Blasting Operations Clear Way For New CSYC Harbor

—Picture by Fred Runnells

Unbeknown to Lake Shore Drive residents in the vicinity of Crescent Sail Y. C., blasting operations have been going on for the past week to clear away the old seawall that was knocked out last March. Extensive repair plans have been formulated and officials of the Howie Corporation promise to have the $27,000 project completed near the end of July. The new harbor will accommodate about 15 more spaces for boats than the old harbor.

Richard Forsyth Also Placed on Probation for Long Time for Breaking Windows

17-year-old Richard A. Forsyth, of 492, Rivard boulevard, appeared before the Wayne County Probate Court June 16, to answer a charge of malicious destruction of property. The charge stemmed from a spree after midnight March 29, during which Forsyth smashed nearly 150 window panes in the Grosse Pointe High School building. Forsyth had confessed responsibility for the vandalism to school authorities and Farms police after he had been implicated through a tip that followed announcement of a $50 reward offered by the School Board.

First Trouble
Forsyth had never before been in any trouble whatsoever, authorities said. After his confession, the belief remained in some quarters that he was shielding others and was not solely responsible.

The court placed Forsyth on probation until his nineteenth birthday and ordered restitution of costs ($294) to the School Board.

Thief Held in $1,000 Bail Following Capture in Park

City police officers Deraedt and Elworthy chased a speeder into Grosse Pointe Park one night last week, ticketed him, and as they were about to resume their patrol, were stopped by a woman at the corner of Edgemont Park on Jefferson avenue. She complained of a suspicious man roaming the street.

Deraedt and Elworthy cruised down Edgemont, were stopped again by a resident and were told of a man who had just disappeared up one of the driveways. Elworthy ran to the back of the house and arrested Henry C. O'Dell, aged 58, who could give no present address. A search of his person uncovered a pin-

Plan to Have Entire Facilities of Beach Park in Use by July 4 Holiday Weekend; Julie Ford's Swimming Classes Started

Activities at the Farms municipal beach park are rapidly nearing the full summer peak schedule. It is expected that by the July 4 weekend everything will be in full operation. Swimming has been going on at the park for several weeks under the supervision of a full staff of seven life guards who have an average of three seasonal years of service with the city.

The contractors completed the work of encasing the outside of the pier with steel sheeting on Monday morning. Top planking will now be replaced and the diving boards installed. Murray Smith, city engineer, stated that it is hoped to have the bath house all ready for use by the holiday.

Julie Ford Returns
Julie Ford, popular swimming instructor at the beach, began her classes on Monday. The program, open to all Farms children under 14 years of age, will last for eight weeks. Free instructions are given from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., Monday through Friday.

There are hourly classes meeting on Monday and Wednesday, and on Tuesday and Thursday. Friday has been reserved for advanced swimming and diving classes.

Student at M. S. C.
Miss Ford, a Red Cross instructor, has just completed her junior year at Michigan State College and will resume her studies there in the fall. She taught life saving to college freshmen and has been swimming instructor at a number of camps in the past.

With an unusual amount of maintenance work to be done at the pier, the crew of workers point flashlight, hack saw, chisel, pliers, canvas gloves, a knife and skeleton key.

Deraedt and Elworthy turned O'Dell over to the Grosse Pointe Park Detective Bureau for investigation. He was identified as a known burglar who had served sentences in Dallas, Texas and Leavenworth, and was wanted in Miami, Florida. The police obtained a warrant charging O'Dell, who they discovered has five or six aliases, with possession of burglar tools.
O'Dell pleaded not guilty before Judge C. Joseph Belanger on June 20, waived examination and was bound over to the next session of the Circuit Court. He is now being held at the Wayne County Jail under a $10,000 bond.

Find Cases Of Suspected Elm Disease

Samples Taken From Trees in City and Farms and Sent to East Lansing

The survey being conducted by state officials of all elms in the Pointe has uncovered a number of suspected cases of the Dutch Elm disease. No actual cases can be confirmed until samples taken have been examined in the state laboratories in East Lansing.

The City of Grosse Pointe is the first municipality in which the survey has been completed. Norbert Neff, city clerk, stated Tuesday that nine trees in seven different locations there have been tagged as definite suspects. Samples have been taken from each and sent to East Lansing. It is expected to be a week or two before the results of the examinations will be revealed.

Clerk Harry Furton of the Farms also stated that some very suspicious cases have been discovered in the survey in that municipality.

Young Marksmen Score Near Miss

A .32 calibre bullet crashed through the rear window of a Neff road home June 18, narrowly missing Mrs. Bessie Callas. Sergeant Andy Teetaert of the Grosse Pointe City police conducted the investigation that led to the apprehension of two juvenile boys who had fired the shot from a rifle while "target practicing."

The boys were severely reprimanded and placed on a temporary probation basis. Restitution for damages was made by the parents of the two youths.

The gate attendant at the City of Grosse Pointe's waterfront park reported to City police officers that a 15-year-old boy had left a .32 calibre Smith and Wesson revolver with him while the youngster had gone in swimming.

Police picked the youth up and issued a warning. Chief of Police Thomas Trombly said the gun would be destroyed.

TWO CARS TANGLE

The car belonging to Andrew Roberts, Jr., of 5037 Lodwyck, Detroit, was damaged to the tune of about $40, on Saturday, June 21, when Dominic Sant, 6639 McClellan, pulled from the curb into Roberts' left rear door and fender, as he was driving south on Cloverly Road. About $10 damage was done to Sant's car.

Farms Requests Cooperation To Maintain Water Pressure

Residents of the City, Farms and Shores have been asked by the Farms to co-operate in the conservation of water main capacity during the summer months.
As was stated in the NEWS last week, there is no water shortage in either of these three municipalities which the Farms pumping station supplies. The water is drawn from Lake St. Clair and the pumping facilities are considered adequate for many years to come.
The mains are too small to hold a sufficient capacity to maintain full pressure during dry periods when many residents are watering their lawns and gardens.

Need $18,000 To Carry on Another Year

Hope to Add Many More Families to the 2100 Now Contributing Regularly

The War Memorial Center launches its annual campaign for funds this week with the mailing out of solicitations to every resident of the Pointe. No personal canvass is planned this year and it is hoped the response to the direct mail plea will produce the $18,000 needed to carry on the Center program.

Pledge cards were signed in last year's campaign by some 2,100 Pointe families who indicated they would be willing to make annual contributions for the maintenance and operation of the Center. Drive officials believe that many more of the community's 10,000 families will be added to the Center's supporters in the current drive.

Must Have $18,000
The $18,000 goal is the minimum amount required to carry on the present program and facilities and provide even greater service to the Pointe and all its residents.

The Center is operating under a budget of $58,000, split under five separate headings: House maintenance and operation, salaries, $22,000; Building repairs and improvements, $9,000; Gardens, grounds and flood control $5,500; Program expenses, food, program activities, advertising and promotion, $16,000; Administrative expenses and office salaries, $5,500.

Anticipated Receipts
Anticipated receipts include: Program activities, $14,000; Receipts from services supplied, $12,000; Dividends and interest from investments, $7,000; Special maintenance contributions (from 14 families who contribute $500 each annually), $7,000. This leaves $18,000 which must be raised in the current campaign.

There were 953 group meetings held at the Center in the 1951-52 season, with more than 36,777 persons attending. With the Center open 48 weeks of the year, five days per week, this means there was an average attendance of 153 persons per day and 3.4 meetings per day.

19,000 Ate There
More than 19,000 luncheons, teas and dinners were served. Special activities have included art exhibits, lectures, musicals, concerts and recitals, dances, ballet programs, theatrical presentations, artists' ballet and ballroom dancers' classes, Red Cross classes, two visits of the Red Cross Mobile Blood Unit, and Memorial and Armistice Day services.

The Center has become the headquarters for scores of organizations which hold their meetings and social events there. A wide variety of activities are sponsored by the Center itself, providing a great program of cultural, educational and entertainment events.

Ask All to Cooperate
The campaign officials earnestly request the cooperation of all residents in making the drive a success so it will not be necessary to carry on another personal solicitation by teams of canvassers. All those who feel the Center is filling a need in the community are urged to send in their contributions promptly.

Checks should be made to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association and addressed to 32 Lake Shore Road, Grosse Pointe 30, Mich.

Stranger Returns Wifely Greeting

While washing in the basement of her home at 723 Barrington last week, Mrs. E. J. Strata heard the side door open upstairs and called, "Is that you, dear?" The warm, familiar reply came back, "Yes." But when Mrs. Strata went up, there was no one there.
When Mr. Strata came home that evening, he explained that it had not been he. It was then that Mrs. Strata notified the police. A check through the house proved nothing had been taken, however.

Historic Millstone Given To War Memorial Center

The historic millstone which forms the hub of the new trial gardens created at the War Memorial Center this spring, was formally presented to the Center at a ceremony on Friday afternoon, June 20.

The history of the stone is best explained by George Lauffoff of Audubon road, Detroit, who delivered the following address in making the presentation.

Ladies and Gentlemen
It is a great pleasure to be with you today at the presentation of the Original Windmill Pointe Mill Stone to the Grosse Pointe Historical Society on behalf of the other members of the Lauffoff Family and myself. I should like to tell you briefly of the history of this mill stone and about our possession of it. However, before getting into the subject, I feel that I should tell you that Mr. Norbert Neff's persistence was greatly instrumental in promoting the return of this mill stone back to the shore of Lake St. Clair after all these years.

As to the Stone itself, it is of a fine, extremely hard grade of Granite that is found only in France. Just when this Stone was brought over can only be a matter of conjecture, but undoubtedly it was brought over to Windmill Pointe in the years before 1763 when this territory was still under French Dominion. The actual transportation of this Stone to the New World must have constituted quite a problem, when one considers the type of equipment they used in those days plus the fact that this stone weighs over one and one half tons.

There are few early records of Windmill Pointe, and they mostly relate to the famous Battle in 1712 when the French with their Indian Allies defeated the Fox Indians, killing over 1,000 of them and virtually wiping out the Fox

Indian Tribe. Detailed facts relating to this phase of Windmill Pointe's history based on French Government Colonial Archives are on file in the Detroit Public Library in the form of a pamphlet issued by General Cass during his lifetime.

Regarding the windmill on Windmill Pointe, we have less facts to go on. However, since the mouth of the river where Lake St. Clair empties into it would be a logical place for a windmill, plus the fact that for generations this place was known as Windmill Pointe, we therefore must conclude that sometime after the Indian Battle a French Settler did erect a windmill. Further, this windmill was constructed of stone, as inhabitants of this area of a century ago have left tales of an abandoned "haunted" Stone Mill standing on Windmill Pointe. These stories are recounted in a pamphlet written by Mr. O. J. Mulford that was published in 1930 and makes very interesting reading.

My family entered into the Windmill Pointe Saga when one day in 1885 a very old man drove up in front of our plant on Chene street with a horse and wagon on which were loaded two mill stones. The two stones differed from conventional mill stones in that they were cut somewhat different than was the American method at that time, and secondly they were of a greenish, mossy hue such as a stone takes on when it has lain undisturbed in quiet water.

The old man said that he wished to sell these two stones and that he would take ten dollars each for them. My father, who was in the mill machinery manufacturing business then even as we continue to be today, replying to the old man's offer raised the question of the color of the stones and the way that they were cut. The old man then told this following story to my father: That first he was the son of the miller who ran the mill at Windmill Pointe; that his father was a loyal American of French ancestry and had among other things an intense hatred for the British. When the British captured Detroit from the Americans in 1812, his father heard of it and was determined that his windmill would not grind grist for the British soldiers.

He, therefore, with the assistance of unidentified help, undoubtedly neighbors, removed them on an improvised raft of logs and went out into the lake and pushed the stones overboard into about three feet of water. The next day a group of British soldiers arrived at the mill in quest of grist, but finding the mill without stones they turned back to Detroit.

Whether or not the mill was re-opened for operation after the war of 1812 the old man did not say. But he did say that he eventually located the hidden stones on the lake bottom and recovered them with the help of a team of horses, and that these were the stones he wished to sell.

Well needless to say, my father did buy the stones. Also during the years since 1885 he had various opportunities to sell them. He, of course, stoutly refused to sell them and I overheard him say on one occasion that he couldn't sell them as they were part of the history of this region and you just shouldn't sell historical objects.

In closing, I would like to state that the facts that I have set before you today regarding the old mill stone are to the best of my knowledge and belief, true and correct; that this old mill stone is one of the two original Windmill Pointe Stones. Further, it is my hope and that of my family in presenting this relic of the War of 1812 to your memorial center that as it provided grist for food to past generations it may provide grist for thought to this and future generations. I thank you.

Thief Discovers Keys Left In Car

E. J. Tyson, of 815 Grand Marais, reported his car stolen on June 23. His son, Bill, who had been using the car, had parked it on Mack avenue while in Howard Johnson's restaurant shortly after midnight of the previous day. He told the police that he had left the car keys on top of the dashboard.

Marine Hospital Host at Meeting

The U. S. Public Health Service Hospital of Detroit, known to Pointers as Marine Hospital, representing the local chapter of the U. S. Public Health Service Clinical Society, sponsored the sixth annual meeting of the group on June 5, 6 and 7.

