Modern marriage wouldn't be such a gamble if so many couples didn't think a pair beats a full house.

Edison Retires Three Pointers

Three veteran Detroit Edison engineers (all of them Grosse Pointers), began their retirements January 1. They are Executive Vice-President Paul W. Thompson, Chief Civil Engineer John R. James, and Staff Engineer William B. Hurley.

Mr. Thompson, 65 years old, is a graduate of Cornell University, where he taught in the engineering college for three years before joining The Detroit Edison Company in 1913.

Headline entertainment at the dance will be furnished by Betty Clooney, nationally known radio and television vocalist. Music will be supplied by Don Pablo and his orchestra.

Dance to Help March of Dimes

Two Grosse Pointe residents are playing an active part in the current March of Dimes campaign which is being conducted by students at the University of Detroit. Co-sponsors of the drive are Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, and Delta Pi Delta, co-ed club.

Madeline Hackman, 851 Washington road, is co-chairman of the drive and Joseph Henk, 1235 Grayton, is on the decorations committee.

The campaign began Monday, January 5, and will climax at a March of Dimes ball to be held Saturday night at the Latin Quarter. All proceeds of the drive and ball will be donated to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Girl Scout News

There is a brand new Brownie troop at Kerby School. In fact, it is so new they haven't as yet selected a troop number. Among the 13 girls invested were: Francis Stevenson, Chrissie Anderson, Lila Baldwin, Virginia Debo, Mendy Eifeldt, Ann Engel, Kathy Groehn, Carol Hilgendorf, Patty Jones, Joan Price, Roberta Reno, Linda Wade, Adena Wright, Patsy Lee and Diana Sagel. All were presented with World Friendship Pins.

The new leaders are Mrs. T. Groehn, Mrs. Carl Engel and Mrs. Thomas Baldwin.

Brownie Troop 304 of Kerby School recently visited Division A, Battery 99, Triple A gun division. They presented the boys with 50 victrola records and many books. Another visit was to the Albert H. Schmidt Foundation. It is a farm operated by Wayne University. They inspected the barns and watched the grading of eggs.

Sewing machines have been whirring. Mrs. J. L. Henry and Mrs. Burchenal have made 730 Christmas stockings. It is a Christmas project for the Brownie Troops of Kerby School. On December 22 they presented the stockings, filled with goodies, to the soldiers camped on Chalfonte.

An informal meeting of the mothers of Mason School, for the new Brownie Troop, was held at the home of Mrs. John J. Zolad on Hawthorne road. The afternoon was spent in getting acquainted and in learning about Brownie rules and customs.

Camera Club Holds Meeting

The Grosse Pointe Camera Club started on its New Year program with an arrangement of table-tops for photographing by its members at its meeting on Tuesday evening, January 6, 1953.

Wayne Donaldson, president of the club, had made arrangements for two experts to make the set-ups and lighting of the table-tops and the members were then allowed to shoot pictures of the miniatures until their film had run out.

Mr. Donaldson had also arranged for a Clinic Photography for those who wished to present their questions and problems. An experienced board of four members had been selected for that purpose.

John Applegate, member of the Executive Board has just won the outstanding PSA Honor of first place with his picture of a disabled boat entitled "Dis-masted."

HEAR AT LAST

This miss is exclaiming over a transistor, the tiny electronic discovery that may change our world. Used to benefit the hard of hearing for the first time, it has resulted in the smallest Sonotone in history. The heart of the transistor is a minute speck of germanium. The device uses much less electrical power than a vacuum tube, slashing battery costs for hearing aid users. One of the batteries used with the new Sonotone will last over six months.

Sonotone offices are at 1113 Book Tower, and maintain hearing aid and hearing aid battery service for all types for the Grosse Pointes. Phone WO. 1-1545.

High School Band, Orchestra To Give Concert January 16

BY JOHN SERREYN

The Grosse Pointe High School musicians will perform Friday, January 16, at 8:15 p. m. in the Parcels Junior High Auditorium. Both the band and orchestra will participate in the program under the direction of Mr. Dewey D. Kalember.

Among the numbers the band will play is "Tap Roots," a tone poem which is a condensed version of the background music for the movie of the same name. "Tap Roots" will be of interest to those who like band music, inasmuch as it is the first arrangement of its kind made from some of the fine motion picture background music. It was the general opinion around Holly-wood that the music was excellent and much of that type had been going to waste after a picture finished its run.

So it was decided to utilize the scores and make them available for better band literature. And so the first number of this series became available through the fine arranging of one of movie-dom's top arrangers, Frank Skinner, who was responsible for the scores to "Canyon Passage," "Harvey," "Francis," and many of Dianna Durbin's hit pictures. "Tap Roots" is an excellent addition to the library of good band music.

Other numbers the band will play include a march "The Southerner," by Alexander; "Git on Board," a novelty; "Concerto Grosso" by Handel, for two solo flutes and a solo clarinet.

Pointer Alleged Cigaret Smuggler

Sam Frontiera, alleged leader of a cigarette smuggling ring which had during the past three years swindled about $5,000,000 in taxes from the state, surrendered to State Police December 30, after a warrant had been issued charging him with conspiracy to violate the Michigan cigarette tax law.

The warrant followed an extended investigation by Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Nathan Kaufman in which it was disclosed that Frontiera, who lives at 379 Chalfonte, Grosse Pointe, had been involved in smuggling operations between St. Louis and Detroit since early 1950.

