THE DETROIT TIGERS have a new president, as of yesterday, in the person of Bill DeWitt, 57. He has been in baseball for 43 years, 33 as an executive. Former co-owner of the St. Louis Browns and assistant general manager of the New York Yankees, DeWitt will be either president or general manager of the club. He was almost named Tiger boss three years ago. Board chairman John E. Fetzer and president Harvey Hansen did not stand for reelection for next year, and in effect resigned. Another new addition to the Tigers for 1960 is former White Sox shortstop Luke Appling, who replaces Tommy Heinrich on the coaching staff.

THE NATIONAL LABOR Relations Board hearing, concerning the picketing of Detroit's three daily newspapers, has been set for November 2. Yesterday, Judge Frank A. Picard continued a Federal Court Order restraining Malters Local 40, International Typographical Union from picketing the papers. The Free Press, News and Times were shut down for three days last week by Local 40 picket lines.

A PERMIT to conduct a "going out of business" sale was refused the Ernest Kern Co. Wednesday, by the City Clerk Thomas D. Leadbetter. Henry H. Krause, new president of the company, said that he would appeal the refusal by Leadbetter. A report by the Better Business Bureau, who investigates applications for going out of business sales for the City, said that Kern Company had stocked up on merchandise since Krause became president in August.

THE CHICAGO WHITE SOX known for speed and defense, not hitting power, gave the Los Angeles Dodgers an 11 to 0licking in the opening game of the World Series, yesterday. The American League champs combined the pitching of veteran Early Wynn with the hitting of veteran Ted Kluszewski to take a one game edge in the fall classic. "Big Klu", a former National Leaguer, hit two consecutive home runs and a single to drive in five of the Sox' 11 runs.

Wynn, 39 years old, gave up only six singles, allowing no Dodger past second base, in his seven inning stint on the mound. He was relieved by another veteran Gerry Staley, in the eighth inning, because of a stiff elbow.

THE FIRST LEGAL STEP to end the steel strike will be taken Monday by President Eisenhower. It is expected that he will appoint a board of inquiry, the first step in the invocation of the emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley law. Only a drastic change in attitude on the part of both steel industrialists and steel union leaders could prevent the action. The principals in the strike have been in conference in Pittsburgh at the insistence of the President.

DOCK WORKERS handling ship cargoes on both the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts struck yesterday over contract negotiations. Both the Government and the labor leaders had advised against the strike. Two thirds of American coastline shipping is currently at a standstill as a result.

THE JOHN C. LODGE EXPRESSWAY will open in full on November 3, following 13 years of construction. The final section, a half mile stretch under Cobo Hall in the Civic center that joins with Jefferson avenue, will be open to traffic at that time. The 90 million dollar highway runs northwest nine miles away, and terminates there.

Another expressway is scheduled to be put under construction next June. This one, called the James Couzens, will pick up where the Lodge ends. It will be 3 1/2 miles and cost 28 million dollars. October 24, 1946, was the date when work on the

Buried Alive, He Returns To Job Following Rescue

Philip Kent, 41, of 48 Simpson, Detroit, was buried under his head when dirt and bricks fell on him while he was working at a Shores home on Saturday, October 3.

Kent, an employee of the National Basement Waterproofing company, 18505 W. Eight Mile road, Detroit, was working under a wing of a home at 46 Sunningdale, when a wall collapsed.

The worker, who was standing erect, was buried over his head within seconds.

Follow employees called the Shores police, and then dug frantically for 10 minutes before Kent's head was uncovered.

Shores Lt. Harold Zeeb and Patrolman Frank Mustazza arrived while the workers were still digging.

Annual Halloween Parties Planned at Four Schools

Last Year's Community Project Attracted Over 4,000 Students; All Young Pointers Invited to Attend

This marks the 20th anniversary of the Grosse Pointe Community Halloween Party. Some of the original planners of the annual party are still actively engaged in promoting this event.

They, along with many other civic-minded adults, met recently at the Neighborhood Club to formulate the 1959 activities.

Grosse Pointe's Halloween parties have been such a success in the past, that numerous other communities have borrowed the idea.

A resume of the successful parties of 1958 was read to the group by Mrs. E. G. Foxson, showing a total attendance of over 4,000 junior and senior high school students, evidence of how the teenagers respond to such a worthwhile community venture.

Officers of the Halloween Committee were elected as follows: Forrest Geary, chairman; Arthur E. Louwers, vice-chairman; Mrs. E. G. Foxson, secretary; Arthur Danneker, treasurer.

Realtors Honor Bruce Tappan

Bruce Tappan, Pointe realtor with offices at 83 Kercheval avenue, was elected chairman of the brokers' division of the Detroit Real Estate Board at the annual elections held last week.

Through the election Tappan becomes ex-officio a vice-president and member of the directorate of the Detroit Real Estate Board.

School Board Shifts Meeting

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education will meet Monday, October 12, in an afternoon session rather than at the usual evening hour.

The Board will convene at 4 p.m. instead of 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Pay Raises Granted By Two Pointes

Woods, Farms Approve Boosts to Police and Fire Department Personnel

The Woods and Farms councils, following their respective meetings on Monday, October 5, granted the personnel of their police and fire departments wage increases.

The Woods department, which is an integrated police and fire department, was given a flat $300 annual increase; and the Farms, two and a half percent of annual wages, a year.

The City gave its policemen and firemen a wage boost, amounting to $270, last April; the Shores, which has an integrated department, gave a graduated pay increase according to rank, last July 1, ranging from $484 a year for the chief, to $336 for patrolmen.

Gem Retrieved From Mail Box

Farms police found it necessary to call a postal inspector when Mrs. A. G. Schnepf of 4207 Haverhill, dropped a diamond in a mailbox in front of the Grosse Pointe Post Office Branch, Calvin and Mack, on Tuesday, September 29.

Mrs. Schnepf called police when a $200 diamond dislodged from its ring setting as she put mail into the "Out of Town" box.

The police could do nothing but call the post office and an inspector retrieved the gem. However, the woman had to go to the Main Post Office to claim the diamond.

Merchants Praised By Garden Council For Landscaping

Improvement of Business Sites in Various Areas Brings Praise; All Residents Urged to Join Campaign Against Littering

At a meeting of the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council held last Wednesday at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, the group expressed its appreciation of the splendid beautification achieved by the merchants and business men "On the Hill" in "The Village" and on Fisher road.

As civic beautification is a primary concern of the Council, it was felt that this program was a great step forward in enhancing the general beauty of Grosse Pointe and that the newly planted shrubs, trees and flowers had impressed transients and residents alike.

Police Fire Six Bullets At Speeders

Two Youths Run Blockades and Red Lights Trying to Avoid Arrest

The youths were apprehended after their car went out of control and they rammed a parked car on Philip, near Vernor, in Detroit. They ran three police blockades and four red lights trying to avoid capture, police said.

Patrolmen Francois Belanger and Guy Lyford received a call over the police radio to apprehend a reckless driver on Kerby, approaching Ridge road. They spotted the car as it neared Ridge, and set up a blockade, partially blocking Kerby with the scout car.

The driver sped past the police and made a right turn onto Ridge. The officers took up pursuit.

At Touraine and Ridge, Belanger and Lyford tried to pull the driver of the speeding car over to the curb, but they were ignored. An attempt was also made to stop the car at Lathrop, but this failed, too. Each time the officers pulled up alongside the other car.

The chase reached speeds of about 90 to 100 miles an hour. Lyford fired six shots, five of which hit the speeding car.

Sandrock, Pastor, is happy to report that the program's goal of $250,000 was reached this week through pledges.

The program's purpose was to raise funds for the congregation's general fund, benevolent needs and an Educational Building.

Plans for the erection of an Educational Building just East of the church site are under study at the present time and will be announced at a later date.

Woods City Hall Behind Schedule

The completion of the Woods new municipal building, scheduled for October 15, will be approximately a month late, it was announced at the Woods council meeting, Monday night, October 5.

The architects' report on building construction progress, read at the Monday meeting, stated that the new completion date is estimated to be between November 7 and 14.

According to the report, not enough was accomplished during the month of September to prevent the various contractors from falling behind. Some of the final stages of the construction depend on completion by other contractors, before the final work can be begun.

The official dedication of the new building has already been scheduled for December 2, and invitations to the ceremony have been sent out. Many of the people responsible for the growth and development of the City of Grosse Pointe Woods will be honored during the December 2 ceremonies.

To Give Play At Tuxis Club

By Marge Lehr

The October 11 meeting of the Tuxis Club of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will feature a production of "The New Pilgrims", a unique new play by Howard Radman.

First presented at the General Assembly of United Presbyterian Church in 1958, "The New Pilgrim" concerns a teenage boy who attempts to apply Christian principles to problems that he sees in the world around him.

The boy, portrayed by Don Owens, is further confused by his parents, (Mr. and Mrs. Clark Wells), who refuse to acknowledge his problem in any way.

The play is under the direction of Mrs. Robert McLean and Mrs. William Bokram. Technical direction is being handled by Robert and William Bokram. The supporting cast includes Sue Bartholemew, Steve Whittlesey, Henk Van Lunenburg, Greg Taubeneck, Frank Downs, Lyn Gray and Gloria Schmidt.

Youth groups from neighboring churches have been invited to attend the October 11 performance at 7:30. The play will be repeated Thursday evening, October 15, at 8:15 for parents. Youth group members unable to attend on the 11th are also welcome on the 15th.

George Brackx parked his car at an angle, to partially block Waterloo and Fisher. Ridge becomes Waterloo at the Farms-City limits.

Pass Another Blockade

The speeding car failed to stop. It also failed to stop for a blockade set up by City Patrolmen Duncan McEachern and Donald Fritz at Waterloo and Cadieux.

McEachern stood out in the road so that the driver of the oncoming vehicle could see him, it was said, but to no avail.

Waterloo becomes Vernor at Cadieux, the City-Park line.

The speeder shot through Vernor, and at Alter road in Detroit, continued west on Vernor, which in Detroit is a one-way street. The car sped west, against eastbound traffic, forcing buses and cars to swerve to avoid collisions.

The reckless driver turned left onto Phillip, and lost control, smashing into a parked car near the corner.

Had Been Drinking

At the scene of the accident, the pursuing officers arrested the driver, a 16-year-old Park boy, and his passenger, Nicholas D. Cosentino, 17, of 1855 Manchester. Police found five full bottles of beer in the youths' car. The boys had been drinking, police said.

Belanger and Lyford said that both teenagers used very bad language when arrested, and later, it was found out that the younger boy had taken the family car without permission.

Cosentino was placed under $25 bond after he was charged with being drunk and disorderly and being in possession of alcohol.

The youthful driver was turned over to Juvenile authorities.

Endangered Many Lives

Patrolmen Belanger and Lyford said that the youths were endangering lives along the route of the chase and they were glad the boys were stopped before somebody was killed.

Patrolman McEachern said that the young driver almost ran him down as he stood in the road, and that he could have easily shot one or both youths as they sped by.

City Police Chief Thomas Trombly said that it was about time something was done to curb speeding drivers.

"Reckless and speeding drivers are a menace and should be given jail terms," the chief said. "They not only endanger their own lives, but the lives of others. Our judges should slap a stiff jail term on all such drivers, so that the drivers will have time to think over the seriousness of what they have done.

Praises Restraint

"Officer McEachern was almost run down by the 16-year-old. I am glad the officer restrained from using his gun in trying to stop him."

Chief Trombly said Cosentino will be brought before Judge Douglas Paterson on Tuesday, October 13, for violation of a six months probation imposed by the judge last June 20.

The probation resulted after the youth was found guilty of having had alcoholic beverages in his possession. The fact that beer was found in the car chased by the Farms officers, makes Cosentino a probation violator, the chief said.

Farms Submits Building Report

From January 1 through September 30, the Farms approved 115 construction permits of all classification types, except nonassessable, valued at a total of $1,217,650. It was revealed by City Engineer Murray M. Smith, in his monthly report to the council on Monday, October 5.

During September, the city engineer stated, only 12 miscellaneous permits were issued, valued at a total of $37,000. There were no residential or business permits granted during the month.

Since the beginning of the year, 17 residential construction permits were approved, worth $644,000; 97 miscellaneous, valued at $550,150; and one business, having a value of $23,500.

As of the last day of September, no nonassessable property building permits were asked for, or granted.

A permit to demolish the home of Mrs. Thomas Millson, 242 McMillan, was approved. The home was damaged beyond repair by a terrific gas explosion on September 22.

Torch Drive to Open on Tuesday

The Torch Drive, first community-wide "united" drive, was started in 1949. Since then, some 1,200 communities in the United States and Canada have established similar fund-raising programs.

During the 10 previous Torch Drives, $137,000,000 has been made available for local, state and national health and community services. The goal set this year, $17,650,000, is the largest ever sought by any one community.

This year's Torch Drive is headed by John J. Cronin, General Motors vice president, as general chairman. He is being helped by nine co-chairmen, Arthur J. Fushman, Earl G. Ward, Mrs. Worth Kramer, Thomas B. Adams, Allan Sheldon III, Mrs. James B. Webber, Jr., Donald F. Valley, James C. Zeder and Mike Novak.

Volunteers attending the kick-off luncheon, to be held at noon Tuesday, will hear Hertsell Wilson, assistant sales promotion manager for Plymouth, and will see "Miss America."

On October 20, the first report luncheon will be held, at which progress of the campaign to that date will be revealed. Similar reports will be made at luncheons to be held Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays until November 5.

Arrangements are being made to have outstanding leaders from widely varied fields to address or entertain volunteers at these luncheons, each of which is sponsored by corporations which have fulfilled their obligations to their community by fair share contributions to the Torch Drive.

Many Noted Speakers

Speakers at report luncheons will include Drew Pearson and Earl Wilson, newspaper columnists, Dr. Charles Irvin, Belinda Blanchard, Lowell Thomas, Betty Furness and Kathryn Grayson. Jimmy Page, last year's torchlighter, is scheduled to make an appearance at the first report luncheon on October 20.

School Millage Proposals Receiving Much Support

Support for the millage proposals sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education is mounting. Numerous community groups are swinging into action, endorsing the three propositions to be voted on Monday, October 26.

School officials report that group and individual endorsements are being received daily. Latest to act was the parent organization of Ferry School. Its association is headed by Arthur Sherman this year.

The voters of the school district will go to the polls October 26 to ballot on three separate millage requests. One will ask 3/4 of a mill for the construction of necessary additions and alterations to certain schools. Another will ask for 1/2 mill to enable the school district to stay abreast of rising costs and to provide for increased numbers of staff. The third will ask 1 3/4 mills for the purpose of improving staff salaries. All are to run four years beginning in 1960.

The Kerby PTA, led by Dr. Walter Hassig, gave unanimous approval to a motion to support the Board's request at their meeting last week. President Robert F. Weber of the Board of Education appeared before the group to explain the school system's needs and to answer questions concerning the propositions.

Charles Scott, president of the Monteith PTA, recorded a similar action was taken by Monteith parents September 28. Trustee Chet Sampson led the discussion at this meeting.

The executive board of the High School's Mothers' Club also moved Monday to give strong support to the millage requests. Headed by Mrs. Fred Adams, this group has repeatedly demonstrated its interest in raising and maintaining the standard of excellence for which the Grosse Pointe schools are known. Trustee Ruth Gobel discussed the Board's proposals before this assemblage.

