HEADLINES

of the WEEK

As Compiled by the
Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, October 8
A MYSTERIOUS BLAST, heard throughout the Detroit Metropolitan area and Windsor, caused newspaper offices, police departments, radio and television stations to be swamped with calls from residents. The sound, which most people thought sounded like an explosion, came at about 12:25 this morning. However, when no one reported an actual explosion, it was surmised by officials that the blast was caused by a jet plane breaking the sound barrier.

Friday, October 9
THE LOS ANGELES DODGERS, led by the fantastic relief pitching of young (24) Larry Sherry and the crafty managing of Walt Alston, are the new World Champions of baseball. Yesterday, in the game played in Chicago's Comiskey Park, the Dodgers put the finishing touches on the Chicago White Sox, beating them 9 to 3.

Saturday, October 10
THE TAFT-HARTLEY LAW was invoked Friday by President Eisenhower as the first step in seeking a court injunction to force a half million steel workers to return to the mills. The President said that he was sorry to have to step into the 87-day-old strike, rather than have it settled voluntarily. However, he said that, if continued, the steel strike would "have severe effects on the economy and seriously endanger the national health and safety."

Sunday, October 11
THE KICK-OFF LUNCHEON for the United Foundation Torch Drive is scheduled for Tuesday, October 13, Detroit, the birthplace of the United Foundation, has set the goal of its 11th annual drive higher than ever before. It is hoped that nearly 100,000 volunteer workers will collect a total of $17,850,000 by the end of the drive November 8.

Monday, October 12
COMMISSIONER OF THE NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE, Bert Bell, is dead of a heart attack at the age of 63. Bell, whose leadership made a major sport, rather than a road show of professional football, collapsed while watching a game between the Philadelphia Eagles and the Pittsburgh Steelers, Sunday. He had been Commissioner since 1946. He was a football star at the University of Pennsylvania and was later a pro coach and owner prior to his appointment to the job of Commissioner.

Tuesday, October 13
ANOTHER BIG MONEY WINNER on the now defunct TV quiz show "21." Charles Van Doren was accused by the House investigating committee of avoiding statements in person as to whether the show was "rigged." Van Doren has been subpoenaed and is expected to appear before the committee when it reconvenes on November 2. In 1956 and 57 Van Doren won $128,000 on the TV quiz show.

Wednesday, October 14
THE STRIKING STEELWORKERS, represented by the United Steel Union, are asking for aid from the auto industry, in an effort to end the three month old walkout. Steelworkers President David J. McDonald asked the auto industry to intervene on the basis of a new union proposal.

The position of councilman is being sought by six City residents, and there are three places open in this election. The only incumbent for a council position is David E. Burgess of 651 Washington road.

Others on Ballot
Others on the ballot will be: Frederick W. Parker Jr., of 354 Washington road, who is currently Mayor of the City, but is not seeking re-election to that office; Lloyd R. Marantette of 389 Notre Dame avenue; Edward L. Viets of 421 Rivard boulevard; Leonard W. Mountford of 696 St. Clair avenue; and Henry J. Quinn of 927 Fisher road.

Running for Mayor is Kenneth F. Bergmann of 794 University place, whose term as councilman expires with this election.

Other Incumbents
Incumbent for the position of City Clerk is Norbert Neff. Also incumbents for the positions of Assessor and Treasurer, respectively, are Neil Blondell of 876 Rivard boulevard and Theodore G. Osius of 747 Rivard boulevard.

Running for the two Justice of the Peace positions are Joseph P. Uvick of 688 University place and Douglas L. Peterson of 879 Notre Dame avenue, both incumbents.

Arthur Van Beelaere is up for re-election to succeed himself as constable.

Survey Made By Schools Indicates Effectiveness Of Driver Training Program

Small Group with Improper Attitude Accounts For Great Bulk of Accidents; Example of Adults Held Most Important

Can youthful drivers be good drivers? Is it possible to teach teenagers "proper attitudes" while behind the wheel? Are well trained drivers better drivers than those who, like Topsey just grow?

The Grosse Pointe Public School System set out to get answers to these questions in recent months. The results of a survey to determine the effectiveness of Driver Education courses have just been announced. They demonstrate quite conclusively that proper training of youthful drivers can have many beneficial effects for them and for the community as a whole.

Formed Two Groups
For purposes of making accurate comparisons, researchers led by N. Ray Watling, Coordinator of Driver Education for the public schools, established two distinct groups about which to gather information. One was composed of a number of young drivers who were among the last 16 year olds to get their driver's license without having passed a required course in Driver Education. The second group was made up of all the students from the Grosse Pointe area who passed the driver training course in 1957. The latter group numbered 766 students.

The researchers composed of local teachers and police officers from the various municipalities searched the police files for all traffic violations recorded in 1958 against teenage drivers. These were then tallied as having been incurred either by the untrained or the trained group. Police officials stated that they believed that 90 to 95 per cent of all violations committed by the subjects would be a matter of local record and so a reliable picture of driving habits would surely be established.

Trained Drivers Best
The tabulations showed that the untrained group had a record of over 30 per cent in violation of one type or another. The trained students, 1957 variety, had a record of 18 per cent in violation. While not quite a 2 to 1 ratio this statistic definitely shows a significant advantage in favor of the trained drivers' performance.

To make the study more meaningful the violations of the 1957 trained group were broken down in several classifications. In all, 137 violations were on record. Twelve accidents were associated with these infractions of the rules.

Sixty-one of the violations were for excess speed with 35 of these in the 5-10 mph over posted-speed-limit bracket. Nine violations were in the over-20 mph in excess of posted limits' bracket.

Tickets were issued to 16 youthful drivers for failing to stop at intersections. Seven received tickets for reckless driving and six were faulted for not having their car under control.

Other Violations
Other violations included 12 concerning certification; two for cutting into moving traffic; ten for improper turns, and 27 for miscellaneous reasons such as riders on the outside of a motorcycle.

Boy Speeder Named in Gas Station Theft

Park Authorities Charge 16-Year-Old with Taking $410 Last June 13

The 16-year-old driver involved in a shot-puntured speed chase with Farms police on Saturday, October 3, has been identified by Park authorities as the burglar who broke into a Park gas station, 15246 Kercheval, last June 13.

Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers said the latent fingerprints on a pane of glass that had been removed from a window of a rest room at the rear of the building, belonged to the youth.

The burglar forced his way through a door and into the station proper, and took a metal cash box containing $410 in cash, according to the chief.

Clue Uncovered
Det. Lt. Arnold Hough and Cpl. Charles French worked hard in tracking down leads, and uncovered a clue that tied the youth in with the crime.

Chief Louwers said the "case was cinched" on Tuesday, October 6, when Det. Lt. Stanley Enders went to the Juvenile Detention Home, where the boy

Two Patrolmen Hurt in Accident

Two Woods patrolmen were injured on Sunday, October 11, when their scout car was rammed in a three-car accident at Mack avenue and Vernier road, while they were waiting for a traffic light to change.

The officers were Russell Alford and Harold Lanstra, the former suffered a severe headache and pains in the back and neck; the latter, back, neck, left shoulder and leg injuries.

Robert M. Vanderveide, 25, of 3020 Eastlawn, Detroit, failed to stop in time and struck a car driven by Wernor Von Almen, 56, of 1578 Anita, who was directly behind the scout car.

School Proposals Given Support by More PTA Groups

Comparison of Expenditures Per Pupil Shows Pointe is Far Behind Many Other Top Systems, Including Highland Park

Many more Grosse Pointe organizations have joined those which have endorsed the plan put forth by the Board of Education to meet the educational needs of the school district. In addition, hundreds of individuals have indicated by word and deed that the three millage proposals to be voted on October 26 have their full approbation.

School officials stress that although the issues are being presented as three distinct propositions the passage of all is vital to the school program.

"To approve the building and site levy for additional classrooms to relieve overcrowdedness and meet future enrollment increases would be pointless unless we also are given the funds to hire the additional teachers needed to staff them," Board of Education President Robert F. Weber said. "And if the millage for salary improvements is not to be forthcoming then we will certainly be unable to maintain the quality of our fine teaching staff."

Is Minimum Program
"We feel our proposals — ¾ of a mill for building and remodeling purposes; ¼ mill to meet increasing costs and provide for additional teachers; and 1¼ mills with which to strengthen our salary schedules — are a minimum program. All have been thoroughly studied and represent the best thinking of the full Board and school administrators as well as that of many of our lay citizens."

"If one is to look around for standards with which to compare our school program there are many which support the above statement," Weber went on.

"For instance some citizens in our community like to relate Grosse Pointe's school system to those of comparable communities around us and across the nation. School systems such as those of Great Neck and Scarsdale, New York; Shaker Heights, Ohio; New Trier and Oak Park, Illinois; and Dearborn and Highland Park, Michigan are often mentioned."

"The recent study made by a Geneva, Illinois Citizens' Committee placed our school system in very select company — one of the 44 best in the nation. Other studies such as that of the Junior Red Cross a few years ago have also included us in the top category. The records our students make in national competition and in college students bear out the hypothesis that we have a system to be proud of and comparable to the best to be found anywhere."

Spent Twice As Much
"However," President Weber stated, "when one looks at the expenditures some of these communities make per pupil he is impressed with how conservative the Grosse Pointe system is. Great Neck, for instance, spends double what we do. Last year they spent $970 per pupil to educate their students. Our cost averaged out at $484. Both communities assess their property on approximately the same basis and have comparable amounts of wealth behind each child. Great Neck, however, taxed their residents 48.70 mills

Surprise Alarms Prove Value of School Drills

A surprise fire drill held in all Woods schools, in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week, October 4-10, was carried out with dispatch and without panic on Friday, October 9, according to Woods Public Safety Director Vern C. Bailey.

Director Bailey, who is also City Fire Marshal, disclosed that he, Lt. Harold Durose and Patrolman Jack Mast, went to each of the six schools in the city, without advance notice, and rang alarms in each building.

The reaction of the school staffs and students, the director said, was gratifying. Everyone left their respective schools emptying the buildings in short order, in formation and without panic.

51 Garments Taken From Woods Shop

Police Think Members of National Ring Broke Into Vault from Next Store

Fur thieves broke through the wall of an adjoining building of the Kay Anos Fur company branch store, 19619 Mack avenue, between 9 p.m. Saturday, October 10 and 2:30 p.m. Sunday, October 11, and stole 51 mink garments.

Originally, the loss was estimated at $100,000, but a later inventory by Kay Anusbigian, of 4183 Balfour, Detroit, owner of the store, set the loss at $43,825, according to information released by Woods Det. Sgt. Walter O'Dell and Det. Leroy Tobian.

At least two men, believed to be members of a national fur burglary ring, broke through the fur company wall by sledgehammering a hole 28 by 22 inches, and crawling through to a vault where the fur pieces were stored.

Were Not Insured

Taken, Anusbigian told the Woods detectives, were 10 mink coats, 12 mink jackets and 29 mink stoles. The pieces were not insured, the owner said, because a fast turnover was expected in a fall sale.

The burglars missed customers furs, including Persian Lamb jackets, left for storage, in the main part of the store, Anusbigian said. Had the thieves broken through the wooden door of the vault into the store, they probably would have taken these.

These items, which were insured, were removed after the robbery was discovered, to the company's main store at 15100 Mack.

Break Lock on Door

O'Dell and Tobian said that entry was gained by knocking out a tumbler cylinder on the lock of an aluminum-framed door of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance company, 19613 Mack. After entering, the burglars replaced the cylinder to allay suspicion. If police should check the door.

The robbers seemed to know exactly where to go, the officers said, since they went about 50 feet to the rear, and made the hole through the wallboard and cement blocks, separating the insurance office and the fur shop, into the vault.

The burglary was discovered by John Koerner, 32, of 28033 Hollywood, Roseville, son-in-law of Anusbigian, and manager of the store, when he arrived to clean and wax the store floor.

O'Dell and Tobian said the burglary must have taken place sometime during or immediately after the heavy rains which ended at 4:30 a.m. Sunday because of the muddy shoeprints left in the insurance office. The burglar alarm of the fur shop failed to go off, the officers said, because of the method of entry.

Anusbigian, who recently returned from a visit to Europe and his native Armenia, said the burglary was the first in more than 20 years of business.

Woods authorities sent a teletype throughout the nation, alerting law enforcement agencies and fur buyers to watch for the stolen garments.

Crash Blamed On Wet Street

A wet and slippery pavement didn't help Joseph Mueller of 1283 Flanders street, Detroit, the rainy afternoon of October 5. He ran a red light at the corner of Cadieux and Charlevoix and hit another car.

Mueller was driving north on Cadieux and failed to stop in time for the stop light. He hit a car driven by Philip Ray Fouch of 20328 Fleetwood, Harper Woods, who was driving west on Charlevoix.

Both cars had to be towed to a nearby collision shop and Mueller was ticketed by City police officers for not having his car under control.

School Vote

for operation as compared to our rate of 17.95 mills.

"This example is not an exceptional one. Scarsdale extends over $800; Bronxville, N.Y., $900; New Trier (a high school district) $807; Shaker Heights, $595; Evanston and Oak Park, Illinois, both $600 or more, as is Highland Park's expenditure."

Parent-Teacher Associations at Trombley School took formal action to endorse the Board's proposals Monday evening. President James Beyster conducted the meeting and also reported that Trombley's PTA Executive Board was in full accord with the measures. Trustee C. Henry Haberkorn, 3rd addressed the gathering.

Maire Also Endorses
From Maire School Vice-President Russell Vance, acting in the absence of President Aaron Rutledge, reported that a resolution to back the school millage needs was readily adopted by the membership. Trustees Dr. Robert K. Whiteley and Haberkorn explained the proposals to this group.

President B. Dale Davis of the Richard PTA reported that his group also took action favoring the school program.

A second section of the Brownell PTA membership also met Monday night and indicated without formal action their support of the proposals. The first section, composed of parents whose names began with the letters A through K, met last week and gave unanimous support. President Vance Powell reported. President Weber represented the Board of Education.

Parcells Backs Proposal
Parcells PTA President Charles Begeman, headed a meeting of parents of 6th and 7th grade students last Friday. This group moved to go on record as endorsing all of the propositions to be voted on in the special school election. Mr. Weber also addressed this group.

Citizens are reminded that the last day of registration is tomorrow, Friday, October 16. City and township clerks will continue to receive registrations until 5 p.m. in their respective offices located in the municipal headquarters of each of the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods.

Although three propositions are to be voted on there will be four ballots issued voters, school officials stated. The two separate requests for additional operating millage for salary improvements, and increased operating expenses will be voted upon by all qualified resident electors. However, the proposition concerning the building and site sinking fund levy will be divided into two parts only one of which is open to all voters.

The question of increasing the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against local property for the purpose of making a building and site sinking fund levy is open to all qualified voters.

The authority to actually levy this tax, however, can only be given by resident registered voters who own property assessed for taxation within the school district.

The polls for the school election are located in the public elementary schools serving each neighborhood. They will be open all day Monday, October 26 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Boy Speeder

is being held pending a hearing on the speeding charge, to question him.

After being told by the lieutenant that he was in possession of fingerprints that would identify the burglar, the 16-year-old then admitted that he was the thief who broke into the station and took the money.

Threw Box in River
The young man told Lt. Enders that after removing the money from the box, he threw the box over the Belle Isle Bridge into the Detroit River.

The 16-year-old and Nicholas D. Cosentino, 17, of 1855 Manchester, were arrested by Farms Patrolmen Francois Belanger and Guy Lyford after a chase of up to 100 miles an hour, through the Farms, City, Park and Detroit.

The youths ran three police blockades and four red lights trying to avoid capture. They were arrested at Philip and Vernor, in Detroit, after the younger boy turned onto Philip, and lost control of his car, crashing into a parked vehicle.

During the chase, Officer Lyford fired six bullets at the fleeing youths, five of which hit the car.

The Farms officers said that the two boys had been drinking, and when arrested, used very abusive language. Five full bottles of beer were found in the boys' car, the officers said.

The 16-year-old was turned over to juvenile authorities, and Cosentino was charged with being drunk and disorderly and for being in possession of alcoholic beverages.

Cosentino was released on $25 bond, pending a hearing date in the Farms Municipal Court; and was scheduled to appear in City Court for violation of a six-month probation, imposed after he was found guilty of possession of alcohol by City Judge Douglas Paterson, last June 20.

Charges against the younger man have been filed with juvenile authorities, in regard to the gas station burglary, Chief Louwers said.

Must Stand Trial
On Monday, October 5, the 16-year-old was taken before a referee of the Juvenile Division of the Probate Court, who ruled that the youth must stand trial in Juvenile Court in about two weeks, on the Farms charge.

He is still detained at the Juvenile Detention Home, according to Farms Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem.

Chief Louwers said that charges against the youth for the gas station burglary had only been filed against the 16-year-old, as a supplement to the Farms' charge. Two charges cannot be held against a juvenile at the same time, in any Juvenile Court, according to law, the chief added.

