Safe Robbery Admitted by Detroit Trio

Most of Valuable Jewelry Recovered for Mrs. Carrado; Also Got $15,000 In Cash

The burglary and safe stealing job which was pulled off at the Mike Carrado home at 765 Middlesex on the night of February 3 has been cleared up.

It will be recalled that the burglars who evidently started out on a routine job of burglary, and accumulated a substantial pile of furs and other valuable articles on the first floor, abandoned their interest in such trifles when they unexpectedly ran across a safe tucked away in a downstairs closet. They decided to take the safe and leave the rest, as that promised more substantial rewards.

As since learned, they took the safe to the home of Arne Lodin, the 21-year old brother of one of the principals, who lives at 2987 Chalmers.

Here in a garage attached to the place the two principals, William Francis Popeshil and John Lodin, with Arne's help cracked open the safe and were pleasantly surprised by a display of wealth far beyond that ordinarily recovered by the garden variety of house riffer. It is estimated there was between $15,000 and $20,000 worth of jewelry and around $15,000 in cash.

They gave Arne $500 for his share of the job. Arne says with this he was able to prudently pay off all of his current household debts.

Pursuant to instructions Arne hired a truck and dumped the safe in the river at the foot of Chene street.

Matters progressed nicely for the yeggs until Popeshil tried to pawn a four carat diamond with a pawnbroker down town. The broker tipped off the Detroit police and they picked up Popeshil and later Lodin.

Two drinking companions got themselves in a peck of trouble and put the Farms police to no little inconvenience on March 8 and 9.

The gendarmes got their first whiff of the fumes when they answered a complaint from a resident of Moran road at about 7:20 on the evening of March 8. They were informed, in almost incoherent phrases emitting from the complainant, that a visitor had stolen a gun when he left after a social call.

The police were provided with an address where they might find the caller, a Mack avenue bar. He was there. The police found him.

He and his recent host were both taken to police headquarters where the officers fired questions as fast as they could penetrate the alcoholic haze. Even-

Pointe Studying Royal Oak Plan to Eliminate Parking Problem in Business Areas

Bond Issue Being Floated to Buy Space; Meters Being Installed to Bring in Revenue to Retire Debt Incurred

The City of Royal Oak is starting a parking project which may have a direct bearing on the solution of one of the major problems that Grosse Pointe, and the City of Grosse Pointe in particular, have been wrestling with for a long time.

John Kenower of Maumee avenue sent a letter to Clarence Blessed, the Public Safety Commissioner of the City on March 9, informing him of what is underway in Royal Oak. Mr. Blessed and City Clerk Neff have been leading the preliminary investigation of the meter and public parking problems in the City.

Mr. Kenower's firm has taken the bond issue which Royal Oak has just issued for its parking lot project.

The bond issue is of the type known as a Revenue issue, or more specifically an issue which is to be paid of principal and interest, from the revenues derived from the particular project to which its proceeds are applied.

Royal Oak has issued $325,000 in bonds for the purchase of two sites for parking lots and the installation of something over 500 new parking meters.

The bonds are 15 year serial bonds bearing interest from 4 per cent down to 2 1/2 per cent. The purpose in Royal Oak, as in all places where the parking problem exists, is to relieve the streets from overcrowded parking which is a menace to public safety and an interference with street travel both vehicular and pedestrian.

In Royal Oak, as in many communities there will be a graduated system of parking charges running up to two hours parking in certain locations for a nickel.

Grosse Pointe Farms has already made an approach to this longer parking scheme by permitting in that block on Kercheval between McKinley and McMillan where there are no stores on either side of the avenue, parking for two hours

May Be Answer

Already the plan Royal Oak is putting into effect is being carefully studied by the officials of that municipality.

The City with its limited acreage of little more than one square mile will be increasingly confronted with this problem. Something will have to be done before long to lessen the congestion in the business area, and it may be that the Royal Oak scheme is the answer.

Church Invites Kids to Party

The Sunday School of St. James Lutheran Church, 170 McMillan, is sponsoring another Children's Program, Saturday, March 18.

From 2 to 4 p.m. there will be movies and games. All children not over elementary school age are invited.

Friends Hurt As Cars Meet On Hoover

Joseph Sherer and Richard Joy Hospitalized Following Accident

Two prominent Pointe residents were injured when their cars crashed at Hoover road and Ten Mile road at about 10:30 a.m. on Monday, March 13. In addition to the strange coincidence of two Pointe cars, owned by close friends, being involved in an accident that far from home, a Pointe businessman was the first to arrive on the scene and took one of the victims to the hospital.

As far as is known there were no witnesses of the actual crash. Joseph Sherer of 190 Ridge road, Grosse Pointe Farms, was driving north on Hoover on his way to the Tank Arsenal when the accident occurred. Richard P. Joy, Jr., of Renaud road, Grosse Pointe Shores, was driving west on Ten Mile when the two cars collided.

Both cars were spun around and Sherer's was thrown into the deep ditch paralleling Hoover road. Joy's ended in the ditch paralleling Ten Mile.

Cyril Payne, of the Pointe salon of Blanche and Cyril, was driving south on Hoover and arrived at the scene of the accident just after it happened. Mr. Sherer had gotten out of his car and was standing on the side of the road, bleeding profusely about the head. Mr. Joy was lying unconscious in the ditch.

Another motorist arrived on the scene and Mr. Payne left him with Mr. Joy while he rushed Mr. Sherer to the Holy Cross Hospital. The Warren Township police arrived shortly and took Mr. Joy to the Saratoga General Hospital.

Joy Seriously Hurt

The police said on Wednesday that Mr. Joy had still been unable to make a statement. The hospital reported his condition as temporarily serious, but said he was resting comfortably.

Mr. Sherer was transferred to Jennings Hospital Monday night and was reported to be recovering satisfactorily Wednesday.

The victims of the accident have been friends for many years. Neither knew who the other driver was until some time after the crash.

Werneken Hurt In Auto Accident

A two-car crash at Notting-ham and St. Paul at 5:32 p.m. on March 9, sent Frank E. Werneken of 206 McKinley to Bon Secours hospital for emergency treatment for personal injuries. The injuries were not of a serious nature.

The driver of the other car was Morris P. Fare of 18599 Roscommon. Both cars were seriously damaged and had to be towed away.

County Discloses Plans for Pointe's New Health Service

Dr. Thomas Davies To Be Retained to Direct Activities; Local Officials Meet With Dr. Littlejohn to Discuss Setup

A meeting was held on Friday night, March 3 in the municipal offices of the City on Maumee, attended by Dr. Littlejohn, the County Health Director, several members of his staff, and representatives of the five Grosse Pointe communities for a discussion of the public health setup that will be arranged to take over when the township discontinues custody of the Grosse Pointe health service on April 1.

Much practical headway was made in arranging for the transfer from township to County supervision.

Dr. Littlejohn said his department would be ready to set up a special office for the Grosse Pointe area on that date some place in Grosse Pointe.

Office in Defer School

It was agreed that this point should be in the Defer School where the township health service transferred when it was compelled to vacate its long occupied quarters in the Grosse Pointe Bank.

Dr. Littlejohn also submitted an interim budget covering the period April 1, 1950 to December 13, 1950, from which latter date on the County is expected to take over entirely. He had previously stated that in his budget this year he had made provision for caring for Grosse Pointe City's health service but not for the rest of the Pointe.

Figures Cost at $12,000

For this service to cover all of the Pointe for these intervening eight months he had figured a cost of $12,000. It was agreed that each one of the representatives present would carry back this message to his respective community and it was believed there would be no question about approval as the item averages less than $2500 each, which is considerably less than the normal expense to each under the old township plan.

The Grosse Pointe representatives present at the meeting urged that Dr. Thomas Davies be continued in the health service because of his exceptionally fine record as township health officer.

Dr. Littlejohn, who also holds a high opinion of Dr. Davies' professional capacities, readily agreed to this arrangement, but it was understood that he did not have the authority to place him directly on the County health payroll until specific provision

Theft Reported At New Church

The theft of $25.83 from the new Grosse Pointe Congregational Church on Chalfonte at Lothrop was reported to the Farms police on March 11. Rev. Charles W. Scheid, pastor of the church, said the theft had taken place between 4 p. m. on March 10 and 9 a. m. on March 11.

Mr. Scheid said the money, a $10 bill and the balance in silver, was in a desk in the church office. Neither the office nor desk was locked.

Park Chooses City Status And Woods Approves Bond Issue

In the elections in the Park Tuesday the present administration received a substantial vote of confidence and Homer C. Fritsch, candidate for Village President, and his three associates on the Board of Commissioners were all returned by decisive majorities.

The proposal to convert to city status, which Fritsch and his slate had endorsed, also passed by better than four to one.

The vote on this issue was: For City form, 2,167; Against, 458. The total vote cast was 2,673, or approximately 30 per cent of the registration.

Name Charter Group

In addition to electing a Village President and three Commissioners the Park also elected a Charter Commission of nine, to be ready to go to work on the preparation of the charter for the new City.

