Grosse-Gratiot Drain Progresses on Schedule

Picture by Sgt. Walter O'Dell

This caisson for the pumping station at the Milk River near the Girard Drain, part of the collective Grosse-Gratiot Drain project, is proceeding according to schedule. The fourth 10-foot lift of the caisson had been poured. The penetration is about 17 feet. The superstructure will not be started and the sedimentation tank, called for by the contract, will not be installed until the entire caisson is finished. This is only one of the phases of the more than 11 million-dollar drain project, which will benefit the Woods, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores, once work is done. Completion date for the huge drain is set for the early part of March, 1960.

Farms Hears Plan For Development Along Lake Shore

Advisory Planning Commission Submits Report With Recommendations For Controlling Expected Sub-Divisions

Monday night's meeting of the Farms City Council saw the adoption of an ordinance controlling the building of outdoor swimming pools, both public and private. The new ordinance states specific requirements for protective measures, such as proper fencing around the pool and the installation of ladders if the pool has a certain depth.

The Advisory Planning Committee submitted a report relative to a tentative master plan for the development of Lake Shore road properties. It was recommended to the council, by the committee, that all property owners of Lake Shore come into the council, in convenient numbers at designated times, to go over this plan with the committee.

Lot Frontage Covered

The plan, devised in anticipation of the eventual subdivision of much of the Lake Shore property in the not-too-distant future, deals with such matters as recommended lot frontage. Mayor Connolly will write the various property owners, involved, with regard to this proposed plan.

Upon the recommendation of the City Attorney, the Council turned down requests from the Grosse Pointe Club and the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church to purchase submerged land from the state, in front of their respective properties.

Referred to Board

Instead, the matter was referred to the Board of Appeals and a tentative meeting set for March 16. The reason for this decision is because the Farms has a City ordinance which requires the approval of the Board of Appeals where fill-in property is concerned, and it would appear that the lake-bottom properties in question would necessitate filling-in for the end results desired by the club and church.

The council complied with the recommendation of the City Manager to solicit bids for the annual spring spraying of the City's Dutch Elm trees by telephone, because of the limited time element.

Symphony Plans Concert March 1

The Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra members under the direction of Felix Resnick are hard at work these days rehearsing for an outstanding program of fine symphonic music for presentation Sunday afternoon, March 1, at the Parcels School Auditorium.

3,263 Voters Out of 32,543 Go to Polls

Six Councilmen Nominated In Park, with Three To Be Picked on April 6

General apathy was apparent in the primary election held in the Pointe on Monday, February 16, as approximately 10 percent of the voters turned out to ballot on a single county office.

The Park, which, because of its own primary for the elimination of a candidate for a seat on the council, showed the biggest number of votes cast.

Official figures showed that 3,263 voters, out of a total of about 32,543 went to the polls. Seven candidates in the Park sought nomination to the office of councilman, with the six receiving the highest number of votes to go on the ballot at the April 6 election.

Incumbents Top Ticket

Council incumbents were put in the top first three, but still face a challenge from the three newcomers who will seek to unseat them in April.

The records showed that 1,158 qualified registered voters, out of about 9,000, took time out to cast their ballots for the local office, and for the office of county auditor, the only other office with which the Pointe was concerned.

When the votes were tallied, incumbents came out with the following number: William C. Oddy, 607; Thomas G. McCormick, 551; and Stanley L. Fildew, 490. The challengers: Charles Todd, Jr., 481; William P. Connolly, 336; Fred Potvin, 336 C. Karl Lysinger, 218.

No Mayorally Primary

Since there were only two candidates for the office of mayor, no primary for this office was held. This will be decided on in April.

Candidates are: Incumbent Mayor Kenneth Cunningham, and Stephen Walker, a former Park councilman.

On the county level, Park voters cast their ballots in the following manner: on the Republican ticket—William A. Lau, 373; Jordan H. Greene, 325. On the Democratic ticket—Jacob B. Sumoracki, 264; and Dan Radnovich, 38.

In the City, 209 voters out of 4,583 went to the polls.

Lau received 91; Greene, 114; Sumoracki, 72; and Radnovich, 13.

The Farms had 7,700 qualified registered voters, out of which only 421 cast ballots.

Lau was given 119; Greene, 209; Sumoracki, 85; and Radnovich, 8.

40 Vote in Shores

Forty out of 1,025 voters in the Shores saw fit to go to the polls, and voted as follows: Lau, 18; Greene, 11; Sumoracki, 8; and Radnovich, 3.

Out of the 10,235 registered voters in the Woods, 345 cast ballots, giving Lau 123; Greene 108; Sumoracki, 95; and Radnovich, 19.

Woods City Clerk Leona Liddle disclosed on Monday, that one more petition has been received from a prospective candidate for council, George D. Foster of 1971 Broadstone.

The only other candidate to file so far, is Mary Boutin of 1678 Newcastle.

Incumbent Councilman Rex Johnson and Benjamin Pinkos have announced intentions to seek reelection, but have not yet filed petitions, according to City Clerk Liddle, who stated that according to the City Charter, those seeking public office in the April election, have until March 1 to file.

Veterans Retiring

Two veterans of the Woods Council, Mrs. Elsie Friedrich, and James Bowling, announced they will not seek a return to the council table, with the former giving personal reasons for not returning; and the latter stating pressing business keeps him from doing so.

There will be no election of a mayor, since the office tenure is for two years, and Mayor Kenneth Koppin has another year to serve.

Labor, Salt Costs Hiked By Weather

Woods Comptroller Loneragan Submits Report Showing Heavy Drain on City Funds

During the entire month of January the Woods expended approximately $5,000 in overtime labor charges and about $4,000 for salt, due to abnormally severe weather conditions, it was disclosed by City Comptroller Gerald J. Loneragan.

A report of the expenditure was presented to the Woods council on Monday, February 16, by City Administrator William H. Lange.

In his report, the city comptroller revealed that a review of the present status of the budget for the Department of Public Works has indicated that a continuation of expenditures at normal levels during the balance of the fiscal year, will cause the total departmental budget to be exceeded by $6,450.

He stated that the approximate budget balance as of January 31, was $98,850; with estimated expenses to June 30 of this year, set at $105,300.

By comparison, Mr. Loneragan stated in the report, the amount spent for salt during January, exceeded the total cost for salt during the entire fiscal year of 1957-58, even though the city is benefiting from a reduction of $2 a ton

Blame Careless Pedestrian For Icy Seven-Car Tangle

Dr. Leo B. Zaraf, 43, of 55 Lake Shore road, stopped at Lake Shore and S. Deepclands on Tuesday, February 10, to permit a pedestrian to cross the road, which kindness resulted in a seven-car accident, including his own.

Two persons, including Dr. Zaraf, suffered minor injuries, and two cars had to be towed away because they were not drivable. Three of the motorists were ticketed for not having control of their vehicles.

One of the cars hit a police scout car, parked in a crossover, while a patrolman was directing traffic at the accident scene. An icy pavement was blamed for the multiple crackup.

At 5:55 p.m., according to a Shores police report, a call was

Shores Seeking Permission Of Voters to Build New Garage, Boost Water Supply

Two Separate Propositions for Bond Issues Totalling $190,000 to Go on Ballot for Election on March 16

Shores voters will be given an opportunity to vote on two separate propositions for bond issues for public improvements at a special election to be held on Monday, March 16. The total to be asked for is $190,000.

The Shores council at a regular meeting held earlier this month, authorized the propositions. A public hearing will be called before the election, but a date for this has not yet been selected.

According to information released by Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis, the first proposition asks for approval of $140,000 to pay the cost of the following two projects:

New Main Planned

1. To pay the Shores' share of a water transmission main to be built jointly with the Woods, to bring water into the north section of both communities, and which will feed the Shores' principal water mains along Lake Shore road, midway in the north portion of the Village. The cost of this work is estimated at $95,000.

