Thursday December 17

RELEASED FROM PRISON a mere three weeks ago, former beer baron of the Prohibition era, Roger Touhy was gunned down last night while walking on a residential Chicago street. Killed in true gangland fashion, "Touhy the Terrible" took a 12 gauge shotgun charge in his leg and lost too much blood to be saved.

Touhy, 61, had served 26 years in Statesville Penitentiary for the kidnapping of "Jake the Barber" Factor, one time confidence man. Touhy had always maintained that he was framed, in fact had just recently published his biography and called it "The Stolen Years."

The ex-convict and a friend, Walter Miller, were walking and had been stopped by two men who identified themselves as police officers. Then they opened fire, hitting both Touhy and Miller. Miller is in serious condition as a result of his wounds.

A DETROIT MOTHER of five died early yesterday morning on the floor of the City Welfare Shelter at 529 McDougall. Mrs. Helen Sinclair, 32, was seeking welfare aid for her family. Her husband, Hilliard Sinclair, left the family a few months ago. He was located in Arizona late yesterday and notified of his wife's death.

Mrs. Sinclair had just returned from a trip to Pennsylvania where she sought financial aid from her mother and then from the Pennsylvania welfare agency. Neither could or would help her. An autopsy has been ordered to determine the cause of her death. The four older children are in the Juvenile Detention Home and the baby, seven months old, is in Receiving Hospital.

THE NEWEST SECTION of the Edsel Ford Expressway was opened to motorists yesterday. The ceremony included the official opening by Mrs. Edsel Ford, widow of the automobile magnate for whom the expressway is named. The expressway now runs all the way through the city from the West to East side.

A NEW ATTEMPT is being made in the State Senate to end the Michigan cash crisis by using the Veterans Trust Fund as part of a new tax package. An agreement came last night when 12 Republicans and six Democrats joined forces to pass the measure by an 18 to 12 vote. The proposal must still pass the House.

Gov. Williams said, Thursday night, that he does not intend to block the proposal in the House. Instead he will urge Democratic support of it. It is hoped that the legislature can come to an agreement and adjourn for Christmas as soon as possible.

THE NEW RULE, issued by four Detroit judges, that permits a judge to conceal a Federal case from public and press if he believes it is "in the interest of justice" to do so, is under surveillance by the U. S. Supreme Court. The four judges, Theodore Levin, Thomas P. Thornton, Clifford O'Sullivan and Ralph M. Freeman, will be asked to justify the rule to a Senate committee.

"We are asking the four judges under what authority they have promulgated their gag rule," said Senator Thomas H. Hennings (D. Mo.), the chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights, yesterday.

ANOTHER $8,200 was added to the Detroit Old Newsboys' Christmas Fund for needy children, yesterday. A $5,000 contribution was received from a "prominent citizen" who asked to remain anonymous. Other sizeable gifts have come in to boost the total. The fund is still short of its $225,000 goal, however.

It Is Better to Give Than to Receive

Not under every Christmas tree throughout the world will there be such a huge stack of presents; but in this land of plenty, Americans take Christmas as an opportunity to shower gifts upon one another.

Center Party Will Honor Newcomers

Traditional Event for New Residents to Pointe to Be Held Sunday, January 10

As has been their custom for the past several years the Board of Directors of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lake Shore Road are planning a Reception for all newcomers in Grosse Pointe who have established residence in the community during 1959. The event is scheduled for Sunday, January 10, from 3 to 5 p.m.

This is purposely a week later than usual in order to give everyone a chance to catch his breath after the Holidays.

The Center has been trying to keep up with all new arrivals to the Pointe through the courtesy of the Welcome Wagon, but the Memorial's staff realizes there are undoubtedly many newcomers whom they have missed and they would like to take this opportunity of inviting them to the party and to ask them to call TU 1-7511 so that they will be on the Center's mailing list. If there is sufficient time they will then be sent the regular engraved invitation.

This annual New Residents Reception is for the entire family. Baby sitters are provided. Not only the Center's Board of Directors will be on hand to greet newcomers but representatives of all the churches and community groups and agencies (Continued on Page 2)

Christmas Decorations More Lovely Than Ever

"Where charity stands watching,
And faith holds wide the door;
The dark night wakes
The Glory breaks,
And Christmas comes once more."

Grosse Pointe is truly reflecting the spirit of Christmas this year in its outdoor decorations. By day or by night, on every street, are vistas of light and shadow, spiritual themes, breath-taking fairy trees, welcoming doorways, balconies outlined in lights, jolly Santas, traditional and modern wreaths and unusual and artistic use of floodlights and color.

This year the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council has arranged for colored slides of Christmas lighting and outdoor decorations which will be taken by both amateur and professional photographers. These will complete the file which

Young Students of Math. Start Corporations, Buy Stocks to Get Experience

Brownell Classes Get Into Notebook and Pen Business And Find Them Profitable; Invest in Aircraft and Electronics

Mathematics classes at Brownell Junior High School have taken on a "new look" this semester under the astute eye of teacher Alan Schaefer.

Four of his classes, two eighth grade and two ninth grade, are pursuing their respective courses of study and gaining practical experience at the same time.

The two eighth grade classes, in stocks and bonds, have become so interested in the subject that they each decided to form a corporation. Each class elected a board of directors and brought the corporations into being.

Young Woodsmen Don't Spare Tree

Three young boys got their Christmas tree the hard way Thursday evening, December 17, but the owners did not notice the loss until the following morning.

Mrs. Robert Butts of 1961 Hunt Club drive, told Woods police that on Thursday evening, about 11:10 o'clock, she saw the lads carrying a six-foot fir tree, as they ran across her front yard, but did not give it another thought. The boys got into a blue or green car and drove off.

The next morning, she said, she discovered that the tree was hers. The boys had chopped it down from the yard.

High Bushes Called Cause Of Accidents

Violators of Ordinance Limiting Height Will Be Warned by Letters

The Park police Department and city traffic engineers, in an effort to discover the cause of the many accidents on the streets and intersections, found that most of these are the fault of poor visibility as a result of bushes and shrubs being too high, it was disclosed by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

A city-wide survey by the two agencies brought out that 40 residents throughout the city are in violation of an ordinance which limits the heights of bushes and shrubs. Those in violation maintain these plants well above the three feet restriction, the chief said.

To Send Letters
Letters will be sent to each of the violators, requesting that they remedy the situation by a certain date, and if this is not done by then, a second notice of violation will be issued and the provisions of the ordinance enforced.

The ordinance reads: "In the case of a corner lot, bushes and shrubs within 35 feet of the street intersection shall be trimmed and maintained so as not to stand more than three feet above established sidewalk grade. The street intersection shall be taken as the intersection of the projection of the two curbs adjoining the lot."

Recommend Two Feet
Chief Louwers said that it is recommended that the property owners reduce the hedge to a height of two feet, thereby providing 12 inches for growth and trim.

"The high bushes and shrubs constitute a traffic hazard," the chief pointed out, "especially since the latest model cars are built much lower than those of past years. The low cars and high bushes and shrubs are a handicap to the visibility of motorists, and must be eliminated by trimming the plants to the proper height."

The chief asked the residents for their cooperation in helping to erase these hazards.

MEETING DATE SHIFTED
The regular Farms council meeting scheduled for January 4, has been postponed to January 18, with the approval of the council. A recommendation for the postponement was made by City Manager Sidney DeBoer on Monday, December 21, on the grounds there will be little business to discuss because the meeting is too close to January 1.

Church Expansion Plan Again Aired By City Council

Progress Report Heard but No Action Taken on Pleas Of Unitarians to Build New Structure On East Jefferson Site

A progress report on the matter of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church versus the residents of Rathbone place, was presented to the City Council during the regular meeting Monday night, December 21.

A meeting between the Council, the church and the residents had been held the previous Monday night and at that time, it was agreed that no further action would be taken on the matter at the December 21 meeting. Further discussion has not been set for any definite date, but will come up at a future Council meeting.

The Church and the residents have yet to settle their argument as to whether the Unitarian Church, presently located at 17145 East Jefferson avenue in the old David Carter residence, will be able to erect a new church building on the property adjoining their present property.

The Church has purchased the land at 17150 East Jefferson avenue in hopes of building there and using their present lot for a parking lot.

The residents of Rathbone place, which runs along one side of the present Church property, object mainly to the proposed parking lots, and also to a Church type building in a residential neighborhood.

The matter has been under discussion since June.

Police Nab Four Drinking Youths

Four Pointe youths were arrested by Woods police Friday evening, December 18, and charged with being in possession of alcohol, in violation of Ordinance 85.

The young men were sitting in a car in the Woods Theater parking lot, drinking beer, according to police, when apprehended in the act.

Patrolmen Donald Collins and Robert Sass said they received instructions over the police radio to investigate a group of suspicious boys in a car in the lot. The officers said they saw the boys drinking the beer.

As they approached the boys, the policemen said, they flashed a spotlight on the youths' car, and observed the lads trying to hide something under the front seat, which, when the car was searched, was found to be the beer bottles. There also were nine empty beer bottles in the car the officers said.

The youths claimed that a man they approached on Kercheval, purchased the beer for them. All the boys were turned over to their parents until a court hearing before Woods Judge Don Goodrow on February 13.

SLING SHOT TROUBLE
Two young boys had their sling shots confiscated by a City police officer, Thursday, December 17, when they were seen shooting at cars parked in area two in the Village.

Petition Presented
At Monday night's meeting, interested residents presented a petition to the Board, protesting division of the corner property and the proposed construction of the houses.

The property owners did not appear interested in Mast's statement that the two homes, which will cost approximately $35,000 each, will be an improvement in the neighborhood, nor did the people appear swayed when he said the homes would be bigger and better and constructed on lots much larger than those the protesting residents own.

Dexter M. Ferry Estate Value Set at $10,000,000

The will of the late Dexter M. Ferry, of 17100 East Jefferson avenue, was filed for probate on Wednesday December 16.

Ferry, who was 87 at the time of his death, died December 8. His estate, which is to be divided between his children, grandchildren and a charitable trust fund, is estimated at ten million dollars. The sum of $50,000 was left to each of his four children, Mrs. Edith Ferry Hooper of Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. Jean Ferry Davis of New York; Dexter M. Ferry of 368 Notre Dame avenue; and William Hawkins Ferry of 17100 East Jefferson avenue.

His real property was left to the D. M. Ferry Trustee Corp., a philanthropic trust. There was no estimate given on its value. Four paintings were left to the

Farms Fight Victory Won By Residents

Contractor's Plans Upset Despite Majority Approval Of Council Members

A building contractor received a majority vote of the Farms council, sitting as a Zoning Board of Appeals, on Monday, December 21, but his hopes of constructing two homes on a corner property floundered.

James Mast, representing the Walter H. Mast company, appeared before the Board a second time to ask for a reversal of a city building inspector's denial for building permits requested by the firm.

The company petitioned for permission to divide the corner property at Charlevoix and McMillan, the former site of the home of Mrs. Thomas Millson, into two lots, for construction of two residential dwellings.

Residents Protest
At a Board of Appeals meeting on December 7, property owners within 300 feet of the property jammed the council chambers to protest the building of two homes on the land, and stated they wanted to see one home built on the site. They claimed that the builder's proposed two homes would detract from the conformity of the neighborhood and lessen the value of their property.

At the time, City Attorney George McKean told the property owners they should have presented their protests in writing, and he was informed by these people that they were not aware of this right. The upshot of this was that the protesters were granted the right to petition, and the Board rescinded an approval to have the land divided.

Mack Avenue Area to Get More Space

Condemnation Hearings Started Against Owners "Village" Gets Break

Efforts on the part of the City Council to improve the parking facilities at the rear of the Mack avenue business area between Rivard and Washington, took a step forward at the December 21 meeting.

The need for more public parking has become particularly acute since the addition of Leon's beauty salon to that particular business area of Mack avenue. Monday night, the Council ordered City Attorney Charles Wright III to proceed with the condemnation of lot 15 of the D and H subdivision.

Now Vacant Lot
That property is presently a vacant lot owned by Mrs. Mary DeLong. She has refused to sell the property. The condemnation order will now make it necessary for her to sell the lot.

Following this move, the Council authorized the committee in charge of parking facilities to proceed in trying to negotiate the purchase of the rear 100 feet abutting lot 15 and facing Washington road.

Dr. Diebel Cooperates
Another step towards the City's plan for a better parking program was achieved when Councilman Alonzo C. Allen told the Council that the City now has an agreement with Dr. Nelson W. Diebel to use a portion of his property, at the rear of Kercheval place, in the Village, for all day parkers.

Police Accuse Young Motorist

David M. Trentcosta, 18, of 19956 Fairway, was trapped by his careless driving Sunday evening, December 20, and came out second best with Woods police, who gave him two tickets.

One ticket was for violating Ordinance 85 which prohibits minors to be in possession of alcohol, and the second was for unlawful use of an altered operator's license.

Police said Trentcosta claimed to be 21 years old and showed the altered license in an attempt to verify the claim. The license gave the youth's birth date as February 24, 1941, but there was no mistake about the fact that the document was tampered with to show the year as being 1938, the police added.

The arresting officers, Thomas Kerving and Bernard Kelly, said they were cruising on Mack avenue when they observed Trentcosta pulling away from the curb on Mack, at Norwood, and cut across traffic to turn left on Oxford. He did not have his car lights on, the policemen charged.

Kerving and Kelly said they took out after the youth, and paced him at speeds over 40 miles an hour on Holiday road, a 25-mile zone, and when he turned onto South Oxford, the young motorist exceeded speeds of 45 miles an hour.

The policemen said that at S. Oxford and Fairway, Trentcosta went through a stop street at faster than walking speed. When the youth stopped in front of his house, Kerving and Kelly arrested him, and searched his car.

The patrolmen found four cans of beer, and a pint bottle of whiskey that had been opened. Trentcosta was asked his age and claimed to be 21 years old, and produced the altered license.

