THE BOYS in blue have been doing a lot of chuckling lately at Park police headquarters over a list of bogus workshops available to officers wishing to expand their educations and brighten prospects for promotion.

A list of home economic workshops offers courses entitled How To Convert Your Family Room to a Garage, 101 Uses For Your Vacuum Cleaner and How to Cultivate Viruses in Your Refrigerator.

Self-improvement classes include Overcoming Peace of Mind, Guilt Without Sex and The Primal Shrug.

Highlights of the crafts workshops includes Cuticle Crafts, Gifts for the Senile and Bonsai Your Pet.

Popular classes in the business and career selection are Money Can Make You Rich, Looters' Guide to American Cities and I Made $100 in Real Estate.

Finally, the health and fitness workshops offer classes such as High Fiber Sex, Optional Body Functions, Skate Your Way to Regularity and Suicide and Your Health.

According to a Grosse Pointe New reporter, Park Chief of Police Henry Coonce has agreed to teach the classes after he finishes his current workshop entitled "Impress Your Congregation with Tremendous Humility." What a guy, what a guy!

Only a member of a "true BR family" like Barb Stickford, of Merryweather Road, would understand what that billboard near the Farina's Granary Restaurant on Mack Avenue is all about.

The sign reads "Seasons Greetings to all BR girls - from Mr. and Mrs. Donovan and the horses." John and Lois Donovan, owners of the Black River Farm and Ranch, (a girls' summer camp) wanted to give a big Christmas greeting to all their campers from the Pointe, so the billboard seemed like a pretty good idea.

There's another just like it on Woodward Avenue leading toward the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area. Barb, whose daughters Ann, Kathy and Liz, all attended the camp, reports she nearly drove over the curb when she first spotted the greeting.

Keep her off Woodward.

WHILE patrolling on the midnight shift last week, a Farms officer spotted a car driving down a side street in a rather herky-jerky manner. Thinking he has a drunk driver, the patrolman pulled the vehicle over to check the situation out.

Seems the driver (a young woman) wasn't drunk at all. Just trying to learn how to drive a stick shift and having a rough time of it. She admitted 2 a.m. was a rather bizarre time to learn, but there were fewer drivers around — right?

Sticking to standard operating procedures, the officer asked for her license. No luck, she didn't have one. He then ran her name through the police computer and voila! There was a warrant for her arrest in Traverse City on a liquor law violation.

The end result was a ticket for no operators license and the posting of a $100 bond for the Traverse City warrant. Bet the next time she learns to shift it will be on a 10-speed bike.

Pointes cool to Fox Creek proposals

By Susan McDonald

Wayne County's drain commissioner says the Grosse Pointes are polluting the natural waters that surround us each year to the tune of:

- 3.6 million pounds of suspended solids
- 7,500 pounds of phosphorus
- 7,100 pounds of lead
- and billions of fecal coliforms, a bacteria found in the intestinal tracts of humans and animals.

All that is dumped into Lake St. Clair and the Detroit River by four Grosse Pointe cities — the Shores, City, Farms and Park — every time it rains hard. In dry times, local sewage is transported through a large tunnel that crosses under Kercheval Avenue to Connor Creek, where it is pumped downriver to Detroit's wastewater treatment plant and cleared of pollutants.

But when clouds break overhead, the Pointes' sewer system overflows. Instead of going to Connor Creek, storm water combined with raw sewage from homes and businesses is dumped directly into Lake St. Clair from the Farms and Shores. The Park sends a similar odorous mixture directly into the Detroit River at Fox Creek, located just over the border in Detroit.

IT'S A problem no doubt. But how serious is the cities' contribution to pollution of the Great Lakes, compared to the industrial wastes from 90 outfalls in the Detroit River alone and pollution from eight sewage treatment plants that line the river? And how much money would have to be spent to stop it?

An answer to the latter question is contained in a 412-page study of the four cities' sewer systems aired at a public hearing last week. The aim of the Wayne County Drain Commission's EPA Project C-262601 is to provide a cure for the overflows of combined sewage from the area. Its proposed solutions are costly — construction of an interceptor near Eight Mile Road at a cost of more than $17 million; or retention basins at Connor Creek for $16 million; or smaller basins under city parks at $17 million; or separation sewers at $16 million.

Or, for $518,000, the study suggests the cities could make improvements to their existing facilities that would allow them to store more sewage "in-system" during storms until the drains clear and sewage can flow downriver. That may appear to be the most feasible option from a financial viewpoint. But city administrators say the system is too old to handle more capacity. They say in-system storage would result in further deterioration of the aging underground structures causing frequent sewer collapses and, possibly, odor problems.

All four cities were represented at the public hearing Nov. 30 on the drain commissioner's report and are meeting this week to formulate a response to the study.

THEIR INITIAL reaction to the report and its solutions was cool. Farms Assistant City Manager Carroll Lock publicly questioned its factual basis. "Nowhere do I see any attempt to justify the conclusions about our pollution (of the lake)," he said. "The study says 20 percent of Farms sewage overflows to the lake. I don't believe the data supports that."

The magnitude of the price tag for solving the overflows requires better information to back up the claim the Pointes are contributing to the Great Lakes pollution problem, Lock said.

"We've got a bathing beach down there that's been used every day for the last two years and it's tested frequently," he said. "I just don't think we're spilling over (into the lake) nearly as often as they claim."

Park City Manager John Crawford said the Pointes' pollution of the lake and river are "infinitesimal" compared to other metropolitan area cities. Grosse Pointe City Manager Thomas Kressbach said the drain commission would be wiser to study pollution at Connor Creek, which handles sewage from northeast Detroit and several other suburbs and regularly overflows into the river during storms.

Local test scores reveal slight change

By Joanne Gouleche

Results of statewide assessment tests given to local fourth, seventh and 10th graders the beginning of this school year show student scores changing only slightly since last fall.

Still, those scores rank Grosse Pointe unofficially in the top three school districts in the state in basic math and reading skills, a public school administrator said last week.

Grosse Pointe has been in the top spot for the last six years, said Dr. Roger McCaig, schools' director of research and development. But, because scores from some out-county school districts are not available, Grosse Pointe's rank remains unofficial, McCaig said.

Even with this year's stable scores, McCaig said there is always a continuous effort in the classroom to improve those scores.

"Overall, there's not that much change (from last year)," McCaig said. "There is no district-wide soft spot. Reading and math skills are stable as they should be, but there are still several individual schools where there are improvement programs."

About 1,840 Grosse Pointe students took the state-required Michigan Educational Assessment Program test in September. The test measures basic skills in math and reading but does not gauge a student's full range of ability in those areas, McCaig said.

Farms reviewing cluster options

By Tom Greenwood

For the first time in its history, residents of the Farms are facing the concept of "cluster" type homes springing up in their city.

While many citizens welcome the construction of such subdivisions, others fear for the future of their community.

In an effort to standardize requirements for such projects in the future, the Farms City Council has set a public hearing Monday night, Dec. 20, to amend the current zoning ordinance pertaining to one-family attached residential cluster options.

"The new proposed amendment is more detailed and includes an initial restriction as to the size of the parcel that can go cluster," said Richard Solak, Farms city clerk. "As it stands now, there is no minimum restriction as far as size goes. The newer ordinance would require that the parcel be at least five acres to qualify as a possible cluster development. We also will require more detailed site plans from developers."

ACCORDING to the preamble of the proposed zoning ordinance, (published as required by law in the Grosse Pointe News on Dec. 2), the intent is "to provide an option for the development of areas where natural features would be destroyed from conventional subdividing of property. It is the further intent of this section to introduce a housing form which will be compatible with the low density

The city did its bit to spruce up the Kercheval in the Park business area building parking lots and putting up lights and trees. And Clara Odell (left) and Venus Ferris (right) figured the businesses could do something, too, like wrapping the old-fashioned decorative street lights with wreaths for the holiday season. Eighty-eight wreaths, a few hundred bows, and dozens of loose light bulbs later ... and they're up, with help from city workers Ken Allen and Rick Detrick. "This is an important area, the gateway to Grosse Pointe," said Ms. Ferris, co-owner of Pointe Fashions. "It's come a long way in the last few years and we want to let people know it." Mrs. Odell of Pointe Printing, had most of the wreaths delivered to her house last year and she's still hunting around for donations from other businessmen to cover costs. The whole group — Grosse Pointe Park Business and Professional Association — will get together next Tuesday, Dec. 14, at 8 p.m. at the Old Place for a poduck Christmas party.

single-family pattern throughout the city."

According to the proposed ordinance, parcels may be approved for cluster development by the city council if it finds that at least one of the following conditions exists: the depth and or width of the property makes normal subdividing difficult; the parcel contains acute angles which makes normal subdividing hard; the parcel contains natural assets which could be preserved through the use of a cluster development; or the cluster plan allows flexibility in the design and placement of open space for a sound physical transition from adjacent major thoroughfares.

The council can kill a cluster plan if it finds the development would be contrary to the health, safety and welfare of the development and established residential areas in the immediate vicinity, or if it would be contrary to the purpose of the cluster option, which is to maintain natural areas, topography and open space characteristics of a given area.

Solak confirmed that the present approval of the Ford property at 456 Lakeshore allowing cluster-type housing (18-two and three bedroom homes) helped spur the council into considering amending the current ordinance.

"The council had talked about amending parts of the ordinance earlier in the year," said Solak. "The Ford proposal provided more urgency to the situation. The Ford project is our first cluster housing. It raised some concerns as council members developed into it, specifically as far as site plans and size restrictions were concerned. Clarification of criteria was definitely needed."

With regard to site plans, the new zoning ordinance would include an overall map showing the parcel and surrounding property with one-half mile of the parcel including major and secondary streets; property and lot lines, and public and private streets of adjacent tracts of subdivided and unsubdivided property within 200 feet of the proposed development; location of existing sewers, water mains, storm drains and other underground facilities in the area; topography drawn at two foot contour intervals; preliminary landscaping plans and all computations relative to acreage and density plus typical building elevations and floor plans and any other details which assist in reviewing the proposed plan.

SPONSORS MUST also submit a written statement regarding the identity of persons who will hold title to open land, the identity of persons paying taxes, the proposed method of regulating the use of open land and the persons or corporations responsible for maintenance and the proposed financing for the maintenance and development of the property.

Shores voters will decide bond question

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Shores voters will go to the polls Tuesday, Dec. 14, to decide on a $1.3 million bond issue to renovate the village's 67-year-old municipal building.

A survey last week of 90 of the village's 2,480 registered voters showed a third of those polled were undecided. Forty said they approved of the renovation while 14 did not. Six voters did not want to discuss their positions.

Those who disapproved of the bond issue questioned the size and expense of the renovation. Other areas of the Shores could use work, they said. Another reason for opposition cited by respondents was the increased tax assessment the village would have to impose to pay for the bonds.

Village officials estimated taxes would increase between $1 and $1.35 per $1,000 state equalized value to pay for the 20-to-25-year bonds. A home with a SEV of $100,000 would pay $100 to $135 more in taxes a year.

Those who approved of the bond issue said the village offices needed to be modernized to cure space and structure defects in the aging building.

LAST AUGUST, a section of wet plaster ceiling in the village superintendent's office fell, destroying office equipment and memorabilia. The ceilings on the first floor are all the same type and can collapse, Shores officials said.

Another sore spot is the Shores lock-up. Two prisoners in two years have committed suicide in the cells, the most recent last July when a St. Clair Shores man hung himself by his shirt in the cell after being arrested by Shores police for drunk driving.

While the state has cleared the lock-up, Shores officials said it should be modernized to comply with present state standards.

While unsure of the turnout in Tuesday's election, village officials said the plans have sparked the community's interest.

"We have had a lot of people come in to look at the building," Assistant to Superintendent Michael Kenyon said, "and they all agree something needs to be done."

Village trustees approved the renovation in September and decided to go to the voters for approval of the issue in October. The Shores has been discussing renovation of the Albert Kahn designed building for several years, village President Gerald Schroeder said.

Renovation of the present building was decided on after the costs of splitting the offices between the current building and the Vernier School were considered. The other alternative was razing the present building and constructing a new one, which not only would cost more than the renovation, village officials said, but was undesirable because the present building is still usable.

Under the proposed renovation, a new ramped terrace, elevator, stairway tower and landscaping will be added to the front of the building. An entrance from Lakeshore and a parking lot will be put on the north side of the building.

The first floor will contain an enlarged council and court chamber and the public safety department. Municipal offices will move to the second floor and will be accessible by elevator or stairs.

In addition, the building will be brought up to operating plumbing and electrical codes. Shores officials said. New heating and cooling systems will also be added along with double-glazed insulation.

Water rates could fall

Something stranger than a 70-degree day happened last week.

The Detroit Water and Sewerage board announced decreases in the rates it charges the Park, Shores and Woods for water the cities use from Detroit. If approved, the rates would decrease the amount the cities pay for 1,000 cubic feet of water from between 41 and 29 cents.

At the same time, the Water and Sewerage Board announced sewer rates increases it charges other cities, which will partially offset the lowered water rates in the Pointes.

The Woods, Park and Shores all receive water from Detroit. The Farms and City use water pumped from the lake by the Farms.

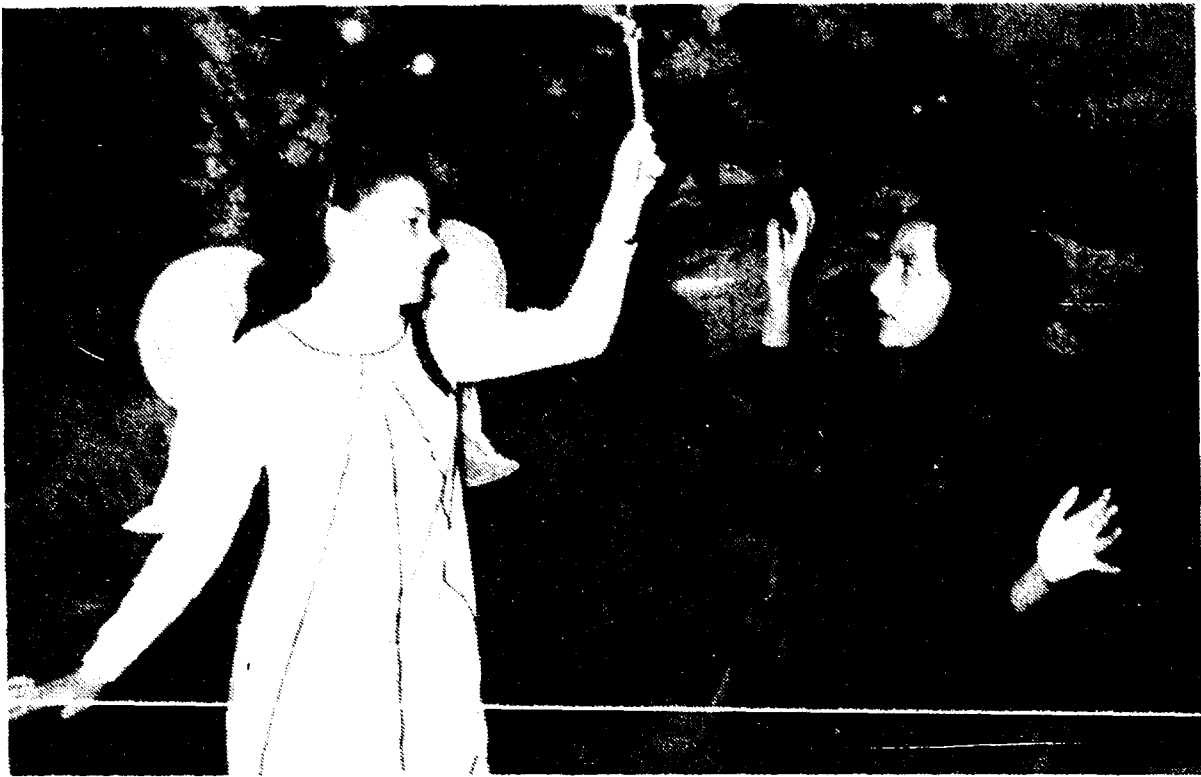

Under the proposed rates, which would take effect July 1, 1983, the Woods would get its second decrease in as many years. The rate charged the Woods would fall from $3 per 1,000 cubic feet to $2.69. The Shores, with the highest water rate in the Pointes, would decrease from $4.69 per 1,000 cubic feet to $4.40.

The Park, hit with a 24 percent increase earlier this year, would have its rate cut by Detroit from $4.01 per 1,000 cubic feet to $3.69 for the same amount next year.

THE WATER RATE decreases by Detroit were a result of usage studies done last summer, water officials said. Communities had cut their usage or cut their peak hour usage, the high demand time of day, and so lowered their rates, they said.

All the Pointes will be hit with a sewer rate increase July 1, 1983, water department officials said. The City and Farms will have their rate increased for 1,000 cubic feet of sewage from $5.99 to $6.39. The Park's sewer rate charged by Detroit will increase from $4.34 to $4.58. The Woods and Shores, part of the Wayne County Northeast District, will see sewer rate increases from the city of 21 cents for 1,000 cubic feet of sewage, from $4.34 to $4.55.

City officials were studying the proposed rates before deciding on rate changes for residents.

Children's Theater

Kids display talent in holiday shows

Grosse Pointe Children's Theater has two productions ready for the holidays. The first, "Sing Ho For a Prince," a musical fairy tale, will appear before Christmas. "Eeyore's Christmas Present" will hit the stage before New Year.

"Sing Ho" is based on the story of Sleeping Beauty by the Brothers Grimm. The three-act fantasy will star Heather Cross, Marla Kurz and Michelle Gasperut, who share the role of Treakle, the fairy story-teller. Jonathon Hammond and Nicole Buffo will appear as the bad fairy Hogal. Bill Genter plays Prince Valor and Sleeping Beauty is played by Kurz and Gasperut. Fifty other children round out the cast.

Shows at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. will be presented Saturdays, Dec. 11 and 18, at the Fries Auditorium of the War Memorial. Admission is $2.50 for students and $3.75 for adults. Groups of 10 or more can obtain special rates by calling 886-6152.

"Eeyore's Christmas Present" is a two-act musical taken from the story of Winnie the Pooh by A.A. Milne. Eeyore's friends search for his lost tail. Its return is his only wish for Christmas.

Leads in the show are played by: Jonathon Hammond as Pooh Bear, David Bryant as Rabbit, Mike Schoenith as Christopher Robin, Heather Cross as Owl, Tru Love as Kanga, Carey Crim as Roo, Michele Gasperut and Marla Kurz as Piglet and Bill Genter as Eeyore.

Showtime is Thursday, Dec. 30, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the Fries Auditorium in the War Memorial. Tickets are the same price as those for Sing Ho and may be obtained by calling the War Memorial at 881-7511.

Candles light MADD vigil

The Wayne County Chapter of Mothers against Drunk Driving (MADD) will hold a candlelight vigil Saturday, Dec. 11 at 9 p.m. in front of the City-County Building, Woodward and Jefferson. The names of those killed so far in 1982 in alcohol-related crashes will be read.

The group is urging concerned citizens and surviving victims of alcohol-related crimes to attend and bring with them a candle to be lighted during the vigil.

At the same hour across the nation, MADD's 92 chapters in 32 other states will hold similar vigils on the eve of the start of National Drunk Driver Awareness Week, Dec. 12 through 18.

The event was authorized by the U.S. Congress and proclaimed by President Ronald Reagan as a way to alert the public during the holiday season to the dangers of combining alcohol, drugs and driving. In Michigan, an average of two people each day are killed and 70 more injured in alcohol-related crimes on the highway.

The purpose of the vigil, MADD said, is to remember those who have been lost and to educate the public about drunk driving, to work to eliminate drunk drivers from the roads and to support the surviving victims.

During National Drunk Driver Awareness Week, the group encourages motorists to drive with headlights on to show their commitment to eradicating alcohol-related crimes and crashes from Michigan's roadways and by not drinking and driving themselves.

Jung group plans Sunday lecture

The Center for Jung Studies will sponsor a lecture, "Images of the Anima Today: An Exploration," Sunday, Dec. 12, from 2 to 4 p.m. at Miller Hall, Christ Church, 61 Grosse Pointe Boulevard.

The lecturer, Bea Reed, is a Jungian analyst and a graduate of the C. G. Jung Institute in Zurich. Using contemporary works by women writers, Ms. Reed will explore an updated version of the masculine spirit in women. The question, "If it isn't appearing as 'The Flying Dutchman' anymore, how is it appearing?" will be discussed.

The fee is $1 for members and $2 for non-members.

Membership in the Center for Jung Studies, a non-profit organization, is open to anyone interested in the psychology of Carl Jung. Call 885-8792.

Local test scores

tested on numeration, whole numbers, fractions and geometry. Tenth graders are tested on whole numbers, decimals, statistics and equations.

McCaig pointed out fourth graders, are in fact, tested on their knowledge of what they learned in the third grade since those students are quizzed only after a few weeks in school.

In looking at seventh grade scores, McCaig said it's misleading for someone to rank middle schools because those particular students were in the classroom only three weeks when they took the MEAP test.

"It's not a measure of anything. More appropriately, it is the outcome of basic skills that students acquired from schools that feed into the middle schools," McCaig said.

MEAP percentage scores represent the number of students who mastered at least 75 percent of the test objectives. For example, this year Defer fourth graders scored 81.1 percent in reading. Out of the 53 students who took the test, 43 students mastered at least 75 percent of the test objectives. McCaig said only 11 students were identified as needing remedial reading classes.

McCaig said parents from Ferry school stormed his office last year after the Grosse Pointe News published MEAP test scores showing Ferry as the lowest ranking elementary school in math and reading skills. He added that too often parents jump to the wrong conclusions when they see the low scores, many times pitting one school against another.

"Parents called me and asked why their tax dollars weren't being used. They think something's wrong," McCaig said.

This year Ferry's math and reading scores jumped considerably, McCaig said. "That's because we have a different group of students at Ferry this year."

School administrators use the MEAP scores to plot progress in the classroom, pinpointing those students who may need remedial help.

"Specifically, we look from year to year to see how we are progressing, where we need to develop more attention, more time, more effort and materials and then compare ourselves with the other top school districts," McCaig said.

ing glass windows to make the building more energy-efficient.

THE VILLAGE Hall was built in 1915, coming in under budget. The first village council meeting in the building was held Nov. 11 that year.

Voter approval would allow the Shores to levy taxes to cover the amount of the bond issue, state Municipal Finance Commission officials said. Without approval, the village would have to devise another plan that could call for general fund revenues to be applied to pay the issue.

