HEADLINES

of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, April 21

THE CRASH of a twin engine private plane near Hickory, S.C., yesterday, took the lives of three Grand Rapids furniture executives and the pilot. The small plane, while trying to land, struck the left wing of a Piedmont Airlines F-27 airliner, and then crashed. The airliner landed safely with no one injured. Killed were: Julius Bergsma, 44, David Frank, 66, Frederick J. Frieswyk, 37, the pilot, and Earl G. Krombeen, 41. The three furniture men were touring furniture centers in the south. All were connected with Imperial Furniture Co., Grand Rapids.

Friday, April 22

THE 1960 CIVIL RIGHTS bill needs only the signature of President Eisenhower to become law. Already passed by the Senate, the bill went by the House yesterday with a 288 to 95 vote. The President has already assured Congress that the bill will receive his signature.

The bill provides new voting guarantees for Southern Negroes, by allowing Federal judges to appoint referees to determine the qualifications of Negroes who have been denied voting privileges by local registrars. The bill is designed to crack down on anyone who tries to obstruct court-ordered school integration or engage in hate bombings.

Saturday, April 23

FRENCH PRESIDENT Charles deGaulle and President Eisenhower had their first of a series of talks that will extend over deGaulle's four day visit to this country. The talk, yesterday, came after a ceremonial reception. The French leader was greeted by some 200,000 admirers when he arrived from Canada, and again was cheered when he left the White House to drive back to his quarters in Blair House.

RUSSIA WILL AGREE to effective peace and disarmament, is the prediction of Vice President Nixon for the coming Summit Conference. Nixon based his prediction on a belief that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev does not want a war that would destroy the economic gains achieved by the Communists.

Monday, April 25

FIVE WINS IN A ROW, and no losses, that's the record, to date, of the 1960 Detroit Tigers. Two victories over the Cleveland Indians, and three over the Chicago White Sox have put the amazing Tigers in first place in the American League. Last year, at this time, they were in the cellar.

FIRE SWEEPED TWO STORES at W. Vernor and Springwells last night, drawing some 2,500 spectators while causing damage of $50,000. The three alarm blaze, during the rush hour, started in a Cunningham drug store. Flames shot up from a deep fry basin where potatoes were cooking. The fire swept through a vent into the basement and then up again, into a dress shop next door.

Wednesday, April 27

SYNGMAN RHEE, President of the Republic of Korea, has offered to resign from his office following another day of rioting in Seoul. Some 100,000 demonstrators defied troops and threatened to storm the mansion occupied by the 85-year-old head of the state. Rhee told the people of Korea that he would resign "if the people desire."

Positive Evidence That Spring Is Here

Kite flying, hop-scootch, rope skipping and marbles are positive signs of Spring, and GEBBY BUSHNELL, left, gives MARCIE BRIDGE, of McMillan road, some valuable tips on pin point marble shooting so the "Big Boys' won't win all her marbles. Mothers sometimes become exasperated with their marble shooting small fry who carry the telltale dirty knuckles throughout the short season.

Chorus Set For Concert This Sunday

Large Community Choir And Soloists to be Heard at Parcels

The results of 13 weeks of intensive rehearsals will be demonstrated Sunday, May 1, when the Grosse Pointe Community Chorus presents its Eighth Annual Spring Concert at 3:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Parcels Jr. High School, Mack at Vernier.

More than 100 voices are in the Chorus, an entirely non-profit organization co-sponsored by Department of Community Services, Grosse Pointe Board of Education, and the directors of the chorus.

Director Don Simmons and pianist Mary Freda will preside over the varied program of some 25 numbers covering a wide range of chorus music. Some tickets are still available from the Grosse Pointe Book Store, 1945 Mack avenue, from members of the Chorus, or may be reserved by phoning TU-ede 4-5964.

Among the soloists to be featured are Ellen Heller and Lori Lang, sopranos; Virginia Larkin, contralto; and Carl Angellilli, tenor. The Madrigal Singers, a special group of chorus members, and the women's and men's glee clubs will also be heard in special numbers.

Committee Picks Architect For Auditorium at Center

The architectural firm of Harley, Ellington & Day, Inc. has been selected to design the William Fries Memorial Auditorium on the grounds of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, it was announced by Charles A. Parcels, Jr., acting chairman of the Auditorium Planning Committee of the War Memorial Association.

The architects will also undertake a thorough study of the site now occupied by the Center in an effort to propose not only the most appropriate location for the auditorium but also the most satisfactory method of handling the parking problem of the Center while at the same time enhancing the beautification of the site. The beautification of the site will be carried out in all phases of the project as it is planned and developed," he said.

Burglars Invade Woods Medical Building Third Time Within 14 Months

Enter Clinic After Three Tries; Loot Place of Drugs, Cash and Other Items Valued at Approximately $1,570

A Woods medical clinic building appears to offer lucrative pickings for burglars, when for the third time in more than a year it was broken into, netting thieves hundreds of dollars worth of antibiotic drugs, gold nuggets, cash and other items.

The building, at 20250 Mack avenue, owned by Dr. W. J. Watkins of 1162 Buckingham, a dentist, was thoroughly ransacked during the night of Tuesday, April 19, with every office visited by the invaders. Contents of desks and cabinets were scattered on the floor.

Woods Det. Sgt. Walter O'Dell and Det. Leroy Tobian said that the loot taken was about 387 vials of antibiotic drugs of all kinds, valued at a total of approximately $1,000; gold nuggets, used in dental work, worth $300; cash in the amount of $193.50; a man's gold wrist watch, no known value; a pair of sun glasses, no value; and a pint of whiskey.

The burglary was discovered by Dr. Watkins who opened the building at about 8 a.m. Tuesday. He notified police immediately.

O'Dell and Tobian said that the thieves made three attempts to enter the building, first by removing a screen from a restroom window at the rear of the building, and trying to force open the window, but failed.

The burglars then tried to force open two rear doors with some form of tool, but were hindered by tumbler locks. They broke the glass of one door, intending to reach in to trip the lock, without success.

The third time, the robbers were more successful. They broke a double pane storm and interior window, and entered the building.

The detectives said that the burglars threw a deep-piled rug over the window sill to avoid being cut by the broken glass, as they crawled through the window.

Suffer Biggest Loss

The biggest loss was suffered by Dr. Edward A. Wishropp of 227 Kenwood court, and Dr. Paul M. Zavell of 9634 Everts, Detroit; physicians, from whose offices were taken 331 vials, valued at $825.

Dr. K. M. McColl of 940 N. Oxford and Dr. R. E. Craig of 74 Fontana, lost 47 vials, worth $250.

Dr. L. C. Wiegmann of 6024 Kensington, dentist, lost the cash, watch, glasses and liquor; Dr. E. B. McCollum of 1143 Audubon, physician, lost nine vials, no value given.

The gold nuggets were taken from Dr. Watkins small safe which was rolled from his reception room to his office, where the combination dial was punched out and the safe opened. Other contents of the safe were strewn on the floor.

Center Drive Thermometer Hits $30,000

Volunteers to Make Door-to-Door Canvass to Get $20,000 Additional to Reach Quota

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's first follow-up letter proved to be just the "Shot in the arm" needed in the current Annual Family Participation Campaign. The large thermometer recording the Drive's progress at the Memorial's entrance gate hovers just under $30,000. The goal for May 30, just a month away, is $50,000.

Many Pointe families, however, have yet to be heard from. Monday night John W. Paynter, Association president, and Joseph L. Hickey and Harry Hogan co-chairmen of follow-up workers, gathered all the teams of volunteers in the Center's

Boy Finds $500 Fur in Street

Cary Richardson, 15, of 26260 Pinehurst, Roseville, found an expensive mink stole, on Wednesday, April 20, at Vernier and Wedgewood, and turned it over to Woods police.

The stole, valued at $500, was found in a J. L. Hudson garment bag, lying on the pavement, and apparently fell out of one of the firm's trucks, unnoticed by the driver, police said.

Police said that a tag attached to the bag, bore the name of Mrs. T. J. Henry of 87 Sunningdale, and was being sent to the downtown firm for cleaning and storage.

A call to the firm brought another truck driver who picked up the fur piece from the police station.

27 Given Subpenas In Connection with Screening System

Detroit Police Commissioner Herbert Hart Among Those Asked to Testify and Produce Records at Hearing Set for May 2

Former Pointer, Detroit Police Commissioner Herbert W. Hart, along with 26 other prominent Pointe and Detroit residents, have received subpenas to "testify and produce records" concerning the Grosse Pointe Brokers Association, the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association and Grosse Pointe Properties, Inc. The hearing is set for May 2, in Detroit.

State Attorney General Paul L. Adams issued the subpenas early this week, for questioning concerning a "point screening system process" set up by these groups in an effort to keep "undesirables" out of Grosse Pointe. The point system, according to literature from the Brokers Association and the Property Owners Association, it is claimed, is designed to make it difficult for Italians, Poles and Jews to purchase homes in the Pointe. And it is designed to prevent any purchase of Pointe homes by Orientals and Negroes.

Defends Organization

Commissioner Hart defended the third organization, the Grosse Pointe Properties, Inc., involved in the suit by John A. Maxwell, Algonac industrialist and former Pointe property owner.

It was Maxwell's suit against the three organizations, mentioned above, that brought the issue of the screening system before the public and the officials in Lansing.

Hart was one of the original stockholders and a director of the Properties, Inc. group organized in 1956. Hart said that when it became evident that the aims of the organization would not be accomplished, he sold his stock and resigned. That was in July of 1958. Hart moved to Detroit in September of that year, when he became Police Commissioner.

Hart stated that the Grosse Pointe Properties, Inc., was formed as a "corporation to raise money to help John A. Maxwell finish his half-built mansion in Windmill Pointe drive." Hart said that his particular interest in the venture was that, living across from the

Pointer Robbed By Five Youths

Elias Muallem, 23 of 1365 Three Mile drive, was held up in a Detroit drug store on Saturday, April 23, by shotgun-wielding young robbers.

Five youths, three of them armed with guns, entered the store "noisily" and held Muallem and a store clerk, Douglas Cyr, 17, of 556 Lenox, at bay while they rifled the cash register.

Muallem, a pharmacist for the Essex Drug Store, 13100 Essex, told police the youths, between 16 and 19 years old, took $600 from two registers and $15 from him, and fled.

The Pointer said that the guns were hidden until the thieves produced them on entering the store.

Thief Smashes Fur Store Window; Takes Mink Stole

A fur thief had to settle for "grabs" early Monday morning, April 25, when a heavy piece of concrete tossed through a plate glass window of a Woods fur shop netted him a mink stole from the shoulders of a mannequin.

Police said that the stole, valued at $500, was snatched from the mannequin posed in a sitting position in a window display of the Kay Anos Fur Shop, 19619 Mack avenue. The fur piece is light gray in color, and called "Breath of Spring."

