Imported or domestic?

There'll always be a Grosse Pointe. It seems a lady on Cloverly Road was being bothered by raccoons, so she called the Farms Police Department for some help.

The cops gave her a couple of traps and showed her how they worked. As for bait, the resident was advised to use something with a strong "fishy" smell.

A few days later the woman called to complain that she hadn't been able to capture her four legged felons. Hmmm. Did she set the traps correctly? She had. Perhaps bait was the problem. What did she bait the traps with?

Well, admitted the resident, she didn't have any sardines or anchovies, so she baited the trap with caviar. It was, she said, the only fishy smelling thing she had in the house.

Perhaps the raccoons were holding out for a little champagne to go with it.

Hot dog!

While we've all got some champagne in our hands, let's raise a toast to McCabe, a Bassett Hound owned by Bob and Barb Wagner, of Hawthorne Road. It looks like he might have saved their lives last week.

According to Barb Wagner, she and her husband Bob were asleep in their upstairs bedroom the night of Wednesday, Oct. 19, when McCabe's persistent barking woke them up. Since the pooch had been let out before the household retired, the Wagners couldn't figure out what was going on.

Coming downstairs, they found McCabe barking near the kitchen which was a huge ball of flame. The fire department was alerted, but the kitchen and the dining room were completely destroyed. Luckily, no one was hurt, including the fire fighters.

Apparently, a burner on the stove had been left on, then somehow created the fire. Mrs. Wagner said they never did hear their smoke alarms going off, although they were working properly.

Guess it's lucky they had an original, four legged smoke alarm sleeping downstairs.

I love a parade

For all you parade lovers out there, South High School will conduct its Homecoming parade this Saturday, Oct. 29, starting at 11:30 a.m.

The parade will move down Kercheval from Cadieux Road, to Fisher Road. The theme this year, according to the Grosse Pointe South Student Association, is "Golden Moments."

The parade will be preceded by the traditional Pancake Breakfast at the school in Cleminson Hall. Breakfast will be served from 8 to 10 a.m. Tickets will be on sale at the door at $2.50 for adults; $2 for children under 14 and $1.50 for those under 5.

P.S. To parents of North High School students, please don't call or write with accusations of "favoritism" because South parade was mentioned here. Some South students were kind enough to bring the information by. Being a big parade lover, I was happy to oblige.

If North had done the same, I would have been happy to run an announcement of their Homecoming festivities. Honest.

Woods candidates meet tonight at forum

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Tonight, the voters of Grosse Pointe Woods will have a chance to meet the six candidates running for three city council seats. The forum, sponsored by the League of Women Voters, begins at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers, 20025 Mack.

Three incumbents are seeking to retain their seats. They are Frederick Lovelace, Robert Novitke and William Wilson. Three challengers are looking for seats, also. They are Paul Beaupre, Ted Bidigare and Douglas Munro.

PAUL BEAUPRE is general manager of Plumbrook Golf Club and secretary of Plumbrook Realty Co. The 33-year-old father of two is making his first run for public office. Beaupre lives on Oxford Road and has lived in the Woods since 1976.

ford Road and has lived in the Woods since 1976.

TED BIDIGARE, of Anita, has served for three years on the city's Community Development Block Grant Advisory Commission. Married and the father of one son, he holds a Bachelor of Science degree from John Carroll University in Cleveland.

Bidigare, 40, was a U.S. Army pilot and served two tours of duty in Viet Nam. A native Pointer, he has lived in the Woods for 18 years.

FREDERICK LOVELACE, of Hawthorne Road, is seeking his second term on the council. He received his undergraduate degree at Wayne State University and also holds a degree in business administration from Central Michigan University.

Lovelace, 34, served as a public safety officer in the Woods from 1972 to 1974. He is currently employed by CNA Insurance. Married and the father of two sons, the family has lived in the Woods for six years.

In his four years in the council, Lovelace has served for the last two as chairman of the Finance Committee. He also served on the Insurance Commission and was chairman of the Historical Commission.

DOUGLAS MUNRO is a native Pointer and a resident of the Woods for 37 years. He is acting deputy commander of the U.S. Army Tank-Automotive Research and Development Center. This is his second attempt at a council seat, having run before in 1981.

Munro is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and is the recipient of federal awards for leadership and meritorious civilian service. A veteran of World War II, Munro is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers, the U.S. Armor Association, and the Association of the U.S. Army.

ROBERT NOVITKE has, in his six years of service on the council, served as council representative to the Parks and Recreation Commission, member of the Judiciary Committee and the board of directors for the Grosse Pointe Clinton Refuse Disposal Authority.

Novitke, of Clairview Court, is a practicing attorney and also president of Briarcliff Realty Co. The father of five children, he is a long-time resident of the city as well as past-president of the Kiwanis Club and a member of the Lakeshore Optimist Club.

an Club and a member of the Lakeshore Optimist Club.

WILLIAM WILSON has served on the council for four years. In that time, he has served on the city's Senior Citizens Commission, Parks and Recreation Commission, Public Relations Commission and the Grosse Pointe Clinton Refuse Authority.

Wilson, who lives on Wedgewood, is a native Pointer who is very active in sports throughout the area. He has been affiliated with the Woods-Shores Little League, Babe Ruth League, Grosse Pointe Hockey Association and Red Barons football.

The News met with the candidates and asked them about the city and issues facing the council. Their responses begin on page 17A of this week's issue.

Drinking put on the shelf for moment

By Harriet Nolan

A live and let live attitude is being expressed by Grosse Pointe City merchants who wanted permission to sell beer and wine by the glass now that it appears any hope for approval of a tavern license this year has soundly bit the dust.

"I'm going to carry on and not give up," says Andrew Moquin, co-owner of the Merry Mouse with partner Murielle Hyland. "We're still going ahead with our expansion plans."

Moquin expressed disappointment with the council's decision, particularly since it refused to turn the question over to the voters in the upcoming Nov. 8 election.

He is firm, however, in stating his love for the community that welcomed him and makes the Merry Mouse so successful.

A follow-up letter to council from Attorney John King asking it to reconsider and put the issue to a vote of the people this year fell on deaf ears.

King, the City's former mayor, also represents Jacobson's Stores, Inc., and the ClairPointe and Ram's Horn Restaurant in the petition.

Mayor Lorenzo Browning says no one is really against the request, but that it's mostly a matter of timing.

"It's obvious that the merchants aren't happy," says Councilman James Curran, who led the motion to study the issue for a year before putting it on the November, 1984 ballot.

"But this is something that needs to be studied carefully," he adds.

Owner of the ClairPointe Restaurant, Vito DePalma, says he will survive without a license, but he is against giving licenses to well-known, name restaurants at the cost of established businesses.

He says that the council and City should take care of its own and he could serve identical food well-known restaurants sell for $30 to $35 at a $15 maximum.

"If the council wants a more elaborate restaurant, we could have that also," says DePalma. "I could turn this into a nice, cozy, little place with proper silverware, china and tablecloths."

Clarence Wascher, general manager of Jacobson's, says he's not worried about Jacobson's survival in the City, but for the other small businesses.

He says the group of merchants have plans to discuss and study this matter in the future.

What a BOOOtiful display!

Members of Mary Jane Paone's kindergarten class, from Gabriel Richard School, received a big surprise last week when they toured the Farms Fire Department. The kids were treated to a one-day only Halloween display created by Farms Fire Fighter Jack Fischer. Both monsters are well over six feet tall and have eyes that light up at night. The skeleton on the left is built on a pivotal base that allows it to swing in the wind. During night hours, the ghastly ghoul is lit up by a flickering strobe light. The werewolf on the right sports red eyes and is highlighted by a red strobe. A resident of St. Clair Shores, Fire Fighter Fischer reports he also decorates his home with giant spider webs and greets kids with a dry-ice-in-water created fog to haunt things up a bit. The kids were impressed by the display and so were residents who happened to drive down Kerby Road where the monsters hung out for a day. Incidentally, in case you were confused, Fire Fighter Fischer is the shorter, smiling figure in the background.

Hunting the homebound ghost

By Jamie Cook

Doors flying open, footsteps pounding across the floor and stuffed animals becoming live forms are popular perceptions of ghosts' activities, especially in movies such as Poltergeist.

While ghosts do exist and communicate, Grosse Pointe psychic Helen Hintzen assures us ghosts' ways are not that extreme.

A ghost occupying a house communicates with the homeowner in more subtle ways, through internal conversation and sight, Hintzen said.

Two Grosse Pointe residents have felt ghosts' presence and recently called on Hintzen, who would only reveal the houses are located on Lakeshore Road.

The definition of a ghost is "the disembodied spirit of a dead person, supposed to haunt living persons or former habitats," according to the American Heritage Dictionary. Hintzen's description of ghosts corresponds to that definition. She added the personality of the person who dies remains with their ghost (or spirit).

Hintzen said in one of the two homes, the ghosts were causing stress among family members so the residents asked Hintzen to help get rid of the ghosts.

"I was able to clear the house of ghosts through inner conversation and sheer will. I told them they don't belong there," she said.

The reason a ghost remains in a house, instead of moving on to the new world after their body dies, is because it "has lingering emotional ties or strong attachments to the property, objects or people," she said.

The second house contained the ghost of an older woman, who had been upset recently because strange men had worked in the house. Hintzen says she got rid of the ghost by telling her to go.

As a practicing psychic, Hintzen said she acknowledged persons can use ghosts in negative ways through witchcraft, but she does not like to dwell on witchcraft or negative spiritual activities.

Hintzen conducts classes for a charge.

In a reading, the psychic handles an article owned by an individual and can give information about the person.

In her classes, Hintzen said she stresses experience rather than lecture. Students can reach spirits (ghosts) through strong, but relaxed, meditation. The spirits will come to and communicate with a group of people with a high spiritual state of mind and sincere belief in the spirits.

Hintzen, an ordained minister with the Spiritual Advisory Council, agrees that most people do not believe in ghosts.

She and the council are trying to persuade the hardline leaders of some Christian churches to accept spiritual experiences of church members. Some leaders are reluctant to share such experiences with their parishioners, she said.

She said in her experience as a psychic, Halloween has not had special significance among spirits.

But Halloween has special significance among humans.

Besides being the eve of All Saints Day, it is a time for children to dress in costumes and trick-or-treat in their neighborhood.

As deadline draws near political jabs honed

By Harriet Nolan

Most of the five candidates for Park council have been content, of late, to rehash the old issues of street repair and school closings in their race to fill three seats in the Nov. 8 election.

David Gaskin, a newcomer to Park politics, is somewhat of an exception.

"I do my own thinking and speak out on the issues that pertain to me," says Gaskin, of Bishop Road.

He thinks that all the Pointes should organize a program that solicits relocation of employees of local corporations to this area.

"We don't do an adequate job of making ourselves known to newcomers as a wonderful place to live," says Gaskin, a partner in the law firm of Dahlbert, Malender & Gawne.

"There is a great array of starter to high level homes in this area and a greater effort should be made by all the councils to develop a cohesive program between corporations and realty people," he adds.

Gaskin takes exception with people who "imply" that crime in the Park is any different in size or scope than in the other Pointes.

"While I believe we can always do better, I and other citizens I have talked with agree that our police and fire department response time is excellent," he says.

Wanting to see more police visibility however, he says he'd look at a public safety program if it was proven to save taxpayer money and improve protection.

The recently proposed zoning ordinance unveiled to Park citizens on Oct. 12 gets his okay after "certain things are ironed out with the business community," says Gaskin.

Regarding himself as an independent, Gaskin says he won't publicly support either candidate (Graham or Heenan) for mayor, but feels he could work with either.

When asked about the Park Page, a political publication currently circulating that has omitted any identification of its origin, Gaskin expressed concern.

"Beginning with the first issue it wasn't clear who was behind the paper and it's still not entirely clear.

Jonathan Shames

Pianist Shames opens '83 Symphony season

Pianist Jonathan Shames, a finalist in the prestigious 1982 Moscow International Tchaikovsky Competition, will be the guest artist at the first concert of the Grosse Pointe Symphony's 1983-84 season on Sunday, Nov. 6, at 3:30 p.m., in Parcels Auditorium.

The concert is being underwritten by the Charles M. Bauervic Foundation, in memory of its founder, a well-known Oakland County real estate investor, who died in 1977. Several members of the Bauervic family plan to attend the musical program and reception which immediately follows it.

Felix Resnick will conduct the Symphony and Shames will play Brahms' Concerto No. 1 in D minor. He was called a "prodigious talent" by the Los Angeles Times and was selected by the Beethoven Foundation for one of its first Fellowships. He also won the National Career Award of the National Society of Arts and Letters and was picked an "outstanding talent to watch" by Musical America and High Fidelity magazine.

Musical audiences in the U.S., Great Britain and the Soviet Union have come to know and admire his talent through television broadcasts of the Tchaikovsky Competition, in which he was one of only two American finalists.

Shames made his concerto debut with the Boston Pops in 1974 and appeared repeatedly with that orchestra under the late Arthur Fiedler. A Yale University graduate, he was a musical assistant to Sarah Caldwell at the Opera Company of Boston, and has studied piano with Leon Fleisher and Theodore Lettvin. Since moving to Ann Arbor three years ago he has played more than 70 solo and chamber music concerts with members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. This season he is scheduled to appear in New York, Detroit, New Haven and Indianapolis, as well as at the 1984 World's Fair in New Orleans.

Tickets for the Nov. 6 concert, $5 for adults and $2 for students, may be purchased at the door or phone 886-6244 to reserve in advance. Season tickets are also available.

Hospice program for Medicaid or Crippled Children recipients

Medicaid has a demonstration project with the Hospice of South-eastern Michigan to enroll up to 40 terminally ill Medicaid or Crippled Children recipients by Jan. 15, 1984.

To be continued for enrollment, the recipient must: be diagnosed by a licensed physician as having six months or less to live, live in the hospice service area (Wayne, Oakland or Macomb counties), and meet the hospice's enrollment criteria (e.g., the recipient must be informed prior to enrollment that he/she has been diagnosed as having six months or less to live).

The hospice will provide or arrange for all Medicaid-covered services except dental, in-patient hospital and in-patient long-term care services.

Physicians who wish to refer patients for hospice services should contact the hospice directly at 22401 Foster Winter Drive, Southfield, Mi. 48075; or call 559-9209.

Concert features early classical tunes, instruments

Flauto e Basso Baroque Duo continues their popular chamber series, "Music from the Age of Enlightenment," with a concert of early classical music on Saturday, Nov. 5 at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House.

"The Age of Elegance" will be repeated Nov. 5 at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House, 1100 Lakeshore Road in the Shores. Tickets are $7 ($5 for children under 12). Guests are invited to tour the main floor of the mansion, an Albert Kahn design.

Cirtin and Jencka, who perform often in the Detroit-Windsor area, are known for their authentic interpretations of baroque music. In addition, Cirtin prepares editions of 17th and 18th-century music for publication, and Jencka builds and maintains harpsichords.

The concert will first be performed on Oct. 29 at the Birmingham Unitarian Church, a popular concert site designed by Minoru Yamasaki, on Woodward at Lone Pine in Bloomfield Hills. Tickets are $5 ($3 for children under 12). Complimentary beverages will be served at this location.

Upcoming concerts in the series are "Baroque Music at Christmas Time, IV," Dec. 10 and 17; "An 18th-Century St. Valentine's Day," Feb. 4 and 11; "The Legacy of J.S. Bach II," March 17 and 24, and "The Rivalry: Music of France & Italy," April 28 and May 5.

All concerts begin at 8 p.m. Tickets in advance are available. Call 656-1574 for information and a free brochure. This series is presented in association with WQRS, Timeless FM 105.

Home care service offered by Calvary

Calvary Senior Center is again offering home chores and home-maker services for older adults living in the Pointes, Harper Woods and the Finney-Denby area.

Chores and services offered include replacing fuses, faucets, washers and door locks; installing screens and storms, shades and curtain rods; shampooing and tacking down rugs or scrubbing floors and repairing furniture.

Homemaking services help with light housekeeping, food preparation and laundry. Calvary's boundaries for these services include: Jefferson, Alter, Philip, Hayes, Kelly and Eight Mile to Jefferson.

In addition to the home sacrifices, Calvary sends a newsletter to homebound elderly and offers a Friendship Line where weekly phone calls are made to reassure clients they are not forgotten.

Although services are supplied free, donations are accepted from those able to pay and go toward funding the program.

Call Verlyn Thomas, director of Calvary's Home Services Department, at 881-3374.

Film highlights Ski Club trip

Dr. Vollrad J. von Berg and his wife Lee, of the Shores, will show a 40 minute film entitled "Banff-Lake Louise-Sunshine" at the monthly meeting of the Grosse Pointe Ski Club on Wednesday, Nov. 2, at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial.

The film will include scenes of the club's ski trip and spectacular views of the Canadian Rockies.

A meeting and coffee will follow the film. Deposits for upcoming week end trips will be taken. The schedule is as follows: Boyne Highlands, Jan. 6-8; Blue Mountain, Collingwood, Ont., Feb. 3-5 and Jackson Hole, Wyoming, Feb. 25-March 4.

Information on the western trip can be obtained from Bob Moreillon, at 259-2511 (days). Prospective members are invited to attend.

SJH offering free diabetes testing

St. John Hospital, in cooperation with the Michigan affiliate of the American Diabetes Association, is offering free diabetes tests in conjunction with "Diabetes Detection Week", Tuesday, Nov. 8 through Thursday, Nov. 10.

The hospital's staff will conduct tests on Nov. 8, from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. in Meeting Room A, in the lower level education center; and on Nov. 9 and 10, from 8:30 until 10:30 a.m. in Meeting Room D, on the same level.

To take the tests, you must be 18 years of age and not a known diabetic. Symptoms of the disease are excessive thirst, loss of weight, constant hunger, easy tiring, slow healing of cuts and changes in vision.

Persons planning to be tested should eat a meal rich in carbohydrates two hours before testing. No appointments is necessary, but testees are asked to bring the name and address of their family physician with them.

Cottage has many speakers available

Cottage Hospital of Grosse Pointe's Speakers' Bureau has a fresh roster of programs related to health and family living for presentation to groups in the community this fall. The Speakers' Bureau is staffed by health care professionals who can be scheduled to speak to community and school groups and church organizations in the Detroit, Grosse Pointe and northeastern suburban area.

New this fall is a slide presentation, "Holding the Line on Health Care Costs," which describes what contributes to the cost of modern health care and how Cottage Hospital is striving to contain costs. Other current topics "Nutrition for Today's Diet," "First Aid for the Choking Victim" and "Hospice Care for the Terminally Ill."

You, or a representative of your group, may also arrange for a speaker on the problems of daily living. Members of the social work department discuss stress management, dealing with the problems of adolescence, premarital questions, myths and realities of growing old, mental illness and its symptoms and dynamic family living. Other subjects can be requested depending on the focus of the group.

The Speakers' Bureau is a community service of Cottage Hospital.

Zoning plan designed to reduce density in Park

By Harriet Nolan

Grosse Pointe Park city council told citizens attending the special study session on the proposed zoning ordinance Wednesday, Oct. 12 that no high rises will be built nor will homes that currently exceed two-family dwellings be condemned for removal.

Multiple family housing is currently allowed in one of four residential zones (RD), which are scattered through several blocks of Wayburn, Maryland, Lakepointe, Barrington, Beaconsfield and Nottingham from Mack to south of Jefferson.

This area was built before any zoning ordinance was created, noted Mayor Douglas Graham.

"It's uncontrolled housing with no pattern and we're not planning to perpetuate that," he said.

The proposed plan calls for future restrictions of any construction other than single and two-family residences.

It will also restrict the height of any new construction to no more than 30 feet, according to city officials.

The council made it clear the city will not be condemning any homes that currently exceed the proposed plan's requirements for multiple dwellings. These rules will only affect future housing which is designed to put a stop to more people living in an already dense area.

The proposed ordinance also seeks to control construction of any large business which would disrupt the neighborhood concept and will discourage any business that will generate more traffic on residential and local streets that serve residents.

Also discouraged will be any construction which will cause back-up services such as fire and police protection, water and sewerage supplies to be increased to service it.

The 75-page proposed ordinance covers everything from allowable lots sizes to canopies in residential and commercial sections. It is the first in-depth revision of the city's zoning laws.

The final version must be approved by the city council before it becomes law, but the code is generally interpreted and enforced at the planning commission level.

Classes begin at War Memorial

Several classes will begin new sessions in November at the War Memorial.

Bodyshapers will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8:15 to 9:15 a.m. beginning Tuesday, Nov. 1. The purpose of the class is to improve muscle and joint elasticity with sequences of static stretches. The cost is $64 for eight weeks.

Four separate classes in voice instruction will be offered again for children, teenagers, and beginning and advanced adults.

Friday night Karate classes for all ages will start its new session Nov. 11.

Refresher Bridge, which includes one hour of instruction and one hour of play, will meet on Monday evenings. (Beginning Bridge will meet on Thursdays starting Dec. 1.)

A two-day workshop in Chair Seat Weaving will be Wednesdays Nov. 9 and 16, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. A supply list and special student instructions is available at the Center's front desk.

Personal Financial Planning and Tax Advantaged Investments will meet for three evenings beginning Nov. 21.

For details on any of these classes, call 881-7511.

In memory of Borrego

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Foundation donated $6,500 to the War Memorial in memory of Dr. Jose Borrego, the Rotary Club's immediate past president who died last month. Pictured above are William A. McCourt, president of Grosse Pointe Rotary; Mark Webber, executive director of the War Memorial, and Frederick Ollison III, president of the War Memorial Board of Directors. Dr. Borrego was a member of Grosse Pointe Rotary since 1968 and a concerned and active citizen. He gave of his time selflessly both here in Grosse Pointe and in his native country of Mexico and will be sorely missed by all of us in Rotary, according to John Brooks, club spokesman. At the time of his death Dr. Borrego was chief anesthesiologist at Bon Secours Hospital.

Teen dance on Devil's Night

The War Memorial will host a special pre-Halloween dance for all junior high students in the Grosse Pointes from grades 7 to 9 on Sunday, Oct. 30.

J.R. Entertainment will provide three hours of continuous music and an appropriate light show for the occasion. The War Memorial hopes to keep students off the streets and in the ballroom dancing for the evening. Costumes are encouraged and prizes will be awarded for the best dressed.

The dance will begin and end early (from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.) as it is a Sunday night. Refreshments and coat check will be available and students are reminded that they may not leave the dance until it ends or their ride comes to the ballroom doors to pick them up.

Tickets for the dance are available at the center for $2 and if students come in costume it is only $1. These dances are police protected and well chaperoned, but new parent volunteers are always needed to help out with future dances and to show their support. Anyone willing to give their time to help out should call the War Memorial at 881-7511.

Some collect for UNICEF

Next Monday, Oct. 31, is Halloween, to be sure. But it also is UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund) day, a day many children and adults solicit funds to help the world's neediest children, instead of collecting candy and other treats for themselves.

Locally, the UNICEF collection is directed by the Detroit Branch of Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, one of the world's oldest peace organizations, founded by Jane Addams, the first female recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize.

Persons interested in the UNICEF drive may call the local office, at 874-1616 for collection boxes. Or call 822-2859 for assistance.

