The fifth annual American Cancer Society Relay For Life will be held from noon to noon on Friday and Saturday, May 30 and 31, at Blossom Heath Park in St. Clair Shores, recruiting teams, walkers and participants from St. Clair Shores, Grosse Pointe and communities throughout the east side. See pull-out pages inside Section A — and see you there!

WEEK AHEAD

Friday, May 30

The Grosse Pointe News and St. Clair Shores Connection newspapers are sponsors of the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life at the Blossom Heath Park, 24800 Jefferson, in St. Clair Shores from noon until noon on Saturday, May 31.

Save up to 70 percent on items featured at the Hill Association's sidewalk sale through Sunday, June 1. Hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 31, and from noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday, June 1.

Saturday, May 31

The Grosse Pointe Artists Association holds its 44th annual Festival of the Arts on the Hill in the Grosse Pointe Farms municipal parking lot on Kercheval between McKinley and McMillan from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday, June 2. A $2 donation is requested at the gate. Children under 12 are admitted free.

Sunday, June 1

The Spring Mutt March, benefiting the Michigan Humane Society, will be held from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House.

Donations will be accepted. For more information call (248) 799-7475.

GPP hydrants to be flushed

Fire hydrants will be flushed soon in Grosse Pointe Park.

The Public Safety Department will conduct its annual fire hydrant flushing and testing in two stages:

- South of Jefferson, from Cadieux to Wayburn: June 2-6.
- North of Jefferson, from Cadieux to Barrington: June 9-13.

The process typically dislodges small amounts of sediment that give tap water a rusty appearance. If this occurs, officers advise running the water until it clears.

Also, clothing could become discolored in washing machines.

Sponsors make fireworks

Sponsorships are available for this year's fireworks display June 29 in Grosse Pointe Woods.

This year, the Pointes' largest fireworks show will be bigger than ever and feature a trio of colors that are especially welcome when celebrating Independence Day.

"We've decided on a red, white and blue theme in honor of what's happening in the world," said Councilman Eric Steiner.

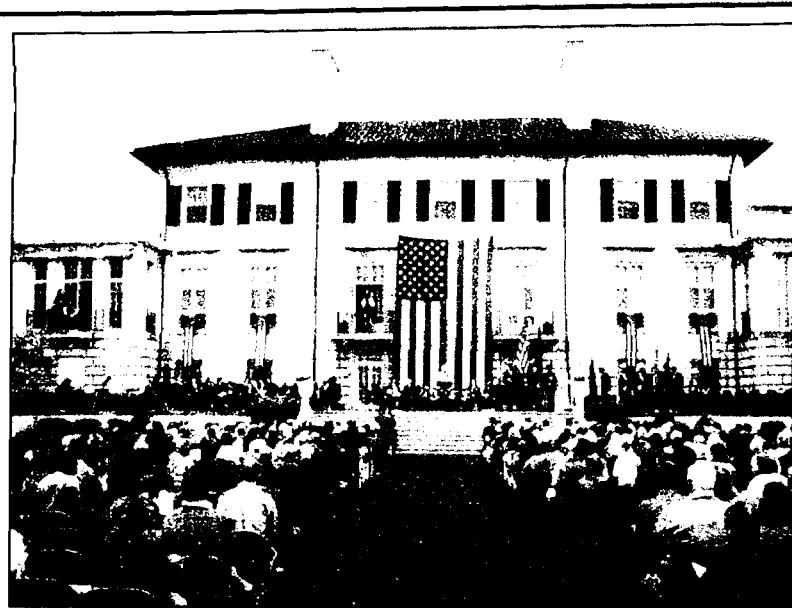

He said this year's show is going to be the largest ever, but its $30,000 price roughly equals last year.

"We're getting more bang for the buck," Steiner said.

He said sponsorships cost $1,900.

Sponsors' names will be listed on individual banners hung on Parcels' Mack Avenue fence for 10 days prior to the show.

A memorable Memorial Day

More than 600 people attended this year's Memorial Day service at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial last Monday, above. Below, local Scouts and children lead the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance. Speakers included War Memorial President Mark Weber and Chairman Tom Youngblood and Grosse Pointe Farms Mayor Ron Kneiser.

Councilwoman may take mayor issue to voters

By Bonnie Caprara
Staff Writer

A Grosse Pointe Farms council member is prepared to take the issue of mayoral selection directly to the people if the Grosse Pointe Farms City Council cannot come to a consensus.

Councilwoman Therese Joseph said she is preparing a charter amendment for a direct election of the mayor by voter referendum if the council cannot decide how or if it wants to change how the mayor in the Farms is selected by its June 9 meeting.

Joseph did not disclose the ballot language but said it was under review by Farms city attorney William Burgess. The language would have to be approved by the State Attorney General Michael Cox, and Joseph would need the signatures of 5 percent of the registered voters, or 400 people, before issuing a ballot request to the county within 90 days of the Nov. 4 general election.

"The people deserve the opportunity to have this ballot and decide whether or not they want to directly elect their mayor," Joseph said. "The people have asked for this, and it's only fair they have this opportunity."

The council has discussed the issue of mayoral selection in three work sessions over the past month. It is the only city in the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods area that does not hold a direct election for its mayor.

While members of the council have said they feel uncomfortable with the burden of selecting a mayor among themselves, a charter amendment to change that process is not the only alternative on the table.

Councilman Terry Davis has lobbied heavily for the mayor to be selected on a rotational basis among council members, either by seniority or by the highest number of votes in the last general election. His proposal is strongly backed by Councilwoman Fran Schonenberg and has some support from Councilman Robert Herdegen, who has primarily taken an "it ain't broke" approach to the mayoral election issue. However, Davis said he would consider backing a direct election proposal if it is presented as an ordinance change.

Mayor Ron Kneiser said he has preferred a charter review to change several items in the charter including holding a direct election of mayor. However, a charter review would require changes to be made by an elected charter commission before being presented to voters, a strategy that has been dismissed by the council. In turn, he said he would likely back a charter amendment to allow for direct election of mayor.

Councilman James Farquhar Jr. has favored a charter amendment but has spoken in favor of adding stipulations on council experience qualifications and term limits.

Councilman Louis Theros said he favors a direct election of the mayor but is still considering the processes that could be involved in attaining that goal.

If Joseph pursues the referendum ballot, she said she would form a committee to back it. She declined to say if any members of council or residents would be on that committee.

If an amendment comes by the way of a referendum ballot, Joseph said, "We won't have to adjust the situation. We'll be able to leave it alone. It's what the voters want."

NOTICE OF ADOPTION AND SUMMARY OF ORDINANCE NOS. 184, 185, 186, and 187

On May 12, 2003, the City Council of the City of Grosse Pointe Park (the "City Council") enacted Ordinance No. 184, (the "Ordinance") to become effective on June 1, 2003 which Ordinance provides for adoption of the Michigan vehicle code and the Uniform Traffic Code, codification of such codes, enforcement of certain provisions of the vehicle code, parking restrictions with respect to large and commercial vehicles, regulation of parades and competitive events, establishment of handicapped parking in certain areas and regulation of parking lots.

On May 12, 2003, the City Council of the City of Grosse Pointe Park (the "City Council") enacted Ordinance No. 185, (the "Ordinance") to become effective on June 1, 2003 which Ordinance prohibits unlawful prevention of or retaliation for crime reporting.

On May 12, 2003, the City Council of the City of Grosse Pointe Park (the "City Council") enacted Ordinance No. 186, (the "Ordinance") to become effective on June 1, 2003 which Ordinance prohibits the malicious use of telecommunications service to terrorize, frighten, intimidate, threaten, harass, molest, annoy, or disturb the peace and quiet of another person.

On May 12, 2003, the City Council of the City of Grosse Pointe Park (the "City Council") enacted Ordinance No. 187, (the "Ordinance") to become effective on June 1, 2003 which Ordinance provides for enforcement by the City of the Michigan Construction Code by the City of Grosse Pointe Park with the City Council acting as the construction board of appeals, the issuance, expiration, and revocation of a certificate of occupancy and use for buildings and structures within the City of Grosse Pointe Park, application, and inspection for such certificate, issuance of a conditional certificate in certain circumstances. The ordinance also continues and codifies existing provisions with respect to gutter and downspout disconnection. The ordinance provides for revocation of park permit or guest cards issued to persons whose residency in the City is derived from occupation of dwellings without a valid certificate of occupancy and use. The ordinance provides for revocation of water and sewer connection permits for dwellings and structures without a valid certificate of occupancy and use. The ordinance provides that dwellings and structures occupied contrary to, without, or after revocation of a certificate of occupancy and use constitutes a public nuisance, and such occupancy is a nuisance.

This summary of the Ordinances is published pursuant to Michigan Compiled Laws Section 117.3(k). True copies of the full text of the Ordinances and any law, regulation, code, or other material adopted by reference in such Ordinance are available for inspection or photocopying at the Office of the City Clerk, City of Grosse Pointe Park, 15115 East Jefferson Avenue, Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan 48230.

G.P.P.'s new activities building a big hit

By Brad Lindberg
Staff Writer

Mayor Palmer Heenan conducted opening ceremonies for Grosse Pointe Park's year-round activities building while standing beneath a basketball hoop in the facility's full-court gymnasium. But he didn't need a ball to score points. The building was a slam dunk on its own.

"Awesome," said Pam Yates, blown away by a picture window view from the second-floor fitness center.

"Great," said Yates' friend, Diane George.

"I knew it was going to be a great accomplishment, but it's even bigger and better than I imagined," said William Giovan, a judge in Wayne County Circuit Court. "I feel fortunate living close to this grand new building that has so many facilities."

"This is a happy day for me and a happy day for all of us," Heenan told a group of at least 200 residents attending ribbon cutting ceremonies last week at Windmill Pointe Park.

The ambitious project grew from a modest desire to revamp Windmill's aging bathhouse. Park administrators took the opportunity to create a venue for offering supervised family-oriented activities 12 months per year.

"This project is the brainchild of Dale Krajniak, our city manager, to give residents something special," Heenan said.

"We have a great city council to work with," Krajniak said. "They understood the circumstances of trying to get a project like this done expediently. With the caliber of talent surrounding this project, it was easy."

Ground breaking took place eight months ago. The building opened on time for Memorial Day weekend.

Numerous Park residents helped pay for about one-third of the $3.2 million building through donations to the Grosse Pointe Park Foundation.

Chief among donors were Dolores and Paul Lavins, for whom the center has been named.

"It's fantastic," said Dolores Lavins minutes after joining her husband, Paul; grandson Harrison, 6; and Heenan in the ribbon cutting.

"It's a beautiful facility," Paul Lavins said. "We wanted to leave something to the community so everybody could enjoy it."

Dr. Clark Okulski, Foundation president, called the center "Grosse Pointe Park's crown jewel, an edifice built for our children. This will truly be a family center."

Okulski's support of the project will be remembered by the center's movie theater being named in his honor.

Similarly, names of the center's other amenities recognize benefactors:

- John and Elizabeth Stevens Atrium,

- Ken and Deborah Meade Fitness Center and
- Pat and Patricia McKeever Recreation Lounge.

Heenan said substantial gifts were received by Robert and Nancy Denner, Joe Acheson, Ron Milner and Patricia Heftler.

The building's $400,000 annual operating cost is expected to be paid through memberships to the fitness center and enrollment in numerous classes and programs.

The center's most talked about feature is the Okulski Theatre and Performing Arts Center.

Moments after opening ceremonies, Kaitlin Arnold and Defer Elementary School classmate Lauren Dansey, both 12, settled into the theater's padded, high-backed, lay-back chairs to watch "ET, the Extra Terrestrial." Some viewers ate popcorn.

Back in the fitness center, Anthony Swancoat, 15, a sophomore at Grosse Pointe South High School, surveyed 15 strength training machines, five treadmills, three stair step machines, two recumbent bicycles, two racks of dumbbells and a leg press machine.

"You can come down here with friends from the Park and lift weights, play basketball and watch movies," Swancoat said.

Heenan thanked architects Dale Ehresman and Mark Chamberlain for designing a "building with style and personality."

Heenan said construction was expedited by a "weapon of mass construction" — Andy Phlaum of Ferlito Construction.

Terry Solomon, head of the Park's recreation department, will oversee operations.

"I can't think of anyone who is more dependable or thoughtful for managing this building," Heenan said.

Heenan didn't overlook his late friend and colleague on the city council, Vernon Ausherman.

"My only regret about this wonderful project is that our good friend Vern will not be here," Heenan said. "He was so enthusiastic and excited about the prospect of this project."

Park officials aren't resting on their laurels.

"I'm already excited about looking forward to the next project," Krajniak said.

Greatest Garage sale may be outdoors

By Bonnie Caprara
Staff Writer

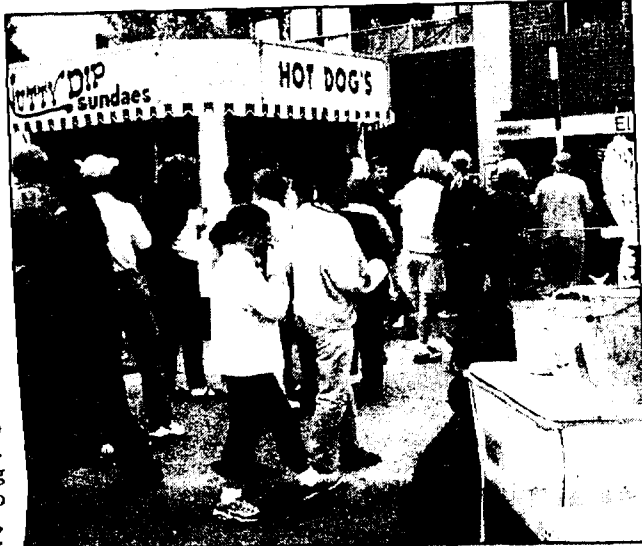

Cool temperatures and gray skies made for perfect weather for the Grosse Pointe Village Association's Grosse Pointe's Greatest Garage Sale over the Memorial Day weekend.

"It was crazy on Sunday and it was steady all day on Monday," garage sale co-chairman Ellen Durand said.

About 10,000 people attended the two-day sale -- about as many people who attended the sale last year. Vendors were busy selling everything from toys to tools, from art to antiques, and from pets to pooper scoopers. The garage sale, a fundraiser for the association, typically brings in about $20,000 each year for its Santa Claus Parade in the Village held the day after Thanksgiving and for Christmas decorations for the Village.

Durand also said the possibility of this being the last year of the garage sale most likely brought out the crowds as well.

However, Durand's co-chairman, Mike Kramer,

Shoppers waited in lines, some that extended as long to Kercheval, waiting to get into Grosse Pointe's Greatest Garage Sale over Memorial Day weekend.

said garage or not, the sale may remain a Memorial Day tradition.

"I spent most of the weekend talking to the vendors, and they all want us to come back," Kramer said.

Kramer said he may consider setting the sale up as a European-style open market in one of the City's municipal lots with some open and some tented stalls.

"But we'll need to talk to the City," Kramer said. "There are several issues we'll need to address such as parking, the neighbors and some additional costs."

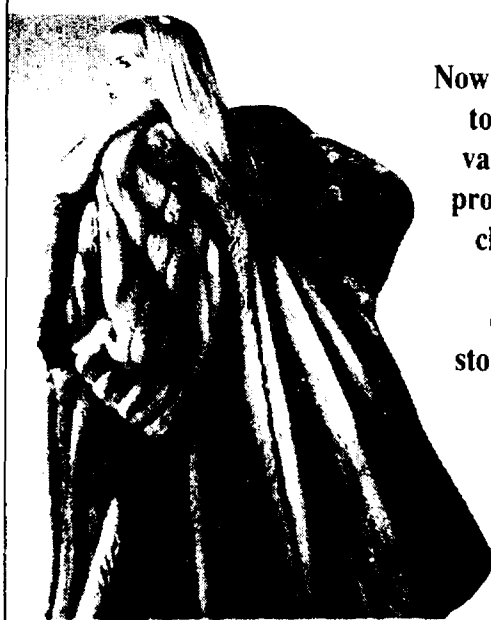

Kramer said he would let vendors know the association's decision by the end of the year.

One local vendor said she hoped to return to the Village to sell her wares next year.

"We hope they do something like a street fair next year," said Joan Ramsey of House on the Hill Antiques of Grosse Pointe Park. "Business has been very good for us here. We love it here because it's a social event. We see all our neighbors and friends."

Harper Woods resident Chris Comeau also hoped this wouldn't be the garage sale's last year.

Harper Woods: A case study

Once upon a time, Harper Woods was much like Grosse Pointe Farms in that its mayor, too, was appointed by his or her peers on the city council. But all was not peaceful in paradise.

Before 1986, the Harper Woods mayoral and mayor pro tem selections were mired in internecine squabbles among city council members.

Up to that point, the city council members elected the two posts from among themselves, often having to cast numerous ballots before a definitive answer about who got the jobs became evident. For instance, in 1985, 10 ballots were cast until a mayor was chosen and 23 ballots before a mayor pro tem was chosen — 33 ballots in all during one very long, heated meeting.

In order to make the process less cumbersome, the City of Harper

Woods set before voters three charter amendment propositions in November 1986:

1) elect the mayor popularly,
2) have the mayor pro tem be whichever councilperson receives the most votes and

3) have the person running for council with the fourth greatest number of votes fill a vacated seat in the case of a councilperson being elected mayor.

The reforms breathed life into the Harper Woods election process and were overwhelmingly supported by the public. The propositions passed 1,195 to 206, 1,116 to 227 and 1,052 to 264 respectively.

1987 was the first year these reforms were exercised.

Councilpersons' terms are four years and are chosen on the odd year every two years. The mayor has a two-year term.

The direct election of the two posts creates a more streamlined approach and ensures that Harper Woods public officials best represent the voice of the public.

The Harper Woods case study seems simple and straightforward, but can the City of Grosse Pointe Farms do it?

CITY OF HARPER WOODS PROPOSALS

PROPOSITION A STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The purpose of Proposition "A" is to provide for the direct election of the Mayor, rather than the election of the Mayor by the City Council. A vote in favor of this Proposition would require that Section 3.8, 3.9, 3.12, 3.16, 4.1, 5.1, 5.7 (a) (e) of the City Charter be amended.

YES 218 →

Should the Charter be amended to provide for, effective with the regular City Election to be held in November, 1987, a Council consisting of six (6) elected Councilpersons who shall serve four (4) year terms and one (1) elected Mayor who shall serve a two (2) year term?

NO 220 →

PROPOSITION B STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

This Proposition is conditioned on the adoption of Proposition "A." The purpose of Proposition "B" is to provide a change in method of selection of Mayor Pro Tem from Council selection to Councilperson who receives the highest votes in a regular election. A vote in favor of this Proposition would require that Section 4.3 of the City Charter be amended.

YES 223 →

In the event Proposition "A" is adopted, should the Charter be amended to provide that the Councilperson who receives the highest number of votes in a regular election shall serve as Mayor Pro Tem until the next regular election?

NO 225 →

PROPOSITION C STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

This Proposition is conditioned on the adoption of Proposition "A." Proposition "C" provides a method for the selection of a Councilperson to fill a vacancy if a Councilperson is elected Mayor. Section 5.7 (f) of the City Charter would be amended.

YES 228 →

In the event that Proposition "A" is adopted, should the Charter be amended to provide that a vacancy in the office of Councilperson created by a Councilperson's election to Mayor shall be filled by the Council appointing the person who received the highest number of votes of candidates not elected for the office of Councilperson at the immediately preceding regular election?

Letters

Keep it up

To the Editor:
I loved your editorial ("G.P. Farms Mayoral Talks Continue") last week. We should be allowed to elect our own mayor. I told the council a month ago, "Put it on a ballot for the voters." You just can't get through to that bunch. Keep this up and going forward.

Vote for mayor

To the Editor:
I agree with Joe Fromm's letter, "Mandate for mayor," printed in the May 8 issue of the Grosse Pointe News and the editorial (Grosse Pointe News, May 22), "G.P. Farms mayoral talks continue," that stated Grosse Pointe Farms residents should be able to vote for mayor.

As a long-time attendee at Grosse Pointe Farms City Council meetings, I have observed what Joe Fromm described as one swing vote and a total of four votes deciding who will be mayor of Grosse Pointe Farms. This often leads to factions and a divided council.

My observation is from attending several council work sessions on the subject of electing a mayor is that the majority appear to favor any system but the direct election of mayor. Only "egos" make our council people believe that four of them have better judgment than the 8,700 registered voters in Grosse Pointe Farms.

