GROSSE POINTE PARK — Whether you measure the timeline for a dog park to become a reality in human or dog years, either way, it's going to be a long time.

That was the consensus of residents attending the council meeting Monday night after a vote by council to pursue the development of a dog park on city-owned property at Mack and Wayburn as part of a broader development project for the area.

Mayor Robert Denner began the discussion by presenting four options for council discussion.

Transformer trouble in Farms

By Brad Lindberg
Staff Writer

GROSSE POINTE FARMS — Storm-related interruption of the municipal power grid late December echoed frustrations of families unwrapping the rare defective electric toy train under Christmas trees.

"A transformer blew," said Shane Reeside, Grosse Pointe Farms city manager, citing the city's account manager with DTE Energy. High winds prompted problems starting Monday night, Dec. 28.

"There was a down power line after that storm," Reeside said. "It was on Lewiston at the boulevard."

The neighborhood is near where DTE in 2011 replaced lines and circuits so crucial they're termed backbones.

Shores taxable value increases

By Brad Lindberg
Staff Writer

GROSSE POINTE SHORES — New construction in the city adds an estimated $100,000 this year to property tax receipts.

More comes next year when current projects are finished and enter the revenue stream.

In addition, fiscal year 2016 is celebrated with house sales that uncork taxable value increases otherwise constrained by state law to 5 percent or the rate of inflation, whichever is lower.

"There's been some good property sales," said Grosse Pointe Shores Councilman Bruce Bisballe, head of the finance committee.

"That's where you see the pickup, on transactions."

A house on Lakeshore sold recently for nearly $2 million.

"It was on the tax rolls for $800,000," Bisballe said.

Construction activity, whether renovations or new from the foundation up, begins with paperwork and permits administered by Tom Krolczyk in the building department at city hall.

"It was pretty stagnant for a while," he said. "In 2013, it started back again."

Only three or four buildable lots remain in the city.

"One on Fordcroft has been empty for 25 years," Krolczyk said. "Someone came in last week and wants to build on it."

New construction includes two houses on Vernier and four on Lakeshore with combined construction values exceeding $4.1 million, according to Krolczyk.

Even land formerly hosting the Spanish-style "Taco Bell" house on Lakeshore south of the extant but unoccupied "Darth Vader" house at the corner of Clairview is a construction site.

"There'd been no house there for 25 years," Krolczyk said. "Now, these lots are coming up and people are building on them."

Renovations of residential property underway last year total $465,000, according to building department records.

The figure doesn't include the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's $18 million harbor, fitness and bowling centers.

Not all construction reaps tax receipts.

One of the city's most visible residential renovations on Lakeshore south of Vernier adds no square footage and, therefore, no revenue.

"A lot of that's not taxable because it can be argued as maintenance to the home," Bisballe said. "You have to change the square footage, or add improvement like a garage or swimming pool."

Farms Winterfest nears

By Brad Lindberg
Staff Writer

GROSSE POINTE FARMS — Landed gentry with closets full of camel-hair coats know their hosts' comfort in winter.

"They get a three-inch coat of wool and are well-adapted to cold weather," said Don Strobel, owner of Animal Oasis petting farm about 30 miles southwest of Ann Arbor.

Strobel includes camels among 50 animals for this year's Grosse Pointe Farms Winterfest on the Hill, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 6.

"I will bring different breeds of sheep, goats, horses, a donkey, llama and, depending how cold it is, a miniature cow," he said.

Kercheval on the Hill is closed during Winterfest, produced by the department of parks and recreation with aid of private support.

Kara Reynolds, a park administrator, hoped to string a zip line over the road.

"I couldn't find a sponsor for it," she said. "We were asking $3,500."

Organizers instead arranged the animal attraction, inaugural soup contest and visit by a mobile extension of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Soup

"We changed the chili cook-off to a soup challenge with a celebrity judge panel," Reynolds said.

Two winners — chosen by the panel and general public, respectively — both get a $200 gift certificate to a restaurant of their choice on the Hill.

Changing the contest to soup is intended to boost competition.

"The first year we did the chili cook off there were about 20 people," Reynolds said. "Last year, I think we had eight people. We're trying something different. You don't have to be a Farms resident to compete in the soup challenge."

To enter, send an e-mail to Michele Eickhorst, assistant recreation director, at meickhorst@grossepointefarms.org or call park offices at (313) 343-5252. Entry information also is available at grossepointefarms.org.

DIA Away

Also new this year is DIA Away, a 1,500-square-foot semi-truck trailer outfitted like a gallery to get people thinking like an artist.

"Thinking differently, creatively," said Kathryn Diamond, DIA director of community relations and resident of the Farms.

One side of the trailer has interactive displays of DIA holdings and their creators.

"On the other side, you have the opportunity to think like an artist," Diamond said. "You can manipulate images to imagine your world differently. You can create a video about how people can consider themselves artists."

Fire pit in kindling stage

By Brad Lindberg
Staff Writer

GROSSE POINTE FARMS — Grace Gilmore shivered against an onshore breeze during her walk last week at Pier Park.

"I come down here almost every day," she said.

She looks forward to warming herself at a fire pit being built off the 3/4-mile path next to the park's ice skating rink and platform tennis warming shelter.

A 14-foot circular pergola of 9-foot-tall Tuscan columns ring the gas-fueled pit, the latest enhancement to Pier Park funded privately by the Grosse Pointe Farms Foundation.

"I just assumed it was part of the deal," Gilmore said, referring to property tax dollars at work. "We are very fortunate."

Although temperatures last week were cold enough for Gilmore to pull a hat low over her forehead and scarf high on her cheeks, they've been warm enough for construction crews to pour the pit's cement foundation and set stone benches in mortar.

"Other than putting in the burner, it's not far from being completed," said Dick Huhn, park director.

The columns are ceramic. They require painting but never rot, according to Brian Kolody, of Miles Bradley Building, Farmington Hills.

Columns will be topped in a few weeks with aluminum rings being made at a factory, Kolody added.

"Most Likely to Succeed" coming to ULS

University Liggett School will host the only eastside screening of the new documentary, "Most Likely to Succeed," a critically acclaimed film that tackles education issues in the 21st century.

The screening will begin at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 27, in the school auditorium, 1045 Cook Road, Grosse Pointe Woods.

A panel discussion moderated by Grosse Pointe News Community Editor Jody McVeigh will follow the film. The event is open to the public.

"Most Likely to Succeed" charts the history of the American educational system and looks at how reinventing the approach to education can make every student a lifelong, independent learner.

"Most Likely to Succeed is a discussion that needs to start now," said a post on RogerEbert.com.

Educational leaders across the country will host screenings to bring attention to the documentary. Liggett is the only eastside institution to host a screening.

To learn more about the film and watch the trailer, visit mltsfilm.org. More about the Liggett screening is at uls.org.

Split down the middle

By Brad Lindberg
Staff Writer

GROSSE POINTE FARMS — A home builder won permission this week to play through zoning restrictions on Country Club Drive, where construction is par for the course.

Next up is replacing an unoccupied single-story house spanning a 220-foot, double-wide lot at 205 Country Club Drive, with two neighboring 1 1/2-story houses on separate lots 110 feet wide and 171 feet deep.

Approval of the lot split came Monday, Jan. 11, from the Grosse Pointe Farms Zoning Board of Appeals. The board is made up of the mayor and council.

Each new lot is half the width of the one being replaced, yet larger than 14 of 18 parcels on the block now.

"There's a mix of housing styles on the block," said John Jackson, the Farms planning consultant. "Most are legal, non-conforming on 110-foot lots or less."

Ed Russell, of Edward J. Russell Inc., headquartered on the Hill, sought the split before obtaining the land and building homes to order.

He needed permission because the resulting lots were smaller than otherwise required by city ordinance.

Likewise, the double-wide lot presented the corresponding practical difficulty of marketing a parcel of excess size, board members ruled.

"We anticipate starting late spring or early summer with at least one of the homes," Russell said.

Six neighbors spoke against the split at this month's board meeting, down half from those opposing in December.

"We've had enough," neighbor David De Loreto told the board, referring to disruption associated with construction up the block at the Country Club of Detroit and one road away on Irvine Lane.

Board members tied approval to numerous conditions, but rejected instructions by neighbors to:

- ◆ regulate exterior color choices of the forthcoming properties owners and

- ◆ require the structures be set back from tree roots encroaching an estimated 28 feet onto the property.

"Nothing requires a setback from a tree," said Terry Brennan, director of public services.

- ◆ used it fully as youngsters, grew up, moved away and intend to use it fully upon returning to raise a family.

Full use of Neff Park is expected for Winterfest, starting 1 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 30.

Popular features from the past are maintained

Fresh this year is the theme, "Frozen," inspired by the popular children's movie.

"Ice sculptures and arts and crafts are themed to 'Frozen' and its characters," Hardenbrook said. "We'll have the Snow Sisters lead activities for kids and sing songs from the movie."

Water system in the works?

By Kathy Ryan
Staff Writer

GROSSE POINTE PARK — The newly established Public Service Committee held a meeting last week, but the lack of required public notice left at least one resident questioning how public — not to mention transparent — the new committee might be.

While the major question raised by the resident related to the committee's discussion about the feasibility of an independent water plant for the Park and separation from the Detroit water system, he also questioned why there was no public notice of the meeting.

"We'll try to do a better job of getting notices out in the future," said Mayor Bob Denner, a member of the committee chaired by Councilman Dan Grano and including Councilman John Chouinard.

According to Grano, the committee discussed the question of an independent water plant, something under discussion in the Park for several years.

City Manager Dale Krajniak said the city is currently working with the state of Michigan and the Department of Environmental Quality on applications. It also hired an engineering firm.

"We have developed plans for our own independent plant," Krajniak said, noting no decision has been made. Before a decision is made, the city will hold public hearings.

"We won't see anything this year," he said.

Krajniak said the city currently is conducting a study on a microfiltration system that will take up to six months and is mandated by the state. He also said while there is no firm cost estimate on the project, he predicts the cost would be approximately $15 million.

Krajniak said there are no other meetings of the committee scheduled at this time.

to about 600 homes," Reeside said.

Although the 600 figure was reported in other media, Lisa Bolla, DTE Energy lead communication specialist, put the tally at 69 Farms customers.