The concrete smashed through the window and struck another mink stole, worth $1,500, that was on a hanger, and carried it about 12 feet into the store, out of reach of the thief.

Authorities received a call from the Dawn Patrol about 1:38 a.m., and were informed

Urge Entries To Register Immediately

Revival of Annual Popular Event to be held on High School Football Field

With the recent influx of entries for the GROSSE POINTE NEWS Mutt Show, scheduled for Saturday, May 14, the registration deadline has been extended from May 1 to Friday, May 6.

Children 14 years of age and under are urged to sign up at the NEWS office, 99 Kercheval avenue, soon, as the show is limited to 125 entrants.

Although known as the Mutt Show, show officials stress that purebreds are also welcome entries. There will be a special poodle ring for poodles, which breed will be judged separately in the "Best Groomed" class. Other available classes include largest and smallest dog, longest and shortest tails, dog with the most doubtful ancestry and the canine who most resembles his, or her master.

Can Borrow Entries
Dogs can be "borrowed" for the show by non-dog owners. All children under 12 years of age must be accompanied by an adult.

A special treat will be a 15 minute demonstration of dog obedience by Pat Murphy and his famous sheepdog "Dusty." Donald Carson, head of the Obedience Training program held at Grosse Pointe High School, will narrate the demonstration.

Nationally known trainer Preston Mann will be on hand, as will NEWS photographer Fred Runnells, who will record the winners and events on film. Television comic, and Pointe resident, Soupy Sales will feature "Dusty" and several of the unusual entries on one of his morning programs the week of May 9.

To Award Prizes
Mrs. Lee Meyer, owner of "This 'n That For Pets" shop, has graciously donated trophies to be presented as first prizes for each of the eight classes. Co-chairman of the show, Roland Gray, as he has done in the three previous Mutt Shows, has given six dog collars, to be engraved with the winners' names. There will be a drawing for these, with the numbers corresponding to the registration numbers.

George M. Black, Jr. will be master-of-ceremonies (as he was in the 1948 and 1949 shows), assisted by Carter Sales, William K. Muir and Bruce Chalmers.

Bleachers Available
The Grosse Pointe Board of Education has donated the High School football field for the big day, making the bleachers available for 400-500 spectators. Restrooms will be open in the High School and fields will be set up inside the field fence for the show dogs and entrants.

Saturday, May 14, is the big day, so mark it on your calendar, and come one, come all from 9-12 a.m. to the Grosse Pointe High School football field. Watch subsequent issues of the GROSSE POINTE NEWS for further announcements of the judges, attending veterinarians, and show rules.

Business Group Elects Officers

At the last meeting of the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Association held at the War Memorial the following members were elected to office: Robert Wilcox, president; Albert D. Thomas, vice-president; Margaret Rice, secretary; Clayton Alandt, treasurer. New directors elected are Ted Ewald, Ralph Kirchner, Thomas Offer and Cyril Vergrugge.

Retiring president, Norman Kopperschmidt will also serve as a director for the new term, for which installation will take place in May.

Pick Architect For Auditorium

Harold S. Ellington, president of Harley, Ellington & Day, Inc. and a resident of Grosse Pointe Park where he serves as chairman of the Grosse Pointe Park Planning Commission, welcomed the opportunity to participate in the new plans for the War Memorial.

"It is especially gratifying," he said, "that so many of us who live in Grosse Pointe will now work on a project in which we are deeply interested. It is unusual when an architect receives the chance to work on a community project in a community which he loves and where he has chosen to live. The Fries Auditorium presents a challenge in which we hope to have the active interest and final approval of all who live near or at some distance from the Center. We shall do our best with the help of those in charge of the Center to make the Auditorium a building in which all Grosse Pointe can take lasting pride."

Parcells added that the architects would start their preliminary work at once and that $500,000 was now in the Fries' bequest and available to the Center for the design and construction of the new auditorium and the planning of the surrounding site of lawns, gardens and service areas attached to the present structure and the one to be built.

27 Subpenas Handed Out In Screening Tilt

Said He Needed Money
In 1955, Maxwell made it known that he intended to sell the house to Negroes. He gave as reasons, the fact that he was in need of the money, right then, to cover business and personal expenses, and that a group of Negroes had offered to buy the half finished lake-shore home.

The Properties group offered Maxwell a certain sum of money for a warranty deed and mortgage on the house. The organization said that this amount was $40,000. Maxwell claimed it was $23,000. Maxwell had declared the value of the house to be in the neighborhood of $160,000. He accused the Properties, Inc., of "trying to belittle the value of the house to $85,000, once they had control of it." Maxwell started the suit because he wants to get "full market value."

Gives Tentative Ruling
St. Clair Circuit Court Judge Harold I. Streeter ruled tentatively last Friday, April 22, that the Properties group had no right to refuse to permit Maxwell to redeem his mortgage with them.

According to Maxwell, he tried to buy back the property but was refused under the point system which ruled him as undesirable, now, because, in the meantime, he was charged with conspiring to defraud on government contracts. The judge has made no ruling on the point system, however.

After the screening issue became public knowledge last week, another incident was brought to bear on the subject. St. Clair Attorney General Adams received a letter from a prominent Detroit psychiatrist, Dr. Jean Braxton Rosenbaum, stating that he was turned down when attempting to buy in the Pointe. "I was then told . . . that I could not buy, or even look at, a house in Grosse Pointe because I was Jewish," said Dr. Rosenbaum in his letter.

Dr. Rosenbaum proceeded to explain that he was, in the first place, only half Jewish—that his mother was a descendant of Carter Braxton a signer of the Declaration of Independence—and, in the second place, that his wife was "not Jewish at all."

Dr. Rosenbaum, 33, is an unpaid instructor at Wayne State University's College of Medicine and is the inventor of an artificial electric heart. Secretary of the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association R. Noble Wetherbee, said, last week, that since the "protection plan," or the point screening system, was begun in 1945, some 1,597 prospective buyers had been investigated. Of that number, 939 scored a sufficient number of points to be allowed to purchase homes.

The questionnaire filled out by the 1,597 consists of questions about race, religion, grammar, complexion, neatness and types of friends. Gov. G. Mennen Williams, whose official address is Grosse Pointe Farms, said that he thought the whole thing was "an odious situation" and that he felt it was "strange and unhealthy." He is, however, leaving the investigation strictly up to Attorney General Adams.

Those Pointers who have, so far, received subpoenas to appear at the hearing, beginning May 2, are: Commissioner Hart; Earl H. Grady, a private detective, whose address is listed as 21954 Moross road, the same as the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association; Eleanor M. Deuster, a stenographer, 21954 Moross; John P. Weber, 11405 Whittier road; Clifton S. Distin, 1200 Grayton road; Webb H. Coe, 394 Lincoln road; John A. Dodds, 171 Cloverly road; Rockwell Gust Jr., 55 Muskoka road; and George T. Hall, 333 Washington road.

Also, Irving Ingraham, 1006 Three Mile drive; Lewis M. Leisinger, 338 McKinley avenue; Raymond J. Lynch, 1061 N. Oxford road; Lloyd R. Marantette, 399 Notre Dame avenue; Leon P. Sankar, 1697 Roslyn road; Orville F. Sherwood, 743 Lakepointe avenue; J. Kent Tevel, 1035 Yorkshire road; R. Noble Wetherbee, 424 Rivard boulevard; Frederick B. Beslmer, 1121 S. Oxford road; Clare E. Briggs, 623 Westchester road; and Lewis L. Smart, Jr., 41 Fisher road.

More names are expected to be announced as the people involved are served with subpoenas.

Burglary

In April, thieves took $300 worth of gold and photographic equipment valued at $250 from Dr. Watkins' office; and a $350 microscope from the office of Dr. McColl, all of which were later recovered.

Shores Traffic Violators Pay

Shores Judge John Gillis imposed driving restrictions against Earskine Fields of 503 Kitchener, Detroit, for a period of three months, besides fining him $25.

Fields was found guilty of speeding 42 miles an hour on Lake Shore road, and not having his car registration on his person. He will be permitted to drive his car between the hours of 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., during week days, but prohibited from driving on Sundays, while the probation is in force.

Harold W. D'Horat of 17250 Twenty-three Mile road, Mt. Clemens, was found guilty of not having his car under control and causing an accident after running through a red traffic light at Lake Shore and Vernier road. He was fined $25, and put on probation for 30 days, no driving on week ends, and no driving on week days, except to and from work.

Beatrice Marie Stammersky of 29631 Maplegrove, St. Clair Shores, accused of speeding 59 miles an hour on Lake Shore, was found guilty and assessed a fine of $25.

The fellow who boasts of his own appreciative audience always has to flourish.

Justice Souris Address AAUW

Michigan citizens display an "appalling lack of knowledge about what the courts do," Supreme Court Justice Theodore Souris said last Thursday night in an address at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

"I find there is a tremendous interest in the courts," said Souris, 35, a Grosse Pointe resident who was appointed to the high court last January, the youngest man ever to sit on the high tribunal in Michigan.

But this interest is coupled with a lack of knowledge about the courts and, Souris said: "It was a shocking realization to me to find that people don't regard the law as highly as I do."

Souris impressed his audience—members of the Grosse Pointe branch of the American Association of University Women, their husbands and guests—as a man dedicated to the cause of justice. He spoke on "The Anonymous Judiciary."

Proving his point that judges are "anonymous," Souris asked the audience, excluding lawyers in the group, to name nine of the 18 Wayne County circuit judges, the men he said are "on the firing line" of local justice. No one could do so. One woman named five of the eight Supreme Court justices.

Souris said the "lack of knowledge" by the public extends to what courts do, the character of the judges, and court decisions, many of which would provide interesting reading for the layman.

"These judges can determine, in many cases, how your lives are going to be patterned, whether you know it or not," Souris said.

"Some decisions of Michigan judges affect the lives of all the people in Michigan and, to a certain extent, the lives of people in other states."

He cited the recent decision on the use tax and another on apportionment of the State Senate as examples of cases which involve every resident of the state.

Souris said the practice of law before the Supreme Court is far from "a sterile process," because the attorneys who present arguments to this court are thoroughly familiar with the cases they present, and usually make eloquent pleas for their clients.

In the past, Michigan courts have been held in disrepute nationally because they tended to be bound too tightly by precedent. During the last few years, however, Souris said, the State Supreme Court has tended more to "sense the changing times," especially in deciding cases dealing with human relationships.

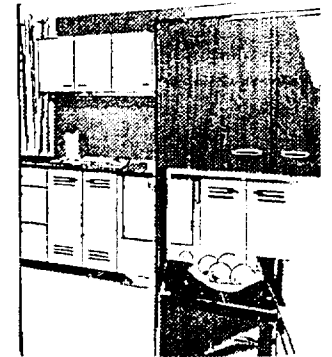

Souris mentioned the recent case of Maurice Hamilton, convicted in the Wayne circuit court of the murder of a grocer last summer. The Supreme Court ordered a new trial for the native of Bagdad, upholding the claim that Hamilton had been detained unlawfully for questioning too long before his arraignment before a magistrate.