The only way we will probably get to vote for mayor is if residents circulate a petition to put it on the ballot.

Kudos to Mayor Ron Kneiser and Council Woman Therese Joseph for going on record supporting the direct election of mayor.

There will be four council positions on the November ballot. Be sure to ask incumbents and candidates what their position is on the direct election of mayor.

We elect the president and the governor, and we should elect our mayor.

Addresses board of education

To the Editor:
At the Grosse Pointe Board of Education meeting held Tuesday, April 29, the board voted to approve the layoff of 54 teachers. On behalf of the members of the Grosse Pointe Education Association, I addressed the board.

I think that members of the Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods communities might be interested in my comments:

"Mrs. Dindoff, members of the board of education, Dr. Klein:

"It is with deep sadness and dismay that I speak before you tonight. As a teacher in the Grosse Pointe schools for 35 years, I have witnessed many changes and watched as the district endured and survived many crises. None, however, were as disturbing to me as the action that you are taking tonight.

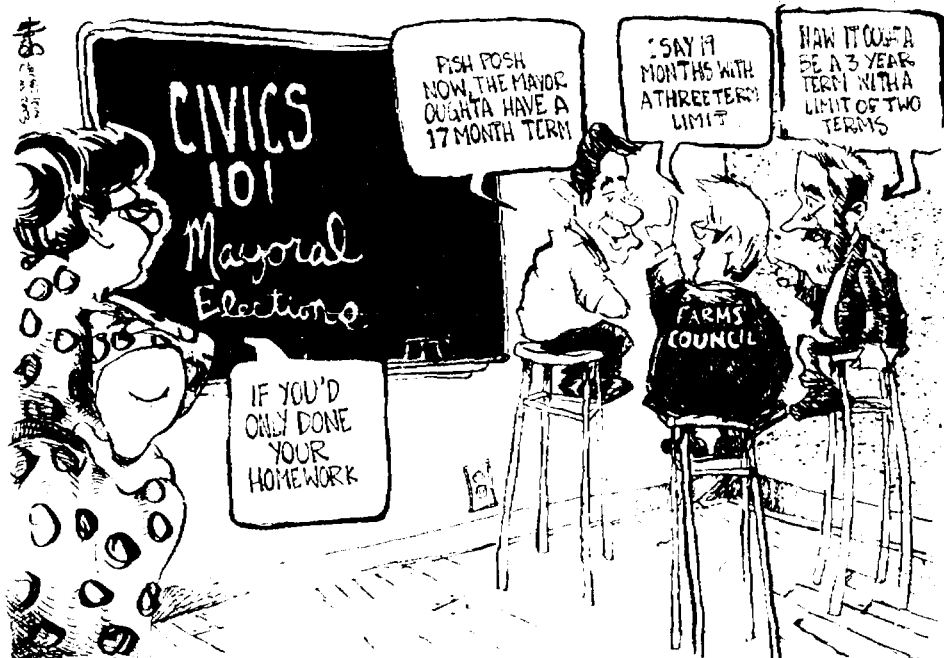

"As I gathered my thoughts for this meeting, several questions came to mind. Over the last few months, I have raised similar questions in discussions with district administrators. Unfortunately, my questions were ignored and/or chalked up as the ramblings of a union leader and never completely addressed. Therefore, I am bringing them to you for consideration and response.

"Why, with a healthy fund equity has the board, until the passage of the recent bond, continued to use the general fund for building maintenance and improvements? Why isn't the fund equity being used to offset the deficit? In past years the fund equity has been referred to as a 'rainy day' fund. Well, with 54 teachers on the layoff list, I do believe the water is at our knees and rising.

"Why were 31 teachers laid off last year while you expanded the community school program? I recognize the value of the community school but was it fiscally responsible to expand a program while financial cuts were being implemented?

"Why, with $10,000 behind each student, are the elementary students being asked to subsidize programs at the middle and high school levels? Perhaps with early intervention at the elementary level, there would not be a need for a community school that costs $2,000 to $3,000 more per pupil/year than the per pupil cost in regular classes. How can this be justified?

"Why are pilot programs being encouraged while courses in core academic areas are being cut?

Address comments to cartoonist Phil Hands at HANDSP@kenyon.edu

"Why hasn't the seven-period day at the middle school and the high school been revisited? Is the seven-period day being fully utilized at the high school? Is there data to support the maintenance of this costly program? It is my understanding that by moving to a six-period day, the district would save $4 million per year. Not considering this change is fiscally irresponsible.

"Why, during this academic year, were teachers and administrators allowed to leave the state for district-paid conferences and meetings? In fact, after the 'freeze' on conferences was finally made in late fall, administrators were still allowed to travel out of state.

"Within the last six weeks, two administrators traveled to the West Coast for a conference. Why in good conscience was this permitted? In stressful economic times, doesn't every penny count?

"Why, with a projected deficit of $3.2 million, are 54 teachers being laid off? These layoffs will save the district $3.2 million. Are teachers being used to solve your financial problems? The Canton School District with a $5 million deficit has only laid off 12 teachers. The Florida Palm Beach County Board of Education, also facing a financial deficit, has made a commitment to first reducing staff that does not have direct instructional responsibilities which includes laying off assistant principals at the middle and high school levels.

"Whenever layoffs have occurred, it appears that teachers, custodial personnel, office personnel, and classroom assistants find their names on the layoff lists. In 35 years, I cannot recall seeing the names of administrators on layoff lists. Will administrators also be laid off? How can you, in good conscience, lay off teachers and not make proportionate layoffs in the administrative ranks?

"In closing, I realize that many will view my comments as the posturing and rhetoric of a union leader. Contrary to those who have these thoughts, I am and have always been concerned about the education of our students.

"I'd like to leave you with this thought: The conditions in which teachers teach also happen to be the conditions in which Grosse Pointe's children are learning."

I am awaiting a response from the board of education to the questions raised. Thank you for publishing my comments.

Thanks for support

To the Editor:
We would like to thank everyone who helped to make our 2003 Assumption Cultural Center "Spring Into Fashion" on May 1 a huge success.

Thank you also to the many businesses and individuals who made donations to our raffle.

The proceeds from this fashion show fund-raiser will be donated to the Assumption Church Benefit Fund which was set up after our disastrous church fire last year.

We are now one step closer to reopening the doors of the Assumption Church to our parishioners and the community.

Teaching with style

Webster's dictionary says to teach is to communicate knowledge or skill. I'm not satisfied with that answer because it makes teaching sound so simple.

We all experience the impact teachers make on our lives. Some touch us more than others.

Many teachers might simply pass on their knowledge year by year, class by class. But the memorable ones manage to find that niche — that precise method of reaching their students — and remain forever etched in our minds.

No one teacher holds the answer of how to effectively reach all of his students. Different procedures, practices, techniques and approaches are thrown around by teachers of all subjects and age levels.

Individuals go to school for years, learning the skills required to be deemed credible to teach others.

I wholeheartedly admire teachers for their courage to choose a profession that puts them right in the lions den.

Dealing with the likes of screaming children, gossiping adolescents or high schoolers who just don't care is not an easy task.

The answer to what makes a great teacher is a personal one, one that is distinctively different among individuals.

To honor National Teacher Day (May 7), I asked around for comments on the teachers individuals remember most.

It seems that the good ones — the teachers who make a difference — are never forgotten.

Jennie Miller

tured in this week's schools section of The Grosse Pointe News.

I, for one, have four favorites. Since this is my story, I have no limits.

They are: Rufus McGaugh, a social studies teacher at Brownell Middle School; Jeff Nardone, Journalism teacher and Tower advisor at Grosse Pointe South High School; Senor Mason, Spanish teacher at South; and Pandora Buterakos, my first grade teacher at Richard Elementary School.

I have a few things to say in particular about Rufus:

A student could only be so lucky as I was: not only being assigned to his class in the first place, but having him two years in a row.

He is the kind of teacher who makes learning fun, starting with the fact that he made all of his students refer to him as Rufus, never to disclose his real first name (which I later discovered is Don).

This familiarity with his students allowed Rufus to demand a certain respect from his classes, and students also saw him as a tr end.

Every year, I made sure to have him sign my yearbook.

I couldn't wait to get to his class each day, even though in middle school, my mind was focused on other things than school like my friends, sports, boys and passing notes.

His might have been the one class in which I was never afraid to raise my hand, something that is very important for shy kids.

A great teacher is one who commands attention to the subject matter, and Rufus did just that. I remember he would sometimes show up at school in head-to-toe military garb, and, if I remember correctly, he has a hat from every country he visited, which is probably every country on the planet.

Rufus proved to me that a fantastic teacher is one who has actually experienced the subject matter he is teaching. It made learning the geography of Africa far more interesting when Rufus showed us pictures of his most recent trip to Zimbabwe.

But Rufus' humor stood out most of all in his classes. He made each day an exciting event in education, especially with the updates of other Rufuses around the world.

His students were excited to take tests because that meant we got to listen to songs like "Istanbul, not Constantinople" and "What Are We Fighting For?," with choruses that are, to this day, still running through my head.

Subject matter like social studies, geography and history is not something that gets many students riled up in middle school. But Rufus is probably the reason my college major was history, and I still check current events every day, hoping to get a jelly bean.

Teachers who are memorable are hard to come by.

Milk run

Chuck Shinn knows what goes on in more Grosse Pointe homes in the wee hours of the morning than any police officer. He also knows the street names, the dog names, the early risers and the late revelers.

He can tell you when the schools are on break and the kids are home from college. He knows which mothers give their children Breathalyzer tests each time they return home from school events. He can tell you who pays their bills on time and who doesn't. But he'll never share that infor-

When Shinn retires in the next few weeks after turning over his customers to Mike Bauman, those stories will go with him. Bauman is the son of a milkman, who started his route at the same time as Chuck.

Shinn, who has delivered milk, butter, orange juice, cottage cheese and assorted items to Pointers for 40 years, lives by a milkman code of silence. Because he picks up his wares and starts his rounds six days a week as early as 2:30 a.m. and finishes by noon, he gets a rare glimpse of folks before they put on their workaday game faces, get dressed and go out to face the world.

After they sign up for his service, some customers never see the tall, ruggedly handsome milkman again. He simply gets an order taped to a door or a deck rail and stocks up a refrigerator and leaves a monthly bill. For four decades, he has charted the growth of children from small babies to adulthood by the amount of milk and juice that is requested.

It isn't often he sees those children after they become teens and tend to sleep in, but he always inquires after their well-being. One customer had so many children that the family had two milkmen, delivering on alternate days.

Some might claim that Chuck is one of a vanishing breed, like the last of the League of Women Voters of GP... They Have it Together!

As many of you know, I am running for one of the two Board of Education seats that you will be voting for on June 9th. Since I have never run for any elected office in my life, every day during the past month has introduced me to a new facet of life in the public eye. Overall, it has been a wonderful experience.

Last Wednesday, I was asked to participate in a public forum organized by The League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe at the Wicking Library. Needless to say, I was a little nervous going into the library that night, and believe me, I stayed nervous through the duration of the forum. One of the things that impressed me most all through the duration of the forum was the professionalism with which the forum was run, right down to the stop watch timing our responses to questions, the cue cards telling us when to stop speaking and drawing straws (actually tongue depressors) to determine in what order the candidates would answer questions.

The forum is going to be televised on Channel 20. Listen to the candidate's comments of course, but also take the time to watch the precision with which it is run. I think the women running this forum could give the people at NBS a few tips when the presidential elections get into full swing!Ahmed Ismail Mohicans, but that wouldn't be true. Despite the occasional media feature about disappearing milkmen, these hardy folks who confront rain and sleet, hail and snow, suspicious dogs and occasionally worse, continue to operate.

One of the reasons people believe milkmen have disappeared is that they stopped making those distinctive, Divco, snub-nosed, delivery trucks in 1986. Gradually, with all that wear and tear, the vehicles disappeared from the streets.

The first multi-stop milk delivery truck was invented by George Bacon, a Detroit engineer. You could drive it from the front, the back or either running board. The Detroit Industrial Vehicle Co. produced its first Divco in 1926.

While there is one milkman in the Pointes who still drives a Divco-shaped truck, the rest deliver in a variety of sometimes awkward looking vehicles with refrigeration units on the roofs. There are still about six milkmen making a good living working in the Pointes. At his peak Shinn, 68, had 254 customers, including the War Memorial, various restaurants and small groceries and Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. He is down now to 83, and he has been threatening to retire ever since his wife, Carol, ended her regular teaching career a year or so ago.

So here's a typical reporter's dumb question: "How many half gallons of milk do you think you have delivered in 40 years?"

"That's like asking how many nails there are in a pail," Shinn responded, laughing. How about interesting stories? "I've got some good ones, but I can't tell them," he demurred.

He did tell one story though without any names. Not long ago, in the early a.m., he was delivering milk to a home that actually still used a milk chute. As he peered in the chute looking for the order list, an arm suddenly thrust out toward him. "It scared me half to death," he said. "I almost had a heart attack. It was the 10-year-old daughter playing a joke."

So what will Shinn, who grew up in the Pointes, do in retirement other than not write a tell-all book? He'll probably continue his hobbies of biking, camping, pitching horseshoes and sailing. He is too used to hard work to sit on the front porch of his Sterling Heights home and watch the world go by. Besides, Carol wouldn't let him.

Nice profiles

Hour Detroit Magazine, that toney publication from Oakland County, profiled two famous Pointers in its May issue.

Michigan Supreme Court Chief Justice Maura Corrigan of the Park told writer Eric Freedman who she would invite to an imaginary dinner party: Michael J. Fox, Abigail

Adams, Jeb Bush, John Adams, James Madison, Steven Spielberg, Thomas Jefferson, Rudy Giuliani, Gilda Radner, Benjamin Franklin, C.S. Lewis and Mother Teresa.

Pointer Molly Abraham profiled Bob Liggett Jr., of the Shores, and wrote of the former broadcaster's rescue of Elias Brothers Big Boy from bankruptcy. Liggett, 60, increased the size of the double-decker burger as a first decision and kept the price the same.

His wife, Vicki, worked at a Big Boy in high school and college, and daughters Marjorie and Roberta, 12, and Emily, 13, have pledged to work at Big Boy when they are old enough. They enjoy going to the Big Boy on Jefferson at Nine Mile in St. Clair Shores. Both profiles made for nice reading.

We had 475 participants between three sites and raised over $70,000. This represents a 40 percent increase over last year's event. We could not do this without the exposure we receive from the Grosse Pointe News.

Your support helps us at the Arthritis Foundation achieve our mission to improve lives through leadership in the prevention, control and cure of arthritis. The money we raise will have a significant impact in the fight against arthritis, the nation's No. 1 cause of disability.

Thank you once again for making this walk happen. We look forward to an even bigger and better event next year.

How can Ahmed Ismail add value to our Board of Education?

As a member of our community, you have a vested interest in our schools. Take the time to find out what life experiences we as candidates have to complement those of the existing Board members and our administration.

Here's some information about me that may give you some insight as to why I am so committed to helping decide the direction of our schools:

- Our family moved to Harper Woods when I was entering second grade. The sole reason my parents moved to Harper Woods was so that we could attend the Grosse Pointe Schools.
- I attended Poupard, Parcels, Grosse Pointe South, then Grosse Pointe North, graduating in 1970.
- I own Speedi Photo, where I started my work career (then Studio Camera) as a part time stock boy in 1967 while at Parcels. My wife Mary Ann now runs the day-to-day business with Jeanie Soulliere and I handle the advertising and long term planning. For 31 years, we have prospered despite problematic economic cycles because we know how to respond quickly to our customers needs. The budget cuts our school system is facing this coming year are the tip of the iceberg. The likelihood of the State changing their school funding policy next year to give us more funds is nil. If there was ever a time when our Board needed a member who has a common sense business approach to logically dealing with hard economic times and weathering the storm, it is now.
- For the past 19 years, I have been involved in commercial construction cost containment and schedule consulting, serving a diverse base of clients ranging from Chrysler Realty to local clients such as Dr. Richard Dunlap and Dr. Michelene Riley. Our community is starting the construction covered by the $61 million bond we recently approved. If there was ever a time our Board needed a member with an extensive background in commercial construction, it is now.
- The best reference I can give you as to my commitment to our children and our schools are the teachers at Ferry School. We work together daily as a team to make Ferry School the best learning environment possible for our children.
- I am passionate about my belief that our teachers and our facilities are the sole assets we have to offer our children in our school system. Without them being the best they can be, we will do a disservice to our children. As parents and a school system, we have to put our commitment to these assets above all else.

If you think my 'common sense' insight would be a valued asset to complement the talents of the existing members of our Board of Education, your vote on June 9 will be sincerely appreciated. Thank you.

Geraldine S. Bush

Geraldine S. Bush, 94, passed away on Monday, May 19, 2003, at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

Born in Traverse City in 1908, Ms. Bush was employed as a medical secretary. She was a member of the Mayflower Society of Michigan, the Daughters of the American Revolution, and Christ Church Grosse Pointe.

She is survived by her niece, Betty Lippard; and her nephew, Gary Murphy.

Arrangements were made by Generations Funeral and Cremation Services in Berkeley.

Elfrida Petersen Leete

City of Grosse Pointe resident Elfrida Petersen Leete,

95, passed away on March 5, 2003. A memorial service will be held on Saturday, June 7, at 2 p.m. at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church followed by a reception in the church lounge.

Jane L. Madison

Jane L. Madison

Grosse Pointe resident Jane L. Madison, 84, passed away on Sunday, May 25, 2003.

Born in Detroit, Mrs. Madison graduated from St. Davids High School in 1936.

She was a volunteer at Bon Secours Hospital and was involved with the American Red Cross, the Archconfraternity of St. Clare, the Fontbonne Auxiliary of St. John Hospital and the Third Order of St. Francis.

Mrs. Madison was also involved for many years with the St. Clare Bowlers.

She is survived by her daughters, Dorothy (Dave) Maki and Mary Kay (Michael) LaChance; her sons, Thomas (Laura), John, Norbert (Gretchen), Michael (Susan) and Mark; her grandchildren, Anne Marie, David, Joseph, Kate, Andrew, Jacqueline, Christopher, Lauren and Ethan; and her sister, Sister John Cassian.

A funeral Mass was celebrated on Wednesday, May 28, at St. Clare of Montefalco Catholic Church. Interment is in Resurrection Cemetery. Arrangements were made by Chas. Verheyden Inc. in Grosse Pointe Park.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Rhoda Newberry Reed

Former Grosse Pointe Farms resident Rhoda Newberry Reed, 91, of Bellair, Fla., passed away on Wednesday, May 21, 2003, at Morton Plant Meese Hospital in Clearwater, Fla. Mrs. Reed was a philanthropist, an amateur artist and, in her youth, the debutante daughter of one of Detroit's most socially prominent families.

At a young age, Mrs. Reed studied art in Paris, and for the next 20 years of her life, painted watercolors which were shown and sold in a number of local exhibitions, including the Detroit Artist's Market.

During World War II, Mrs. Reed worked at Henry Ford Hospital as a nurse's assistant. She later contributed her time, effort and financial support to Cottage Hospital in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Mrs. Reed was also an active member and supporter of the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Garden Club of America.

In 1992, Mrs. Reed received the Golden Flame Award from Morton Plant Meese Hospital, given to individuals whose outstanding support made a significant and lasting difference to the institution.

Through her own contributions and those of the RNR Foundation, a charitable institution she founded and endowed in the early 1990s, she supported a wide range of projects and organizations that included the Gulf Coast Art Museum (where a gallery is named in Mrs. Reed's honor), the Salvation Army, Boys and Girls Club projects, homeless shelters, suicide prevention, a community service outreach program at Rawlins College and the Boy Scouts of America.

In addition to art, Mrs. Reed enjoyed golf, tennis and skiing.

She is survived by her four children, Charles N. Lord; David H. Lord; Richard S. Lord and Edith N. Lord-Wolff; four grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

She was predeceased by her first husband, John N. Lord; her second husband, Toby Hansen; and her third husband, Ted Reed.

A memorial service was held on Saturday, May 24, at Moss-Feaster Funeral Home in Largo, Fla.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Morton Plant Meese Hospital Foundation.

David Ward Russell

Grosse Pointe Park resident David Ward Russell, 81, passed away on Thursday, May 22, 2003.

Born in Nebraska, Mr. Russell graduated from McCook High School and earned his bachelor's degree and master's degree from the University of Nebraska.

He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II and was employed as a research pharmacologist for 37 years at Parke-Davis. Mr. Russell was also the manager of the Detroit Racquet Club.