Frontiera was released under $2,000 bond after pleading innocent on arraignment before Redford Township Justice of the Peace Randall C. Kohler. Examination was set for January 26. Maximum penalty upon conviction is a $5,000 fine or five years in jail, or both.

Colbert to Talk To Churchmen

L. L. Colbert, president of the Chrysler Corporation, will address the next dinner meeting of the Men's Association of The Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on Wednesday evening, January 14.

The men begin to gather at the church house before 6:30 and the dinner will be served in the gymnasium promptly at 7 o'clock.

Those desiring to attend are asked to phone in their reservations to the church office, TU. 5-3773.

Culinary Capers At High School

Charles Saltzer, assistant principal of the Grosse Pointe High School, reported to Farms police on January 5, that sometime during the holidays someone had broken into the school building and entered the cafeteria, where they prepared food which they had apparently brought with them.

Investigation revealed that the "junior home economists" had finished their culinary capers in the teachers' lounge with a dessert of ice cream.

Two windows had been broken in the process.

Church School Gets New Head

Otis M. Dickey, administrative assistant of the Grosse Pointe Public School system, has been appointed the new superintendent of the Church School of Grosse Pointe Methodist Church.

Dickey replaces Fred Krutz, who is leaving the city to be in charge of the Texas, Oklahoma, Mississippi and Tennessee sales district for Fruehauf Trailer Co.

Dickey comes to this position with a fine record of church service in the Methodist Church in Arvada, Colorado. He will officially take office at the January 13 meeting of the board of education of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church.

VOLUNTEER BIG BROTHERS

Two Grosse Pointers, Mrs. Bernard Kozicki of Somerset and Arthur Hurlbut of Balfour, are volunteer Big Brothers in the program of the Church Youth Service for helping erring youngsters to better lives, one of the worthwhile community services made possible by contributions to the recent Torch Drive.

Reckless Drivers Pay Up in Court

Judge C. Joseph Belanger disposed of seven court cases at the December 31 proceedings of the Grosse Pointe Park municipal court.

Two of the defendants forfeited bonds when they failed to appear to answer charges placed against them. Thomas Herdon, 555 Garfield, forfeited a $15 bond. He had been charged with speeding. James J. McGrath, of 1916 Richmond, charged with running a stop street, forfeited a bond of $10.

For a stop street violation, Margaret B. Aurand, of 21816 Lakeview, forfeited a $6 bond.

A fine of $30 was placed against Frederick C. Stoepel, 579 Neff road, for speeding.

Fine was suspended, but court costs of $2.20 were charged against Sue B. Trombly, of 1001 Beaconsfield. She had been involved in an auto accident.

A $7 fine for a stop street violation was placed against Ralph R. Byrne, of 3130 Drexel.

The case against Peder Field, 1580 Lochmoor, involved in an accident, was dismissed.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Schermerborn

Wedding guests scurried over the first real snow of Winter to attend the lovely wedding of Susie Joy and Woodson K. Woods, Jr., last Saturday afternoon . . .

Gray skies darkened the afternoon . . . bringing into full beauty the lighted stained glass windows of Christ Church . . .

And the use of dimmed to candle power cathedral chandeliers inside the church . . . and ivory tapers (marking every other pew) was most effective . . .

It was almost as if young, blond and fascinating Susie was marrying a Pointe boy . . . for by time of the wedding most of the Pointe knew him well . . .

He arrived before Christmas to spend the holidays with Susie and her parents . . . the Richard P. Joys, Jr., of Provincial road . . .

Youngsters In Wedding Party

Two tiny members of the wedding party were flower girl, Vicki Joy (very little cousin of the bride and daughter of the William M. Joys, and Dickie Lord, son of the John N. Lords . . .)

Dickie was a bit tight-lipped and saucer-eyed about his part of the afternoon . . . but Vicki, a real social butterfly . . . just loved it . . .

She drank in the whole scene . . . all the pretty bridesmaids . . . scanned the ushers wisely . . . and held her bouquet of pink camellias in fine middle-aisle style . . .

As Susie and her father waited on the winding stone steps inside the foyer of Christ Church . . . waited for the organ to burst forth into the wedding march . . . handsome maid of honor, Eunie Hefferan, a deb of the holiday season, laughed and chatted with the bride . . . together they giggled away wedding stage-fright . . . and they look enough alike to be sisters . . .

An Affectionate Look

Mrs. Joy, Jr., took a last, affectionate look at Susie and the bridesmaids in the undercroft . . .

And then with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Richard P. Joy, Sr. (who especially likes the feminine side of a wedding, having only sons herself) . . . arrived to be seated in family pews . . .

It was the first wedding of a Joy daughter in many years . . . and the occasion was a socially brilliant one . . . calling forth top roster of the city's oldest families . . .

Newberrys, McMillans, Fords

The careful observer was probably surprised that the Pointe still boasts so many chauffeurs . . .

Practically each in the endless stream of long and purring motor cars boasted a full liveried man behind the wheel.

It was nice to see Mrs. John S. Newberry among the early arrivals at the church . . . she was accompanied by her son, John S. Newberry, Jr. . . .