The complete vote, prior to the official canvassing by Council last night, but which is substantially the same as the approved returns was:

PRESIDENT—Fritsch* 1554; Schwaikart 1,101.
COMMISSIONERS—Goddard* 1,564; Koenig* 1,511; Bloodworth* 1,493; Groenig 954; Dieckrich 750; Alfes 821.

*Incumbents and reelected.

New Commission

There were fifteen candidates for Charter Commissioner, of whom nine were to be elected. These were: Belanger 2,032; Parsball 1,669; Mrs. Collins 1,520; Wehmeier 1,496; Gillett 1,449; McKean 1,439; O'Connor 1,404; Koebe 1,280; Potter 986, all elected—Burgoon 964, Walker 956, Worthy 927, Phelps 893, McHugh 891, Beitzel 775.

In the Woods in addition to electing a Village President and three Village Commissioners, the citizens also voted upon a bond issue of $81,000 for park improvement.

Bond Issue Passes

The bond issue was approved by a vote of FOR, 875; AGAINST, 294.

PRESIDENT—Alois A. Ghesquiere, who has served as Village President for the last 12 years, was reelected without opposition. His vote was 1,069.

VILLAGE COMMISSIONER—Gardner* 865; Heckendorn 828; Ratcliff* 821; Diesing 723.

*Incumbents and reelected.

Diesing was also an incumbent but was defeated by Heckendorn, the only new face in the field.

Woods May Turn City

The Woods is also examining into the proposal to convert to city status, but this issue is not yet before the people. It is now being studied by a mixed study group composed of Commissioners and citizens at large. Their findings may not come before the Village Commissioners for some time yet.

When it does and if approved by the Commissioners as advisable it will go before the people, probably at a special election.

The total vote cast in the Woods was 1,160 with one precinct yet to hear from, as to its total vote although the vote for candidates was reported and is included in the complete returns. It is estimated by the village clerk that the total vote cast, will approximate 1,250.

Better Than Park

The total registry of voters in the Woods is 4,200. This would indicate that the vote polled was about 34 per cent of the total registry, or slightly higher than that cast in the Park.

Thief Cleans Up In Park Garage

V. A. Lambrecht of 1039 Beaconsfield reported to the Park police on Sunday morning, March 12, that a thief had broken into his garage the evening before and stolen $200 worth of radio tubes and auto tools.

RIOT HEARING SET

The hearing for the youths who staged the riot on Fisher road following the basketball game at the High School on March 3 has been set for March 27.

County Outlines Health Plan

County health budget. Present salary, $6,600. This means that Dr. Davies' salary, which with allowances for car and incidentals amounts to about $6,600 a year, will be paid out of the Grosse Pointe budget of $12,000. It has been Dr. Davies' fine service as director of the School Health service that made the Grosse Pointe people so insistent on his retention. Dr. Davies, in addition to being an excellent health officer, is also a pediatric specialist.

It has been part of the understanding between Dr. Littlejohn and the Grosse Pointe communities all along that if this community demanded a more comprehensive health service from the county, the County would be met by a special assessment which would be apportioned among the several Pointe communities.

County May Pay All. The effort will be made before next December to have the county take over all of the services the Pointe demands, but if this is not accomplished the Pointe will continue to obtain such extra service, but at its own expense.

But in any event it is certain, the Pointe representatives say, that this extra cost will be much below the old township health charges.

As the matter now stands, with the approval of the several councils, the County will take over the local service on April 1 in the Defer school, with Dr. Davies continuing as a special deputy of the County department, but compensated by the Pointe communities.

When the Grosse Pointe police learned of the pickup and about the jewelry, Chief Louwers of the Park surmised it might hook up with the Carrado affair and he and Patrolman Gus Boone took Mrs. Carrado down to Detroit police headquarters for a looksee.

Mrs. Carrado, who has returned from Florida after the robbery, immediately identified the jewelry, most of which still remained in Popeshil's possession. Confronted with this, Popeshil confessed, implicating the two Lodin brothers.

They have since confessed to the attempted burglary at the home of James Passanante at 1022 Buckingham on Sept. 26 and the burglary at the Dr. I. T. Pohle resident at 1338 Audubon on September 23.

In the Passanante residence they were scared off by a burglar alarm. John Lodin said when the alarm went off he "got out of the place in two seconds flat." In the Pohle place they got several hundred dollars worth of articles and cash.

Popeshil and John Lodin are held in Detroit awaiting trial in Circuit Court and Arne is held in the Park police quarters awaiting the issuance of a warrant by the prosecuting attorney's office which will be forthcoming in a day or two, charging accessory to the act.

Memorial Center Audience Hears Stirring Patriotic Address by General Reinhart

It has been many a day since a Grosse Pointe audience has been privileged to listen to a more moving patriotic address than that delivered to a regrettably small company in the Memorial Center last Monday night by Major General Stanley E. Reinhart, U.S. Army, retired. General Reinhart is a West Point graduate and a professional soldier who has spent 35 years of his life in what he chooses to call the defense of his country.

The theme of the General's talk was national defense and, while entirely devoid of the usual flag waving and rolling sentences of the professional patriot, it gave his listeners a succession of facts concerning defense that made a powerful impact.

The Great Barrier

The great barrier against a realistic view of defense for this country lies in the state of mind of the American people, he said. Our thought is permeated with a cocksureness of our invincibility and our capacity to meet and triumph eventually over any emergency, that has accompanied us through our entire history.

We have always been prone to welcome pleasant speculation on our safety and to shrink from unpleasant facts.

luckiest country in the world in all its foreign adventures. Here, therefore, there has always been some countries to bear the brunt of the first attack or circumstances have been such as to give us time to get ready. "We have never lost a war, thanks to good luck and able allies," he said.

Toss Away Defenses
Another characteristic of Americans, in the theme of defense has been to tear down by neglect and financial starvation the magnificent preparation we had built up in our last venture. With a single exception we have never faced an impending war with anything like adequate preparation in being. That exception occurred in the instance when Louis Napoleon attempted to reestablish the monarchic system in the Western Hemisphere during our Civil War and set up Maximilian on the so-called throne of Mexico.

No Shot Fired
As soon as the war was over we moved an ample force of our well equipped and trained soldiery, which we had inherited from the Civil war, down to the Mexican border and without the firing of a shot or the placing of a foot on the soil of Mexico the French troops skeddaddled home and that settled the greatest crisis that ever faced the Monroe Doctrine. We were ready and the French Emperor knew it.

Much of General Reinhart's talk was a strong appeal for compulsory military training. Many American mothers, he said, did not want their boys to be soldiers, but it was eminently more fair to both the son and the mother if when the boy was called to military service he went out as a trained man. He had a better chance to survive. Twenty thousand of our boys died in Japanese prison camps who need not have died had we been prepared.

One a Generation
Wars are horrible, he said, but they have been coming to us, who boast of being the most peaceful people on earth, at the rate of at least one major war in every generation. We have no right to assume they will not come again.

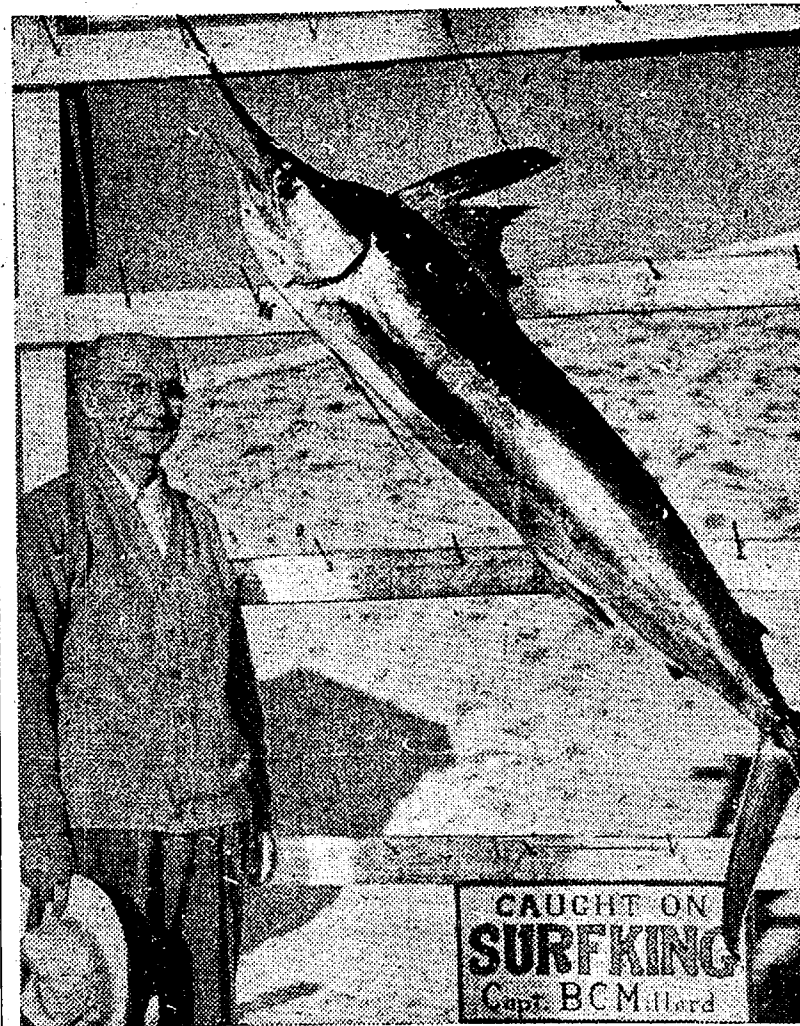

The cost of an adequate system of preparation in this country would be approximately what less than a week of war would cost us when we were forced into one illy prepared.

