IT'S THANKSGIVING, and while most Americans are stuffing turkeys, and themselves, Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., is reporting 26 deaths of dieters on liquid protein. Sen. Percy is asking the Food and Drug Administration to stop over-the-counter sales of the product immediately. He said liquid protein, linked directly to at least 10 of the deaths, should be dispensed on a prescription basis only if studies prove it is safe.

RHODESIAN PRIME Minister Ian Smith announced plans yesterday to steer the country to black rule though a one-man, one-vote settlement with moderate African nationalists. He added that he would seek guarantees for a secure future for Rhodesia's minority. The Prime Minister also spoke of a "safe return" policy for black nationalist guerrillas battling his regime and said he believed his plan would end the five-year war with the guerrillas. Mr. Smith did not announce a date for such an election that would certainly assure black rule of the country.

Saturday, November 26

A PROPOSAL FROM Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith to give the vote to the black majority in his country was both praised and rejected. While two out of three moderate black nationalist groups said they would accept it, the plan was called a trick by the militant Patriotic Front which said it would continue its guerrilla war. Mr. Smith's proposal called for the adoption of a one-man, one-vote principle but with protection for the white minority. The U.S. and Britain expressed moderate support with reservations about the nature of the plan.

Sunday, November 27

EGYPTIAN PRESIDENT Anwar Sadat called for a peace meeting in Cairo which would include the Arab nations, Israel, the U.S. and Soviet Union. Israel immediately accepted while Syria and the Palestine Liberation Organization turned down the offer. Instead, Syria announced it would join a conference of Arab militants in Libya this week as a protest to President Sadat's moves for peace with Israel. President Sadat said he would negotiate with Israel alone if his invitation was rejected by others.

THE FIRST HEAVY snowstorm of the season dumped five inches of snow on southern Michigan Sunday causing hazardous driving conditions for motorists returning from Thanksgiving vacations or deer hunting. Main roads were slippery and bumper-to-bumper with traffic, while there were several four and five car pile-ups. The storm was reminiscent of the Thanksgiving weekend blizzard of three years ago in which 19 inches of snow fell.

IN RHODESIA YESTERDAY, Rhodesian forces smashed two black nationalist bases in Mozambique, killing at least 1,200 guerrillas and destroying large quantities of war materials. One Rhodesian soldier was killed and eight were wounded, the government reported. Mozambique accused Rhodesia of "slaughter," and said most of the victims were women and children.

Santa Heralds Pointe Yule Season

SANTA CLAUS, (David McDonald of the Grosse Pointe Theater), and CHRISTMAS CAROL, (Pat Thompson, also of the theater group), were the highlights of the Grosse Pointe Village Ass'n. parade on Friday, November 25. Santa opened the Christmas season in style, riding on an authentic sleigh restored by Jacobson's. The weather was perfect with snow flying and temperatures around 30 degrees. Officially opening the holiday shopping season, the parade started at South High in Fisher road and rolled down Kercheval to the Kercheval in-the-Village shopping area. Santa will now take residency at Jacobson's until Christmas day.

Pair Given Probation in Kidnap Case

Youths Plea to Lesser
Charge of Attempt,
Stipulations Go
with Sentence

Two Pointe teenagers accused of the September 30 kidnaping of a Harper Woods youth, forcing him to drive across the Michigan-Ohio state line, pled guilty to a lesser charge of attempted kidnaping at a trial held before Chief Circuit Court Judge James N. Canham on Tuesday, November 22.

Immediately sentenced to two years probation were Allen Eugenio Beno, 18, of The Woods and Steven Paul Brisson, 17, of The Shores.

Returned to State
They were originally charged in a warrant, approved by the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office, with kidnaping Jeffrey G. Niedermaier, 17, after forcing their way into his car at Eight Mile road and Harper avenue near the I-94 freeway.

Niedermaier was on his way home from work in an Eastland Center restaurant and was waiting for a red traffic signal light to change.

When the abductors forced Niedermaier to drive over the state line, the matter came under the jurisdiction (Continued on Page 8)

Bid for Self-Service Gasoline Station Nixed In GP Woods by 6-1 Vote

Concerns over Aesthetics, Safety Factors Main Reasons for Council's Denial; Affected
Location Would Have Been at Mack and Allard

By Barbara Sobczak

The concept of self-service gas stations met with rejection in The Woods Monday, November 21, when the council voted 6-1 to deny a request of the Marathon Oil Co. to convert its Speedway station at Mack avenue and Allard into a self-serve operation.

Concern for possible safety hazards and a feeling that the appearance of such a station would not enhance the area were cited as prime considerations in the denial. Newly elected Councilman Thomas Fahrner cast the dissenting vote.

The council was acting as a board of appeals based upon a Woods zoning ordinance which requires that all new gas stations, or a substantial change in the operation of an existing station, are subject to approval.

Action has been delayed several times on this issue, most recently so that the council could have more time to study self-serve establishments and to obtain comments from other local cities on their experience with them.

In response to inquiries, other communities indicated problems with spillage and difficulties in supervising the operations. Some places such as Mount Clemens and St.

Clair Shores said they had no particular problems.

The proposal for the station was considered during the summer by the Planning Commission. It recommended approval, provided the design was in keeping with colonial standards of the area. A representative for Marathon, Ray Sheldon, said at the meeting that the plans called for brick and a mansard roof.

Self-service gas stations usually are made up of a small cubicle on an island surrounded by gas pumps. An attendant controls a console in the center which turns on and off individual pumps. Customers pump their own gas and then pay the attendant.

There is generally a savings of a few cents a gallon in comparison to prices at conventional stations.

In voting against the appeal, the councilmen gave various reasons.

Aesthetics Cited
"I looked at many self-serve stations and they all had a stark-looking truck stop appearance," Councilman E. D. Grady commented. (Continued on Page 6)

Cook Road Stop Signs Studied

Citizen complaints over too many stop signs in Cook road between Mack avenue and University Liggett School were referred to the Public Safety Department for evaluation by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, November 21.

Councilman E. D. Grady requested the action, saying he had received comments from some residents who felt at least one of the stop signs could be removed.

The Public Safety Department will investigate the situation and make a recommendation to the council as to whether all the signs are necessary.

Woods Kills Time Clock Installation

Solons Nix Implementation by 5-2 Vote But Related Concerns to Be Studied

By Roger A. Waha

The planned installation of time clocks for most Woods employees, which particularly angered the public safety department when announced in September, will not become a reality at this time, as the Woods Council by a 5-2 vote decided not to implement the plan.

At the same time, this entire matter was referred to the Committee of the Whole, (C-W), for further study by the solons at their regular meeting Monday, November 21. With this action, the city plans to send the clocks, which haven't been paid for, back to the manufacturer.

The proposal, an outgrowth of a discussion of overtime by the council sitting as the finance commission, would have affected public safety, public works, parks and recreation and administration. Those unaffected would have been appointed officials and department heads because they are on a salary basis.

Most Opposed

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen reported in a memo to the council that the time clocks, including racks and cards, would cost $1,543 and were waiting to be installed pending council action.

Besides a survey of some southeastern Michigan cities which utilize time clocks in their operations, Mr. Petersen also noted that four of the five employee unions in the city, (supervisory employees union excepted), were opposed to the proposal.

After a discussion between council members on the pros and cons of installing the time clocks, including the need to keep an accurate account of employees' time in relation to overtime and workman's compensation concerns, the solons approved Councilman Robert E. Novitke's substitute motion to discard the proposal.

(A previous motion was to refer this matter to the C-W before a specific decision was made.)

Panel Explores City, Suburbs Relationship

Group Feels Pointe Can Work with Detroit Toward Solving Mutually-Related Problems; Turnout
Pleases Sponsors of Program

By Susan McDonald

Can the Pointes work with Detroit toward solving problems that range from developing a sound transportation system to building good schools to solving unemployment? The answer is a resounding "yes" according to five city and suburban authorities who participated in a panel discussion of "Detroit and Suburbs: Conflict and Cooperation" on Monday, November 28.

The forum, held at the War Memorial Center, was well attended by more than 100 persons, ranging from students to senior citizens, from the Pointes and Detroit.

Sponsors were the War Memorial, Detroit Council for World Affairs, and Wayne State University's Center for Peace and Conflict Studies.

Response Hailed

It was the second in what the WSU Center hopes will be a series of discussions of regional approaches to Detroit-area dilemmas by local authorities.

The panelists included Grosse Pointe Board of Education Trustee Joan Hanpeter; Pointer George Roumel, attorney for Detroit and Livonia school boards; Donn Shelton, vice-president of the Metropolitan Fund; and Richard Simmons, Detroit deputy mayor.

Program sponsors were delighted with the turnout from The Pointes.

"The response to this meeting was great," said Lillian Genser, director of programs for the 800-member Center for Peace and Conflict Studies at WSU. "I hope that this is indicative of the willingness to cooperate among people out here."

Though all five panelists agreed there is an urgent need to develop regional approaches to metro-area problems, their varied approaches demonstrated the difficulty in working out plans to satisfy interests of all concerned.

Reality of Situation
Blame for that conflict was placed on "local officials protecting their turf and paranoia about regionalism" by Mr. Shelton of the Metropolitan Fund, a non-profit regional affairs foundation which finances research and discussion to promote regional progress.

"On one level, local elected officials are always insisting their people don't want regionalism, though few of them have ever polled their citizens to find out for sure," Mr. Shelton said.

"On another level are individual citizens, most of whom live regional lifestyles: they constantly trade (Continued on Page 4)

Vial of Life Program Set To Start on December 5

By Roger A. Waha

Vials, stickers and information sheets, which are part of the "Rotary Vial of Life" program geared toward senior citizens and those who are continually under medication which might render them unconscious, should be available at all local police and fire departments, plus the community's three libraries, by Monday, December 5.

Woods Det. Lt. Jack Patterson, who is coordinating the program, said some 5,000 kits will be made available with 500 going to each community and to the libraries for distribution.

We'll see how the response goes for two weeks and if we need to obtain more kits, we will, the lieutenant said.

Final Plan Objectives Scrutinized

Planning Commission,
City Planner Exchange
Ideas Toward Defining Goals Being Sought

By Roger A. Waha

The process of defining specific goals and objectives toward the final formulation of a land use plan for the city continued when the Woods Planning Commission at its regular meeting Tuesday, November 22, shared its thoughts and ideas with planning consultant Brandon M. Rogers.

After providing basic policy recommendations on goals and objectives in the residential, commercial and office, public and semi-public land use and off-street parking classifications in October, the commissioners provided input to Mr. Rogers, who will now present a re-draft of the document for the body at its next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, December 27.

"It was a real good meeting from my standpoint," stated Mr. Rogers, who, based on his past experience with other communities, said this particular step in the overall planning stage is often glossed over.

Provide Foundation
Saying one such meeting in the total program is a must, Mr. Rogers noted, "It helped me see the thinking of the Planning Commission better than before via its personal philosophy."

Commission chairman Peter Gilezan said once precise goals and objectives are reached, the land use plan will be developed. That plan, in turn, will provide the criteria for the modification and/or updating of existing ordinances or the establishment of new ordinances, he continued.

At this point in the land use plan developmental stage, Mr. Rogers cited several problem areas which the city has to face. One views traffic and parking which is concentrated on and near Mack avenue, while another is the traffic-related problem of vehicles using purely residential thoroughfares "to beat the lights."

Another area of concern as Mr. Rogers sees it is the fact that The Woods is an aging community, (it is, for instance, over 99 percent developed), and the related need of maintenance. This has to be faced and I feel it is via the city's ordinances and ensuing enforcement at this time, he noted.

Fires Added To Arson List

Two fires have been added to the list of arsons which have been occurring in The Woods, making the overall total 11.

Police recently received the reports on two garage fires which happened on Saturday, November 12, and Sunday, November 13.

Between 12 noon and 12:30 p.m. on November 12, a garage in McKinley avenue was set ablaze.

"This doesn't fit the pattern," Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber said. "Up until this fire, the suspect has been working only at night. But this one was in the middle of the day."

The second fire November 13 was in a garage at the back of Saint Paul's Lutheran Church, 375 Lothrop road.

The investigation of all the fires is continuing.

"We've challenged the guy, (the suspect), now," Chief Ferber said. "With all the press this case has gotten, he will either lay low or consider the investigation a challenge and start another fire."

No fires have occurred since Saturday, November 19.

Freeman Named to Woods Post

Woods Councilman George S. Freeman was unanimously re-elected mayor pro tem by the solons at their regular meeting Monday, November 21.

At the same time, Mr. Freeman also was re-nominated as the council representative to both the pension board and insurance commission.

Woods Planners View Land Use Objectives

viability consideration as a residential-oriented goal.

"I want to thoroughly examine the aspects of an overall maintenance code," he said. "I want to work with City Attorney George Catlin on this to come up with a solution" in relation to legal questions.

Saying such a law must be "legal and right," Mr. Rogers feels there's a need for such a measure toward preventing the city, in total, from going downhill, with the time to make such inspections being when a house is up for sale.

On this issue, Commissioner John Kennedy felt there was an aspect of "big brotherism," while Mr. Gilezan said he personally wouldn't want someone to inspect his home on the plumbing, heating and electrical fronts. He also stated home inspections weren't necessarily a goal at this time.

Looping of Streets

In relation to the Brys drive area, Mr. Rogers felt, on a long-range basis, the looping of streets and widening of alleys to break up friction with Mack avenue might be a positive solution, terming the area "a classic neighborhood to try it in."

Feeling both residents and businesses might benefit from such a plan, Mr. Rogers said, as an example, two streets go toward a main thoroughfare, e.g., Harper or Mack. One could be zipped around in a loop and brought up on the other side.

Besides preventing through traffic coming out and mixing with the main vehicular flow, additional parking would be provided via such a proposal.

He indicated the looping technique would not be used for every two streets but perhaps in two of 10 streets with a good area for analysis being from Vernier to Eight Mile and from Mack to Harper. This proposal, however, wouldn't specifically be taking shape for a while.

In the meantime, he hopes the planned installation of temporary barricades in the Brys area will help alleviate some of the heavy traffic flow problems faced by citizens.

For his part, Mr. Gilezan cited the necessity of maintaining the residential standards which the city has achieved in relation to the equity which currently exists between single family dwellings and multiple dwellings as far as density is concerned.

(In his preliminary draft viewing land use, Mr. Rogers noted 52.3 percent of the total area of the city is made up of single family dwellings, while 1.6 percent is made up of multiple family dwellings.)

Seeing The Future

Regarding the current relationship which exists in this area, Mr. Gilezan said any future development should be in concert with this goal, one which the city lacks at this point.

At the first part of the meeting, which also was attended by Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos and Mr. Catlin, (no citizens were present), Mr. Rogers told the commission that he didn't come as a preacher.

