, said Lt. Gordon Duncan, who released the information.

Pointer Leads Nursing Update

Harper Hospital in Detroit has launched a campaign, led by a Farms nurse, to bring non-practicing nurses out of retirement and back into hospital nursing, according to a news release from the hospital.

Gerald Lee, RN, an assistant director of nurses at Harper, said the program is aimed not only at encouraging former nurses to return to the profession, but to inform young nurses of the new opportunities to be found in hospital nursing.

The campaign will be kicked off on Saturday, October 22, with a day-long open house for nurses and nursing students at Harper, located in the Detroit Medical Center. The event will run from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the apartment building at Mack and Brush on the hospital campus. The hospital is located at 3990 John R.

Included in the program will be displays featuring the newest developments of interest to nurses in a number of specialties—medicine, surgery, neurology, orthopedics, intensive care, ambulatory care, psychiatry and others.

Mr. Lee, of McKinley avenue, said, "Some news articles lately have fostered the misconception that opportunities for rewarding careers in nursing are no longer found in hospitals. Our open house program and other activities are intended to dispel that false belief."

"We intend to show nurses and nursing students that work in hospitals is not only well paid, but creative, innovative while leading to a wide range of opportunities not found in other types of nursing jobs."

Information about the open house for nurses and students is available by calling Harper at 494-8188 or 494-8085.

The hospital is a 900-bed general hospital and is the largest clinical teaching facility for the Wayne State University School of Medicine.

It is a division of Harper-Grace Hospitals, which also operates the 425-bed Grace Hospital in northwest Detroit.

Avoid Cables When Hunting

"Please don't shoot the cable!" That's Michigan Bell's request as hunting season opens throughout the state.

Fall appears to bring out the "hunter" in man and often telephone cables seem to end up as the hunter's targets, according to James F. Oberliesen, local Michigan Bell manager.

Every year more than 100 cases of phone trouble are traced to bullets or pellets hitting telephone cables. Such careless use of firearms can knock out phone service to many customers, Mr. Oberliesen said.

"A single shot or pellet can cut off scores of conversations—one of which could be an emergency call for police or fire or a call from someone sick or bedridden."

"It is in the hunter's own best interests to avoid hitting our cables, because the hunter might need to use a phone himself to call for help in case of an accident."

Persons also can be held financially responsible for damaging telephone equipment or property, he added.

TEACHER WORKSHOP
Francis Lamb, a teacher at Pierce Middle School, participated in a Teacher Work/Learn Program at Joseph T. Ryerson and Son, Inc., this summer. The program is designed to provide a first hand picture of American business. High school teachers are recruited in order to pass along to students a factual image of business.

Hummel Gains First for ULS

By Mike Merlo
University Liggett School (ULS), football running back Will Hummel gained 232 yards against Lutheran West on Friday, October 14, in a game won by the Knights, 34-14.
The additional yardage shot Hummel's total yards gained for the season to 1014, a first in the school's history.
Hummel managed to drive home four touchdowns to lead the offensive attack. Mike Malloch scored the other ULS touchdown on a short pass from sophomore quarterback Allen Taber.

SH Remains Undefeated

SH Remains Undefeated

By John Rothenberg
The South High School Blue Devils added to their perfect football season by beating Roseville High School, 14-6, on Saturday, October 15.

In the first half, both teams were defensively ready to stop each other. The offense, on the other hand, was nothing to talk about, as fumbles, incomplete passes and broken plays transpired.

It was homecoming for Roseville and their band complimented the occasion. Good music lifted spirits, and brought hopes for a better second half.

In the middle of the third quarter, South showed its ability to move the ball as quarterback Tom Nihem fired a 44-yard pass to Kevin Rinke, who scored. The extra point was good, and South was on its way.

Roseville didn't give up, came back with a short pass and ultimately invaded South territory. But South's defense stopped them and, in turn, recovered a fumble.

This break led to a three-yard run into the end zone by John Hartman and the extra point was good.

Roseville came back, walking all over the Devils in the fourth quarter. Nice runs and excellent blocking by the Roseville line gave Glen Gates the chance to run six yards for a touchdown.

The Roseville team lined up for the extra point, determined to keep the game still in reach. But South decided that the game should be kept out of reach. With the snap of the ball, South was in there, Roseville fumbled and the Devils recovered.

The upkeep of a high social position today is often the cause of the downfall of a family.

Key Run Helps North to Win

In the fourth quarter, with the score at 14-10 for Clintondale and three minutes left on the clock, North High School quarterback HARRY GEMUEND, (12), broke through the Dragons' defense and ran over 31 yards to bring the Norsemen one foot short of the end zone. After two unsuccessful attempts, Gemuend connected with Bruce Stafford and the winning touchdown for North was scored. Final score for the game was 17-14.

Norsemen Win Homecoming Thriller

By Joe Sazy
The North High School varsity football team welcomed home the Norsemen alumni with a thrilling 17-14 victory against Clintondale in its homecoming game Saturday, October 15.

Clintondale won the opening toss and elected to receive, but after only several plays did John Haase pick off a Dragon pass to give North the ball on Clintondale's 48-yard line.

The offense only managed to move the ball backwards and eventually fumbled. This later led to another interception for North, this time by Clay Ottoni.

The game remained a defensive battle until the second quarter when Bruce Stafford exploded for a 50-yard touchdown run on a punt return. Karl Tech added the extra point and North took a 7-0 lead.