The General believes that the American people don in their hearts favor military training, and lays the lack of it at the doors of politicians who support an economic policy of taxing the people to make prices higher for the things they have to buy.

In Front Line
If war comes to us again, and it might easily, it will move with a faster tempo than it has heretofore. Then America will be on the first firing line and will have to remain there to live or die. There will be no allies in that day to hold the line while we get ready. When the enemy strikes it will be at our vitals and people in New York, and Washington and this arsenal of democracy can figure out for themselves what those vital spots will be.

Freedom, he said, is a precious thing, to the defense of which America should awaken before it is too late.

Padelt, of 1265 Buckingham road, landed this 77-pound 8-ounce white marlin while fishing off Baker's Haulover on the cruiser Surf King. Hit-Run Driver Gives Self Up Just as He's Identified

A hit-run driver gave himself up to the Farms police on March 12 almost simultaneously with discovery of his identity through a license plate found at the scene of the crash he had left.

Roger Drolshagen, driver for the Grosse Pointe Cab Co., reported that he was driving east on Mack near Moross early that morning when his cab was side-swiped by a car going west on Mack. The other car sped on, leaving a crumpled fender on the cab. Damage was estimated at $20.

After reporting the accident to the police and to his company,

Drolshagen went back to the scene of the crash and found the license plate. Through it the police learned the car involved in the crash was owned by J. M. Reynolds of 4957 Hillcrest, Detroit.

Before the police could make any attempt to pick up Reynolds, he had called at the cab company and admitted his guilt, and then went to the police station to confess. He said he realized he had made a great mistake, and added that a passenger in his car had urged him not to stop.

Reynolds is employed as a private detective.

Reynolds has been ordered to appear in police court in the Farms on March 22 for a hearing.

Good Gardeners All Know Simple Rules for Pruning

By VINCENT R. DePETRIS
One of the most common yet pernicious practices during the early spring months is the cutting back or "pruning" of all types of shrubs. In many instances these "pruning" methods are intended to achieve rounded topiary effects on the still dormant stems. While this practice could be condoned with hedge plants and a very few other shrubs, the practice has no rhyme or reason when applied to most of our shrubs which bloom during the months of April, May and June.

To understand why spring flowering shrubs should not be pruned before they have bloomed we must go back to the previous year. At that time after blooming these same shrubs proceed to send forth strong succulent shoots which later harden into the present year flowering branches.

Spare Those Branches
On these branches nature worked diligently throughout the summer months to build not only the branches but the embryo buds which will produce flowers this year. If therefore we proceed to prune these branches back then we will also be cutting away the ends which will in a short time develop into beautiful blossoms.

Therefore the practice of pruning these shrubs in March or early April is not only entirely wrong but it is also grotesque. Certainly the graceful curving branches laden with delightful blossoms are to be preferred over the unnatural looking trimmed shrubs with no flowers or gracefulness.

Early spring pruning should therefore be confined to the removal of dead branches and in some instances the thinning of heavy growths in order to permit light and air to develop the plant. After the shrubs have flowered is the proper time to prune these shrubs.

For Healthier Plants
You will note that new vigorous shoots are sent forth at that time. Proper pruning then will help to channel the plant nourishment to the more vigorous branches resulting in healthy plants and better blossoms for next season.

The foregoing applies to the large group of spring flowering shrubs such as Forsythia, Dentzia, Dogwood, Lilacs, Magnolias, Philadelphia (Mock Orange), Spiraea, Weigela, Flowering Quince Kolkowitza (Beauty Bush), etc.

The procedure for roses and Summer flowering shrubs is different. Generally speaking flowering buds on this class of hard wood plants are formed during late Spring on the new growths sent forth from the stems formed during the previous year.

For Better Blossoms
Pruning these types of plants therefore so that only the strongest buds will remain on each branch will permit them to receive a greater share of plant nutrients and therefore produce a better crop of blossoms.

This is possible because Summer and Fall flowering shrubs unlike the Spring blooming species will form buds on new growth the same year. This rule applies also to fruiting and berryed shrubs which mature in late Summer and Fall.

There is nothing mysterious or illogical about the formation of flower buds on plants. Each group reacts exactly the same and under circumstances surrounding environmental factors. We could not expect plants to respond differently. When this is understood it becomes a simple matter for us to understand why we should or why we should not do certain things at certain seasons of the year.

Simple Rules
Remember therefore to prune all plants which flower before the first of July after they have blossomed.

Plants which bloom from July into Fall may be pruned in the spring while still dormant provided a sufficient number of strong buds are left on each branch to develop a good crop of fruit or flowers.

Imagine skiing without snow in mid-summer? Skiers near Muskegon, Michigan, ski down sand dunes in much the same manner as winter skiing.

Avoid Removing Mulch too Early

By VINCENT R. DePETRIS
With the advent of a few days of warm weather in March our attention will be drawn to the garden and shabby border.

The first thought is that spring has arrived at last. Consequently our first impulse is to assume that cold weather is over and remove all of the mulch and covering which has protected the plants during winter. March weather is however unpredictable to say the least. Many extremely cold days may still be in store for us.

May Prove Harmful
The premature uncovering of plants which in many cases are peeping through the ground will prove extremely harmful to them with the onset of another cold wave.

In the fall it seems that we are over eager to place a protection of winter mulch on the perennial border. This mulch very often is placed much too early in the fall with harmful effects on the plants which are to be protected. Actually all that this covering is intended to do is to perform the function of maintaining dormancy once the ground is slightly frozen.

Too early removal of this mulch will expose the ground to the uncertainties of the weather and should a few days of sub-freezing weather follow the prematurely warm spring days then a serious injury would result.

Wait Until Mid-April
According to the records available in the weather bureau the average date of killing frost during the spring months is April 12. This date of course would vary somewhat according to the season. But it should remain a reliable guide year in and year out.

The best method of uncovering plants in the garden is to do this in two gradual stages with the complete removal on or about mid-April.

Don't be fooled into the belief that spring comes to us in March. In Michigan you will be safer to wait for April with its warm showers and balmy days.

Cymbals' Crash Routs Burglar

While a burglar was at work in the Imperial Cleaners at 15236 Mack avenue at 12:10 a.m. on March 12, some people across the way were unloading band instruments. A pair of cymbals falling to the ground created a noise with which the professional gentleman was unfamiliar and he went out of the place like a bat from the nether regions.

He had apparently gathered up $7.00 before the unconscious burglar alarm went off, as that amount of money was missing from the till.

Pheasant Netter Halted by Police

A woman living in Rathbone place reported to the City police on March 10 that a boy was chasing tame pheasants near her home, trying to capture them with a big net.

The City police picked up the youth, who had gotten a large net out of a box he ransacked on the municipal dock and started out to get himself some dainty meat the quiet way. The police postponed his hunt indefinitely.

Later on the same day a complaint came from the Kenneth L. Moore real estate offices on Kercheval that the same boy was prowling around the building and had boasted to the young woman in the office that he had keys to the front door of the building.

Mr. Moore ordered him out and reported the matter to the police. When they picked him up, he had a bunch of eight keys on his person, some of which fitted the various doors in the property. He told the name of the key makers he said had made them for him.

6,204 Girl Scouts went adventuring in day, troop, trip and established camping in 1949.

Baby Overcome By Fire in Park

Bernice Sider, a maid employed at 1104 Nottingham, heard screams coming from next door at 11:12 a.m. on March 9 and called the police.

They found Mrs. Helen Merckens, of 1108 Nottingham, hysterical from fright, with her infant son, Mark, aged 3, whom she had just rescued from the burning basement of their house. The child was unconscious, having been overcome by smoke.

The firemen put out the fire, which had probably been caused by the child playing with matches. He was taken to Bon Secours hospital and quickly revived, apparently none the worse for his experience.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Stair Jr. of Park lane were off to Palm Beach this week, taking with them young Nancy, Susan and Edward Douglass III, for a visit with E. D. Stair Sr. at his Winter home.

Before they left, the Stairs knew pretty well what a busy time they'll be having in the South this year. This very next Saturday morning, the family will attend dedicatory services at the Graham-Eckes School, when a new boys' dormitory will be named "Grace Stair House" honoring the memory of the late Mrs. E. D. Stair.

Ever so many Pointers who are spending the season at Palm Beach plan to be present at the service which is being held in conjunction with the school's graduation exercises. The Owen R. Skeltons, who have been at the Breakers for the past several weeks, will attend and Mr. Stair's great friends, William G. Lerchen and Murray W. Sales also will be among those present.