"At the time, our area was getting hit with snow and freezing rain that caused more than 44,700 other outages across Southeast Michigan," Bolla said in an e-mail.

The company's power outage map, available on its website, dteenergy.com/map/outage, highlighted affected areas.

"They had an initial estimate for repairs of a few hours," Reeside said. "They got into it and found transformers and other things had to be brought in."

"It was caused by damage to equipment located on a pole top," Bolla said.

"It delayed repairs," Reeside said. "Electricity was out about 24 hours."

O'Brien at the helm for historic society

By Jody McVeigh
Community Editor

Patricia O'Brien has been a part of the Grosse Pointe community for nearly 40 years. A Park resident and member of Christ Church Grosse Pointe, O'Brien recently was named president of the Grosse Pointe Historical Society.

Following the untimely death of president Elizabeth "Penny" Soby last month, according to the society's bylaws, O'Brien, who was serving as vice president of administration, was next in line for the post. It has been a heartbreaking time for the society and the many friends whose lives Soby touched during her years of service to the community.

"Losing Penny so unexpectedly sent a shockwave through the whole organization," O'Brien said. "We worked very closely together. I've known her since the early 1980s, when our daughters sang in the church choir together. I lost a dear friend as well. That'll be challenging covering all the events she attended."

"It was a shock to everyone, but we've just pressed on. That's what we need to do and what she'd want us to do, to continue and expand the good work she was doing."

Some of that work included securing a Collection Assessment Program grant that allowed the society to hire two professionals, one to look at the group's properties and one to look at its collections.

"Their report was crucial to our strategic plan," O'Brien said, adding Soby and Vice President of Development Stuart Grigg were "the main instruments" in securing the grant. "It really elevated the society's solidity as an organization in southeast Michigan."

Last year, thanks to an anonymous donation, an endowment was established at the Community Foundation of Southeastern Michigan to provide general operating support for the society.

"Going forward with these is very important to us," O'Brien said. "We're in a very good position right now."

Part of O'Brien's new

post includes overseeing the organization's operations and its three employees, running monthly meetings and finding more opportunities for the society to sustain itself.

Last October, the society's 70th anniversary party raised more than $11,000, which was added to the community foundation endowment. The society continues offering its educational lecture series, one-room schoolhouse and Second Saturdays programs, as well as providing plaques to select historic buildings.

O'Brien, who has been a member of the society for more than five years, said not only does the historical society have a lot to offer the community, but it's important to keep history alive.

"It's critical for people to know where their roots are coming from, their family roots as well as their community roots," she said. "So many things have occurred here. When people understand and appreciate that, it gives a richness to where we are today."

The society's resource center offers a comprehensive set of blueprints of Grosse Pointe properties among other archives, while its Provencal-Weir House, built in 1823, is a popular touring site for groups of all ages.

"It's important for people to feel connected to the community and to each other," O'Brien said, adding through programs like "Legends of Grosse Pointe" and "Talking Headstones," as well as a historical radio broadcast enacted last fall, the society does its best to share the community's history.

"We need to preserve it and preserve everything about (Grosse Pointe)," she said. "We need to make sure the lore and history is passed on, particularly in a way that's interesting to people and particularly interesting to children."

The society is working on a traveling production for the school district in hopes of engaging children with the past. "If we can engage kids with the legend and lore, it will instill in them a love of history, not just boring facts."

The society's also working on its annual gala, which isn't until June, but is a tremendous undertaking nonetheless.

O'Brien, a mother of two, also is a licensed clinical psychologist with the Northeast Guidance Center, a community mental health facility since 1963. It was founded by members of the Junior League of Detroit and other organizations, "so families would receive care for their children without having to go downtown," she said. "We have great roots in Grosse Pointe."

O'Brien attends Rotary meetings on behalf of the center and the society. While she loves her job and her volunteer work, she said her passion is theater. A member of the Grosse Pointe Theatre and other theater groups, she recently directed her first play, "Dead Man's Cell Phone."

She also is a big supporter of the University of Michigan, where she earned her undergraduate degree before earning her graduate degree from Wayne State University.

The Grosse Pointe Historical Society board meets at 7 p.m. the second Tuesday of each month at the Grosse Pointe Farms municipal building, 90 Kerby. The public is welcome to attend. For information, call (313) 884-7010.

DOG:

The first option called to develop a park at Patterson Park, the second was to locate a dog park at Windmill Pointe Park, the third was the Wayburn option and the fourth was to deny residents' request for a park based on no suitable location being available.

Denner said surveys had been sent to residents who lived near Patterson Park seeking input on locating a dog park there. According to City Manager Dale Krajniak, 16 surveys were returned, and only three did not object to placing the park there.

Patterson Park was the preferred site for the 100 dog owners who turned out for a Parks and Recreation Commission meeting last fall, but the commission voted to recommend the Mack and Wayburn site.

Councilman Dan Clark said the dog park at Mack and Wayburn would be an asset to the area.

"Mack and Wayburn requires economic development," he said. "As that sector goes, so goes the rest of Grosse Pointe Park and the other Pointes. The city of Detroit has invested in a mall and a pocket park in that area and we're dragging down the area."

ging down the area."

The Park owns the property at Mack between Wayburn and Alter, the border with Detroit.

Even though some of the property is in Detroit, it is owned by the Park. It is the proximity to Detroit that has some residents concerned about users' safety.

As part of the development of the area, Councilman Dan Grano suggested relocating the Park's Public Works garage to the area and also noted security cameras could be placed in the area, making the site "a lot less frightening."

"It is not an ideal site," Grano said. "But our job is to represent all residents. I have lobbied for a dog park for a long time. But I always had concerns about putting the dog park in one of our lakefront parks because as a child, I had a fear of dogs and it would not be fair to kids to have dogs within the park."

Councilwoman Barbara Detwiler spoke in support of the Mack and Wayburn site.

"Putting it at the city limits is the only option we have," she said. "Neither lakefront park is a suitable site. I'm confident we can raise money and I would be a part of organizing fundraisers for the park."

Councilwoman Laurie Arora questioned whether a dog park at the city limits would be used, while Councilman John Chouinard questioned how the council could vote on the site without some type of artist rendering to give the council some perspective on how the park would be part of a broader development plan.

"Should we spend resources, even private funds, for something that would not be used by residents?" Arora asked.

"I'm in favor of making that corner more inviting, but I would like to see plans before taking a final vote," said Chouinard.

A vote was finally called on a motion, put forth by Clark, to direct the city to pursue development of a dog park at Mack and Wayburn as part of a broader plan for the area.

The motion was approved on a 6 to 1 vote, with Arora voting no.

Councilman James Robson said the issue has been polarizing for the community.

"My preference had been for no dog park at all, but I see enthusiasm here for the Mack and Wayburn site," he said. "The biggest question now is how to fund the project. We're looking at perhaps $150,000 to $300,000 for a nice Grosse Pointe esthetic-type park. But I'm certain that if we build it, they will come."

Park resident Mike Bannon, who has spearheaded the drive for a dog park and favored the Patterson Park site, was disappointed with the Mack and Wayburn site.

"We're right back to where we started," he said.

Public Safety Reports

City of Grosse Pointe

Pills

A City of Grosse Pointe man, 76, reported the suspected theft from his home of 12 or 13 bottles of prescription medication.

He distrusts members of a recently-hired, two-person house cleaning crew, one of whom quit shortly after he noticed the items missing from a drawer.

Thefts occurred between Nov. 13 and Dec. 15, the man told police Friday, Jan. 8.

"He is mostly concerned the drugs are now probably on the street," reported a public safety officer.

Naughty list

A woman, 53, of Dryden Township, is suspected of wrapping up 2015 with multiple acts of credit fraud against her parents, including her 78-year-old mother from the City of Grosse Pointe.

The mother linked more than $4,000 unauthorized credit transactions in the Pontiac area to the theft of her husband's credit card while hospitalized in that city.

One day after Thanksgiving came a bill from Meijer and, two days before Christmas, another for $413, according to police.

Grosse Pointe Farms

Disconnect

All isn't well in the amores of a 58-year-old Farms woman and her former live-in boyfriend, 64, of uncertain current address.

She booted him recently, she informed police Saturday, Jan. 9, and he has her $600 cell phone.

"(She) indicated she called the missing phone and spoke with the suspect," reported the investigating officer. "(She) asked (him) for the phone back. (She) indicated the suspect told her he will pound a nail into the phone and leave it on her porch."

Unaccountable

A man transporting seven passengers in a four-seat pickup truck was arrested at 2:47 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 9, for driving drunk in the 100 block of westbound Lakeshore.

The man, 25, of St. Clair Shores, failed a series of field sobriety tests, including three chances to pick a number between 21 and 19.

"Seven? Eighteen? Twenty?"

Nearly 45 minutes after his arrest, he consented to a preliminary breath test revealing a .17 percent blood alcohol level, according to police.

Takes blame

A 17-year-old Grosse Pointe Farms male admitted during a traffic stop last week the 3 grams of marijuana and related paraphernalia in his red 2015 Chevrolet Cruze belonged to him, not his 16-year-old male passenger from Grosse Pointe Park.

A patrolman initially investigated the driver for running a red light from westbound Mack to southbound Moross shortly after 8 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 7.

Although the officer detected an odor of marijuana coming from the car interior, both occupants "denied any possession of marijuana" until the department's drug dog, Duke, arrived, according to the patrolman.

Officers arrested the driver and released the passenger.

Chase

A man accused of casing parked cars in the area of Belanger and Williams minutes before sunup Tuesday, Jan. 5, fled police but was caught at his Detroit residence.

Officers also recovered tools common to street thieves: a lug wrench, tire iron and hydraulic floor jack and flashlight.

The suspect, 27, is charged with larceny from an auto, resisting arrest, fleeing police and violating 57 suspensions of his driver's license.

A Farms man, 50, reported him in the 340 block of Belanger nosing around cars parked in driveways.

The suspect reportedly fled up the road in a black 1997 Pontiac Grand Prix to the dead end behind Mack, exited, jumped a fence and ran away.

Officers took him into custody at a dwelling in the 13000 block of Loretto Street on Detroit's eastside.

Wheels stripped

One day before a Detroit man was arrested for larceny from an auto in the 300 block of Belanger, a resident two blocks south in the 200 block of Vendome Court awoke to find a Buick Enclave in the driveway minus four wheels and tires.

