THE BODY of kidnapped West German industrialist Hanns-Martin Schleyer was found yesterday in the trunk of a car in Mulhouse, France. Mr. Schleyer was abducted from his car on a Cologne street on September 5 by Red Army Faction terrorists who killed his chauffeur and three bodyguards in the process. The terrorists demanded in return for their 62-year-old hostage the release of 11 comrades from German prisons. The Bonn government never complied with the demands.

THE HIJACKER of Frontier Airlines flight 101 shot himself to death last night when the plane landed at the Atlanta airport. Thomas Hannan's suicide ended a day-long ordeal that started in Nebraska. Mr. Hannan started to release his hostages after a lawyer and an FBI negotiator boarded the plane. After the passengers were out of the plane, "he just sat down and pulled the trigger," an FBI spokesman said. Al Feldman, president of the airline, noted, "The impression we have is that he just gave up."

CONSUMER PRICES rose only 0.3 percent in September, to equal the smallest monthly inflation rate this year, the government reported Friday. The White House labeled the Labor Department report a "welcome respite for consumers." The report also offered encouragement to the administration on reaching its 1977 inflation goal. The September increase was identical to the one registered in August. It represents a 3.6 percent annual rate, sharply below the 10 percent pace of last winter and the 8.1 percent in the spring.

THE MINNESOTA Gophers took away practically everything that is near and dear to the hearts of University of Michigan fans on Saturday by surprising the previously undefeated Wolverines, 16-0, at Minneapolis. Not only did Michigan lose the Little Brown Jug, but also an unbeaten season, the Big Ten lead, (as Ohio State won), and the number one ranking. But misery loves company and USC joined the ranks of the stunned as Notre Dame blasted the Trojans, 49-19. This was USC's worst loss since they were crushed by the Irish, 51-0, in 1966.

HIS CHEEKS are sunken and he walks with a halt. But when Hubert Horatio Humphrey stepped aboard Air Force One with President Jimmy Carter for a "taxi ride" Sunday back to Washington he stood tall and said he was ready "to raise as much trouble as I can." The President capped a two and a half day cross-country tour with a simple but touching ceremony at the Minneapolis airport for Sen. Humphrey, who has inoperable cancer.

A LEADING NEW YORK medical researcher announced yesterday that he will test 3,000 to 3,500 Michigan residents to see if the chemical PBB has had adverse health effects on the state's general population. Dr. Irving Selikoff made the announcement at a conference on PBB at Michigan State University where he released new data showing that people who bought food directly from PBB-contaminated farms were, in some cases, sicker than the farmers themselves.

Representatives Respond to Questions of Citizens

Around 30 citizens participated in a "Town Meeting" format Wednesday, October 19, asking local government, school and real estate representatives a variety of questions. Sponsored by the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters, the session included the participation of, (from left to right), Park City Manager ROBERT A.

Community Ready for Halloween

Police and School Personnel Need Help of Citizens to Keep Vandalism Suppressed

Citizens, local police and school personnel, who will be in full force over the Halloween weekend, are seeking the cooperation of the entire community in keeping this period safe and vandalism free.

School officials have worked closely with the Youth Service Division, (YSD), since early October to plan tightened security measures to protect the 15 public school buildings that are so often the favorite targets of Halloween vandals.

Past experience has proved that intense patrolling of school grounds is the best means of thwarting the vandals.

To Survey Schools
This year, in addition to plant personnel, parents, auxiliary patrols and police officers will survey the schools. The buildings will be occupied and well-lit Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings.

These security measures are identical to those implemented by the schools last year with good results. The Halloween weekend toll of school buildings in 1976 included only one broken window at Poupard School and a

Child Safety Program 'Hits The Road' with In Depth Presentation

Youth Service Division, Woods Traffic Safety Officer Combine to Expand Plan with Hour Long Talk; First Visit Set for Grosse Pointe City School

By Roger A. Waha

An expansion and intensification of the community-wide child safety program is being undertaken by Youth Service Division, (YSD), Det. Patrick Fagan and Woods Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook early next month when the pair will "open on the road" in The City with an hour-long safety oriented elementary school presentation.

This approach not only expands the overall program by having the pair visit schools throughout the community upon request, but their planned expansion intensifies all safety aspects by featuring, not only child safety, but fire, home, pedestrian and bicycle safety in one swoop.

The "act" was formed and developed after City Public Safety Director Bruce Kennedy was recently contacted by a citizen who expressed concerns over youngsters ignoring good bicycle safety habits.

Eye Expansion
"So I called Det. Fagan and related that concern to him in addition to the whole child safety area being reinforced periodically," he said. After the contact, Chief Kennedy indicated the detective and the officer took it from there, noting "the guys have been terrific."

Last week, Det. Fagan and Officer Crook met to plan their program which will include magic tricks. An initial emphasis will be on presentations to first through third grade youngsters, and then a planned expansion to children in the fourth through sixth grades and in the middle schools.

The division's four detectives have been consistently involved in safety-oriented talks, not only to youngsters, but also to adults for many years, but now, noted Det. Fagan, the new, combined effort will be a time-saving factor.

This expansion, he continued, would not only cover more subject matter but permit the officers to reach youngsters in all communities, including cities which may not have a specifically designated full-time traffic safety officer.

Woods Det. Lt. Jack Patterson, YSD supervisor in the detective bureau, said the project, as viewed, would encompass all Pointe schools. If other traffic safety officers are interested in playing a role in the program, "we'd be happy to associate them with Det. Fagan and Officer Crook," he said.

Spero to Leave Hospital Post

Barry Spero, executive director of Bon Secours Hospital, recently announced he will leave his post to assume the top executive position at Cleveland's Mount Sinai Hospital on December 1.

Mr. Spero has been with Bon Secours since May 1971 and has led the institution through most of its $25 million building expansion.

Bon Secours now has a 270-bed capacity and expects to grow to 320 beds when the building program is completed. Mount Sinai, a teaching hospital associated with Case Western Reserve University, has 540 beds as well as a small psychiatric unit.

Many Topics Discussed at LWV Forum

Citizens Question Officials in 'Town Meeting' Format; About 30 Attend

By Wendy K. Settle

Four city officials, the superintendent of schools and a real estate representative participated in a "town meeting" sponsored by the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters, (LWV), Wednesday, October 19, at The Woods council chambers.

The purpose of the session was to give citizens a chance to meet their officials and to question them on topics of personal interest.

Representing local government were Park City Manager Robert A. Slone, City Manager Thomas Kressbach of Grosse Pointe City, Woods Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos and Farms City Clerk Richard G. Solak.

No Rep for Shores
The Shores didn't send a representative with Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jeffers saying he was on vacation at the time of the meeting.

Other panel members included Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Coats and Richard Borland of Borland-McBrearty Realtors.

The moderator for the event was Barbara Thompson, former president of the Board of Education and member and former president of the LWV.

Approximately 25 questions were submitted from about 30 people in the audience during the two-hour meeting.

Several key topics were discussed including cul-de-sacs, zoning ordinances, school closings and home inspection codes, among others.

The cul-de-sac plan. Mr. Borland and Mr. Slone addressed themselves to the four questions asked on the plan, which was designed by John Brink and the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co.

It would create many cul-de-sacs and mini-parks to divert traffic and possibly increase property values.

Not Sacrosanct
Mr. Borland considered the financial aspects of the plan. "Until it is financially feasible, which I don't foresee, the plan will never become a reality," he said.

Mr. Brink presented his plan to the Park Plan Commission and it's a pretty tough situation for planning," Mr. Slone said. "It's also an

By Wendy K. Settle

Competition for The Farms election on Tuesday, November 8, is not strong. Four incumbent councilmen face one challenger for four positions, while Municipal Court Judge Robert Pytell competes for re-election against Anthony Penta. Two charter amendments also will be presented for public approval.

Incumbent councilmen are Harry Fruehauf, Jack Cudlip, Joe Fromm and Nancy Waughman. The challenger is Catherine Raynal.

Mrs. Raynal, 43, has lived in The Farms for eight and a half years. She is a substitute teacher in the Grosse Pointe schools, is married and has four children.

"I really think the council is doing a good job," Mrs. Raynal said. "But I think the community should be more informed as to what's going on before the council votes on something."

Spend Too Much

She added, "What I'm going to try to do is put the questions to the public so they can tell the council what to do. After all, it is their community."

Financing a campaign can be costly. The amount of money the candidates are spending on their campaigns varies greatly.

"I'm not really spending any money," Mrs. Raynal laughed. "I'm just going to have some flyers printed up. I think politicians spend too much money on campaigns anyway."

In questioning the candidates running for council positions, three specific items presently facing the council were discussed. They were whether to rejoin the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments, (SEMCOG), updating the Farms Pier Park and the on-the-Hill expansion plan.

Mrs. Raynal addressed herself to these matters, which will be voted upon by the council after the election.

"I think we should look at SEMCOG a lot more. As a councilman, I would like to get some feeling from the public as to how the council should vote," Mrs. Raynal said.

Jaycees Set Paper Drive

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees will hold a paper drive Saturday, October 29, and Sunday, October 30, with all profits being used to support local athletes on a national level.

Papers can be dropped off behind the law office of DeFour and DeFour, 20369 Mack avenue, between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Saturday or Sunday. For further information on pick ups, call 831-2269.

GP Symphony Opens 25th Season on Nov. 6

Well-known pianist Mischa Kottler will play Beethoven's Concerto No. 5 in E-flat, opus 73, for Piano and Orchestra, ("The Emperor"), at the opening concert of the Grosse Pointe Symphony's 25th season Sunday, November 6, in the Performing Arts Center of North High School, 707 Vernier road, at 3:30 p.m.

This year musicians and musical groups around the world are observing the 150th anniversary of Beethoven's death and it is fitting that Mr. Kottler and The Pointe's own symphony join the celebration with the performance of "The Emperor," which has been called "one of the most original, imaginative, effective, but most difficult of all existing concertos."

Justice Department Attorney Initiates Investigation of Cul-De-Sac Plan

By Wendy K. Settle

New developments have surfaced in the FBI probe of the cul-de-sac program.

Three weeks ago, an FBI agent actively investigating the case said a complaint was made and filed with the Federal Justice Department, Civil Rights Division. As it turns out, no formal complaint has been made or signed.

Carl Gable, an attorney with the Justice Department in Washington, D.C., started the ball rolling last summer when he suggested the investigation be made as a result of information he received from reading a newspaper while visiting Detroit.

Mr. Gable doesn't recall what paper he read nor does he remember whether he read an advertisement or an article.

Views Violations
"When I was in Detroit some time ago, I read this paper, and I received an indication that there may be a violation involved," he said.

"The Justice Department doesn't need a formal complaint to be filed in order to hold an investigation," Mr. Gable noted, while adding, "We could see something in the news."

Mr. Gable continued by saying, "We investigate to determine whether or not, in fact, a violation has occurred. This investigation involves allegations regarding violations of the Fair Housing Act."

"I can't get into the merits of the case but only three conclusions can result from an investigation of this sort. One, a violation has taken place. Two, no violations are involved. Three, we need more information, in which case we continue the investigation," he said.

The exact date that the FBI probe started is unknown, nor is it known when it will end.

Finances Big Issue In GP City

Three of Six Will Win Council Seats, While Mayor Runs Unopposed

By Susan McDonald

Three incumbent councilmen in The City will be faced with competition from three challengers in the Tuesday, November 8, elections, but the mayor's race remains—as it has for the past six years—no race at all.

Mayor John King, 53, of Wellington road, will run unopposed for another two-year term of office. Since he was appointed to the top job in 1971, he has never faced a competitor for the office, but he doesn't think that affects his performance in any way. "I don't take the lack of competition into consideration at all when I make a decision," says Mr. King, an attorney. "I just try to do what's best for the community."

Financial Challenge

He's proud of his record, especially the fact that since he joined the city government as a councilman in 1967, the tax rate has increased by just 2.3 mills.

But taxes and city finance also pose the greatest problem for the future of The City in Mr. King's eyes.

The community is already at its 20-mill legal tax limit, and costs keep going up.

Instead of cutting city services, Mr. King proposes joining with other cities in group buying and financing projects, consolidating the work forces for more efficient use of manpower and seeking more federal funds to avoid the financial bind.

Incumbent councilmen, including George Henry, 49, of University place, Robert L. Nugent, 52, of Washington road, and David Robb, 50, of Washington road, all seem to agree with Mr. King that The City's finances will pose the biggest challenge in the next few years.

Mr. Henry, the "Dean of the Council" with 11 years service, blames federal and state mandated programs for The City's financial woes and thinks citizens would rather see some curtailment of services before paying a higher tax rate.

View Consolidation

Mr. Henry thinks The City should expand its role in assisting senior citizens through federal housing maintenance programs and believes, as does Mr. King, that a consolidation of police

LWV Sponsors Forum in Park

The Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters, (LWV), urges Park voters to see, hear and question candidates in the Tuesday, November 8, municipal election at a candidates forum Tuesday, November 1.

It will be held in The Park council chambers, 15115 East Jefferson avenue, beginning at 8 p.m.

All candidates on the ballot, including six hopefuls who are running for three council seats and both municipal judge candidates, have been invited by the LWV to participate.

Meanwhile, LWV Voters' Guides for both The Park and Woods elections are currently available at local schools, libraries, churches and at the respective municipal buildings. (The Woods city hall is located at 20025 Mack avenue.)

For further information, call Jo Ann Kelly, LWV voter service, at 331-8347.

and fire forces—proposed a year ago by the council but still contested in court—will do a great deal to cut The City's financial burden.

Another incumbent, Mr. Nugent, assistant manager of engineering and construction at Detroit Edison, is concerned about what he calls the "financial and legal orientation" of city governments.

"As an engineer, I can add a great deal to their understanding of some of the major projects we have to undertake," he said.

Mr. Nugent was appointed to the council in 1971.

The final incumbent, Mr. Robb, also sees money as The City's biggest future problem. "How do we maintain the fine programs we have and keep within our tax limits?"

His answer, along with that of all the incumbent councilmen, is the consolidation of police and fire forces.

Challengers to the incumbents include George Cotichio, of Lakeland avenue, Kelly Ketterman, of University place, and John Rudnick, of Lincoln road.

Improve Recreation

Mr. Cotichio, 47, an attorney, unsuccessfully challenged Stan Kazul for The City municipal judge seat two years ago.

He feels the council "does what they want, rather than what the people want," and thinks the expansion of Bon Secours Hospital, and continuing parking and traffic congestion, pose a problem for the municipality.

He said a full investigation into the availability of federal funds should be conducted to avoid any increased tax burden on The City and he also supports the present council's plans to consolidate police and fire forces.

Mr. Cotichio also puts priority on improving recreation services for seniors as well as for youth.

Mr. Ketterman, 25, son-in-law of current council member Lorenzo Browning, is manager of the Kercheval avenue Wright Kay store. He's lived in The Pointe for three and a half years, and feels his age and experience in other communities will assist him in council service.

"Coming from another community, I can appreciate the amazing quality of this community and as a businessman as well as a homeowner, I have a stake in keeping the level of service high."

Mr. Ketterman would like to see stronger involvement on the council's part in developing and maintaining The City's main commercial area, "The Village," in Kercheval avenue.

Eyes Older Homes

"The Village" can't rest on its laurels, we have to progressively seek ways to improve it, to consider developments like walking malls.

"If we put forth a concerted effort to expand and update 'the Village' it would add substantially to our tax base, and may solve a lot of the money problems."

Mr. Ketterman would like to see The City's certificate of occupancy codes relaxed a bit to "make it easier for young couples to buy and renovate some of the older homes."

Another challenger, Mr. Rudnick, 24, an administrative assistant at Wayne State University's Medical Center, also is concerned about The City's older housing stock and would like to find a way to make it easier to maintain the old mansions.

The City can cut costs, according to Mr. Rudnick, by making its operation more efficient, using more part-time personnel to cut down on fringe benefit costs and eliminating leaf pick-ups.

He does not support The City's effort to consolidate its police and fire forces, saying it will create an over-centralized operation and cut down on efficiency.

Three of the six council candidates will be elected for four-year terms.

cut and dried in any investigation," Mr. Gable said. "I recommended the investigation to my superior when I returned from Detroit. I guess that was about mid-summer."

The cul-de-sac plan was originated by John E. Brink and the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. this March.

The plan is designed to turn many streets in the Pointes into cul-de-sacs and mini-parks.

In the past, one resident of The Park, who requested that his name be withheld, termed the plan an attempt to "build a wall of China between Detroit and Grosse Pointe."

The majority of the streets involved in the plan are located in The Park. Robert A. Stone, Park city manager, commented on the plan at a "town meeting" sponsored by the League of Women Voters Wednesday night, October 19.

Could Start Probe

"I got a call from an FBI agent last week," he said. "He told me that the Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice had filed a complaint against the real estate company."

An article in the NEWS three weeks ago quoted Gail Wingard of the Inter-Faith Center as saying, "The Inter-Faith Center did not file the complaint against the real estate company."

In fact, as Mr. Gable said, "no formal complaint has been filed."

He added, "As I said, if one of our (the Justice Department's), attorneys comes back from somewhere and has seen or heard something that he feels may involve some violation of a federal law, the Justice Department may initiate an investigation."

Life has its ups and downs — and nobody loses unless they let the downs become permanent.

Do you know the alphabet? If you start dealing with vitamins, sometimes it seems just like an alphabet soup, mixed up with a few numbers here and there, like B1 and B2, to make it just a little bit more complicated. Well, don't kid yourself, it is complicated and different vitamins do different things to your body and different amounts of each are needed to keep you healthy. Ideas are changing about vitamins constantly as researchers do more and more work in that area. If you read the different magazines and articles you are bound to get all sorts of information, much of which may vary greatly. To make sure you have a well-balanced diet consult the latest publications or your physician or an established authority on nutrition.

Wanda, The Un-Wicked, Bewitches Kids

Wherever Wanda the Witch goes she attracts kids eager to hear her Halloween tales. Despite her sinister appearance, Wanda, (BARBARA LOZELLE), (far right), is recognized by youngsters as a friend who wants to help them enjoy their trick-or-treating. Listening to the advice of the good witch and Woods Traffic Safety Officer PAUL CROOK, (far left), are GEOFFREY DONALDSON, 8, of The Farms, CHRIS SCOLARO, 4, of St. Clair Shores, T. H. YOUNG-BLOOD, 2, of The City, and KATIE GERNAY, 5, of The City.

Wanda Shares Halloween Safety Tips

By Barbara Sobczak

It's Halloween and you're likely to encounter Spider-Man, Dracula, fairy princesses and even some Wookies and Droids. And, if you're walking the streets of The Pointe, you may run into Wanda, the friendly witch.

Adults may look suspiciously at this green-skinned, black-garbed woman but youngsters know instinctively that this is no wicked witch. For six years Wanda has been making an annual trip from her home on the moon to help kids enjoy a fun, but safe, Halloween. Wanda, whose alter-ego is a mild-mannered mother of three, Barbara Lozelle, goes to schools in the Farms and Woods to entertain and offer safety hints for trick-or-treaters.

This year, Mrs. Lozelle has decided that too many children may miss the fun so she'll also pay visits to Children's, Bon Secours and Saint John Hospitals on Sunday, October 30, to hold hands and tell stories.

Since her broom is in repair, Wanda will be escorted to the schools on Monday, October 31, by Traffic Safety Officers Paul Crook of The Woods and Joe Belanger of The Farms.

"I crash landed on my trip from the moon, so the police, who are always there to help, picked me up," she explained.

Some hints Wanda will mention in her school visits include ideas for safe costumes. Outfits should fit properly so children don't trip over them and they should be flame retardant and visible at night. Those darkly evil witch and vampire suits can be decorated with reflective tape.

Even Darth Vader won't be safe unless his black cape can be seen by drivers.

Masks, which can obstruct vision, are dangerous. For those who hate to give them up, Wanda suggests the following:

"Be twice as frightening. Make-up your face and wear your mask on the back of your head. You'll scare them both ways."

Officer Crook said that parental cooperation in safety efforts is being stressed this year.

"Know where your child will be going and when they'll be back. Better yet go with them," he advises.

Parents should review traffic safety rules with children before they leave. These rules include crossing only at corners and crosswalks, and no playing in piles of leaves at the curbs. A child should not be allowed to go out alone and must be told not to go with strangers.

Officer Crook reminds children that the red "E" in a window means that is a safe place to go if they need help.

Wanda asks the trick-or-treaters to bring all their treats home before eating any.

"Let your parents see your goodies and share them," she says.

Officer Crook also points out that the police will be out "in force" on Devil's Night, the night before Halloween.

"We don't want to spoil anyone's fun, but being malicious is never fun," he warns would-be pranksters.

Mrs. Lozelle decided to start her career as Wanda, six years ago when she began hearing so many things about Halloween poisonings and accidents.

Of her experiences she says, "I've had a good time and gotten lots of fun reactions. There have been some children who doubted my identity, but the one who lifted my skirt and saw my green legs, (thanks to leotards) is convinced I must be for real."

Wanda will be seen in a Woods neighborhood Halloween night accompanying Mrs. Lozelle's three boys. If you miss her, look up at the moon and you'll see her returning home, leaving behind some happy kids, and some traces of green on the face and hands of Barbara Lozelle.

Several Issues Viewed by GPF Candidates

She commented on the Pier Park by noting, "I'm definitely for updating the pier. The Pier Park is a community facility, it needs to be taken care of so the people can use it to its full benefit."

"The Hill expansion plan is great if it will improve the community but I'm not going to vote to spend a lot of money without knowing if there's community support."

Mr. Fruehauf, 47, of Provençal road, is running for his second term as a councilman. He is married and has five children. Mr. Fruehauf is self-employed in investments, he works with the Farms Police Support Unit and is a trustee at University Liggett School.

By his own admission, he is not a "politician," and "hates politics." But he doesn't consider being a councilman in The Farms as practicing politics.

"If I get re-elected, the one thing I would do is what I've been doing all along and that's running our city government like a business."

"If you work at government like a business, you try to do what a business has to do, meet the budget, run efficiently and make decisions to the best of your ability."

He added, "I'm running because I've lived here all my life, and I want to do something for Grosse Pointe."

Park Needs Work

The money that Mr. Fruehauf is spending on his campaign will equal "the cost of two ads in the Grosse Pointe News," he said. The size he is running will cost about $120 for both ads.

"SEMCOG is just another regulation of government," Mr. Fruehauf stated, when asked about the possibility of The Farms rejoining. "I'm against regulations."

He approached the Pier Park updating with zeal. "I think that park is one of the finest things we have. But it definitely needs repair. There are many possible ways to finance it, and it's got to be done."