President Vance Powell of the Brownell Junior High School parent group announced that his executive board was strongly in favor of the Board's requests. Similar sentiments were expressed by the Barne's executive board headed by Ned Macaddino.

Mason School leaders reported unanimous approval of their PTA board as well as a cordial welcome to the remarks of Trustee C. Henry Haberkorn 3rd who appeared at the full meeting of their JTA. Robert Knapp heads this group.

Parent-Teacher groups of other schools are scheduled to meet in the near future. Members of the Board of Education will appear briefly at each meeting to explain what is to be voted on and why the funds are needed. The Board is also attending meetings of other community groups, such as Rotary and Kiwanis, to insure that every possible person is well informed concerning the school system's needs.

The building and site levy will raise funds to finance a program of additions and improvements to the schools' physical facilities. Modernization and rehabilitation of equipment and structures will be effected by this building program, school spokesmen state. A prime consideration will be to equalize educational facilities and opportunities throughout the whole school district, they say.

The need for the 1/2 mill additional operational millage to maintain the present level of operation is explained as the result of inflationary pressures. The steady rise in the costs of supplies and equipment is cited, as are the increased numbers of staff needed for larger enrollments, as evidence that present operational levies are no longer sufficient for these expenses.

The need for the 1 3/4 mill increase in operational levies to improve staff salaries is best illustrated in a table to be found elsewhere in this issue

Rare Bill Trips Young Thieves

Woods police arrested two Woods juveniles on Thursday, October 1, who stole $80 worth of rare coins and bills from the home of Fred Meldrum, 2174 Hampton.

The juveniles, both boys, 16 years old and the other 14 years old, were hired to cut grass on Meldrum's property and do other small chores on September 8.

The boys entered the house and went to the basement to view a gun collection. They saw the box containing the money and took it.

One of the bills, a single, turned up in the possession of another youth, who told police he purchased it from still another teenager for $2.50.

The second youth told Det. Sgt. Walter O'Dell and Det. Leroy Tobian that he obtained the bill from the 14-year-old, who was later taken into custody at his home.

The youngster implicated his companion, who, too, was arrested.

Meldrum refused to press charges, but the two boys will make restitution, with the younger boy promising to pay back $44, and the other lad, $36.

Kenneth Bergmann Seeks Mayor's Post in GP City

The last day on which candidates names for the approaching City election can be filed, is Saturday, October 10, at 12 noon, according to Norbert Neff, City Clerk of the City of Grosse Pointe.

Running for Mayor will be Kenneth F. Bergmann of 794 University place, who is presently on the council, but whose term expires with this election. Mr. Bergmann will be running for the post now held by Mayor Frederick W. Parker, Jr., of 354 Washington road, Mr. Parker, in turn, will run for a position on the council.

David E. Burgess, of 651 Washington road, will be seeking re-election to the council.

Lloyd R. Marentette of 389 Notre Dame avenue, is the candidate for the third council position, presently held by John L. Kenower of 16844 Village lane. Mr. Kenower will not seek re-election.

THE FLEETWOOD SIXTY SPECIAL

Creating a New Era of Elegance!

The motor cars represented here will soon introduce a new era of elegance to the world's highways.

They are the Cadillac cars of 1960—and, from every standpoint, they represent the Cadillac tradition in its finest hour.

In appearance, they are regal and majestic as never before—a brilliant symphony of line and contour from the sparkling new front grille to the graceful rear fenders.

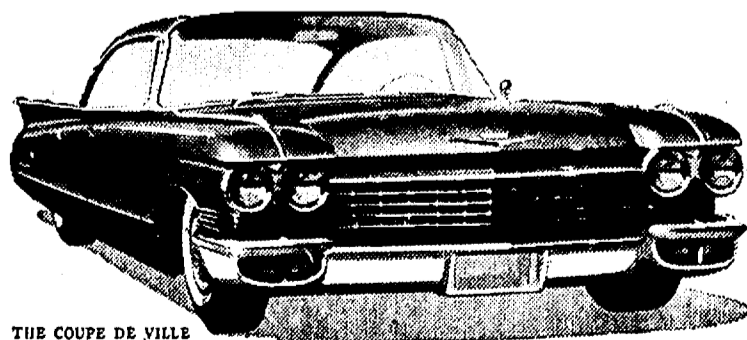

In interior decor, they are truly magnificent—featuring luxurious new fabrics and leathers—new conveniences of appointments—and new excellence in every detail.

And in the way they drive and handle, they are perfection on wheels. There is a greatly refined engine and transmission that provide even finer performance... a ride of unbelievable smoothness and quiet... and advancements in power steering and braking that make motoring the simplest and most delightful of pleasures.

These new Cadillac virtues have been interpreted in thirteen distinctive body styles. Every motorist owes himself an hour at the wheel of one of these creations.

The 1960 Cadillac is waiting for you now at your authorized Cadillac dealer's—and your dealer himself is waiting to introduce you to this magnificent new Standard of the World!

Parcells Plans Open Houses

The Parcells Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association will meet for the first event of the new school year on two separate evenings, on October 9 and October 28.

The parent meetings are being divided by grade level: sixth and seventh grade parents scheduled first, and eighth and ninth grade parents gathering later in the month. It is hoped that this will give all parents a better opportunity to meet the teachers, gain an understanding of the school program, and become acquainted with each other.

For the Open House to be held on Friday evening, October

M Club to Hear Lyle M. Nelson

Lyle M. Nelson, Director of University Relations, will be the guest of honor and speaker at the fourth annual dinner for one of the University's administrative officers, to be held by the University of Michigan Alumni Club of Grosse Pointe at the War Memorial on Wednesday evening, October 21.

These yearly affairs have come to be highlights of the club's schedule of activities. Friends of the university, as well as alumni, are welcome.

A reception, at 6:30, will precede the 7 o'clock dinner. At both, members of the board of directors will act as hosts.

Tickets may be obtained from any of these directors. Mrs. Hubert Goebel, 193 McKinley avenue, is chairman for this event. Mrs. Stuart Baits, 21 Harbor Hill, heads the ticket committee.

William H. Granse, 692 Washington road, is club president, Mrs. Baits vice-president, Miss Joan Beeman, 1050 Beaconsfield avenue, secretary and Dr. Don E. Kelly, 1658 Broadstone road, treasurer.

Membership applications are obtainable from these officers, and will be available at the dinner. All club funds in excess of operating expenses are used for scholarships at the university for graduates of Grosse Pointe secondary schools.

It was a particular satisfaction to the board to present a Blanche G. Blashill Memorial Award for the current academic year. The recipient is Judith Van Hamm, 1454 Bishop road, now a freshman student in the University's College of Architecture and Design. The late Mrs. Blashill, who was head librarian at Grosse Pointe University School, was a loyal alumna and active club member.

9, at 8 o'clock, special invitations have been sent to all sixth and seventh grade parents from the new sixth and seventh grade students. The program will open in the school auditorium with a short business meeting conducted by Charles Begeman, P.T.A. president. A brief explanation of the special school election to be held on October 26 will be presented by Robert Weber, President of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education.

At this point a seventh grader, Cynthia McQueen, will take over as Mistress of Ceremonies for the remainder of the program. She will introduce the entire seventh grade as a B Chorus, under the direction of Donald Simmons, teacher of vocal music. This chorus of 207 voices will sing two numbers: "Be Kind to Your Parents!" and "Ifca's Castle."

Following the auditorium program there will be time for room visitation. In many classrooms and display cases there will be exhibits of student work. Seventh graders will serve as guides for their parents, introducing them to teachers and taking them through the building.

The one class of sixth graders assigned to Parcells will meet in their own room with Mr. Santini during the room visitation period. It is hoped that parents will use this visiting time to become acquainted with the teachers, the general educational program, and the facilities. For parents of students with individual study problems this would be an appropriate time to set a date with the teacher or counselor for a private conference.

To close the evening Mrs. John Zolad, Mother vice-president, and a hospitality committee of eighth grade parents will be hosts and hostesses for a social hour in the gymnasium. Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Ingram are in charge of the food committee, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chandler are co-chairmen of the decorating committee.

At the second Parcells Open House, to be held on October 28, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, a brief program of room visitation and social hour has been planned, for all interested eighth and ninth grade parents. Any new residents of this community who have children in these grades are particularly urged to attend this Get Acquainted Evening. The duties of the hospitality committee for this meeting will be shared by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Larabell and Mr. and Mrs. Charles French, with the assistance of the seventh grade room parents.

Flooded Streets Helpful In Keeping Basements Dry

Many citizens appear too concerned about the accumulation of water in the streets during heavy storms, evidenced by the many calls to his office following recent storms, according to Farms City Engineer Murray M. Smith.

He said that residents should not worry about this condition, since the catch basins are purposely "throttled" to prevent storm water from entering the sewers too fast. Keeping the "ponds" in the street prevents flooded basements, and permits the water to gradually empty into the sewers, he pointed out.

Mr. Smith said that during the recent heavy storms, his office has been plagued with calls because of the puddles in the streets in various areas of the Farms.

He said that people perhaps do not know it, but during the fall, when the leaves are in the streets, this is a boon in heavy rain storms, as this clogs up the catch basins and prevents water from going into the sewers at a fast rate.

After the rain stops, he said, puddles generally remain for from a half an hour to an hour. Any time after that, the city should be notified and crews will be sent to clear the basins.

Citizens should not take on the task of clearing away the leaves from basins, Mr. Smith said.

He cited two incidents in which two civic-minded residents cleared away fallen leaves and debris from basins in front of their homes. Later, these people went inside to find six to eight inches of water in their basements.

Windsor Police Holding Robbers

Two men, currently held by Windsor police on a charge of attempted robbery, have been identified by the owner of Coins and Stamps Inc., 17358 Mack avenue, as two of the three men who robbed the store the night of September 10.

Approximately $40,000 worth of rare coins and stamps were taken in the holdup.

Roman F. Lester, 45, of 1125 Lakepointe avenue, went to the Windsor jail to identify the men after they were caught attempting to rob a jewelry store, there, Wednesday, September 30.

Windsor police are holding Allen Murphy, 32, and Peter Petlowany, 29. Detroit police have warrants against James Quello, Jr., and Essa Philip Rahhal, charging them with possession of stolen property (some of the coins and stamps) and attempting to sell the same.

"We won't stand much of a chance of getting Murphy and Petlowany over here since they've been arrested in Windsor in connection with a serious crime," said City Chief of Police Thomas V. Trombly.

The two men fired shots at one of the jewelry store clerks when she pursued them. She was not hit, but managed to corner the man in a garage long enough for the police to capture him. Her sister had fled with the cash box when the two men confronted them and demanded the money.

The FBI had been given the names of the two men involved in the Windsor incident, by an informant. However, they were unable to locate them until the attempted robbery occurred.

Murphy and Petlowany are expected to be given long prison sentences for this incident rather than being turned over to Detroit or Grosse Pointe City police for the coin shop robbery.

"We are still investigating the coin robbery in hopes of getting a warrant for the men who planned the whole operation," said Chief Trombly.

A WONDERFUL NEW WORLD OF FORDS FOR 1960

FINEST FORDS OF A LIFETIME

This new Ford Galaxie, like all the new, beautifully proportioned 1960 Fords, is styled from a new viewpoint. Traditional automotive elegance combines with modern design in the style of a new decade!

In 1960, for the first time in history, your Ford Dealer presents not one, not two, but three new lines of Ford cars . . .

1. The 1960 Fords—The Finest Fords of a Lifetime, beautiful from any Point of View, worth more from every Point of Value!
2. The 1960 Falcon—the New-size Ford, the world's most experienced new car and the easiest car in the world to own!
3. The 1960 Thunderbird . . . The World's Most Wanted Car!

Introducing the New-Size Ford . . . the 1960 Ford Falcon

Meet the New-size Ford—the Falcon! Here's a car with plenty of room for six big adults and all their luggage. It's sized to handle and park like a "small" car . . . powered to pass and climb like a "big" car . . . and built like no other car for savings!

It gives you up to 30 miles per gallon on regular gas. Aluminized mufflers normally last twice as long as ordinary kinds. A Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes. Even insurance can cost you less! And this Falcon is the world's most experienced new car. It was driven over every mile of numbered Federal Highway in EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A.—a grueling demonstration climaxing Ford's 3 years of development and testing.

The Falcon has the features that American car buyers expect. Its gearshift is on the steering column—not on the floor. Its engine is located up front for greater stability and safety. Best news of all is the Falcon's low, low price. See it at your Ford Dealer's . . . and see the difference!

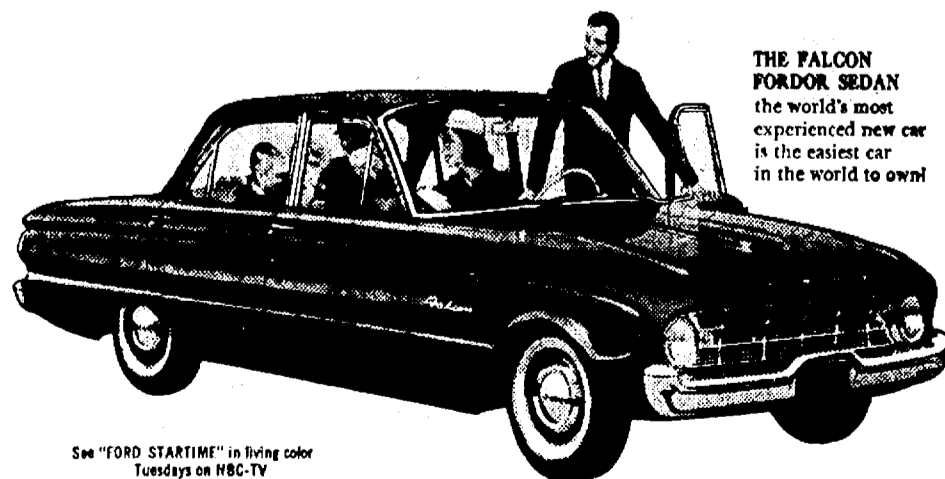

Now you can see them—the Finest Fords of a Lifetime! Economy-minded Fairlanes. Big-value Fairlane 500's. Elegant Galaxies. A breath-taking new Sunliner convertible and a brand-new hard-top model, the flashing Starliner. Then there's a whole new world of Station Wagon Living, too. It all adds up to 15 glittering variations of the world's newest, most elegant styling theme!

And Ford sets the new trend in power. Ford's Thunderbird 292 V-8 and 352 V-8, like the famous Milcage Maker Six, bring a new world of smoother, hotter performance—on regular gas. To top it all, the Finest Fords of a Lifetime are priced for savings. Ford is still priced to outvalue all comparable models of its major competitors.

Ford savings, however, only begin with a low price. You save still more with engines that thrive on regular gas and save up to a dollar on every tankful . . . a Full-Flow oil filter that lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes . . . Diamond Lustre Finish that never needs waxing . . . aluminized mufflers that normally last twice as long as conventional types . . . new, safer, Truck-Size brakes that are the biggest ever in Ford's history . . . and new soft-tread, Tyrex cord tires that run quieter, last longer.

In every way these are the Finest Fords of your Lifetime! See them at your Ford Dealer's!

Several matters of great importance to the Membership of the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Association will be discussed at the group's regular October luncheon meeting next Thursday noon October 15, at the Memorial Center.