He is survived by his wife of 56 years, Gretchen; his daughters, Jeanne Russell and Sally Roach; his son, David M. Russell; and four grandchildren.

A memorial service was held on Wednesday, May 28, at Christ Church Grosse Pointe. Interment is in Resurrection Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to McCook Educational Center, c/o Al Cuellar, 703 N. Third St., McCook, NE 69001 or to the Van Elslander Cancer Center, 19229 Mack, Grosse Pointe Woods, MI 48236.

Park budget absorbs health care premiums

By Brad Lindberg
Staff Writer

Employees who do two jobs in one are helping Grosse Pointe Park avoid layoffs a 13 percent jump in health care costs to $1 million per year.

Staffing levels are expected to remain the same this year as the city's finance team crunched numbers in the face of economic trends that could have busted the city's $9.3 million budget, just passed this week.

"Over the last 10 years or so we've made efforts to create greater efficiency through consolidation of duties," said Dale Krajniak. "It's worked well."

Jane Blahut, for example, wears dual hats as city clerk and finance director.

Chris Reimel, who oversees the public works street department, does likewise for the water and electrical departments.

Chris Powell, city fire inspector, is emergency medical technician coordinator and a sergeant in the public safety department.

"We're fortunate to have a talented pool of employees," Krajniak said.

Expensive employee health care benefits are forcing city officials to hire more part-time staff, who aren't covered by full-time benefits.

"During peak summer operations, when swimming and recreation programs are in full swing, we have about 240 employees, at least half of whom work part time," Krajniak said.

He anticipated hiring 10 additional seasonal workers this summer, bringing the part-time roster to 160 people. Full-time staff will not be increased. Also, when a full-timer retires, the job might be consolidated.

City officials balanced this year's budget while outmaneuvering cuts in state aid.

"Our state shared revenue was cut by about $150,000," Blahut said. Shared revenue stands at $1.23 million compared with $1.39 million last year. Fines and forfeits will add another $516,330 to the kitty.

Nearly 70 percent of the city's revenue (more than $6.4 million) will be generated by 13.43-mill property taxes — a 2 percent cut from the year before.

Mayor Palmer Heenan advised residents that due to rising property values, the tax rate reduction will nevertheless produce slightly higher tax bills.

Had property values remained the same, a homeowner whose property had a market value of $400,000 would have seen a $14 tax decrease to $2,736 according to Krajniak.

Although police, fire and emergency medical protection will eat up more than 51 percent of expenses, Public Safety Chief David Hiller said he's trying to keep costs down.

"We're constantly reviewing expenditures and equipment purchases," he said. "We're monitoring overtime."

The department cut one employee two years ago for budget reasons.

"I have not been told we're going to lose manpower or anything else," Hiller said. "Based on projections, we're in pretty good shape."

Among new expenses, Blahut said the year-round activities building at Windmill Pointe Park has a $433,000 budget.

"It will be self-supporting through user fees," Krajniak added.

The building will not only replace the old bathhouse and locker rooms but also offer brand new facilities for numerous optional programs that will require user fees.

Residents will have the opportunity to enroll in fitness programs, attend movies and lectures in a tiered auditorium available or rent meeting rooms.

In descending order, the city's largest appropriations (in addition to public safety and the activities building) will be:

- public works, $810,953;
- transfers to other funds, $669,000;
- recreation, $474,517 and
- public service, $378,931.

Something To Think About

BRIAN A. JOSEPH DIRECTOR

Consider the Survivor

Unfortunately, when the income producer in the family dies, often the survivor's mode of living has to be changed dramatically. The effect of this can be devastating if it has not been anticipated.

During their joint lifetimes, a couple should evaluate what the net estate will be and what income it can reasonably be expected to produce. They should then consider how the survivor can best arrange affairs so as to live on that income. For example, it might be clear that the family residence cannot be sold. In such a case, consideration would be given to what might be realized from the sale of the residence, what should be done with this capital, what other arrangements for the survivor's habitation should be made.

If this sort of evaluation is done carefully, the survivor will suffer a minimum of surprises and will make the transition with a minimum of difficulty.

Peggy Moreland Woodhouse brought in her entire photo album from her 1951 Chet trip, including these pictures. Do you know anyone in them?

Chet Sampson's trips out west went in caravans of station wagons, above, driven by the older boys, who were all seniors. Meals on the road could be had anywhere they happened to stop, such as this parking lot, right. Above, right, the boys and girls and Chet posed for a photograph with Bing Crosby at his ranch.

Chet memories alive and well

Well, no surprise, everyone, including Heather Guster of the Park, Elli Giordimaina of the Farms and Shirley Wiederholden of St. Clair Shores, knew the actress in the Chet memories photo last week. We knew, too, but we wanted your input.

Debbie Veda wanted to know if we had any pictures with Marilyn Monroe!

Barbara Fitzgerald Finch of the Farms wrote:

"Memories, memories! What wonderful times we had as students at The High School.

"The trips out west with Chet Sampson were among the highlights of those years.

"From left is Don Milock, Bill Rupp and in back of Bill is Herb Abrash. The student to the right of Elizabeth is Don Egar and in back of Don is David Carrs. Bill Deboer stands in the lower right hand corner. All of these classmates attended our 50th class reunion held in 2001 at the War Memorial.

If you have "Chet memories" to share, drop us a note or letter to: Editor, Grosse Pointe News, 96 Kercheval, Grosse Pointe Farms, MI 48236; fax, (313) 882-1585; or e-mail: editor@grossepointenews.com. We will run other Chet pictures along with your memories throughout the coming weeks.

Join the fifth anniversary American Cancer Society Relay For Life

The fifth anniversary American Cancer Society Relay For Life will be held on Friday and Saturday, May 30 and 31, at Blossom Heath Park in St. Clair Shores, recruiting teams, walkers and participants from St. Clair Shores, Grosse Pointe and communities throughout the east side.

The Relay For Life is a 24-hour team-based event where teams actually pitch tents and take turns walking around the path throughout 24 hours. The Relay For Life is a multifaceted event — it is a celebration of life for cancer survivors, a memorial for loved ones lost, and a rally for the community to raise funds to fight cancer.

Relay For Life began in 1985 when Dr. Gordon Klatt in Tacoma, Wash., walked 24 hours by himself to help raise money for the fight against cancer. Today, Relay For Life events occur in countries around the world.

The Relay For Life is the American Cancer Society's national signature event. In 2002, more than 3,300 events took place across the United States. There were 113,000 teams who walked for 24 hours, including over 500,000 cancer survivors who celebrated their victory over the disease by participating in the Survivor Victory Laps. More than $245 million was raised in 2002 by Relay For Life events to help in the fight against cancer.

In Michigan, 106 communities hosted Relay For Life events where 19,000 survivors took their victory lap and helped raise over $9.6 million. In Metro Detroit there were 20 locations, raising $1.2 million. It is not only about the money, it is about what the money can do.

It is easy to see why the Relay For Life is the most successful fund-raising event in America. One in every 100 people across the United States has participated in Relay For Life. In 1999, the American Cancer Society hosted the first Relay For Life in St. Clair Shores at the parking lot of the civic arena. There were six teams who worked very hard and raised $20,000.

The following year was an explosive year, where the event grew to 25 teams who raised more than $65,000 and in 2001, Relay fever was spreading. Thirty-five teams had lots of fun, worked very hard and raised more than $107,000 to help in the fight against cancer and last year 41 teams came together and raised $146,000. Momentum is continuing into 2003 and to date there are 53 teams committed to this Relay event.

Leading the initiative for this year are volunteer chairpersons Colleen Kelly and Cindy Siterlet. As fourth-year chairpersons, they wanted to find a worthwhile project and help in the fight against cancer — a disease that affects so many of us. Kelly celebrates being a five-year cancer survivor this month, and so the Relay For Life was the perfect avenue for her involvement. In addition to helping her friend Kelly through the diagnosis, treatment and survival of cancer, Siterlet lost her father and other family members to cancer. Together, they have made the Relay For Life their passion and have worked tirelessly to promote the growth of this event.

Although Relay For Life is a national event, each community creates its own relay experience. The Relay For Life is a family event and a living lesson is provided for the children by participating in it.

Several recognition aspects are built into Relay For Life. Cancer survivors are given commemorative pins or sashes to wear, and will lead a "Victory Lap" around the track in honor of their triumph over cancer at 7 p.m. on Friday. If you are a cancer survivor, or know someone who is, join in the Cancer Survivor Victory Lap — a memorable celebration of survivorship.

The most visible and emotional part of Relay For Life is the luminaria ceremony, which occurs at sundown on Friday. Luminarias are small candle-lit bags decorated with the names of people lost to cancer or current cancer survivors. At 9 p.m., relay organizers will line the track with luminaria in honor of those who have had a cancer experience.

"The sight of the luminaria glowing in the darkness is breathtaking and it really emphasizes why we are all here," says Amy Motyka, community development director, American Cancer Society. "The Luminaria Ceremony brings to light the impact cancer has had on our communities and inspires us to do everything possible to find a cure."

Event sponsorship is essential in order to make sure that the monies raised by the teams go directly to the cause. It is the goal that sponsorship dollars cover all the costs involved in making the event happen.

You can shop for a cure at Discovery Shop

Anita Sandercott, manager of the American Cancer Society Discovery Shop at 110 Kercheval in Grosse Pointe Farms, fights cancer every day.

Together, with the staff of over 40 volunteers, the Discovery Shop aims to provide unique and quality merchandise at affordable prices to the community.

Discovery Shops are quality resale shops owned and operated by the American Cancer Society. Shops are located in communities throughout the United States, including seven in metro Detroit. All proceeds raised from the sale of donated items are used to help fund cancer research and local programs and services.

Quality donations are always accepted, and a variety of volunteer opportunities are available in all shops.

The merchandise at the Discovery Shops includes unique furniture, one-of-a-kind collectibles, designer clothing, jewelry, seasonal and holiday merchandise, fine china and glassware. Typically, a customer comes to the Discovery Shops because a friend told him or her about it, and usually becomes a customer for life.

"Every day, new customers come into the shop and compliment the volunteers here about how great the merchandise is and how pleasant a shopping environment we have," says Sandercott. "Moreover, customers really like knowing that the money they spend at the shop helps fund American Cancer Society programs and research grants."

Discovery Shops are run entirely by volunteers, which allows all of the proceeds to directly benefit the mission of the American Cancer Society. From the volunteers working the cash register to those who pick up special donations, everyone is working toward the same goal — a cancer-free world. Whether it's volunteering for a couple of hours or a couple of days every week, each volunteer at the Discovery Shop is valued and appreciated. The shops in Grosse Pointe Farms and St. Clair Shores are both currently looking to fill volunteer positions.

"I volunteer at the Discovery Shop because I hope that my time and efforts will be rewarded with a cure, soon," says Dawn Symonds, five-year shop volunteer. "In addition, I help to coordinate our team at the Relay For Life with the shop in St. Clair Shores. Our team consists of shop volunteers, family and friends, who all participate in Relay for our own personal reasons."

All of the merchandise in the Discovery Shops is donated by people in the community who want to help the American Cancer Society. Clothing, jewelry, furniture, antiques, collectibles, seasonal merchandise, fine china and glassware are some examples of the quality donations that are accepted.

"Currently, donations of furniture are the best sellers here at our shop," says Sandercott. "When we have a dining room set or a pair of chairs donated, they usually only stay on the sales floor for a couple of days. And the furniture donations are very high quality."

For more information, stop by the American Cancer Society Discovery Shop campsite at Blossom Heath Park on Friday and Saturday, May 30-31, or visit their shops at 110 Kercheval in Grosse Pointe Farms, (313) 881-6458; and at 31049 Harper at 13 Mile Road in St. Clair Shores, (586) 285-7467.

Cancer is so limited

It cannot cripple love;
It cannot shatter hope.
It cannot corrode faith;
It cannot destroy peace.
It cannot kill friendship;
It cannot suppress memories.
It cannot silence courage;
It cannot invade the soul.
It cannot steal eternal life,
And it cannot conquer the Spirit.

Grosse Pointe teachers leave a permanent mark

By Jennie Miller
Staff Writer

In honor of the nationwide recognition of teachers this month, here is a list of favorite teacher submissions from former Grosse Pointe students:

•Mac Nutter, of Detroit, remembers Dennis Hawhee from Pierce Middle School, whom he refers to as "A legend among middle school teachers and a great basketball coach to boot."

•Chris Ford, of Longmont, Colo., remembers University Liggett School fourth grade teacher and high school baseball coach Glynn Conley and Jim Fowler, ULS high school history teacher and Varsity ice hockey coach.

"As I am now a high school teacher, I appreciate my own teachers more and more each day," Ford said.

•R.J. Wolney, of Chicago, Ill., remembers South teacher Renee Ikerd for her humor, her work as freshman adviser, her skill at challenging students in science and keeping the subject matter interesting.

"I was always impressed with how she kept everyone on their toes when addressing topics that were sometimes monotonous," Wolney said of Ikerd. "Teaching a subject that many students approach with great trepidation, Ms. Ikerd succeeded in breathing life into the concepts while providing a memorable learning experience."

•Rebecca Dallaire, of Harrison Township, remembers Donica Keogh, an English teacher at Parcels.

"She made learning fun and treated kids like people," Dallaire said. "She allowed fun to take place in the classroom while still teaching."

•Laurie League, of Grosse

Pointe Park, remembers •Josh Moulton, of Chicago, Ill., remembers ULS art teacher Jim Pujdowski, fourth-grade teacher Glynn Conley, English teacher Leslie Jeffs and first grade teacher hockey, volleyball and lacrosse coach.

"(Stackpole) helped develop self-confidence in so many of us when we were insecure and vulnerable young teenagers," Watt said.

Watt also listed Deana Georgopolous, Mary Hindle, Suzanne Raymo, David Tidwell and Rich DeGrosso as favorites.

•Christine Jacobs, of Washington, D.C., calls Mary Miller, former history teacher at South, "a life-changing teacher."

"Her classes were difficult, time-consuming and often frustrating — and I believe she would not have had it any other way," Jacobs said of Miller. "She wanted us to know that learning — truly learning — meant striving."

•Kara Feemster, of Grosse Pointe Park, remembers ULS fourth-grade teacher Glynn Conley, first-grade teacher Brigitte Peck Reid and middle school math teacher Julie Booher.

•Dayna Bourbeau, of Grosse Pointe Park, hasn't forgotten Star of the Sea Catholic School teacher Patty Stumb, now the school's principal.

Senior Mason, South English teacher Peggy Ptaznik, South Math teacher Richard Underwood and band instructor Joe Bauer.

•Kristen Feemster, of Philadelphia, Penn., remembers ULS first grade teacher Brigitte Peck Reid and high school biology teacher Lestina Colby.

•Cam Piggett, of Grosse Pointe Shores, hasn't forgotten North history teacher Peter Dettlinger (now a counselor) and Star of the Sea teacher Patty Stumb (now the school's principal).

•Rebecca D'Arcy, of South Bend, Ind., remembers Tony

Gallagher, an upper school history teacher at ULS.

"He's a fabulously compassionate and interested teacher," she said.

•Sandra Hammell, of New York, NY, can't think of enough positive things to say about former South science teacher Karl Geisler and former South Spanish teacher Senor Mason.

•Peter Torrice, of St. Clair Shores, remembers North history teacher Peter Dettlinger (now a counselor) and Parcels math teacher Alan Silverston.

•Kristin Wright, of Binghamton, NY, remembers ULS first grade teacher Brigitte Peck Reid.

•Alicia Van Tol, of Grosse Pointe Park, hasn't forgotten South English teacher Mary Collins or South Spanish teacher Jan Hendrie.

•Shera Teitge, of San Francisco, Calif., feels that the best teacher at ULS was Tony Gallagher, world history and AP U.S. history teacher.

•Bill Blaess, of the City of Grosse Pointe, will never forget South social studies teacher Tom Briske.

•Nick Arrigo, of the City of Grosse Pointe, remembers Richard third-grade teacher Frances Bassett, fourth-grade teacher Ernest Kalina (who now teaches at Pierce) and Brownell social studies teacher Rufus McGaugh.

•Carmie Tocco, of Grosse Pointe Park, hasn't forgotten Lillian Kachadorian, her fifth grade teacher at Trombly, who has since taught at Brownell and is retiring this year.

To all the Grosse Pointes' teachers past and present, your students thank you for passing on your knowledge and helping to teach life's greatest lessons.

'Teaching is the absolute profession — the one that makes all others possible.'

— First Lady Laura Bush

Pointe Park, remembers Gene Pluhar, current South art teacher and former physical education teacher at Kerby Elementary School.

Deana Georgopolous.

•Brad Gregory, of Grand Rapids, hasn't forgotten his first-grade teacher at Monteith Elementary School, Lisa Maki.

•Christine Budai, of Boston, Mass., remembers her Mair Elementary School fifth grade teacher, Yvonne Martilotti, whom she credits her passion for writing.

"She was the first teacher who pushed me beyond the curriculum to develop my academic interests and talents," Budai said. "She gave so many of us students the inspiration to think and work 'outside the box.'"

•Scott Gregory, of Harper Woods, remembers Grosse Pointe North High School history teachers Crosby Washburne and Peter Dettlinger.

•Anne Krappmann, of Grosse Pointe Farms, learned about success, commitment and dedication from former South Journalism teacher Bob Button.

•Catriona Watt, of Edinburgh, Great Britain, is still affected by the lessons of two ULS teachers on a daily basis: Anne Lampe, English teacher and Romilly Stackpole, physical education instructor and field

South hosts student film festival next Tuesday

Next Tuesday, June 3, Grosse Pointe South High School will host a student film festival in the school's auditorium at 7 p.m.

The 90-minute program will feature student works from John Monaghan's film lit classes and Steve Geresy's video production classes throughout the year.

"The two semesters have yielded so much footage, we decided to put together a single night (for public viewing)," Monaghan said.

The videos will cover a variety of genres, including drama, comedy, commercials and an extreme sports documentary.

The projects were created as class assignments and chosen based on their storyline and production value. "This has been a banner year for student film production, especially as students have access to more sophisticated digital cameras and editing equipment both at school and at home," Monaghan said. "The amount of talent these kids can produce is amazing."

Among the films featured are "The Beach" by David Vega, David Chen and Paul Marchionese, a contemporary tale about three Grosse Pointe South students who end up in drug dealing and illegal gambling.

"The Sharpest Edge" by Hilary Caranek is an extreme sports documentary filmed in Alaska, Tennessee and Northern Michigan.

"Life is But a Dream," by Chris Monaghan and Vicki Weiss, is a film about a confused man who subscribes to the notion that his actions are a part of someone else's dream.

"Don't Drink Your Life Away" by Tim Mulheron, is an award-winning public service announcement that illustrates the dangers of alcohol.

"Revelation," by Kevin James, involves a man realizing the hard way that there is such a thing as divine intervention.

"Ill Then," by Patrick Flanagan, is about a teenage boy working to make a decision.

"Bum Luck," by Brandon Crawford, is about a teenage boy who learns about himself by helping a homeless man.

In addition, a variety of student works from the TV production announcements and advance-level classes will be exhibited.

Nicole Marie Shammass Scholarship

University Liggett School announces that Michael and Deanna Kouskoulas of Harper Woods have been awarded the Nicole Marie Shammass Memorial Scholarship.

"Through the generosity of the Shammass family, we are able to recognize exceptional students like Michael and Deanna," said Matthew H. Hanly, head of school. "We are excited to be able to award them this honor."

The Shammass family, of Grosse Pointe Woods, established this gift in the name of their late daughter Nicole.

Part of the school's need-based financial assistance program, recipients of the scholarship must show an interest in the performing arts. The brother and sister recipients will be entering the eighth grade in the fall.

Students of the month

The Grosse Pointe Public School System announced its May students of the month.

Students of the Month are those students with excellent attendance and dedication to their volunteer jobs.

Safety Patrol students are on duty at intersections near schools to help students cross streets safely. They are at their posts every school day, before and after classes, in all kinds of weather.

These students include Morgan Bastian, Defer; Adam Evanski, Haley Abessinio, Ian Fitzgerald and Patrick Flynn, Monteith; Scott Przeslawski, Poupard; and Benjamin Wrobel, Trombly.

Service Squad students help with safety rules inside school buildings and perform other tasks as needed, such as helping in the school office.

Library Squad students assist the school librarian before class by shelving books and distributing audiovisual materials to teachers. These students include Paul Digiovanni and Leah Baker, Defer; Tiffany Szymanski, Ferry; Ellen Brown and Josh Garvin, Monteith; Natalie Sohn and Michele Miller, Richard; and Andrea Megyeri and Alix Chrumka, Trombly.