Rather, he asked, "Can I help you foresee the future of the city?" toward seeking guidance from the commissioners themselves.

As the exchange of ideas progressed, some highlights included the following:

* On a residential goal of recognizing housing needs for senior citizens and other residents on fixed incomes, (the terms "social security" and "ADC" were deleted), Mr. Rogers said every city has a responsibility to provide housing for people as they get older.

He reiterated his previous viewpoint that a viable city is one which contains all age groups, young and old, living together. "This goal is to show recognition of those who are reaching 60, (or who are over 60), who have been taxpayers and want to live in the city for another 20 years," he stated.

Mr. Kennedy said the commission needed more input in relation to this subject, while Mr. Pinkos said seniors have been working in this direction, i.e., housing. "I can assure you this matter will never be put to bed," the mayor stressed. "Senior citizens are a potent force and they will continue to be just that."

Alleys Eyed

Mr. Pinkos felt a high percentage of seniors were definitely interested in activities but he didn't know if a similar high percentage were interested in housing.

* In relation to the maintenance of the older, stable residential areas of the city, Mr. Rogers cited the Brys drive location and the possibility that it could deteriorate over a period of time if heavy traffic flowed through the area.

Noting it is in fine shape now, Mr. Rogers said if the current situation remains in existence, it could go either way, while stressing the necessity of maintaining a good quality of small home ownership.

* Regarding residential neighborhoods near commercial districts and the importance to consistently examine such areas and their environment, the often grubby condition of alleys behind commercial establishments was viewed.

The necessity of a tight control of all site plan reviews was stressed, while Mr. Pinkos mentioned that an ordinance placing all refuse containers out of sight, e.g., behind some type of facade, might be worthwhile.

"Hot Issue"

* In relation to the conversion of land adjacent to Mack avenue office-business areas being converted for off-street parking over a period of time, Mr. Gilezan said this was a "hot issue," while urging Mr. Rogers in his goals and objectives redraft to be highly selective in language used.

Mr. Gilezan also stressed that the city should be considered from a voluntary standpoint with the city not just coming in and condemning lots.

* Finally, the problems revolving around the parking of recreational vehicles, campers, et al., and the need to specifically define the term, "commercial vehicle," were viewed.

Mr. Gilezan stated the ultimate answer might lie in having a garageable situation for RVs or failing that, off-site storage. (The city currently permits on-site storage under specific guidelines.)

Merchants Eye Budget Shift

Concern over the incorporation of the school crossing guard cost into the parking meter revenues budget was expressed by the president of the Grosse Pointe Merchants' Ass'n. in a letter to the Woods Council.

The solons received the communication from Paul D. McCarthy and placed it on file in action at their regular meeting Monday, November 21.

Mr. McCarthy said association members felt this move, done about two years ago, was taking away from the improvement of, and addition to, the city's commercial parking facilities. At the same time, he suggested that the crossing guard cost be taken from the public safety budget.

In reply, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said this was a legitimate expense of funds in relation to anything pertaining to traffic safety or public safety in the community.

He also emphasized if the crossing guard expense was put back in the public safety budget, it would have added around $22,000 to the general fund budget, thus slightly increasing the city's millage rate.

Mr. Petersen added the council might concern itself with this question when budget preparation time rolls around again.

It's possible to improve human nature, a little, but it has never been radically changed.

Vial of Life Program

The information sheet, which will be included with the vial and two stickers, says, "If you are, (or know), someone who is continually under medication which might render you unconscious, (i.e., diabetic or epileptic), please take this Vial of Life."

After indicating where to place the stickers, citizens are instructed to fill out the sheet, place it in the vial and put the container in the refrigerator.

Listing the telephone numbers for all local police and fire departments, the sheet also instructs residents to tell their relatives that they have a Vial of Life.

Besides this information, the sheet urges residents to list persons to contact in case of emergency, (specifying relationship), asks if the citizen is being treated, or has recently been treated, for any illness, requests any medication the resident is taking be listed, by brand name, if available, pharmacy, and prescription number and provides space to list medical insurance and numbers.

Citizens also are requested to carry a copy of the sheet in their pockets or purse.

Lt. Patterson provided the original impetus for the program after reading a daily newspaper article on the plan as administered by Romeo State Police in October.

The initial idea called for the institution of the program in The Woods only. However, after the lieutenant contacted the Rotary Club regarding sponsorship, the Rotarians liked the idea so well they agreed to back it throughout the community.

Rotary President Carl Meyer, who said the estimated cost of the project would be around $1,000, feels the program is an excellent one, while the response from local police and fire officials has been definitely on the plus side.

Ralph A. Basile is project chairman for the Rotarians.

New City Law Eyes Snow, Ice

The City plans to crack down on snow and ice this winter with a new ordinance making it a crime for merchants to allow accumulations of the slippery stuff 24 hours after it has fallen.

The council approved the new law at the request of the Village Association at its Monday, November 21, meeting.

Under the measure, merchants can be fined $25 for a first offense or $50 the second time they allow snow or ice to accumulate on the sidewalks in the front, rear or side of any building they own.

The city still plans to provide its annual snow removal service to the Village area. But City Manager Thomas Kressbach noted that various light poles, trees and parking meters in the shopping center make it difficult for City plows to get through.

In such areas, it now will be the responsibility of the individual merchant to make sure the walkways are clear.

The War Memorial is offering four chauffeured evenings including different places to dine and a variety of theater productions in Detroit and its environs.

Beginning Friday, December 16, a charter bus will pick patrons up at 32 Lakeshore road and take them to the Renaissance Center to view the Christmas lights of Detroit and Windsor from the revolving Summit Restaurant 78 floors up.

After dinner at the Summit, they will be chauffeured to Hilberry Theater to see George Bernard Shaw's "You Never Can Tell."

Transportation, dinner, (tax and service included), and reserved seats for the play are included at $25 for the evening.

Then, on January 26 dinner at Schweizer's followed by orchestra seats for "The Student Prince" at Music Hall will take place.

On April 15, it's cocktails by subscription at the Memorial's Alger House, followed by candlelight dinner and transportation to enjoy Ferrante and Teicher at the Music Hall.

The last event will be dinner in the Christopher Wren room of the former Wilson Tudor mansion, Meadow Brook Hall, in Rochester, followed by reserved seats for Meadow Brook Theater.

All these party tours are limited to 50 persons by reservations paid in advance at the Center's office.

GP Woods Planners Cite Need for Specific Criteria

By Roger A. Waha

The need for a definite criteria regarding the submission of proposals for the consideration of the Woods Planning Commission was a main focal point at the body's regular meeting Tuesday, November 22, when two requests were denied.

One bid sought permission to construct an addition to the Bar-B-Q House, 20515 Mack avenue, while the other was a proposal to remodel the store front of Sinbad's Hair Studios, 20795 Mack.

Commissioner George Rinaldi moved that both requests be denied and his colleagues agreed for several reasons. They included neither proposal lent itself to Colonial representation, both apparently lacked complete specifics, e.g., if there was a deficiency in parking, it wasn't noted, and neither had any representative in attendance.

Both Commission chairman Peter Gilezan and Commissioner John Kennedy emphasized this lack of criteria in relation to both requests, while also expressing a need for such guidelines to better enable the commission to make decisions in the future.

As a result, Mr. Gilezan instructed city planning consultant Brandon M. Rogers, who was in attendance to review his goals and objectives toward the development of a land use plan, to include the development of such criteria in the overall goals-objectives area.

I asked Mr. Rogers to establish for the city a basic criteria for any development setting forth requirements regarding renderings, certification, (and other areas), and, if need be, a fee, so an effective job can be done, said Mr. Gilezan.

The fee, he noted, would assure that any petitioner would provide all logistic support to able the commissioners to arrive at "prompt, timely and adequate decisions."

It also would help to defray any expenses such as those which might be incurred by the city along the way, and is "a common practice in the majority of municipalities," he said.

Saying the commission does have some established criteria now, Mr. Gilezan stressed that it doesn't go far enough regarding the delineation of type of architecture or renderings of all elevations, e.g., front, side, rear, and there is no provision for charging a fee.

In short, based upon the pair of proposals and other similar situations in the past, solid criteria is needed toward putting discipline into the overall system.

For such criteria would not only help both a petitioner, who would know he has specific requirements to meet, but also the commissioners, who would have a solid foundation toward reaching a decision which they feel is in the best interest of the community.

And, in relation to this, there would be no wasted time for both the petitioner and the commission.

Fire Reports Viewed in GPW

The Woods Department of Public Safety received a report last week from the state on the house fire which claimed the lives of a mother and two daughters on September 29.

At the same time, samples from the blaze which gutted Bart Edmond's Hair and Skin Salon, 21316 Mack avenue, late Sunday evening, November 20, were sent to the Michigan State Police Crime Lab for investigation. A report on this incident should be forthcoming in about three weeks.

Det. Lt. Jack Patterson said the State Fire Marshal's Office reported that the fatal fire at 1732 Prestwick road was caused by electrical items, e.g., a television set and antenna rotor control box, connected to outlets in the southeast corner of the family room.

The report notes that burn patterns in the southeast corner indicate the probable first ignition point causing failure of the wiring system to the point of energizing the ground wire and causing other points of ignition in the northwest and northeast corners.

It also says that burn patterns also indicate the probable ignition point to be in the cords behind the television set or antenna rotor control box.

An examination of the television set indicated fire damage from the outside only, with the most severe damage in the areas of closest proximity to the walls of the southeast corner.

Meanwhile, Lt. Patterson felt the point of origin in the beauty salon blaze was at the front of the building and at a low level. At this point, there is no indication of arson pending results of the lab report, the lieutenant added.

Time Clock Installation Killed in Woods

President of the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officer's Ass'n., who was sharply critical of the plan and originally called it "a complete change of working conditions" not discussed in bargaining, was decidedly pleased over the council's action.

"I'm glad they reconsidered," he said. "I didn't see where we, (i.e., public safety), warranted it as we have roll call and check in on the log. It wasn't necessary in my estimation."

At the September meeting, council members expressed concerns over overtime without documentation with the feeling that time clocks could be beneficial in keeping track of overtime and in making up the payroll. As a result, Mr. Petersen noted he was directed to obtain the clocks and implement the program, carrying out policy as set forth by the solons.

Councilman George Cueter, who, along with Councilman John Sabol, nixed the motion, viewed the aspect of workman's compensation and the possibility of claims arising against the city via an injured party two or three years after the injury occurred.

At this time, Mr. Petersen noted employees' records of time in and time out are kept on a time sheet covering a two-week pay period. Supervisors, department heads and command officers sign the sheets as well as affected employees.

Mr. Cueter felt those in charge may not be present at the time an employee says he suffers an injury. As a result, he said a closer method of control should transpire over city employees in relation to such potential claims on the documentation front.

At this stage, Mr. Cueter said all the city has to go on is an individual's word and the time sheet.

For his part, Mr. Novitke said he was opposed to the implementation of the program for public safety. He felt their structure was sufficient to watch over such a situation as discussed by Mr. Cueter, while citing the nature of their job in total.

Cities Practice

Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, who also said he was against time clocks for public safety, asked Mr. Petersen if an employee had signed in but hadn't worked, for a three- to four-hour period.

While saying he had no evidence of such an action, Mr. Petersen did note he has had allegations and suspicions to that effect.

Mr. Petersen then viewed a public safety practice of having an officer, if, for example, he was scheduled to report at 3 p.m., call in at 1 p.m. and ask another officer to cover for him for two hours. "That has been the policy of the department as long as manpower is there," he said.

In viewing the public safety practice of "covering" for an employee, the city administrator also told the council the officer covering for his colleague gets paid for only eight hours, without any extra remuneration.

The mayor felt further input was needed from department heads and employees on the time clock question, indicating he may be inclined to have the clocks for public works in the future but not for public safety. "All practices should be looked into to see if they agree with your administration and the department heads," Mr. Pinkos told Mr. Petersen.

Mr. Pinkos also said he was initially under the impression that other public safety, (and/or police and fire departments), utilized time clocks but he learned this wasn't the case. He felt a second look at the "total picture" was necessary.

In relation to this, Mr. Petersen in his memo viewed the time clock question in 21 cities. Only one of the 21 surveyed, Monroe, uses the mechanisms for police and fire personnel. None of the Pointe departments use them.

In fact, the preponderant use of the clocks in the groups of cities is seen in

Beautification Efforts Cited

The Woods Beautification Commission was the recent recipient of a Keep Michigan Beautiful, (KMB), award, placing the group in the Hall of Fame, for outstanding service. The commission, first organized in March 1975, earned its second straight KMB award during presentations in East Lansing.

Commission members PETER COUTSOS and JEAN RICE, (center), accepted the honor in behalf of the city. Meanwhile, another Pointer, BETTIE DAWOOD, accepted an award for Keep Detroit Beautiful Teens for a Greater Detroit, placing that group in the Hall of Fame.

Chorus Plans Yule Concert

The Grosse Pointe Community Chorus presents its 25th Annual Christmas Concert on Sunday, December 4, in the Parcels Middle School Auditorium, 20600 Mack Avenue, at 3 p.m.

Directed by Richard Johns, with accompanist Janet Young, the chorus has prepared a program of music in celebration of this special season, both traditional and modern, sacred and secular. Chorus members include Judy Hebda, Margaret Johnson, Joe Manning, John Simko, Dorothy Ignasiak, Pat Rahn, Lois Battjes, Karen Johnson, John Pfeiffer, Carolyn Clark, Carl Angelilli and Margaret Steele as soloists.

A brass quintet, guest artists from North and South High Schools, under the direction of Russell Reed, will entertain at intermission, with students Ted Pethick, Christopher Greiner, Mike Reed, John Willison and Erich Hintzen participating. The audience, and in particular, all children present also will be asked to join in the traditional Christmas Carol singing in a happy holiday mood.

A reception is planned immediately following the program. Tickets, priced at $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for students and children, may be purchased the day of the concert, or in advance from any member of the chorus. The chorus is co-sponsored by the Department of Community Services and the Board of Education and the Board of Directors of the chorus.

Dial-a-Ride Plan Viewed

A recommendation from the Senior Citizens Commission viewing the Dial-a-Ride bus program was eyed by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, November 21.

The commission, which has been interested in such a program, wanted to know if there has been any progress on the city's study of the plan, which would serve all Woods citizens.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said he had just completed a report on the program which will be considered by the council sitting as the Committee of the Whole at a future meeting. He noted that the cost of such a program would be initially borne by the city and SEMTA, (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority).

Saying his report would present cost factors, Mr. Petersen also looked at the Dial-a-Ride plan in other cities including Harper Woods, adding that the document would present the facts, without a pro or con emphasis, for the solons' consideration.