"The Supreme Court had the courage to say that this man's confession may have been unconstitutionally obtained while he was illegally jailed," said Souris. "The people should realize that such a thing might happen to you, or your children, unless the courts are forever vigilant."

They All Go Into One Issue

Once a month the NEWS provides its readers with the popular pictorial magazine supplement, "Suburbia Today." These have to be individually inserted in each copy of the paper after it comes off the press. It takes a heap of stuffing, as this pile indicates. All of these Suburbias, more than 12,000 of them, will go into next week's issue of the NEWS.

Tuba Virtuoso Concert Soloist

Guest soloist for the Grosse Pointe High School band and orchestra concert this spring will be William J. Bell, first tuba player of the New York Philharmonic orchestra.

Mr. Bell will play four numbers with the band. He is one of the nation's finest virtuosos on the tuba and has made many recordings, the most famous of which is the popular and charming "Tubby the Tuba."

The spring concert of the high school orchestra and band is scheduled for Wednesday, May 18, at 8 o'clock at Parcels Junior High School auditorium. The first half of the program will feature the orchestra and the concert band will play the second half.

Safety Patrol Leaders Picked

Gregory Fouch, of the Poupard School safety patrol, and William Blakeslee, of the Trombly School patrol will head for Washington, D.C. in two weeks to attend the 24th National AAA Safety Patrol Rally.

Gregory, 11, of 20318 Fleetwood, Harper Woods, and William, 11, of 611 Middlesex, have been named as Grosse Pointe's official delegates to the rally, May 12-15. They will be among 109 outstanding Michigan patrolers going on the four-day, all expense trip as guests of Automobile Club of Michigan.

"This year's group of patrolers will have a dual distinction," said Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club safety and traffic director. "Besides representing their 58,000 fellow Michigan patrolers, their participation in the rally will be a highlight of the 40th anniversary of the safety patrol movement, which started in Detroit and has become international."

The Michigan youngsters will travel to Washington aboard private cars of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. They will depart from Michigan Central Depot in Detroit on Thursday, May 12, following registration and a physical check-up.

Following their arrival in Washington on Friday morning, the patrolers will spend a portion of their time touring such historic landmarks as the Capitol Building, Arlington Cemetery, Mt. Vernon and Washington Monument.

Friday evening the youngsters will meet Congressmen from their home districts at a special dinner arranged by Auto Club.

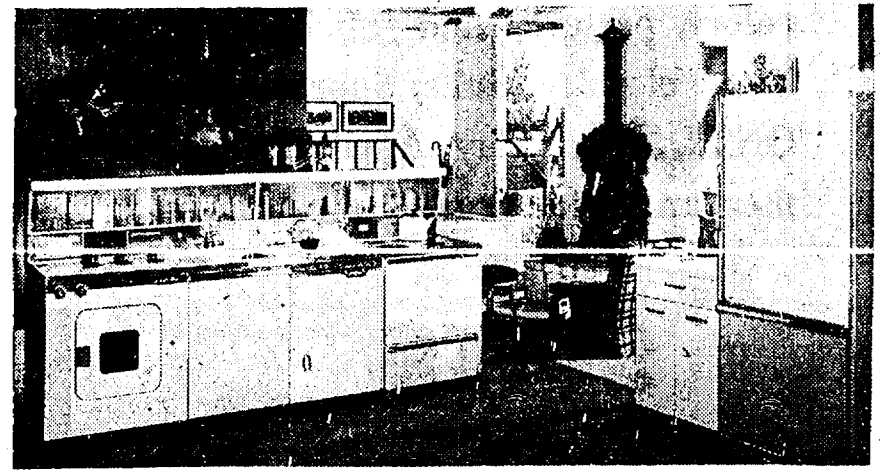

Climax of the rally will occur Saturday morning when the Michigan delegation joins 35,000 other AAA patrolers from across the U.S. for the traditional march down Constitution Avenue. The five-mile long parade is the largest held annually in the nation's capital.

The Michigan group will return to Detroit on Sunday morning. Staff members of Auto Club's safety and traffic division will escort patrolers from outside the Detroit area to and from their homes. Two registered nurses will accompany the group on the trip.

1. HOW WILL THE CHANGE IN REPRESENTATION PROVIDED IN THE JAYCEE-LEAGUE AMENDMENT AFFECT THE MAKE-UP OF THE CONVENTION?

It would increase the number of delegates from 102 to 144, corresponding with the number of legislators and representation in the Legislature at present. It increases the number and proportion of the delegates which will come from the more populous areas of the state. Some examples of how it will affect the representation from the more populous areas:

By increasing the number of delegates and by basing delegate selection on representative districts as well as senatorial districts, this proposal will give the urban areas of the state more representation. However, by retaining the senatorial districts as part of the base of representation, it does not deprive the outstate and rural areas of the assurance that their interests will be given fair consideration at a Convention.

2. WHY ARE THE LEAGUE AND JAYCEES PROPOSING A CHANGE IN THE BASIS OF REPRESENTATION?

Because we believe that the basis we propose (1 delegate for each senatorial district and for each state representative is a fairer basis than the present provision in the Constitution (3 from each senatorial district) and would result in a convention more representative of all the people. Our experience in working for Constitutional Convention in 1958 has convinced us that for a Convention to be called and for it to be truly effective in achieving needed governmental reforms, the support and cooperation of many different groups from all sections of the state and from all walks of life is needed. With the change in representation proposed by the Jaycees and the League, there is no reason for any fear that a Convention will be dominated by a single group or geographical area. A Convention called on this basis should be acceptable to every citizen in the state who is genuinely interested in improving our state government.

The League also has always believed that a Constitutional Convention is not a partisan issue and should not be considered as one. We feel that the change in selection of delegates that we propose makes it possible for both parties to support a Convention and for the Convention issue to be considered on its merits alone and not as a partisan issue.

Michigan State Highway Department engineers estimate cost of the Interstate 75 freeway between Detroit and Flint will be about $200 million.

Center Drive Donors

Great Hall to hear a pep talk by John C. Chaplin of the Center's Public Relations Committee.

This rally inaugurated the first "Door-to-Door" follow-up the Center has ever attempted. The "in person" follow-up workers will not call on each and every home not heard from by any means, but they will endeavor to make effective spot coverage in all the Pointes.

Have Their Choice
The Follow-Up Volunteers will have their choice of calling on either friends or complete strangers. They can elect to follow either on former contributors, prospective contributors or new residents. Each of (These dedicated volunteers has agreed to call on at least ten homes. They will be provided with a fact sheet covering the Center's history, its services, and its finances. They will also have Center brochures and program cards with them and, most important, a receipt book. They will try to emphasize the importance of each Grosse Pointe family giving to the extent they are able. It is a broad support of the Center by all citizens which is being sought.

While the "in person" follow-up callers are working toward their first report meeting date on May 5, the Center's staff and a corp of telephone volunteers will be calling families not selected for "in person" attention. Extra telephone lines have been installed in the Center for this purpose and many volunteers will be calling from their homes.

Ahead of Last Year
Meanwhile the Center is pleased that returns are about five days ahead of last year's campaign both in amount given and number of donors. The Center's Board of Directors wishes to express appreciation to the following donors whose gifts have recently swelled the drive's returns:

THE ROLLICKING SHORE—Anything can happen and generally does in this hilarious story about a naive young man's summer holidays in a resort town on the Great Lakes. Mr. Karr's genius for madcap situations and his refreshing facility with wordplay makes this book sheer delight.

Florida Room Specialist

Chuck Doty, Grosse Pointe Park resident and long identified with porch enclosure and Florida Room planning in the Pointe area has been placed in charge of this special division of the Lewis Weather Control Company, 10185 Gratiot Avenue.

Mr. Doty's diversified experiences in the porch conversion field has equipped him to best utilize new type jalousies, Stanley Awning Windows and sliding glass panels to the greatest functional and architectural advantages.

Since an ordinary screened porch offers no protection from sudden rain storms and chilly breezes, with proper planning and installation your porch becomes an extra room and affords the same comfort as a living room. If you are in need of extra space a Lewis planned porch will serve as a year round living room.

Mr. Doty invites you to call WA 9210 and he will be pleased to arrange an appointment day or evening. You will want to see his collection of colored slides of enclosures in the Pointe area.

Easter Candy Clue to Theft

Easter candy and cake found on the front lawns of neighbors, led Mrs. Ruth Hessler, 39, of 1354 Aline drive, to the discovery that her home had been burglarized.
Mrs. Hessler told Woods police on Tuesday, April 19, that she and her family attended the Woods Theater the previous evening, leaving at about 7 p.m. and returning at 11:30 p.m. Nothing amiss was noted as the family prepared to retire for the night.
Tuesday morning, she said, her children found their candy scattered on the front lawn of neighboring homes. Also found on the lawns were cupcakes taken from her house, and an aluminum tray that the thief, or thieves had bent in half.
The woman said she checked her home and found the milk-chute had been forced open. The house was neat and in order, and nothing appeared disturbed, which accounted for the late discovery of the breaking and entering, she told authorities.
A further check disclosed that an air pistol, valued at $5, was missing. Also a portable radio, worth $35, and three dollars in cash.
A neighbor told police that she had seen three boys loitering near the Hessler residence about 10:15 p.m. Tuesday, but could not give a description of them.

Center Displays Arts and Crafts

Art work and handicraft by the citizens of the Senior Center, 587 East Grand boulevard, will be on display in the second floor of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial beginning today and continuing through Monday, May 16. The Senior Center, a United Community Services Agency, was initiated and is sponsored by the Junior League of Detroit.

Junior League Board members and volunteers work with the Seniors at the Center under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. James Bulkley and Mrs. John T. Williamson. Mrs. John H. French, Jr. is the leader of the Annual Bazaar Workshop and Mrs. Lillian Winters is Painting Chairman. Other League volunteers include Mrs. Hugh G. Nutter, Mrs. John T. Woodhouse, Jr., Mrs. Richard A. Speer, Mrs. John W. Coe, and Mrs. Hugh Lineveaver. Mrs. Alice Neely and Mrs. Dorothy Lumm represent the Seniors themselves and are the Head of Craft and Assistant respectively.

Among the many fascinating things on display are sock dolls, mother and daughter aprons and smocks with boy and girl faces complete with pigtails. An unusual item is a card table house ingeniously applied and designed to create an enchanting playhouse for the youngsters when thrown over a table. The knitted work shown is especially fine—many of the Seniors are marvelous needle women. There are lovely ceramics, applied placemats, baskets and enamel bracelets on view.

