State offers little hope for Pedlar

By Joanne Gouleche

An official from the state's Financial Institutions Bureau said last week there is little that can be done to alter Detroit Bank & Trust's plans to build on Fisher Road until it applies to the agency for a new chartered bank.

SAVE OUR SHOPS supporters packed the council room in Grosse Pointe City last week to hear John Shumacher, regional supervisor of the bureau's Detroit office, outline procedures a bank must go through before it can be chartered a new bank. All applications must be filed through the bureau.

If Detroitbank's application is approved, plans are to set up a full-service subsidiary where the popular Pointe Pedlar and other businesses operate on Fisher Road. SOS is particularly angered over the possibility that 30 new parking spaces will be added and create more traffic in the heavily-congested area.

Gary Mielock, assistant director of the state bureau's bank and trust division, said it would be "entirely possible" for his office to have a site inspection of Detroitbank's plans. But that can only happen when the bank formally applies to the bureau, something which bank officials say will not occur until next year.

Shumacher told the SOS group that applications can be turned down because of potential "financial unsuccess."

"If we foresee financial unsuccess, we ask them (the bank) to quietly drop the application," Shumacher said.

Mayor David Robb told SOS supporters that he has personally met several times with Detroitbank officials to persuade them to set up offices elsewhere in Grosse Pointe.

"We are concerned about this situation. There is no question about it. But sometimes we are powerless to act, and until they (the bank) bring something in, we don't know if we can turn down its plans," Robb said.

THE GROUP finally convinced the council to formally request the city to contact the bank about submitting those plans to the council. The group also presented the council with 7,000 signatures from citizens protesting Detroitbank's plans on Fisher Road.

SOS spokeswoman Elaine Hartmann said $325 has already come in from the group's ad campaign in the Grosse Pointe News to raise funds for their cause.

The council and the SOS group were surprised to hear at the meeting that Detroitbank President Donald Mandich would consider building the controversial trust office where the Punch and Judy Theater now stands if he could be guaranteed no citizen protest.

Mandich, through a spokeswoman, called the alleged plan "ridiculous and absolutely not true."

The spokeswoman said that in a recent conversation with Wayne County Commissioner Erv Steiner, the Punch and Judy was only referred to in discussions about property in Grosse Pointe that would not be suitable for the proposed trust office and full-service subsidiary.

Steiner reportedly met with Mandich to discuss possible alternative sites for the bank.

Hartmann said that Steiner told her that Mandich would only consider the Punch and Judy if he could be promised no citizen protest over the move.

39th Field Day is this weekend

Every kid in Grosse Pointe is welcome to celebrate one last bash before school begins next week at the Metropolitan Club's 39th annual Field Day this Saturday, Aug. 30, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Brownell Middle School field.

There will be plenty of rides, games and prizes for everyone. Special features will be the Moon Walk and 40 and B Box Car. Bikes, radios and many other free prizes will be given, and Grosse Pointe police and firemen, dressed as clowns, will keep the crowd entertained. Ice cream, pop, cotton candy and popcorn will be available.

Chairman Dave Taylor, assistant chief of the Park Fire Department, invites everyone to attend. Park permits are needed for admission.

Swimmers beware

Edgardo Arcane (pictured third from left) was expecting to pull a perch in from Lake St. Clair when he entered the Farms' 32nd Annual Fishing Rodeo Aug. 16. But after 10 minutes of waiting, Edgardo landed a 37 inch salt water eel, believed to have come all the way from the St. Lawrence Seaway. Edgardo, a City youngster, missed the final contest whistle by two minutes. More than 225 children participated in the event, including (from left to right), DAVID NURMI, who was awarded a trophy for his 23 1/2 inch carp, TOM TROMBLY, City Rodeo Chairman, DICK GRAVES, Farms Rodeo Chairman, and (seated) JAMIE MCENTEE, awarded a trophy for his 15 1/2 inch sucker. Event chairmen included Farms Police Chief Robert Jamerino, Frank Dansbury, Tom Pitlok, Standard on the Ferber, Cpl. Joe and Pat Tom Graves and Ceil Kalkhoff. Thanks went to Fred and Ed Lauer, for helping make the event a success.

Builders close in on estate

By Susan McDonald

In 99.9 percent developed Grosse Pointe investors are always hungry for subdivided parcels of land. And one has been found, surrounding the grand, much-publicized Winifred Dodge Seyburn estate on 16850 East Jefferson Road.

The firm 1001 Services, Inc., a subsidiary of First Federal Savings and Loan, plans to close on the purchase of the 190 by 1,000 foot estate today, according to executive vice-president John Gehrke.

The sale price is rumored to be in excess of $350,000, although Gehrke wouldn't comment on that.

The estate became the focus of attention this spring, after the death of Mrs. Seyburn and subsequent showy auction of her belongings. The 16-bedroom house, surrounded by formal gardens and various carriage and stable houses, is one of the last grand mansions still standing on Jefferson.

What will become of the estate now? Gehrke said this week that plans for the parcel are not firm, but he promises a "first class" single-family development that will retain as much as possible of the parcel's cultivated beauty.

"A lot depends on rezoning and what Grosse Pointe City allows us to do," Gehrke said. "We'll approach the city council as soon as we have a plan for rezoning, by the end of the year."

As far as the house itself goes,

Gehrke said the firm has not yet determined what condition the structure is in.

"There's a possibility the house will come down but we don't really know yet. A lot depends on what the buying community is interested in," Gehrke said.

The house was designed by architects Bryant Fleming of New York and Robert O. Derrick of Grosse Pointe and built in the early 1920's by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hewitt Brown. Mr. Brown was associated with the Bohn aluminum manufacturing firm.

According to the Browns' daughter, Mrs. Eleanore Wiener, the family never lived in the house after it was completed. "It had something to do with the depression of the 1920's," Mrs. Brown explained.

Instead the Browns sold the home to real estate developer Wesson Seyburn in 1924, and he and his wife Winifred used it as a summer home until her death in January.

The Browns later engaged the Fleming-Derrick architectural team to build another home on Lake court, where they resided for many years.

Mrs. Wiener, who still lives in the Pointe, has fond memories of the Seyburn home and its owner, Winifred. "It's so awful to think of it coming down. It's just wicked," she said last week. "There ought to be another way to develop the land, another plan."

World class racer does it all for fun

By Dean Brierly

The green and white Elfin screams around the last turn and sprints for the checkered flag. Close on its heels is a black and white Porsche. With inches to go, the Elfin comes up with an extra burst of speed and flashes across the finish line.

No, it's not the Monaco Grand Prix. And the Elfin's driver is not Jackie Stewart. But when Grosse Pointe's Rick Davis gets behind the transmitter of his remote-controlled, gas-powered race car, he's one of the top drivers in the world.

Among his titles are the 1972 Midwest series championship, overall champion of the 1978 nationals and the Internationals championship a year ago.

Although he calls it "just a hobby," his penchant for racing the one-eighth scale cars has taken him across the country and over to Europe several times to compete against the world's best.

Davis, 31, has been racing on this scale since 1971 in his spare time. He's worked with his father at the Three-D's bike shop on Mack in the Woods for the last 15 years as his regular profession.

He and three other Grosse Pointers belong to the Detroit Radio Controlled Car Club, which has regular meetings at the bike shop and holds two to three races a month. The club numbers some 60 members spread throughout the metropolitan area.

LOCAL RACES are held at the Winchester Mall on Rochester road, the UPS distribution center in Livonia and the Regional Shopping Center at Gratiot and 15 Mile. The "track" is usually a parking lot with course markers and barrier boards. Drivers compete to see who can amass the most laps within a certain time limit to determine a winner.

While he participates in the local races, Davis really looks forward to the 10 or so major races held each year. These include the Winternationals held in Florida, the Indy-Oval race held in Indianapolis the week after the real 500, the Nationals in California and the international championship, which began in 1977 and is held every other year.

Davis placed 19th at that first international race. But when the city of Geneva, Switzerland, played host to 160 of the best radio-controlled car racers in 1977, Davis took sixth place, thereby improving his world ranking so that he can now say he's among the top 10.

THE EVENT DREW 5,000 spectators in Geneva, proving that the sport is much more popular in Europe than in the U.S.

While the men who race all have careers and pursue the hobby in their spare time, Davis says they are quite serious about doing well and claims that the pressure of a major race can become very intense.

"I've seen guys lose control and throw their car at a wall after it just failed them for the 83rd time that day," laughs Davis.

"The only time the pressure bothers me is qualifying," he continues.

"Once I get past the first round and know I'm racing competitively, then it's not too bad. By the time the main event rolls around, it's no problem at all."

What qualities does the radio-controlled racer need to enable him to win at the national and international level? Davis thinks it's the ability to remain cool under pressure, coupled with good eye-hand coordination and depth perception—qualities that real race drivers need as well.

He says there's usually a lot of

Pointes split $100,000 grant for Mack plan

By Gregory Jakub

Grosse Pointe city officials last week got down to the business of dividing up $100,000 in Wayne County Block Grants to be used for implementing an ambitious blight prevention project along Mack avenue.

Officials from the Woods, Park, City and Farms met Wednesday morning, Aug. 20, at the Woods city offices to divide the much-sought-after block grant funds which come from HUD and are channeled to communities through Wayne County. The HUD money was awarded in late July.

The Woods walked away with the biggest cut—$32,000 which included $2,000 to cover administrative costs involved in preparation of the grant application. Since early this year, the Woods has been the main mover behind efforts to win HUD funds for implementation of the Mack blight prevention plan designed by Gerald Luedtke and Assoc., Inc., an urban planning firm.

Luedtke's plan proposes facade improvements, sidewalk landscaping, and improved parking as factors that will prevent urban decay from taking root along Mack in the Pointes.

Detroit community groups and city officials have also expressed an interest in maintaining their side of Mack avenue which is adjacent to the Pointes, and included in Luedtke's blight prevention plan.

The success of Luedtke's plan depends on financial participation from business owners and cities to supplement the HUD grant. Securing that participation is the next step for the Woods, according to Chester Petersen, city manager, who said his city will seek support of merchants and dip into its parking meter fund to start some of the plan's parking improvement recommendations.

When all finances are nailed down, Petersen said he expects the Woods to have about $85,000 for Mack Avenue to improve parking and sidewalks and to initiate other grant and loan programs.

The Park took the second largest cut of the $100,000 by claiming $30,000. John Crawford, city manager, said he was satisfied with the allocation and called it a "real catalyst for immediately changing the appearance of Mack."

Crawford said the Park's next move is to use grant money to do an architectural facade study of storefronts from Maryland to Somerset then an engineering study to get cost estimates of reworking the strip using the "Williamsburg" style. Luedtke's plan proposes redesigning storefronts into a more contemporary style.

Crawford said Luedtke's approach has to be reviewed with the Park's master plan to determine whether "Luedtke's study is the best proposal we have or are there other options?"

Crawford added that the Park is also working on other government funding possibilities that "look good at this time." The Park had made its own application for $94,000 in block grant fund the same time that the Woods applied for its $100,000 but was not awarded the funds.

The City and Farms each received $19,000 of the $100,000 grant.

Thomas Kressbach, City of Grosse Pointe manager, said he hopes to talk with neighboring planners in the Farms and Park to work on projects that could benefit all communities.

"If there are projects that are com-

Milk River Bridge runs into delays

By Gregory Jakub

Lack of support from boaters and bureaucratic snags could prevent completion of a new bridge to span the Milk River at Lakefront Park before the 1981 boating season.

The $183,000 bridge project involves removal of the present bridge and replacement with a pedestrian span and construction of a new vehicular bridge farther upstream toward Jefferson.

THE BRIDGE HAS been a controversial issue with boaters and the Woods council since 1973 when high water in the Milk River narrowed the clearance under the bridge and prevented boats bigger than 24 feet from passing under to utilize 53 boat docks on the other side.

If the project is not completed by spring 1981, many of the 53 docks on the Jefferson side of the bridge will go unused for the eighth consecutive year. For the city that means another year of lost revenue while the docks stand empty. For boaters it means many with boats small enough to fit under the bridge will continue to resort to tactics like overloading to clear the bridge.

Threatening to prevent bridge construction is a lack of commitment by boaters to rent wells in 1981. When the Woods council approved the bridge project in July, it stipulated that 75 percent (176) of the total 234 wells be rented before bridge construction begins. Renters would also have to agree to a flat rate rental fee of $260 a year which means an increase of $125 for small boats and $40 for large boats.

So far, the city has only gotten commitments for 70 docks out of about 300 letters mailed to current dock renters and those on a waiting list.

The city is also waiting for clearance from the Milk River Drainage Board before it can begin construction. City engineer Larry Pate said that because of the summer season, the three-man board may not have met during the last 30 days to consider the Woods request for permission. If the board doesn't respond within a week, Pate said he would request that the city ask for a response.

BUT EVEN IF the Drainage Board grants permission next week the city still needs 106 more rental commitments before its engineers can design a bridge and before it can take bids. That is a 60-day process which if started in late September could mean cold weather would prevent construction, according to councilman Frederick Lovelace.

"We're running tight," Lovelace said. He added that he expected red tape to be cleared by now and was pessimistic about the chances of the 106 rental commitments coming in by Sept. 1.

"I don't think it's going to happen. It appears we're not going to have the sufficient number of letters of intent," Lovelace said.

"If everything was done, we could be building a bridge," he added.

Woods city manager Chester Petersen said he doubted whether the bridge could be completed by spring 1981 if the necessary rental commitments came in very late. If that was the case, the bridge project would have to wait another year, Petersen said.

Jazz to flow freely at Montreux-Detroit fest

By Gregory Jakub

There will be more jazz in downtown Detroit this Labor Day weekend, much of it free, than any one person could consume as the Montreux-Detroit International Jazz Festival overwhelms the city with music.

The festival is a landmark event in several ways. It marks the first time the prestigious, 14-year-old Montreux, Switzerland Jazz Festival has loaned its name to a north American jazz event. It is also the largest gathering of top-name and local jazz talents in the area since the successful Ann Arbor Blues and Jazz Festivals of the early 70's, and supports the claim that Detroit is experiencing a jazz renaissance.

The festival features eight ticketed evening concerts beginning tonight, Aug. 28, with a cruise on the Boblo boat featuring music by the World's Greatest Jazz Band and The Little McKinney Cottonpickers.

Other evening concerts Friday through Monday at the Detroit Plaza Hotel and Music Hall will feature such jazz luminaries as pianist Ramsey Lewis, B. B. King, Oscar Peterson, Sippie Wallace, and veteran beboppers, the Heath Brothers. Tickets are available at CTC Computer Outlets including Hudson's, Fisher Theater Box Office, Kay Baum, and Music Hall.

Most likely the largest crowds will hear the numerous student groups and local musicians who are scheduled to give free concerts daily.

Thursday afternoon's opening free concert takes place on the balcony of the House of Fabrics located in a recently renovated landmark building on Woodward and John R. Dignitaries include Mayor Coleman Young and Montreux Mayor Jean-Jacques Cevey with music by the Suisse Swing Six.

On Friday, Aug. 29, there will be music from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Hart Plaza featuring Northview High School's band, Grand Rapids; Top Brass; Mott Community College, Jack Broken-sha Ensemble, Aquinas College, Ursula Walker and George Benson and Co. and Washtenaw Community College.

MONTREUX-DETROIT INTERNATIONAL JAZZ FESTIVAL

Also at Hart Plaza on Saturday, Aug. 30 between 11:30 a.m. and 10 p.m. will be the Brookside Jazz Ensemble, Mott Community College, Rebirth, Suisse Swing Six, Mixed Bag, Ball State University, D'Sace Players. That same afternoon at the Plaza Hotel, there will be music by bands from Aquinas College, Washtenaw Community College, Purdue University, and Michigan Technological University.

Back at Hart Plaza on Sunday, Aug. 31 will be the James Tatum Trio Plus, Austin-Moro, Peter "Madcat" Ruth and Katalenic/Kwek, Tom Sanders' Surfside Six, Purdue University, J. C. Heard, and University of Michigan. At the same time in the Plaza Hotel bands from Northwestern High School and Ann Arbor Community High School, Henry Ford Community College, Ball State University, Michigan Tech, Suisse Swing Six, and Michigan State.

On Monday, Labor Day, some of Detroit's most outstanding players such as the Pioneer Orchestra, Michigan State, Griot Galaxy, U. of M. Lyman Woodard organization, Wayne State University, and the Jimmy Wilkens Orchestra can be heard at Hart Plaza.

There will also be a food festival of sorts at Hart Plaza as various restaurants in the newly named Bricktown area of downtown offer samples of their menus.

Center announces fall schedule of art courses

The War Memorial's art school, offering a wide spectrum of instruction in drawing, water color, basketry and picture framing is due to begin in September.

A basic drawing course will be held on Monday mornings from 9 to noon beginning Sept. 15 and running until Oct. 27. Mary Louise McCarroll, curator-artist in residence of the Michigan Arttrain, will teach the basic concepts and techniques of drawing using pencil and charcoal.

One of the center's two water color classes is also being offered from Sept. 15 through Nov. 17. Marilyn Derwenskus, faculty member of the Birmingham Bloomfield Art Association, will teach the 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. class. She teaches her students to utilize different approaches to their painting depending on their insight and personality.

Carol Lachiusa will teach the other watercolor class Thursday mornings, 9:30 a.m. to noon, from Sept. 18 to Oct. 23. Classes will be held on the center's lakeside lawn and gardens and in the new art studio.

