Rotarians Launch Vial of Life Program

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club initiated its Vial of Life program, geared toward senior citizens and other residents in need, at its Monday, November 14, meeting at the War Memorial. A health safety plan to assist not only citizens but those responding to medical emergencies, the program will be conducted on a Pointe-wide

Summer Tax Collection Plan Viewed

Board Seeks Further Input from Local City Councils on Proposals; Officials Cite Variety of Concerns over Subject

By Susan McDonald

The School Board again raised the issue of a summer tax collection last week with a second round of letters seeking opinions from local city councils. Under the split tax proposal, residents would pay half their school taxes in July, the rest at the usual December date.

Proponents of the plan say it would save the school system about $200,000 a year — the interest the system now pays on a $9 million loan it needs to cover its July through December expenses, before taxes come in.

But the issue is not quite that simple, according to Board President John Bruce, for it is not likely that the schools would net anything close to $200,000 and the cost to citizens could be high.

Net Savings Viewed
Pointe city councils — which must ultimately rule on the proposal — are apparently not enthusiastic about the plan. Most have tossed a decision on the matter back into the Board's hands, saying they need to see a more concrete proposal before they decide on the plan's merits.

Several city managers expressed concern over the extra work the split tax would create for their offices, and some have doubts about its benefits for taxpayers. A preliminary study of the proposal by school officials indicates the net savings of a split tax collection to the system would be closer to $95,000, rather than the $200,000 alleged by some of its proponents.

"The main reason for that is that we actually make money on the loan we take out in July," according to Trustee William Huettner. The system borrows the $9 million at about a 2.9 percent interest rate, (paying about $200,000 on the loan). But, the trustees reinvest the borrowed money, until it's needed for operating expenses, at a rate of about 6 percent interest, (earning a 4 percent profit).

Library Sets Holiday Hours

The following holiday schedule will be observed in the three Pointe Public Libraries.

All libraries will be closed Thursday and Friday, November 24 and 25, and open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, November 26. Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue, will be open Sunday, November 27, from 1 to 5 p.m.

The public libraries will be closed Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, December 23, 24, 25 and 26. The three libraries also will be closed on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, December 30, 31, January 1 and 2.

Have Final Say
The above exceptions to the formula require the approval of the Board.

GPS Police Investigate Beating Attack of Woman

Shores authorities are investigating the severe beating of a woman by a man who came to her house and continuously struck her about the head, while demanding to know where she kept her purse.

According to an official report, the woman, name withheld, called The Shores station on Monday, November 7, at about 9:20 p.m. and informed Desk Officer Richard Polen that she had been physically assaulted by the man.

Col. Daniel Fronczak and Public Safety Officers Michael Kenyon and Ronald Klotz responded to the scene and were met by the victim, who was bleeding from facial cuts and from cuts on both ears. One eye also was severely

Vial of Life Program Set to Begin

Rotary Club Sponsors Pointe-Wide Effort to Aid Citizens, Rescue Personnel

By Roger A. Waha

A Vial of Life program, originally geared toward senior citizens in The Woods, has blossomed into a Pointe-wide effort because of the cooperation and interest of the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club in sponsoring the program and the support offered by local police and fire departments toward making it a reality in the community.

Although the program itself isn't new, it is a "first" for the Pointes. Under the local plan, called the "Rotary Vial of Life," a vial with an easy-off cap and an information sheet containing pertinent personal and medical information is placed inside the refrigerator.

At the same time, a "Rotary Vial of Life" sticker is placed outside the refrigerator door and on the citizen's front door. In case of an emergency, responding personnel will then have all necessary information in the event an individual is found unconscious, or a relative or friend is unable to assist with needed facts.

"Service" Key Word
While the emphasis of the program is upon senior citizens, those who are suffering from chronic conditions, such as a diabetic or an epileptic are urged by local officials to participate.

Citing the consciousness revolving around the community-wide child safety program, Woods Det. Lt. Jack Patterson, who initiated the "Rotary Vial of Life" plan locally, stressed the need of serving seniors at the opposite end of the pole, plus the overall objective of protecting all citizens.

"Service" also is a key word for the Rotarians and local club president Carl Meyer. After being contacted by Lt. Patterson to see if the club would underwrite a program for Woods citizens, he took it to his board who suggested a Pointe-wide plan. The Rotary Foundation then approved the necessary disbursements and all systems were "go."

"It's an excellent program, one which we're super interested in," said Mr. Meyer. "The Rotary Club has been searching for an area toward helping senior citizens. This is an excellent way to help them."

In fact, Mr. Meyer hoped this would be a good beginning toward creating an awareness among other

Scream Routs Would-Be Thief

A woman's best weapon is a loud piercing scream, it is said, and a would-be bandit found that out when he came up behind a lady in the 1300 block of Maryland on Monday, November 7, according to Park Police Lt. Gordon Duncan.

The woman told investigating officers that she was walking near her home on Maryland at 7:52 p.m. when she heard footsteps behind her. She turned to see a man, who demanded to know if she had any money in her purse.

The woman, whose name was not given, told the man to stay away from her or she would scream. As the would-be robber continued to approach, the lady let out a piercing scream and the man turned and ran away.

The suspect was described as black, in his early 20s, about 5'8" tall and weighing about 150 pounds. She said he was wearing dark clothing and a white hat without a brim.

Officers dispatched to the scene searched the area without success.

Housing for Seniors Eyed By Officials

Pointe Representatives Hold Preliminary Discussion of Possible Joint Venture

By Roger A. Waha

A meeting of city officials representing all the Pointes to view the possibility of a joint effort toward a senior citizens housing complex was held Thursday, November 10, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The session was called at the request of The Woods, whose officials and Senior Citizens Commission have expressed an interest in some type of housing for several years.

Sources made it clear that the discussion was of a preliminary nature only, that no real action was taken and no commitments made by anyone.

One official did say that the community's five mayors were scheduled to check with their councils to see if their municipalities would be interested in a joint venture.

Longstanding Interest
Another official, in noting each city would take this matter under advisement, indicated it was possible some consensus might be obtained before the end of November. This official also noted the idea of such a venture was new to some of his governmental colleagues.

South High School's 'Tower' Named Top U.S. Weekly for Third Time

Newspaper to Receive Pacemaker Award at National Scholastic Press Ass'n. Convention; Staff Members Seek Aid to Make Trip

"The Tower," South High School's student newspaper, which is celebrating its 50th year of publication this year, has been selected for the third time the best weekly high school newspaper in the U.S.

It will receive the Pacemaker Award at the National Scholastic Press Ass'n. (NSPA), convention in Kansas City, Mo., on Friday, November 25.

Twenty-four "Tower" staff members would like to attend the ceremonies to receive the award, but have only a week to raise enough money to make the trip.

Any person interested in helping finance the trip may send donations to "The Tower," 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard, Grosse Pointe Farms, or call 884-3200, extension 73.

The selection for the honor was made by a panel of judges from the American Newspaper Publishers Ass'n. based on issues published during the second semester last year.

To qualify for Pacemaker distinction, "The Tower" earned All-American recognition and Marks of Distinction for exceptional achievement in all five sections of an evaluation by NSPA.

In the original evaluation by NSPA, "The Tower" was called "one of the country's premier and visionary high school newspapers."

Wayne Brasler, who wrote the report, commented, "One of the nation's leading high school newspapers of the past decade, 'The Tower' has entered a period of heightened and renewed excellence.

"The sheer weight of publication is impressive—weekly four to 24 page issues—but what is remarkable is the quality of work achieved under such a load and the pressure of weekly deadlines."

Eyes Special Issue
Recognition also was given for the special fund raising issue "The Tower" staff published last March to cover skyrocketing printing costs.

Mr. Brasler commented, "Few staffs would have the resource to cover such a situation so tough-mindedly or to come up with such a productive solution, both editorially and financially."

"The staff deserves credit for maintaining and improving the paper's quality during trying times, and special recognition for its enterprising special issue."

"This year could have been a disastrous one for 'The Tower.' Instead, it has been a special one."

Pacemaker awards also will be presented in Kansas City to four other top papers: Wilson High School in Portland, Ore., for the best bi-weekly; D.C. Everest High School in Scofield, Wis., for the best monthly; Jackson, Mich., High School for the (Continued on Page 6)

Pleased over Proposal for Approval, Owner of GPW Recreation Awaits Action of City

By Roger A. Waha

There was a joy at Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation, 20422 Mack avenue, after results were received on the advisory vote for one additional Class C liquor license in the community. This ballot proposition was solidly approved by Woods voters, 2,937 to 960, in the Tuesday, November 8, election.

While Jack Degriek, owner of the only bowling alley in The Pointe, was decidedly pleased over the result, he must now wait and see how the council will act in relation to the voters' feelings.

Mr. Degriek's pleasure is understandable for he was the driving force in having the question placed on the ballot by coordinating the necessary initiatory petition drive and then campaigning to have citizens approve the question.

Cites Appreciation
"I was really happy with the vote. The people were really for it," he said. "Many told me they wouldn't even have voted if the liquor license question wasn't on the ballot." He also wanted to express his appreciation to his co-workers for their efforts and to the voters.

Mr. Degriek, who has been operating a bowling alley in the city since 1940, has said that a C license would thwart gradually falling profits and a loss of leagues—plus the possibility that his business would have to be sold within five years.

As a result, he attempted, backed by petitions bearing around 350 signatures, to have the Woods Council place the question directly on the ballot this summer.

But the council declined, preferring to have direct input from the people on the issuance of additional liquor licenses.

As a result, Mr. Degriek organized the successful petition drive, while having around 23 citizens stationed at precincts throughout the community on election day handing out pamphlets.

Focus of Attention
"I'm happy, I worked hard and I'm tired," said Mr. (Continued on Page 1)

Mediation Session Set In City, Police Dispute

By Susan McDonald

While Grosse Pointe City officials are still waiting for an arbitrator's decision to settle last year's contract with firemen, it appears negotiations with City police may be headed in a similar direction.

The police officers, represented by Teamsters Local 214, rejected The City's last offer for a 1977-78 contract late last month. A meeting with a state mediator has been set for Tuesday, November 22, in a final attempt to hash out differences between the two bargaining teams.

If mediation fails, arbitration will be mandatory under state law. But City Manager Thomas Kressbach says he is "optimistic" the two sides can work out most of their contract problems under mediation.

"We have offered them a fair and equitable package, comparable to pay packs in the other Grosse Pointes," Mr. Kressbach said. "The policemen's bargaining committee accepted it, we hope the rest of the men eventually will too."

According to local president Patrolman Dave Teolis, fringe benefits, or the lack of them, was the biggest stumbling block in getting the package ratified.

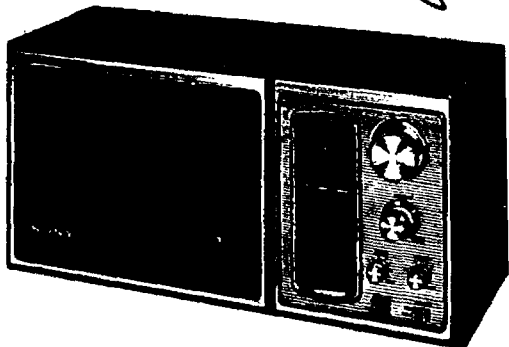

In addition, he said there was some opposition to The City's plan to phase-in public (Continued on Page 6) groups to aid seniors in a variety of ways. Noting that the initial focus would be upon the elderly, Mr. Meyer said the program would be opened up to anyone who needs the Vial of Life.

Vial of Life Program Begins

Preparing of Kits

Lt. Patterson, who personally contacted all Pointe police and fire departments and received unanimous expressions of interest, is currently coordinating the initial effort with a Rotary committee, (Ralph A. Basile, project chairman).

Plans call for the distribution of around 10,000 vials throughout the community, with the local departments administering the program in each municipality.

We have to get the kits together, including vial, information sheets and stickers, and deliver them to all the departments, said Lt. Patterson, while Mr. Meyer noted the estimated cost of the project would be around $1,000.

The lieutenant said all departments should have the kits ready for distribution by the end of November.

Along with the distribution of kits, Youth Service Division detectives will be available to local communities for speaking engagements regarding the program upon request, the lieutenant stated.

Content of Sheets

At the same time, he felt each department would also use their own personnel toward taking the plan to citizens.

