HEADLINES of the WEEK

As compiled by the
Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, July 1
Yesterday's time of his greatest career, coins the reputation of British Empire as "the British Empire" for the British nation which embraces one-fourth of the earth's population and the safety, peace and progress of the postwar world depend primarily upon a strong, stable and united agreement between the United States and Great Britain—still inside upon "unconditional surrender" of the Axis countries, which must be imposed on themselves on the early terms and mercy of the Allies and mercy of the Allies.

Friday, July 2
Eight hours before the time set for the execution, President Roosevelt commutes sentence to life imprisonment for the convicted murderer and Nazi spy, Edward G. Bremer, who had been sentenced to hang for the murder of a Chicago banker.

Saturday, July 3

Sunday, July 4
The annual school census for Grosse Pointe will be finished by the end of this month, and for these clerks will be completed the census of men in the Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard from the Pointe.

BREAK 34 WINDOWS
Farmers police are searching for the vandals who broke 34 large windows in the first floor of the Gabriel Richard School building last Friday night after the rain also reported there was one large window broken on the second floor.

Monday, July 5
A height-cracking glider crashed across the Atlantic, 3,000 miles from Montreal to England, opening great new possibilities for air transport.

Another Transportation Problem

The badly wrecked car in the top picture will be little use to spare riders or anyone else for some time, if at all. With materials and labor so hard to obtain, accidents such as this are a definite hindrance to the war effort. Three persons were injured in this accident, which was caused by carelessness, at Charlevoix and Yorkshire Saturday afternoon.

Vast Amount of Grass Cut From Pointe's Vacant Lots Is Being Wilfully Wasted

Investigation Shows Tons of Potential Cattle Feed Is Being Dumped to Rot; Farmers Termed Uninterested

The query has arisen in several quarters about the Pointe area recently as to what disposition was being made of the vast amount of grass that was being cut hereabouts from the neglected yards and vacant lots and what was being done with it. It is being done with it further than to gather it up in city trucks and dump it into the garbage piles.

A large percentage of the grass cut in this neighborhood is good live stock food with a comparatively small percentage of weeds. In the year of save and salvage it is little short of criminal to see this great quantity of potential animal food wilfully wasted.

Manager Lane of the Park said that he was aware of the waste and had contacted farmers to see what might be done about it, but to no avail. He said that a moving van can be gathered up here in an hour or so, and hay for milk and meat would seem to be a worthy object for consideration during this time of food need.

Last Saturday noon Mrs. De Rosa, of 512 Pennington, reported to the Park police that a man had just come to her house stating that Mr. DeRose had sent him there to sinimize his car. Mrs. DeRose was out of town she thought the matter extremely suspicious, as she had heard her husband say nothing about the sinimizing job. She saw him coming to other doors in the neighborhood and called the police. Officers Stinson and Van Dyke, on duty at the scene, told the man had vanished, nor could he be located anywhere in the neighborhood.

The theory of the police was that he was a thief ringing door bells in the hope of finding a place where he could be at home where he could ply his trade. It is finally settled.

Help Is Asked Of Residents Of Villages by Ghesquiere

Woods Points Issues Plans To Those Contemplating Suits Against Village

Disturbed by reports that some residents of the Woods contemplate suing the Village for damages to their properties growing out of the abnormal flood water conditions that have afflicted the area, President Ghesquiere has addressed a communication to the citizens reciting the conditions, both financial and physical, which have led to the trouble, and appealing to them to patriotically cooperate with the village in its effort to remove the cause and to refrain from embarrassing the village at this time.

He acknowledges that the residents have had cause for complaint with the inconveniences they have endured, but holds forth the promise for relief with the completion of the drainage work now in preparation with the cooperation of the County Drain Commission's office and Grant township.

Many difficulties in rectifying the financial difficulties that have beset the village have been caused by the boom years of the late twenties, resulting in the financial plan of the village's finances in 30; the reestablishing of the village's credit; the refunding plan of '38 and the reumpiling of its growth in the later year when during the four succeeding years its population grew from 1200 to 8,000.

To keep pace with the demands which come with such a population, the village's credit was heavily drawn upon to construct sewers, water mains and water mains. Also finances had to be arranged for the sanitary trunk line and the sewerage plant parallel with Milk river for the new water supply and the sewerage plant on Mack avenue.

It also had to enter into a raw cess disposal plant for sanitary reasons demanded by the State Health department.

Plans for handling water were definitely stopped when the government entered the picture because of the war and war materials became unobtainable. "However," he says, "certain projects of a more constructive nature have been undertaken in the attempt to give relief from storm water."

He assures the citizens that the present financial conditions are such as well as their predecessors have been constantly laboring to better the conditions, and he reminds them that they are in the position of being in a leaky boat together and that some trouble and some sacrifice because they are getting a little water on the rest.

Serious Delinquency On Wane in Pointe

Survey Shows Plenty of Rowdiness But Decrease in Crimes of More Serious Nature as Compared with Other Years

Juvenile delinquency, which has been spotlighted intensely recently by the race riots in Detroit and a series of articles being published in the Detroit News, is apparently not increasing in Grosse Pointe. In fact, figures gathered in a survey tend to show that delinquency among the teen years here has been less than in former years.

Dr. Paul L. Esert, superintendent of schools, has been working with the police chiefs of all the Pointe municipalities in an effort to obtain accurate figures on delinquency here. He has been aided by Chief Thomas Tremblay of the City.