After the election, the Shores will forward its request to the finance commission which will review it before deciding whether to approve the issue. The key to approval would be the ability to repay the bonds, finance commission officials said.

Shores officials, however, have been keeping a close eye on their current budget which they said is currently running in the red. Revenue shortfalls from property tax collections have hurt the village, officials said.

The Shores currently has two years debt left on a general obligation bond issue of 1976 to purchase the street light system. There are seven years of debt remaining on marina bonds. Marina bond principal and interest are paid from boat well revenues, not tax dollars, Shores officials said.

Chamber music Do you qualify for Social Security? at Memorial

An unusual opportunity to hear Baroque music performed by a small grouping of strings will be offered by the Grosse Pointe Chamber Music Players in a Christmas festival of music on Sunday, Dec. 12, at 2:30 p.m. at the War Memorial. Tickets at the door are $3.

The chamber ensemble consists of 12 musicians. Members of the Grosse Pointe Players will be joined by members of the Grosse Pointe Symphony, with John Gajec as guest conductor.

Playing the music of Bach, Hayden and Vivaldi will be Gerda Bielitz, Barbara Brownell, Ted Gudsen, Eugenia Scoville, Edward Vablos, Raymond De-meulenmeester, Catherine Goodsell, Pamela Ford, Jim Upstill, Helen Enlow, Suzanne Thomas and Tom Gilda.

Refreshments will be served following the concert.

People who work in Social Security-covered jobs earn credits for their earnings that are measured by quarters of coverage. These credits determine whether benefits will be payable when the person retires, becomes disabled or dies, according to James T. Mosler, district manager of the local office at 17420 Mack Avenue.

Self-employed persons and those who work for wages earn a quarter of coverage for every $340 earned in 1982. Income from self-employment counts for Social Security only if the net profit exceeds $400 a year. No more than four quarters of coverage can be credited for any year. This figure changes each year to reflect changes in wage levels.

The general rule is that one quarter of coverage is needed for each year after 1950 — or after the year the person turns 21 — whichever is later, up to the year the person becomes 62, to be eligible for benefits. However, no one ever needs more than 40 quarters of coverage to be eligible for benefits.

In regard to disability benefits, a person at least 31 years of age at the time he or she becomes disabled generally needs at least 20 quarters of coverage within the 10-year period ending when the disability began. Workers 43 or older need more credit. However, workers disabled before age 31 need fewer than 20 quarters of coverage.

Eligibility for Medicare hospital insurance is also partly dependent on quarters of coverage. People at least 65 years of age who are entitled to Social Security benefits are automatically eligible for Medicare hospital insurance. Those not eligible for payments can get hospital insurance by paying a monthly premium.

Cut your own Christmas tree

Whether it's a table-top sized pine or a giant Colorado blue spruce, there's a Christmas tree to match the home and budget of any family at one of Michigan's cut-your-own tree farms, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Michigan is the nation's leader in plantation Christmas tree production and this season families can pick from nearly one-half million evergreens at 59 choose-and-cut farms," stated Auto Club Travel Operations Manager James Drury.

Prices are generally unchanged for the second straight season, Drury said.

Prices for Scotch pines, the most popular variety, start at $2.50, 50 cents less than last year. The most exotic blue spruce and Douglas firs sell for up to $35, unchanged from a year ago.

Light farms listed on the Auto

Club's 1982 Cut-Your-Own Christmas Tree Guide sell trees by the foot, ranging from $1 to $5.

Families can select from 16 tree varieties, including common pines, concolor and French green firs and Black Hills spruce.

Some farms sell potted Christmas trees which can be planted outside later. Thirty-eight farms offer evergreens up to 30 feet tall.

If you are planning a trip to a choose-and-cut farm, the Auto Club suggests these tips:

- Bring a hand saw. Most farms lend saws, but bringing your own saves time if all are in use. Axes are banned.

- When choosing a tree, make sure the needles are flexible and do not come off easily. Most pines and Douglas firs hold needles while spruce and balsam trees shed.

- Saw the trunk close to the ground. If it is a Scotch pine, bounce it in the field to remove old needles. Some farms on the Auto Club's guide will mechanically clean trees of dead needles and other debris.

- Bring twine to tie trees to cars, although most farms have rope. Tie the tree's base at the front. Some farms will wrap trees for easy transport.

- After bringing the tree home, store it in a cool area. Before placing it in a stand, cut an inch or two off at the bottom and immediately place it in the stand filled with water. Check water level daily.

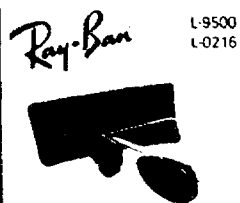

- Before decorating, check tree lights for bare wires and make sure electrical outlets aren't overloaded.

- Trees should be kept away from flames and heating ducts.

- Tree bags, available at many farms, help keep needle drop to a minimum when a tree is removed.

Take a bite out of crime

Patrick M. Fagan

With the Christmas season upon us, children — and even moms and dads — are preparing their traditional Christmas lists. After all, it is the time of giving.

Con men are also preparing some special holiday lists because for them it is the time for taking. Thus, with the advent of the Christmas season, flimflam artists attempt to convince people they are Santa's helpers in disguise in order to pull off some yule time con games and Christmas capers. However, unlike the Grinch who stole Christmas, their aim is not only to remove the joy from your heart, but also the "jingle" from your pocket.

Although the following could be considered a typical shopping list drawn up by a "holiday-spirited" flimflam artist, in reality, it is a list of schemes and con games to be aware of during this most joyous of seasons.

A gem of an idea — This rip-off can turn into a "jewel of an experience" for the unwary shopper who listens to the spiel of a con artist trying to make him believe that he has a "hot" diamond ring or bracelet for sale at bargain basement prices. With the consummate skill of a veteran stage actor, the con artist often goes through a complex routine — which characteristically might include frequent, furtive glances over the shoulder, shifting of weight from one foot to the other or speaking in rapid, frightened and sometimes even whispered tones — designed to convince the mark that he is talking to an actual thief who has "hot" merchandise he wants to unload quickly.

Unfortunately, for those who succumb to this "academy-award" performance, the last act takes place in the pigeon's home when he discovers that this "hot" buy is actually a "cool" piece of worthless glass.

An evening that smells — The fragrance of this great deal is quickly forgotten after the mark gets a real whiff of the rip-off that has just been pulled on him. This "sting" normally takes place at factory gates or in shopping center parking lots or malls, and the victims are usually men who have been convinced by the con man that they are buying expensive, well-known perfumes for wives or sweethearts at prices far below retail rates.

After giving the mark a whiff from an actual bottle of expensive perfume, in order to further convince the victim that he is buying the real thing or a chemically-perfect copy, at greatly reduced prices, he sells him a bottle whose label is a carefully misspelled version of the actual product. Sometimes the label may only have the first alphabetical letter of the name of the well-known perfume on it. Using either ruse, the victim is convinced by his glib-talking "perfume salesman" that this bottle of perfume — even by any other name — will smell as sweet as the original. The purchaser, if he is very lucky, exchanges his money for an imitation or watered down bottle of the original. More than not, the perfume vial he buys contains only colored water which usually leaves the victim in a "stinkin" mood.

The $13.95 goose — One of the most frequent capers carried out at this time of the year is the unsolicited C.O.D. package. Imagine, if you will, the following situation: A delivery van pulls up in front of your home and a uniformed driver comes to your door carrying a package addressed to your next door neighbor. The official-looking delivery man reports that your neighbor is not home and "would you mind accepting the package?" If you refuse, the driver explains, your neighbor will be compelled to go to the post office where she will have "to endure long lines of people in order to pick up the package." Furthermore, he explains, it contains a perishable item. Spoilage of the item and the long lines can be avoided, if you merely give him the $13.95 required for the C.O.D.

Being altruistic, you respond in the affirmative. The suspense of waiting for your neighbor to return is almost unbearable, and when she comes home, you dash over and announce that you have received for her package. The neighbor looks puzzled and indicates that no package was expected. The two of you rip open the package and contained therein is what appears to be the remains of a cooked goose; it is obvious whose goose was cooked on this caper. The lesson to be learned here is, don't accept for any packages, either yours or your neighbor's, unless you know the contents in advance.

Double trouble — For sheer ingenuity, this caper has no equal. Your wallet or your wife's purse containing her wallet is stolen while you are dining in a restaurant. You attempt to place the responsibility on the owner of the restaurant. However, he refers you to a sign that states in bold letters, "Not responsible for stolen property." Once you arrive home you receive a call from someone purporting to be the restaurateur, who now apologizes for his rudeness and states that your wallet was found in a trash can. Unfortunately all the money was gone. To soothe the wound, he invites you and your family to be his guest the next evening. He also mentions that he suspects one of his employees of being the thief. He instructs you to arrive at 7 p.m. and asks that you not mention the free accommodations until after you have dined because this same employee has been suspected of padding bills.

You proceed to the restaurant the next evening with visions of retrieving your wallet and getting a free dinner. However, simultaneous with your arrival at the restaurant, the swindler arrives at your home in a truck, and while you are filling your stomach, he is emptying your house. The piece de resistance is discovering the manager never made the telephone call and that the most expensive meals on the menu now must be paid for.

Charge card overcharge — Credit cards offer the unscrupulous employee the opportunity to make a quick buck. The next time you charge a purchase, keep this in mind. If the amount of the sale is, for example, $5, the employee could set the imprinter to record $15 on the top right hand corner of the charge slip. Even though the handwritten amount is $5, the charge slip will be processed for the greater amount, and if you are not in the habit of either carefully looking at the charge slip before you sign it or reconciling your statement at month-end, it could go undetected.

As a reminder this holiday season. Don't carry large amounts of cash on your person, rather use your credit card or pay by check. Don't leave your Christmas purchases in plain view in your car, lock them in your trunk.

League sets yule meeting

The League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe will hold its annual Christmas meeting at the Grosse Pointe Park home of Joan Hanpeter on Tuesday, Dec. 14, at 7 p.m.

There will be a brief general meeting followed by a report on the future organization of the Grosse Pointe public school system. Suzanne Suski, league president, has served on the schools' Citizens Advisory Steering Committee, which is studying the future direction of Grosse Pointe public schools. Frances Schonenberg, immediate past-president, is a member of the schools' facilities committee.

For reservations, call 331-1281 or 884-1958.

HFH names two local doctors

Two Grosse Pointe doctors have been named department heads at Henry Ford Hospital. Joseph D. Shore, Ph.D., has been appointed acting director of the department of research and H. Gunter Seydel was appointed chairman of Therapeutic Radiology.

Dr. Shore will oversee work of 40 full time scientific investigators and other physicians involved in almost 200 basic and clinical research projects.

Dr. Seydel, a former Fulbright Scholar, is a native of Berlin. In his new post he will oversee the department of therapeutic radiology which treats almost 18,000 patients a year.

This chart from the drain commission's study of local sewers shows where sewage and storm water flows — and overflows during rain storms. The Milk River Drainage Basin shown in the chart handles sewage from Grosse Pointe Woods and other east side suburbs but was not formally included in the study area.

City officials ponder Fox Creek problem

Representatives of all four cities said they plan to file formal responses to the study within the next two weeks.

Because of the cities' opposition to the project, it's doubtful if any of the expensive solutions to the overflow problem will be undertaken soon. Drain commission attorney Jeff Supowit said there are no federal funds available for such projects at present and he, too, doubted if any action would be taken in the near future.

BUT, IN the short term, there is the matter of a $559,830 bill from the engineering firm that spent the last nine years compiling the report. The federal government is responsible for 75 percent of that and the state picks up another five percent. The remaining $112,000 may be assessed to the four cities included in the study after another public hearing next year, according to a drain commission spokesman.

The study began in 1972 after Grosse Pointe City, Grosse Pointe Park and Detroit petitioned the drain commission for help. The issue at hand at the time was Fox Creek, a drain at the end of Ashland on the lower east side of Detroit. Residents of the Harbor Island neighborhood, as it is called, complained to the Park and Detroit about overflows at Fox Creek which occur on the average of four times a year when the Park's system is overburdened by rain. Fox Creek is a stagnant body of water and when raw sewage is dumped it stays in the creek for some time, building up a horrible smell and sometimes flooding the Harbor Hill area.

The Detroit residents' plight has been much publicized and in a 1981 editorial the Detroit Free Press called for the Pointes to clean up their act, noting "there is no special quality to Grosse Pointe Park's ordure that makes it interesting to the people living downstream. The stink has got to go. The storm overflow problem is a burden to Detroit and should be an embarrassment to the Pointes."

IRONICALLY, the Fox Creek itself was not included in the study of the project presented last week, on orders from the state Department of Natural Resources, according to Drain Commissioner Charles Youngblood. Although some of the study's proposed solutions to the Grosse Pointe overflow problems would decrease dumping at the creek, none would stop it entirely. Youngblood said problems at the creek are being treated in a separate project in Detroit.

The public hearing last week was just the first step in a long review process ahead of the facilities plan. After formal comments are submitted by the cities and members of the public, the plan will be reviewed by a drainage board including Youngblood, county auditor Ted Mrozowski and chairman of the board of commissioners Sam Turner. The board will decide which of the alternative solutions to endorse, a drain commission spokesman said, and then pass it on to SEMCOG (Southeast Michigan Council of Governments) for review. Then the plan will be submitted to the Department of Natural Resources and, finally, to the Environmental Protection Agency. If it passes all those stages the plan will be placed on the record for action if funds are available, according to the drain commission's attorney Supowit.

quirements facing the proposed development of the Shelden estate," said Solak.

"Most likely a decision will be made at the Dec. 20 hearing. It can be adopted at that point. If so, the new ordinance would become effective 20 days thereafter."

Local talent in 'Oliver'

Nineteen young people from the Detroit area appear in the Birmingham Theater's professional state production of the musical hit "Oliver," which runs through Sunday, Jan. 2. Write off Tax law revisions

By Michael Zieck

After considerable controversy, Congress passed the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 on Aug. 19. The act combines tax increases with tax-reform provisions to raise an estimated $100 billion in revenue over the next three years.

The act will affect a broad range of taxpayers since it modifies the tax rules governing such diverse areas as pension plans, corporate mergers and itemized deductions.

Q. The new act was written and approved in 1982, but will the new provisions apply to the 1982 tax year?

A. Fortunately no, most of the bad news does not become effective until 1983 and later. This will allow taxpayers time to analyze their tax position and take steps to minimize their tax costs in future years.

Q. Has the new act rescinded the individual tax rate reductions of the 1981 Economic Recovery Tax Act (ERTA)?

A. No, the new act does not affect ERTA's reductions in the individual tax rates. For example, the final 10 percent reduction is still scheduled to go into effect for individuals in 1983.

Q. How will the average taxpayer's liability be affected by this new act?

A. The act includes changes in the areas of medical expenses, casualty losses and unemployment compensation benefits.

The act increases the limitations on deductible medical expenses from 3 to 5 percent of adjusted gross income and eliminates the $150-per-year deduction for medical insurance premiums, which under prior law could be itemized as a deduction without regard to the minimum amount of medical expenses. These provisions are effective for taxable years beginning after Dec. 31. For taxable years beginning after 1983, the one-percent-of-adjusted-gross-income limitation on the deduction for drugs will be repealed so that drugs will be treated as regular medical expenses. However, drugs will include only insulin and prescription items.

The act limits the deduction for unreimbursed casualty losses and provides that the deduction will be allowed only to the extent that casualty losses for the taxable year exceed 10 percent of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income.

Unemployment compensation benefits are not subject to tax until the taxpayer's unemployment benefits and other income exceed a threshold level. For unemployment benefits paid after Dec. 31, 1981, the act reduces the total income threshold levels from $20,000 to $12,000 for single taxpayers, and from $25,000 to $18,000 for married taxpayers filing jointly.

Recovery on the horizon

Since mid-July Wall Street has been in the throngs of its greatest buying panic. As measured by the Dow Jones Industrial Average the stock market has risen close to 300 points. To our knowledge there's never been a rise from a bear market low to an all-time high without a single correction. But that's what we've seen since July. The structure is there for history to ponder.

What does this structure mean now for stock prices? This is a question we've constantly asked, and of course, no man alive can provide the answer with absolute certainty to that one. Advances like this one, however, usually run to exhaustion and the 1982 explosion in stock prices will be no exception. Straight-up moves, as this one, usually end in a spike-point top (we saw that in gold in 1980). Following the historic rise, we would expect either: 1) a severe shake out or 2) an extended decline which would wipe out one-third to one-half of the recent advance. This would send the market to a reactionary low of between 968 to 920.

Is this bull market for real? Will stock prices eventually go higher? Our answer is yes to both of these questions. Once the market under goes its first real correction which is now probably taking place, we expect the market to rise above its old high of 1065 and to move over 1100. The most important concept that investors should understand is that we are, most likely, in the early process of a super bull market. The reasons for this may not be quite clear to us at this time, however, if we realize that the stock market is a leading indicator of economic activity, at some point corporate earnings must improve to justify the big surge in stock prices.

It's our guess that by early next year economic activity should be expanding. That, in turn, will produce higher corporate earnings and, presto, everyone will at last understand what the market has been telling us the past two months.