Several paintings will be hung by the Seniors. For five years they have been studying under professionals in classes founded by League president, Margherita Loud. Their work is quite good and has been on exhibit in many parts of the Metropolitan area.

The artistic Seniors have helped decorate their Senior Center, and their annual bazaar, which is the yearly goal they work toward, helps to support their Center through its sales. The Seniors through their many inherited national specialties and skills thus contribute in a large measure to the support of their east Grand boulevard home.

DAR Officers Named in Suit

The Daughters of the American Revolution are the defendants in a $25,000 libel suit filed by Miss Jean R. Perrett, 33, of 1127 Kensington road.

Miss Perrett, in Washington, D. C., for the annual DAR continental congress, recently was serving as assistant chief flag page for the meetings. She has charged DAR president-general Mrs. Ashmead White and Mrs. Charlotte W. Sayre of libel. Miss Perrett was "demoted" from her position as chief page for the boxes on the left side, last year, to flag page.

According to Miss Perrett, Mrs. Sayre made remarks that caused her to be demoted. Mrs. White said that as president general, it was her "prerogative to appoint chairmen and committee members as I see fit. I appointed her to her position because the Michigan delegation pressured me into it. I appointed her out of the goodness of my heart and this is what I get."

Mrs. White said that her lawyers had "looked over" the suit and had told her that there was "no sense to it." "People don't demand appointments," continued Mrs. White.

Last year, as a chief page, Miss Perrett, dressed in white, delivered messages to the delegates. The flag pages do not have much part in the ceremonies.

Miss Perrett has served as a page at the national convention for nine years. She is Michigan state chairman for the junior DAR and is a former chairman of the state DAR pages. Her mother, Mrs. Alberta R. Perrett is chairman of press relations for the DAR.

"She had better be careful or she might be expelled from the society," said Mrs. White. "She embarrassed me and the congress when that Federal marshal slapped those papers on me."

An Invitation . . . to Michigan Voters

THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS OF GROSSE POINTE AND THE MICHIGAN JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE INVITE YOU TO JOIN THEM IN OBTAINING A BETTER CONSTITUTION FOR MICHIGAN

Our present Constitution—
Has already been patched with 66 amendments (it was adopted in 1908).
Contains too many statutory details.
Places too many restrictions on our legislative and executive branches (witness the tax stalemate of 1959).
Needs the complete review only a Constitutional Convention can give.

You can get a better constitution by SIGNING A PETITION NOW which:
Puts an amendment on the November 1960 ballot placing a call for a Constitutional Convention on the April 1961 ballot.
This amendment would also:

- Change the majority required to call a convention: in 1959 a majority of the voters who voted on a convention call wanted the convention (800,000 yes; 690,000 no).
BUT . . . the call failed to pass because legally a majority of all those who voted in the election must approve (and 900,000 didn't vote at all on proposals).
The League of Women Voters-Junior Chamber of Commerce amendment would change the requirement for calling a convention to approval by a majority of those voting on the convention call.
- Change the basis of selecting convention delegates
From: 3 for each state senate district
TO: 1 for each state representative and 1 for each state senator to which a district is entitled.
This would give a fairer split to both major political parties and to rural and urban voters. Because of this change, this amendment has been endorsed by both parties. Governor G. Mennen Williams and Dr. Paul D. Bagwell have already signed petitions. Both U.S. Senators from Michigan have endorsed this proposal.

Your Calendar for Helping Get Better Government for Michigan
Now—Sign initiatory petition to put the Con-Con amendment on the ballot.
November 1960—Vote "yes" on amendment.
April 1961—Vote "yes" on convention call.
Summer 1961—Elect capable convention delegates.
PLEASE SIGN THE PETITION WHEN YOUR NEIGHBOR CALLS

Be Kind to Animals

The NEWS will be a bit late holding its open special observance of Be Kind to Animals Week. Official dates for the 46th annual celebration are May 1-7, and the revival of the popular Grosse Pointe News Mutt Show won't be held until Saturday, May 14.

In sponsoring this event we feel we are really doing something for the dogs as well as for their young masters and mistresses. There is enough ham in every canine to make him a natural "show-off" and past experience has taught us that the pooches get every bit as much fun out of the show as their owners.

Incidentally, there isn't too much time left for signing up for the event. Registrations have been coming in steadily and the entry list will be strictly limited to the first 125. Entries, for which there is no charge, are being accepted at the NEWS office, 99 Kercheval avenue.

On the more serious subject of being kind to animals in general, this is a responsibility which everyone should share. Help can be given those who cannot help or speak for themselves, not only by personal acts, but by supporting humane societies financially and by volunteering assistance. Cases of cruelty should be reported and strays should be taken in and cared for until a humane agency can pick it up. Cardinal Newman once said: "Cruelty to animals is as if we didn't love God."

The Anti-Cruelty Association at 13569 Joseph Campau is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year and will hold an Open House on Monday, May 2, from 2:30 to 7:30 p.m., at the Lebanon Hall, 13461 Joseph Campau. Tea will be served and everyone interested is invited to attend.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Edgar:
 The Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council is sponsoring "Clean Up Week" which has been set for May 7 through May 15, 1960.

Each individual here in Grosse Pointe should cooperate in seeking ways in which he may beautify trees, shrubs and gardens. He should repair, paint, improve buildings and homes, clean up and remove rubbish.

Conversely, he should not throw papers or litter into streets of vacant lots. This will not only give that satisfaction which accompanies well-doing, but more important, will please our neighbors.

An immediate reaction of the Health Department is that clean-up, good neighbor activity promotes the health of Grosse Pointe.

We are continually fighting rats. The removal of rubbish, the elimination of burrows, the prevention of rat access to housing, food or garbage, should be a profitable and continuing activity throughout the year.

In addition, we advise that firewood be stored 18 inches, or more, above ground. Our telephone number is VAlley 2-6670, in case assistance is desired.

Sincerely yours,
 Dr. Thomas S. Davies
 Grosse Pointe Health Commissioner.

Dear Sir:
 I fail to see where congratulations are in order to anyone for the use of the point system to screen prospective buyers of Grosse Pointe properties. No matter how you try to get around it, the basic purpose of the system is to exclude Polish people, Italians, Jews, Negroes, and Orientals. This is supposed to be necessary to protect the investment of the "white

Stuffed Ears

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.

When your grandmother was a girl, cotton dipped in black pepper and sweet oil was her favorite earache remedy. Thanks to medical science our ears fare much better today. We've many effective medications that stop infections fast... reduce complications. So, don't rely on "home remedies" when you're ill. Your health is your most precious possession. Treat it as such. Let your physician prescribe the medicines that will be most effective for you. Then remember us for quality, prescription compounding.

This is the 96th of a series of Editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Methuselah ate what he found on his plate,
 And never, as people do now,
 Did he note the amount of the calory count,
 He ate it because it was chow.
 He wasn't disturbed as at dinner he sat,
 Devouring a roast or a pie,
 To think it was lacking in granular fat
 Or a couple of vitamins shy.
 He cheerfully chewed each species of food,
 Unmindful of trouble or fears
 Lest his health might be hurt
 By some fancy dessert;
 And he lived over nine hundred years!"
 (Unknown)

College Stuff

A couple received a letter from their son away at school. The entire letter consisted of how to learn a game he had recently come across... that had to do with five dice and a leather dice cup. The game is called "Yatzi" and this is the way the letter started out. "First you take a piece of paper, see, and you put all the people across the top like in kinds of games. Like for instance you write "John" on one column and "Alice" on another and like that until everyone's name is on a column so they can sweat it out. Sometimes we just use initials. It's more interesting like when Bitsy, Bernie, Berta, Bob and I played."

This went on for FIVE long pages... how to play the game, that is. The P.S. was what tickled us most. It read:—I guess that's all you need to know except that when you put whiskey in that leather cup it leaks to beat hell... so drink it quick!"

Quick Nothings

Make your reservations NOW for vacation time. Last week it was impossible to get a seat on a plane to Paris over the weekend... the most over-used words in the daily gab these days are "likewise"... "see what I mean"... "as a matter of fact"... and "bye now"... An old clothing ad in a gent's magazine reads: "There are occasions when to appear in any thing but a frock coat, is uncouth." (WHOOPS, my dear!)... Don't say the Government doesn't keep us informed. They have just issued a pamphlet entitled: "The Horse in Blackfoot Indian Culture"... Pearls do not grow in edible oysters, so say the boys in the Pearl Syndicate... A downtown shoe shine boy will shine your brief case for 25 cents and your wallet for ten.

The story about the Texan who was advised to buy "General Motors"... when asked later how much he bought, he replied indignantly, "They wouldn't sell out."

Smart Aleck

The Grosse Pointe News wonder poodle, Nuba has added another trick to her already growing list. One day last week, she returned from the hairdresser and manicurist, carrying the bill for the job, in her mouth. There was a time when we thought she was bright because she could carry a letter or paper from one person in a room to one other person. Now... after she gets to know them... there can be ten people in a room and if you give her a paper and say "Take this to Harry" (or Joe or Mamie) she will invariably hit the right person to deliver the paper to.

The Simple Life

In a recent Harper's Bazaar there was a social item concerning a picnic that we expect to look into further. It read, in part: "An invitation from the Countess to attend a "picnic" at Stafford Terrace does not prestage a trip into the country with loaded hampers and ice buckets, but a journey back through Time into the luxury of the Victorian era. These gatherings carry on a tradition started by her grandfather. When the social and artistic elite of twentieth century London gather in the ornate dining room, they are presided over by the ghosts of nineteenth century greats. Luckily, the house itself will never fall victim to modernization."

There follows a list of the guests... Ladies, Duchesses, Lords, et al. Then comes a bit of the menu which reads as follows: "Set about a pastry swan filled with cold poisson aux truffes and flanked by magnums of champagne... are salmon in mint jelly, tomatoes filled with crabmeat souffle, ham baked in ale and little hat shapes of curried tomato jelly laced with peas and beans... and pineapple in Kirsch au sucie noire."

This is a PICNIC? Whatever happened to the shoe box containing a bologna sandwich on poppy seed roll, sour pickle, banana and piece of pound cake?? OR the hamper of fried chicken, potato chips, big fat tomatoes and jug of lemonade?? (Excuse us just a minute while we fake an Alkaid. There, that's better!) The above reminds us of a picnic in Florida that we wrote about many years ago.

It seems a lonely and rich dowager down there complained to her house guests that she was bored with their every day routine and decided to have a picnic and "rough it" with hot dogs and everything like that. The equally bored guests all agreed... so Madame made her plans far in advance. First, she got permission from the White Fathers of Florida to hold her picnic on an island that was rather deserted... except for a half built hotel that never materialized. The day before the scheduled outing, our heroine had her staff of flunkies take off for the island and prepare things. Among the things they had to "prepare" were a small landing bridge so the guests could get from the yacht to the land; the building of several thatched huts where the group could change into swim suits; and the putting up of benches and seats for roughing it while eating.