After the Norsemen kicked off, Clintondale netted a touchdown to tie it up.

In the second half, things began to look brighter for the green and gold offense as quarterback Harry Gemuend threw a 15-yard pass to tight end Paul Radman. The same pair connected again, this time for 48 yards, and the Norsemen found themselves in scoring position.

Unable to move, Tech kicked a 43-yard field goal to give the Norsemen a 10-7 lead.

North's defense then followed with another fine performance as Ottoni, Mike McBrien and a host of other tacklers forced Clintondale to punt from their own 18-yard line.

After North's offense took control of the ball, Clintondale bounced back on an interception by Dave Howard, leading to a five-yard touchdown pass to Jim Johnson. The extra point was good and North fell behind, 14-10.

With less than three minutes to go, North's offense began rolling again.

After a first down run of 10 yards from the 41-yard line by Stafford, Gemuend broke through the Dragon defense and fell one foot short of the end zone.

Clintondale held the Norsemen for two more downs, but Stafford finally found a hole to give North the lead with 17 seconds left.

Kids' Concert Buses Slated

In an effort to meet the transportation needs of the residents of the regional community, the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority, (SEMTA), is extending its transportation program to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra concerts by adding Saturday morning service to the Young People's Concert Series.

Although it is necessary to reach the 35-passenger minimum before the bus will be definitely scheduled, SEMTA's marketing department is making every effort to combine groups to provide the transportation desired.

While directed to organized groups such as Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls and Indian Guides, the program also is available to individual youngsters who are invited to join the group and ride the bus.

SEMTA buses for the Saturday morning Earlybird 11 a.m. concert are currently scheduled from several locations including the Woods Municipal Building, 2025 Mack avenue.

For further information, call SEMTA at 962-9800, extension 251.

ULS Effective In Field Hockey

University Liggett School's varsity field hockey team currently holds a 6-0-2 record for the season, including victories over perennial powers Bloomfield Sacred Heart and Ann Arbor.

Despite the loss of six starters, including the team's leading scorer and most valuable player to graduation, ULS has outscored their opponents 20-3 in eight games.

Tomasine Polizzi and Sally Peters are the team's leading scorers with six goals each.

Coach Muriel Brock has established a winning tradition in field hockey at the school. For the past 10 years the girls have had winning seasons. Many graduates have gone on to play at leading colleges and universities.

Margaret Hindle, a June 1977 graduate, is currently the leading scorer on the Western Michigan's varsity team, for instance.

Richard B. Johns, choirmaster, the chancel choir will present numbers by Gordon Young, Jane Marshall, Healy Willan and E. B. Whittredge.

This concert is being presented as a musical tribute to the memory of Reverend Andrew F. Rauth, pastor of the church from 1943 to 1966 and pastor emeritus from 1966 to 1977.

Dr. Robert C. Linthicum is senior pastor and Reverend David J. Eshleman is assistant pastor. Helen McConachie is church organist.

"NO FRYLLES" OR FRILLS?

It All Depends on Your Point of View!

We don't consider Free Towels as Frills.

Neither are Private Showers—and also private dressing areas for our Ladies.

Nordowe look upon our beautiful Lounge with Circular Fireplace and fine furniture—enough for everyone coming off the courts—plus their friends—as Frills.

Our Nursery, Kitchen, 2 Saunas, spacious Locker Rooms and excellent Pro Shop aren't Frills either—to us.

And we'd expect any club to be able to completely change its air for you every few minutes—and air condition it in summer.

At our club, these supposed frills cost only 25c more per player hour in regular time, 50c in prime time, and less week-ends—for adults. Much lower prices for Juniors and Intermediates.

Your telephone rings. It is your REALTOR saying that he is coming right over with a prospect. You hang up the phone. What's the next thing to do? Turn on every light in the house. Why?

Because you want to give the prospect the best image you can of the comfort, beauty and livability you are offering. In other words, you want to sell a home not a house. And full illumination is the best way to give your home that "lived-in" look. Furniture and rugs and fixtures take on a warm glow from the proper lighting. Here are a few "bright" ideas:

Turn on every lamp in the living room, bedrooms and family room. Be careful about turning on the overhead lights in these rooms for it could be harsh and make the room look uninviting. Turn on every light in a storage room or closet. Go all out in illuminating the kitchen—the cheerier the better. Brighten up the bathroom too—but carefully choose the right wattage for bulbs by the mirror, pick the most flattering one. Remember, it's just as important to have lights on in the afternoon as it is for a night-time showing.

Merit Solving Smoker Dilemma.

'Enriched Flavor'™ breakthrough ends search for "low tar, good taste" cigarette.

For years, smokers had to choose between real tobacco flavor or low tar.

Until MERIT.

Until a breakthrough in tobacco science resulted in a way to boost natural tobacco flavor without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The result was 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

MERIT and MERIT 100's were packed with this special tobacco. And taste-tested against a number of higher tar cigarettes.

© Philip Morris Inc. 1977

Kings: 8 mg. "tar," 0.5 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette, FTC Report Dec. '76
100's: 12 mg. "tar," 0.9 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

The results proved conclusively that 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco does boost taste without the usual increase in tar.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of both MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested.