"We have matters which have been under consideration of special committees for the past month and these will receive definite action at this meeting," President Norman Kopperschmidt announced yesterday. The association, which is comprised of several hundred representatives of regularly established business and professional houses within Grosse Pointe proper and which is now in its eleventh year, has led the way in acquiring exceptional parking facilities in the various shopping centers in Grosse Pointe.

The president also pointed out that the work being done by the entertainment committee for social events may be ready for announcement at the meeting. He urges all members to attend. The luncheon and business of the meeting begins promptly at 12:30.

Grace Church Is 35 Years Old

Dr. Allen G. Wehrli, Professor of Old Testament at Eden Seminary, Webster Groves, Missouri, will be the guest speaker at Grace United Church of Christ, Evangelical and Reformed, Lakepointe at Kercheval, Grosse Pointe Park, when it celebrates its 35th anniversary of the founding on Sunday, October 11 at 10 a.m.

Born in Monell, Illinois, Dr. Wehrli is a graduate of Elmhurst College, Elmhurst, Ill., Reed College, Portland, Oregon, and Eden Seminary, Webster Groves, Mo. He has done graduate work at Washington University, St. Louis, the Universities of Halle-Wittenberg and Berlin in Germany, the Divinity School at the University of Chicago and at Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore, Md. He received his Doctor of Divinity Degree at Catawba College, Salisbury, North Carolina and has been a member of the National Board of Christian Education of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

He is one of the outstanding authorities on the Old Testament in the world today and has been a preacher and Bible lecturer at important occasions throughout the United States.

On the evening of October 17, 1924, sixteen men and women met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ortwein on the outskirts of Detroit, and decided to organize a new Evangelical and Reformed congregation. The Rev. Hans Hornoy, of St. John's E. & R. Church conducted the first Worship Service in a store at 2118 Eastlawn avenue. This venture was encouraged by the Missionary Board and Rev. Fredrick H. Eglinsdorfer was assigned as the first Pastor.

Two weeks later a Sunday School was organized with 10 children and 3 teachers. Early in 1925 the congregation, which had assumed the name of Grace Church, adopted a constitution and elected a church council.

Services were held in various places and finally a parcel of land was purchased at Lakepointe and Kercheval in Grosse Pointe Park where a frame chapel was erected, built in large part by the volunteer labor of the members. The building was dedicated on July 19, 1925.

Six of the original 16 charter members of Grace are still active in the Church. They are: Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Bartell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. May, Mrs. Emma Schulmeyer and Mrs. Netty Shoub.

In 1935 plans were drawn up by Robert O. May, architect, for the present structure which was built in 1936 and dedicated on October 11, 1936. The present educational unit, built on the site of the original chapel, was also drawn up by Robert O. May. This building was dedicated on November 11, 1956.

Rev. Robert P. Peck has completed his 10th year as Pastor of Grace Church having been called to the pulpit in January, 1949. He has been active in Grosse Pointe Community affairs and at present is president of the Grosse Pointe Ministerium. Rev. Peck has been a member of the Board at Deaconess Hospital and the E. & R. Home for children and aged on West Outer Drive. He is a member of the Board of Trustees at Heidelberg College and was recently elected to the Board of International Missions of the E. & R. Church, National level, and was also elected as a member of the Prudential Committee of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions of the United Church of Christ.

The Anniversary Committee which consists of Mrs. Esther Riske, chairman, Mrs. Vincent Bartell, Mrs. Arthur Zillgitt, Mrs. Robert O. May, Mrs. June Swetta, Mrs. Jean Steinhauer, Mrs. Ardeth Catalier and Kenneth Peterson, is inviting the public to join in this celebration and to take advantage of the opportunity to hear Dr. Wehrli. An invitation is also extended to join in a "Coffee Hour" following the service when all will be given the opportunity to meet Dr. Wehrli.

At 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, October 14, there will be an Anniversary Dinner at Grace.

The public is invited to this dinner and may make reservations with Mrs. Arthur Zillgitt, this dinner. Miss Muriel Heid will show colored slides of her missionary work in Africa following the dinner.

To help strike home the idea of fire safety, The Farms Fire Department distributed coloring books to the younger children, gave out literature on fire safety to older students, and showed fire prevention films in classrooms.

To aid the program, Chief Mason said, Punch and Judy Theater is showing fire safety films during the week.

In addition to this, the chief sent letters to all principals of Farms schools, appealing to them to drive home the importance of fire safety.

"FIRE PREVENTION WEEK is being observed October 4 through 10, and this is a good time to stress the importance of fire safety to the students. Last year, 41 Ohio children of the ages of 5 to 19 years, lost their lives in fires.

"The State Arson Bureau apprehended and convicted 41 youths for setting fires. Children playing with fire and matches were responsible for causing 788 fires resulting in $604,703 in property damage."

"This needless waste not only must be paid for by all of us, but the danger of death and injury to our children is ever present. The Fire Department cannot afford to overlook one avenue of help in its effort to keep children from playing with fire and we sincerely believe that you are in a position to do the most good of all."

HUBCAPS STOLEN Mrs. B. J. Lasher, of 480 Alter, Detroit, complained to Farms police that four hub caps had been stolen from her '59 Pontiac while it was parked in the parking lot at McMillan and Kercheval recently.

To be eligible for registration a person must be a U.S. citizen; 21 years of age or over; and have been a resident of the school district 30 days prior to the election and a resident of the State of Michigan six months.

Each voter is reminded that the polling place for the school election is the public elementary school serving his neighborhood. The polls will be open on election day, Monday, October 26, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

WHAT'S NEW FOR '60 ?

More room inside ...without raising the roof or stretching the car and wider doors you can step through rather than squirm through 1960 cars from Chrysler Corporation are no higher or longer outside, but you get more room inside.

Here are 1960 cars that are no longer than last year's, but they have more room inside.

The secret is UNIBODY—a new kind of construction

These cars are all one piece. We got rid of the old idea of a bulky body and frame bolted together.

There have been other cars with "unitized" construction, but these were a far cry from Unibody.

UNIBODY surrounds you with silent strength

The new cars from Chrysler Corporation are quiet. So quiet, it seems you're going ten miles an hour slower than you actually are.

When you open the door, the seat swivels out automatically.

We licked the problem of road shock and noise—before the first car was ever built.

How? Through new methods of electronic engineering—the same type of engineering that Chrysler Corporation uses as the only auto maker building complete ballistic missiles for the U. S. Army.

Complex electronic computers made calculations in a few weeks that would have taken an engineering staff years of full-time work to figure out.

And, one other thing: we've got a new way of mounting the engine. There's a rubber shelf that soaks up high-frequency noises.

range. This new kind of noise-reducing engine mount is a Chrysler Corporation exclusive.

Pure automobile —new from the inside out

These are the all-new ones for 1960! With more news in them than you've seen in years.

Wider doors make it easier to step in or out—gracefully.

- Imagine an automobile... that looks pure automobile... that could last twice as long as ever before... that so reduces air drag it's like buying gasoline a cent a gallon cheaper...

Pure automobile—built to be what you want a car to be. You'll know that the moment you see one. You'll know it even more the minute you take the wheel. They're coming soon. Watch for them.

UNIBODY Construction: frame flows into the body, makes it twice as strong, twice as quiet—surrounds you with silent strength.

Table Shows Competition Faced By Pointe Schools in Getting Teachers

TABLE A A COMPARISON OF ACCUMULATIVE EARNINGS IN NEIGHBORING SCHOOL SYSTEMS 1959-60 SCHEDULES - A. B. DEGREE

Table with 21 columns representing different school districts (GROSSE POINTE, DETROIT, DEARBORN, HIGHLAND PARK, RIVER ROUGE, FITZGERALD, RIVERVIEW, VAN DYKE, WARREN, WYANDOTTE, MELVINDALE) and 21 rows representing years of service (1 to 21). Each cell contains annual and accumulative salary figures.

* The year that Grosse Pointe "catches up" in total earnings. On the present schedule we can expect to catch up to either DEARBORN or HIGHLAND PARK.

This table demonstrates the difficult competitive position the Grosse Pointe Board of Education currently finds itself in. It gives a comparison of the earning power of a teacher, in an accumulative sense, here and in ten neighboring school systems and illustrates why it is becoming more and more difficult to employ and retain the services of the best teaching talent available.

18 Pointe TB Cases in 1958

Tuberculosis hit only 18 residents of the Grosse Pointe communities last year, 10 less than in 1957, according to figures released by the Tuberculosis and Health Society of Wayne County.

Grosse Pointe Woods topped the 1958 list with seven TB victims; Grosse Pointe Farms, three; Grosse Pointe, six new cases, one death; and Grosse Pointe Park, two.

The 1957 figures show Grosse Pointe and Grosse Pointe Park led the east side with 12 new cases in each city.

Harper Woods stayed at the same level with three cases each year.

In Detroit 2,309 people fell victim to the disease last year, an increase of 47 over 1957 figures. But only 197 died of TB last year, compared to 217 Detroiters the year before.

These new TB victims are part of some 14,000 who are under treatment or still are recovering under watchful eyes of the Detroit and Wayne County Health Departments.

Wayne County is the center of TB infection in Michigan. It accounted for 58.6 of all TB cases in the state. Last year, the figures show 3,277 people were found with tuberculosis in Wayne County, an increase of 284 over the previous year. Part of this 10 per cent rise can be traced to more case-finding efforts in the drive to stamp out TB here.

TB deaths in Wayne County dropped from 254 in 1957 to 237 last year, reflecting increased effectiveness of drugs in arresting the disease. There still is no "miracle drug," however, which actually will kill the tuberculosis germ without killing the patient. And researchers still are hunting for a protective vaccine. Tuberculosis still kills more people than all other contagious diseases combined.

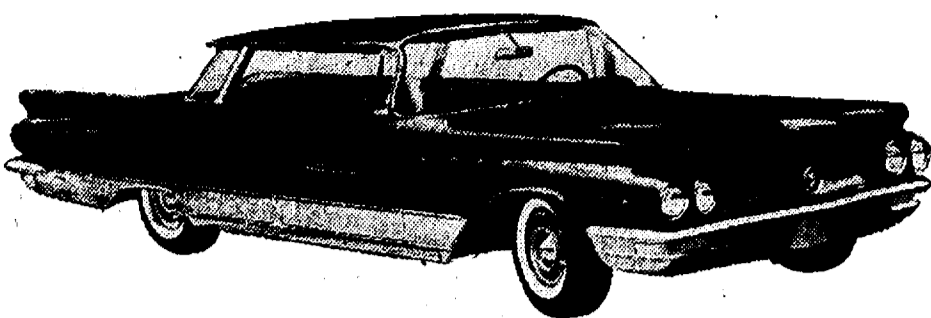

Unfortunately, people who have tuberculosis may be completely unaware of it in its early stages. The characteristic coughing, "night sweats," and loss of weight occur only after the disease has done serious damage. TB is relatively easy to cure when it is caught early enough, but only chest X-rays can reveal early lung damage.

A clean home, good diet, personal hygiene and an annual chest X-ray for adults is the best way to steer clear of the TB menace. For children under 18 years old, a tuberculin test is the best way to determine the presence of TB germs.

Anyone can get the disease—including Red Schoendienst, star infielder for the Milwaukee Braves, who is national chairman of the Christmas Seal sale this year. Schoendienst, struck down by tuberculosis in 1958, recovered in time to appear in several baseball games during the Brave's pennant stretch this year. His friend, Charlie Maxwell, of the Detroit Tigers, is Michigan chairman of the Christmas Seal drive.

The traditional and colorful Seals have supported a vigorous campaign against the disease for 53 years, providing aid to TB patients, medical research and educational programs. The TB and Health Society, a member of the National Tuberculosis Association, and the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium, are supported solely by the people who buy Christmas Seals.

Buick's Electra for 1960

Out today for public inspection is this beautiful streamlined model which the company refers to as "The Finest Buick of all." With a 126.3 inch wheelbase, it is roomy, supremely quiet and smooth-running. Standard equipment includes Turbo-Drive transmission, easy power steering and power brakes. Still more splendid is the Electra 225, this year's version of the Buick Roadmaster. See them both at Tom Taylor Buick, 13033 Gratiot avenue, and Turner Buick, 15103 Kercheval avenue.

Acting Course Being Offered

Have you always secretly cherished a yen to act? Have you done nothing about it because you lacked experience or were just plain afraid to go to a try-out? If so, a course in acting, which begins this Thursday, October 8, at 7:50 p.m. in the auditorium of the Community Service Building, 43 Grosse Pointe boulevard, may be the answer.

This course, which is designed to give the beginner a working knowledge of acting techniques, stage terminology and what goes on at a tryout, a rehearsal and a production, will meet for twelve two-hour sessions under the joint sponsorship of the Grosse Pointe Community Theater and the Department of Community Services, G. P. Public School System.

The first eight meetings will be devoted to instruction and practice in acting fundamentals, with the final four sessions given over to the preparation of a theater program to be presented free of charge to the family and friends of participating members.

A team of GPCT members with an impressive array of theatre credits and experience in teaching dramatics will act as guest lecturers in this series. Instructors include Richard Bauhof, starring in the GPCT's upcoming production of "Seven Year Itch"; Dean Erskine, director of "Seven Year Itch" and affiliated with WXYZ-TV; Mrs. Joan Hall, director of the next Junior League Children's Theatre production and a well-known personality on local radio and TV; Allen Hayes, who received his theatrical training with the Little Theatre Guild of St. Cloud (Minn.); Miss Rosemary Kleffman, Speech and Dramatics coach at Osborn High School; Miss Joan Lennon, a veteran of World Stage, Will-O-Way and Wayne State productions; William Mehegan, English instructor at GP High School with over 20 years' experience in amateur and stock theater; and Mrs. Phyllis Reeve, former Director of Dramatics at Liggett School.

Interested persons are invited to reserve a place in this course by calling the Department of Community Services at TU 5-3808 or by coming to the first meeting this Thursday evening. A nominal registration fee will be charged.

Traffic Signal Timing Changed

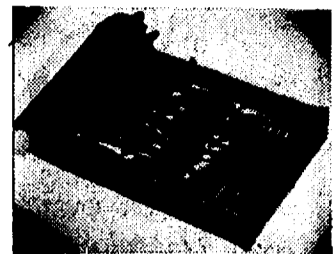

The Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners has allowed a minor change in the timing of the traffic signal at the corner of Mack avenue and Bournemouth road, the Woods Council announced at the meeting, Monday night, September 14.

The request for more time to be allotted to Bournemouth road was filed by Woods Director of Public Safety Vern Bailey. Residents have complained that the briefness of the light caused traffic to back up into the shopping center parking lot on Bournemouth.

Since Mack avenue does not need all the time allotted to it by the present timing, the Commissioners have agreed to give Bournemouth road a bit more time to move traffic.

GM PRODUCTION REPORT
General Motors produced 172,908 passenger cars and trucks in the United States and Canada during September, as compared with 92,179 during

Northeastern Women To Meet October 12
Northeastern Women's Club will open its fall season in the parlors of St. Philip and St. Stephen's Church on October 12 at 12:30 o'clock.
The program will be "The World is Learning Compassion" by Frank C. Laubach, a book reviewed by Mrs. A. B. Bates. A luncheon and card party will be given by the club on October 19 in the church at 12:30 o'clock. Mrs. William Robertson is in charge.