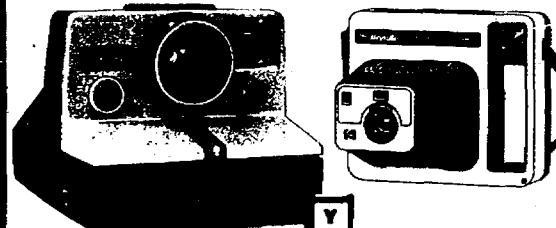

Take things far, granted and you can get many jobs.

Self-Service Station Bid Nixed in Woods

"I just don't think such a structure is in keeping with the type of residential feeling we are trying to achieve for Mack avenue."

Councilman John Sabol expressed the same concern about aesthetics and also said he felt the idea did not fit in with the concept of service which he sees as important to area merchants.

"Most people in our city don't want to pump their own gas and we wouldn't be doing them justice by eliminating a service they need," he said. "There is too much eroding of services now and soon you won't be able to find a place to pump up your tire or tow your car."

There also was some feeling that allowing one self-service station would create a snowball effect among the other stations on Mack.

"If we permit one it would be very difficult not to permit others and I don't think this would be in the best interests of Grosse Pointe Woods," explained Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos.

"I recognize that there would be some savings of money at these stations but there are already several in the surrounding area which our residents can go to," he added.

Councilman George Custer said he also was concerned that allowing one would encourage all the other stations on Mack to change.

"I feel these type of operations just don't belong in a neighborhood setting such as we have here. They belong on the major arteries, not on Mack," he said.

The appearance of the proposed station met with no objection from Councilman George S. Freeman, but he did express concern over safety in a situation where inexperienced people are pumping their own gas.

"People who are not professional may not remember to be careful particularly with cigarettes," Mr. Freeman suggested.

The only other newly-elected councilman, Robert E. Novitke, asked City Administrator Chester E. Petersen if there would be any cost for increased fire and safety inspections by the city if the new station was built. Mr. Petersen said there was no provision for added inspections but all stations are regularly checked by the public safety department.

"I might be willing to consider a self-serve station but not until some ordinance was enacted to regulate them and provide for special safety measures," Mr. Novitke said of his vote for denial.

In supporting the plans of Marathon, Mr. Fahrner said he felt all the objections of the other members had been considered and investigated by the Planning Commission before its recommendation for approval.

Mr. Fahrner, who was a member of the planners when this issue was being studied, said the group had found no more safety hazards than those which exist at any gas station.

In commenting on the aesthetic aspect of the building, he said, "I feel Marathon has made a great effort to meet our standards in the design they submitted."

"While running for office I didn't hear any great objections from the citizens about self-serve," he added. "Most said they would like the opportunity to get gas cheaper."

There was little comment from the public on the subject at the meeting. One resident said he would like to be able to save money by pumping his own gas.

When Mr. Pinkos asked for any comments objecting to the self-serve plans, there was no response.

The mayor has said that he received some complaints from people living near Mack and Allard who are concerned that the bright lights would create a disturbance.

The existing building would have been replaced with a much smaller and more open structure so there would be little to shield neighboring homes from the lights, the mayor explained.

This particular vote by the council does not completely rule out self-serve operations since it only involved a decision on this particular Speedway outlet. A proposed ordinance to regulate the situation was dropped because it was felt that the existing law was sufficient by providing for approval of any individual case.

Although in the future a vote could conceivably go the other way, a majority of the councilmen expressed an objection to the whole concept of self-service gas stations in The Woods.

It seems unlikely that there would be a change on this issue unless there were some indication from the public regarding a great demand for this type of establishment.

WE ARE PLEASED to represent this outstanding commercial property in East Tawas, a two and a half hour drive from Grosse Pointe. Originally developed as a retirement center, it offers many possibilities to the entrepreneur; conference center, training center, rehabilitation center, substance abuse center, school, etc. Almost any activity where the need is for a modern facility away from the pressures of big city life.

Of recent construction with all electric features (including its own substation) this low maintenance facility is located on 40 acres of land just west of East Tawas. It has a main lodge and 4 carriage houses with a resident capacity of 57 units. A complete kitchen in stainless steel, a large dining room/teaching/entertainment center. Duplication cost is approximately twice the asking price of $700,000. A perfect tax shelter for the professional groups or investors.

Village Shopping Center To House New Mini-Mall

By Susan McDonald
The City Council gave zoning approval to local businessman Stanley Fisher's plans to build a new mini-mall in the Village shopping center at its Monday, November 21, meeting.

The mall will be located in an expanded, renovated building at 17150 Kercheval, which formerly housed First Federal Savings and Loan. Plans for the development include refurbishing and expanding the first floor, and the addition of a second story. The cost is estimated at about $400,000.

The first floor will contain between six and eight small shops. Offices will be located upstairs.

City Manager Thomas Kressbach said he is pleased with the new development. "It will provide a major renovation for the Village with a combination of specialty shops, in line with the theme of the shopping center, and fine office space."

Representatives of the architectural firm of Stevens Associates presented preliminary plans for the renovation at the meeting.

The exterior design will be in the Williamsburg Colonial style with a landscaped walkway and open courtyard connecting the rear entrance to the parking lot. In addition to new brick work, the exterior will be decorated with planters, canopies and light fixtures.

The council approved three zoning variances to allow plans to proceed on the development.

The variances allow the builder to extend the first floor onto land now used for off-street parking, reduce side yard requirements on the north part of the addition and allow installation of windows along the easterly wall.

The building was vacant for almost two years after First Federal Savings moved out. It is now occupied by offices.

Architects will present more detailed building plans to the council at a later date for site approval. The renovation will probably take an entire year to complete, according to John Stevens.

Our high-interest certificate savings accounts help you earn extra money by waiting.

Pretend it's six years from now.

You go to your desk drawer and look at the six-year certificate savings account you opened back in 1977. Remember the $1,000 you took to First Federal Savings of Detroit? Well, now it's $1,584.00. And all you had to do to get that additional $584.00 was wait.

Of course, if you'd rather pretend it's four years from now, or two and a half, or even just one, we can show you plans that still will turn your money into more than you might have thought possible.

And remember, too, that you can have certificate savings accounts in addition to your regular savings account (which earns 5 1/4% per year daily interest, paid and compounded quarterly). In fact, that's how many people get the money to open a certificate savings account. They save for it.

What's more, at First Federal, certificate savings accounts can entitle you to a number of special services, many not available anywhere else. We think you should know about these things because we know that money is important for you.

So don't wait to find out.

We know what money is for.

Woods Adopts Electric Code

Three ordinances relating to the national electric code of 1978 were unanimously adopted by the Woods Council at a recent regular meeting as emergency measures, thus becoming immediately effective.

The first ordinance adopts the national electric code of 1978 by reference, the second provides amendments and additions to the national code and the third provides inspection procedures, licensing, permit fees and procedures.

City Attorney George Catlin said the action was taken to comply with state requirements, with all provisions being under local law.

Summer Tax Collection Proposal Nixed in GPW

By Barbara Sobczak

Plans for a possible summer collection of half the school property taxes received no support from the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, November 21.

The council unanimously voted not to back the proposal in answer to a letter from Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Coats, who asked for the solons' opinion on the issue.

In his letter, Dr. Coats said that the School Board had not made a decision to ask for the split tax collection but was only studying its feasibility. The opinions of the lawmakers in all the Pointes were being solicited to help the Board in its evaluation.

It has been suggested that half of property taxes be payable in July and half in December rather than all in December. This would be done to save some of the interest the school system pays on money it borrows for operating expenses before taxes are collected.

Proponents of the change suggest it could save as much as $200,000 but a preliminary study by the Board places the figure closer to $95,000 when returns from reinvestments are considered.

Several Woods councilmen said they were concerned that the proposal would be costly to individuals particu-

Austin to Host Placement Test

Austin Catholic Prep School, 18300 East Warren avenue, will serve as a testing center for the high school placement examination for eighth grade boys and girls who wish to attend a Catholic high school.

The exam will be given Saturday, December 10, from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Cost of the exam is $3, and students may have the results sent to any three Catholic high schools.

For information, call the school at 881-5531.

Thieves Enter Home in City

A Notre Dame avenue home was robbed of more than $4,000 worth of firearms sometime between 12:30 and 8 a.m. on Saturday, November 23, according to City police.

Fred McGregor reported that sometime after his family retired on Saturday evening, robbers entered the home and took four Browning 12 gauge shotguns and three rifles from a gun case.

Entry was apparently made by forcing open a milk chute and unlocking a side door from inside, police said.

A tape cassette, valued at $190, also was taken from a car parked in the McGregor driveway that same evening.

ULS Displays Student Art

Student art work will be on display at University Liggett School, (ULS), from today, December 1, through Wednesday, December 21. The public is invited to attend the showing Monday through Friday at the school, 1045 Cook road, from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Students in grades nine through 12 will have an opportunity to exhibit art work they have produced during the fall term. On display will be still life drawings, watercolors and mixed media.

The selections exhibited will be drawn from the works of freshman and sophomore drawing and watercolor classes and junior and senior art majors.

Donald Schrom, art department chairman, is very proud of the students efforts. The art program at ULS starts with formal instruction at the pre-kindergarten level and continues through grade 12.

Instructing at the Lower School level are June Bryk, Mary Perry and Marcia Taber. The Middle School program is directed by Jane Lodge. Mr. Schrom offers a variety of electives as well as a fine arts major to interested Upper School students.

Next month the Grosse Pointe Artists Ass'n. will exhibit their works at the school.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

So you're thinking about selling your home. O.K., what's next? You have to decide whether you want to use the services of a Realtor or sell yourself. Let's look at some of the things you should consider in this decision.

1. Price: How will you arrive at a fair selling price? Experience shows that people tend to underprice their home losing valuable dollars. What will you use as a reference point in pricing? What's a fair market value?
2. Competition: Are you aware of the competing homes on the market? What makes your home more valuable or more desirable? What should you do to improve its market value?
3. Do you have immediate access to hundreds of potential customers? Can you start calling these people and letting them know the home is for sale. How do you reach the out-of-town buyers who are moving into the area?
4. Are you prepared to invest heavily in advertising your home to be sure that it reaches the maximum number of buyers? Will you have time to prepare the ad each week and get it published?
5. Remember that you must be constantly available to answer the phone. Potential buyers may call at any time and someone must be there to answer their questions. You will also have to be available to show the home to interested parties.
6. How do you determine what "qualifies" a buyer? What is a "reasonable offer"? What are you required to do and what are your rights? Do you have all the necessary forms? Where can you go for financing, for title insurance, surveys, inspections?

Consider again, your Realtor does all this and much, much more for you. We believe that we at Grosse Pointe Real Estate are well equipped and professionally staffed to meet your every need. As a member of ERA, we are electronically in contact with over two thousand fellow brokers across the country. We can also warrant your home for prospective buyers. Please call us for a mutually rewarding association.

Block Grant Program

The next step, he continued, would be the receipt of information toward making up the grant application per a specific request of need as determined by the council. It would then be forwarded to Wayne County which would either approve or deny the application.

Areas of Need

Mr. Petersen also indicated that the application would have to be approved by the federal government, while noting that the county does comply with federal guidelines.

In this respect, he told the council that the county and federal government will audit the expenditure of funds to see if the city, if it pursues the bid, complies with all guidelines.

Aware of the council's past uneasiness regarding such an application, Mr. Petersen said the city can still bow out if it so desires during the application preparation stage or before grant monies are received.

In relation to uses for such monies, Councilman George S. Freeman, who made the substitute motion to approve the resolution after Councilman John Sabol moved that this matter be referred to the Committee of the Whole, asked in what areas funds could be utilized in the community.

If the city qualified under necessary guidelines, Mr. Petersen said monies could be used for water-sewer improvements, street improvements, parking improvements, et al. Mr. Freeman then expressed an interest in the area of sewer work.

Many Participate

However, what area or areas are finally determined, awaits further council action at a later meeting. At this point, The Woods, like The City, Park and Farms, had to approve the resolution because it had to be received by the county no later than today, December 1.

In a letter to the Woods Council, James P. Curran Jr., director, Office of Program Development and Coordination, said 27 communities are currently participating in the program and sharing in the proceeds of the county's $3,627,000 grant.

He also stated participating communities are receiving funds for projects ranging from $66,000 to $120,000.

Both The City and The Park have used their grant monies for a variety of projects.

In 1975, The City received a grant of $26,364 which it used for storm-sewer pump renovation, while the 1976 grant of $53,000 was used for street resurfacing, $40,000, and for the upgrading of street light in-the-village, $13,000. (The latter program is currently in progress.)

Uses Are Varied

Then, this year, The City received a grant of $89,000 for street resurfacing, $50,000, additional street and parking lot lighting upgrading, $25,000, and sidewalk intersection ramping for the handicapped and for bicycles, $5,000.

Meanwhile, The Park received a grant of $32,000 in 1975 to purchase land for off-street parking, $66,000 in 1976 to provide open space and off-street parking and $99,000 this year for street and sidewalk resurfacing and parking lot construction.

The Shores this year made an $80,000 application toward renovating the Vernier School for use by senior citizens, but the bid was rejected.

In 1976, 22 communities received $2 million in Wayne County as part of the program, while in 1975, the county distributed $1.8 million between 24 communities.

Pair Given Probation

Beno and Brisson were said to have been in Florida looking for work.

Harper Woods Police Chief Nicholas Mayer said that the teenagers were returned to Michigan on Friday, November 4, by U.S. marshals. The FBI released the youths to local authorities for prosecution as a matter of change of venue, although the FBI did not drop the case.

The warrants for the arrest of Beno and Brisson were issued by the prosecutor's Office, under a Michigan statute, prior to the crossing of the state line.

Police Notified

The warrants named Beno and Brisson when Shores Cpl. Daniel Fronczak recognized them from descriptions sent over the Law Enforcement Information Network, (LEIN), machine.

A friend of Niedermaier witnessed Beno and Brisson force their way into the victim's car. The incident took place within the jurisdiction of Harper Woods, with the friend following Niedermaier's car to a gas station in Hazel Park.

Niedermaier shouted to his friend to call police and the friend notified Hazel Park authorities, who, in turn, relayed the information to Harper Woods police.

After the information was received, Detroit police, Wayne County authorities and state police of Michigan, Ohio and Kentucky were alerted to be on the lookout for Niedermaier's car.

Six hours later, in Glendale, O., about 30 miles from Cincinnati, Niedermaier was able to talk his captors into releasing him, and Beno and Brisson were able to find other means of transportation to Florida, police said. They were returned to Michigan after a hearing before a federal magistrate in Dade County, Fla.

It was disclosed that kidnapping under both federal and state laws, on conviction, can mean up to a maximum of life in prison.