The menu consisted of hot dogs, as promised... dogs that would be roasted for you and brought TO you by one of the several liveried servants. But the main menu followed the pattern of the woman's life at home... caviar, champagne, cold and complicated salads of every conceivable seafood, baked ham, hot rolls, luscious looking fruits and desserts... and MUSIC yes! A l'il old radio? A beaten up phonograph? NO... a five piece orchestra. Our heroine was as happy as a little child. She had had her picnic... just the way she always dreamed she would!

Our spy reported that the only thing missing to make it a real old fashioned picnic... were ants. They didn't even import ANTS to the island. Tsk, tsk, tsk.

that of the majority group, as witnessed in the result of the last election with respect to the Constitutional Convention proposal. This minority not only deprived themselves of their right to be heard but also prevented the 200,000 majority vote from being heard. The League is concerned about voters who ignore issues. What we think is necessary and what we have sought to provide over the years, through our Voters Service Projects, is more information on ballot issues before every election. The flyer claims that three urban counties would control the convention This is not true. Wayne, Oakland and Kent are the counties to which it referred. These counties would have a total of 59 delegates. A majority of the delegates would

Theater Manager Vandals' Victim

Someone apparently does not like Calvin Collard of 5240 Newport, Detroit, manager of the Woods Theater. Collard told Woods police that he had parked his car in the theater parking lot on Saturday, April 23, at about 7 p.m., and returned to it at about 11:30 p.m. He said he found the front seat slashed in three places, deep gashes punched through the doors, the ash tray sprung, and sugar poured into the gas tank.

What's New on THE HILL...

By ROBERTA

MADAME SOURIS IN HER bath is really only a mouse in her house. It's Paris, of course! You can tell by the water tank on the W. C. Old Mamselle, who is bringing the port, is subject to a considerable amount of suspicion on the part of Madame, who thinks Old Mamselle tipples. However, it is impossible to see the kitchen from the bathtub. So... we wonder, ( we don't really). The diamond on the water pull is from Madame's engagement ring given her by her ex-husband who left her several years ago for a much younger Swiss mouse. But don't worry about Madame. She owns a millinery salon, a drapery shop, and she runs some other kind of business, too. This mouse house is in the window at the Dants, 98 Kercheval, on the hill.

A MERMAIDS TAIL can be mighty saucy and a bathing suit can be, too. Here's an imported one fashioned of Helena yarn. This is the premiere for it. Svelte, Margaret Rice is showing it now in her Sport Shop on the second floor.

THAT ADJECTIVE ambidextrous is a good word. According to Webster it means unusually dexterous; versatile. That applies to the exquisite grace and beauty of the salad bowls with pewter bases we saw at the Sign of the Mermaid this week.

AND SPEAKING of wine... Mr. Lee McMonigle, he of Hamlin's, expects his fifty-seven vintages to arrive via boat around May 1. They were shipped from Bordeaux April 12. Take advantages of Hamlin's OFF THE BOAT SPECIALS all specially priced before storing... or have them laid away for future use.

FOR HIS SUMMER COMFORT there's the new seven and a half ounce British Imported suit. This new kind, the shadow stripe, is all in all, v-e-r-y handsome with handtailoring throughout. Of course, at Carl Sterr's the alterations are done in their own tailor shop by hand... yes, personalized service on every individual garment.

NEWEST THING in the Pointe... as gentle breezes blow... pink blossoms drift through delicate blue skies. Spring IS good... and so are the delightful bird baths in Paskel's Florists. Find iron pieces... white stone ware and lead ones. Perfect for patios... gardens... porches.

IT'S POSSIBLE to start you "dresser beautiful" here and now. Start with as little as a comb or hand brush. We're sure you'll go back for the mirror... the nail file... the clothes brush... and the powder box. It's made by Gorham and Ed. Pongracz, the jeweler and silversmith on the hill is enthusiastic about the whole set. Find them at Pongracz, jeweler, on the hill.

THE EXPRESS CHECKOUT Stand for small orders will be the biggest boon to Shoppers at Wrigley's very soon. We're really looking forward to it. P.S. Did you know you will be able to order a mouth watering pie that will be baked while you shop? Yummy.

PICK YOUR FUN... but beforehand, see Gray and Play!

EVEN IF YOU LUG a beachmat out into the yard for the kids it does not mean that they will be busy for long. At Punch and Judy Toyland you can find toys that will keep them happy. Three new Parker Games came in this week... a war game called Conflict... a game of Fences, Kimbo, and a marble fun game called Fortune... good for birthday gifts.

EVEN IF IT'S HOT or hotter wonderfully cool things can happen on the hill. We're thinking at this moment of the barefoot sandals... sandle oxfords... and P. F.'s you'll discover at Clyde Hornung's, on the hill.

RED FISH splash about with colored pebbles inside the happy plastic beach sandals found at Young Clothes, on the hill. Huge, plastic, beach bags match. Tricky and feminine. Hold on, there's more. When your sea nymphs go down to Lake St. Clair they'd love to tote a white terry robe. For boys and girls, they come in small sizes and from 7 to 14. So-o-o practical.

Cook to Play Organ Recital

Kenneth Cook, organist of Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, will present an organ recital Sunday, May 1, at 8 p.m. at the church, 211 Moross road.

Naomi Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will be the Hostess Circle for the evening recital. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Antiques Show To Open May 10

Less than two weeks remain before the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club presents its finest Antiques Show yet at the beautiful War Memorial Center on May 10, 11, 12 and 13.

Throughout the Pointe area, many stores already have set up unusual displays of antiques to make local residents aware that their community soon will be host to Michigan's finest antiques show. One such display in a jewelry store here is insured for $50,000.

Pointe antique fans who have been awaiting the arrival of their tickets in the mail as in previous years are doomed to disappointment. To reduce expenses, the mass mailing of tickets to all Grosse Pointe families has been discontinued. Instead tickets now are being sold by each of the 98 Pointe Rotarians. They also may be purchased at the show for $1.00 each.

The show will be open daily from 1 to 10 p.m. Visitors at this season may enjoy the added beauty of the formal gardens surrounding the Memorial Center.

As in previous years, the Rotary Anns, wives of Rotarians, will operate their "Callio Kitchen" at the Center for the benefit of visitors and exhibitors. All food will be prepared by Rotary Anns under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Lovisa.

According to William "Doc" Strawbridge, general chairman of this year's show, more than 20 exhibitors from all parts of the United States will display a wide variety of wares and all exhibits will be for sale during the days of the show.

Among the collections exhibited will be primitive wood carvings, scouring glasses, wall hangings, silhouettes, paintings, prints, lamps converted from antique objects, hand-made lamp shades and chinaware. In addition, a complete Country Store of early 1900 vintage will be open for business.

Michigan has 111 fully-equipped roadside parks along its highways.

Volkswagen Convertible

(an air-tight case for owning an open-air car)

The top of the Volkswagen Convertible is like no other. It is air-tight and water-tight because it overlaps the windshield frame. It has a real glass rear window and is completely lined and padded — no struts or crossbars show. The padding is an insulator, too — the patter of rain is almost inaudible.

The VW Convertible shares every mechanical virtue of the sedans. The rear engine gives superb traction in any weather. And the engine is air-cooled. (No water to freeze or boil over. No anti-freeze.) Individual torsion-bar suspension gives you uncanny control over the roughest roads.

Driving the VW Convertible is fun. It floats from gear to gear. You can go 70 mph all day without strain, or buzz nimbly through stop-and-go traffic. (You get 32 mpg — regular gas, regular driving.) It is a good four feet shorter than conventional cars; you can park it where other cars can't fit.

The best way to get the feel of a Volkswagen Convertible is to slip behind the wheel and drive one. Never mind the weather. Come in and do it... this week.

the house where you live

By Patricia Talbot

One of the most charming small streets in the Pointe is Oldbrook lane and in this inviting street live Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Evans, Jr. Mrs. E. is an antique collector, has always helped with this booth for church fairs. In her sunny bow window dining room is an unusual table, two half bowed and drop leaf of mahogany placed together to seat a large party, or separated to serve a more intimate group.

Rare floral prints line the walls. The garden is a miniature of an English walled garden, laid out by a landscape expert. In the green and blue living room is Mrs. Evans' collection of china dogs, all rare pieces. Gold and fruit sconces flank either side of the living room fireplace.

Gold and white is the color scheme of the whole Stephens road home of the Peter Finks. Newly moved in, the Finks have not yet settled on an accent color to highlight this dramatic decor. In the living room three walls are white, one gold for a more striking effect.

The Gene Wambold's apartment in East Jefferson avenue has an inviting vista as guests mount the stairway. They may view pages from old and rare books which form the wallpaper on the stairwell.

An Oriental flavor is a current favorite with decorators who like to add one piece of focal interest to a room. In the Henry Ford II Lakeshore road library this is an enormous red lacquered teak secretary.

Williamsburg green is a favorite and popular color preferred by Mrs. Walter B. Ford in her Provencal road home. The library here is rapidly becoming a display case for sports trophies. Over the fireplace hangs a long Daniel Boone type rifle.

In spite of the Lakeshore of the Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., English manison on Lakeshore there are never quite enough family bedrooms... the latest scion has to quarter in the servants' wing. The Glancy has installed an intercom system to catch the baby's every cry... another marvel of this mechanized age is the machine in the A. D. Wilkinson's modern rumpus room. All day long this gadget makes ice cubes in a huge container so every guest can expect an iced drink.

Vandals Spray Garage Interior

Vandals listened to music as they carried out their task of spraying paint on the walls of a garage on Tuesday, April 19, Woods police were told.

Albert Couvreur, 32, of 420 Moran road, said that he parked his station wagon in a garage of a home he was building at 708 Birch lane, and sometime between April 18 and 19, unknown persons broke through the small rear door of the garage.

He said that these persons turned on the heater and radio of the vehicle, letting the battery run down. They backed the station wagon into the closed garage door, damaging the wagon's tailgate.

The vandals took a can of paint and sprayed the walls and doors of the garage, Couvreur said.

Letters to The Editor

The representation provided for in the amendment proposal is the same as that in the Legislature.

The flyer also states that the convention call will be voted on at the spring election when usually fewer electors vote. Voters will have two opportunities to express their opinion on the calling of a convention — when they vote on the amendment in the fall, and when they vote on the convention call in the spring. In addition to this, any new constitution would have to be approved in a regular election by the voters of Michigan.

The flyer objects to the cost of a special election of delegates. The cost is small compared to the very real savings to be gained through more efficient state government, more equitable tax structure, and economies which would result from up-dating the constitution. New Jersey and Missouri found that in the first year of operation under their new constitutions, they saved more than a million dollars through changes in a single department. In both states the cost of convention was repaid within a single year. The League believes that the real question is not whether we can afford a Convention, but whether we can afford not to have one.