CAROLERS CHASED
Three teenage boys were taken into City police headquarters for questioning Tuesday evening, December 15, after a resident complained of their presence at his house in Washington road. The boys said that they were Christmas caroling. They were released and sent home.

SISTER GETS HELP
Susan Brock of 333 Lincoln road called the City police for help when her brother, Michael, cut his finger at the family home, Thursday, December 17. He was taken to Bon Secours for treatment.

Christmas Decorations

Mack avenue is bright from Verheyden's artistically placed lights to Peter's Funeral Home with its sacred tableaux, the colorful store windows and shops, together with the Woods municipal tree adding its luster.

In the residential areas the Park will prove a delight to the children. Drive around the Windmill Pointe Area, Westchester, Pemberton, Middlesex, Balfour and Whittier roads.

The City has some striking lighting effects and beautiful doorways on St. Clair, Maumee, University, Lakeland and Rivard boulevard.

In the Farms you can view some beautiful color combinations and outlined windows as well as unique doorway treatments. Some of these may be seen in Merriweather, Cloverly, Kenwood court, McMillan road, Lake Crest lane, Stephens and Touraine roads. Don't miss the two magnificent blue-lighted trees in the Ridge-Vendome road area.

North of Mack in the Woods, there are beautiful simple decorations on some of the smaller homes, while south of Mack on such streets as Fairholme, Morningdale, Hollywood, Sunningdale, Lochmoor and South Renaud are more spectacular displays with lighted lawns or homes outlined with lights.

In the Shores there are outstanding double doorway treatments, in Clairview road, Sheldon road and Fairford road. In Edgewood, Williston and Balfour will be found stunning trees and indirect lighting effects.

Solons Act on Condemnation

The Council of Grosse Pointe City has denied the appeal of Russell and Helen Keyes, owners of the house and property at 761 University place, that the property not be condemned for violations of the City building code.

However, the Council voted at the regular meeting Monday, December 21, to allow the Keyes 30 days from the date of the meeting to correct the various violations as listed by City Fire Marshall George Coriden and the building inspector, Melvin Beattie.

By the end of the 30 day period, the front basement wall must be rebuilt according to the City building code. The wall, in its present state of disrepair, is considered a hazard as it is leaning and could collapse, breaking through it. The gas main to the house has been shut off until such time as the repairs are made.

A complete report has been requested by the Council at the end of the 30 days as to completion of the other necessary repairs to the house. These include items such as adding another step at the bottom of the basement stairs, cleaning paper and debris from the furnace area, removing paper from the air ducts in the basement, replacing mortar in the joints between the tiles in front of the fireplace, installing a spark arrester on top of the chimney flue, and some minor electrical repairs.

A rat wall is to be rebuilt in the garage behind the house and the rodents presently occupying the building are to be exterminated within ten days from the Monday night meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Keyes, in appealing the condemnation request, presented to the Council both a building permit for the repairs not yet completed and a letter listing the repairs already taken care of. They also asked that the gas be turned on or the main relocated as they presently have a tenant living in the house.

Nearly 15 residents and neighbors were present at the council meeting in regards to this action on the property at 761 University place. Some of them aired objections to the state of disrepair to which the property had been allowed to fall over the last ten or 15 years. They asked that the City Council act in the interest of the health of the community, particularly in regards to the rat infested garage.

When Mr. and Mrs. Keyes indicated that they thought they had been handled a bit roughly in regards to the matter, Mayor Kenneth Bergmann said, "there is a violation according to the city building code. It is the business of this council to see to the correction of this violation." It was at this time that Councilman Fredrick Parker moved to deny the appeal. He was seconded by Councilman Lloyd Marantette. The vote for the motion was unanimous.

Farms Fight

(Continued from Page 1) appeared backed by the others, that she and the others are aware that the homes in the neighborhood are old, and on small lots. She said that several years ago, two small homes were constructed in their area and the homes in the vicinity dropped $5,000 in value.

Hope for Improvement
 She said that the houses that are coming in are what the people of the neighborhood want to be proud of, not the houses that are there now.

At the last meeting, the Board rescinded its approval to permit the division of the corner property to 4,937 square feet. A city Charter provision specifies homes cannot be built on lots less than 5,000 square feet without council approval.

In a verbal vote, the majority of the Board approved the construction of the proposed homes.

Voting in favor of the firm were Mayor William Connolly, and Councilmen Richard Maxon, William Butler and Edward Roney. Against were Councilmen Henry Bodmen II and J. Lawrence Buell, Jr.

Councilman William Kirby was absent, but the Board was informed that he sided with the dissenting councilmen.

Wants Ordinance Changed
 Councilman Butler, at the close of the regular Council meeting, requested that something concrete be instilled in the Zoning Ordinance, so that the Board of Appeals can be guided by regulations without constant arguments.

He said that for the past six months, appeals have been made to the Board and that too much has been said back and forth, whereas, if the regulations were in the ordinance, then the Board will know where it stands.

City Attorney McKean said the City Ordinance requires a petition from residents, but the Board is not required to act on the petitions. Also, he said, the ordinance calls for four out of seven Board votes for a decision approval.

A State Statute does not require a petition and stipulates that a two-third vote is necessary for passage of any matter before the council or Board, he said. Therefore, he said, the State statute has preference over that of the city law and must be conformed with.

He was authorized to make the necessary changes and present it to the council at a meeting on January 18, for study.

Center Party

(Continued from Page 1) will be present to acquaint the guests with all the opportunities open to them in Grosse Pointe. All these representatives stand ready to welcome the new residents into their groups if the new residents are interested in their particular group or activity.

The Center will be specially decorated for the occasion. Delicious refreshments will be handsomely served from two tea tables and there will be music to enjoy. Everyone will be invited to tour the Alger mansion and familiarize themselves with the activities available to them at this unique Grosse Pointe institution.

Buy Stocks

(Continued from Page 1) class, with 18 students donated 85 cents each to give the sufficient amount of capital. The other class, with an enrollment of 24, required an investment of 75 cents each. After gaining parental consent (and wholehearted approval) they were nearly ready to make the purchase.

Prior to the big move, however, Mr. Schaefer invited Joseph Paletta, a stock broker with Smith, Hague and Co., to talk to his classes. Mr. Paletta told the students that he would be glad to help them all he could when they decided what company they wished to buy into. Each class then selected three or four stocks in their price range and voted on which one they preferred.

Decide to Buy Bell
 On December 7, a few days after Mr. Paletta's lecture, a small group of students, representing one of the classes, went down to Smith, Hague and Co. and told Mr. Paletta that they wished to purchase one share of Bell Aircraft stock. A good choice, according to Mr. Paletta. The following day, the other class sent their buyer to Mr. Paletta. They purchased one share of Avco, an electronics firm.

Now, each class will follow its respective stock through the financial pages. They both plan to write the companies for further information as to sales, growth, dividends, the activities and privileges of a shareholder. And of course, they will receive any dividends that the companies declare.

Will Sell Stock

At the end of the year, the stock will be sold and whatever profits there may be from dividends and possible increase in the value of the share, will be divided equally among these young capitalists. If a member of the class wishes to purchase the entire share, at that time, he may do so. Otherwise, the share will be resold through the broker.

Mr. Schaefer is quite pleased with the enthusiasm with which all four of his classes have gone at their respective projects. He feels that they are getting some valuable experience. In addition to understanding the subject better through active participation. The capitalists of tomorrow are beginning today!

Blame Cigaret For Park Fire

The smoke was so thick in the home of Richard F. Reed, 1071 Beaconsfield, on Sunday, December 20, that Reed could not see the phone dial to call in an alarm to the Park Fire Department when his living room caught fire.

Park Fire Chief George deCaussin said the fire was confined to a corner of the living room, and was put out in a matter of minutes. It is not known who called in the alarm, the chief said, but whoever did, gave the address of the fire as being 1107 Beaconsfield. Firemen had to back track the fire trucks to get to Reed's house, the chief said, but in spite of the lapse of the few minutes, the fast-working firemen had the blaze out in about 10 minutes.

Chief deCaussin said that a lighted cigarette that fell on the living room couch is believed to be the cause of the fire.

age throughout the house was extensive, he said. The only casualty was a pet parakeet which was asphyxiated by the smoke, while in its cage curtains and a rug. Smoke damaged in the dining room.

Business Men's Group Asks For Additional Bus Service

Additional bus service in the Pointe has been requested of the Lake Shore Coach Lines, Inc., by the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Association. The specific request made by the business group is explained in the following letter.

December 3, 1959

Gentlemen:

WHEREAS: We, the members of the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Assoc. firmly believe

SOLVED THAT: We recommend;

(1) A small station wagon type of transportation service originating at Mack and Cadieux, East to Notre Dame, South to Jefferson, West to Cadieux and North to Mack. This route with transfers would cover every section of our communities and should enhance the revenue on all existing bus runs. (St. Clair could be used if deemed more expedient.)

(2) The Lothrop Line which now exists might be extended to make the same loop as above described. East bound bus going to Mack and West bound bus to Jefferson, a distance of approximately two miles added to its run. Or West bound might go West on Fisher to Jefferson in lieu of Notre Dame.

We would like to point out that this arrangement would connect with the D.S.R. bus terminating at Mack and Cadieux, and would render service to the employees and patients of Bon Secours Hospital, plus the many people who find employment in Grosse Pointe and reside immediately north of Mack Avenue, an area comprising many thousands of people who find the existing bus lines too inconvenient to use.

We further believe a trial run of the Lothrop Line instituted at this time would be beneficial to the merchants and people of our communities and should go far to prove or disprove the feasibility of such a plan. It would also be a sounding board of public approval for the permanent service on the basis outlined above.

Signed,
Grosse Pointe
Business Men's Assoc.

Farms Shares Area Programs

The Farms council approved appropriation of $3,376.90 on Monday, December 21, to pay its shares in two Pointe area programs.

The Farms will turn over to the City, $1,439.35 for the Grosse Pointes' Civil Defense and Disaster Control program and $1,937.55 to the Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods Health Council.

The City is the managing municipality in both programs and prepares the budgets, showing each city's share each year.

Men's Garden Club Makes Annual Awards

The Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe awarded its sixth annual civic competition certificates at a meeting at the Memorial Center, Thursday, December 17 Kerby School, represented by Charles Kapayo, kept its record perfect by winning for the sixth straight time in the school competition. Representatives from the various winning organizations are from left to right:—FATHER BARTON, Our Lady Star of the Sea; LEON SARAZIN, Bon Secours; ALGER LODEWYK, Woods Library; ELMORE FRANK, Garden Club President; CHARLES KAPAYO, Kerby School; MARTIN MINICKEY, Farms Municipal Park; and WALTER BADACYSKI, Shores Municipal Building.

Methodists Plan Special Services

On Sunday, December 27, at both the 9:30 and 11 o'clock services, the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will welcome its college students and service men home for the holidays. The guest preacher for this service will be the Rev. Mr. Robert Hastings, associate director of the Methodist Student Movement on Northwestern University Campus in Evanston, Ill. The Rev. Mr. Hastings is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Getschman of Allard road.

Detroit Teeners Confess Thefts

A glance into the rear view mirror of a scout car by Woods police brought about the arrest of three Detroit teenage boys on Sunday, December 13, and the clearing of two burglaries.

Patrolmen William Duster and Robert Sass, patrolling the area of Hawthorne and Goethe during the early hours of the evening, noticed a car parked about 30 feet from Hawthorne, on Goethe, without lights.

The policemen proceeded on Hawthorne toward Mack avenue, when both officers happened to glance at the rear view mirror, and noticed the parked car start up and turn onto Hawthorne.

The officers turned around and followed the car down Hawthorne to Marter road, where the car being followed made a U turn, coming back on Hawthorne, and passing the police car.

Duster and Sass gave chase and stopped the car at Vernier road. They found a 16-year-old boy driving, and a 15-year-old boy sitting on the passenger side. The younger boy said the car belonged to his brother, but when he could not produce a vehicle registration, the officers took both boys to the station.

Approximately 10 minutes after arriving at the station, a call came from Mr. and Mrs. John Heberlings of 1597 Hawthorne. They stated their home had been broken into. The teenagers admitted the crime and were detained.

The Heberlings told police that they had left their house at 10:30 a.m. and returned at 8:30 p.m., and found the grade door open and the window of the door broken. They also found that the first floor of the house had been ransacked.

Found missing at the time was a gold-trimmed table lighter. Nothing appeared to have been touched on the second floor or basement, police said.

per in a Detroit burglary about a month previously.

All three lads were taken to the Wayne County Juvenile Home and held pending further investigation. Later they were released to their parents, and ordered to report to Detroit police for further questioning on the Detroit breaking and entering.

Charges against the three were filed in Juvenile Court for the Woods burglary. Woods authorities said.

St. James Lutheran Church, McMillan at Kercheval, will celebrate the Saviour's birth with a Christmas Eve Candlelight service on Thursday evening at 11 o'clock. Rev. George Kurz will have a brief Christmas meditation; there will be a Carol festival, and Christmas music by the Chancel choir.

The choir, under the direction of Carl Munzel, will sing "Let Our Gladness Have No End" by Reske, "Glory to God in the Highest" by Whitfield, "Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light" by Bach, "Jesu Bambino" by Yon, "O Holy Night" by Adams, and "Come Onto Him" by Handel. Soloists will be Mrs. Robert DeNike, Mrs. William Heiler, and Mrs. Evan Evans.

On Friday there will be a Christmas Day Festival service at 11 a.m. The Chancel choir will sing "Today There Is Ringing" by Christiansen. Both the Chancel and Chapel choirs will join in singing "Glory to God" by Kessel. A nursery is available for small children.

Woods Employs New Policeman

Gerald Kensora, 29, of 16019 Fordham, Detroit, a five-year Detroit police veteran, became the Woods' newest police recruit on Monday, December 14.