"As far as the Hill expansion plan goes," he concluded, "it seems like that thing has been put on the back burner."

Mr. Cudlip, 52, of Moross road, also is running for his second term. He is a past member of the Mayor's Advisory Planning Committee, past member of SEMCOG finance committee and is married with three children. He is vice-president of Forward Planning for McLouth Steel Corp.

"The main issue I'd like to address myself to is the use of tax dollars," Mr. Cudlip said. "My goal is to get the most beneficial use out of our community's taxes."

City Would Benefit

Mr. Cudlip, like Mr. Fruehauf, is taking out two ads in the NEWS. That will be the total expense of his campaign.

Regarding the three issues, Mr. Cudlip said, "I'd vote to rejoin SEMCOG. If we really participate, so we know what's going on, then The Farms would benefit from it."

"I, like many other councilmen, agree that something should be done about the Pier Park. There's about five alternatives to financing the renovations. When it's decided what needs to be done, then we'll consider how to finance the problem."

"The Hill expansion plan would enhance our community," he concluded. "Financing that is a whole other problem."

Mr. Fromm, 47, of Belanger road, another second term candidate, is assistant treasurer at American Motors. He is married, has five children and is actively involved with little league.

Mr. Fromm considers containing costs the major issue for the council. "In light of increasing inflation within municipal government, I think our council's major concern is containing cost. You've got to know how to spread the dollars around."

Address Problems

When asked how much money Mr. Fromm is spending on his campaign, he replied, "I really have no idea."

SEMCOG is another item he looked at from a "dollar standpoint." "Basically I think that Farms participation in SEMCOG will not enhance, nor will it detract, from what we'd like to accomplish. But, from a dollar standpoint, if we don't join, we'll save the money for dues," he said.

On the pier, Mr. Fromm is "not sure what repairs need to be done." He added, "That's why we have the ad hoc committee. When we determine what needs to be done then we'll allocate funds where they're needed."

"The Hill expansion plan is definitely a very beautiful plan, but I think there's two problems we need to address ourselves to," Mr. Fromm said. "One is the traffic flow pattern and the other is the financing of it."

Mrs. Waugaman, 46, of Ridge road, is the fourth incumbent. She is running for her third term. She is married, has three sons and is an instructor in commercial food services.

"I'm bringing eight years of experience to the council. And I plan to address myself to whatever problems are presented, whether it be parking, the Mack avenue business area, which needs help, or the problems with the Pier Park. I'm really concerned with the quality of this community," she said.

She estimates the cost of her campaign at $325.

Active Involvement

SEMCOG is one of her major interests. She has been a member of SEMCOG, representing The Farms when it last belonged to the organization.

"If a city is not willing to actively participate and get terribly involved, then I see no point in belonging to SEMCOG."

The Pier Park update is something Mrs. Waugaman is definitely involved in. "The pier needs operational updating," she stated. "I would like to see a recreational building built that can be used all year round."

"I think the Hill expansion plan would be a benefit, if it ever comes around, but I don't think it should be funded by general revenue funds. The merchants on the Hill will have to contribute extensively," she said.

Judge Pytell, 51, of Kenwood court, has been the judge in The Farms since 1967. He has a private practice in The Farms. Meanwhile, Mr. Penta, 34, lives in McKinley road.

Judge Pytell's simple answer to what he feels is a major issue facing the court is, "I want to maintain the municipal court system against ongoing attempts by the state and federal courts to overrule it."

Mr. Penta has been in general practice since 1974. Before that time he was an assistant Oakland County Prosecuting Attorney.

Charter Amendments

Mr. Penta said, "With my experience in trial work and civil cases, I feel I could run the municipal court more efficiently."

The second question the candidates for municipal judge addressed themselves to is the municipal court charter amendments that will appear on the ballot. These amendments were two of a series of amendments presented by Judge Pytell to the council sometime ago. The council researched the suggested amendments and voted to place the pair on the ballot.

The amendments will read as follows:

1) Shall section 15.3 of the charter of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms be amended to delete established minimum and maximum compensation for the municipal judge and provide that the city council may establish such annual compensation?

This amendment, if passed, means salary for the municipal judge will no longer be a set rate. The city council will set the judge's annual salary.

2) Shall section 15.14 be added to the charter of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms to provide that the city council may appoint a clerk and deputy clerk for the municipal judge and establish the compensation and duties for such court officers as provided by law?

Closer to Reality

The second amendment, if passed, gives the council the right to hire a court clerk to take some of the business burden off the judge. The council feels this position would help the court to run more efficiently.

Judge Pytell and Mr. Penta commented on these two amendments.

"Generally they (the amendments), will bring The Farms court system closer to reality," Mr. Penta said.

Judge Pytell noted, "The amendments will benefit the community by having a more efficiently run court."

The issues are defined, the candidates have taken their stands and the decision now remains with the voters.

Woods Okays GPHC Bid after Two-Hour Debate

By Roger A. Waha

A request from the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, (GPHC), to construct two platform tennis courts was approved by the Woods Council, sitting as a Board of Appeals, after around two hours of discussion which included the sharing of citizen concerns over several problems they said originated from the club itself.

This action was taken via a 5-1 vote at the regular meeting Monday, October 17.

The GPHC was requesting a variance from R-1 zoning requirements under the city code in order to construct the tennis courts and, under local ordinance, the board of appeals had to consider that an adequate number of parking spaces be provided for the specific request.

As it turned out, two citizens who live in the immediate area expressed opposition to the GPHC bid, with one lady presenting a petition containing the signatures of several citizens against the proposal.

At the same time, the citizens expressed their dissatisfaction over noise at various GPHC functions, the lack of what they felt was inadequate parking on club grounds, traffic problems along Cook road and mud being tracked into the street via vehicles leaving the GPHC.

"They, (the club), can't handle the situation now, how can they do it in the future?", asked one resident. Concern also was expressed as to the final closing time of the platform courts in relation to potential noise factors and the movement of traffic.

On the courts, club president Edwin Larson, of Shoreham road, felt they would provide an additional activity for club members, (placed at 198 full dues-paying families, an estimated 800 people).

Noting play is limited to a maximum of eight people, he said the courts would be located some 400 feet from Cook road and 600 feet from Crescent lane residents.

Viewing the complaints presented by the two citizens, Mr. Larson defended the GPHC's record as a good neighbor in the community. Saying complaints received by the club were very infrequent, he indicated club members who live in the immediate area, have made no such comments.

Mr. Larson did say a "Haunted Barn" special event held on club property last year caused some problems with rain and traffic but, all in all, he and other GPHC representatives at the meeting stressed the club's positive track record.

However, the citizens didn't appear satisfied with one resident stating the club had made no honest attempts toward solving problems in the past, while remaining doubtful over the future.

Saying he was aware of the hard feelings between the residents and the GPHC, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos noted even if the council denied the club's request, it wouldn't change the traffic flow problems as expressed.

The mayor also indicated he wasn't aware of the citizen concerns in relation to ingress and egress at the club. Feeling the whole area needed further investigation, Mr. Pinkos said the residents' grievances can be solved.

The solons, aware of the

R/A Suspect

The suspect, see the composite picture, is being sought by Woods police in connection with the robbery armed, (R/A), of Little Caesar's, 19619 Mack avenue, on Sunday, October 23, around 10:49 p.m. In the incident, an estimated $210 in cash was taken.

After entering and ordering a pizza, the suspect placed one hand on the counter and reached down and produced a nickel plated revolver with a black grip, reported the employee, a 19-year-old Harper Woods youth.

The suspect then demanded the money in the register and was given the cash in assorted bills. He then ran west on Littlestone road to the alley, dropping a $5 bill on his way. No vehicle was seen in the immediate area.

Moments later, Harper Woods and Woods officers stopped two separate cars, but the occupants, all young people, were found clear in each instance.

The employee was alone in the store at the time of the robbery, with the delivery boy being out on an order. He was not hurt.

Police said the suspect was white, around 19-20 years of age and between 5'10" and 5'11" tall and 150 to 160 pounds. He was of a thin build and had light brown shoulder-length hair parted in the middle. He wore a light blue and white checked flannel shirt and blue jeans.

Woods police request that anyone with information on the suspect should call 886-2700.

Senior Men Pick Officers

The Senior Men's Club of Grosse Pointe has elected Louis O. Decker its president for the fiscal year beginning Saturday, October 1. He succeeds immediate past president David C. Lowe.

The club promoted Harold J. Meinke from second to first vice-president and elected Fred J. Flom second vice-president. Paul L. Nagel was elected secretary and Joseph M. Geisinger, treasurer.

New directors elected for two-year terms are Kenneth P. Locke, Eugene C. Mathivet Jr., Frank Welzenbach and Julian B. Thomas.

Directors whose two-year term expired on Friday, September 30, are George M. Aldridge, W. Edgar Gore, William B. Hall and Leonard H. Thomson.

Incumbent directors whose term expires September 30, 1978, are Ernest C. Bertschinger, Willis H. Hall, Martin B. Hutchinson and Woodburn O. Ross.

concerns, considered a motion from Councilman E. D. Grady which contained several stipulations including the following:

*That the request be approved provided the gravel parking area in front of the tennis courts be paved.

*That six additional parking spaces be incorporated on the north side of the courts.

*That the exit on the east side of the club house be used only as an emergency exit.

*That the drive onto Cook road be made both ingress and egress.

*That additional paved parking spaces be incorporated, providing a total of 90 by next year. (Mr. Larson estimated the club had 55 parking spaces including those of gravel.)

But club representatives felt the stipulations were unreasonable and uncalled for based upon the original request.

So Councilman George S. Freeman made a substitute motion okaying the platform courts, saying the club must pave 63 parking spaces, (including the estimated 55), by July 1, 1978 and that play cease on the courts by 11 p.m.

Councilman George Cueter, who cast the lone dissenting vote and who questioned the lack of parking descriptions on the plans, told GPHC officials he couldn't see where the club can currently accommodate sufficient parking for events they schedule.

Phones Ring Away in City

City Police and Bon Secours Hospital officials were deluged with calls from news media last week about the presence of reputed Mafia leader Anthony Zereilli in the hospital, in Cadillac road.

Bon Secours' public relation department confirmed that Zereilli, 79, is in fact being treated in the hospital and is in critical condition. He was admitted Monday, October 10, the hospital said.

City Public Safety Director Bruce Kennedy said his department was not notified of Zereilli's presence and "has taken no special precautions to protect the underworld figure."

In fact, Mr. Cueter said he has personally received complaints from citizens over mud being tracked onto Cook road by exiting autos, along with overflow parking on the thoroughfare.

"I feel the Hunt Club hasn't kept abreast of problems in the area," he told the NEWS. "They should take more pride in aesthetics, too," stating the big barn, for instance, was "very poorly kept."

Saying he wouldn't relish the thought of living in the immediate area, Mr. Cueter cited his sympathy with the citizens. He also said he wanted some tie-in, (in relation to stipulations as part of a motion), to bind the club "to get the job done on their grounds."

Regarding the lack of parking descriptions on the club's plans, Mr. Cueter added, in relation to other such instances, he was "appalled to see something like that come through" for the council's consideration. He felt in all such cases plans should be in complete detail.

ANTHONY C. PENTA, Jr.

Municipal Judge

Grosse Pointe Farms

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1977

- INTEGRITY
- DEDICATION
- EXPERIENCE

What's in a Name?

Listing names of a handful of neighbors, friends and fellow attorneys should not be a major factor in convincing you to elect me Municipal Judge of Grosse Pointe Farms on November 8, 1977.

Neither I nor the committee, have sought public endorsement from individuals or special interest groups.

I know that you are more interested in making a knowledgeable decision rather than blindly following others who may know me well but have not, and perhaps never will, come into contact with me in court.

My years of concentrated court experience, including civil, criminal, trial and appellate practice — both state and federal — have been preceded by over a decade of law enforcement duties: (1) Investigative Aide for a major police department, (2) as a Special Agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation and, (3) as Assistant Prosecuting Attorney.

In addition, my private law practice has been supplemented by active and meaningful participation in various Bar Association functions and seminars.

This year, the voters of Grosse Pointe Farms will be asked to decide three issues which will have a substantial effect upon the administration of the Municipal Court. We feel that the most important issue is which of the two candidates should hold the office of Municipal Judge.

I pledge to use my experience and all my efforts to bring to Grosse Pointe Farms a more knowledgeable, efficient, yet thorough administration of the Municipal Court, and an increase in the morale of the Grosse Pointe Farms police officers.

I pledge to be sensitive to the rights of all and to execute my duties as Municipal Judge fairly, impartially, yet firmly. And one more thing . . . I'll sign my name to that.

agency, Johnson and Higgins. Columbia corrected the books and, "as a result, our loss record was very much improved," according to City Finance Director Dennis Foran.

One company did indicate a willingness to quote on the city policy after the corrections were made, but declined "because of their business relationship with Johnson and Higgins," according to a memo to the council.

In the absence of alternatives, the council decided to accept Michigan Mutual's new premium for general liability at its August council meeting — at least they thought they did.

Two days after the meeting, Michigan Mutual notified the municipality the agreement was no good unless the firm also got The City's workman's compensation policy as well as the general liability policy.

The problem with that "package deal" was that The City had already placed its workman's comp policy with a different firm. After more negotiations, that firm allowed The City to renege on its agreement and place the policy with Michigan Mutual.

The entire situation has both confused and maddened City officials. The Michigan Municipal League, a lobbying agency for small cities, has expressed an interest in presenting the facts of The City's latest round with insurers to the state insurance commissioner.

The City Council gave its okay — after it signed the new policy agreement. For this year at least, they'll have to pay the $66,759 bill to Michigan Mutual.

Center Plans Dance Nights

Two dance nights are scheduled at the War Memorial Center, 32 Lakeshore road, tonight, October 27, at 7:30 p.m. and tomorrow, October 28, at 8 p.m.

Tonight, there will be instruction in Greek circle dancing. This instruction is free to the Center's regular Thursday Night Dance Club members and is $4.50 to others. Both couples and singles are welcome.

The evening will be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Ted Forrest. Following the session at the War Memorial, the group will visit Greek Town.

Tomorrow, the Center will host a Disco Dancing workshop with Ricky Dove of London, England, who will teach the latest dances.

Admission is $4.50 with a special discount to Thursday Night Dance Club members.

In relation to beefing up the force, Woods Lt. Allen Selby, acting public safety director, said his department will have extra patrols throughout the city including the use of auxiliary officers over the weekend, while noting YSD officers will be available to assist the entire community if needed.

Many Topics Discussed

expensive plan. I don't know where it will go."

• Present zoning ordinances. One resident asked why city officials seem to consider zoning ordinances "sacrosanct."

Mr. Solak commented that in a community that is 99.9 percent developed it is difficult to find a need to change the zoning laws.

For his part, Mr. Kressbach said, "I don't think they're so sacrosanct. Zoning laws aren't chiseled in stone but a city can't change them at the drop of a hat."

Mr. Borland looked at the question from a realtor's standpoint, "I really don't think that zoning is that great a problem."

• Possible closing of a few schools to save costs, since student enrollment has dropped.

Dr. Coats noted, "We have lost about 500 students this year. But if you start closing schools, you get into all sorts of problems. Busing is one."

Work Out Problems

"If you close a school, the students who attended that school would have to be bused to another one. That gets into money to buy the buses, insurance and a lot of other expenses. It's less costly and more convenient to leave the original school open."

• The Pointes' home inspection codes. Mr. Solak, Mr. Kressbach and Mr. Borland responded to the question of overly stiff inspection standards.

"Inspections are the responsibility of the public service department. It's extremely difficult to have uniformity in what is presently a rather vague law. The Farms has been trying to figure out a solution to this problem for a long time. We're still working on it," said Mr. Solak.

Mr. Borland lamented, "I really wish all the Pointes had the same code. I'd also like to know who has the responsibility to get the house up to code, the buyer or the seller? I think it's a good thing for our community to have standards but I wish they weren't so vague."

"Inspections are in an area that we have under constant review," Mr. Kressbach said. "We're trying to work our problems out."

A question on bicycle safety also was raised.

Dr. Coats said the school system had never really gotten involved in that area.

It Takes Time

Each city representative confirmed the fact that their police or public safety departments do have bike safety programs. Mr. Pinkos also noted that "the major responsibility lies with the parents of the children."

One citizen was concerned with the boarded up houses on the Detroit border in The Park. Mr. Slone said, "The houses that you refer to are HUD, (Housing and Urban Development), homes. The reason they have not been taken care of is HUD financing. That takes time."

Another question the panel addressed itself to was the need for nursing homes in the Pointes.

Commenting on the need for space in building a nursing home, Mr. Pinkos said, "You need a lot of land to build a nursing home. We just don't have the space or the needed zoned areas."

"We've been sued on this matter," Mr. Kressbach said. "We have a nursing home on Fisher road, (the Grosse Pointe Nursing Home). It's a 45-bed facility in a residentially zoned area."

In June 1975, The City was sued by the owners of the nursing home because the council did not grant the expansion requested by the home to meet state and federal codes. Wayne County circuit court sided with the nursing home by ordering The City to grant the home's request.

Hope for Another

Mr. Slone said the Park Plan Commission has given thought to a similar facility. "But, space is limited, and you have zoning laws to comply with."

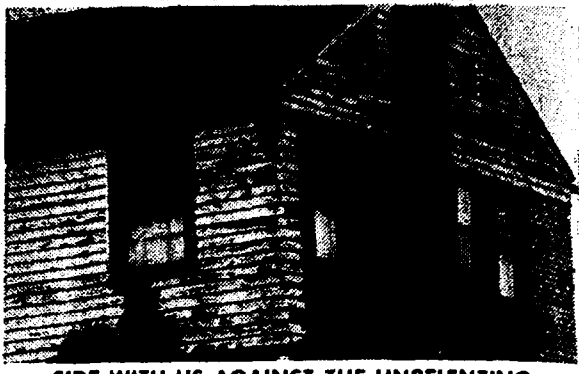

Mr. Borland considered the problems of zoning for a nursing home. "The investor is not going to waste his time going through zoning fights here when he can build with less problems somewhere else that's more open," he said.

Meanwhile, the LWW is thinking about holding another such meeting but "we're not actively planning one at this time," said Mrs. Peggy Hodak, LWW president. "We've been thinking of having them on specific subjects like SEMCOG, (Southeast Michigan Council of Governments), or the youth in the community."

Mrs. Hodak said she was pleased with the way the meeting went but felt the turnout could have been better.

"Of course it was the first meeting," she added.

Party Slated For Marchand

A retirement party for former Woods Public Safety Director Henry Marchand will be held tonight, October 27, at the Revere Hall, 24725 Jefferson avenue, St. Clair Shores, beginning with dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Marchand spent his last day at work on Friday, September 30, after over 30 years with the department. He now is working at Cottage Hospital where he is chief security officer.

Tickets for the event are $10, including both dinner and refreshments, and they may be obtained at Woods public safety headquarters, 20025 Mack avenue.

The U.S. Department of Labor reports that when there is a difference between federal and state garnishment laws, the provision that gives greater protection to the employee prevails.

Woods Hears Two Requests

A request from a citizen for an official, cement volleyball court at the Lake Front Park was unanimously referred to the Citizens Recreation Commission by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, October 17.

At the same time, the resident, Josephine G. Mashour, of Blairmoor court, also requested the consideration of a no-parking ordinance on the corner of Charlevoix and Vernier road toward clearing up a potentially dangerous congestion problem.

This request was referred to the public safety department for its review and recommendation.

Saying she had noticed a considerable amount of volleyball activity near the old bathhouse on the presently lumpy "court," Mrs. Mashour felt an official court would prevent clumsy falls, twisted ankles and poor performances by "the would-be greats." On the traffic matter, she said when a driver attempts to make a left turn from Vernier onto Charlevoix and there happens to be a car on Charlevoix waiting to turn either right or left onto Vernier, "it is definitely a hindrance to have a car parked on Charlevoix, near the corner of Vernier."

Noting the street wasn't wide enough for a car to always clear through while facing oncoming traffic from westbound Vernier, she recommended no parking at least up to the nearest street light on Charlevoix.

ON LABOR DAY

The first state law establishing Labor Day as a holiday was passed in Oregon in 1887, while similar legislation was enacted in Colorado and New York later that year, according to "Labor Firsts in America," published by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Amendment to Parking Law Undergoes Revision

By Roger A. Waha

Around a dozen citizens waited some four hours at the Woods Council's five hour, 10 minute long regular meeting Monday, October 17, to further share their concerns and comment upon a proposed revision in an ordinance prohibiting parking between the sidewalk and the curb.

The agenda item was finally reached around 11:30 p.m. with the residents remaining steadfast through the long proceedings.

Thirteen citizens signed a petition seeking a solution to the problem with many attending the meeting of Monday, October 3, voicing their concerns over problems faced by residents who own corner lots and over the issuance of violations.

In an effort to alleviate such problems, City Attorney

George Catlin prepared an amendment to the law permitting the parking of vehicles in a driveway approach parallel to the curb as long as the vehicle didn't extend over the sidewalk or curb.

The proposal also said a permit would be required from the public safety director to park a vehicle in a driveway approach when the distance between the sidewalk and curb was less than 20 feet.

Such a permit application and issuance would have to comply with requirements established for on-street overnight parking permits, i.e., logistics problems in relation to the need for such parking and ensuring hardship.

But the residents felt this proposal was generally the original ordinance restated in different words with the problems they faced still remaining.

As a result, Mr. Catlin was asked to prepare yet another revision to the proposal which is scheduled to be considered by the council at its Monday, November 7, meeting.

Because this new revision will be substantial in comparison to the one viewed on the 17th, Mr. Catlin said it will probably be considered for a first reading rather than for a second reading and possible final adoption.

As planned, this revision will permit parking between the sidewalk and curb on a paved area parallel to the curb, provided the vehicle faces in the direction of traffic flow, he said. Hence, no specific footage is scheduled to be incorporated.

Meanwhile, the section of the current law affecting parking between the sidewalk and the curb remains temporarily suspended, with no violations being issued pending the proposed amendment.

Rotarians Host Park Fire Chief

By Barbara Sobczak

One of the best ways to save lives lost in fires is for every home to be equipped with at least one smoke detector, Park Fire Chief Philip Costa told Grosse Pointe Rotary Club members at their meeting in the War Memorial on Monday, October 24.

Chief Costa explained that most fire deaths occur during night hours when people who are sleeping are not warned of danger by the smell or sight of smoke.

The carbon monoxide in smoke is dangerous causing people to go into a deeper sleep or to hallucinate, he noted.