The "Rotary Vial of Life" sheet will contain not only the citizen's name, medication taken and persons to contact in the event of an emergency but also the resident's birth date, doctor, medical insurance, illnesses for which the citizen is being treated, brand name of medication, pharmacist and prescription number, its location in the home and space to share other important information.

It also will contain the telephone numbers of all Pointe police and fire departments, said Lt. Patterson.

Besides obtaining a sheet for insertion in the vial, those who wish to take one to carry with them at all times will be encouraged to do so.

Meanwhile, the stickers with the Rotary emblem saying "Vial of Life" are scheduled to have blue letters on a white background.

Police and fire officials endorsed the program without reservation.

"Can't Go Wrong"

"It's a very good thing," said Park Fire Chief Phillip Costa. "Many times we find people unconscious upon responding and we don't know why. With this, (the Vial of Life), it will help us along with doctors at the hospital."

Saying he would like to see the plan implemented, Shores Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale stated, "We can go right to the refrigerator and know what we have, (in the case of an emergency involving an unconscious person). It's not often people aren't around but sometimes relatives or friends don't know what is wrong."

For their parts, both Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber and City Public Safety Director Bruce Kennedy called the plan an excellent one.

"We'll do everything we can to get it off the ground," said Chief Ferber, while Chief Kennedy, in citing the willingness of his department to cooperate, stated, "It can't go wrong."

Meanwhile, Farms Fire Chief Warren Schultz said the plan has his support, and City Fire Lt. Jerry Mehl noted it would be helpful to responding firefighters but could even be more of an aid to hospital personnel by "eliminating the problem of trying to figure out what is wrong with the victim."

"Vital Importance"

Noting at one point the Woods Senior Citizens Commission investigated such a program on a local level, commission chairman Irene Sutton was delighted over the Pointe-wide effort.

"It's of vital importance," she said, while stating it was just as important for citizens to have the information on their person while they are out.

In fact, it was at Mrs. Sutton's suggestion that the information sheet, subsequently redrafted, contain the specific brand name of medication and its location in the home.

Another citizen keenly involved in the welfare of seniors is Mary Ale, co-director of The Pointe's nutrition site, sponsored by Wayne County and housed in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

She, too, indicated the possibility of starting such a program at the site and was pleased to learn of the community-wide effort.

How this program became a reality in The Pointe stems from a daily newspaper article viewing the plan as administered by Romeo State Police.

Lt. Patterson read the article last month and contacted Trooper Phillip Chrzan, community services officer, who helped initiate it with Romeo senior citizens.

Cites Public Safety
The lieutenant then contacted City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, who gave his blessing to a similar program serving Woods citizens. The next step was to obtain sponsorship.

So the lieutenant contacted the Rotary Club to see if the group would be interested in backing the program in The Woods. The Rotarians liked the idea so well that they agreed to sponsor it throughout the community.

Mr. Petersen said he had no objection at all to the club backing the program on a Pointe-wide basis. But he wanted the public safety department to receive the credit it deserves in originally initiating the plan and getting the other Pointes involved.

In viewing the need for such a program in relation to seniors, the Neighborhood Club, through statistics obtained from census and voter registration files, notes that 19 percent of The Pointe population is 60 years or older, much higher than the national average of 11 percent.

When other residents, regardless of age, are considered in relation to specific physical ailments for which the "Rotary Vial of Life" program could be a lifesaver, the necessity of the plan becomes even more clear.

Investigate Beating

was treated and released. However, two hours later, the woman had a relapse and was taken to Detroit's Holy Cross Hospital by private ambulance and at the last report is still there.

Det. Sgt. Frank Mustazza is investigating the incident of the would-be robber and assailant. The victim's description of the man was that he was of a light black complexion, around 5'6" tall, about 20- or 21-years-old and had an Afro haircut. She only recalled that he was wearing a jacket, but could not remember the color.

The woman said that when she answered the door, the first thing her assailant demanded was her purse and as he began hitting her, she retreated to the kitchen with the man following and continually beating her. She was not attacked in any way, except for the beating, she added.

Sgt. Mustazza said the woman informed the officers at the scene that shortly after the beating, the man left, but she did not know the direction he took.

The sergeant warned residents never to open doors to strangers. If you are suspicious of any one, call your local police immediately, he suggested.

C License

Degriek. "It has been a big strain on everyone." Despite the factor of exhaustion, a successful drive makes it all the more worthwhile, with customer response to the proposition's passage being uplifting. "I couldn't believe how happy they were for me. They were glad for me and the bowling alley. They don't want the place to close or to have to go elsewhere," he said.

Now, Mr. Degriek and his supporters will have to wait for specific council action on this matter regarding the adoption of an ordinance amending the city code giving the solons the authority to approve one additional license.

After the necessary certification of votes, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos said the next step would be to have the council meet with City Attorney George Catlin to consider a method toward setting up proper guidelines for issuing the license.

Three Licenses Now
The citizens have indicated their desire for an additional license, despite the wording of the ballot proposition, (i.e., not precisely saying the document would be for GPW Recreation), he continued, while noting the bowling alley, in his opinion, would be the focus of attention by the council in this respect.

(Regarding specific guidelines, Mr. Pinkos had earlier noted that there are other applicants for such a license on the "waiting list." It's a possibility that some may want to see if they could get council approval inasmuch as voters did okay the question, one additional license stipulation and an inherent sympathy for GPW Recreation notwithstanding.)

The mayor also said it's possible this matter might be on the Monday, November 21, council agenda, with the planned meeting with Mr. Catlin being scheduled around a week afterward.

There are three Class C licenses now in the city, which could have up to 15 pending council approval.

Tax Collection Plan

most $290,000. The result is a net gain on the loan of about $90,000.

With that in mind, the Board actually stands to gain only $95,000 by collecting the taxes early and avoiding the loan.

Additional Costs

The potential savings also may be reduced by several other factors: the Board would still have to borrow $1 million for July and August expenses before taxes come in, for instance.

But, what is the cost to citizens of such a plan?

For those citizens who escrow their taxes through a mortgage company — an estimated 60 percent of Pointe taxpayers — there would be no cost.

The 40 percent who don't escrow would be forced to come up with their share of the $9 million six months earlier than usual. Assuming some take the money out of five percent savings accounts and some are forced to borrow it, (probably at a 12 percent interest rate), the cost to those taxpayers could be several hundred thousand dollars.

"The whole thing fluctuates so much as interest rates go up and down, it's really difficult to measure what the benefits to the whole community would be," said Mr. Bruce.

"The Board has avoided taking a strong position on the proposal until we have some strong evidence that it would be to citizens' advantage, and so far, we have not found any evidence to lead us to believe that the benefits are that clear cut."

Works in HW

Harper Woods is one community which has worked under such a tax collection system for the local schools. According to Harper Woods City Manager Joseph Dorsky, the system has worked out well.

"It makes more work for us at city offices, but the school district reimburses us for all the extra time our employees put in," Mr. Dorsky said.

He added that The Pointe schools would have Harper Woods' full cooperation if they decided to implement a split tax collection plan, as long as a similar reimbursement plan was part of the package.

The Harper Woods Council was the only one of the six municipalities in The Pointe school system to respond positively to an inquiry sent out in May by the school administration seeking their opinions of the plan.

One city official said that since the original letter came out in the midst of a Board election campaign he was not sure how serious the trustees were about the idea.

Need More Info

All of the city managers contacted this week said they need far more information about how the plan would work before they decide.

"I'm very concerned about the issue," said Park City Manager Robert A. Stone, "but my council would like to have a school official come in and discuss this with us before we decide."

Woods City Manager Chester E. Petersen said his council has questions about the way mortgage companies will handle the collection with escrow accounts and just how much the plan will cost citizens who don't escrow their taxes.

ROBIN A WINNER

Robin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rowe, of Edmuntown drive.

New Policy

proval of the building principal or department of instruction.

A teacher also may assign differing weights to marking periods if the action is approved by the department of instruction and is applied to all sections of the course.

The Board drew up the grade policy last May in conformance with its new contract with the GPEA. The contract gives teachers the final responsibility for issuing grades as long as they are in line with policies established by the Board.

The policy allows students and parents to appeal grades to school administrators who may change marks if it can be demonstrated that the teacher failed to follow Board policy, discriminated against an individual or was unreasonable in issuing the mark.

PAYMENT APPROVED

Seniors' Housing Eyed

housing complex has been a long-standing one.

Last November, for example, commission chairman Irene Sutton and commission housing chairman Audrey Dolgner sent a letter in behalf of seniors of all the Pointes expressing interest in Mrs. Edsel B. Ford's property, in the event some land becomes available, as a potential housing site.

In the communication, they requested consideration of their request for a senior's housing complex if some property of Mrs. Ford's estate is to be disposed of.

Eyes Joint Venture
Mrs. Sutton also said she wrote Mrs. Ford in November 1974 asking her to sell some of her property to be used for seniors' housing. However, a month later, a reply indicated that Mrs. Ford didn't wish to sell that time.

While noting many different people have indicated their interest in some of Mrs. Ford's land, Pierre V. Heitler, Mrs. Ford's attorney, stated this week that the executors of the estate aren't giving consideration to the disposal of property at this time.

In the past, the majority of Pointe city managers told the NEWS they personally felt there was a need for some type of seniors' housing facility in the community, with one official even reiterating his feeling this week that it "would be good to have a joint venture."

New Class Helps Students Interested in Child Care

The teenagers had been anticipating the event for weeks — working to transform the Barnes School classroom into an ideal nursery with brightly colored walls and shelves, carpet and a thoughtfully designed floor plan for seating and play areas.

And last week, their test finally came, in the form of 18 three- and four-year-olds ready for their first day of nursery school.

It's all part of a brand new vocational class, Child Care Services, in Pointe high schools. The course is designed for students contemplating careers in the child care field, from nursery schools and head start programs to day care and child development centers.

The 33 teenagers, including two boys from both North and South High, will run the nursery three days a week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, in two, one and a half hour sessions.

They were prepared for the nursery school experience with a course in child development at their home schools, in which they studied children's physical, social, intellectual and emotional development.

The teens will apply that knowledge in the nursery by planning and directing play activities for the children and observing their behavior in a nursery laboratory.

The charge to parents for enrolling their pre-schoolers in the program is $10 a month, and already, there is a waiting list to get in, according to teacher Phyllis Henry.

The course is aimed at providing real-life experience for the high school students, according to Mrs. Henry, and at the same time to provide a service for the community. The high school students, she added, will learn more than just a job skill at the nursery school.

"They get a fine training for the job, but they also learn how to be better parents and discover a lot about themselves at the same time," she said.

In the future, Mrs. Henry hopes to expand the vocational class into a full-fledged co-op program by finding part-time jobs for interested students. All that's needed for that, she says, is the help of local employers.

Mrs. Henry established similar programs at Romulus and Southgate Public Schools. Assisting her in Child Care Services will be Vanda Skuras, an aide, and Joan McShane, a paraprofessional.

Adjourn Trial Date for Pair

The Wayne County Circuit Court trial date of two Detroiters, who are charged with robbery armed with a gun, has been adjourned from Wednesday, November 9, to January 3, reported Woods police.

Roderick Simpson, 26, of San Juan, and Suzanne Barber, 28, of Washburn, are charged in the incident in which an estimated $115,000 in precious stones and around $3,000 in cash was taken from Bijouterie, Inc., 19860 Mack avenue, in July. About $2,000 worth in jewelry has been recovered.

League Views South Pacific

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present "South Pacific," a program of color slides by Esther Peters, when it meets on Monday, November 28, in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore road, at 8 p.m.

In New Zealand, the pictures cover the fairytale glowworm grotto, the Agrodome Sheep Station and sheep shearing and the hot springs at Rotorua, which provide enough heat to keep homes warm in winter and for the cooking of food.

There are beautiful mountains and waterfalls at Milford Sound, colorful flowers that win prizes for whole residential blocks, and magnificent Mt. Cook.

The Australian portion of the film shows the kangaroo and the beloved koala. There is a visit to Captain Cook's cottage and the world's largest harbor at Sydney with its "coathanger" bridge and spectacular opera house on its shore.

There are views of the Snowy Mountains and famed Botany Bay where English prisoners were brought because English prisons were crowded.

The capital city Canberra is photographed with a glimpse of the Australian aborigines.

The camera visits Fiji with its always polite and smiling uniformed school children and colorful markets.

The presentation closes with a visit to French Polynesia, with its lush vegetation, bustling markets and magnificent views.