Ninety First Birthday

Then on the twenty ninth of the month, Mr. Stair celebrates his ninety first birthday and the Winter colony at Palm Beach never permits one of these anniversaries to pass without a veritable reception for this grand old gentleman.

The balmy days we had last week, made our thoughts turn to flowers and gardens so it was natural Mrs. Long-year Palmer's name would spring to our mind. Gardener-like, Mrs. Palmer is wishing Winter away so that she can get to the task of uncovering her own old fashioned garden for the Summer ahead. That garden is a beauty with its Betchel's crab tree (the blossoms are like tiny rose buds), flowering dog wood, weeping cherry trees, rhododendron and box hedges.

Even during these gray days, the versatile Mrs. Palmer manages to use her own flowers in the house. For instance she has a wonderful potted ivy plant which for at least six years she's been keeping in the garden during the Summer-time and bringing indoors for Winter. She clips rich tendrils from the plant placing them in a pair of rather tall, pale green Venetian glass compots so that they fall gracefully over the sides. For a dash of color, she uses blossoms from African violet plants or begonias. The compots flank a companion piece of Venetian glass . . . a low, covered bowl . . . and all in all are a lovely reminder of Spring and flowers.

Of Spring Flowers and Other Buds

For the eager gardener, Mrs. Palmer suggests forcing branches which can be done by the rank amateur among us. Simply clip branches from your forsythia bushes, bring them indoors and place in water. In only 10 days the buds will begin to appear.

The C. James McKinney's sub deb . . . that cutie, Carlotta, is home for the Spring vacation from Knox School . . . dazzling young Jimmy and sister, Baine, who consider her v-e-r-y grown-up now that she goes to boarding school (Out of Town, Too!) . . . But Carlotta isn't too grown up . . . for dates which interest her most are those in history, a subject in which she leads her classmates . . . She returns to Cooperstown on the Twenty Ninth.

Gaslight Chandeliers and Other Gay Nineties Decor Lend Authentic Notes to Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Annual St. Patrick's Day Party

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club turned back the calendar a half century when the St. Patrick's Gay Nineties Millionaires party took over last Saturday.

Authentic detailing visually recreated the lavish era—there were gaslight chandeliers, plush carpets and heavy red velvet draperies at the long windows in the main lounge.

Strolling musicians entertained during the dinner hour and the stage behind the old fashioned bar in the lounge featured continuous entertainment. The Can Can, with its honky-tonk piano accompaniment, was announced by the vaudevillian master of ceremonies and showcards kept the audience aware of its favorite performers.

Credit for the extravaganza went to Charles J. Glasgow and his committee which included Leroy Payne, James Danaher, Mrs. Elgan Fraser, Bryan Chaplow, J. Earl Fraser, Rex Regan, David T. Marantette and Anthony R. Mutschall, club entertainment chairman.

Joining Dr. and Mrs. C. Stanley Waggoner at the party were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fischer and Dr. and Mrs. Lyle Waggoner. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Fisher entertained Mrs. Fisher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Marcoux. Charles Verheyden headed a

Honor Bestowed On Mrs. Watkins

Mrs. James K. Watkins, who has spent much of her life in community activities, has been named Red Feather "Volunteer-of-the-Week" by the Central Volunteer Bureau of the Council of Social Agencies.

Mrs. Watkins, who resides at 210 Cloverly road, Grosse Pointe, has been a member of the board of the Visiting Nurse Association for many years. In addition her interest in seeing that the residents of Detroit and its suburbs get adequate health protection has led to great interest and activity as a member of the board of directors of the Detroit Council on Community Nursing, a Red Feather service of the Community Chest, which seeks to recruit student nurses and increase public knowledge on the career of nursing.

One of the pioneers in the Community Chest movement, Mrs. Watkins has been a member of the Community Chest Women's Committee for many years. She is also a member of the Tau Beta Association, which sponsors the Tau Beta Community House, a Red Feather service in Hamtramck.

"A recounting of the number of hours of social service agencies to which Mrs. Watkins has belonged is only a small indication of the interest that this outstanding volunteer has in seeing that social services meet the needs of Detroit's citizens," the Council stated.

The Central Volunteer Bureau presented Mrs. Watkins with a Red Feather lapel pin signifying her being named "Volunteer-of-the-Week."

Many of the dolls are from foreign countries representing the children of other lands, others belonged to our Great Aunt Netties. A few modern dolls are also in the collection but for the most part they are either very old with clothing made in the 19th century or dolls depicting the customs of other countries. Many are from valuable collections loaned for the occasion. Should you be a collector and would like this opportunity of displaying your family of dolls, Mrs. James Huette of Yorkshire road is in charge of arrangements.

The Park's Verdict

The voters of the Park after having repudiated in two previous elections the proposition to convert to City status adopted it on the third trial last Monday by a majority that was convincing.

Doubtless the voters were impressed by the recommendation for change to City made by a group of local legislators in whom they have confidence. This confidence was emphasized by the substantial majority they gave to three of this same group who were running for reelection to the Board of Village Commissioners.

Messrs Goddard, Bloodworth and Koenig were all members of the Council which brought the proposal before the people. These gentlemen in part predicated their reelection on their initiation of the City proposal. The net result is a vote of confidence all around.

Mr. Schweikart had based his claim for election to the Village presidency on the charge that the existing administration had raised taxes both by millage and by increased assessment more than was necessary. Mr. Schweikart did not oppose the conversion to city status and made it clear that this was not an issue in his campaign, although it was plain that if the City plan prevailed it marked the extinction of the township, of which he had been the head for many years, as a local political subdivision.

The voters in the Park were obviously more moved by the use that had been made of the public moneys than they were by the amount that had been raised.

Homer C. Fritsch, who succeeds himself as head of the village government is an outstanding business man of the community to whom the voters have given the Well Done! endorsement.

Substantial Endorsement

The charges that have been made that the State Liquor Control Commission is at least lax in the enforcement of the liquor laws finds substantial endorsement in events in Grosse Pointe.

A fatal automobile accident happened on Lake Shore road on January 21, 1949 in which it was proved that the five boys who figured in the accident had all been drinking at an establishment in St. Clair Shores known as Mikes Bar. None of the boys was of age.

After a deal of prodding the police finally cited the place to the Liquor Control Board for selling liquor to minors. This was in August 1949.

Since then the State Board has taken a nice long snooze. No report has ever been made on the matter, although the Control Board claims it has examined witnesses, etc.

The local office of the Board on Cadillac Square says it reported the matter in full to Lansing many weeks ago, and there it still lies.

The California Professors

A ruckus has broken out in the University of California between the Board of Regents and the Faculty which promises to have repercussions in our higher institutions of learning throughout the land.

The Board of Regents, composed of businessmen, bankers, agriculturists and lawyers, evidently disturbed by communist, or near communist, teachings emanating from the faculty, issued an ultimatum on Feb. 27 that faculty members must sign an oath that "I am not a member of the communist party and am not party to other agreements violating a previous oath of loyalty to the United States and state constitutions." The subscription to this oath was precedent to their being rehired after April 1.

The Herr Professors immediately raised the issue that subscription to such an oath violated the principle of "academic freedom" which to them, as with many engaged in the teaching profession, is sacrosanct.

While there is an implied measure of truth in the professors' stand, they have placed themselves in the debatable position of pleading for a freedom which is specifically denied by the very communism which tinctures the teachings of at least some of them.

It is notorious that communists on their native heath in Russia are intolerant of any teachings which do not strictly adhere to the "party line."

This intrusion on freedom of expression among those whom they control penetrates into every phase of the artistic and cultural life of their people. Repressive measures against the music composer, or even those who toot a horn, or the man with a brush or pencil producing anything from a cartoon to an oil masterpiece, are a commonplace in Russian daily life.

While there is in the abstract a large measure of sympathy with the principle of academic freedom and the broadest interpretation of this should extend to our colleges and universities which are the nurseries in the search for truth, this privilege does not extend, in the minds of the American people, to the right to encourage and abet the undermining and ultimate destruction of all freedoms.

The reluctance of the California professors to subscribe to the non-communist oath, must advance a more satisfying explanation than that it ruffles their dignity or stifles their "academic freedom."

We do not want a freedom in this country which points to intellectual suicide.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Bliss in possession will not last; Remembered joys are never past; At once the fountain, stream and sea, They were, they are, they yet shall be."

(James Montgomery)

Didja see those revolutionary styles for men in Town and Country this month? If we were a man, we'd jump at the "tuxedo-for-formal-dinner" idea. Light weight, Blue Boy color trousers; matching pleated front silk shirt... with ascot effect at the throat and a cummerbund for the middle. Looks comfortable and tres chic... but we were happy to notice that even the male models are built like anemic tennis players.

