DIRECTORS APPROVE BANK MERGER

HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, July 7
ITALY'S PRO-WEST, Democratic Center Coalition Government was sworn into office. The action took place on Wednesday, ending a 14-day crisis. The new premier, Antonio Segni, leftist Christian Democrat and author of the nation's land reform program, and his cabinet, took the oath of office in a ceremony before President Giovanni Gronchi at the Quirinale Palace. Segni's government will face its first major test next Wednesday when it goes before Parliament for a vote of confidence.

Friday, July 8
ERNEST MITLER, special counsel for the Senate Subcommittee investigating juvenile delinquency, opened a two-day, Detroit quiz into the baby adoption racket that is centered in Chicago. The subcommittee is headed by Senator Kefauver. Mitler said he and his investigators will talk to about a dozen witnesses in Detroit, probably women, who adopted babies through attorneys in Chicago. The committee later will open hearings in Chicago on the adoption racket and the juvenile delinquency problem.

A HEAVY ATTACK against Government troops was launched by Red-led forces in the Indochinese state of Laos, it was announced by Laotian authorities. A communique revealed that at least three battalions have overrun a Laotian army post in the mountains of Eastern Laos, just south of the Communist North Viet Nam frontier, and caused some losses among the garrison. The attacking troops were led by the Red-organized Pathet Lao (Free Laos) movement, set up to fight the French during the Indochinese War.

Sunday, July 10
COMMUNIST HUNGARY arrested four persons on charges that they were spies for the United States. A communique broadcast by the Communist Budapest radio said all four, Budapest correspondents of the United Press and Associated Press and two employees of the American legation in Hungary, were under suspicion of working for a long time for the American secret service. Formal disclosure of the arrests aroused belief the Hungarian Government is making ready for a "show trial."

Monday, July 11
DEMONSTRATORS in the first outbreak of trouble in Buenos Aires since the revolt of June 16, were routed by police and hose-wielding firemen. Hundreds of stone-throwing Roman Catholics milled in front of the Metropolitan Cathedral, shouting "liberty," "freedom and peace," and "He must go," the latter taken to refer to Argentine President Juan D. Peron. The "noisy" demonstration, deplored by Santiago Luis Cardinal Copello, Archbishop of Buenos Aires, came in the face of Peron's call for "pacification" and in defiance of peace appeals from Catholic Church leaders.

Tuesday, July 12
IF RUSSIA approves free all-German elections, the West is ready to guarantee Communist Europe against aggression by a reunited Germany, diplomatic informants said. Ranking officials of the Western Powers are putting the finishing touches to such a package deal. The plan will be presented to the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France for their approval. The foreign ministers of the other 12 Atlantic Pact nations will be consulted regarding the proposals, later during the week.

Wednesday, July 13
THE RESIDENTS of Utica, Mich., will be drinking water hauled by trucks for the next few days. It was discovered that the city's regular water supply is contaminated by poisonous chromium wastes in the Clinton River. Shortly after midnight, residents lined up by the hundreds to get their water from the trucks, using jugs, pails bottles and kettles. No poisoning by the regular water supply has been reported yet. Blamed for the poisoning factories in Pontiac. No plant was singled out.

What Happens When Elm Disease Is Ignored

This picture was taken Monday across from the Wood's Municipal garage near Marter road and the Girard drain. The felled tree in the foreground was cut down a year ago when it was found infected. But it was not removed and burned. The disease has now spread to a number of others in the vicinity, including the once-proud beauty in the immediate background. Albert Hershberger, assistant highway superintendent of the Woods, inspects the damage.

Breaks Pole After Tilt With Truck

Woman's Car Rips Number Of Wires; Phones Disrupted

A woman, whose car struck a telephone pole on Lake Shore on Friday, July 8, shearing the pole from its base and tearing telephone wires loose, suffered only slight cuts about the face, according to information.

Park Planners All Reappointed

The Park council on Monday, July 11, approved reappointment of all the members of the Park Planning Commission. Reappointed were: Harold S. Ellington, present chairman; and Harold F. Marsh, whose term will expire on July 1, 1956; C. W. Boydell and Melville Collinson, terms to expire July 1, 1957. The previous appointments of these four expired July 1, 1954. Also reappointed were: George Goddard and R. Noble Wetherbee, whose terms ended July 1 of this year. They will serve to July 1, 1958.

Lawn Watering Often Does Far More Harm Than Good

The recent hot spell, coupled with the prediction that this will be one of the most torrid summers on record, has and will raise havoc in many quarters. The biggest headaches undoubtedly are felt by the city officials who must account for the water to be used by their thousands of residents. The biggest gripes generally come from irate citizens who must sit by and watch their precious lawns turn brown. Though little can be done to temper Mother Nature, these two mentioned problems can in some ways be helped. And it's up to John Q. Public. It all has to do with lawn watering. . . . a lost art. "With the water shortage becoming more critical each day, we ought to re-examine our malpractices in lawn sprinkling,"

Shores Foresees Population Of 5,000 as Sewer Project Touches Off Building Boom

Village Supt. Thomas Jefferis Reports 185 Building Permits Issued Since Start of Program Modernizing Disposal System

The Shores is making big strides in its residential building program, according to information released by Village superintendent Thomas Jefferis. He disclosed that since the construction on the new sewer began, approximately 180 building permits have been issued. He stated that although the new sewers are now in operation, there are finishing touches which must be done before the project can be actually completed.

Arrest Woman As Shoplifter

A 55-year-old Pointe woman pleaded guilty to a charge of being a disorderly person, and was fined $20 and placed on six months probation by Farms Judge Grant E. Armstrong on Thursday, July 7. According to a Farms police report, the woman, whose name and address was withheld by police, was observed in Wrigley's Super Market, 107 Kercheval, putting packages of cold meat, cheese and cigarettes into a large handbag, by Francis Francen, manager of the store, who called police. The woman was arrested just as she stepped outside the door of the store. Her husband, who was not aware of what had been going on, was waiting outside in a car. The woman was taken to the station, where she admitted to the thefts. She was questioned about other shoplifting incidents, but was cleared. "Police were at a loss as to her action, stating she had just completed purchase of about $25 worth of food from the market and had more than enough money to purchase the items she had taken."

Woods Issues Ultimatum On Big Drainage Project

The Woods council reaffirmed its determination to carry out its part of the Grosse-Griatiot Drain project, even if it has to carry on alone. The decision was made at a meeting held on Monday, July 11, after which City Attorney Julius Berns drew up a resolution to the effect that in the event anything should happen to dissolve the carrying out of the project by the Woods and Harper Woods, the Woods would go it alone. Mr. Berns stated that several things could happen to defeat the project, among them, if not enough bonds are sold prior to construction. However, he added, at present the financial angle looks good. The resolution stipulates that the project is being undertaken by the Woods and Harper Woods, and has been delayed for some years, part for a number of reasons beyond control of the two communities, and because the Woods needs a solution to its drainage problem, though it would be of mutual benefit to both cities as a joint project, the Woods would work alone if need be. It stated that any further delay in carrying out the construction of the drain would result in untold damages to the residents of the Woods. Mr. Berns pointed out that if the Woods is alone in the project, it would cost quite a bit more than if carried out jointly. Regardless of this prospective obstacle, the council unanimously approved the move and the resolution. If the joint project is dissolved and the Woods undertakes the work alone, Harper Woods will have to seek another right-of-way for its own sewer drainage.

Arrest Four For Robbing Gas Station

Two 17-Year-olds Admit Long String of Crimes; Others Furnished the Car

The tragic finger of juvenile delinquency again touched the Pointe early Saturday morning, July 9. The Woods police picked up four 17-year-old Detroit youths for robbing the gas station at Kenmoor and Mack. Two of their stories are sordid ones. Two of them are pathetic. Picked up were: Michael P. Fluhart of 9391 Ravenwood; William Sherman Link of 58 Davenport; Armand LaRoche of 3538 Fourth, and John Anthony Felice of 3475 Third. Two Ringleaders Have Records Fluhart and Link were the ringleaders. Since turning 17 they have committed over 15 burglaries, been in jail and been on probation. Their juvenile records are equally as bad. Link was released from the Detroit House of Correction on two years probation June 7. Since, he has admittedly robbed seven business establishments. Fluhart, who is Link's young partner in crime, is on probation for robbing the St. Jude Church on Six Mile road. Felice and LaRoche were the possessors of a car and they were taken advantage of, partly through sheer fear of not doing so and partly through an immature yearning for excitement. This was their first involvement with Link and Fluhart.

Both Arrested Before Felice has been arrested only once, that for illegal possession of alcohol. LaRoche has been arrested three times, twice for drinking and once for suspicion of breaking and entering. On this last charge he was found innocent. Neither are considered incorrigibles by the authorities. The carpenters and their tools met in a small, dingy sweetshop on Woodward avenue across from the Arcadia Roller Rink in Detroit's 13th precinct. The name of the establishment is Ma's Soda Parlor. The time was Friday evening around 10. Ma's is the hangout for whole groups of youths who spend a great deal of time at the roller rink. According to the sister of one of the arrested youths, who would like to remain anonymous, the sweetshop is a haven of corruption.

Dope Used There "I know for a fact that dope is taken in and used by the fellows and girls that hang out there," the girl said. "Besides that they take bottles in to and spike the drinks." Friday evening the sweetshop was put to another use. It was the bartering table where material possessions in the form of one automobile changed hands in favor of intangibles such as a bit of excitement and a taste of the "big time." And there was a rider tacked on the Link-Fluhart package offer. A tank of gas. It was a little after 12:30 when the call of a suspicious car in the ally behind the Miracle Mile gas station was phoned into the Woods station by a concerned resident.

Facts Twisted In Crash Story A Pointe resident was put in rather a bad spot last week when the News printed the story of a July 2 two car collision at Nottingham and Charlevoix. The story reported Dr. Kenneth Moore of 1173 Yorkshire as having jumped the stop light and struck a car driven by Oscar Hahn of Mt. Clemens. Actually it happened just in reverse. Hahn jumped the light and struck Moore. The embarrassing twist can be blamed on The News. The report of the accident was taken from the police files. On the routine accident form, the errant party is listed as witness number one. Moore was witness number one. From this it was assumed he was the ticketed party.