Sentence Explained

When contacted regarding the apparently light sentences given Beno and Brisson, Chief Mayer said, "We are not out to hang anybody. As police officers, we enforce the laws and it is up to the courts to decide what the sentences are to be when violators are convicted."

When asked about his personal views about the sentences meted out by Judge Canham, the chief said he had no comment.

The Niedermaier family also refused to comment on the judge's decision, but in a tone expressing disappointment at such light punishment.

Judge Canham said that he imposed the probation sentences after Jay Nolan, chief of the prosecutor's criminal division, Harper Woods police and the defense attorney, with his consent, plea bargained to charge Beno and Brisson with attempted kidnapping under common law.

This, he pointed out, was agreed upon because the kidnapping was the first offense the youths committed as adults.

Terms of Probation

The judge said under the terms of the probation, Beno and Brisson both must undergo psychiatric treatment, are not to associate with each other during the life of the probation and both must finish high school.

The judge also noted the two must pay $15.50 a month during the two-year probationary period to cover court costs, report to their probation officer each month, must not violate any federal, state or local laws anywhere and must not leave the state without permission of their probation officer.

Any violation of the terms of probation, regardless of how small, would mean an automatic five-year term in prison, the judge told Beno and Brisson.

One of the favorite wines of Spain, sherry, is having a vogue among the younger set in this country. It is especially favored as an aperitif. The lightest sherry is fino sherry, with a pale amber color and a pleasant, subtle, nutty flavor. For those of you who favor a richer taste, the darker, sweeter amontillado is available. As an aperitif, it is especially nice with anything from nuts and olives to shellfish.

You'll find all your favorite wines, from sherry to sauterne, at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626. (Continued from Page 1) thorough reconsideration of all the problems involved in renovating the old house. Actually, it will allow for a more efficient use of the land."

The house won't come down for at least three months, while the firm prepares final the platting of the land. After that, Dr. Whittaker has an option to live in the home for up to 18 additional months.

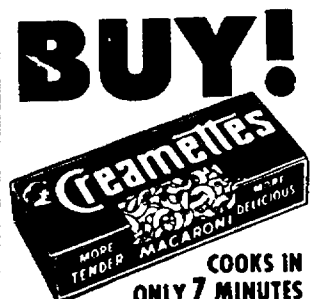

The home was designed by Detroit architect George W. Graves in 1913 but was not built until six years later.

It is located on the lot that was the original site of the Cadieux farm cottage, the first farmhouse in The Pointe. That building has since been moved to Fort Wayne Military Museum.

One of the biggest problems with keeping the old home is its location on the lot. It is set back so far it encroaches on neighbor's property and is only eight feet from one lot's north property line.

Another problem, according to City Mayor John King is the building's size. "Its massiveness will have the tendency to dwarf the more modern homes," he said at a September council meeting.

Five of the Elmsleigh lane and Lakeside court residents earlier signed petitions protesting plans that would include keeping the old house up.

"TOYS FOR MEN"

'Child Molester' Film Draws Mixed Reviews

By Susan McDonald
Leaders of Grosse Pointe's Health Education Council will decide next week whether or not to show a film to local children that depicts the actual kidnaping and brutal murder several years ago of two Ohio youngsters.

The movie, "The Child Molester," portrays the kidnaping from a school playground of two young girls, their frantic struggle with the molester in a deserted, wooded area and eventual murder.

The film concludes with actual police photos of the girls' bloody, mutilated bodies. A short segment on basic rules for children to follow to avoid such danger also is included.

The movie was aired before about 80 council members and community representatives by Warren Police Cpl. Joseph Drain on Monday, November 21, at the Central Library.

Cpl. Drain said he has shown the film in several Detroit-area school districts and has found it effective. He agrees that the film may shock some youngsters, but insists that the anxiety they'll feel when they see the movie will make its lesson more effective.

"Some of the other films on this subject make good points but they don't show the consequences so the kids can understand them," Cpl. Drain said. "Psychologists tell me you have to build up anxiety in order to teach a lesson, and this film will accomplish that."

Persons attending the film, showing on Monday were asked to evaluate the movie, and according to council member Pat Hays, the majority were in favor of showing the film. "People are not naive, they know that what's happened in Oakland County could happen here," Mrs. Hays said. "We want to prepare our kids as best we can. None of the other films have the impact this one does."

Not all council members shared Mrs. Hays' opinion of the film, however. Kerby School Elementary Principal Richard Kay said he sees very little merit in "The Child Molester."

"I think this whole 'scare' program is bad," Mr. Kay said. "It's better to teach children how to act intelligently in a situation like this than to scare them to death. I don't think kids really learn much from a film like that."

As an alternative to this movie, Mr. Kay has made another film available to local schools. So far, "Don't Go with Strangers," produced by a local television station, has been shown in six local elementary schools. Mr. Kay would like to see it take the place of the "Molester" on the Health Council agenda.

"I've had very good reaction to the 'Stranger' film, from parents and students," Mr. Kay said. "If I had my choice, I would prefer that the council show that one; it's more instructional and less emotional, and the children learn how to react to dangerous situations by the examples the film portrays."

The "Molester" was produced over a decade ago and financed by the national organization of undertakers. Cpl. Drain follows up all film showings with a talk, plus a question and answer period with the children.

Mrs. Hays said if the council does decide to show the "Molester," it will probably be aired at North and South High Schools in the evening and parents will be asked to accompany their children.

The council plans to make its decision on the film at its Monday, December 5, meeting, Mrs. Hays said.

Pinkos, Grady Named to Posts

Woods Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos and Councilman E. J. Grady were recently honored by receiving appointments to politically-oriented organizations.

Mr. Pinkos was selected a member of the committee on human resources of the National League of Cities, (NLC), as nominated by the state municipal league, by Phyllis Lamphere, president of the NLC.

His term as a committee member concludes at the adjournment of the Annual Congress of Cities on December 7. The annual congress, which runs from Saturday through Wednesday, December 3 to 7, will be held in San Francisco, Cal.

At the same time, Mr. Pinkos was reappointed to the Small Cities Advisory Council, a permanent position until he is replaced.

Meanwhile, Mr. Grady was named to the finance and taxation committee of the Michigan Municipal League for a one-year term. The appointment was made by Harper Woods Councilman James R. Haley, new league president.

INFANT DEATHS
The infant death rate in the U.S. is higher than in 16 other nations, reports the National Foundation-March of Dimes. Health officials feel the rate could be reduced by one-third if every woman were to receive high-quality medical care early and throughout pregnancy, and during labor and delivery.

High Tar No Longer Essential To Taste.

Tests prove low tar MERIT delivers flavor of higher tar cigarettes.

For years, it seemed the only way to get real taste from a cigarette was to smoke a high tar brand.

High tar cigarettes had an "exclusive" on taste.

Today, all the standards are changing because of a new taste breakthrough called 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

MERIT is packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. Tobacco fortified with certain key flavor-rich ingredients isolated in cigarette smoke and proven to deliver flavor way out of proportion to tar.

Test Data Conclusive

MERIT and MERIT 100's were both tested against a number of higher tar cigarettes. Thousands of smokers were involved.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of both MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested.

St. James Sets Folk Service

Saint James Lutheran Church of Grosse Pointe, in McMillan road near Kercheval, will conduct its annual Folk Service Sunday, December 4 at 9:30 a.m.

With the special music led by the Guitar Choir, under the direction of Ellen Smith, the service will offer worship experience of joyful fellowship, stressing the Advent theme of the Coming of Jesus.

Sunday School children will participate in the first part of the service, joining in the singing of "Oh, How I Love Jesus," with the Children's Choir singing, "Go, Tell It On the Mountain."

Other folk songs will include "I Will Praise Thee, (Psalm 86)," "Lord of the Dance," "Heavenly Father, I Appreciate You" and "Alleluia."

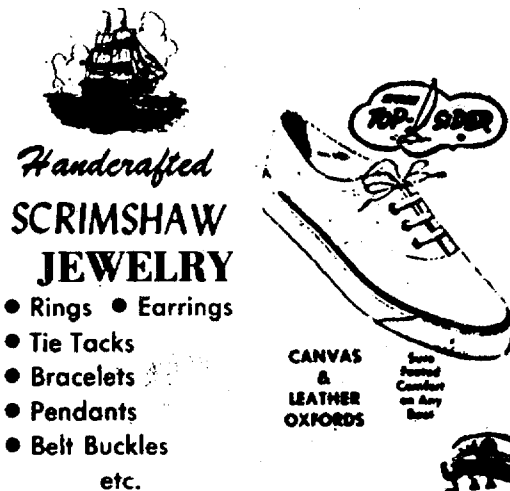

The same sermon will be preached at both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services, with the traditional order of worship being used at 11 a.m.

The congregation extends a cordial welcome to community friends to join them on Sunday.

Adversity is a measure — it's a scale for weighing friendship.

Film Features Amazing Japan

Japanese tourist sights from Tokyo to pearl diving in the Inland Sea will be shown in the World Adventure Series color movie, "Amazing Japan," Sunday, December 4, in the Detroit Institute of Arts at 2:30 p.m.

New York movie producer Thayer Soule, who narrates the film in person, shows Tokyo's Ginza stores, hotels, Imperial Palace and Kamakura's sublime Buddha.

He also films charming geishas, 300-pound Sumo wrestlers, Nikko's glittering temples, Kyoto's Golden Pavilion, an artistic garden of just rocks and stones and cormorants that are trained to fish by firelight.

For ticket information and a free illustrated brochure describing all World Adventure Series travel shows, phone 832-7676 any day between 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Belittle your work and many will believe you are justified. The self-satisfied fellow has reached the jumping off place. Play the game, but be sure it's one you can afford to play.

Ski Hi Club Set for Season

The War Memorial's Ski Hi Club for students in grades seven through 12 of The Pointes' public, private and parochial schools is poised and ready for action as soon as the snow falls.

The first ski trip to Pine Knob is scheduled for Friday, December 16, from 4 to 11:30 p.m. This trip is already almost full so those who have not taken out membership and signed up for the trip are reminded to do so now.

Membership in Ski Hi is $5 for the season. The trips to Pine Knob include round trip bus transportation, all area tows and supervision for $45 for the season of five trips. It is $9.75 on an individual trip basis.

In addition, skiing insurance is mandatory at $1 per trip and everyone must take at least one group lesson at the beginning of the season for $1.25 at the ski area. Ski rentals for ski club members are available at $3.50.

Two weekend ski trips also are scheduled. The one to Blue Mountain, Collingwood, Canada is already full and wait listed. There are still openings available for the Schuss Mountain weekend on February 24-26.

Dreams sometimes come true — and still we aren't satisfied.

JOY Seeks Aid from Seniors

Searching for the talents of local senior citizens in the new project at JOY, (Job Opportunities for Youth).

The organization would like to have seniors share their skills with the community as volunteers at JOY receive many calls requesting employee referrals for senior citizens.

JOY is expanding its services to provide job referrals for seniors who have particular skills such as painting, gardening, sewing, needlepoint, baby-sitting, carpentry and cooking.

The volunteers at JOY will be able to match their skills to the particular employer need.

To qualify, the participant has to be 55 years of age, live in the Grosse Pointe School District and have a willingness to work.

JOY says there is a great need in the community for employees during the day and those with specialized skills. Senior adults with their experience and talents can help fill this need.

This service also will provide the senior citizens with a job that he or she likes and perhaps needs.

JOY is a volunteer Grosse Pointe community service co-sponsored by the Neighborhood Club and the Junior League of Detroit, Inc.

It was founded in 1968 under the name of the Neighborhood Club Teenage Placement Bureau. JOY has served both adults and teenagers in the community. Teenagers with various skills sign-up with JOY so that they may be placed in jobs suiting their skills and abilities.

Adults call JOY for names of students who can fit their particular job need. Volunteers in the JOY office then attempt to match the right teenager with the right employer.

With the community's help, the organization says it will be changing the name of the service to JOYS, (Job Opportunities for Youth and Senior adults). As of January 3, citizens will be able to call JOYS for teenage and senior citizen employee referrals.

JOYS will be interviewing seniors at the following location and times: Wednesday and Thursday, December 7 and 8, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo avenue.

For further information, call the club at 885-4600.

Knights Lose Season Opener

By Bill Fleischmann

The University Liggett School, (ULS), Knights opened their basketball season Friday, November 25, by losing to Whitmore Lake, 53-48.

In the first quarter, the teams traded baskets, but while the Knights got hot from the floor in the second quarter, Whitmore Lake made up the difference at the foul line and led 25-24 at the half.

The Knights hit on seven of 11 shots in the third quarter to lead 38-34, but lost starting forward Dave George to fouls in the process.

Whitmore Lake broke the ULS attempt to slow the game down with a half-court press early in the fourth quarter. The resulting turn-

Robbery Case Pre-Trial Set

The suspect who's allegedly involved in holding up Little Caesar's, 19619 Mack avenue, in October, was bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court for trial.

This action was taken at the Friday, November 25, examination of Patrick S. Roelans, 19, of Detroit. The suspect's pre-trial date has been scheduled for Thursday, December 22, said Woods Det. Charles Philip Hamel.

Roelans, who allegedly took an estimated $210 in cash, was apprehended shortly after the robbery took place by Harper Woods police and turned over to Woods officers for investigation.

On Friday, November 18, the suspect was picked out from a line-up by the complainant and was subsequently arraigned on the charge.

Breathe Easy This Winter... Enjoy the BRYANT POWER HUMIDIFIER

- CAPACITY — Humidity up to 36,000 cubic feet with its 24-gallon-per-day output.
- HUMIDISTAT — Attractive wall or desk-mounted 24-volt model to control humidity level.
- FAN — Moves air through the media pad fast enough to maintain a high capacity, regardless of the air distribution system.
- HEAVY-DUTY CONSTRUCTION — The 913A/FPH is constructed of corrosion-resistant heavy plastic for years of durability.

ELECTRONIC AIR CLEANER

- Cabinet styled to complement furnace — one size for all models.
- Solid state power supply uses a Ferrazymite type transformer and silicon rectifiers for improved reliability.
- Glazed ceramic insulators — not fiberboard, resist moisture and are unaffected by high humidity.
- Solid bar-type conductors — not wires, are used with high voltages.
- Special safety interlock disconnects power to air cleaner should you forget to when servicing.
- Twin or single cells are lightweight — fit most dishwashers for cleaning.

NEW BRYANT FURNACE MODEL 397

FUEL SAVING VENT BURNER — automatically locks heat in. Opens the flue when furnace starts, closes when it shuts off.

HEAT EXCHANGER — maximizes heat extraction thanks to special ceramic steel lining.

ELECTRONIC IGNITION — pilot ignition spark only when heat is needed. No more costly always-on pilot light to waste expensive fuel.