"We've seen scratches where someone has tried to escape through walls thinking they are windows," Chief Costa said. "This couldn't happen if people are warned before smoke levels get too high."

A smoke detector placed on the ceiling between bedrooms is most important, the chief said. Another good place to have one is at the top of the basement stairs.

Chief Costa recommended battery operated units. Those which plug into electrical circuits may not function if their fuse is blown or there is a fire in the circuit.

One of the greatest causes of home fires, according to Chief Costa, is the overfusing of a circuit. When a circuit is overloaded, which often happens in kitchens where so many electrical appliances are used, the fuse will blow.

Many homeowners will replace it with a larger capacity one to prevent further blown fuses. This can cause a fire which starts hidden in the walls where wires are carrying more electricity than they are designed to handle.

"Never replace a 15 amp. fuse with a 20 amp. or larger," the chief advised.

Chief Costa also suggested that an Edison man may replace fuses with ones that are too large, but this was denied by a member of the audience who is associated with the Edison company.

Fifth Graders Visit Capitol

The Maire Elementary School fifth grade class made its 22nd annual visit to Washington, D.C., on Friday, October 14, and Saturday, October 15.

The 68 Maire students and 20 parents toured the FBI, White House, Capitol, Smithsonian Institution and the Lincoln, Washington and Jefferson Memorials.

Highlights of the trip included the presentation of a memorial wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and a picnic lunch at Mount Vernon.

Nancy Dickerson, prominent national correspondent, reports for Detroit Edison:

"Playing it safe with energy-efficient outdoor night lighting is a bright thing to do."

It's smart to turn lights off when they don't serve a purpose. But it's a wise use of energy to keep lights on when they provide safety and protection.

It's called security lighting. Now your home, neighborhood group, apartment or condominium can have the safety and protection of security lighting. And your lights can be automatically controlled to turn on only when it's dark so there's no waste of energy or dollars.

Exterior security lighting also helps smart businessmen and owners of industrial buildings cut down losses from nighttime vandalism and break-ins. With the new high-efficiency light sources now available, operating costs are a lot less than you might think.

Here are some tips to make your existing night lighting more effective and energy-efficient: take advantage of all nearby illumination, such as street lighting, and integrate it into your system; keep landscaping trim to create more light areas; remove outdoor storage containers that cast shadows; choose light exterior colors for your home or building to reflect light.

The important thing is to have well-planned, properly-installed security lighting with automatic controls or timers to turn off lights when they aren't needed. You'll save energy and money.

Electric post lanterns, low-level floodlights and high-mounted dual floodlights provide good illumination for front and back lawns and driveways. For larger areas, you can choose efficient, long-lasting, high-intensity lights.

Detroit Edison will help you plan security lighting for your home or business that's energy-efficient and provides the most safety and protection for the least cost. Just call or stop in at any Detroit Edison customer office.

As a concerned participant in America's crusade for conservation, Detroit Edison is working hard to do its part. But it requires a working partnership between those who supply energy and those who use it. So, if you're planning on installing security lighting, make sure your system is energy-efficient. It's one of the ways you can help.

Pick up a free folder on security lighting at any Detroit Edison customer office. Or, for more information, write: Customer Relations, Detroit Edison, 2000 Second, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

Conserve for all it's worth. The power is in your hands.

Child Safety

"If people feel this is a valuable program, we'll get all the school safety officers and YSD officers together for joint presentations," Lt. Patterson added.

As for the program itself, Officer Crook said the introduction will deal with pedestrian and fire safety, plus child safety in general.

Det. Fagan will focus upon the police officer as a friend, (emphasis on the plainclothes policeman), while Officer Crook will view the policeman in uniform and relate various parts of his attire to specific safety aspects, e.g., a badge number being compared to a house number and the importance of knowing each.

The Emergency "E" program will be explained along the way, with Officer Crook ultimately changing dress and putting on a firefighter's garb to view fire safety. One of many points to be emphasized is having a specific escape routes in the event of a fire at the child's home. The importance of smoke detectors also will be eyed.

"This is the first time the YSD has been incorporated with a traffic safety officer," said Officer Crook, regarding presentations. "The YSD is more than willing to work with all traffic safety officers on a specific program."

Richardson Set To Get Honor

Yitzhak Modai, minister of energy and infrastructure of the State of Israel, will be the keynote speaker at a tribute dinner honoring Dean E. Richardson, of Cloverly road, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, on Sunday, October 30, at Cobo Hall. It begins at 6:30 p.m.

At the dinner, held in co-operation with State of Israel Bonds, Mr. Modai, a member of Israel Prime Minister's Cabinet, will, as Israel's emissary, present the State of Israel's highest civilian award, the Prime Minister's Medal, to Mr. Richardson.

This is in recognition of his "distinguished achievement in creating better understanding among all men, encouraging the strengthening of free enterprise in all free countries of the world and for outstanding support of Israel's economic development as a sister democracy."

Dinner chairman is Louis G. Allen, Manufacturers National Bank president, while coordinating chairman is Kenneth Aird, vice-chairman of the board. Toastmasters are Max M. Fisher and Alan E. Schartz, and honorary chairmen are Henry Ford II, A. Alfred Taubman, Gov. William G. Milliken and Detroit Mayor Coleman A. Young.

More than 125 distinguished leaders of industry, banking, government and the community have joined the Tribute Dinner Committee honoring Mr. Richardson.

Guest speaker, Mr. Modai, also is president of the Israel-American Chamber of Commerce and is the former general manager of one of Israel's largest industrial enterprises, Revlon (Israel) Ltd.

He served on the Economic and State Control Committees in the Knesset (Parliament), has served as Assistant Military Attaché in London and was a member of the Israeli-Syrian and Israeli-Lebanese Armistice Commissions.

Merrill Gordon, general chairman of the Metropolitan Detroit State of Israel Bond Committee, said, "The participation of so many distinguished members of our community in this tribute to an outstanding friend of Israel, reflects a resounding note of confidence and unity with the people of Israel in the face of their great economic, financial and investment needs."

'J Girls' Add Halloween Cheer at St. John

Jacobson's of Grosse Pointe "J Girls" are currently preparing Halloween toys for Saint John Hospital's pediatric patients so that even though the youngsters will not get a chance to go trick-or-treating, they will still enjoy Halloween. The "J Girls" are, (from left to right), LORI YATA, Southlake, MARY ANN LINCAU, South High School, PAM LEES, South, CAROL CATALDO, North High School, PAULA KASPOR, North, KIM HADAM, North, JANE BEADLE, South, KERRIE BURTON, North, and NANCY NEVILLE, Star of the Sea. The "J Girls," a group of carefully selected students from area high schools who work on community projects, regularly visit the pediatric department to present gifts.

Man Arrested in Abduction

A 21-year-old Detroit man was scheduled to be arraigned on charges of kidnapping and assault to do great bodily harm less than murder for his alleged involvement in abducting a 30-year-old Woods woman and her six-year-old daughter at Eastland Monday, October 24, reported Harper Woods Police Chief Nicholas Mayer.

The arraignment of suspect Richard Johnson was set for Tuesday, October 25, (after press time).

According to Chief Mayer, Nan Tomasko and her daughter were approached by the knife-wielding suspect and ordered back to the parked vehicle at the shopping center. The trio then entered the car, the suspect in the back.

He told her to go westbound on the expressway and as they proceeded, he allegedly asked her for some money and she gave him around $19, the chief said. Upon reaching the intersection of Vernier and Harper, the woman apparently became confused and went eastbound.

Chief Mayer then noted the suspect told the woman to put her daughter in the back seat and upon her refusal, he allegedly slashed her in the abdomen area with the dagger, during these moments, guiding the steering wheel. After the vehicle struck the median, all exited.

Officer Albert Markesino, who witnessed the incident, ultimately arrested the suspect, who fled through Brys Park, St. Clair Shores, at Mauer and Eastlawn a short time later.

Mrs. Tomasko was taken to Saint John Hospital and was reported in fair condition on Tuesday morning. Beside the stab wound the hospital said she suffered minor scratches to her hand. Her daughter wasn't injured.

Doctors' Offices Being Enlarged

At the Farms Council's regular meeting Monday, October 17, an approval was granted to Jones and Reichert Enterprises to expand and remodel the doctor's offices located at 18412 and 18408 Mack avenue.

The council, while acting as a zoning board of appeals, overruled a previous denial of the building department. Renovating the premises created problems with parking. A Farms ordinance requires that parking spaces be supplied for the increase in patients which the enlarging of the offices would create.

For an office the size of Jones and Reichert's 44 spaces are needed. In the Mack area, it is not possible to have those spaces because of the number of businesses. Therefore the office is termed a "non-conforming use."

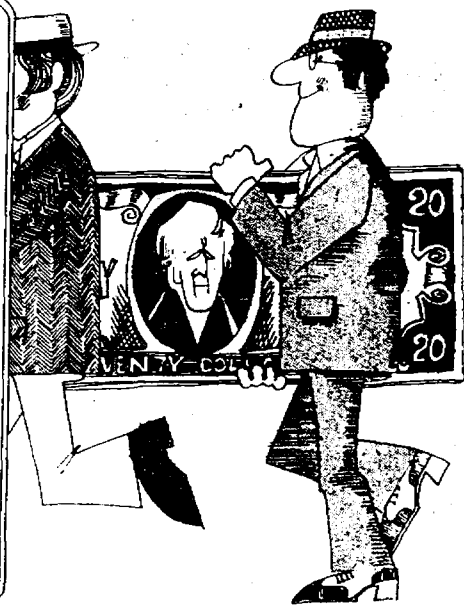

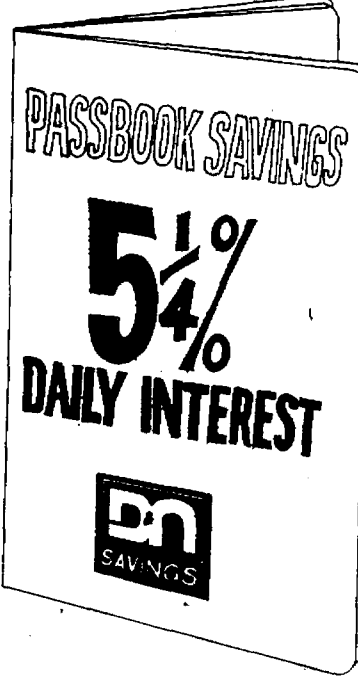

Police Chief Robert Ferber said, "All the businesses along Mack are non-conforming uses, because there just isn't the parking space there that is needed."

FIRST REVOLT

The first political revolt by workers in the American colonies occurred in Jamestown, Va., in 1619, when Polish workers were denied equal voting rights, according to "Labor Firsts in America," issued by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Farms Council Approves New Search Law for Police

By Wendy K. Settle
If someone was suspiciously loitering with no apparent reason, and a Farms police officer observed this person, the officer under the law would have no right to approach the individual and request identification or an explanation.

This situation was true until Monday, October 17, when the Farms Council at its regular meeting passed an ordinance to give police the right, in certain cases, to approach such individuals legally.

Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber incidently to the council an incident which happened in the community to prove the important need for the new law.

A patrolman observed two males pacing in front of a store in Mack avenue. He approached the pair, requested identification and frisked them. In his search the officer discovered that each man had a loaded handgun.

The two were arrested but the case was never prosecuted because at the time there was no law on The Farms' books that allowed the officer's search of the two men. It was an illegal search. Therefore, the case was thrown out of court and the two men were freed.

When Chief Ferber finished his story, Councilman Lloyd Semple moved that the council pass the ordinance amendments. Within one minute, the amendments were unanimously approved.

The new ordinance amends section 7 of Chapter 5, and adds to Chapter 5, Section 8, of the general offenses ordinance.

It grants "authority of police officers to stop and question persons who are loitering or wandering upon the streets."

It also gives the right to "search suspicious persons." The law, because it is an "emergency action ordinance," went into effect upon council approval.

Repair Boilers At Woods Pool

A total of $3,235.97 was approved for payment by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, October 17, to repair boilers used to heat the Lake Front Park swimming pools.

Broedell Plumbing and Heating, Inc., of St. Clair Shores, handled the work.

Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann noticed in early July that one of the boilers was firing with an exceptionally large flame and the flame was surrounding a two-inch gas line.

Broedell inspected the problem and completely dismantled the boiler in order to discover the nature of the difficulty.

After meeting with a manufacturer's representative, (Raypak is manufacturer of the boilers), Broedell concluded the problem was due to the fact that the boilers were exposed to the fumes given off from the chlorine and other chemicals used in operating the pools, said Mr. Hallmann.

"The boilers had completely corroded and had to be cleaned with a combination acid bath and wire brushing," he continued.

"If this problem had not been corrected at this time we would have lost the tubes in the boilers, which would have resulted in a great expense to the city, and since we were in the peak of the swimming season I authorized Broedell Plumbing to complete all necessary repairs and cleaning to insure saving the tubes."

Mr. Hallmann also said it was his understanding that unless preventive measures were taken, this problem will reoccur.

"A wall should be erected within the filter building which would completely seal off the boilers from the remainder of the building. Also, additional means must be found to increase the amount of fresh air circulating within the filter plant in order to prevent chemical fumes from coming into contact with the boiler tubes," he stated.

In relation to potential further preventive measures, Mr. Hallmann said the city is currently awaiting a recommendation from the architects on this matter.

It takes a real genius today to make both ends meet.

Woods Considers Four Requests from Seniors

By Roger A. Waha
Four recommendations from the Senior Citizens Commission were considered by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, October 17.

The item which caused the most discussion was in relation to classes for seniors and their cost via the seniors' budget under parks and recreation.

As it turned out, the council by a 5-1 vote okayed the expenditure of $240 for an arts and crafts class and bridge lessons, while the overall spectrum of recreation-oriented classes and ensuing costs was referred to the Committee of the Whole, (C-W), for further study and to the Citizens Recreation Commission.

Councilman Ronald R. Kefgen, who cast the lone negative vote, raised a point that such an action in relation to seniors' classes was setting a precedent.

He felt that recreation-related classes offered to the general public, including seniors, in such areas as swimming and tennis instruction and at the rifle range, are paid for via participation on a section basis, i.e., the city doesn't support the program with tax monies. In short, such instruction is on a pay-as-you-go basis via fees.

Mr. Kefgen said seniors, like anyone else, if they chose to enroll in a certain class, should pay a specific fee for that class.

In relation to this, he cited the seniors' allocated $3,000 for fiscal year 1977-78 under parks and recreation as against the overall parks and recreation allocation for the same fiscal year.

"I'd rather expand the parks and recreation budget by $3,000 to incorporate the seniors' allocation," he said, thus having the total recreation budget incorporate all types of instruction.

Citing the apparent inconsistency involved, Mr. Kefgen said if one approach is taken for one group, it should be taken for all, (or vice versa).

Councilman George S. Freeman noted, on the budget question, that the seniors were allocated $3,000 by the council and they should have a say in how the money was spent.

Meanwhile, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos felt that seniors needed to be treated in a different manner because of the capacity of some including in various forms of recreation.

Nonetheless, it was decided this matter should be explored more thoroughly by the C-W and the recreation commission.

In other action, a recommendation from the commission that it be declared a non-profit organization, so the group could apply for a non-profit organization mailing permit, was unanimously denied.

If the commission was so incorporated, it would not be entitled to subsidies from the city.

The council, however, did approve the payment of $30 for musical entertainment at the seniors' Halloween party on Thursday, October 20, at North High School.

Finally, a request for the appointment of two alternate members to the commission is scheduled to transpire pending the submission of applications to the city.

The commission made this request to be certain of having a quorum present at every meeting, as many members often are excused for long periods due to vacations or illness.

Wine Lines
by John Lundberg
One of the best known lower priced German Rhine wines is Liebfrauenmilch. You might have thought that Liebfrauenmilch was a brand name, but actually it is a term that covers all wines grown and bottled in the Rheinhessen area of Germany. The way to find a good one is to check for the name of a reliable shipper or importer. Most of these wines are available for under $4.00.
If you're looking for a good wine, whether it's Liebfrauenmilch or Burgundy, we at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 are at your service. We feature a top collection of imported and domestic wines as well as a full array of liquor and party goods. Hours: 10-10 Mon.-Thurs.; 10-11 Fri., Sat.
WINE WISDOM:
"Soft" wines have a lower alcohol content than more traditional wines.

Robbery Case Trial Slated

Two Detroiters, who are charged with robbery armed with a gun stemming from their alleged involvement in holding up Bijouterie, Inc., 18860 Mack avenue, on July 2, are scheduled to stand trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on Wednesday, November 9, reported Woods police.

Roderick Simpson, 26, of San Juan, and Suzanne Barber, 28, of Washburn, were charged in the incident in which an estimated $115,000 in precious stones and about $3,000 cash was taken. About $2,000 worth in jewelry has been recovered.

DAVIS-BACON ACT
The Davis-Bacon Act of 1931, enforced by the Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division, establishes prevailing minimum wage for workers on an estimated $40 billion of federally supported construction projects.

Caution Needed In Time Switch

Motorists are reminded that tonight, the most dangerous period of the day for car-pedestrian accidents, especially those involving youngsters, comes an hour earlier after the switch to Eastern Standard Time on Sunday, October 30, at 2 a.m.

"There were 19 five- to nine-year-old pedestrians killed by cars between 3 and 7 p.m. last year. Nine of those victims died between 5 and 7 p.m., when many motorists are returning from work in darkness," stated Arthur C. Gibson, safety and traffic engineering manager for the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Motorists should adjust their driving in this period by doing the following:

- Reducing speed while increasing distance between cars.
- Watching for signs of children at play, including bicycles and dogs.
- Keeping windshields, headlights and taillights clean, and in proper working order to insure optimum visibility.
- Parents of school-age children also can increase their visibility by dressing them in brightly colored clothing.

CITY OF
Grosse Pointe
MICHIGAN

(Note: Following is the text of Ordinance No. 193 adopted by the Council of the City of Grosse Pointe on October 17, 1977 to become effective ten (10) days after date of publication.)

ORDINANCE NO. 193

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE CODE OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE BY ADDING A NEW SECTION, WHICH NEW SECTION SHALL BE DESIGNATED AS SECTION 8.61 OF CHAPTER 101 OF TITLE VIII OF SAID CODE.

THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE ORDAINS:

1. The following Section 8.61 is hereby added to Chapter 101 of Title VIII. 8.61. AMENDMENTS TO THE 1978 NATIONAL ELECTRICAL CODE. The following sections of the National Electrical Code of 1978 are amended to read:

1. 210-4. MULTIWIRE BRANCH CIRCUITS. (a) Branch circuits recognized by this article shall be permitted as multiwire circuits. Multiwire branch circuits shall supply line to neutral load only. Exception No. 1: A multiwire branch circuit that supplies only one utilization equipment. Exception No. 2: Where all ungrounded conductors of the multiwire branch circuit are opened simultaneously by the branch circuit overcurrent device. All circuits shall originate from the same panelboard. (b) circuit interconnection. Neutral and ungrounded circuit conductors for two, three, or four wire circuits shall originate at the same outlet or panel. Neutral and/or ungrounded conductors for circuits shall not be tapped from different locations in the wiring system.

2. 210-22. (a) MOTOR-OPERATED AND COMBINATION LOADS. Where a circuit supplies only motor-operated loads, Article 430 shall apply. Where a circuit supplies only air conditioning and/or refrigerating equipment, Article 440 shall apply. Fixed appliances with motors larger than 1/2 HP rating shall be connected to circuits supplying motors only.

3. 210-24 BRANCH-CIRCUIT REQUIREMENTS — SUMMARY. The requirements for circuits having two or more outlets, other than the receptacle circuits of Section 220-3(b) as specifically provided for above, are summarized in Table 210-24. Branch circuits in dwelling type occupancies shall not be connected to serve more than one dwelling unit.

4. 210-25(b). DWELLING UNIT. In every kitchen, family room, dining room, breakfast room, living room, parlor, library, den, sun room, bedroom recreation room, or similar rooms, receptacle outlets shall be installed so that no point along the floor line in any wall space is more than 6 feet, measured horizontally, from an outlet in that space, including any wall space 2 feet or more in width and the wall space occupied by sliding panels in interior walls. The wall space afforded by fixed room dividers, such as free-standing bar-type counters, shall be included in the 6 foot measurement. In kitchen and dining areas a receptacle outlet shall be installed at each counter space wider than 12 inches. Counter top spaces separated by range tops, refrigerators, or sinks shall be considered as separate counter top spaces. Receptacles rendered inaccessible by appliances fastened in place or appliances occupying dedicated space shall not be considered as these required outlets. Receptacle outlets shall, in so far as practicable, be spaced equal distances apart. Receptacle outlets in floors shall not be counted as part of the required number of receptacle outlets unless located close to the wall. At least one wall receptacle outlet shall be installed in the bathroom adjacent to the basin location. See 210-8(a). For a one-family dwelling, at least one receptacle outlet shall be installed outdoors. For a one-family dwelling, at least one receptacle outlet, in addition to any provided for laundry equipment, shall be installed in each basement and in each attached garage. At least one duplex receptacle outlet shall be installed for the laundry. Laundry equipment duplex receptacle in dwelling units shall be mounted on the wall not higher than forty-eight (48) inches above the floor within 6 feet of the intended location of the equipment. A laundry lift pump of less than one-sixth (1/6) HP shall be permitted to be connected to the laundry circuit. Exception No. 1: in a dwelling unit that is an apartment or living area in a multi-family building, where laundry facilities are provided on the premises that are available to all building occupants, a laundry receptacle shall not be required. Exception No. 2: in other than one-family dwellings where laundry facilities are not to be installed or permitted, a laundry receptacle shall not be required. As used in this section a "wall space" shall be considered a wall unbroken along the floor line by doorways, fireplaces, and similar openings. Each wall space two or more feet wide shall be treated individually and separately from other wall spaces within the room. A wall space shall be permitted to include two or more walls of a room (around corners) where unbroken at the floor line. The purpose of this requirement is to minimize the use of cords across doorways, fireplaces and similar openings. The receptacle outlets required by this section shall be in addition to any receptacle that is part of any lighting fixture or appliance or located within cabinets or cupboards. Exception: Permanently installed electric baseboard heaters equipped with factory installed receptacle outlets, or outlets provided as a separate assembly by the manufacturer, shall be permitted as the required outlet or outlets for the wall space utilized by such permanently installed heaters. Such receptacle outlets shall not be connected to the heater circuits. Lavatories. At least one duplex receptacle outlet shall be installed on the same wall as the wash basin or on a wall immediately adjacent to the wash basin. The receptacle shall not be more than four (4) feet from any wash basin and shall be installed not less than thirty (30) inches and not more than forty-eight (48) inches above the floor and rated 15 Amperes, 125 Volts. Halls, corridors, etc., multi-family dwellings shall have at least one receptacle outlet for each twenty-five (25) linear feet or major fraction of hall length. Receptacle outlets located more than twenty-four (24) inches above the floor or more than twenty-four (24) inches above a fixed work surface they are intended to serve and pendant receptacle outlets are not to be counted as any of the receptacle outlets required by Section 210-25(b) and (c) of the National Electrical Code except as provided for in lavatories, unfinished attic space in dwelling type occupancies adaptable for living which is accessible by permanent stairs shall be provided with at least one receptacle outlet which shall be wired on an independent circuit of at least 15 Ampere capacity.