Losses total $3,200.

Police recovered lug nuts and a tire iron within feet of the vehicle.

Officers investigating the report interviewed neighbors. One noticed the Enclave with wheels attached at 5 a.m.

Fleeing

At 3:30 a.m. Monday, Jan. 11, police attempted to stop a vehicle at Mack and Nottingham that was reported stolen. The occupants fled and the investigation continues.

In another case, shortly after midnight Thursday, Jan. 7, police attempted to stop a car at Mack and Bedford. The driver fled on foot after crashing the car. The investigation continues.

Subway break in

At 11:15 p.m. Monday, Jan. 4, police responded to an alarm coming from the Subway sandwich shop on Mack. When police arrived, they found a window on the backdoor broken and the deadbolt opened from the inside. The office area had been disturbed, but no one was found in the shop. Police continue to investigate.

Out of it

The results of a blood test may validate a patrolman's suspicion of drug use by a 64-year-old male motorist, investigated during a traffic stop at 1:55 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 7, for driving slowly and weaving between lanes of northbound Lakeshore near Hampton.

"(He) appeared confused and didn't know where he was," reported the officer.

The man registered a 0 percent blood alcohol level, yet failed a series of field sobriety tests, prompting the officer to arrest him on suspicion of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of drugs.

"During the entire process of the arrest, blood draw and booking, (he) appeared to be falling asleep," the officer said. "Due to training and experience, this indicates possible drug withdrawal."

Charges sought in Cadieux attack

Kathy Ryan
Staff Writer

GROSSE POINTE PARK

Public Safety officers requested charges be filed against Darian Lee Winfield, 18, in the December assault of a woman on Cadieux near Charlevoix.

Winfield is in the custody of Detroit police and has been arraigned on several charges related to a series of sexual assaults that took place in the past month in the area of East Warren and Cadieux.

"Our officers interviewed Winfield and he confessed to the attack that took place in the Park," said Public Safety Director Steve Poloni. "We have filed papers with the prosecutor's office requesting charges be brought against him in that attack."

According to police, shortly after midnight Sunday, Dec. 13, Winfield assaulted a woman as she walked on Cadieux near Charlevoix. No sexual assault took place, but he did slash the woman with a knife before he fled. She called police and was transported to St. John Hospital & Medical Center where she was treated and released later that day.

Winfield was named as a suspect in several sexual assaults beginning in mid-December. He was arrested by Detroit police last week. He has been formally charged in one of those assaults with first degree home invasion, assault with intent to murder and assault with intent to commit criminal sexual conduct. He is being held on a $1 million bond.

Yet, the city is seeing a backdoor benefit by the property changing hands, triggering the uncapped jump in taxable value beyond the Headlee limit.

"We even had a deconstruction this year,"

Krolczyk said. "An owner bought a neighboring house for $1.5 million and tore it down to make his lot bigger."

While the overall fiscal trend is positive, specifics aren't expected until the spring.

"We'll see a positive impact, but will know better by April 1, when we do a hard budget forecast," Bisballe said.

Special guest

Chris J. Kobus, PhD, Oakland University director of engineering and energy education, will speak to the Eastside Republican Club in Grosse Pointe Farms Tuesday, Jan. 19. Kobus will address what he calls, the "mission creep of environmentalism." In addition, the ERC will elect officers for 2016. The 7:30 p.m. forum is free and open to the public and will be held at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lake Shore. Commenting in advance of the meeting, ERC chairman Ken Chadwell said, "Dr. Kobus has a distinguished academic and professional background with a sensible, scientific outlook on clean energy. "We look forward to hearing his message on this important subject." Kobus received his PhD from Oakland University in 1998 and was appointed a visiting professor in the School of Engineering and Computer Science. He was appointed associate professor with tenure in 2006. He was instrumental in establishing the Clean Energy Research Center with a symbiotically inter-linked scope in academics, research, campus facilities, local business incubation and K-12 outreach. In addition to his research, Kobus has taught 17 different courses including thermal and fluid sciences, solid mechanics and dynamics, alternative energy, and nuclear systems.

Chess, The Musical, a must see

Love, passion and political intrigue plays out in the Grosse Pointe Theatre production of Chess, The Musical, performed Jan. 17-30. The eight performance run will be held at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Theater, 32 Lake Shore Drive, Grosse Pointe Farms. Chess, The Musical is presented by special arrangement with Samuel French, Inc. Set during the Cold War, the U.S.-Soviet rivalry plays out through an international chess championship. Freddie Trumper, the brash American grandmaster arrives with Florence Vassy, his Hungarian-American female chess second, who falls in love with Anatoly Sergievsky, the intense Russian champion. From Bangkok to Budapest, the players, lovers, politicians and spies all struggle to get the upper hand. The songs, by two members of the group ABBA, include the international hits "One Night in Bangkok" and "I Know Him So Well."

Week Ahead

THURSDAY, JAN. 21

◆ Participants during University Liggett School's Lunch and Learn seminar at noon, open to the public, may explore interactive software and apps, coding, tools and gadgets such as a 3D printer, robots and more. Technology instructors serve as presenters. Lunch will be served. The event is free, but space is limited. RSVP by Friday, Jan. 15, to Shaye Campbell at scampbell@uls.org; (313) 884-4444, Ext. 418 or online at uls.org/learn.

◆ A semester of independent scholarly research on World War I comes to life when students in Liggett's 11th- and 12th-grade World War I class host a public exhibition 5 to 7 p.m. in the main lobby. Exhibits range from in-depth didactic panels to life-sized recreations of artifacts and examine topics such as trench warfare, shell shock and the "men with broken faces" (gueules cassees) who suffered facial injuries during the war. Students serve as docents. The event is open to the public. For more information, visit uls.org.

TUESDAY, JAN. 26

◆ Parents supporting Parents hosts a Special Needs Estate Planning evening for students of all ages with disabilities and their families 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Barnes Early Childhood Center, 20090 Morningside, Grosse Pointe Woods. Child care is provided. Guest speakers are Kevin Piecuch, managing member of Drake & McCormick, PLLC and LauRyn A. Williams, financial advisor at Waddell & Reed Inc.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 27

◆ Liggett hosts the only eastside screening of the new documentary "Most Likely to Succeed," at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium, 1045 Cook Road, Grosse Pointe Woods. A panel discussion follows the film. The critically acclaimed film charts the history of the American educational system, tackles education issues in the 21st century and looks at reinventing the approach to education. The event is open to the public. To learn more or watch the trailer, visit mltsfilm.org.

SATURDAY, JAN. 30

◆ Grosse Pointe Academy hosts its annual Academy Scholars Challenge 9 to 11 a.m. at the school's Grosse Pointe Farms campus, 171 Lake Shore Road. As many as three $7,500 scholarships ($2,500 per year) may be awarded to GPA's middle school for grades 6-8.

Scholarship money can be applied to any tuition assistance received. Parents meet 9 to 10:30 a.m. and student testing is from 9 to 11 a.m. For more information or to register, call Jennifer Kendall, admissions director, at (313) 886-1221 or e-mail jkendall@gpacademy.org.

Trombly seeks to reclaim greenhouse

By Mary Anne Brush
Staff Writer

Trombly Elementary School's PTO is heading up an effort to refurbish the school's greenhouse. Fundraising began in September and, at $42,000, exceeds the halfway mark to a goal of $70,000 that would make the project eligible for matching funds from the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

"We have been overwhelmed by the positive support of the community," said Michele Lindsay, PTO president.

The total estimated cost of $140,000 for repairs is based on renovations to Grosse Pointe South High School's greenhouse several years ago, Lindsay said.

Built in 1927, the same year as the school building, Trombly's greenhouse was a unique feature of the school, but has fallen into disrepair. Lindsay, along with Principal Walt Fitzpatrick, have visited a number of community organizations to tell the greenhouse's history of bringing science to life by engaging students in science experiments and community service projects.

"Trombly is the first school in Grosse Pointe to achieve green status in the state of Michigan," said Lindsay. She said the greenhouse has played a vital role in maintaining that status, supporting the school's commitment to educating students to be good stewards of the environment. Students, known as the "green squad," raised seedlings to donate to local urban community gardens.

Plans for the new greenhouse will remain true to the original architectural style.

"This is the first year in 25 years when kids have not been able to go in (the greenhouse)," Lindsay said, but she's hopeful additional fundraising efforts, such as the Mardi Gras Casino Night Friday, Feb. 5, will be fruitful.

"We want to make sure by next fall we can have kids back in (the greenhouse) in full swing," said Lindsay.

Donations may be routed through the Grosse Pointe Foundation for Public Education or contact Lindsay at (313) 473-8040 or terrierPTO@gmail.com for more information.

Scholarships offered for Michigan-bound students

Community Choice Credit Union is accepting applications though Monday, Feb. 15, for its annual scholarship program. The program awards $100,000 in scholarships to graduating high school students who pledge to attend college in Michigan and commit to giving back to the state by building careers here.

Now in its eighth year, the Community Choice

Scholarship Program is one of the largest scholarship programs in the credit union industry both in Michigan and nationally and has awarded more than $700,000 in scholarships to 140 students in metro Detroit since 2009.

All Michigan high school seniors are eligible.

Scholarships of up to $5,000 each will be awarded to those who demonstrate outstanding academic achievement, involvement in extracurricular activities and dedication to community service. Applicants will be evaluated based on grade-point average, dedication to serving their community and a written essay.

Applications may be submitted online at communitychoicecu.com. Recipients will be recognized at an awards presentation in May.

Class studies Native American habitats

Students in James Fisher's 4/5 magnet class at Ferry Elementary School studied North American history and geography. Divided into groups representing different geographical locations across the country, students built different types of Native American habitats.

The Inuit — Arctic Region — built an igloo; the Cheyenne — Plains — built a teepee; Mohawk — Northeast — constructed a wigwam and the Southwest Tribe — the Pueblos — built an adobe. Each group researched the geography, history, culture and various aspects of their tribe.

Filling fast Drop boxes successful in City, Woods

By Jody McVeigh
Community Editor

It's been just more than a year since public safety buildings in the City and Woods were gifted with drug drop boxes — places for residents to dispose of unneeded or unwanted prescriptions.