He resigned from the Detroit department before taking up his new post.

Kensora is a graduate of the St. Joseph High School of the Christian Brothers in Detroit, and is a veteran of the U. S. Marine Corps, serving from 1949 to 1951, and was honorably discharged with the rating of sergeant.

He is married to the former Margaret Tokarski of Detroit, and is the father of three children.

Kensora filled a vacancy created by Patrolman John Wells of 21903 Stephens, St. Clair Shores, who resigned on November 15, to seek a better paying job.

Christmas Star Still Mystery

Which of those ancient Christmas lights in the sky was the Star of Bethlehem?

Nobody knows for sure, says University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh (Ph.D.), who finds that popular interest in astronomy reaches its peak during December as the religious and festive occasion of Christmas approaches.

"Symbols of the season may be seen in the heavens," Professor Losh explains, "and our attention is drawn to the sky and stars in some vain effort to interpret astronomically the mystery of the early Christmas star."

"Although we are reminded by the limited descriptions and uncertainties of the early calendars that exact astronomical explanation of the time of identity of the Star of Bethlehem's appearance is out of the question, the planets are always promising and alluring."

"The planet Venus is often pointed out as a possibility," Professor Losh says. "This year Venus shines as a morning planet in the eastern sky for about three hours before the sun rises and easily could be interpreted as the 'sign'."

"Special groupings or configurations of planets also have been suggested as possible versions of this historical miracle."

"The Northern Cross, or Cygnus (the Swan), is steadily moving toward the west and may be seen to advantage in the evening hours. After dark Christmas Eve this Cross will be standing upright against the northwestern sky, a beautiful symbol of the Christmas season," she adds.

"The brightest star of the whole heavens, Sirius, also attracts attention during this month. From time immemorial, this star has been watched, admired and revered, rising as it does in the early evening around Christmas time. A line through the three stars of the belt of Orion points downward to this star. It was often mentioned as the 'star of the east' pointed to by the Three Wise Men."

Helen Kay Brigham was born in Kalamazoo, grew up in Grand Haven and was graduated from the National College of Education. She was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and national education honorary, Kappa Delta Pi. She was also active in co-curricular activities, especially dramatics. Her experience included work with Grand Haven Educational Testing and County Board of Education during summers. She enjoys travel having toured Western Europe this past summer. Miss Brigham is teaching kindergarten at Richard.

The other newcomer to the Richard staff is James Dulworth, fifth grade teacher. A graduate of Michigan State he is now enrolled in Wayne State. Previous experience has been principally in the business world but he has served as a student assistant at the high school and college level in addition to being an instructor in U.S. Army Signal Corps. This tour of duty also found him serving in Korea. He was born in Jackson and grew up in Hudson, attending Adrian and Hillsdale before going to State. Married, the Dulworth's have two children.

Shores Judge John Gillis signed warrants for the arrest of two motorists who failed to come to his court Monday, December 14, to answer for traffic violations.

The warrants are outstanding against John P. Buckley of 1121 Van Dyke, Detroit, charged with driving 45 miles an hour on Lake Shore road; and James A. Thompson of 678 Glover, Detroit, who is accused of failing to keep to the right while driving on Lake Shore.

Of those who did appear in court, Lloyd G. Greenwood, Jr., of 22459 Shakespeare, East Detroit, received the heaviest penalty, a fine of $75 and two years probation, no driving.

He was found guilty of speeding 45 miles an hour on Lake Shore and driving while his operator's license was revoked.

City Approves Program Costs

The Grosse Pointe City Council approved that municipality's part of the budget for the Health Council and for the Civil Defense and Disaster Control programs of the five Grosse Pointes, at the December 21 meeting.

The City's proportionate share of the Health budget (which also includes Harper Woods) is $928.72. Its share in the Civil Defense and Disaster Control program is $690.80. The Council ordered that Neil Blondell, City Assessor, send the necessary amounts to the treasurer of these funds.

The total Health budget for the five Pointes and Harper Woods is $9,105.05. Of that, the Park pays $1,837.40; the Farms, $1,937.50; Shores, $695.63; Woods, $2,003.64; Harper Woods, $1,702.64; and the City's, $928.72.

The total budget for the Civil Defense and Disaster Control pays $1,365.10; Farms, $1,439.45; program is $5,500. The Park Shores, $516.45; Woods, $1,488.30; and the City, $690.80.

Present were the couple's son and daughter-in-law, the Wilber M. Bruckers Jr., the Frank Kuhns and daughter Arielle, and the Bertram Shovers and daughter Barbara Shover, who had arrived for the holidays from Wellesley College.

The senior Bruckers are headquartered at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

Errant Driver To Face Judge

Clifton Washington, 28, of 1523 Holcomb, Detroit, crashed his car into an Edison light pole on Lake Shore at Beacon Hill on Monday, December 21.

Farms police gave the motorist a ticket, charging him with reckless driving. He had been drinking, police said.

Investigating officers said that Washington was driving west on Lake Shore when he lost control of his car, which jumped the curb, hitting the pole and knocking it down.

Damage to the car was estimated at about $200, and the cost of replacing the pole was estimated at $100. The car had to be towed away.

Washington is scheduled to appear before Farms Judge Grant E. Armstrong on December 30.

Devils Beat East Detroit, Then Lose to Fordson Five

Grosse Pointe's Blue Devil basketball team blew hot and cold in splitting a pair of cage contests last week. The Devils won a thrilling 63-61 hair-raiser over non-league East Detroit when Dave Veennendaal dunked the winning basket in the final five seconds on Tuesday, December 15. Three nights later the Pointers bowed to league foe Fordson 46-34 for their second straight league loss. Both games were played on the Devils' home court.

The win over East Detroit was sweet revenge as it was the Shamrocks who dumped the Devils out of the State District tournament last spring.

Grabbing a first quarter 17-12 lead the Devils saw their five point margin melt away to a 3-point 37-34 halftime deficit before the determined, second period Shamrock onslaught. The Pointers managed to draw even in the third quarter and move into another five point, 49-44, lead at the end of the third stanza.

With eight minutes remaining the Shamrocks staged a fourth quarter rally that saw them draw even and then go ahead, 61-59, as the contest moved into the final minute. Two foul shots by burly Jon Rice knotted the score at 61-61 and set the stage for Veennendaal's winning dash with five seconds to go.

Out shot by the Devils 25 to 20 from the floor, East Detroit remained in contention with remarkable accuracy from the foul line which saw it cage 21 of 27 attempts as compared to the Devils 10 of 17.

Ron Schram, 6-4 Devil center, played his best game to date and wound up with individual scoring honors at 19 points, to lead East Detroit's Curt Cooper, who notched runner-up honors with 17. Devil hero Veennendaal wound up with 16 points without the aid of a single charity toss. Guard Jon Rice was the third Devil to hit the double figures with 14.

East Detroit also showed balanced scoring with four of its starters hitting in double figures produced mainly from the foul line. Cooper's 17 points came on 5 field goals and 7 of 8 free throws. Schram was just as accurate from the line with 5 of 6 tries.

Had the Devils refrained from fouling, the Shamrocks would never have threatened as seriously as they did. The Pointers absorbed 17 personals as compared to the East Detroit's 10.

The Devils had a complete reversal of form against Fordson. Only Dave Veennendaal continued to find the range and had it not been for this junior forward the Pointers would have been in real bad shape. Dave canned 16 points, 10 coming in the final period, to annex individual scoring honors with runner up honors going to Fordson's big Dave Scott, who dominated both backboards on rebounds, and collected 15 points.

Fordson grabbed a brief lead at the opening whistle but relinquished it when Ron Schram caged one of his two baskets and Dave Miles pumped in a layup. The Devils held a 12-18

Sgt. Robert McKean Stationed on Okinawa

FORT BUCKNER, OKINAWA (AHTNC)—Army Sergeant First Class Robert E. McKean, whose wife, Fernie, lives at 1541 Hawthorne road, Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich., recently arrived on Okinawa and is now assigned to the Administration Section U.S. Army, Ryukyu Islands.

Sergeant McKean entered the Army in January 1943 and was last stationed at Fort Kustis, Va. The 38-year-old soldier is a 1937 graduate of West High School, Cleveland, Ohio. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. McKean, live at 3147 W. 231st st., North Olmsted, Ohio.

lead at the end of the first period but fell behind when Scott bagged a bucket at the 2:50 mark of the second period. A minute and a half later Jerry Czapski pushed the Tractors out in front to stay at the 4:20 mark. Fordson held a narrow 22-19 halftime lead.

The Devils suffered a cold spell throughout the third stanza getting only one field goal and three foul shots while Fordson raced to a 14-point, 38-24, lead at the end of the third quarter.

Grosse Pointe outscored the Tractors in the final period 10 to 8 and all of the Pointers' last quarter points were racked up by Veennendaal.

Throughout the game Grosse Pointe experienced nothing but frustration. It seemed that the man in charge of "basket covers" had it in for the Pointers. Time after time Devil shots rimmed the basket only to pop out and be grabbed by Fordson's big center Dave Scott. Seldom did the Devils get another try after missing a shot.

Tied for Cellar:
The defeat dropped the Devils into a two-way tie for last place with winless Monroe.

Highland Park, under its new coach Eldon Rouse, smothered Wyandotte 78-29, which just a week ago nipped Fordson by a single point. Royal Oak Dondero, which tripped the Devils a week ago by 3 points, downed Monroe 51-45 in a see-saw battle.

On comparative scores it appears the Highland Park Polar Bears are headed for another BCL title which they have won or shared the past nine seasons.

All BCL teams will be idle until after the holidays and will swing into action again on Friday, January 8. At that time Grosse Pointe will travel to Monroe for the battle for last place.

Boat Banter

The loneliest ship on the Great Lakes these days, but undoubtedly the best known, is the lightship "Huron." This 38 year-old Coast Guard vessel is officially logged as the Lake Huron Lightship No. 562 and is the last of its kind on the Great Lakes.

Manned by its eleven man Coast Guard crew, it rides at its 5,000 pound anchor in lower Lake Huron, seven miles north of Port Huron.

Throughout the navigational season the "Huron" flashes its 13,000 candlepower, 14 mile visibility light by night, emits radio beacon signals and booms its deep throated horn during fog for ships to "home-in-on" during each 24-hour period day in and day out.

The "Huron" is an extremely important navigational aid as it shepherds "the great fleet of lake freighters into the 800-foot wide, 30-foot deep channel connecting the lake with the busy St. Clair River through which more tonnage passes each year than the Panama and Suez canals combined. It is the busiest waterway in the world.

So powerful is the Huron's fog horn that lakeshore residents have nicknamed the vessel "Old Bee-Oh." The big horn has been known to emit its regularly spaced blasts for as long as 12 hours at a stretch, which makes for uncomfortable living aboard the ship. Boat-swain First Class William Higgins, who commands the ship, says: You can stuff two pillows over your head and you still can't get away from the noise. But it isn't as bad on deck as it is below where you get all the vibrations.

One would think this unpleasant condition would drive volunteers away from requesting duty aboard. But to the contrary, Chief Warrant Officer John Deedham, Coast Guard Group Commander of the Detroit area including the lightship, says he is swamped with volunteers because the men, mostly married, are attracted by the bonus of six-day leaves each month. The tour of duty for this marooned life is about two years duration.

This year the "Huron" will remain on station even longer than in past years as the ore carriers attempt to make up for lost sailings due to the steel strike last summer. Undoubtedly the vessel will be forced to push her way through ice as she weighs anchor and heads for her winter berth in the Black River in Port Huron.

Even in port the crew will remain aboard to recondition the ship for another year, which will begin as soon as the ice melts away in early spring and another season of shipping gets underway.

The "Huron" is a familiar sight to entries in the annual Bayview-Mackinac race as the starting line is laid near-by.

Leaves Scene After Crash

An unknown witness took the license number of an automobile that sideswiped another car that was parked in front of 612 Cadieux road, Saturday, December 19.

The information was given to a City police officer while he was on traffic duty in the Village. He had the number checked and the car was found to belong to Evelyn R. Roney of 16819 Cranford lane. She was given a ticket for leaving the scene of an accident and for driving with an expired license.

The car that she hit belonged to Dale R. Ewart of 22819 East Nine Mile road in St. Clair Shores. The car received minor damage on the rear of the left side.

GPHS Natators Take Easy Win from Fordson Tractors

Coach Paul Wheeler's Grosse Pointe swimming team romped to a rousing 57-31 victory over Fordson in the Tractors' pool, Friday, December 18.

The victory gave the Devils a three-way first place tie in the Border Cities League standings with Monroe and Wyandotte. Each has won both of their league starts.

The Devils captured all but one of the eight individual events and took both relays, but were disqualified in the medley relay when one of the quartet jumped the gun. The Pointers held a comfortable lead in that event at the time of the disqualification.

Grab Big Lead
The Pointers jumped off to a comfortable 24-3 lead when Mark Gregory and Bob Hammond slammed the 50-yard free style; Chris Kimball and Joel Spitzley slammed the 100-yard butterfly and co-captain Lauren Bowler and Angus McGarvah slammed the 200-yard freestyle.

Don Haynor took the 100-yard orthodox breast stroke and co-captain Dick Law won the 100-yard orthodox breast stroke before Pete Aronson and Neal Bauer slammed the 100-yard freestyle to give the Devils a lopsided 42-12 margin.

Tractors Slam Dive
Bill Monthaven and Bill Michno slammed the diving event for the Tractors' third bundle of points in the meet. Thanks to the over-anxiousness of the Pointer's 200-yard

Market Seeks Expansion Okay

The proposed expansion of a Kercheval-on-the-Hill supermarket was referred to the Farms City Attorney by the Farms council on Monday, December 21, for a legal opinion and report to be presented at the next regular council meeting.

The ACF-Wrigley Stores, Inc., petitioned the council for permission to build an addition to its store at 107 Kercheval, over city-owned property between the store and the Grosse Pointe News building.