Mrs. Lachiusa teaches basic and realistic painting of landscapes and still lifes. Basketry is being taught in the new art wing on Wednesday evenings Sept. 17 to Oct. 22 from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

Inter-Faith Center holds Sept. meeting

The Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice invites the community to an Orientation Evening on Tuesday, Sept. 9 at 7:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, 17150 Maumee, Grosse Pointe City.

The purpose of the meeting is to acquaint people with the work of the Inter-Faith Center. Participants will learn the origins of the center, its philosophy, its accomplishments during the past 11 years, and how volunteers can become involved in its work.

The Orientation Evening culminates a volunteer drive carried on this summer under the leadership of Volunteer Coordination Chairman Harriet Rubin and Program Coordinator Gail Urso. In a written appeal to prospective volunteers, Rubin and Urso said: "The Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice offers a unique opportunity to effect a real change in society — in both an attitudinal and an institutional way; because it provides an opportunity to work with people who share concerns about the equality and worth of every individual; because it provides a visible sign to others (very importantly to your children) that you care enough to be actively involved in the fight against racism; and, quite simply, because without enough of you, the fight won't be as successful."

"We know there are those in the community who are interested in the work of the center, but they are extremely busy people. They must pick and choose their commitments carefully," said Rubin.

"We hope they'll come to our Orientation Evening and become interested enough to get involved on whatever level they choose. The center certainly offers a wide range of volunteer opportunities."

Gail Urso added, "I was a center volunteer for many years before joining the staff and can speak from experience about the rewards of working with the center."

Ed Egnatios, executive director of the Inter-Faith Center, said, "The men and women who volunteer their time to the organization are very special people. They are aware and concerned and want to be involved in the fight to reach the goals the Inter-Faith Center has set."

The Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center is funded by 15 area churches and many individual members. Its goal is to promote racial and social justice through educational programs and task forces working in education, crime prevention, housing and preparation of youth for living in a multi-cultural world.

For more information about the Orientation Evening on Sept. 9 call the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice, 832-6464.

The first hint of a wine's quality comes from its smell, or bouquet. Wine bouquets are of two types. One is the original bouquet, the fresh smell that comes from the wine's life in a cask. The acquired bouquet comes from life in a bottle and is made up of subtler smells that develop when the alcohol breaks down into higher form. Often, the acquired bouquet will remind a taster of old velvet or cool moss by a brook. It is hard to put in words, but you can tell for sure when it is there. Use your nose when tasting wine.

Another "indefinable" treat is a visit to PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, Corner of St. Clair, Detroit. At this fine location you will find the selection of beers, wines and champagnes that will prove to be a treat to the most discriminating of tastes. Stop in today and select a beverage that will enhance this evening's meal. We also feature a number of party items such as chips, cheese and other delectables to make the evening a super one. Open 10-10 Mon.-Thurs., 10-11 Fri. & Sat., noon-6 Sun. Tel. 885-0626.

WINE WISDOM:

In Europe, wine of a certain type must be made of grapes grown in that region. Not so in the U.S., where European types' names can be used on wines that are similar in taste.

High School graduation requirements increased

The school board this month voted to raise the number of classes required for high school graduation from 19 to 20 units and said it plans a large-scale study of course requirements for the coming year.

Superintendent William Coats explained the current 19-unit (class) requirement has caused concern that "our students are not being sufficiently challenged, especially during the junior and senior years." He also noted that curricula at North and South high schools have been expanded considerably during the last decade, and the new requirement may encourage students to take advantage of the diverse program.

The new, 20-unit policy will take effect beginning with the class of 1983. Coats said some opposition to the new policy is expected to come from parents of learning disabled students who have lobbied recently to reduce graduation requirements. Those parents have argued that the criteria are too stringent for their children to meet.

According to Director of Secondary Education Robert Welch, the new policy is just one small step in what he hopes will be a larger program to revamp graduation requirements in other areas.

"We think (the policy) is a strong psychological impetus for kids to get as much out of school as they can get. It will have a particularly good effect on seniors, who often take reduced loads."

Under the current policy, calling for only 19 units, students theoretically, can graduate after only three full years in high school by taking one summer school class. They are only allowed to do that under extraordinary circumstances, however.

The school system now requires three years of English for graduation, plus two years of physical education and one year each of American History, civics, fine or practical arts, math and science.

Welch said a study will be made of those requirements during the coming school year. Many faculty members support increased requirements, especially in light of enrollment declines that are shrinking some departments, according to Welch.

A recent survey of other area high schools conducted by the administration indi-

Awards night set for Park businesses

In an effort to recognize the business people in the Park who have made improvements to their buildings and landscape, the Grosse Pointe Park Beautification Commission is sponsoring the city's first Awards Night Nov. 20.

"The Beautification Commission wants to make sure that the business people in the Park know that we appreciate their efforts," said Councilman John Prost, chairman of the event.

Applications will be sent out to all commercial organizations in the city during the first two weeks of September. They are due by Oct. 15, and the Selection Committee will consist of members of the Beautification Commission. Any business may request an application by calling city offices at 822-6200.

cated many of them also are tightening requirements, Welch said. "There seems to be a general tendency in that direction, to make sure kids are really taking advantage of what we're offering in the high schools."

Rare sculpture display set

Sculpture rarely loaned by the Detroit Institute of Arts will be on exhibit in Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Art Wing, Friday, Sept. 5 through Sunday, Sept. 14.

All works on display will have been either given or commissioned by Grosse Pointers who have served as leading lights in the museum's development, considered one of the best in the country.

They include Mrs. Horace E. Dodge, Mrs. Edsel B. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kanzler, Mr. Robert H. Tannahill, Mrs. Walter O. Briggs, Dexter M. Ferry, Jr. and Hawkins Ferry.

A special invitation preview dinner and viewing is planned for Wednesday evening, Sept. 3 with Mrs. Alger Shelden in charge. Beginning Friday, Sept. 5 exhibit hours will be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 12 to 5 p.m. Sundays.

The committee working with the Detroit Art Institute on the selection and display of this art includes Mrs. John V. Renchard, Chairman, Mrs. Alger Shelden, Mrs. Alvan Macauley and Mrs. Stanley Dolega representing the Grosse Pointe Artists Association who initiated the idea of the new Art Wing.

Patrol car, van collide

A brand new Grosse Pointe Woods police car was heavily damaged Wednesday, Aug. 13, when it collided with a van on Marter road while on route to investigate a burglary report.

A Public Safety Officer and the 18-year-old van driver of the Woods suffered minor injuries and were released after treatment at local hospitals.

The accident happened about 8:15 p.m. Witnesses said the patrol car was traveling 35 to 40 miles per hour southbound on Marter road with emergency flashers turned on. The van emerged from Aline onto Marter in front of the police car and pulled to the curb in front of a parked car on the right side of Marter, police said.

The van driver said he then signaled a left turn and proceeded to turn left into a driveway when he was struck by the police car, police said.

The officer told police that he thought the van had pulled to the curb to allow the police car to pass.

The burglar alarm proved to be false. Police will investigate the accident.

The world of a racer

crashing early in a race and claims "you want to stay the hell away from that."

Another prerequisite is money. A new gas car, according to Davis, runs in the neighborhood of $400-$500—without any extras. In addition, he says, a recent innovation of independent suspension, will jack the price of a car up to around $1,000.

Since there is no prize money awarded at races, the one-eighth class of racing is comprised mainly of men in their 30's with money to spend on an expensive hobby.

"It's not something you enter as a money-making proposition," Davis admits.

Although he does get a little financial help from the manufacturer of the car he races, he doesn't see much help for most drivers unless the sport should catch on big here in the states, as it has in Europe. Davis feels if enough people started racing, the companies that make the cars might then put together racing teams and take care of expenses.

Besides money, a lot of time and effort also go into preparing and maintaining a first-class machine. Davis spends about six to seven hours a week on his car, modifying a detail here and there, and doing a little aerodynamic tuning on the body and wing. He has parts enough for five or six cars, but says he usually just puts one together for a race.

The cars themselves are close to two feet long and a foot wide. A plexan plastic body rests atop a frame made of fiberglass and aircraft aluminum.

They're powered by either gas or electricity, depending on the model, and controlled by a remote transmitter with a range of up to half a mile. Davis favors the gas cars for competition.

"The gas cars are larger and much faster," he explains. "They get a top speed of around 60 mph, while the electric cars top out at around 30 mph. The gas cars are trickier to drive, but are just about indestructible."

Besides trophies, of which he has around 50, the opportunity for travel is another attraction for Davis. He enjoys meeting different people and seeing different places, although he's been to the Winternationals in Florida the past four years and still hasn't made it to Disneyworld.

But competition is still the driving force that keeps him involved. While it remains "just a hobby," he's not about to take his world standing lightly.

"When you're near the top, no matter what you're doing, you get pretty serious about it," he says.

Houlihan's cantina is Mack's next event

By Joanne Gouleche
Bob Mowbray says the idea of a Mexican-Italian restaurant in Grosse Pointe Park is silly enough that it just may work. After all, who would have believed a year ago that his offbeat plan for a restaurant named Sparky Herbert's featuring key lime pie and deep-fried zucchini would be credited with bringing Kercheval Avenue back to life?

Avenue next month and turn Houlihan's bar into Armando Houlihan's Cantina and Mexican Munchie Stand — along with all the Irish stew you can eat.

Mowbray, an interior decorator and Park resident, recently broke ties with Herbert's partner Darrell Finken after the two disagreed about the future direction of the popular restaurant.

"We just had different ideas about Sparky's, that's all," Mowbray said. Sparky Herbert's joined the Kercheval renaissance project a year ago and is said to have stimulated other businesses along the corridor to spruce up their storefronts.

Unemployed, Mowbray says he was beginning to get "nutsy" and so he dropped in on Houlihan's owner Jim Wensing one day. Mowbray said he had a feeling that Houlihan's, 15110 Mack, could enjoy the same success as Sparky's minus the bar's "Erin Go Bragh" signs and tacky pinball machines.

enough that it will work," Mowbray said.

The vinyl chairs and formica tables will be replaced with antique wooden tables and chairs. Mowbray says tablecloths laced with green and orange edging will add just the right Mexican touch.

"We're going to get rid of the pool tables and pinball machines and build an entertainment platform for amateur comedians and others who care to provide live performances," Mowbray says.

Mowbray, who will use his own money to refurbish the bar, says it will cost under $2,000 to turn Houlihan's into the friendliest place in town.

Mowbray is still experimenting with the menu, but will guarantee a taco, burrito and glass of sangria for under $3.50. He promises no green chili.

Mack project

mon to all communities maybe we can share resources," Kressbach said.

"I also want to review the goals and objectives of our merchants especially those they share with their neighbors in the Park and Farms," he added.

Kressbach said he hopes all Mack merchants will come together "to find some projects that might serve them all."

City manager Andrew Bremer said Farms' planning staff has not spent much time determining specifics of how the city will use its grant money. Generally, the Mack-Moross area will probably be the target area for improvements by the Farms, Bremer said.

All the cities said their next step is to meet with citizen's advisory committees to begin taking action toward implementing and financing their various blight prevention projects.

Delays threaten bridge

Petersen said that according to the intentions of the council when it approved the bridge issue, letters of intent were mailed to present dock renters and those on a waiting list.

But according to Woods boater Larry Sullivan, had those letters been sent to more of the Woods' 1,100 state registered boaters, there is "no question" that the city would have the necessary 176 rental commitments.

Petersen said the city could not undertake a mailing to 1,100 boaters without approval of the council. The council is scheduled to discuss the question of mailing to other boaters at its Sept. 8 meeting.

In the meantime, some say that dissatisfaction with the proposed bridge financed plan is causing some boaters to withhold their rental commitments.

TO COVER THE bridge's $183,000 price tag, the project proposes raising dock rental fees to $260 a year.

Some small boat owners who are able to use the smaller docks at Lakefront Park for $135 a year have complained that they are being asked to bear a $125 increase while larger boat owners will only get a $40 increase.

Small boat owner Elaine Griffith of Roslyn road called the increase unfair because it would tend to "force the little people out."

"Not everyone can afford a large boat even though they would like to own one. I don't believe anyone would object to a $40 increase but the way you are handling it is most unfair," Mrs. Griffith said in a letter to the Woods council.

Paul Caruso of Lochmoor is a boat owner who said that boaters' stance on the bridge plan depends on whether they are currently renting a dock at Lakeside Park or whether they are docked at a commercial marina where rental fees are two or three times what the Woods charges.

He explained it this way: "If I were a boater paying $135 a year, I wouldn't vote to double the cost of my dock. But if I could benefit from a dock in the future I would vote for it. That's the problem facing the group that is trying to get support for (the bridge)."

Cottage offers diabetic class

Cottage Hospital will offer a series of classes for diabetics and those who care for them each Thursday and Friday at 2 p.m. in the Continued Care dining room. The program is open to the public at no charge.

Diet classes for the diabetic are held on Thursday afternoons. Hospital dietitians discuss the patient's responsibility in controlling diabetes, the diabetic exchange list, and suggestions on selecting meals.

On Fridays, members of the nursing staff discuss topics like insulin administration, urine testing, foot care, and hyper- and hypoglycemia.

Getting ready for London tour

Registration for Grosse Pointe War Memorial's one week educational tour of London and British theater is rapidly filling up.

The tour by British Airways with a tour of London and a week stay at the London Waldorf will take place the first week of November.

All trip participants and those still considering going should attend a pre-trip meeting Monday evening Sept. 15 at 8 p.m. to learn details, pick up luggage tags and booklets, see films and choose optional tours.

Friends of Polish Art commission sculpture

Friends of Polish Art, a Detroit-based affiliate of the American Council of Polish Cultural Clubs, donated a specially commissioned bust of Polish composer Karol Szymanowski to Interlochen Center for the Arts. The stainless steel sculpture was installed in the Grand Traverse Performing Arts Center's Corson Auditorium of the Interlochen complex on Aug. 2.

Sculptured by Polish artist Marian Owczarski, artist-in-residence at St. Mary's College, Orchard Lake, the bust arrived at Interlochen on Saturday. The bust on a 1500-pound granite base was installed in one of the side aisles of the auditorium. The inscribed base was contributed by Detroiters Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Nowicki.

One week later, on Aug. 9, a formal dedication and presentation of the bust to Interlochen took place in Corson Auditorium.

Interlochen president Roger E. Jacobi opened the ceremony with an introduction, saying: "The Friends of Polish Art and Interlochen love affair began in the summer of 1976 when the group made its first visit to our National Music Camp (NMC)." He acknowledged the presence of the Presidents Club of Interlochen and its weekend guest speaker Congressman John Brademas, of Indiana, and his wife Mary Ellen.

He introduced Grosse Pointe Henrietta S. Zukowski, chairperson of the project.

"We wanted to express our appreciation of the work being done at the Camp and leave some mark to show that we were there," she said. "Lester Wegrzecki, our co-chairperson, suggested the Karol Szymanowski bust as an appropriate gift. Plans were approved by Mr. Jacobi and the bust was commissioned."

In turn, Mrs. Zukowski called upon Maria Wegrzecki, FPA president, who elaborated on the life of Szymanowski. "As a youngster," she said, "I vividly remember hearing his Harnasie Ballet performed in Warsaw. I was particularly impressed by the music and the colorful regional costumes worn by the dancers."

Mrs. Wegrzecki concluded by saying, "Long live the glory of Szymanowski, the composer." President Jacobi accepted the bust and introduced sculptor Owczarski, who had just returned from Poland in time for the dedication.

A special lecture-demonstration of Szymanowski's music was presented by NMC piano and composition teacher Andrzej Dutkiewicz. He played Szymanowski's 12 Etudes, Op. 33. That same evening, the World Youth Symphony Orchestra (WYSO), with A. Clyde Roller conducting, performed excerpts from Szymanowski's ballet "Harnasie" prior to the WYSO's concert with the winners of Interlochen's annual NMC concerto competition. It was through the efforts of Edward J. Downing, NMC director, and Mrs. Zukowski that the orchestra score was obtained and played.

Composer Karol Szymanowski was born on his parents' estate, Tymoszwka, in the Ukraine on October 6, 1882. His early works were subjective, dramatic and troubled. His rhythms were feverish and his moods tragic

During World War I, he visited Russia. It was in Moscow that he came under the influence of Debussy, who became his second favorite composer next to Chopin. Under Debussy's influence, Szymanowski's style became less subjective and more descriptive, with a lighter mood.

After the Russian Revolution, Szymanowski left Russia, arriving in Warsaw in 1920. On a visit to the Polish Tatras, he fell under the influence of the music and dances of the mountain folk. This folk tradition element was to appear again and again in his later works including the ballet "Harnasie" composed in 1928.

One year later Szymanowski suffered a breakdown. He was sent to a tuberculosis sanatorium in Davos. Due to his illness, he was forced to resign from his post as director of Warsaw State Conservatory which he had accepted in 1926.

In 1933 the composer played his "Symphonie Concertante" with the Warsaw Philharmonic. The performance was a triumph for Szymanowski and his work.

Szymanowski traveled to Paris in 1936 to attend the first performance of his ballet "Harnasie" at the Opera. His health again began to fail and he was taken to a sanatorium in Lausanne. On Easter Sunday, March 28, 1937, Szymanowski died of tuberculosis.