Survey

ing vehicle, poor brakes, insufficient lights and letting unlicensed drivers operate a vehicle.

The survey brought out a very significant fact concerning the trained group. Of the 137 violations, 54, or 40 per cent, were committed by 23 of the 766 drivers covered. Thus, about 3 per cent of the drivers committed 40 per cent of the violations for which tickets were issued.

A further check revealed that of the 23 most frequent violators, 8 drivers had exhibited their total failure of the Driver Education courses. They picked up 28 tickets or more than 20 per cent of all those recorded in the survey.

Need More Training
Driver Education instructors stated that while these 8 drivers had definitely demonstrated that they should not be licensed to drive, at least as yet, they also felt the group of 23 most frequently ticketed had failed the course on attitude alone. More training was definitely in order, they said.

However, the teachers are rightfully proud of the perfect record more than 80 per cent of the group was compiling and of the generally very good record 87 per cent claimed. They feel it ably demonstrates that good habits and attitudes can be instilled with proper training.

The need for parental assistance and supervision was emphasized. This is to insure that opportunities for behind-the-wheel practice and road experience are plentiful. An even greater need, perhaps, is for a greater consciousness on the part of all drivers that good examples of judgment, courtesy and abiding by the rules of the road must be given for young drivers to emulate.

To Give Lecture About Viet Nam

An unusually fine and timely program on Viet Nam will be presented at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center Wednesday evening, October 28, at 8 o'clock.

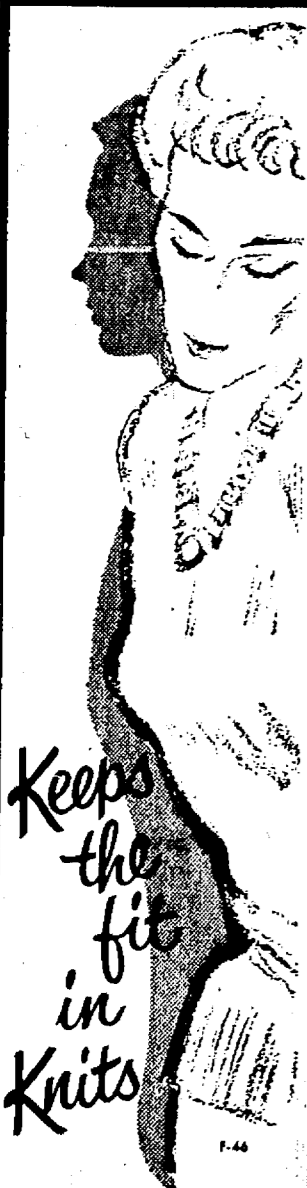

Miss Helen Callbeck, recently returned from six years in Australia, will lecture on "Viet Nam—A House Divided," illustrating her talk with excellent colored slides. Miss Callbeck taught in Hanoi, was the only American living with Vietnamese families during the last eight months of the civil war and was the last American woman to leave the country. Miss Callbeck has also taught in Tokyo and in the Philippines. She has been the guest of the present Chief Minister of Malaya and served as delegate to the World Federation conference in Tokyo. She has further visited every state and Territory of Australia.

Miss Callbeck received her Master's Degree in Social Group work from Northwestern. Since her sojourn in Asia she has become a most popular lecturer in Australia, Canada and the United States. She will be speaking at the Grosse Pointe University School just prior to her appearance at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

In the light of the recent troubles in Laos, the publishing of "The Ugly American" and the TV production of "The Splendid American," this illustrated lecture should be of great current interest.

The program is offered free of charge to the members of the Grosse Pointe communities.

Introducing Pointe's Newest Teachers

Third grade teacher PATRICIA ANN THOMAS, left, and first grade teacher LOIS FAUST are shown some of the resource materials available to them at Barnes School by PRINCIPAL FLORENCE CUMINGS (right). The teachers are newcomers to the school staff this fall.

Miss Patricia Thomas is a Grosse Pointe girl who went East to Bradford College in Massachusetts for her first two years in college. She received her A.B. in Education at the University of Michigan. She teaches third grade this year at Barnes. Her hobbies are playing the piano and listening to music, and she goes skiing whenever possible.

When increased enrollment indicated that an additional first grade class would be needed this fall, Miss Lois Faust was obtained as teacher for this new classroom. She is a graduate with an A.B. in Education from Michigan State University.

Although she enjoyed her previous teaching in the primary grades in San Jose, California, she was easily persuaded to return to Michigan—to be closer to her family in Grand Rapids, to continue her hobby of skiing, and to be able to attend college football games here.

Church Youths To Wash Cars

The Youth Group of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church is sponsoring two money making projects under the title of Work Day for Christ, with the proceeds going to the Christian World Missions.

Tomorrow, October 16, they are having a paper drive, from 9 until 4 o'clock. Anyone who wishes to have papers collected, should call Linda Firth at TU 4-2729 or Bob Emerson at TU 1-5310.

On Saturday, October 17, the teenagers will be washing cars of any Pointe residents, (or others, too), at the church, Chalfonte and Lothrop roads, for the price of $1.00. Any donations over that set price will, of course, be welcomed for this worthy cause.

In charge of these two projects is Bob Emerson, and he is ably assisted by numerous other young people, including Joan Kasabach, Dave Wark, Jim Gould, Sue Groehn and Linda Firth.

Pure Automobile

The story of the all-new ones from Chrysler Corporation for 1960

PLYMOUTH • DODGE DART • DODGE DE SOTO • CHRYSLER • IMPERIAL VALIANT (On its way—Watch for it!)

Here are cars that are pure automobile—engineered for silent motion. Big, but not clumsy, fresh with the quiet beauty of quality.

The size is for comfort and use, not for show. There is no glare of chrome, but what chrome there is will last years longer than the chrome you used to get.

Sculptured by the wind

These are "The Quick, the Strong, and the Quiet"—cars with lines that seem sculptured by the wind, cars made for quiet, effortless motion.

Engineers put it this way: "University wind-tunnel tests show that the fluid dynamics of the new designs reduce the drag coefficient 14%."

This means that the engine doesn't have to work so hard to push the car through the air. If you drive at speeds of from 20 to 60 miles an hour, the savings on gasoline are equal to a price cut of a penny a gallon.

The car surrounds you with silence. You travel so quietly that, until you get used to it, you think you're going 10 miles per hour slower than you actually are.

Unibody Construction: frame flows into the body, makes it twice as strong, twice as quiet—surrounds you with silent strength.

One of the big reasons for this is Unibody Construction—a new concept in car building.

UNIBODY CONSTRUCTION—A new way to build cars we learned making missiles

Unibody Construction finally delivers what earlier "unitized" body construction never quite could. By designing body and frame into a complete unit, a surprising number of squeaks and rattles have gone with the nuts and bolts.

Electronic engineering, the same engineering that enabled Chrysler Corporation to make America's most successful missiles, Redstone and Jupiter, ends the months of production once needed to work the bugs out of new model automobiles. Now the first car off the assembly line at Chrysler Corporation is as excellent as the ones which roll off five months later.

Briefly, giant electronic computers predict performance before the car is built. They make computations in a few weeks that would take an engineering staff years of full-time work to figure out. As a result, we know just where to locate the engine mounts, just what spots to weld, and what gauges of metals to use. Electronic engineering has given us a better way to build better automobiles.

Quietness also comes from the way the engine is mounted. A rubber shelf soaks up high-frequency noises. A specially mounted heavy-duty spring reduces noise in the low-frequency range. Any little noises left over are muffled by the most lavish use of insulation yet.

1960 cars from Chrysler Corporation are no higher or longer outside, but you get more room inside. The reason? Unibody Construction—our new way to build cars.

But Unibody Construction does more than surround you with silence. It permits more room inside without raising the roof or stretching the car.

Framed like bridge trusses, the new bodies give you twice the torsional strength of previous models, along with 40% greater beam strength. Nearly a million miles of road tests indicate that any model could have a life expectancy almost twice that of any car built in America in the past decade. Think what this is going to do for the re-sale value.

The whole body is treated to prevent rust One of the big reasons for the marked increase in the life expectancy of these cars comes from the extraordinary precautions that Chrysler Corporation engineers take to prevent rust.

Not only is all metal specially cleaned to remove oil traces but the body is dipped a total of seven times.

Salt spray tests proved that panels treated this way remained rust-free five times longer than otherwise identical methods.

This means that you can drive one of these new cars years longer and rust won't mar its beauty. Think what this is going to do for the re-sale value!

Any one of these available features would make these new cars news

When the engine starts, all doors lock. Driver-controlled door locks are available on most 1960 cars from Chrysler Corporation.

The Driver's Back Rest is 2 to 3 inches higher than rest of the front seat. Cuts fatigue.

Swivel Seats—1960 seats automatically swing out when you open the door.

New Ram-Induction Engines using the principles of a supercharger give greater passing power. (Available in high-performance models.)

Safety-Blinkers give you blinking lights front and rear, in case of an emergency stop.

The next step to take is down to your dealer's. Plymouth... Dodge Dart... Dodge... De Soto... Chrysler... or Imperial. A drive will bring out the difference great engineering makes.

Building Permit Battle In Woods Going to Court

The case of Thomas LaHood and the Midas Muffler Shop versus the City of Grosse Pointe Woods is scheduled to come before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Theodore Souris tomorrow, October 16, at 9:30 a.m., room 1913, City and County building.

The City of Grosse Pointe Woods has been asked to defend in court its reasons for not issuing a permit to the Midas Muffler shop for use of the building at 20493 Mack avenue.

Following application for a building permit, the matter was brought before the Woods Planning Commission, June 23. The Planning Commission, after reviewing the matter, recommended to the Woods council that the application be denied.

The recommendation to deny was based on the fact that a muffler shop was not one of the "permitted uses within the contemplation of the zoning ordinance" in that area. In qualifying this statement, it was explained that the muffler shop business was not just for residents of the area, rather it would draw motorists from a large area. This would tie up traffic on Mack avenue, which is already heavily congested. It was also thought that the dust, fumes and noise produced by such a business would not comply with the zoning ordinance.

brought suit against the Woods. When the case came to court, however, Judge Souris refused to hear it because the application for the building permit had not been made to the Woods City Clerk.

On September 14, Seymour J. Levine, architect for Midas Muffler Shops, applied to Woods City Clerk, Mrs. Leona Liddle, for a building permit for the Midas Muffler Shop. Again the permit was denied on the same grounds as previously stated.

The Planning Commission of the Woods and Mrs. Liddle were then presented with court summons on September 26. The date for appearance in court was set for October 5, and on that date, the trial was scheduled for October 16.

Any residents of the City of Grosse Pointe Woods who have any testimony they wish to submit in connection with this case, have been requested by Woods City Administrator William H. Lange to appear in court tomorrow, October 16. This will enable all residents in the vicinity of the building in question to speak their piece.

be served the first two days and for the entire Open House period there'll be useful souvenir gifts for all visitors. During Open House all First Federal offices will show exhibits of rare coins by leading Detroit dealers and collectors. Total value of the exhibits at 12 First Federal offices is estimated at $250,000.

Visitors to the company's local office will have an opportunity to start their own private collections with an anniversary gift offer being made by First Federal. With each new savings account opened with $5 or more, First Federal will give a packet of 15 foreign coins—real money from faraway lands, including lire, annas, groschen, dinars, centavos, markka and other small denomination coins from Europe, Africa and the Orient. Set of these authentic coins would make interesting and educational gifts for youngsters, Manager Phelps points out.

Other gifts include a medalion key chain and an interesting 32-page "Book of Presidents," just for dropping in during the 25th anniversary Open House. You are invited to bring your children and a friend or neighbor.

Notre Dame Drugs Stocks Famed Candy

Notre Dame Pharmacy, Grosse Pointe's pioneer drugstore, Kercheval at Notre Dame, has been selected as an outlet for Fanny Farmer Candy in the Village, according to Lenoard D. Griffiths, president of Fanny Farmer Candy Shops of Rochester, N.Y.

Free samples of this popular candy and Kiddie Pops were given to store visitors on Friday, October 9, by George S. Knuff, who owns the pharmacy.

The store will offer a wide selection of ready packaged Fanny Farmer Candies and various holiday assortments, as well as hard candies and chocolates.

Those who can keep secrets are playing a kind of confidence game.

Dr. Lynn Bartlett Coming to Defer

Defer PTA will welcome an old friend and faithful servant of Grosse Pointe Schools when Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett comes to speak to their group Monday, October 9, at 8 p.m.

Dr. Bartlett, an active participant with state, county and local groups working on financing of Michigan schools, is a member of Michigan Education Association and many other professional groups. He is now State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Dr. Bartlett had a wide background and experience and Defer school at Nottingham and Kercheval avenues invites all residents to hear this noted citizen.

Also at this meeting, PTA President Robert Maynard will introduce Miss Marjorie Harger who is the new assistant principal. Defer's new teachers will also be presented.

Legion Ladies Win Awards

The Detroit Districts of the American Legion Auxiliary awarded the Grosse Pointe Auxiliary No. 303, Monday night with the following awards: Rehabilitation — Fishman Trophy.

Woods Bandit Suspect Bound Over for Trial

Joseph P. Mirabella, 44, of 17225 Vaughan, Detroit, entered a plea of innocent to a charge of robbery armed at an examination held before Woods Judge Don Doodrow on Wednesday, September 30.

The judge set bond at $5,000, which Mirabella could not meet, and he was bound over to the custody of the Wayne County Sheriff, to await trial in circuit court.

Woods Det. Sgt. Walter O'Dell and Det. Leroy Tobian said that Mirabella, who is accused of robbing a Woods couple in their home on September 21, named a 22-year-old Detroit as his companion in crime.

The officers said that Mirabella gave only the first name and a brief description of his partner, and supposed address. The detective team said they made several arrests of persons answering the description, but released them when they proved they were not involved in the robbery. They are still looking for the young man, the officers said.

Mirabella, a Jackson Prison parolee, and his partner, are accused of holding up Leslie Lambardi, 43, of 1251 S. Renaud, and his wife, Connie, 35, owners of a Detroit restaurant, of $1,200.

Also a victim of the bandits was Mrs. Mary Zerillo, 41, of 12726 Loretto, Detroit, a waitress in Lambardi's restaurant, who was a dinner guest of her employer and his wife, the night of the robbery.

Mirabella was arrested by Woods Patrolmen Donald Sabel and Robert Sass at Mack and Oxford, five minutes after the holdup was broadcast over the police communication system.

At the time of his arrest, Mirabella refused to implicate his partner, who was said to have held the gun and threatened the three victims, because the partner did not have a police record and he did not want the young man to become involved.

At the station, where he was taken following his arrest, police searched Mirabella and found Mrs. Lambardi's wallet, containing her driver's license and other papers, and $490 in cash. Mirabella also had Mrs. Lambardi's $200 watch on his person.

When questioned by O'Dell and Tobian, Mirabella said that he and his companion had been going to Lambardi's restaurant for two weeks, watching when he closed up and what he did with the day's receipts. Then they decided to go to Lambardi's home to rob him.

A man can do anything he puts his mind to—of course, having the mind for it is what really counts.

Braman J. Metzger of 976 Hampton, had his license revoked as of September 23, for having an unsatisfactory driving record and for failing to appear for re-examination.

There will be a prize for the couple most authentic in their dress and also an award for poetry reading which is most convincingly "beatnik."

Students in grades 9-12 of the public, private and parochial high schools of Grosse Pointe are cordially invited to attend this dance. It is a couples only party.

Exchange Teachers Love Us

By Anne Campbell
English and Journalism Instructor at Brownell School

It was the perfect setting for an interview with IRENE and HARRY HUTTON, Grosse Pointe's exchange teachers from England. The warm, fall rain had beat against the pavement below their open window, and now the mist hung in the air as they sipped hot tea and talked of another kind of warmth . . . the hospitality of America.

This is not the Huttons' first teaching experience on foreign soil. They spent over five years in Nigeria, where Mr. Hutton was an education officer for the British Government. There, they lived among the natives, some of the time in bush country, and taught African children. They were frequently without electricity or running water.

Returning to Liverpool in August of 1958, they applied through the English Speaking Union for positions as exchange teachers in America. "I thought," remarked the witty Mr. Hutton, "America . . . Horace Greeley . . . Go west, young man! I had visited the eastern seaboard three times during my service in the British Merchant Navy, and wanted to show my wife this land of fabulous opportunity."

After a visit to New York and Washington in sizzling heat, reminiscent of the African bush, the Huttons decided to take the advice of the commercial, and "Take the bus—leave the driving to us" in order to see the most of America on their way to Michigan.

Leaving Washington at 7 a.m. they were seated in the front row of the top of a "Scenic-Cruiser" which allowed them an uninterrupted view until 10:30. At that time, "the bus began to belch forth billows of smoke and oil and then came to a stop."