EVERY SO OFTEN there is an opportunity to buy a house in the Farms which is located just a block to Hill shopping, both public and Parochial schools and a bus line. Combine these features with a price tag under $30,000 and it's a happening. The exterior of this two bedroom house has recently been wrapped in aluminum, as has the garage.

A HOUSE FOR ALL REASONS is this deceiving property on the curve of Woodland Shores. For the family that desires first floor bedrooms, there are two. For those who want bedrooms on the second floor, there are four. If a separate apartment within the house is necessary, this has one. Have you always wanted a greenhouse? One comes with our house. How about spending some leisure time around your own swimming pool? We have one here. The large family room has a window wall which faces the pool and patio. The above should be reason enough to see 85 Woodland Shores.

ENJOY CONDOMINIUM living at its best in a fabulous colonial building in Shorepointe. This spacious, two bedroom apartment has a large sitting room off the master bedroom and a large formal dining room. The two-story living room is most impressive with its French fireplace and high ceiling.

WHAT SO MANY WANT is a little house with large rooms, and most importantly that master suite on the first floor. Tonnancour Road has always been popular, and its houses like this one that make it so. Upstairs are three bedrooms and two full baths. To complement the formal living room and dining rooms is a step-down garden room. Attached garage and sprinkler system are just two of the many conveniences.

TUCKED AWAY at the end of a deadend street in the Shores, and just a block from the lake is this farm colonial with something for everyone. Custom built for the present owner, it has a sumptuous master suite on the main floor. Upstairs are three spacious bedrooms and two baths. The enormous living room features a cathedral ceiling with open rafters, fireplace and wide bay windows. The early American family room also has a fireplace, wet bar and random width, oak pegged floors. Two lavatories are on the main floor and a large utility room contains the laundry and plenty of cupboard storage. A formal dining room and wide, brick entry foyer welcome you to this magnificent home. See it while the swimming pool is still open.

FARMS LOCATION. All brick custom built ranch, formal dining room, living room, family room, large kitchen, two bedrooms, bath and a half. Two and one half car attached garage. See why we're so excited about this one by seeing for yourself.

Activities of Lawyers Seen in State Bar Report

For the first time in 42 years, the State Bar of Michigan has opened its "books" to the public—not in terms of dollars and cents, but in terms of activities pursued by the state's 16,000 member-lawyers, according to a news release from the organization.

Among the facts disclosed by the State Bar's first "Report to the People of Michigan":

• Sixty-five agencies provided free or low-cost legal aid, legal defender and lawyer referral services in 1976-77 to more than 64,000 citizens, at a cost, in federal dollars alone, of more than $2.6 million.

• In the process, these same agencies handled more than 21,400 court cases, ranging from minor landlord-tenant disputes to major class action suits against some of the state's largest corporations, cities and federal, state and local government agencies.

• Michigan's Public/Legal Defender Offices alone provided attorneys without charge in 1976-77 for more than 21,000 persons facing court hearings and trials—juveniles, the sick, the elderly or indigent.

• In Detroit Recorder's Court alone, some 10,600 citizens were provided assigned public legal counsel without charge.

• Legal Aid Bureau case loads ranged from auto sales and loan companies to nursing homes, rent deposits, food stamps, emergency medical services for the indigent, foster care, tenant rights, welfare terminations, and insurance "redlining" and sales of substandard housing in urban neighborhoods.

• Some 570 attorneys donated time and services worth more than $1 million to assist without pay in the work of the Supreme Court's State Bar Grievance Board, reviewing citizen complaints of attorney misconduct.

• During the year, the State Bar Grievance Board reviewed 772 complaints, disbarred seven attorneys and suspended 20 others. With Michigan's 16,000 attorneys making some 30,000 to 40,000 client contacts or court appearances every day, the report estimates, this is a remarkably small number of complaints.

• During the year, more than 600 attorneys voluntarily contacted the State Bar's Ethics Committee for ethical guidance in special situations.

• Member-attorneys of more than 50 local and county bar associations across the state participated in 1977's "No Bills Day," begun just three years ago as a pilot project in the Emmet-Charlevoix area. Under the program, participating attorneys offered free consultations by appointment during the week preceding the May 1 observance of Law Day.

• The State Bar's Young Lawyers Section, with a membership of more than 6,000, led the way in volunteer efforts, including inmate paralegal training at Jackson Prison, juvenile parole hearing assistance and disaster relief to 1976-77 flood and tornado victims in 26 counties.

• Public information work by the State Bar and its committees included 40 news releases, seven press conferences, scores of radio/TV interviews on public issues, a telephone "Hot Line" for media, public service TV spots and "Ask the Lawyers" TV shows, and law education programs in 35 school districts.

• Working through the State Bar's 76 committee's and 14 Sections, more than a thousand attorneys donated their time to the vital task of drafting legal studies on thousands of public interest issues for the courts, the legislature and the media, ranging from the "bottle bill" and Pigeon River oil drilling debate to insurance "redlining," divorce kits, child abuse and the proposed "watchdog" commission for Detroit Recorder's Court.

• A special State Bar committee is undertaking the giant public task of drafting for consideration by the legislature a completely new and modern criminal code for Michigan, including sentencing.

The illustrated 5,000-word report includes a directory of all 65 legal aid, legal services and lawyer referral agencies in the state. It is being mailed to public officials, civic leaders and members of the news media throughout Michigan.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

With this column I begin a series of articles designed to inform school district residents of the means which the staff of the public schools and public libraries will use in implementing Board-adopted goals for the 1977-78 year.