2. The balance of the money, $44,000, is to make connections between several dead end water mains in the southern section of the Village, so that a better circulating system with a higher water pressure will result.

The second proposition, for bonds totaling $50,000, is for the cost of construction of a garage addition at the Village municipal site at Lake Shore and Vernier roads.

Has Improved System

The Shores has been making improvements in its water main system. The proposed new improvements, for which the bond issue is sought, was recommended by the Village engineers, who advised complete overhauling of the community's system to provide adequate pressures during the summer months.

The Village has been housing its police cars and Department of Public Works equipment in a brick garage built in 1923, and in several temporary wooden constructions. The new addition will properly take care of the cars, trucks, equipment and other material, which are now improperly stored, or stored out doors.

Will Repeat Course for Gourmets

Special Classes Offered; Bischofberger To Open Series March 3

The Gourmet Course at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial was such an outstanding success last year that it is being repeated this season. The new course will begin Tuesday night, March 3, at 8 o'clock and will continue each Tuesday night through March 24.

The course is limited to 100 members and is already half full, due to advance enrollment. A very nominal fee of $7 is charged for the series of four presentations. Immediate enrollment is advised (TU 1-7511) to avoid disappointment.

Lead-off man for the series will be renowned chef-manager, Emile Bischofberger of Little Harry's restaurant. Further, Mrs. Jane Porter Hering, former manager of the Women's City Club, and past president of the Michigan Restaurant and Caterers' Association, has kindly consented to prepare one of her specialties for the group on the evening of March 3.

Decide on Menu

Diamond Phillips, owner of Little Harry's, will present Bischofberger. The two have agreed to a demonstration and preparation of Fondue Bourguignonne, Swiss creamed spinach and southern fried apples. Audience participation will be achieved by inviting various members to step up and assist in the preparation under the direction of Emile.

Bischofberger received his professional training in Switzerland at the famous Cooking and Hotel School at Lausanne. He has a distinguished record of service in this country, first as chef at the Plaza and Ritz Carlton Hotels in New York, then as chief steward of the Detroit Golf Club and the Detroit Boat Club. He then moved to the Cleveland Country Club and later became manager of the Mayfield Country Club out of Cleveland.

He returned to the Detroit area as manager of the Grosse Pointe Club (Little Club) and is now manager of Little Harry's.

More Thefts Reported in Park, Farms

Report Houses Ransacked In Additional Burglaries During Weekend

Two more burglaries were recorded in the "blotters" of two Pointe Police Departments, which took place over the long weekend.

The Farms police are investigating a burglary that occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Krause, 388 Merriweather, on Friday, February 13; and Park authorities are checking into one that occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Burton, 622 Pemberton, on Sunday, February 15.

In each case, the homes had been thoroughly ransacked, police said.

Broke Window

The Farms detective team, Sgts. Jack Paisley and George Van Tien, stated that the thief, or thieves, entered the Krause home by breaking a basement window on the north side of the house. The crime was committed between the hours of 6:45 p.m. and 8:40 p.m., they said.

As far as could be determined, the officers said, all that was taken was a man's yellow gold wrist watch, value not known, and three bottles of liquor.

In the Park, Det. Lt. Arnold Hough said that it is not known what is missing from the home of the Burtons, since the family is out of town.

He said that entry into the house was made by breaking the glass of the kitchen door at the rear of the building.

Lt. Hough said that the burglary was reported by Frank Clements of 830 Philip, Detroit, a relative of the Burtons.

Finds Place Ransacked

Clements stated that he made a daily check of the house, and on the previous day, February 14, he went through the house at about 1:30 p.m., and found everything in order, but on the following day, he went to the house about the same time to find the place had been ransacked.

Lt. Hough said it appeared that the thief was only looking for money, since pieces of jewelry in the house were not touched.

Sgts. Paisley and Van Tien are still investigating a burglary.

City Police Submit Annual Report of Varied Activities

Vital statistics for the calendar year of 1958, as compiled by the police department of the City of Grosse Pointe, have been released to the NEWS by Chief of Police Thomas V. Trombly. They were based upon the 3,256 entries made in the daybook and another 231 entries made in a special file by the Investigating Officer, for the entire year.

According to the report, a total of $13,142 was collected by the department during 1958. This revenue came from several sources, among them $2,884; parking meter violations ($9,644, $2,411); dogs running at large, fines ($8, $120); speeding violations ($30; $2-375); and $1 and $2 fines ($2,982; $4,405.50).

There were a total of 147 juvenile violations throughout last year; 1,740 licenses (operators), bicycle, duplicate, etc.) issued, 133,265 messages from the Wayne County telephone received and filed; 31 bank alarm tests made, and 744 homes watched by special request of the residents, for a total of 11,134 days.

Assistance was rendered the City's fire department by police in 94 different instances; and eight members of the police department collected $850.72 for the sale of Good-fellow papers on December 15.

Eighty-five guns were registered by City residents, and four gun permits were issued or renewed during the year. A total of 105 offenses were rein the present selling price of the ingredient.

In a supplement to the city comptroller's report, Mr. Lange told the council that the matter had been discussed with Mr. Lonergan and J. Fred Hansen, DPW superintendent, and it appears that a reduction in street maintenance expenditure of at least the $6,450, will provide the means of staying within the budget.

ported, eight of which were unfounded, 23 of which were cleared by arrest, and 64 of which are still pending.

The Accident Bureau reported a total of 213 accidents for 1958, as compared with 211 for 1957. Seven police officers were injured while on duty.

The three scout cars owned by the City were driven a total of 92,652 miles. $1,234.82 was spent on car repairs and 10,353.5 gallons of gas were consumed.

THEFT REPORTED

Michael Palazzolo, of 1398 Whittier, complained to Park police on Friday, February 13, that someone broke into the trunk of his car which was parked in front of his home, and stole a spare tire and wheel, car jack and a lug wrench.

in an attempt to drive around the two stopped cars. He was doing all right, when he was hit from behind by a car driven by Walter S. Clark, Jr., 23, of 40 S. Deaplunds.

Along came Salvatore J. Porcasi, 21, of 22706 Francis, St. Clair Shores, who, authorities said, disregarded Patrolman Jurcak's signals directing oncoming traffic around the accident scene.

Porcasi applied his brakes too late, and skidded on the ice and into the side of the scout car, inflicting minor damage.

To top this off, Terry S. Seyler of 8 S. Deaplunds, behind Porcasi, tried to stop, and slammed into Clark's vehicle.

Martin, Clark and Porcasi were issued tickets for not having their cars under control and causing accidents.

Besides Dr. Zaraf, who complained of an injured back, Martin's wife, Patricia Jean, 26, suffered a sprained right thumb.

The cars towed away belonged to Martin and Clark, the police report revealed.

No ticket was given to Seyler. His insurance company will take care of the damage he caused to Clark's automobile.

The clinic is located at 20250 Mack avenue.

Here, the burglars ransacked the offices of Drs. K. M. McColl of 940 N. Oxford; Edward A. Wishrope of 227 Kenwood court; and Bert E. McCollum of 1143 Audubon, and took a total of $440 in cash and a $20 check.

Thug Wanted by Shores Brought Back from Texas

Donald E. Lisiewski, 28, of 17389 Mendota, Detroit, arrested by Brownsville, Tex., police on January 15, on a warrant issued by the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office charging armed robbery, was examined by Shores Judge John Gillis yesterday, February 18, at 9 a.m.

The examination was held in the court room of Judge Gillis' father, Recorder's Judge Joseph Gillis, to save time and trouble, according to Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling.

Chief Duemling and Shores Police Sgt. Charles Wenrich flew to Brownsville, and returned Lisiewski to Michigan, following extradition proceedings, and after legal papers were approved and signed by the governor of Texas.

The chief said that Lisiewski was returned here on Sunday, February 8, and the following day, Judge Gillis held arraignment proceedings against the accused man in the County Jail. The Judge put Lisiewski's bond at $10,000, and set the examination date for yesterday.