The first relief bus to come along had room for only 20 of the passengers. The Huttons remained behind for four hours, during which time they "saw a tremendous lot of a certain acre in Pennsylvania," and were finally picked up by a second relief bus which survived only 10 minutes of travel.

A third bus finally brought them into Detroit at 5:30 the up. Mr. Hutton sums the whole experience up neatly with "In this land of extreme efficiency, it's rather nice to find something which will come unstuck!"

As a teacher of English and social studies at Pierce Junior High School, Mr. Hutton has exchanged places with Charles Jorgenson. Mrs. Hutton, teaching sixth grade at Defer, is the replacement of Trombly's Miss Ann Wallace.

"Pierce Junior High School is probably not typical of schools in general, but I feel it is not 'one of the better' but the BEST organized junior high school in the United States," commented Mr. Hutton. He has been particularly impressed by its excellent discipline, "a reflection of the example set by the principal and staff."

Sports have left impressions upon these charming visitors, too. They have enjoyed, if not understood, our game of football. After an afternoon at Briggs Stadium, the couple were taken to Belle Isle where they were astonished to find two teams engaged in a game of cricket. "The greatest cricketer in England is Sir Leonard Hutton, and I'm sure they thought I had some connection with him. They wanted to sign me up," laughed Mr. Hutton.

Although she misses the "tea breaks" provided teachers in Liverpool, Mrs. Hutton is very happy here. She is thrilled by the friendliness, genuine interest and understanding of the people she has met. Her class found some of Mrs. Hutton's expressions difficult to understand at first, but she was recently informed by one youngster, "You're talking like us, now!"

Certain that their year will pass all too quickly, the Huttons are hoping to see as much of America as they can. They want to go "right straight across to California," with stops along the way at Mt. Rushmore, Yellowstone, the Grand Salt Lake, and the Grand Canyon. "And we want to win a fortune at Las Vegas, and see the giant redwoods, and Hollywood," added Mr. Hutton.

In our best "English," we wish that during this year in Grosse Pointe, the Huttons may never be batting on a sticky wicket!"

Tau Betas Hear Marvin Pettit

"Delinquency in a White Collar Neighborhood" was the subject chosen by Marvin Pettit for his talk at the annual fall Tau Beta meeting held Tuesday evening, October 13, at the home of Mrs. John E. Caulkins, Willow lane. Mr. Pettit brought to Tau Beta the results of a six months survey he conducted in an east-side neighborhood in which he personally interviewed and dealt with first offenders and their parents. Mr. Pettit is Case Work Supervisor of the Neighborhood Service Organization (NSO) of which Tau Beta, Neighborhood House and the Highland Park Community Center are the member agencies.

Inspector Francis E. Davey of the Police Department said of Mr. Pettit: "His approach of going immediately and directly into the homes of children in trouble — rather than waiting for the parents to come to him — has done as much to break up Detroit gangs as any other technique that has been tried."

Other speakers on the agenda included Mrs. James McMahon who reported on the summer session of the Tau Beta Camp in Columbiaville which sponsored over 200 needy children, as well as a two week period for diabetic children under the supervision of the Michigan Diabetes Association.

Mrs. Alexander Blain III as Senior Advisor to the Juniors introduced the Junior president, Julia Ferry, who outlined the volunteer work program for the Juniors at the Rehabilitation Center.

Mrs. Alfred Davock, president, gave her report as did the first two vice-presidents, Mrs. George Duffield and Mrs. Murray Fowler. The treasurer's report was made by Mrs. Charles Wright III and Mrs. Alfred Marks. Mrs. Charles Stewart told of plans for the new "Black and White."

Mrs. Dan Kent Loveland was in charge of arrangements for the fall centerpieces and the refreshments served after the meeting.

Film Forum Starts Friday

The opening program of the Friends' Film Forum will be tomorrow evening, Friday, at 9:15 o'clock, in the Main Reading Room the Central Library, Fisher at Kercheval.

Featured film will be the British comedy "The Belles of St. Trinian's." Inspired by Ronald Searles' Punch drawings of a small, progressive English girls' school, this romping story stars Alastair Sim in a dual role — headmistress and that lady's bookmaker brother. Sim scores again and he and Joyce Grenfell, noted British actress, as a policewoman, do masterful acting.

The Film Forum series is co-sponsored by the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library and the Grosse Pointe Public Library. Monthly programs, October through April, are scheduled each third Monday evening. The showings are open to the public and are for adult audiences. A cordial welcome is extended to all to attend them.

Couples' Club To Hear Merker

Dr. Harvey M. Merker, retired director of scientific relations for Parke, Davis & Company, will speak on "Adventures in Medicine from Witchcraft to World Health" before the Couple's Club of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on October 16.

A widely-known speaker and pharmaceutical authority, Dr. Merker's talk will include many dramatic incidents in connection with medical discoveries — Insulin for Diabetes — Antibiotics and Sulfas for Infections — Vaccine for Polio — Hormones for glandular disturbances — and Promin for Leprosy. These represent a few of the great advances made during recent years.

Dr. Merker's name has long been connected with the Detroit Institute of Cancer Research — the Kresge Eye Institute — and University of Michigan activities.

He is a member of the Board of Governors of the University of Michigan Phoenix Memorial Project on Atoms for Peace. Recently he was cited by the Detroit Common Council for his many activities in the welfare, religious, educational, business and scientific organizations. He was named honorary "First Citizen of Detroit."

Cub Scout Pack Meets Oct. 19

The Kerby School Cub Scout Pack 481 will hold its second Pack meeting of the current season this coming Monday evening, October 19, at 7:15 in the Kerby School gym. This is a change in date due to the school election the following Monday.

Den 10, led by Mrs. Robert Christian, who won the signal flag at the September meeting will present the Flag Ceremony. Cubbers, Ricky Briscoe, Gary Brooks, Dennis Duika will participate.

Cubmaster Don Bliss and Bill Maccani, Advancement Chairman, will present Wolf, Bear and Lion badges to those boys who have completed the required twelve achievements for each rank. New boys joining the Pack will receive their Bobcat pins.

Within the past week Mrs. Robert Kellogg took her Den 5 on a tour of the Detroit Times. Mrs. Mark Retenbach's Den 1 will be driving to the Edison Institute. Puppet shows will engage the lively interest of Mrs. Charles Parcells, Den 5, whereas the boys in Den 2, under the supervision of Mrs. Mark J. Oldani are making rain gauges to measure the amount of rainfall.

Parents of boys born in 1951 whose sons are not already Cub Scouts, who live in the Kerby area and who are interested in Cubbing, are urged to immediately contact other parents of eight year old boys. In the event four to eight families are interested, a representative parent should contact Jim Walner, Enrollment Chairman at 167 Ridgmont, Tuxedo 4-3311.

It is assumed that the mothers of such boys would agree to serve a semester as a Den Mother, whereas the fathers would serve as committee members or Den Dads. According to Mrs. Robert J. Sutton, Den Mother Coordinator, a few vacancies remain for new 9 year old prospective Cubs, and the above information would also apply to their parents. Cubbing is a family affair for boys 8 to 11 years old when they are eligible for Boy Scouts.

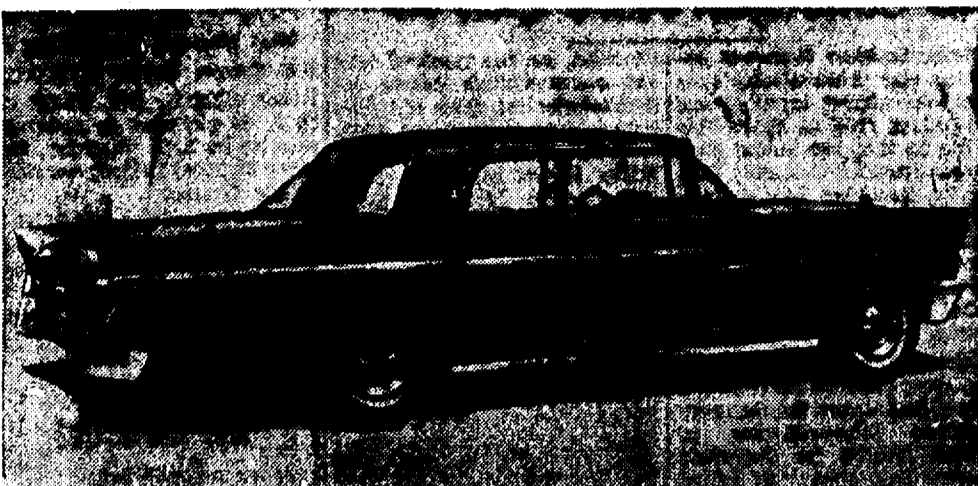

The largest senior class in the history of The University of Michigan School of Nursing was graduated last year.

New Lincoln Has Striking Profile

A striking profile for the 1960 Lincoln is the result of a completely redesigned roof which gives the car a more formal look. The different shaped rear window has 177 additional square inches of glass area for improved rearward visibility. Inside, the instrument panel has been completely restyled, to give the car a precision look. A smoother ride and greater handling ease are the result of a new Hotchkiss rear suspension with leaf springs. In addition to the Lincoln four-door sedan in the Lincoln and Premier series. Frank Adam, Inc., Lincoln and Lincoln Continental agency, 130 Kercheval avenue (On-the-Hill), is showing the new models.

Schools Offering Portrait Class

Stephen P. Davis will conduct two classes in portrait painting for the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System. An evening class will be held on Mondays, and an afternoon class on Wednesdays, both courses to continue for a 10-week period of three hours each.

Mr. Davis and his work are well known in the Grosse Pointe area, since he has done many portraits for local families and very recently exhibited some of his portraits in Grosse Pointe.

He has taught at the University of Michigan, at the Dearborn Art Institute, was Director of the Extension School of Art at the University of Colorado, in addition to many private classes for adults and children.

He studied in England, France and Italy on a Fellowship grant. His paintings hang in several museums as well as in private collections of note. In 1953 he won the annual award of the Detroit Round-Table for his painting "Brotherhood". Several cities own murals painted by Mr. Davis; one being hung in the Department of the Interior at Washington, D. C.

He had his first one-man show at the Whitney Museum in New York at the age of 19. While in Europe on a travelling fellowship he had the unusual honor to study three months in Picasso's studio. Mr. Davis is one of a few American artists with the distinction of being represented in the Louvre in Paris by a painting — "Mary".

He has painted and drawn well over 2,000 portraits, among these people famous in many fields, including screen and stage. Equal to his love of executing his art; Mr. Davis considers teaching a great challenge, as "to teach is to learn twice". He feels teaching and portraiture are two main blood life-lines for the practicing artist, since teaching inspires him as people often do in portraiture. To study and enjoy portraiture, according to Mr. Davis, one need have no previous training in art; the most necessary ingredient for personal satisfaction and success being and eagerness to learn.

Reservations for Mr. Davis's classes may be made by calling the Department of Community Services, 43 Grosse Pointe Boulevard, at TU 5-3808 or TU 5-0271.

Seymour Jacobson to Show His Collection Here Oct. 16

Dress designer Seymour Jacobson was scholastically prepared for almost anything but the fashion field he chose. Majoring in law, the young New Yorker attended Columbia University, Brooklyn Law School, and St. Lawrence University — then upon graduation, cast aside his text books and called upon his flair for design to make a living in the world of creative fashion as a dress stylist.

Almost immediately, recognition came from all parts of the United States, and the Seymour Jacobson interpretations of French fashion for American consumption were soon hailed as "premier comprehension."

He has been president of the National Dress Manufacturer's Association for five years, and is now the official American representative of the Chambre de Syndicate de France, (Society of French Creative Designers).

Organizer of international charities, he has received special commendation awards for humanitarianism from the governments of France and Italy. When Seymour Jacobson brings his holiday and resort collection to Jacobson's Store in Grosse Pointe, Oct. 16, it will mark his first showing in Michigan. This year his collection shows elegant dresses designed for the woman of extreme chic, and social activity. There are cocktail dresses, cruise wear and grand entrance dresses of beautiful fabrics; magnificently detailed. (Prices are from $69 to $140.)

Future Nurses Plan Induction

The Pointe Future Nurses Club, sponsored by Grosse Pointe High School and the Women's Auxiliary to Cottage Hospital, has tripled its membership this year.

Mrs. John Purcell, chairman of the Volunteer Guild, and Mrs. Robert Howard direct their work in the hospital, and enthusiasm is running very high.

On Wednesday, October 21 at 3:30 o'clock the Future Nurses will hold an induction of new members in Miller Hall, Christ Church. Seventy girls will be taken in at a candle lighting ceremony and the mothers of these girls are also invited.

The president of the organization is Karen Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Taylor of Lakeland avenue. She will present the program for the coming year which will acquaint the girls with the opportunities in nursing, physical therapy and occupational therapy.

Miss Margaret Rice will present each with a white blouse which they will wear while on duty, along with the pink pinafore the national uniform.

The Women's Auxiliary also presents an annual Honor Award for outstanding volunteer work, and the 1958-59 recipient was Sue Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Orr.

Spring Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon P. Smith, of Marysville, formerly of Grosse Pointe, announce the engagement of their daughter, PATRICIA SUZANNE SMITH of Lancaster road, to Charles R. Jaquish, Jr., son of Mrs. C. Mothers' Club Begins Drive

There are many who say a dollar doesn't go as far these days, so it is a pleasure to find one location where it can be spent to bring in interest, enjoyment and dividends. Membership in the Grosse Pointe High School Mothers' Club does all three for those who respond to the drive planned for October 19-23.

Interest comes as a result of participation in school activities, the better understanding of parent-student-school relations and a more direct communication with what goes on in the school program.

Enjoyment comes from acquaintances formed through Neighborhood Groups, the tradition of the Christmas Tea and the association with an organization whose objectives reflect those of individual parents—namely to assist the school in helping young men and women to mature intellectually, socially, and morally as responsible members of their communities.

The dividends come from the satisfaction of contributing to the funds which since 1931 have helped 174 Grosse Pointe High School graduates to further their education through a program of financial grants amounting to date to $42,300.

A father of one student receiving such assistance wrote to the Scholarship committee: "I think it was your display of confidence in her ability that made doing the impossible seem necessary."

A letter from another recipient states: "I will always do my best to make you feel that your gift was put to good use. I do like school very much although at times it seems like an awfully hard job. Well, I'll just keep studying and some day when I'm a teacher I'll come and show you my appreciation for all you have done for me." Is this not proof of a good investment.

AAUW Groups Plan Meetings

William Hoover, instructor in photography for Grosse Pointe High School's adult program and teacher at Richard school, will present his slides entitled "A Photographer Sees Europe" for the Tuesday Evening Group of AAUW on Tuesday, October 20, at 7:45 o'clock.

Mr. Hoover has just returned to Grosse Pointe after a year of teaching the children of U. S. Army personnel in England and of travel in European countries. Mrs. S. B. Dombrowski, 767 Rivard, is hostess to this event, assisted by Miss Sarah Alexander, and Miss Marie Ann Onest.

"Labor Problems and How Recent Legislation Has Sought to Solve Them" is the subject for discussion by Mrs. William T. Krebs, and Mrs. M. L. Van Dagens for the Legislative Program on Thursday, October 22, at 10 a.m. Mrs. Frederick J. Schumann, 1100 Devonshire will be hostess to the Legislative members.

They Deserve Your Support

Much credit is due the members of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education and administrators of the public school system for the job they are doing in enlightening the public on the issues at stake in the coming special school election. The campaign they are waging represents a vast change from the attitude of school boards some years back.

We well remember when a major bond issue was proposed a decade ago for needed school buildings. The board at that time was almost insulting in its determination to ram the proposal down the throats of the voters. Speakers who appeared before public gatherings practically told their audiences that they had no right to question the whys or wherefors of the bond issue. They should simply go out and approve it and stop asking for details.

The attitude was so arrogant that this paper took a stand against approval of the proposed bond issue. It was defeated at the polls and the board members quickly realized that they had done a very poor public relations job. They asked for advice and were given it. "Treat the public with the respect it deserves. Lay all the facts on the table and supply all the information requested, courteously and willingly." A complete-about face was accomplished and when the bond issue was proposed the second time, it passed easily.

Ever since then, the school officials have displayed remarkable zeal in preparing the disseminating information pertinent to elections on school matters and they have had no trouble in getting the support of the voters. It is hoped the same result will be obtained in this special election on Monday, October 26.

The voters, and may there be many of them, should realize that the Board of Education is not trying to sell any bill of goods of its own. The members are civic-minded, elected public officials who are doing a difficult and often a thankless job of providing the community with the finest school system possible. Their pay is in no way commensurate with the time and effort they expend on the job. Their main satisfaction lies in watching the accomplishments of the system they are helping maintain and develop. The product turned out by the public schools is the source of their greatest pride.