Dr. Esert has received reports from Detroit police and expects to have the fifth shortly. When talking to the News Wednesday, Dr. Esert emphasized the fact that while all reports indicate a decrease in delinquency, it did not care to release any figures until he had an opportunity to meet with all the chiefs and compare notes and discuss various aspects of their reports. He stated he felt any completed report should come in next release from the whole group.

Most rowdiness The authorities all agree that there has been considerable amount of rowdiness in the Pointe, apparently perpetrated by a small group. Many windows have been broken and other property destroyed.

Ask Repaving Of Jefferson Within City

Salvaging of Buried Rails Offers Opportunity to Lay New Surface

With the approaching disruption of East Jefferson avenue caused by the removal of the rails, the query has been raised as to whether his might not be a timely moment to consider the complete relaying of the pavement on that portion of the street which lies in the Grosse Pointe City limits, from Cadieux to Fisher.

This pavement is in bad shape and has deteriorated to a point where it causes not only rough driving but abnormal wear upon the tires of the passing cars. The war situation is making it very difficult to obtain supplies for street repairs or new paving and this has undoubtedly operated against the City's attempt to keep its part of the avenue in proper condition.

However, with the completion of the payments of the City's share of the cost of the paving job on Kercheval, which was approximately $50,000, the City would be able to financially well set to undertake its share of a new major paving job.

Woods Stages Party to Buy Service Flag

Enthusiastic Gathering Also Defrays Cost of Fourth of July Celebration

One of the best attended and most enthusiastic community social gatherings and entertainments in the history of the Woods, was held on Tuesday in the Hoop-La.

The immediate purpose of the affair was to raise money to defray the remaining unpaid expenses of the elaborate fireworks exhibit on the Fourth and to provide for a service flag which is to be displayed on the flag pole in front of the Municipal building.

Both objects were fully attained although no admission fee was charged. The money came from the sale of refreshments in boxes about the hall.

Parade Dividends The dividends returned in the form of wholesale community social entertainment far outweighed in value the mere monetary returns. The audience was so large that it was impossible to have accommodated any larger crowd with comfort.

The regularly scheduled meeting of the Village council was postponed for a night to permit those citizens who might have had serious matters to discuss with the Council to attend the social event.

Miss Virginia Dorenbush, assisted by several associates, specialties and Miss "Odey" Grosse Pointe girl who has assumed that name for her professional career, presided over several highly artistic dance numbers.

Virginia Henry, a beautiful girl with a beautiful voice, held the company spellbound with her rendition of several vocal selections. The audience was so large that she had to call her out for several encores.

Miss Delight Herbert Savage and Farel Wehrer delighted the audience with English diths and folk songs.

Grosse Pointe's Black Market case is not yet closed, but a public announcement concerning it will be made by the OPA within a week, it was learned Tuesday from the OPA office.

Three Injured In Car Crash

Failure to Heed Stop Sign Cause of Collision of Yorkshire and Charlevoix

A serious auto collision occurred on Saturday afternoon at the intersection of Yorkshire and Charlevoix when Mrs. Marnie Dazewick, of 204 Bramble street, Pontiac, failed to heed a stop sign.

She ran into a car owned and driven by Mrs. Mary E. Spain, of 2316 Clearwood street, St. Clair Shores, was taken to the hospital with cuts on her left temple and an injured back. She was held for a day examination.

Miss Dazewick was driving west on Yorkshire when she failed to heed the stop sign of the offending car, was brought to the police station where she was treated by Dr. Edmund for bruises on her back and a sprained right ankle, after which she was sent home in a cab.

Francis Bohop, of 43 Blaine street, a passenger in the car from Pontiac, was also treated by Dr. Edmund for bruises on his chest.

In the general ambulance Mrs. Dazewick's car also knocked over the street sign on the south corner of the intersection. Detective Louwers took photographs of the scene and Mrs. Dazewick was given a ticket for a hearing in police court July 14, and that the closing hour had finally arrived.

Review Board Has Easy Job

Township Tax Adjusters Hear Total of Nine Cases in Week's Session

The Grosse Pointe township Board of Review, which convenes on appeal of entries of the township against their valuations of property, met Tuesday afternoon to hear a total of nine cases, completed its work during the day and adjourned on the 11th inst.

Supervisor Carl Schwickel says that the entries apparently correct this year as only 9 percent of the entries were appealed during the entire year. He said that the entries were fair and just with the exception of one professional case which had been appealed for a five-year house when he proved there were only two rooms in the house.

With an argument on the part of the Board the adjustment was made on the basis of the assignments covering many millions of property values was completed for another year.

Close Watch Kept Over All Beaches

With the summer season on in the Grosse Pointe area, the watch over the beaches is being kept very close. The Grosse Pointe Health Board has issued orders to the property owners to keep their beaches clean and to post signs to warn the public of the danger of swimming in the water.

Public Spirited Residents Of Woods Improve Property

The property at 20923 Mack (at that property) owned by Hattie Carter in the Woods village some time ago on the condition that it be maintained in perpetuity by the village corporation as a recreation place for the benefit of the community, has recently been undergoing extensive repairs and improvements.

Scarcity of Food Forcing Owners to Dispose of Pets

An increasing number of animals are being turned over to the police departments of the different Pointe municipalities for disposal by the humane society. In some instances the society may be able to find homes for these wafers of the war period, but in many cases the time has passed and the animals will operate against their adoption by outside parties. Some of these are, both dogs and cats, are attractive and of good breed. The explanation of their disposal must be in many cases the great difficulty of obtaining food for them.