The goals to which I refer were established by the trustees, your duly elected representatives, as those which should receive major attention and emphasis during the 1977-78 school year.

The list of 22 goals reflects a close relationship to the official Philosophy Statement adopted by the Board in the fall of 1976 as well as to school system objectives of the past two years.

Although the school system's Philosophy Statement has been shared previously in this column, readers are reminded that it addresses the seven principal areas of concern: (1), Basic Skills; (2), Self-Discipline; (3), Citizenship; (4), Academic Excellence; (5), Career Preparation; (6), Cultural Development; and (7), Management System.

As still another reminder of something shared previously, the 22 goals for the 1977-78 year are listed below. Some specific objectives and projects designed to implement these general goals will be identified in the course of this series of articles.

For the 1977-78 school year, the Grosse Pointe Public School System will continue

1. Improve student achievement in the basic skills.

2. Improve the quality of supervision throughout the school system.

3. Improve communication with parents and citizens of the community.

4. Improve efforts to individualize and personalize relationships with students.

5. Involve people affected by decisions in the decision-making process.

6. Improve administrative relationships with all employee groups.

7. Complete the reorganization of central office departments for the more efficient and productive operation of the school system.

8. Develop, implement and evaluate a "Management by Objectives" model for the school system.

9. Review and update Board of Education policies.

10. Adopt and implement a new system of teacher evaluation.

11. Review, modify and implement the plan for evaluating administrative performance.

12. Increase appropriate in-service activities.

13. Review and update the personnel function to conform with sound management concepts.

14. Improve business practices.

15. Review and refine the scope and sequence of skills and content in selected areas of instruction.

16. Extend the present comprehensive school system testing program in the basic skills to include most high school programs.

17. Provide opportunities for students to assume and practice the privileges and responsibilities of active citizenship.

18. Develop opportunities through which students may achieve academic excellence.

19. Modify curricula to improve opportunities for the cultural development of students.

20. Study and make recommendations regarding modified attendance areas and the improved utilization of buildings.

21. Develop a more creative public library program for patrons.

22. Develop a plan to integrate career education and preparation in all appropriate curriculum areas, K-12.

Next week, the first article in the series will focus on our first goal: Improving student achievement in the basic skills.

I would like to have your input, your ideas about what our urban coalition should be doing in 1978, with its staff of about 30 professionals and its grant budget of about $1 million.

This year the heaviest emphases have been on minority economic development, community organization, public safety, education, neighborhood stabilization and housing and youth. Other major areas of effort include economic development and drug abuse.

In case you haven't noticed lately, the problems of Detroit are at the doorstep of the Pointes.

Of all suburban communities the Pointes and their residents have no choice, they cannot ignore the central city. It may be possible in Rochester or Brighton or Sterling Heights to ignore Detroit, but not here.

Good things can be done. I don't like giveaways and government programs that don't work any better than you do. New Detroit is the private sector finding answers.

We can do a better job if you give us your ideas.

Because of its tendency to fade, many turquoise are treated with artificial colors.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters,
Director of Public Libraries

Weather forecasting is at best an inexact science but a science that all of us practice. The professional forecaster—a person hired by the government to predict the impossible—has about the same degree of accuracy as the ordinary citizen who only sticks his head out of the window to view the skies.

Despite the obvious problems, there are many authors audacious enough to write books about the weather and in the process throw in a little forecasting. One such author is Louis J. Battan, director of the Institute of Atmospheric Sciences at the University of Arizona.

His book WEATHER, (Prentice Hall, 1974), offers a well-written introduction to the fundamentals of meteorology. Treating the general features of Earth's atmosphere, air motions and wind patterns, Dr. Battan writes at a level that requires no scientific training on the part of the reader.

Filled with charts, graphs and tables, it offers much information that may not make you any warmer on a cold day but at least you'll know why you are so cold.

A brief chronology of the climate of the last 10,000 years informs the reader that in 830 A.D. there was a drought in the south west United States and that in 829 A.D. there was ice on the Nile.

Lowell Ponte, THE COOLING, (Prentice-Hall, 1976), is authored by a man who is not a meteorologist, not even a paleoclimatologist, he is a television and radio commentator in Los Angeles.

He believes that few questions are as urgent today as those concerning climate change and what may be done about it. His thesis is that changes in the environment—the natural cooling of our planet's climate since 1945—can constitute a source as well as a means of conflict among nations.

Many scientists do not agree that the climatological changes Mr. Ponte foresees are in fact taking place. Are we at the dawn of a new Ice Age? Mikhail Budyko, a Soviet scientist has concluded from his computer studies that a 1.6 percent decrease in the solar energy we receive would be enough to chill the world and start glacial.

FAIR WEATHER TRAVEL IN WESTERN EUROPE tells you what month is the sunniest in London, the best time for a ski vacation in the Alps, the best season to visit Scandinavia and includes many more weather tips.

The author is a seasoned travel writer and weather expert so you get some information on places to stay, where to eat and how to get along with the native population, as well as what clothes to take to better cope with the weather.

No one can get along without THE OLD FARMERS ALMANAC, (Yankee, Inc.). Published annually since 1792 it is an American tradition. The law of averages results in a few of the weather forecasts turning out correctly and when that happens thousands of new believers join millions of the faithful in swearing that the ALMANAC is almost always right.