Glimpsed:

The James McMillans, she in a fashionable black stiffened silk frock under her fur jacket, and a gay emerald velvet bonnet atop her pretty head . . . the Henry B. Joys, Jr. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Ford . . . Mrs. Roy D. (Continued on Page 8)

Woodson Woods, Jr. On Trip To Honolulu

A Month on Islands Follows Nuptials of Former Susie Joy, Daughter of The Richard P. Joys Jr., and Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Woods of St. Louis

A plane winged into the January sky last weekend carrying among its passengers the new Mr. and Mrs. Woodson K. Woods, Jr., bound for a month in Honolulu.

The former Susie Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Joy, Jr., of Provincial road, and her bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodson K. Woods of St. Louis, Mo., exchanged their vows at a fashionable ceremony Saturday afternoon in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

Wedding guests attended a reception at the Joys' Pointe home following the church service.

The tiny bride was gowned in white satin and finest silk illusion with white velvet ivy leaves embroidered in seed pearls applied on the molded bodice.

The great skirt swept into a cathedral train and a tiny Juliet of the white velvet ivy leaves held her billowing wedding veil. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, ivy and white camellias.

Eunie Hefferan was Susie's maid of honor. Her classic gown of soft blue tissue taffeta was designed with floor-touching skirt, a burst of unpressed pleats widening gracefully. The slender bodice was off-shoulder.

On her head was a small cap of matching velvet. Her flowers were a stylized arrangement of blush pink camellias.

The six bridal attendants were similarly gowned. They included Joan Babcock of Long Island; Mary Mosby of St. Louis; Daphne Towne of New York; Fay Fitz-Simons, Susan Richardson and Pam Sattley.

Five-year-old Vicki Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Moore Joy and the bride's cousin, was flower girl. She wore a short white organza frock with pink satin ribbon sash and carried a tiny bouquet of pink camellias. Ring bearer was Dickey Lord, son of the John Norton Lords.

Nancy Chapman Bride Of Don Lewis Nixon

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Chapman of Provincial Road, Is Wed at Evening Ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church; To Live on Lincoln Road

At a ceremony Saturday evening in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Nancy Chapman became the bride of Don Lewis Nixon.

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Chapman of Provincial road and her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Nixon of Ann Arbor.

Her beautiful bridal costume of candlelight satin and rose-pointe lace was worn with full length veil bordered in Duchesse lace from her grandmother's wedding gown.

Three-quarter length sleeves distinguished the fitted bodice, which had low, heart-shaped neckline. The great skirt swept into a cathedral length train.

Nancy carried a bouquet of white stephanotis with ivy streamers.

Gowns of sapphire blue with bodices of lace and frothy floor-length skirts of matching nylon net were worn by the six bridal attendants.

Brief circlets of lace covered their shoulders during the church ceremony and they wore tiny caps of the same lace.

The bride's sister, Julienne Chapman, was maid of honor and Mrs. H. Hudson Mead was the matron of honor.

Bridesmaids included the bridegroom's sister, Betty Nixon of New York City; Marion Campbell, Ann Kamper and Janet Van Osdol.

Dwight S. Adams attended Mr. Nixon as best man and the guests were seated by Robert C. Campbell and Robert M. Nelson of Birmingham; Russell V. Allman Jr. of East Lansing; Benjamin G. Chapman III, brother of the bride, and Lawrence Verdier.

A becoming gown of navy lace was worn by the bride's mother. It had jacket of matching lace and her flowers, white spray orchids, were pinned to her handbag. She completed her costume with small navy hat.

Mrs. Nixon, who also chose navy lace gown, wore a pale pink chapeau and pinned pink camellias to her purse.

Following the candlelight ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Chapman were hosts to the wedding guests at a reception in the Country Club.

The new Mrs. Nixon donned a navy suit with matching accessories when she and her bridegroom left on their wedding trip.

The Nixons will divide their time between Miami Beach and Nassau and upon their return, will make their home in Lincoln road.

At a small and quiet home wedding last Saturday afternoon, Betty Claire Plaggemeier, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry W. Plaggemeier of the Indian Village Manor and J. Boyer Candler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Candler of Lake Shore road, were married.

The ceremony took place at the Yorkshire road residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace S. MacKenzie, close friends of the bride's parents.

Betty Claire wore a frock of ecru lace embroidered in seed pearls for her wedding. The molded bodice was finished with bracelet length sleeves and a soft V neckline. She carried white orchids and ivy in her bridal bouquet.

Her only attendant was Mrs. Morton McGinley of Colorado Springs (the former Sally Duffield) wore a taffeta frock in the same ecru tone as the bride's gown. It had brilliant and pearl embroidery on the neckline and Mrs. McGinley's flowers were bronze orchids.