5. 210-25(e). RECEPTACLE OUTLETS (IN OTHER THAN DWELLING TYPE OCCUPANCIES). (1) Receptacle outlets shall be supplied by a circuit of minimum 20 Ampere capacity in industrial plants, machine shops, service garages, gasoline stations or similar occupancies. (2) Receptacle outlets in commercial buildings shall include not more than nine (9) on circuits of 20 Ampere capacity and not more than six (6) on circuits of 15 Ampere capacity. (3) Receptacle outlets shall not be connected to circuit supplying general lighting including office portions of buildings. (4) A readily accessible duplex receptacle, fed from any 115 Volt receptacle circuit, shall be installed on the roof within twenty-five (25) feet of each roof top heating, air conditioning and refrigeration unit or any combination of these units.

6. 210-21. (a) DWELLING UNIT(S). At least one wall switch controlled lighting outlet shall be installed in every habitable room: in bathrooms, hallways, stairways, and attached garages; and at outdoor entrances. A vehicle door in an attached garage is not considered as an outdoor entrance. At least one lighting outlet shall be installed in an attic, underfloor space, utility room, and basement only where these spaces are used for storage or containing equipment requiring servicing. Wall switches located for convenient and readily accessible use shall be required for all ceiling lighting outlets, except closets, storage spaces and unfinished basements. Lighting outlets over sink and dinette portions of kitchens, in halls, vestibule, and at outdoor entrances, shall not be combined in any manner and shall be switched separately. If more than one lighting outlet is installed in any one of these areas, such lighting outlets shall be permitted to be combined on a single switch. Laundry lighting outlet in dwelling type occupancies shall be provided for use in the laundry area and shall be permitted to be connected to the same circuit which supplies the laundry equipment receptacle outlet. Exception No. 1: in habitable rooms, other than kitchens, one or more receptacles controlled by a wall switch shall be permitted in lieu of lighting outlets. Exception No. 2: In hallways, stairways, and at outdoor entrances, remote, central, or automatic control of lighting shall be permitted.

7. 210-26. (c) BASEMENT LIGHTING. Basements in dwelling type occupancies shall be wired for a minimum of one lighting outlet in each 200 square feet or major fraction of area for use as general illumination. All enclosed areas that may be walked into such as toilet rooms, fruit storage rooms, utility rooms, excavated areas under porches, etc., shall be provided with at least one lighting outlet (except coal bins).

8. 210-26. (d) STAIRWAYS AND HALLWAYS (IN DWELLING TYPE OCCUPANCIES). (1) Stairways shall be provided with a lighting outlet or outlets so placed that each stair section shall be adequately illuminated. Such lighting outlets for basement, second floor or attic stairs shall be located directly over stairway section or at head or foot of stairs. These lighting outlets shall not be counted as comprising any of the required lighting outlets for basement, attic rooms, etc. (2) All stairway lighting outlets shall have multiple switch control at head and foot of stairway unless supplied by house meter and controlled by time clock or controls accessible to authorized persons only. (3) Unless served from separate house meter, stairway lighting outlets shall be supplied from circuits of the dwelling units using the stairway.

(4) Hall way lighting. A minimum of one lighting outlet shall be installed for each twenty-five (25) feet or major fraction thereof.

9. 210-27. SWITCHES (IN OTHER THAN DWELLING TYPE OCCUPANCIES). (a) Switches shall be installed to control general lighting outlets. These switches may be wall switches or disconnecting means incorporated in a readily accessible distribution panel. Individual switches to control specific fixtures shall be permitted to be installed if desired. A switch adjacent to entrances to all areas that may be walked into shall be provided to control a fixture or fixtures located so as to furnish sufficient illumination for persons to see their way into areas. (b) All stairway lighting outlets shall have multiple switch control at head and foot of stairway unless supplied by house meter and controlled by time clock or controls accessible to authorized persons only.

10. 220-3 (e) SPACE HEATING EQUIPMENT (OTHER THAN ELECTRICAL HEAT). (1) At least one (1) individual branch circuit of not less than 15 Ampere capacity shall be installed for the heating equipment. (2) Only those motors which are an integral part of the heating equipment shall be permitted to be connected to the circuit required by 220-3 (e) (1).

11. 230-72 (c) LOCATION. The service disconnection means shall be installed either inside or outside of a building or other structure at a readily accessible location nearest the point of entrance of the service-entrance conductors. In dwelling type occupancies, service equipment and distribution panels shall not be located in coal bins, bathrooms, lavatories or clothes closets. Where practical, they shall be located in the basement, utility room or garage. In single and two-family dwellings, this equipment shall be at least four (4) feet from the floor and shall not be subject to mechanical injury or shall be provided with suitable protection. Sufficient clearance and accessibility shall be provided when installed near laundry trays, oil tanks, or other permanently installed obstructions.

12. 333-12(c). WIRING IN ATTICS. Non-metallic sheathed cable and armored cable installed in attics of dwelling type occupancies shall conform to Section 336-9 National Electrical Code except, if headroom in any portion of the attic is four (4) feet or over, wiring shall be installed as concealed wiring at least to the point where headroom is reduced to three (3) feet. In liveable attics or attics adaptable under the Building Code for future living, wiring shall be installed as concealed wiring at least to a point on one (1) foot clearance of roof rafters and attic floor joists.

13. 336-3. USES PERMITTED OR NOT PERMITTED. Type NM and type NMC cables shall be permitted to be used in one and two-family dwellings, or multi-family dwellings and other structures.

14. 410-49. LAMP HOLDERS. (a) Lampholders installed in wet or damp locations shall be of the weather-proof type. (b) Porcelain or metal sockets used as cord pendant lighting outlets shall not be permitted within reach of grounded portion of buildings.

15. 422-8(e). RESIDENTIAL FOOD WASTE DISPOSERS. All such equipment and controls in dwelling type occupancies shall be provided with an independent disconnecting means within sight of the equipment and it shall be readily accessible. Food waste disposers of one-half horse-power or less shall be wired only with heavy duty 3-wire minimum No. 16 hard service cord and approved cap and three wire "U" slot grounding type receptacles. On new construction, a disconnect switch shall be mounted in the wall adjacent to the sink.

16. 522-21(c) SPACE HEATING EQUIPMENT (OTHER THAN ELECTRIC HEAT). (1) A readily accessible disconnect switch shall be mounted on the exterior of the heating equipment or on a surface adjacent to the heating equipment. (2) Heating equipment which is not readily accessible shall have an additional disconnect installed at the nearest readily accessible location.

17. 520-73. ELEVATORS ROOMS shall be wired for at least one lighting outlet controlled by a wall switch, and one receptacle outlet.

18. 725-18. PHYSICAL PROTECTION. (a) Where damage to remote-control circuits of safety control equipment would introduce a hazard, as covered in Section 725-4, all conductors of such remote-control circuits shall be installed in rigid metal conduit, intermediate metal conduit, electrical metallic tubing, type MI cable, type MC cable, or be otherwise suitably protected from physical damage. (b) Low energy wiring. Remote control, signaling, and power limited circuits. Conductors shall run parallel to structural members, joists. (2) Conductors shall run parallel to beams and/or pipes if within one (1) inch, or shall be run on sill plates. (3) Low energy wiring shall comply with (1) and (2). Vertical drops of conductors to furnaces, heaters, etc., shall be mechanically protected by securing to gas or oil pipes or electrical raceways, or securing to ducts, frame structures or back boards, or installing in metallic or non-metallic raceways, or forming in spiral coils for vertical drops of eighteen (18) inches or less.

CHAPTER 10 OF THE CODE IS ADDED AS FOLLOWS:

19. 1000-1. MINIMUM STANDARDS FOR EXISTING DWELLINGS UNITS. If inspection reveals that the wiring system of an existing dwelling type occupancy is inadequate, or if code certification as a habitable dwelling under this section is requested, the following minimum requirements shall be complied with: (a) ENTRANCES AND EXITS: Where two (2) or more entrances and/or exits exist, at least two (2) entrances and/or exits shall be illuminated by exterior lights. Lighting outlets shall be controlled by interior wall switches, located for convenient and readily accessible use. (b) LIVING ROOM: Living room shall be provided with illumination. Lighting outlet shall be controlled by a wall switch, located for convenient and readily accessible use. One of the receptacle outlets controlled by a wall switch in lieu of ceiling lighting outlet is acceptable. Convenience duplex receptacle outlets shall be provided. Receptacle outlets shall be equally spaced around the room with at least one duplex receptacle outlet on each wall. (c) KITCHEN: Kitchen shall be provided with illumination. Lighting outlet shall be controlled by a wall switch located for convenient and readily accessible use. A separate kitchen appliance circuit shall be provided, supplying a minimum of three (3) grounding type duplex receptacle outlets. Two (2) of these receptacles shall be readily accessible for convenient use of portable appliances. New appliance circuits shall be twenty ampere capacity. (d) BATHROOM: Bathrooms shall be illuminated. Lighting outlet shall be controlled by a wall switch. A receptacle outlet separate from the light fixtures, shall be provided and shall be located at least thirty (30) and not more than forty-eight (48) inches above the floor adjacent to the wash basin and not more than four (4) feet from the basin. (e) ALL OTHER HABITABLE ROOMS: Illumination for each habitable room shall be provided. Lighting outlet shall be controlled by a wall switch. Wall switches shall be located for convenient and readily accessible use. Convenience duplex receptacle outlets shall be provided with a minimum of two (2) receptacle outlets equally spaced around the room. An additional receptacle outlet controlled by a wall switch is acceptable in lieu of a lighting outlet. (f) BASEMENT: Basement shall be wired for a minimum of one lighting outlet in each 200 square feet or major fraction of area for use as general illumination. All enclosed area that may be walked into, such as toilet rooms, fruit storage rooms, utility rooms, excavated areas under porches, etc., shall be provided with at least one lighting outlet (except coal bins). Stairwell and laundry area lighting outlets shall not be counted as part of the required basement lighting outlets. (g) LAUNDRY AREAS: Laundry areas shall be provided with illumination. Laundry circuit shall be an individual circuit. A wall-mounted grounding type duplex receptacle outlet shall be provided, located near the laundry equipment. An existing drop cord receptacle outlet on a separate circuit shall be acceptable providing it is a grounding type receptacle outlet not more than five (5) feet six (6) inches above the floor. (h) SPACE HEATING SYSTEM. Heating equipment requiring electrical energy for operation and/or control shall be provided with an individual circuit. A disconnect switch shall be provided on or adjacent to the heating equipment. (Exception: Thermo-Pile controlled furnaces). (i) STAIRWELLS: Stairwells shall be adequately illuminated. Lighting outlets shall be controlled by wall switches. Wall switches shall be located for convenient and readily accessible use. Switches shall not be located where it is necessary to use darkened stair sections for their operation. All stairwells to finished portions of dwelling shall be provided with multiple switch control, one at the head, the other at the foot of the stairwell. (j) SERVICE AND/OR FEEDER: Service to existing dwelling unit shall be a minimum of one hundred ampere, three wire capacity. Service equipment shall be dead front having no live parts exposed whereby accidental contact could be made. Type "S" fuses shall be installed when fused equipment is used. Exception: Existing service of fifty-five ampere three wire capacity, and feeders of thirty ampere or larger two or three wire capacity shall be accepted if adequate for the electrical load being served. (k) EXISTING WIRING AND EQUIPMENT: Existing wiring and equipment shall be in good repair. Circuit extensions made with flexible cord wiring in lieu of permanent wiring shall be eliminated.

20. 1000-2. NEW WORK: All new work shall conform to this ordinance.

21. 1000-3. EVIDENCE OF INADEQUACY. Evidence of inadequacy shall be any of the following: (a) Use of cords in lieu of permanent wiring. (b) Oversizing of overcurrent protection for circuits, feeders or service. (c) illegal extensions to the wiring system in order to provide light, heat or power. (d) Electrical overload. (e) Misuse of electrical equipment. (f) Lack of lighting fixtures in bathroom, laundry, furnace room, stairway or basement.

2. The effective date of the within Ordinance No. 193 shall be ten (10) days after date of publication thereof.

Tree Removal Law Approved

An ordinance amending the city code and providing for the licensing and regulation of tree trimming and removal services was unanimously approved by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, October 17.

A main reason for the new law, which becomes effective on January 1, was a concern that some contractors would cut large limbs and not remove them, with the resident having to haul them away.

"Tree trimmers come to the city and give varying prices for the cutting down and removal of trees," said City Administrator Chester E. Petersen. "Sometimes a company will low bid on the basis that the city would pick up all debris but this is an additional expense to us. The service is not performed by all the contractors on the same basis."

The city will pick up limbs in compliance with a local ordinance which says that they must be no more than three inches in diameter, six feet in length and not over 50 pounds.

Under the ordinance, anyone operating a tree trimming or tree removal service must obtain a license to conduct the service from the city clerk.

Each application will be referred to the public works director for his okay prior to the issuance of a license.

It notes that the public works director may withhold approval of an applicant if he has been found guilty or has pled guilty or no contest to a charge of violating the city code concerning the removal and disposal of tree trimmings or stumps.

After the license application is approved, the applicant will pay $25 as a license fee. At the same time, he must file a performance bond of $2,000 with the city to guarantee the removal and disposal of tree and bush trimmings and cut stumps.

The law also notes the applicant will receive from the city clerk a license plate evidencing the fact that a license has been issued. This plate must be posted on the left side of any motor vehicle operated in connection with the applicant's business in "a conspicuous location."

If the applicant uses more than one vehicle, additional license plates will be furnished at a $1 charge per plate.

Center Slates Theater Buffet

Grosse Pointe Theater will open its 1977-1978 season in the War Memorial's Fries Theater, 32 Lakeshore Road, on Wednesday, November 9, with the musical play, "Stop The World, I Want to Get Off."

Many Helped by Rotarians

Grosse Pointe's Rotary (District 640), Foundation is seeking young men and women to study abroad in 1979-80. The Rotary offers five types of educational awards for study abroad, including round-trip transportation, educational and living expenses and funds for intensive language training.

The awards include graduate fellowships for those who have received a Bachelor's degree and are between the ages of 20 and 28 years and undergraduate scholarships for those with at least two years of university work between the ages of 18 and 24 years.

More are for technical training for those with secondary education and at least two years working experience.

Woods Nixes Use of Board

By Roger A. Waha
Community spirit symbolized by a basketball backboard in the grassy circle of Heather lane, a cul-de-sac, faced the reality of a local ordinance prohibiting the placement of any such structure along a public thoroughfare at the Woods Council's regular meeting Monday, October 17.

Despite a petition from 14 citizens and verbal pleas to leave the backboard up, the council unanimously denied the request from the standpoint of public safety.

While admitting that youngsters do play baseball, football and hockey in the street, and while being sympathetic to the bid, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos stressed, "We are concerned over public safety, and we cannot condone basketball playing in a public street."

Several citizens, including two young people, Ed Hammer and John Willison, indicated it was for the good of all concerned—for the youths who play basketball and for the parents, who, as resident Bob Hammer said, know where their children are. Some of the fathers also have reportedly enjoyed playing with the youngsters.

The backboard, which has been up for around a year, was recently discovered by City Administrator Chester E. Petersen while viewing areas for future concrete repair. He sent a notice that the backboard would have to come down in compliance with the city code.

If provisions preventing such a structure on a public street were deleted from local law and an accident occurred, the city could be liable, noted City Attorney George Catlin in reply to a question from Councilman John Sabal.

So despite a plea for the possibility of working something out so the board could remain, the council, primarily because of the overall safety factor, decided future layups should cease.

between the ages of 21 and 35 years, awards to teachers of the handicapped and mentally retarded between the ages of 25 and 50 years and a journalism award for those between 21 and 28 years.

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Foundation ended its fiscal year recently with a total of more than $10,000 in gifts to a number of civic and educational organizations.

The Rotary Foundation, started in The Pointe in 1943, has contributed $118,000 in the last 10 years to various organizations. The club raises funds through contributions from residents and its annual antique show and auction parties.

Topping the list of donations this year was the Grosse Pointe Health Education Council, which received $2,000 from Rotary. The Family Life Education Council received $1,500.

Other activities aided by Rotary include the Public Library Tool Collection, the Pointe Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the Volunteer Probation Program, Children's Home of Detroit, Neighborhood Club Girls Softball League and The Park's Fishing Rodeo.

Rotary donated $2,250 to college scholarships for local high school students last year aided the cause of the Pointe Association for Retarded Citizens, North High School's presidential classroom program, the American Field Leadership Conference, Interact Club, Student Citizenship Award program and donations for needy students.

For more information about the Rotary Foundation and its educational awards, write to the Rotary Club of Grosse Pointe, Box 36366, Grosse Pointe. The deadline for applications is March 1, 1978.

Library Shows 'Seven Samurai'

The Friends Film Forum will present Akira Kurosawa's "Seven Samurai" (The Magnificent Seven), as the second movie of its series on Thursday, November 3, at 7:30 p.m.

The black and white, 141-minute film will be aired in the exhibition room of the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue.

The film portrays a small farming village in 16th century Japan where women and crops are taken year after year by raiding bandits. Seven hungry, unemployed samurai are hired to defend the village.

Dr. James Smudski, of Berkshire road, was recently inducted as a Fellow of the International College of Dentists. The college is an honorary organization for recognition of meritorious service to the dental profession. Dr. Smudski is dean of the University of Detroit School of Dentistry.

School Crossing Change Eyed

The question of the relocation of a school crossing and sidewalk installation was unanimously referred to the Committee of the Whole for further study by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, October 17.

Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook said in a memo that several complaints were directed to his office from parents of children who attend Ferry School in relation to the school crossing location on Vernier road and Morningside drive.

After surveying the location, Officer Crook recommended that the adult crossing guard presently located at the intersection be relocated at the crosswalk near the traffic signal adjacent to the driveway of North High School.

"The reason for the recommended change is that approximately 15 children who live in the area of Wedgewood and Vernier circle have to cross the driveway at the high school and walk to Morningside to cross Vernier road. The driveway does not have school crossing protection at this time," he said.

At the same time, the officer noted there is no signal indication to assist pedestrians crossing the driveway.

"By placing the adult crossing guard at the traffic signal she could assist the children in crossing over the driveway at ... North High School and then activate the traffic signal to facilitate the stopping of traffic on Vernier road," he continued.

By moving the crossing location, the youngsters also would have to cross one less street on their way back and forth to school.

Officer Crook, however, cited one problem with the relocation — presently there is no sidewalk along the west side of Morningside.

"After the children cross Vernier road on the way to school they would have to walk the vacant field located on the northwest corner of Vernier road and Morningside," he said.

After discussing this matter with a few of the parents in the immediate area, Officer Crook stated, "I am pleased to report that the parents are more concerned about the safety of the children than muddy or snowy feet."

"But," he added, "they would appreciate it, if possible, the installation of a sidewalk along the west side of Morningside to aid both Ferry and North students walking back and forth to school, particularly during rainy days and winter months."

CITY OF Grosse Pointe Farms MICHIGAN CODE NO. 11-10

Amendment to Property Maintenance Ordinance Ordinance No. 215

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION FOUR OF ORDINANCE NO. 207 OF GROSSE POINTE FARMS, BEING: AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE THE MAINTENANCE OF RESIDENTIAL PROPERTIES IN THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE FARMS.

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms Ordains: SECTION 1. Sub-section H-405.1 of Section 4 of Ordinance No. 207 of Grosse Pointe Farms enacted June 7, 1976, is hereby amended to read as follows:

H.405.1 Certificate of Occupancy: It shall be unlawful for any person or persons hereafter to commence occupancy or for any owner or agent thereof to permit such person or persons to commence occupancy of any dwelling or structure or part thereof, for any purpose, unless a new Certificate of Occupancy has been issued by the Public Service Department with respect to such dwelling or structure. The Certificate of Occupancy shall state that the Public Service Department has inspected the dwelling or structure and that said Department has determined that the dwelling or structure may be occupied. The Certificate of Occupancy shall also bear this legend in capital letters or bold-face type: THIS CERTIFICATE DOES NOT CONSTITUTE ANY REPRESENTATION OR WARRANTY AS TO THE CONDITION OF THE DWELLING OR OTHER STRUCTURES ON SAID PREMISES DESCRIBED HEREIN (OR ANY ASPECT OF SUCH CONDITION), AND INTERESTED PERSONS ARE ADVISED AND ENCOURAGED TO MAKE THEIR OWN INSPECTION OF THE PREMISES IN ORDER TO DETERMINE THE CONDITION THEREOF.

This section shall not apply to any occupancy in existence at the time of the adoption of the ordinance. Such new Certificate shall terminate upon any further change of occupancy and if there is not a change of occupancy after the issuance of such new Certificate of Occupancy, it shall terminate two years from the date of issuance.

SECTION 2. Section 4 of Ordinance No. 207 of Grosse Pointe Farms enacted June 7, 1976, is hereby amended by adding thereto a Sub-section H-303.9, which shall read as follows:

H303-9 Automatic Fire Alarm Device/Smoke Detector: Each dwelling unit shall be provided with a smoke detector capable of sensing visible or invisible products of combustion. The detector shall be approved or listed by a recognized independent testing laboratory and when actuated, shall provide an alarm suitable to warn occupants within the individual dwelling unit. A minimum of one (1) smoke detector shall be located near the ceiling, outside of, but in close proximity, to each separate sleeping area. For purposes of ordinance the term "Separate Sleeping Area" shall be defined as follows: "By sleeping area is meant the areas of the family living unit in which the bedrooms (or sleeping rooms) are located. Bedrooms (or sleeping rooms) separated by other use areas, such as kitchens or living rooms (but not bathrooms) shall be considered as separate sleeping areas for purposes of this standard." Each dwelling unit shall be brought in compliance with this section prior to issuance of a Certificate of Occupancy.