Members of the board have been tireless in their pursuit of success in the coming balloting. Night after night they have appeared individually at meetings of Parent-Teacher groups and other organizations, answering questions and telling their story of the importance of meeting present needs to keep our schools abreast of the competition and providing our young students with the finest opportunities for education and character-formation.

The staff employes have prepared tables of statistics, obtained pictures, written stories to point up the message. The story on page one of this issue should be particularly interesting to those few critics who think we have gone overboard in building up our school system, and spoiled our youngsters with fancy frills. It should come as quite a surprise to learn that there are many other systems in other communities which are spending far more per pupil than are we in the Pointe.

We don't believe in frills either, but we do believe in giving these students the best possible facilities to encourage them in their education. We believe the Board of Education has done a fine job in furnishing the material which backs up their contention that these needs are real. We hope the voters will support them.

Guest columnist: Peg Cannon

A new department store was opened up near us the other day with a tremendous amount of fanfare and accompanying publicity. The newspapers all carried pictures of Mayor So & So making a speech and the Senator from Such & Such cutting the ribbon. Bugles blared and flags waved but the news BEHIND the news was left for A. Pryor to report. Pryor who brings you ALL the news as it happens, before it happens or especially if it never happens.

Two days before the store opening the store president and vice-president, resplendent in gray flannel executive suits, (matching vests), were making a final tour of inspection. As they approached the only elevator in operation, two painters in overalls carrying ladders and buckets of paint were preparing to enter it too. The elevator obviously would not be large enough for all.

One of the painters bowed low "After you, sir" he said "Aren't you the president?"

The president returned the bow. "After YOU" he replied. "Am I not paying you $3.00 per hour?"

The tearoom manager of the same store is a genial and free individual. It has long been his habit to give out free cups of coffee to his pals among the employes.

On opening day, with only a few minutes left before hordes of hungry, thirsty shoppers would descend upon the tearoom, the manager found himself still pouring out interminable streams of free coffee for his pals. His panic mounted in direct ratio to the mountains of dirty cups and saucers piling up in the kitchen. But his solution would have done credit to a diplomat trained by Dale Carnegie. He hastily improvised a sign and hung it on the thirty gallon coffee maker. It read "Coffee Urn Cleanser Added. Deadly Poison; Don't Drink!" Underneath he drew a large black skull and crossbones.

(Wonder if this idea would have worked at our house last Saturday night when the children invaded our kitchen just before the boss arrived for dinner?)

Incidentally, we found out why chefs are always men. Girls, you'll be happy to know it has nothing to do with culinary talent. It takes a hefty shoulder to manipulate a hot pan containing a Steamship Roast of Beef fit for a giant. Housewives, don't bother to remember the name of the cut—they weight upwards of fifty pounds!

By the close of the first day, the store had already had one exchange. It was a baby sweater, size one, with a tiny elephant applique at the shoulder. Under "Reason for exchange" the customer had written "My baby is of a different political persuasion."! Possibly a Mug-Wump?

Letters to the Editor

The following letter is a copy of one sent to the Mayor and Council of the City of Grosse Pointe. The copy was sent to the NEWS to be printed in this column.

Gentlemen:

As a resident of the City of Grosse Pointe here are my views on the controversy over the improvement of the Unitarian Church facilities at 17440 East Jefferson.

I was not aware we had an ordinance restricting the building of churches and schools in our city, and am definitely opposed to such legislation.

I realize that churches, schools and community centers may be a source of slight discomfort to nearby residents but who would care to live in a community where such civic endeavors were prohibited? This is the only church in Grosse Pointe City. Shall a dissident minority force us to live in a community bereft of churches and schools?

I am not affiliated in any way with the Unitarian Church. I speak only as a resident of the community. At present I attend the Methodist Church in Grosse Pointe Farms and am a member of the Riverside Church in New York City. In the past year both of these churches have greatly expanded and now provide improved parking facilities. I am thankful that no self-interested minority crusaded against this progress. I know the neighboring citizens are proud of having these fine, well-tended structures in their communities.

I hope the opposing group will reconsider their position. As most of them are members of the churches of their choice, perhaps a demonstration of Christian charity would be in order.

Sincerely yours
 Renee F. Lord
 Mrs. Richard J. Lord

Dear Sir:

There have been so many squirrels killed on our streets, lately, Moran road for one. I wish the driver of the car or truck who happens to hit one of these little fellows would stop and take it off the street.

Little children are stopping to look at the dead animals in the street and some day one of those children will get hit by a car. So to avoid an accident, please don't leave dead animals on the streets. Thanks,
 A friend of the squirrels and birds.

Guest Columnist: Louise Leeson

We must have a list of best sellers as well as best dressed beauties. The ten best of anything and everything makes headlines daily. Perhaps there is magic in the number ten. Perhaps making lists is a national fever.

The best seller list is unique. It is a statistic with a difference because it deals with people and books. We waste a casual glance on the American beauties, beast or human. We fail to come unglued by the selection of Miss Universe. How sheep or grain are selling leaves us cold, though it may mean bread and butter to some, or life and death. How we seethe when disappointed in the list of best sellers. We breathe fire when the gross and fulsome novel vies in sales with the work of artistic and social importance. The controversial list causes friendships to wax or wane. How strange that so much commotion is sparked by a sales index.

It must be there is emotion somewhere in this contact of reader with book. We think not of millions of people buying books, but of ourselves, alone, reading—being touched, illuminated, angered. By some alchemy the printed matter becomes a person to person involvement, as sentiment in friendship or enmity.

It's interesting to put the list aside for a while, as we speak of something so personal. Don't let's throw it away! There may be an important book on it. Using the list as a barometer, we can read the highs and lows of our culture at a glance. Thus it makes philosophers of us all, as well as making good table talk. Our time is so precious. We hoard a few minutes of time each day by using a printed agenda. Yet, hurried and harried by our multitudinous chores, we do not choose our friends from a printed list of best people to know. Our nearest and dearest are high on our personal roster. We know they would be at the top in any national poll, were they to stand up and be counted. How many thousands of books, bringing knowledge and refreshment to human spirits, are uncoupled on the best seller lists.

Year by year we widen our circle of friends, choosing some for wisdom or wit, some for heartiness or just plain heart. Season by season we enlarge our reading interests for reasons as personal as those of friendship. We cultivate the time-tested few who speak to our hearts. We welcome the new, in charity toward the vagaries of human personality. How wonderful the moments we would miss, the friends we could by-pass were our eyes glued to a list.

We sympathize with the patron who laid the book fastidiously on the desk. Her nose wrinkled in distaste as she asked, "How did THIS ever make the best seller list?" The question is too big for most of us to answer. We refer you to our psychopathologist.

It is comfortable, at such a time, to think about the 90,000 books at the Grosse Pointe Public Library. The book friends of our youth are there, to satisfy our nostalgic longing. The age-old wonder and wisdom are there between covers, caring not a fig for best sellers.

A gifted new writer may warrant a meeting. He may have something personal to say to each one of us. Let's not cut him dead while our noses are deep in THE LIST.

People once treated sties with corn meal and honey. Today we wouldn't think of using a concoction such as this near our eyes. But then, we're lucky. We have many fast-acting, pleasant antibiotics for infections—thanks to medical science. Ask your physician about these newer, effective remedies . . . let him decide which medications are best for your needs. Then, bring his prescriptions to us for compounding.

*A host must be a butler and
Assistant cook, must shake each hand.
Must be a mixer, both of drinks
And people, taking out the kinks
In conversation, filling pauses,
Must, with a laugh like Santa Claus's,
Guffaw at jokes he's heard before
And even, bravely, beg for more....
Butler, barkeep, politician,
Psychologist, perhaps physician
(Or surgeon—he can carve a roast).
He is so many he's a host.*

Bridge Night At The Neighbors

By Dorothy Rockwell McWood

*We laid our cards aside to see
The dawdling bedtime pageantry
As in pj's our neighbors' mites
Trooped in to kiss and yawn goodnight—
"Goodnight, sweet dreams; goodnight, sleep tight!"
But one, the oldest of the four,
Hung back uncertain at the door
To weigh this parent-child routine
Against the fact of new thirteen....
Then, quite resolved, yet at snail's pace,
He came to kiss his mother's face.
He kissed his grandmama, his aunt,
While we who watched joined in the chant—
"Goodnight, sweet dreams; goodnight, sleep tight!"
But when he stood before his dad,

Amy Around The World

In addition to her busy life as author and columnist, Amy Vanderbilt is a woman who loves dancing, is a marvelous cook, is active in her suburban community's mental health association and is the mother of three growing boys. She has a lot of fun, whatever she's doing, and this month shares with us some of the fun she's had in her many delightful trips abroad.

The Grey-Flannel Set

Here's a major advertising agency that solved its commuting and space problems by moving its entire operation to the suburb in which most of the staff lives. They now have their own building, commute in ten minutes or less, take clients to lunch at the country club; and business keeps growing.

A Bird Watcher Strikes Back

And about time, too. After reading Aurelia Reiner's delightful tale, you may agree with the people who think the expression "Now, there's a queer bird," refers not to any of our feathered friends and their habits—but to those amusing and exasperating groups of people whose questions and barbs have finally goaded this spirited bird watcher into "striking back."

First Allowance

Do you remember what you did with your first allowance? Do you remember how carefully you counted it, over and over again, and how you spent it and on how many different, wonderful things? Here is the story, in pictures, of what one little girl did with her very own first thirty cents.

Host

By Richard Armour

*A host must be a butler and
Assistant cook, must shake each hand,
Must be a mixer, both of drinks
And people, taking out the kinks
In conversation, filling pauses,
Must, with a laugh like Santa Claus's,
Guffaw at jokes he's heard before
And even, bravely, beg for more....
Butler, barkeep, politician,
Psychologist, perhaps physician
(Or surgeon—he can carve a roast),
He is so many he's a host.*

Bridge Night At The Neighbors

By Dorothy Rockwell McWood

*We laid our cards aside to see
The dawdling bedtime pageantry
As in pj's our neighbors' mites
Trooped in to kiss and yawn goodnights—
"Goodnight, sweet dreams; goodnight, sleep tight."
But one, the oldest of the four,
Hung back uncertain at the door
To weigh this parent-child routine
Against the fact of new thirteen....
Then, quite resolved, yet at snail's pace,
He came to kiss his mother's face.
He kissed his grandmama, his aunt,
While we who watched joined in the chant—
"Goodnight, sweet dreams; goodnight, sleep tight."
But when he stood before his dad,
It was apparent that he had
In one translucent moment spanned
A world. He offered him his hand.*

We Moved Our Big-City Business to the Suburbs

*After the move — from downtown
Detroit to Bloomfield Hills — business grew and grew*

BY ERNEST A. JONES

BLOOMFIELD HILLS is about the last place in Michigan where you would expect to find a hard-working national advertising agency. Twenty-three miles from downtown Detroit, it is a picturesque region of rolling country and woods and lakes. Here, a generation ago, the famous Finnish architect Eliel Saarinen was commissioned to build George Booth's Cranbrook Art Center. Here today live many of the chiefs of the automobile industry and leading civic figures of Detroit in Tudor manors and modern Swiss chalets and hospitable white clapboard country houses. There is a concentration of wealth and power in these hills, but the atmosphere is still rural. People ride to hounds over the unfenced fields. The big estates depend on their own wells for water supply because the Hills, or "Culture Corners" as it has been called, up to now has no town water.

Why We Took To The Hills

Why would a big advertising agency move to such a suburb? It happened this way: our agency, which was originally located in one of Detroit's skyscrapers, was bursting at the seams. We already occupied three floors of a big downtown building and additional space was not available. A move was definitely in order. The question was, where to move? As a first step in deciding, we took a survey of our personnel — account executives, copy writers, artists and art directors. It turned out that most of them already lived in and around Bloomfield Hills. James R. Adams, late Chairman of the Board, also lived there and was impressed with the quiet and creative atmosphere—an atmosphere conducive to the inspiration and creation of top-level advertising. He suggested the move to Bloomfield Hills.

We then discussed the possibility with several of our major clients—Pontiac, Cadillac, The Dow Chemical Company, Bendix Aviation and others. All of them were encouraging and, as a result, we literally took to the hills.

Like many a family who wants to move out of the city, we had to build to have a place to move to, and so we put up our Bloomfield Hills headquarters, the first building ever designed for a major advertising agency. It stands by the side of the main road leading through "Culture Corners." It is a long, low, split-level structure of white concrete and broad expanses of glass, set on a 19-acre hillside.

City Facilities, Country Space

Here we are equipped with all of the connections and functions of an agency in the center of a city. A room full of telephone equipment in the basement—automatic and infallible—puts us in instant telephone communication with metropolitan centers all over the country. A direct phone line connects with our New York City offices, and Teletype keep us in close touch with other offices. On occasion we have landed a helicopter on our own grounds to give us 20-minute connections with transcontinental planes out of Willow Run and the Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

There is no traffic problem getting to the new offices, not even for the few of our people who still live in Detroit. They drive out of the city in the morning with the lighter traffic and back at night in the opposite direction to the outgoing stream of traffic. Most of us drive to work in ten minutes in gleaming cars with seldom a speck of city grime on them, and park practically at the door. When clients visit us, we can take them to lunch just up the road at the delightful country clubs or to one of the several excellent local eating places.

By using a helicopter, adman Jones finds visits to distant clients less a chore than a happy adventure.

Business Has Grown

But, for all the apparent absence of pressure, millions of dollars of advertising annually go through these comfortable offices which look out over the wooded hills. Our annual billing has increased 50 percent since the move, and personnel has expanded accordingly.

Since the move, we have even added several downtown Detroit clients, including Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, The Detroit Times, S. S. Kresge Company and Bull Dog Electric Products, and serving them has created no local problems.

However, just in case you get the impression that we might be too rural, let me note that the agency, of course, has major activity in the large cities, with an eastern division on Madison Avenue, New York, where it is essential that we be located close to TV and radio studios and the other facilities associated with advertising. We also maintain offices in Los Angeles and Toronto.

Further Advantages

When we first explored the idea of moving out, we had some doubts about obtaining the prompt-service in printing, photography, engraving and art work, essential to advertising. As it turned out, these so-called problems of production were much easier to handle than we had expected because a small colony of art studios and photographic studios has grown up around us now at "Culture Corners."

I should like to note another important advantage we have found in moving to the suburbs—our new location has enabled us, at a time when business is expanding, to attract talented and valuable people. Pleasant, convenient offices and ideal working conditions provide a strong incentive to apply to us first and, instead of being lost in a skyscraper, our own building in a prominent location on a busy commuting highway has also helped make the agency well-known to those in the profession, as well as to the general public.

Now, The Regional City

For some business, it is essential to be centrally located. But we felt, and later proved, that today a business such as ours could very well get out of the city proper—thus relieving and avoiding the traffic congestion that appears to be stagnating some of our city areas.

We hear a great deal nowadays about the "regional city" from which the suburbs take on some functions, while the city replaces blighted areas with some of the attractions of the suburbs. Take us as an example—Bloomfield Hills, suburb of Detroit, has acquired a major advertising agency and associated businesses, while the city of Detroit is replacing a congested area with a civic center on the river, including a municipal park and an outdoor skating rink.

If this is what comprises a regional city, I am for it—from happy experience.

I TRAVEL OUT OF SEASON

BY AMY VANDERBILT

DRAWINGS BY LOU SCHWARTZ

AMONG my friends and neighbors so many of us are hotfoot travellers that it is strictly taboo, conversationally, to discuss one's travels when meeting socially. Why? Everybody has already been there. I try to combat this difficult situation by being an off-the-beaten-track, out-of-season traveller. I go to the West Indies in the summertime, dodging the hurricanes, travel within the Arctic Circle in the summer, too, and shop for fall clothes in the lovely cool Dublin springtime.

Taking them loosely, alphabetically, in what places have I had the most fun?

Amsterdam

Many people think that Amsterdam is the gayest city in Europe today. I am not ready to concede this, but I will admit that it has several special holds on my heart.

I am, of course, of Dutch descent. My family came from a little town called De Bilt, which is now Holland's weather station. Although I am a sixth-generation American, I still look so Dutch that when I am in Holland, people on the street ask me for directions. I can read and understand the language fairly well (which makes for more fun), although everyone speaks English, too.

Amsterdam was also one of the very first European cities I saw as a child, and I still feel very much at home there. It is called the "Venice of the North," but its forty miles of canals today are simply charming waterscaping. The only boats that go through them are the tourist tour boats. The fourteen hundred houseboats anchored in the canals, which attempt to relieve somewhat the difficult housing situation in Amsterdam, rarely move about.

I have fun in Amsterdam walking and window-shopping—mainly for antiques. I also, in fantasy at least, shop for a town house. Along the Heren, or Gentlemen's Canal, there are 16th- and 17th-century houses that you can buy for as little as 15,000 guilders (about $4,000). Many of them have beautifully stepped gables with cranes in the attic windows for hoisting up furniture. One I especially covet is called "God is myn Burg" (God is my Fortress). I laughed when I saw a modern Dutchman's house just outside of Amsterdam, for in its gable was the legend, "Caveat Emptor" (Let the Buyer Beware)!