Form Junior Optimists Club

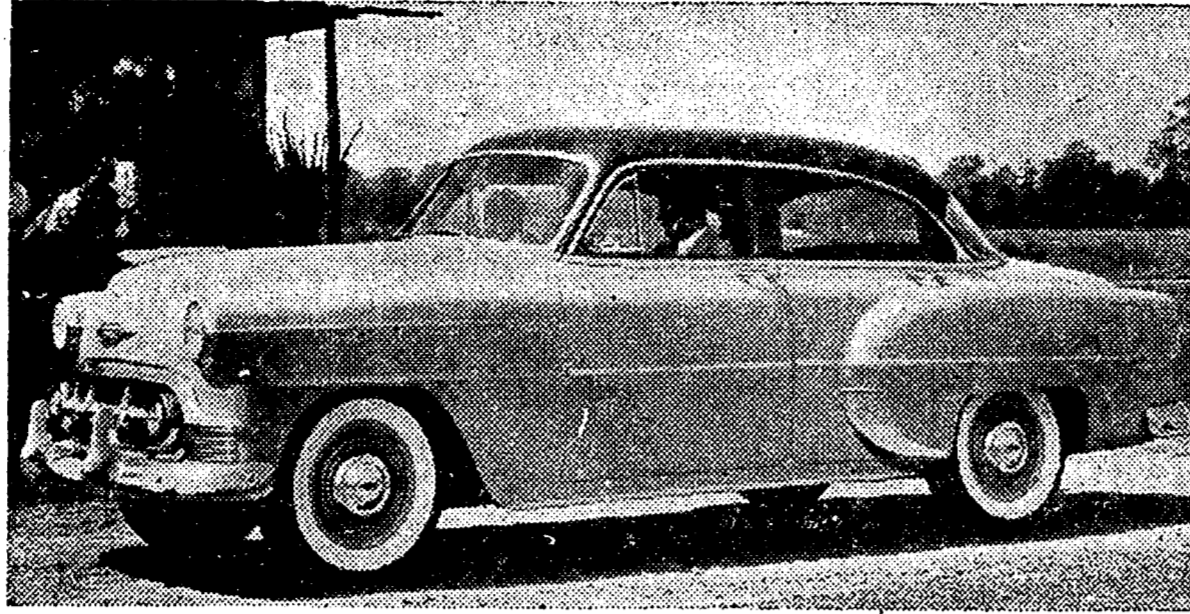

A group of 36 teen-agers, under the sponsorship of the Grosse Pointe Optimists Club, met at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial building, and elected the following officers: Roy Boutin, president; Don McKenzie, first vice president; Pat Stahl, second vice president; Sharon DeMars, secretary; Tom Harper, treasurer; and Jim Bloom, sergeant-at-arms.

The officers then appointed a board of directors as follows: Mary Jane Clementi, Bill Howard, Barbara Cleveland, Mary Lou Liddell, Bob Heilman, Joanne Callies, and Bob Fisher. The group has applied to Optimists International for a charter through Marvin R. Boutin, chairman of Junior Work, representing the Optimist Club of Grosse Pointe.

The teen-agers meet at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center on Tuesday evenings, from 7:30 to 9 p.m., and extend an invitation to anyone interested in joining to contact Sharon DeMars, or visit them any meeting night. The age limit is 15 to 21 years.

A dinner dance is being planned sometime in January, at which time the charter will be presented to the club.

Increased Performance in New Chevrolet

The low, sweeping lines on the 1953 Chevrolet are exemplified by this four door sedan in the "Two-Ten" series. The new Chevrolets may be seen in this area at Ray Whyte Chevrolet Co., 15175 E. Jefferson, and Don McCullagh, Inc., 16700 Harper.

Gets Probation For Bad Checks

A Recorder's Court disposition placed Stanley Sheppard on six months probation on four bad check counts that totaled $135, Farms police revealed.

Co-owners Harvey Gray and Michael Romanchuck of the Pointe Tire Service, at 131 Kercheval, reported to the police that they had cashed checks for Sheppard on three separate occasions in November, all of which were returned for lack of sufficient funds.

Sheppard lives at 563 Fisher road.

Two Cars Crash At Intersection

Total damages to two cars amounted to about $300, according to Farms police, when they collided January 2, at the corner of Charlevoix and Fisher.

Mr. Sweeney, a resident of Lakeview, Detroit, had been driving west on Charlevoix. His car was knocked over one curb and into a sign post. No injuries resulted, police said.

From Us - - - - - To You

Another year is done, and before 1953 grows too lusty we would like to avail ourselves of the opportunity for extending greetings and thanks to the many who crowd our heart.

To us, the actual passing of one year into the next creates an atmosphere far too boisterous for the proper evaluation of things accomplished and acknowledgments due.

A whole new year lies ahead, providing opportunity for erecting and attacking new goals, making new friends, growing closer to the old, burying past errors and dreaming bright, new dreams with fervent hopes of fulfillment before another 12 months have fled.

We who are affiliated with this newspaper cannot but be profoundly grateful to those who have shared the last year with us. As in every similar period, there have been myriad experiences of mingled happiness, depression, enlightenment, disillusion, satisfaction, dissatisfaction, joy, despair, ambition and frustration.

Retrospect carries us back to our birth 12 years ago last fall, when a survey convinced us that this community required a medium that could record its goings and comings, its accomplishments and its failings.

The metropolitan papers drew most of their society news from what they termed the Pointe's "Gold Coast." A Pointe murder naturally rated top-billing. Any local scandal was endowed with a special savor.

We felt there were abundant opportunities and challenges here to merit the launching of a paper, dedicated to stimulating the growth and sharing the growing pains of a particularly favored and vigorous community.

Looking back, the publication of the first issue might have taken place but a few months ago. When, today, we search through the files for background material on a story, the accumulated mass of Pointe history would indicate that aeons have passed since Volume One, Number One came tumbling off the press.

The little children in our early pictures have become the brides and bridegrooms of our later issues. The boys in service about whom so much was written during the anguished days of World War II, have mostly returned, to take their important places in the varied pursuits of this great metropolitan area.

The population of the Pointe has nearly doubled and the little people on the side streets have, more than ever, become the backbone of the community.