SECTION 3. In all other respects, Ordinance No. 207 shall remain in full force and effect, except as aforesaid.

SECTION 4. If any provisions of this ordinance shall be held invalid, the remainder of the ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

SECTION 5. This Ordinance shall take effect twenty days after its enactment or upon its publication, whichever is later.

One View from the Capitol

By William Bryant

Mortgage redlining, the practice of credit granting institutions refusing to make loans in older, more central, neighborhoods has been the subject of much debate this year.

A bill, House Bill 4227, introduced by me, addressing the problem has passed the House and is now up for action by the Senate.

The lending institutions believe the practice has not been widespread, has not led to neighborhood decline and that legislation such as this cannot and should not try to solve the overall problem of urban disinvestment.

At the same time, however, they acknowledge that some overcautions and over-generalized decision making has occurred and they agree loan decisions should be made on the basis of individual analysis of risk.

The bill now before the Senate was negotiated in the House after scores of hours of careful, good faith negotiation.

It recognizes the needs of the lenders to protect their depositors, and to avoid making bad, high risk loans for some public policy purpose.

It recognizes the need of housing consumers and neighborhood residents to have mortgage money available when close scrutiny of the facts about a particular loan application will justify the loan.

Basically the bill says a credit granting institution may not deny an application for a mortgage or home improvement loan, or vary the terms, on the basis of the age of the structure or neighborhood or on racial or ethnic characteristics or trends.

It must apply loan criteria uniformly and determine each loan on the basis of an analysis of the risk involved including the credit eligibility of the borrower and the condition and probable remaining useful life of the structure.

The bill prohibits denial because of supposed advancing, but distant, decline or blight in neighboring areas and requires positive aspects of a neighborhood be considered as well as any negative aspects.

The bill is a start toward saving the still-good neighborhood. It will not "save" what cannot be saved.

We are seeing the beginnings of new understanding and cooperation between the leaders of neighborhood groups and the credit granting institutions.

We will do well to rely on this spirit of cooperation far more than any legislation and to proceed, as one lender said, "On the assumption that an end to redlining will do little by itself to solve the overall problem of urban disinvestment and urban decline."

St. Paul Sets German Service

A special service of worship in the German language will be celebrated at Saint Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church, 375 Lothrop road, on Sunday, October 20, at 3 p.m.

The service will commemorate the 460th anniversary of the founding of Lutheranism by Dr. Martin Luther, who nailed 95 theses for disputation on the Castle Church door at Wittenberg, Germany, in the evening of October 31, 1517.

Worship will be jointly led by Saint Peter's G. S. Evangelical Lutheran Church on Glenfield in Detroit and Saint Pauls. The pastor for the festive event will be Pastor Dr. W. H. Egginger from Saint Pauls. The preacher will be Kenneth Lentz from Saint Paul, who will speak "Reformation Heute."

The choirs of both congregations will join to sing together an anthem by Ralph Williams, "Rejoice and Give Thanks." A "Kaffestunde" will follow the service in the Fireside Room, hosted by Mrs. Walter Mueller of Colonial court, Mrs. Fritz Petzoldt of Hillcrest road and Mrs. Joseph Marcetti of Harper Woods.

NOMINATING ITS OWN

The first American labor organization to nominate its own political candidate was the Mechanics Union, which ran a candidate for the New York State Assembly in 1784, according to "Labor Firsts in America," issued by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

This is the first in a series of columns designed to clarify the means by which the staff of our public schools and libraries will implement the goals approved by the Board of Education for the 1977-78 year.

I will begin by discussing goal number one which is to "improve student achievement in the basic skills."

Because of the large number of projects related to this goal at the elementary, middle and high school levels, the column this week is limited to a small, but hopefully representative portion of those activities which are scheduled for one vital basic skill area: mathematics.

During subsequent issues I shall address other basic skill areas by commenting on such academic programs as reading and writing.

As readers know, "improvement" may be achieved in many ways. Any proposed changes in the mathematics curriculum, for example, will be based on student needs as determined in a number of ways.

We make a thorough examination and comparison of current test scores with past scores.

We constantly survey the field of instructional materials to attempt to find new textbooks and other improved aids.

We study professional journals and examine current research to ascertain whether any promising innovations or findings could be incorporated into our instructional program.

Let's look at the elementary school mathematics program to note some improvements under way. Many parents of our pupils in grades one through six may be aware that we are piloting and selecting new textbooks with recommendations from the staff to be received by March 15.

However, prior to making that decision, we will administer mid-year tests for mathematics pilot classrooms to compare scores to materials being piloted.

A report of these findings will be completed by February 15, well in advance of the time for a textbook recommendation.

Another objective during 1977-78 is to analyze math achievement scores in grade four and to report findings to the system-wide mathematics committee for evaluation.

Still another project planned for mathematics at the elementary level is implementation of the "life skills program." (This term refers to special attention given to the skills required for intelligent citizenship and effective consumerism embracing such important concepts as whole numbers, fractions, decimals, ratio proportion and percent, geometry, measurement and story problems.)

Now consider the mathematics curriculum at the middle school level. There, objectives include coordination of the system-wide scope and sequence curriculum plan with that of the sixth and ninth grade mathematics course.

Departmental chairpersons are to recommend solutions to problems which are encountered by June. Leadership ship will also be exercised by departmental chairpersons in the choice of a new eighth grade accelerated mathematics textbook.

Among the activities designed to improve student achievement in mathematics at the high school level is to convert the freshman course to a pre-algebra offering designed to prepare students for Mathematics I B. This fall departmental chairpersons appointed a bi-school committee to develop a revised course outline.

I hope that the examples I have cited and those to appear in subsequent articles will provide readers of this paper with a better understanding of some of the activities and projects going on behind-the-scenes to achieve the Board-adopted goals of the school system.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters,
Director of Public Libraries

Of all books, the cookbook has done the most good for humanity — and the most harm. This week's column will serve as a brief introduction to the many cookbooks that feature foods of other countries.

McCall's INTRODUCTION TO ITALIAN COOKING, (McCall Publishing Co., 1971), first appeared in 1963. It is a book that will whet the appetite and inspire both the novice and the experienced cook. These simplified recipes for authentic dishes from every region of Italy cover all food categories — appetizers, soups, meats, fish, poultry, vegetables, pasta, sauces and desserts.

All the recipes have been tested in the famous McCall's kitchens; so, how can you go wrong? A helpful introduction gives practical advice on selecting wines and cheese.

Theonie Mark, GREEK ISLANDS COOKING, (Little Brown, 1975), contains 200 traditional recipes adapted for American cooks and kitchens.

The book opens with spring and moves through the other seasons, presenting along with the recipes fresh, evocative descriptions of the physical beauty of the Aegean Islands and the way of life of the people.

There is a how-to section with instructions and drawings for unfamiliar cooking procedures and a guide to shopping for Greek and Middle Eastern food supplies all over the United States. Locally, try the stores around the Farmer's Market for the ingredients you'll need to make Ornitha Kokkinisti.

Richard Olney, SIMPLE FRENCH FOOD, (Atheneum, 1974), is written with Americans principally in mind by an American living in the South of France.

Besides being a joyous reading experience, this book offers a complete course in provincial French culinary arts. Its 250 narrative recipes have been tested through the years by his Gallic friends and neighbors, and in his cooking classes by Mr. Olney, himself.

Recipes cover the spectrum from soups through breads and desserts, but the emphasis is on developing a concept of cooking in the French manner.

Some very exotic recipes have been brought to the United States via Mexico. If you're interested in Mexican foods extending beyond eating an occasional tamale you may enjoy Diana Kennedy's book, THE CUISINES OF MEXICO, (Harper and Row, 1972).

Embracing the cuisines of the Spanish and the Indian as well as the highly distinctive fare of the separate regions, the food of Mexico is as delicate and subtle and various as that of France and China.

A vocabulary and pronunciation guide is included to help readers unfamiliar with the language of Mexico to find their way around the world of Mexican cooking.

Rosalind Cole, OF SODA BREAD AND GUINNESS, (Bobbs-Merrill, 1973), is more than a cookbook. It is a picture book of Ireland which happens to contain recipes. Fun reading for anyone, but for those who have visited Ireland it is a sheer delight.

You may not be able to make soda bread the way the Irish do and Guinness Stout doesn't travel, still there are some challenging recipes for the adventurous cook to try.

Peking cooking is conceded to be the apex of Chinese culinary art, formed over centuries by the intermingling of diverse styles and influences; at one end of the scale are the rough-and-ready barbecued meat dishes of the nomads of the steppes, at the other, elaborate dishes brought to perfection in the Imperial Kitchens.

Each style is described and illustrated in fascinating detail in Kenneth H. C. Lo's book, PEKING COOKING, (Pantheon, 1973). Want to impress your friends? At your next dinner party, serve shark's fin in white chicken fu-yung. No problem, simply follow the directions on page 99.

To fans of the BBC television series UPSTAIRS, DOWNSTAIRS, Mrs. Kate Bridges is as real as Sherlock Holmes is to readers of mystery stories. Of course there never was a real Mrs. Bridges, but MRS. BRIDGES' UPSTAIRS, DOWNSTAIRS COOKERY BOOK edited by Adrian Bailey, (Simon and Schuster, 1974), is written absolutely straight-faced, as if there were.

The book is divided into eight categories that make up a Victorian or Edwardian menu. Then, in turn, each category is separated into "The Upstairs Recipes" and "The Downstairs Recipes." So, for example in the Game and Poultry section an Upstairs recipe is "Caneton Sauvage au Porto" while a Downstairs recipe is "Rabbit Stewed in Cider." Figures doesn't it?

Up or down, it's all good food.

One could come to the conclusion after reading through a few of these cookbooks that it isn't the travel that is broadening—it's all that rich foreign food!

Center Association Elects New Officers, Eyes Year

New officers were elected at a special board meeting following the 29th annual dinner meeting of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Ass'n., Monday evening, October 17. John F. Monahan was elected president, John R. Nicholson, first vice president, Mrs. Warren S. Wilkinson, second vice-president, John M. Rickel, treasurer, William D. Dahling, assistant treasurer, Mrs. John H. Stephenson Jr., secretary, and Mrs. Dwight P. Black, assistant secretary.

Some 200 association members filled the Center's Crystal Ballroom for the dinner meeting, with Dr. Allan A. Zaan, the Memorial's veterans chairman, offering grace. The business meeting was convened immediately afterward by retiring president John E. Park, and a prayer was given by board member the Rev. George E. Andrews II. Mrs. William W. Cunningham, secretary, presented proof of the publishing of notice of the meeting.

The treasurer's report, given by John Rickel, showed that the Center's loss from operations was made up by family participation contributions. He stressed the necessity of the campaign, with the hope that members participating would increase even above the one out of every three family mark already achieved.

Alexander Wiener reporting for Mr. Dahling, family participation campaign chairman, and Frederick C. Ford Jr., Art Wing major gifts chairman, noted $149,000 has been received to date in 1977 annual membership contributions from 6,320 families.

The major gifts committee, seeking to underwrite the cost of the Center's new art wing, has received $53,000 to date toward its $125,000 goal.

These funds have come in donations from individuals, community organizations and special benefit events staged by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Ass'n. in cooperation with the Grosse Pointe Artists Ass'n.

Paul I. Moreland, investment committee chairman, noted that the committee had outperformed the market and contributed significantly to meeting the Center's financial needs.

Past association president Edward J. Hickey III presented the following slate of nominees to fill three-year terms on the Center's board of directors.

Mrs. Wilkinson, Mr. Nicholson and Mr. Monahan were nominated to serve second three-year terms and Mrs. Black, James McMillan and George J. Reindel III were nominated to serve their first terms.

There being no further nominations from the floor the secretary was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot for the slate as presented.

Mr. Park in his president's message praised the work of the Center's staff and emphasized the important role the War Memorial has come to play in the five Pointe communities.

He pointed with pride to the addition of the new Art Wing and the major refurbishing being done to the buildings under the direction of Mr. Monahan, building chairman. He also cited the work of the program committee and Mrs. Stephenson for founding the new Memorial Auxiliary.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I find I must respond to several articles published recently in the Grosse Pointe News. Dr. Coats (William Coats, superintendent of schools), addressed himself to the issue of class size and stated the advantage of small class enrollments at the elementary school level. He also informed us that the average class count is 25.26 pupils.

In the article, "Decline in Enrollment Provides Dividends for School Administration," Mr. Kennedy, (Lawrence Kennedy, director of personnel), further stated, (Editors Note: the information came from his office), that the grade that has the most improved class size is the first grade.

Although I am pleased for those children who, in fact, are first graders in the average classroom, the figures, averages and ratios are meaningless to those first graders at Monteith.

The grade class sizes at Monteith are 31 to 30. A half-day teacher assigned to the first grade in mid-September brings the class size down for two and one-quarter hours a day, meeting the statistical requirements outlined by Mr. Kennedy and the master teacher contract.

Technically, all is well. Practically, first graders are still subjected to an overcrowded classroom for the entire first grade curriculum excluding reading.

I must take exception to the rosy picture painted by these articles and ask why half-day teachers, termed "relief," are being offered at the elementary school level when Grosse Pointe taxpayers have supported renewal as well as additional mileage.

Sincerely,
D. A. Rothenburg,
Of Severn road,

Jewels & gems

by Jerry Valente

Styles of engagement and wedding rings in America have changed periodically. In Colonial days the cluster ring was the most popular one for engagements. It consisted of small rose-cut diamonds encircling a large center gem. Hoop-rings — those with small diamonds all around the bands — were also common then. Rings became very elaborate in the Victorian era — yellow gold with ornate enamel decorations. The princess ring, imported from England, came into vogue at around this time. Three to five larger diamonds in a row on the top of the band composed this style. At the end of the 19th century, the simple solitaire, a single diamond set in prongs, brought attention to the gem itself, instead of focusing on the setting.

Today, we have a little bit of everything, right here at VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 E. Warren at Kensington, 881-4800. We carefully select our diamonds for style and value to our customers. Diamonds, both engagement and wedding sets and dinner rings, are available in all price ranges. Diamonds and good jewelry are likely to appreciate in value, so if your present jewelry is not insured, bring it in for appraisal and ask your insurance agent to make sure that you are adequately protected. Your old stones can be incorporated into new jewelry here at VALENTE. We're open from 9 'til 5:30 daily and Fri. 'til 7:30.

GEM TIP:

The plain wide gold band was the most frequently used wedding ring until this century, when it ceded first place to a narrower type.

DBE Sponsors Autumn Tea

Daughters of the British Empire in Michigan held their annual Chrysanthemum Tea Wednesday, October 26, at the Lakeland avenue home of British Consul-General Alan H. Spencer Linton, M.V.O., and Mrs. Linton, from 1:30 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Gerald Coker, of Birmingham, Michigan DBE president, and Mrs. Linton welcomed honored guests Mrs. Russell H. Skitch, M.B.E., of Balfour road, national president of the Daughters of the British Empire, and members of the national administration including Pointer Mrs. William A. Koontz, Mrs. Ray Palarchio, of Livonia, and Mrs. John Burtwell, of Detroit, as well as Mrs. T. Frank Harris, wife of the Canadian Consul in Detroit, and Mrs. H. K. Campbell, regent of the Windsor and Essex County Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E. in Canada.

Assisting Mrs. Austin Wheatley, chairman of the planning committee, were Pointers Mrs. Ivor Carter, Mrs. G. Paul Olson, Mrs. A. M. Menninger, Miss Helen L. Armstrong, Mrs. Brandon M. Rogers and Mrs. Edward W. Wells; Mrs. Kermit Alexander, of Milford, Mrs. Iain MacKenzie, of Detroit, Mrs. William N. Appleyard, of Lathrup Village, and Mrs. Frederick R. Adams, of Birmingham.

Featured prize was an engraved crystal rose bowl, a limited edition commemorative piece for Queen Elizabeth II's Silver Jubilee Year. Funds raised will go partly to the British Home at Brookfields, Ill., which the DBE helps to support, and partly to Prince Charles' Silver Jubilee Appeal Fund for Youth.

The Daughters of the British Empire, founded in 1909 in New York, is an organization for women of British ancestry, devoted to the support of regional homes for the elderly in the United States and many local philanthropies.

Linda Berk Says Vows in St. Paul's

Early August Rites at Which She Is Wed to James Norbert Motschall, Jr., Are Followed by GPYC Reception

Linda Winifred Berk selected an Empire-waisted gown of silk Qiana trimmed with pearls and Viennese lace, featuring an attached cathedral train and long sleeves ending in wrist points, for her marriage to James Norbert Motschall, Jr.

A matching Camelot cap caught her fingertip veil, trimmed with matching pearls and lace. She carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis, Eucharis and Amazon lilies, baby's-breath and caladium.

The former Miss Berk is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Berk, of Shorecrest circle. Mr. and Mrs. James N. Motschall, of Kerby court, are the bridegroom's parents. Monsignor Francis X. Canfield presided at the 6 o'clock rites, which were followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, Friday, August 12, in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore.

The bridegroom's nephew, Peter Faricy, was altar boy. Readers were Don Picard, Rick Backoff and Dr. William Jennings.

Christine L. Berk, who came from Orlando, Fla., to serve as her sister's honor maid, and bridesmaids Mrs. Carl F. Bender, of Mount Clemens, another sister of the bride, and Mrs. Thomas Faricy, of Troy, the bridegroom's sister, carried mini-cascades of small white carnations, aqua silk flowers and baby's-breath, with purple status.

Their aqua pique knits featured spaghetti straps and full, pleated skirts. They wore detachable, chiffonette capes and matching half-hats. Jonathan Motschall was his brother's best man. Ushers were Mr. Bender and Mr. Faricy.

The bride's mother wore a floor length dress and coat ensemble of apricot Qiana, with a jeweled waistline. The bridgroom's mother chose a floor length dress and half-jacket of celery Qiana, with jewel trimming. Each mother pinned a cymbidium orchid to her purse.

The newlyweds will be making their home in Fisher road.

Mrs. William Connor and Patricia Connor, the bridegroom's aunt and cousin, came from Tokyo, Japan, for the wedding.

Other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cook, of Riverside, Calif., another uncle and aunt of the bridgroom, and George Treis, of Delray Beach, Fla., also an uncle of the bridegroom, and the bride's uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Driest, of Miami, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Fleishman, of St. Louis, Mo.

Also present were the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. George Treis, of Delray Beach, the bride's grandfather, Samuel Berk, of Hollywood, Fla., and her grandmother, Mrs. Edna Driest, of Detroit, with William Driest and Bill Driest, the bride's uncle and cousin.

TREE OF LIFE

4.85 cts. sapphires, .24 ct. ruby, 732 grains pure gold

Stories are told about the tree of life. And a couple called Adam and Eve. The tree of life whose fruit they sought no matter who it displeased. Together they sat at the base of the tree. A lonely fruit hung over their heads. They shared temptation's tasty fruit. Regardless of "what" Who said. Pleasure's reward was banishment. From the beautiful Garden of Eden. Too soon the couple realized. That someone had his reason. Time has passed from then 'till now. Through countless years of strife. And couples still choose to take their pleasure. Inside the Mothers Club

The October 3 executive board meeting of the South High School Mothers' Club was called to order by president Cynthia Huebner at 12:45 o'clock in the South High auditorium.

Vorita McClure, faculty representative, reported that South had seven National Merit semi-finalists. The PSAT, the qualifying exam for the National Merit Scholarships, was given October 22.

Mrs. McClure also announced that the National Honor Society is sponsoring a blood drive on October 31. Parents are welcome.

"Our Night at the Races" fund-raising event was deemed a great success by co-chairmen Sis Walton and Jerry Crowley, who said that the profit of $1,000 will be used for projects in the school.

Alis Fern and Betty Spencer, co-chairmen of the Parent Volunteer Program, were commended for securing volunteer help for the counseling center for the very first days of school.

They stated that more volunteers are still needed in the English and Social Studies Resource Center.

Home Coming chairman Lynn Drummy said that all classes were supplied with lots of chicken wire, crepe paper and spirit, and were working hard to ready their floats for the big day. Dance of the Home Coming theme was the 50th Anniversary of South High School.

National TV Time for DSO

For the first time in its history, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will participate in a national television series.

The nine-program series, to be telecast over national Public Broadcasting Service in 1978, is being made possible through a $325,000 grant from the Ford Motor Company Fund.

News of the grant was made public in a joint announcement by Benson Ford, of Lakeshore road, Ford Motor Company vice-president, and DSO President Robert B. Semple, of Beacon Hill.

The series will focus on the orchestra's two-week Beethoven Festival, to be presented in Ford Auditorium November 2 through 13, and the related international Beethoven Congress sponsored by the Detroit Symphony and Wayne State University, scheduled for November 4 through 6 at McGregor Memorial Conference Center on the WSU campus.

Program highlights will include full performances of Beethoven's nine symphonies, congress proceedings and informal chats with DSO Maestro Antal Dorati in some of the city's landmark locations.

The show will be produced locally by WTVS-Channel 56, Detroit's PBS affiliate station.

"We are delighted to underwrite the production of a television series from Detroit that we consider significant both culturally and educationally," Mr. Ford said.

"Our Detroit Symphony, under the baton of its distinguished music director Antal Dorati, will be seen and heard in millions of American homes. This is a milestone in the history of the orchestra."

"We are especially pleased that the series will show the unique celebration of the Beethoven sesquicentennial by the city and its orchestra."

Mr. Semple commented: "We feel this series will prove

Pastoral Wedding For Cheryl Huckins

Lynn Allan Hellands Are at Home in Ann Arbor, Where She Is a Medical School Student, He a Law Student at the U. of M.

Exchanging marriage vows at dawn Saturday, August 27, in Hartwick Pines State Park, Grayling, were Cheryl Ann Huckins and Lynn Allan Helland. A breakfast reception at Michawye Golf Club followed the ceremony.

Afterward, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Huckins, of South Oxford road, hosted an all-day picnic at their summer cottage.

Presiding at the nuptials was The Reverend Leslie Harding, of Novi, formerly assistant at Saint Michael's Episcopal Church in Sunningdale Park.

Linda Slusarczy sang "The Wedding Song," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Sabbath Prayer" and "By My Side," accompanied by Roger Sweets, the bridegroom's University of Michigan roommate, on the guitar.

Flower girl Robin Eggleston, cousin of the bride, in a blue peasant skirt and white eyelet blouse, carrying a basket of daisies and baby's breath, presented female guests with daisies as they came down the path to the wedding site.