Cancer Society is looking for volunteers

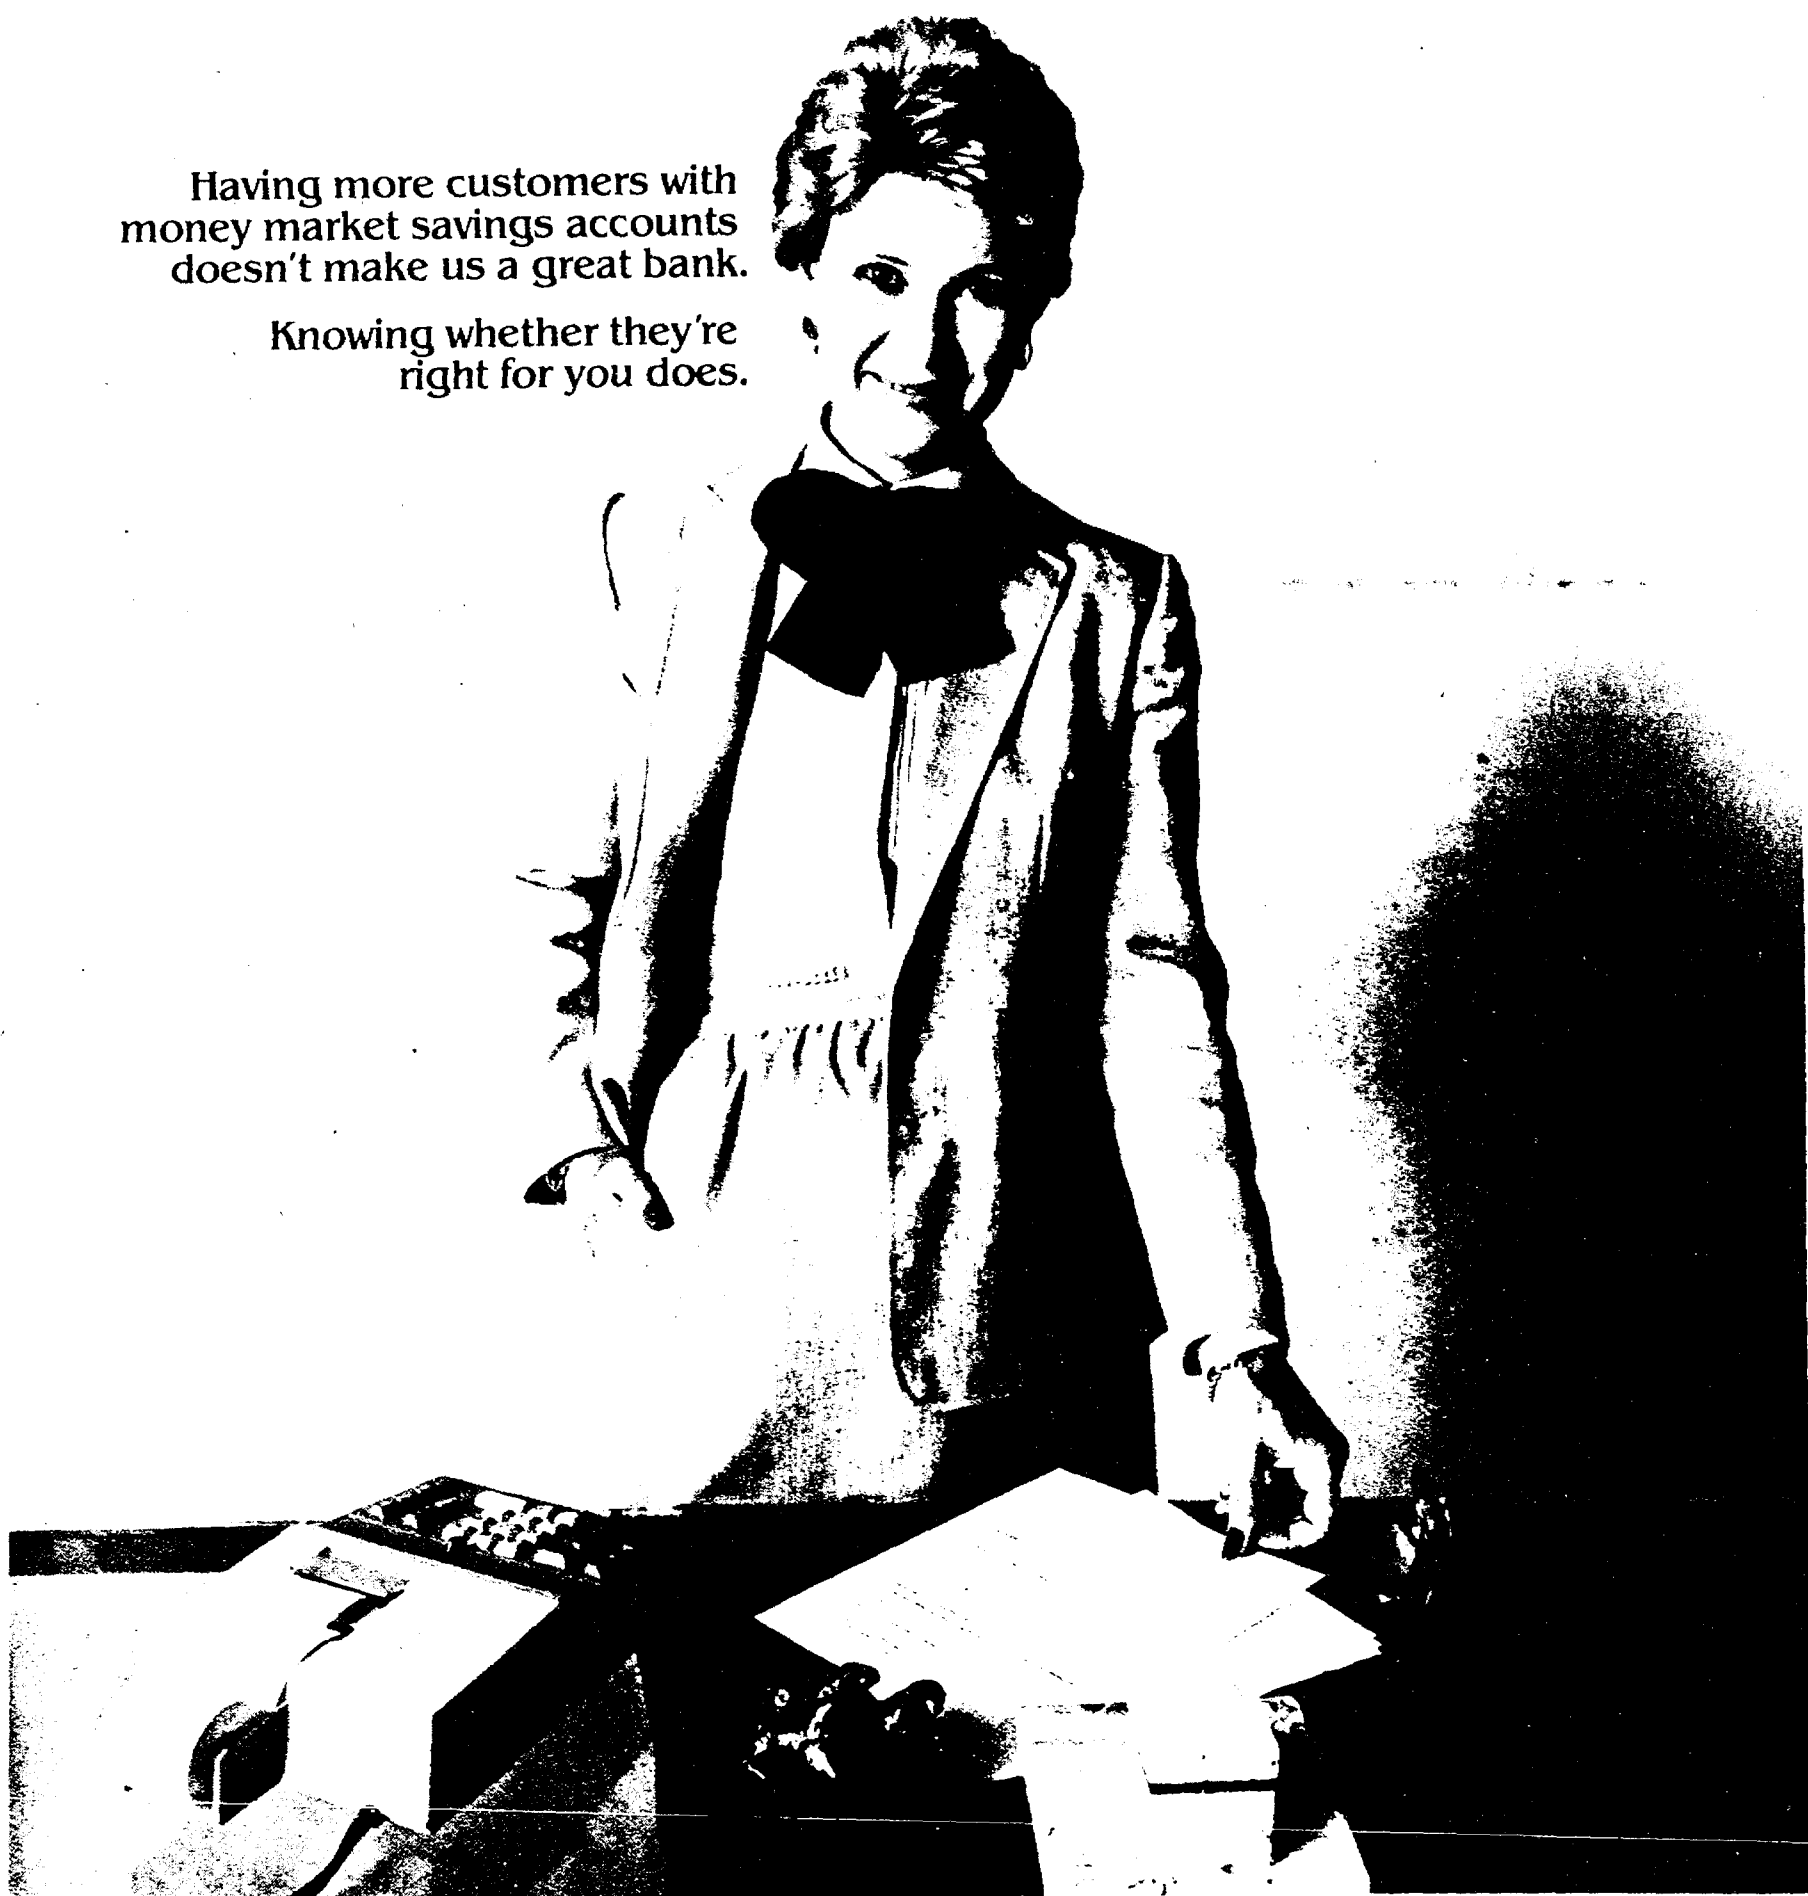

The American Cancer Society is looking for volunteers to help plan and organize cancer education programs in schools and business, provide assistance to cancer patients, coordinate fundraising, Christmas card and calendar sales and cookbook work. Society spokesman Phyllis Shepherd said.

The cancer society is considering the establishment of a Grosse Pointe unit. Ms. Shepherd said, but the location and the time of establishment are still unknown.

The society is seeking to establish interest among area volunteers before the location is announced, she said. For more information, call Ms. Shepherd or JoAnne Pepe at 557-5353.

Having more customers with money market savings accounts doesn't make us a great bank.

Knowing whether they're right for you does.

At NBD, we believe your investment in a money market savings plan should not only earn the highest return, but fit comfortably into your financial planning as well.

That's why NBD offers you a wide variety of these investments to choose from.

Like our new Money Market Bonus Account,* where your money is instantly available while still earning interest at a high money market rate.

Of course, you may prefer to put your funds into a money market certificate.

But, before you decide which one, it's important to consider how long your money will be tied up and how much you want to invest. Some money market certificates, for instance, mature in just 7 days, while others take as long as 3½ years. And depending on the plan, your minimum deposit could be as little as $10, or as much as $20,000.

But no matter what kind of money market savings plan you may have in mind, you can count on more than a wide range of smart investment options at NBD.

You can expect sound advice from a banker who knows how to help you make the right choice.

With NBD talent so close, why go anywhere else?

War Memorial launches '83 family campaign

"The Grosse Pointe War Memorial is a Gift," is the theme of the War Memorial's 1982-83 Family Participation Campaign launched in November.

A brochure has been mailed to all Grosse Pointe residents, explaining that the War Memorial is dependent on voluntary, tax-free contributions, they are kept to

IRS owes four Pointers cash

The Internal Revenue Service is trying to locate four Grosse Pointe residents who are due tax refunds from their 1981 federal income tax returns.

According to Charles A. Parks, IRS District Director for Michigan, 1,073 refund checks worth more than $412,000 were returned by the Postal Service as undeliverable in Michigan. The refund checks range from $1 to $10,000 and average almost $400, Parks said.

Internal Revenue believes most of these taxpayers moved or changed their last names during the year and failed to notify the Postal Service or the IRS.

Taxpayers should call the IRS at 800-482-0670 to claim their refund. Grosse Pointers whose refunds were returned marked "undeliverable" were Audrey M. Beirne, Sylvia M. Davenport, Christopher J. Kennedy and Charles A. and Elizabeth C. Scott, according to the IRS.

deductible contributions for approximately one-fourth of its annual budget and relies on the generosity of residents to support the programs which serve all members of the community, a spokesman said.

The original building and its grounds were a gift from the Russell A. Alger, Jr. family to Grosse Pointe. Since that time, gifts from the families of the five Pointe communities have maintained, supported and expanded the programs and facilities of the War Memorial.

The financial support, interest and skills of Grosse Pointe residents have created a place of beauty, a site for educational and cultural programs, a home for other non-profit organizations and a living tribute to those residents who have defended their nation, the spokesman said.

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial provides programs for every age group from pre-schoolers through senior citizens. Educational offerings include classes in the arts, foreign languages, crafts, films and travelogues. Lectures and exhibits are scheduled throughout the year. Volunteers associated with the War Memorial arrange for the loan of hospital equipment, transcribe books for the blind and make supplies for Children's Hospital and cancer patients. Many community groups use the War Memorial's facilities for meetings and activities.

The War Memorial publicizes its programs through an activity cards mailed to all residents. Where He died Wednesday, Dec. 1, after a long illness.

Born in Caseville, Mich., Mr. McKinley was a graduate of the College of Engineering at the University of Michigan. He served as a first lieutenant during World War I. He was a member of the Detroit Athletic Club and the Country Club of Detroit.

Mr. McKinley is survived by his wife, Eula; a daughter, Mrs. Catherine Carey and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Margaret Wadleigh

Services for Mrs. Wadleigh, 84, of the Pointe, were held Monday, Dec. 6, at Christ Episcopal Church, Detroit.

She died Thursday, Dec. 2, in Bon Secours Hospital.

Mrs. Wadleigh was past president of the Sigma Gamma Association and the Detroit Institute for Children. She was a member of the American Red Cross, the Junior League of Detroit and the University Club.

She is survived by a daughter, Margaret Stoepel; two sons, E. Guthrie Davis and Arthur Wadleigh; a sister; 13 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Arrangements were handled by the Verheyden Funeral Home.

Interment was in Elmwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Charlotte Auger Strouse

Memorial services were held recently for Mrs. Strouse, 79, formerly of the Pointe, late of St. Helena, Calif., at Grace Cathedral Church, St. Helena.

She died Wednesday, Nov. 24, in St. Helena.

Born in Ft. Wayne, Ind., she was the wife of Norman Strouse, former president and chairman of the board of the J. Walter Thompson advertising agency.

She graduated from old Liggett School and Pine Manor Junior College in Wellesley, Mass. Her first husband, an advertising executive, W. Stanley Holt, was a major in the Fifth Air Force and was killed in the Pacific Theater during World War II.

She married Norman H. Strouse in 1946 and later moved to New York City when he was named president of the agency. Upon retirement, the couple moved to St. Helena and realized a long held dream of establishing the Silverado Museum to contain the distinguished collection of books and memorabilia relating to the life and work of Robert Louis Stevenson.

Mrs. Strouse is survived by her husband, Norman; one son, W. Stanley Holt; two daughters, Mrs. Patricia Holt Bersford and Mrs. Johanna Holt Edwards; seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Silverado Museum, St. Helena, or the charity of your choice.

Simple. We want to be there when you're there.

We know the meaning and the importance of convenience. So do our customers. Especially those who spend all or a substantial part of the year in Florida, and those of you who are thinking of retiring to Florida soon. And that's why we've recently opened NBD Trust Company of Florida in West Palm Beach.

We're prepared to handle all of your trust needs, no matter where you are in Florida. Our officers can set up new trusts, transfer an existing trust, help with estate planning, offer tax advice and manage portfolios quickly and conveniently. You'll have the support and experience of National Bank of Detroit behind you, too, via a computer terminal linking us to NBD's Trust Division.

Our parent company NBD Bancorp, Inc., with assets exceeding $12 billion, operates NBD Trust Company of Florida with the same expertise as National Bank of Detroit. And that's important to know. NBD is on the leading edge of new banking and communication technology such as in-home banking. Through the combined capabilities of NBD and its affiliated Florida trust company, customers are given a level of service and convenience heretofore unavailable.

NBD Trust Company of Florida is there to help with your trust needs in Florida and in Michigan. For information or to arrange an appointment, please call John F. Fralick at (305) 659-0800 today.

Fund assists needy with bills

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. has allocated $2 million to fund a heating assistance program that will be administered by the southeastern Michigan chapter of the Red Cross, it was announced last week.

The program, called "Red Cross Heat Bank," is geared to help persons who meet low income guidelines and are 60 years or older or handicapped and disabled. Michigan Consolidated customers will be eligible for assistance beginning Dec. 15.

Customers who need help with their bills should call the gas company at the customer service number printed on each bill. The company will first help customers check out other possible sources of assistance then make referrals to Red Cross, according to a company spokesman.

Michigan Consolidated "is well aware that the depressed economy in Michigan and increased natural gas costs have created a double burden for many of our customers," said its chief executive Robert W. Stewart. "The heat bank is not the ultimate solution. It is, however, a means of helping primarily senior citizens and the handicapped through this winter."

Customers must first exhaust all other means of assistance and demonstrate an effort to work with the company to resolve their billing problems in order to qualify, he added.

The program will be cancelled when the $2 million allocated by the gas company is exhausted. Continuance will hinge on donations from civic groups and the general public, the company said. The heat bank is not part of the normal program of Red Cross services funded by the United Foundation and United Way. Donations may be made out to the Red Cross "Southeastern Heat Bank" and mailed to Red Cross Heat Bank, in care of MichCon, P.S. Box 900, Detroit, 48268.

Poll reveals concern for school financing

By Dr. Kenneth Brummel Supt. of Schools

As he has done every year for the last 14 years, public opinion pollster George Gallup has published the results of his annual poll of the Public's Attitude Toward Public Education.

Perhaps as a sign of the economic mood of the country, Gallup's latest poll shows an increased concern with the financial support given to public schools. The 14th annual poll reveals that 22 percent of those interviewed now regard financing as a major problem for their local schools, compared with only 12 percent who had the same opinion last year.

In the poll's results, released by Phi Delta Kappa, the professional education fraternity, Gallup notes that, "If Congress listened to the people, public school education would receive far more money from the federal government than it presently does."

However, those polled noted that they wouldn't want the federal government to exercise more influence on local education programs despite their opinion that it should increase financial support. In fact, 54 percent of those polled would like to see less influence by the federal government.

If schools are forced to cut because of financial difficulties, 76 percent of the respondents would be against saving money by increasing class size. People also oppose reducing special services such as speech, reading, and hearing therapy; cutting after-school activities such as band, clubs and athletics; and reducing instruction in the basics. The 1982 poll shows that the public would like to have public schools spend more money on helping students with learning problems than on students who are considered gifted. However, about one-half of the respondents prefer that as much money be spent per capita in educating the average student as on either the gifted student or those with learning problems.

Although there is growing concern about finances, that problem received fewer mentions than discipline, which has been at the top of the problem list in every Gallup education poll, except the 1971 one, when financing was first.

In this year's poll, 54 percent interpreted the discipline problem to mean failure to obey rules and regulations, and respondents would like to see students give more respect to teachers and recognize their authority.

Seven in 10 persons considered discipline problems in the schools as "serious" or "fairly serious," and 63 percent of those interviewed feel that discipline problems are the reason for many teachers leaving the profession.

Fortunately, our public schools don't reflect the degree of concern for these two problem areas that appear to be so prominent in the 1982 Gallup poll. That doesn't mean that we don't have some financial concerns and some discipline problems, but in comparison with schools across the country, our school system is in sound financial condition and serious discipline experiences occur only with a small fraction of our students. Those conditions are the result of the strong support that Grosse Pointe has given to its public schools over the years.

We have said many times that our community and its schools are unique and in comparison with Gallup's findings about the concerns of people across the country for their schools, we can be very thankful for this uniqueness.

Liggett hosts Indian dancer

University Liggett School Upper Division modern dance students and Lower Division fourth graders recently enjoyed a lecture-demonstration by Mirani Srirama.

Ms. Srirama, an instructor at the University of Michigan and Washtenaw County Community College, illustrated ancient forms of worship through dance. She performed various body movements to show the art of storytelling as an important part of East Indian dance.

Ms. Srirama also presented a slide show including different programs of her creation, some of which contributed to her recent performance for the United Nations General Assembly. Introduced by Jennifer Noyer, ULS modern dance instructor, Ms. Srirama's visit was presented by the ULS Department of Creative and Performing Arts.

In a ceremony on November 8, 54 South High School students were inducted into the National Honor Society.

Seniors must have a grade point average over 3.0 and junior applicants over 3.5. Students are required to have qualities for leadership, perform volunteer services and be involved in school and community activities. The applications are then screened.

The new junior members are Jennifer Ames, Megan Bonnani, Jeffrey Bosley, Gunther Brinkman, Karen Campbell, Louis Charbonneau, Helenanne D'Alessandro, Ranya Dajani, Kathryn Eckel, Karen Fellows, Wendy Flynn, Amy Gaskin, Katherine Hein, Jennifer Hoeting, Kim Hudson, Kristen Kelly, Thomas King, Mathew Lane and Eric Loudermilk.

More junior members are Scott Miller, Christopher Morlan, Erik Nicholson, Hague Ollison, Lydia Pallas, Julie Parker, Bradford Peterson, Sara Peterson, Elizabeth Prost, Brian Rathsburg, Kathleen Reid, Kevin Roberts, Frances Thompson, Lisa Tucker, John Williamson, Carol Wolski, Martha Young and Mary Zinn.

Junior, Hague Ollison is the newly-elected NHS vice-president. The other officers, who were elected last spring, are President Ken Fromm, Secretary Alexis Feringa and Treasurer Ryndy Dilmars.

— By Laurie Smith

Thirty-four seniors and thirty-seven juniors were inducted into the North High School Chapter of the National Honor Society on Nov. 29.

Guido Regelbrugge, sponsor of the chapter, introduced the speakers of the evening, including Dr. Kenneth Brummel, superintendent of schools, who spoke on "Looking Ahead". G. Bruce Feighner, North's principal, officially inducted the new members at the completion of the roll call by Mary Amluxen, chapter president.

A reception for the honored students followed, hosted by the school's Parent Club.

New members are seniors William Aro, Margaret Barrett, Keri Bates, Ronald Clogg, Julie Cole, Scott Cooper, Jacquelin DeCosmo, Pamela Frederick, Gayle Gagliardi, Pauline Heffernan, Elizabeth Hoffman, Sandra Jayakar, Lisa Kibler, Jill Knapp, Michelle Krembel, Susie Lee, Evelyn Lucido, and Jennifer Lugo.

Other senior members are Sharon Malley, Kristen Marco, Tracy McKibbin, Mirko Mikelic, Margery Miller, Robert Moesta, Christine Mourad, William Osler, Laurie Peters, Paul Regelbrugge, Theresa Ruswick, Kamel Saglik, Ronald Sattler, Joseph Schmidt, Janet Simon and Maribeth Simon.

Other junior members are Frank Martilotti, Allison McNeill, Cheryl Mott, Daniel Norey, Jill Ohorodnik, Julie Parise, Marlene Preisz, Raoul Rayos, Scott Reimer, Timothy Sheridan, Thomas Spezia, Julie Tazzia, Amy Treder, David Waldeck, Patricia Weber, Janet Wesselmann, William Wiebelhaus, Stacie Williams and Roberta Willison.

ULS debaters score record

University Liggett School debaters participated in a two-day tournament at Wayne State University Nov. 19 and 20, and came out with a successful record. Three of the five teams made the elimination rounds.

The novice team composed of Fred Chang, Carolyn Seydel, Robert Niccolini and Mike Brozowski won first place after semi-final and final rounds. The other novice team with Carol Ling, Ronald Woo and Mike Henen on the affirmative and Anita Gugala and Chris Liakonis on the negative reached the semi-finals where they lost on a very close split decision. Out of the six novice speaker awards, ULS received four: Mike Brozowski, top novice speaker, Fred Chang, second place, Robert Niccolini, fourth place and Chris Liakonis, fifth place.

Final chapter of 'demonstration house' story

Commission from the sale of the controversial little house at 1094 Lakepointe was turned over to the Park Beautification Commission last month by members of the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Exchange.

Realtors John Pierce and Kathleen Clawson presented a check for just over $2,000 to commission chairman Maria Valente. The money represents the broker's commission on sale of the house to private owners and is to be used at the discretion of the commission for a project in the city.

The house became the center of controversy back in 1979 when the city of Grosse Pointe Park purchased it from HUD and announced plans to use a $50,000 grant from the agency to rehabilitate it. The "demonstration house" project was designed to show the community what type of work could be accomplished in the city's older neighborhoods under the federal program.

The project was opposed, however, by a group called Proud of the Park (POP) which alleged it would open the doors to federally financed low income housing projects in the Park. POP campaigned heavily on that issue in the city's 1979 elections and one of its members, Anthony Spada, won a seat on the council.

The city proceeded to make basic repairs to the house and "demonstrated" the work to the community in a number of open houses. All its mechanical systems, including heating, wiring and plumbing, were replaced. Walls were repaired and painted. New cabinets were installed in the kitchen and bath and carpeting was installed. On the exterior, landscaping and concrete were also put in. According to the city records, just over $50,000 was spent on the project. The house sold for about $41,000.

The Real Estate Exchange was called in to market the house and transfer of the commission check last month ended its involvement with the project.

Mrs. Valente said the beautification commission will decide this month how to use the funds. "I can say at this time that two real priorities are the replacement of shade trees lost during the last year and the purchase of a sign for the Jefferson entrance to Grosse Pointe Park," she said.

Other members of the commission are Frank Gildea, Doris Miller, Thomas Arbaugh, Vanna DeDonna, Ann MacDonald, Frank Rumano and Mary Romig. City council representatives to the commission are Mayor Pro-Tem John C. Prost and Carroll Evola. John V. Sheoris represents the city planning commission and James Ellison, director of public service, is the administrative representative.

DYRs will sponsor New Year's Eve fete

Detroit Young Republicans will be co-hosting a New Year's Eve Party with Oakland County Young Republicans.

The cost is $30 per person, pre-paid. This includes open bar, continental breakfast, hot buffet, party favors and food and refreshments available throughout the evening.

Music will be provided by a 10-piece band and the location is Porter Street Station, 1400 Porter near downtown Detroit. Dress code is suits or sport coats for men, skirts, dresses, or dressy pants for women. No jeans wearers admitted. Call DYR's hotline at 961-3665 for details to reserve tickets.

Realtor John Pierce presents a check for more than $2,000 to Maria Valente, chairman of the Grosse Pointe Park Beautification Commission while Park Mayor Douglas Graham and Realtor Kathleen Clawson, look on. The check represents commission to the broker on the sale of 1094 Lakepointe, the city's HUD-financed "demonstration house." Ms. Clawson is secretary of the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Exchange, of which Pierce is also a member.

