ALVIN W. KNIGHT, charged with the September 3 murder of State Trooper Albert W. Souden, dramatically changed his plea from innocent to guilty of second-degree murder. His attorney, Martin J. Lavan and Prosecutor Wilfred H. Erwin seemed surprised. Circuit Judge Michael Carland accepted the plea, reduced from first-degree, and asked Knight if he was making the plea because he was guilty. Knight answered, "I'm guilty... yes." The judge then sentenced the admitted killer to serve "not less than 18 years, nor more than 25 years" in Jackson Prison. A first-degree conviction would have brought life without parole.

THE WEST was caught by surprise when the Russians offered to pigeonhole Premier Krushchev's total-disarmament plan. The move raised faint glimmers of hope. Frederick M. Eaton, chief U. S. disarmament delegate, was expected to sound out Moscow's intentions at a private dinner he gave for Russia's Valerian A. Zorin, who made the surprise proposal at the 18th meeting of the 10-nation disarmament committee. The Russian suggested that since both sides had rejected the other's proposals, they be abandoned and the conference again start from scratch.

A COMPROMISE was reached in the 32-day actors' strike in Hollywood. The actors sought payment for post-1948 films sold to television, but instead, the actors were given a lump sum of $2,250,000 for their pension fund. A major provision of the new contract calls for payment to actors in connection with films sold to television beginning this year. The agreement will be submitted to the members of the Screen Actors Guild and to directors of studios, and it is believed that there will be no difficulty in ratification.

THE MONTREAL Canadians took a two game lead in the Stanley Cup playoffs of the National Hockey league last night by defeating the Toronto Maple Leafs by a 2 to 1 score. In basketball, the Boston Celtics beat the St. Louis Hawks 122 to 103 to retain their National Basketball League championship.

THE ASSASSIN who Saturday shot down the Premier of South Africa, Hendrik Verwoerd, will probably be arraigned in secret and very quickly, according to South African officials. David Pratt, a farmer, fired three shots at the Prime Minister, two of them striking the 58 year old leader in the head. Verwoerd has long been the country's most avid supporter of white supremacy and racial segregation. South Africa is presently in the throes of racial disturbances from the some 10 million Negroes there.

MERCHANTISE obtained with trading stamps will be subject to a sales tax of three percent in the future, it was announced yesterday in Lansing by Attorney General Paul L. Adams. Adams ruled on the tax issue upon request of Rep. John Bowman (D., Roseville). Bowman had asked if trading stamps could come under the sales tax. The revenue from this new sales tax should amount to some $600,000 for the state. Customers will pay the three percent sales tax at the stamp redemption center when they select their merchandise.

Wednesday, April 13

PAUL OLIVER SAUER has been named to run the government of South Africa until the recovery of the Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd from the gun wounds caused by an attempted assassination, Saturday. The assassin, David Pratt, is expected to be charged in court with high treason, for which the penalty is death.

Chorus Plans May Concert At Parcels

Eighth Annual Spring Presentation by Grosse Pointe Community Chorus May 2

The Eighth Annual Spring Concert of the Grosse Pointe Community Chorus will be presented on Sunday, May 1, at 3:30 o'clock in Parcels Junior High School Auditorium, Mack at Eight Mile.

Founded in 1952 by Malcolm McLean Johns, the Chorus for the past several years has been directed by Donald W. Simmons, and has grown to its current membership of over 100 voices.

It is strictly a non-profit organization, co-sponsored by the Department of Community Services, Grosse Pointe Board of Education, and the Directors of the Chorus. Its purpose has been and is to foster appreciation of and participation in the finest of choral music.

Varied Program

The May concert will be particularly interesting to all lovers of choral music as it comprises a wide variety of types in good music, from sixteenth century English and contemporary French to the best selections from "The Music Man" and "South Pacific."

Several soloists, the Madrigal Singers, a Men's Glee Club and a Women's Glee Club, all within the Chorus, provide much variety. Tickets (Adults $1, students 50 cents) are available at the Grosse Pointe Book Store, 19459 Mack Ave. (Continued on Page 4)

Garden Council Sponsors Clean Up Week May 7-15

Again this year, the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council will sponsor a "Clean-Up" week from May 7 through May 15 and it is hoped that all residents will put forth extra effort to make the drive "just a little bit better" than ever before.

Not just to rake up our gardens but really dig into those hidden corners; not just to wash windows and curtains, but to sort out and discard the unnecessary in the attic and basement; not just to trim up the bushes, but plan to remove old tired shrubs and achieve a new look with new plantings. To check wiring in garages, to mend broken bits of fences, and to join our neighbors in cleaning winter debris from nearby vacant lots. A bit of paint does wonders for a garage

Community Theater Wins Council Award; Will Give Play at Shubert May 13

March Production of "Death of a Salesman" Judged Among Five Best by Detroit-Windsor Theater Council

The Grosse Pointe Community Theater will present its award winning production, "Death of a Salesman" at the Shubert Theater on May 13. The tragedy was chosen as one of the five best presentations of member theatrical organizations by the Detroit-Windsor Theater Council, which is sponsoring the first annual Community Theater Festival at the downtown theater May 10-14.

"Death of a Salesman" was presented by the Grosse Pointe Community Theater during its regular season in March at the High School auditorium, and was judged among the five best by a professional panel.

Heading a cast of veteran actors is Russel Werneken, founder of the GPCT, playing Willy Loman, with Phyllis Reeve cast as his wife Linda, Jack Donachie as his elder son Bic and Al Hayes as his younger son Happy.

Supporting roles include Grosse Pointers Al Bertel as Uncle Ben, George Wilson as the neighbor Charley and Dick Bauhof as his son Bernard.

Edith Hakken as the Woman, Chuck Carson as Howard Wagner, Julie White as Letta, Marie LaJoie as Miss Forsythe, Tom Stein as Stanley, and G. P. High School senior Gail Lungershausen as the secretary complete the cast.

Dean Erskine, twice winner of the GPCT Best Director award, has been responsible for co-ordinating the multitude of tasks associated with this show, assisted by former Simian president Winston Likert as stage manager and GPCT production chairman John Butterfield as producer. Murray Edwards, CBC Drama Producer and professional play adjudicator from Toronto, will give a brief critique at the end of each performance, and award prizes on the final night to the Best Actor, Best Actress, Best of a bit of "polish on the knocker of the big front door." It will need the co-operation of all local groups and organizations to insure success. Many individuals and service organizations are now being approached to lend a hand in setting the wheels in motion to launch special features of the week.

These features will include doorhanger reminders distributed by the Boy Scouts, a Cleanest Playground Contest for the Schools, a vacant lot cleaning day headed by the Hi-Y's — a Litter Bag Sale in Supermarkets, Service Help from the Girl Scouts, and some Spring Window dressing in our shopping centers.

Park Police Arrest Two For Burglary

Woman's Prompt Call Enables Apprehension of Thieves in Act of Stealing

A Park woman, who refused to panic when she heard noises at the rear door of her house, who calmly called police and just as calmly crawled out of the house on hands and knees, was credited with causing the apprehension of two teenage burglars in her home.

Park authorities had nothing but praise for Mrs. Jessita Whinnery of 721 Balfour, whose promptness in calling police on Saturday, April 9, enabled officers to arrest the teenagers in the act of committing their crime.

Arrested and held for investigation of breaking and entering in the day time were Joseph P. Yanez, 18, and Daniel McGee, 17, both of whom gave their address at 18732 Dix, a motel on the Toledo-Wyandotte highway. They recently came to this area from Florida, police said.

Ignored Bell

Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers said that at about 3:29 p.m. on the Saturday date, Mrs. Whinnery saw two men walking on the driveway alongside her house. She heard the side door bell ring, but ignored it, thinking it might be solicitors. A few minutes later, she heard someone walking on the back porch, and heard the rattle of keys, and the noise of someone trying to fit a key into the door lock.

The woman peered out the window from behind a curtain and seeing the same two men, calmly went to the phone and called police, the chief said. After making the call, Mrs. Whinnery quietly crept to the side door on her hands and knees, and ran to the front of her house, to await help.

Two scout cars with Police Cpl. Gordon Duncan and Patrolman Rodney Wedding, and Patrolmen George McDowell and Arthur Conlan arrived. Patrolman McDowell covered the rear of the house, and Patrolman Duncan, and Cpl. Duncan with a shotgun; and Cpl. Duncan and Wedding, service pistols drawn, went through the side door, and hearing a noise in the recreation room in the basement, ordered who ever it was in the room, to "Come out with your hands in the air."

Yanez and McGee slowly walked backwards, hands held high, through the door, and (Continued on Page 3)

Defendants in Suit Offer Rebuttal To All Charges

Deny Implications Made by John Maxwell in Case Being Heard in St. Clair Circuit Court In Port Huron

A damage suit being heard in St. Clair County Circuit Court, in Port Huron, in which it is charged that certain groups are conspiring to depreciate property values in the Pointe, does not involve the Grosse Pointe Brokers Association, it has been disclosed. The suit does not name the association.

The suit, instigated by John A. Maxwell, a former Algonac manufacturer, is being heard before St. Clair Circuit Judge Halford Steeter.

Maxwell, in trying to break an agreement with the Grosse Pointe Properties Inc., charges this organization, the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association, Paul R. O. Martden, former executive-secretary of this group and its former president, H. Gordon Wood, Maxon Brothers, Inc. and Paul Maxon, with conspiring to belittle the value of his (Maxwell's) property in Windmill Pointe drive.

The agreement was made with the Grosse Pointe Properties, Inc., four years ago, when the organization advanced Maxwell about $40,000 so that he could acquire legal title to the Windmill Pointe property, and property on Harsen's Island, and to take care of Government liens against him.

In return for the loan, it was said, Maxwell agreed to allow the Grosse Pointe Properties, Inc., the rights to approve of who is to buy the Windmill Pointe property.

In November 1956, Paul Maxon said, a deed to this property was placed in escrow with the National Bank of Detroit, and the bank was to sell the disputed property at an appraised value.

Heard in Chancery

The damage suit is being heard in chancery, that is, without a jury, and Maxwell, represented by Peter E. Bratt, in trying to break the agreement, with the Grosse Pointe Properties, Inc., brought in racial and other charges.

Maxwell introduced as evidence, a questionnaire, which he accused those named in the suit with using to grade prospective buyers of properties in the Pointe. He also accused them of barring purchasers if they do not acquire enough passing points.

The following is an official statement released by the defendants in the suit, made in rebuttal to Maxwell's charges:

Answer to Charges
A system has been evolved in the Grosse Pointe area to keep property owners informed as to certain matters involving the preservation of real estate values. This system has been misunderstood in some quarters.

At the outset, it should be clearly and emphatically understood that this system is advisory only and that the ultimate decision to sell or not to sell rests with the owner, and that there have been numerous instances where the owner has (Continued on Page 2)

Raymond Berry Memorial To Benefit Garden Center

The board of directors of the Grosse Pointe Garden Center announce a memorial fund has been created to the memory of the late Mr. Raymond H. Berry by his wife Mrs. Berry and daughter, Mrs. Edward A. Silbriere of Bronxville, New York, and given to the Grosse Pointe Garden Center to benefit the community in which he lived.