Residents Express Views on Threats To Pointe's Elms

Random Survey Conducted to Determine Reaction of Citizens to Measures Being Taken to Fight Dread Dutch Disease

The News this week took a random survey of Pointe residents to find out just how concerned they were over the Dutch Elm Disease and what they thought should be done to stop the epidemic. Here are the results. H. Sanford Brown, 83 Meadowlane, G. P. Farms. When asked if he was familiar with the present D.E.D. situation, he replied, "To a degree." When asked what he thought should be done about it, he said, "I haven't given it much thought." When asked if he would support a move by the Farms to incorporate a city spraying program to include privately owned trees and to be paid for out of public tax funds as a help in protecting against the disease, he answered, "If the epidemic is serious enough, I would support such a program, but I think besides spraying, the city should incorporate other methods of protection also." George C. Hernalis, 1952 Anita, G. P. Woods. When asked if he was familiar with the present D.E.D. situation, he replied, "Yes, but don't ask me anything because I don't have any trees on my property." When asked if he would support a public spraying program, he said, "No; but not because I don't have any trees, just because I don't think that should be a city job. If a man has an elm tree, he should get it sprayed himself. I work on a big estate in (Continued on Page 2)

Two Stickup Artists Rob Supermarket About $3500 in Cash Handed Over to Daring Pair By Store Manager

Two smooth working bandits robbed the Big Bear supermarket at 17410 Mack avenue in the City of $3,500 Monday afternoon, July 11. A telephone call told the manager, Jerome Grogis of 25356 Colingwood, Roseville, of the hold-up. Grogis answered a front booth call. He was told: "The man in the booth next to you has a gun. It is pointed at your belly. Do as I say and you will not be hurt." Ordered to Get Cash The instructions were to go to the office safe, put the money in a bag and walk out the front door and across the street. The gun wielding partner said nothing. He followed Grogis to the office. He carried the gun, a snub nosed .38 caliber revolver, under a newspaper. None of the shoppers in the store knew of the robbery until the paper bag holding the money, broke. Then the manager was told to pick up only the large bills and put them in another bag. Hands Over Bag Outside and across the street, Grogis handed over the money and was told to turn right and walk east on Mack without turning. He walked to the Lions Den bar where he went in to phone the police, but the report was already in. It had been made by store cashier Virginia Geramaito. By the time Grogis returned to the scene, the City police were there, but the thieves had made good their escape. According to stock boy Florient Mylueart, who was outside in front of the store when the robbery took place, the bandits escaped down Guilford in a car. Couldn't Get License Number Mylueart ran to the corner in an attempt to get the license number of the car, but was unsuccessful. He then ran to his car and gave pursuit, but the escaping car had too far a start. Don Rosinski, also a stock boy, joined Mylueart in the chase and later told City police he thought he saw the car turn east on Harper, though couldn't be sure. No one seemed to know if the (Continued on Page 4)

Nab Five Youths In Wallet Thefts Five boys, four from Detroit and one from the Pointe, were arrested by Farms detectives on suspicion of rifling purses and wallets at the Municipal Pierpark. A Farms police report disclosed that Farms Det. Sgt. Harold Seelow and Det. Harold Beaupre had picked up two 12-year-old Detroit boys for questioning on Thursday, July 7, in the matter of missing wallets. The questioning resulted in the picking up of three others, two Detroiters, one a 12-year-old and one 17, and the Pointer, who is 13. All five admitted to the two officers that they had taken part in the rifling of a purse and wallets at the park. They stated that on July 1, they went through a purse and took $25 in cash, and buried the owner's wallet somewhere in the sand, but had forgotten where. They were caught by the owner of the purse and the money returned. The person refused to press charges. On their persons, the boys had a yellow billfold with nothing in it, and a red one with three dollars. On July 5, the two juveniles picked up first, took a change purse containing $2 in change, which they divided. Each boy was released to his parents until the investigation of the case is completed.

Grosse Pointe Being Bought By National

Boards of Both Institutions Approve Plan; Personnel To Remain Intact

A proposed merger that would unite the Grosse Pointe Bank and the National Bank of Detroit has been approved by the boards of directors of the two banks, according to a statement issued by John N. Lord, chairman of the board of the Grosse Pointe Bank, and Charles T. Fisher, Jr., president of the National Bank of Detroit. The proposal is subject to approval of the banking authorities and the stockholders of each bank. The merger will become effective in the fall and shareholders of the Grosse Pointe Bank will receive 48,714 shares of National Bank of Detroit common stock in exchange for the 31,250 shares of Grosse Pointe Bank stock outstanding. Personnel To Remain The managing and other personnel of the Grosse Pointe Bank, headed by William R. DeBaeke, president, will remain unchanged, and the directors of the bank will become members of an advisory committee. In addition to Mr. Lord and Mr. DeBaeke, the directors are Hugh J. Ferry, Lloyd G. Hooker, William M. Joy, Allen W. Merrell, Ledyard Mitchell, Jr., Lester F. Ruwe, James K. Watkins, J. F. Whithead, and W. T. Zurschmiede. The Grosse Pointe Bank has deposits of more than $33,000,000 and operates a branch at 93 Kercheval, Grosse Pointe Farms. A second branch office is under construction at Kercheval and St. Clair in the City of Grosse Pointe and will open for business about August 1. The bank was established in 1934 and has a consistent record of growth. Eleventh In Nation The National Bank of Detroit is eleventh in size among the nation's banks, with deposits of more than $1,700,000,000. It operates 44 neighborhood offices in Metropolitan Detroit. Discussing the proposed Grosse Pointe Bank merger, Mr. Lord said, "We considered various methods of expansion to meet a growing need for additional banking services in the Grosse Pointe area. Our merger with National Bank of Detroit, we believe, is the most logical move to meet this need, and the one that will provide the most benefit to our customers, employees, stockholders, and the entire community. Many Local Customers "The National Bank of Detroit already serves in a business capacity many of the customers whom we provide with personal banking services. It has an unusually successful record of operating neighborhood offices in other suburban communities. "The merger will increase our lending ability, give us worldwide banking connections, and enable us to enlarge our banking services and particularly to provide trust services to our customers. Our employees will become eligible for National Bank of Detroit's excellent insurance, hospitalization, and retirement benefits. Have Area At Heart "Our present management and other personnel will continue to provide personal attention to our customers' banking needs, and all of us will continue our active interest in the further sound development of the area." Blames Passing Car for Crash A car driven by Maria McDonald of 913 Lakewood, Detroit jumped the curb, sideswiped a tree and struck an Edison pole on Vernor highway between Wayburn and Maryland avenues early Saturday evening, July 9. The car was so badly damaged that it had to be towed away. The force of the impact threw the driver against the dashboard, cutting her face and forehead. The light pole toppled. The car was traveling east on Vernor highway. The driver told police she was cut off by a passing car, though she could not describe it. She was treated at Bon Secours hospital and ticketed for not having her car under control, causing an accident.

Arrest Four in Robbery

They were earning their tank of gas and plunked square in the middle of their anticipated excitement.

Meanwhile, Link and Fluhart were fulfilling their primary objectives; the burglary for money on which to live...

The arrest of their accomplices scared them away. Fluhart fled on foot. Link stole a truck from behind the DXL Glass Company.

It was a little more than 15 minutes later when Fluhart was picked up walking west on Mack avenue.

Fear Replaces Excitement When Fluhart was picked up, the excitement of the situation vanished for Felice and LaRochelle.

At 9 Saturday morning the interrogation began. It was headed by Sgts. Everett Plumb and Walter O'Dell of the Woods Detective Bureau.

It lasted for 12 hours, until 9 p.m. Saturday night. Questioning resumed.

Link, (who was partially implicated at approximately 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon and brought in for questioning), and Fluhart are hardened criminals.

At 3 on Sunday, the story was out. Link and Fluhart admittedly were biding their time when arrested.

Concentrated on Crime "After the breakdown was complete, they as much as admitted they had no other plans but crime," O'Dell said.

The two admitted to working together on all their looting save one. That Fluhart pulled alone, but only because Link was in jail at the time. It was a gas station

Faulty Wiring Causes Blaze

A fire that did more mental damage to Mrs. Kenneth Moore of 1173 Yorkshire than property damage to her home, was put out in short order by the Park Fire Department Tuesday, July 5. The fire destroyed an ironing table and a wicker basket full of clothes. It was started by a faulty wire leading to the ironer itself. When the firemen arrived, Mrs. Moore was in a state of shock on her front lawn. She later collapsed.

The fire was put out with light equipment and extinguishers. Outside of the table and basket, there was little property damage. Chief DeCausins of the Park credited Mrs. Moore with extreme presence of mind in getting the report in so quickly. "It's fires that start just that way that wipe out whole families and homes."

Teen Canteen Great Success

According to the attendance and sentiments voiced, the opening of the Grosse Pointe Woods Teen Canteen was a huge success. The Canteen was humming with activity with teenagers bunny-hopping to the music provided by Johnny Slagle and Paul Winter, playing ping-pong and cards, and various other activities all under the direction and supervision of Don Hallman, Director of the Parks and Recreation of Grosse Pointe Woods.

The Canteeners oh-ed and ah-ed when they saw the beautiful decorations which were made possible by the many donations of Grosse Pointe firms, and through the directorship of Sid Seelye.

Requests are already coming into the Recreation Board for an expansion of the Canteen to include college students and young married couples.

Sincere appreciation was expressed to the Grosse Pointe Board of Education and Mr. Vincent Peterson for their support and cooperation, and to Dan Hodgman, Roger Graef, Wayne Sharp, R. G. Martin, Claud Streh, Hal Burris, Herman Lauer and Dee and Earl Wakely.

The new canteen hours are—Seniors, every Friday from 7:30 to 11 p.m.; and Juniors, every Wednesday, 7 to 10 p.m.

The Grosse Pointe Shores Board of Trustees approved salary adjustments for their village employees at the Monday evening meeting, July 11.

TRESPASSERS OUSTED

Two Detroit boys attempted to get into the Farms Pier-Park on Thursday, July 7, on a pass stolen from John Diehle of 342 Mt. Vernon. John claimed the pass was stolen from his bike while in the park; the boys just as firmly claimed they found the pass. Police sent the boys home after giving them a warning.

Kinville Doing Army Duty In Land of Eternal Snow

THULE AIR BASE, GREENLAND—Pvt. John D. Kinville, Grosse Pointe, Mich., recently joined his unit, the Transportation Arctic Group, at Thule, Greenland. He is a Mechanical Research Engineer working upon a project involving the evaluation of vehicles under Arctic conditions.

Pvt. Kinville is one of the Army's Scientific and Professional people, whose skills are utilized under the auspices of a special army program pertaining to them. He is with the Test Section of the Arctic Group, a unit specially organized to conduct research, testing, and development operations in the Arctic.

Pvt. Kinville, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Kinville, 953 Westchester road, Grosse Pointe, recently heard his engagement to Miss Ann Reynolds of Peabody, Mass., announced at an engagement party at her home, which he attended prior to his departure for this station from Ft. Eustis, Va.

Upon graduation from Rogers' City High School, Rogers City, Mich., in 1948, he enrolled at Notre Dame University, from which he was graduated on the first of June, 1953. Subsequent to his graduation, he was employed by the General Electric Company as a manufacturing engineer under their training program. Under this program, he worked, variously, at their Ft. Wayne, Ind., Cincinnati, Ohio, Ashland, Lynn, and Everett, Mass., as well as their Somersworth, N. H., and Detroit, Mich., plants.

He was inducted in November of 1954, and assigned to basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., where he qualified as a sharpshooter with the M-1 rifle. He was then transferred to the Transportation Arctic Group, then stationed at Ft. Eustis, Va., in his professional capacity.

With the movement of the unit to its present base of operations, Pvt. Kinville will have the distinction, along with other members of the Arctic Group, of living over 679 miles North of the Arctic Circle. The region, situated on the west coast of Greenland, goes through a period of complete darkness during the winter season and a time of constant daylight between June and August.