The permanent boxes were purchased and donated to the community by Beaumont Hospital, Grosse Pointe. It was a long time coming, according to Anne Nearhood, executive director of the Beaumont Community Health Coalition.

While Macomb and Oakland counties have had regular drug-disposal programs for years, Wayne County struggled with it, she said. Three years ago, a partnership formed between the Beaumont Green Team and Grosse Pointe Public School System resulting in a one-day drug take-back day in the Woods and Park.

"Then a conversation started between the police and the (Beaumont) coalition," Nearhood said. "Now two boxes are permanent, in the City and in the Woods. They've had great success in filling the boxes quickly."

Beaumont approached public safety officials with the idea, which was well received.

"Everyone agreed it's a great opportunity," City Director of Public Safety Stephen Poloni said. "It's a service we could provide that's needed by the community. The box fills up faster than we expected."

of Public Safety Bruce Smith, "People are very eager to participate. By the end of the first week, the door wouldn't close. There's a big demand for it out there .... It's good to get unneeded, unwanted prescriptions out of the home."

Nearhood said 12 one-gallon bags of medications have been collected from the bins, which have been emptied four times.

"There's definitely a need," she said. "The chiefs in both communities said the citizens are really looking for this type of service."

Education-wise, Nearhood said most residents are aware of the dangers of flushing or throwing away prescriptions, where medications affect water quality and landfills.

"The education is there, but there was no

DHS hosts record-setting Society Ball

The 2015 Detroit sponsor.

Historical Society Ball became the first black-tie event to rock the historic Packard Plant Building 22 in Detroit. The society welcomed some 700 guests Dec. 5 who enjoyed a cocktail and hors d'oeuvres reception, seated dinner with live and silent auctions and an afterglow. In all, the evening raised a record-setting $507,000 to support exhibitions and educational programs at the Detroit Historical Museum and Dossin Great Lakes Museum.

2015 Society Ball co-chairwomen were Lisa Baruah of Grosse Pointe Park, Lena Epstein of Bloomfield Hills and Alicia Nicholson of Grosse Pointe Farms. Hour Detroit was a media

The society also recognized the support of presenting sponsors Mimi and Sandy McMillan of Grosse Pointe Farms. Not only is Sandy McMillan a generous supporter, but he also has served on the society's Board of Trustees more than 17 years and is immediate past president.

McMillan's family has strong historical ties to Detroit and the Packard Motor Car Company, which made the historic location on East Grand Boulevard the iconic symbol it is today. His great uncle, Phillip H. McMillan, was a founding investor in the company during its inception in 1902 and served on the place to put (unused medications)," she said. "We've filled that gap."

Drug & Laboratory Disposal Inc. is the outside vendor that not only collects the medications, but incinerates everything.

For confidentiality reasons, people are encouraged to put their pills in clear baggies and not drop their prescription bottles into the bins. However, the vendor does incinerate all contents, "so there's no way a patient's information can get out," Nearhood said.

The boxes are not for syringes, controlled substances or illegal drugs. If a resident needs to dispose of sharps or narcotics, they will be referred back to their primary care physician, Nearhood said.

New signs are being made for the bins, clarifying what is accepted and what is not. Poloni said he'd like that message to be clear.

"The only drawback is people putting things in the box they're not supposed to put in the box," Poloni said, "like certain prescriptions like Valium, Vicodin. Also toothpaste, deodorant and liquids .... We'll put up a new sign with instructions on what can and can't go in."

There are no permanent drug drop boxes in Detroit; this is the first set of boxes in Wayne County, Nearhood said.

"Prescription drug abuse is on the rise," Nearhood said, adding it's on level with underage drinking. "We're also seeing a rise in heroin use, which starts with prescription drugs. We're trying to address finding a gap in the community and providing more education.

"We're hoping we can add more resources to the community in regards to the disposal issue or if there's someone in the home having a hard time managing their own prescriptions or borrowing someone's prescriptions," she continued. "With prescription drugs, it's not always a rapid (decline). We want to get it as quickly as possible. We want to get the message to schools and the community."

Added Smith, "Some (medications) can have bad effects on people if they use them and they're not theirs. They may be expired medications or people using them that shouldn't. Some people might get the opportunity to sneak around an unwitting relative or friend and end up taking them.

"If you don't need it, get rid of it," he continued. "This is really a great service. People find they have all kinds of medications laying around. This way, they're properly disposed of."

Poloni agreed. "There's an environmental problem with the way things are disposed of and a lack of places to get rid of medications," Poloni said. "This helps the community get rid of things they didn't want anymore."

Poloni, who this month began serving as director in the Park as well as the City, said he'll discuss bringing the program to the Park.

"We're glad people can utilize it," he said. "Just pay attention to the sign about what can go in and what can't go in."

Charlene Marie Addy

Former Grosse Pointe Park resident Charlene Marie Addy passed away peacefully Wednesday, Jan. 6, 2016, at McLaren Macomb Hospital.

Born April 23, 1953, in Detroit, to Mary Louis "Sis" and Robert Addy, she attended St. Clare of Montefalco, Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic schools and Grosse Pointe South High School, where she performed in many theatrical productions. Charlene worked in fashion retail at Himelhoch's and Jacobson's in Grosse Pointe.

An "original" hippie from the late 1960s, she hung out locally on Plum Street as well as Haight-Ashbury in San Francisco. She was a backup singer for rock groups at the Grande Ballroom and Gar Wood Mansion in Detroit. In addition to her love of singing, music and animals, she enjoyed spending time with friends and family.

Charlene is survived by her son, Gary Lentz; sisters, Susan Trout (Harry), Cornelia "Dee" Steiman (Robert) and Mary Lynn Miller; brother, Robert (Karey) and many loving nieces, nephews and extended family.

She was predeceased by her parents and niece, Marian Frame.

A funeral Mass will be celebrated at 1 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 16, at St. Clare of Montefalco Catholic Church, 1401 Whittier, Grosse Pointe Park.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Capuchin Soup Kitchen, 1820 Mt. Elliott, Detroit, MI 48207

Alice Wardwell Haggarty

Alice Wardwell Haggarty, 72, passed away Wednesday, Jan. 6, 2016.

She was known throughout her life as "Thumper" because she prenatally thumped in her mother's womb while her father was fighting in Europe during World War II.

Thumper is survived by her loving husband, George; adoring children, George Jr. (Linda), Kirk (Michelle), Sarah MacPhail (Colin) and Laura Smith (Ryan); grandchildren, Caroline, Allison, Brooke, Lauren, Mikey, Taylor, Dylan, Margaux, Tommy, Colbyn, Lewis, Campbell and Alice; siblings, Suzanne Prescott (William), Sheldon Wardwell (Christine) and Jonathan Wardwell (Cyrenia) and many nieces and nephews.

She was predeceased by her parents, Alice and Jake Wardwell, and her brother, Jeffrey.

Her life was spent teaching and supporting her children and trying to mold her husband to be a better person. She volunteered at the Bon Secours Assistance League, Garden Club of Michigan and neighborhood dog obedience classes. She actively supported her children's schools and other community organizations, including leadership positions at Tau Beta and The Children's Home of Detroit. She was a friend to so many, always available to listen and offer her practical perspective to any situation.

In 2006, Thumper was diagnosed with Stage 3 non small cell lung cancer and offered minimal chance for survival, but she endured a rigorous protocol of chemotherapy and radiation which enabled her to continue her life and pursue new challenges of bridge and sudoku. In recent years, she continued to overcome many respiratory issues and share her life with her family and friends, as well as supporting community organizations, most notably the Capuchins and Racquet Up Detroit.

She will be deeply missed by those who knew her.

A memorial service will be held at 4 p.m. Friday, Feb. 5, at Christ Church Grosse Pointe, 61 Grosse Pointe Blvd., Grosse Pointe Farms.

Donations may be made to the Capuchin Soup Kitchen, 1820 Mt. Elliott, Detroit, MI 48207 or Racquet Up Detroit, P.O. Box 11404, Detroit, MI 48211.

Mark S. Hayduk

Mark S. Hayduk, 66, died Wednesday, Jan. 6, 2016.

He was the beloved husband of Sharon for 36 years; loving father of Matthew and Stephen and dear brother of Brent (Rayisa) and Don (Crystal). He also is survived by many loving relatives.

He was predeceased by his parents, William and Elaine Hayduk.

Mark graduated from the University of Michigan in 1971 and magna cum laude from the University of Detroit Law School 1974. He was a partner in the firm of Hayduk, Andrews & Brucker P.C.

Mark was active in the State Bar of Michigan, the American Bar Association, Association of Defense Trial Counsel and the Michigan Defense Trial Counsel. He was a member of the Detroit Athletic Club since 1975 and served as a member of the board of directors from 2003 to 2009, a member of the 25 Year Bowlers Club, past chairman of the Blackballers, past dividend chairman and on the squash committee.

Mark was a devoted fan of U of M football having attended almost every home game since 1967, when he enrolled as a student.

Mark lived a life of love, laughter and fun with his loving wife Sharon, sons and many friends. He was loved by those who knew him and will be deeply missed.

A memorial Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 16, at Old St. Mary's Catholic Church, 646 Monroe, Detroit.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the American Cancer Society at cancer.org or Capuchin Soup Kitchen at cskdetroit.org.

William Charles Osborn Jr.

William Charles Osborn Jr., 91, died Friday, Jan. 8, 2016.

He was born Nov. 14, 1924, in Detroit, to William and Mabel (nee Ohman) Osborn and graduated from Grosse Pointe High School in 1942. At age 18, he was drafted into the U.S. Army. He served in the 788th Anti-aircraft Battalion in France, Belgium and Germany. He was discharged at the rank of corporal in 1946. He was proud to receive the French Legion of Honor in later years.

Mr. Osborn graduated in 1949 from Wayne State University with a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration. From 1951 to the late 1970s, he was an appraiser and later president of Silloway and Co., a local industrial, commercial and residential real estate company.

After retirement, he served on various boards, including Hannan House in Detroit. He served faithfully as an usher at St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church, Grosse Pointe Farms, for more than 50 years.

A life long fisherman, his favorite fishing spots were Lake St. Clair and Drummond and Sanibel islands. He was a member of the Nomads Travel Club and especially enjoyed a visit to the Soviet Union and cruising the Rhine and Danube rivers with a special trip to the bridge at Remagen, one of his gun positions on the Rhine during the war.