Introducing Pointe's Newest Teachers
Public School System as teachers of first grade groups. They are a portion of the 71 teacher replacements and additions to the local staff this fall.

PRINCIPAL HERBERT HOBART of Maire Elementary School briefs new teachers, MARGARET K. PARKER and NANCY E. WALSER. Both have joined the Grosse Pointe

Mrs. Margaret Koehler Parker was born in Detroit and has gone through the Grosse Pointe Public School System from kindergarten to high school. She attended the University of Michigan for four years and graduated with a bachelor's degree in education.

Mrs. Parker has taught in California and Plymouth, Michigan, but this is her first year at Maire with the Grosse Pointe Public School System where she is teaching first grade.

Nancy E. Walser was born in Detroit, Michigan, and always has lived in the surrounding area. She graduated from the University of Michigan with a bachelor's degree and did a year of post-graduate study at Wayne State University.

She also has a first grade class at Maire this year. Her main interests are traveling, bridge and people, young and old.

Seymours to Open Home To Trinity College Grads
The Trinity College Alumnae Association will hold its regional meeting at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel on Saturday.

Mrs. Theodore Meeke, of Lincoln road, is in charge of the luncheon at Dearborn Inn and will introduce the guest speaker, the Rev. Francis X. Canfield, English professor and book reviewer for "The Michigan Catholic."
Isabel Seymour, chairman of the regional meeting, her parents, the B. A. Seymours, of Edgemont park, and her sister, Mrs. John R. Lilly will be hosts to the alumnae and their husbands at cocktails that evening.

One Pointer Taken Off Road
During the week of August 30, the latest report submitted by James M. Hare, Secretary of State disclosed, 215 Michigan drivers had their operator's licenses suspended, and 67 had theirs revoked.
According to the Secretary, suspensions are temporary withdrawals of the driving privilege up to a maximum of one year. A license which has been revoked is terminated and is not, as usual with suspensions, automatically re-instated after the period of suspension has ended.
The license of one motorist from the Pointe has been revoked. The motorist is Phillip Rashid of 1228 Three Mile drive.
The revocation was because of an unsatisfactory driving record and for failure to appear for re-examination.
Driving privileges of Joseph Keys of 1011 Harvard road, was restored after his license was suspended for 30 days, from August 20 to September 19, for an unsatisfactory driving record.

FINANCIAL REPORT
For fiscal year ending
June 30, 1959

The following report for the 1958-59 fiscal year is a condensed summary (in cash receipts and disbursements form) of the financial transactions authorized by your Board of Education in support of the total educational program of The Grosse Pointe Public School System.
The Board of Education wishes to supplement the financial data with a few brief comments:
In accordance with State Law, all funds received and disbursed by The Grosse Pointe Public School System are maintained under three major classifications, or Funds, which broadly indicate the function. These are:

Pitts Family Memorabilia Being Displayed at Institute

The legend of the Pitts family, whose memorabilia will be on display at the Detroit Institute of Arts from October 6 through November 8, begins somewhere in the late 17th century when the Pitts were still in England.

"Eight Generations of the Pitts Family" is an unusual exhibit showing not only fine portraits but household furnishings and clothing. The exhibit was arranged through the cooperation of Mrs. Lendall Pitts, of Norfolk, Va., herself an artist.

Although there are no Pitts at present living in Grosse Pointe the family was one of those important early summer cottagers who built along our Lakeshore

In the late Victorian period.

The late Mrs. Arthur Maxwell Parker, of Oldbrook Lane, was the daughter of the Thomas Pitts who settled here in "Bellehurst," on land just south of St. Paul's Church. The house was built in 1873 and subsequently owned by the H. A. Newlands after Mrs. Pitts died and Mr. Pitts refused to live in the house.

Thomas Pitts was the son of Samuel Mountfort Pitts (whose portrait is in the exhibit painted in 1830 by Cole of Portsmouth), who came to Detroit after he was graduated from Harvard. It is reported that he walked all the way armed with a letter from General Dearborn of Portland, Me., his hometown, to General Larned. He became apprenticed to Larned and later took over his law practice. He dropped the law when he made a fortune in the lumbering business.

Samuel Pitts, founder of the Detroit branch, married Sarah Merrill and they had five daughters, and one son, the aforementioned Thomas Pitts, father of Mrs. Parker.

One of the daughters, Frances, married Henry Duffield in 1863 before he won fame on the battlefields of Tennessee under General Thomas in the Civil War. It is through the Duffield branch that Mrs. Alger Sheldon, of Provincial road, traces her Pitts lineage.

As the Institute points out, few American families are portrait minded, certainly not for eight generations. In this collection is a portrait by Copley of Jonathan Mountfort and a Gari Melchers study of Thomas Pitts.

Among the Pitts memorabilia is a black japan secretary on which Lafayette is supposed to have written dispatches during the Revolution, and a silk dress and boy's embroidered waistcoat of the post-Revolution period. The Pitts family was active in colonial Massachusetts, the Revolution and the movement westward which brought its members to Detroit to participate in its growth. Many of the Pitts family antiques and portraits were in the home of the late Mrs. Parker, now owned by the Alvin G. Shermans, Jr.

PRESENTING FOR 1960... BUICK'S ALL-TIME BEST

TURBINE DRIVE BUICK '60

A car with major advances in transmission, suspension, brakes, and engines which are Buick's alone today
 A solid, substantial car • A car of superb comfort, quiet, reliability • A car you should drive soon

New comfort, quietness, and quality

Doors that open wider—easier to get in and out. Family-size interior. Seats that are higher, more deeply cushioned, and repositioned to provide more room for feet and legs. Perhaps the quietest running car in America due to Buick's high use of insulation and torque-tube drive. Buick's quality control program comes to a peak in the Turbine Drive Buick '60.

New interior decor and convenience

An entirely new "Mirromagic" instrument panel. It lets the driver see speed, gas gauge, and other necessary readings at a glance in a mirror he tilts to suit his own eye level. And a new exclusive safety option—the Twilight Sentinel—that turns headlights on automatically at sunset... off automatically at sunrise. All-new colors and fabrics. Richer appointments. *At slight extra cost.

Outstanding performance with economy

1. Buick's Exclusive Turbine Drive Transmission is jet-smooth, responds faster, more economically than ever. No gears ever shift while the car is in motion.
 2. Buick's Exclusive Air-Flo Aluminum Drum Brakes—found on no other American car. Fin-cooled drums front and rear for faster cooling. Fast cooling means safer stopping, longer brake life.

Slotted wheels pass a current of air from under the car constantly over the brakes for added cooling efficiency. (Wheels are 15" size which gives you up to 1/3 more tire life.)
 3. Buick's exclusive Wildcat Engines give high efficiency with high economy. (An optional new LeSabre Engine is designed to give Buick performance on regular grade fuel.)
*Optional at extra cost on LeSabre, standard on Invicta and Electra.

Time to Get Tough

The marrow-chilling chase on which two infatuated teenagers led the police through three Pointes last Saturday afternoon, indicates the great need for drastic action in curbing certain proclivities evidenced among a small segment of our young people.

The lurid details of the chase are told in the story on page one. It is a miracle that no one was killed. Innocent motorists scurried up on sidewalks and lawns to get out of the way of the careening cars plummeting down on them at speeds of over 90 miles per hour.

This is the latest and most dramatic in too long a series of incidents which reflect the wanton recklessness and defiance of law which has been demonstrated by some of the teenagers. Some of the adults who attended the football game between Grosse Pointe High and Port Huron two weeks ago, reported their blood ran cold when they saw how some of the youngsters drove on their way back from the game. Cars loaded with eight to 10 kids, groups of them sitting upon folded convertible tops, roared past them at 80 and 90 miles per hour, courting disaster every inch of the way.

It is a pretty terrifying experience to watch too many of the High School car owners pour out of classes at noon hour and after the closing session. Hoards of them cram into the cars, whip out of their parking spaces with screeching tires and cut in and out of moving traffic. It is a disgraceful display, immature exhibitionism that should be discouraged by every means available.

It would not be fair to damn the entire age group for the asinine antics of a few. Most of our youngsters are fine citizens who accept their responsibilities and appreciate their privileges and respect the rights of others. They can be most helpful in curbing these outrageous outbreaks among the few by evincing in no uncertain terms their disapproval of such conduct, and taking such steps as they can to mete out punishment through their student government.

Even more important is the need for complete cooperation of the parents and the police. Really tough policies are called for in cases such as these. The police have told us many times that they are often berated by parents for having the audacity to arrest their hoodlum offspring when they are caught breaking the law. Young sprouts subjected to such stupid parental protection are usually those who continue to flout the law and progress to increasingly serious crimes. The police and the courts should be just as tough as they possibly can in teaching lessons to the young delinquents. Parents should be extremely stiff in handing out punishment where it is deserved.

It has been suggested that the schools should prohibit students from driving cars to classes. Not only would this be unfair to the large majority who obey the laws and show consideration for others, but such an edict is beyond the jurisdiction of the school authorities. As long as a student has a driver's license and the parents' permission to drive, the schools can do nothing except prohibit the use of the school parking lots. This would accomplish nothing except putting the student cars back on the streets where they congest traffic and hinder business.

The chief solution would seem to lie with the parents. Too many of them appear to be sorely afflicted with a spinelessness which causes them to give in to every whim expressed by their children. They become too easy victims of the psychology of the youngsters use on them. "Johnny's father gave him a car. Can't you do as much for me?"

There are a few cases, probably very few, where students actually have a need for a car in getting to and from school. Walking is still fine exercise, and while bicycles are decidedly unfashionable at this particular age, they still provide excellent and easy transportation. When many of these students progress to college, they will find that in many instances the colleges frown on the ownership of cars and bicycles suddenly become very stylish and useful again.

Access to the family car should be a very special privilege reserved for very special occasions in this age bracket. It should be accompanied by a mature understanding of the risks and obligations involved. The minute a youngster shows a disregard for the law or endangers the rights of others, the privilege should be withdrawn until the lesson has been well learned.

Court costs of $7.50 were levied against Lawrence W. Linberg of 11429 Metter, Centerline, after he was found guilty of speeding on Vernier road.

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"When I get time . . . I know what I shall do: I'll cut the leaves of all my books And read them through and through. When I get time . . . I'll pay those calls I owe, And with those bills, those countless bills, I will not be so slow. When I get time . . . Oh glorious dream of bliss! A month, a year, ten years from now . . . But I can't finish this . . . I've no more time."

(Thomas L. Masson)

Gentleman Farmer

A couple of our acquaintance (lucky people!) decided to move to California and settle down . . . to a quiet life of raising chickens and cattle. They had to watch their pennies carefully, so after much driving around (with a friend) they finally located a spot in the valley that was not too expensive to rent. After moving in, they bought 150 chickens from a neighbor farmer and started living it up.

The chicken coops were already there . . . so that was no problem. However, the "do-it-yourself" male, who had not read "The Egg and I" . . . just asked for some information from the previous chicken owner and took it from there. He walked to the village store (no car) and asked for some chicken feed. When the storekeeper asked what MIX he intended to use . . . our hero said simply . . . "Oh, any kind of feed chickens eat." He was told to make his choice from a variety of things on a shelf . . . so he picked out a box that read "Chicken Feed" . . . as easy as that.

When he approached the chickens, tossing the feed about the way it's done in movies, all the chickens scattered to the winds and ran like aich . . . so he just dumped it on the ground and left. Next he came to the easy water bit. He filled all the troughs with water, after lugging it from the well that was YARDS away . . . only to find that the chickens perched on the edges of the troughs and spilled the water as fast as he could supply it. He finally solved this by putting pegs around each trough so they couldn't be turned over. Eventually, the chickens pulled all the pegs out but weren't doing much in the way of cleaning up the chicken feed.

The final blow came when a sudden frost hit the valley. Dear neighbor warned our hero about lighting his stoves or the chickens would die. The trouble was that the last tenant had taken his stoves with him . . . so there was nothing to do but bring the chickens in the house. After about two hours of just what you can imagine, they finally got the chickens herded into the kitchen! The following day, Madame had to manipulate as best she could with the fowl clattering up the kitchen, while her husband walked to the village to buy some stoves . . . and hitch hike his way back with them. The warmers proved to be a little expensive for his blood, so he could purchase only five for a coop that could use about 50. Back he came and went to work to try to organize the mammoth coop with only five warmers. He decided to "congeal" the chickens in one section and put blankets up to shut off the cold part of the building. His wife shooed the feathered friends into the now warm part of the shelter, while hubby tacked blankets up that had been taken off the beds in the house! Several of the chicks escaped through an aperture in one of the blankets and had to be retrieved . . . so it was roughly three a.m. before they got to bed.

The next day, the couple sold the fowl back to their neighbor for half of what they paid for them. Then they moved into the City and rented an apartment . . . sans live stock and have been enjoying life ever since!

Not So Shaggy Dog Dept.

A local family whose dog is in the habit of occasionally hiding the mail . . . caused his owners to get into a tizzy one day last week. It seems the mail man ties the mail in a bundle and leaves it on the front stoop . . . on account there ain't no box in which to leave it. Fido has grabbed it several times and either moved it or buried it "neath some bushes in the yard."

One evening recently, our heroine who is doing a man-sized job on an upcoming civic project, telephoned a few people to ask if they had finished THEIR reports, made out their lists, etc. etc. All said they had indeed just put them in the mail that very afternoon. So with great anticipation she waited for the next morning's mail delivery. Come twelve noon . . . and still no mail, so she telephoned her next door neighbor to ask if HER mail had come. Yes indeed it had . . . so our gal took a long look at Fido (who said nothing) . . . then went on a search through the bushes. After an hour of digging and whatall, she called her husband to ask if by any chance he had taken all of it to the office with him. No, he had not.

Back to the digging again, under trees, through the flower beds . . . spading away looking for the valuable papers, to say nothing of the expected amount of checks sent in by people who were supporting the project. The poor frantic gal tore the yard apart for an entire afternoon, as well as walking up and down the street to glance in other yards.

Finally a brainstorm hit her. She called the post office and told them her morning mail was missing. The man in charge there said: "Yes, I know, I'm sorry. We had a new man on this morning and he missed your house, but it will be there tomorrow." Fido got an extra bone-us!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir: I would greatly appreciate it if you would include this correspondence in your "Letter To The Editor" column.

I was most interested in reading last week's letter regarding the traffic problem in the Farms and the apparent lack of law enforcement in dealing with the speedsters who use 25 m.p.h. residential streets as their own private drag strips. Those of us who live on Chalfonte between Moross and Cook Road are particularly aware of this and are doubly disturbed by it. I personally have made repeated calls to the Police Department, both in person and by the phone. I have talked to Chief Furton, as have many others, and no solution has been offered. As was mentioned in last week's letter, the use of radar seems to be beneath the dignity of certain officials, although I was told early this year that when the warmer weather started, radar would be used. We have also been told there is not an adequate number of cars to patrol. If the cars that are available would patrol known speed areas, I am more than certain that in a short time enough revenue would be collected to purchase another car. Why must those who continuously break the speed laws, teenagers and adults alike, be handled with kid gloves? Must we wait until more than automobiles are demolished or must it be one of our children? We don't ask for any miracles, nor do we ask that a permanent car be installed on the street but as I have reported, very seldom do the cars patrol between Barclay and Cook road, for Grosse Pointe Woods begins in the middle of the block. It is virtually a "no man's land" unclaimed either by the Farms or

by Jean Taylor

Newspaper Week is almost over, but there is still time for a salute to the press in general with a special bouquet to Mr. Edgar and his staff of the Grosse Pointe News. The library is appreciative of their excellent cooperation.