The Arctic Group was organized by the Transportation Corps as the Provisional Sled (Heavy) Detachment in 1952. Recognition of the increased importance of the Arctic brought about its redesignation as the Transportation Arctic Group in 1953, when it was assigned the mission of testing the feasibility of transporting tonnage and personnel over permanent ice and snow covered areas, as well as developing the tactical organization to be used in this region. The area of operation is the permanent Greenland ice cap which stretches for thousands of square miles, covering an area three times the size of Texas.

The men, living in wanigans, houses constructed upon sleds, penetrate the ice cap in sled trains, performing tests and gathering data. Some of the problems with which they must cope are crevasses, and equipment bogging down, not to mention temperatures which may drop to 90° below zero.

The Arctic Group Headquarters is located at Thule, 2760 miles from Moscow and 2477 miles from New York. Other installations are located further out on the ice cap. The Arctic Group, under the command of Colonel Page H. Slaughter, conducts its activities on a year around basis. Pvt. Kinville is performing arduous duty in the service of his country.

Stolen Articles Found on Boys

A pair of 12-year-old shoplifters were apprehended by the Park police Wednesday, July 6, in the midst of one of their capers.

A report was phoned in by the proprietor of the Pointe Hardware, 14950 Mack Avenue, concerning two suspicious young men who had been loitering in the store.

On answering the call, the police found the youths' pockets stuffed with items stolen from four different establishments.

Further questioning revealed the youths had been stealing from establishments along Mack avenue for almost three weeks.

At the time of apprehension, the youths had just completed the theft of two yo-yos.

None of the items on their person was worth more than 50 cents.

On July 6, besides the yo-yos, they had also lifted two cans of lighter fluid, a pen knife, and two rubber balls.

The Pointe Hardware did not wish to press charges. The two youths, both from Detroit, were turned over to the Youth Bureau of the 15th Precinct, Detroit Police.

RAT MAKES ESCAPE

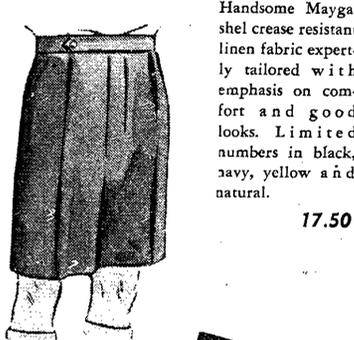

When the police arrived, the rat was gone. On Thursday, July 7, George Williams notified Farms police that there was a rat on his back porch. The rat must have overheard the conversation and left.

Breaks Pole

Police released by Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling. The chief stated that Bertha J. McQueen, 74, of 640 Van Dyke, Detroit, was traveling north on Lake Shore, and while she was making a left hand turn onto Hawthorne road, she was struck by an Army pick-up truck, driven by Sgt. Victor E. Greer, 23, stationed at Selfridge Field.

Goes 233 Feet Further
The army truck struck the car in the rear with such force that the car leaped the curb of the island and into the southbound lane, hitting the pole, 233 feet from the point of impact.

Chief Duemling said the disconnected telephone wires were in such a tangle, it required five telephone truck crews two days to put the wires in their proper order. Forty homes were without telephone services.

Both Get Tickets
The woman and the soldier were both issued tickets for not having their vehicles under general and causing an accident.

The woman's cuts were treated at the Shores police station.

Pointe Children Helped By Orthopaedic Clinic

The Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic, at 5447 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, a Torch Drive agency, provided needed treatment to two children from Grosse Pointe during the past year—figures compiled by the United Community Services disclosed.

The Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic is sponsored by the Sigma Gamma Society, which maintains, in connection with the clinic, clubrooms and nursery school at 65 W. Ferry in Detroit, and the 50-bed Sigma Gamma Hospital School near Mt. Clemens.

The Grosse Pointe children were among 1,800 physically-handicapped youngsters under 21 years of age who received care and treatment from the clinic during 1954. This treatment ranged from full-time hospitalization in the Hospital School to supervision by doctors and therapists at the clinic of patients brought to the clinic for occasional checkups.

Rob Market

two bandits fled together or individually.

Phoned from Bar
It is believed by the police that the phone call into the market was made from the Bluehill Bar located directly across the street.

The proprietor of the establishment said a man of average height and weight wearing a straw cap came in just about the time of the robbery and placed a phone call.

An immediate check of all the surrounding establishments was made, but this uncovered nothing.

Gives Good Description
Grogis gave a complete description of the bandit who entered the store. He said he was approximately 21 years of age, of dark complexion with dark kinky hair worn in a duck tail, about six feet in height and weighing 185 pounds. He was dressed in an orchid colored shirt with black pegged pants. He wore sun glasses. The description was verified by cashier Geramaito.

Grogis said the accomplice who phoned him talked quickly and distinctly. "He sounded well educated; used some big words."

The police found the bag in which the money was put discarded on Guilford near Harper.

About $3,500 Taken
The exact amount of the money taken was not revealed, though it was estimated to be nearly $3,500. It was all in small bills and some change.

There was a slight delay in getting the police on the scene. In the excitement of the incident, cashier Geramaito called the Detroit police, who had to relay the call to the City.

The entire robbery was estimated to have taken no longer than eight minutes. The police were on the scene within four.

MERCURY SALES SOAR

With retail deliveries in June soaring to a new all-time high for the month, the sale of Mercury cars for the first six months was greater than for any half-year period in the 17-year history of the automobile, Joseph E. Bayne, general sales manager of the Mercury Division reported. A record-breaking total of 200,526 Mercurys were sold during the first half-year, an increase of 32% over the first six months of 1954, when 151,683 were delivered, and a 19.2% gain over the all-time six-month high of 168,247, set in 1950. June sales totaled 35,784 units, bettering last June's sales of 27,307 by 31% and surpassing all former June sales records by 8.7%.

Advice On Watering Lawn

are left with a lawn with very little foundation. One close clipping would bare a good deal of the root systems and the entire lawn would wither and die.

"In times of drought, a lawn with a good root foundation will turn brown, but it will not die. One good rain will bring it back in fine fashion," DePetris said.

DePetris also said that in severe droughts, such as we are having now, sprinkling at any time, day or night, has a negligible effect. "You can't put enough water on to satisfy the lawn when it has almost 12 hours of constant, burning sun."

DePetris went on to point out another fault in lawn care. "Too many people cut their lawns too short. Good or bad underground systems, the roots are still exposed and this burns the lawn." He said the proper length was one and three-quarter inches with the cuttings left on. "They form a protective mulch and contain moisture."

"And cutting too short has other bad effects. When the lawn burns, the owners then start to water, which they usually do improperly. This brings the roots up and again you are licked."

DePetris did not want to be construed as believing watering in every case was bad, just that if you are going to sprinkle, do it in the right manner; that is soak your lawn thoroughly. "The trouble is, too few have the proper facilities to do this."

In summing up, DePetris said, "If you water, do a good job at the right time, not in the blazing sun, don't cut your lawn too short and leave the clippings if at all possible and remember a brown lawn is not a dead lawn... a good rain will bring it right back."

And the city officials will thank you for following the DePetris suggestions. They don't know half the time where the next drop is coming from.

The life work of most people consists of making a living—and it's surprising how few experts there are in the business.

History proves that political reform usually loses the first few rounds to the age and experience of political corruption.

Hungry Driver Rams Into Pole

The abrupt meeting of a moving vehicle and a quite stationary object, a light post, on Wednesday, July 6, hospitalized three persons.

The collision occurred when a car driven by William Gilbert of 1389 Audubon east on Windmill Pointe drive, got out of control and jumped the curb, striking an Edison post. Gilbert suffered cuts on his left arm and face when the windshield shattered.

His two passengers, both sitting in the front seat, also suffered upper body and head cuts. The passengers were Richard and James Malcolm of 3920 Devonshire, Detroit. All three were rushed to the hospital.

Gilbert explained to the police after he was treated and released from Bon Secours, that he was reaching for a sandwich when the car got out of control.

Gilbert was ticketed for not having his car under control. It had to be towed away.

None of the three boys, all 19 year olds, was retained at the hospital.

In all, the Edison pole fared much better. It was in no way damaged.

Offers Booklets On State Parks

Automobile Club of Michigan this week will begin distribution of its 1955 Michigan State Parks booklet, George Measel, Grosse Pointe division manager, announced today.

The 32-page booklet lists the 65 State parks and recreation areas, gives their location and describes facilities for tourists, campers and fishermen. Also included is a listing of State Forest camp and picnic grounds and Wayne County parks. Michigan parks and recreation records this year, Measel predicted. In 1954, they entertained more than 15 million visitors while over 80,000 campers enjoyed the state-owned facilities.

As a public service, the booklet will be made available to all Grosse Pointe area motorists through the Auto Club office.

Adverse circumstances have never made the man do right who wouldn't have done right in spite of them.

Ask for Cover On Milk River

A petition bearing a total of 651 signatures of residents of the Woods, including those in the area of the Milk River-Girard Drain, made known to the Woods council on Monday, July 11, asked that the "so-called Milk River" be covered over or filled in.

Woods City Clerk Herbert Brauns revealed that the petition was presented to him by J. B. Hill of 1250 S. Oxford on July 5.

Hill, who was present at the Monday night council meeting stated that he started a petition in 1951 for the purpose of eliminating the Milk River as a drain, but abandoned it when the "river" was diked.

He said that if he had more time, he could have acquired about 6,000 signatures to the present petition.

He stated that 20 years ago, the council at the time disclosed that something would be done about Milk River, but nothing came of it.

The petition presented to the council on Monday, asked that the open Milk River-Girard Drain be taken care of, especially now that the new Torrey Road School will soon have many children attending and that some of these children may come to harm if the situation is not remedied.

He was informed that nothing can be done now until the proposed Grosse-Girard drain project is underway and completed.

Park Threatened With Suit Over Popcorn Stand Permit

The Park may be faced with a writ of mandamus in the case of a business concern which desires to erect a confectionery establishment at the corner of Mack avenue and Cadieux road.

The threat of a writ was made during a council meeting of the Park on Monday, July 11, when the council denied the Krazy Korn Shop a permit to build at the Mack Cadieux location.

John Porter of 631 Barrington, attorney for the firm, had petitioned the council for the permit and when it was denied, said court action might have to be taken to force the city to grant the needed paper.

The council based its denial on a traffic survey conducted in the area, with a traffic counter.

The survey, so the council was told by City Manager Everett B. Lane, backed by Planning Commission Chairman Harold S. Ellington, showed that the traffic at the intersection was too heavy throughout the day. They said if the concern was permitted to conduct a business there, it would create a traffic hazard.

A few residents of the area

SKIMMED MILK CONTENTS

According to marketing and consumer information agents, skimmed milk has about half the calories of whole milk. It lacks the butterfat, the vitamin A, and the flavor, but contains the other elements of whole milk. When you use skimmed milk and its products in low-calorie diets, be sure to include foods rich in vitamin A to make up for the shortage of it in the skimmed milk.

History has proved that the only way to stop a political machine is to break it.

attended the meeting to protest the erecting of the shop, on the grounds that customers would tend to litter the streets, if not at the exact locality, then somewhere else in the city.