For Fathers and Mothers

The whole country is disturbed over the wave of juvenile delinquency that is sweeping over it from end to end. That this is the case and not mere parental hysteria arising from the unnatural social environment of war is evidenced by the mounting crime cases that are pouring through the juvenile courts of the country and the records of malicious mischief that litter the police dockets.

There is a deal of talk and effort put forth just now about sustaining the moral and physical front end of the boys in the fighting services. These are worthy objects although sometimes assuming strange forms for their attainment.

There is a notable letdown in the guiding and training of the children who in the race are only a step behind the boys in the fighting lines.

The chaotic social conditions that are an unavoidable accompaniment of war, in large part accounts for this situation, but not wholly. The father and mother who are both working cannot give the attention to their children they would wish to give. The women engaged in the many war time services must in a measure neglect the duties of home and children. The men and women who are working in the home front have already done a pretty good job in forewarning their usual pleasures and recreations of peace time.

But whatever the explanations or alibis that are advanced, as the case may be, the people of America are faced by the stark fact that the moral and physical upbringing of the children of those character forming years, that lie approximately between the ages of 10 and 16, is being perilously neglected in many instances.

Of what avail will we be to spend our blood and treasure to make this a better world, and particularly a finer America, if we awake 10-15 years hence to find it dominated by a society devoid of moral responsibility and reckoning?

This is not an overstrained statement of a momentarily unpleasant picture.

Make personal inquiry in any informed quarter regarding moral delinquency among young girls between the ages of 14 and 17, particularly in the vicinity of military encampments. Here at home ask the police what was the average age of the men who were the worst offenders among the hoodlums who gave the great city of Detroit its day of horror on June 21?

Or, right at home, take the trouble to examine the police blotters in any of the Police stations in recent weeks and read the interminable lists of broken or stolen electric lights, false fire alarms turned in, fires started maliciously, stolen bicycles, broken window panes, twisted street signs, stolen theives, etc., etc.

More boyish exuberance? Not quite. There is a more honest work: Neglect.

These tendencies, now comfortably passed off as 'ostly mischievous will, if permitted to run unchecked, become the first steps along the pathway of vicious idleness, wasted lives and major crime.

Every father and mother, high or low, rich or poor, holds to the hope that their boy or girl will grow up into honest, clean, healthy, industrious and honorable manhood and womanhood.

There are agencies at hand to help in meeting this problem whose great worth has been proved by years of good results but which in this anxious period of war which engrosses so much of the time of the fathers are neglected.

Organizations like the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts are in existence which have demonstrated by years of experience and by their results, that they are well set up to assist parents who are unable to give the close supervision to their children during the war period they would wish. These can take over a large part of the necessary early training of the children for wholesome and useful living during their scout age years with even better results in many cases than can well equipped parents.

Children in this age range are peculiarly gregarious young creatures. Their natural environment is with other children their own age. They are often more influenced by arousing their interest in doing things they naturally like to do under the supervision of older persons skilled in instruction and supervision than by the parental precepts constantly laid down and often, it is regretful to state, from home sources which do not exhibit the examples which support the precepts.

The story of the Boy and Girl Scout movements, both in Great Britain where they originated and here in America, is crowded with incidents illustrating their efficacy in the building of morally strong and physically fit manhood and womanhood.

As far back as in the last war in the struggle for the channel ports in the fall of 1914, had it not been for the qualities of stamina and sheer courage imparted to 400,000 young men in the raw forces of Britain by the Boy Scout training they had received in their early years, just a short time before, England would have lost the channel ports and the British Empire could easily have crumbled.

This is not an overstrained statement of the highest ranking generals of the British army, now recalled as either General Hutz himself or Gen. Smith-Dorrien. This was an example of their work on a grand scale.

Right here our contention is it is safe bet that a ranger throughout Detroit who had been Boy Scouts in their earlier youth.

Judge D. J. Healy in Detroit's Juvenile Court stated only a few weeks ago that to the best of his knowledge he never had a Girl Scout before him in his court. Such experience is significant.

These organizations are languishing for the lack of active, serious minded young men and women who will themselves as leaders. The Detroit district needs 1500 young women as Girl Scout leaders at this very moment. The work may not be as glamorous as keeping up the soldier morale by dancing with young men in uniform but it will pay dividends in a better kind of society in the years immediately after the war.

The country is to take over its destined leadership in remaking the civilization we are now fighting to save, and the war is over it will find itself ill equipped for the task if it is faced with an oncoming generation which lacks the qualities to carry on in the ways of Christian civilization.

The Rising Sun of Freedom

Not in the 167 years that have intervened since our first declaration of freedom and sovereignty has the American Fourth of July, so nearly approximated the proportions of a World holiday.

"Freedom" and "independence" have a large place in the thought and speech of the people of many countries today.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

*"Try not to beat back the current,
Speak with the speed of the wind,
Think with the thoughts of the few."*

We had our drate bid ears pinned back this week by a very gracious lady who lives on the Lake Shore. She telephoned in regard to our referring to the Michigan Social Register—a (a few weeks ago)—as a "treasurer of mis-information." Our heroine didn't object to that statement, but she did remind us that we should look at our own mistakes before criticizing those of others, i. e., a mispelling in the social column—that of a woman, who we said was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Soandso; and Mr. Soandso had departed from this vale of tears five years ago. We hereby apologize to the M. S. R., the woman visitor and Mrs. Soandso. As for the Lady of the Lake Shore, all we can say is "Touche, Madam!"

