Food fight!

Once again, it looks like Grosse Pointe will be represented in the upcoming 12th Annual Hospitality Industry Culinary Arts Salon slated for Sunday and Monday, April 14-15, in Cobo Hall.

At the salon, which is a competition for chefs, more than 100 platters and buffets of the finest cold food, hot food and pastries will be displayed by professional chefs and apprentices from around the Great Lakes area. Judges for the competition will include Chef Jeff Gabriel of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Also showing his stuff as a contestant will be Robin D. Robinson, of the Lochmoor Country Club and displaying as part of an independent restaurant team will be William Wolf, of Sparky Herbert's.

The public is invited to view the entries on Sunday from noon until 6 p.m. and Monday, from noon to 8 p.m. Admission is $3—a small price to pay for mouth-watering beauty.

Food fight II

Speaking of food, as we were, be sure to make it to the 7th Annual Fine Foods Festival at Hart Plaza on Friday-Sunday, May 3-5. Called a "Taste of Detroit," the festival runs from noon until 11 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and from noon until 10 p.m. on Sunday.

Twenty-six restaurants, including the Holly Hotel, Brothers Bar-B-Q, Hogan's Honey Chicken, and more will be offering sample-sized portions of their house specialties at equally sample-sized prices.

The festival will also offer performances by popular Detroit jazz singers, puppeteers and rock bands throughout the weekend in the Hart Plaza amphitheater.

Admission is free.

Rabbit food

Enough about food already. Let's talk about candy. The Easter Bunny will be making two local public appearances this weekend, according to my sources.

On Friday and Saturday, April 5-6, a 7-foot-tall bunny will be handing out candy to the kiddies outside the Village Locksmith shop, 18554 Mack, from 3 to 6 p.m. on Friday and from noon until 3 p.m. on Saturday.

Then, the Easter Bunny, or one of his helpers, will also be bouncing around the Hill on Saturday, April 6, from noon til 4 p.m., passing out even more candy and balloons to the kiddies, who might be confused by the sudden appearance of all these rabbits.

Who cares, as long as everyone has a good time.

Food for the soul

Grosse Pointe funnyman Gary Thison is at it again. When he's not busy writing jokes for Joan Rivers, Thison can be seen running amuck on his comedy program "Some Semblance of Sanity" on Grosse Pointe Cable's Channel 6.

"SSOS," which debuted in our area last summer, delights in riding a few sacred cows, with the help of many of the country's funniest young comedians.

Incidentally, if you can't wait to catch Gary's program, you can find him table-hopping Friday and Saturday evenings at the Farms newest eatery, ZaPaul's, convulsing diners with a truly funny display of comedy and magic.

He'll make your blues disappear.

Young authors celebrate reading, writing

By Mike Andrzejczyk

It looked like a typical school day at Kerby Elementary School.

Farms police officers guarded the crosswalks while parents dropped their children off or walked with them to the school. Once inside, the children hung up their coats and went to the gym for a short assembly. Afterward, they were off to class.

It would have been a typical school day at Kerby, if it hadn't been Saturday.

Almost 300 children from eight of the nine public elementary schools took part in the district's Second Annual Young Authors' Conference Saturday morning. The kindergarten through fifth-graders were chosen by faculty and principals at the buildings to take part in the half-day of programs and workshops.

Principals from the eight elementary schools have worked since November to put together the roster of presenters and guest speaker, according to Leo Warras, principal at host school Kerby. The planning, preparation and cooperation among the building administrators helped make the conference successful, he added.

The program was a "celebration of writing and reading," elementary curriculum director Alfrieda Frost said. This second conference was even better than last year's, giving the children a chance to experience the "excitement of enrichment in those areas," she added.

Monteith Principal Joan Robie Kubista told the assembled students that the conference was "a celebration of the wonderful things you have done this year in writing."

The morning assembly included a presentation by Monteith parent Michael Mauer and The Marvelous Music Machine. Mauer, with his spring puppet Rocky, spent 20 minutes telling stories and making music, getting students ready to "think about things differently than you have before."

"Things don't have to work the way they always seem to work," he told the children. "That's what today is all about. We want you to think about things differently today... Leaves don't always have to be green and snakes can be purple with pink spots and a great big grin."

Students were sent to the first of two sessions they had chosen to attend. Twenty-six presenters, including prize-winning Detroit News editorial cartoonist Draper

Hill, were ready to give the children programs on a variety of subjects, including choral reading, editing, word processing, story telling, poetry and journalism.

Blaine Morrow, chief of children's services at the Central Library, used a mixture of American folk songs and "tall tales" to help his charges understand how tall tales developed.

Morrow said he uses folk tales, such as John Henry and Paul Bunyon, to show students the parts to a tall tale and then get them to think about the stories in modern terms.

"You have to entertain as well as teach," he said, adding he wasn't sure how many ideas actually ended up on paper, but the students were quick to modernize the stories. One of the more offbeat adaptations of the John Henry story Morrow said he had heard about was the man who could brush his teeth faster than an electric toothbrush.

There was as much entertaining as educating going on in a number of workshops. George Panarites read his students "Just So" stories by Rudyard Kipling before they began creating their own story, a sentence at a time, using "Once upon a time" as the opening.

Music was an important part of other programs as well. Paula DeCarlo led her students through "When I See An Elephant Fly" as a way of teaching them about idioms in music. Mauer helped his students understand rhythm, melody and lyrics before helping them through creation of an original song.

Nuts-and-bolts presentations included Ed McKeehan's program on word processing in which, with the help of a Storytell program, he showed his students the basics of use of a computer keyboard.

First liquor hearing scheduled by City

By Pat Paholsky

A public hearing of Jacobson's request for a tavern license, allowing it to serve beer and wine in its restaurant, is set for Monday, April 15, during the regularly scheduled Grosse Pointe City Council meeting.

It will be the first such hearing in a city that recently ended a 65-year prohibition against liquor sales in restaurants. Voters in November approved lifting the ban.

Based on population, the city is allotted a total of four licenses. They can be either tavern, allowing the sale of beer and wine, or Class C, which permits the sale of liquor by the glass as well as beer and wine.

City Manager Thomas Kressbach said council members will have a number of options open to them following the Jacobson hearing. They can postpone action until another meeting, ask for more information, grant conditional approval, approve the request, reject it or take any other action it deems appropriate.

The hearing follows an investigation of the business by local officials. The building, its plan for serving alcoholic beverages, the financing of the operation and adherence to fire regulations are some of the criteria used in the local investigation, including a check by police officials.

According to an ordinance adopted in December that regulates the issuance of liquor licenses, food revenues must comprise at least 60 percent of all gross sales. Also, alcoholic beverages can be served only at tables and not over a bar.

If the request is approved, the application will be sent to the state where the Liquor Control Commission will undertake its own investigation. This process takes between three to four months, Kressbach said.

For the first phase of the investigation, the applicant pays $1,500. If the request is sent to the state, another $1,000 must be paid to complete the process.

Thus far, two other restaurants have made formal application—the Merry Mouse's Cafe le Chat and the Clairpointe. Both are seeking Class C licenses and both are still in the process of local review, Kressbach said. He added that public hearings for them will follow, but he didn't know when.

Another restaurant, the Ram's Horn, will be applying for a Class C license soon, according to co-owner Steve Scandalis.

Cities may lose federal revenue sharing

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Local communities could lose as much as $222,000 in operating revenue if Congress eliminates federal revenue sharing programs.

City managers and finance officers in the Pointes say that loss will be cushioned somewhat by the way the cities use federal dollars.

While the Senate Budget Committee continues its work on the fiscal 1986 federal budget that will take effect in October, local officials are putting together their budgets for the same fiscal year.

President Ronald Reagan recommended in his fiscal 1986 budget that the $4.6 billion revenue sharing program be eliminated. The Senate has proposed some options to outright cut-off of the funds, according to Michigan Municipal League Executive Director George Goodman.

Two proposals include continuing the funding for fiscal 1986 and eliminating the program in 1987, Goodman said. Another option is to cut the program's funding in half in fiscal 1986 and eliminate it the next year, he added.

Sixty percent of the respondents to an MML survey said they use the federal revenue sharing dollars for police and public safety purposes, Goodman said. Elimination of those funds could adversely affect those communities' ability to protect residents, he added.

Budget cuts endanger fund

Locally, only the Shores uses its funds to supplement its public safety budget. The village's $14,500 projected receipt of revenue sharing will go to pay a portion of a salary for a public safety officer, according to village Superintendent Michael Kenyon.

Losing the federal money won't hurt the village a great deal, but will force it to cover the loss using funds allocated for other purposes, Kenyon said.

With a fiscal year that runs April to March, the village must have a preliminary budget adopted by the end of March to comply with state law. That document was submitted to trustees March 26 and now goes to the finance committee for review before the Shores sets its tax rate in June.

The preliminary budget calls for $2.87 million in expenditures balanced by revenues, almost $180,000 more than last year. As a first budget, it contains a number of items the council may decide to eliminate, Kenyon said. Trustees will probably adopt a tax levy very close to last year's, he added.

The Farms uses its $40,000 in federal revenue sharing dollars to pay part of the street lighting bill, Comptroller Carrol Locke said. The loss of the funds won't cripple the city, but it will have to raise the money from somewhere else, he added.

In developing next year's budget, the city anticipates receiving half the current revenue sharing total, Locke said. The rough-draft budget will be ready for the council in mid-April, he added.

Grosse Pointe Park, which in the past used revenue sharing to pay part of the street lighting bill, has shifted it instead to the public works heavy equipment fund, City Manager John Crawford said. The money is now used to purchase equipment like back hoes for the department, he added.

If the city doesn't receive federal funds, it can put off the purchase of some equipment, Crawford said. However, should the council decide that certain equipment is needed, it may adjust the millage rate to make up the difference, he added.

The Park received about $66,000 in general revenue sharing, which translates to about one-third of a mill, Crawford said. Increasing the property tax rate by 35 cents on each $1,000 of state equalized value will make up the loss, he added. That decision is up to the city council, Crawford said.

The Park is anticipating it will receive half its current revenue sharing total next year, Crawford

Correction

Last week's story on the liquor license request by the War Memorial erroneously stated that Mrs. Fred Alger, one of the persons who signed a petition against the bid, was the daughter of Russell Alger Jr. who built the mansion. Mrs. Alger in fact was a sister-in-law. We are sorry for the error.

Winds wash debris onto Lakeshore; road closed

This was the scene along Lakeshore Drive Monday as Wayne County work crews cleaned up truckloads of debris thrown on shore after weekend winds whipped Lake St. Clair into a fury. Workers reported finding numerous dead fish and ducks littering the sidewalk along Lakeshore near Provencal. This giant log, estimated at about 40 feet, bobbed ashore south of the Farms Pier Park. Lakeshore was closed for about 24 hours starting Sunday morning from Fisher Road to Provencal, reported the Farms police. Park officials said that Bishop, Edgemont Park and Grand Marais were flooded, while the City received one complaint of a flooded basement. Shores Director of Public Safety Joseph Vitale said his city was fortunate that no homes were damaged by the large amounts of debris that washed ashore.

Officers promoted

Two Shores public safety officers were promoted recently. C. Bradford Lundy Jr., president pro tem of the village council, recognized the men at the March 26 meeting. Gary Mitchell has been promoted from patrolman to corporal, according to Joseph Vitale, public safety director. "Mitchell started with the department in 1970 and has been an outstanding officer in the youth bureau for a number of years," he said. "It was a well-deserved promotion." Daniel Fronczak, who joined the department in 1963 and has been a corporal since 1970, was promoted to sergeant. "He's been an outstanding officer and I'm happy to see him get promoted," Vitale said.

Some real student aid

The contest pitted the seniors and freshmen of South High School against the sophomores and juniors, but the real winners were the people of Ethiopia. The students at South raised $1,200 to aid in famine relief for the drought-stricken country. Students from all levels manned booths throughout the school and collected from their classmates, and also received a $500 donation from the National Honor Society. Members of the organizing committee included: front row, from left, Ralph Dor-Ghall, Jeff Johnston, Dick Clarke and Bill Gryzenia; back row, from left Marcia Kurup, Assistant Principal Bernard LeMieux, Elizabeth Barton, Margaret Eckel, Ici Ollison and Mary King. The money will be turned over to the South Mothers Club, which in turn will donate it to the United Nations through UNICEF. Oh yes, the winners. The mighty seniors and fabulous freshmen, of course.

Cable pays 1984 franchise fees to cities

Grosse Pointe Cable recently paid its 1984 franchise tax fees, totaling $127,155, to the five cities it serves. The fees paid to the five cities served by the franchise were: Grosse Pointe Woods, $37,729; Harper Woods, $27,753; Grosse Pointe Park, $26,930; Grosse Pointe Farms, $21,836; and Grosse Pointe City, $12,907. Grosse Pointe Cable General Manager Michael DuFour said the franchise fee payments were 32 percent more than those paid for the same period last year. DuFour also announced the beginning of an intense anti-theft campaign. An outside security firm has been hired and will be checking all addresses in the system for unauthorized connections and tampered converters. Part of the campaign includes an amnesty period during which no legal action will be taken against persons voluntarily returning tampered converters, he said.

"Theft of service is a crime that hurts not only the cable company, but also the cities because of lost franchise fee payments," DuFour said. "We will seek the assistance of local law enforcement agencies to help us combat this crime."

Park joins fight against compulsory arbitration act

By Pat Paholsky

The Park city council agreed to lend financial support to a coalition of cities and counties that has formed to get the Legislature to repeal or reform Public Act 312.

Known as compulsory arbitration, the law provides for an arbitrator to settle a union contract between a municipality and its police or fire department when negotiations break down.

The act has consistently favored unions and worked to the detriment of municipalities, City Manager John Crawford said.

"The more awards arbitrators award in favor of unions, the more disputes they are asked to settle," he said, adding that as a result, arbitrators ensure their continued employment by favoring unions.

Organizers of the coalition include the top officials of Detroit, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Dearborn, Royal Oak, Oakland County and the Michigan Municipal League, which has agreed to handle the escrow account.

The league's executive director, George Goodman, said positive responses to the group's request for financial support have just started to come in.

"There's a lot of support, I know, just on the basis of the problems the cities have been experiencing," he said, adding that it will take another week or two before they know what type of support they can count on.

The group estimates that efforts to repeal or reform P.A. 312 will cost between $100,000 to $125,000 a year and may take two years to achieve. They hope to effect a change through a public and legislative educational campaign that will include research, lobbying and political action.

The cost to each city to join the coalition is based on population, and according to the proposed formula, Grosse Pointe Park would pay $3,000 a year. The Park council, however, approved sending $1,000 since the city is on the low end of the population scale.

Mayor Palmer Heenan called P.A. 312 "a welfare bill for arbitrators."

"They come down on the city and we have to pay the bills and I'm very upset about it," he said. "I hope someone can bring reforms in. I think we have to have something better than a monopoly on one side."

A resident asked Heenan that if the act were repealed, "is the council going to drag its feet with policemen or firemen and let them go for months and months? What protection will they have? What alternative do they have except to strike?"

The current procedure is not a "two-way street" anymore, Heenan said. "The fun thing is to go to arbitration."

P.A. 312 was enacted in 1969 to prevent possible strikes by police or fire personnel. Under the act, when a union is about to enter contract negotiations, it notifies the state Labor Department that a mediator will be required if the talks reach an impasse.

If the talks break down, a mediator steps in and attempts to get both sides to compromise. If the mediator is not successful, then the matter is referred to an arbitrator who reviews testimony from both sides and makes a decision. That decision cannot be a compromise between what the city is offering and what the union is seeking, Crawford said.

"The arbitrator has to decide in favor of either side," he said, adding that the process is costly.

"It's like a courtroom proceeding with a court reporter recording everything. It costs more than $100 a day just for the arbitrator," he said.

A recent arbitration panel involving Park firefighters took three to four months, Crawford said. The cost of the hearing is split between the city, union and state.

The decision of the arbitrator is binding on both sides, however, Crawford said he has not yet signed the firefighters' contract, because "we still have not agreed on the interpretation."

The union was awarded a 4 percent increase for last year and 6 percent this year. Despite the fact that new contract talks begin this month or next, the firefighters have yet to see any of the increase.

Fire Chief Phillip Costa said he believed there could be some changes made in the act concerning the arbitrator.

"(The law) should be moderated in some way where the arbitrator has some insight to the city's problems," he said. "To have an arbitrator come in who doesn't know the city's problems or finances, and just to make an award that the union shall not get this and the city shall not get that" is unrealistic, Costa said.

"Basically the act is good. I don't think it should be abolished. I don't believe in strikes for police or firemen and I believe there should be some kind of bargaining method."

Police Officer Jerry Kolakowski, who is the vice president of the police union, said, "It's our only means of bargaining. If we would lose it, we could only hope to bargain in good faith."

He added: "I would not foresee a strike or the blue flu. We have a good rapport with all of the citizens and we would not hamper services to our residents."

The police contract expires July 1, 1986.

Local legislators talk about tax amnesty

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Local legislators say they expect Gov. James Blanchard's administration to propose a tax amnesty program soon, but split on support for the idea of a grace period for paying delinquent taxes.

State Rep. William R. Bryant Jr., R-Grosse Pointe Farms, and State Sen. John Kelly, D-Detroit, whose First District includes the Pointes, say they expect the governor's administration to propose an amnesty program as part of a package of tax-related items.

Bryant now has a bill before the House Taxation Committee that would set amnesty period guidelines. This is the second year he has introduced the legislation.

"We've just come out of a deep recession where some decent people who normally pay their taxes on time may have found themselves unable to do so," Bryant said. Such a program in Michigan could raise between $90 million and $120 million, depending on whose estimates are used, he added.

Kelly called the idea of a tax amnesty "repugnant."

"Many people pay their tax on time every year. When they make a mistake, they get slapped with a penalty. That's the law," he said. "Now we'll be saying to the scofflaws, those who intentionally violate those laws that they won't face the penalties."

Were the administration to propose the program be put in place by statute, the most likely vehicle to do it would be Bryant's bill. The governor does have the power to put the program in place through executive order, however.

All taxes would be covered under Bryant's proposed amnesty program, including sales and use, single business and income taxes. Any taxpayer not being investigated, audited or facing prosecution would be eligible to pay any amount they owed in full during the three-month grace period without penalty.

The penalty for unpaid business and income taxes is 5 percent of the amount owed a month, plus 9 percent interest.

While the penalty would be lifted, delinquent taxpayers would still have to pay interest on the back taxes unless waived after review, Bryant said.

The program would last three months, most likely November to January, Bryant said. That would give taxpayers a choice of which year to pay the taxes to get the most benefit on the federal tax return, he added.

While three months is generally considered adequate for the amnesty, a great deal of "lead time" is necessary, Bryant said.

Besides publicizing the amnesty period, the state will need to warn taxpayers about penalties of non-payment if they don't take advantage of the program, he said. Amnesty should be followed by a period of heightened enforcement as well, he added.

"We are in the process of increasing enforcement now anyway," Bryant said. The state has added computers to help collect delinquent taxes.

While state collection of taxes is still very good, reportedly in mid-90 percent range, "we are still at a point where we know that when we hire that next auditor, he can bring in a good deal of money," Bryant said.

The money collected in the amnesty program should be used for a one-time expenditure, like construction of new state prisons and not put into the general fund, Bryant said. The collection from the tax amnesty will probably be used to help offset the loss of revenue from the anticipated roll-back of state income taxes, which still is a one-time cost, he added.

Both legislators say they expect the administration to propose a variety of tax-related items, including endorsement of a full roll-back of the state income tax before the October 1987 target date and other ways to tighten some holes in the tax program.

Whatever comes, the governor should find a way to involve the Legislature in the process, Kelly said.

"The program should be proposed in such a way that allows the Legislature to modify and involve itself in the process without being cast in the role of opposition," he said, adding the program shouldn't be allowed to become a chance for Republicans in the Legislature to continue their political posturing.

"They're opposing all the tax programs, but they're the ones spending all the money now," he added.

While some court decisions have clouded the budget picture recently, the state should have the questions settled within the next two to three weeks and be ready to go ahead with a tax amnesty program, Bryant added.

Young Republicans plan annual trip

The 19th annual Kentucky Derby trip, sponsored by the Detroit Young Republican Club, is set for May 3-5.

Cost of the trip is $117 per person, double occupancy, and includes: round-trip bus transportation from Detroit to Louisville, two nights accommodations at the Radisson Inn/Cincinnati, Friday night dinner aboard the bus, plus beer, wine and pop throughout the trip.

Other highlights of the weekend include a Friday night pool party upon arrival in Cincinnati, and a festive Saturday night Hospitality Suite. Paid reservations are required by April 18.

For more information, call Joanne at 362-3384 or Diane at 881-3411.

The club is a multi-faceted organization with activities geared toward social, civic and community interests, as well as political affairs, for men and women age 21 to 40.

Easter eggs

Veselych Sviati Chrystos Voskres! Happy Easter and Christ is Risen are the traditional Ukrainian greetings during the Easter season. That's the message Martha Wichorek is extending to her eight-year-old grandson, Nikolas Trenowski by presenting him with a gift of pysanky. Pysanky, intricately hand-designed Easter eggs, is an ancient art that has become increasingly popular throughout America. Mrs. Wichorek, who has been teaching the unique art of painting eggs at the War Memorial for 27 years, says that every design on the eggs is symbolic and that many Ukrainian women collect pysanky as Americans would collect fine china. See the Community Events calendar for more information about the class.

Youth Enrichment program begins its classes in April

The spring and summer Youth Enrichment program scheduled by the Department of Community Education of the Grosse Pointe Public School System contains 22 new offerings for pre-school to high-school-age students.

Six Youth Enrichment offerings are slated to begin in April. New are two six-week classes beginning Thursday, April 25. They are Social Dancing: Basics for Middle School Students and Social Dancing: Basics for High School Students.

Also new in the spring is a class in Pottery for Children (and Parents) co-sponsored with the Pewabic Society, Inc.

Other spring offerings are Piano II (ages 8-10) and Piano III (ages 4-5) which are continuations of the winter classes offered for beginners. Also in the schedule are Aggressive Study Skills for Middle School Students and Power Boating: Student Safety Certificate.

During the early summer immediately following the end of classes in public schools, Community Education has planned a variety of activities for children and youth. Among them are 12 new-for-summer offerings.

Included in the roster are Sewing for Kids, Cooking for Kids I, Counted Cross-Stitch for Kids, Liquid Embroidery, Arts and Crafts for Kids, Pre-School Story Hour, Pre-School Arts and Crafts and Tennis.

Others are Creative Dramatics, Track, Tasty Alternatives to Junk-Food Snacks, Pizza with Whole Wheat Flour, Baked Goods with Whole Wheat Flour and without Sugar, Cooking for Kids II and Introduction to Dance.

The third session of activities for children and youth has been scheduled for the period July 29 to Aug. 9, following the regular summer classes of the school system.

Among the 15 mid-summer offerings are Food Processor Cookery for Kids, Introduction to Dance, Jazz Dance, Learn to Dance, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Junior Great Books: An Introduction

Puppet-Making for Kids, Needlepoint for Kids, Knitting for Kids, Art Appreciation and Creative Dramatics II.

Full information on the spring and summer Youth Enrichment program of the Department of Community Education will be found in the flyer to be delivered to all residences in the school district this week.

Mack Avenue USA kicks off fundraising for fireworks

The Grosse Pointe Business and Professional Association of Mack Avenue, Inc. kicked off its fundraising for Mack Avenue USA, the association's second outdoor concert and fireworks display, with a luncheon at the Lochmoor Club last week.

This year's program of fireworks preceded by a concert by the St. Clair Shores Symphony Orchestra is scheduled for Sunday, June 30. The display will be fired from the grounds of the Lochmoor Club, with the orchestra performing at Parcels Middle School.

Present at the association's luncheon were three of the major contributors to last year's program, Louis Segel of Pointe Plaza, Michael Lahey, D.D.S., and Gus Russo of Lochmoor-Chrysler Plymouth.