For years, we poor females have had to suffer through a routine something like this: we see a dress pictured on a model in a magazine and say to the man in our life, "Don't you think THIS dress would look good on us?" The poor unimaginative goof sez "yes" while looking at the picture of the model. Fine. We GET the dress, wear it... ask him how he likes it and what does HE say? "IS THAT THE SAME DRESS IN THE MAGAZINE?"

Now we have the turn-about that is fair play. The men modeling these new clothes are the type that make you take a second look at your husband and say "phooey." Soooooo, let the little man indulge himself... so you too can say, "Is that the SAME SUIT you showed me in the MAGAZINE?"

Another classified ad from that Canadian paper: "Cook stoves and heaters sold on ten day trial. Three loads of white snow and eight icicles. I don't know what else I have for sale. I didn't make $16,928,829 profit last year. Did YOU help?"

Doing a little eavesdropping on the bus last week, we gleaned a small item that would look well in the New Yorker. Two little women sat in front of us and obviously (from their conversation) one of them had just started on a new job as a chambermaid. She was telling her companion that when she started to make the Madame's bed, she found something queer in it! Her breathless audience (including US) bated their breaths for her next words, which were: "She had a great big board in the bed under the mattress. It darn near covered the whole bed. So I sez to her: 'Madame, there is a board in your bed!'... and you know what she said? She said, 'That's because I like nice things.' Can you beat it? Must be crazy or something."

If the producers of "The Madwoman of Chailot" ever decide to branch out into a play about a mad-MAN, we have in mind the perfect person for the lead. He has been haunting us for years... and the following is an example of his latest "heeking"... re our column last week defending cats and oppressing the press:

"Dear Pryor:
 "That was a pretty neat trap you set last week when you excoriated the press and defended a woman's right to consort with a bevy of cats.

"You may remember from previous correspondence that I have a warm feeling for the press, having once been a reporter on the Richland County (Ohio) Weekly Democrat. However, by extended observation of your column I have gained considerable insight into your methods of stirring up controversy and it is my intention to refrain from falling into a trap set to start an argument and help you fill your space during the dull lenten season.

"Moreover, I feel that you stated the defense succinctly when you remarked: "... we don't think owning cats is any crazier than... keeping a mule in your bathtub..."

"You are so right.
 "As to your beef about the press because it ragged some bag about keeping eight cats, you know newspapers will print any kind of tripe these days. I find this vividly illustrated week after week when, after reading those well-written editorials in the Grosse Pointe News, I turn my eyes slightly to the east.

"But, as I stated at the outset, I am not going to be inveigled into an argument over some dame who is crazy enough to keep a lot of cats.

CKL"

"P.S.—I find keeping a mule in the tub has its problems. When I open the window to air the bathroom, my pigeons fly out. This is nearly always fatal, as some dame next door is so crazy she keeps four hungry cats that like pigeons."

We have become acutely "tea" conscious and not because of Arthur Godfrey's Lipton program, either. The origin of this thing goes way back to our childhood when we saw a movie in which Boris Karloff (a butler), said to one of the guests, "More tea, Madame?" He hovered over the cup she held, with steaming tea pot poised for action. We, the audience, knew he had put poison in it and we died a thousand deaths before the lady said, "No, thank you!"

For years after we grew up, whenever anyone asked someone to have some tea, we had an insane desire to yell, "Don't drink it, lady." Now, through the medium of radio, tea has apparently become the national drink. We don't know why tea manufacturers ever bother to advertise. They don't need to, because every soap opera on the air advertises for them. One day this week we took to our bed with a slight sniffle and heard 27 soap operas, one after the other. In EACH one, some character would say to a suffering, (and they ALWAYS are) companion, "Let me get you a nice hot cup of tea." According to the soaps, a cup of tea is the panacea for everything from childbirth to mayhem. Nor do they bother to phrase the sentence correctly. They NEVER say "a cup of hot tea"... always a "hot cup of tea"... tsk, tsk.

Two Important Birthdays

This week of March 12 to 18 marks the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the Camp Fire Girls and the thirty-eighth of that of the Girl Scouts.

Both of these organizations have made a great record in the building up of a finer type of womanhood in America and their contribution to a better citizenry. Both teach girls in the formative years of their lives to be better homemakers and more useful citizens. With the coming of the right of franchise to a woman, her relationship to the government of the country is proportionately magnified.

The Camp Fire Girls were started by Dr. Luther Gulick with a summer camp for girls in New England, and from this small beginning it has expanded into a great organization which covers a large area in the East and is extending into the interior of the country. It has about 500,000 members in the nation.

The Girl Scout organization was started in the United States by Juliette Low in 1912. She got her inspiration from a visit in the home of General Sir Baden-Powell and saw what he was doing in building up the manhood of England with his Boy Scout organization. His observance of the inferior physique of many of the recruits in the British Army during the Boer War prompted him to start this movement for a stronger manhood, which has since grown to worldwide proportions.

Both of the girls' organizations aim also at a stronger womanhood both physically and morally.

What Goes on at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

Tomorrow being St. Patrick's Day and all 'tis a few books about the Irish, we'll be tellin' ye of today.

Stories of the good saint's life are conflicting but in his book, I FOLLOW ST. PATRICK, Oliver Gogarty's object is not biography so much as geographical history. He follows the journeys of St. Patrick as far as they are traceable at the present time. Says Shaemas O'Sheel, "There aren't many saints in the calendar whose biographies can be illuminated by the flash of humor. Appropriately St. Patrick is one of the few and this biographer is the man to savor the humor as well as the heroism of his life."

Och, 'tis a pity, it is indeed, if we've never read TWENTY YEARS A-GROWING by Maurice O'Sullivan and LOVELY IS THE LEE by Robert Gibbins.

The former is a simple tale of a lad's growing up on one of the Blasket Islands off the west coast of Ireland. Written with the charm of the native speech.

In LOVELY IS THE LEE, the author tells of a trip to the land of his birth after he is a grown man. On all sides he meets with human kindness beyond the telling. The simple people in their cottages share their fare with him and ply him with tales of fairies and legend and history. These he has woven into his story. Mr. Gibbins is eager to repay these people for the heritage of his boyhood, but he says as he leaves again for America, "It was I who became the richer. Where I dropped silver, I picked up gold."

Of course, THE CROCK OF GOLD, that classic by James Stephens, ye'll be after reading sometime, if ye've even a wee tiny drop of Irish blood.

Don Byrne was born in America, to be sure, but he grew up in Ireland. A brash young man was he, who skyrocketed to fame in the twenties but is now read infrequently. He has been derided by his critics as a synthetic or professional Irishman, yet we're thinking two of his books with real flavor of the country, should not be overlooked.

DESTINY BAY, a collection of short stories and BLIND RAFTERY AND HIS WIFE. Blind Raftery is a singer and weaver of verse. Says one Byrne enthusiast, "This book should be read aloud, if anyone does read aloud these days, that the music of its rhythm may echo like the strings of the blind singer's harp."

If it's a lift ye're wanting small blame to ye, something gay and light and amusing, ye should be after knowing that delightful Irishman, Maurice Walsh.

His DAMSEL DEBANNAIRE, set in Northern Ireland centers about the descendants of two ancient families with their castles and their blooded horses and their romances.

And if ye'd be whisked away from strikes and H. Bombs for an evening, completely, 'tis William Butler Yeats, Padraic Colum, John M. Synge, Lady Gregory and Lord Dunsany, who with their plays and their poetry and their story telling can lay the spell of Ireland on ye entirely.

If ye're thinkin' all the Irishmen are in Ireland, God rest their souls, 'tis plain to be seen ye've never read Ruth McKenney's hilarious story of her Irish grandfather, THE LOUD RED PATRICK.

'Twas Kipling who said, "For where there are Irish there's loving and fighting—and when we stop either, it's Ireland no more."

And again if there are any books 'twould please ye to have,

Dear Sir:

I have just read the interviews with candidates carried out by the League of Women Voters and published in this week's issue of the News. I think it is an excellent way of giving the public the unbiased information which will be helpful to them in casting an intelligent ballot on Monday and I want to congratulate you on your public spirit in devoting this space to this worthy cause. It is only through this kind of co-operation that we can ever hope to maintain and further good government.

Yours very sincerely,

Dear Editor: After the recent big snow storm we had occasion to drive over on Kercheval for shopping. The parking meters were all covered with snow and ice—talk about inconvenience to Farms residents—so we drove right on to the Miracle Mile shopping district. Now we read where the Farms Council is hiring, at the expense of the taxpayers, additional clerical help to handle the counting of the mopey, detail work, etc. in connection with the meters. There goes most of the profit, but we still have the inconvenience of the meters.

Nay Takes Pair of State Titles

Sports

GPHS Swimmers Get Third In Top Class at Lansing

Natators Pull Surprise in Finishing Toward Top of Heap; Jerry's Performance Rated As Outstanding Feat of Meet

Jerry Nay, Grosse Pointe's fabulous, record-breaking swim star, paced the Blue Devil natators to a three-way tie for third place in the Michigan State Class A High School swimming meet held last Saturday, March 11, at Ann Arbor, with the only individual double victory of the meet.