The fund has been established to provide exceptional horticultural programs and educational projects connected with the center.

Mr. Berry's life time devotion to all horticultural interests was a motivating factor in the choice of his memorial.

Panel Says Either Trees Or Birds Die

Center Meeting Points Out this May be Only Temporary Situation

The panel of experts, who spoke at the War Memorial Monday evening, left Pointe residents who are concerned with the results of the elm spray a question to answer. Although this may be a temporary situation either the elms may be saved and the birds die or the birds saved and the elms die, was the only answer given to the forum.

The program, sponsored by the Garden Council of the Pointe, consisted of four men, from the fields of plant mythology, entomology, insect and disease control and zoology. Philip R. Biebesheimer, county director of the Cooperative Extension Services of Michigan, working in conjunction with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, was moderator of the panel.

Mrs. Will Speaks

Mrs. Horace Ray Will, president of the Garden Council, opened the program by briefly explaining some of the factors that have brought the Dutch Elm problem into its present controversial light in the Pointe.

She explained that eight years ago, when the disease was discovered in the Pointe, the Garden Council was instrumental in getting the aid and advice of experts in order to stop the spreading of the disease and prevent the death of many of the Pointe's beautiful elm trees.

The spray program, using DDT, was begun at that time. Both a dormant spray, in the spring before the leaves appear, and a foliage spray later in the summer, were used at that time. Then two years ago, a decrease in the number of birds inhabiting the Pointe was noticed. Bodies of some birds, believed to have died from the effects of DDT, were found in the Pointe. Complaints began to come in to the city governments and to the Grosse Pointe News asking why the birds were being killed.

Foliage Spray Stopped
The foliage spray was stopped last year, but when the announcement came this spring that the dormant spray would be used again, the complaints began to appear. The meeting of last Monday evening was called to offer to the public a chance to hear: why a spray; why DDT; what about the birds?

The first panelist, Dr. Forest Strong, professor of plant mythology at Michigan State University, is an authority on the Dutch Elm disease. He explained how the elm tree family are immune to the disease.

1. The system grew from the understandable fact that reputable real estate brokers considered it poor policy to encourage the sale of a house to a client and later to promote the sale of another house in the same neighborhood to one likely to harm the neighborhood's real estate values.

2. These values are a matter of supply and demand. It works as follows. When a house hunter learns that a cliquish or clanish group of families unlikely to absorb local customs and against which some general prejudice exists, has begun buying in a certain neighborhood, this house hunter tends to look elsewhere where he believes his investment will be more secure. Even the unprejudiced person is affected. It works in a vicious circle—fears of lowered values lower values because of lowered demand—an appraisal matter.

3. Does the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association veto sales to certain prospects? The answer is no. Any property owner as a matter of law can sell to anybody he wishes. No property owner in Grosse Pointe has ever committed himself to any Association. However, for the benefit of any owners, who, when selling, may wish to preserve neighborhood values, the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association does maintain an advisory service. No offer can or is refused by a broker, but the benefit of reference reports which have been evaluated by a committee of experienced brokers is sometimes given to the owner with the offer to aid him in his decision. It should be borne in mind that the brokers who evolved the system represent only a part of the real estate brokers who operate in the Grosse Pointe area, and the outside brokers are in no way bound by the system. Many owners never list their property with any broker at all, but make direct sales to purchaser, and of course these sales are in no way controlled by the system.

4. Is the system designed to prevent certain races from buying in Grosse Pointe? No. The reference reports are designed to bring out two factors, the prospective purchaser's general standing and the degree to which he has absorbed American customs. Prospects whose general standing is good are recommended to the owners. The reference report forms, now on exhibit in the Maxwell law suit, show that only 16% of the evaluation has to do with race alone. 31% bears on the degree to which the prospective purchaser has absorbed local customs. 50% is concerned only with the prospective purchaser's general standing. (The remaining 3% comes under no general heading.)

5. The Negro is not involved in the system. No reference report forms have been prepared nor standards established. That the effect of Negro ownership on values in a white neighborhood is very complete is apparent from opposition to Civil Rights laws proposed in Lansing to take freedom of sale from the home owners and give freedom of purchase to prospective purchasers.

6. If there are any limitations, they arise from the prejudices of the public, who do not yet live up to the aims of our Founding Fathers. Actually the system is conducted with the utmost consideration for the prospective purchaser. The reports are entirely factual; the reporter's opinions are not requested. Only five other persons see the report, the Secretary of the Owners' Association, his assistant, and the three brokers who grade the report. If a report is favorable, only the broker who requested it is notified. If unfavorable, only Association brokers and several others are advised—and then only of the result. Members of the Owners' Association are not notified in either event. Details of the report are of course available on request to an owner considering an offer.

7. In conclusion, the system would seem to be the most careful and considerable method possible for making the best of a difficult fact — of prejudices which affect real estate values, just as street paving and water systems are also facts affecting value. It is a plan for keeping the peace, for keeping in check the ill-will that can arise over loss of real estate values. It is a plan which recognizes that all property owners, of whatever extraction, should be free to sell to whom they choose and that advice from experienced real estate brokers should be available to the owners.

Park Police Arrest Two for Burglary

were promptly handcuffed. They were not armed, the officers said.
At the station, Yanez and McGee were questioned by Det. Lt. Arnold Hough, and both admitted they had come to the Park area with the intention of committing burglaries to raise funds to pay for a car they had purchased in Florida. The vehicle, a 1951 Ford sedan, was found parked near Mrs. Whinnery's house. The car was impounded.

Mrs. Whinnery told police that as she was crawling out of her house, she heard the rear door glass break. The teenagers said they smashed the glass with a pop bottle found on the porch, when none of the key they tried would fit the door lock.

Previous Record
Chief Louwers said that Yanez was arrested by his officers in 1959, for unlawfully driving away an automobile, after escaping from the Wayne County Training School for Boys.

Lt. Hough said that the young burglars said they tried to get into a home in the 800 block in Berkshire, and another at 912 Balfour. In the Berkshire home, they said, a maid answered, and after giving her a round-about story, the boys left.

The lieutenant and Cpl. Duncan went to the boys' motel room and confiscated all of their belongings and brought them to the station.

Chief Louwers praised Mrs. Whinnery, for her promptness in calling police.

"Mrs. Whinnery is to be commended for not panicking and for not trying to take matters into her own hands," the chief said. "In keeping her wits, and calling the police and then leaving in such a manner as not to scare away the intruders, enabled police to apprehend the burglars in the act."

"This is what we have been asking out citizens to do, several times. Mrs. Whinnery, by her action, kept her exposure to danger at a minimum, and made the apprehension a successful one. Without her cooperation, I'm almost sure the burglars would have come and gone before the officers arrived, leaving us the task of trying to solve another burglary."

The chief said the teenagers will be questioned further, on the possibility that they may have committed burglaries elsewhere.

On Monday, April 11, Yanez and McGee were arraigned before Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger on a charge of breaking and entering in the day time.

Both pled guilty, and the judge set a bond of $3,000 each, which neither of the boys could meet. They were remanded to the custody of the Wayne County Sheriff's office to await trial in circuit court.

According to information received from Chief Louwers on Tuesday, April 12, Yanez and McGee admitted to a breaking and entering in a home in Grosse Ile, shortly after coming from Florida, and that Yanez confessed to alone breaking into a Detroit restaurant, and smashing a juke box, from which he took $80.

The chief said that Yanez also stated he burglarized a home in Florida, taking a radio and $1,200, using part of the money to help pay for the car found at the scene of the Whinnery burglary. Yanez also said he stole a car in that state.

Most of the property stolen from the Grosse Ile home has been recovered, the chief said.

Nominated without opposition for the Presidency of the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Association at its last regular meeting, Robert Wilcox, an assistant manager of Jacobson's, became the group's choice to be its 11th president.

He was an Associate Member, which would not entitle him to hold office, but his marked abilities and genuine popularity lead the way to honor him with the Association's highest office. His superior at Jacobson's, John Hannan, who was one of the twelve founders of the group, switched memberships, giving Wilcox the needed regular membership. (Each store is entitled to only one regular membership.)

Since nomination without opposition is tantamount to election, Bob's part in the election which takes place April 21st at the Memorial Center, is a mere formality.

Ballots for the election are being mailed to Regular Members this week, according to the group's Secretary, Dr. Robert O'Neil.

The Michigan Epilepsy Center and Association has announced the election of the Honorable Neal E. Fitzgerald, Lewiston road, Wayne County Circuit Court, as President of the Association.

Judge Fitzgerald has replaced Burt R. Shurly, Jr., who served as president for the past two years.

Charles Wright III, attorney, of LaSalle place, and Benjamin Jeffries, M.D., of Detroit, were elected Vice-President and Treasurer, respectively.

In accepting his new position, Fitzgerald noted that a great deal of progress in the fight against epilepsy has been realized in recent years.

Autos Effect Student Grades

Car ownership during high school and a drop in grades have a definite correlation, according to a pamphlet obtained by GPHS principal Jerry M. Gerich at a convention he attended recently in Portland, Ore.

The pamphlet, "The High School Student and the Automobile," was compiled from the statistics obtained in a survey conducted at Niles Township High School in Skokie, Ill.

It contains sections on: the effectiveness of a driver training course; the relationship of grades, jobs, and car usage among teenagers; and the overall attitudes of high school students toward the ownership of cars.

Conclusions drawn as a result of the information are summarized as follows:

"1. Car owners are heavily loaded in the lowest quarter of their class and they ranked low scholastically before getting a car.

"2. The degree of parental control can be measured by how much the car is used.

"3. The use of a car has serious adverse effects on grades provided a student is already doing well in school.
"4. Car ownership leads to part-time jobs."

Elm Hearing Questions Survival of Birds or Trees

(Continued from Page 1) preventing the disease, entirely, that will be as effective as DDT and will not be fatal to wildlife, and a method of curing an infected tree after it has the Dutch elm disease.

In Experimental Stage
 So far, according to Dr. Strong, these methods are only in the experimental stage. "I would like to warn the residents of Grosse Pointe against anyone who might come to their doors trying to sell a new chemical that is guaranteed to kill the Dutch Elm fungus or other tree diseases. Check with Mr. Biebesheimer or some other authority before buying anything of that description."

Ray Janes, an entomologist with the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan, praised the Detroit area for controlling the Dutch Elm disease. Other areas that should, are not, he said. He explained that the disease was "imported" from Europe and that the carrier is the smaller European elm bark beetle.

He said that the danger period of infection is in the spring, thus the need for the dormant spray. However, he added that a foliage spray in the summer is very desirable in areas where there is a high infestation of the beetles, in order to kill the ones that are already breeding.