It is fun to be in a city where men are men, and know it, are good dancers and handsome, to boot.

Copenhagen

For fun in Denmark, start with the Tivoli, the model for amusement parks everywhere. It has everything—honky-tonk, of course, but also sections that are truly elegant. The most ebullient children (mine) can be let loose there with impunity, for the park is wonderfully laid out and carefully guarded. While the little ones whoop it up in the Fun House, their parents can have a true gourmet meal in such restaurants as the Divan II or the Belle Terrace, both in the park.

Before I fell in love with the Tivoli, I had never seen a flea circus. My youngest son was the first to drag me to the "Loppe Sircus" where I found that he was already well known, and quite a skill. We had a grand time watching a charming French flea—Fifi—who balanced on a high wire with the help of a tiny feather fan. Other fleas, of course, played international soccer.

And I will never forget one evening in the Tivoli when I was standing outside the Fun House after having captured one of my boys as he emerged from a barrel roll. Next to me a young Danish father, holding a small sticky boy by the hand, was also waiting for a child to be disgorged from the Fun House. Suddenly he walked away, then, returning out of the darkness, he thrust an ice cream into my youngest's hand, saying in perfect English, "Welcome to Denmark."

Is it any wonder, that of all the posters he could have had in his room, my Stephen has one above his bed of the Tivoli gardens? He looks longingly at it each night before he says his prayers.

Dublin

Dublin is the city in which I have quiet fun of a very heart-warming kind. The greatest fun is gab. The Irish are great talkers, which is no news, of course, but the kind of talk in Dublin is inspiring, amusing, delightful to the ear. I should like to send my sons to school there sometime, to Trinity College, to enrich their vocabularies and their voice tones, as well as to teach them the art of conversation and the turn of an epigram.

The Irish, who claim with some pride that their climate is terrible, are rather insulted when an outsider says he likes it. I happen to. I like the damp clean air, the quick, caressing showers. I never fail to be amazed at the palm trees which remind me that Ireland is subtropical.

I have great fun eating in Dublin. Irish Bay prawns are a delicacy this side of heaven, especially as they are served at the Hotel Gresham in a thin crystal-stemmed glass, the edge of which has been dipped in paprika. Once my two youngest sons ate them in one form or another at every lunch and dinner, for a month. That's solid satisfaction.

I have fun in Dublin doing my Christmas shopping in May. I buy lengths of tweed, linen handkerchiefs, leprechauns (stuffed). I pick up Georgian silver (for modest sums) and lug home my quota of Irish whisky for the Irish coffee drinkers among my friends.

Dublin is another place where I do my fantasy town-house shopping. For about $10,000 I can buy a fine Georgian mansion, perhaps on St. Stephen's Green. The present American Embassy, also Georgian, is soon to be sold. Would that it could be to me.

Granada

Sometimes I think the Spanish gypsies are the only gay and fully satisfied people I have ever seen, and for sheer fun I choose the gypsy caves in Granada, across the valley on the hill of Sacramonte. I enjoy the clever, graceful, wily gypsies wherever I encounter them. (I forgot to mention that one of the attractions of Ireland for me is the gypsies there, known as the "Irish travellers.") Gypsies are born dancing, it seems, and never are too old or too rotund to quit. I could sit for a week in a hard wooden chair supplied me inside a gypsy cave, watching them do the flamenco.

The gypsy settlement outside of Granada is perhaps the largest in the world. They live there in their caves with whitewashed fronts and gay curtains in the windows (a sign of prosperity). I was told that one very successful gypsy dancer has a white telephone in her cave.

A few years back, the Spanish government tried to relocate the gypsies in modern tenements, away from the Sacramonte. They moved out somewhat doubtfully, but almost immediately moved back to their caves. There, they said, they were much safer, cooler in the summer, warmer in the winter and, having only one door, burglarproof. I remember asking one old gypsy whether he owned or rented his cave. He replied that, of course, he owned it—his grandfather had dug it out himself from the mountainside.

London

Fun in London for me means theatre and more theatre. Maybe it's because I understand every word (well, almost every word). It also means wonderful, long bus rides.

I like to go to the Cheshire Cheese for lunch and to Lyons for tea, just as I did as a school girl, when a guinea in my pocket was a lot of money. I like to shop at Fortnum & Mason's for black-walnut pickle to use in the divine lamb hash I learned to make on the Queen Elizabeth, but my schoolgirl passion for their hazelnut chocolate bars has definitely abated.

Mexico City

I'll never forget El Salon Mexico, the great dance hall that was the inspiration for Aaron Copeland's stirring composition based on Mexican folk music. Since El Salon Mexico is far from upper-class, I couldn't persuade any of my Mexican friends to go with me, so I went alone with a guide, who was under some apprehension himself.

Entering Mexicans were frisked for hidden knives and guns and all around the walls of the dance hall were policemen strategically placed to keep the peace. Three great orchestras played alternately so that, at all times, there was music to dance to. The hard core of customers was from the working class of Mexico City. Signs here and there said such things as "Gentlemen are asked not to throw their cigarettes on the floor, as the ladies will burn their bare feet." This time there was no dancing for me. It was below my guide's dignity.

Nazare

All tourists to Portugal make a beeline for Nazare (pronounced Nazaray), "the most typical" fishing port in all of Portugal, and I was no exception. The fishermen of Nazare are descended, they say, from the Phoenicians, and their brightly painted sailboats have been hewn in the same style for the past thousand years—like a watermelon that has been scooped out. The wild plaid shirts that the men wear contrast with the black shawls of the women who sit cross-legged in the doorways, their feet bare, their faces, like the Arab women's, covered with shawls even on warm days. A widow here never remarries and wears black the rest of her life.

But the fun? We entered the small, definitely non-tourist hotel on the square. A children's dance was taking place in the middle of the afternoon. Most of the boys and girls were in the costumes of the area—the boys in plaid shirts of brilliant color and the little girls in pleated or embroidered bright skirts, under which are seven petticoats. I danced, too, and left with the strains of the Vira de Nazare running through my head, and still running, as I write about it.

Plant A Spring Garden Now— for $25

BY GEORGE J. JAFFE

REGARDLESS of how many times you've thrown in the trowel and cried, "I just haven't a green thumb!"—you're in for the surprise of your gardening days, come next spring, if you do two things. One, plant right now in the fall and, two, plan your garden around the traditional flowers of spring—tulips, daffodils, hyacinths and crocuses. With a little planning now and a minimum of effort, you can have up to 300 eye-catching flowering plants in bloom from March through May, for as little as $25.

When to plant: Bulbs must be planted this fall—September through November in most parts of the country; as late as January in the South and Southwest.

Where to plant: Bulbs will grow anywhere... at the base of a tree, around the front or backdoor, edging your driveway, in tiny square plots of soil (any type of soil). Your plan can range from a few feet to a few hundred.

Crocus is especially attractive blooming along the edges of your lawn, around the foundation of your house or garage or in wooded areas. (Though all crocuses like full sun, they're up and away before trees grow enough foliage to shade an area.) Daffodils are exceptionally effective when they are planted helter-skelter in a rough setting or in clumps decorating the front of the house. Hyacinths look lovely in clumps of two or three beside doorways, along garden walks or in a rock garden. Your choice of where to plant your tulip bulbs will depend on where you want height. The most important planting rule about all kinds of tulips is never put them in a single file like soldiers. They're too sparse-looking alone. Plant them in blocks or clumps of six to eight and surround them with other flowers, or place other flowers among your tulip clumps.

Prices and Flowering Schedule (Blooming time will be a few weeks earlier in warmer climates):

BLOOMING TIME	BULB FLOWER	AMOUNT	ESTIMATED COST
March 15-30	Crocus	50	$ 2.00
April 15-30	Hyacinth	25	6.00
April 10-25	Daffodils (Mixed)	100	8.00
May	Tulips: Darwin & Parrot	100	9.00
			$25.00

How to plant: Try to do your planting of bulbs before the earth hardens in your part of the country. Have in mind pretty much where you want the bulbs. If the ground happens to be dry as you're about to start planting, soak it well before digging. Then, follow these steps: loosen the soil with trowel six to eight inches below ground surface (see planting chart) in planting area; then smooth surface. Arrange bulbs on top of prepared soil with a separate hole for each bulb. If the ground is particularly dry when the hole is opened, drench soil down to where the bulb will sit, or it won't root. Place bulb at bottom of hole with its nose up (important!). Make sure the soil under the bulb is well loosened. Replace soil, then pat or stamp down soil firmly. When an area of bulbs has been planted, you might water over it again... Go in the house, relax and forget your garden till next spring!

Fine Points: The bulbs we have been discussing can be left in the ground after they've stopped flowering, unless, of course, you'd like to dig them up to arrange a different garden pattern for the following year. Cutting the flowers while they are in bloom makes for a stronger bulb the following year if the leaves are left on the plant. Nature takes care of watering these plants for you, but should you experience a particularly long, dry spell in your area, you should add water to the soil. There's no reason why you can't walk in beauty outside your house through all of next spring. The secret is to get out there at the proper time and dig!

Buy... Sell... or Hold?

Sometimes it is hard to make up your mind about certain securities, particular stocks.

Too many important facts just don't seem to add up. In such confused times, almost every investor finds it more difficult to make clear-cut decisions—so a lot of them don't even try.

We think that's bad.

Because very often the right answer today means the difference between profit and loss tomorrow...

Because there are any number of places an investor can go for the help he needs in reaching the right answers—for him.

Here at Merrill Lynch, for instance, our Research Department gets a steady stream of facts and information from all over the country, works constantly to sort out the important ones, carefully evaluates them all in terms of the investor's interest. So maybe that's why Research can usually come up with a pretty good answer to any question concerning buy... sell... or hold.

If you'd like to know what that answer would be as regards any particular stock...

Or if you'd like to have a detailed analysis of your complete portfolio in the light of your over-all financial situation... just ask.

There's no charge of any kind, no obligation either. Simply address—

how to buy a horse

for a sound animal—look, listen, ride—and, if necessary, ask a vet

BY ELLIN K. ROBERTS

JUST AS THERE are three major qualifications to be met by any horse you buy—he must be sound in wind, limb and sight—so there are three major steps for any prospective purchaser: look, listen and ride.

In looking, note his size—you don't want to resemble a peanut when astride nor to have it appear that you should be carrying the horse. Then, starting with his head, watch for fine modeling, small ears, large eyes with no white showing. His neck should be full but not thick and tend to an arch rather than ewe-neck. A broad chest, clearly defined withers, sloping shoulders and a back that dips only slightly (too much and he's "sway-backed") are other points to note.

For hardiness and strength, compactness is more desirable than ranginess, so the distance between the last rib and the hindquarters should be short and the rump nicely rounded. Inspect for lumps or scars on his legs, and while it takes an expert to tell age by his teeth, you can see whether they appear excessively yellow or worn.

To test his sight, toss up a stone from various angles and look for his response.

The listening has two facets. If there is any coughing or wheezing during a workout, go on to the next prospect. And if you don't feel competent to do the judging yourself, call in a reputable veterinarian and listen to him.

Now it's time to mount and ride. Here your main interest is in temperament and training, which will show up in his manners. Unlike automobiles, each horse has individual characteristics, and it's even more important in choosing a horse than in selecting a dog or cat that you pick one with good conformation and a congenial personality, for your safety and your pleasure are at stake.

Ease of motion, alertness, willingness, obedience—don't compromise on these. Try him at all his gaits, alone and with another horse. Beware of a hard mouth and any tendency to kick or rear. Make sure he lets you mount and dismount without fidgeting and that he'll back without tugging or twisting.

Finally, just ask yourself if he's fun to ride. You're after pleasure, remember, not punishment.

If you've been cautious and conscientious in buying your horse, you'll think a kingdom an unworthy exchange for your noble friend.

Arched House

-Wayzata, Minnesota

Designed by the owner, architect Donald Hustad, for his own family

A view of the Hustad's house as cold weather approaches. The large glass expanses face the descending winter sun, making fullest use of all light and warmth available.

WHEN DONALD HUSTAD built his arched house, he wanted a feeling of space, and he did not want the usual flat ceilings overhead.

"I find them depressing," he observed.

So he made his roof in the form of six vaults, constructed of half-inch plywood, which gains great strength from the thrust of one arch against the next.

Within, the ceilings appear to soar, the sun pours through fifteen-foot windows and from every room you can step directly outside on to a balcony or terrace. Unlike many new homeowners, the Hustads were fortunate in being able to proceed slowly with their interior decoration. Before they had moved any furniture in, they already had rooms full of interest, thanks to views and the shifts of light and shade all day under their vaulted ceilings.

Spacious and dramatic as their house is, it falls in the moderately priced class, having cost under $35,000 to build. Further economy was unexpectedly obtained through the use of sheltering arches and the vast glass expanse, which takes in so much solar heat that even during the heavy Minnesota winters the furnace often shuts itself off for almost half the day. In summer, as the sun swings north, the orientation of the house makes maximum use of shade.

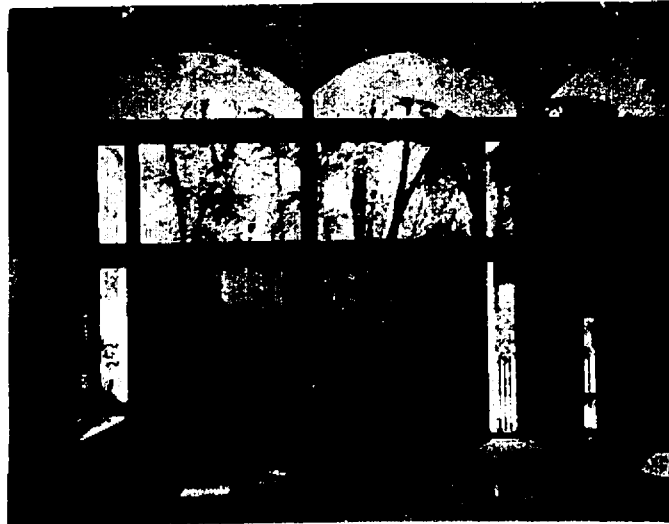

The site Mr. Hustad chose was a steep hillside shaded with magnificent trees. These have been left undisturbed as much as possible and the rustic character of the land has been preserved, emphasizing the natural beauty of the views and giving, in an area which is actually thickly settled, a sense of privacy invaluable to people who live in a house of glass.

Having to adapt to a 35-degree slope, Mr. Hustad designed his house as a split-level with bedrooms at the top, living room at the middle level and family room, dining area and kitchen at the bottom level.

When the house was still in the planning stage he felt sure his vaulted design would accomplish his aims and give a feeling of spaciousness and grace. Having tested the theory in practice, his family agrees. The arched house has already won one midwestern design competition and much admiring attention.

View of the living room, with Mr. and Mrs. Hustad on the balcony beyond. The airy, arched ceiling has, in the words of the architect, "a soothing effect."

Another view of the living room. The solid wall, contrasting with the glass area, is actually a deep closet, cantilevered beyond exterior wall, so that no space will be taken from living room.

Say Cheese!

Pretty as a picture, these cheese dishes, and they all reflect the flavor appeal of their primary ingredient. How versatile cheeses are for those who have learned to exploit their distinctive flavors... alone or in combination with other delicacies. We hope these tempting suggestions encourage you to include cheese imaginatively... even daringly... in your own creative cookery

CHEESE FANS

To Prepare: 30 min.

To Bake: 10-15 min.