Well attended by members of the Public Health Service coming from all parts of the United States, the meetings were opened with a welcoming address by Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Other dignitaries included Dr. Jack Nasur, Assistant Surgeon General and Chief of the Bureau of Medical Services, USPHS, and Dr. G. H. Hunt, Associate Chief of the Bureau of Medical Services, USPHS.

The opening day was largely devoted to business meetings and the selection of new officers. Elected to the office of President was Dr. Robert A. Scroggie, of Lexington, Kentucky, was voted vice-president, and Dr. John F. Lowney, of Baltimore, Maryland, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Following the close of the business sessions, numerous scientific papers were presented by doctors representing the various Public Health Service stations across the country.

A banquet, held on Friday evening, June 6, with Edgar A. Guest as speaker, proved extremely enjoyable to all who attended.

Mid-day luncheons were served by the local Gray Lady Chapter of the American Red Cross, and activities were brought to a close on Saturday evening with a buffet supper-dance.

Many of us make ourselves unhappy by watching the other fellow get what we think we deserve.

Federalists End Reorganization

The Pointe chapter of the United World Federalists has completed its reorganization, which was started last March. A new executive council has been formed and meets the third Monday of each month.

The following officers have been elected: John C. Chapin, chairman; Mrs. Albert B. Hartz, recording secretary; Mrs. Carl B. Grawn, treasurer.

In addition, an executive committee was established to advise the officers on policy matters between executive council meetings. The seven men serving on this committee are: T. T. Johnson, Greene Fenley, Jr., Nelson McCormick, James K. Watkins, Douglas Campbell, Jr., John Chapin and Thomas Tilley.

Four permanent committees with chairmen were set up to insure the continual functioning of Chapter activities—Membership, Thomas Tilley, Public Relations and Publicity, Mrs. William E. Lane; Public Education, Mrs. Haldeman Finine; National Affairs and Political Action, David Mills.

The State Advisory Board, formed last year following the presentation of the "Myth" to stimulate interest in world government among members of the business community and to work toward the formation of a state branch, met on Wednesday, June 18 with the executive committee.

Instruction to the Chapter's delegate to the National Convention and plans for future UFW work in Michigan constituted the agenda.

The UFW National Convention was held June 20 to June 22 in Philadelphia. Douglas Campbell, Jr., attended as the delegate of the Grosse Pointe Chapter.

Mrs. Thomas Tilley has accepted the position of Staff Secretary, and as soon as office space is located, a telephone for UFW will be installed.

The National Affairs and Political Action Committee has classified all pertinent literature. This is now available upon request from David Mills (TU 1-0049.)

A specific program for the coming year is being worked out this summer. Much emphasis will be placed on public education and a membership drive as the implements to make more effective political action in this critical election year.

"Most-Wanted" of Them All!

It will probably occasion no surprise on your part to be told that the Cadillac car is the most wanted and sought-after automobile on the American highways.

But you might be surprised to learn how widespread the desire to own this great motor car has become.

Statistics indicate, for instance, that there are more than twenty million motorists in America who would like to call a Cadillac their own. And were the whole of the world's motorists to be taken into consideration, this number would grow well-high beyond comprehension.

There is reason to believe, in fact, that Cadillac may be wanted by more people than any other product manufactured in America today. It might well be called the great desideratum of the American people.

Naturally, a motor car has to offer many wonderful things in order to occupy such a unique position in the hopes and aspirations of so many persons.

In order to be so universally accepted as the "car of cars," it has to be instantly recognizable as the "car of cars." And so, it has to offer—great beauty!

In order to have created so enduring an impression on so many motorists, it would also have to act like the "car of cars." And that means it must offer—brilliant performance!

In order to have become the logical ambition of so many millions, it would have to be practical to own, as well as wonderful to drive. And so, it would have to offer—extraordinary economy!

And finally, to be admired so highly by so many, it would have to offer wonderful prestige! On every street and highway in the world, it would have to be a testimonial to the taste and standing of the person at its wheel.

If this sounds like the description of the car that you, yourself, would like to own and drive, then come in and see us—soon.

Perhaps the time has come for you to join the hundreds of thousands of motorists who have stopped wanting a Cadillac—and started enjoying one!

We'd be happy to see you any time.

Maid's Husband Engineers Theft

Returning from a four-day trip with his family last Monday, George Maghielse found that his home had been robbed of $270 in cash and a diamond ring valued at nearly $800.

Investigation by Detective Sergeants Stanley Enders and Arnold Hough of the Grosse Pointe Park police department led to the arrest of Earl Sexton, of 4438 Vinewood, husband of the maid employed by the Maghielses. Sexton was picked up Monday in the neighborhood of his home. Subsequent investigation disclosed that the robbery had been committed three days earlier, and that Sexton had planned to skip town, taking his wife, Dolly, with him. Instead she cooperated with the police and was exonerated of all implication.

The police learned that Sexton, who has many aliases, had previously been involved in a bad check count and larcenies. He is wanted by both the Detroit police and St. Louis police on these charges.

Reckless Drivers Pay Up In Court

Of the ten defendants scheduled to appear before Judge C. Joseph Belanger at the Grosse Pointe Park Municipal court session June 18, only seven were present. Three, Nils J. Carlson, 5050 Cass, William L. White, 2234 Madison, and Mildred H. Runstadler, of 11701 Nottingham, forfeited bonds between $10 and $15 when they failed to appear to answer traffic violation charges.

Michael L. Green, of 326 Piper, received a fine of $6 for disobeying the signal light at the intersection of Vernor and Nottingham. Fined $5 apiece for the same violation were Serena A. Henry, 191 Ridge road, and Robert L. Rousseau, 1130 Balfour.

For speeding on Maryland, Abe Nichols, of 3540 Superior, was fined $15.

For disobeying the traffic light at Jefferson and Wayburn, Carius Morgan, 941 Navahoe, was fined $10.

A fine of $7 was placed against Frank Lee, 645 St. Clair, Detroit, for making a left turn against a red light.

Helen L. Siebert, of Clawson, Michigan, received a fine of $5 for an accident at the corner of St. Paul and Audubon, May 21.

Sparkler Causes $2,000 Damages

Grosse Pointe Farms firemen fought a blazing attic for over an hour and a half last Thursday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Simkow, at 71 Muir road.

A crowd of at least 50 people lined the street outside and watched firemen swarm through the house and over the roof in an attempt to bring the flames under control.

Responsible for the blaze which resulted in approximately $2,000 damage were two young boys, 9 and 10 years old, who, police said, had shot a burning "sparkler" firecracker onto the roof with a bow and arrow. The "sparkler" had rolled down and lodged in the rain gutter, setting fire to the shingles.

Frightened at what they had done, the boys told one of the Simkow's neighbors who notified the fire department. No one had been in the house at the time, police said.

His Free Ride Costs Him $30

Walter L. Dean, 24, of 944 Beach avenue, Detroit, told Woods police that he had been "rolled" early in the morning of June 21 by two men who had offered him a ride home from downtown.

A Grosse Pointe cab driver found Dean wandering along Mack and took him to the police station.

Dean said the men had driven him to the corner of Vernier on Mack avenue where they dumped him after beating him up and robbing him of $30.

He was unable to offer any identification of the men.

A three-car crackup resulted on Thursday, June 19, when Roy D. Edwards lost control of his automobile while driving west on Lake Shore road. He collided with Mrs. Ruby Hobbs, 15114 Kercheval avenue.

Mrs. Hobbs' automobile swerved under the impact and smashed into a third car driven by Felix Sands, of 27803 Reuhle, St. Clair Shores.

Edwards, who lives at 22046 Tuscany, was ticketed by Grosse Pointe Farms police, along with Mrs. Hobbs, for not having his car under control.

Welcome to New Teachers

Because of the growth of the Grosse Pointe community and the subsequent increased enrollment in the public schools, the Grosse Pointe School Board has made some 50 appointments to the different faculties.

These appointments have also been made because of the need to replace those teachers leaving the Public School system for reason of transfer or retirement.

By way of introduction to the parents of children who will attend or who are now attending the public schools, the NEWS is publishing weekly short biographies of those whose appointments have been confirmed. During the coming months until school reopens in the fall, the biographies of new teachers will appear in each issue.

Miss Jane Gullett was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, graduated from the public schools of Moorestown, New Jersey, and received her B. A. from New Jersey Teachers College. She later received her M. A. from Temple University in Philadelphia.

During the past five years she has taught in New Jersey schools, and next fall will teach the fourth grade at the Mason School.

her M.A. at the University of Michigan this summer.

She was born in Pinckney, Michigan, attended Michigan State Normal College, and has received her Bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan. During the past four years, she has taught high school in Mt. Morris, Michigan.

Next fall MISS SALLY FISHER will teach vocal music at the Parcels School. Born in Evanston, Illinois, she graduated from the public schools there, later received her Bachelor's degree in music from the University of Indiana.

Miss Fisher has also studied at Colorado University and the National Teachers College. She has taken graduate work at Northwestern University.

While at the University of Indiana, she earned a teaching fellowship in vocal music.

MISS JEAN PALAZZOLO has received appointment to the faculty of the Monteith School where she will teach the third grade beginning in the fall.

Born in Chicago, she is a graduate of Detroit public schools. She will receive her degree in Elementary Education from the Michigan State College in August.

Born in Beaver, Pennsylvania, THOMAS J. MOORE graduated from the public schools of Kadiz, Ohio, and received his Bachelor's degree in Education from Ohio State University. He also received his M.A. from Ohio State and has completed a major portion of his Doctor of Education degree at the Chicago Music College.

He has taught in the public schools of several Ohio communities, and at Murray State Teachers College in Kentucky and Mt. Union College in Ohio. Mr. Moore will teach at the Monteith School next fall.

DRIVERS SETTLE CRASH

The left rear door and fender of the car driven by W. A. Murfey, of Roseville, Michigan, were caved in on Saturday, June 21, when Mrs. Edna E. Smitz, of 4151 Gray, Detroit, turned onto Mack Avenue from East Warren and into the side of his car. Settlement was reached between the two parties, Farms police said. No tickets were issued.

MISS JANETH LAMONT is a graduate of the public schools of Battle Creek, Michigan, where she is now living. She received her Bachelor's degree from Michigan State College this June, and next fall will teach the primary grades at Kerby School.

TWO ACCOUNTANTS HONORED

Two Grosse Pointe certified public accountants have been elected members of the American Institute of Accountants, national professional society of CPAs. They are Donald W. Graham of 842 Harcourt road and Robert S. Hall of 1388 Yorkshire road.

Traffic Cases Heard in City

Judge Leslie P. Young disposed of three cases and adjourned one to a later date at the municipal court session of the City of Grosse Pointe on Monday evening, June 23.

David C. Watson, 1512 Roslyn was fined $10 and charged court costs of $5 for reckless driving. Found not guilty of reckless driving charges were Arthur B. Schultz, of 4132 Dubois, Detroit, and Jerome H. LaChapelle, of 523 Barrington.

The hearing on charges of disturbing the peace against Evelyn Margee, of 816 Washington, was adjourned until July 28.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Scherberhorn

Weddings . . . farewell parties . . . shots . . . and packing household effects for a trip across the ocean . . . Only added to the sparkle of Mrs. Joseph Sullivan's eyes . . .

The former Pointer with her Major General husband . . . has been making her home at Fort Monroe, Va. for the past few years . . . and after this quick trip back "home" . . . she's off again . . .

To join Gen. Sullivan in Tokyo where he has joined Gen. Mark Clark . . . She'll board an army transport in San Francisco this Friday . . . and arrive at her new home (for at least two years) on July 9. . . .

Journey To The Orient

Slim and pretty and young looking . . . Mrs. Sullivan definitely recommends the military life . . . (we don't mean shootin' war but the marvelous people who are career soldiers) . . .

This will be her first trip to the Orient . . . And when we talked to her just before she left . . . we knew it would be a dazzling one . . . if only for all the zest she takes with her across the Pacific . . . (Incidentally . . . GP NEWS will follow Missie S. to Tokyo) . . .

They've Sold California

We just kept missing the Frederick W. Richardsons during their brief stay in the Pointe (they headquartered at the Whittier but spent l-i-t-t-l-e time there . . .)

We have full report though that both look simply wonderful . . . and most of their friends have put down "Los Angeles" (their home, now) for the next real trip to regain pep and sparkle . . . Just because the Richardsons look so wonderful . . .

Lobsters and Class Reunions

For a gal who's supposed to cover Grosse Pointe we've been spending an awful lot of time between here and Bloomfield . . .

It all started with the barbecue supper the Phil Mosese gave for Muriel and Joe Maiullo before they left for Boston . . .

Joe to attend his class reunion at Harvard . . . while Muriel revelled in a family reunion (with mother, Mrs. John J. O'Connor of Chestnut Hill, Mass.) to be properly spoiled with lobster three times a day . . .

Betty Moses, Joe's sister, and Phil have a charming ranch house outside of Birmingham . . . where also dwell the magnificent French poodle (a silver one) Flossie and her seven little silver nosed puppies . . .

The family are making ready to take off . . . and other members of the Maiullios are home now . . . who with the dimpled darlings, Lynn Ann, Patricia Ann and Barbara Ann (Continued on Page 9)

Short and to the Pointe

Makes Bow at Little Club

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Joy, Jr., of Provençal road and their daughter, Susie, whom they presented to society at a nautical party in the Grosse Pointe Club last Saturday night.