UNICEF, founded in 1946 as an emergency aid organization to help children in Europe after World War II, now cooperates in providing basic services in 112 countries. These projects include water supply and sanitation work in 94 countries, health care, education, nutrition and general social services.

Four best selling authors to speak at center

Four current best selling authors will be the featured speakers at the War Memorial's annual Book and Author Luncheon, Wednesday, Nov. 9, at noon.

Hillel Levin, former senior editor of Monthly Detroit, will talk about his controversial book, "Grand Delusions — The Cosmic Career of John De Lorian."

When DeLorean was arrested for involvement in a $16 million cocaine transaction last October, the world was fascinated and shocked by his dramatic downfall.

Until then, the handsome, fast-living millionaire, head of an innovative car company and married to an international model, had appeared to embody the American dream. After his arrest, the story of DeLorean's questionable business dealings and extravagant lifestyle turned dream into nightmare. Even today the question remains: Was DeLorean guilty of wrongdoing, or was he an innocent bystander caught up in a situation over his head?

Ronna Romney, daughter-in-law of former Governor and Mrs. George Romney, will speak on her best seller, "Giving Time A Chance: The Secret of A Lasting Marriage." In the course of their research for the book, authors Ronna Romney and Beppie Harrison sat in hundreds of kitchens and living rooms listening to couples about how they have forged their relationships. They interviewed famous couples — Lee and Mary Jaccoca, Albert and Pearl Nipon, Jack and Olivia Anderson — as well as dozens of ordinary people. What was expressed again and again was the importance of putting marriage first in one's life, of giving time a chance, and the belief that the good times will be renewed if a couple can get by the bad.

Willie Morris, author of "The Courtship of Marcus Dupree" will speak about the high-powered efforts of college recruiters to win promising athletes to their campuses. Just recently Marcus Dupree, running-back for the University of Oklahoma, deserted the team and the school, claiming he had his priorities mixed up. The book also provides an analysis of the mind of the Old and New South. Dupree is from Philadelphia, Mississippi and author Morris is a Texan. Morris understands the psychology and the topography of the region and their interrelationship.

For fiction aficionados, Pamela Kaufman will speak about her new novel, "Shield of Three Lions." A new writer, Ms. Kaufman creates a world that is alive — so detailed that the reader can smell it, see every color, feel every texture and know every character intimately. Her book is set in 12th century England, the age of King Richard the Lionhearted and the time of the Crusades. Alix, an extraordinary heroine, seeks an audience with King Richard. She is befriended by the king and sets out alongside him on a crusade.

Following the luncheon, Hal Youngblood, executive producer at WJR Radio, will moderate the panel of authors. Audience members will have an opportunity to meet and get autographs following the event.

Tickets are $10 each and include an elegant lunch in the Fries Crystal Ballroom. Reservations may be made in person or by mail with a check to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236. For more information call 881-7511.

The Book and Author Luncheon is presented by the War Memorial's Council of Sponsors. The event is chaired by Mrs. Charles F. Kaess and Mrs. Henry M. Woodhouse.

Competition time at GP Camera Club

The Grosse Pointe Camera Club will conduct a monochrome print and pictorial slide competition at its Tuesday, Nov. 1, meeting at Brownell Middle School.

Meetings begin at 7:30 p.m. and visitors are welcome.

Robbers hit in the Park

Grosse Pointe Park was the scene of several larcenies and robberies last week, according to police records.

On Monday, Oct. 17, a black male sporting a short afro hair style stole a purse from a dry cleaner on Jefferson Avenue. Two larcenies on Tuesday, Oct. 18 netted a bike from an unlocked garage on Buckingham, while thieves stole $50 from a house on Barrington by entering through a basement window in the early evening.

Wednesday, Oct. 19 was an exceptionally busy day for robbery and violence. A radio cassette and tool box were taken from a locked van parked in a municipal lot. Also, a black male youth was surprised while trying to break a lock on a bike rack at St. Clare of Montefalco School. Around 10:15 a.m., two black males described to be around 16-19 years old, grabbed a man on Maryland and tried to take his wallet before fleeing when he resisted. At 9:04 p.m., two black males described to be in their teens with one wearing a green jacket, grabbed a purse from a woman walking on Mack. She reported that she lost a check, foodstamps and some cash in the robbery. A few minutes later, a black male wearing a tan jacket assaulted a woman walking on Kercheval. The robber, described to be between 17-19 years of age, dropped the contents of the purse as he fled, according to police reports.

Sparky Herbert's reported that someone removed the plumbing equipment for a Jacuzzi whirlpool between Oct. 2 and 20. And two black males grabbed the purse of a woman walking on Mack near Somerset around 8 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 20. Witnesses gave chase causing the robbers to drop the purse. In all cases, Park police report they have no suspects at this time.

Tough problems in Woods

In Grosse Pointe Woods, as in the other Pointes, municipal election campaigns tend to be rather tame affairs. That appears to be the case again this year with no major issues emerging as points of contention even though six candidates are running for three seats on the council.

In general, the candidates seem to agree that the question of parking and what can be done to increase available parking space for the north end of the Mack Avenue business district constitutes one problem. Another is the issue of traffic congestion, not only on Mack Avenue, but, even more troublesome, the dangers created by heavy traffic on residential streets in the northwest area of the Woods. A third issue is the refusal of the Wayne County Road Commission to maintain Mack Avenue properly and the possibility of the Woods working out an arrangement to do so if reimbursed for the cost.

BUT SOLVING THESE problems is not easy, nor do the candidates claim it is. The commercial and residential needs of the community must be balanced against each other to some extent because, with respect to parking, these needs are not identical. For example when the Woods planning commission proposed rezoning as many as 48 homes for future vehicular parking, public complaints killed the idea. And none of the candidates appears to favor condemnation of either residential or commercial property for parking purposes.

Most of the candidates also believe that the traffic issue in the northwest area can best be solved by consultations among Woods, St. Clair Shores and Harper Woods officials. The councils did address the problem at a joint meeting in 1980 but while the session did result in a number of beneficial actions, the heavy traffic continued. When the Woods earlier this fall tried to attack the problem on its own with designation of one-way streets, the action created heavier traffic on some residential streets and hurt some commercial businesses, with the result the council was forced to reverse itself and remove the one-way street signs.

Before this problem can be resolved, several candidates said it also may be necessary to involve the Wayne and Macomb County road commissions and even the state of Michigan's Department of Transportation. As is often the case, what appears to be a community problem has become a regional problem.

There are, of course, some other matters that occupy the attention of the candidates. A five-year tax freeze is being proposed, for example, as an incentive to obtain cooperation in the Woods store-front improvement program. That is one of the methods of combatting possible future blight which some observers have seen moving out Mack Avenue from the city of Detroit. Improvement in transportation for senior citizens, in addition to the current subsidized taxi service, is being considered. Alternative housing for senior citizens also is being talked about. And so is the need to maintain the Woods' fiscal integrity in the face of demands for new or expanded services.

Overall, the challengers tend to raise questions as to whether the incumbents on the council have worked hard enough to find solutions to these and other problems. Yet the challengers do not offer instant remedies. Instead, they join the incumbents in praising the way in which the city is run, the excellence of its municipal services and the quality of life in the Woods. The challengers seem to want improvements to come more quickly.

AFTER DISCUSSING these and other matters with the candidates, the Grosse Pointe News concludes that the Woods is fortunate in the caliber of the officials serving its city government and the candidates seeking office. On the basis of the discussions of their background, experience and views about municipal problems — outlined in more specific detail in the news columns — we would be more inclined to cast our vote for two incumbents, William Wilson and Robert Novitke, and one of the challengers, Ted Bidigare, who has kept in close touch with city affairs through service on the block grant advisory committee.

We have no particular criticisms to make of the other incumbent in the race, Frederick Lovelace, whose work as chairman of the finance committee seems impressive, or of the other two challengers, Douglas Munro and Paul Beaupre, who have good business backgrounds. But we think a mix of the experience provided by the incumbents and the ideas offered by an informed challenger would best serve the public in the Woods.

For Park council

Grosse Pointe Park again this year is engaging in one of the more hotly contested election campaigns in the Pointes with five candidates competing for three council positions and two running for mayor.

The Park was the only one of the Pointes to hold a primary and in the Aug. 2 vote the eight candidates for the three council posts were cut to six nominees. That number was reduced to five when Roger McNeill, an incumbent nominee, decided not to run again.

Before the primary, The Grosse Pointe News interviewed the eight candidates in the field at the time and recommended six of them for nomination. After reviewing the earlier interviews with the council candidates and more recent interviews with the candidates for mayor, the News now endorses incumbent John Prost and challengers David Gaskin and Vernon Ausherman for the three council posts to be filled Nov. 8.

PROST IS AN insurance representative, Gaskin a partner in a law firm specializing in personnel and labor relations, and Ausherman a retired General Motors financial staff man who now is a practicing attorney. Their respective backgrounds and experience would be valuable to the work of the council in dealing with community and official problems.

While there are no formal slates, Palmer Heenan, candidate for mayor, has said he is supporting incumbent Anthony Spada for the council along with Vernon Ausherman, whom he says he recruited to run. Mayor Douglas Graham, on the other hand, says he is supporting incumbent John Prost for reelection and also says that challenger David Gaskin would make a capable councilman.

In making its endorsements, the News sought to look at the backgrounds and qualifications of the candidates as well as their stands on the issues that have come up during the campaign. The News also takes the mayoral candidates at their word that there are no formal slates even though both men have said good words about specific council candidates. So we assume that while there will be different styles of leadership from the mayor's office depending on who is elected, either Mayor Graham or Heenan will be able to work effectively with all the winning council members. We earlier endorsed Graham for mayor. But the News based its choices for council on backgrounds and qualifications of the candidates, not on endorsements by the mayoral candidates.

The issues remain the same as they were in the primary, although perhaps heightened by some of Heenan's campaign charges in recent weeks. Those issues include street and road repair, protection against crime, revision of zoning regulations, the school closing proposals and revival of the plan for a district court to serve all of the Pointes. In varying degrees, the council nominees have continued to talk about these matters in the weeks since the primary. How each stands already has been outlined in the News.

As sometimes happens in election campaigns, there has been some campaign oratory questioning the motives of this or that candidate and inveighing against proposals that never came to pass. Such tactics raise questions in our mind about the candidates using them. People running for office ought to stick to the live issues and quit flogging dead horses.

A CASE IN POINT is the zoning issue. Spada continues to contend that Prost and Graham really favor high-rise, high-density housing in the Park, even though that idea already has been rejected by the Park council.

These comments about the election campaign are made because the News feels that as a community newspaper it has a responsibility to offer its opinions which are arrived at after interviews with the candidates and after reviewing the issues that have been reported over a period of time. Many citizens, and perhaps a majority, will disagree with us, but that is their right, too. At any rate, we hope Park citizens will inform themselves as well as possible and then vote on Nov. 8.

School Wars: a propaganda production

To the Editor:

Only fools and head-bashers — those who spring into donnybrooks with their spikes high — would get into Grosse Pointe's production of School Wars at this time. Since I am by temperament and physique non-belligerent, my label is clear. However, I gain solace from knowing that many others who have entered the fray fly the same banner I do.

I've been drawn into School Wars by the muscle-flexing insert that was distributed in last week's Grosse Pointe News. The bold heading — Taxation Without Representation — links the anonymous Committee for Neighborhood Elementary Schools with the patriots who formed this nation. A neat, if somewhat immodest, stroke. But not surprising, since CNES and like groups have clearly dominated the propaganda skirmishes since shortly after School Wars began.

These dissidents, knowing that they're good copy, have been able to pick up a sizable amount of free time and space in the Detroit news media. Even more importantly for the success of their propaganda battles, they have been able to persuade a number of residents who have no children in public schools that the community will go to ruin if a few schools are closed.

It's a psychological truism that people are vulnerable to attacks on the security and value of their homes, since shelter is one of our primal needs. Consequently, the fact that many distinguished private schools bus-in children and the fact that throughout the country, many fine public schools which serve youngsters whose parents live on large pieces of land also bus children, have been overlooked or obscured by the leaders of CNES.

Instead of facts, which would weaken their case, they have marshalled innumerable opinions about the damaging effects of school closing on property values and the deleterious effects of busing and walking on children. These opinions have been skillfully tied together and shaped into a bludgeon, which is being waved almost constantly, it seems, at the heads of Supt. Kenneth Brummel and those school board members who advocate closings.

Actually, the real social studies lessons to be derived from School Wars are not connected with the Boston Tea Party. They deal rather with Acton's Saw and the corrupting effect of power. Young people in this district have, by the aggressive actions of the adults, been led to believe that busing is inherently evil. Old people and others have been persuaded that their property will be endangered by closing schools. Neither point can be substantiated by objective evidence.

CNES appears, in the spirit of Boston, I suppose, ready to push officials who disagree with them into the sea. One only hopes that the threatened board members will stick with their reasonable positions even if doing so means they must face a recall vote. At least then, the children, who are actually only bit players in the great School Wars epic, may witness some integrity and grace under pressure before the curtain goes down.

School Wars is being performed with considerable razzle-dazzle and hype. CNES asserts that the Force is with the good guys — the latter-day patriots — and, indeed, who but an unfeeling scoundrel would criticize parents' concern for their children. Ironically, the quality of education in Grosse Pointe is not threatened now but was a couple of times in the past decade. In neither instance was the scenario deemed worthy of the epic treatment. Education diminishes when the vital juices of teachers — the people who motivate, instruct and inspire young people — are squeezed dry. Some of Supt. William Coats' policies certainly had a desiccating effect on teachers. More recently, the proposed time extension of the school day threatened to loose a withering breeze in their direction also. But those bedrock educational issues lack glamour.

No one who cares about this community wishes to see the quality of education decline.

Henry B. Maloney
Grosse Pointe Woods

Board should show courage

To the Editor:

After reflecting upon the unfolding scenario regarding school closings, I am compelled to critique this unfortunate comic tragedy.

After three school closing proposals in six months, each one touted as superior to the one before, our community finds itself in a state of upheaval and conflict. The warring factions are not citizen vs. citizen but citizen vs. the Grosse Pointe Board of Education.

For some inexplicable reason the Board of Education appears steadfast in its crusade to tamper with the structure of our school system. This in the face of strong and consistent opposition from parents, educators, senior citizens, realtors, City Councils, PTO's and the citizenry in general.

Either the Board of Education has done an extremely poor job of explaining their position or they have an indefensible position. Consider the following:

- (Supt. Kenneth) Brummel says school closings are economically mandated, however, he readily acknowledges very little, if any, money will be saved by adopting his latest plan.

- Dr. Brummel says school closings are educationally mandated, however, we already enjoy a school system that consistently ranks in the 99th percentile of all public school systems in the nation.

- Dr. Brummel says school closings are responsive to community desires, however, the Board appears oblivious to the recent community wide poll reflecting 93% opposition to any school closings.

- Dr. Brummel says declining enrollment in our elementary schools mandate closings, however, his latest plan to remove sixth graders to middle schools acts only to intensify the problem, not to solve it.

- The Board says it has the best interests of the electorate at heart, however, it appears poised to severely damage the fine spirit of our community by running roughshod over the will of the people.

The overwhelming majority of those who elected the board are hoping and expecting their position to be fully represented at the Nov. 14, school board meeting.

Please turn this impending tragedy into a victory. Display courage in a difficult situation. Exemplify a political process that works. Conclude what has been a spirit breaking six months with a unifying vote to continue excellent public education in Grosse Pointe with 10 elementary schools K-6. We will applaud.

Robert D. Ihrie
Grosse Pointe Woods

Heenan is off base

To the Editor:

Palmer Heenan candidate for mayor, is quoted in the Oct. 20, issue of the Grosse Pointe News as saying, "I believe that police need to be more visible to deter crime. Some firemen aren't fully occupied during the day and we should get them out of the fire station, trained and into the streets."

What training is this candidate for mayor of Grosse Pointe Park referring to? I am a trained firefighter, state certified. I am a licensed Emergency Medical Technician, trained at Detroit General Hospital. I have a full time job being a firefighter. What I do is my profession. I think I do it well. I spend many hours improving this profession.

To use firefighters in so-called thwarting crime on the streets, to me is unthinkable. Police fight crime. Firefighters fight fires. I hope that as a resident taxpayer of Grosse Pointe Park there will never be a day go by when this city fails to provide a full paid police and a full paid fire department for its residents.

Let's keep the firefighters in Grosse Pointe Park doing what they were trained for, the prevention and suppression of fire in Grosse Pointe Park and administering as EMTs to the sick and injured citizens.

Now's time for majority to speak

To the Editor:
It takes immense courage to be an effective school superintendent or a worthy Board of Education trustee. If pressure groups had been permitted to run the Grosse Pointe public schools, this institution would have neither the facilities, nor the program, nor the personnel which have made possible the highly successful system it is today.

Possibly it is too much to expect that the younger elementary parents will have any perspective about the greater school system beyond their own child's experience, or of the total base of support which has built, and now maintains, public education in Grosse Pointe.

This community agitated politely for the Board of Education to look at the drastic enrollment drop and make adjustments in the school plant. Many of us believed the first plan of reorganization should satisfy almost everyone. Content with the progress made by the board and administration, we have sat quietly and left them with no knowledge that countless thoughtful persons applaud their proposals. I know this community fairly well. I helped convince voters of the necessity for North High School, for passing numerous millage proposals, for upgrading the South High School facility. (No "pressure groups" prevailed!) Our citizens usually can be convinced of the need for their financial support; but Grosse Pointers did not come to their relative affluence by being superbly generous.

To the Editor:
On Monday, Oct. 10, at approximately 8:15 a.m., a siren went off in the Grosse Pointe Woods-Harper Woods vicinity. I believed that siren to be the tornado warning siren located in Salter Park, site of the old Eastside Drive-in. The sky was clear, though, so I did not seek shelter. Later I found out the siren belonged to Grosse Pointe Woods. The city was simply conducting a monthly test.

Surrounding communities use the guidelines provided by the proper authorities at the time they installed their sirens. They all test on the first Saturday of the month at 1 p.m. This is standard, and a siren heard at that time is ignored. Grosse Pointe Woods ignores those guidelines and tests its system on Monday (apparently the second, although I was told the first) and at any time of the day it feels like it. This causes confusion. Sound travels. On a clear day I can hear my neighbor's test signal even though I live some distance from the Grosse Pointe Woods border.

There were several children waiting for the doors to open at Tyrone School in Harper Woods. They were uneasy when they heard the siren. No one let them know it was just a test. They had been taught to seek shelter when they hear a siren, but the school doors were locked.

If Grosse Pointe Woods intends to continue testing its siren when it chooses, rather than a special day and time consistent with all surrounding communities, the Grosse Pointe News should print that information in a prominent place. The readers need to be informed so they do not panic when a siren is heard. The tornadoes came too close this past summer. We need to know if a siren means a test or danger.

One view from the capitol

By William R. Bryant, Jr.
State Representative

It was with mixed feelings that I watched delivery to the Senate last Thursday of the Governor's withdrawal of his controversial nomination of UAW attorney Clifford Allo as Chair of the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board during Senate debate on the confirmation.

The Allo appointment, among other things Blanchard has done, further threatened cooperation between business, labor and government. It did send, however, an accurate signal about the feelings and intentions of this administration toward business.

I am concerned that removal of the symbol may make some people believe the Governor is now pro-jobs. He is not. Evidently strong public pressure helped Republicans line up three Democrat votes (Senators Mack, DiNello and DeSana) against the appointment. This forced the Governor to withdraw the nomination when it appeared clear the Senate was on the verge of rejecting Allo. I thank those of you who took the time to help create that pressure. I am severely disappointed, however, that the Governor's other two nominations were confirmed. The other two, you may recall, were pro-labor appointees to positions on the same Appeals Board, positions by law reserved for representatives of business interests. Neither of them have any credentials to justify their appointment as employer or business representatives. They show little or no understanding of or sympathy toward the problems businesses face with workers' compensation and I think their appointment is appalling in its brazen illegality and their confirmation is a travesty.

We must all work with this Governor, because he is the Governor. We should not kid ourselves, however, into believing that Jim Blanchard is a friend of business.

State aids pothole and street repair

By John Kelly
State Senator

Earlier this year, the Legislature approved changes in the state's bonding procedures that have allowed the Transportation Department to provide local units of government with badly-needed road improvement monies. As a member of the Senate Finance and Municipalities Committee, I was very supportive of House Bill 4591 which spelled out those new bonding procedures and worked for its approval in the Senate. Thanks to HB 4591, now Public Act 82 of 1983, several of our communities have been awarded millions in loans to complete some long overdue road improvements throughout eastern Wayne County.

Michigan's Transportation Department and its local units of government have always enjoyed the option of selling bonds for major road improvement programs. However, the Transportation Department has been forced to sell bonds in the open market on the basis of the state's credit rating. It has also been restricted to using those monies on state roads and highways. Local units of government have been allowed to sell bonds but only after voter approval.

Public Act 83 changed those restrictions by allowing the Transportation Department to sell bonds which can be shared with the local units of government. Following its approval this summer, the department sold $135 million in bonds to provide some $77 million to local units of government. Those monies will be repaid to the state over a 15-year period, primarily from the allocated gas and weight taxes received by those communities.

Our action signifies a major step by the state to help local municipalities that have been hampered in recent years by the state's sluggish economy. It allowed the state to put its money "up front" for those communities and to offer them road improvement monies at an attractive interest rate, this year set at 9.65 percent. This rate is considerably better than the local units of government might have garnered on their own had they sold bonds individually. This program shows the direct benefit communities will receive from our action in the first quarter of 1983 that put Michigan's financial house in order. Had we failed to eliminate our state deficit, it is highly unlikely that Michigan's credit rating would have improved significantly enough to allow the sale of bonds at such an attractive interest rate. In the First State Senatorial District, the City of Grosse Pointe Park was awarded $1 million for its road improvement program.

With that money, sections of 13 streets will be repaired or improved including Beaconsfield, Somerset, Bishop, Cadieux, Maumee and Vernor scheduled for repair this fall. In the spring, work will begin on Grayton, Kensington, Yorkshire, Devonshire, Audubon, Windmill Pointe Drive and Charlevoix. I believe Public Act 83 and the resulting cooperative program between the Transportation Department and the local municipalities in this state exemplifies a partnership that we can be proud of and hopefully, one that will continue in the days ahead.

City bar recalled

To the Editor:

In response to your article in the Grosse Pointe News about if a bar ever existed in the City. Yes, it did.

My company transferred me here to Grosse Pointe on April 23, 1937. The bar was located between Neff and St. Clair streets — a white shingle building where Hickey's store is now.

I wish to inform you why the bar was closed. If I recall correctly two minors were served whiskey and that was the end of the only bar in the City. I also recall that a lady by the name of Katherine opened a small lunchroom.

Tips for a safe Halloween

The Grosse Pointe Park Crime Prevention/School Safety Bureau offers the following tips to make your Halloween safe and enjoyable.

- Pre-plan the route that your children will follow and make sure that they do not vary from it.
- Younger children should be accompanied by a parent or a responsible teenager.
- Older youths should trick or treat in a group, never alone.
- Costumes should be light colored. Reflective strips of tape can be put on the costumes for added visibility.
- Costumes should also be of flame-retardant material.
- Eye holes in the mask should be large enough to provide a clear field of vision.