The food firm was represented by Attorneys Victor DeBaeke and Avern Cohn, who stated that the company had obtained an extended lease of the site on which the store building stands, from Alex C. Mannino of 70 Clairview, land owner.

The company proposes to build the addition 11 feet from the ground, and four feet above the roof of the existing building. It will be 60 feet long, beginning from the alley at the rear of the store.

The lawyers stated that this would give the store 600 square feet to house the refrigeration system, rest rooms and possibly two offices. The construction will give the store that much more sales area space in the ground level, they said.

They said the new addition would leave a four-foot open space between this and the NEWS building for natural light. The under side of the new section will have artificial lighting, they said.

DeBaeke and Cohn were advised to meet with City Attorney George McKean to discuss the matter, and the city attorney will present his legal opinion and report on Jan. 18.

WALLET PILFERED

Helen Porchik of 14960 Veronica, East Detroit, lost her wallet to a thief on Wednesday, December 16, while working at the Sears, Roebuck branch store, Mack and Moross. She told Farms police the wallet was taken from her purse in a counter drawer, and that it contained $26 in cash, a $10 check, and other items.

Suburbs By The Truckload

Suburbs are spreading farther out into the wide open spaces as our population continues to grow by leaps and bounds—and truck transportation makes this giant expansion program possible. That's because trucks are the only transportation system flexible enough to service all the out-of-the-way places people are moving to these days. . . Trucks go wherever there are roads—so homes (and factories and business establishments, too) can be located just about anywhere and everywhere in this big country. . . No matter where you live or do business, trucks assure you fast, efficient service for all your transportation needs.

Tractors Beat Devil Reserves

Grosse Pointe's reserve basketball team went looking for its first win of the season last Friday, December 18, and bumped into the Fordson Tractors. The reserves are still looking for that elusive first victory. The Tractors bumped them with a 17-point last quarter rally to win 43-34.

The Devils were in the game right up to the start of the final quarter. Fordson had held period leads of 11-6, 17-15 and 26-25 and were forced to go all out to remain ahead of the determined Devils.

The Pointers seemed to run out of gas in the final eight minutes of play while the Tractors pumped in fuel from their reserve tank and raced off with the win.

The Devils were out-shot in every department. Fordson canned 17 field goals as compared to the Pointers' 13 and made good on 9 of 21 free throws while the Devils cashed in on only 8 of 24 charity tosses.

Mike Kandes paced the Tractor attack with 13 points for individual honors and the Devils' Bridges and Brennan shared runner up honors with 10 points each.

Scooter Thief Pleads Guilty

Jerry Hollers, 17, of 7227 E. Lafayette, Detroit, entered a plea of guilty to unlawfully driving away a motor scooter, at a hearing before Wayne Circuit Court Judge Frank Fitzgerald on Tuesday, December 8.

Park Det. Lt. Stanley Enders said that Hollers was charged with breaking into the garage of Michael Miller, Jr., 902 Balfour, last July 4, and stealing the scooter.

Park police had been looking for the thief and the scooter, and were notified of Hollers' arrest several days after the theft, when the youth became involved in an accident with the two-wheeler.

Judge Fitzgerald ordered a Probation Department report before setting a sentencing date.

Austin League Victories Hit 41 With Win Over U-D

Austin High ran its consecutive league victory skein to 41 with an impressive 62-48 win over upset-minded U. of D. Friday, December 18, on the Cubs' home court.

Prior to the start of the season coach Chuck Hollosy said, "I expect our strongest tests to come from Catholic Central, Notre Dame and U. of D. If we get past those three we should, barring accidents, capture our fifth consecutive Central Division championship."

Hollosy's crew has taken those three "strongest rivals" into camp on successive Fridays and one would assume the Central Division title is all but wrapped up again.

Another Voice Heard
But another voice has been heard in the wilderness—that of Cathedral Central, which has won all three of its league starts and currently shares the division lead with Austin. The Friars will have their Christmas holidays to ponder and worry over, Cathedral Central. They will meet on January 5 in the first game after school reopens. Cathedral Central will have the advantage of the home court.

Against U. of D. the Friars fell behind in the early stages of the first quarter when the Cubs bolted to a 6-0 lead before guard Walt Connolly broke the ice for the Friars with a pair of foul shots.

Gain Squeaky Lead
From there to the end of the first period the Friars scrambled to beat back the Cubs and move into a squeaky 13-12 lead one minute and forty-eight seconds after the second stanza got underway. Once ahead the Friars moved gracefully in and around the Cubs, creating utter confusion in the rivals' ranks.

Need Workers For Polio Drive

Can you give an hour of your time to help raise money that may benefit one family out of every four in this country?

Volunteers are urgently needed in Wayne County to help with the New March of Dimes drive against birth defects, arthritis and polio, according to Anne Campbell, Mothers' March Chairman. A survey to be made by the women of America from coast to coast on the night of Thursday, January 28 will give health officers a pattern for health needs.

"Most people don't realize what vicious crippling arthritis and birth defects can be," Anne Campbell said. "About 250,000 children are born each year in the U.S. with birth defects. Arthritis and other rheumatic diseases afflict more than 11,000,000 Americans. More than 50,000 polio patients are still on the March of Dimes patient aid rolls.

"Volunteers who worked for the March of Dimes in past years, have the comforting knowledge that their efforts helped sponsor the work of a young doctor named Jonas E. Salk. We hope that our present efforts will sponsor a young doctor who will be to the war against birth defects and arthritis what Dr. Salk was to the polio war."

Please call the New March of Dimes headquarters, WO 1-4153, and ask for the Mothers' March department.

CAR WINDOW DAMAGED
George Hanson of 17440 Maudslayi avenue called the City police department on Monday, December 14, to report that someone had fired some BB shots through the window of his car.

Brownell Students Get Into Business

Thompson Home To Have Party

Mrs. Robert McKean is chairman of the entertainment committee of the Thompson Home which gave its annual Christmas party for the residents of the Home and their guests on Sunday.

Supper was served at tables covered with holiday green cloths, and favors were planned by Mrs. William Kerber.

Mrs. Benson Ford, president of the board, provided a giant Christmas tree, and Mrs. Rivard Klippel arranged wreaths in the windows. The after-dinner program included special music.

Assisting Mrs. McKean were Mrs. Thomas P. Archer, Mrs. Warren S. Booth, Mrs. Ferdinand Cinelli, Mrs. Martin S. Hayden and Mrs. Harold B. Tyres.

Election Held At Old Club

Bert Cremers, of Lake court, was elected commodore of The Old Club at a meeting of the new board of directors on December 8. New vice commodore and secretary is Henry Earle, of Washington road. Cletus J. Welling, Renaud road, Grosse Pointe Woods, was elected treasurer.

The board elected Joseph Spitzley to fill the unexpired term of Ewin Peabody. Benson Ford, Cletus J. Welling, and Joseph E. Dodge are new board members elected at the annual meeting on November 19. The various committees for the coming season will be announced later by Commodore Cremers.

The Old Club, facilities of which are on the flats of the Saint Clair River where its main channel flows into Lake Saint Clair, was established in 1872.

The Unitarian Viewpoint

Free Christianity has the great task of bringing to mankind once and for all the conviction that thought and religion are not irreconcilable, but actually belong to each other.

Christmas 1959

Another Christmas is here and our thoughts are influenced by the many complexities which have been added to human lives since the birth of The Savior 1959 years ago. Transportation has progressed from jackasses to jets and the near future may see space ships solving the mystery of the Christmas star, which shone down on the little manger in Bethlehem.

The Wise Men followed the star and learned the message of hope that was to spread slowly around the world. Communication in those days was mostly by word of mouth, and messengers traveling by the tedious methods of transportation. Today news and pictures are disseminated instantly to all corners of the earth by the miracle of the telephone, telegraph, cable, radio and television.

But the quickened pace of today, the tensions of competition, the stresses of every day living with our multiplied activities and responsibilities, cannot in any way change the true meaning of Christmas. Its lesson remains, as sharply etched as was the star on that clear night in Bethlehem more than nineteen and a half centuries ago.

The popular interpretation for as long as we can remember is that Christmas is for children. This is certainly true, for are we not celebrating the birth of the Babe of Nazareth? In focusing our attention on the children we are enjoying the fruits of one of the primary teachings of Christ... "It is more blessed to give than to receive." And children are so delightfully stimulating when they are witnessed in the act of receiving. Few of them have learned the pleasures of giving, especially if sacrifices are involved. Sacrifice adds meaning to the gift, but in the exchange of presents this portion of the recipe is too often omitted.

But Christmas is also for those mature in years and in knowledge. There are other pleasures beyond the trimming of the tree and the spreading of the toys, and the looks of rapture on the faces of the young. There is the annually renewed revelation that this is the time when the seasonal rush itself requires pauses in which we can contemplate and evaluate all those things which this celebration encompasses.

No matter how irreligious many of us may deem ourselves, the teachings of Him whose birth we are observing, play tremendous roles in our daily lives. We find ourselves giving thanks not only for the blessings of this day, but for those of every day, and we hope to be worthy of those blessings. We pray, not only in churches, but in the privacy of our own homes, that help will be extended to all, but especially to the helpless.

We ask for extra assistance for those nearest and dearest to us, and we seek a special dispensation that will give us the strength to discharge all our obligations and to carry out to the best of our ability, every assignment that comes our way.

And today, as for many years, one of our greatest prayers is the supplication for universal peace. The vast array of countries which now constitute the United Nations, represents a number of religions, and also some governments which profess to be atheistic. It is comforting to note the many manifestations which indicate that there are many people in this latter group who cannot subscribe to the tenets of their leaders, and still place their faith in guidance beyond the poor power of mortals.

The many nationalities who worship God and the Son whose birthday is Christmas, look to Them for leadership towards peace, and personal strength to shorten the journey.

Let us all take time out at this particular season to dwell deeply on the true meaning of Christmas. The Father and the Son have given gifts to the world which we can never hope to repay in full. While we are exchanging presents and making merry, let there be solemn moments of realization of this indebtedness, and rededication of effort towards the never-changing goal of truth and charity and "Peace on Earth to All Men of Good Will."

Cards, Cards, Cards

As ye Young Editore sits with a gun in our side while we write this column, (otherwise there wouldn't be one this week), the one thing that stands out in our mind are the wonderfully pretty Christmas cards that are rampant this season. We are enjoying ALL ours but have also seen many sent to other people that are dreamy. Among some of the outstanding cards (in our opinion) ... were those sent by the following:

Mrs. Joseph (Harriet) Schenck ... a beautiful snow scene that just made you want to run outdoors and make snowballs.

Gay Edgar ... an adorable little girl in red, with ermine hat, having a ball on the skating rink.
 Jimmy and Julie Hudson ... a sweet picture of their baby girl, "Heidi" ... who looks like a living doll.

Elsie Biebler ... a pretty, colorful Christmas tree with REAL tinsel! Mr. and Mrs. Ben Chapman and "Satch" ... a picture of a weebegone whoozit dog sitting under the mistletoe ... the image of the real Satchmo, who is Poodle AND ... with personality!

Chris C. Charron Inc., painting contractor. ... A beautifully wrapped Christmas package tied with large red bow ... standing out against a pine green background. You want to open the package and see the goodie inside!

Mr. and Mrs. Hascall Bliss ... another magnificent country snow scene with tall pines covered with silvery snow ... horse and buggy in gay flight moving down the lane toward the lighted houses in the background. All, all, beautiful and many, too many to mention here.

Leg Decor

One whom we consider a very brave woman, who has the kind of fortitude our forefathers were noted to have, has just had a cast removed from her leg after over three months of confinement. Our heroine, who is UP in the eighties ... showed her spirit by decorating the discarded cast for Christmas. It looks as attractive as a gimmick Christmas tree.

She has it covered with multi-colored ribbons and bows which she saved from the many gifts she received in the hospital. Since most of her friends read this column ... she asked us to thank them for all they have done for her ... until she is able to do so in person. For THIS ... she has given us her cast "leg" ... which we intend to use for Christmas decor. Our heroine wishes all her pals a Merry Christmas ... and we wish one to this gallant lady.

Watch-Watch

A young business man of our acquaintance, who was about to receive some accolade or other for civic activities, was asked for a recent picture of himself for newspaper use. He made an appointment for a sitting at the salon of one of our leading photographers. The pictures were duly taken and a few days later some twenty proofs were submitted. The photographer looked at them (natch), the man looked at them, a few friends he met in his office building looked at them ... everyone thought at least five were great.

He brought them home to his wife. She liked the same five the others all liked. Then he showed them to his teen-aged children. They liked the proofs too ... BUT ... suddenly the young boy of the family said: "Dad, why are you wearing TWO wrist watches???" They all took a second look and sure enough, POP WAS wearing a watch on each wrist!

It so happened he had worn an old wrist watch downtown, the day he had to call for a newer one that had been repaired. Instead of having it "boxed" ... he decided it was easier to just slip it on the other wrist. However, NO ONE noticed it ... including the photographer ... so our hero had to go back for another sitting ... all because smart junior spotted the very UN-chic double wrist watch deal!

Teens Again

We think this is one of the funniest natural stories we've ever heard. A friend of ours stopped in to call on a neighbor who was in the process of going through the Social Secretary in search of addresses for her Christmas cards. Our pal had her fourteen-year-old daughter with her, who had never seen nor heard of a Social Secretary. She asked if she might look at it. She thumbed through it idly for awhile ... then said: "What does it mean when it gives three or four numbers after a person's name?" The hostess said ... "Those numbers indicate the clubs she belongs to and you check those separately, elsewhere in the book." Then she asked, "What specific name are you looking at now ... maybe I can explain." The youngster read the name ... and the numbers following were 28-52-108. Before Madame could reply ... the child said: "I thought maybe it was her measurements."