St. Clare receives grant

St. Clare of Montefalco Catholic School has been granted a Worship Renewal Grant by the Calvin Institute of Christian Worship in Grand Rapids.

More than 300 grant proposals from 33 denominations and 40 states were submitted to the institute which has awarded more than $700,000 to 54 churches and institutions this year.

Paula Miller, director of religious education at St. Clare, spearheads the program which provides for training and leadership to prepare and enhance worship participation through art, drama, music, puppetry and dance. Miller's dream project, called "Alive! With Worship," will involve the student body of diverse denominations to more active worship through various modes of participation.

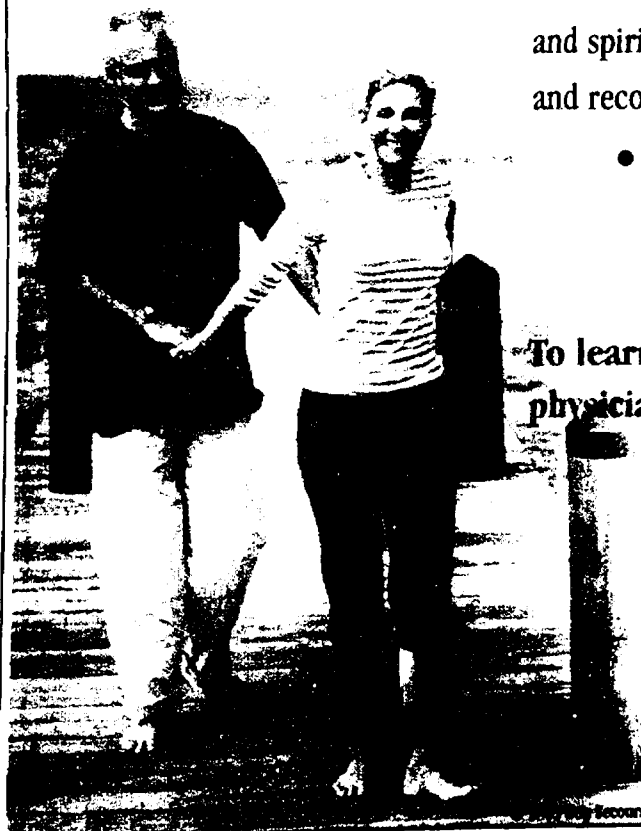

The project includes a student hymnal, puppets of diversity, chimes, costumes, banners, training for liturgical dance and staff development in liturgy planning.

"St. Clare School will bring to life our dream of young people of faith learning and expressing the joy of fully celebrating the liturgy," Miller said.

"Through the grant program we hope to encourage grass roots worship renewal in worship communities so that they are able to reflect on the purpose of worship and develop practices that will impact the worship life of their community for years to come," said Cindy Holtrop, director of the Worship Renewal Grants Program. Funds for the program were provided through Lilly Endowment Inc., founded in 1937.

The Academy shows off its traveling museums

By Jennie Miller
Staff Writer

After a year-long study of ancient Egypt, Wendy DeMartini's second-grade class at The Grosse Pointe Academy spread their newfound knowledge around the community.

They visited other classes at The Academy and traveled to Kerby Elementary School, posing as docents, to share their knowledge and give personal tours of self-made miniature museums.

The projects were complete with canopic jars, paddle dolls, hieroglyphics, pyramids, food, the Nile River and ancient boats.

"They were so serious about the presentations," said Demartini, who is also the school's curriculum coordinator. "They really cared about what they were doing."

The project covered a range of subjects and allowed students to express themselves creatively.

"Studying something like ancient Egypt encompasses everything from science to math," Demartini said. "It's full of richness."

The students also learned a lot about research during the unit.

"They understand how to get information," Demartini said, adding that the class found the topic to be very interesting. "They have a natural curiosity."

This type of project is something Demartini would like to see expanded upon.

"We're trying to get more people to do this," she said. "It's sort of a pilot program. There are other teachers who want to work on things like this next year. It's a whole lot of fun, and the possibilities are endless."

Demartini is considering topics such as ancient Greece or the Vikings for next year.

On Thursday, May 22, the students closed the unit with a banquet, complete with costumes and Egyptian food.

Second-graders in Wendy Demartini's class at The Grosse Pointe Academy brought their mini-museums of ancient Egypt to Kerby Elementary School on Tuesday, May 20.

National Merit Scholarship winners

Four local students were awarded National Merit Scholarships: Anne Osburn and Katherine Wyman, both of Grosse Pointe Park, and Andrea Hawksley and James Van Loon, both of Grosse Pointe Woods.

The national award, offered in every state, is based on the state's percentage of the nation's high school graduating seniors.

To be considered, a detailed scholarship application must be submitted, and a record of very high academic performance must be achieved. Eight thousand scholarships were awarded out of a group of approximately 15,000 finalists.

ULS honors Frank J. Sladen Jr.

More than 75 colleagues, former students and friends showed up at University Liggett School recently to honor Frank J. Sladen Jr., a former student, teacher, coach, administrator and headmaster. Held during Alumni Reunion Weekend, the Frank J. Sladen Jr. Conference Room dedication was a testament to his enduring contributions to the ULS community, according to administrators. "Frank Sladen's association with ULS and its predecessor schools covers more than half of the 125 years that we will be celebrating this fall," said Matthew H. Hanly, head of school, pictured above, with Sladen. "It was so fitting that we paid tribute to him. He has been an amazing resource to the ULS community and to the Grosse Pointe community alike." ULS also is establishing the "Frank J. Sladen Jr. Head of School Fund," to support special faculty advancement projects.

Clarification

The writeup for school board candidate Ahmed Ismail should have made clear that while Ismail regularly communicates with the Grosse Pointe Woods City Council and Planning Commission, he has not served on those bodies.

Regarding involvement with Ferry Elementary School's heating woes, the article should have said that since Ismail was the PTO Board Observer and had a construction background, he was drafted as the "point person" for the PTO in trying to come up with resolutions to the severe problem. The successful resolution of the problem comes from the hard work of many individuals and is in sight, but it will take several years to complete.

ULS holds all-school ceremony

By Jennie Miller
Staff Writer

In its 125th year, the three levels of University Liggett School gathered together on Friday, May 23, to close out the school year.

The event was held "to celebrate all those things which make us special and which make us so strong and so successful for the last 125 years," said teacher Marty Wittmer, a graduate of the Class of 1983.

The school held an ice cream social before the event and gathered on the lawn to sing songs and listen to recollections from faculty members and former students.

Ted Bidigare, Grosse Pointe Woods city administrator, read a proclamation to the school in recognition of its 125th anniversary.

Other speakers included Glynn Conley, a graduate in the Class of 1959 and current fourth grade teacher, and Betsy Heenan Fox, a graduate of the Class of 1978, who compared curriculum and cafeteria food past and present.

"The one thing that has remained consistent is the dedicated and caring faculty," she said.

Becky Simpson, a graduate of the Class of 1995, read a portion of Gilda Radnor's autobiography, recalling her educational years at the former Liggett School.

"During my Liggett years, I found out that I was funny. Humor became the foundation of my life," Radnor wrote.

The school then gave Wittmer a standing ovation as he said goodbye before taking a new job elsewhere.

"This place has been so special to me," he said. The celebration of ULS's 125th anniversary will culminate with the school's Anniversary Weekend on Oct. 3 and 4.

Three high schools' vals and sals

By Carrie Cunningham
Staff Writer

Regina High School, Trinity Catholic High School and Harper Woods High School awarded valedictorian and salutatorian honors to members of their senior classes. This year's academic achievers dazzle with their determination and intelligence. They leave their respective high schools with a mix of nostalgia and anticipation about their future lives. Astounding in their academic accomplishments, these seniors also contributed significantly to their community and schools in extracurricular activities.

Regina High School

Kathleen Monahan was named valedictorian, graduating Summa Cum Laude with a 4.26 GPA.

"I wasn't looking for it or expecting it, but it was an honor," Monahan said of her achievement.

She has received the National Merit

Scholarship, the Phi Beta Kappa Award, the President's Education Award, the Detroit Free Press All-State Academic Team and the Michigan Merit Award.

Vaughn enjoys studying English and history. She is undecided about what she will major in at the College of Literature, Science and the Arts at the University of Michigan.

Vaughn was captain of both track and cross country teams and was a member of the forensics, a public speaking group. She also belonged to a youth group at Our Lady Star of the Sea, her church.

She is the daughter of Thomas and Patricia Vaughn of Grosse Pointe Woods.

Having many fond memories of high school, Vaughn nonetheless is excited about U-M.

"I've met a lot of friends (at Regina), but college will be fun and new," she said.

Trinity Catholic High School

Kimberly Watson was named the valedictorian, achieving a 3.95 Grade Point Average. She will attend Arizona State University where she plans to study music.

"I'm glad I'm the valedictorian," she said. "I'm happy."

Watson plays violin for the Detroit Symphony Civic Orchestra, a youth orchestra. She performs in the orchestra for her church, Bethesda Church, a place where she has also spoken.

She is the daughter of Marianne and Tom Masserang of Harper Woods.

"I'll miss all my friends," Masserang said of her high school experience, adding, "I'm excited to move out and live by myself."

Harper Woods High School

Jacklyn Stachurski won valedictorian honors, graduating with a 3.98 grade point average.

"I tried my best," she said. "That was my goal when I came into high school. That was something I wanted."

Stachurski won a Presidential Scholarship at Wayne State University. She plans to be a pre-law student.

Aside from pouring her efforts into academics, Stachurski was intensely involved in extracurricular activities. She was a peer mediator, a youth advisor to the court and president of the Spanish National

Jacklyn Stachurski

Honor Society. She was a member of the Spanish Club, the Drama Club and the National Honor Society. She was secretary of her class.

Stachurski is the granddaughter of Pat Stachurski of Harper Woods.

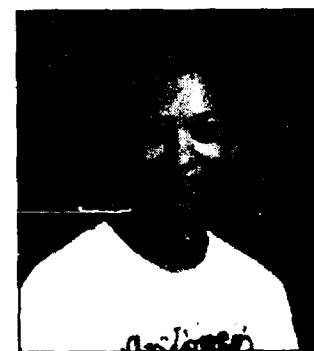

Stachurski feels sad that she won't be around her friends when she goes to college.

"I'll miss being able to see everyone every day," she said.

Amanda Fleig was named salutatorian, garnering a 3.92 grade point average.

"I thought I was going to be," she said. "I kept my grades up. I worked hard."

Having studied integrated math and calculus at the high school, Fleig plans to major in engineering at Wayne State University.

As a freshman, Fleig was on the varsity dance team and was nominated as an All-American. She didn't like being in the spotlight for performances; so she stopped being a member of the team.

When she's not studying, Fleig spends a lot of time with her friends and baby sits.

Fleig is the daughter of Martha Fleig and the twin sister of Rachel Fleig of Roseville.

She looks forward to college.

"I'm excited about meeting new people and living on my own," she said.

The valedictorians and salutatorians of Notre Dame High School and Lutheran East High School will be profiled in subsequent weeks.

Throngs of Harper Woods residents gathered at the Veteran's Memorial in Johnston Park for a Memorial Day service that honored members of the armed forces who gave their lives to defend our precious freedoms. Mayor Ken Poynter, above, spoke of the invaluable service veterans have given our country.

"Memorial Day is a sacred day to all veterans," he said. "It is the veteran, not the preacher, who has given us freedom of religion. It is the veteran, not the reporter, who has given us freedom of the press...It is the veteran, not the politician, who has given us the right to vote."

State Rep. Edward Gaffney, R-Grosse Pointe Farms, also spoke at the ceremony, and Harper Woods resident Kristin Ries sang "America the Beautiful." "Taps" was played on trumpets by Brian Johnides and Nick Ridella.

"We must be ever vigilant to defend the values that made America great," Gaffney said.

Those values of freedom and service shone at the morning ceremony.

HW Briefs

Buckling up

Harper Woods police are participating in the national "Click it or Ticket" campaign, which started May 19 and goes through June 1, to ensure residents are buckling their seat belts. Sponsored by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration of the U.S. Department of Transportation, the campaign calls for police to be extra vigilant in clamping down on persons not using seat belts.

The safety administration estimates that 75 percent of Americans are now using seat belts, and that with each percentage point increase in this total, 250 lives will be saved.

Bookmark display

The Friends of the Harper Woods Public Library selected bookmark contest winners for 2003 National Library Winners.

Contestants, age 4 to 13, designed bookmarks for judging.

Prizes supplied by the Friends and Beacon East Theaters were awarded to first place and honorable mention winners.

All of the entries will be on display at the library through June 4.

Park picnic

The Harper Woods School District presents a picnic Thursday, June 5, at Salter Park from 4 to 7 p.m. There will be a band concert, balloons, clowns and face painting. Hot dogs, chips, ice cream and cotton candy will be offered.

Golf outing

On Friday, June 6, Notre Dame High School is holding its third annual golf outing at Golden Hawk Golf Club, located at 9861 Meisner Lane in Casco Township. Tee-off time is 1 p.m. Hole sponsorships are $250, and golf packages are $150 per golfer.

A hole-in-one contest for a car will be sponsored by Jim Riehl's Friendly Automotive Group. A silent auction will be held throughout the day. Prizes will be awarded for top golfers. For more information, call Ed Belcrest, class of 1981 and director of development at (313) 371-8965 ext. 104.

Play basketball

Eastside Basketball and Our Lady Queen of Peace host the "Schools Out Shoot Out" three-on-three basketball tournament at noon on Saturday, June 14, at Trinity Catholic High School.

The cost is $30 per team for three or four players.

For more information, call Ed Bourke at (313) 882-1103.

Kathleen Monahan

Scholarship, the University of Michigan Regents Scholarship, the Phi Beta Kappa Award, the Grosse Pointe/Harper Woods Community Scholarship and the Michigan Merit Award. Monahan will attend Notre Dame University in Indiana where she plans to study studio art.

Monahan is secretary of Regina's Fine Art Society. She nurtured her interest in art by attending an art camp at the College for Creative Studies in Detroit. She did a variety of two-and-three-dimensional drawing.

Aside from art, Monahan likes writing and science.

She has managed to find time for a host of extracurricular activities alongside her academic studies. She was captain of the swim team. She designed sets for the "Sound of Music" and acted in "Guys and Dolls" and "South Pacific." She is a representative on the student council and loves to ski.

"If I could ski and paint all day, I would," she said.

Monahan is the daughter of Michael and Jakette Monahan of Grosse Pointe Shores.

She says she will miss Regina.

"The teachers are wonderful," she said. "I had a really good experience."

Catherine Vaughn was named salutatorian, graduating Summa Cum Laude with a 4.25 GPA.

"I worked for it. It was a goal of mine," she said. "I was happy."

She won the Michigan Robert C. Byrd Honors

Catherine Vaughn

Kimberly Watson

Aside from music, she likes studying English and science.

She is a member of the track team at Trinity Catholic.

The daughter of Jacqueline and Kenneth Watson of Detroit, Watson said she is eagerly anticipating the next chapter in her life.

"I'm ready to go to college," she said.

Salutatorian Kathleen Masserang graduated with a 3.86 grade point average.

"I was really glad that I made it," she said. "In my junior and senior year, I worked really hard."

Masserang will attend University of Detroit Mercy where she plans to be a pre-law student.

Masserang was involved in many extracurricular activities. She was student council president, president of the Spirit Club, which organizes pep rallies, vice president of Octagon, a service club, and vice president of the National Honor Society.

Profit-taking stalls market before the holiday

It was a shortened week, even though the market was open.

Last Friday, some didn't come in at all; others left early.

Even the passage of the $350 billion tax reduction didn't give the market much of a push.

Last week, the Dow slipped 77 points, or 9/10ths of 1 percent, to close at 8,601, breaking five weeks of gains.

Even the NASDAQ Composite coughed up 28 points, declining 1.8 percent, closing at 1,510.

The economic news this week is expected to be mixed.

Overall, stock buyers are looking for an excuse to buy, but upcoming June is another confession month.

The continuing slide of the dollar, terrorism worries and media chatter about deflation risks also nag on investor confidence.

Weather, or not?

Summer unofficially started this past Memorial Day weekend, when Wall Street adopted slow-time.

The big and small of finance started vacationing out to the Hamptons, by air to Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket and by car and train to the Jersey shore.

Barron's (May 26) "Commodities Corner" featured an article, "Freeze-Dried," by Jeff Thompson, a meteorologist with Global Weather Services.

It seems the Pacific Decadal Oscillation (PDO) is back with the bad news that we are advancing into its negative, or cool, phase — a global weather pattern — for 20 to 30 years!

There have been two full

PDO cycles in the past 113 years, with cool cycles from 1890-1924 and from 1947-1976.

Warm cycles occurred from 1925-1946 and from 1977-1998.

The present cold phase (remember last winter?) is expected to peak around 2007, and should shift back to the warm phase around 2016.

Don't confuse the PDO with the smaller scale El Niño/Southern Oscillation, which lasts only six to 18 months.

The cold winters will lead to cooler than normal annual temperatures throughout continental U.S.

Diminished rainfall will cause severe drought in the Southwest, producing water shortages in southern California, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico, stressing hydroelectric power production.

Aren't you glad that Michigan is almost surrounded by the Great Lakes?

Natural gas

The clean, silent fuel! We've come to take natural gas for granted in metropolitan areas.

Not so in the rural areas of Michigan, where you have a choice of LP (bottled gas) or fuel oil, both delivered by truck to your home.

In 1955, LTS' second home was in Grosse Pointe Shores, on Robert John, then the last street in Wayne County.

That house was newly built but was heated by fuel oil.

At the beginning of winter, the tank truck pulled up at our curb and out came the 75-foot, rubber hose and filled the underground tank. The second winter we converted the furnace to burn natural gas!

In 1949, LTS, a Texan, saw his first coal-fired furnace in a home off Grand

Let's talk...STOCKS

River, near the GM Building. That was when the near-northside was a great place to live and work. (Back then, Highland Park school bonds were rated Aa/AA.)

The coal truck came up the drive and dumped coal down a chute through an outside metal door into the basement coal bin adjacent to the furnace and its boiler. The furnace was originally hand-fired with a coal shovel.

Later a mechanical auger was added, which fed coal to the furnace from a hopper, controlled by an electric switch on the first floor.

Aren't you glad we now heat with natural gas?

Natural gas, when consumed, is a wasting natural resource, replenished only by new discoveries.

In North America, natural gas is being consumed faster than new discoveries are made. Since demand presently exceeds supply, the cost has been increasing.

Natural Gas contracts are traded on the New York Mercantile Exchange (NYMX) and are quoted in dollars per million Btus. Recent prices have been around the $6 level.

Prices normally peak during the winter heating season and decline in the summer.

Forbes (May 26) featured an article, "Energetic Stocks," by Michael Maiello, describing five energy-stock picks of Peter Doyle, chief investment officer of Kinetics Asset Management in White Plains, N.Y.

Doyle looks for out-of-favor companies, especially energy producers and transporters, trading at a discount from book value.

His favorites are:

1) Center Point Energy, a spin-off from Reliant Energy, formerly Houston Light & Power (CNP, about 9.04);

2) CMS Energy, formerly Consumers Power of Michigan (CMS, about 7.61);

3) El Paso Corp., largest pipeline operator, also gas drilling (EP, about 8.24);

4) Reliant Resources, Houston-based spin-out from Reliant Energy, (RRI, about 6.77), and

5) Williams Companies, gas pipeline operator, (WMB, about 7.00).

These are all turn-around situations, no longer the

A lush lawn can add value to a home

By Lori Z. Bahnmueller

Having been raised with three older brothers, I went 30 years without ever pushing a lawn mower. Then I got married.

Like me, my husband was uneducated in the ways of the lawn.

A German citizen who'd only lived in apartments until moving to the states, he still refers to the lawn as the "garden" and has just recently begun to accept the two-inch rule.

If competing with the Joneses weren't motivational enough, the economic incentive alone could inspire any homeowner to give the neighbor's edger a workout.

According to the Better Business Bureau (BBB), a well-maintained lawn and landscape can add 5 to 7 percent to a property's value. Considering the power of curb appeal on home sales, this came as little surprise.

Still, how does one achieve a magnificent landscape without sacrificing every Saturday, and sometimes Wednesdays, of the growing season?

For us the answer ultimately was to contract with a small, local lawn care service that has earned a solid reputation in our neighborhood. As we learned the hard way, through grub attacks and heated arguments over whose turn it was to mow the lawn, there's much more to growing and maintaining a lush, green lawn than pushing a lawn mower.