Former Pointer, MR. and MRS. ALBERT BRADLEY of Greenwich, Conn. were recent guests in the Pointe. There were a number of parties honoring them during their visit.

Before their departure for Connecticut, Mrs. Bradley and MRS. HARLEY J. EARL went down to Dayton to spend a couple of days with MRS. RICHARD GRANT at Normandy Farms.

Which reminds us that MRS. GEORGE RIEDEL, formerly of Buenos Aires and now of Green Farms, Conn. and her daughter, MARY, are houseguests of MR. and MRS. EARL in their Touraine road home.

Also with the Earls this summer is their daughter-in-law, MRS. JAMES M. EARL and her infant son, HARLEY EARL II who'll be Pointers until PRIVATE EARL returns from his overseas duty.

This is certainly the Summer for old family Detroiters to pay a visit. Right now you'll see STEPHEN HARTNELL about the Pointe. He's stopping at the Detroit Athletic Club but spending much time with his niece MRS. M. ROBERT OLP of Harvard road and MR. OLP.

Mr. Hartnell now makes his home in Baltimore, Md. His summer visit to his native town finds him taking great delight in telling grandniece MARY JO what really WERE the famous landmarks of the Pointe.

Seems to us we've never had a friend in the hospital who didn't complain of the trays. That may be the pet pastime of patients on the mend; on the other hand it could have some justification.

Well, all this is to tell you that next autumn the situation will be well under control for a lovely little Pointer, HARRIET COTTON, will begin her internship in dietetics at Henry Ford Hospital.

Harriet graduated the ninth of the month from Miami University. Right now, though, she's Summering at Bayview Inn near Petoskey.

The young authority on calories is the daughter of MR. and MRS. HAROLD M. COTTON of Fisher road.

MARK OTIS SCHROEDER arrived j-u-s-t in time for Father's Day. He was born June 12 to MR. and MRS. OTIS JOHN SCHROEDER (Marjorie Cadieux) of Lancaster road. That incidentally was just four days before his father's birthday, too!

MR. and MRS. SHIRLEY GEORGI of Berkshire road, with their son, NEAL and daughters, MARILYN and SHARON, will pay a July visit to Rochester, Minn. and Mrs. Georgi's brother-in-law and sister, DR. and MRS. JOHN LILLIE.

One of the most thriving lemonade stands at the Pointe is to be found at Berkshire and East

Jefferson from 2 to 5 these Summer afternoons.

The young manager is TOM WAYLETT, who lives on Berkshire (he and his mama make the old fashioned lemonade which quenches thirst for the hot and tired motorists) and his helpers are his contemporaries, TOM and PETE SMITH.

It's a first of July departure for MR. and MRS. J. FRAZER WHITEHEAD of Roosevelt place who with SUSAN and GEORGE, will head for their Summer home at Les Cheneaux.

There was a houseguest at the ROY D. CHAPIN home on the Lake Shore last week-end: CAROLINE McNERNEY of New York City who visited MARIAN CHAPIN.

MRS. FRANCIS A. GOODHUE JR. and her young son, who have been visiting her mother, MRS. ERNEST BRIER of Touraine road, left Wednesday with MR. GOODHUE for a holiday at Gloucester, Mass., before returning to their New York home.

The TOM PADDOCKS have taken a cottage at Goose Rocks, Me. for the month of July. Their daughter, MRS. ROBERT KERR and her tots, of Short Hills, N.J. will be with them this summer, MR. KERR joining his family weekends.

MRS. HENRY B. JOY and THE HENRY B. JOYS JR. entertain-

PEGGY LYNCH, of Bishop road, junior at Michigan State College, has been elected corresponding secretary of the M.S.C. chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma, social sorority.

CAROLYN JONES, of Anita avenue, junior at Michigan State College, has been elected vice-president of the M.S.C. chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha, social sorority.

MR. and MRS. EDWARD CHARLES MEILLER announce the birth of a son, EDWARD CHARLES, III, on June 15. Mrs. Meiller is the former IRENE MARJORIE FRANZEN, daughter of MR. and MRS. TORE FRANZEN of Nottingham road. Mr. and Mrs. Meiller, formerly of Burlingame, Cal., are visiting her parents here and will move into their own Pointe residence in the near future.

ROBERT W. THOMPSON of Devonshire road was among the graduates receiving degrees at the commencement exercises of the College of the University of Chicago on June 13.

HERMAN SARTORINS of New York City has returned home after spending five days as the guest of MRS. RICHARD P. JOY, SR., of Lake Shore road.

JANE LUNDGREN, of Harvard road, junior at Michigan State College, has been elected vice-president of the M. S. C. chapter of Kappa Delta, social sorority.

JAMES S. HUDSON, JR., son of DR. and MRS. J. STEWART HUDSON of Lothrop road, has returned from the Avon Old Farms School, Avon, Conn., for his summer vacation.

THE CONSUL OF CANADA and MRS. B. C. BUTLER, who reside in Rivard boulevard, announce the birth of a daughter at Jennings Hospital on Friday, June 13.

ANN BROSS, daughter of MR. and MRS. CARL O. BROSS has arrived in Europe having left from New York by clipper Sunday with two Bennett College classmates. Mrs. Bross will join her daughter in Rome the middle of July.

COMMANDER and MRS. THOMAS L. FRENCH, formerly of University place, announced the birth of a daughter, Barbara Jeanne, last week in San Bruno, California.

Graduates receiving degrees from Indiana University at its June commencement included DOUGLAS R. KRIEGER, of Moran road, who received the master of music degree in piano.

ELIZABETH KLAVER of Lincoln road, who is to be married on July 19 to RONALD JENKINS, was entertained at a breakfast shower at the home of MRS. WILLIAM ROSSITER of Moran road.

On Wednesday, June 18, BARBARA GREGORY was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by PATRICIA ROSSITER of Moran road. Barbara is to become the bride of JAMES SHAW, on August 9.

Friends will be glad to know that MRS. ARTHUR ALDERS of Roosevelt place will soon be returning from Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.

Former Sally Fenner Ives and Bridegroom Will Make Home On Beaconsfield; Marriage Solemnized at Evening Ceremony in G.P. Congregational Church

When the John Bernard Fosters return from their wedding trip, new quarters on Beaconsfield await them.

The former Sally Fenner Ives, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norton Ives of Stanton lane, and John, son of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel P. Foster of Glynn Court, were married last Friday evening in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church. The Rev. Marcus William Johnson officiated.

Wedding guests attended a reception at the Country Club, given by the parents of the bride.

Layers of frothy white nylon net and lace were worn in Sally's picture wedding gown, the full skirt of which swept over a hoop to floor length. Her pearl trimmed bridal cap held in place a fingertip length veil of nylon net. Sally sentimentally carried a rosepointe handkerchief which belonged to her grandmother and her flowers were a cascade arrangement of white stephanotis.

The five bridal attendants were gowned alike in waltz length frocks of white embroidered organdy and their bouquets were composed of red roses tied with white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Roy D. Fairlamb, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Dorothy Hendry of Long Island (a classmate of Katherine Gibbs School) was honor maid. They wore bandeaux of white ivy in their hair with pom pom of white carnations and red sweetheart roses.

Bandeaux of ivy combined with tiny red roses were worn by the bridesmaids who were Grace Roehm of Grosse Pointe; Phyllis Sanderson of Portsmouth, N. H., and Mrs. Robert E. Liechti of California. Miss Sanderson and Mrs. Liechti attended Colby Junior College with the bride.

Daniel Foster was his brother's best man and bridesmen included the bride's brother, Raymond Ives; Roy D. Fairlamb, Grant Karsten, Chester Wiley of New Weston, Mass. (he and John attended Dartmouth together); and Robert E. Liechti.

Mrs. Ives wore a gown of shimmering rose silk organdy over taffeta with matching chapeau and a corsage of white fleur de lamour.

Mrs. Foster was gowned in floor length aqua Chantilly lace with matching lace veil on her hair. Her flowers were small yellow and white orchids.

South Sea Island Ball Ends the Deb Season

Mr. and Mrs. Philip I. Worcester of Grosse Pointe and the Edgar R. Thoms of Metamora Present Daughters at Dance With Tropical Setting at the Country Club

A tropical note was elegantly struck at the season's final debutante dance Tuesday evening in the Country Club when a trio of buds were presented to society.

The debutantes were Mary Kate Worcester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip I. Worcester of Lincoln road, and Mary and Ann Thom, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar R. Thom of Metamora.

Tropical foliage was flown to the Pointe to form a great overhead umbrella of palms in the club's foyer, a pretty foil for the pastel gowns of the season's deb's. Pillars in the great hall were wound with bamboo, topped with life-like arrangements of palms and coconuts while the mantels at each end of the room were decked with varicolored jungle foliage intermingled with pineapple and other fruit.

The debutantes and their parents received the guests in the club's French room. The South Sea theme was repeated in the bouquets the trio of buds carried; shattered birds of paradise mingled with vari-toned foliage.

Mary Kate was gowned in a strapless gown of filmy white silk net, its great skirt falling floor length and embroidered in applied flowers outlined in thread of silver.

Ann Thom's gown of white silk net had a decorative circle of yellow rose buds blossoming on the bouffant, floor length skirt and Mary wore a becoming white silk shantung, its yards of pleated skirt arranged over crinoline. She wore a wispy bolero in the receiving line and removed it from the strapless gown for dancing later in the evening.

Mrs. Worcester chose for the occasion a gown of aqua lace and marquisette, patterns of the lace applied on the full, floor length skirt. She pinned a nosegay of tropical blossoms at her waist.

The same exotic flowers were worn by Mrs. Thom, whose floor length gown was pale gray chiffon.

Ushers for the debutantes at their coming-out ball were Stanley Muirhead, Gary Symington, Harry Bodman, Arthur Hudson, Jim Standish, Murray Sales, Tom Peirce, Fred Fisher, Richard P. Joy III and Nick Ruwe.

Joining the local young set at the dance were a number of out of town girls who were houseguests of the three buds.

Mary Kate's houseguests (who will leave today with their hosts for a week at the Worcester's Walloon Lake Summer home) were Joan Lancaster and Peggy West of Johnson City, Texas; and Judy Sharp of Houston. Joan attended the dance in a gown of mauve net and Peggy preferred a pretty creation of white lace. Judy's net dancing gown combined pink and white net.

The Thom girls' guests were Jane Kales of Princeton, N. J., Fifa Netz of Winnetka, Ill., Eugenie Hess of Cleveland and Dulcinea Lee of Bernardsville, N. J.

When dance music stopped for breakfast, the guests were seated at small tables centered with straw mats upon which were arranged tropical foliage and huge sea shells.

Preceding the Worcester-Thom dance, Miss Marguerite Stroh was hostess at a dinner party in the Country Club to honor her debutante niece, Bettina Stroh, who made her debut last Winter.

They were married last Saturday at an evening ceremony in the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, the Rev. William Hammond officiating.

The bride, who was Esther Ricks, is director of social service at Grace Hospital. This Summer she will study for her master's degree in social service at Wayne University.

Mr. Fenster, the son of Mrs. Julia Fenster of Grosse Pointe, is studying mining engineering at Wayne.

Mrs. Conrad Schornsteiner attended the bride and Mr. Schornsteiner was Mr. Fenster's best man.

The Rev. J. Clemens Kolb and the Rev. Frank J. Fitt officiated at the nuptials which were followed by a reception in Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The bouffant skirt of the gown swept into full cathedral train and from a Mary Queen of Scots bridal cap fell the paneled veil of Brussels and rosepointe lace. White orchids, stephanotis and ivy were arranged in the bride's cascade bouquet.

Blue delphinium, yellow daisies and ivy were used in cascade bouquets carried by Dorothea's six attendants.

They all wore full skirted gowns of daffodil yellow nylon tulle, the necklines edged in pearls. Cartwheel sleeves distinguished the fitted bodices and their picture hats were made of yellow horsehair with crown bands of deep green velvet.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Clemens of Merriweather road announce the engagement of their daughter, MARGARET HELEN, to Lavorne George Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Ellis of Troester, Detroit.

Miss Clemens attended Sullins College in Bristol, Va. The date of the wedding has been set for November 1.

Joseph V. Lutomski, II, Host to DUS Class Party

About 200 guests attended a lawn party at the home of Joseph V. Lutomski II of Middlesex road.

Guests included Sally Beardsly and Tony Pear and the graduating class of Detroit University School with their dates. Dancing was under the stars to the music of Eddie Casper's Band by the light of Japanese lanterns and a French cabaret setting.

Susie Joy Bows At Pointe Dance

Saturday evening's blond and vivacious debutante was Susie Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Joy Jr. of Provincial road who honored her at a dance in the Little Club.

Preceding the dance, Mr. and Mrs. John Norton Lord feted Susie at a dinner party in their Touraine road home.

The deb was gowned in white eyellet embroidered organdy at the Lord dinner and left to change into her ball gown, a cloud of white silk net with off-shoulder neckline. Susie carried her father's gift of white stephanotis at her debut.

Mrs. Joy wore a slim frock of draped white chiffon touched in turquoise. Her flowers were gardenias.