DDT Best for Elms
 "DDT is the best chemical available for this purpose," said Mr. Janes. "Methoxychlor has proved not to be as successful as DDT and is used only in areas where it is impossible or not advantageous to use DDT. Also, there is no proof that Methoxychlor, if used in the same percentage as DDT (and to protect the trees, this would be necessary) would not have just as fatal an effect on the birds and animals."

Hubert Kendeigh, the third speaker, is with the State Department of Agriculture and a specialist in the field of disease and insect control under the bureau of Plant Industry. He, too, complimented the Pointe, saying that it is presently an outstanding example of good control of the Dutch Elm disease and that this area had shown the greatest decrease in the disease because of the spray program inaugurated eight years ago.

Choice Is Pointe's
 "You are the ones who control whether or not the elms are sprayed or not," he said. "The department of Agriculture doesn't force city governments or private citizens to spray for this disease. When Grosse Pointe requested our help, we gave it, and the program has been successful. I believe that if the spray was discontinued the disease would pick up again."

Keith Kregg, the president of the Detroit Audubon Society, was the fourth and final panelist of the evening. "We are, of course, greatly concerned with the birds and in preserving them, but we are also interested in conservation in its broadest aspects," Mr. Kregg began.

DDT Is Dangerous
 DDT, according to Mr. Kregg, will kill any living thing, depending upon the volume of the chemical and the volume of the animal. It is dangerous because it is residual, or lasts for a long time. That is why it is useful in preventing Dutch Elm disease. It can and does kill birds.

"We can't tell, however, if the DDT here is the singular cause from which a bird dies," said Mr. Kregg. "Some of the birds found dead here may have contracted the poison down South." The Robins, according to Mr. Kregg, have become the "bottle cry" in this controversy because they inhabit cities where DDT is used for such a purpose as preventing the Dutch Elm disease and are therefore, susceptible to the poison.

Question Period
 Following the talks given by the four panelists, the floor was thrown open to questions and discussion from the small (30) audience of interested people. Mayor Kenneth Cunningham of Grosse Pointe Park summed up the purpose of the meeting in saying, "if DDT is killing the birds, how can we control the killing of both the trees and the birds, what spray will do that? If that can be answered, we can all go home."

However, it was the general agreement of the panelists and their moderator, Mr. Biebesheimer, that, at present, there is no answer. DDT will kill the disease and will also kill the birds. No spray will allow the birds to live and leave the community wide open to further infestation of the Dutch Elm disease.

Mr. Janes more or less summed up the entire outlook in saying: "you have a choice right now of the birds or the elms. Maybe by next year, something new will be on the market that will control the disease and not kill off wildlife. Many chemicals and antibiotics are now being used in experimental areas. A chemical called Lindane may prove to be successful and if so will be offered for use in the future. Until then, it is up to the community whether to protect the birds or the trees."

It was also pointed out that Michigan, particularly this area, as well as areas in states further east, has a great concentration of elms, thereby making control of the Dutch Elm disease in these areas of greater importance and of greater difficulty than in areas where the elm is not so profuse.

Mayor Cunningham, on behalf of Grosse Pointe Park, and the other cities, thanked the Garden Council and Mrs. Will for sponsoring the meeting and the men for speaking. "I'm sure we all feel indebted for this information gained tonight," he said.

Patrol Boys Go to Capital

The outstanding members of the Poupard and Trombly school safety patrols soon will be named as Grosse Pointe's official delegates to the 24th National AAA Safety Patrol Rally in Washington, D.C., in May.

This year's rally will commemorate the 40th anniversary of the safety patrol movement which began in Detroit in 1919 and has since spread throughout the world.

The local youngsters will join 100 other top state patrolers for a four-day, all-expense trip as guests of Automobile Club of Michigan, May 12-15.

"The schools earned the honor of nominating delegates through their patrol activities and efficiency during the past year," said Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club safety and traffic director. He said the schools are expected to name their outstanding patrolers in about two weeks.

The patrolers, representing some 85 Michigan communities, will meet in Detroit May 12 where they will board a train for Washington. During their stay in the nation's capitol they will spend two full days touring famous historic sites and meeting leading Federal officials. The annual rally will Auto Club sponsors the Washington trip each year to honor Michigan's 58,000 safety patrolers who each school day perform the invaluable service of safeguarding their classmates from the dangers of traffic. Almost 2,500 Michigan youngsters have made the trip since 1938.

Postpone Friday Dance at Club

There will not be a Guys and Dolls Dance on April 15, which is Good Friday, since Neighborhood Club will not be open on that evening. However, on Friday, April 22, the Guys and Dolls will once again go "country style" to welcome back Mr. and Mrs. Wes Rea. The various square dances introduced to them by the Reas have become more and more popular with this dance club and are now a regular part of the Friday night dances. So, remember the date — Friday, April 22—Square Dance night.

Pointe Women Enter Contest For Mrs. Michigan May 4-5

Grosse Pointe women have only until next Sunday to send in their official entry questionnaires for the "Mrs. Michigan" contest which seeks to find the state's most outstanding homemaker.

The state finals will be held May 4 and 5 at the Blue Flame Auditorium of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company and the winner will be crowned at a press reception at the Pick-Fort Shelby Hotel the afternoon of May 5.

The talented woman named "Mrs. Michigan" will represent the state in the "Mrs. America" contest and will receive over $2,000 worth of valuable prizes, including a two week trip with her husband to Fort Lauderdale for the national finals in June.

Top prize for "Mrs. America" is a $30,000 custom home in Fort Lauderdale, swimming pool, wardrobe, additional two week vacation for her entire family and a variety of other awards.

All finalists in the "Mrs. Michigan" contest will also receive an ICA-Whirlpool gas refrigerator. Every women's club which sponsors a finalist will receive $50 for its treasury.

Fred A. Kaiser, vice president and general sales manager of Michigan Consolidated, the contest sponsor, pointed out that the competition is judged on homemaking skills, civic and church activities, poise, personality and good grooming. It is not a beauty contest, he said.

"This is our way of bringing national attention to the tremendous contributions made to society by the women who maintain the homes, cook the meals, mend the socks and mind the children and still find time to work for their communities."

"If at times they think their world may lack glamor, the 'Mrs. Michigan' and 'Mrs. America' contests will give them the opportunity to enjoy the limelight that is generally focused on professional women," Kaiser said.

Questionnaires are still available at all offices of Michigan Consolidated, but must be postmarked not later than April 17.

Many types of old documents showing your age or date of birth are useful in establishing your age for social security benefits.

Men's Garden Club to Meet

"Rhododendrons, Azaleas and other 'Aristocratic' Shrubs" will be discussed by George G. Farley of Grosse Ile when Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe holds its regular monthly meeting Thursday, April 21, at 8 o'clock, at Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

A graduate of Michigan State University in 1929, Farley was first associated with his father in a large fruit farm at Albion. He later operated his own business, a sales nursery at Marshall, for 12 years, and is now engaged in the wholesale nursery business in the Detroit area.

Edmund J. Boell, Jr., is in charge of the program and will introduce the speaker. All male gardeners in the Grosse Pointe area are invited to attend.

TIME FOR RECESS

A second grade class at Barnes had just finished watching an "Educational" television program. The teacher remarked that the program had demonstrated that for every action there must be a corresponding reaction. One of the sharper second graders remarked, "Certainly, that's one of Newton's laws."

Woods Church Set for Tre Ore

Good Friday, April 15, will afford the community another opportunity to attend Tre Ore services at Christ the King Lutheran Church, Mack and Lochmoor.

Starting at 12 o'clock noon, a series of seven distinct and separate meditations on the seven last words spoken by Christ on the Cross will be conducted by Rev. Geffert. Each Meditation will last 25 minutes. The public is cordially invited to attend any, or all meditations.

The following adults were received into communicant membership with Christ the King Lutheran Church on Palm Sunday:

Hugh Bleki, Anita Bohn, Aleda Gawne, Leslie Gawne, Ernest Graf, Percis Graf, Elaine Kelly, Carol Martin and Richard Martin.

Choir to Sing Easter Hymns

The choir of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will present traditional Easter music on Maundy Thursday, April 14, at 8 p.m. The celebration of the Lord's Supper will follow.

On Easter Sunday morning, the day will begin with a devotional service at 6 a.m. by the youth of the church, and at 6:30 a.m. Easter Breakfast. There will be three worship services on that morning: at 8:00, 9:30 and 11:15 a.m. The Trinity Choir will sing at 8 a.m.; the Junior Choir at 9:30 a.m.; and the Chancel Choir at 11:15 a.m.

The Sermon theme will be "With Fear and Great Joy."

If you have a birth certificate, be sure to take it to the social security office when you apply for payments.

League Answers Convention Questions

This is the second in a series of questions about a Constitutional Convention for Michigan. It is designed to answer YOUR questions concerning the Constitutional Convention proposals to be voted on in the November election. If you have questions concerning the Constitutional Convention or the petitions being circulated to allow a vote on the matter, please send them to THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS, care of your local newspaper.

1. ISN'T IT PRETTY DRASTIC TO CHANGE OUR CONSTITUTION?

The men who framed the 1908 Constitution did not view the document they had written as something sacred and were well aware that the need would arise to make changes in order to keep it in gear with the times. Hence, provision was made in the Constitution vision. Also the means was provided for making minor changes by means of amendments.

The people's right to make their constitutional law is part of our American political heritage and dates back to the Mayflower Compact in 1620 and the Fundamental Orders of Connecticut in 1639. Since we became a nation there have been approximately 180 Constitutional Conventions in this country.

2. THERE IS NO DEMAND FOR REVISING THE FEDERAL CONSTITUTION WHICH IS OLDER THAN MICHIGAN'S. IT WOULD SEEM MICHIGAN'S WOULD BE MORE UP TO DATE, SO WHY CHANGE IT?

True, the Federal Constitution, written in 1787, is much older than Michigan's written in 1908, but the Federal Constitution is simple, brief, and flexible and leaves details to legislation so that it has been adaptable to changing times.

Michigan's Constitution is specific and filled with details more properly left to statute, and consequently, not adaptable to changing needs. It is interesting to note; for instance, that the judicial section in the Michigan Constitution contains over 1500 words, while the Federal Constitution's judicial section has only 368 words.

The Federal Constitution mentions finance and taxation in 11 sentences, while the Michigan Constitution devotes over seven pages to finance and taxation. The Federal Constitution has only 22 amendments, the first ten of which were added almost immediately as the Bill of Rights.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Doctrine of Atonement" is the Golden Text from I John (2:1): "If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous."
Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (18:1-5): "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life, and Love, Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage."
The closing Scriptural selection to be read is from John (3:17): "For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved."

More Than Applause Needed

On the front page of this issue is an announcement which should bring pride to all Grosse Pointe residents who fight the battle for more cultural participation by this community. The Grosse Pointe Community Theater's March production of "Death of a Salesman" has been judged one of the five best in the metropolitan area by the Detroit-Windsor Theater Council.

The Grosse Pointe Community Theater has suffered many trials during its long history. There has always been the problem of finding a proper auditorium, culling the talent at casting calls and encouraging community support.

