The bird that's been 'storking' around ever since A.A.A.A. (Adam ate an apple) is flapping his wings over Grosse Pointe.

A few weeks ago, a Grosse Pointe homestead was ransacked by a burglar, during the absence of the owner and his 'man Friday'.

The newspapers are always so inked up with murders, that it's given us an idea—a phenomenon in itself!

And so, we wish you all a couple of Happy Thanksgivings.

GIRL Scouts

All troop leaders and assistant leaders and brown owls and tawny owls are expected to attend the leaders' luncheon meeting at 12 noon at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on Tuesday, Nov. 21.

Any adult scouts in Grosse Pointe are cordially invited to attend these meetings at any time, and are asked to call Mrs. Innes if they plan to do so.

Due to the kindness of Mr. F. Harold Titus, the Grosse Pointe Scouts will have a window display in his new drug store at the corner of Kercheval and Fisher Roads, during the week of Nov. 13. Watch for it.

The window displays this year will be under the direction of Mrs. H. D. Wilson, of Lincoln Road. Any scouts who would like to do poster work for these displays will please contact Mrs. Wilson.

Girl Scouts is a Community Fund Agency, and anything which you feel you can give to the Community Fund will help the Scouts as well as the other 79 agencies they support.

Troop 129 met Monday, Oct. 30, at Christ Church. Seven Brownies "flew up." Their names are as follows: Alda Marie Crowe, Martha Johnson, Jennie Buel Quirk, Anne Will, Virginia Stoddard, Joan Mulford and Sally Frost.

The Brownies sang two songs, "The Brownie Song" and "The Brownies' Smile Song." The Girl Scouts sang two songs too, "Over the Rainbow" and "A Lullaby." After that they had refreshments, which were apple cider and cookies. Everyone had a very nice time.

Troop 131 met as regular in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. A Halloween party took place instead of the regular meeting. Most of the girls brought guests. The refreshment committee served many good things to eat and the entertainment committee conducted the games.

The sixth meeting of troop 180 was held on Oct. 23. We again held our formal opening and then advanced to patrol corners. While one patrol discussed plans for a Halloween party, the others took dues and attendance.

On Saturday, Oct. 21, 1939, Troop 124 went on a bicycle trip to Puddle woods which is 20 miles round trip. They met in front of Trombly School at 10:30 in the morning. Each girl brought a note of permission from her mother.

Troop 129 met Monday, October 23, at Christ Church.

The patrol leaders and scribe are as follows: Patrol leaders, Mary Jane Sheaffer and Sally Thomas; Scribe, Paula Johnson; Scout leader, Mrs. William Innis; assistant, Miss Sloane.

Troop 131 held their regular meeting on October 24. They made plans for the Halloween party which they are having next week.

Troop 131 held their regular meeting on October 24. They made plans for the Halloween party which they are having next week. Doughnuts, candy corn, cider and cookies are to be the refreshments.

Lois Millette was in charge of the troop, as illness kept the troop leader, Mrs. George True, from being present.

The Senior Girl Scout Troop 138 have been studying interior decoration this fall. They are looking for a small building, a room over a garage, or similar spot which they could decorate themselves and use for their weekly meetings.

On Oct. 30 Troop 180 held its seventh meeting. We celebrated Hallowe'en with a party given by the senior patrol. They came in on Saturday and planned the games. Miss Taylor and her mother helped a great deal toward the party which was appreciated greatly by the scouts.

Grosse Pointe Schools Included in Annual International Program

Friday afternoon, November 17, has been set as the date for the Fifth Annual International Festival Program for the school children of Southeast Detroit and Grosse Pointe.

Each year the children have prepared a project which has been sent directly to chosen foreign countries. Last year the children prepared greetings to six Balkan countries and sent the phonograph record on which the greetings were recorded to the children of these foreign lands.

This year the boys and girls in 20 elementary schools in the district are preparing a commemorative stamp project to be presented at the annual program at Hannan Y.M.C.A. An interesting program of sound movies of travel, the New York's World Fair, adventure and comedy will be featured.

These programs are held each year to encourage more friendly attitude and a more sympathetic understanding of our foreign neighbors.

Pierce P. T. A.

At the first organizational meeting of the Pierce Parent-Teacher Association on October 26 officers were elected. Mr. Ralph G. Sickness was chosen president; Mrs. H. W. Kerr, vice-president; Mrs. Russell Harkness, secretary, and Mr. John Thomas, treasurer.

Suggestions were advanced for greater adult utilization of Grosse Pointe School facilities.

Dr. E. R. Van Kleeck, superintendent of schools, spoke of the adult education movement in Shorewood, suburb of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He promised active support from school administrators in the projected program of the newest Parent-Teacher organization in Grosse Pointe.

The Bears won their first game of the season when they defeated the second place Wildcats 20-14, in what proved to be a thriller up until the final whistle.