He was extremely interested in Eastern and archaic musical motifs and this emerges in his second and third Symphonies. Last May Antal Dorati and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra presented these two symphonies and recorded them a week later.

Szymanowski served as a pivot for contemporary Polish composers, and has thus been justifiably called the father of contemporary Polish music.

An urgent message to Michigan's 5.1 million Blue Cross/Blue Shield subscribers.

The Executive Committee of your Blue Cross/Blue Shield Board of Directors unanimously adopted the following resolution because of its deep concern that pending legislation, if approved unchanged, will severely cripple our ability to serve our customers and subscribers.

The resolution was sent to the Governor, Attorney General and leaders of the Senate and House of Representatives, urging them to help us protect your interests.

We hope you will examine this resolution thoughtfully. The subject matter is of enormous significance.

The resolution reads:

RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF BLUE CROSS AND BLUE SHIELD OF MICHIGAN'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The 5.1 million subscribers of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan (BCBSM) face the worst crisis in the 41-year history of the corporation.

BCBSM is experiencing alarming underwriting losses and plunging reserves caused by inadequate rates and Michigan's severe economic recession. Subscriber security is threatened by pending legislation that may soon freeze into law burdens even greater than those imposed by a failing economy... burdens which will diminish this corporation's ability to serve its customers and subscribers.

The members of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors appeal for your help to prevent further damage to a health care delivery system on which 53.7 percent of the state's population depends.

Since its founding, Blue Cross and Blue Shield has pledged to its subscribers the highest quality health care coverage for the lowest possible cost, and cost containment leadership and innovative approaches to improve the design, delivery and quality of health care.

That commitment is now in jeopardy.

There are provisions in H.B. 4555 and the Senate Substitute that, if adopted, will unnecessarily increase our regulatory burden, erode financial stability, hamper efficient Board operations, add millions of dollars to the costs our subscribers must pay, and impair our ability to offer benefit packages to subscribers in competition with large commercial insurers headquartered outside Michigan.

We urge you to recognize the danger of over-regulation because we know its consequences firsthand. For two and a half years we were denied a rate hearing by aggressive intervenors, thus forcing us to withdraw our filing and seek redress through the courts. Yet proposals in one Bill would perpetuate such delays by mandating a rate approval process open to intervention by any group, whether enrolled in our programs or not.

Inadequate rates, long tolerated, compound losses and lead only to instability for our 5.1 million subscribers. Instead of gradual adjustments for inflation, our customers and subscribers can again face sudden and large increases when new rates are approved after long delays.

The Bills now before the legislature contain many other provisions ominous to BCBSM's future, and consequently ominous to its subscribers.

We are concerned at the extent to which government would intrude into the policy-making functions of our Board and operations of our company at a time when American public policy has shifted decisively toward deregulation.

Both Bills establish by law the unprecedented doctrine of political appointments to the Board of a private corporation. Both Bills, though in contradictory formulas, mandate proportional representation. The Board itself is left with no discretion to adjust membership in light of changing business environment or the needs of its subscribers.

Both Bills require roll call votes on substantive issues, listing of the names in the minutes, and distribution of raw draft minutes to anyone on request—a prescription for intimidation, harassment and external pressure on directors, especially with respect to such unpopular issues as cost containment.

While advocating stringent cost containment measures, the Bills, as amended, mandate benefits that will add upwards of $30 million a year in costs to our subscribers, and in some cases contravene collective bargaining agreements.

The requirement that we pay a psychologist for the same service provided by a physician adds a new BCBSM provider class—and would raise the cost to our subscribers by $20 million annually.

The provision that we pay for care in state mental facilities adds an estimated $10 million to our subscriber cost. Moreover, we would have no control over performance standards and rules.

The Bills would also force us to contract with free-standing surgical facilities without knowing whether they, in fact, save money or add to the total health care bill.

Many hundreds of thousands of dollars could be added to our subscribers' bills by the mandate that we offer prosthetic appliance benefits which are now optional.

Clearly, the "savings" envisioned by this legislation would be diminished by these costly provisions.

The health care benefit market in Michigan is extremely competitive.

Crippling our efforts to meet the aggressive challenge of large commercial insurers is a double standard of regulation. We are not granted the same freedom as our competitors to design benefits and implement appropriate rates.

Just when we face the strongest competitive pressure in our history, the proposed bills would explicitly forbid us to market the kind of health-life-disability benefit "packages" now being demanded by many of our customers, who speak for millions of our group subscribers.

Equally important, such provisions would deprive Michigan employers of Blue Cross and Blue Shield as a source of such benefits, regardless of the efficiencies and service advantages we can offer their employees.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan has never opposed reasonable and equitable regulation. But the Bills now before the legislature go far beyond the "reasonable" and "equitable" philosophy. In fact, neutral observers in the legislature and the media, as well as reputable and independent consultants whose views are on record, have concluded that some sections are punitive, and reflect pressures unrelated to the issues.

The fundamental issue is whether Blue Cross and Blue Shield survives as an efficient and effective system so vital to the health care of the citizens of Michigan. This, in turn, directly impacts the jobs of 5,500 BCBSM employees in Michigan and potentially has adverse ramifications on other Michigan jobs both within and without the health care field.

An impotent BCBSM...its policy distorted by disruptive influence, its market share greatly reduced, its capacity to control costs undermined by fiscal instability...would ill serve Michigan's labor and business communities, and the hundreds of thousands of individual subscribers who have depended on this company for 41 years to provide the best quality health care at the lowest cost.

We urgently ask your consideration, support and influence to reject attempts to further weaken a Blue Cross and Blue Shield already burdened by inequitable regulation, underwriting losses and Michigan's economic recession.

We stand ready to work cooperatively with the House-Senate Conference Committee. We believe that our knowledge and experience coupled with the wisdom of responsible political leadership can build a health care system all of us want: effective, efficient and managed in the best interest of those we serve.

You have been fully apprised by BCBSM management during the past year and a half of its concerns with the pending legislation, and the Executive Committee fully concurs with those management efforts.

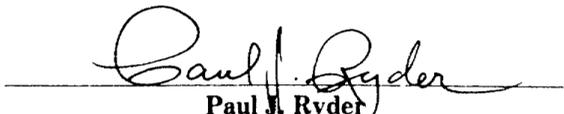

Therefore, be it—

RESOLVED That we, the undersigned members of the Executive Committee of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, strongly support this appeal to the executive and legislative leadership of Michigan.

Prime Time

For Senior Citizens

By Marian Trainor

"I can't die. How can I die? I'm booked." So quipped George Burns. At 80, he is indeed "booked." Movies, television, a hit record attest to this.

As they say in show business, his would be a difficult act to follow, but gerontologists are coming to the conclusion, barring ill health, both mental and physical activity is not only good for older people, it can prolong life.

There are many examples that prove this theory.

Consider: Dr. Paul Bragg, a practicing nutritionist. He is 96. He opened the first health food store in the United States. Among his patients were Mahatma Gandhi, Bernard Macfadden, J. C. Penney, Gloria Swanson, Conrad Hilton, Theodore Roosevelt; all examples of young, old people.

Chagall: At 90, he continued to work. "Even when I'm not working," he said, tapping his temple, "I'm working."

The Marc Chagall Biblical Message National Museum in Nice is filled with his work.

In May, 1977, a series of stained-glass windows for The Chicago Art Institute which he had done in collaboration with Charles Marq, was installed. His collaborator said of him: "He has endless energy and is always enthusiastic like a child."

In painting Chagall has lots of company. Matisse, Picasso, John Benton, Gainsborough, Michelangelo, Da Vinci all worked at their art in their late years.

Many writers worked until their death. P. G. Wodehouse wrote one of his most comic novels the year of his death at 93. Somerset Maugham wrote when he was 92. In their eighties Carl Sandburg, Robert Frost, Archibald MacLeish all continued to publish poetry.

Turning to an example of physical activity, one of the stars of the 1975 Senior Olympics held in California was Mrs. Edith Weaver. She was 85.

What was so remarkable about her feat was that in 1972 she suffered from congestive heart failure, high blood pressure, angina and arthritis.

This indomitable great-grandmother, instead of giving up, took a regenerative course of action. By means of a carefully planned diet and controlled exercise, she steadily and gradually regained her capabilities and even surpassed them. She proved that not only can older people remain active but that the aging process is reversible.

The classic example of activity in business circles is Colonel Harlan Sanders, who retired at the age of 65, took his first Social Security check, which was for $105, and started his Kentucky Fried Chicken business which he sold for $4,000,000 at the age of 73.

In South Norwalk, Conn., there is a company called Fertl, Inc. The president, Hoyt Catlin, is 87. Most of his employees are in their sixties. One, Emma Wilkins, is 83. Fertl Inc. makes little cubes made of potting soil, moisture retainers and nutrients. The Company grossed six hundred thousand last year.

A survey found that Fertl is one of the most efficient small businesses in the state. It has practically zero absentee rate and practically no employee turnover.

On the political front, there is Miss Maggie Kuhn of Philadelphia. At 72, Maggie organized the Gray Panthers. She travels across the country, averaging two lectures a day, 300 days a year. She fights the mythic stereotypes of age. "I don't know why people believe them, and younger people are taught to accept them," she said.

"We act on the discovery of gerontologists," she went on, "that the harder we work, the more likely we are to stay alive and well. Total rest is almost a sure way to being subject to physical and mental degeneration."

In addition to the Gray Panthers, there are at present 300 organizations that concern themselves with the problems of aging. Legislatures are listening and they should. The over 60 group is potentially the most powerful in the land because it has the highest voting percentage of any bloc. In 1976, only 52 percent of all those eligible voted. Only 28 percent of those under 30 voted. 78 percent of older citizens voted.

There are some older citizens who, if they could, would return to work either at their former jobs from which they were forced to retire or at some other type of work. For those who would like to try something different, there should be free training for new skills or if an older person just wants to study for the joy of learning, there should be free tuition. Gerontologists agree that there is no reason why an older person cannot acquire new knowledge and new skills. Locally, the Wayne County Community College offers free tuition to those over 60. There is a branch at the old Austin High on East Warren.

Learn how to make a motion

Knowledge of Parliamentary Procedure is especially helpful now at election time and important to anyone involved in board and committee work.

To accommodate this need, Grosse Pointe War Memorial is repeating its course on "Parliamentary Procedure" taught by Mrs. John (Daisy) Griffin on Mondays, Sept. 15 to Oct. 20, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. for a fee of $20.

Roberts Rules of Order are covered completely and the strategy of getting through a motion is stressed. One should in this course learn all that is necessary either to run a meeting or participate actively.

First Society holds Zoo benefit

The Children's Zoo on Belle Isle will be this year's recipient of funds raised by the Sept. 7 benefit dance held by the First Society of Detroit at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

The First Society of Detroit is an organization of about 1,300 members either residing or employed in the Detroit area. All are single and at least 21 years old. The Society's four benefits per year raise proceeds which go to selected charities oriented toward children.

Since its formation in 1963, the First Society of Detroit has contributed more than $120,000 to charities including the Reyes Syndrome Study Center, the Detroit Science Center, the Detroit Zoological Society, Focus Hope, and the Police Athletic League.

Pointers who serve on the First Society's Executive Committee include Linda Eugenio, Tom Howe, and Mark Valente.

Those single persons between the ages of 21 and 35 who are interested in joining the First Society of Detroit can write to 1185 Whitier, Grosse Pointe, Michigan 48230.

Brush up on your bridge at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial where Frank Welchenbach gives courses in both beginning and refresher bridge.

Mr. Welchenbach was a teacher with the Grosse Pointe Board of Education for many years and is a former principal of Trombly School. He is extremely active in Metro Detroit Bridge circles and has taught bridge for the Grosse Pointe Board of Education.

The fee is $21 for 10 lessons. Refresher bridge is scheduled Monday evenings, Sept. 15 to Dec. 1 from 8 to 10 p.m. There is one hour of instruction followed by one hour of play.

Beginning bridge stresses the Goren System of Contract Bridge. It is taught Thursday, Sept. 18 to Dec. 4 from 8 to 10 p.m.

Woods home is ransacked

A Grosse Pointe Woods home on Severn was ransacked during the weekend while a neighbor was tending the home.

The neighbor told police that he picked up mail from the house about 9 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 16. He returned the next day about 2:55 p.m. to find the home broken into by someone who tore away a door screen and broke the inside door window to gain entry.

Bedrooms and a dining room cabinet were ransacked and a TV set and microwave oven were reported missing, police said.

gist working in behavioral studies at the Jackson Laboratory in Bar Harbor, Maine, on the basis of experimental evidence says:

"Age itself is not detrimental to learning ability or I.Q. The key factor is the health of the individual."

Part of the New York School for Social Research in New York City is the Institute for Retired Professionals. It is a program in which retired doctors, dentists, business executives, bankers, journalists, teachers and lawyers teach and learn.

The question of how an individual spends his or her later years is a very personal one. There are those who look forward to release from jobs and responsibility and truly enjoy the leisure of pursuing hobbies, visiting, traveling and just taking it easy.

But for those who are forced into retirement and who would like to continue working or go to school at any level, it is reassuring to know that age in itself is no barrier to their goal.

The real problem is the opportunities for fulfilling those goals.

Hopefully, working as individuals and as groups, progress can be made so that choices will be available.

Old Age is ready to undertake tasks that youth shirked because they would take too long — Somerset Maugham.

Volunteers needed for M.D. telethon

Volunteers are urgently needed from Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Washtenaw Counties plus Windsor, Ontario to answer telephones and record pledges during the 1980 Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy.

The Telethon, telecast for the sixth straight year by WJBK-TV 2, will begin at 8:30 p.m., Sunday, Aug. 31 and will continue until 6:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 1.

Over 1,000 volunteers at least 18 years of age are needed. They will be asked to report to the Jerry Lewis Telephone Center nearest their homes for a five-hour shift of their choice.

Telephone Centers are located throughout the metropolitan area. There will be more than 900 phones in operation during the entire telecast.

Those wishing to help at any area Telephone Center, either on the phones or as clerical helpers, may contact their nearest Muscular Dystrophy office to register. Those numbers are: North area, 399-8800, East area, 779-7860 and West area, 381-3838.

Channel 2 will broadcast the Telethon from its Southfield studios. Local cut-ins will appear every hour at fifteen minutes past the hour.

Joe Glover, who is the Honorary Chairman of the Southeastern Michigan Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association for the fourth consecutive year, will be the local host.

He will be accompanied by other members of TV-2, plus local celebrities from the media, sports, educational, civic and religious groups.

All proceeds from the Telethon go to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association, which provides diagnosis, clinical treatment, therapy, wheelchairs, braces and other services free of charge to M.D. patients.

Funds raised also support vital medical research into Muscular Dystrophy and related neuromuscular diseases.

Landscape club needs volunteers

Grosse Pointe Park's Windmill Pointe Park has a bright new look this year thanks to the Landscape Committee of the Grosse Pointe Park Beautification Commission.

Committee members Susan Callahan, Marge and Dick Cameron, Carolyn Dettmer, and John and Gail Urso, planned and coordinated the landscaping project, which added trees, shrubs and flowers at key spots in the park.

Meldrum and Smith Nursery Sales, 17750 Mack Avenue, was awarded the contract by the Grosse Pointe City Council to implement the planting design agreed upon by the Landscape Committee.

"Larry Smith, of Meldrum and Smith, was extremely helpful in working with us to find the most attractive, hardy, low-maintenance plantings available," said Ms. Callahan of the Landscape Committee. "And Pat Adams, also of Meldrum and Smith, gave us some very good suggestions concerning which annuals to select."

Gail Urso, Chairman of the Landscape Committee, emphasized the role of volunteers in the project. "Meldrum and Smith planted the trees and shrubs," she explained, "but volunteers moved the old bushes, conditioned the soil, planted the flowers, spread the wood chips, and they will continue to maintain the gardens this summer."

Anyone interested in working with the Landscape Committee on this or future projects should contact Ms. Urso at 331-7368 or Ms. Callahan at 823-3230.

Sculpture

Sculptor Marian Owczarski's work has been prized since 1956 when he first attracted notice for his post-war restorations in Poland's damaged churches. Owczarski's sculptures have found a worldwide audience, in Paris, Milan, Cologne, Moscow, Toronto and 30 other art centers in 11 countries. His method is to cut, mold, and weld the stainless steel, literally drawing with fire to achieve expression, color and texture. Currently, he is also the director of the campus Galeria at St. Mary's College.

Interlochen is a year-round operation. The National Music Camp is the summer program (since 1962) and the Interlochen Arts Academy (since 1962) is the winter program. The Center, founded by the late Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, is one of America's most important educational institutions offering musical and artistic training to the youth of the world. This summer, again, 2500 students attended.

Irene Olejnik Moran welcomed FHA members to Interlochen and acted as the weekend's hostess.

Other Grosse Pointers attending the ceremony were Christine Biesiek, Mr. and Mrs. Roman V. Ceglowski, Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Chrypiński, Robert Ramsey, Dr. and Mrs. Roger VanBever and Dr. and Mrs. John Zukowski.

Miss Gertrude Ida Thomas

Services for Miss Thomas, 91, of the Park were held on Saturday, Aug. 23, in St. Columba Episcopal Church. She died on Thursday, Aug. 21, in the Arnold Nursing Home in Southfield. Born in Detroit in 1889, she graduated from old Eastern High School and the Thomas Normal Training School. Throughout her life she continued her studies at the University of Minnesota, where she spent 41 years as a dietetics professor and director of nutrition in the school of medical sciences. From 1910 to 1914 she was a pioneer in the field of dietetics as a dietitian at New Haven Connecticut Hospital. In 1918 she organized and established the Minnesota Dietetic Association and was its first chairman. In 1939, she presented the first postgraduate course for dietitians at the university.