The Woods Council by a 5-2 vote authorized any member of the body, if he so desired, to attend the 1977 Congress of Cities and Exposition from Saturday through Wednesday, December 3 to 7, in San Francisco, Cal., with the reimbursement of all necessary expenses.

This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, November 21.

Councilman E. D. Grady initially moved that only Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos attend the confab inasmuch as he was recently appointed a member of the committee of human resources of the National League of Cities. However, his motion died for lack of support.

What followed was a brief discussion on the pros and cons of attending such a session with Councilman George Cueter saying, "As a governing body, we should participate in such functions and confer with our peers."

Mr. Grady, meanwhile, felt citizens might not understand action permitting all seven council members to attend as against, for instance, having only the mayor and one councilman participate.

Mr. Grady and Councilman Thomas Fahrner nixed the motion, while Mr. Cueter, Mr. Pinkos, and Councilmen George S. Freeman, Robert Novitke and John Sabol supported it.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

Since this current series of columns began I have commented on Goal One, (improve student achievement in the basic skills), and Goal Two, (improve the quality of supervision throughout the school system). Today, I shall comment on Goal Three, (improve communication with parents and citizens of the community).

Because of the term "communication" has so many ramifications, at times it appears to be an unwieldy topic. For our schools, it connotes both internal and external responsibilities.

For example, in order to insure a kind of quality control in instruction, a stated objective at the elementary level is to "communicate approved curriculum committee recommendations to staff."

This year approved changes of curriculum will be transmitted to the principals who, in their administrative leadership role, will initially explain and clarify curriculum modifications to the staff and answer any staff questions about them.

A further appropriate and necessary step in this vital link of internal school system communication is the scheduling of in-service training for staff members when they are confronted by major curriculum changes.

In addition to the internal and behind-the-scenes commitments to "communication" such as those stated above, a project at the elementary level which we hope will communicate something of the nature of our increasingly high quality art program is participation by kindergarten through sixth grade pupils in a forthcoming district-wide art festival.

How better to communicate with residents, (who may be totally unaware of the fine experiences to which our elementary pupils are being introduced), than to have them view, first-hand, the products of that program?

This is just one of an endless list of fine activities which we believe do a good job demonstrating our program.

At the secondary level many examples of important internal communication are taking place during 1977-78. A middle and high school objective is to develop departmental handbooks containing all policies and directives related to each department.

This is only a sample of our efforts to improve written communication of a vital nature which is crucial to the inner workings of the instructional program.

A key effort during 1977-78 is the writing and production of curriculum guides for various subjects and grade levels. When this task has been completed, interested parents will be able to read these books in order to achieve an understanding of the curriculum.

As to the more generally-considered meaning of "communication," (those activities of a more overt and public nature designed to explain the school system to the community-at-large), we have solicited input and continue to welcome suggestions from the staff and from interested citizens for this weekly column, for the Board of Education's community newsletter, "Emphasis '77," and for newsletters published at the building level.

Having completed our extensive annual autumn series of back-to-school nights and parent orientation meetings, along with goal-setting conferences and other important similar activities having parent involvement, we are convinced that these face-to-face contacts with community residents are among the most significant and useful of our many channels of communication.

We stand ready and willing to listen to constructive criticism for improving any or all of these procedures.

Our staff is committed this year to communicating our goals to all interested citizens as well as to keeping our constituents as well informed as possible about happenings in our public schools and public libraries.

If you want the answer to a question about the operation of the school system, please ask us!

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters,
Director of Public Libraries

Ptolemy of Alexandria in the Second Century formed a concept of motions of sun and planets about the earth, and Lucian of Samosata wrote of flight to the moon. In the 19th Century Jules Verne wrote FROM EARTH TO THE MOON. H. G. Wells captured the imagination of thousands with his descriptive novel, THE FIRST MAN IN THE MOON, published in 1900.

Imagination and dreams were shattered by reality when the USSR launched the first earth satellite, a 184-pound sphere named Sputnik, on October 4, 1957. Sputnik 2, carrying the dog Laika, followed one month later on November 3. The space age had arrived and soon satellite launching became commonplace.

A goal set by the United States, with the urging of President John F. Kennedy, was to land a man on the moon before the end of the 1960's. The time, money, lives, will, knowledge — the total effort that went into putting man on the moon is beyond measure. Our national commitment was met on Sunday, July 20, 1969, when Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin, Jr. became the first men to walk on the moon.

Gene Farmer and Dora Jane Hamblin assisted the three astronauts of Apollo II, Neil Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. in writing FIRST ON THE MOON, (Little, Brown, 1970). The book is an historical chronicle of the space effort along with a very personal account of the astronauts and their families.

This is an exciting book that marks an event that is mankind's greatest achievement of the century.

Michael Collins, the Apollo II astronaut who orbited the moon while astronauts Armstrong and Aldrin walked on it, has written an autobiographical book entitled CARRYING THE FIRE, (Doubleday, 1974). Mr. Collins, a West Pointer and the son of a two-star general, tells of his life of military service as an Air Force test pilot, his selection as an astronaut in 1963 and the long years of training that led to his piloting Apollo II to the moon.

A foreword by Charles A. Lindbergh is of particular interest as are the black and white photographs that illustrate the book.

Apollo 13 on its way to a moon landing on April 13, 1970, with three men aboard, Captain James A. Lovell Jr., John L. Swigert, Jr., and Fred W. Haise Jr., was shaken by an explosion. An oxygen tank had exploded when the space ship was over 205,000 miles from earth.

Henry S. F. Cooper Jr., a staff writer for the "New Yorker," tells what happened in his book, 13: THE FLIGHT THAT FAILED, (Dial Press, 1973).

This is a taut recounting of the terrifying, nearly disastrous Apollo 13 mission. Success after success on previous missions had left NASA almost totally unprepared for dealing with the technical dilemmas they now faced.

The book offers a minute-by-minute account which follows the events after the explosions, the tremendous effort of planning courses of action, of developing and then testing by simulation alternate programs and procedures.

Tension increases when systems begin to fail for lack of power. The astronaut's reactions are slowed by the cold and dehydration, and ground control cannot agree on what procedures to follow.

While the whole world waited, the three astronauts turned toward earth. Neil P. Ruzic, WHERE THE WIND SLEEPS, (Doubleday, 1970), writes a projected history of man's future on the moon.

The story is not science fiction but extrapolated science based on current programs of NASA. It is a projection of what we can expect from life on this other world: the economic advantages of manufacturing and mining, the ability to do scientific research impossible on earth, the use of the moon as an astronomical observatory and as a stepping stone to the planets.

Mr. Ruzic predicts that man's first 75 years on the moon will prove that life on that airless, arid, totally soundless, cloudless and rainless world will prove to be the biggest and most meaningful human project in all of history.

T. S. Elliot wrote in 1943, "We shall not cease from exploration and the end of all our exploring will be to arrive where we started and know the place for the first time."

To Discuss Old Fashioned Yule

J. Jordan Humberstone, who just completed a series of lectures at the War Memorial, will give a special illustrated lecture on "Old Fashioned Christmas" at the Center, 32 Lakeshore road, on Monday, December 5, from 10:30 to 12 noon.

Tickets, which are $5.50 and limited, are available in the Center's Alger House office.

Mr. Humberstone will explore the celebration of Christmas in America as it was done by our forefathers and will discuss the kinds of decorations used. Included will be a slide presentation on the Christmas decorations at colonial Williamsburg. For more information, call the Center at 881-7511.

Jewels & gems

by Jerry Valente

Did you know that your birthstone is supposed to insure good luck? The fashion of wearing one's birthstone began in 18th century Poland. Today, there are few gifts more personal than a birthstone ring. Garnet is the appropriate gemstone for people born in January. The sentiment inherent in this stone, constancy, is supposed to guarantee the wearer constant affection. Most garnets come in shades of red, although some are purple, orange, and even green. The pyrope garnet — the reddest one — takes its name from the Greek words meaning "fire eye." This gem has been confused with the ruby for hundreds of years. There is a famous legend surrounding this birthstone which tells how a single huge garnet provided the light in Noah's Ark.

For quality and reliability in everything from birthstones to diamond rings, you can rely on VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, Detroit, 881-4800, to give you what you want. We are very favorably known throughout the area for our integrity and high degree of professional workmanship. We invite you to come in whether you are presently contemplating the purchase of a piece of fine jewelry or not.

GEM TIP:

You can purchase starred garnets — they have four rays instead of sapphire's six.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

We would like to invite and encourage this community to attend the Christmas Tea given by both North and South High Schools on Wednesday, December 7, at 1:30 p.m. This year it will be held in the gymnasium at South High School.

It is the gift from the schools to the community and is a beautiful way to get into the holiday mood.

The choirs from both schools will present short musical programs and then coffee, tea, cookies and tea sandwiches will be served by representatives from the Parents Club at North and the Mothers Club at South.

See you there.

Sincerely,
Elsie Perron,
Jackie Tischbein,
Melissa Maghielse,
Christmas Tea co-chairmen

The original bid, from Mrs. Josephine G. Mashour, of Blairmore court, was for a volleyball court within the Lake Front Park.

To install a complete regulation black-topped court, the approximate cost would be around $1,600, the commission learned.

The council briefly considered the possibility of financing the proposed project with monies remaining from the Lake Front Park Construction Fund, which currently contains $60,273, according to City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher.

However, no specific decision was reached at this time as to how the play area will be financed, if it is approved at all.

For his part, Councilman George Cueter questioned the use of construction fund monies for this proposal, feeling a more significant project, (he cited a fishing dock), might be on the horizon in the future.

Mr. Cueter indicated if the play area became a reality, it could be included in next year's fiscal year budget.

Tofu is a cream colored cake that is made by processing soybeans and water. Many people think it is the perfect low-priced, meat or dairy substitute that is easy to cook and high in nutritional value. It is also known as soycurd or soycheese and is growing in popularity among people who want high nutrition at low cost. Tofu is available at some supermarkets, but may generally be found in health food stores in your area. If you try it and like it, you might think of making it from scratch next time.

From whole wheat flour to yogurt, you'll find the best in natural and nutritional foods at VIM & VIGOR HEALTH FOODS, 2151 Mack, 886-9466. We also feature a complete selection of vitamins, including our own Vim & Vigor Vitamins which are free from salt, sugar, starch and artificial color. Our Vim & Vigor Vitamins are the highest quality available on the market at the lowest possible price. Open: 9:30-9 Mon.-Sat.; 11-5 Sun.

There'll be glamor, glitter and excitement in Detroit come February, when the gala world premier of Harold Robbins' "The Betsy" lights up the sky for Project HOPE.

Remember how fascinated we all were when the film company came to town to shoot location scenes?

Imagine how excited we'll be when it opens, and we're the ones who get to see it for the very first time!

Mrs. Thomas Schoenith is bubbling with excitement already. "This is the first time in many years that Detroit has hosted a bona fide world premier of a major motion picture," says Diane who's chairing the event.

"We're so very excited about this opportunity. We're going all out for it."

Mrs. George Simon made the announcement that final agreement had been reached with Emanuel L. Wolf, president of Allied Artists Picture Corporation, the film's distributor, for the first public showing of the movie based on Robbins' novel of power and intrigue within the automotive industry.

Penny — as you know — is president of the Women's Division for Project HOPE.

In addition to raising funds for a most worthy cause, Penny Simon notes that bringing the world premier of a top-level Hollywood movie to Detroit will "help draw national attention to the rebirth of

Super Sunday Set By Pointe Alliance

Week-Long "Concierge" Photo Exhibit Opens This Weekend at War Memorial; Student-Members to Compete in Dessert Contest

The Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe calls the attention of the community to two events on Sunday, December 4, that will be taking place at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The first begins that day and lasts one whole week, December 4 through 11. It is an exhibition of photographs now being circulated throughout the United States by the Federation of French Alliances.

"Les Concierges de Paris" will be shown in the Arts and Crafts Center, the new wing of the War Memorial. Admission is free.

The exhibition consists of 54 portraits in which French photographer Michelle Vignes pays tribute to that typical character of Parisian life: the eagle-eyed overseer of apartments.

The concierge, sometimes grim, always gossip, is now a vanishing tradition in the city of Paris.

"No catalogue will be available," says the Federation. "Since the pictures speak for themselves, but street names printed on a sticker modeled after the well-known Parisian street plaques will accompany each photograph, setting the scene for a promenade through the streets of the French capital."

Sunday's second event begins at 3 o'clock. It is the annual reception and dessert contest open to any student-member of the Pointe Alliance.

Students must bring their recipes along with the desserts they have made.

A panel of judges will decide winners in the following categories: tartes, (pies), creme, (cream), biscuits (cookies), gateaux, (cakes), and bonbons, (candies). Cash prizes will be awarded.

The winners will be interviewed on the French radio program "Potpourri Francais," and Tish Myers, food editor of the Detroit News, will send a photographer and feature the five best desserts in her column.

To Address Historic Memorials Society

Mrs. Urban Borech, of Kercheval avenue, will discuss Flowers in History at a luncheon meeting of the Historic Memorials Society in Detroit tomorrow, Friday, December 2, at 12:30 o'clock at the Detroit Yacht Club.

The general meeting will follow an 11 o'clock board meeting.

Mrs. Borech, a well-known artist in dried flowers, is a member of the Quakers and Deeplands Garden Club and a past-chairman of District One, (East area), Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan.

She developed her interest in the history of flowers during her years of travel and residence abroad.

The Grosse Pointe Woods Garden Club will meet Tuesday, December 6, at noon at the Mount Vernon road home of Mrs. Cecil Hastings who will be assisted by co-hostess Mrs. James Alexis.

Long dresses are optional at this annual Christmas party luncheon. Each member has been asked to bring a wrapped, $3 gift.

Karen M. Friedhoff Is Wed in August

Patrick Emmett Donahues Vacation in Blue Ridge Mountains and Washington, D.C.; They Are at Home in Detroit

Karen Mary Friedhoff carried her mother's lace-trimmed bridal fan, with a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids, ivy and stephanotis, at her late summer wedding to Patrick Emmett Donahue.

The 1 o'clock rites Saturday, August 27, in Saint Joan of Arc Church were followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

The newlyweds have returned to make their home in Detroit after vacationing in Washington, D.C., and the Blue Ridge Mountains.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Friedhoff, of Anita avenue, wore a short-sleeved, Empire-waisted gown, its Queen Anne neckline and bodice trimmed with Venice lace accented with seed pearls, its skirt extending into a sweep train.

Her chapel length, silk illusion veil, edged in matching lace, fell from a lace flower girl Julie Ann Porcasi, the bride's godchild, carried a white wicker basket filled with matching flowers.

Lawrence Donahue was his brother's best man. They are the sons of the Richard L. Donahues, of Royal Oak.