Books concerned with press doings always catch our fancy, and to other readers addicted to the smell of printer's ink we recommend a recent publication "Kent Cooper and the Associated Press: An Autobiography."

This is the story of the Associated Press, but it is also the story of Kent Cooper, its general manager for twenty-six years. The two are synonymous. The Associated Press was Kent Cooper's life, as he reiterates many times in this American success story.

In his opening chapter Mr. Cooper tells of a charming young bride, seated next to him at dinner, who asked "And what do you do?" "Did you ever hear of the Associated Press?" queried Cooper. Whereupon his companion exclaimed "Oh yes, certainly. My husband takes it. He takes all the newspapers."

We may not be as naive as this young lady, but certainly when we finished this autobiography we had a much better understanding of this remarkable organization than we had had before.

The Associated Press came into being in 1893 as the first National Press Association. This meant that the same news of national and international importance could be read the same day in every state in the Union. Mr. Cooper believes this simultaneous country-wide reading of the same news to have been one of the most potential factors in developing a national spirit in America, and establishing a truly united nation, and that this fact has never received adequate recognition in American history.

While references to the beginnings of this national development reach back into the nineties, this is the story of how one of its employees, Kent Cooper, in the second quarter of the twentieth century, radically changed the work of the great news agency by enlarging its scope tremendously as well as injecting new life into what he once regarded as a moribund institution.

In the late twenties and early thirties, after he took over as general manager, Mr. Cooper changed many former policies. Reporters were encouraged to discover human interest stories, formerly frowned upon, bylines were given for the first time, and interviews were introduced. Mr. Cooper set to work to make the Associated Press not only the world's greatest news distributor, reaching every corner of the globe, as well as every part of the United States, but to establish at this time a news photo service with wide distribution of pictures by wire. This gave simultaneous transmission of pictures and news into the offices of Associated Press newspapers from coast to coast.

It was not until Kent Cooper was at the helm that the Associated Press permitted sports news to be written in vernacular terms. Up to this time nicknames or slang were verboten. The terms "Cubs" and "Yankees" for example, were not supposed to appear in baseball news. They must be called the Chicago National League Baseball Club and the New York American League Baseball Club.

Mr. Cooper's many experiences with the tycoons of the press, the theatrical and musical greats, and famous men in the political arena, make interesting and absorbing reading. We were slightly irked by the inclusion of too many eulogies of Kent Cooper. The author is not shy about proclaiming his own accomplishments. He is prodigal, however, in his praise of other Associated Press employes as well, particularly those who won merit in World War II. Mr. Cooper regards this organization much as a fond parent who feels his child can do no wrong. The fact remains that he is a remarkable man with an achievement of which he is justifiably proud.

According to statistics the Associated Press is read today in this country alone by over one hundred and fifty million people, and Kent Cooper is the man who triggered its success. His reminiscences are worth reading.

How to add years to your life

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.

100 years ago the average American could expect to live about 40 years. Today—about 70. Modern sanitation, diet, drugs and medical practice have added 30 years to our life span. And note that 70 is average. Many die sooner. Many live longer. You up your chances of being "longer" if you get property and get proper medical care. This means periodic checkups by your physician. As pharmacists we are pleased to help by supplying the drugs your doctor prescribes—drugs unknown a century ago. We're so conscious of the effectiveness of modern medicine that we're shooting for a life span of 100 years.

This is the 673rd of a series of feature advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

Grosse Pointe News

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

For the seventh year the Grosse Pointe Garden Center is giving you an opportunity to view some of our most magnificent houses. This is the Center's only fund raising effort of the year and from the proceeds it maintains a paid horticulturist, plans the Trial Gardens at the War Memorial, and keeps the Center's 1,000 members informed.

The House Tour has been announced for October 24 and 25 from 1 to 5 o'clock with the houses planned to be visited in less than two hours. Mrs. Valentine Guenther and Mrs. John A. Dodds are in charge of the tour.

Among the seven homes to be opened are the Lowrey Kammers' in Lothrop road, featuring a decor in blue and a lovely pool and gardens; the truly handsome house of the Wendell W. Andersons, of Vendome road, with its priceless old English furniture, and the Hale V. Sattleys' new Tonnancour place house, done in soft pastels with a luscious turquoise carpet, and hand painted wallpaper from Hongkong.

Norman French design is the attraction of the Frederick L. Colbys' Merriweather road home illustrating "country living in the city"; the Charles J. Koebels' Swedish modern in Cloverly road is one of the finest of its type; French antiques are the interest at the George N. Carletons' Tonnancour place home, and the William C. Beckenhauers' gem of a small home in Lochmoor boulevard is a triumph of Wedgwood blue and white.

Mrs. Meredith S. Randall is president of the Garden Center, which has arranged the tour and Mrs. Thomas P. Henry is in charge of hostesses.

Mrs. Longyear Palmer is doing the flower arrangements and Mrs. Ben Beyer, the properties. Others on the committee are Mrs. Carroll Boutell, Miss Marie Louise Anderson, Miss Christine Edwards, Mrs. J. Crawford Frost, Mrs. J. Arthur Mullen, Mrs. Joseph Belfore, Mrs. Merlin A. Cudlip and Mrs. Hansel Dwight Wilson.

Braille Classes Start Oct. 15

The American Red Cross Braille Transcription classes are being offered at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial for the fifth straight season. This wonderful effort to train dedicated volunteers to transcribe reading materials for the blind is a joint effort of the American Red Cross and the War Memorial Association. Classes will begin Thursday morning, October 15, at 10 a.m.

This is a course for sighted people willing to spend several hours a week on home work in addition to the weekly class at the Center. The course is 25 weeks long meeting each Thursday through the fall, winter, and spring except holiday time.

People who successfully complete a manuscript are issued certificates from the Library of Congress entitling them to officially transcribe for the blind. Many are the texts and articles the Red Cross, schools, and other institutions have awaiting transcription into Braille so that the blind may use them.

Anyone with the time who sincerely wants to help the handicapped could hardly find a better way to be of service.

The course is taught by Miss Ella McLennan who is herself blind. She is assisted by Miss Carrie McMillan of the American Red Cross.

Miss McLennan likes to have a full class of 25 students but cannot handle any more. All those who are interested in enrolling are urged to call the Center, TU 1-7511, very soon to enroll. There is no charge for the course except for the expense of materials (texts, slates, styus and paper) which comes to about $6.

Nancy Breese Wed To Roger Dujardin

Couple Exchanged Vows on September 26 in St. Germaine Church; Take Wedding Trip To Florida and Bahamas

Nancy Joyce Breese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville D. Breese of Commor road, Detroit, became the bride of Roger R. Dujardin, on September 26, at St. Germaine Church.

Mr. Dujardin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Armand R. Dujardin of Washington road.

For her marriage, the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over silk satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice, pointed sleeves and a portrait neckline of pleated tulle with pearls and iridescent sequins. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a cascade of white rosebuds, stephanotis and ivy; Jeannette Dujardin, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Smith and Delores Breese, sisters of the bride, and Janet Fouché. They wore ballerina length gowns with jewel rose peau de soie with matching headpieces. Their flowers were white and rose carnations. Judy Breese, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl in a dress of white nylon over rose peau de soie. Gary Breese was ring bearer.

Mr. Dujardin asked Donald

Following the reception, the couple left for a honeymoon in Florida and the Bahamas. They will make their home in Detroit.

Pupil Confused By Deep South

One evening, not long after school had been in session, young Craig Wanke, of Devenshire road, informed his mother, Mrs. Hugh Wanke, that his third grade teacher at Defer School spoke with a foreign accent.

Just what kind of foreign accent, he wasn't sure, but she came from some place that started with a "G". He surmised, with complete innocence, that the "G" stood for either Germany, Georgia or -- Japan.

His mother, amused and yet puzzled, did some investigating. It turns out that Mrs. Mary Jo Dillaman, new to the Pointe schools this year, comes here from Georgia, by way of West Virginia. Mrs. Dillaman, along with two other teachers new to Defer School, were pictured and written up in last week's News.

Further investigation disclosed that spelling tests give her pupils the most trouble. Her soft, deceptive accent, fashioned in the deep South province nicknamed the peach state, does strange things to quiz words. In many cases, the word spelled is a far cry from the one intended.

However, the latest word is that both teacher and charges are reaching a better understanding as the days go by.

There's something about broken toes that seems to be fashionable, lately. Even Pat Boone had one. But right here in little 'ole Grosse Pointe, the very exclusive broken toe club is growing.

The latest victim, or should it be honoree, is Mrs. Leo (Louise) Cowling of Lakepointe avenue. She has the distinction of being the most "Johnny on the Spot" with her injury. Instead of running into a door or the bottom of a swimming pool, Mrs. C. chose the X-ray room of Cottage Hospital as her Waterloo. X marks the spot, you might say.

What happened was, she simply dropped an X-ray plate on her right foot, the big toe taking the brunt of the blow.

She had but one request when they turned the X-ray machine on her. That they not use the fatal plate.

Some unknown person has the sweetest little Dachshund that was ever left in a car in the Hill's parking lot.

This not so young pup was seen perched, contentedly, atop the back of the front seat, of a blue Plymouth, where all passing could see. Not like so many canines that yip and howl when some stranger approaches the car, this one cast an appraising and calm eye at all visitors, and uttered nary a sound.

AAUW To Hear Song Program

Songs from current musicals sung by Mrs. Raymond A. Denny are to honor the members of American Association of University Women at their membership meeting on Thursday, October 15, at 7:30 p.m. at the War Memorial.

Mrs. Denny, who will be accompanied by Mrs. John H. Marshall, is one of Grosse Pointe's best known celebrities. Beginner her career as Peggy Pulliam, by the age of 16 Mrs. Denny was studying voice with Giacomo Spadoni of the Metropolitan Opera and subsequently gave concerts all over the country.

For three years she appeared with James Melton in the Ford TV series over NBC. In such shows as "Brigadoon," "Guys and Dolls," and "Carousel," Mrs. Denny sang in New York and toured in road shows. Locally, Mrs. Denny has done shows for WJR, performed at the Detroit Athletic Club's "Little Show," and worked with the Tuxis Club show in Grosse Pointe.

Hostesses for this reception will be Mrs. Carl Mitseff, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Donald Pokorny, Mrs. James Kennary, and Mrs. G. Kenan Jacobi. All 13 Study Groups plan to set up displays so that old members may refresh their information on AAUW while new and prospective members learn.

On Tuesday, October 13, at 7:45 p.m., Mrs. Urban Boreseh, 468 Manor, will be hostess to the Drama Group whose members will plan the program for the year.

High School Invites Parents to Classes

On October 20 Parents Will Be Able to Follow Student's Schedule In Evening Meeting; Mothers Club Begins Membership Drive October 19

"Back to School" for parents is the plan scheduled by the Grosse Pointe High School for Tuesday, October 20 when the older generation will follow in their offspring's educational footsteps.

Geared to the interest evidenced by parents in last year's group meetings with the counselors, this evening program will afford each parent the chance to follow his student's class schedule for one day.

Class periods of 15 minutes each are planned and, in deference to age, six minutes instead of the usual five will be allowed for travel between classes. The program will take the place of the school's usual "Open House."

Flyers, attractively decorated by students of Miss Lampman's art department, are being prepared to include individual student schedules as well as maps of the school and annex entrances to enable parents to plot their shortcuts and make the best use of the six minute travel period.

The usual system of bells, augmented by the P.A. system, will urge those attending not to loiter or visit in the halls; "detention" will in all likelihood be suspended, however.

Church Women Plan Luncheon

The Rev. Dr. Mary Ely Lyman will arrive from New York on Tuesday, October 13, to be guest of honor and to address the first Fall luncheon meeting of the Women's Association of Grosse Pointe Memorial church.

So that all members of the parish may hear Dr. Lyman's message, "The Bible As a Resource for Today," she will speak in the church sanctuary at 1:30 p.m. following luncheon at 12:30.

Mrs. Wendell C. Goddard, a personal friend of Dr. Lyman, is chairman of the day, and will introduce the speaker, Mrs. Clarence Maguire is in charge of the worship service, and a series of songs will be sung by Leona R. Blank, accompanied by Ruth Buczyk.

The Rev. Dr. Mary Lyman, formerly Dean of Sweet Briar College, joined the Union Theological Seminary faculty on July 1, 1950, as Morris K. Jesup, professor of English Bible. She also served as Dean of Women Students at the Seminary. Mrs. Lyman was the first woman to occupy a chair on the faculty of Union Seminary and one of the first to hold a full professorship in any American theological school.

Dr. Lyman graduated from Mt. Holyoke and received a Bachelor of Divinity degree magna cum laude in 1919. As the ranking student in her class at the Seminary, she was awarded the Philadelphia Travelling Fellowship and spent the year after graduation in post-graduate study at Cambridge University. In 1924 she was awarded a Ph.D. degree at the University of Chicago.

Dr. Lyman began her teaching career at Vassar College where, as Miss Mary Ely, she was a member of the faculty from 1920 to 1926. During her last four years at Vassar, Dr. Lyman was Frederick Weyerhauser, professor of Biblical Literature.

In 1926 she married Dr. Eugene W. Lyman, professor of the Philosophy of Religion at Union Theological Seminary. From 1928 to 1940, she was lecturer in English Bible at Union Seminary and associate in religion at Barnard College. For 10 years prior to 1950, she was Dean and Professor of Religion at Sweet Briar College. In 1934 she was visiting lecturer at the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem.

These are only a few of the many distinguished assignments Dr. Mary Lyman has held. Her background in Bible teaching and research is most outstanding, consequently the Women's Association promises a most stimulating afternoon.

All Association members and women of the parish who wish to attend the luncheon please make reservations by Monday noon, October 12, by calling the church office, TU 5-3773.

The program will be a talk on Conservation by Mrs. Dorothy Weyburn. Hostesses for the day will be Miss Ethel Davison and Mrs. Matthew Kaskela.

Noble Painter

Children's portraits are as delightful to view as they are difficult to do, so when the Marquis Luis Alberto Sangroniz is in town parents line up to request he capture their offspring in oil.

Marquis Sangroniz is here now painting the children of the Burns Henrys and the Joseph Mengdens. He and the Marquessa are staying with Mrs. Robert Sucek, of Fisher road.

The Marquis' title is a Spanish one; he was born a Basque and travels on a diplomatic passport as a Chilean citizen. The pair headquarter in Miami when they are in this country.

On a previous trip to Detroit he painted the winsome daughter of the Hudson Meads, Priscilla, Mrs. A. A. Widmann, Mrs. Sucek and Jane Walton, daughter of the Peter Waltons.

Leaving next week on an extensive South American tour are the John W. Mulford, of Provincial road. They will be sailing from New Orleans and Mr. Mulford will be equipped with lots of film to take the pictures which made their last trip to the Orient so memorable for their friends.

Pre-School Art Course Offered

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Recreation Room will again this fall have a most unique class in art for pre-school children, ages 3-5, and their mothers. The first meeting will be Wednesday morning, October 14, from 10 to 11:30. The course will continue each Wednesday morning for eight weeks. Co-sponsored with the Extension Services of the Detroit Institute of Art the class will be taught by Mrs. Chris Komp.