When arrested by Brownsville police, Lisiewski, Chief Duemling said, was armed only with a knife. On the day he was to be extradited to Michigan, Brownsville authorities took precautions to prevent Lisiewski from carrying out plans to escape from jail, the chief stated.

The accused man threatened escape rather than return to Michigan, Chief Duemling said.

Lisiewski, with Walter Simard, 28, of 7452 Sieger, Detroit, is accused of invading the home of the Robert Dales, 500 Ballantyne, on January 10, and taking a valuable tape recorder and two girls' coats at the point of a gun.

The pair terrorized the Dales' daughter, Margaret, 15, and Ann Cronenweth, 17, of

Cinema League Meets Feb. 26

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will hold its next meeting on Thursday, February 26, at 8 p.m., at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Larry Sommerfeld, of the AAA photographer, returns to show and narrate his new travelog "Northwest National Parks" and a sound motion picture of special interest to sports enthusiasts, "River of No Return."

Sommerfeld has covered most of the North American Continent in search of subjects for his films. He has photographed Michigan's Upper Peninsula, Arizona, the Gulf Coast, Great Smoky Mountains, Western national parks, California and Florida. His travels also have carried him to Europe and the Far East.

Sommerfeld makes over 200 personal appearances each year, visiting clubs and civic organizations throughout Michigan. His productions are original Kodachrome movies—not prints. By using Kodachromes he is able to show his subjects in the truest color reproduction possible. Somemerfeld welcomes questions from the audience following his performances. The Cinema League is a Center sponsored organization and anyone interested in photography is welcome as a guest at the meetings.

Simard has already been arraigned. He waived examination and is awaiting trial in Circuit Court, after causing law enforcement authorities considerable trouble on January 21.

On that date, Simard had demanded an examination against the advice of his attorney, and after legal machinery was put into motion, and everything arranged before Judge Gillis, Simard changed his mind and waived the examination. He is being held on $10,000 bond.

Simard was arrested shortly after the robbery by Detroit police at Gratiot and Six Mile road, when he ran a red light. Lisiewski escaped and was not heard from until his arrest in Brownsville.

for a new automatic
gas water heater

Laboring along with an outdated water heater? Always waiting for the water to heat? This minor annoyance qualifies as a major problem when it happens time after time. A modern automatic gas water heater changes that—smoothing your work in countless ways.

Water is heated automatically, as fast as you use it, by a gas water heater. You get new convenience—and wonderful gas economy. Perhaps it's time to retire your old veteran. Then replace it with a new automatic gas water heater from those at Gas Company or dealer showrooms. Low down payment, balance on terms.

Malcolm Foster Killed in Fall

The body of a former Grosse Pointe High School student was found on Monday, February 9, near Edison, N. J. Malcolm D. Foster, of 460 Calvin road, died from injuries sustained when he either fell or jumped from a New York-bound train.

The 22-year-old youth was a student at the Bethesda (Md.) Naval Medical School. He had been in the service 2 1/2 years, and was due to graduate from the school this summer.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Foster, of the Calvin address, and a brother, Miller W., who lives at 5538 Drexel.

"I see", or "Now I see why I don't see too well", were comments heard recently at Parcels. Teaming up with the science department, the school nurse tested the vision of the more than 500 seventh and eighth graders in their science classes, while teachers conducted lessons on the scientific aspects of how we see. Similar tests are administered periodically in other Grosse Pointe schools as well.

Rolling the new Bausch and Lomb Ortho-rater machine, (which was a gift from the P.T.A.) into each science room, Mrs. Marie Moser obtained first hand information for herself, the student, and the teacher concerning the visual status of the students.

Meanwhile, the science teachers instructed the boys and girls about procedures for the detection of eye defects, about the growth changes of the eye, and the importance of proper lighting, as well as emergency first-aid in case of injury.

In this way the students acquired a better understanding of the miracle of vision. Symptoms of eye difficulty, protection and care of the eyes, and means of correcting visual defects were stressed. The school notifies parents of adverse results in the screening tests or classroom observation. Results of tests are explained to both students and parents.

The tests are given annually while hearing tests are given once in three years. These and other procedures are all part of the Grosse Pointe regular school nursing program. Close cooperation with family doctors is maintained at all times.

Hello! Hello! Are You There?

We offer below, with complete sympathy and other mixed feelings, a letter which came to our desk recently. We recommend a reading and beg indulgence on a few comments we may make on thoughts it engendered in us.

"Westerners and/or Southerners are much more friendly than those cold, puritan New Englanders!" Where did I ever hear that? I certainly don't believe it! After living here for six months now, I must state my feelings upon the subject. Aside from several warm and wonderful friends, this community in the midwest seems to be an extremely unneighborly, unfriendly group.

I write these words not in anger or despair but simply to ask, "Hello! Hello! Are you there?" It seems to me that in general the population is completely and totally unaware! Wrapped in a dull insulation of self-satisfaction and apathy this population simply does not bother or care about the "other guy."

In the east a neighbor is a neighbor. Though the winding roads may run across the rolling fields, around the rock hills, through the woods along the streams for miles and miles, the far flung farmhouses are homes with neighbors and friends inside. Real people about whom one is concerned. People who are interested in each other. Here in Grosse Pointe, the lady in 207 does not know or care who lives, suffers and dies in 211... just 70 feet away! How shocking!

A friend of mine who had lived here three years was in a really desperate jam last week. Her baby was suffocating. She was alone. Frantically she ran into the street with the baby in her arms, crying out, "Help, help! My baby is dying!" No face appeared at a window, no door opened, no one rushed to help. But an old man peddling handbills came into her house and phoned the police for her while she continued artificial respiration. In a few moments two police cars and an ambulance screamed up and rushed them off to the hospital. Do you know, "oh best beloveds," not one single neighbor (how can I use that word?) came over to inquire, to console, to offer a ham casserole or just possibly some sympathy? Why didn't they come? Were they embarrassed, rude, unconcerned?

Recently I attended a club luncheon thing and found to my horror that the cue for the guest speaker seemed to be a cue for the "ladies." It was difficult to understand his talk upon the values in the new methods of integrated college studies above the murmur and hum of raffle prizes, "You owe me $2.50 for your lunch ticket" and "Your suit is absolutely stunning!" How extremely rude? But the crime? They were completely unaware!

We have yet to meet a man or woman who graciously acknowledges with a quick smiling nod the friendly, courteous gesture we extend letting all others at traffic lights turn first! Beware because someday I shall block the way, get out of the car and say "Come, come. Is it so hard to smile?"

Really I'm not complaining about the insular Detroit who is lacking in knowledge of the "world outside"; who knows all about Soapy and that grisly ax murder in Roseville but where is Cuba? And it certainly is not fair to compare the landscape here with the wonderful variety of New England. I will even throw away this stupid ditty:

"The flat terrain
Must bear the blame
For my disdain
Of DE-troit!"

Because it isn't that at all that really matters. I'm sure the mysterious unknown who left this tiny scrap of a message on the seat of my parked car two months ago, knew as I know, that it is not the 'things' but the 'spirit' that one misses. The note said, "Hi! Connecticut. Lived in Darien 14 years. Loved it dearly!"

It's the people and the true reaching and understanding of the human soul, one for the other, that is the quality that is missing. Hello! hello! Are you there?

We aren't native Pointers. We were born Easterners, but we did spend four years up to our armpits in New England Puritans during the college years, and loved them. We have lived here 25 years and we must rise to the defense of the Pointe, as we would to any other locality which we had chosen to adopt as our home. We think this is a pretty special place, of which we are perhaps inordinately proud, and we want everyone who lives here to really love it.

There are neighbors and neighbors. We, personally, are bad ones, but there are fabulous ones all around us who constantly induce great qualms of conscience through their munificent offerings of friendliness. We often hate ourselves at night for not having reciprocated properly.