Miss Thomas is the author of "The Dietary of Health and Disease," "The Dietary of Anabel Lee," "Foods of Our Forefathers," "A History of Foods" and many medical and dietary journals.

She was an active member of the Episcopal Church, the American Red Cross, Women's Civic Club, American Dietetic Association, Minnesota Dietetic Association, League of Woman Voters and numerous other organizations.

It's hot for thieves, too

According to witnesses, a bare-chested thief broke into a Park home two weeks ago and took over $4,000 in items.

Police said a neighbor spotted a black curly-haired man wearing only levis enter the home on Trombley through a side door between 2 and 3 p.m. on Aug. 11.

A TV set, sterling silver, cash and jewelry were later reported missing by the owner.

The neighbor told police she didn't call police right away because she didn't suspect anything wrong when the young man first entered the home.

Bridge class schedule set

A complete schedule of bridge classes has been planned for the fall term by the Grosse Pointe School's Department of Continuing Education beginning the week of Sept. 22.

Beginning classes will stress the fundamentals of basic point bidding, scoring and play. Intermediate classes are for the player with some knowledge of the game. This level reviews the basics and introduces their exceptions.

Advanced classes are for players wanting to expand their skills through popular conversions, proper defenses and advanced playing.

A fourth class, rubber, is a new concept in bridge. Play is on a non-competitive basis with assistance given if necessary. The complete schedule for the 10 week class is as follows:

Mondays: Beginners at 1 to 3 p.m. and rubber from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m.

Tuesdays: Intermediate at 1 to 3 p.m. and beginners from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m.

Wednesdays: Rubber from 1 to 3 p.m. and Intermediate at 7:45 to 9:45 p.m.

Thursdays: Advanced from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m.

Classes will be taught by Pauline Bontekoe in room B-4 of Parcels Middle School, 20600 Mack avenue. The course is $26, payable to Continuing Education, 260 Chalfonte, in the Farms.

Farms updates its computer

The Farms city council voted at its Aug. 18 regular meeting to approve the purchase of equipment necessary to upgrade the city's computer system.

The council authorized an expenditure of $2,805 to increase the internal storage capacity of the system by more than 100 percent. The computer presently handles water billing, Farms controller Carrol Lock said future additions to the system would be the city payroll, general accounting and parking violations.

City manager Andrew Bremer told the council the improvements would make the computer "much more capable than it presently is."

GP house tour set for Sept 28

A fabulous tour of five Grosse Pointe homes has been organized by the Detroit Chapter of the American Institute of Architects for Sunday, Sept. 28.

The tour will be open to the public and will begin at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial (the Alger House), at 35 Lakeshore Road, at noon with shuttle buses providing transportation to all five locations.

Five unique homes are included in this house tour. The Stratton home offers a collaboration between potter and architect by the founders of Pewabic Pottery. The Rosetti home was designed by architect Gino Rosetti. A stately lakefront house by George Mason, a modern design by Alden Dow and a majestic creation by Hugh Keyes also will be shown.

Parking and refreshments will be available at the War Memorial.

Tickets are $8 per person, including shuttle bus and may be obtained by mail by sending a check payable to the Detroit Chapter, AIA, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Tour hours are noon until 5 p.m. There will be no refunds.

University courses meet at South High, library

University level, non-credit courses in collecting American literature, music and art of the twentieth century, economics in the eighties, and the history of the American musical theater will take place in Grosse Pointe this fall co-sponsored by University Courses in Adult Education (WSU/UM) and the Grosse Pointe Public Schools.

"Show Biz — the History of the American Musical Theater" is taught by Shirl Harris, who wrote and produced "Shirl Harris' Showtime" over WQRS. "Show Biz" will meet at Grosse Pointe South High Wednesdays from 7:30 to 9 p.m., Sept. 24 through Nov. 12. The fee is $48 or $26 for senior citizens and each additional family member.

"The Collectors" brings to Grosse Pointe six connoisseurs to familiarize committed and would-be collectors with the principles, pleasures and profits of collecting.

Presenters are Dewey DuCharme, photography, Lester Arwin, visual arts, James Babcock, books and manuscripts, H. George Bickelmann, antiques, Roger Koerber, stamps, and Robert Jacobson, coins.

The sessions are chaired by Dewey DuCharme of the Center for Creative Studies. The class will meet at South High School on Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m. from Sept. 24 to Oct. 29. The fee is $45 or $26 for senior citizens and each additional family member.

Two day-time courses meet at the Grosse Pointe Central Library this fall. Professor David Levey, formerly Associate Economics Editor of "Business Week Magazine," will offer his perspective as an economist and social scientist on the causes and consequences of the current worldwide economic crisis.

The class will meet on Mondays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Oct. 13, 20, Nov. 10, 17, 24, and Dec. 8. The fee is $45 or $26 for senior citizens and each additional family member.

Dr. Eugenie Beall and Ruth Kaiser, the creator of "Meet the Masters," join forces to present "The American Adam," a course in twentieth century literature, music and art.

They will explore how twentieth century artists have dealt with the traditional American self-perception as the new Adam, fashioning a society that is "the last, best hope of earth."

Artists to be studied include William Faulkner, Robert Frost, Archibald MacLeish, Roy Harris, Aaron Copeland, Charles Ives, Georgia O'Keefe and Ben Shahn. The class will meet on Thursdays from 1 to 3 p.m., Sept. 25 through Dec. 4 at the Central Library. Fees are $58 or $31 for senior citizens and each additional family member.

Now in its third year as part of the Grosse Pointe public schools continuing education program, UCAE offers over 100 courses in metropolitan Detroit. For additional information, call Dr. Beall, 577-4665. Register with UCAE or the Grosse Pointe Continuing Education office, 343-2178.

Police recipe for peace

A Grosse Pointe Woods resident on Stanhope complained to police last week that she has been awakened lately by the crowing of roosters.

The woman told police she thinks the barnyard call comes from the next block. After investigating, police found two roosters, three chickens and two ducks in a backyard on Allard.

The residents of the home were not in, so police left a note suggesting they have a poultry dinner.

St. Clare announces fall adult enrichment series

"Growth Through Life" is the theme of St. Clare of Montefalco Church's fall adult enrichment series, to be held at the church September through October.

The series opens with "Effective Communications for Parents," an eight-week course beginning Sept. 16. Kathy Bufton, family living agent for the MSU cooperative extension services department of Wayne County, will teach the 7 to 10 p.m. class.

"Adult Spirituality" is the second item in the fall lineup, which will run for four consecutive Wednesdays beginning Sept. 17. Held at 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., areas of discussion will include the praying adult, scripture calls: prayer—the adult response, spiritual response to crises of health and spirituality day by day.

Speakers for this series are Mary Finn, director of apostolic experience for Sacred Heart Seminary, Rev. Lawrence DuCharme, director of pastoral care at St. John Hospital, Rev. Kenneth Untener, rector of St. John Provincial Seminary and Rev. Kevin Britt, spiritual director of Sacred Heart Seminary.

Third in the series is a "Pre-Retirement Seminary" conducted by Mary Jane Kruse, coordinator in adult education for Detroit public schools. Beginning Sept. 25, the course will run for six consecutive Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Registration for any of the course offerings may be made by calling the St. Clare Religious Education Office at 884-2110 and asking for a registration form. Pre-registration is required for Effective Communication for Parents and the pre-retirement seminar.

Additional course offerings include adult inquiry classes, and scripture discussion groups. For more information in these two areas, call 885-4960.

Schools get new signals

Farms police chief Robert Ferber's request for authorization of $8,000 to W.D. Gale Electrical Contractors to update the mid-block school crossings for St. Paul, Grosse Pointe Academy and Kerby schools was approved by the city council at its Aug. 18 meeting.

Chief Ferber said he requested the money for the project in order to comply with the Michigan manual of uniform traffic control devices for the upcoming school year.

At present there is a single overhead traffic signal at each location. Gale will install two new overhead signals, two new "walk and don't walk" traffic signals with push buttons and one controller at each of the crossings.

Ferber recommended Gale on the basis of its low-bid to update the city's traffic signal system as well as its low-price quotation to provide emergency repair service.

The $8,000 will come out of the 1980-81 police department budget allocation.

Credit for continuing education will be given by Detroit Bible College upon completion of the course. One can enroll through Sept. 18.

Accountants discuss the tax aspect of alimony

When you are obtaining a divorce one of the last considerations you think about is filing a tax return. However, according to The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants, you should keep taxes in mind.

For alimony to be tax deductible by the person paying it and taxable income for the person receiving it, the alimony must be required by a decree of divorce, legal separation, a written separation agreement or by a decree of support and must be paid after the decree takes effect. Alimony must be paid periodically to qualify as a federal tax deduction for the payee.

If you give your spouse a lump sum settlement, you can't deduct it. Though, if alimony payments are overdue and you make back payments in a lump sum, this can be deducted, say CPAs.

Child support payments are not deductible on federal income tax returns and are not considered taxable income for your spouse. For example, paying $100 in alimony and $150 as child support only the $100 is deductible by you. However, if your divorce or separation agreement doesn't specify what amount is to be used as child support, the entire payment is usually considered as alimony.

By filing under head of household status and having custody of the children, CPAs say, you will save money on your federal return. To qualify, your home must be the principal residence for your children for a full tax year and more than half the cost of maintaining the household must be paid by you.

You can be considered the head of household even if your spouse claims the children as dependents on his or her tax return.

To claim your child as a dependent and take a federal tax deduction you must qualify as custodial parent.

Now's the time to work on the lawn

Fall, not spring, is the best time to prepare for a beautiful lawn next summer, according to the Professional Lawn Care Association of America.

It's only an old wives' tale that spring is the most important time for lawn care. Most people think of spring as the time for planting and fertilizing and fall as the time for the lawn to rest. That's true for flower and vegetable gardens, but not for lawns.

September is the best month to reseed an existing lawn or start a new one with cool season grasses (bluegrasses and fescues). Unlike spring planting, which permits only a month or two of good growing conditions before hot, dry weather arrives, fall will allow several months of ideal plant development weather before the stresses of summer.

Lawn care professionals, like everyone else, appreciate the topside appearance of a lawn, but they know that the lawn's root system is the key to success. The experts apply about two thirds of a lawn's annual nutritional requirements during fall and winter months, and only one third the rest of the year. Knowing not only how but when to maximize root development is the single most important factor in establishing and maintaining high quality lawns.

Professionals also know that a lawn is living and active in cold weather months. Considerable research in the last 10 years has demonstrated clearly that root system development occurs readily in the winter. However, adequate amounts of nitrogen, phosphorous and potassium must be present in the soil for root systems to develop correctly. December, January and February are all good months to fertilize. December and January are ideal.

Fall is an excellent time for weed control. In order for broadleaf weeds to be effectively controlled, they must be growing actively and October or November provide the best weed growing conditions. These two months are the best for applying herbicide to eradicate broadleaf weeds. (It should be noted, however, that annual grassy weeds such as crabgrass are most easily controlled with pre-emergent herbicides applied in the spring.)

MSU expects record class

A record enrollment of about 45,000 is expected this fall on the Michigan State University campus, reports Dr. Ira Polley, assistant provost for admissions and records.

The previous high was set last year with 44,756. This fall's enrollment is expected to include 7,100 first-time freshmen, one of the largest such classes in the university's history.

Polley cited a number of reasons why Michigan State, unlike some other universities, is not experiencing a declining number of students. He pointed out that MSU is a well-established institution with a wide variety of programs, many of which are in areas that offer outstanding employment opportunities to college graduates.

Along with that, he adds, the MSU Placement Service has a reputation for finding jobs for the graduates as well as for the students who need to work while on campus.

He said that the extensive residence hall system and the beauty of the campus itself are attractions as well.

Fall term registration is Sept. 22, 23 and 24 and classes begin Sept. 25.

Fall sign-up at ballet school

Mary Ellen Cooper, director of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's School of Ballet for the past two years, will register new students for her Corps de Ballet classes on Friday afternoon Sept. 13 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Classes are scheduled weekdays after regular school and on Saturdays. Young people should be at least five years old to enroll. Students are placed in small classes according to age and ability and all students studying with Miss Cooper for the first time must be interviewed by her.

Miss Cooper teaches the Checchetti method or traditional Italian Ballet. She is the president of the International Board of Checchetti Teachers. A graduate of the Royal Conservatory in Toronto, Miss Cooper is a protégée of Olga Fricker who founded the Center's Corps de Ballet when the Memorial Center was conceived.

In addition to young people classes, Miss Cooper teaches adult ballet classes Monday through Thursday nights at the Memorial plus 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Fridays. Registration for the adult classes should be made during the same time as registration for young people. Adult classes are scheduled for 11 weeks for $33; young people's classes are 12 weeks for $33. Both are payable at time of registration.

For more information, call the center at 881-7511.

CPAs suggest student budget

Everyone is using budgets today. Well, what about the college student going off to a university or college away from home?

The student will be at a greater advantage financially when a budget for the coming school year is planned in advance, according to the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.

This means sitting down and planning how you'll spend your money and determining a day-to-day budget as realistically as possible.

Consider how much is needed for food, bus fare or car maintenance, movies, laundry and toiletries. Then adjust the budget to reflect actual costs after arriving at school.

Deposit into a checking account all the money budgeted for the school term and draw from it to meet expenses.

A good idea, say CPAs, is to check whether the home town bank or the one at school exempts students from service charges and if the school offers check-cashing facilities. Another idea to consider is if you have an established record at your local bank you might want to continue doing business there. Also, if parents have their name on the account, they can directly put money into it should an emergency arise.

A savings account can be used for expenses paid later in the term such as next term's tuition, room and board, rent, fees and especially unforeseen expenses. This money will be earning interest while it is sitting in the bank.

While in college students should economize as much as possible on personal items and clothing, say CPAs. Locate the discount stores and shops in the area. Usually campus stores are higher priced than the ones slightly away from the center of campus. Save on clothes by buying those that are well-made, don't require dry cleaning and remain in style longer.

As a final suggestion, CPAs advise checking to be sure you are protected by a health insurance policy. If you are not covered on your parent's policy while a student, investigate the low-cost student plans that may be offered either by the school or the company carrying your parent's policy.

ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

Notice is hereby given that the Zoning Board of Appeals will meet in the City Hall, 90 Kerby Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, on at 8:00 p.m. to consider the appeal of Mrs. Virginia A. Haass of 84 Stephens Road from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Building Permit to install an air conditioning unit in the rear yard of her home located at the foregoing address. Such permit issuance was denied for reason that while the air conditioning unit is located in the rear yard it is not located between the extreme sides of the structure, thereby requiring a variance from the provisions of Article IV, Section 404 of the City's Zoning Ordinance.

The Hearing will be public. Interested property owners or residents are invited to attend.

Clerk competes for UF crown

Cottage Hospital's candidate for Miss Torch of 1980 is Karen Wolfe, 26, of Grosse Pointe Woods. Mrs. Wolfe, a billing clerk at Cottage, will reign during the hospital's annual fund raising drive in October and compete with other young women in the metropolitan area wide search for the official 1980 United Foundation spokeswoman.

A graduate of St. Ambrose High School, Mrs. Wolfe has been employed in the business office at Cottage for six years.

As the official representative of Cottage Hospital to the United Foundation, Mrs. Wolfe will participate in next year's UF luncheon. She is also scheduled to speak at the hospital's kick-off luncheon for the 1980 campaign in October.

Mrs. Wolfe was honored at the time of her selection with a bouquet of red roses and a recognition badge.

Cottage Hospital was recently awarded a bronze award for its employees' participation in the 1979 fund drive.

WSU computer courses set

Wayne State University will offer beginning and advanced computer courses for the first time at its St. Clair Shores center, 27900 Rockwood this fall.

In addition to the classes, students will have access to three computer terminals connecting them with the main campus.

Computer Science I is a four credit class which will run Wednesdays from 6:10 to 10 p.m. starting Sept. 3. This course surveys computer science and serves as an introduction to programming and problem solving.

Computers and Research, a three-credit graduate course, covers computing, data processing and computer utilization for research, computer languages, library programs and their use and job control language. Starting Sept. 4, the class will be held each Thursday from 6 to 9 p.m.

International cooking courses offered

Farms resident and acclaimed cooking teacher Charity Sucek will return to the Grosse Pointe school system's department of continuing education this fall with 10 cooking classes.

The classes will be held on Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. and are split into four series. In Series I, Mrs. Sucek will demonstrate recipes from the great restaurants of the world. It is scheduled as follows:

Sept. 23—The true Swedish smorgasbord.

Sept. 30—The Indian curry dinner.

Oct. 7—Menu-hopping in Rome.

Series II continues with the great restaurant theme, featuring the following:

Oct. 14—Chinese festival dinner.

Oct. 21—The cooking of classical Greece.

Oct. 28—Paella, gazpacho and Spanish omelets.

Series III focuses on the breads of the world, as Mrs. Sucek demonstrates.

Nov. 11—Breads and pastries.

Nov. 18—Pastry and desserts.

The last series will deal with Christmas foods, and is scheduled as follows:

Dec. 2—Traditional Viennese Christmas dinner.