A couple of sailors we know (we DO get around) seem to be truth in this incident. They picked up a couple of girls recently at one of the Park dance pavilions. According to them, the girls were divisions in a pickup frame of mind. After they got together and said a few words of the girls said, "Say, how did youse guys know we wasn't College broads?"

From one of the Navy stations comes this: One enlisted man just arrived, said to his companion, "Hey, what's that funny looking insignia on the side of that bomber?" "Shit," cautioned the other, "That's our commanding officer looking through a port hole."

One of the city's greatest irritations is the response one receives on telephoning the sports department of a daily paper, for information. Three times during the past month, we have had the temerity to call one of our dailies to ask about a horse. We NEVER read about it hours later—but we wanted to know RIGHT THEN. Each time we were told, "We're sorry, but we aren't allowed to give out that information over the telephone."

We don't know when the dailies started this unhappy practice—(they used to give any information you asked for)—but we figure out why. Surely it can't be that they are afraid of losing the four cents one pays for the paper. Nor can it be that too much information is being given to the employer. Broadly speaking, the "library" of a newspaper and the gent in charge will use 13 minutes of research in order to answer your query.

Their stock exchange is rather slow, says "Sorey" we aren't allowed to give that information over the telephone—we never know whether to say, "Well, listen bud, we'll meet you at the corner of Michigan and the river, but we'll be there at 11:30—'til you can't give it over the phone. Just send us a special delivery airmail letter." —T.S.

The citizens of Grosse Pointe certainly go in whole hog for what or they are going in for at the moment. We can remember seeing them come into the liquor stores, and they were all wearing a white apron with a pocket, dipping up and down (while they sipped on their cocktails) to keep their limbs from getting too hot. Ordinarily, when you talk to a person, you expect his face to be somewhere in the proximity of your own—but not so with these fellows. They were all wearing a white apron with a pocket, and their face is somewhere in the vicinity of your waistline or even near your ankles—doing his work.

These days we have with us the ubiquitous victory garden. No matter who is trying to say what—there are always two or three little victory gardens screaming to one another back and forth across the room. The gardeners never get a word in edgewise. Our latest victories, politics, the weather or what-have-you, but sooner or later the war comes up. The gardeners get all apart—and off they go. After that, no one has a chance unless he has the potentialities of a hog-caller.

This liquor-dole situation has some of our finest feathered creatures in a constant whir. We've heard all sorts of amazing stories about leaving down to the liquor stores when the truck arrives. Some women have employees in nearby establishments telephone them when the truck pulls up to the door of the liquor store. Even at that, by the time they get there, there is usually a line two blocks long. One woman we know, was sitting peacefully at home one day when she caught on to a few lines of the truck. She was in a quandary. It was her 14 year old son, who said, breathlessly, "Gosh, Mom, where ARE you? The truck's truck pulled up in front of Somewhere driving north a half hour ago." Ever the young, we're learning the importance of being earnest about the whole thing.

The observance of the birthday of Independence of that sparsely settled group of colonies on the western shore of the North Atlantic looms large and prophetic in the imaginations of the lately free but now enslaved people of the small countries of Europe.

They have seen it grow from a group of feeble colonies into the mightiest military and in its increasing military stature they envisage their greatest hope for delivery from slavery.

So, on this day British warships fire a 48 gun salute on all the oceans of the World and millions of thinking Britons are saying to themselves, "Thank God they beat us in 1776."

And in the fields and hills of Norway, along the canals of Holland, in the wooded hideouts of Poland and still occupied parts of Russia, in the mountain fastnesses of Serbia, in the vineyards and currant hedges and amid the classic ruins of Ancient Greece and the Great Cities of modern civilization who first Blended Nature and Divinity, and wherever hunted, tortured, murdered and robbed defenceless peoples slink like straggled animals through the grim hall light, they look furtively at one another and whisper "this is the Americans' Independence Day."

The Germans, who are conscious of the Day of Wrath when they must account to these outraged peoples, were jittery over the significance of the eve of the Day.

To us at home the Day this year as accurately reflects the soul and spirit of the American people in carrying on through the great events of this mighty moment as did the original document signed in old Independence Hall in Philadelphia express the hopes and ambitions and determination of the creators of the embryonic nation in the New World.

There is no occasion for us at home to talk today about the Glorious Fourth to the boys in the torrid jungles, in the frozen arctic, in the burning sands of Africa, in all the skies of Earth and under and over the sky.

Their acts in Life and Death are the epitome of all that Independence Day means.

To them goes the eternal gratitude of all their countrymen and of all the oppressed peoples of the Earth who look to the American flag and its shining strength as the shade stunted plant faces the rising sun.

Black Markets

The black market is one of the greatest menaces that confronts the people of this country in their whole war effort.

Not only does it point directly to higher prices, which is bad in itself, but it is more vital concern, it takes away from the people their just share of the necessities of life. It gives them to persons who have the money to buy them and are willing to be victimized by the food pirates.

Doubtless the Government is maintaining many thousands on the payroll of the OPA, but judging by results these employees are not doing a very thorough job in enforcing the law, in its aim at an equitable distribution of food and other necessities.

There is a well-based suspicion that a considerable blame for this breakdown is chargeable to producers themselves. If a producer or processor of meats or other foods sells at high prices, beyond those fixed by law, to black market outlets, he is a basic criminal. He is in about as odious a position as the maker of counterfeit money who hires his dupes, on salary or commission, to "move the queue."