During this last quarter of a century, and especially in this business, we have come to know so many who give so much of themselves. They are active in myriad organizations and participating in such a multitude of charitable movements that we wonder how they have time to be good wives, mothers or fathers, let alone good neighbors. But we think they deserve forgiveness.

Their activities create so many groups that offer an outlet for the loneliness which might beset the newcomer to the Pointe. Even the names hold out a beacon light for those who have come recently to be a part of us... "The Newcomers," the "Welcome Wagon Club" are examples. Then there are the many, many church groups, the P-TA affiliations for those who have children, scouting, and Camp Fire Girls, political clubs and leagues, both partisan and non-partisan movements, almost countless activities offered by the Memorial Center, the Library, symphony and choral groups, the Neighborhood Club, ad infinitum. Perhaps that is our

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"I have, perhaps, loved overmuch
The place, the person and the day,
And cannot now abide the touch
Of time that takes them all away.
I have, perhaps, tried overboard
To bind quicksilver moments fast,
Stubborn enough to disregard
That nothing here can ever last.
I cannot catch the falling star
Nor cup the fire in my hand,
Forbid the wintertime or bar
The tide from covering the sand,
And I have learned at bitter cost
No man can find what he has lost."

(From the Saturday Evening Post... in case you missed it. Author... Herbert Merrill... poem... one of the best we have read of the present day.)

Treasury Dept.

'Tis said that the former Secretary of the Treasury, George Humphreys, received a letter from a guilt-ridden citizen of the U. S., who wrote to say he had been remiss on an income tax return and his conscience had bothered him ever since, so he was enclosing a cashier's check for twenty-five dollars. A P.S. to the letter read: "And if my conscience bothers me again, I may send you another twenty-five dollars next year."

Females

A group of gals at a Kaffe Klatch recently, got on the subject of husbands in general and a few in particular. All the women agreed that one of the most flagrant violations of husband and wife relationships, is the fact that so many men who have been married six years or more, stop noticing what the little woman is WEARING! All agreed they could probably wear flour sacks for dresses and hubby dear would never notice.

One gal gave a ferinastance. She said she had complained to her husband about never "seeing" any new frock or piece of costume jewelry... never a compliment on a becoming dress or even a welcome criticism of a new hat. Just NOTHING. He seemed to feel bad about the oversight and promised to do better in the future. A couple of evenings later, his wife went to the door to greet him when he came home from the office. He looked at her admiringly and exclaimed: "What a beautiful dress you're wearing. I LIKE that... very becoming." Madame did not have the heart to spoil his beau geste by telling him it was an old thing she had saved from her trossseau some 15 years before!

The prize should really have gone to one woman who told the following... and swears it is true. A couple of old friends were coming to dinner... and when they arrived, the hostess called to the female half and asked her to come upstairs, she wanted to show her something. It seems she had bought some new cosmetics and had used the mascara and eyebrow pencil and false eyelashes on only ONE eye, so she could see the great difference.

There was no question about it, her guest agreed, she certainly looked different... especially with one eye completely bare of make-up. Then and there, she decided to let her friend see how UN-observing her husband of many years, was. She even added MORE black to the already made up eyebrow... just one. Asking her friend to caution HER husband not to comment on her appearance... they descended to the drawing room to join the men. The male guest had a hard time controlling himself when he got a load of the lop-sided make up job. HOWEVER, they went through the entire evening... dinner, bridge and conversation and not ONCE did her husband look at her queerly or make any comment. He simply didn't notice it!

Diet Item

This is just about the funniest letter we have ever had the pleasure of reading. A friend of ours who lives in another city, wrote that her teen-aged son, away at school, is on a diet. Because of this he is allowed to have fresh fruit in his room, (or was SUPPOSED to have that permission), but wrote his Mother that the "powers that be" were removing the fruit from his room and would she please write the Head Master. We wish we could use the worthy's name, since his reply to Ma's letter is a classic. Here it is:

"Dear Mrs. McThing, I spoke to both Mr. R. and Mr. M. X. about John's fresh fruit. Mr. R. reports that he DID take some fresh fruit from John but to KEEP it for him rather than invite its use as missiles in the corridor. John has access to it when he wants to EAT it. This practice will be followed with future shipments.

"Mr. R. is willing to do this but he vigorously protests the impressive collection of other foodstuff that he has had to remove from John's room. Such as CASES of evaporated milk, instant coffee and cocoa, strawberry jam, gingerale, H-P Sause, Worcestershire sauce, A-I Sause, tobacco sause, butter-scotch pudding mix, bouillon cubes, pepper, salt, etc. etc. This would suggest a large scale culinary operation either planned or in progress."

If Mother dear writes to let us know what Junior Does do with that conglomeration... we'll pass on the information.

trouble. We are so busy creating and maintaining movements that keep us busy and enable us to make new friendships, that we haven't time for the person next door.

There is food here for thought. There can't be any real excuse for being lonely if we have the ability to mix. If we have the will to give of ourselves we shall find it coming back doubled and re-doubled. But there is quite likely also a lesson for us who have come to take the Pointe for granted.

While we are benefiting through all the facilities and organizations which are at our command, we should not forget those who might be timid about entering into a strange environment. Make it a point to know your neighbor. One really firm handclasp is worth a thousand brushed fingertips.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

Americans aren't laughing as much as they used to, according to the present day humorists. "The Decline of American Humor," "The Vanishing Comedian," "Are You Afraid to Laugh?" are typical of articles in current periodicals decrying this lost art.

One of the reasons given for this sad state of affairs is that everything these days is sacrosanct. When Mark Twain wrote "First God made idiots for practice, and then he made congressmen," these worthy gentlemen of Clemens' era would no doubt have laughed at his quip as heartily as anyone. Professors too would smile indulgently with Stephen Leacock when he said, if he were building a university, he would first build a library; then next to it, he would build a smoking room, and then if he had any money left he would hire some professors.

Perhaps the old humorists are dying out, but we can't believe that, as Americans, we'll ever entirely lose the ability to laugh at ourselves. It has been said that laughter springs from confidence, or perhaps it is the other way around and confidence breeds laughter. In any case it will be a sorry day when humorists are no longer free to be funny.

On the air the other evening, Harry Golden, author of the best seller, "Only in America," in answer to Mr. Murrow's question as to whether he had ever touched on the subject of segregation, replied that he had tried to inject a little humor into it.

All the trouble, said Golden, seemed to be when the Negro was sitting down, in school and on buses, while in the supermarket he stood in line or on the street he walked about and caused no difficulty. He suggested that they take the seats out of the schoolroom and have high desks at which all the children could stand to do their work. Nonsense of course, but at least each side laughed.

Bennett Cerf points out that our humorists need encouragement, citing the fact that we have never given any of our serious awards, The Pulitzer Prize, The National Book Award or the Nobel Prize to a humorist.

We regret the loss of such amusing writers as Robert Benchley, Will Rogers, Stephen Leacock, Ring Lardner et al, but we do have S. J. Perelman, E. B. White, Cornelia Otis Skinner, Ogden Nash, Ed Streeter and others who, thank goodness, can still bring a chuckle.

Any book of humor, it seems to us, should be taken in short sips. Not even Perelman or

E. B. White are meant to be read at one sitting.

S. J. Perelman has given some of our best contented humor. "The Road to Moscow" published in 1957 brought together some of the best satirical essays, most of which had formerly appeared in New Yorker.

Most of S. J. Perelman's humor is funny and funny among books of recent years we mention a few for enjoyment. "The Ascent of Doodle," by W. E. B. Dibs the mountain climber, an hilarious account of "mountain climbing and native porters attempting the summit of Mt. Doodle."

Corey Ford is not a play but in "Has Anybody Seen My Lately?" he gives something from operations to from photography to ending, the usual Ford ment guaranteed to be out of a gloomy mood, the distaff side, the Heather Jemenez "Wouldn't Live Here" in the author describes her national misadventures home front when set temporarily in Mexico, Lebanon, England and with her UNESCO husband.