Forget the weather forecasts, this little booklet is full of so much hard information and trivia that it should be on the Best Sellers list. Do you know what Oscar Wilde's last words were? "I am dying, as I have lived, beyond my means."

Dominique Bouhours, a philosopher and grammarian, was concerned with sentence structure as he faced death: "I am about to — or I am going to — die: either expression is used."

Other bits of vital information you'll find in the OLD ALMANAC include "When to Shop for What and Save Money," "50 Years Ago and Today," "An American Worker's Buying Power," a motley collection of amazing stories, useless facts, poor advice, strange news items and an essay on the seven mysteries of life by Guy Murchie.

Jewels & gems
by Jerry Valente

December has two blue birthstones, turquoise and lapis lazuli. Success is their sentiment — success in love and money. The blue-green turquoise was used by the Egyptians 8,000 years ago. This lovely semi precious stone is relatively soft and porous in quality. Sometimes turquoise appears in a green form, an especially popular one with Mexicans. In ancient Egypt lapis lazuli was more precious than gold. This gem is a deep dark blue, one said to cure fever and melancholy. Most lapis has flecks of pyrite grains which appear to be gold. These flecks add a dramatic quality against the blue, although lapis without the gold is more valuable.

We have rings for all occasions and all budgets, here at VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, Detroit, 881-4800. We invite you to come in and browse and see our unique items which are just a bit different. We feature everything from the finest diamonds to antique jewelry. Tell us what ideas you want incorporated and we will design and custom-make jewelry to your taste. Bring in precious stones from your old jewelry and we will re-set them in a custom made setting.

GEM FACT:
Because of its tendency to fade, many turquoise are treated with artificial colors.

Eastern High Sets Reunion

All graduating classes of Eastern High School through 1940 are holding their eighth annual dinner-dance reunion at the Lochmoor Club, 1018 Sunningdale, on Saturday evening, November 5. The 1927 class also will be celebrating its 50th reunion.

The honored guest will be Wilfred A. Steiner, Pointe attorney, who has been the chairman of the event for the last four years.

The affair is limited to 250 guests and, in the past, requests have far exceeded accommodations, so early reservations are advised. Those planning to attend should send a $16 per person check to Hedwig Reichardt Jacoby, 407 Mount Vernon, Grosse Pointe Farms 48236.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Once upon a time, there were THREE Detroit Symphony Preludes, hour-long lectures and/or performances featuring Detroit musical personalities... and now there are FOUR.

In its seventh consecutive season, the Preludes, sponsored by the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony, have changed from a series of three in winter months to a series of four beginning a week from tomorrow, Friday, October 28.

The location remains the same: the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The time remains the same, 11 in the morning. The format remains the same: first a Prelude, then luncheon, by subscription, for those who wish to stay on.

The possibilities remain the same: you can subscribe to the complete series, four programs and luncheons, ($25); to the series of programs only, ($10), to a single program-luncheon, ($8); or to a single program only, ($3).

As always, a question-and-answer period will follow each program.

The first, on October 28, will feature Antal Dorati, the DSO's new conductor. The second, Friday, January 27, presents the Woodwind Trio: Paul East Jefferson avenue, announced the appointment of Mrs. G. Mennen Williams, of Tonnancour place, and Mrs. John J. Riccardo, of Birmingham, as general chairman and general co-chairman, respectively, for the 1978 season.

Mrs. Williams is the wife of Michigan Supreme Court Justice G. Mennen Williams. Mrs. Riccardo the wife of Chrysler Corporation chairman John J. Riccardo.

Mr. Mack noted in his remarks to the gathering that it is through the efforts of volunteer workers that the DGOA has continued a steady growth over the past several years and now numbers 2,000 members in its general committee.

Notifying the officers and directors of anticipated price increases for tickets, Mr. Mack explained, "While some increase will be required in light of rising costs for bringing the Metropolitan Opera to Detroit, this increase will be reasonable and well worth it for insuring the success of a truly exciting season."

Mr. Mack then announced the operas slated for presentation during Opera Week. Season opener Monday, May 22, will be a new production of Massenet's "Thais" featuring Beverly Sills and Sherill Milnes.

This will be followed by "Cavalleria Rusticana/Pagliacci" in the widely-acclaimed Franco Zeffirelli production, starring Tatiana Troyanos, Cornell MacNeil and James McCracken; "Boris Godunov" with Mignon Dunn, Jerome Hines and John Macurdy; a new production of Donizetti's "La Favorita" with Shirley Verrett, John Alexander and Louis Quilico; and a new production of Verdi's "Rigoletto" starring Judith Blegen, Neil Shicoff, Cornell MacNeil and Justino Diaz.

Rounding out the week will be two performances on Saturday: a matinee of Mozart's "Don Giovanni" with Roberta Peters, Sherill Milnes, Donald Gramm and John Macurdy, and Saturday evening's "Madama Butterfly" with Gilda Cruz-Romo.

"The excitement of a Metropolitan Opera Week which includes the talents of Beverly Sills, three new productions and such a variety of repertoire will certainly inspire our volunteers as they make preparations for the 1978 season," Mr. Mack concluded.

Society News Gathered from the Pointes

Exhibit Focus Is Folk Art

The Norwegian Rosemaling and Early American Decorators are presenting their preview showing of handpainted furniture and art objects at Jacobson's through this Saturday, October 22.

The decorated objects are reproductions of authentic designs of the fanciful folk art of Norway.