When considering a lawn care service, employ the following advice from the Federal Trade Commission (FTC):

• Talk with others in your neighborhood who have used a lawn care service. Inquire specifically about the quality of service. Was service adjusted for weather conditions? In other words, after spurts of heavy rainfall and aggressive growth, did the service respond accordingly? How would your neighbor rate customer service?

• Shop around and obtain estimates. The lowest estimate may not necessarily provide all the services you need.

• Each lawn is different and your lawn does not necessarily need the same treatment as your neighbors'.

Our lawn is pocked with small peaks and valleys. Commercial riding mowers leave an uneven cut.

So it was important for us to hire a service that would use a push mower. (Not an easy find.) Make sure you are getting "custom" service.

• Even the best lawns have weeds and pests. Ask to see evidence of specific and real problems before you agree to any treatment.

The service we employ leaves evidence of insects in sealed plastic bags for our inspection.

Further, a written report describes areas where pests are prevalent for our investigation.

• Check to see if the company is licensed with the state. Licensing often requires employees to have special training, especially those who apply pesticides to lawns. Ask what specific lawn care training the employees have.

• Check with your local consumer affairs office or BBB to learn if any complaints have been lodged against the company.

• Find out if the company has liability insurance to cover any accidents that might happen while work is being performed in your yard or while pesticides are being applied.

• Once you have chosen a lawn care service, secure the deal with a written contract. Peruse the contract carefully; know what specific services and lawn problems are covered and what are not:

1) Are there extra charges for special services, such as fertilizing, disease control, or reseeding?

2) Is the work guaranteed? If it is, get the guarantee (or warranty) in writing. Know when the guarantee expires, and what is included and excluded.

3) What is the cancellation policy? Must you renew annually or is service scheduled indefinitely? Many lawn care service contracts require written notice to cancel.

Women's boutique opens in Village

Grosse Pointe's newest women's retail shop has opened for business.

Bellissima translated in Italian means "more than beautiful."

The 7,000 square-foot boutique, located at 17027 Kercheval in the City of Grosse Pointe's Village shopping district, features fashions, footwear, infant formal wear, cosmetics and gifts.

"Customer satisfaction and attention to detail will be our top priority," said Jennifer Mizzi, boutique owner and 16-year resident of Grosse Pointe.

Bellissima also features goods and services by local talents, including hand-painted sandals by Farms resident Laurie McCarron. Some 18 employees worked previously for Jacobsons.

New GP business offers 'Solutions'

Jacqueline Placidi, M.S.W., has opened a private practice at 18090 Mack in the City of Grosse Pointe.

Placidi's practice includes group and individual counseling on stress management, weight management and eating disorders, depression and adjustment disorders.

She has been a licensed Solution weight loss provider for three years, working with the Botsford Hospital program during that time.

Save gasoline money

Americans are not powerless in controlling their fuel costs. Joel Burrows, "The Car Doctor" from Precision Tune Auto Car, provides the following 10 tips:

1. Keep tires properly inflated. Under inflated tires cause drag; over inflation causes improper tire to road contact.
2. Limit trips by running all errands at the same time.
3. Check the engine for maximum efficiency.
4. Avoid quick starts or stops.
5. Maintain steady speeds; use cruise control on the open road.
6. Do NOT use your air conditioner in the city if you are in a warm climate. DO use your air conditioner on the open road rather than keeping windows open. (Open windows create wind drag, straining the engine).
7. Use proper octane fuel. Higher-octane gas produces less energy, costs more and yields lower miles per gallon.
8. Don't let the engine idle more than a minute or two. This is extremely important on cold morning start-ups.
9. Service engine fluids accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations.
10. Use over-drive gear for highway driving.

THE HOMEOWNERS TAX BREAK

The Federal Government's policy encouraging home ownership through tax breaks has not abated. In fact, it has encouraged home ownership for the past century to an extent unparalleled in the world. Mortgage interest deductions alone amount to a national subsidy of $40 to $60 billion. Even after the Tax Reform Act of 1986, mortgage interest and property tax deductions were left untouched as virtually the only major deductions left for the average citizen. Mortgage interest deduction alone is one of the largest tax write-offs for the average homeowner.

Now, with the most recent change in the tax code, the homeowner has received another tax break and this is fantastic. There is a tax exemption of up to $500,000 (for joint filers) on the profit on the sale of your primary residence ($250,000 for single filers). All you have to do is live in the home for two years prior to selling. I tell you Folks, we're in a homeowner's tax Shangri La.

Car tampering

On Sunday, May 25, shortly before 9 p.m., a private security guard saw an unknown man "trying" doors of vehicles parked in a parking lot in the 20400 block of Mack.

Grosse Pointe Woods police said a store video confirmed the report, showing a white, approximately 20-year-old male, wearing a white T-shirt, testing locked doors of at least seven vehicles. The man walked from the area through a church parking lot that enters onto Lochmoor.

Police searched the neighborhood but didn't find the suspect.

Kid car thief causes wreck

A 13-year-old car thief from Detroit has admitted causing an injury accident during Memorial Day weekend that sent at least two innocent victims to the hospital in critical condition, according to Grosse Pointe Park police.

On Sunday, May 26, at approximately 9:30 p.m., a Park patrolman saw the youth and four juvenile passengers in a red Jeep without a license plate speeding. At almost the same time, the park police dispatcher reported the theft of a vehicle matching the Jeep's description.

A pursuit lead into Detroit where Park police called off the chase, said John Schulte, deputy director of public safety.

"The Jeep eventually was involved in an automobile accident," Schulte said. Three of the five passengers have been identified as ranging in age from 12 to 16 years old.

The driver was taken into custody early Monday morning.

"During an interview with investigators and the juvenile's parent, he admitted to knowing the vehicle was stolen and causing the accident.

Schulte said the driver will be taken to the Wayne County Detention Facility where the Wayne County Prosecutor will determine charges.

Sleeper

On Sunday, May 24, at 11:05 p.m., Grosse Pointe Woods police discovered a 39-year-old Detroit man sleeping on the sidewalk in the 20400 block of Mack.

"(He) said he was tired," police said.

The man was wanted in Detroit for entering a vacant building without permission. Woods officers took him to a bus stop at Mack and Moross.

Jeep recovered

A Grosse Pointe Woods resident's stolen green 2002 Jeep Highlander station wagon was recovered by members of the Detroit Police Department 7th Precinct on Sunday, May 25, at 1:25 p.m. The locked vehicle had been reported stolen from the 2200 block of Allard between 8 and 8:30 p.m. the evening before.

Detroit police said the Jeep's ignition had been punched out. There were no arrests.

Plate stolen

While shopping in the 20400 block of Mack of Grosse Pointe Woods on Saturday, May 24, between noon and 12:30 p.m., someone stole the license plate off a car owned by a Harper Woods woman.

Bike swap

On Saturday, May 24, at 12:12 p.m., a resident of the 21400 block of Goethe in Grosse Pointe Woods reported a stolen purple, 19-inch girls Schwinn bicycle. In its place, the resident found a discarded pink Murray ATB Millennium bike.

PUBLIC SAFETY REPORTS

Pistol packers

Grosse Pointe Woods police investigated 14- and 15-year-old boys reported carrying pistols in an alley in the 20400 block of Mack on Thursday, May 23, at 7:07 p.m.

The pistols turned out to be a BB gun and pellet gun. Officers turned the two boys over to one of their parents, who agreed to comply with an ordinance prohibiting such behavior.

.141% BAL

A 22-year-old man from Macomb Township registered a .141 percent blood alcohol level while being investigated for drunken driving in Grosse Pointe Woods on Friday, May 23, at 2:39 p.m.

A patrolman saw the man driving "drifting" his Chevrolet station wagon on eastbound Vernier before making the arrest near Lakeshore. The man admitted having consumed seven beers.

Classroom theft

When a teacher at a Grosse Pointe Farms high school returned to her classroom after lunch at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, May 21, she discovered the emergency window was open and an LCD projector and a laptop computer missing from her room.

Car thefts

Grosse Pointe Farms saw the beginning and the end of a rash of car thefts the night of Wednesday-Thursday, May 21-22.

A 2001 dark blue Jeep parked in the 400 block of Chalfonte was stolen sometime between 9:30 and 11 p.m. on May 21. In the 200 block of McMillan, a 2003 silver Dodge Caravan parked in the street was taken sometime between 8:30 p.m. and 2:30 a.m. that evening. Between 10:45 p.m. and 6:39 a.m., a 2003 black Jeep Liberty and a 2002 white Dodge Stratus were taken from the street in the 400 block of Bournemouth.

A suspect in the Bournemouth theft was apprehended that evening in Grosse Pointe Park. The Stratus taken from Bournemouth was recovered in the 300 block of Jefferson in Detroit on Sunday, May 25. The car was found with the ignition punched and the radio and miscellaneous parts missing.

Happy drunk

A 57-year-old City of Grosse Pointe woman had more than car problems when Grosse Pointe Farms public safety officers saw she had a car with a flat tire at Moross and Chalfonte at 1:13 a.m. on Friday, May 23.

When the officers asked her if she needed help, she said, "No. I just have a flat tire."

As she spoke, the officers noticed her slurred speech and watery eyes. They asked her if she had been drinking.

"Yes," she said. "Take me to jail."

After the driver performed poorly on a series of field sobriety tests and recorded a blood alcohol level of .14 percent, the officers indeed took her to jail.

On the way to the Farms Department of Public Safety, the woman told the officers "how this (being arrested) was a new experience and fun."

Shores election sees light turnout

By Bonnie Caprara
Staff Writer

A seamless transition into a new session of the Grosse Pointe Shores Village Council was barely noticed at the general election on Tuesday, May 20, as 244 voters cast their ballots.

"Most people weren't compelled to cast their ballots for an uncontested election," said Village Clerk Victoria Boyce, who ran unopposed for her seat. "It was a slow day."

Of the 244, or 11 percent, of Shores residents who cast their ballots for Boyce and trustees Karl Kratz, Rose Garland Thornton and Linda Walton, 154 turned in absentee ballots. Boyce received 216 votes, Kratz and Thornton received 217 votes and Walton received 214 votes.

However, it wasn't the lowest turnout for a council election in the Shores, which boasted a 32 percent turnout in 2001 and 2002 and a record 50 percent turnout in 1999. Only 102, or 4.6 percent of voters, voted in the 1991 council election.

According to Boyce, a low turnout wasn't such a bad thing.

"It's an affirmation that things are running well in the village, and it allowed us to keep tending to business and not take time out to campaign," Boyce said.

Hill, Village offer the sounds and sights of summer

Music on the Plaza: So many things to so many people

By Bonnie Caprara
Staff Writer

When Grosse Pointe Village Association Director John Denomme was a store owner in the Village in the mid-1980s, he thought long and hard of how to bring shoppers in on Thursday evenings — a time that lost its lure to the Village since the end of Men's Night in the 1970s.

As a musician and record store owner, Denomme thought of putting together a concert series, which would also utilize a then-new plaza area in the Village.

What kinds of acts to feature was easy.

"Our store specialized in jazz, and we had a lot of contacts with the jazz community," Denomme said.

Since 1988, Music on the Plaza has become the reason to come to the Village not just for shoppers, but the young and the old, neighborhood folks and those who haul from the far reaches of the metro Detroit area, and jazz aficionados as well as those who just happen to come across something they like.

"Jazz is so many things to so many people," Denomme said.

In its first year in 1988, the Music on the Plaza series was a moderate success with three straight-ahead jazz acts. As the series grew to six concerts in 1991, growing pains forced the Grosse Pointe Village Association to find additional sponsors for the series. The funding also allowed the series to feature more popular and diverse acts.

"Every year I try to have a big band, a vocalist, an R&B group, a Brazilian-type band and lounge-oriented music."

The variety and the quality of the acts has impressed not only casual listeners and jazz fans, but also one of its media sponsors, WDET-FM.

"We're very happy with the partnership," said Ralph Valdez, senior underwriting representative and music show host at WDET. "They bring in top names, a high level of music and keep it open to the public for families and die-hard jazz fans alike. It fits in well with our mission of building awareness, not just of jazz, but of other American-rooted music."

This year's series, sponsored in part by the Grosse Pointe News, kicks off with the perennial opener, the Grosse Pointe North and South high schools Jazz band on June 5, followed by a return performance by the George Benson Quintet, featuring Benson, one of the Detroit area's premier saxophonists, on June 12.

Headliners at this year's Music on the Plaza Series, sponsored in part by the Grosse Pointe News, includes Alma Smith on July 17, and Brazil and Beyond on July 3. Concerts are held in the Village Plaza at St. Clair and Kercheval Thursday evenings beginning at 7 p.m.

Also returning is Brazil and Beyond (formerly Rich K and Brazil) on July 3, which plays Latin jazz with a Beatlesque twist. The Detroit area's favorite suns — The Sun Messengers — brings its blend of R&B,

Motown and big band sounds in its annual pilgrimage to Music on the Plaza on July 10. The Matt Michaels Trio wraps up the series in its second visit

Bargains, art make good mix on the Hill

Following the success of last year's combination, there will be more reasons to come to this year's Hill Association sidewalk sale and Grosse Pointe Artists Association's Festival of the Arts on the Hill this weekend.

"The broader appeal outside of the Grosse Pointes has made the sidewalk sale our most substantial event," said Ed Russell, president of the Hill Association.

In addition to Hill merchants bringing their bargains — priced up to 70 percent off — outdoors, there will be free parking in the parking deck, courtesy of Cottage Hospital, and a performance by the Grosse Pointe South High School Jazz Band on the Hill on Saturday, May 31, at 12:30 p.m.

The draw of the Hill sidewalk sale has also prompted the association to include additional features to this year's juried Festival of the Arts, which will be held in its second year on the Hill in the municipal parking lot between McKinley and McMillan, including more artists — up to 80 in all. Artists will offer works in glass, pottery, wood, jewelry, sculpture, weaving, hand-painted furniture, garden mosaics, photography and paintings in oil, watercolor and pastels. A student exhibition is also included as part of the festival.

Select artists will provide demonstrations of their works. On Saturday, May 31, watercolor artist Carol LaChiusa will be at work from noon to 2 p.m. and

COTS fundraiser

MASKORAIIDE For COTS V, a fundraiser for the Coalition on Temporary Shelter, drew 540 guests, including Gov. Jennifer Granholm. The event raised $120,000, partly through the sale of masks created by local and national celebrities.

"This money goes a long way to help COTS provide services to over 2,200 homeless men, women and children each year," said Cheryl Johnson, COTS' CEO. "We are so grateful to the many people who supported this event."

Among those who attended were Beth McKeon of Grosse Pointe Woods, COTS marketing manager, and Robert Maniscalco, Grosse Pointe artist and gallery owner. They are looking at the Gov. Jennifer Granholm mask that Maniscalco painted at the event.

The Pastor's Corner God's green Earth

By the Rev. Thomas F. Rice
Grosse Pointe Memorial Church

It seemed like a good idea. It was spring, after all. And Grosse Pointe — perhaps especially in the spring — is "one of the most beautiful places on God's green Earth," as one of my colleagues puts it.

So I invited a speaker to do an adult class on a Sunday morning between services. Dr. Orin Gelderloos, professor of eco-theology at the University of Michigan (Dearborn), is a warm, soft-spoken Christian gentleman. He could remind our adults about the mystery and beauty of God's creation, I thought.

We fiddled with the projection screen and then he began his powerpoint presentation. I began to sense that this would, in some ways, be disturbing and challenging.

He showed a chart from a Yale University study of church attendance vs. humane treatment of animals. As church attendance went up, humane treatment of animals went down — precipitously. He explained that the authors of the study found that regular churchgoers grew in their "utilitarian" convictions regarding animals. "God gave us these animals for our use and benefit," the people seemed to learn in worship.

I slumped a little lower in my chair. I began to get a sense that Christianity had been co-opted by those who wanted to use the environment, rather than "tend and keep the garden" (Genesis 2:15).

Gelderloos began to talk about familiar Bible passages. At least, the beginnings of them were familiar. Somehow we had neglected the second half. For example, in Genesis 9:15 God says to Noah: "I will remember my covenant which is between me and you and every living creature of all flesh" (emphasis mine). It seemed that again and again we had learned in Sunday school about God's relationship with us "humans" and we had forgotten God's great love and our responsibility toward the rest of creation.

Gelderloos asked if our church tithes energy and resources. In other words, did we look at our budget each year and determine to use 10 percent less electricity and water? Did we encourage people to learn how to identify plants and animals and to do an inventory in a given area of what wildlife is there? In our worship and education did we pray for God's creation and give thanks for its beauty and complexity?

If there is one magnificent thing we do in regard to our theology of the environment, it is our outdoor services. Beginning Sunday, June 15, and continuing through Sunday, Sept. 7, our 8:30 a.m. service is outside along the lake. If the weather does not permit us to be outside, we worship inside in our sanctuary.

People come in casual clothes, and there is a tremendous sense of joyful awe and peaceful stillness as we worship in the midst of God's glory, so clearly exhibited in God's creation.

I look forward to it and to celebrating with all who care to come. I pray that we can more and more be faithful, balanced, and joyful stewards of God's incredible creation.

Historical Society's Upscale Sale is June 7

Antiques Show

The 19th annual Christ Church Grosse Pointe Antiques Show will be held on Saturday and Sunday, May 31 and June 1, at the church, 61 Grosse Pointe Blvd. in Grosse Pointe Farms. The show will be managed by Wendy Jennings. Co-chairmen of the show are Jackie Gray, Suzie Brock and Emily Tennyson. Hadley French is chairman of the silent auction.

A preview party and sale will be from 7 to 10 p.m. Friday, May 30. Reservations are requested. The show will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, May 31, and from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, June 1. Admission is $8.

Also available: a garden sale, a cafe and door prizes. Mark Gervase, antiques conservationist, will speak at 11 a.m. on Saturday.

Helping put up a sign on the front lawn of Christ Church Grosse Pointe are, from left, Tracy Gray, 12; Choirmaster Fred DeHaven; Jack Gray, 14; and Welling French, 9. Some 45 dealers will participate in the 19th annual antiques show. For information or reservations, call (313) 885-4841, ext. 117.

painter Debbie Maiale shows her painting techniques from 2 to 4 p.m. Painters Judy Harthorn and Charmaine Kaptur will demonstrate their works from noon to 2 p.m. and 2 to 4 p.m. respectively on Sunday, June 1.

This year's festival also features more musical acts. The CPR Trio kicks off the entertainment on Saturday, May 31, with a variety of 20th century popular tunes from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. followed by the versatile eight-piece band, the Ramblers, from 1:30 to 2 p.m. and ending with Chris Chamberlin playing folk, blues and ragtime on guitar and a five-string banjo from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. Chamberlin returns on Sunday, June 1, with Ron Gould on piano and fiddle from noon to 12:45 p.m. Grosse Pointe's own happy banjo sound, Banjos East, will play from 1 to 3 p.m. followed by Tom Stoecker and jazz students from Grosse Pointe South High School.

"All we need is good weather," Russell said. Sidewalk sale hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday, May 30, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 31, and from noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday, June 1.

The Festival of the Arts will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 31, and from noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday, June 1.

A $2 donation is requested at the gate and children under 12 are free.

Bag great bargains on an eclectic selection of previously owned treasures during the Grosse Pointe Historical Society's benefit Upscale Sale 2003, Saturday, June 7, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the historic Provencal-Weir House, c. 1823, (376 Kercheval Avenue in Grosse Pointe Farms).

Serious shoppers can take advantage of the Preview Night Sale & Reception from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Friday, June 6. Tickets to the preview are $20.

Donations of quality items will be accepted through Sunday, June 1. Call (313) 882-4062. The annual event will be managed by Grosse Pointe Household Sales.

Browsers and buyers can also tour the Provencal-Weir House. Recognized as the oldest home in Grosse Pointe, the Greek Revival structure was built for Detroit Indian agent and blacksmith Pierre Provencal.

Originally located near the current junction of Lakeshore and Provencal in Grosse Pointe Farms, the house was an integral part of the community. University of Michigan co-founder Father Gabriel Richard was known to periodically celebrate Holy Mass for neighboring farmers and traders in the home's parlor. The house, later owned by the Provencal's daughter Catherine and her husband Judge James D. Weir, was moved to its present site in 1914.

In 1988, the Grosse Pointe Historical Society purchased the property, taking possession in 1993. Extensive renovation of the structure was completed in 1996.