PRYORITIES

It may be a little late to comment on the Stephan case, but we've got to get this off our chest. It's a very day we read about numerous black market operators who have been caught and are being prosecuted. It's a very day we read about the "Underneath the Harlem Moon," written with Harry Revel, he broke off in later years... Ed Sullivan, the golf champion among the columnists of Manhattan. He cooks in the mid-western and has had as recent victims such formidable opponents...

Another comment that got under our skin was: "Roosevelt has lost all chances of a fourth term by voting against the war measure." What manner of people have we in this country? Are we going to enforce ability of nondem disability to fill an office... or are we judging a candidate solely on the fact that he saved a man from the gallows?

As a matter of fact, everyone agrees that what Stephan did was wrong—so one is trying to argue that point—but the sentence should fit the crime. Certainly the harbors of a fellow countryman—something that any American would have done for one of HIS countrymen because he did what he did in time of war, he should certainly be punished, but to have the man in the face of what our own American citizens are doing during this war...

IT COSTS YOU MONEY!

Warm weather means an added burden on your refrigerator. The hotter the weather, the harder it works to keep things cool. If you notice a "snow-man" forming inside—heavy frost on the cooling coils—it's time to get busy and defrost the refrigerator. That layer of frost is costing you money. It means that the refrigerator must work overtime to absorb heat through a blanket of frost around the cooling coils. And for economical operation, the motor should run as little as possible.

It's only human to keep "putting-off" the chore of defrosting—especially in summer, when ice cubes are in big demand and you hesitate to have your refrigerator out of commission even for a few hours. But see that it is done regularly. Do not use an ice pick or a sharp instrument to remove ice; this sometimes punctures the refrigerating coils. After defrosting, wash the whole interior (coils, shelves, trays, etc.) with hot water and mild soap. Unless the motor of your refrigerator is hermetically sealed, have it oiled and inspected periodically. Remember that your refrigerator must last for the duration. Treat it accordingly. A Statement from
BLACK MARKETS
 and YOU!

The dirtiest rat in America today is the Black Market operator, whether he sneaks meat, sugar, coffee, butter, processed foods, or fresh vegetables.

He casts aside all safeguards for sanitation, orderly distribution, and quality the minute he touches YOUR FOOD with his filthy hands.

He contaminates and diverts foods from proper decent channels and is as dangerous to the war effort as the traitors we have put to death.

Already about one-fourth of America's precious meat supply is affected by these cheap chiselers who would sell out your health and America's fighting men for a few quick dollars.

A Single Piece of Illegal Meat is, in Effect, a Shot in the Back of a Soldier, a Sailor, or a Marine!

★ All Foods served at Al Green's are bought from recognized reputable sources at ceiling prices.

We will not tolerate any dealings with Black Markets or any compromise with quality.

All of our supply houses are established business institutions of high standing and—like ourselves—with reputations to protect.

This is your assurance that during the critical days ahead we will safeguard your foods at Al Green's!

Al Green's membership in three leading restaurant associations keeps him in close touch with latest food discoveries and developments. Expert experienced direction and preparation plus dependable sources of supply gives modern enriched foods their proper taste appeal and eye appeal.

Our sustained volume of food sales makes possible a long range program of full co-operation with the national food program and with the war effort.

Pointer's Air Raid Tune Broadway Hit

Joan Rabaut's Song is Breaking All Records at Roxys in New York; Eric Madriguera Gives it Fine Interpretation

The new song hit, "I'll Be Okay in a Blackout" by Grosse Pointe Joan Rabaut is currently being featured at the Roxey Theater in New York where it is being played before record-breaking crowds.

"Because it is now, Sr. Madriguera plays it in the style of Guy Lombardo (which sounds exactly like Lombardo's style), then Patricia Gilmore (Mrs. Madriguera) sings it in the style of Bonnie Baker, then it is played as Andre Kostelanetz would play it, next one of the members of the orchestra (dressed as a waiter) comes forward and joins Patricia Gilmore in another style, and finally he plays it like Fred Waring."

"Madriguera says that the show is breaking all records of the Roxey."

Behind the Detroit Front

by JANE SCHERMERNORN

...passed into that impalpable oblivion of "one day off the front page." The new riots again became the uppermost story in town.
...Federal troops will remain in Detroit well into fall, it is to be hoped.

...There may be little, but 30 days from now, when the rougher elements of both Negroes and whites will have finished jail terms.
...Doubtless, many innocent persons found themselves involved in court and trouble during the race riots.

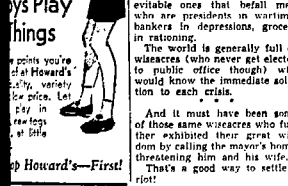

...One colored boy, Willie Jones, aged 20 of Texas, was one of these.
...He was picked up by police for being on the streets after the 10 o'clock curfew law imposed by the governor.

...He told Recorder's Judge John Scallen he was "on his way home" as Texas and it took a little questioning to prove that Willie was really telling the truth. He had walked up here to find a job. He didn't get one. (He has one arm and vision in only one eye). So he was starting to walk back to Texas with just six cents in his overalls.

...Judge Scallen dismissed the charges but had him wait till court was adjourned. He will be given a couple of dollars and told him to get back to Texas. Willie got...
...Now that the peak of anger has passed, most persons are agreed that Mayor Jeffries and Police Commissioner Whittingford did the best they could in quelling an angry riot as cheaply as possible.