In addition to the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce and the League of Women Voters, some of the other organizations and individuals who are supporting a Constitutional Convention are: The Detroit News, The Detroit Free Press, Republican State Central Committee, Michigan Child Study Association, United Council of Church Women, Detroit Building Trades Council, Radio Station WJR, Senator Patrick McNamara, Senator Phillip Hart, the Honorable G. Mennen Williams, and Mr. Paul Bagwell who is titular head of the state Republican Party.

Very sincerely yours,
Harriette Slavin,
(Mrs. Leonard)
President, League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe.

Delivery Boy Bitten by Dog

Movie-Television Council Hears Theater Chain Head

Mothers soon may not have to phone the local theaters to ask when to pick up their children attending the Saturday matinees. At the general meeting of the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture and Television Council on Monday, April 18, Woodrow Praught, president of the United Detroit Theater Corp., promised the Council members he would try to have printed in the newspaper movie ads the time the matinees end. Nor, he said, replying to a mother's complaint, would future matinees be accompanied by frightening or sexy "trailers" of coming attractions.

To a hope expressed by the Council, that pictures such as "Cat On a Hot Tin Roof" not be shown on Friday nights when the teen-agers attend the movies, Mr. Praught was discouraging. Speaking on the subject "Future of Motion Pictures" he said "In exhibition, we run a business to make money, and while we prefer to have a wholesome picture on the screen rather than a racy one, an exhibitor cannot afford a substitution on Friday nights. He must sign a contract to get a picture and it may run over the week-end. Nor can he exclude pictures with provocative stories to the week days when the high school crowd doesn't come and have a more suitable program for the youngsters over the week-end because too few pictures are made nowadays to make two changes possible."

Mr. Praught said that Council members, even with their objective of improving the quality of motion pictures, must realize that the industry has had to drag patrons from their television sets by offering themes for adult minds. The "bread-and-butter" pictures, the mediocre ones, may be seen on TV for free, and to make pictures today with appeal to juvenile minds only would close all the theaters. Mr. Praught's solution to the Friday night problem was that with a choice of several pictures at various local theaters on that night, it is the parent's function to steer their children to an approved one.

Describing the year 1946 as the most profitable for the motion picture industry, a time before the bow of TV and the start of the "do-it-yourself" fads, the speaker said the year's following saw the closing of nearly 5,000 movie houses. However, the drive-in theater developed, which actually has made more seats available than there were in 1946.

A drastic revolution has occurred in the business which Mr. Praught said makes him optimistic for the future of motion pictures because today nearly every feature released is the stake of an independent a far more serious loss than a poor picture would have been to a major company some years ago.

Prepare Bike Safety Contest

The School Safety Officers of the Pointe and Harper Woods announce that preparations are underway for the annual Bicycle Safety Contest to be held in their respective cities.

The officers remind all the boys and girls attending schools within the Pointe and Harper Woods, that bicycle safety rules are for the protection of the young cyclists.

All parents are requested to instruct their children who ride bicycles, to know and obey the safety rules, and see to it that all bicycles are licensed. License tags may be obtained at the local police stations.

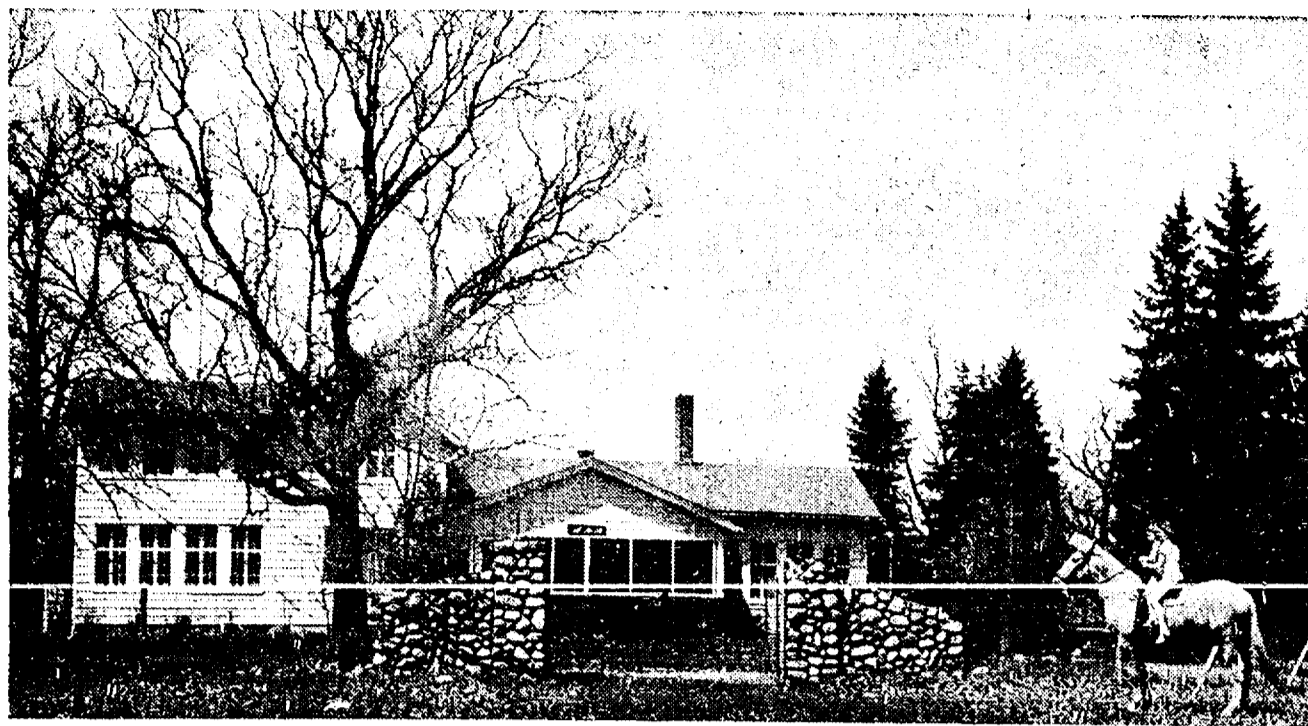

Early in May, a physical inspection of bikes in all the schools will be conducted, with prizes, donated by civic-minded individuals and organizations, to be awarded to contest winners.

The school safety officers are: Park, Patrolman George Blair; City, Sgt. Douglas Allor; Farms, Patrolman Joseph Miller; Woods, Patrolman Jack Mast; and Harper Woods, Patrolman William Maier.

Since Vernier School was closed some time ago in the Shores, there is no school safety officer in the village.

Rest areas will be located 40 to 60 miles apart on Michigan's new freeways.

GPYC to Open New Lounge with Dance

Will Bring New Orleans Band Here for Dinner Dances On May 13 and 14; Bowlers Party This Week-end And Mother Daughter Gala on Agenda

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's social activities are swinging into high gear with several parties immediately ahead, the top event certainly being the two-evening "grand opening" of GPYC's new lakeview terrace lounge. Plans are now complete for the two-time dinner-dance gala on May 13 and 14.

The junior bowlers' dinner this Friday, April 29, and the senior Bowlers' Jamboree April 30, and the May 7 Mother-Daughter Luncheon are the exciting earlier fiestas but it's the mid-May terrace lounge opening that's focusing great attention.

Liberto's Bourbon Street Six band is being brought direct from New Orleans to play both nights. There'll be two orchestras—the other is to be the Arthur Quatro band. Both assure plenty of dancing.

Charles J. Glasgow and Lee M. Radke are co-chairmen in charge. The grand fête, to be staged in the new terrace lounge, naturally, will start with 8 o'clock dinner. For those who want to intersperse card play with dancing, bridge and gin rummy will be on the agenda.

The new lakeview terrace lounge is a large rectangular room 70 by 22 feet, adjacent to the ballroom and overlooking Lake St. Clair for its entire length. It not only has the space of the former screened porch but it's longer, and is cantilevered out an additional twelve feet.

The ceilings is a series of deep arches, with thermopane windows from floor to ceiling in the arched sections. Transparent spun-glass draperies will temper glare in the daytime.

Hues of off-white walls and dark paneling will be repeated in cocktail tables, chairs and general furnishings, sparked by touches of tangerine.

The room will be an additional facility for GPYC's many activities, along with new lawns and additional boat wells, still to be completed.

The annual Mother-Daughter Luncheon is fraught with sentiment, staged as it always is on the Saturday before Mother's Day.

Mrs. Glenn E. Walker is chairman this year and her aids are Mesdames Emmett McNamara, Russell D. VanHouten and Herbert W. Hart—Mrs. Hart also will be toastmistress. They'll be at the speakers' table along with the commodores' wives, respectively Mesdames William A. Ternes, John R. Witt and Paul I. Moreland.

Entertainment will include The Whirlaways, roller skating duo, and Merv Shiner, folk singer and guitarist.

A pretty custom is the awarding of gifts to the oldest grandmother, youngest mother, four-generation group, youngest daughter, mother with most daughters, (all these must be present), and to the grandmother present who has the most grandchildren.

Junior keglers will receive their trophies at Friday's dinner party. (Calvin J. Gauss Jr. is in charge), and senior bowlers will get theirs Saturday at the cocktails-dinner-dance Jamboree.

Mrs. Birch is leaving on an around the world trip with Dr. Birch; first stop by jet will be Honolulu. Co-hostess of the bon voyage party is Mrs. Leonard deSpeider.

Mrs. Davies can give the traveler lots of tips for she's been that way herself, traveling with Dr. Davies for a series of medical speeches in India last year. Dr. and Mrs. Davies are anticipating another lecture tour abroad next October.

History at the Center

That fabulous doll house which is such a feature of the children's tour of the Detroit Historical Museum will be available for Pointe tots to view without taking the trip downtown.

Valken-Salkowski Vows Solemnized

Bride Wears Princess Gown of Silk Organza for Ceremony Saturday at St. Ambrose Church; Pair Travel to New York and New England

The Most Reverend Richard Ackerman, Bishop of Covington, Ky., officiated at the ceremony Saturday in St. Ambrose Church which united Judith Ann Salkowski and Gerald Valken in marriage.

The daughter of the Edwin Louis Salkowskis, of Middlesex boulevard, wore a gown of pure silk organza fashioned on princess lines with a scalloped neckline and domed skirt accented with appliques of silk mist taffeta.

A Juliet cap embroidered in seed pearls caught her three tiered veil of scalloped French illusion and she carried lilies of the valley and white sweet peas with her prayer book.

Barbara Krohs was maid of honor in red and white dotted Swiss. Her bouquet was of white button mums and variegated leaves.