Planning for this year's display began soon after last year's, according to Robbie Curry, who, with Kathy Forster, co-chairs this year's planning committee. Both women were instrumental in putting together last year's program, the first in the Pointes since 1976.

The organization hopes to put on a more elaborate program this year with the same amount of money as last.

"Our goal this year is the same as last — $15,000. The audience response to last year's program was so overwhelming. Judging by the crowd in attendance, this was an event the community really enjoyed," Mrs. Curry said. "Last November, Dr. Kane promised his support and that of the association's board of directors in seeing the festivities repeated."

"There are so many details to attend to aside from the big jobs of contracting for the fireworks display and concert," Mrs. Forster said. "Realizing that the Grosse Pointe Symphony has a scheduling conflict with the date of Sunday, June 30, we have once again contacted the St. Clair Shores Symphony and they have graciously agreed."

Vitale Fireworks Co. from Pennsylvania will supply the pyrotechnics this year. The association hopes to put on a longer display than last year's, which ran for about 20 minutes.

Mack merchants will be contacted soon for their financial support of the event. Public recognition is intended for those who make tax-deductible contributions to the event, Mrs. Curry said.

Last year's program drew between 4,000 and 5,000 people to the corner of Mack and Vernier in the Woods. The five Pointes all made contributions to the program and the Woods donated public safety and public works equipment to protect the crowd that turned out.

Goodwill and good deeds

Rain or no rain, charity begins at home. That's the philosophy of Anna Nevison, of the City, as she hands bundles of clothing to her son Jamie, center, and fellow Scout Dan Etschmann, of Troop 296. These Scouts, and 10,000 of their brothers, will be busy collecting clothing and small household items from a quarter of a million homes for the Goodwill Industries of Greater Detroit during the week of April 13-20. The drive will begin on April 13 when the Scouts will distribute 250,000 bags to homes in the tri-county area. One week later, the scouts will return to collect filled bags from the porches of the homes. The bags will be turned over to Goodwill's handicapped workers who will sort and process items for sale at the Goodwill Shop in Roseville.

New service speeds long-distance dialing

Approximately 38,000 Michigan Bell customers in the Grosse Pointes and Northeast Detroit areas have the option of selecting the long distance telephone carrier of their choice as "Dial 1 Plus" becomes available.

The service has been introduced in Detroit, Ann Arbor and Grand Rapids, and will be phased in statewide to Michigan Bell customers by the end of 1986, said Reggie Gibbs, the company's local corporate affairs manager.

Dial 1 Plus enables customers with exchanges 343, 881, 882, 884, 885 and 886 to use any long distance carrier available in their area by dialing "1" plus the area code plus the telephone number. In the past, placing a call through any long distance company other than AT&T required dialing as many as 22 digits.

While customers may use Dial 1 Plus service with only one long distance company of their choice per line, they may use other long distance companies by dialing appropriate access codes plus the area code and telephone number.

"Dial-1-Plus dialing is the fastest way to dial long distance, and now it's available from many long distance companies," Gibbs said. "Customers should already have received a bill insert, a letter and brochure explaining the program."

It's up to the customer to select a long distance company.

"Before choosing a long distance carrier, shop around," Gibbs said.

Customers may also choose to take no action, in which case their calls will continue to be handled as they are today.

The first time customers choose a long distance carrier, they will not be charged to establish the service. A small service charge will apply, however, to any subsequent choices.

To receive Dial 1 Plus service, customers need only to contact the long distance company of their choice, Gibbs said. The company then will notify Michigan Bell of that decision.

Customers have the choice of using Dial 1 Plus through these long distance companies: Allnet, AT&T, Lexitel, MCI Dial "1" Long Distance, American Express Expressphone, Sears Long Distance Phone Service, SBS Skyline, GTE Sprint and ITT.

A sensible superintendent

Grosse Pointe's new superintendent of schools continues to talk with the basic good sense that was expected of him when he was chosen last December as the head of the local school system.

In his interview last week on cable television, reported at length in the Grosse Pointe News, Dr. John Whritner emphasized, among other points, the advantages of longevity for a superintendent. He said he had visited with Sam Brownell, a former superintendent who had served 11 years, and expressed the view that Brownell's long term had helped make him as effective as he was.

Whritner's view is a good one and yet it is unfortunately true that superintendents, like college presidents, tend to move more often these days than they did a generation ago. In the Pointes, for example, the system has had seven superintendents and acting superintendents in the last 20 years which averages out to a three-year term for each one. In that period, the longest term of service was that of Dr. Theos I. Anderson who directed the system from 1967 to 1974.

With parents and other citizens paying more attention to the school systems, it is not surprising that local controversies arise and poison the atmosphere to such an extent that a superintendent decides to leave for another position or, in some cases, it is suggested that he move on. With the fine reputation of the Grosse Pointe system, it is also true that superintendents here are often on the list of good prospects sought out by other good school systems.

Yet regardless of the reason for the frequent turnover in the superintendent's job, it takes time for anyone to become accustomed to a new administrative position and a new community. So the people ought to give any new superintendent time to get acquainted with the specific problems of the schools and the community before they expect him to solve long-standing problems that have aroused interest among parents and other citizens.

In his interview and in his personal appearances, Dr. Whritner has said that he will be "accessible and open" to community groups and will get out into the community to learn what is going on in order to maintain a good relationship between the school and the community. That is a sensible approach and it is one that should be welcomed by groups concerned about such controversial matters as declining enrollment, proposals for additional school closings and the costs and taxes required by the Grosse Pointe system. Through discussion and interaction, problems can often be solved before they mature into controversies.

Whritner also emphasized that he hopes to be able to "maintain, build on and grow with" the system's reputation as "one of the leading districts in the nation." But he also stressed that the quality of education in the district ought to be measured by abilities to address the individual needs and concerns of the students. He emphasized that point again by saying that quality education comes "one student at a time."

So as far as the new superintendent is concerned, he is obviously going to get a warm welcome when he arrives on the job April 15. Many Pointe residents will have questions to put to him but it would be well for all of us to let him get his feet on the ground and learn as much about the community and the school system as possible before we start demanding answers.

In other words, let's all give him a chance to do his job.

Liquor license will help War Memorial

To the Editor:

In reviewing the presentation over the signatures of Paul Marco and Ralph T. McElvenny on last week's Opinion and Letters page regarding application for state licensure, I am struck by a commonality of intent between their statement and the purpose of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association Board of Directors in making that application.

Both of us share concern for our community and a resolve to maintain its order and ambience.

Concerning the board, we are 17 volunteer citizens elected to varying length terms for the purpose of assisting and advising the professional and volunteer staff in the presentation of educational and cultural programming at the extraordinary facility on 32 Lake Shore Road.

Each of us are residents of the Grosse Pointes — indeed the majority of the board live within the corporate limits of Grosse Pointe Farms, the municipality being requested to consider the application for licensure.

Among other activities, we have observed the question of the service of alcoholic beverage when it is part of a scheduled activity at the Center. We have unanimously determined that replacement of the present disjointed policies relating to this service by licensure under the laws of the state of Michigan to be a responsible positive

Our purpose is neither controversy nor contention. We share with Mr. Marco and Mr. McElvenny the pride of community which their statement projects. Our single thrust is toward control; and through that control, enhancement of the programming and services available to the citizens of Grosse Pointe at the Center.

This evening, Thursday, April 4, at 8 p.m., members of the War Memorial Board of Directors and professional staff will convene in open meeting at the ballroom of the Fries Auditorium. We invite those with questions, comments or concerns regarding licensure to join us for discussion of our action in this matter.

William D. Monahan, President
Board of Directors
Grosse Pointe War Memorial

Injustice to a memorial

To the Editor:

Have been reading with great interest the new controversy relative to a new use to the War Memorial which I worked so hard to establish in the beginning.

I think that it would be an injustice to the thinking that went behind this beautiful memorial if we go into the liquor business. I will try to oppose every move that is made by those interested in changing this beautiful memorial to a booze place.

I will be home (from Florida) May 1 and will participate actively in working against those who propose to make our War Memorial into a booze-selling outfit.

New group begins in Park

To the Editor:

For several years now the city of Grosse Pointe Park has enjoyed a well-deserved reputation for its excellent schools, city services and civic-minded citizens. With that thought in mind, I bring to your attention Grosse Pointe Park's newest civic organization, Pointers for the Park. Our ranks consist of Grosse Pointe Park citizens who take pride in this great city of ours.

It is the goal of Pointers for the Park to encourage dialogue, ideas and programs that contribute to the high standard of living we Park citizens presently enjoy. For example, Pointers for the Park are supportive of the following:

- continued beautification of the Park
- promotion of pride in the Park
- preservation of the residential nature of the Park
- promotion and support of wholesome businesses in Grosse Pointe Park
- active support of public safety and security

We believe these concepts are consistent with the goals and objectives of most of the leaders of our great city. Pointers for the Park is an organization that would like to assist in attaining these and other goals and objectives.

In the ensuing weeks Pointers for the Park will conduct a membership drive. Pointers for the Park hopes to reach out to all our proud and concerned citizens. Together we can contribute to the many and varied blessings our great city has to offer.

Anyone wishing to join Pointers for the Park should write to: Pointers for the Park, c/o Robert Klaczka, Secretary, 1415 Yorkshire, Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan 48230.

Club is not for or against

To the Editor:

In the letter to the editor from Paul Marco and Ralph T. McElvenny in the March 28 issue of the Grosse Pointe News, there was an implication that the Neighborhood Club objected to the War Memorial Association's request for the Class C liquor license.

Headline correction

To the Editor:

In her letter regarding the Grosse Pointe Community Ice Rink (March 28), I think Ms. Frakes was suggesting a new name not a new home as your headline implied.

Her rather obvious hint was that Dr. Mascarini, Dr. Nault and Mr. Rosetti bear the burden!

Questionable budget cutting

The Reagan administration's proposal to close two U.S. Coast Guard stations on Lake St. Clair is arousing considerable opposition not only in the Pointes but among sailors, marine owners and people elsewhere on the lake who are concerned about the effect of the closing. Information compiled by Rep. Dennis M. Hertel of the 13th District, which includes the Pointes, makes it appear there are sound reasons for concern over the proposal.

Michigan's two members of the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, Hertel and Rep. Robert Davis of Gaylord, have asked for additional hearings on the impact of the proposed cuts. In addition, interested people in the Pointes and nearby areas are being asked to attend a meeting April 18 at 7 p.m. at the Jefferson Yacht Club to discuss the proposal and to decide whether some action might be taken to halt or postpone the closing of the stations in St. Clair Shores and Harsens Island.

In a special report to his constituents, Hertel said that losing the two stations would cause a major problem in search and rescue missions on the lake, such as requiring longer waits for stranded boaters which could be dangerous in hazardous weather conditions. In his view, the closings would also endanger environmental safety, because the Coast Guard is responsible for monitoring pollution cleanup efforts and its prompt response often saves marine life and prevents additional water pollution, discolored beaches and shoreline damage.

Furthermore, Hertel said that the important services provided by the Coast Guard in interdicting drug traffic, aiding navigation, ice breaking, working on port safety and supervising pleasure craft operations also would be substantially reduced. The Belle Isle and Port Huron stations would be designated to cover the entire Lake St. Clair area, which would mean obvious delays in service with consequent potential dangers to human life and reduction of environmental protection activities.

The number of search and rescue calls to which the two stations at Harsens Island and St. Clair Shores have responded has been gradually declining, a fact which on its face would tend to support the closings. But even though the calls at the two stations have declined from 1,121 in 1979 to 662 in 1983, Hertel said the decline had coincided with budget cuts the Coast Guard had suffered since 1981. He indicated this fact answers the federal budget officials' claim that the agency is eliminating or reducing services at stations "in areas where activity has been historically low."

It is true, of course, that all of us tend to be in favor of cutting government spending — but not in our own services or in our own area. Yet sometimes local people understand local needs better than do the bureaucrats in Washington, even though the U.S. budget director, David Stockman, is a native of Michigan. In our view, there appear to be ample reasons to resist a move that would reduce important Coast Guard protections for both people and the environment in the Lake St. Clair area.

Why the rush to cut taxes?

Evidence continues to mount that it would be wise for the state Legislature to delay early action on plans to cut the state income tax rate back to its old rate of 4.6 percent next Jan. 1.

The latest development that raises a question about the state's future revenues is the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court that forbids states from giving preferential tax treatment to in-state companies solely for the purpose of fostering local business and investment. That decision, it has been estimated, could cost Michigan $100 million. It apparently means that the Legislature will have to decide whether to equalize tax treatment of in-state and out-of-state insurance companies by repealing the current taxes on premiums collected by out-of-state companies or impose the same tax standards on Michigan-based companies. Whatever happens, the corrective action might not be effective immediately and could reduce the state's revenues at least in the short run.

But that is only the latest in a series of developments that could have a serious impact on Michigan's economy and its state revenues. Earlier, the federal government's decision to permit the end of the voluntary quotas on Japanese auto imports added to Michigan's woes. With an anticipated 25 percent increase in such imports, Michigan is seen as losing many auto industry jobs and perhaps as much as $80 million in state revenues. General Motors also is appealing to many local governments to cut its real estate assessments, which could damage local government revenues. Michigan is still in the running for GM's new Saturn project, but so are a dozen or more other states. And not all of the wrinkles have yet been ironed out of the proposed Mazda Motor Co. plant at Flat Rock.

Such real and possible setbacks to Michigan's industry, jobs and revenues come after the Reagan administration had proposed further cuts in federal revenue sharing that could have a serious impact on local governments as well as the state government.

Under such circumstances, the Legislature might well wait to see how the 1985 economic prospects develop before hastening to authorize an early tax cut. The current 5.35 percent income tax rate will fall to 5.1 percent this fall anyway but will not dip to 4.6 percent again under current law until Oct. 1, 1987.

The Republican-controlled Senate earlier passed a bill rolling back the rate to 4.6 percent on Jan. 1, but that was proposed in part to influence the outcome of the special election in the Grand Rapids district. Now that the GOP has secured control of the Senate at least until next year's election, the party ought to take another look at the economic situation that seems to be developing in Michigan before pushing for final legislative action.

If the state's economy gets over the hurdles we've mentioned without too much trouble in the next few months, there still would be time before Jan. 1 to cut the income tax rate to 4.6 percent on that date. What's the rush? Is it only to enable either the Republicans or the Democrats to claim political advantage on the tax issue for next year's state election?

Proposal endangers special ed program

To the Editor:

As mothers of learning-disabled children, we would like to express our concern over the possibility that the learning-disabled students and emotionally impaired students will be placed in the same classrooms next year.

It is inconceivable that the Grosse Pointe School System, which claims quality education for all of its students, would even consider such an educationally unsound proposal.

In a situation such as this, both the learning-disabled and emotionally impaired children would be losers. The special education laws of the State of Michigan require that these children be educated to the maximum of their abilities, and the above program would not be conducive to that end.

Furthermore, the fine special education program for which many have worked long and hard to develop in the Grosse Pointe schools would be rendered ineffective if not totally destroyed.

We cannot believe that any responsible special education teacher could in good conscience support such a program at the elementary or middle school levels. Middle school has a lot of built-in emotional and social pitfalls that even the best of students find difficulty coping with.

Although learning-disabled children learn to cope with their disabilities better as adults, most of them never outgrow their disabilities. In light of this fact, they especially need continued support throughout their educational years if they are to develop into productive adults. Even many colleges are now recognizing this fact and providing special programs for these students. So, how on earth can our school system even consider tampering with a program which presently meets the needs of both the learning-disabled and emotionally impaired students?

We strongly urge that the above proposed change be totally abandoned!

To quote Dr. John Whritner's statement in his interview with John Prost: "The quality of the district should be measured by its abilities to address the individual needs and concerns of its students. If it can do that, then the district indeed is providing a quality education. Quality education comes one student at a time."

Building becoming eyesore

To the Editor:

This is an open letter to the owner of the building on Mack and Huntington Blvd. in Grosse Pointe Woods, which houses a paint store, beauty shop and another business.

That building is rapidly becoming an eyesore on that section of Mack with its peeling paint, dirty and torn awnings and general unkempt look. I have talked to one of the tenants in that building and they say they have also tried to get the owner to do something, but to no avail.

If you look at the other businesses in the same block and those across the street, you will see a real effort to beautify their buildings and the area.

Surely something can be done to make the owner of that building fix it up and make it presentable.

After all, if he leaves his building in disrepair, it brings us all down.

View from the Capitol

By William R. Bryant Jr.

What will Congress do, if anything, to reduce federal budget deficits?

They should substantially cut programs and raise taxes, but it appears there is little serious consideration of tax increases.

Reductions in various payments and programs appear to be the primary focus, at least holding the line against "normal" increases.

Why do I concern myself with what Congress and the President may do on the federal budget for their fiscal year 1986? I need to know because cuts may include, will include, cuts in funds coming to the states for various purposes.

The Michigan Department of Management and Budget, "guesstimates" there is appreciable risk of loss of $200 million to the state. They estimate $75 million as very likely to be cut in areas the state would be seriously inclined to pick up as state cost.

To get a better handle on what federal action is expected and how it may affect our state budget for 1986, I have arranged for expert testimony to be given to the House Taxation Committee today. Coming in from Washington, D.C. will be Dr. Jerry Miller. He monitors federal budget action for the national Association of State Budget Officers and for the Governors.

Miller is the former budget director of Michigan.

All this is a necessary part of the deliberations by the House Taxation Committee on the Senate passed bill to erase any expected state surplus by an early rollback of the income tax rate to 4.6 percent.

Federal budget action is only one component of a complex series of questions we must address to establish what the factual framework is.

When that process is completed, when all members have been exposed to the differing views on all the relevant issues, then it will be time for each member to evaluate the information. Lastly, each must make a judgment based on what each views as the true situation or in spite of that view.

Whether that judgment will be an objective one or one largely colored by political considerations, remains to be seen.

Republicans do want to keep strong pressure on the governor on the question of surplus and tax rollback, partly to keep our budget as lean as practicable and partly to keep the governor from having the political luxury of next year proposing a tax rollback to aid him in his bid for re-election.

I say The 'class' of 1975? Guess again

I immersed myself in classwork, told myself that extracurricular activities were for jerks and spent senior prom night watching a baseball game at Tiger Stadium. In short, I was just about the least popular kid in a class which as a whole, would most assuredly have finished last in any popularity derby.

Peggy O'Connor

Ten years later, I try to recall the one or two enjoyable moments I had in high school and wince a lot when I remember everything else. Mostly, I just look back and wish things had been different. I also spend a lot of time telling high school kids to put a lot into school in order that they might get more out of it. And knowing they probably won't listen.

Remembering what I do of high school, why am I so eager to take a chance on opening all those old wounds at a high school reunion? Beats me. But I am. Which makes my best friend from high school — who after 1975 went on to greater glory and a Ph.D. in chemistry — shake her head in amazement. She says she wouldn't show up at a Servite High reunion if they held it in her backyard. Not even to gloat.

I'm not crazy about the idea of a reunion so people can find out who married whom, who's divorced, who's dead and who's the wealthiest. I want to go back for one reason: to see if I really missed anything the first time around by not knowing the people I went to high school with.

Back in 1975, I didn't care about any of them and I suspected they felt the same way about me . . . those who knew my name, anyway. But I now know that high school is supposed to be a place where people grow, learn and communicate while storing up a whole lot of memories. And I missed out on all of that.

Are the members of the Class of 1975 different as adults? Did they hate high school as much as I? What kind of people have they turned out to be? What are their hopes, their plans? What happened to the head cheerleader, the football captain, the kid who never made it past the sharp-eyed nun?

Did the guy who played his guitar on the train during the class trip even know that I thought he played really well? Did the kid who said he wanted to be a cop find out that I've always felt sorry that he never did get that badge? Did the forensics team captain ever know that I respected his talent (even though I chuckled a lot over a forensics master with a lisp)?

Probably not. No more than any of them know that in the 10 years since I graduated from high school, I've managed to screw my head back on tightly. I now know that it's important for a person to know where she's been before she can decide where she's going. And there's a big, empty hole in between my memories as a happy eighth grader and my experiences as a down-to-earth college student. That's why I wanted the opportunity to attend my high school reunion . . . to either fill in that space or to find out that it was better off left alone.

Now that I've grown up, I wanted just one more chance to look into those faces I never really saw as they passed by in Servite High's halls back in 1975. I wanted to see if the rest of the class had grown up, too.

But I hear that Servite's Class of 1975 isn't any closer now than it was then. At least not close enough to drum up sufficient interest in a 10-year reunion. Maybe if I give them another 10 years . . .

Two stores hit by quick crooks

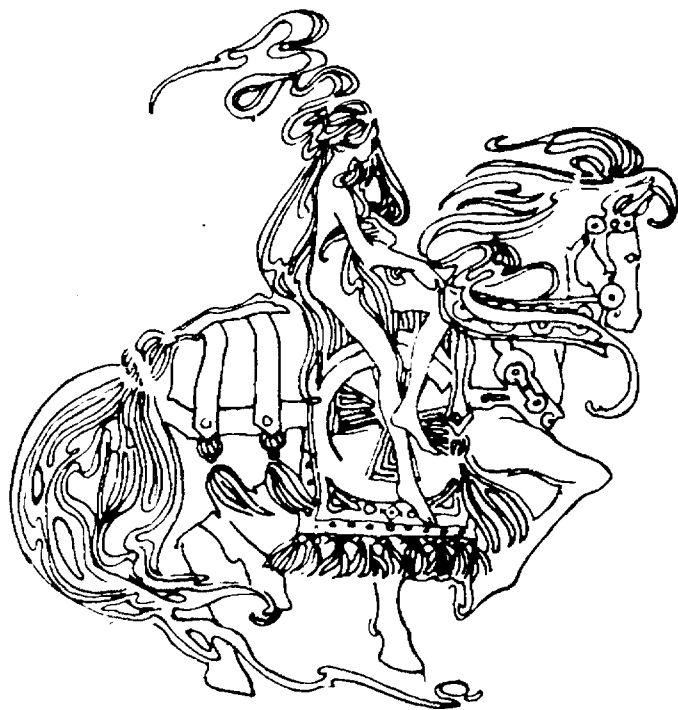

Two Village businesses were the victims of smash-and-grab thieves over the last weekend, according to police.

At approximately 2 a.m. Saturday, March 30, the Willow Tree women's apparel store was robbed when thieves threw a large chunk of cement through a display window.

Police say the thieves then entered the store and took quantities of clothing before fleeing. Estimates on the amount of goods taken are still being determined.

At about 12:30 a.m. Monday, April 1, thieves used two pieces of concrete to smash through a glass door of Dennison's women's apparel shop and made off with an undetermined amount of merchandise.

Police officials believe the same thieves are responsible for both robberies. Director of Public Safety Bruce Kennedy expressed frustration at the robberies, saying that although his officers have responded to the burglaries in less than five minutes, the thieves are usually inside the store and gone in less than one minute.

Art history

This spring and summer residents interested in various aspects of art history may enroll in four classes scheduled by the Department of Community Education of the Grosse Pointe public school system.

Conducted by June Nelson, author and well-traveled art history instructor, the classes will be held in the lower level conference room at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House, 1100 Lakeshore Road.

If London, Paris and Rome are on your summer itinerary, you will want to prepare yourself with an illustrated lecture on each city's monuments, works of art, and museums, in The Armchair Traveler: London, Paris, and Rome which begins at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, April 16. Fee is $13.50.

Six painters will be featured in a new-for-spring series, Adventures in Understanding Painting: The Fabulous 17th Century. Painters are Caravaggio, Velasquez, Rubens,
Rembrandt, Vermeer and Poussin.
The six-week class begins at 1 p.m.
Wednesday, April 17. Fee is $24.

Adventures in Understanding
Art: The Collection of Mr. & Mrs.
Edsel Ford will focus on the art collection of the Edsel Fords at their lakeside home in Grosse Pointe Shores. Religious paintings, portraits, landscapes and still lifes will be discussed. Following luncheon in the Ford family dining room, a guided tour will be made to the actual works of art on the premises. This single-session class begins at 10 a.m.
Friday, May 31. Fee is $15 and includes lunch.