The Joy dance had a nautical theme, fish netting and ship's lights were used against a color scheme of blue, white and pink.

Richard P. Joy III was his sister's head usher and the other young men were Carl C. Stewart, Nick Ruwe, Lawrence Buhl Jr., Harry M. Jewett II, Murray W. Sales III, David R. Cudlip, E. Rust Muirhead, Gordon T. Ford, Mike Murphy, David R. Cudlip, Fred Fisher, Robert B. and William K. Hovenstein.

The deb presented her ushers with boutonnieres of bachelor buttons.

The debutante is the granddaughter of Mrs. Richard P. Joy of Lake Shore road.

Pink Geraniums Bloom at Debut

Saucy pink geraniums set the floral decor Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Wendell K. Wheelock gave an afternoon reception to present to society her daughter, Cynthia.

(Within this week, Mrs. Wheelock steps gracefully from the role of Mother of the Deb to Mother of the Bride for on Saturday another daughter, Sue, will be married to Charles Renfrew in Christ Church.)

The debutante carried a bouquet of pink geraniums, arranged with ivy, and sent by her grandmother, Mrs. Richard Moser and her aunts, Mrs. Robert Needs and Mrs. Richard Jones, all of Cleveland. And the deb's assistants also wore pink geraniums on their afternoon frocks.

White French organdy shadowed the deb's presentation frock of pale blue taffeta. Its slender bodice topped with a double collar that formed brief sleeves, was attached to bouffant skirt.

Mrs. Wheelock donned an afternoon length gown of aqua antique silk taffeta with bodice of matching Alencon lace.

Assistants for the debutante were Aiden Edgar, Jean Otto-way, Elsa Barr, Alice Jane Hooker, Joan Dryden, Gretchen Wolf-lin of Amarilla, Tex., and Ann Meader.

Mrs. Wheelock's assistants, who wore rubrum lily nosegays, were Mrs. Byron Phillips, Mrs. Henry C. Kohring, Mrs. C. Bayard Johnson, Mrs. Sigurd Wendin, Mrs. Henry Kuhlman and Mrs. Cecil Lepard.

Cynthia will be maid of honor in sister Sue's wedding party on Saturday and after that will turn her pretty head to a Summertime job in the college shop of a downtown department store.

Camp Savery opened June 23 at D. U. S. The activities include swimming, riding at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, archery, tennis, arts and crafts, leather work and sewing, organized games and track.

It will run through August 8. On Saturdays there will be various excursions to the Zoo, etc.

Some of the young fry attending: Kevin Cassidy, Bliss Caulkins, Johnny Detwiler, Tommy and Larry Drummy, Happy Endicott, Emory and Laura Ford, and Buhl Ford.

Bride-Elect

At a family dinner Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Gehrig, of Balfour Road, announced the engagement of their daughter, LOIS, to Theodore L. Potter, son of Mrs. Lewis Potter and the late Dr. L. S. Potter, of Merriweather Road.

Lois is a graduate of Denison University and is affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma. Ted is a graduate of Wayne University. The couple has set October 4 as the date of the wedding.

Mother Presents Kennetha Keim

June's final deb week opened with the afternoon reception given on Monday by Mrs. Harther Keim of University place to introduce her daughter, Kennetha.

Mother and debutante received their guests in the bay window of the home's library and guests drifted on out into the gardens where marine blue and white furniture and a fruit punch bowl were delightful attractions on a warm afternoon.

The pretty dark-eyed deb wore a bouffant gown of pale blue organdy banded in embroidered white organdy insertion. Low, square neckline and short sleeves distinguished the fitted bodice. "Kenny" carried her father's gift bouquet of white carnations and ivy.

Mrs. Keim's attractive gown, short afternoon length, was white linen designed with shawl collar piped in navy. The navy was repeated in a neckline to hem wide piping which backgrounded the frock's pearl buttons. Mrs. Keim tucked bachelor buttons and daisies at her waist.

White gardenias blossomed at the shoulder of the deb's pretty assistants.

They included her houseguests (and U. of M. classmates) Julie Lowe of Battle Creek; Suz Roeser of Buffalo; Laura Thorn of Minneapolis; as well as Judy Perry of Birmingham; former classmates at Convent of the Sacred Heart; Suzanne Hurley and Diane Bachle and her sister, Barbara Keim.

Di Marcos' "Quartermore"

The Di Marcos' modern living room looks out to Vhay Lake...

One minute you know a House Beautiful setting has come to life (what with the modern decor... driftwood based greenery... Steuben on the grand piano... the copper chafing dish glowing on the buffet at the back of the room... and the next minute you have to pinch yourself to believe you're anywhere near a big city like Detroit... with all that scenery, green country and lake before your eyes...

Daughters of the house were off for their morning canter when we called... but we met two year old son Jon, who's a heartbreaker with brown eyes and golden curls...

The country life won the Di Marcos from Grosse Pointe... but five minutes at Quartermore and you'd agree with them...

Rev. William Hammond And Family Head West

The Rev. William D. Hammond, Minister at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, will leave Grosse Pointe this week with his family for a two-month trip that will take them as far west as Colorado.

They will visit his parents in Missouri and by June 30 will be in Topeka, Kansas, with the Unitarian Fellowship Group there.

"The lovely home at which we will stay was under 44 inches of water in the disastrous Kaw River flood last summer," Reverend Hammond said. "In fact, the rain that brought on the flood began the very night we were there last year."

They have planned to be in Georgetown, Colorado, in the first week in July, and on July 13, they will visit the Unitarian Fellowship at the university town of Boulder. The Hammonds expect to return to Grosse Pointe on August 28.

A Convincing Taft Booster

Supporters of Republican candidate Robert Taft are showing their ever-increasing optimism and becoming more and more imbued with the confidence he exudes pertaining to his chances for being nominated at the convention in Chicago next month.

This optimism was given a very definite shot in the arm by the visit to Detroit last week of Lieut. General Albert C. Wedemeyer, retired. Those of us who were privileged to meet and hear him were tremendously impressed by his arguments as to why Bob Taft should and probably will be the Republican candidate in this year's Presidential election.

General Wedemeyer is unquestionably one of the outstanding Americans of this period of history. A graduate of West Point, he has been a military man all of his adult life until his recent retirement. He has spent 20 years abroad, living and serving in many countries. He is a great student of both international and national affairs. He was chosen to write the famous report on Asia and the Far East which was suppressed for two years by the Truman administration. The failure of the administration to follow the advice this report offered had much to do with the Korean fiasco and the build up of Communist force and influence in Asia.

General Wedemeyer talks in a language that is singularly devoid of double meanings, innuendos, insinuations or any of the other complex and confusing forms of expression which are too often employed by those giving political speeches. He can be understood by anyone and his answers to questions are concise, lucid and straightforward.

He has great admiration for General Eisenhower, as a soldier but not as a presidential candidate. His admiration for Bob Taft is not tainted with any political aspirations. He says Taft owes him nothing and the only thing he owes Taft is a debt of gratitude which should be shared by all other Americans . . . gratitude for the many years of great service and intense loyalty to his country as demonstrated in his record as a member of the United States Senate.

General Wedemeyer explained simply and convincingly why he and Senator Taft are against Universal Military Training. He sees it as just one more method of government control and another step on the road to socialism. He says there are plenty of existing methods for training military men, such as the ROTC, National Guard, Army, Navy, Marine and Air Corps Reserves, and the regular Army, Navy and Marines, and Air Force.

He dismissed the argument about UMT offering character building advantages by saying that character is formed before these young men reach the age of military training. This is accomplished in the three places where they should be, the home, the school and the church, General Wedemeyer believes. General Eisenhower favors Universal Military Training.

General Wedemeyer explains the Texas delegate battle with equal clarity and conciseness. He was there and fully investigated every angle of it. In his words, the bona fide Republicans, legally and with every moral right, simply refused to let a lot of avowed Democrats infiltrate and take over the Republican party in the state. He cited that the Eisenhower supporters engineered a "far more irregular" deal in the State of Washington, where he himself was refused the right to speak in Taft's support.

General Wedemeyer deplores the confused thinking of the great segment of voters who say that if they could appoint a president, it would be Taft, but who feel that Eisenhower has a better chance to be elected. He points out the fact that Taft has never lost an election. He says he was curious about the Ohio election of two years ago when Taft piled up a 431,000 plurality over his opponent. There was talk after this election that Ferguson was a weak candidate whom anyone could have beaten. This didn't make sense to General Wedemeyer, especially in view of the terrific battle and great spending spree which had been waged by labor to defeat Taft. He found that Ferguson had also never previously lost an election and had defeated Mike DiSalle, who in turn had never lost an election up to that time. He is convinced that Bob Taft is the greatest vote-getter the Republican party has ever had.

The outcome of the great fight for the nomination will be known within the next two weeks. In this last stage of the struggle between the candidates, all Republicans should guard against fomenting any bitterness that might prevent a consolidation of forces for the intense, knock-down, drag-out campaign that will then be launched between the parties and continue up to election day in November.

Purely Puerile

As amusing and childish a bit of political manipulation as we have seen in a long time backfired on Ernest C. Putnam, supervisor of Grosse Pointe Township.

We received a letter from Ralph C. Fuller, of Newberry, Mich., clerk of McMillan Township, enclosing a letter he had received from Mr. Putnam. Comments Mr. Fuller:—"I think your supervisor is somewhat out of line in using Township letterheads and stationery for what appears to be a personal political matter. Apparently these letters have been sent to all county convention delegates as well as delegates to the State Convention."

Mr. Putnam is a staunch supporter of William Vandenberg for the governorship. In his zeal to be of help, he has taken excerpts from an editorial this paper ran at the time Vandenberg announced his candidacy. The point of the editorial was that in view of the fact that Secretary of State Frederick M. Alger has proven himself the greatest vote getter in the state, Mr. Vandenberg was not helping the Republican cause by getting into the race and splitting the party's potential power.

By some unbelievably infantile twist of the imagination, or pure intent, Mr. Putnam interpreted the quoted excerpts of the editorial as meaning that this paper thinks any candidates who is a resident of the Pointe "should be allowed to have the honor unopposed and without regard to policies, ability or experience."

We presume many other recipients of Mr. Putnam's letter will be amused by the puerile statements it contains. We doubt if it will help him realize his avowed ambition to be appointed head of the State Liquor Commission in the event Mr. Vandenberg should be elected.

"Be ever careful in your choice of friends,
And let your special love be given to those Whose strength of character may prove the whip
That drives you ever to fair Wisdom's goal!"
Mutisibito

At a recent reunion at Yale, members of the class of '27 were standing around the ball field waiting for the game to start. Among the group were many of the wives and children of the old grads. Suddenly one of the old school ties piped up with: "Funny thing about our particular class; looks like we all married middle-aged women!"

We love this anecdote, because it is so typically MALE! A local gent recently purchased a scarf for himself after taking a long time to choose just the right one. When he arrived home with it, neither his wife nor children liked it; in fact they rode him about it so much, that he decided he had better take it back if he wanted to live in peace.

Having taken so much of the clerk's time in buying the scarf, he was no end embarrassed in having to return it and hadn't the faintest idea what excuse he could make. Telling the young man he was exchanging it because his WIFE didn't like it was unthinkable . . . so, as he handed the scarf back to the startled clerk, he said, "I'm sorry . . . it's too tight!"

A Grosse Pointe matron bought a gas refrigerator a few months ago and at the time of the purchase, asked the salesman what it would cost her a month to run it. He said that the cost varied somewhat, but that $3.00 a month was about average. At the end of the first month, the gas bill for the refrigerator came to twelve dollars. Frantic, the woman telephoned the icebox company and raised a hob with them. They explained that there must be something wrong because gas refrigeration bills NEVER run THAT high. They offered to send a workman out to investigate. That little man arrived on the dot, went over the machine but found nothing wrong. There seemed nothing left to do but wait developments the following month.

In came the second bill. Twelve dollars again! Our heroine called the company and back came the general manager. He could find nothing wrong either. Since the woman threatened to return the blasted thing, the company decided to send a man to the house to sit each day to see what caused the bills to run so high. He came for two straight days without finding anything amiss. On the third day, he spotted the trouble. When he returned to the house after a hasty lunch . . . he found the general maid doing the ironing in the kitchen in front of the refrigerator doors that were ALL STANDING OPEN!

The maid told him that her mistress was always out on ironing day, so on hot days she ironed in front of the open box . . . to keep cool!!!

Betty Hansen, tennis playing daughter of the famous tennis player, Tobey Hansen, proves that she has her mind on only one thing at a time. Last week, she was sitting with some friends on the first tee of the golf course at the Country Club, watching the duffers go by. Surprised to see Betty at the golf course instead of at the tennis courts, one of the men about to tee off, came up to her and said, "Aren't you a HERETIC?" Betty looked at him and replied very seriously, "No . . . I'm a Hansen!" We trust it was said because she was concentrating on the golf!!!

A woman who was in the process of hiring a brand new butler, telephoned a few of his references and one told her the butler's work was fine but that when he took an occasional drink, he was apt to do queer things! The informant was not quite sure what some of the queer things were . . . but allowed as how they were harmless enough . . . so Madame decided to take a chance and hire the character.