The bridesmaids, dressed like the honor attendant, were Ellen Ronzi, Mary Ann Hannon and the bridegroom's sister, Sylvia Valken. The bride's two sisters, Mary and Margaret Salkowski were junior bridesmaid and flower girl.

Thomas George was best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of the Gerard Valkens, of Hampshire road. Ushering were Gerry, Richard and Donald Salkowski, the bride's brothers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Salkowski chose a navy textured Italian silk jacket dress and camellias. Mrs. Valken was in blue flowered chiffon and white shattered carnations.

After a breakfast reception the newlyweds left for New York and New England. The bride wore a beige linen sheath and beige and white checked coat with accents of buttercup yellow. After their return the couple will live in East Outer drive.

Offer Recital By Virgil Fox

At the annual meeting of the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, April 26, Mrs. Ralph David, chairman, announced that the Association would sponsor with the National Guild of Organists, meeting in convention in Detroit, an organ recital in Ford Auditorium by the celebrated organist Virgil Fox.

The concert, which will be given on Wednesday evening, June 29, will benefit the maintenance fund of the Detroit Symphony.

Virgil Fox has played on virtually every great organ in the world; Westminster, Lincoln and Durham cathedrals, Thomas Church in Leipzig, cathedrals in Paris and Edinburgh.

A native of Princeton, Ill., at the age of 17, Fox won the state, district and then the national Federation of Music Clubs contest in Boston.

He has been organist of Riverside Church in New York since 1946. Nearly every Sunday evening he flies to another city, plays a concert and returns to New York in time for a Friday night choir practice.

In September 1952, Mr. Fox was selected by the State Department to represent the United States at the first International Congress for church music by playing a concert in the great cathedral in Bern, Switzerland.

In January 1958 he appeared with the Detroit Symphony in the Jongen Symphonic Concertante. He is a dramatic performer with a master's touch. Mr. Fox is particularly interested in the youth of the nation and is helping to build the musical audiences of the future. Tickets are available through the ticket chairman, Miss Maxine Skelton, 4817 Lincoln, Detroit 8. Tel. Te. 2-4530, at $3.00 and there are no reserved seats. It is suggested that church groups and music schools make early reservations for seats.

DAC Beavers To Fete Wives

A decor in the "Caribbean Cruise" theme and rhythmic calypso music on Detroit Athletic Club's fourth floor will set the cha-cha tone for the DAC Beavers' exciting cocktail, dinner and dancing party May 6.

It's the one-time-a-year Beavers' fete the distaff side is in on—the swimming group's gatherings are stag except for this big, beautiful, formal festivity.

The annual mixed party always begins with 7 p.m. cocktails and music around the DAC swimming pool which is "fenced" with a marine-type canvas attached to chrome standards.

Setting the theme will be a simulated cruise ship deck, delightfully named "SS. Beaver"—the deck will be constructed to extend half way down the pool. A backdrop high overhead will simulate a balmy night sky with myriad twinkling stars provided by tiny Italian lights.

Music aboard will be by Noble Wilson's Caribbean Calypso group.

The gymnasium, the walls hung with attractive draperies, will be the scene of a buffet dinner from 9 to 11 p.m., and dancing from 9:30 o'clock to the music of Jack Qualey's orchestra.

Each year the swim group's mixed fete is a real fun party, and one of the prettiest. On the Beavers entertainment committee to make the 1960 fete one of the merriest are Grosse Pointers Jack W. Hooper, chairman, and Bill O. Brink, Jr., Earl Frazer, John J. Gorman Jr., L. George Hooper, Richard J. Martin. Others are Andrew G. Brodie of Birmingham, Charles H. Mayne of Bloomfield Hills, Bryan A. Chaplow of Utica, and Robert W. Ulrich.

Among those with early reservations are Mr. and Mrs. Homer Pharis, the John S. Pingels and guests, the C. B. Goreys; Dr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Glaza, Mr. and Mrs. George Murray Brooks in a sixsome with the Bill O. Binks and the Arthur Bartholomews Jr., the Paul E. Hammans, the Hans Gehrkes Jr.

Legion Helping Vets' Children

Activities to aid needy children of war veterans, and to improve conditions for all children will be emphasized by the American Legion Auxiliary throughout the country during this month, Mrs. Lucille Klinger, Child Welfare Chairman of Grosse Pointe Unit No. 303, has announced.

"More than one million dollars and countless hours of service by scores of thousands of volunteer workers are given by the Auxiliary to child welfare work each year," Mrs. Klinger said. "Approximately 250,000 children are aided annually by local state organizations of the Auxiliary. Fully fifty per cent of American children now are children of veterans."

"Our American Legion Auxiliary began its child welfare activities by providing food, clothing and shelter for children of veterans found in distress," explained Mrs. Klinger. "This work is being continued with emergency aid being extended to veterans' children until some more permanent solution to family problems can be worked out in cooperation with other agencies.

"We soon learned, however, that supplying the basic physical needs of unfortunate children is not enough, she continued. "We began to give consideration to what we call the 'Whole Child,' endeavoring to meet mental, emotional and spiritual needs as well as the physical needs. And we realized that we could not give fullest aid to children of veterans without improving conditions for all children."

"The American Legion Auxiliary works in cooperation with other organizations and agencies interested in children, placing the organized strength of our 850,000 members behind the great work being done by these groups in various child welfare fields."

Michigan's 111 fully-equipped roadside parks are three to five acres in size and provide off-highway parking facilities, drinking water, picnic tables, and outdoor cooking stoves

Fashion Show Held at GPYC

There's never a more charming party than an afternoon fete at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on a sunny day. Last Friday's bridge luncheon and fashion show had a special quality due to springtime at its prettiest.

The air was balmy as the staff side arrived; the sun and 78 degree temperature had Lake St. Clair sparkling and trees bursting into tender leaf — just right atmosphere for the array of summer styles presented by B. Siegel Company.

The co-chairmen, Mrs. Glenn E. Walker and Mrs. Russell D. VanHouten, were the epitome of spring. Mrs. Walker in charcoal gray silk shantung, the short sleeves cuffed with three gray tones of silk organza, and her hat had a turned-down white straw brim and puffed, shirred charcoal silk crown; Mrs. VanHouten in navy shantung, the bodice sparked with white pique double bow. A wreath of leaves and buds and drift of veiling formed her headpiece.

Mrs. William A. Ternes, wife of GPYC's commodore, wore a navy suit with high-waisted front effect, and a cartwheel hat of matching silk. Her guests included her mother, two sisters and a sister-in-law, respectively Mesdames Anthony Maitillo, James M. Barnes, John P. Moses and Donald Ternes, also her niece, Toni Barnes, and daughter Lynn Ternes. Lynn returned Sunday to Duchesne Residence School in New York following Easter vacation.

Mrs. Ternes' other guests were Mesdames J. D. Adair, John D. Benfield, John Dentler, Calvin Gauss Jr., Bill O. Brink, William Bostick, Paul Barker and Rex Brophy — conversation piece was Mrs. Brophy's hat, a black lacy "birdcage" she'd bought in Paris on her recent trip abroad.

GPYC wives modeled the fashions — Mrs. Alvin Krausslich came over from Shaker Heights, O., especially to see her lovely daughter, Mrs. Edward A. Smith Jr., showing styles, and Mrs. L. P. Ryan came from Kansas City, Mo., for the party and to see Mrs. Clarence K. Johnston and Marilyn Johnston in the style parade. Mrs. Ryan lunched with her daughter, Mrs. C. K. Vaughn Jr.; Mrs. C. K. Vaughn III, and Mrs. Charles Wainman.

Mrs. Talmage Hughes' guests were Mesdames Harold Siebert, Emil Dauch, and George Cossaboom. Mrs. J. Edgar Duncan, Mrs. John McNeill Burns, Mrs. Charles Voelker and Mrs. William Deveaux were together.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnels

Now that King Winter has finally decided to go someplace else and blow his chilly breath on helpless souls, boatmen are coming out of hibernation. Boat yards throughout the area are buzzing with activity and soon the huge pleasure fleet will be cluttering up Lake St. Clair and its connecting waterways and the hundreds of inland lakes that make our State "Water Wonderland."

We don't want to warn you—DON'T launch and put to sea without your new Michigan registration numbers; DON'T forget to comply with the safety regulations dictated by the Federal Boating Act of 1958; DON'T overload your boat beyond its safe capacity; DON'T take unnecessary risks that would jeopardize your life or your passengers' and DON'T forget you are not the only one on the lake.

Plain old fashioned "horse sense" will make the 1960 season a pleasurable one and keep accidents to a minimum.

Every boat must have: one approved life preserver for each passenger; at least one fire extinguisher; a horn or bell; an anchor and adequate line; running lights (a combination red-green light on the bow of boats under 26-feet and boats over 26-feet must have a red light on the port (left side) and green light on the starboard (right side) near the bow (front). These should be visible for at least a mile. A white stern light must be carried by all boats with inboard or outboard engines and this includes sailboats under sail at night.

Pleasure cruisers must carry a hundred and eighty degree white light located about amidships. Sailboats under power must carry the same type white light on the foremast and should be at least 8-feet above the deck. A sailboat under power but with sails up is the same as a power boat and must be operated as such. Normally a sailboat has the right-of-way over all other boats, but not in this case.

In Lake St. Clair, the St. Clair River and the Detroit River no pleasure boat (sail or power) has the right-of-way over the lake freighters in the channel. This law was passed during World War II and has never been rescinded.

If you have any doubts as to whether you have the proper equipment aboard get in touch with any of the numerous United States Coast Guard Auxiliaries and they will be more than glad to inspect your boat. If you have met all the equipment requirements you will be given an Auxiliary decal to place on your boat and will eliminate the possibility of being boarded by the Coast Guard for inspection.

REMEMBER you MUST carry your Michigan registration number card with you at all times. There is a penalty if you are stopped on a river or lake in the State and you can't produce the registration card. It is the same as your automobile registration card. You could be hauled into the nearest port and held until you prove ownership of the craft or permission of the owner to use the boat.

REMEMBER you are responsible for any damage caused by your boat or its wake to other boats, docks, etc., even if you are not aboard. Be careful to whom you loan your boat, because it's your neck, not his.

The power boat fraternity, especially the racing drivers, were shocked at the news of the sudden death of recently retired APBA executive secretary Bernadette Harper last Saturday, April 23. Friends at Windmill Pointe Yacht Club had completed plans for a testimonial dinner for the popular lady who did great things for powerboating during her four year tenure.

The national American Power Boat Association headquarters probably will be moved away from Detroit in the near future. This is indicated by the fact the APBA has not renewed the lease on the current headquarters office.

Leonard Bennett has been appointed chairman of the fund raising committee for the Detroit Memorial powerboat race, sponsored by the Windmill Pointe Y.C., and the Detroit Y.C. Silver Cup races. It is reported that it will take 20,000 bucks to stage both events. Bennett will head the group that includes members of the WPYC, Detroit Y.C. and Detroit International Regatta Association. Most of the funds will be raised through the sale of bleacher seats along the river front for both races. WWJ-TV will televise both events.