The residents were also of the opinion an establishment of the type sought would also tempt teenagers and juveniles to loiter in the area, which might lead to some sort of mischief by the youngsters.

CABBAGE GOOD BUY

Fresh raw cabbage—an excellent food value—and beginning to be in plentiful supply—is one of the best buys on Detroit food counters at the present time. According to marketing and consumer information agents of Michigan State College, during the hot summer months cabbage plays a very important part in the menu planning because it lends itself to easy preparation, of hot weather meals. It stays crisp as well as any greens used in salad—it combines well with cheese or meats, and if a "hot dish" is desired, can be used as the main dish of the meal.

Epidemic of Graduations Survived by Metry Family

The Sam J. Metry household at 1342 Buckingham, is just now getting back to normal after a hectic spell.

The Metrys, who are the proud parents of four, were definitely ganged up upon by their offspring last month.

Gilbert, the oldest of the two boys, graduated from Wayne Law School.

Fred, next in line, received a diploma from Wayne undergrad school.

Sally was handed her sheepskin from Grosse Pointe High School and Donna, the youngest of the family, finished up at Pierce Junior High.

"Thank goodness Pierce doesn't have a graduating exercise," said Mr. Metry.

Though they spent a good deal of June at cap and gown exercises, the Metrys have no regrets. "I wish every mother could go through what I just have. It is a wonderful feeling to see all of your children making good at their respective stations," said Mrs. Metry.

Mr. Metry heartily agrees with what his wife says, but there is still a slight note of reservation.

"You know what they all wanted for presents?" asked Mr. M. "Money!"

And that is easily understandable.

Gilbert, who will try for the bar this September, already has the makings of a fine family. Marc, a strapping two, is eagerly awaiting a baby brother. (Eva, Gil's wife, has other ideas.) And it shouldn't be too long. The addition is expected late this month. "My graduation present is long since invested," said Gil.

Fred, who will be a Wayne law sophomore next year (he got his undergrad bachelor degree via the combined law-lit school program), has no such pressing obligations. His gift was spent on golf. "I bought some new clubs, but if things keep going the way they are now, I'll be inclined to think it was a bad investment."

Sally is enrolled at Western Michigan for the fall semester and she salted away her present for a post-summer shopping spree.

Donna simply doesn't know what she's going to do with hers. The next set of degrees will be spread out just a bit, two years from this summer, Fred will be following in his brother's footsteps, brushing up for the September 1957 bar exam.

That, too, will be Donna's senior summer. She gets her G.P.H.S. diploma in June of 1958.

Sally will be a confirmed homemaker one year later. She will get her degree in home economics from Western with the class of 1959.

"If my figures are correct, we'll attend our last graduation in the spring of 1962," said Mr. Metry. "That will be Donna's big moment."

And all considered, even the

Three Injured As Cars Tangle

Failure to stop for the traffic light at Beaconsfield and Varnor Highway resulted in a two-car collision, Friday, July 8. Both cars had to be towed away. Three were injured.

Joseph Jones of 1878 Virginia Park, Detroit, ignored the red signal and hit a car driven by Leslie Hogan of 3845 Chatsworth, Detroit.

Hogan's wife and daughter, passengers, were both injured and rushed to Bon Secours hospital. Mrs. Hogan suffered head injuries and 14-year-old Patricia, face injuries and a broken nose.

Jones was also treated, but the nature of his injuries was not revealed.

According to the police report, a witness to the accident, Webster Moore, of 1344 Beaconsfield, stated Jones ran the stop light. According to Jones' version, he slowed down to almost a stop, then proceeded across. He estimated Hogan's speed at 45 miles per hour.

Jones was ticketed for not stopping at a marked intersection. Court date was not set.

Wins Again

Sandy Wiener, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wiener of University Place, vaulted Grosse Pointe's tennis star high in the heavens for all to see when he won the Michigan State Junior Tennis Championship last Saturday, July 9, at Kalamazoo, Michigan.

In climbing to the top spot in the tourney, Sandy, fresh from his victory in the Eastern Interscholastic Championships, whipped Les Dodson, Eastern Interscholastic Freshman champion, in the semi-finals 3-6; 6-1; 8-6. In the finals Sandy was forced to go four sets before he could claim the coveted title. On Saturday Wiener held a two set edge over his rival before rain halted the match until Sunday, when he took the third and deciding set for the title.

Sandy almost made it a straight set victory. After having won the first two sets, 6-1; 6-2, Sandy dropped the third set 5-7 as the rain began to fall. On the following day he wasted no time in locking up the crown by beating Dodson 6-3.

Dodson as seeded number two in the tourney and in reaching the finals against Wiener tripped up the number one seeded player Jerry Dubie, of Hamtramck, in the semi-finals, 3-6; 6-3; 6-3. Dubie was the defending champion.

Wiener's victory marked the first time a Grosse Pointe boy has won this tournament. It was just another laurel he has added to his trophy case and he is planning to enter the National Junior Championship tournament to be held at Kalamazoo the week of July 25. This tournament is for boys 18 years old and under, who are the champions or runners-up of their own closed State tourneys.

Under the direction of his dad, Sandy has been playing tennis since he was 9 years old and played number one on the Detroit University School team before attending Choate School in Wallingford, Conn., where he captained the school team in his junior and senior years.

The senior Wiener, who is one of the better players in Grosse Pointe and who played with Bill Tilden, stopped playing against his son almost a year ago complaining that he just can't keep up with the chip off the old block any longer.

Sandy had plenty of rooters in the defeated Neighborhood Club players Lou Gardella transported up there for the tourney. Lou entered 10 players, five junior boys, three senior girls and two senior boys. None of these advanced very far but as Lou says "They certainly got lots of experience and it was good for them. Of this group 13-year-old Ronnie Linclau advanced the farthest. He was beaten by Brad Hodgeman, seeded number one, in the third round of play.

Others of the group included; Bill Lewis, Ted Hinz, Tom Davey, Mike Cavanaugh, Ralph McElvenny, Robin Ryan, Beverly Gray, Sue Mann and Cynthia Lister.

Men Gardeners To Meet July 21

Photographing of flowers and plants will be described by Dr. Charles McLaughlin to members and guests of the Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe at 8 p.m. next Thursday, July 21, at the War Memorial Center, 32 Lake Shore road.

Dr. McLaughlin will explain some of the photographic techniques he has developed in his extensive travels and will show examples of his art.

He is a regular contributor to the National Geographic Society's magazine and has a national reputation for horticultural photography.

Local men interested in either gardening or photography will find the meeting of great value and are cordially invited to attend this event. No reservations are required.

City Offering Swim Lessons

The City of Grosse Pointe has started an extensive program to teach its residents water safety procedures.

Swimming and life saving classes for all residents of any age will be given at the waterfront park for the remainder of the summer and early fall season. The lessons, conducted by the park staff headed by Wayne Van Zandt, will be free of charge.

The program came as a result of numerous requests by residents for better swimming instruction at the park. It is a revision of a past program which proved unwieldy due to the number of students and the lack of instructors.

"Now, because of the Park improvement and the increase of park manpower, we are able to offer an extensive and comprehensive water safety training program," said City Clerk Norbert Neff.

The needed improvement came as a decree from the City council and Mayor Fred Parker.

For information on the various classes and hours, call TUxedo 5-5800.

EXTINGUISH CAR FIRE

Farms firemen extinguished a fire which started on the front seat of a car belonging to Mrs. M. G. Farley of 2867 W. Boston boulevard, Detroit, on Thursday, July 7. The extent of damages was not known.

City Glamorizes Fire Hydrants

The City of Grosse Pointe is not soliciting for more barbers, they're just making their community a safer place to live.

City employees are in the midst of their yearly task of painting the 226 fire hydrants and the 66 fire alarm boxes.

The only unusual thing is, this year there's a little different twist. Instead of the standard red, the hydrants and boxes are gaily bedecked with red and white stripes.

"We aren't particularly concerned with what some wiseacres will say about them, the important thing is that now people can see them for two blocks," said City Clerk Norbert Neff.

And that goes for night time too. Besides the striped poles that support the boxes and the striped bases of the hydrants, both are being rimmed with scotch iridescent tape. "This will make them visible for long distances at night," Neff said.

Standart to Aid In Torch Drive

The appointment of Joseph G. Standart, Jr., of 180 Ridge road, as chairman of the 1955 Torch Drive Adcraft-advertising committee was announced Saturday by vice-chairman Ross Roy.

Standart's group will prepare and place all advertising promotion for this year's Torch Drive.

Standart is vice-president of Kenyon-Eckhardt, Inc. Last year's chairman of the booklets and manuals committee, he has worked on four previous Torch Drives.

This year's "Give Once for All" drive will be held Oct. 18 through Nov. 10.

No goal has been set as yet.

Previous drive records were broken last year when $14,008,000 was donated for the support of 150 Metropolitan Detroit health and community services.

The Same Old Gang

The proposed merger of the Grosse Pointe Bank with the National Bank of Detroit would cause us no end of consternation if we hadn't received the word that the local personnel will remain intact. If the stockholders approve the plan as promulgated by the directors of both institutions, the customers need have no fear about the old, small-town spirit of camaraderie being swept away.

We have known the local banking boys for a long time. It didn't take us long to find out they weren't the austere financiers to which we had become unwittingly accustomed. They seemed to make it a point to have as much interest in our business as we had in their interest rates, and in our own bank balance. What's more they seemed genuinely interested in being just plain friendly.

We watched the Grosse Pointe Bank burst its way out of the depression in such a big way that it had to bid a sad adieu to Schettler's drugstore, Sam's barbershop, the local Board of Health and a few other tenants, to make room for expanding business.

We didn't know many last names, but we always received a cheery hello from Bill and Lou and Art and Roy and George and Charlie and Mrs. Monaghan. It was always a nice experience to go into the bank and transact business and exchange pleasantries.

The bank grew to the extent that it had to open a new branch, practically next door to us, and Laurel Burroughs came along to run it. For our own particular use, it was like an old horse being put into a brand new stall, out of affection and appreciation, but we missed the old gang over on Jefferson avenue despite the added convenience.

In addition to the assurance that all the guys and dolls with whom we have been doing business so long will remain our bosom buddies, it is also nice to know that at least a gross or two of the officers and employees of the National Bank of Detroit are residents of the Pointe. This includes the president and some dozen vice-presidents.

We suspect that, defying the fabled finger denoting disloyalty, many of these have often succumbed to the lure of the pleasures of doing some banking business locally. So they must be fully aware of what a mistake it would be to break up the Pointe team which means so much to so many.

We little shavers who have been around a long time have gotten a deal of satisfaction out of playing with the scrubs. We'll probably find added pride in being absorbed by the varsity. At any rate, it will remain a home team.

A Bow to the Blitzers

The lads who are raising all the ruckus with the Farms' streets while they lay new water and sewer mains, rate another tip of the sombrero from us. If memory serves us, we gave them one pat on the back some months back before they had started the big job.