The public is invited to attend the program without charge. A reception for Cinema League members and their invited guests follows.

Okay Transfer Of Bar License

The Park Council approved the transfer of a 1977 Class C liquor license to Radke Enterprises, Inc., the new owners of the Union Street Bar, 15012 Mack avenue, at a recent meeting.

The transfer was approved by a 3-1 vote, with Mayor Matthew C. Patterson dissenting.

Mr. Patterson said his negative vote was on the basis of "principle." He expressed the opinion that 14 bars in The Park is too many for a city of its size.

Radke Enterprises will take the operation over from former owner Thomas J. Brandel Jr.

Council members voting for the motion included Clayton Alandi, Douglas G. Graham and George Verdonck.

Vandals Shatter Auto Windows in GP Park

Vandals, who shattered a number of car windows in The Park and in Detroit, will have numerous counts of misdemeanors facing them in court if they are ever apprehended, said Park Lt. Gordon Duncan.

All the incidents were reported early Thursday morning, November 10, with the first report being received at 1:21 a.m. A total of 14 cars were vandalized in The Park. Lt. Duncan said each act of vandalism amounted to approximately $75, which makes the acts a misdemeanor under a Park ordinance. If damage caused in any single act of vandalism is more than $100, then it constitutes a felony under a Michigan statute, punishable by a prison term of up to a maximum of four years on each count.

The lieutenant said the vandals drove up and down Park streets, and in Detroit, wantonly smashing car windows as they drove by, either with a baseball bat, a tire iron or some sort of heavy instrument. Damage totaled about $1,200 in The Park alone, he said. The following reports were received of damaged car windows:

In front of 870 Trombley road; 837 Trombley; 921 Trombley; 15800 block of Mack avenue; 15900 Essex; 1357 Buckingham; 1004 Buckingham; 1418 Kensington; 1372 Kensington; 1381 Kensington; 1380 Kensington; 1334 Kensington, (two cars); and 1418 Somerset.

Lt. Duncan said when and if the culprits are caught, they will be punished to the full extent of the law. Besides receiving fines and/or jail terms, those responsible also are liable for damages. If the vandals are juveniles, parents are responsible for monetary damage caused by their offsprings under a Michigan law, he added.

GPW Accepts Heating Bid

A bid from Williams Refrigeration and Heating, Inc., of Detroit, for unit heaters at the Department of Public Works was unanimously accepted by the Woods Council at its Monday, November 7, regular meeting.

Williams' quotation of $2,770 for the installation of two unit heaters, control box and thermostats with automatic night setback for energy conservation, was the lowest of three bids submitted.

U of D High begins a second century

Hooray For All of Us!

Pardon us if we sound like we're tooting our own horn. We've just been celebrating. We've been having our own centennial birthday party after a hundred years of being in Detroit.

There Have Been Changes...

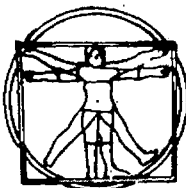

At the beginning, there were five Jesuit teachers, 74 students, and one Jefferson Avenue mansion. The school was called Detroit College. Today, there is a teaching staff of 44 (21 are Jesuits), 672 students and a tidy, pleasant 9-acre campus in a graceful residential neighborhood in northwest Detroit.

...And There's Been Tradition.

Our philosophy of education, of course, remains rooted in a 400 year insistence that to become capable leaders, young men ought to receive the best modern education. And that education must be particularly good during the decisive adolescent years.

What We Are Today.

Among several fine private high schools for boys in Michigan today, the University of Detroit High School is the only one that is a Jesuit school. We are respected for our successful college-preparatory education and we're deliberately concerned with the social, personal, and religious development of each of the students. We are responsible educators.

We're Proud of Our School

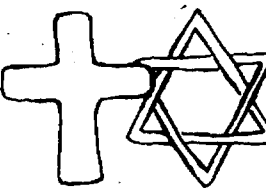

U of D High is a partnership among parents, alumni, teachers and students. All of us together are concerned that the young men enrolled here acquire the foundations for college studies and a fulfilling career after graduation. Sometimes our partnership even seems like a family.

Others Know About Us, Too

Each year, according to national college examinations, our graduates rank among the best prepared students in the nation. More than 1 out of 4 seniors qualify as National Merit Semi-Finalists or Achievement Scholars or receive commended status. Of the senior class of June, 1978, 28% of the graduates are ranked at the top of students of all races in almost every private or public school in the country. And the rest of the class is not far behind. Ninety-five percent go directly into college, many with a share of the more than $300,000 in scholarships awarded to our graduates each year.

All Faiths In A Catholic School

The University of Detroit High School is a Catholic school and our staff is predominantly Catholic. Half of the Jesuit teachers and administrators are priests. But our family is of all faiths. Some of the teachers and 25% of the students belong to Jewish or Protestant faiths.

We have religious studies in Scripture and theology that investigate ecumenical truths and the history of religions. Catholic students have Catholic doctrinal classes.

People of every race and religion have always been welcome here and we admit students of any race, color and national or ethnic origin. We are a peacefully integrated school. This year 30% are 'minority' students.

Our Neighborhood Is Metropolitan Detroit

Students come to U of D High from Wayne, Macomb, and Oakland counties. They come from 202 different grammar schools, according to this year's statistics.

Some come in car pools or on bicycles - even on foot. But some prefer the convenience of the school's own buses. Our school buses serve the east, west, north and south suburbs in the mornings and after school; some even depart for home as late as 5:30 p.m. to get students home from extra-curriculars in time for dinner.

A Choice In Education:

U of D High's alternative to public education has been available since 1877. Recently, as neighborhood parish schools have been closing and parents have been seeking wider for a choice in education, U of D High began a junior high program. We call it the Jesuit Academy.

For a limited number of 7th and 8th grade boys, we offer the chance of getting a serious junior high education and an opportunity to begin their high school work earlier.

Welcome For A Visit

Because so many parents and their sons are interested in our school, we hold an Open House each year. People can visit our school, meet our teachers, our students and their parents, see our facilities and talk with the staff over a friendly cup of cider or coffee and donuts.

This year's Open House will be on November 17, beginning at 7:00 in the evening. Free of course.

Call Us On The Phone:

Phone us sometime. We'll be able to tell you anything you may want to know about this school. Some people want information on enrolling a son; some want to find out about our curriculum or costs. Some have particular questions about our Super Science Program or foreign language courses. We'll put you in touch with the principal or department chairperson or whom ever has the answer to your question.

Library Sets Kids' Week

The Public Library Children's Department is celebrating Children's Book Week, November 14 through November 20, with the slogan, "Read All About It."

The British Broadcasting Corporation's TV production of "Alice in Wonderland" will be presented for the children on Saturday, November 19.

It is a remarkably faithful and fun-filled adaptation featuring fabulous sets based on John Tenniel's drawings and irresistibly zany performances by some of England's finest actors — Peter Sellers, Flora Robson, Sir Ralph Richardson and Fiona Fullerton.

The film will be shown at the Woods Branch, 20800 Mack avenue, at 10 a.m., Central Branch, 10 Kercheval avenue, at 1 p.m. and Park Branch, 15430 Kercheval avenue, at 3 p.m.

Each of the libraries is featuring an exhibit of early children's books. The Park Branch displays a potpourri of very early books, most of them long out of print, while the Woods Branch features Beatrix Potter and Peter Rabbit. The Central Library has put together a collection of Alice in Wonderland. The Lewis Carroll collection was the gift of Helen Landrum.

Girl Scout Troop 1766 from Kerby School has made mobiles based on children's books to hang in the Central Library Children's Room.

Dr. Jane Bingham, associate professor of Reading, Language Arts and Children's Literature at Oakland University, spoke to the teachers at the Central Library on Monday, November 14, on "Reading Aloud: Poetry and Prose."

She stressed the importance of reading to children both in the home and in the school. Reading aloud should continue even after the child has learned to read alone.

A display of new books was gathered for the teachers to examine. It included books aimed at the elementary level as well as books about books to help adults dealing with children's reading.

Thanksgiving Service Slated

Familiar words from the 100th Psalm will be read Thursday, November 24, at the Thanksgiving service at First Church of Christ Scientist, 282 Chalfonte avenue, at 10:30 a.m.

Robert Outland, first reader, and Esther Beauvais, second reader, will conduct the service, which also includes testimonies of gratitude by church members.

Experience teaches a man to use reason as a guide, but principle is his safeguard.

Halloween Team Concept Proves Big Plus, Says YSD

The Youth Service Division (YSD), in its monthly report for October, viewed Halloween weekend activity and the successful efforts of various groups toward preventing serious destruction in the community.

A total of 75 complaint reports were referred to the YSD last month with three of the cases proving to be unfounded. The total of actual cases for the year reaches 701, a higher amount than the 617 for the same period last year.

Malicious destruction of property was the single category of highest incidence with 13 such cases being reported. Of the cleared cases, 10 male juveniles and one female juvenile were involved, while seven cases remain unsolved.

"Window breakage was high, primarily the result of BB-shot and thrown apples," says the division. "Lawn jobs and paint sprayed on dwellings and walkways, plus a few sundry kinds of property damage describe the balance of these reports."

Increase in incidence of this offense is seasonal in

White Honored By Old Timers

The Old Timers Bowling Ass'n. will honor Norman White, a 28-year resident of The Farms, at its 47th annual Old Timers Bowling Tournament and Awards Dinner on Saturday, November 26, at Thunderbowl Lanes, Allen Park.

The tourney will begin at 1 p.m. and dinner at 3:30 p.m. The complete cost is $8.75, while the dinner alone is $6. Bowling only is $4.

At the awards dinner, Mr. White will be presented with the Distinguished Service Plaque.

Past president of the Old Timers, Mr. White retired from his position as production manager at WJR radio in 1962 after 40 years with the station.

He has been an avid bowler since 1919 and active with the Old Timers for 30 years.

Current president Joe Norris invites all men who have bowled for more than 25 years to join the Old Timers for a day of fun and bowling.

Boat Well Fees Eyed in Woods

Members of the Grosse Pointe Woods Boat Club expressed their displeasure to the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, November 7, over a policy change affecting the payment of fees for boat wells.

In a letter to Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, boat club secretary Stephanie Schmidt said the club held its monthly meeting on Wednesday, October 26, at which time members with wells at the Lake Front Park complained they had received a letter with an early application for boat dockage payable on or before Tuesday, November 15.

"Some members haven't had time to put their boats in dry dock and the city is notifying them to pay their dockage fee for 1978," she said.

"Winter storage charges are not due until January 1 at all major marinas in this area. 1978 summer dockage is reserved in spring with a small deposit and full payment is due April 1, 1978. Why should Grosse Pointe Woods be any different?"

She also raised another question, "If a person decided to sell his boat over

WC3 Courses Start in Pointe

Courses on wedding photography, fantasy and the masculine image, sponsored by the Community Services/Continuing Education Division of Wayne County Community College, (WC3), are scheduled in this area the week of Monday, November 14.

The wedding photography course, one of a series of pre-employment training courses in photography, will be offered at Austin Catholic College Preparatory School, 18300 East Warren avenue, November 14 through December 19. The class will meet Monday night from 6:45 to 10 p.m. Tuition is $53.

"Fantasy: Theory and Practical Applications" began Tuesday, November 15, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, from 7-10 p.m. The five-week course meets through December 13. The class will explore the theories of day-dreaming and the practical uses of the technique.

The myths of the masculine will be examined in "Men: The Masculine Image—Tradition and Today" at North High School, 707 Vernier road, beginning November 14 through December 19. The class will meet each Monday evening from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Total cost of the course is $24.

Interested persons can enroll in any of the courses by visiting the Community Services Office, 4612 Woodward avenue, Detroit.

For more information, call 832-4750.

Library Sets Film 'Demo'

The Pointe Public Library will sponsor Microform Demonstrations at the Central Branch, 10 Kercheval avenue, through Saturday, November 19, in conjunction with American Education Week.

It is directed toward students from seventh grade through college and interested adults.

The library has back issues of many popular magazines on microfiche—a sheet of film 105 millimeters by 148 millimeters containing a number of pages of microcopy. An entire issue of most magazines can be put on one microfiche.

Newspapers like the "NEWS" are on rolls of 35 millimeter film. Both formats require the use of readers which magnify the copy for easy reading.

Normally housed in the library's audio-visual department, a microfilm reader is now stationed in the main reading room and a microfiche reader in the reference room. There are hand-outs listing available materials on microfilm at the Central Library and librarians are ready to assist.