- Insist that streets only be crossed at intersections and then only after stopping and looking both ways.
- Don't allow your children to eat any of their treats until you, the parent, inspects what your child has collected.
- Discard any fruit, popcorn balls, or unwrapped candy.
- Any suspicious candy or activity should be reported immediately to the police.

Parent-Teacher Organizations and the Park City Council have recommended that trick or treating be limited to the hours of 6 to 8 p.m. on Oct. 31.

A feast for romancers

Kathryn Falk, daughter of Bernie Falk of Maryland Avenue, will conduct a seminar on "How to Write a Romance" Saturday, Oct. 29, at noon at Grosse Pointe Book Village, 16837 Kercheval in the Village.

Miss (no Ms for this lady) Falk left Grosse Pointe for New York several years ago where she first found fame as an expert on dolls' houses, authoring one of the definitive books on the subject.

Her interest in the Romantic Novel grew when she wrote a book about romantic authors, "Love's Reading Ladies," and she became fascinated by the romance business. There soon followed the publication of The Romantic Times, a periodical devoted solely to the romantic in life and the novelists who write about it. Her latest book is "How to Write a Romance and Get It Published," which she will be autographing at the conference on Saturday.

Publishing figures show Miss Falk to be in the right place at the right time: world-wide, romance novels have captured 35 to 40 percent of the paperback market, with the authors of these books commanding top dollar and respect from the public and the publishing industry.

She sponsored a recent conference of 500 romantic novelists which was greeted with acclaim by the public in London, Los Angeles and New York (it was held in all three cities). The Romantic Book Lovers Conference featured romance "Grand Dame" Barbara Cartland, Rosemary Rogers, Janet Dailey, Jennifer Wilde (actually a gentleman known as Tom Huff writing under a pseudonym), and Rosemary Rogers.

Miss Falk will have copies of Romantic Times, publishers tip-sheets, and a great deal of inspiration for aspiring novelists Saturday.

Woods hit for jewels, T.V.

A Birch Lane home in the Woods was broken into Thursday afternoon, Oct. 20. Taken were $2,300 in jewelry and a color television set worth $350, reports said.

Police were called to the home about 3:30 p.m. that day. The front door had been forced by the burglar who used a pair of vice grips or channel locks to get past the door's lock, according to reports.

Only two rooms of the home were searched, reports said. Taken from the master bedroom was a brown vinyl women's jewelry box. Among the items in the box were a diamond ring, two women's opal rings, a pair of diamond earrings, a man's diamond ring and a man's wedding band, reports said.

Taken from the den of the home was a 19-inch color television set, according to reports.

A police canvass of the area turned up a description of a vehicle and driver seen in the area shortly after the break-in. Spotted was a royal blue open-bed pickup truck, like those used for lawn equipment transportation, without markings, driven by a white male, in his late 20s to early 30s, of medium height and build, with dark curly hair over his ears, reports said.

Robbers cut man's throat

A 57-year-old Lakepointe Road resident was treated and released from Bon Secours hospital last week after three men robbed and cut his throat, according to Grosse Pointe Park police.

The Park's EMS unit was called to Wayburn Road at about 10:20 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 19, where the victim had been attacked. He told police he was walking south on Wayburn from Mack Avenue when he was assaulted by three men. The men also robbed him of $182, police said. After the assault, the three men ran west toward Detroit, police said. Police have no suspects.

Women for Sobriety meet Monday nights

The Grosse Pointe group of the Michigan Chapter of Women for Sobriety has moved its meeting place and will gather at the Eastwood Clinic, 18820 Hayes, near Seven Mile, on Monday nights, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Located next to the Quicki Car Wash, the clinic has air conditioning and a lighted parking lot.

Women for Sobriety is designed to help all women find a way to sobriety and a fulfilling way to cope with life. It has a specifically designed program to overcome depression, guilt and excessive feelings of low self esteem.

Reader dubunks survey

To the Editor:

The letter by Susan Mozena (Oct. 20 GP News) discussing the fallacies of the alleged survey taken by the Committee for Neighborhood Schools is most appropriate and timely.

Persons familiar with survey techniques will agree with her firm conclusion that the survey results were statistically invalid, and therefore do not represent a true cross section opinion of school district voters. And we are amused by the contention that 7,000 responses give the survey an aura of dignity and strength when compared to a mere 1,400 Gallup Poll responses.

In reality we are not reviewing a survey or poll, but rather a petition drive conducted in a manner as to elicit responses skewed in favor of opinions held by those circulating the petitions.

Those familiar with American history will recall that in 1936 the Literary Digest conducted a poll which predicted that Gov. Landon would defeat Franklin Roosevelt in that year's presidential election. The technique of that poll was so flawed that it could not provide statistically valid conclusions, and certainly did not. When the ballots were counted Mr. Roosevelt received 523 electoral votes, Mr. Landon eight.

We need more people like Susan Mozena who prefer that decisions important to the future of this community be based on fact rather than on emotionally inspired ill-conceived impressions.

John J. Schonenberg, Jr.

The word "trivia" comes from the Latin for "three ways." It alluded to what we'd now call a three-way intersection. At such crossroads people stopped to trade small talk. The talk itself eventually came to be so called.

Administration is ineffective

To the Editor:

Now, after school reorganization plans I and II, we have the final plan to deal with declining school enrollment: close Barnes, shift the sixth graders into the middle schools and redistrict some Defer students across Jefferson into Trombly. This is the latest in a series of ineffective solutions which merely serves to illustrate the administration's fuzzy thinking and lack of imagination.

How much savings to the taxpayer and what improvements to quality education can possibly be achieved by closing little Barnes School? "It is a relatively new and well-equipped school and should be utilized as such," according to the Oct. 7, report of Ellis, Naeyaert, Genheimer Associates, Inc., architects and engineers, hired by the administration to estimate the costs of converting an elementary school into an administration building. "Otherwise it could, with major renovation be converted into a well-functioning (administration) center," they continue.

What a major waste of taxpayers' money it would be to spend the over $1 million estimated to change a perfectly fine elementary school into an administration building. Why not be really productive and shut the present administration building, sell the building, get that property back on the tax rolls and find a home for the administrative offices in some of the space now vacant in the school system. It is not necessary to confuse that move with the problems of lowered enrollment and possible school closings. The administration could go into the empty second-floor wing of Brownell where only last April they were eager to move all of Kerby School. Or perhaps the administration can fit into the space at Pierce that proved on close examination to be not big enough to house Defer.

True Barnes student population has fallen below 200. But, it was designed to be a small school and is presently at 63.3 percent capacity while Ferry is at 54.1 percent of capacity and Poupard is at 54.4 percent of capacity. And of course at Trombly, which is at 71.4 percent of capacity the administration plans to redistrict, even across the major geological boundary of Jefferson Avenue, in order to fill up that school. Why are there such uneven solutions to similar problems? It reminds me of Dr. Doolittle's "push-me-pull-ya."

Not only is Barnes a gem of a facility, but also it flourishes in other ways: its students consistently score in the top three in achievement test scores, administrators, parents and teachers agree there is a special "school spirit" at Barnes, that important intangible that makes Barnes the epitome of what an elementary should be.

If this administration is so insensitive and uncreative that it would close one of the best elementaries first, how will it handle the drastic change of shifting the sixth grade to middle schools? I am very worried about how they will implement such a significant move from a well-established sixth grade elementary curriculum to an as yet ill-defined attachment to the middle school program without a much more thorough examination of all aspects of this change.

I urge the Board to vote no, now. If schools must be closed let us first establish clear-cut criteria for their closing. Let us wait until after this spring's 1984 school census provides us with a more definitive basis for enrollment projections. Let us make any changes the right changes.

Sixth graders need security

To the Editor:

Supt. Kenneth Brummel's continued insistence to remove sixth grade pupils from the neighborhood elementary schools into our local middle schools was once again strongly rejected by this community at the latest school board meeting. He has constantly stated that it is not his intention to use these children as the beginning of an effort to alter our current neighborhood elementary program into an anchored district with only a few magnet lower schools. His stated objective is solely the welfare of the pre-adolescent. He indicates their needs (10-11 year olds) are closely aligned with 7th and 8th grade students (12-14 year olds). He used the word "challenge" to describe the proposed consolidated environment. And truly, a challenge it would be.

I know times are changing, but common sense and intelligent reasoning can recognize what is right for the child and what is wrong. I am confused by this information because it seems all too clear that pre-adolescence is a time between childhood and adolescence.

The onset of physical, emotional and behavioral development renders the child discontent with his innocence, while at the same time unable to realize what he wants.

The pre-adolescent needs security, direction, caring limits and the ability to feel personally and academically successful — total environmental change would only increase their distress and limit their ability to feel accountable for their behavior and achievements. Why lay aside the secure foundation of the neighborhood elementary school for a hurried existence in the middle school with all its unmentioned social problems and overwhelming psychological challenges?

We must let our school board know we do not favor this proposal. If you would like to communicate your concern to them, please cut this letter out and send it to: Joan Hanpeter, President of the Grosse Pointe School Board, 1150 Berkshire Road, Grosse Pointe Park, MI 48230.

More people buy GM cars and trucks. And when they're ready to buy again, more of them buy another GM car or truck. Because we're doing what it takes to keep customers coming back.

Nobody test-drives as many cars as many miles under as many different, tough conditions as GM.

Nobody goes to greater lengths to design for beauty, comfort and durability inside and out.

Nobody performs as much safety-related research and testing as GM.

Nobody uses more advanced electronics in their cars than the company that created them for the 747.

Nobody has as many employees involved in Quality of Work Life programs as GM.

And nobody but GM can say all that. Because we believe in taking the extra time, giving the extra effort and paying attention to every detail. That's what it takes to provide the kind of quality that leads more people to buy GM cars and trucks than any other kind. And why GM owners are the most loyal on the road.

That's the GM commitment to excellence.

Chevrolet • Pontiac • Oldsmobile • Buick • Cadillac • GMC Truck

In the ultimate test of quality, people choose GM.

Let's get it together. Buckle up.

Nobody sweats the details like GM.

Services for Mr. Dougherty, 74, of Country Club Drive, were held Wednesday, Oct. 26, at the Verheyden Funeral Home.

He died Sunday, Oct. 23, in Cottage Hospital.

Born in Detroit, he was a practicing attorney for over 50 years. He was a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity at Hillsdale College and obtained his degree from the Detroit College of Law in 1933. Mr. Dougherty was a member of the Michigan Bar Association, the Senior Men's Club and Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

He was also a member of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education from 1947-64.

Mr. Dougherty is survived by his wife, Myrtle; two daughters, Mrs. Lynne Millies and Mrs. Jean Smith and four grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Starr Commonwealth Schools, in Albion, Mich.

Robert O. Teeg

Memorial services for Mr. Teeg, 54, of the Farms, were held Monday, Oct. 24, at Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church.

He died Thursday, Oct. 20, in his home.

A South High School graduate and patron of the arts, Mr. Teeg received Bachelor's degrees in chemical and metallurgical engineering from the University of Michigan. He also held a master's degree in metallurgical engineering from U. of M. and a doctorate in metallurgy from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mr. Teeg was owner of Cytek, Inc., a Detroit-based company, and a member of Alpha Ki Sigma.

He is survived by his wife, Betty, and four daughters, Susan Sharpe, Katherine Wells, Victoria and Rebecca.

Mr. Teeg was cremated.

Joseph M. Graham

Services for Mr. Graham, 63, of Grosse Pointe Woods, were held Thursday, Oct. 20, at St. Paul Catholic Church.

He died Monday, Oct. 17, in St. John Hospital.

Mr. Graham was a supervisor at Detroit Edison.

He is survived by his wife, Mary Lee; four daughters, Cathleen Zelinski, Madelon Legato, Mary Beth Peters and Bridget; a son, Joseph M. Jr.; four granddaughters and eight brothers and sisters.

Interment was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Jean Taylor Bodkin

A memorial service for Mrs. Bodkin, 76, of Trombley Road, were held Monday, Oct. 24, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

She died Thursday, Oct. 20, in Bon Secours Hospital.

The widow of former Detroit Yacht Club Commodore Edwin Bodkin, Mrs. Bodkin was active in many clubs. In the fall of 1954, she led 15,000 women volunteers canvassing Detroit and Grosse Pointe for United Fund donations. She was a member of the Detroit Historical Society, the Founders Society, Detroit Symphony Women's Association, the English Speaking Union, the Grosse Pointe Club, the Grosse Pointe University Liggett School Alumni Association, and the Key Largo Anglers Club of Florida.

She is survived by one brother and two grandchildren.

Cremation was private.

Mrs. Margaret A. Treusch

Services for Mrs. Treusch, 90, of Wayburn Road, were held Wednesday, Oct. 26, in the Verheyden Funeral Home and St. Ambrose Church.

She died Sunday, Oct. 23, in Bon Secours Hospital.

Born in Maryland, Mrs. Treusch is survived by a son, Charles; a daughter, Mrs. Norma Killoran; 15 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Interment was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

James Ogden Hoyt

A memorial service for Mr. Hoyt, 77, of the Pointe, was held Wednesday, Oct. 26, at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

He died Friday, Oct. 21, in Cottage Hospital.

Born in Coldwater, Mich., Mr. Hoyt attended the University of Michigan and retired as an accountant with the Chrysler Corporation in 1968. He was a member of the Senior Men's Club, and was a volunteer for Meals on Wheels. As a member of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Mr. Hoyt was an elder and an ardent volunteer church worker.

With his wife, Louise, he had taught 4-year-olds in the church school for the past 30 years. Mr. Hoyt was a 55 year resident of the Pointe.

He is survived by his wife, Louise; his mother, Elsie; two daughters, Sally Hume and Betty Nelson; eight grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; one sister and one brother.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Cottage Hospital Hospice Program, Memorial Church or the charity of your choice.

Mr. Hoyt donated his body to the Wayne State University School of Medicine.

Richard H. Campbell

A memorial service for Mr. Campbell, 70, formerly of the Pointe, was held Saturday, Oct. 22, in Mt. Clemens Grace Episcopal Church.

He died Tuesday, Oct. 18, in St. Joseph Hospital West, Mt. Clemens.

Unemployment up slightly

August unemployment rates rose slightly in the Grosse Pointes, coinciding with the state's small increase, according to a Michigan Employment security Commission official.

The increased unemployment in the state was due to layoffs in education and manufacturing, especially model year change layoffs in the auto industry, MESCC Communications Representative Norm Isotalo said.

The state's rate of 13.4 percent, a 0.3 percent increase from July, is far above Grosse Pointe's rate. The five Pointes sport rates well below 7 percent.

"I wish the entire metropolitan Detroit area could boast those numbers," Isotalo said.

The August numbers in four of the Grosse Pointes represent an average increase of nearly 1 percent from July. The Shores' July rate was not available. The national August rate was 9.5 percent. September's rates are due out next week.

August figures for the Pointes follow:

	Percent	Persons out of work
City	3.4	100
Farms	3.1	150
Park	6.5	475
Woods	5.0	475
Shores	1.6	21

Pointe Jaycees mark 15 years

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees will celebrate a 15-year reunion on Friday, Nov. 4, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

Among the Jaycees helping plan the event are Rick Rutan, past president of the group, John Prost, its founder, current president Ray Fink and member Arthur Kunhel.

For information about the reunion, call Prost at 354-0146.

Industry leaders support Torce Drive

Three Grosse Pointe Farms residents have accepted leadership positions in the United Foundation 1983 Torch Drive.

The announcement was made by Thomas F. Russell, chairman and chief executive officer of Federal-Mogul Corporation and general chairman of this year's fund raising campaign.

They are Peter Dow, president and chief operating officer of Campbell-Ewald Company, serving as communications and service industry group chairman; Roger Fridholm, president of the Stroh Brewery Company, as food and drug industry group chairman, and Alfred Warren, vice-president of industrial relations at General Motors Corporation, this year's industrial unit group one chairman.

The communications and service industry, food and drug industry and the industrial unit are all part of the chapter campaigns which raise more than 97 percent of the Torch Drive total.

The high rate of unemployment, government cutbacks to certain social service agencies and the increased cost of providing services have contributed to the pressing human needs of the tri-county community. This year's Torch Drive volunteer team will be asking for increased contributions to help maintain the present level of support for these services.

The reporting phase of the 35th annual Torch Drive will run from Oct. 17 through Nov. 10. The United Foundation Torch Drive helps provide operating funds for 136 charitable organizations in the tri-county area.

Academy holds Book Fair

The Grosse Pointe Academy will hold its annual Book Fair from Wednesday, Nov. 2 to Friday, Nov. 4 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the school's main floor quadrangle. Proceeds from this event are used to support the Grosse Pointe Academy library.

The selections are excellent and the choices are many. There will be books for Middle School students, a large selection for adults including best-sellers, an extended pre-school section and three levels of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Also available will be herbs from the Herb Society, fabulous baked goods and crunchy apples fresh from the fall harvest.

Bring your Christmas list to the Book Fair and fill your book needs early.

The Academy offers ample parking adjacent to the Moran Road entrance.

It's Homecoming week at South High

By Martha Keane
South High

Grosse Pointe South's Homecoming 1983 is just about underway. The planning and scheduling of all the Homecoming activities have all become final, and all that is left is to sit tight until Saturday, Oct. 29, when the festivities begin.

A pancake breakfast will start the day from 8 to 10 a.m. The breakfast is being served by students participating in the Commercial Foods program and is open to the public. Prices for the meal are $2 for adults and $1.50 for students.

Following the breakfast at 11:30 a.m. will be at the Homecoming parade. The parade will start at the Neighborhood Club and move through the Village down Kercheval to its final destination, South's football field. Each class, a freshman through senior, and several clubs enter floats in the parade.

The freshman float will be a washing machine with Mt. Clemens jerseys in it and a clothes line in jerseys considerably smaller than the ones in the washer. The slogan is "Shrink 'em Down to Size."

The float being entered by the sophomore class will be a caldron with several Mt. Clemens jerseys with the slogan "Boil the Bathers".

The junior float will be two bananas with three Mt. Clemens helmets on them. The slogan reads "Devils Delight".

A paddle boat with the slogan "Goin' South" will be the seniors' final entry.

At 1 p.m., after the parade has come to a halt and the floats are in order, the football game will begin as South's undefeated Blue Devils try to defend their winning streak against Mt. Clemens. All are welcomed to come to the game, and admission is $2.

During halftime, the winning floats will be announced, the spirit jug will be awarded to the class with the most spirit, and the Homecoming queen will be crowned.

Members of the homecoming court are freshmen Christy Ciavola and Mary Wachter, sophomores Theresa Schulte and Christy Weinberg, juniors, Carrie Krogh and Nancy Williams, and seniors Brigid Shaheen, Anne Schulte and Molly Keelan.

Finally, when all the excitement of the parade, and the game have ended, the traditional Homecoming dance will begin. The dance is from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. and any and all student and alumni couples are invited to attend. The attire is semi-formal.

South students are already getting psyched and pepped up for the Homecoming celebrations. Spirit week, the week before Homecoming is what is causing the energetic anticipation.

During Spirit Week, each class is allowed one day to march through the halls during lunch periods to chant cheers and slogans. The students also hang posters, banners and other paraphernalia on the walls of the building with hopes of winning the coveted Spirit Jug.

The Spirit Jug is a trophy awarded to the class with the most spirit and enthusiasm. Classes are also judged on how they conduct themselves during the week. Teachers, administrators and hall monitors all get a chance to vote for the class of their choice.

To end the week with a bang, a pep rally will be held in the gymnasium on Friday. The football team will be recognized in front of fellow students before the big game. Ears will ring and voices will be lost as each class screams and chants at each other and the class with the best banner is announced.

Cable covers more school activities

By Kip Monahan
South High

A new event is showing up on the television sets of Grosse

Pointe Cable subscribers. The cable company has started televising high school athletic contests and other activities involving the local schools.

Grosse Pointe Cable has already shown sports such as football and soccer, and soon plans to show other sports including wrestling and both boys' and girls' basketball. The only sport that the cable company cannot possibly cover, is swimming, because it involves many overhead shots that the cameramen aren't equipped to handle. Last year a choir concert at the Ford estate was also tele-

Hunting homebound ghosts

Park, it has been recommended by the City Council that children trick-or-treat only between 6 and 8 p.m.

The policy, passed last spring, was pushed by the Trombly Parent-Teacher Organization. The group gathered petitions and presented them to the council.

Last year's PTO president Diane Marston said the suggested period for trick-or-treating was to keep children on the street at the same time.

Although there were no incidents of tainted candy or injured pedestrians last year in Grosse Pointe, four of the five Grosse Pointes plan extra patrols Halloween night.

Park Police Chief Henry Coonce said the department plans to deploy more patrol cars on the road. Park police also will allow residents to have their candy scanned by a metal detector to check for tainted candy.

Shores, Farms and Woods also plan to deploy extra patrols, according to police spokesmen. City plans no extra patrols.

Officials from the National Safety Council give some safety tips for trick-or-treaters.

- Children should wear light colored clothing or reflectors, or carry a flashlight.

- Parents should check all food and candy for tampering.

- Children should trick-or-treat in familiar neighborhoods.

- Children should stop at houses that are well lit.

- Children should walk on sidewalks.

- If wearing a mask, the eye-holes should be enlarged for better eyesight.

Since Grosse Pointe has not seen many safety accidents in the past few years, assistant to the superintendent of schools Bruce Kefgen said he does not know of any school sponsored alternative activities planned on Halloween evening.

Kefgen said elementary schools considered evening programs a few years ago, but the lack of trick-or-treating problems helped extinguish possible plans.

But there is a planned party at Poupard School on Halloween and a junior high dance Oct. 30 at the War Memorial.

"I fail to see the need for secrecy for anything said and done in the Park. I'm not afraid to sign my name to anything I write and will speak out openly on any issue," he adds.

Another candidate making his first bid for elected office is attorney Vernon Ausherman of Lakepointe Road.

While he says he hasn't any new ideas other than the ones already raised, Ausherman does like the idea of having an efficiency evaluation for both political and non-political jobs in city government.

"Budgeting can be improved based on the number of people, salaries and the basis for improvement," says Ausherman.

He's satisfied with individual policemen and their response time to calls and says "if there is a gap it might be a matter of policy."

"Park police are less aggressive than police in the other Pointes in regard to keg parties," says Ausherman. "I'm hoping as a member of the Substance Abuse Community Council of Grosse Pointe to get more uniform enforcement of liquor/keg party laws."

He says he agrees with the proposed zoning ordinance "now that it has been watered down," and throws his support behind mayoral candidate Palmer Heenan due to his "high integrity, and business experience."

Publication of the Park Page is "beneficial because it helped focus attention on issues confronting the Park," says Ausherman.

Making a second attempt at a council seat is John Ryan of

Park candidates exchange jobs

Lakepointe Avenue. He made the first cut during the 1981 elections only to lose during the general election.

Ryan supports residency requirement for city jobs and would like to update the club house in the park (the old bath house) into a year-round club for residents and senior citizens.

He takes the police department to task for "not being visible enough" and says he's afraid that "perpetrators of some of the crimes lack fear that they'll be apprehended."