The theater has no home of its own. In past years even its own members have not proved as loyal as they could be expected to be. In spite of all its struggles, within and without this amateur theater group, progress has been made and now area-wide recognition has been obtained.

Along with its award should come the congratulations of Pointe patrons. The theater needs supporters, not just those talented and creative souls who want to get up in front of the footlights. Not just stars, but ticket buyers. Other communities, less well endowed than ours, support community theaters with enthusiasm.

The cast and production crew deserves our applause for winning the Detroit-Windsor Theater Council award and even more it deserves a full house on May 13 when "Death of a Salesman" is presented at the Shubert.

Do We Care?

After all of the hullabaloo over the Dutch Elm spray and its fatal effect on the birds in the Pointe, it seems a shame, that only 30 people showed up at the War Memorial on Monday night, April 11, to hear a panel of experts discuss this very subject. And of the 30 people, quite a few were representatives of the various Pointe city governments who were invited by special invitation because they were the ones bearing the brunt of all of the complaints.

Complaints have come in goodly number by letter, phone and word of mouth to this newspaper and to the city governments that the birds were being killed by the DDT spray used to prevent the spreading of the Dutch Elm disease, which is fatal to the tall stately elms that line our streets. Where were the complainers Monday night? Certainly not at the hearing.

This hearing was sponsored by the Garden Council of Grosse Pointe at the request of the Garden Clubs and private residents who wanted to know why. Congratulations to those few who attended, many of them garden club representatives, and to the four cities who sent men to listen, learn and in the case of the Park's Mayor Kenneth Cunningham, speak. None of these people were forced to brave winter ice and snow, nor even spring rain in order to attend.

So, where were the interested residents when the community was offered a chance to learn, from experts in their respective fields, why DDT is used to kill the Dutch Elm disease, and why the disease should be stopped. And most important, since the area of complaint was mainly concerned with the death of birds as a result of this spray, those who attended left with at least a better understanding of why this has necessarily occurred and that there is at least some hope in the future of avoiding it.

There is no solution, now, that will save both the elms and the birds. This was pointed out by the men who gave of their time to speak to "the Grosse Pointe public" last Monday evening. The choice of which is to be saved is up to the Grosse Pointe community. But if the community doesn't know the facts of the question, how can it intelligently choose or even discuss the subject?

The meeting was held, to offer information. Those who attended the public hearing now know about the dilemma.

What Goes On at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

The new books recently received at the library, represent a wide variety of subjects. Here is a quick run-through of a few titles.

Excellent for a few minutes pick-up is Meyer Berger's "New York." This collection of the columns that appeared in the New York Times from 1953 to early 1959 makes lively and absorbing reading for those newly introduced to this city's allurements as well as those of us who can never get it entirely out of our blood.

"A Concise History of Modern Painting" by Sir Herbert Read, would be a welcome addition to the family library. Beginning with Cezanne the author investigates the various schools and factions which represent serious contemporary painting. There are 485 fine plates which include 100 in color.

"Wildlife in America" by Peter Matthiessen, surveys in remarkable detail the status of the birds, fish and mammals of North America from before the white man's arrival to the present day. The facts are presented imaginatively from a conservationist point of view. This is filled with fascinating detail for the nature enthusiast.

Whether or not you are on the trail of a suitable story for a toast or are reading it for a chuckle, Senator John Parker's "If Elected I Promise," a collection of political jokes and anecdotes, will prove entertaining.

"The Story of George Romney" by Tom Mahoney is the success tale of the President of American Motors, who with the remarkable Rambler, initiated the small car program. Most of the biography is concerned with Romney's rise to fame in the automotive world but it brings out also the fact that his economic enterprise was watched by his civic participation, both in his work for the Detroit Board of Education — he headed the Citizen's Advisory Committee on School needs — and in his service to the Michigan State Government. Dr. Samuel Brownell, Superintendent of Schools, has commented that he never worked with "a person more stimulating and at the same time more comfortable than George Romney." This is a timely, close-to-home biography.

In "Odd World: a photo-reporter's story," John Phillips chronicles interesting events of which he was an impartial observer and occasionally a participant.

As Life Magazine's official

photo-reporter, he was privileged to meet notables from all parts of the globe and gives the story behind the pictures of personalities such as Tito of Yugoslavia, Farouk of Egypt, Churchill, Stalin and others. There is plenty of name and news interest here.

The Memoirs of Anthony Eden, "Full Circle" gives the inside story of the vital events of Eden's years in office as Foreign Secretary under Churchill and as Premier through the Suez crisis and its aftermath.

"As Others See Us; the United States Through Foreign Eyes," edited by Franz M. Joseph, Princeton University Press, is a rewarding book.

The contributors are all writers of distinction and their perceptive analysis explodes some of the more glaring misconceptions that crop up periodically.

We have only dipped into the book here and there but read carefully the chapter from the Canadian viewpoint since we are more familiar with this facet of foreign opinion. We found it interesting and as far as we can ascertain accurate, if generalizations can ever be so regarded. Carlyle Morgan of the Christian Science Monitor has this to say of the book "... Rarely have American readers had such an opportunity to look at so many other peoples in so many moods while those peoples might suppose themselves to be doing the looking.

Prof Scorns Rock and Roll

Rock and roll is written by illiterates, played by illiterates and listened to by illiterates, declares Dr. William D. Revelli, Director of University of Michigan Bands.

"Ironically, we see today a moronic individual with a guitar—and he is a failure unless his records sell a million copies."

Dr. Revelli defends the place of jazz as a rightful part of our American heritage: "Jazz was born and bred in the honky-tonks of New Orleans and will always be a part of American music—but rock and roll isn't and never will be."

The U-M band director warns that "the worst part of current trends in music today is the effect it has on the youth of today. The kind of music a person hears is the kind he learns to appreciate."

He praises the music education program in the U.S. public schools but asks, "What is happening when these youths leave school? Where are the adult bands and orchestras? What is happening to the sense of values of a nation which has no place in its adult life for music?"

Dr. Revelli says the U.S. lags in the cultural race to win men's minds and loyalties when it comes to music, and declares, "Russia has the greatest music education program of any nation on earth."

Both Italy and France, he says, "have eight conservatories of music. We have none. In Paris you can hear any of three 100-piece orchestras 24 hours a day on radio, subsidized by the government."

What's New on THE HILL...

By ROBERTA

In place of our usual column we would like to express the following message.

At Easter Time

FRIENDLINESS

Friendliness was so well expressed at the recent series of Lenten talks on Comparative Religion. The series was arranged by Mr. George McMullen and sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association with the following churches and their pastors participating:

- Grosse Pointe Presbyterian Memorial Church ... Rev. Bertram de H. Atwood Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church ... Rev. W. D. Hammond Grosse Pointe Congregational ... Rev. M. W. Johnson Christ Episcopal Church ... Rev. E. B. Maynard St. Paul's Catholic Church ... Mons. Frank MacPhillips St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church Rev. C. W. Sandrock Grosse Pointe Methodist Church ... Rev. H. C. White

Each discussion was opened with this prayer

For the Unity of God's People

O GOD, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, our only Saviour, the Prince of Peace; Give us grace seriously to lay to heart the great dangers we are in by our unhappy divisions. Take away all hatred and prejudice, and whatsoever else may hinder us from godly union and concord: that as there is but one Body and one Spirit, and one hope of our calling, One Lord, One Faith, One Baptism, One God and Father of us all, so we may be all of one heart and of one soul, united in one holy bond of truth and peace, of faith and charity, and may with one mind and one mouth glorify thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

DAC Recalls Highlights Of 45 Years of Social Events

Detroit Athletic Club's upcoming once-every-five-years birthday anniversary celebration again brings about a reminiscing, and a real nostalgia (those were good old days after all, the times around 1915 when the century was young!)

Now it's 1960 and the DAC will be 45 years old this coming Sunday, April 17. Digging into history brings to light repeatedly that prominent Grosse Pointe families had a great pride in the development of the club.

It was Henry B. Joy who called the meeting to order when 109 men met Jan. 4, 1913 in the Pontchartrain Hotel to sign articles of association and elect a board of directors to start the Detroit Athletic Club on its way. Hugh Chalmers and Mr. Joy each wanted the other to be president, but Joy won his point and Chalmers was the club's first head.

Two years and three months saw feverish activity of financing, acquiring land, choose an architect, construct a building, and among the many devoted and tireless steers were Abner E. Larned, John Kelsey, R. B. Tannahill, Roy D. Chapin, Julius H. Haass, Emory W. Clark, Luman Goodenough.

Formal opening Saturday, April 17, 1915 was a dinner for members only. The following night, there was a dinner for members and their wives, when Weston Gales conducted the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in the main dining room. Both affairs were packed.

Mrs. Truman H. Newberry was hostess when the distaff side had a special day for viewing the new clubhouse—it featured an aquatic exhibition by Annette Kellerman.

One of the prettiest entertainments was given in December, 1915, at the DAC (as related in the first issue of the DAC News) by Mrs. Joseph Boyer Jr. for her debutante sister, Marie Louise Palms. It was a supper party in the big private dining room and followed a theatre party at the Temple. Killarney roses and snapdragons centered the table. Guests were the Misses Josephine Palms, Margaret Longyear, Marion Jones, Wilfred Beryly, Katherine Rennie, Carolyn Hubbard and Messrs. Frank Book, Robert Lyon, Prescott Towle, Charles Belanger, Edson Smith, Cleveland Hunt, Robert Stoepel, A. C. Walsler, John Kendrick Bangs, Jr. and Joseph Boyer Jr. Staged by the feminine contingent March 31, 1916 was an aquatic carnival and brilliant tea. Sixteen events, all interesting to the capacity feminine gallery, included a novelty clothes race won by Miss Helen Joy (finding the armhole of a wet garment and son on); fancy diving with Miss Betty Penny placing first; Josephine Alger second, and Mrs. F. J. Bayley third. Mrs. C. Piquette Mitchell's porpoise diving and Mrs. G. W. Irvine's plunge of 45 feet were voted excellent.

Miss Isabei Dodge entertained at a dinner dance in the DAC to honor Miss Eleanor Clay and Edsel Ford before their Nov. 1, 1916 wedding. A huge bowl of yellow chrysanthemums centered the table, with satin ribbons running to the ends of the table where smaller bouquets were placed.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sheldon gave a dinner Jan. 5, 1919 at the club for Miss Sara Caulkins and Mr. Charles Bissell Johnson before their Jan. 18 wedding. Places were marked for 22. Centerpiece was a tall silver vase of red roses with a shower of ribbons holding miniature bridal slippers.

When President Woodrow Wilson was in Detroit July 10, 1918 as star attraction of the World's Salesmanship Congress, Mrs. Wilson was with him. A reception took place in the DAC lobby for the President and at the same time, the First Lady was entertained in the club's Palm Room by a committee including Mesdames Sidney T. Miller, Hugh Chalmers, Charles B. Warren, Gilbert Lee, Charles H. Hodges and others.