Life seemed to go along serenely enough until one night when the woman gave a medium sized party. Entering into the spirit of the thing, the butler had a few quick ones in the pantry and they must have given him a few pixie ideas. The first thing he did was to scribble little personal notes at the bottom of Madame's place cards. These were not spotted until Madame's guests had already taken their places at the table.

Crossing her fingers, she let THAT little incident go by, hoping it would be the last of the evening. Fortunately it WAS . . . so much later, she bade her guests goodnight and heaving a sigh of relief that only ONE shenanigan had taken place, she took herself off to bed . . . determined to have words with Jeeves in the morning. Just as she was about to crawl into her bed, she noticed a note on her pillow. It was in the butler's handwriting and said, "George Washington slept here!" Just harmless little pranks!!!!

We telephoned a friend of ours today while a soap opera was airing itself. As we held the phone waiting for her to answer, someone came into the room and hearing the commotion on the radio, asked us what was going on. With the mouth piece right in front of us, we replied that a man had just jumped out of the window. Right at that moment, the friend we were calling had picked up her receiver and heard what we said. She screamed "W-H-A-T" into our frightened ears and we had to assure her that we were referring to a radio story. Tee Hee.

If you know one of those female creatures who rattle on and on and never listen . . . you will enjoy this true tale. Our heroine's phone rang and when she answered it a pleasant male voice said, "Is Mr. McThing there? This is Bishop MacCormick . . ." The little woman broke in with a lot of jabber such as . . . "No he isn't here just now . . . but I'm MRS. McThing . . . isn't there something I can do for you? . . . Bishop MacCormick . . . well, well, now . . . I haven't met YOU before I'm sure . . . I work at the church and I'm there a great deal . . . but maybe you aren't from OUR church? . . . but whatever church you ARE from I'd be happy to do anything I can for you . . ."

When she stopped to breathe (the only thing that WOULD have stopped her), the discouraged voice managed to say, "Madame, this is Bishop, MacCormick and Bishop . . . and I have the car parts your husband ordered. Would you mind giving him the message?"

Do You Vote?

"You say your taxes are too high. But do you vote?
About extravagance you sigh. But do you vote?
How long, you wail, must we endure this state of things which keeps us poor?
How long? I do not know, I'm Sure;
But do you vote?
The lights are bad, the streets a mess;
But do you vote?
Your indignation, you express, But do you vote?
You say the bosses rule the show. That graft is reaching high and low.
And doubtless all you say is so, But do you vote?
You growl at rotten politics, But do you vote?
You howl at bosses and their tricks, But do you vote?
You say, O Decent Citizen, (We've heard you time and time again)
We want things run by business men!
But do you vote?
Unless you do (I wonder, Do you?)
You've got just what is coming to you."

Baldness

By Fred M. Kopp, R.P.H.
In a recent study of cases of ordinary baldness, a group of doctors concluded that the condition was a result of excessive activity of the scalp muscles.
When certain men are under tension the cutting off of the scalp tightens muscles of the blood supply, and eventually baldness results.

Another interesting fact about baldness is that it is more apt to occur to men with fine hair.

Care of the hair will not prevent baldness, but it may postpone it a little, and certainly will keep hair improving the appearance.

A conscientious pharmacist will be glad to show you the many aids to achieve a healthy scalp and healthy hair.

Burglars Visit Service Station

Last Monday afternoon Andy's Service Station, (owner, Andrew Van DePutte), at 15200 Charlevoix, near Lakepointe, was robbed of $80 in coins and bills. Van De Putte told Grosse Pointe Park police that while he was working on a car in the garage, he noticed two men suddenly run from the station south on Charlevoix. He later found the cash register empty. Police were told that the getaway car was a copper colored Cadillac, 1948 model.

Boy On Probation In Trouble Again

Grosse Pointe Woods police picked up a 14-year-old boy at the Woods Theater in the late afternoon on Sunday, June 21, who had threatened some other youngsters with a knife. The police learned on questioning that the trouble had started when he had grabbed the arm of another boy sitting in front of him in the theater, twisting it back over the seat. When others tried to stop him, he pulled the knife. Investigation showed that the boy had been placed on probation on an earlier charge of breaking and entering. Possession of the knife constituted a violation of the probationary terms. The police submitted a report of the incident to his probation officer.

Police Have Last Word In Dispute

Grosse Pointe Park police settled an argument last Saturday that followed an automobile accident on Beaconsfield. The parties involved were Clarence J. McLaren, of 14630 Riverside, and Phillip E. Mitchell, Jr., of 1299 Glover.

McLaren, driving south on Beaconsfield, struck the left front fender of Mitchell's car as he was turning left into a driveway. Mitchell claimed that he had signalled before turning, and McLaren insisted that he had not.

The police said that skid marks on the pavement supported Mitchell's charge that McLaren had been driving too fast. They ticketed McLaren and set a court date for June 25.

Bullets Halt Youthful Car Thieves After Wild Chase

Shortly after Raymond Adams reported the theft of his automobile at 2 a.m., June 22, taken from in front of 716 Barrington road, where he had been attending a party, Grosse Pointe Woods patrolmen Roland Symons and Russell Allard spotted the car near Mack and Moross road.

They chased the car through a maze of streets in Grosse Pointe Woods and Farms at speeds up to 85 miles an hour. Meanwhile other police patrols had set up a network of blockades.

Allard fired four shots during the chase, one ripping into the left rear fender of the fleeing car, and another lodging in the undercarriage.

The car was finally stopped on Vernier after it had swerved onto the shoulder of the road to avoid a road block set up by Grosse Pointe Shores police.

The police arrested three youths, the driver, a 16-year-old Grosse Pointe boy on probation to Saginaw police for charges of breaking and entering and a previous auto theft; 19-year-old Gerald Kemler, of 344 Rivard; Remy Gamble, 17, of 14642 Glenwood, Detroit.

Gamble was released by the police after it had been determined that he had no part in the theft. Kemler was turned over to the Wayne County Jail to await the next term of the Circuit Court after pleading guilty to the auto theft charge and being placed under two surety bonds of $500.

The juvenile was filed in Juvenile Court and referred to Saginaw probation officials for sentence.

Car Accessories Stolen By Thief

Arvid Jarvi, of 19269 Mack avenue, complained to Grosse Pointe Woods police that during the night of June 21, someone had broken into the trunk of his 1951 Kaiser while parked in the Woods Theater parking lot.

Stolen from the trunk were an inner tube, a wrench, and two bumper jacks. Police said there was no further information on the incident.

She was a passenger in the car driven by William J. Brady, of 22213 Garfield, St. Clair Shores, that slammed into another waiting for the red light at the intersection. Brady told Grosse Pointe City police that as he applied his brakes the car went into a skid. Barbara was thrown forward against the windshield, breaking the glass.

Police ticketed Brady for reckless driving.

Hits Curb, Pole, Two Other Cars

A three-car accident resulted June 20, at the corner of Lakepointe and Kercheval, when Louise L. Jaskowiak, of 6104 Rohns, Detroit, lost control of her car while attempting a turn off Kercheval onto Lakepointe.

Her car hopped the curb, nosed into a light pole near the corner, and bounced back into the street, hitting two other cars stopped at the intersection.

In the waiting cars, which received damages to their left sides, were Edwin R. Green, of Berkley, Michigan, and Ralph H. Huvaere, 1353 Wayburn.

Cogan will study music composition at the Royal Conservatory of Belgium in Brussels, Belgium.

Nab Car Looter On Parking Lot

While patrolling the Woods Theater parking lot last Wednesday night, Grosse Pointe Woods police watched a teen-ager search through two automobiles.

They picked up 17-year-old Douglas Alcott, of 19684 Kenosha, Harper Woods, and held him until one of the car owners, Louis J. Zontine, 3627 Helen, Detroit, arrived. Zontine told police that a "trouble light" was missing from his automobile. It was recovered from Alcott's car, which had also been parked in the lot.

A court date was set for Alcott and he was released to his father.

Three Cars Mix It Up In Park

Grosse Pointe Park police ticketed Jordan Smith, of Mt. Clemens, on June 20, for causing a three-car accident at Whittier and Jefferson Avenue.

Smith failed to stop in time to avoid hitting the car ahead of him, driven by Margaret Collioud, of 256 Moran Road, who had stopped behind a third car, driven by John E. Phillips, of 749 Lakepointe.

The force of the impact bounced Mrs. Collioud's car into the rear of Phillips' automobile. However, no serious damage resulted.

Park police said that Phillips had pulled up behind a fourth car waiting to make a turn onto Whittier.

Three Youngsters Admit Car Thefts

Three juveniles and one minor, 17-year-old Charles Dupuis, of 81 Cambridge road, were placed on probation for an indefinite period last week following a charge of auto theft that occurred April 17 of this year.

Grosse Pointe Farms police received a report of the theft from the owner, Dean H. Kohler, of 458 LaBelle avenue. Later that same day they were informed by the Sheriff's office in Bad Axe, Michigan, that the four boys had been picked up in the stolen car, a 1950 Chevrolet.

Police officers found articles in the car that proved to have been taken from a store in Sanilac County. The boys admitted taking the car from the driveway of Kohler's home and admitted later to at least six other auto thefts.

In Kohler's case they were ordered to make restitution of $25 apiece in addition to the probationary sentence.

No matter what you do, somebody always knew you would.

Fashion News From the Openings

BY MARY MORGAN
CKLW Fashion Editor
(Exclusive to the Grosse Pointe News)

Another Fall . . . and coming shadows of fashion cast a lovely look of elegance, according to previews observed at the Nineteenth National Press Week, at which time a limited number of accredited Fashion Editors by invitation cover America's top designer's collections at the New York Dress Institute.

With the Fall collections appear new partnerships in materials to surprise and please—reminding readers that gone are the days when specific materials were used automatically, while others were restricted for certain uses. Chief appeal is the surprise element which gives you Something Different, even frankly fake in some instances, but with pleasing results.

The suit captures designer-interest for Fall . . . while YOU will look "poured into" your softly tailored suit, minus shaping out over the hips. The Fake Suit promises much appeal, designed to look like a dress, and often is underneath . . . three piece costume suits with thigh-length little overcoats to match or blend making the suit a part of the winter scene. New authority is given the coat and dress ensemble in the pace-setting collection by Ben Zuckerman.

The composition of coat-and-dress gives the nod to a whole new family of short curved coats—boxy with curved barrel back, and curved barrel jackets which are lined in black or brown seal for winter utility . . . but always the sheath-slim dress underneath. Analyzing the sheath-slim dresses Zuckerman designs for the coats the expression "extremely simple" must be employed. Belted at a normal waistline, there are discreet bustline seams intricately handled to compromise on higher lines, much more becoming. Seeing this chic combination of coats-and-dresses, coats-and-suits, one feels it will develop a whole new character of fashion, and I hope, an impetus of buying this type ensemble, for these are famous cornerstones in a well-dressed woman's wardrobe.

Fur trimming done in the fine Zuckerman tradition is outstanding as he uses rich black and white tweed mixtures elegantly accented with black seal skin.

Watch for the back interest collar definitely pace-setting in this collection. Tweed at their best is Fall's casual character.

Watch for the waistline still playing tricks after two previous seasons at "variable."

Whether rising high to stress the bosom line, or dropping low to accent the hipline, it is no longer nipped at dead center and the affect is usually wide and often softly draped.

The Easy Middle designed by Claire McCardell illustrates the easy naturalness of the midriff. Designing for Townley Frocks, McCardell features her same easy lines with emphasis on the Modern Josephine waistline. A soft line just below the bust passes for the waistline, tapering into a well-defined back line and ending with a little fullness. This is arrived at by using an elastic waist cincher built into the skirts, or sometimes an elastic-gathered overblouse.

Grosse Pointers will appreciate Claire McCardell's group of dining-at-home formal. Capitalizing on brilliant colors and the McCardell touch in separates. Corrugated jersey slacks, leopard skin and very sophisticated when teamed with a bejeweled blouse.

A Medieval princess gown of crisp nubby textured silk designed with a short train, a regal smooth-wrapped front and haiker neckline dramatically draped over the bustline.

A crossfire of ideas on how to make the silhouette look slim while endowing it with plenty of fabric brings interesting effects such as Paul Parnes' collection designed by Beni Claire, who has a profound feeling for suits and costumes and resigns them with the greatest feeling for softness and femininity women adore.

New Personality seems to highlight the softly detailed treatment in the slim little suits shown in this collection, as completely new, wearable and unbelievably flattering. Slim, soft and eased only by double-inverted pleats, or intricate fly-away panel. Another feature always well done by this house is the linings to match the blouse in the suit-cum-dress.

Handsomely designed beading puts wool costumes in the more dressy category, while the theatre suit (another favorite with Parnes), is something to remember as stunning, with the little straight box jacket of crisp taffeta, exquisite beading again accents it, the skirt effectively slim. Very chic . . . very important for about-town First Nights. Buttons worn, not decorative in the Paul Parnes collection as longer jackets with buttons and add holes below the waistline add to the suit's range of fashion interest.

Fabrics respond to the new look of Fall Fashion as seen in the Paul Parnes magnificent collection when textured contrast forms a part of designer interest by pairing brushed or poodle wools in straight hipbone jackets with softly simple plain wool dresses, accented only by a large floating scarf of a heightened color in contrast.