Burglar hits two homes

A distinctive foot-print leads Park police to believe one man broke into two Park homes last week. Nothing was reported missing by residents after either breaking and entering.

The resident of a house on the 1200 block of Yorkshire Road told police someone had entered the home between 1 p.m. on Nov. 28 and 11 p.m. on Nov. 29. Police chief Henry Coonce said the thief entered through a basement window and exited by the front door.

A house in the 1300 block of Kensington was thoroughly ransacked sometime between 5 p.m. on Nov. 28 and 5 p.m. on Nov. 30, according to police reports. Entry was gained by breaking a window in a side door and forcing an inner door, Coonce said.

Park sets fees for lights

Beginning next spring, tennis players who use the city-owned courts at Windmill Pointe Park at night will have to pay $2 a hour for lights because of action taken by the Park City Council, Monday, Nov. 22.

The court lights will be metered before the spring season begins, according to City Manager John Crawford. They will operate from quarters. A dollar bill changer will be installed at the park's gatehouse for players' convenience, he said.

A solar-powered audio tombstone plays back the voice of the deceased from a recording to any grave visitor who pushes the button. It costs about $10,000.

In matters muscular, there's only one strength exercise in which a woman can compete with a man — the dance.

It's a documented fact that in pro baseball now more players chew sunflower seeds than chew tobacco.

FLEC seeks volunteers for alcohol awareness counseling

Family Life Education Council (FLEC), the east side volunteer social service agency, will begin the 1982-83 Alcohol Awareness Program during the week of Monday, Dec. 13, according to Pat Manthe, chair of the committee.

High school juniors and seniors will have the opportunity to sign up as volunteers for the program during school lunch hours as FLEC representatives will be available in the high schools for recruitment.

This is the seventh year FLEC has sponsored the program. In the training course, professionals cover the physiology, psychology, and pharmacology of alcohol; highway safety and alcohol; Alcoholics Anonymous and Alanon; peer group pressure and alcohol; alcohol and other drugs; and group leadership techniques. In March and April of 1983 the participating high school volunteers will lead discussions with the fifth, sixth and seventh grade students in area schools, regarding alcohol use and abuse.

Of the 55 students trained in the 1981-82 program, 37 juniors and seniors led the discussions with 1,400 fifth, sixth and seventh grade students in 12 participating schools. In addition, the program was presented to 225 students and parents at three other schools. Additional programs, "Drinking Driving" and "Drugs Other Than Alcohol," Roles Individuals Play in the Alcoholic Family," "Preventing Alcohol and Drug Abuse in Pre-Teens and Teens," and a "Teen Panel" were presented to 435 other individuals in various parent and student groups.

Family Life Education Council believes alcohol is a part of each child's life. They use the example set by their parents, the natural inclination to experiment, the insecurities associated with growing up and the strong influence of peer group pressure and the media. They need the support system which makes the facts available as well as tools for values clarification and good decision making, FLEC said.

Adult volunteers also are needed for the program, which will run through the 1982-83 school year, according to Rebecca Reedus, executive director of FLEC. Those interested in becoming a part of the prevention program should call the FLEC office Monday through Friday at 885-3510.

'Heaven Can Wait' hits North stage

"Heaven Can Wait," the romantic, comedy-fantasy which starred Warren Beatty, will be presented Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Dec. 9, 10, and 11 at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center, 707 Vernier Road. There also will be a 2 p.m. Saturday matinee.

Heaven, a mansion and a fight arena have been designed by director, Gael Barr, and the Performing Arts Center's technical director, Kim Kirkpatrick. Independent study students Peggy Barrett and Gregg Preston have been in charge of props and building.

ULS will offer dance concert

Dance students at University Liggett School will perform when the Department of Creative and Performing Arts presents a special "works-in-progress" dance concert titled "Dynamometer" at the Cook Road auditorium Friday, Dec. 10, beginning at 8 p.m.

The program, under the direction of dance instructor Jennifer Noyer, will exhibit the various stages of the ULS dance program, including Middle School performers, beginning Upper School dancers and the advanced Upper School dance troupe Elan.

A variety of works will be performed, including a series of dance improvisations to selected musical instruments and the debut of an original score titled "City Suite" by Andreas Drath which will be choreographed by Upper School students Colleen Darby and Cynthia Kler.

Tickets for the hour-long concert are available at the door, or can be obtained by advance by contacting ULS at 884-4444.

North High

Parents' Club

By Brad Tisdale

The officers of the parents' club at North High School meet once a month to discuss their plans and upcoming programs that support the 1,260 families at the school. I will try each month to focus on some part of their work. This column, I hope, will allow the parents' club a forum for review of the key issues discussed by the board, exposing the public to those discussions and decisions. More importantly, this can be a feedback mechanism for the reader ... do you agree with the plans and support the direction of the programming ... or do you have alternatives?

Club officers meet in the commons of North High School usually on the third Monday of the month. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. and normally runs until 10 p.m. Due to the Christmas break, the December meeting will be held on Dec. 13. All North parents are welcome to attend.

The club is comprised of parents of the 1,260 families making up North High School. Membership costs $5 per year and the funds are used to support diverse student activities. This year only 33 percent of the parents have joined the club with the enrollment goal set at 50 percent. Interested parents should send their membership fee to David and Suzanne Deacon, Grosse Pointe North Parents' Club, 707 Vernier Road, Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich. 48236.

This year the parents' club has added a significant dimension to its work. In addition to the traditional focus of fundraising, the foreign exchange program, scholarships and graduate study support, the organization is committed to student life enrichment. The negative influences that tear away at the positive shields of the education process can be tragic. Part of the solution is the recognition that even a privileged community like Grosse Pointe is susceptible to decay. Substance abuse, a lack of family direction and support, along with teenager apathy to the opportunities that the high school environment offers are part of the reality. Certainly, our problems are not as great as many other communities, but any sign of cancer must be treated.

The Substance Abuse Community Council, the local group which brought David Toma to speak to us about substance abuse, is part of the way we can "self-inspect" the environment of our children. The parents' club at North will continue to search for ways to assist our youth. Some of the efforts will be exposure to dangers of ignorance. Others will take a polar approach and offer alternatives that provide healthier directions.

The board has committed monies and energy to enhance the campus like at North. A committee has been formed, and it is chaired by Joe and Linda Karle to find solid continuing ways to enrich the emotions and intellectual growth of our students. The work is now in the formation stage with the development of strategies and objectives. We'd like to know what you think ... how you would channel money and programs for the enrichment of the North student.

Help us set policy, set a direction and establish a meaningful program.

On behalf of the North High School parents' club, member Brad Tisdale will write a monthly column about the club's activities and goals. Letters to him may be sent to Education Writer Joanne Goulet, Grosse Pointe News, 99 Kercheval, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236.

"Aren't you Charley Manos... the columnist?"

"No, I am Bill McCourt, the Grosse Pointe businessman. I sell shoes. Charley sells the news." But the question is raised quite often because Charley and Bill look alike. Both Grosse Pointe residents, they're about the same height, slightly chubby, round faced and both like to wear captain-sized Greek sailor caps. The pair got together last week for holiday fun and games and the picture above. Who is who? If you're one of the first 100 youngsters to show up at Mr. McCourt's in the Village with the right answer, you will receive a copy of Charley's book, "The Patch in Santa's Pants" with illustrations by Larry Wright, according to the real Mr. McCourt. Charley has been playing Santa with some 700 copies of the book that remained from the 10,000 published in 1980 and has given them to youngsters at Capuchin Soup Kitchen, St. Francis Home for Boys and St. Clair Shores Police Toys for Tots. "It's a small world," said McCourt. "As a boy, I spent three years at St. Francis Home."

SOC introduces new officers

New officers and members of Services for Older Citizens (SOC) were introduced by newly-elected president Fran Schonenburg to the board of directors at its November meeting.

New to SOC are Albert Couvreur, Theodore Fleming, William Montgomery, John Schonenburg, Jr., Gerald Fouchey, Harold Jensen, Mary Wilmes, Theresa Mon-sour and Betty Allor.

SOC's other officers are: Dr. Max Gardner, first vice-president; Mary Evelyn Self, second vice-president; Howard Hush, third vice-president; Frank Dillon, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas Coulter, corresponding secretary; and Arthur Bodeau, treasurer.

SOC provides general information linking persons 60 years and older and their families to a variety of community agencies and services by calling 882-9600.

The food and friendship program meets daily at 11 a.m. at Brownell Middle School, 260 Chal-fonte. The program is designed to help serve the nutritional and social needs of seniors in a group setting. Call 882-5699 for more information.

The Minor Repairs and Chores program provides minor home repair services to people at least 60 years old who live in the Harper Woods-Grosse Pointe areas and have low to moderate incomes. This number is 884-2790 for more information.

SOC is non-profit corporation of residents in Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods. The senior citizen office at Ferry School, 748 Roslyn, can provide more information. The phone number is 882-9600. Calls are kept confidential.

ULS art head frames issues

Edward Jacomo, chairman of the University Liggett Department of Creative and Performing Arts, recently attended the 47th annual conference of the Educational Records Bureau in New York City.

The purpose of his appearance was to present information regarding the status of arts education in this country, and to urge adoption of policies which would give students academic credit for their arts work.

Jacomo said that national assessment test scores indicate that only 70 percent of all seventh graders in this country can distinguish between two-dimensional and three-dimensional objects. He added many high school students are unable to talk about art because they lack the vocabulary.

South schedules five year reunion

The South High Class of 1977 will hold a five-year reunion Sunday, Dec. 26, from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. at the Roostertail.

Tickets are $15 in advance or $17.50 at the door. The price includes an open bar, hors d'oeuvres and music. Advance ticket purchase is recommended by the reunion organizers.

For more information, call 885-4638 between 6 and 10 p.m., or 372-6842 from 1 to 4 p.m.

Business group elects officers

The Grosse Pointe Business and Professional Association of Mack Avenue, Inc. elected officers and members of its board of directors at the group's annual meeting Tuesday, Nov. 16, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Officers for 1983 are Ann Midgley, president; Dr. Edward Kane, DDS, vice-president; Lee Meyer, treasurer; The Rev. Robert Linthicum, secretary; and Richard Dunn, corresponding secretary.

Named to the association's board of directors were Al Adams, the immediate past-president of the group, Angelo DeClementi, Sharon DeGrick, Vern Van Kehrberg and Jim Koukios.

Hospital, Neighborhood Club offer blood pressure testing

Bon Secours Hospital and the Neighborhood Club are working together to provide free blood pressure screening on the third Tuesday of every month from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Neighborhood Club.

Specially trained hospital volunteers will provide blood pressure screening, free of charge, to interested persons. This service is not meant to take the place of regular visits to a personal physician, the hospital said.

Free blood pressure screening is also available in the Bon Secours Hospital lobby from 2 to 4 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Studies by the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute show that local screening programs like Bon Secours' are educational.

They teach participants the risk of high blood pressure which include increased risk of heart attack, stroke and kidney failure, the hospital said.

For more information about Bon Secours Hospital's screening program, call 343-1668.

Seniors learn stock market

By Liz Weber
University Liggett

Suddenly you're rich. You have $100,000 to invest in a mythical investment portfolio. And you also have the tools to chart the course of your investments to gauge your profits or your losses.

This is the experience selected seniors at University Liggett School are having since they began Mary Remillet's Applied Economics class. One segment of the class is concerned with personal financial planning, which includes the study of financial market operations. To aid this study ULS has purchased a Dow Jones software package which permits students to receive printouts of current market prices.

According to Ms. Remillet, ULS history department chairman, after receiving their portfolios, the students are asked to define specific program goals: security, income and growth. They then select stocks, bonds or other investments that are consonant with their stated goals.

Once selections are made, the Dow Jones Investment Portfolio program gives an instant feedback on the success or failure of their investment strategies, said Ms. Remillet. The Apple program contracted from Dow Jones, allows storage, modification and updating of up to 100 individual portfolios of up to 50 stocks each.

Students will operate their programs for the balance of the semester, said Ms. Remillet, learning investment theory and practice. Students find the exercise attractive, and, according to class-member Diane Alcantara the program is fun. "I'm making money so far. Last night my stocks went up so now I'll see what happens."

City man found dead in his home

A 27-year-old Grosse Pointe City man was discovered dead in his home Saturday, Dec. 4, apparently from a drug overdose, according to police and the Wayne County Medical Examiner's Office.

Timothy Arthur Duhaime, of Cadieux Road, was found unconscious in bed by his mother about 1 p.m., according to police. Police said Duhaime earlier told his mother he had smoked a marijuana cigarette when he arrived home about noon. Duhaime's mother told police he son appeared to be sleeping at about 1 p.m., but when she tried to wake him up for work, he would not respond.

According to Det. Sgt. John Drummond, an autopsy on Duhaime showed he died of a narcotic overdose. The county Medical Examiner's Office could not determine what kind of drug killed Duhaime, Drummond said.

Man charged in store theft

Quick work by Farms and Park police resulted in the arrest of a man accused of stealing a garage door opener from the Sears store at Moross Road and Mack Avenue.

Two persons in the store told Farms police they noticed a man loitering near the garage door openers and alerted security personnel.

Reports said the man picked up an opener and walked from the store without paying for the item valued at $270. Once outside, the man entered a blue Plymouth Duster and left the parking lot. As the car drove by, one of the complainants broke the rear window of the vehicle.

Farms police put out an alert and Park Sgt. Randall Cain and Sgt. David Hiller spotted the car on Maumee Road.

The vehicle was pulled over at Maumee and Kensington. A young woman was driving the car. The alleged thief was sitting on the passenger's side with the garage door opener on his lap, according to police reports.

William John Barbier, of Fairport Road, Detroit, was arraigned on one count of larceny from a building on Saturday, Nov. 13. He was freed on a $5,000 personal recognizance bond. His woman companion was not charged.

No change in crime rate

The crime rate in Grosse Pointe Park has remained steady so far this year compared to last year, according to a monthly report by Police Chief Henry O. Coonce. The report accounts for auto theft, burglary, robbery, aggravated assaults and rape through October of this year. The total number of reported serious crimes was 634, compared to 633 at the same time last year.

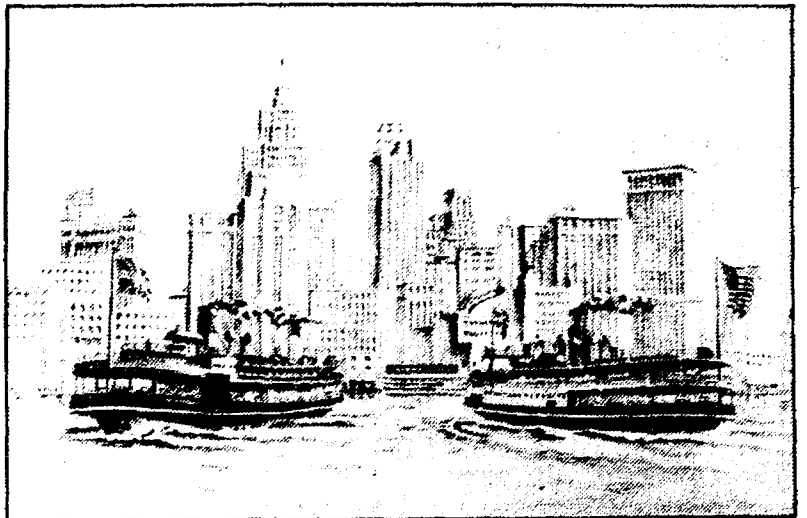

So far this year, Park citizens have reported 59 auto thefts, 109 burglaries, 11 aggravated assaults, 30 robberies, and three rapes, according to the report. Rape and robbery were the only categories to show significant increase. There was only one rape reported by October of 1981, and only seven robberies.

Of the 59 autos reported stolen in the Park this year, 13 have been recovered, according to Coonce.

In addition to more than 600 crimes, the Park police department responded to some 617 "non criminal" calls from residents, the report says.

Based on the statistics about fatalities within 24 hours of birth, optimists say: "I've already survived the most dangerous day of my life, the first day." They're wrong. The most dangerous day of life is the last day.

Wolves in sheep's clothing

Nobody expected that the adoption of the charter by Wayne County would herald the arrival of the millennium but even before the reorganization becomes effective it is clear that the same old politics are being practiced by some of the same old politicians who put the county so far in the red.

THAT OPINION is based on the preparations being made by Sheriff William Lucas, the new county executive, and the new county commission for the introduction of the reorganized government on Jan. 1, 1983.

The new commission of 15 members, cut back from the current 27-member board, has already authorized an increase in the size of its staff on the assumption that it will have more, not less work to do, because each commissioner will serve a larger area and a large constituency. In a meeting last week, the new board authorized the development of office space plans which would include a separate office for each commissioner, plus adjacent office space for two staff personnel for each member.

That would mean, if all 15 members took advantage of this opportunity, a staff of 30 people as contrasted with the six-person secretarial pool which the 27 commissioners currently share. So much for reform and for the efforts to cut the cost of county government, as far as the county commission is concerned.

The fact is, of course, that the new commission will be simply a legislative body and will not have the direct voice in the day-to-day operation of county government that the old board expressed. Instead, the new county executive will become the county's administrative head and will take over most of the administrative responsibilities currently assumed by the board of commissioners. So the talk about the new commissioners having more work to do is simply political flim-flam.

FORTUNATELY, Lucas senses that the new commission is trying to establish itself in a stronger position and, in effect, seeking to keep as much power as possible. Thus Lucas does not buy the line that the new commission should be a full-time body and, instead, believes it should be a part-time commission.

"I was not consulted," Lucas told the Detroit Free Press. "The charter gives the commission the ability to set its own staffing but after Jan. 1, when I take office, I will review the budgetary implications of this in light of their legislative responsibilities and our mutual needs."

The new commission's action to increase its staffing came with especially poor grace because it occurred in the same week in which an independent audit showed that Wayne's deficit had reached $66.8 million, triple the amount reported by county officials. While county officials played down the findings on the grounds the differences resulted from a different way of examining the books rather than a discovery of new debts, the audit by the responsible accounting firm of Ernst & Whinney ought to be accepted as a responsible one unless county officials can provide better evidence to support their lower estimates.

It should be recalled that the audit was performed because the state Treasury Department had examined the county's books and found them to be "unauditable." The auditing firm conceded that it had not found any serious errors of omissions that it had not been able to reconcile, but the $66.8 million deficit does mean that the county will have to make even more drastic cuts than previously contemplated if it is to balance its budget, even over a period of years.

Meanwhile, the battle over whether county department heads should get hefty pay raises, despite the county's desperate financial situation, continues on several fronts. The department heads have appealed to the Wayne County Elected Officials Compensation Commission for substantial increases on the grounds they have not had major increases lately and because they have so much more work to do than officials in Oakland and Macomb counties where the pay is now comparable.

EVEN LUCAS, who is saying that county employees must make concessions has backed department heads' request for pay hikes, apparently in an effort to get himself a substantially larger salary as county executive than he got as sheriff. The result has been a nasty squabble between the county employees union and those advocating increased pay for the department chiefs.

Lucas likes to point to the $71,567 received by Oakland County's elected executive as the level he seeks for his new post, but he doesn't like to mention that the appointed executive in Macomb County gets $45,000. Dr. Byron Jones, political science department chairman at Wayne State University, concedes that department heads in the county may be somewhat underpaid in view of their heavy responsibilities but adds that "in these economic times, it's a horrible time to raise salaries." Somehow the warning hasn't yet penetrated the heads of the county officials.

It is too early to give up hope on the reorganization required by the county charter. But what has happened even before the reform goes into effect reminds the public to beware of wolves in sheep's clothing, meaning that the voters returned to office too many of the old county officials, including a majority of the new county commission, in November's election.

7 days shalt thou labor . . .

In revising its ordinance to permit more businesses to be open Sunday, the Grosse Pointe City Council was merely reacting to the changing lifestyles in this community.

It wasn't too many years ago that people simply didn't go shopping on Sunday and there was little demand that stores be kept open. But with the increase in the number of families in which both wives and husbands work outside the home, the demand for more shopping time on Sunday began to grow. And it continues to do so.

SO WHEN THE manager of the Damman Hardware Store in the Village had requests to open his store on Sundays, he petitioned Grosse Pointe City for permission and the council promptly revised its ordinance to permit him to do so.

In the City of Grosse Pointe, the ordinance in the past permitted only businesses up to 3,000 square feet in size and drug stores, restaurants and service stations to operate on Sunday. None of the other Grosse Pointe governments has any special Sunday opening ordinances.

It now is up to the individual businessmen as to whether he wants to operate on Sunday or not and, according to a Grosse Pointe News poll, quite a few in the City still will not be open, even though they do not object to an ordinance permitting other businesses to operate on Sunday.

Service stations, drug stores and restaurants, which traditionally have been more likely to be open on Sunday than other types of businesses, now can be open from 7 a.m. to midnight, while other businesses can operate from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., as Damman's did starting last Sunday.

Henry Feys, manager of the Damman store, reported that he was very pleased with the results of his first Sunday business opening, especially since it occurred on a wet and rainy day. He said he had received a number of favorable comments from his customers and only a few criticisms from people who mildly objected to the breaking of what they regarded as tradition.

IN A NOSTALGIC mood, we may lament the good old days but we can't bring them back. Instead, Grosse Pointe like the rest of the world continues to change. The result is that even the old Biblical injunction, "Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work," no longer applies to all of us.

A buckle-up bill setback

The bill requiring Michigan motorists and front seat passengers to buckle up their seat belts or risk a $10 fine is dead for the current session of the Legislature but supporters hope to bring it up again in 1983. We wish them well in the legislation that would save lives and cut costs of automobile accidents in Michigan, as similar laws have done in 26 countries.

The legislation died after an unrecorded vote just before the Thanksgiving recess fell more than 20 votes short of passage and the sponsor, Rep. David Hollister, Lansing Democrat, was unable to muster the required 56 supporters when he considered a second vote last week.

In effect, the legislation proposed a three-year trial period in Michigan. It would have exempted handicapped individuals, those who own cars without seat belts and drivers of trucks, buses and other commercial vehicles. It was supported by a long list of state officials, auto companies, insurance firms and police organizations as well as by the Michigan Protection and Advocacy Service for Developmentally Disabled Citizens. All to no avail.

WHAT KILLED THE legislation this year was the crush of legislation on major issues, meaning the unemployment compensation, transportation funding and state budget issues being considered in Lansing. But it also is opposed by some individuals who protest that it is an unnecessary restraint on individual freedom.

True, it would be a restraint on individual freedom. But so is the requirement that you have to buy a driver's license to operate a motor vehicle, that you have to observe the speed limits and that you have to carry insurance on your car or suffer the consequences.