Letters to the Editor

To All Readers:

In the greater sense, of course, life is the gift of God—but we his stewards are charged with aiding and sustaining it. Strange that we should mobilize the community resources to dig a child out of a well or help a kitten out of a tree and dismiss with a shake of the head the weekly death of hundreds on our highways.

The sorrow and loss attendant upon these so-called accidents is largely preventable. The major portion of them are caused by human action or reaction. The astonishing thing is that the Christmas Season, when good will to all men should prevail is the time also of the greatest highway death toll.

We can, as individuals, have some effect on this great social problem. We can make it part of our daily Christian program to live the Golden Rule in the car as well as out. We can encourage our family, friends and those with whom we are in contact to develop a sense of moral responsibility in their driving as in other phases of our daily life. We can keep in mind that nowhere is good will to men expressed with more immediate effect than behind the wheel.

May this holiday season be filled, for you, with satisfaction and peace of mind and good hope for the future.

Arthur E. Louwers,
 Chief of Police,
 Grosse Pointe Park.

Woods Firemen Injured at Blaze

Two Woods firemen suffered minor injuries while battling a fire at the home of John Moran, 1460 Oxford road on Saturday, December 19. A French poodle, almost asphyxiated by smoke, was revived by firemen.

A fire report revealed that Moran attempted to put out a fire in the den of his house with a bucket of water before calling the Fire Department for help.

The fire, which destroyed the den, is believed to have been started by a lighted cigaret that fell on a couch.

The two firemen injured were Patrolmen Gaylord Golding and Robert Sass. The Woods has an integrated police-fire department.

Golding suffered a puncture wound on his left knee, caused by a roof nail, and Sass suffered a puncture wound in his right foot from a roof nail and also multiple cuts about both hands from flying glass.

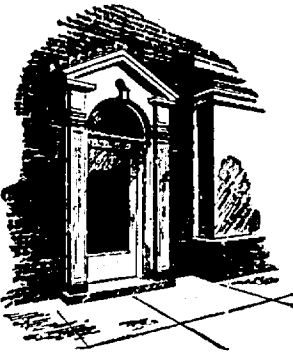

The firefighters battled the blaze for almost two hours before bringing it under control. The fire was confined to the den.

While the smoke was being cleared from the house, firemen searched the building and found the poodle under a bed in the front room, almost asphyxiated. The animal was administered oxygen and given artificial respiration at the same time. It was revived and taken to a Mack avenue small animal hospital for further treatment.

The members of the Moran family were the guests of Eugene Wallace, 1091 N. Oxford, while firemen fought the fire, it was revealed.

CUT HAND TREATED

Doris Lester, age 17, of 1135 Lakepointe avenue was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by City police for treatment after she cut her hand while working at Kresge's in "The Village," Thursday, December 17.

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

Nostalgic as well as merry is the Christmas which includes a family reunion and so many, happily, do.

Mrs. Standish Backus will have most of her family for 2 o'clock Christmas dinner this Friday. Mrs. Backus Lunken arrived Wednesday from Cincinnati with her sons, Edmund and Eshelby. The Edward H. Jewetts will be in from Lapeer, the Charles K. Backuses from Metamora, and the Alfred Markses will bring their four boys from their home on Mrs. Backus' estate.

Arriving from Cleveland on Wednesday for Jane Pierce and Melinda Bryan's debut dinner and Sandra Brown's dance will be the W. A. C. Millers and their daughter, Claire, to spend the night with Mrs. Backus.

The whole Backus clan will be leaving after the New Year for Santa Barbara, Calif., for the January 9 wedding of Virginia Backus, daughter of the junior Standish Backuses, to James Theodore Wood, of Pasadena.

Grandparents Are Hosts

Five pairs of grandparents are giving a Christmas dinner for about 50 of their children and grandchildren at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. The hosts will be the Arthur E. Hirts and the Rudolph Hirts, of Grosse Pointe; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lotz, of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. C. O. DeVries, of Detroit, and the Warren Hirts, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Arriving on Wednesday from Marion, O., were Dr. and Mrs. O. G. Stephenson, to visit their son and daughter-in-law, the Jack Stepheons, of Fisher road.

They will be greeted by some of their Pointe friends on Christmas Day at an afternoon gathering and stay through the week-end.

Former Pointers Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Fletcher, Jr., who moved to Mt. Lebanon, Pa., this fall, will be home for the holidays with their children.

Reunion Away

Mrs. Phelps Newberry left Monday morning for Philadelphia to spend the holiday with her son and daughter-in-law, the junior Phelps Newberrys.

Joining the clan will be the Truman Handy New-

Charlotte Ford Bows At Lavish French Ball

Distinguished Guests from Local and International Society Turn Out Monday at the Country Club For Debut of the Henry Fords' Daughter

In a lavish 18th century French setting which transformed the Country Club into a bower of flowers, Charlotte Ford was presented to society Monday evening at a ball given by her parents, the Henry Fords II.

For the glittering evening the club was decorated by Jacques Frank, of Paris. A new entrance to the club was built, carpeted in red and lined with white satin and urns holding trees accented with roses and rare boxwood.

Thousands of magnolia leaves banked the walls of the club leading down the long hallway and into the ballroom, which was paneled with marble paper. Opposite the dais at which the Meyer Davis orchestra played was a fountain splashing water into a pool of gardenias.

The Fords received in the Green room completely lined with trellis and flowered arches. A statue of Louis XIV, found by Monsieur Frank in the basement of the Detroit Institute of Arts formed a background for the receiving line.

Charlotte's gown, designed by Yves St. Laurent of Dior, was of creamy satin banded at the strapless bodice, waist and hemline with pearls and rose embroidered flowers. She carried white phalaenopsis orchids.

Mrs. Ford's gown was designed by Simonetta of Italy in pale pink satin with a free flowing jacket incrustated with jewels. With it she wore a diamond necklace, the gift of Mr. Ford on their tenth wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Benson Ford chose a Mainbocher gown of stiff red tissue faille and with it wore a diamond necklace and long white gloves. Mrs. William Clay Ford, wore an ivory satin gown by Givenchy, floor length and split to reveal a black ruffled lace petticoat. Mrs. Walter Buhl Ford was in rose pink cut velvet.

Many of the guests came from dinner parties. Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrison and the Harold R. Boyers gave one for 54 at the former's East Jefferson avenue home. Mrs. Morrison's gown was of peau de sole with a red bodice and a white full skirt. Mrs. Boyer chose bell skirted white satin embroidered with red flowers.

The Ernest Kanzlers entertained such distinguished out of town guests as the Igor Cassinis, the Winston Guests, the Jules Glaenzers, the John Fells and the Gary Coopers.

Mrs. Kanzler's gown was of white tulle over pale pink peau de sole and her jewels were emerald earrings and a diamond bracelet.

Other dinners were given by the David Wallaces and the James McDonnells (he is Mrs. Ford's brother).

Among the guests were Nicole Dupont, of Wilmington, Del., in rose satin over pink tulle; Lord Charles Churchhill youngest son of the Duke of Marlborough, Commandant Paul Louis Weiller, of Paris; Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hutton, of New York (she was Joan Chapin, of the Pointe) and Pamela Quinan, of New York.

Among the local debutantes at the ball was Jane Evans (Charlotte's roommate at Le Fleuron School in Florence, Italy, to which both girls will return January 8); Sally Bell, granddaughter of the Frederick C. Fords, in pale beaded pink satin; Fredericka Schlaff, in pale pink peau de sole, Judy Hefferan, in flowered blue silk, and Muffy Muirhead, in scrolled white satin.