Watch for a strong feeling of change in the color picture. Benham Originals, a label of fashion familiar to the women of Grosse Pointe, keynotes the change beautifully as definite colors succeed the tender pastel and muted shades of previous seasons.

A well-rounded collection opening with softly tailored suits, through to a group of elegant evening gowns . . . comprehensive in styling and in type.

Choosing the Obelisk out, Benham Originals show this in all their one-piece dresses, and it gives a refreshing touch to skirts as it sweeps sideways from a smooth hipline. With the pyramiding silhouette, Benham Originals collection features marble or granite features . . . Quarry Blue, garnet and marble look in weaves.

Combinations of textures in a color make individual news as this house teams such materials as a hair-wool jacket, and dress with a satin bow. Different? Jacket is brushed wool, the dress smooth. Another smart example is the lacy wool jacket belted low, worn over a dyed-to-match wool dress.

The new look in wool is supple and it is clear, the house of Benham Originals takes every advantage of this new personality in wool. Olive green and rust are two of the colors used with a completely fresh approach to fashions in wool.

Highlights of high fashion featured in this collection include low-belted jackets, blouse-back jackets, beaded wool jersey sweater top and skirt.

The feminine approach to cover-ups for evening is stressed in straps, net veiling, and attached fichus, which are my preference.

The name Herbert Sondheim always brings about Editor's applause at the Institute showings. This season Sondheim shows unrestrained elegance women who dress with great chic always appreciate.

Herbert Sondheim's outstanding collection presents a sharp free outlook in fashion, rather than any one "look", and the eye is intrigued as often by the silhouette as by shade. Here wool suits and wool dresses designed to wear in the City or in the Country (and which are favorites of Grosse Pointers) designed in lightweight interestingly textured weaves from two-tone shadowed stripes to a stunning charcoal homespun that might be taken for cashmere.

Here too, the suits are not built-out with canvas and crinolines, the Shape is You . . . and the fluid feeling makes interesting and becoming lines which are allowed to accent the body beautiful, but in a most genteel manner.

These are the kind of clothes that should discourage buyers from allowing stock to dwindle and encourage them to a full stock from which YOU can select.

Breathes there a woman who doesn't look for and want simplified, high-styled clothes to wear as early or as late as her plans require, which distinguished her as well-dressed, individually chic.

The majority of women haven't enough hours in the day for a variety of basic crepe dresses.

but welcome the deliberately dressy crepe. Here Sondheim scores a touchdown in Fall's newest revival of the crepe dress, beautifully stitched, often newly-narrowed in body line. Typical of crepe dresses, you see it in black but more often lovelier is the series of ivory pastels that go so well under your little mink!

Irene Castle's famous length in dancing dresses takes a bow in pretty and practical ten inches from the floor. Decidedly more formal than cocktail dresses, yet delightfully wearable from seven until dinner, they make their bow in romantic worldly-looking fabrics.

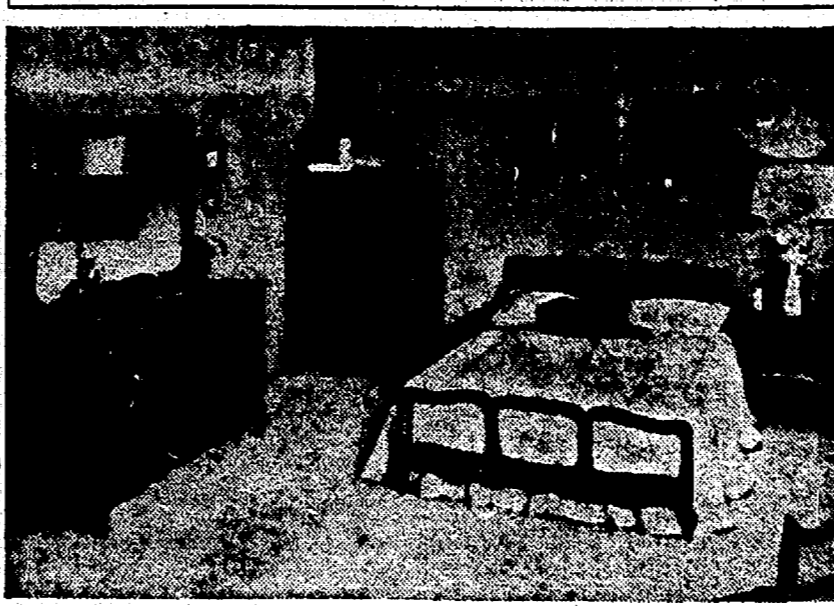

Unobtrusive jeweled touches seldom ornate, give a dressy touch to many "little suits" with the softened treatment carried through the whole collection. Actually, dresses appear with new personalities to vie with suits this fall and winter.

Simple tweed dresses adorned with dressy capelets of fur make a pretty impression and the combination of tweed and fur is a distinctly chic one and a luxurious one. Basically sleek in design, the dress is full with side-wings, or front apron-like panels to be less static, and more suave in motion. The effect is smart.

The Late Day version of black velvet with the enormous cummerbund fringed sash is strikingly reminiscent of the lavish Elizabethan velvets. Glittering taupe and gold metal cloth fuse into a striking halter dress, with boxy jacket, black silk taffeta lined. More factitious is the black beaded sheath a-glimmer with tiny beaded tassels placed with deceptive come-hither-ease.

Could this mean the return of Theda Bara when women were slinking around a la vamp . . . and the men loved it?

TODAY'S LIVING

Furniture in the French vernacular, this Froeseac Provincial bedroom suite is an elegant combination of the present and the past. While the graceful traditional lines have been retained, this group is contemporary in function. Highlighted is the spacious triple dresser. The practical chest-on-chest and the night table provide additional storage space. Panel back bed may be upholstered to match spread and draperies. Dust-collecting carriage have been eliminated, and notice the unique treatment of the sturdy oak-bleed legs.

SCIENCE and HEALTH

IN THE PAST, 5 OUT OF A LITTER OF 6 PIGS WENT TO MARKET. THE 6th USUALLY A RUNT, SELDOM REACHED THE BUTCHER SHOP.

TODAY, WITH ANTIBIOTIC FEEDING, THE WHOLE LITTER IS NORMAL, PROVIDING MORE MEAT FOR CONSUMERS.

More Meat—Thanks to Science

The average American household's meat budget is being stretched by science this year. One reason poultry and pork are relatively plentiful is the fact that they are being fed on rations containing minute amounts of antibiotic. As little as a third of an ounce of terramycin in a ton of feed will speed up growth so much as to bring broilers to market size at 10 weeks instead of 12. With turkeys and hogs, from four to six weeks are saved. Farmers save time and feed.

Just how antibiotics work is not understood, and research is still being conducted. Antibiotic does not change the character of the meat, except that it comes from younger animals. Antibiotic-fortified rations do kill certain bacteria in the animals' intestines, but at one-third ounce per ton, no measurable antibiotic enters the animal's blood stream. Pigs and poultry fed antibiotics are thrifter. Fewer die, more come to market, and faster.

That last, after all, is what the consumer is interested in—because that means more wishbones, drumsticks and pork chops in the butcher shop and on the table.

Richard Durant Rings the Bell

Speaking on Tuesday, June 24, before the Indian Village Women's Republican Club, Richard Durant, of Lincoln road, former Republican nominee for Congress from the 14th Congressional District and running for re-nomination this year at the August 5th primaries, introduced a ringing alarm clock as the symbol for his campaign.

Durant spoke on inflation—what it is, what really causes it, and why price controls not only do NOT control it but actually create the very shortages they are supposed to eliminate. He was suddenly interrupted by the ringing of an alarm clock behind him.

Pausing to shut it off, he turned to the ladies and said, "That alarm is ringing to wake us up to the fact that now is the time to come to the aid of our country. In those few seconds it took me to turn the alarm off, the Truman Administration has spent $2,701,677. As a result of such drunken spending, our national debt is $255 billions—in thousand dollar bills, that would make a stack of money 14 miles high! We, our children, and our children's children some day must pay off that entire debt!"

Going on with his talk on inflation, Durant was shortly interrupted again by the loud ringing of another alarm clock. "The alarm is ringing again," he said, "ringing in warning of our steady slip into a centrally dictated society. Did you know that in Arizona the Federal Government owns 73% of all the land? In Utah, 72%; Idaho, 64%; Oregon, 52%; Wyoming, 51%; California, 46%—and in Nevada, an incredible 87%? According to the official figures of the Department of the Interior, the Federal Government owns one-fourth of the total land area of the United States!"

Durant went back to his talk on our rotting dollar and high prices, but at this time the ladies were anticipating another ring on the bell. Sure enough, in a minute or so still another clock went off—and still another point was punched home with the warning that time was running out. Corruption, waste, American dead in the Truman War, our lack of any foreign policy at all—all these came in for attention as the alarm rang.

"Listen to the alarm," Durant repeated; "Let's wake up, and clean up the mess in Washington."

Pointer's Song Gets Disc Jockeys' Help

A new tune is being introduced this month by the disc jockeys. Recorded by Lorrie Raine the title is "Underneath the Where You Said I Love You Tree." Jack the Bellboy and Bob Max- well have been featuring it on their record shows. The song was given very favorable pub- licity in the June 14 issue of Bill- board Magazine. The music was written by Russ Carney, of 1858 Hampton Road, Grosse Pointe Woods. Lyrics by Tim Gayle and Harry Edelstein, of Chicago, Illinois.

CAMP GRAYLING CONTRACTS

Contracts totaling $146,849 have been awarded two Michigan con- cerns for construction of roads, water mains, and installation of generators at Camp Grayling, according to the Adjutant Gen- eral's Office. The contracts were awarded by Lieutenant Colonel Harry E. Northrup, Acting United States Property and Disbursing Officer for Michigan, under a $300,000 allotment of federal funds granted the Michigan Na- tional Guard this year for ex- pansion and improvement of fac- ilities at Camp Grayling.

ONE NOSE BATTERED

Mrs. Helen Helwig, of 1627 Anita, requested a Farms scout car to escort her to Bon Secours Hospital, June 13. Mrs. Helwig's 13-year-old daughter, Janice, had been struck in the face by a bat while playing in a baseball game. Examination showed Janice had suffered a broken nose.

Unknown Driver Blamed for Crash

Mrs. Rose M. McCale, of 12085 Loring, Detroit, reported to City police last Monday that an un- identified automobile, pulling from the curb in front of her, had forced her into a parked car and trailer on University place. The accident had been reported earlier by a University place resi- dent, but a description of the other car was still unobtainable. Mrs. McCale told police that her son had been slightly injured when he was thrown forward against the dashboard.

Control of Ragweed to Open Monday

Detroit will launch its 1952 rag- weed control project on Monday, June 2, in an effort to reduce suf- fering among the City's 60,000 hay fever victims, J. J. Considine, Parks and Recreation Superin- tendent, announced today. This program was introduced in 1950 when the department sprayed 2,000 acres and was ex- panded considerably in 1951 when 2,722 acres were sprayed. Four three-man crews will be- gin operations to control rag- weed, reduce the pollen count and eliminate other noxious weeds. By September 1, it is estimated that 3,000 acres of vacant lots will have been treated. The crews will operate on the west side and move east with the pre- vailing winds. Cooperating in this project are the Department, Department of Health and Michigan State Col- lege. The crews will use a 600-gal- lon weed sprayer, a 500-gallon tree sprayer converted to weed work, two 150-gallon sprayers, eight knapsack sprayers and four jeeps. The spray will consist of an amine salt of 2, 4-D (dichloro- phenoxyacetic acid) with a con- sistency of three-quarters of a pound of the salt to 100 gallons of water. Although it kills rag- weed and other weeds, this solu- tion is not harmful to human be- ings or animals. To have the best chances for success Detroit's project needs the cooperation of individual citi- zens. The spraying program can- not cover occupied property— therefore the agencies cooperat- ing in the campaign urge all De- troiters to spray or pull ragweed on the property they occupy.

Charles Sills To Give Recital

As part of the six-day observa- nce of the 25th Anniversary of Grosse Pointe Woods, an 18-year-old Detroit, Charles Sills, will present a piano recital Tuesday, July 1, at 8:30 p.m. in the Parcels School auditorium. A student of Stanislaw Degorsky, who studied with Richard Strauss, Sills has given concerts throughout Michigan and has re- ceived high acclaim for his work. His program will consist of nine selections from the works of Bach, Beethoven, Chopin, De- Salle, and Degorsky.

George Heckendorn Files In Congressional Race

George Heckendorn, who for the past two years has held a seat on the city council of Grosse Pointe Woods, filed on Wednes- day, June 17, to enter the 14th District congressional primary race. Heckendorn has been a resi- dent of Grosse Pointe for nearly 40 years. He lives with his family of three children at 1010 Roslyn road. Heckendorn stated that if elected as representative, he will re- main active on the Woods coun- cil to fulfill his duties as an elected official of the city. His present term, the "long term" created when the Woods became a city in December of 1950, does not expire until April 7, 1953. He recently announced that he may run for Mayor of the City of Grosse Pointe Woods in the April balloting next year, even if elected to Congress.