Nay's wins in the 100 breast and 150 individual medley chalked up 12 of the Pointers 24 points total. His was the outstanding individual performance.

Six other Pointers, Robin Hesse, John Chase, Ted Shannon, Ross Heath and Dick O'Connell, collected the other 12 points to create the three-way tie with Battle Creek and another Border Cities League school Royal Oak.

Fourth in Relay
John Chase, Ross Heath and Dick O'Connell wound up fourth in the 150-yard medley behind Lansing Eastern, which finished third but in the qualifying trials had set a new state record at 1:22.5. The new record broke the old mark of 1:22.8 set by another Lansing Eastern team a year ago.

Only Ted Shannon bettered his qualifying position. He qualified fourth and won third place honors in the finals in the evening.

Lansing Eastern Wins
Lansing Eastern won the team title with 34 points, winning the 200-yard free style relay and taking third in the 150-yard medley relay. The 18 points picked up in these two events successfully fought off the challenge of Saginaw Arthur Hill, which finished second, nine points behind the winners and one point ahead of the Devils and their third place companions.

Bay City Central finished fourth with 22 points and Monroe, one of two Border Cities League schools to beat the Devils in dual competition this year, finished fifth with 15.

Two other schools which broke into the scoring column were Jackson with 6 and Highland Park with 2 points.

Paradoxical
Just to prove anything can happen in the State meet take this into consideration. Two years ago the Blue Devils were rated a better than even chance to carry off top State honors but barely squeezed into fourth place. That was the year Coach Frank Banach took his entire squad to Ann Arbor. Now as a comparison this year Banach took only a skeleton team to the meet and wound up with a team in the money. This proves a team that has a couple of top performers can score enough points to take the title.

League Stands Out
The four Border Cities League schools that broke into the scoring column had a combined point total of 65 points as compared to all the other schools' combined total of 64 points. Thus proving the Border Cities League is one of the strongest in the State swimming circles.

33rd Division Veterans Will Meet on March 24

The Detroit Chapter of the 33rd Division War Veterans will hold its next meeting at 8:30 p.m. on Friday, March 24, in Room 5 at 704 East Jefferson avenue.

The new officers will be present and members are invited to bring their friends.

Torrid Pace Continues in Rotary Loop

Mondry Cleaners Cling to Lead with Printers and Middies Right on Heels

Just to make the chase for the bunting in the Rotary Bowling League a little more interesting, G. P. Review and Houston Bros., Inc., scored sweeps over P & J Cocktail Lounge and Motor City Tires last Friday night at the Woods Recreation. The printers moved into second place and Houston, from 8th place to 5th, only a stone's throw out of first.

Mondry Cleaners were able to down Earl Holzbaugh, 3-1, thereby holding their position at the top of the league. Mondry's position at the helm will be challenged when the printers meet up with them tomorrow night.

Middies Hang An
Middle Atl. Transp. Co. took three from the Auto Club and they too have an excellent chance to move up, should they trim P & J Cocktail Lounge tomorrow night.

Last place Kopp's Pharmacy tripped Farms Market, 3-1. Fred Kopp's good series was a big factor in this upset.

Piche's Barber Shop had another good series but Harrison Carpets were able to hold the match to a draw. Piche meets Kopp's and Harrison takes on Farms Mkt. tomorrow night. With six weeks of competition left and the teams in the league all evenly balanced, a merry chase for the cup can be expected. Any one of the first nine teams have a chance.

CDS Girls Whip 2 Convent Teams

On Friday afternoon, March 10, Country Day's Varsity basketball team emerged victorious from a hot battle with the Sacred Heart Convent. The half-time score was tied 14-14, but by the end of the third quarter Country Day had taken the lead 22-16.

The final minutes of the fourth quarter were the roughest and toughest played by C. D. S. this year. With only 1 1/2 minutes remaining Country Day was ahead 28-26. Then Starry Holland of C. D. S. was fouled. She missed her shot, but it gave the ball to Country Day. Joanie Dryden then sunk a basket which clinched the game and C. D. S. won 30-26.

Convent with 18 points. Joanie Dryden led the victors with 16 points.

The Reserves also defeated the Convent Reserves. Their half-time score was 17-7, favor of Country Day, and the final score was 27-17. The high-point girl was Denny Edgar, whose 13 points all came in the first half of the game. The Reserve guards, Carolyn Clark, Kitty Smith, and Dorothy Wood turned in their best performance of the season.

Champion Devils Conquered By Champions in Regionals

Beat Pontiac and East Detroit to Get Into Finals Against Port Huron, Title Holders of Eastern Michigan League

By FRED RUNNELLS

Grosse Pointe's Border Cities League basketball champions suffered their third loss of the season, but it took another champion to turn the trick. A tall Port Huron quintet, champion of the Eastern Michigan League, scored an impressive 53 to 42 victory to knock the Devils out of the Pontiac Class A Regional tournament in the final game last Saturday, March 11, before a jam packed mixed crowd.

Hitting with regularity from the floor and displaying an uncanny talent from the foul line the Big Red systematically ground out its all-important victory to remain in the running for the State Class A basketball crown.

Good on Foul Line
The Hurons' foul shooting attack, which was led by Lorne Walker with seven of eight tries, chalked up the remarkable total of 15 free throws out of 21 chances. On the other hand the Pointers connected with 16 of 26 charity tosses. Captain Bayard Johnson notched 9 of 11 tries.

For the first six minutes of the contest the Devils, paced by Johnson, made a game of it. In that short space of time the lead changed hands four times and was deadlocked three times. Just when the game looked like it might be one of those ding-dong affairs the roof caved in on the Devils.

Make 10 Fast Points
In quick succession the Big Reds poured in 10 points on four field goals and two free throws, to take a commanding 17 to 9 lead at the end of the first period.

The Devils, led by Bruce Allen's 5 points, closed the gap by one point in the second quarter when they matched the Big Reds field goal total and notched one more free throw than the Hurons. The Devils had 7 charity attempts while the Hurons had but 4, of which they made good on three to hold a 28 to 21 half-time advantage.

Put Game on Ice
The Hurons put the game on ice early in the third stanza when they connected for 7 field goals and 6 of 8 free throws to build up a comfortable 48 to 32 lead going into the final quarter.

Johnson paced the Pointers' third period offense with 6 points, which kept the score from becoming ridiculous. However, two Hurons, Ben Smyth and Lorne Walker, also collected 6 points apiece.

Port Huron played it cozy throughout the final quarter and was content to play "keep away" in order to protect its sizeable margin.

Fight Back Desperately
The Devils fought back desperately in the final quarter and out-scored the coasting Hurons, 10 to 5, but time ran out and so did the regional title.

Substitute Bub McCullough paced the Pointers in the last period with 4 points and was closely followed by Johnson's 3.

Johnson was a "marked man" throughout the contest, which accounts for his meager field goal total, but the Big Reds couldn't halt him at the foul line, which gave him runnerup scoring honors, with 15 points, just one point off the torrid pace set by the Hurons' Buck Fox.

Defeat Pontiac
Coach Ed Wernet's champions earned their way into the finals with a thrilling 43 to 41 win over a hot Pontiac quintet, which finished third in the strong Saginaw Valley League, and a lopsided, sloppy 57 to 20 win over an outclassed East Detroit aggregation in the second round of play.

In the Pontiac contest substitute Glenn Courey emerged the hero with his lay up shot with 5 seconds remaining.

Courey's game winning shot climaxed a torrid 10 minutes of basketball which saw the lead change hands seven times and deadlocked an equal number of times.

Pontiac Too Cocky
A cocky, self confident Pontiac quintet took the lead early in the contest and held it until three minutes and 43 seconds before the end of the third period.

At this point Al Mann, the games leading scorer with 15 points, dunked his sixth bucket of the night to tie the score at 27-all. Johnson followed with a layup shot that gave the Pointers the lead for the first time.

Pontiac's Guy Sparrow, (he led the Chiefs attack with 11 points), tied the score once more at 29-all and Bruce Allen pushed the Pointers out in front again. Sparrow once more deadlocked the count at 31-all before Al Mann notched a free throw and a field goal to give the Devils a 34 to 31 lead at the end of the third quarter. Mann's last bucket was a hair raiser. He let fly with a long shot from mid court which swished through without touching the rim as the whistle blew ending the period.

Pontiac Hopes Fade
That was just after Johnson had been banished from the game on personal fouls. When Johnson left the huge Pointe following lost all hope. But they soon began cheering with renewed effort when substitute McCullough gave the Pointers a 39 to 37 lead half way through the period after Bruce Allen had knotted the count at 37-all second earlier on two free throws.

At this point Courey pushed the Devils into a two point, 41 to 39, lead at the automatic timeout and then proceeded to break the 41-41 deadlock, created by Pinkston with one minute and 18 seconds remaining, with his game winning bucket.

Bruce Allen notched 10 points to take third place in the scoring and Johnson, despite his abbreviated appearance, connected for 9 points, which was good for a fourth place tie with Pontiac's Don Moore.

Team Deserves Praise
In view of the fact Coach Ed Wernet's Devils lost out in the regional final I believe the team should be given the highest tribute this community can afford to give.