Modern Painting: Matisse and Picasso, a two-session class, begins at 7 p.m. Wednesday, July 10. Fee is $8. Matisse's early work revealed an interest in Impressionism. By 1905 Matisse's art had developed large areas of relatively unbroken color, often chosen quite independently of nature, and shapes manipulated of intensify their directional forms. After a triumph as a precocious academic student,
Picasso went from Spain to Paris and quickly began experimenting with the revolutionary styles of the recent past.

SOC to hold open house at Ferry School

SOC (Services for Older Citizens) will hold an open house Wednesday, April 17, from 5 to 8 p.m., to enable the public to find out more about their activities and to see their new home at Ferry Elementary School, 748 Roslyn, in the Woods. SOC is a non-profit organization dedicated to helping older citizens maintain their lives in independence and in dignity.

It was founded in the five Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods in 1978 to help older citizens face changes in their economic, personal and social lifestyles during their later years.

An umbrella organization operated by a volunteer board of community leaders, SOC maintains programs to which older citizens may come to receive or to give help - to enjoy food and friendship, fill out forms for tax and energy rebates, find ways to untangle government red tape, and be directed toward legal and medical help.

In addition, many residents are able to remain independent and in their own homes with the help of SOC programs such as: Senior Information, Meals-at-home, Minor Home Repairs and Escort Service.

In the past these programs have had offices spread across Grosse Pointe in several locations in the Grosse Pointe School System.

Due to the reorganization of the school district and in the cause of efficiency, all of the various programs are now under one roof at Ferry Elementary School.

Approximately 25,000 citizens turned to SOC in the past year. For more information about the services and programs, call 882-9600 during office hours.

Bright colors, decorated walls surround Ferry students

By Harriet Nolan

Today, sunny yellow walls peek out from behind rows of paintings created through the eyes of pint-sized artists. In February, it was science projects that filled every nook and cranny of the halls of Ferry Elementary in the Woods.

"I think it's important to have the students' work displayed," says Audrey Prim, Ferry's principal since 1978. "When they all participate and cooperate, they make it a good place to be."

Also believing in the soothing effects of color, she's changed the drab green and gray walls to bright shades of sunlight, peach and buttercup since becoming the school's administrator.

"I like happy colors," she explains, dressed like a confection in a vanilla-colored skirts and pale pink sweater.

While she wants students to feel comfortable in their environment, she emphasizes the real goal is to teach them to read, spell and solve analytical problems.

But rather than concentrate on a special book or subject, she says courses are focused on a particular reading level beginning with kindergarten where "little ones are taught that books are nothing more than talk written down."

First grade students, using composition as a focal point, are introduced to social studies by learning about their community. A trip to Cranbrook to see how maple syrup was made long ago might introduce bits of science and history to the youngster.

Second graders hone spelling and punctuation skills as well as becoming adept at understanding a broader content of their experiences, notes Mrs. Prim.

"By the third grade, spelling, grammar and sentence structure along with composition, all come together for students," she says. "They're no longer babies from home and they are expected to do a lot more."

She believes this is the most stressful grade as students begin to feel peer pressure, move away from relying on parents and teachers and want to make some of their own decisions.

"It's a challenge and another set of temptations and parents have to be strong to hold up under that," she says.

By the fourth grade students are considered to be past the learning-to-read stage. They're expected to be able to read to learn and are doing research reports, more independent reading and interpreting graphs.

Mrs. Prim notes that fourth and fifth grade instruction emphasizes homework and stringent expectations involving study skills. By now students know how to outline and organize a report that might be due in two weeks and to follow through on it with some independence.

"The fifth grade is really an extension of all phases of learning as students are being prepared for middle school," she says.

About 294 students attended the 31-year-old school. Fourteen teachers, 11 with master's degrees, are qualified to teach all academic subjects.

Each teacher instructs the same group of children daily, says Mrs. Prim, "offering a smooth transition between courses that are filled with a smorgasbord of content to whet everybody's appetite."

"Whether it's reading, writing or report-writing, they might not know what subject we're teaching because all of it is going on at the same time. And they've no fear of flunking, because teachers are right there with them to keep them up to date," she adds.

While learning the three R's are important, Mrs. Prim is enthusiastic about using other methods to educate students, such as the school's Apple computers.

Students at Ferry also have the advantage of having an in-house nature center. Located in the center courtyard, it displays settings with different types of climates and accompanying plant growth.

The desert community is filled with sand and sparse vegetation while immature trees depict those found in a young forest. A prairie comes complete with an animal's skull partially obscured in dried bushy growth.

"It looks bad," explains Mrs. Prim, "but that's what a prairie look like."

Kindergarten student Carolyn Pruitt is learning math by adding up the dragons flashed on one of the school's Apple computers. Students using computers can advance at their own speed by following a step-by-step teaching process. They can request a print-out which indicates the success of their attempts and also shows where they might need individual help.

Community Events

Dow Jones workshop

Grosse Pointe Cable will sponsor a workshop on the Dow Jones News Retrieval Wednesday, April 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the Grosse Pointe Public Library, 10 Kercheval. An overview of the service will be provided. There will also be demonstration units set up for hands-on use. For more information and reservations, call 886-0968.

GP Singles

The Grosse Pointe Singles Group will meet Friday, April 5, at 7 p.m. in the library of the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road. The program will be a discussion of the question, "Do we really want marriage or would good companionship be enough?" Single adults of the area are invited. A dance for members and guests will take place at 9:30 p.m. at the Gabriel Richard Knights of Columbus Hall at 18000 E. Warren. For information, call 882-0316 or 445-1286.

Fashion show

The Fontbonne Auxiliary of Saint John Hospital will sponsor its 20th annual fashion show and luncheon, "Celebration of Fashions," Thursday, April 18, at the Westin Hotel. Cocktails will be served at 11 a.m. followed by a luncheon at noon. Jack McCarthy, gourmet chef of Friday Feast on Channel 7, will preside as master of ceremonies. There will be a drawing with many prizes including $5,000 cash, first prize. Tickets are $1 each or seven tickets for $5. Donors need not be present to win. Tickets for the show and luncheon are $25 per person. Reservations for individual tickets or tables may be made by calling the Fontbonne office at 343-3675. Proceeds from this event will go toward a new pediatric department at Saint John Hospital.

Senior adult dance

Songs such as "April Showers," "Red, Red Robin" and "Singin' in the Rain" will be featured at this month's senior adult dance at the War Memorial, Thursday, April 11. Admission to the Young at Heart dance, which will be from 1 to 4 p.m., is $2.50 per person. The Standard Five band will provide the lively, springlike tunes to dance or listen to. Tickets may be purchased in advance or at the door.

Farms Boat Club

The Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club will meet Wednesday, April 10, at 7:30 p.m. at the Farms recreation building. Speaker will be Frank McBride Jr., commissioner of the Michigan State Waterways Commission. Refreshments will be served.

Industry Sings

... an annual choral presentation will be held Saturday, April 13, in the Ford Auditorium at 8 p.m. Groups featured include the Gentlemen Songsters, the General Motors Employee's Chorus, the Detroit Edison Glee Club, the Ford Motor Company Chorus and the Advance Medical & Research Center Choral. There will be a guest appearance by Patsy Garret who sang the original Fred Waring hit of the '40s, "Begin the Beguine." Industry Sings is a non-profit cultural extension of the participant professions. For ticket information, call 373-9116.

Legal ethics panel

The conscience of the lawyer is the focus of a 4 p.m. panel discussion Wednesday, April 10 at Wayne State University in the McGregor Memorial Conference Center. Panelists will discuss the obligation lawyers have when they become aware of wrongful or potentially dangerous actions of a client or a corporate employer. The panel will be introduced by Grosse Pointe resident John Roberts, dean of the WSU Law School. Panelists will be Otis Smith, former chief counsel, General Motors Corp. and now of counsel to Lewis, White and Clay; Angus G. Goetz of Hardig, Goetz, Heath, Merritt and Reebel; and Professor Bruce Miller of the Michigan State University Philosophy Department. The free and open to the public legal ethics panel is one of three which are part of WSU's three-day colloquium titled: "The New Humanities: Relating to Business, the Professions and Technology." Other panels deal with medical and journalism ethics.

Evening with Cooper

There will be a dessert/coffee reception to honor Dennis Glen Cooper on Friday, April 26, at 6 p.m. in the Dominican High School cafeteria. Cooper, a long time resident of St. Clair Shores, has devoted his time to the travel film industry since he retired as a teacher and administrator in the Detroit public school system. He has volunteered his services since 1977 to the International Travel Film Series sponsored by Dominican. Tickets for the reception and a film, "Canadian Holiday," are $7.50. For more information, call 882-8500 or 882-8503.

Egg painting

The Ukrainian art of decorating eggs for display will be taught by Martha Wichorek and her assistants at the War Memorial tomorrow, April 5, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. The fee of $3.50 for children and $5 for adults includes admission, stylus, design sheet and beeswax. Each participant should bring two raw eggs wiped with vinegar. Mrs. Wichorek is a member of the International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit and has taught the art of egg decorating for 27 consecutive years at the War Memorial. Tickets may be purchased in advance or at the door.

Senior Supper Club

The grand opening of the Saratoga Senior Supper Club will be held Friday, April 12, at 4 p.m. The club offers people over 55 a 10 percent discount on all food items weekdays between 4 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. The Creative Cuisine program, designed by the American Heart Association, will offer a menu of low-calorie, low-fat and low-cholesterol foods. The club was developed by the food services department at Saratoga Community Hospital as a community service. The hospital is located at 15000 Gratiot at State Fair Street in Detroit.

FACTS OF LAW

by Ellen C. Wallaert

In legal documents, the word HENCEFORTH means "from the present time forward"

A car leasing company may not deny a lease to a woman whose husband had filed for bankruptcy, where she applied for the car in her own name and for her own use.

A generic drug cannot be an exact lookalike of the more common named drug, according to a Federal Court. There must be at least some dissimilarity in packaging.

Only janitors can be allowed to live in penthouses in Nashville, Tennessee. That's the law.

When two cars approach a highway intersection, and both reach it at the same time, the car approaching from the right generally has the right of way.

Prime Time for senior citizens

By Marian Trainor

Traditionally, New Year's is the day when resolutions are made to improve ourselves, our relations with others and our environment. It seems to be an appropriate day to discard our erroneous ways, along with last year's calendar.

However, looking at that custom from another perspective, it would seem that Easter would be a more appropriate time to reorder our lives. It would be more in keeping with nature.

Nothing in the natural order changes on January the first. The same cold air, the same chill wind, the ice and snow remain before and after that date.

But Easter is another story. The whole world changes as all living things on the ground and in the sky respond to the warming sun, soft breezes and gentle rains. Flowers and trees, plants and bushes begin life anew as they resolutely cast off the blights of winter that stripped them of their natural beauty.

Aside from nature, Easter signifies the triumph of faith and the defeat of despair as we celebrate the Resurrection. We draw comfort and hope knowing that if the final enemy — death — can be overcome, then it is possible to overcome all the obstacles that prevent us from being the person we would like to be.

Most of us want to be better than we are. In our secret soul we long to be the best we can be. But it is not easy to make those changes that would make us a better person.

It could be that we start with the wrong goals. We want to be more cheerful, to socialize more, to help those who need our assistance.

These are admirable aims, but in order to achieve them we need to be physically fit. This sometimes entails a great deal of effort, particularly if we have slipped into an easy life of self-gratification. It's much more satisfying to eat a delicious dessert than to munch our way through a piece of fruit. And sometimes an easy chair and a good program on television can be much more inviting than an exhilarating walk.

Yet diet and exercise are important to our well-being. Unless we feel good, it is difficult to make the changes in our lifestyle that will make our lives happier and more fulfilled.

Another consideration — our very lives could depend on a regular program of exercise. Physically fit people live longer. Studies show that coronary heart disease is more prevalent among those who lead sedentary lives.

It has also been found that it is never too late to begin a program of regular exercise. People who had never made physical activities a part of their daily routine reduced their heart disease risk when they took up a program of regular exercise.

There are psychological benefits to be gained from exercise as well as physical improvements. There is increasingly strong support for the hypothesis that exercise is a natural medicine which brings about favorable emotional changes.

Exercise should be enjoyable as well as therapeutic. For some that combination is found in golf. There is a saying that old golfers never die. They just go on playing, some of them for money as well as health reasons.

Those who regularly play in the Senior PGA tour realize important money for their efforts. Some of the members of this select group earn as much as a million dollars over a period of time.

Granted these are professionals but those who play for fun and exercise can benefit from some of the restrictions they place on themselves. For instance while power carts are allowed on the senior tour, most of the players suggest riding the cart from the green to tee and then from tee to drive and walking the rest. They advise also to keep the swing muscles loose. Two hundred swings a day is good. Never get to where it takes a month to get your game back.

Tennis is another form of exercise which is pleasurable and beneficial. Besides the workout it affords, it offers opportunities for companionship. After all, you can't play the game alone. Another advantage is the chance it provides to work off aggression. Better to slam-bang a ball than to jump in a car and drive recklessly in an effort to calm searing spirits. You mean you haven't spotted those mad-as-a-hornet drivers working off steam on the freeway?

If you prefer to work up a sweat in a solitary effort, you can run, walk, swim or bicycle, all of which give you the privilege of making your own rules, such as starting at your own convenience, stopping when you are tired and communing with yourself as you sort out personal problems and possible solutions with the end result of combining physical exercise and mental health benefits in one package.

Exercise is only part of getting in gear to follow through on those Easter resolutions to turn life around.

Diet is the other dragon in the dungeon that must be met.

Food is more than fuel for the body. It can be a pleasure and a comfort. Every once in a while comes the need to calm frazzled nerves and soothe bent-out-of-shape feelings with a hot fudge sundae. The trouble is, it is so easy to become addicted to delicious, rich and completely satisfying delectables. Then as we watch curves disappear beneath bulges, we have to retrench.

Drastic measures are sometimes taken such as starvation regimes and fad diets. These are self-punishing, unnecessary and could be harmful.

We are told that as we grow older, eating a well-balanced diet is one of the most important measures that can be taken to ward off premature aging. The suggested balance is a varied diet.

Harold Lubin, M.D., director of the Food and Nutrition Program of the American Medical Association warns:

"People often will not eat balanced meals if they live alone. It is important not to cut corners either on food selection or the amount spent on groceries. Food intake can affect many things — your emotional state, sleeping, sense of energy and general well-being."

Not recommended, but interesting to note, is a theory propounded by Roy Wolford, a California based pathologist. He believes that eating a Spartan diet, low in calories and rich in vitamins and minerals, will extend the life span.

The regimen, Wolford claims, is good for the immune system, enabling the body to thwart invading organisms in addition to reducing cancer risk and heart disease. This undernutrition, he claims, makes one more alert and eliminates such late-life plagues as cataracts and dry skin. His ultimate goal is to extend life expectancy to 130 years.

Besides counting calories and noting the vitamin and mineral content of foods we eat, there are other tips to follow to add to nutrition.

For instance, it's better to eat an orange than to drink orange juice because juice loses the orange's original fiber content. Fiber is an important component of a good

Bishop Gallagher sets alumni event

Alumni and friends of Bishop Gallagher High School in Harper Woods are invited to participate in the Fifth Annual Alumni Memorial Mass and Pancake Breakfast to be held at the school Sunday, April 21.

Bishop Gallagher alumnus, Father Michael C. LeFevre, of the class of 1974, will be celebrant for the liturgy which begins at 10:30 a.m.

The breakfast will begin at 11:30 a.m. in the cafeteria. Tickets for adults are $3 and for children 6-12 years old, $2. There will be no charge for children under six.

Reservations may be made by sending a check payable to the Bishop Gallagher Alumni Association to the Alumni Office, 19360 Harper, Harper Woods, Mich. 48225.

A special invitation is extended this year to parents of alumni and to the children of alumni.

Parking for the liturgy and breakfast will be reserved in Salter Park immediately adjacent to the Bishop Gallagher High School campus.

For further information, please call Sister Majella Gibson at the alumni office during school hours at 886-0909.

shop, put her students through synonym exercises as a way of getting them to use more descriptive words in writing.

Other presenters included South's journalism adviser Robert Burton, who took his students through a newspaper, feature by feature, as a way of showing them what newspapers and journalists try to do.

Jean Palazzola put her students through exercises in poetry writing and developing rhymes and rhythms, while across the hall, Janis Morrison helped her students write and illustrate parts of a round story dealing with cycles of nature.

The halls and gym were active as well. One class of students worked to put together an article about the conference, while Merrie Gay Ayrault worked with students on the gym stage to teach them the basics of drama.

Also roaming the halls and popping in and out of classrooms were building principals and adult volunteers. Principals took time to admire the bulletin boards prepared by each school that displayed students' writing samples, talked shop and chatted about ways to make the conference work better next year.

Maire Principal Jay Flowers and audio-visual technician Chuck Saad videotaped the workshops, while the opening assembly and guest speaker were videotaped by Performing Arts Center technical director Kimberley Kirkpatrick. The school system plans to put together a special program for education channel 19 on Grosse Pointe Cable to be shown later this month.

Alfred Slote, the author of 20 children's books and six adult novels, told the students that "writing is pretty lonely... you work at it eight hours a day every day, even when you don't feel like it."

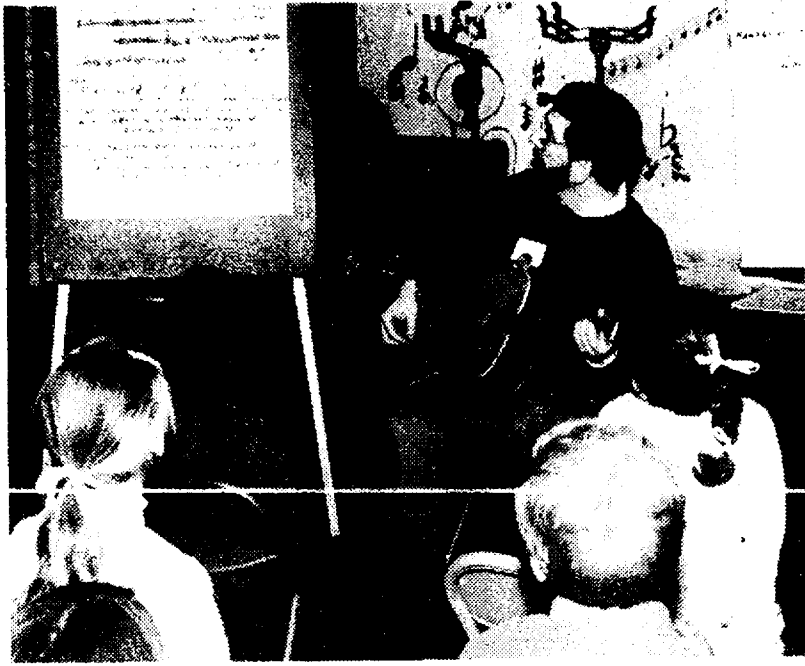

Slote said he enjoyed writing children's books because he'd discovered that, even at age 58, he's a child at heart. The first three children's books he wrote took him 20 minutes to complete and earned him $750, while his first adult novel took three years to write and netted him $720, he said.

"All writers are readers, but not all readers are writers," Slote said. "If you're a reader, you at least have a fighting chance to become a writer."

Each book goes through at least three rewrites, Slote said, noting he is more a rewriter than a writer. There are always ways to improve work, either through editing or fleshing out portions of the story.

Follow-up programs were held in the elementary schools Monday, with students giving their impressions and opinions about the programs and what they learned. Last year's follow-up helped principals decide to add 10 offerings this year, school officials said. It's hoped that this year's will tell planners what worked and what may need work to make the program more successful next year.

Michael Mauer, guitar in hand, helps students through the song they composed as part of the Let's Write... Songs workshop Saturday morning at the Young Authors' Conference at Kerby School.

Cities could lose $222,000 in revenue sharing

said. A rough draft of the city's fiscal 1986 budget should be ready for the council within the next couple weeks, he added.

Grosse Pointe City will receive $26,250 by the end of its current fiscal year in June, City Manager Thomas Kressbach said. Any loss of revenue in the city's $3.031 million budget is unwelcome, he added.

Revenue sharing money is used for capital improvements, often local and major street work, Kressbach said. Should the funds be eliminated, the city could cut back on its work without adversely affecting city services.

Cities have faced possible loss of federal revenues before when the program came up for renewal in Congress, Kressbach said. The City Council will be asked to approve a budget with the revenue sharing dollars in it without knowing for sure if the funds will come, he added. Cities will still receive the summer quarterly payment of federal revenue sharing monies. The cities' new fiscal years generally start in July and the federal new year starts in October, so cities will get the last payment from federal fiscal 1985 in their fiscal 1986.

The Woods is only anticipating that first payment as it prepares its new budget, City Administrator-Clerk Chester Petersen said. The Woods will receive $75,750 before its fiscal year ends June 30, he added.

Two years ago, the city took its state and federal shared revenue payments out of its general fund and put them in a capital improvement fund, Petersen said.

At that time, the state was having difficulties keeping up with its revenue sharing payment, which are substantially more than the federal funds. Late payments from the state put the city in a bind because it had budgeted for the money to cover certain general fund expenses.

If the Woods were to lose all of its $75,750 in federal payments, it could simply cut that amount out of the more than $1 million of capital improvement programs it routinely funds, Petersen said.

General revenue sharing programs were created in 1972 by Congress to ease growing fiscal pressures on state and local governments. Currently, about 38,000 local governments across the nation receive a total of $4.6 billion from the program.

MML's Goodman said the league has had "tremendous response" to its circulated resolution asking local bodies to oppose elimination of the program.

"It appears it is going to take a concerted effort by local governments — and residents — to keep Congress from eliminating the program," he added.

Host families sought

PEACE-USA, a non-profit student exchange organization needs host families for Japanese and Chinese high school exchange students coming in August.

The students are 15-18 years of age and have all prepared thoroughly for their experience here. Students are covered with insurance and will have their own spending money. Students will attend local high schools and stay through the school year.

Host families need not have teenagers of their own. Host families are strictly voluntary, but they do receive a $50 per month tax credit.

If interested, call the Grosse Pointe Park area representative; Penelope Brumm at 824-1710.

Aerobics for kids

Bon Secours Hospital's Health and Fitness Center in St. Clair Shores will offer "Aerobics for Kids" beginning April 13.

The five-week course will improve children's fitness and promote good health practices. Two sessions are offered for grades K through three (Saturdays, 9-10 a.m.) and grades four through seven (Saturdays, 10-11 a.m.). The fee is $24 or $12 for center members.

The center is located at 22300 Bon Brae, west of Jefferson between 10 and 11 Mile roads. For more information, call 779-7040.

WSU glee club

The Wayne State University Men's Glee Club will give a concert Sunday, April 14, at 7 p.m., St. Margaret Church, 21201 13 Mile Road, St. Clair Shores.

Tickets, available in advance or at the door, are $4 for adults, $3 for senior citizens and students.

For more information, call 293-2240.

EASTER IN THE POINTE
This weekend is Easter and it would be difficult to find a more fitting tribute than the planting of a tree. Consider giving your child a tree, guiding them in selecting a site and being a party to its planting. That tree will forever be your family's "1985 Easter Tree."
On your travels around the Pointes, notice the various sizes of trees, the approximate ages and try to remember an important event coincidental to that time. Your "1985 Easter Tree" is simply waiting for your decision on which type, what size and where to plant. The Grosse Pointe Woods Tree Commission can help. Simply pick up a Flyer at our City Offices, make your selection and write a check to Viaene Nurseries. The Flyer tells all, and stakes for marking your location are available. Be a friend of our Urban Forest by making an important and lasting contribution. Easter also makes our Memorial Tree Program a wonderful consideration.
The best time to plant a tree was 10 years ago. The next best time is RIGHT NOW!