...The raps they took from press and public alike are the inevitable ones that befall men who are presidents in wartime, bankers in depression, grocers in rationing.
...The world is generally full of wisecracks (who never get elected to public office though) who would know the immediate outlet to each crisis.

...And it must have been some of those same wisecracks who further exhibited their great wisdom by calling the mayor's home, threatening him and his wife. "This's a good way to settle a riot!"

Paper Is Needed To Ship Supplies

An acute shortage of brown wrapping paper needed by mills in the Detroit area has prompted the War Production Board to initiate a campaign by the Wayne County Salvage Committee to stimulate the salvage of all types of brown waste paper, according to chairman Edwin J. Anderson.

Detroit is one of ten major cities in the West where a shortage of brown waste paper exists. W. H. Beckwith, Chairman of the Waste Paper Consuming Industries, warned that paper mills in this area face a production curtailment unless Wayne County housewives, janitors and store owners cooperate wholeheartedly in the new drive.

With the stepped-up military operations in various theaters of war, there is a constantly increasing demand for cartons for shipment of materials and supplies to our fighting forces and for the production of new types of brown paper, such as brown paper bags, brown wrapping paper, brown containers, Raggs, too, will be necessary.

Pulp has become increasingly scarce because of shipping difficulties from northern countries that were formerly sources of supply, together with lack of available machinery in the United States.

A second factor in the shortage has been the increased conversion of brown or waste paper into actual weapons of war, such as bomb bands, blinding powder and incendiary bombs, and other military needs.
...Here is an opportunity for each neighborhood War Club to do its share in this emergency. Each Block Leader is asked to conduct a waste paper campaign either unit under her own direction or that of her salvage chairman or committee, stressing the fact that brown paper is most urgently needed, although all waste paper, such as old newspapers, should be collected.

...Paper should be tied into bundles for easy handling, with brown paper, which must be kept in bundles, wrapped in cardboard. Please mark each package "From Neighborhood War Club." A plain-keep a record of the amount collected in your unit and report it to the Salvage Center at 11300 Maumee, or you may call Mr. Not Bindel, salvage chairman of the Citizens' Service Corps of the Grosse Pointe area, 159 pounds, call RA 2223 and tell them you wish to sell it and they will send a paper dealer to your home.

...We suggest that all donated paper be accumulated at one point, perhaps your home or that of the salvage chairman of your unit, and placed at the curb when you have arranged for the pickup, the same as you do with your tin cans.
...And speaking of tin cans, the next collection will be some time in the first part of August. We refer to tin cans, not three fourths of a tin of cans were rejected from our last collection in the Grosse Pointe area. We suggest you again remind your members as to the proper preparation of cans. They must be reasonably clean, paper labels removed, opened at each end and flattened out but not so much that the detinning agent will not reach all surfaces of the can.

Overseas Soldiers Ask for More Music

American Legion Undertakes Job of Collecting Old Records So New Ones Can Be Sent to Fighting Forces
A nation-wide, door-to-door collection campaign for "old" phonograph records began Saturday, July 3, because of the tremendous demand for music and entertainment from the armed forces in overseas service.

The President's War Reliefs Control Committee heading the pleadings of the Army and Navy representatives for more canned music for the boys in the fighting areas, called formally upon the American Legion and its Auxiliary, and Records for Fighting Men, Inc., to team up for a Nation-wide scrap record drive.

The Army and Navy Joint Committee reported it could not purchase new records in quantity unless there was a collection of old records. "Shelac" is a principle ingredient in records and is from old records. Experts estimate that at least 200,000,000 old records were still lying around in attics, closets and basements of homes in the United States.

Last year's old record drive netted approximately 11,000,000 old discs, the scrap from the sale of this income posted sufficient money to purchase 370,000 NEW RECORDS for the armed forces. However, this quantity does not represent 100th the amount necessary, as it is estimated that nearly 4,000,000 NEW RECORDS are needed.
...The American Legion agreed to undertake the job of collecting these much needed old records. However, the Legion knows that it can hardly scratch the surface of the country through job, without the assistance of the entire community. All organizations participating in this drive, enter into it on a non-profit basis. Every penny of net proceeds from the sale of the scrap collected are used to purchase new records at factory prices, for distribution to American fighting forces.

Veal Loaf for Hot Days

By BETSY NEWMAN
For the larger family a meat loaf is an excellent choice for a summer main dish. The recipe I'm giving you today will serve eight, and the leftovers will make excellent sandwiches for lunch next day or will make hash for another main dish for next day's dinner.

Today's Menu
Delectable Veal Loaf
Oven-Browned Potatoes
Green Beans
Raw Carrot and Lettuce Salad
Green Apple Pie, Iced Tea
Delectable Veal Loaf
2 lbs. ground Veal
1 lb. fresh fat or undiluted evaporated milk
1 c. fine dry bread crumbs
2 tsp. chopped onion
2 teaspoons salt
1 lb. lard
3 hard-cooked eggs
Have veal and pork ground together, combine with bread crumbs, onion, lemon juice, chopped onion and seasonings. Pack into loaf pan, arranging shelled hard-cooked eggs in a single row in center of loaf. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until done, about 1 1/2 hours. Serve, sliced, either hot or cold. Serves 8.

Woods' New Water Main Now Almost Finished

President Alois Ghesquire of Grosse Pointe Woods said Wednesday that the low water pressure nuisance which bothered residents of that village during the hot weather, has abated during the last week.
...He said the new water main, which will relieve the entire Woods area, is expected to be completed within two weeks.