In our highly complex society, all of us have to submit to some restraints on our individual freedom in order to benefit society as a whole. In this newspaper's opinion, this proposed limitation would be a small price to pay for saving lives and reducing the financial cost of the multitude of auto accidents that occur annually.

The joy of Quakerism

To the Editor:

I am a Quaker. I live in Grosse Pointe. Now, a lot of you are surprised. If you know me, now you know that I am more than a friend; I am a Friend. Some of you are asking yourselves: What is a Quaker doing living in Grosse Pointe? Well, I am not the only Quaker living here. Surprised? Don't be. Quakerism is very much a "live option" in today's world. Just what is a Quaker? I'd better start with what we aren't.

There are not many popular images which are more distorted than that of Quakers. According to the popular conception, Quakers are an exceedingly mild and harmless people, largely given to silence, totally unaggressive with a religion that is neither evangelical in content nor evangelistic in practice. It is generally understood that the appearance of Quakers has something of the benign character of the man pictured on the Quaker Oats box, and many identify Quakers with contemporary "plain people." Even those who realize that there have been changes in dress and manner of life still suppose that Quakers are prudent in all their ways and moderate in all their views.

It is understood that they are good and kind, but also ineffective. Above all, it is believed that Quakerism is a faith which, being essentially antique, is irrelevant to the life of modern men and women. Many, who hear of the Quaker faith, are not sure whether it is Christian, and few look upon it as a live option for themselves today. Some even believe that Quakerism is something into which it is necessary for people to be born.

The important thing about this image is that it is erroneous at almost every point. I consider myself an average Quaker. I've been known to be wild, not mild, at times. Like most Quakers, I am an aggressively outspoken person on many issues. I believe in the Christian gospel and I tell people about it. I don't own a wide-brimmed black hat, but I do have a lot of sweaters, button-downs and T-shirts.

I hope that I am good and kind. More importantly, I hope that my opinions and my advice, and my love had made a difference in the lives that I've touched. I find that Quakerism has freed the spirit of the living God within me to look at all things critically, especially myself, and my way of living. James Naylor (1617-1660) best describes my Quaker experience when he wrote:

"There is a spirit which I feel that delights to do no evil nor to revenge any wrong, but delights to endure all wrath and contention and to weary out all exaltations and cruelty of whatever is of a nature contrary to itself. It sees to the end of all temptations. As it bears no evil in itself, so it conceives none in thoughts to any other. If it be betrayed, it bears it, for its ground and spring is the mercies and forgiveness of God."

Quakerism is a wonderful, fulfilling, joyous way of life. And I feel the most relevant way of living in the face of today's crushing problems.

I can only hope that where my words may have entertained you, James Naylor's words have lifted up your spirit onto a joyous level, and that this joy will be felt throughout the coming holidays.

Seatbelt bill wins support

To the Editor:

I would like to thank the Grosse Pointe News for expressing strong support of the mandatory safety belt bill (H.B. 5587). It is our view that this bill will reduce the number of unnecessarily disabled citizens and that this consideration outweighs all of the arguments against the bill.

As you might know, the supporters of the bill failed to convince enough legislators to vote in favor of the bill in the first attempt before the full House. Therefore, our efforts must continue in hope of successful reconsideration. Thank you for your part in convincing at least some legislators of the urgency of this legislation.

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

'Tis the season to be jolly, generous and hospitable, which brings us to the Colony Town Club whose members celebrate Christmas in precisely the right way: giving to others and rejoicing among themselves.

Mid-morning last Monday, Colony Town Club's Sewing Group gathered at the Blairmoor Court home of Mrs. William B. Fox for their annual Christmas "wrap session." Through the year, the group has been stitching pretty ribbons on bed jackets, knitting scores of warm bed socks and lap robes, carefully cutting and pasting up books of Christmas cards.

Now, at the end of the year, it's time to distribute this lovingly created largesse. The jackets, socks and robes, each wrapped as a holiday gift and tied with Christmas ribbon on Monday, go to bed and wheelchair-ridden persons, many of whom are clients of the Cancer Loan Closet. Colony Town Club's very special philanthropy. The Christmas card books go to small patients at Children's Hospital.

Sunday, it's party time. Colony Town Club members, husbands and escorts will gather from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Devonshire Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hutton to enjoy each other's company and delight in the happy time of Christmas.

Both the "wrap session" and the party are traditional Colony Town Club December events. Mrs. Oswald Zeidler is current president of the club, and among its most devoted members over the years has been Mrs. J. Edgar Duncan, a dependable, tireless worker who will be missed by all when she leaves The Pointe soon to take up residence in New York State.

L'Alliance Francaise Musicale

L'Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe's special guests at its musicale Monday, in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom, will be the volunteers who made the Alliance's Soiree au Casino de Monte Carlo fund raiser in November such a smashing success. Hosting the evening, open only to Alliance members, are Odette Sfere, Mado Lie, T.T. Kotcher, Odette Kracht, Mary Jo Dunne and Betty and Oswald Zeidler. (That's parties on Sunday and Monday for the Zeidlers: wonder what they're doing Tuesday night?)

The musicale will feature Edward Kingins, tenor, who has appeared in opera, concert and oratorio. His performance will be followed by a Christmas dessert and wine soiree.

By the way: the Pointe Alliance's traditional holiday Student Dessert Contest will not be held this year, because of the Christmas school schedule — BUT plans are being drawn up for a January "Historic Tour" and restaurant evening. Sounds interesting . . .

Holiday Tables on Display

Festive tables created by area celebrities in an old-fashioned Christmas setting, a boutique featuring hand-made finery, an elegant English tea — all combine to make Holiday Magic at Cranbrook House in Bloomfield Hills this Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Hours for the annual celebration are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and Monday, noon to 4 p.m. Sunday.

Step inside Dan Clancy's home at 121 Vendome Road during the 1982 Grosse Pointe Christmas Walk, and imagine what it would be like to live in a French Normandy masterpiece featuring a sunken living room, handpainted wallpapers and sumptuous mirror-and-marble baths. Note the beautiful oak floors and moldings throughout.

The Clancy House is one of four private residences, each beautifully decorated for the holidays, to be open to the public this Sunday, Dec. 12, from noon to 5 p.m. and Monday, Dec. 13, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. when the Detroit Symphony League presents its annual Christmas Walk in The Pointe.

Ticket prices remain the same as last year: $6 for advance group sales, $7 for advance individual tickets and $8 at the door. Ticket information may be obtained by calling 882-6034, 885-0583 or 881-3919. Ticket purchases are tax deductible, for all monies raised from them go to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Annual Fund.

You can start the Walk at any one of the four homes, or at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church starting at 1 p.m. Sunday. For more Christmas Walk '82 information, and a look at another lovely home featured on the Pointe Walk this year, turn to this week's Feature Page.

Woman's Club features Ruth at holiday tea

Members and guests of the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club gather for their annual Christmas Tea next Wednesday, Dec. 15, at 12:30 p.m. in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium. Mrs. Milan J. Alexander, vice-president and program chairman, will introduce the guest performer: pianist RUTH BURCZYK (right), a native of Milwaukee and a resident of Grosse Pointe.

Ms. Burczyk, who made her professional debut at age 16 with the Wisconsin Symphony Orchestra, under the tutelage of eminent concert pianist Irma Schenutt Hall, has earned continuous praise throughout the United States and Canada.

She has appeared as soloist with the Rochester, Minn., Milwaukee, Windsor and International Symphony Orchestras and is familiar to Detroit audiences for her many appearances with orchestras in this area, including repeated performances with the Detroit Symphony.

She has also appeared with chamber groups and is one of Detroit's most highly respected teachers.

Ruth is looking forward to her eighth summer on the Interlochen campus as a National Music Camp faculty member. "Each season is a new experience," she maintains. "The enthusiasm and dedication of the students are incredible."

A Certified Teacher — Michigan Music Teachers Association, she recently was named Teacher of the Year by the Detroit Musicians League. She serves on the staff of Adjudicators of the National Guild of Piano Teachers and is included in the "first edition" of Who's Who in Mu Phi Epsilon International Music Fraternity.

Her program for the Woman's Club will feature the Bach-Pirani Arioso, Rondo in C Major by Beethoven, Perpetual Motions by Weber, Prelude, Op. 28, No. 21, Waltz, Op. 42, Nocturne, Op. 32, No. 1, and Etude, Op. 10, No. 12 ("Revolutionary") by Chopin, Liszt's Liebestraum and the Rigoletto Paraphrase by Verdi-Liszt.

The tea table, covered with a white embroidered cut-work cloth over a red liner, will carry out the holiday theme. The centerpiece will be red and white carnations interspersed with holly greens.

Working together to make this event a lovely one are Mrs. John Schneider and Mrs. Henri Gelders, co-chairmen, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Giblin and Mrs. Raymond Duffy.

The Mesdames Philip Skillman, Michel Skaff, Lee Garrett and William Kaake will pour. Assisting as hostesses will be the Mesdames Fred Adams, Vernon Aljets, Donald McPhail, Charles Lawler, Alfred Reuther and Wayne Anderson.

Members planning to invite guests are requested to make reservations by contacting the hospitality chairman, Mrs. George Gerow.

Dem Women's Christmas focus to be Palestine

The December Christmas party for the Grosse Pointe Democratic Women's Discussion Group will focus on the Palestinian Perspective, with Dorothy Gemeund, high school teacher of English, History and Drama in Harper Woods, sharing her in-depth study of the Palestinians and reporting on her travels in the Middle East.

Susan Boynton will chair the meeting at the home of Alice Fine, 1092 Grayton Road, this Monday, Dec. 13, at 7:45 p.m. Middle Eastern foods will be featured. Non-members and friends are most welcome.

Deeplands plans holiday potluck

The members of Deeplands Garden Club will celebrate the holidays Monday, Dec. 13, as they did last year: at a Christmas potluck luncheon in the beautifully decorated home of Mrs. Richard Stein who will be assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. Robert Schlaff and Mrs. Derrill Mannle.

This meeting ends the club's 1982 year. The new year's meetings will begin in March.

Farm, Garden Club to meet

This Monday, Dec. 13, will find members of the Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club gathered at the Kenwood Court home of Mrs. Charles Wollenzin Jr. for a Williamsburg luncheon and Christmas party. Hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. Donald Flintermann, Mrs. James B. Lewis and Mrs. Robert Weber.

Wayne Medical Auxiliary to meet

The Wayne County Medical Society Auxiliary will gather tomorrow, Friday, Dec. 10, at Wayne County Medical Society headquarters on Antietam Road in Detroit for a social hour in the newly restored William Beaumont Library Room at 11:30 a.m., followed by a potluck luncheon.

Entertainment will be provided by the Detroit Symphony League's Choraliers. A cookbook is the auxiliary's medical and nursing scholarships fund raising project this year. Books will be available at the meeting for $5; they may also be purchased by calling the project chairman, Mary Esther Fountain, 349-2783, or committee members Margaret Allen, 851-4271, Lily Tawile, 882-4244, and Anne Bielawski, 561-1044.

Grand Marais Questers meet

The Grand Marais Chapter of Questers, under the leadership of Mrs. John Makara, will gather for its annual Christmas potluck luncheon tomorrow, Friday, Dec. 10, in the home of Mrs. Wyman Barrett Jr., where members will have a chance to sample their co-members' many and varied holiday culinary specialties and continue the chapter tradition of a carol sing-along and an exchange of gifts.

The program will include a talk by Mrs. William T. Krebs on "Christmas Spoons" and a display of members' spoons.

Detroit Genealogical Society to convene

The Detroit Society for Genealogical Research's holiday meeting this Saturday, Dec. 11, at 2 p.m. in the Explorer's Room of the Detroit Public Library on Woodward Avenue, opposite the Detroit Institute of Arts, will feature a display of publications offering Christmas gift suggestions for the genealogist.

Yvonne Peek will report on how to "gather the clan," exploring the resources necessary to bring many descendants of a common ancestor together. Society members will be available in the Burton Historical Collection to provide help on personal genealogical problems.

Colonial day for Pear Tree

Christmas in Williamsburg is on the Pear Tree Chapter of Questers' agenda next Thursday, Dec. 16. Members will gather at 11 a.m. in the Pointe home of Mrs. Stefan Stefanovich, who has been poring, with members of her committee, over her Williamsburg Inn cookbook to select an appropriate Colonial menu.

Marie Christie is busy with her needle, creating special head-dresses for each luncheon guest. The program for the day will feature slides of Williamsburg, narrated by the hostess, and a "make and bake" auction.

Grosse Pointe's Tom and Diane Schoenith have promised to arrange a mysterious "Detroit Celebrity Table." Among the nine others will be a Coach's Training Table complete with footballs and helmets, set by Charlotte (Mrs. Monte) Clark, wife of the Detroit Lions' head coach, and a Christmas Love Feast by Douglas Grech (Duglass), combining fowl plumage and frosted plums with elegant accessories.

Admission is $5, payable at the door. Pre-sale tickets at $4 are available by calling 645-3149. Proceeds will be used for restoring and refurbishing Cranbrook House, the 1908 English manor designed by Albert Kahn for George and Ellen Scripps Booth.

Grosse Pointe's Christmas House

A wonderful way to get into the Spirit of Christmas is simply to drop in at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial and look/walk around, for, thanks to the ladies of the community center's Service League, every room of historic Alger House is filled with the heady scent of evergreen, traditional red candles and bows.

Mrs. Bruce Bockstanz, Mrs. Jack Pascoline, Mrs. Richard Blatchford, Mrs. Raymond Zarobe, Mrs. Donald Draper and Mrs. Derrill Mannle hung the garlands and put up the sparkling bulbs and twinkling lights. Mrs. Carl Kasza, also a Service League member, created the exquisite Nativity Scene.

Elizabeth Elias and her committee are responsible for the cookie tree with its delicious, homemade goodies. As part of Family Night Around the Christmas Tree festivities this evening in Fries Ballroom, each child attending will choose a favorite cookie from the tree as a gift.

Unusual soft-sculpture in a Christmas theme decorates the War Memorial's business offices and Grosse Pointe Garden Center Room in Alger House, thanks to Mrs. Charles Bigelow, Mrs. William Butler and Mrs. James Schueler, and local florists have contributed poinsettias to fill the house with the freshness of living plants.

The poinsettias are courtesy of The Arrangement, Charvat the Florist, Grosse Pointe Florist, Kimberly Flowers and Gifts, Scribner-Jean Floral Company and Sweeney's Flowers.

As we reported last week, December seems to be Grosse Pointe's on-stage month. Here's more news of local individuals and groups in the spotlight in the holiday season:

Defer Elementary School student Peter Spencer, son of the Warren W. Spencers, of The Park, is appearing in the Bonstelle Theatre production of Dickens' "Christmas Carol," which opened last weekend and continues this weekend and next with Friday and Saturday evening performances at 8 p.m. and Sunday matinees at 2 p.m. Additional 2 p.m. matinees are scheduled today and next Wednesday. Ticket information may be obtained by contacting the Wayne State University Theatre Box Office, 577-2960.

Two of the 10 metropolitan Detroit area choirs selected to participate in Music Hall's holiday show, "Classic Christmas: Yuletide Tales and Carols," which opened Tuesday and runs through the weekend, are local groups. Featured at Saturday's 2 p.m. matinee performance will be the Dominican High School Madrigal Singers, Sister Mary Alice Naour, director. Featured at the final performance Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. will be the Saint Ambrose Church Choir, John Findlater, director. Classic Christmas is a three-dimensional theater piece, involving several readers, choral singing and multi-image audio-visuals a la "Beatlemania." Ticket information may be obtained by calling 963-7680 or at any CTC outlet.

On-stage art in the Social Hall at the Birmingham Unitarian Church now through Jan. 2 is the work of Park resident Mary Louise McCarroll, whose most recent paintings depict familiar objects, found in her Indian Village studio, combined with elements of time, fantasy and humor. The exhibit's formal opening, featuring a slide talk, is set for this Sunday, from 7:30 to 10 p.m., in the church Commons Room.

Fun and art go together for volunteers

The Art to the Schools Committee of the Detroit Institute of Arts is offering eight slide presentations this year to fourth, fifth and sixth graders in 58 metropolitan area communities.

Asian Art is the committee's newest program. It joins programs on Ancient, American, African and Native American Art, Myths, Legends and Stories, Introduction to the Museum and Art Trek: A Walk through The 20th Century.

Teachers request the presentations they prefer. Art to the Schools volunteers, who have been trained for a year by Michael Farrell and different DIA curators are assigned schools each week. The volunteers bring with them a selection of "touchables," an important part of each presentation to the children in their classrooms.

Roz Reder chairs the current ATS board. Vice-chairwoman and secretary/treasurer, respectively, are Carol Held and Joan Mann. Other officers include Kay Duncan, Rhoda Lampert, Natalie Lederer, Moni Strouss, Mary Jane Fonda, Edna Newman, Esther Tarnoff Cooper, Jo Jackson, Rosemary Harm and Doreen Millman.

The committee recently traveled to Toledo where their "just-for-fun" day activities included a visit to the El Greco Exhibition at the Toledo Art Museum. Before heading home, they visited the glass studio of Dominick Labino in Grand Rapids, O.

Personnel Women ponder 'Next Idea'

Sherry Williams, founder of "The Next Idea," addressed members of the International Association of Personnel Women and conducted a fashion show at their dinner meeting last Wednesday, Dec. 8, at the Engineering Society of Detroit.

The concept behind her business woman's buying service, Sherry explains, "is to build from your current wardrobe base considering your career and personal needs, your likes and dislikes — and your budget."

IAPW-Detroit meets at the Engineering Society on the second Wednesday of each month. Membership information may be obtained by contacting Linda Balthrop at 322-7230.

Detroit Planned Parenthood is 60 years old

Dr. Jacquie Hoop, Planned Parenthood Federation of America board member, senior consultant and health economist for Chi-Systems, Inc., a health management consulting firm in Ann Arbor, where she makes her home, spoke on "Reproductive Health: Serving and Preserving," at the 60th anniversary celebration annual meeting of the Detroit Planned Parenthood League on Tuesday, Nov. 30, at the Hotel St. Regis.

resident Stephanie Hampton. Honorary co-chairpersons were Dr. Francis Kornegay, Edward Davis and Horace Sheffield.

Hoop, who holds doctorates in Pharmacology and Health Economics and formerly taught at the University of Michigan, has served on the PPFA board for three years and for the past year has chaired its Public Affairs Committee; in this capacity she is responsible for assisting 189 Planned Parenthood affiliates in implementing PPFA's Public Impact Program nationwide.

Planned Parenthood, which has served thousands of Detroit area families of all economic and social strata over the past 60 years, at fees based on ability to pay, recently opened a clinic on Adams in downtown Detroit to better service the inner city.

Les Papillons soar . . .

The Christmas season means a full calendar for Les Papillons Liturgical Dancers, pictured above as they perform The Annunciation. On the last Sunday of November they appeared at their sponsor church, Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian, wearing new caftans of flowing blue chiffon, created by Dorothy Larner, for a Dance for Baptism based on Biblical references from First Corinthians, Romans and Titus which are blended into a narration which accompanies the performance. Yesterday, Dec. 8, the "butterflies" presented an evening program at St. Phillip and St. Stephen Episcopal Church; on this occasion they performed the Annunciation dance-drama, with Jenny Eshleman dancing the part of Mary and Mary Lee Strother portraying the Angel Gabriel. Also on this program were Psalm 23, The Light of Christ (based on the Eighth Chapter of Romans), The Vine and The Branches — and the Dance for Baptism performed earlier at Woods Presbyterian.

Next Wednesday, Dec. 15, when the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham hosts the assembly of Presbyterial of Detroit, Les Papillons will provide an added dimension to the Service of Worship customarily celebrated at this event, again presenting The Annunciation. Blending into its conclusion, the entire troupe will proclaim "The Light of Christ Has Come into The World," a dance of exaltation.

The Dance for Baptism also will be performed at this service, and at its conclusion Les Papillons will dance "Praise God for The Body, Praise God for The Son," expressing the unity of Christ with His Church and with the love of God which brings all people together.

Lucia Festival at Immanuel

A traditional Lucia Festival will be observed this Sunday, Dec. 12, at 5:30 p.m. in Immanuel Lutheran Church, Chandler Park Drive at Dickerson in Detroit: the "home" church for many members of Detroit's Swedish community and their descendants.

Among the Grosse Pointe residents involved in planning this year's pageant are Mrs. Carl Ohman, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Peterson, Mrs. Marvin Peterson, Mrs. David Steele, Mrs. Andrew Unger, Miss Lisa Unger and Mrs. H.T. Ward.

Although the event is a high point in the lives and memories of congregation members who are of Swedish heritage, it is a meaningful and interesting experience for non-Scandinavians as well — and Immanuel welcomes all at its festival.

In homes throughout Sweden early on the morning of Dec. 13, the eldest daughter, robed in white, a crown of lighted candles set in lingonberry leaves on her head, wakes her parents and offers them coffee and fancy currant buns known as "lussekatter." She is "Lucia," and in Sweden the Christmas season begins with this Lucia Day.

The legend of the lovely Sicilian saint adopted by the Swedes as their Queen of Lights will be narrated at Immanuel's Lucia Festival. Immanuel's Lucia, preceded by Star Boys and a court, will process down the lighted aisle as "Santa Lucia" is sung. Until her formal appearance, no one knows who this year's Lucia will be. She will be introduced by Lisa Unger, last year's Lucia.

Swedish music will precede the pageant. Swedish and favorite American Christmas songs will be sung by the guests and the Scandia Women's Chorus. Immanuel's Lady of the Year will be introduced by Pastor William Heil.

After the church program, Lucia will serve coffee in Immanuel's Fellowship Hall where a refreshment table will feature Christmas cookies, Swedish coffeebread and spice cake. In the same room there will be demonstrations and workshops on making the traditional Swedish Christmas tree candies, nut baskets and straw ornaments, potato sausage and the very special holiday cookie known as "rosettes."

Children will be invited to make other tree ornaments. Jultomte, the Swedish Christmas gnome, will distribute candies to everyone.

Although there is no charge for the program, donations will be accepted at the refreshment table to supplement the Food Closet: Immanuel's community service to persons in need of food for their families.

Holiday gathering for Sigma Kappas

Grosse Pointe Alumnae of Sigma Kappa will celebrate the Christmas season with Eastern Michigan University Delta Alpha Chapter collegiates this Sunday, Dec. 12, from 3 to 6 p.m. in the McMillan Road home of Maryn Cation (Mrs. John) Horn.