"There is free rein especially in our perimeter area along Mack Avenue," says Ryan. "I would look into the possibility of a public safety office."

Ryan supports Palmer Heenan even though he says Heenan hasn't publicly supported him.

"Heenan would bring fresh new ideas," adds Ryan.

He's in favor of the proposed zoning ordinance as recently presented and says he would endorse it that way.

The Park Page gets Ryan's vote of confidence.

"I don't think there is anything underhanded or subversive to its origin," he says.

Another candidate is councilman John Prost who is seeking his second term in office.

An insurance representative who lives on Pemberton Road, incumbent Prost says he's running on his past performance and plans to meet as many citizens as possible during his door-to-door campaign.

He feels the city is doing a good job of handling police enforcement and says he would have to study the public safety program issue before taking a stand.

A firm supporter of Mayor Douglas Graham, Prost says he "hopes the mayor will be re-elected."

"I've worked with Doug for four years and I believe his experience is important to keep," he adds.

Prost would like to see the political Park Page identify itself so it would more appropriately serve its residents.

"I know Chuck King has indicated that he is the editor and publisher," says Prost. "But no one knows who else is involved."

The final candidate for one of the three available council seats is attorney Anthony Spada, 58. Spada has served on the council the last four years. His previous bid for mayor was lost to Graham during the last election.

Spada says his opinions as to future issues concerning the Park aren't complete. He still has to sit down with his advisors to develop the communication he plans to distribute before the election.

"If you want to call it an issue, having a council composed of mature, responsible, knowledgeable citizens is highly necessary," says Spada.

Palmer Heenan is "head and shoulders," his choice for the next mayor, says Spada. "This is based on my having an intimate front row seat on council."

He also supports candidates John Ryan and Vernon Ausherman.

He says that Graham has proven his deceit to the community by changing positions on the zoning ordinance.

"Graham has used this as a political campaign issue, which I find reprehensible," says Spada.

Spada says he was the one who alerted the community around Oct. 27-28, 1981 that council and management were considering certain proposals allowing condominium development and plans to develop Patterson Park.

Spada says he still isn't satisfied with the proposed ordinance which allows 17.4 dwelling units per acre, when Grosse Pointe City has a maximum of 10 and that the 75 page long study still needs a great deal of attention.

Spada is critical of the chief of the Park police department, because under his direction "the morale is zero." He doesn't see any indication that there is any protection for the community. He is, however, supportive of the men within the department.

He says the issue of public safety is a nationwide problem, not only in the Pointes and wants to study it before answering that question.

The Park Page is a "fine paper," says Spada. He identified Charles King as the person who asked him to submit his comments in the recently published issue.

Barnes rally draws 250 persons

By Susan McDonald

Two school system staff members and its former superintendent took the podium last week to rally against the Board of Education's latest plan to reorganize the district because of declining enrollment.

Lynn O'Connor, a school social worker, and Stan Smith, a sixth grade teacher, joined former Supl. William Coats, neurologist David Benjamins, realtor Dick Borland and William Browncombe, chairman of a committee fighting school closings, in a panel discussion on Wednesday, Oct. 19. About 250 persons attended the meeting at Barnes Elementary School, on Morningside Drive, the only school targeted for closing next year under the latest reorganization plan. Only one school board member, Roger Mourad, attended the meeting.

Mrs. O'Connor said she favors a K-7 or K-8 program, but thinks putting sixth graders in the middle school, as the superintendent has proposed, is too much, too soon. She said the new generation appears to be "parenting in a more protective way" than past generations. She said it's common knowledge among educators that they are confronting a group of "developmentally immature" children these days and the sixth graders in that group would not be ready for the strains of middle school.

Mrs. O'Connor has been with Grosse Pointe schools for 17 years. Another panelist, Smith, has been an elementary teacher in the Pointe for 20 years. He echoed Mrs. O'Connor's statements and said his discussions with sixth graders also indicate they're not ready for the challenges of middle school.

The Board of Education is scheduled to vote Nov. 14 on Supt. Kenneth Brummel's third reorganization plan, which calls for closing Barnes, moving sixth grades to middle school and transferring some Defer Elementary students to Trombly. Citizens opposing the plan, organized by Browncombe in the Committee for Neighborhood Elementary Schools, have threatened to recall board members who vote to close schools and have protested loudly at a dozen public hearings on the plans.

Former superintendent Coats was the panelist who won the most cheers and applause from the crowd at Barnes by harshly criticizing the superintendent's latest plan. Coats resigned from the superintendent's post almost three years ago after a bitter, seven-month struggle with the school board over the terms of his employment. He is now a professor at the University of Michigan's school of education and does consulting work. Among his clients has been a group lobbying to promote a voucher system of education in Michigan. A voucher system would replace the current method of financing public schools by granting each student an equal "voucher" that could be applied against tuition at the school of his parents' choice. The rationale is to introduce competition between public, private and parochial schools and, therefore, improve the education system.

Coats said Wednesday night that he thought the board's first plan, to transfer elementary programs at Defer, Kerby and Mason schools into nearby middle schools, was the best plan presented so far, but it was "unacceptable."

He said he found it difficult to take any board plans seriously "because of all the vacillation going on." The latest plan is "a mockery" of system-wide reorganization, he said. The transfer of sixth graders to middle schools would "decimate" the elementary program, Coats said, adding the board might better consider transferring ninth graders back to middle school if enrollment at that level is too low.

Coats said the administration's argument that it needs more than one section at each grade in elementary schools in order to run a good program is false. "You don't even need grade levels, let alone two sections per grade, if you're going to individualize education," he said.

Coats also harshly criticized board members for not attending the Barnes meeting and charged they had not provided "for meaningful dialogue and exchange of views" on the closing issue.

And the former superintendent drew a big round of applause when he said the school board does not have good reason to "close what's possibly the best elementary school in Michigan" in Barnes school.

Six Woods council candidates talk on the record

Paul Beaupre

For Paul Beaupre, a position on the council would be a place to begin in developing better communications between the city and the school board, businessmen and residents as well as surrounding communities to help solve problems.

The better communications can develop more involvement on the part of businessmen and residents in city government as well as better relations between the communities, he added.

"I have a formal background in business and communications and more than 10 years experience running a successful business. I feel I'm well qualified for the position and I can give something back to the community," Beaupre said. "I'm very concerned with our relations with surrounding communities, with the Board of Education, businesses and residents."

Beaupre said he would be in favor of rezoning certain areas in the north Mack area for parking, but the council would have to show caution. "Yes, I would be in favor of rezoning, but the city might achieve the same goal by developing the system through attrition," he said. "The city could go to the commercial strip and purchase buildings that become vacant, and through attrition, develop the parking for the area."

Look at traffic

Going into the residential neighborhoods is another possibility, "but we would have to be very, very careful. I mean, you can't throw someone out of their home," he added.

Beaupre said he also favors the planning commission's current

Ted Bidigare considers his military background and nine years with the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority as good prerequisites for his service on the council.

"One of things I can bring to the council is being able to listen to what people have to say and make decisions on what they've said," Bidigare said. "I've been a district manager with SEMTA for nine years and I've dealt in transportation for 18 years. I think that experience as an administrator combined with my military background are things I can bring to the council."

One of the first things he did before beginning his run for the council seat was to go to his superiors and make sure there was no conflict of interest. Bidigare said. "I've served for more than three years with the city's Community Development Block Grant Commission. That's given me a background, an insight into some of the problems in the city."

Tax breaks

"I think the biggest concerns are keeping the property values intact, stopping blight and traffic," he concluded.

The traffic problem in the north end is a difficult one to solve, Bidigare conceded. "But four years later, we have to have a better plan than we have now," he said.

The solution lies in better communication and cooperation between neighboring communities in order to find the solution, Bidigare said. "I think there has to be a way to do it jointly."

"There's going to have to be a

Frederick Lovelace

Frederick Lovelace says his last four years on the council have been spent maintaining the services the city provides. The next four years should be a continuation of that policy at a low cost to residents, he added.

"I enjoy working on the council," Lovelace said. "It's an honor to be chosen to serve." Part of the mandate involved with being chosen is "to continue to maintain the level of services at a limited or moderate increase in taxes this year, or better yet, no increase at all," he said.

"As far as parking is concerned, if it doesn't mean condemnation of property, I can support parking for the district," Lovelace said. "Our responsibilities are both to the residents and businesses in the area. It's not in the best interest of residents to condemn property for parking. If condemnation is necessary, no, I don't support parking."

At the same time, the commercial frontage on Mack should remain commercial frontage, he said. Removing a business or professional building to put in a parking lot may generate some tax revenue for the city, but the dollars put into the development far outweigh those coming back into it, Lovelace added.

The same is true for off-street parking, he said. If it can be done at a minimal cost to the city and minimal disruption of the surrounding neighborhoods, lots can be developed.

Tied to the parking problem in the north end is the traffic problem. Lovelace joined the council in 1979 and later that year had a chance to take part in the joint

Douglas Munro

Douglas Munro sees his candidacy as an attempt to apply his background as deputy for systems acquisition for the U.S. Army Tank Automotive Command Research and Development Center in Warren to city government.

"There comes a point in each person's life when they wish to return some of their experience to the community to try to leave a place a little better than they found it," Munro said.

"I feel there is a tremendous wealth of persons with leadership capabilities throughout the community," he added. "I would be in favor of a program limiting the terms of councilmen to a single, four-year term while mayors would be limited to serving two, two-year terms" as a way of tapping that resource.

Munro said he favored meeting with bordering communities in order to find a solution to the traffic troubles in the northwest end of the city. "Anytime you have a situation that has an impact on a bordering community, it is mutually advantageous to sit down and discuss the matter," he said.

"I don't think precipitous action as was done the last time with the one-way activities is the solution," Munro said. "There needs to be acceptance that the conditions as they are today are far more preferable than the actions taken."

"Some of the retaliatory measures that were taken during the last juncture should not have been necessary," he added.

Munro said he would favor selected rezoning of properties for parking on the north end "only if that is what the residents desire."

Robert Novitke

Robert Novitke's experience as an attorney gives him the ability to look at issues in a different way, he said. "While I wouldn't want to see seven attorneys up there, I think it allows me to look at different sides of an issue," he added.

His six years on the council and his affiliation with a number of community groups have left him with a strong impression of the city. "I think the city is exceptionally well-run. The duty of the council is to maintain the fiscal and residential integrity of the city," Novitke said.

One of the ways the city has done that is by developing its current budget based largely on property tax revenues, while forming a capital improvement program funded with state and federal revenues the city receives, he said. That budgeting plan has just about eliminated the city's need for timely receipt of those revenues to maintain essential services, he said.

State funds

"Residents of the city expect to have the services maintained," Novitke said. "However, you can't develop a budget dependent on state and federal revenue sharing. As you know, payments from the state were delayed by 30 to 45 days last year. Now we are able to insure the continuation of service even without receipt of the funds."

While parking for north Mack remains a problem, "it has to be balanced against maintaining the integrity of residential areas," Novitke said. "The proposal that was made last year would have hurt property values in the area

William Wilson

William Wilson looks back on his four years on the council as four years of accomplishment, and looks ahead to the next four in the same way.

Wilson points to council actions in acquiring a new fire truck, developing advanced life support service and an updated set of building and maintenance codes as things that have been accomplished.

In the next four years, the council will be faced with bigger and stickier problems, Wilson said. The city has to do something about its ongoing traffic problems and parking congestion in the north end of the city as well as the Milk River bridge and a transportation system for its senior citizens, he said.

"The biggest problem is the traffic problem," Wilson said. "It's also very frustrating. It was frustrating when St. Clair Shores sold off their portion of the property up there for the Shorepointe development."

Milk bridge

"The best recommendation in the Goodell-Grivas traffic study was also the most expensive. There are a couple of things I'd like to try to do, but they're going to have to wait until after the election. You know St. Clair Shores will have a new mayor," he said.

"We should update the patterns and counts in the area and bury the hatchet and call for a joint meeting to solve the problem," Wilson said.

Some decision will have to be made by the city "unless you want to alienate the neighbors and say 'You bought there and you're and would have been untenable because the property and deed restrictions on many of the properties would have made development impossible. I was very much opposed to that."

His vote on that was part of what Novitke calls "holding to the mandate of the constituency." While paying attention to the issues and talking with not only residents who call, but those in the groups he is affiliated with, Novitke said he is "in touch with the community and the issues."
The solution to the problem of parking is one that will be dealt with, he adds. "We have discussed it on a limited basis. The council could conceivably purchase lots with proper deed restrictions in certain areas to help develop the parking. The council could also consider the use of some commercial property along Mack for parking," Novitke said.
"I am very much opposed to mass condemnations of the kind St. Clair Shores used in its development. I don't think that is the answer to our problem. The individual business owners have to make the investments to help develop the parking," he added.

Another problem threatening the residential integrity of the city is the north end traffic, Novitke said. "We have to work with the premise that the traffic problem will only intensify with developments of a restaurant and hotel in the area," he said.
The only way to solve the problem is through the cooperation of the cities involved, Novitke said. He has been driving in the area to see for himself and knows how bad the trouble is for residents, he said.
"The real solution for us would be to somehow prevent traffic from heading down Old Eight Mile eastbound. We can control it through signage from heading westbound."

Fiscal checks
The problem lies in the number of agencies involved in finding a solution, Novitke said. Not only are there three cities, but two county road commissions and the state highway department involved. After the election, it's quite likely the city can meet with both Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores and work out a solution, he added.
One way the city can develop a better spending policy is to bring in an outside consultant during budget formulation, Novitke said. "This wouldn't be for the purpose of being there permanently, but just to be there during the budget process to tell us 'Yes, you're doing a good job,' or 'We think you should be doing that this way.'"
The city has also trimmed its full-time work force by replacing retiring workers with part-time employees to a certain extent, Novitke said. Another way the city has developed responsible spending is review by the Finance Committee of spending with department heads, he added.

"That has had a very good effect in helping department heads stay within their budgets," Novitke said. "The concern shown by the council and the communication that has been developed between the council and department heads has prompted fiscal responsibility."
Novitke said he would like to see either a turn-back of Mack Avenue to the city's jurisdiction or at least maintenance agreement between the county and the city for the maintenance.
"We go out and maintain Mack ourselves," he said. "And each time, we have to get a license from the county to cut the lawns. The city has a legal responsibility to maintain the road for the help of our residents."

CITY OF Grosse Pointe Farms MICHIGAN

Code No. 7-11 Emergency Preparedness Ordinance No. 268

AN ORDINANCE TO ESTABLISH A CITY EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS POLICY AND ORGANIZATION; TO DEFINE THE DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE EMERGENCY SERVICES COORDINATOR AND OTHER PERSONNEL; TO AUTHORIZE THE USE OF THE MATERIAL RESOURCES AND MANPOWER OF THE CITY IN EMERGENCY OPERATIONS; AND TO PREVENT, MINIMIZE AND RELIEVE DAMAGE TO PERSONS AND PROPERTY RESULTING FROM ANY FORM OF DISASTER.

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms ordains:

Article 1. Intent and Purpose

Section 101. It is the intent and purpose of this ordinance to establish an organization that will insure the complete and efficient utilization of all municipal resources during periods of emergency and disaster.

Section 102. The City of Grosse Pointe Farms Office of Emergency Services will be the coordinating agency responsible for city-wide preparedness; it will provide the means through which the City Council and the Mayor may exercise the authority and discharge the responsibilities vested in them by this ordinance and Act No. 390, Public Acts of 1976.

Section 103. This ordinance will not relieve any elected officials or municipal departments of the normal responsibilities or authority given by general law or local ordinance, nor will it affect the work of the American Red Cross or other volunteer agencies organized for relief in a natural disaster.

Article 2. Definitions

Section 201. For the purpose of this ordinance, certain words used herein are defined as follows:

(a) "Coordinator" shall mean a person appointed to coordinate emergency planning and services within the City of Grosse Pointe Farms. In the absence of an appointed person, "Coordinator" shall mean the Mayor.

(b) "Disaster" shall mean an occurrence or imminent threat of widespread or severe damage, injury, or loss of life or property resulting from any natural or man-made cause, including but not limited to fire, flood, snow, ice or wind storm, wave action, oil spills, water contamination requiring emergency action to avert danger or damage, utility failure, hazardous peacetime radiological incident, major transportation accident, epidemic, air contamination, blight, drought, infestation, explosion, riot, or hostile military or paramilitary action. Riots and other civil disorders are not within the meaning of this term unless they directly result from and are an aggravating element of the disaster.

(c) "District Coordinator" means the State Police District Emergency Services Coordinator or his authorized representative.

(d) "Emergency Operations Plan" means the City of Grosse Pointe Farms Emergency Operations Plan which has been prepared under Section 602 of this ordinance to coordinate disaster response and recovery within the City of Grosse Pointe Farms.

(e) "Emergency Services Forces" means all disaster relief forces; all agencies of the municipal government, private and volunteer personnel, public officers and employees; and all other persons or groups of persons having duties or responsibilities under this ordinance or pursuant to a lawful order or directive authorized by this ordinance.

(g) "Emergency Services Volunteer" shall mean any person duly registered and appointed by the Coordinator and assigned to participate in the Emergency Services activity.

(h) "Emergency Situation" means any situation confronting a community requiring emergency actions of a lesser nature than a disaster, as defined above, to include, but not limited to, civil disturbances, labor strikes, visits by national or international dignitaries, and build-up activities prior to an actual disaster.

(i) "Mayor" shall mean the Chief Executive Head of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms; and "Council" shall mean the City Council of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms.

(j) "State of Disaster" means a declaration by executive order or proclamation by the Governor under the provisions of Act 390, Public Acts of 1976, which activates the disaster response and recovery aspects of state, local and interjurisdictional disaster emergency plans and authorizes the deployment and use of any forces to which the plan or plans apply.

(k) "State of Emergency" means a declaration by the Mayor pursuant to this ordinance which activates the disaster response and recovery aspects of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms Emergency Operations Plan and authorizes the deployment and use of any municipal forces to which the plan applies.

Article 3. Organization for Emergency Services

Section 301. The Mayor, with the approval of the Council, is hereby authorized and directed to create an organization to prepare for community disasters utilizing to the fullest extent existing agencies within the municipality. The Mayor, as executive head of the city government, shall be the director of the Emergency Services Forces of the city and shall be responsible for their organization, administration and operation, working through the Coordinator.

Section 302. The organization for providing emergency services shall consist of the following:

(a) An Office of Emergency Services established within city government. The Office of Emergency Services shall have an administrative head appointed who will be known as the Coordinator, Office of Emergency Services. Such assistants and other employees as are deemed necessary for the proper functioning of the organization will be employed.

(b) The employees, equipment and facilities of all municipal departments, boards, institutions and commissions suitable for, or adaptable to emergency services activities may be designated as part of the total Emergency Services Forces. Such designations shall be by the Mayor with the approval of the Council.

Section 303. All officers and employees of departments, commissions, boards, institutions and other agencies of the city government designated by the Mayor, with the approval of the Council, as Emergency Services Forces shall cooperate with the Emergency Services Coordinator in all matters pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance.

Article 4. Emergency Services Coordinator, Assistants, Deputies

Section 401. The Mayor, with the approval of the Council, shall appoint an Emergency Services Coordinator who shall be a person with the personal attributes, experience, and training needed to coordinate the activities of the agencies, departments, and individuals within the city to protect the public health, safety and welfare during emergency situations and disasters.

(b) Assistant Coordinators shall assume the duties of the Coordinator whenever he is unavailable during disasters or emergency situations in the order of designation by the Mayor, acting upon the recommendation of the Coordinator.

Article 5. Mayor, Powers, Duties

Section 501. The Mayor may exercise the emergency power and authority as specified herein. Whenever a situation requires, or is likely to require, that the Mayor invoke such power and authority, he shall, as soon as reasonably expedient, convene the Council to perform its legislative and administrative duties as the situation demands, and shall report to that body relative to emergency activities. Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed as abridging or curtailing the powers of the Council unless specifically provided herein.

Section 502. Under the following circumstances, the Mayor may declare a state of emergency exists in the City of Grosse Pointe Farms and may assemble and utilize the Emergency Services Forces in accordance with the City of Grosse Pointe Farms Emergency Operations Plan, and he may prescribe the manner and conditions of the use of such Emergency Services Forces:

(a) Whenever, on the basis of information received from authoritative sources, he feels that a large-scale disaster or emergency situation in the city or state is imminent.

(b) During any period of disaster in the city or state and thereafter as long as he shall deem it necessary.

Section 503. Whenever the Mayor deems that any condition in the city is beyond the control of local public or private agencies or has attained or threatens to attain the proportions of a major disaster, he may request the Governor to declare a state of disaster exists therein by instructing the Coordinator to contact the District Coordinator in accordance with Section 14, Act 390, Public Acts of 1976.

Section 504. The Mayor, with the approval of the Council, is hereby empowered and has the authority:

(a) To appropriate and expend funds, make contracts, obtain and distribute equipment, materials, and supplies for disaster purposes.

(b) To provide for the health and safety of persons and property, including emergency assistance to the victims of a disaster.

(c) To assign the employees, property, or equipment of the municipality for disaster relief purposes within or without the boundaries of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms.

(d) In the event of a foreign attack upon this State, to waive procedures and formalities otherwise required by law pertaining to the performance of public work, entering into contracts, the incurring of obligations, the employment of permanent and temporary workers, the utilization of volunteer workers, the rental of equipment, the purchase and distribution with or without compensation of supplies, materials, and facilities, and the appropriation and expenditure of public funds.

Section 505. The Mayor, with the approval of the Council, shall establish procedures for the succession of government during emergencies where officials are unavailable for exercising the powers and discharging the duties of their respective offices.

Section 506. The Mayor, with the approval of the Council, may make regulations permitting the Coordinator to assemble and utilize the Emergency Services Forces and provide disaster relief aid as prescribed in Sections 502, 503, and 504.

Section 507. When obtaining formal approvals would result in delay of relief activity, the Mayor may, until the Council convenes, waive procedures and formalities otherwise required pertaining to the performance of public works, entering into contracts, the incurring of obligations, the employment of temporary workers, the rental of equipment, the purchase and distribution of supplies, materials and facilities and expenditure of existing funds, and the Council is also empowered to waive any such procedures and formalities.

Article 6. Emergency Services Coordinators, Powers, Duties

Section 601. The Emergency Services Coordinator shall be responsible for the administration, planning, coordination and operation of all emergency preparedness activities in the city. He shall maintain liaison with county, state, and federal authorities, and the authorities of adjacent and nearby political subdivisions so as to insure the most effective emergency operations.

Section 602. His duties shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(a) Development of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms Emergency Operations Plan, and any other appropriate disaster plans, for the immediate use of all of the facilities, equipment, manpower, and other resources of the city for the purpose of minimizing or preventing damage to persons or property; and protecting and restoring to usefulness governmental services and public utilities necessary for the public health, safety, and general welfare.

(b) Coordinating the recruitment and training of volunteer personnel and agencies to augment the personnel and facilities of the city for emergency purposes.

(c) Through public information programs, educating the population as to actions necessary and required for the protection of persons and property in case of a disaster.