The Norwegian Rosemaling and Early American Decorators are a society of decorative artists dedicated to the preservation and continuation of methods and painting techniques used by Norwegians and Early American decorative painters.

Their director is Sharon Stoeckel, who teaches in her studio at the Grosse Pointe Academy and for Grosse Pointe Community Services. "The art of the people is such a personal and touching way to study the hearts and the minds of different nations through the ages," Sharon believes.

The society's purpose is to renew interest in these lovely and almost lost decorative arts by displaying them to the public. At Jacobson's, members are available to discuss and answer questions about Rosemaling.

Other displays of Early American decorative arts are planned for the future. Such items as country tin, lace edge painting, Chipendale, free hand bronzing, stencilling and gold leaf etching will be featured.

Tocco to Play Two Concerts with DSO This Week

Pianist James Tocco, whose performance at last summer's Vienna Festival led an American writer to call him "Detroit's greatest export since power steering," returns to his hometown for a pair of concerts with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra this evening, Thursday, October 20, at 8:30 o'clock and Sunday afternoon, October 23, at 3:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

French maestro Georges Pretre, who made his DSO debut last week, will be on the podium, concluding a two-week visit as guest conductor. Sunday afternoon's performance marks the opening of the DSO's Kresge Family Concerts.

Season tickets for the six-concert Sunday afternoon series, with a special family rate plan, are available through Saturday, October 22, at Ford Auditorium box office, 961-0700.

Tocco, (rhymes with "cocoa"), who last appeared with the Detroit Symphony in April, 1975, will be featured as soloist in the Saint-Saens Fifth Piano Concerto. Other works on the program are Massai's "Les offrandes oubliées," (Forgotten Sacrifices), and Mussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition."

Tickets for this week's concerts are available at Ford Auditorium box office, Detroit Tonight Tours at the Plaza Hotel, all Hudson's and Ward's ticket outlets.

James Tocco was born in Detroit of music-loving Sicilian immigrant parents.

At an early age, as a pupil of Boris Maximovich in Detroit, he began winning prizes, one of which carried with it a scholarship for study at the Mozarteum in Salzburg.

After further study with

Magda Tagliaferro in Paris and later with Claudio Arrau, the young American began to concertize in Europe and North and South America.

His debut with a major American symphony orchestra was in Detroit in 1968, performing Tchaikovsky's First Piano Concerto under Arthur Fiedler at the DSO's spring Cabaret Pops.

This was followed by his highly-acclaimed New York debut, after which he went on the win, in rapid succession, First Prize at the International Piano Competition of the Americas in Rio de Janeiro and First Prize in Piano at the prestigious Munich International Music Competition.

Tocco has appeared with major orchestras and in recital in music capitals throughout the world. This fall he succeeds Jorge Bolet as artist-in-residence at Indiana University.

George Pretre, born in Douai, began his musical studies there and continued them at the Paris Conservatory.

He began his operatic career in Paris, where his conducting at the Opera Comique received enormous public acclaim leading to his immediate engagement by the Paris Opera.

For several years he was associated with the Reunion des Theatres Lyriques Nationaux.

Pretre has often conducted at the Metropolitan Opera in New York.

Let's Talk
Real Estate

by John E. Brink

The last four issues of the Grosse Pointe News has had several articles about the concern of citizens about traffic in their area. The articles told about meetings being held with City officials, studies of problems, consultants being called in.

Yes, traffic can be a significant problem for homeowners. People are entitled to enjoy the peace, privacy, and safety of their homes and neighborhood. Excess traffic does pose a noise and safety problem.

Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. has been reviewing this problem for some time and in March of this year proposed a unique plan to relieve this traffic problem in many areas. We proposed that a series of cul-de-sac (mini parks) be used to divert traffic from residential streets. We have been working for the past six months to accomplish what many residents are now seeking. A close look at our program will show that we have proposed these cul-de-sacs for the very same streets that are now having a traffic problem. Thus for we have contacted over 1500 homeowners and find that over 97 per cent feel the program would be beneficial.

If you are concerned about traffic on your street, please contact us. We will be glad to explain our program in detail and you can decide whether it would make your area quieter and safer. Call us at 882-0087.

Aim Concerts At The Young

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra will be playing up a storm at Ford Auditorium Saturday, October 22, when the DSO Young People's Concerts open with "Rain, Rain Go Away—DSO Weather Report."

Conductor-in-residence Paul Freeman will be on the podium for the 11 and 2 o'clock programs, which feature cartoonist Sid Stone as special guest.

This series is a perennial favorite with the area's young audience. The programs are designed to present substantial musical works in an entertaining package, aimed at listeners from tots to pre-teen-age.

This week, Dr. Freeman will introduce the youngsters to works in which composers have created musically the sensations of a rain-storm.

The orchestra will perform illustrative excerpts from Beethoven's Sixth Symphony, (4th movement), Grofe's Grand Canyon Suite (5th movement "Cloud Bursts"), Wagner's Storm Music from "Die Walkure" and Rossini's Storm Music from the William Tell Overture.

If the children have any trouble seeing the musical picture created in Kodaly's "Hary Janos" Suite, they will find the images brought into clear focus as cartoonist Sid Stone sketches while the orchestra performs that work.

Season tickets for the Saturday Young People's series offering all four concerts for little more than the price of three, are available through tomorrow, Friday, October 21, at Ford Auditorium box office, 961-0700.