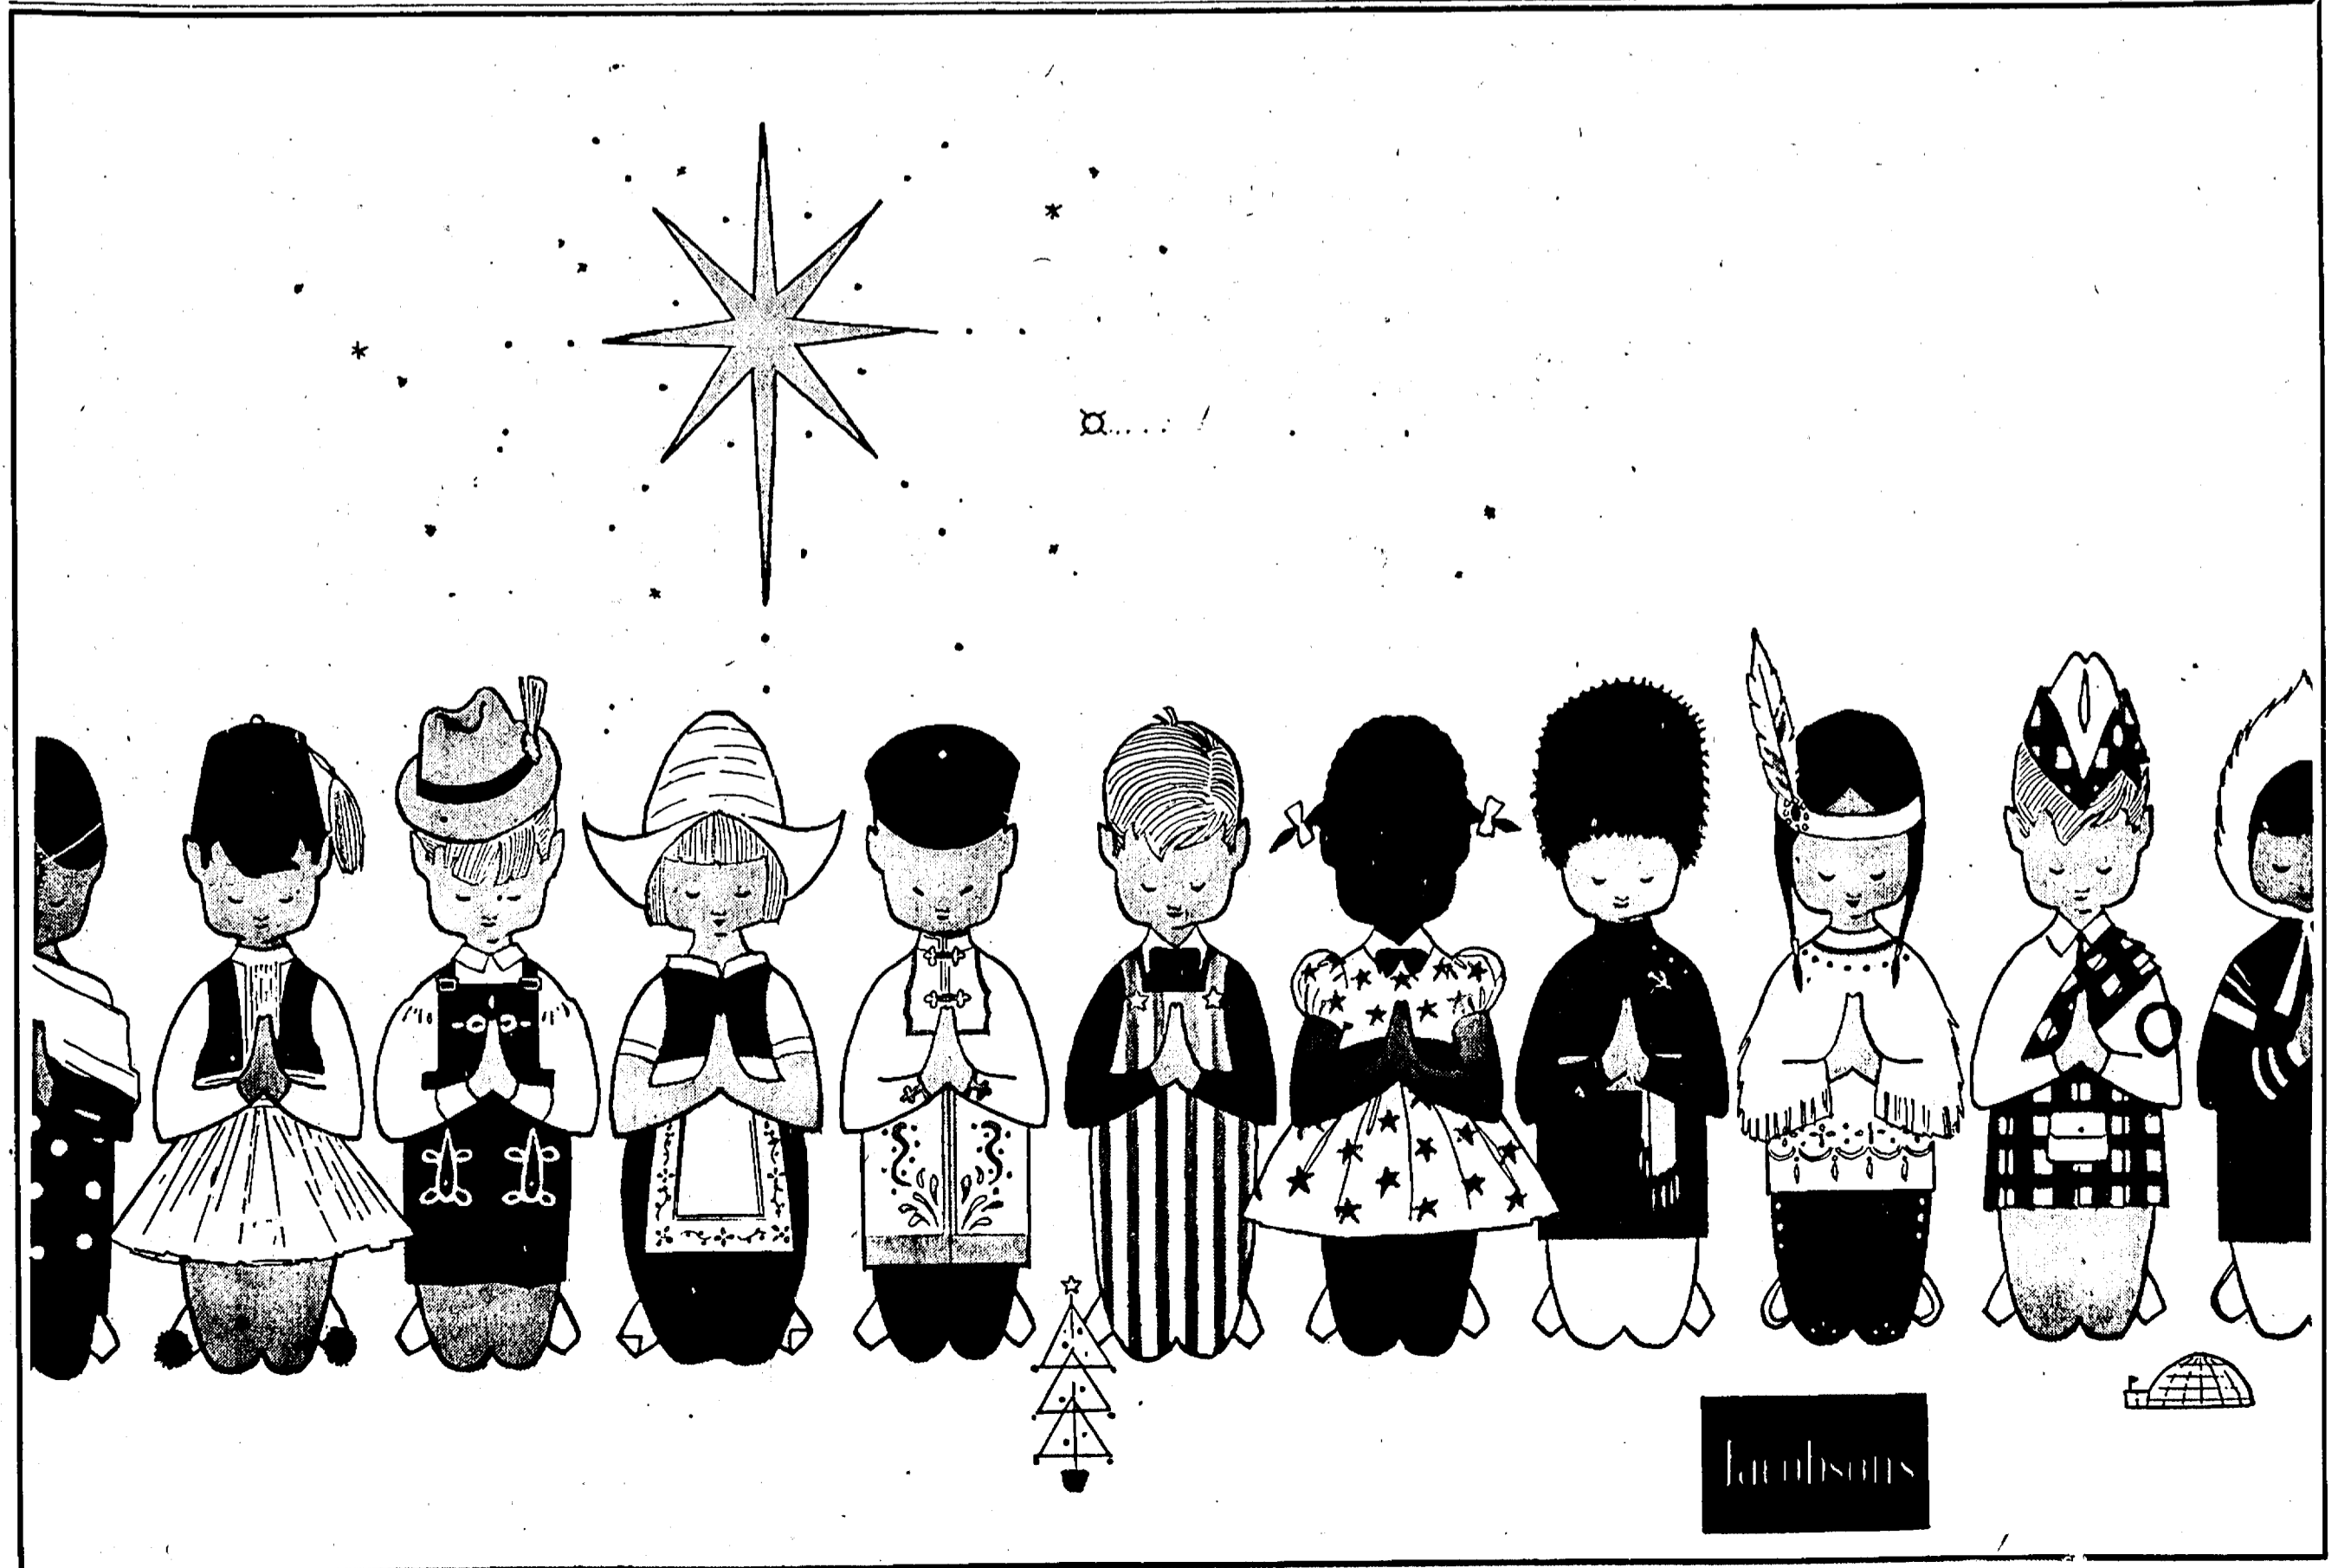

The debutante's sister, Anne, a student at Noroton Convent of the Sacred Heart in Connecticut, wore a strapless white silk gown embroidered with royal blue flowers, designed by Balmain. Anne's debut will be an event of June, 1961, and will be held in the Fords' Lakeshore road home.

Mrs. Edsel Ford was among the first to greet her granddaughter. She was wearing a silvery satin gown. Her escort was Robert Tannahill. The debutante was escorted by her cousin, Peter Sullivan, of Glen Head, Long Island. He wore a blue satin ribbon with a red crest entwined with Charlotte's initials. The 18 ushers also wore satin ribbons, in red, with the crest.

Meyer Davis, who played for a ball the late Henry Ford gave for the present Duke of Windsor when he was Prince of Wales in the twenties, composed a song for Charlotte. The same orchestra played at the Southampton debut of Mrs. Ford when she was Anne McDonnell.

Supper was served in the flower decked dining room and on the menu was baked breast of chicken marguerite, fresh

Krys Glancy Bows On 19th Birthday

Huge Orange and White Cake Sets Theme for Debut Ball Saturday at Country Club Given by Alfred R. Glancys Jr., for 1,500 Guests

A huge placard in orange and white announcing "Happy Birthday to Krys" greeted guests at the Country Club Saturday when they arrived for the debut ball of Krys Glancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., of Lakeshore road.

The brilliant orange, white and pink decor was designed by Jack Navin and Bob Burckhalter and featured orange silk draping the ceiling of the Great Hall. Doors leading to the terrace had been removed and plate glass substituted to show off the large tiered orange and white birthday cake, lit by orange floor lights.

Harry Marshard's orchestra from Boston played in the lower layer of a twenty foot birthday cake. Floor to ceiling panels of charcoal, white and gray were mounted with 1,000 melon and orange birthday cards in the hallways. Walls were draped with melon satin and urns of gladioli and orange trees were spaced throughout the club.

For the party, Krys wore a gown to blend with the decor, an original by Dorothy Dickerson in brocade shaded from gold to orange over a 40 yard pink petticoat. The strapless gown rose to two points on the bodice and fell to the floor with back fullness. She carried orange orchids.

Mrs. Glancy wore a Pauline Triger original of almond green with a halter neckline and a tunic skirt.

The deb's ushers included her brother, Alfred R. Glancy, III, George Jerome, John S. Scherer, William Gail Curtis IV, John H. French III, Henry Cashen, Jeffrey Hudson, Allen W. Merrell, Jr., Robert Ollison, John Webster, Thomas Smith, John M. Murphy, Jr., Simpson Leonard Jr., George W. Haggarty, David Templeton, James Forster, Jr., Charles T. Cudlip, Robert Wood and Murray Green.

The deb's three younger brothers, Peter, 7, Mike, 9, and Terry, 11, attended their sister's nineteenth birthday and wore orange ties with their blue suits.

In the grill room of the club a barbershop quartet sang in a Gay Nineties setting, with waiters in handlebar mustaches and orange jackets serving refreshments.

Supper was served at a round buffet table covered in orange and at small tables covered with deep pink cloths. Guests ate little Swedish pancakes served by four chefs brought from

New York, eggs Benedict, chicken casserole, fruits in ice and ham, eggs and sausages.

Among the 1500 guests at the party were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, II, (her white brocade gown was banded in green velvet), Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kanzler, Mr. and Mrs. Benson Ford, (she was in an eggshell satin), Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Cinielli (her rose silk gown had a garnet velvet accent), Mrs. G. Ogden Ellis, Mrs. Henry Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Cudlip, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert I. Lord and Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Joy, Jr.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Ford, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Clay Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome C. DuCharme, Mr. and Mrs. Lansing Pittman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Crawford Frost, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bodkin, Mr. and Mrs. John Garlinghouse, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Marks and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, Jr.

Krys, who is a blue ribbon equestrienne, will return to her studies at Mount Vernon Junior College after the holidays. The Glancys plan another dance, this time at home, in June to

Goodenoughs Present Bud

Margaret Holt (Pixie) Goodenough was presented to society Saturday evening at a dinner in their Lothrop home by her parents, the Daniel W. Goodenoughs.

Blue and white lighted trees on the lawn of the home reflected through the huge glass living room windows, where the deb and her parents received.

A large window box outside the dining room window held five small trees twinkling with blue Italian lights.

Pixie wore a heavy white silk ball gown with silver beading, the full skirt standing out from a hoop.

Her mother received in a floor length turquoise silk tafeta gown with a draped bodice and shoulder straps made of handmade French roses in matching blue.

Center to Hold New Year Ball

The tenth annual New Year's Eve Ball and Midnight Supper at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center will be sponsored by the Association from 9:30 p.m. to 2 a.m. again this December 31.

This is a non-alcoholic party, traditionally given by the Center for all college students residing in Grosse Pointe and their special friends.

The Center's orchestra will play throughout the evening. The house will be completely opened for the occasion and specially decorated. There will be refreshments and favors for everyone and the New Year will be appropriately welcomed at midnight.

Immediately after midnight a turkey and ham buffet will be served in the main and ballroom.

The center cost for the evening will remain the same as it has for the past 10 years—$5.00 per couple. There is, however, a 250 couple limit. Cards have been mailed to all students who have gone to college from Grosse Pointe in the past two years.

If, however, due to the vagaries of the Christmas mails any Grosse Pointe college student or young adult has not received a card he is still most welcome. It is a couples only affair and the dress is either black tie or dark suit for the men and appropriate accompanying costume for the young ladies.

The Center stresses that now is the time to purchase tickets at 32 Lake Shore.

Bride-Elect

At a family dinner Saturday Dr. and Mrs. Robert J. Schneck, of Voltaire place, announced the engagement of their daughter, VIRGINIA, to Michael Robert Ryan, son of the Alfred C. Ryans, of East Jefferson avenue.

The bride-elect and her fiance are alumni of Grosse Pointe University School. Virginia made her debut in 1957 at a dinner dance at the Hunt Club. She attends Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville, N.Y.

Her fiance is studying at the College of Business Administration of Foreign Service, Georgetown University. An August wedding is planned.

Yule Dance Set For Teenagers

Saturday, December 26, from 9-12 p.m. has been set aside at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial for a special holiday dance sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Youth Council. It is an opportunity to make the Christmas weekend a particularly happy one.

It is a dress-up dance, though not formal, giving everyone the chance to show off all the new Christmas finery for the first time. It will be a couples only party for students in grades 9-12 of the Pointes' public, private and parochial schools.

"Twas the Night After Christmas" is the theme of the party. Vincent Lo Cicero is chairman, assisted by a committee including Lynn Windsor, Mark Gregory, Barbara Thorpe, Dianne Longyear, Barbara Luss, Pat Finerty, John Gates, Mike Simpson, Bruce Pharis, and Sue Turner.

The Center is beautifully decorated for the holidays and festive refreshments will also add to the glitter of the occasion. Dianne Longyear is arranging surprise entertainment for intermission time too. Closing time for this one holiday Youth Council function only has been permitted to be 12 o'clock instead of the usual 11:30 curfew.

Santa Visits GPYC; Juniors Have Prom

Children's Party at Club Last Saturday with Clown, Trio and Trampoline Act; Junior Prom Held This Wednesday Preceded by Gala Dinners

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's younger sons and daughters will sleep securely this Thursday night, Christmas Eve. Old Santa Claus had listened intently to their requests at last Saturday's Children's Party at the club, and he promised presents would surely be under their trees Christmas morn.

The party was a terrific success for all the youngsters (ages up to 12 years) and their elders—for that matter, it's been a gay time at the club for boys and girls of all ages. The Junior Prom was the event slated for this Wednesday, December 23, and that party always brings together a sub-deb throng of feminine charmers and their handsome dates.

Janet Reif, daughter of the Lawrence Reifs, and her group were among those who danced to the smart tunes of "Musical Pipers in GPYC ballroom"—they first met at "the Reif home on Fairlake Lane for fruit punch, going on to the Prom" at 9 o'clock.

Janet's date was Hank Kraus and in the party of 20 were Jan Holvick, Ron Schaffran, Dianne Dabich, Rick Baker, Barb Prince, Rodger Haerens, Carol Linneman, Chuck Redding, Louise Dabich, Gerry Phillips, Sharon Wengel, Fred Scully, Mari Lynn DeMario, Jerry Spencer, Lynn Price, Bob Davidge, Pat Toia and Bill Lang.

Fred C. West Jr. entertained at a foursome dinner in the club's main dining room before joining the prom-goers. His date was Barbara Mezger, and his other guests were Marvin Mezger and Joanne Burgie.

Santa Claus was pretty particular at last Saturday's party. "Eating all your dinner as you should?" was his frequent question. The jolly old fellow had bounded into the ballroom with hearty "Ho, Ho, Ho's"—while the children talked to him in the Venetian Room and admired his sleigh and reindeer, Bobo, the Clown (GPYC member George Cassidy) made wonderful balloon animals in the ballroom.