McINNES PROMOTED

Park resident Thomas R. McInnes was recently promoted to operations officer at Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit. Experienced photographers will be available to answer questions or offer advice.

Visitors are welcome and should bring their camera, a tripod and plenty of film. Coffee will be served at the end of the meeting.

North Students to Sell Fruit

Distributive and Business Office Education groups at North High School are conducting a grapefruit and tangelo sale through Thursday, December 1.

The fruit will be sold by the box, each containing 18 to 24 grapefruit or 40 to 50 tangelos. Each sells for $5.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA), and the Business Office Education Clubs (BOEC), are vocational youth organizations which provide business students the opportunity to learn and serve as both leaders and followers.

The chance to compete for awards and recognition for those who demonstrate outstanding qualities in marketing, merchandising and office management also is given.

Several times throughout the year both DECA and BOEC conduct a variety of fund raisers to help defray the costs of attending the various competitive and leadership conferences in which students participate.

The fruit sale is designed not only to help DECA and BOEC, but also The Pointe's Foundation for Exceptional Children.

One-half the proceeds from the sale will be contributed to the foundation to help the organization continue its work with exceptional children in the community.

Any resident wishing to place an order may contact Thomas Boos or Donna Leung of the North Business Education Department at 886-8100, extension 58.

SEMTA Offers Ride to Parade

SEMTA (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority), will be offering Park and Ride bus service to the J. L. Hudson Thanksgiving Day Parade on Thursday, November 24.

FOP Campaign Is Big Success

The "Kids—Don't Go With Strangers!" campaign launched some six months ago by the Michigan Fraternal Order of Police (FOP), is having its impact, according to Jack Brown, State FOP president.

"Thanks to the support of both manpower and funds from our more than 60 local FOP Lodges and that of 80 Michigan businesses, we've distributed nearly a half million pieces of personal safety educational materials into Michigan schools since mid-April," said Lt. Brown, a lieutenant for the Ferndale Police Department.

It was during this period that the series of unsolved violent crimes against children by friendly strangers came to a halt. Considering the scope of the FOP program, to reach all 1.2 million kindergarten through sixth grade youngsters with these life-saving messages, "that fact is more than coincidence," said Lt. Brown.

"This program has received tremendous visibility and recognition across the country and is serving as a guide of information for possible use by FOP Lodges in other states," he added.

The FOP materials include a 16-page story booklet, an eight-page coloring book and a bumper sticker. They are designed to help parents and teachers impress upon their children the inherent danger of going with a stranger.

Most impressive, said Lt. Brown, has been the support of Michigan businesses, which so far have contributed more than $32,000 to the FOP's own $20,000 underwriting of the educational program. The Michigan Fraternal Order of Police is a statewide association of about 8,500 law enforcement officers dedicated to greater police professionalism. The organization was founded in the state in 1942 and is affiliated with the National FOP which has some 150,000 members.

"The citizens of Michigan are faced with a crisis that came to the forefront four years ago and has yet to be resolved. It is the energy crisis. The crisis has many facets: it is a crisis of diminishing resources and increased dependence on foreign imports; it is a crisis of skyrocketing costs and of waste; and, unfortunately, it is a crisis of disbelief. Many citizens are not yet convinced that we are indeed confronted with an invisible enemy that touches all aspects of our lives. Michigan is particularly vulnerable since it must import close to 95 percent of its energy supplies. But the energy crisis is such that individual efforts can make a difference. Therefore, I, William G. Milliken, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby declare November, 1977, as the second annual Energy Month in Michigan. I urge every citizen in the state to focus in on the issues of energy and the importance energy plays in our lives. And I urge every citizen to seek new ways to conserve energy while at the same time developing a new energy ethic."

Governor William G. Milliken

Nancy Dickerson, prominent national correspondent, reports for Detroit Edison:

It's Michigan Energy Month. Take another look at how you can use energy wisely.

Governor William Milliken has officially proclaimed November as Energy Month to promote discussion about energy conservation in Michigan.

It's a good time for all of us to find and share new ways to use energy wisely.

The theme for the month, "Energy—Handle with Care," tells the story. Many of the fuels we use to supply energy are becoming scarce and expensive. So energy conservation directly concerns us all.

If you have questions on energy-saving techniques, call the Energy Hot Line in Lansing during November. The number is 1-800-292-4704 and it's toll-free.

Here are just a few of the things you can do to conserve energy at home. You'll be dollars ahead on energy costs, too.

- Have your home properly insulated. If you own your home, Detroit Edison's Home Insulation Finance Plan may help you get the work done. Ask about it at any customer office.

- Install storm windows and doors, and check weatherstripping and caulking. Close draperies and pull shades at night to cut down on heat loss through glass areas.

- Keep your furnace and air conditioner in good repair, and replace filters often. Faulty appliances waste energy and money.
- Consider installing a heat pump for energy-efficient heating and cooling. If you're planning on buying an air conditioner next summer, make sure it's the right size for the area you want to cool and has an Energy Efficiency Rating of 8 or more.

As an energy supplier, Detroit Edison is an active and concerned participant in America's crusade for conservation.

So, even though the people at Detroit Edison cannot control the use of energy other than their own, they are continually working to produce and supply electricity as efficiently as possible; both to conserve our non-renewable natural resources and to give you the most for your energy dollar.

Here are some of the things Detroit Edison is doing:

- salvaging and recycling paper, wire, lines hardware, poles, street-lighting equipment, transformers, capacitors... even oil, again saving limited resources

- using compact service vehicles for more efficient and economical operation and gas mileage
- pioneering time-of-day rates and remote-controlled air conditioning and water heating to reduce energy consumption and waste as well as slowing the need to build costly new generating plants

- continuing research into alternative energy sources such as solar, nuclear, wind and refuse in order to conserve scarce fossil fuels.

America's crusade for conservation requires a working relationship between those who supply energy and those who use it.

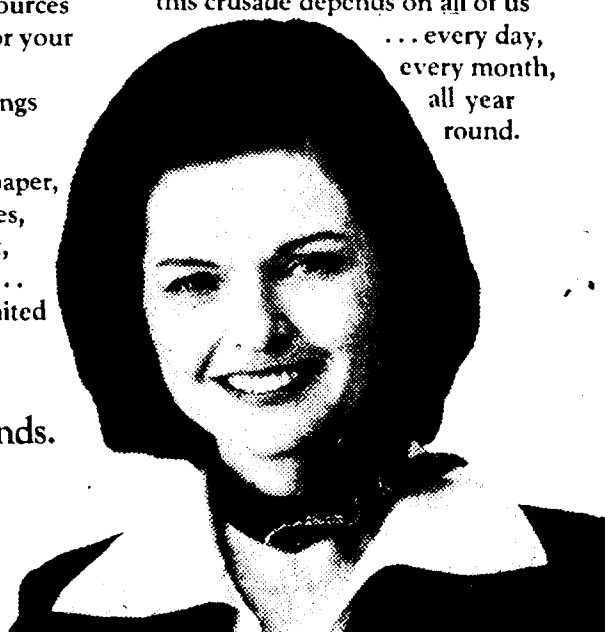

Detroit Edison is working hard to do its part. But the success of this crusade depends on all of us

... every day, every month, all year round.

November is Energy Month. Conserve for all it's worth. The power is in your hands.

Detroit Edison

In many cases the engineer is a train of thought just has control over the throttle. If life is a burden to you it is a safe bet that you are a burden to other people.

GP Memorial Plans Service

The annual community Thanksgiving Eve service will be held Wednesday, November 23, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, at 8 p.m.

Other churches participating are Christ Episcopal and Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian. Dr. Robert Linthicum, pastor of The Woods church, will give the sermon entitled "How to Keep Thanksgiving Well."

Before and after the service, William De Turk, director of music of Memorial Church, will play special seasonal music on the carillon. During the service Mr. De Turk will direct the Chancel Choir in Mendelssohn's "Thanks Be to God" from "Elijah."

Leslie Sanders, assistant organist of Memorial Church, will preside at the organ.

Barons, Lions Each Win Game

The Red Barons renewed their longstanding rivalry with the Grosse Pointe Lions for the championship of youth football in the community in games played at North High School on Sunday, November 13.

Despite the strong wind and bitter cold, a large crowd was in attendance to cheer both teams, who each won a game and tied the other.

In the freshman contest, Greg Lambrecht played brilliantly at quarterback as he scored two touchdowns to pace the Red Barons to a 25-6 victory.

Gary Cornell gained 95 hard earned yards and added two more touchdowns to complete the scoring. Richard Lambrecht, Joe Cobb, Kevin Shannon, Robbie Chown and Scott Chandler provided the blocking up front.

The crushing tackles of Terry McGivern caused two fumbles and an interception. Steve Fleming and David Fleming each recovered a fumble and Fleming intercepted a pass to spark the defense.

McGivern, Rick Campbell, Bill Denler, Bill Smith, Ken Lord, Tim Piche and Scott Laquiere played strong defense to contribute to the win.

At the junior varsity level, the Red Barons stumbled and fumbled to a 19-19 tie.

Will Secor, Jim Seagram and Chris Bingham each netted a touchdown behind the aggressive play of Phil Garner, Tom Poier and Dave Spindler.

The defense was led by Nino Cueter, David Fitzsimmons, Chris Schade and Paul Bautista.

The Red Barons lost the varsity game to the Lions, 24-12. The game marked the first victory in seven years in the cross-town rivalry.

The Red Barons opened the scoring after a sustained drive, showing hard-hitting offense and a constantly shifting defense which held the Lions scoreless throughout the first half.

The Lions had to kick to the Red Barons to start the second half. On the opening kick, Jim Hartman lit the fire under the Lions with a solid tackle.

The Lions defensive line came alive and the Barons' backs found it difficult to gain yardage against Bernie Van Antwerp, Scott Strzempke and Steve Suminski in the middle. The Barons then tried to go wide only to be stopped by Kurt Allan and Steve Carrier on the ends.

Lion linebackers Hartman, Jamie Harrison and Greg Buck stopped the Barons the few times they got past the line.

The Barons' receivers also had great difficulty penetrating the pass coverage set up by safeties Rich Moeller, John Strabel and Rob Coddens.

Lie Riders Stop Show at GPHC

At the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club's (GPHC), Sunday, November 13, horse show, which opened under a pall of disappointment and a chilly canopy of winter air, nearly 50 members and affiliated riders turned out for 17 beginner, intermediate and advanced classes of the show.

The show was originally scheduled to be an interclub meet against Bloomfield Hunt Club but they cancelled out three days before the event, leaving show officials in a last-minute scramble to fill the classes.

However, at 6 p.m. when the last class began, those same officials were wondering how they would have accommodated another team of riders.

The largest class of the day, Intermediate Equitation, was won by Lancelot Lie, 7, who also rode the pony, Lady Bug.

Roxane Lie, 15, who competes in the summer on the Michigan "A" horse show circuit, rode Equus to two impressive second place finishes in Open-Jumper and Junior Jumping Equitation.

The "Open-Jumper" class was a timed event, the winner being the fastest horse with the fewest jumping faults. Until Equus had his turn, none of the horses had made it around the course without a refusal.

Equus had a clean round but was beaten in time by Jennifer Holmes on Water Music, who also went clean.

Equus earned enough points to become Reserve Champion hunter/jumper of the show behind high-point horse, Water Music.

"I can't believe the Lie children," exclaimed judge Linda Robinson, 21, of The Pointe. "Every one of them is very good."

The Lie riders are four of eight children of Kim and Mado Lie, of Bedford road.

The Grosse Pointe Hunt Club accepts adult and junior riding students who do not have regular memberships in the club.

Seniors' Jobs May Be Coming

More jobs for senior citizens are likely if federal authorities approve a grant application being submitted with consent of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, according to Commissioner Ervin A. Steiner Jr. in a commission news release.

At its meeting Thursday, October 27, the board authorized the county Office on Aging to apply for federal funds available through Title IX of the U.S. Older Americans Act. It would provide $70,000 to increase employment opportunity for seniors in the county, Mr. Steiner said.

Under the program, 18 seniors in the county would be hired to expand the Referral Employment Network for Elderly Workers, (RENEW), a project of the Office on Aging.

With federal approval of the grant, 16 of these seniors will be placed throughout the county in various offices of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, (MESC), and two will work from the Office on Aging in Detroit to coordinate and publicize the program.