Subscriptions are available for Earlybirds at 11 or Lazybirds at 2 o'clock.

Hinson-Connolly Rites Celebrated

Mrs. James J. Rogers Comes from Traverse City to Serve As Her Sister's Honor Attendant at Early August Ceremony

A reception at the Berkshire road home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Connolly, followed the Saturday, August 13, wedding of Carol Miriam Connolly and Robert Hinson.

Presiding at the 4 o'clock rites in the Grosse Pointe Academy Chapel was Father P. Douglas Keller, president of University of Detroit High School.

The bride's long-sleeved, V-necked, white, silk organza gown was trimmed with Alencon lace beaded with seed pearls.

A Juliet cap held her lace-edged, fingertip length illusion veil, and she carried a cascade of carnations, stephanotis and baby's-breath.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. James J. Rogers, of Traverse City, as matron of honor, in a kelly green gown, floor length, sleeveless and high-necked, and by bridesmaids Mrs. William P. Connolly, Jr., of Sault Ste. Marie, Muffy Mueller and Sandy Gardner, dressed identically in Nile green.

Former Pointer Douglas Maxwell came from Denver, Colo., to act as best man for the bridegroom, also a former Pointer, son of Mrs. Pat Hinson, of Marquette, and Cecil Hinson, of Fraser.

In the usher corps were William P. Connolly, Jr., the bride's brother, Mr. Rogers and James Perrone.

Flower girls Kelly Rogers, the bride's niece, and Alexis Sianiega wore floor length dresses of white eyelet over Nile green, sashed with velvet ribbon. They, like the senior attendants, carried nosegays of white carnations, yellow roses and baby's-breath.

Train bearers Christopher and Michael Rogers, the bride's nephews, wore Nile green suits and boutonnières. Mrs. Connolly selected a long gown of floral-printed chiffon over Nile green satin for her daughter's wedding. She pinned a purple orchid to her purse.

The bridegroom's mother's ensemble was a two-piece, high-necked chiffon print. She pinned yellow Sweetheart roses to her purse.

The newlyweds vacationed in northern Michigan and are at home in Warren.

Her lace-trimmed, chapel veil was secured by a Juliet cap, and she carried white carnations, rosebuds and stephanotis, with lemon leaves.

Honor maid Christine Hanson wore a scoop-necked dress of pale green silk, its bell sleeves trimmed in lace.

Bridesmaids Mrs. William Shepard, of Ann Arbor, the bridegroom's sister, Mary D'Angelo and Heleen Roach were dressed identically in blue, silk-screened floral prints. They carried bouquets of blue carnations, rosebuds and baby's-breath, and wore dried flowers in their hair.

Flower girls Sarah and Laura Dow, children of the Stuart Dows, wore pale green silk dresses trimmed in lace, matching the maid of honor's ensemble.

96 Mapleton	2 BR

FIRST OFFERING—Williamsburg Colonial This beautiful center entrance colonial on Moran has a lot going for it besides an attractive price and desirable location. From the finished basement, through the country kitchen, to the 3 large sized bedrooms, everything says care and quality. The oversized garage, large yard and assumable mortgage, and a mid-sixties price are the pluses that will make this home sell fast. Don't be disappointed, come prepared to present your offer.

HARVEST TIME—FARMS COLONIAL The time is ripe for an offer on this exceptionally clean, immaculately maintained colonial on Moran. It is close to schools, shopping, transportation, and has all the features needed for comfortable living. Huge foyer, modern kitchen, family room, central air. Your offer may be just right to harvest this bargain.

FARMS—Mapleton, the IN street. The homes on this street have always been kept in immaculate condition by proud owners. It's now becoming the street to do things with, homes being updated, either traditionally or with a contemporary flair. Living on Mapleton puts you close to Hill shopping, Cottage Hospital, the lake and transportation to downtown and Eastland.

We have a Colonial with two large size bedrooms on the second floor. The large living room and dining room are bathed in natural light from the new picture windows. The basement is ready for finishing and the home can have a 3rd bedroom or family room easily added. The new garage give you protection for the winter ahead. What's your offer?

If you need more space we have an attractive 3 bedroom bungalow that may be just right for you. It has an updated kitchen, French doors leading to the patio (or your future family room). This is the perfect starter home that could end up being the showplace of the block.

LAKE ST. CLAIR—GROSSE POINTE SHORES If it's large, spacious, craftsmanship of yesterday and extremely comfortable try this one on. With a view of our sparkling Lake St. Clair from your sun room and master bedroom suite plus a fantastic modern kitchen you'd think this was enough. But keep going and tucked in a very privately landscaped grounds you'll find an elegantly designed swimming pool—fantastic. Priced over $200,000.

MINI-MANSION—PARK Yes, one look at the lovely location, the beauty and condition rate the mansion label. This is a large 4 bedroom English style colonial that is a perfect house to call a home. For comfortable entertaining there is the lovely living room, a Florida room and a library. The basement room is finished in hardwood flooring. The only things that make this home mini are the heating bills and price. A value at the asking price and yet offers will be considered.

HARPER WOODS—Starter Work in Harper Woods, at St. Johns or at Eastland? Need a home in excellent condition at a reasonable price to get started? This may be for you. A white frame bungalow that has had a lot of loving care lavished on it. Two bedrooms down and a very large 3rd bedroom up. New kitchen, new carpeting. Inspect it, consider what it's worth and submit your offer.