It is a source of infinite satisfaction and pride to us that we have been enabled to match our progress, stride for stride, with that of the entire community.

Most of the messages received in a newspaper office, other than those soliciting space, are of a condemning nature. We are most grateful that particularly during the last few years, our mail has been most pleasantly spiced with epistles of thanks.

We can only say that the things for which we have been thanked are the identical things which have built up our reader interest, something without which no paper can survive. If we have had anything to do with helping new businesses become established, we are most pleased that we have helped make shopping problems easier for the residents who can now find everything close by their own homes.

We have cherished the notes from the officers of church guilds, youth organizations, school groups, blood collection agencies, charitable movements, the military, and the hundreds and hundreds of individuals who have taken the time to bless us for having some small part in making their own particular ventures successful.

To all of them . . . and to all of you . . . our blessings . . . and may this new year and all the years to come, bring you everything good.

"What if the rose-streak of morning Pale and depart in a passion of tears? Once to have hoped is no matter for scorn! A minute's success pays the failure of years."

(Robert Browning)

Most of our Christmas cards arrived after Christmas . . . as did the bulk of our out-of-town packages, but we have before us ONE card that we can't blame on anyone connected with the U.S. mails.

No doubt you have all heard at one time or another, the delightful screwball who advertises Charles Antell hair products on radio and television. It is without a doubt one of the most amusing commercials we've ever heard and there should be more of them.

We got into a discussion recently about the number of plane accidents lately and how ghastly they were. One of the group related that he was in a private plane not long ago and looked ahead just in time to see another plane coming head on for HIS, out of a cloud.

Someone gave the man in our life a small book on the mechanics of fixing your own t-v set and radio. All during the holidays he had that far away look in his eye, that told us he was silently praying for something to go wrong with our set, or his or a neighbor's.

We were on the point of calling the trusty radio man, when our hero tut-tutted that idea and said he would have it fixed in a jiffy and no cost whatever! He retired to a small back room at around noon . . . book and radio in hand and we didn't see him again until nearly 6 p.m.

We said (charmingly, we thought), "What in aich goes on here? We've missed twenty programs while you've been practicing on that blasted thing." He assured us that he was on the last leg of the repair job and would have it ship-shape in a trice.

However, we fiddaddled around with it until we did get some music . . . which satisfied us until we heard a foreign voice that sounded like it might be Italian or Polish. A little more dialing and we found we were getting England. In fact we were getting everything but the United States and, more particularly, Michigan!

The following day, we called the radio repair man, who told us (after a quick going over) that our hero had fixed the button all right . . . but he had also fixed the radio so that the only reception we could get was short wave, i.e., police calls and overseas stuff.

Permit me to go just a bit further than your idea. (Reference, is made to a recent editorial in the NEWS entitled "Night Cyclists Court Tragedy.") The parents of EVERY child who uses a bicycle should be required to deposit a bond of $5,000 with their particular G.P. community, but which would be available in any of the G.P. cities in case of an accident.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor: Permit me to go just a bit further than your idea. (Reference, is made to a recent editorial in the NEWS entitled "Night Cyclists Court Tragedy.")

ALL who use a bike, whether child or older, should have a BIG light on it, and another one just above it in red, green or amber, which would indicate that it is a bike and not a one-eyed auto.

Often, not only at night, but in broad daylight, have children driven bikes in such a dangerous manner that the poor motorist has all he can do to keep from hitting him, and, of course, the motorist is the goat. Bikes should obey ALL traffic regulations like other vehicles, especially the kind of light that is above suggested. GEORGE S. BROWNELL

Mr. Robert Edgar, Editor, Grosse Pte. News Dear Mr. Edgar:

At the annual meeting of the Detroit River Yachting Association on December 5, 1952, I was instructed, on motion, to express to you the appreciation of the association for your contribution to yachting in this area by your generous allocation of space to D.R.Y.A. news, and for the complete and interesting manner in which this news was presented by your paper.

I assure you it is a pleasure to carry out these instructions. You may be interested to know that all of these articles have been clipped and placed in the D.R.Y.A. Scrap Book. Yours truly, Hal F. Smith, Secretary.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

With television, radio, organized play, music lessons, ballet and dancing classes, do children of today still find time to read? If there were any doubt in our mind as to the answer, it was rapidly dispelled during our final week at the City Branch. Comments from the very young set, about the library moving, came thick and fast.

"You mean there will be two whole weeks when there won't be ANY library for me to use?" "I'm worried about my little brother. He just loves books and he's in this library almost every day. Daddy says he'll drive him to the new one on Saturdays 'cause he's too little to walk that far. Once a week wouldn't be enough for me, but I can bike!"

Many comments came too from children who live only a short distance from the new Central Library. "Boy! I can hardly wait. You'll be just around the corner from our house!" . . . and a small third grader who was benefitting by the move commented happily "I just love a library that's handy."

We were amazed ourselves to discover just how much a library means to how many youngsters. Our New Year's resolution is to do everything in our power to nourish that enthusiasm.

What is going on at our library this week would fill a book. Any of you who have cleared out, sorted and moved the belongings of a household after a period of years, will have some slight appreciation of the problems, work and . . . yes, we admit it . . . fun, involved.