Mrs. John R. Wilt was noted busy as busy distributing gifts; the Art Quatro trio played Yuletide songs; a duo of performers in a trampoline act fascinated all ages. Mrs. Paul I. Moreland was chairman.

Many lassies were real Christmas girls in red velvet frocks with touches of white; petite Karen Ann and Susan Loranger wore circular green felt skirts appliqued with snow men, snow ladies and stars, and white sweaters—they were with their mamma and grandmamma, the junior and senior Mesdames Clifford Loranger.

In the throng: the Frank J. Kennedys of Birmingham shepherding their Grosse Pointe grandchildren, Carol, Robert, Frances and Russel Nutter, Jr. at the party; Donald Melville, his son and daughter-in-law, Lieut. Noel Melville, USNAF, and Mrs. Melville, and their children Mark and Keith—the Noel Melville family will return to Norfolk, Va., Dec. 26. (Lieut. Melville is aide to Admiral Thurston P. Clark who is in command of the Atlantic Wing Air Fleet.)

Karer Karrer, one year old, and John Lynch Jr. with their mothers, Mrs. Edwin Karrer Jr. and Mrs. John Lynch, and grandparents, the Cletus Wellings; Mrs. Dan Holefa, her triplet sons, Dan Jr., Dennis and Dean, and daughters Barbara and Debbie, came from their Rochester home to the party; James J. Fitzgerald with Tim, Gary and Michael and their sister, Dorothy; Joseph Hughes a n d grandchildren, Mary Beth and Rusty; the Fred J. Someses Jr. and Jon in a group with Charles E. Monahan and his Tom and Mike; Mrs. Robert J. Meier, Kathy, Bobby and Mary Beth; Mrs. Gordon Bigbauer Jr. and Heidi, a two-year-old in red velvet with full, full skirt.

DAC to Welcome New Year at Gala

Party Will Include Filet Mignon Dinner, Dancing and Buffet Breakfast; Innovation This Year Will Be Coffee Bar in Main Reception Room

Members of Detroit Athletic Club will welcome 1960 at a formal New Year's Eve Celebration which will be staged on the entire second floor of the downtown clubhouse. Reservations are limited to 500 for the fete to include a filet mignon dinner, dancing, buffet breakfast, noise makers and favors.

The Pontchartrain Room will be given over completely to dancing, with music by Emery Deutsch and his orchestra. Tables will be set in the main dining and Georgian Rooms.

The buffet breakfast will be something different — guests will go to DAC's spacious, shining kitchen to help themselves from the hearty array on long buffet tables.

Another innovation is to be a coffee bar in the main floor reception room for the purpose of serving "one for the road" coffee.

Among those with reservations are members of a group who always spend New Year's Eve together, including the Arthur Sutherlands, Harold Lightbodies, Syd Scotts, Harold Burtons and the Frederick

Oarsmen's Ball This Saturday

The Detroit Boat Club will be the scene of the annual Oarsmen's Ball this Saturday evening, the 121st year of this gala event.

Decorations for the ball will revolve around an International theme as the DBC oarsmen have just completed a Pan-American games year and are looking forward to the Olympic games of 1960.

Tribute will be paid at the ball to those who have represented the club in past years at these games.

The club officers, board of directors and naval board with their wives are honorary patrons of the ball.

Robert J. Norton is chairman with Arthur Geiger and Robert Walker assisting him.

Shepherds. Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Lee will be with the John W. Southworths and Raymond Vogels, and Mrs. Clarence Bleicher will attend with the George W. Kleins.

The Bartholomew A. Seymours will entertain family members—their daughter and son-in-law, the John R. Lillys, and his parents, the Richard Lillys of Lincoln, Neb.; the hosts' other son-in-law and daughter, the William J. Froelichs Jr. of Wichita, Kan., also daughters Isabel and Dorothy and son Bartholomew Jr., and the Tim Carrigans of Ann Arbor. The John Cooleys will be with Judge and Mrs. Carl Weideman, and the Earl Quibells with the John D. Kennellys.

Soroptomists Collect Christmas Toys

LEEN YOUNG, pose with toys collected by the Club which has donated them to the Grosse Pointe Foundation for Exceptional Children.

On display at the December meeting of the Grosse Pointe Soroptomist Club were toys galore, all sizes and shapes. These were purchased by the Soroptomists for distribution at the Annual Christmas Party for the Foundation for Exceptional Children, Tuesday, December 22. This gala occasion gave pleasure to recipients and donors alike.

The Grosse Pointe Soroptomist Club is a branch of an international organization with service clubs in 25 countries. It is composed of executive business and professional women for the purpose of service to the community as well as aid on a national and international level.

In addition to the help given the Foundation for Exceptional Children, the Grosse Pointe Club during the past year has provided a substantial check for a needy family and a Christmas basket for another worthy family. It is also providing a three year scholarship in the Wayne State College of Nursing. The necessary funds for these purposes have been obtained through a rummage sale and the sale of candy.

Healy-Carse Troth Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Byron A. Carse, of Fairway drive, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kay Sandra, to Robert Higby Healy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Healy, of Lincoln road.

Miss Carse is an alumna of Kingswood School Cranbrook, Bennett Junior College, and the University of Michigan where she was affiliated with Delta Gamma Sorority.

Mr. Healy is an alumnus of Lawrenceville School, Yale University, and is now completing graduate work at the University of Michigan. He is a member of Chi Psi Fraternity. Jeweled Christmas stockings hung at the fireplace and miniature poinsettia boutonnières tagged with both names gave away the surprise to the cocktail guests. A family dinner followed at the Detroit Golf Club.

Center Offers Ballet School

Beginning Monday, January 4, the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Ballet school will begin its second term under the direction of Mary Ellen Cooper. Students, ages 5 through their teens, will be welcomed and there is a special adult class scheduled on Wednesday nights at 8:30 p. m.

Classes are held week days after school on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays and all day on Saturdays. Those wishing to enroll should call TU. 1-7511 for an appointment with Miss Cooper as soon as possible or come to the Center no later than between 4 and 6 p. m. Monday, Wednesday or Thursday, January 4, 6 and 7. Miss Cooper likes to interview each student prior to enrollment to be sure that everyone is placed in the proper group according to ability and advancement.

Most of Miss Cooper's first term students are continuing their studies so that it is wise to enroll now to secure a place in the class of your choice.

Miss Cooper teaches the (Cecchetti) method of Ballet. She is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Toronto, a member of one of Detroit's most prominent musical families, and is well established as a teacher of Ballet both in Detroit and on the West Coast. Miss Cooper is firmly convinced that her instruction produces a firm graceful body, poise, rhythm, and a knowledge and appreciation of music.

CYO DANCE DEC. 28

Foster-Stalker Vows Solemnized Monday

Pair Wed in Christ Church Rites with Reception Following in Home of Bride's Parents; Will Live in Amherst, Mass., After Trip to Puerto Rico

Eleanore Stalker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Stalker, of Radnor circle, was married Monday in Christ Church to David Scott Foster, son of Mrs. William Foster, Jr., of Ithaca, N. Y., and the late Mr. Foster.

For the rites the bride wore an original Italian import of antique gros de laine fashioned in Renaissance lines with an heirloom rosepointe lace bertha from the gown worn by her grandmother.

A coronet of rosepointe caught her illusion veil which was accented with medallions of the lace. She carried Eucharist lilies.

Elizabeth Ledyard was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Deborah Doolen, of Great Barrington, Ill.; Mrs. Jason Eveleth, of Bradford, Pa., and Mrs. Peter Stalker II.

They were gowned in Christmas red silk faille with French druid coronets of velvet leaves and holly berries.

William James Foster III, of Pleasantville, N. Y., was best man for his brother. Ushers were Jason Eveleth, of Bradford, Pa.; Roy Hampton Park, Jr., of Ithaca; Jonathan Emerson, of Ithaca; John Abele, of Newton Highlands, Mass.; David

Douglas Stalker and Peter Stalker II.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception at home Mrs. Stalker wore a winter blue brocade costume suit with a veiled flowered hat. Mrs. Foster was in a Christmas green satin sheath with a veiled headress.

For traveling to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands the bride wore a navy blue sheer wool dress and jacket with French blue accessories.

The couple will live in Amherst, Mass., where they will both complete their college studies in June.

Austin High Alumni To Give Dance Sunday

The second annual Austin High Alumni dance will be held Sunday in the school gymnasium.

Danny Baker's band will play and tickets will be sold only at the door, for $1.50 a couple.

The fellow who knows his own weaknesses is headed in the right direction for success.

Two Presented At Tea Dance

Tuesday's two debutantes were Carole Albert and Beverly Lynn Chalmers, presented by their parents at a tea dance at the Little Club.

The debs are the daughters of the John Seaman Alberts II, of Lakeland avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Chalmers, of Grosse Pointe boulevard.

The Little Club was decorated in a baroque Christmas theme with golden cherubs holding garlands of pink and ruby carnations and bronze wine baskets holding pink rubrum lilies.

Tall crystal compotes with pastel pearl grapes centered the buffet table flanked by pink tapers. This same decor was used on the small table which were covered with ruby silk cloths.

Carole wore a Dior gown of oyster white gros de londres accented with pink bows. She carried pink camellias, a gift from her paternal grandparents, the John S. Alberts, of Wallingford, Pa.

Beverly chose an emerald green satin gown with wide bowed straps and a square neckline. She carried stephanotis and ivy, her father's gift bouquet.

Mrs. Albert was in a champagne peau de soie sheath with a short jacket and Mrs. Chalmers' gown was Christmas green peau de soie fashioned with small pleating around the neckline.

Ushers for the tea dance included Henry Holland, Ned Evans, Michael Craig, Dan Goodenough, Bob Isbell, Bob Nester and Fred Baker. The music was provided by the school teachers.

Mrs. David Scott Foster

ELEANORE STALKER, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Stalker, of Radnor Circle, was married Monday in Christ Church to Mr. Foster, son of Mrs. William Foster, Jr., of Ithaca, N.Y., and the late Mr. Foster.

Wednesday Big Day for Debs

Three debutantes were introduced Wednesday at a dinner at the Country Club and a home dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burbank Peirce, of Lincoln road, and Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson Bryan, of Hamilton court, gave a dinner for their daughters, Jane Griffith Peirce, and Melinda King Bryan.

Cocktails were served in the French room of the club and dinner in the grill. White cloths with centerpiece of holly, red balls and hurricane lamps decked the supper tables.

Melinda wore a white silk peau de soie gown accented with crystal beads and carried Eucharis lilies. Her escorts were Harry Joy and George Haggarty.

Jane's gown was of silver and white brocade and she carried gardenias tied with a red ribbon. Her escorts were Ned Jewett and Tom Tracy.

Mrs. Bryan received in a ruby red satin gown and Mrs. Peirce's choice was lime green chiffon.

Guests went on to the Lotherop road home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fisher Brown for the dance at which their daughter, Sandra, was presented.

The house was decked with silver, pink and white Christmas trees bright with pink and white rosebud lights and crystal prisms. Pink roses floated in the fountain in the sun room which had huge angels wafted on clouds suspended above it.

The supper table was covered with a white pointe d'esprit cloth and centered with an antique silver epergne holding gardenias and white orchids.

For her debut Sandra chose a pink sating gown beaded with white pearls on a white satin bodice. For the dinner preceding the dance she wore a blue lace frock. Her flowers for the dance were white orchids.

Mrs. Brown chose turquoise peau de soie with beaded accents. Receiving with the Browns were her parents, the Lovell Crouses and his mother, Mrs. M. L. Brown.

Dave Farley's orchestra played in the recreation room and a calypso band entertained upstairs.

Sandra's large corps of ushers wore pink satin sashes as their identification.

INJURED IN GAME

Woods police took Thomas Youngblood, 17, of 1991 Allard, to St. John Hospital on Thursday, December 17, for treatment of an inch-long cut under the left eye. He suffered the injury while playing basketball at Parcels Junior High School.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Godin, of Lakeshore road, announce the engagement of their daughter, GERALDINE, to Rudolph Stonisch, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Stonisch, of Parkview drive.

Miss Godin is an alumna of St. Mary's College, Notre Dame and her fiancé was graduated from the University of Notre Dame and received his master's degree from the University of Michigan.

Roostertail Staging Fashion Show Dec. 28

Cruise wear and holiday dresses will be shown at the Roostertail's weekly Monday fashion show-luncheon December 28 at 1 p.m.

GREED

People who aren't happy with what they have, will never be happy no matter what they get.

FOUR HUBCAPS STOLEN

James Stafford of 6002 Macomb, Detroit, lost four hubcaps to thieves on Monday, December 14, according to information he gave Woods police. The hubcaps were valued at $10 each. The car was parked in front of 1789 Prestwick.

Mount Holyoke Alumnae To Have Tea on Dec. 28

The Mount Holyoke Alumnae Club of Detroit will give a tea on December 29 at 3 p.m. for present students and prospective students of Mount Holyoke College.

The tea will be held at the home of Mrs. C. J. Edwards, 290 Provençal road.

Beran-Knox Betrothal Told

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Knox, of Erie, Penn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Martha, to Lieutenant Denis Carl Beran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beran of Bedford road.

Miss Knox is completing her senior year at the University of Michigan and she is a member of Collegiate Sorosis sorority. Lieutenant Beran is a graduate of the University of Michigan and is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon. He is now stationed in Santa Anna, California. A February wedding is planned.

Douglas-Runge Troth Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Hartford Runge, of Huntington, Long Island, N.Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Louise to David Dwight Douglas, Jr.

Mr. Douglas is the son of Mrs. Nils R. Johanson, of New York and the late Capt. D. Dwight Douglas, USNR, of Grosse Pointe. He is the grandson of Mrs. Russell A. Alger.