Steve Allen's "Funny and William Cahn's "Makers" give a further insight into the humorous show business.

So... be gone! Try reading yourself the doldrums.

To Preach Here

The Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will have as guest minister on Sunday, February 22, THE REVEREND HAROLD F. FREDSELL, D.D., Director of Church Extension, Synod of Michigan, United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., and Stated Clerk for the 107 churches in the Detroit Presbytery. Dr. Fredsell will preach at both the 9:30 and the 11 o'clock services on the topic "For the Care of the Soul."

Dr. Fredsell who, since October 1958, has served as Moderator of the Session of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, was for thirteen years pastor of the historic Northville Church in the suburban area of Detroit. Author of "The History of the Presbyterian Church in Michigan" and "John Montith, Pioneer Presbyterian of Detroit," he was honored with the degree of Doctor of Divinity conferred by Alma College. His undergraduate work was taken at New York University, Columbia University, and Union Theological Seminary.

Interested in all phases of work with young people, he directed youth activities of Jamaica Presbyterian Church in New York City, was active in Boy Scout work, served as Director of the Clear Lake Young People's Summer Conference for seven years, and has done considerable speaking on college campuses and before youth groups.

As a Biblical scholar Dr. Fredsell has taught both the Old and New Testaments for the teacher training courses of Detroit Council of Churches, and is at present teaching two graduate courses on "The History of the Church" and "The Life of Christ" at the Detroit Institute of Technology. His preaching and lectures are Bible-centered, stressing the mission work of the Christian Church.

Many Students On Honor Roll

In surveying the honor roll records of the secondary schools in the Grosse Pointe Public School System, it was learned that about 23 percent—over one thousand of an approximate enrollment of 4,400 secondary pupils, had maintained a B or better average in all their school work to date this year.

A breakdown of the individual junior high schools, plus Grosse Pointe High, revealed that Brownell boasted 215 such scholars; Parcels, 149; Pierce, 209; and the High School, 451.

Superintendent of Grosse Pointe Schools, Dr. James Bushong, has sent each honor student a personal letter of congratulation for this accomplishment.

Parents Approve School Parleys

The Grosse Pointe Public School System recently conducted a postcard poll in an effort to evaluate the January (1959) Parent-Teacher conferences held in the schools in place of a report card.

More than one thousand replies were received from a representative group of parents and elementary teachers.

The consensus was that about 78 percent felt their conferences had been "very worthwhile," another 20 percent indicated they had been "somewhat worthwhile" and only 2 percent indicated they were "not worthwhile" at all.

Gas Show Comes To GPUS Feb. 25

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company's new science show, "Gasarama," recognized by educators for encouraging students to take an interest in science will be presented at the Grosse Pointe University School on February 25 at 1:30 p.m.

According to Noble D. Travis, Michigan Consolidated's director of public relations and originator of "Gasarama," more than 40,000 Detroit students in 35 high schools and three colleges have acclaimed the show.

Through a series of demonstrations, "Gasarama" points out the role scientists play in the discovery of natural gas through the use of seismograph sound waves to detect gas deposits buried for centuries beneath the earth's crust.

It dramatically tells the story of how natural gas is transported 1,200 miles to Michigan through three giant pipelines from Texas and Louisiana to serve homes and industry in some 120 communities.

As the show develops, the audience discovers that there are some 25,000 industrial uses for natural gas—and that the gas industry is the fifth largest in the nation.

During the 40 minute stage production, the audience learns how natural gas is used by Chrysler Corporation instead of gasoline as motor testing fuel on the Plymouth line.

It also explains how a hot flame can produce cold—how natural gas can be made to burn under water, and how it can generate electricity.

Rotarians Hear Top Saleslady

Members of the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club were treated to a very special program at their regular luncheon meeting on Monday, February 16, when they had the pleasure of having Miss Norine McNichols as their guest speaker. Miss McNichols, who is a sales representative for a nationally known appliance firm, spoke to Rotarians on the ways and means of better selling based on some 30 years of experience in that field. Her talk was entitled "Make it Personal", stressing the attributes of people, information and enthusiasm.

The speaker was accompanied by her Seeing Eye dog, Nipper. She has been totally blind since 1943, yet travels 100,000 miles a year throughout the country, on speaking engagements. She will be back in the Detroit area at the end of March when she will speak to the Crippled Children's Society.

BY IMPERIAL DECREE . . . power

From America's most unusual automotive plant . . . Imperial, most thoroughly tested motorcar of its time.

NOT RAW, UNBRIDLED POWER. Not irresponsible speed. Not hungry, violent horsepower.

Imperial power is mature, obedient power . . . under constant and gentle rein.

It is a new kind of power, decreed by the only totally new engine in the fine car circle. Its pistons move more slowly. Its crankshaft turns fewer times in a given distance. All its moving parts move less busily.

Yet, with all its calmness, all its saving of fuel and friction, the new Imperial engine develops greater forward thrust, greater wheel-turning power, more liveliness per pound than any other automotive engine of 1959.

You expect Imperial to be luxurious, exquisitely tailored, elegant to a fault. You expect generous space, comfort, good taste . . . for these are Imperial trademarks.

But to find such agility in a car this size . . . such spirited responsiveness, such lightfingered controllability . . . this is the constant surprise . . . the recurring satisfaction. This is the "feel" an Imperial owner loves.

Won't you ask your Imperial dealer to show you how much more elegant elegance can be when it's generously spiced with eagerness?

Highland Park Holds Key To Devils' Title Chances

Paced by Lars Anderson's 22 points the Grosse Pointe Blue Devils halted an upset minded Wyandotte Bears quintet 52-43, last Friday, February 13, on the local court.

In other Border Cities League action Highland Park handed Royal Oak Dondero a 72-38 shellacking, which enabled the Parkers to take over first place alone, with a 7-1 record. Longworth Mapp, of the Parkers, led both teams with 23 points while Dondero's ailing John Meadows was held to 7 points, a season low for him. Fordson squeaked past winless Monroe 48-46 behind sophomore forward Bob Hammond's 24 points.

A share of the B.C.L. championship still is a mathematical possibility for the Devils. That is, if they can defeat Highland Park on February 20, and hand Royal Oak a defeat when they appear here, February 27. In the meantime, Monroe must defeat Highland Park, February 27.

Devils Given Scare
Wyandotte handed the Devils a scare when they pulled into a 10-3 early lead, as Len Barr pushed in 6 of the Bears 10 points.

Lars Anderson sparked the Devils with a long set shot and followed with a layup on a perfect pass from Ron Schramm, to cut the Bears' lead to 3 points, 10-7.

Forward Jon Rice arched a long jump shot, which missed the mark, but was tipped in by center Schramm, to pull the Devils to one point, only to have Len Barr drop in a long jump shot which gave Wyandotte a 3 point lead again.

Anderson and Schramm, playing his best game, combined to give the Devils a 17-12 lead, which they never relinquished.

During the second period Anderson collected more points than the entire Wyandotte team and the Devils stretched the lead to 29-19 at halftime.

Threatened Again
The Pointers out-scored the Bears in the third quarter and went into the final period

Little League Getting Ready

Registration for the 1959 season of the Grosse Pointe Woods-Shores Little League has been set for Friday, March 6, according to Robert Kefgen, president. This will apply to boys who are signing up for the first time, since those who have played previously are automatically registered.

The boys are asked to meet at Parcels Gym between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. and present their birth certificate and the usual $2.00 fee.

Mr. Kefgen indicated that last year's registration of 600 boys will be exceeded this year and urged new applicants to be sure to register on March 6 because the heavy enrollment will not permit late applications.

Bulletin cards concerning registration are being placed in all the schools in the immediate area as well as in the stores on Mack avenue.

"In past years some boys could not play because they were not informed of the registration," stated Mrs. Robert Brownscombe, chairman of the registration committee. "We are making an all-out effort to contact every boy who is interested."