Those placed in MESC offices throughout the county will be there solely to consider prospective older workers, and to assure that every opportunity for them is explored, Mr. Steiner explained. Senior job applicants in these offices will be interviewed, catalogued and referred by people their own approximate age.

"It is a program that is sensitive to particular needs, and it allows us to add a valuable service even though we have had to cut back on others during our present financial troubles," Mr. Steiner continued.

"This program will not cost the County any additional expense, and it will greatly contribute toward opportunities for our most respected citizens," he added.

GPW Combines Citizen Report

Proposals for the 1978 calendar and annual report in The Woods were briefly reviewed by the council at its regular meeting Monday, November 7, before a decision was made, basically as a cost-saving measure, to issue a combined report and calendar in December for the first quarter of 1978 on a bid basis.

The proposals for printing the 1978 calendar and annual report totaled $5,925, $3,631 and $3,195 from three different companies for printing and design.

However, because of better prices, it was suggested that the quarterly report to citizens also include a calendar, all in one swoop.

At the same time, the content of the calendar would be more current rather than having such a document printed for the entire year and made available before January 1 with the chance that meeting times could be outdated.

The content of each report-calendar is scheduled to be reviewed by the council before it's finally published and distributed by mail. In this respect, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos expressed some concern over proofreading errors in the annual calendar for 1977.

AARP Meets November 21

Due to the Thanksgiving holiday, the November meeting of the American Ass'n. of Retired Persons, (AARP), Grosse Pointe Chapter No. 2151, will be held on Monday, November 21, at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, at 1 p.m.

Ed Bunn has scheduled Dr. James Kiefer to speak on the subject "Something to Be Thankful For."

In other news, Kramer Foster has announced plans for a dinner at the International Institute in February, and a trip to Washington, D.C., in April. Reservations may be made at the next meeting.

Programs are followed by refreshments.

Pointe Students Make Big 'Impression'

MRS. KATHLEEN LUBERTO, chairperson of the Dental Auxiliary, and BETTY BEECHER and LORI GOULD, Grosse Pointe Dental Co-op students. The girls are presenting a clinic on custom impression trays by the dental assistant.

Co-op Students Show Off For Detroit Area Dentists

Although it is only two months into the first year of The Pointe's first Dental Co-op Program, 21 of the local students have already made it to the big time—making official presentations at the 38th Dental Review of the Detroit District Dental Society held at the Hyatt Regency Hotel, Dearborn, late last month.

The 23rd graders, enrolled in the course taught by Jeanne Bocci, were part of the "professional meeting's" "table clinic programs" along with presentations by full-fledged dentists with such titles as "Endosseous Blade Implant—Placed Behind the Maxillary Sinus" and "The Usefulness of Split-Thickness Grafts of Palatal Mucosa for Vestibuloplasty."

In spite of their age, the local students did themselves proud with their own impressive-sounding titles: "Custom Trays by the Dental Assistant," "Base Plates and Wax Occlusal Rims by the Assistant," "Insurance Forms by the Dental Assistant" and "Temporary Crowns and Bridges."

The students' presentations were extremely thorough. In all instances pass-out sheets were available indicating the materials needed for the job to be done, as well as a detailed listing of step-by-step procedures to be followed in performing the various tasks.

Students involved in the Custom Trays clinic were Betty Beecher, Laura Bentley, Lori Gould, Eric Grimes and Barbara Stewart.

Pointers who presented Base Plates were David Attar, Donna Bruno, Karen Fields, Claudia Guest, Dianne Meyer and Maryjo Rauch.

The clinic on insurance forms was handled by Tammy Guzzardo, Pamela Leal, Roselyn Palazzolo, Mary Pamerleau and Philomina Vantiem.

The presentation on crowns and bridges involved Tony Camp, Judy Catalano, Suzanne Thomas, James Verbecke and Nancy Wood.

Mrs. Bocci said dental assistants as well as professionals attending the convention told her they were impressed with the presentations.

"I thought they did an excellent job, if I do say so myself. But then, I've got great kids," she commented.

Mrs. Bocci said she also was pleased by the answers which the students gave to the questions which were asked by the dentists.

"That was really putting them on the spot, but they sure came through. Members of the audience expressed amazement at the scope and depth of the students' learning. I was proud of them," she said.

To prepare for the presentations before the audience of dentists and dental professionals, the local co-op students worked hard for over two months.

For their efforts, the North and South young people were presented with certificates of appreciation signed by officials of the Detroit District Dental Society.

The Cooperative Dental Aides course is a new one to both high schools. To enroll, students must have completed Dental Aides or be currently taking it.

"Cooperative Dental Aides, is an on-the-job program for the student interested in a career in the dental field," Mrs. Bocci explained.

"The student has actual experience in a dental office, laboratory or other related business and an opportunity to develop further the skills attained in the Dental Aides course."

Co-op students are dismissed early from school to work on a job located in the Grosse Pointe-Detroit area and are expected to work an average of 15 hours a week.

As the teacher-coordinator, Mrs. Bocci supervises the students and works with the employer to improve personal and technical skills and to evaluate each student's work.

Dental Aides, a vocationally oriented course, is taught at North and is open to 11th and 12th graders in both high schools.

The program provides students with entry-level dental assisting job skills and is organized for students with career goals as dentist, hygienist, dental technician or dental assistant.

The Dental Aides program provides instruction and skill development in the areas of dental anatomy, dental materials, chairside assisting, office management, dental laboratory materials, radiography and first aid.

Mrs. Bocci has trained dental assistants in on-the-job programs in the offices of local dentists, and has served as dental assistant and office manager for a number of dentists.

Her training includes courses at the Michigan Technological University in Houghton, at the University of Michigan's Dental School, as well as at the Dental School of the University of Detroit. She attended Marquette University's School of Dentistry, the Kellogg Community College and is currently enrolled on a part-time basis at Wayne State University.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters,
Director of Public Libraries

A mother never realizes the full value of education until summer is over and the children go back to school.

Now that the schools are in full operation we have American Education Week, November 13 through 19. The purpose of American Education Week is to let the public know what the schools are doing and why—and what they could be doing.

Sponsors of this special week are the American Legion, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, United States Office of Education and the National Education Ass'n.

Educators and writers have widely divergent points of view about how to go about the business of educating our children. David Melton, in his book BURN THE SCHOOLS — SAVE THE CHILDREN, (Crowell, 1975), charges that, "The school systems in this country are major disaster areas."

Mr. Melton, the father of two children, one of whom was brain-injured at birth, sought educational help for his child and in the process took a long, hard look at American schools and was appalled at what he learned.

He states in this very controversial book that children's right to knowledge is being denied and even suppressed. Mr. Melton examines and questions the value of adding to the school curriculum explicit sex education, sensitivity training and personality testing; and tells of parent groups throughout the country who oppose the additions and are battling the school boards.

The author's conclusions will be questioned by many but no reader will be left unmoved.

A quite different approach to public school education is taken by Mario D. Fantini, a dean of education, in his book PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF CHOICE, (Simon and Schuster, 1973).

Dean Fantini believes that despite the current wave of criticism leveled at our public schools, most Americans continue to be satisfied with them. He hopes his book will offer a constructive, achievable remedy for the faults that do exist without destroying the present pattern of public schooling.

Educational alternatives will be required to provide each student with the type of education the student wants and needs. This book reviews in detail innovative programs that have been tested in foreign countries as well as in cities throughout the country.

Two men, one a physician, the other a clinical psychologist, have teamed up to write a "handbook" for parents who want to be "insiders" when it comes to dealing with their child's school.

The book is BETWEEN PARENT AND SCHOOL, (Dial Press, 1977), authored by Murray M. Kappelman, MD, and Paul R. Ackerman, PhD.

"To start with," the authors tell us, "you have to understand how the system works." The reader is given a guided tour of Education Land during which is explained the reality behind the roles of principals, teachers, psychologists, resource room teachers and all the other bewildering specialists—what they do, their problems, their goals; above all what they are saying behind the technical terms and outright jargon that intimidates many parents.

The true importance of BETWEEN PARENT AND SCHOOL is that it deals with such a broad range of situations and problems that affect the life of almost every child in every school. And school is where your child spends the greatest uninterrupted portion of the waking day.

Chapters about the gifted child, the mentally retarded child and the child with an acute illness are especially valuable to a complete understanding of the educational process in the public school.

Teachers write books. Gloria Channon is one of them. Her book HOMEWORK, (Outerbridge and Dienstfrey, 1970), is subtitled REQUIRED READING FOR TEACHERS AND PARENTS.

The author, a veteran teacher from the New York City school system, became increasingly unhappy with what she was achieving in her classroom—with how much she was teaching her students and with the amount they were learning.

So one year, she decided to experiment with a more open, a freer classroom and to let the children determine pretty much for themselves how and what they would study. HOMEWORK is the story of what happened.

Lord Chesterton wrote, "Education is the period during which you are being instructed by somebody you do not know, about something you do not want to know."

Let's hope Chesterton was wrong!

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

In two earlier columns I have shared with readers some of our plans for improving student instructional opportunities in reading and mathematics.

In this, the third in the series designed to demonstrate how our staff is implementing the Board-approved goals in 1977-78, I shall comment on plans to bolster our writing program as we attempt to attain Goal Number One: Improve student achievement in the basic skills.

At the elementary level, we plan to republish our model for evaluating student writing, including revisions based on local school system research. This is one of the goals we expect to complete very soon, with some in-service training scheduled soon for teachers and others who will be using the model.

In the middle schools we also are revising the model for evaluating student writing in relation to additional research and in line with the recommendations of departmental chairpersons in English.

In addition, the Board is now reviewing the requirements and follow-through of writing instruction at the middle school level. When this phase of the project has been completed, in-service training is planned for those teachers who will be responsible for the evaluation of student writing.

Incidentally, we also hope to develop a plan to encourage students to enter various writing competitions, such as the Scholastic Writing Awards Contest.

At the high school level many projects and activities are already under way. In an earlier column I shared with readers our plans for a required 10th grade Writing Workshop. As you may recall, it was inaugurated in September.

An in-service workshop for all instructors at both North and South High Schools who are responsible for teaching the course has been in operation for some time.

In connection with the Writing Workshop, English departmental chairpersons and appointing a committee to work with the department of instruction in designing a suitable evaluation instrument. The objective-referenced test will be used to evaluate student achievement of the Writing Workshop.

Another project designed to improve students' skill at writing is the development and implementation of a writing model for the high school. Following completion of our research and the publication of the model, it is expected that the staff will be able to administer a test by next June.

St. James Sets Holiday Service

Saint James Lutheran Church, 170 McMillan road, will hold its traditional Thanksgiving service on November 24 at 9:30 a.m.

The Saint James Choir, under the direction of Herman Clein, will sing. A nursery for small children will be available.

In response to the needs of the poor and hungry, the church said its members are bringing gifts of food to the weekly special services during the season.

North Varsity Runners Have Fine Year

Pointe's Highway Fund Share Drops Slightly

Gasoline sales in Michigan showed a slight 1.4 percent increase during the heavy travel months of July through September in comparison with the same three months of 1976, the State Highway Commission reported on Thursday, November 10.

The Pointe's overall share of their total allocation for this year's third quarter was $169 less than for the same period in 1976.

The commission reported that receipts from the nine-cent-a-gallon tax totaled $106,283,653 up by $1,419,050 over the same quarter last year. Tax revenue on diesel fuel, used mainly by trucks, rose from $5,355,891 to $6,429,591 in the same period, an increase of $1,073,771 or 20.1 percent.

From July through September of this year, The Pointe's share of the 1977 receipts amounts to $189,839, as compared to the $190,028 received from July through September of 1976.

Total motor fuel taxes, including the liquid petroleum gas tax, increased by 2.3 percent to $112,765,338.

The small gas tax increase was attributed in part to the gradual trend toward lighter cars and improved engine performances.

For the fiscal year which ended September 30, fuel tax receipts climbed by $19,482,721 to $425,990,375, an increase of 4.8 percent.

Resident weight taxes paid in the form of license plate fees totaled $7,942,564 in the July through September quarter, up by 24 percent from the same quarter last year.

For the fiscal year, receipts totaled $164,065,237, up by $3,378,076, of 5.4 percent.

All the tax revenues go to the State Motor Vehicle Highway Fund. Proceeds, including earned interest, are being distributed to the state, the counties and municipalities after deductions of $10.23 million for grants and collection costs.