Dec. 9—Michaelmas goose with onions and apple sauce.

Mrs. Sucek served as an apprentice under Fernand Point at the Restaurant de la Pyramide in Vienna, France. From there she went on to perfect her knowledge and gain experience in the art of cooking from master chefs in fine restaurants in Switzerland, China, Italy and Morocco.

All 10 classes will be held in room C-5 of Brownell Middle School, 260 Chal-fonte, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236. Those wishing to enroll for the classes as well as for others offered by continuing education may contact the department or call 343-2178.

Father "Jim" to perform at P&J

The Motor City Theater Organ Society will present Father James (Jim) Miller at the console of the two-manual, six-rank Wurliitzer organ at the Punch and Judy theater Sept. 7.

Father Miller is a Ukrainian orthodox priest with a music degree from Michigan State University. He studied jazz improvisation with Bill Erwin and teaches organ to 35 students.

The Organ Society is a non-profit corporation of more than 400 area residents. The organization's purpose is to preserve and restore the theater pipe organ, in its original setting whenever possible, and to promote interest in its music.

Father Miller's performance is part of the "First Sunday Mini-Concerts" held at the Punch, Future organists for the free 2 p.m. concerts will be Herb Head Oct. 5 and Tony O'Brian Nov. 2.

Know Your Schools

By Superintendent William Coats

"There is nothing to do." I wonder how many parents heard that complaint from their children this past summer when the novelty of not having to go to school wore off and the days got long and hot. Thanks to the efforts of our Public Library's Children's Service, many parents had a ready answer for that complaint, and that answer was the Summer Reading Club, the Summer Film Club, or both.

Both activities were publicized in late May when Jacqueline Michaels, chief of children's service, and her staff of three children's librarians visited parochial, private and public elementary schools to describe the programs to encourage participation. Their efforts brought significant results as over 1,200 youngsters joined the Reading Club and nearly the same number of children from ages three to 12 attended the film showings.

Reading Club participants worked from graded reading lists and those who completed at least 10 books between the first of June and mid-August received a certificate of achievement, with additional recognition for the number of books read beyond the minimum. The suggested reading lists contained at least 25 books chosen by the children's librarians and reading for pleasure was encouraged. The children obviously got a lot of pleasure from their reading as over one-half of them read more than the 10 books, with several finishing up to 40 books during the time period.

The Reading Club was fun right up to the end because the final activity was a costume party at each library location. At the parties the club readers, their friends and the librarians dressed-up in costumes and joined in old-fashioned games and other activities planned for the participants. The highlight was a puppet show performed by participants from a workshop which was sponsored with funds donated by the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Library.

The Summer Film Club began in early July and offered a schedule of free film showings for pre-school and school age children at each library location. The films were obtained from the Wayne County Library System, the Regional Film Library, and our own collection, and were a good summertime source of education and entertainment, especially on rainy days.

As the Library's summer programs ended, the staff encouraged youngsters to use the remaining time before school starts to visit the library and extend their vacations a little further through the "world of books."

Princess Grace to cite poetry

"Evocations," an evening of dramatic vignettes, poetry and prose, will be presented by Princess Grace of Monaco in the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium/theater on Saturday, Sept. 6, at 8 p.m.

Reserved seating tickets at $15 for main floor and loge, and $10 for the balcony, may be purchased exclusively through the Art Institute ticket office (832-2730). A $50 per person reception will be held for Princess Grace after the performance.

Appearing with Princess Grace will be English actor John Westbrook, celebrated throughout Europe for his Shakespearean interpretation, his symphonic narratives and his three seasons as featured dramatist with New York's prestigious Ars Musica.

Prior to her marriage to Monaco's Prince Rainier, the Princess, then Grace Kelly of Philadelphia, enjoyed considerable success on the legitimate stage, in films and on television. Sir Alfred Hitchcock, the late director, influenced and helped establish her Hollywood career.

Since 1976, Princess Grace has participated in rare performing arts presentations for the public. Celebrating the Bicentennial of the United States, she took part in the Edinburgh International Festival in a selection of American poetry.

In 1977, Princess Grace was featured in a recital program given as tribute to William Shakespeare at Stratford-Upon-Avon. Her readings of poetry, a collection entitled "Birds, Beasts and Flowers," toured several American cities in 1978.

Look at both sides of Mack Avenue to prevent blight

In these days of inflated construction costs, $100,000 won't go far to halt the spread of blight along Mack Avenue but if properly used that sum still could help finance demonstration projects to show how property appearances and values can be protected against the inroads of blight and decay.

Close cooperation among officials of the Woods, Park, City and Farms would make it possible to get the best possible dividends from the $100,000 in Wayne County Block Grants in which the four governments will share. If the different governments could propose different kinds of projects, for example, the Pointes would get much greater experience in programs that hold promise of protecting Mack Avenue from any further invasion of blight than if each community goes its own way with its own grant.

The block grants will not be the only investment made in the campaign, of course. The four Grosse Pointe city governments and private business interests which will benefit will share in the financing. And so, perhaps, will the city of Detroit and commercial members of the neighborhood group called North East Area Residents that are concerned about the decay of Mack Avenue businesses in Detroit.

The projects presumably will reflect some of the recommendations in the Mack Avenue blight prevention plan designed by Gerald Luedtke and Associates. They include such programs as parking improvements, facade or storefront renovation, sidewalk beautification, improved commercial signs and security improvements through improved lighting and other efforts.

THE PARK PROBABLY has more interest in attacking the problem than the other Pointes because blight already is on its doorstep on Mack Avenue. The Park plans to make an architectural study of storefronts from Maryland to Somerset and an engineering study to learn what it would cost to rework that strip of Mack in "Williamsburg" style. The Park has high hopes it will be able to get additional government funding for these and other projects.

Getting the cooperation of the city of Detroit and Detroit merchants on the west side of Mack is important because it wouldn't do much good to improve one side of the street and not the other. People tend to shop in areas, not on just one side of the street, and the greater the number of attractive shops and stores in an area the better for business.

Because blight does not respect city boundaries, all Grosse Pointers, whether they're in business or the professions or consumers, should be concerned about ways of protecting the appearance and values of property along Mack and the services the shops and professional people provide. The demonstration projects appear to be well worth the fairly modest investment being proposed for them.

Board should move on to the issues

Almost lost in the flap over the resignation of William Coats as Grosse Pointe superintendent of schools is serious consideration of at least three issues facing the school system in the year ahead.

Foremost among them will be the negotiation of a new contract with the teachers who are represented by Local One of the Michigan Education Association, which also has organized 16 other school districts in the Detroit metropolitan area.

The current contract will expire a year from now but if past experience in Grosse Pointe and elsewhere in Michigan is any guide, it will take some time and effort to reach an agreement that will satisfy the teachers, the administration, the board and the citizens of Grosse Pointe.

That means the school board has an obligation to begin its search for a successor to Coats as soon as possible. Ideally, a new superintendent ought to be chosen and perhaps even be on board by the time the settlement is reached.

BUT CONTRACT negotiations are not the only problem facing the board. A second major issue arises from the continuing decline in enrollment which means the board will have to consider the possible closing of one or more neighborhood schools.

That always is difficult because every Grosse Pointe family with school-age children wants school to be within easy walking distance. Everyone can sympathize with parents who get upset when the board has to close their particular neighborhood school.

Yet with enrollment declining the board must consider how it can deal with this problem with fairness and equity for all residents of the school district. It makes no sense to the tax-paying public to keep schools open when the classrooms are only half filled. In such circumstances, closing or consolidation is in order, despite parental protests.

A third major need is the review of the middle school program which became an issue in the school board election last spring. Many people feel the board ought to redefine the goals of the middle schools in the light of the new pressures that modern society puts on children and parents alike. They also are concerned about curriculum, amount of home work and such matters.

No one person ever is indispensable to any organization. Yet it is unfortunate that Coats will be leaving the Grosse Pointe System at a time the schools face so many immediate problems. His departure will put a heavy burden on the board and on his successor.

Yet the controversy and embarrassments of the recent public conflicts between the superintendent and some board members should be ended without further arguments. Coats has made clear his desire and intention to leave for the University of Michigan and the way ought to be eased for him to do so with a minimum of trouble for the school system, the board and the superintendent.

COATS HAS BEEN a strong leader. In part because of his candor, he has bruised some feelings, both among board members and teachers. But he will be difficult to replace. So the board ought to get on with solving that problem as quickly as possible in order to minimize any delay in dealing with the other important issues facing the schools.

Grosse Pointe has an excellent school system and the people want the board to maintain and build on that quality. In the long run, the board must put that objective ahead of all other considerations in the difficult year ahead.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William Peters

It isn't until you've read a book about the sport you are engaging in that you discover just how little you really know about what you are doing.

Take dominos for example. It starts out as a childhood game, but if you read the right book it escalates into a challenge to the player's logic and mathematical prowess.

THE DOMINO BOOK, (T. Nelson, 1974), by Frederick Berndt is such a book. Berndt describes the rules for over 175 versions of the game. All the games in the book have been written for the Double-Six domino set which accommodates up to five players.

Like dominos fishing can be a simple, uncomplicated sport or it can be a complicated, expensive pastime involving electronic depth indicators and other elaborate kinds of gear.

George X. Sand, a writer and avid fisherman, has produced an excellent book, THE COMPLETE BEGINNER'S GUIDE TO FISHING, Doubleday, 1974. The author's step-by-step explanation of such basics as the type of hooks to use, how to tie fishing knots, the difference between bait casting and fly rods serves the beginner well and is an excellent review for the experienced fisherman. As the author's home is in Florida, he has a great deal to say about salt water fishing.

A more active sport that continues to grow in this area is soccer. The English call soccer football and Rod Trimby, author of SOCCER TECHNIQUES AND TACTICS, (Arco Publishing Co., 1977), never uses the term soccer anywhere in his book. He writes for players who have mastered the basic skills of soccer and wish to improve their techniques and tactics, as well as for spectators who would like to have a more thorough understanding of the game.

Trimby's emphasis is on offensive play rather than defensive. Defensive play is viewed as a foundation for attack and a springboard to positive action. Some 67 explanatory diagrams are used along with some photographs to assist the reader. For a better understanding of football (soccer), this book is excellent.

Allen Fox, a former Davis Cup member and top-10 U.S. player now coach of the Pepperdine University tennis team, deals with the psychology of competition in his book, IF I'M THE BETTER PLAYER, WHY CAN'T I WIN? (Tennis Magazine Book, 1979).

His answer is, as you might expect, "You can win." Tennis players of all ages can get a psychological uplift by reading this book. Much of the book is comprised of anecdotes and incidents that have occurred on the pro tour. Of special interest to me was the chapter on the psychodynamics of doubles and the little discussed topic of how to adapt your tennis mentality to growing older.

In early 1977 Jim Fixx finished writing THE COMPLETE BOOK OF RUNNING. It became a phenomenal best seller and millions of Americans started to run. Jim Fixx's latest book is JIM FIXX'S SECOND BOOK OF RUNNING, (Random House, 1980).

An up-to-the-minute overview of the entire running experience, this book is full of freshly discovered information about how to get the most out of the world's fastest growing activity. Training tips for both beginner and marathoners are included, such as how to motivate yourself to keep running once you're started, how to know when you're running too much and what the best running doctors prescribe for your training. A selected bibliography of books about running provides the serious runner with sources of information about his special concern. Fixx concludes that almost everyone should be running for their own physical health and well being.

Diseased trees have 15 days

Grosse Pointe Woods residents who own diseased trees tagged by the city will have 15 days to remove the trees or face a $25 dollar fine under a new city law approved by the council Monday, Aug. 18.

Previously, tagged trees were removed by firms contracted by the city which then billed the tree owner for the cost. The new law makes tree removal arrangements the responsibility of the tree owner who will pay removal costs directly to the firm. Tree removal can cost between $450 and $1,200.

Trees on public property are still the responsibility of the city which will be subject to the same 15 day limit under the law.

The limit can be extended by the city manager if the tree owner has girdled the diseased tree and contracted for its removal. Extensions will not go beyond 30 days from the day the tree is tagged.

Violators of the 15 day limits are subject to a $25 fine that can be issued each day that a tree owner is in violation of the ordinance. Fines can not exceed $100.

John T. Davis doesn't agree with Jim Fixx. Davis states that the walker has found the peace that the runner still seeks. His book WALKING, (Andrews and McMeel, 1979), will appeal to those who no longer wish to endure the aches and pains of more strenuous sports.

After explaining the many beneficial effects of walking, the author includes a guide to walking in all 50 states.

Mark Twain was one author who didn't regard exercise as essential. He wrote, "I have never taken any exercise except sleeping and resting." However, statistics show what really happens if you exercise daily — you die healthier.

Blood donors are needed

The Red Cross Blood Mobile will be at St. Joan of Arc on Tuesday, Sept. 9, from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Volunteers between the ages of 17 and 66 who are in good health are urged to give blood as the Red Cross estimates that it must collect between 950 and 1,000 pints of blood each day to meet the needs of the five-county area it supports.

For further information, or to make an appointment, call 773-3587 or 777-3640.

From Another Pointe Of View

Comes Labor Day, and shortly thereafter comes the most sumptuous festivity of the year: the International Lawnday Fete presented annually by the Archives of American Art's Detroit Chapter, at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford Estate on Gaukler Point.

While the party's primary purpose, of course, is to raise funds for the Archives, a national organization associated with the Smithsonian Institution, it is also a "feast" day. Patrons of the Archives are given the opportunity to sample international gourmet foods created by 48 of the metropolitan area's foremost chefs, and contributed by their restaurants and clubs.

And it's also a fashion festival, for Jacobson's of Grosse Pointe is bringing Albert and Pearl Nipon to town to personally present their fall collection. Adding to everyone's enjoyment will be a complimentary bar and continuous dancing on the patio.

In past years, all the festivities were held outside the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House, on the estate's beautifully landscaped grounds.

This year, those who have admired the Cotswold manor only from the outside will be welcomed inside, for permission has been given for wines and cheeses to be served within the former home of the Edsel Ford family. The Lawnday Fete will run from 2 to 5:30 o'clock Sunday, September 7, and admission past the front gate will be by previously purchased tickets ONLY.

The tickets ($50 per person) are available by phoning the Archives office, 226-7544. They're tax deductible, and all proceeds will go to collect, catalog and microfilm original documents relating

Bonsai-Horticulture Show set Sept. 4 at War Memorial

As summer wanes and fall comes into focus, the Grosse Pointe Garden Center gears up for its annual Bonsai-Horticulture Show. It's scheduled this year for a week from today, Thursday, Sept. 4, and its title, "The Greenery," is a clue to one of the new features which will ornament the Grosse Pointe War Memorial: a plant and cutting sale in the breezeway outside Fries Auditorium, providing a delightful introduction to the displays inside.

Also this year, a new class of entry has been added. It's for exhibitors who have never before won an award for a flower show entry. These Novice Class arrangers are asked to use a favorite accessory or container, suitable for display in separate niches lined with natural burlap. Judging will be by the merit system, and a prize will be awarded.

The person to call for information about this new category is Mrs. H. Rollin Allen. Her number is 884-0800.

Displays and demonstrations of special interest are planned to attract attention at the show. For those interested in basketry, there'll be demonstrations of this craft. Bonsai enthusiasts will want to make plans to be at the show at 2:30 in the afternoon, when Dean Atkinson, first president of the Shibu Bonsai Society, long renowned as a teacher and expert in the field, will present a lecture-demonstration.

Delores Alexander will demonstrate the Japanese art of Ikebana at 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Alexander, who has studied with many experts in the Orient, is adept in this floral art.

All entries must be brought to the auditorium between 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. the day of the show. Horticulture exhibitors are limited to 10 different entries — but only one of each variety. Bonsai is limited to three entries.

Specimens should be identified and clearly labeled. Entry tags and containers will be supplied. Flowering specimens normally having foliage should be displayed this way.

Plants must have been in the care of the exhibitor for at least three months, and only hanging plants may be double-potted.

Prize ribbons for first, second, third and fourth places will be awarded in all categories. Further information may be obtained by calling, for Bonsai, Mrs. Monte Edden, 821-7360; for horticulture, Mrs. Carl Larsen, 343-0277.

Miss Johns bride of Thomas Turner

Patricia Johns wears her future mother-in-law's wedding gown; newlyweds vacation on Mackinac, will make their home in Kalamazoo

Patricia E. Johns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Johns, of Brys Drive, wore her future mother-in-law's wedding gown and her great-grandmother's cameo rimmed with seed pearls for her late July wedding to Thomas William Turner, of Kalamazoo.

The ivory satin gown was trimmed in beige Alencon lace and featured a long train which could be gathered into a tiered bustle.

The bride wore a half crown of ivory roses and baby's-breath. She carried a bouquet of ivory roses, prayer plant leaves and baby's-breath centered with a white orchid.

A reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club followed the 3 o'clock ceremony on Saturday, July 26, in the Grosse Pointe Academy Chapel. The Reverend Malcolm Carron presided.

Honor maid Kimerly Hoffmann wore a gown of cranberry georgette. Dressed in peach georgette were bridesmaids Anne Johns, of Boulder, Colo., a sister-in-law of the bride, Anne Mihelich, of Traverse City, and Mary Norwood, of Red Bank, N.J., a sister of the bridegroom.