Boat Banter

By FRED RUNNELLS

The popular Snipe Class will return to Lake St. Clair this year, according to Burt Eaton, who is heading the reorganization plans which have been enhanced by the backing of the Windmill Pointe Yacht Club where the nucleus of the local fleet will be berthed. Eaton is expecting the new charter from the Snipe Association this week and when it arrives, it will boost the Michigan fleets to 13. This is the result of a long year of hard work by Eaton, who moved here from Miami where he was the fleet champion and the Fleet Captain of the Coconut Grove Yacht Club.

Already five owners are in the fold and the local fleet is looking for more customers. Others in the local class are Leon Irish, former Green Lake Snipe fleet captain and champion; Mike Chauquette, former fleet champion from Kansas City and 1957 National Junior Snipe runnerup; Robert Graham and Fred Dube, an immigrant from Germany who was the builder of the original Flying Dutchman class sailboat.

In all there are 11,778 numbered Snipes in the world and 473 fleets. Recently the Snipe was selected as the two man boat for the Pan American Games to be held in Chicago this coming summer.

Eaton and his group are waiting patiently for the weather to break so they can install a small boat hoist at Windmill Pointe Yacht Club where the fleet also has access to the small boat ramp.

Once upon a time the Snipe Class here was the largest single one-design class but World War II killed the class because most of the owners were of draft age and when they returned they were interested in something bigger than the little 15-foot six-inch sloop.

At one time Crescent Sail Yacht Club harbor berthed 42 of the little sloops and the fleet was host to the Snipe Internationals around 1941.

Since that time the local fleet disappeared like the Vanishing American. It is heartening to learn that someone like Eaton has grasped the reins in an effort to bring the class back into competition here. Anyone interested and wishing more information call Burt Eaton, LI. 2-3685.

Theta Sigma Phi's Plan Used Book Sale

Hospitalized veterans will benefit from a Paperback Fair to be given by Theta Sigma Phi, national fraternity for women in journalism, Tuesday, February 24, at the Detroit Press Club in the Detroit-Leland Hotel.

There will be hundreds of used books for sale at a fraction of their original cost. Proceeds will go to Theta Sig's Hospitalized Veterans Writing Program which encourages patients to develop their creative writing abilities.

The fair, beginning at 11 and continuing to 7 o'clock, is open to the public. Those attending will be able to use the Press Club's facilities and have luncheon and refreshments there if they wish.

St. Ambrose Students To Hold Science Fair

The 8th to 12th grade students of St. Ambrose School will present a "Science Fair" in the parish hall, Hampton and Maryland, on Saturday, February 17, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., and on Sunday, February 18, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Senior class of St. Ambrose will be hosts at the exhibition, which is under the co-chairmanship of Seniors Norman Cure and Marilyn Kroha.

Austin High Loses Chance To Defend Pair of Titles

By Bob Beattie

The Holy Redeemer Lions bumped the Austin Friars out of the Catholic and City championship titles, both of which the Friars were defending, before a crowd of 8,886 at the U. of D. Memorial Building, Sunday, February 15.

The Friars raced to a 10-1 lead in the first two minutes of play, which has been typical of all the Friar wins this year. It has been the Friars' policy to jump on their opponents early and then hang on to win in the late stages of the game, but this was one time it didn't work as the Lions fought back successfully to win 61-55. It was the second defeat of the season for the Friars and the fourth in three years.

Coach Has Comment
At a pep rally Friday, February 13, Coach Chuck Hollosy stated "There is a rumor around our school that Redeemer is going to be a pushover. I suppose it was our team that started it. Impartial cage observers have told me to the contrary. When we watched Redeemer play they had nothing at stake. They had already locked up the West Side title and are looking forward to the game with us. Believe me these boys are good but I believe we are better. They will have a height advantage which will make the teams just about even. I am counting on you fellows to make the difference. Particularly at U. of D., I've noticed our cheering section has so awed other teams that we have been able to race to an early margin before they regain their composure."

The youthful mentor continued, "If we can get a 15-point lead in the first quarter I don't believe they will be able to catch us."

Watch Lead Melt
Coach Hollosy's theory was correct. But the Friars saw their early lead melt away to a mere four point, 14-10, advantage as the first period drew to a close.

Paced by the ailing Tommy Pine, (he was recovering from a bout with the flu), Austin stretched its lead to 32-24 at halftime after the Lions had pulled to within two points of a tie halfway through the period.

GPUS Knights Beat Cranbrook

All during the basketball season the Grosse Pointe University of School Knights had looked forward to the Cranbrook game as "the big one." Then last Tuesday the G.P.U.S. boys found out that Cranbrook was not at all the team of invincible gladiators that rumor had suggested. In fact, the Knights took the game, 50-45, to complete their regular season of play with a 10-1 record.

Cranbrook outplayed G.P.U.S. in the first half and had a comfortable 25-18 edge as the teams left the court after the second quarter. The second half was the other way around, though, as the Knights outscored Cranbrook in both the third and fourth quarters, 15-13 and 17-7.

Captain Bob Wood dropped in 21 points for G.P.U.S. to take the game honors for scoring. Dick Barton and Jack Pingel each had nine. John Hayden, who incidentally is a Grosse Pointe boy himself, led Cranbrook with 13 points. Jim Williams and Captain Ed Brey, usually a high-scoring guard combination for Cranbrook, were able to get only nine points between them.

Election Conducted By Garden Council

Mrs. H. Ray Will Re-elected President; Reports On Year's Activities Heard and Plans For Clean-Up Week Announced

At the annual meeting of the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council held recently at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, Mrs. H. Ray Will was re-elected president while other newly elected officers were: vice-president, Mrs. David C. Lowe; recording secretary, Mrs. William Turner; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Glenn Gessell; treasurer, Mrs. David Gillis.

Mrs. David C. Lowe, chairman of the Flowering Crab Sale, reported continued interest in the annual event. Since this public service was offered four years ago, over 2,000 trees have been sold at low cost in Pointe residents.

General enthusiasm was expressed for the beautiful Christmas displays in the Pointe this season with their unusual and often breath-taking effects and colors, bringing to all the joy and spiritual significance of Yuletide.

The Council wished especially to thank the five municipalities for their efforts in creating in each city a center of interest with a large and beautifully lighted tree, and to the many public buildings, hospitals and business establishments for their outstanding decorations, which contributed so much to the festive atmosphere.

Many amateur photographers were seen braving the elements during the holidays on "Screen Tours." Some colored slides have been received. The Council appreciates the difficulties in obtaining satisfactory night pictures with the equipment available, and feels that due to modesty or dissatisfaction with results, many photographers have not submitted their slides.

Mrs. Will urges everyone who has pictures, even if the donor is not satisfied with them, to drop them at the Memorial Center in care of the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council with name and address of donor. This contribution towards building up a file, will be a public service not only to Grosse Pointe but to other communities which are endeavoring to point the way to better Christmas lighting.

Consideration was given to greater effort being made on a Clean-Up Week this spring in which the Council would gladly participate. It was felt that there was still a great need for education of the public on "littering" but commended the action of the police force in issuing tickets to apprehend offenders of the Anti-Litter law.

Cooperation Urged By Society Editor

Those interested in submitting stories concerning club notices and other women's page material may wish to know the Grosse Pointe News policy in regard to these releases.