Students cited by Optimists

Since its inception in 1954, Youth Appreciation Week has become an event sponsored by Optimist clubs throughout North America. The Lakeshore Optimist Club of Grosse Pointe recently presented citations to the following students from local high schools:

North High — Cathy DeRonne, Carolyn Sanom, Joe Cueter, Jill Snyder and Bill Luberto.

South High — Christine Heger, Michael Elrick, Anthony Morse Jr. and Catherine Boyer.

Ottaway, Gillian Darlow and Susan Edwards.

Our Lady Star of the Sea High — Carrie Barthel and Cathleen Farrar.

Bishop Gallagher High — Paul Remick, Lena Tatarelli, Steven Hasten and Mark Radike.

William Bryant Jr., state representative and Optimist member, was the featured speaker at the program. Joe Gualtieri was the master of ceremonies and Youth Appreciation Week chairman was Kelly Ketterman.

Sexuality seminar set

Parents and teens can begin learning to talk to each other about sex by attending a Family Conference on Sexuality to be held Saturday, April 20, at the Mercy College Conference Center, Southfield and Outer Drive.

The conference is part of a community-wide public education effort undertaken by the Youth Media Task Force convened by United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit and the Michigan Department of Social Services.

Twenty-four workshops will be offered to deal with specific problems and concerns of each group. Some of the subjects to be studied are male/female relationships, family conflict, the generation gap, improving self-image, increasing the decision-making and values-clarification skills of both teens and parents, sexual myths and messages in the media, sexually-transmitted diseases, and how the clergy and the helping professions differ in their perspectives relating to teenage sexuality.

A special highlight of the conference will be the premier showing of "If It's Love, It'll Wait For You," an educational video produced in connection with the Youth Media Task Force. Also available at the conference for the first time will be a poster which encourages teens to delay sexual activity by assuring them that "everyone's not doing it!"

Lunch will feature a panel of media personalities, social workers and psychologists who will discuss the strong influence the media have on teenagers. Music videos, TV, radio, lyrics, magazines and newspapers will be included in the process of helping parents and teen interpret the constant sexual messages received.

The conference begins at 8:45 a.m. and will conclude at 3 p.m. The cost, including lunch, is $6 for adults and $4 for students, 11 years of age and older. Advance registration is encouraged prior to April 13 to reserve a seat at lunch and in the workshops of choice. The conference brochure and registration form is available by calling Dana Pitts at UCS, 833-0633.

TV, microwave taken in Woods

A Newcastle Road resident reported to the Woods police that his home was broken into on Tuesday, March 26.

Reports say the homeowner left for work at 8 a.m. and came back that evening to find the side door of his home open and lights on in the house. Police say the burglar had broken a window in a door in a rear family room and then completely searched the house.

A Sony television valued at $350 was missing along with a $650 Toshiba microwave oven. The homeowner said a jewelry box with gold chains, bracelets and earrings of undetermined value was also taken.

For women over 35

A center for the diagnosis and treatment of menopause and osteoporosis has opened at the C.S. Mott Center, located in the Detroit Medical Center.

Sponsored by Hutzel Hospital and Wayne State University, the center offers specialized care for women, 35 years and older, who suffer from menopausal symptoms and from the bone disease, osteoporosis.

The center is open Thursdays, from 9 a.m. to noon. It is located at 275 E. Hancock, across from Hutzel. It is under the direction of Drs. Joan Stryker and Robert Chaitin. No referrals are necessary.

For more information, call 577-1066.

Be a basic leader

The Department of Community Education of the public school system has organized a Basic Leader Training Course for Junior Great Books on April 23 and 24.

The Great Books Foundation of fiers in-service training courses that prepare teachers and volunteers to use the Junior Great Books series successfully. Everyone who plans to lead a Junior Great Books group must be trained by a member of the foundation staff.

The Basic Leader Training

Course consists of four, 2½ hour sessions given on two consecutive days. The registration fee for the course is $45 per participant and includes all materials used.

The local Basic Leader Training Course will be held from 8:45 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, April 23 and 24. Sessions both days will be held at Barnes School, 20090 Morningstar Drive, Grosse Pointe Woods. Call 343-2178 for further information.

Correction

We rushed things last week by publishing pictures of two soon-to-be kindergartners and labeling them as the Class of 1999. If they glide through the system effortlessly, as they no doubt will, they will graduate from high school in 1998. Next year's crop of kindergartners will be the future Class of 1999.

CODE NO. 11-04 ELECTRICAL CODE ORDINANCE ORDINANCE NO. 278

AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE THE INSTALLATION, ALTERATION, REPAIR AND MAINTENANCE OF ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT IN THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE FARMS; TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF PERMITS AND COLLECTION OF FEES THEREFOR; AND TO AMEND THE ELECTRICAL CODE.

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms Ordains:

Section 1. The 1984 National Electrical Code is hereby adopted as the electrical code of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms (hereinafter "Electrical Code") for the regulation of the installation of electrical equipment in the City of Grosse Pointe Farms, and each and all of the provisions, conditions and terms of said Electrical Code, on file in the Office of the City Clerk as hereby incorporated by reference and made part of this Ordinance as if fully set forth herein, subject to the additions, insertions, deletions and changes prescribed in Section 2 of this Ordinance which control and supersede the specific provisions of said Electrical Code.

Section 2. The provisions of the Electrical Code as adopted in Section 1 above are subject to the changes set forth below, it being hereby declared that the additions, insertions, deletions and changes shall control and supersede the specific provisions of the Electrical Code:

Section 210-11 is amended to read as follows:

210-11. Circuit Interruption. Neutral and ungrounded circuit conductors for two, three, or four wire circuits shall be interrupted at the same outlet or panel. Neutral and/or ungrounded conductors for circuits shall not be tapped from different locations in a run.

Section 210-22(a) is amended to read as follows:

210-22(a). Motor-Operated and Combination Loads. Where a motor is connected to a fixed appliance, Article 410 shall apply. Where a circuit supplies only air conditioning and/or refrigerating equipment, the fixed appliance shall be connected to a circuit with a 1/8 h.p. rating shall be connected to circuits supplying motors only.

Section 210-50(c) is amended to read as follows:

Section 210-52 is amended to read as follows:

210-52(a). General Provisions. In every kitchen, family room, dining room, living room, parlor, library, bedroom, recreation room, or similar room of dwelling units, receptacle outlets shall be installed at each point along the floor line in any wall space 12 inches (305 mm) or more in width, measured horizontally, from the wall. Receptacle outlets shall be installed at each point along the floor line in any wall space 12 inches (305 mm) or more in width and the wall space occupied by sliding panels in exterior walls. The receptacle outlets shall be installed at each point along the floor line in any wall space 12 inches (305 mm) or more in width, measured horizontally, from the wall. Receptacle outlets shall be installed at each point along the floor line in any wall space 12 inches (305 mm) or more in width, measured horizontally, from the wall. Receptacle outlets shall be installed at each point along the floor line in any wall space 12 inches (305 mm) or more in width, measured horizontally, from the wall.

As used in this section a "wall space" shall be considered a wall unbroken along the floor line by doorways, fireplaces, and similar openings. Each wall space 12 inches (305 mm) or more in width shall be treated individually and separately from other wall spaces. Where a wall space is less than 12 inches (305 mm) in width, it shall be permitted to include two or more walls of a room (around corners) where unbroken at the floor line.

(FPN) The purpose of this requirement is to minimize the use of cords across doorways, fireplaces, and similar openings.

Receptacle outlets shall, insofar as practicable, be spaced equidistantly along the wall. Receptacle outlets in floors shall not be counted as part of the required number of receptacle outlets unless located close to the wall.

The receptacle outlets required by this section shall be in addition to any receptacle that is part of any lighting fixture or appliance located within cabinets or cupboards.

Exception: Permanently installed electric baseboard heaters. Receptacle outlets provided as separate assembly shall be considered as part of the required number of receptacle outlets for the wall space occupied by the heater.

Receptacle outlets located more than twenty-four (24) inches (610 mm) above the floor or more than twenty-four (24) inches (610 mm) above a fixed work surface they are intended to serve and pendant receptacle outlets shall be counted as any of the receptacle outlets required by section 210-52 and 210-60 of the National Electrical Code except as provided for in laboratories.

210-52(b). Counter Tops. In kitchen and dining areas of dwelling units a receptacle outlet shall be installed at each counter space wider than 12 inches (305 mm). Counter tops shall be separated by range tops, refrigerators, or sinks shall be considered as part of the required number of receptacle outlets provided by appliances fastened in place or appliances occupying dedicated space shall not be considered as these required outlets.

210-52(c). Bathrooms. At least one duplex receptacle outlet shall be installed on the same wall as the vanity wall, immediately adjacent to the vanity. The receptacle shall not be more than four (4) feet (1.22 m) from any wash basin and shall be installed not less than thirty (30) inches (762 mm) and not more than forty-eight (48) inches (1219 mm) above the finished floor. See Section 210-52(a)(1).

210-52(e). Laundry Areas. In dwelling units at least one duplex receptacle outlet shall be installed for the laundry.

Exception No. 1: In a dwelling unit that is an apartment or living area in a multi-family building where laundry facilities are provided on the premises that are available to all building occupants, a laundry receptacle shall not be required.

Exception No. 2: In other than one-family dwellings where laundry facilities are not to be installed or permitted, a laundry receptacle shall not be required.

Exception No. 3: In a dwelling that is a unit in a hotel, motel, motor court, or motor hotel, a laundry receptacle shall not be required.

210-52(f). Basements and Garages. For a one-family dwelling at least one receptacle outlet in addition to any provided for laundry equipment shall be installed in each basement and in each attached garage. See Section 210-52(a)(2).

210-52(g). Halls, Corridors, etc. Multi-family dwellings shall have at least one receptacle outlet for each twenty-five (25) linear feet (7.62 m) or major fraction of hall length.

210-52(h). Attics. Unfinished attic space in dwelling type occupancies adaptable for living which is accessible by permanent stairs shall be provided with at least one receptacle outlet which shall be wired on an independent circuit at least 15 amperes capacity.

Section 210-63 is added as follows:

210-63. Receptacle Outlets (in Other Than Dwelling Type Occupancies).

(a) Receptacle outlets shall be supplied by a circuit of minimum 20 amperes capacity in industrial plants, machine shops, service garages, gasoline stations, or similar occupancies.

(b) Receptacle outlets in commercial buildings shall include not more than nine (9) on circuits of 20 amperes capacity and not more than six (6) on circuits of 15 amperes capacity.

(c) Receptacle outlets shall not be connected to circuits supplying general lighting including portions of buildings.

(d) A readily accessible duplex receptacle, fed from any 120 volt receptacle circuit, shall be installed on the roof within 50 feet (15.24 m) of each roof top heating, air conditioning and refrigeration unit or any combination of these units.

Section 210-70 is amended to read as follows:

210-70. Lighting Outlets Required. Lighting outlets shall be installed where specified in (a) through (d) below.

210-70(a). Dwelling Units. At least one wall switch controlled lighting outlet shall be installed in every habitable room, in hallways, stairways, and attached garages; and at outdoor entrances.

(FPN) A vehicle door in an attached garage is not considered as an outdoor entrance.

At least one lighting outlet shall be installed in an attic, undervault space, utility space, or basement only where these spaces are used for storage or contain equipment requiring servicing.

Wall switches located for convenient and readily accessible use shall be required for all ceiling lighting outlets, receptacle outlets, storage space, and unfinished basements. Lighting outlets over sinks and dinette portions of kitchens and halls, vestibules, and outdoor entrances, shall not be combined in any manner and shall be switched separately. If more than one lighting outlet is installed in any of these areas, each lighting outlet shall be permitted to be combined on a single switch.

Laundry lighting outlet in dwelling type occupancies shall be provided in the laundry area and shall be permitted to be connected to the same circuit which supplies the laundry equipment receptacle outlet.

Exception No. 1: In habitable rooms, other than kitchens, one or more receptacles controlled by a wall switch shall be permitted in lieu of lighting outlets.

Exception No. 2: In hallways, stairways, and at outdoor entrances, remote central, or automatic control of lighting shall be permitted.

210-70(b). Guest Rooms. At least one wall switch-controlled lighting outlet or wall switch-controlled receptacle shall be installed in guest rooms in hotels, motels, or similar occupancies.

210-70(c). Basement Lighting. Basements in dwelling type occupancies shall be wired for a minimum of one lighting outlet in each 200 square feet (18.58 sq. m) or major fraction of area for use in general illumination. All enclosed areas that may be valued into such as closets, fruit storage rooms, excavated areas under porches, etc., shall be provided with at least one lighting outlet (except coal bins).

210-70(d). Stairways and Hallways (in Dwelling Type Occupancies).

(1) Stairways shall be provided with a lighting outlet or outlets so placed that each stair section shall be adequately illuminated. Such lighting outlets for basements or attics shall be located directly over stairway section or at head or foot of stairway section. A switch shall not be counted as comprising any of the required lighting outlets for basements, attic rooms, etc.

(2) All stairway lighting outlets shall have multiple switch control at head and foot of stairway unless supplied by house meter and controlled by time clock or controls accessible to authorized persons only.

(3) Unless served from separate house meter, stairway lighting outlets shall be supplied from circuits of the dwelling unit.

(4) Hallway Lighting. A minimum of one lighting outlet shall be installed for each twenty-five (25) feet (7.62 m) or major fraction thereof.

210-71. Switches (in Other Than Dwelling Type Occupancies).

(a) Switches shall be installed to control general lighting outlets. These switches may be wall switches or disconnect switches incorporated in a readily accessible distribution panel. Individual switches to control specific fixtures shall be permitted to be installed if required. A switch adjacent to entrances to all areas that may be valued into shall be provided to control a fixture or fixture located in the area to furnish sufficient illumination for persons to see their way into those areas.

(b) All stairway lighting outlets shall have multiple switch control at head and foot of stairway unless supplied by house meter and controlled by time clock or controls accessible to authorized persons only.

Section 210-72(a) is added to read as follows:

210-72(a). Space Heating Equipment.

(1) At least one (1) individual branch circuit of not less than 15 ampere capacity shall be installed for the heating equipment.

(2) Only those motors which are an integral part of the heating equipment shall be permitted to be connected to the circuit required by 210-72(a)(1).

Section 210-70(a) is amended to read as follows:

210-70(a). Location. The service disconnecting means shall be located inside or outside of a building or other structure at a readily accessible location nearest the point of entrance of the service conductors.

In dwelling type occupancies, service equipment and distribution panels shall not be located in coal bins, bathrooms, lavatories, or clothes closets. Where service equipment shall be located in the basement, utility room or garage, in single and two-family dwellings, this equipment shall be at least 12 inches (305 mm) from the floor and shall not be subject to mechanical injury or shall have the equipment protected by a section. Sufficient clearance and accessibility shall be provided when installed near laundry trays, sink, tub, or other permanently installed obstructions.

Section 210-72(a) is amended to read as follows:

210-72(a). General. The two to six disconnects as permitted in Section 210-71 shall be grouped. Each disconnect shall be marked to indicate the load served.

Exception No. 1: One of the two to six service disconnecting means shall be permitted to be used in one- and two-family dwellings, multifamily dwellings and other structures: (a) in walls, floors and ceilings where the materials are specifically approved; (c) in dry and damp locations not prohibited by Section 314-4; (d) for exposed work where not subject to physical damage; (e) where the potential is 600 volts or less.

Section 210-60(c) is amended to read as follows:

210-60(c). The grounded conductor is unheated and part of the service entrance cable and the branch circuit originates at the service equipment. (FPN) The grounded conductor shall be used as a grounding conductor unless it originates from the main service entrance equipment.

Section 311-3 is amended to read as follows:

311-3. Uses Permitted. Electrical nonmetallic tubing and fittings shall be permitted to be used in one- and two-family dwellings, multifamily dwellings and other structures: (a) in walls, floors and ceilings where the materials are specifically approved; (c) in dry and damp locations not prohibited by Section 314-4; (d) for exposed work where not subject to physical damage; (e) where the potential is 600 volts or less.

Section 311-12(c) is added to read as follows:

311-12(c). Wiring in Attics. Nonmetallic-sheathed cable and armored cable installed in attics of dwelling type occupancies shall conform to Section 316-9 of the National Electrical Code except, if the portion of the attic is four (4) feet (1.22 m) or over, wiring shall be installed as concealed wiring at least to the point where the headroom is reduced to three (3) feet (914 mm). In livable attics, or attics adaptable under existing conditions for living, wiring shall be installed as concealed wiring at least to a point of one (1) foot (305 mm) clearance of roof rafters and attic floor joists.

Section 316-3, first paragraph, is amended to read as follows:

316-3. Uses Permitted or Not Permitted. Type NM and Type NMC cables shall be permitted to be used in one- and two-family dwellings, multifamily dwellings and other structures.

Section 384-16(a) Exception No. 2, is amended to read as follows:

384-16(a). Exception No. 2: Individual protection for lighting and appliance branch-circuit panelboards is not required where such panelboards are used for service equipment in supplying a individual residential occupancy.

Section 410-49 is amended to read as follows:

410-49. Lampholders in Wet or Damp Locations. Lampholders installed in wet or damp locations shall be of the weatherproof type.

(a) Porcelain or metal sockets used as cord pendant lighting shall not be permitted within reach of grounded portion of building.

Section 422-61w, is added to read as follows:

422-61w. Residential Food Waste Disposers. All such equipment in dwelling type occupancies shall be provided with an independent disconnecting means within sight of the equipment and shall be readily accessible. Food waste disposers of one-half horsepower or less shall be wired only with heavy duty wiring with minimum No. 16 hard service cord and approved cap and three-wire slot grounding type receptacles. On new construction, a disconnect switch shall be mounted in the wall adjacent to the sink.

Section 422-21(c) is added to read as follows:

422-21(c). Space Heating Equipment (other Than Electric Heats).

(1) A readily accessible disconnect switch shall be mounted on the exterior of the heating equipment or on a surface adjacent to the heating equipment.

(2) Heating equipment which is not readily accessible shall have a disconnect installed at the nearest readily accessible location.

Sections 517-31 and 517-32 are added to read as follows:

517-31. Wiring, Grounding and Receptacles. Wiring, grounding and receptacle installations shall be in accordance with sections 517-10 and 517-11.

517-32. Essential Electrical System.

(A) General. The requirements of this section shall apply to those health care facilities described in section 517-30, in which:

(1) Inhalation anesthetics are administered in any concentration to patients, or

(2) Patients require electrically operated or mechanical life support devices.

(B) Scope. The essential electrical system for health facilities shall comprise a system capable of supplying a limited amount of lighting and power service which is considered essential for life safety and orderly cessation of procedures during the time normal electrical service is interrupted for any reason.

(C) Connections. The essential electrical system shall supply power for:

(1) Task illumination which is related to the safety of life and which is necessary for the safe cessation of procedures in progress.

(2) All anesthesia and resuscitative equipment used in areas where inhalation anesthetics are administered to patients including alarms and alerting devices.

(FPN) See nonflammable medical gas systems, NFPA 96-1977, Chapter 3 and 6.

(3) All electrically operated and mechanical equipment in areas where procedures are performed that require a capacity to support the patient's life.

(D) Alternate Source of Power.

(1) Power Source. The alternate source of power for the system shall be specifically designed for this purpose and shall be either a generator, battery system or self-contained battery integral with the equipment.

(2) System Capacity. The alternate source of power shall be separate and independent from the normal source of power. The alternate source of power shall be automatically connected to the load within 10 seconds.

(3) System Operation. The system shall be so arranged that, in the event of a failure of the normal power source, the alternate source of power shall be automatically connected to the load within 10 seconds.

(FPN) See Essential Electrical Systems for Health Care Facilities, NFPA 70A-1977, Section 6-6.2, Description of Transfer Switch Operation with Engine-Driven Source, and Section 6-6.2, Description of Transfer Switch Operation with Battery Systems.

Section 620-73 is added to read as follows:

Section 725-18 is amended by the addition of 725-18(a) to read as follows:

725-18. Physical Protection.

(a) Low energy wiring, remove control, signaling, and power limited circuits.

(1) Conductors shall run parallel to or through joists.

(2) Conductors shall run parallel to beams and/or pipes if within one (1) inch (25 mm), or shall be run on sill plates.

(3) Low energy wiring shall comply with (1) and (2).

(4) Vertical drops of conductors to electrical heaters, etc., shall be mechanically protected by securing to gas or oil pipes or electrical raceways, or by installing in metal or nonmetallic raceways, or forming in spiral coils for vertical runs at least eighteen (18) inches (457 mm) or less.

Section 725-19. The following sections pertaining to wiring systems existing within the City of Grosse Pointe Farms are hereby added to the Electrical Code:

1000-1. Minimum Standards for Existing Wiring Systems.

1000-1. If visual inspection by the Building Department reveals that the wiring system of an existing dwelling unit is inadequate, or if code certification is required, the following minimum standards shall be complied with:

(a) Entrances and Exits. Where two (2) or more entrances and exits exist, at least one (1) shall be illuminated by exterior lights. Exterior lighting shall be controlled by interior wall switches, located for convenient and readily accessible use.

(b) Living Room. The living room shall be provided with a conveniently located wall switch controlled lighting outlet. The switch or receptacle may be one of the required receptacles in the room. Duplex receptacles shall be equally spaced around the room. The receptacle on each wall, unless the spacing requirements of section 210-52(a) are met.

(c) Kitchen. The kitchen shall be provided with illumination. The kitchen shall be controlled by a wall switch located for convenient and readily accessible use.

A separate kitchen appliance circuit shall be provided, supplying a minimum of three (3) grounded type duplex receptacles. The kitchen shall have these receptacles shall be readily accessible and spaced for convenient use. The kitchen shall have new appliance circuits shall be 20 ampere capacity.

(d) Bathroom. Bathrooms shall be provided with illumination, controlled by a conveniently located wall switch. The bathroom shall have at least one (1) duplex receptacle. The receptacle shall be at least thirty (30) inches and not more than forty-eight (48) inches above the finished floor to the waste basin and not more than forty-eight (48) inches from the basin.

(e) All Other Habitable Rooms. Habitable rooms shall be provided with illumination. The lighting shall be controlled by a switch controlled light or receptacle. A minimum of two (2) additional duplex receptacles are required in each room for their operation.

(f) Basement. The basement shall have a minimum of one (1) lighting outlet in each 200 square feet or major fraction of area for general illumination. All enclosed areas that may be valued into, (except coal bins), shall be provided with a lighting outlet.

(g) Laundry Area. Laundry areas shall be provided with illumination. This light shall be permitted to be connected to the laundry circuit. A wall mounted grounding type duplex receptacle shall be provided adjacent to the laundry equipment, on a separate circuit. New laundry circuits shall be 20 ampere capacity.

(h) Space Heating System. Heating equipment that requires electricity shall be in good repair. Circuit extensions made with flexible cord wiring in lieu of permanent wiring shall be eliminated. All plug type fuses shall be Type S.

Schools

Discussing plans for the upcoming Soviet Union seminar at South High are, from left, Laura Jones, Mother's Club President Pat Jeffs, social studies teacher Carl Lord and Ethan Zorick. The program, which will feature a visit from the University of Michigan's Center for East European and Russian study, is made possible by Mother's Club funds raised through activities like the upcoming Spring Fest.

Russia seminar to be repeated

Plans are being made by South social studies teacher Carl Lord for a two-day seminar on the Soviet Union. The program is made possible through the South Mothers' Club Enrichment Fund.

The seminar will repeat many of the features of the February 1984 event, which included an all-day visit at South by professors from the University of Michigan's Center for East European and Russian Studies.

More than 250 students will participate in a variety of informal discussion groups centered on a course of pre-study which will be suggested by the professors to prepare students for the seminar.

To support this and other enrichment programs, the Mothers' Club is selling Spring Fest tickets at $12 each. Tickets are available by sending a check to the Grosse Pointe South Mother's Club, 161 Vendome, Grosse Pointe Farms 48236.

The program will feature a luncheon and fashions from Jacobson's.