Why not gather your old records together and send them to our boys who want and need NEW RECORDS badly. Old scratched, cracked, even broken records are acceptable. Many homes have records that are worn and seldom if ever used. Check your records. Do it today. Give those you are not using and seldom do use to the American Legion's collectors. Send them to war. If they will help to boost the morale of our fighting men, you are just that much hastening the end of this struggle.
...Give our boys... what they need. They want music. They are doing a swell job for us... let's in turn do a SWELL JOB for THEM as their drive for "HOME MUSIC."
...Watch this paper's columns for further information.

Coast Guard's Spars Train at Palm Beach

Many Interesting Fields Open For Recruits; Goal For 1943 Is 5,000 Women Trained and On the Job

Michigan women training in the SPARS, Women's Reserve of the U. S. Coast Guard, will do so hereafter at the newly opened SPAR and Coast Guard recruiting office in the Lafayette Building in Detroit.
...Effective July 1, SPAR recruiting separates from Navy and Coast Guard recruiting. The two women's services have been conducting recruiting activities jointly, but as a means of economizing, each will hereafter conduct their own campaigns.
...Training too, has become separate. 2218 SPARS have been and are yet being trained by Navy schools. Effective June 1st, SPARS began training at their own school in the former Biltmore Hotel, Palm Beach, Florida.
...All Michigan women existing in the SPARS now will get their basic as well as specialist training at Palm Beach. It is estimated this will save thousands of dollars in travel expenses required formerly when SPARS traveled from basic training in New York to specialist schools in Oklahoma and other parts of the country.
...The new Michigan Offices for SPARS and Coast Guard recruiting will be in 531 Lafayette Building, at Lafayette and Sherbrooke streets in Detroit. SPARS, as well as men interested in Coast Guard service will be processed there.

Ensign Elizabeth C. Barnes and Ensign Elizabeth Maxfield will interview women, while Gunboat's Mate William Thompson will process men. Men who may still voluntarily join the Coast Guard are those under eighteen, or over thirty eight years of age.
...The 1943 goal of the Women's Reserve of the Coast Guard is 5,000 SPARS trained and on the job by the end of the year. More than 3,500 have already been enlisted and are in training or on the job.

Specially selected Army and Navy officers and men are being trained in amphibious assault tactics. The intensive program has created a striking force, still expanding to carry out a coordinated landing on a fortified hostile shore.

Pointer's Air Raid Tune Broadway Hit

Joan Rabaut's Song is Breaking All Records at Romy's in New York; Eric Madriguera Gives it Fine Interpretation

The new song hit, "It'll Be Okay in a Blackout" by Grosse Pointe Joan Rabaut is currently being featured at the Romy Theater in New York where it is being played before record-breaking crowds. Joan, 18-year-old, dark haired daughter of Congressman Louis C. Rabaut, who has dedicated the number to the Air Raid Wardens of America, has received the following letter from a friend in New York:

"Band Leader Eric Madriguera's rendition of the blackout number is excellent and would give you a great thrill. He certainly gives it a build up, it really sounds fine, and it gets a terrific hand."

"Because it is now, Sr. Madriguera plays it in the style of Guy Lombardo (which sounds exactly like Lombardo's style), then Patricia Gilmore (Mrs. Madriguera) plays it in the style of Bonnie Blue. It is then played as Andy Kotelancz would play it, next one of the members of the orchestra (dressed as a warden) comes forward and joins Patricia Gilmore in another style, and finally he plays it like Fred Waring."

"Madriguera says that the show is breaking all records of the Romy."

Customers Knows - The customers of this woman are all known because her books were thoroughly checked, and said customers were called into OPA headquarters and questioned as to where they were buying their canned clams, etc. There are many prominent families in the list of Lake Shore and Birmingham, many of whom were in the list printed some time ago when bought, which had been bootlegged into the state.

Personalities - There is much more to the letter, but from here on it goes into personalities which have nothing to do with the case. (The woman was named correctly by the writer of the letter. Her name has been omitted where dashes have been substituted.)

On Wednesday BOB WALDRON, son of the Robert G. Waldron of University place came home for his first leave since he has been in the Army Air Corps. Openings Exist in War Classes

There are openings for men and women in the Machine Tool Operation and Precision Inspection War Training classes at Grosse Pointe High School.

The machine tool operation instruction consists of training on the lathe, milling machine, shaper, and tool grinder.

A graduate may specialize on one type of machine or gain a general knowledge of all the different machines of the industry.

The Precision Inspection instruction consists of blue print reading, mathematics, layout, the use of micrometer, calipers, surface gauges, height gages, dial indicator gages, etc.

The training is offered without cost through the State Board of Control for Vocational Education.

The summer schedule of classes is as follows:

Section I — Machine Tool — Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, 6:30-11:30 p.m.

Section II — Precision Inspection — Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 6:30-11:30 p.m.

Section III — Precision Inspection — Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 6:30-11:30 p.m.

Section IV — Precision Inspection — Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 6:30-11:30 p.m.

If you are interested in securing training of this type, call the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, 2000, extension 25.

Pointe Rotarians Help Scouts and Gardeners

The Rotary Club of Grosse Pointe has donated $100 from its Goodwill Fund to the Grosse Pointe Scout district to help carry out its summer camp program and assist in the effort of the scout organization to prevent juvenile delinquency of girls 7 to 15 years old.

The service club has also given $75 towards a canning instruction project sponsored by the A.W.S., the Board of Education, the Garden Club of Michigan and the Grosse Pointe Lions Club.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Small spots of grease on the wallpaper, such as spatters from a kitchen stove, can be removed while fresh by using a warm iron over clean blotting paper.