A number of parties were given at the club to honor the visiting Prince Paul Troubetosky of Russia and Princess Troubetosky early in 1919. Mr. and Mrs. Dexter M. Ferry Jr., entertained 100 guests at a buffet luncheon, the hosts and honorees receiving from 12 to 2 p.m. in the Abbey which was decorated with the choicest of spring blossoms; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Booth gave a small supper following a theatre party at the Garrick Theatre to see "Kick In," and Mr. and Mrs.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Dasef, of Bedford road, announce the engagement of their daughter JOAN ELIZABETH, to Wenceslaus L. Berlinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Berlinski of Gaylord, Mich. The wedding will take place May 7, at St. Mary Church in Gaylord.

Edward D. Stair also gave a supper for the Prince and Princess following the theatre.

Famed opera singer Helen Jepson was guest of honor of Mr. and Mrs. D. Dwight Douglas at a dinner at the club after a performance of "Faust" in 1934, and a society note of January 1937 relates that "After George Gershwin's concert at Orchestra Hall, the famous composer was entertained at the club by a group headed by Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Ford.

Among the DAC presidents have been Hugh Chalmers, Henry B. Joy, Abner Larned, Harry M. Jewett, Arthur T. Waterfall, Herbert B. Trix, Charles T. Bush, Carl Breer, H. Lynn Pierson, Ben R. Marsh, David A. Wallace, and Joseph E. Bayne—leaders who steered the thriving club now reaching its 45th milestone.

Of Curling Club Pointe Men Officers

The Board of Directors of The Detroit Curling Club today announced its officers for the 1960-61 season. Don J. Goodrow was elected president; Ferris Fitch, vice president, and Joseph Gloux, secretary.

The Detroit Curling Club, second oldest club in Michigan, numbers more members from the Grosse Pointe area than any other.

Members meet for curling matches at their rink located at 1236 West Forest, Detroit, and annually participate in regional, national, and international Bontspels.

The club is looking forward to being host to the United States Men's Championships in 1962, when rinks from everywhere in North America, including Alaska, will be represented.

E. A. Steiner Arranges Antique Show April 20-24

Arrangements for Detroit's largest and finest antiques show have been completed by Ervin A. Steiner, Jr., of Touraine road, in Detroit's beautiful waterfront Ford Auditorium, April 20-24.

This gigantic antiques show will become the home for five days, to antique dealers from the New England states, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and the greater Midwest states.

The past shows have been a success; the attendance has built steadily and therefore we have been able to draw the finest dealers to exhibit in Detroit.

With the exception of the New York Coliseum show, the five-day show at the Ford Auditorium has gained national recognition for being the finest show east of the Mississippi. Detroiters of all ages will be given the opportunity to view or buy antiques.

There is something for everyone; outstanding furniture, jewelry, primitives, art glass, lamps, plus many decorator pieces available. There will be over seventy-five thousand individual items valued in excess of one million dollars.

The dealers have gone to untold efforts to bring the unusual to make their display the most outstanding in the country. Among the many dealers, again exhibiting his New York styled decorator's room, will be William Stephenson.

Mr. Stephenson has won first place for the best exhibitor in the show with his display of good, old furniture; from cradles to harvest tables. He has a good high and low balance of pieces, both in refinished and natural state.

In spite of the large assortment of furniture pieces that goes into his display, when approaching it, you have the feeling of warmth and beauty. One sees the large pieces of furniture first and then becomes aware of the choice of small pieces on table tops.

The Serta Quaint General Store, with Mr. and Mrs. Materna, is a variety of western props, which include Wells Fargo reward posters, old harness parts, including horse collars and horse brasses and two very old guns. One gun is an old English coach gun, the other an old blunder buss. The display signs are done by Miss L. Meiers, who has won many gold keys and cash awards for her outstanding art work.

Among the many displays, will be cast iron toys, over three hundred dolls from the Barbara Bertsch Antiques Shop, valued from one dollar to five hundred.

The fabulous gun collection of Rex Burton, which will have close to four hundred guns on display; from old Colts, Remingtons, Winchester to many European dueling pistols—just everything for the gun collector. Outstanding coin dealer, A. F. Grunwald from Symamore, Illinois; Mr. Leonard Rose of New York City, who carries one of the finest selections of prints available; and Augusta Hyer Smith from Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, who carries one of the finest lines of antique jewelry, will be there. Mrs. Smith will be celebrating her ninetieth birthday at the Ford Auditorium Show. Other outstanding dealers will be Ralph Miller, with his fine selection of Early American furniture.

You are walking from the walnut secretary with the cylindrical front to a display of Wedgwood and Staffordshire collection. From there you will see a wonderful collection of Royal Copenhagen.

Everyone is invited to visit this fabulous antiques exhibit and sale at the Ford Auditorium, April 20-24 from 12 noon to 10 p.m.

the house where you live

By Patricia Talbot

Visitors to the Kenneth Kimmel home in Village lane insist on eating in the kitchen because they are so intrigued with the wall paper . . . menus from all over the world to perk up the appetite and spice conversation of gourmet meals . . . The clever Kimmels, do-it-yourselfers without peer, have converted their bathroom into a Victorian scene, even canopied the tub to set the proper gay nineties theme.

Harking back to the early nineteenth century is Dr. and Mrs. Ivor Harris' Provencal road home, an almost perfect Greek revival pillared replica of Thomas Jefferson's famed Monticello. The red brick classic house sits on a slight rise of ground accenting its perfection.

Mothers in despair about their tots slovenly habits when planning an attractive decorative bedroom scheme be encouraged. All children are magpies at heart. Instead of groaning over the flotsam and jetsam offspring collect blend it into the decor. The Lowrey Kammers' daughters have a menagerie of stuffed animals which are attractively group about their pink and white bedrooms and accent the little girl femininity of the setting.

Those beaten copper plaques which make such effective wall decorations are in vogue . . . but the Hugh Harnesses have gone one better. They have taken a colossal copper tray mounted it on legs for a most elegant coffee table.

Startling modern mobiles from Sweden are replacing the traditional chandeliers in many Pointe mansions. The A. D. Wilkinsons have an unusual import of glittering shiny stars swinging in the creamy toned hallway over the winding stairs.

Easter Egg Hunt at Beach

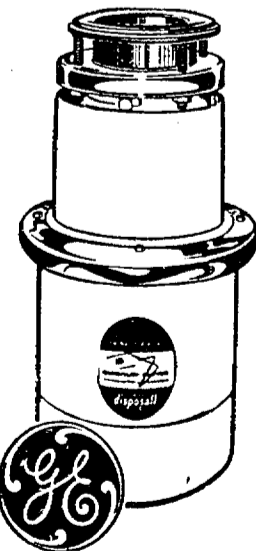

Free balloons, eggs, and prizes will highlight the second annual children's Easter Egg Hunt to be held at Metropolitan Beach starting at 3 p.m. on Saturday, April 16.

James J. Pompo, beach manager, said that the event will be divided into two sections: Tots Division for children ages 2 to 6 which will be held in the Tot Lot and Junior Division for youngsters ages 7 through 12 who will be assigned to special areas for the search.

Youngsters who find the golden eggs will be awarded awarded prizes four for the Tots and eight for the Juniors. Mr. Easter Bunny will be on hand to present the prizes, which include colorful stuffed animals, camera sets, roller skates and wrist watches

False Ideas About Food

Food has always been a symbol of friendliness, sociability and pleasure. But false ideas and superstitions about food are as common today as they were in ages past.

Today, no one can make us believe that snake oil and powdered gypsy bones can cure rheumatism and baldness; yet most of us have in our homes vitamin pills, weight-reducing "aids" or special "health" foods.

If you have any of these preparations without the advice of your family doctor, you may be dealing with the modernized version of the old-time medicine man. You may be among the ten million Americans who are spending about a half billion dollars each year in search of a shortcut to health.

Here are some examples of common food fallacies and the facts about each false idea.

(1) Fallacy: Everybody needs vitamin concentrates. Vitamins are "cure-alls."

Fact: Regular foods are the best sources of vitamin, and the vitamin preparations are not necessary for the average person if the diet is adequate. Vitamin concentrates should be taken only on the advice of a physician.

(2) Fallacy: Butter has more calories per pound than margarine.

Fact: Margarine and butter have the same calorie value.

(3) Fallacy: It is dangerous to leave food in a can that has been opened.

Fact: It is just as safe to keep food in opened cans in the refrigerator as it is to empty food into another container. Often other containers carry more bacteria from the air than the cans themselves.

(4) Fallacy: Water is fattening.

Fact: Water is calorie free and cannot be converted to body fat. Water is essential to health at all times.

(5) Fallacy: Frozen orange juice contains more vitamin C than fresh or canned orange juice.

Fact: The vitamin C content of fresh, frozen and canned orange juice is about the same.

(6) Fallacy: Soil that is inferior produces vegetables and cereals of low food value.

Fact: Experiments seem to show that poor soil lessens the quality of the crop, but not its food value.

(7) Fallacy: Milk is not a needed food for adults.

Fact: A pint or more of milk should be included in everyone's daily diet. The calcium in milk helps fortify bones against breakage. Milk, cheese and other dairy products are high in protein, minerals and vitamins.

BICYCLE RECOVERED

Tom Willmore of 555 Neff road told the City police that his bicycle had been taken from the Maire School grounds on April 7. It was described as being a 24 inch boy's bike, red, white and blue. It was recovered later in the day by the City police at the corner of Kercheval and Notre Dame avenues and returned to young Willmore.

War Memorial Drive Hits High Gear in Second Week

$16,222.17 has been received in the first 10 days receipts of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center's 1960 Annual Family Participation Campaign. The Center's Board of Directors is very pleased at the increase in number of givers so far this year over last.

1,271 donors have been heard from up to this point in the drive which is nearly 200 more than in the same period last year. The Association's officers want to thank each and every donor for his important contribution. The amount of money received thus far in the drive is just about on a par with that taken in by this time last year. They are most grateful.

John W. Paynter the Association's President, Joseph L. Hickey and Harry Hogan who are in charge of follow-up work for the drive wish to emphasize that this year's absolutely necessary amount of $50,000 is 25% greater than last year. They urge all givers wherever possible to increase their gifts a little if they can. They continue to reiterate that no gift is too small. All gifts regardless of size are greatly appreciated as it is a broad support from the community as a whole which the Center is seeking.

A letter received with an individual contribution from a satisfied member of the Grosse Pointe Chapter of the Citizens of Michigan, one of the many groups using the Center, was most heartening to the Memorial's Board all of who serve the community for three years on a voluntary basis. Permission was granted to quote this letter as follows:

"Our last three monthly meetings have been held at the Memorial Center, and attendance has been very good. This is due in no small part to the central location of the Center . . ."

"Besides providing a convenient meeting place for people with similar interests and hobbies, the Center has a unique and homelike atmosphere not to be found in most public buildings which enhances the feeling of good neighborliness and community spirit."