Enrollment in this course is limited to 12 children and 12 mothers. There is a material fee of $10 per person.

At each class, reproductions of choice museum items appealing to small children will be introduced. Around these art objects Mrs. Komp weaves fascinating stories and then, sometimes to music, both children and their mothers begin to create in an art form what they have seen and heard.

Products of these classes are currently on display in the lower floor of the Detroit Institute of Art. It is marvelous to see what can be done with a very young talent with a little expert guidance.

The children, besides learning to express themselves artistically, are drawn into an appreciation of color and form that will serve them all their lives. Mothers in the course are taught fresh concepts and are shown how to work with and encourage the child's talent.

Now is the time to enroll by calling the Center, TU 1-7511. Everyone is warned to come in old casual clothes or smocks.

During the anniversary year the Detroit Symphony, Carl Sandberg and the Stratford Players will all come to the campus.

Were you one of the 8,117 who voted?

We asked—and thousands of you told us!

The question recently posed you in the Detroit Times Sunday TV Section was: "Who is your favorite for the lead in 'Cheyenne'—Clint Walker or Ty Hardin?"

An overwhelming response of postcard replies poured in.

We were awed...and delighted. The votes clearly indicated Clint Walker is your man.

Of course we passed along the word to the ABC television network. And we'd like to think it perhaps played a part in the impending return of Clint Walker to his original role in this popular show.

Have you any other polls you want us to take...any verbal skirmishes we can engage in? Let us know!

DAC Revives Gala For Young Marrieds

Last Week's Party Attended by 300; Dance Contest And Amateur Hour Followed Dinner and Dancing; Another Party Planned in Near Future

Everyone who attended Detroit Athletic Club's Young Marrieds Party last week wants a repeat—they had such a good time. And the committee is so pleased that they're talking of staging another in six or eight weeks.

There weren't any age limits laid down for this revival of parties popular at the DAC before World War II blanked them. So some 300 young marrieds and slightly older marrieds who like a smart dance tempo joined at 9 o'clock in the club's main dining room.

The Carl E. Smiths, regulars at that earlier series, came in from the Pointe to celebrate Mrs. Smith's birthday anniversary. "This takes me back 20 years!" the birthday girl commented happily as the Emery Deutsch orchestra-music lured them to the dance floor for the 'seventh time.

In the fun program were a brief exhibition by Arthur Murray dancers; an informal dance contest for party-goers (won by Birminghamites Mrs. William W. Wilson and Henry A. McDonald Jr., but with heavy applause to James Wallace, who, with Mrs. Wallace, was a guest of Grosse Pointers Mr. and Mrs. John Rickel.)

Most fun was an amateur hour with cheers for the talented DAC'ers Mrs. Frank L. Thompson Jr. (she sang "Whoopee") Lee Keating (piano solos) and Mrs. R. D. Bowers who played, and sang. Professional entertainment was by singer Belinda Blanchard.

Committee members David C. Gillis, Clyde Craine Jr. and Thomas Bolton wound things up with a buffet supper at midnight.

The Albert B. Perlins and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Souris were with the Walter O. Kochs; Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Thoma's guests were Dr. and Mrs. Harold McCaughrin and the Harry Tennysons; the Walter A. Crows were there; in foursomes were the Herbert J. Wilsons and Edward Van Horns, and the

of the NEWS. It concerns the relative earning power of a teacher here and in ten neighboring communities. The table demonstrates that on an accumulative basis the earnings of a Grosse Pointe teacher lag well behind what he could have earned were he employed in one of the other districts for the same length of time.

School officials report that recruiters experienced greatly increased difficulty in attracting the interest of leading candidates for local vacancies. Some were not interested enough to even make out an application for employment. In addition the number of present staff members leaving to take positions elsewhere has shown a sharp rise in recent years.

INTO THE WILD WHITE YONDER—Strategic Air Command B-47s make an inspiring sky-scapes as they leave vapor trails over the clouds. They're on a practice combat mission.

BOARDING UP—Folks in Savannah Beach, Ga., go through routine of boarding up for another big one, hurricane Gracie.

HOPES FOR EARLY WYNN—Working out alone, pitcher Early Wynn of the American League champion Chicago White Sox circles the field in Comiskey park. He will start the first game of the 1959 World Series.

YOU'RE A-PLUS, PROFESSOR—Prof. Joe Sutton of the University of Illinois College of Journalism and Communications looks every inch competent as he conducts a class and babyholds 4-month-old Jake Sharp at the same time. He got in the fix like this: Jake's mother Nancy, father David and uncle Philip are students, and their schedules are arranged so one can watch Jake at all times. But they missed connections somehow, so Jake had to be brought to class. That's Betty Hendrick of Champaign who's handing Professor Sutton the examination paper.

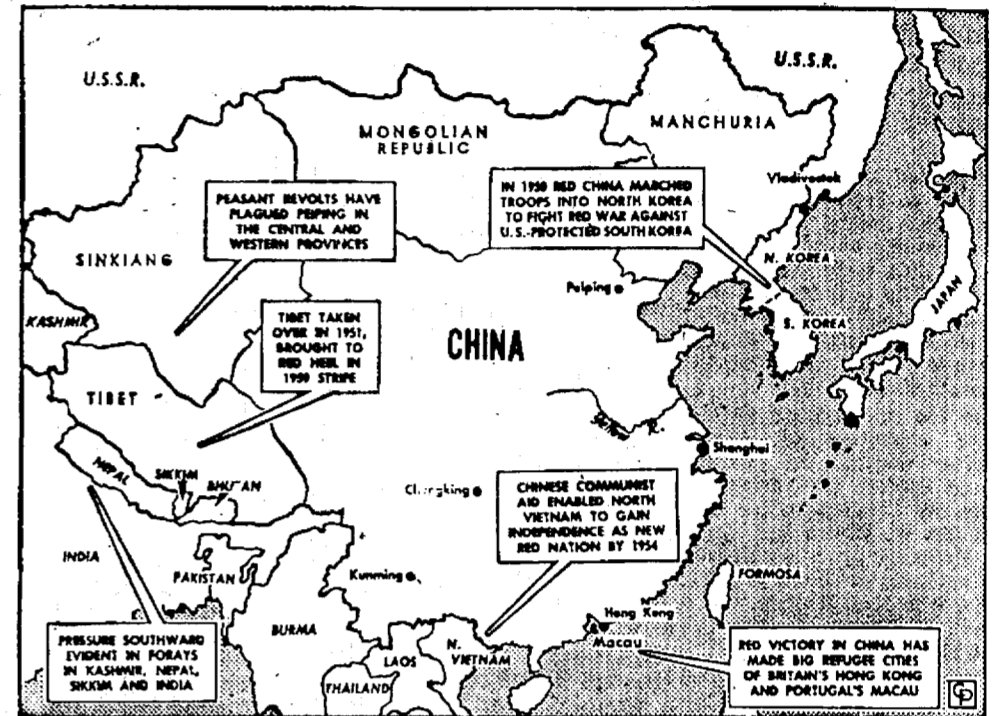

SCHOOL DAZE—Science teacher Paul Nowak starts a clean-up job at Carver Elementary school in Detroit, where vandals who apparently ignored the blackboard message ripped cushions, poured glue over benches and damaged shop equipment. They did an estimated $1,500 job.

NO ROOM FOR A STEAK—Running with his dog in the woods near LaCrosse, Wis., Victor Bendel found a couple mushrooms. The one on the scale weighed 15 pounds, the other 12 pounds. Bendel said they were edible.

ROISTERER?—Sunnie Lee Small looks anything but a troublemaker in Beverly Hills, Calif., police station, but the story runs otherwise. She's accused of throwing a lamp, plates, glasses and a bottle during an argument in a Hollywood restaurant. A few innocent bystanders got bruised. Sunnie was with Ronnie Burns, son of George Burns and Gracie Allen. Burns wasn't involved in the argument. As a matter of fact, Sunnie says there wasn't any anyway.

10 YEARS OLD AND GROWING—A 10th birthday Oct. 1 for the Communist regime in China finds Red rule firmly established and the Nationalists on Formosa apparently no threat at all. The pertinent question is not whether the yoke will remain, but whether it will be extended. The Red triumph in North Vietnam, the forays into border states to the south, the clamping down on Tibet all point to expansion. Meanwhile, actual Communism is being applied even more stringently than in the Soviet, where they got it. (Central Press)

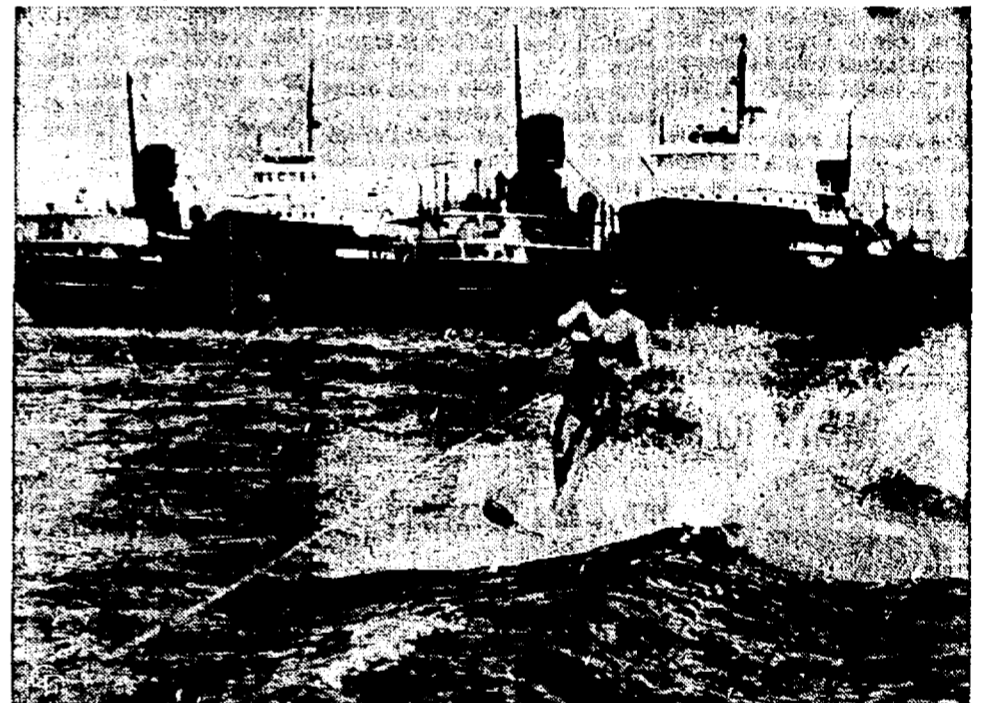

STRIKES IT RICH—Diane Dorsey, shown in her dance act in London, has inherited $140,000 from an uncle in South Africa, but she's having trouble getting it. Her employer, Bill O'Neil, said he would seek a court injunction forbidding her to leave the night club show.

ADMITS KILLING MAN, WIFE—Floyd Walker, 19, tells authorities in Goshen, Ind., how he shot to death Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Walker as they were fishing on bank of Elkhart river. He said he shot Walker, 54, accidentally while hunting crows, and then shot Mrs. Walker, 50, to prevent her from identifying him. Officers are (from left) Det. Glenn Kindy, Deputy Sheriff Charles Keck, Sheriff Woody Caton and Det. Clarence Metzger.

DEFIES MONITORS—Teamsters President James Hoffa tells reporters in Washington that he has no intention of ousting three union officers, as demanded by the union's monitors. He said he already has answered charges against them. The three are Joey Glimco, Chicago taxi union chief; Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano, head of Newark, N. J., Joint Council 73; Harold Gross, Local 320 president, Miami, Fla.

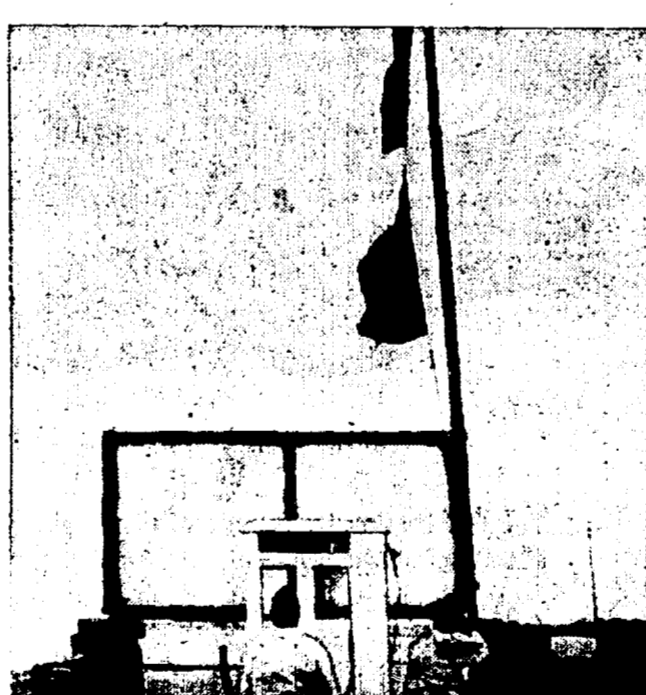

OUT OF WORK—Part of the idleness caused by the steel strike is represented by these ore boats in Cleveland. Nothing to do till the mills start up again, and it's getting that way in other industries. The water skier enjoying a slalom is Ron Folkman.

REQUEST TO MR. K.—The Charles Schafer family (above) is waiting in Bartlesville, Okla., for a reply from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev about Mrs. Schafer's mother (right), Mrs. Marija Auzins, 75, who is in Latvia. The Schafers have been trying for 10 years to cut the Red tape, so they finally wrote to Khrushchev. In the middle is daughter Dzintra, 14.