The News is going to award every member of the team medals, as has been its practice for the past four years for any Blue Devil team winning the Border Cities League title outright.

Wouldn't it be great if some Enterprising Businessmen or organization could see its way clear to give our champions a "winners dinner" before the sparkle wears off its recently won championship?

This has never been done before but now would be as good a time as any to start.

Let's get started now. There are only 18 members of the team and 18 dinners won't break anyone.

Neighborhood Club Tourney Playoffs Near Completion

Unbeaten Grosse Pointe Valet and once beaten Riley Motors vaulted into the showdown game for the title in the Major division of the Neighborhood Club Basketball league in the Major division this week.

The Valets handed Riley Motors its defeat last Tuesday, March 14, when they pumped in three quick baskets in the final three minutes of play to win 50 to 42.

Riley Motors knocked St. Clare C.Y.O. out of the tournament with a 48 to 38 victory on Monday, March 13.

St. Clare, a week earlier, dumped Manor Bar out of the playoffs with a 41 to 38 win.

The greatest action of all three divisions took place in the Junior division with 5 games being played which boiled the four qualifiers down to two teams, Tracy Motor and Grosse Pointe Optimists.

The Optimists had a rough road to travel to reach the show down game with Tracy. On Thursday, March 9 they whipped Steiner Ford in a thrilling overtime contest 39 to 38, then followed with an easy win over Brownell, 31 to 26, on Saturday, March 11. Brownell had lost a day earlier to Tracy 31 to 26.

Tracy Motors lost a chance to capture the title on Monday, March 13, when it dropped a two point 25 to 23 decision to the Optimists.

The other game played in the Junior division last week saw Brownell whip Steiner Ford 32 to 28 on Tuesday, March 7.

The Minor division tourney is still far from finished with three teams still very much in the running. Grosse Pointe Post 303, Optimists and Tracy.

Last week the Optimists and Tracy gave the Metropolitan Club a rough time and knocked them out of the title chase. Tracy edged Metropolitan 47 to 44 on Tuesday, March 7 and the Optimists put

St. Clare Favored In Kids' Tourney

St. Clare scored a lopsided 27 to 2 victory over the Racing Devils on Friday, March 10 and followed up the following day, Saturday, March 11, with an impressive 19 to 13 win over the Spitfires, to remain unbeaten in the Kids Tourney being held at the Neighborhood Club.

St. Clare stopped the Spitfires big six foot center Langworthy cold with a meager two points. This accomplishment makes the St. Clare aggregation a slight favorite to emerge the champions.

Church League Final March 18

Christ Church, and Grosse Pointe Memorial will meet in the final scheduled game of the Inter-church basketball league at the High School on Saturday, March 18, at 10 a.m.

The outcome of this game can have two results. If Christ Church emerges the winner, these same two teams will meet the following Saturday, March 25, at the High School to determine the season champion.

Memorial won the first round championship and therefore qualifies to meet the winner of the second round of play. However, Memorial can climax the first Inter-Church League season one week early if it can subdue Christ Church. If this happens, Memorial will become not only the second round champion but the champion for the entire season.

Memorial and Christ Church were thrown together in the final scheduled game due to ineligible players found to be playing on the two leading teams, St. Clare and Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian. This turn of events disqualified both.

St. Paul Girls Win Another

By Peggy Hyde

In the third round of the C.Y.O. championship play-off games, the St. Paul girls' varsity defeated St. Casimir 28-14.

Since St. Casimir had already lost a game, this defeat automatically put them out of the running because the championship games are based on a two defeat knockout.

Guards Judy Beaupre, Beverly Labadie, Joan Hock and Mary Alor deserve much credit. Peggy Hyde and Phyllis Van Beelaere were the high scorers with 12 and 11 points respectively.

Kid Bits

By JOY PERRY

Although the weather did everything but shine last weekend Jeanne Carbett, nevertheless, had a very wonderful time. Reason number one, Friday was Jeanne's birthday. Reason number two, she gave a swell dinner devoured by Jack Corfield, her man of the evening, Jeanne Samon 'n Robin Hicks, and Patti Jones 'n Dick Ebner. After the dinner everyone removed themselves to the D.Y. C. for a few dances and then to Robin Hick's open house.

Birthdays weren't the only party occasions. Dan Randolph had one just-for-fun, the same evening as Jeanne's. Dancing and just plain having fun were Don's date, Jane Dalton, Marianne Schmit 'n Gary Long, Jane Fordon 'n Jim Barker, Mary Mohr 'n Mike Galvin, Sharon Crawford 'n Jimmy Theyer, Gail DeGursey 'n Frank Abbott, Connie Jones 'n Dave Catton, Sue Martin 'n Tom Nelson, Barbara Rose 'n Dave Hamilton, Joan Kennard 'n Larry Marr, Sally Owen 'n Kirk Walsh, any many more.

Of course, Saturday night's regional basketball game was the big event of the weekend. The game was played against Port Huron. Among G. P.H. fans leaving Pontiac with, perhaps, more than a few tears in their eyes, (score 53-42 in favor of Port Huron), were Patti Lee 'n Winnie Likert, Ann Hoffman 'n Harv Fischer, Skip Smith, Don Cory, Joe Gratzler, Gail Ashton, B. J. Hoyt, Donna Steenor, Pat Savage, Julie Hibberd, Bev. Crain, Adele Scrine, Louie Merrick, Adele Huebner, Don Gles, Judy Gehlert 'n Bill Carruthers, Jack Newman, Jane Rowe, Andy Gary and Trudy Kleiman.

A little something to celebrate St. Patrick's Day is enroute tomorrow in the form of the 'Le-prechawn's Leap' at the High School. Mary Hodges and Joan Massey are the co-chairmen of the S. A. dance and committee members assure it will provide a swell time. The music will be furnished by records, so girls and fellas, don't forget to do your sports clothes and attend.

Keeping a great number of people occupied and very excited are the preparations for the spring play, March 30-31 and April 1, at the High School. It will be presented by the Pointe Players and the object of their excitement is "Years Ago" an hilarious comedy by Ruth Gordon. The plot revolves around a stage struck young girl, played by Sue Kitson, whose father, Maurice Strong, is strongly desirous of her becoming a physical ed. teacher. Suzy Spurrier acts the role of the mother. Dan Webb is the girl's beau and Gloria Anton portrays her best girl friend. The crew knows that if the play is half as much fun as preparing for it has been, "Years Ago" will undoubtedly be a complete success.

outfit, merry as anything with its plaid lined packet... lucky for Missie R. that she learned to take the slopes in stride when she went to boarding school in the East and traveled to Placid several years with her family for Winter sports. You see Sir Jack, is a Dartmouth man, got his training on Moose Hill and skiing is definitely part of his regular winter schedule!

They tell us that the chics Mrs. Lester F. Ruwe should be returning to Willow lane in time to make the Easter parade here at home. She and Les are visiting Frederick Sweet Stearns at his Winter digs in Cat Cay as we shiver to press. Mr. Ruwe will return to the business world in another few days, leaving Mrs. Ruwe to bask a while longer in the tropical sunshine.

Now that the St. Paul basketball season has come to a close, we want to extend our thanks to the cheerleaders who helped the Flyers finish the season with the East Side title.

Wearing their red sweaters and white skirts, Marg Lynch, Carol Staub, Carolyn Floer, Marilyn Sutherland, Joan Hock, Janet Hock and Bev. Labadie always supplied the initiative that sent the crowds into unified cheering.

Mary Ann Burlingame's home was the scene of a wonderful party on Thursday, March 9. It was held in honor of Mary Lou Vernier who was celebrating her eighteenth birthday.

Upon arriving, the guests, Mary Lou and Jack Pollack, Pat Gant and Al Schweitzer, June Allard and John Kramer, Carol Staub and Pete Belanger, Marilyn Smith and Bob Hollar, Mary Ann Suhl-dreher and Frank Delloff, and Betty DiPaola and Larry Reynolds watched T-V and Played cards.

After a snack of hot dogs, brownies, and cakes, the boys departed and the girls remained for a slumber party.

Many sleepless hours later, the gals rose for a delicious pancake breakfast, served by Mary Ann's mother.

Then they boarded the bus and went downtown to top off the day with a swim at the Woman's City Club.

Friday evening, March 10, Kay Andre hosted a birthday party for Fred Baumgart.

Charlotte Klein, Joe Melton, Roseann Blondell, George Dekoske, Joan Hackenburger and John Clancy were there to watch Fred blow out the candles on his birthday cake.

Congratulations were heard all over St. Paul campus on Thursday, March 9, as Sue Sharrow and Mike Paris won the coveted symposium prizes. Now for the Convocation Awards!

On Sunday, March 12, the St. Paul High girls' varsity defeated St. Casimir 28-14. This was their third round in the CYO championship play-off games.

March Bride

Frederick Armour Morgan of Detroit and Toledo announces the marriage of his daughter MARGARET ANN to Ralph Dodge Johnson. The marriage was solemnized at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church at high noon on March 11. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will be at home at 996 Nottingham road, after March 25.