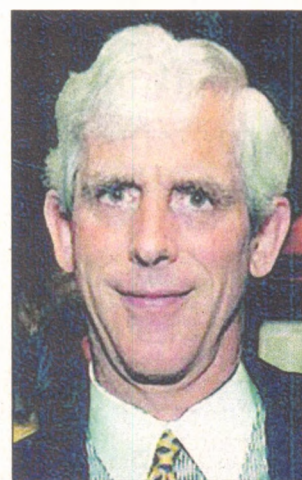

Mr. Osborn is survived by his wife of 68 years, Patricia Silloway Osborn; children, Leigh Strehler VanTiem (Stanley), Andrea Osborn Ogiony (Joe) and William C. Osborn III (Donna Campana); grandchildren, Steven Strehler (Mai), Jordan Strehler Rimkus (Dave), Nick, Alex and Jack Ogiony, William C. ## Mary Louise Henry

Mary Louise Henry, 76, of Dataw Island, S.C., died peacefully Friday, Dec. 25, 2015, in Beaufort Memorial Hospital with her husband, Walker, at her side.

Mary Louise was born Sept. 14, 1939, in Grosse Pointe to Dr. Timothy Francis Lynch and Mary Olive (nee Steiner) Lynch.

She was a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Dataw Island Club and Country Club of Detroit. She graduated from University of Detroit School of Dental Hygiene and was a practicing dental hygienist for 40 years. A lifelong resident of the various Grosse Pointes, Mary Lou and Walker moved to Dataw Island after retirement. Prior to being incapacitated by stroke, she was an avid golfer and gardener. She also loved volunteering and visiting the sick and elderly.

In addition to her husband, John Walker Henry, Mary Louise is survived by her sons, Michael Scanlon Henry (Ann) and Brendan Lynch Henry; sisters, Patricia Carroll Adams and Suzanne Lessing; and triplet grandchildren Evan, Joanna Louise and Ian Henry.

She was predeceased by her parents and brothers, Terrance and James Lynch.

A funeral Mass was celebrated Jan. 11 at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Beaufort, S.C.

Donations may be made to Friends of Caroline Hospice, 1110 13th Street, Port Royal, SC 29935.

Domingo Saglimbene

Domingo Saglimbene passed away Saturday, Jan. 9, 2016, one month before his 96th birthday, at the home he shared with his only child, Diana Tice, for the past four and a half years.

He was the beloved husband of Kathryn Graef Saglimbene, who predeceased him Aug. 17, 1997. They met when they were in the U.S. Army Medical Corps during World War II.

Domingo was an artist who began creating art when he was 6 and never stopped. In his studio, there is a painting that was still wet at the time of his death. He exhibited his art work at the Wayne County Artist Show, Detroit Institute of Arts, Provincetown Arts Festival (Provincetown, Mass.), and the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. He held one-man shows at the J. Walter Thompson Co. in New York City, the J.L. Hudson Company in Detroit, Le Galleries de Rene in Grosse Pointe Park and the Wright Gallery in Birmingham. He is listed in the Smithsonian Archives of American Art.

His daughter said Domingo loved humanity and seeing beyond its brokenness. He painted and sent forth the light he saw. An idealist, a man of the highest moral values, he wanted decency and justice to prevail and developed God's gift of artistic talent to that end. All the while he knew and told his daughter that no matter how beautiful or wonderful an artist's creation is, it can never equal the creation of God. His family and friends are grateful for his presence in their lives.

Billings Funeral Home of Elkhart, Ind., is handling arrangements.

John E. Reuter

John E. Reuter, 88, passed away Tuesday, Jan. 5, 2016.

He was the beloved husband of Mary, who predeceased him; dear father of Jill Weldy (Mark); proud grandfather of Courtney and Christopher Simon; step-grandfather of Brett and Lauren Weldy; loving brother of Elizabeth Bader and brother-in-law of Barbara Mitchell.

John started his career in funeral service at the Wm. R. Hamilton Company. He served in the U.S. Army as a ranger during the Korean War. He then joined the staff of Chas. Verheyden Funeral Homes. He subsequently became an owner of the funeral home and retired after 40 years of dedicated service.

A memorial Mass will be celebrated at noon Saturday, Jan. 16, at Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic Church, 467 Fairford, Grosse Pointe Woods. Visitation begins at 11:30 a.m. at the church. U.S. Army honors will follow the service.

Rosalind
Kalvelage

Grosse Pointe Woods resident Rosalind Kalvelage, 90, died Saturday, Jan. 2, 2016, in Independence, Mo.

She was born in Mount Clemens, to Guy and Edna LaBounty, and graduated in 1943 from Grosse Pointe High School. She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in clinical psychology from the University of Michigan in 1947. She later earned a master's degree in library science from Wayne State University.

Rosalind worked as a clinical social worker after graduation from U of M. She later worked as a reference librarian at the Grosse Pointe, Harper Woods and East Detroit public libraries.

Rosalind volunteered as a librarian at Dominican High School and in the gift shop at Bon Secours Nursing Home. She loved golfing, playing tennis and bridge, reading, completing "New York Times" crossword puzzles, traveling, knitting and opera. She dearly loved her family and friends.

She was a member of Lochmoor Club, the Alliance Française and a volunteer librarian and member of National Alliance on Mental Illness.

Rosalind was predeceased by her husband, Charles "Red" Kalvelage and son, Michael Kalvelage.

She is survived by her son, Douglas Kalvelage (Evie); daughters, Kay Watnick (Richard) and Ginny Kalvelage-Hirata (Greigh Hirata) and grandchildren, Katey Calpo (Ron), Caroline Watnick (Dan Fabbri), David Watnick, Emma Hirata and Elizabeth Hirata.

A memorial service will be held at a future date.

Donations may be made to the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, P.O. Box 4072, Pittsfield, MA 01202-9902 or at lls.org.

Michael Richard
Smith

Michael R. "Smitty" Smith, died peacefully Friday, Dec. 18, 2015, from complications associated with Myelofibrosis while a patient of the University of Michigan Health Systems in Ann Arbor.

Mike was born Aug. 3, 1957, in Saginaw, to Dick and Jane Smith and lived in Grosse Pointe Farms. Mike was a man of deep faith, strong athletic ability and vast interests which included cooking, gardening, tennis, golf, travel, the outdoors and the arts.

Mike attended the University of Arizona. He ran his own business and had an entrepreneurial spirit, however his greatest accomplishment was his devotion to God, family and friends. His sensitivity, kindness, generosity of spirit and good humor will be deeply missed.

Mike, beloved husband of Melissa and the late Julie (nee Cobane), is survived by his dearly loved son and daughter, Davis and Molly; sister, Kim Roshek and her husband, Robert; and his loving mother, Jane Hawkinson.

Mike's life celebration was held at Grace Community Church Dec. 28 and he will be placed to rest at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Grosse Pointe Farms.

In an effort to help other families and patients struggling with Myelofibrosis and other related blood cancers and syndromes, a fund has been established in Mike's name at U of M. Donations may be made to The Mike Smith Patient and Family Support Fund at victors.us/MikeSmith2015.

Barbara
Kittelberger
Wrigley

Barbara Kittelberger Wrigley, 96, died peacefully Wednesday, Dec. 23, 2015, in her Grosse Pointe home surrounded by family members.

She was a native Detroit born March 23, 1919, to George Kittelberger and Johanna Wellfonder. She attended Central High School in Detroit and studied English at UCLA. She married Robert Alexander "Al" Wrigley Nov. 18, 1945, and enjoyed a long and happy union with him until his death in 1998.

Mrs. Wrigley's first love was her family. She took great pride in her "perfect" children, grandchildren and great granddaughter.

A natural businesswoman, Mrs. Wrigley served more than 35 years as treasurer of the DETMAR Corporation, the family business she and her husband started in 1957 and endures to this day.

Mrs. Wrigley devoted a great deal of time and energy to improving the Detroit cultural scene and organizing the community in support of numerous charitable causes. As president of the Detroit Historical Commission, she helped organize events surrounding Detroit's bicentennial celebration in 1976 and led the efforts to renovate historic Ft. Wayne. She was an active trustee for many organizations, including the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Michigan Opera Theater, Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, Community Foundation for Southeast Michigan, United Foundation and Merrill-Palmer Institute. She was proud to have been one of the first women appointed to the board of the Detroit Economic Club.

With a team of volunteers, Mrs. Wrigley helped found the "Health-O-Rama" project in 1968. This community project provided free health screening tests for low-income Detroit residents who could not afford preventive health care. It continues to this day as Project Healthy Living.

Mrs. Wrigley is survived by her son, George; daughter-in-law, Dorothy (Jones); daughter, Pamela; granddaughters, Kendall Boisi (Paul) and Katherine Gorski (Brian) and great-granddaughter Grace.

In addition to her husband and parents, she was predeceased by her sisters, Alice, Marion and Jane.

The family wishes to thank Mrs. Wrigley's caregivers, Cathy, Marianne, Margaret, Tina, Darlene and Kathy for their physical aid, love and devotion to Mrs. Wrigley.

A private memorial service was held Jan. 7 at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Rotarians hear from international director

Rotarians from nearly a dozen District 6400 clubs turned out to hear Rotary International Director Jennifer Jones address the Dec. 14 luncheon meeting of Rotary of Grosse Pointe at the War Memorial.

"It's kind of like being on the board of directors of an extremely large global corporation," said Kim Towar, past district governor and past president of Grosse Pointe Rotary, while introducing the speaker. "To get a sense of the enormity, she is one of 17 directors on the Rotary International board. She represents the upper third of the United States and Canada."

A.M.; Pres. Joel Menardo, Grosse Pointe Sunrise; Pres. Kris Howell, Mount Clemens; Past Pres. John Prost of Detroit; Pres. Elect Julie Dragich, Windsor-Roseland, and her husband, Past Pres. Sam Dragich.

During her address, Jones invoked the memory of the late Apple founder Steve Jobs and his "I want to tell you three stories" commencement speech in 2005 at Stanford University. She spoke about the "branding" of Rotary and the work Rotary International is doing to rebrand. She also explained "who we are and what we do and why does it matter."

"We want young thinkers ... of any age," she said.

She pointed out that RI's research has shown four in 10 people never hear about Rotary, four in 10 may have heard something about Rotary and only two in 10 know about Rotary.