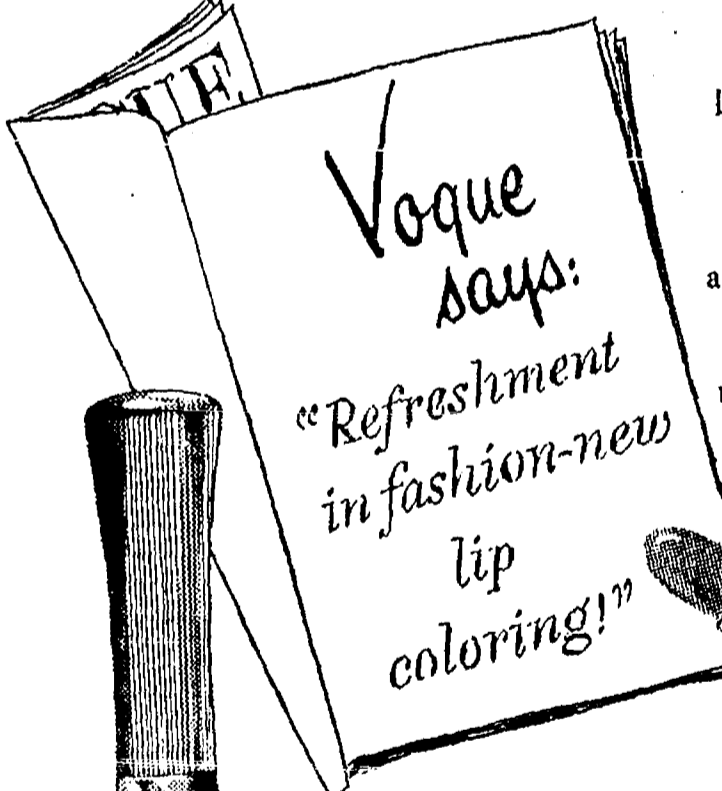

Stories should be typed double-spaced and submitted no later than Monday before the Thursday issue in which the story may run. We cannot guarantee publication of any story but every effort will be made to use the material if it arrives here by Monday.

Wedding and engagement stories, with a glossy print, should be in this office the Friday before the Thursday publication. Only pictures of Grosse Pointe girls may be used in wedding and engagement stories, although copy concerning out-of-town girls with a local angle is welcome.

We prefer material to be submitted in typewritten form as it is difficult to be accurate in taking stories over the telephone.

Buried Hydrant Slows Firemen

A fire at the home of the John Henealys, 103 Meadow lane, on Monday, February 9, burned two extra minutes, the length of time it took firemen to chop away ice-packed snow heaped around a fire hydrant.

Farms Fire Chief M. William Mason said that the hydrant, which was about 300 feet away from the burning house, was the closest to the scene of the fire, and before fire hose could be attached, Engineer James McIntosh used up two valuable minutes chopping the ice-packed snow from connections.

Damage to the Kenealy home was estimated at about $3,000, the chief said. One upstairs bedroom was completely burned, and another bedroom and the bathroom was damaged by the heat and smoke. Water damage was nil, he said.

When Farms firemen arrived at the home and began battling the fire, a second alarm was sent to the City Fire Department, which sent men and equipment. Together firemen of the two departments fought the blaze, bringing it under control in about 20 minutes.

Harper Woods, did not get a call, Chief Mason said, but sent a pumper and personnel to the Farms station to cover for any possible emergency, and sent an emergency vehicle to the scene of the fire in the event it was needed.

Chief Mason said that the fire was started by two children of Mr. and Mrs. Kenealy, who were on the bed in the bedroom, playing with matches, while their mother was taking a shower.

The chief, who stated that he was sure he was speaking, not only for himself, but for the other fire department chiefs, urges citizens of the Pointe communities, not to pile snow around fire hydrants when cleaning sidewalks after a snow fall.

"I urge all citizens to help the fire departments by keeping the hydrants clear of all snow, or any other obstacle, that might hinder your firemen from carrying out their duties properly," Chief Mason said. "If there is any snow around hydrants near your home, please clear it away. The two minutes we lost at the Kenealy fire was a waste of valuable time, and could have been used to keep damage down to less than what it was."

One Million Prescriptions Filled

A. J. MEYER, INC., Grosse Pointe pharmacists, which has operated here strictly as a prescription drug store for more than a quarter of a century, recently compounded its millionth prescription. On hand to mark the occasion were two representatives of the E. R. Squibb Pharmaceutical Company who honored the store's founder second from left, ALFRED J. MEYER, and his wife, GERMAINE, with a beautifully inscribed plaque. The Meyer store is on Mack at Courville and its single branch store is on Mack at Torrey road in Grosse Pointe Woods. Mr. Meyer is a leader in local civic and business club circles and is one of the founders and a past president of the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Association. Catholic Book Week Planned

By Claire Huebner
"Share Truth . . . Spread Faith"—this is the theme of Catholic Book Week, February 22 to 28.

The students at St. Paul High will observe this week by paying particular attention to books found in their school library. A bulletin board illustrating books of particular interest at this time is being prepared by the student librarians.

Jo Marie Handlos and Judy Benkert, president and vice-president, respectively, of the student Library Club at St. Paul, first became interested in the opportunities to share truth and spread faith last month. On January 14, they attended the Catholic Book Week Workshop at Marygrove College. There, Father Francis X. Canfield, book reviewer for the "Michigan Catholic" and librarian at Sacred Heart Seminary, addressed the gathering.

The public is invited to attend open house at the High School library on March 1. (The St. Paul Science Fair will also be held at this time.) There will be displays of books of interest for persons of all ages.

G.P.U.S. News Notes
The students of Grosse Pointe University School had as day-long visitors on Thursday, January 29, students from Grosse Pointe and Detroit high schools who had gone abroad under the American Field Service program last summer.

Teh G.P.U.S. chairman for the event was Jane Peirce, who herself went to France in July and August as an A.F.S. student.

Visiting G.P.U.S. were Harvey Schneider, of Denby, who went to Sweden; Tom Segall, of Mumford, who was in Norway; Jill Mackie, of Cody, who spent her summer in Pakistan, and John Davidson and Chris Wohlers, both of Grosse Pointe High, who went respectively to England and Turkey. Miss Wohlers had met this year's A.F.S. student, Miss Banu Pektas, in Turkey before the latter left for the United States.

The guests addressed the Upper School assembly at the beginning of the school day. Each of them spoke extemporaneously and well of the experiences and reactions they were theirs during their stay in the Middle East or Europe.

When the POINTE was growing up...

By PAT TALBOT

When Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac, the founder of Detroit, landed here he was granted by Louis IV land about 15 acres square, about 225 acres in all but he claimed the area for miles around, from Lake Erie to Lake Huron, and proceeded to give private claims to French citizens who followed him.

By 1710 Cadillac was appointed Governor of Louisiana and left Detroit, abandoning his settlers to confusion about their land grants.

One of his first grants was Claim 26 in Grosse Pointe to Gaeten Seguin, dit Lederout. Several other prominent Frenchmen received grants, too, including Beaupre, Guion, and Campeau. Some of these were subsequently approved by the King, but when the Americans took over the city these outlying grants caused much confusion as they had never been properly surveyed.

In 1734 the owner was required to pay five livres rent by March 20 and ten livres for the right to trade. He could trade, hunt, and fish but was not to kill hares, rabbits, partridges or pheasants. This was based on the old feudal idea that this wild game was the nobleman's rightful prey.

The owner of the claim was to commence improvements in three months; he could not sell or give away his land as security without consent and Cadillac was to have first right of purchase. He was not to sell liquor to the Indians and he also bound himself to have his grain ground at the public mill and he was to plant annually a May pole before the door of the siegneur (in this case Cadillac).

Another condition was that he had to pay, on St. Martin's Day, a certain number of fowls, so many dozens of eggs and a definite measure of grain for each arpent (acre) held. In addition to having the grain ground in the siegneur's mills the grantee had to have his bread baked in his ovens, also.

There is little doubt that Cadillac claimed this land when he returned to France and the British government looked upon most of the French titles as clear. Grants made by Indians were never accepted as valid such as some of the lands to Navarre and Campau.

The depth of these ribbon farms was always to be 40 acres and most of them were from 2 to 4 acres along the river and lake. For many years most of the French families built homes inside the fort as well as on their farms, which were constantly harassed by Indians.