(d) Conducting practice alerts and exercises to insure the efficient operation of the city's emergency organization and to familiarize residents of the city with emergency regulations, procedures, and operations.

(e) Coordinating the activity of all other public and private agencies engaged in any emergency or disaster relief programs.

(f) Negotiating with owners or persons in control of buildings or other property for the use of such buildings or property for emergency or disaster relief purposes, and designating suitable buildings as public shelters.

(g) Establishing and maintaining administrative control over a local radiological defense program, to include emergency preparations for both peacetime radiation incidents and international wartime disasters.

(h) Coordinating municipal emergency preparedness activities with those at the county level and adjacent municipalities.

Article 7. Volunteers, Appointments, Records

Section 701. Each department, commission, board, or other agency of city government may at any time appoint or authorize the appointment of volunteer citizens to augment the personnel of such city department, commission, board, or agency in times of emergency. Such individuals shall be enrolled as Emergency Services Volunteers and shall be subject to the rules and regulations set forth by the respective department, commission, board, or agency head for such volunteers.

Article 8. Rights of City Employees

Section 801. City employees assigned to duty as a part of the Emergency Services Forces pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance shall retain all of the rights, privileges, and immunities of city employees, and shall receive the compensation incident to their employment.

Article 9. No Governmental or Private Liability

Section 901. This ordinance is an exercise by the city of its governmental functions for the protection of the public health, safety, and general welfare. As such, neither the city nor agents and representatives of the city, nor any individual, receiver, firm, partnership, corporation, association, nor trustee, nor any of the agents thereof acting in good faith carrying out, complying with, or attempting to comply with this ordinance shall be liable for any damage sustained to persons or property as a result of said activity.

Section 902. Any person owning or controlling real estate or other premises who voluntarily and without compensation grants the city the right to inspect, designate and use the whole or any part of such real estate or premises for purpose of sheltering persons during a disaster or during an authorized practice disaster exercise, shall not be civilly liable for the death of, or injury to, any person on or about such real estate or premises under such license, privilege or other permission, or for loss of, or damage to, the property of such person.

Article 10. Conflicting Ordinances, Orders, Rules and Regulations Suspended

Section 1001. At all times when the orders, rules and regulations made and promulgated pursuant to this ordinance shall be in effect, they shall supersede all other existing ordinances, orders, rules and regulations, insofar as the latter may be inconsistent therewith.

Article 11. Violations

Section 1101. It shall be unlawful for any person willfully to obstruct, hinder or delay any Emergency Services Forces in the enforcement or accomplishment of any rule or regulation issued pursuant to this ordinance, or to do any act forbidden by any rule or regulation issued pursuant to the authority contained in this ordinance. It shall likewise be unlawful for any person to wear, carry or display any emblem, insignia or other means of identification as a member of the Emergency Services Forces of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms unless authority to do so has been granted to such person by proper officials. Convictions for violations of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punishable by not more than 90 days in jail and/or payment of a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500).

Article 12. Severability

Section 1201. Should any section, clause, or provision of this ordinance be declared by the courts invalid for any reason, such declaration shall not affect the validity of the ordinance as a whole or any part thereof, other than the section, clause, or provision so declared to be invalid.

Article 13. Effective Date

Section 1301. This ordinance shall take effect twenty (20) days after its enactment or upon publication whichever is later.

work on the rezoning of the entire Mack corridor to develop commercial and office areas.

"I really am in favor of the zoning ordinance that book-ends the commercial uses in the city. I think this will help us with some of the problems we have with traffic movement on Mack Avenue," he said.

The city should do "whatever is necessary" to find a solution to its current northwest area traffic problems, Beaupre said. "I certainly favor getting together with the councils. We have to meet with the leaders in Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores and take a long, hard look at the problem."

The city's spending policies are just fine, Beaupre said. "The city has a little over $5 million in its budget, and as you know, the city ended fiscal 1982-83 with just about a $90,000 surplus. I think it's fairly obvious that Chester Petersen and his administration and department heads have done a very good job in running the city," he said.

"Now, if we could get the same type of leadership from our elected officials as we do from our appointed officials..." Beaupre added. "I don't think our elected officials always reflect the views and feeling of the community."

District court

One item that Beaupre sees popping up from time to time is the final formation of a district court for the Grosse Pointes, which he said he would favor only if there were no costs charged to the communities involved.

"As I understand it, should the state do away with our municipal courts and mandate a district court formation, they would be obligated to pick up the cost," he said. "I have no problem with that. I think we should handle our problems within the community."

"If, however, it was to become a cost we would have to pay for here in the Grosse Pointes, I would not be in favor of it," he added.

Another cost Beaupre thinks is definitely too high is the cost of water and sewage treatment handled by the county and the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department. He said he favors a regional authority to help give suburban customers more control and input into the setting of rates.

Dial-A-Ride?

The master storefront plan designed for the north Mack area is probably a good thing for the community, but the development of the new storefronts will have to be balanced against the continued parking difficulties in the area, he said.

Beaupre held back giving his opinion on the proposal for a five-year tax freeze for businesses who comply with renovations, saying he would like to study the proposal before making a comment on it.

The city could consider entering into an agreement with Harper Woods in an extension of that city's Dial-a-ride service, but only "if its financially feasible," Beaupre said. "The cost of the program was so ridiculously high, something like $48,000 to be split between two cities. We do have our subsidized taxicab program that offers the service at a much lower cost."

stuck with it'... Well, that's something I'm not ready to do," Wilson said.

A meeting of the councils would put the matter at a level where decisions could be made, he added.

Another item the city should consider is the raising of the Milk River bridge at Lakefront park to accommodate larger boats in the city's docks, he said. There is new bridge technology available that would allow the city to raise the bridge by about two feet without changing the flow of the water below, one of the reasons the state Department of Natural Resources sank the last idea of working on the bridge, Wilson said.

"You've got two choices; you can raise the bridge or lower the water. Using the new technology, it can be done and within 72 hours, you can reopen it to car and pedestrian traffic," Wilson said.

There are a number of steps the city has to take before it takes up its parking problem, Wilson said. The city will have to update its zoning map, study areas of heavy usage and be selective in enforcing its current codes for business off-street parking requirements, he said.

Pay twice

After that, the city may find itself in a position where it has to find new lots, Wilson said. By being selective and taking a more aggressive position in acquiring homes on the market, the city can improve its parking off of Mack, he said.

Parking and traffic remain the most persistent problems the city has along Mack, as well as the maintenance of Mack itself, Wilson said.

"I'm biased. I wanted to put up a sign in the median that said, 'Citizens of Grosse Pointe Woods, you're paying twice to have this road maintained. You pay taxes to the county and they don't do it, and you pay taxes to the city and we do it,'" Wilson said.

There has to be some type of work done to alleviate some of the congestion on Mack, he pointed out. "If you've ever tried to drive up Mack on a Saturday afternoon, you know what I mean. It was a mess. If we can improve on our parking, we can get some of the parking off Mack," Wilson said.

Other items the city could try to improve traffic flow and safety in the area are additional turn-arounds, he said. By having separate turn-arounds for north and south bound traffic, a number of problems could be eased, he said.

Housing alternatives

Easing transportation troubles for seniors in the city is another problem, Wilson pointed out. The city recently opted not to join a Connector service offered by Harper Woods because of the costs involved. The city can just as easily improve its current subsidized cab service to help serve more residents while spending less money, he said.

The city can also streamline some of its operations to improve its service, Wilson said. A computer system can be used to speed up processing of items.

Candidate Bigidare

lot of groundwork and a great deal of individual communications between the cities before a joint meeting would be a possibility," Bigidare added.

It is a distinct possibility the council will have to consider rezoning some properties in order to provide parking for its north Mack businesses, Bigidare said. "They have to be supported. They provide a tax base for the city. I will support them in the north area on the parking."

Part of that support is based on city's recent master storefront design plan. "I think the businessmen would have to have some reason to locate in the area and improve their storefronts," he said.

"It is not desirable to take away a home, but the businesses are there and need support," Bigidare added. The number of homes needed for parking are not as large as was requested last year, however. "I think it can be done individually and each area looked at its own merits," he said.

Bigidare said he favored a possible tax abatement or tax freeze to entice businesses to improve their storefronts in conformance with the city's master plan for the area. The city shouldn't consider using its CDBG funds to help, however, he said. The storefront renovations and the parking are inexorably linked, though.

"What do you do if you ask me as a businessman to spend $5,000 to $10,000 for renovating my storefront without my being able to justify it with my available parking?"

Bigidare asked.

Besides the traffic problem, another recurrent problem for the city is Mack Avenue and its maintenance, Bigidare said. Because the county receives funds for the maintenance of the road, the county should be expected to maintain that road, he noted. He didn't rule out the possibility of asking the county to negotiate a maintenance agreement with the city, though.

The CDBG commission has to continue forward with its work on the storefront plan by formulating a program of incentives. In addition, the commission should continue offering comments about ongoing projects to the council as well as offering advice about median work at both ends of the city, Bigidare said.

While some current councilmen have criticized the city's use of block grant funds for projects that don't fall into the bricks-and-mortar category, Bigidare pointed out that the funds give the city the opportunity to do things it normally wouldn't do.

"There has to be some way of getting funds for doing some innovative things for the city," Bigidare said.

Bigidare lamented the city's failure to pick up on the Connector service with Harper Woods. "I think that's one service the community could pick up. I think that would have been a good service to the community," he said.

What he would like to see is more movement forward on the traffic problem solution, Bigidare said.

Candidate Douglas Munro

Munro said there was "a great deal of merit" to the city's north-end master storefront design program, "but a lot of selling points have to be worked out." He wanted to take a look at the Community Development Block Grant Advisory Commission's proposal of a tax freeze for businesses that comply with the design guidelines before he could give his opinion.

Complacency
"I would have to see the dollar figures, the dollar change, the cost benefits it would have on the program," Munro said.

"I don't think there are any cost-cutting measures that are appropriate" for the city, Munro said. "The concentration ought to be on how we can continue the present level of services."

"A real indication of community reaction to cost-cutting is the current school closing proposal for economy reasons," Munro said. "When the school board goes that route, the community rises en masse and says 'No, that's not what we want!'"

Munro expressed dissatisfaction with the present council, but gave no specifics. "If I am going to criticize, it would be on a constructive basis," he said. "I would not strike out on a single issue. This is a fairly sound intellectual community where issues are not raised randomly."

"There is a tendency in any local, state or federal government to assume a position of complacency, which in the end can lead to mediocrity," he said.

"There needs to be a change," he continued. "The current body tends to react to a crisis. I don't think there's that kind of stability to think ahead of the play."

One issue that excites Munro is the amount of voter apathy. "Voter apathy is really tremendous," he said. "When you make an assessment of the number of eligible voters and those who voted in 1981, you find out of more than 14,400 eligible voters, only 4,800 came out. It is a very sad commentary."

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

Every summer, the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan and the Michigan Division of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association offer scholarships to the Teachers' Environmental School held at the Ralph A. MacMullan Conference Center on the north shore of Higgins Lake. Now is the time to apply for the $156 stipends, which cover room, board and field trips for one of the weekly sessions coordinated by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and other state departments from the six state universities.

College credit is given for the completed course. All teachers, 4H Club leaders and persons interested in environmental education are eligible for the scholarships.

One of the Grosse Pointe scholarship recipients who teaches in St. Clair Shores told the whole story at last Tuesday's Grosse Pointe Garden Clubs Council meeting. Mrs. Joseph Nerone, of Roslyn Road, attended an Environmental School session in the summer of 1982. She detailed a crowded, fascinating schedule of classes conducted by well-qualified college professors. She described field trips down the Au Sable River, into wooded areas, across bogs and off to see rock formations left by the Ice Age glaciers.

Mrs. Nerone's own children attend Ferry School, and Ferry's delightful Nature Center played its part in inspiring the Grosse Pointe Environmental School scholarship recipient to build a Nature Center at Harmon School, where she teaches, so that her Harmon students could grow up with a better understanding of the world around them.

All alone at first, completely without funds, she pursued her dream. One year later, Harmon has a wonderful Nature Center, with parents, teachers, children and local business people all working together, learning and cooperating on their project.

More information on the scholarships may be obtained from the Grosse Pointe Garden Clubs Council scholarship chairmen: Mrs. Kenneth Steketee, 881-7988, and Miss Christine Edwards, 885-3141. Although Mrs. Nerone is very busy with her teaching, family and gardening, she would be glad to share her enthusiasm with anyone interested in attending the school. Her telephone number is 881-3106.

A Taste of Sweden

The Women's Guild of Immanuel Lutheran Church, located at Chandler Park Drive and Dickerson in Detroit, is holding its annual Holiday Mart on Friday, Nov. 4, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Mrs. Carl Thomas, of South Brys Drive, and Mrs. Darold Johnson, of Berkshire Road, are co-chairpersons.

Immanuel is the "traditional" home church of the metropolitan area's Swedish-American Community, and its Holiday Mart always features an extensive selection of

Which would you rather do?

(1) Put off your Christmas shopping until Dec. 23, tear off to a mall, drive around in circles until you find a place to park — only two counties from the mall — trudge and elbow your way through cranky multitudes, then try to find something interesting in the bins of trite, picked-over, mass-produced holiday presents?

Or (2) Reserve a day nearly two months before Christmas and spend it booth-hopping inside a beautiful, Gothic church overlooking Lake St. Clair, listening to organ and carillon music as you shop from among hundreds of appealing, unique items, many of them handmade, chuckling as you check off names on your Christmas list because you KNOW the presents you've found are exactly right for the people on that list?

If you picked (1), we wish you luck. You'll need it. If you picked (2), all you'll need is a calendar on which to mark the date of the biennial Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Christmas Fair — next Thursday, Nov. 3 — and the hours: 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Twenty-six booths, offering everything from inexpensive tree ornaments to handmade smocked dresses for little girls, will span Fellowship Hall from the third floor Sunday School rooms to ground level. The weary may find respite in Memorial Church's lovely sanctuary, where organ music will be played by William De Turk, the church's director of music.

mas tree skirts. Great-grandmother MRS. HOMER FERGUSON likes a hand-knitted lapkin, while mother MRS. RICHARD MARKS has selected a wooden hobby horse for three-year-old PETER, whose brother MARK is wearing a sleeveless sweater from the Knitting Booth and admiring a colorful paddle wheel boat. MARY, in a beautiful hand-fashioned pinafore from the Smocking Booth, is holding one of the many wardrobe dolls that can be found in Santa's Workshop.

Chairpersons for the Kristkindl Markt are Mrs. Armand C. Kerber, Mrs. Wallace P. Ernsberger and Miss Elizabeth B. Wood. Proceeds are distributed to missions, chaplaincies and church-related colleges.

Meet Noted Sculptor Don Polland at his first Michigan Appearance

Friday, November 4, 6-9 p.m. - Saturday, November 5, 1-4 p.m.

OPEN HOUSE

Skilled Arizona sculptor Don Polland, is widely recognized for his exceptionally crafted fine pewter sculptures commemorating the pride and tradition of the Old West. His works are collected by prominent Western museums and art galleries and many major works commissioned by Chilmark are completely sold out.

You are cordially invited to view our impressive selection of these most desired collectibles. Today a Polland fine pewter sculpture is truly an extraordinary investment.

"Too Many Aces" by Don Polland stands only 4 1/2" high and yet reveals full sculptured detail of this complex scene. A lone cowboy reaches for his revolver when he counts the fifth ace, face up, while the gambler and banker react in surprise. The barmaid surveys the gambler's hand while the bartender/dealer reaches for his gun. This completely detailed design is one example of the pewter sculpture collection exhibited by Don Polland at Genna's.

Lori Bohlinger speaks vows

Mr. and Mrs. James Francis Egan vacationed in Ireland following their marriage Friday, June 24, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church and a reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. They are at home in Birmingham.

The bride, the former Lori Elizabeth Bohlinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Bohlinger, of Anita Avenue, selected a floor length gown of whisper taffeta, styled with a sweetheart neckline and short, puff sleeves, for the 6 o'clock nuptial mass at which Father Joseph Esper presided.

Alencon lace accented the gown at neckline, sleeves and waist, and a cap of matching lace with a short puff and whisper taffeta bow held the fingertip length veil designed by Mrs. Bohlinger for her daughter. The former Miss Bohlinger carried an arrangement of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis, with trailing greens.

Honor maid Jill E. Bohlinger, sister of the bride, and bridesmaid Kim Bohlinger Schadler, of Hinsdale, Ill., another sister, wore floor length dresses of kelly green taffeta, featuring short, puff sleeves, decollete necklines and fitted bodices, designed by the mother of the bride. Taffeta bows draped their shoulders.

Their headpieces were short, green veils, falling just below their eyes. They carried gardenias, with trailing greens.

Patrick Egan acted as best man for his brother. They are the sons of former Shores residents Mr. and Mrs. Leo F. Egan, who now make their home in Bloomfield Hills. Groomsman was Kevin Costello, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Ushers were Don Righenzi Jr., of West Hartford, Conn., and Gene Blaum, of Philadelphia, Pa.

The mother of the bride wore a peach-colored, sleeveless, short-cropped tunic paved with white and gold beads over a floor length gown of drifting peach chiffon, and a wrist corsage of white stephanotis and gold ribbon.

The bridegroom's mother selected a two-piece, ankle length dress of vanilla silk chiffon, styled with long sleeves and a blouson bodice accented with a lace and beaded yoke. She carried a deep rose orchid.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding and reception, where guests were entertained by a strolling violinist during dinner, included

Miss Kennedy is a fall bride

Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore was the setting for the autumn wedding of Maryanne Elizabeth Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Kennedy, of Shorepointe Lane, and Thomas John D'Arca, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. John D'Arca, of Livonia.

The 7 o'clock ceremony Friday, October 7, at which Father Hector Saulino presided was followed by a reception at the Roostertail, after which the newlyweds left to vacation in northern Michigan. They will be making their home in Venezuela for 18 months.

The former Miss Kennedy selected an off-the-shoulder gown of white brocade satin, styled with a fitted bodice and chapel length train, for the evening ceremony. She wore a handmade veil and carried a cascade of all-white flowers: stephanotis, Sweetheart roses and phalaenopsis orchids.

Honor maid Jan Mavian and bridesmaids Mariann Ernst, Patti Chiazese and Deann D'Arca, the bridegroom's sister, in floor length dresses of rose pink tissue taffeta, carried semi-cascades of cymbidium orchids, baby's-breath and greens.

Best man was Dan Bonello. Guests were seated by Chuck Vomastek, Larry Henry, of Bradenton, Fla., Tim Strunk, of Kalamazoo, and Jim and Tom Kennedy, the bride's brothers.

The mothers of the bride and bridegroom both selected floor length gowns, the former's dusty rose in color, the latter's periwinkle blue, and cymbidium orchid corsages.

Colorado rites for Julie Cerre

Many Grosse Pointers traveled to Colorado a few days before the Saturday, August 20, wedding of Julie Ann Cerre and Michael Patrick Kennedy in Aspen's Prince of Peace Chapel.

Among the local group, who were entertained via a rafting trip on the Colorado River, a picnic in a ghost town and a musical festival concert followed by an Aspen pub crawl, were Miss Rita Roney, an aunt of the bridegroom, the Edward J. Hickey III, the John L. Kings, the Lorenzo D. Brownings, the Sid Terrys, Mr. and Mrs. Addison J. Bartush and the Mmes. John Hastings, Leo Marx and William J. Bavinger.

The former Miss Cerre is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Cerre, who moved recently from Rathbone Place to West Bloomfield. Mr. Kennedy is the son of the William E. Kennedys, of East Jefferson Avenue.

The 2 o'clock ceremony at which The Reverend Bruce Bavinger presided was followed by a reception at "Windstar" at Old Snowmass, Colo. The newlyweds vacationed at the Grand Tetons in Wyoming, and have returned to Colorado to make their home.

The bride, in an ankle length, off-the-shoulder, lace-trimmed gown, carrying a garden bouquet, asked her sister Susie Godin, of San Francisco, Calif., to act as honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Molly King Olenick and CiCi Kinney, of Aspen, and Georgia Saviers, of Sun Valley, Idaho. They wore blue and mauve flowered Liberty print dresses, sashed in mauve ribbon, and carried garden bouquets.

Jaime Godin accompanied her mother from San Francisco to serve as flower girl for her aunt.

Robert Baribeau, of Northaven Island, Me., was best man. Larry Bruce, Peter Hutter and Lou Dawson, all of Aspen, ushered.

To present sex education film

A new filmstrip, "Sex Education from Birth to Puberty," produced by Saint John Hospital and the Health Education Council of Grosse Pointe, will be shown to school representatives and the general public next Tuesday, Nov. 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital auditorium.

The script was written by local sex educator Mary Paonessa, M.Ed., who designed the filmstrip for parental use. Grosse Pointe PTO groups may obtain it by writing HEC, P.O. Box 36212, Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich. 48236.

Miss Flemming to be married

Late October wedding plans have been made by Martha Flemming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert John Flemming, of Fisher Road, and Francis Hegeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hegeman, of Santiago, Chile.

Miss Flemming, an alumna of Chamberlayne Junior College, Boston, Mass., is currently general manager of Saks Fifth Avenue, Southampton, N.Y.

Her fiancé, a graduate of the Universidad Catolica de Chile, Santiago, who holds a Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School, is senior financial analyst, Allied Corporation, Morristown, N.J.

from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 6, at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn, and will feature more than 56 dealers — the largest number ever — from around the country and abroad. Admission donation is $3.50. Pointe Juniors working on 1983 Antiques Show and Sale committees, in addition to the Mesdames Hinkley, Burke and Browne, include Mary (Mrs. William E.) Blevins, Ruth (Mrs. Sheldon L.) Drennan, Carolyn (Mrs. Vann) Fleming, Betty (Mrs. Arnold) Fuchs, Shirley (Mrs. Robert H.) Kennedy, Paula (Mrs. Harry) Morns, Mary (Mrs. Frederick) Ruffner, Mary (Mrs. Robert) Schroeder, Marie (Mrs. George) Torakis, Mary (Mrs. F. Robert) Steiger and Joanne (Mrs. Henry) Zuchowski.

Slate 'Gift of Life' November benefit

The Macomb County Chapter of the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan will sponsor a "Gift of Life" dinner dance Saturday, Nov. 12, at 7 p.m. at Athena Hall on Gratiot Avenue in Roseville. Ticket information may be obtained by calling 756-6382 or 465-5268.

To hold newsletter workshop Nov. 12

Wayne State University, through its College of Lifelong Learning, is offering an advanced newsletter workshop on Saturday, Nov. 12, at its Northeast Center, located on Schroeder, off Nine Mile Road, in East Detroit.

Participants will learn about design components, trends in page design, cropping photos and layout styles for all budgets from Leontine K. Cadieux, WSU information officer, and Joanne Kinney, art director, Michigan Credit Union League.

The program is open to the public at $50, plus a $3 registration fee. Registration information may be obtained by calling 577-4665.

Gem of a night to benefit DSO

Grosse Pointe's Mrs. John E. Young Jr. is general chairman of a benefit night trunk showing of one of New York's leading jewelry manufacturers and importers, co-sponsored by the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and Dobie Jewelers, next Thursday, Nov. 3, from 5:30 to 9 p.m. at Dobie's Royal Oak store, located on South Washington near 11 Mile Road.

Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres will be served during the evening, which is open to the public at $10 per person. Valet parking will be available. Included in the showing are diamond and gold jewelry in a number of designs, precious gems (both mounted and loose), imported pearls, gold chains and rings, plus china, crystal, silver, brass and porcelain gift items. Thirty percent of all purchases made during the benefit will go to the DSO.

On special display will be a brilliant diamond weighing over a full carat, donated to the Women's Association by Mr. Dobie. The stone will be a featured item during the Detroit Symphony-WQRS Radio Marathon next February. The marathon is a fund raising project of the Women's Association and the Detroit Symphony League.

Further information on next Thursday's benefit may be obtained and reservations made by contacting Mrs. Samuel Carman, reservations chairman, at 626-3215. Current president of the Women's Association is Mrs. Frank A. Germack Jr., of The Pointe.

Smoking, weight clinics scheduled

Two clinics will be offered by Advanced Hypnosis, Inc., Monday, Nov. 14, at the Macomb YWCA. "Stop Smoking" begins at 7 p.m., "Lose Weight" at 8:30 p.m. Fee for each is $28. Advance registration is required, and may be made by calling 772-4435.

Convene Federation of Women's Clubs

The Federation of Women's Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit convenes today, Thursday, Oct. 27, at 10 a.m. at the Federation Clubhouse on Fenkell Avenue in Detroit, for a parliamentary lesson, under the direction of Mrs. William Herman, on "Duties and Report of the President."

This will be followed by a board of directors meeting, a brown bag luncheon and Mrs. Walter Bush's program on "Nature's Beauties." Mrs. Robert Mozer, president, Mrs. Robert Dixon and Mrs. Carl Baum, first and second vice-presidents, respectively, Mrs. Nathaniel Banks and Mrs. G.F. Gorton, recording and corresponding secretaries, respectively, and Mrs. Franklin Quale, treasurer, will be honored at an officers' reception following the regular meeting.

Keene-Puscas vows are said

A traditional gown of silk organza trimmed with Venice and Chantilly lace, ruffled at the hem and styled with a chapel train, was Lynn Marie Puscas' choice for her afternoon wedding Saturday, September 17, to Robert Alan Keene. Chantilly lace trimmed her fingertip veil, and she carried an all-white cascade of stephanotis, Sweetheart roses and ivy.

The 3 o'clock ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church was followed by a reception at Athena Hall. The newlyweds vacationed in Jamaica, and are making their home in Lisle, Ill.

Julie Catenac was honor attendant for the bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Puscas, of Berkshire Road. Bridesmaids were Peggy McCuaig and Margaret Puscas, cousins of the bride, Julie Smith and Vicki Porbe.

Wide ruffles accented the neck and hemlines of their dresses of sky blue sheer organza. They carried arrangements of snowflake mums and carnations tinted blue to match their gowns.

Mr. Keene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keene, of Curtis, Mich.,

Mr. and Mrs.
Robert A. Keene

asked David Zimmer to act as best man. Ushers were Jerry Puscas, brother of the bride, Jim Puscas, their cousin, Charles Keene, the bridegroom's cousin, and Tom Foley.

The mothers of the bride and bridegroom both selected floor length gowns, the former's cream-colored, with a lace bodice, the latter's deep rose. Mrs. Puscas' corsage was a cream orchid, Mrs. Keene's a deep pink orchid.

Pastoria-Sporer rites revealed

Theresa Marie Sporer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. William Sporer, of Berns Court, spoke her marriage vows Friday, October 7, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church to Jack Anthony Pastoria, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Pastoria, of Detroit.

A reception at Thomas Manor followed the 5:30 o'clock ceremony. The newlyweds are at home in Detroit.

The bride designed and made her own gown of satin and Schiffl lace, accented with pearls and sequins and styled with a chapel train. She wore a long veil and carried an arrangement of silk flowers made by her mother, who fashioned all the silk floral arrangements for the wedding party.

Ellen Burke, honor attendant for her cousin, and bridesmaids Mary K. Sporer, Amy Carlson, of Grand Rapids, a friend from Western Michigan University, and Nancy Jo Pastoria, the bridegroom's sister, wore gowns of cerise silk, made by themselves and the mother of the bride, and carried bouquets of pink and cerise silk lilies.

Best man was Robert Thomas. Ushering were Tony and Tom Pastoria, brothers of the bridegroom, Ron Rosen and the bride's brothers, Steve Sporer, who came from California for the wedding, and Mike Sporer.

The mother of the bride accented the jewel blue dress she made with pink silk flowers. The bridegroom's mother's dress was peach-pink in color.

Memorial Church Fair

Admission is free, as is parking. There's elevator service between the floors of Fellowship Hall. Refreshments will be available all day. Memorial Nursery School will provide complimentary care for youngsters ages 2 to 5, to allow parents about an hour of child-free shopping.

Every booth at the Memorial Church Fair is special, of course, and it's very hard to pick out one or two to spotlight... but we do recommend a stop at Potichomania. Members of the Church Women's Association have spent two years helping Louise Hoyt, whose craft is decoupage on glass (it looks like hand-painted china), create this booth's exquisite pieces.

If you're looking for a hand-painted baby bottle, Potpourri is the place to head for. If your child is looking for Mr. Pockets, Kids' Korner is his headquarters. If your taste tends toward the exotic, check out Craft International's articles from foreign countries.

And if your special delight is tradition, make a special point to spend a few minutes in the Country Store created by Helen Huber, complete with strawberry rhubarb, big wheels of cheese, apple and pickle barrels, candy sticks, tomato preserves and honey.

Swedish imports in addition to craft items, homemade goods, a pantry shop, attic treasures and a bake sale. Luncheon, under the direction of Mrs. Jerome Driscoll, of Whittier Road, and Mrs. Ragnar Landstrum, of Somerset Road, will be served from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., at $3.50 per person, with reservations requested. Tickets may be reserved by calling 821-2380.

A Taste of Grosse Pointe

Those who attended last Friday's opening night performance of Franco Zeffirelli's opulent film version of Verdi's "La Traviata" at the Esquire Theatre got a taste of Grosse Pointe in addition to the taste of Italy they'd bargained for, for the wine afterglow featured a selection of scrumptious hors d'oeuvres from The Merry Mouse, The Old Place, Pernie's, Sparky Herbert's, Park Place and other local gourmet headquarters.

It was a fascinating film and a lovely night, a red carpet event benefiting the Friends of FLEC (Grosse Pointe's Family Life Education Council) and the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Association. If you weren't there — you should have been!

A Festival of Arts

Sister Jeannine Klemm, Art Department head for 26 years at Siena Heights College in Adrian, has been named as juror for the Second Annual Christmas Festival of the Arts sponsored by the Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church. Theme for this year's festival, which will run Dec. 1 through 4, is "Silent Night, Holy Night."

Sister Jeannine is a respected artist and administrator. Her career training includes study at the Chicago Art Institute, her own Siena Heights College, New York and Columbia Universities and the Rochester Institute of Technology, where she earned her Doctorate in Education. Under her tenure, the Siena Heights Art Department has grown from 20 to 200 students, and gained national acclaim.

She is an active artist who has designed 30 chapels and churches and their appointments. Her creations include mosaic panels for Chicago's St. Basil Church, a statue and other items for Our Lady of the Apostles Church, Ivanhoe, Ill., and a 15-foot wall panel of bronze and wood for American Chain and Cable, Adrian. She is also recognized as one of the finest calligraphers in the country.

Artists are invited to participate in the festival by submitting recent and original concepts, in any artistic media, on the Holy Night theme. Entry forms may be obtained at the church on Moross Road in The Farms (886-2363). There is a limit of three works per artist. There is a $10, non-refundable entry fee.

Entries must be brought to the church between noon and 5 p.m. Monday, Nov. 28. An exhibition/reception honoring the artists and an award ceremony will be held Thursday, Dec. 1, from 6 to 8 p.m. The festival art show continues Friday and Saturday, Dec. 2 and 3, open for viewing from noon to 5 p.m., and Sunday, Dec. 4, from 1 to 3 p.m. The public is invited, free of charge, to all events. Groups can also be accommodated.

Speaking of artists... did you know that Mrs. Frank J. Tramosch, of Chalfonte Avenue, a member of the Progressive Artists Club, has a one-woman show at Standard Federal, East Warren at Outer Drive, during the month of October? Hedy, who has been around a while, encourages fellow Senior Citizens to take up drawing and painting. "It is satisfying and rewarding, and keeps you happy," she says.

A Visitor from France

Mme. Vernier-Palliez, wife of the French Ambassador to the United States, will visit the Detroit Historical Museum as guest of the Detroit Historical Society and the Detroit Historical Commission next Tuesday morning, to honor those of French heritage who have settled in the Detroit area since 1701.

To celebrate the occasion, a challenge grant, intended for a new French Exhibit area at the museum, will be presented to the Detroit Historical Society by the French Festival of Detroit. Representatives of the Festival, as well as other French organizations, will be on hand to escort Mme. Vernier-Palliez on a tour of the museum.

A river view . . .

Halloween fun at Youtheatre

In a combination Halloween "special" and Blue Bird/Camp Fire Salute, Detroit Youtheatre will present "The Ring of the Fettuccines," a comic opera spoof, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. performances this Saturday, Oct. 29, in the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium.

Ghosts, goblins, witches, Blue Birds and Camp Fire members in uniform and all other young people in costume will be admitted at a 1/3 discount, or $2 each. Youtheatre's regular price is $3 per person, child or adult ($2 each for groups of 10 or more).

Ticket information and a detailed Youtheatre "Something Every Saturday" schedule of live, professional musicals, plays, concerts, films and specials through May may be obtained by contacting the museum's ticket office, 832-2730.

"The Ring of the Fettuccines," designed for families with young people 5 years of age through adult (children younger than 5 will not be admitted to the auditorium), was created as a comedy/parody introduction for youngsters to the world of grand opera.

Performed by New York's Broque — not Baroque — Opera Company, "The Ring" is a mix of all disciplines of the arts: music (by Verdi, Bizet, Mozart and others), singing, pantomime, dancing, movement, costume and set design.

Roses in focus for garden club

Program for the Windmill Pointe Garden Club's meeting next Wednesday, Nov. 2, at 11:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Elton Turner who will be assisted by Mrs. George Malley, is "Roses," presented by Mrs. John Stephens.

Holiday boutique tables available

The Macomb YWCA will sponsor a holiday boutique Saturday, Dec. 3, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. at St. Gabriel's Church on Stephens in East Detroit. Hand-crafted items and Christmas gifts will be featured. A $1-a-plate spaghetti dinner will be served from 4 to 6 p.m. Rental space is available at $10; call 772-4435 for further information.

U. of D. High auction slated

One of Detroit's longest running, most successful benefit auctions kicks off at 5:30 p.m. this Saturday, Oct. 29. The University of Detroit Jesuit High School and Academy's 12th annual auction at the school involves hundreds of enthusiastic parents, friends and alumni from around the world, who have spent months gathering contributions.

Silent and live auctions offer special treasures, from antiques, art, furniture, furs and sporting foods to a new car, video club memberships, vacations and gourmet dinner parties, catered at home or in elegant restaurants.

For those on a budget, the Ballroom Board offers prizes with a value of $10 to $40 for a mere $10 a throw.

Admission donation is $50 per person, including an open bar, gourmet buffet, and valet parking. Special tickets for sponsors at $75 and benefactors at $125 are also available; for reservations or more information, call 862-5400.

General chairpersons for Auction XII are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence F. DuMouchelle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Mullen and Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Naud.

For over 106 years, the University of Detroit Jesuit High School and Academy has been dedicated to a tradition of academic and athletic excellence for pre-high school and high school boys who desire to attend college and excel in professional and business lives.

The high school consistently outranks other Michigan schools in National Merit and National Achievement Semifinalists and Finalists. It is the only independent day school for boys remaining in the City of Detroit, and attracts students from 27 suburbs, including The Pointe.

While accepting students of all colors, ethnic origins and creeds, U. of D. High remains rooted in the 400-year tradition of educational excellence which has been the hallmark of the Jesuit Order of the Catholic Church.

Excellence in education is expensive. Full tuition cannot begin to cover the cost - and no qualified student is turned away because of lack of funds. Proceeds from the auction will provide scholarships and aid in defraying the costs of the school.

Holy Communion Lutheran mini-fair

The Holy Communion Lutheran Church Women's mini-fair will run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 3, at the church, located on Whittier at the corner of Stratman in Detroit. Luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Christmas novelties and cards, baked goods, attic treasures and a variety of handcrafted gift items will be featured.

ELIZABETH FLOOD, daughter of MR. and MRS. ROBERT FLOOD, of The Pointe, participated in Central Michigan University's Small Business Institute Program this year.

DGC to present Ikebana expert

Elinore Yard, a past-president of Ikebana International, Ann Arbor, as well as a master in the Ohara School and a National Flower Show Judge, will present a program on the Japanese floral art of Ikebana at 1 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 3, in the Crystal Ballroom of the Whittier Towers on Burns Drive in Detroit.

Her presentation, sponsored by the Detroit Garden Center, is open to the public at $4 per person. Reservations may be made by contacting the DGC at 259-6363. Free parking will be available.

Mrs. Yard has been involved with flowers all her life: photographing, painting, growing and arranging them. "Inspirational" is the term often used to describe her arranging to musical accompaniment at programs throughout Michigan and in Ohio. She will create large-scale arrangements for the DGC group, suited to the size of the ballroom, but will also offer tips for smaller arrangements suitable for the home.

Laurie Lavins

Laurie Lavins to be a bride

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lavins, of Moran Road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Laurie, to Jeffrey Charles Boehmke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boehmke, of Rushford, Minn. A November wedding is planned.

Miss Lavins, an alumna of Grosse Pointe South High School and Oakland University, is a manager/trainer at Northbrook Farm (show horses) in Celina, Tex., as is her fiancé, who attended Rushford High School and the University of North Dakota.

German-American Center sets bazaar

The Ladies Auxiliary to the German-American Cultural Center will feature imports from Germany and Austria at its Christmas Bazaar Tuesday, Nov. 8, at the center's clubhouse on East Outer Drive in Detroit. Hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

In addition to imports, the bazaar will stock boutique items, toys, Christmas cards and ornaments, candles, jewelry, pantry items, homebaked goods, art objects, flowers, attic treasures and a large selection of handcrafts. A cafe will serve refreshments, including Schwarzwälder Torte.

Church Circles meet Tuesday

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Women's Association Circles will continue their study of The Parables next Tuesday, Nov. 1, in the morning, afternoon and evening, according to their regular time schedules.

Serving as hostesses are Mrs. Arthur O.A. Schmidt at her Lakecrest Lane home, Mrs. William Kreidle at her North Brys Drive home, Mrs. Thomas Quilter at her Blairmoor Court home, Mrs. James R. Stewart at her Canterbury Road home, Mrs. Ralph S. Pehrson at her Harvard Road home and Mrs. Richard Miller in the Church Lounge.

Anyone who would like to attend these monthly meetings is invited to contact Mrs. Carl Meyering, circles chairman, at 882-5330 for further information.

Children of Mary meet at Academy

The Children of Mary gathered Friday, Oct. 7, in the Lakeshore Building of the Grosse Pointe Academy for their first meeting of the 1983-84 season. After a mass, celebrated by The Reverend Anthony Tocco, pastor of Saint Margaret of Scotland parish, and a brief business session, guest speaker Frances Carter, known in the area for establishing and conducting Bible Study groups, gave a talk on "Courage and Confidence," the sodality's theme for the year.

Short and to the Pointe

Among students who received Bachelors degrees from Dartmouth College at June 12 commencement ceremonies are THOMAS W. HASTINGS, son of MR. and MRS. JOHN O. HASTINGS, of Kercheval Avenue, an earth sciences major; and GEOFFREY H. DURNO, son of MR. and MRS. JOHN DURNO, of Warner Road. A 1979 University Liggett School graduate, Hastings traveled to Granada, Spain, during his sophomore year as part of Dartmouth's Language Study Abroad program. Durno, who was graduated from King's College School, Wimbledon, England, in 1979, received a degree in economics. He participated in the Foreign Study Program in Toulouse, France, last year, and was a member of the sailing team and the Dartmouth Ski Patrol.

MONICA BOETTCHER, daughter of BARBARA and JAMES BOETTCHER, of Kenwood Court, and SUZANNE GOTHAM, daughter of DR. and MRS. JAMES GOTHAM, of Canterbury Road, have been selected to Michigan State University's chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. Boettcher is a senior international relations major, a member of Phi Kappa Phi and Tau Sigma and MSU. Gotham, a senior humanities pre-law major, is also a member of Tau Sigma and Phi Kappa Phi.

Mark World Community Day

World Community Day, the national observance, sponsored by Church Women United in the USA, that actively demonstrates the continuing commitment of over half a million Christian women to make peace and justice for all people a reality in the world, will be celebrated this year on Friday, Nov. 4, at a service of worship at Peace United Church of Christ on Gratiot Avenue.

This year's theme, "No Longer Strangers," was prepared by the Australian Church Women, who also celebrate World Community Day. Through exchange visits, church women in Australia and the United States have become keenly aware of similarities in their history and experience.

The 1983 service focuses on the contributions and relationships of diverse groups in both societies: rural and urban, affluent and poor, refugee and indigenous.

Church Women United, the national ecumenical movement that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic, Orthodox and other Christian women together into one "community of caring," also sponsors World Day of Prayer (the first Friday in March) and May Fellowship Day (the first Friday in May).

Offerings from these celebrations make possible the mission of Church Women United Intercontinental Grants that fund projects both in the United States and abroad to support the empowerment of women, human rights, justice and peace.

Schedule Macomb Secretaries' dinner

The Macomb Chapter of Professional Secretaries International will hold its next dinner meeting Wednesday, Nov. 9, at The Gazebo on Mound Road in Warren. Cash bar service begins at 5:30 p.m. A dinner buffet, at $10.50 per person, will be served an hour later.

Speakers Sylvia Chapman and Lillian Delekta, from L&S Color Consultants, will present "An Introduction to the Field of Color Analysis." Further information on PSI or the Macomb Chapter's monthly dinner meetings may be obtained by contacting Joan L. Kopy at 978-9216.

To greet Sarah Lawrence prexy

A luncheon for alumnae and parents of students at Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville, N.Y., will be hosted by Mrs. Henry M. Woodhouse in her Shores home next Tuesday, Nov. 1. Many Pointe alumnae will be on hand to greet the guest of honor: Sarah Lawrence College President Alice Stone Ichman.

Former Sarah Lawrence faculty members Rudolph Arnheim and Charles Trinkaus, both currently professors at the University of Michigan - Ann Arbor, will also attend.

Dr. Ichman was formerly the Associate Director and the Assistant Secretary of State for Educational and Cultural Affairs within the United States Department of State and the United States International Communication Agency.

Before her appointment to the Sarah Lawrence presidency in 1981, she was advisor to the Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and dean of Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass.

Her career has been distinguished by a deep commitment to international understanding and cooperation. She is currently a trustee of both the Experiment in International Living and Youth for Understanding, and a member of the National Council on Foreign Language and International Studies.

Arnheim was a member of the Psychology faculty at Sarah Lawrence from 1943 through 1968. Trinkaus, an expert in Renaissance History, was a member of the Sarah Lawrence History faculty from 1936 through 1970.

Cranbrook Gardens to host plant sale

Cranbrook Gardens Auxiliary will present its annual plant sale Friday, Nov. 4, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 5, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Cranbrook Gardens Greenhouse on Lone Pine Road in Bloomfield Hills. Hundreds of plants will be available, at prices ranging from $1 to $20.

Four celebrity garden experts will be featured. Marge Alpern, botanist and author, will discuss orchids from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Nov. 4. She will be followed by Sue Barrett, Master Gardener and former "hotline plant doctor" for the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service, on tap from 1 to 4 p.m.

Bette Gay, who specializes in Japanese contemporary landscape design and Bonsai, will be available at the sale from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 5, when the all-day orchid expert will be Al Goldner, well-known landscape designer and horticulturist.

The house plant selection will include large tropical plants, orchids, dish and basket gardens, rare ferns, begonias, succulents, Thanksgiving and Christmas cacti, euphorbia, peperomia, amaryllis and outdoor bulbs.

The sale also offers hand-fashioned creations by auxiliary members: herb and grapevine wreaths and baskets, garden sculpture, filled planters, dried herbs, fresh herb bread and honey plus — new this year — simmering spices, potpourri Christmas ornaments and centerpieces.

Set small business women's seminar

Marketing Strategies for Women in Small Business, a one-day workshop for women who currently own or manage a small business, will run from 8:15 a.m. to 4 p.m., under the direction of Jeanne Paluzzi, APR, president of JGP Public Relations, Inc., Saturday, Nov. 12, at Wayne State University's Northeast Center, located on Schroeder at Nine Mile Road in East Detroit.

Participants in the program, co-sponsored by the WSU College of Lifelong Learning, the United States Small Business Administration and the Small Business Development Center, will learn to develop marketing plans for their own businesses and implement them according to their budgets and priorities.

Fee is $38, including registration, course materials, coffee, tea and refreshments. To register or receive a flyer, call WSU (577-4710).

Brush up your Shakespeare via fantasy and fun

A trio of Elizabethan robotrons, the auction of costumes worn in Stratford (Canada) Festival productions and a guest appearance by Cedric Smith, one of the Stratford company's distinguished actors, will highlight a Brush Up Your Shakespeare gala to benefit Stratford Shakespearean Festival of America this Saturday evening, Oct. 29, at The Players Playhouse on East Jefferson Avenue.

Proceeds will help support the Festival's first visit to Detroit with a full production, planned during the fall tour of 1984.

Serving as honorary chairmen for the affair are The Honorable Milton B. Blackwood, Consul General of Canada in Detroit, and Frank W. Donovan, Senator and former Board of Governors member, Stratford Festival in Ontario, Canada. General chairman is Mrs. Eric Wiltshire.

The evening of fantasy, fun and food begins with a 7 p.m. reception to meet Cedric Smith, critically acclaimed for his Stratford performances as Bolingbroke in "Richard II" and Mr. Horner in "The Country Wife" during the past summer. Smith has just completed his fourth season of Festival productions. A man of many talents, he is also well-known as an author, director, composer and musician. His career includes numerous film and television credits.

A space age entertainment treat in an Elizabethan setting follows in the form of a robotic threesome in a program of Cole Porter songs from "Kiss Me Kate." This 21st century presentation was designed and programmed by Robert Elnicky, of Elnicky Enterprises, Troy, creator of the popular "Hot Fudge" television show and its characters.

The merrymaking continues with a costume auction offering attendees an opportunity to bid on some of the most beautiful creations ever seen on the Stratford Festival stage. Among the items listed for auction are a dark blue embroidered caftan worn by Maggie Smith as Cleopatra in "Anthony and Cleopatra" (1976) and the pale peach silk brocade Edwardian dress worn by Domini Blythe as Rosaline in "Love's Labour's Lost" (1979). Both costumes were designed by Daphne Dare for productions directed by Robin Phillips.