"For those of us who live and breathe Rotary, that is startling," Jones said. "The reality is that when we tell people stories about what we're doing, they want to join us."

Referring to the number of Rotarians worldwide, Jones said the power of Rotary is one times 1.2 billion.

"We're all about connectivity," she said. "That connectivity allows us to work together to accomplish things all over the world. If one Rotarian can change a community, then 1.2 billion can change the world .... We have our own community, but we have the ability to scale it up globally."

While Rotary continues to evolve to meet contemporary needs, Jones said,

"The one thing that hasn't changed and that we'll never change is our core values," which are service, diversity, integrity, fellowship and leadership.

PASTOR'S CORNER By the Rev. Jim Rizer

Not without hope

The death of a loved one is hard and the ripple effects from such a loss seem to impact everything. For many walking the road of grief, this past Christmas season was one to be survived rather than "the most wonderful time of the year." The dissonance between what Christmas should look like and how it actually looks through the eyes of our current heartache can prompt us to question the sincerity of our faith. We assume the "good news of great joy" that the savior is born should completely blot out our grief. One shared their wrestling, saying, "I must not really believe because I am so sad all the time."

However, this is not the picture we find in the Bible at all. "We do not grieve as those who have no hope" (1 Thessalonians 4:13). This verse acknowledges that grief is real, but not unfaithful. Grief is a natural, although painful, process that comes with any loss, particularly significant loss. Grief confirms the depth of the relationship and the way God has blessed us in the other. There is nothing unfaithful about grieving.

And yet God's word still beckons us to grieve as those who have hope. Hope that there is grace enough for today. Hope that Christ's power in us is strong enough to carry us through. Hope that Christ truly holds us in the palm of His hand and nothing — not life, not death, not the most intense moments of grief — can separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord. Hope that healing and wholeness will come. Hope that there is life beyond life through the resurrection.

There are days that hope seems so far away. Yet this verse continues to invite us to be open to hope and to be comforted in Christ. The road of faith is not without its challenges and grief, but we are not without hope.

Rizer is the pastor at Living Hope Evangelical Church. Living Hope hosts a grief group the first and third Mondays of each month at 6 p.m. at the Neighborhood Club. For information, visit LivingHopeEC.org.

Grosse Pointe Congregational Church hosts "In Our Family," a touring photo exhibit created by the Family Diversity Project, through Feb. 1.

This exhibit explores the diversity of non-traditional family structure through conveying the experiences of non-traditional families in their own words. "In Our Family" promotes tolerance by encouraging discussion of who constitutes a family and champions the understanding and acceptance of difference, a crucial aspect of anti-bullying work, by opening up a dialogue around the meaning of family.

The exhibit is a museum-quality traveling photo-text exhibit about 20 families representing a breadth of diversity and family configurations, including adoptive and foster families, divorced and step-families, single-parent households, multiracial families, families facing chronic illness and death, families living with mental and physical disabilities, lesbian- and gay-parented families, interfaith families, multigenerational households and immigrant families.

Designed for all ages, "In Our Family" challenges stereotypes and helps dismantle prejudice by celebrating and affirming differences of all kinds.

The exhibit is available to view in the church lounge 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Friday, as well as after Sunday services, around 11:15 a.m. All are welcome.

Grosse Pointe Congregational Church is located at 240 Chalfonte, Grosse Pointe Farms. Call (313) 884-3075.

Start 2016 right with Health and Wellness Expo

Join the Neighborhood Club and Beaumont Hospital, Grosse Pointe for a Health and Wellness Expo Saturday, Jan. 23, at the Neighborhood Club Recreation and Wellness Center in the City of Grosse Pointe.

Beaumont Health experts and Neighborhood Club fitness staff will be available to educate and motivate via health screenings, demonstrations and brief seminars from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Prizes, specialty booths, fresh-made smoothies, chair massage, yoga and fit pal classes, a kids table and more are featured.

Free and open to the public, the Jan. 23 Health and Wellness Expo is part of the 60 Days of Health initiative. Sponsors include the Neighborhood Club, Beaumont Health, Grosse Pointe Public Schools System, the Beaumont Community Health Coalition and Grosse Pointe Chamber of Commerce.

60 Days to Health activities

Beaumont HEALTHY POINTE

occur throughout the community in February and March. Offerings, designed for all ages and abilities, range from yoga and Zumba classes to healthy living tips and glow-in-the-dark fitness events.

"Our purpose is to build awareness that our community is packed with healthy living opportunities," said Rachel Beasley, Neighborhood Club marketing manager. "We want people to get active and encourage them to commit to healthier living in 2016."

Some events require registration and/or a nominal fee. A full calendar will be available Friday, Jan. 15 at the Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo, and online at neighborhoodclub.org.

The mission of the Beaumont Community Health Coalition is to enable the entire community to reach its potential by preventing disease and promoting wellness through prevention education and developing solutions for positive health based on the Beaumont Community Needs Assessment. ASK THE EXPERTS By Susan Radzilowski

Practical strategies for peaceful parenting

Q: I feel like all I do is yell at my kids without results. I'm not sure how to get them to listen to me otherwise. Can you help?

A: This is a common parental issue — and many parents would rather not yell all the time. There are ways to change. Learning to use positive discipline strategies when your child's behavior is a concern can help transform problem behaviors into teachable moments. Your child will learn improved problem solving and enhanced communication skills and self-regulation. He or she will begin to develop an age-appropriate ability to analyze situations and appropriately communicate their feelings and needs, as opposed to acting out.

A guiding principle of this framework is to remember all behavior has meaning and happens within a context. It is used for many purposes and not all of these purposes occur at the conscious level. The younger the child, the more likely behaviors are occurring at the preconscious level.

Two effective positive parenting strategies you can employ immediately are:

◆ Redirection: Children who hear "No!" or "Don't!" all the time tend to tune those directives out. Instead of those negative words, why not try to redirect your child by offering a positive behavior to replace the misbehavior? For instance, a child acting up at the grocery store could be asked to help pick out fruit or sort items in the grocery cart.

◆ The Broken Record: The parent responds to negative behavior with a simple and calm

A LA ANNIE

By Annie Rouleau-Scheriff

Healthy — and delicious — muffins from scratch

Here we go. Another new year and the annual resolution battle. We all have our own demons to deal with and eating smarter seems to affect more of us than not. I'm swearing off anything that starts in a box and starting my year with muffins made from scratch — seminary muffins. A combination of bananas, applesauce, oats and other goodies gives these tasty cakes the flavor and the benefits of a healthy snack.

Seminary Muffins

- 2 medium ripe bananas
- 1 egg
- 3/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup applesauce
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 cup quick-cooking steel-cut oats
- 3/4 cup chocolate chips
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Grease a 12-cup muffin tin and set aside. Preheat the oven to 350 degrees.

Mash the bananas in a medium bowl then combine with the egg, brown sugar, applesauce and vanilla.

In another medium bowl, sift the flour with the baking powder, cinnamon, salt and baking soda. Stir the flour mixture along with the oats into the banana mixture. Fold in the chocolate chips and the walnuts, then divide the batter into the 12 muffin cups. The cups will be full.

Bake for 20 minutes, until golden brown. Cool for a few minutes, then use a butter knife to loosen the muffins before removing them from the tin.

Store the muffins in the refrigerator or freezer.

I don't know where this recipe originated and I did alter the ingredients a bit. The steel-cut oats definitely added crunch to the texture.

Seminary muffins are good for you. Make a batch tomorrow morning. Your house will smell awesome and the kids will come running. They're a great start to the new year.

GYMNASTICS

Gymnasts win Fraser Invite

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

The Grosse Pointe United gymnastics team enjoyed a lot of success in winning the Fraser Invitational last weekend with 139.475 points.

Plymouth was a close second, earning 138.30, followed by Tecumseh with 131.500, Birmingham United with 126.775, Troy/Avondale with 119.300, Fraser with 106.250, Cass City with 106.250 and Vassar/Millington/Caro with 105.425.

Leading the way in the Division 1 portion was Isabelle Nguyen, who was first in all-around with 37.650 points and won every event, including the floor exercise with a new invitational record score of 9.7. It was her D1 all-around for a third year in a row.

In addition, Jen Gmeiner was second on bars, as well as fifth on vault, beam and floor. She was third place in the all-around competition with 34.775 points.

At Division 2, Michelle Ellis soared to a first-place all-around by winning the beam and floor exercise, plus third on vault and sixth on bars. She was also the D2 AA champ for a third straight year.

Emma Scott took third on the floor exercise, while Chandler McClarty was sixth on vault and floor and Elizabeth Byarski was ninth on vault.

Grosse Pointe's other competitors were Josie Bennett, Audrianna Boles, Maggie Bowers, Brenna Bromwell, Sydney Dugan, Emma Gentile, Kiyla Harris and Olivia Kenzie.

SWIMMING

Norsemen, Blue Devils post nice victories

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

The Grosse Pointe North boys' swimming and diving team returned from the holiday break to beat Livonia Franklin last week, improving to 2-1 overall.

Head coach Alison Scarfone watched her Norsemen earn 10 points in the first event, the 200-yard medley relay, and it was full gear from that point.

Winning the relay was the team of Joseph Cobau, Trevor Mieczkowski, John Cobau and Anthony Diamond with a time of 2:04.50 and the group of Michael Lemanske, Thomas Schaden, Paul Rakowicz and Joseph Hall finished third with a time of 2:08.38.

In the 200-yard freestyle, Joseph Cobau won with a time of 2:04.97, while Jonathon Stander and Tommy Hartzell placed third and fourth with times of 2:16.09 and 2:18.48, respectively.

The Norsemen also won the third event as John Cobau was first in the 200-yard individual medley with a time of 2:15.90. Rakowicz was third and Brian Veneri fourth to earn points with times of 2:34.50 and 2:35.50.

The boys swept the 50-yard freestyle, with Hunter Adelson, Ben Sliwinski and Lemanske taking first, second and third with times of 25.60, 26.16 and 27.58.

In the 100-yard butterfly, John Cobau won with a time of 1:02.31, while Veneri was third at 1:08.97 and Hartzell took fourth at 1:29.16.

The Norsemen continued their surge with a win in the 100-yard freestyle. Sam Stafford won with a time of 58.39. Also earning points were Adelson and Sliwinski, who finished second and third with times of 59.04 and 59.73.