Each attendant carried a bouquet of ivory roses, pink carnations and baby's-breath with ivy, and wore sprigs of baby's-breath in her hair.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Michael Turner, to act as best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Turner of Royal Oak. Ushers included Robert Bieszka, of Sutton Bay, Traverse City, Michael Porter and John Seltenreich III, both of Kalamazoo.

The mother of the bride chose a gown of dusty rose chiffon. The bridegroom's mother wore light green chiffon. Each wore a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Burton Jones, the bride's grandmother, chose a pleated dress of pink silk tied with an Ultrasuede belt. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

The newlyweds will make their home in Kalamazoo following a vacation trip to Mackinac Island.

Detroit Garden Center to hold craft classes

Craft classes for members will be held every week at the Detroit Garden Center, headquartered in the Moross House on East Jefferson Avenue, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. beginning Wednesday, Sept. 24.

DGC membership, at $5 per year, is open to everyone. Irene Losin chairs the craft class series; she notes that pre-registration is a must, as class size is limited. Fee for each class is $3, plus the cost of materials. Parking is free. Details may be obtained by calling the center, 259-6363, Tuesday through Thursday, between 9:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The first class, Sept. 24, will have participants creating a personal file, a carrier for papers, and learning to bookbind with fabric under the direction of Leona Lienu.

Cloisonne flowers are the topic for Oct. 1. Betty Haynes will demonstrate how to arrange miniature flowers of simulated cloisonne in a glass column "uncandle."

Dorothy Lewandowski's program on fashioning a quilted Christmas tree ornament, patchwork cane or bell, is scheduled for Oct. 8, and Grace Kabel's basket weaving class Oct. 15 will focus on how to create a splint bread basket with handle.

Marie Gasco will lead a group making corn husk roses on wall plaques Oct. 22. Fernande Biglin will demonstrate the creation of Capiz shell Christmas tree ornaments Oct. 29.

The series closes Nov. 5, with Alyce Sarver's class on apple head dolls, in which participants will learn to carve, dress and assemble these popular dolls.

'Empty nest' is exaggerated

When a child leaves home for college for the first time, it's more likely a normal transition than a trauma for parents says a Michigan State University specialist in family and child relationship.

"Although there may be some initial anxiety, most parent-child relationships progress normally to the separation stage, so it doesn't come as a shock to either side," says Dr. Lawrence B. Schiamberg, associate professor in the Department of Family and Child Sciences.

He says parents and children generally agree on the need for a mutual cutting of the apron strings. "The empty nest syndrome is not as widespread as we're often led to believe," he adds.

Although individual reactions vary, Schiamberg says parents may experience a very mild form of "grief" when their child moves away from home, especially if that child is their only or last one. "Parents face a change in their routine, a change in their relationship with their child, and there may be some sadness connected with the passing of that relationship," he explains.

Schiamberg says fathers are less likely to experience a sense of loss than mothers. "Traditionally, a woman's identity is more closely fused with child-rearing than a man's, but this is changing as more women enter the work force," he points out.

College students living away from home for the first time may notice a feeling of homesickness, especially during orientation, but "by registration, they're usually concentrating on other things," Schiamberg says.

He suggests parents not be overly concerned if they don't receive a letter or visit from their offspring during the first few months of the transition from home to dormitory or apartment.

"In the beginning, children may feel they have to prove their independence. They may not write home for three months, or if they phone their parents, they'll insist on paying for the call," he explains.

Parents have two choices. "They can view their child's quest for independence as a problem or what it actually is — part of the normal development process."

Schiamberg is currently finishing a book titled "Human Development: A Systems Perspective," due for publication in 1981.

St. Paul Lutheran Co-op Nursery names officers

Heading St. Paul Lutheran Co-operative Nursery School's board for the 1980-81 school year are Kathy Cetlinski, president; Jackie Fortier, vice-president; Patti Ritter, secretary; and Sue Davis, corresponding secretary.

Treasurer is Alan Ford. Health chairman is Anne Cleary. Membership chairman is Marcia Leadbetter.

Applications for the three-year-old session, which meets Tuesday and Thursday mornings, and the four-year-old session, meeting three mornings a week with a lunch program on Friday, are now being accepted.

The school offers a large variety of equipment, experienced teachers and a well-planned program. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Cleary, 881-6459, or Mrs. Leadbetter, 886-8968.

Fall wedding date is made

Plans for a late September wedding in Saint John's Lutheran Church, New Baltimore, are being made by Diane Marie Pocket Mordus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Pocket, of New Baltimore, and Dale George Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Tucker, of Wayburn Road.

Park Garden Club to meet

The Grosse Pointe Park Garden Club will gather for a meeting and luncheon at noon Monday, Sept. 8, at the Blairmoor Court home of Mrs. John Frakas, daughter of Vera Riethmiller. Co-hostess is Mrs. David H. Crowe.

Mrs. Elijah Poxson will present a program on United States naturalists Audubon and Wilson: one of a series on horticulture and conservation being studied by the club. Books used for the series have been selected from the Detroit Garden Center library.

Miss Snyder speaks vows

Lucinda Gall Snyder and David Alan Lagasse exchanged marriage vows Saturday, August 23, at a 2 o'clock ceremony in Christ Episcopal Church, Grosse Pointe.

The Reverend Robert Wolard, of Saint Gabriel's Church, and Father Michael Donovan, of Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore, presided at the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the Balfour Road home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Snyder.

Music at the reception was provided by a string quartet from the Detroit Symphony and the Windsor Symphony: Alvin Score, first violin, Detroit Symphony; Connie Markwick, second violin, Windsor Symphony; Connie Hintzen, viola; and David Levine, violoncello, Detroit Symphony.

The bride wore a waltz-length dress of lilac-blue silk and a matching picture hat. She was attended by her sister, Cornelia Ann Snyder, of Denver, Colo., who chose a beige dress and matching picture hat.

Robert Lagasse came from Mendon, Vt., to act as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lagasse, of Indian Orchard, Mass.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of lilac and pink. The bridegroom's mother selected peacock blue silk.

The newlyweds will return from a vacation in Greece to make their home in Boston, Mass., where both are in the field of Public Health.

Open garden club's season

The Windmill Pointe Garden Club will meet next Wednesday, Sept. 3, at 11:30 a.m. at the Radnor Circle home of hostess Mrs. Glenn N. Carpenter, who will be assisted by co-hostess Mrs. Paul Woerner, of University Place.

Treasures donated by members will be auctioned. Proceeds will go towards a scholarship.

Lafayette art fair is coming

Among exhibitors in this year's Lafayette Park Art Fair, set for Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 6 and 7, in the Towers Shopping Plaza on Lafayette between Orleans and Rivard will be Pointe potter Ken Thompson.

Fair hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday. The annual art auction will take place at 3 p.m. Saturday, at 2 p.m. Sunday. Strolling bluegrass musicians and singing mimes will add to the friendly ambience, and children's activities will again be available.

Two legends: Buehrig and Duesenberg

The "Twenty Grand" Duesenberg is a legend, a perfect example of the ultimate in classic car elegance, and standing next to it is legendary automotive stylist GORDON BUEHRIG, of Lochmoor Boulevard, the man responsible for many Duesenberg designs in addition to the revolutionary front wheel drive Cord and the supercharged Auburn Speeder. During the annual Labor Day weekend Auburn-Cord-Duesenberg Festival, over 150 models of this fabulous automotive family convene in Auburn, Ind., for a series of events highlighted by the "Parade of Classics" through the city's streets, and Gordon will be riding high that day—he wouldn't miss it! The cars assemble around the courthouse square at the parade's conclusion for close inspection by the crowds.

Stroll's goal is New Center

The next Sunday Stroll sponsored by the Detroit Historical Society and the Detroit Historical Museum is scheduled for Sept. 7, and will focus on the New Center area.

Participants will explore the Fisher and General Motors Buildings, view a slide presentation on the future of the area and visit the new GM residential site.

The tour begins at 2 p.m., rain or shine, and will last approximately three hours. Advance reservations are required; they may be made by sending checks for $3.50 per person ($2.50 for Historical Society members) to the Detroit Historical Society, 5401 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich. 48202.

Further information may be obtained by calling the society's office, 833-7934.

Slate Old Car Festival days

A record 358 automobiles are entered in Greenfield Village's 30th annual Old Car Festival, set for Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 6 and 7.

This largest festival ever will feature 73 different car makes from the 1890s to 1925, including such rare cars as a 1901 U.S. Long Distance, an 1898 Beeston and an 1898 Malden steam car.

The Long Distance will be coming long distance from Ormond Beach, Fla. It is owned by C.J. Del Marco and was made by the short-lived United States Long Distance Automobile Company of New Jersey.

Ox roast time for Newcomers

Grosse Pointe Newcomers begin the year's activities with their annual ox roast a week from Saturday, Sept. 6, from 6 p.m. to midnight at the Windmill Pointe Park.

The popular party has been planned this year by Betty and Ted Strzempke. Committee members, who will cook and serve barbecued beef, corn on the cob, salad and dessert, include Mike and Kathy Albrecht, Andy and Alice Baetz, Gary and Barbara Brasseur, Jim and Joanne Keating, Don and Mim Lange, Ralph and Eileen Mandarino, Ron and Roma McCloud, Joe and Marilyn McCowell and Richard and Beth Rettig.

Couples who have recently moved from an area not touching the boundaries of Grosse Pointe are eligible for Newcomers membership. Interested persons may contact the membership chairman, at 885-4304 or 881-9258, for further information.

Oakland alumni plan
on-campus fun(d) day

The Oakland University Alumni Association is sponsoring a fund raising festival for scholarships all day Sunday, Sept. 7, and invites the metropolitan area community to visit the university's Rochester campus for activities ranging from hot air balloon rides to musical entertainment to square dancing to a catered picnic dinner.

This year's entries also include 128 Fords, 25 Buicks, 15 Oldsmobiles, 14 Dodges, 11 Chevrolets, nine Studebakers and nine Cadillacs. The large number of Fords reflects the dominance of Ford cars in the early quarter of the century.

All cars will be driven for competition in performance and appearance. Cars built from 1918 to 1925 will be judged on Saturday. Cars built from 1896 to 1917 will be judged on Sunday.

Displays of early automobiles will be held on the Village Green each day, and a parade at noon will begin activities both days. Steam, electric and gasoline cars will be represented.

A special display of about 20 commercial vehicles will include a 1912 Avery chain-drive truck, a 1930 Douglas truck made in Colorado, a 1917 and a 1923 REO Speed Wagon.

The W.D. Packard Concert Band will perform on Sunday. The band, from Warren, O., was founded in 1955 on an endowment from the late manufacturer W.D. Packard, a founder of the Packard Motor Company, who died in 1923. The bands presents a season of concerts at Warren's Packard Music Hall.

Special exhibits will include brass ornaments, headlights and horns, license plates, mascots, emblems, spark plugs, motometers and other early auto parts. A craftsman will demonstrate making wooden wheels.

Festivities will include several contests just for fun, such as potato-stabbing and hand-cranking races. The Wheelmen, the national organization of antique bicycle enthusiasts, will give demonstrations on high-wheel bicycles.

There is no charge for the Old Car Festival beyond regular village admission of $4.25 for adults, $2.25 for children six to 12. Children under six are admitted free.

Offer weekend college studies at Mercy

The Weekend College at Mercy College of Detroit is now accepting applications for the fall semester which begins Saturday, Sept. 6. Deadline for registration is tomorrow, Friday, Aug. 29. Students may enroll in programs leading to a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration, Health Services or Public Administration. The minor offered in each is psychology. "The Weekend College is a creative alternative to the regular concept of evening classes, or adult college," explains Patricia D. Gallagher, OP, newly appointed director. "It offers an option for persons who are working or raising a family. It doesn't even take a whole weekend; just Saturday, rather than being a drain on energies, the Weekend College is a refreshing experience." Mercy began its Weekend College as a pilot project less than three years ago, with 48 students. Present enrollment is approximately 200, and an even greater number is expected this fall. Weekend College students generally attend classes on only five Saturdays a semester for each three-credit-hour course. They may take a maximum of three courses per semester. Directed studies enable students to cover the same course content and meet the same academic standards as in regular day or evening classes. "The interaction of students with each other and with faculty members is one of the Weekend College's most important and appealing features," says Sister Patricia. "We accomplish this by helping the students understand their own valuable contribution to the educational process and by encouraging them to share their life and work experiences with each other." Present Weekend College students include male and female employees of banks, utility companies, auto manufacturers, hospital and other health care institutions. The average age is 37. The oldest student is 61, the youngest 23. "The Weekend College is designed for strongly motivated, highly disciplined persons capable of doing college level work independently, with faculty direction," notes Dr. Chandra Agrawal, the program's assistant director. Financial Aid may be available for persons taking a minimum of six credit hours per semester. Further information and application forms may be obtained by calling 592-6100 or writing the Weekend College director, Mercy College, 8200 West Outer Drive, Detroit, Mich. 48219.

Blue Water business women seek members

Blue Water Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association will hold a fall enrollment event next Tuesday, Sept. 2, at 8 p.m. at the Polish Century Club on East Outer Drive. Claudia Hutchisson, chairperson, will present the program. Its theme, "The Black and Gold Rush," focuses on meeting personal and professional goals through membership in ABWA, an organization of more than 100,000 women which awards scholarships and works to help its members advance in business through education, increased competence and upgrading of professional skills and attitudes. ABWA enrollment events are held semi-annually, according to Mildred Kelly, Blue Water Chapter president. Membership is by invitation only. Interested business women may call 778-6317 or 273-6466 for further information.

Awards dinner date is made

Members of the reservations committee for the annual Awards Dinner sponsored by Morality in Media of Michigan met yesterday, Wednesday, Aug. 27, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club as the guests of Mrs. Reginald T. Murphy to address invitations and discuss final plans for the dinner, to be held Friday, Sept. 26, at the GPYC. Among those present were Mrs. K.S. Froelich, executive director of the Michigan organization, the Mesdames Myles F. Griffith, John D. Gallagher, Thomas B. McDonald, Vincent J. Murray, Robert Collins, Edward F. Kliber, Lee Barlow, Robert Lynn, David Magnotta, George Petersmarck and Roland Stanko and the Misses Christine Otis and Jean Morris. Morality in Media of Michigan is the state affiliate of the national organization headquartered on Riverside Drive in New York City. Its objectives are to educate and alert parents and community leaders to the dangers inherent in the wide spread dissemination of pornographic materials, and to encourage communities to express themselves in a unified, organized way, requesting responsibility from media and urging vigorous enforcement of existing obscenity laws. Further information about the organization and/or the dinner may be obtained by calling 775-4049, 886-8042 or 882-7819.

Aerobic dance classes slated

More than 100 members and guests of the Welcome Wagon Club of Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods enjoyed a delightful midsummer punch and brunch party at the Devonshire Road home of Mrs. Roger Hermanns—and their presence there served a very good purpose, raising funds for Welcome Wagon's Nursing Scholarship program. "Brunch around the World" was international in theme, with that international flavor reflected in tasty and abundant delicacies from the four corners of the globe. The next event to raise money for Welcome Wagon's nursing scholarships will be a "Spotlight on Fashion" luncheon Thursday, Oct. 16, in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom.

Reporting on The Rickerds

Barbara Rickerd (Mrs. Joseph P.) Thompson, of Radnor Circle, will be off to Addison this Sunday, to be featured guest at an Author's Afternoon at "The Different Store."

Barbara's recent book, "The Descendants of John and Sally (Guile) Rickerd," deals with her paternal ancestors, who settled near Addison in 1836 and raised a sizeable family in the area. The genealogy, started in 1954, includes a complete index of 4,700 names and 700 biographical sketches. It's a hardcover volume—485 pages—and covers virtually all of the Rickerd family descendants from the time of their settlement in Lenawee and Hillsdale Counties.

It also traces a direct line of ancestry back to 1630, in The Rhineland. "Way back then and 'way back there, the name was spelled Rickert."

Here and now, Barbara is VERY well known for her years of service on the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, and for community work through the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters.

She is active in Questers, and is (of course!) a member of the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research. In Addison, she'll take time to advise persons interested in genealogy as well as talk to persons interested in the book itself.

Speaking of Books . . .

. . . if you're looking for a special one, something out-of-print, perhaps, or a story remembered from childhood, there's a Search Service operated by workers on the 18th Annual American Association of University Women, Grosse Pointe Branch Used Book Sale that you ought to know about.

Sale dates are September 23 to 28, Tuesday through Sunday, at Salem Memorial Lutheran Church on Moross Road, between Mack Avenue and I-94, and the Book Sale Committee is collecting, sorting and pricing like mad right now—and while they're doing that, for a $1.50 fee, they'll keep an eye out for specially-requested items. Who knows what might turn up?

The lady to contact for special requests is Jean Wright, 772-0605, Search Service chairperson.

In charge of the whole shebang this year is Peggy Ptasznik. Used Book Barrels, located at Mr. McCourt's in-the-Village, the Colonial Federal Building on-the-Hill, Farmer Jack's on Mack, near I-94 and Moross, and Kroger's opposite Lakeshore Village, are waiting for drop-off donations.

Want to get rid of your whole library and start all over again? Large donation pick-up can be arranged by calling Janie Thomas, 885-3320, or Marty Miller, 886-3785.

And there's no better place to start all over again than the sale itself, especially on the final days: Saturday, September 27, when everything left goes for half-price, and Sunday, September 28, when a whole bag of books (your choice) costs only $1.50.