We pride ourselves on being a "thrower - outer", but amazing things which we have long since forgotten, now come to light. Among these was a list of the library well-wishers who attended the open house, when the City Branch celebrated its move from its original quarters next to the Neighborhood Club, to Cadieux road, in 1937.

Of those mentioned, four are

Friends of the Library is doing much to promote the interest of this community in its public library. To revert to the subject of moving . . . most of the packing up is now finished and the unpacking well under way. It's work, but it's exciting and fun withal even if we return to our bivouacs each night a little grimy and the worse for wear. Very soon however, "we're going to wash dust right out of our hair" . . . and be all polished and slicked up to give service with a smile on January 26.

The Pease-Hickey wedding took place in Grand Rapids, home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Pease. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Hickey of Edgemont Park.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Hickey of Detroit and the Rev. Father Frederick C. Hickey of Providence, R. I., officiated at their nephew's nuptial mass. Following the church ceremony, the Peases were hosts at a wedding breakfast in the Portland Hotel.

The bride was given in opera length frock of rich white satin, the wide neckline filled with sheer net. Chantilly lace frothed over the bodice and formed the sleeves of the gown. A mantilla of lace and illusion was worn on her head and her flowers were stepanotis and white camellias.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Robert Smith of Grand Rapids.

She wore a frock of American beauty tone with brief, matching jacket and carried Briarcliff roses. A garland of the roses was worn in her hair.

Edward J. Hickey III was best man for his brother and the ushers were the bride's brother, Charles Pease, and David Dillon.

Mrs. Pease attended the wedding in azure blue crepe frock trimmed in lace and pink roses. Mrs. Hickey's deep violet taffeta coat frock was finished with pink sequin buttons. She also wore pink roses.

Following their New Orleans wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Hickey will make their home in Grand Rapids.

There's one thing certain about the tax situation—somebody has to do the paying, and it's always painful.

McLins, William C. McMillan, Sigurd R. Wendin, Reuben M. Waterman, and David M. Whitney, Jr.

Valter Poole as conductor and Laureline Collins as guest commentator makes a team well qualified to present good music to young people in its most entertaining fashion. Kirchner wore a mauve suit with matching hat and navy accessories.

The Pease-Hickey wedding took place in Grand Rapids, home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Pease. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Hickey of Edgemont Park.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Hickey of Detroit and the Rev. Father Frederick C. Hickey of Providence, R. I., officiated at their nephew's nuptial mass. Following the church ceremony, the Peases were hosts at a wedding breakfast in the Pantland Hotel.

The bride was dressed in a gown of white tulle, the wide neckline filled in with sheer net. Chantilly lace frothed over the bodice and formed the sleeves of the gown. A mantilla of lace and illusion was worn on her head and her flowers were stepanotis and white camellias.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Robert Smith of Grand Rapids.

She wore a frock of American beauty tone with brief, matching jacket and carried Briarcliff roses. A garland of the roses was worn in her hair.

Edward J. Hickey III was best man for his brother and the ushers were the bride's brother, Charles Pease, and David Dillon.

Mrs. Pease attended the wedding in azure blue crepe frock trimmed in lace and pink roses. Mrs. Hickey's deep violet taffeta coat frock was finished with pink sequin buttons. She also wore pink roses.

Following their New Orleans wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Hickey will make their home in Grand Rapids.

Voters' League Lists Meetings

The League of Women Voters will present Dr. Max Mark, assistant professor of the Government Department of Wayne University, at an open meeting on Friday, January 9, at War Memorial Center at 1:30 p.m.

Dr. Mark's subject will be "Our Mutual Security Program; Is it Endangering our Economic Security?"

This topic will launch the month's Unit Meeting study of Mutual Security and our foreign policy, which will deal with a survey of the Far Eastern situation—Japan, Korea, Indo-China, and other countries of the Far East.

The public is invited to attend the Friday general meeting and the unit meetings which will follow.

On January 19 at 10 a. m., Mrs. Walker Cisler, of 1071 Devonshire road, will be hostess at a Unit Meeting. Mrs. Melville Collins, 704 Westchester, will open her home to a study group on the same topic that afternoon at 1 p. m., and the evening group will meet with Mrs. Donald McConachie, 272 Mt. Vernon.

Mrs. Ralph Pulliam, 218 Merriweather, will be hostess and unit leader on January 21 at 1 p. m., and Mrs. Robert Warmbold, 1331 Bishop, will lead an evening group at 8 p. m.

this is not enough to take care of all the kids who would like to learn to swim better. At present a non-swimmer can take three terms of Saturday morning swimming and by that time is expected to be able to swim and is forced out of the Saturday morning sessions so that a non-swimmer on the long waiting list can learn to swim.

No Chance To Improve

In other words once a child learns to swim he doesn't have the opportunity to pursue the aquatic sport further until the short swimming season in the summer time.

It has long been the cry of the community fathers that we do not need more than one indoor pool because "we have the lake to swim in." Just how stupid do these people think we are? A ten year old child can tell you that we, in a good year, do not have more than 30 days of good swimming weather.

Grosse Pointe is lagging in recreational facilities not only for its school children but for every member of the community. How long will it be before we open our eyes to reality and get down to the task of giving the things we and our children so rightly deserve?

They Married In December

Announcement has been received of the marriage of Mrs. George Emmett Flanders of Alter road, to Charles Stafford Wyman of Windmill Pointe drive.
The ceremony took place on Saturday, Dec. 27 at St. Clair, Mich., following which the Wyman's left on a trip to Toronto and Montreal.
They will be a home after Jan. 15 in Alter road.