Party theme is "Bring a Sigma Sister." The geographic directory packets prepared by Julie Bartlett, vice president-membership, are in active alumnae's hands; each active has been asked to choose an inactive alumna from that listing to invite as her special guest.

Anyone who has not received a packet may contact Julie at 881-8027 to obtain one.

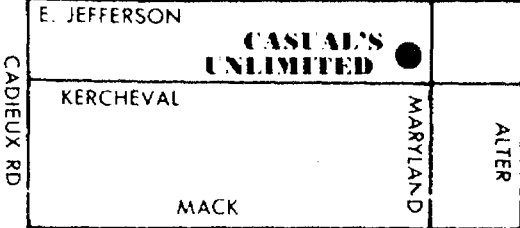

Christmas party beverages will be provided by the hostess and her co-hostess, Gerry Mathews. Each guest is asked to bring a favorite hors d'oeuvre to pass. Members also are reminded to bring two dozen Christmas cookies and a decorated tin for delivery to homebound senior citizens and for exam time Delta Alpha Chapter "care packages."

Area alumnae should make reservations for the party before noon Saturday, Dec. 11, by contacting the hostess at 884-3018 or the co-hostess at 884-3511.

Meghan Carboni is autumn bride

Meghan Carboni chose a gown of white moire, its off-the-shoulder, sweetheart neckline accented at the shoulders with silk flowers, for her marriage Friday evening, September 3, in Saint Joan of Arc Church to Bryan Alan Sunisloe.

Her chapel length veil fell from a wreath of silk flowers. She carried a spray of white roses, baby's-breath, ivy, stephanotis and silk starflowers.

The bride, who had been making her home on Oxford Road, was graduated from Michigan State University College of Veterinary Medicine in 1979 and is a small animal practitioner at Harvey Animal Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Carboni, of Mequon, Wis.

The bridegroom, a trial attorney, has been associated with the law firm of Thomas, Garvey & Garvey in St. Clair Shores since he was graduated from Detroit College of Law in 1979. He is the son of Mrs. Lillian Sunisloe, of Detroit, and the late Andy Sunisloe.

Father Thomas Rice, of Saint Joan of Arc, and The Reverend Peter Smith, of Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church, presided at the 5:30 o'clock ceremony. A reception followed at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, after which the newlyweds left to vacation on Bermuda. They are at home on Oxford Road.

Honor maid Elizabeth Shely, of Cincinnati, O., and bridesmaids Robin Carboni, of Lansing, and Karen Carboni, of Mequon, sisters of the bride, carried arrangements of burgundy silk bachelor buttons, mauve silk lilies, fresh needlepoint ivy and baby's-breath.

White, pleated Chantilly lace edged the off-the-shoulder necklines of their mauve taffeta dresses. Each wore a small cluster of ivy, a silk violet and baby's-breath in her hair.

Kenneth Sunisloe acted as best man for his brother, Michael Macherzak and Richard Stanley seated the guests.

The mother of the bride wore a street length, long-sleeved dress

Seek go-getters for 56 Auction

Business contacts and communications and management skills can be developed and enhanced by becoming a volunteer "go-getter" for the 15th Annual Channel 56 Auction, scheduled to run for nine days, April 8 to 16, live on Detroit's public television station.

Each year, more than 400 volunteers canvas their neighborhood businesses to solicit saleable goods and services for the fund raiser. Merchandise must be brand new and valued at $50 or more. Items can range from artwork to appliances, cameras to hardware, jewelry to toys, furniture and sports equipment. Stocks, gift certificates and restaurant passes are also welcome.

All these items are bought by viewers who bid by phone while watching the auction on WTVS 56.

A go-getter's duties include compiling assignment sheets which detail contacts made, keeping records of each merchant's donations and following through on all merchandise commitments from the first phone call to the delivery of the item to 56.

"Over 8,000 items are needed for a successful auction," explains Millie Sedman, 1983 auction manager, who started out herself as an auction volunteer several years ago. "That means our go-getters are an essential part of this major effort each year."

Individuals and members of community groups and civic organizations are welcome as go-getters. Further information may be obtained by contacting Auction Central at 873-7200, Extension 200.

Funds raised via the auction are essential to insure the public television station's continued operation. Last year's auction total was $770,000 — almost 15 percent of Channel 56's annual budget.

Exhibit Bell's work at DIA until Dec. 19

Environmental glass sculpture, vapor drawings and furniture represent a multi-talented contemporary in the "Larry Bell: New Work" exhibit which continues through Sunday, Dec. 19, at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Bell, now based in Taos, N. M. moves easily from one medium to another and has shown extensively around the world since 1962 — including more than 49 one-man exhibitions.

He became well known in the 1960s for his beautifully constructed glass boxes. His consistent use of glass, as well as a growing knowledge of its specific characteristics and interaction with light, led to multiple configurations and larger scale.

One example in the exhibition combines four six-by-eight-foot rectangles, four six-by-six-foot triangles and 12 panels each measuring five by six feet. Each is coated with translucent layers of deposited metals: a technique Bell began in the 1970s when he built a huge vacuum chamber to facilitate the coating of large glass plates.

Unlike much large scale sculpture these glass environments are not overwhelming, thanks to their transparency/reflectivity. When you look at Bell's coated glass sculpture you see reflected images of other plates of glass, reflections of reflections. And, importantly, your own image becomes part of the ensemble.

Mr. L'Heureux claims bride

Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Gillard, of Southfield, announce the marriage of their daughter, Nancy Melissa, to Paul L'Heureux, son of Dr. and Mrs. Maurice P. L'Heureux, of Lakeshore Lane, on Saturday, November 20, in Chicago.

The former Miss Gillard is a recent Michigan State University graduate. Mr. L'Heureux is a recent graduate of Miami University, Oxford, O. The couple will reside in Arlington Heights, Ill.

Questers study marriage rites

The Grosse Pointe Chapter of Questers meets tomorrow, Friday, Dec. 10, at 10 a.m. in the McKinley Avenue home of Mrs. George B. who will be assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. James Champagne Jr. and Mrs. Stuart Crane.

Mary Putnam will present the program on "Marriage Customs" selected as one of three top award winning programs at the National Conference of Questers. Mrs. Putnam, who has been involved in presenting programs over a period of 15 years, is a member of the Windmill Pointe Chapter of Questers and of the DAR.

Fort Pontchartrain to meet tomorrow

Fort Pontchartrain Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, meets tomorrow, Friday, Dec. 10, at the Detroit Boat Club for a noon luncheon followed by a Patriotic Program featuring chapter members describing their favorite American patriot.

A short business session, conducted by Mrs. Gordon N. Cameron, vice-regent, will conclude the afternoon. Reservations for the day are being taken by Mrs. Leonard L. Jensen and Mrs. Frank S. McKinnon.

Holiday tea time for Alpha Mu DKG

Alpha Mu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary sorority for professional women educators, will hold its annual Christmas tea this Monday, Dec. 13. Festivities start at 4 p.m. at Woodbridge Community House. Hostesses are Margaret Schmidt and Pat Gorman.

Per tradition, members will bring gifts to be sent to children at the Turtle Mountain Indian Reservation in North Dakota. A program, "What's Important to Me," presented by Blanche Keifen, Thelma Grandia, Jean Rusing, Gerry Bertovick and Rachel Brake will be followed by carols by the Alpha Mu Choir and a sing-along.

Alpha Mu's members live and/or work in The Pointe area. Chapter president is Barbette Balciak. Program chairman is Betty Durkin.

Volunteers sought for Mothers March

Volunteers are needed for the 1983 Mothers March on Birth Defects, a family tradition now in its 32nd year, which will run Jan. 14 to 24 next year. During that time, women (and men) will knock on neighbors' doors to collect money needed to finance medical research, educational programs and community service projects relating to the prevention of birth defects.

Mothers Marchers also provide printed material featuring information on the fight against birth defects.

To volunteer, contact Betty Gehringer, Mothers March coordinator, at 864-6000. Individuals or groups who wish to participate in Mothers March preparations prior to January are also very welcome as volunteers.

Colby-Sawyer prexy is here

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Taylor will host a reception this evening, Thursday, Dec. 9, from 6 to 8 p.m. in their Merriweather Road home for Dr. H. Nicholas Muller III, president of Colby-Sawyer College.

Reservations may be made by calling 886-3434.

Dutch gardens to be detailed

The Grand Marais Branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Inc., gathers Monday, Dec. 13, at noon in the Lewiston Road home of Mrs. John C. Cook, where members will celebrate Christmas with a gift exchange of baked goods and handcrafted articles. Proceeds will go toward various philanthropies and the club's scholarship fund.

Mrs. Harold Davis and Mrs. Frank Perkin will assist the hostess. Mrs. Kenneth Locke, club president, will introduce Raymond C. Walk, who will present a program on "Gardens in Amsterdam, Holland." Members unable to attend are asked to contact Mrs. Cook by this Saturday, Dec. 11.

COME TO THE WORLD OF CHRISTMAS AT EASTLAND!

See how Christmas is celebrated around the world, as area high schools decorate the Center with international holiday displays. Each school has chosen a country and designed a colorful exhibit representing that country's Christmas. They'll be competing for a $2,000 prize (good for a school activity or equipment) for the most creative, original and attractive exhibit.

The Grand Prize will be awarded Friday, December 10 at 10 a.m. Then, a few days before Christmas, the displays will be donated to children's, convalescent and senior homes.

It's an enjoyable way to take a break from your Christmas shopping. And it's great fun for kids young and old. Just look at all the delightful themes on display:

L'Anse Creuse Central • English

See how Christmas is celebrated in merry old England.

L'Anse Creuse North • Early American

Don't miss Christmas as the early settlers celebrated it.

Bishop Gallagher • Polynesian

What could be more exotic than holidays south sea style?

Regina • Spanish • Felice Navidad from sunny Spain.

St. Florian • Polish

See how the holidays are celebrated in Poland.

Dominican • German

Kris Kringle and company is the theme of the festivities.

East Detroit • French • Joyeux Noël from France.

We want Eastland to be your place to do all your shopping. With 120 stores and shops, you'll be sure to find the perfect gift for your family and friends.

Season's Greetings from your Eastland Center.

Phase I reunion . . .

The Phase I group for singles, ages 20 through 39, who meet regularly on Sunday evenings at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church celebrated its 12th year with a mid-November reunion of past and present members. Among the more than 150 persons who attended the catered dinner, social evening and dance at Memorial Church were 10 of Phase I's 11 past-presidents: (front row, left to right) CAROL MOGILL, DORA SKINNER GRADY, MARGE McPHERSON BADOWSKI, JAN DIETZ and VINCE TUZZO; (back row, left to right) DON LOCKWOOD, FRANK BISSIG, TOM HEINRICHS, WARREN MORCHE and JOHN STAMPOR. The 11th president (not pictured) is Ed Gruca.

Children of past members of Phase I enjoyed dinner and nursery care facilities while their parents remembered highlights of past programs presented by Charley Manos, Michigan Secretary of State Richard Austin, Mr. Belvedere, The Honorable G. Mennen Williams, Kathy DuRoss, Douglas Fraser, Ross Roy, The Guardian Angels . . . over 370 weekly programs in all since the group was organized in the spring of 1971 by Doris and Gust Jahnke.

Appreciation was expressed to the Jahnkes, who remain Phase I's advisors, for their enthusiastic support and continuous help through the years.

Other reminiscences centered around memorable hayrides and square dances, cross country skiing and volleyball, concerts, ball games and theater evenings, New Year's Eve parties, Christmas carolling to shut-ins and weekend trips to Toronto, Chicago, Montreal, Stratford et al.

When present and past council members (officers) were asked to stand, well over three-fourths of those at the dinner rose to their feet. The ultimate compliment to those who planned this first reunion was repeated frequently during it: "Let's get together like this EVERY year!"

Park Garden Club to meet

Mrs. Philip M. Binns will open her Sunningdale Drive home to the Grosse Pointe Park Garden Club at noon and conduct a workshop, "How to Make English Corn Dollies," this Monday, Dec. 13. Co-hostess for the Christmas luncheon meeting is Mrs. Richard D. Rohr. The program will include a member plant exchange.

Pointer Bridge Girls to meet

The Pointer Girls' Bridge Club meets at 11 a.m. next Thursday, Dec. 16, in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center's Alger House where, following luncheon at 11:30 a.m., cards will be played. Mrs. Robert M. Brent is chairman of this Christmas meeting. Members unable to attend are asked to call 886-7422 by Saturday, Dec. 11.

Zeta Tau Alphas celebrate season

Reservations for the Detroit area Zeta Tau Alpha Alumnae's Christmas luncheon this Saturday, Dec. 11, at the Great Oaks Country Club in Rochester may be made by contacting Ruth Miller, 646-1965, Doris Gaston, 356-8162, or any ZTA alumna.

Ruth Miller, of the Alpha Omega Chapter, is chairman of the party, which begins at noon and will feature a wardrobe-coordinating fashion show by Casual Corners of Fairlane. Mothers, daughters and collegiate members of the sorority are welcome to join the alumnae at this annual holiday event.

The Association for Retarded Citizens is Zeta Tau Alpha's national service project. The woman's fraternity has provided for the printing of educational materials and for the preparation of a slide/tape presentation: "Tomorrow's Child."

To host White Christmas Ball

The Fontbonne Auxiliary of Saint John Hospital presents its 29th Annual White Christmas Ball this Saturday, Dec. 11, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. The party begins at 7 p.m. with cocktails and hors d'oeuvres served to background music by the Bernie Petrona Strings.

Then it's on to dinner at 8:30 p.m., and dancing to the beat of Bob Durant's Orchestra.

Sarah Fisher Dingeman is general chairman of the festive evening. Her co-chairman is Maureen (Mrs. W. Peter) McCabe. Committee chairmen and co-chairmen include Mrs. Edmund Brady Jr. and Mrs. William G. Adloch, acknowledgements, Mrs. Charles Dawood, advisory, and Mrs. Arthur Pfannenschmidt, beverages.

Mrs. Jan Lehman and Mrs. Anthony DeLuca are in charge of decorations. Mrs. Raymond J.

Kokowicz and Mrs. Timothy Grajewski share financial responsibilities. Mr. and Mrs. John L. Drummy Jr. are hospitality chairmen.

Invitations were handled by a committee headed by Mrs. Carl Reichert and Mrs. Rex Ciavola, patrons by a committee headed by Mrs. Leo A. Marx and Mrs. J. Addison Bartush. Mrs. John Staub and Mrs. David Summers were in charge of the program, with Mrs. Robert E. Thibodeau contributing the program cover.

Others heading 1982 White Christmas Ball committees include Ms. Pepper Whitelaw, public relations, Mrs. K. Michael Beizai, recording secretary, Mrs. John Tulloch and Mrs. George Gardella Jr., reservations, and Mrs. Thomas Beard, seating.

Proceeds from this year's party will be used to purchase equipment for the care of critically ill patients at Saint John.

Phase I will go a-caroling

Christmas caroling at the homes of Pointe area shut-ins has become a favorite holiday tradition for members of Phase I, the organization of single, young adults, ages 20 through 39, who gather regularly for Sunday evening program meetings at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

This year's Phase I caroling date is Sunday, Dec. 12. The group will meet at the church at 6 p.m. to form car pools and pick up maps showing the carol route. At 8 p.m. or thereabouts, everyone will rendezvous back at the church for relaxed conversation, holiday refreshments and perhaps some more singing in the second floor lounge.

Convene School of Government

The School of Government, Inc. will convene Wednesday, Nov. 15, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club for a social hour at noon, a holiday luncheon at 12:30 p.m. and a holiday concert by the Detroit Symphony League's Choralists, to be introduced by Mrs. Ralph L. Mason, School of Government president and the day's program chairman.

Margaret Lindner, of The Park, is a member of this popular group, which donates any monies it receives to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

School of Government members may make reservations for the Christmas program through Monday, Dec. 13, by calling 822-6238, 824-7567 or 822-1474. Assisting with arrangements for the day are Mrs. Cassius McIntyre, first vice-president, Mrs. John T. McMullen, past-president, Mrs. Paul D. Grubbs, Mrs. John Nolan and Miss Wanda Sepanski.

Yachtswomen meet tonight

Music will be provided by the husband of one of the members when Yachtswomen gather to-night Thursday, Dec. 9, at 7 p.m. at London House East in St. Clair Shores for their annual Christmas party, to which each woman attending has been asked to bring a $4 gift for a Christmas exchange.

Planning the party are Margery Randall and Barbara Powell. Yachtswomen's new officers, elected at the November meeting, are Barbara Madden, president, Sharon Stewart, vice-president, Kathy Rogers and Ruth Lowmaster, recording and corresponding secretaries, respectively, and Marjorie Huggins, treasurer.

Bonita Hernan serves as assistant secretary-treasurer. Members-at-large are Barbara Powell and Kay Crowe.

Taste of Christmas for Alpha Xi Deltas

Grosse Pointe and Macomb County Alumnae of Alpha Xi Delta will sample a variety of holiday hors d'oeuvres prepared by home economist Jennifer Smith at their meeting Monday, Dec. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Edmond Drive home of Mrs. Alfred Wittwer.

Ms. Smith and Mrs. Richard Swinbank are co-hostesses for the evening, which also will feature a Silent Auction of gifts brought by members and a Christmas sing-along. Further information may be obtained by calling 778-0067.

Offer nurses Critical Care Core Course

The Nursing Education Department of Saint John Hospital will offer a Critical Care Core Course for nurses interested in the management of acutely ill patients, with classes meeting Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m. beginning Tuesday, Jan. 4, and continuing through Thursday, Feb. 10.

The course will assist in preparing RN's for the American Association of Critical Care Nurses Certification Examination. Continuing Education Units have been granted by both the Michigan Nurses' Association and the American Association of Critical Care Nurses; certificates of CEUs will be provided at the completion of the course.

Tuition is $75, excluding text; $50 for employees of St. Clair Health Services. A non-refundable fee of $10 will be charged for cancellations. Enrollment is limited to 100.

Registration deadline is Monday, Dec. 20, after which the course may be cancelled if enrollment is not met. Classes will meet in Saint John's Education Center (Lower Level). Further information may be obtained by contacting the program coordinator, Rebecca Jones, R.N., B.S., at 343-3384.

Kappa Delta East Alumnae to meet

Kappa Delta East Alumnae gather tonight, Thursday, Dec. 9, in the Lincoln Road home of Mrs. Fred Lewis for their annual Christmas party, each bringing a wrapped, $3 present for a gift exchange. Anyone who wishes also to participate in a cookie exchange is asked to bring six dozen cookies, bagged by the half-dozen.

The number to call for reservations is 881-9442. The group will not meet in January and February.

Set Salvation Army Auxiliary's meeting

The Auxiliary to the Salvation Army meets Monday, Dec. 13, at 11 a.m. at Salvation Army headquarters on North Main Street in Royal Oak. The afternoon program will feature Christmas music sung by Johanna Gilbert, with piano accompaniment by Doreen Taylor. Reservations for the day are being taken by Mrs. Milton Schimpke, MI7-2323.

Women Business Owners will meet

In her first scheduled appearance since the November election, Martha Griffiths, Michigan's Lieutenant Governor-elect and partner in the law firm of Griffiths and Griffiths, will be joined by Beverly Belaire, chairman of the board of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce and president of PR Associates, Inc., and Lourdes Miranda, president of the National Association of Women Business Owners and the international management consulting firm of L. Miranda Associates, Inc., Bethesda, Md., as headliner guests at an open meeting, "Women Entrepreneurs Salute Business," sponsored by the Michigan NAWBO Chapter next Tuesday, Dec. 14, at 5:30 p.m. at the Detroit Yacht Club.

Charge for the evening, including a finger food buffet, is $17. A cash bar will be available. Reservations may be made by calling 425-3730 or 421-8693.

The Michigan Chapter of NAWBO was founded in April, 1980. Its current president is Jeanne Paluzzi, owner of JGP Public Relations, Inc., and a member of the National Advisory Council of the United States Small Business Administration. Its members represent diverse professional, retail and manufacturing industries.

NAWBO offers local, state and national networks of economic, educational and informational support systems to women who have at least majority ownership and daily management of a business.

GENERAL INFORMATION

CRUISE RATES INCLUDE: Shipboard accommodations as reserved and paid for, one class service; ocean transportation and all meals, services and entertainment as provided aboard the vessel; the ship is your hotel for the entire cruise; unlimited baggage allowance; free use of deck pads. NOT INCLUDED: Air transportation, ground transfers or conveyances ashore, gratuities, items of a personal nature or any other items not specifically stated as included in the cruise rate.

DINING & LIQUOR: Pastries & coffee for early risers, breakfast, lunch buffet or beach picnic, family-style dinner and late-night buffet. On-the-house liquor service includes morning Bloody Marys, afternoon rum swizzles and dinner wine. Popular drinks are available at ship's bar at moderate prices. We regret that special diets cannot be accommodated due to limited shipboard facilities.

EMBARKATION: Board from dawn Tuesday. All ships depart mid-day Tuesday. Passengers should be on board by 11 a.m.

DISSEMBARKATION: All ships return to homeport early Sunday morning. Please arrange to disembark by dusk. We regret we cannot accommodate passengers after the cruise due to ship's maintenance with the exception of "old salts".

STOWAWAY NIGHT: Passengers may board at 5 p.m. Monday and "stowaway" in their cabin. A ration of grog to help you get your sea legs, dinner accommodations, a Welcome Aboard Party with local entertainment, Bloody Marys & breakfast Tuesday are included in special Stowaway Night rate of $25 per person. (Group discounts for 12 or more.)

ITINERARY: There is no fixed schedule. Captain will adjust itinerary to take best advantage of wind & weather conditions and to insure best possible cruise. Windjammer Barefoot Cruises, Ltd. shall not be liable for any loss whatsoever to passengers by reason of any cancellation, advancement, postponement or substitution of any port of call at the uncontrolled discretion of the Ship's Master, Owner, Operator, Charterer or Ship's General Agent.

INSURANCE: Baggage & travel insurance is recommended. For complete protection and coverage in case of unforeseen delays, the policy should extend from date of departure from home to a minimum of two or three days after return.

VISITORS: To maintain your safety & security, visitors are not allowed on board once passengers have embarked. Your cooperation is requested on behalf of other passengers, crew and ship.

ELECTRICITY: Current on board is 110 volts AC, sufficient to accommodate electric razors.

ATTIRE: Informality is the norm aboard ship. Casual attire and/or swimwear is the uniform of the day. Dressing for dinner means putting on a shirt! Comfortable clothing & shoes are a must for going ashore, but swimwear and abbreviated shorts should be limited to the beaches.