Trailing 14-0 at the end of the first quarter, the Wildcat eleven made a desperate fight to obtain victory and knotted the count at 14 all with just 3 minutes left to play.

This same Wildcat team came back two days later to defeat the league-leading Cards by the exciting score of 21-19.

The Jr. Lions met their stiffest opposition of the season thus far when they subdued a hard-blocking and fighting Red Wing eleven 26-20.

Creed of the Late King George V. The creed of the late King George V of England was as follows: "1. Teach me to obey the rules of the game. 2. Teach me never to cry for the moon; never to cry over spilled milk. 3. Teach me to win if I can; if I cannot, teach me to be a good loser. 4. Teach me to distinguish between sentiment and sentimentality; to esteem the first and despise the second. 5. Teach me never to accept and never to offer false praise. 6. Finally, if I must suffer, may it be like a thoroughbred that goes away by himself in order to suffer in silence."

Sponsors Poster Contest
Louisa St. Clair Chapter

A poster contest on the subject of Conservation of Natural and Animal Resources of the State of Michigan is being sponsored by the Louisa St.
Clair Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The subjects pertinent to the project are: Soil Erosion, Stream Pollution, Weeds and Shrubbery, Forest Fires, Flowers, Birds and Fish.

Mabel Arbuckle, Supervisor of Art for the Detroit Public Schools, is directing the contest which will be conducted in grades seven through 12, in intermediate, technical and comprehensive high schools, with prizes to be awarded.

A list of slogans, prepared by the Educational Division of the Department of Conservation at Lansing, has been sent to each school. These slogans may be used by the students in whole or in part, or may suggest other ideas to them. The contest will close on Friday, November tenth. On Monday, November thirteenth, the posters will be judged for their aesthetic and commercial value. Mrs. Paul Hale Bruske, Regent of the Louisa St. Clair Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and Mrs. Basil L. Connelly, Chairman of the Conservation Department of the Chapter, will assist with the judging and awarding of the prizes.

The posters will be on exhibition on Thursday, December fourteenth at Newberry House, Jefferson Avenue, and may be viewed by the public.

Insulin Discovery
Insulin was discovered by two Canadian physicians, Drs. Frederick G. Banting and J. J. R. McLeod, but the greater share of the credit has been given to Dr. Banting. At the time the discovery was announced in 1922 Dr. Banting held the office of resident surgeon of the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto.
The insulin treatment had been used under the supervision of its discoverers for a while before it was announced, but its general use dates from 1922.

Arkansas Pioneers Used
Cabin Door for Sundial

Antique clocks are rarely included in the furnishings owned by old residents in the northern Arkansas hills. The pioneers could waste no covered wagon space on things not absolutely essential for hewing down timber, constructing cabins and tilling the land. Homemade devices for telling time have given rise to a picturesque phraseology.
The true mountaineer tells time by the sun. Some of them are accurate to the minute.

A hillman will refer to time as "an hour before sun-up," "an hour before sun-down," "straight-up by the sun," "moon-rise time," "an hour by th' sun." In some of the old-time cabins there were "sun-marks" on the floor. When the house was built a mark would be placed where the sun shone through the open door at noon. The housewives timed their cooking by the lengthening streak of sunshine.
There was a sort of primitive satisfaction in living and working by the sun. Many men who now possess watches prefer to tell time by the sun.

Other old hill people used the punchoon boards—logs split in two and the flat side used as the floor—to tell time. In one section of Arkansas the phrase "punchoon time" still is used. Most of the punchoons were approximately the same width, and the lengthening of sunshine or shadow on them was counted by punchoons, which usually approximated one hour. Thus "a punchoon until noon" would be 11 o'clock, and "a punchoon after noon, straight up and down," would be one o'clock.

It is said that when the first sawmill was erected at Fayetteville, Ark., the customers demanded that the "timber floorin'" they purchased be the exact width of the old-time punchoons, so that they could still live by "punchoon time."

Modern Swedish Ensemble for the Young Hopefuls

In contrast with the past, when only wealthy families could afford special furniture for the nursery and less fortunate children inherited hand-me-downs from adult bedrooms, is the present practice of using juvenile furniture for the coming generation. Moderately well-off families now are buying ensembles like this Swedish modern suite for their hopefuls.

Courtesy

HOW one appreciates courtesy!
It may be expressed in one's opening of a door, in a smiling "Thank you," in the gracious doing of a commonplace duty, or in listening with interest to another's views. Courtesy includes deference and respectfulness. Yet, is there not something more than deference and respect involved in genuine courtesy? Indeed there is. It is love for mankind. Henry Drummond has spoken of courtesy as "love in little things."

If one truly loves, does he not express that love in even his least contact with others—in thoughtfulness for others, in deeds of kindness, in little helpful acts, all of which constitute what we are pleased to call courtesy?