NHS inducts members at Star of Sea

The National Honor Society at Our Lady Star of the Sea High School inducted 17 students at ceremonies held March 22.

New members are senior Brigid Roarty; juniors Patricia Mullen, Patricia Guillaumin and Ann

North gives gift

The Grosse Pointe North Bands and Orchestra Parents and instrumental music students contributed $1,850 to the school system to buy a computer for the instrumental music program at North.

The gift was accepted by the Board of Education Monday night, March 11.

Contest winners announced

The Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice recently announced the winners in its Fifth Annual Martin Luther King Jr. Essay Contest. The contest, which was open to local public, private and parochial school students, drew more than 400 entries.

Students chosen for recognition in the Fourth-Sixth Grade Division were: first place, Megan McKinney (Defer) and Katie Page (Pierce); second place, Kelly Babel (Monteith); third place, Rachel Smith (Trombly).

School winners were: Ellie Rice (Brownell), Lisa Wyrock (Ferry), John Maycock (Kerby), Jenny Moss (Parcells), Alycia Knop (Poupard), Alex Crenshaw (Richard), Jenny Graetz (St. Paul), Deanne Srock (St. Peter), Karen Bouwman (University Liggett).

Top winners in the Seventh-Eighth Grade Division were: first place, Maureen Yap (St. Paul) and Anna Francis (Pierce); second place, Cristina Guastello (Our Lady Star of the Sea); third place tie, Mary Brigid Distel (St. Paul), and Jennifer Fitzgerald (Pierce).

School winners were: Kevin Nugent (Brownell), Doug Elliard (Grosse Pointe Academy), Michael Shehab (Parcells), Christy Wronikowski (St. Clare), Patrick Sustich (St. Peter).

The winners, their parents, teachers and principals will be honored at an awards reception Friday, April 19, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Judges for the contest were: Rosa Parks, civil rights activist, Dr. Emmeral Crosby, educator, Al Stark, Detroit News columnist, Dr. Roger McCaig, director of research and development, Grosse Pointe Public Schools, Judge Myron Wahls, Michigan Court of Appeals.

The Martin Luther King Jr. Essay Contest is partially funded by a gift from Dorothy Radulovich in memory of her aunt, Catherine Blackhurst, who was an educator of young people.

Escape to Marco Island Florida

Your Tropical Island is located on the Southwest coast of Florida in the Gulf of Mexico 16 miles south of Naples, Florida. One of the 10,000 Islands, Marco Island is 6 miles long and 4 miles wide with 3 1/2 miles of white sandy beach. Yearly average temp of 74° and 95% sunshine days attract visitors from all over the world. ### MISCELLANEOUS SIDEWALK, DRIVEWAY APPROACHES AND HANDICAP RAMP REPLACEMENT PROJECT

Sealed proposals for furnishing all labor, material and equipment for installing 42,261 sq. ft. of 4 inch thick sidewalks, 25,836 sq. ft. of 6 inch thick sidewalk or driveway approaches and 109 handicap ramps and walks in Maintenance District #6. Also 46,378 sq. ft. of 4 inch thick sidewalks, 35,017 sq. ft. of 6 inch thick sidewalks or driveway approaches and 33 handicap ramps and walks in Maintenance District #5 will be received by the City of Grosse Pointe Woods, 20025 Mack Plaza, Grosse Pointe Woods, Michigan 48236 at the office of the City Clerk until 4 o'clock P.M., local time, Tuesday, April 23, 1985, at which time and place the bids will be publicly opened and read. Note: Construction work shall begin immediately after award of contract in Maintenance District #6 with the construction work in Maintenance District #5 beginning in July 1, 1985. The City of Grosse Pointe Woods reserves the right to award each maintenance district as separate contracts or as one contract. No bid may be withdrawn after scheduled closing date for at least thirty days.

Specifications may be examined at the office of the City Clerk. Bidding documents MAY BE OBTAINED at the office of Pate, Hirm and Bogue, Inc., 17000 Twelve Mile Road, Southfield, Michigan 48076 at a cost of $15.00 per set, not refundable. Bidding documents will be MAILED to bidders upon receipt of $20.00 per set, not refundable. Bids may be rejected unless made on forms furnished with bidding documents.

A certified check, bid bond or cashiers check acceptable to the Owner in the amount of 5% of bid made payable to the City Treasurer, must accompany each proposal. The deposit of the successful bidder shall be forfeited if he fails to execute the contract and bonds within fourteen (14) days after award.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids, waive informalities or accept any bid it may deem best.

Monday, April 6 — Board of Education conference meeting at the board offices.

Michigan history

Did you know that the Sawtooth Reef at Eagle Harbor in Michigan's northwest Upper Peninsula is the site of the largest concentration of shipwrecks on Lake Superior?

Or that the population of Keeweenaw county, now at approximately 2,000 individuals, peaked at 7,157 in 1910 during the copper boom?

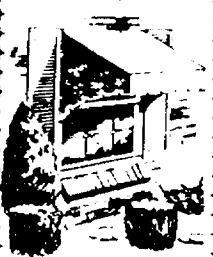

Or that a supper of baked trout, pork and beans, bread, dried applesauce and coffee, cost 25 cents in 1844 in Copper Harbor?

These facts, along with other articles, historic photos of the American Fur Company in the old Northwest Territory, Detroit's first Shiner Circus in 1906 and Michigan short story writer Ring Lardner of Niles, are features in the March/April issue of Michigan History, the state's official historical presentation.

Published by the History Division of the Department of State, Michigan History is available in single copies for $2 each or subscriptions for $9.95 per year. It is also available on many newsstands. Checks should be made payable to the State of Michigan, and sent to the Bureau of History, Department of State, Lansing, Mich. 48918.

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

The "party of the century," the first celebration of the Detroit Institute of Arts' 100th year, on Saturday, Apr. 13, will bring Peter Duchin and his Orchestra to the museum's Great Hall to play dancing music starting at 10 p.m. and the Bobby Short Trio to the museum theatre to perform two 50-minute shows.

Among other things . . . such as a gourmet supper served at 11:30 p.m. and a chance to preview the DIA's first centennial presentation, 100 Masterworks, highlighting some of the most distinguished works in the museum's permanent collection, and Flower Show: Photographs from the J. Paul Getty Museum Selected by Sam Wagstaff, an exhibition of more than 100 photos (1843-1983) in the museum's Albert and Peggy de Salle Gallery of Photography.

The 250-member Centennial Ball committee, headed by Mrs. Peter Stroh, of The Farms, Mrs. Max Pincus and Mrs. Donald Young, both of Bloomfield Hills, is the largest ever assembled for a single DIA event. Among those responsible for specific aspects of the evening are Pointe residents Mrs. John C. Emery Jr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Hudson Jr., dinner chairmen; Mrs. Elliott Phillips and Mrs. Norman L. Bird, decorations chairmen; Mrs. William P. Curtiss, invitations chairmen; Mrs. Keith E. Crain and Mrs. William P. Vittoe, two of the five ticket chairmen.

The ball begins at 10 p.m. and will run until 2 a.m. Valet parking will be available starting at 9 p.m. Information on tickets, at $100 per person, may be obtained by contacting the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts Development Office, 833-7969.

'All That Glitters' Preview

Across the street from the DIA on the Wednesday before the Centennial Ball (that's next Wednesday, Apr. 10), a glittering high cocktail buffet will delight guests invited by the Detroit Historical Society to preview All That Glitters, an exhibit of beaded garments and accessories worn by prominent metropolitan Detroiters between 1860 and 1980, at the Detroit Historical Museum.

Mrs. David M. Bogle is chairman of this sparkling early evening party in the museum's Round Hall. Mrs. Elliott Phillips, noted above as DIA Centennial Ball decorations co-chairman, is chairman of the Historical Museum's Hall of Costume.

Back to The Other Side of Woodward

The Detroit Grand Opera Association's traditional Opening Night Dinner which inaugurates Metropolitan Opera Week in Detroit festivities will NOT be on Met Week's Opening Night, May 20, this year, due to the early 7 p.m. curtain for "Lohengrin" (brevity is not the soul of Wagner), and it WILL, in recognition of the Detroit Institute of Arts' centennial and the close relationship that has existed between the DGOA and DIA, be held at the Art Institute.

IT'S EASTER TIME AND THE BUNNIES ARE OUT — some of them, at least; when you have 80-plus Easter bunnies, it's impossible to let them all out at once — at the Shores home of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Petz. Above are two of the Herrend rabbits Catherine Petz annually releases from their cages for her Easter tabletop displays (note the "bunny egg," too, third from the left). At right, Catherine holds a pair of ivory netsuke bunnies. For more about Catherine Petz and her pets, turn to the Feature Page: she's this Easter's "Pointer of Interest."

— Short and to The Pointe —

Among Michigan State University students who graduated last December was Donald Kavanaugh, son of Kevin and Ruth Kavanaugh, of Kensington Road. A 1980 graduate of Grosse Pointe South High School, Donald majored in education, teaching math and computers. He is now teaching math and computers at Our Lady Star of the Sea High School. Kavanaugh is also assistant Scout Master of Troop 96 at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, where he received his Eagle Award in 1977. He is camp counselor at Liggett's summer day camp and conducts monthly camping trips with the youth group of St. James Lutheran Church.

Sgt. Carrie H. Balanger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F.J. Balanger, of Moross Road, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force aircraft maintenance course at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas. A 1980 graduate of Our Lady Star of the Sea High School, Balanger is scheduled to serve with the 347th Aircraft Generation Squadron at Moody Air Force Base, Ga.

Elizabeth M. Seagram, of South Renaud Road, was named to the Dean's List for the fall term at Madonna College, where she is a sophomore nursing major.

James E. Schaafsma, of The Park, was named to the Dean's List for the fall semester at Calvin College, where he is a junior pre-law major.

He was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School in 1982.

Among students named to the Dean's List for the first semester of the 1984-85 academic year are Grace B. Robinson, of University Place; and Frederick J. Lepley Jr., of Blairmoor Court. Students so honored earned at least a 3.5 grade point average.

Gail Marie Stonisch, of Lakeshore Road, flew to West Point, N.Y., in February to attend the formal 100 Day Dance (100 days before graduation) as the guest of a cadet from Connecticut whom she met at the West Point Victory party after the Cherry Bowl Game in Michigan on Dec. 22. The party was hosted by her uncle, Col. A.H. Stonisch. Gail is a senior at Grosse Pointe South High School.

The University of Detroit honored several persons at its Awards Dinner Feb. 23, among them were Vito Cusenza, of Grosse Pointe, a general manufacturing manager at Ford Motor Company, a practicing attorney and real estate broker, who received the Tower Award; and Richard Measelle, of Grosse Pointe, managing partner of Arthur Anderson & Co., who received the Honorary Alumnus Awards. Cusenza, who graduated in 1952 from U-D with a degree in chemistry and completed law school at Wayne State in 1964, has been a Titan Club member, served on the University Alumni National Board, the Reunion Dinner Committee, participated in the Centennial Phone-A-Thon, and headed the Ford In-House Centennial Campaign and the Detroit Area Alumni Centennial Campaign. Measelle, who was graduated from Miami University in 1961, has served as vice chairman of the U-D Board of Trustees, chairman of the Finance and Investment Committee and member of the U-D Executive Committee.

Among students who received degrees from Western Michigan University at the end of the fall, 1984-85 semester are Karen R. Fife, of Cranford Lane, Joseph M. Pellerito Jr., of Devonshire Road, and Matthew J. Costello, of Edshire Lane, Bachelors of Science; Philip G. DeFauw, of Kerby Road, Bachelor of Music; Michelle D. Koesch, of Balfour Road, Bachelor of Arts; Gerald F. Bresser, of Whittier Road, Peter L. Xenakis, of Westchester Road, James D. Hogan, of Broadstone Road, Shawn E. McDougall, of Avon Court, and Jeffrey M. Mattes, of Moorland Drive, Bachelors of Business Administration; Mary H. Schaafsma, of Nottingham Road, Master of Public Administration; and Robert W. Decker, of Vernier Road, Master of Business Administration.

Joan R. Hanpeter, of Grosse Pointe, has been elected to a two-year term as a member of the Camp Fire, Inc., national board of directors as a result of her election as chairman of Zone 3, serving Camp Fire councils in Michigan, Indiana and western Ohio. A political consultant, Mrs. Han-peter is president of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education and member of the Wayne County and Michigan Associations of School Boards. She has held various offices with the Detroit Area Council of Camp Fire.

Among students named to the Dean's List for the fall, 1984 semester at Vanderbilt University are Karen I. Robson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Martin C. Robson, of Washington Road; and Richard J. Suhrheinrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Suhrheinrich, of Touraine Road.

Eric Edward Biretta, son of Edward F. and Renate G. Biretta, of North Renaud Road, received his Juris Doctor from the Detroit College of Law on Jan. 28 and completed his bar exam in late February. He is a 1976 graduate of Grosse Pointe North High School and received a Bachelor of Science from Western Michigan University in 1980.

Among Albion College students named to the Dean's List for the fall semester are John M. Polizzi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael S. Polizzi, of Wellington Place; Bryan J. Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Griffin, of Bournemouth Road; James W. Wagner, son of Dr. and Mrs. John R. Wagner, of Stephens Road; Suzanne L. Carty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Carty, of Buckingham Road; Amy M. Michaels, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Michaels, of Yorkshire Road; and Jill M. Oho-rodnik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Oho-rodnik, of Goethe Road.

DRC program for Draper Hill

Draper Hill, Detroit News' editorial cartoonist, will be guest speaker at the Detroit Review Club's annual meeting and new members' luncheon Tuesday, Apr. 16, at the University Club.

The meeting, at which chairmen and officers give their annual reports, begins at 10:30 a.m., the luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Justin Emery, DRC's recently re-elected president, will serve as official hostess.

Mrs. Robert Gerisch, DRC's immediate past-president and program chairman, will introduce Mr. Hill who, talking about the vocation of cartooning, has said there seem to be two routes a cartoonist follows: Power and Opinion, often used by the political cartoonist, and Humor and Fun.

Hill has been a regular contributor to Preservation News, Washington, D.C. His work has been reprinted in major papers as well as national magazines. He has authored several books, among them, supported by a Guggenheim Fellowship, a biography of cartoonist Thomas Nast.

The title of his talk for DRC members and their guests is "The Joyful Art of the Cartoonist!"

New Detroit Review Club members, to be introduced at the luncheon, include Grosse Pointers Mrs. Norman Henderson, Mrs. Edmund Bowman, Mrs. Edwin E. Wood and Mrs. Boyce Tope and, from St. Clair Clair Shores, Sue Wassinger.

Reservations for the day, accompanied by a $10 per person check, are being accepted by Mrs. James J. Bird.

Pointers earn MSU degrees

More than 1,700 students were candidates for degrees at winter term commencement ceremonies held Mar. 9 at Michigan State University. Several Grosse Pointe residents were among the degree candidates.

Bachelor of Arts degrees were awarded to Richard F. Carron, of Peach Tree Lane; Margaret Schreiber, of Notre Dame Avenue; John C. Vermeulen, of Belanger Road; Sabrina A. Mueller, of Westchester Road; Lisa M. Marco, of South Deeplands Road; John J. Hogan, of Broadstone Road; Sharon E. Thams, of Blairmoor Road; and Steven F. Valice, of Woods Lane.

William C. Nixon, of Lochmoor Boulevard; Andrea L. Carstens, of Chalfonte Avenue; Gabrielle A. Storen, of Lee Gate Lane; Christopher Ruffner, of Bedford Road; Gabrielle L. Tazzia, of Willson Road; Kevin Calandro, of Broadstone Road; and Kimberly Stemmen, of Lochmoor Boulevard, earned Bachelor of Science degrees.

Graduate degree recipients included Juliana F. Payne, of Anita Avenue, Master of Science; and Michael J. Pentis, of West Doyle Place, Master of Business Administration.

Convention is held by Alpha Xi Delta

A large contingent from the Grosse Pointe and Macomb County Alumnae Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta traveled to the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth on Saturday, Mar. 23, to attend Alpha Xi Delta's Phi Province convention. The annual luncheon meeting began at noon. All Michigan alumnae and collegiate chapters were invited to participate.

Attending from this area were Mrs. Richard Swinbank, president of the Pointe Alumnae group, Mrs. Arthur Ericson, Mrs. John Kirlin, Mrs. Arthur Leslie, Mrs. John Rini, Mrs. Stephen Lyle and Mrs. Ralph Jossman, who received the Order of the Rose: a recognition of 50 years' membership in the fraternity for college women.

Alpha Xi Delta, founded in 1893, currently has 97 collegiate and 200 alumnae chapters. Collegiate chapters in Michigan are at Albion and Hillsdale Colleges, the University of Michigan, Ferris State College and Michigan State, Eastern Michigan and Northern Michigan Universities.

Respiratory health is the fraternity's national philanthropy. In the 1983-84 school year, Alpha Xi Delta chapters contributed $57,334 and 21,063 hours of service to their local chapters of the American Lung Association.

The Grosse Pointe and Macomb Alumnae have worked with the American Lung Association office in Detroit, the Breathers Club at Calvary Senior Center and the annual Health-O-Ramas held in St. Clair Shores and at Eastland Shopping Center.

Plan interfaith panel program

The Women's Division of the Greater Detroit Round Table of the National Conference of Christians and Jews will hold its spring general membership meeting Wednesday, Apr. 17, in the school cafeteria at St. Paul's-on-the-Lake.

An interfaith panel moderated by Monsignor Francis X. Canfield, St. Paul's pastor, will present "The Catholic Bishops' Peace Pastoral: An Interfaith Discussion."

Panelists will include Sister Amata Miller, coordinator of Material Resources, IHM Congregation, Monroe; Rabbi Elfy Spectre, Adat Shalom Synagogue, Farmington Hills; The Reverend Erwin A. Brown, pastor, Christ Church, Detroit; and Lillian Genser, director, Center for Peace and Conflict Studies, Wayne State University.

Registration begins at 12:30 p.m. Luncheon, at $5 per person, will be served at noon. The panel presentation, which is free, begins at 1:45 p.m. Reservations will be accepted through tomorrow, Friday, Apr. 5, at the Round Table office, 869-6306.

Artists Market features paper

A two-part exhibition of works on paper is on view at the Detroit Artists Market, located on Randolph Street in Harmonie Park, through Friday, Apr. 19. Gallery hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

Prints, drawings and paintings on paper in all media are included in the Lower Gallery display of a representative body of work by 12 Michigan artists. The show was juried by John Hegarty, associate professor of Art, Wayne State University, and Steve Murakishi, head of Cranbrook Academy's Print-making Department. The artistic styles of the works range from abstract to figurative.

The Upper Gallery exhibition, curated by Lynne Avadenka, printmaker and teacher who has been involved in book format explorations, is entitled "Word and Image." In all of the works exhibited, word or words form an integral part of the artistic theme or concept of the piece. Several of the artists are printmakers, and the works shown have been created on handmade paper.

Luncheon meeting for Elizabeth Cass

Mrs. John E. Finch opened her Cadieux Road home last Monday, Apr. 1, to members of the Elizabeth Cass Chapter of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution. Luncheon and a short business meeting were followed by Mrs. Robert Seegmund's program on "Becoming an American the Hard Way."

Mrs. Seegmund, of Livonia, is state chairman for the Committee on Americanism and DAR Manual for Citizenship. Mrs. William Hill and Mrs. J.B. Craig were Mrs. Finch's co-hostesses.

First Society aids SCAMP

Proceeds from The First Society of Detroit's annual spring benefit held Sunday, Mar. 10, at the University Club will go to SCAMP, a six-week summer day camp program, located in West Bloomfield, for handicapped children with special needs.

More than 300 persons attended the event which raised $2,500 for camperships for children who would otherwise be unable to attend SCAMP, which serves youth from preschool to age 26 from communities in Southern Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties.

Young Pointe Keyboard Artists compete

Make a country basket at YMCA

Participants in a basket weaving class on two consecutive Wednesday evenings, Apr. 17 and 24, at the Lakeshore Family YMCA, located on Jefferson Avenue near Nine Mile Road, will complete a square-based basket that takes on a round shape: a good decorative piece for country decor.

The basket is made from splint and reed. The workshop is for the beginner as well as the experienced weaver. Pre-registration is necessary; the number to call for more information is 778-5811.

Meeting date at the church

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational and American Baptist Church meets next Tuesday, Apr. 9, at the church for a business session and a program arranged by Mrs. Frank Turpin and Mrs. Edward Price, the association's program chairmen.

They have invited Helen Huber to demonstrate how to make hors d'oeuvres which, at the conclusion of her presentation, will form the basis for lunch, with dessert and beverage. Mrs. Herbert Kohls and Mrs. Albert Tavenor, Lydia Group culinary chairmen, will be in charge of the kitchen.

Mrs. Richard Allor, association president, will officiate at the post-program business session. The meeting is open to all women of the church, who are requested to wear their Easter Bonnets to it, but luncheon reservations must be made in the church office by noon on Monday, Apr. 8.

MCF Tribute is something for everyone

The second annual "Tribute to MCF" (Michigan Cancer Foundation), sponsored by Penna's of Sterling Heights and hosted by MCF's East Regional board of trustees, will feature cocktails, dinner, dancing and entertainment on Sunday, Apr. 14, at Penna's banquet hall, located on Van Dyke Avenue just south of 17 Mile Road.

George Penna is personally planning the special gourmet meal, to be served at 7:30 p.m. following cocktails starting at 6 p.m. After-dinner entertainment will be a half-hour program by singers Imogene Bird and Don Hart, accompanied by pianist Bernie Katz, featuring selections from Rogers and Hammerstein's "Carousel."

Bird's list of credits includes appearances with the Grosse Pointe Theatre, the Piccolo Opera and Windsor Light Opera Companies, Wayne Opera Theatre and "Overture to Opera." She has sung with the Detroit Symphony, the Detroit Chamber Orchestra and many other local orchestras, including her hometown St. Clair Shores Symphony.

Hart, who has played the lead or second lead in every musical produced by the Windsor Light Opera Company since he joined that group in 1961, will perform "Send in the Clowns" as a solo. Katz, a regular performer at Orchestra Hall and in the Detroit Institute of Arts' Brunch with Bach series, plays with local chamber groups and in metropolitan area clubs.

May wedding date is made

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Enfield, of San Diego, Calif., formerly of Royal Oak, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Kristin Grace Oberer, to Peter John McBryan, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McBryan, of Heather Lane. A late May wedding is planned.

The bride-elect was graduated from W.E. Groves High School, Birmingham, and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Human Resources Development, with a minor in Psychology, from Oakland University. She is a member of the National Honor Society.

Mr. McBryan was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Psychology/Theater Arts from Oakland University. He is a member of Psi-Chi, the psychology national honor society, and Golden Key national honor society.

Zilio-Valdes troth is told

Mr. and Mrs. Arsenio J. Valdes, of Hialeah, Fla., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mayra, to Paul A. Zilio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Zilio, of North Renard Road. An early August wedding is planned.

Miss Valdes was graduated from St. John the Apostle Elementary School and Notre Dame Academy in Miami and holds an Associates degree from Miami-Dade Community College. She is now a junior at St. Thomas University, working toward a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Her fiancé was graduated from St. Raymond Elementary School and De La Salle Collegiate High School and received his Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Michigan. He is an alumni member of the Boys Engineering Club and a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers' Student Chapter.

Myra Little (left), of The Woods, and Joanne Shiner, of The Farms, check envelopes on several of the 500 invitations sent to local businesses, service groups and individuals, bidding them to attend the second annual "Tribute to MCF."

Their mini-concert will be followed by dancing to music by the six-member "Rhodes" band. The group plays contemporary pop music as well as songs from the '40s, '50s and '60s, and features a female vocalist.

Dorothy Steiger and Myra Little of the Woods and Mary Matuja of The Shores are among local residents serving on the committees planning the evening. Maria Alexander, a Mount Clemens resident, is general chairman of the "Tribute. Marge Morgan, of Fraser, is chairman of the East Regional MCF board which, due to the huge success of last year's first-time event, has decided to make the "Tribute" its major annual fund raiser.