Because Detroit has won first place three times in the National Health Contest, it has been barred from future competition.

To Put Oil Coat On Holiday Road

The petition received at the Woods Council meeting on March 7 from the Holiday road section between Lochmoor boulevard and N. Renaud road, complaining about the condition of the road was placed on file.

The Clerk was instructed to notify the petitioners that the Village will, when weather permits, grade the street and treat it with oil in the same manner as other unpaved streets are cared for throughout the village.

If a permanent solution is desired the Village Commission says that a petition should be presented for the pavement of said street which in the past has been assessed on a benefit basis in the cases of local improvements.

LEADERSHIP IN DEALERSHIP

No sales organization is any stronger than its customer acceptance. In representing CHEVROLET, "America's Best Seller," we of Ray Whyte Chevrolet realize our responsibility to our customers, whose good will is the foundation of our dealership.

Our job in the community we serve does not end with the delivery of a Chevrolet. Rather, that is only where it begins. The engineering, design, manufacture, distribution and finally, delivery of "America's Best Buy" are all vital. But these alone mean little without the dealer, the local representative of the product, exerting every effort toward creating and maintaining customer satisfaction.

With this aim in view, Ray Whyte Chevrolet is determined to maintain a quality of dealership in sales and, above all, a policy of leadership in service.

Put us to the test... let us deliver your next CHEVROLET and demonstrate thereafter how quality of product can be reflected in quality of service.

In signing, it is customary to couple with the same a sentiment, being the name beneath. If the matter written is original, be it long or short, it is usually more highly valued. If a brief selection be made, some of the following quotations may be appropriate:

When I, poor elf, shall have vanished in vapor,
May still my memory live—on paper.

My album's open—Come and see!
What! Wont you waste a line on me?
Write but a thought—a word or two,
That Memory may revert to you.

When far away you're carried,
And to some little fellow married,
Remember me for friendship's sake,
And send me a piece of wedding cake.

Within the oyster-shell, unsought,
The purest crystals hide;
Trust me, you'll find a heart sincere,
Within the rough outside.

He who sedulously attends, pointedly asks, calmly speaks, cooly answers, and ceases when he has no more to say, is in the possession of some of the best requisites of man.

In the storm of life,
When you need an umbrella,
May you have to uphold it
A handsome young fellow.

GPHS Seniors Offered Photographic Service

Holding to quality portraits and featuring the values obtainable in individual sittings and finishings, Paul Gach, campus photographer, is offering a special graduation portrait service for the year's Grosse Pointe seniors. This week and pictures so taken, Mr. Gach advises, are for family and friends and should not be confused with arrangements the local school may have with Detroit photographic firms for producing mass pictures for use in school papers or annuals.

Hobo stoves and cooky sales, making Indian masks and singing around an open camp fire may have disappeared from your life but they are lending charm to that of Mrs. Byron Runde of Anita avenue who as a Camp Fire Girl group leader finds special significance in this week as the national organization celebrates its fortieth birthday.

Mrs. Runde's interest in Camp Fire activities began not too long ago when she herself was a grade school girl. (She later graduated from Grosse Pointe High.) The stories of fun at Summer camp told by a schoolmate found our Pointer of Interest packing off to Long Lake . . . way out in the country . . . where Nawakura was located.

It was all very rustic in those days and the Summer campers lived in tents, ate their meals in a great tent, carried water and washed their own dishes in huge drums over an open fire. Today, the Camp Fire girls travel to Rose Center, Mich. and Camp Wathana where all is cabin and lodge hall and every modern convenience.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Runde was taking instruction to become a leader for the Camp Fire Girls and her wedding day found her the bride of an Eagle Scout; so it was natural the Runde would pursue these interests ever after.

CAMP FIRE LEADER

The only interim Mrs. Runde's Camp Fire activities have had was when she took time out to have her own Little Camp Fire Girl. Just as soon as Sue Runde was old enough (youngest members are the Blue Birds, aged 7 to 10) the Runde household was camp-firing again.

Today Mrs. Runde leads a group of 30 Camp Fire Girls (aged 10 to 14) and Sue is a member. They meet each Tuesday in Parcels School.

The Camp Fire Girls of America were inspired by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Gulick who had a Summer camp for their own daughters and other girls at Lake Sabago in Maine. The camp was run on a plan of honor for accomplishments. A modified version is pattern of today's Camp Fire Girl Camps. Much of the symbolism, ritual and idealism has been adopted by this latter day group.

For instance the Camp Fire Song, Wahelo . . . was first used by the Gulicks as the name for their camp.

The old fashioned Indian gown of the Camp Fire Girl has been replaced by a streamlined navy skirt and bolero jacket worn with white blouse and red tie. The bolero is an important part of the costume for onto it are sewed the various awards of rank achieved by the girls.

by telling you that somehow Mrs. Runde, besides all the time she gives to Camp Fire Girls, takes a class in leather craft at Grosse Pointe High School on Thursday evenings; devotes a half day a week to work at the Millin Kindergarten school in St. Clair Shores; teaches Sunday school at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church; swims with the Women's City Club Dolphins on Wednesday afternoons; bowls with her neighbors at Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation on Friday afternoons. In the summertime she is in charge of the Day Camp for Camp Fire Girls, meeting seven times for all day camping when Indian lore including making Indian masks out of paper bags is part of the schedule.

A flame bead, symbolizing the fire on the hearth, is earned for excellence in homecrafts, brown is for outdoor craft and green stands for creative arts. Camp Fire Girls can kindle a fire but they are taught first the rules of fire prevention. They cook on little hobo stoves, made from big potato chip cans, and over the years their favorite food is the hot dog.

We were interested in the frontier rank classification in which Camp Fire Girls earn blue beads. Some of the divisions of this rank include visiting a roundhouse or railroad yard and inspecting an engine; changing a blown fuse, finding out why it blew and taking steps to prevent recurrence; operating and caring for a motorboat for 100 miles; preparing and giving a mock radio broadcast with sound effect.

The girls earn pins for service hours. Sue Runde's bolero, for instance, has the three year honor medal, service honors (some are felt or leather), the doughnut honor, the cooky honor, swimming honor and another for crafts.

This week, Mrs. Runde has been on television with four of her girls as part of the fortieth anniversary celebration. There was a special anniversary dinner for her group which is marking its own anniversary, having been founded in March.

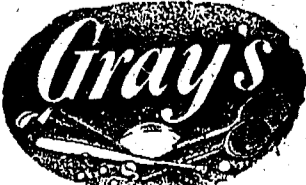

If we have implied that there is anything of the Johnnie One Note in this Pointer's interest may we erase this impression

CHEESE PUDDING

Contributed by
Mrs. Rummy Gage

- 4 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 c. milk
- 2 1/2 tsp. melted butter
- 1 c. sharp yellow cheese, grated
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- few grains cayenne
- few drops of lemon juice

Mix all these ingredients and put in buttered ring mold. Set mold in pan of hot water and place in slow oven (325 degrees) and bake until browned.

Invert mold on serving dish and fill the center with creamed mushrooms. Brown fresh mushrooms in butter and dust with flour, pepper and salt. Cook until flour is almost black. Add milk till thickened to proper consistency.

Moore to Talk To Church Clubs

Kenneth L. Moore will present his illustrated talk on "The Background of Grosse Pointe" at the combined meeting of the Cn'C Club and the U. D. C's, the youth groups of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, this Sunday evening at the church at 6 o'clock.

Mr. Moore uses specially prepared slides showing prominent Grosse Pointe homes, clubs, and private buildings. The maps of the territory and drawings help bring to life Grosse Pointe's history. Mr. Moore has made a deeper study of the Grosse Pointe past than any other person in the community, and is one of the original proponents of the local historical society which was organized in the spring of 1945.

The youth groups of the church have invited their parents and friends to hear Mr. Moore. An informal evening will follow the talk with a family fun program arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Morgan, the adult sponsors of the Cn'C Club.

Pointe Counter Points

Any little trace of sunshine and Spring turns Pointers' thoughts to the long, sunny days ahead and naturally the "Wot'll I Wear" question comes up. JACOBSON'S is ready with millyuns of denim play clothes to suit every informal occasion should it take you to the beach, a cruise on the lake, picnic or just gardening at home. The denims are divinely colored in sand, aqua, faded blue or sh'fimp and they come in separates to be matched up according to your need, milady.

There are three kinds of skirts (one with beeg patch pockets, another with slits pocket and another that buttons down the front); shirts, Big Boss jackets, three types of shorts (Bermuda, conventional or pedal pusher), halters AND matching caps.

These North Shore fashions are ideal for Grosse Pointe life and you'll love them to death when you realize that being sanforized they are safely tubbable and so expertly tailored that they retain their trim shape forever. The Big Boss jackets, tres chic, are butcher boy type with little turn-down collars and contrasting buttons for color interest. The other day, all ages of Pointers were in the sportswear department at JACOBSON'S, really going to town and ordering the denim play togs like everything.