The contractors announced that they hoped to inconvenience the residents just as slightly as was possible, and begged indulgence when they were forced to block a driveway or tear up the lawn. To us, it was a new approach in public relations between these men with the gargantuan machinery and the John Q. Citizens whose property they were about to blitz, but it demonstrated a sympathy with which we were in complete accord.

Now that massive task has been going on for months, and the end, while not impending, could be said to be in sight. The noise has been terrific, especially on early mornings, and the devastation has been appalling to the property owner standing by while the gigantic jaw of the steam shovel ripped into his lawn. But the respect of the average resident for the men who have been doing this work has survived the shock of all that met the eye and ear.

We have marveled at the physical stamina of these laborers and engineers who have toiled on through the torrid heat, getting their job done as quickly as possible. We have been even more astounded by all the consideration they have shown for the feelings and wishes of the people whose property they have had to traverse.

We have watched a concentration of mechanical equipment and human power focused on the crossing of a driveway, with the single purpose of getting it back in shape in a matter of minutes. We have seen curb mail boxes removed and replaced, almost tenderly; shrubbery carefully extracted and replaced, fine trees and shrub plantings circumvented and making traffic-impairing mounds of earth quickly moved to make traffic movements easier and safer.

Questions, both answered and intelligent, as to what was going on, have been asked courteously. Requests for special service such as immediate relaying of torn-up front walks because of some impending important event, have been complied with graciously and quickly.

The residents who have taken advantage of the opportunity to talk with some of these lads have found it a great privilege. And a special curtsy to the affable Scotchman who seems to be boss of the water main crew. Boss or not, he's tops in our book for efficiency and friendliness, and we'd be glad to recommend him to anyone for a responsible position in public relations.

True Entertainers

It's been far too hot to give much thought to ponderous projects or local lassitude on matters that usually seem monumental, so pardon us if we drift to lighter things, which are quite possibly of greater importance.

On one of the hotter evenings we were privileged to dally with a quite representative group of what might loosely be called professional entertainers. And before we go any further, let's define that word "dally."

Our most-worn dictionary gives as its first meaning, "To act playfully; to sport;" and that's exactly the meaning we want to convey . . . not any of the later and less accepted implications such as "to play amorously; to wanton; to trifle; to waste time; to linger or delay."

We might not have acted so playfully personally, but we can't remember having more fun than we did with this

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"I'll walk where my own nature would be leading . . . It vexes me to choose another guide . . . Where the grey flocks in ferny glens are feeding, Where the wild wind blows on the mountain side."
(Cecil F. Alexander)

WELL, aunty Pryor is back after a wild and woolly two weeks vacation, which we hope to repeat later in the summer. We have skied in Switzerland, swam the English Channel, climbed the Matterhorn, run in the Irish Sweepstakes, duelled in Germany and swung from the Eiffel tower. It was kinda tiring and we are glad to take "sleep ease" or "no doze" at this point . . . so please bear with us!

The first information that reached us when we got back is that our own Jane Schermerhorn has taken off on a flight to Europe. She was talked into taking her very small niece along . . . then another couple of relatives thought it would be nice if THEIR children went along to keep the niece company. Jane HARDLY ever says "no" to anyone asking her a favor . . . so there she is in France with three youngsters.

Another one of her projects is to take "puff paste" cooking lessons while abroad. She found at the last minute that the flour there is not like OURS . . . so in order to learn this here now cooking with our ingredients . . . she also lugged along ten pounds of flour on the plane! THIS IS A VACATION?

During that awful hot spell recently, a salesgirl was waiting on her last customer of the day, which surprisingly enough had been a busy and hectic one at the shop. As she was making out the sales slip and getting the charge address, she was aware of all the hubbub in the store; she glanced at the woman and said: "This is a mad house, isn't it?" The woman glared at her and replied: "Young lady, that is my residence address and I have a mind to report you to the manager." Oh well, the heat gets everyone sooner or later.

Another heat wave: A young girl was overheard to say to her male dinner companion (at a Club dance), "Will you please hold onto my seat while I dance?" Somehow or other the picture of this rather fascinates us. Since we were under the impression that HE was the one she planned on dancing with . . . it was startling to say the least!

If it doesn't continue to look like Love Me Or Leave Me, we here, we are going to try to see "Make Me Or Leave Me." We had the pleasure of knowing Ruth Etting many years ago and she was but great. This is the story of her life and of course, we all know she made that song famous in the roaring twenties.

We have listened to a half dozen records made by name recording stars of today . . . but none of them can come up to Ruth Etting . . . not even our favorite Lena Horne. There was a sweetly sad, haunting quality to her voice that no one has ever duplicated. In fact the folks of today murder the song, in our opinion. We hope the gal who does it in the movie comes closer.

Saw our pet Bill Kennedy in a movie on t-v the other night. He played the part of a suave fancy gangster and was great. The next day we saw him in the Lone Ranger . . . and THAT character was beating the stuffings out of Kennedy! We hear that Bill does all his own fight scenes himself . . . no double stuff. In fact we saw pictures of him in a movie magazine where he was in the awful mad fight in "Un-chained."

A group of us were talking the other day about "tipping" . . . the decline and fall of the days when you tipped someone out of good heart and a dime looked like a windfall. Back in the "twenties" (here we go again), four people could have a seven course dinner in a good restaurant . . . and if you gave the waiter 50 cents he was in seventh Heaven! If you did that today . . . you'd just best not go back to the same joint again! One old woman in the group told this wonderful story that happened much earlier than the twenties.

She knew a man who paid twenty five dollars to get a job in a restaurant in New York's Wall Street. His salary was SIX DOLLARS A WEEK . . . but he gave his wife thirty five a week on which to run their house! All tips. But that was Wall Street. At Christmas time he came home . . . told his wife to hold up her "apron" . . . into which he poured dimes, quarters, half dollars and silver dollars . . . amounting to a couple of HUNDREDS! Gee Whizz. Today maybe it's in the thousands. Guess we'll give up this column banging and get a job as a waiter . . . in Wall Street, that is.

Speaking of silver dollars . . . which are scarce in these parts . . . a friend tells us that in Las Vegas (at one of the gambling spots), if you win a jackpot, they clang a great bell and announce that you have HIT IT! If, for example you are playing the quarter machine . . . they pay you off in silver dollars . . . BUT the sneaks give part of the pay-off in two stacks of quarters so you will naturally stick them back in another machine.

The only experience that sticks in our mind when we gamble houses are concerned . . . is a night many years ago at the famed Bradleys in Palm Beach. Someone pointed out to us a woman who had just won $85,000 in the Irish Sweepstakes. Finally we found ourselves standing next to her at one of the roulette tables, where we were toying with ten dollars worth of quarter chips and hating every minute of it.

We noticed the suddenly-rich woman was just "looking" and not playing . . . and it bothered us until her companion asked her why she didn't try the game, and she replied: "Oh, I NEVER gamble!"

Could be that the Sweepstakes ticket fell in her lap when she wasn't looking . . . or maybe it was forced upon her by a friend who just doesn't like to win money from horse bets!

group of characters who are pretty special in their chosen fields. They made us feel young and gay, and this is quite a tribute coming from anyone in a state of general debility.

The circus was in town, and so was Arthur Godfrey, and that's a considerable heap of talent to be dropped on one geographical pinpoint in any given night. After the circus performers had given their show and Arthur had been master of ceremonies at a top-brass aviation dinner, we all got together at a party with mutual friends. It was one of those occasions one doesn't soon forget.

We had known all of them before, but it was brought home to us once again that there is a special significance and importance to the attributes which the true "entertainer" possesses.

Of course there are lots with great and even awe-inspiring talents whose lack of the social graces or inborn snobbishness forces them into seclusion after the act is completed. We might grant these the accolade of artists; but we would never call them entertainers. This is a name we personally reserve for the chosen few who can amuse or enlighten us professionally, but who can also meet us and our friends on common ground and continue to fill us with a sense of well-being.

Army Operation Is Lucky Break

"Operation Gyroscope," an Army innovation whereby the entire personnel of two Army units, and their dependents, are rotated simultaneously between home and overseas stations, is unexpectedly bringing 1st Lt. and Mrs. Talbot Barnard of Detroit and Grosse Pointe home from Japan on July 18.

Mrs. Barnard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Orebaugh of McKinley avenue.

1st Lt. Barnard of the regular army has been stationed at Camp Wood on Kyushu, one of the main Japanese islands, where Mrs. Barnard joined him last October, expecting to remain for several years.

However, the chance selection of her husband's unit, the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, for participation in Operation Gyroscope with the 508th Airborne RCT of Fort Campbell, Kentucky, is shortening her stay accordingly.

Disability by Heart Disease
By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.
Disability not death is the fate of many who suffer from heart disease. To such individuals it is probably just as tragic.
Knowledge is the best defense against heart disease. Every person should understand the function of the heart and know what excessive work, worry and exercise will do to it, how overweight adds to the burden of its operation. Check your heart condition often, yearly after forty. Your doctor will be glad to cooperate in protecting you from heart disease.
When medicine is needed choose a thoroughly trained skilled pharmacist to compound it.

How to Profit THROUGH TAX EXEMPTION
With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.
If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may be well repaid by investigating the advantages of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $14,000, you would have to receive a dividend return of 7.45% on a taxable security in order to equal the yield from a 5.00% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!
Our New Booklet, "How To Profit Through Tax-Exemption" explains in plain language your need for tax exemption, tells how much these high-grade investments can be worth to you. There's no obligation. Send for copy today, or phone.

Little League Results

CITY (MAJORS)
To say that the teams in this league are evenly matched is not particularly remarkable, but look at the record. Each team has played 13 games, as of the end of the week, and the Cubs and Cards have both won 7, lost 6, while the Braves and Dodgers have both won 6, lost 7.

The leading Cubs were beaten by the 3rd-place Braves in a 7 to 1 game featuring the 3-hit pitching of Barry Brink. The following game had the 2nd-place Cards beaten by the last-place Dodgers in a 10 to 9 game that could easily have ended either way. Grace, LaFond, and Moore were the Card pitchers, while Chou-inard went all the way for the Dodgers.

July 6 the Cards won from the Braves 5 to 3 in one that was rough on Braves pitcher Stephenson. He had a no-hit shut-out going until the 5th when a base on balls, errors by four different teammates, and a double by Grace suddenly had those 5 runs in the score-book. One-hitters come seldom though, but one-hit losses are very rare.
The following night the Dodgers beat the Cubs 3 to 1 with workmanlike pitching jobs by both winner Rick Grow and loser John Gathman.

During the past week—the Yankees beat the Red Sox in a thrilling pitchers duel between Bob O'Brien of the Yanks and Craig Anderson of the Sox. Final score was 2 to 1 favor the Yanks. O'Brien giving up 3 hits and Anderson giving up only 2 hits. This game was won and lost due to errors. The pitching was excellent.

The Tigers again showed their hitting potential this week, when they beat both the Yankees and the Indians by lopsided margins. Tigers 26, Yanks 6. Tigers 22, Indians 7.

At the close of the second week of the second half of the season all teams are playing their best so as to stay on top for the play-off with the first half winner, Charleston. So far Minneapolis has been able to win three straight and stay on top. As the season progresses all teams are playing much better ball as indicated by the tight games and low scores.