The 1977 third-quarter share to the Pointes are as follows: The Woods, $67,991; The Park, $48,901; The Farms, $39,861; The City, $22,067; and The Shores, $11,039.

The 1976 third-quarter to the Pointes shows The Woods, $67,986; The Park, $48,892; The Farms, $40,054; The City, $22,059; and The Shores, $11,037.

The highway fund tax revenues include $1,319,742 which goes to the State Waterways Fund, $5,795,067 to the General Transportation Fund for bus and rail programs and $2,571,307 for collection costs.

Of the $114,513,723 distributed, the Department of State Highways and Transportation received 44.5 percent, or $50,808,173; the 83 county road commissions, 35.7 percent or $40,807,365; and $22,808,185, or 19.8 percent, goes to the cities and villages.

The municipalities' share declined slightly because of a transfer of nearly 60 miles of city streets to county jurisdiction, mainly in Kent County.

Wayne County's 1977 third-quarter share of the highway receipts amounts to a total of $6,355,964, as compared to the 1976 third-quarter which came to a total of $6,341,530.

NHS Harriers' Year Reviewed

By Karen Nickoloff

North High School's cross country team, under coach Tom Gauerke, had a very successful 1977 season.

The harriers won every dual meet in which they competed and also won three invitational, with more than 20 teams competing in each. They also came in second in the Tri-State race and second in the State Championships held in Grand Rapids.

Throughout their season the harriers did a lot of traveling. They began their year by visiting West Bloomfield, winning the West Bloomfield Invitational.

Then they were off to Holly to compete in the Holly Invitational in which they came in second behind Grand Blanc.

The top seven runners also traveled to Toledo, O., to compete in the Tri-State competition. All ran well bringing home the second place trophy.

The season also included winning the Wayne County Championships, State Regionals and the Bi-County Championships. The harriers also came in second at the state finals.

In dual meets, North's competitors consisted of Lake Shore, Southlake, Fraser, Warren, L'Anse Creuse, Lakeview, Anchor Bay and South High School.

Pointe Doctors Involved in New Cancer Treatment

Physicians at Harper-Grace Hospitals in Detroit have developed a method of treating cancer of the rectum that appears to be more effective than any presently used, according to a news release.

The technique involves treating patients with drugs and x-ray radiation about four to six weeks before surgery is performed.

Pointer Dr. Thomas Buroker, a cancer specialist at the hospitals and an assistant professor at the Wayne State University School of Medicine, said that in spite of advances in surgery, the five-year survival rate for patients with rectal cancer has not improved significantly in the last 20 years.

Dr. Buroker said this is because the cancer symptoms appear late and, in a large proportion of patients, the cancer has already spread from the rectum to regional lymph nodes before detection.

He said that if the cancer has spread, the patient's chances of survival are markedly reduced. In 20 to 50 percent of such cases, surgery is not effective.

Because the disease is often beyond effective surgical control when discovered, the Harper-Grace doctors began the use of chemotherapy and radiation before surgery.

Taking part in the study, in addition to Dr. Buroker, was another Pointer, Dr. Norman Negro, and Doctors Juan Correa, Valutis K. Vaitkevicius, Michael Samson and Basil Considine. All are specialists in the treatment of cancer.

Dr. Buroker said that 21 high-risk patients were treated with the combination of chemotherapy and radiation prior to surgery. The tumors decreased in size in all the patients.

In 65 percent of the cases the chemotherapy and radiation caused the cancers to be reduced in size by 50 percent or more. In some cases the tumors were completely eradicated by the radiation and drug treatment. The group reported their findings in the medical journal, "Diseases of the Colon and Rectum." Their treatment program is now being tested nationally.

Cancer of the colon and rectum is second only to cancer of the skin in incidence and second to lung cancer as a cause of death, according to the American Medical Ass'n.

There are 21,000 cancers of the rectum discovered annually and 10,300 deaths from the disease. Overall five-year survival rates for patients with this cancer average approximately 50 percent.

The death rates for cancer of the rectum are highest in the New England and Great Lakes states, Hawaii and Alaska. The rates are lowest in most of the south and parts of the west.

Tim Mucciante Is Senate Page

Timothy M. Mucciante, 18, of Fairholme road, has been appointed to the position of Michigan Senate Page following his nomination by State Sen. Joseph M. Snyder.

"It was a pleasure for me to nominate a young man whose past accomplishments and activities convincingly demonstrate his interest and willingness to become involved in government," said Sen. Snyder, whose 28th District Senate seat includes The Woods.

The drinking habit of America has changed, and wine producers and distributors are profiting from it. In the past year, a wine magazine estimated that the demand for premium (wines costing over $2.00) table wines has increased 20%. This search for better wines by Americans has grown faster than the supply, especially in the finer white California wines. If you have a favorite in this group, better stock up before it is all gone.

Stock up on your favorite wines at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 for the holiday season ahead. Wine is the perfect accompaniment to a festive holiday meal and is also an ideal hostess or Christmas gift. We give 10% discount off of our already low prices for wine purchased by the case. Open: 10-10 Mon.-Thurs.; 10-11 Fri., Sat.

WINE WISDOM:

Dry riesling wine is good to drink with meals rather than with cheese and crackers.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Let's say we just put you on the pay roll and made you President in charge of making property values increase in Grosse Pointe! You can do anything you want but there are some guide rules: Don't increase the taxes, don't attempt to use any Federal grant money, don't float any bonds, and don't change the residential zoning. And, oh yes, don't ask the homeowners for any money either!

Sounds impossible doesn't it? Well it normally would be if you didn't have a very unusual invention—namely a mid-block mini park which, incidentally, creates two private lanes—Cul-de-Sacs! How does this increase property values? Imagine yourself moving to another town and you're looking for a new home. "We'll like a quiet street safe from traffic!" or "we'd like a private lane!" or "we'd like a street with a quaint folksey feeling—lots of trees!" or we'd like a house that isn't on a through street!" In almost all instances your describing a Cul-de-Sac lane. You'll then find that this type location is very rare and consequently have to pay more! The low of supply and demand establishes the values and price of almost everything.

This shows you how to increase the property values but it doesn't establish who's going to pay for it all!

This is our number two goal, once we've determined the majority of Pointers want the Cul-de-Sac program. We have thoughts along that line also which we think are entirely feasible.

Why did we bring up this subject? Well, we just want you to know what a wonderful accomplishment our Community Development Program is. If we keep the end results in mind—don't allow ourselves to be side tracked, we'll make it! How can you help? Remember us when you have need for a Real Estate Co.—that's our full time job. 882-0087 Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co.

Silver casters were used to serve powdered spices and sugar as long ago as three hundred years. Casters are beautifully worked containers, ranging from four to nine inches in height, and of basically cylindrical shape. Frequently casters come in sets of three, perhaps with two small ones, and one large one. The lids encompass approximately 1/3 of the total height of the casters. These lids were pierced with great care into intricate open-work designs. Sometimes one of the three casters had an unpierced lid, for the use of containing mustard powder. The lids of casters simply push into place.

Gifts that are just a little bit different can be found at VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, 881-4800. Do your Christmas shopping early and avoid the crowded stores. Shop in comfort here at VALENTE'S and you will find something of value for your whole family. GEM FACT:

Early casters were straight cylinders, but later ones were pear shaped.

President's Preview Draws Full House of Sponsors Who Contributed Record $46,000 to Support WSU's Graduate Repertory Company

The 15th anniversary season of Wayne State University's Hilberry Theatre was celebrated Friday evening, November 11, with the annual President's Preview. A dinner at the new Standard Club in Renaissance Center, music and champagne were all part of the festivities at the black tie opening of "The Amorous Flea" for Theatre Sponsors.

The event also was a record-breaking fund-raiser for the theatre's Understudies, the committee of Detroit-area women who have assumed the task of finding sponsors to contribute to the support of the Hilberry's graduate repertory company.

According to Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker, Jr., of Merriweather road, Understudies chairman, an all-time record $46,000 was raised, mostly through individual $100 contributions.

Prior to the performance, more than 300 theatre guests gathered for dinner at the new Standard Club. They were the first group outside the club's membership to dine at the new facility.

A champagne reception in the theatre foyer for the full house and the entire Hilberry Company, beneficiaries of the fund-raiser, followed the performance.

Among the Preview guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Merriam Barnes, W. Jane McLuckie Is Autumn Bride

Alan Anthony Lendways Vacation in Bermuda Following Mid-September Rites in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church

The china bride and bridegroom figures that had topped her parents' wedding cake decorated the cake served at the reception following the wedding of Jane Alison McLuckie and Alan Anthony Lendway.

Presiding at the late morning rites Saturday, September 17, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church were The Reverend Hector J. Saulino and The Reverend Mr. Richard Klapchar.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McLuckie, of Higbie place south, is an alumna of Our Lady Star of the Sea High School.

She received her Bachelor of Fine Arts degree and her Masters degree in Art History from Michigan State University, where she was in the Honors College and af-iliated with Phi Kappa Phi and Tau Sigma national honor societies.

Mr. Lendway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew A. Lendway, of South Burlington, Vt., holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Business and Finance from the University of Vermont, where he affiliated with Delta Psi fraternity.

The newlyweds vacationed for a week in Bermuda and are now at home in Montpelier, Vt. The former Miss McLuckie has resumed her position as architectural historian for the Vermont Division for Historic Preservation.

The bridegroom has been fiscal coordinator for the Vermont Division for Historic Preservation.

The 11 o'clock rites were followed by a reception in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom.

The McLuckies entertained at home in the evening, hosting a buffet supper for close friends, relatives and out-of-town guests, including the bride's uncle and aunt, Colonel (Ret.) and Mrs. A. P. Mareydt, of Longwood, Fla., her cousins, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Bruno and their family, of East Brunswick, N.J., and Mrs. John C. Vaughan, III, and her daughter Julie, of Poquoson, Va., the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Birdsong, of Bogalusa, La., and his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Lendway, of Chicago.

The bridegroom's parents, who had hosted the Rehearsal Dinner at Lochmoor Club, entertained October 8 at an Open House in the newlyweds' honor at Bolton Valley Ski Lodge, Bolton, Vt.

Traveling east for the party were the bride's parents and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kardasz, of Sterling Heights.

The former Miss McLuckie chose an Empire-waisted wedding gown of peau de soie, styled with a high, banded neckline. Her bodice and long sleeves were fashioned of English net appliqued with Duchess lace, matching the lace that edged her cathedral train. Peau de soie flounces circled her wrists.

Like her sister before her, she carried the handkerchief their mother had worn at her wedding and wore the pearls that had been her father's marriage gift to her mother.

She wore her sister's veil, cathedral length, edged in Alencon lace embroidered with crystals and pearls. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white silk roses, pale shrimp forget-me-nots and dried baby's-breath.

Mrs. Kardasz, honor matron for her sister, and bridesmaids Mrs. John Shirley, of St. Louis, Mich., Mrs. Mark Brissette, of Essexville, and Anne B. Covell, of Albany, N.Y., carried natural straw baskets filled with silk roses, shrimp-colored strawflowers and white baby's-breath.

Their gowns, designed and fashioned by the bride's mother of shrimp knit suede cloth, featured turned-back, quilted cuffs matching stand-up, quilted reverse collars and front-tied cummerbunds.

The bride's mother also designed and made the frocks worn by flower girls

Mrs. Alan Lendway

JANE ALISON MCLUCKIE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McLuckie, of Higbie place south, spoke her marriage vows Saturday, September 17, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church to Mr. Lendway, son of the Andrew A. Lendways, of South Burlington, Vt.

Joyce and Judi Bruno. They, too, wore of shrimp knit suede cloth, long-skirted and styled with quilted bodices, puff sleeves edged with quilted bands and half-belts tying in back.

Best man was Mark Iverson, of Burlington, Vt. Ushers were Charles Parker, III, also of Burlington, Robert Adsit, III, of Starksboro, Vt., and Peter King, of Duxbury, Vt.

The skirt and back bodice of the bride's mother's formal length, long-sleeved, deep shrimp chiffon shirtwaist were knife-pleated. White cymbidium orchids formed her corsage.

The bridegroom's mother's pale yellow organza shirtwaist, featuring long, sheer sleeves, was accented with a shrimp and green screen-printed border. Green cymbidium orchids formed her corsage.

The meeting is open to the public. The business district plan, the Grosse Pointe Farms Community Development Program, was proposed by the Hill Association, an organization of area merchants and professional people.