Frederick S. Fords Occupy Their Lodge at Gaylord

You won't be seeing the Frederick S. Fords in the Pointe until next Monday. They are up at their skiing lodge near Gaylord.
A good citizen is one who doesn't break any laws except the ones you break.

Betrothal Told

At a tea on the afternoon of January 3, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph William Eskridge, of Merriweather road, announced the engagement of their daughter, OLIVIA LEE, to Leon Mandel, III. Mr. Mandel is the son of Mrs. George E. Seligmann of New York, and Col. Leon Mandel of Chicago, Ill.

The young couple met while attending Cornell University. Miss Eskridge is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, and is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. The prospective bridegroom attended the Dwight School and Columbia University.

For the party the bride-elect donned a dress of red faille and pinned a corsage of camellias to her shoulder. Mrs. Eskridge received her guests in a black taffeta dress and her flowers were gardenias.

Several out of town guests were on hand for the festive occasion.

A spring wedding is planned.

Catholic Club Plans Concert

Jacqueline Murphy, lyric soprano, will be presented in concert by the Catholic Study Club of Detroit in the auditorium of the Women's Activities Building on Parsons Street, on Monday, January 26. The presidents of the various women's clubs in Detroit will be honored guests and a reception will follow the program.

The artist, who has recently returned to the city from New York where she has appeared on radio and television, having had her own half hour radio show for a time, has appeared in Town Hall, New York and been guest soloist with both the Buffalo Philharmonic and Detroit Symphony orchestras and has given many concert and recital programs in the east for college groups, clubs and various organizations.

She will be remembered for her concert in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Center last season. She has just returned from Cleveland after giving a concert.

The soloist has a college degree in music and has studied under such noted teachers as Prof. Hardesty Johnson, Alfredo Valenti of the Juilliard Opera School and Madame Elda Ercole. In addition to her concert activities, she is director of the Glee Club at the Academy of the Sacred Heart in Grosse Pointe.

Her program will include selections by Brahms, Schumann, Schubert, Debussy, Ravel, Gounod, Rossini and a group of English songs by Hageman and Malotte. Frank Murch will accompany her at the piano.

It will take place on Wednesday, Jan. 14 and chairman for the day, Mrs. Charles Eades, announces the afternoon will be devoted to charity sewing.

Boys' Sport Program Extended in Woods

WAY BACK WHEN American "cliff dwellers" of the 20th century A.D., who worry about the end of the month and "rent time" don't know how lucky they are. The Book House for Children points out that the Ancient Mayas had a "month" at the end of the year that lasted only five days. The Mayas also had 18 other months, each of twenty days' duration, in their year.

ANCIENT AMERICANA Spring was "the New Year" to the Indians whom the Spanish explorers found in the Southwest and called "Pueblos" from the Spanish word meaning "town-dwellers." The Book House for Children describes the Indian New Year as "a time for planting the crops and for the Eagle Dance inviting the Thunderbirds to carry prayers to the sky for raining thunder-clouds."

We caught up with a few of the sub debs the other day and asked them if they really gave all those parties during the holidays because "the debs were reaching into sub deb staglines for their own dates" . . . as had been reported in one dispatch . . .

They screamed with delight at this. "Why, some of OUR boys are only 15 years old and the debs would have to be offsy hard up to want THEM at their parties," was general consensus.

They also agreed that their own gala season had grown out of sheer dissatisfaction . . .

They have too long watched older sisters and brothers getting all dressed up and going out for a high old time during the holidays . . . decided it was high time for some high jinks for their own crowd . . .

They are pretty much agreed, too, that in all the sub deb season was "boring" . . . the parties were too much of a pattern . . . and the guest list palled . . . and there were too many of 'em . . .

Janey Briggs Fisher (who will marry Tom Lufkin of Norfolk, Conn.) almost announced her engagement on the 25th anniversary of mama and papa's announcement . . . (Feb. 1927) . . .

The old war horses of the society department were having at it while waiting for the bride and bridegroom the other afternoon.

Said one: Isn't it terrible that ushers have gotten so young? The ones today seem babies.

Said the other: That isn't as depressing as looking at some of the ones we KNOW are thirty years old and thinking THEY look young.

Who's getting prettier every day? Mary Boyer.

PILFERINGS

According to Bennett Cerf, a glamorous young lady hit the jackpot with her very first novel. With part of the proceeds, she indulged in a childhood fancy and had her new boudoir done in bright yellow—yellow drapes, yellow spreads, even yellow silk sheets and pillow cases. To make the picture complete, she was laid low shortly thereafter with a sharp attack of yellow jaundice.

A famous doctor was summoned immediately, but when he entered the lady's boudoir he ran into an unforeseen difficulty.

He couldn't find her.

An over-publicized author, according to Cerf, submitted to a mass interview recently. When it was over one critic said, "He isn't quite as conceited as I'd been led to expect." "Ah, yes," said another, "but he has so much to be most about."

Continuing:

An unhappy producer recently berated Bookseller Bob Campbell for recommending a novel whose central character was an atheist.

"On your say-so I bought the picture rights," he wailed, "and now I find Hays office objects to the atheist, even though we make him repent in the last reel."

"Why didn't you remind them of the text in the Bible itself?" suggested Bob. "There is more joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth than over ninety and nine just persons."