FARMS
As the Grosse Pointe Farms Little League swings into the second half of the season the first half leaders still continued to dominate their respective leagues. In the National League the Pirates are on top of the heap and the Indians in the American League are undefeated.
However, neither of the leaders is figured to be a cinch to be on top at the end of the season what with the Giants of the Nationals and the Yanks of the Americans still determined to overtake the first half leaders now that the slate is wiped clean for the second half of the Little League race.

PARK
A guy named Smith continued his hot pace at the plate and his team the Senators rolled along unbeaten for the second straight week as they won their fifth straight victory.
Six for seven at bat by Larry Smith in the double victory over the Orioles and Athletics, coupled with three-hit pitching against the latter gave the Senators a one game lead as the season hit the halfway peak.
Manager Harry Ibler's team squeezed by the Orioles, 6-5, although the astounding fact was the Orioles were able to connect for only one hit off pitcher Mike VanLokeren, that coming in the final inning. Dick Vore stroked the only four base blast in the game.

The second victory for the Senators came a bit easier by a 8-0 count over the lowly White Sox as Larry Smith allowed only four hits and pounded out the same total himself, including two doubles.
The big 4th of July ball game provided the upset of the week as the last place Athletics knocked the White Sox out of a three-way tie for the league lead, 5-2.

If it wasn't enough, the second place Orioles eked by the White Sox 10-8 later in the week to drop them to third place and move the Orioles to the second slot. Some fine relief pitching by John Stanley of the Orioles turned the trick when he stepped onto the pitching rubber with five runs already home in the third inning and allowed only three runs and four hits the remainder of the distance.
What was even more disheartening the White Sox could do hardly anything with the 12 bases (Continued on Page 17)

No wonder this great '55 Pontiac is setting all-time sales records!

It's bigger, smarter and more powerful than any other car at anything like the price!

A sales success like Pontiac's starts on the drawing boards—with engineers and designers who have been schooled for years in the Pontiac idea of giving more people more car for less money.

Take the matter of size. With its long 122" or 124" wheelbase and extra, big-car heft, Pontiac provides road-hugging comfort and a safe, secure feeling you get in no other car near it in price!

Now take this big, roomy car and surround it with the unmatched distinction of Twin-Streak styling and Vogue Two-Toning—beauty that obviously is calling the turn on the future—and you have another reason for Pontiac's phenomenal sales success.

That alone would be enough for most cars—but not for Pontiac!

Pontiac corners the market on value with the most powerful engine within hundreds of dollars of its price. The sensational 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor* is the newest, most modern power you can buy. In acceleration and in passing power you're on even terms with anything on the road. And still more in your favor is the fact that today's Pontiac is bettering even its own enviable reputation for dependability and economy!

If by now you're thinking "This is what I've wanted all along!", we suggest you stop in and talk dollars and cents. That's when you'll get the final reason for Pontiac's record popularity—the fact that you can fit a big, powerful, future-furnished Pontiac into any new-car budget! You'll never find it easier to get into the fine-car class than right now!

State To Pave Vernier Road

The Michigan State Highway Department is willing to black top Vernier road from the Shores-Woods to the Woods-Harper Woods city boundaries, but did not deem it feasible to place curbs along the road, according to a recent letter received by Woods City Administrator William Lange.

Mr. Lange said that he had written the Highway Department, asking if it would be possible for the department to black top Vernier and curb both sides of the road.

He said the return letter from a Highway Department official stated that the paving can be done and will be undertaken by the department, but it would not be able to erect the curbs along the existing pavement, since in many cases, the pavement is at practically the same level as the sidewalk.

It was pointed out that conventional designs in some communities requires that the edge of a pavement should be some five or eight inches below the sidewalk.

It is not yet known when the Highway Department will undertake the paving project.

WALLET STOLEN AT BEACH

Ed Lauers, supervisor at the Farms Pier-Park, informed police on Tuesday, July 5, that someone had stolen a wallet belonging to Mrs. Edward Lawrence, Jr., of 3135 Spring street, Birmingham, while she was swimming at the park. It contained $95.

Cooling Off Process Churns Up Lake

—Picture by Fred Runnells

The welcome change in the weather which dropped the thermometer from 97 degrees Saturday afternoon to the high sixties early the following morning, was accompanied by breezes which whipped up respectable waves on Lake St. Clair. This picture was taken at the Farms pier Sunday afternoon. It demonstrates the protection which the new sheeting affords the boat mooring and swimming areas.

Smart Pop Spots Son's Stolen Bike

An alert parent nabbed a trio of juvenile bike thieves at the City Waterfront Park on Tuesday, July 5.

A bike owned by Robert Chouinard of 502 Notre Dame was stolen from the park the previous day, Monday, July 4. The incident was reported to the City police.

On Tuesday young Chouinard and his father, James A., were down at the park again. Mr. Chouinard saw a bike that he definitely thought was his son's, save for one thing; the bike in question had no fenders.

His suspicions were told to the officer at the gate, Tim Blondell. The bike was parked and no one was around, so they had to wait.

Approximately an hour later, three young boys showed up, got on the bike and started out of the park. Blondell intervened.

At the police station, the bike's serial number was checked out and it was definitely identified as Chouinard's.

The three boys, all of them juveniles, were given a stiff talking to and were asked to bring their parents to the station. They were released in their custody and given an indefinite probationary period.

"It's nothing new. We find cases all the time where a boy will steal a bike and simply take the fenders off," said Chief of Police Thomas Trombly. "But you'd think they'd wise up. It's nothing to spot a bike with just the fenders off."

What Trombly could not figure out was why the boys came back to the scene of their crime the very next day.

FAIR WARNING
The small voice of conscience first warns a man as a friend before reprimanding him as a judge.

HUMAN WEAKNESS
It is easy enough to find an excuse for not doing the work today, but how thin that excuse looks next day.

Just recently Queen Cleaners and Shirt Launderers moved from their thatch covered cottage to a more modern store designed by Haydon House, at 16912 Kercheval, in the village.

This is one of two branches that serve the Grosse Pointes. The other is located in the Woods at 19834 Mack.

To their new branch they have an added convenience . . . free parking in the rear of the store.

Did you know that the welcome mat is always out at their Northland Center plant? The latest word in design and fascinating to watch are these machines. A synthetic Dry Cleaning Machine; pressing machines with finger-tip control; mechanical button sewer; individual production washers, each washing 65 shirts an hour; cabinet shirt finishing machine (installed in the window.) This machine faultlessly and completely irons 100 shirts an hour. Now, two modern plants serve Detroit and its environs . . . yet, they are looking forward to another big plant at Eastland, and to the pleasure of doing your shirts the "Queen's Way."

Clean-Up Drive Committee Needs Photographers' Help

The Grosse Pointe Clean-up Committee, headed by Paul R. O. Marden, now in the process of tidying up the five Pointes in preparation for the national Cleanest City Contest, needs additional help.

It should come from hobbyists, though anyone who can take a decent photo will do.

As part of the entry, the committee must compile a scrapbook depicting the campaign's progress.

The scrapbook is now in the making. "And we're doing fine in the press clipping department," Marden said, "but we need more pictures."

The kind Marden wants are "before and after," like the reducing ads of the fat ladies made beautiful.

"The only difference is we want snapshots of fields and such before they were cleaned up and mowed, then after."

And there are numerous models still to be found. The various cities are still in the process of mowing and beautifying their vacant lots.

Marden said he would welcome any and all such photos. "They can be turned in at my office, 16840 Kercheval avenue in the Village," he said.

Concerning the campaign as a whole, Marden said it was progressing in fine fashion. "We've cleaned up many of the Pointe's eye sores and the remaining ones will be taken care of in the very near future."

The one or two improvements Marden suggested still to be done were concerning trash thrown from moving cars and the cutting of noxious weeds such as ragweed.

The various municipalities already have put up signs warning motorists that the throwing of trash brings a stiff penalty. "I think a few more might help," Marden said.

The other improvement concerned fields and vacant lots. "Some of the property owners still are not aware that a possible $100 fine or 90 days in jail or both accompany the failure to cut down noxious weeds."

If these two things can be

Fire Does $2500 Damage to Boat

Shores firemen extinguished a boat fire at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on Sunday, July 3.

The boat is the property of Dr. Charles F. Dodenhoff of 75 Vendome.

Sparks from the motor while it was being started, were blamed. Damages were estimated at $2,500.

taken care of, Marden assured the Pointe residents that the community would have a fine chance in the national Cleanest City Contest.

"And so far as the weeds are concerned it takes no more than the slightest effort by the residents."

Seek Clothing For Migrants

The Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, Eastern Deanery, has set up a station to receive clean, wearable, used clothing for the Migrant workers who are helping to harvest Michigan crops. These transients are outside of local Welfare and Labor Laws, and need help.

The C.Y.O. Center, Mack at Maxwell avenues, will be open every Thursday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. during July and August under the direction of Mrs. A. Williamson, Relief Chairman and Mrs. F. Murphy, Volunteer Chairman.

Cadillac

Second Car He Ever Owned!

Time was when a man wouldn't have considered a Cadillac until he had owned four—or five—or even six different motor cars.

But nowadays more and more motorists—like the happy man you see in the picture above—are stepping right up from their first car to a Cadillac.

There are, we think, two basic reasons for this wonderful change.

To begin with, the temptation to make the move to Cadillac has never been greater than it is today.

The car's arresting grace and beauty . . . its captivating luxury and graciousness . . . and its heart-winning performance have all been brought to new peaks of perfection.

And secondly, the path that leads to Cadillac has never before been so clearly marked or so easily traveled.

Take original cost, for instance. The purchase price of the lowest-priced Cadillac is actually little more than many models in the medium-price field.

And then consider Cadillac's gasoline economy and upkeep expense. Few automobiles of any size or make will travel farther on a gallon of gasoline . . . and the car is so soundly built and so soundly engineered that it is all but free from any save the most routine costs of maintenance.

And, finally, there is the car's resale value. Year after year, Cadillac used cars return a higher percentage of the original investment than any other make.

So if you want a Cadillac—you don't have to advance gradually to the car of cars.

If you are ready to make the move, the automobile you now own is the perfect steppingstone.

Why not stop in soon and see for yourself? We have some very pleasant news for you about cost and delivery.

And how they must have wished themselves back in Europe, where they had the rare treat of going over the Alpine Drive, passing through snowbanks 30 feet high where the snowplow had just preceded them.

Since the drive is only open two months of the year, the Paddocks felt privileged that they were able to enjoy it . . . They flew first to Lisbon, visited Austria, Germany, Italy, spent a few days in Paris with the Wendell W. Andersons, saw a portion of the Wimbledon tennis semi-finals, then boarded a plane for home in a chilly London.

Beverly Jean Crain Weds Harry Sellars

Eastminster Presbyterian Church, Where Bride's Parents Were Married 28 Years Ago, Is Scene of Ceremony

Beverly Jean Crain walked up the aisle of Eastminster Presbyterian church Saturday evening to become the bride of Harry George Sellars. Her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Willard Lawrence Crain of Buckingham road, exchanged their marriage vows in the same church 28 years ago.