Because of the early dates scheduled for the Detroit Memorial, WPYC has submitted a motion to the DIRA "that a Limited schedule be allowed to fill the Memorial race program." Uncertainty of the arrival of any West coast boats in time for the race activated the motion.

Debut of Devil Net Coach Sees Pointe Beat Cranbrook

Coach Don Zysk made a successful debut as tennis coach at Grosse Pointe High when his Devils whipped non-league Cranbrook 7-0 in the opening match of the 1960 season on the local courts Wednesday, April 13.

The originally scheduled opener against Border Cities League opponent Highland Park was cancelled due to weather conditions. This match will be played at a later date.

Veterans played an important part in the sweep of the initial test. Only in the number three doubles did newcomers to the squad participate and they turned in a creditable job.

George Russell and Pete Swanson teamed up to beat Walker and Brandt 6-2; 6-3. Veteran Peter Ness teamed with Dave Allison to win the number two doubles from Prance and Barefoot, 6-3; 6-4. In the number one doubles veterans Gordon Vander Brug and Carl McPherson whipped Fisher and S. Brown 6-1; 6-2.

The singles matches saw Ron Linclau whip Coughlin handily in the number one singles 6-1; 6-1 and Charles Dyer tripped Conrad 6-0; 6-4 in the number two singles match. Roger Wilner beat Brown in the number three singles 6-1; 6-2 and Tim McCormick walloped Steed 6-2; 6-0 in the number four match.

If the French farmers of 1820 had been allowed their way there would have been no Jefferson avenue cut through to the lakeshore.

Detroit was 100 years old before any attempt was made to cut through a road to the east.

Jefferson was laid out as a secondary street in Detroit under a plan sponsored by Judge Woodward in 1806.

By 1900 the street had reached the Pointe but it was a rut of mire and water.

On 1901, $165,000 was raised to macadamize Jefferson and Mack avenue.

A full contract was written into the township meeting minutes about the type of work necessary for the road which was to be built from the limits to Fisher road.

Materials for the work were brought to the Pointe by boat and unloaded at a dock specially built at Lakeshore and Weir road.

After the macadam top was finished there was still trouble from washout and rain but the street railway, the next march in progress took some of the transportation load from the difficult roads.

Baby sitters we all know about, but how about a chicken sitter. Young Laurie McFadden received a chicken, which she calls Morgan, for Easter.

Polly and Betsy Atwood, daughters of the Rev. and Mrs. Bertram deHeus Atwood, of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, decided to pay a visit to Christ Church recently after their own early service at Memorial.

Janie Evans, daughter of the Robert B. Evanses, of Lakeshore road, and one of the most sparkling of the June crop of debutantes, looks ravishing in all the new bright pinks and oranges, especially tangerine.

It can be done. Catherine Mertens, Pierce Junior High student, and amateur gardener, has grown a luxuriant two foot high tree from an avocado pit, discarded from a tasty salad.

Mrs. Charles Markley, who starred in last week-end's "The Man in the Dog Suit," produced by Fine Arts, had all the feminine members of the audience eyeing her wardrobe with envy.

Family parties at the Jack Frasers are a treat for the neighbors... a very musical group, they always climax the evening with harmony or a mandolin solo... blend very well for that old favorite, "Violetta."

PILFERINGS Nobody knows where the plumber goes on week-ends, but presumably he goes off fishing with the doctor, the locksmith and the television repair man.

It's hard to say which is the nicer of spring... the flowers coming up or the heating bills going down.

When the teacher of a class of young boys asked them to tell the meaning of loving kindness, one pupil replied, "If I were hungry and someone gave me a piece of bread and butter, that would be kindness. But if they put lots of jam on it, that would be loving kindness."

A young woman came into the society department of a newspaper to announce her engagement to a man named Bill. She even brought along a picture of herself to run in the paper.

Everything seemed to be in good order, except that the picture was inscribed: "With all my love to Johnny."

Martin E. Trombley With Top Marksmen

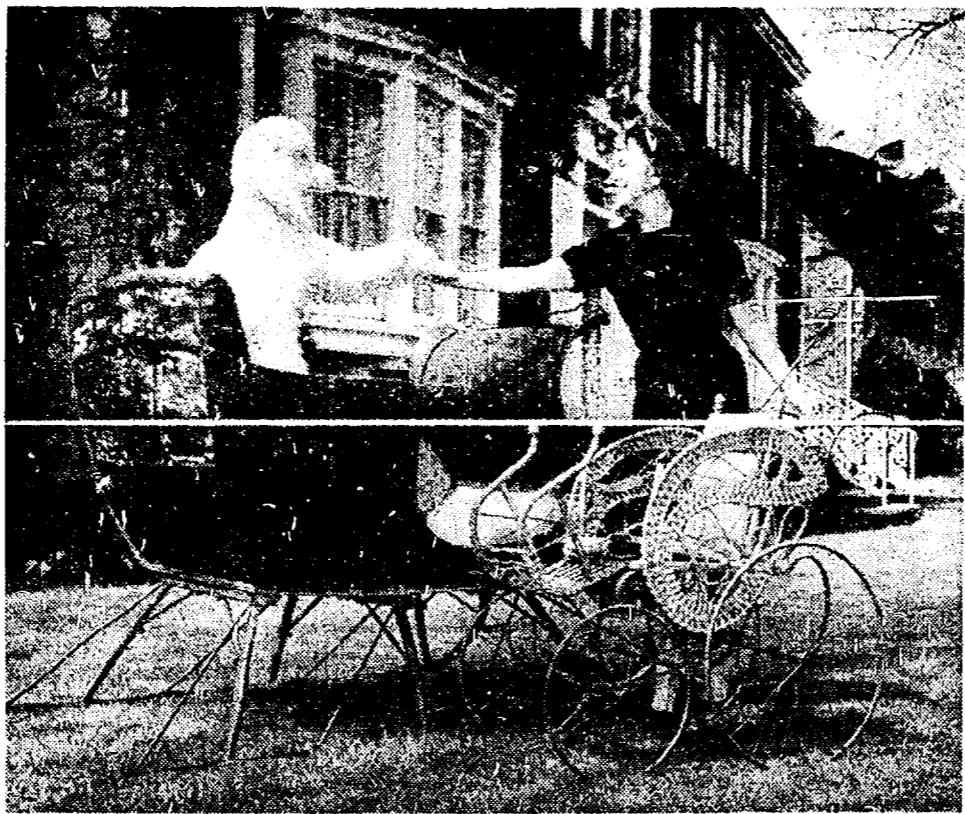

FORT GEORGE G. MEADE, MO. (AHTNC) — Army PFC Martin E. Trombley, whose wife, Sandra, lives in Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., participated in the Second Army rifle and pistol matches at Fort George G. Meade, Md., April 15-22.

Trombley is one of more than 700 of the top marksmen in the Second Army area who competed for individual and team honors. The best firers were selected to represent the Second Army in regional tournaments, the A11-Army championship and The National Matches.

Assigned to the U.S. Army Garrison at Fort Ritchie, Md., he entered the Army in February 1959 and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. The 19-year-old soldier, son of Earl J. Trombley, 130 Kerby, Grosse Pointe, Mich., is a graduate of St. Paul High School in Grosse Pointe.

MRS. GEORGE VAN LOKEREN, OF GRAND MARAIS BOULEVARD

One of the prize antiques in the George Van Lokerens' comfortable colonial home is an iron stone bowl from a chicken house, but Mrs. Van Lokeren admits she has bought some rare values at shows.

She will be on hand for the Rotary Club's Antique Show May 10, 11, 12 and 13 at the War Memorial to see if she can buy a bargain. The five piece black crystal set centering her cream dining room table was found at last year's Rotary Show with a price mark of $15 which she couldn't believe, thought at first it must be $150.

House With Willow Tree Mrs. Van Lokeren has a Southern background. Her friends call her Clarabelle, and she comes from Cabin Creek, West Va., where the chicken house which held the antiques was located.

Among the mementoes are 250 ice cream parlor chairs, lent to friends on occasion, and saved for the day when the Van Lokeren daughters, Vicky and Mary Alice, will have their wedding receptions at home.

Dance Planned By Center Club The Center Club, the young single adult group, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial is turning its next monthly dance, Friday, May 6, from 9-12 p.m. into a Derby Day party since the date coincides closely with the Louisville event.

Decorations will follow the "racing" theme and the Center will be made to look as much as possible like the clubhouse at Churchill Downs.

Bill Kniecely's orchestra will bring everybody to the post promptly at 9 p.m. and the music will continue through the evening. At intermission time there will be excellent solo piano work and group singing.

The formal gardens bursting into bloom will be lighted for the first time this year making a delightful place to stroll between dances.

There won't be any mint juleps but there will be delicious punch and snacks served from the buffet table in the main dining room.

All young single Grosse Pointers in their twenties or thirties are cordially invited to this party. Each Pointer has a guest privilege but dates are not necessary. The price of admission including refreshments is $1.50 per person.

St. Mary Grads Plan Projects The next three weeks will be busy ones for members of the Detroit Chapter of St. Mary Alumnae, Monroe. A tea is scheduled on April 30 at the home of Mrs. Thomas K. Flsher in Kenwood road.

Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. John Theisen and Mrs. Fred J. Winter. Mrs. G. Patrick O'Connell is chairman.

Mrs. Thomas Blessing of Lewiston road is chairman of a Theater Party sponsored by the Alumnae on Thursday, May 12. Assisted by Mrs. Peter Wayne she reports ticket sales brisk for FLOWER DRUM SONG featuring the New York cast. Proceeds will aid the Building Fund.

SEWER CONNECTION Henry Salvatore company will construct the sewer connection at Charlevoix and Kerby road for the sum of $1,527.

The bid, the lowest of three submitted, was accepted by the Farms council on Monday, April 18.

plants as energetic Mrs. Van L. prepares for the gardening season. She is a devoted member of Suburbia Garden Club.

There are white wrought iron carts and an old fashioned sleigh on her front lawn which will soon bloom with geraniums.

White Elephants in Garage Every year the Christ Child white elephant sale is held in the Van Lokeren garage where the Van Lokerens' own treasured rummage is stored.

Every night the Van Lokerens get dressed in their best and spend three hours at their new restaurant, "The Red Carpet," which opened last year.

The hospitable Southerner, who looks more like a teen ager than the mother of five, loves being a hostess at home and at the restaurant. Not adverse to hard work, she loves to scrub floors, admits she hates ironing.

A deft and talented hand for decorating has combined all these pieces with a flair for color. Mrs. Van Lokeren loves pink, has some of this color in every room, and all pink telephones.

The sun porch in white and purple will have a fountain this spring. Now it is filled with