Lunch & Tour
Town Village Senior Community
Thursday, June 12
Join us for a day of touring the eastside's newest community for active seniors. Town Village offers independent seniors an opportunity to live in beautiful surroundings without the burden of home maintenance and upkeep. Amenities include Tai Chi classes, book clubs, heated pool and wine tasting parties. We'll enjoy a tour and then a lunch created especially for us by the Town Village chefs.

Tour package includes: Round-trip transportation, lunch, tour of the facility and a box lunch to take home.

St. Sabbas Orthodox Monastery
Thursday, June 19
$9

Come along as we visit a hidden treasure of Harper Woods, St. Sabbas Orthodox Monastery. This secluded monastery is one of Metro Detroit's best kept secrets. Father John Belkoff will take us on a guided tour. St. Sabbas was established in 1914 and moved several times before settling in Harper Woods. St. Sabbas will become a monastery for artisans within the next year. Come join us for a unique tour and afternoon tea at this peaceful oasis in the middle of the urban neighborhood.

Tour package includes round-trip transportation, a tour of St. Sabbas Monastery, afternoon tea and a box lunch to take home.

Evies
Friday, June 20
$14

Come along on Friday, June 20 for a wonderful lunch and time for shopping in Mexican town. We will enjoy an authentic Mexican lunch at Evie's Tamales and then drop in to the gift shop and grocery store so that we can take a little Mexico home with us. The menu includes authentic Mexican tortillas, tamale, enchilada, rice, beans, salad, Mexican cookies and coffee, tea or soft drink.

Titanic: The Artifact Exhibit, The IMAX film and Planetarium Show
Thursday, July 3
$24

The Artifact Exhibit
Spanning more than 9,000 square feet, the exhibit will take us on a chronological journey through the life of the Titanic, from the building of the legend, which took 1,500 men more than three years to complete, to life on board. Authentically re-created first- and third-class rooms are featured with furnishings made by original manufacturers. We will glimpse a typical day aboard the great vessel by strolling through the Veranda Cafe, one of the dining areas on the ship. In "The Striking" gallery, we will touch an "iceberg" and feel what it must have been like in the water that most passengers on the ill-fated vessel found themselves in that April night. We will also see the science, technology and artistry it takes to recover these items from 2.5 miles below the ocean's surface and to preserve them for future generations.

IMAX Dome Theatre

Titanica will take us on a once-in-a-lifetime adventure of discovery to the site of the world's most famous shipwreck. This 40-minute film was shot during the expedition of the Akademik Keldysh to the North Atlantic by award-winning filmmaker Stephen Low.

Low weaves a dramatic story of this modern-day expedition and the legendary Titanic, the symbol of an era. Startling, eerie images of the Titanic as she now lies on the ocean floor are contrasted with the exquisitely preserved archival photographs of the ship in all its splendor taken in 1912. Juxtaposed to these images are the touching and eloquent comments of Eva Hart who, as a 7-year-old girl, survived that tragic night but lost her father.

Digital Dome Planetarium

Join us on the deck of the RMS Titanic on the fateful night of April 14, 1912 as we re-create the evening that the "unsinkable" went to the bottom.

In looking at the science behind the sinking, we'll examine the weather conditions that lead to icebergs in the North Atlantic and see what caused the treacherous conditions of the seas that evening. We will join the crew in the radio room and see if better use of the newly developed technology of wireless telegraphy using Morse code could have saved the ship.

Finally we will stand on the deck of the Titanic as we re-create the skies and conditions on that disastrous evening. No moon and an extremely clear sky may have been great for star watching, but did little to aid the two lookouts in the crow's-nest. How well could you have seen the looming iceberg? Audience members will get to try their skills as lookouts and find out.

Tour package includes: round-trip transportation, the artifact exhibit, IMAX movie, planetarium show and a box lunch to take home.

Oakwood Commons
Thursday, July 17

Join us for a day of touring Oakwood Commons. Oakwood Commons represents the latest in contemporary retirement living. Situated on 29 picturesque acres, it offers older adults in the community an independent lifestyle with security, comfort, and elegance. Housing options include independent and assisted-living lifestyles. The campus features an attractive array of conveniences, services and activities. Residents make their choices from a variety of recreational, educational, and entertainment programs.

We'll enjoy a tour and then a lunch created especially for us by the Oakwood Commons chefs.

The International Institute
Thursday, Aug. 7
$23

The International Institute offers you a chance to tour the world through the world's largest ethnic doll collection. You will also get a chance to visit the American Room to see a replica of famous ships of the world which brought immigrants to America. Then we will enjoy an authentic Polish buffet while we watch Polish entertainment.

The tour package includes: round-trip transportation, the museum tour, authentic Polish lunch buffet, Polish entertainment and a box lunch to take home.

The Holly Hotel

Originally named the Hirst Hotel, the historic Holly Hotel is a domestically scaled, three-story, gabled hip-roofed, red brick, Queen Anne-style structure. The hotel is significant for its prominent role in the social life of Holly and as an example of the rapidly vanishing railroad hotels once so common in American small towns. The hotel was built in 1891 by John Hirst to serve passengers on the 22 passenger trains that passed through Holly daily. The hotel rapidly became the social center of the region as the finest and largest dining room in the area. In January 1913, the structure suffered a disastrous fire which completely destroyed the second and third floors. Joseph P. Allen, who had purchased the building the previous year, immediately rebuilt it in a much more modest style. In 1978 the surrounding area was enjoying a measure of commercial revitalization as a Victorian historic district of specialty shops and boutiques, the hotel suffered a second disastrous fire. George M. Kutlenios, a third-generation restaurateur, purchased the building and began restoring it by rebuilding the roof and tower to its original 1891 form. The interior has been returned to its 1913 period and the hotel continues to function as a nationally renowned restaurant.

Our trip will include a gourmet lunch with a choice of entrees. The tour package includes transportation, lunch and a box lunch to take home.

Cranbrook House and Gardens
Thursday, Aug. 21
$34

Take a walk into history with this guided tour of 10 first-floor rooms. See centuries-old tapestries, hand-carved woodwork, English Arts and Crafts-style antiques and more with this insightful and informed look at the home of Cranbrook's founders George and Ellen Booth. Explore more than 40 acres of colorfully expansive gardens featuring sculpture, fountains, paths, streams and a lake.

The guided tour includes the formal gardens, bog garden, herb garden, wild-flower garden and Oriental garden.

Call the SOC office today at (313) 882-9600 to reserve your spot on these great local getaways.

Diabetes Resource Center helps patients live well

The Bon Secours Cottage Health Services Diabetes Center offers individuals with diabetes educational literature, videotapes and outpatient counseling to help them "live well" with diabetes. Located at 22300 Bon Brae in St. Clair Shores, the center is part of the Adult Outpatient Diabetes Program that emphasizes education as the primary factor in successfully managing diabetes.

According to Outpatient

Diabetes Program coordinator Vivian Brzezicki, diabetes can be a difficult disease to live with because everything individuals eat affects their blood sugar levels.

With the proper education, however, diabetes can be effectively managed.

At the center, individual counseling is offered to patients on topics which include diet, exercise, foot care, administering insulin injections and more. Visitors also can view educational videos at the facility or check them out to watch at home with family members.

Persons need not be enrolled in the Bon Secours Cottage Outpatient Diabetes Program to use the resource center for counseling or to get free or low-cost educational materials to help them manage their disease. However, a physician referral is required and appointments are necessary.

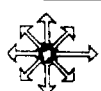

For more information about the program, call (586) 779-7661.

Know Your Skin

by Lisa A. Manz-Dulac, MD

A sunburn. You missed a spot (OK, so you forgot to use any sunscreen this outing) and now your skin is burned. Now what? Severe burns, noted by extreme pain or blistering should be treated by a physician. For most common burns, the best treatment includes combining moisturizing, cooling and assisting the skin's natural healing process. If you have had too much sun, the first thing to attack is the inflammation (that's how doctors describe the red, warm skin you see as your body begins to heal itself from the burn.) For adults aspirin, along with an over the counter corticosteroid cream will help reduce the inflammation and accelerate the healing process.

Second, lightly apply a moisturizer to the affected areas (too much moisturizer can actually slow the healing process). And finally, cool the areas with cool tub baths or cold milk compresses.

To learn more about treating simple or severe sunburns call Eastside Dermatology, Dr. Lisa A. Manz-Dulac and Associates with offices in Grosse Pointe and New Baltimore. You can reach them at (313) 884-3380.

What's popping at the movies?

By Susanne Consiglio
Special Writer

You might associate going to the movies with hot buttery popcorn. The smell and aroma can be tough to pass up once inside the theater.

When you consider the choices offered at the snack counter, popcorn can be a healthier option providing you don't get carried away with the size of the tub. From a nutritional standpoint, plain popcorn is a low fat, high fiber snack. Popping it in oil adds additional calories but it can still be healthy, unless a tropical or saturated fat oil is used.

Tropical oils such as coconut and palm oil are two highly saturated fats that contribute to clogged arteries. Another potentially harmful fat is known as trans fat. This processed fat is formed when oils such as soybean or corn are hydrogenated, or hardened, making them more solid at room temperature. Trans fats have also been linked with heart disease.

Oil does not contain cholesterol because it is from a plant source. Cholesterol is only found in animal products, such as butter.

Do you want butter on your popcorn?

Say no.

It's already been popped in oil, which provides additional flavor. Butter can easily pile on another 300 or 400 calories, depending on how many squirts land on the freshly popped kernels. Suddenly this healthy snack is turning into a high calorie, greasy carbohydrate.

The salt can be another concern for individuals with high blood pressure. Take a pass on the shaker. Some companies add salt to the popping process.

What's on the label?

Nutrition facts food labels are required on most packaged popcorn products sold in the supermarket. Movie popcorn, however, is treated like a food item on a restaurant menu. Restaurants are not required by law to post the nutrition content of their menu items. The same holds true for movie theaters.

How do we know what type of fat movie theaters use? The easiest way is to ask at the purchase counter. Most employees are cooperative enough to look at the oil container or to find out if they are uncertain.

You will find oils ranging from canola, corn, partially hydrogenated corn or soybean, coconut or palm oil. Canola oil is a heart-healthy fat source, however some companies may actually use canola shortening which is not the same. This type of source is partially hydrogenated and is another type of artery-clogging fat.

How many calories in a serving?

Popcorn is low in calories until the fat is added. All oils are the same at one tablespoon yielding 14 grams and 126 calories. Movie popcorn has become another super-sized snack. A small size is reasonable in calories — 300-400 while holding the butter. But the tubs have grown into 15 or 20 cups of buttery popcorn at 1,000 to 1,500 calories as your snack item.

Put it in perspective. If you seldom venture out to movie theaters, enjoy the popcorn while making a few changes. Purchase a smaller bag and hold the butter and salt. Splitting the bag with another person also helps to limit the portions.

If you are trying to rid your diet of saturated fat, ask what type of fat is used.

It just might be time to walk past the concession stand.

COPD — the No. 1 lung disease

By Paul G. Donohue M.D.

Q. My primary-care physician sent me for a breathing test and a chest X-ray. They also took blood from an artery in my wrist. After the tests, the primary doctor sent me to a pulmonary doctor, and on the referral she wrote: acute exacerbation of COPD. Can you tell me what this means?

— W.

A. COPD is chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, the No. 1 lung illness. There are two major conditions that fall under the heading of COPD — chronic bronchitis and emphysema. Both are the frequent consequence of smoking, but not all cases are smoking-caused. Sometimes emphysema, for example, is programmed by the genes.

With emphysema the trouble lies in the lungs' small air sacs. They are fragile structures. They are so thin that oxygen can pass through them and into the blood for transportation to the entire body. When the air sacs are stretched out of shape, as they are in emphysema, adequate amounts of oxygen cannot enter the blood. The body is in a state of oxygen deprivation.

The damage in chronic bronchitis centers on the airways — the bronchi. They are inflamed and filled with thick mucus that obstructs passage of air into the lungs. The mucus-filled bronchi trigger a cough, the familiar sign of a cigarette smoker.

When your doctor wrote that you had an acute exacerbation of COPD, she indicated that for some reason your breathing suddenly got worse. Perhaps you had an infection of the bronchi or lungs. An infection superimposed on COPD puts a person in dire straits. It demands antibiotic treatment for a quick resolution of the infection.

Readers who would like more information on COPD can obtain it by ordering the pamphlet on this topic. Write to: Dr. Donohue — No. 601W, Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475. Enclose a check or money order for $4.50 U.S./$6 Can. with the recipient's printed name and address. Allow four weeks for delivery.

Q. I have heartburn or acid reflux, whatever you want to call it. Doctors want me to take Prevacid or something similar to it. I simply can't take it. I must be allergic to it. Surely I am not the only one who cannot take these medicines. What is left for me?

— E.L.

A. Prevacid is one of the so-called proton pump inhibitors. These drugs stop the production of stomach acid.

Other drugs of different families are available. Doctors treated acid reflux successfully before the advent of proton pump inhibitors. Cimetidine, ranitidine and nizatidine slow acid production and are not related to the Prevacid drug family. You might try one of those. Or a program of antacids taken one and three hours after meals and again at bedtime can work. It was standard treatment for eons.

Dr. Donohue regrets that he is unable to answer individual letters, but he will incorporate them in his column whenever possible. Readers may write him or request an order form of available health newsletters at P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475.

Cardiac surgery is topic of June 12 talk at St. John

Unlike traditional surgery, which necessitates a large incision through the breastbone, minimally invasive cardiac surgery allows the surgeon to operate through a small incision. Patients generally are hospitalized for a much shorter period of time, recuperate faster and with less pain.

Dr. Steven D. Harrington, cardiothoracic surgeon on staff at St. John Hospital and Medical Center, will discuss current and future minimally invasive cardiac surgery options from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. on Thursday, June 12, in the auditorium at SJH&MC, Moross at Mack in Detroit.

Harrington was one of the first cardiac surgeons in the state to use the minimally invasive procedure to repair and replace the heart's mitral valve.

The program is free and advance registration is recommended. To register or for more information, call the toll-free St. John SeniorLink at (888) 751-5465.

The program on minimally invasive cardiac surgery is part of the St. John CareLink education series. Free CareLink membership offers a special link to health services, education and benefits for those 55 or older. Health care professionals are also available to community groups to address a variety of health and wellness topics for older adults.

"By Word of MOUTH"

Dr. Kevin Prush, D.D.S.

As the war on terror rages on, so does the war on gum disease. If undiagnosed and untreated, gum disease can cause the premature loss of your teeth. Did you know that recent research shows a strong link between gum disease and heart disease?

A study published in the New England Journal of Medicine found that men with high levels of gum inflammation are at increased risk for heart attacks and may have nearly twice the risk for fatal heart attacks. Another study shows that the strain of bacteria found in gum disease can cause blood clotting when it enters the bloodstream. This blood clotting can cause the clogging of arteries. The lesson here is that, at a minimum, everyone should get their teeth cleaned regularly at their dental office, because prevention is the key!

Medical ageism is alive and well

A troubling report prepared by the not-for-profit Alliance for Aging Research was presented recently to a U.S. Senate Special Committee on Aging. It cites statistics that indicate ageism is a deep and often unconscious prejudice against the old.

Here are some of the sad facts:

Only some 10 percent of American medical schools require course work or rotations in geriatric medicine.

Fewer than 3 percent of medical school graduates take elective courses in geriatrics.

Only five out of 145 medical colleges have full geriatric medicine departments.

While there are about 42,000 pediatricians in the country, there are only 9,000 specialists in geriatric medicine. They will be responsible for treating the 77 million aging baby boomers soon to be a major element in our population.

(As a personal aside, I know that many family doctors and internists can and do a fine job treating older patients. But to cite one area only, the older body simply processes medications differently from younger bodies.

Classes in geriatrics specialize in training doctors on these differences. A geriatric specialist also is not as apt to dismiss complaints about medical and emotional problems as simply being a part of growing old.

Only 10 percent of people aged 65 and above receive the appropriate screenings in such areas as bone mass, colorectal and prostate cancer, and glaucoma. Compare that to the 95 percent of 5-year-olds who are up to date on their immunizations.

Although older Americans are the biggest users of prescription drugs, 40 percent of clinical studies on prescription drugs between 1991 and 2000 excluded people over 75 from participating.

In this connection, the international Longevity Center notes that studies show medication problems may be responsible for as many as 17 percent of hospitalizations of older Americans, and that drug misuse by older people costs some $20 billion a year in hospital stays. Wouldn't it be great if these costs could be significantly reduced and the money saved put elsewhere in our impoverished health care system?

The American Association of Geriatric Psychiatry points out that 20 percent of those above 65 have a mental illness; 65 have a mental illness; yet mental health care and alcohol and substance abuse treatments focus mainly on young people.

The study from the Alliance for Aging Research recommends increased training and education of health care providers, more research into aging, the inclusion of older patients in clinical drug trials and education for both clients and physicians in proper screening and prevention methods.

Here's one of the most inspiring and heartwarming stories I've read in a long time. A week ago, Lydia Lee received her bachelor's degree from Cornerstone University in Grand Rapids. Nearly 30 years earlier

Senior Scene

By Ruth
Cain

she had earned a two-year associate's degree from Grand Rapids Community College.

Now 74, she won't be using her diploma to re-enter the work force. Instead she will use her degree to inspire the teenage moms she counsels four days a week to finish high school or consider going to college.

Lee has been serving as a surrogate granny for the past 10 years in a program called Traveling Grannies and Grandpas. The program centers on teaching young mothers about child rearing, grocery shopping and life.

One of her young mothers told Lee, "You really made an impression on me. If a lady your age can go back to college, I'm going back."

"When you mentor someone you have to be a living example," Lee said. She practices that belief.

At Cornerstone, most of the students were less than one-third her age.

"I was the mother of the class, but being older, everyone respected me," she said.

Blacken on the grill

With the grilling season officially here, it's time for a recipe for people who enjoy their food hot!

This simple spice blend is what you'll turn to the next time your guests order up steak or seafood "blackened." Besides the spice, the addition of melted butter make this cooking process unique. Traditionally, blackened food items are cooked in a super hot cast-iron skillet. A careful hand can produce the same delicious results from the grill.

Classic Blackened Seasoning Blend

2 teaspoons garlic salt
2 teaspoons dried thyme
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper

3 tablespoons butter for every pound of meat or seafood (approximately)

In a small bowl, combine all of the spices. Place in an air-tight container and store.

To blacken your meat or seafood, begin by preparing the grill. Melt the butter in a shallow glass pie plate in the microwave.

Allow the butter to cool slightly. Dip the pieces of meat (or seafood) into the butter, one at a time, and coat evenly with the butter. Transfer to a dry plate and sprinkle with the blackened seasoning. The more generous you are with the seasoning, the hotter your food will taste.

À LA ANNIE

By Annie Rouleau-Scherff

Place the pieces of meat spice-side down on the hot grill. At this time sprinkle seasoning over the other side of the meat.

Cook until desired temperature. Cooking times will vary greatly depending on the cut of meat or type of seafood. This seasoning sits superbly on a burger.

For a terrific dipper for your blackened steak, shrimp (or other seafood), melt some butter in a small pan and add some chopped fresh garlic. Over low heat, cook for just a few minutes and transfer to a small bowl for dipping. Yummy!

North girls make it a sweep in MAC Gold Division track

Grosse Pointe North's girls track team was undefeated during the Macomb Area Conference Gold Division season and the Norsemen's domination didn't end there.

North finished with 184 points to 86 1/2 for runner-up Lakeview in the division meet. Marine City was third with 76 points, followed by Cousino 69, Marysville 56 1/2 and Warren Woods-Tower and Fraser with 27 each.

Laura Fisher closed out her MAC career with an impressive triple victory. The North senior won the 1,600-meter run in 5:30.61, the 800 in 2:28.89 and the 3,200 in 12:29.

Teammate

Kelly

Szyborski was second in both the 1,600 and 3,200, while Patricia Winterfield was runner-up to Fisher in the 800.

North's Jennifer DeFauw won the 400 dash in 1:00.64 and ran on two winning relays. Danielle Hubler won the 200 dash in 26.89 and was second in the 100. Hubler also ran on a winning relay.

The Norsemen's other individual first came from Elise Nagel, who had a throw of 30-feet-11 in the shot put.

North won three relays. The team of Hubler, Rebecca Pollard, Elly Dolinski and DeFauw won the 800 relay in 1:52.88. North's team of Winterfield, Melissa

Anderson, Katie Horne and Grace Butts was first in the 3,200 relay in 10:28, and the North team of DeFauw,

North boys finish a strong second in league

By Chuck Klonke
Sports Editor

Grosse Pointe North's boys track team saved its best for last.