Guests were seated by Richard Grajewski and Robert J. Friedhoff, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a long gown of pink crepe, styled with a bateau neck, and a wrist corsage of rubrum lilies. The bridegroom's mother pinned Georgiana orchids to the shoulder of her floor length gown of blue lace and crepe.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. W. Caspary, selected a street length, white and toast ensemble, and a corsage of white carnations with baby's-breath.

Baptists Plan Xmas Buffet

"King of Kings" will be theme of the annual Women's Missionary Society Christmas buffet at Grosse Pointe Baptist Church, set for Tuesday, December 6, at 6:15 o'clock.

The menu will feature recipes from a recently-published "Family Favorites" cookbook, commemorating Grosse Pointe Baptist's 80th anniversary.

The cookbooks will be available to all who attend and to the public at $5 each. Orders are being taken by Diane Miste, 886-3583. Cookbooks also may be ordered by calling the church, 881-3343.

Profits from cookbook sales will go into the Home Mission Fund.

To carry out the buffet program theme, tables will be centered with jewel-studded crowns against a background of pine boughs, accented by gold candles. The centerpieces have been designed and made by decorations chairman Sandra Craft and Florence Harned.

The invitations—gold foil crowns—were created by promotion committee chairman Pauline Russell, of Greenbriar lane, and committee members Ruth Wegner, of Briarcliff drive, Diane Miste, of North Oxford road, and Wilma Mumma, of St. Clair Shores.

Betty King, well-known retreat speaker and bible teacher, will expand on the King of Kings theme. Mrs. King is a graduate of Michigan State University, was regional prayer chairman for the Billy Graham Crusade in Southeastern Michigan and is the mother of three children.

Christmas music will be supplied by Shirley Cooke, vocal soloist. A flute duet will feature Diane Reaser and Jean Beach, and all in attendance will be invited to join in singing carols.

All women of the community are invited to participate.

Reservations may be made by calling the church, 881-3343.

Geiger-Krestel Rites Panned

At a family Thanksgiving Day dinner in their Vendome road home, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Krestel announced the engagement of their daughter, Paulette Karen, to Thomas Benjamin Geiger, Jr.

A September 29 wedding is planned.

Miss Krestel, who holds a Bachelor of Music degree in Voice Performance from Oberlin College, studied for a summer at the American Institute for Musical Studies in Graz, Austria.

Mr. Geiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Geiger, of Toledo, O., was graduated from Oberlin College with a Bachelor of Arts degree in History.

The bride-elect's father is vice-chairman and chief executive officer of Northern States Bancorporation and chairman of the board, president and chief executive officer of City National Bank, Detroit.

Mr. Geiger, Sr., is president of Capitol Tire, Inc., Toledo.

Two New Members For Beta Delta DKG

Isabelle Gilbert, president, recently welcomed a pair of Pointers, Jean Wright and Mary Edwards, into Beta Delta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma honorary society of women educators.

Among highlights of future chapter meetings will be a slide presentation, "My Rare Lady," illustrating the purposes of DKG, and a talk on "Law and the Educator" by a professor of Education at Oakland University.

Miss Clifford to Say Vows

A summer wedding is being planned by Leslie Lee Clifford and Peter Bolton Snyder whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin King Clifford, former Rivard boulevard residents who now make their home in Clearwater, Fla.

The bride-elect was graduated from University Liggett School and received her Bachelor of Arts degree last year from Boston's Simmons College. She is a member of Tau Beta Association.

Mr. Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Mester Snyder, of Lawrence, Long Island, N.Y., was graduated from the Berkshire School, Sheffield, Mass., and received his Bachelor of Science degree this year from Boston's Emerson College.

A Christmas Sampler flower show will be presented by the nine southern area garden clubs of District One of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan Saturday, December 3, from 10 to 4 o'clock, and Sunday, December 4, from noon to 4 at the historic Moross House in East Jefferson avenue, headquarters of the Detroit Garden Center.

Participating clubs are Allen Park, Huron Valley and Van Buren of Belleville, Flat Rock, Gibraltar, Grosse Ile, Riverview and Downriver Home and Garden of Riverview, and Wyandotte.

Area chairman is Mrs. Arthur Bobcean. Show chairman is Mrs. Andrew Frostic. Mrs. Charles Pollock is coordinator with the Detroit Garden Center.

This annual exhibit is open to the public. It is the only weekend of the year that Moross House is open. There is no admission charge, but donations are accepted for the Moross House maintenance fund.

Wreaths and doorways, table arrangements, bird feeders and wrapped packages will be featured. Mantels will be decorated, and there will be a horticulture display.

Holiday Dinner For Methodists

A traditional highlight of the holiday season is the United Methodist Women of Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church's Christmas dinner.

Members and their guests are invited to gather at the church next Tuesday, December 6, where the evening will begin with a wassail bowl in the parlor at 6:30 o'clock.

Dinner will be served at 7. Hostesses are Alpha Fellowship Group and The Samaritans.

Devotions in the sanctuary, led by Mrs. Walter Griffith, will be followed by a program of seasonal songs presented by Grosse Pointe North High School's Pointe Chorale, under the direction of Her-

Admission for each person is $5, plus a wrapped gift for a senior citizen. These will be distributed to more than 125 elderly men and women who attend the annual Christmas party at the Cass Community Center, Cass and Seiden; for some, it is the only Christmas present they receive.

Further information or reservations may be obtained by calling the church office, 886-2363.

Detroit Alliance Offers Gala Matisse Evening

Those who missed the official opening of the Matisse Paper Cut-Out Exhibition will have another opportunity to enjoy a privately-guided tour of the Matisse works, now on display at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

With the museum's co-operation, the Alliance Française de Detroit has arranged for a special Matisse Exhibit showing, accompanied by commentary on the 20th century artist's technique of "drawing with scissors."

The Evening of Art, including an optional candlelight dinner in Kresge Court, is scheduled for next Thursday, December 8.

The Matisse Exhibit, in the planning for over three years, was arranged and organized by Dr. John Neff, the DIA's curator of Modern Art.

The exhibit initially opened in Washington, D.C. It features 57 works from public and private collections

Workshop Features Christmas Crafts

MRS. JAMES MACINTOSH, (seated), MRS. ROBERT NANK and MRS. WILLIAM SAVALLISCH, (standing, left and right), show the Reverend TERRY GING, associate minister, some of the Christmas crafts that will be made tomorrow, Friday, December 2, at the annual Christmas Workshop of the Grosse Pointe Congregational / American Baptist Church. The workshop will be preceded by a buffet dinner.

around the world. Several are being seen in the United States for the first time.

The Matisse cut-outs span the artist's 60-year career and represent a compilation of all genres of his artistic expression, from drawings to paintings to sculptures.

Adding a continental flavor to the Detroit Alliance evening, the guided tour will be offered both in the French and English languages.

It will be conducted by Mrs. Frank Kruse and Mrs. Albert Matisse, respectively.

Both Mrs. Kruse and Mrs. Matisse are members of the Institute of Arts Docent committee, and are volunteers for the DIA's Speakers Bureau.

Ludmila Kruse, president of the Alliance Française de Detroit, was born and raised in France. She came to the United States in 1945.

Over the years, between her responsibilities as member of an active association and mother of six children, Mrs. Kruse obtained a Bachelor of Philosophy degree from the University of Detroit, a Master of Arts and Ph.D. from the University of Michigan.

She has served as a lecturer at Wayne State University and an assistant professor at the University of Detroit and Marygrove College.

She had an equally illustrious career in Europe, serving first as a news analyst for the French Ministry of Information, later as a translator at the Nuremberg War Trials.

In 1974, Mrs. Kruse was a recipient of the "Palme Académique," an honor bestowed by the French Government on individuals making outstanding contributions to the establishment of the French language and culture in countries outside of France.

Nancy Matisse, a former Architectural Engineering student, has been a member of the Docent committee for the past six years.

She is particularly interested in this exhibition, as her husband is a distant cousin of the famous artist.

There continues to be a great deal of artistic talent in the Matisse family: both Albert Matisse's sister, Janice, a professional opera singer, and his cousin, Shirley Clements, a watercolor artist, have received national attention.

In addition, his niece will be the subject of an article in American Artist magazine next spring.

The Detroit Alliance Evening of Art begins at 6:15 on the Woodward Lobby of the Detroit Institute of Arts. Dinner will follow at 7:30 o'clock.

Reservations may be made by calling 273-0197 or 893-5646. For non-Alliance members, the tour and dinner package is $17.50, the tour only, $5. Costs for Alliance and Founders Society members are $15, (tour and dinner), and $2.50, (tour only).

East Side Delta Zetas To Host Auction Night

An auction of plants, paperbacks and pastries contributed by East Side Delta Zetas, with favorite recipes packaged in non-returnable containers, has been scheduled for Thursday, December 8, at 7:30 o'clock at Dotie Maledon's St. Clair Shores home.

Proceeds will go toward Delta Zeta charities. Friends are invited to join members for the evening. Co-hostesses will be Ollie Neelands and Diane Jahnke.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Maledon at 774-4973.

Sisters Hosts for Fontbonne

The Fontbonne Auxiliary of Saint John Hospital will hold a special Christmas program and general meeting next Tuesday, December 6, in the hospital's Peter A. Whyte Memorial Auditorium.

The Sisters will be hostesses for the day, which begins with 9:30 o'clock mass in the chapel followed by coffee and muffins in the conference room.

The meeting is scheduled for 10:30 o'clock, and at 11:15 there will be a program featuring The Jills, an honors vocal ensemble from Bloomfield Hills Andover High School.

The Jills have performed in the White House, toured Europe and appeared on national radio and television.

Following the program, at 12:30 o'clock, a subscription luncheon will be held at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Information, on tickets, at $4.75 per person, may be obtained by contacting the Fontbonne office, 881-8200, Extension 545 or 546.

Christmas Is Festival for Detroit Symphony

Four of the Detroit Symphony's special Christmas Festival presentations are already sold out and tickets for the remaining 10 holiday concerts are moving briskly, according to a recent report from the DSO.

The 1977 Symphony Christmas Festival includes two Children's Christmas Pops and three regular Christmas Pops programs, two Messiah concerts, (one a Messiah singalong), a Chamber Orchestra concert and six presentations of the Nutcracker ballet, capped by a gala New Year's Eve champagne celebration.

All concerts are in Ford Auditorium. The schedule is as follows:

• Children's Christmas Pops with Richard Hayman. Saturday, December 3, at 11 and 2 o'clock. Both performances sold out.

• Christmas Pops with Richard Hayman and the Rackham Symphony Choir. Friday evening, December 16, and Sunday afternoon, December 18, performances sold out. A limited number of tickets available for Sunday evening, December 18, at 8:30 o'clock, at $5 and $4.50.

• Handel's Messiah Wednesday and Thursday, December 21 and 22, at 8:30 o'clock, under the direction of guest conductor and associate to the music director Werner Torkanowsky. The Wednesday concert will be a repeat of last year's highly successful Messiah singalong, with general admission tickets at $5. Thursday evening tickets are available at $7.50, $5.50 and $3.50, with children 12 and under admitted for half-price.

• Detroit Symphony Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of Raymond Leppard, with Robert Williams, DSO principal bassoonist, as soloist. Friday, December 23, at 8:30 o'clock. Program: Boyce's Overture to "The Cambridge Ode," Handel's Concerto grosso, Op. 6, No. 11, Haydn's Symphony No. 73 ("La chasse"), Vivaldi's Bassoon Concerto in A minor, RV 497, and Bach's Overture (Suite) No. 4.

• Nutcracker ballet, conducted by DSO conductor-in-residence Paul Freeman, with Dance Detroit and special guest dancers Vanessa Harwood and Sergiu Stefanski. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, December 28, 29 and 30, at 8:30 o'clock. Tickets at $7.50, $5.50 and $3.50. New Year's Eve performance at 9 o'clock, followed by a champagne celebration in the Ford Auditorium social room. Tickets at $8.50, $7 and $4.50. Matinees Thursday and Friday afternoon, December 29 and 30, at 2 o'clock. Admission

Soloists for this year's presentation of Handel's Messiah will include two of the winners of last spring's Metropolitan Opera National Auditions: soprano Elizabeth Parcells and tenor Vinson Cole.

Miss Parcells, a Pointer, is familiar to many area concert-goers for her concert and recital work in the Detroit area.

She has also performed extensively in New England, most recently as soloist with the Boston Symphony, and now lives in Zurich, where she is training and performing at the International Opera Center of the Zurich Opera Company.

Other soloists will be mezzo-soprano Lorna Myers and bass Thomas Paul.

All four vocalists are making their DSO debuts. Also featured will be the Kenneth Jewell Chorale.

Dance Detroit, resident Company of Marygrove College, will appear for the third year with the DSO in the six full-length productions of Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker ballet, complete with costumes and scenery made in England.

Jacob Lascu is the director, Peter Farmer the designer.

Special guest dancers Sergiu Stefanski and Vanessa Harwood appear in the lead roles with the kind permission of the National Ballet of Canada.

Tickets for Christmas Festival events are available at Ford Auditorium box office, Hudson's and Ward's ticket outlets and the Detroit Tonight desk at the Plaza Hotel in Renaissance Center.

Mata Begins Three DSO Weeks

Eduardo Mata begins a three-week engagement as guest conductor with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in concert this evening, Thursday, December 1, and Friday morning, December 2, at Ford Auditorium.

He will be joined by pianist Alicia de Larrocha and mezzo-soprano Elsie Inselman.

Tonight's concert is at 8:30 o'clock. Friday's NBD Coffee Concert at 10:45 will be preceded by a complimentary coffee hour at 9:30 and a pre-concert interview at 10:15 o'clock.

The program includes two works by Mozart, the overture to "The Impresario" and the Piano Concerto in A Major, K. 488, and two by Falla, "Noches en los pardiños de España," (Nights in the Gardens of Spain), and the complete "Three-Cornered Hat" ballet.

Mexican-born Mata, still in his mid-30's, has become one of the world's most sought-after young conductors.

This fall he assumed the post of music director of the Dallas Symphony. He continues to maintain an active guest conducting schedule in the United States and abroad.

Alicia de Larrocha, once considered the most important woman pianist, today recognized as one of the world's great keyboard artists, regardless of gender, will be featured in the Mozart A-Major Piano Concerto and Falla's "Nights in the Project HOPE members credit New Detroit, Inc., with helping to convince the film's producers and distributors to hold the world premier in Detroit.

New Detroit has been working with the local media production industry for the past two years to bring more film production work to the area.

New Detroit staff helped clear filming locations and aided in solving other production problems when "The Betsy" crew worked here last July, August and September.

Talk about a Renaissance! The world premier will also highlight the opening of Renaissance I, II and III, the first new theaters to be constructed in downtown Detroit in many years.

Tickets for the star-studded evening will be priced at $50, $150, $300 per couple and $2,500 for executive underwriters' tables of 10.