"On behalf of our Chapter membership, may I take this opportunity to thank you for making the Center available to use as a much appreciated meeting place for public spirited citizens of Grosse Pointe . . ."

The above is but one of the many expressions of confidence and approval of their service and program received daily at the Center. The Memorial's Board and Staff is constantly aware of its responsibility to the community and is dedicated to continue to make every effort in its behalf. The Association wishes to thank profoundly the following contributors for their generosity in sharing in the underwriting of the Center's work:

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

Bobbie Campbell's current trip to New York really is a tribute to her scholarship and fine application to study.

Involved were an honor conferred while she was still at Shortridge High School in Indianapolis a few months back, and permission from Grosse Pointe High to be absent from classes all this week.

Bobbie, a junior at GPHS and the daughter of the Richard H. Campbells of Westchester Road, moved here from Indianapolis with the family in February.

A member of the American Government class at Shortridge High, Bobbi was one of 30 girls and boys invited by the teacher, Mrs. Hope B. Nevitt, to make the trip to New York, the honor being based on interest in government and scholastic standing. It was slated for their Easter vacation. (Her GPHS teachers gladly granted the necessary permission).

Bobbi flew to Indianapolis last Friday evening to join the group and leave by train Saturday under the wing of Mrs. Nevitt and her assisting chaperons.

Their New York schedule was to include daily visits to the United Nations, a few shows ("Flower Drum Song" and "The Music Man"), and dining at the Stork Club, Jack Dempsey's and the Waldorf.

The party is to entrain this Friday, April 15, and Bobbi will go back to Indianapolis with the group.

In the meantime, Mrs. Campbell and younger daughter Cricket will drive to Indianapolis this Friday. There'll be a short visit with friends (the family lived in the Indiana city six years) and Bobbi will return to the Pointe with her mother and sister.

Reservations for Europe

The spring trek to the Continent is on. The Carroll M. Boutells have decided to sail instead of jet and this trip will spend a great deal of time in Spain.

Also on their calendar are stops in Spain, Italy, Austria and Germany. This is the year of the Passion Play at Oberammergau and the Boutells won't want to miss this once in a decade spectacle.

The Rev. and Mrs. Bertram deHeus Atwood with Polly and Betsy will be leaving for Europe on July 4. Oberammergau will be on their itinerary, too, but they want to concentrate on Switzerland.

The Martin R. Robertsons, of Fisher road, are flying to Paris on Monday and will visit Italy, Austria, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, England and Scotland before coming home June 20.

Fine Arts in Rehearsal

Fine Arts Society is rehearsing its spring production, "The Man in the Dog Suit" destined for the boards on April 22 and 23, at the Players.

In the cast are Mrs. Charles Markley, Mrs. James Phelps, Mrs. Alex M. Sterling, Mrs. Bernard Pearse, Richard Langhenrichs, Chuck Weikel, Malcolm McLellan, Harold Love, David Coolidge and Francis Van Dusen.

Garden Club Meet the Orient

Mrs. Floyd E. Straith is opening her Audubon road home on Monday at 12:30 o'clock for luncheon to the members of the Pointe Garden Club.

Assistant hostesses will be Mrs. Leland F. Carter (Continued on Page 16)

Short and to the Pointe

Two Grosse Pointe residents were elected members of the board of the University of Detroit's Women Students League, an assembly of all women undergraduates. VIRGINIA BONAHOON, daughter of MR. and MRS. ALFRED BONAHOON of Lochmoor boulevard, is the new president. SHARON NEUMAN, daughter of MR. and MRS. JOSEPH NEUMAN of Stanhope road, is the Arts sophomore representative.

ELSA PURDY, daughter of the REMINGTON J. PURDYS of Beaupre road has returned to her classes at the Boston School of Occupational Therapy following her spring vacation. Mrs. Purdy and Mrs. Howard Quackenbush (formerly of the Pointe) have recently returned home from a trip through the South and New Orleans.

DR. SHERBURNE C. BROWN and his fiancee MISS DOROTHY MILLER of White Plains, N.Y., will arrive Saturday for an Easter visit with his parents the SHERBURNE C. BROWNS of Neff road. Dr. Brown is currently in residence at the New York hospital, New York City. The couple are to be married on May 7.

MR. and MRS. ROY C. NORTON, JR., and their daughter, CHERYL, formerly of the Pointe and now of Cape Elizabeth, Maine, will be the house guests of MR. and MRS. WALTER W. MORRIS of Sunningdale road, for Easter week. A buffet supper is planned for Easter Sunday.

MR. and MRS. A. BROOKS HARLOW (Miriam, "Miami" Baxter, formerly of Grosse Pointe), of Pomfret, Conn., announce the birth of a daughter, Alice Baxter, on April 4.

Returning to her Palm Beach winter home this week after a short stay here was MRS. HAROLD R. BOYER, JR., of East Jefferson avenue. Her son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. VICTOR H. TAYLOR, of Lincoln road, have left for Palm Beach.

MRS. THOMAS K. WRIGHT, of Maunee avenue, and Mrs. Henri T. Crossen, of East Outer Drive, leave April 26 for Williamsburg, Va., where they will attend a special program at William and Mary College.

MRS. WILLIAM BINKLEY celebrated her 100th birthday Wednesday at a party in the

Grunyon Concert At Center

Grosse Pointe's personable "Whiffenpoofs," the Grunyons have a date to entertain the community at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center next Wednesday evening, April 20, at 8:30 p.m. This fun packed evening will be absolutely free of charge to Grosse Pointers and their guests.

While the Grunyon wives are rehearsing to go on, their husbands (the old pros) will be singing and swinging through such numbers as "Rose of Washington Square," "The Strumpet Medley" and "The Lady Is a Tramp." There'll be blues—"Lindberg" and "Hong Kong," "Take Your Finger" and educated barber shop in general.

Dynamic Bonnie Klein will spotlight quartet work with Bill Dennes, Don Bliss and Art Seely. And arranger and jazz pianist, Chet Bogan will hold forth at the Steinway.

A tremendous group of Spirituals will be included as a serious note during the evening among them will be featured "Joshua," "And When the Leaves," "No Anin Lady" and "Animals."

This will be a fine performance for both young and longer marrieds and for the young unmarried dating set, too.

DAC Plans Theater Party for May 10

Also on Agenda with 45th Anniversary Celebrations Are Squash-Handball Group Party for Ladies on April 26, Easter Festivities

Even with all eyes on the Detroit Athletic Club's big 45th anniversary celebration slated to start Saturday, there already are other intriguing plans on the club agenda. One is to be a "theatre party" and the show is to be "Flower Drum Song".

DAC's entertainment committee has sent out word to members that this "theatre party" is being planned for May 10, when the original New York Company of "Flower Drum Song" will have its Detroit opening at the Riviera Theatre.

Elaborate plans include taking over a large section of the main floor; the serving of an early dinner at the club, and chartered buses available to and from the theatre. Members will be advised shortly when tickets will be available.

Before that festivity, the DAC Squash-Handball Association will have its "Party for the Ladies" on April 26. This is a yearly fete which gives the distaff side the benefit of a "dividend" — they'll have the privilege of watching their men's squash and handball matches from the galleries overlooking the courts.

Matches start at 5 p.m. Cocktails will be served in the lounge at the swimming pool; the party will adjourn to the main dining room at 7:30 o'clock for buffet dinner and dancing. In charge are Robert G. Winter, Marshall Potter, and William G. Lichtenberg, Jr.

Then there are additional plans for DAC's 45th anniversary celebration Easter Sunday, due to the tremendous advance interest — understandable, what with Lawrence Welk and 10 stars from his "champagne music" orchestra to play for the club's 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. tea dance!

The tea dance now is to be staged in the gymnasium (instead of the Pontchartrain Room as first arranged) so there will be more space for more dancers, and the many balcony seats for listeners who want to see the famous Welk personalities.

The Pontchartrain Room, newly decorated and handsome with new blue draperies, will be used for serving of refreshments during the afternoon. In the evening, after the 2:30 to 5:30 birthday party is over, it will be the setting for dancing to music by Glenn Williams and his orchestra during the festive buffet dinner.

Dads and daughters have the distinction of setting all the anniversary celebration in motion this Saturday, the 16th. Reservations (all 700 places) were snapped up in double-quick time when the Fathers' and Daughters' Party was announced.

The clubhouse already is in its Easter array of beautiful flowers—rose-hued azalea trees, stately lilies. In such a setting little girls and grown daughters, squired by dads, will vie with lovely blooms.

Among the many attending from Grosse Pointe (aquatic exhibition at 12:15 p.m., then luncheon and the stage show presenting singer Jean Fenn and the Bernard Brothers, comedy pantomimists) will be W. E. Anderman and granddaughter Maureen Anderman, together with William E. Andermar, Jr., and Mary Helen; Norman F. Chamberlin, with Jamie, Christine, Karen and Katherine; Eugene Wallace and Sharon; Jay W. Smith and Sheila; George L. Cassidy with Denise Ann and Sheila; W. W. Gross and Diana; E. Richard Holtz with his daughters, Mrs. C. Hugh Fletcher and Mrs. F. C. Hertel, and granddaughter, Elaine Ruth Fletcher.

Others to attend are Robert J. Gaskill with Susan, Barbara and Patricia; William Trader and Susan; Fred Cody with Fredericka and Angela; John H. Rickel and Alice; Merritt Schwenk, Jr., and Linda Jean; W. Harold Lightbody with Nancy and Sharon in a group with Sally Stahl, George Lott and Linda, and Carolyn Collins; Howard H. Lawrie with his granddaughters, L. A. R. Kimbrough and Kathy Stewart; Ralph J. Kilber and Elizabeth; George Payne and Suzy; Don W. Miller and Trudy.

GPYC to Open New Lounge

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club expects to celebrate the opening of its beautiful new lakeview terrace lounge May 13 and 14.

Decor, furnishings and carpeting are being rushed, and celebration plans are being completed in order to announce the May date and the entertainment arranged for the important two-evening function.

The new room, constructed so it adjoins the ballroom on the one side and commands a view of Lake St. Clair for its entire length on the other, has been in the building stages for some months.

Working with Charles J. Glasgow and Lee M. Radke, co-chairmen on the celebration plans, are Bryan A. Chaplow, entertainment chairman; Commodore William A. Ternes, and Manager Fred Gebstadt.

Easter Sunday will be a day of family dinners in the club's main dining room.

Besides the April 22 bridge luncheon and fashion show in the ballroom, social activities this month include the GPYC Cinema Party at Music Hall on the 27th, and the Bowlers' Jamboree on the 30th when trophies and prizes will be presented at this cocktail and dinner dance fete. Bill O. Brink and Thomas C. Fox are the respective chairman and vice chairman of the bowling committee in charge of Jamboree arrangements.

League Reviews Past Work At Anniversary Luncheon

A past decade of achievement was reviewed, and the work of a new decade was launched by the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters at an anniversary luncheon at the War Memorial Center last Friday.

Leaguers elected a new slate of officers, voted on next year's local study item and recalled the highlights of their past community service efforts.