PERSONAL FUNDS: It is recommended that passengers carry travelers checks and U.S. currency in small denominations. Personal checks cannot be cashed or accepted on board. Larger shops in port accept American Express, Visa & MasterCard.

You will receive 52 weekly issues of the Grosse Pointe News AND a chance to win a wonderful winter vacation.

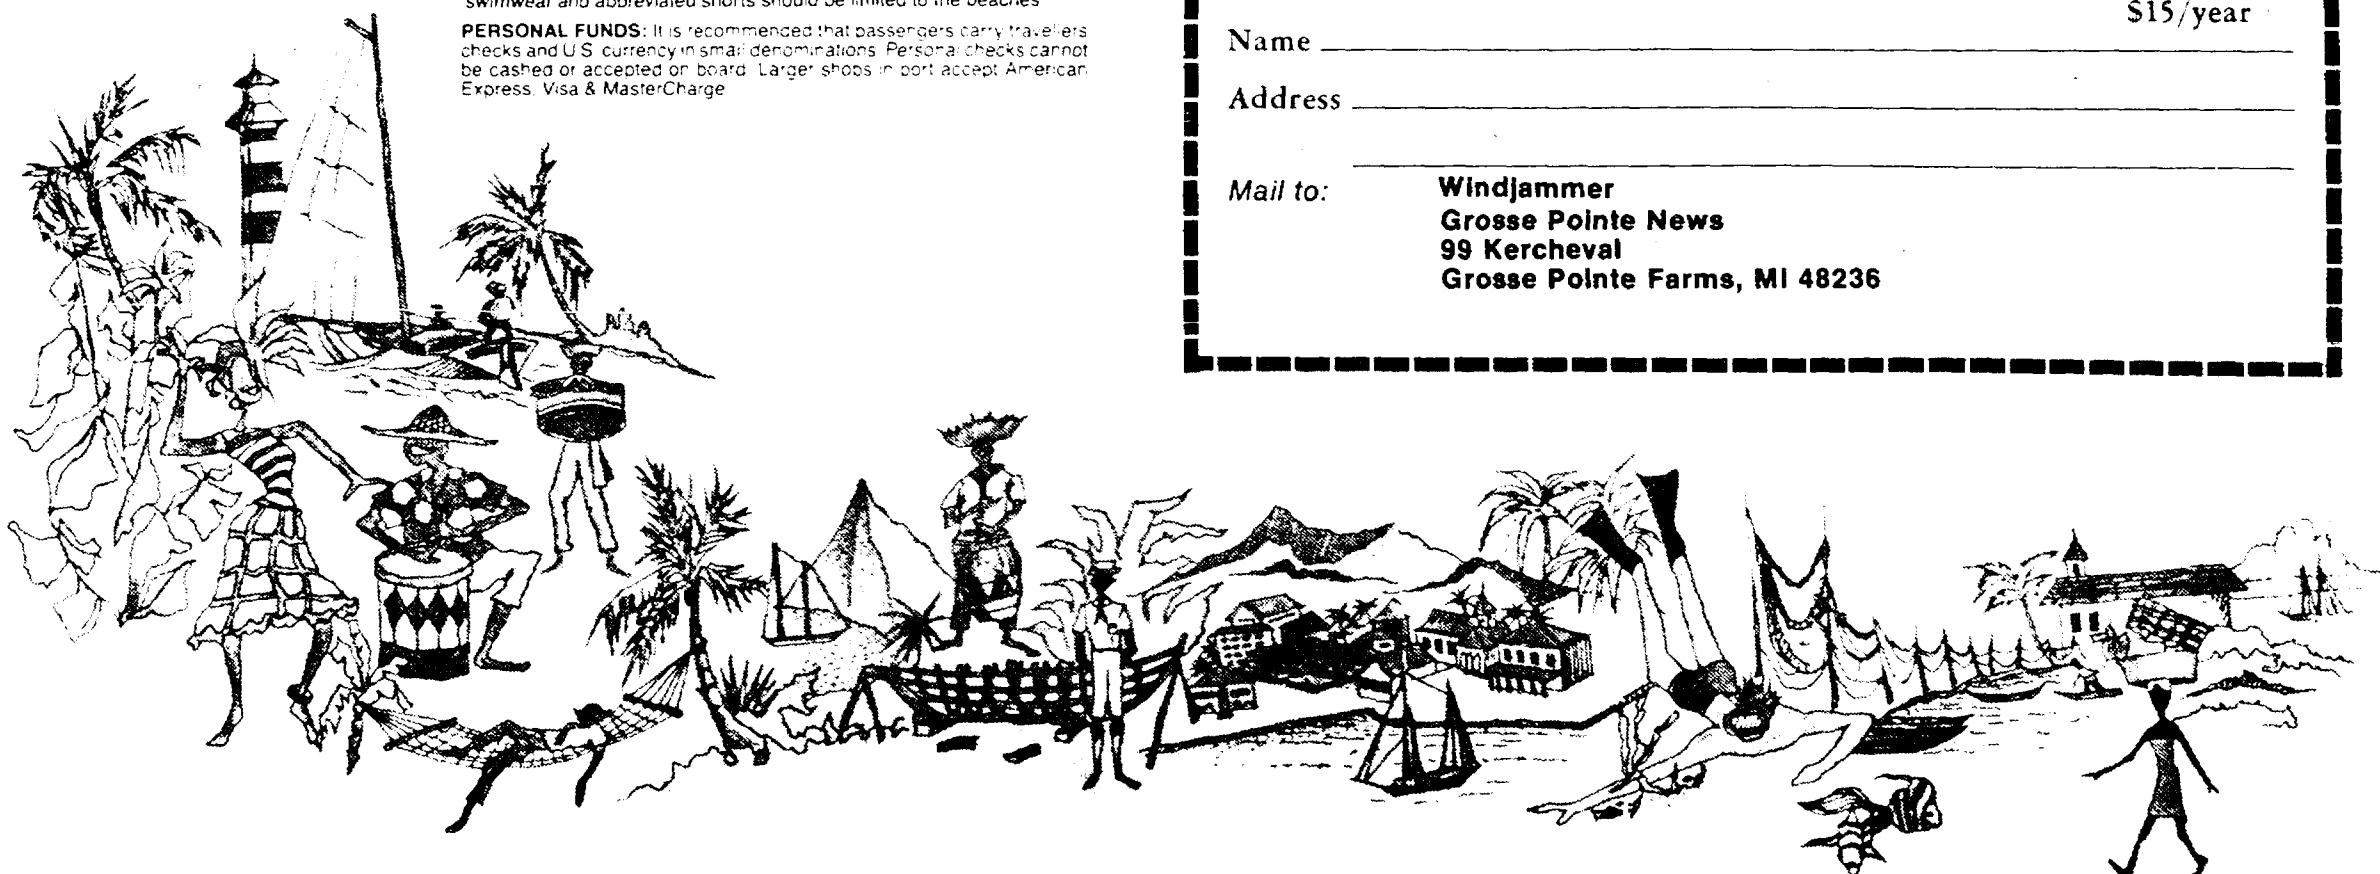

Yes! Enter me in the Grosse Pointe News WINTER WINDJAMMER CRUISE. I am enclosing $13 for a one year subscription.

ELEGANT EATING

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low cholesterol — and penny-wise — cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth featuring, this week, more DELICIOUS BREADS to have on hand when company comes during the holiday season.

PLUM CRAZY BREAD

1 can (1 lb., 13 oz.) purple or red plums, drained
1/2 cup margarine
2 tsp. soda
2 cups sifted all purpose flour
1 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. cloves
1/2 cup seedless raisins, puffed
1/3 cup English walnuts
1/2 cup buttermilk

Drain plums thoroughly; reserve syrup. Remove pits and mash the plums with a fork or cut into small pieces. Place pulp in saucepan over medium heat; add margarine and cool. Stir until margarine is melted.

Remove from heat and transfer to a large mixing bowl. Stir in soda. Mixture will foam and turn brown. Don't worry. Let cool until lukewarm.

Set out remaining ingredients and grease 2 pans 7-1/2x4x2-1/4 inches. Lightly flour pans after greasing well. Sift flour and other dry ingredients 3 times.

When mixture is barely warm, add all other ingredients. Mix well and turn into prepared pans. Bake for 60 to 70 minutes, or until tester comes out clean. Let bread cool in pans for 1 hour, then turn onto cooling racks. To store, wrap tightly in foil. May be stored at room temperature for up to 5 days or frozen. Makes 2 loaves; 20 slices each.

Calories per slice about 83. Cholesterol 0.

SPECIAL SPREAD: Cream Neufchatel cheese with yogurt, add a little lemon juice and finely diced preserved or candied ginger. It's really heavenly with a cup of spiced tea.

APRICOT NUT BREAD

1 1/2 cups dried apricots
2 Tbsp. margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup sour milk
2 1/2 cups flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. soda
1/2 cup chopped English walnuts

Wash apricots; cook for 5 minutes in boiling water. Drain and chop rather fine. Cream margarine and sugar together. Add dry ingredients with well beaten egg and sour milk. Fold in apricots and nuts. Pour into 9 x 5-inch loaf pan that has been well greased. Bake in preheated 350° oven for 1 hour or until done. Let stand about 10 minutes before removing from pan to wire rack. Makes 1 loaf; 20 slices.

Calories per slice about 139. Cholesterol about 12.

PAUL MICHAEL GUTWALD, of Fisher Road, enrolled in the freshman class at Rensselaer Polytechnic University this fall. Gutwald, a Grosse Pointe North High School student, plans to major in electrical engineering.

Memorial Church is a stop on the '82 Christmas Walk, too, but because of church services the hours here are slightly different on Sunday, starting at 1 p.m.; an hour later than the opening time for visits to the private homes.

But Sunday is a very good time to visit Memorial Church, for seasonal music will be played there on Sunday. Of course, Monday is a good time to visit the church, too, for the Detroit Symphony League's Choraliers are performing there on Monday, at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Take your pick. The Detroit Symphony League Boutique will be open at the church both days.

Key committee personnel who helped plan this year's Pointe Christmas Walk include Debbie Tischler, D&L president, Sue Wegner and Jean Halat. East Side co-chairmen, Pat Tipton, tickets, Linda Williamson, underwriting, Becky Morris, patrons, Kathy Goustra, souvenir brochure, and Joanne Marcil, editorial and layout.

Head hostesses are Judy Kling and Karen Schaupeter, Memorial Church; Maralyn Domzalski, Clancy residence; Florence Eagan, Andreas residence; Sue Koczara, Nyboer residence; and Judith Biggs, Stewart residence.

For Christmas Walk ticket information, turn back to Page One of The Second Section and the story on the Clancy House.

Sports Week

By Peggy O'Connor

Okay, Pointe sports fans... this is it. The definitive what's-going-on-sports-wise-over-the-holiday-season update. Here's the up-to-the-day (hey, this IS a weekly, so if you want up to the minute, it isn't going to be here) lineup of sporty holiday events for you up-for-the-holidays sports.

Aie, we knew you had it in you, Gibby!

'Tis the season to be... well, you know. And look who's gotten a good dose of the Christmas spirit. It's the Park's very own Kirk Gibson. Gibby and the Birmingham Theatre will be spreading Christmas cheer to 40 children from the St. Vincent and Sarah Fisher Center. On Dec. 14, the kids will join the cast of the Birmingham Theatre's current "Oliver!" for a tree-trimming party followed by a matinee performance.

Gibson will host the party (and give out an autograph or two to the kids, we hope) for the children.

The St. Vincent and Sarah Fisher Center provides 24-hour residential care and treatment for neglected, abused and emotionally disturbed boys and girls.

An invitation to a great invitational

It's still two weeks away, but that weird letdown period between Christmas and New Year's is coming up... and finding something to do besides cleaning up Christmas tree needles or replacing toy batteries is a challenge even for quick-witted, fast-thinking sports fans.

How does getting together with about 19,000 screaming hockey fans, listening to noisy school bands belt out fight songs and watching some great hockey sound?

If you agree that it beats another round of warmed-up clam dip and boring party talk, then head on down to the Joe Louis Arena Dec. 28 and 29 for the 18th annual Great Lakes Invitational.

The G.L.I. tournament is co-hosted by Michigan Tech and the University of Michigan and features challengers Michigan State University and Notre Dame. Notre Dame claimed the G.L.I. championship cup in its debut appearance last year, breaking Michigan Tech's five-year tournament winning streak.

The Tech Huskies lead the record books with nine championships with U of M garnering two titles and six runner-up finishes. MSU has won the title only once, that in 1973, but the Spartans are the G.L.I. favorite this year with their fine record so far this season.

U of M and MSU face off at 5 p.m. Dec. 28, with Tech and Notre Dame pairing off in the second game. The championship final is set for Dec. 29 at 8 p.m. Tickets are $8.50, $7.50 and $6.50 at JLA and CTC outlets.

The G.L.I. is collegiate hockey at its best — fight songs, "clever" chants, mascots, cheering sections, and all — and it may be the best hockey Joe Louis Arena will see this year. (And the best cure for those sagging, post-holiday spirits.)

Running out the old year, running in the new...

While time is running out for 1982, plenty of people will be getting a head start on "running in" 1983.

New Year's celebrations will begin at 3:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 31, when thousands of runners will gather at Belle Isle for the 13th annual New Year's Eve run, sponsored by the Belle Isle Runners and the Detroit Recreation Department.

The annual event includes a one-mile run for children 12 and under and a four-mile run open to all ages.

The Park's Jeanne Bocci began the event 13 years ago with just a handful of runners. When the list of participants grew to 250, Bocci knew she'd have to seek larger quarters — feeding that number of people the traditional spaghetti dinner that follows the run just couldn't be done in the Bocci kitchen any longer.

So, 13 years later, the Boccis, their friends and thousands of other New Year's Eve thrill-seekers gather at Belle Isle for a run, a free spaghetti dinner and a champagne toast. And you can join them.

"Anyone who can walk or run the distance is invited to enter. All types of entrants are welcome... the serious runners, beginners or those who just want to walk the distance," Bocci says.

Facilities for runners are unlimited... but the spaghetti dinners aren't. The first 3,000 registrants will receive the free dinner and champagne toast at the Brodhead Armory.

Entry forms will be available at all Detroit Recreation Centers and branches of the Detroit Public Library. They may also be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope: Belle Isle Runners Jeanne Bocci, P.O. Box 15294, Detroit, Mich., 48215. Mail entry deadline is Dec. 25.

Late registration (and T-shirt pick up for early registrants) will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 26 at the Belle Isle White House. Late registrants can also enter from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Dec. 31 at the Belle Isle Casino. Further information may be obtained by calling 224-1184.

It sounds like a great way to run out the old year... and it should get you home (or wherever, just in time for the midnight main event).

An early Christmas gift...

A pair of Pointe soccer players got their Christmas presents a few weeks early. North junior forward Marc Tirik and University Liggett senior midfielder Larry Van Kirk were named to the All-State High School first team by the Michigan Soccer Coaches Association.

Van Kirk received praise for his efforts in leading ULS to a Class D soccer title, and Tirik was honored as a forward with one of the fastest "starts" in high school soccer.

Skating smiles...

These happy looking University Liggett School students did it last year — participated in the Detroit Speedskating Club's Fun Skate Gold and Silver Skates Derby. Eight year-olds Christopher Ellsworth and Kristin Omelenchuk will probably participate in this year's Fun Skate derby, set for Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 18 and 19, at Farwell Field ice rink on Outer Drive between Mound and Ryan Roads in Detroit. Entry fee is $6 and must be made by Dec. 11. Trophies will be awarded to top three finishers in age groups from 6 and over; T-shirts and certificates go to all. Members of the Detroit Speedskating Club will be available for instruction at a free clinic held at the Farwell rink on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 11 and 12, at 10 a.m. each day. Further information may be obtained by calling 773-1460.

Bruins advance in Silver Stick

The Midget Bruins assured themselves of a berth in the regional Silver Stick semifinals competition with a 5-0 victory over St. Clair Shores and a 3-2 win over the Fraser Sabres last week.

The Bruins' first goal of the Shores game was scored by Tom Davis on an assist from Jeff Garrett. John Hirschfield scored on a rebound shot in the second period to make it 2-0. In the third period, Stacey Rickert scored a breakaway goal on a pass from defenseman Dan Follis. Tom Madden scored the fourth goal on an assist from Keith Barich. Rickert closed out the scoring with a goal in the last minute. The shutout was registered by goalie Dino Masella.

The Fraser Sabres provided a greater challenge to the Bruins in the next game. Marty Sanclemente opened the scoring on passes from Bob Nelson and Garrett. Rickert tallied the second goal on a breakaway after receiving a pass from Chris Luongo. After the Sabres made it 2-1, Rankin Barker scored from a faceoff for what proved to be the winning goal. Goalie Dan Geffert continuously thwarted numerous Sabre scoring chances.

The two victories assured the Bruins, sponsored by First of Michigan, of a spot in the semifinals. Their final preliminary round game with Flint will determine which of the teams play as division winner or runner-up.

The Bruins' overall record stands at 21-2.

Seven straight for Pee Wee Blues

The Grosse Pointe Blues Pee Wee A travel team continues to dominate the Adray league. Since traveling to Toronto in mid-November, the Blues have been unbeaten, winning seven consecutive games. The Blues' current streak includes three league victories, three wins in the Grosse Pointe Thanksgiving tournament and a win at the Silver Stick tournament.

The Blues began their current streak on Nov. 23 with a 3-1 victory over Flint. Billy Huntington began the Blues' scoring in the first period. Halfway through the final period, Billy Jewett scored, followed one minute later by Link Bessert. Flint notched a goal in the final 24 seconds of play.

The Blues' next win was a 6-0 victory over Windsor Riverside in the Thanksgiving tournament. Defenseman Kevin Bourke connected on a rebound from center Ricky Kirsch with just under two minutes gone in the game. Bessert scored the only goal in the second period. Ricky Darke opened the third period when he took a pass from Kevin Flaherty at midice and whistled a shot past the goalie. The Blues scored two late goals to notch the tournament win.

The Blues' next opponent was Lincoln Park and Grosse Pointe came away with a 7-1 victory.

scoring once in the first period, and three times each in the second and third periods. The third goal of the game was unassisted, as David Fuger blasted a slap shot from the blue line past a surprised Lincoln Park goalie.

In the tournament finals, the Blues faced a previously unbeaten Toronto Royal National team. After an early goal from Huntington, the Royal Nationals took a 2-1 lead late in the second period. But Blues' defenseman Tommy Lester finished a rink-long rush by circling the Toronto net and stuffing in a backhand shot to tie the game at 2-2.

Regulation play ended with the teams in a 3-3 deadlock, forcing an overtime. Link Bessert scored the winning goal in the overtime period to give the Blues the Grosse Pointe Thanksgiving Tournament championship.

On Dec. 2, the Blues defeated Sterling Heights, 6-2, with two goals in each period. Strong forechecking from Brink Cawley, Adam Tanielian, Jason Smith, Peter Mourad and Andy Busse accounted for three of the Blues' six goals.

In the opening round of the St. Clair Shores Silver Stick tournament Dec. 3, the Blues spoiled their hosts' evening by beating St. Clair Shores, 2-1. Cawley and Huntington supplied the goals.

South loses 'mismatch'

By Stuart Whitney

The South Blue Devils opened their 1982-83 basketball season last week on the short end of a 64-31 thrashing at the hands of an extremely talented and opportunistic Highland Park team. The game, played at South Dec. 3, was clearly a mismatch.

The Parkers were led by Glenn Blackwell, who was high scorer with 17 points, and 6-7 center Lonnie Woodward, who poured in 14.

It was an unfair way to open a season, as South also found out last year when it fell, 77-22, at Highland Park. That sort of yearly opener usually lowers team and fan morale and, more often than not, is deceptive in indicating a team's talent.

The first quarter gave the indication of a tight game. South was using slow-down tactics and when Highland Park tried to speed up the tempo, it found itself making careless mistakes. The Parkers, however, led 8-4 at the end of the quarter.

An emotional visiting Highland Park crowd, which totally reversed South's so-called home court advantage, helped motivate its team to score successive buckets. And when the Parkers got rolling after the first quarter, there was no doubt as to the outcome.

Despite some sloppy play early in the second half, when they failed to break a tough Highland Park press, the Devils really didn't play that badly. Some bright spots were: senior Chris Cruthis, who led South in scoring and rebounds with six points and eight boards; sophomore Mike Williams, who showed promise for the future with four points and good board work; and senior John O'Meara who, with his enthusiastic play, scored four points. Steady performers Pete Toenjes and Brian Rathsburg, both juniors, also looked promising, with five and four points, respectively.

South head coach George Petrouleas, when asked about his team's performance, stated: "I'm never happy with a loss, but we're still green and we played an awfully good team."

Does he foresee a successful season? He said simply: "I would hope so."

The Devils' defense did a good job in shutting down star center Woodward throughout most of the first quarter. But he was not to be stopped permanently. In addition to his numerous close-range buckets in the final three quarters, he played defense with great determination, rejecting numerous shots. Guard Patrick Franklin conducted the Parkers' awesome offensive attack with the skill of a master, while scoring 10 points.

"I didn't think we'd lose as bad as we did," said South's forward center Cruthis, who could be the key to the Devils' success this season. He also made it clear that intimidation did not play a role in South's loss. "I can only speak for myself, but I don't think we were intimidated at all," he remarked.

Eric Schmidt 'ran for life'

Eric Schmidt, a junior at the University of Michigan and a 1980 graduate of Grosse Pointe South participated in the Nov. 20 "Run For Your Life" fund raiser to benefit the Michigan Heart Association. The event was organized by the U of M Delta Epsilon fraternity, to which Schmidt belongs.

Fraternity members ran the game ball for the Nov. 20 Michigan-Ohio State football game from Ann Arbor to Columbus, Ohio — a distance of some 200 miles. The group left Friday, Nov. 19, at 6 a.m. and arrived before the game to present the ball to the U of M squad.

Donations are still being collected for the event. Contributions may be mailed to "Run For Your Life," Delta Upsilon Fraternity, 1331 Hill Street, Ann Arbor, Mich., 48109.

Schmidt is the son of Klaus and Margund Schmidt, of Cambridge Road. He is majoring in communications and philosophy at U of M.

Chrissy plays for Lake Forest

Chrissy Tolleson was part of Lake Forest College's best field hockey team ever — a team which finished the 1982 season with an overall record of 13-2-1.

Tolleson, daughter of Roy M. Tolleson, of Kenwood Road, was graduated from University Liggett School in 1981. She is a sophomore at Lake Forest College.