Mr. Douglas is an alumnus of Hotchkiss School and of the Yale School of Architecture. An April wedding is planned.

Gushees to Entertain For Capt. and Mrs. Tyree

Capt. and Mrs. Thomas B. Tyree, of West Point, N.Y., will arrive after Christmas to stay with his parents, the Harold B. Tyrees, of Provençal road.

The senior Tyrees will entertain for them on December 29. On December 30 the Richard B. Gushees, of Harvard road, will give a small dinner honoring the couple.

Wishing you
A Very Merry Christmas

Alumnae of Alpha Phi Plan Christmas Party

The Grosse Pointe Alumnae Chapter of Alpha Phi will hold a Christmas Holiday Coffee Hour for the collegiate members of Alpha Phi at the Berkshire road home of Mrs. James Quello, on Tuesday, December 29, at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Samuel K. Ulmer is the chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the party. Working with her are Joyce Tobeler, Mrs. Rogert McNeill, Peggy Moreland and Mrs. Richard T. Heglin.

Troth Told

At a family party in their Buckingham road home, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Albert Zimmerman told of the engagement of their daughter, MARY KENT, to Thomas Brown Ireland, son of the Guy Llewellyn Irelands, of Maumee avenue.

The bride-elect attended Sweetbrier College and her fiancé is an alumnus of Colgate University. They plan to be married in February upon Tom's graduation from Naval Officers Candidate School in Newport, R.I.

Mrs. William M. Hughes On Caribbean Cruise

Mrs. William Moran Hughes, of Neff road, has left for New York to sail on the Swedish line, Gripsholm, for the Caribbean.

On the return trip Mrs. Hughes will visit the D. C. Andersons in Nassau and return home in late January.

Avoid holiday hazards. Dispose of gift wrappings and cartons promptly and safely once presents are opened. Don't let Christmas glitter become New Year's litter.

From Another Pointe of View

berrys II, of Stratford, Pa., and the James Darlings II, of Miami, Fla. Mrs. Newberry will be home December 29.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred O. Lepley, of Three Mile drive, also flew off Monday morning. They were bound for Riverside, Calif., to stay with their son and daughter-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Frederick J. Lepley. The Air Force officer is stationed at March Air Field.

More Yule Parties

The holiday round of parties continues this week with the Christmas Eve gathering given by the Richard Brodheads in their Roosevelt place home. The Gilbert Whites will give an open house Christmas Day in their Grayton road home and serve the special Virginia-egg nog prepared by Mr. White from an old family recipe dating back to pre Civil War days.

There will be a dinner and dance this Saturday at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Parsons, of Fairford road by 46 of their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Parsons will be moving to Memphis, Tenn., after the first of the year.

Before the dinner dance the L. Gaylord Hulberts, of Clairview road, will give a cocktail party for the guests.

Post Debs To Be Feted

Reviewing a custom that dates back to pre World War II days Al Green will entertain 100 past debutantes and their escorts on December 29.

The invitations went out by telegram for the dinner dance at which Bud Hannaway's orchestra will play. This is the first of these festivities since 1942 but Al Green promises it will now be an annual affair.

Holiday Christening

This Sunday the Walker E. Patees will have a party following the christening of their grandson, Edward Bohoslav III, who will arrive for Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bohoslav, Jr., of West Covina, Calif.

The christening will be held at 9:30 o'clock in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. Also here for the ceremony will be the paternal grandparents, the Edward Bohoslav, of Dayton, O.

Off to Ski Slopes

As soon as the last gift is unwrapped the devoted skiers will be off to the slopes. The Frederick S. Fords, Jr., will be leaving this week-end for his family's home in Gaylord to stay until after the New Year with Susan, Ricky and Robbie.

The Jack Caulkinses will also be skiing over the New Year and hope to meet former Pointers, the William C. Finkenstaedts, of Grand Rapids, near Gaylord.

Planning a glamorous ski trip to the Austrian Alps in early February are Mr. and Mrs. Cyril J. Edwards, Jr., of McKinley place.

January Brunch

All the Christmas decorations will be down and the January 3 brunch planned by Dr. and Mrs. Hardee Bethea in their Kenwood road home will really be an anniversary party.

During the holiday Chuck Bethea will entertain two fellow counselors from Camp Ahmek north of Toronto. Bill Kyle, of Niagara Falls, Ont., and Harry Swain, of Toronto, will be his house guests.

fruits in ice molds, tiny sauteed chicken livers, baked corn beef hash, grilled ham and French pancakes.

The bar lounges were draped in pleated yellow satin and covered with beautiful tapestries. In the grill room, turned into a Rathskeller for the evening, the pianist Ernie Swann, of the Bluenote downtown, played and in the main ballroom, Nat "King" Cole entertained.

Charlotte came on to the ball from a dinner at the Little Club given by her uncles and aunts, the Benson Fords, the Walter Buhl Fords II and the William Clay Fords. For the dinner she wore a short rose fallie Dior gown.

At their cousin's debut the children of the Ford brothers and his sister added a piquant touch. Sheila and Muffy Ford wore black velvet dresses touched with white lace, Lynn Ford was in green velvet and Alfie and Benson Ford wore blue suits as did Charlotte's brother, young Edsel.

In contrast to the glowing seasonal splendor of our Christmas Street today, Kercheval avenue during the Yule season just a little more than a quarter of a century ago was a drab shopping center.

There were no brilliant wide windows, decked with professional skill, no municipal trees a glitter with lights, no Santa Claus, no sparkling Christmas decorations. The few stores in "The Village" contented themselves with a traditional green wreath to greet the customers who called. Pointers mostly still shopped in the city.

There was a dry goods store, a shoe repair man, a gasoline station, a drug store and a saloon fronting the street now lined with luxury stores. During Prohibition Kercheval was the site of a blind pig and there was a tale told by one merchant who couldn't keep a stock of white caps and mittens.

She reported to the police that she was sure the Klu Klux Klaf was starting in the Pointe. Not at all, the local law enforcement officers, told her. Bootleggers needed them for the run across the ice to Canada, camouflage 1930 style.

For Christmas festivities in a seasonal way there was a children's party at the Neighborhood Club and the municipal tree, a humble affair, was lighted in the park by the lakefront. During the holiday week the club sponsored an activity which would be impossible today, with the tremendous growth in population.

The young people met and boarded a huge trailer filled with straw and blankets. Off down the Lakeshore they went caroling at the large mansions, such as the Newberry, Joy, Sheldon and Avery homes, all of which have been demolished today. The carolers were invited in for cocoa and cookies on caroling nights at the mansions.

While school was out for the Christmas recess the youngsters went ice skating at an artificial pond on the corner of St. Clair and Maumee where the terraces are today. During the holidays there was always an exhibition by some renowned skater at the municipal pond.

Kercheval had been paved in 1920 and the paving brought changes but it wasn't until after World War II that the village shopping centers achieved the handsome look they have today. On-the-hill there was little beside the Punch and Judy theater and a candy store before the forties.

The street itself was an extension of a dirt track named for a veteran of the War of 1812, Major Benjamin B. Kercheval, a figure of note in Detroit politics and business, died in 1855 but his widow lived on into the late 19th century.

Maria Kercheval was the daughter of Capt. Forsythe of the U. S. Army and was in the fort when General Hull surrendered to the British in 1812. A neat, careful old lady in her quaint black dress, Detroiters remembered her driving about in a two wheeled French cart on the street which would someday be named for her husband. She was a fearless worker during the cholera epidemic of 1832 and lived to see the face of Detroit change greatly.

Sending their Christmas greetings by way of their children at this season are the Allan Sheldens III, their three handsome offspring, Lisa, Susan and Allan IV pictured on the lawn of their Provencal road home in a beautiful fall color scene . . . the Henry S. Reynolds' three gathered about a globe with wishes for a peaceful world . . . the William George Duffields' three sons, in gay Tyrolean suits seated before Yule decor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Maxtone-Graham, (she was Katrina Kanzler whose own debut of seven years ago was so fabulous), were unable to come on for the ball of her cousin, Charlotte Ford, Mr. Maxtone-Graham is about to premier in a Broadway play, "Motel" and couldn't leave the Great White Way.

Many of the Pointe's most chic ladies, Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. Robert Kanzler, and Mrs. Lester Moll, have found a most talented dressmaker, so prized and so usual in Paris, but rare here. She is Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzen, a recent import from Europe, who with her husband moved this week to a home on the estate of Mrs. Allan Shelden.

At dinners preceding the C. Hascall Bliss-Lowrey Kammer dance at the Little Club last week-end the guests harked back to an old English custom. The gentlemen lingered at the table over cigars and liquors while the ladies withdrew to the drawing room for coffee. Delightful idea but they were quite late for the party at the Little Club.

Not since the fabled twenties have the holiday entertainments been so elegant or the ladies' gowns so lavish . . . this is the year of the long ball gown, and the ballet length so popular for so long is growing scarce, as is the ubiquitous black. So stately and gracious does the fashionable Mrs. Harold R. Boyer look in her pale ashes of roses peau de soie, draped with a huge bow in the back . . . so petite and shining like a Christmas star was blond Mrs. William Clay Ford in sweeping white silk taffeta banded in garnet velvet . . . straight from Paris' smart salons is Mrs. Ernest Kanzler, who wears a billowing oyster white satin sparkling with beads all over the strapless bodice . . . brunette Mrs. Edwin Askin Skae, perfect in her brilliant crimson satin . . . piquant Mrs. Lansing Pittman is an Austrian style white dotted Swiss with a green velvet bodice . . . Mrs. E. A. Bodkin, distinguished in pale pink peau de soie trails a shocking pink stole.

PILFERINGS

At Christmas play and make good cheer, For Christmas comes but once a year.

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house

Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse; The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there . . . But I heard him exclaim ere he drove out of sight, Happy Christmas to all and to all a good night."

Pointer of Interest

By Patricia Talbot

Under the shining Christmas tree tomorrow morning there should be a special gift, tied in bright paper and sprightly ribbon, a seasonal blessing on the head of the household, a thank you to your very own Santa Claus.

For the man who has everything, satisfied with the Christmas tie and shirts, happy that his children and wife have the presents they wanted, too often is forgotten as the provider of all this Yule largesse.

It's dad who pays the bills, drags home the tree, (although he doesn't usually have much to say in the choice), sets up the electric train, mixes the eggnog, arranges the front yard lights. Much of the drudgery of Christmas preparations are his; he should have some of the glory.

200 Ski Fans Attend Meeting

Last Wednesday night the Grosse Pointe Ski Club met at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center to organize for its 1959-60 season. Nearly 200 Grosse Pointe ski enthusiasts turned out and before the evening was over the club had 165 paid members.

Elected as president for the year is Frank McBride of 60 S. Deeplands, with Jim Daoust of 63 Radnor circle as vice president, Muriel Gillette of 16700 East Jefferson is secretary and Bill Adams of 1336 Somerset is treasurer.

The group enjoyed two short ski movies and a fashion and equipment showing by Margaret Rice, the Grosse Pointe Sport Shop and Gloria Edwards. A coffee and cake social hour followed.

The first mid-week supper and ski trip is set for 6:00 p.m. Wednesday evening, January 6th to Grampian Mountain. Members are asked to sign up as soon as possible. The next event on the club's busy schedule will be the appearance on Wednesday evening, January 13th of Hans Gmoser showing and narrating his film "Vagabonds of the Mountains," an excellent ski movie of skiing in Alaska and the Canadian Rockies.

Paid Grosse Pointe Ski Club Members are being given priority and reduced rates for all Center ski programs and sponsored trips. Single memberships are $8.00, Couple memberships are $5.00. Membership is limited and for adults only. A few more memberships are still available to Grosse Pointers who act by January 6.

Included on the Grosse Pointe Ski Club's membership card is a ski week-end in Northern Michigan January 22-24 and a week long trip to Aspen or the Laurentians February 26th-March 6th. For beginners, instruction will be given on the new hill behind the Grosse Pointe Shores Village Offices when weather permits.

diaper, explaining long division, teaching his children to drive a car, cooking a meal, cutting off an allowance and regulating the bedtime hour . . . all tasks if not beyond the scope of his grandfather, at least beyond his inclination.

It is his voje which decides the major family problems, his voice which quells the family quarrels, his actions which solve the family crisis. He can comfort the sick child, cheer the son who makes the football team, understand the daughter who fails to get a prom date, soothe the wife who smashes the car fender.

He can figure out the income tax, and find the money to pay it. His arm escorts the bride down the aisle and he is the proud and indulgent grandfather when the first baby arrives.

In order to give his family the beautiful home, the good education, the summer camps, the weeks at the lake, the new car, he works hard, rarely expecting a thank you.

At Christmas, especially, when we are counting our blessings, father should go to the head of the list. His absence is deeply felt, his presence rarely appreciated. The children who accepted him so casually often grow up to accept the duties and privileges of parenthood, and look back in wonder and understanding.

With the love, sympathy and gratitude, and yes, obedience, too, which should be father's rightful due, at this memorable season let's give him a special Christmas thank you for all year long.

SUGAR PLUM PIE

Contributed by Mrs. Charles M. Sheridan

- 1 envelope of gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 1 cup coffee cream
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 3 eggs separated
- 1/2 cup whipping cream
- 1/3 cup maraschino cherries
- 1/3 cup coconut
- 1/3 cup chopped pecans

Soften gelatin in cold water. Whip the cream and set aside. Place coffee cream, 1/2 cup of sugar, the salt and 3 beaten egg yolks in a double boiler. Cook and stir until mixture coats the spoon. Remove from heat and add gelatin mixture. Chill until it begins to congeal. Beat egg whites stiff and add remaining 1/2 cup of sugar. Beat chilled gelatin mixture till fluffy. Fold in beaten egg whites. Add drained, chopped cherries, nuts and coconut and whipped cream. Spoon out carefully into baked pie shells. This amount will make one large and one small pie so make enough pastry for a double crust pie.