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup lard, hydrogenated vegetable shortening, or all-purpose shortening
- ½ cup milk
- Softened butter
- 1 cup (4 oz.) grated sharp Cheddar cheese

1. Lightly grease twelve 2½-in. muffin-pan wells.

BOOKS

FIRST on the October list: two entertaining books by people in show business—THE APE IN ME is Cornelia Otis Skinner's disarming title for a round-up of personal confessions. She discusses her inability to stop copying other people's accents, gestures and expressions. And then there is her concern about her height, her horror of forgetting names, her fear of stage fright, her wool-gathering at airports when the planes are late—very chatty and entertaining. (Houghton, $3.00)

GROUCHO AND ME—Here is Groucho Marx in another wonderful act—his autobiography. The book blazes through the lean years to the big time—vaudeville, Broadway, movies, radio, TV. Groucho lovingly recalls his tailor-father; his ambitious mother who kept pushing the brothers into show business; the many odd jobs they've held; the 1929 crash followed by the depression; and the gimmicks they used in their acts (Groucho's cigar for one). (Bernard Geis, $3.95)

FLAME TREES OF THIKA—A pioneer life in Africa seen through the sharp eyes of a six-year-old child. Writer Elspeth Huxley, with her gallant mother, trekked through the dusty desert to join her improvident father who had bought land in Kikuyu country, sight unseen. They learn to love the primitive land, the unsophisticated natives and the few hardy settlers. An absorbing story of stouthearted adventures. (Morrow, $4.00)

WOLFE AT QUEBEC—Christopher Hibbert has done a brilliant job of historical reconstruction on the Battle of Quebec. The reader gets an almost eye-witness account of the campaign: the English caught unawares by French fire ships; neurotic, glory-bent General James Wolfe, with incredible luck, blocking the French; and, finally, the actual siege, which has been called one of the epics of military history. (World, $4.50)

HOW TO LIVE THROUGH JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL—A very practical, down-to-earth guide for parents with average adolescents. Written by Eric W. Johnson, principal of Germantown Friends Junior High School, in Philadelphia. The advice he gives is drawn from his own extensive experience and the findings from questionnaires sent to teachers and students. He discusses students' relationships with their families, study habits, sex education, social habits and other familiar problems, e.g., telephone, smoking, lipstick. (Lippincott, $3.95)

DEVIL'S ADVOCATE—In the little Italian town of Gemello Minore, miraculous incidents were connected with the deceased Giacomo Nerone, and Monsignor Meredith, representing the church was sent to find out if he deserved to be a candidate for sainthood. Upon inquiring among those who had known Giacomo, he discovers that all of them are afraid of the past and of what he might find out. The Monsignor uncovers the truth and, in doing so, he learns a lesson in love and finds a new meaning in his life. By Morris L. West. (Morrow, $3.95)

NO BUT I SAW THE MOVIE—Over two dozen hilarious sketches by Peter De Vries about himself, other husbands and wives, neighbors and lovers. Samples from the choice contents: "Jam Today" (a jazz jam session at a neighbor's home), "They Also Sit" (the baby sitters he has known), "From There to Infinity" (escapade of a would-be writer). (Signet, 35c)

FUN FOR THE FAMILY—Want to try some brain twisters? Or magic stunts? How good a detective are you? Whether it's to liven up a party, keep the young amused or pass a quiet evening at home, this book offers hundreds of games, puzzles and magic tricks. Edited and compiled by Jerome S. Meyers. (Permabooks, 35c)

RECORDS

THREE wonderful albums are being issued this month for opera-lovers. RCA, using a new deluxe form of packaging, presents Mozart's MARRIAGE OF FIGARO and Verdi's FORCE OF DESTINY. FIGARO is sung by Giorgio Tozzi, Roberta Peters and several other famous voices joining the Vienna Philharmonic to create one of the finest performances yet heard. The Verdi opera is also studded with stars, almost all from the Metropolitan—Leonard Warren, Zinka Milanov, Giuseppe Di Stefano and others. The third magnificent offering is Wagner's DAS RHEINGOLD (London.) On this release conducted by Georg Solti, Kirsten Flagstad and George London have attained new vocal heights. Hearing is believing.

VICTOR BORGE: CONCERT FAVORITES—Probably one of the most versatile and imaginative musicians on the popular scene is humorist Borge. Here he proves his ability as conductor as well as pianist. With selections from Chopin, Tchaikovsky, Kurt Weill, Schubert and Strauss, this record is a real family charmer. (Columbia)

RACHMANINOFF'S PIANO CONCERTO NO. 1 on one side and TCHAIKOVSKY'S CONCERT FANTASIA on the other allow Peter Katin to display his remarkable virtuosity. Both of these works have the charm and brilliance of Russia's romantic period. (London)

L'ARLESIENNE SUITES NOS. 1 AND 2—A truly entertaining album. Bizet's lovely melodies, vigorous military cadences and animated dances endear him to all. (RCA). Also on this disc is CHABRIER'S ESPANA RAPSODIE.

PIAF—In her latest Capitol release, French torch singer Edith Piaf shows that she still has the old dynamite. Singing an all-French program with gusto, she warms the heart.

GERSHWIN IN BRASS—A revival of Gershwin has brought out some real talent. This features veteran classical-brass players like Mel Davis, Urbie Green, Harvey Phillips and Jimmy Chambers, all of them old Gershwin hands. May be a real collector's item. (Everest)

ZINO FRANCESCATTI playing MOZART'S VIOLIN CONCERTI NOS. 3 AND 4, reveals all of the fire that gained him his reputation. The lyrical perfection of these two pieces make them constant favorites. (Columbia)

AN EVENING WITH LERNER AND LOEWE—The music of "Brigadoon," "Paint Your Wagon," "Gigi" and "My Fair Lady" are beautifully recorded on two RCA discs. The voices are those of Robert Merrill, Jan Peerce, Jane Powell and Phil Harris. And the diction is so good, for a change, you can catch all of the lyrics.

MOVIES

BUT NOT FOR ME—Clark Gable is extremely funny as an aging theatrical producer, who falls in love with a girl thirty years his junior, and then is won back by his ex-wife. Gable, playing a man his own age is well supported by Carroll Baker and Lilli Palmer.

PILLOW TALK—A delightful farce about a song writer (Rock Hudson) and an interior decorator (Doris Day), who become enemies without ever meeting one another, simply by sharing a party line. When Hudson finds out that his best friend (Tony Randall) has fallen in love with Doris, he kidnaps her one night and carries her off—still in pajamas...

THE FBI STORY—An interesting documentary on the function of the Federal Bureau of Investigation during the past three decades. James Stewart, portraying one of its outstanding agents is involved with almost every major hoodlum and crime—"Baby Face" Nelson, John Dillinger, "Machine Gun" Kelly, the German espionage agents and the Communist spies.

THE MOUSE THAT ROARED—This technicolor British import starring Jean Seberg and Peter Sellers is a satire on international affairs. A tiny mythical kingdom in Europe, The Duchy of Grand Fenwick, declares war on America... and wins! Versatile strategist Sellers plays three roles: prime minister, leader of the army and grand duchess—repeat, duchess.

THE BEST OF EVERYTHING—Career girl Joan Crawford and her friends start out with the "best"—high hopes and promising jobs in a big publishing house. Their opportunities slip one by one, and each life goes from bad to worse. Here are the loves and frustrations of a group of ambitious people—and fine performances by Hope Lange, Suzy Parker, Louis Jourdan and Brian Aherne.

Joan Crawford and Brian Aherne strike up a conversation which leads to romance in THE BEST OF EVERYTHING.

A BIRD WATCHER STRIKES BACK

The Crazy People With The Field Glasses Note

Odd Traits In Others

BY AURELIA REIGNER

ONE SUNDAY afternoon this fall, as I was ecstatically identifying a yellow-bellied sapsucker, I heard a passing youngster ask, "Mommy, what is that lady doing?"

"Sh-h-h," came the answer. "She is a crazy bird watcher." To an old hand like me this was no shock. I accept the classification cheerfully. But I do have an urge to point out that there are a lot of people whom bird watchers find pretty funny, too. These people fall into several general classes.

There are the people who have, themselves, unexpectedly seen a bird and, on meeting me, seize the opportunity to have it identified. "Oh," says Miss Prichett, "I saw a bird only last week. Do tell me what it was. It was little, and it was yellowish, and it was up in a tree."

"Can you tell me any more?" I ask as patiently as I can. "How little was it? Three inches? Ten inches?"

"That's right," she agrees. "Three inches or ten inches." "Was it yellow all over," I go on, "or only underneath?" "Well," she says uncertainly, "it was yellowish or pinkish underneath, but it flew away before I saw the topside."

Unfortunately I can't identify this little fellow, and Miss Prichett goes away with an expression that shows clearly I'm not much of a bird watcher after all.

Another group of crazy people really want to know. I know what I am in for when Mrs. Gushmore grabs my arm and burbles.

"You must come out to my place! We have every bird imaginable there. Hundreds of birds! Can you come Wednesday?"

It is sure to be a day during the short spring migration when I am dying to go to a favorite spot for seeing unusual birds, but I will have to go to her place and count two hundred starlings, three hundred English sparrows, fifty crows, with an occasional catbird, robin and song sparrow thrown in.

Then there are the people who are always seeing rare birds they can't identify. Up comes Mr. Sprocket in a dither.

"Say, I had an unusual bird in my yard this morning. Maybe you can help me with it. It was about nine inches long, all red, with a crest, and it whistled."

"Oh," I assure him brightly, "that must have been a fine cardinal."

"Cardinal, nothing!" he comes back indignantly. "I know a cardinal when I see one. I see them all the time. This bird was much redder. Its crest was taller. It whistled louder. I have hunted all through Peterson's guide and this bird isn't in it."

"Oh—sorry, I must dash for my train."

New Yorkers were SHOCKED
By The Recent EXPOSE of
PATENT MEDICINE PRACTICES
Now You Too Can Learn How To SAVE...

STOP PAYING HIGH PRICES FOR VITAMINS

A recent public service study of Patent Medicines in one of New York's leading evening newspapers, devoted one entire installment to VITAMINS and disclosed many interesting highlights about the sale of Vitamins and Vitamin-Mineral combinations.

One of the startling revelations in this frank article was the wide variance of Vitamin prices.

The following three paragraphs taken from the series, as it appeared, are of particular concern to everyone buying Vitamins.

"Any particular vitamin bottled under one label is, for all practical and therapeutic purposes, the same as if it is bottled under another label. The fact is, most of the Vitamin concentrates consumed in America are produced by only a few companies.

"The list of ingredients in a Vitamin compound is one thing the consumer can almost always depend on to be correct. Any company which fails to label the bottle with the exact formula and amount (or unit strength) of each ingredient risks a seizure by the U.S. Government.

"Bearing that in mind, it is interesting to pick up a few Vitamin catalogs and compare the prices charged by different companies for the same Vitamin compounds."

Following publication of the installment we received hundreds of phone calls requesting copies of the Hudson Vitamin Catalog.

This interest prompted us to tell the entire nation our story.

Hudson Vitamin Products has been serving doctors and nurses for over 25 years and now you, too, can purchase your Vitamins DIRECT from Hudson at savings that are up to 50% and more. Page after page in the Free Hudson Catalog shows tremendous dollar savings on Vitamins, Vitamin-Mineral combinations and Food Supplements.

Here are two examples of Hudson Vitamin savings: a very popular multi-vitamin and mineral formula (sold nationally for $19.50 by door to door salesmen) is sold for only $5.95 through the Hudson Vitamin Catalog, under the trade name of Vitazets.

Here's another—a well known high potency B complex formula with Vitamin C and minerals nationally advertised at $5.95 per hundred . . . only $2.25 DIRECT from the Hudson Catalog.

These are only two examples that you will find in our 32 page catalog that is simple, easy to read and has been a Vitamin buying guide for millions from coast-to-coast.

Write for the Catalog and show it to your doctor if you like — but, by all means, discover for yourself why Hudson has become a DIRECT MONEY-SAVING source for Vitamins throughout the nation. All Hudson Vitamin Products are sold with a complete money back guarantee.

There are also the people who have seen a rare bird they did identify. Take, for instance, my friend who found an albatross in his back meadow in Pennsylvania, where a polar bear would be just as likely.

"H'm," I said, trying to think of something at all similar that he might have seen, "I'm surprised that a herring gull would wander that far from a river."

"Oh, this was far bigger than a gull. I thought at once that it must be an albatross, so I looked in the dictionary and there was the picture, just like my bird."

"But," I argued, "albatross are ocean birds, and not even of the North Atlantic."

"Sure," he said, "that's why I'm telling you about this—because it is so rare."

By then I realized that I wasn't going to get that bird away from him, so I said, "Oh." Every time I visit that farm we take a walk and he proudly points out,

"There is the place where I found the albatross."

What bothers me is that I am afraid he is having more fun out of birds than I am. Hang it all, I have no albatross on my bird list!

I have a stork, though. In Denmark, while I was on a bus trip to Hamlet's Castle, the bus driver pointed out a stork's nest on a roof. No storks were showing at the moment and at no other place on my trip would it be possible for me to see storks. I mentioned to the young woman sitting beside me that I would like to rent a car and come back to this town the next day. She said she knew nothing about birds but it sounded like fun and she would like to come along. So the next morning we rented a Volkswagen and drove to Hillerød, stopping for photographs and birds along the way. Once in Hillerød we could not find the correct roof. Luckily my companion knew a little Norwegian. She kept stopping pedestrians and asking,

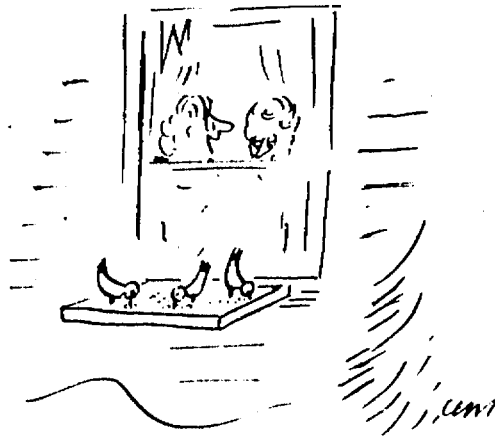

"Where is the home of the big bird?"

Some gave her vague looks and some made gesticulations that we failed to follow. Finally, at a garage, a man said, "Oh, you mean stork."

It turned out that the Danish word for stork is stork! This man jumped on a motorcycle and conducted us to a nest on a low roof. The storks were at home and we had wonderful views of them.

To get back to my list of crazy non-bird watchers, there are people who want to know what you do with the birds after you find them. Bring them back alive, or stuff them? Take pictures? Just look at them? What makes it a hobby, if you don't bring anything home?

Mountain climbers don't bring the mountain back, but no one objects to that.

"One crazy mixed-up day last week I got an owl."

Grosse Pointe News

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

The old fashioned idea of a grand tour to finish your education seems to be coming into great vogue, with a modern twist, of course.

Most of the young scholars going abroad are very serious of purpose. Ginny McMillan hopes to improve her considerable facility for languages by studying at the University of Geneva this winter.

She will fly to Switzerland on October 27 and be abroad until late July. Ginny will join forces with Frannie Merkel who has been living with a French family in the Swiss Alps and the two will stay at a pension while attending courses at the university.

Ginny's parents, the James McMillans, have returned to their home in Rathbone place, which they leased to the John Andersons this summer. Frannie is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles C. Merkel, of East Jefferson avenue. She has been a student at Bradford Junior College while Ginny spent two years at Wheaton College in Connecticut.

Ibex to Give Comedy

Ibex members believe in planning their dramatic effort of the year well in advance. They have chosen "The Reluctant Debutante" for spring production. The popular Rex Harrison vehicle will be given March 25-26 at Grosse Pointe University School.

On November 27 Mrs. Robert Weber will open her Lakeshore road home for a cast party. Mrs. W. L. Yeager will direct the play and Mrs. Palmer Knights and Mrs. Arnold M. Combrunch-Graham are in charge of production.

Meanwhile Ibex members have taken on a brand new year project. Many of them will be enrolled in a china painting course at the High School, reviving this popular art of grandmother's day.

Anniversaries Noted

Wedding anniversaries deserve special attention and three Pointe couples observed theirs last week with fanfare.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns Cody were surprised last Saturday evening at a party in their honor by the Toby Wiants, their former neighbors in Westchester road. The Wiants have recently moved to a new home in Bloomfield.

The J. Crawford Frosts and the John N. Failings, whose anniversaries fall on the same day, celebrated at Castle Park, where both couples spend part of each summer. They were chased home early because of the sudden cold weather.

From Our European Journal

More news from abroad concerns Mrs. W. Merritt Jones, Jr., who will be arriving shortly with small son, Peter, from Hitchins Herts, England.

Mrs. Jones has been abroad with her lawyer officer husband for two years. In fact the former Elise Fink, daughter of the George Rupert Finks, of Cloverly road, was married in Edinburgh, Scotland.

When she arrives she will probably occupy her brother's and sister-in-law's, (the Peter Finks) apartment.

Short and to the Pointe

MR. and MRS. LOU DIMITRY of North Brya drive have blooms on a magnolia tree in their yard, the second crop of the year.

MISS HARRIETT BRADSHAW daughter of MR. and MRS. ERNEST W. BRADSHAW, Bishop road is among the students enrolled for the 1959-1960 academic year at Wheelock College, Boston, Mass.

MAUREEN and COLLEEN COTTER, daughters of the THOMAS H. COTTERS, of Neff road, left last Thursday for a four week tour of Europe. They will return to visit their parents before leaving for Chicago on November 16.

MRS. W. HEARTSILL WILSON, of St. Clair avenue, is one of the chairmen for the regional conference of the Christian Business and Professional Women of America and its affiliate, the Christian Women's Club of America which met last week-end at the New Wolverine Hotel.