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, in her "Miscellaneous Writings," says (p. 250): "Love is not something put upon a shelf, to be taken down on rare occasions, with sugar-tongs and laid on a rose-leaf. I make strong demands on love, call for active witnesses to prove it, and noble sacrifices and grand achievements as its results." And she also says, "As a human quality, the glorious significance of affection is more than words: it is the tender, unselfish deed done in secret; the silent, ceaseless prayer; the self-forgetful heart that overflows."

The Apostle Peter admonished thus (1 Peter 3:8, 9): "Be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous; not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing; but contrariwise blessing."

The dictionary defines "courtesy," in part, as "an act of kindness, or favor performed with politeness." But what, then, is the source of inherent kindness and considerate-ness?

The real man is not the mortal, so-called man, who may or may not be kind. The man of God's creating is His own image and likeness, as stated in Genesis. And since God is Love, man is the forever expression of Love; hence love and kindness are inherent qualities of the real man.

But one may ask, Why do some persons appear to express much of love, while others seem almost devoid of it, and at times may be even discourteous and disagreeable? May not the logical explanation be that some are allowing man's true being —Love's reflection—to find expression through their thinking and living; while others may have their thoughts so filled with a false sense of evil as real that love and goodness are not manifested through their thinking or living?

True courtesy expresses love. And loving consideration expressed to another arouses a kindred response from that one. The writer witnessed an example of this in a crowded treacher one evening. Two women were standing in the aisle when a seat was vacated. The one who was obviously a worker made no attempt to take the seat, evidently expecting the other to do so. But instead, noting the tilt of the bag of the domestic servant, the other asked, "Have you been working all day?" To which there was a meek, "Yes, ma'am."
"Then you take the seat," was the response. Soon the other was also seated, and when the worker arose to leave the car, she bestowed a most gracious and appreciative smile upon her courteous benefactor.

Is not the test of true culture, which must include courtesy, found in the respect with which one treats others?

All of God's children express equally His infinite love. Hence God loves all, and forever expresses through men His universal goodness and love. All men are in reality the children of God, subject to His love and care. When this is comprehended, one is enabled to look through and beyond the false sense of personality, differences in social standing, education, and race, and to see and love the man of God's creation.

Such a one will always be found manifesting loving thoughtfulness, consideration, and kindness to all, even in the least of human affairs—in that expression of true culture which is known as courtesy. And need we add that he who includes all in his bestowal of courtesy has glimpsed the love which characterizes the real man, who reflects and expresses God, divine, impartial itor.

Dwelling Comfort

Considerable work has been done toward the establishment of the correct degree of humidity for dwellings. There is a so-called comfort zone, which has a maximum temperature of 70 degrees Fahrenheit and a minimum humidity of 30 per cent; a minimum temperature of 55 to 60 degrees Fahrenheit, and a maximum humidity of 55 per cent.
This is the range which has been established as being most agreeable to people living in temperate climates.

Barne—She Shall Have Music "A delightful story of the casual, unmusical family to which Karan belonged, and of her struggles to ex-

A vivid romance of the American revolution. Of interest to older boys and girls.

Practical book for readers of all ages who are interested in camping and pioneer crafts.

With a lively story and interesting illustrations Mrs. De Angeli has brought alive the quaint colorful period of the Mennonite settlers in Pennsylvania about 1750.

Christian Science Church

"Soul and Body" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 19, 1939. The Golden Text (I Cor. 6:19) is: "What? Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God; and ye are not your own?" Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matt. 6:25): "Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?"

Trombly School Notes

Defer and Trombly Schools in Grosse Pointe, together with 18 Detroit, will participate in the Fifth Annual International Festival program for school children to be held Friday afternoon, November 17th at Hannan Y. M. C. A.

According to Alvin R. Deiss, Boy's Work Secretary, this special program is for the purpose of developing a more sympathetic, tolerant, appreciative and understanding attitude towards peoples of foreign lands. Six to eight hundred school children annually attend the Festival.

Each year the children have prepared a project which has been sent directly to chosen foreign countries. Last year greetings to six Balkan Countries were recorded on phonograph records and mailed to the school children of those countries. This year a commemorative stamp project has been instituted in the Grosse Pointe and Southeast Detroit schools. Booklets of these stamps with descriptive materials are to be mailed to school children in 16 foreign countries. An interesting program of sound movies of travel, the New York's World Fair, adventure and comedy will be featured. Folk dancers from the studios of J. J. Jalmuszinski will be an attractive part of the program.

The Festival will culminate on Saturday night with the big International Dinner, which is to be held in the main gymnasium. The dinner is open to the public and this year more than 20 dinner reservations are expected. Mr. Charles E. Hurrey of New York City will be the principal speaker. Professor Nelson, of the University of Michigan and 22 graduate foreign students representing 19 different countries will be guests of honor at the dinner.

Dinner Reservations may be made by telephone. LEnox 7200.