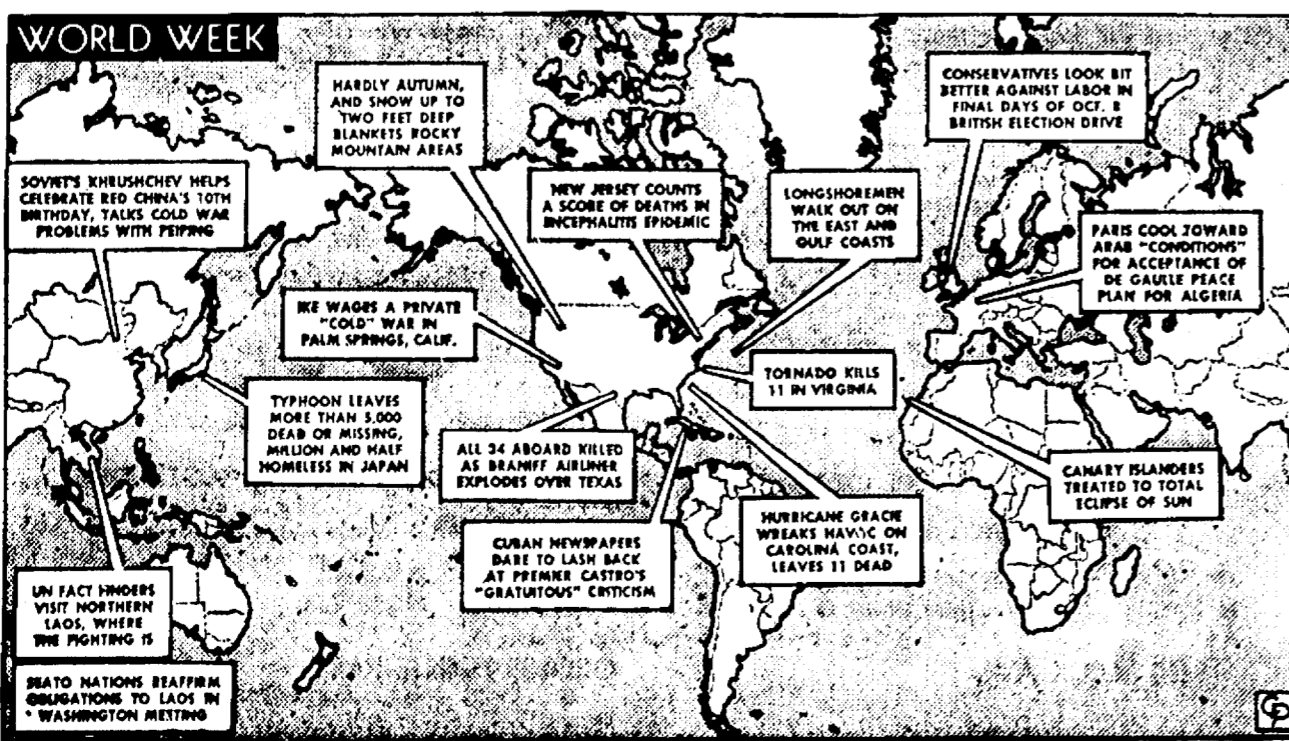

RESCUED FROM CAVE—Tom Karr, 16, looks none the worse for wear as he sits in a car in Gosport, Ind., after being rescued from a cave where he had been lost for 23 hours. Spelunkers (amateur cave explorers) from Indiana university found him 800 feet from mouth of the cave. He's from Terre Haute.

GRACE WARNINGS—Two men raised hurricane warning flags at the Charleston yacht basin in Charleston, S. C., as hurricane Gracie rushed toward the coast.

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE—Doctors at Mt. Auburn hospital in Cambridge, Mass., gave little hope for the survival of Debra Ann Stanton when a blood vessel to her brain burst at birth. She will be a year old Oct. 5. Debra weighed 1 pound, 7 ounces when she was born, and now tips the scales at 15 pounds, 8 ounces.

LAWWOMAN—Dr. Lois Higgins, director of the Illinois Crime Prevention bureau, looks as if she means business. But she's just trying the heft of a new .45 at the International Association of Chiefs of Police convention in New York.

PUNCH LINE—Rehearsing for her first show of the new TV season in New York, world heavyweight champion Ingemar Johanson shows Dinah Shore how to throw a punch.

HE'S HAD IT—Daniel J. Koenig seems a bit camera shy as an FBI agent escorts him in Miami, Fla. And well he might be, because he's held in connection with a Yorkville, O., bank holdup and a matter of $38,846. Two bad guys did it in August.

Blue Devil Gridders Hand Highland Park 38-0 Defeat

The Grosse Pointe Blue Devils bounced into Border Cities League action with an impressive 38-0 shutout of Highland Park on the local gridiron last Saturday October 3.

Scoring one in the first, one in the second and two each in the third and fourth quarters the Devils completely dominated the play for most of the afternoon that was more suitable for baseball than football.

Stage 60-Yard Drive Early in the second period Allen Andrews climaxed a 60 yard sustained drive with a two yard plunge to give the Devils a 13-0 lead.

Coasting along with a 13 point lead, the Devils relaxed a bit and Highland Park drove to the Pointers' 30 before the defensive unit dug in to squelch the attack.

Halfback Ron Harper broke the Polar Bears' back one minute and 51 seconds after the start of the third period when he raced 65 yards for the third Devil score of the afternoon to give the Pointers a commanding 19-0 lead.

At this point Coach Ed Werner began substituting in a wholesale manner and before the afternoon was over 50 youngsters had acquired time towards their letters.

The Devils made the break that enabled them to chalk up the fourth touchdown.

Highland Park tried unsuccessfully to move against the Devil defenders after the kickoff and on fourth down called on tackle Jim Dorsey to punt out of danger.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnels

The Grosse Pointe Bluenose regatta locked up the inter-club season for 1959 and last weekend, October 3-4, saw local tars seeking competition elsewhere.

Jimmy Schudel, of Bayview Yacht Club, traveled to Port Clinton, Ohio for the annual Snowflurries regatta and won it again for the fourth consecutive time.

In the Thistle class in the same regatta National champion Jerry Jenkins, of Crescent Sail Y.C., took top honors and Skip Boston, of Bayview, was second ahead of George Butts, of Sandusky, Ohio.

The regatta included other classes like Comets, Interlakes and Rebels.

The New York 32 skippers wound up the 1959 season with the 13th annual Gizmo series which was won by Clare Jacobs of Bayview Y.C., with 7 1/4 points.

Two races were sailed on Saturday, Taylor took the first and Gmeiner took the second. Jacobs placed second in both to hold a close second place behind Taylor and Gmeiner who were tied for first place.

The power boaters at St. Clair Y.C. held their sixth and final predicted log race, Saturday, October 3, which was won by Hubert Roy.

The Bayview Lightning fleet will hold its annual Fall Invitational on the weekend of October 17-18. One race will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

The Grosse Pointe Power Squadron will be the host at the annual 1959 Fall Contest of District 9 to be held at the Pickwick Fort Shelby Hotel, Friday and Saturday, November 6-7.

Grosse Pointe was penalized on the first play, 15 yards, putting the ball on the Devil 37. Ron Schram's long pass to end Jon Rice was ruled interference for a first down on the Parker 45. Schram, mixing his plays well, rifled a 12-yard pass to Lou Ewald for another first down and after two line plays ruced to the Parker 10 on a keeper play.

Three plays later Harper took a pitchout and raced a beautiful high right end back around his own right end behind a beautiful key block by end Jon Rice to score.

End Ken Deerp's kickoff put the Parkers deep in their own territory when Halfback Jim Wolfe fumbled and chased the ball back to his own 6 where he was smothered. Cronshaw's punt rolled to the Parker 23 from where the Devils steamrolled into the end zone for the fifth touchdown.

Substitutes Do Well Fourth string quarterback Randy Allardrye, on his first play in varsity competition, pitched a beautiful pass into the outstretched hands of third string end Karl Schwarz, who was downed on the Parker four yard line.

The Devils will meet their sternest test on Saturday, October 10, when they entertain unbeaten Royal Oak. The Pointers will have two incentives in this game. First it will be Dad's Day and second, and the most important—they remember the Acorns are the team that kept them from winning the 1958 BCL title outright when they upset them under the lights in the Royal Oak Memorial stadium.

Flotilla 12-2 of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary will conduct classes in safe boating at two locations this fall, starting October 14 at Grosse Pointe High School Annex and October 20 at the Detroit Tank Arsenal Officers Club.

The classes will cover all phases of safe boating from seamanship and rules of the road through how to recognize boating signals and aids to navigation in the easy to learn nine week course.

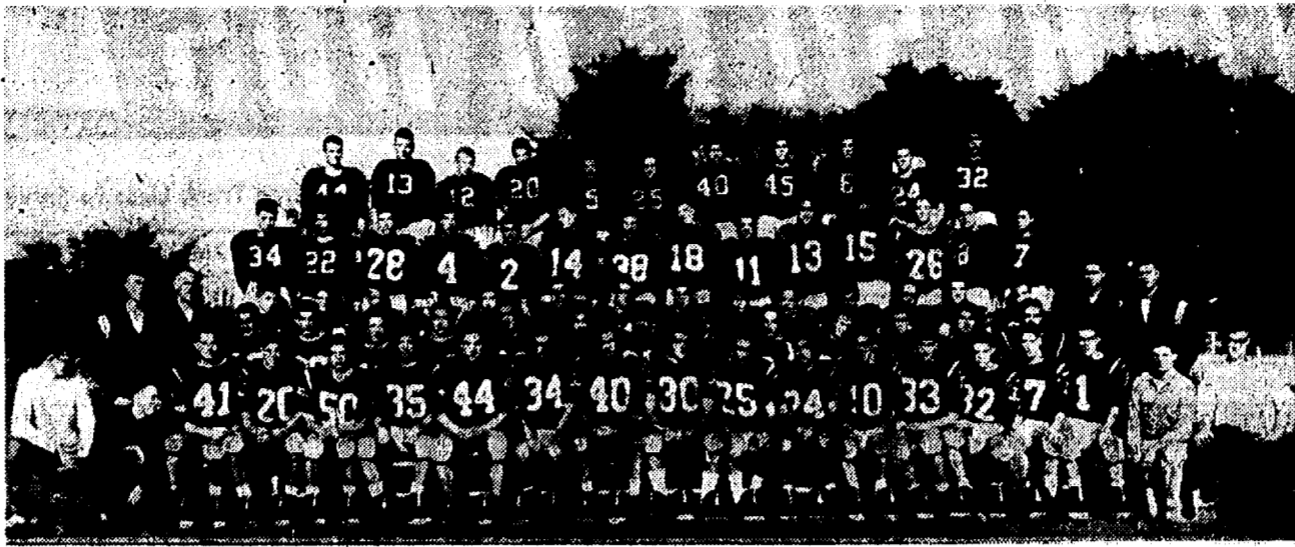

The Grosse Pointe Power Squadron will be the host at the annual 1959 Fall Contest of District 9 to be held at the Pickwick Fort Shelby Hotel, Friday and Saturday, November 6-7.

P/C Larry Reif was declared the winner of the Lt. Andrew B. Harper, Jr., Memorial Trophy in the predicted log contest.

For years Grosse Pointe Yacht Club has been known as a power boaters club but in the past year under the direction of Bob Wood, sail race chairman, and Commodore Bob Weber, the club has taken great strides towards reviving sailing among the members.

The majority of the Folkboat fleet is berthed there and those guys have been having so much fun this year that other members are beginning to wonder what they have been missing. The latest production in the active program is the introduction of the Wet Pants Regatta which will be held Saturday, October 10. This should be a real fun deal and the flag officers and board of directors are getting behind it one hundred percent.

Blue Devils Open League Season With Shutout

The Grosse Pointe Blue Devils moved into Border Cities League action with an impressive 38-0 victory over Highland Park, Saturday, October 3. The Devils are defending co-champions with Royal Oak who they will meet October 10.

Austin Loses To Notre Dame

By Bob Beattie The fighting Irish of Notre Dame High defeated the Austin Friars on the Irish gridiron October 4 by a score of 7-0.

The first three quarters of the game were scoreless. Late in the first quarter Fullback Marune Muallem ran right end 43 yards to the goal line, but was called back for illegal procedure.

A touchdown pass from Terry Tompkin to Steve Trippiano was refused Notre Dame due to a personal foul. Other than these, neither team threatened.

But in the fourth quarter the ball spent three minutes inside the Austin ten yard line. This was too long for the Friars. On the play after having recovered a fumble, the Irish scored: Right halfback Don Chiodo ran twelve yards around end. Gil Facchini converted to complete the score, 7-0.

Pvt. John P. Huestis Ends Basic Training

FORT BELVOIR, VA. (AHTN)—Army Pvt. John P. Huestis, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Huestis, 905 Grand Marais, Grosse Pointe Park, completed basic engineering training Sept. 18 at Fort Belvoir, Va.

He received instruction in map reading, bridge, road and airfield construction, and mine warfare.

Huestis entered the Army last June and completed basic training at Fort Hood, Tex.

The race will be sailed over a 6 mile triangular course in front of the club. Seven Folkboats have been selected and the skippers will be Ed Anderson, Fred Sumner, Gene Bertelson, Russ Nates, Bill Bradley, Fred Kolowich and Bob Wood.

They will select their crews from Commodore Bob Weber, vice commodore Bill Ternes, vice Commodore John Wilt, directors Earl Frasier, Paul Moreland, Bryant Chaplow, Dr. C. J. Williams and committee chairmen Doug Adair, Bill Brink, Lee Radke, George Brooks and Bill Wood.

Aaron Evans will be the chairman of the race. The following day twelve of the Folkboat owners and their friends will take off for Gull Island in Anchor Bay. They haven't decided what they will call this cruise, as yet but someone suggested, inasmuch as it is a fun get together. Snoozin'-Boozin' cruise.

SPORTSMEN Rifle ranges, skeet, trap, and pistol shooting within 25 minutes drive of Gr. Pointe. Gun shop carries complete line hunting equipment and clothing. Telescope and iron sights sold and installed. Experts on hand at all times to "right in" your rifle or to help you decide on your hunting equipment.

Sailing Record Smashed In North Channel Race

A sailing record went by the boards last Saturday, October 3, in the annual Bayview North Channel Race. Dick Hill's Crescent sloop "We Do" did.

Hill cruised the 10 mile course one minute and 10 seconds ahead of Charles Keresztes' Crescent sloop "Manon" after 70 miles of middlechase racing through the Middle, North and South channels, in the Flats, and across Lake St. Clair.

Once in the channel spinners were hoisted again and carried to the North channel where decisions had to be made. Some carried the chutes with difficulty while others used the jennys to good advantage almost to the pesky Russell Island lighted buoy which was the upper turning mark of the course.

The southerly wind still held but the South channel was comparatively smooth sailing and once back into Lake St. Clair the wind lightened but was of sufficient force to present beautiful sailing conditions on a flat sea.

Charles Keresztes' "Manon" held a minute lead over Hill's "We Do" as the two passed the Grosse Pointe (Little) Club where the race originally started from.

A good steady 12-14 mile an hour southerly wind enabled

Woods Spartans Still Seeking Win

Both the varsity and freshman Woods Spartan football teams found victory evading them last Saturday, October 3, when they bumped into the O'Shea eleven.

In the first game of the day the Spartan freshman team showed marked improvement over the previous week by holding the strong O'Shea freshmen to a scoreless tie.

Early in the second quarter Tom Morey intercepted a pass and ran it back 45 yards. Later O'Shea's B. Floetzer returned the compliment by intercepting a pass and was on his way to a touchdown but Morey caught him after 40 yards and the game ended in a scoreless deadlock.

The Spartan varsity wasn't quite as fortunate, although it did play an excellent game, but was the victim of the breaks.

The defensive play of Ron Irwin, George Ordner and Bill Browncombe enabled the Spartans to corral O'Shea's speedy runners in the first half.

In the fourth quarter O'Shea coupled together a long sustained drive led by Lemke and Dillon for the second touchdown.

St. Ambrose Routs Lakers As D'Angelo Runs Wild

The spectacular Joe D'Angelo ran wild and scored four of the six St. Ambrose touchdowns as the Cavaliers completely dominated the St. Paul Lakers, 46-12, under the lights Friday, October 2, in the Mack Inter-Parish stadium.

The victory was the third in a row for the Cavaliers and kept them in a four-way first place tie and favorite to repeat as champions of the East Side Parochial First Division.

D'Angelo opened his evenings' work with a 37-yard touchdown in the first quarter, ripped off a 41-yard scamper in the second quarter, scored again on a 9-yard plunge in the third quarter and climaxed his chores with a beautiful 47-yard ramble into pay dirt.

Larry Lantry Stars Halfback Larry Lantry opened the scoring when he went 54 yards to climax a 59-yard sustained drive the first time the Cavaliers got their hands on the ball.