New officers include: Mrs. Leonard Slowin, president, Mrs. H. Ross Hume, first vice president, Mrs. J. Robert Jessup, secretary, and directors Mrs. Joseph P. Thompson, Mrs. John Remillet and Mrs. Miles McKee.

The League also decided to continue with its study of the Wayne County judicial system, which was undertaken in cooperation with other county Leagues specializing in various topics under the general heading of "Know Your Wayne County."

The League hopes eventually to make the compiled information available to the public in booklet form. The highly successful League publication, "This Is Your Grosse Pointe," is scheduled to be up dated and re-issued during the coming year.

A proposal to study the Grosse Pointe school system was defeated, but its advocates plan to re-introduce the measure upon the completion of the Wayne County study now underway.

Mrs. George Brown, retiring president of the League, recalled briefly the struggles and triumphs of the Grosse Pointe branch during its fruitful ten years existence, which included the winning of a national American Heritage Award of Merit for outstanding work in a get-out-the-vote campaign.

She cited the every member League effort in gathering the information included in the Grosse Pointe guide, first published in March, 1954, and the long arduous fight for a constitutional convention.

Although past con-con measures were defeated, Mrs. Brown said the Grosse Pointe League could well be proud of the 12,000 affirmative votes registered in this area in November, 1958. At that time an antique car parade with Leaguers in appropriate gay nineties dress gave dramatic emphasis to the League contention that the Michigan Constitution is outmoded.

Mrs. Brown spoke of the expanding League program which not only continues the tradition of supplying non-partisan voter information through speakers and publications, but has through the efforts of its foreign policy committee presented various experts on foreign affairs at community meetings. These meetings, as well as the recent "Voterama" party, has been well attended, Mrs. Brown said.

THE GROSSE POINTE NEWS was praised by Mrs. Brown for its cooperation in printing League voter information at past elections. She also observed that the analytical approach of the League of Women Voters to current issues is more important and necessary today than ever before.

Retiring officers included: Mrs. George Brown, president, and directors: Mrs. Richard Sowden, Mrs. James Graves, Mrs. William T. Krebs and Mrs. Rudolph Ollila.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

Bruce Tappan, past commodore of the Detroit Boat Club and the Detroit River Yachting Association, is like a dog with a bone once he sets his mind to something. Bruce's latest chore is as chairman of the DRYA Yachting Cup Fund and already he has set the wheels in motion among the major portion of the DRYA member clubs. Nine clubs have individual representatives on the fund raising committee which include: Dexter Ferry, Grosse Pointe Club; George Cossaboom, Grosse Pointe Y.C.; Bob Kerr, Bayview Y.C.; Kenneth Leipprandt, Edison Boat Club; Bill Noah, Detroit Y.C.; Ben Cochell, Windmill Pointe Y.C.; William Patrick Fitzgerald Connolly, Grosse Pointe Sail Club; Jim Millies, Crescent Sail Y.C. and Woody Warrick, Detroit Boat Club. All are or have been competitive sailors and they are an impressive group of guys who like to get things done.

The idea of the Yachting Cup Fund is to raise money to provide financial assistance to any local sailor who may qualify for the Mallory, Sears or Adams Cup finals. No one is obligated to come up with some long green stuff towards the fund. It's all on a donation basis and donors will receive a DRYA Acknowledgement card.

So far returns are heartening. Windmill Pointe Y.C. already has returned $33.00 from 12 donations, the Detroit Boat Club was a buck behind on 6 donations and the Board of Directors of the Detroit Y.C. authorized $100.00 as a donation from the club.

Chairman Tappan has instructed his representatives not to pressure anyone. If you want to aid the cause just contact the representative at your club. No donation is too small. If you wish you can send your contribution directly to Bruce Tappan at 93 Kercheval, Grosse Pointe 36, Michigan. The goal has been set at $600.00.

Bayview Yacht Club's wonderful hour-long color-sound movie of the 1958 Mackinac race has taken off on an extensive tour through the courtesy of United Airlines. This movie which has thrilled sailors throughout the Midwest and Eastern seaboard will be taken to the Hawaiian Islands and shown at the Kenoeke Bay Y.C., the Outrigger Club and the Hawaiian Y.C. Dave Daley will bring it back to the West coast and show it at the Balboa Y.C., San Diego Y.C., Long Beach Y.C., Los Angeles Y.C. and Trans-Pac Y.C. From there Bud Swenson will show it at the San Francisco Y.C. and as many other yacht and boat clubs that time will permit.

The film, produced and directed by Norman Werthmann, is probably one of the most complete sailing movies ever made. It tells the story of the preparations made by the week-end vikings for the annual July classic sailed on Lake Huron, shows life aboard many yachts during the race, high-points of Mackinac Island and last but not least the presentation of trophies to the guys that steered the fastest.

Optimistic Tar Undaunted by Unco-operative Nature

As snow swirled in blizzard fashion Raven sailor PETE KREMLICK and his crew maintain their time schedule as they rig the NARAKA which underwent an extensive refurbishing during the long winter months to meet the demanding competition in the red hot Raven class. Many hands made light work and the pessimistic, or should they be called the realistic sailors, made like curbstone engineers offering free advice.

Church League Crowns Cage Champions at Dinner

Champions of A, B and C Divisions of the Grosse Pointe Church Basketball League were honored at the eleventh annual Awards Banquet, Wednesday, April 13. Players of the Class A St. James; Class B. St. Paul (1) and Class C Christ Church received individual trophies for their season-long efforts.

On Wednesday, April 7, St. James came from behind to defeat an upset minded Grosse Pointe Congregational squad, 41-34. Congregational held a two-point, 7-5, lead at the end of the first period but fell before a 20-point second and third period St. James rally.

In the final stanza St. James leaned heavily on the foul line with Vic Dhooge dropping four consecutive free throws and Bob Hadley sinking two straight to stretch the winners lead to seven. Dhooge paced both teams with 16 points and Congregational's Dave Mathews gained runner-up honors with 14.

St. Paul's (1) walloped Our Lady Star of the Sea 49-18 to win the Class B title. This was Paul's had turned back Star of the Sea doing the job twice during the regular season play. Jim Bigham and Jim Turner paced the winners with 15 the third straight time St. Paul's each to share scoring honors. St. Paul's jumped off to a huge first half lead and held a comfortable 30-7 intermission margin. Half of these points were scored by the reserves in a fine showing of bench strength.

Christ Church came from behind to win a thrilling 26-22 battle over Grosse Pointe Congregational for the Class C crown. Congregational held a 5-2 first period lead but fell behind when Christ Church caught fire in the second quarter for 15 points and take the lead which it never relinquished.

Congregational missed a golden opportunity in the final period when it missed seven of eight free throws. Jon Isley paced the winners with 12 points and teammate Stu Blackburn notched runner-up honors with 7 points.

Babe Ruth League

Woods-Shores Babe Ruth League officials have extended the player registration deadline to Saturday, April 16, in an effort to sign up more 14 and 15-year-old boys in order to give each major league team its full quota of players in all three age groups.

Any boy who registers now for Babe Ruth baseball will be supplied a full uniform and assigned to a team no matter how limited his baseball experience. In the past boys who have played little or no organized baseball sometimes have blossomed into stars under the tutelage of Babe Ruth managers. The Woods-Shores league's objective is "More baseball for more boys."

To obtain your registration form or further information, please contact Mr. Edward Arden, TUxedo 1-8754. All teams this year will play a 21-game schedule instead of the 15-game schedule used last season. Opening day is May 2 with final games on July 19. This will be followed by a play-off games between the two major league winners to determine the city championship, won for the past two seasons by the St. Louis Cardinals. All-Star teams of 15-year old players then will represent this area in regional, state and national Babe Ruth championships.

St. Paul to Field Veteran Nine

George Solomon, St. Paul High School baseball coach, probably enjoys one of the more enviable positions among prep coaches this spring. Solomon has an all veteran team to go into competition in search of the East Side First Division Parochial title.

The only lad missing from the 1959 team is Tommy Kolojeski who, currently, is on a southern tour with the St. Bernard College team as a first string outfielder. Taking Kolojeski's vacated outfield post is reserve sophomore Fred Duros.

Coach Solomon beams from ear to ear when he runs down the roster and points out that only one of the first stringers is a senior who is Bob Bigham who has nailed down the letterfield berth. Other letterwinners include; pitcher Tom Moxley, Ted Buda and southpaw Glenn Cross. All three alternate at first base. The rest of the lineup is Steve Handlos, catcher; John Kolojeski, second base; Chick Heiner, shortstop; Mike Cantwell and Jackie Wucher, rightfield.

Pushing the veterans are twelve other candidates who coach Solomon knows little about due to inclement weather which has limited out of doors practice. The foremost of this group is sophomore Jackie Martin and Frank Kotcher a catcher with Babe Ruth League experience.

Devil Thinclads Hurt by Injury

The success or failure of the 1960 Grosse Pointe Blue Devil track team could hinge on one boy despite the return of a host of lettermen.

Hopes ran high as the Devils commenced practice this spring and Coach Howard MacAdam and assistant coach Jim Curlett, figured they had the makings of a team that could go all the way down to the wire in the fight for the Border Cities League crown. That was before veteran Ron Harper aggravated an old back injury suffered in the last football game last fall.

The sore back muscle has stubbornly refused to respond to treatment and consequently Harper has been out of action since almost the first day. Harper had been counted on heavily to provide the necessary spark to set the Devils afire. Last season Harper set the point pace for the Pointers with repeated wins in the broad jump, 220 and as anchorman he again will be the fastest 220 man on the squad.

Unfortunately the Devils catch their two toughest opponents in the first two meets, Highland Park was first on the schedule and Monroe followed a week later on April 26. Monroe is regarded as the team to beat and is the defending champion. Results of the Highland Park meet came too late to make the News deadline.

The Pointers' strongest events will be the 100-yard dash with Terry "Steamboat" Donovan carrying the load; the half mile run with Jerry Spiewak and Mike Miller pounding the cinders and the 880 with Hamilton and Holmes Brown and Grant Kurtz presenting a formidable trio. Mike Towson, a transfer student from Oregon, appears to be a valuable addition with his speed in the 100, 220 and the broad jump events. Paul Krogh is the only returning veteran in the high and low hurdles. Lanky Charlie Clark will be his running mate.

For the first time in many years the Devils have failed to come up with an outstanding miler and the field events will be the Pointers' Achilles' heel. No outstanding candidate has been found for the pole vault, shot put or broad jump events. The only bright spot in the field events is Jim Carney in the high jump. Dick Arnold, Gary Johnson and Jerry Brennan are working out in the pole vault which has been the Devils' weakest spot for years.

In the shot put it is either feast or famine. Just a couple of years ago Grosse Pointe had three musclemen who almost every meet scored a slam. This year seniors Stan Dolega and Ken Squires are the leading candidates for the job.