Tickets are available for a $50 per person donation from any East Regional board member or at MCF's East Service Center, located on 13 Mile Road in Warren. Proceeds will be used to help cancer patients and their families in Macomb and Eastern Wayne counties. Further information may be obtained by calling 294-4430 between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

"An evening of such good food and such high quality entertainment is a good deal at any price," says Marge Moran. When the major portion of that price goes to MCF's East Region, it's a great deal.

Second time around honors for Jan Arndt

The Edsel & Eleanor Ford House was the setting for the Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women's recent annual meeting during which Ann Nicholson, chairman of Education Foundation Programs and the branch's new president-elect, announced that the organization is honoring Past-President Jan Arndt (1982-84) by making a $1500 contribution to the AAUW Education Foundation in her name.

Mrs. Arndt was cited for the high goals and standards of her presidency as well as the energy and efficiency with which many of her aims were accomplished. Particularly stressed were membership recruitment, with the Pointe Branch showing the greatest gains in the state of Michigan during her presidency, the application for the "Pens for Peace" grant, the design for the new branch brochure, the new look of the branch newsletter and the completion of the first branch banner, bringing the board of directors in compliance with AAUW bylaws.

She was also praised for her leadership position in promoting the importance of the branch in the community and in the overall AAUW picture.

This is the second time Jan, who has degrees from Alma College and the University of Michigan and is currently program director at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, has been so honored by the local AAUW.

Mrs. Nicholson also announced that five colleges and universities are presently cooperating with AAUW-GP in its local scholarship program, which makes funds available to women who already have undergraduate degrees but who wish to pursue further studies in order to re-enter the work force.

Interested women who live east of Woodward in Detroit, in the five Pointes, Harper Woods and Macomb County are invited to apply at the Financial Aid Offices of Madonna, Walsh or Macomb County Community Colleges, the University of Detroit or the Center for Creative Studies, for information on the AAUW-GP scholarships.

Vows spoken in The Pointe

Saint Paul's-on-the-Lake was the setting Saturday, December 29, for the wedding of Kimberly Ann Drumme, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Drumme Jr., of Harvard Road, and David Jerome Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hunt, of Bridgeport, Conn.

Monsignor Francis X. Canfield presided at the 12:30 o'clock rites, which were followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe Club.

The bride, who wore her mother's wedding gown, was attended by Kelly Ann Doelle as honor maid and by bridesmaids Jennifer Parke, of Atlanta, Ga., Cynthia Connors, of Fairfax, Va., Joyce Grabowski, of Washington, D.C., Francine Gough and Susan and Barbara Hunt, the bridegroom's sisters, all dressed in white velvet and carrying red silk flowers.

The bridegroom asked his father to act as best man. Ushers were Shawn and Patrick Drumme, the bride's brothers, John Hunt, of Alexandria, Va., the bridegroom's brother, Keith Joseph, also of Alexandria, and Brad Huberman and Jerry Brunton, the bridegroom's uncle, both of Washington, D.C. The bride's mother wore a dress and coat ensemble, grey in color and trimmed with fur. The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of pale brown silk. The newlyweds vacationed in New York City. They are making their home in Alexandria.

Vows spoken in California

Susan Sinclair Livingood and Greg Dennis Goodwin exchanged marriage vows Saturday, Mar. 30, at a family ceremony in the Japanese Gardens of the Huntington Hotel, Pasadena, Calif. The 5 o'clock ceremony at which The Reverend Brando L. Lovely presided was followed by a reception in the hotel's Garden Room.

The bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Livingood, of University Place, was attended by her sister, Mrs. William VanReed Furbush. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Goodwin, of Avon Park, Fla., asked his father to act as best man.

The newlyweds vacationed in Santa Barbara, Calif. They plan a trip to the Caribbean later in the year. They are at home in San Francisco.

Plan to wed in Colorado

Planning a June wedding in Aspen, Colo., are Gale A. Creek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Creek, of Denver, Colo., and Albert F. Fiorello Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fiorello, of Hollywood Avenue.

Miss Creek, a graduate of Colorado College of Medical & Dental Assistants in Denver, is head of

Out-Patient Billing at Aspen Valley Hospital.

Her fiancé was graduated from Grosse Pointe North High School and received his Bachelor of Science degree from Alma College. He is the owner of two service businesses in Aspen, where he also works as a free-lance writer.

Virginia Berry

Virginia Berry will say vows

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling P. Berry, of Lakeland Court, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Anne, to Matthew Jay Erickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Erickson, of Cincinnati, Ohio. The wedding is planned for late June, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Miss Berry is a Grosse Pointe South High School alumna. She and her fiancé are both members of Phi Beta Kappa, holders of Bachelor of Arts degrees in Economics from Kenyon College, where he affiliated with Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity.

She is currently a high school teacher at Friends School in Detroit. He works for First National Bank of Chicago in Boston, Mass.

Lakeside Palette Club will meet

Sister Kinue Matsuzaki, a recent "Pointer of Interest," will present a watercolor demonstration at the Lakeside Palette Club's meeting next Tuesday, Apr. 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Teen Room at the St. Clair Shores Recreation Center. Visitors and prospective members are welcome, for a small donation.

Bach Brunch is April treat

'Springtime guests at the Detroit Institute of Arts' popular Sunday morning "Brunch with Bach" programs at 10 and 11:30 a.m. in the museum's indoor garden cafe, Kresge Court, will be treated to three informal chamber concerts in April.

There'll be no "Brunch with Bach" on Easter Sunday, but the following Sunday, Apr. 14, will find the Detroit Brass Society performing music for brass quintet by Schickele, Ewald and Carter, and the Sunday after that, Apr. 21, will feature I-Fu Wang, violin, Owen Carman, violoncello, and Deborah Moriarty, piano, playing Brahms' Piano Trio in B Major.

The month closes with a Sunday,

Apr. 28, program by Grosse Pointe resident Lawrence LaGore, piano, who will perform works by Scarlatti, Beethoven and Debussy.

Two menus are offered each week: a full brunch at $7.75 and a lighter, continental brunch at $6.75. No-frills concert-only stairway seating is also available on a limited basis, at $2.50 per person.

Advance reservations are required through the museum's ticket office, 832-2730 during regular business hours. They may be made as early as a month before a selected concert date and as late as the Friday afternoon before a Sunday concert.

It is suggested that children younger than 5 are too young to attend "Brunch with Bach."

Myasthenia Gravis fashion benefit set

"Springcast '85: Sunrise to Sunset" is the theme of Sak's Fifth Avenue's presentation for this year's edition of the annual fashion event hosted by the Myasthenia Gravis Association. It's set for Saturday, Apr. 20, at noon at Dearborn's Fairlane Manor.

Cocktails and luncheon will precede the fashion show, and a keynote address by Florine Mark, honorary chairperson, president of Weight Watchers, will follow it. Information on reservations, at $22.50 per person, may be obtained by calling 342-5939.

Proceeds will help fight Myasthenia Gravis, a neuromuscular disease that strikes men, women and children of all ages and races, and is frequently misdiagnosed. In MG sufferers, breathing, chewing, focusing, swallowing, walking, grasping or speaking become impossible without medication.

There is as yet no cure, but proper treatment enables many, although disabled, to live limited but fuller lives. Untreated, MG can be fatal.

Assumption offers Young Fives in fall

Assumption Nursery School and Toddler Center, located on Marter Road, will open a new "Young Fives" program in the fall. The class is for children who will be five years old by Dec. 1, 1985, but need an additional year of school for development.

The purpose of the program is to provide an environment in which the child meets with success while performing tasks at his developmental level, gaining a wholesome attitude toward learning and

"Young Fives" allows a child additional time to gain competence in the cognitive, psychomotor, social and emotional skills necessary to operate successfully in his/her world. Classes will meet from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. five afternoons a week. Parents may select a minimum of three days per week for their child.

Further information on the program may be obtained by contacting Noreen Bara, director, at 772-4477.

From Another Pointe Of View

It's set for the night before Opening Night, Sunday, May 19, and will be a special testimonial dinner honoring Anthony A. Bliss, retiring general manager of the Met. It's being planned under the leadership of Mrs. John B. Ford III, the DGOA's 1985 general chairman, and her co-chairman Mrs. Herbert I. Lord, both of The Farms.

Invitations to the black tie evening, which begins with a 6:30 p.m. reception in the museum's North Court, dinner following an hour later in the South Court, will be mailed in mid-month to the DGOA's Benefactors, Sponsors, Patrons and Associate Patrons. The Met will be in residence at Detroit's Masonic Temple May 20 through 25. The number to call for additional details is 832-5200.

Down the Road Apiece, Toward the River

"Last year's sell-out is back!" The speaker is Grosse Pointe's Mike Cavanaugh, co-chairman of the 1985 University of Detroit Grand Prix View Party, addressing the ranks at the party's ticket sales kick-off. "Tickets are already going fast for the Third Annual U. of D. Prix View — in fact, advance requests began coming in as early as the close of last year's party!"

And why not? ... for the U. of D. Law School, built over 100 years ago, is fortuitously located on one of the hottest race course turning points. It's here that U. of D. partygoers, seated in private grandstands, see the blazing cars swing out of the Chrysler curve and roar down the Congress Street straightaway.

This year's Grand Prix Weekend is Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 21, 22 and 23, and along with a stupendous on-the-spot bird's-eye view U. of D. offers open bar and refreshment tents on the premises Sunday plus a Continental Sunday breakfast buffet and an outdoor Sunday barbeque, plus indoor viewing from the Law School's third floor, plus indoor large-screen TV, outdoor TV monitors and private indoor restrooms. That last, as veteran on-the-spot Grand Prix watchers will tell you, is a feature NOT to be sneezed at!

And this year, in answer to last year's requests, the Prix View committee is providing the added plus of an on-site leader board, from direct hook-up with CBS, to keep fans up-to-date on the losses and gains of their favorite drivers. The committee will also offer guests complimentary ear plugs and live entertainment between races.

A special discount rate of $110 is the prize for those who make their reservations before May 1. A $25 non-refundable deposit per ticket holds the space. Prix View cost after May 1 is $130, and there's a special corporate package available, including a welcome banner unfurled on-site and a private viewing room, with the purchase of 50 tickets or more. Further information may be obtained by contacting the U. of D. Special Events Office, 927-1008.

And Now, Taking to The Air . . .

WTVS/Channel 56 has a critical need for volunteers to assist in its all-important auction, airing Apr. 12 to 20. More than 3,000 people are needed to work in a variety of positions during the nine-day fund raiser broadcast from the New Center studios of Detroit's public television station.

"We have a crucial shortage," says Carolyn Meldrum, volunteer coordinator. "There are many different jobs to choose from, flexible hours — and being in on the auction action is always a lot of fun!"

Volunteers assist in displaying merchandise on the set, taking bids phoned in by viewers, confirming high bids by phone and delivering items to the high bidders when they come to the studios to pick up their merchandise. Especially needed are Monday through Friday, Apr. 15 to 19 volunteers, in two shifts: 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Last year's auction raised $822,700, or some 11 percent of the station's annual operating budget, helping to make possible the showing of such programs as "Masterpiece Theatre" and "Sesame Street" in Detroit and such locally-produced programs as "Friday Night Special." Persons or groups interested in volunteering for the 17th annual auction can contact Carolyn at 873-7200, Extension 204. She'll be delighted to hear from you.

Anniversary party date for widows

"Let's celebrate Our Sixth Anniversary" is the theme for the Widow's Organization's meeting next Wednesday, Apr. 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the Dearborn Civic Center. Dr. Stuart Bundy, president of Henry Ford Community College, is the featured speaker. State Representative Bill Runco and Leonard

Moore, an attorney, will talk on subjects of interest to the widowed woman.

Refreshments will be served and annual dues collected at the door. Further information on the meeting or the group may be obtained by calling 582-3792.

Farm, Garden flower show

The Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club has scheduled its annual flower show meeting for 12:30 p.m. next Wednesday, Apr. 10, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. Co-hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. John D. Bayne, Mrs. David Hinks and Mrs. J. Warren Johnson.

Theme of this year's show is "The Four Seasons." Entries will fall into six divisions:

- Spring — a table arrangement of spring flowers.
- Summer — an arrangement depicting any summer scene.
- Fall — a dried arrangement, using branches, flowers, leaves and grasses.
- Winter — a meal tray set for one, depicting winter.
- Novice — an Easter arrangement, utilizing a rabbit.
- Horticulture — any plant material in the owner's possession for three months or more.

Members may enter all classes one time, with an unlimited number of specimens permitted in the Horticulture Division. All entries must be in place by 10:30 a.m.

Calling Salvation Army's Auxiliary

The Auxiliary to the Salvation Army gathers at the Salvation Army's Royal Oak headquarters next Monday, Apr. 8, for an 11 a.m. business meeting, a brown bag luncheon at noon (dessert and beverages will be provided) and an afternoon program, "Love and Suspense," presented by the Detroit Historical Society's Fern Fraser.

Take a Tiffany Tour of Detroit

Some of the finest examples of Detroit's own Tiffany treasures — windows in two historic churches, two historic homes and the Old Wayne County Building — will be featured Saturday, Apr. 20, on a day-long bus tour sponsored by the Detroit Historical Society and Cutters Art Glass of Royal Oak.

The tour begins at 9:30 a.m. at Cutters, where coffee and croissants will be served before it's time to board the Historymobile, and ends there at 3 p.m. with a wine and cheese reception and slide presentation.

Tickets are $30 per person ($25 for Historical Society members), including luncheon and a stop at the Detroit Historical Museum to

CIS is seeking volunteer help

The Cancer Information Service, housed at the Michigan Cancer Foundation, is recruiting volunteers to become Information Specialists for its toll-free telephone information and referral system.

The training schedule entails eight sessions of four hours each: Tuesday and Thursday, Apr. 16 and 18, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, Apr. 22, 23 and 25, and Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, Apr. 29 and 30 and May 2.

Upon successful completion of the course, the volunteers will be asked to commit to a minimum of four hours per week as Information Specialists.

Potential trainees do not need prior knowledge of cancer, although it is helpful. They will, during their training, acquire a number of useful skills. "They will learn cancer medical knowledge, research trends and interpersonal communication skills, as well as referral techniques for community resources and services," Grosse Pointe's Jane Hoey, coordinator of the program, explains.

CIS is part of a national network of cancer information centers funded by the National Cancer Institute. CIS phone lines, accessible to all Michigan residents, are open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

Persons interested in becoming part of this volunteer effort to provide accurate cancer information and assistance to the lay public and health professionals are invited to call Volunteer Services at the MCF, 833-0710, Extension 367/368, for further information.

Take a Tiffany Tour of Detroit

view a special exhibit of beaded garments, 1860-1980. Reservations are limited and must be made in advance through the Historical Society office, 833-7934.

Vickie Payne, designer and co-owner of Cutters, and Jim Conway, of the Detroit Historical Department, will be the tour commentators.

Louis C. Tiffany and Company are founded in 1878 to make windows for public buildings, churches and homes. Unlike his contemporaries, who painted shapes on glass, Tiffany used sections of colored glass cut into desired shapes. The quality of the glass and the variation in thickness created the jewel-like brilliance of his work.

Panel focus is childcare

The Michigan Professional Women's Network has scheduled a panel discussion, "Childcare Center Services and the Working Parent," for its Monday, Apr. 8, dinner meeting at the Ramada Inn in Southfield. The panel will include Carole Quarterman, director of the Childcare Coordinating Council of Detroit and Wayne County; Cecilia Mobley, education specialist for the City of Detroit, Neighborhood Services Department; Helen O'Conner, Corporate Childcare Services and Business consultant for Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan; and Susan Slatery, Corporate Childcare Services, C.P.A.

Their program will cover the problems faced by the working parent, the difference between custodial and enriching care, and current corporate trends and benefits to employers who make provisions for childcare.

The Michigan Professional Women's Network is interested in all areas of concern to the professional woman. Monday's meeting, like all MPWN meetings, is open to the public, but advance reservations are required. They may be made by calling 851-9441.

The evening will begin with a 6 p.m. networking hour. MPWN seeks, by learning from speaker panels, sharing information and actively networking together, to help career women succeed in business, industry and educational fields.

Woman's Club Group to meet

Reservations for the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club Discussion and Garden Group meeting next Wednesday, Apr. 10, at the home of Mrs. Martin Linder may be made by contacting Mrs. Jon Cook by Easter Sunday, Apr. 7. Mrs. Cook, chairman, will introduce the speaker, Jean Dodenhoff, curator of the Grosse Pointe Historical Society, whose topic is "Know Your Grosse Pointes."

The prettiest face in the world will not look beautiful without a good hairstyle. And, the prettiest hair styles in the world don't work if they're not cut properly. For the gentleman who needs a good hair cut, style or perm... Mr. Toti has a special time by appointment.

Short and to the Pointe

Marine Pfc. Steven C. Gust, son of Frank W. and Frances S. Gust, of Fisher Road, has completed the Infantry Combat Training Course at Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif. He is a 1984 graduate of Grosse Pointe South High School.

Among members of the Hillsdale College Tower Players who played lead roles in the premiere of "3 Wise Men: A Twelfth-Night Entertainment," an original comedy about the three wise men of Bethlehem, Feb. 21 to 24 at the college, is Joseph Walker III, son of Mrs. Joseph J. Walker, of The Farms. Walker, a junior, played "Balthasar," one of the wise men. He is a University Liggett School graduate.

Sarah Bernard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Bernard Jr., of Hamilton Court, earned a place on the Dean's List at the University of Notre Dame, where she is a sophomore pre-med major. Sarah is spending the year studying in Rome, Italy.

GP Unitarian women meet

Musical Memories is the theme for the Tuesday, Apr. 9, meeting of the women of the Alliance of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church. Luncheon will be served at noon in the main building of the church, located on Maumee Avenue, between St. Clair and Neff Road.

President Jean Harris will conduct a brief annual meeting and election of officers, after which Betty Sue Campbell, at the piano, will accompany Bonnie Randolph Gibson's songs of the sentimental past. Visitors wishing to hear the music are welcome at 1 p.m.

Plan April display of African Violets

The Border Cities African Violet Club will present its 32nd Annual African Violet Show, "Violet Round-Up," Saturday, Apr. 13, from 2 to 7 p.m. and Sunday, Apr. 14, from 12:30 to 6:30 p.m. at Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church on the corner of Burns in Indian Village. Admission is a 35 cent donation. Plants and leaves will be available for sale.

The Indian Village Men's Garden Club will provide a food service both days, starting at 12:30 p.m. Additional information on the show may be obtained by contacting Sheila Weiss at 884-4255, Ellen Platz at 278-5030 or Rayeanne Magee at 865-0588.

Quilter Days in Michigan

An event for quilting enthusiasts at every experience level will be staged at the Michigan Exposition and Fairgrounds on Friday, Apr. 12, and Saturday, Apr. 13. "Quilters' Days in Michigan" will feature speakers, films and displays. Representatives from Michigan State University Museum will be on hand to register quilts for the museum archives.

Phase I's off to the flicks

Phase I, the group of single, young adults, ages 25 to 40, who gather regularly for Sunday evening program meetings at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, will not meet on Easter Sunday, but all members who enjoy movies are invited to rendezvous at 7 p.m. next Wednesday, Apr. 10, in front of the Woods Theatre for a Night at the Flicks.

Antique decor for Pettipointe

The Pettipointe Chapter of Quilters meets today, Thursday, Apr. 4, at 11:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Martin Tepatti for luncheon and a program, "Decorating with Antiques," by May Baker of Birmingham.

Easter show at Youtheatre

Detroit Youtheatre's special Wiggle Club Easter show will feature Peter Rabbit, performed by Cleveland's Poppinjay Puppets, and the world's only Bunny Mother in her annual guest appearance on Saturday, Apr. 6, in the Detroit Institute of Arts' auditorium/theatre.

There will be two hour-long performances, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., of the show created especially for families with children ages 3 to 8. Youtheatre's own parade-sized, animated stuffed toys, Benny Bird and Barnaby Bunny, will join the Bunny Mother in the lobby to greet the audiences, and will help introduce the performances on-stage.

Tickets at $3 for children and adults ($2 each in groups of 10 or more) may be purchased in advance at the DIA's ticket office, 832-2730 during regular business hours, or at the door.

Youtheatre's Wiggle Club shows, introductions to live, professional theatre for families with younger children, are designed to hold the shorter attention span of a child as young as 3. Children younger than 3 will not be admitted to the theatre.

DSO Women to host dinner

The Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will sponsor a gala dinner at the Renaissance Club preceding Leontyne Price's Wednesday, Apr. 17, concert with the Detroit Symphony at 8:30 p.m. in Ford Auditorium. It is the third and concluding concert of this season's popular DSO Great Performers Series. Reservations for the dinner were accepted through Apr. 1.

Grand Marais Club to meet

Mrs. Paul Nagel will be assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. Thomas Carey and Mrs. Milton Weed when she opens her home Monday, Apr. 8, to members of the Grand Marais Garden Club. Margaret Converse will present the post-luncheon program, "Prairie Flowers in Michigan."

See 'Fiddler' at True Grist

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial will sponsor a Wednesday, May 1, day trip to Homer, Mich., to see "Fiddler on the Roof" at the True Grist dinner theater housed in a castle-like grist mill.

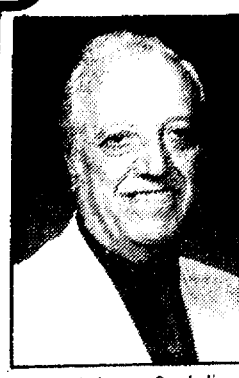

True Grist, which for three-quarters of a century converted grain into the finest flour, is listed on both the National and State Registers of Historic Sites. Its atmosphere combines the intimate charm of dinner theater with "down by the old mill stream" ambience.

The bus will leave the War Memorial at 10 a.m., returning at 6 p.m. Cost is $33 per person, including transportation, a buffet lunch and the matinee performance. Reservation information is available by calling 881-7511.

"So, I want a sound, medically-oriented program designed just for me — at a place where I'm comfortable. I want to control my weight, learn about nutrition and do it close to home. And I want professional advice from a staff that knows what a healthy lifestyle is all about.

I get all that — and more — at Bon Secours Hospital's Health & Fitness Center."

Call 779-7040 today and ask about:

- Professional fitness evaluation included in membership (a $80 value).
- Babysitting available while you exercise.
- Starting your day with exercise — center opens at 6 a.m.

NEW ON THE MARKET!

Unquestionably one of the Pointe's finest homes, the floor plan is well designed for either entertaining or family activities. While the rooms are large, the well proportioned scale and many fireplaces give it a warm feeling not usually found in larger homes. Every corner of this house is tastefully decorated and carefully maintained, including the guest suite and garage apartment. The grounds are beautifully landscaped with majestic trees and ornamental plantings. Extremely economical to heat for its size, it has self storing storms and screen throughout. Four family bedrooms, guest suite, apartment — six baths — three lavatories.

Originally built for a governor of Michigan, this fine house is situated on a secluded brick street near the lake. Classic oak parquet and herringbone floors grace many of the spacious rooms five of which have a fireplace. Recent improvements include new roof, gutters, custom storm windows and doors and insulation in attic, walls and basement. Eight bedrooms and five and one-half baths.

Pointer of Interest

by Janet Mueller

Came Easter time, and Catherine Petz, newly married and living in San Francisco, needed a rabbit. Not just any rabbit: a duplicate of the brown ceramic one her mother had put out every Easter. So she and Tom went looking . . .

And they found Pooka, who is white, not brown, a native of Germany and a Very Nice Rabbit indeed, if not precisely the one Catherine had been looking for. And they brought Pooka home. And that's how it all began.

"We just kept looking for the ultimate rabbit," Catherine says, explaining why, today, the home of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Petz is, if not awash in rabbits, certainly abounding in them. There are precious rabbits in jade and rose quartz, ivory netsuke rabbits, crystal and bronze rabbits, wood, lead and cement rabbits.