"It was our best team meet of the year," coach Dan Quinn said after the Norsemen finished second in the Macomb Area Conference Gold Division meet.

"From the field events to the relays we looked very strong."

Here are the winners in

100 hurdles: 1, Cassie Jenich,

Marine City was first with 132. Fraser was third with 98 points, followed by Marysville 73, Lakeview 45 1/2, Warren Woods-Tower 14, and Cousino 11 1/2.

Two seniors who have been solid leaders for the Norsemen all season closed out their MAC careers on a high note.

Phil Saffron won the pole vault and matched his personal best of 12-feet-6. He also ran on a pair of winning relays and placed in the 200-meter dash.

Rob Matouk had third-place finishes in the 1,600 and 3,200 runs and ran the second leg of the winning 3,200 relay.

"Both of them had great meets," Quinn said. "That was a tough triple that Rob ran. He and Dave Secord really showed great leadership in the two mile (3,200)."

Matouk and Stefan Cross medaled in the 3,200, with Cross posting a personal record. Secord just missed earning his medal.

Marcell Maxwell, who has been bothered by some nagging injuries recently, ran away from the field in the 100 dash with a winning time of 11.2.

John Bremer was first in the 800 run with a time of 2:06.1.

Buhl's Indy 500 bid ends early

By Brad Lindberg

What goes around comes around, except in auto racing when your engine blows on the backstretch of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Robbie Buhl's eighth Indianapolis 500 ended 132.5 miles short when he sputtered off the track on lap 147 of the 200-lap race.

His broken engine was among a chorus of Chevy power plants singing the blues last weekend during the pinnacle of open wheeled auto racing.

"Shut it off, Robbie, shut it off," radioed Dennis Reinbold, Buhl's partner in owning Dreyer & Reinbold Racing of suburban Indianapolis. "There's nothing we can do."

Buhl, a Grosse Pointe Farms native, finished 23rd. Winning driver Gil de Ferran in No. 6 Marlboro Team Penske Panoz G Force-Toyota won by .299 seconds over teammate Helio Castroneves.

Failure of Buhl's newly developed Chevy V-8 knocked his No. 24 Purex/Aventis Dallara Chevrolet out of the race, but a driving miscue early in the contest put him out of contention.

Exiting pit row after a lap off, radioed Dennis Reinbold, Buhl's partner in owning Dreyer & Reinbold Racing of suburban Indianapolis. "There's nothing we can do."

"Spun — I spun. God damn it," Buhl radioed, his voice guttural with disgust.

"My fault."

His car wound up stalled on the turn one infield.

"My fault. My fault," he radioed the pits.

Frank Bolter, one of Buhl's spotters and resident of Charlotte, N.C., saw the whole thing from his perch above the $150 terrace seats outside the first turn.

"It was a pretty lazy spin," Bolter radioed in a how-ya'll-doin' drawl. It seemed to have a calming effect. For a moment.

"My fault," Buhl said, anxious for track workers to restart his car with a push. "It's takin' forever."

Grosse Pointe North's girls golf team had a good day at the state Division I regional at Sylvan Glen golf course in Troy, but it wasn't quite enough to earn the team a spot in this weekend's state finals.

There was a consolation prize, however, as North freshman Caitlin Bennett was the regional medalist with a 75 and she will compete as an individual in the state meet this weekend at the Forest Akers East course in East Lansing.

Bennett helped North post a team score of 358, which was the Norsemen's lowest of the season for 18 holes. North trailed Rochester, Rochester Adams and Port Huron Northern.

The top three teams from the regional qualify for the state meet.

"We improved significantly over last season, but ran into some tough competition at the regional," said coach Chris Bronson.

"Caitlin Bennett's performance was outstanding and we will be pulling for her at the state tournament. We will miss Leigh-Ann Colson's solid play next year, but hope that all team members work hard this summer to keep raising their games so that we can continue to be at the top of the Macomb Area Conference and qualify for the state."

Earlier, North finished second in the MAC Red

Division tournament at Boulder Lakes. In the league tournament, the scoring was hampered by strong winds and cold temperatures.

Colson's 88 led the Norsemen, who had a team score of 388, three strokes behind first-place Romeo.

Colson tied for medalist honors but lost on the second hole of the sudden death playoff.

Coloff, Bennett and Mary Rose Sasson of North were named to the all-conference team, based on their dual meet stroke averages.

North finished 8-2 in the MAC Red. Port Huron Northern won the dual meet title with a 9-1 mark.

Eisenhower spoils South's bid for share of soccer title

Utica Eisenhower has been Grosse Pointe South's nemesis in girls soccer for several years, and this season was no exception.

Last week, the Eagles spoiled the Blue Devils' chances of getting a share of the Macomb Area Conference Red Division title when they came from a 2-0 deficit to tie South 2-2.

Eisenhower's tying goal came with only 2:54 remaining in the match.

The Blue Devils played a strong first half as they built a 2-0 lead.

Liz Ridgway used her basketball jumping skills to open the scoring as she netted a high ball that was sent to the box by Hiliary Inger at 13:31 of the first half.

Ridgway scored again eight minutes later when she won a header contest in front of the goalkeeper and volleyed the ball into the net.

Stephanie Kostniuk picked up the assist.

Momentum slipped to Eisenhower's favor in the second half as South forwards missed some excellent opportunities from close range with shots that either went wide or over the net.

Seven and a half minutes into the second half, the Eagles' Melana Triantos ran through the South defense, took a pass from Nicole Burgeson and made it 2-1.

As the match tightened during the next 30 minutes, South's defense, which was missing Heather Doughty, seemed to tire. Doughty had been injured in the Grosse Pointe North game.

With the clock winding down to three minutes, Eisenhower won a ball in the box area and Stacy Rogers blasted a shot from the corner of the 18-yard line to tie the game.

South closed out the regular season with a 1-0 victory over Cousino in a MAC crossover game that had been postponed by a late March snowfall.

Cousino, which was co-champion in the MAC White, was missing six seniors because of convocation.

The Blue Devils, who out-shot the Patriots 20-6, got the game's only goal with 7:28 remaining when Ashley Coffman booted in a pass from Katie Lewandowski.

South finished the regular season with a 9-4-2 record.

The Blue Devils will play in the state district tournament at Grosse Pointe North this week. South was scheduled to play Fraser in its district opener on Tuesday. The winner plays today, May 29, against North.

Pioneers fall, 1-0

By Bob St. John
Staff writer

The Harper Woods girls soccer team finished its regular season last week, losing 1-0 to Hamtramck.

"We have struggled this season, but the girls have played hard and had fun," first-year head coach Nicole Safina said.

The Pioneers' saving grace was a 1-1 tie with Hamtramck two weeks ago as their record this season is 0-9-1.

"We have had to play some of the best teams in the area in Cranbrook Kingswood, Lutheran North and Liggett," Safina said. "I have to give our girls credit for not giving up, even when the score has been lopsided."

The Pioneers face either Royal Oak Shrine or University Liggett School in a Division IV district semifinal game today, Thursday, May 29.

South junior eights on a roll

The latest in the crew's string of victories came in last weekend's Michigan High School Junior Rowing Championships at Stony Creek.

South's junior eight team of Molly Getz, Michele Dunskey, Tina Jasin, Ana DeRoo, Shawn Allison, Allison Couzens, Katie Moran, Emily Richardson-Rossbach and coxswain Emily Pitts took first place with a time of 3:12.07 for the 1,000-meter race.

In the recent Midwest Scholastic Rowing Championships, which were also held at Stony Creek, the South team qualified as the fastest boat for the final heat.

Members of that team were Getz, Dunskey, Jasin, DeRoo, Moran, Isa Czarnocki, Elizabeth West, Richardson-Rossbach and Pitts.

The South crew rowed a new boat, the Christopher M. Costello, in the qualifying heat. Of the 21 schools competing in the three heats, South's crew had a time of 4:03.5.

Culver (Ind.) Academy's team was second in 4:08.3.

South's junior eight plus crew also had first place finishes in the Grand Rapids Regatta and the Wyandotte Hebda Cup Regatta.

In the Wyandotte Regatta,

South junior four team of Getz, Dunskey, Moran, DeRoo and coxswain Pitts won a silver medal. It lost in a close race with Grosse Ile.

Coach Chris Dorman has been impressed with the team's physical ability and its determination.

"Most of the girls in the Junior eight plus are only sophomores," he said. "They still have two more good rowing years ahead of them."

The team practices every weekday after school and on Saturday mornings on the Detroit River at Belle Isle.

The team will compete this weekend in the International Henley Cup races in St. Catharine's, Ontario.

Artymovich leads Regina to Division II golf state finals

By Bob St. John
Staff writer

Regina's golf team made an improbable run at making the state finals last week, finishing second in a Division II regional at Bald Mountain.

"This team has been a little shaky, but all of the girls played well in the regional," head coach Bob Artymovich said. "I knew we had an outside shot to make it, but only if the girls shot better than they have all year."

The Saddlelites finished with a 389, five shots behind champion Birmingham Seaholm.

"This is great for the girls," Artymovich said. "Getting back to state finals is something the girls can build confidence from as they get ready for the big match."

Josie Artymovich was second overall with an 81, which was two shots behind champion Megan Carter of Seaholm.

Artymovich was four shots behind as they made the turn but stormed back to take a one stroke lead with two holes left.

Carter won the title by making a 30-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole.

"It's disappointing, but I'm more happy for the team because we made it to the finals," Josie said.

One of the biggest surprises for the Saddlelites was Jenny Gwinn, who shot a personal best 91. She struggled to break 100 for most of the season but came through in the clutch.

The other scorers were Katie McCarroll, Courtney Kirsich and Kari Ponton.

Coming up for Regina's golf team is the Division II state finals on Friday and Saturday, May 30 and 31, at Forest Akers West Golf Course in East Lansing.

Softball

Regina's softball team geared up for the upcoming district tournament last week, sweeping a double-header from Lake Shore, winning 3-2 and 8-1.

"Beating Lake Shore twice is great for our team," head coach Diane Laffey said.

East harriers finish fourth, fifth in Metro Conference

By Bob St. John
Staff writer

Lutheran East's boys and girls track and field teams had mixed results in last week's Metro Conference meet.

The boys finished fourth in the meet, which was won by Lutheran Westland.

Senior Erik Cowans was a silver medalist in the 100-yard dash, while senior Matt Machemer and junior Robert Carlisle captured bronze medals in the 1,600-yard run and 200-yard dash, respectively.

"They have a nice team, and playing them only helped our girls stay sharp."

In the opener, Amy Whaley earned the win and was 3-for-3 at the plate with a double.

Andrea Ligotti was the winning pitcher in the second game, and Rachael Sabol had the big bat, going 2-for-2 with a three-run homer.

"Our bats are starting to come alive," Laffey said. "We were struggling to score runs a few weeks ago, but things are looking a lot better."

The Regina softball team improved to 20-10 overall.

Next for the Saddlelites is a Division I district semifinal game on Friday, May 30, against host Eastpointe East Detroit.

Soccer

The Regina soccer team had a comeback for the ages late last week.

Head coach Matt Naidow watched his Saddlelites struggle against host Warren Woods-Tower, falling behind 3-0 with 20 minutes left in the second half.

"I told the girls they have to play with some emotion, with some pride," Naidow said. "We were just going through the motions, which doesn't sit well with me."

Naidow's message was well-received as the Saddlelites scored three goals in a 15-minute span, and nearly tallied the game winner, to pull out a 3-3 tie. "I hope the girls play our district games as they did during the final 20 minutes against Tower," Naidow said.

Earlier in the week, the Saddlelites lost 3-1 to host Chippewa Valley, but played well, according to Naidow.

"It was a well-played game," he said. "The competitiveness of Chippewa Valley helps us prepare for the districts."

Track

The Regina track and field team placed fourth in last week's Catholic League A-B Division meet at Livonia Ladywood.

Dearborn Divine Child was first with 185 points, followed by Farmington Hills Mercy with 109, Birmingham Marian with 74.5, Regina with 50.5, Ladywood with 42 and Pontiac Notre Dame Prep with 31.

"I was happy with our results in the meet," head coach Gregg Golden said. "The competition in the Catholic League is outstanding, and it takes some nice performances to earn a medal."

the 400-meter relay team of Sara DeMars, Genika Brown, Lauren Manuszak and Elisa Viviano earned a gold medal with a time of 53.87 to highlight the Saddlelites' performances.

Emily Delmotte won a silver medal and Kiki Barkovic won a bronze medal in the 100-high hurdles and 800-meter run with times of 18.06 and 2:34, respectively.

The 1,600-meter relay squad of DeMars, Xiomara Okonkwo, Barkovic and Ashley Couture won a silver medal with a time of 4:26.13, and the 3,200-meter quartet of Barkovic, Katie Eisen, Shayna Czech, and Catherine Vaughn captured a fourth-place medal.

Other standouts for Golden's team were Sarah Moore (fifth in the high jump), Manuszak (sixth in the long jump), Couture (sixth in the high hurdles and in the long jump), Anna Czoykowski (sixth in the high jump), Okonkwo (sixth in the 400) and Sara Cholyway (sixth with a personal best in the 3,200-meter run).

"We doubled our point total from a year ago, which is great," Golden said. "Our first-place finish was our first in a few years."

Knights overcome 9-0 deficit to beat Metro softball foe

University Liggett School's softball team staged the comeback of the year last week with a 13-10 victory over Livonia Clarenceville in a Metro Conference game.

The comeback was sparked by the pitching and hitting of Deanna Tracy, who recorded her first varsity win.

The Trojans took a 9-0 lead with an eight-run third inning that featured seven walks and three errors by the Knights. The only hit of the inning was a single by Jennifer Collins.

The Knights began their comeback in the bottom of the third when Kelly King, Alex Houghtalin and Katie Andrecovich singled to start the rally. Walks to Stefania Ford and Beth Sylvester forced in a pair of runs. Julie Borushko singled in two runs and two more scored on Rachel Costello's sacrifice.

Tracy came in to pitch in the fourth inning and held Clarenceville hitless the rest of the way. Tracy struck out five, including two in the seventh, and she helped herself with two excellent defensive plays in the fifth.

ULS took the lead in the fifth. Houghtalin walked, Carly Croskey singled and Ford hit an RBI double. Singles by Sylvester and Borushko set the stage for Tracy's two-run single that put the Knights ahead 11-10.

Tracy added another two-run single in the sixth that scored Croskey and Ford.

What started as a close game turned into the Knights' most lopsided win of the season.

ULS scored all of its runs in the third inning of a 19-0 Metro Conference victory over Hamtramck.

The Cosmos had runners on second and third in the second inning when Croskey speared a line drive and stepped on second to complete an unassisted double play.

In the top of the third, the Knights sent 25 batters to the plate and 10 of them collected hits. King started the outburst with a single and scored on a long double to the fence by Houghtalin. When Andrecovich followed with another double to nearly the same location, the route was one.

King, Houghtalin and Andrecovich each scored three runs in the inning and every ULS player scored at least one run.

Lavon Morgan picked up the win as she held Hamtramck to two hits. She struck out two and didn't give up a walk.

The Knights got their first season sweep against Lutheran Westland last week when they beat the Warriors 7-4.

ULS overcame some early jitters that allowed Westland to score an unearned run in the first inning, but the Knights used a 15-hit attack to build a 7-2 lead.

Every ULS starter had a hit. King opened the game with a double and came around on two sacrifices by Houghtalin and Andrecovich.

The Knights broke the 1-1 tie with two runs in the third. Andrecovich and Croskey singled with one out. They moved up on a sacrifice by Laura Ralstrom and both scored on Costello's single.

A walk to Borushko started a three-run fourth inning. King singled, Houghtalin doubled and Andrecovich, Croskey and Ralstrom followed with RBI singles.

ULS added a run in the top of the seventh on singles by Borushko and King, but the Warriors rallied for a pair of runs in the bottom of the seventh as the Knights committed some more errors.

Excellent catches by freshman outfielders Ford and Houghtalin in the seventh helped secure the win.

Morgan picked up her ninth win of the season with a five-hitter. She struck out three and walked two.

Knights get closer to .500 mark

University Liggett School's girls lacrosse team got closer to the .500 mark with recent victories against Grosse Pointe North and Troy Athens.

Ashley Steitz and Meghan Doletzky each scored three goals for the Knights in their 12-7 win over North. Inga Moss had two goals, while Alexa Davenport, Liz Drettman, Karlyn McCoy and Dawn Espy added one apiece.

Espy started the game in goal and made 13 saves. Freshman Emily Hill finished in goal and turned away five shots.

Liz Thomas scored twice for North.

ULS battled back from a 9-7 halftime deficit to beat Athens 15-11.

Steitz had six goals and Doletzky scored five for the Knights. Davenport scored three goals and Drettman added one.

The victory improved ULS's record to 6-7-1.

Earlier, the Knights played Detroit Country Day to an 11-11 tie.

Steitz scored four goals, while Davenport, Doletzky and Drettman had two apiece and Moss scored one. Espy made 11 saves.

ULS ended Division A play with a 15-11 loss to Birmingham Marian.

Steitz and Doletzky each scored four times for the Knights. Drettman, McCoy and Moss added a goal apiece. Espy made 18 saves.

ULS finished league play with a 1-5-1 record, finishing in sixth place, ahead of Cranbrook Kingswood and Country Day.

South grad earns letter

Former Grosse Pointe South pitcher Andrew Vlasak won his second varsity baseball letter at Hope College.

The sophomore lefthander posted a 2-1 record this year as Hope finished 20-17 overall and won the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship with a 16-2 mark.

MAJORS

Royals 5, Reds 4

Pat Deters, Alex Koski and Clark Dirksen each had two hits to lead the Royals. Nick Monforton and Matt Temrowski added key hits for the winners. Koski struck out six in three innings to record the victory. Joey Dempsey pitched two solid innings of relief to earn the save.

Chase Hall scored two runs, and Joey Shannon and Matt Taflinger scored once apiece for the Reds.

Royals 2, Astros 0

Bobby Peltz pitched a no-hitter and struck out 12 in a dominating performance for the Royals. Kevin Ginnebaugh hit a two-out single in the first inning to score Alex Koski who had also singled. Mike Cimmarrusti added an insurance run in the second when he singled and stole second, third and home. Nick Monforton helped preserve the no-hitter when he fielded a sharp one-hop grounder in right field and threw out the batter at first base.

Astros pitcher Tommy Carion also pitched an outstanding game as he allowed three hits and struck out six.

Royals 9, Tigers 0

Royals pitchers Clark Dirksen and Alex Koski combined to pitch a one-hitter. Dirksen, who struck out three, got the win, while Koski fanned six to earn the save. Bobby Peltz led a balanced attack with two hits and two RBIs. Matt Mollison, Mike Temrowski, Joey Dempsey, Pat Deters and Mike Cimmarrusti each had key hits.

John Stockman got the Tigers' only hit, while teammate Paul Roosen reached base twice.

Royals 7, Pirates 6

The Royals stormed back in the last three innings. Bobby Peltz shut down the Pirates in relief over the last four innings to record the win. He struck out nine. Clark Dirksen led the offense with a pair of hits and two RBIs. Pat Deters hit a two-run single and Nick Monforton singled home the lead run. Matt Temrowski had a hit and reached base three times.

Mike Duker had three doubles and three RBIs for the Pirates. Ryan Miller collected a pair of hits and made several fine plays at shortstop.

The engine wouldn't start. "She's not goin'," said Buhl. His voice shook, as if he were dangling from somewhere he knew was a long fall.

He got his push, the engine fired, and he was on his way.

"Sorry guys," he radioed his teammates. "I blew it for us."

It's not like Indy's special. Right.

"There's more money, more prestige, more people," said Jeff Dickerson, Buhl's spotter in turn three who flew in the night before from a NASCAR race in Charlotte.

"This makes the year for everybody," Dickerson said while helping tend the car in the pits more than two hours before racing started. He looked up and down the canyon of grandstands lining the front straight. Thousands of people had already arrived. Thousands more would come.

"This is what we've all been pointing to all year," Dickerson said. "As soon as we leave here today, we'll be pointing to next year."

It was Buhl's most futile Indy.

Horsepower problems have nagged Chevy teams during the entire 2003 Indy Racing League season. On the final Indianapolis practice session three days before the race, Buhl ran the fastest Chevy at 224.775 mph. Front-running drivers with Toyota and Honda engines flirted with 229 mph.

The speed difference translated into more than .5 second per lap, or 150 feet. Under such conditions Buhl could expect nothing better than to finish more than 2.2 laps behind.