Accolyte Nancy Eggleston,

The Lynn Hellands

At dawn Saturday, August 27, in Hartwick Pines State Park, CHERYL ANN HUCKINS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Huckins, of South Oxford road, was married to Mr. Helland, son of the Allan Hellands, of Livonia.

another cousin, was attired in a navy print peasant dress.

At the wedding breakfast, the bride's classmate, Tom Tasaki, of Hawaii, presented Cheryl and Lynn with wedding leis he had had flown in from Hawaii.

The newlyweds are at home in Ann Arbor, where he is in Law School and she is in Medical School at the University of Michigan, after a vacation in Michigan's Upper Peninsula and Minneapolis, Minn.

For her marriage, the former Miss Huckins chose an old-fashioned gown of ivory cotton, long-skirted, with a lace insert at her bodice and lace flounces on her sleeves.

A comb of daisies and baby's-breath held her ivory lace mantilla. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of daisies, white roses and baby's-breath, tied with ivory ribbon.

She was attended by her sister, Holly Sue Huckins, as maid of honor, and by bridesmaids Jacqueline Leigh Huckins, another sister, and two former Wellesley College classmates, Barbara Hanson, of Philadelphia, and Laurie Breitkopf, of Chicago.

They wore white eyelet blouses with multi-colored peasant skirts, and carried wildflower bouquets featuring thistle, Queen Anne's Lace, daisies and fern, made by Barbara Flood, a neighbor of the Huckinses.

Mr. Helland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Helland, of Livonia, asked Ronald Vanausdall, his University of Michigan roommate, to serve as best man.

Ushering were Pointer Anthony Munaco, Kenneth McLeod, of Rochester, and Tracy Hutchison, of Big Rapids.

The mother of the bride wore a blue cotton print peasant dress and a yellow baby's-breath corsage. The bridegroom's mother's dress, old-fashioned and high-necked, was white, floral-printed with sprigs of pink roses. Her wrist corsage was fashioned of pink Sweetheart roses.

Ruth Johnson Is Fall Bride

Ruth Ellen Johnson, daughter of former Pointers Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Johnson, who now make their home in Birmingham, was married Saturday, October 1, in Birmingham's Holy Name Church to Patrick Joseph Schneider, son of the Jerome A. Schneiders, of Barrington, Ill.

Father Robert Burke presided at the ceremony, for which the bride, a 1972 Grosse Pointe North High School graduate who holds a degree from Western Michigan University and is presently associated with the Wheeling State Bank, Wheeling, Ill., chose a chiffon gown featuring a train and a lace, mandarin neckline with an illusion keyhole motif.

Lace and pearls accented her long-sleeved bodice. Her veil was lace-edged, and she carried cymbidium orchids and stephanotis.

In slim-sleeved frocks of spruce green polymatte jersey, fashioned with asymmetrical necklines, A-line skirts and contrasting, piped bodices, were Carol Jean Johnson, honor maid for her sister, and bridesmaids Kathy Akans, Nancy Seelye, Barb Clark and junior bridesmaid Jane Schneider, the bridegroom's sister. They carried yellow spider mums and baby's-breath.

Michael Schneider was his brother's best man. Ushers were Paul Johnson, the bride's brother, Scott Bufe, Bill McKenna, Marc Morin and Rick Nottemeyer.

The bride's mother wore salmon silk, the bridegroom's mother mint green crepe. Both carried phalaenopsis orchids and baby's-breath.

The bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Richard M. Johnson, chose a tiered, jersey gown in three shades of blue. She carried a phalaenopsis orchid and baby's-breath.

The newlyweds will make their home in Palatine, Ill. The bridegroom, an alumnus of Saint Viator High School, Arlington Heights, Ill., was graduated this year from Western Michigan University and is now associated with Rust-O-Leum in Evanston, Ill.

Good Exercise And Diet Make A Vital Woman

By Katie Elsil

"I have a super day almost every day," claims Deanna Hawthorne. No, Deanna is not Superwoman. She is a quite-human wife and mother, coping with the usual stresses of those roles. How does Deanna manage to feel so good most days?

"I think it's because my lifestyle is based on physical fitness," she says.

Deanna and her friend and fellow enthusiast, Joan Thornton, both Pointers, have been spreading the fitness word for the past few years among women in the Grosse Pointe area.

They have taught swimming, exercise and aerobic dance classes, and quite a few grateful students credit Joan and Deanna with getting them out of bathrobe and slippers and into shorts and running shoes.

This kind of enthusiastic response spurs on the two women. Joan and Deanna have a lot to say about the joys of physical fitness.

"We're not talking about training for the Olympics," explains Joan — although she paced Deanna in the 26-mile, 385-yard Belle Isle Marathon last year.

"We're talking about waking women up to the fact that the benefits of fitness are far greater than the effort it takes to get started."

"And we realize that for many women getting started is an effort. But we encourage starting with something as simple as a brisk 15-minute walk every day."

"Remarkable changes can take place in a woman's attitude and outlook on life by simply getting more oxygen into her system," states Deanna. "This doesn't seem like pure magic when you realize that oxygen is a life-giving quality. People overlook this fact."

Naturally, Joan and Deanna are interested in promoting good nutrition. Diet is a four-letter word to them.

"We know that most women on a diet feel deprived and unhappy. Instead of feeling guilty about eating that rich dessert, a woman should increase her activity level," they advise.

"Generally, we've found that when women start feeling better about themselves, they begin to eat more wisely," Deanna notes.

Helping women feel better about themselves is what Joan and Deanna are all about. To achieve this goal they have formed Vital Woman, Inc., located at 100 Kercheval avenue.

Through Vital Woman, Joan and Deanna are organizing several projects involving women and fitness. Currently they are consultants to the Detroit Plaza Hotel and are busy setting up its total health club package.

But closer to home is a project for most of us who can't afford hundreds of dollars for a week at Main Chance or the Golden Door.

Along with the Grosse Pointe Department of Community Services, Vital Woman is sponsoring a series of Saturday mini-health spas at Grosse Pointe South High School.

The program runs from 9 to 4 o'clock. First, each woman is given a physical fitness evaluation to give her a base from which to start. The morning continues with opportunities to participate in walk-jog-run programs, exercise to music, aerobic dance, tennis and swimming.

After a gourmet natural food lunch, participants meet for an assertiveness training session.

Cost is $15 for the day, plus the cost of the natural food lunch, which is optional. The services of a masseuse will also be available.

The next mini-health spa is scheduled for Saturday, November 5. Deadline for registration is Thursday, November 3. More information may be obtained and registration made by calling Grosse Pointe Community Services, 885-3808.

Twelve Oaks Business Women Hold Meeting

Twelve Oaks Chapter of the American Business Women's Association held its regular meeting Tuesday evening, October 25, at The Farm House Restaurant in Hazel Park.

Jon O'Connell, assistant vice-president of Wayne Oakland Bank, spoke on Electronic Funds Transfer. Vocational speaker was Cathy Schmitt, of Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

Plan Working Women's Day

The Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, District XIV, will host an all-day seminar for BPW members and potential members Saturday, November 19, from 9 to 3:30 o'clock in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Speakers will be Marlene Danol, state second vice-president, with national BPW slides on "Objectives and Activities," Mary Ann Mahaffy, Detroit Common Council member, whose topic is "Women Becoming Active in Civic Legislation," and Beulah Grohn, of the West Canfield Historical Commission, with slides and comments on "Bringing Back Historic Old Detroit."

A fashion show with the working woman in mind will be presented by Maria Dinon.

The purpose of the seminar is to inform potential members and remind present ones of the impact of BPW. Reservations for the program luncheon, ($8), must be made by Saturday, November 12, by calling Helen Muzleski, 533-5546 evenings.

Cotley College Workshops Set

Mary Heartlein, an admissions counselor for the P.E.O. Sisterhood's Cotley College, only college in the country founded by a woman to educate young women and supported by a women's organization, will visit Grosse Pointe next Thursday and Friday, November 3 and 4.

Her visit is being sponsored by local P.E.O. chapters. Pointe area members of the committee to promote Cotley College include Mrs. E. G. Rosella, Chapter T, Miss Virginia Downs, Chapter AO, Mrs. R. R. Scheneman, Chapter CV, and Mrs. M. E. Jones, Chapter DB. Mrs. H. G. Moltzau is area chairman.

Miss Heartlein, a 1975 Cotley graduate who received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Iowa this year, will be holding workshops for P.E.O. members, students, high school counselors, Cotley alumnae and all parents of students interested in attending Cotley.

Anyone interested in attending a workshop may contact Mrs. Moltzau, 882-2276, for further information.

Cotley College, located in Nevada, Mo., is one of the few totally residential, two-year, liberal arts colleges for women in the country. Its student body of 350 comes from more than 40 states.

Busy Days for Local Beta Sigma Phi Group

Alpha Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi completed plans for its 1977-78 season at a recent general meeting.

Fall activities have included presentation of puzzles and books to the Wayne County Jail and Nightingale Nursing Home and a September 20 "rush party" at Camelot Community Center.

Beta Sigma Phi's annual convention was held October 15 through 17, at Boyne Mountain.

Future Alpha Zeta projects include an anniversary dinner November 15 and a Christmas party, featuring an international menu, December 20.

Members are currently preparing Thanksgiving Day baskets for needy families, and making arrangements for a Children's Christmas Party at the Burn Center.

Autumn Wedding For Miss Sheridan

Lake Buena Vista, Fla., Is Vacation Destination for Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Edward Davis Following Barbour Chapel Nuptials

Setting for the Saturday, October 1, wedding of Lynne Adele Sheridan and Wayne Edward Davis was the Barbour Chapel of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. The mid-morning rites were followed by a champagne brunch reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Dr. Ray Kiely and his former fellow Memorial Church minister, The Reverend Richard Mitchell, who now resides in Sturgis, presided at the 10 o'clock nuptials.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Charles Sheridan, of Balfour road, selected a white organza gown with Alecon lace accents. Fresh flowers, matching her bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and ivy, held her veil. Honor attendant Jill Alexander Simmon and bridesmaids Carra Blair, of Lansing, the bride's sister, and Jenny Elliott, of Bedford Mass., wore blue. Their bouquets of white roses and blue miniature carnations matched the wreaths in their hair.

Mr. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Davis, of Simcoe, Ont., asked David Barker, of London, Ont., to act as best man. Ushers were Robert Sheridan, Jr., brother of the bride, and James Simmon.

Corsages of white roses accented the long, beige gown worn by Mrs. Sheridan, mother of the bride, and the long, rose gown worn by the bridegroom's mother.

Among the guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sheridan, and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Florence Redmond. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Macdonald, came from Simcoe for the ceremony.

After a week's vacation at Lake Buena Vista, Fla., the newlyweds are at home in Mount Clemens, in an apartment on Lake St. Clair.

Our Lady Star of the Sea Church was the setting Saturday evening, August 6, for the wedding of KIMBERLY RENEE HUGHES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Hughes, of Roslyn road, and Mr. Blinstrub, son of the Robert L. Blinstrubs, of Birmingham.

Star of Sea Rites For Miss Hughes

She Wears Mother's Wedding Gown for Early August Ceremony at Which She Becomes Bride of Robert Michael Blinstrub

The wedding of Kimberly Renee Hughes and Robert Michael Blinstrub Saturday, August 6, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church was followed by a reception at Lochmoor Club, after which the newlyweds left to vacation in California, at Lake Tahoe and Palm Springs.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Hughes, of Roslyn road, the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Blinstrub, of Birmingham.

The Reverend Hector Saulino presided at the 5:30 o'clock rites for which the bride wore her mother's wedding gown of Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a Sweetheart neckline, fitted sleeves and bodice and a full skirt ending in a chapel train.

Her chapel length veil fell from a cap of roses fashioned by Walton-Pierce to match the family gown. She carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and trailing ivy.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Phil Kaley, of Indianatic, Fla., the bride's maternal grandparents, and Joseph Janssens, of Melbourne, Fla., her great-grandfather.

More were her aunts, the Mesdames Rae Huffnagle, Hazel DeArment, Sara Earnest and Edna Woomer, all of Lewiston, Pa., her cousins Mr. and Mrs. William Richert, also of Lewiston, and her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kaley, of Park Ridge, Ill.

In floor length frocks of aqua mint Qiana, carrying arrangements of dried roses and daisies tinted to match their gowns, were honor maid Loretta Kaley, the bride's cousin, and bridesmaids Jill Kaley, another cousin, Susan McGlennen and Susan Borninski, Alpha Phi sorority sisters of the bride, Meg McCurry and Maureen Blinstrub, the bridegroom's sister.

Junior bridesmaid Sharon Blinstrub, another sister, wore white, sashed in pink. Her bouquet was a miniature version of those of the senior attendants.

Fred Miller was best man for his Sigma Chi fraternity brother. Ushering were Todd Hughes and Dave Walby, two other fraternity brothers. Gary Hughes, like Todd a brother of the bride, Jeff Bell and Mike Dennis.

The bride's mother wore floor length, vivid pink chiffon, styled with a pale pink front panel. Her wrist corsage was a pale pink cymbidium orchid.

The bridegroom's mother's gown, also floor length, was in multi-shades of blue, and her wrist corsage was a pale blue cymbidium orchid. The newlyweds are making their home in Birmingham.

Busy November Ahead for AAUW

Study Group Topics Range from Consumerism to Moliere to a Discussion of The Work of Swiss Artist Paul Klee

The Grosse Pointe Branch American Association of University Women opens a new month of study groups and activities with a "Politics of Food" meeting at 9:15 o'clock next Tuesday morning, November 1, in the Lincoln road home of Janet Ankiel.

The group will brainstorm pros and cons of the Domestic Right to Food, declared national policy in September, 1976.

Co-hostesses are Phyllis Rabbideau and Carol Shipston. Baby sitting is available by calling 886-9149 by Monday, October 31.

International Relations meets Thursday, November 3, at 1 o'clock in the Roslyn road home of Jane Mertz, where Jill Best and Peggy Ptasznik will present Africa Updated.

Group discussion will follow. Margaret Hahn and Dorothy Jossman will serve as co-hostesses.

Art Appreciation meets Friday, November 4, at 9:15 in the morning in Jane Ford's Lincoln road home. Mary Louise Krebs will discuss the work of Swiss artist Paul Klee. Jill Best is co-hostess.

Play reading also meets Friday, November 4, for an 8:30 o'clock Hilberry Theatre party. The group will view a musical version of Moliere's "School for Wives."

The play, one of the most famous by France's great 17th century comedy writer and actor, is the story of a jealously possessive gentleman desperately trying to control a young girl's love by controlling her education — with hilarious results.

Tickets are $3. Group members are asked to contact Lorna Kray, 881-0558, so that car pools may be arranged.

Kaleidoscope members will hear a presentation on Consumerism and how to purchase safe toys for children at their meeting Tuesday morning, November 8, at 9 o'clock in Kathy Costello's Moran road home.

James J. Testasecca, resident investigator for the Detroit Post of the United States Consumer Safety Commission, will entertain questions on general consumerism following the program.

Baby sitting is available at 277 Moran road by calling 886-8832. Arlene Lewis will serve as co-hostess, and Sylvia Keating will make arrangements for a children's snack.

Evening Stitchery also meets November 8, at 8 in the evening in the Bishop road home of Susan Beaudry, for a blocking and finishing workshop. Anita Unger and Susan Dammeyer are the co-hostesses.

A new study group, Redefining the Goals of Education, will meet Wednesday, November 9, at 1 o'clock in the Oxford road home of hostess Arlene Cobau, whose co-hostess is Judy Laust.

Dr. Alfreda Frost, director of Elementary Education in the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, will discuss the school system's goals in kindergarten through grade six.

Baby sitting may be arranged by contacting Sylvia Sanders, 886-0869, one week prior to the meeting.

La Causerie will visit with a young Frenchman, Gilles Pollin, currently attending Grosse Pointe South High School, Wednesday evening, November 9, at 7:45 o'clock in June Nelson's McMillan road home.

The Pointe Branch's November board meeting is set for Thursday, November 10, at 9:15 in the morning in the Grosse Pointe Central Library.

No experience is necessary to participate in Folk Guitar's meeting Monday, November 14, at 9:15 in the morning in Alma Cook's Wedgewood drive home. AAUW members are invited to bring their guitars and join in the fun with bass runs.

The Afternoon Book Group also meets November 14, at 1 o'clock in the Hidden lane home of Dorothy Crocker, to discuss Robert Egan's story of China, "Dynasty."

Ruth Stanley and Ella Paton will serve as co-hostesses. Daytime Stitchery meets Tuesday morning, November 15, at 9 o'clock in the Canterbury road home of Joyce Walker, to continue work on pulled thread samplers. Gerry Mullen is co-hostess.

Baby sitting is available by calling 886-8558.

Book Discussion also meets November 15, at 7:30 in the evening in the Chalfonte avenue home of Joyce Edwards, where Ruth Stanley and Barbara Gallup will discuss Alan Paton's "Cry the Beloved Country."

Ruth Jinks will open her Lakepointe avenue home to Contemporary Literature members Tuesday evening, November 22, at 7:30 o'clock. Florence Heath will review "Tutankhamen" views by two archeologists, Howard Carter, discoverer of the boy pharaoh's 3,000-year-old tomb, and Christine Des Roches-Noble Court, Louvre curator who reconstructed the life and activities of Egypt's Tutankhamen's time.

The Louvre has the world's largest collection of Egyptian treasures.

Instant Replay will meet Wednesday, November 30, at 7:45 in the evening in Margaret Woodford's South Rosedale court home where Celia Turrell will review Robert Lacey's "Majesty." All new and prospective members are welcome. Further information may be obtained by calling 882-8471.

Chris Eickhorst is co-hostess. Anyone wishing to donate books for next year's AAUW Used Book Sale is asked to contact Phyllis Rabbideau at 885-8836.

DSO Chamber Season Starts

The Detroit Symphony Chamber Orchestra series opens this Saturday, October 29, at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium. Neville Marriner, who conducted the DSO at Meadow Brook last summer to high critical acclaim, will be on the podium for a program including Tchaikovsky's Serenade for Strings, Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No. 6 and the Mozart Symphony No. 35, ("Haffner"). DSO principal flutist Ervin Monroe will be featured as soloist in the Nielsen Flute Concerto. Season tickets for the four-concert Chamber Series, which includes a performance of the Istin-Stern-Rose Trio during the upcoming Beethoven Festival, will be available through tomorrow, Friday, October 28, at Ford Auditorium box office, 961-0700. Individual tickets for this Saturday evening's Chamber Orchestra concert also are available at the box office, at Hudson's and Ward's ticket outlets and "Detroit Tonight Tours," (Plaza Hotel), at $6.50, $5 and $3.50. Neville Marriner's early career was that of a violinist. He studied in London and Paris and subsequently performed in ensembles including the London Mozart Players and as a member of the Philharmonia and London Symphony Orchestras. In 1956 he founded the Academy of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, perhaps now the most comprehensively recorded chamber orchestra of the 20th century. Pierre Monteux, then principal conductor of the London Symphony Orchestra, encouraged Marriner to study conducting; since then his violin playing has been mostly for private occasions. His appointment to the Los Angeles Chamber Orchestra in 1969 culminated in that orchestra's highly successful tour of Europe in 1974 and the making of its first records in 1975. He has since appeared with major orchestras and chamber ensembles throughout Europe and the United States. Ervin Monroe was born in Louisiana and raised in Florida. His musical education came at Oberlin Conservatory and the Manhattan School of Music. His professional experience began with the Mozarteum Orchestra in Salzburg, Austria.

Faculty Wives Meeting Slated

Kay Stica, Grosse Pointe Public Schools Fringe Benefits coordinator, will speak on "Your Benefits as a Faculty Wife" at a Grosse Pointe Faculty Wives' meeting next Thursday, November 3, at 7:30 o'clock in the Grosse Pointe North High School library. A question-and-answer session will follow her presentation. Planning the evening's program and dessert are Mrs. Paul Jablonski, Mrs. Gerald Morrison and Mrs. John Rohrer.

Eisinger-Sessions, Vows Are Spoken

They Vacation in The Smokey Mountains of North Carolina Following Early August Ceremony: Are at Home in Illinois

Hillcrest Country Club was the setting Sunday, August 7, for the 4 o'clock wedding of Susan Rae Sessions and Ronald Steven Eisinger, and for the reception following the ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Robert Sessions, of Hampton road, and the late Geneva Mann Sessions, wore a gown appliqued with seed pearls, featuring a high, illusion neckline, long, fitted sleeves, an A-line skirt and a short train. Her fingertip veil fell from a headpiece of matching lace and seed pearls. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses, carnations and trailing ivy.

The Reverend Perry A. Thomas, of Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church, presided at the rites. The newlyweds vacationed in the Smokey Mountains, at Fontana Village, N.C., and are at home in Urbana, Ill. Mrs. Marc Lonoff, who came from Cambridge, Mass., to serve as her sister's honor matron, and bridesmaids Mrs. Vance Pomranky, of Chicago, their cousin, and Mrs. James Weakland, of Novi, wore frocks of cream voile printed in an all-over pattern of pastel yellow, pink and blue flowers.

Forest green bordered their hems and necks. The gowns, cut high on their shoulders, featured removable capes and A-line skirts. Their Colonial bouquets were fashioned of matching pastel carnations and trailing ivy.

Dennis Eisinger came from Gainesville, Fla., to act as his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Eisinger, of Yonkers, N.Y. Guests were seated by Errol Eisinger, of Miami, Fla., another brother, and Mr. Lonoff.

The bride's mother's blue chiffon gown was sleeveless and featured an attached cape, floor length in back, elbow length in front. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of mint green chiffon, halter-necked, with an over-cape.

Both mothers selected white orchid corsages. Out-of-town guests included the bride's uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Allen, of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jones, Jr., of Canandaigua, N.Y., and Mrs. A. C. Mann, of New Port Richey, Fla., and the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Weiss, of Miami.

SUSAN RAE SESSIONS and Mr. Eisinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Eisinger, of Yonkers, N.Y., spoke their marriage vows Sunday, August 7, at Hillcrest Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Robert Sessions, of Hampton road, and the late Geneva Mann Sessions are the bride's parents.

Nadlonek-Szabo Vows Exchanged

Bride Wears Mother's Slipper Satin Gown, Its Square Neck Rimmed with Alencon Lace; Attendants Choose Aquamint Qiana

Vacationing at Ocean City, Md., and Virginia Beach following their wedding Saturday, June 25, in Old Saint Mary's Church were Mr. and Mrs. James Nadlonek, who are now making their home in Auburn Heights.

Mrs. Nadlonek is the former Sue Szabo, daughter of the Paul Szabos, of Aline drive. The bridegroom is the son of the John Nadloneks, of Warren.