INCOME PROPERTIES—Starter Homes The best use of your housing money is obviously an investment in your own home. Purchasing an income property may be the best way to get started. While you occupy one flat, your tenants will be paying a goodly portion of the mortgage payments.

One of the properties we represent on Wayburn has two bedrooms in each flat and large sized kitchen and living rooms. The house is in very good condition. It's ready to move right in and watch your equity grow.

Another Wayburn property has an all aluminum exterior around a large well cared for interior. Its condition reflects the care of the owners. Stop by our office and we can review how easily you can get started in home ownership.

FARMS COLONIAL—Owner Anxious An immaculate 3 bedroom colonial on lovely Kerby Road is ready for your offer. One look will tell more than any ad can. It's in almost perfect condition and its set off by a large yard. The purchase of a new home has the owners in a receptive mood for offers. Act fast.

EDWARD P. FROHLICH, OF PRESTON PLACE

By Ann Wallace

"I am looking forward to the beginning of this concert year as my friend Mischa Kottler will be opening this 25th season for the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra," state Ed Frohlich, who has been involved with the orchestra in many capacities for many years.

He has known pianist Mischa Kottler for some 30 years and is looking forward to his friend's playing of Beethoven's Piano Concerto in E flat Major Sunday, November 6, at the Performing Arts Center of Grosse Pointe North High School with the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra conducted by Felix Resnick.

Mischa Kottler has concentrated extensively in the Detroit area and in the country and has soloed several times with the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra. He has been the official pianist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for many years and also was music director for radio station WWJ here in Detroit.

Knows Many Musicians "I have had contact with many musicians in my years of association with the Grosse Pointe Symphony," continues Ed, "as I have been serving on the music committee, or search committee since 1971 to seek out soloists for the four concerts that are presented each year."

"Over the years we have had an extensive variety of soloists. We try to hit a happy medium of having experienced musicians in concertizing as well as those who are at the threshold of a budding concert career."

"At times," notes Ed, "the results have not been the most desirable, but these times have certainly been in the minority."

As a member of the music committee, he has always encouraged variety in programming. An example is this year's programming which includes a clarinetist, piano-duettists, a harpist and a chorus.

He is very much aware of the desires of an audience and what it wants to hear, and he and the music committee try to abide by these desires.

Detective Work In search for the soloists, Ed has had to "track down" many that have been suggested to him or the committee. This can involve many telephone calls and letters to New York talent agencies and even countries in Europe.

"So, serving on this committee has been a challenge," notes Ed, "but I have enjoyed it for the most part, even though it has been frustrating at times."

His term as music committee chairman will end in 1978. He has been a director of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Society since 1962, and served as its president from 1964 to 1967.

Since the society includes or Thursday evenings are available. Call 371-2484... 10721 Whittier.

CUBA... Charter flights depart Detroit weekly from December 22 to April 20, 4 nights in Havana and 3 nights outside Havana at a beach hotel from $499. Call Dely Travel, 881-6231... 20223 Mack Avenue.

Commuter Mugs... great for drivers. Enjoy a cup of coffee on the way to work. Just in at The Kaleidoscope, 16906 Kercheval and in Kimberly Korner, Mack and Lochmoor.

Luxury Lover's Gift... a luxurious fur pillow from Pierson Interiors-East, 377 Fisher Road. See the butterscotch fox pillow, the honey rabbit pillow and the cat lynx pillow in the display area. In the display cabinet you'll admire the old jade pieces some in pale green and some in blue jade... treasured for very special people.

Calico Corners... is having its ANNUAL VELVET PROMOTION with great savings! Hurry while the supply lasts... 25008 Little Mack, St. Clair Shores.

Champagne for Pointe Symphony

The Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Committee, launching its 1977 membership drive, is inviting all new members, their escorts and sponsors—AND all prospective members—to a champagne party this Sunday, October 23, from 5 to 7 o'clock at the Cloverly road home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene K. Groves.

Five hundred invitations have been mailed to prospective. Any prospective who was not on that mailing list is urged to call 822-7141 for membership information. Of course, these Unknown Prospectives will, once they make themselves known, be included on the champagne party invitation list.

Accepting reservations are Mrs. H. William Butler, 821-0486, and Mrs. Elmer L. Barber, 885-3932.

of Detroit, and is presently a director of the Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Association, a post he has held since 1972.

Ed and his wife Jesse, who was born in Scotland, have two sons: John, age 18, and Robert, age 13. "No one plays an instrument except me," says Ed. "They all play tennis and ski which for me at this time would be very difficult as I am still recovering from a recent fall. I injured my ankle and also my back."

"I thoroughly enjoy playing the piano and will accompany friends in some two-piano works as well as accompany those who are preparing to play in concert."

One of those friends is Mischa Kottler, the first soloist of the season for the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra.

Ed started playing piano at the age of seven. His father, who was a violinist, made arrangements with Bendetsen Netzorg, a piano teacher of renown at that time, to teach his son. Mr. Netzorg died in 1953.

Ed has maintained his love of piano and music and has shared many evenings with musicians in his home. He has a marvelous collection of music that he has acquired over many years, much of which is now out of print.

Ed certainly is a person who is willing to give of his time and energies. All Grosse Pointe has benefitted from his willingness to share his time and talents.