The Rev. Willard V. Lamp officiated at the double-ring ceremony. A reception in the church parlors was followed by one in the Crain home.

White Italian silk taffeta was the bride's choice for her wedding gown. Embroidered finger lace edged the neckline and appliques of the same lace distinguished the skirt. An heirloom crown of Brussels lace held her veil of imported silk illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of white glameillas and ivy.

Carolyn Crain, her sister's maid of honor, wore a floor length gown of pale yellow organdy over taffeta sashed in yellow. A tiny veil trimmed her matching headband and she carried a cascade of blue glameillas. Two cousins of the bride, Mrs.

Philip Keith and Barbara Wilson, were bridesmaids. Their blue gowns matched that of the honor attendant and their flowers were yellow glameillas.

The bridegroom's mother chose Dior blue lace and tulle, with which she wore a white chapeau and white orchid corsage.

When the couple left on their honeymoon to Delray Beach, Fla., the new Mrs. Sellars was wearing a pale blue suit of Irish linen accented by white accessories.

The camp devotees increase each year . . . This year they number in the sixties, although an exact count is hard to get with boys and girls dropping out for a week or more to leave on vacation trips with their families.

This summer the number of counselors has also increased by two . . . Carole Fenley is again assisting the tireless Savery Miss for the eighth year . . . Grade and another Savery counselor, Mary Thorn, teach third grade at Grosse Pointe University School during the winter months . . . Joan Hadley, Grace Erikson, Mary Lowrie, Joleen Clapsaddle and Jo Janise are the other counselors.

The youngsters, who are picked up by station wagon each morning at 9:30 and returned to their doors at 3, are again enjoying the wonderful arts and crafts program . . . They make belts, wallets and other handsome gift items . . . Besides daily swim, golf, tennis, fencing lessons and riding at the Hunt Club, the girls can take sewing instructions and the boys, lessons in the manly art of self-defense, boxing.

Extra treats are the Saturday trips which campers enjoy . . . After a picnic lunch in the Savery yard, they take Saturday jaunts to such places as the zoo, ice show, circus, movies, and on one occasion, to the Fenley farm near Rochester. . . . When camp closes for the season the Misses Savery and Fenley are in the habit of betaking themselves to faraway places for their own vacation . . . This year, they'll stay nearer home and make a leisurely tour of northern Michigan.

Guests at Stag Party Hear Hunting Stories

E. E. Quinn of Oxford Road Plays Host to Editor of Outdoor Life, Just Back from Tiger Shoot in India

Big game hunting in Africa and India was the exciting conversational topic when E. C. Quinn, of Oxford road, honored his long-time friend, Jack O'Connor, at a stag dinner for 30 guests at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on July 7.

Mr. O'Connor, who is the arms and ammunition editor of Outdoor Life magazine, had returned to this country only one week earlier after three months of adventurous tiger-hunting in India.

His short visit in Grosse Pointe fulfilled a promise to his friend and host that he would stop here en route from India to his home in Lewiston, Idaho. He and his daughter Catherine, who met him in New York and accompanied him here, were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Quinn for a few days.

The visitors also had the fun of picking up a new motor car. Mr. O'Connor had ordered in Detroit, and driving it on to their Idaho home.

At the stag party in GPYC's Commodore Room, Mr. O'Connor showed moving pictures of his 1954 big game hunt in Africa and also still pictures of the recent tiger hunting. Incidentally, Mr. Quinn himself has hunted the big game of this continent — in Quebec, the Rockies and Alaska — and has to his credit moose, elk, deer and a Kodiak bear he shot in the fall of 1953.

Guests at the honor party for Mr. O'Connor were Fred Lamborn, Charles Jacobson, T. R. Patrick, James Ford, Russell Ford, John P. Mansfield, Samuel Trude, William Schmidt, Emmett McNamara, Ernest LaJoie, Ernest Rothaar, Nelson Butler and Homer LeBlanc.

The list continues with John Quinn, Michael Quinn, A. M. Fleming, C. G. Bauer, E. M. Braden, Clate Briggs, M. T. O'Donnell, Roy H. Appleman, Marc Prass, R. L. Tobin, Burton Durkee, John Caron, C. C. Lockwood, James Bingham and William Guse.

MSU to Tell Kitchen Story

Calling all brides, homemakers with young children, homemakers with teen-age and college-age offspring and homemakers who have reached middle years. The dream kitchen especially suited to you will be exhibited at the Centennial of Farm Mechanization to be held on the Michigan State University campus August 15-20.

A display of modern kitchens from the most spacious to the compact trailer-size has been planned by the College of Home Economics at M. S. U. Evelyn Zwemer, who is in charge of the home economics exhibit, explains that viewers will be able to trace ranges, vacuum cleaners, refrigerators, electric irons and many other appliances from their beginnings a century ago to the most modern up-to-date time-savers of today.

Besides the series of modern kitchens, three authentic historical kitchens will be on exhibit. One will be the pioneer kitchen of 1855 complete with loom, spinning wheel, pewter containers, fire place and a 108 year old cast-iron waffle maker.

The second period kitchen will depict life in a town during the year 1855. The kitchen, modeled after the kitchen in Greenfield Village near Detroit, will boast a black cast iron coal and wood range. It is about two feet high, and gives viewers a chance to compare it to the convenient height of today's ranges and ovens.

The third kitchen will be that of a town family in 1905. The Hoosier kitchen cabinet, the wooden ice box and gas light will bring back childhood memories to the thousands of people who are expected to be on campus for the week-long event of M.S.U.'s Centennial year.

Natives Left Open-Mouthed As Cavalcade Sweeps West

By Marilyn Zdrodowski
Mesa Verde, Zion, Bryce, Grand Canyon, Petrified Forest and the Painted Desert were previously only strange sounding names in travelogues to the 75 Grosse Pointe girls who are on Chet Sampson's current western tour. In a few short weeks these faraway places have become actualities to them.

Their first glimpse of Bryce Canyon from Inspiration Point, 8,138 feet above sea level, was an awe-inspiring sight. Zion was the scene of three days of camping at one site, a change for the ever-moving caravan. The campers took advantage of the time to hike over the mountainous terrain, investigating mountain streams and picturesque points of interest.

Two mobile kitchens and a professional cook are a great help to the travelers when mealtime rolls around. The expressions on grocers' faces when one orders 32 quarts of milk and 90 steaks for one meal are worth the trip alone!

People are amazed at the caravan, particularly in small towns. Seeing three or four station wagons in a row isn't much of a sight, but by the time the 11th one rolls by, the natives are usually standing open-mouthed.

The operation of entering a hotel they aren't nighting in, is quite a feat. The girls enter in sections using different entrances.

In Las Vegas, the girls, like most tourists, insisted on trying at least one slot machine. Lady

HOUSEHOLD HINT

For a whipped topping lower in calories than either whipped cream or whipped evaporated milk, M.S.U. home economists say, use nonfat dry milk solids. To make 2 1/2 cups of topping, add 1/2 cup dry milk powder to 1/2 cup water and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Whip until it is stiff and beat in 2 tablespoons sugar and 1/4 teaspoon vanilla. Chill and then use promptly.

Club to Be Site Of Net Tournery

Once again, as it has for the past four years, the Grosse Pointe Neighborhood Club will be one of the sites of the Detroit News Novice Tennis Tournament.

The tournament is the largest in the world and is open to all boys and girls who have never won a high school or college letter in the sport. Also to those who have never advanced to the semi-finals of a tournament comprised of 16 players or less; or the quarter-finals of a tournament comprised of 32 players or more.

Entry fee is twenty five cents. For further information contact Lou Gardella at the Neighborhood Club or call TU. 5-4600.

16,792 ARRESTED

Michigan State Police made 16,792 arrests in May, of which 15,635 were for motor vehicle violations. The figures do not include the arrests of 581 juveniles. In addition, the troopers made 23,793 property and 3,931 liquor inspections. Total mileage traveled in all activities of the department was 1,259,924. During the month 5,441 sets of fingerprints were received, of which 2,996 were non-criminal. Investigations of 668 persons applying for licenses to carry concealed weapons revealed that 60 had criminal records.

Tennis Tournery Starts in Park

The annual Grosse Pointe Park tennis tournery that got underway last week is fast advancing towards the finals which will be played next weekend, July 17, when the men's singles and doubles will take place.

The Junior division championship has already been settled. Pete McGrath defeated Tom Daye to win the crown in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4.

The men's singles has already reached the quarter-final stage with Bill McHugh, Bill Patlyn, Al Milbeck, Al Mann, Tom Wines, Ed Carrol and Ron Walker qualifying.

Only one more quarter finalist needs to qualify before the tournery advances further.

Park Swimming Meet Postponed

Because so many of the Grosse Pointe Park swimmers had planned to enter a National swim meet on the same date the Park had scheduled its annual swimming meet, Director Dave Beauvais was forced to postpone the meet until Sunday, August 7.

In the past the annual meet was preceded by a dance on the tennis courts the night before and it was known as the pre-meet dance. This year the dance will be a pre-meet dance but it will take place on Saturday, July 30, one week in advance of the meet.

Rosemary Walker has the t-i-n-i-e-s-t feet.

Did you see the wonderful picture of the Pointe's Dr. Everett Kinsey in a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post? . . . He is one of the doctors credited with discovering the cause of blindness in premature infants.

Mrs. Henry B. Steinbach is one Pointer who carries those see-all-the-way-through plastic handbags with chic. . . She always fills the bag with handkerchiefs and frou frou to match her costume. . . Saw her recently in stunning pink linen frock . . . the lucite handbag filled with pink frills to match.

Have you seen Mrs. William A. Ternes' gold charm bracelet? . . . Has a round gold disc for each of her daughters . . . engraved with Lynn Ann, Barbara Ann, and Patricia Ann's names and birth dates. . . The smartly-accessoried Missie T. also wears a necklace from which dangle chips from the casino at Monte Carlo.

The charming patio at Mrs. Henry T. Ewald's Vendome road home is done with pink and black furniture . . . and there are tubs of just-the-right-shade of pink geraniums all about.

Have never seen a more conscientious member of the stag line than young Jim McClintock . . . he really circulates at a deb dance.

Mrs. Forman Johnston wears handsome pearl and gold jewelry with a black evening gown . . . pearls at ear lobes . . . wrist . . . throat . . . and a stunning, big and globby pearl dinner ring.

The Russell Sketches are new Pointers . . . both talented singers . . . and are divinely happy to be Pointe residents . . . because they've wanted a sunken living room for years . . . and have it now at their Balfour road residence.

PILFERINGS

There were terrific crowds at Grosse Pointe University School's Carnival this past June . . . but the committee could have had every single adult in the Pointe on hand, if we had only read the essay on "Age and the Carnival" during advance publicity days.

Here you are:
A man is truly old when a carnival comes to town and he does not go. It is the final, ultimate proof of a situation he has long suspected. Back a bit he found he preferred watching a ball game on television to battling his way to the ball park, and this gave him pause. Then, next, a Sunday afternoon book began to seem more appealing than a brisk game of tennis under a hot summer sun. To be sure, with the new, stronger glasses, he had discovered the small type in the insurance company's actuarial tables, but this wasn't all of it. More recently still, he noted that when circumstances kept him up until 1 o'clock in the morning he was tired for three full days following. All of these things were suggestive of a worsening situation, but they awaited final proof. This comes with the carnival. When it is there, in town, and he is not, a man is truly old. He can fight it as hard as he chooses, but it will do him no good. He is old, and that's that.