Farms Police Shifts Announced

Last week there were stirrings in the Grosse Pointe Farms Police Department. Biggest of all: the promotion of former Patrol- man Eugene Boylan to sergeant. Boylan, who lives at 21960 Moross, has completed nearly 10 years service with the de- partment, the past 20 months of which have been in the Detective Bureau. It was also announced that William Elworthy has completed his probationary year (the first year of service) and has been accepted as a permanent mem- ber of the force as patrolman. Patrolman Stanley Ainsley, of 412 Touraine, requested that his resignation be accepted. He has been with the department since July 1, of last year. Officials stated that his resignation would become effective at the con- venience of the department, probably by mid-July. Future plans: to enter business with his father-in-law.

Smiley To Ma

SOMETHING ON HER MIND—Sen. Robert A. Taft, GOP candidate for the Presidential nomination, chats with Mrs. Georgiana Buckley, 92, the oldest Taft booster to attend a $25-a-plate luncheon held recently for the Senator in Cincinnati. Mrs. Buckley came well hatted for the occasion, sporting a chapeau with a picture of the Senator on top.

SHOWING OFF THE QUADS — Senora Maria Elizabeth Grosio smiles happily behind her mask, holding her quadruplets, Sandra, Oswald, Maria Angela and Roberto, as they were taken from their incubators for the first time, one week after their birth. Their father is Manfredo Grosio, an industrial engineer in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

"IT'S BIG ENOUGH FOR TWO, SIS" — The young lady ponders her brother's invitation to join him under his giant straw beach hat, just arrived in Miami from where it was made, Managua, Nicaragua. She can see there's enough brim for both of them, but she only sees one opening in the bottom of the hat, and her brother's head is inside that.

SHAVING HAZARD — Lt. Hal Kreewin of Winnipeg, Canada, with the Lord Strathcona Horse Regiment in Korea, has a shaving hazard which gives him a lot of nicks, but he doesn't mind. Kreewin hung his hat on the tentpole where his shaving mirror hangs, and came back to find Pauline, a Korean swallow, moving in with intentions of raising a family. Now Pauline swoops in and out, gathering food for her family, and Kreewin has to duck the flutter of motherly wings while he handles the razor.

IN APPRECIATION—The Bronx, N. Y., quadruplets, (left to right) Linda, Edward, Barbara and Andrew Collins, visit Dr. Edward Kirsch (right), executive director of the Lebanon Hospital, where they were born three years ago, to give him their contribution to the fund for building an out-patient department of the hospital. The kids didn't seem to remember too much about their birthplace on their visit, but they were remembered well by the staff, which enjoyed the reunion with the look-alike foursome.

ELECTION CAMPAIGN, ROMAN STYLE—Tourists visiting Pompeii, originally covered with ash from Mt. Vesuvius in 79 A.D., read an ancient election inscription on the walls of a wine shop. It urges the citizenry to vote for Marius for the office of aedile and ends with the statement, "I beg of you." The sign was painted at the expense of a supporter of Marius.

IT'S ALL IN A DAY'S WASHING—Mrs. Nennie Rose Williams, 22, of Chicago, is still able to smile after having that big clump of hair in her right hand cut off by firemen, when she was trapped in the machinery of her washing machine. Her screams for help attracted neighbors who called the fire department. The firemen began to cut her hair, but it was caught so close to the scalp in places that they dismantled the machine instead.

A MISS TRAINS WINNERS — Childress Rodgers, Cincinnati society debutante turned professional horse trainer, examines the hoof of My Mistake, one of her proteges. To new acquaintances who find Miss Rodgers' vocation unusual, she says it's natural. "I was born on a plantation down in Mississippi, and my father stuck me on a horse before I was old enough to walk, I guess. I was three when I had my first pony."

DOWN TO HIS SIZE — Movie star Tony Curtis "leans" against the famed Washington Monument in the nation's capital, in a tricky camera angle arranged by the photographer. Curtis was visiting the city during the premier of his new picture.

TRYING THE MOUNTAIN AIR — Five young mountain climbers sample the type of air they'll find at the top of King Peak in Alaska when they scale it this summer. They were "taken up" to 17,000 feet, the height of King Peak, in this Boeing stratotrainer. Left to right are: Bill Niendorf; Pete Schoening; Yates Hickey, Boeing flight test engineer; Tom Morris; Dave Harrah; and Vic Josendal.

Smiley's Boat Beats Judges To Mark In Mills Sail Race

By Fred Runnells
"Orient" Paul Smiley's 64-foot wind wagon out of Grosse Pointe Yacht Club made monkeys out of the marker boat judges when she charged around the 65 mile course in Lake Erie last Saturday, June 21, to be the first boat to finish in the 32nd running of the Merrill B. Mills Trophy race.

It was at the second mark at Put-In-Bay that "Orient" probably lost the overall honors when she dropped precious minutes sailing around searching for the marker boat and judges who were supposed to be on the job taking each ship's code signal as they rounded the second mark of the 65 mile triangular course.

Seemed Like Hours
Finally after what seemed like hours to the crew members of the leading boat, the stake boat put in an appearance and "Orient" rounded it while it still was underway. Needless to say the "air was blue" as the irate crew popped their tops in true sailor fashion.

Once the Put-In-Bay mark was rounded, the big blue sloop danced toward the finish line between the Toledo Light and another committee boat. This time the committee boat was on the job waiting for the early arrival but was not in the position as indicated on the race chart. Never-the-less, Smiley pushed his ship over the finish line at 1:30:35 a.m. Sunday morning giving the "Orient" an elapsed time of 9 hours 34 minutes and 25 seconds.

One of Fastest Races
This marked one of the fastest Mills races in history and Smiley and his crew were confident they had saved their time on the 32 boat fleet that had started the previous afternoon.

Forty minutes later the beam from the rotating Toledo Light-house made visible the rig of the schooner "Jolly Rogers." At dusk, this boat was doing a tremendous job on the beat to weather on the first leg of the course and was the second boat to round the first mark, which was the Detroit River Light near the mouth of the Detroit River.

Finishing this close to the scratch boat of the fleet made Skipper John Rogers and his crew of Orm Olds, Art Peacock, Chuck Beatty, Al Galliano, Connie Ott, Jerry Jordan, George Smith, Walt Owens and Bud Steiner whoop for joy for they figured they had the race in the bag. They had saved their time on the scratch boat.

Surprises Everyone
However, it wasn't until early Sunday morning that everyone got a tremendous surprise when the judges posted the final results with all the corrected times listed. "Joanne," a 40-foot Owens cutter out of Bayview Y.C. and owned and operated by George Leydorf, was at the top of the list of the thirty one finishers.

It marked the first time in the history of the race that a Cruising B boat had won the Merrill B. Mills Trophy for the best corrected time and skipper Leydorf carried home the Cruising B trophy. "Joanne's" crew was made up of Leydorf, Clarence Jones, Bert Van Geison, Gale

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

The Cruising Club of Detroit came up with an idea to split the Cruising A division into two classes for the Bayview-Mackinac race this year. But the idea was tabled by Bayview Y. C. officials because the Cruising Club forgot to notify the committee of its suggestion and according to race committee chairman Bill Ward "it's too late to change for this year's race."

The Cruising Club's idea was to have all boats with a rating from 33 to 40 race in a special division and the ships with ratings above 40 remain in the Cruising A division. This would mean that ships like Wendell Anderson's "Escapade," currently sailing in the Bermuda race and Mackinac winner for the past two years, and Paul Smiley's "Orient" would not sail against Toot Gmeiner's "Apache," Ledge Mitchell's "Soubrette," Clara Jacobs' "Falcon II," Clete Wellings' "Vitesse" and Frank White's "Tigris," all of which are New York 32's.

Actually if the switch was made it would practically leave "Escapade" and "Orient" all by themselves in the top class in the annual classic. As it is, the trend is towards smaller boats and the big 72-foot yawls like "Escapade," the Timken brothers "Kittyhawk" and J. B. Ford's "Royone" which he gave to the Naval Academy last year, are fast becoming extinct. It is particularly noticeable in the even years like 1952 when the Bermuda race is run. Usually the Timken brothers leave their ship down on the East coast for the season and then take it south in the winter. It is only in the odd years that "Kittyhawk" gets a chance to have her bottom caressed by the fresh water of the Great Lakes.

"Escapade" will not be back this year for the Bayview-Mackinac; that you can be sure of because I got that information from "Eskie" the sailing master himself. Clark Swart, said Swart "it's just too short a time to get back from Bermuda with the boat for the Mackinac race."

With "Escapade," last year's champion, out of the way Paul Smiley's "Orient" will be scratch boat and a new champion is inevitable in the Cruising A division. The Cruising B division will see a new champion also now that Dave Sloss' "Kathmar" is down East under a new owner. Crescent Sail Y. C. is going to try something new this season just as soon as they get their harbor fixed up. It seems one of the members has been tinkering with a new starting system which is fool proof and automatic. It is a series of three lights which can be pointed at

Summer Time Canteen
By Pat Patterson
We had fun—How about you? The Summer Time Canteen turned out to be better than anyone expected. In fact it was reported that the Band could be heard for blocks around the Neighborhood Club through the efforts of the "Five Fives Plus One" an outstanding teen age Dixieland Band headed by Tom Saunders on the Cornet, Jim Wyse—Clarinet, Dave Riener—Sax, Ed Nicholson—Baritone, Jim Bruzese—Drums and Marta Trombley—Banjo.

The boys have become very popular since they have been playing at the club, with bids for several jobs. Plus dancing and square dancing, there is volleyball, badminton, bowling on the green—plenty to keep everybody busy!! Remember—this is for Teen Ager and a special invitation is extended to all Grosse Pointe fellows and girls who like an evening of fun!

The nights are Tuesday and Thursday from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Come along and bring your friends!!

Day Camp
Don't forget Day Camp starts Monday, June 30, and every day is going to be a circus—fun for all. See you at Day Camp.

Softball
The Girls softball games were postponed Friday because of rain but this coming Friday will find the games really starting. If you want to play, be there on Friday, June 27. We anticipate a good turn out.

Fishing Contest Gets Slow Start

Gray's Sports Shop's fifth annual fishing contest opened Saturday, June 21, but the weather wasn't exactly encouraging to most of the prospective fishermen. At least that is what Mr. Gray figures as the reason for the lack of entries.

In fact, to date there is but one lonely entry, made by Jerry Mehl, who brought in a ten inch perch. Now that someone has broken the ice, and the weather is perfect for fishing, Gray's expects to be rushed with a multitude of entries.

Boat in Trouble Towed to Shore

Last Friday night while choppy seas pounded the shoreline, a motorist driving along Lake Shore road noticed three signal flares arch into the sky off Provincial road. He notified Farms police that a large cabin cruiser was wallowing in distress about 50 yards out from the seawall.

The police relayed the message to the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. A rescue ship put out from their harbor, took the disabled cruiser in tow and secured her at the Farm municipal pier at the foot of Moros.

"Inbad II" had been in bad enough. Owner Allen Rhodes, of 20077 Strassburg, Detroit, aboard with three friends, told his rescuers that the engine had burned out while crossing from Canada. One of the passengers of the floundering ship, Mrs. Joanne Bercha of Van Dyke, Mich., had suffered injuries. She was treated at Cottage Hospital for a bruised back, hip, and left leg.

Robert Starnes Wins Wayne Fencing Letter

For recognition of his service to Wayne University and its fencing team, Robert Starnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Telfair Starnes of 923 Washington road, was awarded a major letter in fencing by the Wayne University Athletic Advisory Board at its most recent meeting.

Now a Sophomore in the College of Pharmacy, Starnes will be graduated in June, 1954. This was his first letter in fencing. Starnes was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School in January, 1947. He is also a member of Wayne's ROTC unit and will be commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Air Force upon graduation.

Starnes, who did little fencing before coming to Wayne, was an epee man on the Wayne squad that won seven and lost but three dual meets. As one of Coach Bela de Tuscan's returning lettermen, Starnes will be one of the important men next year.

Use Extra Care Over Holidays
With favorable weather, the volume of traffic on Michigan highways during the Fourth of July holiday period is expected to surpass all previous records and State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs is warning motorists the accident toll could likewise be an all-time high. "The highest toll for the Fourth of July period in the state was 38 deaths in 1950," Childs said. "The lowest was eight in 1949. "Last year the holiday came on a mid-week day, eliminating extended week end trips for most persons. But ten persons were killed on the Fourth and 32 during the previous week, the worst week end of the 1951 summer season. "This year the Fourth and the week end are combined into an extended holiday period. On the basis of last year's record we could have a new high fatality toll for the period. But we won't necessarily have a new high record if care and caution are practiced. In fact, there is no reason why the 1952 record cannot be as low—or lower—than the all-time low in 1949. "Special efforts on the part of drivers to control speed would prevent many accidents and save lives. Speeding is a factor in two out of every five fatal traffic accidents. "All other safe driving practices also are drivers' responsibilities. If they carry out their responsibilities our accidents will be cut to a minimum. "The Commissioner also warned against the use of fireworks. "Firecrackers may look harmless," he said, "but they are very dangerous playthings. Furthermore, their use in Michigan is illegal. "No matter where you go or what you do over the Fourth—play it safe. The Fourth is Independence day. Celebrate it free of accidents."