For the 3:30 o'clock rites, which were followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, the bride wore her mother's slipper gown, its square neck embellished with re-embroidered Alencon lace.

Her lace-appliqued, cathedral length veil was trimmed with satin and seed pearls. She carried rubrum lilies with baby pink roses, white miniature carnations and ivy. Honor maid Lynn Weintraub, of Lansing, and bridesmaids Mrs. Russ Schnurr, Mrs. Robert Nadlonek and Kathy Spagnolo wore cap-sleeved frocks of aquamint Qiana and combs of silk flowers in their hair, matching their bouquets of pink silk and dried flowers. Bill Nadlonek came from St. Paul, Minn., to act as his brother's best man. In the usher corps were Robert Nadlonek, another brother, Mr. Schnurr and Michael Lynch, of Boyne City.

Mrs. Szabo's rose Qiana dress and coat ensemble featured a V-neck with lace and rhinestone inserts. She pinned orchids to her evening, purple. The bridegroom's mother's gown was lemon yellow, styled with a lace bodice and sleeves. Yellow baby roses formed her corsage.

Clark Women's Club Plans Tea Program

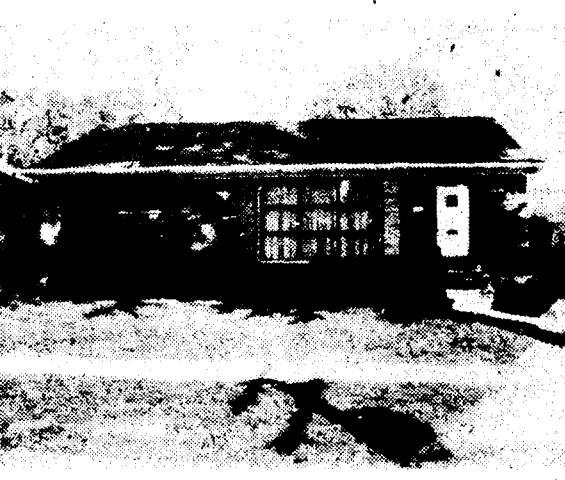

Clark Women's Club will meet Monday, November 7, at Christ Methodist Church, East Warren avenue at Havenhill road, for a 12:30 o'clock tea followed by a double bouquet: a dried flower arrangements demonstration by Mack Dried Flower Symposium and "Pack Your Bag — We're Going on a Trip" by American Air Lines. Assisting Mrs. L. G. Elliot, tea chairman, will be vice-chairman Mrs. James Bostick.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

At a recent Town Hall meeting sponsored by the LWV, several questions about the Cul-de-sac program were asked of the city officials. Some of the responses and comments were interesting and we will discuss them in this and future articles.

First, many of the questions at the meeting dealt with traffic problems, tree replacement for the elms and property values. If you have read our brochure in the Community Development program, you might have noticed that we discussed these very same topics. In brief, the Cul-de-sacs, wherever they are finally placed, will be directly effective in reducing traffic in residential streets. The Cul-de-sacs are also proposed as "mini parks" thus adding another bit of greenery to the block/community. They are a perfect spot to plant additional trees for ill to enjoy.

Using this Cul-de-sac idea to reduce traffic, making selected streets safer and quieter; and by adding to the attractiveness of a street with more green space, we feel that property values will appreciate. A comparison of homes now on Cul-de-sacs streets versus similar homes in thru-streets shows that the homes in Cul-de-sacs command a higher price.

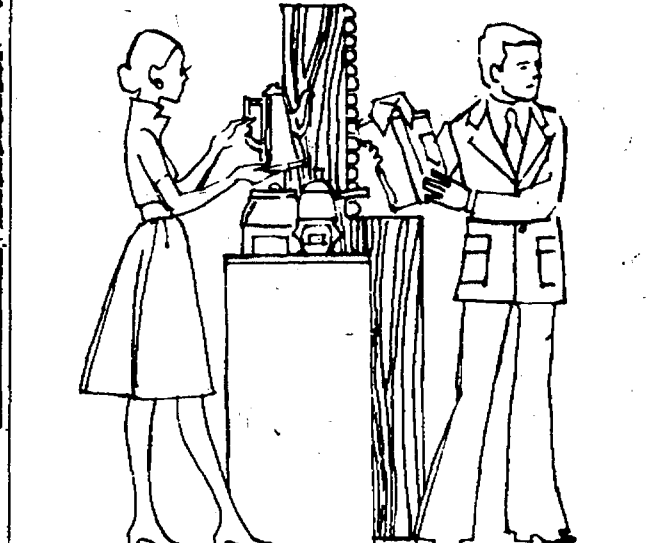

We aren't proposing the program as a cure all. We do feel that the problems and one that could be incorporated at relatively low cost.

Why not call us and we may be able to answer any questions you have about the program. Call us at 882-0087.

SUN SPOT — ARUBA
ARUBA — 72-square miles in size and 15 miles off the coast of South America. It takes about three hours to explore the tranquil beaches that offer all water sports and beautiful coral reefs to explore by snorkeling and scuba diving, with sunken ships for the experts. Tennis is also available at several hotels. Horseback riding is becoming very popular along the beaches and through the countryside, which is remarkably like the American West, with its tall cactus and gigantic boulders. Duty free shopping along Nibsastraat's six blocks is exciting for liquor, cameras, watches, perfume, china and linens. Also, Aruba has several gambling casinos.

Excellent charter values depart weekly at your choice of hotels from luxury to native comfort. For suntan information, contact the Sun Desk at TRAVELWORLD, 21127 Mack Avenue, 882-8190.

Thieves Visit Liggett School

Several articles were taken from a classroom closet at University Liggett School, 850 Briarcliff road, according to a report received by Woods police on Tuesday, October 18. The missing items had a combined, total value of $870.

They include a stereo tape recorder, one speaker, $300; a stereo record player, $200; a filmstrip projector, $200; a filmstrip previewer, $10; a slide attachment for filmstrip projections, $10; and a cassette tape recorder and microphone, $150.

The school also reported two previous larceny incidents this month.

In one case, a pocket calculator and a gym mat were taken.

St. Paul Forms Parish Group

Saint Paul's Parish is trying to form a Young Adults Group and will kick-off the campaign with a Halloween Party on Saturday, October 29, at the Parish House, 375 Lothrop road, at 8 p.m.

In addition to the party, the group has scheduled a one-day retreat for Sunday, November 13, from 4 to 10 p.m.

Saint Paul's records show there are almost 1,000 parishioners between the ages of 18 and 25 years.

Anyone interested in the group should call Dennis Boyle at 885-5950, Linda Leone at 882-0028 or Kathy Michalik at 885-7022.

Democrats Set Two Meetings

The Grosse Pointe Democratic Women's Discussion Group will turn its attention to Hedrick Smith's best seller, "The Russians," on Tuesday, November 1, at the home of Alice Fine, in Grayton road. The discussion will begin at 7:45 p.m.

Esther Glasser, Gloria Meyers and Sydney Vetter will lead the discussion of the book that gives "a picture of what makes the Soviet Union tick..." according to the "New York Times."

A daytime group also is planning to meet once a month to continue further discussion of programs or topics in the news at Ernestine Motte's home, in Whittier road.

The next meeting for the day group is Thursday, November 17, at 1 p.m.

New members or guests are welcome to participate. For further information, call chairperson Susie B. Lewis at 886-4415.

Annual Meeting of PWP Slated

The general meeting of the Grosse Pointe chapter of Parents Without Partners, (PWP), will be held Friday, October 28, at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road. Coffee hours begins at 7:30 p.m. and the general meeting at 8:30.

Elections of new officers and directors for 1978 will be held before the meeting. The speaker will be Reverend Jack Boland of the Unity Church.

Reverend Boland is a popular speaker in this area, and covers religious topics as well as the problems of single parents, says PWP.

The installation of the new officers and directors for 1978 will take place at a fund raising dance at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, 655 Cook road, on Friday, November 11, at 8:30 p.m.

The dance is open to single parents, prospective members of PWP, members and alumnae. Dress is semi-formal. Grosse Pointe member tickets are $4 and guest tickets are $5. Proceeds from this event will go toward the annual children's Christmas party and dinner.

For further information, call Thelma Pollard at 885-2232 or Gail Rusche at 884-3863.

Residency in one of the Pointes is not a prerequisite for membership in the Pointe chapter of PWP.

North Girls Drop Meet

North High School's girls varsity swim team lost its first dual meet of the year to Our Lady of Mercy of Farmington, 91-75, last week.

Sophomore Jennie Elie won the 50-yard freestyle, qualifying for state cut at 26.1. Judy Olson was the top diver as she established a pool record with a 183.0 score in the one-meter event.

Freshman Frances Shook won two events, both of them pool and varsity records. She went 1:12.0 in the 100-yard breaststroke and 2:18.7 in the 200-yard individual medley. Both times qualified Frances for state cut, and improved her rankings.

North now stands at 3-1 on the year.

Dreamy Fashions . . . are found in the Lingerie Department of Walton-Pierce. There is a brand new collection of quilted satin robes in shades of rose, pink, white and heavenly blues. There is also a very new soft bluish beige. Some are trimmed with lace, others have interesting quilt patterns including cord-quilt. There are many lovely styles from which to choose. A soft fleece quilt is patterned with flowers. Something very new is a polyester fluff robe that is as cuddly as a teddy bear and cozy warm as well. For those of you who like the look and feel of nylon satin de lys, a classic wrap robe comes in luscious peach or rich peridot green. There are gowns in several styles that coordinate. An excellent choice for travel! Of course, there are gown and robe sets both long and short. Everything from pretty lace trimmed nylon in pink, peach, white or blue . . . to fresh white cotton and nylon printed with rose or blue . . . to marabou lavished robes and gowns in cafe au lait, white or black. One of the most elegant robe and gown ensembles is ivory and silky with delicate tucking and lace details.

A handsome cabinet design by Coppes features white elm, burl, Bolivian rosewood or Pecky pecan center panels in solid hardwood frames of maple, cherry or oak finished to match or highlight the beauty of these exotic woods. These cabinets would add elegance to a wall of storage units in dining room, den or family room. See them at Mutschler Kitchens, 20227 Mack Avenue, 884-3700.

Buffaloes, Bears, Squirrels, Otters and others all plush furry and full of warmth from Dakin are at the Squirrel's Nest, 19819 Mack Avenue.

Night Lights . . . see the new selection at the Notre Dame Pharmacy. Plug in a pretty butterfly, a Christmas tree, Santa or a doll. Lasts 50,000 hours. Priced $2.25.

Disney World and the Magic Kingdom have to be the world's greatest entertainment showcase. For $249 each, you can enjoy accommodations, airfare and use of a car. Travel-wise Travelers Always Ask for Mr. Q., 886-0500.

Thinking You'd Like To Update Your Jewelry? . . . Tony Cuetor of Bijouterie is the man to see. If you inherited family jewelry and do not like the designs, if you are divorced and would like your engagement ring made into a dinner ring, Tony Cuetor can design a beautiful one-of-a-kind ring for you . . . or a new pendant or earrings. We know many of his very satisfied customers who are wearing their new look jewelry proudly. There is also a selection of mountings and loose stones from which to choose at Bijouterie, 19860 Mack Avenue.

Super Cowl . . . If you missed owning a cowl neck sweater last year, join the fashionables and add one to your wardrobe. Cashmere, small, medium and large in green, light blue, light gray, yellow and oatmeal. You'll find them in Martha's Closet, 375 Fisher Road.

Something Lovely . . . in a 100% wool Karastan rug? Come to Ed Maliszewski Carpet, 21435 Mack Avenue and see the great selection of solid colors and the wide variety of carvings including a Greek Key or Twining Rope for borders or edges. You can almost custom design your own rug and there's only a five week wait . . . 776-5511.

Remember how your jewelry sparkled when it was new? . . . It can sparkle like that again. Now thru Election Day, Nov. 8, Charterhouse will give you a complimentary jar of our special jewelry cleaner, and some helpful pointers about the care and cleaning of your jewelry. Charterhouse & Co "in the Village."

Chinese Cashmere . . . V neck pullovers in luscious lemon, raspberry and true blue at Hartley's Country Lane along with new holiday woollens by Pendleton, 20641 Mack Avenue.

Limited Editions . . . Those who are familiar with the art of ceramics will recognize the fine quality of Tay birds and would treasure one as a gift. They are imported from Italy and are now on display at Pierson Interiors-East, 377 Fisher Road Mews.

Woods Optical Studios . . . 19599 Mack Avenue says "Faces that are thin thru the lower half such as the diamond or heart shapes look great with frames that lean toward trapezoid shape. The extra fullness at the lower part of the frame does a magical balancing act for you." 882-9711.

RON RUEL . . . says "This is the super natural era of hair. Hair that is alive with highlights and shine. This may be achieved through a variety of treatments. One is Natural Henna which conditions and adds bulk to hair." For those who want a super natural look call Ron at ultima 881-0182 for an appointment.

Confused on where to travel this fall and winter? Stop by TRAVELWORLD and pick up your free copy of "Adventures in Travel" and help solve your cold weather blahs. Located at 21127 Mack (N. of Vernier) or call 882-8190.

Window Shopping At Wicker World . . . "the naturals" are in! Bar cart, butter, bed trays, snack tables from Rubel. For that special child . . . a bentwood rocker, $65 . . . 20643 Mack Avenue.

It's Not Too Soon . . . to be planning on new arrangements for the holidays or sprucing up last year's. Sweeney's Flowers would like to work with you now on custom arrangements. Feel free to bring in things you would like to have redone or favorite containers for new one . . . 19271 Mack Avenue with plentiful free parking in the rear. TU 1-8300.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. JOSEPH H. PERRY, III, OF LEWISTON ROAD

By Janet Mueller

"We're antiques before we even get started," one of the Perry sons said, and the rest of the family laughed . . . and agreed. Consider Marian's family: ancestors on her mother's side were masons, and built three of the stone houses at Valley Forge before they were driven farther west by the British.

Her father's family emigrated to Pennsylvania from Connecticut, where they were importers of pewter from England before the Revolution. As for Dr. Perry: he is descended from one of the first shoe manufacturers in the Colonies.

Marian is from Mifflintown, a "very small place" in the heart of Pennsylvania Dutch country. Her husband is from Bryn Mawr.

They've been Pointers since Charles was in kindergarten. They moved here after Dr. Perry, a specialist in Internal Medicine, completed his training at the Cleveland Clinic.

Charles is a big boy now, an Albion graduate studying for his Doctorate in Industrial Psychology at Colorado State University.

Joseph Perry, IV, who took Automotive Marketing at Northwood Institute, has just entered a training program with Triple A.

Pretty modern professions for a couple of antiques . . . but then their parents have never been behind glass, either.

"I wish I were about three people," Marian muses. As one, she's been doing all right. She's a Registered Nurse who has taught Nursing Education, and helps out in her husband's office when needed.

Active in Schools She used to be very active in the Grosse Pointe schools, serving as president of the South High Mothers Club, chairing the Millage campaign for South High and the Study Program on South High's needs.

She's entered the Docent Program at the Detroit Institute of Arts, which is a pretty heavy commitment, involving courses at Wayne State University plus lots of time at the museum.

"I speak about two days a week at the Art Institute. I give the Ancient Art Tour this year . . . I'd love to have American Art, but for that you have to stand in line."

And she's chairman of exhibitors, one of the two "big" chairmen, (the other is Mrs. John A. Bartlett, of Birmingham, chairman of committees), for the 30th Annual Antiques Market and Sale sponsored by the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries.

Open November 9 The Market opens Wednesday evening, November 9, at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn, with a 7 to 10 o'clock invitational champagne preview, admission by advance $15-per-person donation only.

It runs Thursday and Friday, November 10 and 11, from 10 in the morning to 10 in the evening, and Saturday, November 12, from 10 to 6 o'clock. Admission donation is $2 at the door.

It's always been a big and beautiful, prestigious show. This year, it will be equally beautiful, equally prestigious—and bigger than ever. "I feel," says Marian, "that the dealers really make the show."

She doesn't mean to downgrade other features. The Country Store, for instance, offering delectable candies, cheeses and pecans. Marian's own first assignment for a Junior Goodwill Antiques Market and Sale was the chairmanship of the Country Store.

Or the Pantry Shelf, a favorite shopping place for Antiques Market patrons, featuring jams, jellies, pickles, chili sauce, relishes, salad dressings and spaghetti sauce, plus a Bakery Counter: everything homemade by Goodwill Juniors.

Marian, who loves to cook—her specialties are desserts—put up some 1977 chili and fruit sauce at a Pantry Shelf canning bee.

Has Unusual Items Or the Boutique, which stocks unusual gift items, unique Christmas decorations—and a beautiful, handmade quilt.

Or Goodwill's own booth, which features antiques, collectibles and items of quality gathered by Goodwill during the year.

Or the catalogue, a "star" attraction in itself, with its floor plan of the exhibits, list of dealers and advertisers and special interest articles. For the past three years, those articles have been signed "Marian Perry."

Last year, she focussed on clocks. She's also spotlighted a friend's inkwell collection, and her own pressed glass collection, started by her grandmother, continued by her mother, then divided three ways, between Marian and her two sisters, each of whom continued and expanded her portion.

Help Mom Collect The Perry sons pick up goblets for their mother when they go on trips. "Now my niece, who lives in Grosse Pointe, has her mother's collection, and is starting to collect herself."

Marian also collects bird sculptures. Paintings throughout the Perry home are very much family pieces: the majority were done by Joe's mother, an outstanding landscape marine artist who, at the age of 93, is still painting.

There were cabinet makers among Marian's ancestors, too. Her family history is literally entwined with that of Colonial America. "Six of my mother's family houses are on the Historical Society Tour. We just had a book printed, a history of the family, for the Bicentennial Year."

When Marian and Joe vacation, they generally head back east. "I think I know all the antique shops between here and Connecticut," Marian smiles.

"Joe is a Civil War buff, so he visits battlefields . . . and I go antiquing."

As chairman of exhibitors for the 1977 Junior Group of Goodwill Industries' Antiques Market and Sale, Marian's been making full use of her antiquer background.

Book 52 Dealers

Fifty-two dealers—"more than we've ever had"—will be represented in this year's show. They're coming from 14 states. One, Gerald Casimir, is coming from England; his headquarters are in St. John's Wood, London.

Marian's made a special effort to secure a varied selection. "We'll have brass beds, and the most outstanding quilt dealer in the United States . . . and a doll collector, and antique toys and trains, and silver and bronze, and a marvelous pewter dealer . . ."

And, of course, lots of Country and Early American furniture, and Early American art.

Two antique jewelry dealers will be among the exhibitors. There'll be a superb group of Oriental porcelains, a collection of antique tools . . . literally anything-and-everything—even antique toothpicks!

And Marian's favorite pressed glass dealer, from Philadelphia.

"We'll have lots of small, decorative items, priced for the new, young collector." Marian has insisted on that. But she's not forgotten the advanced collector, for whom Junior Goodwill's Antiques Market-Sale is a treasure trove of exclusive, and expensive, showcase items.

Emphasize Quality

The common denominator is quality. If it costs $25 or $2,500 . . . it will be worth it. "I really think," says Marian, "this is going to be one of the best shows in Michigan."

"We're encouraging people to come in groups. We have three busloads scheduled already, including one from Grand Rapids. We serve lunch, you know; the girls, (Goodwill Juniors), make it, and it's really good!"

Luncheon will be served daily until 2:30 o'clock in the Ice Cream Parlor, which will be open during show hours, serving coffee and dessert until closing time.

Fairlane Manor will offer an Antiques' Supper in the North VIP Room Thursday and Friday, from 4 until 8 o'clock.

Other show features include antique treasure prizes, a "Cars of Yesterday" lobby exhibit and lectures Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons, at 2 o'clock.

available. For a late lunch or early dinner you may choose from our $2.95 menu served from 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Dinner menu available if desired. If you are planning a small party from 10 to 70 people, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings are available. Call 371-2484 . . . 10721 Whittier.

Grub Street—A Bookery is featuring quality art, cook and craft books at unbelievably low prices. They also purchase and appraise libraries and books. 15038 Mack, 824-8874.

The Big Loader does a big job for the junior construction worker. This motorized set is a great gift for little builders ages 5 to 11. See it at The School Bell, 17010 Mack Ave.

MR. and MRS. CHRISTOPHER M. FISCHER, of Bay-side, Wis., announce the birth of a son NICHOLAS GODIN FISCHER September 10. MRS. FISCHER is the daughter of MR. and MRS. CLIFFORD A. GODIN, of Lochmoor boulevard. Paternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. NORMAN J. FISCHER, of Mequon, Wis. Other Fischers include DANIEL, age seven years, MOLLY, five years and ERIN, one and a half years.

DR. and MRS. THEODORE C. HADGIS, of Wedgewood drive, announce the birth of their first child, JAMES CONSTANTINE August 4. Maternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. JAMES ALEXON, of Fair Lake lane. Paternal grandparents are the CONSTANTINE HADGIKOSTI, of Crestwood drive.

Pointer DOUG BROWN recently participated in the Dakota Day and Coronation festivities held at the University of South Dakota in Vermillion, S.D.

Smith College senior ANDREA ROUMELLE, daughter of MR. and MRS. GEORGE ROUMELLE, JR., of Lakepointe avenue, has been elected division representative in the humanities for the Smith curriculum committee for 1977-78. A member of Gold Key, a volunteer organization that assists the admissions office by giving campus tours, Ms. Roumelle has also served on her house council, as news editor for the college newspaper and as a volunteer with Service Organizations of Smith.

Navy Data Processing Technician First Class MARTIN J. LAFAYE, son of MR. and MRS. ALBERT J. LAFAYE, of Moross road, recently visited Brindisi, Italy as a crewmember aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence. His ship is operating as a unit of the United States Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Honorary chairmen of the Antiques Market and Sale this year are Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Macdonald and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. McCarthy.

Chairman of patrons, in charge of the champagne preview, is Mrs. John W. Hamel, of University place.

Floor Plan All Set Deadline for dealer contracts for this year's show was May 15. The floor plan is set. Now all Marian Perry has to do is move the dealers in, and move them out . . .

And enjoy the show. As she's been doing for years, even before she joined the Goodwill Juniors in 1970. "I had so many friends who were in Junior Goodwill, I decided I would like to be a part of the group they were a part of."

The opportunity to work on the Antiques Market and Sale was, of course, a major attraction for antique buff Marian, but the reason for the show—to raise funds for League for the Handicapped-Goodwill Industries—is the reason she's a Goodwill Junior.