Three students from the Grosse Pointe area were among those attending a recent dinner party for the junior and senior classes of Kingswood School Cranbrook and Cranbrook School. JOHN HAYDEN, a senior at Cranbrook School for boys, is the son of MR. and MRS. MARTIN S. HAYDEN of Merriweather road. BARBARA DAY'S parents are DR. and MRS. A. JACKSON DAY, of Cloverly road, and MARY ELLEN KOEBBE is the daughter of MRS. CLARENCE H. KOEBBE of Trombley road. Barbara and Mary Ellen are seniors at Kingswood. Held at the boys' school, the dinner marked the beginning of a series of parties shared by the two schools throughout the year.

Ten Grosse Pointe residents are among the freshmen listed this semester at Marygrove College in Detroit. The girls are PHYLLIS EMANUELE, daughter of MR. and MRS. E. EMANUELE, Piche avenue; KATHLEEN BRUCE, daughter of MR. and MRS. MARSHALL BRUCE, Devonshire; FRANCES BESTE, daughter of MR. and MRS. CHARLES R. BESTE, Manchester; BARBARA BERSCHBACK, daughter of MRS. ## Nelson to Talk To UM Alumni

Lyle M. Nelson, Director of University Relations at the University of Michigan, will give his impressions of the educational system in the Soviet Union when he speaks at the annual dinner of the University of Michigan Alumni Club of Grosse Pointe Township on October 21.

Mr. Nelson was a member of the small special mission, financed by the Ford Fund, and led by University President Harlan Hatcher, which spent six weeks in Russia last spring in intensive study of Soviet education. The group quickly recognized a common aim in schools everywhere and at all levels: that of surpassing the United States.

Mr. Nelson's position at the University demands that he be able to make clear its proper relationships and responsibilities as to all its contacts; those within the University community, those in the state at large, those with federal agencies and those with international bodies. He will explain the media involved, and indicate some of the problems and some of the challenges implicit in his work.

Mrs. Hubert Goebel, 193 McKinley Avenue, is the club's chairman for the dinner. It is to be held at the War Memorial at 6:30. Tickets may be obtained from her.

Capt. Thomas Tyree Married in East

Weds Joan Sheila Brophy in Pawling, N.Y., on Saturday; After a Wedding Trip to Sea Island, Ga., Newlyweds Will Live Near West Point Military Academy

In Christ Church, Quaker Hill, Pawling, N. Y., Saturday Joan Sheila Brophy, daughter of the Thomas D'Arcy Brophys, of New York and Pawling, was married to Capt. Thomas Burdick Tyree, U.S.A.

The bride wore a gown of candlelight Italian satin, the fitted bodice trimmed with Alencon lace and more of the lace forming a panel down the bouffant skirt which deepened into a chapel train.

An heirloom rose point lace crown caught her tulle veil and she carried cybidium orchids and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. John L. Cleveland, Jr., the bride's sister, was matron of honor and the other attendants were Mary Coates Douglas of New York; Mrs. Louis G. Fields, of Richmond, Va.; Mrs. C. J. Nager, of Marblehead, Mass.; Mrs. Robert Pickett, of New York; Mrs. States DeGrote Tompkins, of Chappaqua, N. Y., and Mrs. David M. Wakelee, of Glen Ellyn, Ill.

The attendants wore autumn green peau de sole gowns with headresses of velvet leaves and carried gold and bronze chrysanthemums.

Major A. B. Shattuck IV was best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of the Harold Tyrees, of Provençal road. In the usher corps from Grosse Pointe were Richard B. Gushee and Henry L. Newnan, Jr.

Other ushers were William C. Buckner, of Tulsa Okla.; Major John H. Chitty, Jr., of West Point, N. Y.; John L. Cleveland, Jr., of Darien Conn., and H. Kennedy Nickell, of Darien.

The mother of the bride greeted guests at the reception at the Quaker Hill Country Club in a gown of beige and brown brocade and a beige velvet hat. Mrs. Tyree was in mink brown lace over satin with a matching satin hat.

After a wedding trip to Sea Island, Ga., the couple will make their home at West Point, where Capt. Tyree is at present stationed.

Only by living up to high standards can men ever expect to live down their mistakes.

ment in Vernier road. They have just bought a new home in Stephens road and expect to be in as soon as the kitchen is remodeled.

Flying by jet for a month's vacation in Europe in about a week will be the James P. Danahers, of Colonial road. They plan to concentrate on this first visit abroad on Italy, usually a favorite with vacationing Pointers.

Two-Week Visit

Home for a visit with her parents while her husband travels is Mrs. Marshall Murray (Susan Denler). The Murrays live in Wellesley Hills, Mass., where he is assistant dean of admissions at Babson Institute.

Mrs. Murray will be touring the country's preparatory schools while Mrs. M. stays with the William H. Deniers, of Cloverly road. He will drop in this week-end for a reunion and Mrs. M. will meet him in Philadelphia at the end of two weeks.

Bouquets for the Tour

Each year when the Grosse Pointe Garden Center sponsors its highly successful House Tours the exquisite flower arrangements in each home attract much comment.

The tour of six houses on October 24 and 25 will again feature lovely blooms arranged by talented ladies under the direction of Mrs. Longyear Palmer.

They wore gowns of peau de satin in American Beauty featuring a shirred scooped neckline and cap sleeves of chiffon, fitted bodice and bell shaped skirt with bow in back at the waistline. They wore matching bow head bands with circlet veils.

Richard A. Forsythe, Jr., was the best man and the ushers were Robert John Byrnes, Jr., the bride's brother, Robert C. Schumann of Midland, Geoffrey C. MacGlashan, Frank H. Boos, III, Lieutenant Dennis C. Beran and Hall T. Snowday, Jr.

Blue Devils Leading Loop With Win Over Royal Oak

While black and red squirrels raced amongst the trees bordering the Grosse Pointe High gridiron in search of nuts for their winter stock pile, Coach Ed Wernet's vengeful Blue Devil gridders were cracking acorns—Royal Oak variety—last Saturday, October 10, before a sellout Dad's Day crowd, for an outstanding 20-7 win.

The victory left the Devils as the only undefeated team in the Border Cities League race for the title which they are defending as co-champions. The win also dumped Royal Oak from the ranks of the undefeated and topped them from the lofty number one spot in the Suburban grid poll and number four in the State rankings.

The Devils struck with such ferocity and finality that after the first 8 minutes and 15 seconds of play there was no doubt of the final outcome.

Get Early Touchdown

Grosse Pointe rocked the confident Acorns with a lightning-like touchdown the first time they got their hands on the ball, which was three minutes and forty-eight seconds after the opening kickoff.

It was Ron Harper, Grosse Pointe's "bread 'n butter" player, who shocked the opponents when he took a handoff from quarterback Ron Schram, on the first play from scrimmage on the Devils' 34, circled his own right end and raced 66 yards down the far sideline, behind beautiful but vicious blocking, to pay dirt. Center Steve Gerou executed the key block on the Acorn's safety man, which cleared the last 30 yards of Harper's sprint.

Dave Veendael split the uprights for the extra point. This play proved to be a damaging blow to Royal Oak which lost its first string quarterback Howard Bryant when he suffered a head injury and was sidelined for the rest of the day.

Recover Acorn Fumble

Almost before the cheering had died down the Devils were knocking at the Acorns' goal line again as the result of a Royal Oak fumble which was recovered by tackle Al Allard on the opponents 34-yard line.

Al Bolden smashed for 7 and Grant Kurtz added 6 on a plunge up the middle for a first down on the Acorn 13. Harper banged to the 7 in two plays before Schram rifled a screen pass to end Al Lang, who stepped into the end zone eight minutes and fifteen seconds after the opening kickoff and only four minutes and twenty seven seconds after the first score. Veendael again split the uprights to give the Devils a 14-0 lead.

The Devils' final score came eight minutes and ten seconds after the second quarter got underway and was the result of a beautifully directed 17 play, 86-yard sustained drive by Ron Schram and Ron Linclau. The latter brought in the touchdown play from the bench and flipped an 11-yard pass into the coffin corner to end Mike Miller. Veendael's kick was wide.

Royal Oak's lone score came with 49 seconds remaining in the third quarter as the result of a fumble by Al Andrews and a beautifully executed 63 yard pass play. The pass covered 47 yards which was grabbed by Bob Lezotte who dodged, whirled, feinted and out-faked safety men Grant Kurtz and Ron Harper and tripped into the end zone unmolested. Ron Orlikowski booted the extra point for the final score of the game.

The remainder of the game was played mostly in Royal Oak territory with both teams losing scoring opportunities due to the inability of the ball carriers to hang onto the pigskin.

It wasn't until the early stages of the final quarter that the Devils were forced to kick and the punt put the Acorns deep in their own territory. A fifteen yard unnecessary roughness penalty gave the Acorns new life on their own 47. Ron Harper snuffed out this threat when he intercepted a pass and ran to the Royal Oak 44. A fumble on the first play gave the ball back to the Acorns and this time they advanced to the Pointers' 32. Here the Devil defensive unit stiffened and the Devils started a drive that carried to the Acorn 42 where Linclau got away his second punt of the day when the attack stalled.

Royal Oak was desperate at this point with the clock ticking away precious seconds and its dream of a perfect season vanishing. Passes were the order. Bob Lezotte's first aerial was intercepted by halfback Gary Brown on the Acorn 37 where he was dropped.

Get Two Penalties

Two five yard delay-of-game penalties forced the Devils to punt again and this time Royal Oak tried to get its attack underway from the 15. Halfback Lou Ewald intercepted Bill Pyles' pass and was downed on the 15 with 22 seconds remaining in the game. Third string quarterback Randy Allardye tried a pass to Ken MacDonald which missed and Linclau raced back into the lineup to dive into the line to eat up the remaining two seconds of play.

The Devils will have three days of practice to sharpen their defense against Fordson plays before they travel to Dearborn, Thursday, October 15, to tackle the Tractors at 2 p.m.

Coach Wernet scouted the Tractors when they played Royal Oak two weeks ago and feels "They are small, fast and capable of springing an upset despite their inability to wind up on the long end of the score in previous games to date."

Royal Oak players warned the Devils "Fordson is set to shoot the works against you and they are counting on making the BCL race a scramble by dumping you guys."

Boat Banter

By FRED RUNNELLS

Clarence "Moon" Baker and Jerry Clements, former owners of the Fisher Island sloop "Last Straw," wasted little time in getting to the east coast to look at a 48-foot Sparkman Stephens yawl they have had their eye on for sometime. The pair took off early this week after completing the sale of "Last Straw" to Pointer John Nicol and a local newspaperman. The "Straw" will represent Bayview Yacht Club during the 1960 season.

We received a pleasant surprise, via Commodore Poxson, of Crescent Sail Yacht Club in the form of a letter from Paul Goetheus, skipper of the yawl "Gracie" which is enroute to Florida for the winter racing circuit. The letter is as follows:

There aren't any typical days as all have their own interest. Today was typically interesting, however. After Doc and Marion Glaesner had left us at Peeks-kill yesterday morning, we came on down the Hudson to 79th street off Manhattan and tied to a buoy for the night.

This morning we arose at daylight to take advantage of the tides to leave New York Harbor. It was windless, foggy and somewhat cluttered with freighters tied up in the lower bay, and ferry boats were scurrying about.

The wind came up with the sun and soon we were running with the main alone and taking turns removing N.Y.C. dirt, airing bedding and getting ship-shape in general.

As we approached Raritan Bay, a friend on a cruiser came out to meet us to direct us to an anchorage for the night. After consulting our charts, we decided it was not to be tried because of a 4 foot shoal nearby at low tide. This left us without a destination so we headed toward a commercial marina at Perth Amboy, which was no place for a sail boat.

While drifting along the shore, our cruiser friend suggested a nearby spot where sail boats congregated and proceeded to investigate it for us.

In the meantime, sails with thistles, highlanders, lightnings and blue jays popped up all around and a 14-year-old whizzing by, politely suggested we were awfully big to be right on their starting line. A launch came along side and asked if we would like to use their guest mooring for the night, showers, and that supper would be served in the Club House at 7 p.m.

As we were making fast to the mooring, lightning 5200 came up to the line and it looked familiar but we thought no more of it.

At supper there was much boat talk. A voice said, "Who is that nice thin boy that crews with Hank Cawthra at St. Pete and goes to Michigan?" We suggested Otto Shearer and it was right. Joe Neiner's wife was remarking that they always had good times with Crescent people at St. Pete while Joe was reminiscing about Crescent's 1954 Internationals, the tent, the Bayview party, and especially Bos'n Bill on the last night.

Someone else asked if we saw Don Fairchild's old boat in the race today. (That was the 5200) It was nice to be from C.S.Y.C. and to hear how well Crescent's hospitality has been received by others.

After dinner, Paul and Lucille Spens rowed us in their dink to their 40-ft. sloop on the way to the Gracie. It was built in England in 1951 and has no motor, telephone, ice chest or depth sounder. They sailed it over alone, via Madeiros, Barbadoes, Bahamas to here.

We finished the day with a nightcap aboard the Gracie, listening to the experiences of the Spans's.

We were at the Raritan Yacht Club—2nd oldest yacht club in America—good friends of C.S.Y.C.

Like every other club though, the second boat over had an aluminum spar and the skipper left for home without bending the halyards out to the shrouds.

Lang Scores Clincher With Solo Dash

As the overflow Dad's Day crowd screamed its approval, end AL LANG raced into the end zone with the clinching touchdown as Grosse Pointe downed previously unbeaten Royal Oak, 20-7, Saturday, October 10, on the local field. Lang snared a screen pass from quarterback Ron Schram and scooted the final seven yards with the second Devil TD eight minutes and fifteen seconds after the opening kickoff.

Austin Eleven Loses to U-D

By Bob Beattie

A scoreless second half cost the Austin Friars a 32-19 defeat to U. of D. High on the De La Salle gridiron Sunday, October 11.

The U. of D. Cubs took an early lead when veteran quarterback Paul Ewing slipped through center and ran 62 yards to pay dirt. Friar captain Tom Gallagher blocked Ewing's extra point attempt.

Austin moved into the lead three plays later when Tom Smith returned the kickoff 88 yards to within inches of the goal line. On the first play from scrimmage, guard Charlie Hitt recovered John Stanley's fumble over the goal line. Halfback Larry Smith ran the point to give Austin a 7-6 lead.

Halfback Jim Stenger plunged in from the one yard line and also plunged for the extra point to put the cubs out in front 13-7.

Starting quarterback, Paul Zosel, moved to the left half-back position and caught John Stanley's 20-yard pass to tie the score, 13-13.

U. of D. again took the lead when Paul Ewing raced 25 yards. The point attempt failed and the score stood 19-13 in favor of U-D.

Friar Tom Smith carried a Cub fumble 89 yards to create a halftime tie, 19-19.

Stenger drove one yard for the fourth U. of D. tally and Ewing ran the extra point successfully. Ewing scored again in the fourth, but failed to convert to climax the day's scoring.

The Friars deserve credit for what they did without Jerry

St. Ambrose Scores 40-0 Win Over St. Stanislaus

The St. Ambrose Cavaliers rocked helpless St. Stanislaus, 40-0, Sunday, October 11, under the lights of Mack Park for its fourth consecutive league win in the East Side Division.

Joe D'Angelo continued his scoring spree with two touchdowns and two conversions. Larry Lantzy also added two touchdowns while Mike Currie and Bill Fournier added one each.

D'Angelo opened the scoring 10, but fell before Maumee Valley, 13-7.

The Knights, paced by halfbacks Pete Fortune and Bruce Gillis, were the first to score on a 68 yard sustained drive in the first quarter. Gillis climaxed the drive with a four yard plunge. Dick Baron added the extra point to give GPUS a 7-0 lead.

Maumee came right back in the second period to knot the count which was the way it remained until two minutes and 32 seconds left in the game when Maumee pushed across the clincher. The extra point was missed which left the door open for a Frank Merriwell finish but the Knights couldn't produce.

The Knights will entertain Ann Arbor University High School on Friday, October 16 and will be looking for their first win of the season.

with a 7-yard dash in the first quarter after Mike Currie took a perfect pass from Manuel Lamprides to complete a 36-yard scoring play. D'Angelo plunged for the extra point to give the Cavaliers a 13-0 lead at the end of the initial period.

A St. Stanislaus fumble set up Bill Fournier for his 37-yard sprint which set the stage for Larry Lantzy's 20-yard touchdown run in the second quarter. Mike Tank passed to Bill Fournier for the extra point.

St. Stanislaus threatened in the third quarter when captain Norm Sparkynski reeled off some sparkling runs. But the threat ended when the Cavaliers' defensive unit decided their opponents had had enough fun for one night and slammed the door at the St. Ambrose 34.

Joe D'Angelo then reversed the direction of play when he ripped off a brilliant 64-yard run for second touchdown of the evening. Bill Fournier collected the extra point.

Larry Lantzy cracked over from the 15 for the final score of the game in the fourth quarter and then added the extra point with a "bone crushing" plunge through the tired St. Stanislaus line.