"Say, that's wonderful," agreed the producer, "Who said it?"

"The Lead," answered Campbell.

Lucius Beebe says, "Even when a Harvard man flunks out he becomes a Bum of Distinction."

Pointer of Interest

TOM PERRY OF BOURNEMOUTH ROAD

By Jane Schermerhorn

Guess 1953 is going to be all right. Our first assignment was to interview the Pointe's yo-yo champion.

He's 14-year-old Tom Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton J. Perry, who not only graciously granted an interview but who gave us an exhibition of skill with first one yo-yo and then two going at the same time.

It has just occurred to us that if you don't know what a yo-yo is you might as well turn to another page. They're not easy to describe. In fact a description requires the same body English that accompanies practically everyone's definition of "a circular staircase."

After looking out into space for two days, the closest we can come to telling about a yo-yo is that it's a wooden disc which runs up and down a string. Well, you try it.

The Yo-Yo Man Young Tom, who's rather a serious-minded young man, found his million dollar hobby in a five and ten cent store.

While these emporiums engage demonstrators who lure ladies with spiels on how to dip the living room drapes in "this easy-to-use dye," they also are mindful of their younger customers.

A yo-yo man, representative of the largest manufacturers of yo-yos, the Duncan Co., arrives at local dime stores in the autumn of each year. He sells yo-yos and a yo-yo book of advice on tricks, etc., and then works up a contest that is held in a local theater.

When Tom first stopped at the yo-yo counter, a couple of years ago, it was a case of love at first sight. Within a couple of minutes he was ready to tell you, "If it isn't a Duncan it isn't a yo-yo" (the firm's slogan) and within a half hour he had impressed the yo-yo representative with his skill.

He's Champ

Well, this hobby just kind of went on from there until the other day it took a good half hour for us to inspect all the emblems, trophies and yo-yos that have become Tom's. Tom's shining hour AND the championship of all the Pointes came last October on the stage of the Uptown Theater.

He out yo-yo'd 48 other contestants (all boys, the girls getting cold feet or something and failing to show) for which he received a gold and ivory Duncan yo-yo trophy and a movie camera.

His nearest feat was performing 248 loop-the-loops without stopping (53 loops behind his own record, he added with some scorn). Now he not only possesses the yo-yo crown of Grosse Pointe but is privileged to instruct in yo-yo playing and to give exhibitions.

During the holidays he obliged with yo-yo tricks at a party in Parcels School and he may be performing for a group of Cub Scouts soon.

Bag of Tricks

We sat back (far back so the yo-yo wouldn't connect with our two front teeth) and watched in awe as Tom went through his routine.

The tricks included the Sleeper (a sort of lazy, slow motion yo-yo); Walking The Dog (when the yo-yo seems to walk along the floor); Reeking the Baby; the Chinese Jig-Saw; the Chinese Cradle; the Bank Deposit (when Tom makes the yo-yo leap into his back pant's pocket); the Brain Twister or Lindy Lou; the Pin Wheel; Around The Corner, and that baffling "Loop-the-Loop" business.

Now about those other Tom won a Duncan silver and ivory trophy at the Dime store, presented by Duncan Company's Danny Maras who stages the contests; then came a brown, sleeveless sweater on which are sewed the bright emblems Tom has won. There is an emblem for performing eight yo-yo tricks with one hand, another for 15 yo-yo tricks with one hand, a third for 22 yo-yo tricks.

Then there is a flashy emblem with gold spread eagle and stars for working two yo-yos at once, performing eight tricks. Only eight boys in all of Detroit have earned these.

Only a Duncan!

Tom's crown is safe until Fall when there'll be another Championship Contest. The fact that he's left-handed and it was almost as difficult to instruct him in yo-yo use as it is for us to describe a yo-yo, makes his accomplishments all the more noteworthy.

He always manages to play a little yo-yo during the week. He is beginning to like bowling an awful lot and at Brownell School his favorite subject is printing. Hopes to own his own print shop some day and will devote his ninth grade career book to the subject this year.

Then he likes aerobatics and rhumba lessons.

Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Perry possess any talent with the yo-yo, nor does Tom's older brother, Dick. But his dog, Champ, picks the yo-yo up by its string and gives a pretty neat show all by himself.

Reflections

by paul gach

WOW! The holiday merry-go-round has finally come to a tired stop. The score: About 2000 candid party pictures in process—All Xmas portrait orders delivered on time—We had about 150 people stop in each day to see all the candids (next year, so help me, I'm going to have refreshments, nothing stronger than coffee of course)—After 14 or more hours per day at the camera for days and days and days, my feet are sore; last Saturday night I fell flat on my coat tails for at least a count of five. I hadn't had anything to drink either. Eddie Schick said he thought I was just trying to get a low angle shot. This was when I decided to knock off and go home.

Note for Xmas 1953: Many appointments are already on the calendar. We have to plan early in order to insure that we have the facilities to handle the job.

Everyone for now: Many thanks to the yo-yo who helped make this the busiest party season I have ever covered. All the young set who were so cooperative about making their pictures, the club managers, Mrs. Brossy, the boys parking cars, the caterers who kept me from starvation, the band leaders, and especially the parents who were so gracious with requests to photograph their parties.

If you haven't as yet been in to see the books come on in now. They will all be in the permanent files of "The Debutante Library".