In the 500-yard freestyle, Stafford finished second with a time of 6:04.91 and Stander took third at 6:16.04.

The Norsemen had two teams earn points in the 200-yard freestyle relay. The squad of Adelson, Stafford, John Cobau and Sliwinski won with a time of 1:50.95 and the foursome of Demetri Gritsas, Mieczkowski, Schaden and Hartzell placed second with a time of 2:00.70.

Joseph Cobau won the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:05.41, while Anthony Diamond and Lemanske took second and third with times of 1:07.09 and 1:14.96.

It was Mieczkowski winning the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 1:19.71. Colin Gudenau finished second and Schaden took fourth with times of 1:21.58 and 1:26.77.

The Norsemen finished off the victory by earning 10 points in the 400-yard freestyle relay. The team of Stafford, Adelson, Veneri and Joseph Cobau won with a time of 4:00.37 and the team of Lemanske, Paul Treder, Stander and Joseph Hall placed third with a time of 4:37.00.

South results

Grosse Pointe South boys' swimming and diving team returned from the holiday break without skipping a beat.

The host Blue Devils blasted Romeo 132-52 to improve to 1-0 in the Macomb Area Conference Red Division and 3-2 overall.

Head coach Eric Gunderson and the Blue Devils won a majority of the events, including the 200-yard medley relay team of Ethan Briggs, Jacob Montague, Matthew Melican and Patrick Waterston, which had a time of 1:41.58.

They swept the 200-yard freestyle with Nick Vallan, Cam Francis and Khalib Rahmaan posting times of 1:55.52, 1:57.85 and 2:02.30 and Montague was the winner in the 200-yard individual medley, posting a time of 1:56.88.

Sean Miller was second in the IM and Melican took third with times of 2:18.70 and 2:20.57 and in the 50-free style it was Waterston, Matthew Koueiter and Max Finazzo finishing second, third and fourth with times of 23.11, 24.29 and 25.90.

In the diving competition, Grady Eger was second and Nick Rabaut took fourth with 187.40 and 87.85 points, respectively, and Briggs and Francis placed first and second in the 100-yard butterfly with times of 56.43 and 57.94.

Vallan, Waterston and Thomas Jogan took second, third and fourth in the 100-yard freestyle, turning in times of 52.81, 54.09 and 54.44 and in the 500-yard freestyle, it was Montague winning by 48 seconds with a time of 4:43.15.

The Blue Devils won the 200-yard freestyle relay with Waterston, Spencer Rizer, Vallan and Francis posting a time of 1:37.84 and the trio of Briggs, Melican and Connor Mallegg finished first, second and third in the 100-yard backstroke with times of 57.36, 59.69 and 1:00.36.

Koueiter won the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 1:04.03. Teammates Jogan and Brendan Labadie took second and third with times of 1:06.91 and 1:13.71.

In the final event, the 400-yard freestyle relay, it was Francis, Briggs, Vallan and Montague winning with a time of 3:34.93.

GROSSE POINTE NORTH BOYS

North comes close

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

The Grosse Pointe North boys' basketball team came inches away from beating visiting Warren Mott last week.

The Norsemen, trailing 77-75 in the waning seconds, had a shot to win when senior Mitchell Zacharias drove into the lane and dished a pass to senior Andrew Bunch, who was open in the far corner.

His three-point attempt was on target, but hit too much of the rim and missed as the Norsemen went on to lose 79-75.

"What can we say," head coach Ron Kochan said. "We fought back from a double-digit deficit against a very athletic team and put ourselves in position to win the game."

"We have all the faith in the world in Andrew and his shot just missed. It was a look we wanted. That shot falls the next time he takes it."

The Norsemen trailed nearly the entire game. They fell behind 22-16 at the end of the first quarter and 44-37 at the half. They outscored the Marauders 23-19 in the third quarter to pull within three points, 63-60, with eight minutes left to play.

kets in a tight fourth quarter and in the final minute, a full-court press worked to perfection as steals by senior Jared Jordan led to layups from Zacharias to tie the game at 75 with 30 seconds left.

The Norsemen forced yet another turnover, No. 16 on the night for Mott, but they couldn't convert it into points. Mott junior Tyler Gillery put his team ahead for good with a basket and they added another layup at the buzzer to round out the scoring.

"This was a good game," Kochan said. "We faced some adversity, fought back and played hard. We still have work to do to become the team

I know we can become and this was a positive step toward that goal."

Zacharias finished with 29 points, followed by Jordan with 20, junior Steve Levick with 11 and Bunch with 10.

Earlier in the week, North hosted Warren Cousino and won 65-47 as Bunch led the way with 19 points.

"This was a complete game victory for us and it was an impressive effort," Kochan said.

Zacharias added 15 points, while Levick had 11, Jordan had seven and senior Ryan Reveley had six as Grosse Pointe North stands 3-3 heading into the Macomb Area Conference White Division schedule.

GROSSE POINTE NORTH GIRLS

Norsemen beat MAC foes, stay unbeaten

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

Grosse Pointe North girls' basketball team remained perfect after beating Chippewa Valley 55-35 and Sterling Heights Stevenson 69-47 last week.

In the Chippewa Valley game, the visiting Norsemen were led by Julia Ayrault, who had 15 points, six rebounds and three steals, while Erin Armbruster added 13 points, four rebounds and three steals.

Katie Snow had nine points, five rebounds and four assists as the Norsemen won their third straight road game. Lauren Lesha and Regan Sliwinski chipped in with six points apiece and Katelyn Carney added eight assists and three steals.

The Norsemen won another road contest against the Titans as Snow had the hot hand, scoring 26 points.

Armbruster had another double-digit game, netting 13 points and grabbing five rebounds and Ayrault had 12 points, six steals and four rebounds.

Carney had eight assists and Lesha chipped in with seven points, five assists and four rebounds.

Head coach Gary Bennett and North improved to 6-0 overall and now play 12 of their final 14 games against Macomb Area Conference Red Division foes Port Huron Northern, Macomb Dakota, Romeo, Warren Cousino, Grosse Pointe South and Utica Ford.

GROSSE POINTE SOUTH BOYS

Blue Devils drop two

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

The Grosse Pointe South boys' basketball team had a week to forget.

The Blue Devils lost 68-33 to visiting Canton and traveled to Port Huron Northern and lost 42-40 in overtime.

"We did not play well," head coach Troy Glasser said.

Canton hit 14 three-point shots and in the Macomb Area Conference Blue Division opener against Northern, the Blue Devils scored only four points in the fourth quarter and did not score in overtime.

Junior Zane Draper had 13 points and junior Michael Braker had 12 against Northern.

South is 0-1 in the MAC Blue and 4-2 overall.

LIGGETT GIRLS AND BOYS

Ladies win two, boys gain split

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

The University Liggett girls' basketball team improved to 2-0 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference early last week, but it wasn't a picture perfect script.

The host Knights beat Lutheran Northwest 36-29. It was one of the Knights' lowest offensive outputs of the season.

Head coach Omar Ahart let out a sigh of relief when the final horn sounded because his Knights escaped the upset.

Junior Nia Ahart scored 14 points and grabbed seven rebounds, while junior Jasmine Dickens had her best game as a varsity player, netting four points, seven rebounds and five blocks.

Senior Madison Jerome had six points, while senior Kendall McConico had seven points. Senior Anna Majewski finished with four points and senior Kira Borum had only one point, but grabbed seven rebounds.

Later in the week, Liggett traveled to Novi Franklin Road Christian and won 49-38, despite playing without injured starters McConico and Majewski.

"The girls played hard and won despite being shorthanded on the bench," Omar Ahart said.

Nia Ahart was on fire, scoring 34 points, grabbing 10 rebounds and dishing out five assists as Liggett improved to 3-0 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference and 7-3 overall.

Boys results

University Liggett senior Spencer Ewing is in a scoring zone and last week had 27 points in a 86-51 home loss to Southfield Christian.

Ewing is one of the top scorers in the state at this point of the season. He had 10 points in the opening quarter, followed by four, four and nine in the final three quarters to round out his night.

Head coach Sidney Johnson knew his Knights were up against one of the top-ranked teams in Class D.

The Knights played well in the first quarter, trailing 20-14, but a 20-11 second quarter and 26-6 third quarter put the home team in too big a hole to climb out of.

Seniors Thomas Jackson and Alexander Bowman had eight and seven points, respectively.

Liggett looked to rebound three nights later and it did as it posted its first league victory, beating host Novi Franklin Road Christian 48-44.

Ewing had 17 points and sophomore Anthony George added 11 as Liggett improved to 1-2 in the MIAC and 3-4 overall.

GROSSE POINTE SOUTH GIRLS

Blue Devils beat PHN

Head coach Kevin Richards was looking for a spark and he might have found it after his Grosse Pointe South girls' basketball team beat host Port Huron Northern 71-51 last weekend.

Close defeats and mistakes dominated the non-league schedule leading up to the new year.

Hard practices and a few changes helped.

The Huskies cut the deficit to 43-42 in the fourth quarter, but the Blue Devils used a 13-2 run to push the lead back to double digits and walk away with a Macomb Area Conference Red Division victory.

Junior Sayanna Roy led the way with 29 points, followed by senior Anna Carmody with 13.

Grosse Pointe South is 1-0 in the MAC Red Division and 3-4 overall.

Hockey

RIVALS

Knights beat GPN

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

City rivals University Liggett and Grosse Pointe North girls' hockey teams battled last week at McCann Ice Arena with the host school posting the 5-0 shutout.

"I gave the girls a lot of time off during the break and I like to do that every year," Liggett head coach Cassie Jaeckle said. "They looked good today and came out strong. We emphasize team and it was a team effort tonight. "We know we will get a good battle from North and we did tonight."

The Knights scored at the 10:30 mark of the opening period when senior Allison Stapleton lit the lamp, assisted by junior Kara Francis.

The Knights then scored twice in an 8-second span midway through the first period.

Stapleton scored on the power play at the 8:34 mark and Francis tallied at the 8:26 mark. Senior Grace Scarfone and sophomore Katie Zinn assisted on the power-play goal, while Stapleton had the lone assist on the Francis goal.

In the second period, junior Emma Shell scored, with sophomore Olivia Yates drawing an assist.