The sale is an all-AAUW Pointe Branch activity, with every member contributing in some way to its success. It's widely known and highly respected for its organization and variety of offerings.

As always, sale proceeds will provide fellowships for women graduate students.

Minimize heat in the house

Those summertime electric bills overheated by over-cooling can make us pray for fall, but don't despair: even though there are some warm weeks ahead, Anne Field, extension specialist in family resource management at Michigan State University, reminds us that families who use air conditioners can take steps to hold down cooling costs.

"Set the thermostat no lower than 78 degrees," Field says. "For every degree you set the thermostat higher, you save six percent on air conditioner operating costs."

If it's really hot in the house, resist the temptation to set the thermostat below 78 degrees for a few hours to make the house cool faster. Turning the thermostat down low will only make the air conditioner run longer—and that takes extra energy.

Good maintenance helps your air conditioner run more efficiently. Be sure filters are clean; vacuum them or change them regularly. Have the unit serviced by a professional at least once a year, more often if the service manual recommends it.

Remember that the same things you do to keep heating costs down in winter help keep you cool in summer. Insulation, caulking and weatherstripping all keep hot air out so the air conditioner works less.

Finally, Field says, if you must have an air conditioner, use it sparingly. Open the windows on cool nights and use a fan to exhaust hot air. Close the windows in the morning to trap cool air in the house.

Avoid unnecessary heat producing activities inside such as baking, laundering, dishwasher drying and unnecessary lighting during the hot part of the day.

Keep blinds or drapes pulled on sunny windows to cut down on solar heating. Shade windows in the summer with awnings.

Miss Bowen wed to Ellis H. Rogers

They are at home in East Lansing after Lake Erie sailing vacation; Angela Santos attends her mother

The garden at the North Deeplands Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rogers was the setting in which their son, Ellis Hamilton Rogers, claimed Elizabeth Bowen, of East Lansing, as his bride.

The Reverend Henry Bird, of Sorocco, N.M., presided at the early afternoon rites Saturday, July 5.

The ceremony was followed by a garden reception. After a sailing trip to Lake Erie, the newlyweds are at home in East Lansing.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Louis Evans, of Austin, Tex., selected a street length dress of white eyelet for her 1 o'clock wedding. Veiling extended from the back of her wide-brimmed hat to her waist. She carried a spray of Eucharis lilies.

Honor matron Mrs. Richard Schultz, of Lansing, wore a burgundy-trimmed dress of navy blue flowered print and carried a basket of baby's-breath and forget-me-nots.

Angela Santos, who served as her mother's bridesmaid,

LINCOLN ROAD

What was once a carriage house has been attractively added on to, to create two separate apartments. Over the attached two car heated garage you'll find a large living room with natural fireplace, two bedrooms, one and one half baths, and a sun deck. As seen from Lincoln Road is the most attractive first floor apartment, a living room with natural fireplace and hardwood floors, spacious master suite and loads of storage space.

WINDMILL POINTE DRIVE AREA

Very attractive two story English Tudor available for immediate occupancy. The gracious foyer leads to living room, dining room, den and kitchen. The second floor has four bedrooms and two full baths. Natural wood under the wall to wall carpet, marble sills, Florida room and a finished basement.

TWO CHOICES IN CONDOMINIUMS

One big and elegant, the other smaller and charming. Well known Shorepointe offers the cathedral ceiling living room, formal dining room with butlers pantry, full parquet floors throughout the first floor. A second floor balcony den and living area, walled patio with covered parking, two bedrooms, with a half bath off the master bedroom. Both Units have extra special kitchens and full basements.

MERRIWEATHER

Excellent price on this two story home on a very prestigious street. Recently decorated, big modern kitchen, formal dining room and three bedrooms, with the possible fourth or extra sewing room. Finished basement, hardwood floors, and a very attractive assumable mortgage.

OWNER TRANSFERRED . . .

OR they never would have given up this lovely Grosse Pointe Shores five bedroom home. Completely refurbished, renovated and redecorated with all natural wood flooring, Mutschler kitchen, and family room with a natural fireplace. Very tastefully decorated and in immaculate condition.

RANCH HOME

Very reasonably priced, very well maintained, and most of all a very private little cul-de-sac. Three bedrooms, sunny living room, and a spacious kitchen with eating space. A must see!!!

DARE TO BE DIFFERENT!!

Designed by an associate of Frank Lloyd Wright . . . Enjoy the pleasures and convenience of a contemporary home. Spacious rooms, Mutschler kitchen, and very flexible terms available.

ST. CLAIR SHORES

A great three bedroom ranch with large kitchen and eating area, cozy den, and a lovely living room with a natural fireplace. The attached two car garage and exceptional landscaping make this one of the most appealing houses on the market. Priced in the mid seventies.

FOUR BEDROOMS

And two full baths in this story and a half home located on a quiet court. Slate foyer, living room with fireplace, and an excellent kitchen with dinette make this a terrific buy in the mid eighties.

VACANT LOT

Prime Grosse Pointe Park location south of Jefferson. Dead end street with private park privileges at the corner.

PRIME DETROIT LOCATION

Very attractive side entrance colonial in excellent condition. Living room with natural fireplace, formal dining room, kitchen with eating area and pleasant sun porch. Three bedrooms, finished basement, hardwood floors and a cedar closet.

FIRST OFFERING

AT LAST! HERE IS THAT LONG-SOUGHT LOCATION with all the charm of New England. Quaint Colonial Road just off Lakeshore Drive affords the privacy, yet smaller lot size you have been waiting for. Lovely master bedroom with excellent closet space and private bath, plus 2 other bedrooms and bath. Paneled family room with fireplace and library overlooking the easily-maintained yard, and a paneled recreation room with bar.

AN OUTSTANDING FAMILY HOME close to the Neighborhood Club, shopping and school. Has 2 large extra rooms, one a lovely garden room with concealed bar and the other a paneled family room 18 feet square. Both rooms have sliding glass doors opening onto the patio and secluded yard. Five bedrooms, 3 1/2 baths, modern kitchen and an extra 60-foot landscaped lot. 529 Lakeland.

8 LAKESIDE COURT — A NEWER STREET YOU MAY HAVE NEVER SEEN. Just east of Cadieux between the lake and Jefferson. Custom built in 1975 and still looks like new. New England colonial but has bedrooms on each floor — 2 bedrooms, a dressing room and 2 baths up and, on the first floor, a sumptuous master suite plus a maid's room and bath. Paneled library with fireplace, first floor laundry, formal dining room and central air conditioning.

ON A PRIVATE ROAD JUST OFF LAKESHORE in the Farms you'll find this Spanish mission style home recently refurbished and equipped with a new Mutschler kitchen. Tastefully decorated to retain the charm furnished by the original Pewabic tile, lovely paneling, spacious rooms and 4 fireplaces, it contains a family room with beamed cathedral ceiling, library, sunroom, 7 bedrooms, 5 baths and a brick patio.

LAKESHORE ROAD — Outstanding estate on over 2 acres. Built in 1967 with only the finest materials and workmanship, it has a 49 foot heated pool, greenhouse, 5 fireplaces, library, pub room with cathedral ceiling. All bedrooms have private baths and 2 master suites have dressing rooms.

492 RIVARD — AN OLDER CENTER HALL COLONIAL in need of decorating, which will restore its original graciousness and charm. 31-foot living room, paneled library with concealed bar, large modern kitchen, 5 bedrooms, sitting room and 3 1/2 baths. Two additional bedrooms and bath on the 3rd floor. $149,500.

BEVERLY ROAD AT LAKESHORE — Colonial on over 3/4 of an acre. Paneled library with fireplace and bar, 20-foot glassed porch, 1st floor maid's room, 4 family bedrooms including 20-foot master bedroom with fireplace, 2 dressing rooms and bath, plus additional maid's quarters. First-floor laundry and 4-car garage.

A LAKEFRONT RANCH SO CLOSE TO THE LAKE that you'll almost think you're sitting on a boat rather than the patio deck just outside the family room! Three bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, large recreation room and office or den with lovely views of the lake. Special features include central air conditioning, wine cellar, lawn sprinkler system, 120-foot lot and sturdy concrete seawall with boat davits.

Pointe Counter Points

By Pat Rousseau

As Seen In Vogue . . . now seen at Walton-Pierce, the Lou Taylor handbag. It's "the signature handbag with the vanity mirror that changed the way women look at themselves." See the styles in brown or black. Prices range from $54 to $56. There are other good looking handbags for day and pretty purses for evening . . . one favorite, a black moire clutch that would be the perfect accessory for the new black georgette cocktail dress by Dorothy Farinae for Lee Jordan. It is styled with a lace yoke, a high ruffled neck tied with a satin bow. The sleeves are long and puffy. Stitching down the front gives way to soft pleating. Another delightful dress for evening is a peach georgette also styled with a high ruffled neckline encircled with peach Ultrasuede. The ruffled cuffs are trimmed with Ultrasuede and an Ultrasuede belt completes the look. A romantic black taffeta long evening dress from Helga is fashioned with a wide one shoulder strap accented with a large puffed bow. The skirt is shaped with soft released fullness. For late day, we like the black wool crepe theater suit from Devon Hall. It is piped with black satin around the jacket, at the shoulders and down the pockets. It comes with a white blouse with lace insets and a black tasseled cord ties the neck. You've heard that gray flannel is an important fabric for fall. At Walton-Pierce you'll find smart gray flannel suits and separates. We like the gray flannel outfit that features a short jacket trimmed with gray braid. Gray braid accents the skirt and a blouse with a tie neck completes the look.

Ron Ruel Says . . . Before you decide to have a perm, you owe it to yourself to know what the process is all about and just what kind of effect it will have on your hair. Ron suggests a total control Pyrametric cut to start the beginning of your new look. The best time for a perm is when your hair doesn't look good, if it lacks body, will not stay in the style you desire and has become a time consuming problem. Call 886-4130 for an appointment.

We Have . . . a new look at Mutschler Kitchens. We now can offer you the European contemporary look in Formica cabinets by Millbrook, 20227 Mack Avenue, 884-3700.

The Notre Dame Pharmacy . . . is featuring a close-out on Ultima Lip-liner pencils . . . regularly $6.50 now $3.99.

Just Arrived . . . at the Margaret Diamond Shop, a fine selection of Italian handbags in butter-soft leathers by Enny. All are in the new fall colors and elegant styles . . . 377 Fisher Road.

Tony Cueter . . . invites all his customers and friends to see the new fall line of unusual mountings, stone rings and the exciting quartz watches. Open daily 10 a.m.-5:30 p.m. except Monday. Bijouterie, 20445 Mack Avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods . . . 886-2050.

Harvey's Compleat Traveler . . . has marked down a few remaining bargains . . . handbags, attaches and luggage. Great reductions. Last three days so hurry to 399 Fisher Road.

Men Who Wear Glasses . . . stop by Woods Optical Studios and see all the new frames that will update your look. They even have the memorable sun glasses worn by the stars in "The Blues Brothers." The ones that wrap and have wide temples. Lots of traditional frames too at 19599 Mack Avenue between 7 and 8 Mile Roads . . . 882-9711.

Campus Bound Students . . . pick out an area rug or remnant at Ed Maliszewski, 21435 Mack, 776-5511.

All Domestic Air Fares . . . are going up again September 1. Call Mr. Q today to avoid these increases . . . 886-0500.

In Celebration . . . of White's Old House 72 Anniversary, they are having a sale. Save 30% off all upholstered furniture for the rest of August. Floor samples and special orders are included. Hurry to 26717 Little Mack. Closed Mondays. Open Thursday and Friday nights till 9 . . . 776-6230.

KIMBERLY KORNER . . . Just in time for garden-fresh vegetables, Feather Your Nest has received a shipment of your favorite brown bakeware. Individual quiche, au gratin and sauce dishes are just right to enhance late summer recipes . . . Mack and Lochmor.

The Back To School Sale . . . continues at The School Bell, 17904 Mack Avenue. It's time to stock up on special values while they last, 17904 Mack Avenue.

Does The Camera Center . . . in the Village have frames and albums? You bet. We have a wide selection to fit all needs beginning with metal, wood and lucite frames. But wait, that's not all. They have a fine assortment of albums in all colors, shapes and sizes. So come on in and let us add a special finishing touch to your pictures . . . 17114 Kercheval.

Connie's & Steve's Place . . . is offering you a Mighty Mac jackets for boys sizes 4-20. Grosse Pointe Academy and University Liggett School uniforms for boys are available at 23240 Mack one block south of 9 Mile Road . . . 777-8020.

Parfumerie Mouson . . . not only carries famous Mouson soaps but a fine treatment line that is unusual and the product of German research. The creams are water based, totally absorbed by the skin. The creams work with the tissues and cells to bring out your best look. Untinted or with peach beige, summer beige and light beige tints, they can eliminate heavy makeup. There are also superb Tennis is a game of LUV." That's Kathy Neumann's quote of the year—and especially the season. For Kathy is this year's Tennis & Crumpets chairman, and the annual benefit for Children's Hospital of Michigan opens the weekend of September 13 and 14, with preliminary matches scheduled on public, private and club courts all over town both Saturday and Sunday.

Area finals will be played the following Saturday, September 20. T&C's Super Finals will be played the next day, Sunday, September 21, at the Renaissance Center Racquet Club in downtown Detroit.

The Super Finals bring together T&C winners from all over the metropolitan area, for this is a city-wide tournament, with play going on Downriver, in Birmingham-Bloomfield, et al., as well as in Grosse Pointe.

Scratch 'compete' Everyone's welcome to observe the Super Finals, for a minimal charge of $1.50 per person, just as everyone's welcome to compete in T&C. Wait a minute . . . scratch that word "compete." Kathy Neumann doesn't like it.

"This isn't a super-competitive event," she maintains. "There are winners in all categories, but by and large people play for the fun of it."

"I never go out with the intention of winning—and, so far, I never have." But she always goes out.

Always, that is, since 1976. Before that, Frederick O. Neumann was in the Army Reserves, and it seemed that the T&C weekend was ALWAYS his Weekend Warrior weekend. And that left Kathy without a partner. Since T&C is a mixed doubles tournament—if someone enters as an individual, the committee will try to find him/her a partner, but the committee does not guarantee that a partner will be found—Kathy didn't play until Rick became available.

They've known each other since they both went to THE (now Grosse Pointe South) High School. "I had a crush on him in the ninth grade," Kathy admits. She was Kathy Hyland then, born in Tennessee but an emigre at the age of six months to Grosse Pointe. Her father is an M.D. in Grosse Pointe.

Rick arrived in The Pointe a little later than his future wife, in 1955. Post-high school, Kathy attended Eastern Michigan University, Rick was graduated from Albion College, they married, rented an apartment, bought a house, Kathy worked for five years before they had children . . . in other words, they did it all in the order in which it's supposed to be done.

Pair of daughters Rick is in business with his father, in a small manufacturing company. Daughter Katy, six now, starts first grade at Maire School this fall. Jenny, three-and-a-half, will be going to nursery school.

Kathy belongs to the Friends of FLEC (Grosse Pointe's Family Life Education Council) and the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center. Tennis is her number one hobby/pastime.

In the T&C categories, the Neumanns are "B" players. The T&C tournament is open to players of all abilities, from rank amateur to professional quality, who are matched according to their proficiency. There's a Pro-Am category for the really topnotch players, followed by, in descending order, A, B and C categories. The latter is open to those who have trouble telling the difference between a tennis and a badminton racquet.

For the idea is to have fun, and the purpose is to help children, and T&C welcomes everyone who likes that idea, approves of that purpose. T&C is NOT, Kathy Neumann emphasizes, an exclusive event. "I used to think it was," she admits. "I thought it was by invitation only. My parents lived at the corner of Trombley and Jefferson, and had their own tennis court."

"I remember dropping in on them the weekend T&C was being played, and thinking to myself, 'I wonder if I'll ever be asked to play . . . And all I had to do was indicate an interest in playing!'"

All are welcome "T&C is open to everyone. I can't stress this enough: if you want to participate in the tournament, CALL—either Phoebe Grylls, the tournament chairman, at 884-9464, or myself, 885-8128. If you want to get on next year's mailing list, call. If you're a tennis player of any calibre, or of no calibre, T&C will welcome you."

And even if you can't stand tennis, T&C still has something to offer. Everybody likes a party, right? T&C throws a great one.

It's set this year for Saturday, September 13, the first day of preliminary play, at the Country Club of Detroit. It's a casual affair, offering cocktails, a buffet dinner and the South High Jazz Band as entertainment.

Again this year, there'll be an auction. But this year's auction will not be limited to strictly tennis-oriented items, and it will be introduced in a manner that's guaranteed to attract attention, by Scheherezade, a belly dancer.

Among the items going up for bids are space for two in the Detroit Lions Broadcast Booth during a game, a Detroit River cruise for eight aboard a private yacht, a painting donated by Grosse Pointe Artists Association member Julie Strabel, a champagne tennis weekend at a Florida resort, an Ann Arbor football day for four including box lunches, tickets to a University of Michigan game and dinner afterwards at the Gandy Dancer.

Party tickets are $9.50 per person, Tracy Blatt, 886-8910, is the person to contact for information about them.

Out of the blue Kathy Neumann became involved in the organizational end of T&C three years ago when, "out of the blue," Lynn Scoville, former owner of the Neumanns' University Place house called and asked if Kathy would like to serve as secretary of that year's Tennis and Crumpets. Lynn was serving as chairman.