There are Steuben, Herrend, Royal Doulton, Royal Copenhagen, Lladro and Cybis rabbits. There are outdoor rabbits who live out-back in the Petzes' oriental garden. There are stuffed rabbits who live upstairs in the children's bedrooms (now that the children are older, many of these come out only at Easter — it's hard for a University of Michigan or Michigan State University student, male at that!, to explain why he keeps a roomful of stuffed rabbits: he can keep it quiet or, if found out, fall back on the traditional "Uh . . . I have this MOTHER . . ." which usually works; every boy has this MOTHER).

By the bye: by stuffed rabbits, we mean toys, not once-alive, furry little examples of the taxidermist's art. One must draw the line somewhere.

There are, all in all, not counting the stuffed rabbits or the rabbits who live up north, in the Petzes' vacation home, or the rabbit suncatchers that come out only at Easter, or the rabbit charm Catherine often wears around her neck, approximately 80 rabbits in residence at the Petzes' home in The Shores.

NONE OF THEM are alive. Dr. Petz has asthma; that precludes

Catherine Petz, with a few of the 80-plus rabbits she has collected during her search for the Ultimate Easter Bunny. Among the figures on the top shelf of the Rabbit Case are Pooka, discovered in San Francisco, and Pooka's Brother, found a few years later in Germany.

pets. "We had to get rid of the dog. The kids thought it might be a better idea to get rid of daddy." But when it came down to a vote, filial devotion carried the day. Tom Petz never did quite get up the nerve to ask for a roll call.

He and Catherine are both from the metropolitan Detroit area, but they met in California where Tom, just out of the Navy, was "the man who came to dinner" at the home of Catherine's brother, married to his (Tom's) second cousin.

It was a blind date that worked. San Francisco was Dr. and Mrs. Petz' first home, while he was in residency. They loved it there, go back whenever they can, and have maintained a close relationship over the years with their first neighbors. Many of Catherine's jade rabbits, her husband's gifts, came from San Francisco.

Many of her netsuke rabbits are gifts from her sister, Alda Marie (Mrs. James) McCook. "She's an antiquer," Catherine says. "I am not." Alda Marie introduced Catherine to the exquisite oriental pendant netsukes. Catherine got Alda Marie started on owls.

Alda Marie had just been married, and Catherine came home from a trip to England with a special gift for the newlyweds: a picture of an owl. "I like it," said Alda Marie's husband. By the time he got around to explaining that he liked the PICTURE, but didn't care one way or another about owls in general, Alda Marie was the possessor of a burgeoning owl collection.

It's a good, comprehensive collection. "But she doesn't have as many owls as I have rabbits," says Catherine.

Dr. Petz, a lung specialist, decided to return to Michigan to set up his practice, and he and Catherine built the nucleus of their present home in The Shores 22 years ago. When the children began arriving, they added on — four times in all.

TOM JR., 20, is studying Computer Engineering at the University of Michigan. Bill, 18, is a Landscape Architecture student at Michigan State. David, 15, is at Grosse Pointe North High. John, 13, and Cathy, 11 (at last! — a girl!) are at Star of the Sea.

They're very much a family, doing things together because they like to be together. "Skiing," says Catherine, "is the best thing we do. And we all like to golf, but nobody's great." They spend a good deal of time at the home they built a few years ago in the Harbor Springs area. What with their Shores house, and its four additions, and the vacation house, the Petzes have been more involved in building than most families over the years.

It hasn't fazed them. "There's something about living through a mess," Catherine philosophizes. There's the we're-all-in-this-together camaraderie, and the whatever-I-do-it-will-still-be-a-mess-until-it's-finished liberation. And when it is finished, it's what you want. "We like room and privacy," Catherine says. "We like space."

They also like to drive, preferably westward, and to ski out west. "When we were younger, Tom and I took trips to Europe. Now we like to vacation with the boys and Cathy; they're the right ages for it." When that all-too-brief right ages period passes, Dr. and Mrs. Petz may go off on their travels again.

And wherever they go, Catherine will keep her eyes open for the ultimate rabbit. Years ago, on a trip to Germany, she found Pooka's Brother. Brown, not white, but most definitely a product of the same parents. She brought him home.

Where he is, undeniably, very happy with Pooka, and Catherine is very happy with the pair of them, and with all their friends and relations, in cases and on tabletops, in the garden and at the windows, all sizes, shapes, colors and textures — but none of them, she must admit, the ultimate rabbit.

"I haven't found him yet," she says. Nobody can say Catherine Petz hasn't given it an unusually good try — and the search is still on.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — collection of Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth continuing, this week, a series on FOODS RICH in IRON.

SAVORY HALIBUT STEW

This savory stew is too tasty to be relegated to the Lenten season file; the family will love it any evening through the fall, winter and spring. To complement it, serve bran muffins, a platter of raw vegetables and apple crisp.

1 clove garlic, minced
1 cup chopped onions
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
3/4 cup chopped celery
3/4 cup chopped carrot
2 Tbsp. margarine
1 can (29-oz.) tomatoes
1 cup tomato juice
1 cup white wine
1/4 tsp. basil
1/4 tsp. oregano
1 can (6 1/2-oz.) chopped clams
Salt and pepper
Minced parsley for garnish

Thaw frozen halibut; cut in one-inch pieces. In a Dutch oven, saute garlic, onions, green pepper, celery and carrot in melted margarine. Add tomatoes, tomato juice, wine, basil and oregano. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. Add halibut and clams. Cover and simmer 5 to 10 minutes, or until halibut is tender. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Sprinkle with minced parsley. Makes 8 servings.
Calories per serving about 192.
Cholesterol about 74 mgs.

TROUT WITH MUSTARD SAUCE

For a rare treat, pick up a 10-ounce package of frozen rainbow trout (there will be two beauties in the package). Prepare the fish in mustard sauce and serve them cold, surrounded by slices of bright red tomatoes, cucumbers, salad greens and a serving of crisp green beans, accompanied by thick slices of warm French bread. It's a dinner, low in calories and cholesterol, you'll want to repeat often.

6 cups water
1/4 cup Dijon style mustard
1 1/2 tsp. sugar
2 Tbsp. olive oil
2 Tbsp. white wine vinegar
1/2 Tbsp. dill weed
Salad greens, sliced tomatoes and cucumbers

Cut off heads, fins and tails of the trout. Open each fish and cut lengthwise in half. Pour 6 cups water into a 12-inch skillet. Bring to a boil; reduce heat to keep water at a simmer. Add the trout, skin side down, in a single layer (the water will cover them generously as they swell). Simmer, uncovered, until opaque through when tested with a fork, about 3 to 5 minutes.

With a slotted pancake turner, remove fillets and place them, skin side down, in a single layer, on a kitchen tray to drain. Immediately remove skin by inserting a thin-bladed knife just under the skin at the wide end, then peeling off the skin with your fingers (sometimes grabbing the skin with a small pliers helps). Discard the skin.

In a small bowl, whisk together mustard, sugar, oil, vinegar and about 1/2 tsp. dill weed (optional).

Remove two of the fillets (they will be firm enough to pick up with your fingers) to a serving platter. Spoon half the mustard sauce over them (it will run down). Top with the two remaining fillets so each fish is assembled as if whole; spoon remaining sauce over top. Cover tightly with saran wrap and chill 12 to 24 hours to allow the flavors to blend. At serving time, garnish with salad greens, tomato and cucumber slices. Serves 2.

Calories per serving about 230.
Cholesterol about 61 mgs.

FOIL FISH BAKE

4 fresh lake trout, mackerel or other fish (2 lbs.)
2 Tbsp. margarine
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1/2 cup chopped dill sprigs
1/4 cup chopped chives
1/4 cup chopped onion
2 Tbsp. lemon juice

Preheat oven to 400°. Clean and rinse fish; allow to drain; sprinkle lightly with salt. Make stuffing: mix together margarine, parsley, dill sprigs, chives, onion and lemon juice. Stuff and wrap each fish separately in aluminum foil, sealing edges carefully. Bake 20 minutes. Unwrap; remove to a hot platter; garnish with parsley and lemon slices. Serve to 4.

Calories per serving about 220.

To present Handel 'St. John Passion' Good Friday night

Handel's first oratorio, "St. John Passion," will be performed tomorrow, Apr. 5, Good Friday night, at 8 p.m. by the Old Christ Church choir, soloists and orchestra at Old Christ Church, located on East Jefferson Avenue at I-75, two blocks east of Renaissance Center.

Admission is free and there is ample, lighted, guarded parking surrounding the 137-year-old historic church.

Handel composed the "Passion" when he was 18, using the Bible text of St. John, Chapter 19. It was performed in Hamburg the following Good Friday, with immediate success. Malcolm Johns, conductor, is responsible for selecting it for presentation this Good Friday, in celebration of Handel's 300th anniversary.

Handel (1685-1759) was born in Halle, just 50 miles from Eisenach where Bach was born a month later — but the two musical giants never met. Handel began his musical instruction at age 9 with Zachow, by age 11 was his assistant organist, and moved to Hamburg, where he became a member of the pit orchestra at the opera house, at age 18.

One of the leading opera singers, Johann Mateson, jealous of the "new boy in town's" success, left the stage during a performance and tried to shove Handel away from the harpsichord. Handel resisted, and a vigorous fight broke up the performance.

The two continued their brawl down the aisle of the house and out into the street, where swords were provided. "The duel might have ended badly for us," Mateson later recalled, "if, by God's mercy, my sword had not broken on a large metal button of Handel's coat."

At Old Christ Church tomorrow night, the part of The Evangelist will be sung by Lawrence Nuckolls, accompanied on the tracker organ by James Hamman, organist of Detroit's Central Methodist Church. Craig Everett will sing the lines of Christ, Lindsay Barr the role of Pilate.

The aria solos will be sung by Carolyn Grimes and Faye Washington, sopranos, James Moore and Charles Furchak, tenors, and Delos Grobe, Westminster Presbyterian Church organist, bass.

Concertmaster of the chamber orchestra will be Geoffrey Applegate, a member of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Thomas Kuras, organist of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, will be at the main organ. Joseph Jackson, organist of First Presbyterian Church, Detroit, will also participate.

Handel's little-known "St. John Passion" captures the proceedings leading to the crucifixion with dramatic excitement in the choir's "angry crowd" choruses, with contrasting contemplative solo arias and duets.

The final chorus, "Gently sleep, my Lord, thy toil is over," could easily pass for mature Bach — who actually did set this final chorus of his own "St. John Passion" 20 years later.

Short and to The Pointe

Among winners in the 1984-85 Michigan High School Journalism Contest sponsored by the Michigan Press Women are Grosse Pointe South High School junior Kea Joan McKinney, third place, feature stories; and Grosse Pointe South High School senior Stu Whitney, third place, sports stories.

Nancy J. Kohler, of North Brys Drive, was named to the Dean's List for the fall, 1984 semester at Saginaw Valley State College.

Kristin L. Kelly, daughter of James and JoAnn Kelly, of The Park, has been initiated into the Alpha Beta chapter of Alpha Gamma sorority at the University of Michigan.

Elaine Catlin, of Anita Avenue, was graduated from Michigan State University in December. She received a Bachelor of Arts degree, with honors, majoring in social work and psychology.

Judith Dallaire Christian, of Lakeland Avenue, received a Master of Arts in Teaching, Early Childhood Education, from Saginaw Valley State College this past fall.

St. Paul School student Lindsay Youngblood made a poster which won its division (first and second grade, Detroit division) in Detroit Edison's 18th annual Electrical Safety Poster and Comic Strip Contest. Winning efforts were displayed at Edison Customer office and headquarters throughout Michigan in February.

Bradley Joseph Armbruster, of Bedford Road, received a Bachelor of Science in Business from Miami University at winter commencement ceremonies Dec. 21.

Thomas Patrick Steepe, son of Dr. and Mrs. C.A. Don Steepe, of Glen Arbor Lane, received a Bachelor of Science degree in Psychology from Michigan State University in commencement ceremonies Dec. 8.

Sports Week

By Peggy O'Connor

Only in baseball . . .

Couly anybody pull off a hoax like the one George Plimpton did in the April 1 issue of Sports Illustrated. Plimpton's spellbinding account of a french horn-playing, Sanskrit-speaking follower of Buddhism by the name of Hayden "Sidd" Finch who just happened to be able to throw a baseball at 168 miles per hour, had baseball fans all over the country in an uproar.

Of course, a cynical old baseball follower like myself didn't fall for the story, which turned out to be "Plimpton's April Fool's Day joke on the sports world. Noooo, of course I didn't. (Sure. When I found out that the story was a hoax, you could have knocked me over with a Dave Rozema fastball).

The best part of baseball, though, is finding dedicated coaches like North's Frank Sumner (South's Dan Griesbaum and ULS's Glynn Conley, too). This spring, Sumner has been busy getting the Norsemen ready to chase their seventh consecutive Bi-County League title, as well as running all over Michigan tending to the affairs of the Michigan State High School Baseball Coaches' Association as the group's president.

By the way, Sumner reports that lefty Frank Sumner IV, 6, is ready for Neighborhood Club T-ball this spring. Little Frank's brother, William John, 3½, (named after former North baseball standouts Bill Babcock and John Clem) is a righthander. The two are already crushing the ball, their dad says. (Yeah, but can they speak Sanskrit?)

Baseball Commissioner Peter Ueberroth and all the major league owners can rest assured that baseball is still No. 1 in the fans hearts . . . even if those fans are in the under 10 age group.

I found that out last weekend while instructing two classes in sportswriting as part of the Second Annual Young Authors Conference at Kerby School. My groups — K-2 students Carey King, Joey Werner, Tom Simmonds, Timmy Kimmel, Michael Anway, Andrew Huige, Kevin Kasiborski, Chris Frey, Daniel Cardasis, David Vinande, Patrick Maun and Kit Roberts; and 3-5 students Chip Peterson, Jeff Peterson, Matt Solak, Duffy Chapie, Aaron Michael, Brian Duignan, Mark Sansoterra, Randy Lancaster, Joshua Buckler, Mike Nickels, Brian Dunphy and Paul Geist — wrote and talked a lot about what they liked and didn't like about sports. Baseball got a lot of attention, as you can see:

"What I like about sports is when somebody hits a home run. I like Kirk Gibson, Alan Trammell and Lou Whitaker (when he's on second base). For the Tigers, Sparky Anderson is probably the best coach." — Randy Lancaster, Poupard School.

"My second favorite is baseball. I like the Tigers and I like Sparky Anderson because he is always changing his mind about everything especially Lou because he said he was putting him on third but he changed his mind and put Lou back on second." — Chip Peterson, Defer School.

"In baseball, I like when Chet Lemon makes a diving catch to win the game. In baseball, I don't like when Sparky Anderson changes around the players when they're doing great." — Aaron Michael, Mason School.

"Baseball — Well, I like to watch more than I like to play. My favorite players are all people of the past like Babe Ruth and Hank Aaron. My favorite team is the Cincinnati Reds." — Brian C. Dunphy, Trombly School.

"I like Kirk Gibson because he makes a lot of home runs and he catches a lot of fly balls and is good looking." — Tom Simmonds, Kerby School.

"My favorite player is Kirk Gibson because he hit a homer in the World Series that is why I like him. The end." — David Vinande, Richard.

"I like to play baseball and I like to play soccer. The end." — Kit Roberts, Trombly.

Space doesn't allow inclusion of all the students' efforts; but they were all great communicators, even at their tender ages. And they each knew more than a little about sports. Which is why my parting advice to them was "Wait a few years before you become full-fledged sportswriters . . . at least until I retire."

. . . and maybe golf

The golf story of the week belongs to a certain John J. Schroeder, of Dearborn. It seems Schroeder was in the market for some new clubs and stopped in at the pro shop with his 15-year-old son. Schroeder was getting the feel of the clubs, taking a few practice swings when a salesman came over, asked if he needed help and politely told him that the clubs he was looking at were ladies' clubs.

Schroeder mumbled his thanks and with a sidelong glance at the 22-ish, blond, blue-eyed flatbelly, headed over the another section of the store. Soon he was practicing his grip on another set of clubs when the salesman came

North: the class of Bi-County in 1985?

By Peggy O'Connor

It's been five years since Frank Sumner's North High baseball team won the state Class A title and he's beginning to forget what it feels like to be a state champion. It's a different story when it comes to the Bi-County League.

Sumner's Norsemen have won six consecutive Bi-County league titles and are gunning for a seventh — as evidenced by their new T-shirts which bear the motto: "Seven for 7 in 1985." (No. 7, for the uninitiated, is the number coach Sumner wears.

"I think we're going to be strong, probably the favorite in the league. And we want that title. District-wise, it'll be up to the draw and what happens if and when we run up against Bishop Gallagher," Sumner said.

The 1985 squad may not have the strikeout pitching it did last year, but North will return three pitchers who combined for a 17-4 record a season ago. Dan Kopitzke, the only Norseman ever to be a varsity starter for four seasons, will return; he was 6-3 last season. Dennis D'Agness (7-1) Craig Engel (4-0) and senior Joe Weidenbach are the arms that will lead North.

Kopitzke was an All-League selection last year, batting .372, hitting four home runs and 27 RBI. Bryan Ulatowski (.373, 27 RBI, All-League) will be behind the plate and senior Frank Vento (.275) will start at short; Weidenbach will also play short (.314). Tim Rice (.344) is the North third baseman.

Sumner says his outfield will be strong, with Weidenbach, Kopitzke and D'Agness playing the field when they are not pitching. Ken Strasse will substitute when they are. The versatile Craig Como will fill in on the mound and at first when needed, Sumner added. Mike Farley and Weidenbach will also catch on occasion; sophomores Pete Kilcline (second), and Chris Dudeck should also get some innings in, Sumner said.

"We're not super talented, but the kids are well-schooled in the fundamentals and they keep working. We'll challenge, that's for sure," he added.

Lakeview, which bounced North out of the districts, 19-14, before losing the league title to the Norsemen three days later last season, plus Lake Shore and Clintondale, are Sumner's picks for the league's toughest opposition against North.

"OUR GOALS are to play and have fun. Sure, we always want to win the league and make a run in the tournament, but we've got a great group and we want to keep smiles on our faces just as much as we want the statistics in the book . . . that's just as important," Sumner said.

North kickers look for luck

North's got the soccer talent. All it needs now is a little bit of luck. "You need the luck of the draw. If you draw a Troy or a Troy Athens in the first round, chances are, you'll be out pretty quickly. But if you get a good draw, you might be able to stick around for a while. That's what we'd like to do," North coach Guido Regelbrugge said.

It's time again for the News' spring sports previews. The teams not previewed this week will be featured in the April 11 issue of the News.

Dennis D'Agness is one of three North High pitchers who combined for a 17-4 record in 1984. The tall left-hander will be back on the mound again this year as North tries for its seventh consecutive Bi-County League baseball championship. At right, South obviously has its eye on making its mark in the Eastern Michigan League, where it finished a close second in 1984. (Photos by Tom Greenwood).

South teams aim for EML title sweep

By Peggy O'Connor

The bad news is that South High lost nine members of the varsity baseball team which went 17-12 and finished second in the Eastern Michigan League in 1984. The good news is that coach Dan Griesbaum will be able to combine five returners — including two All-League honorable mentions — with a slew of players up from a JV team which finished 18-7.

"We're young and I think people see us as being one year away from our potential. I don't want to wait around for a year. I think we can do something this year," Griesbaum said.

Rick Waugaman will return to centerfield this year and Anthony Eugenio, whom Griesbaum calls "one of the best if not the best defensive catcher in the league" will be behind the plate. The pitching staff will consist of lefties Steve Goodrich and Rich Cordova (one of the All-League honorable mentions) and righthander Mike Hennessey.

When Cordova isn't pitching, he'll be at first and when he is on the mound, Tom Fellows will be the starting first sacker. Griesbaum said. Hennessey will play third base and Grisebaum says he isn't quite sure about the other infield positions, but that he'd be "very comfortable" with a combination of junior Rob Wood, sophomore Sean Bruce and Bill Adlhoeh at second and shortstop. Jason Colegrove is the rightfielder and Steve Kinsley, the backup catcher.

South doesn't have the physical size to hit the ball out of the park as it did last year, so Griesbaum's 1985 Blue Devils will rely on getting on base and running. "We've got excellent team speed and our defense is better. This year, we'll be taking chances and running," he said.

Griesbaum said he'd be disappointed if South doesn't steal 100 bases this season; last year's total was 58 with a much slower team. And Griesbaum is a Central Michigan University alum, where he learned the art of the running team.

Defending EML champ Port Huron Northern will be tough again, with three returning All-leaguers. L'Anse Creuse North will also pose a problem for South, Griesbaum said. "I really look for a lot of the teams to be improved. In the districts, it will be tough because Lakeview is good and North is good and Bishop Gallagher is everybody's choice . . . as usual."

SOUTH LED Gallagher after five innings in the district final last year before losing. The Lancers will return all but two players this season, but anything can happen, as evidenced by the fact that Walled Lake Western, 10-12 going into the regionals, beat BG for the state title last year.

"Looking ahead to 1986, we feel like we'll really be causing a stir. But right now, we're capable of causing some problems for people," Griesbaum said. "I've definitely got a special group of kids. They are very enthusiastic and want to win. They're my kind of players . . . those who will do anything within the rules to win."

South opens the season at home April 6, with an 11 a.m. doubleheader against Gallagher.

Netters rule EML

Don Zysk's Blue Devil tennis team won the EML in 1984 — just as it has the past six seasons. South also won the regional and took two matches in the state finals . . . but the Devils want more this season.

"We want to finish in the top 10 in the state. But we have to get more than two wins to do it," chuckled coach Zysk. He'll have eight of the 10 who played regularly last year back to help accomplish that.

Thad Angyl will be at No. 1 singles, followed by Fred Fordon at No. 2, and Curt Edwards and Rob Hackman at No. 3 and 4. Dave Gualtieri, Victor LaFata, David Mickle and Don McKnight are also

Sparky and Al return

Tiger Manager Sparky Anderson discusses one of his favorite subjects with News 4 sports Director Al Ackerman in "Tigers '85: Sparky & Al Talkin' Baseball" Saturday, April 6 at 7:30 p.m.

The half-hour special marks the sixth year the two personalities have taped close-up conversations for "Tigers '85" coverage.

In "Sparky & Al Talkin' Baseball," Sparky offers his predictions for regular season play which kicks off on Channel 4 with Opening Day coverage Monday, April 8 beginning at noon.

South out for EML sweep . . .

fighting it out for a singles spot. Playing doubles for South will be Dan Mooney and Bill Wheeler at No. 1; John Rhangos and Peter Smith at No. 2; and Joe Mooney and Kevin Monahan at No. 3.

"We had 17 boys out for 10 positions. I'd rather have as much competition as possible because it brings out the best in the kids," Zysk said.

He added that he felt South was stronger all the way around this year and would get a chance to test that strength in tournaments outside the EML with teams like Ann Arbor Huron and Pioneer, ULS and Grand Blanc. "It'll give us a good idea of what we can do. We definitely want to win the EML and the regional, that's for sure."

South kickers poised

While everyone is picking South High's varsity soccer team to contend with North for the Expressway League championship, coach John Case is a little more cautious.

"THAT PUTS pressure on us only as far as that we don't really know what the opposition is like. We know North will have a very good team, but beyond that . . ." Case said. He admits, however, that South will field a talented lineup.

"It looks very encouraging. I think we'll have a very good team."

South's strength will apparently lie in its well-balanced lineup. June Langa, an All-League player, will lead the backfield and All-State selection Claire Busse is a "good striker," according to Case. Also playing for South this year are Eleanor Allen, Jennifer Bryant, Sarah Dow, Christina Huthwaite, Joey Johnston, Helen Markus, Laura Miller, Colleen Murphy, Michaela Palms, Colleen Rathsburg, Susan Saad, Jennifer Smith, Sally Spilos, Becky Steffes, Suzanne Storen, Renee Stoyka, Elizabeth Sutherland, Jenefer Weiss, Kim Wood (a ULS transfer who was an All-State selection) and Marcia Wright.