Sammy Cahn, the man who wrote the lyrics for "Three Coins in the Fountain," has never been in Rome. He's a firm believer that "You can't get too close to a town or you'll never write anything about it."

Says Hy Gardner in the New York Herald-Tribune: "Former President Harry S. Truman told this one on himself shortly after he vacated the White House and arrived in Los Angeles to start his first vacation in years. Mr. Truman was persuaded to attend an intimate function held in his honor at a private residence. Through some erratum, the Trumans were driven to the wrong address, the chief rang the bell and a man, casually dressed in a robe and slippers, opened the door, then scratched his head. "Pardon me for looking so startled," he said, gazing at his unexpected visitor, "and you probably won't like this—but for a minute I thought you looked like Harry Truman!"

Pointer of Interest

MRS. BURT LUTHER LINDZAY OF BALFOUR ROAD

By Jane Schermerhorn

Today's Pointer of Interest is such a feminine, pastel-looking gal you'd just never imagine her piloting a plane.

Yet that, for years, was the favorite pastime of Mrs. Burt Luther Lindzay, who speaks with authority about checking in with the control tower, mapping an air course to her girlhood home in Oklahoma City.

In fact, she really decided she wanted to be a pilot so visits to her mother, Mrs. George Fielding Clark, of Oklahoma City, could be more frequent and taken in less time than an automobile or train demand.

The late Mr. Lindzay not only surprised her with her own plane, a four passenger Fairchild, but was her willing passenger.

She called the plane Arabella and owned it until four years ago, when two GI's bought it.

Eye for Beauty

We suspect that Mrs. Lindzay's earth bound interest really grounded her.

How could she, for instance, be very active in helping to beautify Grosse Pointe if she were up in the wild blue you-know-what all the time?

She's a member of the Windmill Pointe Garden Club and was its first president. She's a past president of the League of Women Voters in Grosse Pointe and at present is president of the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council. She was chairman of the 1952-53 Cleanup Campaign sponsored by this group.

All this summer, as president of the Council, she'll be working with the other members to encourage Pointers to plant flowering fruit trees on their properties, further beautifying this already handsome community.

Rare Combination

Mrs. Lindzay is an unusual combination of business woman and creative designer. For instance she has just received her certificate in real estate from the University of Michigan.

For the past two years she has been mastering the fine details of real estate law, appraisal, management, finance, building and sales technique.

And in her leisure (?) moments, she has been "doing" over her Balfour road home.

She loves to produce new beauty and find new uses for old possessions. To prove how easily it can be done, she has arranged the interiors of seven of her own homes.

Blessed with seemingly boundless energy she'll probably "start all over again" once she has achieved just what she wants in this present re-doing of her Pointe home.

The large hall and Green Room (living room) are formal in feeling and quite French.

Satin brocade furniture, marble topped chests and the French fluer-de-lis combine to transport the visitor from the Pointe to Paris in a matter of steps.

The Lindzay library could be a Mizener stage set. It is modern and gay and many of the chairs have been reupholstered by the lady herself.

Thorough, to say the least, Mrs. Lindzay learned upholstery at Adult Education classes in the Pointe. When she wanted to know something about wood carving, just recently, she appealed to Forrest Geary, head man of Adult Education, and he's going to see that there's a class she can attend in the fall.

Venetian Room

Her interest in carving springs from possession of a Venetian table, carved cherubs holding the long fruitwood board from beneath, and one of the largest Florentine gold framed mirrors outside a palace or museum.

These she found when she lived in Saginaw. Says there are wonderful antiques in around the Michigan town and even now, she invariably discovers that the antique she wants to buy in Detroit has a Saginaw background.

She waited for the Venetian table for eight long years. At first the price wasn't right. The treasure had been shunted off to the loft of a garage when she took a Christmas check up to Saginaw to claim it.

The table, and a long sideboard originally part of it, are being bleached to pinkie beige by the proud owner.

That tone will pick up the background color of the wall panels—the Canaletto panel—that completely dominate the Italian dining room.

One is devoted to the Doge's Palace in Venice; another to the Piazza Campidoglio in Rome (built on the smallest of Rome's seven hills and said to be the spot where Romulus founded his dynasty); and the third is the Arsenal at Venice where in the eleventh and twelfth centuries, 16,000 men worked to build and maintain the fleet of the Republic.

There are six exquisite chairs that complete the dining room furniture. These our Pointer had specially built to her design in Venice.

Mrs. Lindzay loves unusual wallpaper and has covered the hall leading to the second floor of her home with paper showing the Great Wall of China.

Moonlit Garden

Her flair for design was employed in Saginaw when she did the stage settings for plays produced by the amateur theatrical group, Pit and Balcony. There her ingenuity was really called upon and she likes best to remember how hard she worked on the sets for "Yellow Jack."

It's no wonder she is being a good salesman for flowering trees when as Garden Council president she urges Pointers to plant them this Fall. Her own garden has many beautiful ones.

Lots of things Mrs. Lindzay tucked away in her talented blond head under the chapter of "Someday".

She'd like to have a moonlight garden. Everything would be white and green and there'd be lots of beautiful white statuary. She isn't quite sure Michigan is the place for such a garden, though.

Then it's been a life-long ambition to do over an old house, an old house behind huge, tall white columns. Bet she does, too.

In addition to club affiliations already mentioned, today's Pointer of Interest also is a member of the women pilots' club, the 99ers and during World War II used her aviation knowledge in the service of her country with Civil Air Patrol.

Favorite Recipes of People in The Know

Italian Stuffed Onions Contributed by Mrs. William Fabricius

For four persons, boil four large white onions in salted water for five minutes. Cut in halves, taking out the inner layers and reserving the outer ones (at least two, as they tend to tear).

Mince and mix together:

- 1 can tuna fish
- 1 slice bread soaked in milk
- 1 egg
- 1 tbs. grated Romano or Parmesan cheese
- 1 tsp. chopped parsley
- 1 dash thyme
- 1 dash salt
- basil

the inner parts of onions

Oil a baking dish well with olive oil and place the onions in it. A few drops of olive oil goes into each onion half and then fill with stuffing. Sprinkle bread crumbs on top and bake in 400-450 degree oven till they are soft and slightly browned on top.

Takes between 10 and 20 minutes.

G. P. Sail Club To Hold Regatta

It just seemed to spring right up from out of the sea and grow like Topsy and today it is recognized by the famous and powerful Detroit River Yachting Association as one of the more enthusiastic sailing clubs on Lake St. Clair.

It is the Grosse Pointe Sail Club of which we speak and a nicer bunch of guys you would never want to meet. For the most part the club is made up of Grosse Pointe Park residents, although that isn't a necessary qualification to become a member.

There are many sailors, who belong to much bigger clubs, who belong because they like to associate with regular guys like the GPSC sailors.

This marks the third year the GPSC will hold its catboat regatta which will take place on Saturday, July 16. It's strictly a catboat affair and what a time those guys have when they get together. The warning gun is scheduled for 11:50 a.m. with the CK team start placed at high noon at the regular DRYA starting buoy above Peche Island. The K class and CK Free-For-All class will get away at five minute intervals. The finish will be off the Grosse Pointe Park pier between two flags. Skippers should remember to disregard the DRYA finish line.

Commodore George Genematas, Vice Commodore Duke Huber and Rear Commodore Bill Toussany are hoping the ideal weather the previous regattas have enjoyed will prevail for the buffet luncheon at the Park following the regatta.

COMBINED SERVICES

The Grosse Pointe Congregational and Grosse Pointe Methodist Churches are holding joint services during July at the Methodist Church, 211 Moross road.

The Rev. Marcus W. Johnson of the Congregational Church is preaching, and child care is provided at all combined services.

Pointe Counter Points

by Roberta Isley

Summer goes along at its own sweet pace . . . so does getting a tan . . . Well, it just proves that some things can't be hurried. And why hurry anyway when you can shop in your Bermudas, enjoy the blessing of air-conditioning and at the same time have fun picking out midsummer and fall clothes for the children? You'll love the new textures . . . the colors, lots of plaids . . . and the lines of the dresses, skirts and jumpers at Young Clothes, Inc., 110 Kercheval, on the hill. Look forward to seeing a huge selection of washable wools . . . and winter coats for both boys and girls. With Pointers especially in mind, they've done a beautiful buying job.

Couture ateliers in Paris aren't the only people getting ready to present new fashions. Right after her sale, Margaret Rice will be ready with her fall showings. The sale includes clothes from each department. There are some wool and cotton skirts . . . some good for back-to-school wear. And, if you like famous maker's original wool suits or coats at a discount this would be the time to give it your consideration. Particularly good is a group of suit and novelty blouses. Cashmeres at one-half to one-third off are just what we've been looking for. 76 Kercheval, on the hill.

Because the children are a year older this summer you might consider this. Summer is a good time to take animated color movies. It is not only one of the least expensive ways of picture-taking but it is one of the easiest to keep up. And the ones you take now you'll cherish forever. Why not visit the Camera Center, in the village, for a complete camera and projector outfit?

Most college girls own from eight to twenty sweaters . . . and there's no telling how many Mom owns. That figures. Sweaters are mainstays to any woman's wardrobe. We found a group of just-arrived classic orlon sweaters. They retain their shape and soft luxurious cashmere feel. Cardigan . . . short styles . . . and the kind you haven't seen yet . . . the long-torso ones. Coming in right along with the sweaters are dyed-to-match skirts in Jacobson's Sportswear Department.

The long torso knows no age limit and just the desire to be in fashion, colors the clothing attitudes of toddlers as well as teenagers. The people who manufacture toddlers' clothes profitably adopt the new style range from wee sizes to sub-teen and teen sizes. Expect to find plenty of fashion excitement in the children's department at Jacobson's this season. Look for the elongated bodice ending from two to three inches below the waistline . . . also the A line in loose-back coats.

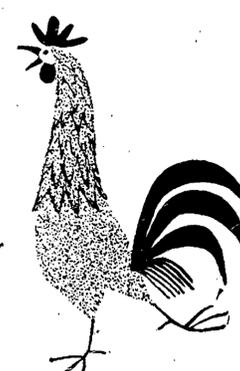

We're modern. That means we can have a more simplified way of living and yet be as elegant as we please. It means that for our money we can get beauty plus practicality and it can be true in furniture as well as, say, decorative fabrics that can be cleaned in a whisk. Have you seen the summer comforters or coverlets fashioned of orlon . . . pretty noreggy prints . . . so light and soft to touch . . . from 10.95? So much for the town house. There are others of paisleys and old-fashioned automobiles suitable for the children's room or cottage. And just added to their bedroom ensembles are a few plaid cottons. The whole shebang from mattresses to bedsprings to the most attractive headboards . . . are found in Jacobson's Home Decorative Shop, in the village.