As things turned out, five of 10 Chevy Indy V8s failed, including Buhl's teammate, Sarah Fisher. Only three Chevys finished the race, the highest earning 11th place.

Buhl's crew had done all it could to make the car go fast.

"We don't have anything up our sleeve, that's for sure," said Brian Franzosi, chief mechanic, helping grid the car an hour before the race.

By lap five, about 50 laps before his spin, Buhl was 26 seconds behind the leader.

"OK, Robbie, keep diggin'." It's a long day," Reinbold radioed. "Keep your foot on it. Keep your foot on it."

As Buhl settled into a rhythm, his crew entered what fueller Wayne Selman called "race mode."

Selman, a former professional motocyclist from Albuquerque, N.M., who moved to Indianapolis because "this is where the racing is," said pit crew members have one goal: "Make sure Buhl comes by every time."

Even with the spin, the team hoped for a top-10 finish.

After another pit stop about half way through the race, Reinbold radioed Buhl,

"The tires look good."

Reinbold was referring to an absence of excessive tire wear.

He said, "Race it as hard as you want the rest of the race."

"Copy that," Buhl said, rpms whining through his helmet microphone.

"Here's the deal," Reinbold radioed with one-third of the race to go. "We're in 23rd. We have three guys we can pass on the track. Who knows what else is going to happen. There's been a lot of attrition. Keep diggin'. Have a good one."

The engine blew 26 laps later.

There wasn't much talking after the race in the Dreyer & Reinbold garage.

"We lost the motor," Buhl said. "I just parked in turn four and tried to stay out of the way. Chevy and Speedway (Engines) know they have some work to do."

No. 24 arrived back at the garage dangling from a tether behind a big, red tow truck. A yellow plastic drop cloth wrapped under the chassis captured oil dripping from the damaged engine.

Mike O'Gara, a team engineer from Indianapolis, helped push the car into its bay.

"We'll send the motor back to Chevy," O'Gara said. "They'll investigate. We're not allowed to take 'em apart. Chevrolet will tell us what's goin' on and have a cure for the next race, hopefully."

competition," Quinn said. "He was going against one of the best hurdlers in the state in the kid from Marine City (Rich LaCroix)."

North's team of Bremer, Matouk, Barclay Smyly and Mario Sexton won the 3,200 relay in 8:42.2. The 400 relay team of Robert Bailiff, Ted Kotwick, Saffron and Maxwell had a winning time of 45.3, and the 1,600 relay team of Aric Minney, Saffron, Kwiatkowski and Sexton closed out the meet with a victory in 3:41.5.

Kotwick had one of the few PRs recorded in the meet when he cleared 12-0 in the pole vault.

Other PRs came from Kwiatkowski in the 300 hurdles and Minney, in the 800.

"The league meet is always tough coming right after the regional, so you don't have a lot of PRs at the league meet," Quinn said.

110 hurdles: 1, Rich LaCroix, Marine City, 14.77. 3, Kevin Kwiatkowski, North, 16.60.

800 relay: 1, Marine City (Schreiner, Walker, LaCroix, Laparl), 1:36.72. 3, Grosse Pointe North, 1:37.89.

1,600: 1, Steve Cullen, Fraser, 4:46.45. 3, Rob Matouk, North, 4:50.65.

400 relay: 1, Grosse Pointe North (Robert Bailiff, Ted Kotwick, Phil Saffron, Marcell Maxwell), 45.24.

400: 1, Nick Krus, Lakeview, 52.08. 3, Mario Sexton, North, 54.64. 6, Scott Nixon, North, 55.55.

300 hurdles: 1, Rich LaCroix, Marine City, 41.36. 3, Kevin Kwiatkowski, North, 42.83. 5, Dan Minturn, North, 44.53.

800: 1, John Bremer, North, 2:06.09.

200: 1, Nick Laparl, Marine City, 23.71. 4, Phil Saffron, North, 24.49.

3,200: 1, Kyle Bladow, Marysville, 10:32. 3, Rob Matouk, North, 10:48.52. 4, Stefan Cross, North, 10:48.92.

3,200 relay: 1, Grosse Pointe North (John Bremer, Rob Matouk, Barclay Smyly, Mario Sexton), 8:42.

1,600 relay: 1, Grosse Pointe North (Aric Minney, Phil Saffron, Ben Lansiedel, Kevin Kwiatkowski), 3:41.3.

Pole vault: 1, Phil Saffron, North, 12-6. 3, Ted Kotwick, North, 12-0.

High jump: 1, Chris Szczygiel, Marysville, 6-1. 3, Kevin Kwiatkowski, North, 5-9.

Long jump: 1, Rich LaCroix, Marine City, 19-5.

Shot put: 1, Egan, Marysville, 50-9.

Discus: 1, Priebe, Marine City, 148-7. 6, Spencer Channel, North, 120-1.

Harper Woods' Maria Mahon, above, earned the win against Lutheran East, striking out nine.

Seven-run fifth lifts Pioneers past Eagles

By Bob St. John
Staff writer

Harper Woods' girls softball team continued its dominance of city rival Lutheran East, winning 17-7 last week.

"It wasn't the prettiest game, but a win is a win," Harper Woods head coach Carol Arthmire said. "I was a little scared when East took the lead, but our girls made a nice comeback."

The Eagles, which trailed 6-5 midway through the game, scored twice in the bottom of the fourth to grab the one-run lead, but the Pioneers answered with seven runs in the top of the fifth to take the lead for good.

"We were right there, but one bad inning did us in," East head coach Pat Sadler said. "One bad inning has been the story of our season."

Maria Mahon was the winning pitcher, striking out nine, while Sarah Schurig suffered the loss.

Both teams made several outstanding defensive plays, including Harper Woods catcher Meghan Huot, who picked off a runner at third base and threw out a base stealer.

Daejana Maldonado,

Angela Wierszewski, Jade King and Huot each had two hits, while Ann Marie Solomon had three bunt singles.

"We made some nice plays in the field, but I have to say we gave up far too many base runners," Arthmire said. "I was glad to get that out of the way because our girls didn't play too well."

In other action, East beat Hamtramck and split a doubleheader with University Liggett School.

Standouts for the Eagles were Caitlin Gerds, Schurig and Brandy Dona.

The Harper Woods softball team improved to 8-4 in the Metro Conference and 10-4 overall, while Lutheran East slipped to 3-11 in the Metro Conference and 5-14 overall.

Baseball

The Harper Woods boys baseball team has dominated Lutheran East during the past few years, but last week the squads played a memorable game at East.

The host Eagles were three outs away from pulling a huge upset, but in the end the Metro Conference-leading Pioneers won 8-7 in nine innings.

"We have to pull together in these situations," Harper Woods head coach DeAndre Cooper told his players before they came up to hit in the top of the seventh inning, trailing 6-3. "It's our time to shine."

Cooper watched his team rally to score four runs, thanks to a two-out, two-run bases-loaded single by Jake Bertges.

The Eagles didn't quit, forcing extra innings by scoring a run in the bottom of the seventh inning off a double steal.

"I had to call that delayed steal," East head coach Nick Capoferi said. "Our kids can run the bases, and we were able to tie the game."

The Eagles had runners on first and third with no outs in the seventh inning, but the Pioneers were able to throw out a runner at home and a runner at third to get a big doubleplay.

After a stolen base and a walk, Capoferi gave the sign for his runner on first to delay steal.

When the Pioneers' catcher threw to get the runner heading to second, the Eagles' runner on third broke for home and scored without a throw.

James Slago earned the win in relief for the Pioneers, while Rusty Pidosny suffered the loss, also in relief.

The win kept the Pioneers one game ahead of Lutheran North in the Metro Conference standings.

In other action last week, East swept a doubleheader from University Liggett School, winning 6-4 and 11-1, and Harper Woods swept a doubleheader from Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook Kingswood, winning 10-0 and 11-1.

The Eagles were paced by Matt Johnston, who had a homer and three RBIs in the opener, while Joel Machemer was the winning pitcher.

In the second game, Steve Johnston was 3-for-4 with two RBIs.

The Pioneers were paced by Pietrangelo, who was the winning pitcher in game one and had several key hits in both games.

The Harper Woods baseball team improved to 13-2 in the Metro Conference and 16-6 overall, while Lutheran East ended its regular season 7-9 in the Metro Conference and 10-11 overall.

Regina's Manuszak advances to state Division I track finals

By Bob St. John
Staff writer

Regina's Lauren Manuszak earned a spot in the Division I state finals last weekend, placing second in the long jump in a regional meet at Grosse Pointe South.

"We had a pretty good day, but our regional is so tough," head coach Gregg Golden said. "I was happy with our performances, and now I hope we can build on that for the Catholic League meet."

Other players for the Saddlelites were Sarah Moore and Anna Czoykowski (tied for fifth in the high jump) and Rhonda Crittle (personal best throw to place sixth in the discus).

The 800-yard relay team of Sara DeMars, Anita Blount, Manuszak and Elisa Viviano placed sixth as did the 400-yard relay squad of DeMars, Viviano, Genika Brown and Manuszak.

The Saddlelites' 3,200-yard relay quartet of Lauri Eisen, Shayna Czech, Kiki Barkovic and Catherine Vaughn was fifth, and the 1,600-yard relay team of DeMars, Barkovic, Xiomara Okonkwo and Ashley Couture placed fifth.

Personal bests were turned in by Couture and Emily Delmotte in the high hurdles, Jessie Topolski in the shot put, Sara Cholyway in the 1,600-yard run, Eisen in the 400-yard dash, Anna Czoykowski in the long jump and Karon Walter in the 1,600-yard run.

Regina placed 10 with 16 points in the 16-team regional, which was won by Grosse Pointe South.

Detroit Martin Luther King was second and L'Anse Creuse North was third.

Earlier in the week, Regina lost 100-28 to Dearborn Divine Child, finishing 2-3 in its Catholic League meets.

"Divine Child is a very good team that should finish in the top in the Division II state finals," Golden said. "Neither team had good times because of the cold and high winds, but we still had to run the meet."

Their final first-place finish was posted by the 400-yard relay team of DeMars, Kellyn Mackerl-Cooper, Manuszak and Viviano.

Soccer

The Regina soccer team lost 3-0 to Madison Heights Bishop Foley in last week's Catholic League semifinal playoff game.

"It was a tough loss because I thought we were in position to beat them," head coach Matt Naidow said. "We knew it would take a solid effort to win, but our girls fell a little short."

The Ventures led 1-0 at the half but extended the margin to 2-0 midway through the second half.

They added an insurance goal in the final minutes.

"We never got any really good scoring opportunities," Naidow said. "Bishop Foley's defense was rock solid, which is why they're the defending state champs."

The Saddlelites advanced to the semifinals by beating Riverview Gabriel Richard 4-2 in the quarterfinals.

Gloria Soyad (two assists) and Ashley Mellor each scored two goals.

"We went into the Catholic League playoffs with the goal of getting to the finals and winning," Naidow said. "This is a learning experience for our girls. Now it's time to get ready for the state playoffs."

The Regina soccer team fell to 10-6 overall.

Softball

The Regina softball team was the second spring sports program to lose in the Catholic League semifinals, falling 3-1 to Waterford Lakes in the Central/Double-A playoffs.

"It was a well-played game by both teams," head coach Diane Laffey said. "Both teams had eight hits, but Lakes put together four of them in a row in the sixth inning, which led to its three runs."

Irish fourth in league track meet

By Bob St. John
Staff writer

Notre Dame's track and field team finished fourth in last week's Catholic League A-B Division meet at Livonia Ladywood.

U-D Jesuit won the meet with 146 points, followed by Detroit Catholic Central with 139, Birmingham Brother Rice with 80, Notre Dame with 40, Warren De La Salle with 30, Dearborn Divine Child with 23, Orchard Lake St. Mary with 20 and Pontiac Notre Dame Prep with eight.

"This team is coming together nicely," assistant coach Stan Wegrzynowicz said.

Calvin Wiley won a silver medal in the 100-meter dash with a time of 11.67, while Brandon Bonds was a bronze medalist in the 400-meter dash with a time of 51.61.

The Irish's 400-meter relay team was a close second to Catholic Central, posting a time of 45.97 to 45.93 for the Shamrocks.

Other top performers for

Knights tie with Seaholm

University Liggett School's tennis team tuned up for its defense of the Division IV state championship by playing Birmingham Seaholm to a 4-4 tie.

"The state meet looks like it will be a wide-open race," said Knights coach Chuck Wright.

"Everyone on our team is improving, but especially the doubles teams."

This year's Division IV finals will be held in Grand Rapids.

ULS's No. 4 doubles team of Michael Stefani and Robbie Baubie clinched the tie with a 6-2, 2-6, 6-2 victory.

"They played a really good match," Wright said.

Bommarito, Paul Nielsen, Brian Blanchard, David Harmon, Steve Chauvin and Edgar Martin.

Coming up for 10 members of Notre Dame's track team is the Division II state finals on Saturday, May 31.

The Knights also got doubles wins from Owen Darr and Peter Spina at No. 2 and the No.3 team of Iain Decker and Rohan Policherla.

ULS's singles victory came from Justin Powell, who was a 6-4, 6-2 winner at No. 3.

The first doubles team of Trevor Stahl and Dan LaLonde lost a tough 7-6, 7-5 match.

"Hunter Huth played well against a good tournament player in No. 1 singles," Wright said.

Huth dropped a 6-3, 6-4 decision. The fourth singles match was also close with Aaron Brieden losing 7-5, 6-4.

Assists: Deseranno 2, Monique Squiers 2, Daniel Russo (Flaming Squirrels).

Comments: Matthew Verryser, Taylor Brennan, Jordan Fox and Eric Jorgenson did a good job of limiting the Roseville shots. Andrew Redziniak, Chris Bill and Billy Sessions did a fine job of feeding the ball to the offense, which created several good scoring opportunities.

South blanked in non-leaguer

Grosse Pointe South's baseball team had a light week last week, but things will get busier in the next few days.

The Blue Devils dropped a 4-0 non-league decision to Redford Catholic Central in a tuneup before the start of Division I state district play. South managed only three hits — two by Nick Andrew and one by Mike Arrigo.

The Blue Devils' Charlie Mackinnon pitched well despite absorbing the loss. He allowed five hits, two earned runs and struck out six.

"He pitched a very good game," said coach Dan Griesbaum.

South was scheduled to play a pre-district game on Tuesday against Detroit Finney.

The winner of that game will play Detroit Kettering at 10 a.m. Saturday at Grosse Pointe North. North and Detroit King will play at 12:30 p.m. The district championship game is scheduled for 3 p.m.

Kara Trowell-Muhammad

Farms player on state AAU title squad

Playing on state championships teams is getting to be a habit for Kara Trowell-Muhammad of Grosse Pointe Farms.

The Pierce Middle School eighth grader was the starting small forward on the under-13 Oakland Suns AAU team that won the girls state basketball championship.

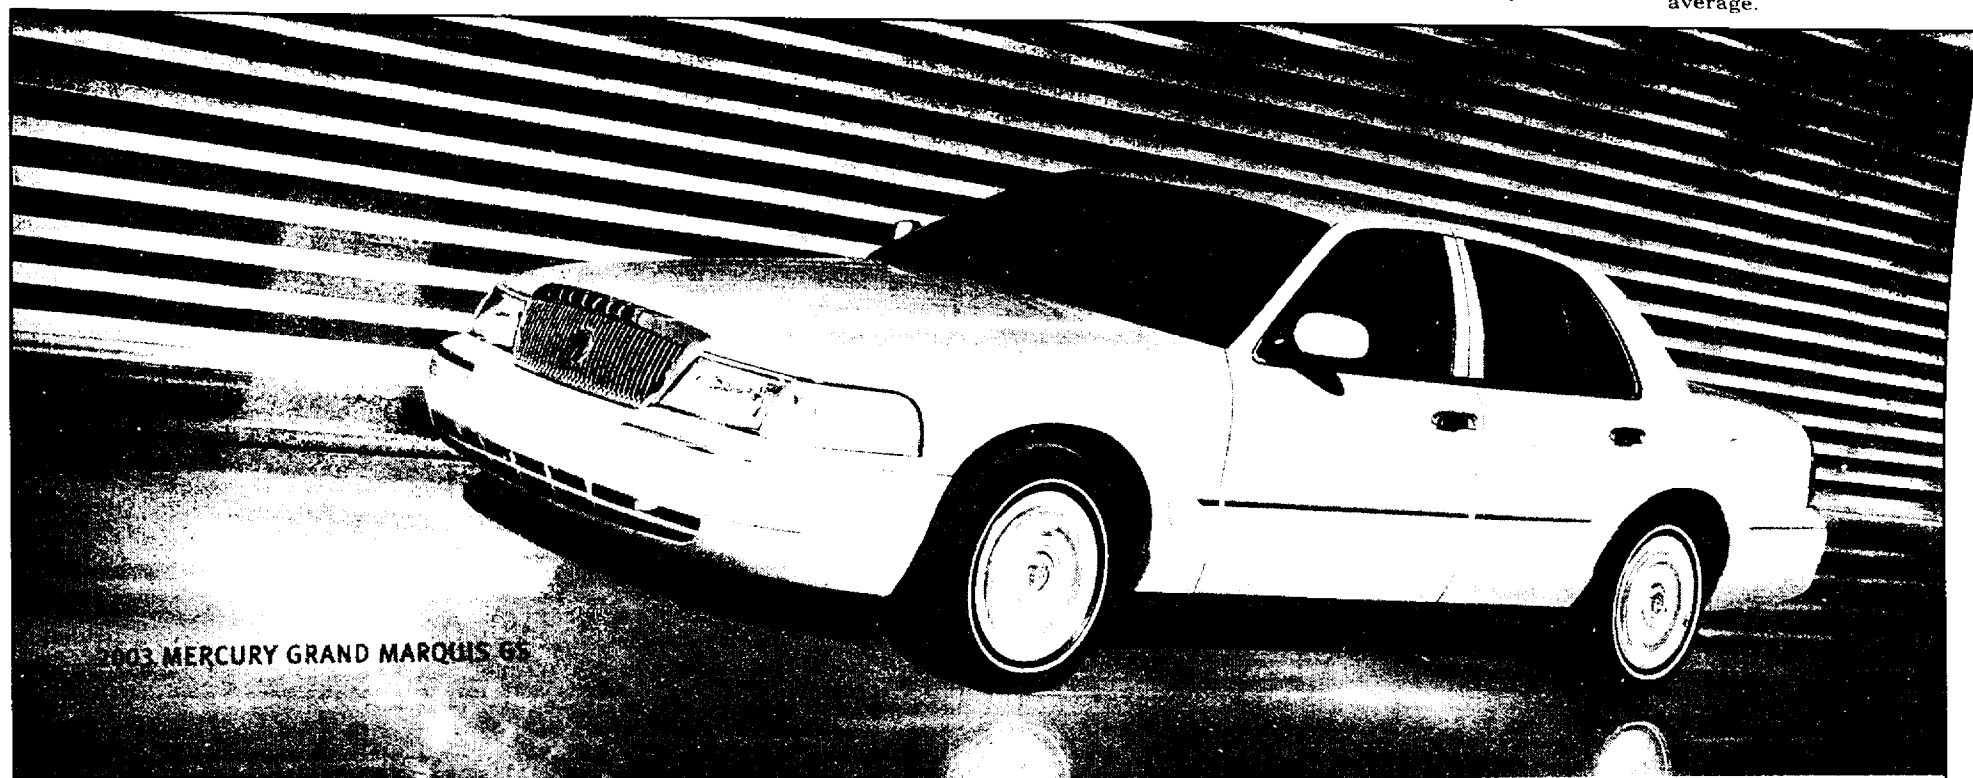

The Suns beat the Western Michigan Lakers from Grand Rapids 60-37 in the championship game. The Suns will be the state's top-seeded team in the AAU under-13 national championships in Dayton, Ohio, from July 23-31.

The Suns also won state championships in 2001 and 2002.

Trowell-Muhammad helped lead Pierce's eighth-grade team to an undefeated season last fall. She was voted the best female athlete at the school earlier this year.

She plays soccer for the Grosse Pointe Soccer Association under-14 Breakers and is a member of Pierce's track team.

Trowell-Muhammad is an honor student at Pierce and carries a 4.1 grade-point average.

INTRODUCING THE REDESIGNED 2003 GRAND MARQUIS. Our engineers redesigned the independent front suspension and steering system. They added horsepower to the only standard V-8 in its class. Finally, they gave it more rear legroom and front shoulder room. All of which adds up to the best Grand Marquis ever. They've done their job. Now it's time to do yours.