The Norsemen came out strong in the third period and had several good scoring chances, but senior goalie Olivia Portillo made the saves to preserve the shutout.

Portillo also had an assist on the Knights' final goal, a tally from senior Molly Murphy 51 seconds into the third period.

In other games last week, Liggett beat host Livonia Ladywood 3-1.

Francis had two goals and junior Katie Fruehauf had one.

Liggett improved to 6-0-1 in the Michigan Metro Girls High School Hockey League and 8-2-1 overall.

North played two other games last week, losing 5-1 to Farmington Hills

Mercy and beating Walled Lake 4-3.

"We really needed this win tonight after not playing with much energy in our previous games," North head coach Joe Lucchese said. "The girls battled back and got into a good rhythm, especially in the third period."

Senior Elizabeth Gallagher scored the winning goal on the power play with only 47.4 left in the third period.

Walled Lake sophomore Julia Barrett was on fire, notching a hat trick and dominating the game from her defensive position on the ice. The Wild had a 3-2 lead entering the final period.

Sophomore Kylee Banaszewski and senior Caroline Bock scored the Norsemen's first two goals.

Banaszewski scored again to tie the game at the 10:20 mark of the final stanza and Gallagher's tally won it.

North is 4-3 in the league and 6-6 overall.

Victorious

Grosse Pointe South junior Jack Flynn, No. 17, scored a goal in the Blue Devils' 3-1 league win over Saline last weekend. Other goal scorers were juniors Adam Cervone and Michael French. Senior Mac Cimmarrusti and freshman Garrett Benoit each had two assists and junior John Jordan earned the win between the pipes. Grosse Pointe South improved to 7-1-1 in the Michigan Metro Hockey League and 9-2-1 overall.

GROSSE POINTE SOUTH GIRLS

Blue Devils beat CK

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

The Grosse Pointe South girls' hockey team posted a big 3-1 road win against Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook-Kingswood last weekend.

After spending a majority of the first period in the penalty box and playing a scoreless second period, the Blue Devils found their rhythm and blew past the Cranes with two third-period tallies.

"We didn't play very well in the first or second period, spending too much time in the penalty box and standing around, watching the play," head coach Joe Provenzano said. "The girls played a great third period, moving the puck and playing as a team. It was a nice win and something we can build on."

Sophomore Lauren Kramer scored in the first period and the Cranes tallied on a 5-3 power play.

Neither team scored in the second period, but in the final stanza it was Kramer scoring again and junior Shannon McKenna lighting the lamp for an insurance goal.

Adding assists were sophomore Erin Brannagan, senior Gennie Martin and freshman Alyssa Czech.

Senior Bella Strickler

played well in net yet again.

"Bella has worked hard with coach (Trevor) Sattlemeier to improve her goaltending," Provenzano said. "She isn't giving up rebounds in front of the net and playing well."

Earlier in the week, South beat host Plymouth-Canton-Salem 4-1 as Strickler earned another win in net.

Offensively, Kramer and Brannagan, as well as sophomores Solana Bryson and Maria DiCresce scored goals.

Grosse Pointe South improved to 4-1 in the Michigan Metro Girls High School Hockey League and 6-1 overall.

GROSSE POINTE NORTH BOYS

Norsemen beat Ike

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

Senior Adrian Quinlan scored two goals to help Grosse Pointe North boys' hockey team win its first game of the season last week, beating Utica Eisenhower 4-3 at Fraser Ice Arena.

"Everyone bought into our system and tonight we had good fore-checking, cycling, defense and goaltending," head coach Mike Maltese said. "We needed this win and the boys played well tonight."

The Norsemen led 1-0 on Quinlan's first goal before senior J.P. Navetta tallied midway through the second period to make it a 2-0 game.

Eisenhower scored less than a minute later and the Norsemen skated to a 2-1 lead after two periods.

Sophomore Austin Albrecht scored to give the Norsemen a 3-1 lead, but once again the Eagles came back to cut the deficit to a goal.

Quinlan scored his second goal of the game to give the home team some breathing room and with 8.8 seconds left, the Eagles tallied to round out the scoring.

The Norsemen could have scored a couple of more goals, thanks to their offense.

North traveled seven hours up I-75 to play Sault Ste. Marie and Alpena.

The Norsemen played well enough to win both games, but lost both 3-2 to fall to 1-10 overall.

Against the Soo, seniors Brendan Nelson and Michael Keelan scored goals, and in the Alpena contest, Nelson and senior C.J. Ramsdell scored goals.

LIGGETT BOYS

Knights beat Tars

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

Sophomore Nathan Alcantara earned his first career start in net last weekend and led the University Liggett boys' hockey team to a 5-1 home win over Anchor Bay.

"I was a little nervous earlier in the day after coach texted me and told me I was the starter tonight," Alcantara said. "But once I got to the rink and got ready, I calmed down and focused on playing well."

He played a great game, stopping 16-of-17 shots to help the Knights win their third straight.

"Nate was sound in net tonight and played a good game to help us win," head coach Mike

Hamilton said.

Senior Brett Abdelnour had a hat trick and an assist, while junior Jared Pangborn and sophomore Santo Scarfone also scored goals.

Drawing assists were Pangborn, sophomores Spencer Stefani, Sean Detloff, Mason Campau and Dylan Paulsell.

Liggett improved to 8-5-1 overall.

Wrestling

GROSSE POINTE SOUTH

Six earn medals

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

The Grosse Pointe North wrestling team hosted its annual Norsemen Classic last weekend, with city rival Grosse Pointe South in attendance.

The Blue Devils finished 3-2 as five grapplers won a gold medal by winning all five matches.

The wrestlers were Jonah Cunningham at 103 pounds, Jon Gough at 189 pounds, Joe Kurta at 160 pounds, Tyler Thompson at 125 pounds and Patrick Nauert at 275 pounds.

Luke Davey, competing at the 215-pound class, won a silver medal with his 4-1 mark.

Co-coaches Tony Cimmarrusti and Patrick Salazar were encouraged with the results as they prepare for the next phase of the season, the Macomb Area Conference Bronze Division slate.

Google Classroom meets Google Cardboard

By Mary Anne Brush
Staff Writer

Trombly Elementary School was one of a few Michigan schools selected to beta test a new Google product called Google Expeditions. University Liggett School also took part in the testing.

Google took Trombly students from grades 2 through 5 on virtual field trips Tuesday, Dec. 15.

"I thought Google Expeditions was an amazing opportunity for our students," wrote second-grade teacher Courtney Dykstra in an e-mail. "It provided an incredible level of engagement as we were able to virtually travel all over the world. The ability in the program for the teacher to direct the students' attention and highlight certain features was perfect. My students loved participating and wished they could have done more."

Expeditions is a new product allowing teachers to take classes on virtual field trips, immersing students in experiences that bring abstract concepts to life and giving them a deeper understanding of the world beyond the classroom.

Teachers are given a tablet for their own use while students receive cardboard viewers and phones. The teacher selects the destination and the entire classroom jumps on board for the journey.

The cardboard viewer is both low tech and high tech, according to fourth-grade teacher Susan Howey, who brought the program to the school.

"It's the next version of the View-Master," Howey said. While the classic toy was introduced in 1939 at the New York World's Fair as a souvenir, the modern-day version introduced by Google is a virtual reality viewer made for educational purposes. It is constructed almost entirely of cardboard, allowing anyone with a modern smartphone to experience virtual reality. Google projects there will be more than 2 million in circulation by the end of the year.

The possibilities are limitless, Howey said.

Teachers can take students on a journey to experience a lunar landing or a zebra migration.

Science classes can explore the world around them in 360-degree panoramas with 3D images, video and ambient sounds.

Students can rocket through space or plumb the depths of the ocean.

Howey took her students to a number of destinations, including an extinct volcano in Santorini, Greece, the Pyramids in Egypt, the London Eye in London and the Great Barrier Reef in Australia.

"Look up and you see the sky," Howey said of the class's trip to Greece. "Look behind you and you see the donkey. I can tap on the donkey and make it a target. Then the teacher gives facts about the particular target."

Text for Howey to read — making her an expert on any subject being explored — is available at the click of a finger.

"The resources are already there," Howey said. Possibilities for integrating trips into the curriculum are limited only by what excursions are available. Currently there are 100.

If the class's attention is diverted, the teacher has the power to control the field trip on the tablet, clicking on pause so the viewers go dark.

Howey, who discovered the opportunity through a shared link on Twitter, stressed the importance of being a connected educator.

"That's what I love about Twitter," she said. "You don't know about opportunities and what's out there unless you're connected."

While Howey is unsure of Google's timeline to roll out the product and make it available to districts, she said participating schools were asked for feedback.

"Is this something I think the teachers here would support getting? I think yes," Howey said.

Third-graders wrote about the experience in their daily journals.

"It was like being a mermaid," wrote one of a field trip underwater in the coral reef.

"Google Virtual Field Trip is the coolest thing ever because you can visit everywhere even the Pyramids of Egypt," wrote another.

"The engagement was just so high," Howey said. "Every class when you begin the field trip, the kids were all like, 'Whoa!'"

"That was the quote of the day: 'Whoa!'"

North teacher invited to seminar Tours offered

Daniel Quinn, an economics teacher at Grosse Pointe North High School, has been invited to participate in the 36th annual David L. Clark National Graduate Student Research Seminar in K-12 Educational Administration and Policy in Washington, D.C., April 2016. The Clark seminar is sponsored by the University Council for Educational Administration, Divisions A and L of the American Educational Research Association and SAGE Publications. The seminar brings together emerging K-12 educational leadership and policy scholars with noted researchers for two days of presentations, generative discussion and professional growth. The selection was competitive with nearly 90 doctoral students nominated from universities in the United States and Canada.

Quinn is a Ph.D. student in the Department of Organizational Leadership at Oakland University and executive director of the Great Lakes Center for Education Research and Practice.

The Grosse Pointe Public School System offers personalized tours of school buildings throughout the school year.

"We believe that by spending quality time with parents, we can better address specific questions and show the depth of opportunities provided through our vast curriculum and extracurricular offerings," said Rebecca Fannon, community relations specialist.

To schedule a tour, call the school principal, the Central Office at (313) 432-3007 or fill out the online form at gpschools.org and click on "Talk to Us."