A March 18 wedding is planned.

Miss Seeber Wed to Gust H. Nelson

Birmingham Home Awaits Pair upon Their Return from Nassau Vacation; Bride's Gown Is Lavishly Accented with Lace

The wedding of Dianne Linda Seeber and Gust Howard Nelson Saturday evening, November 12, in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, was followed by a reception at the Country Club of Detroit.

The newlyweds will return from a week's vacation in Nassau to make their home in Birmingham.

The new Mrs. Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phillips Seeber, of Merriweather road, is an alumna of Liggett School and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Ohio Wesleyan University, where she affiliated with Delta Gamma.

She is currently in the Investor Relations Department of the Michigan National Corporation.

Mr. Nelson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gust Herman Nelson,

Jr., of Wichita, Kans., received both his Bachelor of Science and Master of Science in Business Administration degrees from the University of Kansas.

He is a financial analyst for the Ford Motor Company.

The Reverend Robert F. McGregor presided at the 7:30 o'clock rites. Organist was Frederick DeHaven.

The former Miss Seeber, given in marriage by her parents, chose a gown with a bodice and sleeves of imported silk illusion and a silk-finish white satin skirt. Satin Alencon and Venice lace appliques accented her tapered sleeves and chapel train. Alencon lace formed her wedding band neckline. Her hem was edged in scallops of matching lace.

She wore a long, lace-edged veil and carried an arrangement of orchids and stephanotis.

Honor maid was Martha W. Klingbeil, a former Pointer who now resides in Boston, Mass. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Philip P. Lovell, of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Harry S. Mann, of Merrimac, N.H., Mrs. Richard E. Meyer, of Mahopac, N.Y., and the bridegroom's sisters, Anna Nelson, of Wichita, and Mrs. John E. Thomas, of Excelsior, Minn.

Their frocks of dusty pink jersey were topped with matching, two-tiered chiffon capelets. They carried cascades of stephanotis, pink Elegance carnations and astymeria.

Mr. Thomas acted as best man for his brother-in-law. In the usher corps were William Nat Baker, of Ypsilanti, Morgan H. Edwards and Roy A. Leo, both of Birmingham, James R. McFarland, of Canton, Mich., and Frank R. Veraldi, of Farmington.

Embroidery of silver caviar beads accented the bride's mother's long gown of champagne silk lace. The bridegroom's mother's gown, also formal length, was of caramel jersey, styled with a softly-draped neckline and bodice.

Each mother carried a white camelia.

Inside the Mothers Club

The executive board of the Grosse Pointe South High School Mothers' Club met November 7, and was called to order by Cynthia Huebner, president, who reported receiving letters from the Foundation for Academic Excellence thanking the Mothers' Club for a donation of $1,000, and from the Student Association thanking the Mothers' Club for help with Homecoming projects and expenses.

She also said that department chairmen are meeting to formulate requests for funds, which will be submitted to the Mothers' Club officers for approval.

The officers will act upon these requests to allow prompt use of money realized from the Night at the Races.

Mrs. Huebner thanked Ann Dittmars and Sandy Gentile for their excellent and abundant refreshments at Back to School Night. Board members also commented on the fine spirit of sociability engendered by the Stage Band, which played in the Girls' Gym all evening.

From Another Pointe of View

Each home will be dressed up for the holidays, according to its style and that of its owners. One, in Grosse Pointe, will be decorated for a Scandinavian Christmas, complete with unusual Christmas eggs.

The Birmingham-Bloomfield Walk will feature a variety of architectures, from Williamsburg Colonial to a magnificent manor containing a reconstructed chapel that once graced a church in Germany.

Tickets for each Walk are $5 pre-sale, $6 at the door. Pat (Mrs. Douglas) Gmeiner is general chairman. Advance ticket information may be obtained locally by calling 882-6034, 886-4036 or 774-2386.

"Rudolph's Rig" will be making the cross-town trip both Thursdays, bringing Birmingham-Bloomfieldites to The Pointe on the 8th, taking Pointers to Birmingham-Bloomfield on the 15th.

Reservations for this door-to-door-and-home-again bus service, which includes a box lunch, may be arranged by calling 334-6872 or 335-5811.

In Grosse Pointe, the homes to be opened are those of Mr. and Mrs. Michael R. Burns in Cameron place, Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris Burrows in Newberry place, Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Larsen, Jr., in Hendrie lane, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Nerdum in Ballantyne road, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew A. Seward in Middlesex boulevard and Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Strohle in Harvard road.

Also open in full holiday finery will be Saint James Lutheran Church in McMillan road, just behind "the Hill," where refreshments will be served.

Wish A Happy Birthday

It's two weeks late, but if you happen to see Mary Harris, you might still want to wish her a Happy Birthday. AND a Happy Anniversary. And maybe add a Thank You.

Chances are you've met Mary. She is one of a vanishing breed, the Powder Room Attendant, a gentle, courteous lady known by countless Grosse Pointe women over the past quarter of a century.

More than a quarter of a century. It's been 27 years since Mary went to work at The Old Place, then known as Al Green's.

That's probably an area record. Certainly, one rarely sees anyone who does all the things Mary does for visitors to her room.

Say you've forgotten your comb... brush... cologne... fingernail file... hair spray... hankie... no matter what you need Mary usually has it, and everything she has is immaculate and ready for you.

She's a very modest person, and through the years she's kept very much in the background. Nobody, in fact, would have known it was Mary's birthday if she hadn't happened to mention, shyly, to Marguerite Phillips, "Today, (November 3), is a very special day for me."

Not only was it her birthday: it was the anniversary of the day she started to work at the restaurant, now owned by Diamond and Marguerite.

Macomb Secretaries Hold Dinner Meeting

The Macomb chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) held a dinner meeting Wednesday, November 9, at 6:30 o'clock at the Gazebo Lounge in Mound road, Warren.

The Macomb chapter is again extending a hand of friendship to members of Future Secretaries Association chapters, inviting them to become acquainted with the NSA.

Philip Wojcik, of Warren's MacNamara Community Hospital, spoke on Secretarial Positions and their Roles in Hospitals.

Hobby, Craft and Gift Show at Saint Peter's

The fourth annual Hobby, Craft and Gift Show sponsored by the Saint Peter's Altar Society of Harper Woods will be held Saturday, November 19, from 10 to 8 o'clock and Sunday, November 20, from 10 to 5 in the Social Hall of Saint Peter's, located in Vernier road near Beaconsfield, across from Eastland.

Over 80 booths will offer a variety of handcrafted and gift items, from toys to ceramics, oil paintings to woodwork, leather, jewelry and candy. Hot sandwiches and a bake sale will be featured.

"With so little notice," says Marguerite, "we did the best we could." Somebody found a birthday card. Everybody signed it.

Mary was ushered into the dining room where, in lieu of a birthday cake, her favorite strawberry cheesecake was topped with a lighted candle.

All the staff assembled. Cooks and busboys. The manager and the cashier. Waiters and waitresses, the dishwasher, bartender, salad man and parking attendant.

Pianist Tish Good played "Happy Birthday" and "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow." Customers joined in the singing.

There were smiles, a few tears in a few eyes... and much happiness for Mary. She lives alone and later, when everything was over, she said, shyly, "I wouldn't know what to do if I didn't work here; it's like my home."

Perhaps that's why countless Grosse Pointe

Dorati Returns to Lead DSO

If you missed Antal Dorati's debut as Detroit Symphony music director during the orchestra's sold-out Beethoven Festival the first two weeks of November, you will have an unexpected opportunity to witness the DSO's new maestro in action at three subscription concerts in Ford Auditorium tonight, Friday and Saturday, November 17, 18 and 19.

The concerts originally were scheduled to be conducted by Andrew Davis, but Davis was forced last week to cancel because of physical exhaustion.

When Maestro Dorati learned of the cancellation, he immediately began working on changes in his schedule to permit him to conduct the concerts. At the end of the week he announced that he would be on the podium for the three performances, and that he had engaged soprano Rosalind Rees as soloist for William Schuman's "The Young Dead Soldiers," a work given its world premiere by Maestro Dorati and Miss Rees in Washington last year.

Israeli violinist Itzhak Perlman will solo with the orchestra in the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto as scheduled. Also on the program is the Shostakovich Symphony No. 5.

The Schuman and Shostakovich works replace Scher's "Son of Heldenleben" and the Prokofiev Fifth Symphony.

Tonight's and Saturday's concerts begin at 8:30 o'clock. Friday morning's NBD Coffee Concert at 10:45 will be preceded by a complimentary coffee hour at 9:30 and a pre-concert interview on stage at 10:15 o'clock.

This will be the third performance ever of Schuman's "The Young Dead Soldiers," a work commissioned for the Bicentennial by the National Symphony Orchestra.

The second performance was by Miss Rees in New York last month, with Dennis Russell Davies conducting the St. Paul Chamber Orchestra.

Reviewing the world premiere in the Washington Star, Irving Lowens called it "a most eloquent and lovely work."

DSO principal hornist Eugene Wade also will be featured in the Schuman composition, which is described as "a lamentation for soprano, French horn, eight woodwinds and nine strings, based on a poem by Archibald MacLeish."

Already, nearly 200 former Hilberry members are working in the American theatre as actors, teachers, directors and designers.

In addition to "The Amorous Flea," the 1977-78 Hilberry Repertory season includes "You Never Can Tell," "Romeo and Juliet," "A View from the Bridge" and "A

AAA Views License Tabs

Prepared license plate tab applications have been mailed to Michigan motorists and for the first time, those owning more than one vehicle are receiving their forms in a single envelope, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

The issuance of tabs instead of new plates and the single-envelope mailing for more than one application form will save the state approximately $3.35 million.

As of Tuesday, November 15, motorists will be able to buy 1978 tabs at Department of State and 51 Auto Club offices across Michigan. One tab will be issued for each vehicle and it should be placed on top of last year's tab in the upper right corner of the rear plate.

Cost of the tab is printed on the prepared form. Vehicle owners who purchase tabs in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties and residents of those three counties who order tabs by mail are paying $2.50 more than other Michiganders. The added revenue will be used to build and upgrade mass transportation in those counties.

Approximately one million tab orders are expected to be filled by mail this year, compared to some 860,000 last year.

Deadline for tabs being ordered by mail is February 1 for commercial vehicles and trailers and March 1 for passenger cars and motorcycles. The deadline for having 1978 tabs on commercial vehicles is March 1, while it is April 1 for passenger cars.

Vehicle owners are advised to check the prepared license plate tab application closely for errors, fill in missing information and sign the certification. Mail the completed application back to the Department of State, which will begin filling orders after November 15.

To obtain a tab at Department of State or Auto Club offices, motorists must bring in either the prepared renewal form, the 1977 registration or the certificate of vehicle title, plus proof of public liability and property damage insurance.

Auto Club points out that motorists using their vehicle title for proof must know their license plate number.

Handicapped Parking Eyed

State Sen. Joseph M. Snyder issued a reminder last week regarding Michigan's new handicapped parking law, which recently went into effect, according to a news release.

"This act is specifically designed to make it easier for handicapped persons to get around and to help assure they will be able to take advantage of the special parking spaces provided for them in shopping centers and other areas.

"It would be a real shame if they had to endure unnecessary inconvenience because they did not know about this law," said Sen. Snyder, who was the principal sponsor of the act.

One of the main advantages of the handicapped parking law is that it provides for a transferable handicapper's certificate of identification. The certificate enables persons to park in spaces reserved for the handicapped.

Although it was previously possible for handicapped persons to obtain either a special license plate or parking permit, there was no way for them to transfer the permit if they relied upon a number of individuals to give them rides.

Now, however, a handicapped person who has the transferable identification certificate may allow whoever is giving them a ride to use it on that occasion so they can park their car in the reserved handicapped parking space without risking getting a ticket," Sen. Snyder said.

The statewide law also allows communities to fine persons who park illegally in the reserved handicapped parking spaces up to $100.

The senator, who is the chairman of the Senate House Special Committee on Aging, explained that to be eligible to park in the reserved spaces, a handicapped person must use a wheelchair or have a physical characteristic that limits his or her ability to walk.

He added that the transferable identification certificate may be obtained from Secretary of State Offices.

Classes will be scheduled at 7:45 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings beginning November 28 and continuing, with a break for Christmas, until February 16.

The fee is $25 for 10 weeks instruction.