Halfback Bill Fournier notched his touchdown on an 11-yard run in the third quarter and fullback Vince Taormino went 15 yards for the final score halfway through the final period.

St. Paul's first touchdown came early in the second quarter on a 25-yard sustained drive that was climaxed by halfback Jack Wachter's 3-yard plunge.

This was the first time the Lakers had penetrated Cavalier territory and it was set up when fullback Mike Cure dropped the pass from center as he attempted to punt on fourth down and was nailed by Ted Buda on the St. Ambrose 25 yard line.

The Lakers final tally came on a 63-yard sustained drive, which was highlighted by Steve Handlo's 23-yard run and Butch Cobb's ball-like line plunch which put the ball on the one from where quarterback Gary Schick sneaked over.

Outcome Inevitable Incomplete as the victory looked on the scoreboard and as satisfying as it was to Cavalier fans, it was a disgusting display of muscle flexing over an opponent who was beaten in the first six minutes of play. There was absolutely no doubt which team would emerge the victor after the Cavaliers scored two touchdowns their first two times they had their hands on the ball to hold a 13-0 lead.

No one can quarrel with a coach who permits his first team to remain in the game until he is assured of victory. BUT when a coach deliberately "pours it on" after his team has rolled up a commanding lead, he cannot be regarded as a paragon in his profession.

This sort of tactic is frowned upon in coaching circles and the majority of coaches do everything in their power to keep from humiliating a fellow coach. It not only humiliates the other coach but in many cases completely breaks the confidence of the beaten team in future games.

There is a lot to be said in that old saying "It is not whether you win or lose but how you play the game."

Played Like Champions St. Ambrose played the game as only champions can. It blocked, kicked, tackled and ran to near perfection. The precision with which the youngsters executed the plays would be a credit to some of the best in the state.

Players and fans alike probably would have won this game by a single point. It would have served the same purpose in the league standings.

Humiliation is hard to forget. St. Paul's all-Junior team will carry this bitter pill until next season when they will meet the Cavalier as seniors with one thought in mind — erase the blot and even the score. Of course, this will never come to pass because Coach Ed Lauer has never permitted one of his teams in any sport to humiliate their opponent by leaving the regulars in the line-up after the game has been clinched.

Philip L. Ash, Jr. Wins Promotion

"Lieutenant, you're out of uniform" — Those were the words Lt. Philip L. Ash Jr. heard last week when he reported to Col. Harley L. Moore Jr., Acting Commander, The Provost Marshal General Center.

Smiling, Col. Moore stepped to Lt. Ash, removed the silver bar of a 1st Lieutenant, and replaced it with the twin silver bars of Captain.

Capt. Ash, a student in the Officer and Enlisted Student Company, FMGS, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip L. Ash, 1976 Hunt Club drive, Grosse Pointe. He was graduated from Whitefish Bay High School in 1949, from the University of Wisconsin in 1953, and from Michigan State University in 1958.

His last duty assignment before reporting to Ft. Gordon was as Provost Marshal and Commanding Officer, The United States Army Military Police Detachment, Ft. McNair, Washington.

He and his wife, Janice, are presently living at 1408 Springview drive, Augusta, Georgia.

Lodge expressway began. The Edsel Ford, Detroit's second major expressway, was begun three months later.

DUPONT COMPANY will be allowed to retain its 23 percent stock interest in General Motors, a Federal Judge ruled, yesterday. However, DuPont cannot vote the shares or acquire more. The ruling by Judge Walter J. LaBuy was in compliance with a Supreme Court decision which found that there was a tendency toward monopoly in the relationship between the two giant companies.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR-GENERAL of Australia, it is rumored, could be Princess Margaret. Reports to that effect have touched off much discussion and speculation in Britain.

THE STRIKE in Chrysler's Twinsburg, Ohio, plant, which threatened to idle 45,000 workers, has been settled. An agreement was reached Saturday, enabling the plant to resume operation. The strike, if continued, could have crippled Chrysler's 1960 car output.

THE SPARTANS of Michigan State, yesterday, defeated the University of Michigan by the score of 34 to 8. The game was played before a record crowd of 103,234 in Ann Arbor. State is supposed to be the dark horse in the Big Ten this year. Both State and U of M lost their opening games, State to Texas A&M and U of M to Missouri.

THE LOS ANGELES DODGERS, playing before a record World Series crowd of 92,294 fans, defeated the Chicago White Sox by the score of 3 to 1, Sunday. This, the third game of the Series, was played in the huge Los Angeles Coliseum.

A PROPOSAL by the steel industry to end the nation-wide steel strike was rejected Sunday by the Steel Union's international executive board. This action should further the prospect that President Eisenhower will invoke the Taft-Hartley law and obtain an 80-day back to work order. If the settlement talks collapse, the President may move his Thursday deadline up.

THE PROBLEM of MICHIGAN'S nine month tax dispute is now in the hands of the Michigan Supreme Court. For two hours yesterday, the eight Justices listened to opposing teams of state lawyers as they argued the constitutionality of the one cent sales (use) tax increase. Opposing the use tax as unconstitutional is Attorney General Paul I. Adams and his team of experts.

Monday, October 5
The other side, led by Adams' chief assistant Stanton S. Faville, says that the use tax is different from the sales tax and that the 1954 amendment supporters were aware of the use tax and did not include it in the sales tax.

During the month of October, Mrs. Bacon is going to carry on a study regarding free play with four year olds. It is always valuable to study ways in which a program really satisfies the needs of the children. Mrs. Bacon was in conference with Dr. Warren Ketcham, of the University School at Ann Arbor, this summer in regard to doing this study here at Grosse Pointe University School, and he felt that it would be a very worthwhile one. Mrs. Bacon will make known, during the latter part of the year, the results of the study to parents and professional groups.

Monday, October 5
This summer Mrs. Bacon wrote an article regarding the development of the film "Nursery School in Action," which was seen by parents, Tuesday night, October 6. Mr. Jack Doerr, a father of a three-year-old, several years ago, offered to film the nursery school program with Mrs. Bacon writing the script. This film has been shown to many schools in the metropolitan Detroit area as well as at conferences at the University of Wisconsin and the University of Southern California. Wayne State University and the Detroit Public Library, have bought prints of the film and are using it for teacher training and parent groups. The article regarding the film has been accepted by the Independent Schools' Bulletin, a publication circulating to private schools throughout the United States.

Real life experiences via field trips are always reflected in the play in classrooms, in block structure, clay and woodwork. This summer Mrs. Bacon took an enthusiastic group to see the destroyers docked at the foot of Woodward. The school is planning two trips next week with the four-year group—to the Glancy's where they will visit their fall garden with its grapes, pumpkins, tomatoes, and corn husks, and to the library to get books which are returned in two weeks by the children.

Monday, October 5
Mrs. Blashill was for many years a very active member of the University of Michigan Alumni Club of Grosse Pointe Township, a board member for many years, and with her great interest in young people frequently opened her home for young freshmen in the fall.

Art Archives Report Issued

In July, the Archives of American Art was five years old. Since it was launched, a novel and untried idea, the Archives have received gifts of money and research materials from 741 donors. The money has gone back into accumulating and organizing the research collection which now contains over a million items and whose index lists nearly 10,000 names.

Established for the purpose of collecting in one central place original records of American painters, sculptors and craftsmen, the Archives are a national foundation with headquarters in the Detroit Institute of Arts and recently opened office in New York.

Their records may be original letters or notebooks; unpublished notes of historians or correspondence of art dealers; documents of an ephemeral nature and difficult of access; reproductions by microfilm; tape recording or other processes of such records preserved permanently in other collections... whatever may throw light upon the arts in America.

No restrictions of period or place are intended since the aim of the Archives is to assemble everything that will ultimately make the collection an effective center for research in American art.

Among the Archives' trustees are Pointers Mrs. Edse B. Ford, Mrs. Frederick M. Alger, Jr., and Frank W. Donovan.

Dr. Edgar P. Richardson, director of the Detroit Institute of Arts is also director of the Archives and the Institute's chief curator, Paul L. Griegut, is their secretary. Mrs. Miriam Lesley is archivist.

People who travel at too fast a pace are sometimes drowned in the pond of prosperity.

An alliance of Michigan's "Boy Governor" Stevens T. Mason heir to an aristocratic Virginia name, and a back woods minister, John D. Pierce brought about Michigan's successful public school foundation in 1835.

Mr. Mason had met the Rev. Pierce during the cholera epidemic of 1832 when he sought shelter in the Congregational minister's cabin after a wild night ride from Ypsilanti. Mrs. Pierce died during that long night while Mason was there. Not sparing the time to mourn the minister saddled a horse and rode with the governor to help fight the scourge. Afterwards he returned to the log cabin near Marshall, became a recluse and wrote elegies to his wife's memory in Latin. He did his own cooking and kept a cat.

He was a big raw boned man with a black beard falling to his waistcoat and a bald head. He had the air of the crusader and fanatic, and his fine mind trained at Brown University equipped him for the struggle for universal education.

Governor Mason would not compromise on his dream of public school education. He knew that private schooling was for the few and he insisted that his state's children, all of them, have an opportunity to learn. He wanted the Superintendent of Education to have the best job in the state next to his own and campaigned for a salary of $1,500, amazing in those days.

Rev. Pierce gained his ideas from a pamphlet on Prussian education although he did not believe in that autocratic state's harsh methods. He wanted to remove illiteracy. To support the new system rigid laws had to be passed so that state school lands could not be grabbed by speculators.

Pierce designed the first rural schools, (even including the necessary water buckets and "Chic Sales"). He placed the actual conduct of the distant rural schools under the direction of township boards but he checked up on them. He watched the attendance records and fined a farmer if he kept a son home to till the crops.

He laid out curriculum for a normal school to supply teachers and taught several courses himself. He wanted to educate farmers and founded the first agricultural college in the midwest, now Michigan State University.

When his plan began to work he sold his cabin in Marshall piled his goods on a wagon and started for Detroit. He stored his furniture and began along visit to schools and colleges in the East. But the Rev. Pierce's main interest was primary schools and when offered a job as regent for the new state university he turned it down.

To this pioneer educational administrator we owe a great debt. John D. Pierce Junior High School was named in his memory.

Since much of the action of "Separate Tables" takes place in the dining room of an English boarding house, players in this Terence Ratigan play must learn to emote while eating. Florence Steep, director of the Drama Festival production to be given at the Players this Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening, has insisted on real food during rehearsals. Main dishes have included pudding, apple pie, pitted cherries and all the very American actors have had to learn to eat English fashion, which has added to their difficulties.

Miss Virginia Hoelze, Dean of Girls at Brownell Junior High School, collects dolls. She has about 50, representing countries as varied as Jerusalem and Austria, in a glass cabinet in her Washington road home.

When her parents leave for the Orient this winter they have promised to search for new dolls to add to her collection. Miss Hoelze will be leaving for Europe again herself this summer for her seventh trip, and will do her own searching.

They do say that men make the best cooks, but it's rare when a gentleman dons an apron to bake a batch of home-made bread. Every Saturday Richard D. Hasse turns out some dozen fragrant loaves as a feather loaves. Recently he has been donating his bread to Bon Secour's hospital.

On the fashion line... have you noticed that jacket dresses are rapidly overtaking the ubiquitous suit in popularity? Mrs. John Bockstanz, who is always band-box neat, is wearing a charming simple sheath and jacket in warm beige banded in the newest of fall shades, hittersweet.

Sixth graders at Barnes School are all excited over the West German girl they have adopted and are awaiting their first letter from her with a full report.

PILFERINGS

Scientists claim that the first man to reach the moon may not be able to get back here. But who knows? With the earth in the condition it is today, he may not want to.

Pointer of Interest

CATHERINE TAN, OF BERKSHIRE ROAD

By Patricia Talbot

Rock and roll has been banned by the police in Catherine Tan's hometown and she wouldn't be caught wearing Bermuda shorts or reading comics. Aside from these deviations Catherine shared many interests with American teen agers when she was growing up in Singapore.

This year Catherine is studying at Grosse Pointe University School and living with Dr. and Mrs. John Langston of Berkshire road. She has been in this country since mid July when she flew from the Orient with 92 other students, who are sponsored at schools throughout the United States by the American Field Service.

French convent Catherine speaks English with a slight British accent for her schooling at home was based on the British system. She is the youngest of four sisters and two brothers and had her previous education at a French convent in Singapore. One of her sisters is married and lives in England, one is a teacher and another is in teachers' training college. Catherine's father is retired from government service.

When Catherine returns to Singapore next summer she will still have to matriculate there for entrance into the University of Malaya. This year at GPUS doesn't count as a senior year there, but she feels it will be a valuable lesson in international relations.

Likes Independence Catherine, like many of her contemporaries at home, is thrilled with Singapore's newly won independence. It is no longer a crown colony of Great Britain. Her first cousin is the new, young, (32), prime minister of the state and considered by many quite a radical. He is very anti-British in feeling, but Catherine believes he is pro-American. She finds herself that Americans are warmer in their relations with other peoples, more apt to be helpful.

Catherine finds girls here more fashion conscious than their counterparts in Singapore, but she is interested in clothes, too. She used to read the teen ager's fashion magazine, "Seventeen," at home. She is amazed at the lenient rules at school and at all the freedom American students have. She has always been a movie fan, loves Audrey Hepburn, but prefers classical music to jazz or rock and roll, and her favorite authors are the Chinese philosopher, Lin Yutang, and the British novelist, A. J. Cronin.

Feted by Classmates Her classmates at GPUS have welcomed her cordially. Before school opened they gave a party for her and presented her with gifts. That's when she donned her first pair of Bermuda shorts. On the week-ends now, when she isn't studying, she visits Detroit's museums and points of interest and helps her hostess, Mrs. Langston, with the chores about the house. She compares notes with Berd Gaus, another foreign exchange student at GPUS, from Germany.

In Singapore rock and roll has been banned by the police because around the city's juke boxes gathered young secret societies which plotted disturbances against the government. All the citizens at home are excited about Singapore's experiment with democracy and Catherine is no exception.

AFS Foots the Bill After her school year is over she will tour the eastern seaboard with the other American Field Service students before flying home. The AFS is paying for her education, books and fees and gives her $12 a month to buy cokes and go to the movies. The Langstons are responsible for her board and room. Mrs. Langston finds an adopted daughter no novel experience. The Langstons have four girls of their own, Althea and Claire, away at college, and Penelope and Star, students at GPUS.

Catherine is fitting into school life and an American home with ease. Her poise and manners insure her success here and she has much to offer her classmates. She brought some Chinese clothes with her, often wears a brocade mandarin jacket over her school clothes. She can cook national dishes and recently made a delicious steamed chicken entree, Kai Fun, for the Langstons.

Will Boost America She is anxious to return to Singapore after this year and enter into the life of the new independent state. Her American experience will help her combat the influence of Communism, always prevalent in Asia. Singapore has an international flavor, with English, Chinese, Malay and Indian, the four languages and cultures living side by side. She believes that some day Singapore will have to merge with the Malayan state in order to stay alive.

On October 16 the American Field Service will hold a benefit theater night at the Shubert for the Lunts' performance of "The Visit." With more funds the AFS can bring more foreign students to study here and send ours abroad. This exchange of young people increases opportunities for citizens from different nations to become friends, to promote understanding in their own homes.