"It was a wonderful job to start with," Kathy says of her secretarial year. The next year—last year—she was in charge of the T&C raffle.

This year she's T&C chairman, and although it's a big job, it's far from an impossible one. "They keep such fantastic records," Kathy says of the T&C committees, past and present. "Each chairman of each area writes a complete report at the end of the year."

There are tried and true timetables, recommendations, synopses of what has been done, what has worked and what hasn't, since Detroit's first T&C tournament.

KATHY NEUMANN, OF UNIVERSITY PLACE

Besides the T&C reports, Kathy had personal experience to fall back on. Very active in running Platform Tennis Tournaments for the past two years, she had organized the tournament for the whole midwestern area, Toronto to Pennsylvania. She drew quite a few of her T&C committee members from her co-paddle tennis tournament workers.

The T&C raffle has been dropped this year, but there are two new T&C-related 1980 events. For the first time, Juniors (children under the age of 18) were invited to participate in their own T&C tournament. It was played in mid-June at the Wimbledon and Eastpointe Racquet Clubs, which do notated their court time.

On the first Saturday in August, Seymour Cadillac underwrote all expenses for the T&C LUV-RUN. Course for this first-time event was twice around Windmill Pointe Drive. Kathy has the highest praise for Dodee Giroux and her committee, who pulled everything together to make the LUV-RUN a great success—and did so in an amazingly short period of time.

For kidney care Mr. and Mrs. Frank Couzens Jr., are honorary chairmen of the 1980 T&C benefit. Mr. Couzens is a trustee on the board of Children's Hospital. Monies raised this year will support Children's kidney care efforts in the areas of nutrition and continued care for the patient and the family. They will go specifically to the Nephrology (Dialysis) Service of the hospital, which is under the direction of Dr. Larry E. Fleischmann.

And this, after all, is what T&C is all about. Beyond the fun and the excitement is the love that sparked the tournament and spurs it. Since its inception in 1967, T&C has raised $20,000 to purchase a Playroom in the new Children's Hospital, has contributed $50,000 to Children's Cardiac Operating Room, has donated $60,000 to support the hospital's Burn Center and to purchase a Heart-Lung Machine, has given over $140,000 to the Poison Control Center and last year donated over $87,000 to the Psychiatry and Psychology Service.

Tennis is indeed a game of luv. Everyone who has some to share is welcome at T&C. "We have approached Welcome Wagon, Newcomers, Parents Without Partners, Young Marrieds' church groups," Kathy Neumann notes. "We are definitely interested in recruiting new players."

"Last year, in the Grosse Pointe area, we had over 1,200 residents involved. We could handle more. Last year, we had 125 courts." That's virtually every court in and around our town . . . and the play on all of them, on T&C days, is LUVly.

GPYC, GPPS members enjoy sail vacation at Killarney

By Margie Reins Smith
Georgian Bay and the North Channel have long been popular cruising waters for Grosse Pointe boating families. The unspoiled beauty of crystal water, pure air, sheer rock, fragrant pines, and abundant wild creatures (including bears) attract boaters by the hundreds.

A cruising vacation combines the pleasures of getting away from it all (phones, jobs, schedules, household chores, carpools...) with the luxuries of taking it all with you (food, hot water, cozy bunks, warm clothes), on your boat.

However, the solitude of quiet anchorages gives way to social instincts after several days, when fresh food runs out and bags of trash begin to accumulate.

Killarney, Ontario is a convenient stopover between Georgian Bay and the North Channel—a place for cruising families to replenish supplies, languish under a hot shower, enjoy a restaurant-served meal, and rendezvous with other boaters.

Last Aug. 8, 9, and 10, the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club (GPYC) and the Grosse Pointe Power Squadron, (GPPS), hosted a rendezvous at Killarney Mountain Lodge for GPYC and GPPS boaters and friends who were cruising the area. Twenty GPYC boats squeezed congenially together and rafted off, patchwork-puzzle style, using all of Killarney's available docking spaces.

Rendezvous chairman, GPYC director Ty Totte, reported that 91 people attended a steak and fish cookout on the rocks—the largest group ever served by Killarney Mountain Lodge.

Boaters traveled in from the four compass points to meet at Killarney—from the Bustard Islands of Georgian Bay, from Little Current in the North Channel, from the Bad River, from the French River, and from the northern reaches of McGregor Bay.

The winners of the adult division of the fishing contest were Judy Moore and Ty Totte. Children's division winners were Jane Mitchell and Nancy Georgi.

Among those who attended the rendezvous with their families were GPYC Vice-Commodore Jim Mitchell, GPYC manager Lindy Mills, directors Ty Totte, John Boll, and Ted Smith, and Grosse Pointe Power Squadron Commander Vincent LoCicero.

Stage Tickets

Between 1928 and 1968 the average price of a musical show ticket on the Broadway stage rose from $5 to $10. By 1978 the price had doubled again to $20. In July 1980, one New York producer set a record price of $30 on his offering of "Camelot."

Mascarin receives Connolly-Brinker Award

Shores resident SUSAN MASCARIN, 16, received the Maureen Connolly Brinker Award in Philadelphia last week. The award is presented annually to the junior girl considered by the Maureen Connolly Brinker Foundation to have the most outstanding full season performance in tennis. The award winner "must also be exceptional in ability, sportsmanship and competitive spirit." Also in Philadelphia, Sue won her semifinal match at the USTA Girls' International Championship, topping Cheryl Jones, 7-6, 6-4. She lost to Kathrin Kell in the finals, 6-4, 7-5.

List Inter-club tennis records

The Grosse Pointe Men's Tennis Inter-club recently completed its 1980 schedule. The finals standings follow.

Country Club of Detroit, finished on top with a 26 and 14 record, followed by ULS Raquet Club at 24-16. The Grosse Pointe Hunt Club was third at 22-18.

The fourth place spot was captured by the Indian Village Tennis Club, which had a 21-19 record. The Grosse Pointe Yacht Club finished fifth with an 18-22 record and Lochmoor Country Club was last in the division at 9-31.

The Inter-club is a men's doubles league and was formed in 1979. The teams play five home and five away matches on Monday nights.

Rugby Club hosts tourney

The Detroit Rugby Football Club will host the Seventh Annual Stroh's Great Lakes Rugby Tournament at Detroit's Farwell Field on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 30 and 31. Tourney play will begin at 11 a.m.

This year's field includes 20 men's teams and four women's teams from Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Canada. The Detroit team is the defending champion.

Rugby features a wide-open, aggressive running and tackling game which players play without benefit of protective equipment.

The tournament is free to the public. Farwell Field is located at the East Eight Mile Light Guard Armory. Further information on the event may be obtained by calling 477-7795.

Sales Soar

Retail franchising provides employment for more than 4 million Americans. This year, total franchised outlets are expected to reach 480,000 and account for more than one-third of all U.S. retail sales.

Neighborhood Club women's titles decided

Thirty teams participated in the spring-summer women's softball program presented by the Neighborhood Club. The teams included over 500 players. The season began in mid-May and concluded in mid-August.

The softball playoffs were divided into upper and lower divisions. The upper division champion was the team from Jacoby's Bar. The lower division title went to the Winks.

In the upper division, Jacoby's Bar beat Dennehy, 4-2, in the finals. The champions were coached by Keith Edwards, who was assisted by Chris Curran and Pat Mulleavy.

The team included Sue Rocchio, Hazel Sekac, Linda

Allen, Lucy Moran Gorski, Barbara Curran, Sara D'Herde, Marnie Edwards, Carolyn Mulleavy, Wanda Wydick, Linda Mack, Ann Roach, Pat Reighling, Maureen Monaghan, Linda Gargagliano and Gina Rheume.

In the lower division, the Winks outslugged Art Van's Shady Ladies, 19-16, in a game that took two hours to complete. The Winks were coached by Jim Duryee and Larry Klimek.

The Wink players included Sara Ballantyne, Lisa Andary, Marge Blomme, Debbie Blondell, Joan Blondell, Lori Blondell, Cathy Duryee, Debbie Hawk, Donna Horodko, Sandy Jackson, Gayle Meldrum, Sally Pickrahn, Pam Ursitti, Beth Lariuiere, Katie Van Antwerp, Amy Sloan and Sheryl Wofford.

Slate adult ski club reunion

Carolyn Ortwein, new president of the Adult Ski Club at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, has invited all current and former members and their guests to a Patio Supper and Reunion on the center's lakeside terrace and lawn Sunday at 4 p.m. Sept. 14.

Ski films will be shown and details of future events and ski trips handed out. Sign ups and deposits for the various tours will be taken. The weekend trips include Boyne Highlands, staying at Bartley House right at the slopes Jan. 9-11; Boyne Mountain, staying at Idlewild, Jan. 23-25; Collingwood, Canada, staying at Blue Mountain Inn right at the slopes Jan. 23-25 and cross-country skiing at Cherrydale Farms, Ben Miller Inn, Ontario March 14-16. A special trip to Sun Valley, Idaho is also planned for February.

Reservations at $4.50 should be made as soon as possible and by Thursday, Sept. 11 at the latest. Monthly meetings are held at the War Memorial on Wednesday evenings Oct. 1, Nov. 5, Jan. 7, Feb. 4, March 4 and April 15. There will be a Christmas party Dec. 7 and a cookout May 17.

Russian Farming

Russia has spent more than $500 billion on agriculture over the past 15 years. Yet, 300 million acres planted in grain still isn't enough for 260 million Russians. Do the Russians lack know-how? The Japanese grow enough rice on 7.5 million acres to feed 110 million people; 660 million Indians do pretty well on 350 million acres; the Chinese—nearly a billion of them now—do not depend on extensive food imports; and Americans, with some 300 million acres, feed themselves and other millions in third world countries as well.

Junior sailors race for titles at CSYC finals

By Barbara Willmore

The United States Yacht Racing Union (USYRU) Junior Championship finals for Area E were held in mid-August at the Crescent Sail Yacht Club, (CSYC).

Area E covers the territory from western New York state to western Wisconsin, including eastern Minnesota. The USYRU race week is made up of three separate race series.

The first race, the Sears Trophy, is raced in 'Flying Scots' with a three-man crew. The second, the Greg Bemis Trophy race, is run in 'Flying Juniors' with two-man crews. The Smythe Trophy race is raced single-handed in Lasers.

Various clubs throughout Area E sent their championship ship teams to compete in the semi-finals, which were open to boys and girls. The winner of each series went on to Cleveland where the USYRU National Championships were held Aug. 23 and 24.

Among local competitors at CSYC were Mark and Craig Clark and John Basille, who represented the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club in the Sears Trophy race series.

Competing for the Bemis Trophy were Wes Smith and Eric Gehardstein from CSYC and Tim Askew and Mark Augier out of Bayview.

Racing for the single-handed Smythe Trophy honors were Tony Landauer, from CSYC and Bayview's David Askew.

Six teams entered the six-race Sears competition, which was won by John Sackett, of Cincinnati. Placing fifth was the GPYC team, skippered by Mark Craig.

In the Bemis Trophy competition, 10 teams competed in the eight-race, round-robin series. The winner was John Irvine, of Columbus. He was followed closely by second place finisher Tim Askew, of Bayview, whose sailing interest and prowess take a second seat to ice hockey.

Tim traveled to Colorado Springs last weekend as one of 70 men picked to go to the U.S. Hockey Training Center in preparation for the 1984 Olympics.

The Smythe Trophy went to Craig Kerr, of Ohio Interclub in Columbus.

Easy Riders seek members

The Cadieux Easy Riders Touring Club is looking for cyclists who enjoy scenery, fresh air, exercise and good fellowship to join the club on its Sunday morning and Thursday night rides.

The club boasts riders of all ages who normally ride on Sunday mornings from April through October. The club has recently begun riding on Thursday nights, at 7 p.m., through the Woods. The rides usually vary from 10 to 20 miles, with rest stops and breaks along the way.

Other club activities include picnic lunches and participation in cycletrons and parades. The club's season highlight is a weekend excursion to Mackinaw City and Mackinac Island.

Membership fee for one year is $5 for a single member, $7.50 for a husband and wife and their children under 18. Members receive a club name patch, monthly newsletter and schedule.

Interested persons should contact the club president, Al DeBacker, at 776-1417, or the secretary-treasurer, Jack Van Slembrouck, at 839-7244, or attend a meeting at the Cadieux Cafe on Cadieux Road, between Mack and Warren.

Club meetings are held on the first Tuesday after the first Saturday of each month during the season.

Calm lake hurts Scherer Memorial races

For the first time in 17 years, the beautiful weather on Sunday, Aug. 24 was far from being ideal for the junior sailors in the J. Otto Scherer Memorial Championship Races held at the Crescent Sail Yacht Club.

It was dead calm on the water by race time. The Flying Junior boats were towed out onto the lake—but there was no wind. The time limit expired before there was a finisher in the first race.

The second race, held in the afternoon, determined the winner. The third race was cancelled due to lack of wind and lateness of the day.

Skipper Dave Askew and crew Mark Augier, of Bayview Yacht Club claimed first place. The Crescent Sail

Yacht team, with skipper Wesley Smith and crew Greg Gerhardtstein took second place.

A second Crescent team with skipper Tony Landauer and crew, Chris Landauer finished third.

Skipper Mark Clark and crew Jeff Clark, of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club finished close behind and took a fourth place. The second GPYC boat with skipper Craig Clark and crew Hans Breiden were fifth and Bayview's second boat, skippered by Stephen Cost and crew Peter Askew took sixth.

Race chairman commodore Herbert Mainwaring was assisted by Mrs. Marie Mainwaring, vice-commodore Harvey Pickford, Mrs. Mary Pickford, Bernard Tonowski, Jo Dan Hartling, Edwin Boothroyd and William Sadler.

The perpetual race trophy is a memorial to the late Mr. Scherer, of the Park.

Display marine art at Dossin

A collection of 21 marine paintings by Jerry Crowley, including passenger, freight, sail and steamships that span Great Lakes history from 1879 to today, is on display through October at the Dossin Great Lakes Museum on Belle Isle.

Crowley, self-taught, born and raised in Detroit, painted his first Great Lakes vessel, the South American, in 1875. He works in oils, water colors and pencil, accepting commissions for private vessels as well as the better-known lakers.

His paintings can be viewed at Dossin Wednesday through Sunday, from 10 a.m. to 5:45 p.m.

DARTMOUTH FOR TABER

Allen George Taber, a 1980 graduate of University Liggett School, will enter Dartmouth College as a freshman this fall. Captain of the ULS hockey team and co-captain of the school's football squad, Taber is a candidate for the Dartmouth football, hockey and baseball programs. He is a center in hockey and a quarterback and defensive safety in football. Taber was a Terill Newman Scholar at ULS, won the Harvard Prize, the Book Award, was named top scholar-athlete and was on the first team All-State in football and hockey. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taber of Oxford Road. Taber plans to major in economics at Dartmouth.

Modern Sinbad

Tim Severin, a 39-year-old English sailor-adventurer, will make a 6,000-mile voyage to duplicate the legendary journey of Sinbad the Sailor. His sponsor is the Sultan of Oman who is paying for Severin's 8-foot wooden boat, lashed together with coconut ropes. He hopes to sail in November from Oman to Hong Kong with a crew of 15, half of them Omanis. The voyage will continue to China, if permission is gained.

Seamanship course is set

Grosse Pointe mariner, Douglas Deacon, who has circumnavigated Lake Huron, Georgian Bay, and the North Channel, will offer a six-week "Mariner's Guide to Cruising Lake Huron and Georgian Bay" on Tuesdays from 7 to 9 p.m. beginning September 23 at the Rackham Memorial, 60 Farnsworth in the Cultural Center.

Students will learn about preparations for long distance cruising, summer weather conditions, heavy weather seamanship on Lake Huron, and natural and man-made aids to navigation. Using films as well as personal experience, Deacon will also familiarize you with

American and Canadian harbors, and suggest excursions on and off shore in these areas.

The course fee is $48. Senior citizens and each additional family member can attend for $26.

To register by Visa/Mastercard, call 577-4665. To register by mail, send name, address, and phone number to "Mariner's Guide—UCAE," 60 Farnsworth, Detroit, MI 48202. Make checks payable to Wayne State University.

There are 12 times more sheep than people on Great Britain's Shetland Islands in the North Sea.

Gone fishing? Yes, old Wacky went fishing for antiques and collectables and, unlike most fishermen, the ones he caught were a darn sight better than the "ones that got away." Some of the prized catches Wacky reeled in, include: a fantastic set of Morgantown stem ware, with Ruby bowls and crystal stem, a diamond quilted Amberina pitcher, a butterscotch Mother of Pearl salt shaker, an enamel decorated Rubina pickle castor, a sat-in glass rosebowl, a walnut desk, a gold decorated Hall Canary air flow teapot, a small blown English cranberry vase, 74-75-78 Berta Hummel Christmas plats, 2 Wedgwood silver Jubilee, compoters, an interesting collection of Fen-ton art glass, a Royal Adlerly coronation cup and saucer, several pieces from occupied Japan, a marble topper table and much more. If you're fishing for something different, get on out here and toss in your line. The unusual is always running at the Colonial Shop, 25701 Jefferson near 10 Mile. Mon-Sat. 11-6. 772-0430. Your Master Charge and Visa are welcomed an don't forget... We buy, too!