Another method is the application of fuller's earth to absorb the grease. This should not be brushed off for several hours.

Girl Scout News

Without the help of more adult volunteers it will be impossible to give Girl Scout training to all the girls who are asking for it.

Every troop in Grosse Pointe has a waiting list of girls who want and need the program offered by this National organization, and endorsed by educators, leaders in youth movements, and members of the clergy.

Organized troops are conscious of their place in the war effort, and the programs are planned to include activities essential to the needs of the community.

Ever since the first call for volunteers, our local girls have assisted in collections. You can see their bicycles everywhere as they gather over magazines, etc., and they give of their own rationed sugar to make cookies for the USO service clubs.

But their life is not all work and service, for they are still children and need play, recreation and rest.

They are taken on hikes, where they learn to cook outdoors, find the names of trees, birds, wild flowers, etc.

In the camps they are taught to swim, handle a boat, give first aid, and older scouts take tests and earn badges which mark them as capable to assist in many community projects.

Some are able to attend day camps in this area, but for lack of adult leaders, many will be deprived of such outings.

Helping girls, (tomorrow's wives, mothers, citizens) is a near job that needs doing now.

The younger generation cannot be "frayed" for the duration. They are growing up in the shadow of war, and the time to protect them and prepare them is today.

Any Grosse Pointe woman can assist as a leader, assistant leader, committee woman, consultant. Get in touch with any member of the District Committee, or Mrs. Willis Bugbee, chairman.

Bids for Farms Col Supply are Received

Bids for the Farms annual col supply are being examined before the contract is let by a special committee of the trustees. The specifications will also be gone over by a expert before a decision is reached.

Looking for a room, a house or a flat? You'll find what you want advertised in the For Rent columns in the Want Ad section.

Farms May Have Pumps for Sale

The sale of all the equipment which is being removed from the old Farms pumping station by the county, has been recommended by Murray Smith, village engineer.

Giving his monthly report before the trustees at their meeting recently, Mr. Smith said the village has no further use for two complete vertical type new-age pumping units which are being removed.

He said that previously it was believed one of the pumps could be used as an auxiliary at the new station, but it is not needed, as the new station operates efficiently.

One of the units of the new station is out of service. Mr. Smith, who said the equipment involved originally cost about $3,000, was authorized by the trustees to accept bids for the pumps, without committing the village to a sale.

Congregational Church Will Observe Sacrament

This Sunday, July 11, the Grosse Pointe Congregational church will celebrate the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

The pastor, the Rev. Charles W. Scheel, will be assisted by Deacons Mrs. Donald T. Lester, Mr. Norton Ives and Deacon John W. Smith, Duane O. Butcher, Allen C. McFallin, Ralph Thompson, Paul S. Mathewson, Theodore Ziemer, Harold Beattie, James T. Huette, Frederick V. Slocum.

Mr. Scheel will preach the third in his series of sermons on the teachings of Jesus entitled "The Supreme Contribution of Jesus—The Method."

Young Rowdies Accused of Insulting Servant

The Hayes household at 643 Pemberton employs a colored maid who is accustomed to leave her work at 4:30 o'clock each afternoon to take the bus home.

For several days past a gang of 16-17 year old boys have gathered in the neighborhood of Fairfax near the house at that hour and insulted the girl by calling her names and using abusive language.

Complaint has been made by the household to the Park police and a request made that a scout car be sent to the neighborhood and the hoodlums suppressed.

Pointers Win Rowing Races

Take Junior Varsity Eights and Fours and Ecosse Regatta on July 4

At the annual Fourth of July Regatta held on the course of the Ecosse Boat Club, Grosse Pointe High won the Downriver Championship by taking both the junior varsity eights and the junior varsity fours.

Rowing in the fours were Joe Bruckner, Frank Burns, Tom Blacklock, and Nathan Van Orsdal with George Hubbard as coxswain.

For the eights these oarsmen were joined by Julius Hueber, Bill Kerr, Bill Baker, and Bill Cardinal.

The senior varsity fours of Floyd Nixon, Robert Beena, Frank Blair, and Charles French with Bob Tiffin as coxswain were beaten by Wyandotte by a close margin of five feet. In addition to this crew Don Sullivan, Bill Chapman, Bill Spanick, and Jerry Hughes are also on the senior varsity.

Over July 23, 24 and 25 these rowers will be at St. Catherine's, Ontario, to compete in the Royal Canadian Henley, the biggest event of the rowing season.

Motoring over Lawns You'll Need Lawns

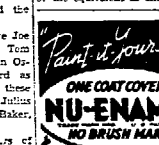

Another trifling incident of the juvenile lawlessness that has seemed to settle like a plague over the whole country, including the orderly (?) Grosse Pointe community, appeared in the form of a motor car on the lawn of Dr. E. C. Baumgarten, of 1837 Windmill Pointe, at 3:35 p.m. Sunday July 5.

Four boys in a Hudson sedan were having a perfectly harmless time driving over the lawns in his neighbors' yards. Small but symptomatic. The police responded at once in a scout car, but could not find the fast moving embryo citizens.

Household Hint

How can we be sure of getting the correct amount of protein in these days of rationing? Milk is the first safeguard. It is more important than any other food in the family.

Each adult in the family has at least a quart of milk to drink, or in the daily food, and each child through teenage age get the benefit of a full quart each day. This may be fresh, evaporated or dried milk, or the equivalent in cheese.