Senior Gary Brown and junior Brian Mumaw appear to have the inside track in the quarter mile event and senior Bill Halbert, a three-year veteran, and tenth grader George Thomas will run the mile. Bruce Apple is the only boy who has shown anything that approaches winning form in the half mile event.

Coach MacAdam feels his speediest quartet for the 880 relay will be Terry Donovan, starting his fourth season, Mike Towson and the Brown brothers, Hamilton and Holmes.

Michigan Bonsai Club To Meet April 19

The Michigan Bonsai Club will meet on Tuesday, April 19, at 2 p.m. in Room 206, in Detroit's Old City Hall.

There are many members living in the Pointe who delve in bonsai, the Japanese art of stunting trees and plants for indoor gardens.

Thief Invades Skating Rink

A burglar used a hacksaw to gain entrance into the Ice Flair, 15001 Charlevoix, on Monday, April 4, leaving the place of a small amount of cash and about $500 worth of long-playing records.

The double door at the alley entrance was unlocked, according to Park Police Lt. Gerard Kesteloot, but a chain was fastened to the door handle bars. The thief opened the door, and used a hacksaw to cut away the chain.

The lieutenant said that the invader walked through the lobby, to the office of Don Kronson, manager, and completely wrecked the door in forcing an entry. The thief took about $40 in cash from the manager's desk, after ransacking it.

The burglar apparently knew his way around. Lt. Kesteloot said, since he was aware that Kronson's dog was in the basement of the building, and propped a chair against the knob to prevent the animal from getting out.

Going to the music room, the robber took approximately 188 long-playing records, used during dancing and skating events, worth $3 each. The door to the room was not locked, the officer said.

It is the rare entrepreneur who can parlay a $25 investment into a fortune which can support three generations in style, but this is just what John Wendell Anderson did.

Anderson and Horace H. Rackham were law partners with a modest practice when the great opportunity came in 1903 to draw up the corporation papers for Henry Ford's new motor car company.

Ford gave them the chance to invest in the risky venture and they both took the flyer. Anderson borrowed $5,000 from his father, a Wisconsin doctor, and sold out for $12,500,000. Rackham, who was a frugal man, took out a $5,000 mortgage on his home to raise the funds. To the end of his days he watched the pennies, rode to office in street cars, shoveled his own snow and carried out the ashes in spite of his millions.

Anderson followed a different route. By 1916 he had retired from active law practice and spent a great deal of time traveling, visiting such bon ton spas as the French Riviera. He never owned a Ford car but bought a lavish summer home in Watch Hill, R. I., and an 80 foot yacht. His estate at 209 Lakeshore road was a mansion in the grand manor.

He never really grasped the essentials of manufacturing automobiles and when Ford explained that the best way to make cars was to make them like one another, and as much alike as pins or matches Anderson was baffled. He thought the automobile business was pretty complicated, but not the profits. By 1913 when he was traveling about Geneva he learned that his $5,000 investment had become a million. Anderson had kept a diary of the early days of the Ford Motor Company, from which he later read excerpts at a Senate hearing on James Couzens' tax problems.

Henry Ford was determined to buy out his absentee minority stockholders such as Anderson and by the summer of 1919 this was an accomplished fact, the stock passing into the Ford family.

John Wendell Anderson was the last to precede the motor magnate in death, the other ten minority stockholders all having been bought out by the Ford family. With Anderson and Rackham the original investors were Couzens, John S. Gray, president of the German-American Bank of Detroit; A. Y. Malcomson, coal dealer; John F. and Horace Dodge; Albert Strelow, a carpenter, who owned the only hoisting equipment in the city which would allow the construction of a building more than two stories high; Charles H. Bennett inventor and owner of an iron wind mill factory; Vernon C. Fry, who ran a notions department in a store and J. J. Woodall, a clerk in Malcomson's coal office. Ford wouldn't allow Dr. Frederick E. Zumstein to invest because this would have made 13, an unlucky omen.

Anderson's daughter, Suzanne, married Arthur Gardner, former ambassador to Cuba, who now lives in Palm Beach. The two sons, John Anderson and the late Wendell W. Anderson carried on the family tradition in the Pointe. The mansion of the Anderson on Lakeshore is gone and in the former garage apartment live the Danforth Holleys.

A letter from a shaggy dog, that's what we have received! And no ordinary shaggy dog either, an aggrieved one, very articulate, too. It seems we wrote about his cousins, the only two sheepsdogs in Grosse Pointe, but forgot him. To the names of Clancy Wilson and George Rigger let it be added, with all honor, Dusty Murphy.

Dusty is by far the most famous it would appear. He is the only sheepsdog to appear in obedience demonstrations in the whole city. His master, Charles B. Murphy, teaches obedience lessons at the GPHS and who taught him? Dusty. Dusty had a starring role in the last Junior League Follies, riding in a Thunderbird, and appearing in a dual spot with his cousin Clancy.

Our apologies for ignoring such a talented canine!

School board members will think twice before calling at the James Bushongs. Mrs. B. received Franklin Dougherty last week and reported that her husband, Superintendent of the Grosse Pointe School System, was away for the evening. She then invited him to sit down and pressed him to remain. She had to go to the P-TA meeting and needed a baby sitter for her two daughters. Obliging Mr. D. calmly assumed the burden and Mrs. Bushong made the meeting.

To the growing legion of Pointers who prefer walking to any other form of exercise add the name of Mrs. William P. Bonbright II, an indefatigable stroller.

Loyal Tiger fan, Mrs. Henry S. Reynolds, has followed her favorite baseball stars down through the years. Currently third baseman Eddie Yost is high on her list. She's knitting him a pair of Sox.

PILFERINGS

It was my mother who made me realize just how noisy and gadget-laden the modern home has become. One night she sat bolt upright in her chair and asked, "What just stopped?"

Bob Hope: You don't see me at Vegas or at the races throwing my money around. I've got a government to support.

Two pretty girls met on a street and enthusiastically kissed each other. A young guy watched them moodily and said, "That's the trouble with the world today. Too many women trying to do a man's job."

In a travel bureau a clerk was trying to convince a nervous woman of the safety of air travel. She remained unconvinced until he threw in the clincher: "Madam, if it wasn't safe, would we be using the fly-now-pay-later-plan?"

Shopper trying on coat to saleslady: "It looks too much like something I could afford."

When the young doctor went to pick up his sports car he exploded upon being handed a bill for $38. "All I wanted was a tune-up," he moaned.

"It's like this, Doc," said the mechanic, "we had to call in a specialist."

JAN WINKLER, OF MERRIWEATHER ROAD

By Patricia Talbot

"They often ask me if I'm a beatnik" twinkles wholesome Jan Winkler, Michigan State graduate student and sometime folk singer.

Jan's background belies the beatnik tag. Born in California she has been a long time pointer, is the youngest of four children, in a happy family, took her first singing lessons at the Grosse Pointe High School and is a church choir member.

The beatnik tag could come from the cafes in which Jan sings on week-ends away from her studies at MSU. She has entertained at espresso coffee bars and off beat clubs like the Cafe College where she is on the bill with a poet and a comedian. Jan likes casual clothes, prefers bare feet to shoes, performs on a high stool.

Picked A Mandolin

In spite of her success in the world of show business she really prefers teaching and when she wins her master's degree in musicology might follow an educator's career.

The folk singing which has brought her fame came about quite by accident. Her whole family, mother, father, sisters, brothers and brothers-in-law, are musical. Her father owned a mandolin, acquired during the depression as payment of a debt. Jan used to strum on this instrument and then begged for a guitar (her brother-in-law used to entertain on one). She began playing the guitar and has been at it ever since although she's never taken a lesson. From "Smiles" she moved on to folk songs, doing considerable research in the Old English literature to come up with new songs. In her repertoire now is the poignant "Scarlet Ribbons," "Black Is the Color of My True Love's Hair" and "Greensleeves".

First Engagement

She began singing early, was soloist at her graduation from Grosse Pointe High, and a member of the senior choir at Memorial Church. She has words of gratitude for GPHS's singing teacher, veteran John Finch, who encouraged her. Her first professional job came when she went to MSU as an undergraduate. The Plymouth Congregational Church hired her for $5.00 an evening to entertain at a dinner. She gets considerably more now when she appears in downtown cafes.

No Time for Dates

Her music is her whole life, doesn't leave much time for dreams of marriage and children, little time for dating. Her music is her whole life, doesn't leave much time for dreams of marriage and children, little time for dating.

father would like her to become a secretary in his construction business, but being a creative type himself, she plays several instruments, he hasn't discouraged her from cafe singing.

Jan spends many hours at the library, has just acquired a tenor recorder which she hopes someone will help her learn to play. She is very dedicated to her music, is constantly seeking for new material.

Jan Winkler is a young lady with her feet on a stool, her voice in the clouds. If she surrenders her cafe singing for the classroom her pupils will be the gainers, her cafe following disappointed to lose a fine young talent.

Clark Women To Have Tea

The Fine Arts Group of the Clark Women's Club will entertain its club members and their guests at a tea in their club rooms at Christ Methodist Church on April 20 at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Homer Rauen and Mrs. John Lynott will preside at the tea table.

Speaker of the day will be Mrs. Fern Green, member of the International Grapho-Analysis Society Inc. Mrs. Green has a most impressive background in analyzing handwriting scientifically.

She teaches grapho-analysis and has often assisted the Police Dept. by examining specimens of handwriting to determine the character of persons under surveillance.

The Clark Women's Club will hold its annual meeting on Monday, May 2, at Christ Methodist Church. The business meeting is scheduled for 1 p.m. followed by an address by attorney Mr. Robert Russell.

Merrill-Palmer Changes Name

Announcement is made of the change of name of the Merrill-Palmer School to the Merrill-Palmer Institute of Human Development and Family Life. The designation "Institute" has been adopted because it reflects more adequately the breadth of program and the variety of approaches to the understanding of human behavior, made possible through Merrill-Palmer's faculty and resources.

In addition to the new institutional name, titles of the chief administrative officers have been changed also. Dr. Pauline Park Wilson Knapp, Director since 1952, is now President.

Dr. William H. McKee, formerly Assistant Director, is now Vice President. Mr. Lem W. Bowen, formerly President of the Merrill-Palmer Corporation, has the new designation Chairman of the Board.

The Merrill-Palmer Institute, which will celebrate its fortieth anniversary this year, occupies both sides of the block of East Ferry Avenue between Woodward Avenue and John R Street.

Founded under the will of the late Lizzie Merrill Palmer, it was originally organized as a laboratory nursery school, the first of its kind in this country.

Through the years, the program has been expanded to include study of all phases of human development and family and community life, spanning the entire life cycle from prenatal to old age.

The Institute's current programs of teaching, research and community service bring it in yearly contact with thousands of residents of the Detroit metropolitan area, with students from all parts of the country. Merrill-Palmer's alumni reside in every state and in forty-eight foreign countries.

The title of his address will be "The Duty of the Public as a Juror and Witness."

Co-hostesses for the tea will be Mrs. Harry Sainsbury and Mrs. Armand De Gaetano.