Under the American government only eight titles were found to have been confirmed by the king but Congress confirmed all those which were occupied, improved and settled upon prior to July, 1796. Thus many Frenchmen in Grosse Pointe were finally in clear title to the land they had farmed for over half a century.

The Charles M. Whites' Provencal road home, which is modeled after a spacious English manor, has a gun room which looks over the Country Club grounds. In the corner mounted on a gold base is a huge stuffed red necked mallard, with white tipped wings outspread.

Mounted on the wall near this specimen of Mr. W.'s hunting prowess is the same bird, in the same flight position, a striking English print. This room is the Whites' favorite, for they can view the wild birds which visit at their outdoor bird feeder and compare them to the various bird pictures mounted on the paneled walls.

Bride-elect Jane Ottaway, looked just like a petite Valentine heart, at the first shower in her honor, which she attended Saturday in an American Beauty red wool suit with an artificial red and black rose pinned at the collar. The lovely brunet will marry Peter Dow on March 21.

Jack Stephenson, hulkling six foot former All-American football center, confesses to feeling very sheepish when he calls the new kitten he gave his children for Christmas. For some unknown reason the puss was named "Chickie" and he feels quite ridiculous before his neighbors chirping "Here Chickie, Here Chickie" in his backyard.

Frederick W. Pearce, Jr., has a bachelor friend in Florida who names his current girl by her hobbies and refuses to introduce her by her given name. Recently he was squinting about a ballerina, whom he insisted on calling "Leotard" and to this day many of his chums don't know the girl's real name.

Titian haired Mrs. William D. Byron, Jr., is one of the few who can wear that pale shade of beige... she has a lovely bouffant cocktail frock in that color, with a matching, completely accordion pleated full length coat in which she looks very fetching.

THE REV. MARCUS W. JOHNSON, OF THE GROSSE POINTE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

By Patricia Talbot

The pastor of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, the Rev. Marcus W. Johnson, can make his religious beliefs come alive with a drawing pencil although he usually uses the more familiar sermon.

Rev. Johnson is an accomplished artist and if he hadn't had a call to the ministry would probably be busy with brush and easel today. His busy parish of almost 1,200 keeps him from spending as much time with pastels and oils as he would like, but he still has time for some art work.

In his classes for prospective members he instructs with his cartoon pencil. He has designed a character named TB (the initials stand for This I Believe) to illustrate his spiritual beliefs. To the Congregational Juniors he often gives a "chalk talk" using his artistic talent in a telling fashion.

Son of a Minister

Rev. Johnson was born in Wisconsin, son of a Lutheran minister and went to college in Beloit and the Chicago Theological Seminary, where he met his wife. His first parish was in Glenview, Ill., he went to Omaha and Norfolk, Neb., before going into the Army.

A treasured scrapbook in the Johnson parsonage today contains letters and drawings that Rev. Johnson sent his older son, David, from the South Pacific.

He was serving as a chaplain before Pearl Harbor and was attached to the Second Battalion in the New Guinea campaigns. His army experiences were very meaningful to him. He believes the chaplain represented home, faith and decency to the GIs on the battlefield. He still keeps in close contact with a fellow chaplain, the Rev. Harvey J. Smith, a Presbyterian pastor in Milwaukee.

In the South Pacific

Another memory of Army days is a reoccurring malaria, which he says, almost everyone who served for any length of time in the South Pacific, is apt to have. His overseas service has meant a great deal to him, strengthening his spiritual values and bringing him close to reality.

After the War he had a parish in Indianapolis before coming to the Pointe seven years ago. The church here began about 18 years ago in Richard School and moved into its present building at Chalfonte and Lothrop about ten years ago. Rev. Johnson is the second minister to serve the parish and during his tenure there has been 100 per cent growth, class room additions and a new Youth Building. The Rev. Arnold Johnson has come to assist him and at a red brick colonial in Bal-four road, is his organ. He is also a talented musician, and likes to play for his family.

Mrs. Ruth Hunter is director of Education.

Counseling a Big Job
The Rev. Johnson, a sturdy amiable man with a wealth of understanding in his manner, believes his biggest job is to act as a sounding board for his parish problems. Like many Protestant ministers he finds that today the bulk of his time is taken up with counseling.

He must also find time for calls to shut-ins and hospital patients. There are weddings and funerals and of course the weekly sermon. He preaches both morning services on Sunday except for the last Sunday of the month when his assistant is in the pulpit and he superintends the "Sunday School departments," "so the children won't forget I'm here, too."

Friday Family Night

He tries to keep Friday evening free for his family, but almost every night he is called by the sick, the troubled and the sorrowing. In the manse,

Son David, who attended his father's alma mater at Beloit, where he also found his wife, is with a local furniture store and another son, Douglas, who has inherited his father's artistic talent, is a student at Pierce. Also part of the Johnson family is Mary Lou Rydall, a student at Central Michigan College, whom they have welcomed into their warm home.

Mrs. Johnson loves to entertain and is a leading light in the church's Women's Association. She has found life as a minister's wife very rewarding but wishes her husband had more time for his art work. Her relaxed and engaging personality is a great aide to her busy husband with his taxing duties.

Rev. Johnson has found contentment and the satisfaction of service in his Congregationalist pastorate here and his parish has found a minister with rare qualities of spiritual leadership, compassion and strength of character.

Course Offered Heart Patients

Homemakers who are looking for better, easier ways of doing tasks about the house are invited to attend free classes in housework-simplification sponsored in Grosse Pointe by the Michigan Heart Association. The series of four "Heart of the Home" classes are conducted in cooperation with Wayne State University and will be held weekly at the same hour and day beginning March 5 at 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

The course was developed originally for women with heart or blood vessel diseases who must "take it easy." While medical reasons make it necessary to take the drugery out of housework for women with a disability, eliminating drudgery is every woman's dream, therefore the Michigan Heart Association opened the classes to all women several years ago.

The classes stress planning, according to work-simplification principles, which a homemaker can apply to all of her various tasks. The course was adapted from time-motion study principles used in industry by the Home Economics Department of Wayne State University. Mrs. Hannah R. Pretzer from the staff of the Home Economics Department conducts the classes.

"With proper tools and techniques up to 50 percent of the time and energy commonly spent cleaning, ironing, preparing meals and the like can be saved," Mrs. Pretzer said. She indicated that the classes are designed to benefit any economic level at that energy and time can be conserved without remodeling or buying expensive equipment.

Homemakers may register for the free classes by calling The Grosse Pointe Department of Community Services at TU 5-3808 or the Michigan Heart Association, Temple 1-8550. The classes will meet on March 5, 12, 19 and 26 at The Grosse Pointe Department of Community Services at 43 Grosse Pointe boulevard.

No medical advice, diagnosis, treatment, or examination is given in the "Heart of the Home" classes.

The Wayne County Medical Society has endorsed the entire program and doctors of medicine will be urged to refer their patients to the classes.

The "Heart of the Home" program is made possible by the Michigan Heart Association through funds received from the United Foundation Torch Drive.

Youth Council To Hold Dance

The Youth Council of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial is planning a party at the Center Friday, February 27, following the basketball game with Royal Oak at Grosse Pointe High School. The hours of the party are 10 to 12 p.m. It is a "couples only" party. The charge of $1 per couple includes dancing to top recordings, and a very healthy snack consisting of foot-long submarine sandwiches and cokes.

The party is to be known as the "Dunker's Drag" and dress is casual. Co-chairmen are Fran Martin and Jan Root. Carol Kerin is selecting the records and Peg Bromley is inviting the chaperones. Diane McAlpine is heading the food service committee. Lisa Robinson is in charge of decorations. Phil Kiem is head of the Door Committee and June Rice is taking care of clean up.

All pupils in any of Grosse Pointe's public, private and parochial schools, grades 9-12, are most welcome. Publicity chairman at the various schools include Julie Smith at the High School; Peggy Carpenter at G.P.U.S.; Paula Dwayhi at St. Paul's; Jim Brown at Pierce; and Bill Taylor at Parcels.