Marian believes in the League-Goodwill's work. Her Junior Group of women volunteers was founded in 1933 to further that work, and to assist the agency's clients. In the past 44 years, the Juniors have raised and contributed more than three-quarters of a million dollars.

Funds Have Many Uses The money has been used for building repairs at League-Goodwill facilities, and for medication, insurance, school tuitions and equip-

Kathy Makes Her Theatre Arts Debut

The "Mrs. Phillips" who appeared as Janet in Theatre Arts Club of Detroit's first production of the 1977-78 season, a performance of William Marchant's three-act drama "To Be Continued," was Kathy (Mrs. Douglas S.), NOT Marguerite (Mrs. Diamond T.).

They are related: Kathy is Marguerite's daughter-in-law. Marguerite is, as you know, current president of the all-woman drama club . . . and VERY PROUD of Kathy, who joined Theatre Arts just last August and did a very creditable job in her debut performance.

Judi Opens Her Walnut Shell

The stories began with and for her own children. "On Christmas Eve," explains Judi (Mrs. David) Zak, of St. Clair avenue, "they were supposed to help a mouse named Not Even keep the creatures 'all through the house'—including themselves—quiet, so Santa could arrive on time."

"A Most Crooked Christmas Tree became a most cherished tree to them when its history eventually unfolded."

Now Judi, a member of the Grosse Pointe Academy faculty since 1974, presently teaching Art, pre-school through grade eight, has written down "The Secret Gift of Not Even, The Mouse," and the story of "A Most Crooked Christmas Tree," and illustrated them, and is presenting them in time for Christmas giving as "Selections in a Walnut Shell."

She's bringing the stories that delighted Alisa Zak, seven now, Cynthia, six, and Thad, four, to other children for their enjoyment. "I hope," she says "that reader and listener alike feel invited to 'drop in' to a given pocket of space: for exploring possibilities and making conjectures."

"When combining this magic ingredient of their own imagination, it is my express wish that the results will be new discoveries with each reading."

Note on the Author: Judi was born in Toledo, graduated from Toledo Central Catholic High School, attended Notre Dame College, Cleveland, and received a Bachelor of Education degree, (her specialty was Educable Mentally Retarded Children), from the University of Toledo. She did graduate work at Bowling Green State University and taught Educable Mentally Retarded Children in Toledo's Washington Local School District until Alisa arrived, in 1970. The Zaks moved to Grosse Pointe in 1974.

Harvest Time for Fontbonne Friends

Friends and members of the Fontbonne Auxiliary of Saint John Hospital gather Wednesday, November 9, in Saint John's Center for Health Education.

Occasion is Fontbonne's annual Harvest Card Party, an always-enjoyable autumn evening. Play begins at 7 o'clock. Desserts, cheese and crackers and fruits, plus beverages, will be served.

The prize list is, per tradition, fabulous. General co-chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Kraus remind ladies that husbands are most welcome . . . after all, men like to play cards too, so why limit a super night to a single sex?

Tickets are $5 per person. Proceeds will be used for the hospital's Neonatal Intensive Care Unit. Reservations may be made by contacting the Fontbonne office, 881-8200, Extension 545.

ment for rehabilitation services benefitting the agency's mentally, socially and/or physically handicapped clients.

The Group has helped finance the purchase of equipment used by Goodwill to manufacture insulation fiber from old newspapers, sold in retail outlets throughout the metropolitan area, and supports Saint Ambrose Home, a live-in facility for mentally retarded women who were formerly institutionalized.

Juniors are also active in conducting the Jolly Cheers, a social program for clients of League-Goodwill.

Juniors are active, period: unless you're willing to work—but the reward is commensurate to the commitment.

Ask Marian Perry. She's spent a year working on "her" show. She thinks—she really thinks—it's going to be one of the best in Michigan.

It's her baby, and she's proud of it.

FARMS LOCATION. All brick custom built ranch, formal dining room, living room, family room, large kitchen, two bedrooms, bath and a half. Two and one half car attached garage. See why we're so excited about this one by seeing for yourself.

WHAT SO MANY WANT is a little house with large rooms, and most importantly that master suite on the first floor. Tonnancour Road has always been popular, and it is houses like this one that made it so. Upstairs are three bedrooms and two full baths. To complement the formal living room and dining rooms is a step-down garden room. Attached garage and sprinkler system are just two of the many conveniences.

A HOUSE FOR ALL REASONS is this deceiving property on the curve of Woodland Shores. For the family that desires first floor bedrooms, there are two. For those who want bedrooms on the second floor, there are four. If a separate apartment within the house is necessary, this has one. Have you always wanted a greenhouse? One comes with our house. How about spending some leisure time around your own swimming pool? We have one here. The large family room has a window wall which faces the pool and patio. The above should be reason enough to see 85 Woodland Shores.

ENJOY CONDOMINIUM living at its best in a fabulous colonial building in Shorepointe. This spacious, two bedroom apartment has a large sitting room off the master bedroom and a large formal dining room. The two-story living room is most impressive with its French fireplace and high ceiling.

TUCKED AWAY at the end of a deadend street in the Shores, and just a block from the lake is this farm colonial with something for everyone. Custom built for the present owner, it has a sumptuous master suite on the main floor. Upstairs are three spacious bedrooms and two baths. The enormous living room features a cathedral ceiling with open rafters, fireplace and wide bay windows. The early American family room also has a fireplace, wet bar and random width, oak pegged floors. Two lavatories are on the main floor and a large utility room contains the laundry and plenty of cupboard storage. A formal dining room and wide, brick entry foyer welcome you to this magnificent home. See it while the swimming pool is still open.

EVERY SO OFTEN there is an opportunity to buy a house in the Farms which is located just a block to Hill shopping, both public and Parochial schools and a bus line. Combine these features with a price tag under $30,000 and it's a happening. The exterior of this two bedroom house has been wrapped in aluminum, as has the garage.

Free Diabetes Tests Offered

Free testing for diabetes will be available at 141 hospitals and laboratories throughout Michigan during Diabetes Detection Week, November 6 through 12. The testing is offered as a service of the American Diabetes Ass'n., Michigan Affiliate, and cooperating hospitals.

Bon Secours Hospital, 468 Cadieux road, will offer the tests on Monday, November 7, through Friday, November 11, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Cottage Hospital, 159 Kercheval avenue, will hold testing on Wednesday, November 9, through November 11 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

The tests also will be offered at Saint John Hospital, 22101 Moross road, on Tuesday, November 8, through Thursday, November 10, from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

Diabetes is the third leading cause of death in the United States. It is the leading cause of new blindness, and a major cause of heart attack and kidney failure.

Since early detection and treatment can prevent serious complications, everyone is encouraged to take advantage of the free blood test. It takes only a few minutes, and will be done by a professional laboratory technician.

Persons who run a high risk of developing diabetes are those over 40 years old, overweight persons, the relatives of diabetics or mothers of children weighing nine pounds or more at birth. However, anyone at any age can become a diabetic. It is estimated that Michigan has nearly a half million diabetics.

The more common symptoms of diabetes are excessive thirst, frequent urination, constant hunger, loss of weight, itching, tiring easily, blurring vision and slow healing of cuts and scratches. The disease, however, can be present without symptoms.

The free testing is limited to those over 18 years old who have not previously been diagnosed as having diabetes.

To assure an accurate test, a big meal which is heavy in starches and sugars should be eaten about two hours before. The meal should be eaten within a 15-minute time period and nothing else except water should be taken before the test.

CITY OF Grosse Pointe Farms MICHIGAN

Summary of The Minutes October 17, 1977

The Regular Meeting was called to order at 8:00 p.m.

Present on Roll Call: Mayor James H. Dingeman, Councilman Harry R. Fruehauf, Jr., Jack M. Cudlipp, Nancy J. Waugaman, Joseph L. Fromm, W. James Mast and Lloyd A. Sample.

Those Absent Were: None
Mayor James H. Dingeman presided at the meeting.

The Minutes of the Regular Meeting which was held on October 3, 1977 were accepted as corrected. The Minutes of the Closed Meeting which was held on October 3, 1977 were accepted as submitted.

The Council, acting as the Zoning Board of Appeals, granted the appeal of Jones and Reichert Enterprises regarding the premises located at 18412 Mack Avenue and the recently acquired premises located at 18408 Mack Avenue by approving a variance from the required number of on-site parking spaces, thereby allowing issuance of a Building Permit for the renovation of the professional offices located at the foregoing addresses.

Following a Public Hearing on the matter, the Council adopted a resolution officially enacting Code No. 11-10 Ordinance No. 215, an Amendment to the City's Property Maintenance Ordinance.

The Council adopted a resolution scheduling a Public Hearing before the Zoning Board of Appeals at 8:00 p.m., on November 7, 1977, if the appellant demonstrates the desire to pursue such appeal by contacting the City Clerk in sufficient time to meet legal requirements for giving notice, for the purpose of hearing the appeal of Rose Terrace, Incorporated from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Permit for the construction of a rear basement entrance stairway in the residence currently being constructed on Lot No. 15 of the Rose Terrace Sub-division.

The Council adopted a resolution scheduling a Public Hearing before the Zoning Board of Appeals at 8:00 p.m. on November 7, 1977, for the purpose of hearing the appeal of Mr. Danny Lee from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Permit for the construction of an addition to the rear of his house located at 226 Fisher Road.

The Council adopted a resolution amending the proposed new Section 15.14 of the City Charter as recommended by the Michigan Attorney General's Office.

The Council adopted a resolution approving the Amendment to the Agreement to Lease between the City and the United States Postal Service pertaining to the parking lot adjacent to the United States Post Office located at 18640 Mack Avenue.

The Council adopted a resolution enacting Ordinance No. 216, "An Ordinance to add to Chapter 5, Sections 8 and 9 of the General Ordinances of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms."

The Council adopted a resolution enacting Ordinance No. 217, "AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE THE INSTALLATION, ALTERATION, REPAIR, SERVICING, MAINTENANCE AND USE OF ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT IN THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE FARMS; TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF PERMITS AND COLLECTION OF FEES THEREFOR, FOR INSPECTION OF ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT, AND FOR THE LICENSING OF ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS, MASTER ELECTRICIANS AND JOURNEYMEN; AND TO REPEAL ORDINANCE NO. 133."

The Council adopted a resolution enacting Ordinance No. 218, "AN ORDINANCE TO ADD SECTIONS 5, 6, 7, and 8 TO ORDINANCE NUMBER 217 BEING AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE THE INSTALLATION, ALTERATION, REPAIR, SERVICING, MAINTENANCE AND USE OF ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT IN THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE FARMS; TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF PERMITS AND COLLECTION OF FEES THEREFOR, FOR INSPECTION OF ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT, AND FOR LICENSING OF ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS, MASTER ELECTRICIANS AND JOURNEYMEN; AND TO AMEND THE NATIONAL ELECTRICAL CODE, 1978."

The Council adopted a resolution authorizing the Administration to proceed with the necessary arrangements for the 29th Annual Employee-Management Meeting to be held on Thursday, November 10, 1977.

The Council adopted a resolution approving the low bid of the Chausse Manufacturing Company, in the total amount of $2,154.00, for the purchase of a road repair kettle.

The following Reports were received by the Council and ordered placed on file:

- Building Department Report for the quarter which ended September 30, 1977.
- Fire Department Report for the month of September, 1977.
- Police Department Report for the month of September, 1977.

Upon proper motion made, supported and carried, the meeting adjourned at 11:00 p.m.

Steiner Gives Progress Report on Sewer Work

Wayne County Commissioner Ervin A. Steiner Jr., who represents the Pointes and eastside Detroit areas where severe flooding occurred last summer, has announced a progress report on plans for sewer improvement which will eliminate that danger, according to a board of commissioners news release.

A $200,000 study underway on the problem is leading to an enlarged drain with increased water-carrying capacity, and separation of waste water and storm water sewers, Mr. Steiner reported.

He said he was told by the county drain commissioner that when the Fox Creek drain project is completed it will prevent flooding as bad as any that has occurred in the affected areas in the last 100 years.

The Fox Creek drain roughly parallels Lake St. Clair — Detroit River shoreline along the Pointes and eastside Detroit.

The study, he said, is being conducted by Consulting Engineering Associates, a Detroit engineering firm, and is financed five percent by the state, 20 percent with a Wayne County drain bond issue and 75 percent by the Federal Environmental Protection Agency, (EPA).

Originally the study was planned for completion December 15, but since that date was established the EPA widened its scope to consider Fox Creek together with several other projects that it is developing in southeastern Michigan.

"I would like to give a new date for completing the study, and even furnish one for the start of construction, but all that depends on the EPA," Mr. Steiner remarked. "It is impossible to project these details without knowing how the EPA will fit Fox Creek into its regional design."

"However, even without these details it is reassuring to know that work is proceeding steadily on the project that will keep our basements dry under the worst circumstances."

Mr. Steiner predicted, "If it's true that the finished project would be able to handle the worst floods we've had in the past 100 years, then it should protect us for at least another 100 years."

"I remember complaints from people who said they had up to four feet of water in their basements. I don't want that to happen again."

According to the drain commissioner, said Mr. Steiner, the construction investment in Fox Creek will amount to many millions of dollars.

"It will be worth every penny," he added.

North Chills South Lake

By Joe Saryc

North High School's Varsity football team took advantage of a warm and dry afternoon Friday, October 21, as they blasted the Cavaliers of South Lake, 28-6.

It was all Norsemen right from the beginning as North's defense immediately forced South Lake to punt on the first set of plays. When the Norsemen got the ball, they went right to work.

Steve Arthur started the drive with a 16-yard run to the South Lake 27-yard line. Quarterback Harry Gemuend then connected with Bruce Stafford for a 27-yard touchdown pass giving North a 7-0 lead following Karl Tech's extra point.

After stopping the Cavalier offense again, the green and gold started to advance when Stafford ran for 10 yards and added another 14 on a pass from Gemuend. Steve Arthur then broke through for the touchdown and the Norsemen upped their lead to 14-0.

The Cavaliers didn't give up, however, as they put together a touchdown drive later in the second quarter. Nino Buonbrisco spearheaded the drive, but the Cavs only saw six points go up on the board, due to a missed extra point attempt.

In the second half, South Lake's momentum came back as the Norsemen started out with another touchdown drive. Running backs Arthur and Stafford moved the ball down the field on several runs with Stafford finally scoring and Tech hit his third extra point.

North's defense then took over again and didn't let South Lake go anywhere. Mark Pfeffer, John Haase, Mike McBrien and Rick Stratek all contributed key tackles and Clay Ottom added to the Norsemen effort by blocking a South Lake punt.

The Norsemen backfield also came through with several key plays including interceptions by John Pierick, Rob Stewart and Bob Piche.

Later in the fourth quarter, North added another seven points on a 30-yard touchdown run by Gemuend.

Work Started on Parking Lot

It's going to cost The City $11,888 to get its newly acquired plot of land behind Kercheval avenue in shape for customer parking for the Christmas shopping season.

Souter Asphalt Paving Co. was awarded the job of paving the area, on the west side of St. Clair avenue north of Kercheval, at a cost of $10,438.

Before the lot is paved, however, The City will have to pay another $1,450 to Shock Brothers, Inc., to remove the trees in the area.

Both bids were accepted by the council at its Monday, October 17 meeting.

Shock Brothers was underbid by $270 by Hearnese Tree Service for the removal job, but that low price was rejected by the council because Hearnese did not meet insurance specifications.

To expedite the project and meet the Christmas-season deadline The City administration polled council members in advance of the meeting on the bid award, according to City Manager Thomas Kressbach.

Work by Shock Brothers on the lot actually began before the council formally met.

The City acquired the new lot in a land swap deal with the Neighborhood Club. The City purchased land adjacent to the club in August, then traded it in September for the club-owned piece of property that is now being developed.

The new lot should add at least 45 parking spaces behind Kercheval.

'Don Juan' Set By New Group

George Bernard Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell" will be the first 1977-78 presentation of The Circle Theater, the new dramatic group from the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, 17150 Maumee avenue. The production will be presented next month.

"Don Juan in Hell" is the third act of Shaw's "Man and Superman," but is often given as a dramatic separate play. The play features all of the Shavian humor, wit and profundity which makes him one of the most admired of modern English playwrights.

In this Circle Theater production, the readers are Council Cargle, Judy Tapp, Bill Reading and Norma Moniak. Ms. Moniak also serves as director and founder of the Circle Players.

The play will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 3, 4 and 5, at 8:30 p.m. in the chapel of the church.

Tickets are priced at $3.50 and may be purchased at the door, or they may be reserved by calling the church at 881-0420. Wine and cheese will be served as refreshments.

ULS Conquers Lutheran East

By Mike Merlo

The University School, (ULS), varsity football team put together one of its most outstanding performances of the year in beating Lutheran East, 34-19, under the lights of their own turf.

First quarter action saw John Engel make several key drives to set John Doerer up for ULS's first touchdown. The conversion attempt failed. Lutheran East then scored to go ahead 7-6.

Nearing the end of the first half, Doerer came up with two key 20-yard runs to set Will Hummel up for the first of his three touchdowns. Then, a fake kick for the extra point was turned into a 15-yard run for two points by holder Bill Fleischmann. ULS led 14-7 at the half.

Midway through the third quarter, Mike Malloch made a long punt return for ULS setting up Hummel for his second touchdown of 28 yards.

Lutheran East failed to give up and scored twice. With four and a half minutes left, the score was 21-19. Unfortunately for East, ULS in the last four minutes drove home two more touchdowns, one by Engel and the other by Hummel, who now has over 1,150 yards for the season.

The win gives ULS a 6-1 record for the season with a good chance of a Metro Conference championship if it defeats Detroit Country Day School on Saturday, October 29.

NHS Harriers Win Meet

By Karen Nickoloff

North High School's Harriers defeated South High and Lakeview at a tri-school meet Tuesday, October 18. A cloudy day at Three Mile Park was the setting for North's eighth win in which the team defeated both clubs with scores of 15-49, (Lakeview), and 15-48 (South).

In the varsity race, Dave Denis of North set a new course record with a time of 14:56. Coming in second was Steve Brandt at 15:01. He was followed by Ed Hammer, 15:14, Wright Wilson, fourth, 15:24, Paul Lewis, fifth, 15:31, John Bucacink, sixth, 16:01, and Tom Fenton, 10th, 16:32.

North's junior varsity team also ran away with a victory. Finishing first was Jim Schmidt at 15:20. He was followed by Dave Hofmann, 15:54, Steve Lugo, third, 15:58, Ron Fergie, fourth, 16:00, Dave Schepeke, fifth, 16:23, and Chris Lynch, sixth, 16:30.

There also was a freshmen race in which North totaled 27 points to South's 29. Jerry Stitzel won the race with a time of 16:34. John Platt of South was second at 17:03, followed by teammate Jeff Peterson at 17:25. Marc Rolan of North was fourth at 17:33, Brian Vier, fifth, 17:56, and Rick Stout, eighth, 18:08.

On Saturday, October 29, the harriers will travel to Metro Beach for the state regionals beginning at 10 a.m. Then on Wednesday, Nov. 2, the Bi-County championship will take place at Huron Park. This begins at 3 p.m.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City Council will be considering the following proposed ordinances for second reading and final adoption at its meeting scheduled for November 7, 1977. The proposed ordinances are available for public inspection at the Municipal Building, 20025 Mack Avenue, between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Proposed ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND TITLE IX, CHAPTER 1, SECTION 9-1-4 OF THE CITY CODE OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE WOODS OF 1975 ENTITLED UNIFORM TRAFFIC CODE.

THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE WOODS ORDAINS:

SECTION 1. That Title IX, Chapter 1, Section 9-1-4 of the City Code of the City of Grosse Pointe Woods of 1975 entitled Uniform Traffic Code be amended by deleting subsection (C) entitled "Parking Between Sidewalk and Street Curbing".

SECTION 2. EFFECTIVE DATE: This Ordinance shall become effective twenty (20) days after the date of enactment.

Proposed ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND TITLE IX, CHAPTER 3 OF THE CITY CODE OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE WOODS OF 1975 ENTITLED "PARKING" BY ADDING THERETO A SECTION PROVIDING REGULATIONS FOR PARKING BETWEEN THE SIDEWALK AND CURB.

THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE WOODS ORDAINS:

SECTION 1. That there shall be added to Title IX, Chapter 3 of the City Code of the City of Grosse Pointe Woods of 1975 the following Section:

9-3-24 PARKING IN DRIVEWAY APPROACH: It shall be lawful to park one (1) motor vehicle, other than a commercial vehicle or motor home, in a driveway approach in a manner so as to be parallel to the curb and so as not to extend over either the curbs or sidewalk; provided, however, that such parking in a driveway approach shall be restricted to the owners or occupants of the property contiguous thereto or persons having permission of such owners or occupants so to park. A permit shall be required from the Director of Public Safety to park a motor vehicle in a driveway approach when the distance between the sidewalk application and issuance thereof shall comply with the requirements established for on-street overnight parking permits.

SECTION 2. EFFECTIVE DATE: This Ordinance shall become effective twenty (20) days after the date of enactment.

Proposed ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE TO ADD TO CHAPTER 5, SECTIONS 8 AND 9 OF THE GENERAL OFFENSES OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE FARMS BEING AN ORDINANCE DEFINING GENERAL OFFENSES; PROVIDING PENALTIES FOR THE COMMISSION THEREOF; AND REPEALING ORDINANCES NOS. 81, 98, 60 AND 97.

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms Ordains:

Section 1. Chapter 5 of the General Offenses Ordinance is hereby amended by adding thereto Section 8 as follows:

Section 8. Authority of Police Officers to stop and question persons who are loitering or wandering upon the streets.

Any person loitering or wandering upon the streets or from place to place without apparent reason or business and who refuse to identify himself and to account for his presence when requested by any peace officer so to do, if the surrounding circumstances are such as to indicate to a reasonable man that the public safety demands such identification.

Section 2. Chapter 5 of the General Offenses Ordinance is hereby amended by adding thereto Section 9 as follows:

Section 9. Authority of Police Officers to Search Suspicious Persons.

When a police officer has stopped a person for questioning pursuant to Section 8 and has reasonable cause to believe there is danger to himself or others, he may conduct a limited search of that person for dangerous weapons. The police officer may take and keep such weapon or any other thing, the possession of which may constitute a crime, until he has completed the questioning at which time he shall either return such property so taken, if lawfully possessed, or arrest such person and dispose of such property according to law.

Section 3. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed only to the extent necessary to give this ordinance full force and effect.

Section 4. It is hereby declared that this ordinance is immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety and is, therefore, given immediate effect.