Woods Spartans Win and Lose

Saturday was a big day for the Grosse Pointe Woods Spartans Jr. Varsity, for they now have a new star in their back field. Rick Gonzales looks as if he is going to be their leading ground gainer. He ran through Hazel Park Jr. Varsity for their first touchdown and also ran over for an extra point.

Jerry Podilla recovered three fumbles during the course of the game which gave the Spartans enough advantage to win their first game of the season. With Rick in the backfield with Don Bay and Jonathan Staryk the Jr. Varsity will be a lot harder to beat.

In the Spartans Varsity vs. Hazel Park Varsity, Hazel Park ran over, around, and through the Spartans. The only time the Spartans could get started was in the third quarter when they held Hazel Park to midfield and went off ending the game. Final score, Hazel Park 40, Grosse Pointe Woods Spartans Varsity 7.

Woodsmen Beat Livonia Twice

Sunday, October 11, will long be remembered by the loyal followers of the Grosse Pointe Woodsmen Little Football League team who tasted the sweet reward of victory by twice defeating the Livonia Hawks.

The Junior Varsity victory was especially sweet for Coach Al Forrest as it was their first victory since entry in the League last year. The varsity, which has John Pingel for offensive coach, showed it has been an apt pupil for the type of football taught by this former Michigan State star.

The varsity defense, which is coached by Doug Shrieves and Stan Loeffler, did a very fine job of holding the opposition scoreless for the first time in their short life in the All American Football League. This was the first victory in two seasons in the League.

The duties of aquatic director this summer, during the rest of the year is a physical education teacher at Pierce Junior High School.

OPTIMIST—Like most golfers, President Eisenhower has an optimistic look as he and host George Allen (left) get set for a round at the El Dorado course in Palm Springs, Calif.

ANOTHER POLARIS SHOOTER—The Oct. 3 launching at Mare Island Naval shipyard, Vallejo, Calif., finds this undersea weapon sliding into the deep. It is the nuclear sub Thresher Roosevelt, third such to be built on the west coast and latest addition to the U. S. Navy's Polaris missile fleet. The cutaway sketch shows the engine room at far left, and the reactor room next to it. Enclosed middle section is the missile area. FUGITIVES FROM THE FBI

ANTHONY VYTAUTAS ADOMAVICIUS
 (In co-operation with J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, this paper is running descriptive articles on the criminals wanted by the FBI.)
ANTHONY VYTAUTAS ADOMAVICIUS is being sought by the FBI for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for burglary. On Aug. 22, 1957, a restaurant in Baltimore, Md., was broken into and a safe was taken, allegedly the work of Adomavicius and two accomplices. The burglars, when surprised by police, fled in a motor car, which they abandoned.
 Adomavicius alone is unapprehended and on Sept. 19, 1957, a Baltimore Federal complaint charged him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for burglary.
 The fugitive, who uses the names of Joseph Adamius, Vito Adamius, Vito Adamius, John Adams, Joseph Vito Adams, Vito Adams, Joseph Robert Atkins and Thomas Brown, has worked as produce wholesaler, laborer, chauffeur, painter, salesman, dishwasher, cook and counterman, has a criminal record going back to his youth.
 Adomavicius' crimes and convictions include breaking and entering, larceny, burglary, assault and perverted act and disorderly. Reportedly, the fugitive is unstable and should be considered extremely dangerous.
DESCRIPTION: Age, 42; Born, Baltimore, Md.; Height, 5'6 1/2"; Weight, 154 to 167; Build, stocky; Hair, dark brown; Eyes, blue; Complexion, medium. Has moles on face. Reportedly has partial dentures and drinks to excess.
INFORMATION concerning fugitive should be telephoned to the nearest FBI office.

They Write Backwards!
 It's Important at Air Force Base

By JAMES WINCHESTER
Central Press Association Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD might do it with mirrors, but in the United States Air Force the job of teaching students how to write backwards must be done with patience and perseverance.
 Learning how to write backwards is a highly important Air Force specialty. In scores of plot and control rooms around the world, vital information must be put on the Plexiglas screens from behind in order that observers in front of the boards may read them quickly and accurately.
 To learn how to write backwards, Air Force students are put through a special seven-week course at Keeler Air Force Base in Mississippi. They start out with a pencil, learning to write numerals and letters backwards on paper. From there they progress to positions behind the Plexiglas plotting board, using a grease pencil.
 A difference being observed between right-handed or left-handed students. Once proficiency is acquired, it becomes so automatic that students sometimes find themselves starting to write personal letters in reverse.
 Another factor in backward writing is that, in addition to the characters being reversed, the writing is done from right to left.
 The most difficult letters and numbers for new students to master in the backward writing course are "5," "N" and "9."
 Instructors find that students take backward writing almost naturally, with no significant

1860 PORTRAIT OF LINCOLN FOUND—A newly-discovered Cooper Union portrait of Abraham Lincoln is on display in an exhibition of Civil war photographs by Matthew B. Brady in San Francisco. This portrait, made Feb. 27, 1860, was discovered recently by William J. Kaland and Roy Meredith of the Westinghouse Broadcasting company during a search for Civil war material for a TV series. The photo was one of the two made by Brady following Lincoln's Cooper Union speech. The late President said, "Brady and the Cooper Union speech made me President."

T. Weaver of Grosse Pointe Farms. A visit to every Mount Holyoke alumna in the area is planned by the group. Using the same scheme of person-to-person calling last year, Mount Holyoke achieved the highest percentage of contributors among alumnae solicited recorded by any college or university in the country, and won a $500 award from U. S. Steel in recognition of this achievement.

National chairman of the Mount Holyoke Alumnae Fund Committee is Mrs. Martin Ranshoff of Darien, Conn. The total Alumnae Fund including reunion gifts, reported at the end of the fiscal year on June 30 was the largest ever given—$209,010. The national goal for the 1959-60 campaign is $250,000.

Feature Page

Two sisters in Kerby road and their second cousin, who is the only principal Defer School has ever had in 34 years, have contributed more than a century of service to the Grosse Pointe school system.

The sisters are Alice and Ethel Tucker and the cousin, Fred Kerby, and they represent the last in a long dynasty of Kerbys interested in education.

The first Kerby came to Grosse Pointe after the village of Detroit burned in 1805. They received their land from a government grant, a ribbon tract running from the lake to Gratiot, and on some of this land the Tucker sisters live today. Miss Ethel Tucker was principal of Mason school; her sister Alice taught at Trombley, Vernier and Kerby; and another sister, Mary Elizabeth, also was a Pointe teacher before she moved to New York.

Fred Kerby's grandfather and the Misses Tucker's grandmother were brother and sister. Rufus Kerby, the grandfather, was civic and education minded. He was postmaster and village officer. The Kerby school is named for this family. The present principal of Defer's father was on the board of education after the Pointe consolidated in 1922, was president in 1923-24.

Fred Kerby remembers attending the old two room school on Kerby road, built before the present structure, which is now used as a maintenance building, since the new school opened in 1949. The family homestead, the John Kerby home, has been modernized, stands on the corner of Ridge and Kerby roads.

He rose at 5:30 to take the interurban car to Detroit Central High School for which he had taken a county exam.

Mary Elizabeth Tucker, his cousin, was the first Pointe student to attend Central. When Fred Kerby was graduated from the normal college at Ypsilanti, (now Eastern Michigan College), he returned home to teach. His first assignment was at old Vernier school in Eight Mile near the lake, in a typical one room schoolhouse. World War I interrupted his teaching career when he had graduated from the one room school to the Shores village hall where he taught the upper grades and an assistant was engaged to instruct the younger pupils.

After service overseas he turned his back on education and took a fling on Broadway. Show business evidently had no attraction after teaching, for he was back in the Pointe, after taking some law at the University of Detroit, teaching at Vernier again and at the old Trombley school in Nottingham, a red brick, four class, two story schoolhouse where the Pointe Bar stands today.

When Defer opened in 1925 Fred Kerby was installed as principal and he's been there ever since, the last Kerby in the Pointe's history of education.

Defer itself was named for George DeFer, member of the first board of education after consolidation, and first president of the board, from 1922-24.

A glittering, glamorous galaxy of openings, benefits and lectures started last week as the beginning of an unusually gala fall social season. . . . The Grosse Pointe Symphony Fashion Show, the first Celebrity Series lecture, the premiere of "Porgy and Bess", the brilliant performance of the Detroit Symphony and the three evening presentation of "Separate Tables" drew the fashionable, the cultured and the civic minded. . . .

In the panoramic week Mrs. J. Leslie Berry, thrilled over the sellout for the GPYC show to finance the Pointe's own symphony, talked about the projected trip to Europe she and Mr. Berry are dreaming about for spring. . . . hate to leave their tiger cat, George, for that long because he pines. . . . Mrs. James Allan, in cocoa wool and furs remembering how her father, the late John McNeil Burns escorted her to symphonies as a girl, now does the same for her daughter, Diane. . . .

Like a Hollywood premiere, with Detroit society starring, was the "Porgy and Bess" film first at the Mercury Theater. . . . Mrs. Henry Ford II, a stellar attraction, her white satin theater suit set off by the new coiffure, tinted gray, instead of her usual blond, and very flattering. . . . her sister-in-law, Mrs. William Clay Ford looking dainty in black peau de soie, and equally chic the next day shopping on the hill in poplin raincoat and navy blue flats piped in red.

Meredith Wilson and his Russian born wife Rini, delighted at the opening Celebrity Series luncheon . . . at the speakers table, concert pianist Mrs. Albert Tipton had a few words for the "Music Man" about his stint as flutist with the New York Philharmonic and then was off to pick up her own flutist, husband Albert Tipton, of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, for a concert on Grosse Ile, before returning him for the symphony's opening that evening. . . . Also at the Celebrity Series lecture was Mrs. Donald Galvin, Jr., in trim suit, relaxing before her opening in "Separate Tables" for the Fine Arts, Theater Arts Players Drama Festival that evening.

Satin evening coats and white mink seem the favored wraps for formal evenings this fall. . . . glimpsed so many at the Ford Auditorium for the Detroit Symphony debut. . . . Mrs. Hale Sattley looked so fetching in draped avocado green chiffon with matching banded shoes. . . . Mrs. William K. Muir wore a black taffeta coat sprinkled with red roses over her short black frock. . . . Mrs. John B. Ford III draped white mink over her white brocaded gown, sparkling with pink. . . . The young Fords went on to hear a jazz combo after the Berlioz, Bernstein and Brahms.

Mrs. Bernard Pearce, such an accomplished actress, rated applause for her portrayal of the Rita Hayworth role in "Separate Tables" . . . her second act cashmere wool dress was a copy of Marlene Dietrich's famous trench coat, complete with white jabot. . . . in the audience for the three night stand were Mrs. Harold H. Emmons, Jr., in light gray brocade. . . . Mrs. William C. Evans, in a white flowered silk sheath. . . . Mrs. William C. Russell, in apple green silk. Mrs. John Denlors' big scene was the show stopper.

REV. BERTRAM deHEUS ATWOOD, OF GROSSE POINTE MEMORIAL CHURCH
by Patricia Talbot

The congregation of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church waited a year to find a new minister but when the Rev. Bertram deHeus Atwood preached his first sermon last Sunday his parishioners granted that the long year had been worth it.

Mr. Atwood is a young man with young ideas. He wants to know every member of his church personally. This is no small task with communicants numbering over 3,000. He believes the church, which has constantly been growing with the community, has new challenges to face, new demands to make of individuals.

A man with healthy doubts, Mr. Atwood was reluctant to accept Memorial Church. He walked the beach of his summer home near Lake George for hours trying to decide. Rev. and Mrs. Atwood and their four children were very happy at the First Presbyterian Church of Englewood, N. J. They loved the modern manse which they had decorated to suit their tastes, felt a real kinship with the 1,500 members of the church, and could have spent the rest of their lives in this New York suburb.

accept dogma. He wants his parishioners to do the same.

Former Pastors

Although his father was not a minister, he came from a church family and he has a brother who is a minister. Before his seven years at Englewood he was pastor of the First Reformed Church of Schenectady, N.Y., and minister of the Church of the Covenant, Paterson, N.J., and associate minister of the First Reformed Church, Albany, N.Y.

His wife, a New Jersey girl and alumna of Penn Hall, taught nursery school before their marriage. An attractive brunette, who wears clothes with a flair, Mrs. Atwood is interested in

Tea Will Honor Japanese Guest

Mrs. Joseph Dodge, wife of the former Financial Advisor to General Douglas MacArthur, will serve as chairman for the tea to be given at Christ Episcopal Church on Thursday, October 15, honoring Madame Mikki Sawada, founder of the Elizabeth Saunders Home for G.I. orphans in Japan. The tea will be held in the Undercroft at 3 p.m., with guests welcome.

The Home was founded as a result of the Allied Occupation of Japan and subsequent arrival of a new type of orphan, the child of mixed ancestry, abandoned in trash cans, theatres, Tokyo streets.

To care for these unwanted babies, Madame Sawada started a Home with her first donation of $170 provided by the will of an elderly nurse, Elizabeth Saunders, who requested that the sum be used for some worthy Christian cause.

In the past 11 years, 500 "orphans of history" have been cared for in this Home. Three hundred of these children, many beginning life with what seemed to be incurable malnutrition, have been adopted into private homes. Gifts from throughout the world have provided classrooms, a nurses ward, play grounds, a Chapel, etc. Mrs. Sawada hopes to bring her "abandoned babies" into an adulthood of good citizenship "functioning with satisfaction and adjustment."

Challenge Not Comfort

"Where you are comfortable is not always where you belong," says Mr. Atwood, who felt he had to come to Memorial because there was work to be done.

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church for 27 years was led by Dr. Frank Pitt, who retired last year. Mr. Atwood is well aware how difficult it is to follow a beloved pastor in a church.

He has, in two weeks, inaugurated changes. He is holding morning prayer meetings daily for the church staff and business men before they drive to work. He wants the parishioners to take a more active interest in the working of the church.

"I will not do any job a layman can do. There should be more young people showing a vital interest in the church." Next week 300 couples will meet with their new minister to plan an every member canvass, to bring the church records up to date. Mr. Atwood is not a business man. He wants to have time for pastoral counseling, lead the church to new religious depths. He believes most churchgoers have doubts. He encourages them to speak of them, solve them.

Mr. Atwood admits to religious doubts himself, quite surprisingly for a minister. He had to test his faith for himself, not community affairs as well as church fellowship groups. The couple have two children in college, Stanley, 22, at Washington and Lee University, and Emily, 20, at Wheaton College, Norton, Mass. Then there are Polly, 11, and Betsy, 8, at Richard. Stanley wants to be a lawyer but Emily likes church work, will go into Christian education.

To Greet Parishioners

The Atwoods are determined to know the congregation and will stand in the narthex after each service to greet the worshippers "I do wish the women would wear the same hat to church for about eight weeks to help me remember them," Mr. Atwood pleads.

The Atwoods love to travel, have taken their family to Europe several times. They collect antiques, which he refinishes. They enjoy jazz as well as symphonies, feel they discovered Nobel author Albert Camus, and read mysteries and modern novels. Mr. Atwood collects stamps and hates to garden because he had to weed a huge yard as a boy.

Supper Dance At Yacht Club

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club members and their guests will have a jolly fete October 24 when the club will stage a "Saturday Supper Club" dinner dance sponsored by floor show entertainment.

It's a party to precede Halloween — really a pinch-hitter for the costume fiesta which GPYC had originally planned for October 31, then cancelled recently in deference to the very young set and their priority on the traditional "Trick or Treat" night — the night when parents want to be on home base to watch out for their masked and costumed offspring.

At the Supper Club dinner dance, Nip Nelson, impersonator and humorist, will be in the entertainment spotlight. The charming singer, Belinda Blanchard, will complete the bill.

Art Quatro's orchestra will provide the music for dancing.

Edward J. Schoenherr is chairman and with his assistants, George M. Brooks and Fred K. Cody, is expanding plans for a merry evening.

Another Grosse Pointe Yacht Club event to have a change of date is the ladies' bridge luncheon and fashion show (second of the 1959 autumn pair). It has been removed from the October calendar and now has the red letter date of Nov. 19 with the same arrangements: 12:30 p.m. luncheon, a beautiful style show by the J. L. Hudson Company, and card play. Mesdames Paul L. Barker and Hamilton F. Kotcher have charge.

Big Job Ahead

An individual relationship with a minister in a church as large as Memorial is difficult, but Mr. Atwood is resolved to have it. He is beginning his tenure at one of the Pointe's largest Protestant churches with a vital, enthusiastic program, not content to let the church rest on its considerable laurels. Vigorous, friendly and dynamic he still engenders a warm feeling of intimate concern so typical of the small town pastor.

He is here to meet a challenge, for suburban churches often suffer from a sense of isolationism, a lack of social responsibility for the larger community of which they are a part. Sincere, energetic, dedicated, Mr. Atwood will inspire his congregation and fulfill a deeper need as leader of a faith.