NCAA BASKETBALL. The Fighting Illini of Illinois invade the sacred domain of the Kentucky Wildcats... Rupp Arena in Lexington, Kentucky. Dick Enberg and Al McGuire report.

I think the reason we want to see my aggressive and football is a violent game. But I think the very violence is one of the great things about the game, because a man has to learn control. He is going to go in to knock somebody's block off, and yet he must keep a rein on it. I can't think of any other place that demands such discipline. — VINCE LOMBARDI, NFL Coach

NFL Interconference. It will almost seem like a homecoming as the Rams return to Los Angeles, the city whose name they still (however inappropriately) bear though they fled south to Anaheim. Awaiting them in the huge expanses of the Coliseum will be the new tenants, the Los Angeles (nee Oakland) Raiders.

"I can only speak from my own standpoint, but I think that to some degree I'm a masochist about it. I almost enjoy hitting someone and at the same time maybe hurting myself a little bit. Maybe I have tremendous guilt feelings about something, I'm not sure. But I think a number of football players are the same way."

— PAUL MARTHA, former NFL defensive back who, as an independent attorney, was instrumental in resolving the recent players strike

MON., DEC. 20

9PM-7 ABC (8 Central/Mountain)
NFL FOOTBALL. The Super Bowl runner-up Cincinnati Bengals stalk the Chargers in San Diego, which means the air should be filled with pigskin and the running backs do a lot of pass blocking for quarterback Ken Anderson and Dan Fouts

SportLite on Merlin Olsen

"During the game, I get caught up in the feeling of action, in the intensity and movement and being a part of what's happening on that field. As soon as I walk off the field I have this tremendous letdown, this tremendous emotional release, just like coming down off the clouds." — MERLIN OLSEN

Former All-Pro Defensive Lineman Merlin Olsen is probably back in the clouds despite his retirement five years ago. On February 12, 1983, he will add yet another honor when the Walter Camp Football Foundation, a non-profit organization dedicated to the perpetuation of the ideals espoused by Camp, ex-Yale coach and "father of American football," designates him Man of the Year at the Foundation's annual dinner at New Haven, Connecticut's Yale Commons

ULS boasts tennis champion

On Sunday, Nov. 28, University Liggett School sophomore Aaron Krickstein became the youngest boy ever to win the USTA Nation Indoor 18 and Under Tennis Championship at the Inwood Racquet Club in Dallas, Texas.

After defeating his first four opponents, Krickstein defeated top seed Rick Leach, ranked No. 6 nationally in the boys' 18 and under, 6-1, 6-2. In his semi-final match, he defeated the top Canadian junior 18 and under and seventh seed, Chris Pridham, 6-4, 6-3, 6-1. Krickstein defeated New Yorker Bill Stanley who was returning to the tournament as sixth seed, nationally ranked 19, in the best three of five sets, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

The 15-year-old Krickstein is a student of the Nick Bollettieri Tennis Academy in Bradenton, Fla., which he attends some weekends. Bollettieri said, "if you want to know who I think — barring an unforeseen injury or turn-about in likes and dislikes — will be the best of all juniors, it's Aaron."

"His groundstroke production is amazing and he hits the ball extremely hard. Right now he plays a lot like Borg, more of a backcourt type of player. But I believe in couple of years, not only will he be able to play from the backcourt, but he'll also be outstanding at the net."

ULS athletic director and varsity tennis coach Bob Wood says "Aaron's accomplishments in boys' tennis are unsurpassed by any male competitor in the history of Michigan tennis. Having a player of his caliber on the ULS team is the dream of a lifetime for any varsity coach."

Krickstein, ranked first in the 16-year-old division, won the USTA Boys' Clay Court Championship last year, and the Boys' 16 National Championships at Kalamazoo, in August. His first major national singles win was the Junior Orange Bowl Championship for 12-year-olds and under in December, 1978. He holds 10 national titles and nine runner-up national titles, and is ranked No. 1 in boys' 16-year-old and under singles and No. 3 in boys' 16-year-old and under doubles with Robby Weiss.

Krickstein's next big tournament is the Junior International Orange Bowl in Miami Beach, Fla. The tournament runs from Dec. 23 through Dec. 31. He will play in the 18 and younger division.

Cagers take league title

On Dec. 2, the ULS girls' basketball team defeated the Academy of the Sacred Heart, 34-27, and in so doing, won the 1982 Michigan Private School League Basketball Championship. This marks the second year in a row that the Lady Knights have reigned as league champions.

Earlier in the week the Knights played what coach Bob Wood described as "our best game of the season" as ULS easily defeated archrival Kingswood, 44-24.

ULS closes out its season this week as they travel to Kingswood on Thursday, Dec. 9 and then to Greenhills on Saturday, Dec. 11, for the Private School Tournament.

All-State honors at ULS

University Liggett School athletes have been awarded All-State honors in two sports.

In girls' tennis three ULS players to be selected All-State team members are Windy White, Anng Sherer and Paula Mighion.

All-State varsity soccer team members are Marty Wittmer, Larry Van Kirk and Robby Wood.

Aaron Krickstein

Marlies split league games

The Grosse Pointe Marlboro Bantam AA hockey club skated to a 5-1 win over Port Huron last week after dropping a 2-1 decision to St. Clair Shores in Adray League competition.

Grosse Pointe traveled to Port Huron on Thursday, Dec. 2 and completely overwhelmed the host club with superior skating. Marlie forward Tom Ugval started the scoring when he intercepted a pass and scored while the Pointe was shorthanded.

Joe Sullivan continued the shorthanded excitement when he skated the length of the ice to score with two Marlies in the penalty box. Later in the second period, Sullivan set up linemate Jamie Parker for the Marlies' third goal.

Port Huron scored late in the second period before Grosse Pointe iced the victory with two third period goals. The line of Craig Donahue, Parker and Kevin Tisdale provided the insurance margin with two goals which resulted from some slick passing. Donahue scored the first and Tisdale the second goal of the period.

The St. Clair Shores contest earlier in the week was a tough one with the Marlies losing in the last minutes of the game. Grosse Pointe had broken out on top early in the second period when winger Tisdale dug the puck from the corner and fed Donahue, who scored from right in front of a surprised St. Clair Shores goalie.

The goal appeared as though it might stand up until St. Clair Shores tied the game with less than five minutes remaining. The winning goal came with the Marlies shorthanded on a disputed penalty call in the last minute of play.

The Grosse Pointe Marlboros are competing in the Silver Stick regional tournament over the next few weeks. In the three-game preliminary round, the Marlies will meet St. Clair Shores, Redford and Fraser.

The Marlies dropped the opening contest to St. Clair Shores as Marlie center Craig Donahue provided the scoring punch with his three goals. Linemates Tisdale, Parker, Scott Nied and Eric Warezak assisted on the tallies. The Marlies will finish the opening round later this week.

Platform tennis champs crowned

The Junior Detroit Platform Tennis Tournament was held at the Country Club of Detroit on Dec. 4 and 5. Pointe players won two of the five age groups in the competition.

In the Girls' 12 division, Caroline Cunningham and Catherine Petzold of the Pointe, bested the Kalamazoo team of Kristy Hackenberg and Molly Dowma. In the all-Birmingham Girls' 15 final, Kip Wayburn and Susie Osterlund topped Laurie Risk and Kathy Olshesky.

The point team of Anng Sherer and Julie Quigley won the Girls' 18 division, beating Shelia Walsh and Corie Wayburn, of Birmingham, for the title.

In Boys' 15 play, Robert Hackman and Andrew MacLeod of the Pointe, finished as runners-up to the championship pair from Birmingham, Toby Buechner and Jeff Ingold. George Julien and Richard Schmidt, of Cleveland, topped Mike Parks and Lefty Cosgrove, of Birmingham, for the Boys' 18 title.

Last week's tourney was one of seven qualifying tournaments held in the United States and Canada. The next tournament is set for Short Hill, N.J., Dec. 11 and 12.

Kalamazoo will host a tournament on Jan. 11 and 12.

The tournaments lead to the Junior Nationals, which will be held this year for the first time in Birmingham. Further information on the platform tennis tournaments may be obtained by contacting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buechner through the Birmingham A.C.

GP Swim Club hosts meet

The Grosse Pointe Swim Club will host a United States Swimming — Michigan sanctioned "A" swim meet at North High this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 10 through 12.

The top age group swimmers from Michigan and Windsor will compete, according to meet director Paul Wilson. The Grosse Pointe Swim Club, under the direction of coach Scott Teeters, hopes to make a strong showing.

The Friday night session begins at 5:15 p.m. The 10 and under and 11 and 12 age groups will swim at 9 a.m. Saturday and Sunday. The rest will swim at 1:30 p.m.

A SURE THING! Ever find yourself wondering whether or not there is such a creature? Now with Teddy Kennedy out of the race, even the democratic presidential nominee is uncertain. Well, there is one thing in life you can bank on:

Wacky Jack will always bring you a vast selection of exciting, unusual, antiques, gifts, and collectibles, and while we're on the subject the crazy man really out done himself this week. He's got a multi-fruits and flowers carnival glass punch bowl, a Fenton double stemmed rose carnival compote, a Fenton lead chain carnival glass plate, a greenshopped rags carnival glass bon-bon, an ornate hand painted Nippon bowl, a Nippon cream and sugar, a Nippon plate, heavily decorated with gold, a Roseville pottery vase, an other discontinued Royal Doulton figurine, another addition to his extensive collection of Hummel figurines, some knock out gold decorated Lenox service plates, several pieces of Munton china, a good selection of best on the subject books on antiques and collectibles and much, much more. It's all at the Colonial Shop, 25701 Jefferson near 10 Mile, Monday-Saturday, 11 a.m.-6 p.m., 772-0430. Your Master Charge and Visa are welcomed and don't forget, we buy and appraise!

Center Ice in the GPHA

In Mite Division play last week, the Red Wings jumped into an early lead when Matt Kramer scored with assists going to Stephen Salaka and Jay Berger. In the third period, Mike Kloubucher put on a show as he fired the puck into the net three times to secure a 3-1 victory for the Cougars. Assists were recorded by Gary Spicer, Don Leoni, Chris Crain and Bart Koek.

FLYERS-BLACK HAWKS
The Black Hawks' Sean Darke scored in the opening moments of the game to get the Flyers off to a quick start. Marcel Chagnon of the Flyers scored next on an assist from John Okay. The same combination connected in the second period as Chagnon got his second goal of the game. The Flyers increased their lead to 3-1 when Pete Monahan fired over on a pass from Marc Primeau. The Hawk's Tim Weldon narrowed the gap with a late goal but it was not enough as the Flyers won, 3-2.

CHARGERS-COUGARS
Paul Megler scored two goals and added two assists to lead the Chargers to their 4-1 win over the Cougars. Spicer got the lone Cougar goal. Brad Eickhorst added two assists for the Chargers as they jumped to a 4-0 lead and were not to be caught.

FLYERS-GATORS
Veteran Ty Telegadas got the Flyers off to a quick start as he scored in the first period for a 1-0 lead. It was not long-lasting as Jeff Huntington evened the score for the Gators by firing the puck into the net on a strong effort. The hero of the game was young Danny Bombich of the Flyers as he scored the first goal of his hockey career to give the Flyers a close, 2-1 win.

BLACK HAWKS-SEALS
Teddy Hannawalt did an excellent job in the nets as he led the Black Hawks to a 2-0 triumph over the Seals. Hannawalt received strong support from the defensive forwards of Tim Kasal and Marcello Madrazo. The Black Hawks got all of the scoring that they needed from Sean Darke as he scored twice with assists going to Tom Lee, Kip Gottfredson, Joey Provenzano and Jolley Shaw. Ryan Perkins was superb in goal for the Seals.

RED WINGS-MAJOR MAGICS
Major Magics opened the scoring with a goal by T.R. Youngblood, assisted by Patrick Alie and Amy Kendall. The Wings retaliated with goals by Andy Calandrelli and Jay Berger to take the lead at the end of the first period. The goaltending and defense tightened in the second period and the score remained 2-1. In the third period, the Red Wings caught fire as Stefan Telige scored twice to ice the game, 4-1. Assists were notched by the Wing's Matt Krueger, Brian Miller, Stephen Salaka and Ken Briere.

MAJOR MAGICS-COUGARS
Excellent goaltending by Scott Wackowski of the Major Magics and Don Leoni of the Cougars was the highlight of this close, hard-fought game. Goals by Peter Bogos and Jeff Torrice of the Magics offset the single goal by high-scoring Mike Kloubucher of the Cougars, as the Magics took this 2-1 win.

MAJOR MAGICS-CHARGERS
Torrice of the Major Magics garnered the shutout as the Chargers were defeated, 6-0. Bogos put on an offensive show as he fired in four goals to lead the victory. Alex Olmsted and Chris Fox gathered assists in this one-sided game.

There were only four games played in the Squirt Division last week as the division readied itself for a series of games with teams from St. Clair Shores as well as preparing for the various Christmas tournaments. The action was fast and furious as the teams took the ice in an effort to narrow the gap on the league-leading North Stars.

HUSKIES-OILERS
The Huskies faced a preview in this hard fought contest when they broke open a close game with a flurry of goals in the third period. The final score was 5-3 as Sean Trainer scored twice for the Huskies and single tallies were recorded by Scott Cavazos, Adam Houde, and Paul Neeson.

NORTH STARS-ISLANDERS
This was another close-checking game as both goaltenders were sharp during the entire game. Brad Hea notched his first shutout in a row as the North Stars finally put the puck past Alfie Fisher who was outstanding in the Islanders net. The final score was 3-0 as Pete Cueter, Gabe Benvenuto and Charlie Stumb scored for the North Stars. Pat Pesenga had two assists and Chris Wyke did a fine job of goalkeeping.

ISLANDERS-HUSKIES
A goaltenders' battle developed in this 1-1 tie as the Islanders' Kevin Bat and the Huskies' Gabe Benvenuto traded turns in stopping the opposing offenses. The Huskies were the first to break the tie when Trainer fired in a first period goal. In the second stanza, Billy Schervish evened the score, and it remained that way as Jason Brubecker of the Islanders and Brian Dennis of the Huskies led strong defensive efforts.

NORTH STARS-OILERS

The North Stars won their seventh straight game as they held on to defeat the Oilers 2-1 behind the brilliant goaltending of Darren Burt. Charlie Stumb knocked in his 11th goal of the season on an assist from Jack McSorley to open the scoring, and Gabe Benvenuto tacked on an assist to give the Stars a 2-0 lead. McSorley, The Oilers lone tally came on a C-line goal by Kevin McCracken with assists from Brian Dennis and David Chule.

an intense, year-round training program by playing basketball nearly every day, and officials say. Langs didn't even play basketball until his junior year at South High School, so he came to Brown as a question mark.

He was a regular with Brown's JV team, seeing more action later last year with the varsity squad. Langs wound up playing in nine Detroit Cal 20 Fleet 11's 1982 season formally concluded with its traditional awards dinner at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club Nov. 11. The dinner was well attended by Cal 20 sailors, spouses and crews. Warren Miller's 1982 sailing film, "Reach for Sail," highlighted the evening.

Winners of the six series that comprise the Cal 20 season were recognized and flags and trophies awarded. No other one design fleet can match the 90 races in which Cal 20's participate on Lake St. Clair each season.

Refuge, sailed by the Park's Jack, Janie and John McAllister, took the DYVA "C" Course Cal 20 championship for the second season in a row. Refuge's seven firsts and seconds out of 12 races put the McAllisters out of reach by mid-season. However, there was a close contest for second place which was not decided until the last race, GYPC's Bluegrass. The result was a replay of last year's contest for second place with Lonn, sailed by Dick Green, Loren Hoffman and Ralph Deeds, edging out the Woods' Norm Carstens' Blue Frau. In 1982, 10 Cal 20s registered for "C" Course competition and participation averaged 10 boats per race, the best since the class was formed in 1965.

Park resident George Peterson's Spectrum won the Main and Jib Championship Series for which a silver punch bowl, the D.B. Snider Trophy, has been awarded each year since 1966. The average number of starters was also for this seven-race series. Peterson was followed by the Woods' Gene and Joanne Bertelsen's Sirius in second with Lonn, steered by 11-year-old Eric Deeds, a close third.

Spectrum also took first in the marathon around-lake, 27-race Sunday-Holiday series at GYVC. The Woods' Bob Palmer's HSVF took second and Sirius third.

Palmer won the 15-race GYVC Wednesday evening series. He was followed by George Peterson in second and the ubiquitous Bertelsen in third. In the Farms' Pier Thursday Evening Series, the four Cal 20 entrants took one-two-three-four in their PHIF class composed of Cal 20s and several bigger but slower designs. The McAllisters were the winners followed by the Bertelsen's, the Farms' Art Spindler's Gusto and Bill MacNaughton's Yellow Jacket.

Down on the Detroit River, Edson BC Commodore, Mark Willmott, won his wife Linda's took the Cal 20 class in the GYVC Tuesday Evening Series. The Willmotts were the winners followed by the Bertelsen's, the Farms' Art Spindler's Gusto and Bill MacNaughton's Yellow Jacket.

Other Cal 20 season highlights were Sirius' victory by an hour in the Inlake-LaBait's Challenge which drew 35 boats this year.

Triple win for wrestlers

By Paul Regehrugge

While averaging losses to Roseville and North Dame from last year, North coach Larry Aceto's wrestlers went on to become triple dual champions in a set that included a 51-13 win over Dearborn Ann Arbor, a 54-9 win over Roseville, and a 57-12 victory over North Dame.

Winning three times for North were Dave Fleming, Greg Fleming, Greg Fahre, Pete Moody, Pat Marlow, Jim Seagram, Steve Taugher, Fred Schultz and Ken Wersk. Greg Fleming, Fahre, Moody, Marlow and Schultz pinned their way through the night.

North's next home match is on Thursday, Dec. 9 against Bishop Foley, Warren Woods and Lutheran East beginning at 6 p.m.

Cagers a disappointment

"We're a lot better than what we showed," commented North coach Ray Ritter on his varsity basketball team's disappointing 75-51 defeat at the hands of the Sterling Heights Stallions. "It was a combination of us playing poorly and them playing very well."

While not only breaking down defensively, the Norsemen turned the ball over 26 times on offense, a statistic that Ritter says can't win any games.

Measelle leads Brown swimmers

Sophomore swimmer Jeff Measelle, of the Pointe, is being counted on to help improve Brown University's 1981 dual meet swim mark of 5-7.

A consistent performer all last season, Measelle finished the 1981-1982 season with 51.5 points in dual meets, good for sixth best on the team. He set a school record at the Eastern Seasonal in the 100 freestyle, finishing 11th in 46.20. He also posted a 10th place in the 100 butterfly and was a member of the 400 and 800 freestyle and the 400 medley relay teams which set school records at the Easterns. Brown finished seventh overall at the Eastern Seasonal Championships. Measelle is a graduate of South High School in the city of Detroit.

Measelle is the son of Richard and Susan Measelle, of Stephens Road. He is a history major at Brown.

9-BAND WORLD RECEIVER THE SIZE OF A PAPERBACK BOOK.

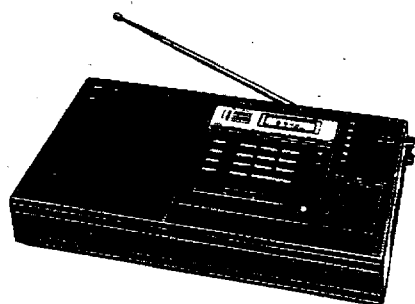

You read it here first. This nine-band ICF-7600A world receiver is about the size of a paperback book. It's also about to tune in a new era in shortwave reception. It's so sophisticated, it rivals much larger multiband radios in sensitivity, selectivity, and ease of operation. For the first time, you can travel with great sound and hear news, music, sports and commentary from around the globe. And do it with the precision of a home set. From the BBC to European concert halls to the Voice of America, plus local AM and FM stations, our globe trotter captures shortwave broadcasts from the two hemispheres and holds them effortlessly. Look closely at the Sony ICF-7600A world receiver.

SONY PRESENTS 2001: A RADIO ODYSSEY.

Sony's ICF-2001 is the next stage in radio evolution. Instead of conventional multi-band tuning, the ICF-2001 gives you direct-access digital key-touch tuning of short wave bands, FM, AM, MW, even SSB/CW broadcasts. Just punch in the station frequency numerals on the calculator-style keyboard, and you've got what you want. You can also scan automatically through whatever frequency range you desire by setting upper and lower limit keys. Or you can scan manually, even at a fast rate. This means the ICF-2001 might just be the ultimate radio trip. You can even set your favorite stations in memory, so you can return at the touch of a button.

CORDLESS FREEDOM OF SPEECH

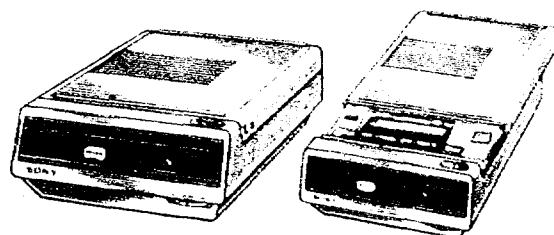

Ever miss an important telephone call because you happened to be by the pool, pruning your roses, or simply out of hearing range of your telephone? Sony's exciting solution: The SPP-11 cordless telephone. Pick up the attractive handset, slip it into a pocket or attach it to your belt and you'll love the feeling of being unleashed from the tug of a telephone cord. Inside, outside, upstairs, downstairs, easy pushbuttons, just like those on a regular, stationary phone, give you full dial-out capability. An Auto Redial button even lets you redial the last number you called in case it's busy or no one's home. Another control adjusts the volume with a flick of a finger. And someone at the base station can page you by pushing a button. The built-in phone jack makes installation a snap. And our conversation piece can be used for either tone or rotary-type phone systems. You may also like to know that the range of the Sony SPP-11 cordless telephone is wide, for freedom of movement as well as speech.

A TELEPHONE ANSWERING MACHINE SHOULD BE AS EASY TO USE AS A TELEPHONE.

Now that sounds logical, doesn't it? A telephone answering machine that's so easy to use, a touch of a finger reads it to record calls while you're away at work or jogging around the block. Another touch commands it to play back your messages instantly. The secret of Sony's RS-20 Telephone Answering Machine is a microprocessor that does all the work: the rewinding, message recall and tape positioning. Other machines offer a confusion of knobs and buttons. Sony's RS-20 offers an uncluttered, uncomplicated, totally reliable way to record messages and even to screen calls without answering the phone. Ask about the RS-20's other features. Simple? Sophisticated? You bet it's The Answer from Sony.