A really nice Pointer, one of the granddames of society, clad herself in a pet last week and gave daily society departments a bad time . . . She not only refused to give any details of a party for a current deb . . . but scorched so many reportorial ears, the gals thought they were back in the era of the long bathing suit . . . when publicity was unlady-like.

She was miffed because her name had been omitted from an earlier mention of the deb party in one of the papers . . . and NOW it was too late . . . for all the papers . . .

Other granddames who wish to avoid such a contretemps might remember that consistent decent treatment to reporters always assures in return equally friendly and considerate treatment . . . but you can't snort at them for 15 years and expect them to type charming paragraphs about you when your day of publicity arrives . . .

High hat and hard-to-get-along-with society gals are the reason behind the drastic change in the modern society page . . . you can now read that Mrs. Azure Blood III is attending a convention on what to do about children with warts . . . but purely social fluff is being given the go-by . . . not worth the wheeling it took to get . . . or the airs reporters had to suffer to get news . . .

Most modern young matrons take newspaper publicity in stride . . . they grew up in an era when it was accepted (and we aren't talking about the cafe society set that works tooth and nail to land in the papers every day) . . .

And again we repeat an observation that has a couple decades of reporting in back if it . . . the names you see on most society pages . . . aren't those of people who long to be there . . . but of people who have withstood the acid test and are considered real people and news by those who work at society pages . . . at least that's the way it is on Grosse Pointe News . . .

PILFERINGS

Lee J. Smits, whose newscasts for Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. inspire most of Detroit to dial WXYZward at 6:15 each evening is a natural raconteur.

One of his favorite characters is a Southern colonel whom you can actually see as Lee unfolds stories about him.

Now according to Mr. Smits the colonel was some years ago put on the teetotaler list by his physician. He really stuck to it, too. But on a recent check-up Doc prescribed a relaxing drink at bed time.

The colonel hurried home and got into his favorite chair. He called Rastus to the porch of the plantation and instructed him thusly:

"Rastus . . . this evenin' long about fo'n, Ah want you to go down to that mint patch back theah near the Summer kitchen. Ah want you to select some mint, not the great big dusty leaves but the small, green and tender leaves and Ah want you to pluck a handful of them, carefully.

"Then Ah want you to get out one of those silvah glasses my ancestors brought ovah heah from England. Ah want you to put the young mint leaves in the bottom of that theah glass and then add a little snow white sugh. Then Ah want you to take a spoon and jest bruite those leaves with the sugh . . . don't muddle them all around, boy, heah, but jest b-r-u-i-s-e them.

"Then Ah wants you to fill that glass to almost the top with ice chipped to the size of a song sparrow's egg and put the whole in the refrigerator.

"While it's cooling off theah and that mint is perfuming the nuggets of ice, Ah want you to go up in the attic. Go ovah to that tin trunk where Ah keep my daddy's uniform and sword. Move them carefully, very carefully, and there you'll find a jug of corn likker my daddy put down when he was a young man. Take the jug but replace the uniform and the sword and close that tin trunk. Go back to the kitchen and get that silver glass from the refrigerator and then slowly, fill it to the top with that amber liquid from the jug of corn likker.

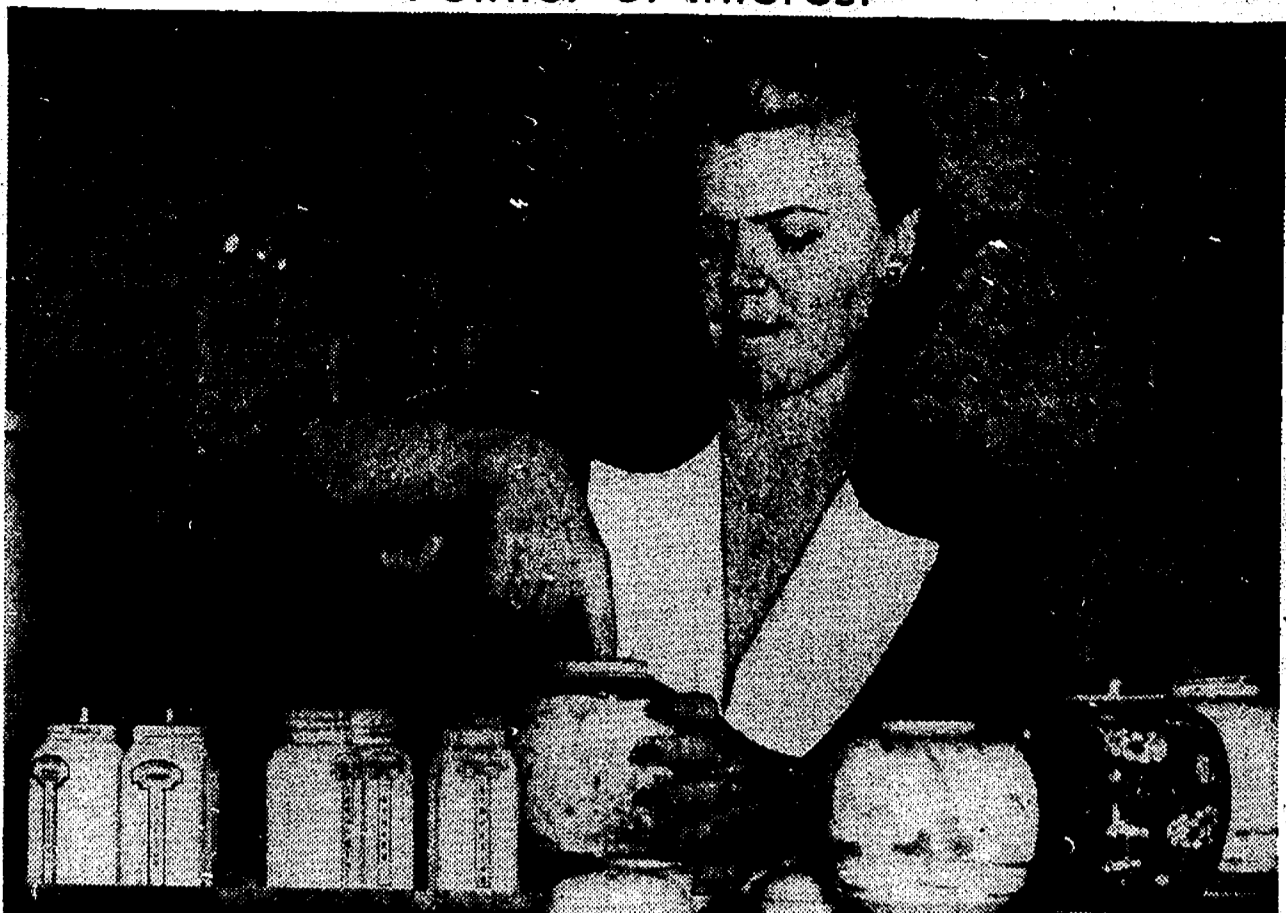

"Ah want you to bring that mint julep to me at bedtime, and Rastus if Ah try to refuse, Ah want you to force me to drink that julep!"

MRS. SHIRLEY M. GEORGI OF BERKSHIRE ROAD

By Jane Schermerhorn

This week we met a rose petal jar in the flesh. Until then we had to be content with references to them in novels of the nineteenth century when ladies shaded themselves from the sun by frilly parasols, counted a Summer lost if the rose petal jar wasn't filled with fragrant mixture and fainted dead away when the master said "damn me, madam!"

We met the rose petal jar filled by a lovely and modern charmer, Mrs Shirley Georgi of Berkshire road who has a second hobby: she's determined to re-open a collection. Now, wouldn't that combination have sent the nineteenth century lady at a clip for her smelling salts?

Let's be frivolous first and talk about the rose jar. Mrs. Georgi said that she gets into her worst involvement when she's sitting under the "drier" at the beauty parlor. That's where she was the day she came upon an article telling how to make an old fashioned rose petal jar.

Before she knew it she was in her garden with scissors and basket, snipping off 500 full blown roses (she counted them!). The time was noon and that's important for the morning dew must have left the blossoms gathered for rose jars.

How To Do It She took the rose-filled basket to the basement, plucked off all the petals and scattered them on paper until the next day.

Then, in a gallon crock, she laid a layer of rose petals (half inch thick) and a handful of coarse salt . . . alternating this way till the petals had been used. She covered the crock and stored it in a cool place for 10 days, stirring it once a day.

Come back here . . . there's more! At the end of the 10th day she took another stone crock and over the bottom of it put a light layer of the following mixture: 1 ounce of whole cloves, 1 ounce of stick cinnamon, 1 ounce of whole allspice which had been ground together. (She found a hammer and towel the most effective way of mashing these.)

Next came a layer of the petals and so on until, again, all the petals were used. This crock was covered and stored in the cool, dark place for three weeks.

The Final Step Then came the final step, which also requires the rose jar. An authentic one, now collector's items and found in antique shops or attics, has a double stopper. One is generally perforated, fits down into the jar and is covered by a solid top.

Into the bottom of this jar she strewed a layer of the following mixture (called stock), alternating with petals till she arrived one inch from the top of the jar. For some reason you must stop there to get the proper circulation, etc., required for the rich perfume: ¼ oz. mace, ¼ oz. allspice, ¼ oz. cloves, ½ nutmeg, grated, 1 oz. powdered orris root, 4 oz. dried lavender flowers (or ½ oz. oil of lavender) mixed together.

A few rose geranium leaves is a good addition to the stock. After you have finished this alternate layer process, pour one ounce of good cologne over all, pack petals well down and put cover on the jar. If you haven't real rose jars, you can use ginger jars or even an old fashioned sugar bowl with cover. These, however, won't preserve the fragrance at its full strength quite so well.

Mrs. Georgi told us also, that her original directions called for rose oil. She started out on a frenzied search for this until a druggist told her it costs one hundred dollars an ounce. That's when she settled for the dried lavender blossoms.

The lavender blossoms weren't easy to find either. She scoured Detroit and Detroit stores without success. A friend found them in a spice store in New York and sent her a good supply. That's why she gives the oil of lavender substitution in the directions she shares with you today.

National Park College Now to the serious side of our Pointer of Interest, she really is intent upon re-opening a college.

Mrs. Georgi is an alumna of National Park Seminary, organized in 1894. Until 1943 girls from all over the country traveled to Washington to be educated there. Then three weeks before school was to open in 1943, the students received messages telling them National Park has been condemned by the government for use as a convalescent home by Walter Reed Hospital.

It was a rude shock, but everyone connected with National Park College was happy enough that the military were convalescing on the beautiful grounds and in the spacious buildings.

However, a devoted alumnae hoped some day there again would be a National Park for girls. They have never ceased working towards this goal and after the war success seemed near and then . . . the Korean War started.

The Future

They now are faced, with waiting to see what will happen to the school or starting a brand new National Park in these hardy auspicious building times. In the meantime the alumnae, Mrs. Georgi being president of the Detroit group, daily becomes more active and more determined.

Mrs. Henry P. Williams of Grosse Pointe was a member of the first graduating class at National Park and other well-known alumnae include actress Sue Carroll, Irene Castle and Margaret Lindsay.

There are about 165 members of the association in Detroit, better than 50 living in Grosse Pointe. They have maintained a bed at Children's Hospital, contributed to the hospital library and furnished book carts for several years as an alumnae activity.

To Meet Here

Next May, the Detroit group will be host at the three day national convention. Mrs. Georgi says that though that seems a long way off, actually there will be just eight meetings when all plans for accommodations, entertainment, program, etc., must be perfected.

This May she attended the convention in Texas. The Texas alumnae did things up in the grand Texas manner with the Shamrock Hotel as headquarters and a really wonderful program of meetings and gracious hospitality.

National Park boosters include Mr. Georgi and the three little Georgis: Neal, aged 12, and the 10 year old blond twins, Marilyn and Sharon.

(Or Finnish Coffee Cake)

2 c. milk

5 whole eggs

1½ tsp. cardamom seed, ground

1 tsp. salt

1½ c. sugar

2 yeast cakes

½ lb. butter

¾ to 1½ lbs. flour

Beat milk in double boiler to lukewarm temperature. Add cardamom seeds and salt. Mix sugar and eggs together then add yeast cakes which have been mixed with little luke warm water to soften. Add flour, very gradually, until thick enough to knead.

When finished kneading, take about 1½ tablespoons of the melted butter and knead into dough. Let it rise for two hours. Put on flouring board and knead a little more. Break off three pieces large enough to roll into strips about 1½ inch thick and 18 inches long. Braid these three strips together.

Place on buttered tins and let raise again for an hour. Brush tops with egg. Sprinkle sugar over tins and bake at 375 degree oven for 15 minutes and then reduce heat to 350 degrees until done (about 45 more minutes.)

In support of professional photography, may I offer an apology? As a photographer, I take great pride in my profession. We do have a strict code of ethics and conduct. However, sometimes a studio becomes quite desperate for business, possibly as a result of superior competition or maybe their own lack of quality and service. Whatever the reason, it seems that as business gets worse, they try to sell even harder. They neglect their product and concentrate only on high pressure sales tactics. The telephone is the easiest medium to try and peddle their goods.

It is for anyone who has pestered you in such a way that I offer an apology. Please don't judge all photographers by a few who know no better. Look always for the label of good ethics—Member—Detroit Portrait Photographers' Association.