The film, produced by Robert R. Weston and directed by Daniel Petrie, stars Sir Laurence Olivier, Katharine Ross, Tommy Lee Jones, Jane Alexander, Lesley-Anne Down, Joseph Wiseman, Edward Herrmann, (who happens to be a Grosse Pointe South High School alumnus), Kathleen Beller and Paul Rudd.

Many of them are expected to be in the February 9 opening night audience.

Proceeds will go to Project HOPE, (Health Opportunity for People Everywhere), the principal activity of the People-to-People Health Foundation, Inc., of Washington, D.C.

The international health education organization maintains programs in 11 countries on four continents, bringing modern medical technology and training to underdeveloped areas and indigent people throughout the world.

Pregnancy Aid Is Four Years Old

Pregnancy Aid, Inc., located in Mack avenue near Cadieux road, entered its fourth year with an October election of officers.

Incoming president is Maureen Boyle. Vice-president is Judy Hellmich. Corresponding secretary is Dolores Blohm. Recording secretary is Joann Witkopp, and treasurer is Barbara D'Annibale.

Pregnancy Aid is a non-profit, volunteer organization offering emotional and practical material assistance to women facing problem pregnancies.

It is affiliated with a worldwide chain of abortion alternative organizations and has assisted nearly 900 clients in continuing their pregnancies.

Pregnancy Aids' functioning is made possible only through volunteers. Interested persons, donors and prospective volunteers, are invited to call Judy Hellmich at 888-7375, and to attend a monthly meeting.

A filmstrip detailing the work of the organization has been assembled. It is available for showing at meetings of interested groups.

She has appeared with the DSO on five previous occasions, most recently in December, 1975, when she performed the Mozart Piano Concerto in B-flat (K. 595) with Paul Freeman conducting.

Elsie Inselman, who will sing the seldom-heard flamenco passage at the opening of Falla's "Three-Cornered Hat," first performed with the Detroit Symphony in 1971.

She has since appeared in concert and recital throughout the United States, including five return engagements with the DSO. She is a member of the music faculty of Wayne State University.

Tickets for the Thursday evening concert are available at $8, $7, $6, $5, $4 and $3.50. Coffee Concert ticket prices are $8, $6.50 and $5.

Auction to Aid Work of Effort, Inc.

Effort, Incorporated, an organization of concerned parents and friends of the mentally retarded, will sponsor an art exhibit and auction next Wednesday, December 7, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The champagne preview begins at 7:30 o'clock. Bidding, conducted by the Art Center of Berkley, will start at 8:30.

Tickets may be purchased in advance by contacting Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Finger, of Buckingham road, at 886-8487. Tickets also may be obtained at the door for a $1.50 donation.

Board president of Effort, Inc., is H. Ford Prince, of Barrington road. The organization was founded several years ago to provide small group homes where quality living could be experienced in a family atmosphere, in response to a two-fold concern of parents with mentally handicapped sons or daughters: to provide the kind of home the parents want for their children while they, (the parents), are living and to ensure a secure future home when the parents are no longer living.

Effort currently has two successful residences for the mentally retarded citizen. Trombly House, in the city of Detroit, has sheltered 18 women since 1974. Howell Manor opened earlier this year in Howell Township. It houses seven men.

Dr. Harry Wolf, of McKinley avenue, former director of Lutheran Social Services, is Effort's full-time administrator.

Robert M. Malecek, of Moross road, is executive vice-president and counsel.

Anyone interested in membership or further information about Effort, Inc., is invited to call Linda Finger at 886-8487.

Tuesday Musicales Celebrates Season

Choral and Instrumental Works to Be Featured at Annual Christmas Concert; Luncheon Will Follow Program

Tuesday Musicales of Detroit, under president Mrs. Ellwyn A. Gilbert, of University place, will present its annual Christmas concert of choral and instrumental music next Tuesday, December 6, at 10:30 o'clock in the First United Methodist Church of Dearborn.

Mrs. H. VanHusen, of Birmingham, is arranging the program, which is open to the public at no charge.

The Tuesday Musicales Choral Ensemble, under the direction of Mrs. C. E. Pardee, of Troy, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Harry Peets, of Farmington, will open the concert with Saint-

Saens' "Praise Ye the Lord" and K. Davis' "This is Noel."

Mrs. J. G. Wiersma Bitgood, organist and composer from Quaker Hill, Conn., will play "Pastorale" by Clokey, "Toccata" by J. S. Bach, "Christmas Carol" by Felt, "Toccata von Himmel Hoch" by Edmundson and her own "Christmas Lullaby."

Mrs. Bitgood will then team with trumpeter Carolyn Curtis, of Littlestone road, to play Purcell's "Sonata in D."

Soprano Mrs. Raymond J. Stief, of Royal Oak, accompanied by Mrs. Martin McGaffey, of Berkley, will sing Head's "The Robin's Carol," Faure's "En Priere," Wolfe's "Schlafendes Jesus Kind," Warlock's "Noel" and Warren's "Christmas Candle."

Three Brahms selections, "Capriccio Op. 76, No. 2," "Intermezzo Op. 118, No. 4," and "Romanze Op. 118, No. 5," and Schumann's "Toccata Op. 7" will be performed on the piano by Mrs. Robert Shover, of Hampton road.

The Choral Ensemble returns to sing the closing selections: a Covert arrangement of "Good Christian Men, Rejoice," Sleeth's "Baby, What You Goin' to Be," a W. Norman arrangement of "Do-De-Li," Pinkham's "Evergreen," Cunkle's "A Musical Christmas Card" and Martin's "The Jesus Gift."

A luncheon, arranged by Mrs. Herbert Sproule, of Dearborn will follow the concert. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Joseph Shaheen, of Yorkshire road, at 882-0710.

Phase I Takes a Photo Tour

Detroit photographer, lecturer and photo instructor Joseph P. Messana brings his photographic presentation, "Seeing Detroit Differently," to a meeting of Phase I, an all-singles group, this Sunday, December 4, at 7:45 o'clock at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Messana, who has had over 150 color spreads to his credit in the Detroit News and Free Press Sunday Magazines, in House Beautiful, Horizon Magazine and in four books, including Grosse Pointe art collector W. Hawkins Ferry's "The Architecture of Detroit - A History," will take the viewer to places of interest in the city and suburbs.

Visited will be Renaissance Center, Cranbrook Academy of Arts, the Detroit Art Institute and the Detroit Zoo. Further information on the group's activities may be obtained by contacting Gust Jahnke at 882-5330.

DSO's TV Host to Be Marshall

Stage, screen and television star E. G. Marshall has been named to host nine Detroit Symphony Orchestra television specials to be presented in the Public Broadcasting Service network next year. The series, underwritten by $325,000 grant from the Ford Motor Company Fund, will focus on the orchestra's six-week Beethoven Festival, which ran November 2 through 13 in Ford Auditorium, and the related International Beethoven Congress sponsored by the DSO and Wayne State University, held November 4 through 6 on the WSU campus.

Program highlights include full performances of Beethoven's nine symphonies under the direction of Antal Dorati, congress proceedings, informal chats with Maestro Dorati and scenes from some of Detroit's landmark locations.

Other scenes will be shot on location at various Detroit sites.

A Full Year for IBEX

MRS. JOHN B. RENICK, vice-president, MRS. JOSEPH A. MURPHY, Jr., recording secretary, and MRS. WILLIAM N. MONTGOMERY, president, (left to right), smile in the midst of a very varied, full and interesting IBEX year. It began in October with a program by Dr. David DiChiera, founder and general director of Michigan Opera Theatre, and his wife, Karen, at the Lewiston road home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chamberlin. The DiChieras' topic was Musical Composition.

A second autumn event was a field trip, to Mel Rycus'

Studio Showroom in Orchard Lake and on to John Glick's Plum Tree Pottery.

IBEX' Choral Group is currently rehearsing songs composed by IBEX member Mary Louise Viger Baldwin, for a performance at a Christmas party at the Cameron place home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Parcells.

Future plans include a Composing Workshop led by Jerry Bilik, who works in Hollywood but makes trips to Michigan to conduct the Jackson Symphony, teach, lecture and conduct other groups, and a Cabaret, to be presented June 3, 1978.

Mrs. William Turner, Jr., is IBEX corresponding secretary this year. Mrs. George

December Is Busy Month for AAUW

Holidays Provide Theme for Many Group Meetings; La Causerie to Hold Annual French Carol Sing

Grosse Pointe Branch American Association of University Women study groups are maintaining their busy schedules through the early part of the holiday month of December.

International Relations members meet today, Thursday, December 1, at the Oxford road home of Marguerite Ladney to discuss The Roots and Growth of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

Jane Mertz is co-hostess for the 1 o'clock session. Participants will bring home-made cookies, and their recipes, for a sampler dessert. Barbara Locke and Ruby Adams will present a history of the work done in promoting Human Rights, under the charter of the United Nations.

Art Appreciation members gather at 9:15 tomorrow morning, Friday, December 2, at 80 Meadow lane, to form car pools for a trip to the Detroit Institute of Arts and a tour of the Matisse Paper Cut-Out exhibition.

Luncheon follows in the museum's Kresge Court. Further information may be obtained by calling 882-6947.

The Gourmet Dinner group will be surrounded by all the gala of Christmas at their annual holiday dinner Saturday, December 3. Host couple are Diane and Bill O'Keefe, of Vernier road. Judy and Ron Launs will serve as co-hosts.

Redefining the Goals of Education meets Monday, December 5, at 1 o'clock at Judy Launs' Buckingham road home to discuss the importance of "basics" in the school curriculum and what aims may be taken to secure the implementation of this

A. Nicholson is treasurer. Committee heads include Mrs. Lawrence Campbell, house, Mrs. Arnold Combrinck-Graham, program, Mrs. Henry Kellin, publicity, and Mrs. Guy B. Willets, membership.

New members enjoying their first IBEX session are Mrs. William E. Bokram, of goal. Sylvia Sanders is co-hostess.

Eileen Fresard's Edmund-ton drive home will be the setting for a Politics and Food meeting at 9:15 Tuesday morning, December 6. Mary Louise Krebs will serve as co-hostess.

Janet Ankiel, Aralynn Vivande and Phyllis Rabbideau will give overviews of the existing government programs that provide domestic food assistance, focussing on programs specifically for children, special supplemental programs for women, infants and children, and nutritional programs for the elderly.

Folk Guitar, which meets Monday, December 12, at 9:15 in Jeanette Picciorelli's Lakeshore road home, will use Jerry Silverman's Folk Guitar Method Book.

The morning will end with Christmas music. All are invited to come and learn guitar accompaniments to favorite carols.

An Afternoon Book group meeting is slated for the same day, Monday, December 12, at 1 o'clock in Jane Mertz' Hampton road home. Margaret Hahn will review Leonard Mosely's "Lindbergh." Co-hostesses are Elizabeth Stuart and Meg Mulaney.

Two group meetings are scheduled for Tuesday, December 13, one in the morning and one in the evening. Kaleidoscope members convene at 9 in the Roslyn road home of Sandy Tenkel for Birch lane, Mrs. Scott J. Hester, of Handy road, Mrs. Jere Krieg, of Bedford road, Mrs. George P. Lewis, of Kerby road, and Mrs. Theodore N. Nichols, of Lincoln road.

Set Christmas Pops for Kids

It's not yet time for the arrival of Old Saint Nick, but he's sending his number one musical advance man to Ford Auditorium Saturday, December 3, to help youngsters get into the holiday spirit.

The occasion is a "Children's Christmas Pops," the second installment in this year's Detroit Symphony Young People's Concerts.

DSO Principal Pops Conductor Richard Hayman will be on the podium with a bag full of seasonal favorites for concerts at 11 and 2 o'clock. Both performances are sold out.

their annual cookie exchange. Each will arrive with one variety and go home with 20. The number to call for reservations — deadline is Friday, December 9 — and further instructions is 886-8832.

A group of Kaleidoscope members has planned a short program on special holiday traditions from foreign countries. Janet Ankiel will provide the children's snack.

Baby sitting is available. Julie Demchak will open her Balfour road home at 8 o'clock for an Evening Stitchery "holiday eats and ideas exchange." A stitchery pattern grab bag will be featured.

La Causerie's annual Christmas Sing of French Carols will take place Wednesday evening, December 14, at 7:45 o'clock in Janet Ankiel's Lincoln road home.

Christmas Crepes . . . delectable dressing for the holidays! At Walton-Pierce you'll find a new collection including an ice blue crepe cocktail dress styled with an elasticized top, tiny straps and elastic thru the waist. Wear it with or without its matching jacket that is edged with stitched scalloping. A Christmas red crepe cocktail dress shows fashions softness via a yoke that releases fullness thru the bodice, a gracefully gathered skirt and long full sleeves. A soft fall of black jersey with elasticized push up sleeves come with a black scarf edged with white to tie at the neck or around the waist. Another lovely dress is of winter rose jersey with a gathered ruffled neck accented with velvety suede cloth. The long sleeves are cuffed with ruffles. A long black wool skirt is banded twice with red paisley and black velvet. There are lots of pretty tops to wear with it. From Leslie Fay's cruise line has come a beige knit blouse with beige tweedy knit pants. Another version of the interesting knit is a dress and jacket ensemble. Come see all the delightful new fashions, accessories and gifts at Walton-Pierce.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. THOMAS G. SIEBER, OF BEDFORD ROAD

By Janet Mueller

She loves Christmas. What would you expect of a woman who has a full-size merry-go-round horse as the focal point in her living room? A woman who gave her daughter "the dollhouse I never had," then had to admit, when Elizabeth Jane asked, "Mom, is this mine or yours?" that the daughter had a point.

Judy Sieber is president of the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center this year, and this year the Assistance League is presenting a three-week Christmas fantasy, The Santa Haus, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

It's an extraordinary project. The upstairs lounge at the Hunt Club's indoor riding rink, 14 by 70 feet long, has been turned, literally, into Santa's house, divided into rooms, become a Christmas story through which children — and delighted, children-again-for-an-hour adults — are wandering, VERY happily.

There Are Boutiques. Downstairs, there are boutiques, and baked goods, and a Children Only shop where little Santa Haus visitors can do their Christmas shopping all by themselves.

The Santa Haus has been open since the Friday after Thanksgiving. It will remain open until the Sunday before Christmas, December 18.

Regular hours are 5 to 9 o'clock Monday through Friday evening, all day Saturday, 10 to 5 o'clock, and 1 to 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Admission is $1 per person. Specific hours have been set aside to accommodate special children's groups by reservation, (886-4963).

They Want To Go Back. There's a phenomenon underway: the children who've already been through, in groups or as individuals, are begging their parents, "Please, let's go again." Elizabeth Jane Sieber, six-and-a-half, and her three-year-old brother, Jonathan James Riley Sieber, (named after his two grandfathers), are sure to take more than one trip.