Also on the auction block will be cloaks from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" (1977) and "The Duchess of Malfi" (1971), a sailor's suit from "H.M.S. Pinafore," a Senator's corduroy robe from "Othello" (1973) and several other items.

Tickets for the benefit are priced at $50 per person for Groundlings, $75 per person for Patrons of the King's Company. Reservations, limited to 200 persons, may be made by calling Stratford Festival America, 962-1500. Donations for the evening are tax deductible in accordance with current United States laws.

Phase I plans Halloween fun

Phase I, the organization for single, young adults, ages 20 through 39, who gather regularly for Sunday evening program meetings at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, will hold its annual Halloween dance this Sunday, Oct. 30, at 7:45 p.m. Those in costume admitted free, others $2.

Happy Haunting!

BEWITCHED YOU'LL BE . . . in this unique and magnificent house! Custom designed both inside and out to be one of the Pointes most prestigious homes. This home features a dramatic two-story living room, five bedrooms, and all major rooms open onto the estate-sized grounds complete with patio and lovely pool.

HAUNTINGLY CHARMING . . . GREAT CURB APPEAL . . . and it gets even better once you've stepped into the gracious foyer. The first floor offers living room with bay window and fireplace, dining room overlooking the professionally landscaped yard with patio and reflecting pool, and a lovely study all with parquet flooring. The impressive staircase leads to 3 bedrooms, plus a great master suite. Central air and fully insulated are just a few of the amenities.

BEHIND THE MASK . . . Only the very best has gone into this French influenced mini-mansion on South Deep-lands. Five family bedrooms, three full baths and an enormous hobby room complete the second floor. Both a library and family room complement the formal living and dining rooms. A private patio and a heated three car garage are just some of the extra amenities.

ALSO IN THIS BAG OF GOODIES . . . Two bedroom end unit all on one floor in the desirable Berkshire complex with a view of Lochmoor Golf Club . . . Appliances, land contract terms and immediate possession make this a most attractive offering.

DON'T BE "SPOOKED" when you see the small price on this three bedroom home in Harper Woods. In addition to two full baths, natural fireplace, updated kitchen and new carpet, only a viewing will show you the real "goodies" available to you in this home. Price reduced to sell at $49,900.

No "HORROR STORIES" to be told about this charming three bedroom colonial in the Farms. Immaculately kept, this home features large family room (12x17), updated kitchen, newer carpet and decorating throughout. All for the small price of $79,500. Owner transferred and will give possession at closing.

IF it seems that your LITTLE GOBLINS are coming out of every crack in your home and your budget cannot stand the strain of a new home, look into this one! Four bedrooms, two full baths, sun room, large sunny dining room, natural fireplace are only a few of its fine amenities. Priced to sell at $69,500.

Pointer of Interest

By Peggy O'Connor

Arthur Rooks is an admitted Francophile who says his French is terrible. He does know how to say "Le Bingo," which is handy, because "Le Bingo" is this year's scholarship fund raiser for the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe.

Okay, so it's easy to pronounce for those whose French is worse than Arthur Rooks' and bingo IS great fun. But as a fund raiser . . . why "Le Bingo?"

"Well, when it was proposed, the board thought it was a very kinky idea. Bingo is a fun game . . . no matter who's playing," Rooks says. "Last year we had a Monte Carlo Night; this year, it's a good, old-fashioned bingo. Hopefully, we can be as successful as last year and raise some money, because scholarships are getting expensive."

"Le scholarship" is the beneficiary of the all Alliance attention this fall, and the reason behind "Le Bingo." And raising funds for scholarships to send area high school students to France and to Quebec for the summer is always a main purpose of the group which caught Arthur Rooks' fancy a long time ago.

"When I first moved to Grosse Pointe, despite my affection for all things French, I didn't feel equipped to join the Alliance. I thought my French was just terrible. But I soon found that Alliance members are just Americans who shared an interest in French and France. They were and are all charming and interested people. I've always found that interested people are interesting people and so it was with the Alliance."

THAT ARTHUR Rooks, Francophile, found a "home" in the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe is not surprising. His "affection for all things French" is a well-rooted one which spans summer days spent as a youth with his grandmother at the French-influenced St. Clair Flats to his present avocation of ardent traveler and Alliance member.

"Being from Hamtramck, where the names of settlers like Colonel John Hamtramck, and Joseph Campau are still used as street names, the concept of the very French background of the city is very much in one's mind."

ARTHUR ROOKS, JR., OF MCKINLEY PLACE, PROGRAM CHAIRMAN AND BOARD MEMBER OF THE ALLIANCE FRANCAISE DE GROSSE POINTE.

You kind of get interested in French," Rooks says.

Rooks has done just that. He and his wife Angeline, whom he married after obtaining his degree in political science from the University of Michigan have made numerous trips throughout France. ("My wife is a storehouse of knowledge about good restaurants in France and throughout Europe," Rooks adds.)

"I am of Polish, English, Dutch and Irish extraction and my wife is Italian. Being involved with French activities has just added so much to our background, our culture. All these activities bring something special to our lives."

The something special Rooks is interested in at the moment is the Alliance and its scholarship program. The Alliance has provided scholarships to local students of French to help further their studies "since the Alliance began, I think," Rooks says. Students are chosen on the basis of their knowledge of the French language and earn scholarships by passing written tests and oral examinations. It can be a grueling process, but one well worth the effort.

Scholarships for study in Paris and in Montreal and Quebec are presented to local students who pass the examinations. "Generally, the students come back and give a report of their stay at one of our programs," Rooks notes.

It is undoubtedly a highlight of the Alliance year, one which includes programs like last Monday's discussion by Fern Freeman, of the Detroit Historical Society. Members were to invite area residents whose French ancestors settled in the area; Rooks himself asked descendants of the St. Aubin and Beaubien families to attend.

"It's an excellent organization," Rooks says of the Alliance Francaise. "You can find information on current French culture, get a goodly smattering of history and spend time with a lovely group of people."

"You know, a person can have acquaintances and friends. It's amazing the FRIENDS we've made through the Alliance."

Arthur Rooks invites all friends and potential friends to join the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe Monday, Nov. 7, in the War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom for "Le Bingo." A social hour begins at 6:30 p.m.; bingo play starts at 7:30 p.m. Donation for the evening is $7.50 and reservations may be made by calling 885-4313.

Dance Squad sets auditions

Auditions for the 1984 Detroit Express Dance Squad will be held next Thursday, Nov. 3, at the Assumption Greek Cultural Center on Marter Road, at the border of Grosse Pointe Woods and St. Clair Shores, in Room 103-104. Registration starts at 6:30 p.m.

Auditions will begin at 7 p.m. sharp, and are open to those 18 or older, who should be warmed up and ready to dance when they get to the auditorium.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Susan Smiley at 647-3040 or 822-0529.

Dorati returns to lead DSO

Conductor Laureate Antal Dorati returns to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra podium for 10 concerts during the next four weeks, including the DSO's 70th anniversary gala concert Saturday, Nov. 19, and will lead the orchestra in performances of Beethoven's Symphony No. 9 in D minor, Op. 125, and Bartok's Music for Strings, Percussion and Celeste, tonight, Thursday, Oct. 27, at 8 p.m. and Saturday, Oct. 29, at 8:30 p.m., plus a Friday morning, Oct. 28, Coffee Concert at 10:45 a.m.

All three concerts are sponsored by the J.L. Hudson Company and will be held in Ford Auditorium.

Guest vocalists are Karan Armstrong, soprano, Birgit Finnilae, contralto, Vinson Cole, tenor, and Victor Von Halem, bass. Also featured will be the Kenneth Jewell Chorale and the Detroit Lutheran Singers, both under the musical direction of Eric Freudigman, and the Brazeal Dennard Chorale, Brazeal W. Dennard, musical director.

Tickets, ranging in price from $9 to $18 for the evening concerts, $10 to $15 for the Coffee Concert, are on sale at the Ford Auditorium box office and all CTC outlets, including Hudson's. MasterCard and VISA customers may order by telephone, 567-1400. Group rate information is available by calling 446-0909.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth featuring, this week, PEPPER POTPOURRI.

The pepper, a member of the Nightshade Family, is believed to have originated in tropical America, spreading from there to Europe, Asia and Africa. There are now many varieties of peppers all over the world. The bell, or globe, pepper is considered the most popular in the United States. The hot red pepper — with the seeds — is used mainly as a condiment or spicy flavoring, especially in Mexican cooking.

Calories: Green raw, 1 cup — 18; cooked, 1 cup — 24. Red raw, 1 cup — 24. Hot chili, canned, 1 cup — 50. Nutrients: Vitamins A, C, B-complex, magnesium, potassium, calcium, iron.

Suggested seasonings: Basil, thyme, cumin, celery seed, onions.

ITALIAN FRIED PEPPERS

1 medium onion
2 cloves garlic
2 Tbsp. water
2 tsp. olive oil
½ tsp. Italian seasoning
Salt and pepper to taste

Cut tops from peppers. Cut peppers into slices, discarding the inner pulp and seeds. Peel and slice onion. Mince garlic cloves.

Combine all ingredients in a non-stick skillet. Cover and cook over moderate heat for 2 minutes. Remove cover and continue cooking until moisture has evaporated and the vegetables are crisp-tender. Makes 4 servings.

Calories about 49 per serving. Cholesterol 0.

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS

1 cup chopped mushrooms
1 lb. lean ground beef
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
2/3 cup evaporated skimmed milk
½ cup chopped onions
2 cups chicken bouillon

Cut tops from peppers. Remove seeds and white membrane. Cook, covered, in boiling water for 7 minutes. Drain.

Combine remaining ingredients except bouillon. Spoon mixture into peppers. Place in shallow dish. Pour bouillon around peppers. Bake in preheated 350° oven 40 minutes, or until cooked through. Lift from liquid and serve hot. Makes 6 servings.

Calories about 200 per serving. Cholesterol about 75 mgs.

PEPERONATA

This is one of those delightful Italian dishes that can be served either cold or hot, before the main course or with it.

8 sweet red bell peppers
10 large ripe tomatoes
1 large sweet onion
2 Tbsp. margarine
1 Tbsp. olive oil
½ tsp. Italian seasoning

Remove seeds from peppers; slice peppers into thin strips lengthwise. Peel tomatoes and cut into quarters. Slice onion very thinly. Heat margarine and oil and brown onions lightly. Add peppers; season with salt, pepper and Italian seasoning; cover and simmer for 15 minutes. Add tomatoes and continue cooking for 30 minutes, uncovered, stirring lightly, until mixture is almost dry. Makes 6 servings.

Calories about 147 per serving. Cholesterol 0.

PEPPERS AND MUSHROOMS WITH ONIONS

2 large green peppers
2 medium-sized onions, thinly sliced
½ pound fresh mushrooms, thinly sliced
1 Tbsp. olive oil

Seed peppers; cut into strips. Thinly slice onions. Heat olive oil in a large skillet. Sauté vegetables, stirring constantly, just until crisp-tender, about 3 minutes. Sprinkle with ¼ tsp. salt and dash of pepper. Makes 4 servings.

Calories about 57 per serving. Cholesterol 0.

Too, Too Terribly Trivial Trivia Test II

All right, class, pay attention. You did so well in Sports Week's first Too, Too Terribly Trivial Trivia Test last spring, I thought we'd try it one more time. The winner of this trivia test (determined by me at the time and by the criteria of my choice) gets a daily subscription to the Grosse Pointe News, a free lunch at any Red Barn Restaurant provided the date is between April 31, 1984 and Feb. 29, 1985, and any other crummy prize I can dig up.

WARM-UP

1.) Our Lady Star of the Sea High School nicknames its sports teams: a) the Sweethearts; b) the Tunas; c) Super Novas; d) Chickens.

2.) St. Paul School hasn't won a high school basketball state championship since 1964 because: a) they don't have tall enough players; b) the referees cheated them out of it every year since then; c) St. Paul can't compete in high school play anymore; d) they don't feel like it.

3.) What does the ULS stand for on the Knights' soccer jerseys? a) Unusually Loveable Stars; b) University Liggett School; c) Universally Likeable Soccer; d) whatever they want it to stand for.

TOUGH SLEDDING

4.) Name a Detroit Tiger who hit more home runs than Park slugger Kirk Gibson did in 1983: a) Ty Cobb; b) Tom Selleck; c) Jack Morris; d) Chet Lemon.

5.) How many times has South High School won a boys' state tennis title? a) Zero; b) 33 times; c) 1½ times; d) 12 times in the last 13 years.

TOO LATE TO TURN BACK

7.) Who coached the North High football team before Frank Sumner? a) Jim Krucki; b) Knute Rockne; c) Monte Clark; d) nobody, Sumner has always been the coach.

8.) North's boys' soccer team has won the Michigan Metro Soccer League championship: a) four times in four years; b) never; c) they've tied for the title each year; d) three times.

9.) ULS and South have won state championships in the same sport this season. What is that sport? a) skeet shooting; b) three-meter diving; c) field hockey; d) girls' tennis.

10.) A local grade school volleyball team went undefeated this season and earned its fifth city title in six years. Name the team: a) Parcels; b) St. Paul; c) St. Clare; d) Grosse Pointe Academy.

FIVE POINT BONUS QUESTION: One of these teams will play football in the Pontiac Silverdome this fall; name that team: a) the Detroit Lions; b) the St. Clare Falcons; c) the Pittsburgh Steelers; d) all of the above.

ANSWERS

1.) b — the Tunas, of course. But I'm sure they're all a bunch of sweethearts.

2.) c — St. Paul can't compete in high school play anymore since the high school is closed.

3.) b — University Liggett School.

4.) d — Chet Lemon (Although points will be awarded if you said Cobb; he'd outthit Gibby if he wasn't dead.)

5.) a — Despite lots of talent and a few close chances, South has never won a boys' state tennis title.

6.) e — Who cares?

7.) a — Krucki, of course.

8.) a — North is four-for-four after grabbing the title again this year with a 12-1 league mark.

9.) d — Girls' tennis. (They don't shoot skeet in Grosse Pointe schools, nobody knows how to cook it.)

10.) c — St. Clare. Coach Larry Hines' team has racked up six division titles, six east side titles, two city runner-up titles and as of last weekend, five city championships.

Five Point Bonus Question: d) — The Lions, Steelers and St. Clare will all play. St. Clare will play an exhibition game in the Prep Bowl Nov. 6. (And no, they won't be facing the Steelers, even though that might be a better match-up than the Lions-Steelers game.)

If you had 15 points, don't tell me about it. I can't stand people who gloat.

Five to 10 points gets you a rousing, "Yippee" from me. (Take that to the bank.)

Zero to five points — A cheesy score for a cheesy test.

Less than zero — If you tore this quiz up and spent Thursday afternoon muttering about crummy sports quizzes, you win. Pick up your prizes between 2 and 3 a.m., Sunday, April 1, 1984.

Family fun night planned

The Department of Community Education of The Grosse Pointe Public School System and the Neighborhood Club will co-sponsor a Family Fun Night Friday, Nov. 4, from 7 to 9 p.m. at South High School. Badminton, basketball, ping-pong, swimming, tumbling, volleyball, crafts and movies are on the agenda. Fee is 75 cents. Children must be at least three years of age to participate and those 16 and under must be accompanied by at least one adult. Mark your calendar, get the family together, and plan on being part of the fun at Family Fun Night.

Football Blue Devils win again, 10-0

By David Loffredo

When it rains it pours, and last weekend, it rained on the football field as the Blue Devils poured on the Port Huron Big Red, 10-0. The win was South's fourth shutout, and boosted the Devils' record to 7-0. It also clinched at least a tie for the EML title.

South didn't display the awesome defensive power it has in recent weeks. The only touchdown came on a 12-yard carry by John McDonald. Senior kicker Dale Graham added a 30-yard field goal, his fifth of the year, to cap off the victory.

As it does every week, the defense controlled the game. Interceptions by Jim Arnold and Darren DeSmyter along with key tackles by other defenders kept the "Big Red Machine" out of scoring distance.

The win was South's seventh in a row, and its first without the help of Paul Hawk. The Devils' big test will come this week in the EML finale at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 29, against Mt. Clemens. The Bathers are a strong team and should give South a battle.

Frosh fall

After a long, drawn-out battle, the South freshman football team lost to East Detroit, 38-24. The long pass kept South in the game as the first score came on a 42-yard pass from Jeff Metry to Russ Turbyfill. Late in the fourth quarter, a 54-yard pass to Scott Tucker and a 41-yarder to Turbyfill set up scoring runs of one and four yards by Dave Arnold and Brian Stratton.

Scott Tucker added two two-point conversions and Brian Stratton added another in the losing cause. The loss gave the freshman a 2-3-1 record.

Cagers win

The varsity basketball team began last week with their second win of the season, beating Roseville, 59-43, but lost two days later to L'Anse Creuse North, 61-21. The team's record now stands at 2-11, and their next game is today, Oct. 27, at home against Port Huron. The game will begin at 7:45 p.m. The JV team had a similar week, beating Roseville, 58-37, and then losing to L'Anse Creuse North, 48-37. The girls play today, Oct. 27, at home against Port Huron, 6 p.m.

The girls' freshman basketball team won its seventh in a row to bring its record to an impressive 8-1. The team began the week with a 33-22 win over L'Anse Creuse Central as Anne Connell and Marcia Wright scored eight points each. Cindy Tewes had six and Sue Griffin had five in the victory.

Then the girls destroyed Chippewa Valley, 31-17, as Connell had six points, and Wright and Tewes had five each. Stephanie Purdy had four points and 11 rebounds, and Erin Kershaw had 10 rebounds. The freshman will continue their season today, Oct. 27, at home at 4 p.m. against East Detroit Kelly.

Kickers bounced

South's varsity soccer team ended its season last week with a 2-1 loss to De La Salle in the first round of the state tournament.

Tankers lose to best

The varsity swim team lost twice last week, both times to the top-ranked teams in the state. In a tri-meet, South lost to Andover, 58-25, and Livonia Stevenson, 39-26. South divers Allison Crissman and Kristen Campbell finished one-two and Crissman broke her own varsity record. Carrie Champion also qualified for the state meet in the 100 yard butterfly.

The JV team won its meets over Andover and Stevenson 85-23 and 68-43, respectively.

The girls will continue their season today, Oct. 27, in East Detroit. The meet will begin at 4 p.m.

Turkey Trot run is set

Getting down to Woodward Avenue early on Thanksgiving morning has been a 57-year tradition for hundreds of thousands of Detroit area residents who want a good spot to watch the Thanksgiving Day Parade. But this year, for the first time, spectators will have special pre-parade show, in the form of a 10-kilometer race along Woodward Avenue.

The Nov. 24 "Thanksgiving Day Turkey Trot" is expected to have the world's largest crowd for a 10K (6.2 mile) foot race. A one-half million people line Woodward Avenue each year for the Thanksgiving Day Parade, and race coordinator Jim Patterson said the huge crowd may be a bonus for the runners.

"The largest crowd ever in the history of 10K racing has to be a big plus for all entrants, from the serious runners, to the 'fun-run' participants," Patterson said. "Everybody does better when there are more people to cheer them on."

The Thanksgiving Day Turkey Trot is sponsored by WJR radio and The Detroit News on behalf of the Michigan Thanksgiving Parade Foundation.

The "Turkey Trot" race course will begin near Cobo Hall at 9 a.m. on Thanksgiving morning, and will send runners north on Woodward Avenue, through the Wayne State Campus area, then back south on Woodward, the route of the parade itself. Certification of the course by The Athletics Congress is being sought. Application forms for runners will be printed in The Detroit News, and will also be available at locations throughout Michigan.

ULS broke its seven-game losing streak last week and will close out its season with a home game tomorrow, Friday, Oct. 28, at 4 p.m. against Baptist Academy.

North and South varsity football squads are also at home this weekend. North hosts former Bi-County foe Lake Shore at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 29; South hosts Mt. Clemens in a crucial EML battle at the same time. Oct. 29 is also homecoming day for South.

They're playing well and they're fun to watch — they're South's freshmen girls' basketball team. The frosh play at home Thursday, Nov. 3, at 4 p.m.; they are at L'Anse Creuse today, Oct. 27, at 3:30 p.m.

Marlies open league play

After completely dominating their opponents during most of the 10-game exhibition season, the Midget A hockey Marlies are suffering from an inability to put the puck into the net. The team continues to enjoy outstanding goaltending from Robbie Davis and Ken Brooks, who have held the opposition to one goal per game ... but the Marlie offense hasn't been able to respond.

The scoring dirth started in the Marlies' last exhibition game against Little Caesars, whom the Marlies had earlier handled with ease. Kevin Tisdale provided the lone Pointe tally in a 3-1 loss; Chris Valicevic set up the goal.

League play began last week as the Marlies continued to have scoring problems in posting one win, one loss and a tie. The opening league contest against Port Huron was a good example as Grosse Pointe dominated play in the first two periods but came away with just one goal. Marlie forward John Hirschfield pounced on a rebound from a shot by linemate Tom Ugval to beat the Port Huron goalie from close in. The Marlies had a let-down in the third period and gave up a goal to finish in a 1-1 tie.

The Lakeland game provided the first league win for Grosse Pointe as the Marlies took a 4-1 victory, scoring in every period. Jerry Little opened the Pointe scoring after he took a beautiful pass from center Chris Temple. Mike Brykalski put the Marlies up 2-0 by finishing off a play started by Hirschfield and Peter Guzzardo.

Guzzardo teamed up with Temple and Little for the game's prettiest goal: a series of give-and-go passes the length of the ice. Ugval finished the Pointe scoring when he drilled a shot from close range; Brykalski and Jim Barr drew assists.

The Marlies lost their first league contest to Flint Oct. 22, 2-0. Grosse Pointe had a number of good scoring chances in the game, but couldn't collect on them. The Marlies continue league play with three games this week.

Club plans indoor soccer

The Neighborhood Club is working with the Lakeshore Soccer Dome to offer introductory indoor soccer leagues played on a full size arena for youth soccer teams and adults.

In youth leagues teams will consist of current fall soccer teams for boys in grades two to eight and teams for girls grades two to 12. Players may also register as individuals if their team does not wish to play, or if they did not play fall soccer. In addition, leagues are also available for high school boys in grades nine to 12, women 18 and over, and men 18 and over. You may form your own team or register as an individual.

These special introductory soccer leagues will consist of five games scheduled on weekday evenings and weekends; there will not be a tournament or trophies. The fee is $20 per player and a current Neighborhood Club membership is required; $10 per individual or $20 per family residing at the same address. The leagues begin Nov. 7 and will end Dec. 12.

Final registration deadline is Nov. 2. Teams registering before Oct. 29 will be given one free hour of pre-season practice. Register at the Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo, or call 885-4600 for more information.

Go blue . . . and green

Former North students Melissa Schade and Bob Luberto may be cheering for different college squads now, but they were back together again this summer at the UCA College Spirit Camp at Virginia Tech. Schade, a junior dental hygiene major at the University of Michigan, and Luberto, a sophomore pre-med student at Michigan State University, were both involved in athletics at North. Schade was a cheerleader for four years and a member of the North squad that finished third in state competitions. Luberto was a four-year diver and played one year each on the baseball and football teams. Luberto now teaches cheerleading and will travel to road football games with MSU. Schade will cheer for the Wolverine basketball team this winter.