South finished second in the league last season, and despite the great pre-season reviews from opposing coaches, Case wouldn't go out on a limb with his predictions for 1985. "If the girls do as well as the boys did (second place) I'll be satisfied," he said.

Bless you, girls

Folks call L'Anse Creuse North

and its pitcher Chris Harms the class of Class A softball in Michigan . . . but right behind are South High and pitcher Lynn Vismara, who, despite an injury in 1984, finished with a 3-5 mark, an ERA of under 3.0 and lost two close decisions (2-1 and 3-1) to Harms and state runner-up LCN.

The best news is that South will have nine letterwinners returning, including six seniors. The lineup for South includes senior catcher Bev Zuelch, a three-sport athlete who returns for her fourth year on varsity. She hit .333 and set a school record for triples in a season. Ann Schwarz, a 5-10 three year starter, will play at first. She hit under .200 but is an excellent bunter and holds the season mark for sacrifices (7). Heidi Albrecht will be at second. She played half the season in 1984 and hit .306.

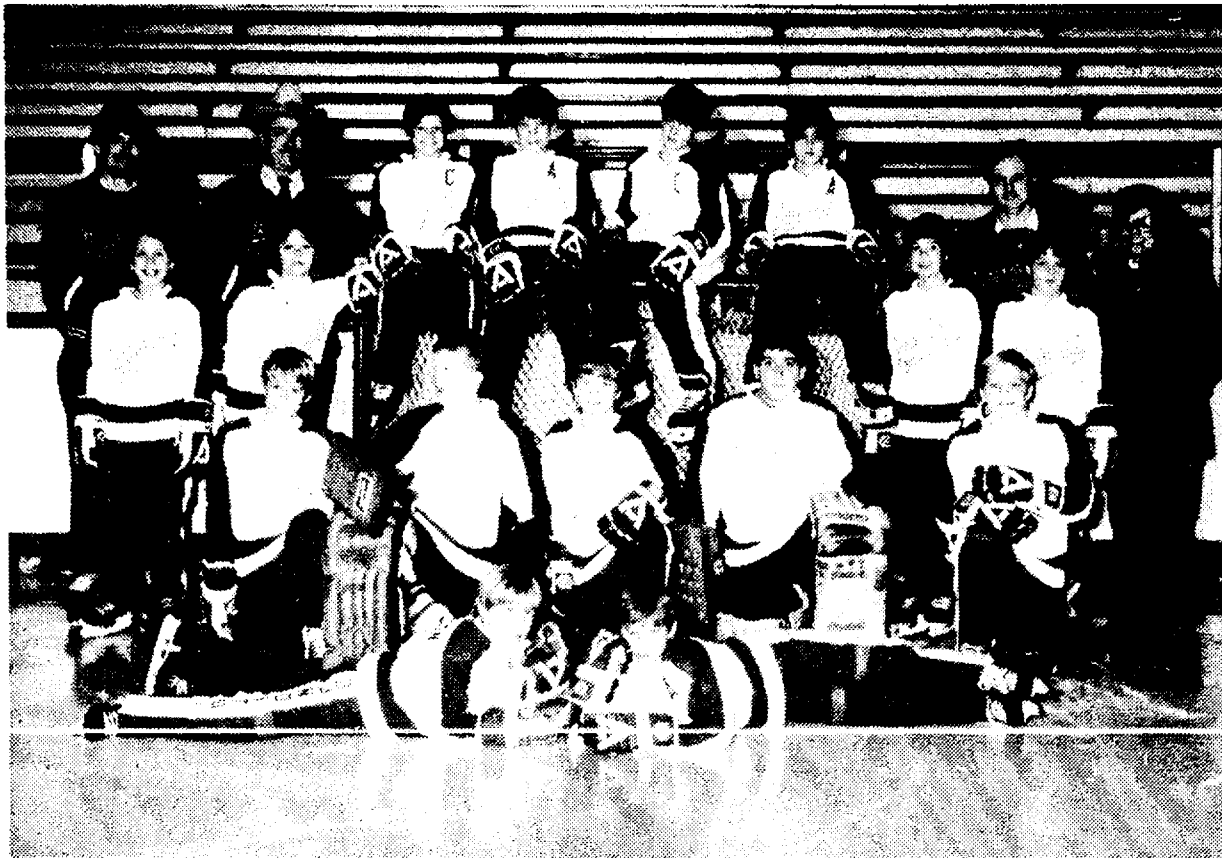

Senior Kris Coddens will start at shortstop. "She's one of the best hitters I've ever coached," said coach John Bruce. A fine athlete, she hit .340 last year, holds the career RBI mark (38) and hits with power, Bruce added. Junior Sarah Rotta will be at third; she's a .270 hitter. The outfield consists of Debbie Friedman in right, Kris Rettig in left and Andrea Roesch in center.

FRIEDMAN IS small (5-4) but gets on base, lettered three times and had a .372 average. Rettig is back for her third varsity season. She has a good arm, hit .242, and is versatile enough to play any position. Roesch, a senior, holds the South slugging record (.779), homers in a season (5), and led in doubles (7) RBI (28) and hits (29). Vismara may be the key to South's fortunes, however. "It's difficult to describe what she's like. The best way is to watch her. She really heats it up and she's an excellent athlete," Bruce said. Jane Lochbiler will also pitch a lot for South in 1985.

And Bruce's crew will find out right away how they stack up against the best; they open against L'Anse Creuse North on April 15.

"We want to go after and win a district championship for the first time in our history. We also want to learn to play together as a team and accept each other's individual talents. And most of all, I want the girls to enjoy the season," Bruce added.

"You couldn't ask for a finer group of girls."

G.P. Bandits chalk up another winning season

The Grosse Pointe Squirt AA Bandits just completed a very successful hockey season, compiling a 53-13-5 record enroute to a second place finish in the state championship. The Bandits also won the Little Caesar's League playoff championship at Joe Louis Arena, the Earlybird Tournament, the District 3 title and competed in the Silver Stick Tournament, as well as those hosted by London and Niagara Falls, Ont.

The Bandits were the defending state champs and played extremely well against a strong Marquette team before losing 5-3 in the finals. Ron Warezak, Jim Kendall, Art Gorney, Evans Telegadas, Joe Berger and John Hall coached the Bandits, who were managed by Wanda Warezak. The team plans to play post-season hockey in the Pee Wee AAA league out of Redford Arena this spring.

Members of the Bandits are:

No. 00 — Jon Bell: Played both goal and defense; steady, strong and determined. He recorded two shutouts.

No. 1 — Jason Hall: Goaltender, recorded 20 shutouts. A flamboyant, aggressive player who was able to make key saves.

No. 2 — Corby Leith: Defense, first-year player and a pleasant surprise. Second on the team in plus points (100); made impression on opponents.

No. 3 — Scott Berger: Defense. Steady, dependable player who usually made the defensive play of the game.

No. 4 — Todd Frederickson: Right wing, small but speedy and determined. Scored seven game-winning goals and earned one playmaker award; finished with 33 goals and 30 assists.

No. 7 — Michael Kuna: Center, very persistent. Led Bandits in total scoring with 83 points on 47 goals and 36 assists, and in game-winning goals (10). He scored one hat trick and had two playmakers.

No. 9 — Brad Warezak: Left wing, a workhorse on the wing setting up scoring plays. He backchecked on defense and scored 24 goals and 31 assists.

No. 10 — Brian Crane: Defense. Known as "Mr. Excitement," Brian possesses a strong shot. Named as a Most Valuable Player in state competition. Scored 26 goals and 37 assists and led the Bandits with 131 plus points.

No. 11 — Scott McMillan: Center, first-year player who made things happen. Excellent speed and puck control; he scored 19 goals and 21 assists and earned a playmaker award. He also had five game-winning goals.

No. 12 — Ty Telegadas: Left wing, a first-year player who was determined and aggressive, he usually was able to come up with the puck in a crowd. Scored seven goals and 20 assists.

No. 14 — Stefan Teitge: Right wing. Excellent puck control, always gave 100 percent in leading team in assists (51) and earning four playmakers. Teitge scored 21 goals, including one hat trick and five game-winners.

No. 15 — Brady Miceli: Right

O'Niel chairs Island race

The Bayview Yacht Club's Board of Governors has appointed Philip D. O'Niel III, D.D.S., chairman of the 61st Bayview Port Huron to Mackinac Island yacht race.

Dr. O'Niel is an accomplished racing sailor, winning his class and taking second overall in last year's race. He also served on the selection committee for Bayview's 1984 Canada's Cup Challenge.

Sign up for T-ball

The Neighborhood Club's popular T-ball program will begin on Saturday, May 4. Designed for boys and girls ages 5 and 6, the activity includes eight Saturday morning sessions from 9:15 to 10:30 a.m. The emphasis is on skill development, sportsmanship, and enjoyment. Everyone plays ever inning.

Players must be 5 by Aug. 1. Registrations are being accepted now at the Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo; the deadline is Thursday, April 11. Players should bring their own gloves; the Club provides team hats and all other equipment. Adults interested in being instructional leaders should call the Neighborhood Club at 885-4600.

Is North class of league in '85?

North looks like it has the talent to stay in, losing only Marlene Priesz, Lisa Williams and Jenna Burt from the 1984 league championship team. The 1985 lineup will look like this:

Sue Bond will be in goal; Stephanie Smith, Wendy Clagett, Bridget Briery and Wendy Blashill in the backfield; Cindy Bowman, Alexi Parmentier and Amelia Dugan (All-State) will be at mid-field; and Sue Regalado, Shannon Armstrong and Beth Nearhood will be up front.

"We have one of the best — if not the best — midfields in the state," Regelbrugge said. "They are experienced, quick and have good stamina. Where we may be weak is in our cohesiveness on defense because we have one or two new players.

"How well the defense is able to blend together as a unit will be important to our success."

North has been able to stand the pressure of being one of the state's top-ranked teams in pre-season polls. "The girls know they are good, they were No. 7 in the state last year. But that doesn't mean that other teams aren't going to be good. South will be very, very good . . . they will be awesome."

"I will be surprised if either North or South doesn't win the league title," he added.

That league title one of North's goals. Another is to beat South. And the last is to get that luck in the draw and to stay healthy.

"I LIKE TO believe that North and South will play anybody in the region with a chance to win. And if we don't win, at least make them remember they've been in a battle. As a coach, that's all you can ask for," Regelbrugge said.

North opened the season on April 2 with a non-league game against Bishop Gallagher.

Netters aim high

Tom Berschback's North High tennis team has set its sights on finishing in the top 15 in the state and winning a sixth straight Bi-County championship and may just have the talent to do it.

North is returning most of its lineup this year, including senior Chris Herman at No. 1 singles; senior John Grierson at No. 2 singles; junior Todd Kilgus at No. 3 singles; and senior Joe Karle at the No. 4 spot. At doubles will be the junior duos of Drew McSkimming and Fred Kaleal at No. 1; sophomores Brad Cooksey and Ralph Barber at No. 2; juniors Chris Cofer and Dave Cofer at No. 3 and Ken Gutow and Bret Schneider at No. 4 — although there are still six players fighting for doubles spots, Berschback said.

"I expect to be first or second in the regionals. In the past, we didn't have enough depth in all flights, but this year, that depth will be our strength," Berschback said.

"We're in a tough stage now because it's time to choose the final team. But by the large, we have a good group of kids and some good competition."

North's 1985 captains are Joe Weidenbach, Dan Kopitzke and Bryan Ulatowski.

Cottage's Fun Run is May 5

Entry forms now are available for the Sunday, May 5, "We're Up For Health" FUN RUN/WALK. The fifth annual footrace is presented by the Cottage Hospital Auxiliary and sponsored by The Meade Group — Meade Leasing, Pointe Dodge, Pointe Chrysler-Plymouth and Pointe Advertising.

Participants in last year's FUN

RUN/WALK will receive their 1985 applications in the mail. All other interested runners, racewalkers and casual walkers may pick up entry forms at the Cottage Hospital information desk, 159 Kercheval Ave.; The Meade Group affiliates including Meade Leasing, 130 Kercheval Ave.; Total Runner, 20641 Mack Ave.; Grosse Pointe public libraries; and other area businesses; by calling 884-8600, extension 2454.

Completed entry forms and the $7 pre-registration fee may be mailed to the hospital through May 1. Late registration will be held in the South High School gymnasium from 11:00 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. on race day. The late registration fee is $8. T-shirts are guaranteed to the first 400 entrants.

Participants who have registered by mail can pick up their race packets (including race number, pins, T-shirt and certificate of participation) in the school gym from 11 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. on May 5.

The 5 kilometer (3.1 mile) Fun Run/Walk is presented each year by the Cottage Hospital Auxiliary as a fundraiser for the hospital. Last year's race attracted close to 400 runners, racewalkers and casual walkers. This year, participants will compete for nearly 100 awards in a variety of categories and age divisions.

"Yes, sir, these are the clubs all the senior citizens are buying. They really do a great job of taking the pressure off the shoulder when your swing is a bit stiff . . ."

Schroeder, who is still on the sunny side of 50, glumly concluded that it just wasn't his

One week later, Schroeder is telling the story a lot, laughing even more and promises not to sue his cousin-in-law for libel when she prints the tale in her sports column. Oh, he also plans to go back and buy the "senior" clubs . . . right after the bandages on his ego come off.

Knights in odd spot: No. 3

By Peggy O'Connor

University Liggett School's varsity tennis team finds itself in an unfamiliar position as the boys' high school tennis season gets underway this weekend. For the first time in 20 years, the Knights are not ranked No. 1 in the pre-season polls.

ULS has won the Class C-D state tennis title for 13 consecutive seasons and 16 out of the last 19 years, but for the first time in 11 seasons, defends its title without nationally-ranked players in the top two seeds. "We're not as strong as in the past, at least not as strong as the top," said coach Bob Wood. "But depth-wise, the difference between the No. 1 and No. 7 players is not as great as in the past, and maybe that might help us."

Kirk Haggarty and Marc Hunt may play the No. 1 and No. 2 singles spots on a rotating basis. David Barlow, Mike Fozo and Ashu Nautiyal will fight it out for the No. 3 and 4 singles position, with the one who does not play singles teaming up with Paul Smith for No. 2 doubles. Scott Watson and John Birgbauer will move up from No. 3 doubles to No. 1 doubles. Rob Glancy, Frank Karabetsos, Andrew MacLeod and Tony Malcolm make up the other doubles teams.

Despite the changes in ULS's lineup, one aspect of tennis at ULS remains the same this season: the Knights will again play one of the toughest schedules in high school tennis.

"We're not as strong, but we play exactly the same schedule as we've played the last 20 years . . . the best teams in Michigan and Ohio. We head to Cleveland this Friday to play University School of Cleveland — one of the best in the nation — and two other teams which are the top two in Ohio."

"So we'll find out pretty quickly where we stand."

State-wise, ULS's tennis season is also a question mark. For the first time ever, the Knights are ranked No. 3, behind Kalamazoo Hackett and Detroit Country Day School. Wood considers that a challenge.

"HOW SUCCESSFUL we are depends on how quickly some of these unknowns develop. After working out five hours a day for 17 days in Florida, I noticed a tremendous improvement. But we don't have that luxury of time back at school. I hope that by playing the kind of schedule we do, by tournament time, the kids will have been 'through the fire.'"

"I feel that no team is better prepared than we are come time for regionals. That type of preparation has played a significant part in our winning the championship 13 straight years," Wood says.

Kalamazoo Hackett, the No. 1 pre-season favorite, has four boys in the Western rankings. "So on paper, that says we can't beat Hackett in singles. But you don't play tennis on paper," Wood added.

"As long as we are prepared mentally and physically, we'll be winners whether we succeed on the court or come up short. And I can assure you — we will be prepared."

A young soccer team

It sounds strange to say that ULS girls' varsity soccer coach David Backhurst will be rebuilding this year after a 7-11 season in 1984, but that's exactly what lies ahead for Backhurst after losing two of last season's All-League players. Kim Wood has transferred to South High and Laura Khelokian will play lacrosse instead of soccer this spring. "We'll be a very young team, that's for sure," Backhurst said. Senior Susan Edwards and sophomores Susan Judge, Shelly Tibbitts, Cindy Paul and Eva Dadds are the returning players on Backhurst's squad. He is leading the girls' team for the first year; he also coaches the ULS boys' squad.

"I'm pretty well sticking to the training format and methods I use with the boys. So far, I'm pleased with the response and with the girls' attitude so far. We have several skilled players, those who learned their good soccer sense in the Grosse Pointe Soccer Association," he said.

Starters for ULS this year include freshman Beth Birgbauer at center-midfield; freshman Kim Owens as a center-forward; Lynne Connor at forward; Susie Davis at midfield; Cindy Paul in goal; and Carolyn Ryan and Heather Diehl rounding out the lineup. Backhurst said Tibbitts, "an outstanding athlete who is scrappy and tenacious" is able to play just about any position.

BACKHURST SAID he thinks North and South will pose the biggest challenge to the Lady Knights. "They got 70 girls out at South — and very good players. And Regelbrugge has just about his whole team back at North. They could be one-two in the league and very tough in the states."

He added that ULS's goal is to improve upon its 7-11 mark but to have fun in the process. "We've been working very hard and that's good . . . but I also want the girls to go out and have a good time." ULS opens the regular season April 16 against Detroit Country Day.

ULS nine hope to improve

Improvement is also on the mind of ULS baseball coach Glynn Conley. But he'll have a brand new pitching staff which will have to help better the Knights' 3-18 mark of a year ago.

Filling out the starting lineup are returning players Brian David at catcher, Chris Tincu in centerfield, Joe Jurewicz, infielder/pitcher, Harold Colby at first base and Dale Werkema at second. Werkema played every game last year and has grown seven inches in the off season. Jeff Sweet will pitch and play the outfield and Mike Isip will pitch and play the role of "all-purpose" starter.

Fighting for the other positions are Wally Butzu, Mike Navarro, Sean Thomas and Tom Vallone.

Zion Christian and Bethesda should be the teams to beat in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference, Conley added. The Knights open the season (weather permitting) on April 5 with longtime rival Maple City Glen Lake.

"We'd like to win a league championship. We hope to be competitive at least. Sometimes, when you think positively, you are disappointed but if you never think that way, you'll always finish back in the pack. We want to be optimistic."

Question marks on softball

ULS varsity softball coach Amy Owens is in a tough spot this season. As a first-year coach, she isn't quite sure how her team will line up — other than the fact the ULS squad is an inexperienced one in 1985.

Of the potential starters — seniors Samantha DeSmet, Peggy Hoyos, Laura Stefanski, Gerry Ocampo, Susan Cleek and junior Chari Kavan, sophomore Julie Ferris and freshmen Susan Stefanski, Elizabeth Mannino, Jennifer Davies and Alice Rim — only DeSmet and Ferris possess pitching experience.

"I'm not too sure where I'm going to put nine bodies. Sam and Julie have the experience and we'll build around them . . . after that I'm not sure," Owens said.

Southfield Christian, league champs in basketball and volleyball, is ULS's toughest opposition. And early in the season, Owens' squad has but one goal. "Because we are so inexperienced, we want to buckle down and work hard on our technique . . . the rest will come later."

On the bridge . . .

Tourney cup awarded

The St. Clair Shores Spartans and the Grosse Pointe Nordiques are the Fellowship Cup Hockey Tournament champs after winning their divisions in the round-robin competition sponsored by University Liggett Middle School (ULMS).

House teams from Grosse Pointe and St. Clair Shores joined two ULMS teams in the week-long tournament whose main purpose was to present competitive play in an atmosphere of friendship and sportsmanship. Four teams from each division (Bantam and Pee Wee) began play Feb. 25 and played four games with the championship game held on March 2.

In the Pee Wee Division, the Spartans beat the Grosse Pointe Leafs, 5-2, in the title game. The ULMS Knights topped the Pointe North Stars, 4-3, in the consolation game.

All Pointes rides strong finish to win

The All Pointes Swim Club used a strong finish to take a 251-218 victory over the Livonia Spartans in recent action.

All Pointes started with a first and second in the 8 and under mixed 100 free relay by Kirles, Atrasz, Booher and Swan, and Walstrom, Matous, Strey and Gamrat.

All Pointes took second in the 10 and under 200 yard free relay with the team of Zeller, McIntyre, Reinke and Reaser. The 12 and under 200 yard free relay team of Swan, Vittiglio, Reinke and Bucciero took second in the 12 and under 200 yard free relay with the team of Brooks, Olmstead, Farrett and Nicholson touching first.

In the boys' 8 and under 25 fly, Paul Swan (20.26) added a second place ribbon to his collection. Stephanie Matous was also second in the girls' 8 and under 25 fly (38.97). All Pointes took first in the boys' 10 and under 50 fly behind Charlie Roddis (39.68) and Paul Reaser (41.98).

In the girls' 10 and under 50 fly, All Pointes' Kim Higel (35.32) took first place and Lisa Vallan (35.44) finished second. Tony Vallan (31.68) took a first in boys' 12 and under 50 yard fly and Tom Medrodia (27.60) and David Nicholson (28.47) were first and second in the boys' 14 and under 50 fly.

All Pointes took several red and blue ribbons in the backstroke. J.P. Gamrat (22.26) and Eric Dalstrom (29.10) were first and second; as were Suzette Atrasz (26.75) and Nicole Carpenter (29.86) in the girls' 8 and under 25. In the boys' 10 and under 50 backstroke, Charlie Roddis (42.09) and Mike Mikelic (47.14) finished first and second and in the girls' 10 and under 50 back, Kim Higel was second (37.96). Craig Winger (30.08) and Steve Swan (32.87) touched first and second in the boy's 12 and under 50 back and Ron Jendretzke (33.61) was second in the boys' 14 and under event.

In the IM events, Craig Winger (1:09.85) was second in the boys' 12 and under 100 IM and Ian McNeil (1:06) was first in the boys' 13 and up 100 IM.

Geoff Kirles (21.8) was first in the boys' 8 and under 25 breast and Sara Booher (24.86) was second in the girls' 8 and under 25. David Reinke (45.05) was first in the 10 and under 50 breast and Mike Bucciero (33.85) came in first in boys' 12 and under 50. Drew Dungan (33.3) and Robb

Walter (33.22) finished one-two in the boys' 14 and under 50 breast.

All Pointes scored in almost every age group in the freestyle. Kirles (18.71) and Emmet DeGuvera (20.07) touched one-two in the 8 and under boys' 25 yard freestyle, as did Booher (18.97) and Atrasz (24.44) in the girls' 8 and under event. Finishing first and second in the boys' 10 and under 50 free were Reaser (33.89) and Reinke (36.65). Marcia Zeller (32.12) came in second in the girls' 10 and under 50 free and Steve Swan (28.75) took home a blue ribbon in the boys' 12 and under 50 free. Adam Brady (24.72) and Nora Brooks (26.75) added first place finishes in the boys' and girls' 14 and under 25.

The All Pointes team of Winger, Candiotis, Roddis, and Ledyard (2:15.41) and the combination of Mikelic, Durocher, Crenshaw and Colfer (2:46.65) finished first and second in the boys' 200 medley relay. All Pointes capped an excellent evening as the team of Higel and Howbert took the final first of the meet in the girls' 200 medley (2:16.90).

THE BEST JAGUAR EVER BUILT:

Breeding tells. While trends in automotive design come and go, the 1985 Jaguar XJ6 remains defiantly true to its heritage: lithe, graceful and utterly distinctive.

It is the nature of automotive styling to be transient. While tailfins have come and gone, and a dozen other design glimmers as well, Jaguar has consistently created cars of great sculptural beauty. But even among Jaguars, the Series III XJ6 stands out.

While carrying five grownups in great luxury the car has an athlete's clean limbed grace. And all of its engineering systems team up to fulfill that athletic promise. Come, experience the many pleasures that have been bred into the best Jaguar ever built.