They love fantasy, and with Judy as their mother they're surrounded by it. The white-painted, wooden horse in their living room is from a 1911 Herschell-Spillman carousel.

Judy found it in Maine. "We were visiting friends, antiquing through barns. I'd always dreamt of owning a carousel horse."

Lucky children, to have a mother who dreams of merry-go-rounds . . .

Judy is a great one for stuffed animals, too: her collection includes a five-foot giraffe.

boxes, and purses. Gift certificates available at Fran Kirkland's 16930 Kercheval in the Village. Starting December 5, open weekday evenings until Christmas.

S and R . . . offers two great games for holiday giving . . . a Backgammon for Juniors and Chess for Juniors. Each is a fully programmed teaching set for the beginning player. See them at the School Bell, 17010 Mack Avenue.

There's still time to do little needlepoint gifts for Christmas. The Yarn and I has a charming selection . . . 16925 Harper. Open 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday thru Friday, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

Bermuda Festival '78 . . . music theater, jazz and dance by outstanding artists from the United States and Europe. January 9 thru February 11. Plus good golfings and tennis weather. Average maximum temperature 67 degrees. For swimming, heated pools and indoor pools are available. For information about specific performances and dates, call Dely Travel, 884-6231 or stop by 20233 Mack.

Getting Your Home Perked Up . . . for the holidays? How about new lamp shades? It's so convenient to bring your lamp bases for proper fits to Wright's Gift and Lamp Shop where there is a wide selection of new shades. If you have a frayed cord or need repair, Wright's can take care of that, too . . . 18650 Mack Avenue next to the Grosse Park marina as often as possible.

Love The Caribbean. Their favorite vacation spot is the Caribbean. For the past few years they've taken the kids to Florida, so they're very ripe for an adults-only week on Barbados, St. Lucia . . .

Judy is admittedly "artsy-craftsy," the sort of person who loves to sew, knit, crochet, paint, et al. She's made 15 large and 30 small(er) Santa dolls for the Santa Haus boutiques.

She was very much into tennis for a while. "But I gave that up for the Assistance League."

Her term as league president is one year. During that year, she's automatically a member of the Guidance Center's board of directors.

Enter Big Season. With the Santa Haus, the Assistance League moves into its big season of fund-raisers. January will find the league sharing proceeds from the 62nd Detroit Auto Show Charity Preview with Boys' Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit and the Easter Seal Society.

In February comes the Guidance Center's annual league-produced supplement to the Grosse Pointe NEWS.

Then there are the "little" — in comparison with the Big Three — events. The league began its year with a Night at the Gold Dust Saloon. At the end of April there'll be a Millionaire's Party, back again by popular demand after several years' hiatus.

Judy would like to emphasize that the Assistance League is a service as well as a fund-raising organization. "We have many members who volunteer at the center. We would like to grow much more in that area."

However they choose to commit themselves, she adds, "the girls in our group really work hard."

Looking For More. There are almost 300 Assistance League members. "And we're always looking for more. We need people who are willing to help." There's no trick to enlisting: "Just call up and say you'd like to join."

You say you have no talents? You say you couldn't organize a four-person tea party? "Everybody can do something," Judy maintains. "We bring out all the hidden skills."

Ever see yourself as an elf? Assistance League members, in elf tunics, hats and shoes, are conducting groups through the Santa Haus, mov-

To Fete Kids With Arthritis

Jerry Schoenith is throwing a party again: his second annual holiday party for children with arthritis and their parents. It will be held at the Roostertail Saturday, December 10, from noon to 3 o'clock.

The success of last year's party reinforced Mr. Schoenith's desire to do something to make the public aware that 250,000 children are afflicted with "that older person's disease."

Mr. Schoenith, himself a victim of arthritis since he was 17, knows from personal experience that with proper medical treatment children need not become hopeless victims of America's No. 1 Crippling Disease.

This year's party promises to be even bigger and better than last year's, with goodies, clowns, puppets, gifts and a visit from St. Nick.

The Michigan Chapter Arthritis Foundation will offer educational literature and information to parents or anyone interested in becoming more knowledgeable about this all-too-misunderstood disease.

James J. Lightbody, M.D., medical director of the Michigan Chapter Arthritis Foundation, will be available for questions from parents.

The party is by invitation. Reservations may be made by calling the Michigan Chapter Arthritis Foundation, 561-9096. Deadline for reservations is Monday, December 5.

ing them from Santa's Workshop to "The Night Before Christmas" and on into a Winter Wonderland of mirrors, icicles and an animated snowday.

The grand finale is Santa's Room. Somehow, the Assistance League has managed to corral three weeks' worth of Santas, about 45 men, who are Santa-ing in two hour shifts. Each is accompanied by Mrs. Claus. Chances are she's Santa's real-life wife.

A Snack with Santa. It's Mrs. Santa's job to read a story to each group of Santa Haus visitors, who are invited to have a snack and juice with Santa before they leave.

Everyone, children and adults, (there's no law that says you have to be under 12 to enjoy the Santa Haus), is conducted through the Christmas fantasy in a group. Several groups go through each hour. A film is part of the presentation.

Actually, the whole house is a story. It was "suggested" a year and a half ago, by Judy Sieber. It's being produced by the entire Assistance League. "We've been working since September," Judy says.

Back then, at the beginning of fall, each Assistance League member was asked when and how she would like to help in the Santa Haus. When there were only about 100 left who had not responded, the committee got together at a local realtors' office, and got everybody to promise to work on the project.

The Santa Haus was built in less than two weeks. The carpeting came on a Tuesday. The walls went up on a Wednesday. The Thursday before Thanksgiving, the real decorating began.

"Everything," Judy marvels, "has fallen into place superbly."

Christmas Around the World

The Circumnavigators Club brings its 75th anniversary year to a close with a Christmas dinner dance at Renaissance Center's Detroit Plaza Hotel a week from tomorrow, Friday, December 9.

The "Christmas Around the World" theme will be reflected in prizes and a group of centerpieces by Circumwife Mrs. Victor Breidenbach. Betty's creations literally "light up the world."

Dance music will be by Art Quatro and his orchestra. Party chairman is Fred Flom. He's getting lots of help from Vic Breidenbach, Arthur O. A. Schmidt and James J. Trebilcock.

A Scandinavian Christmas

Christmas, in Sweden, begins with the arrival of Santa Lucia, the "Queen of Light" whose December 13 feast day heralds the start of the holiday season.

For those of Swedish descent in Michigan, members of the Jenny Lind Club dedicated to the perpetuation of Swedish culture, Christmas begins with the club's annual Lucia Ball.

The Grosse Pointe Yacht Club will be the setting for this year's Lucia dinner dance for Jenny Lind members and their friends. Party date is a week from tomorrow, Friday, December 9.

Each year, the Lucia Ball committee selects a young woman of Swedish descent to represent "Lucia." This year's choice is 15-year-old Melissa Elizabeth Hopkes, a Grosse Pointe South High School junior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hopkes, III.

Among metropolitan area exchange students from Sweden participating as attendants and star boys will be Hakan Siepel, from Jonkoping, who is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Arducci, of Pemberton road.

Lucia Ball co-chairmen are Mrs. Robert Swanson and Mrs. Anton Person.

Their committee includes Pointers Mrs. Robert Peebles and Mrs. Fritz Walters, the Mesdames Sven Anden and Tottie Samuelson, of Birmingham, and Bloomfield Hills residents Mrs. John Ylvisaker and Mrs. Arne Lagerkvist, who is in charge of the program.

location, for there's plenty of parking. The Assistance League knew they had a winner by the second week in November: at that time, over 2,000 persons were in line, via group reservations, for the Santa Haus.

Each Assistance League member brings something for the bake sale when she reports for her Santa Haus volunteer shift so the edible goods counter is being constantly replenished.

General co-chairmen of the whole shebang are Mrs. Robert Waldeck, Mrs. Christopher Mannino and Mrs. George Shammass, who've been "thinking Christmas" since well before Halloween.

Their holiday spirit remains irreplaceable. Like Judy Sieber, like the whole Assistance League, they're not just thinking Christmas now. They're living it.

So, when you visit the Santa Haus, will you.

Plan Dinner By Candlelight

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational/American Baptist Church will hold its annual Christmas Candlelight Dinner Tuesday, December 13, at the church.

President Mrs. Dudley Arnold will welcome guests to the buffet and be the first to wish everyone a joyous holiday season.

The evening begins with punch and appetizers at 6 o'clock. Dinner will be served at 7 in the social hall.

Mrs. William Reid and Mrs. Paul Weber, program chairmen, have invited the Denby Mother's Club Ensemble Choral Group to perform.

There will also be a carol sing with audience participation.

Reservations may be made by signing up in the church office or calling the church office before noon Wednesday, December 7. Everyone is invited to attend.

Parents Slate Country Fair

The Harper Woods Secondary School Parents Club will present "A Christmas Country Fair" on Friday, December 2, from 6 to 10 p.m. and on Saturday, December 3, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Secondary School, 20225 Beaconsfield Road.

Fifty dealers and craftsmen will show and sell their wares. Painted plaster figures, Christmas ornaments and wreaths, paintings, weavings, fibre dolls and baskets, jewelry of all types, silk flowers, Christmas calendars, candy Santas, macrame, pot holders, egg cozys and dip and drape dolls will be offered.

Homemade baked food including Sloppy Joes, will be sold in the snack bar. For children, there will be a "Photo's with Santa" booth on Friday from 7 to 9 p.m. and on Saturday from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 2 to 4 p.m. There will be no admission charge.

Cancer Group Hosts Speaker

Thelma Radden, RN, will be the featured speaker at the next Living with Cancer meeting today, December 1, in the Ladies Parlor of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, at 2 p.m.

Cancer patients and their families are welcome to attend.

For more information, call the Cottage Hospital branch of the American Cancer Society at 343-9006.

EWALD HONORED
Ted Ewald of Ewald Chevrolet, head of the Ewald Foundation, will be honored along with Tom Adams of the Campbell Ewald Co. at the Metropolitan Detroit March of Dimes Sports Award Dinner. Mr. Ewald and Mr. Adams will receive the "Distinguished Community Citizens" award at the dinner on Wednesday, January 18.

Open House Set At Brownell

The Brownell Middle School orchestra and choir will entertain parents at an open house Wednesday, December 7, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Teachers will be available in their rooms to meet with parents from 7:30 to 8 p.m. Following a short business meeting in the gym, a Christmas musical program will be presented.

Under the direction of Christina Judson, the orchestra will play "Sleigh Ride" by Mozart and "Christmas Fugue."

The choir will present several yule selections and will combine with the drama group to perform "The Night Before Christmas."

Choir director is Anita Pinson, while Ann Eatherly leads the drama group.

The school is located at 260 Chalfonte avenue.

Scouts Aid In Clean Up

Seven members of Senior Girl Scout Troop No. 327 under the direction of their leaders, Mrs. Robert Martin of Lochmoor boulevard and Mrs. Thomas Gallagher of Hampton road, recently removed the flower debris from the flower beds on the Mack avenue-Vernier road intersection of the Veteran's Memorial Parkway.

They included Karen Aro, Carole Clay, Mary Ann Gallagher, Shelly Kurze, Janet Liebling, Patty Meehan and Leslie Stead.

The Woods Beautification Commission expressed its appreciation to the scouts and their leaders for the contribution they have made to civic beautification.

Troop No. 327 also cleaned up the raised bed in front of city hall and the Vernier-Mack beds last year.

Alarm Regulation Ordinance

Code No. 6-08, an Ordinance to Govern and Regulate Alarm Systems In The City of Grosse Pointe Farms; a copy of which is on file in the office of the City Clerk for public inspection.

The Hearing will be public. Interested property owners or residents of the City are invited to attend.

Richard G. Solak
CITY CLERK

GPN— 12-1-1977.

CITY OF Grosse Pointe Farms MICHIGAN

Summary of The Minutes November 21, 1977

The meeting was called to order at 8:00 p.m. Present on Roll Call: Mayor James H. Dingeman, Councilman Jack M. Cudlip, Nancy J. Waugaman, Joseph L. Fromm, W. James Mast and Lloyd A. Semple.

Those Absent Were: Councilman Harry R. Fruehauf, Jr.
Mayor James H. Dingeman presided at the meeting.

Councilman Fruehauf was excused from attending the meeting.

Mrs. Nancy J. Waugaman and Messrs. Joseph L. Fromm and Jack M. Cudlip took their Oaths of Office and commenced their terms of service as City Councilmen.

The Council received the Certificate of Determination regarding the General City Election which was held on November 8, 1977, as approved by the Board of Canvassers at their meeting on November 10, 1977.

The Council re-elected Mayor James H. Dingeman to a two-year term of service as Mayor, expiring in November, 1979.

The Council re-elected Mayor Pro-Tem W. James Mast to a two-year term of service as Mayor-Pro-Tem, expiring in November, 1979.

The Council adopted a resolution of agreement for the City's participation in the Wayne County Community Development Block Grant Program for 1978.

The Council adopted a resolution scheduling a Public Hearing at 8:00 p.m. on December 5, 1977, for the purpose of considering formal adoption of a proposed Amendment to Code No. 10-02, Ordinance No. 173, the "Charitable Solicitations and Events Ordinance".

The Council adopted a resolution to table the request of the Grosse Pointe News for permission for its reporters to tape record the proceedings at all open meetings of the City Council, pending study of the costs and procedures involved for the City to tape record the meetings.

The Council re-appointed Mrs. Jane Dow of Ridge Road and Mrs. Nancy Q. Williams of Tonnan-cour Place, to the City's Board of Canvassers, each to serve a four-year term of service expiring on December 31, 1981.

The Council approved the low bid of Cook-Farr Ford, Incorporated, in the total amount of $37,300 for the purchase of eight new City vehicles as specified, and also including the trade-in of six vehicles as specified, and the re-purchase of the 1973 Ford trade-in vehicle from Cook-Farr Ford, Incorporated, at the trade-in allowance of $500.00.

The Council approved the only bid received for furnishing the City with rock salt during the forthcoming winter season; that being the bid of the International Salt Company in the amount of $12.39 per ton for a minimum amount of 45 ton loads.

The Council adopted a resolution authorizing the Administration to engage the firm of Charles Mueller and Sons of East Detroit, for the necessary rebuilding of the #2 pump at the Sewage Pumping Station at a total cost not to exceed $2,500.

The following Report was received by the Council and ordered placed on file:

A. Fire Department Report for the month of October, 1977.

The Council adopted a resolution offering a reward in the amount of $1,000 to any person or persons who submit information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons guilty of committing the arson incidents within the City between November 5 and November 19, 1977.

Upon proper motion made, supported and carried, the meeting adjourned at 11:00 p.m.