North mark is 6-1

The North varsity football team got just what the doctor ordered as they put together a total team effort in defeating a good Waterford Kettering team, 19-6, last weekend.

George Kasza filled in for Fred Schultz and scored two touchdowns and Joe Weidenbach scored on a 30-yard run. With many contributions the Norsemen's performance could only be described as a true team victory.

Increasing their record to 6-1, the win also kept North's slim playoff hopes alive. Said Norsemen Coach Frank Sumner of the encouraging victory, "It prepared us for our two remaining games." Each of the next two games are a must if North is to gain any consideration for the state playoffs.

Against Kettering, North was pretty much in control throughout the game. Offensively North compiled 259 yards, 172 of which Kasza accounted for on the ground. His touchdowns came on runs of 23 and two yards. Quarterback Chris Bingaman hit on eight of 17 passes.

As North's offense was turning up impressive numbers, the defense was shutting down Kettering. North held its opponent to only 68 yards rushing. Coach Sumner cited the superb rushing defense as the key to North's victory. Four Norsemen interceptions also played a big role in defensive effort as Kettering managed its only score late in the game.

Paul Grammatico and Paul Bronikowski played well filling in for Rick Portwood. Eric Kratochwill also played a big part in North's fortunes, as the Norsemen got some fine play from many individuals.

North closes out its home schedule against Lake Shore at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 29. The Shorians always seem to give North a tough game and this contest should be no exception. With only two games left to play, North can't afford a loss the rest of the way.

JV gridders roll

Greg Guest had two touchdown runs, and Craig Como connected on a 19-yard scoring pass to Drew McSkimming as North's JV football team defeated Waterford Kettering, 22-6. Brian Bergeron added two extra points as the Norsemen raised their record to 4-3. Their next game will be tonight, Oct. 27, at 7 p.m. at Lake Shore.

North's freshmen football team dropped a hard fought game to Marysville, 18-15. The team's record now stands at 3-4.

Netters are 11th

North's girls varsity tennis team got a rude awakening at the state Class A tournament last weekend, finishing 11th. Coach Elizabeth Manojlovich's squad, coming off a great season in which they won their league title and had a 10-3 record, struggled in the demanding tournament.

The poor weather conditions, an inexperienced team, and some early round losses all helped to do in the Norsemen. Wet and slippery conditions didn't help, and greatly hampered North's effectiveness. "There was a lot of pressure . . . the girls tried their hardest," Manojlovich said. North got off to a slow start in the early rounds but they just couldn't recover.

There were some highlights for North as No. 1 singles player Lisa McCormick nearly defeated a seeded opponent. The No. 3 doubles team of Barb Labadie and Shirin Ariani made the semifinals, but that was all North could manage. "We should have finished a little bit better," stated Coach Manojlovich.

All in all, the team should be proud. It had a good season and accomplished the goal of going to the state tournament. The team is still young and should fair quite well next year. North gained a good amount of " . . . learning experience," said the coach.

North will lose only one key player - Cathy Caruso - to graduation.

Tankers are .500

With an 88-71 win over Lakeview, the North girls' swim team evened its record at 4-4. It now appears that North is back on the right track. Using mostly first year athletes, North Coach Scott Teeters was able to give valuable experience to his team.

Winning events for North were Sue Farrell in the 50 free, Ann Attar in diving, Ann Ciarrivino in 100 free, and the relay team of Sue Farrell, Ann Attar, Camey Mader, and Amy Buchanan.

Cagers are even

Celeste Sartor had 14 points and 11 rebounds, while Pam Boesiger chipped in with 10 points and Paula Harms added eight points in a resounding 48-9 triumph over Lakeview. North set a defensive school record by only giving up nine points. The excellent defensive play was led by Virginia Sanders. North's record in the Bi-County League improved to 4-2. Their overall record evened off at 6-6.

North defeated Lakeview, 50-18, in JV girls' basketball action, extending North's Bi-County League winning streak to six. Julie Cook took scoring honors for North with 10 points. Missy Preston, Michelli McCarron and Carrie Dickenson had six points each for North. The girls' season record is 8-4.

A comeback effort fell short as North's freshmen girls' basketball team lost a tight, 54-29 game to Oakwood. Beth Trupiano and Jody Pellow paced North with six points apiece.

Hillary Hall threw home 13 points, but it wasn't enough as North lost once again, this time to Bishop Gallagher, 40-25. North's record is 5-3.

Harriers unbeaten

North's girls' cross country team took five of the top six places as it defeated Utica Ford, 19-42. Leading the team was freshman Christy Drummy who finished first. Kelly Fournier also placed well, finishing third. The win kept North undefeated at 10-0, 5-0 in league play.

"Best showing this season" said boys' cross country coach Dave McEvers, of North 23-35 victory over Utica Ford. Leading the way for the Norsemen were Joe Carroll and Pete Streck.

St. Clare loses heartbreaker

St. Clare of Montefalco's football team lost a heartbreaking 6-0 overtime decision to Center Line St. Clement, last Saturday night, dashing the Falcons' hopes for yet another CYO city championship.

Although outgaining their foes, 128-42, and controlling the ball for most of the game, the Falcons couldn't get the big play where they needed it, and bowed on a fluke play on a rain-soaked, muddy field.

St. Clare took the opening kickoff and moved from its 36 to the St. Clement 39 where it was forced to punt. A blocked punt gave the Knights possession on their own 46 but the drive was stalled at the St. Clare 33, as the first quarter ended.

The Falcons then drove 58 yards to the St. Clement 9. A 26-yard field goal attempt by Doug Lucas was wide and the Knights took over on the 20.

Unable to move the ball, St. Clement was forced to punt once again — this time to its own 47. St. Clare moved to the 29 where they once again gave up the ball as the half ended.

The second half was another exercise to futility. Lou Dobbs recovered a fumble at the St. Clement 29, but the Falcons could only get as far as the 19 before giving up the ball again. A few more exchanges and regulation time ended without a score.

St. Clare lost the toss and went on offense in the overtime period. Quarterback Rodger Hunwick was nailed for a seven-yard loss on the first play. Lucas' attempted field goal was wide.

The winners scored on a third down play on a fumble, which they recovered in the end zone for a touchdown.

Lucas paced the Falcon offensive attack with 125 yards in 25 carries.

St. Clare sports sign-up is set

Registration for basketball and cheerleading at St. Clare will take place Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 2 and 3 at the St. Clare gym. A parent must attend to register their son or daughter during the 6 to 7:30 p.m. registration period each day.

Pointers join Slimnastics

Pointers Joan Ruthenberg and Josephine Oxie are the newest members of the Dance Slimnastics, Ltd., staff, the organization says.

They will serve as qualified aerobic dance instructors with the non-profit corporation which offers classes in many states. The program is run in accordance with the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports.

Further information on the program may be obtained by calling 886-7534 or 885-4706.

Detroit Red Wings

ULS is state tennis champ

The University Liggett School girls' tennis team completed its 1983 campaign in spectacular fashion as the girls upended cross-town rival Grosse Pointe South, traveled north to blank Grand Blanc, and then journeyed to Eastern Michigan University to notch their fourth consecutive class C-D State Tennis Championship.

"I am extremely proud of our entire team," Coach George Andrews said. "They deserve special recognition for their dedication and teamwork all season long."

The Lady Knights started their week by nipping the perennially powerful Class A Blue Devils, 4-3, in a tense, hard-fought match. The Lady Knights' first point and most decisive victory was registered by power hitting No. 2 singles phenomenon Leslie Mackey. Trailing three matches to one, ULS rallied to win the final three to stretch its streak to 10 consecutive dual meet victories. Captain Windy White and Maria Rodriguez, the No. 1 doubles team, notched ULS' second point as they made a thrilling comeback to win, 6-2, 6-6, 8-6. No. 3 singles player Charu Nautiyal, then tied the match at three apiece as she too staged a superb come-from-behind win, 6-7, 6-4, 6-3. The final and deciding match was the No. 4 singles as freshman Amina Ali displayed courage and poise as she battled back to register the winning point, 5-7, 6-0, 6-1.

The University Liggett School boys' soccer team played the second game in its Class B-C regional tournament Oct. 17, and Coach Dave Backhurst's Knights defeated Royal Oak Shrine, 4-0.

The Knights led 1-0 at the half on a goal by Walter Connolly, as he neatly placed the ball into the upper corner of the net.

The Knights erupted for three goals in the second half. Rick Roberts came off the bench to score two goals, with fullback Dan Bowen and halfback John Birgbauer collecting the assists. John Birgbauer scored the Knights' other goal, with Rob Wood getting the assist. The Knights' goalkeeper Jeff Lucas collected his fifth shutout of the season. Lucas had defensive help from fullbacks Dan Bowen, Kirk Haggarty, Jamie McMillan and Harold Colby. With this win, the Knights advanced into the third round of the regional tournament.

On Oct. 18 the Knights were narrowly defeated by Grosse Pointe North, 2-1, in a regular season game. The Knights' lone goal was scored by Connolly, with Roberts getting the assist. Marc Tirikian scored both of North's goals. The game was a hard fought defensive battle between the two Grosse Pointe teams.

On Oct. 21 the Knights team played one of the best and most exciting games of their season as they defeated skilled Bishop Foley, 2-1, in overtime. Bishop Foley had previously beaten Hamtramck.

The Knights came from behind with only 2:30 left in the game to tie Foley. One of Foley's players had been ejected with about three minutes left in regulation play and the Knights capitalized on their one-man advantage when Roberts put the ball in the net after a throw-in from Harold Colby. With the game tied 1-1, the two teams had to play a 10-minute overtime, consisting of two five-minute halves. After the first half, the score was still 1-1. The win was secured in the second half, when left winger Johannes Homan tallied on a pass from Roberts.

The Knights' performance was highlighted by some aggressive defensive play by "scrubs" Bowen, Haggarty, Colby and McMillan. Jeff Lucas played his

"This was definitely our finest performance of the year," stated Coach Andrews, "and I was especially pleased with the desire and determination of our players. Their concentration was fantastic!"

ULS completed its unbeaten season by shutting out another Class A opponent, Grand Blanc, 7-0, Oct. 18. The six sensational seniors closed out their careers by leading the Lady Knights' charge. The dynamic duo of Paula Mighion and Mackey won handily at No. 1 and No. 2 singles. Windy White and Jenny Peck pulverized their opposition at No. 1 doubles. Laurie and Merritt Lauren were dazzling in their 6-4, 6-7, 8-0 victory.

ULS closed out the busy final week by spending Oct. 21-22 in Ypsilanti at Eastern Michigan University. Team depth proved to be the deciding factor as the Lady Knights' clinched the Class C-D State Championship over a strong Kalamazoo Hackett team. ULS was in the finals of all seven flights, and emerged victorious in four events and runner-up in the other three.

Paula Mighion, who has played the No. 1 singles position for her four years in high school, saved her most sensational performances for the state championship. Mighion's semi-final opponent, Ruby Olegario from Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard, had defeated her in last year's final, but Michigan was not to be denied this year as she battled her way to a close victory, 7-6, 6-1. In the finals Mighion faced the No. 1 seeded player, Happy Ho from Ann Arbor Greenhills. Mighion's cool-headed consistency and dogged determination enabled her to dominate the hapless Ho, 7-6, 6-0, and clinch her well-deserved state crown.

Other state champions for ULS were Mackey at No. 2 singles, Nautiyal, No. 3 singles, and the No. 3 doubles team of Paula Rodriguez and Marie Ali. Mackey continued her amazing streak of super tennis as she wore down her opponents with her deep, driving groundstrokes and aggressive play. Mackey handily defeated Julie Sullivan from Kalamazoo Hackett in the finals, 6-1, 6-1.

Nautiyal produced the most thrilling victory for the Lady Knights in her semi-final contest against Kalamazoo Hackett's Isabell Lange. After splitting the first two sets, Nautiyal trailed, 6-5, in the crucial final set. She refused to give in and her finely-angled crosscourt shots and all-court coverage produced three straight games and a 7-5, 2-6, 8-6 victory. Rodriguez and Ali were the final winners for ULS. Rodriguez's crisp volleys and Ali's deep top-spin forehand kept their opponents confused throughout the match as they won convincingly, 6-0, 6-1. Rodriguez and Ali came together as a team in the state tournament, and lost a total of only seven games in their three matches.

ULS closed out its season with an undefeated record and a fourth consecutive state title in Class C-D.

most spectacular game in goal of the season. Lucas turned away a barrage of Bishop Foley shots as he played a virtually flawless game.

Coach Backhurst commented after the game, "It was a tremendously courageous game. The fan support, even from players on North's soccer team, was a major factor in allowing us to come back to tie and then to win in the overtime."

ULS advances to the Class B-C regional semifinal on Wednesday, Oct. 26. The regional finals will be on Saturday, Oct. 29. State final is scheduled Saturday, Nov. 5.

Gridders win

The ULS football Knights picked up their first win of the season last week, beating Ubly High School, 20-0. Coach Chet Janiga's team, playing in front of a home crowd, came prepared with an arsenal of new plays and defensive strategies.

ULS, aided by Saturday's rain, caused three turnovers in the first period. The first, a fumble recovered by Colin Barr, sparked a ULS scoring drive that ended with a five-yard touchdown run by tailback Steve Georgi. The Knights capitalized on another fumble on Ubly's next possession, and scored with a three-yard touchdown run by Georgi.

The third scoring drive occurred midway through the second quarter. After having a touchdown revoked on a holding call, the Knights tallied on a 12-yard pass to Georgi from quarterback Tom Gifto. Georgi also ran the ball in for the two-point conversion. Altogether, Georgi gained 128 yards rushing and two pass receptions for 17 yards.

The ULS defense held Ubly to only 67 yards total offense. Leading players were defensive end Alan Carter and linebackers Andrew Ottaway and Tom Gifto.

The Knights hope to keep some momentum for their final game. They will play Friday, Oct. 28 at home against Baptist Academy at 4 p.m.

A field hockey win

ULS' varsity field hockey team beat its arch rival Academy of the Sacred Heart, 4-1, Oct. 21.

Title talk . . .

Teams from University Liggett and Grosse Pointe South each captured girls' state tennis championships last weekend; South earning a Class A title, ULS, a Class C-D crown. Here's what the champs had to say:

"The most important thing is that we really jelled as a team. We are a diverse group, age-wise and interest-wise, but when it came right down to it, we came together as a team." — George Andrews, ULS coach.

"This year's squad was similar to the one the first year we won it. We're not as strong up on top as we have been . . . this was really a team effort." — Stephanie Prychitko, South coach.

"The hardest part about the states was being in Class C-D. People think that it's all easy, that you'll beat everybody in Class C-D. But there really is a lot of competition. It was tough." — Windy White, captain of the ULS team.

"They just did a great job . . . super." — Andrews.

They won only one individual title — a No. 2 doubles crown — but the performances in every other flight were good enough to give South's girls' varsity tennis team sole possession of the Class A state tennis title at Midland last week.

South, ranked No. 2 in the Michigan State High School Tennis Coaches Association poll, grabbed the No. 1 spot in the state finals. It marked the eighth straight year coach Stephanie Prychitko's squad has won or tied for the state title. Last year, South tied with Birmingham Seaholm for the top spot.

"It was a real team effort. We had only one winner on the final day and we had to depend on those important points we'd racked up. There were a lot of good teams and it was awfully tough to get points this year," Prychitko said Monday.

South had scored 20 out of 21 possible points on Friday, the first day of the finals, garnering only five of its title-winning 25 points in the last day of competition. Bloomfield Hills Lahser finished second in the team standings with 24 points; Portage Northern was third with 20 points. Fourth place Birmingham Marian had 17 points and Bloomfield Hills Andover had 15 points in the two-day event.

Laura Gushee and Amy Leverenz won the No. 2 doubles flight, after coming back from a 5-0 deficit. Elizabeth Petersen and Stephanie Schulte lost out in No. 1 doubles to Sue Killman and Heidi Theon of Portage Northern, 3-6, 6-0, 6-0.

"I was worried all the time because the matches were so close," Prychitko said. "We were rated No. 2 in the state behind Lahser and Lahser was rated No. 1 because of their top four singles. They got 19 of their 24 points right there. We distributed ours right down the line."

"The girls were really excited with the win. And I was very pleased with the team effort. After a girl would lose, she would get right out there and cheer on someone else. It was great. And it was nice to see that each player had at least one parent there cheering for her. I don't think we've had that before and that was nice to see," Prychitko said.

Swim Club opens year

Head coach Scott Teeters and assistant coach Liz Stavale took the Grosse Pointe Swim Club to the first meet of the Michigan U.S. Swimming season. Some 35 swimmers represented the Pointes at the Birmingham-Bloomfield Atlantis A-B meet at Lahser High in Bloomfield Hills.

The 11 and 12 year-olds spearheaded the club's efforts. Katie Young finished first in four "A" events (26.33 — 50 free; 1:08.92 — 100 IM; 1:08.87 — 100 fly; 59:30 — 100 free) and took second, third and fourth in the 50 breast, 500 free and 50 back events.

Kathy Kish took first in the A 50 back (32.28), second in the 500 free, third in the 100 IM, 100 fly and 100 free, and fourth in the 50 free. Others scoring were Heather Selig (fourth in the B 100 free); Deanna Butler (sixth in the A 100 fly and seventh in the 100 IM); GERALYN Bocci (fifth in the "B" 100 free and seventh in the 50 free); and Heidi Mader (sixth in the A 50 back and seventh in the B 100 fly). Butler, Kish, Selig and Young also combined to finish first in the 200 free and medley relays.

The area's 11 and 12 year-old boys were led by Cameron Maynard, who scored a second in the B 100 fly; fourth in the A 50 breast, fifth in the A 50 back and seventh in the A 100 IM. Eric Schmidt won ribbons in the B 100 free and the 100 fly and IM. John Cartwright took second place medals in the B 100 IM and 500 free.

SEMCOG launches car pool network

For the first time, the general public in southeast Michigan can take advantage of a computerized ridesharing service that can help them save up to $1,000 or more a year by matching them with car or vanpooling partners.

RideShare, a free service of SEMCOG, the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, previously worked only with companies to match people interested in sharing a ride to work.

A commuter who drives 40 miles roundtrip can save more than $1,000 a year by joining a four-person carpool or a 15-passenger vanpool, and almost $800 by sharing the ride with just one other person.

Commuters who drive longer distances can save even more by ridesharing. By joining a car or vanpool a commuter who drives 80 miles roundtrip to and from work daily can save almost $3,000 annually.

The most economical commuting option RideShare offers is to become a vanpool driver. Drivers of the 12 or 15 passenger vans ride free and have use of the vans evenings and weekends. In return, they collect fares and work with RideShare to find and maintain the minimum number of passengers.

GPHS '53 class plans reunion

The class of June, 1953 of Grosse Pointe High School is holding a 30-year reunion on Friday, Nov. 25, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club on Cook Road. Cocktails will start at 6:30 p.m. followed by dinner and dancing to the music of Ken Koenig.

The price will be $45 a couple or $22.50 per person. Paid reservations must be in by Nov. 1.

Organizers have been unable to locate many members of this class, so if you have information on any of them or want to make a reservation, call Gloria Hartmann, 886-3129, or Ann Parcels at 886-9364.

Eating disorder talk rescheduled

The second lecture on eating disorders offered by the South Mother's Club originally scheduled for Nov. 4, has been rescheduled for Friday, Nov. 18, at 1 p.m. at 220 Touraine.

"Treating Compulsive Eating Disorders: From a Doctor's Point of View" is the second of a two-part series on anorexia nervosa and bulimia offered by the Mother's Club as part of its En Garde; Target Timely Topics series.

The lecture will feature Dr. Cal Worrell who will discuss the symptoms of the diseases and the victims, who can include men and adult women as well as teenage girls. Diagnosis and treatment are also discussed.

Dr. York tells how to manage stress

"For most of us stress is here to stay. The key to leading a productive life, is to keep stress at a manageable level." Those comments were made by Jonathon L. York, consultant to business and industry, when he spoke to the Junior League of Detroit earlier this month at the Detroit Boat Club. Dr. York, director of the Northeast Guidance Center, gave an overview of stress and listed ways people can cope with stress.

"Our bodies can tell us when we are under too much stress. In definition, stress is the body's non-specific response to any demand to which one must adapt, adjust or respond. High blood pressure, ulcers, over use of alcohol, irritability and difficulty concentrating are some of the ways our bodies manifest too much stress," he said.

"Proper nutrition, exercise which fits your lifestyle and planned relaxation are ways of managing stress."

"We can further keep stress at a manageable level by recognizing and responding to the stress (factors) in our lives."

Free installation for Cable Christmas

Grosse Pointe Cable and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial have teamed up to produce a holiday special of interest to all in the community.

A "Historic Walking Tour of the War Memorial" narrated by Mark Weber, will take viewers on a video presentation of the beautiful institution, its trappings and its history.

Those with cable service may view this event on Cable Channel 17 at 8 p.m. Dec. 27. For those who don't presently have cable service but wish to see this program, Grosse Pointe Cable is offering free installation for three days only, Nov. 1, 2 and 3. Order on one of these days to insure your installation in time for this cable exclusive.

In addition to saving money, car and vanpoolers reduce or end the hassle of driving and fighting rush-hour traffic; conserve energy; and help reduce traffic congestion and costly highway deterioration.

Commuters interested in ridesharing should call RideShare's new phone number, 963-RIDE, to have their names added to the data base of potential ridesharers. Within three or four days they will receive a matchlist of names of others interested in car or vanpooling who share similar work hours, destinations, and home locations, who they call up to arrange to start sharing the ride. Nine or more riders are needed to form a vanpool and receive a fully insured passenger van from MichiVan, a vanpooling program sponsored by the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT).

Since its 1980 inception, RideShare has distributed almost 14,000 matchlists to employees interested in finding ridesharing partners. In three-and-a-half years, matchlists distributed through employer programs have generated 2,485 carpools carrying 7,200 commuters. In addition, more than 2,000 commuters currently ride to work in the 200 vanpools operating in SEMCOG's seven-county region.

The decision to expand RideShare's scope to encompass general public matching and reach even more commuters is a timely one. Transportation experts believe that ridesharing will continue to increase because of our society's propensity for low-density living and the difficulty of funding transit. In Southeast Michigan, over 213,000 — 16.8 percent — of all 1980 work trips were made by car or vanpool, which indicates that ridesharing is already an acceptable commuting mode for a sizable portion of the population.

Nationally, 16 million people carpool or vanpool, saving the U.S. 14 million gallons of gasoline per day, or 3.5 billion gallons per year. But more than 52 million Americans still drive alone — 150 million empty seats representing a huge unused transportation resource.

However, ridesharing programs nationwide are having an impact. In Southeast Michigan, over 50 million vehicle miles have been saved by existing car and vanpools since 1980, which means reduced traffic congestion and highway deterioration. Vanpools alone have conserved over 700,000 gallons of gasoline, with all Southeast Michigan ridesharing commuters conserving almost 3.5 million gallons, at a savings of more than $4 million, since 1980.

Other benefits or ridesharing for the region: by removing vehicles from the roads, car and vanpools have reduced air pollutants by a total of 2,123 tons since 1980, and prevented an estimated 302 accidents and 100 injuries.