Miss Cooper teaches the Cecchetti or traditional Italian ballet. She is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory in Toronto and a member of the international board of directors of teachers of the Cecchetti method.

Classes are accompanied by Mrs. Charles Cooper, a former concert pianist.

Islanders Off To Fine Start

The Grosse Pointe midget travel hockey team is proving that quality, not quantity is what makes a good club.

With only 11 players, the Islanders won eight of their first nine games this season.

The team is made up of 15- and 16-year-olds and games are played at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink on Sunday nights.

Coaches Len Johnstone, Bob Morris and Tom McCubbins note team members never grumble about getting their fair share of ice time during games.

The players are forwards Sam Curcuro, Dave Parker, Jim Morris, Mark Fabry, Mark Murray and Rich Caron and defensemen Paul Sattler, Ken Versichele and Joe Brykalski. The goalies are Rob Whims and Mark Basile.

Cancer Center Helps Patients

Helping cancer patients and their families is what the Michigan Cancer Foundation, (MCF), is all about, reports a foundation news release.

To discover the many different forms caring takes at the MCF, volunteers recently attended the foundation's Cancer Awareness Forum at Mercy Center in Farmington Hills.

The forum gave the volunteers a chance to learn about the foundation's research programs, where scientists are working to find the cures for cancer and to someday prevent its occurrence.

They heard about the MCF's Patient and Family Care Service, where nurses, social workers and clergy work to help cancer patients cope with the emotional, spiritual and physical problems cancer can sometimes cause.

The rehabilitation programs the Foundation offers to help patients "get back on their feet" after cancer surgery and resume full, active lives also was viewed.

The MCF is dedicated to making sure that all the help cancer patients need is there when they need it, and through the foundation's nine unit offices and service centers, including one in The Woods, volunteers work to translate that pledge into reality.

They staff the offices and distribute free medical supplies cancer patients sometimes need. They help conduct cancer public education and information programs and assist at cancer screening and detection clinics.

Some MCF volunteers also transport cancer patients to and from radiation or chemotherapy treatment centers, or sell MCF holiday greeting cards.

Sometimes, they just listen, and give cancer patients someone to talk to — someone who understands.

MCF staff and volunteers at MCF's East Service Center in The Pointe include Bernice Bugdanski, Florence Borowski, Hope Majewski, Janet Ludlam, Kenneth Wilkison, Tom Reynolds and Maya Elmer.

The center, 21312 Mack avenue, is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays. The phone number is 881-2413.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation is a Torch Drive-United Way agency.

GPW to View Brys Traffic

Suggestions from the public safety department toward alleviating heavy traffic conditions in Brys drive and Old Eight Mile road will be considered by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, November 21, at 7:30 p.m.

The recommendations, prepared by Woods Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook based upon a meeting with city planner Brandon Rogers, representatives from the AAA, St. Clair Shores and Harper Woods Police Departments on Monday, November 7, will be aimed at reducing excessive traffic along Brys and diverting it to other areas.

Lt. Peter Thomas, acting public safety director, also attended the meeting on the 7th and reviewed Officer Crook's recommendations.

Equalizing the volume of traffic in the immediate area is a primary objective of the recommendations, which are all inter-related, said Lt. Thomas.

A main emphasis of the suggestions views education, enforcement, the use of signs and the re-routing of traffic toward easing the situation. "Besides these short-range solutions which we are reaching for, Mr. Rogers plans on incorporating recommendations on a long-range basis," he added.

JAMES T. FARLEY, OF COLONIAL ROAD, SAINT JOHN HOSPITAL PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

By Janet Mueller

"So much of our growth is geared to the community and the community's needs. In our particular community, the over-65 population is going to double in the next 10 years." Question: When will Saint John Hospital stop growing? Answer, (straight from the horse's mouth): Hopefully, never . . . but let's take a look at what we mean by growth.

Jim Farley sees Saint John as just about at the limits of its physical expansion.

It's already the East Side's biggest hospital. It operates on a budget of close to $60 million per year with, at the end of the year, approximately $2 million left over to acquire new and replace old equipment, and to grow . . .

Replacement Costs Consider replacement costs alone. An X-ray machine last seven years "at the outside," costs about $100,000. "And we have 15 of them."

New equipment? "We're about to add a cath scanner, at a cost of $800,000."

Ouch! So that's why hospital costs keep going up. Mr. Farley can't see them coming down. "We have to keep up with the cost of living. We have no alternative."

"If we could freeze all medical technology at the present level, it might be theoretically possible to stay where we are. But ANY new development is an added cost over where we are right now."

Question: Aren't some of these machines rather in the nature of luxuries? Do we really need all this new, sophisticated technology?

"Maybe," Jim Farley allows, "there are some unnecessary procedures. But say you're sick: who's to say what's unnecessary when it comes to getting you well?"

And say you're the doctor, 99 percent sure of your diagnosis. The odds are overwhelmingly with you, but if you're wrong . . .

Cut Insurance Costs Mr. Farley is chairman of the Michigan Hospital Association Mutual Insurance Company, a fully licensed mutual insurance company set up by the Association to underwrite hospital insurance. Particularly malpractice insurance.

"We reduced premiums to hospitals by 12 percent this year. We plan to reduce them by 20 percent next year."

"That 12 percent means $150,000 to Saint John alone—and those are dollars that are paid for by patients."

Jim chaired the state hospital association committee which set up the insurance company, in response to a need. "As I got into it, I discovered this had been the history of insurance companies. Most of them had been formed by special interest groups—farmers, firemen, for example—for a special purpose."

The Michigan Hospital Association Insurance Company has only been in existence two years, but it's working. Well.

Came from New York James T. Farley came to Saint John in 1968, from New York's Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center where, as vice-president, he held overall responsibility for master plan development as well as planning and construction programs, and was administratively responsible for all operating divisions.

He'd been New York-based since 1958, when he joined the Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases as assistant general manager.

He began his professional career in Chicago, with Saint Luke's Hospital, first as internal auditor, then as systems manager, then as director of Methods Improvement.

Native of Chicago Chicago is his hometown. He was graduated from Loyola Academy there in 1943 and, after service in the Air Force as a private first class from 1943 to 1946, returned to Loyola University to study for his Bachelor's degree.

He holds a Master of Science degree in Hospital Administration from Northwestern University.

He married Mary Jean Powers in 1947. They have five children. Number One Son, James T. Farley, Jr., ran Bill Buckley's campaign for Mayor of New York in Staten Island—and won it!

Jim Jr., was still in high school at the time.

He's a media man now, with a list of credits including coordinator of the former NBC all-news radio format.

Second son Michael works in the Legislative Research Bureau in Lansing. He and his wife are expecting the senior Farley's fourth grandchild. "They don't have children," Grandfather Farley explains. "They only have grandchildren."

Mary Margaret, married, and Thomas, unmarried, live in Kalamazoo. Youngest daughter Patricia is in her final year at Georgetown Nursing School.

Like Coming Home Coming to Detroit was, for the midwestern-bred Farleys, rather like coming home.

"We like Grosse Pointe very much. We really feel a part of the community. It took a little while—the fact that I was so busy at first made it a bit difficult—but now we're really settled in."

So settled that Jim is a five-year veteran of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Board. So settled that he and Mary Jean consider Grosse Pointe a grand place to spend a vacation: "That's why we don't go away in the summer."

Mr. Farley often serves as lecturer in the Saint John Hospital Chapel. He's a self-confessed tennis addict.

He's a Knight of Malta, one of seven in Michigan. Altogether, there are about 600 Knights of Malta in the United States. Their formal name is the Military Order of Saint John Hospitalier—very appropriate for the president of a hospital named for Saint John.

The Knights of Malta were founded about 1300, in Jerusalem, to provide hospital care for pilgrims. "Apparently there were a lot of Christians wandering around the Holy Land, and nobody taking care of them," Jim observes. The Knights were what their name implies—fighters—but they also pledged themselves to spend several years tending the sick.

Nominated by Cardinal The Knights of Malta stayed together through the Reformation. There are Episcopal knights, and Catholic knights. "In Europe," says Mr. Farley, who was nominated for the order by the late Cardinal Spellman, "they still run ambulances."

His nomination was the result of his work for Saint Vincent's Medical Center of Staten Island. He was very active on Saint Vincent's board of trustees.

He's been very active in professional organizations. He is a Fellow of the Amer-

A midshipman at the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., CLAUDE S. WEILLER, son of DR. and MRS. ROBERT WEILLER, of Berkshire road, has been undergoing summer training at sea. He is a Grosse Pointe South High School 1974 graduate.

Grosse Pointe North High School graduate MARK S. LOEHR, son of WALTER LOEHR, of Greenbriar lane, has been accepted as a student at the National Technical Institute for the Deaf on the campus of Rochester Institute of Technology, Rochester, N.Y.

ican College of Hospital Administrators. He is a member of the Society of Health Service Administrators and the American Hospital Association. He is a trustee of the Michigan Hospital Association, and a member of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council executive committee.

Among other things . . . He's been a speaker and/or panel and/or faculty member at numerous Hospital Institutes and meetings. He's authored and co-authored articles.

Honored by Assembly Last year, he was named "Michigan Hospital Administrator of the Year" by the Tri-State Hospital Assembly.

He doesn't get to play as much tennis as he'd like.

Mary Jean Farley is as much at home within the community as her husband. She is active with the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts and—of course—with Saint John Hospital's Fontbonne Auxiliary.

Remember that approximately $2 million left over at the end of the year? The money Saint John has available to acquire new and replace old equipment, and to grow?

Approximately half of that $2 million comes from fundraising activities, and Fontbonne and the Saint John Guild are front-runners in fund-raising for the hospital.

Activities and projects such as the annual White Christmas Ball, set this year for Saturday, December 10, in the Detroit Plaza Hotel's Renaissance Ballroom, enabled Fontbonne to present a check for $155,000 to Saint John last year.

The Guild's contribution for the same period was $165,000. The major part of any hospital's budget is derived from reimbursement for services, but money raised via fund-raising is representing a bigger and bigger part of what a hospital has available for growth.

Have Many Helpers Many clubs and community organizations assist Saint John with donations and services. Businesses help, too. "Alpha Phi comes in every year," Jim Farley notes, as an example of this broad base of community support that is important to all hospitals. "Jacobson's sends its J Girls."

"What I do mainly," says Mr. Farley, "is plan. I'm surrounded by a lot of talented people—about the best collection of professional people I've seen anywhere—who run this hospital, and run it very well."

"What the board looks to me to do, I think, is plan for the future."

Jim Farley sees Saint John, in the future, going very heavily into Home Care. "That's probably the biggest untried area that exists."

He sees increased emphasis on Preventive Medicine: on working within the community to avert problems rather than waiting until they become acute, then treating them.

It's not bricks and mortar. It certainly is growth.

He sees the community's over-65 population doubling in the next 10 years, and he sees Saint John responding to the need within the community that this aging population explosion will create.

Built-In Programs He sees a Life Care Community, "a community first, but with the health programs built into it," designed for senior citizens, offering a whole range of housing, from condominiums to rental units to efficiencies, plus recreation facilities, including the companionship that would come from simply living within such a community.

Plus dispensaries, and home nursing care, and nursing home care, and hospital care.

"When you look at the problems of the elderly, you find that some of their first problems appear to be non-medical." Loneliness. Isolation.

"The next thing that happens is that their dietary habits go bad, for a number of reasons. Lack of interest in shopping, for instance, or in cooking . . . Many are on medication. If they're alone, who's watching to see if they take it or don't take it?

The effect is cumulative. When the situation becomes acute, there are "boxes." The hospital, if there's a major medical problem. The nursing home, if the problem is chronic.

Good, But Isolated Both good facilities in themselves, serving very definite needs, but isolated from the seniors' day-to-day lives. Ends rather than means. Mr. Farley sees the Life Care Community as a means through which good, full lives could continue to be lived.

What about funding? "That's tough," Jim Farley concedes, "but there is funding available from a number of sources. I know the major foundations would be interested, as an experiment."

"The Federal Government has all kinds of funding for housing for the elderly."

What about land? "It can be found." Housing and care for the elderly is a growing concern. It's not just a physical fact that the community's ble in the next 10 years—it's a political one.

The over-65 population is going to demand that the community serve its needs."

Jim Farley, looking to the future, sees a Life Care Community meeting a community need. At present, it's a dream . . . but Mr. Farley is a worker.

His dreams have a way of coming true.
